“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 15

The Lord’s Pastime in the Garden

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the Anubhāṣya, 2026)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. After the upala-bhoga [offering to Lord Jagannātha], Mahāprabhu began to lament: a feeling stirred by Kṛṣṇa’s form awoke in Him. When Kṛṣṇa disappeared on the night of the rāsa, the gopīs searched for Him from forest to forest; the same feelings now began to awaken in the Lord. Svarūpa Gosvāmī sang a song from the Gīta-govinda, and emotions (bhāvas) arose in Mahāprabhu: their rising (bhāvodaya), their meeting (bhāva-sandhi), their mingling (bhāva-śābalya), the eight spiritual transformations (aṣṭa-sāttvika-vikāra) and more, and all of it became for Him an object of the highest relish. When He saw a garden on the seashore, the memory of Vṛndāvana awoke in Him, and all these feelings rose up with great force.

The Lord immersed in the ocean of mahābhāva in separation from Kṛṣṇa —

দুর্গমে কৃষ্ণভাবাব্ধৌ নিমগ্নোন্মগ্নচেতসা । গৌরেণ হরিণা প্রেমমর্য্যাদা ভূরি দর্শিতা ॥ ১ ॥

durgame kṛṣṇa-bhāvābdhau
in the unfathomable of Kṛṣṇa in the ocean of feelings
nimagnonmagna-cetasā
whose heart sank and rose gaureṇa hariṇā premaby Gaura Hari of prema
maryādā bhūri darśitā
the greatness abundantly was shown

1 In the unfathomable ocean of feelings for Kṛṣṇa, Gaurahari's heart now sank and now rose; and so He revealed the greatness of prema in all its fullness.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Plunged into the unfathomable ocean of feeling for Kṛṣṇa, Gaurahari, whose heart [now sank and now] rose to the surface, revealed the glory of prema in its many forms.

Anubhāṣya.
durgame (unfathomable even for sages headed by Brahmā, because their knowledge rests on the senses) kṛṣṇa-bhāvābdhau (in the ocean of feeling for Kṛṣṇa) nimagnonmagna-cetasā (by Him whose heart is plunged in and rises to the surface) gaureṇa hariṇā (by Gaurahari, Kṛṣṇa Caitanya) prema-maryādā (the glory of prema) bhūri (in all its fullness) darśitā (was revealed).

জয় জয় শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য অধীশ্বর । জয় নিত্যানন্দ পূর্ণানন্দ-কলেবর ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanya adhīśvara
glory glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya the Supreme Lord
jaya nityānanda pūrṇānanda-kalevara
glory to Nityānanda full of bliss whose body

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the Supreme Lord! Glory to Nityānanda, whose body is full of bliss!

জয়াদ্বৈতাচার্য্য কৃষ্ণচৈতন্য-প্রিয়তম । জয় শ্রীবাস-আদি প্রভুর ভক্তগণ ॥ ৩ ॥

jayādvaitācārya kṛṣṇa-caitanya-priyatama
glory to Advaitācārya to Kṛṣṇa Caitanya most dear
jaya śrīvāsa-ādi prabhura bhakta-gaṇa
glory to Śrīvāsa and the others the Lord's devotees

3 Glory to Advaitācārya, most dear to Kṛṣṇa Caitanya! Glory to Śrīvāsa and all the Lord's devotees!

Overwhelmed by transcendental love in separation from Kṛṣṇa, [the Lord] is unaware of Himself —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু রাত্রি-দিবসে । আত্মস্ফূর্ত্তি নাহি কৃষ্ণভাবাবেশে ॥ ৪ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu rātri-divase
in this way Mahāprabhu night and day
ātma-sphūrti nāhi kṛṣṇa-bhāvāveśe
of Himself awareness none absorbed in love for Kṛṣṇa

4 In this way, night and day, Mahāprabhu was so absorbed in love for Kṛṣṇa that He had no awareness of Himself.

The inner state, the half-external state and the external state —

কভু ভাবে মগ্ন, কভু অর্দ্ধ-বাহ্যস্ফূর্ত্তি । কভু বাহ্যস্ফূর্ত্তি, — তিন রীতে প্রভুস্থিতি ॥ ৫ ॥

kabhu bhāve magna, kabhu arddha-bāhya-sphūrti
sometimes in feeling immersed sometimes half external awareness
kabhu bāhya-sphūrti, — tina rīte prabhu-sthiti
sometimes external awareness in three ways the Lord's state

5 Sometimes He was immersed in feeling, sometimes half aware of the outer world, sometimes fully aware of it: the Lord passed through these three states.

[The Lord] performs His daily and occasional duties (nitya-naimittika) by nature and by habit —

স্নান, দর্শন, ভোজন দেহ-স্বভাবে হয় । কুমারের চাক যেন সতত ফিরয় ॥ ৬ ॥

snāna, darśana, bhojana deha-svabhāve haya
bathing seeing the Lord eating by the body's nature happen
kumārera cāka yena satata phiraya
of the potter the wheel as constantly turns

6 Bathing, going to see Lord Jagannātha and eating went on of themselves, by the body's own nature, as a potter's wheel keeps turning.

Anubhāṣya.
"A potter's wheel." When a potter shapes pots and other vessels, his wheel turns by itself, driven by the momentum given to it earlier, and he need not keep his hand on it all the time. In the same way the Lord's bodily actions went on naturally even when He had no external consciousness. This fine comparison fits the daily activities of a liberated, perfected soul, that is, a mahā-bhāgavata of the highest level (uttama-adhikārī), while he remains manifest in this world. Much is said on this subject in the Brahma-sūtra and in its best commentary, the Bhāgavata.

Drawn by Kṛṣṇa in the form of Jagannātha, the Lord serves Govinda with His senses (hṛṣīka) —

একদিন করেন প্রভু জগন্নাথ দরশন । জগন্নাথে দেখে সাক্ষাৎ ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন ॥ ৭ ॥

ekadina karena prabhu jagannātha daraśana
one day makes the Lord of Jagannātha the seeing jagannāthe dekhe sākṣāt vrajendra-nandana
in Jagannātha He sees directly the son of the king of Vraja

7 One day, when the Lord went to see Lord Jagannātha, He beheld in Him the son of the king of Vraja Himself.

একবারে স্ফুরে প্রভুর কৃষ্ণের পঞ্চগুণ । পঞ্চগুণে করে পঞ্চেন্দ্রিয় আকর্ষণ ॥ ৮ ॥

eka-bāre sphure prabhura kṛṣṇera pañca-guṇa
at once appear to the Lord of Kṛṣṇa five qualities
pañca-guṇe kare pañcendriya ākarṣaṇa
the five qualities make of the five senses attraction

8 At once the five qualities of Kṛṣṇa appeared to the Lord, and they drew His five senses to themselves.

একমন পঞ্চদিকে পঞ্চগুণ টানে । টানাটানি প্রভুর মন হৈল অগেয়ানে ॥ ৯ ॥

ekamana pañca-dike pañca-guṇa ṭāne
one mind in five directions five qualities pull ṭānāṭāni prabhura mana haila ageyāne
by the tugging the Lord's mind became unconscious

9 The five qualities pulled His one mind in five directions, and, torn this way and that, the Lord lost consciousness.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The five qualities are form for the eyes, song for the ears, fragrance for the nose, taste for the tongue and touch for the skin. These five transcendental qualities of Kṛṣṇa revealed themselves all at once in [the Lord's] five transcendental senses. When the mind was pulled towards these five objects at the same time, it lost consciousness.

The devotees bring the Lord home —

হেনকালে ঈশ্বরের উপলভোগ সরিল । ভক্তগণ মহাপ্রভুরে ঘরে লঞা আইল ॥ ১০ ॥

hena-kāle īśvarera upala-bhoga sarila
at that time of the Lord the upala-bhoga ended
bhakta-gaṇa mahāprabhure ghare lañā āila
the devotees Mahāprabhu home taking came

10 At that time Lord Jagannātha's upala-bhoga offering came to an end, and the devotees brought Mahāprabhu home.

স্বরূপ, রামানন্দ, — এই দুইজন লঞা । বিলাপ করেন দুঁহার কণ্ঠেতে ধরিয়া ॥ ১১ ॥

svarūpa, rāmānanda, — ei dui-jana lañā Svarūpa Rāmānanda these two persons with vilāpa karena duṁhāra kaṇṭhete dhariyā lament He makes of both the necks holding

11 With these two, Svarūpa and Rāmānanda, He lamented, His arms around their necks.

কৃষ্ণের বিয়োগে রাধার উৎকণ্ঠিত মন । বিশাখারে কহে আপন উৎকণ্ঠা-কারণ ॥ ১২ ॥

kṛṣṇera viyoge rādhāra utkaṇṭhita mana
of Kṛṣṇa in separation Rādhā's anxious mind
viśākhāre kahe āpana utkaṇṭhā-kāraṇa
to Viśākhā She tells Her own of the longing the cause

12 In separation from Kṛṣṇa, Rādhā's mind was restless with longing, and She told Viśākhā the cause of it.

সেই শ্লোক পড়ি' আপনে করে মনস্তাপ । শ্লোকের অর্থ শুনায় দুঁহারে করিয়া বিলাপ ॥ ১৩ ॥

sei śloka paḍi' āpane kare manastāpa
that verse reciting Himself makes heartache
ślokera artha śunāya duṁhāre kariyā vilāpa
of the verse the meaning makes hear to the two making lament

13 Reciting that verse Himself, the Lord poured out the anguish of His heart, and lamenting, He explained its meaning to the two of them.

The attracting power of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's form — (Govinda-līlāmṛta 8.3: Śrī Rādhā's words to Viśākhā)

সৌন্দর্য্যামৃতসিন্ধুভঙ্গললনা-চিত্তাদ্রিসংপ্লাবকঃ
কর্ণানন্দিসনর্ম্মরম্যবচনঃ কোটীন্দুশীতাঙ্গকঃ ।
সৌরভ্যামৃতসংপ্লবাবৃতজগৎ পীযূষরম্যাধরঃ
শ্রীগোপেন্দ্রসুতঃ স কর্ষতি বলাৎ পঞ্চেন্দ্রিয়াণ্যালি মে ॥ ১৪ ॥

saundaryāmṛta-sindhu-bhaṅga-
of beauty of the nectar of the ocean by the waves
lalanā-cittādri-saṁplāvakaḥ
of women of the hearts the hills who floods
karṇānandi-sanarma-ramya-delighting the ears jesting charming vacanaḥ koṭīndu-śītāṅgakaḥ
whose words than millions of moons cooler whose body
saurabhyāmṛta-saṁplavāvṛta-
of fragrance of nectar by the flood covered
jagat pīyūṣa-ramyādharaḥ
the world than nectar lovelier whose lips
śrī-gopendra-sutaḥ sa karṣati Śrī of the king of the cowherds the son He draws balāt pañcendriyāṇy āli me
by force five senses O friend My 14 "O friend, with the waves of the nectar ocean of His beauty He floods the hills of women's hearts; His playful, charming words delight the ear; His body is cooler than millions of moons; with a nectar flood of fragrance He has covered the world; His lips are lovelier than nectar — that son of the king of the cowherds draws all five of My senses by force." (Govinda-līlāmṛta, 8.3)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"He who, with the flood of the nectar-ocean of beauty, inundates the mountains of women's hearts; who speaks charming words that delight the ear and is cool as millions of moons; who has covered the whole world with a nectar-flood of fragrance; whose lips are full of nectar — that Kṛṣṇa, the son of the king of the cowherds, O friend, forcibly draws all five of My senses to Himself."

Anubhāṣya.

he āli (O friend; [He] who) saundaryāmṛta-sindhu-bhaṅga-lalanā-cittādri-samplāvakaḥ (beauty itself is an ocean of nectar; He whose nature is to flood fully [sam, "completely"] the mountains of women's hearts with the surging waves of that ocean of nectar) karṇānandi-sanarma-ramya-vacanaḥ (whose charming speech, full of jests and smiles, by nature delights the ear) koṭīndu-śītāṅgakaḥ (whose body is cooler even than millions of moons) saurabhyāmṛta-saṁplavāvṛta-jagat (fragrance itself is nectar, and its flood an ocean; He who with it has covered and enveloped the world) pīyūṣa-ramyādharaḥ (whose lips are more charming than pīyūṣa, than nectar) śrī-gopendra-sutaḥ (Vrajendranandana) balāt (by force) me (My) pañcendriyāṇi (eyes, ears, nose, tongue, skin and the other [senses]) karṣati (draws to His form, the sound of His flute, His fragrance, taste and touch).

The gopī describes the power of the sweetness of the transcendental god of love (Puṣpabāṇa, the flower-arrowed one) (citra-jalpa) —

কৃষ্ণ-রূপ-শব্দ-স্পর্শ, সৌরভ্য-অধর-রস, যার মাধুর্য্য কহন না যায় ৷
দেখি' লোভে পঞ্চজন, এক অশ্ব — মোর মন, চড়ি' পঞ্চ পাঁচদিকে ধায় ॥ ১৫ ॥

kṛṣṇa-rūpa-śabda-sparśa, saurabhya-adhara-rasa, Kṛṣṇa's form sound touch fragrance of the lips taste
yāra mādhurya kahana nā yāya
whose sweetness to describe not is possible
dekhi' lobhe pañcajana,
seeing in greed the five
eka aśva — mora mana,
one horse My mind
caḍi' pañca pāṁca-dike dhāya
mounting the five in five directions run

15 “Kṛṣṇa’s form, His voice, His touch, His fragrance and the taste of His lips — their sweetness cannot be described. Seeing them, the five, in their greed, mount a single horse — My mind — and ride off in five directions.

Anubhāṣya.

My five senses, drawn by Kṛṣṇa, are like five robbers, and they all plot together: “Come, let us all join together and carry off, that is, steal, this wealth that belongs to another — the horse of the mind.”

The gopī’s senses, drawn by Puṣpabāṇa —

সখি হে, শুন মোর দুঃখের কারণ ।
মোর পঞ্চেন্দ্রিয়গণ, মহা-লম্পট দস্যুগণ, সবে কহে, — হর’ পরধন ॥ ১৬ ॥

sakhi he, śuna mora duḥkhera kāraṇa
O friend ah hear of My sorrow the cause
mora pañcendriya-gaṇa,
My five senses
mahā-lampaṭa dasyu-gaṇa,
great greedy ones robbers
sabe kahe, — hara’ para-dhana
all say steal another’s wealth

16 O friend, hear the cause of My sorrow. My five senses are utterly greedy robbers: they all say, ‘Steal another’s wealth!’

The gopī under Kṛṣṇa’s sway —

এক অশ্ব একক্ষণে, পাঁচ পাঁচ দিকে টানে, এক মন কোন্ দিকে ধায় ?
এককালে সবে টানে, গেল ঘোড়ার পরাণে, এই দুঃখ সহন না যায় ॥ ১৭ ॥

eka aśva eka-kṣaṇe,
one horse at one moment
pāṁca pāṁca dike ṭāne,
the five in five directions pull
eka mana kon dike dhāya?
one mind which way shall run
eka-kāle sabe ṭāne,
at one time all pull
gela ghoḍāra parāṇe,
goes of the horse the life
ei duḥkha sahana nā yāya
this pain to bear not is possible

17 One horse, and at one moment the five pull it in five directions — which way is the one mind to run? When all pull at once, the horse's life departs. I cannot bear this pain.

The power of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's form —

ইন্দ্রিয়ে না করি রোষ, ইঁহা-সবার কাঁহা দোষ, কৃষ্ণরূপাদির মহা আকর্ষণ ।
রূপাদি পাঁচ পাঁচে টানে, গেল ঘোড়ার পরাণে, মোর দেহে না রহে জীবন ॥ ১৮ ॥

indriye nā kari roṣa,
the senses not I make anger
iṁhā-sabāra kāṁhā doṣa,
of these all where the fault
kṛṣṇa-rūpādira mahā ākarṣaṇa
of Kṛṣṇa's form and the rest great attraction
rūpādi pāṁca pāṁce ṭāne,
form and the rest the five the five pull
gela ghoḍāra parāṇe,
goes of the horse the life
mora dehe nā rahe jīvana
in My body not remains life

18 I am not angry with My senses — what fault is theirs? Kṛṣṇa's form and the rest attract with great force. The five — His form and the rest — pull the five senses; the horse's life is ebbing, and life will not stay in My body.

কৃষ্ণরূপামৃতসিন্ধু, তাহার তরঙ্গ-বিন্দু, একবিন্দু জগৎ ডুবায় ।
ত্রিজগতে যত নারী, তার চিত্ত-উচ্চগিরি, তাহা ডুবাই আগে উঠি' ধায় ॥ ১৯ ॥

kṛṣṇa-rūpāmṛta-sindhu,
of Kṛṣṇa's beauty of nectar the ocean
tāhāra taraṅga-bindu,
of it of a wave a drop
eka-bindu jagat ḍubāya
one drop the world drowns
trijagate yata nārī,
in the three worlds as many as women
tāra citta-ucca-giri,
their hearts high mountains
tāhā ḍubāi āge uṭhi' dhāya
those drowning further rising rushes

19 The beauty of Kṛṣṇa is an ocean of nectar; a single drop of its waves drowns the world. The hearts of all the women in the three worlds are high mountains: it drowns them and surges on beyond.

The power of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's words —

কৃষ্ণের বচন মাধুরী, নানা-রস-নর্ম্মধারী, তার অন্যায় কথন না যায় ।
জগতের নারীর কাণে, মাধুরী গুণে বান্ধি' টানে, টানাটানি কাণের প্রাণ যায় ॥ ২০ ॥

kṛṣṇera vacana mādhurī, Kṛṣṇa's of the words the sweetness
nānā-rasa-narma-dhārī,
of various rasas jests bearing
tāra anyāya kathana nā yāya
its injustice to describe not is possible
jagatera nārīra kāṇe,
of the world's women into the ears
mādhurī guṇe bāndhi' ṭāne,
sweetness with the rope (quality) binding pulls ṭānāṭāni kāṇera prāṇa yāya
by the tugging of the ears the life departs

20 The sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's words, full of jests in many moods, is unjust beyond telling. Entering the ears of the world's women, it binds them with the rope of its sweetness and pulls, and in that tug-of-war the ears lose their very life.[1]

The power of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's body —

কৃষ্ণ-অঙ্গ সুশীতল, কি কহিমু তার বল, ছটায় জিনে কোটীন্দু চন্দন ৷
সশৈল নারীর বক্ষ, তাহা আকর্ষিতে দক্ষ, আকর্ষয়ে নারীগণ-মন ॥ ২১ ॥

kṛṣṇa-aṅga suśītala, Kṛṣṇa's body very cool
ki kahimu tāra bala,
what shall I say its power
chaṭāya jine koṭīndu candana
by its lustre conquers millions of moons sandal
saśaila nārīra vakṣa,
mountain-like of women the breasts
tāhā ākarṣite dakṣa,
those in drawing skilled ākarṣaye nārī-gaṇa-mana draws of the women the minds

21 Kṛṣṇa's body is so cool — what can I say of its power? With its rays it surpasses millions of moons and sandal paste. Skilled at drawing the mountain-like breasts of women, it draws their minds as well.

The power of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's fragrance —

কৃষ্ণাঙ্গ — সৌরভ্যভর, মৃগমদ মনোহর, নীলোৎপলের হরে গর্ব্ব-ধন ।
জগৎ-নারীর নাসা, তার ভিতর পাতে বাসা, নারীগণে করে আকর্ষণ ॥ ২২ ॥

kṛṣṇāṅga — saurabhya-bhara, Kṛṣṇa's body of fragrance full
mṛga-mada manohara,
musk charming
nīlotpalera hare garva-dhana
of the blue lotus steals of pride the wealth
jagat-nārīra nāsā,
of the world's women the nostrils
tāra bhitara pāte vāsā,
of them inside makes a dwelling
nārī-gaṇe kare ākarṣaṇa
the women makes attraction

22 Kṛṣṇa's body is laden with fragrance; it humbles charming musk and robs the blue lotus of its wealth of pride. It makes its home in the nostrils of the world's women and draws them to itself.

The power of the sweetness of the touch of Kṛṣṇa's lips —

কৃষ্ণের অধরামৃত, তাতে কর্পূর-মন্দস্মিত, স্ব-মাধুর্য্যে হরে নারীর মন ।
অন্যত্র ছাড়ায় লোভ, না পাইলে মনে ক্ষোভ, ব্রজনারীগণের মূলধন ॥ ২৩ ॥

kṛṣṇera adharāmṛta, Kṛṣṇa's the nectar of the lips
tāte karpūra-manda-smita,
with it camphor gentle smile
sva-mādhurye hare nārīra mana
by its own sweetness steals of women the mind
anyatra chāḍāya lobha,
elsewhere takes away the longing
nā pāile mane kṣobha,
not having obtained in the mind agitation
vraja-nārī-gaṇera mūla-dhana
of Vraja's women the principal wealth

23 The nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, with the camphor of His gentle smile, steals women's minds by its own sweetness. It takes away all longing for anything else; not obtaining it, the mind is in turmoil. It is the chief wealth of the women of Vraja."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Kṛṣṇa's form, His words, the sound of His flute and so on — form, sound, touch, fragrance and the taste of His lips — these five are full of great sweetness. My five senses of knowledge long to experience each its own object in Śrī Kṛṣṇa. So each of them wants to mount the one horse, My mind, and gallop off in five directions at once. Friend, what can I say of My sorrow? My five senses of knowledge are utterly greedy for their objects, like robbers. They know that Kṛṣṇa is a man who belongs to another (para-puruṣa), and still they set out to steal each its own object in Kṛṣṇa. My mind is only one horse. Each sense of knowledge — the eyes and the rest — takes that horse and pulls it towards its own object (form and the rest), in five directions. When it is pulled like this all at once, the only gain is that the horse loses its life. How can I bear that?

You may say, "Why don't you restrain your senses?" But, friend, how can I blame the senses? Kṛṣṇa's form and the other four objects are by their very nature irresistibly attractive. Form and the rest, five in all, each pull the five senses towards themselves. The horse of the mind, ridden by these five senses of knowledge, is drawn and rushes in just those directions. And when the horse dies, My life too will depart.

The hearts of all the women in the three worlds are indeed like high mountains, and a drop from a wave of the nectar-ocean of Kṛṣṇa's form drowns those high mountains. Kṛṣṇa's clever speech — His playful jests (rasa-narma, that is, parihāsa) — treats women so unfairly that words cannot describe it[0]: entering women's ears, it binds them with the cords of its sweetness and pulls, and the ears lose their life. Kṛṣṇa's body is exceedingly cool; its cool rays defeat millions of moons and sandal paste. Kṛṣṇa's body is supremely skilled at drawing women's mountain-like breasts, and it attracts their minds. The fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body destroys the pride of enchanting musk and of the blue lotus. It enters the nostrils of the women of the world, makes its home there and draws them. The nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, mixed with the camphor of His gentle smile, steals women's minds by its sweetness. It takes away their craving for everything but Kṛṣṇa; yet by its very nature it is hard to obtain, and when it cannot be had, the mind is thrown into turmoil. That nectar of His lips is the chief wealth of the women of Vraja.

In separation from Kṛṣṇa the Lord pours out His grief to His two companions

—

এত কহি' গৌরহরি, দুইজনার কণ্ঠ ধরি', কহে, — শুন, স্বরূপ-রামরায় ।
কাঁহা কঁরো, কাঁহা যাঙ, কাঁহা গেলে কৃষ্ণ পাঙ, দুঁহে মোরে কহ সে উপায় ॥ ২৪ ॥

eta kahi' gaurahari,
so saying Gaurahari
dui-janāra kaṇṭha dhari',
of the two the necks holding kahe, — śuna, svarūpa-rāmarāya
says hear Svarūpa Rāmarāya
kāṁhā kaṁro, kāṁhā yāṅa,
what shall I do where shall I go
kāṁhā gele kṛṣṇa pāṅa,
where going Kṛṣṇa shall I find
duṁhe more kaha se upāya
you two to Me tell that means

24 Saying this, Gaurahari threw His arms around the necks of the two and said, "Listen, Svarūpa and Rāmarāya: what shall I do, where shall I go? Where can I go to find Kṛṣṇa? Both of you, tell Me how!"

এইমত গৌরপ্রভু প্রতিদিনে-দিনে । বিলাপ করেন স্বরূপ-রামানন্দ-সনে ॥ ২৫ ॥

ei-mata gaura-prabhu prati dine-dine
in this way Gaura the Lord every day after day
vilāpa karena svarūpa-rāmānanda-sane
lament makes with Svarūpa and Rāmānanda

25 In this way, day after day, the Lord Gaura lamented with Svarūpa and Rāmānanda.

Svarūpa and Rāma Rāya console the Lord in His separation —

সেই দুইজন প্রভুরে করে আশ্বাসন । স্বরূপ গায়, রায় করে শ্লোক পঠন ॥ ২৬ ॥

sei dui-jana prabhure kare āśvāsana
those two persons the Lord make consolation
svarūpa gāya, rāya kare śloka paṭhana
Svarūpa sings Rāya makes of verses recitation

26 Those two consoled the Lord: Svarūpa sang songs, and Rāya recited verses.

The Lord's favourite books, suited to His mood —

কর্ণামৃত, বিদ্যাপতি, শ্রীগীতগোবিন্দ । ইহার শ্লোক-গীতে প্রভুর করায় আনন্দ ॥ ২৭ ॥

karṇāmṛta, vidyāpati, śrī-gīta-govinda
Karṇāmṛta Vidyāpati Śrī Gīta-govinda
ihāra śloka-gīte prabhura karāya ānanda
of these in verses and songs to the Lord give joy

27 With the verses and songs of the Kṛṣṇa-karṇāmṛta, of Vidyāpati and of the Śrī Gīta-govinda they gave the Lord joy.

Feeling Himself a maidservant (kiṅkarī) of the gopī, the Lord sees Kṛṣṇa's pastimes everywhere and searches for Him —

একদিন মহাপ্রভু সমুদ্র যাইতে । পুষ্পের উদ্যান তথা দেখেন আচম্বিতে ॥ ২৮ ॥

ekadina mahāprabhu samudra yāite
one day Mahāprabhu to the sea going puṣpera udyāna tathā dekhena ācambite
of flowers a garden there sees suddenly

28 One day, on His way to the sea, Mahāprabhu suddenly saw a flower garden.

বৃন্দাবন-ভ্রমে তাঁহা পশিলা ধাঞা । প্রেমাবেশে বুলে তাঁহা কৃষ্ণ অন্বেষিয়া ॥ ২৯ ॥

vṛndāvana-bhrame tāṁhā paśilā dhāñā Vṛndāvana mistaking it for there entered running premāveśe bule tāṁhā kṛṣṇa anveṣiyā absorbed in prema wanders there Kṛṣṇa searching for

29 Taking it for Vṛndāvana, He ran into it, and absorbed in prema He wandered there searching for Kṛṣṇa, রাসে রাধা লঞা কৃষ্ণ অন্তর্দ্ধান কৈলা । পাছে সখীগণ যৈছে চাহি' বেড়াইলা ॥ ৩০ ॥

rāse rādhā lañā kṛṣṇa antarddhāna kailā
in the rāsa Rādhā taking Kṛṣṇa disappearance made pāche sakhī-gaṇa yaiche cāhi' beḍāilā
afterwards the gopīs as searching wandered

30 just as, when Kṛṣṇa disappeared from the rāsa dance taking Rādhā with Him, the gopīs afterwards wandered about searching for Him.

সেই ভাবাবেশে প্রভু প্রতি-তরুলতা । শ্লোক পড়ি' পড়ি' চাহি' বুলে যথা তথা ॥ ৩১ ॥

sei bhāvāveśe prabhu prati-taru-latā
in that mood absorbed the Lord each tree creeper
śloka paḍi' paḍi' cāhi' bule yathā tathā
verses reciting reciting searching wanders here there

31 Absorbed in that mood, the Lord wandered here and there searching, reciting verse after verse to each tree and creeper:

Separated from Kṛṣṇa, the gopīs see everywhere Kṛṣṇa and all that belongs to Kṛṣṇa as living and conscious, and so they search for Kṛṣṇa (udghūrṇā); they ask every tree where Kṛṣṇa is — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.30.9 and 7–8)

চূতপ্রিয়ালপনসাসনকোবিদার-জম্বর্কবিল্ববকুলাম্রকদম্বনীপাঃ ।
যেঽন্যে পরার্থভবকা যমুনোপকূলাঃ শংসন্তু কৃষ্ণপদবীং রহিতাত্মনাং নঃ ॥ ৩২ ॥

cūta-priyāla-panasāsana-kovidāra-
cūta priyāla panasa āsana kovidāra
jambv-arka-bilva-bakulāmra-kadamba-nīpāḥ
jambu arka bilva bakula mango kadamba nīpa
ye 'nye parārtha-bhavakā yamunopakūlāḥ
who other for others' good born on the Yamunā's banks
śaṁsantu kṛṣṇa-padavīṁ rahitātmanāṁ naḥ
tell of Kṛṣṇa the path who have lost our selves to us

32 "O cūta, priyāla, panasa, āsana and kovidāra, jambu, arka, bilva, bakula, mango, kadamba and nīpa, and all you other trees on the banks of the Yamunā, whose life is for the good of others — tell us, who have lost our very selves, which way Kṛṣṇa went!" (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.30.9)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O cūta (a kind of mango), piyāla, kāṭhāla (jackfruit), āsana, kovidāra, jambu, arka, bilva, bakula, mango, kadamba, nīpa (a kind of kadamba) and other trees! O all you other trees who dwell on the banks of the Yamunā and care for the highest good [of others] (who have vowed to do good to others)! Tell us, who have lost our very selves (whose minds are empty), where Kṛṣṇa is.

Anubhāṣya.
While Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa was playing the rāsa with the gopīs, He suddenly disappeared. Unable to see Him, the gopīs, their minds wholly absorbed in Kṛṣṇa, set out to search for Him.

cūta-priyāla-panasāsana-kovidāra-jambv-arka-bilva-bakulāmra-kadamba-nīpāḥ (they address the fruit trees and others growing nearby: "O cūta, O priyāla, O kaṇṭaka [panasa], O pītaśāla [asana], O kovidāra, O jambu, O arka, O bilva, O bakula, O mango, O kadamba, O nīpa — you") ye 'nye (and you other trees) parārtha-bhavakāḥ (whose birth is only for the sake of others) yamunopakūlāḥ (the trees that stand on the bank, at the water's edge of the Yamunā, the Kālindī) rahitātmanām (whose minds are empty) naḥ (to us) kṛṣṇa-padavīm (Kṛṣṇa's path) śaṁsantu (tell).

[The gopīs] ask Śrī Tulasī where Kṛṣṇa is — কচ্চিত্তুলসি কল্যাণি গোবিন্দচরণপ্রিয়ে ৷

সহ ত্বালিকুলৈর্বিভ্রদ্দৃষ্টস্তেঽতিপ্রিয়োঽচ্যুতঃ ॥ ৩৩ ॥

kaccit tulasi kalyāṇi
perhaps O tulasī O auspicious one govinda-caraṇa-priye
to Govinda's feet dear
saha tvāli-kulair bibhrad
with you by swarms of bees bearing dṛṣṭas te 'ti-priyo 'cyutaḥ
seen your very dear Acyuta

33 "O auspicious tulasī, dear to Govinda's feet! Have you seen Acyuta, who holds you so dear, pass by wearing you, with swarms of bees around Him?" (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.30.7)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O auspicious tulasī, dear to Govinda's feet! Acyuta loves you dearly. Did you see Kṛṣṇa pass by here, wearing you, with a swarm of bees around Him?

Anubhāṣya.
kalyāṇi (O fortunate one) govinda-caraṇa-priye (dear to Govinda's feet) tulasi, ali-kulaiḥ saha tvā (you) bibhrat te (your) ati-priyaḥ acyutaḥ (Govinda) kaccit tvayā kiṁ dṛṣṭaḥ (has He been seen by you?)

[The gopīs] ask the flowering plants where Kṛṣṇa is —

মালত্যদর্শি বঃ কচ্চিন্মল্লিকে জাতি যূথিকে ৷ প্রীতিং বো জনয়ন্ যাতঃ করস্পর্শেন মাধবঃ ॥ ৩৪ ॥

mālaty adarśi vaḥ kaccin
O mālatī was seen by you perhaps mallike jāti yūthike
O mallikā O jāti O yūthikā
prītiṁ vo janayan yātaḥ
joy your producing gone
kara-sparśena mādhavaḥ
by the touch of His hand Mādhava

34 "O mālatī, O mallikā, O jāti, O yūthikā! Have you seen Mādhava pass by, giving you joy with the touch of His hand?" (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.30.8)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O mālatī, O mallikā, O jāti, O yūthikā! Did you see Kṛṣṇa pass by here, giving you joy with the touch of His hand?

Anubhāṣya.
mālati, mallike, jāti, yūthike, kara-sparśena vaḥ (your) prītiṁ janayan yātaḥ (who has gone) mādhavaḥ vaḥ (by you) kaccit adarśi (was He seen)?

The meaning of the verse; the gopīs, wholly absorbed in Kṛṣṇa and separated from Him, search for Him and lament —

আম্র, পনস, পিয়াল, জম্বু, কোবিদার ৷ তীর্থবাসী সবে, কর পর-উপকার ॥ ৩৫ ॥

āmra, panasa, piyāla, jambu, kovidāra
O mango panasa piyāla jambu kovidāra
tīrtha-vāsī sabe, kara para-upakāra
of a holy place dwellers all do to others good

35 "O mango, panasa, piyāla, jambu and kovidāra! You all dwell in a holy place — so do good to others.

কৃষ্ণ তোমার ইঁহা আইলা, পাইলা দরশন ?
কৃষ্ণের উদ্দেশ কহি' রাখহ জীবন ॥ ৩৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa tomāra iṅhā āilā, pāilā daraśana?
Kṛṣṇa to you here came did you have sight of Him
kṛṣṇera uddeśa kahi' rākhaha jīvana
of Kṛṣṇa the whereabouts telling save our lives

36 Did Kṛṣṇa come here to you? Did you see Him? Tell us where Kṛṣṇa is and save our lives!"

উত্তর না পাঞা পুনঃ করে অনুমান । এইসব — পুরুষ-জাতি, কৃষ্ণের সখার সমান ॥ ৩৭ ॥

uttara nā pāñā punaḥ kare anumāna
an answer not getting again they make a surmise
eisaba — puruṣa-jāti, kṛṣṇera sakhāra samāna
all these male in kind of Kṛṣṇa friends like

37 Receiving no answer, they reasoned again: "These are all male, just like Kṛṣṇa's friends.

এ কেনে কহিবে কৃষ্ণের উদ্দেশ আমায় ?
এ — স্ত্রীজাতি লতা, আমার সখীপ্রায় ॥ ৩৮ ॥

e kene kahibe kṛṣṇera uddeśa āmāya?
these why will tell of Kṛṣṇa the whereabouts to us
e — strī-jāti latā, āmāra sakhī-prāya
these female in kind creepers our friends almost

38 Why would they tell us where Kṛṣṇa is? But these creepers are female, almost our friends.

অবশ্য কহিবে, — পাঞাছে কৃষ্ণের দর্শনে । এত অনুমানি' পুছে তুলস্যাদি-গণে ॥ ৩৯ ॥

avaśya kahibe, — pāñāche kṛṣṇera darśane
surely they will tell they have had of Kṛṣṇa the sight eta anumāni' puche tulasyādi-gaṇe
thus reasoning they ask tulasī and the others

39 They will surely tell us — they have seen Kṛṣṇa.” Reasoning thus, they questioned the tulasī and the other plants:

তুলসি, মালতি, যূথি, মাধবি, মল্লিকে ৷ তোমার প্রিয় কৃষ্ণ আইলা তোমার অন্তিকে ? ॥ ৪০ ॥

tulasi, mālati, yūthi, mādhavi, mallike
O tulasī O mālatī O yūthī O mādhavī O mallikā
tomāra priya kṛṣṇa āilā tomāra antike?
your beloved Kṛṣṇa came your near 40 “O tulasī, mālatī, yūthī, mādhavī and mallikā! Did your beloved Kṛṣṇa come near you?

তুমি-সব — হও আমার সখীর সমান ৷ কৃষ্ণোদ্দেশ কহি’ সবে রাখহ পরাণ ॥ ৪১ ॥

tumi-saba — hao āmāra sakhīra samāna
you all are our friends like kṛṣṇoddeśa kahi’ sabe rākhaha parāṇa
Kṛṣṇa’s whereabouts telling all of you save our lives

41 You are all like our friends. Tell us where Kṛṣṇa is, all of you, and save our lives!”

উত্তর না পাঞা পুনঃ ভাবেন অন্তরে ৷ এহ — কৃষ্ণদাসী, ভয়ে না কহে আমারে ॥ ৪২ ॥

uttara nā pāñā punaḥ bhāvena antare
an answer not getting again they think within eha — kṛṣṇa-dāsī, bhaye nā kahe āmāre
these Kṛṣṇa’s maidservants out of fear not tell us

42 Receiving no answer, they thought within themselves: “These are Kṛṣṇa’s maidservants; out of fear they will not tell us.”

আগে মৃগীগণ দেখি’ কৃষ্ণাঙ্গগন্ধ পাঞা । তার মুখ দেখি’ পুছেন নির্ণয় করিয়া ॥ ৪৩ ॥

āge mṛgī-gaṇa dekhi’ kṛṣṇāṅga-gandha pāñā
ahead does seeing of Kṛṣṇa’s body the fragrance catching
tāra mukha dekhi’ puchena nirṇaya kariyā
their faces looking at they ask certainty making

43 Ahead they saw some does, and catching the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa’s body, they looked at their faces and, now certain, questioned them:

[The gopīs] ask the doe where Kṛṣṇa is — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.30.11)

অপ্যেণ-পত্ন্যুপগতঃ প্রিয়য়েহ গাত্রৈ- স্তন্বন্ দৃশাং সখি সুনির্ব্বৃতিমচ্যুতো বঃ । কান্তাঙ্গসঙ্গকুচকুঙ্কুম-রঞ্জিতায়াঃ কুন্দস্রজঃ কুলপতেরিহ বাতি গন্ধঃ ॥ ৪৪ ॥

apy eṇa-patny upagataḥ priyayeha gātrais
perhaps O doe came with His beloved here with His limbs
tanvan dṛśāṁ sakhi su-nirvṛtim acyuto vaḥ expanding of the eyes O friend the great joy Acyuta your kāntāṅga-saṅga-kuca-kuṅkuma-rañjitāyāḥ
of the beloved’s body from contact of the breasts with kuṅkuma coloured kunda-srajaḥ kula-pater iha vāti gandhaḥ
of the kunda garland of our Lord here blows the fragrance

44 “O friend, O doe, did Acyuta come this way with His beloved, delighting your eyes with the beauty of His limbs? For here blows the fragrance of our Lord’s kunda garland, reddened with kuṅkuma from His beloved’s breasts as He held Her close.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.30.11)[2]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

From here comes the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa, who wears a garland of kunda flowers coloured with the kuṅkuma from His beloved’s breasts as He touched Her body. O doe, did Kṛṣṇa pass along this path with Rādhikā, increasing the joy of your eyes?

Anubhāṣya.

While Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa was playing the rāsa with the gopīs, He disappeared. The gopīs, their minds wholly fixed on Kṛṣṇa, were searching for Him in separation.

he sakhi (O friend) eṇa-patni (doe) acyutaḥ (Kṛṣṇa) priyayā (together [with His beloved]) gātraiḥ (by the contact of Their bodies) vaḥ (your) dṛśām (of the eyes) su-nirvṛtim (happiness) tanvan (increasing) iha api (whether) upagataḥ (has passed by here)? (For) kula-pateḥ (of Kṛṣṇa) kāntāṅga-saṅga-kuca-kuṅkuma-rañjitāyāḥ (adorned with the colour of the kuṅkuma from His beloved's breasts, [left] by the touch of Her body) kunda-srajaḥ (of the garland of kunda flowers) gandhaḥ iha vāti (wafts).

The meaning of the verse —

কহ, মৃগি, রাধা-সহ শ্রীকৃষ্ণ সর্ব্বথা । তোমায় সুখ দিতে আইলা? না কহ অন্যথা ॥ ৪৫ ॥

kaha, mṛgi, rādhā-saha śrī-kṛṣṇa sarvathā
tell O doe with Rādhā Śrī Kṛṣṇa in every way
tomāya sukha dite āilā? nā kaha anyathā
to you joy to give did He come not say otherwise

45 "Tell us, O doe: did Śrī Kṛṣṇa come here with Rādhā to give you every joy? Do not tell us otherwise.

রাধা-প্রিয়সখী আমরা, নহি বহিরঙ্গ । দূর হৈতে জানি তার যৈছে অঙ্গ-গন্ধ ॥ ৪৬ ॥

rādhā-priya-sakhī āmarā, nahi bahiraṅga Rādhā's dear friends we are not outsiders
dūra haite jāni tāra yaiche aṅga-gandha
from far away we know His what kind body's fragrance

46 We are Rādhā's dear friends, not outsiders; even from afar we know the fragrance of His body.

রাধা-অঙ্গ-সঙ্গে কুচকুঙ্কুম-ভূষিত । কৃষ্ণ-কুন্দমালা-গন্ধে বায়ু — সুবাসিত ॥ ৪৭ ॥

rādhā-aṅga-saṅge kuca-kuṅkuma-bhūṣita
with Rādhā's body by contact with the breasts' kuṅkuma adorned kṛṣṇa-kunda-mālā-gandhe vāyu — suvāsita
Kṛṣṇa's kunda garland with the fragrance the air is scented

47 The air is scented with the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's kunda garland, adorned with kuṅkuma from Rādhā's breasts as He embraced Her.

কৃষ্ণ ইঁহা ছাড়ি' গেলা, ইঁহ — বিরহিণী । কিবা উত্তর দিবে এই, না শুনে কাহিনী ॥ ৪৮ ॥

kṛṣṇa iṁhā chāḍi' gelā, iṁha — virahiṇī
Kṛṣṇa here leaving went this one pining in separation
kibā uttara dibe ei, nā śune kāhinī
what answer will give she not hears our words

48 Kṛṣṇa has left this place, and she is pining in separation. What answer can she give? She does not even hear our words."

[The gopīs] ask the trees where Kṛṣṇa is — আগে বৃক্ষগণ দেখে পুষ্পফলভরে । শাখা সব পড়িয়াছে পৃথিবী-উপরে ॥ ৪৯ ॥

āge vṛkṣa-gaṇa dekhe puṣpa-phala-bhare ahead trees they see of flowers and fruits under the weight
śākhā saba paḍiyāche pṛthivī-upare branches all have fallen the earth upon

49 Ahead they saw trees whose branches had all bent down to the earth under the weight of flowers and fruits.

কৃষ্ণে দেখি' এই সব করেন নমস্কার । কৃষ্ণগমন পুছে তারে করিয়া নির্দ্ধার ॥ ৫০ ॥

kṛṣṇe dekhi' ei saba karena namaskāra Kṛṣṇa seeing these all make obeisance
kṛṣṇa-gamana puche tāre kariyā nirddhāra
Kṛṣṇa's going they ask them certainty making

50 Concluding that all these trees had bowed down on seeing Kṛṣṇa, they asked them, to be sure, which way He had gone:

An example from scripture — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.30.12)

বাহুং প্রিয়াংস উপধায় গৃহীতপদ্মো
রামানুজস্তুলসিকালিকুলৈর্মদান্ধৈঃ ৷
অন্বীয়মান ইহ বস্তরবঃ প্রণামং কিংবাভিনন্দতি চরন্ প্রণয়াবলোকৈঃ ॥ ৫১ ॥

bāhuṁ priyāṁsa upadhāya gṛhīta-padmo
the arm on His beloved's shoulder placing holding a lotus rāmānujas tulasikāli-kulair madāndhaiḥ
Rāma's younger brother by the tulasī bees in swarms blind with intoxication anvīyamāna iha vas taravaḥ praṇāmaṁ followed here your O trees obeisance
kiṁ vābhinandati caran praṇayāvalokaiḥ
whether welcomes passing with loving glances

51 "O trees, did Rāma's younger brother pass this way, His arm on His beloved's shoulder and a lotus in His hand, followed by swarms of bees from His tulasī garland, blind with intoxication? And as He passed, did He welcome your obeisances with loving glances?" (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.30.12)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O trees, tell us: Kṛṣṇa, the younger brother of Balarāma (Rāmānuja), is walking along with His arm on Rādhikā's shoulder and a lotus in His hand, followed (pursued) by bees maddened by the tulasī. As He passes, does He accept your bows and answer them with a loving glance?

Anubhāṣya.

During the rāsa pastime, Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa suddenly vanished. Seeing this, the gopīs, whose only life is Kṛṣṇa, are searching for Him —

taravaḥ (O trees!) priyāṁse (on His beloved's shoulder) bāhum (His left arm) upadhāya (placing) gṛhīta-padmaḥ (holding a pastime lotus in His right hand) madāndhaiḥ (blinded by the intoxication of drinking nectar) tulasikāli-kulaiḥ (by swarms of tulasī bees) anvīyamānaḥ (accompanied — followed) rāmānujaḥ (Kṛṣṇa) iha (here) caran (passing by) praṇayālokaiḥ (with loving glances) vaḥ (your) praṇāmam (obeisance) kim abhinandati vā? (does He welcome?)

The meaning of the verse —

প্রিয়া-মুখে ভৃঙ্গ পড়ে, তাহা নিবারিতে । লীলাপদ্ম চালাইতে হৈল অন্যচিত্তে ॥ ৫২ ॥

priyā-mukhe bhṛṅga paḍe, tāhā nivārite
of the beloved on the face bees fall them to drive away
līlā-padma cālāite haila anya-citte
the pastime lotus in waving became of distracted mind

52 As bees settled on His beloved's face, He waved His pastime lotus to drive them away, and His mind was distracted.

তোমার প্রণামে কি কৈরাছেন অবধান ?
কিবা নাহি করেন, কহ বচন প্রমাণ ॥ ৫৩ ॥

tomāra praṇāme ki kairāchena avadhāna?
your obeisance whether did He pay attention
kibā nāhi karena, kaha vacana pramāṇa
or not did He tell word as proof

53 Did He pay any attention to your obeisances, or did He not? Tell us — give us your word as proof.

কৃষ্ণের বিয়োগে এই সেবক দুঃখিত । কিবা উত্তর দিবে, ইহার নাহিক সম্বিৎ ॥ ৫৪ ॥

kṛṣṇera viyoge ei sevaka duḥkhita
of Kṛṣṇa in separation these servants grieving
kibā uttara dibe, ihāra nāhika samvit
what answer will they give their is not consciousness

54 These servants are grieving in separation from Kṛṣṇa. What answer can they give? They are not even conscious."

Anubhāṣya.
Saṁvit: knowledge, consciousness.

The gopīs behold Kṛṣṇa's form —

এত বলি' আগে চলে যমুনার কূলে । দেখে, — তাঁহা কৃষ্ণ হয় কদম্বের তলে ॥ ৫৫ ॥

eta bali' āge cale yamunāra kūle
so saying further they go of the Yamunā to the bank
dekhe, — tāṁhā kṛṣṇa haya kadambera tale
they see there Kṛṣṇa is of a kadamba beneath

55 Saying this, they went on to the bank of the Yamunā, and there they saw Kṛṣṇa beneath a kadamba tree.

কোটিমন্মথমোহন মুরলী-বদন । অপার সৌন্দর্য্যে হরে জগন্নেত্র-মন ॥ ৫৬ ॥

koṭi-manmatha-mohana muralī-vadana millions of gods of love enchanting with the flute at His lips
apāra saundarye hare jagan-netra-mana boundless by beauty steals the world's eyes and mind

56 He enchants millions of gods of love; the flute is at His lips; with His boundless beauty He steals the eyes and minds of the whole world.

Seeing Kṛṣṇa, the Lord faints; the devotees bring Him back to consciousness —

সৌন্দর্য্য দেখিয়া ভূমে পড়ে মূর্চ্ছা পাঞা । হেনকালে স্বরূপাদি মিলিলা আসিয়া ॥ ৫৭ ॥

saundarya dekhiyā bhūme paḍe mūrcchā pāñā
the beauty seeing to the ground falls a swoon getting hena-kāle svarūpādi mililā āsiyā
at that time Svarūpa and the others met arriving

57 Seeing that beauty, the Lord fell to the ground in a swoon. Just then Svarūpa and the others arrived and found Him.

পূর্ব্ববৎ সর্ব্বাঙ্গে সাত্ত্বিকভাবসকল । অন্তরে আনন্দ-আস্বাদ, বাহিরে বিহ্বল ॥ ৫৮ ॥

pūrvavat sarvāṅge sāttvika-bhāva-sakala
as before in all His limbs sāttvika bhāvas all antare ānanda-āsvāda, bāhire vihvala
within of bliss the tasting outwardly overwhelmed

58 As before, all the sāttvika-bhāvas appeared in all His limbs. Within He was tasting bliss; outwardly He was overwhelmed.

পূর্ব্ববৎ সবে মিলি' করাইলা চেতন । উঠিয়া চৌদিকে প্রভু করেন দর্শন ॥ ৫৯ ॥

pūrvavat sabe mili' karāilā cetana
as before all together made consciousness
uṭhiyā caudike prabhu karena darśana
rising on all sides the Lord makes looking 59 As before, they all together brought Him back to consciousness. Rising, the Lord looked all around.

The lament of the Lord, deprived of the sight of Kṛṣṇa —

কাঁহা গেলা কৃষ্ণ? এখন পাইনু দরশন !
যাঁহার সৌন্দর্য্য মোর হরিল নেত্র-মন! ॥ ৬০ ॥

kāṁhā gelā kṛṣṇa? ekhana pāinu daraśana!
where went Kṛṣṇa now I got sight
yāṁhāra saundarya mora harila netra-mana!
whose beauty My stole eyes and mind

60 "Where has Kṛṣṇa gone? I saw Him just now — Him whose beauty has stolen My eyes and mind!

পুনঃ কেনে না দেখিয়ে মুরলী-বদন !
তাঁহার দর্শন লোভে ভ্রময় নয়ন ॥ ৬১ ॥

punaḥ kene nā dekhiye muralī-vadana!
again why not I see with the flute at His lips
tāṁhāra darśana lobhe bhramaya nayana
His sight in greed wander My eyes

61 Why do I not see Him again, with the flute at His lips? My eyes wander about, greedy to see Him."

Śrī Rādhā's words to Viśākhā as She thirsts to see Kṛṣṇa —

বিশাখারে রাধা যৈছে শ্লোক কহিলা । সেই শ্লোক মহাপ্রভু পড়িতে লাগিলা ॥ ৬২ ॥

viśākhāre rādhā yaiche śloka kahilā
to Viśākhā Rādhā as verse spoke sei śloka mahāprabhu paḍite lāgilā
that verse Mahāprabhu to recite began

62 Then Mahāprabhu began to recite the verse that Rādhā had spoken to Viśākhā:

নবাম্বুদ-লসদ্দ্যুতির্নবতড়িন্মনোজ্ঞাম্বরঃ
সুচিত্রমুরলীস্ফুরচ্ছরদমন্দচন্দ্রাননঃ ।
ময়ূরদলভূষিতঃ সুভগতারহারপ্রভঃ স মে মদনমোহনঃ সখি তনোতি নেত্রস্পৃহাম্ ॥ ৬৩ ॥

navāmbuda-lasad-dyutir nava-
than a new cloud shining brighter whose lustre than new taḍin-manojñāmbaraḥ
lightning more charming whose garment
sucitra-muralī-sphurac-charad-
with a beautiful flute gleaming autumn
amanda-candrānanaḥ
full moon whose face
mayūra-dala-bhūṣitaḥ subhaga-
with peacock feathers adorned lovely tāra-hāra-starlike necklace
prabhaḥ
whose radiance
sa me madana-mohanaḥ sakhi
He My of Madana the enchanter O friend
tanoti netra-spṛhām
increases of the eyes the longing

63 "O friend, His lustre shines brighter than a new cloud; His garment is more charming than new lightning; His face, with the gleaming, beautiful flute, is like the bright full moon of autumn; He is adorned with peacock feathers and radiant with a lovely necklace shining like stars — that enchanter of Madana fills My eyes with ever-growing longing." (Govinda-līlāmṛta, 8.4)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O friend! He wears a charming yellow garment, like fresh lightning flashing on a fresh cloud; a beautiful flute is at His lips, and His face is like the moon in the full splendour of autumn. He is adorned with peacock feathers and shines with the lustre of a lovely necklace (tāra-hāra). That Madana-mohana is spreading the thirst of My eyes.

Anubhāṣya.

sakhi (O friend!) navāmbuda-lasad-dyutiḥ (whose lustre [dyuti, radiance] shines even brighter than a fresh cloud) nava-taḍin-manojñāmbaraḥ (whose garment [ambara, clothing] is more charming and lovely even than fresh lightning) sucitra-muralī-sphurac-charad-amanda-candrānanaḥ (whose face, shining with a wonderfully charming flute, is like the full moon of autumn) mayūra-dala-bhūṣitaḥ (adorned with peacock feathers) subhaga-tāra-hāra-prabhaḥ (whose necklace shines like beautiful, brilliant stars) saḥ madana-mohanaḥ (He maddens: to nourish the rasa of union [sambhoga], He makes [His beloved] languish in the phase of separation [vipralambha] and then brings union to fullness — therefore He is Madana; by these two He brings [her] under His sway — therefore He is Mohana; He is both — Madana-mohana)[8] me (My) netra-spṛhām (the thirst of the eyes — the eyes' longing to see Him) tanoti (increases).

The meaning of the verse; a description of Kṛṣṇa's form (citra-jalpa) — [Any rāga as suits (yathā-rāga)]

নবঘনস্নিগ্ধবর্ণ, দলিতাঞ্জন-চিক্কণ, ইন্দীবর-নিন্দি সুকোমল ।
জিনি' উপমার গণ, হরে সবার নেত্র-মন, কৃষ্ণকান্তি পরম প্রবল ॥ ৬৪ ॥

nava-ghana-snigdha-varṇa,
new cloud glossy complexion
dalitāñjana-cikkaṇa,
ground collyrium smooth
indīvara-nindi sukomala
the blue lotus putting to shame very soft
jini' upamāra gaṇa,
conquering of comparisons the host
hare sabāra netra-mana,
steals of all eyes and mind
kṛṣṇa-kānti parama prabala
Kṛṣṇa's lustre supremely powerful

64 "Kṛṣṇa's complexion is glossy as a new cloud and smooth as ground collyrium; it puts the blue lotus to shame with its softness. Surpassing every comparison, Kṛṣṇa's lustre is supremely powerful: it steals the eyes and minds of all.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śrī Kṛṣṇa's lustre outshines the smooth gloss of ground (dalita, pounded or crushed) collyrium. Its hue is soft like a fresh cloud; it is softer than the indīvara (blue lotus) and beyond all comparison[7].

কহ, সখি, কি করি উপায় ?
কৃষ্ণাদ্ভুত বলাহক, মোর নেত্র-চাতক, না দেখি' পিয়াসে মরি' যায় ॥ ৬৫ ॥

kaha, sakhi, ki kari upāya?
tell O friend what shall I do means kṛṣṇādbhuta balāhaka, Kṛṣṇa wondrous cloud
mora netra-cātaka,
My eyes cātaka birds
nā dekhi' piyāse mari' yāya
not seeing of thirst dying go

65 Tell Me, O friend, what shall I do? Kṛṣṇa is a wondrous cloud, and the cātaka birds of My eyes, not seeing Him, are dying of thirst.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Valāhaka: a cloud.

Comparisons for Kṛṣṇa's form —

সৌদামিনী পীতাম্বর, স্থির নহে নিরন্তর, মুক্তাহার বকপাঁতি ভাল ।
ইন্দ্রধনু-শিখিপাখা, উপরে দিয়াছে দেখা, আর ধনু বৈজয়ন্তী-মাল ॥ ৬৬ ॥

saudāminī pītāmbara, sthira nahe nirantara,
lightning the yellow cloth steady is not ever muktā-hāra baka-pāṁti bhāla
pearl necklace of cranes a row lovely
indra-dhanu śikhi-pākhā, Indra's bow peacock feather
upare diyāche dekhā,
above has appeared
āra dhanu vaijayantī-māla
another bow the Vaijayantī garland

66 His yellow cloth is the lightning, never steady; His pearl necklace is a lovely row of cranes; His peacock feather is a rainbow appearing above, and His Vaijayantī garland is another rainbow.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 21.109.

মুরলীর কলধ্বনি, মধুর গর্জ্জন শুনি', বৃন্দাবনে নাচে ময়ূরচয় ।
অকলঙ্ক পূর্ণকল, লাবণ্য-জ্যোৎস্না ঝলমল, চিত্রচন্দ্র তাহাতে উদয় ॥ ৬৭ ॥

muralīra kala-dhvani,
of the flute soft sweet sound
madhura garjana śuni',
sweet thunder hearing
vṛndāvane nāce mayūra-caya
in Vṛndāvana dance peacocks in flocks
akalaṅka pūrṇa-kala,
spotless full in all digits
lāvaṇya-jyotsnā jhalamala,
of beauty moonlight sparkling
citra-candra tāhāte udaya
a wondrous moon in it rising

67 Hearing the soft murmur of His flute — the cloud's sweet thunder — the peacocks of Vṛndāvana dance. And in that cloud a wondrous moon is rising, spotless and full in all its digits, its moonlight of beauty sparkling.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Akalaṅka pūrṇa-kala: a wondrous moon risen spotless and full in all its sixteen digits (kalās).

Śrī Rādhā, deprived of the joy of seeing Kṛṣṇa, describes Her own misfortune

—

লীলামৃত-বরিষণে, সিঞ্চে চৌদ্দ ভুবনে, হেন মেঘ যবে দেখা দিল ।
দুর্দ্দৈব-ঝঞ্ঝাপবনে, মেঘে নিল অন্যস্থানে, মরে চাতক, পিতে না পাইল ॥ ৬৮ ॥

līlāmṛta-variṣaṇe,
of pastimes of nectar by the shower
siñce caudda bhuvane,
it sprinkles fourteen worlds
hena megha yabe dekhā dila
such a cloud when appeared
durdaiva-jhañjhā-pavane,
of misfortune of the storm by the wind
meghe nila anya-sthāne,
the cloud was taken to another place
mare cātaka, pite nā pāila
dies the cātaka to drink not could

68 With a shower of the nectar of His pastimes it drenches all fourteen worlds — but when such a cloud appeared, the storm wind of My misfortune carried it away to another place, and the cātaka is dying, for it could not drink."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O friend, Śrī Kṛṣṇa is a wondrous cloud. The cātaka bird of My eyes cannot see that cloud and is dying of thirst. Kṛṣṇa's yellow garment is the lightning in that cloud, but it is unsteady. The pearl necklace on His neck shines like a row of (white) cranes beneath the cloud. His peacock feather is like the rainbow in the cloud, and His (five-coloured) Vaijayantī garland is also like a rainbow. The soft sound of the flute at Kṛṣṇa's lips is the sweet thunder of the cloud of His form; hearing it, the peacocks of Vṛndāvana dance. The moonlight of Kṛṣṇa's beauty has risen like a wondrous moon, spotless and full (in all sixteen digits). The cloud of Kṛṣṇa pours the nectar of His pastimes and waters all fourteen worlds. But as soon as that cloud, Kṛṣṇa's form, appeared, the whirlwind of My misfortune swept it away elsewhere. And now, not seeing the cloud, the cātaka of My eyes is all but dead for want of water.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Jhañjhā-vāta: a whirlwind.

Rāmānanda recites a verse suited to the Lord's mood; the Lord Himself explains it —

পুনঃ কহে, — হায় হায়, পড় পড় রামরায়, কহে প্রভু গদগদ আখ্যানে ।
রামানন্দ পড়ে শ্লোক, শুনি' প্রভুর হর্ষ-শোক, আপনে প্রভু করেন ব্যাখ্যানে ॥ ৬৯ ॥

punaḥ kahe, — hāya hāya,
again He says alas alas
paḍa paḍa rāma-rāya,
recite recite Rāmarāya
kahe prabhu gadagada ākhyāne
says the Lord choked in speech
rāmānanda paḍe śloka, Rāmānanda recites a verse
śuni' prabhura harṣa-śoka,
hearing the Lord's joy and sorrow
āpane prabhu karena vyākhyāne
Himself the Lord makes explanation

69 "Alas, alas! Recite, recite, Rāmarāya!" the Lord said again, His voice choked with feeling. Rāmānanda recited a verse; hearing it, the Lord felt both joy and sorrow, and He Himself explained it.

Anubhāṣya.
Harṣa-śoka: harṣa (joy) from hearing of Kṛṣṇa's sweetness, śoka (grief) from separation from Him.

Words spoken in citra-jalpa — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.29.39)

বীক্ষ্যালকাবৃতমুখং তব কুণ্ডলশ্রী- গণ্ডস্থলাধরসুধং হসিতাবলোকম্ ।
দত্তাভয়ঞ্চ ভুজদণ্ডযুগং বিলোক্য বক্ষঃ শ্রিয়ৈকরমণঞ্চ ভবাম দাস্যঃ ॥ ৭০ ॥

vīkṣyālakāvṛta-mukhaṁ tava kuṇḍala-śrī-having seen by locks framed face Your by the beauty of earrings
gaṇḍa-sthalādhara-sudhaṁ hasitāvalokam
of the cheeks of the lips the nectar smiling glance
dattābhayaṁ ca bhuja-daṇḍa-yugaṁ vilokya granting fearlessness and of arms the pair having beheld vakṣaḥ śriyaika-ramaṇaṁ ca bhavāma dāsyaḥ
the chest for Śrī the sole delight and we become maidservants

70 "Seeing Your face framed by curling locks and graced by the beauty of Your earrings, Your cheeks, the nectar of Your lips and Your smiling glance, and beholding Your two arms that grant fearlessness and Your chest, the sole delight of Śrī, we have become Your maidservants." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.29.39)[3]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 24.48.

The meaning of the verse; a description of how the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's form overpowers the gopīs (citra-jalpa) — [Any rāga as suits (yathā-rāga)]

কৃষ্ণ জিনি' পদ্ম-চান্দ, পাতিয়াছে মুখ ফান্দ, তাতে অধর মধুস্মিত চার ।
ব্রজনারী আসি' আসি', ফান্দে পড়ি' হয় দাসী, ছাড়ি' লাজ-পতি-ঘর-দ্বার ॥ ৭১ ॥

kṛṣṇa jini' padma-cānda,
Kṛṣṇa conquering the lotus and the moon
pātiyāche mukha phānda,
has set of His face a snare
tāte adhara madhu-smita cāra
in it of the lips sweet smile the bait
vraja-nārī āsi' āsi', Vraja's women coming coming
phānde paḍi' haya dāsī,
into the snare falling become maidservants
chāḍi' lāja-pati-ghara-dvāra
leaving shame husbands home and door

71 "Having conquered the lotus and the moon, Kṛṣṇa has set the snare of His face, baited with the sweet smile of His lips. The women of Vraja come, fall into the snare and become His maidservants, leaving shame, husbands, home and hearth.

বান্ধব কৃষ্ণ করে ব্যাধের আচার ৷
নাহি মানে ধর্ম্মাধর্ম্ম, হরে নারী-মৃগী-মর্ম্ম, করে নানা উপায় তাহার ॥ ৭২ ॥

bāndhava kṛṣṇa kare vyādhera ācāra
our friend Kṛṣṇa does of a hunter the conduct
nāhi māne dharmādharma,
not regards right and wrong
hare nārī-mṛgī-marma,
steals of the women-does the hearts
kare nānā upāya tāhāra
makes various means for that

72 Ah, our friend Kṛṣṇa behaves like a hunter! He cares nothing for right or wrong, and with ruse after ruse He steals the hearts of women, His does.

গণ্ডস্থল ঝলমল, নাচে মকর-কুণ্ডল, যেই নৃত্যে হরে নারীচয় ৷
সস্মিত কটাক্ষ-বাণে, তা-সবার হৃদয়ে হানে, নারী-বধে নাহি কিছু ভয় ॥ ৭৩ ॥

gaṇḍa-sthala jhalamala,
the cheeks sparkling
nāce makara-kuṇḍala,
dance makara earrings
yei nṛtye hare nārī-caya
by which dance steal women all
sasmita kaṭākṣa-bāṇe,
smiling of sidelong glances with arrows
tā-sabāra hṛdaye hāne,
their all in the hearts He strikes
nārī-vadhe nāhi kichu bhaya
of women in killing not any fear

73 On His sparkling cheeks His makara earrings dance, and by that dance they steal the hearts of all women. With the arrows of His smiling sidelong glances He pierces their hearts, and He has no fear at all of killing women.

অতি উচ্চ সুবিস্তার, লক্ষ্মী-শ্রীবৎস-অলংকার, কৃষ্ণের যে ডাকাতিয়া বক্ষ ৷
ব্রজদেবী লক্ষ লক্ষ, তা-সবার মনোবক্ষ, হরিদাসী করিবারে দক্ষ ॥ ৭৪ ॥

ati ucca suvistāra,
very high broad
lakṣmī-śrīvatsa-alaṁkāra, Lakṣmī Śrīvatsa ornaments
kṛṣṇera ye ḍākātiyā vakṣa Kṛṣṇa's that robber chest
vraja-devī lakṣa lakṣa,
of Vraja goddesses hundreds of thousands
tā-sabāra mano-vakṣa,
their all minds and breasts
hari-dāsī karibāre dakṣa
of Hari maidservants in making skilled

74 Kṛṣṇa's chest, lofty and broad and adorned with the marks of Lakṣmī and Śrīvatsa, is a robber: it carries off the minds and breasts of hundreds of thousands of goddesses of Vraja and skilfully makes them Hari's maidservants.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Ḍākātiyā vakṣa: the chest (of Kṛṣṇa) that, like a robber, forcibly carries off all the (Vraja) women.

Anubhāṣya.

Lakṣmī: the mark of a golden line on the left side of the chest; Śrīvatsa: the Śrīvatsa mark on the right side of the chest, or a curl of hair turning to the right.

সুললিত দীর্ঘার্গল, কৃষ্ণের ভুজযুগল, ভুজ নহে, — কৃষ্ণসর্পকায় ।
দুই শৈল-ছিদ্রে পশে, নারীর হৃদয়ে দংশে, মনে নারী সে বিষজ্বালায় ॥ ৭৫ ॥

sulalita dīrghārgala,
very graceful long bolts
kṛṣṇera bhuja-yugala, Kṛṣṇa's of arms the pair
bhuja nahe, — kṛṣṇa-sarpa-kāya
arms are not black snakes' bodies
dui śaila-chidre paśe,
two hills into the gap enter
nārīra hṛdaye daṁśe,
of women in the hearts bite
mane nārī se viṣa-jvālāya
in the mind women that of poison in the burning

75 Kṛṣṇa's two arms are graceful long bolts — no, not arms, but the bodies of black snakes. They slip into the gap between the two hills and bite women's hearts, and the women burn within from that poison.[4]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śaila-chidre: into the gap (the middle) between the two breasts upon the heart.

কৃষ্ণ-কর-পদতল, কোটিচন্দ্র-সুশীতল, জিনি' কর্পূর-বেণামূল-চন্দন ।
একবার যার স্পর্শে, স্মরজ্বালা-বিষ নাশে, যার স্পর্শে লুব্ধ নারী-মন ॥ ৭৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa-kara-pada-tala, Kṛṣṇa's hands and feet the palms and soles
koṭi-candra-suśītala,
than millions of moons cooler
jini' karpūra-veṇā-mūla-candana
surpassing camphor vetiver root sandal
eka-bāra yāra sparśe,
once whose by the touch
smara-jvālā-viṣa nāśe,
of Smara's burning poison is destroyed
yāra sparśe lubdha nārī-mana whose by the touch greedy women's minds

76 The palms of Kṛṣṇa's hands and the soles of His feet are cooler than millions of moons; they surpass camphor, vetiver root and sandal. A single touch of them destroys the burning poison of Smara, and women's hearts long for that touch."[5]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Defeating the moon and the lotus, Kṛṣṇa has set the snare of His face to catch the does (the gopīs). In that snare the bait of His sweet smile has been laid, that is, a deceptive food to lure the (gopī) does. Leaving home and hearth, husband and shame, the does — the women of Vraja — fall into that snare and become His maidservants. Ah, our friend Śrī Kṛṣṇa behaves just like a hunter! This hunter cares nothing for dharma or adharma; he devises many tricks to steal the hearts of the does, the beauties of Vraja. His makara earrings glitter and dance on His cheeks and steal the women's minds. He pierces their hearts with the arrows of His smiling sidelong glances and has no fear at all of killing women. Kṛṣṇa's broad chest (given to plunder, like a bandit) bears two marks as ornaments: Lakṣmī and Śrīvatsa (a curl of hair turning to the right). It forcibly draws hundreds of thousands of goddesses of Vraja, their minds and their breasts, and makes them maidservants of that very Hari. Kṛṣṇa's two arms, exquisitely beautiful, are like long door-bolts, almost like the bodies of black serpents. They enter the gap (the middle) between the two mountain-like breasts of the women and bite the heart. (From the poison of that bite, His touch, the gopī burns in the fever of loving desire.) The palms and soles of Kṛṣṇa surpass camphor, veṇāmūla root and sandalwood and are cooler than millions of moons. Whoever they touch even once is freed from the burning poison of Kandarpa.

Anubhāṣya.

Veṇāmūla: the fragrant khaskhas root (vetiver).

The Lord, in separation from Kṛṣṇa, recites a verse —

এতেক বিলাপ করি', বিষাদে শ্রীগৌরহরি, এই অর্থে পড়ে এক শ্লোক ৷
এই শ্লোক পাঞা রাধা, বিশাখারে কহে রাধা, উঘাড়িয়া হৃদয়ের শোক ॥ ৭৭ ॥

eteka vilāpa kari',
so much lament making
viṣāde śrī-gaurahari,
in dejection Śrī Gaurahari
ei arthe paḍe eka śloka
with this meaning recites one verse
ei śloka pāñā rādhā,
this verse having found Rādhā
viśākhāre kahe rādhā,
to Viśākhā speaks Rādhā
ughāḍiyā hṛdayera śoka
opening of the heart the grief

77 Lamenting so much in His dejection, Śrī Gaurahari recited a verse with this meaning — the verse with which Rādhā spoke to Viśākhā, laying open the grief of Her heart:

Śrī Rādhā's thirst to see Kṛṣṇa — (Govinda-līlāmṛta 8.7: Śrī Rādhā's words to Viśākhā)

হরিংমণিকবাটিকাপ্রততহারিবক্ষঃস্থলঃ
স্মরার্ত্ততরুণীমনঃকলুষহারিদোরর্গলঃ ৷
সুধাংশুহরিচন্দনোৎপলসিতাভ্রশীতাঙ্গকঃ স মে মদনমোহনঃ সখি তনোতি বক্ষঃস্পৃহাম্ ॥ ৭৮ ॥

hariṁ-maṇi-kavāṭikā-pratata-sapphire door broad
hāri-vakṣaḥ-sthalaḥ
outshining whose chest
smarārta-taruṇī-manaḥ-kaluṣatormented by Smara of young girls of the mind the distress hāri-dor-
removing whose arms
argalaḥ
bolts
sudhāṁśu-hari-candanotpala-
the moon hari-candana lotus sitābhra-śītāṅgakaḥ
than camphor cooler whose body
sa me madana-mohanaḥ sakhi
He My of Madana the enchanter O friend
tanoti vakṣaḥ-spṛhām
increases of the breast the longing

78 "O friend, His broad chest outshines a door of sapphire; His bolt-like arms take away the distress of young girls' minds tormented by Smara; His body is cooler than the moon, hari-candana, the lotus and camphor — that enchanter of Madana kindles a longing in My breast." (Govinda-līlāmṛta, 8.7)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O friend! His chest is broad and charming like a door made of sapphires (indranīla gems). His arms remove the turmoil of mind (the fever of loving desire) of young maidens tormented by Kāma. His body is cool like the moon, hari-candana, the lotus (utpala) and camphor. That Madana-mohana is spreading the longing of My breast.

Anubhāṣya.

sakhi (O friend!) hariṇ-maṇi-kavāṭikā-pratata-hāri-vakṣaḥ-sthalaḥ (whose chest by its very nature surpasses [literally, "steals"] the breadth [pratati, expanse] of a door made of harin-maṇi, sapphires of the indranīla kind)[9] smarārta-taruṇī-manaḥ-kaluṣa-hāri-dor-argalaḥ (whose bolt-like arms remove the turmoil of mind, the mental fever, of young maidens tormented by Smara [Madana]) sudhāṁśu-hari-candanotpala-sitābhra-śītāṅgakaḥ (whose body is cooler even than the moon [sudhāṁśu, the moon], hari-candana, the utpala [the kuvalaya, the lotus] and camphor [sitābhra, camphor]) madana-mohanaḥ me (My) vakṣaḥ-spṛhām (the longing of the breast) tanoti (increases).

The lament of the Lord, deprived of the sight of Kṛṣṇa —

প্রভু কহে, — কৃষ্ণ মুই এখন দেখিনু । আপনার দুর্দ্দৈবে পুনঃ হারাইনু ॥ ৭৯ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kṛṣṇa mui ekhana dekhinu
the Lord says Kṛṣṇa I just now saw āpanāra durdaive punaḥ hārāinu
by My own misfortune again lost

79 The Lord said, "I saw Kṛṣṇa just now, and by My own misfortune I have lost Him again.

চঞ্চল-স্বভাব কৃষ্ণের, না রয় একস্থানে । দেখা দিয়া মন হরি' করে অন্তর্দ্ধানে ॥ ৮০ ॥

cañcala-svabhāva kṛṣṇera, nā raya ekasthāne
fickle by nature Kṛṣṇa not stays in one place
dekhā diyā mana hari' kare antarddhāne
appearing the mind stealing makes disappearance

80 Kṛṣṇa is fickle by nature; He does not stay in one place. He shows Himself, steals the mind and disappears."

Kṛṣṇa, the Lord bound by the gopīs' love, vanishes from the rāsa dance — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.29.48)

তাসাং তৎসৌভগমদং বীক্ষ্য মানঞ্চ কেশবঃ । প্রশমায় প্রসাদায় তত্রৈবান্তরধীয়ত ॥ ৮১ ॥

tāsāṁ tat-saubhaga-madaṁ
of them that of good fortune the pride
vīkṣya mānaṁ ca keśavaḥ
seeing self-esteem and Keśava
praśamāya prasādāya
to calm to show grace
tatraivāntaradhīyata
right there disappeared

81 "Seeing the gopīs intoxicated with their good fortune and grown proud, Keśava, to humble that pride and to show them His grace, vanished right there." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.29.48)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Seeing their pride in their good fortune, Kṛṣṇa vanished right there, to quell that pride and to show them grace.

Anubhāṣya.
The mahā-bhāgavata Śrī Śukadeva is describing Śrī Kṛṣṇa's rāsa-līlā to Parīkṣit, who is eager to hear —

keśavaḥ (Kṛṣṇa, who brings under His control ka and īśa, Brahmā and Śiva) tāsām (of the gopīs) tat-saubhaga-madam (their pride rooted in their good fortune) mānam (haughtiness) ca (and) vīkṣya (seeing), tasya (of it) praśamāya (to quell) (prasādāya, and to show grace) tatra (at the site of the rāsa) eva (right) antaradhīyata (vanished).

The Lord asks Svarūpa to sing —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞিরে কহেন, — গাও এক গীত । যাতে আমার হৃদয়ের হয়ে ত' 'সম্বিৎ' ॥ ৮২ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñire kahena, — gāo eka gīta
to Svarūpa Gosāñi He says sing a song
yāte āmāra hṛdayera haye ta' 'samvit'
by which My of the heart may come indeed awareness

82 He said to Svarūpa Gosāñi, "Sing a song that will bring My heart back to awareness."

Anubhāṣya.
Saṁvit: a distraught mind regaining steady awareness.

Svarūpa's song —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তবে মধুর করিয়া । গীতগোবিন্দের পদ গায় প্রভুরে শুনাঞা ॥ ৮৩ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi tabe madhura kariyā Svarūpa Gosāñi then sweetly doing
gīta-govindera pada gāya prabhure śunāñā
of the Gīta-govinda a song sings to the Lord making hear

83 Then Svarūpa Gosāñi sweetly sang for the Lord a song from the Gīta-govinda:

A gopī remembers Kṛṣṇa, the enjoyer of the rāsa — (Gīta-govinda 2.3)

রাসে হরিমিহ বিহিতবিলাসম্ । স্মরতি মনো মম কৃতপরিহাসম্ ॥ ৮৪ ॥

rāse harim iha vihita-vilāsam
in the rāsa Hari here who enjoyed pastimes
smarati mano mama kṛta-parihāsam
remembers mind My who made jests

84 "My mind remembers Hari, who here in the rāsa dance enjoyed His pastimes and His jests." (Gīta-govinda, 2.3)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

My mind remembers Hari, who here, in the rāsa dance, enjoyed many pastimes and jested.

Anubhāṣya.

sakhi (O friend!) iha (here) rāse (in the rāsa dance) mama (My) manaḥ (mind) vihita-vilāsam (Him by whom pastimes were performed [vihita, carried out]) kṛta-parihāsam (Him by whom jests were made [kṛta, done]) harim (Hari) smarati (remembers).

Hearing the song, the Lord dances, overwhelmed by prema —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি যবে এই পদ গাহিলা । উঠি' প্রেমাবেশে তবে নাচিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৮৫ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi yabe ei pada gāhilā Svarūpa Gosāñi when this song sang uṭhi' premāveśe tabe nācite lāgilā
rising absorbed in prema then to dance began

85 When Svarūpa Gosāñi sang this song, the Lord rose, absorbed in prema, and began to dance.

The eight sāttvika-vikāras and all the bhāvas arise at once —

'অষ্টসাত্ত্বিক' ভাব অঙ্গে প্রকট হইল । হর্ষাদি 'ব্যভিচারী' সব উথলিল ॥ ৮৬ ॥

'aṣṭa-sāttvika' bhāva aṅge prakaṭa haila
the eight sāttvika bhāvas in His body manifest became harṣādi 'vyabhicārī' saba uthalila
joy and the others vyabhicārī all welled up

86 The eight sāttvika-bhāvas appeared in His body, and all the vyabhicārī-bhāvas, beginning with joy, welled up.

ভাবোদয়, ভাব-সন্ধি, ভাব-শাবল্য । ভাবে-ভাবে মহাযুদ্ধে সবার প্রাবল্য ॥ ৮৭ ॥

bhāvodaya, bhāva-sandhi, bhāva-śābalya
rise of feelings of feelings meeting of feelings mingling bhāve-bhāve mahā-yuddhe sabāra prābalya between feeling and feeling in a great battle of all the dominance

87 Feelings arose (bhāvodaya), met (bhāva-sandhi) and mingled (bhāva-śābalya); feeling fought feeling in a great battle, each striving to prevail.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhāvodaya: the arising of the eight sāttvika-bhāvas; bhāva-sandhi: the meeting of two bhāvas, alike or different; bhāva-śābalya: the clash of many bhāvas with one another.

The Lord relishes the singing of that verse and dances —

সেই পদ পুনঃ পুনঃ করায় গায়ন । পুনঃ পুনঃ আস্বাদয়ে, করেন নর্ত্তন ॥ ৮৮ ॥

sei pada punaḥ punaḥ karāya gāyana
that song again and again He has sung
punaḥ punaḥ āsvādaye, karena nartana
again and again He relishes makes dancing

88 Again and again He had that song sung; again and again He relished it and danced.

Svarūpa ends the kīrtana —

এইমত নৃত্য যদি হইল বহুক্ষণ । স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি পদ কৈলা সমাপন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

ei-mata nṛtya yadi haila bahu-kṣaṇa
in this way dancing when went on a long time
svarūpa-gosāñi pada kailā samāpana
Svarūpa Gosāñi the song made conclusion

89 When the dancing had gone on in this way for a long time, Svarūpa Gosāñi brought the song to a close.

Seeing the Lord's condition, Svarūpa stops singing —

'বল্' 'বল্' বলি' প্রভু কহেন বারবার । না গায় স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি শ্রম দেখি' তাঁর ॥ ৯০ ॥

'bal' 'bal' bali' prabhu kahena bārabāra
sing sing saying the Lord says again and again
nā gāya svarūpa-gosāñi śrama dekhi' tāṁra not sings Svarūpa Gosāñi fatigue seeing His 90 "Sing! Sing!" the Lord said again and again, but seeing His fatigue, Svarūpa Gosāñi did not sing.

Everyone raises the sound of Hari's name —

'বল্' 'বল্' প্রভু বলেন, ভক্তগণ শুনি' । চৌদিকেতে সবে মেলি' করে হরিধ্বনি ॥ ৯১ ॥

'bal' 'bal' prabhu balena, bhakta-gaṇa śuni'
sing sing the Lord says the devotees hearing
caudikete sabe meli' kare hari-dhvani
on all sides all together make the sound of Hari's name

91 The Lord kept saying, "Sing! Sing!" Hearing this, the devotees gathered all around and called out the name of Hari.

Rāya relieves the Lord's fatigue —

রামানন্দ রায় তবে প্রভুরে বসাইলা । ব্যজনাদি করি' প্রভুর শ্রম ঘুচাইলা ॥ ৯২ ॥

rāmānanda rāya tabe prabhure vasāilā Rāmānanda Rāya then the Lord seated vyajanādi kari' prabhura śrama ghucāilā
fanning and so on doing the Lord's fatigue removed

92 Then Rāmānanda Rāya made the Lord sit down and relieved His fatigue by fanning Him and serving Him in other ways.

The Lord bathes, takes prasāda and lies down to rest —

প্রভুরে লঞা গেলা তবে সমুদ্রের তীরে । স্নান করাঞা পুনঃ তাঁরে লঞা আইলা ঘরে ॥ ৯৩ ॥

prabhure lañā gelā tabe samudrera tīre
the Lord taking they went then of the sea to the shore
snāna karāñā punaḥ tāṁre lañā āilā ghare
bath making Him take again Him taking came home

93 Then they took the Lord to the seashore, bathed Him, and brought Him home again.

ভোজন করাঞা প্রভুরে করাইলা শয়ন । রামানন্দ-আদি সবে গেলা নিজ-স্থান ॥ ৯৪ ॥

bhojana karāñā prabhure karāilā śayana
meal making Him take the Lord made lie down
rāmānanda-ādi sabe gelā nija-sthāna
Rāmānanda and the others all went own places

94 They gave the Lord His meal and had Him lie down to rest, and Rāmānanda and all the others went to their own places.

The Lord's divine madness (udghūrṇā and citra-jalpa): thinking Himself a maidservant of the gopīs, He is reminded of the pastimes of Vṛndāvana —

এই ত' কহিলুঁ প্রভুর উদ্যান-বিহার । বৃন্দাবন ভ্রমে যাঁহা প্রবেশ তাঁহার ॥ ৯৫ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ prabhura udyāna-vihāra
thus indeed I have told the Lord's in the garden pastime
vṛndāvana bhrame yāṁhā praveśa tāṁhāra Vṛndāvana mistaking it for where the entering His

95 Thus I have told of the Lord's pastime in the garden that He entered, taking it for Vṛndāvana.

বিলাপ-সহিত এই উন্মাদ-বর্ণন । শ্রীরূপ-গোসাঞি ইহা কৈরাছেন লিখন ॥ ৯৬ ॥

vilāpa-sahita ei unmāda-varṇana
with lament together this of madness description
śrī-rūpa-gosāñi ihā kairāchena likhana
Śrī Rūpa Gosāñi this has made writing

96 Śrī Rūpa Gosāñi too has described this divine madness of the Lord, together with His lament:

The Lord, reminded of Vṛndāvana, chants Kṛṣṇa's name, overwhelmed by prema — (Stava-mālā, first Caitanyāṣṭaka, verse 6)

পয়োরাশেস্তীরে স্ফুরদুপবনালীকলনয়া
মুহুর্বৃন্দারণ্যস্মরণজনিতপ্রেমবিবশঃ ।
ক্বচিৎ কৃষ্ণাবৃত্তিপ্রচলরসনো ভক্তিরসিকঃ স চৈতন্যঃ কিং মে পুনরপি দৃশোর্যাস্যতি পদম্ ॥ ৯৭ ॥

payo-rāśes tīre sphurad-
of the ocean on the shore gleaming
upavanālī-kalanayā
of rows of gardens by the sight
muhur vṛndāraṇya-smaraṇa-janita-
again and again of the Vṛndāvana forest by remembrance born prema-vivaśaḥ
by prema overwhelmed
kvacit kṛṣṇāvṛtti-pracalasometimes of Kṛṣṇa's name by repetition restless
rasano bhakti-rasikaḥ
whose tongue of bhakti the relisher
sa caitanyaḥ kiṁ me punar api
that Caitanya will my again even dṛśor yāsyati padam
of the eyes come to the path

97 "At times, on the shore of the ocean, at the sight of rows of gleaming gardens, He would remember again and again the forest of Vṛndāvana and be overwhelmed by the prema it awakened, His tongue moving restlessly as it repeated Kṛṣṇa's name. Will that Caitanya, the relisher of bhakti, come once again before my eyes?" (Stava-mālā, First Caitanyāṣṭaka, 6)[6]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Seeing the rows of beautiful gardens on the seashore, the Lord again and again remembered the forest of Vṛndāvana and became helpless with prema. Gaurāṅga, the connoisseur of the taste of bhakti, is saying "Kṛṣṇa! Kṛṣṇa!" with a restless (pracala, unsteady) tongue. Will such a Caitanyadeva come again within the path of my sight?

Thus ends the fifteenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.

kvacit (at times) yaḥ (He who) payo-rāśeḥ (of the ocean) tīre (on the shore — on the strip of sand) sphurad-upavanālī-kalanayā (by seeing [kalana, beholding] the rows, the clusters, of gardens shining in their beauty) muhuḥ (at every moment) vṛndāraṇya-smaraṇa-janita-prema-vivaśaḥ (helpless with prema: the thought of Vṛndāvana arose in Him, and He lost control of Himself in His longing for love of Kṛṣṇa) abhūt (became), kṛṣṇāvṛtti-pracala-rasanaḥ (He whose tongue is restless, unsteady, from constantly chanting the name "Kṛṣṇa"), bhakti-rasikaḥ saḥ caitanyaḥ me (my) dṛśoḥ (of the eyes) padam (path) punar api kim yāsyati (will He attain — enter again)?

Thus ends the fifteenth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

অনন্ত চৈতন্যলীলা না যায় লিখন । দিঙ্মাত্র দেখাঞা তাহা করিয়ে সূচন ॥ ৯৮ ॥

ananta caitanya-līlā nā yāya likhana endless Caitanya's pastimes not can be written
diṅ-mātra dekhāñā tāhā kariye sūcana
a mere direction showing them I make indication

98 Śrī Caitanya's pastimes are endless; they cannot all be written. I only point the way and give a hint of them.

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ । চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ৯৯ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

99 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. Guṇa means both "quality" and "rope": sweetness binds the ears as with a rope. ↩
2. The edition prints sakhī (a misprint; the vocative is sakhi, as in the Anubhāṣya: he sakhi). In the verse the beloved is not named; that She is Rādhā is said in verses 45–47 and in the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya. ↩
3. The verse is Madhya 24.48; translated as there. ↩
4. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads mane, "in the mind" (other editions mare, "die"). ↩
5. The first line is the same as Madhya 2.34; translated as there. ↩
6. The last line is the same as Ādi 3.65 (Caitanyāṣṭaka, 1). ↩
7. The verse translation reads differently: Kṛṣṇa's body resembles collyrium in its lustre. ↩
8. The verse translation reads differently: He is so enchantingly beautiful that even the god of love is charmed by Him. ↩
9. The verse translation reads differently: Kṛṣṇa's broad chest resembles a beautiful door of sapphires. ↩