“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 1

The Festival of Association with Śrī Rūpa

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. When the Gauḍīya devotees received word that Mahāprabhu had returned from Śrī Vṛndāvana to Śrī Kṣetra, they set out for Puruṣottama. Śivānanda Sena was taking a dog along with him and paying its fare at the river crossings. One night the dog was not given its rice, and it went away to the Lord. The next day Śivānanda and the others reached Mahāprabhu and saw that very dog eating prasāda — coconut pulp the Lord had given it. Afterwards the dog attained liberation and went (to Vaikuṇṭha). Meanwhile Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī had set out from Vṛndāvana, but he could not travel together with the Gauḍīya devotees: he reached Nīlācala some days later and stayed with Haridāsa. Mahāprabhu read the verse “priyaḥ so 'yaṁ” composed by Śrī Rūpa and was overjoyed. One day Mahāprabhu came to Haridāsa's dwelling with Rāmānanda Rāya, Sārvabhauma and other devotees and heard the introductory and other verses of Śrī Rūpa's two plays, the Lalita-mādhava and the Vidagdha-mādhava. Rāmānanda Rāya examined many of their parts, major and minor, and concluded that both plays were of the highest excellence. After the cāturmāsya the Gauḍīya devotees, by the Lord's order, set out for Gauḍa. Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī remained in Śrī Kṣetra.

Homage to the all-merciful Supreme Lord, Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Mahāprabhu —

পঙ্গুং লঙ্ঘয়তে শৈলং মূকমাবর্ত্তয়েচ্ছ্রুতিম্ । যৎকৃপা তমহং বন্দে কৃষ্ণচৈতন্যমীশ্বরম্ ॥ ১ ॥

paṅguṁ laṅghayate śailaṁ
the lame makes cross a mountain

mūkam āvartayec chrutim
the mute makes recite the scriptures (śruti)

yat-kṛpā tam ahaṁ vande whose mercy to Him I offer obeisance

kṛṣṇa-caitanyam īśvaram
to Kṛṣṇa Caitanya the Lord

1 I offer obeisance to the Lord, Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, whose mercy makes the lame cross a mountain and the mute recite the scriptures.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I worship the Lord, Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, whose mercy gives the lame the strength to cross a mountain and makes the mute recite the śruti.

Anubhāṣya.
yat-kṛpā (yat, whose — that is, Caitanyacandra's — mercy) paṅguṁ (a person without the strength to take a step) śailaṁ (to the peak of the highest mountain) laṅghayate (makes cross), mūkam (a person without the power of speech) śrutiṁ (the Veda) āvartayet (makes recite), tam īśvaram (that Supreme Lord, Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Mahāprabhu) ahaṁ vande (I worship).

A prayer for the mercy of the saints —

দুর্গমে পথি মেঽন্ধস্য স্খলৎপাদগতের্মুহুঃ । স্বকৃপা-যষ্টিদানেন সন্তঃ সন্ত্ববলম্বনম্ ॥ ২ ॥

durgame pathi me 'ndhasya
on the difficult path for me blind skhalat-pāda-gater muhuḥ
slipping of feet whose gait constantly sva-kṛpā-yaṣṭi-dānena
their own mercy's staff by the gift santaḥ santv avalambanam
the saints may be the support

2 I am blind, and on this difficult path my feet keep slipping. May the saints give me the staff of their mercy and be my support.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
May the saints give me the staff of their mercy and become my support, for I am blind, and my feet keep slipping on a difficult path.

Anubhāṣya.
santaḥ (the saints) sva-kṛpā-yaṣṭi-dānena (by giving their own mercy as a support) durgame (impassable) pathi (on the path of worldly existence) muhuḥ (again and again) skhalat-pāda-gateḥ (of one whose feet stumble, who has strayed from the path) andhasya (eyeless) me (my) avalambanam (shelter) santu (may become).

শ্রীরূপ, সনাতন, ভট্ট-রঘুনাথ । শ্রীজীব, গোপালভট্ট, দাস রঘুনাথ ॥ ৩ ॥

śrī rūpa, sanātana, bhaṭṭa-raghunātha
Śrī Rūpa, Sanātana, Bhaṭṭa Raghunātha
śrī-jīva, gopāla-bhaṭṭa, dāsa raghunātha
Śrī Jīva, Gopāla Bhaṭṭa, Dāsa Raghunātha

3 Śrī Rūpa, Sanātana, Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa, Śrī Jīva, Gopāla Bhaṭṭa and Raghunātha Dāsa —[1]

এই ছয় গুরুর করোঁ চরণ বন্দন । যাহা হৈতে বিঘ্ননাশ, অভীষ্ট-পূরণ ॥ ৪ ॥

ei chaya gurura karoṁ caraṇa vandana
of these six gurus I make to the feet obeisance
yāhā haite vighna-nāśa, abhīṣṭa-pūraṇa
from whom come of obstacles destruction, of the desired fulfilment

4 I bow at the feet of these six gurus, by whose grace obstacles are destroyed and all one longs for is fulfilled.

জয়তাং সুরতৌ পঙ্গোর্মম মন্দমতের্গতী । মৎসর্ব্বস্বপদাম্ভোজৌ রাধা-মদনমোহনৌ ॥ ৫ ॥

jayatāṁ suratau paṅgor glory to the merciful (Pair) of the lame mama manda-mater gatī
of me of dull mind the refuge
mat-sarvasva-padāmbhojau whose lotus feet are my all rādhā-madana-mohanau
Rādhā and Madana-mohana

5 All glory to the merciful Śrī Śrī Rādhā and Madana-mohana! I am lame and dull of mind, and They are my only refuge; Their lotus feet are all I have.[2]

Anubhāṣya.

See Ādi 1.15.

দীব্যদ্বৃন্দারণ্যকল্পদ্রুমাধঃ
শ্রীমদ্রত্নাগারসিংহাসনস্থৌ ।
শ্রীমদ্রাধা-শ্রীলগোবিন্দদেবৌ প্রেষ্ঠালীভিঃ সেব্যমানৌ স্মরামি ॥ ৬ ॥

dīvyad-vṛndāraṇya-kalpa-drumādhaḥ shining in Vṛndāvana forest wish-fulfilling tree beneath śrīmad-ratnāgāra-siṁhāsana-sthau
in a beautiful jewel temple on a lion-throne seated śrīmad-rādhā-śrīla-govinda-devau
the beautiful Rādhā Śrīla Govinda the Deities preṣṭhālībhiḥ sevyamānau smarāmi
by Their dearest friends being served I remember

6 I remember Śrīmatī Rādhā and Śrī Govindadeva, seated on a throne in a beautiful temple of jewels beneath a wish-fulfilling tree in the radiant forest of Vṛndāvana, served by Their dearest companions.[3]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 1.16.

শ্রীমান্রাসরসারম্ভী বংশীবটতটস্থিতঃ ।
কর্ষন্ বেণুস্বনৈর্গোপীর্গোপীনাথঃ শ্রিয়েঽস্তু নঃ ॥ ৭ ॥

śrīmān rāsa-rasārambhī
the beautiful of the rāsa dance's sweetness the initiator vaṁśīvaṭa-taṭa-sthitaḥ
of Vaṁśīvaṭa on the bank standing karṣan veṇu-svanair gopīr
drawing with the flute's sounds the gopīs
gopī-nāthaḥ śriye 'stu naḥ
of the gopīs the Lord for good may be ours

7 May the beautiful Śrī Gopīnātha, who begins the sweet rāsa dance, be our good fortune. Standing on the bank by Vaṁśīvaṭa, He draws the gopīs to Himself with the sounds of His flute.[4]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 1.17.

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ৮ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory to Gaura's devotees host

8 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra, and glory to all the devotees of Gaura![5]

The beginning of the description of the Antya-līlā —

মধ্যলীলা সংক্ষেপেতে করিলুঁ বর্ণন । অন্ত্যলীলা-বর্ণন কিছু শুন, ভক্তগণ ॥ ৯ ॥

madhya-līlā saṅkṣepete karilum̐ varṇana
the Madhya-līlā in brief I have made description
antya-līlā-varṇana kichu śuna, bhakta-gaṇa
of the Antya-līlā the description something hear, O devotees

9 I have described the Madhya-līlā in brief. Now, O devotees, hear something of the Antya-līlā.

*The sūtras of the Antya-līlā have already been given, in Madhya-līlā, Chapter 1 —*

মধ্যলীলা-মধ্যে অন্ত্যলীলা-সূত্রগণ । পূর্ব্বগ্রন্থে সংক্ষেপেতে কৈরাছি বর্ণন ॥ ১০ ॥

madhya-līlā-madhye antya-līlā-sūtra-gaṇa of the Madhya-līlā within of the Antya-līlā the sūtras all
pūrva-granthe saṅkṣepete kairāchi varṇana
in the earlier part of the book in brief I have made description

10 Within the Madhya-līlā, in the earlier part of this book, I have briefly described the sūtras (summaries) of the Antya-līlā.

Anubhāṣya.
Pūrva-granthe (in the earlier part of the book) — in the first chapter of the Madhya-līlā.

আমি জরাগ্রস্ত, নিকটে জানিয়া মরণ । অন্ত্যলীলার কোন সূত্র কৈরাছি বর্ণন ॥ ১১ ॥

āmi jarā-grasta, nikaṭe jāniyā maraṇa
I by old age seized, near knowing death
antya-līlāra kona sūtra kairāchi varṇana
of the Antya-līlā some sūtras I have made description

11 I am overcome by old age, and knowing that death is near, I have described some sūtras of the Antya-līlā.

*A promise to describe in detail the sūtras not mentioned before —*

পূর্ব্ব-লিখিত গ্রন্থসূত্র অনুসারে । যেই নাহি লিখি, তাহা লিখিয়ে বিস্তারে ॥ ১২ ॥

pūrva-likhita grantha-sūtra anusāre earlier written of the book the sūtras according to yei nāhi likhi, tāhā likhiye vistāre
whatever not I wrote, that I write in detail

12 Following the sūtras written earlier in the book, I now describe in detail what I have not written before.

Word sent to Gauḍa that the Lord has returned from Vṛndāvana to Purī —

বৃন্দাবন হৈতে প্রভু নীলাচলে আইলা । স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি গৌড়ে বার্ত্তা পাঠাইলা ॥ ১৩ ॥

vṛndāvana haite prabhu nīlācale āilā Vṛndāvana from the Lord to Nīlācala came svarūpa-gosāñi gauḍe vārtā pāṭhāilā Svarūpa Gosāñi to Gauḍa news sent

13 When the Lord returned from Vṛndāvana to Nīlācala, Svarūpa Gosāñi sent word of it to Gauḍa.

Śacī hears the news; the devotees prepare to go to Purī —

শুনি' শচী আনন্দিত, সব ভক্তগণ । সবে মিলি' নীলাচলে করিলা গমন ॥ ১৪ ॥

śuni' śacī ānandita, saba bhakta-gaṇa hearing Śacī was delighted, all the devotees
sabe mili' nīlācale karilā gamana
all gathering to Nīlācala made the journey

14 Hearing this, Śacī and all the devotees rejoiced, and together they set out for Nīlācala.

All the devotees come to Śivānanda —

কুলীনগ্রামী ভক্ত আর যত খণ্ডবাসী । আচার্য্য, শিবানন্দে মিলিলা সবে আসি' ॥ ১৫ ॥

kulīna-grāmī bhakta āra yata khaṇḍa-vāsī
of Kulīnagrāma the devotees and all of Khaṇḍa the residents ācārya, śivānande mililā sabe āsi'
the Ācārya, with Śivānanda met all coming

15 The devotees of Kulīnagrāma, all the residents of Khaṇḍa and the Ācārya came and joined Śivānanda.

Anubhāṣya.
Ācārya — Śrī Advaita Ācārya.

Śivānanda looks after everyone —

শিবানন্দ করে সবার ঘাটি সমাধান । সবারে পালন করে, দেয় বাসা স্থান ॥ ১৬ ॥

śivānanda kare sabāra ghāṭi samādhāna Śivānanda makes for all at the tollgates settlement
sabāre pālana kare, deya vāsā sthāna
all care takes, gives lodging place

16 Śivānanda settled everyone's dues at the tollgates, looked after them all and found them places to stay.

The story of Śivānanda's dog, a devotee of the Lord —

এক কুক্কুর চলে শিবানন্দ-সনে । ভক্ষ্য দিয়া লঞা চলে করিয়া পালনে ॥ ১৭ ॥

eka kukkura cale śivānanda-sane
one dog goes with Śivānanda
bhakṣya diyā lañā cale kariyā pālane
food giving, taking (it) along he goes showing care

17 A dog was travelling with Śivānanda. He fed it and took it along with loving care.

একদিন একস্থানে নদী পার হৈতে । ওড়িয়া নাবিক কুক্কুর না চড়ায় নৌকাতে ॥ ১৮ ॥

ekadina eka-sthāne nadī pāra haite
one day in one place the river across while crossing oḍiyā nāvika kukkura nā caḍāya naukāte
an Oriya boatman the dog not lets board into the boat

18 One day, at a river crossing, an Oriya boatman would not let the dog into his boat.

কুক্কুর রহিলা, — শিবানন্দ দুঃখী হৈলা । দশ পণ কড়ি দিয়া কুক্কুরে পার কৈলা ॥ ১৯ ॥

kukkura rahilā, — śivānanda duḥkhī hailā
the dog remained, Śivānanda sad became daśa paṇa kaḍi diyā kukkure pāra kailā ten paṇas of cowries giving, the dog across he took 19 The dog was left behind, and Śivānanda grew sad. He paid ten paṇas of cowries and had the dog taken across.

একদিন শিবানন্দ ঘাটিতে রহিলা । কুক্কুরকে ভাত দিতে সেবক পাসরিলা ॥ ২০ ॥

ekadina śivānanda ghāṭite rahilā
one day Śivānanda at the tollgate remained kukkurake bhāta dite sevaka pāsarilā
to the dog rice to give the servant forgot

20 One day Śivānanda had to stay behind at a tollgate, and his servant forgot to give the dog its rice.[6]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Pāsarilā — forgot.

রাত্রে আসি' শিবানন্দ ভোজনের কালে ।
'কুক্কুর পাঞাছে ভাত?' — সেবকে পুছিলে ॥ ২১ ॥

rātre āsi' śivānanda bhojanera kāle
at night coming Śivānanda of the meal at the time
kukkura pāñāche bhāta? — sevake puchile
the dog has received rice? the servant he asked

21 When he returned at night, Śivānanda asked his servant at mealtime, "Has the dog been given its rice?"

কুক্কুর নাহি পায় ভাত শুনি' দুঃখী হৈলা । কুক্কুর চাহিতে দশ-মনুষ্য পাঠাইলা ॥ ২২ ॥

kukkura nāhi pāya bhāta śuni' duḥkhī hailā
the dog not received rice hearing sad he became kukkura cāhite daśa-manuṣya pāṭhāilā
the dog to search for ten men he sent

22 Hearing that the dog had not been fed, he grew sad and sent ten men to search for it.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Cāhite — to search.

চাহিয়া না পাইল কুক্কুর, লোক সব আইলা । দুঃখী হঞা শিবানন্দ উপবাস কৈলা ॥ ২৩ ॥

cāhiyā nā pāila kukkura, loka saba āilā
searching not found the dog, the men all came back duḥkhī hañā śivānanda upavāsa kailā sad becoming Śivānanda a fast observed

23 The men searched but could not find the dog, and they all came back. In his sorrow Śivānanda fasted.

প্রভাতে কুক্কুর চাহি' কাঁহা না পাইল । সকল বৈষ্ণবের মনে চমৎকার হৈল ॥ ২৪ ॥

prabhāte kukkura cāhi' kāṁhā nā pāila
in the morning the dog searching for anywhere not they found sakala vaiṣṇavera mane camatkāra haila
of all the Vaiṣṇavas in the minds wonder arose

24 In the morning they searched for the dog but found it nowhere, and all the Vaiṣṇavas were astonished.

উৎকণ্ঠায় চলি' সবে আইলা নীলাচলে । পূর্ব্ববৎ মহাপ্রভু মিলিলা সকলে ॥ ২৫ ॥

utkaṇṭhāya cali' sabe āilā nīlācale anxiously traveling all came to Nīlācala pūrvavat mahāprabhu mililā sakale
as before Mahāprabhu met with all

25 Restless at heart, they all travelled on to Nīlācala, and Mahāprabhu met them all as before.

সবা লঞা কৈলা জগন্নাথ দরশন । সবা লঞা মহাপ্রভু করেন ভোজন ॥ ২৬ ॥

sabā lañā kailā jagannātha daraśana
all taking He had of Jagannātha darśana
sabā lañā mahāprabhu karena bhojana
all taking (with Him) Mahāprabhu takes His meal

26 He brought them all for darśana of Jagannātha, and then Mahāprabhu took His meal together with them.

পূর্ব্ববৎ সবারে প্রভু পাঠাইলা বাসা-স্থানে । প্রভু-স্থানে আর দিন সবার গমনে ॥ ২৭ ॥

pūrvavat sabāre prabhu pāṭhāilā vāsā-sthāne
as before all the Lord sent to their lodgings
prabhu-sthāne āra dina sabāra gamane
to the Lord's place the next day of all the coming

27 As before, the Lord sent everyone to their lodgings, and the next day they all came to Him.

আসিয়া দেখিল সবে সেই ত' কুক্কুরে । প্রভু-পাশে বসিয়াছে কিছু অল্পদূরে ॥ ২৮ ॥

āsiyā dekhila sabe sei ta' kukkure
coming saw all that very dog prabhu-pāśe vasiyāche kichu alpa-dūre near the Lord is sitting a little at a short distance

28 When they arrived, they all saw that very dog sitting a short distance from the Lord.

প্রসাদ নারিকেল-শস্য দেন ফেলাঞা ।
'রাম' 'কৃষ্ণ' 'হরি' কহ' — বলেন হাসিয়া ॥ ২৯ ॥

prasāda nārikela-śasya dena phelāñā prasāda coconut pulp He gives tossing
'rāma' 'kṛṣṇa' 'hari' kaha' — balena hāsiyā
"Rāma" "Kṛṣṇa" "Hari" say He says smiling

29 The Lord was tossing it coconut pulp, His prasāda, and with a smile He said, "Say 'Rāma,' 'Kṛṣṇa,' 'Hari'!"

শস্য খায় কুক্কুর, 'কৃষ্ণ' কহে বার বার । দেখিয়া লোকের মনে হৈল চমৎকার ॥ ৩০ ॥

śasya khāya kukkura, 'kṛṣṇa' kahe bāra bāra
the pulp eats the dog, "Kṛṣṇa" says again and again
dekhiyā lokera mane haila camatkāra seeing of the people in the minds arose wonder

30 The dog ate the pulp and said "Kṛṣṇa" again and again. The sight filled the people with wonder.[7]

শিবানন্দ কুক্কুর দেখি' দণ্ডবৎ কৈলা । দৈন্য করি' নিজ অপরাধ ক্ষমাইলা ॥ ৩১ ॥

śivānanda kukkura dekhi' daṇḍavat kailā Śivānanda the dog seeing obeisance offered dainya kari' nija aparādha kṣamāilā humility showing his own offense had forgiven

31 When Śivānanda saw the dog, he bowed down before it and humbly begged forgiveness for his offence.

The dog attains perfection and reaches Vaikuṇṭha —

আর দিন কেহ তার দেখা না পাইলা । সিদ্ধ-দেহ পাঞা কুক্কুর বৈকুণ্ঠেতে গেলা ॥ ৩২ ॥

āra dina keha tāra dekhā nā pāilā
the next day anyone its sight not got siddha-deha pāñā kukkura vaikuṇṭhete gelā
a perfected body attaining the dog to Vaikuṇṭha went 32 From the next day no one saw the dog again: it had attained a perfected body and gone to Vaikuṇṭha.

The Lord, full of wonderful, unearthly pastimes —

ঐছে দিব্যলীলা করে শচীর নন্দন । কুক্কুরকে 'কৃষ্ণ' কহাঞা করিলা মোচন ॥ ৩৩ ॥

aiche divya-līlā kare śacīra nandana
such divine pastimes performs of Śacī the son kukkurake 'kṛṣṇa' kahāñā karilā mocana
the dog "Kṛṣṇa" making say He made deliverance

33 Such are the divine pastimes of the son of Śacī: He made even a dog say "Kṛṣṇa," and so He delivered it.

Śrī Rūpa comes to Vṛndāvana and begins writing the play —

এথা প্রভু-আজ্ঞায় রূপ আইলা বৃন্দাবন । কৃষ্ণলীলা-নাটক করিতে হৈল মন ॥ ৩৪ ॥

ethā prabhu-ājñāya rūpa āilā vṛndāvana
meanwhile by the Lord's order Rūpa came to Vṛndāvana kṛṣṇa-līlā-nāṭaka karite haila mana of Kṛṣṇa's pastimes a drama to write there arose the wish

34 Meanwhile, by the Lord's order, Rūpa had come to Vṛndāvana, and the wish arose in him to write a drama on Kṛṣṇa's pastimes.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kṛṣṇa-līlā-nāṭaka — a play about Kṛṣṇa's pastimes.

বৃন্দাবনে নাটকের আরম্ভ করিলা । মঙ্গলাচরণ 'নান্দী-শ্লোক' তথাই লিখিলা ॥ ৩৫ ॥

vṛndāvane nāṭakera ārambha karilā
in Vṛndāvana of the drama the beginning he made maṅgalācaraṇa 'nāndī-śloka' tathāi likhilā
the invocation the nāndī verse right there he wrote

35 He began the drama in Vṛndāvana and wrote its invocation, the nāndī verse, right there.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Nāndī-śloka — the auspicious invocatory verse recited at the start of a play is called the nāndī verse.

Anubhāṣya.
Nāndī. The Nāṭaka-candrikā says: "At the opening, in the prologue (prastāvanā), one should place an auspicious nāndī. It contains one of three things — a blessing, an obeisance, or an indication of the subject. It consists of eight, ten, or twelve padas, is usually marked with a name of the moon, and shines with auspicious words. Auspicious things are the discus, the lotus, the cakora bird, the night lotus (kumuda), and so on." The Sāhitya-darpaṇa, in its sixth chapter, at number 282, says: "It is called nāndī because in it praise of the gods, the brāhmaṇas, kings and others is offered together with a blessing."

*Śrī Rūpa sets out for Gauḍa with his younger brother and drafts the play in the form of sūtras —*

পথে চলি' আইসে নাটকের ঘটনা ভাবিতে । কড়চা করিয়া কিছু লাগিলা লিখিতে ॥ ৩৬ ॥

pathe cali' āise nāṭakera ghaṭanā bhāvite
on the road traveling he comes of the drama the plot pondering kaḍacā kariyā kichu lāgilā likhite
a draft making something he began to write

36 As he travelled, he pondered the plot of the drama, and he began to set some of it down in a draft (kaḍacā).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kaḍacā — a draft, that is, a rough manuscript.

In Gauḍa Anupama leaves this world on the bank of the Ganges —

এইমতে দুইভাই গৌড়দেশে আইলা । গৌড়ে আসি' অনুপমের গঙ্গা-প্রাপ্তি হৈলা ॥ ৩৭ ॥

ei-mate dui-bhāi gauḍa-deśe āilā
in this way the two brothers to Gauḍa came gauḍe āsi' anupamera gaṅgā-prāpti hailā
in Gauḍa coming Anupama's attaining of the Gaṅgā took place

37 In this way the two brothers came to Gauḍa, and there Anupama left this world on the bank of the Gaṅgā.

Anubhāṣya.
The two brothers — Śrī Rūpa and his younger brother, Śrī Anupama.

Śrī Rūpa sets out for Purī to see the Lord —

রূপ-গোসাঞি প্রভুপাশে করিলা গমন । প্রভুরে দেখিতে তাঁর উৎকণ্ঠিত মন ॥ ৩৮ ॥

rūpa-gosāñi prabhu-pāśe karilā gamana Rūpa Gosāñi to the Lord made his way prabhure dekhite tāṁra utkaṇṭhita mana
the Lord to see his longing heart

38 Rūpa Gosāñi set out for the Lord; his heart longed to see Him.

Anupama's departure delayed Śrī Rūpa, and he missed the Gauḍīya devotees going to see the Lord —

অনুপমের লাগি' তাঁর বিলম্ব হইল । ভক্তগণ-পাশ আইলা, লাগ্ না পাইল ॥ ৩৯ ॥

anupamera lāgi' tāṁra vilamba ha-ila
of Anupama because his delay occurred
bhakta-gaṇa-pāśa āilā, lāg nā pāila to the devotees he came, meeting not he got

39 Because of Anupama he was delayed, and when he came to join the devotees, he found they had already gone.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Lāg nā pāila — Śrī Rūpa heard that Śivānanda and the other devotees were going to the Lord, and he came intending to go to Nīlācala with them. But he could not meet them: they had already left for Nīlācala.

*Satyabhāmā-devī's instruction in Satyabhāmāpura is the origin of the Lalita-mādhava —*

ওড়িয়া-দেশে 'সত্যভামাপুর'-নামে গ্রাম । এক রাত্রি সেই গ্রামে করিলা বিশ্রাম ॥ ৪০ ॥

oḍiyā-deśe 'satyabhāmā-pura'-nāme grāma
in the Oriya land Satyabhāmā-pura by name a village
eka rātri sei grāme karilā viśrāma
one night in that village he made rest

40 In the land of Orissa there is a village called Satyabhāmā-pura. He rested there for one night.

Anubhāṣya.
The village of Satyabhāmāpura lies near Jānkādeipura in Cuttack district.

রাত্রে স্বপ্নে দেখে, — এক দিব্যরূপা নারী । সম্মুখে আসিয়া আজ্ঞা দিলা কৃপা করি' ॥ ৪১ ॥

rātre svapne dekhe, — eka divya-rūpā nārī
at night in a dream he sees, a divinely beautiful woman sammukhe āsiyā ājñā dilā kṛpā kari'
before him coming an order she gave mercy showing

41 That night he saw in a dream a woman of divine beauty. She came before him and graciously gave him an order:

"আমার নাটক পৃথক্ করহ রচন । আমার কৃপাতে নাটক হবে বিলক্ষণ" ॥ ৪২ ॥

āmāra nāṭaka pṛthak karaha racana
my drama separately make composition āmāra kṛpāte nāṭaka habe vilakṣaṇa
by my mercy the drama will be extraordinary

42 "Compose a separate drama about me. By my mercy the drama will be extraordinary."

Śrī Rūpa's reflections —

স্বপ্ন দেখি' রূপ-গোসাঞি করিলা বিচার । সত্যভামার আজ্ঞা — পৃথক্ নাটক করিবার ॥ ৪৩ ॥

svapna dekhi' rūpa-gosāñi karilā vicāra
the dream seeing Rūpa Gosāñi made reflection
satyabhāmāra ājñā — pṛthak nāṭaka karibāra Satyabhāmā's order a separate drama to write

43 After this dream Rūpa Gosāñi reflected: "Satyabhāmā orders me to write a separate drama.

A resolve to describe, in separate plays, the pastimes in Vraja and in the cities, earlier described together —

ব্রজ-পুর-লীলা একত্র কৈরাছি ঘটনা । দুই ভাগ করি' এবে করিমু রচনা ॥ ৪৪ ॥

vraja-pura-līlā ekatra kairāchi ghaṭanā of Vraja of the cities the pastimes together I have made the plot
dui bhāga kari' ebe karimu racanā
two parts making now I shall make the composition

44 I have joined the pastimes of Vraja and of the cities in one plot. Now I shall divide them into two parts and compose them."

Śrī Rūpa arrives in Purī at the dwelling of Ṭhākura Haridāsa in the Siddha-bakula Maṭha —

ভাবিতে ভাবিতে শীঘ্র আইলা নীলাচলে । আসি' উত্তরিলা হরিদাস-বাসাস্থলে ॥ ৪৫ ॥

bhāvite bhāvite śīghra āilā nīlācale
thinking thinking quickly he came to Nīlācala
āsi' uttarilā haridāsa-vāsā-sthale coming he stayed at Haridāsa's dwelling

45 Absorbed in these thoughts, he soon reached Nīlācala and went to stay at Haridāsa's dwelling.

The Ṭhākura's affectionate words —

হরিদাস-ঠাকুর তাঁরে বহুকৃপা কৈলা । ‘তুমি আসিবে, — মোরে প্রভু যে কহিলা’ ॥ ৪৬ ॥

haridāsa-ṭhākura tāṁre bahu-kṛpā kailā Haridāsa Ṭhākura to him great mercy showed tumi āsibe, — more prabhu ye kahilā
you will come to me the Lord that told

46 Haridāsa Ṭhākura received him with great kindness and said, “The Lord told me that you would come.”

*The Lord comes unexpectedly to give Haridāsa His darśana —*

‘উপল-ভোগ’ দেখি’ হরিদাসেরে দেখিতে ।
প্রতিদিন আইসেন, প্রভু আইলা আচম্বিতে ॥ ৪৭ ॥

‘upala-bhoga’ dekhi’ haridāsere dekhite
the upala-bhoga seeing Haridāsa to see pratidina āisena, prabhu āilā ācambite
every day He comes; the Lord came unexpectedly

47 Every day, after seeing the upala-bhoga offering, the Lord would come to see Haridāsa. Now He arrived unexpectedly.

Śrī Rūpa bows down to the Lord, and the Lord embraces him —

‘রূপ দণ্ডবৎ করে’, — হরিদাস কহিলা । হরিদাসে মিলি’ প্রভু রূপে আলিঙ্গিলা ॥ ৪৮ ॥

rūpa daṇḍavat kare, — haridāsa kahilā Rūpa obeisance offers, Haridāsa said
haridāse mili’ prabhu rūpe āliṅgilā with Haridāsa meeting the Lord Rūpa embraced

48 “Rūpa is offering You obeisance,” said Haridāsa. The Lord greeted Haridāsa and then embraced Rūpa.

Their conversation —

হরিদাস, রূপে লঞা প্রভু বসিলা একস্থানে । কুশল-প্রশ্ন, ইষ্টগোষ্ঠী কৈলা কতক্ষণে ॥ ৪৯ ॥

haridāsa, rūpe lañā prabhu vasilā eka-sthāne Haridāsa, Rūpa taking the Lord sat in one place
kuśala-praśna, iṣṭa-goṣṭhī kailā kata-kṣaṇe about welfare questions, talk on Kṛṣṇa He had for some time

49 The Lord sat down together with Haridāsa and Rūpa. He asked about their welfare, and for some time they spoke together of Kṛṣṇa (iṣṭa-goṣṭhī).

The Lord asks about Sanātana; Śrī Rūpa says he did not meet him —

সনাতনের বার্ত্তা যবে গোসাঞি পুছিল । রূপ কহে, — “তাঁর সঙ্গে দেখা না হইল ॥ ৫০ ॥

sanātanera vārtā yabe gosāñi puchila of Sanātana news when Gosāñi (the Lord) asked rūpa kahe, — tāṁra saṅge dekhā nā haila
Rūpa says, him with meeting not happened

50 When the Lord asked for news of Sanātana, Rūpa said, "I did not meet him.

The reason explained —

আমি গঙ্গাপথে আইলাঙ, তিঁহো রাজপথে । অতএব আমার দেখা নহিল তাঁর সাথে ॥ ৫১ ॥

āmi gaṅgā-pathe āilāṅa, tiṁho rāja-pathe
I by the Gaṅgā route came, he by the main road
ataeva āmāra dekhā nahila tāṁra sāthe
therefore my meeting did not happen with him

51 I came by the route along the Gaṅgā, and he by the main road, so we did not meet.

News of Anupama's departure on the bank of the Ganges —

প্রয়াগে শুনিলুঁ, — তেঁহো গেলা বৃন্দাবনে । অনুপমের গঙ্গা-প্রাপ্তি কৈল নিবেদনে" ॥ ৫২ ॥

prayāge śunilum̐, — teṁho gelā vṛndāvane
at Prayāga I heard, he went to Vṛndāvana anupamera gaṅgā-prāpti kaila nivedane
of Anupama the attaining of the Gaṅgā he made report

52 At Prayāga I heard that he had gone to Vṛndāvana." Then he told the Lord that Anupama had left this world on the bank of the Gaṅgā.

The Lord leaves; His companions meet Śrī Rūpa —

রূপে তাঁহা বাসা দিয়া গোসাঞি চলিলা । গোসাঞির সঙ্গী ভক্ত রূপেরে মিলিলা ॥ ৫৩ ॥

rūpe tāṁhā vāsā diyā gosāñi calilā to Rūpa there lodging giving Gosāñi (the Lord) went away
gosāñira saṅgī bhakta rūpere mililā
of Gosāñi the companions the devotees Rūpa met

53 The Lord gave Rūpa lodging there and left. Then the devotees who accompanied the Lord came to meet Rūpa.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Tāṅhā — in Haridāsa's dwelling, that is, in the Siddha-bakula Maṭha.

One day the Lord introduces Śrī Rūpa to the devotees —

আর দিন মহাপ্রভু সব ভক্ত লঞা । রূপে মিলাইলা সবায় কৃপা ত' করিয়া ॥ ৫৪ ॥

āra dina mahāprabhu saba bhakta lañā
the next day Mahāprabhu all the devotees taking rūpe milāilā sabāya kṛpā ta' kariyā
Rūpa introduced to all mercy indeed showing

54 The next day Mahāprabhu came with all the devotees and kindly introduced Rūpa to them all.

Śrī Rūpa honors the feet of all the devotees, and all of them embrace Rūpa —

সবার চরণ রূপ করিলা বন্দন । কৃপা করি’ রূপে সবে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন ॥ ৫৫ ॥

sabāra caraṇa rūpa karilā vandana
of all the feet Rūpa made worship
kṛpā kari’ rūpe sabe kailā āliṅgana
mercy showing Rūpa all made embrace

55 Rūpa bowed at the feet of all of them, and they all affectionately embraced him.

Mahāprabhu asks both Prabhus, Nitāi and Advaita, to show mercy to Śrī Rūpa —

‘অদ্বৈত নিত্যানন্দ, তোমরা দুইজনে । প্রভু কহে — রূপে কৃপা কর কায়মনে ॥ ৫৬ ॥

advaita nityānanda, tomarā dui-jane Advaita, Nityānanda, You both prabhu kahe — rūpe kṛpā kara kāya-mane
the Lord says, to Rūpa mercy show with body and mind

56 The Lord said, “Advaita and Nityānanda, both of You, give Rūpa Your mercy with all Your heart.

তোমা-দুঁহার কৃপাতে ইঁহার হউ শক্তি । যাতে বিবরিতে পারেন কৃষ্ণরসভক্তি’ ॥ ৫৭ ॥

tomā-duṁhāra kṛpāte iṁhāra hau śakti
of You both by the mercy his may be the power
yāte vivarite pārena kṛṣṇa-rasa-bhakti
so that to describe he can in relation to Kṛṣṇa in rasa devotion

57 By the mercy of You both, may he gain the power to describe devotion to Kṛṣṇa and its rasas.”

Śrī Rūpa, beloved of all the Lord's devotees —

গৌড়ীয়া, ওড়িয়া, যত প্রভুর ভক্তগণ । সবার হইল রূপ স্নেহের ভাজন ॥ ৫৮ ॥

gauḍīyā, oḍiyā, yata prabhura bhakta-gaṇa Gauḍīya, Oriya, all of the Lord the devotees
sabāra haila rūpa snehera bhājana
of all became Rūpa of affection the object

58 All the Lord’s devotees, from Gauḍa and from Orissa, came to hold Rūpa dear.

*The Lord Himself gives Śrī Rūpa His darśana and prasāda every day —*

প্রতিদিন আসি’ রূপে করেন মিলনে । মন্দিরে যে প্রসাদ পান, দেন দুই জনে ॥ ৫৯ ॥

pratidina āsi’ rūpe karena milane
every day coming with Rūpa He makes meeting mandire ye prasāda pāna, dena dui jane in the temple whatever prasāda He receives He gives to the two persons 59 Every day the Lord came to meet Rūpa, and whatever prasāda He received in the temple He gave to the two of them.

Talks about Kṛṣṇa —

ইষ্টগোষ্ঠী দুঁহা-সনে করি' কতক্ষণ । মধ্যাহ্ন করিতে প্রভু করিলা গমন ॥ ৬০ ॥

iṣṭa-goṣṭhī duṁhā-sane kari' kata-kṣaṇa talk on Kṛṣṇa with the two having for some time madhyāhna karite prabhu karilā gamana
the midday duties to perform the Lord made departure

60 After speaking with them of Kṛṣṇa for a while, the Lord would leave to perform His midday duties.

Śrī Rūpa's joy at receiving the Lord's mercy —

এইমত প্রতিদিন প্রভুর ব্যবহার । প্রভুকৃপা পাঞা রূপের আনন্দ অপার ॥ ৬১ ॥

ei-mata pratidina prabhura vyavahāra
in this way every day of the Lord the practice
prabhu-kṛpā pāñā rūpera ānanda apāra
the Lord's mercy receiving of Rūpa the joy boundless

61 Such was the Lord's practice every day, and receiving the Lord's mercy, Rūpa felt boundless joy.

The Lord's pastimes with the devotees in Nīlācala —

ভক্তগণ লঞা কৈলা গুণ্ডিচা মার্জ্জন । আইটোটা আসি' কৈলা বন্য-ভোজন ॥ ৬২ ॥

bhakta-gaṇa lañā kailā guṇḍicā mārjana
the devotees taking He did of Guṇḍicā the cleansing
āiṭoṭā āsi' kailā vanya-bhojana
to Āiṭoṭā coming He had a feast in the garden

62 With the devotees the Lord cleansed the Guṇḍicā temple; then He came to Āiṭoṭā and held a feast in the garden there.

Anubhāṣya.
Āiṭoṭā — a garden near the Guṇḍicā.

Śrī Rūpa and Haridāsa rejoice to see the joy of all the devotees —

প্রসাদ খায়, 'হরি' বলে সর্ব্বভক্তজন । দেখি' হরিদাস-রূপের হরষিত মন ॥ ৬৩ ॥

prasāda khāya, 'hari' bale sarva-bhakta-jana prasāda eat, "Hari" say all the devotees dekhi' haridāsa-rūpera haraṣita mana seeing, of Haridāsa and Rūpa delighted the minds

63 All the devotees were eating prasāda and calling out "Hari!" Seeing this, Haridāsa and Rūpa were delighted.

*Receiving the Lord's remnants, the two dance, overwhelmed by prema —*

গোবিন্দদ্বারা প্রভুর শেষ-প্রসাদ পাইলা । প্রেমে মত্ত দুইজন নাচিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৬৪ ॥

govinda-dvārā prabhura śeṣa-prasāda pāilā through Govinda of the Lord the remnants of prasāda they received preme matta dui-jana nācite lāgilā
in love intoxicated the two to dance began

64 Through Govinda they received the remnants of the Lord's meal, and the two of them, intoxicated with love, began to dance.

On another day the Lord meets Rūpa —

আর দিন প্রভু রূপে মিলিয়া বসিলা । সর্ব্বজ্ঞ-শিরোমণি প্রভু কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৬৫ ॥

āra dina prabhu rūpe miliyā vasilā
another day the Lord with Rūpa meeting sat
sarvajña-śiromaṇi prabhu kahite lāgilā of the omniscient the crown jewel the Lord to speak began

65 Another day the Lord met Rūpa and sat with him. The Lord, the crown jewel of the omniscient, began to speak:

*The Lord's merciful order is the origin of the Vidagdha-mādhava —*

'কৃষ্ণেরে বাহির নাহি করিহ ব্রজ হৈতে । ব্রজ ছাড়ি' কৃষ্ণ কভু না যান কাঁহাতে ॥ ৬৬ ॥

kṛṣṇere bāhira nāhi kariha vraja haite Kṛṣṇa outside not do take Vraja from vraja chāḍi' kṛṣṇa kabhu nā yāna kāṁhāte
Vraja leaving Kṛṣṇa ever not goes anywhere

66 "Do not take Kṛṣṇa out of Vraja. Kṛṣṇa never leaves Vraja to go anywhere else.

*The son of the king of Vraja stays in Vraja alone (words of the Yāmala) —*

কৃষ্ণোঽন্যো যদুসম্ভূতো যস্তু গোপেন্দ্রনন্দনঃ ।
বৃন্দাবনং পরিত্যজ্য স ক্বচিন্নৈব গচ্ছতি' ॥ ৬৭ ॥

kṛṣṇo 'nyo yadu-sambhūto Kṛṣṇa another in the Yadu dynasty born yastu gopendranandanaḥ
who however the son of the king of cowherds
vṛndāvanaṁ parityajya Vṛndāvana leaving sa kvacin naiva gacchati
He anywhere never at all goes

67 'The Kṛṣṇa born in the Yadu dynasty is another; but He who is the son of the king of the cowherds never leaves Vṛndāvana to go anywhere.'" (Yāmala, quoted in Laghu-bhāgavatāmṛta, 1.5.461)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Kṛṣṇa born in the Yadu dynasty is the tattva of Vāsudeva; He is therefore distinct from the son of the king of the cowherds. It is He who performs pastimes in Mathurā and Dvārakā. But the one who is the son of the king of the cowherds never leaves Vṛndāvana to go anywhere.

Anubhāṣya.

yadu-sambhūtaḥ (born in the Yadu dynasty) kṛṣṇaḥ — anyaḥ (is other than the son of the king of Vraja); yaḥ tu gopendra-nandanaḥ (the son of Nanda), saḥ tu vṛndāvanaṁ parityajya (leaving) kvacit (anywhere) naiva gacchati.

Śrī Rūpa reflects on the Lord's words —

এত কহি' মহাপ্রভু মধ্যাহ্নে চলিলা । রূপ-গোসাঞি মনে কিছু বিস্ময় হইলা ॥ ৬৮ ॥

eta kahi' mahāprabhu madhyāhne calilā
this saying Mahāprabhu for the midday duties left rūpa-gosāñi mane kichu vismaya hailā Rūpa Gosāñi in the mind some wonder felt

68 Saying this, Mahāprabhu left for His midday duties, and Rūpa Gosāñi was somewhat astonished.

*Satyabhāmā-devī and the Lord both order separate plays — she the Lalita-mādhava, He the Vidagdha-mādhava —*

"পৃথক্ নাটক করিতে সত্যভামা আজ্ঞা দিল । জানিলু, পৃথক্ নাটক করিতে প্রভু-আজ্ঞা হৈল ॥ ৬৯ ॥

pṛthak nāṭaka karite satyabhāmā ājñā dila
a separate drama to write Satyabhāmā the order gave jānilu, pṛthak nāṭaka karite prabhu-ājñā haila
I understand, a separate drama to write the Lord's order has come 69 "Satyabhāmā ordered me to write a separate drama, and now I understand that the Lord's order is the same.

The two plays, earlier described together, are now conceived and written separately —

পূর্ব্বে দুই নাটক ছিল একত্র রচনা । দুইভাগ করি এবে করিমু ঘটনা ॥ ৭০ ॥

pūrve dui nāṭaka chila ekatra racanā
before two dramas were together in composition
dui-bhāga kari ebe karimu ghaṭanā
in two parts dividing now I shall make the plot

70 Before, the two dramas were composed together. Now I shall divide them in two and arrange their plots.

Anubhāṣya.

The two parts — this is the division: the Vidagdha-mādhava presents the pastimes in Vraja, and the Lalita-mādhava the pastimes in the cities.

*The nāndī, the prologue, the subject and all the rest are worked out separately for each play —*

দুই 'নান্দী' 'প্রস্তাবনা', দুই 'সংঘটনা' । পৃথক্ করিয়া লিখি করিয়া ভাবনা" ॥ ৭১ ॥

dui 'nāndī' 'prastāvanā', dui 'saṁghaṭanā'
two nāndīs, prologues, two plots
pṛthak kariyā likhi kariyā bhāvanā
separately making I shall write, making reflection

71 Two nāndī verses, two prologues (prastāvanā), two plots: after careful thought I shall write them separately."

Anubhāṣya.

The Sāhitya-darpaṇa, in its sixth chapter, verse 287, says: "Where the actress (naṭī), the jester (vidūṣaka), or the assistant (pāripārśvika) converse with the sūtradhāra (the stage manager), hinting to one another with striking words about their own business at what is to come — know this as the āmukha; it is also called the prastāvanā." That is, where the actress, the jester, or the actor standing beside him converse fittingly with the sūtradhāra and, with charming words about their own business, introduce the actual story — know this as the āmukha; it is the prastāvanā (the prologue with which the performance begins).

*The theme-sūtra of the Vidagdha-mādhava: hearing a verse from the mouth of the Lord, absorbed in the mood of separation (vipralambha), Śrī Rūpa composes a verse that reveals that mood —*

রথযাত্রায় জগন্নাথ দর্শন করিলা । রথ-অগ্রে প্রভুর নৃত্য-কীর্ত্তন দেখিলা ॥ ৭২ ॥

ratha-yātrāya jagannātha darśana karilā
at the Ratha-yātrā of Jagannātha darśana he had ratha-agre prabhura nṛtya-kīrtana dekhilā before the chariot the Lord's dancing and kīrtana he saw 72 At the Ratha-yātrā Rūpa had darśana of Jagannātha and saw the Lord dancing and singing kīrtana before the chariot.

প্রভুর নৃত্য-শ্লোক শুনি' শ্রীরূপ-গোসাঞি । সেই শ্লোকার্থ লঞা শ্লোক করিলা তথাই ॥ ৭৩ ॥

prabhura nṛtya-śloka śuni' śrī rūpa-gosāñi of the Lord the verse of the dance hearing Śrī Rūpa Gosāñi
sei ślokārtha lañā śloka karilā tathāi
that verse's meaning taking a verse composed right there

73 Hearing the verse the Lord recited as He danced, Śrī Rūpa Gosāñi took up its meaning and composed a verse on the spot.

This was described in Madhya-līlā, Chapter 1, but now it is told again in brief —

পূর্ব্বে সেই সব কথা কৈরাছি বর্ণন । তথাপি কহিয়ে কিছু সংক্ষেপে কথন ॥ ৭৪ ॥

pūrve sei saba kathā kairāchi varṇana
before those all matters I have made description
tathāpi kahiye kichu saṅkṣepe kathana
still I tell something briefly narration

74 I have described all this before; still I shall tell something of it briefly.

The inner meaning of the mysterious verse the Lord recited in the mood of Śrī Rādhā is beyond everyone except Svarūpa Dāmodara —

সামান্য এক শ্লোক প্রভু পড়েন কীর্ত্তনে । কেনে শ্লোক পড়ে — ইহা কেহ নাহি জানে ॥ ৭৫ ॥

sāmānya eka śloka prabhu paḍena kīrtane
an ordinary one verse the Lord recites in kīrtana
kene śloka paḍe — ihā keha nāhi jāne
why the verse He recites this anyone not knows

75 During kīrtana the Lord would recite an ordinary verse, and no one knew why He recited it.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kene — in what mood.

Svarūpa pleases the Lord by singing songs that reveal the mood of that verse —

সবে একা স্বরূপ গোসাঞি শ্লোকের অর্থ জানে । শ্লোকানুরূপ পদ প্রভুকে করান আস্বাদনে ॥ ৭৬ ॥

sabe ekā svarūpa gosāñi ślokera artha jāne
only alone Svarūpa Gosāñi of the verse the meaning knows ślokānurūpa pada prabhuke karāna āsvādane
matching the verse songs to the Lord makes relish

76 Svarūpa Gosāñi alone knew the meaning of the verse, and he would sing songs that matched it for the Lord to relish.

Śrī Rūpa composes a verse after the Lord's own heart —

রূপ-গোসাঞি প্রভুর জানিয়া অভিপ্রায় । সেই অর্থে শ্লোক কৈলা প্রভুরে যে ভায় ॥ ৭৭ ॥

rūpa-gosāñi prabhura jāniyā abhiprāya Rūpa Gosāñi of the Lord understanding the intent sei arthe śloka kailā prabhure ye bhāya
in that sense a verse composed to the Lord that appeals

77 Rūpa Gosāñi understood the Lord’s intent and composed a verse with that meaning — one that the Lord loved.

*The verse the Lord recited (Kāvya-prakāśa 1.4; Sāhitya-darpaṇa 1.10; Padyāvalī, number 382) —*

যঃ কৌমারহরঃ স এব হি বরস্তা এব চৈত্রক্ষপা-
স্তে চোন্মীলিতমালতীসুরভয়ঃ প্রৌঢ়াঃ কদম্বানিলাঃ ।
সা চৈবাস্মি তথাপি তত্র সুরতব্যাপারলীলাবিধৌ রেবারোধসি বেতসীতরুতলে চেতঃ সমুৎকণ্ঠতে ॥ ৭৮ ॥

yaḥ kaumāra-haraḥ sa eva hi varas tā eva caitra-kṣapās who stole my heart in my girlhood He the same indeed my beloved those same nights of Caitra
te conmīlita-mālatī-surabhayaḥ prauḍhāḥ kadambānilāḥ
those same and fragrant with blossoming mālatī full breezes from the kadambas
sā caivāsmi tathāpi tatra surata-vyāpāra-līlā-vidhau
she the same am I yet there for the pastimes of love
revā-rodhasi vetasī-taru-tale cetaḥ samutkaṇṭhate of the Revā on the bank of the vetasī tree beneath My heart yearns

78 “He who stole My heart in My girlhood is now My lord. These are the same moonlit nights of Caitra, and the same full breezes blow from the kadamba groves, fragrant with blossoming mālatī. I too am the same. Yet My heart yearns for Our play of love there, beneath the vetasī trees on the bank of the Revā.” (Padyāvalī, 382)[8]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 1.58.

*(A verse composed by Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī; Padyāvalī, number 383)*

প্রিয়ঃ সোঽয়ং কৃষ্ণঃ সহচরি কুরুক্ষেত্রমিলিত-স্তথাহং সা রাধা তদিদমুভয়োঃ সঙ্গমসুখম্ ।
তথাপ্যন্তঃখেলন্মধুরমুরলীপঞ্চমজুষে মনো মে কালিন্দীপুলিনবিপিনায় স্পৃহয়তি ॥ ৭৯ ॥

priyaḥ so 'yaṁ kṛṣṇaḥ saha-cari kuru-kṣetra-militas
beloved that very Kṛṣṇa O companion at Kurukṣetra met
tathāhaṁ sā rādhā tad idam ubhayoḥ saṅgama-sukham
likewise I that Rādhā that this of both of union the joy
tathāpy antaḥ-khelan-madhura-muralī-pañcama-juṣe
yet within playing sweet of the flute the fifth note delighting in mano me kālindī-pulina-vipināya spṛhayati
mind My of the Kālindī bank for the forest longs

79 "My dear companion, this is that same beloved Kṛṣṇa, met again at Kurukṣetra, and I am that same Rādhā; this is the same joy of Our union. Yet My heart longs for the forest on the bank of the Kālindī, which delights in the sweet fifth note of His flute playing in its depths." (Padyāvalī, 383)[9]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 1.76.

তালপত্রে শ্লোক লিখি' চালেতে রাখিলা । সমুদ্রস্নান করিবারে রূপ-গোসাঞি গেলা ॥ ৮০ ॥

tāla-patre śloka likhi' cālete rākhilā on a palm leaf the verse writing in the thatched roof he placed samudra-snāna karibāre rūpa-gosāñi gelā sea bath to take Rūpa Gosāñi went

80 Rūpa Gosāñi wrote the verse on a palm leaf, tucked it into the thatched roof and went to bathe in the sea.

The story of Śrī Rūpa's verse and the Lord: the Lord reads the verse composed by Rūpa —

হেনকালে প্রভু আইলা তাঁহারে মিলিতে । চালে শ্লোক দেখি' প্রভু লাগিলা পড়িতে ॥ ৮১ ॥

hena-kāle prabhu āilā tāṁhāre milite
at that time the Lord came him to meet cāle śloka dekhi' prabhu lāgilā paḍite
in the thatch the verse seeing the Lord began to read

81 Just then the Lord came to see him. Noticing the verse in the thatch, the Lord began to read it.

*The Lord is overwhelmed by prema —*

শ্লোক পড়ি' প্রভু সুখে প্রেমাবিষ্ট হৈলা । হেনকালে রূপ-গোসাঞি স্নান করি' আইলা ॥ ৮২ ॥

śloka paḍi' prabhu sukhe premāviṣṭa hailā
the verse reading the Lord in joy absorbed in love became hena-kāle rūpa-gosāñi snāna kari' āilā
at that time Rūpa Gosāñi bath having taken came 82 As He read the verse, the Lord was overwhelmed with joy and love. Just then Rūpa Gosāñi returned from his bath.

The Lord's unfeigned affection and mercy toward Śrī Rūpa —

প্রভু দেখি' দণ্ডবৎ প্রাঙ্গণে পড়িলা । প্রভু তাঁরে চাপড় মারি' কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৮৩ ॥

prabhu dekhi' daṇḍavat prāṅgaṇe paḍilā
the Lord seeing flat like a rod in the courtyard he fell prabhu tāṁre cāpaḍa māri' kahite lāgilā
the Lord him a slap giving to speak began

83 Seeing the Lord, Rūpa fell flat in the courtyard to offer obeisance. The Lord gave him an affectionate slap and said,

The Lord embraces Śrī Rūpa tightly —

'গূঢ় মোর হৃদয় তুমি জানিলা কেমনে?' এত কহি' রূপে কৈলা দৃঢ় আলিঙ্গনে ॥ ৮৪ ॥

gūḍha mora hṛdaya tumi jānilā kemane?
hidden My heart you knew how?
eta kahi' rūpe kailā dṛḍha āliṅgane
this saying Rūpa He made firm embrace

84 "How did you know My hidden heart?" And saying this, He embraced Rūpa tightly.

The Lord shows the verse to Śrī Svarūpa and, pretending not to know, playfully asks him how Śrī Rūpa came to know His inner feelings —

সেই শ্লোক লঞা প্রভু স্বরূপে দেখাইলা । স্বরূপের পরীক্ষা লাগি' তাঁহারে পুছিলা ॥ ৮৫ ॥

sei śloka lañā prabhu svarūpe dekhāilā that verse taking the Lord to Svarūpa showed svarūpera parīkṣā lāgi' tāṁhāre puchilā of Svarūpa the test for the sake of him He asked

85 The Lord took the verse and showed it to Svarūpa, and to test Svarūpa He asked him,

'মোর অন্তর-বার্ত্তা রূপ জানিল কেমনে?'
স্বরূপ কহে — "জানি, কৃপা কৈরাছ আপনে ॥ ৮৬ ॥

mora antara-vārtā rūpa jānila kemane?
My inner feelings Rūpa knew how?
svarūpa kahe — jāni, kṛpā kairācha āpane
Svarūpa says, I know, mercy You have shown Yourself

86 "How did Rūpa know what is in My heart?" Svarūpa said, "I know: You Yourself have shown him mercy.

Svarūpa infers that Śrī Rūpa has received the Lord's mercy —

অন্যথা এ অর্থ কার নাহি হয় জ্ঞান । তুমি পূর্ব্বে কৃপা কৈলা, করি অনুমান" ॥ ৮৭ ॥

anyathā e artha kāra nāhi haya jñāna
otherwise this meaning anyone's not becomes knowledge
tumi pūrve kṛpā kailā, kari anumāna
You before mercy showed, I make inference

87 Otherwise no one could know this meaning. I infer that You showed him mercy earlier."

The Lord tells Svarūpa how He instructed Rūpa at Prayāga —

প্রভু কহে, — ‘ইঁহো আমায় প্রয়াগে মিলিল । যোগ্যপাত্র জানি’ মোর কৃপা ত’ হইল ॥ ৮৮ ॥

prabhu kahe, — iṁho āmāya prayāge milila
the Lord says, he with Me at Prayāga met yogya-pātra jāni’ mora kṛpā ta’ haila
a worthy recipient knowing (him) My mercy indeed arose

88 The Lord said, “He met Me at Prayāga, and knowing him to be a worthy recipient, I gave him My mercy.

তবে শক্তি সঞ্চারি’ আমি কৈলুঁ উপদেশ । তুমিহ কহিও ইঁহায় রসের বিশেষ’ ॥ ৮৯ ॥

tabe śakti sañcāri’ āmi kailuṁ upadeśa
then power infusing I gave instruction
tumiha kahio iṁhāya rasera viśeṣa
you also tell him of rasa the particulars

89 Then I infused him with power and instructed him. You too should teach him the finer points of rasa.”

Svarūpa's inference is correct —

স্বরূপ কহে — “যাতে এই শ্লোক দেখিলুঁ । তুমি করিয়াছ কৃপা, তবঁহি জানিলু ॥ ৯০ ॥

svarūpa kahe — yāte ei śloka dekhiluṁ Svarūpa says, when this verse I saw tumi kariyācha kṛpā, tabaṁhi jānilu
You have shown mercy, at once I knew

90 Svarūpa said, “As soon as I saw this verse, I knew that You had shown him mercy.

*From the fruit one infers its cause (a maxim of nyāya) —*

ফলেন ফলকারণমনুমীয়তে ॥ ৯১ ॥

phalena phala-kāraṇam anumīyate
by the fruit the fruit’s cause is inferred

91 ‘The cause of a fruit is inferred from the fruit itself.’ (a maxim of Nyāya)[10]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The cause of a fruit is inferred from the fruit itself.

*(The swan's words to Damayantī; Naiṣadhīya, canto 3, verse 17)*

স্বর্গাপগা-হেমমৃণালিনীনাং নানা-মৃণালাগ্রভুজো ভজামঃ ।
অন্নানুরূপাং তনুরূপঋদ্ধিং কার্য্যং নিদানাদ্ধি গুণানধীতে” ॥ ৯২ ॥

svargāpagā-hema-mṛṇālinīnāṁ
of the heavenly Gaṅgā golden of the lotuses
nānā-mṛṇālāgra-bhujo bhajāmaḥ of various lotus stalks' tips eating we obtain annānurūpāṁ tanu-rūpa-ṛddhiṁ
matching the food of the body of beauty the wealth kāryaṁ nidānād dhi guṇān adhīte
the effect from the cause indeed the qualities acquires

92 (The swan said to Damayantī:) 'We eat the tips of the stalks of the golden lotuses that grow in the heavenly Gaṅgā, and so our bodies have gained a beauty that matches our food: an effect takes on the qualities of its cause.'" (Naiṣadhīya, 3.17)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
We eat the tips of the stems of the golden lotuses of the heavenly Ganges, and so we have gained a corresponding beauty of body: qualities appear in keeping with their original cause.

Anubhāṣya.
he damayanti, svargāpagā-hema-mṛṇālinīnāṁ (svargāpagāyāḥ, of the heavenly Ganges, the Mandākinī; hema-mṛṇālinīnāṁ, of lotuses like gold) nānā-mṛṇālāgra-bhujaḥ (we, who are accustomed to eat the tips of various tender lotus roots) annānurūpāṁ (matching what is eaten) tanu-rūpa-ṛddhiṁ (a wealth of bodily beauty) bhajāmaḥ (have gained); hi (for) kāryaṁ (the effect) nidānāt (from its original cause) guṇān adhīte (receives its qualities).

*At the end of the cāturmāsya the Gauḍīya devotees return to Gauḍa —*

চাতুর্ম্মাস্য রহি' গৌড়ে বৈষ্ণব চলিলা । রূপ-গোসাঞি মহাপ্রভুর চরণে রহিলা ॥ ৯৩ ॥

cāturmāsya rahi' gauḍe vaiṣṇava calilā
the Cāturmāsya staying to Gauḍa the Vaiṣṇavas departed
rūpa-gosāñi mahāprabhura caraṇe rahilā Rūpa Gosāñi of Mahāprabhu at the feet remained

93 After staying for the Cāturmāsya, the Vaiṣṇavas returned to Gauḍa, but Rūpa Gosāñi remained at Mahāprabhu's feet.

One day, while Śrī Rūpa was writing his play, the Lord came unexpectedly —

একদিন রূপ করেন নাটক লিখন । আচম্বিতে মহাপ্রভুর হৈল আগমন ॥ ৯৪ ॥

ekadina rūpa karena nāṭaka likhana
one day Rūpa is doing of the drama writing ācambite mahāprabhura haila āgamana unexpectedly Mahāprabhu's took place arrival

94 One day, as Rūpa was writing his drama, Mahāprabhu arrived unexpectedly.

Śrī Rūpa and Haridāsa bow down to the Lord; the Lord sits down —

সম্ভ্রমে দুঁহে উঠি' দণ্ডবৎ হৈলা । দুঁহে আলিঙ্গিয়া প্রভু আসনে বসিলা ॥ ৯৫ ॥

sambhrame duṁhe uṭhi' daṇḍavat hailā
in reverent haste both rising flat like rods became duṁhe āliṅgiyā prabhu āsane vasilā
both embracing the Lord on a seat sat

95 In reverent haste the two of them rose and fell flat before Him. The Lord embraced them both and sat down.

The Lord takes a leaf written by Rūpa and is pleased to see his handwriting —

‘क्या पुँथि लिख?’ बलि’ एक पत्र निला । अक्षर देखिया प्रभु मने सुखी हैला ॥ ९६ ॥

kyā puṁthi likha? bali’ eka patra nilā what book are you writing? saying one leaf He took akṣara dekhiyā prabhu mane sukhī hailā
the letters seeing the Lord at heart happy became 96 “What book are you writing?” He asked, and He took up one leaf. Seeing the handwriting, the Lord was pleased at heart.

The Lord praises Śrī Rūpa's handwriting —

श्रीरूपेर अक्षर — येन मुकुतार पाँति । प्रीत हञा करेन प्रभु अक्षरेर स्तुति ॥ ९७ ॥

śrī-rūpera akṣara — yena mukutāra pāṁti
of Śrī Rūpa the letters like of pearls a row
prīta hañā karena prabhu akṣarera stuti pleased becoming makes the Lord of the letters praise

97 Śrī Rūpa’s letters were like rows of pearls, and the Lord, delighted, praised the handwriting.

*Seeing a certain verse, the Lord is overwhelmed by prema —*

सेइ पत्रे प्रभु एक श्लोक देखिला । पड़ितेइ श्लोक, प्रेमे आविष्ट हइला ॥ ९८ ॥

sei patre prabhu eka śloka dekhilā on that leaf the Lord one verse saw paḍitei śloka, preme āviṣṭa ha-ilā
as soon as reading the verse in love absorbed He became 98 On that leaf the Lord saw a verse, and as soon as He read it, He was overwhelmed with love.

*A verse that reveals the taste of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's name (Paurṇamāsī's words to Nāndīmukhī; Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 1, verse 15) —*

तुण्डे ताण्डविनी रतिं वितनुते तुण्डावलीलब्धये
कर्णक्रोड़कड़म्बिनी घटयते कर्णार्ब्बुदेभ्यः स्पृहाम् ।
चेतःप्राङ्गणसङ्गिनी विजयते सर्वेन्द्रियाणां कृतिं नो जाने जनिता कियद्भिरमृतैः कृष्णेति वर्णद्वयी ॥ ९९ ॥

tuṇḍe tāṇḍavinī ratiṁ vitanute tuṇḍāvalī-labdhaye
on the lips dancing attraction it generates many mouths to gain
karṇa-kroḍa-kaḍambinī ghaṭayate karṇārbudebhyaḥ spṛhām
of the ears in the hollow sprouting it arouses for millions of ears longing
cetaḥ-prāṅgaṇa-saṅginī vijayate sarvendriyāṇāṁ kṛtiṁ
of the mind in the courtyard as a companion it conquers of all the senses the activity
no jāne janitā kiyadbhir amṛtaiḥ kṛṣṇeti varṇa-dvayī
not I know born with how many nectars “Kṛṣṇa” of syllables the pair

99 (Paurṇamāsī said to Nāndīmukhī:) “I do not know with how many nectars the two syllables ‘Kṛṣ-ṇa’ were born. When they dance on the lips, they make one long for many mouths; when they sprout in the hollows of the ears, they make one yearn for millions of ears; and when they come as a companion into the courtyard of the mind, they conquer the workings of all the senses.” (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.15)[11]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

I do not know with how much nectar these two syllables, “Kṛṣ-ṇa,” were born. See: when they dance on the lips like an actress, they awaken a longing to obtain many mouths — that is, they increase one's attachment. When they enter the hollows of the ears and sprout there, they create a craving for millions of ears. When they rise in the courtyard of the mind as a companion, they conquer the activity of all the senses.

Anubhāṣya.

kṛṣṇa iti varṇa-dvayī kiyadbhiḥ (with how great a measure) amṛtaiḥ (together with nectars) janitā (it was born — this) (I) no jāne (do not know; for it), he nāndīmukhi, tuṇḍe (on the lips) tāṇḍavinī (by the saying “a male dance is called tāṇḍava,” tāṇḍava means “dance”; performing it) tuṇḍāvalī-labdhaye (to obtain many mouths) ratiṁ (craving) vitanute (displays); karṇa-kroḍa-kaḍambinī (sprouting in the passage of the ears) karṇārbudebhyaḥ (to obtain ears numbering an arbuda) spṛhām (desire) ghaṭayate; cetaḥ-prāṅgaṇa-saṅginī (the mind itself is a courtyard — becoming a companion there) sarvendriyāṇāṁ (of all the senses) kṛtiṁ (the activity) vijayate (conquers: it takes hold of them and stops all their movement).

Hearing the verse, the Nāmācārya dances with joy —

শ্লোক শুনি’ হরিদাস হইলা উল্লাসী । নাচিতে লাগিলা শ্লোকের অর্থ প্রশংসি’ ॥ ১০০ ॥

śloka śuni’ haridāsa hailā ullāsī
the verse hearing Haridāsa became jubilant nācite lāgilā ślokera artha praśaṁsi’
to dance began of the verse the meaning praising

100 Hearing the verse, Haridāsa was jubilant, and he began to dance, praising its meaning.

The verse reveals the unequaled glory of Kṛṣṇa's name —

কৃষ্ণনামের মহিমা শাস্ত্র-সাধু-মুখে জানি । নামের মাধুরী ঐছে কাঁহা নাহি শুনি ॥ ১০১ ॥

kṛṣṇa-nāmera mahimā śāstra-sādhu-mukhe jāni of Kṛṣṇa’s name the glory from scripture and the mouths of saints I know
nāmera mādhurī aiche kāṁhā nāhi śuni
of the name sweetness such anywhere not I hear

101 “I know the glory of Kṛṣṇa’s name from the scriptures and from the lips of saints, but nowhere have I heard of such sweetness in the name.”[12]

The Lord leaves for His midday bath —

তবে মহাপ্রভু দুঁহে করি’ আলিঙ্গন ।
মধ্যাহ্ন করিতে সমুদ্রে করিলা গমন ॥ ১০২ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu duṁhe kari’ āliṅgana
then Mahāprabhu both making embrace madhyāhna karite samudre karilā gamana
the midday duties to perform to the sea He made His way

102 Then Mahāprabhu embraced them both and went to the sea to perform His midday duties.

On the way the Lord Himself glorifies Śrī Rūpa —

আর দিন মহাপ্রভু দেখি' জগন্নাথ ।
সার্ব্বভৌম-রামানন্দ-স্বরূপাদি-সাথ ॥ ১০৩ ॥

সবে মিলি' চলি আইলা শ্রীরূপে মিলিতে । পথে তাঁর গুণ সবারে লাগিলা কহিতে ॥ ১০৪ ॥

āra dina mahāprabhu dekhi' jagannātha
the next day Mahāprabhu seeing Jagannātha sārvabhauma-rāmānanda-svarūpādi-sātha with Sārvabhauma, Rāmānanda, Svarūpa and others together
sabe mili' cali āilā śrī rūpe milite
all meeting setting out came Śrī Rūpa to meet pathe tāṁra guṇa sabāre lāgilā kahite
on the way his qualities to all He began to tell

103–104 The next day, after seeing Jagannātha, Mahāprabhu set out together with Sārvabhauma, Rāmānanda, Svarūpa and others, and they all came to meet Śrī Rūpa. On the way the Lord began to tell them all about Rūpa's qualities.

*The Lord praises Śrī Rūpa's verses "priyaḥ so 'yaṁ" and "tuṇḍe tāṇḍavinī" —*

দুই শ্লোক কহি' প্রভুর হৈল মহাসুখ । নিজ-ভক্তের গুণ কহে হঞা পঞ্চমুখ ॥ ১০৫ ॥

dui śloka kahi' prabhura haila mahā-sukha
two verses reciting of the Lord there was great joy
nija-bhaktera guṇa kahe hañā pañca-mukha
of His own devotee the qualities He tells becoming five-mouthed

105 Reciting the two verses, the Lord felt great joy, and He praised the qualities of His devotee as though He had five mouths.

The Lord Himself describes Śrī Rūpa's qualities to Rāya and the Bhaṭṭācārya —

সার্ব্বভৌম-রামানন্দে পরীক্ষা করিতে । শ্রীরূপের গুণ দুঁহারে লাগিলা কহিতে ॥ ১০৬ ॥

sārvabhauma-rāmānande parīkṣā karite Sārvabhauma and Rāmānanda a test to make śrī rūpera guṇa duṁhāre lāgilā kahite of Śrī Rūpa the qualities to both He began to tell 106 To test Sārvabhauma and Rāmānanda, He began to describe Śrī Rūpa's qualities to them both.

Bhagavān's love for His devotees —

'ঈশ্বর-স্বভাব' — ভক্তের না লয় অপরাধ । অল্পসেবা বহু মানে আত্মপর্য্যন্ত প্রসাদ ॥ ১০৭ ॥

'īśvara-svabhāva' — bhaktera nā laya aparādha
the nature of the Lord: of the devotee not He takes the offenses
alpa-sevā bahu māne ātma-paryanta prasāda
small service great He considers, up to Himself grace

107 It is the Lord's nature not to hold His devotee's offences against him. He regards a little service as great, and His grace goes so far that He gives Himself.

Anubhāṣya.

Ātma-paryanta prasāda — He bestows mercy even to the point of giving His ātmā, that is, Himself.

*How Bhagavān treats His devotee (Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, Dakṣiṇa-vibhāga, Vibhāva-laharī, verse 138) —*

ভৃত্যস্য পশ্যতি গুরূনপি নাপরাধান্
সেবাং মনাগপি কৃতাং বহুধাভ্যুপৈতি ।
আবিষ্করোতি পিশুনেষ্বপি নাভ্যসূয়াং শীলেন নির্ম্মলমতিঃ পুরুষোত্তমোঽয়ম্ ॥ ১০৮ ॥

bhṛtyasya paśyati gurūn api nāparādhān
of the servant He sees grave even not the offenses
sevāṁ manāg api kṛtāṁ bahudhābhyupaiti service slight even done manifold He accepts āviṣkaroti piśuneṣv api nābhyasūyāṁ
He shows toward slanderers even not ill will śīlena nirmala-matiḥ puruṣottamo 'yam
by nature pure in mind Puruṣottama this

108 "This Lord Puruṣottama, pure in mind by nature, does not see even the grave offences of His servant; He accepts even the slightest service as many times greater; and even toward those who slander Him He shows no ill will." (Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, 2.1.138)[13]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

This Bhagavān, Puruṣottama, is pure in mind. By His good nature He does not notice even the grave offenses of His servant. He considers the slightest service great. Even toward a wicked person who reviles Him He shows no ill will.

Anubhāṣya.

ayaṁ nirmala-matiḥ (He whose mind is pure, that is, free from innate attachment, aversion and the like) puruṣottamaḥ (Kṛṣṇa; another reading has kamalekṣaṇaḥ, "the lotus-eyed") śīlena (by His good nature) bhṛtyasya (of His servant) gurūn (grave) api aparādhān na paśyati; manāk (the slightest) api kṛtāṁ (performed) sevāṁ bahudhā (manifold) abhyupaiti (accepts); piśuneṣu (toward the wicked or evil-minded) api abhyasūyāṁ (a fault-finding eye) na āviṣkaroti (does not show).

Śrī Rūpa and Haridāsa bow down to the Lord and His companions —

ভক্তসঙ্গে প্রভু আইলা, দেখি' দুই জন । দণ্ডবৎ হঞা কৈলা চরণ বন্দন ॥ ১০৯ ॥

bhakta-saṅge prabhu āilā, dekhi' dui jana with the devotees the Lord came, seeing the two persons daṇḍavat hañā kailā caraṇa vandana
flat like rods becoming made to the feet worship

109 When the two of them saw that the Lord had come with His devotees, they fell flat and bowed at their feet.

The Lord sits among the devotees; out of humility the two sit lower —

ভক্তসঙ্গে কৈলা প্রভু দুঁহারে মিলন । পিণ্ডাতে বসিলা প্রভু লঞা ভক্তগণ ॥ ১১০ ॥

bhakta-saṅge kailā prabhu duṁhāre milana
with the devotees made the Lord with the two meeting
piṇḍāte vasilā prabhu lañā bhakta-gaṇa
on the raised platform sat the Lord with the devotees

110 Together with His devotees the Lord greeted the two of them, and then He sat down with the devotees on the raised platform (piṇḍā).[14]

রূপ-হরিদাস দুঁহে বসিলা পিণ্ডাতলে । সবার অগ্রে না উঠিলা পিঁড়ার উপরে ॥ ১১১ ॥

rūpa haridāsa duṁhe vasilā piṇḍā-tale Rūpa Haridāsa both sat of the platform at the foot sabāra agre nā uṭhilā piṁḍāra upare of all in front not climbed the seats onto 111 Rūpa and Haridāsa sat below, at the foot of the platform; in front of everyone they would not climb up onto it.

*The Lord tells Śrī Rūpa to recite the verse "priyaḥ so 'yaṁ"; Śrī Rūpa is embarrassed and stays silent —*

'পূর্ব্বশ্লোক পড়, রূপ, প্রভু আজ্ঞা কৈলা । লজ্জাতে না পড়ে রূপ মৌন ধরিলা ॥ ১১২ ॥

pūrva-śloka paḍa, rūpa, prabhu ājñā kailā
the earlier verse recite Rūpa the Lord order gave lajjāte nā paḍe rūpa mauna dharilā out of shyness not recites Rūpa silence kept

112 The Lord ordered, "Rūpa, recite the earlier verse." But Rūpa, overcome with shyness, would not recite it and kept silent.

Svarūpa recites the verse; hearing it, everyone is amazed —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তবে সেই শ্লোক পড়িল । শুনি' সবাকার চিত্তে চমৎকার হৈল ॥ ১১৩ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi tabe sei śloka paḍila Svarūpa Gosāñi then that verse recited śuni' sabākāra citte camatkāra haila hearing of everyone in the heart wonder arose

113 Then Svarūpa Gosāñi recited that verse, and on hearing it everyone was filled with wonder.

*(A verse composed by Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī; Padyāvalī, number 383)*

প্রিয়ঃ সোঽয়ং কৃষ্ণঃ সহচরি কুরুক্ষেত্রমিলিত-
স্তথাহং সা রাধা তদিদমুভয়োঃ সঙ্গমসুখম্ ।
তথাপ্যন্তঃখেলন্মধুরমুরলীপঞ্চমজুষে
মনো মে কালিন্দীপুলিনবিপিনায় স্পৃহয়তি ॥ ১১৪ ॥

priyaḥ so 'yaṁ kṛṣṇaḥ saha-cari kuru-kṣetra-militas
beloved that very Kṛṣṇa O companion at Kurukṣetra met
tathāhaṁ sā rādhā tad idam ubhayoḥ saṅgama-sukham
likewise I that Rādhā that this of both of union the joy
tathāpy antaḥ-khelan-madhura-muralī-pañcama-juṣe
yet within playing sweet of the flute the fifth note delighting in
mano me kālindī-pulina-vipināya spṛhayati
mind My of the Kālindī bank for the forest longs

114 "My dear companion, this is that same beloved Kṛṣṇa, met again at Kurukṣetra, and I am that same Rādhā; this is the same joy of Our union. Yet My heart longs for the forest on the bank of the Kālindī, which delights in the sweet fifth note of His flute playing in its depths." (Padyāvalī, 383)[15]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 1.76.

Rāmānanda and the other devotees conclude that Śrī Rūpa grasped the Lord's mood only by His mercy —

রায়, ভট্টাচার্য্য বলে, — "তোমার প্রসাদ বিনে । তোমার হৃদয় এই জানিবে কেমনে ॥ ১১৫ ॥

rāya, bhaṭṭācārya bale, — tomāra prasāda vine Rāya Bhaṭṭācārya say Your grace without tomāra hṛdaya ei jānibe kemane
Your heart this would know how

115 Rāmānanda Rāya and Sārvabhauma Bhaṭṭācārya said, "Without Your grace, how could he know this heart of Yours?

আমাতে সঞ্চারি' পূর্ব্বে কহিলা সিদ্ধান্ত । যে সব সিদ্ধান্তে ব্রহ্মা নাহি পায় অন্ত ॥ ১১৬ ॥

āmāte sañcāri' pūrve kahilā siddhānta into me infusing (power) earlier You spoke conclusive truths
ye saba siddhānte brahmā nāhi pāya anta
which all in the truths Brahmā not finds the end

116 Earlier You infused Your power into me and spoke conclusive truths whose end even Brahmā cannot find.

Anubhāṣya.
Pūrve — see Madhya, Chapter 8.

তাতে জানি — পূর্ব্বে তোমার পাঞাছে প্রসাদ । তাহা বিনা নহে তোমার হৃদয়ানুবাদ" ॥ ১১৭ ॥

tāte jāni — pūrve tomāra pāñāche prasāda
by that we know earlier Your he has received grace
tāhā vinā nahe tomāra hṛdayānuvāda
that without is not Your heart's expression

117 From this we know that he received Your grace earlier: without it, no one could put Your heart into words."

Anubhāṣya.
Hṛdayānuvāda — expressing the feelings of the heart.

*The Lord tells Śrī Rūpa to recite the verse "tuṇḍe tāṇḍavinī" —*

প্রভু কহে, — কহ "রূপ, নাটকের শ্লোক । যে শ্লোক শুনিলে লোকের যায় দুঃখ-শোক" ॥ ১১৮ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kaha rūpa, nāṭakera śloka
the Lord says recite Rūpa of your play the verse ye śloka śunile lokera yāya duḥkha-śoka
which verse on hearing people's goes away sorrow and grief

118 The Lord said, "Rūpa, recite the verse from your play that takes away people's sorrow and grief when they hear it."

At first Śrī Rūpa is shy to recite his own verse; then he recites it —

বার বার প্রভু তারে আজ্ঞা যদি দিলা । তবে সেই শ্লোক রূপ কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১১৯ ॥

bāra bāra prabhu tāre ājñā yadi dilā time after time the Lord to him order when gave tabe sei śloka rūpa kahite lāgilā
then that verse Rūpa to recite began

119 When the Lord had ordered him again and again, Rūpa began to recite that verse:

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 1, verse 15)*

তুণ্ডে তাণ্ডবিনী রতিং বিতনুতে তুণ্ডাবলীলব্ধয়ে
কর্ণক্রোড়কড়ম্বিনী ঘটয়তে কর্ণার্ব্বুদেভ্যঃ স্পৃহাম্ ।
চেতঃপ্রাঙ্গণসঙ্গিনী বিজয়তে সর্ব্বেন্দ্রিয়াণাং কৃতিং
নো জানে জনিতা কিয়দ্ভিরমৃতৈঃ কৃষ্ণেতি বর্ণদ্বয়ী ॥ ১২০ ॥

tuṇḍe tāṇḍavinī ratiṁ vitanute tuṇḍāvalī-labdhaye
on the lips dancing attraction it generates many mouths to gain
karṇa-kroḍa-kaḍambinī ghaṭayate karṇārbudebhyaḥ spṛhām
of the ears in the hollow sprouting it arouses for millions of ears longing
cetaḥ-prāṅgaṇa-saṅginī vijayate sarvendriyāṇāṁ kṛtiṁ
of the mind in the courtyard as a companion it conquers of all the senses the activity
no jāne janitā kiyadbhir amṛtaiḥ kṛṣṇeti varṇa-dvayī
not I know born with how many nectars "Kṛṣṇa" of syllables the pair

120 "I do not know with how many nectars the two syllables 'Kṛṣ-ṇa' were born. When they dance on the lips, they make one long for many mouths; when they sprout in the hollows of the ears, they make one yearn for millions of ears; and when they come as a companion into the courtyard of the mind, they conquer the workings of all the senses." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.15)[16]

Anubhāṣya.
See Antya 1.99.

Hearing it, Rāmānanda and the other devotees are filled with wonder and joy —

যত ভক্তবৃন্দ আর রামানন্দ রায় । শ্লোক শুনি' সবার হইল আনন্দ-বিস্ময় ॥ ১২১ ॥

yata bhakta-vṛnda āra rāmānanda rāya
all of the devotees the assembly and Rāmānanda Rāya
śloka śuni' sabāra haila ānanda-vismaya
the verse hearing of all arose bliss and wonder

121 All the assembled devotees and Rāmānanda Rāya were filled with bliss and wonder on hearing the verse.

A verse that reveals the unequaled sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's name —

সবে বলে, — 'নাম-মহিমা শুনিয়াছি অপার । এমন মাধুর্য্য কেহ বর্ণে নাহি আর' ॥ ১২২ ॥

sabe bale, — nāma-mahimā śuniyāchi apāra
all say of the Name the glory we have heard boundless emana mādhurya keha varṇe nāhi āra
such sweetness anyone describes not else

122 All said, "We have heard of the boundless glory of the Name, but no one else has described such sweetness."

The conversation of Śrī Rāya and Rūpa: Rāya asks what book this is from —

রায় কহে, — "কোন্ গ্রন্থ কর হেন জানি ?
যাহার ভিতরে এই সিদ্ধান্তের খনি ?" ॥ ১২৩ ॥

rāya kahe, — kon grantha kara hena jāni?
Rāya says what book you are composing so I wonder yāhāra bhitare ei siddhāntera khani?
of which within this of conclusive truths the mine

123 Rāya said, "What book are you composing, I wonder, that holds within it this mine of conclusive truths?"

Svarūpa tells about the two plays —

স্বরূপ কহে, — "কৃষ্ণলীলার নাটক করিতে । ব্রজলীলা-পুরলীলা একত্র বর্ণিতে ॥ ১২৪ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — kṛṣṇa-līlāra nāṭaka karite Svarūpa says of Kṛṣṇa's pastimes a play to compose vraja-līlā-pura-līlā ekatra varṇite
Vraja pastimes city pastimes together to describe

124 Svarūpa said, "He wished to compose a play on Kṛṣṇa's pastimes, describing His pastimes in Vraja and in the cities together,

আরম্ভিয়াছিলা, এবে প্রভু-আজ্ঞা পাঞা । দুই নাটক কৈরাছেন বিভাগ করিয়া ॥ ১২৫ ॥

ārambhiyāchilā, ebe prabhu-ājñā pāñā
he had begun now the Lord's order receiving dui nāṭaka kairāchena vibhāga kariyā
two plays he has made division making

125 and he had begun it; but now, by the Lord's order, he has divided it into two plays:

*The Vidagdha-mādhava is about the pastimes in Vraja, the Lalita-mādhava about the pastimes in the cities —*

বিদগ্ধমাধব আর ললিতমাধব । দুই নাটকে প্রেমরস অদ্ভুত সব” ॥ ১২৬ ॥

vidagdha-mādhava āra lalita-mādhava Vidagdha-mādhava and Lalita-mādhava
dui nāṭake prema-rasa adbhuta saba
in the two plays of love the rasa wondrous all 126 Vidagdha-mādhava and Lalita-mādhava. In both plays the rasa of love is wondrous throughout.”

Anubhāṣya.

The Vidagdha-mādhava was written in Śaka 1454, and the Lalita-mādhava in Śaka 1459. The conversation of Śrī Rāmānanda Rāya with Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī about these two books takes place in Śaka 1437.

*Rāya asks Śrī Rūpa to recite the nāndī of the Vidagdha-mādhava —*

রায় কহে, — “নান্দী-শ্লোক পড় দেখি, শুনি?” শ্রীরূপ শ্লোক পড়ে প্রভু-আজ্ঞা মানি’ ॥ ১২৭ ॥

rāya kahe, — nāndī-śloka paḍa dekhi, śuni?
Rāya says the nāndī verse recite let us see let us hear śrī rūpa śloka paḍe prabhu-ājñā māni’
Śrī Rūpa the verse recites the Lord’s order accepting 127 Rāya said, “Recite the nāndī verse — let us hear it.” Accepting the Lord’s order, Śrī Rūpa recited the verse:

Anubhāṣya.

Now Śrī Rāmānanda asks about the subject of Śrī Rūpa's play, the Vidagdha-mādhava.

*Kṛṣṇa's pastimes, which bring blessing to the world (Vidagdha-mādhava, maṅgalācaraṇa, Act 1, verse 1) —*

সুধানাং চান্দ্রীণামপি মধুরিমোন্মাদ-দমনী
দধানা রাধাদিপ্রণয়ঘনসারৈঃ সুরভিতাম্ ।
সমন্তাৎ সন্তাপোদ্গম-বিষমসংসার-সরণী- প্রণীতাং তে তৃষ্ণাং হরতু হরিলীলা-শিখরিণী ॥ ১২৮ ॥

sudhānāṁ cāndrīṇām api madhurimonmāda-damanī
of nectars lunar even of sweetness the intoxication subduing
dadhānā rādhādi-praṇaya-ghana-sāraiḥ surabhitām bearing of Rādhā and others of love with the camphor fragrance samantāt santāpodgama-viṣama-saṁsāra-saraṇī-on all sides sufferings producing uneven of worldly existence by the road praṇītāṁ te tṛṣṇāṁ haratu hari-līlā-śikhariṇī produced your thirst may it take away of Hari’s pastimes the śikhariṇī

128 “May Hari’s pastimes, a sweet śikhariṇī drink, wholly take away your thirst, born on the rough road of worldly life that breeds suffering on every side. Their sweetness humbles the pride even of the moon’s nectar, and the camphor of the love of Rādhā and Her companions lends them their fragrance.” (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.1)[17]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

May this sweet drink (śikhariṇī) — the pastimes of Hari — wholly take away your unholy thirst, born of wandering along the path of worldly existence, which breeds suffering. This śikhariṇī of Hari's pastimes subdues the intoxication born of the sweetness of the moon's nectar, and through the camphor of the love (praṇaya) of Śrī Rādhā and others it bears a special fragrance.

Anubhāṣya.

cāndrīṇām (connected with the moon) sudhānām api madhurimonmāda-damanī (she whose nature is to subdue the madness born of sweetness, that is, the pride "I alone am full of sweetness in every way"), rādhādi-praṇaya-ghana-sāraiḥ (the love of Rādhā and the others is itself ghanasāra, camphor; with it) surabhitām (fragrance; in the other sense, charm) dadhānā hari-līlā-śikhariṇī (a sweet drink, a rasālā, in the form of Hari's pastimes) samantāt (on every side) te (your) santāpodgama-viṣama-saṁsāra-saraṇī-praṇītāṁ (in which sufferings — ādhyātmika and the rest — arise; such a harsh worldly existence, which leads to birth as a god, a human or an immobile being, is itself the path; born of it, that is, produced by wandering along it) tṛṣṇāṁ (thirst) haratu (may remove).[31]

Rāya asks for a description of the worshipable Deity; Śrī Rūpa is embarrassed —

রায় কহে, — 'কহ ইষ্টদেবের বর্ণন'। প্রভুর সঙ্কোচে রূপ না করে পঠন ॥ ১২৯ ॥

rāya kahe, — kaha iṣṭa-devera varṇana Rāya says tell of your worshipful Deity the description
prabhura saṅkoce rūpa nā kare paṭhana
before the Lord out of hesitation Rūpa not does reciting 129 Rāya said, "Recite the description of your worshipful Deity." But Rūpa, hesitating before the Lord, would not recite it.

The Lord's insistent order —

প্রভু কহে, — "কহ-না কেনে, কি সঙ্কোচ-লাজে ?
গ্রন্থের ফল শুনাইবা বৈষ্ণব-সমাজে ?" ॥ ১৩০ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kaha nā kene, ki saṅkoca-lāje?
the Lord says recite do why what hesitation shyness
granthera phala śunāibā vaiṣṇava-samāje?
of the book the fruit you will let hear in the assembly of Vaiṣṇavas

130 The Lord said, "Why don't you recite it? Why this hesitation and shyness? Let the assembly of Vaiṣṇavas hear the fruit of your book."

Śrī Rūpa recites a verse of blessing; on hearing it, the Lord outwardly shows feigned displeasure —

তবে রূপ-গোসাঞি যদি শ্লোক পড়িল। শুনি' প্রভু কহে, — 'এই অতি স্তুতি হৈল' ॥ ১৩১ ॥

tabe rūpa-gosāñi yadi śloka paḍila
then Rūpa Gosāñi when the verse recited śuni' prabhu kahe, — ei ati stuti haila hearing the Lord says this excessive praise has become

131 Then Rūpa Gosāñi recited the verse, and on hearing it the Lord said, "This is too much praise."

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 1, maṅgalācaraṇa, verse 2)*

অনর্পিতচরীং চিরাৎ করুণয়াবতীর্ণঃ কলৌ
সমর্পয়িতুমুন্নতোজ্জ্বলরসাং স্বভক্তিশ্রিয়ম্।
হরিঃ পুরটসুন্দরদ্যুতিকদম্বসন্দীপিতঃ সদা হৃদয়কন্দরে স্ফুরতু বঃ শচীনন্দনঃ ॥ ১৩২ ॥

anarpita-carīṁ cirāt karuṇayāvatīrṇaḥ kalau not given before for a long time out of mercy descended in Kali samarpayitum unnatojjvala-rasāṁ sva-bhakti-śriyam to bestow of the most exalted radiant rasa devotion to Himself the treasure hariḥ puraṭa-sundara-dyuti-kadamba-sandīpitaḥ Hari golden beautiful lustre with a mass illumined
sadā hṛdaya-kandare sphuratu vaḥ śacī-nandanaḥ always in the cave of the heart may He shine your Śacī's son

132 "May the Lord Hari, the son of Śacī, illumined by a mass of lustre more beautiful than gold, ever shine in the inmost cave of your hearts. Out of His mercy He has descended in the age of Kali to bestow what had not been given for a very long time — the treasure of devotion to Himself, rich in the most exalted, radiant ujjvala-rasa." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.2)[18]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 3.4.

Śrīmad Viśvanātha Cakravartī's commentary on the Vidagdha-mādhava: "The idea is that without the manifestation (sphūrti) of Mahāprabhu one cannot taste the rasa of Hari's pastimes. May Hari, the son of Śacī, appear in the cave of your heart; in the other sense, hari means a lion. This son of Śacī mercifully descended in Kali to bestow the treasure of devotion to Himself, that is, the wealth of service to Himself. What kind of treasure? 'Never given before' — given by no one before. But did not Kapiladeva and others earlier teach their mothers and others how to serve Bhagavān? To this it is said: although all rasas are present in it, in this treasure of bhakti the rasa is exalted and radiant (ujjvala); that is, a bhakti in which the ujjvala-rasa is foremost had never been taught. What is He like? Lit up by a host of rays more beautiful than even gold (puraṭa). This being so, just as a lion that has risen in a mountain cave kills the elephants there, so the lion who is the son of Śacī, risen in the cave of your heart, kills the elephants that are the diseases of the heart. This is the suggested meaning (dhvani)."

Hearing the verse, the devotees praise it —

সব ভক্তগণ কহে শ্লোক শুনিয়া। কৃতার্থ করিলা সবায় শ্লোক শুনাঞা ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

saba bhakta-gaṇa kahe śloka śuniyā
all the devotees say the verse hearing kṛtārtha karilā sabāya śloka śunāñā fulfilled you have made all the verse letting hear

133 On hearing the verse, all the devotees said, "By letting us hear this verse you have blessed us all."

*Rāya asks about the various parts of the Vidagdha-mādhava and how the characters are introduced; Śrī Rūpa answers by quoting verses from his play —*

রায় কহে, — "কোন্ আমুখে পাত্র সন্নিধান ?" রূপ কহে, — "কালসাম্যে 'প্রবর্ত্তক' নাম" ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

rāya kahe, — kon āmukhe pātra-sannidhāna?
Rāya says in which prologue the characters' entrance
rūpa kahe, — kāla-sāmye 'pravartaka' nāma
Rūpa says at the fitting time 'pravartaka' named

134 Rāya asked, "In which prologue (āmukha) do the characters enter?" Rūpa said, "In the one called pravartaka: they enter when the fitting time has come."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Those who play the roles — the hero and the other persons spoken of in the play — are called pātra. For example, the Sāhitya-darpaṇa, in its sixth chapter, verse 283, says: "In a play about the divine or the mortal he takes the same kind of form, and in a mixed one, either of the two. Let him hint at the subject (vastu), the seed (bīja), the opening (mukha), or else a character (pātra).” The meaning of the word āmukha is given in the Nāṭaka-candrikā: “When the sūtradhāra, answering the actress, speaks of his own business in striking words that hint at what is to come, this is called the āmukha.” The point of Rāmānanda Rāya's question is this: in which āmukha (prastāvanā) do the actors who play the characters come onto the stage in this play? Śrī Rūpa's answer: the characters appear in the āmukha called pravartaka (entrance onto the stage) — kāla-sāmye, that is, at the time that has arrived.

Anubhāṣya.

See Antya 1.17.[32] The āmukha, or prastāvanā, is of five kinds. The Sāhitya-darpaṇa, in its sixth chapter, verse 288, says: “Udghātyaka, kathodghāta, prayogātiśaya, as well as pravartaka and avalagita — these are the five varieties of the prastāvanā.” That is, the āmukha, or prastāvanā, of a play is of five kinds: (1) udghātyaka, (2) kathodghāta, (3) prayogātiśaya, (4) pravartaka, (5) avalagita. The Nāṭaka-candrikā says: “Three parts (aṅgas) of the āmukha are named — kathodghāta, pravartaka and prayogātiśaya — and likewise the pair of parts of the vīthī, called udghātyaka and avalagita, as the sage declared.” Śrī Rāmānanda asked, “Which of these kinds does the prologue of the play follow?” In answer Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī said, “Of these kinds, the pravartaka has been adopted.” The Sāhitya-darpaṇa, in its sixth chapter, verse 292, says: “Where the sūtradhāra describes the time that has arrived, taking his stand on it, and the entrance of a character also rests on that time, this is the pravartaka.” That is, if the sūtradhāra describes the present time, taking his stand on it, and an actor playing a character enters in connection with that time, this is called pravartaka.

*(Nāṭaka-candrikā, verse 12)*

আক্ষিপ্তঃ কালসাম্যেন প্রবেশঃ স্যাৎ প্রবর্ত্তকম্ ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

ākṣiptaḥ kāla-sāmyena
brought on by the fitting of time praveśaḥ syāt pravartakam
an entrance is pravartaka

135 “An entrance brought on by the arrival of the fitting time is called pravartaka.” (Nāṭaka-candrikā, 12)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

When an actor playing a character enters the stage prompted (called forth) by a fitting time, that is, by the time that has arrived, this is called pravartaka.

Anubhāṣya.

kāla-sāmyena (relying on the time that has arrived) ākṣiptaḥ (sent, that is, relying on the time that has arrived) (pātrasya, of the actor) praveśaḥ (another reading has pravṛttiḥ) pravartakam syāt.

*An example of this — (Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 1, verse 10)*[33]

সোঽয়ং বসন্তসময়ঃ সমিয়ায় যস্মিন্ পূর্ণং তমীশ্বরমুপোঢ়-নবানুরাগম্ ।
গূঢ়গ্রহা রুচিরয়া সহ রাধয়াসৌ রঙ্গায় সঙ্গময়িতা নিশি পৌর্ণমাসী ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

so 'yaṁ vasanta-samayaḥ samiyāya yasmin that this of spring the season has come in which pūrṇaṁ tam īśvaram upoḍha-navānurāgam
complete that Lord who has gained fresh love
gūḍha-grahā rucirayā saha rādhayāsau with hidden intent lovely together with Rādhā she raṅgāya saṅgamayitā niśi paurṇamāsī
for the play will unite at night Paurṇamāsī

136 “This is that springtime in which Paurṇamāsī, cherishing a hidden purpose, will bring together at night lovely Rādhā and the Lord in all His fullness, in whom fresh love has awakened, for the joy of Their play.” (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.10)[19]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Spring has come. At this season, at night, Paurṇamāsī will unite the complete Lord, Śrī Kṛṣṇa, filled with fresh love (anurāga), with the supremely beautiful Śrī Rādhikā, to enhance the beauty of the pastimes. This verse has two meanings, one referring to the moon and one to Śrī Kṛṣṇa; of these, the meaning referring to Śrī Kṛṣṇa is the principal one.

Anubhāṣya.

yasmin (in which springtime) asau gūḍha-grahā (she in whom, because of the abundance of moonlight, the planets with weaker rays are hidden) paurṇamāsī (the lunar day, the full moon) niśi (at night) upoḍha-navānurāgam (him who has gained a fresh redness that accompanies him: upoḍhaḥ, gained; navaḥ, new; anugataḥ, accompanying; rāgaḥ, redness) pūrṇaṁ tam īśvaram (the lord of tamī, the night, that is, the moon) rucirayā (beautiful) rādhayā (with the constellation Viśākhā) saha (together) raṅgāya (for beauty) saṅgam (union) ayitā (brought about), saḥ ayaṁ vasanta-samayaḥ samiyāya (has arrived) — this describes the special quality of the time. In the other sense: she who has gūḍha graha, a hidden eagerness, is Bhagavatī Paurṇamāsī. She united that celebrated, complete Lord, Śrī Kṛṣṇa, with the beautiful Rādhā raṅgāya — to reveal the secret of Their joyful pastimes.

রায় কহে, — “প্ররোচনাদি কহ দেখি’ শুনি ?”
রূপ কহে, — “মহাপ্রভুর শ্রবণেচ্ছা জানি” ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

rāya kahe, — prarocanādi kaha dekhi, śuni?
Rāya says prarocanā and the rest tell let us see let us hear
rūpa kahe, — mahāprabhura śravaṇecchā jāni Rūpa says Mahāprabhu’s desire to hear I take (as such)

137 Rāya said, “Tell us the prarocanā and the rest — let us hear.” Rūpa said, “I take Mahāprabhu’s desire to hear as the prarocanā.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Prarocanā — the technique of awakening in the audience a desire to listen by praising the place, the time, the hero, the assembly and so on.

Anubhāṣya.

Prarocanā. The Nāṭaka-candrikā says: “Turning the attention of the audience toward the performance by praising the place, the time, the story, the subject, the assembly and so on is called prarocanā.” The Sāhitya-darpaṇa, in its sixth chapter, verse 286, says: “Its (the prastāvanā's) parts are the prarocanā, the vīthī, as well as the prahasana and the āmukha. Turning attention by means of praise is prarocanā”; and further: “Prarocanā is making the audience eager to attend to the performance at hand by means of praise.” That is, awakening the audience's eagerness to attend by means of praise is called prarocanā.

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 1, verse 8)*

ভক্তানামুদগাদনর্গলধিয়াং বর্গো নিসর্গোজ্জ্বলঃ
শীলৈঃ পল্লবিতঃ স বল্লববধূবন্ধোঃ প্রবন্ধোঽপ্যসৌ ৷
লেভে চত্বরতাঞ্চ তাণ্ডববিধের্বৃন্দাটবীগর্ভভূ- র্মন্যে মদ্বিধপুণ্যমণ্ডলপরীপাকোঽয়মুন্মীলতি ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

bhaktānām udagād anargala-dhiyāṁ vargo nisargojjvalaḥ of devotees has arisen of unobstructed intelligence an assembly naturally radiant śīlaiḥ pallavitaḥ sa ballava-vadhū-bandhoḥ prabandho ’py asau with fine qualities blossomed that of the cowherd women’s Friend composition also this lebhe catvaratāṁ ca tāṇḍava-vidher vṛndāṭavī-garbha-bhūr has gained the state of an arena and for the dance of the Vṛndāvana forest the inner ground
manye mad-vidha-puṇya-maṇḍala-parīpāko ’yam unmīlati
I think of people like me of merits of the mass the ripening this is unfolding

138 “Here an assembly of devotees has gathered, radiant by nature, whose intelligence knows no bounds; this composition about the Friend of the cowherd maidens has blossomed with lifelike portrayals; and the sacred ground in the heart of the Vṛndāvana forest has become the arena for the dance. I think the merit of people like me has now ripened in full and is unfolding." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.8)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Devotees whose intelligence knows no obstruction and whose nature is radiant have gathered. This work about Śrī Kṛṣṇa, the Lord of the life of the young wives of the cowherds, has also blossomed with many virtues. And the stage itself is the arena for the dance in the rāsa-maṇḍala of Vṛndāvana. Therefore I think that the ripened fruit of the pious merit (sukṛti) of people like us has come to light.

Anubhāṣya.

anargala-dhiyām (of those whose intelligence meets no obstruction — the expert) bhaktānām nisargojjvalaḥ (radiant by its very nature) vargaḥ (assembly) udagāt (has appeared — this describes the special quality of the characters); (and) ballava-vadhū-bandhoḥ (of Śrī Kṛṣṇa) saḥ asau (in the form of the Vidagdha-mādhava) prabandhaḥ api śīlaiḥ (with the ornament of svabhāvokti, the description of things as they are) pallavitaḥ (has blossomed; for in this book every description is full of the ornament of svabhāvokti — this describes the special quality of the subject); vṛndāṭavī-garbha-bhūḥ (the innermost land of Vṛndāvana, the rāsa-pīṭha) tāṇḍava-vidheḥ (for the dance) catvaratām (the status of a courtyard, that is, of a dancing ground) lebhe (has obtained) — this describes the special quality of the place; (therefore) ayaṁ mad-vidha-puṇya-maṇḍala-parīpākaḥ (the ripening, the culmination, of the whole sphere of piety — the sukṛti — of people like me) unmīlati (comes to light).

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 1, verse 6)*

অভিব্যক্তা মত্তঃ প্রকৃতিলঘুরূপাদপি বুধা
বিধাত্রী সিদ্ধার্থান্ হরিগুণময়ী বঃ কৃতিরিয়ম্ ।
পুলিন্দেনাপ্যগ্নিঃ কিমু সমিধমুন্মথ্য জনিতো হিরণ্যশ্রেণীনামপহরতি নান্তঃকলুষতাম্ ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

abhivyaktā mattaḥ prakṛti-laghu-rūpād api budhā brought forth by me by nature insignificant though O wise ones
vidhātrī siddhārthān hari-guṇa-mayī vaḥ kṛtir iyam will make fulfilled in their aims full of Hari's qualities you composition this pulindenāpy agniḥ kim u samidham unmathya janito
by a Pulinda even fire how then firewood by churning produced hiraṇya-śreṇīnām apaharati nāntaḥ-kaluṣatām
of gold of bars remove not inner impurity

139 "O wise ones, this work has come forth from me, a lowly soul by nature, yet it is full of Hari's qualities and will fulfil your heart's desires. When even a Pulinda kindles fire by rubbing wood, does that fire not purge the hidden dross from bars of gold?" (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.6)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O wise ones! Though this composition, full of descriptions of Hari's qualities, has been brought forth by me, insignificant by nature, may it fulfil your cherished desires. Cannot fire, kindled by rubbing wood even by a Pulinda (a man of the lowest birth), remove the inner impurity (the dross) of bars of gold?

Anubhāṣya.

bhoḥ budhāḥ (O you assembled), prakṛti-laghu-rūpāt (from one insignificant by nature — wretched. But Sarasvatī, unable to bear the author's humility, praises Rūpa Gosvāmī: "from one who swiftly [laghu] brings forth, that is, composes, an excellent work") mattaḥ (from me) abhivyaktā (brought forth) iyaṁ hari-guṇa-mayī (that is, full of their description) kṛtiḥ (the poem in the form of the play Vidagdha-mādhava) api vaḥ (you) siddhārthān (with your cherished, longed-for desires fulfilled) vidhātrī (she whose nature is to make; that is, may it make. For) pulindena (by a man of the lowest, untouchable birth) api samidham (wood) unmathya janitaḥ (born of rubbing or friction) agniḥ api hiraṇya-śreṇīnām (of heaps of gold) antaḥ-kaluṣatām kim u na apaharati (does it not remove? In the same way this work will surely remove your boundless pain of separation).

রায় কহে, — “কহ দেখি প্রেমোৎপত্তি-কারণ
পূর্ব্বানুরাগ, বিকার, চেষ্টা, কামলিখন ?” ॥ ১৪০ ॥

rāya kahe, — kaha dekhi premotpatti-kāraṇa?
Rāya says tell let us see of love’s arising the causes
pūrvānurāga, vikāra, ceṣṭā, kāma-likhana?
first attraction transformation actions love letter

140 Rāya said, “Tell us now the causes from which love arises: the first attraction (pūrvānurāga), its transformations (vikāra), its actions (ceṣṭā), and the love letter (kāma-likhana).”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Pūrvānurāga means pūrva-rāga, the first attraction, before meeting; vikāra is the transformation of love (praṇaya-vikāra), that is, the lovesickness (vyādhi) born of divine madness; ceṣṭā means the bodily actions born of prema; kāma-likhana is a letter of the gopīs that reveals their love. The Lord[30] asked about the causes from which prema arises, and Śrī Rūpa told everything.

Anubhāṣya.
Kāma-likhana, a love letter: the Ujjvala-nīlamaṇi (section on vipralambha, verse 26) says: “A message that reveals one's own love, sent by a young woman to a young man or by a young man to a young woman, is called a love letter (kāma-lekha).”

ক্রমে শ্রীরূপ-গোসাঞি সকলি কহিল । শুনি’ প্রভুর ভক্তগণের চমৎকার হৈল ॥ ১৪১ ॥

krame śrī rūpa-gosāñi sakali kahila
in order Śrī Rūpa Gosāñi everything told śuni’ prabhura bhakta-gaṇera camatkāra haila hearing the Lord’s of the devotees wonder arose

141 Śrī Rūpa Gosāñi explained everything in order, and the Lord’s devotees were amazed to hear it.

*An example of the cause from which rati arises —*

একস্য শ্রুতমেব লুম্পতি মতিং কৃষ্ণেতি নামাক্ষরং
সান্দ্রোন্মাদপরম্পরামুপনয়ত্যন্যস্য বংশীকলঃ ।
এষ স্নিগ্ধঘনদ্যুতির্মনসি মে লগ্নঃ পটে বীক্ষণাৎ
কষ্টং ধিক্ পুরুষত্রয়ে রতিরভূন্মন্যে মৃতিঃ শ্রেয়সী ॥ ১৪২ ॥

ekasya śrutam eva lumpati matiṁ kṛṣṇeti nāmākṣaraṁ
of one heard merely steal away the mind “Kṛṣṇa” of the name the syllables
sāndronmāda-paramparām upanayaty anyasya vaṁśī-kalaḥ of dense madness a stream brings of another of the flute the sound
eṣa snigdha-ghana-dyutir manasi me lagnaḥ paṭe vīkṣaṇāt this one with the soft lustre of a rain cloud in mind My is fixed in a picture from seeing kaṣṭaṁ dhik puruṣa-traye ratir abhūn manye mṛtiḥ śreyasī
alas shame for three men attraction has arisen I think death is better

142 “Merely hearing the syllables of one man’s name, ‘Kṛṣṇa’, I lost My senses; the sound of another’s flute brings on a stream of deep madness; and this one, with the soft lustre of a rain cloud, has been fixed in My mind ever since I saw Him in a picture. Alas, shame on Me! My heart is drawn to three men. I think it is better for Me to die.” (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.9)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Rādhikā, overcome by pūrva-rāga, says: “I heard the syllables of the name ‘Kṛṣṇa’ belonging to some other man — and I lost My senses. The sound of another man's flute awakens a deep madness in My heart. And ever since I saw in a picture the soft, cloudlike luster of yet another man, it has remained fixed in My heart. Alas, shame on Me! How could such rati for three different men arise in Me? It is better for Me to die."

Anubhāṣya.

(He sakhi,) ekasya (of another man) "kṛṣṇa" iti nāmākṣaraṁ (the syllables of the name "Kṛṣṇa") śrutam eva (merely heard) matim (the mind — of Me, Rādhā — the sense of fidelity to a husband proper to a woman) lumpati (cut away: hearing for the first time only the syllables of Kṛṣṇa's name, I tasted their supreme sweetness and felt rati for Kṛṣṇa who bears that name). anyasya (of a second, other man) vaṁśī-kalaḥ (the sound of the flute, when I heard it) sāndronmāda-paramparām (a stream of thickened divine madness) upanayati (brings: then, tasting the supreme sweetness of the flute's sound, I felt rati for the one who plays that flute). vīkṣaṇāt (because I saw him) eṣaḥ (another, a third man) snigdha-ghana-dyutiḥ (shining like a cloud that gives delight) paṭe (in a picture) me (My) manasi (in the heart) lagnaḥ (merged with it, clung, became joined: then, tasting with My eyes just once a picture of Kṛṣṇa's form and taking him to be different, I felt rati for him as well). Dhik kaṣṭaṁ (alas, woe!), puruṣa-traye (for three heroes — one named Kṛṣṇa, one who plays the flute, and one dark as a sapphire and a rain cloud; for Me, a woman of a noble family, even rati for one other man is improper, what to speak of three!) My ratiḥ abhūt (rati has arisen); (therefore) mṛtiḥ (death alone) śreyasī (is the good) — so I manye (think: without death there is no escape from this shameful rati — this is the sense).

*An example of vikāra, transformation —*

ইয়ং সখি সুদুঃসাধ্যা রাধা-হৃদয়বেদনা ৷ কৃতা যত্র চিকিৎসাপি কুৎসায়াং পর্য্যবস্যতি ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

iyaṁ sakhi su-duḥsādhyā
this O friend very hard to cure
rādhā-hṛdaya-vedanā Rādhā's heart's pain
kṛtā yatra cikitsāpi undertaken in which treatment even kutsāyāṁ paryavasyati
in disgrace ends

143 (Śrī Rādhā said to Lalitā and Viśākhā:) "Friend, this pain in Rādhā's heart is very hard to cure: even the treatment one undertakes for it ends only in disgrace." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.8)[20]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"Sakhī, Rādhā's heartache can hardly be cured: even if She is treated, it all ends only in disgrace."

Anubhāṣya.

He sakhi, iyaṁ rādhā-hṛdaya-vedanā (this heartache of Rādhā) su-duḥsādhyā (is almost incurable), yatra (for in it) kṛtā api cikitsā (even the treatment undertaken) kutsāyāṁ paryavasyati (ends in disgrace: if the pain does not subside, the physician himself will be blamed; besides, I long for all three men at one and the same moment, so even if one of them is brought, the pain will not go — this is the sense).

*An example of a love letter (kandarpa-lekha) in Prakrit —*

ধরিঅ পড়িচ্ছন্দগুণং সুন্দর
মহ মন্দিরে তুমং বসসি ৷
তহ তহ রুন্ধসি বলিঅং জহ জহ চইদা পলাএম্হি ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

dhari-a paḍicchanda-guṇaṁ sundara taking of a painted picture the form O beautiful one maha mandire tumaṁ vasasi
in My house You dwell
taha taha rundhasi bali-aṁ
there there You block (My way) by force
jaha jaha ca-idā palāemhi wherever wherever frightened I flee

144 (Śrī Rādhikā wrote to Kṛṣṇa:) "O beautiful one, taking the form of a painted picture, You dwell in My house; and wherever I flee in fright, there You forcibly block My way." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.33)[21]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"O beautiful one, taking the form of an image — a painted picture — You dwell in My house (mandira). Wherever I run in fright, there You block My way." The verse is written in Prakrit; its Sanskrit rendering is this: "Taking the form of an image, O beautiful one, You dwell in My house. Wherever I run in fright, there You forcibly block My way."

Anubhāṣya.
He sundara (O beautiful one), tumaṁ (tvam, You) paḍicchanda-guṇaṁ (praticchanda-guṇam, the form of a painted picture) dhari-a (dhṛtvā, taking) maha (mama, My) mandire (in the house) vasasi (tiṣṭhasi, dwell); jaha jaha (yathā yathā, wherever) ca-idā (cakitā satī, in fright) palāemhi (palāye, I run), taha taha (tathā tathā, there You) bali-aṁ (balitam, forcibly, using force) rundhasi (ruṇatsi, block My way).

*An example of ceṣṭā, the display in actions —*

অগ্রে বীক্ষ্য শিখণ্ডখণ্ডমচিরাদুৎকম্পমালম্বতে
গুঞ্জানাঞ্চ বিলোকনান্মুহুরসৌ সাস্রং পরিক্রোশতি ৷
নো জানে জনয়ন্নপূর্ব্বনটনক্রীড়া-চমৎকারিতাং বালায়াঃ কিল চিত্তভূমিমবিশৎ কোঽয়ং নবীনগ্রহঃ ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

agre vīkṣya śikhaṇḍa-khaṇḍam acirād utkampam ālambate before her seeing of a peacock feather a piece at once trembling she takes on guñjānāṁ ca vilokanān muhur asau sāsraṁ parikrośati of guñjā berries and at the sight again and again she with tears cries aloud
no jāne janayann apūrva-naṭana-krīḍā-camatkāritāṁ not I know producing unprecedented of dancing play the wonder bālāyāḥ kila citta-bhūmim aviśat ko 'yaṁ navīna-grahaḥ
of the girl surely of the heart the field has entered what this new graha

145 "On seeing even a scrap of peacock feather before Her, She at once begins to tremble; at the sight of guñjā berries She cries aloud again and again, in tears. I do not know what new graha, what possessing power, has entered the field of this girl's heart and brings forth in Her a wondrous dance never seen before." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.15)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Seeing a peacock feather before Her, this girl suddenly begins to tremble, and seeing guñjā berries She cries aloud, shedding tears. I do not know what new graha, a power that possesses the soul, has entered the field of Her heart and awakens in Her the wonder of an unprecedented dancing play."

Anubhāṣya.
He bhagavati paurṇamāsi (O venerable Paurṇamāsī), asau (Rādhā) agre (before Her) śikhaṇḍa-khaṇḍam (a peacock feather) vīkṣya (seeing) acirāt (at once) utkampam ālambate (begins to tremble), guñjānāṁ tu (and of guñjā berries) vilokanāt (from the sight) sāsraṁ (in tears) muhuḥ parikrośati (sobs aloud again and again); (I) no jāne (do not know) kaḥ ayaṁ navīna-grahaḥ (what this new graha is) that, apūrva-naṭana-krīḍā-camatkāritāṁ (complete absorption in the most wondrous play of dance) janayan (producing), bālāyāḥ (of Rādhā) citta-bhūmim (the field of the heart) aviśat (has entered).

*An example of resolve (vyavasāya) —*

অকারুণ্যঃ কৃষ্ণো যদি ময়ি তবাগঃ কথমিদং
মুধা মা রোদীর্মে কুরু পরমিমামুত্তরকৃতিম্ ।
তমালস্য স্কন্ধে সখি কলিত-দোর্ব্বল্লরিরিয়ং যথা বৃন্দারণ্যে চিরমবিচলা তিষ্ঠতি তনুঃ ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

akāruṇyaḥ kṛṣṇo yadi mayi tavāgaḥ katham idaṁ merciless Kṛṣṇa if to Me your fault how this mudhā mā rodīr me kuru param imām uttara-kṛtim
in vain do not weep for Me perform only this last rite
tamālasya skandhe sakhi kalita-dor-vallarir iyaṁ of the tamāla on the trunk O friend with creeper-arms placed this yathā vṛndāraṇye ciram avicalā tiṣṭhati tanuḥ
so that in the Vṛndāvana forest forever unmoving remains body

146 "If Kṛṣṇa is merciless to Me, how is that your fault? Do not weep in vain. Only perform this last rite for Me, friend: lay the creepers of My arms on the trunk of a tamāla tree, so that this body of Mine may stay unmoving in the forest of Vṛndāvana forever." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.47)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"Since Kṛṣṇa Himself has become merciless to Me, what fault is yours, sakhī? Do not weep in vain. You can do one thing for Me — My funeral rite: in Vṛndāvana, wind these creeper-arms of Mine around the trunk of a tamāla tree, and leave My body so forever."

Anubhāṣya.

He viśākhe (O Viśākhā), yadi kṛṣṇaḥ mayi akāruṇyaḥ (if Kṛṣṇa has become cruel to Me), (then) katham (how) tava mayi āgaḥ (could the fault toward Me be yours)? (Therefore) mudhā (in vain) mā rodīḥ (do not weep). He sakhi, param (only) imām uttara-kṛtim (this funeral rite) kuru (perform), yathā (so that) iyaṁ me tanuḥ (this body of Mine), tamālasya skandhe kalita-dor-vallariḥ (whose creeper-arms are laid on the trunk of a tamāla), vṛndāraṇye (in Vṛndāvana) ciram (forever) avicalā (motionless) tiṣṭhati (may remain) (that is, when I give up My life, see that My body, its creeper-arms wound around the trunk of a tamāla, remains in Vṛndāvana).

রায় কহে, — "কহ দেখি ভাবের স্বভাব ?"
রূপ কহে, — "ঐছে হয় কৃষ্ণবিষয়ক 'ভাব'" ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

rāya kahe, — kaha dekhi bhāvera svabhāva?
Rāya says tell let us see of bhāva the nature
rūpa kahe, — aiche haya kṛṣṇa-viṣayaka 'bhāva'
Rūpa says such is Kṛṣṇa concerning bhāva

147 Rāya said, "Tell us now the nature of bhāva." Rūpa answered that bhāva directed toward Kṛṣṇa is like this:

Anubhāṣya.

Bhāva means prema.

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 2, verse 18)*

পীড়াভির্নবকালকূটকটুতা-গর্ব্বস্য নির্ব্বাসনো
নিঃস্যন্দেন মুদাং সুধা-মধুরিমাহঙ্কার-সঙ্কোচনঃ ।
প্রেমা সুন্দরি নন্দনন্দনপরো জাগর্ত্তি যস্যান্তরে
জ্ঞায়ন্তে স্ফুটমস্য বক্রমধুরাস্তেনৈব বিক্রান্তয়ঃ ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

pīḍābhir nava-kālakūṭa-kaṭutā-garvasya nirvāsano
by its pains of fresh kālakūṭa poison pungency's pride banishing niḥsyandena mudāṁ sudhā-madhurimāhaṅkāra-saṅkocanaḥ
by the outpouring of joys of nectar sweetness's conceit humbling premā sundari nanda-nandana-paro jāgarti yasyāntare love O beautiful one for Nanda's son directed awakens in whose heart jñāyante sphuṭam asya vakra-madhurās tenaiva vikrāntayaḥ are known clearly its crooked and sweet by him alone powers

148 "O beautiful one, when love for Nanda's son awakens in someone's heart, its pains drive out the pride that fresh kālakūṭa poison takes in its sting, and its outpouring of joys humbles the boast of nectar in its sweetness. Its crooked and sweet powers are clearly known to that person alone." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.18)[22]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 2.52.

রায় কহে, — "কহ সহজ-প্রেমের লক্ষণ" । রূপ-গোসাঞি কহে, — 'সাহজিক প্রেমধর্ম্ম' ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

rāya kahe, — kaha sahaja-premera lakṣaṇa Rāya says tell of natural love the signs
rūpa-gosāñi kahe, — sāhajika prema-dharma
Rūpa Gosāñi says natural of prema the nature

149 Rāya said, "Tell us the characteristics of natural love." Rūpa Gosāñi answered that prema is natural in its very essence:

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
When Rāya asked about the "natural" (sahaja) characteristic of prema, Śrī Rūpa answered: "The nature of prema is natural (sāhajika) in itself."

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 5, verse 4)*

স্তোত্রং যত্র তটস্থতাং প্রকটয়চ্চিত্তস্য ধত্তে ব্যথাং
নিন্দাপি প্রমদং প্রয়চ্ছতি পরীহাসশ্রিয়ং বিভ্রতী ।
দোষেণ ক্ষয়িতাং গুণেন গুরুতাং কেনাপ্যনাতন্বতী
প্রেম্ণঃ স্বারসিকস্য কস্যচিদিয়ং বিক্রীড়তি প্রক্রিয়া ॥ ১৫০ ॥

stotraṁ yatra taṭa-sthatāṁ prakaṭayac cittasya dhatte vyathāṁ praise in which indifference displaying to the heart gives pain
nindāpi pramadaṁ prayacchati parīhāsa-śriyaṁ bibhratī blame even delight gives of a jest the charm bearing doṣeṇa kṣayitāṁ guṇena gurutāṁ kenāpy anātanvatī
by a fault decrease by a virtue increase by anything not showing premṇaḥ svārasikasya kasyacid iyaṁ vikrīḍati prakriyā of love natural of a certain this plays the working

150 "In this love, praise makes one show indifference yet pains the heart; even blame, bearing the charm of a jest, gives delight; it neither wanes because of any fault nor grows because of any virtue. Such is the play of a certain natural love." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 5.4)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Svārasika means natural. Natural prema acts and plays in this way. When the loving one hears herself praised (by the beloved), she shows indifference but feels a special pain. When she hears herself blamed (by the beloved), she takes it as the charm of a jest, and it gives her (great) joy. When she sees some fault in the one she loves, her love does not diminish at all; and when she sees some virtue in him, (her love) does not grow either.

Anubhāṣya.

Yatra (in which — in prema) stotraṁ (words of praise), taṭa-sthatāṁ (indifference) prakaṭayat (displaying), cittasya vyathāṁ dhatte (cause the heart pain); nindā api (even blame), parīhāsa-śriyaṁ (the charm of a jest) bibhratī (bearing), pramadaṁ (joy) prayacchati (gives); kena api doṣeṇa (by no fault whatever) kṣayitāṁ (decrease) na, guṇena (by a virtue) gurutāṁ (increase) na ca ātanvatī (displaying neither: if love arises in dependence on some upādhi, such as virtues, then on seeing faults it weakens and on seeing virtues it grows stronger; but here it is free of upādhis and depends neither on faults nor on virtues) — kasyacit svārasikasya (of a certain natural) premṇaḥ (prema) iyaṁ prakriyā (such is the working, and it) vikrīḍati (plays in the heart).

*An example of Śrī Kṛṣṇa's remorse after He has tested her rāga —*

শ্রুত্বা নিষ্ঠুরতাং মমেন্দুবদনা প্রেমাঙ্কুরং ভিন্দতী
স্বান্তে শান্তিধুরাং বিধায় বিধুরে প্রায়ঃ পরাঞ্চিষ্যতি ৷
কিম্বা পামর-কাম-কার্ম্মুকপরিত্রস্তা বিমোক্ষ্যত্যসূন্
হা মৌগ্ধ্যাৎ ফলিনী মনোরথলতা মৃদ্বী ময়োন্মূলিতা ॥ ১৫১ ॥

śrutvā niṣṭhuratāṁ mamendu-vadanā premāṅkuraṁ bhindatī hearing of the cruelty My the moon-faced one the sprout of love breaking svānte śānti-dhurāṁ vidhāya vidhure prāyaḥ parāñcişyati
in Her heart steadiness establishing afflicted probably will turn away
kimvā pāmara-kāma-kārmuka-paritrastā vimokṣyaty asūn or of wicked Kāma of the bow terrified will give up Her life
hā maugdhyāt phalinī manoratha-latā mṛdvī mayonmūlitā
alas through folly about to bear fruit of desire the creeper tender by Me uprooted

151 (Śrī Kṛṣṇa lamented:) “Hearing of My cruelty, moon-faced Rādhā will break the sprout of Her love, make Her afflicted heart steady, and probably turn away from Me; or else, terrified of the bow of merciless Kāma, She will give up Her life. Alas, in My folly I have uprooted the tender creeper of desire that was about to bear fruit!” (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.40)[23]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

“Hearing of My cruelty, moon-faced Rādhā will break the sprout of love, somehow establish calm or steadiness in Her suffering heart, and probably turn away from Me. Or else, frightened by the bow of wicked Kandarpa, She will give up Her life. Alas, in My folly I have uprooted the tender creeper of desire that was just about to bear fruit.”

Anubhāṣya.

Indu-vadanā (moon-faced Rādhikā), mama niṣṭhuratāṁ śrutvā (hearing of My cruelty), premāṅkuraṁ (the newly arisen prema) bhindatī (breaking), vidhure (in Her saddened, suffering) svānte (heart) śānti-dhurāṁ (the utmost steadiness) vidhāya (taking up), parāñcişyati (will turn away); kiṁ vā (or else), pāmara-kāma-kārmuka-paritrastā (frightened by the arrows [kārmuka] of unruly [pāmara] Kāma, Kandarpa), asūn (Her life) vimokṣyati (will give up); hā (alas!) maugdhyāt (out of folly) mayā (by Me) mṛdvī (tender, since it has just sprouted) phalinī (about to bear fruit) manoratha-latā (the creeper of desire) unmūlitā (has been uprooted).

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 2, verse 41)*

যস্যোৎসঙ্গসুখাশয়া শিথিলিতা গুর্ব্বী গুরুভ্যস্ত্রপা
প্রাণেভ্যোঽপি সুহৃত্তমাঃ সখি তথা যূয়ং পরিক্লেশিতাঃ ৷
ধর্ম্মঃ সোঽপি মহান্ময়া ন গণিতঃ সাধ্বীভিরধ্যাসিতো ধিগ্ধৈর্য্যং তদুপেক্ষিতাপি যদহং জীবামি পাপীয়সী ॥ ১৫২ ॥

yasyotsaṅga-sukhāśayā śithilitā gurvī gurubhyas trapā whose embrace by the hope of happiness cast off great before the elders shyness prāṇebhyo 'pi suhṛt-tamāḥ sakhi tathā yūyaṁ parikleśitāḥ than life even dearest friends O friend likewise you tormented dharmaḥ so 'pi mahān mayā na gaṇitaḥ sādhvībhir adhyāsito dharma that even great by Me not regarded by chaste women followed dhig dhairyaṁ tad-upekṣitāpi yad ahaṁ jīvāmi pāpīyasī shame on steadiness by Him neglected though that I live sinful

152 "Friend, in the hope of the happiness of His embrace I cast off My great shyness before the elders; I tormented you, My dearest friends, dearer to Me than life; I disregarded even the great dharma that chaste women follow. Shame on My steadiness, that though He neglects Me, I, sinful as I am, still live!" (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.41)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Sakhī, I longed for happiness in His embrace — and for His sake I cast off even My great shyness before the elders. For His sake I caused you so much pain, though you are dearer to Me than life. For His sake I counted as nothing even that dharma (of fidelity to a husband) on which chaste women rely. And now Kṛṣṇa Himself has neglected Me, yet I, sinful as I am, still live! Shame on My steadiness!"

Anubhāṣya.
He sakhi, yasya (Kṛṣṇa's) utsaṅga-sukhāśayā (out of an intense desire for the bliss of closeness with Him) gurubhyaḥ (before the venerable elders) gurvī (great) trapā (shyness) śithilitā (was cast off), tathā (and likewise) prāṇebhyaḥ api suhṛt-tamāḥ (the dearest, dearer than life) yūyaṁ (you) parikleśitāḥ (have been tormented); sādhvībhiḥ adhyāsitaḥ (followed by chaste women) yaḥ mahān dharmaḥ (the great dharma — fidelity to a husband), saḥ api (even that) mayā (by Me, a wife of a noble family) na gaṇitaḥ (was not taken into account); yat (since) ahaṁ pāpīyasī (I, the sinful one), tad-upekṣitā api (even neglected by Him, Kṛṣṇa), jīvāmi (live on), (therefore) dhairyaṁ (My steadiness) — dhik (shame on it)!

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 2, verse 46)*

গৃহান্তঃখেলন্ত্যো নিজসহজবাল্যস্য বলনা- দভদ্রং ভদ্রং বা কিমপি হি ন জানীমহি মনাক্ । বয়ং নেতুং যুক্তাঃ কথমশরণাং কামপি দশাং
কথং বা ন্যায়্যা তে প্রথয়িতুমুদাসীনপদবী ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

gṛhāntaḥ khelantyo nija-sahaja-bālyasya balanād within the house playing of our own natural childhood by the force abhadraṁ bhadraṁ vā kim api hi na jānīmahi manāk ill good or anything indeed not we know in the least vayaṁ netuṁ yuktāḥ katham aśaraṇāṁ kām api daśāṁ
us to bring proper how helpless some state kathaṁ vā nyāyyā te prathayitum udāsīna-padavī
how or just for You to display of indifference the path

153 "Playing at home in our natural childlike simplicity, we did not know in the least what was good or bad. How was it proper to bring us into such a helpless state? And how is it just for You now to take the path of indifference?" (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.46)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"By My natural childlike simplicity I was playing at home and knew nothing at all of what is called 'good' and what 'bad'! Was it worthy of You to plunge us into such a helpless state? And is it just of You now to take the path of indifference?"

Anubhāṣya.
(He bakī-hantaḥ, O slayer of Bakī![34]) Nija-sahaja-bālyasya balanāt (by the force of our natural childlike simplicity) gṛhāntaḥ khelantyaḥ (playing at home), vayaṁ (we) kim api abhadraṁ (misfortune) bhadraṁ vā (or good fortune) manāk (in the least) na jānīmahi (do not know); katham vayaṁ kām api (into such a) aśaraṇāṁ (shelterless) daśāṁ (state) netuṁ (to bring) yuktāḥ (is it proper, is it in keeping with dharma)? (And if we have been brought into such a state,) kathaṁ vā te

(for You) udāsīna-padavī (indifference) prathayitum (to display) nyāyyā (is it just? — so You are bent only on killing us — this is the sense).

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 2, verse 37)*

অন্তঃক্লেশকলঙ্কিতাঃ কিল বয়ং যামোঽদ্য যাম্যাং পুরীং নায়ং বঞ্চনসঞ্চয়প্রণয়িনং হাসং তথাপ্যুজ্ঝতি ।
অস্মিন্ সম্পুটিতে গভীরকপটৈরাভীরপল্লীবিটে
হা মেধাবিনি রাধিকে তব কথং প্রেমা গরীয়ানভূৎ ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

antaḥ-kleśa-kalaṅkitāḥ kila vayaṁ yāmo 'dya yāmyāṁ purīṁ inner by suffering stained surely we go today of Yama to the city
nāyaṁ vañcana-sañcaya-praṇayinaṁ hāsaṁ tathāpy ujjhati not He of deceits heaps fond of laughter still gives up asmin sampuṭite gabhīra-kapaṭair ābhīra-pallī-viṭe
for this filled with deep guile of the cowherd village rake
hā medhāvini rādhike tava kathaṁ premā garīyān abhūt
ah wise Rādhikā Your how love so great arose

154 "Stained by inner suffering, we are surely going today to the city of Yama, and still He will not stop laughing, His laughter full of deceit. Ah, wise Rādhikā, how could such great love arise in You for this rake of the cowherd village, so full of deep guile?" (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.37)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"With hearts stained by suffering we are going to the abode of Yama this very day, and still this Kṛṣṇa does not give up His affectionate laughter full of deceit (a cruel laughter so full of deceit)! O wise Rādhikā, how could so lofty a prema arise in You for this philanderer of the cowherd village, so full of deep guile?"

Anubhāṣya.
Vayam (we), antaḥ-kleśa-kalaṅkitāḥ (stained, marked, by inner suffering: this suffering will remain even after death — this is the sense), adya (today) yāmyāṁ purīṁ (to the abode of Yama) kila (certainly) yāmaḥ (are going); tathāpi (and yet, though He is so merciless,) ayaṁ (this Śrī Kṛṣṇa) vañcana-sañcaya-praṇayinaṁ (that heaps up deceptions) hāsaṁ (His laughter) na ujjhati (does not give up)! Hā medhāvini (O wise) rādhike, gabhīra-kapaṭaiḥ sampuṭite (filled with deep guile) asmin ābhīra-pallī-viṭe (in this Kṛṣṇa, the gallant [viṭa] who seeks the love of the cowherd women, the beauties of Vraja) tava garīyān (great) premā katham abhūt (how did it arise)? (Let others love Him, whose minds are blinded by amorous desire, but for You, the wise one, this is not fitting — this is the sense.)

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 3, verse 9)*

হিত্বা দূরে পথি ধবতরোরন্তিকং ধর্ম্মসেতো- র্ভঙ্গোদগ্রা গুরুশিখরিণং রংহসা লঙ্ঘয়ন্তী ।
লেভে কৃষ্ণার্ণব নবরসা রাধিকা-বাহিনী ত্বাং বাগ্বীচিভিঃ কিমিব বিমুখীভাবমস্যাস্তনোষি ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

hitvā dūre pathi dhava-taror antikaṁ dharma-setor leaving far on the way of the husband-tree the nearness of the bridge of dharma bhaṅgodagrā guru-śikhariṇaṁ raṁhasā laṅghayantī eager to break the mountain of elders swiftly crossing lebhe kṛṣṇārṇava nava-rasā rādhikā-vāhinī tvāṁ has reached O Kṛṣṇa-ocean full of fresh rasa the river Rādhikā You vāg-vīcibhiḥ kim iva vimukhī-bhāvam asyās tanoṣi with waves of words why then estrangement toward her You show

155 "O ocean Kṛṣṇa, the river Rādhikā, full of fresh rasa, has left far behind on her way the tree of her husband that stood beside her, broken through the bridge of dharma, and swiftly crossed the mountain of her elders, and she has reached You. Why, then, do You turn her away with the waves of Your words?" (Vidagdha-mādhava, 3.9)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"O Kṛṣṇa, ocean! The river Rādhikā, whose nature is ever-new rasa, has left far behind the path that ran beside the tree — her lawful husband; she has swiftly broken the bridge of dharma, forcibly crossed the mountain of the elders, and reached You. How is it that You now show her estrangement with waves of words?"

Anubhāṣya.

He kṛṣṇārṇava (O Kṛṣṇa, ocean), dhava-taroḥ (of the tree — Her husband) antikaṁ (the nearness) dūre pathi (far off on the way) hitvā (leaving), dharma-setoḥ (of the bridge — the dharma of the family, for that is the bridge) bhaṅgodagrā (the breaker, one whose foremost urge is to break it; able to break it), guru-śikhariṇaṁ (the mountain — the venerable elders) raṁhasā (swiftly) laṅghayantī (crossing over), nava-rasā (She in whom there is new, fresh rasa — the rasas from śānta to śṛṅgāra) rādhikā-vāhinī (the river Rādhikā) tvāṁ (You, the ocean Kṛṣṇa) lebhe (has reached); tvaṁ ca (and You) vāg-vīcībhiḥ (with mere waves of words) kim iva (why) asyāḥ (Her — the river Rādhā's) vimukhī-bhāvam (estrangement) tanoṣi (spread)?

রায় কহে, — "বৃন্দাবন, মুরলী-নিঃস্বন । কৃষ্ণ, রাধিকার কৈছে কৈরাছ বর্ণন ? ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

rāya kahe, — vṛndāvana, muralī-niḥsvana Rāya says Vṛndāvana of the flute the sound
kṛṣṇa, rādhikāra kaiche kairācha varṇana?
Kṛṣṇa of Rādhikā how you have made the description

156 Rāya said, "How have you described Vṛndāvana, the sound of the flute, Kṛṣṇa, and Rādhikā?

কহ, তোমার কবিত্ব শুনি' হয় চমৎকার" । ক্রমে রূপ-গোসাঞি কহে করি' নমস্কার ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

kaha, tomāra kavitva śuni' haya camatkāra
tell your poetry hearing there is wonder krame rūpa-gosāñi kahe kari' namaskāra
in order Rūpa Gosāñi speaks making obeisance

157 Tell us, for hearing your poetry fills one with wonder." Bowing down, Rūpa Gosāñi recited them in order:

An example [of the description] of Vṛndāvana —

সুগন্ধৌ মাকন্দপ্রকরমকরন্দস্য মধুরে
বিনিস্যন্দে বন্দীকৃতমধুপবৃন্দং মুহুরিদম্ ।
কৃতান্দোলং মন্দোন্নতিভিরনিলৈশ্চন্দনগিরে- র্মমানন্দং বৃন্দা-বিপিনমতুলং তুন্দিলয়তি ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

su-gandhau mākanda-prakara-makarandasya madhure
in the fragrant of mango of masses of buds of the nectar sweet vinisyande vandī-kṛta-madhupa-vṛndaṁ muhur idam flow held captive of bees the swarms again and again this kṛtāndolaṁ mandonnatibhir anilaiś candana-girer set swaying by the gently rising breezes of the sandalwood mountain mamānandaṁ vṛndā-vipinam atulaṁ tundilayati
My bliss of Vṛndā the forest incomparable swells

158 "This forest of Vṛndā, where swarms of bees are held captive again and again by the sweet, fragrant flow of nectar from masses of mango buds, and which sways in the gentle breezes from the sandalwood mountain (Malaya), swells My incomparable bliss." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.23)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"Sweet with the honey of mango buds, full of swarms of bees captured again and again by that fragrant flow, set swaying by the gentlest wafting of the breeze from the sandalwood mountain (Malaya), this Śrī Vṛndāvana increases My incomparable bliss."

Anubhāṣya.

He madhumaṅgala, mākanda-prakara-makarandasya (of the nectar of the many mango buds) madhure su-gandhau vinisyande (in the sweet, fragrant flow) muhuḥ (again and again) vandī-kṛta-madhupa-vṛndaṁ (that by which swarms of bees are captured, bound), candana-gireḥ (of the Malaya mountain) mandonnatibhiḥ (gently blowing) anilaiḥ (by breezes) kṛtāndolaṁ (shaken, set swaying) idam vṛndā-vipinam (this forest of Vṛndāvana) mama atulaṁ ānandaṁ (My incomparable bliss) tundilayati (increases).

বৃন্দাবনং দিব্যলতা-পরীতং
লতাশ্চ পুষ্পস্ফুরিতাগ্রভাজঃ ৷
পুষ্পাণি চ স্ফীতমধুব্রতানি মধুব্রতাশ্চ শ্রুতিহারিগীতাঃ ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

vṛndāvanaṁ divya-latā-parītaṁ Vṛndāvana by divine creepers surrounded latāś ca puṣpa-sphuritāgra-bhājaḥ
the creepers and with flowers sparkling tips bearing puṣpāṇi ca sphīta-madhu-vratāni
the flowers and with intoxicated bees (filled) madhu-vratāś ca śruti-hāri-gītāḥ
the bees and the ear captivating songs (having)

159 "Vṛndāvana is surrounded by divine creepers; the creepers bear tips sparkling with flowers; the flowers are filled with intoxicated bees; and the bees sing songs that captivate the ear." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.24)[24]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"Look: this Vṛndāvana is encircled by divine creepers; the tips of the creepers are adorned with flowers; the flowers are full of bees; and the bees are absorbed in songs that captivate the ear."

Anubhāṣya.

(He śrīdāman, this very) vṛndāvanaṁ divya-latā-parītaṁ (is encircled by divine creepers); latāḥ ca puṣpa-sphuritāgra-bhājaḥ (their tips glitter with flowers), puṣpāṇi ca sphīta-madhu-vratāni (in them are intoxicated [sphīta] bees), madhu-vratāḥ ca śruti-hāri-gītāḥ (their song is an elixir for the ears).

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 1, verse 31)*

ক্বচিদ্ভৃঙ্গীগীতং ক্বচিদনিলভঙ্গীশিশিরতা
ক্বচিদ্বল্লীলাস্যং ক্বচিদমলমল্লীপরিমলঃ ৷
ক্বচিদ্ধারাশালী করকফলপালী-রসভরো
হৃষীকাণাং বৃন্দং প্রমদয়তি বৃন্দাবনমিদম্ ॥ ১৬০ ॥

kvacid bhṛṅgī-gītaṁ kvacid anila-bhaṅgī-śiśiratā somewhere of bees the song somewhere of the breeze by the softness coolness kvacid vallī-lāsyaṁ kvacid amala-mallī-parimalaḥ somewhere of creepers the dance somewhere pure of mallikā the fragrance kvacid dhārā-śālī karaka-phala-pālī-rasa-bharo somewhere in streams flowing of pomegranate fruits of rows of juice abundance hṛṣīkāṇāṁ vṛndaṁ pramadayati vṛndāvanam idam of the senses all delights Vṛndāvana this

160 “Here the bees are singing, there it is cool with the soft breeze; here the creepers dance, there drifts the pure fragrance of mallikā flowers; and there the juice of rows of pomegranates flows in streams. This Vṛndāvana delights all the senses.” (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.31)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

“Friend, this Vṛndāvana delights our senses in every way: in one place the bees sing, in another it is cool with the gentle Malaya breeze, in another the creepers dance, in another flows the pure fragrance of mallikā flowers, and in another the pomegranates, overflowing with juice, let it run in streams.”

Anubhāṣya.

He madhumaṅgala, idam vṛndāvanam hṛṣīkāṇāṁ (of the eyes, ears, nose, tongue, skin, and the other senses) vṛndaṁ (all together) pramadayati (delights) — thus: (to delight the ears) kvacit bhṛṅgī-gītaṁ (in one place the song of the bees); (to please the sense of touch) kvacit anila-bhaṅgī-śiśiratā (anila, the wind, bhaṅgī, its gentleness, and from that śiśiratā, coolness — that is, the coolness of a gentle breeze); (to delight the eyes) kvacit vallī-lāsyaṁ (the dance of the creepers); (to delight the sense of smell) kvacit amala-mallī-parimalaḥ (parimalaḥ, the fragrance, of mallī, the mallikā, amalaḥ, pure, unmixed); (to please the tongue) kvacit dhārā-śālī (arranged row upon row) karaka-phala-pālī-rasa-bharaḥ (karaka-phala-pālī, rows of pomegranates, rasa-bharaḥ, the abundance of their juice).

*An example [of the description] of the muralī, the flute —*

পরামৃষ্টাঙ্গুষ্ঠত্রয়মসিতরত্নৈরুভয়তো
বহন্তী সংকীর্ণৌ মণিভিররুণৈস্তৎপরিসরৌ ।
তয়োর্মধ্যে হীরোজ্জ্বলবিমল-জাম্বূনদময়ী করে কল্যাণীয়ং বিহরতি হরেঃ কেলিমুরলী ॥ ১৬১ ॥

parāmṛṣṭāṅguṣṭha-trayam asita-ratnair ubhayato covered three thumb-breadths with dark gems at both ends
vahantī saṁkīrṇau maṇibhir aruṇais tat-parisarau bearing inlaid with gems red the adjoining parts tayor madhye hīrojjvala-vimala-jāmbūnada-mayī of them in the middle with diamonds shining of pure gold made kare kalyāṇīyaṁ viharati hareḥ keli-muralī
in the hand auspicious this sports of Hari for play the flute

161 “At both ends, for the breadth of three thumbs, it is inlaid with sapphires; the parts beside them are set with rubies; and between them it is made of pure gold, shining with diamonds. This auspicious flute of Hari’s play sports in His hand.” (Vidagdha-mādhava, 3.1)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

“Inlaid with sapphires (indranīla) for three fingers' length at each end, adorned with rubies (aruṇa-maṇi) for the same length, and in between made of pure gold and glittering with diamonds — this auspicious flute of Kṛṣṇa's play sports in Kṛṣṇa's hand.”

Anubhāṣya.

Ubhayataḥ (at both ends — at the head and at the tail of the flute) aṅguṣṭha-trayam (over a span three thumbs wide) asita-ratnaiḥ (with sapphires, indranīlas) parāmṛṣṭā (covered, inlaid), aruṇaiḥ maṇibhiḥ (with rubies) saṅkīrṇau (inlaid) tat-parisarau (the two adjoining spans, also three thumbs each, at the head and at the tail) vahantī (bearing), tayoḥ (of these two spans) madhye (in the middle) hīrojjvala-vimala-jāmbūnada-mayī (made of pure gold [jāmbūnada] brightly glittering with diamonds), iyaṁ kalyāṇī (full of auspiciousness) keli-muralī (Kṛṣṇa's flute of play) hareḥ (Kṛṣṇa's) kare (in the hand) viharati (sports).

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 5, verse 17)*

সদ্বংশতস্তব জনিঃ পুরুষোত্তমস্য পাণৌ স্থিতির্মুরলিকে সরলাসি জাত্যা ৷
কস্মাত্ত্বয়া সখি গুরোর্বিষমা গৃহীতা গোপাঙ্গনাগণবিমোহনমন্ত্রদীক্ষা ॥ ১৬২ ॥

sad-vaṁśatas tava janiḥ puruṣottamasya
from a good bamboo (family) your birth of Puruṣottama
pāṇau sthitir muralike saralāsi jātyā
in the hand your dwelling O flute straight you are by birth kasmāt tvayā sakhi guror viṣamā gṛhītā
from what by you O friend guru crooked received gopāṅganā-gaṇa-vimohana-mantra-dīkṣā
the gopīs crowd bewildering in the mantra initiation

162 "O flute, you were born of good bamboo — of a good family; you dwell in the hand of Puruṣottama; and you are straight by birth. Then from what guru, friend, did you receive this crooked initiation into the mantra that bewilders all the gopīs?" (Vidagdha-mādhava, 5.17)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Sakhī Muralī, you were born of a good bamboo, you dwell in the hand of Puruṣottama, and you are straight by birth. Why, then, have you taken initiation into such an especially grave (viṣama, 'crooked') mantra, one that bewilders the gopīs?"

Anubhāṣya.
He muralike, sad-vaṁśataḥ (from the finest bamboo, that is, from a good family) tava janiḥ (you were born); puruṣottamasya (Kṛṣṇa's) pāṇau (in the hand) tava sthitiḥ (you dwell); jātyā (by birth) saralā (not crooked, straight) asi (you are); (he sakhi,) kasmāt guroḥ (from which guru, by whose grace) tvayā (by you) viṣamā (not straight, crooked) gopāṅganā-gaṇa-vimohana-mantra-dīkṣā (initiation into the mantra that bewilders the gopīs) gṛhītā (was received — you have been initiated into a mantra able to steal the gopīs' hearts)?

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 4, verse 7)*

সখি মুরলি বিশালচ্ছিদ্রজালেন পূর্ণা
লঘুরতিকঠিনা ত্বং গ্রন্থিলা নীরসাসি ৷
তদপি ভজসি শশ্বচ্চুম্বনানন্দসান্দ্রং হরিকরপরিরম্ভং কেন পুণ্যোদয়েন ॥ ১৬৩ ॥

sakhi murali viśāla-cchidra-jālena pūrṇā
O friend flute of large holes with a network full laghur ati-kaṭhinā tvaṁ granthilā nīrasāsi light very hard you knotty sapless you are tad api bhajasi śaśvac cumbanānanda-sāndraṁ that yet you enjoy constantly of kisses with bliss dense hari-kara-parirambhaṁ kena puṇyodayena
of Hari's hand the embrace by what of merit fruition

163 "Friend flute, you are full of large holes; you are light, very hard, knotty, and sapless. Yet by what fruition of merit do you constantly enjoy the embrace of Hari's hand, dense with the bliss of His kisses?" (Vidagdha-mādhava, 4.7)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Sakhī Muralī, you are full of large holes, light, very hard, dry, and knotty. By what pious merit, then, does Kṛṣṇa unceasingly embrace you with His hand — an embrace dense with the bliss of kissing His lips?"

Anubhāṣya.

He sakhi murali, tvaṁ viśāla-cchidra-jālena (with a mass of great flaws) pūrṇā (are filled), laghuḥ (light, without dignity), ati-kaṭhinā (cruel by nature), granthilā (you undo the knots of the sashes [nīvi]), nīrasā (dry) ca asi; tad api (and yet) kena puṇyodayena (by what previous pious merit) śaśvat (unceasingly) cumbanānanda-sāndraṁ (dense with the happiness born of a kiss) hari-kara-parirambhaṁ (the embrace of Kṛṣṇa's hand) bhajasi (do you obtain)?

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 1, verse 27)*

রুন্ধন্নম্বুভৃতশ্চমৎকৃতিপরং কুর্ব্বন্মুহুস্তুম্বুরুং
ধ্যানাদন্তরয়ন্ সনন্দনমুখান্ বিস্মাপয়ন্ বেধসম্ ৷
ঔৎসুক্যাবলিভির্ব্বলিং চটুলয়ন্ ভোগীন্দ্রমাঘূর্ণয়ন্
ভিন্দন্নণ্ডকটাহভিত্তিমভিতো বভ্রাম বংশীধ্বনিঃ ॥ ১৬৪ ॥

rundhann ambu-bhṛtaś camatkṛti-paraṁ kurvan muhus tumburuṁ stopping the clouds filled with wonder making again and again Tumburu dhyānād antarayan sanandana-mukhān vismāpayan vedhasam from meditation drawing away Sanandana and others astonishing Brahmā autsukyāvalibhir baliṁ caṭulayan bhogīndram āghūrṇayan with waves of eagerness Bali agitating the king of serpents making spin bhindann aṇḍa-kaṭāha-bhittim abhito babhrāma vaṁśī-dhvaniḥ piercing of the universe's shell the wall all around wandered of the flute the sound

164 "The sound of the flute stopped the clouds, filled Tumburu with wonder again and again, drew Sanandana and the other sages away from their meditation, and astonished Brahmā; it stirred Bali with waves of eagerness, set the king of serpents spinning, pierced the wall of the shell of the universe, and spread in all directions." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.27)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The sound of Śrī Kṛṣṇa's flute stopped the movement of the clouds, struck Tumburu and the other Gandharvas with wonder, broke the meditation of Sanandana and the other sages, astonished Brahmā, stirred the composed (that is, unshakable and unmoving) King Bali with impatient longing, set Ananta, the king of serpents who holds up the earth, spinning, pierced the walls of the shell of the universe — and spread in all directions.

Anubhāṣya.

Vaṁśī-dhvaniḥ (the sound of Kṛṣṇa's flute) ambu-bhṛtaḥ (the clouds) rundhan (stopping), tumburuṁ (the king of the Gandharvas) muhuḥ (again and again) camatkṛti-paraṁ (filled with wonder) kurvan (making), sanandana-mukhān (the sages headed by the four Sanas, absorbed in knowledge of Brahman) dhyānāt antarayan (making them abandon their meditation), vedhasam (Brahmā) vismāpayan (astonishing), autsukyāvalibhiḥ (with heaps of eager, curious delight) baliṁ caṭulayan (making Bali restless), bhogīndram (the king of the Nāgas, Śeṣa) āghūrṇayan (setting spinning), aṇḍa-kaṭāha-bhittim (the covering of the universe) bhindan (piercing), abhitaḥ (in all directions, everywhere) babhrāma (spread).

An example [of the description] of Śrī Kṛṣṇa —

অয়ং নয়নদণ্ডিতপ্রবরপুণ্ডরীকপ্রভঃ
প্রভাতি নবজাগুড়-দ্যুতিবিড়ম্বিপীতাম্বরঃ ৷
অরণ্যজপরিষ্ক্রিয়া-দমিতদিব্যবেশাদরো
হরিন্মণিমনোহরদ্যুতিভিরুজ্জ্বলাঙ্গো হরিঃ ॥ ১৬৫ ॥

ayaṁ nayana-daṇḍita-pravara-puṇḍarīka-prabhaḥ
this by His eyes having humbled of the finest white lotus the lustre prabhāti nava-jāguḍa-dyuti-viḍambi-pītāmbaraḥ shines of fresh kuṅkuma the glow mocking in yellow garments araṇyaja-pariṣkriyā-damita-divya-veśādaro with forest-born adornments having subdued for divine dress the regard harin-maṇi-manohara-dyutibhir ujjvalāṅgo hariḥ
of an emerald with captivating lustre radiant in body Hari

165 “Here is Hari, shining: the beauty of His eyes has humbled the lustre of the finest white lotus; His yellow garments mock the glow of fresh kuṅkuma; His forest adornments have subdued all regard for divine dress; and His body is radiant with a lustre more captivating than an emerald.” (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.17)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

By the beauty of His eyes this Kṛṣṇa has stolen the luster of the finest white lotus. His yellow garments, which outshine the glow of fresh kuṅkuma, sparkle. By His forest dress, ornaments, and the like He has taken away all regard for divine attire. So the radiant Kṛṣṇacandra shines, with a luster more enchanting than a sapphire (indranīla).

Anubhāṣya.

Ayaṁ hariḥ (this Hari), nayana-daṇḍita-pravara-puṇḍarīka-prabhaḥ (He who by the beauty of His eyes has punished and subdued the luster — the beauty — of the finest puṇḍarīka, the full-blown white lotus), nava-jāguḍa-dyuti-viḍambi-pītāmbaraḥ (He whose yellow garment seems accustomed to mock the luster — the glow — of fresh kuṅkuma), araṇyaja-pariṣkriyā-damita-divya-veśādaraḥ (He who with forest-born ornaments has overcome all fondness for divine attire), harin-maṇi-manohara-dyutibhiḥ (with a luster as enchanting as an emerald) ujjvalāṅgaḥ (He whose body is radiant), prabhāti (shines).

*(Lalita-mādhava, Act 4, verse 27)*

জঙ্ঘাধস্তটসঙ্গিদক্ষিণপদং কিঞ্চিদ্বিভুগ্নত্রিকং
সাচিস্তম্ভিতকন্ধরং সখি তিরঃসঞ্চারিনেত্রাঞ্চলম্ ।
বংশীং কুট্মলিতে দধানমধরে লোলাঙ্গুলী-সঙ্গতাং
বিভ্রৎভ্রূভ্রমরং বরাঙ্গি পরমানন্দং পুরঃ স্বীকুরু ॥ ১৬৬ ॥

jaṅghādhas-taṭa-saṅgi-dakṣiṇa-padaṁ kiñcid vibhugna-trikaṁ
of the shin at the lower part resting right foot slightly bent waist
sāci-stambhita-kandharaṁ sakhi tiraḥ-sañcāri-netrāñcalam sideways held still neck O friend sidelong moving eyes’ corners
vaṁśīṁ kuṭmalite dadhānam adhare lolāṅgulī-saṅgatāṁ
the flute on budlike holding on the lips by restless fingers touched vibhrad-bhrū-bhramaraṁ varāṅgi paramānandaṁ puraḥ svī-kuru bearing brow-bees O beautiful one supreme bliss before you accept

166 “Friend, O beautiful one, accept Him who stands before You, the supreme bliss: His right foot rests against His lower shin, His waist is slightly bent, His neck is turned to the side and held still, the corners of His eyes glance sidelong; on His budlike lips He holds the flute, touched by His restless fingers, and His brows are like bees.” (Lalita-mādhava, 4.27)[25]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

“Sakhī, O beautiful one! His right foot rests below His left shin, His waist is slightly bent in three places, His neck is turned to the side and held still, the corners of His eyes are crooked; to His slightly closed, budlike lips He holds the flute, touched by His restless fingers, and His lotus face is adorned with brows like bees. Accept Him, full of supreme bliss, who stands before you.”

Anubhāṣya.

He sakhi, he varāṅgi (O beautiful one), puraḥ (Him who stands before you), jaṅghādhas-taṭa-saṅgi-dakṣiṇa-padaṁ (Him whose right foot — the edge of the right foot — touches the lower part of the left shin), kiñcid-vibhugna-trikaṁ (Him whose waist [trika] is slightly bent), sāci-stambhita-kandharaṁ (Him whose neck [kandharā] is turned to the side and held motionless), tiraḥ-sañcāri-netrāñcalam (Him the corners of whose eyes are wont to glide sideways), kuṭmalite (closed like a bud) adhare (at the lips) lolāṅgulī-saṅgatāṁ (touched by restless, moving fingers) vaṁśīṁ (the flute) dadhānam (holding), vibhrad-bhrū-bhramaraṁ (Him whose brows are like two hovering bees), paramānandaṁ (Mādhava) svī-kuru (accept).

*(Lalita-mādhava, Act 1, verse 52)*

কুলবরতনুধর্ম্মগ্রাববৃন্দানি ভিন্দন্
সুমুখি নিশিতদীর্ঘাপাঙ্গটঙ্কচ্ছটাভিঃ ৷
যুগপদয়মপূর্ব্বঃ কঃ পুরো বিশ্বকর্ম্মা মরকতমণিলক্ষৈর্গোষ্ঠকক্ষাং চিনোতি ॥ ১৬৭ ॥

kula-vara-tanu-dharma-grāva-vṛndāni bhindan
of noble women of dharma stones heaps splitting
su-mukhi niśita-dīrghāpāṅga-ṭaṅka-cchaṭābhiḥ
O fair-faced one sharp of long sidelong glances of the chisel with flashes yugapad ayam apūrvaḥ kaḥ puro viśvakarmā
at the same time this unprecedented what before us Viśvakarmā
marakata-maṇi-lakṣair goṣṭha-kakṣāṁ cinoti of emerald gems with hundreds of thousands in the cowherd village chambers builds

167 “O fair-faced one, what unprecedented Viśvakarmā is this before us? With the flashing chisel of His long, sharp sidelong glances He splits the piled-up stones of noble women’s dharma, and at the same time, with countless emeralds, builds chambers in the cowherd village.” (Lalita-mādhava, 1.52)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

“O fair-faced one, what Viśvakarmā is this standing before us? With the flashing, sharp, long chisel of His sidelong glances He splits the stones of the svadharma of noble wives, and at the same time builds chambers in the cowherd village out of His own beautiful dark form, which is like countless emeralds.”

Anubhāṣya.

He su-mukhi (O fair-faced one), puraḥ (before us) ayam apūrvaḥ (never seen or heard of before) kaḥ viśvakarmā (what Viśvakarmā is this)? — yaḥ (He who) yugapat (at the same time) niśita-dīrghāpāṅga-ṭaṅka-cchaṭābhiḥ (niśita, sharpened; the long sidelong glance itself is the ṭaṅka, a special tool for splitting stone; cchaṭābhiḥ, with its flashes, its gleams) kula-vara-tanu-dharma-grāva-vṛndāni (the dharmas of noble wives — fidelity to a husband and the rest — which are heaps of stone) bhindan (splitting), marakata-maṇi-lakṣaiḥ (with hundreds of thousands of emeralds, that is, with forms full of dark beauty that one takes for emeralds) goṣṭha-kakṣāṁ (the cowherd village) cinoti (builds, that is, fills; in this verse Rādhā is amazed to see such qualities of Śrī Kṛṣṇa as His artfulness and beauty).

*(Lalita-mādhava, Act 1, verse 49)*

মহেন্দ্রমণিমণ্ডলীমদবিড়ম্বিদেহদ্যুতি- র্ব্রজেন্দ্রকুলচন্দ্রমাঃ স্ফুরতি কোঽপি নব্যো যুবা ৷
সখি স্থিরকুলাঙ্গনা নিকর-নীবি-বন্ধার্গল-চ্ছিদাকরণ-কৌতুকী জয়তি যস্য বংশীধ্বনিঃ ॥ ১৬৮ ॥

mahendra-maṇi-maṇḍalī-mada-viḍambi-deha-dyutir
of great sapphires of clusters the pride mocking of body the lustre vrajendra-kula-candramāḥ sphurati ko ’pi navyo yuvā of the king of Vraja of the dynasty the moon shines some new youth sakhi sthira-kulāṅganā-nikara-nīvi-bandhārgala-O friend of steadfast noble women of crowds of sashes of the knots the bolts
cchidā-karaṇa-kautukī jayati yasya vaṁśī-dhvaniḥ breaking delighting in is victorious whose of the flute the sound

168 “Friend, a certain fresh youth is shining — the moon of the dynasty of the king of Vraja, the lustre of whose body mocks the pride of clusters of great sapphires. Glory to the sound of His flute, which delights in breaking the bolts of the knotted sashes of crowds of steadfast noble women!” (Lalita-mādhava, 1.49)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

“Sakhī, a youth in the freshness of youth has appeared — the moon of the dynasty of the king of Vraja; the luster of His body crushes the pride of clusters of great sapphires. Glory to the sound of His flute, which playfully breaks the knots of the sashes of steadfast noble wives!”

Anubhāṣya.

He sakhi, yasya (He whose) sthira-kulāṅganā-nikara-nīvi-bandhārgala-cchidā-karaṇa-kautukī (for the many steadfast noble wives, the chaste women, the very knot of the sash [nīvi] serves as a bolt, a bar, or an obstacle, and this sound delights in cutting that bolt, in breaking those bonds) vaṁśī-dhvaniḥ (the sound of the flute) jayati (is supreme), saḥ (He) mahendra-maṇi-maṇḍalī-mada-viḍambi-deha-dyutiḥ (He the luster, the radiance, of whose body seems accustomed to mock the pride of clusters of great sapphires), kaḥ api navyaḥ yuvā (a certain youth in the freshness of youth), vrajendra-kula-candramāḥ (the moon of Nanda's dynasty), sphurati (shines).

Anubhāṣya.

In some manuscripts the three verses 166–168 are not given. For Śrī Rūpa was describing the Vidagdha-mādhava, and describing the Lalita-mādhava was neither timely nor relevant for him: as is known, he receives Śrī Rāmānanda's instruction to describe the Lalita-mādhava only further on, in verse 172.

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 1, verse 32)*

বলাদক্ষ্ণোর্লক্ষ্মীঃ কবলয়তি নব্যং কুবলয়ং
মুখোল্লাসঃ ফুল্লং কমলবনমুল্লঙ্ঘয়তি চ ৷
দশাং কষ্টামষ্টাপদমপি নয়ত্যাঙ্গিকরুচি র্বিচিত্রং রাধায়াঃ কিমপি কিল রূপং বিলসতি ॥ ১৬৯ ॥

balād akṣṇor lakṣmīḥ kavalayati navyaṁ kuvalayaṁ
by force of the eyes the beauty swallows fresh blue lotus mukhollāsaḥ phullaṁ kamala-vanam ullaṅghayati ca of the face the radiance blooming of lotuses forest surpasses and daśāṁ kaṣṭām aṣṭāpadam api nayaty āṅgika-rucir into a state painful gold even brings of the body the lustre vicitraṁ rādhāyāḥ kim api kila rūpaṁ vilasati wondrous Rādhā’s some indeed beauty plays

169 “The beauty of Her eyes forcibly swallows the fresh blue lotus; the radiance of Her face surpasses a forest of blooming lotuses; the lustre of Her body brings even gold to a sorry plight. Indescribable and wondrous, the beauty of Rādhā is at play here.” (Vidagdha-mādhava, 1.32)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The beauty of Her eyes forcibly swallows the beauty of a newly blossomed blue lotus; the joy shining on Her blooming face surpasses a forest of lotuses; the luster of Her body plunges even beautiful gold into distress. So wondrously does Śrī Rādhikā's beauty play, that is, manifest itself.

Anubhāṣya.

(Śrī Rādhā's) akṣṇoḥ (eyes') lakṣmīḥ (beauty) navyaṁ (newly blossomed) kuvalayaṁ (the blue lotus) balāt kavalayati (forcibly swallows), mukhollāsaḥ (the beauty of Her face) phullaṁ (blossomed) kamala-vanam (forest of lotuses) ullaṅghayati (surpasses, sets aside), āṅgika-rucih (the luster of Her body) aṣṭāpadam (gold) api kaṣṭāṁ (full of distress) daśāṁ (into a state) nayati (brings); (therefore) rādhāyāḥ rūpaṁ (Rādhā's beauty) kila kim api vicitraṁ (truly something wondrous) vilasati (shines).

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 5, verse 20)*

বিধুরেতি দিবা বিরূপতাং
শতপত্রং বত শর্ব্বরীমুখে ৷
ইতি কেন সদাশ্রিয়োজ্জ্বলং তুলনামর্হতি মৎপ্রিয়াননম্ ॥ ১৭০ ॥

vidhur eti divā virūpatāṁ śata-patraṁ bata śarvarī-mukhe
the moon attains by day loss of beauty the lotus alas of night at the onset iti kena sadā śriyojjvalaṁ tulanām arhati mat-priyānanam
so with what always with beauty shining comparison deserves of My beloved the face

170 "Alas, the moon loses its beauty by day, and the lotus at nightfall. With what, then, can the face of My beloved, always shining with beauty, be compared?" (Vidagdha-mādhava, 5.20)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"The beauty of the moon, though lovely at night, fades by day; and the lotus, though lovely by day, grows dim (closes) at night. But, friend, the face of My beloved Rādhikā always, day and night, shines with beauty. With what, then, can it be compared?"

Anubhāṣya.
Vidhuḥ (the moon) divā (by day), śata-patraṁ (the lotus) śarvarī-mukhe (in the evening) bata (alas) virūpatāṁ (loss of luster) eti (attain); iti (thus) sadā (always, day and night) śriyā (with beauty) ujjvalam (shining) mat-priyānanam (Śrī Rādhikā's face) kena (with what object of comparison) tulanāṁ na arhati[35] (does it not bear comparison — that is, it can be compared with nothing)?

*(Vidagdha-mādhava, Act 2, verse 5)*

প্রমদরসতরঙ্গস্মেরগণ্ডস্থলায়াঃ স্মরধনুরনুবন্ধিভ্রূলতা-লাস্যভাজঃ ।
মদকলচলভৃঙ্গীভ্রান্তিভঙ্গীং দধানো
হৃদয়মিদমদাঙ্ক্ষীৎ পক্ষ্মলাক্ষ্যাঃ কটাক্ষঃ ॥ ১৭১ ॥

pramada-rasa-taraṅga-smera-gaṇḍa-sthalāyāḥ
of joy of rasa with waves smiling whose cheeks
smara-dhanur anubandhi-bhrū-latā-lāsya-bhājaḥ Kāma's bow resembling of brow-creepers dance having mada-kala-cala-bhṛṅgī-bhrānti-bhaṅgīṁ dadhāno intoxicated humming darting of a bee of resemblance the charm bearing hṛdayam idam adāṅkṣīt pakṣmalākṣyāḥ kaṭākṣaḥ heart this has stung of the one with lovely lashes the sidelong glance

171 "Her cheeks smile with waves of the rasa of joy, and Her creeper-brows dance like Kāma's bow. The sidelong glance of that girl with lovely lashes, charming as an intoxicated, softly humming, darting bee, has stung this heart of Mine." (Vidagdha-mādhava, 2.5)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Her cheeks, with a gentle, gentle smile, are stirred by waves of the rasa of joy; Her creeper-brows dance like the bow of Kāma, resembling a bee that darts about in intoxicated abandon. And the glance that flew from Her lashes has stung My heart."

Anubhāṣya.
Pramada-rasa-taraṅga-smera-gaṇḍa-sthalāyāḥ (of Her whose cheeks smile — touched with a gentle smile — from the waves of the rasa of joy, the flow of the rasa of bliss), smara-dhanur-anubandhi-bhrū-latā-lāsya-bhājaḥ (of Her whose creeper-brows, like the bow of Kāmadeva, perform a dance [lāsya]), pakṣmalākṣyāḥ (of Rādhā, whose eyes are graced with lovely lashes), mada-kala-cala-bhṛṅgī-bhrānti-bhaṅgīṁ (such a charm [bhaṅgī] that one mistakes [bhrānti] it for a bee darting, restless and fickle with intoxicated humming [kala]) dadhānaḥ (bearing), (Rādhā's) kaṭākṣaḥ (glance) idam (this, My) hṛdayam (heart) adāṅkṣīt (has stung).

*Rāya asks Śrī Rūpa to recite the nāndī of the Lalita-mādhava —*

রায় কহে, — "তোমার কবিত্ব অমৃতের ধার । দ্বিতীয় নাটকের কহ নান্দী-ব্যবহার" ॥ ১৭২ ॥

rāya kahe, — tomāra kavitva amṛtera dhāra Rāya says your poetry of nectar a stream dvitīya nāṭakera kaha nāndī-vyavahāra
of the second play tell of the nāndī the use

172 Rāya said, “Your poetry is a stream of nectar. Now tell us the nāndī of the second play.”

Anubhāṣya.
Of the second drama: that is, of the drama Lalita-mādhava. From here on Śrī Rāmānanda asks about the Śrī Lalita-mādhava composed by Śrī Rūpa.

Comparing himself with Rāya's greatness, Śrī Rūpa expresses his humility —

রূপ কহে, — “কাঁহা তুমি সূর্য্যোপম ভাস । মুঞি কোন্ ক্ষুদ্র, — যেন খদ্যোত-প্রকাশ ॥ ১৭৩ ॥

rūpa kahe, — kāṁhā tumi sūryopama bhāsa Rūpa says where you like the sun in radiance
muñi kon kṣudra, — yena khadyota-prakāśa
I what insignificant one like of a firefly the glimmer

173 Rūpa said, “Where are you, radiant like the sun, and what am I? An insignificant creature, like the glimmer of a firefly.

তোমার আগে ধার্ষ্ট্য এই মুখ-ব্যাদান” । এত বলি’ নান্দী-শ্লোক করিলা ব্যাখ্যান ॥ ১৭৪ ॥

tomāra āge dhārṣṭya ei mukha-vyādāna
you before impudence this of the mouth the opening eta bali’ nāndī-śloka karilā vyākhyāna
this saying the nāndī verse made recitation

174 Even to open my mouth before you is impudence.” Saying this, he recited the nāndī verse:

*In the opening verse (maṅgalācaraṇa), praise of the fame of Mukunda, who crushes the asuras and gladdens the gods —*

সুররিপুসুদৃশামুরোজকোকা- ন্মুখকমলানি চ খেদয়ন্নখণ্ডঃ ।
চিরমখিলসুহৃচ্চকোরনন্দী দিশতু মুকুন্দযশঃশশী মুদং বঃ ॥ ১৭৫ ॥

sura-ripu-sudṛśām uroja-kokān
of the enemies of the gods of the fair-eyed wives the breast-cakravākas
mukha-kamalāni ca khedayann akhaṇḍaḥ
the face-lotuses and saddening full ciram akhila-suhṛc-cakora-nandī forever of all friends the cakoras delighting diśatu mukunda-yaśaḥ-śaśī mudaṁ vaḥ
may it give of Mukunda of the fame the moon joy to you

175 “May the full moon of Mukunda’s fame give you joy — the moon that saddens the cakravāka birds, the breasts of the fair-eyed wives of the gods’ enemies, and the lotuses, their faces, while it forever delights the cakora birds, all His friends.” (Lalita-mādhava, 1.1)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The cakravāka birds — the breasts of the wives of the enemies of the gods — and the lotuses — their faces — the moon of Mukunda's fame casts into dejection, into sorrow, while it forever delights the cakora birds — all His friends. May that full moon of Mukunda's fame give you happiness.

Anubhāṣya.

Sura-ripu-sudṛśām (of the wives of Naraka and the other asuras) uroja-kokān (the kokas, cakravākas, that are their breasts) mukha-kamalāni ca (and the lotuses that are their faces) khedayan (casting into dejection), akhila-suhṛc-cakora-nandī (He who is wont to delight the cakoras — all His friends), akhaṇḍaḥ (full) mukunda-yaśaḥ-śaśī (the moon that is Mukunda's fame) vaḥ (you) mudaṁ (happiness) ciram (for long) diśatu (may it give).

Rāya asks Śrī Rūpa to describe his own worshipful Lord; Śrī Rūpa's embarrassment —

‘দ্বিতীয় নান্দী কহ দেখি?’ — রায় পুছিলা । সঙ্কোচ পাঞা রূপ কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১৭৬ ॥

dvitīya nāndī kaha dekhi? — rāya puchilā
the second nāndī tell let us see Rāya asked saṅkoca pāñā rūpa kahite lāgilā hesitation feeling Rūpa to speak began

176 Rāya asked, “Now recite the second nāndī.” Feeling hesitant, Rūpa began to recite:

A prayer for blessings to his worshipful Lord, Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya —

নিজপ্রণয়িতাং সুধামুদয়মাপ্নুবন্ যঃ ক্ষিতৌ কিরত্যলমুরীকৃতদ্বিজকুলাধিরাজস্থিতিঃ ।
স লুঞ্চিত-তমস্ততির্মম শচীসুতাখ্যঃ শশী বশীকৃতজগন্মনাঃ কিমপি শর্ম্ম বিন্যস্যতু ॥ ১৭৭ ॥

nija-praṇayitāṁ sudhām udayam āpnuvan yaḥ kṣitau for Himself of love the nectar rising having attained who on earth
kiraty alam urī-kṛta-dvija-kulādhirāja-sthitiḥ pours out abundantly having accepted of the twice-born the race of the supreme king the position
sa luñchita-tamas-tatir mama śacī-sutākhyaḥ śaśī that dispelling of darkness the mass to me Śacī’s son named the moon vaśī-kṛta-jagan-manāḥ kim api śarma vinyasyatu having won of the world the minds some blessing may He bestow

177 “Rising over the earth, He pours out abundantly the nectar of love for Himself; He reigns as supreme king of the twice-born; He dispels the mass of darkness and has won the minds of the whole world. May that moon, called the son of Śacī, grant me some blessing.” (Lalita-mādhava, 1.3)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Rising over the earth, He pours out the nectar of the rasa of love for Himself; He has accepted the position of supreme king of the twice-born; He dispels the darkness; He wins the minds of the whole world. May that moon named Śacīnandana grant me auspiciousness.

Anubhāṣya.

Yaḥ (He who), kṣitau (on the earth) udayam (appearance) āpnuvan (having attained), nija-praṇayitāṁ sudhām (the nectar of love for Himself) alam (abundantly) kirati (pours out), urī-kṛta-dvija-kulādhirāja-sthitiḥ (He by whom the position — the dignity of sovereignty — of supreme king of the twice-born has been accepted), luñcita-tamas-tatiḥ (He by whom the mass of darkness — the heap of the deceit of ignorance — has been plundered and driven away), vaśī-kṛta-jagan-manāḥ (He by whom the minds of the worlds have been won), śacī-sutākhyaḥ (named Śacīnandana) saḥ śaśī (that moon) mama (to me) kim api śarma (some auspiciousness) vinyasyatu (may He grant).

In His heart the Lord is pleased, but outwardly He makes a show of anger —

শুনিয়া প্রভুর যদি অন্তরে উল্লাস । বাহিরে কহেন কিছু করি' রোষাভাস ॥ ১৭৮ ॥

śuniyā prabhura yadi antare ullāsa hearing of the Lord though within joy bāhire kahena kichu kari' roṣābhāsa
outwardly He says something showing a semblance of anger

178 On hearing it, the Lord felt joy within, yet outwardly, with a show of anger, He said:

"কাঁহা তোমার কৃষ্ণরসবাক্য-সুধাসিন্ধু । তার মধ্যে মিথ্যা কেনে স্তুতি-ক্ষারবিন্দু ?" ॥ ১৭৯ ॥

kāṁhā tomāra kṛṣṇa-rasa-vākya-sudhā-sindhu
where your of Kṛṣṇa's rasa of words of nectar the ocean
tāra madhye mithyā kene stuti-kṣāra-bindu of that in the midst false why of praise of alkali a drop 179 "Your words about the rasa of Kṛṣṇa are an ocean of nectar. Why have you mixed into it a drop of alkali — this false praise?"[26]

Rāya praises the verse —

রায় কহে, — "রূপের কাব্য অমৃতের পূর । তার মধ্যে এক বিন্দু দিয়াছে কর্পূর" ॥ ১৮০ ॥

rāya kahe, — rūpera kāvya amṛtera pūra Rāya says Rūpa's poetry of nectar a flood tāra madhye eka bindu diyāche karpūra
of that in the midst one drop he has put of camphor

180 Rāya said, "Rūpa's poetry is a flood of nectar, and into it he has put a drop of camphor."

প্রভু কহে, — "রায়, তোমার ইহাতে উল্লাস । শুনিতেই লজ্জা, লোকে করে উপহাস" ॥ ১৮১ ॥

prabhu kahe, — rāya, tomāra ihāte ullāsa
the Lord says Rāya your in this joy
śunitei lajjā, loke kare upahāsa
even to hear shame people make mockery

181 The Lord said, "Rāya, you are delighted by this, but I am ashamed even to hear it, and people will laugh."

রায় কহে, — "লোকের সুখ ইহার শ্রবণে । অভীষ্ট-দেবের স্মৃতি মঙ্গলাচরণে" ॥ ১৮২ ॥

rāya kahe, — lokera sukha ihāra śravaṇe Rāya says people's happiness of this in the hearing abhīṣṭa-devera smṛti maṅgalācaraṇe
of the cherished Deity remembrance in the auspicious invocation

182 Rāya said, "People are happy to hear it, for an auspicious invocation is the remembrance of one's cherished Deity."

*Rāya asks about the parts of the Lalita-mādhava and how its characters are introduced; Śrī Rūpa answers by quoting verses from his drama —*

রায় কহে, — “কোন্ অঙ্গে পাত্রের প্রবেশ ?” তবে রূপ-গোসাঞি কহে তাহার বিশেষ ॥ ১৮৩ ॥

rāya kahe, — kon aṅge pātrera praveśa?
Rāya says in which part the characters' entrance
tabe rūpa-gosāñi kahe tāhāra viśeṣa
then Rūpa Gosāñi tells of that the particulars

183 Rāya asked, “In which part do the characters enter?” Then Rūpa Gosāñi explained the particulars:

Anubhāṣya.
See above (Antya, Chapter 1) verse 134 and its Anubhāṣya. By which part of the drama [aṅga] is a character introduced? There are five kinds of prastāvanā — udghātyaka, kathodghāta, prayogātiśaya, pravartaka, and avalagita — and three parts of the bhāratī-vṛtti — prarocanā, vīthī, and prahasana. Śrī Rāmānanda asks Śrī Rūpa: “In which of these five kinds of prastāvanā, and adopting which part of the bhāratī-vṛtti, do you bring a character onto the stage in the guise of an actor in your drama?”

*(Lalita-mādhava, Act 1, verse 11)*

নটতা কিরাতরাজং নিহত্য রঙ্গস্থলে কলানিধিনা । সময়ে তেন বিধেয়ং গুণবতি তারাকরগ্রহণম্ ॥ ১৮৪ ॥

naṭatā kirāta-rājaṁ nihatya raṅga-sthale kalā-nidhinā dancing of the Kirātas the king having slain on the stage by Kalānidhi samaye tena vidheyaṁ guṇavati tārā-kara-grahaṇam in due time by him is to be done virtuous of Tārā of the hand the taking

184 “Kalānidhi (Kṛṣṇa, the moon), dancing on the stage, will slay the king of the Kirātas (Kaṁsa) and at an auspicious time take the hand of Tārā (Rādhā).” (Lalita-mādhava, 1.11)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Dancing on the stage, Kalānidhi (Kṛṣṇacandra) will destroy Kaṁsa, the king of the Kirātas, and at an auspicious time called “Pūrṇa-manoratha” is to take the hand of Tārā (Śrī Rādhā).

Anubhāṣya.
Naṭatā (playing a role) tena kalā-nidhinā (by the actor named Kalānidhi) raṅga-sthale (on the stage) kirāta-rājaṁ (the ruler of the land of the Kirātas) nihatya (having slain), guṇavati (presided over by a favorable constellation) samaye (at the time) tārā-kara-grahaṇam (marriage to the girl named Tārā) vidheyam (is to be performed). In the other sense: raṅga-sthale (in the arena) tena kalā-nidhinā (by Śrī Kṛṣṇa, the treasury of the sixty-four arts) kirāta-rājaṁ (Kaṁsa) nihatya (having slain), guṇavati samaye (at the time called “Pūrṇa-manoratha,” in the tenth act) tārā-kara-grahaṇam (marriage to Śrī Rādhikā) vidheyam (is to be performed).

In this verse the āmukha, that is, the prastāvanā, is named — udghātyaka — and the part of the bhāratī-vṛtti — vīthī. The Sāhitya-darpaṇa (Chapter 6, no. 520) says: “In a vīthī there is one act, and in it some single [hero] is presented. Addressing imagined voices from the sky, he carries on varied speeches and replies, abundantly suggests śṛṅgāra and to some extent other rasas as well; it has the opening and closing junctures (mukha and nirvahaṇa) and all the artha-prakṛtis.” That is, in a vīthī there is only one act. In this act some single hero is presented; through voices from the sky he resorts to varied speeches and replies, abundantly suggests śṛṅgāra-rasa and to some extent other rasas as well; and in its opening (mukha) and junctures (sandhis) all the artha-prakṛtis, that is, the bīja, should be employed. Here, if the word naṭatā (playing a role) is applied to the moon, the meaning is unclear; therefore it is applied to Kṛṣṇa, and since the meaning thus becomes clear, the prastāvanā called udghātyaka has been formed. Taking the meaning that relates to Kṛṣṇa, Paurṇamāsī, too, entered the stage.

‘উদ্‌ঘাত্যক’ নাম এই ‘আমুখ’ — ‘বীথী’ অঙ্গ ।
তোমার আগে কহি — ইহা ধার্ষ্ট্যের তরঙ্গ ॥ ১৮৫ ॥

‘udghātyaka’ nāma ei ‘āmukha’ — ‘vīthī’ aṅga udghātyaka by name this prologue of the vīthī a part tomāra āge kahi — ihā dhārṣṭyera taraṅga
you before I speak this of impudence a wave

185 “This prologue is called udghātyaka; it is a part of the vīthī. To speak of it before you is a wave of impudence.

Anubhāṣya.
Śrī Rūpa says to Śrī Rāmānanda Rāya: “Before a learned master of the rasa-śāstra such as you, every word of mine is like a wave in an ocean of impudence, that is, in a sea of presumption.”

*(Sāhitya-darpaṇa, the section on visual poetry [dṛśya-śravya-nirūpaṇa], Chapter 6, verse 289)*

পদানি ত্বগতার্থানি তদর্থগতয়ে নরাঃ ।
যোজয়ন্তি পদৈরন্যৈঃ স উদ্‌ঘাত্যক উচ্যতে ॥ ১৮৬ ॥

padāni tv agatārthāni
words however of unclear meaning tad-artha-gataye narāḥ
their meaning to grasp people
yojayanti padair anyaiḥ
join with words other sa udghātyaka ucyate
that udghātyaka is called

186 ‘When people, to grasp the meaning of words whose sense is unclear, join them with other words, it is called udghātyaka.’” (Sāhitya-darpaṇa, 6.289)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
When people join words whose meaning is unclear with other words in order to grasp their meaning, this is called udghātyaka.

Anubhāṣya.
Narāḥ (experts in poetics) tu agatārthāni (whose meaning is not reached, not understood) padāni (words) tad-artha-gataye (in order to grasp the meaning of those words whose meaning is not understood) anyaiḥ padaiḥ (with other words) yat yo-jayanti (join), saḥ (that) udghātyaka (udghātyaka) ucyate (is called).

রায় কহে, — “কহ আগে অঙ্গের বিশেষ” । শ্রীরূপ কহেন কিছু সংক্ষেপে-উদ্দেশ ॥ ১৮৭ ॥

rāya kahe, — kaha āge aṅgera viśeṣa
Rāya says tell further of the parts the particulars
śrī rūpa kahena kichu saṅkṣepe-uddeśa Śrī Rūpa tells something in brief indicating 187 Rāya said, “Tell us further about the particular parts.” Śrī Rūpa indicated a few of them briefly:

Anubhāṣya.
“The particulars of the parts”: see above (Antya, Chapter 1) verse 156; that is, as before, the descriptions in order of Vṛndāvana, the sound of the muralī, Kṛṣṇa, and Rādhikā.

*(Lalita-mādhava, Act 1, verse 23)*

হরিমুদ্দিশতে রজোভরঃ
পুরতঃ সঙ্গময়ত্যমুং তমঃ ।
ব্রজবামদৃশাং ন পদ্ধতিঃ প্রকটা সর্ব্বদৃশঃ শ্রুতেরপি ॥ ১৮৮ ॥

harim uddiśate rajo-bharaḥ Hari points to of dust the mass
purataḥ saṅgamayaty amuṁ tamaḥ ahead unites Him darkness
vraja-vāma-dṛśāṁ na paddhatiḥ of Vraja of the fair-eyed not the path
prakaṭā sarva-dṛśaḥ śruter api manifest all-seeing to the Śruti even 188 "The mass of dust points to Hari; the darkness ahead unites Him (with the gopīs). The path of the fair-eyed girls of Vraja is not revealed even to the all-seeing Śruti." (Lalita-mādhava, 1.23)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The dust raised by the cows' hooves points to Hari; the darkness ahead unites Him with the gopīs. Therefore the path of the cowherd women is beyond the reach even of the all-knowing Śruti.

Anubhāṣya.
Rajaḥ-bharaḥ (the mass, heap, multitude of dust raised by the cows' hooves) harim uddiśate (points to Hari), tamaḥ (darkness) purataḥ (ahead) amum (Kṛṣṇa) saṅgamayati (unites [with the gopīs]); (therefore) vraja-vāma-dṛśāṁ (of the women of Vraja) paddhatiḥ (the path) sarva-dṛśaḥ (all-seeing) śruteḥ (to the Veda) api (even) prakaṭā na (is not revealed).

The Veda, whose subject is the three guṇas, says nothing of how to point to Kṛṣṇa, who is beyond the guṇas, or of meeting Him. The conditioned jīva, turned away from Kṛṣṇa, is agitated by the guṇa of rajas, and so has no pointer to Kṛṣṇa; he is covered by the guṇa of tamas, and so he does not meet Kṛṣṇa. But in the transcendental Vṛndāvana the dust (rajas) raised by the cows' hooves points out Kṛṣṇa's coming to the eternally liberated gopīs, and tamas, the darkness, lets the eternally liberated gopīs meet Kṛṣṇa. Therefore both the gopīs, whose nature is pure sattva, and Śrī Vṛndāvana, whose nature is pure sattva, are beyond the reach of the Veda, whose subject is the three guṇas. This is the meaning of the verse.

*(Lalita-mādhava, Act 1, verse 24)*

হ্রিয়মবগৃহ্য গৃহেভ্যঃ কর্ষতি রাধাং বনায় যা নিপুণা । সা জয়তি নিসৃষ্টার্থা বরবংশজকাকলী দূতী ॥ ১৮৯ ॥

hriyam avagṛhya gṛhebhyaḥ karṣati rādhāṁ vanāya yā nipuṇā shyness overcoming from the house draws Rādhā to the forest who skilful sā jayati nisṛṣṭārthā vara-vaṁśaja-kākalī dūtī
she is victorious entrusted with the purpose born of the finest bamboo the soft melody the messenger

189 "Glory to that skilful messenger, entrusted with the purpose — the soft melody born of the finest bamboo — who overcomes Rādhā's shyness and draws Her from home to the forest!" (Lalita-mādhava, 1.24)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Glory to that messenger — the sweet, soft tone (kākalī) of the flute born of the finest bamboo! Skillful and entrusted with the purpose, she frees Śrī Rādhā from shyness and draws Her from home into the forest.

Anubhāṣya.
Yā (she who), hriyam (shyness) avagṛhya (taking away, that is, destroying), gṛhebhyaḥ (from home) vanāya (to the forest, so that She goes to the forest) rādhāṁ karṣati (draws Rādhā), sā nipuṇā (skillful) nisṛṣṭārthā (bearing the task entrusted to her) vara-vaṁśaja-kākalī (the sound of the flute) dūtī (messenger) jayati (is supreme).

Nisṛṣṭārthā: the Ujjvala-nīlamaṇi (section on the kinds of messengers, verse 29) says: “She to whom one of the two has entrusted the task, and who by her skill unites them both, is called nisṛṣṭārthā.”

*(Lalita-mādhava, Act 2, verse 10)*

সহচরি নিরাতঙ্কঃ কোঽয়ং যুবা মুদিরদ্যুতি- ব্রজভুবি কুতঃ প্রাপ্তো মাদ্যন্মতঙ্গজবিভ্রমঃ ৷
অহহ চটুলৈরুৎসর্পদ্ভির্দৃগঞ্চলতস্করৈ- র্মম ধৃতিধনং চেতঃকোষাদ্বিলুণ্ঠয়তীহ যঃ ॥ ১৯০ ॥

saha-cari nirātaṅkaḥ ko ’yaṁ yuvā mudira-dyutir
O friend fearless who this youth with the lustre of a cloud vraja-bhuvi kutaḥ prāpto mādyan mataṅ-gaja-vibhramaḥ
to the land of Vraja from where has come of an intoxicated elephant with the sporting grace
ahaha caṭulair utsarpadbhir dṛg-añcala-taskarair
ah restless stealing forth by the glance-thieves
mama dhṛti-dhanaṁ cetaḥ-koṣād viluṇṭhayatīha yaḥ
My of composure the wealth from the treasury of the heart plunders here who

190 “Friend, who is this fearless youth, with the lustre of a rain cloud and the sporting grace of an intoxicated elephant? From where has He come to the land of Vraja? Ah, with the thieves of His restless, roving glances He is plundering the wealth of My composure from the treasury of My heart!” (Lalita-mādhava, 2.10)[27]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
“Friend, who is this fearless youth, shining like a fresh cloud, sporting like an intoxicated elephant? From where has He come to the land of Vraja? Ah, with His restless gait and thieflike glances He is plundering from the treasury of My heart the wealth of My composure!”

Anubhāṣya.
He saha-cari (O friend), ahaha (ah!), iha (here, in the forest of Vṛndā) yaḥ (He who) caṭulaiḥ (restless) utsarpadbhiḥ (gliding in every direction) dṛg-añcala-taskaraiḥ (with the thieves — His sidelong glances) mama cetaḥ-koṣāt (from the treasury of My heart) dhṛti-dhanaṁ (the wealth that is My composure) viluṇṭhayati (plunders) — mudira-dyutiḥ (He whose luster is like that of a cloud [mudira], shining like a fresh cloud), mādyan-mataṅ-gaja-vibhramaḥ (He whose play [vibhrama, vilāsa] is like an intoxicated elephant's, restless like an elephant deep in intoxication), nirātaṅkaḥ (fearless) — kaḥ ayaṁ yuvā (who is this youth)? Kutaḥ (from where) ca vraja-bhuvi (to the land of Vraja) prāptaḥ (has He come)?

*(Lalita-mādhava, Act 2, verse 10)*[36]

বিহারসুরদীর্ঘিকা মম মনঃকরীন্দ্রস্য যা
বিলোচন-চকোরয়োঃ শরদমন্দচন্দ্রপ্রভা ৷
উরোঽম্বরতটস্য চাভরণচারুতারাবলী ময়োন্নতমনোরথৈরিয়মলম্ভি সা রাধিকা ॥ ১৯১ ॥

vihāra-sura-dīrghikā mama manaḥ-karīndrasya yā for sport the celestial river of My mind-king-elephant who vilocana-cakorayoḥ śarad-amanda-candra-prabhā
for the cakoras of the eyes of autumn bright moon the light
uro ’mbara-taṭasya cābharaṇa-cāru-tārāvalī of the chest-sky of the edge and ornament lovely string of stars
mayonnata-manorathair iyam alambhi sā rādhikā
by Me through lofty desires this has been attained that Rādhikā

191 “She who is the celestial river in which the king-elephant of My mind sports, the light of the bright autumn moon for the cakora birds of My eyes, and a lovely string of stars adorning the sky of My chest — that Rādhikā I have attained through My lofty desires.” (Lalita-mādhava, 2.10)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"Rādhikā is, for the king-elephant of My mind, the Gaṅgā in which it sports; for the cakora birds of My eyes, the brilliant light of the autumn moon; for the sky of My chest, an ornament like a lovely string of stars. Today I have attained that Rādhikā — and with Her My lofty desires are fulfilled."

Anubhāṣya.

Yā (She who — Rādhā) mama manaḥ-karīndrasya (for the king-elephant of My mind, My heart) vihāra-sura-dīrghikā (is the celestial river for its play, the heavenly Gaṅgā), yā (She who) vilocana-cakorayoḥ (for the two cakoras that are My eyes) śarad-amanda-candra-prabhā (is the light of the autumn moon, undimmed, that is, full), yā (She who) uraḥ-ambara-taṭasya (for the edge of the sky that is My chest — the chest itself is the sky) ca ābharaṇa-cāru-tārāvalī (is, among ornaments, a lovely string of stars, a constellation), sā iyaṁ rādhikā (this Rādhikā) mayā (by Me, Kṛṣṇa) unnata-manorathaiḥ (through lofty desires — what I had desired for many days) sāmpratam (now) alambhi (has been attained).

Rāya praises Śrī Rūpa's poetic gift without end, as if with a thousand mouths —

এত শুনি' রায় কহে প্রভুর চরণে । রূপের কবিত্ব প্রশংসি' সহস্র-বদনে ॥ ১৯২ ॥

eta śuni' rāya kahe prabhura caraṇe
this hearing Rāya speaks at the Lord's feet
rūpera kavitva praśaṁsi' sahasra-vadane
Rūpa's poetry praising with a thousand mouths

192 Hearing this, Rāya spoke at the Lord's feet, praising Rūpa's poetry as if with a thousand mouths:

"কবিত্ব না হয় এই অমৃতের ধার । নাটক-লক্ষণ সব সিদ্ধান্তের সার ॥ ১৯৩ ॥

kavitva nā haya ei amṛtera dhāra
poetry not is this of nectar a stream nāṭaka-lakṣaṇa saba siddhāntera sāra
of drama the features all of conclusive truths the essence

193 "This is not poetry — it is a stream of nectar. All its dramatic features are the essence of conclusive truth.

প্রেম-পরিপাটী এই অদ্ভুত বর্ণন । শুনি' চিত্ত-কর্ণের হয় আনন্দ-ঘূর্ণন" ॥ ১৯৪ ॥

prema-paripāṭī ei adbhuta varṇana
of love the artful order this wondrous description
śuni' citta-karṇera haya ānanda-ghūrṇana hearing of mind and ears there is of bliss whirling

194 This wondrous description is love artfully unfolded; hearing it, the mind and ears whirl in bliss.

(a verse of an ancient author)

কিং কাব্যেন কবেস্তস্য কিং কাণ্ডেন ধনুষ্মতঃ । পরস্য হৃদয়ে লগ্নং ন ঘূর্ণয়তি যচ্ছিরঃ ॥ ১৯৫ ॥

kiṁ kāvyena kaves tasya
what use of the poetry of the poet that kiṁ kāṇḍena dhanuṣ-mataḥ
what use of the arrow of the archer parasya hṛdaye lagnaṁ
of another in the heart lodged na ghūrṇayati yac chiraḥ
not makes spin which the head

195 'What use is a poet's poetry or an archer's arrow which, lodged in another's heart, does not make his head spin?' (a verse of an ancient poet)[28]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

If the poet's poetry and the archer's bow, having entered another's heart, cannot make his head spin — what use are they?

Thus ends the first chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.

Tasya kaveḥ (of that poet) kāvyena (with the poetry, words full of rasa) kim (what use)? Dhanuṣ-mataḥ (of the archer) kāṇḍena (with the arrow) kim (what use)? — yat (if) [the poetry or the arrow], parasya hṛdaye lagnaṁ (having pierced another's heart), tasya śiraḥ (his head) na ghūrṇayati (does not make spin).

[Rāya] infers the Lord's mercy upon Śrī Rūpa —

তোমার শক্তি বিনা জীবের নহে এই বাণী । তুমি শক্তি দিয়া কহাও, — হেন অনুমানি ॥ ১৯৬ ॥

tomāra śakti vinā jīvera nahe ei vāṇī
Your power without of a living being is not this speech
tumi śakti diyā kahāo, — hena anumāni
You power giving make him speak so I infer

196 Without Your power, such words could not come from an ordinary soul. I infer that You have given him power and are making him speak."

The Lord praises Śrī Rūpa's poetic gift —

প্রভু কহে, — "প্রয়াগে আমা-সনে হইল মিলন । ইঁহার গুণে ইঁহাতে আমার তুষ্ট হৈল মন ॥ ১৯৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — prayāge āmā-sane haila milana
the Lord says at Prayāga with Me took place meeting
iṁhāra guṇe iṁhāte āmāra tuṣṭa haila mana his by qualities with him My pleased became mind

197 The Lord said, "He met Me at Prayāga, and his qualities pleased My heart.

মধুর প্রসঙ্গ ইঁহার কাব্য সালঙ্কার । ঐছে কবিত্ব বিনা নহে রসের প্রচার ॥ ১৯৮ ॥

madhura prasaṅga iṁhāra kāvya sālaṅkāra
sweet the subject his poetry adorned with ornaments aiche kavitva vinā nahe rasera pracāra
such poetry without is not of rasa the preaching

198 Sweet is the subject of his poetry, and it is rich in ornaments. Without such poetry rasa cannot be made known.

The Lord Himself asks the devotees to bestow mercy on Śrī Rūpa, whom He loves and on whom He bestows the greatest mercy —

সবে কৃপা করি' ইঁহারে দেহ' এই বর । ব্রজলীলা-প্রেমরস যেন বর্ণে নিরন্তর ॥ ১৯৯ ॥

sabe kṛpā kari' iṁhāre deha' ei vara
all mercy showing to him give this blessing
vraja-līlā-prema-rasa yena varṇe nirantara of Vraja pastimes of love the rasa that he may describe unceasingly

199 All of you, be merciful and give him this blessing: that he may unceasingly describe the rasa of love in the pastimes of Vraja.

*The Lord praises Śrī Sanātana and considers him Śrī Rāya's equal in detachment and in learning — in knowledge of the siddhānta and the rasa of prema-bhakti —*

ইঁহার যে জ্যেষ্ঠভ্রাতা, নাম — 'সনাতন' । পৃথিবীতে বিজ্ঞবর নাহি তাঁর সম ॥ ২০০ ॥

iṁhāra ye jyeṣṭha-bhrātā, nāma — 'sanātana'
his who elder brother name Sanātana
pṛthivīte vijña-vara nāhi tāṁra sama
on earth most learned there is not to him equal

200 His elder brother is named Sanātana; there is no learned man on earth equal to him.

তোমার যৈছে বিষয়ত্যাগ, তৈছে তাঁর রীতি ।
দৈন্য-বৈরাগ্য-পাণ্ডিত্যের তাঁহাতেই স্থিতি ॥ ২০১ ॥

tomāra yaiche viṣaya-tyāga, taiche tāṁra rīti
your as of worldly things renunciation so his way dainya-vairāgya-pāṇḍityera tāṁhātei sthiti
of humility detachment learning in him alone the abode

201 His renunciation of worldly things is just like yours, and humility, detachment, and learning abide in him.

Anubhāṣya.
Śrī Mahāprabhu said to Śrī Rāmānanda Rāya: "You have given up all sense objects and serve Kṛṣṇa exclusively. Just so Sanātana Gosvāmī, exactly like you, has left everything other than Kṛṣṇa: he is always 'humbler than a blade of grass,' that is, filled with the mood of one who owns nothing (akiñcana), and seeks no enjoyment apart from Kṛṣṇa, that is, he is free from the bonds of everything that is not Kṛṣṇa. He has made service to Kṛṣṇa the object of his senses and has fully mastered the knowledge of the highest devotion (parā-bhakti). Śrī Sanātana is the ideal embodiment of sincere humility, detachment, and learning. Exactly like you, he is knowledgeable and accomplished in pure renunciation, that is, yukta-vairāgya, and in learning — in knowledge of the siddhānta and the rasa of prema-bhakti."

[The Lord] tells how He empowered Śrī Rūpa and Sanātana and sent them to Vraja —

এই দুই ভাইয়ে আমি পাঠাইলুঁ বৃন্দাবনে ।
শক্তি দিয়া ভক্তিশাস্ত্র করিতে প্রবর্ত্তনে" ॥ ২০২ ॥

ei dui bhāiye āmi pāṭhāiluṁ vṛndāvane
these two brothers I sent to Vṛndāvana śakti diyā bhakti-śāstra karite pravartane power giving of devotion the scriptures to make to set forth

202 I gave these two brothers power and sent them to Vṛndāvana to set forth the scriptures of devotion."

*Rāya glorifies the Lord, seeing Him as the One who impels action (prayojaka-kartā) —*

রায় কহে, — “ঈশ্বর তুমি যে চাহ করিতে । কাষ্ঠের পুতলী তুমি পার নাচাইতে ॥ ২০৩ ॥

rāya kahe, — īśvara tumi ye cāha karite Rāya says the Lord You whatever wish to do kāṣṭhera putalī tumi pāra nācāite
of wood a puppet You can make dance

203 Rāya said, “You are the Lord: whatever You wish to do, You can make even a wooden puppet dance.

*In Rāya's words and in Śrī Rūpa's writings one and the same rasa of prema-bhakti is proclaimed —*

মোর মুখে যে সব রস করিলা প্রচারণে । সেই রস দেখি এই ইঁহার লিখনে ॥ ২০৪ ॥

mora mukhe ye saba rasa karilā pracāraṇe
my through the mouth which all rasas You made proclaiming sei rasa dekhi ei iṁhāra likhane
those rasas I see these his in the writings

204 All the rasas You proclaimed through my mouth I now see in his writings.

*The Lord proclaims the glory of the transcendental rasa of Vraja through devotees moved by His will —*

ভক্তে কৃপা-হেতু প্রকাশিতে চাহ ব্রজ-রস । যারে করাও, সেই করিবে জগৎ তোমার বশ” ॥ ২০৫ ॥

bhakte kṛpā-hetu prakāśite cāha vraja-rasa
to the devotees out of mercy to reveal You wish of Vraja the rasa
yāre karāo, sei karibe jagat tomāra vaśa whom You make act he will make the world to You subject

205 Out of mercy for Your devotees You wish to reveal the rasa of Vraja; whoever You empower to do it will bring the whole world under Your sway.”

The Lord embraces Śrī Rūpa; Śrī Rūpa bows at the feet of the devotees —

তবে মহাপ্রভু কৈলা রূপে আলিঙ্গন । তাঁরে করাইলা সবার চরণ বন্দন ॥ ২০৬ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu kailā rūpe āliṅgana
then Mahāprabhu made Rūpa an embrace tāṁre karāilā sabāra caraṇa vandana him made do of all at the feet homage

206 Then Mahāprabhu embraced Rūpa and had him bow at everyone’s feet.

Nityānanda, Advaita, and all the others embrace Śrī Rūpa —

অদ্বৈত-নিত্যানন্দাদি সব ভক্তগণ ।
কৃপা করি’ রূপে সবে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন ॥ ২০৭ ॥

advaita-nityānandādi saba bhakta-gaṇa Advaita Nityānanda and the others all the devotees
kṛpā kari’ rūpe sabe kailā āliṅgana
mercy showing Rūpa all made embrace

207 Advaita, Nityānanda, and all the other devotees mercifully embraced Rūpa.

All are amazed at the Lord's mercy on Śrī Rūpa and at Śrī Rūpa's qualities that attract Kṛṣṇa —

প্রভু-কৃপা রূপে, আর রূপের সদ্‌গুণ । দেখি' চমৎকার হৈল সবাকার মন ॥ ২০৮ ॥

prabhu-kṛpā rūpe, āra rūpera sad-guṇa
the Lord's mercy to Rūpa and Rūpa's good qualities dekhi' camatkāra haila sabākāra mana seeing amazed became of everyone the mind

208 Seeing the Lord's mercy to Rūpa and Rūpa's good qualities, everyone was amazed.

Ṭhākura Haridāsa embraces Śrī Rūpa —

তবে মহাপ্রভু সব ভক্ত লঞা গেলা । হরিদাস-ঠাকুর রূপে আলিঙ্গন কৈলা ॥ ২০৯ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu saba bhakta lañā gelā then Mahāprabhu all the devotees taking went haridāsa-ṭhākura rūpe āliṅgana kailā Haridāsa Ṭhākura Rūpa embrace made

209 Then Mahāprabhu left with all the devotees, and Haridāsa Ṭhākura embraced Rūpa.

Haridāsa praises Śrī Rūpa's good fortune —

হরিদাস কহে, — "তোমার ভাগ্যের নাহি সীমা । যে সব বর্ণিলা, ইহার কে জানে মহিমা ?" ॥ ২১০ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — tomāra bhāgyera nāhi sīmā Haridāsa says your of fortune is not limit ye saba varṇilā, ihāra ke jāne mahimā?
what all you have described of this who knows the greatness

210 Haridāsa said, "There is no limit to your good fortune. Who can know the greatness of all that you have described?"

Śrī Rūpa expresses his humility and regards himself as an instrument in the hands of the Lord, who moves him —

শ্রীরূপ কহেন, — "আমি কিছুই না জানি । যেই মহাপ্রভু কহান, সেই কহি বাণী" ॥ ২১১ ॥

śrī rūpa kahena, — āmi kichui nā jāni Śrī Rūpa says I nothing at all not know
yei mahāprabhu kahāna, sei kahi vāṇī
whatever Mahāprabhu makes speak those I speak words

211 Śrī Rūpa said, "I know nothing at all. I speak only the words that Mahāprabhu makes me speak."

*(Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, Pūrva-vibhāga, the "Sāmānya-bhakti-laharī," verse 2)*

হৃদি যস্য প্রেরণয়া প্রবর্ত্তিতোঽহং বরাকরূপোঽপি । তস্য হরেঃ পদকমলং বন্দে চৈতন্যদেবস্য ॥ ২১২ ॥

hṛdi yasya preraṇayā pravartito 'haṁ varāka-rūpo 'pi
in the heart whose by the prompting set to work I wretched by nature though tasya hareḥ pada-kamalaṁ vande caitanya-devasya
of that Hari the lotus feet I worship of Caitanya-deva

212 "Though I am wretched, I have been set to this work by His prompting within my heart. I worship the lotus feet of that Hari, Śrī Caitanya-deva." (Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, 1.1.2)[29]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 19.134.

Śrī Rūpa and Haridāsa converse about Kṛṣṇa —

এইমত দুইজন কৃষ্ণকথা-রঙ্গে । সুখে কাল গোঙায় রূপ হরিদাস-সঙ্গে ॥ ২১৩ ॥

ei-mata dui-jana kṛṣṇa-kathā-raṅge
in this way the two of talks about Kṛṣṇa in the delight
sukhe kāla goṅāya rūpa haridāsa-saṅge
happily time passes Rūpa with Haridāsa in company

213 In this way the two of them delighted in talks about Kṛṣṇa, and Rūpa happily passed his time in Haridāsa's company.

*At the end of the cāturmāsya the devotees who came from Gauḍa return to Gauḍa —*

চারি মাস রহি' সব প্রভুর ভক্তগণ । গোসাঞি বিদায় দিলা, গৌড়ে করিলা গমন ॥ ২১৪ ॥

cāri māsa rahi' saba prabhura bhakta-gaṇa
four months staying all the Lord's devotees gosāñi vidāya dilā, gauḍe karilā gamana
the Lord leave gave to Gauḍa made departure

214 When all the Lord's devotees had stayed for four months, the Lord bade them farewell, and they returned to Gauḍa.

Śrī Rūpa stays at the Lord's feet until the Dola-yātrā —

শ্রীরূপ প্রভুপদে নীলাদ্রি রহিলা । দোলযাত্রা প্রভুসঙ্গে আনন্দে দেখিলা ॥ ২১৫ ॥

śrī rūpa prabhu-pade nīlādri rahilā Śrī Rūpa at the Lord's feet in Nīlādri stayed dola-yātrā prabhu-saṅge ānande dekhilā
the Dola-yātrā with the Lord together joyfully saw 215 Śrī Rūpa stayed at the Lord's feet in Nīlādri and joyfully watched the Dola-yātrā with Him.

The Lord empowers Śrī Rūpa —

দোলযাত্রা হৈলে প্রভু রূপে আজ্ঞা দিলা । অনেক প্রসাদ করি' শক্তি সঞ্চারিলা ॥ ২১৬ ॥

dola-yātrā haile prabhu rūpe ājñā dilā
the Dola-yātrā when over the Lord to Rūpa order gave aneka prasāda kari' śakti sañcārilā much grace showing power infused

216 When the Dola-yātrā was over, the Lord gave Rūpa His order; bestowing much grace on him, He infused him with power.

The order to go to Vṛndāvana and send Sanātana to Purī —

"বৃন্দাবনে যাহ' তুমি, রহিহ বৃন্দাবনে । একবার ইঁহা পাঠাইহ সনাতনে ॥ ২১৭ ॥

vṛndāvane yāha' tumi, rahiha vṛndāvane to Vṛndāvana go you stay in Vṛndāvana ekabāra iṁhā pāṭhāiha sanātane
once here send Sanātana

217 "Go to Vṛndāvana and stay there. Send Sanātana here once.

*In Vṛndāvana [the Lord] entrusts [Śrī Rūpa] with four kinds of service: (1) composing scriptures on bhakti-rasa, (2) restoring lost holy places, (3) establishing the service of the Deities and in temples, and (4) proclaiming the transcendental bhakti-rasa —*

ব্রজে যাই' রসশাস্ত্র করিহ নিরূপণ । লুপ্ত-তীর্থ সব তাঁহা করিহ প্রচারণ ॥ ২১৮ ॥

vraje yāi' rasa-śāstra kariha nirūpaṇa
to Vraja going of rasa the scriptures make exposition lupta-tīrtha saba tāṁhā kariha pracāraṇa
lost holy places all there make known

218 Go to Vraja and set forth the scriptures of rasa, and there make known all the lost holy places.

কৃষ্ণসেবা, রসভক্তি করিহ প্রচার । আমিহ দেখিতে তাঁহা যাইমু একবার ॥ ২১৯ ॥

kṛṣṇa-sevā, rasa-bhakti kariha pracāra Kṛṣṇa's service of rasa devotion make preaching
āmiha dekhite tāṁhā yāimu ekabāra
I too to see there shall go once

219 Spread the service of Kṛṣṇa and devotion in rasa. I too shall go there one day to see it."

Anubhāṣya.
That Mahāprabhu went to Vṛndāvana again is not heard of.

The Lord embraces [Śrī Rūpa]; Śrī Rūpa bows down [to Him] —

এত বলি' প্রভু তাঁরে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন । রূপ-গোসাঞি শিরে ধরে প্রভুর চরণ ॥ ২২০ ॥

eta bali' prabhu tāṁre kailā āliṅgana
this saying the Lord him made an embrace rūpa gosāñi śire dhare prabhura caraṇa
Rūpa Gosāñi on his head places the Lord's feet

220 Saying this, the Lord embraced him, and Rūpa Gosāñi placed the Lord's feet on his head.

Taking leave of the devotees, Śrī Rūpa comes to Vraja by way of Gauḍa —

প্রভুর ভক্তগণ-পাশে বিদায় লইয়া । পুনরপি গৌড়-পথে বৃন্দাবনে আইলা ॥ ২২১ ॥

prabhura bhakta-gaṇa-pāśe vidāya laiyā
the Lord's from the devotees leave taking punarapi gauḍa-pathe vṛndāvane āilā again by the Gauḍa road to Vṛndāvana came 221 Taking leave of the Lord's devotees, he went back to Vṛndāvana by the road through Gauḍa.

*Hearing the account of the meeting of the Lord and Rūpa, the jīva devoid of consciousness (acaitanya) attains the feet of Caitanya —*

এই ত' কহিলাঙ পুনঃ রূপের মিলন ।
ইহা যেই শুনে, পায় চৈতন্যচরণ ॥ ২২২ ॥

ei ta' kahilāṅa punaḥ rūpera milana
thus indeed I have told again Rūpa's meeting
ihā yei śune, pāya caitanya-caraṇa
this whoever hears attains Caitanya's feet

222 Thus I have told of Rūpa's second meeting with the Lord. Whoever hears this attains the feet of Caitanya.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the first chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ২২৩ ॥

śrī rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

223 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. The same verse as Ādi 1.36; translation as there. The edition (p. 850) prints dāsa raghunātha without a hyphen. ↩
2. The same verse as Ādi 1.15 and Madhya 1.3; translation as there. ↩
3. The same verse as Ādi 1.16 and Madhya 1.4, except the third line: here śrīmad-rādhā ("the beautiful Rādhā", that is, Śrīmatī Rādhā), there śrī śrī rādhā; translation as there, with this difference. ↩
4. The same verse as Ādi 1.17 and Madhya 1.5; translation as there. ↩
5. The same verse as Ādi 1.18; translation as there. ↩
6. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 850) reads śivānanda ghāṭite rahilā, "Śivānanda stayed at the tollgate"; the earlier text had śivānande … rākhilā, "they detained Śivānanda". ↩
7. The second line is the same as Madhya 7.80; translated as there. ↩
8. The same verse as Madhya 1.58; translation as there. Reference as in the edition heading (p. 853): Kāvya-prakāśa 1.4, Sāhitya-darpaṇa 1.10, Padyāvalī 382; in Madhya 1.58 — 386, after the numbering of other editions. ↩
9. The same verse as Madhya 1.76; translation as there. Here the edition (p. 854) prints saṅgama-sukham correctly. Reference as in the edition heading: Padyāvalī 383, a verse composed by Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī; in Madhya 1.76 — 387, after the numbering of other editions. ↩
10. Source as in the edition heading (p. 854): nyāya-vacana, a maxim of logic. ↩
11. The speakers as in the edition heading (p. 855): Vidagdha-mādhava, act 1, verse 15, the words of Paurṇamāsī to Nāndī(mukhī). ↩

12. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads mādhurī (“sweetness”) in the second line; some texts repeat mahimā (“glory”). ↩
13. Reference as in the edition heading (p. 855): Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, Dakṣiṇa-vibhāga, Vibhāva-laharī, 138. ↩
14. Piṇḍā — a raised platform or veranda; in 111 Rūpa and Haridāsa sit below it (piṇḍā-tale). ↩
15. The same verse as 79 of this chapter (= Madhya 1.76); translation as there. Reference as in the edition heading (p. 856): Padyāvalī 383, a verse composed by Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī; elsewhere numbered 387. ↩
16. The same verse as 99 of this chapter; translation as there. The edition heading here gives only the reference (Vidagdha-mādhava, act 1, verse 15); the speakers are named in the heading to 99. ↩
17. Śikhariṇī (rasālā) is a sweet drink of curd with sugar, spices, and camphor. ↩
18. The same verse as Ādi 1.4 (= Ādi 3.4); translation as there. ↩
19. The verse has a second sense: on the full-moon night (paurṇamāsī) the night unites the moon, its lord, with the star Rādhā (Viśākhā). The principal sense refers to Bhagavatī Paurṇamāsī, who unites Śrī Kṛṣṇa with Rādhikā (Anubhāṣya, Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya). Before the verse the edition prints, in verse type, tasyodāharaṇaṁ yathā (“Its example:”) — a linking phrase that is not part of the verse. ↩
20. The speaker as in the edition heading (p. 860): Vidagdha-mādhava, act 2, verse 8, the words of Śrī Rādhā to Lalitā and Viśākhā. ↩
21. The verse is in Prakrit (in Sanskrit, dhṛtvā praticchanda-guṇaṁ sundara mama mandire tvaṁ vasasi…). Mandira here means “house”: in this love letter Rādhā says that Kṛṣṇa, in the form of a painted picture, lives in Her house (Anubhāṣya, Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya). ↩
22. The same verse as Madhya 2.52; translation as there. ↩
23. The speaker as in the edition heading (p. 862): “An example of Śrī Kṛṣṇa’s remorse after He had tested Her love (rāga).” ↩
24. Neither the verse nor the edition heading names the speaker; the Anubhāṣya names the one addressed, Śrīdāmā. The edition heading gives 158–159 as Vidagdha-mādhava, act 1, verses 23–24. ↩
25. In line 4 the edition (p. 866) reads vibhrad-bhrū-bhramaram, “bearing bee-like brows” (so also the Anubhāṣya); other editions have riṅgad-bhrū-bhramaram, “with brows moving like bees”. ↩
26. So in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition: kṛṣṇa-rasa-vākya, “words about the rasa of Kṛṣṇa”; other editions read kṛṣṇa-rasa-kāvya, “poetry”. ↩
27. Reference as in the edition heading (p. 870): Lalita-mādhava, act 2, verse 10; the edition gives the same number over 191, so one of the two references is probably inexact; other editions have 2.11 here. ↩
28. Source as in the edition heading (p. 871): prācīna-kṛta śloka, a verse composed by an ancient author. ↩
29. The same verse as Madhya 19.134; translation as there. Reference as in the edition heading (p. 872): Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, Pūrva-vibhāga, Sāmānya-bhakti-laharī, verse 2. ↩
30. So in the edition (prabhu, “the Lord”); in verse 140 it is Rāmānanda Rāya who asks. ↩
31. In the head word of the gloss the edition reads “…viṣaya-saṁsāra…” (as does the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya: “worldly existence”), while the verse and the explanation have viṣamā (harsh); translated according to the verse (checked against the scan). ↩
32. So in the edition (checked against the scan). Verse 17 concerns Śivānanda's dog; the āmukha and prastāvanā are explained in the Anubhāṣya on Antya 1.71 — the digits are probably transposed. ↩
33. The words “An example of this” (tasyodāharaṇaṁ yathā) are printed in the edition in the bold type of the verses, between verses 135 and 136; they are absent from the verse translation. ↩
34. Bakī is Pūtanā, the sister of the demon Baka. ↩
35. The edition's gloss has a negative (tulanāṁ na arhati); the verse reads tulanām arhati (“with what can it be compared?”). The sense is the same: there is nothing to compare it with. ↩
36. So in the edition (checked against the scan): both verse 190 and verse 191 are marked “Act 2, verse 10.” ↩

The Lesson Taught by the Punishment of Śrī Haridāsa

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. In telling where Mahāprabhu gave direct darśana (sākṣāt-darśana), where He entered someone (āveśa) and where He appeared (āvirbhāva), the author writes of Nakula Brahmacārī, of Nṛsiṁhānanda's glory and of other devotees. Bhagavān Ācārya was devoted to the Lord, yet Svarūpa Dāmodara forbade him to hear the Māyāvāda commentary from the mouth of his brother, Gopāla Bhaṭṭācārya. After this, on Bhagavān Ācārya's instruction, Choṭa Haridāsa begged rice from Mādhavī-devī. A renunciant (vairāgī) had spoken with a woman, and for this fault the Lord rejected him, forbidding him to enter His door. The Vaiṣṇavas pleaded for him, but the Lord would not accept him again. A year later Choṭa Haridāsa submerged himself in the Triveṇī at Prayāga and gave up his body; then, in a transcendental (aprākṛta) body, he sang for Mahāprabhu. Gauḍīya Vaiṣṇavas came and told this news, and Svarūpa and all the others learned what had happened.

Obeisance to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Mahāprabhu, who displays His pastimes in six forms together with His entourage, and to Śrī Rādhā-Kṛṣṇa, surrounded by Their dearest friends, who are absorbed in service —

বন্দেঽহং শ্রীগুরোঃ শ্রীযুতপদকমলং শ্রীগুরূন্ বৈষ্ণবাংশ্চ
শ্রীরূপং সাগ্রজাতং সহগণরঘুনাথান্বিতং তং সজীবম্ ।
সাদ্বৈতং সাবধূতং পরিজনসহিতং কৃষ্ণচৈতন্যদেবং
শ্রীরাধাকৃষ্ণপাদান্ সহগণললিতা-শ্রীবিশাখান্বিতাংশ্চ ॥ ১ ॥

vande ’haṁ śrī-guroḥ śrī-yuta-pada-kamalaṁ śrī-gurūn vaiṣṇavāṁś ca
I bow down of my śrī guru the beautiful lotus feet to the śrī gurus to the Vaiṣṇavas and śrī-rūpaṁ sāgrajātaṁ saha-gaṇa-raghunāthānvitaṁ taṁ sa-jīvam to Śrī Rūpa with his elder brother with Raghunātha and his companions to him with Jīva sādvaitaṁ sāvadhūtaṁ parijana-sahitaṁ kṛṣṇa-caitanya-devaṁ with Advaita with the Avadhūta with His associates together to Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva śrī-rādhā-kṛṣṇa-pādān saha-gaṇa-lalitā-śrī-viśākhānvitāṁś ca of Śrī Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa to the feet with Their companions with Lalitā and Śrī Viśākhā and

1 I bow down to the beautiful lotus feet of my guru, to all the gurus and to the Vaiṣṇavas. I bow down to Śrī Rūpa, together with his elder brother, Sanātana, with his companions and Raghunātha, and with Jīva; to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva, together with Advaita, with the Avadhūta, Nityānanda, and with all His associates; and to the feet of Śrī Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa, together with Lalitā and Śrī Viśākhā and their companions.[1]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I worship the lotus feet of Śrī Guru, and all the gurus, all the Vaiṣṇavas, Rūpa Gosvāmī, Sanātana Gosvāmī, Raghunātha with his companions, and Jīva, Advaita Prabhu, Nityānanda Prabhu, Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva with His associates, and Śrī Rādhā-Kṛṣṇa together with Lalitā, Viśākhā and the other [sakhīs] and their companions.

Anubhāṣya.
aham (I) śrī-guroḥ (of the guru who gave mantra initiation, or of the guru who teaches bhajana) śrī-yuta-pada-kamalaṁ (the beautiful lotus feet) śrī-gurūn (the gurus — the parama-guru, the parātpara-guru and the others, the whole line of gurus headed by Śrīmad Ānandatīrtha and Śrīman Mādhavendra Purī) vaiṣṇavān (the bhāgavatas who have appeared in all four yugas) ca; sāgrajātaṁ (present together with his elder brother, Śrīmat Sanātana Gosvāmī) saha-gaṇa-raghunāthānvitaṁ (together with his own devotees and with Śrī Raghunātha dāsa Gosvāmī, a follower of Rūpa) sa-jīvaṁ

(present together with Śrī Jīva Gosvāmī, his follower, on whom he bestowed his favor) taṁ śrī-rūpaṁ (that Śrī Rūpa); sādvaitaṁ (together with Advaita Prabhu) sāvadhūtaṁ (together with Nityānanda Prabhu) parijana-sahitaṁ (with His entourage of associates) kṛṣṇa-caitanya-devaṁ (Mahāprabhu); saha-gaṇa-lalitā-śrī-viśākhānvitān (accompanied by Lalitā and Viśākhā, who are surrounded by their companions, the sakhīs and mañjarīs) śrī-rādhā-kṛṣṇa-pādān ca vande (I worship).

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaitacandra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory of Gaura the devotees to the multitude

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura!

*The three ways in which the Lord delivers the jīvas —*

সর্ব্ব-লোক উদ্ধারিতে গৌর-অবতার । নিস্তারের হেতু তার ত্রিবিধ প্রকার ॥ ৩ ॥

sarva-loka uddhārite gaura-avatāra
all the worlds to deliver Gaura's descent
nistārera hetu tāra trividha prakāra
of deliverance the means His three kinds

3 Gaura descended to deliver all the worlds, and the means by which He delivered them were of three kinds.

*(1) Direct darśana, (2) entering (āveśa) a worthy jīva, (3) appearing (āvirbhāva)*

সাক্ষাৎ-দর্শন, আর যোগ্যভক্ত-জীবে ।
'আবেশ' করয়ে কাঁহা, কাঁহা 'আবির্ভাবে' ॥ ৪ ॥

sākṣāt-darśana, āra yogya-bhakta-jīve
direct sight and in a worthy devotee-soul
'āveśa' karaye kāṁhā, kāṁhā 'āvirbhāve'
'entering' He makes somewhere somewhere by 'appearing'

4 To some He granted the sight of Himself in person; in some places He entered a worthy devotee ('āveśa'), and in others He appeared ('āvirbhāva').[2]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The Lord delivers the jīvas in three ways: to some He gives direct darśana, into some worthy devotee He enters (āviṣṭa), and to some devotee He appears (āvirbhūta).

A description of the three kinds of manifestation —

সাক্ষাৎ দর্শনে প্রায় সব নিস্তারিলা । নকুল-ব্রহ্মচারীর দেহে 'আবিষ্ট' হইলা ॥ ৫ ॥

sākṣāt darśane prāya saba nistārilā
by direct sight almost all He delivered nakula-brahmacārīra dehe 'āviṣṭa' hailā of Nakula Brahmacārī in the body 'entered' He

5 By being seen in person He delivered almost everyone; and He 'entered' the body of Nakula Brahmacārī.

The nature of the Supreme Lord —

প্রদ্যুম্ন-নৃসিংহানন্দ আগে কৈলা ‘আবির্ভাব’ । ‘লোক নিস্তারিব’, — এই ঈশ্বর-স্বভাব ॥ ৬ ॥

pradyumna-nṛsiṁhānanda āge kailā ‘āvirbhāva’
of Pradyumna Nṛsiṁhānanda before He made ‘appearance’ ‘loka nistāriba’, — ei īśvara-svabhāva
‘the people I shall deliver’ — this of the Lord the nature

6 Before Pradyumna Nṛsiṁhānanda He appeared (‘āvirbhāva’). “I shall deliver the people” — such is the Lord’s nature.

Anubhāṣya.
Mahāprabhu delivered people by giving “direct” darśana, by “entering” (āviṣṭa) the body of Nakula Brahmacārī, and by “appearing” (āvirbhūta) before Pradyumna, or Nṛsiṁhānanda Brahmacārī. In four places Mahāprabhu constantly displayed His “appearance” (āvirbhāva): (1) in Śrī Śacī's household temple, (2) where Śrī Nityānanda danced, (3) at the kīrtana in Śrīvāsa's courtyard, and (4) in Śrī Rāghava's house. (See verse 34.)

*The fruits of the three kinds of manifestation; the fruit of the Lord's direct darśana —*

সাক্ষাৎ-দর্শনে সব জগৎ তারিলা । একবার যে দেখিলা, সে কৃতার্থ হইলা ॥ ৭ ॥

sākṣāt-darśane saba jagat tārilā
by direct sight the whole world He delivered eka-bāra ye dekhilā, se kṛtārtha hailā once who saw he fulfilled became

7 By being seen in person He delivered the whole world: whoever saw Him even once attained the goal of life.

গৌড়-দেশের ভক্তগণ প্রত্যব্দ আসিয়া । পুনঃ গৌড়দেশে যায় প্রভুরে মিলিয়া ॥ ৮ ॥

gauḍa-deśera bhakta-gaṇa pratyabda āsiyā of Gauḍa the devotees every year coming punaḥ gauḍa-deśe yāya prabhure miliyā
again to Gauḍa go with the Lord having met

8 Every year the devotees of Gauḍa would come, meet the Lord and go back again to Gauḍa.

আর নানা-দেশের লোক আসি’ জগন্নাথ । চৈতন্য-চরণ দেখি’ হইল কৃতার্থ ॥ ৯ ॥

āra nānā-deśera loka āsi’ jagannātha
and of many lands the people coming to Jagannātha
caitanya-caraṇa dekhi’ haila kṛtārtha
Caitanya’s feet seeing became fulfilled

9 And people from many lands came to Jagannātha; seeing Caitanya’s feet, they attained the goal of life.

সপ্তদ্বীপের লোক আর নবখণ্ডবাসী । দেব, গন্ধর্ব্ব, কিন্নর মনুষ্য-বেশে আসি’ ॥ ১০ ॥

sapta-dvīpera loka āra nava-khaṇḍa-vāsī
of the seven dvīpas the people and of the nine khaṇḍas the dwellers deva, gandharva, kinnara manuṣya-veśe āsi' devas gandharvas kinnaras in human guise coming

10 People came from the seven island-continents (dvīpas) and the nine regions of Bhārata-varṣa, and devas, gandharvas and kinnaras came too, in human guise.

Anubhāṣya.

Sapta-dvīpa (the seven dvīpas): see the Anubhāṣya on Madhya 20.218 and Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, Canto 5, Chapters 16 and 20.

Nava-khaṇḍa (the nine khaṇḍas). The Siddhānta-śiromaṇi, in the Golādhyāya, in the section Bhuvana-kośa, says: "In Bhārata-varṣa [there are nine khaṇḍas]: Aindra, Kaśeru, Tāmraparṇa, then Gabhastimat, next the one called Kumārikā, Nāga, Saumya, Vāruṇa, and the last khaṇḍa, named Gāndharva." These are (1) Aindra, (2) Kaśeru, (3) Tāmraparṇa, (4) Gabhastimat, (5) Kumārikā, (6) Nāga, (7) Saumya, (8) Vāruṇa and (9) Gāndharva.

প্রভুরে দেখিয়া যায় 'বৈষ্ণব' হঞা। কৃষ্ণ বলি' নাচে সব প্রেমাবিষ্ট হঞা ॥ ১১ ॥

prabhure dekhiyā yāya 'vaiṣṇava' hañā
the Lord seeing they go Vaiṣṇavas becoming kṛṣṇa bali' nāce saba premāviṣṭa hañā
'Kṛṣṇa' saying dance all by prema overwhelmed

11 Seeing the Lord, they went away as Vaiṣṇavas; crying "Kṛṣṇa!", they all danced, overwhelmed by prema.

Why the Lord enters His devotees, and the particulars of place, time and the person He enters —

এইমত দর্শনে ত্রিজগৎ নিস্তারি'। যে কেহ আসিতে নারে অনেক সংসারী ॥ ১২ ॥

ei-mata darśane trijagat nistāri'
in this way by sight the three worlds delivering ye keha āsite nāre aneka saṁsārī
those who any to come could not many worldly people

12 In this way, by being seen, He delivered the three worlds. But there were many worldly people who could not come.

তা-সবা তারিতে প্রভু সেই সব দেশে। যোগ্যভক্ত-জীবদেহে করেন 'আবেশে' ॥ ১৩ ॥

tā-sabā tārite prabhu sei saba deśe
them all to deliver the Lord in those all lands
yogya-bhakta-jīvadehe karena 'āveśe'
in the bodies of worthy devotee-souls makes 'entering'

13 To deliver them, in all those lands the Lord entered the bodies of worthy devotees.

The fruit of His entering —

সেই জীবে নিজ-শক্তি করেন প্রকাশে। তাহার দর্শনে 'বৈষ্ণব' হয় সর্ব্বদেশে ॥ ১৪ ॥

sei jīve nija-śakti karena prakāśe
in that soul His own power makes manifest tāhāra darśane 'vaiṣṇava' haya sarva-deśe
his by the sight Vaiṣṇavas become in all lands

14 In that soul He would manifest His own power, and by seeing him people in every land became Vaiṣṇavas.[3]

এইমত আবেশে তারিল ত্রিভুবন । গৌড়ে যৈছে আবেশ, করি দিগ্‌দরশন ॥ ১৫ ॥

ei-mata āveśe tārila tribhuvana
in this way by entering He delivered the three worlds
gauḍe yaiche āveśa, kari dig-daraśana
in Gauḍa how the entering I make a brief indication

15 Thus, by His āveśa, He delivered the three worlds. I shall show in brief, as an example, how His āveśa took place in Gauḍa.

An example of "entering": the Lord "enters" Nakula Brahmacārī; Nakula's condition —

আম্বুয়া-মুলুকে হয় নকুল-ব্রহ্মচারী । পরম-বৈষ্ণব তেঁহো বড় অধিকারী ॥ ১৬ ॥

āmbuyā-muluke haya nakula-brahmacārī
in the Āmbuyā district there is Nakula Brahmacārī parama-vaiṣṇava teṁho baḍa adhikārī
a supreme Vaiṣṇava he great in standing

16 In the district of Āmbuyā lived Nakula Brahmacārī, a supreme Vaiṣṇava of very high standing.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Āmbuyā-muluk. In those days the land was divided into districts (muluks), and in various places the Yavana rulers had revenue offices (tahśil-kāchāri). There was one such muluk at a place called Ambikā (a village adjoining the town of Kālnā in Barddhamāna district). Within its bounds, at the place now known as Piyārīgañja, lived Nakula Brahmacārī.

গৌড়দেশের লোক নিস্তারিতে মন হৈল । নকুল-হৃদয়ে প্রভু 'আবেশ' করিল ॥ ১৭ ॥

gauḍa-deśera loka nistārite mana haila
of Gauḍa the people to deliver the wish arose
nakula-hṛdaye prabhu 'āveśa' karila
in Nakula's heart the Lord 'entering' made

17 Wishing to deliver the people of Gauḍa, the Lord entered Nakula's heart.

গ্রহগ্রস্তপ্রায় নকুল প্রেমাবিষ্ট হঞা । হাসে, কান্দে, নাচে, গায় উন্মত্ত হঞা ॥ ১৮ ॥

graha-grasta-prāya nakula premāviṣṭa hañā
as if possessed by a spirit Nakula by prema overwhelmed being hāse, kānde, nāce, gāya unmatta hañā laughs weeps dances sings mad being

18 Overwhelmed by prema, Nakula became as if possessed by a spirit: like a madman he laughed, wept, danced and sang.

অশ্রু, কম্প, স্তম্ভ, স্বেদ, সাত্ত্বিক বিকার । নিরন্তর প্রেমে নৃত্য, সঘন হুঙ্কার ॥ ১৯ ॥

aśru, kampa, stambha, sveda, sāttvika vikāra
tears trembling stupor perspiration the sāttvika transformations nirantara preme nṛtya, saghana huṅkāra constant in prema dancing frequent roars

19 Tears, trembling, stupor and perspiration — the sāttvika transformations — appeared in him; in prema he danced constantly and roared again and again.

তৈছে গৌরকান্তি, তৈছে সদা প্রেমাবেশ । তাহা দেখিবারে আইসে সর্ব্ব গৌড়দেশ ॥ ২০ ॥

taiche gaura-kānti, taiche sadā premāveśa
the same golden lustre the same always absorption in prema tāhā dekhibāre āise sarva gauḍa-deśa
that to see comes all Gauḍa

20 He had the same golden lustre as the Lord and the same constant absorption in prema, and all Gauḍa came to see it.

Anubhāṣya.
Sarva-gauḍa-deśa — all the people of Gauḍa (the Gauḍīyas).

The Brahmacārī's instruction —

যারে দেখে, তারে কহে, — কহ কৃষ্ণনাম । তাঁহার দর্শনে লোক হয় প্রেমোদ্দাম ॥ ২১ ॥

yāre dekhe, tāre kahe, — kaha kṛṣṇa-nāma whom he sees to him says say Kṛṣṇa's name tāṁhāra darśane loka haya premoddāma
his by the sight the people become wild with prema

21 Whomever he met he would tell, "Chant the name of Kṛṣṇa!" — and at the sight of him people became wild with prema.[4]

Anubhāṣya.
Premoddāma — intoxicated with prema.

চৈতন্যের আবেশ হয় নকুলের দেহে । শুনি' শিবানন্দ আইলা করিয়া সন্দেহে ॥ ২২ ॥

caitanyera āveśa haya nakulera dehe
of Caitanya the entering is in Nakula's body
śuni' śivānanda āilā kariyā sandehe hearing Śivānanda came having doubt

22 Hearing that Caitanya had entered Nakula's body, Śivānanda came, doubting it.

Śivānanda's doubt and his wish to test the Brahmacārī —

পরীক্ষা করিতে তাঁর যবে ইচ্ছা হৈল । বাহিরে রহিয়া তবে বিচার করিল ॥ ২৩ ॥

parīkṣā karite tāṁra yabe icchā haila
a test to make his when the wish arose bāhire rahiyā tabe vicāra karila outside staying then reflection he made

23 Wishing to test him, he stayed outside and reflected:

Śivānanda's reasoning; he stays at a distance —

আপনে বোলান মোরে, ইহা যদি জানি ।
আমার ইষ্ট-মন্ত্র জানি' কহেন আপনি ॥ ২৪ ॥

তবে জানি, ইঁহাতে হয় চৈতন্য-আবেশে । এত চিন্তি' শিবানন্দ রহিলা দূরদেশে ॥ ২৫ ॥

āpane bolāna more, ihā yadi jāni himself he calls me this if I know
āmāra iṣṭa-mantra jāni' kahena āpani
my iṣṭa-mantra knowing he tells himself
tabe jāni, iṁhāte haya caitanya-āveśe
then I know in him is Caitanya's entering eta cinti' śivānanda rahilā dūra-deśe
so thinking Śivānanda stayed at a distance

24–25 "If he calls me of his own accord, and if, knowing my iṣṭa-mantra, he tells it to me himself, then I shall know that Caitanya has entered him." Thinking thus, Śivānanda stayed at a distance.

অসংখ্য লোকের ঘটা, — কেহ আইসে যায় । লোকের সংঘট্টে কেহ দর্শন না পায় ॥ ২৬ ॥

asaṅkhya lokera ghaṭā, — keha āise yāya countless of people the throng — some come go lokera saṅghaṭṭe keha darśana nā pāya of people in the press some sight not get

26 There was a vast throng of people, some coming, some going; in the press of the crowd some could not even see him.

The Brahmacārī sends people to bring Śivānanda —

ব্রহ্মচারী কহে, — শিবানন্দ আছে দূরে । জন দুই চারি যাহ, বোলাহ তাহারে ॥ ২৭ ॥

brahmacārī kahe, — śivānanda āche dūre
the brahmacārī says — Śivānanda is far off jana dui cāri yāha, bolāha tāhāre
people two four go call him

27 The brahmacārī said, "Śivānanda is standing far off. A few of you go and call him."

চারিদিকে ধায় লোকে 'শিবানন্দ' বলি ।
'শিবানন্দ' কোন্, তোমায় বোলায় ব্রহ্মচারী ॥ ২৮ ॥

cāri-dike dhāya loke ‘śivānanda’ bali
in four directions run the people ‘Śivānanda’ crying ‘śivānanda’ kon, tomāya bolāya brahmacārī
‘Śivānanda’ who is you calls the brahmacārī

28 The people ran in every direction, crying, “Śivānanda! Who is Śivānanda? The brahmacārī is calling you!”

Śivānanda comes quickly —

শুনি’ শিবানন্দ সেন তাঁহা শীঘ্র আইল । নমস্কার করি’ তাঁর নিকটে বসিল ॥ ২৯ ॥

śuni’ śivānanda sena tāṁhā śīghra āila hearing Śivānanda Sena there quickly came namaskāra kari’ tāṁra nikaṭe vasila
obeisance having made him near sat

29 Hearing this, Śivānanda Sena quickly came there, offered his obeisances and sat down near him.

Śivānanda's doubt is dispelled —

ব্রহ্মচারী বলে, — তুমি করিলা সংশয় । এক-মনা হঞা তাহা শুনহ নিশ্চয় ॥ ৩০ ॥

brahmacārī bale, — tumi karilā saṁśaya
the brahmacārī says — you made doubt eka-manā hañā tāhā śunaha niścaya
with one mind being that hear with certainty

30 The brahmacārī said, “You have doubted. Now listen with undivided attention, and be certain of this.

‘গৌরগোপাল-মন্ত্র’ তোমার চারি-অক্ষর ।
অবিশ্বাস ছাড়, যেই কৈরাছ অন্তর ॥ ৩১ ॥

‘gaura-gopāla-mantra’ tomāra cāri-akṣara
the ‘Gaura-Gopāla mantra’ your of four syllables
aviśvāsa chāḍa, yei kairācha antara disbelief give up which you have made within

31 Your mantra is the ‘Gaura-Gopāla mantra’ of four syllables. Give up the disbelief you have kept in your heart.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Gaura-Gopāla-mantra. Those devoted to Gaura (gaura-vādīs) take this word to mean the four-syllable mantra of Gaura, “Gaurāṅga.” Those who hold to Kṛṣṇa alone (kevala-kṛṣṇa-vādīs) take the word “Gaura-Gopāla-mantra” to mean the four-syllable mantra of Rādhā-Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
Antara — in the mind.

Śivānanda is convinced —

তবে শিবানন্দের মনে প্রতীতি হইল । অনেক সম্মান করি’ বহু ভক্তি কৈল ॥ ৩২ ॥

tabe śivānandera mane pratīti haila
then in Śivānanda’s mind conviction arose
aneka sammāna kari’ bahu bhakti kaila much respect showing great devotion he showed

32 Then conviction arose in Śivānanda's mind, and he showed him great respect and much devotion.

এইমত মহাপ্রভুর অচিন্ত্য প্রভাব । এবে শুন প্রভুর যৈছে হয় 'আবির্ভাব' ॥ ৩৩ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhura acintya prabhāva
such Mahāprabhu's inconceivable power
ebe śuna prabhura yaiche haya 'āvirbhāva'
now hear the Lord's how takes place 'appearance'

33 Such is the inconceivable power of Mahāprabhu. Now hear how the Lord appears ('āvirbhāva').

The four places where the Lord, drawn by love, displays His "constant" appearance —

শচীর মন্দিরে, আর নিত্যানন্দ-নর্ত্তনে ।
শ্রীবাস-কীর্ত্তনে, আর রাঘব-ভবনে ॥ ৩৪ ॥

এই চারি ঠাঞি প্রভুর সদা 'আবির্ভাব' । প্রেমাকৃষ্ট হয়, — প্রভুর সহজ-স্বভাব ॥ ৩৫ ॥

śacīra mandire, āra nityānanda-nartane
in Śacī's house and at Nityānanda's dancing
śrīvāsa-kīrtane, āra rāghava-bhavane
at Śrīvāsa's kīrtana and in Rāghava's home ei cāri ṭhāñi prabhura sadā 'āvirbhāva'
in these four places the Lord's always 'appearance'
premākṛṣṭa haya, — prabhura sahaja-svabhāva
by prema drawn He is — the Lord's innate nature

34–35 In Śacī's house, at Nityānanda's dancing, at Śrīvāsa's kīrtana and in Rāghava's home — in these four places the Lord always appears. He is drawn by prema: that is the Lord's innate nature.

An example of an "appearance" that happens only now and then: the story of Pradyumna, or Nṛsiṁha Brahmacārī —

নৃসিংহানন্দের আগে আবির্ভূত হঞা । ভোজন করিলা, তাহা শুন মন দিয়া ॥ ৩৬ ॥

nṛsiṁhānandera āge āvirbhūta hañā of Nṛsiṁhānanda before appearing bhojana karilā, tāhā śuna mana diyā
a meal He took that hear attentively

36 Appearing before Nṛsiṁhānanda, He took a meal. Hear of it attentively.

The story of Śrīkānta Sena; he goes alone to Śrī Kṣetra to see the Lord —

শিবানন্দের ভাগিনা শ্রীকান্ত-সেন নাম । প্রভুর কৃপাতে তেঁহো বড় ভাগ্যবান্ ॥ ৩৭ ॥

śivānandera bhāginā śrīkānta-sena nāma
Śivānanda's nephew Śrīkānta Sena by name
prabhura kṛpāte teṁho baḍa bhāgyavān
by the Lord's mercy he very fortunate

37 Śivānanda's nephew was named Śrīkānta Sena; by the Lord's mercy he was most fortunate.

এক বৎসর তেঁহো প্রথম একেশ্বর । প্রভু দেখিবারে আইলা উৎকণ্ঠা-অন্তর ॥ ৩৮ ॥

eka vatsara teṁho prathama ekeśvara
one year he for the first time alone
prabhu dekhibāre āilā utkaṇṭhā-antara
the Lord to see came with longing in his heart

38 One year he came first, all alone, to see the Lord, his heart full of longing.

Anubhāṣya.
Ekeśvara — alone, without servants.

The Lord's mercy to him, and His order —

মহাপ্রভু তারে দেখি' বড় কৃপা কৈলা । মাস-দুই তেঁহো প্রভুর নিকটে রহিলা ॥ ৩৯ ॥

mahāprabhu tāre dekhi' baḍa kṛpā kailā Mahāprabhu him seeing great mercy showed māsa-dui teṁho prabhura nikaṭe rahilā about two months he of the Lord near stayed

39 When Mahāprabhu saw him, He showed him great mercy, and he stayed near the Lord for about two months.

The Lord forbids the Gauḍīya devotees to come to Purī —

তবে প্রভু তাঁরে আজ্ঞা কৈলা গৌড়ে যাইতে । ভক্তগণে নিষেধিলা ইঁহাকে আসিতে ॥ ৪০ ॥

tabe prabhu tāṁre ājñā kailā gauḍe yāite
then the Lord him order gave to Gauḍa to go bhakta-gaṇe niṣedhilā iṁhāke āsite
the devotees He forbade here to come

40 Then the Lord ordered him to go to Gauḍa, and He forbade the devotees to come here:

Anubhāṣya.
Ihāke — here, to Śrī Puruṣottama-kṣetra.

The Lord promises to come to Gauḍa Himself in the month of Pauṣa —

এ-বৎসর তাঁহা আমি যাইমু আপনে । তাঁহাই মিলিমু সব অদ্বৈতাদি সনে ॥ ৪১ ॥

e-vatsara tāṁhā āmi yāimu āpane
this year there I shall go Myself
tāṁhāi milimu saba advaitādi sane
there I shall meet all with Advaita and the others

41 "This year I shall go there Myself, and there I shall meet everyone — Advaita and all the others.

Anubhāṣya.
Tāṅhā — in Gauḍa.

শিবানন্দে কহিহ, — আমি এই পৌষ-মাসে । আচম্বিতে অবশ্য আমি যাইমু তাঁর পাশে ॥ ৪২ ॥

śivānande kahiha, — āmi ei pauṣa-māse
to Śivānanda say — I this in Pauṣa month ācambite avaśya āmi yāimu tāṁra pāśe
unexpectedly certainly I shall come his to the side

42 Tell Śivānanda that this month of Pauṣa I shall certainly come to him unexpectedly.

জগদানন্দ হয় তাঁহা, তেঁহো ভিক্ষা দিবে । সবারে কহিহ, — এ বৎসর কেহ না আসিবে ॥ ৪৩ ॥

jagadānanda haya tāṁhā, teṁho bhikṣā dibe Jagadānanda is there he alms will give sabāre kahiha, — e vatsara keha nā āsibe
to all say — this year anyone not shall come

43 Jagadānanda is there, and he will offer Me bhikṣā. And tell everyone that no one is to come this year."

Śrīkānta comes to Gauḍa and makes known the Lord's order; the devotees joyfully stay in Gauḍa —

শ্রীকান্ত আসিয়া গৌড়ে সন্দেশ কহিল । শুনি' ভক্তগণ-মনে আনন্দ হইল ॥ ৪৪ ॥

śrīkānta āsiyā gauḍe sandeśa kahila Śrīkānta coming to Gauḍa the message told śuni' bhakta-gaṇa-mane ānanda haila hearing in the devotees' minds joy arose

44 Śrīkānta came to Gauḍa and delivered the message, and when the devotees heard it, their hearts were filled with joy.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Sandeśa — news.

Anubhāṣya.
Sandeśa — the news that the Lord would come to Gauḍa in the coming month of Pauṣa.

Śivānanda and Jagadānanda wait for the Lord every day —

চলিতেছিলা আচার্য্য, রহিলা স্থির হঞা । শিবানন্দ, জগদানন্দ রহে প্রত্যাশা করিয়া ॥ ৪৫ ॥

calitechilā ācārya, rahilā sthira hañā had been setting out the Ācārya remained still being śivānanda, jagadānanda rahe pratyāśā kariyā Śivānanda Jagadānanda remain expectation making

45 Advaita Ācārya, who had been setting out, stayed where He was, and Śivānanda and Jagadānanda remained, waiting in expectation.

Anubhāṣya.
Ācārya — Śrī Advaita Prabhu.

পৌষ-মাস আইল, দুঁহে সামগ্রী করিয়া । সন্ধ্যা-পর্য্যন্ত রহে অপেক্ষা করিয়া ॥ ৪৬ ॥

pauṣa-māsa āila, duṁhe sāmagrī kariyā Pauṣa month came the two provisions having made sandhyā-paryanta rahe apekṣā kariyā until evening remain waiting

46 When the month of Pauṣa came, the two of them made all the preparations and waited until evening.

The Lord does not come, and both are saddened —

এইমত মাস গেল, গোসাঞি না আইলা । জগদানন্দ, শিবানন্দ দুঃখিত হইলা ॥ ৪৭ ॥

ei-mata māsa gela, gosāñi nā āilā
so the month passed the Gosāñi not came jagadānanda, śivānanda duḥkhita hailā Jagadānanda Śivānanda sorrowful became 47 In this way the month passed, and the Lord did not come. Jagadānanda and Śivānanda became sorrowful.

Anubhāṣya.
Gosāñi — Mahāprabhu.

Pradyumna Brahmacārī arrives and asks why they are sad —

আচম্বিতে নৃসিংহানন্দ তাঁহাই আইলা । দুঁহে তাঁরে মিলি' তবে স্থানে বসাইলা ॥ ৪৮ ॥

ācambite nṛsiṁhānanda tāṁhāi āilā unexpectedly Nṛsiṁhānanda there came duṁhe tāṁre mili' tabe sthāne vasāilā
the two him meeting then in a place seated

48 Unexpectedly Nṛsiṁhānanda arrived there. The two of them received him and gave him a seat.

দুঁহে দুঃখী দেখি' তাঁরে কহে নৃসিংহানন্দ । তোমা দুঁহাকারে কেনে দেখি নিরানন্দ ? ॥ ৪৯ ॥

duṁhe duḥkhī dekhi' tāṁre kahe nṛsiṁhānanda
the two unhappy seeing to them says Nṛsiṁhānanda
tomā duṁhākāre kene dekhi nirānanda?
you both why I see joyless

49 Seeing them unhappy, Nṛsiṁhānanda asked, "Why do I see you both so joyless?"

Śivānanda tells him everything —

তবে শিবানন্দ তাঁরে সকল কহিলা । আসিব আজ্ঞা দিয়া প্রভু কেনে না আইলা ? ॥ ৫০ ॥

tabe śivānanda tāṁre sakala kahilā
then Śivānanda to him everything told āsiba ājñā diyā prabhu kene nā āilā?
'I shall come' word having given the Lord why not came

50 Then Śivānanda told him everything: "The Lord gave His word that He would come. Why has He not come?"

Pradyumna reassures and comforts them —

শুনি' ব্রহ্মচারী কহে, — করহ সন্তোষে । আমি ত' আনিব তাঁরে তৃতীয় দিবসে ॥ ৫১ ॥

śuni' brahmacārī kahe, — karaha santoṣe hearing the brahmacārī says — be content
āmi ta' āniba tāṁre tṛtīya divase
I indeed shall bring Him on the third day

51 Hearing this, the brahmacārī said, "Be content. I shall bring Him on the third day."

The faith of both, Śivānanda and Jagadānanda —

তাঁহার প্রভাব-প্রেম জানে দুইজনে । আনিবে প্রভুরে এবে নিশ্চয় কৈলা মনে ॥ ৫২ ॥

tāṁhāra prabhāva-prema jāne duijane
his power prema know both of them
ānibe prabhure ebe niścaya kailā mane
he will bring the Lord now certainty they made in mind

52 Both of them knew his power and his prema, and they were certain in their minds that he would now bring the Lord.

Why he received the name "Nṛsiṁhānanda" —

'প্রদ্যুম্ন ব্রহ্মচারী' — তাঁর নিজ-নাম ।
'নৃসিংহানন্দ' নাম তাঁর কৈলা গৌরধাম ॥ ৫৩ ॥

'pradyumna brahmacārī' — tāṁra nija-nāma
'Pradyumna Brahmacārī' — his own name
'nṛsiṁhānanda' nāma tāṁra kailā gaura-dhāma
'Nṛsiṁhānanda' the name his made Gaura-dhāma

53 His own name was Pradyumna Brahmacārī; it was Gaura, the golden Lord, who named him Nṛsiṁhānanda.

*Pradyumna Brahmacārī promises to make the Lord manifest and sets about cooking the bhoga —*

দুইদিন ধ্যান করি' শিবানন্দেরে কহিল । পাণিহাটি-গ্রামে আমি প্রভুরে আনিল ॥ ৫৪ ॥

duidina dhyāna kari' śivānandere kahila
two days meditation having made to Śivānanda he said
pāṇihāṭi-grāme āmi prabhure ānila to Pāṇihāṭi village I the Lord have brought 54 After meditating for two days, he said to Śivānanda, "I have brought the Lord to the village of Pāṇihāṭi.

কালি মধ্যাহ্নে তেঁহো আসিবেন তোমার ঘরে । পাক-সামগ্রী আনহ, আমি ভিক্ষা দিমু তাঁরে ॥ ৫৫ ॥

kāli madhyāhne teṁho āsibena tomāra ghare
tomorrow at noon He will come your to the house
pāka-sāmagrī ānaha, āmi bhikṣā dimu tāṁre
cooking provisions bring I bhikṣā shall give to Him

55 Tomorrow at noon He will come to your house. Bring the provisions for cooking; I shall offer Him bhikṣā.

তবে তাঁরে এথা আমি আনিব সত্বর । নিশ্চয় কহিলাঙ, কিছু সন্দেহ না কর ॥ ৫৬ ॥

tabe tāṁre ethā āmi āniba satvara
then Him here I shall bring quickly
niścaya kahilāṅa, kichu sandeha nā kara with certainty I have said any doubt not make 56 Then I shall quickly bring Him here. I tell you this with certainty — have no doubt at all.

যে চাহিয়ে, তাহা কর হঞা তৎপর । অতি ত্বরায় করিব পাক, শুন অতঃপর ॥ ৫৭ ॥

ye cāhiye, tāhā kara hañā tatpara
what I require that do being prompt ati tvarāya kariba pāka, śuna ataḥpara
very quickly I shall do cooking hear further

57 Whatever I require, provide it promptly; I must cook very quickly. Hear me further:

পাক-সামগ্রী আনহ, আমি যাহা চাই । যে মাগিল, শিবানন্দ আনি' দিলা তাই ॥ ৫৮ ॥

pāka-sāmagrī ānaha, āmi yāhā cāi cooking provisions bring I what want ye māgila, śivānanda āni' dilā tāi
what he asked Śivānanda bringing gave that 58 Bring the provisions for cooking — whatever I ask for." And whatever he asked for, Śivānanda brought and gave him.

*Pradyumna cooks and arranges three separate offerings — for the Lord, for Jagannātha and for his own worshipable Deity (iṣṭadeva), Nṛsiṁha —*

প্রাতঃকাল হৈতে পাক করিলা অপার । নানা সূপ, ব্যঞ্জন, পিঠা, ক্ষীর-উপহার ॥ ৫৯ ॥

prātaḥ-kāla haite pāka karilā apāra morning from cooking he did without limit
nānā sūpa, vyañjana, piṭhā, kṣīra-upahāra
many soups vegetable dishes cakes sweet-rice offerings

59 From early morning he cooked without limit: many kinds of soup and vegetable dishes, cakes, and offerings of sweet rice.

জগন্নাথের ভিন্ন ভোগ পৃথক্ বাড়িলা । চৈতন্য প্রভুর লাগি' আর ভোগ কৈলা ॥ ৬০ ॥

jagannāthera bhinna bhoga pṛthak bāḍilā
of Jagannātha distinct offering separately he served out caitanya prabhura lāgi' āra bhoga kailā Caitanya Prabhu for another offering he made

60 He set out an offering for Jagannātha on its own, and he prepared another offering for Caitanya Prabhu.

ইষ্টদেব নৃসিংহ লাগি' পৃথক্ বাড়িলা । তিনজনে সমর্পিয়া বাহিরে ধ্যান কৈলা ॥ ৬১ ॥

iṣṭa-deva nṛsiṁha lāgi' pṛthak bāḍilā
for his worshipful Deity Nṛsiṁha for separately he served out tinajane samarpiyā bāhire dhyāna kailā
to the three having offered outside meditation he did

61 For his worshipful Deity, Nṛsiṁha, he set out a separate one. Having offered the food to all three, he sat outside and meditated.

The Lord, who has "appeared" to the Brahmacārī in meditation, eats all three offerings —

দেখে, শীঘ্র আসি' বসিলা চৈতন্য-গোসাঞি । তিন ভোগ খাইলা, কিছু অবশিষ্ট নাই ॥ ৬২ ॥

dekhe, śīghra āsi' vasilā caitanya-gosāñi
he sees quickly coming sat down Caitanya Gosāñi tina bhoga khāilā, kichu avaśiṣṭa nāi
the three offerings He ate anything left over not 62 He saw Caitanya Gosāñi quickly come and sit down. He ate all three offerings, and nothing was left.

Seeing this, Pradyumna rejoices within, while outwardly he shows a semblance of sorrow —

আনন্দে বিহ্বল প্রদ্যুম্ন, পড়ে অশ্রুধার । হাহা কিবা কর বলি' করয়ে ফুৎকার ॥ ৬৩ ॥

ānande vihvala pradyumna, paḍe aśru-dhāra
with bliss overwhelmed Pradyumna fall streams of tears
hāhā kibā kara bali' karaye phutkāra
alas, alas what You do saying cries out

63 Overwhelmed with bliss, Pradyumna shed streams of tears, and he cried out, "Alas, alas! What are You doing?

*Pradyumna reproaches the Lord; his fidelity to his iṣṭadeva, Nṛsiṁha —*

জগন্নাথে-তোমায় ঐক্য, খাও তাঁর ভোগ । নৃসিংহের ভোগ কেনে কর উপযোগ ? ॥ ৬৪ ॥

jagannāthe-tomāya aikya, khāo tāṁra bhoga Jagannātha and You are one You eat His offering nṛsiṁhera bhoga kene kara upayoga?
Nṛsiṁha's offering why do You consume

64 You and Jagannātha are one, so You may eat His offering. But why do You take Nṛsiṁha's offering?

নৃসিংহের হৈল জানি আজি উপবাস । ঠাকুর উপবাসী রহে, জিয়ে কৈছে দাস ? ॥ ৬৫ ॥

nṛsiṁhera haila jāni āji upavāsa
for Nṛsiṁha there was I know today a fast
ṭhākura upavāsī rahe, jiye kaiche dāsa?
the master fasting remains live how the servant

65 I see that today Nṛsiṁha has had to fast. If the master goes without food, how can his servant live?"

ভোজন দেখি’ যদ্যপি তাঁর হৃদয়ে উল্লাস । নৃসিংহ লক্ষ্য করি’ বাহ্যে কিছু করে দুঃখাভাস ॥ ৬৬ ॥

bhojana dekhi’ yadyapi tāṁra hṛdaye ullāsa
the meal seeing although his in the heart joy
nṛsiṁha lakṣya kari’ bāhye kichu kare duḥkhābhāsa
Nṛsiṁha for the sake of outwardly some makes show of sorrow

66 Although his heart rejoiced at seeing the Lord eat, outwardly, for Nṛsiṁha’s sake, he made some show of sorrow.

*By the pastime of eating the three offerings the Lord showed Pradyumna that He is nondifferent, one, with all the viṣṇu-tattvas —*

স্বয়ং ভগবান্ কৃষ্ণচৈতন্য-গোসাঞি । জগন্নাথ-নৃসিংহ-সহ কিছু ভেদ নাই ॥ ৬৭ ॥

svayaṁ bhagavān kṛṣṇa-caitanya-gosāñi
Svayaṁ Bhagavān Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Gosāñi
jagannātha-nṛsiṁha-saha kichu bheda nāi with Jagannātha and Nṛsiṁha any difference is not

67 Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Gosāñi is Svayaṁ Bhagavān, the Supreme Lord Himself: between Him and Jagannātha and Nṛsiṁha there is no difference at all.

ইহা জানিবারে প্রদ্যুম্নের গূঢ় হৈত মন । তাহা দেখাইলা প্রভু করিয়া ভোজন ॥ ৬৮ ॥

ihā jānibāre pradyumnera gūḍha haita mana this to know of Pradyumna secret was the wish tāhā dekhāilā prabhu kariyā bhojana that showed the Lord doing eating

68 Pradyumna had a secret wish to know this, and the Lord showed it to him by eating the offerings.

After eating, the Lord goes to Pāṇihāṭi, to Rāghava's house, where He constantly abides —

ভোজন করিয়া প্রভু গেলা পাণিহাটি । সন্তোষ পাইলা দেখি’ ব্যঞ্জন-পরিপাটী ॥ ৬৯ ॥

bhojana kariyā prabhu gelā pāṇihāṭi
the meal having taken the Lord went to Pāṇihāṭi
santoṣa pāilā dekhi’ vyañjana-paripāṭī pleasure He felt seeing of the dishes the excellence

69 Having eaten, the Lord went to Pāṇihāṭi, pleased by the excellence of the dishes.[5]

Śivānanda asks why the Brahmacārī is sad, and he tells everything —

শিবানন্দ কহে, — কেনে করহ ফুৎকার ?
ব্রহ্মচারী কহে, — দেখ প্রভুর ব্যবহার ॥ ৭০ ॥

śivānanda kahe, — kene karaha phutkāra?
Śivānanda says — why do you cry out brahmacārī kahe, — dekha prabhura vyavahāra
the brahmacārī says — see of the Lord the conduct

70 Śivānanda said, “Why are you crying out?” The brahmacārī said, “Look at the Lord’s conduct!

তিন জনার ভোগ তেঁহো একেলা খাইলা । জগন্নাথ-নৃসিংহ উপবাসী হইলা ॥ ৭১ ॥

tina janāra bhoga teṁho ekelā khāilā
of three persons the offerings He alone ate jagannātha-nṛsiṁha upavāsī hailā Jagannātha and Nṛsiṁha fasting became

71 He alone has eaten the offerings meant for all three, and Jagannātha and Nṛsiṁha have been left fasting."

Śivānanda's doubt —

শুনি' শিবানন্দের চিত্তে হইল সংশয় । কিবা প্রেমাবেশে কহে, কিবা সত্য হয় ॥ ৭২ ॥

śuni' śivānandera citte haila saṁśaya hearing in Śivānanda's mind arose doubt kibā premāveśe kahe, kibā satya haya whether in the ecstasy of prema he speaks or true it is 72 When Śivānanda heard this, a doubt arose in his mind: was the brahmacārī speaking in the ecstasy of prema, or was it true?

*The Brahmacārī tells Śivānanda to gather what is needed for Śrī Nṛsiṁha's bhoga —*

তবে শিবানন্দে কিছু কহে ব্রহ্মচারী । সামগ্রী আনহ নৃসিংহের পুনঃ পাক করি ॥ ৭৩ ॥

tabe śivānande kichu kahe brahmacārī
then to Śivānanda something says the brahmacārī sāmagrī ānaha nṛsiṁhera punaḥ pāka kari
the provisions bring for Nṛsiṁha again cooking I will do

73 Then the brahmacārī said to Śivānanda, "Bring the provisions; I shall cook for Nṛsiṁha once more."

*The bhoga is offered to Nṛsiṁha again —*

তবে শিবানন্দ ভোগ-সামগ্রী আনিলা । পাক করি' নৃসিংহের ভোগ লাগাইলা ॥ ৭৪ ॥

tabe śivānanda bhoga-sāmagrī ānilā
then Śivānanda for the offering provisions brought pāka kari' nṛsiṁhera bhoga lāgāilā cooking having done to Nṛsiṁha the offering he presented

74 Śivānanda then brought the provisions for the offering, and the brahmacārī cooked and offered the food to Nṛsiṁha.

In the next rainy season the Gauḍīya devotees go to Purī —

বর্ষান্তরে শিবানন্দ লঞা ভক্তগণ । নীলাচলে দেখে যাঞা প্রভুর চরণ ॥ ৭৫ ॥

varṣāntare śivānanda lañā bhakta-gaṇa
in the following year Śivānanda taking the devotees
nīlācale dekhe yāñā prabhura caraṇa
in Nīlācala sees going the Lord's feet

75 The following year Śivānanda took the devotees to Nīlācala and saw the Lord's feet.

One day the Lord tells how Nṛsiṁhānanda fed Him, as related above —

একদিন সভাতে প্রভু বাত্ চালাইলা । নৃসিংহানন্দের গুণ কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৭৬ ॥

ekadina sabhāte prabhu bāt cālāilā
one day in the assembly the Lord the subject brought up nṛsiṁhānandera guṇa kahite lāgilā Nṛsiṁhānanda's virtues to tell He began 76 One day, in the assembly, the Lord brought up the subject and began to speak of Nṛsiṁhānanda's virtues:

Anubhāṣya.
Bāt cālāilā — He raised the subject.

গতবর্ষ পৌষে মোরে করাইল ভোজন । কভু নাহি খাই ঐছে মিষ্টান্ন-ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ৭৭ ॥

gatavarṣa pauṣe more karāila bhojana
last year in Pauṣa Me he made eat
kabhu nāhi khāi aiche miṣṭānna-vyañjana
ever not I ate such sweets vegetable dishes

77 "Last year, in Pauṣa, he fed Me. Never have I eaten such sweets and vegetable dishes."

The Lord's words dispel Śivānanda's earlier doubt —

শুনি' ভক্তগণ মনে আশ্চর্য্য মানিল । শিবানন্দের মনে তবে প্রত্যয় জন্মিল ॥ ৭৮ ॥

śuni' bhakta-gaṇa mane āścarya mānila hearing the devotees in mind wonder felt śivānandera mane tabe pratyaya janmila
in Śivānanda's mind then conviction was born

78 Hearing this, the devotees were filled with wonder, and then conviction was born in Śivānanda's mind.

The Lord's "constant appearance" in four places —

এইমত শচীগৃহে সতত ভোজন । শ্রীবাসের গৃহে করেন কীর্ত্তন-দর্শন ॥ ৭৯ ॥

ei-mata śacī-gṛhe satata bhojana
in this way in Śacī's house constantly He eats śrīvāsera gṛhe karena kīrtana-darśana
in Śrīvāsa's house He does the seeing of kīrtana

79 In the same way He constantly takes His meals in Śacī's house, and in Śrīvāsa's house He watches the kīrtana.

নিত্যানন্দের নৃত্য দেখেন আসি' বারে বারে ।
'নিরন্তর আবির্ভাব' রাঘবের ঘরে ॥ ৮০ ॥

nityānandera nṛtya dekhena āsi' bāre bāre Nityānanda's dancing He watches coming again and again
'nirantara āvirbhāva' rāghavera ghare
'constant appearance' in Rāghava's house

80 Again and again He comes to watch Nityānanda's dancing, and in Rāghava's house He is ever present.

Gaurasundara is subdued by His devotees' love —

প্রেমবশ গৌরপ্রভু, যাঁহা প্রেমোত্তম । প্রেমবশ হঞা তাঁহা দেন দরশন ॥ ৮১ ॥

prema-vaśa gaura-prabhu, yāṁhā premottama
by prema controlled Gaura Prabhu where the highest prema
prema-vaśa hañā tāṁhā dena daraśana
by prema controlled being there He gives His sight

81 Gaura Prabhu is controlled by prema: wherever there is the highest prema, He yields to it and gives His darśana.

Śivānanda's indescribable love for Gaura —

শিবানন্দের প্রেমসীমা কে কহিতে পারে ?
যাঁর প্রেমে বশ প্রভু আইসে বারে বারে ॥ ৮২ ॥

śivānandera prema-sīmā ke kahite pāre?
Śivānanda's the extent of prema who to tell can yāṁra preme vaśa prabhu āise bāre bāre
by whose prema controlled the Lord comes again and again

82 Who can tell the full extent of Śivānanda's prema? Controlled by his prema, the Lord comes to him again and again.

Whoever hears of Gaura's appearance comes to know the glory of Kṛṣṇa Caitanya —

এই ত' কহিলুঁ গৌরের 'আবির্ভাব' । ইহা যেই শুনে, জানে চৈতন্য-প্রভাব ॥ ৮৩ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ gaurera 'āvirbhāva'
thus indeed I have told of Gaura the 'appearance'
ihā yei śune, jāne caitanya-prabhāva this whoever hears knows Caitanya's power

83 Thus I have told of Gaura's 'āvirbhāva'. Whoever hears of it comes to know Caitanya's power.

A new topic: the story of Bhagavān Ācārya —

পুরুষোত্তমে প্রভু-পাশে ভগবান্-আচার্য্য । পরম বৈষ্ণব তেঁহো সুপণ্ডিত আর্য্য ॥ ৮৪ ॥

puruṣottame prabhu-pāśe bhagavān-ācārya
in Puruṣottama near the Lord Bhagavān Ācārya
parama vaiṣṇava teṁho supaṇḍita ārya
a supreme Vaiṣṇava he very learned noble

84 In Puruṣottama, near the Lord, lived Bhagavān Ācārya, a supreme Vaiṣṇava, very learned and noble.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhagavān Ācārya — see Ādi 10.136.

সখ্যভাবাক্রান্ত-চিত্ত, গোপ-অবতার । স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি-সহ সখ্য-ব্যবহার ॥ ৮৫ ॥

sakhya-bhāvākrānta-citta, gopa-avatāra
by the mood of friendship overcome his heart of a cowherd boy an incarnation svarūpa-gosāñi-saha sakhya-vyavahāra with Svarūpa Gosāñi friendly dealings

85 His heart was filled with the mood of friendship (sakhya): an incarnation of a cowherd boy, he was a close friend of Svarūpa Gosāñi.

From time to time he cooks at home and feeds the Lord alone —

একান্তভাবে আশ্রিয়াছেন চৈতন্যচরণ । মধ্যে মধ্যে প্রভুর তেঁহো করেন নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ৮৬ ॥

ekānta-bhāve āśriyāchena caitanya-caraṇa with single-minded devotion has taken shelter of Caitanya's feet madhye madhye prabhura teṁho karena nimantraṇa
from time to time the Lord he makes an invitation

86 He had taken shelter at Caitanya's feet with single-minded devotion, and from time to time he would invite the Lord for a meal.

ঘরে ভাত করি' করেন বিবিধ ব্যঞ্জন । একলে গোসাঞি লঞা করান ভোজন ॥ ৮৭ ॥

ghare bhāta kari' karena vividha vyañjana
at home rice having cooked makes various vegetable dishes
ekale gosāñi lañā karāna bhojana alone the Lord bringing causes to eat a meal

87 At home he would cook rice and many kinds of vegetable dishes, and he would bring the Lord alone and feed Him.

Anubhāṣya.

Ghare bhāta kari (having cooked rice at home). One may bring Śrī Jagannāthadeva's prasāda and satisfy one's family, beggars or invited guests with it. When instead one feeds them at home and for that cooks rice and the rest — that is, cooks from raw foodstuffs — this is called ghara-bhāta ("home rice"). In Utkala two words are used, āmānī and prasādī. When cooked food (naivedya-bhoga) has been offered to Śrī Jagannāthadeva, it is prasāda; and what is cooked from raw foodstuffs is āmānī, which is to be understood as "not Jagannāthadeva's remnants."

The character of Bhagavān Ācārya, his father and his younger brother —

তাঁর পিতা 'বিষয়ী' বড় শতানন্দ-খাঁন ।
'বিষয়বিমুখ' আচার্য্য — 'বৈরাগ্যপ্রধান' ॥ ৮৮ ॥

tāṁra pitā 'viṣayī' baḍa śatānanda-khāṁna
his father a man of worldly affairs great Śatānanda Khān
'viṣaya-vimukha' ācārya — 'vairāgya-pradhāna'
turned away from worldly things the Ācārya — renunciation foremost

88 His father, Śatānanda Khān, was deeply engaged in worldly affairs, but the Ācārya had turned his back on them: renunciation was foremost in him.

‘গোপাল-ভট্টাচার্য্য’ নাম, তাঁর ছোট-ভাই ।
কাশীতে ‘বেদান্ত’ পড়ি’ গেলা আচার্য্য-ঠাঞি ॥ ৮৯ ॥

‘gopāla-bhaṭṭācārya’ nāma, tāṁra choṭa-bhāi Gopāla Bhaṭṭācārya named his younger brother kāśīte ‘vedānta’ paḍi’ gelā ācārya-ṭhāñi
in Kāśī Vedānta having studied went to the Ācārya

89 His younger brother, named Gopāla Bhaṭṭācārya, studied Vedānta in Kāśī and then came to the Ācārya.

Anubhāṣya.

Vedānta — here, Śaṅkarācārya's commentary on the Vedānta, or Śārīraka-sūtras, which upholds the impersonal Brahman.

Ācārya — his elder brother, Bhagavān Ācārya.

আচার্য্য তাহারে প্রভুপদে মিলাইলা । অন্তর্য্যামী প্রভু, চিত্তে সুখ না পাইলা ॥ ৯০ ॥

ācārya tāhāre prabhu-pade milāilā
the Ācārya him at the Lord’s feet brought to meet antaryāmī prabhu, citte sukha nā pāilā
the knower of hearts the Lord in His heart happiness not found

90 The Ācārya brought him to the Lord’s feet, but the Lord, who knows every heart, found no happiness within.

*Only pure service to Kṛṣṇa pleases Gaura; He disregards the mixed (viddha) endeavors of a nondevotee, which oppose bhakti —*

আচার্য্য-সম্বন্ধে বাহ্যে করে প্রীত্যাভাস । কৃষ্ণভক্তি বিনা প্রভুর না হয় উল্লাস ॥ ৯১ ॥

ācārya-sambandhe bāhye kare prītyābhāsa
because of the relation with the Ācārya outwardly shows a semblance of affection
kṛṣṇa-bhakti vinā prabhura nā haya ullāsa devotion to Kṛṣṇa without the Lord’s not is joy

91 Because Gopāla was related to the Ācārya, the Lord outwardly showed him a semblance of affection; but where there is no devotion to Kṛṣṇa, He feels no joy.

One day the Ācārya asks Svarūpa to hear Śaṅkara's Māyāvāda commentary from the mouth of the Ācārya's younger brother —

স্বরূপ গোসাঞিরে আচার্য্য কহে আর দিনে । বেদান্ত পড়িয়া গোপাল আইসাছে এখানে ॥ ৯২ ॥

svarūpa gosāñire ācārya kahe āra dine to Svarūpa Gosāñi the Ācārya says on another day
vedānta paḍiyā gopāla āisāche ekhāne
Vedānta having studied Gopāla has come here

92 One day the Ācārya said to Svarūpa Gosāñi, “Gopāla has come here after studying Vedānta.

সবে মেলি’ আইস, শুনি ‘ভাষ্য’ ইহার স্থানে । প্রেম-ক্রোধ করি’ স্বরূপ বলয় বচনে ॥ ৯৩ ॥

sabe meli' āisa, śuni 'bhāṣya' ihāra sthāne
all together come let us hear the commentary his from prema-krodha kari' svarūpa balaya vacane loving anger showing Svarūpa speaks in words

93 Let us all come together and hear the commentary from his lips." In loving anger Svarūpa replied:

Svarūpa rebukes him —

বুদ্ধি ভ্রষ্ট হৈল তোমার গোপালের সঙ্গে । মায়াবাদ শুনিবারে উপজিল রঙ্গে ॥ ৯৪ ॥

buddhi bhraṣṭa haila tomāra gopālera saṅge intelligence spoiled has become your of Gopāla in the company
māyāvāda śunibāre upajila raṅge
Māyāvāda to hear has arisen a fancy

94 "Your intelligence has been spoiled in Gopāla's company, and you have taken a fancy to hearing Māyāvāda.

Śrī Dāmodara-svarūpa Prabhu, the guru of all Vaiṣṇavas, describes the faults of Māyāvāda and condemns it; how one who wishes to serve Viṣṇu purely should treat Śaṅkara's Māyāvāda commentary —

বৈষ্ণব হঞা যেবা শারীরক-ভাষ্য শুনে । সেব্য-সেবক-ভাব ছাড়ি' আপনারে 'ঈশ্বর' মানে ॥ ৯৫ ॥

vaiṣṇava haññā yebā śārīraka-bhāṣya śune
a Vaiṣṇava being whoever the Śārīraka-bhāṣya hears sevya-sevaka-bhāva chāḍi' āpanāre 'īśvara' māne
the relationship of the served and the servant giving up himself the Lord considers 95 A Vaiṣṇava who listens to the Śārīraka-bhāṣya gives up the relationship of servant and served and considers himself the Lord.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śārīraka-bhāṣya — Śrīmat Śaṅkarācārya's commentary on the Vedānta-sūtra.

Anubhāṣya.
Śaṅkara, the advocate of kevalādvaita, relied on speculation and established in his commentary on the Śārīraka- or Brahma-sūtras "Māyāvāda," or "mixed (viddha) kevalādvaita." But other commentaries on the Brahma-sūtras declare the purport of Vedānta as follows: the Śrī-bhāṣya of Śrī Rāmānuja of the Śrī-sampradāya — "viśiṣṭādvaita"; the Pūrṇaprajña-bhāṣya of Śrī Madhva of the Brahma-sampradāya — "śuddha-dvaita"; the Pārijāta-saurabha-bhāṣya of Śrī Nimbārka of the Catuḥ-sana-sampradāya — "dvaitādvaita"; and the Sarvajña-bhāṣya of Śrī Viṣṇusvāmī of the Rudra-sampradāya — "śuddhādvaita." In these commentaries the relationship between the servant and the one he serves (sevya-sevaka-bhāva) is preserved. Therefore the devotees of Bhagavān Viṣṇu study them, and the truths they contain have always been honored in the genuine sampradāyas (sat-sampradāyas), that is, among the Vaiṣṇavas. See the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 7.101. Śaṅkara's commentary, however, in explaining the Brahma-sūtras, or Vedānta, strives to establish mixed kevalādvaita, the doctrine of the impersonal Brahman. It is therefore nothing but a false doctrine (kumata-vāda), wholly opposed to pure bhakti.

How potent the poison of Māyāvāda is; whoever hears it risks a fall —

মহাভাগবত যেই, কৃষ্ণ প্রাণধন যাঁর । মায়াবাদ-শ্রবণে চিত্ত অবশ্য ফিরে তাঁর ॥ ৯৬ ॥

mahā-bhāgavata yei, kṛṣṇa prāṇa-dhana yāṁra
a great devotee who is, Kṛṣṇa the treasure of life whose māyāvāda-śravaṇe citta avaśya phire tāṁra
by hearing Māyāvāda heart certainly turns his 96 Even a mahā-bhāgavata, whose life's treasure is Kṛṣṇa, will surely have his heart turned by hearing Māyāvāda."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Even a mahā-bhāgavata whose treasure of life is Kṛṣṇa — if he hears the Śārīraka-bhāṣya, full of Māyāvāda, his heart too sinks, and he falls away from devotion.

The Ācārya boasts of his own firm faith in Kṛṣṇa —

আচার্য্য কহে, — আমা-সবার কৃষ্ণনিষ্ঠ-চিত্তে । আমা-সবার মন ভাষ্য নারে ফিরাইতে ॥ ৯৭ ॥

ācārya kahe, — āmā-sabāra kṛṣṇa-niṣṭha-citte
the Ācārya says — of us all fixed on Kṛṣṇa in the hearts
āmā-sabāra mana bhāṣya nāre phirāite of us all minds the commentary cannot turn

97 The Ācārya said, "Our hearts are fixed on Kṛṣṇa; a commentary cannot turn our minds."

Svarūpa explains the meaning of Māyāvāda, which tears apart the heart of a pure devotee —

স্বরূপ কহে, — তথাপি মায়াবাদ-শ্রবণে ।
'চিৎ ব্রহ্ম, মায়া মিথ্যা' — এইমাত্র শুনে ॥ ৯৮ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — tathāpi māyāvāda-śravaṇe
Svarūpa says — even so in hearing Māyāvāda
'cit brahma, māyā mithyā' — eimātra śune consciousness Brahman, māyā false — only this one hears

98 Svarūpa said, "Even so, what one hears in Māyāvāda is only this: 'Brahman is pure consciousness, and māyā is false;

জীবজ্ঞান — কল্পিত, ঈশ্বরে — সকল অজ্ঞান । যাহার শ্রবণে ভক্তের ফাটে মন-প্রাণ ॥ ৯৯ ॥

jīvajñāna — kalpita, īśvare — sakala ajñāna
the notion of the jīva — imagined, in the Lord — all ignorance
yāhāra śravaṇe bhaktera phāṭe mana-prāṇa
which on hearing of a devotee breaks mind and life

99 the very notion of the jīva is imaginary, and in the Lord there is nothing but ignorance.' When a devotee hears this, his heart and soul break."[6]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Your hearts may be fixed on Kṛṣṇa, and so hearing Śaṅkara's commentary and the like may not corrupt them. Yet that Māyāvāda contains such arguments as these: "Brahman is by nature pure consciousness and formless"; "this world is mere māyā, that is, false"; "the jīva does not really exist — it is only an imagination of ignorance"; "in Īśvara there is only ignorance — He is bewildered by māyā." Hearing such words, a devotee feels deep pain.

Anubhāṣya.

See Ādi 5.58, and also Ādi 7.113 and 7.121–126.

The Ācārya grasps the meaning of Svarūpa's words and sends his younger brother back to his home village —

লজ্জা-ভয় পাঞা আচার্য্য মৌন হইলা । আর দিন গোপালেরে দেশে পাঠাইলা ॥ ১০০ ॥

lajjā-bhaya pāñā ācārya mauna hailā shame fear feeling the Ācārya silent became āra dina gopālere deśe pāṭhāilā next day Gopāla to his homeland sent

100 Ashamed and afraid, the Ācārya fell silent, and the next day he sent Gopāla back to his native place.

On another day [the Ācārya] sends Choṭa Haridāsa to Mādhavī-devī for rice for the Lord's meal —

একদিন আচার্য্য প্রভুরে কৈলা নিমন্ত্রণ । ঘরে ভাত করি' করে বিবিধ ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ১০১ ॥

ekadina ācārya prabhure kailā nimantraṇa
one day the Ācārya the Lord made an invitation
ghare bhāta kari' kare vividha vyañjana
at home rice having cooked makes various vegetable dishes

101 One day the Ācārya invited the Lord. At home he cooked rice and made various vegetable dishes.

'ছোট-হরিদাস' নাম প্রভুর কীর্ত্তনীয়া । তাহারে কহেন ডাকি' আপনে আনিয়া ॥ ১০২ ॥

'choṭa-haridāsa' nāma prabhura kīrtanīyā Choṭa Haridāsa named the Lord's singer tāhāre kahena ḍāki' āpane āniyā
to him says calling himself bringing (him)

102 The Lord had a singer named Choṭa Haridāsa. The Ācārya himself called him, brought him over and said,

মোর নামে শিখি-মাহিতির ভগিনী-স্থানে গিয়া । শুক্লচাউল এক-মান আনহ মাগিয়া ॥ ১০৩ ॥

mora nāme śikhi-māhitira bhaginī-sthāne giyā
in my name of Śikhi Māhiti to the sister going śukla-cāula eka-māna ānaha māgiyā
white rice one māna bring begging

103 "Go in my name to Śikhi Māhiti's sister, ask her for one māna of white rice and bring it."

Anubhāṣya.
Another reading has āroyā cāul, that is, rice of the śāli variety called āroyā. Māna — a measure for grain current in Utkala, a kāṭhā.

*Who the mahā-bhāgavata Mādhavī-devī is —*

মাহিতির ভগিনীর নাম — মাধবী-দেবী । বৃদ্ধা তপস্বিনী আর পরমা-বৈষ্ণবী ॥ ১০৪ ॥

māhitira bhaginīra nāma — mādhavī-devī
of Māhiti of the sister the name — Mādhavī-devī
vṛddhā tapasvinī āra paramā-vaiṣṇavī elderly austere and a supreme Vaiṣṇavī

104 Māhiti's sister was named Mādhavī-devī. She was elderly, given to austerity, and a supreme Vaiṣṇavī.

Among all the Lord's devotees, only three and a half belong to Śrīmatī's circle —

প্রভু লেখা করে যাঁরে রাধিকার ‘গণ’ । জগতের মধ্যে ‘পাত্র’ — সাড়ে তিন জন ॥ ১০৫ ॥

prabhu lekhā kare yāṁre rādhikāra ‘gaṇa’
the Lord counts whom of Rādhikā among the associates jagatera madhye ‘pātra’ — sāḍe tina jana of the world in the midst worthy — and a half three persons

105 The Lord counted her among Rādhikā’s associates. In all the world there are only three and a half such worthy persons:

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি, আর রায়-রামানন্দ । শিখি-মাহিতি — তিন, তাঁর ভগিনী — অর্দ্ধজন ॥ ১০৬ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi, āra rāya-rāmānanda Svarūpa Gosāñi and Rāya Rāmānanda śikhi-māhiti — tina, tāṁra bhaginī — ardha-jana Śikhi Māhiti — three, his sister — half a person

106 Svarūpa Gosāñi, Rāmānanda Rāya and Śikhi Māhiti are the three, and his sister is the half.

Haridāsa brings fine rice from Mādhavī, and the Ācārya cooks —

তাঁর ঠাঞি তণ্ডুল মাগি’ আনিল হরিদাস । তণ্ডুল দেখি’ আচার্য্যের অধিক উল্লাস ॥ ১০৭ ॥

tāṁra ṭhāñi taṇḍula māgi’ ānila haridāsa
her from rice begging brought Haridāsa taṇḍula dekhi’ ācāryera adhika ullāsa
the rice seeing the Ācārya’s great joy

107 Haridāsa begged the rice from her and brought it, and when the Ācārya saw the rice he was overjoyed.

স্নেহে রান্ধিল প্রভুর প্রিয় যে ব্যঞ্জন । দেউল-প্রসাদ, আদা-চাকি, লেম্বু-সলবণ ॥ ১০৮ ॥

snehe rāndhila prabhura priya ye vyañjana with affection cooked to the Lord dear which vegetable dishes
deula-prasāda, ādā-cāki, lembu-salavaṇa
prasāda from the temple, slices of ginger, lime with salt

108 With affection he cooked the dishes the Lord loved, and set out prasāda from the temple, slices of ginger, and lime with salt.

Anubhāṣya.
Deula-prasāda — prasāda from the temple (devālaya), that is, mahā-prasāda brought from the temple of Śrī Jagannātha.

The Lord sits down to eat and asks where the fine rice came from —

মধ্যাহ্নে আসিয়া প্রভু ভোজনে বসিলা । শাল্যন্ন দেখি’ প্রভু আচার্য্যে পুছিলা ॥ ১০৯ ॥

madhyāhne āsiyā prabhu bhojane vasilā
at midday coming the Lord to eat sat
śālyanna dekhi' prabhu ācārye puchilā
the fine rice seeing the Lord the Ācārya asked 109 At midday the Lord came and sat down to eat. Seeing the fine rice, He asked the Ācārya,

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śālyanna — fine white rice.

উত্তম অন্ন এত তণ্ডুল কাঁহাতে পাইলা ?
আচার্য্য কহে, — মাধবী-পাশ মাগিয়া আনিলা ॥ ১১০ ॥

uttama anna eta taṇḍula kāṁhāte pāilā?
excellent cooked rice such rice where did you get ācārya kahe, — mādhavī-pāśa māgiyā ānilā
the Ācārya says — from Mādhavī begging was brought

110 "Such excellent rice! Where did you get grain like this?" The Ācārya said, "It was begged from Mādhavī and brought here."[7]

The Ācārya names Mādhavī and Choṭa Haridāsa —

প্রভু কহে, — কোন্ যাই' মাগিয়া আনিল ?
ছোট-হরিদাসের নাম আচার্য্য কহিল ॥ ১১১ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kon yāi' māgiyā ānila?
the Lord says — who going begging brought choṭa-haridāsera nāma ācārya kahila
of Choṭa Haridāsa the name the Ācārya said

111 The Lord said, "Who went and begged it?" The Ācārya named Choṭa Haridāsa.

After His meal the Lord orders Govinda not to let Choṭa Haridāsa into His house —

অন্ন প্রশংসিয়া প্রভু ভোজন করিলা । নিজগৃহে আসি' গোবিন্দেরে আজ্ঞা দিলা ॥ ১১২ ॥

anna praśaṁsiyā prabhu bhojana karilā
the rice praising the Lord meal took nija-gṛhe āsi' govindere ājñā dilā to His own residence coming to Govinda order gave 112 Praising the rice, the Lord took His meal. Then, returning to His residence, He gave Govinda an order:

আজি হৈতে এই মোর আজ্ঞা পালিবা । ছোট-হরিদাসে ইঁহা আসিতে না দিবা ॥ ১১৩ ॥

āji haite ei mora ājñā pālibā today from this My order you will keep choṭa-haridāse iṁhā āsite nā dibā Choṭa Haridāsa here to come not you will let

113 "From today you must keep this order of Mine: do not let Choṭa Haridāsa come here."

Haridāsa's deep sorrow and his fast —

দ্বার মানা, হরিদাস দুঃখী হৈল মনে । কি লাগিয়া দ্বার মানা, কেহ নাহি জানে ॥ ১১৪ ॥

dvāra mānā, haridāsa duḥkhī haila mane
the door barred, Haridāsa sorrowful became at heart ki lāgiyā dvāra mānā, keha nāhi jāne
what for the door barred, anyone not knows

114 The door was barred to him, and Haridāsa grew sorrowful at heart. No one knew why the door was barred.

তিনদিন হরিদাস করে উপবাস । স্বরূপাদি সবে পুছিলা প্রভুর পাশ ॥ ১১৫ ॥

tinadina haridāsa kare upavāsa
three days Haridāsa does fasting
svarūpādi sabe puchilā prabhura pāśa
Svarūpa and the others all asked the Lord's at the side

115 Haridāsa fasted for three days. Then Svarūpa and all the others came to the Lord and asked,

Svarūpa and the others ask the Lord the reason —

কোন্ অপরাধ, প্রভু, কৈল হরিদাস ?
কি লাগিয়া দ্বার-মানা, করে উপবাস ? ॥ ১১৬ ॥

kon aparādha, prabhu, kaila haridāsa?
what offence O Lord has committed Haridāsa ki lāgiyā dvāra-mānā, kare upavāsa?
what for the door is barred, he does fasting

116 "O Lord, what offence has Haridāsa committed? Why is the door barred to him? He is fasting."

*The Lord's reply: He cannot bear to see the face of a vairāgī who converses with a prakṛti (a woman) —*

প্রভু কহে, — বৈরাগী করে প্রকৃতি সম্ভাষণ । দেখিতে না পারো আমি তাহার বদন ॥ ১১৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — vairāgī kare prakṛti sambhāṣaṇa
the Lord says — a renunciant does with a woman conversation
dekhite nā pāro āmi tāhāra vadana
to see not can I his face

117 The Lord said, "A renunciant who converses with women — I cannot bear to see his face.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

A Vaiṣṇava should either live as a householder with his wife and family, or give up all connection with women and become a vairāgī (renunciant). Once he has become a vairāgī, he no longer has the right to look at women or converse with them. Even when there is no sinful desire, and even when outwardly the aim is some service of devotion, a vairāgī must not have such a connection with a woman. Therefore [the Lord says]: "I cannot look at the face of one who has become a vairāgī and converses with a prakṛti (a woman): he destroys dharma."

Anubhāṣya.

"Simplicity" is the chief mark of a Vaiṣṇava, and "duplicity" is a side shoot (upaśākhā) hostile to devotion. As attachment to Kṛṣṇa grows, the devotee loses his taste for all that is not Kṛṣṇa and gives up the sense objects born of a gaze that seeks worldly enjoyment. But if people see such an attachment in him and his duplicity comes to light, they can no longer trust his conduct.

The material senses by nature incline to enjoyment; looking at a woman bears poisonous fruit —

দুর্ব্বার ইন্দ্রিয় করে বিষয় গ্রহণ । দারু-প্রকৃতি হরে মুনেরপি মন ॥ ১১৮ ॥

durvāra indriya kare viṣaya grahaṇa
uncontrollable the senses do of sense objects grasping dāru-prakṛti hare munerapi mana
a woman of wood steals even of a sage the mind

118 The senses are hard to restrain and seize their objects; even a woman made of wood steals the mind of a sage.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Dāru-prakṛti hare munerapi mana — even a woman made of wood can steal the mind of a sage. Therefore a vairāgī must give up all connection with women.

Anubhāṣya.

To take in the five objects — form, sound, smell, taste and touch — is the nature of the five senses: eyes, ears, nose, tongue and skin. Some conditioned souls think themselves able to control the senses, but because they have turned away [from the Lord] (bahirmukhatā), the senses remain untamable for them. When one looks with a desire for enjoyment, the sense object is present before him; so a man of worldly mind, even after taking up the dharma of a muni, is shaken and agitated at the sight of a wooden figure of a woman.

*For one who thinks himself a man, the company of women is forbidden, as fire must be kept from ghee — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 9.19.17 and Manu-saṁhitā 2.215)*

মাত্রা স্বস্রা দুহিত্রা বা নাবিবিক্তাসনো বসেৎ । বলবানিন্দ্রিয়গ্রামো বিদ্বাংসমপি কর্ষতি ॥ ১১৯ ॥

mātrā svasrā duhitrā vā
with mother sister daughter or nā viviktāsano baset
not on a secluded seat should sit balavān indriya-grāmo powerful the host of senses
vidvāṁsam api karṣati
a learned man even drags away

119 “One should not sit in a secluded place even with one’s mother, sister or daughter, for the powerful senses drag away even a learned man.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 9.19.17; Manu-saṁhitā, 2.215)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Never stay in a secluded place with your mother, sister or daughter: the powerful senses can draw away the mind even of a learned man.

Anubhāṣya.

Mahārāja Yayāti, ruled by lust and conquered by a woman, long enjoyed gross worldly objects. At last, realizing that he was ruining himself completely, he became disillusioned (nirveda); describing his own character and conduct to his wife Devayānī, he condemns the company of women:

mātrā (with one's mother) svasrā (with one's sister) duhitrā vā (or with one's daughter) aviviktāsanaḥ (one whose seat is not apart, that is, close beside them) na vaset (one should not stay; there is a variant reading bhavet[10]; for) balavān (possessing great strength) indriya-grāmaḥ (the host of the senses) vidvāṁsam (a man who knows about bondage and liberation) api (even) karṣati (draws, that is, binds him in bondage).

*Once one gives up the concern of pleasing Kṛṣṇa's senses, the unqualified pseudo-vairāgī, conceiving himself a man, enjoys prakṛti; his renunciation rests on outer dress, artificial and unsteady, and so he indulges the tongue, the belly*

and the genitals —

ক্ষুদ্রজীব সব মর্কট-বৈরাগ্য করিয়া । ইন্দ্রিয় চরাঞা বুলে ‘প্রকৃতি’ সম্ভাষিয়া ॥ ১২০ ॥

kṣudra-jīva saba markaṭa-vairāgya kariyā petty souls all monkey renunciation adopting indriya carāñā bule ‘prakṛti’ sambhāṣiyā
the senses letting graze wander with women conversing

120 Petty souls adopt a monkey’s renunciation and wander about, letting their senses graze and conversing with women.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Only one in whom, while he practices sādhana-bhakti, bhāva has awakened and detachment has been born has the right to renunciation. When people take the bhek (the renunciant's dress) before reaching that state, their renunciation is called markaṭa-vairāgya, monkey renunciation. Unqualified souls, for one reason or another, take up renunciation before their time; then, driven by their senses, they go to converse with prakṛti, that is, with women. Know them to be dharma-dhvajīs — those who make a show of dharma — a disgrace to dharma, and keep them far away.

Anubhāṣya.
Markaṭa — from the root mark (known from the sūtras, meaning “to move”) with the suffix aṭan in the agent sense: fickle, unsteady. Indriya carāñā — giving free rein to the senses; bule — wanders. Some make a show of outer renunciation and gather honor from people, yet cannot free their hearts from the desire for worldly enjoyment: they converse with women, think of themselves as “men,” and desire the eight kinds of contact with women. Such a soul, a prākṛta-sahajiyā, can never be called by the word mahat (great). For vividiṣā[11] or dhīra sannyāsīs, the offense of conversing with prakṛti is a cause of special misfortune for themselves. But if someone whose knowledge rests on the senses (an akṣaja-jñānī), through his own misfortune, takes the paramahaṁsa sannyāsīs — the vidvats or narottamas, headed by Śrī Rāmānanda — to be conversing with prakṛti, his fall is inevitable.

Absorbed in anger, the Lord withdraws; everyone falls silent —

এত কহি’ মহাপ্রভু অভ্যন্তরে গেলা । গোসাঞির আবেশ দেখি’ সবে মৌন হৈলা ॥ ১২১ ॥

eta kahi’ mahāprabhu abhyantare gelā
this saying Mahāprabhu inside went gosāñira āveśa dekhi’ sabe mauna hailā of the Lord the agitation seeing all silent became 121 Saying this, Mahāprabhu went inside. Seeing the Lord so stirred, everyone fell silent.

Anubhāṣya.
Āveśa — absorption in anger.

The next day the devotees plead with the Lord for Haridāsa —

আর দিনে সবে মেলি’ প্রভুর চরণে । হরিদাস লাগি’ কিছু কৈলা নিবেদনে ॥ ১২২ ॥

āra dine sabe meli’ prabhura caraṇe
the next day all together at the Lord’s feet
haridāsa lāgi’ kichu kailā nivedane
Haridāsa for the sake of, something made a petition

122 The next day they all came together to the Lord’s feet and made a petition on Haridāsa’s behalf:

অল্প অপরাধ, প্রভু করহ প্রসাদ । এবে শিক্ষা হইল না করিবে অপরাধ ॥ ১২৩ ॥

alpa aparādha, prabhu karaha prasāda small offence O Lord show grace
ebe śikṣā haila nā karibe aparādha
now lesson has been (learned) not he will commit offence

123 "It is a small offence, O Lord; be gracious to him. He has learned his lesson now and will not offend again."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A slight offense. In begging rice from Mādhavī, Choṭa Haridāsa had no other aim; he desired only the joy of serving Mahāprabhu. Yet that act contained an offense. To take the bhek and then converse with a woman again is an offense, and for a vairāgī it is certainly a great offense; but since it was done to serve the Lord, it may also be called "slight."

The impartiality of the Lord, the guru of the world and teacher of the people, and His sternness, harder than a thunderbolt —

প্রভু কহে, — মোর বশ নহে মোর মন । প্রকৃতিসম্ভাষী বৈরাগী না করে দর্শন ॥ ১২৪ ॥

prabhu kahe, — mora vaśa nahe mora mana
the Lord says — My under control is not My mind
prakṛti-sambhāṣī vairāgī nā kare darśana
one who converses with women a renunciant not does seeing 124 The Lord said, "My mind is not under My control: it will not look upon a renunciant who converses with women.

The Lord's stern command —

নিজ-কার্য্যে যাহ সবে, ছাড় বৃথা কথা । পুনঃ যদি কহ আমা না দেখিবে হেথা ॥ ১২৫ ॥

nija-kārye yāha sabe, chāḍa vṛthā kathā
to your own duties go all, give up useless talk punaḥ yadi kaha āmā nā dekhibe hethā
again if you speak Me not you will see here

125 Go, all of you, to your own duties and give up this useless talk. If you speak of it again, you will not see Me here."

Hearing the Lord's words, everyone is frightened and abashed —

এত শুনি' সবে নিজ-কর্ণে হস্ত দিয়া । নিজ-নিজ-কার্য্যে সবে গেল ত' উঠিয়া ॥ ১২৬ ॥

eta śuni' sabe nija-karṇe hasta diyā
this hearing all on their own ears hands placing nija-nija-kārye sabe gela ta' uṭhiyā
to their own duties all went indeed rising

126 Hearing this, everyone covered their ears with their hands, rose and went off to their own duties.

The meaning of the Lord's unfathomable pastime —

মহাপ্রভু মধ্যাহ্ন করিতে চলি' গেলা । বুঝন না যায় এই মহাপ্রভুর লীলা ॥ ১২৭ ॥

mahāprabhu madhyāhna karite cali' gelā Mahāprabhu the midday duties to perform going went bujhana nā yāya ei mahāprabhura līlā
to understand not is possible this Mahāprabhu's pastime

127 Mahāprabhu went off to perform His midday duties. No one can understand this pastime of His.

Paramānanda Purī Gosvāmī pleads with the Lord for Haridāsa —

আর দিন সবে পরমানন্দপুরী-স্থানে । প্রভুকে প্রসন্ন কর — কৈলা নিবেদনে ॥ ১২৮ ॥

āra dina sabe paramānanda-purī-sthāne
the next day all to Paramānanda Purī's place
prabhuke prasanna kara — kailā nivedane
the Lord pleased make — they made a petition

128 The next day they all went to Paramānanda Purī and petitioned him, "Please make the Lord pleased again."

তবে পুরী-গোসাঞি একা প্রভুস্থানে আইলা । নমস্করি' প্রভু তাঁরে সম্ভ্রমে বসাইলা ॥ ১২৯ ॥

tabe purī-gosāñi ekā prabhusthāne āilā
then Purī Gosāñi alone to the Lord came namaskari' prabhu tāṁre sambhrame vasāilā bowing the Lord him with reverence seated

129 Then Purī Gosāñi came alone to the Lord. The Lord bowed to him and seated him with reverence.

পুছিলা, — কি আজ্ঞা? কেনে হৈল আগমন ?
হরিদাসে প্রসাদ লাগি' কৈলা নিবেদন ॥ ১৩০ ॥

puchilā, — ki ājñā? kene haila āgamana?
He asked — what is your order? why has been your coming?
haridāse prasāda lāgi' kailā nivedana
to Haridāsa grace for he made a petition

130 The Lord asked, "What is your order? Why have you come?" Purī Gosāñi petitioned Him to show grace to Haridāsa.

The deeply grave Lord, displeased, threatens to leave Purī and go with Govinda to Ālālanātha —

শুনিয়া কহেন প্রভু, — শুনহ, গোসাঞি । সব বৈষ্ণব লঞা তুমি রহ এই ঠাঞি ॥ ১৩১ ॥

śuniyā kahena prabhu, — śunaha, gosāñi hearing says the Lord — listen Gosāñi saba vaiṣṇava lañā tumi raha ei ṭhāñi
all the Vaiṣṇavas with you stay in this place

131 Hearing this, the Lord said, "Listen, Gosāñi: stay here with all the Vaiṣṇavas, মোরে আজ্ঞা হয়, মুঞি যাঙ আলালনাথ । একলে রহিব তাঁহা, গোবিন্দ-মাত্র সাথ ॥ ১৩২ ॥

more ājñā haya, muñi yāṅa ālālanātha
to Me permission let there be I go to Ālālanātha
ekale rahiba tāṁhā, govinda-mātra sātha alone I will stay there Govinda only with 132 and give Me leave to go to Ālālanātha. I will stay there alone, with only Govinda."

এত বলি' প্রভু যদি গোবিন্দে বোলাইলা । পুরীরে নমস্কার করি' উঠিয়া চলিলা ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

eta bali' prabhu yadi govinde bolāilā this saying the Lord when Govinda called purīre namaskāra kari' uṭhiyā calilā
to Purī obeisance offering rising set off

133 Saying this, the Lord called Govinda, bowed to Purī, rose and set off.

Purī Gosvāmī is abashed and afraid; humbly he brings the Lord back into the house —

আস্তে-ব্যস্তে পুরী-গোসাঞি প্রভু-আগে গেলা । অনুনয় করি' প্রভুরে ঘরে ফিরাইলা ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

āste-vyaste purī-gosāñi prabhu-āge gelā
in great haste Purī Gosāñi the Lord before went anunaya kari' prabhure ghare phirāilā
entreaty making the Lord to the house brought back

134 In great haste Purī Gosāñi went before the Lord and, humbly entreating Him, brought Him back into the house.

Purī praises the Lord and goes back to his own place —

তোমার যে ইচ্ছা, কর, স্বতন্ত্র ঈশ্বর । কেবা কি বলিতে পারে তোমার উপর ? ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

tomāra ye icchā, kara, svatantra īśvara
Your whatever wish do independent Lord
kebā ki balite pāre tomāra upara?
who what to say can You over

135 "Do whatever You wish: You are the independent Lord. Who can tell You anything?

লোক-হিত লাগি' তোমার সব ব্যবহার । আমি সব না জানি গম্ভীর হৃদয় তোমার ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

loka-hita lāgi' tomāra saba vyavahāra
of the people the good for Your all dealings
āmi saba nā jāni gambhīra hṛdaya tomāra
we all not know deep heart Your 136 All Your dealings are for the good of the people. None of us can know Your deep heart."

Their hopes disappointed, the devotees go to Haridāsa —

এত বলি' পুরী-গোসাঞি গেলা নিজ-স্থানে । হরিদাস স্থানে গেলা সব ভক্তগণে ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

eta bali' purī-gosāñi gelā nija-sthāne
this saying Purī Gosāñi went to his own place
haridāsa sthāne gelā saba bhakta-gaṇe
Haridāsa to the place went all the devotees

137 Saying this, Purī Gosāñi went back to his own place, and all the devotees went to Haridāsa.

Svarūpa Gosvāmī gives Haridāsa hope and consolation —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি কহে, — শুন, হরিদাস । সবে তোমার হিত বাঞ্ছিছ, করহ বিশ্বাস ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi kahe, — śuna, haridāsa Svarūpa Gosāñi says — listen Haridāsa sabe tomāra hita vāñchicha, karaha viśvāsa
all your good are wishing, have faith

138 Svarūpa Gosāñi said, "Listen, Haridāsa: we all wish you well — believe this.

প্রভু হঠে পড়িয়াছে স্বতন্ত্র ঈশ্বর । কভু কৃপা করিবেন দয়ালু-অন্তর ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

prabhu haṭhe paḍiyāche svatantra īśvara
the Lord into stubbornness has fallen independent Lord kabhu kṛpā karibena dayālu-antara
sometime mercy He will show merciful at heart

139 The Lord is the independent Supreme Lord, and He has become unbending; but in time He will show you mercy, for His heart is compassionate.

Anubhāṣya.
Haṭha — force, obstinacy.

তুমি হঠ কৈলে তাঁর হঠ সে বাড়িবে । স্নান ভোজন কৈলে, আপনে ক্রোধ যাবে ॥ ১৪০ ॥

tumi haṭha kaile tāṁra haṭha se bāḍibe
you stubbornness if do His stubbornness that will increase snāna bhojana kaile, āpane krodha yābe
bath meal if you take, of itself anger will go

140 If you are stubborn, His stubbornness will only grow. If you bathe and eat, His anger will pass of itself."

এত বলি' তারে স্নান ভোজন করাঞা । আপন-ভবন আইলা তারে আশ্বাসিয়া ॥ ১৪১ ॥

eta bali' tāre snāna bhojana karāñā
this saying him bath meal making him take āpana-bhavana āilā tāre āśvāsiyā
to his own residence came him reassuring

141 Saying this, Svarūpa had him bathe and eat, reassured him, and returned to his own residence.

Haridāsa sees the Lord from afar —

প্রভু যদি যান জগন্নাথ-দরশনে । দূরে রহি' হরিদাস করেন দর্শনে ॥ ১৪২ ॥

prabhu yadi yāna jagannātha-daraśane
the Lord when goes to see Jagannātha dūre rahi' haridāsa karena darśane at a distance staying Haridāsa does seeing

142 Whenever the Lord went to see Jagannātha, Haridāsa would see Him from a distance.

*The supreme compassion of the Lord, the bulwark and armor of dharma —*

মহাপ্রভু — কৃপাসিন্ধু, কে পারে বুঝিতে ?
নিজ-ভক্তে দণ্ড করেন 'ধর্ম্ম' বুঝাইতে ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

mahāprabhu — kṛpā-sindhu, ke pāre bujhite?
Mahāprabhu — an ocean of mercy; who can understand?
nija-bhakte daṇḍa karena 'dharma' bujhāite
His own devotee punishment does dharma to make understood

143 Mahāprabhu is an ocean of mercy — who can understand Him? He punishes His own devotee to make people understand dharma.

Anubhāṣya.
Illicit contact with a woman, cloaked in duplicity, is only one sin among others. Even so, the Lord punished His devotee Haridāsa. He did so to show that the position of a Vaiṣṇava is beyond the three guṇas, transcendental and supreme. He also wished to show that the conduct of the future denizens of hell who follow side religions and false religions (upadharma and apadharma) — the "mixed" (viddha) prākṛta-sahajiyās and their like — rests entirely on the foundation of adharma: it is the complete opposite of pure Vaiṣṇava dharma and has nothing to do with it. Śrī Mādhavī-devī is a mahā-bhāgavata of high standing, and for an associate of the Lord like Haridāsa, to accept rice from her as alms was not an improper act. But in the future many, imitating such an example or model and spreading cunning and duplicity, could preach non-Vaiṣṇava views befitting the people of Kali. To prevent this, Bhagavān — the guru of the world, the teacher of the people — enacted this pastime of punishing Haridāsa. Śrī Gaurasundara is an ocean of extraordinary mercy; precisely because He understood the weakness of the souls of Kali, He imposed so severe a punishment — the loss of His company — and thereby showed the height of His bountiful mercy.

*Seeing Choṭa Haridāsa punished, the sādhakas give up looking at women as objects of enjoyment — with eyes that crave enjoyment, to gratify their senses, out of the conceit of being a "man" and an "enjoyer" —*

দেখি' ত্রাস উপজিল সব-ভক্তগণে । স্বপ্নেহ ছাড়িল সবে স্ত্রী-সম্ভাষণে ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

dekhi' trāsa upajila saba-bhakta-gaṇe
seeing fear arose in all the devotees
svapne-ha chāḍila sabe strī-sambhāṣaṇe
even in dreams gave up all talking with women

144 Seeing this, all the devotees were struck with fear, and even in their dreams they gave up talking with women.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Trāsa upajila saba-bhakta-gaṇe — such fear arose among the devotees wearing the bhek (the sādhakas) that they no longer spoke with any woman.

Anubhāṣya.
Strī-sambhāṣaṇa — the conversation of a worldly man (viṣayī) with a woman when, conceiving himself an enjoyer, a man, he sees her as an object for his senses to enjoy.

Even after a year the Lord remains unshakably impartial —

এইমতে হরিদাসের এক বৎসর গেল । তবু মহাপ্রভুর মনে প্রসাদ নহিল ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

ei-mate haridāsera eka vatsara gela
in this way of Haridāsa one year passed tabu mahāprabhura mane prasāda nahila
yet Mahāprabhu's in the mind grace did not arise

145 In this way a year passed for Haridāsa, yet no grace toward him arose in Mahāprabhu's mind.

Seeing this, Choṭa Haridāsa resolves to attain the Lord's service, comes to Prayāga and gives up his body at the Triveṇī —

রাত্রি-শেষে প্রভুরে দণ্ডবৎ হঞা । প্রয়াগেতে গেল কারেহ কিছু না বলিয়া ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

rātri-śeṣe prabhure daṇḍavat hañā
at the end of the night to the Lord prostrate becoming prayāgete gela kāreha kichu nā baliyā
to Prayāga went to anyone anything not saying

146 At the end of the night he offered prostrate obeisances to the Lord and went to Prayāga without saying anything to anyone.

প্রভুপদপ্রাপ্তি লাগি' সংকল্প করিল । ত্রিবেণী প্রবেশ করি' প্রাণ ছাড়িল ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

prabhu-pada-prāpti lāgi' saṁkalpa karila
the Lord's feet attaining for a resolve made triveṇī praveśa kari' prāṇa chāḍila
the Triveṇī entering making life-breath gave up

147 Resolving to attain the Lord's feet, he entered the Triveṇī and gave up his body.

*In a divine body, unseen, Choṭa Haridāsa serves the Lord by singing kīrtana for Him —*

সেইক্ষণে প্রভুস্থানে দিব্য-দেহে আইলা । প্রভুকৃপা পাঞা অন্তর্দ্ধানেই রহিলা ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

sei-kṣaṇe prabhusthāne divya-dehe āilā
at that very moment to the Lord in a divine body came prabhu-kṛpā pāñā antarddhānei rahilā
the Lord's mercy receiving invisible remained

148 At that very moment he came to the Lord in a divine body; and, having received His mercy, he remained invisible.[8]

গন্ধর্ব্ব-দেহে গান করেন অন্তর্দ্ধানে । রাত্র্যে প্রভুরে, শুনায়, অন্যে নাহি জানে ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

gandharva-dehe gāna karena antarddhāne
in the body of a Gandharva singing does invisibly rātrye prabhure, śunāya, anye nāhi jāne
at night to the Lord makes hear, others not know

149 In the body of a Gandharva he sang invisibly. At night he would let the Lord hear his songs, and no one else knew.

One day the Lord asks the devotees about Haridāsa —

একদিন মহাপ্রভু পুছিলা ভক্তগণে । হরিদাস কাঁহা ? তারে আনহ এখানে ॥ ১৫০ ॥

ekadina mahāprabhu puchilā bhakta-gaṇe
one day Mahāprabhu asked the devotees
haridāsa kāṁhā? tāre ānaha ekhāne
Haridāsa where? him bring here

150 One day Mahāprabhu asked the devotees, “Where is Haridāsa? Bring him here.”

Everyone answers that they know nothing about Haridāsa —

সবে কহে, — হরিদাস বর্ষপূর্ণ দিনে । রাত্রে উঠি’ কাঁহা গেলা, কেহ নাহি জানে ॥ ১৫১ ॥

sabe kahe, — haridāsa varṣa-pūrṇa dine
all say — Haridāsa the full year on the day
rātre uṭhi’ kāṁhā gelā, keha nāhi jāne
at night rising where went, anyone not knows

151 They all said, “On the day the year was completed, Haridāsa rose in the night and went away. No one knows where.”

The Lord smiles; seeing this, the devotees are astonished —

শুনি’ মহাপ্রভু ঈষৎ হাসিয়া রহিলা । সব-ভক্তগণ-মনে বিস্ময় জন্মিলা ॥ ১৫২ ॥

śuni’ mahāprabhu īṣat hāsiyā rahilā hearing Mahāprabhu slightly smiling remained saba-bhakta-gaṇa-mane vismaya janmilā
in the minds of all the devotees wonder was born

152 Hearing this, Mahāprabhu only smiled a little, and all the devotees were filled with wonder.

One day, while bathing in the ocean, Svarūpa, Govinda and other devotees hear the singing of the unseen Haridāsa —

একদিন জগদানন্দ, স্বরূপ, গোবিন্দ ।
কাশীশ্বর, শঙ্কর, দামোদর, মুকুন্দ ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

সমুদ্রস্নানে গেলা সবে, শুনে কথো দূরে । হরিদাস গায়েন, যেন ডাকি’ কণ্ঠস্বরে ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

ekadina jagadānanda, svarūpa, govinda
one day Jagadānanda, Svarūpa, Govinda
kāśīśvara, śaṅkara, dāmodara, mukunda
Kāśīśvara, Śaṅkara, Dāmodara, Mukunda
samudra-snāne gelā sabe, śune katho dūre to bathe in the sea went all, hear some distance away haridāsa gāyena, yena ḍāki’ kaṇṭha-svare
Haridāsa is singing, as if calling out in full voice

153–154 One day Jagadānanda, Svarūpa, Govinda, Kāśīśvara, Śaṅkara, Dāmodara and Mukunda went to bathe in the sea, and some distance away they heard Haridāsa singing, as if calling out at the top of his voice.

মনুষ্য না দেখে, — মধুর গীতমাত্র শুনে । গোবিন্দাদি সবে মেলি' কৈল অনুমানে ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

manuṣya nā dekhe, — madhura gīta-mātra śune
a person not they see — sweet song only they hear govindādi sabe meli' kaila anumāne
Govinda and the others all together made a guess

155 They saw no one; they heard only the sweet song. Govinda and the others together began to guess:

*All but Svarūpa — Govinda and the other devotees — suppose that Haridāsa killed himself and so became a brahma-rākṣasa —*

বিষাদি খাঞা হরিদাস আত্মঘাত কৈল । সেই পাপে জানি 'ব্রহ্মরাক্ষস' হৈল ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

viṣādi khāñā haridāsa ātma-ghāta kaila poison or the like taking Haridāsa self-destruction committed sei pāpe jāni 'brahma-rākṣasa' haila
by that sin we think a brahma-rākṣasa he became 156 "Haridāsa must have taken poison or something like it and killed himself, and by that sin, we think, he has become a brahma-rākṣasa.

আকার না দেখি, মাত্র শুনি তার গান । স্বরূপ কহেন, — এই মিথ্যা অনুমান ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

ākāra nā dekhi, mātra śuni tāra gāna
a form not we see, only we hear his song
svarūpa kahena, — ei mithyā anumāna
Svarūpa says — this false guess

157 We see no form; we only hear his song." Svarūpa said, "This guess is false.

Svarūpa praises Choṭa Haridāsa's virtues and his good destination —

আ-জন্ম কৃষ্ণকীর্ত্তন প্রভুর সেবন । প্রভু-কৃপাপাত্র, আর ক্ষেত্রের মরণ ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

ā-janma kṛṣṇakīrtana prabhura sevana
from birth singing of Kṛṣṇa the Lord's service
prabhu-kṛpāpātra, āra kṣetrera maraṇa
of the Lord's mercy a recipient, and in a holy place passing away

158 From his birth he sang of Kṛṣṇa and served the Lord; he was a recipient of the Lord's mercy, and he left his body in a holy place.

দুর্গতি না হয় তার, সদ্গতি সে হয় । প্রভু-ভঙ্গী এই, পাছে জানিবা নিশ্চয় ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

durgati nā haya tāra, sadgati se haya an evil end not is his, a blessed end that is prabhu-bhaṅgī ei, pāche jānibā niścaya
the Lord's way this, later you will know for certain 159 No evil end can be his; his end is a blessed one. This is the Lord's way — later you will know it for certain."

Śrīvāsa and others learn that Haridāsa gave up his body, from a Vaiṣṇava who has returned from Prayāga to Navadvīpa —

প্রয়াগ হৈতে এক বৈষ্ণব নবদ্বীপ আইল । হরিদাসের বার্ত্তা তেঁহো সবারে কহিল ॥ ১৬০ ॥

prayāga haite eka vaiṣṇava navadvīpa āila Prayāga from a Vaiṣṇava to Navadvīpa came haridāsera vārtā teṁho sabāre kahila of Haridāsa the news he to all told

160 A Vaiṣṇava came from Prayāga to Navadvīpa and told everyone the news of Haridāsa —

যৈছে সংকল্প, যৈছে ত্রিবেণী প্রবেশিল । শুনি' শ্রীবাসাদির মনে বিস্ময় হইল ॥ ১৬১ ॥

yaiche saṁkalpa, yaiche triveṇī praveśila
how the resolve, how the Triveṇī he entered śuni' śrīvāsādira mane vismaya haila hearing of Śrīvāsa and the others in the minds wonder arose

161 how he had made his resolve and how he had entered the Triveṇī. Hearing this, Śrīvāsa and the others were filled with wonder.

The next year the Gauḍīya devotees come to Purī —

বর্ষান্তরে শিবানন্দ সব ভক্ত লঞা । প্রভুরে মিলিলা আসি' আনন্দিত হঞা ॥ ১৬২ ॥

varṣāntare śivānanda saba bhakta lañā
the next year Śivānanda all the devotees bringing prabhure mililā āsi' ānandita hañā
the Lord met coming joyful being 162 The next year Śivānanda brought all the devotees and came, full of joy, to meet the Lord.

Śrīvāsa asks the Lord about Choṭa Haridāsa, and the Lord replies —

হরিদাস কাঁহা ? যদি শ্রীবাস পুছিলা ।
'স্বকর্ম্মফলভুক্ পুমান্' — প্রভু উত্তর দিলা ॥ ১৬৩ ॥

haridāsa kāṁhā? yadi śrīvāsa puchilā Haridāsa where? when Śrīvāsa asked
'sva-karma-phala-bhuk pumān' — prabhu uttara dilā own deeds fruit enjoying a man — the Lord answer gave

163 When Śrīvāsa asked, "Where is Haridāsa?" the Lord answered, "A man reaps the fruit of his own deeds."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Sva-karma-phala-bhuk pumān — a person reaps the fruit of his own actions (those he himself has performed).

Śrīvāsa relates how Choṭa Haridāsa gave up his body —

তবে শ্রীবাস তার বৃত্তান্ত কহিল ।
যৈছে সংকল্প, যৈছে ত্রিবেণী প্রবেশিল ॥ ১৬৪ ॥

tabe śrīvāsa tāra vṛttānta kahila
then Śrīvāsa his story told
yaiche saṁkalpa, yaiche triveṇī praveśila
how the resolve, how the Triveṇī he entered

164 Then Śrīvāsa told his story: how he had made his resolve and how he had entered the Triveṇī.

*The Lord — the protector of true dharma, the guru of the world, the teacher of the people — lays down the rule —*

শুনি' প্রভু হাসি' কহে সুপ্রসন্ন-চিত্ত । প্রকৃতি দর্শন কৈলে এই প্রায়শ্চিত্ত ॥ ১৬৫ ॥

śuni' prabhu hāsi' kahe suprasanna-citta hearing the Lord smiling says with a well-pleased heart prakṛti darśana kaile ei prāyaścitta
a woman looking at if one does this the atonement

165 Hearing this, the Lord smiled and, His heart well pleased, said, "For one who looks at women, this is the atonement."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
If a Vaiṣṇava sādhaka who wears the bhek deliberately looks at women, his atonement is to die by drowning in the Triveṇī, so that in a future birth he may become faultless.

Thus ends the second chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

The fruit of giving up the body at the Triveṇī and other holy places of Viṣṇu —

স্বরূপাদি মিলি' তবে বিচার করিলা । ত্রিবেণী-প্রভাবে হরিদাস প্রভুপাশ আইলা ॥ ১৬৬ ॥

svarūpādi mili' tabe vicāra karilā Svarūpa and the others meeting then deliberation made triveṇī-prabhāve haridāsa prabhu-pāśa āilā
by the power of the Triveṇī Haridāsa to the Lord's side came

166 Then Svarūpa and the others came together and reflected: by the power of the Triveṇī, Haridāsa had come to the Lord.[9]

The Lord's pastimes, an elixir for the hearts and ears of the devotees —

এইমত লীলা করে শচীর নন্দন । যাহা শুনি' ভক্তগণের জুড়ায় কর্ণ-মন ॥ ১৬৭ ॥

ei-mata līlā kare śacīra nandana
in this way pastimes performs of Śacī the son yāhā śuni' bhakta-gaṇera juḍāya karṇa-mana which hearing of the devotees are soothed ears and minds

167 Such are the pastimes of the son of Śacī: to hear of them soothes the devotees' ears and hearts.

What the pastime of the Lord punishing Choṭa Haridāsa teaches —

আপন-কারুণ্য, লোকে বৈরাগ্য-শিক্ষণ । স্বভক্তের গাঢ়-অনুরাগ-প্রকটীকরণ ॥ ১৬৮ ॥

āpana-kāruṇya, loke vairāgya-śikṣaṇa
His own compassion, to the people the teaching of renunciation svabhaktera gāḍha-anurāga-prakaṭīkaraṇa
of His own devotee of the deep love the revealing

168 In this pastime the Lord showed His compassion, taught the world renunciation and revealed the deep love of His own devotee.

তীর্থের মহিমা, নিজ-ভক্তে আত্মসাৎ । এক লীলায় করেন প্রভু কার্য্য পাঁচ-সাত ॥ ১৬৯ ॥

tīrthera mahimā, nija-bhakte ātmasāt of the holy place the glory, His own devotee making His own
eka līlāya karena prabhu kārya pāṁca-sāta
by one pastime does the Lord purposes five or seven 169 He showed the glory of the holy place, and He made His devotee His own. Through a single pastime the Lord accomplishes five or seven purposes.

Anubhāṣya.

A sādhaka who desires pure service to Gaura-Kṛṣṇa should take note of the following lessons that Mahāprabhu taught through the pastime of punishing Choṭa Haridāsa.

1. Bhagavān Gaurasundara, supremely merciful to the jīvas, openly rejected even His own associate and devotee Choṭa Haridāsa. Had the Lord not rejected him, the weak souls of the age of Kali would have received improper indulgence: they would have taken prākṛta-sahajiyā-ism and other material false and side religions to be “Vaiṣṇava dharma” and would have gone on rotting in hell. That would not have revealed the Lord's mercy.

2. By imposing this punishment, the Lord taught everyone what the position of a preaching Vaiṣṇava ācārya should be, and what the position of a devotee who keeps the rules of conduct should be.

3. A devotee of Bhagavān should serve Gaura while leading a pure, simple and sinless life. It is this kind of “renunciation” — giving up the enjoyment of everything other than Kṛṣṇa — that Mahāprabhu taught the jīva.

4. The Lord showed how lofty and attractive an ideal is the spotless character of His devotees; how He accepts (pure) true devotees as His own; and what poisonous fruit is born of even a shadow of attachment to what is not Kṛṣṇa.

5. The Lord wished to show how great His bountiful mercy toward Haridāsa was — shown in the punishment — and how great Haridāsa's desire to serve the Lord, his deep love (anurāga), was. So He would not tolerate even his slightest fault. If pure devotees who long to serve wish to become objects of the Lord's deep love, they must give up in every way all craving for worldly sense pleasure; otherwise Śrī Gaurahari does not accept them.

6. If someone gives up his body at Prayāga or another holy place of Viṣṇu, he is cleansed of offenses and the like, becomes liberated, and attains sukṛti and a good destination.

7. To teach the people, the Lord did not accept His devotee Haridāsa. But later He accepted his service — hearing kīrtana of Kṛṣṇa from his mouth — and so accepted him as His own devotee.

Only a wise and sincere person who longs to serve Kṛṣṇa and firmly strives to give up bad association is qualified to grasp the inner meaning of the profound pastimes of Kṛṣṇa Caitanya —

মধুর চৈতন্যলীলা — সমুদ্র-গম্ভীর । লোকে নাহি বুঝে, বুঝে যেই ‘ভক্ত’ ‘ধীর’ ॥ ১৭০ ॥

madhura caitanya-līlā — samudra-gambhīra
sweet Caitanya's pastimes — deep as the ocean
loke nāhi bujhe, bujhe yei 'bhakta' 'dhīra'
people not understand, understands one who a devotee, steady

170 The sweet pastimes of Caitanya are as deep as the ocean. People in general do not understand them; only one who is a devotee and steady in mind understands.

*The author asks everyone to give up the path of argument and, taking shelter of the path of hearing (śrauta-patha), to hear the transcendental pastimes of Caitanya —*

বিশ্বাস করিয়া শুন চৈতন্যচরিত । তর্ক না করিহ, তর্কে হবে বিপরীত ॥ ১৭১ ॥

viśvāsa kariyā śuna caitanya-carita faith having hear Caitanya's deeds
tarka nā kariha, tarke habe viparīta argument not make, by argument will be the opposite

171 Hear the deeds of Caitanya with faith. Do not argue: argument will bring the opposite result.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the second chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১৭২ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

172 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. This same verse opens Antya 3. ↩
2. The three means: direct sight (sākṣāt-darśana), entering (āveśa) and appearance (āvirbhāva). The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads kāṅhā, kāṅhā, "in some places… in others". ↩
3. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads nija-śakti, "His own power" (another reading: nija-bhakti). ↩
4. The first line is the same as in Ādi 13.30 and Madhya 7.101. ↩
5. The dishes are those Nṛsiṁhānanda had cooked (cf. 77). ↩
6. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads jīvajñāna, 'the notion of the jīva' (another reading is jīvājñāna, 'the ignorance of the jīva'): according to Māyāvāda, the jīva has no real existence and is only a figment of ignorance (Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya). ↩
7. māgiyā ānilā, 'was begged and brought': the Ācārya does not say that he begged it himself, which is why the Lord asks who went for it (v. 111). ↩
8. prabhu-kṛpā pāñā antarddhānei rahilā, 'having received the Lord's mercy, he remained invisible': the mercy came first, and Haridāsa stayed unseen (the order of the Gauḍīya Maṭha text). ↩
9. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads prabhu-pāśa āilā, 'came to the Lord' (another reading is prabhu-pada pāilā, 'attained the Lord's feet'): by the power of the Triveṇī, Haridāsa came to Mahāprabhu in a divine body (cf. v. 148). ↩
10. The edition's verse reads vaset (checked against the scan; so also in the verse text of our translation); the variant bhavet is noted in Bhaktisiddhānta's own comment. ↩
11. The edition reads vivitsā (checked against the scan); the sense is probably vividiṣā (the desire to know), as in the pair vividiṣā- and vidvat-sannyāsa. ↩

“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 3

An Account of the Glories of Śrī Haridāsa Ṭhākura

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. In Puruṣottama a beautiful young brāhmaṇa woman had a very handsome son. Seeing him come to Mahāprabhu every day, Dāmodara Paṇḍita said, “If You show affection to the boy, people will suspect Your character.” Hearing this, Mahāprabhu one day appointed Dāmodara to look after His mother in Śrī Navadvīpa and said, “From time to time I go to My mother and eat there — remind her of this.” Dāmodara took mahā-prasāda and other things and went to Navadvīpa. After this, one day Mahāprabhu asked Brahmā Haridāsa, “How will all the yavanas be delivered in the age of Kali?” In reply Haridāsa spoke of the glory of loud saṅkīrtana and concluded that everyone will be delivered even by the semblance of the holy name (nāmābhāsa). At this point, setting out to describe the Ṭhākura's earlier life, Kavirāja Gosvāmī told of the prostitute whom Rāmacandra Khān — an atheist (pāṣaṇḍa) and an unworthy brāhmaṇa (brahma-bandhu) — sent to Haridāsa in the forest near Benāpola, and who was delivered by Haridāsa's mercy. He also describes the ruin that befell Rāmacandra Khān for his offense against a Vaiṣṇava and later through the curse of Nityānanda Prabhu. Coming from Benāpola to Cāḍapura, Haridāsa stayed in the house of Balarāma Ācārya. Next is described the discussion of the truth of the holy name (nāma-tattva) held in the assembly of Hiraṇya and Govardhana Majumadāra between Haridāsa Ṭhākura and a brāhmaṇa named Gopāla Cakravartī, a revenue agent (ārindā); also described is the punishment — leprosy — that Gopāla Cakravartī received for offending Haridāsa. From Cāḍapura Haridāsa went to Śāntipura and stayed in the Ācārya's house. There Māyā-devī came to beguile him, and by Haridāsa's mercy she received the name of Kṛṣṇa.

বন্দেঽহং শ্রীগুরোঃ শ্রীযুতপদকমলং শ্রীগুরূন্ বৈষ্ণবাংশ্চ
শ্রীরূপং সাগ্রজাতং সহগণরঘুনাথান্বিতং তং সজীবম্ ।
সাদ্বৈতং সাবধূতং পরিজনসহিতং কৃষ্ণচৈতন্যদেবং
শ্রীরাধাকৃষ্ণপাদান্ সহগণললিতা-শ্রীবিশাখান্বিতাংশ্চ ॥ ১ ॥

vande ’haṁ śrī-guroḥ śrī-yuta-pada-
I bow down of my śrī guru to the beautiful feet-

kamalaṁ śrī-gurūn vaiṣṇavāṁś ca
-lotus to the śrī gurus to the Vaiṣṇavas and

śrī-rūpaṁ sāgrajātaṁ saha-gaṇato Śrī Rūpa with his elder brother with the companions

raghunāthānvitaṁ taṁ sa-jīvam
with Raghunātha to him with Jīva

sādvaitaṁ sāvadhūtaṁ parijanawith Advaita with the Avadhūta with His associates

sahitaṁ kṛṣṇa-caitanya-devaṁ
together to Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva

śrī-rādhā-kṛṣṇa-pādān saha-gaṇa-of Śrī Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa to the feet with Their companions

lalitā-śrī-viśākhānvitāṁś ca with Lalitā and Śrī Viśākhā and

1 I bow down to the beautiful lotus feet of my guru, to all the gurus and to the Vaiṣṇavas. I bow down to Śrī Rūpa, together with his elder brother, Sanātana, with his companions and Raghunātha, and with Jīva; to Śrī Kṛṣṇa

Caitanyadeva, together with Advaita, with the Avadhūta, Nityānanda, and with all His associates; and to the feet of Śrī Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa, together with Lalitā and Śrī Viśākhā and their companions.[1]

Anubhāṣya.
See Antya 2.1.

জয় জয় গৌরচন্দ্র জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya gauracandra jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Gauracandra glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaitacandra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory of Gaura the devotees to the multitude

2 Glory, glory to Gauracandra! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura![2]

The Lord's causeless mercy and affection toward the handsome, greatly fortunate son of a brāhmaṇa widow —

পুরুষোত্তমে এক ওড়িয়া-ব্রাহ্মণকুমার । পিতৃশূন্য, মহাসুন্দর, মৃদু-ব্যবহার ॥ ৩ ॥

puruṣottame eka oḍiyā-brāhmaṇa-kumāra
in Puruṣottama one Oriyā brāhmaṇa boy pitṛśūnya, mahāsundara, mṛdu-vyavahāra
fatherless very handsome gentle in manner

3 In Puruṣottama there lived an Oriyā brāhmaṇa boy, fatherless, very handsome and gentle in his manner.

প্রভু-স্থানে নিত্য আইসে, করে নমস্কার । প্রভু-সনে বাত্ কহে, প্রভু-‘প্রাণ’ তার ॥ ৪ ॥

prabhu-sthāne nitya āise, kare namaskāra
to the Lord’s place daily he comes makes obeisance
prabhu-sane bāt kahe, prabhu-‘prāṇa’ tāra with the Lord talk he speaks the Lord ‘life’ his

4 Every day he came to the Lord and offered Him obeisance. He would talk with the Lord, for the Lord was his very ‘life’.

This was not to Dāmodara Paṇḍita's liking —

প্রভুতে তাহার প্রীতি, প্রভু দয়া করে । দামোদর তার প্রীতি সহিতে না পারে ॥ ৫ ॥

prabhute tāhāra prīti, prabhu dayā kare
for the Lord his affection the Lord kindness shows
dāmodara tāra prīti sahite nā pāre Dāmodara his affection to tolerate not could

5 The boy loved the Lord, and the Lord was kind to him; but Dāmodara could not tolerate the boy’s affection.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Dāmodara: Dāmodara Paṇḍita.

Despite Dāmodara's objections, the brāhmaṇa boy is attached to the Lord —

বার বার নিষেধ করে ব্রাহ্মণকুমারে । প্রভুরে না দেখিলে সেই রহিতে না পারে ॥ ৬ ॥

bāra bāra niṣedha kare brāhmaṇa-kumāre
again and again forbidding does the brāhmaṇa boy prabhure nā dekhile sei rahite nā pāre
the Lord not seeing he to remain not could

6 Again and again he forbade the brāhmaṇa boy to come, but the boy could not stay away without seeing the Lord.

As is natural for a child, he comes every day to the affectionate Lord —

নিত্য আইসে, প্রভু তারে করে মহাপ্রীত । যাঁহা প্রীতি তাঁহা আইসে, — বালকের রীত ॥ ৭ ॥

nitya āise, prabhu tāre kare mahā-prīta
daily he comes the Lord him treats with great affection
yāṁhā prīti tāṁhā āise, — bālakera rīta
where affection there he comes of a child the way

7 He came every day, and the Lord treated him with great affection. A child goes where he is loved — such is the way of children.

Dāmodara's dilemma —

তাহা দেখি' দামোদর দুঃখ পায় মনে । বলিতে না পারে, বালক নিষেধ না মানে ॥ ৮ ॥

tāhā dekhi' dāmodara duḥkha pāya mane
that seeing Dāmodara distress feels in his mind
balite nā pāre, bālaka niṣedha nā māne
to say not could the boy the prohibition not heeds

8 Seeing this, Dāmodara was troubled at heart, yet he could say nothing more, for the boy would not heed his prohibition.

One day the boy leaves the Lord and goes home —

আর দিন সেই বালক প্রভুস্থানে আইলা । গোসাঞি তারে প্রীতি করি' বার্ত্তা পুছিলা ॥ ৯ ॥

āra dina sei bālaka prabhusthāne āilā another day that boy to the Lord's place came gosāñi tāre prīti kari' vārtā puchilā
the Lord him affection showing news asked

9 One day the boy came to the Lord again, and the Lord affectionately asked him how he was.

কতক্ষণে সে বালক উঠি' যবে গেলা । সহিতে না পারে, দামোদর কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১০ ॥

kata-kṣaṇe se bālaka uṭhi' yabe gelā
after some time that boy getting up when left sahite nā pāre, dāmodara kahite lāgilā
to bear not could Dāmodara to speak began

10 After a while, when the boy got up and left, Dāmodara could bear it no longer and began to speak.

The impatient Dāmodara reproaches the Lord and criticizes His conduct —

অন্যোপদেশে পণ্ডিত — কহে গোসাঞির ঠাঞি ।
'গোসাঞি' 'গোসাঞি' এবে জানিমু 'গোসাঞি' ॥ ১১ ॥

anyopadeśe paṇḍita — kahe gosāñira ṭhāñi
in instructing others a paṇḍita he says to the Lord
'gosāñi' 'gosāñi' ebe jānimu 'gosāñi'
'Gosāñi' 'Gosāñi' now we shall know 'Gosāñi'

11 He said to the Lord, "When it comes to instructing others, You are a paṇḍita, and everyone hails You, 'Gosāñi! Gosāñi!' Now we shall see what kind of Gosāñi You are.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Dāmodara Paṇḍita says to Mahāprabhu: "When it comes to instructing others, You are a paṇḍita, and everyone calls You 'Gosāñi, Gosāñi' (ācārya). Now it will become clear how You remain a Gosāñi."

এবে গোসাঞির গুণ সব লোকে গাইবে । গোসাঞি-প্রতিষ্ঠা সব পুরুষোত্তমে হইবে ॥ ১২ ॥

ebe gosāñira guṇa saba loke gāibe
now of the Gosāñi the qualities all people will sing
gosāñi-pratiṣṭhā saba puruṣottame haibe
the Gosāñi's reputation all over in Puruṣottama will be 12 Now all the people will sing the Gosāñi's qualities, and the Gosāñi's fame will spread all over Puruṣottama!"

Showing the Lord respect, Dāmodara rebukes and admonishes Him —

শুনি' প্রভু কহে, — ক্যা কহ, দামোদর ?
দামোদর কহে, — তুমি স্বতন্ত্র 'ঈশ্বর' ॥ ১৩ ॥

śuni' prabhu kahe, — kyā kaha, dāmodara?
hearing the Lord says what are you saying Dāmodara
dāmodara kahe, — tumi svatantra 'īśvara'
Dāmodara says You independent the 'Lord'

13 Hearing this, the Lord said, "What are you saying, Dāmodara?" Dāmodara said, "You are the independent Lord.

স্বচ্ছন্দে আচার কর, কে পারে বলিতে ?
মুখর জগতের মুখ পার আচ্ছাদিতে ॥ ১৪ ॥

svacchande ācāra kara, ke pāre balite?
as You please conduct You do who can to speak
mukhara jagatera mukha pāra ācchādite
talkative of the world the mouth can You to cover

14 You behave as You please — who can say anything to You? But can You stop the mouths of a talkative world?

পণ্ডিত হঞা মনে কেনে বিচার না কর ?
রাণ্ডীব্রাহ্মণীর বালকে প্রীতি কেনে কর ? ॥ ১৫ ॥

paṇḍita hañā mane kene vicāra nā kara?
a paṇḍita being in Your mind why consideration not You do rāṇḍībrāhmaṇīra bālake prīti kene kara?
of the widowed brāhmaṇī to the boy affection why You show

15 You are a paṇḍita — why do You not consider this? Why do You show such affection to the son of a widowed brāhmaṇī?

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Rāṇḍī: a widow.

যদ্যপি ব্রাহ্মণী সেই তপস্বিনী সতী । তথাপি তাহার দোষ — সুন্দরী যুবতী ॥ ১৬ ॥

yadyapi brāhmaṇī sei tapasvinī satī
although the brāhmaṇī she austere chaste tathāpi tāhāra doṣa — sundarī yuvatī still her fault beautiful young

16 Although that brāhmaṇī is austere and chaste, she has one fault: she is young and beautiful.

তুমিহ — পরম-যুবা, পরম-সুন্দর । লোকের কাণাকাণি-বাতে দেহ অবসর ॥ ১৭ ॥

tumi-ha — parama-yuvā, parama-sundara
You too very young very handsome lokera kāṇākāṇi-bāte deha avasara to people's whispering talk You give occasion

17 And You too are very young and very handsome. You are giving people occasion for gossip."

Hearing Dāmodara's chastising words, the Lord reflects within —

এত বলি' দামোদর মৌন হইলা । অন্তরে সন্তোষ প্রভু হাসি' বিচারিলা ॥ ১৮ ॥

eta bali' dāmodara mauna hailā
this saying Dāmodara silent became antare santoṣa prabhu hāsi' vicārilā within pleased the Lord smiling reflected

18 Having said this, Dāmodara fell silent. The Lord, pleased at heart, smiled and reflected:

ইহারে কহিয়ে শুদ্ধপ্রেমের তরঙ্গ । দামোদর-সম মোর নাহি 'অন্তরঙ্গ' ॥ ১৯ ॥

ihāre kahiye śuddha-premera taraṅga
this I call of pure love a wave
dāmodara-sama mora nāhi 'antaraṅga'
like Dāmodara My there is not 'intimate associate'

19 "This is what I call a wave of pure love. I have no intimate associate like Dāmodara."

এতেক বিচারি' প্রভু মধ্যাহ্নে চলিলা । আর দিনে দামোদরে নিভৃতে বোলাইলা ॥ ২০ ॥

eteka vicāri' prabhu madhyāhne calilā thus reflecting the Lord for the midday duties went āra dine dāmodare nibhṛte bolāilā
the next day Dāmodara in private He called

20 Reflecting thus, the Lord went to attend to His midday duties. The next day He called Dāmodara to Him in private.

The Lord sends the Paṇḍita to Navadvīpa to look after and protect Śacīmātā —

প্রভু কহে, — দামোদর, চলহ নদীয়া । মাতার সমীপে তুমি রহ তাঁহা যাঞা ॥ ২১ ॥

prabhu kahe, — dāmodara, calaha nadīyā
the Lord says Dāmodara go to Nadīyā
mātāra samīpe tumi raha tāṁhā yāñā of My mother near you stay there going

21 The Lord said, "Dāmodara, go to Nadīyā and stay there near My mother.

The Lord's praise of Dāmodara in the guise of blame —

তোমা বিনা তাঁহার রক্ষক নাহি আন । আমাকেহ যাতে তুমি কৈলা সাবধান ॥ ২২ ॥

tomā vinā tāṁhāra rakṣaka nāhi āna
you except her protector there is not other āmākeha yāte tumi kailā sāvadhāna
even Me since you made cautious

22 She has no protector other than you, for you have cautioned even Me.

তোমা-সম 'নিরপেক্ষ' নাহি মোর গণে ।
'নিরপেক্ষ' নহিলে 'ধর্ম্ম' না যায় রক্ষণে ॥ ২৩ ॥

tomā-sama 'nirapekṣa' nāhi mora gaṇe
like you 'impartial' there is not among My associates
'nirapekṣa' nahile 'dharma' nā yāya rakṣaṇe
'impartial' without being 'dharma' not can be protected

23 Among My associates there is no one as impartial (nirapekṣa) as you, and without impartiality dharma cannot be protected.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The guardians of dharma must be impartial (nirapekṣa); that is, they must not let any regard for public opinion hold dharma back.

আমা হৈতে যে না হয়, সে তোমা হৈতে হয় । আমারে করিলা দণ্ড, আন কেবা হয় ॥ ২৪ ॥

āmā haite ye nā haya, se tomā haite haya
Me from what not happens that you from happens
āmāre karilā daṇḍa, āna kebā haya
Me you made chastisement others who are 24 What I cannot do, you can. You have chastised even Me — what then of anyone else?

Anubhāṣya.

ye nā haya, se (what does not come about [from Me]): the impartiality that is not maintained [by Me].

মাতার গৃহে রহ যাই' মাতার চরণে । তোমার আগে নাহি কারো স্বচ্ছন্দাচরণে ॥ ২৫ ॥

mātāra gṛhe raha yāi' mātāra caraṇe of My mother in the house stay going of My mother at the feet
tomāra āge nāhi kāro svacchandācaraṇe
you before there is not of anyone willful behaviour

25 Go and stay in My mother's house, at her feet. Before you no one will dare to behave as he pleases.

মধ্যে মধ্যে আসিবা কভু আমার দরশনে । শীঘ্র করি' পুনঃ তাঁহা করহ গমনে ॥ ২৬ ॥

madhye madhye āsibā kabhu āmāra daraśane from time to time you will come sometimes Me to see śīghra kari' punaḥ tāṁhā karaha gamane quickly doing again there make going

26 From time to time you may come to see Me, but then go back there quickly.

The Lord's order to please Śacīmātā, full of pure parental affection for Gaura, by telling her of His happiness —

মাতারে কহিহ মোর কোটী নমস্কারে । মোর সুখ-কথা কহি' সুখ দিহ' তাঁরে ॥ ২৭ ॥

mātāre kahiha mora koṭī namaskāre
to My mother convey My millions of obeisances
mora sukha-kathā kahi' sukha diha' tāṁre
My happy news telling happiness give to her

27 Convey to My mother My obeisances millions of times, and gladden her by telling her how happy I am.

নিরন্তর নিজ-কথা তোমারে শুনাইতে । এই লাগি' প্রভু মোরে পাঠাইলা ইহাঁতে ॥ ২৮ ॥

nirantara nija-kathā tomāre śunāite constantly His own news to you to tell ei lāgi' prabhu more pāṭhāilā ihāṁte
for this reason the Lord me sent here

28 Tell her: 'The Lord has sent me here so that I may always bring you news of Him.'

এত কহি' মাতার মনে সন্তোষ জন্মাইহ । আর গুহ্যকথা তাঁরে স্মরণ করাইহ ॥ ২৯ ॥

eta kahi' mātāra mane santoṣa janmāiha
this saying of My mother in the mind satisfaction produce āra guhya-kathā tāṁre smaraṇa karāiha
and a confidential matter her remembrance cause

29 Saying this, bring satisfaction to My mother's heart. And remind her of a confidential matter:

The Lord's appearance in His mother's house and His pastime of eating —

বারে বারে আসি’ আমি তোমার ভবনে । মিষ্টান্ন ব্যঞ্জন সব করিয়ে ভোজনে ॥ ৩০ ॥

bāre bāre āsi’ āmi tomāra bhavane
again and again coming I to your house
miṣṭānna vyañjana saba kariye bhojane sweets vegetable dishes all I do eating

30 ‘Again and again I come to your house and eat all the sweets and vegetable dishes.

ভোজন করিয়ে আমি, তুমি তাহা জান । বাহ্য বিরহে তাহা স্ফূর্ত্তি করি’ মান ॥ ৩১ ॥

bhojana kariye āmi, tumi tāhā jāna eating do I you that know
bāhya virahe tāhā sphūrti kari’ māna external in separation that a vision as you consider

31 I do eat them, and you know it; but in the external state of separation you take it to be only a vision (sphūrti).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
When your vision turns outward to the world, you do, it is true, feel that this is only a vision (sphūrti) — “Nimāi came into my memory.” But in truth I come to you and eat the rice, the vegetable dishes and the rest.

Anubhāṣya.
Although, because of separation, you do not see Me directly with your outward vision, as you behold My pastime of eating, overwhelmed by deep maternal love you err in thinking that you are only, as it were, experiencing Me face to face.

To make Śacī believe, the Lord describes what happened one day —

এই মাঘ-সংক্রান্ত্যে তুমি রন্ধন করিলা ।
নানা ব্যঞ্জন, ক্ষীর, পিঠা, পায়স রান্ধিলা ॥ ৩২ ॥

ei māgha-saṁkrāntye tumi randhana karilā
this at the Māgha-saṅkrānti you cooking did nānā vyañjana, kṣīra, piṭhā, pāyasa rāndhilā various vegetable dishes condensed milk cakes sweet rice you cooked

32 At this last Māgha-saṅkrānti you cooked many vegetable dishes, condensed milk, cakes and sweet rice.

কৃষ্ণে ভোগ লাগাঞা যবে কৈলা ধ্যান । আমার স্ফূর্ত্তি হৈল, অশ্রু ভরিল নয়ন ॥ ৩৩ ॥

kṛṣṇe bhoga lāgāñā yabe kailā dhyāna
to Kṛṣṇa the food offering when you did meditation
āmāra sphūrti haila, aśru bharila nayana
of Me a vision occurred tears filled the eyes

33 When you had offered the food to Kṛṣṇa and were meditating, I appeared to you, and your eyes filled with tears.

আস্তে-ব্যস্তে আমি গিয়া সকলি খাইল । আমি খাই, — দেখি’ তোমার সুখ উপজিল ॥ ৩৪ ॥

āste-vyaste āmi giyā sakali khāila hastily I going everything ate āmi khāi, — dekhi' tomāra sukha upajila
I eat seeing your happiness arose

34 I went in haste and ate everything, and when you saw Me eating, joy arose in you.

ক্ষণেকে অশ্রু মুছিয়া শূন্য দেখি' পাত । স্বপ্ন দেখিলুঁ, যেন নিমাঞি খাইল ভাত ॥ ৩৫ ॥

kṣaṇeke aśru muchiyā śūnya dekhi' pāta
after a moment tears wiping empty seeing the plate svapna dekhiluṁ, yena nimāñi khāila bhāta
a dream I saw as if Nimāi ate the rice

35 A moment later, wiping your tears, you saw that the plate was empty and thought, "I have had a dream that Nimāi ate the rice."

বাহ্য-বিরহ-দশায় পুনঃ ভ্রান্তি হৈল । ভোগ না লাগাইলুঁ, — এই জ্ঞান হৈল ॥ ৩৬ ॥

bāhya-viraha-daśāya punaḥ bhrānti haila
in the state of external separation again confusion came bhoga nā lāgāiluṁ, — ei jñāna haila
the food not I offered this thought came

36 In that state of external separation you were confused again and thought, "I have not offered the food."

পাকপাত্রে দেখিলা, সব অন্ন আছে ভরি' । পুনঃ ভোগ লাগাইলা, স্থান-সংস্কার করি' ॥ ৩৭ ॥

pāka-pātre dekhilā, saba anna āche bhari'
in the cooking pots you saw all the food is filled punaḥ bhoga lāgāilā, sthāna-saṁskāra kari'
again the food you offered the place cleansing having done

37 You looked in the cooking pots and saw that they were all full of food. So, having cleansed the place, you offered the food again.

Śacīmātā's pure parental love for Gaura —

এইমত বার বার করিয়ে ভোজন । তোমার শুদ্ধপ্রেমে মোরে করে আকর্ষণ ॥ ৩৮ ॥

ei-mata bāra bāra kariye bhojana
in this way again and again I do eating tomāra śuddha-preme more kare ākarṣaṇa your by pure love Me does attracting 38 In this way I eat again and again; your pure love draws Me.

The Lord's words showing His incomparable devotion to His mother —

তোমার আজ্ঞাতে আমি আছি নীলাচলে । নিকটে লঞা যাও আমা তোমার প্রেমবলে ॥ ৩৯ ॥

tomāra ājñāte āmi āchi nīlācale
by your order I am in Nīlācala nikaṭe lañā yāo āmā tomāra prema-bale near taking you go Me of your love by the power

39 It is by your order that I stay in Nīlācala, yet by the power of your love you bring Me to your side.'

এইমত বার বার করাইহ স্মরণ । মোর নাম লঞা তাঁর বন্দিহ চরণ ॥ ৪০ ॥

ei-mata bāra bāra karāiha smaraṇa
in this way again and again cause remembrance
mora nāma lañā tāṁra vandiha caraṇa
My name taking her worship feet

40 Remind her in this way again and again, and worship her feet in My name."

এত কহি' জগন্নাথের প্রসাদ আনাইলা । মাতাকে, বৈষ্ণবে দিতে পৃথক্ পৃথক্ দিলা ॥ ৪১ ॥

eta kahi' jagannāthera prasāda ānāilā
this saying of Jagannātha the prasāda had brought mātāke, vaiṣṇave dite pṛthak pṛthak dilā to His mother to the Vaiṣṇavas to give separately separately He gave 41 Saying this, the Lord had Jagannātha's prasāda brought and gave it to him in separate portions for His mother and for the Vaiṣṇavas.

*Dāmodara comes to Navadvīpa and gives the mahā-prasāda he has brought to Śacī, Advaita and the other devotees —*

তবে দামোদর চলি' নদীয়া আইলা । মাতারে মিলিয়া তাঁর চরণে রহিলা ॥ ৪২ ॥

tabe dāmodara cali' nadīyā āilā then Dāmodara going to Nadīyā came mātāre miliyā tāṁra caraṇe rahilā
the mother meeting her at the feet he remained

42 Then Dāmodara set out and came to Nadīyā. He met the Lord's mother and remained at her feet.

আচার্য্যাদি বৈষ্ণবেরে মহাপ্রসাদ দিলা । প্রভুর যৈছে আজ্ঞা, পণ্ডিত তাহা আচরিলা ॥ ৪৩ ॥

ācāryādi vaiṣṇavere mahā-prasāda dilā to the Ācārya and others to the Vaiṣṇavas mahā-prasāda he gave prabhura yaiche ājñā, paṇḍita tāhā ācarilā
of the Lord as the order the Paṇḍita that carried out

43 He gave the mahā-prasāda to the Ācārya (Advaita) and the other Vaiṣṇavas. Just as the Lord had ordered, so the Paṇḍita did.

*In Navadvīpa Dāmodara establishes proper conduct (maryādā) by strict discipline; everyone fears him —*

দামোদর-আগে স্বাতন্ত্র্য না হয় কাহার । তার ভয়ে সবে করে সঙ্কোচ ব্যবহার ॥ ৪৪ ॥

dāmodara-āge svātantrya nā haya kāhāra Dāmodara before independence not is of anyone tāra bhaye sabe kare saṅkoca vyavahāra
of him out of fear all do restrained behaviour

44 Before Dāmodara no one dared to act independently; out of fear of him everyone behaved with restraint.

প্রভুগণে যাঁর দেখে অল্পমর্য্যাদা-লঙ্ঘন । বাক্যদণ্ড করি' করে মর্য্যাদা স্থাপন ॥ ৪৫ ॥

prabhu-gaṇe yāṁra dekhe alpa-maryādā-laṅghana
among the Lord's associates of whom he sees slight propriety transgression
vākya-daṇḍa kari' kare maryādā sthāpana with words chastisement making makes propriety establishment

45 Whenever he saw any of the Lord's associates commit even a slight breach of propriety, he chastised him with words and so established proper conduct.

*Hearing how Dāmodara chastised with words destroys cheating (kaitava) — the desire for one's own sense gratification — and offenses —*

এই ত' কহিল দামোদরের বাক্যদণ্ড । যাহার শ্রবণে ভাগে 'অজ্ঞান' 'পাষণ্ড' ॥ ৪৬ ॥

ei ta' kahila dāmodarera vākya-daṇḍa
this indeed I have told of Dāmodara chastisement with words yāhāra śravaṇe bhāge 'ajñāna' 'pāṣaṇḍa'
whose by hearing flee 'ignorance' 'atheism'

46 Thus I have told of Dāmodara's chastisement with words; by hearing of it, ignorance and unbelief (pāṣaṇḍa) flee.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhāge: runs away.

Caitanya's pastimes are full of the deepest mystery —

চৈতন্যের লীলা — গম্ভীর, কোটিসমুদ্র হৈতে । কি লাগি' কি করে, কেহ না পারে বুঝিতে ॥ ৪৭ ॥

caitanyera līlā — gambhīra, koṭi-samudra haite of Caitanya the pastimes deep millions of oceans than ki lāgi' ki kare, keha nā pāre bujhite
for what reason what He does anyone not can understand

47 Caitanya's pastimes are deeper than millions of oceans. No one can understand what He does or why.

অতএব গূঢ় অর্থ কিছুই না জানি । বাহ্য অর্থ করিবারে করি টানাটানি ॥ ৪৮ ॥

ataeva gūḍha artha kichui nā jāni
therefore the hidden meaning anything not I know bāhya artha karibāre kari ṭānāṭāni
external meaning to make I make great effort

48 Therefore I know nothing of their hidden meaning; I struggle even to give them an outward meaning.

The conversation between the Lord and Haridāsa: the Lord's question and Haridāsa's answer —

একদিন প্রভু হরিদাসেরে মিলিলা । তাঁহা লঞা গোষ্ঠী করি' তাঁহারে পুছিলা ॥ ৪৯ ॥

ekadina prabhu haridāsere mililā
one day the Lord Haridāsa met tāṁhā lañā goṣṭhī kari' tāṁhāre puchilā him with conversation making him asked

49 One day the Lord met Haridāsa, and as they conversed He asked him:

Anubhāṣya.
In another reading the following verse is found here: "Having accepted Dāmodara's verbal chastisement, Gaura, the ocean of mercy, then heard from Haridāsa's lips about His own hidden pastime."

*The Lord asks Haridāsa how the outcastes (antyajas) and others of the worst conduct can be delivered in the age of Kali —*

হরিদাস, কলিকালে যবন অপার । গো-ব্রাহ্মণে হিংসা করে মহা-দুরাচার ॥ ৫০ ॥

haridāsa, kali-kāle yavana apāra Haridāsa in the age of Kali yavanas countless go-brāhmaṇe hiṁsā kare mahā-durācāra
to cows and brāhmaṇas violence they do very wicked

50 "Haridāsa, in the age of Kali the yavanas are countless. They are very wicked and do violence to cows and brāhmaṇas.

ইহা-সবার কোন্ মতে হইবে নিস্তার ?
তাহার হেতু না দেখিয়ে, — এ দুঃখ অপার ॥ ৫১ ॥

ihā-sabāra kon mate haibe nistāra?
of all of them in what way will be deliverance
tāhāra hetu nā dekhiye, — e duḥkha apāra
of it the means not I see this grief boundless

51 How will all of them be delivered? I see no means for it, and this grief of Mine is boundless."

*Haridāsa's answer: the glorification of the semblance of the Name (nāmābhāsa) —*

হরিদাস কহে, — প্রভু, চিন্তা না করিহ । যবনের সংসার দেখি' দুঃখ না ভাবিহ ॥ ৫২ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — prabhu, cintā nā kariha Haridāsa says Lord worry not do yavanera saṁsāra dekhi' duḥkha nā bhāviha of the yavanas the worldly bondage seeing grief not feel

52 Haridāsa said, "Lord, do not worry. Do not grieve at the sight of the yavanas' worldly bondage (saṁsāra).

যবনসকলের 'মুক্তি' হবে অনায়াসে । হা রাম, হা রাম বলি' কহে নামাভাসে ॥ ৫৩ ॥

yavana-sakalera ‘mukti’ habe anāyāse
of all the yavanas ‘liberation’ will be easily
hā rāma, hā rāma bali’ kahe nāmābhāse
‘hā rāma’ ‘hā rāma’ saying they speak in the semblance of the name

53 All the yavanas will attain liberation easily, for they say ‘hā rāma, hā rāma’, and so they utter the semblance of the name (nāmābhāsa).

মহাপ্রেমে ভক্ত কহে, — ‘হা রাম’, ‘হা রাম’ । যবনের ভাগ্য দেখ, লয় সেই নাম ॥ ৫৪ ॥

mahā-preme bhakta kahe, — ‘hā rāma’, ‘hā rāma’
in great love a devotee says ‘hā rāma’ ‘hā rāma’
yavanera bhāgya dekha, laya sei nāma
of the yavanas the fortune see they take that name

54 In great love a devotee cries, ‘Hā Rāma! Hā Rāma!’ See the good fortune of the yavanas: they utter that very name!

*The incomparable power of nāmābhāsa —*

যদ্যপি অন্যত্র সঙ্কেতে হয় নামাভাস । তথাপি নামের তেজ না হয় বিনাশ ॥ ৫৫ ॥

yadyapi anyatra saṅkete haya nāmābhāsa
although to something else by indication is nāmābhāsa tathāpi nāmera teja nā haya vināśa
still of the name the potency not is destroyed

55 When the name is uttered to point (saṅketa) to something else, that is nāmābhāsa; yet even then the potency of the name is not destroyed.

*(words of the Nṛsiṁha Purāṇa)*

দংষ্ট্রিদংষ্ট্রাহতো ম্লেচ্ছো হা রামেতি পুনঃ পুনঃ ।
উক্ত্বাপি মুক্তিমাপ্নোতি কিং পুনঃ শ্রদ্ধয়া গৃণন্ ॥ ৫৬ ॥

daṁṣṭri-daṁṣṭrāhato mleccho
by a boar’s tusk struck a mleccha
hā rāmeti punaḥ punaḥ ‘hā rāma’ thus again and again
uktvāpi muktim āpnoti
even by saying liberation attains
kiṁ punaḥ śraddhayā gṛṇan
what then with faith one who chants

56 “A mleccha struck by a boar’s tusk who cries ‘hā rāma’ again and again attains liberation by that alone. What then of one who chants the name with faith?” (Nṛsiṁha Purāṇa)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

A certain mleccha, gored by the tusk of a boar (daṁṣṭrī), cried out in disgust, “Hā Rām! Hā Rām!” — and yet at the time of death he attained liberation. The word hārām (“hā Rām”) contains the word Rāma, uttered as an indication (saṅketa). That is why the mleccha was delivered by an indication of the Name (this is called nāmābhāsa). And what happens when one takes the name Rāma with faith cannot even be told.

Anubhāṣya.

daṁṣṭri-daṁṣṭrāhataḥ (a daṁṣṭrī is a boar; one wounded by its tusk, that is, its tooth) mlecchaḥ (a yavana), ‘hā rāma’ iti (a particular word that in the language of the yavanas denotes something impure, untouchable) punaḥ punaḥ uktvā api muktim (release from the bondage of worldly existence by the power of nāmābhāsa) āpnoti (attains); śraddhayā gṛṇan (one who chants [the Name] with faith — by the power of the Name) kiṁ punaḥ vaktavyam (what more need be said)?

*Ajāmila's nāmābhāsa: an indication of the Name through his son's name —*

অজামিল পুত্রে বোলায় বলি ‘নারায়ণ’ । বিষ্ণুদূত আসি’ ছাড়ায় তাহার বন্ধন ॥ ৫৭ ॥

ajāmila putre bolāya bali ‘nārāyaṇa’ Ajāmila his son calls saying ‘Nārāyaṇa’
viṣṇu-dūta āsi’ chāḍāya tāhāra bandhana
the messengers of Viṣṇu coming release his bonds

57 Ajāmila called his son by saying ‘Nārāyaṇa’, and the messengers of Viṣṇu came and released him from his bonds.

Nāmābhāsa* in uttering “hā Rāma” —*

‘রাম’ দুই অক্ষর ইহা নহে ব্যবহিত ।
প্রেমবাচী ‘হা’-শব্দ তাহাতে ভূষিত ॥ ৫৮ ॥

‘rāma’ dui akṣara ihā nahe vyavahita ‘Rāma’ two syllables these not are separated prema-vācī ‘hā’-śabda tāhāte bhūṣita expressing love the ‘hā’ word with it adorned

58 In ‘hā rāma’ the two syllables of ‘Rāma’ are not separated, and they are adorned with the word ‘hā’, which expresses love.

The incomparable power of the Name —

নামের অক্ষর-সবের এই ত’ স্বভাব । ব্যবহিত হৈলেহ না ছাড়ে আপন-প্রভাব ॥ ৫৯ ॥

nāmera akṣara-sabera ei ta’ svabhāva
of the name of all the syllables this indeed the nature
vyavahita haileha nā chāḍe āpana-prabhāva
separated even if they become not give up their own power

59 Such is the nature of the syllables of the name: even when they are broken apart, they do not give up their power.

Anubhāṣya.

vyavahita (interrupted): Here what is meant is not an interval in the sounds or letters, nor an “interval” in truth (tattva). For such a material interval arises in a faithless jīva from his tendency to gratify his own senses or to enjoy matter. It is therefore not the pure Name but merely a collection of material sounds or letters; it only obstructs the fruit of chanting the pure Name — attaining love for Kṛṣṇa. Here, on the other hand, the interval meant is the indistinct, broken or partial utterance of the Name by one turned toward service (sevonmukha). For in spite of it, Śrī Nāma-Prabhu manifests His own power in the faithful heart of one turned toward service — the power to bestow the fruit: the destruction of anarthas and the dawning of prema.

*(Hari-bhakti-vilāsa 11.289; words of the Padma Purāṇa)*

নামৈকং যস্য বাচি স্মরণপথগতং শ্রোত্রমূলং গতং বা
শুদ্ধং বাশুদ্ধবর্ণং ব্যবহিত-রহিতং তারয়ত্যেব সত্যম্ ।
তচ্চেদ্দেহ-দ্রবিণ-জনতা-লোভ-পাষণ্ড-মধ্যে নিক্ষিপ্তং স্যান্ন ফলজনকং শীঘ্রমেবাত্র বিপ্র ॥ ৬০ ॥

nāmaikaṁ yasya vāci smaraṇa-patha-
the name one whose on the tongue of memory the path
gataṁ śrotra-mūlaṁ gataṁ vā having reached the root of the ear having reached or śuddhaṁ vāśuddha-varṇaṁ vyavahitapure or with impure sounds broken rahitaṁ tārayaty eva satyam
or partial delivers certainly truly tac ced deha-draviṇa-janatā-
that if the body wealth followers
lobha-pāṣaṇḍa-madhye greed godlessness amid nikṣiptaṁ syān na phala-janakaṁ placed may be not producing fruit śīghram evātra vipra quickly indeed here O brāhmaṇa

60 “O brāhmaṇa, if even one name of the Lord is on a person’s tongue, or has come into his memory, or has reached his ears, it will surely deliver him — whether its sounds are correct or incorrect, whether it is uttered whole, broken or only in part. This is the truth. But if the name is set amid concerns for the body, wealth and followers, or amid greed and godlessness, it will not quickly bear its fruit here.” (Padma Purāṇa; Hari-bhakti-vilāsa, 11.289)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

When one holy name of Hari has arisen on someone's lips, or entered the path of his memory, or reached his ears — whether it is uttered with correct sounds or incorrect ones, with gaps or without them, or in fragments — it will surely deliver the one who takes it. O vipra, such is the glory of the Name. But if the syllables of the Name fall among offenses that are like stones (pāṣāṇa) — attachment to the body, wealth, people, greed and the like — the Name does not bear fruit quickly. That is, unless one adopts the means that puts an end to offenses against the Name, those offenses do not go away. (There is also the reading lobha-pāṣaṇḍa-madhye.)

Anubhāṣya.

he vipra, ekaṁ nāma (the name of Kṛṣṇa) yasya (of one who has pious merit) vāci (uttered) smaraṇa-patha-gataṁ (that is, remembered) śrotra-mūlaṁ gataṁ (heard) vā, śuddha-varṇaṁ aśuddha-varṇaṁ vā, vyavahita-rahitaṁ (vyavahitāni are intervals, gaps in the form of the ten offenses against the Name; rahitam, free of them — that is, uninterrupted; or else vyavahitaṁ tad-rahitaṁ ca: then vyavahitam means separated by another word, another sound or another mood, and tad-rahitam means lacking some part) vā (being such, [it delivers] one who utters it in this way) tārayati (delivers) eva — this is satyam (the truth); cet (if) tat (that Name) deha-draviṇa-janatā-lobha-pāṣaṇḍa-madhye (deha, the perishable corpse; draviṇa, wealth; janatā, desire for relatives, for women, or for the prestige that rests on gathering people; lobha, greed for transient external objects, or lust of the tongue; pāṣaṇḍa, the offense of disregarding Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas — among these) nikṣiptaṁ (is placed, that is, employed or cultivated with the desire to gratify one's own senses, then) atra (here, in this world — because it gives a trifling fruit) śīghraṁ (at once) phala-janakaṁ (giving the supreme fruit) na syāt (it will not be).

In his Dig-darśinī commentary on the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa (11.289) Śrī Sanātana Prabhu writes: “Vāci gataṁ: even if [the Name] has entered one's speech incidentally, in the course of conversation; smaraṇa-patha-gataṁ: even if it has somehow touched the mind; śrotra-mūlaṁ gataṁ: even if it has been heard only slightly; śuddha-varṇaṁ vā aśuddha-varṇam api vā: with correct sounds or even with incorrect ones. Vyavahitam: an interval made by another word — when, after part of the word ‘Nārāyaṇa’ (to be spoken of below) has been uttered, another word incidentally comes in; [the Name] free of such an interval. Or else: although in expressions like ‘halaṁ riktam’ the name ‘Hari’ is present by way of the sounds ‘ha’ and ‘ri,’ and likewise the name ‘Rāma’ in ‘rāja-mahiṣī’ (and similar cases are to be understood in the same way), still within those names there is another, intervening sound; the meaning is: free of such an interval. Or else: vyavahitaṁ ca tad-rahitaṁ cāpi vā. Here vyavahitam is when, after part of the Name has been uttered, another word somehow comes in, and after finishing it one then utters the remaining sounds of the Name — that is, the Name is interrupted in the middle by another word; rahitam means without uttering the remaining sounds afterwards, that is, lacking some part. Even so, it surely delivers — it surely frees one from all sins and offenses and even from saṁsāra: this is true. But the principal fruit of serving the Name does not come at once. Next, with the words tac cet and so on, he says that even when one serves the Name for the sake of maintaining the body and so on, the principal fruit is not achieved quickly. If the Name is placed ‘among the body and the rest,’ that is, employed only for maintaining the body and the like, does it then bear no fruit? No, it does bear fruit — but here, in this world, not quickly, only after some delay. That is the meaning.”

See the Anubhāṣya on Madhya 16.72, and also Śrī Jīva Prabhu's explanation (kārikā) of this verse in the Bhakti-sandarbha (section 265).

Nāmābhāsa* removes all anarthas —*

নামাভাস হৈতে হয় সর্ব্বপাপক্ষয় । নামাভাস হৈতে হয় সংসারের ক্ষয় ॥ ৬১ ॥

nāmābhāsa haite haya sarva-pāpa-kṣaya
the semblance of the name through there is of all sins destruction nāmābhāsa haite haya saṁsārera kṣaya
the semblance of the name through there is of worldly existence the end

61 Through nāmābhāsa all sins are destroyed; through nāmābhāsa worldly existence comes to an end.

Nāmābhāsa* destroys great sins — (Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, Dakṣiṇa-vibhāga, Vibhāva-laharī, verse 103)*

তং নির্ব্ব্যাজং ভজ গুণনিধে পাবনং পাবনানাং শ্রদ্ধারজ্যন্মতিরতিতরামুত্তমঃশ্লোকমৌলিম্ ।
প্রোদ্যন্নন্তঃকরণকুহরে হন্ত যন্নামভানো- রাভাসোঽপি ক্ষপয়তি মহাপাতকধ্বান্তরাশিম্ ॥ ৬২ ॥

taṁ nirvyājaṁ bhaja guṇa-nidhe pāvanaṁ pāvanānāṁ
Him without deceit worship O treasure of virtues the purifier of purifiers śraddhā-rajyan-matir atitarām uttamaḥ-śloka-maulim with faith delighting your mind quickly of those of highest fame the crown prodyann antaḥ-karaṇa-kuhare hanta yan-nāma-bhānor rising of the heart in the cave ah whose name of the sun ābhāso ’pi kṣapayati mahā-pātaka-dhvānta-rāśim
the faint light even destroys of great sins of the darkness the mass

62 “O treasure of virtues, with your mind delighting in faith, quickly and without deceit worship Him, the purifier of all purifiers, the crown of those whose glory is sung in the finest verses. Ah! When even the faint light of the sun of His name rises in the cave of the heart, it dispels the massed darkness of great sins.” (Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, 2.1.103)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O treasury of virtues! With a mind full of faith, without delay and in simplicity of heart, worship Śrī Kṛṣṇa, the supreme purifier, the crown of those praised in exalted verse. For even the semblance of the sun of His name, rising in the heart, destroys the darkness of great sins.

Anubhāṣya.

he guṇa-nidhe, yan-nāma-bhānoḥ (yat, whose — that is, Bhagavān's; His name itself is the sun [bhānu], the luminary; of that sun in the form of the Name) ābhāsaḥ (a faint light, free of the darkness of offenses) antaḥ-karaṇa-kuhare (in the cave of the heart) prodyan (appearing) mahā-pātaka-dhvānta-rāśim (great sins themselves are the darkness; its mass, the expanse of gloom) hanta kṣapayati (removes), taṁ pāvanānāṁ pāvanaṁ (who purifies even the holy places that purify others) uttamaḥ-śloka-maulim (ut, goes away, tamaḥ, darkness: that from which darkness departs is such a śloka, fame; He is the crown, the head ornament, of those who have such fame) taṁ (Śrī Kṛṣṇa) śraddhā-rajyan-matiḥ (one whose mati, intelligence, rejoices with faith — that is, with firm conviction — and is full of love; being such) atitarām (quickly) nirvyājaṁ (without duplicity) bhaja (worship).

Nāmābhāsa* grants liberation — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 6.2.49)*

ম্রিয়মাণো হরের্নাম গৃণন্ পুত্রোপচারিতম্ ।
অজামিলোঽপ্যগাদ্ধাম কিমুত শ্রদ্ধয়া গৃণন্ ॥ ৬৩ ॥

mriyamāṇo harer nāma
dying of Hari the name
gṛṇan putropacāritam
uttering addressed to his son
ajāmilo 'py agād dhāma
Ajāmila even went to the abode
kim uta śraddhayā gṛṇan
what to speak then with faith one who utters

63 "Even Ajāmila reached the Lord's abode by uttering the name of Hari as he was dying, though he addressed it to his son. What then of one who utters the name with faith?" (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 6.2.49)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The dying Ajāmila went to the abode of Vaikuṇṭha merely by taking the name of Hari while calling his son. What happens when one takes the Name with faith cannot even be told (to say nothing of going to Vaikuṇṭha).

Anubhāṣya.
At the time of death Ajāmila obtained the fruit of nāmābhāsa by way of an indication and was freed from sin. Having regained his life, he worshiped Śrī Hari in detachment (nirveda) and as a result went to Vaikuṇṭha. After describing this, Śukadeva at the end of the chapter incidentally glorifies to Parīkṣit how the greatness of nāmābhāsa differs from that of the pure Name:

ajāmilaḥ mriyamāṇaḥ (in the jaws of death, helplessly, even without faith) putropacāritaṁ (uttered as his son's name, "Nārāyaṇa") hareḥ nāma gṛṇan (uttering) dhāma (the abode of Vaikuṇṭha) agāt (reached); śraddhayā (with transcendental firm faith, that Name) gṛṇan (a person who chants) — kim uta (what need be said of him)?

The meaning of the verse —

নামাভাসে 'মুক্তি' হয় সর্ব্বশাস্ত্রে দেখি । শ্রীভাগবতে তাতে অজামিল — সাক্ষী ॥ ৬৪ ॥

nāmābhāse 'mukti' haya sarva-śāstre dekhi
by nāmābhāsa 'liberation' there is in all scriptures I see śrī-bhāgavate tāte ajāmila — sākṣī
in the Śrī Bhāgavata of that Ajāmila the witness

64 In all the scriptures I see that liberation comes through nāmābhāsa, and in the Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam Ajāmila is the witness to it."

The Lord's joy increases; a new question —

শুনিয়া প্রভুর সুখ বাড়য়ে অন্তরে । পুনরপি ভঙ্গী করি' পুছয়ে তাঁহারে ॥ ৬৫ ॥

śuniyā prabhura sukha bāḍaye antare hearing the Lord's happiness increases within punarapi bhaṅgī kari' puchaye tāṁhāre
again a feint making He asks him

65 Hearing this, the Lord felt His happiness grow within. Then, as if to test him, He asked again:

The question of how the stationary and moving living beings may be delivered —

পৃথিবীতে বহুজীব — স্থাবর-জঙ্গম । ইহা-সবার কি প্রকারে হইবে মোচন ? ॥ ৬৬ ॥

pṛthivīte bahu-jīva — sthāvara-jaṅgama
on the earth many beings nonmoving and moving ihā-sabāra ki prakāre haibe mocana?
of all of them in what way will be release

66 "On the earth there are many living beings, nonmoving and moving. How will all of them be released?"

Haridāsa's answer —

হরিদাস কহে, — প্রভু, সে কৃপা তোমার । স্থাবর-জঙ্গম আগে কৈরাছ নিস্তার ॥ ৬৭ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — prabhu, se kṛpā tomāra Haridāsa says Lord that mercy Yours
sthāvara-jaṅgama āge kairācha nistāra
the nonmoving and moving already You have made deliverance

67 Haridāsa said, "Lord, that is by Your mercy: You have already delivered the nonmoving and moving beings.

*A description of how hearing the loud saṅkīrtana of the Name affects both kinds of living beings, stationary and moving —*

তুমি যে কৈরাছ এই উচ্চ সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । স্থাবর-জঙ্গমের সেই হয় ত' শ্রবণ ॥ ৬৮ ॥

tumi ye kairācha ei ucca saṅkīrtana
You that have done this loud saṅkīrtana
sthāvara-jaṅgamera sei haya ta' śravaṇa
of the nonmoving and moving that is indeed hearing

68 You have performed this loud saṅkīrtana, and the nonmoving and moving beings have all heard it.

Anubhāṣya.
On the power of loud saṅkīrtana, see Caitanya-bhāgavata, Ādi 16.277–291; on how the Lord inaugurated saṅkīrtana, see Ādi 3.76 and Madhya 11.97–98.

শুনিয়া জঙ্গমের হয় সংসার-ক্ষয় । স্থাবরে সে শব্দ লাগে, প্রতিধ্বনি হয় ॥ ৬৯ ॥

śuniyā jaṅgamera haya saṁsāra-kṣaya
by hearing of the moving beings there is of worldly existence the end sthāvare se śabda lāge, pratidhvani haya
on the nonmoving that sound strikes an echo arises

69 By hearing it, the moving beings are freed from worldly existence; and when that sound strikes the nonmoving beings, an echo arises.

‘প্রতিধ্বনি’ নহে, সেই করয়ে ‘কীর্ত্তন’ ।
তোমার কৃপার এই অকথ্য কথন ॥ ৭০ ॥

‘pratidhvani’ nahe, sei karaye ‘kīrtana’
‘an echo’ it is not they perform ‘kīrtana’ tomāra kṛpāra ei akathya kathana
of Your mercy this indescribable account

70 It is not an ‘echo’: they are performing ‘kīrtana’. This is a tale of Your mercy beyond all telling.

সকল জগতে হয় উচ্চ সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । শুনিয়া প্রেমাবেশে নাচে স্থাবর-জঙ্গম ॥ ৭১ ॥

sakala jagate haya ucca saṅkīrtana
in all the world there is loud saṅkīrtana
śuniyā premāveśe nāce sthāvara-jaṅgama hearing absorbed in love dance the nonmoving and moving

71 Throughout the world there is loud saṅkīrtana, and hearing it, the nonmoving and moving beings dance, absorbed in prema.

*An example from the Lord's pastimes of living beings hearing loud saṅkīrtana —*

যৈছে কৈলা ঝারিখণ্ডে বৃন্দাবন যাইতে । বলভদ্র-ভট্টাচার্য্য কহিয়াছেন আমাতে ॥ ৭২ ॥

yaiche kailā jhārikhaṇḍe vṛndāvana yāite
as You did in Jhārikhaṇḍa to Vṛndāvana while going balabhadra-bhaṭṭācārya kahiyāchena āmāte
Balabhadra Bhaṭṭācārya has told me

72 Balabhadra Bhaṭṭācārya has told me how You did this in Jhārikhaṇḍa on Your way to Vṛndāvana.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 17.24–54.

বাসুদেব জীব লাগি’ কৈল নিবেদন । তবে অঙ্গীকার কৈলা জীবের মোচন ॥ ৭৩ ॥

vāsudeva jīva lāgi’ kaila nivedana Vāsudeva the jīvas for the sake of made a petition
tabe aṅgīkāra kailā jīvera mocana
then acceptance You made of the jīvas the release

73 When Vāsudeva petitioned You on behalf of the jīvas, You agreed to release them.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 15.159–179.

*The mystery of the Lord's pastime of delivering the jīvas is revealed: as the guru of the world in the form of an ācārya, He preaches the Name and prema —*

জগৎ নিস্তারিতে তোমার অবতার । ভক্তভাব আগে তাতে কৈলা অঙ্গীকার ॥ ৭৪ ॥

jagat nistārite tomāra avatāra
the world to deliver Your descent
bhakta-bhāva āge tāte kailā aṅgīkāra
the mood of a devotee first for that You made acceptance

74 You have descended to deliver the world, and for that You first accepted the mood of a devotee.

উচ্চ সঙ্কীর্ত্তন তাতে করিলা প্রচার । স্থিরচর জীবের খণ্ডাইলা সংসার ॥ ৭৫ ॥

ucca saṅkīrtana tāte karilā pracāra loud saṅkīrtana therefore You made propagation sthira-cara jīvera khaṇḍāilā saṁsāra
nonmoving and moving of the jīvas You cut off worldly existence

75 So You spread loud saṅkīrtana and cut off the worldly existence of all jīvas, nonmoving and moving."

Anubhāṣya.
sthira-cara: the stationary and the moving.

The Lord asks what will become of the universe once all living beings attain liberation —

প্রভু কহে, — সব জীব মুক্তি যবে পাবে । এই ত' ব্রহ্মাণ্ড তবে জীবশূন্য হবে! ॥ ৭৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — saba jīva mukti yabe pābe
the Lord says all jīvas liberation when will attain ei ta' brahmāṇḍa tabe jīva-śūnya habe!
this indeed universe then devoid of jīvas will be

76 The Lord said, "If all the jīvas attain liberation, then this universe will be empty of jīvas!"

*Haridāsa's answer: by the Lord's mercy all the jīvas living during His manifest presence are delivered, and then the world is filled again with jīvas manifested by Mahā-Viṣṇu Kāraṇodaśāyī —*

হরিদাস বলে, — তোমার যাবৎ মর্ত্ত্যে স্থিতি । তাবৎ স্থাবর-জঙ্গম, সর্ব্বজীব-জাতি ॥ ৭৭ ॥

সব মুক্ত করি' তুমি বৈকুণ্ঠে পাঠাইবা । সূক্ষ্মজীবে পুনঃ কর্ম্মে উদ্বুদ্ধ করিবা ॥ ৭৮ ॥

haridāsa bale, — tomāra yāvat martye sthiti Haridāsa says Your as long as in the mortal world stay tāvat sthāvara-jaṅgama, sarvajīva-jāti
so long nonmoving and moving all species of beings saba mukta kari' tumi vaikuṇṭhe pāṭhāibā all liberated making You to Vaikuṇṭha will send sūkṣma-jīve punaḥ karme udbuddha karibā
the subtle jīvas again to karma awakened You will make 77–78 Haridāsa said, "As long as You remain in the mortal world, You will liberate all the nonmoving and moving beings of every species and send them to Vaikuṇṭha. Then You will awaken the subtle jīvas (sūkṣma-jīva) to karma once again.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O Lord, You have descended into the universe, and all the jīvas with whom You have formed a connection will be delivered. Even if the whole universe is delivered in this way, You will once again awaken countless subtle jīvas (sūkṣma-jīva) in the field of karma. Thus the universes will again be filled with jīvas.

সেই জীব হবে ইহাঁ স্থাবর-জঙ্গম । তাহাতে ভরিবে ব্রহ্মাণ্ড যেন পূর্ব্ব-সম ॥ ৭৯ ॥

sei jīva habe ihāṁ sthāvara-jaṅgama
those jīvas will become here nonmoving and moving tāhāte bharibe brahmāṇḍa yena pūrva-sama
with them will be filled the universe as like before

79 Those jīvas will become the nonmoving and moving beings here, and with them the universe will be filled as before.

*An example — the former pastime of Śrī Rāmacandra delivering the jīvas —*

পূর্ব্বে যেন রঘুনাথ সব অযোধ্যা লঞা । বৈকুণ্ঠকে গেলা, অন্য জীবে অযোধ্যা ভরাঞা ॥ ৮০ ॥

pūrve yena raghunātha saba ayodhyā lañā formerly as Raghunātha all Ayodhyā taking vaikuṇṭhake gelā, anya jīve ayodhyā bharāñā to Vaikuṇṭha went with other jīvas Ayodhyā filling

80 Just as formerly Raghunātha (Rāmacandra) took all of Ayodhyā with Him to Vaikuṇṭha and filled Ayodhyā with other jīvas,

Anubhāṣya.
See the Rāmāyaṇa (Baṅgavāsī edition), Uttara-kāṇḍa, sarga 122, verses 21–22, and sarga 123.

অবতরি' তুমি ঐছে পাতিয়াছ হাট । কেহ না বুঝিতে পারে তোমার গূঢ় নাট ॥ ৮১ ॥

avatari' tumi aiche pātiyācha hāṭa
having descended You likewise have set up a market
keha nā bujhite pāre tomāra gūḍha nāṭa
anyone not to understand can Your hidden drama

81 so You too, having descended, have set up Your market here. No one can understand Your hidden play.

*An example — the former pastime of Śrī Kṛṣṇa delivering the jīvas —*

পূর্ব্বে যেন ব্রজে কৃষ্ণ করি' অবতার । সকল ব্রহ্মাণ্ড-জীবের খণ্ডাইলা সংসার ॥ ৮২ ॥

pūrve yena vraje kṛṣṇa kari' avatāra
formerly as in Vraja Kṛṣṇa making descent
sakala brahmāṇḍa-jīvera khaṇḍāilā saṁsāra
of all the universe's jīvas cut off worldly existence

82 Formerly, when Kṛṣṇa descended in Vraja, He cut off the worldly existence of all the jīvas in the universe.

*Bhagavān Himself, Kṛṣṇa, has the power to deliver countless millions of universes — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.29.16)*

ন চৈবং বিস্ময়ঃ কার্য্যো ভবতা ভগবত্যজে । যোগেশ্বরেশ্বরে কৃষ্ণে যত এতদ্বিমুচ্যতে ॥ ৮৩ ॥

na caivaṁ vismayaḥ kāryo
not and thus wonder should be made bhavatā bhagavaty aje
by you about the Lord the unborn yogeśvareśvare kṛṣṇe
about the Lord of the lords of yoga Kṛṣṇa
yata etad vimucyate
from whom this (world) is liberated

83 "There should be no wonder at such deeds of Kṛṣṇa, the unborn Bhagavān, the Lord of the lords of yoga; for by Him this whole world, moving and unmoving, is set free." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.29.16)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kṛṣṇa is the unborn Bhagavān, the Lord of the yogīs; through Him this whole world, stationary and moving, is completely liberated. There is no need to be so astonished at His deeds.

Anubhāṣya.
On the night of the Rāsa full moon the gopīs heard Kṛṣṇa's flute and longed to meet Him and be with Him. While describing their good fortune, Śrī Śukadeva glorifies to Parīkṣit the greatness of the Supreme Lord Śrī Kṛṣṇa and gives him this instruction:

O King, yataḥ (from whom — from Śrī Kṛṣṇa) etat (this — every living being without exception, stationary, moving and the rest — is liberated; therefore) bhavatā (by you) bhagavati (endowed with all opulences) aje (self-manifest) yogeśvareśvare (the supreme Lord of the mystic perfections, the Supreme Soul) kṛṣṇe evam (about [His] power to grant liberation) vismayaḥ na ca eva kāryaḥ (no astonishment should be felt).

*(Viṣṇu Purāṇa 4.15.10)*

অয়ং হি ভগবান্ দৃষ্টঃ কীর্ত্তিতঃ সংস্মৃতশ্চ
দ্বেষানুবন্ধেনাপ্যখিল-সুরাসুরাদিদুর্ল্লভং ফলং প্রযচ্ছতি কিমুত সম্যগ্ভক্তিমতাম্ ইতি ॥ ৮৪ ॥

ayaṁ hi bhagavān dṛṣṭaḥ kīrtitaḥ saṁsmṛtaś ca
this indeed Bhagavān seen glorified remembered and dveṣānubandhenāpy akhila-surāsurādi-durlabhaṁ with persistent enmity even for all gods, demons and others hard to attain phalaṁ prayacchati kim uta samyag bhaktimatām iti
the fruit bestows what to speak then perfectly of those who have devotion thus

84 "When this Bhagavān is seen, glorified or remembered even with persistent enmity, He bestows a fruit hard to attain for all the gods, demons and others. What then of those who have perfect devotion?" (Viṣṇu Purāṇa, 4.15.10)[3]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
This Bhagavān grants a result that all the gods, asuras and others find hard to attain, even when He is seen, glorified or remembered with unremitting hostility. What then of those endowed with perfect devotion?

Anubhāṣya.
dveṣānubandhena api (even in the mood of an enemy) ayam bhagavān hi dṛṣṭaḥ (seen), kīrtitaḥ (uttered in speech), manasā (in the mind) saṁsmṛtaḥ ca (and remembered) akhila-surāsurādi-durlabham phalam (liberation and the like) prayacchati; uta samyag-bhaktimatām (of those who on the path of bhakti are wholly intent on giving up the three — other desires, karma, jñāna and the like — that is, of pure devotees) kim vaktavyam? (what need be said?)

*While the Lord is manifestly present in the world, the jīvas of all the universes are delivered —*

তৈছে তুমি নবদ্বীপে করি' অবতার । সকল-ব্রহ্মাণ্ড-জীবের করিলা নিস্তার ॥ ৮৫ ॥

taiche tumi navadvīpe kari' avatāra
likewise You in Navadvīpa making descent
sakala-brahmāṇḍa-jīvera karilā nistāra
of all the universe's jīvas You made deliverance

85 Likewise, You have descended in Navadvīpa and delivered the jīvas of the whole universe.

Haridāsa's humility —

যে কহে, — চৈতন্য-মহিমা মোর গোচর হয়। সে জানুক, মোর পুনঃ এই ত' নিশ্চয় ॥ ৮৬ ॥

ye kahe, — caitanya-mahimā mora gocara haya who says of Caitanya the glory to me known is se jānuka, mora punaḥ ei ta' niścaya
he let him know my however this indeed conviction

86 If someone says, 'The glory of Caitanya is within my grasp,' let him know it; but my own conviction is this:

তোমার যে লীলা মহা-অমৃতের সিন্ধু। মোর মনোগোচর নহে তার এক বিন্দু ॥ ৮৭ ॥

tomāra ye līlā mahā-amṛtera sindhu
Your which pastimes of great nectar an ocean
mora mano-gocara nahe tāra eka bindu
to my mind perceptible is not of it one drop

87 Your pastimes are an ocean of great nectar, and not even a single drop of it is within the reach of my mind."

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 21.25–26 and Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.14.36.

Even Bhagavān is astonished at the devotee's power to reveal the mystery of His pastimes —

এত শুনি' প্রভুর মনে চমৎকার হৈল। মোর গূঢ়লীলা হরিদাস কেমনে জানিল ? ॥ ৮৮ ॥

eta śuni' prabhura mane camatkāra haila
this hearing the Lord's in the mind amazement was mora gūḍha-līlā haridāsa kemane jānila?
My hidden pastimes Haridāsa how has known

88 Hearing this, the Lord was amazed at heart: "How has Haridāsa come to know My hidden pastimes?"

Anubhāṣya.
The confidential pastime is the pastime of delivering the jīvas.

The Lord embraces Haridāsa —

মনের সন্তোষে তাঁরে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন। বাহ্যে প্রকাশিতে তাহা করিলা বর্জ্জন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

manera santoṣe tāṁre kailā āliṅgana
of the heart in satisfaction him made embrace bāhye prakāśite tāhā karilā varjana
outwardly to reveal that He made avoidance

89 In the satisfaction of His heart He embraced him, but He avoided revealing this outwardly.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Hearing Haridāsa's words full of truth, the Lord was pleased; but, displaying external consciousness, He rejected the words of praise for Himself.

Bhagavān is subject to His devotee —

ঈশ্বর-স্বভাব, — ঐশ্বর্য্য চাহে আচ্ছাদিতে । ভক্ত-ঠাঞি লুকাইতে নারে, হয় ত' বিদিতে ॥ ৯০ ॥

īśvara-svabhāva, — aiśvarya cāhe ācchādite
of the Lord the nature His majesty wishes to cover
bhakta-ṭhāñi lukāite nāre, haya ta' vidite
before devotees to hide cannot becomes indeed known

90 It is the Lord's nature to wish to conceal His majesty, but He cannot hide it from His devotees: to them it becomes known.

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 3.85–89.

*Before the devotee even the Unconquerable is conquered, and even Vaikuṇṭha can be measured — (Ālavandāru, or Śrī Yāmunācārya, Stotra-ratna, verse 18)*

উল্লঙ্ঘিতত্রিবিধসীমসমাতিশায়ি- সম্ভাবনং তব পরিব্রঢ়িমস্বভাবম্ ।
মায়াবলেন ভবতাপি নিগুহ্যমানং পশ্যন্তি কেচিদনিশং ত্বদনন্যভাবাঃ ॥ ৯১ ॥

ullaṅghita-trividha-sīma-samātiśāyi-transgressing three kinds of limits, equal and superior sambhāvanaṁ tava parivraḍhima-svabhāvam
the possibility (excluding) Your of supremacy the nature
māyā-balena bhavatāpi niguhyamānaṁ of māyā by the power by You even being hidden paśyanti kecid aniśaṁ tvad-ananya-bhāvāḥ
see some constantly to You exclusively devoted

91 "Your sovereign nature transcends the three kinds of limits and admits of no equal or superior. Though You hide it by the power of Your māyā, some who are devoted to You alone see it constantly." (Stotra-ratna, 18)[4]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 3.88.

The Lord praises Haridāsa —

তবে মহাপ্রভু নিজভক্ত-পাশে যাঞা । হরিদাসের গুণ কহে শতমুখ হঞা ॥ ৯২ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu nija-bhakta-pāśe yāñā
then Mahāprabhu to His own devotees going haridāsera guṇa kahe śata-mukha hañā Haridāsa's qualities speaks hundred-mouthed becoming 92 Then Mahāprabhu went to His own devotees and spoke of Haridāsa's qualities as if He had a hundred mouths.

Bhagavān sings the glories of His devotees' qualities —

ভক্তের গুণ কহিতে প্রভুর বাড়য়ে উল্লাস । ভক্তগণ-শ্রেষ্ঠ তাতে শ্রীহরিদাস ॥ ৯৩ ॥

bhaktera guṇa kahite prabhura bāḍaye ullāsa
of a devotee qualities in speaking the Lord's increases delight
bhakta-gaṇa-śreṣṭha tāte śrī-haridāsa
of all the devotees the best moreover Śrī Haridāsa

93 The Lord's delight grows when He speaks of a devotee's qualities — and Śrī Haridāsa, moreover, is the best of all devotees.

The boundless wealth of Ṭhākura Haridāsa's qualities —

হরিদাসের গুণগণ — অসংখ্য, অপার । কেহ কোন অংশে বর্ণি' নাহি পায় পার ॥ ৯৪ ॥

haridāsera guṇa-gaṇa — asaṁkhya, apāra Haridāsa's host of qualities countless boundless keha kona aṁśe varṇi' nāhi pāya pāra
someone some portion describing not reaches the end

94 Haridāsa's qualities are countless and boundless. One may describe some portion of them, but no one reaches their end.

*In the Caitanya-bhāgavata the Ṭhākura's qualities are described only in part —*

চৈতন্যমঙ্গলে শ্রীবৃন্দাবন-দাস । হরিদাসের গুণ কিছু কৈরাছে প্রকাশ ॥ ৯৫ ॥

caitanya-maṅgale śrī-vṛndāvana-dāsa
in the Caitanya-maṅgala Śrī Vṛndāvana dāsa haridāsera guṇa kichu kairāche prakāśa
Haridāsa's qualities some has made manifest

95 In the Caitanya-maṅgala (the Caitanya-bhāgavata) Śrī Vṛndāvana dāsa has revealed some of Haridāsa's qualities.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
In the Caitanya-maṅgala: that is, in the Caitanya-bhāgavata; see Ādi, Chapter 14.

To purify one's own heart — touching a drop of the fathomless ocean of Haridāsa's life —

সব কহা না যায় হরিদাসের চরিত্র । কেহ কিছু কহে করিতে আপনা পবিত্র ॥ ৯৬ ॥

saba kahā nā yāya haridāsera caritra
all to tell not is possible of Haridāsa the character
keha kichu kahe karite āpanā pavitra
someone something tells to make himself pure

96 It is impossible to tell all of Haridāsa's character; one tells a little of it to purify oneself.

*A promise to describe only the part of Haridāsa's life not described in the Caitanya-bhāgavata —*

বৃন্দাবন-দাস যাহা না কৈলা বর্ণন । হরিদাসের গুণ কিছু শুন, ভক্তগণ ॥ ৯৭ ॥

vṛndāvana-dāsa yāhā nā kailā varṇana Vṛndāvana dāsa what not made description
haridāsera guṇa kichu śuna, bhakta-gaṇa
Haridāsa's qualities some hear O devotees

97 O devotees, hear of some of Haridāsa's qualities that Vṛndāvana dāsa did not describe.

An account of how in Benāpola the Ṭhākura delivered the prostitute sent by Rāmacandra Khān —

হরিদাস যবে নিজ-গৃহ ত্যাগ কৈলা । বেনাপোলের বন-মধ্যে কতদিন রহিলা ॥ ৯৮ ॥

haridāsa yabe nija-gṛha tyāga kailā Haridāsa when his own home renunciation made benāpolera vana-madhye kata-dina rahilā
of Benāpola in the forest for some days he stayed

98 When Haridāsa left his home, he lived for some time in the forest of Benāpola.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Benāpola: a village in Yaśohara district.

Anubhāṣya.
Benāpola: on the E.B.R. line, on the way to Khulnā, Benāpola station comes after Bongaon Junction; the place near it is "Benāpola."

নির্জ্জন-বনে কুটীর করি' তুলসী সেবন । রাত্রি-দিনে তিন-লক্ষ নাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন ॥ ৯৯ ॥

nirjana-vane kuṭīra kari' tulasī sevana
in a solitary forest a hut making Tulasī serving rātri-dine tina-lakṣa nāma-saṅkīrtana night and day three hundred thousand names chanting

99 He built a hut in the solitary forest, served Tulasī, and night and day chanted three hundred thousand names.

ব্রাহ্মণের ঘরে করে ভিক্ষা নির্ব্বাহণ । প্রভাবে সকল লোক করয়ে পূজন ॥ ১০০ ॥

brāhmaṇera ghare kare bhikṣā nirvāhaṇa
of brāhmaṇas in the houses makes by alms subsistence
prabhāve sakala loka karaye pūjana
by his spiritual power all people do worship

100 He lived on alms taken in brāhmaṇas' houses, and by his spiritual power he won the reverence of all the people.

সেই দেশাধ্যক্ষ নাম — রামচন্দ্র-খাঁন । বৈষ্ণববিদ্বেষী সেই পাষণ্ড-প্রধান ॥ ১০১ ॥

sei deśādhyakṣa nāma — rāmacandra-khāṁna
that ruler of the district name Rāmacandra Khān
vaiṣṇava-vidveṣī sei pāṣaṇḍa-pradhāna
a hater of Vaiṣṇavas he chief of the atheists

101 The ruler of that district was named Rāmacandra Khān. He hated the Vaiṣṇavas and was the chief of the unbelievers.

হরিদাসে লোকে পূজে, সহিতে না পারে । তাঁর অপমান করিতে নানা উপায় করে ॥ ১০২ ॥

haridāse loke pūje, sahite nā pāre Haridāsa people revere to tolerate not can tāṁra apamāna karite nānā upāya kare
his dishonour to cause various means he makes

102 He could not bear that the people revered Haridāsa, and he contrived various means to dishonour him.

কোনপ্রকারে হরিদাসের ছিদ্র নাহি পায় । বেশ্যাগণে আনি' করে ছিদ্রের উপায় ॥ ১০৩ ॥

kona-prakāre haridāsera chidra nāhi pāya
in any way of Haridāsa a fault not finds veśyā-gaṇe āni' kare chidrera upāya
prostitutes bringing makes for a fault a scheme

103 Unable to find any fault in Haridāsa by any means, he brought in prostitutes and schemed to create one.

বেশ্যাগণে কহে, — এই বৈরাগী হরিদাস । তুমি-সব কর ইহার বৈরাগ্য-ধর্ম্ম নাশ ॥ ১০৪ ॥

veśyā-gaṇe kahe, — ei vairāgī haridāsa
to the prostitutes he says this renunciant Haridāsa
tumi-saba kara ihāra vairāgya-dharma nāśa
you all make his of renunciation the dharma destruction

104 He said to the prostitutes, “There is a renunciant named Haridāsa. Go, all of you, and destroy his vow of renunciation.”

বেশ্যাগণ-মধ্যে এক সুন্দরী যুবতী । সে কহে, — তিন দিনে হরিব তাঁর মতি ॥ ১০৫ ॥

veśyā-gaṇa-madhye eka sundarī yuvatī
the prostitutes among one beautiful young woman
se kahe, — tina dine hariba tāṁra mati
she says in three days I shall steal his mind

105 Among the prostitutes was a beautiful young woman. She said, “In three days I shall captivate his mind.”

খাঁন কহে, — মোর পাইক যাউক তোমার সনে । তোমার সহিত একত্র তারে ধরি' যেন আনে ॥ ১০৬ ॥

khāṁna kahe, — mora pāika yāuka tomāra sane Khān says my constable let go you with tomāra sahita ekatra tāre dhari' yena āne
you with together him seizing so that he may bring

106 Khān said, “Let my constable go with you, so that he may seize him together with you and bring him here.”

বেশ্যা কহে, — মোর সঙ্গ হউক একবার । দ্বিতীয়বারে ধরিতে পাইক লইমু তোমার ॥ ১০৭ ॥

veśyā kahe, — mora saṅga hauka eka-bāra
the prostitute says with me union let there be once dvitīya-bāre dharite pāika laimu tomāra
the second time to seize the constable I shall take your

107 The prostitute said, “Let him first be with me once. The second time I shall take your constable to seize him.”

রাত্রিকালে সেই বেশ্যা সুবেশ ধরিয়া । হরিদাসের বাসায় গেল উল্লসিত হঞা ॥ ১০৮ ॥

rātri-kāle sei veśyā suveśa dhariyā
at night that prostitute fine dress putting on haridāsera vāsāya gela ullasita haña to Haridāsa’s dwelling went delighted being

108 At night the prostitute dressed herself finely and went to Haridāsa’s dwelling, full of delight.

তুলসী নমস্করি’ হরিদাসের দ্বারে যাঞা । গোসাঞিরে নমস্করি’ রহিলা দাণ্ডাঞা ॥ ১০৯ ॥

tulasī namaskari’ haridāsera dvāre yāñā to Tulasī bowing to Haridāsa’s door going gosāñire namaskari’ rahilā dāṇḍāñā
to the Gosāñi bowing remained standing

109 She bowed to Tulasī, went to Haridāsa’s door, bowed to the Gosāñi and stood there.

অঙ্গ উঘাড়িয়া দেখাই বসিলা দুয়ারে । কহিতে লাগিলা কিছু সুমধুর-স্বরে ॥ ১১০ ॥

aṅga ughāḍiyā dekhāi vasilā duyāre
her body uncovering showing she sat at the door
kahite lāgilā kichu sumadhura-svare
to speak she began something in a very sweet voice

110 Baring her body to his view, she sat down at the door and began to speak in a very sweet voice:

ঠাকুর, তুমি — পরমসুন্দর, প্রথম যৌবন । তোমা দেখি’ কোন্ নারী ধরিতে পারে মন ? ॥ ১১১ ॥

ṭhākura, tumi — paramasundara, prathama yauvana Ṭhākura you most handsome first youth
tomā dekhi’ kon nārī dharite pāre mana?
you seeing which woman to hold can her mind

111 “Ṭhākura, you are most handsome and in the first bloom of youth. What woman could keep her composure on seeing you?

তোমার সঙ্গম লাগি’ লুব্ধ মোর মন । তোমা না পাইলে প্রাণ না যায় ধারণ ॥ ১১২ ॥

tomāra saṅgama lāgi’ lubdha mora mana your union for eager my mind
tomā nā pāile prāṇa nā yāya dhāraṇa
you not if I get life not can be sustained

112 My heart longs for union with you. If I do not have you, I cannot go on living.”

হরিদাস কহে, — তোমা করিমু অঙ্গীকার ।
সংখ্যা-নাম-কীর্ত্তন যাবৎ না সমাপ্ত আমার ॥ ১১৩ ॥

তাবৎ তুমি বসি’ শুন নাম সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । নাম সমাপ্ত হৈলে করিমু যে তোমার মন ॥ ১১৪ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — tomā karimu aṅgīkāra Haridāsa says you I shall accept saṁkhyā-nāma-kīrtana yāvat nā samāpta āmāra
the counted names chanting as long as not finished my tāvat tumi vasi’ śuna nāma saṅkīrtana
so long you sitting listen the name saṅkīrtana nāma samāpta haile karimu ye tomāra mana
the name finished when it is I shall do what your mind (desires)

113–114 Haridāsa said, “I shall accept you. But until I have finished chanting my fixed number of names, sit here and listen to the saṅkīrtana of the name. When my chanting is finished, I shall do as you wish.”

এত শুনি’ সেই বেশ্যা বসিয়া রহিলা । কীর্ত্তন করে হরিদাস প্রাতঃকাল হৈলা ॥ ১১৫ ॥

eta śuni’ sei veśyā vasiyā rahilā
this hearing that prostitute sitting remained kīrtana kare haridāsa prātaḥ-kāla hailā kīrtana does Haridāsa morning came

115 Hearing this, the prostitute sat and waited. Haridāsa went on chanting until morning came.

প্রাতঃকাল দেখি’ বেশ্যা উঠিয়া চলিলা । সমাচার রামচন্দ্র-খাঁনেরে কহিলা ॥ ১১৬ ॥

prātaḥ-kāla dekhi’ veśyā uṭhiyā calilā morning seeing the prostitute rising left samācāra rāmacandra-khāṅnere kahilā
the news to Rāmacandra Khān she told

116 Seeing that it was morning, the prostitute got up and left, and she told Rāmacandra Khān the news:

আজি আমার সঙ্গ করিবে কহিলা বচনে । অবশ্য তাহার সঙ্গে হইবে সঙ্গমে ॥ ১১৭ ॥

āji āmāra saṅga karibe kahilā vacane
today with me union he will make he said in words avaśya tāhāra saṅge haibe saṅgame
certainly with him there will be union

117 “He has given his word that he will be with me today. I shall certainly be united with him.”

আর দিন রাত্রি হৈলে বেশ্যা আইল । হরিদাস তারে বহু আশ্বাস করিল ॥ ১১৮ ॥

āra dina rātri haile veśyā āila
the next day night when it was the prostitute came haridāsa tāre bahu āśvāsa karila Haridāsa her much reassurance gave

118 The next day, when night fell, the prostitute came, and Haridāsa reassured her warmly:

কালি দুঃখ পাইলা, অপরাধ না লইবা মোর । অবশ্য করিমু আমি তোমায় অঙ্গীকার ॥ ১১৯ ॥

kāli duḥkha pāilā, aparādha nā laibā mora yesterday distress you suffered offence not take my avaśya karimu āmi tomāya aṅgīkāra
certainly shall make I you acceptance

119 "Yesterday you were disappointed; please do not hold it against me. I shall certainly accept you.

তাবৎ ইহাঁ বসি' শুন নাম-সংকীর্ত্তন । নাম পূর্ণ হৈলে, পূর্ণ হবে তোমার মন ॥ ১২০ ॥

tāvat ihāṁ vasi' śuna nāma-saṁkīrtana
until then here sitting listen of the name saṅkīrtana nāma pūrṇa haile, pūrṇa habe tomāra mana
the name complete when it is fulfilled will be your mind

120 Until then, sit here and listen to the saṅkīrtana of the name. When the name is complete, your heart too will be fulfilled."

তুলসীরে তবে বেশ্যা নমস্কার করি' ।
দ্বারে বসি' নাম শুনে বলে 'হরি' 'হরি' ॥ ১২১ ॥

tulasīre tabe veśyā namaskāra kari'
to Tulasī then the prostitute obeisance making
dvāre vasi' nāma śune bale 'hari' 'hari'
at the door sitting the name hears says 'Hari' 'Hari'

121 Then the prostitute bowed to Tulasī, sat down at the door and listened to the name, saying, 'Hari! Hari!'

রাত্রি-শেষ হৈল, বেশ্যা উসিমিসি করে । তার রীতি দেখি' হরিদাস কহেন তাহারে ॥ ১২২ ॥

rātri-śeṣa haila, veśyā usimisi kare
of the night the end came the prostitute restlessly fidgets
tāra rīti dekhi' haridāsa kahena tāhāre
her manner seeing Haridāsa says to her

122 As the night was ending, the prostitute grew restless. Seeing her manner, Haridāsa said to her:

Anubhāṣya.
usimisi kare: she fidgets (us-khus kare), that is, she kept getting up and sitting down and became restless, unsettled and agitated.

*Ṭhākura Haridāsa describes his own initiation into the mahā-mantra; a brāhmaṇa by initiation —*

কোটিনামগ্রহণ-যজ্ঞ করি একমাসে । এই দীক্ষা করিয়াছি, হৈল আসি' শেষে ॥ ১২৩ ॥

koṭi-nāma-grahaṇa-yajña kari eka-māse
of ten million names chanting the sacrifice I perform in one month
ei dīkṣā kariyāchi, haila āsi' śeṣe
this vow I have taken it has come to the end 123 "I have taken a vow to perform a sacrifice of chanting ten million names in one month, and it is now nearing its end.

Anubhāṣya.
If one chants the name of Hari every day, counting more than three hundred thirty-three thousand three hundred thirty-three names, in one month the count reaches a koṭi (ten million) names. In this sacrifice of chanting the Name, Bhagavān, the Bearer of the Name (nāmī), is worshiped. By ordinary worldly notions Haridāsa Ṭhākura was not regarded as entitled to perform sacrifice, either by birth (śaukra) or by Sāvitrī initiation. Yet, because he was initiated into the sacrifice of the Name, he performed it as a Vedic brāhmaṇa by initiation (daikṣa-brāhmaṇa) of the Ekāyana branch. The twice-born Haridāsa Ṭhākura is a transcendental brāhmaṇa priest (yājñika), and the sacrifice concerning the Name that he had begun was nearly complete. And yet he let it be known that, if it were not completed, his sacrifice would again be broken[22].

আজি সমাপ্ত হইবেক, — হেন জ্ঞান ছিল । সমস্ত রাত্রি নিলুঁ নাম সমাপ্ত না হৈল ॥ ১২৪ ॥

āji samāpta haibeka, — hena jñāna chila today finished will be such thought was samasta rātri niluṁ nāma samāpta nā haila
the whole night I took the name finished not was 124 I thought it would be finished today. I chanted the name the whole night, yet it was not completed.

কালি সমাপ্ত হবে, তবে হবে ব্রতভঙ্গ । স্বচ্ছন্দে তোমার সঙ্গে হইবেক সঙ্গ ॥ ১২৫ ॥

kāli samāpta habe, tabe habe vrata-bhaṅga tomorrow finished it will be then will be of the vow the ending svacchande tomāra saṅge haibeka saṅga freely you with there will be union

125 Tomorrow it will be finished and my vow will be over; then I shall freely be with you."

বেশ্যা গিয়া সমাচার খাঁনেরে কহিল । আর দিন সন্ধ্যাকালে ঠাকুর-ঠাঞি আইল ॥ ১২৬ ॥

veśyā giyā samācāra khāṁnere kahila
the prostitute going the news to Khān told āra dina sandhyā-kāle ṭhākura-ṭhāñi āila
the next day in the evening to the Ṭhākura came 126 The prostitute went and told Khān the news. The next day she came to the Ṭhākura in the evening.

তুলসীকে, ঠাকুরকে নমস্কার করি' ।
দ্বারে বসি' নাম শুনে, বলে 'হরি' 'হরি' ॥ ১২৭ ॥

tulasīke, ṭhākurake namaskāra kari'
to Tulasī to the Ṭhākura obeisance making
dvāre vasi' nāma śune, bale 'hari' 'hari'
at the door sitting the name hears says 'Hari' 'Hari'

127 Bowing to Tulasī and to the Ṭhākura, she sat at the door and listened to the name, saying, 'Hari! Hari!'

নাম পূর্ণ হবে আজি, — বলে হরিদাস । তবে পূর্ণ করিমু তোমার অভিলাষ ॥ ১২৮ ॥

nāma pūrṇa habe āji, — bale haridāsa
the name complete will be today says Haridāsa
tabe pūrṇa karimu tomāra abhilāṣa
then fulfilled I shall make your desire

128 "Today the name will be completed," said Haridāsa. "Then I shall fulfil your desire."

*The company of a sādhu awakens detachment (nirveda) in the prostitute, and she begs the Ṭhākura for mercy —*

কীর্ত্তন করিতে ঐছে রাত্রি-শেষ হৈল । ঠাকুরের সনে বেশ্যার মন ফিরি' গেল ॥ ১২৯ ॥

kīrtana karite aiche rātri-śeṣa haila kīrtana while doing thus of the night the end came ṭhākurera sane veśyāra mana phiri' gela
the Ṭhākura's by the company the prostitute's mind turning went 129 As he chanted, the night came to an end; and through the Ṭhākura's company the prostitute's heart was transformed.

দণ্ডবৎ হঞা পড়ে ঠাকুর-চরণে । রামচন্দ্র-খাঁনের কথা কৈল নিবেদনে ॥ ১৩০ ॥

daṇḍavat hañā paḍe ṭhākura-caraṇe prostrate like a rod becoming she falls at the Ṭhākura's feet rāmacandra-khāṁnera kathā kaila nivedane of Rāmacandra Khān the story made confession

130 She fell flat at the Ṭhākura's feet and confessed Rāmacandra Khān's plot.

বেশ্যা হঞা মুঞি পাপ কৈরাছোঁ অপার । কৃপা করি' কর মো-অধমে নিস্তার ॥ ১৩১ ॥

veśyā hañā muñi pāpa kairāchoṁ apāra
a prostitute being I sins have committed boundless kṛpā kari' kara mo-adhame nistāra mercy showing make of me, the fallen deliverance

131 "Being a prostitute, I have committed boundless sins. Be merciful and deliver this fallen soul."

The Ṭhākura speaks with indifference of Rāmacandra Khān, the enemy of the Lord —

ঠাকুর কহে, — খাঁনের কথা সব আমি জানি । অজ্ঞ মূর্খ সেই, তারে দুঃখ নাহি মানি ॥ ১৩২ ॥

ṭhākura kahe, — khāṁnera kathā saba āmi jāni
the Ṭhākura says of Khān the affair all I know
ajña mūrkha sei, tāre duḥkha nāhi māni ignorant a fool he over him grief not I feel 132 The Ṭhākura said, "I know all about Khān's plot. He is an ignorant fool, and I feel no grief on his account.

Mercy toward the prostitute arises in the Ṭhākura —

সেইদিন যাইতাম এস্থান ছাড়িয়া । তিন দিন রহিলাঙ তোমার লাগিয়া ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

sei-dina yāitāma e-sthāna chāḍiyā that very day I would have gone this place leaving tina dina rahilāṅa tomāra lāgiyā
three days I stayed your for the sake

133 I would have left this place that very day; I stayed three days for your sake."

The prostitute prays for her own deliverance —

বেশ্যা কহে, — কৃপা করি' করহ উপদেশ । কি মোর কর্ত্তব্য, যাতে যায় ভব-ক্লেশ ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

veśyā kahe, — kṛpā kari' karaha upadeśa
the prostitute says mercy showing give instruction ki mora kartavya, yāte yāya bhava-kleśa
what my duty by which goes the suffering of material existence

134 The prostitute said, "Be merciful and instruct me: what must I do to be freed from the suffering of material existence?"

The Ṭhākura instructs the prostitute to give up worldly life and all she possesses —

ঠাকুর কহে, — ঘরের দ্রব্য ব্রাহ্মণে কর দান । এই ঘরে আসি' তুমি করহ বিশ্রাম ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

ṭhākura kahe, — gharera dravya brāhmaṇe kara dāna
the Ṭhākura says of your house the goods to brāhmaṇas make gift ei ghare āsi' tumi karaha viśrāma
in this house coming you make rest

135 The Ṭhākura said, "Give away the goods of your house to brāhmaṇas, and then come and live in this hut.

*Only through service to the Vaiṣṇavas and constant chanting of Kṛṣṇa's name does the jīva attain the goal (prayojana) —*

নিরন্তর নাম কর, তুলসী সেবন । অচিরাৎ পাবে তবে কৃষ্ণের চরণ ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

nirantara nāma kara, tulasī sevana constantly the name do Tulasī service
acirāt pābe tabe kṛṣṇera caraṇa
very soon you will attain then Kṛṣṇa's feet

136 Chant the name constantly and serve Tulasī. Then you will very soon attain the feet of Kṛṣṇa."

*The Ṭhākura initiates the prostitute into the mahā-mantra —*

এত বলি' তারে 'নাম' উপদেশ করি' । উঠিয়া চলিলা ঠাকুর বলি' 'হরি' 'হরি' ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

eta bali' tāre 'nāma' upadeśa kari'
this having said her in 'the name' instruction having given uṭhiyā calilā ṭhākura bali' 'hari' 'hari'
rising departed the Ṭhākura saying 'Hari' 'Hari'

137 Saying this, he instructed her in chanting the name. Then the Ṭhākura rose and departed, calling, "Hari! Hari!"

The prostitute carries out her guru's order —

তবে সেই বেশ্যা গুরুর আজ্ঞা লইল । গৃহবিত্ত যেবা ছিল, ব্রাহ্মণেরে দিল ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

tabe sei veśyā gurura ājñā laila
then that prostitute of her guru the order accepted
gṛha-vitta yebā chila, brāhmaṇere dila household wealth whatever there was to the brāhmaṇas gave 138 Then the prostitute accepted her guru's order and gave to the brāhmaṇas whatever wealth she had in her house.

Anubhāṣya.

Guru — Śrī Haridāsa's. Gṛha-vitta (household wealth) — another reading has the word gṛha-vṛtti here, which does not fit. She certainly did not give away her occupation (vṛtti), the prostitute's trade; what she handed over to the brāhmaṇas was the wealth (vitta) she had amassed by that trade. Although everything a disciple owns rightfully belongs to the gurudeva, a Vaiṣṇava guru does not himself take the disciple's household wealth and other worldly filth. Those who accept dakṣiṇā (the priest's fee) are led by the path of dakṣiṇā, the southern path, to the abode of Yama. The Vaiṣṇava guru is no traveler to Yama's abode: he walks the northern path. That is why the rule is to give worldly riches to brāhmaṇas devoted to karma and to others like them. The Vaiṣṇava guru does not take for himself the disciple's objects of enjoyment and worldly riches, which turn one away from Hari, and so he never becomes dependent on the disciple or looks to him for favor. On the contrary, knowing that such riches turn one away from Hari, he invariably rejects them. To free the disciple from his former worldly self-conception, and not to take for oneself the worldly filth the disciple has discarded — this is the duty of a Vaiṣṇava guru faithful to right conduct. This is what Ṭhākura Haridāsa teaches.

In the guru's house, with renunciation, she serves by ceaselessly chanting the Name —

মাথা মুড়ি' একবস্ত্রে রহিল সেই ঘরে । রাত্রি-দিনে তিন-লক্ষ নাম গ্রহণ করে ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

māthā muḍi' eka-vastre rahila sei ghare
her head having shaved in a single cloth stayed in that hut
rātri-dine tina-lakṣa nāma grahaṇa kare night and day three hundred thousand names taking does

139 She shaved her head and stayed in that hut with a single cloth, chanting three hundred thousand names day and night.

*The fruit of practicing the Name: steadiness, mastery of the senses, and perfection, the dawning of prema —*

তুলসী সেবন করে, চর্ব্বণ, উপবাস । ইন্দ্রিয়-দমন হৈল, প্রেমের প্রকাশ ॥ ১৪০ ॥

tulasī sevana kare, carvaṇa, upavāsa Tulasī service does eating sparingly fasting indriya-damana haila, premera prakāśa
of the senses control came about of love the manifestation 140 She served Tulasī and ate sparingly or fasted. Her senses were subdued, and love (prema) appeared in her.

She becomes renowned as a Vaiṣṇavī and is held in high regard —

প্রসিদ্ধা বৈষ্ণবী হৈল পরম-মহান্তী । বড় বড় বৈষ্ণব তাঁর দর্শনেতে যান্তি ॥ ১৪১ ॥

prasiddhā vaiṣṇavī haila parama-mahāntī renowned a Vaiṣṇavī became most exalted baḍa baḍa vaiṣṇava tāṁra darśanete yānti great great Vaiṣṇavas her to see would go

141 She became a renowned and most exalted Vaiṣṇavī, and great Vaiṣṇavas would go to see her.

The disciple is delivered from sin; seeing her transcendental saintly character, people extol the guru's greatness —

বেশ্যার চরিত্র দেখি' লোকে চমৎকার । হরিদাসের মহিমা কহে করি' নমস্কার ॥ ১৪২ ॥

veśyāra caritra dekhi' loke camatkāra
of the prostitute the conduct seeing the people amazed haridāsera mahimā kahe kari' namaskāra
of Haridāsa the glory speak making obeisance

142 Seeing the conduct of the former prostitute, people were amazed, and bowing down, they spoke of Haridāsa's glory.

The fruit of the dreadful offense the atheist Rāmacandra Khān committed against a Vaiṣṇava —

রামচন্দ্র-খাঁন অপরাধ-বীজ কৈল । সেই বীজ বৃক্ষ হঞা আগেতে ফলিল ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

rāmacandra-khāṁna aparādha-bīja kaila Rāmacandra Khān of an offence a seed sowed sei bīja vṛkṣa hañā āgete phalila that seed a tree becoming later bore fruit

143 Rāmacandra Khān sowed the seed of an offence; that seed grew into a tree and later bore its fruit.

মহদপরাধের ফল অদ্ভুত কথন । প্রস্তাব পাঞা কহি, শুন, ভক্তগণ ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

mahad-aparādhera phala adbhuta kathana
of a great offence the fruit a wonderful account
prastāva pāñā kahi, śuna, bhakta-gaṇa
the occasion having found I tell listen O devotees

144 The fruit of an offence against a great soul makes a wonderful account. Since the occasion has come, I shall tell it; listen, O devotees.

Anubhāṣya.
Prastāva — occasion, connection with the story (prasaṅga).

Because of his offense against a Vaiṣṇava, Rāmacandra Khān, averse to the Lord since time without beginning, hates the Vaiṣṇavas all the more —

সহজেই অবৈষ্ণব রামচন্দ্র-খাঁন । হরিদাসের অপরাধে হৈল অসুর-সমান ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

sahajei avaiṣṇava rāmacandra-khāṁna
by nature a non-Vaiṣṇava Rāmacandra Khān haridāsera aparādhe haila asura-samāna
of Haridāsa by the offence became like a demon

145 Rāmacandra Khān was by nature no Vaiṣṇava, and by his offence against Haridāsa he became like a demon.

Anubhāṣya.
Rāvaṇa, the son of Viśravā, was born in a brāhmaṇa family, yet because of his offense at the feet of Viṣṇu he came to be called an asura. In the same way, by offending the feet of a devotee, Rāmacandra Khān came to be known in society as "like an asura."

বৈষ্ণবধর্ম্ম নিন্দা করে, বৈষ্ণব-অপমান । বহুদিনের অপরাধে পাইল পরিণাম ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

vaiṣṇava-dharma nindā kare, vaiṣṇava-apamāna
the religion of the Vaiṣṇavas blasphemy makes of the Vaiṣṇavas insult bahu-dinera aparādhe pāila pariṇāma
of many days by the offences received the consequence

146 He reviled the religion of the Vaiṣṇavas and insulted them, and for the offences of many days he reaped the consequence.

The account of Nityānanda Prabhu —

নিত্যানন্দ-গোসাঞি গৌড়ে যবে আইলা । প্রেম প্রচারিতে তবে ভ্রমিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

nityānanda-gosāñi gauḍe yabe āilā Nityānanda Gosāñi to Gauḍa when came prema pracārite tabe bhramite lāgilā
love to preach then to travel began

147 When Nityānanda Gosāñi came to Gauḍa, He began to travel about, preaching love of God.

For Śrī Nityānanda, Gaura is everything; His two kinds of service to Gaura —

প্রেম-প্রচারণ আর পাষণ্ডদলন । দুইকার্য্যে অবধূত করেন ভ্রমণ ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

prema-pracāraṇa āra pāṣaṇḍa-dalana
the preaching of love and of the unbelievers the crushing
dui-kārye avadhūta karena bhramaṇa
for these two tasks the Avadhūta makes wandering

148 To preach love and to crush the unbelievers — for these two tasks the Avadhūta wandered.

How the atheist Rāmacandra Khān offended the feet of Śrī Nityānanda Prabhu —

সর্ব্বজ্ঞ নিত্যানন্দ আইলা তার ঘরে । আসিয়া বসিলা দুর্গামণ্ডপ-উপরে ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

sarvajña nityānanda āilā tāra ghare
all-knowing Nityānanda came to his house
āsiyā vasilā durgā-maṇḍapa-upare having come sat down of Durgā the maṇḍapa upon

149 The all-knowing Nityānanda came to his house and sat down on the durgā-maṇḍapa, the pavilion for the worship of Durgā.[5]

Anubhāṣya.

Durgā-maṇḍapa. In the house of a prominent householder who is not a Vaiṣṇava, the place where Durgā is worshiped is called the caṇḍī-maṇḍapa or durgā-maṇḍapa. Apart from the four days of the autumn or spring pūjā, the maṇḍapa is used the rest of the time by guests and by the public.

অনেক লোকজন সঙ্গে অঙ্গন ভরিল । ভিতর হৈতে রামচন্দ্র সেবক পাঠাইল ॥ ১৫০ ॥

aneka loka-jana saṅge aṅgana bharila
many people with (Him) the courtyard filled bhitara haite rāmacandra sevaka pāṭhāila inside from Rāmacandra a servant sent

150 The many people with Him filled the courtyard, and from inside the house Rāmacandra sent a servant.

Śrī Nityānanda Prabhu is slighted —

সেবক বলে — গোসাঞি, মোরে পাঠাইল খাঁন । গৃহস্থের ঘরে তোমায় দিমু বাসাস্থান ॥ ১৫১ ॥

sevaka bale — gosāñi, more pāṭhāila khāṁna
the servant says — Gosāñi me has sent the Khān gṛhasthera ghare tomāya dimu vāsā-sthāna
of a householder in the house to You I shall give a lodging place

151 The servant said, “Gosāñi, the Khān has sent me. I shall give You lodging in a householder’s house.

গোয়ালার গোশালা হয় অত্যন্ত বিস্তার । ইহাঁ সঙ্কীর্ণ-স্থল, তোমার মনুষ্য — অপার ॥ ১৫২ ॥

goyālāra gośālā haya atyanta vistāra of a cowherd the cowshed is very spacious ihāṁ saṅkīrṇa-sthala, tomāra manuṣya — apāra here a narrow place Your people — countless 152 A cowherd’s cowshed is very spacious, but this place is narrow, and Your people are countless.”[6]

Śrī Nityānanda's anger —

ভিতরে আছিলা, শুনি’ ক্রোধে বাহিরিলা । অট্ট অট্ট হাসি’ গোসাঞি কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

bhitare āchilā, śuni’ krodhe bāhirilā inside He was hearing in anger came out aṭṭa aṭṭa hāsi’ gosāñi kahite lāgilā loud loud laughing Gosāñi to speak began

153 Gosāñi had been sitting within. Hearing this, He came out in anger and, laughing loudly, began to speak:

Śrī Nityānanda's prophecy —

সত্য কহে, — এই ঘর মোর যোগ্য নয় । ম্লেচ্ছ গো-বধ করে, তার যোগ্য হয় ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

satya kahe, — ei ghara mora yogya naya
the truth he speaks — this house for Me fit is not mlecchа go-vadha kare, tāra yogya haya
the mlecchas cow-slaughter do for them fit it is

154 "He speaks the truth: this house is not fit for Me. It is fit for the mlecchas, who slaughter cows."

Prabhu and His companions leave the place of one who hates Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas —

এত বলি' ক্রোধে গোসাঞি উঠিয়া চলিলা । তারে দণ্ড দিতে সে গ্রামে না রহিলা ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

eta bali' krodhe gosāñi uṭhiyā calilā
this having said in anger Gosāñi rising departed
tāre daṇḍa dite se grāme nā rahilā him punishment to give in that village not stayed

155 Saying this, Gosāñi rose in anger and left. To punish him, He did not stay in that village.[7]

Rāmacandra Khān's utter godlessness —

ইহাঁ রামচন্দ্র-খাঁন সেবকে আজ্ঞা দিল । গোসাঞি যাঁহা বসিলা, তার মাটী খোদাইল ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

ihāṁ rāmacandra-khāṁna sevake ājñā dila here Rāmacandra Khān to a servant an order gave gosāñi yāṁhā vasilā, tāra māṭī khodāila
Gosāñi where had sat of that place the earth had dug up

156 Meanwhile Rāmacandra Khān ordered a servant to dig up the earth where Gosāñi had sat.

গোময়-জলে লেপিলা সব মন্দির-প্রাঙ্গণ । তবু রামচন্দ্রের মন না হৈল পরসন্ন ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

gomaya-jale lepilā saba mandira-prāṅgaṇa
with cow-dung water smeared all the temple and courtyard
tabu rāmacandrera mana nā haila parasanna still Rāmacandra's mind not became satisfied

157 He had the whole temple and courtyard smeared with cow-dung water, yet Rāmacandra's mind was still not satisfied.

The dreadful fruit of hatred toward Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas — punishment —

দস্যুবৃত্তি করে রামচন্দ্র রাজারে না দেয় কর । ক্রুদ্ধ হঞা ম্লেচ্ছ উজির আইল তার ঘর ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

dasyu-vṛtti kare rāmacandra rājāre nā deya kara
a robber's way of life follows Rāmacandra to the king not gives tax kruddha hañā mlecchа ujira āila tāra ghara angry becoming the mleccha minister came to his house

158 Rāmacandra lived like a robber and did not pay the king his taxes. Angered, the mleccha minister came to his house.

আসি' সেই দুর্গামণ্ডপে বাসা কৈল ।
'অবধ্য' বধ করি' ঘরে মাংস রান্ধিল ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

āsi' sei durgā-maṇḍape vāsā kaila coming in that Durgā maṇḍapa lodging made
'avadhya' vadha kari' ghare māṁsa rāndhila
'what must not be killed' slaying in the house meat cooked

159 Coming there, he lodged in that very durgā-maṇḍapa; he slaughtered what must never be killed and cooked its meat in the house.

স্ত্রী-পুত্র-সহিত রামচন্দ্রেরে বান্ধিয়া । তার ঘর-গ্রাম লুটে তিনদিন রহিয়া ॥ ১৬০ ॥

strī-putra-sahita rāmacandrere bāndhiyā wife sons together with Rāmacandra binding
tāra ghara-grāma luṭe tina-dina rahiyā
his house and village plunders three days staying

160 He bound Rāmacandra together with his wife and sons, and staying three days, he plundered his house and village.

সেই ঘরে তিন দিন অমেধ্য রন্ধন । আর দিন সবা লঞা করিলা গমন ॥ ১৬১ ॥

sei ghare tina dina amedhya randhana
in that house three days unclean (food) cooking
āra dina sabā lañā karilā gamana
the next day all taking made departure

161 For three days he cooked unclean food in that house, and on the next day he left, taking them all with him.

জাতি-ধন-জন খাঁনের সকল লইল । বহুদিন পর্য্যন্ত গ্রাম উজাড় রহিল ॥ ১৬২ ॥

jāti-dhana-jana khāṁnera sakala laila caste wealth people of the Khān all he took bahu-dina paryanta grāma ujāḍa rahila
many days for the village desolate remained

162 He took everything from the Khān — his caste, his wealth and his people — and the village lay desolate for many days.

What becomes of a land where Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas are hated —

মহান্তের অপমান যে দেশ-গ্রামে হয় । এক জনার দোষে সব দেশ উজাড়য় ॥ ১৬৩ ॥

mahāntera apamāna ye deśa-grāme haya
of a great soul dishonour in which land or village happens
eka janāra doṣe saba deśa ujāḍaya
of one person for the fault the whole land is laid waste

163 Wherever a great soul is dishonoured, in a land or a village, the whole land is laid waste for the fault of a single person.

Ṭhākura Haridāsa in Cāṅdapura, in the house of his devoted follower Balarāma Ācārya —

হরিদাস-ঠাকুর চলি’ আইলা চান্দপুরে । আসিয়া রহিলা বলরাম-আচার্য্যের ঘরে ॥ ১৬৪ ॥

haridāsa-ṭhākura cali’ āilā cāndapure Haridāsa Ṭhākura walking came to Cāṅdapura
āsiyā rahilā balarāma-ācāryera ghare
coming stayed of Balarāma Ācārya in the house

164 Walking on, Haridāsa Ṭhākura came to Cāṅdapura and stayed in the house of Balarāma Ācārya.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Cāṅdapura. In Saptagrāma-Triveṇī, east of the house of Hiraṇya and Govardhana, lies the village of Cāṅdapura. There stood the house of their purohita Balarāma and that of Yadunandana Ācārya.

Anubhāṣya.

Cāṅdapura — a village near Triveṇī in Hugalī district. According to some, this very village later came to be called Kṛṣṇapura.

Who Hiraṇya and Govardhana Majumadāra and Balarāma Ācārya were —

হিরণ্য, গোবর্দ্ধন — মুলুকের মজুমদার । তার পুরোহিত — ‘বলরাম’ নাম তাঁর ॥ ১৬৫ ॥

hiraṇya, govardhana — mulukera majumadāra Hiraṇya Govardhana — of the district the Majumadāras
tāra purohita — ‘balarāma’ nāma tāṁra their priest — ‘Balarāma’ the name his 165 Hiraṇya and Govardhana kept the revenue accounts of the district as its Majumadāras, and their priest was named Balarāma.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Muluk — the muluk (district) of Saptagrāma.

Anubhāṣya.

Majumadāra — majmu-ādār; under the Nawabs, the keeper of the state revenue accounts.

হরিদাসের কৃপাপাত্র, তাতে ভক্তিমানে । যত্ন করি’ ঠাকুরেরে রাখিলা সেই গ্রামে ॥ ১৬৬ ॥

haridāsera kṛpā-pātra, tāte bhakti-māne of Haridāsa a recipient of mercy therefore with devotion and respect
yatna kari’ ṭhākurere rākhilā sei grāme
with care the Ṭhākura kept in that village

166 He had received Haridāsa’s mercy, and so, with devotion and respect, he looked after the Ṭhākura with care in that village.

নির্জ্জন পর্ণশালায় করেন কীর্ত্তন । বলরাম-আচার্য্য-গৃহে ভিক্ষা-নির্ব্বাহণ ॥ ১৬৭ ॥

nirjana parṇa-śālāya karena kīrtana
in a solitary leaf hut does kīrtana balarāma-ācārya-gṛhe bhikṣā-nirvāhaṇa
in Balarāma Ācārya’s house alms receiving

167 Haridāsa chanted in a solitary hut of leaves and took his alms (bhikṣā) at Balarāma Ācārya’s house.

As a boy, Raghunātha dāsa Gosvāmī received Haridāsa's company and mercy —

রঘুনাথ দাস বালক করেন অধ্যয়ন । হরিদাস-ঠাকুরেরে যাই' করেন দর্শন ॥ ১৬৮ ॥

raghunātha dāsa bālaka karena adhyayana Raghunātha dāsa a boy does study
haridāsa-ṭhākurere yāi' karena darśana Haridāsa Ṭhākura going does seeing

168 Raghunātha dāsa, then a boy at his studies, would go to see Haridāsa Ṭhākura.

*Caitanya is attained only through the company and mercy of a sādhu —*

হরিদাস কৃপা করেন তাঁহার উপরে । সেই কৃপা 'কারণ' হৈল চৈতন্য পাইবারে ॥ ১৬৯ ॥

haridāsa kṛpā karena tāṁhāra upare Haridāsa mercy shows him upon sei kṛpā 'kāraṇa' haila caitanya pāibāre that mercy the cause became Caitanya for attaining

169 Haridāsa bestowed his mercy upon him, and that mercy became the cause of his attaining Caitanya.

The account of Haridāsa in the assembly of Hiraṇya and Govardhana at Cāḍapura —

তাঁহা যৈছে হৈল হরিদাসের কথন । ব্যাখ্যান, — অদ্ভুত কথা শুন, ভক্তগণ ॥ ১৭০ ॥

tāṁhā yaiche haila haridāsera kathana
there how took place about Haridāsa the discussion
vyākhyāna, — adbhuta kathā śuna, bhakta-gaṇa
the account — wonderful story listen O devotees

170 Listen, O devotees, to the wonderful account of the discussion about Haridāsa that took place there.

At Balarāma's request the Ṭhākura one day goes to the assembly of Hiraṇya and Govardhana —

একদিন বলরাম মিনতি করিয়া । মজুমদারের সভায় আইলা ঠাকুরে লঞা ॥ ১৭১ ॥

eka-dina balarāma minati kariyā
one day Balarāma entreaty making majumadārera sabhāya āilā ṭhākure lañā of the Majumadāras to the assembly came the Ṭhākura bringing 171 One day, after humbly entreating him, Balarāma brought the Ṭhākura to the assembly of the Majumadāras.

Hiraṇya and Govardhana receive the Ṭhākura fittingly —

ঠাকুর দেখি' দুই ভাই কৈলা অভ্যুত্থান । পায় পড়ি' আসন দিলা করিয়া সম্মান ॥ ১৭২ ॥

ṭhākura dekhi' dui bhāi kailā abhyutthāna
the Ṭhākura seeing the two brothers made rising (to greet)
pāya paḍi' āsana dilā kariyā sammāna
at his feet falling a seat gave showing respect

172 Seeing the Ṭhākura, the two brothers rose to greet him; they fell at his feet and respectfully offered him a seat.

অনেক পণ্ডিত সভায়, ব্রাহ্মণ, সজ্জন । দুই ভাই মহাপণ্ডিত — হিরণ্য, গোবর্দ্ধন ॥ ১৭৩ ॥

aneka paṇḍita sabhāya, brāhmaṇa, sajjana
many scholars in the assembly brāhmaṇas gentlemen
dui bhāi mahā-paṇḍita — hiraṇya, govardhana
the two brothers great scholars — Hiraṇya Govardhana

173 In the assembly were many scholars, brāhmaṇas and gentlemen, and the two brothers, Hiraṇya and Govardhana, were themselves great scholars.

The two brothers rejoice to hear Haridāsa praised —

হরিদাসের গুণ সবে কহে পঞ্চ মুখে । শুনিয়া ত' দুই ভাই পাইলা বড় সুখে ॥ ১৭৪ ॥

haridāsera guṇa sabe kahe pañca mukhe
of Haridāsa the virtues all speak with five mouths
śuniyā ta' dui bhāi pāilā baḍa sukhe hearing indeed the two brothers felt great happiness

174 Everyone praised Haridāsa's virtues as if with five mouths, and hearing this, the two brothers were very happy.

Seeing the Ṭhākura, the scholars discuss the truth of the Name —

তিন-লক্ষ নাম ঠাকুর করেন কীর্ত্তন । নামের মহিমা উঠাইল পণ্ডিতগণ ॥ ১৭৫ ॥

tina-lakṣa nāma ṭhākura karena kīrtana
three hundred thousand names the Ṭhākura does chant
nāmera mahimā uṭhāila paṇḍita-gaṇa
of the name the glory raised the scholars

175 The Ṭhākura chanted three hundred thousand names, and so the scholars raised the subject of the glory of the name.

*All take the semblance of the Name (nāmābhāsa) for the pure Name —*

কেহ বলে, — নাম হৈতে হয় পাপক্ষয় । কেহ বলে, — নাম হৈতে জীবের মোক্ষ হয় ॥ ১৭৬ ॥

keha bale, — nāma haite haya pāpa-kṣaya someone says — the name from comes the destruction of sins
keha bale, — nāma haite jīvera mokṣa haya someone says — the name from of the jīva liberation comes

176 One said, "From the name comes the destruction of sins." Another said, "From the name the soul attains liberation."

The Ṭhākura proclaims the fruit of the pure Name —

হরিদাস কহেন, — নামের এই দুই ফল নয় ।
নামের ফলে কৃষ্ণপদে প্রেম উপজয় ॥ ১৭৭ ॥

haridāsa kahena, — nāmera ei dui phala naya Haridāsa says — of the name these two fruits are not nāmera phale kṛṣṇa-pade prema upajaya
of the name as the fruit for Kṛṣṇa's feet love arises

177 Haridāsa said, "These two are not the fruit of the name. The fruit of the name is that love for Kṛṣṇa's feet arises.

The evidence of scripture —

এবংব্রতঃ স্বপ্রিয়নামকীর্ত্ত্যা- জাতানুরাগো দ্রুতচিত্ত উচ্চৈঃ ।
হসত্যথো রোদিতি রৌতি গায়- ত্যুন্মাদবন্নৃত্যতি লোকবাহ্যঃ ॥ ১৭৮ ॥

evaṁ-vrataḥ sva-priya-nāma-kīrtyā
one with such a vow by the chanting of the names of his beloved jātānurāgo druta-citta uccaiḥ
in whom love has arisen with melted heart loudly
hasaty atho roditi rauti gāyaty laughs then weeps cries out sings unmāda-van nṛtyati loka-bāhyaḥ
like a madman dances beyond the world

178 "One who has taken this vow, chanting the names of his beloved Lord, finds love awakening within him; his heart melts, and, heedless of the world, he laughs aloud, weeps, cries out, sings and dances like a madman." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 11.2.40)[8]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 7.94.

Nāmābhāsa* and its fruit, the removal of anarthas, are already contained within the pure Name and its fruit, the dawning of prema —*

আনুষঙ্গিক ফল নামের — 'মুক্তি', 'পাপনাশ' । তাহার দৃষ্টান্ত যৈছে সূর্য্যের প্রকাশ ॥ ১৭৯ ॥

ānuṣaṅgika phala nāmera — 'mukti', 'pāpa-nāśa'
incidental fruits of the name — 'liberation' 'the destruction of sin'
tāhāra dṛṣṭānta yaiche sūryera prakāśa
of that the example as of the sun the shining

179 Liberation and the destruction of sin are only incidental fruits of the name. The example is the light of the sun.

Anubhāṣya.
As a secondary fruit, the Name frees one from the bondage of saṁsāra and destroys sin, which is attachment to saṁsāra. The definition of initiation into a mantra containing the Name is recorded thus: "Because it gives divine knowledge and destroys sin, the teachers who know the truth call it dīkṣā."[23] As an example, one can say this: the chief fruit of sunrise is that the sun shines by itself, illuminates other things, gives joy, and so on; besides these, as a by-product, the absence of darkness is also seen.

When the sun of the Name rises, the darkness of ignorance perishes —

অংহঃ সংহরদখিলং সকৃদুদয়াদেব সকল-লোকস্য । তরণিরিব তিমিরজলধিং জয়তি জগন্মঙ্গলং হরের্নাম ॥ ১৮০ ॥

aṁhaḥ saṁharad akhilaṁ sakṛd sin destroying all once udayād eva sakala-lokasya
by rising merely of all people taraṇir iva timira-jaladhiṁ
the sun like the ocean of darkness
jayati jagan-maṅgalaṁ harer nāma
is victorious the blessing of the world of Hari the name

180 "As the sun, merely by rising, dispels an ocean of darkness, so the name of Hari, rising even once, destroys all the sins of all people. All glory to that name of Hari, the blessing of the world!" (Nāma-kaumudī of Śrī Lakṣmīdhara Svāmī; Padyāvalī, 16)[9]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
As the sun, when it rises, destroys an ocean of darkness, so the name of Hari, when it rises even once, destroys the sins of all people. May that name of Hari, the good of the whole world, be ever victorious!

Anubhāṣya.
jagan-maṅgalam (the good of the world, bestowing every good up to prema) hareḥ nāma (the Lord who is Hari's holy Name) sakṛt (once) udayāt (by rising, that is, by appearing in senses and the rest that are turned toward service, as one performs kīrtana, hearing and so on) eva taraṇiḥ (the sun) timira-jaladhim (an ocean of dense darkness) iva (just as it destroys, so) sakala-lokasya (of the whole world) akhilam aṁhaḥ (sin, the cause of saṁsāra) saṁharat (removing) jayati (prevails above all).

At the scholars' request the Ṭhākura explains the verse —

এই শ্লোকের অর্থ কর পণ্ডিতের গণ । সবে কহে, — তুমি কহ অর্থ-বিবরণ ॥ ১৮১ ॥

ei ślokera artha kara paṇḍitera gaṇa
of this verse the meaning explain O scholars
sabe kahe, — tumi kaha artha-vivaraṇa
all say — you tell of the meaning the explanation

181 O scholars, explain the meaning of this verse." They all said, "You explain its meaning."

*The Ṭhākura explains the truth of the pure Name and of nāmābhāsa —*

হরিদাস কহেন, — যৈছে সূর্য্যের উদয় ।
উদয় না হৈতে আরম্ভ তমের হয় ক্ষয় ॥ ১৮২ ॥

চৌর-প্রেত-রাক্ষসাদির ভয় হয় নাশ । উদয় হৈলে ধর্ম্ম-কর্ম্ম-আদি পরকাশ ॥ ১৮৩ ॥

haridāsa kahena, — yaiche sūryera udaya Haridāsa says — as of the sun the rising udaya nā haite ārambha tamera haya kṣaya
the rising not having happened from the start of darkness comes destruction caura-preta-rākṣasādira bhaya haya nāśa of thieves ghosts Rākṣasas and the like the fear comes to an end
udaya haile dharma-karma-ādi parakāśa rising when it has happened religious duties works and so on are manifest

182–183 Haridāsa said, “It is like the rising of the sun: even before it has risen, darkness begins to vanish, and the fear of thieves, ghosts, Rākṣasas and the like comes to an end. When it has risen, religious duties, works and all else come to light.

The fruit of the Name: the dawning of love for Kṛṣṇa —

ঐছে নামোদয়ারম্ভে পাপ-আদির ক্ষয়। উদয় কৈলে কৃষ্ণপদে হয় প্রেমোদয় ॥ ১৮৪ ॥

aiche nāmodayārambhe pāpa-ādira kṣaya
so at the start of the name’s rising of sins and the like the destruction
udaya kaile kṛṣṇa-pade haya premodaya rising when it has done for Kṛṣṇa’s feet comes the dawning of love

184 In the same way, as the name begins to rise, sins and the like are destroyed; when it has risen, love for Kṛṣṇa’s feet dawns.[10]

*Liberation comes already from nāmābhāsa —*

‘মুক্তি’ তুচ্ছ-ফল হয় নামাভাস হৈতে।
যে মুক্তি ভক্ত না লয়, সে কৃষ্ণ চাহে দিতে ॥ ১৮৫ ॥

‘mukti’ tuccha-phala haya nāmābhāsa haite ‘liberation’ a trifling fruit is the semblance of the name from ye mukti bhakta nā laya, se kṛṣṇa cāhe dite that liberation the devotee not accepts that Kṛṣṇa wishes to give 185 Liberation is a trifling fruit that comes from the mere semblance of the name (nāmābhāsa). Kṛṣṇa wishes to give that liberation, but His devotee does not accept it.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Even if Kṛṣṇa wishes to give liberation to a pure devotee, the devotee does not accept it.

म्रियमाणो हरेर्नाम गृणन् पुत्रोपचारितम्।
अजामिलोऽप्यगाद्धाम किमुत श्रद्धया गृणन् ॥ १৮৬ ॥

mriyamāṇo harer nāma
dying of Hari the name
gṛṇan putropacāritam
uttering addressed to his son
ajāmilo ’py agād dhāma
Ajāmila even went to the abode
kim uta śraddhayā gṛṇan
what to speak then with faith one who utters

186 “Even Ajāmila reached the Lord’s abode by uttering the name of Hari as he was dying, though he addressed it to his son. What then of one who utters the name with faith?” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 6.2.49)[11]

Anubhāṣya.
See Antya 3.63.

সালোক্য-সার্ষ্টি-সারূপ্য-সামীপ্যৈকত্বমপ্যুত । দীয়মানং ন গৃহ্ণন্তি বিনা মৎসেবনং জনাঃ ॥ ১৮৭ ॥

sālokya-sārṣṭi-sārūpya-residence in My world equal opulence likeness of form sāmīpyaikatvam apy uta nearness oneness even and dīyamānaṁ na gṛhṇanti being given not accept vinā mat-sevanaṁ janāḥ
without My service the people

187 "My devotees accept nothing but service to Me — not even when they are offered residence in My world, opulence equal to Mine, nearness to Me, a form like Mine, or even oneness with Me." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 3.29.13)[12]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 4.207.[24]

*The account of the atheist Gopāla Cakravartī, who held the glory of the Name to be exaggeration (arthavāda) —*

'গোপাল-চক্রবর্ত্তী' নাম একজন । মজুমদারের ঘরে সেই আরিন্দা প্রধান ॥ ১৮৮ ॥

'gopāla-cakravartī' nāma eka-jana
'Gopāla Cakravartī' by name one person
majumadārera ghare sei ārindā pradhāna
of the Majumadāras in the house he tax collector chief

188 There was a man named Gopāla Cakravartī, the chief tax collector (ārindā) of the Majumadāras' house.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Ārindā — a foot officer who collects revenue (tahśīl); a peyādā, or runner, who carries letters and delivers the king's taxes.

গৌড়ে রহি' পাৎসাহা-আগে আরিন্দাগিরি করে । বার-লক্ষ মুদ্রা সেই পাৎসাহারে ভরে ॥ ১৮৯ ॥

gauḍe rahi' pātsāhā-āge ārindā-giri kare in Gauḍa staying before the Pātsāhā the work of tax collector does bāra-lakṣa mudrā sei pātsāhāre bhare
twelve lakhs of coins he to the Pātsāhā pays

189 Living in Gauḍa, he served the Pātsāhā as a tax collector and delivered twelve lakhs (1,200,000) of coins into his treasury.[13]

পরম-সুন্দর, পণ্ডিত, নূতন-যৌবন । নামাভাসে 'মুক্তি' শুনি' না হইল সহন ॥ ১৯০ ॥

parama-sundara, paṇḍita, nūtana-yauvana
most handsome learned newly youthful nāmābhāse 'mukti' śuni' nā haila sahana
from the semblance of the name 'liberation' hearing not was tolerance

190 He was very handsome, learned and in the first bloom of youth. Hearing that liberation comes from the semblance of the name, he could not tolerate it.

In anger he speaks of the Ṭhākura with contempt —

ক্রুদ্ধ হঞা বলে সেই সরোষ বচন । ভাবুকের সিদ্ধান্ত শুন, পণ্ডিতের গণ ॥ ১৯১ ॥

kruddha hañā bale sei saroṣa vacana angry becoming says he wrathful words bhāvukera siddhānta śuna, paṇḍitera gaṇa
of the sentimentalist the conclusion hear O scholars

191 Becoming angry, he spoke wrathful words: “Hear the conclusion of this sentimentalist, O scholars!

The atheist calls the glory of the Name exaggeration —

কোটি-জন্মে ব্রহ্মজ্ঞানে যেই ‘মুক্তি’ নয় ।
এই কহে, — নামাভাস-মাত্রে সেই ‘মুক্তি’ হয় ॥ ১৯২ ॥

koṭi-janme brahma-jñāne yei ‘mukti’ naya in ten million births by knowledge of Brahman which ‘liberation’ is not ei kahe, — nāmābhāsa-mātre sei ‘mukti’ haya this one says — by the mere semblance of the name that ‘liberation’ comes 192 The liberation that is not attained by knowledge of Brahman even in ten million births — that liberation, he says, comes from the mere semblance of the name!”

*The Ṭhākura cites scriptural evidence and shows how trivial liberation is for one wholly devoted to prema-bhakti —*

হরিদাস কহেন, — কেনে করহ সংশয় ?
শাস্ত্রে কহে, — নামাভাস-মাত্রে ‘মুক্তি’ হয় ॥ ১৯৩ ॥

haridāsa kahena, — kene karaha saṁśaya?
Haridāsa says — why do you make doubt śāstre kahe, — nāmābhāsa-mātre ‘mukti’ haya
in the scriptures it says — by the mere semblance of the name ‘liberation’ comes 193 Haridāsa said, “Why do you doubt? The scriptures say that liberation comes from the mere semblance of the name.

ভক্তিসুখ-আগে ‘মুক্তি’ অতি-তুচ্ছ হয় । অতএব ভক্তগণ ‘মুক্তি’ নাহি লয় ॥ ১৯৪ ॥

bhakti-sukha-āge ‘mukti’ ati-tuccha haya
the happiness of devotion before ‘liberation’ very trifling is ataeva bhakta-gaṇa ‘mukti’ nāhi laya
therefore the devotees ‘liberation’ do not accept

194 Beside the happiness of devotion, liberation is utterly trifling; therefore the devotees do not accept it.

ত্বৎসাক্ষাৎকরণাহ্লাদ-বিশুদ্ধাব্ধিস্থিতস্য মে । সুখানি গোষ্পদায়ন্তে ব্রাহ্মাণ্যপি জগদ্গুরো ॥ ১৯৫ ॥

tvat-sākṣāt-karaṇāhlādafrom seeing You face to face the joy
viśuddhābdhi-sthitasya me
in the pure ocean situated for me sukhāni goṣ-padāyante joys become like a calf's hoofprint
brāhmāṇy api jagad-guro
of Brahman even O Guru of the world

195 "O Guru of the world, now that I am immersed in the pure ocean of joy that comes from seeing You face to face, all other joys — even the bliss of Brahman — seem to me like the water in a calf's hoofprint." (Hari-bhakti-sudhodaya, 14.36)[14]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 7.98.

*The brāhmaṇa makes a vow before the Ṭhākura —*

বিপ্র কহে, — নামাভাসে যদি 'মুক্তি' নয়। তবে তোমার নাক কাটি' করহ নিশ্চয় ॥ ১৯৬ ॥

vipra kahe, — nāmābhāse yadi 'mukti' naya
the brāhmaṇa says — from the semblance of the name if 'liberation' is not tabe tomāra nāka kāṭi' karaha niścaya
then your nose cutting make certain

196 The brāhmaṇa said, "If liberation does not come from the semblance of the name, then pledge that you will cut off your nose!"[15]

The Ṭhākura accepts the vow —

হরিদাস কহেন, — যদি নামাভাসে 'মুক্তি' নয়। তবে আমার নাক কাটিমু, — এই সুনিশ্চয় ॥ ১৯৭ ॥

haridāsa kahena, — yadi nāmābhāse 'mukti' naya Haridāsa says — if from the semblance of the name 'liberation' is not tabe āmāra nāka kāṭimu, — ei suniścaya
then my nose I shall cut off — this is quite certain

197 Haridāsa said, "If liberation does not come from the semblance of the name, then I shall cut off my own nose — that is certain."

*The assembly reproaches the brahma-bandhu —*

শুনি' সভাসদ্ উঠে করি' হাহাকার। মজুমদার সেই বিপ্রে করিল ধিক্কার ॥ ১৯৮ ॥

śuni' sabhā-sad uṭhe kari' hāhākāra hearing the members of the assembly rise making an outcry majumadāra sei vipre karila dhikkāra
the Majumadāras that brāhmaṇa made rebuke

198 Hearing this, the members of the assembly rose with an outcry, and the Majumadāras rebuked that brāhmaṇa.

*Regarding him as an atheist and a mere logician (hetuvādī), Balarāma Ācārya rebukes and curses him —*

বলাই-পুরোহিত তারে করিলা ভর্ৎসন । ঘট-পটিয়া মূর্খ তুঞি, ভক্তি কাঁহা জান ? ॥ ১৯৯ ॥

balāi-purohita tāre karilā bhartsana Balāi the priest him made reproach
ghaṭa-paṭiyā mūrkha tuñi, bhakti kāṁhā jāna?
pot-and-cloth logician fool you devotion what know

199 The priest Balāi (Balarāma) reproached him: "You are a fool who argues about pots and cloth (ghaṭa-paṭiyā) — what do you know of devotion?[16]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Ghaṭa-paṭiyā — a naiyāyika (logician) who argues fruitlessly about "the pot" (ghaṭa) and "the cloth" (paṭa).

হরিদাস-ঠাকুরে তুঞি কৈলি অপমান !
সর্ব্বনাশ হবে তোর, না হবে কল্যাণ ॥ ২০০ ॥

haridāsa-ṭhākure tuñi kaili apamāna!
Haridāsa Ṭhākura you have done insult sarva-nāśa habe tora, nā habe kalyāṇa ruin of all will be yours not will be good

200 You have insulted Haridāsa Ṭhākura! You will be utterly ruined; no good will come to you."

[The Ṭhākura] leaves the company of one who holds the glory of the Name to be exaggeration —

শুনি' হরিদাস তবে উঠিয়া চলিলা । মজুমদার সেই বিপ্রে ত্যাগ করিলা ॥ ২০১ ॥

śuni' haridāsa tabe uṭhiyā calilā hearing Haridāsa then rising departed majumadāra sei vipre tyāga karilā
the Majumadāras that brāhmaṇa rejection made

201 Hearing this, Haridāsa rose and departed, and the Majumadāras dismissed that brāhmaṇa.

The assembly begs forgiveness at the Ṭhākura's feet —

সভা-সহিতে হরিদাসের পড়িলা চরণে । হরিদাস হাসি' কহে মধুর-বচনে ॥ ২০২ ॥

sabhā-sahite haridāsera paḍilā caraṇe
with the assembly of Haridāsa fell at the feet
haridāsa hāsi' kahe madhura-vacane
Haridāsa smiling speaks with sweet words

202 Together with the whole assembly they fell at Haridāsa's feet, and Haridāsa, smiling, spoke sweet words:

The Ṭhākura, who sees no fault in others, forgives —

তোমা-সবার দোষ নাহি, এই অজ্ঞ ব্রাহ্মণ । তার দোষ নাহি, তার তর্কনিষ্ঠ মন ॥ ২০৩ ॥

tomā-sabāra doṣa nāhi, ei ajña brāhmaṇa
of you all fault is not this ignorant brāhmaṇa
tāra doṣa nāhi, tāra tarka-niṣṭha mana his fault is not his devoted to logic mind

203 "None of you is at fault, nor is this ignorant brāhmaṇa to blame: his mind is devoted to logic.

The Lord who is the holy Name is inconceivable by nature; He is Adhokṣaja, beyond mundane reasoning and argument —

তর্কের গোচর নহে নামের মহত্ত্ব । কোথা হৈতে জানিবে সে এই সব তত্ত্ব ? ॥ ২০৪ ॥

tarkera gocara nahe nāmera mahattva
of logic within the range is not of the name the greatness
kothā haite jānibe se ei saba tattva?
where from will know he this all truth

204 The greatness of the name lies beyond the reach of logic. How could he know these truths?

He prays to Kṛṣṇa for the welfare of all —

যাহ ঘর, কৃষ্ণ করুন কুশল সবার । আমার সম্বন্ধে দুঃখ না হউক কাহার ॥ ২০৫ ॥

yāha ghara, kṛṣṇa karuna kuśala sabāra go home Kṛṣṇa may He do welfare of all āmāra sambandhe duḥkha nā hauka kāhāra
me concerning sorrow not may there be for anyone

205 Go home. May Kṛṣṇa bless you all, and may no one suffer on my account."

*Hiraṇya and Govardhana shun the company of the atheist brahma-bandhu —*

তবে সে হিরণ্যদাস নিজ-ঘরে আইল । সেই ব্রাহ্মণে নিজ দ্বার-মানা কৈল ॥ ২০৬ ॥

tabe se hiraṇya-dāsa nija-ghare āila
then that Hiraṇya dāsa to his own house came sei brāhmaṇe nija dvāra-mānā kaila that brāhmaṇa his own door-forbidding made

206 Then Hiraṇya dāsa returned to his own house and forbade that brāhmaṇa to enter his door.

The dreadful fruit — punishment — of calling the glory of the Name exaggeration and of disrespecting a Vaiṣṇava —

তিন-দিন রহি' সেই বিপ্রের 'কুষ্ঠ' হৈল । অতি-উচ্চ নাশা তার গলিয়া পড়িল ॥ ২০৭ ॥

tina-dina rahi' sei viprera 'kuṣṭha' haila
three days passing that brāhmaṇa's 'leprosy' came ati-ucca nāśā tāra galiyā paḍila
very high nose his rotting fell off

207 Within three days that brāhmaṇa contracted leprosy, and his very prominent nose rotted and fell off.

চম্পক-কলি-সম হস্ত-পদাঙ্গুলি । কোঁকড় হইল সব, কুষ্ঠে গেল গলি’ ॥ ২০৮ ॥

campaka-kali-sama hasta-padāṅguli
campaka-bud-like the fingers and toes koṁkaḍa haila saba, kuṣṭhe gela gali’
shrivelled became all by leprosy went rotting

208 His fingers and toes, once like campaka buds, all shrivelled and rotted away with leprosy.

Seeing the Ṭhākura's power, everyone praises him —

দেখিয়া সকল লোক হৈল চমৎকার । হরিদাসে প্রশংসি’ তাঁরে করে নমস্কার ॥ ২০৯ ॥

dekhiyā sakala loka haila camatkāra
seeing all the people became amazed haridāse praśaṁsi’ tāṁre kare namaskāra
Haridāsa praising to him make obeisance

209 Seeing this, everyone was amazed; they praised Haridāsa and bowed down to him.

The nature of Bhagavān and of the devotee, that is, of Viṣṇu and of the Vaiṣṇava —

যদ্যপি হরিদাস বিপ্রের দোষ না লইলা । তথাপি ঈশ্বর তারে ফল ভুঞ্জাইলা ॥ ২১০ ॥

yadyapi haridāsa viprera doṣa nā lailā although Haridāsa the brāhmaṇa’s fault not took tathāpi īśvara tāre phala bhuñjāilā
nevertheless the Lord him the fruit made to taste

210 Although Haridāsa did not take the brāhmaṇa’s offence to heart, the Lord nevertheless made him taste its fruit.

ভক্ত-স্বভাব, — অজ্ঞ-দোষ ক্ষমা করে ।
কৃষ্ণ-স্বভাব, — ভক্ত-নিন্দা সহিতে না পারে ॥ ২১১ ॥

bhakta-svabhāva, — ajña-doṣa kṣamā kare
the devotee’s nature — the fault of the ignorant forgiveness makes kṛṣṇa-svabhāva, — bhakta-nindā sahite nā pāre Kṛṣṇa’s nature — the blasphemy of His devotee to bear not can 211 It is the nature of a devotee to forgive the faults of the ignorant; it is Kṛṣṇa’s nature that He cannot bear blasphemy of His devotee.

*Hearing of the brahma-bandhu's suffering, [Haridāsa] leaves the place and comes to Śāntipura —*

বিপ্র-দুঃখ শুনি’ হরিদাস মনে দুঃখী হৈলা । বলাই পুরোহিতে কহি’ শান্তিপুর আইলা ॥ ২১২ ॥

vipra-duḥkha śuni’ haridāsa mane duḥkhī hailā of the brāhmaṇa the suffering hearing Haridāsa at heart unhappy became balāi purohite kahi’ śāntipura āilā Balāi to the priest having told to Śāntipura came

212 Hearing of the brāhmaṇa’s suffering, Haridāsa was saddened at heart. Taking leave of the priest Balāi, he came to Śāntipura.

Meeting with Śrī Advaita Ācārya —

আচার্য্যে মিলিয়া কৈলা দণ্ডবৎ প্রণাম । অদ্বৈত আলিঙ্গন করি' করিলা সম্মান ॥ ২১৩ ॥

ācārye miliyā kailā daṇḍavat praṇāma
the Ācārya meeting made prostrate obeisance
advaita āliṅgana kari' karilā sammāna
Advaita embrace making showed honour

213 Meeting the Ācārya, he fell before Him in obeisance, and Advaita embraced him and honoured him.

*The Ācārya provides for the Ṭhākura and recites the Gītā and the Bhāgavata to him —*

গঙ্গাতীরে গোঁফা করি' নির্জ্জনে তাঁরে দিলা । ভাগবত-গীতার ভক্তি-অর্থ শুনাইলা ॥ ২১৪ ॥

gaṅgā-tīre gom̐phā kari' nirjane tām̐re dilā on the bank of the Gaṅgā a cave making in solitude to him gave bhāgavata-gītāra bhakti-artha śunāilā of the Bhāgavata and the Gītā the devotional meaning made him hear 214 On the bank of the Gaṅgā He made a secluded cave-dwelling for him, and He explained to him the devotional meaning of the Bhāgavata and the Gītā.

Every day the two converse about Kṛṣṇa —

আচার্য্যের ঘরে নিত্য ভিক্ষা-নির্ব্বাহণ । দুই জনা মিলি' কৃষ্ণ-কথা-আস্বাদন ॥ ২১৫ ॥

ācāryera ghare nitya bhikṣā-nirvāhaṇa
of the Ācārya in the house daily taking alms
dui janā mili' kṛṣṇa-kathā-āsvādana
the two persons meeting talk of Kṛṣṇa relishing

215 Haridāsa took his alms daily at the Ācārya's house, and together the two of them relished talks about Kṛṣṇa.

Haridāsa's humble words —

হরিদাস কহে, — গোসাঞি, করি নিবেদনে ।
মোরে প্রত্যহ অন্ন দেহ' কোন্ প্রয়োজনে ? ॥ ২১৬ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — gosāñi, kari nivedane Haridāsa says — Gosāñi I make a submission more pratyaha anna deha' kon prayojane?
to me every day food You give for what purpose

216 Haridāsa said, "Gosāñi, I have something to submit to You. Why do You give me food every day?

মহা-মহা-বিপ্র এথা কুলীন-সমাজ । আমারে আদর কর, না বাসহ লাজ! ॥ ২১৭ ॥

mahā-mahā-vipra ethā kulīna-samāja
very great brāhmaṇas here a society of the high-born āmāre ādara kara, nā vāsaha lāja!
me honour You do not You feel shame

217 Here are great brāhmaṇas, a society of the high-born, and yet You honour me and feel no shame!

অলৌকিক আচার তোমার কহিতে পাই ভয় । সেই কৃপা করিবা, — যাতে তোমার রক্ষা হয় ॥ ২১৮ ॥

alaukika ācāra tomāra kahite pāi bhaya extraordinary conduct Your to speak of I feel fear sei kṛpā karibā, — yāte tomāra rakṣā haya that mercy please do — by which Your protection may be 218 Your conduct is extraordinary; I am afraid even to speak of it. Please be merciful and act so that Your own standing is protected."[17]

Anubhāṣya.
Rakṣā (protection) — preserving one's standing in society in practical affairs, that is, being spared social disgrace, censure and the like.

The impartial words of Śrī Advaita Ācārya, guru of the world and teacher of the people, in accord with the Sātvata scriptures —

আচার্য্য কহেন, — তুমি না করিহ ভয় । সেই আচরিব, যেই শাস্ত্রমত হয় ॥ ২১৯ ॥

ācārya kahena, — tumi nā kariha bhaya
the Ācārya says — you do not have fear sei ācariba, yei śāstra-mata haya that I shall do which according to scripture is 219 The Ācārya said, "Do not be afraid. I shall act only as the scriptures direct.

তুমি খাইলে হয় কোটিব্রাহ্মণ-ভোজন । এত বলি' শ্রাদ্ধ-পাত্র করাইলা ভোজন ॥ ২২০ ॥

tumi khāile haya koṭi-brāhmaṇa-bhojana
you when you eat there is of ten million brāhmaṇas the feeding eta bali' śrāddha-pātra karāilā bhojana
this having said the śrāddha plate made him eat

220 When you eat, it is as good as feeding ten million brāhmaṇas." Saying this, He fed him the śrāddha-pātra, the food of the day of śrāddha.[18]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śrāddha-pātra. On the day of śrāddha, Vaiṣṇava householders are enjoined to offer the Lord every kind of food and then to feed it to Vaiṣṇavas and brāhmaṇas. When such a śrāddha day came in Advaita Prabhu's household, He fed Haridāsa as the śrāddha-pātra, regarding him as a transcendental brāhmaṇa and guru.

Thus ends the third chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.
The Bhakti-sandarbha (117) quotes these words of the Garuḍa Purāṇa: "Better than thousands of brāhmaṇas is one who performs satra sacrifices; better than thousands of satra performers is one who has mastered all of Vedānta; better than ten million knowers of all Vedānta is a devotee of Viṣṇu; and better than thousands of Vaiṣṇavas is a single one wholly devoted (ekāntī)." "Even a mleccha, if this eightfold bhakti is present in him, is the best of brāhmaṇas, the best of sages; he is wise, and he is learned. To him one should give, from him one should accept, and he is to be worshiped as Hari is." "One who knows the four Vedas but is not My devotee is not dear to Me; My devotee, though born among dog-eaters, is dear to Me. To him one should give, from him one should accept, and he is to be worshiped as I am."

*Śrī Advaita Ācārya's incomparable mercy toward the jīvas —*

জগৎ-নিস্তার লাগি' করেন চিন্তন । অবৈষ্ণব-জগৎ কেমনে হইবে মোচন ? ॥ ২২১ ॥ jagat-nistāra lāgi' karena cintana

of the world the deliverance for the sake of does thinking avaiṣṇava-jagat kemane haibe mocana?
non-Vaiṣṇava world how will be delivered

221 He was always thinking of how to deliver the world: "How will this world, devoid of Vaiṣṇavas, be delivered?"

The Ācārya worships Kṛṣṇa —

কৃষ্ণে অবতারিতে অদ্বৈত প্রতিজ্ঞা করিলা । জল-তুলসী দিয়া পূজা করিতে লাগিলা ॥ ২২২ ॥

kṛṣṇe avatārite advaita pratijñā karilā Kṛṣṇa to make descend Advaita a vow made jala-tulasī diyā pūjā karite lāgilā
water and tulasī offering worship to do began

222 Advaita vowed to bring Kṛṣṇa down to this world, and He began to worship Him with water and tulasī.

Haridāsa chants the Name —

হরিদাস করে গোঁফায় নাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । কৃষ্ণ অবতীর্ণ হইবেন, — এই তাঁর মন ॥ ২২৩ ॥

haridāsa kare gom̐phāya nāma-saṅkīrtana Haridāsa does in the cave the chanting of the name
kṛṣṇa avatīrṇa haibena, — ei tām̐ra mana Kṛṣṇa descended will be — this his mind

223 In his cave Haridāsa chanted the name, with this one thought in his mind: "Kṛṣṇa will descend."

*At the call of the two, Kṛṣṇa Caitanya descends to deliver the jīvas, and by distributing the Name and prema He delivers the whole world —*

দুইজনের ভক্ত্যে চৈতন্য কৈলা অবতার । নাম-প্রেম প্রচার করি' কৈলা জগৎ উদ্ধার ॥ ২২৪ ॥

dui-janera bhaktye caitanya kailā avatāra
of the two by the devotion Caitanya made descent
nāma-prema pracāra kari' kailā jagat uddhāra
the name and love preaching doing made of the world deliverance

224 By the devotion of these two Caitanya descended, and by preaching the name and love He delivered the world.

An account of the Ṭhākura's transcendental conduct —

আর অলৌকিক এক চরিত্র তাঁহার । যাহার শ্রবণে লোকে হয় চমৎকার ॥ ২২৫ ॥

āra alaukika eka caritra tām̐hāra another extraordinary one deed of his yāhāra śravaṇe loke haya camatkāra
of which on hearing people become amazed

225 There is another extraordinary deed of his, which amazes people when they hear it.

*By the path of śruti (hearing) one realizes the transcendental; by the path of argument it cannot be grasped —*

তর্ক না করিহ, তর্কাগোচর তাঁর রীতি । বিশ্বাস করিয়া শুন করিয়া প্রতীতি ॥ ২২৬ ॥

tarka nā kariha, tarkāgocara tāṁra rīti argument do not make beyond argument his ways
viśvāsa kariyā śuna kariyā pratīti
faith having hear making conviction

226 Do not argue: his ways are beyond argument. Hear it with faith and conviction.

The account of Ṭhākura Haridāsa and the deliverance of Māyā-devī —

একদিন হরিদাস গোঁফাতে বসিয়া । নাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন করেন উচ্চ করিয়া ॥ ২২৭ ॥

eka-dina haridāsa goṁphāte vasiyā
one day Haridāsa in the cave sitting nāma-saṅkīrtana karena ucca kariyā
the chanting of the name does loud making

227 One day Haridāsa was sitting in his cave, chanting the name aloud.

জ্যোৎস্নাবতী রাত্রি, দশ দিক্ সুনির্ম্মল । গঙ্গার লহরী জ্যোৎস্নায় করে ঝল-মল ॥ ২২৮ ॥

jyotsnāvatī rātri, daśa dik sunirmala
moonlit night the ten directions perfectly clear gaṅgāra laharī jyotsnāya kare jhala-mala
the Gaṅgā's waves in the moonlight make glittering

228 It was a moonlit night; the ten directions were perfectly clear, and the waves of the Gaṅgā glittered in the moonlight.

দ্বারে তুলসী — লেপা-পিণ্ডির উপর । গোঁফার শোভা দেখি' লোকের জুড়ায় অন্তর ॥ ২২৯ ॥

dvāre tulasī — lepā-piṇḍira upara
at the door Tulasī — a plastered platform upon goṁphāra śobhā dekhi' lokera juḍāya antara
of the cave the beauty seeing people's is soothed heart

229 At the door was Tulasī, on a plastered platform. The cave was so beautiful that the heart of anyone who saw it was soothed.

হেনকালে এক নারী অঙ্গনে আইল । তাঁর অঙ্গকান্ত্যে স্থান পীতবর্ণ হইল ॥ ২৩০ ॥

hena-kāle eka nārī aṅgane āila
at that time a woman into the courtyard came tāṁra aṅga-kāntye sthāna pīta-varṇa haila her by the lustre of her body the place golden became 230 At that time a woman came into the courtyard, and the lustre of her body turned the whole place golden.

তাঁর অঙ্গ-গন্ধে দশ দিক্ আমোদিত । ভূষণ-ধ্বনিতে কর্ণ হয় চমকিত ॥ ২৩১ ॥

tāṁra aṅga-gandhe daśa dik āmodita
her by the fragrance of her body the ten directions perfumed bhūṣaṇa-dhvanite karṇa haya camakita
by the sound of her ornaments the ears are startled

231 The fragrance of her body perfumed the ten directions, and the tinkling of her ornaments thrilled the ears.

আসিয়া তুলসীরে সেই কৈলা নমস্কার । তুলসী পরিক্রমা করি' গেলা গোঁফা-দ্বার ॥ ২৩২ ॥

āsiyā tulasīre sei kailā namaskāra
coming to Tulasī she made obeisance
tulasī parikramā kari' gelā goṁphā-dvāra
Tulasī circumambulation making went to the cave's door

232 Coming in, she bowed down to Tulasī, circumambulated her and went to the door of the cave.

যোড়-হাতে হরিদাসের বন্দিলা চরণ । দ্বারে বসি' কহে কিছু মধুর বচন ॥ ২৩৩ ॥

yoḍa-hāte haridāsera vandilā caraṇa
with joined palms of Haridāsa honoured the feet
dvāre vasi' kahe kichu madhura vacana
at the door sitting says some sweet words

233 With joined palms she honoured Haridāsa's feet, and sitting at the door, she spoke some sweet words:

*Māyā, who enchants the jīvas, tests Ṭhākura Haridāsa —*

জগতের বন্ধু তুমি রূপগুণবান্ । তব সঙ্গ লাগি' মোর এথাকে প্রয়াণ ॥ ২৩৪ ॥

jagatera bandhu tumi rūpa-guṇavān
of the world the friend you endowed with beauty and virtue tava saṅga lāgi' mora ethāke prayāṇa
your company for the sake of my to here coming

234 "You are the friend of the whole world, endowed with beauty and virtue. I have come here for your company.

মোরে অঙ্গীকার কর হঞা সদয় । দীনে দয়া করে, — এই সাধু-স্বভাব হয় ॥ ২৩৫ ॥

more aṅgīkāra kara hañā sadaya
me acceptance make being kind dīne dayā kare, — ei sādhu-svabhāva haya to the lowly mercy shows — this of a saint the nature is 235 Be kind and accept me. To show mercy to the lowly — that is the nature of a saint."

এত বলি' নানা ভাব করয়ে প্রকাশ । যাহার দর্শনে মুনির হয় ধৈর্য্য-নাশ ॥ ২৩৬ ॥

eta bali' nānā bhāva karaye prakāśa
this having said various moods makes display yāhāra darśane munira haya dhairya-nāśa
which on seeing of a sage comes loss of composure

236 Saying this, she displayed various alluring moods, the sight of which would make even a sage lose his composure.

নির্ব্বিকার হরিদাস গম্ভীর-আশয় । বলিতে লাগিলা তাঁরে হঞা সদয় ॥ ২৩৭ ॥

nirvikāra haridāsa gambhīra-āśaya
unmoved Haridāsa of deep heart
balite lāgilā tāṁre hañā sadaya
to speak began to her being kind

237 But Haridāsa, unmoved and deep of heart, began to speak to her kindly:

Ṭhākura Haridāsa has vowed himself to a sacrifice, chanting the Name by a fixed count, and is steadfast in it —

সংখ্যা-নাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন — এই 'মহাযজ্ঞ' মন্যে । তাহাতে দীক্ষিত আমি হই প্রতিদিনে ॥ ২৩৮ ॥

saṅkhyā-nāma-saṅkīrtana — ei 'mahā-yajña' manye
the chanting of the name by number — this 'great sacrifice' I consider tāhāte dīkṣita āmi hai prati-dine
in that consecrated I am every day

238 "Chanting the name by a fixed count is what I consider the great sacrifice (mahā-yajña), and every day I am consecrated to it.

যাবৎ কীর্ত্তন সমাপ্ত নহে, না করি অন্য কাম । কীর্ত্তন সমাপ্ত হৈলে, হয় দীক্ষার বিশ্রাম ॥ ২৩৯ ॥

yāvat kīrtana samāpta nahe, nā kari anya kāma
until the chanting completed is not not I do other thing
kīrtana samāpta haile, haya dīkṣāra viśrāma
the chanting completed when it is is of the vow the rest

239 Until the chanting is complete, I do nothing else; when the chanting is complete, my vow is at rest.[19]

দ্বারে বসি' শুন তুমি নাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । নাম সমাপ্ত হৈলে করিমু তব প্রীতি-আচরণ ॥ ২৪০ ॥

dvāre vasi' śuna tumi nāma-saṅkīrtana
at the door sitting hear you the chanting of the name
nāma samāpta haile karimu tava prīti-ācaraṇa
the name completed when it is I shall do your pleasing

240 Sit at the door and listen to the chanting of the name. When the name is completed, I shall do what pleases you."

এত বলি' করেন তেঁহো নাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । সেই নারী বসি' করে শ্রীনাম-শ্রবণ ॥ ২৪১ ॥

eta bali' karena teṁho nāma-saṅkīrtana
this having said does he the chanting of the name
sei nārī vasi' kare śrī-nāma-śravaṇa
that woman sitting does hearing of the holy name

241 Saying this, he went on chanting the name, and the woman sat and listened to the holy name.

কীর্ত্তন করিতে আসি' প্রাতঃকাল হৈল । প্রাতঃকাল দেখি' নারী উঠিয়া চলিল ॥ ২৪২ ॥

kīrtana karite āsi' prātaḥ-kāla haila chanting while doing coming morning came prātaḥ-kāla dekhi' nārī uṭhiyā calila morning seeing the woman rising departed

242 While he chanted, dawn came, and seeing that it was morning, the woman rose and left.

For three days Māyā tests him severely —

এইমত তিনদিন করে আগমন । নানা-ভাব দেখায়, যাতে ব্রহ্মার হরে মন ॥ ২৪৩ ॥

ei-mata tina-dina kare āgamana
in this way three days makes coming nānā-bhāva dekhāya, yāte brahmāra hare mana various moods shows by which of Brahmā is captivated the mind

243 In this way she came for three days, displaying moods that could captivate even Brahmā's mind.

Māyā is defeated before the Ṭhākura, the exclusive servant of the Lord who is the Name, the nondual Truth; he is free from the sense of being an enjoyer, which arises from absorption in a "second" —

কৃষ্ণে নামাবিষ্ট-মনা সদা হরিদাস । অরণ্যে রোদিত হৈল স্ত্রীভাব-প্রকাশ ॥ ২৪৪ ॥

kṛṣṇe nāmāviṣṭa-manā sadā haridāsa
in Kṛṣṇa with mind absorbed in the name always Haridāsa
araṇye rodita haila strī-bhāva-prakāśa
in the forest a cry became the display of feminine charms

244 Haridāsa's mind was always absorbed in the name of Kṛṣṇa, so her display of feminine charms was like crying in the wilderness.

Anubhāṣya.
While chanting the holy name of Hari, Haridāsa's mind was always absorbed in the name of Kṛṣṇa. Therefore Māyā-devī's garland of feminine moods — alluring to men, full of deceit, enchanting to bound souls — proved as fruitless as weeping in a deserted forest.

তৃতীয় দিবসের রাত্রি-শেষ যবে হৈল । ঠাকুরের স্থানে নারী কহিতে লাগিল ॥ ২৪৫ ॥

tṛtīya divasera rātri-śeṣa yabe haila third day's end of the night when came ṭhākurera sthāne nārī kahite lāgila
the Ṭhākura to the woman to speak began

245 When the third night was coming to an end, the woman said to the Ṭhākura:

তিন দিন বঞ্চিলা আমা করি’ আশ্বাসন । রাত্রি-দিনে নহে তোমার নাম-সমাপন ॥ ২৪৬ ॥

tina dina vañcilā āmā kari’ āśvāsana
three days you have cheated me making assurances rātri-dine nahe tomāra nāma-samāpana
night and day is not your completion of the name

246 “For three days you have deceived me with promises. Night and day, your chanting of the name never ends.”

The Ṭhākura serves according to his vow —

হরিদাস ঠাকুর কহেন, — আমি কি করিমু ?
নিয়ম কৈরাছি, তাহা কেমনে ছাড়িমু ? ॥ ২৪৭ ॥

haridāsa ṭhākura kahena, — āmi ki karimu?
Haridāsa Ṭhākura says — I what shall do niyama kairāchi, tāhā kemane chāḍimu?
a vow I have made that how shall I give up

247 Haridāsa Ṭhākura said, “What can I do? I have made a vow — how can I give it up?”

Māyā reveals who she is —

তবে নারী কহে তাঁরে করি’ নমস্কার । ‘আমি — মায়া’ করিতে আইলাঙ পরীক্ষা তোমার ॥ ২৪৮ ॥

tabe nārī kahe tāṁre kari’ namaskāra
then the woman says to him making obeisance ‘āmi — māyā’ karite āilāṅa parīkṣā tomāra
‘I — Māyā’ to make I came test of you

248 Then, bowing down to him, the woman said, “I am Māyā. I came to test you.

Māyā admits her defeat —

ব্রহ্মাদি জীব, আমি সবারে মোহিলুঁ । একেলা তোমারে আমি মোহিতে নারিলুঁ ॥ ২৪৯ ॥

brahmādi jīva, āmi sabāre mohiluṁ Brahmā and the other jīvas I all have bewitched
ekelā tomāre āmi mohite nāriluṁ alone you I to bewitch could not

249 I have bewitched all living beings, beginning with Brahmā; you alone I could not bewitch.

Anubhāṣya.

Māyā-devī bewilders every living being of every kind, from Brahmā down to a blade of grass (ābrahma-stamba) — that is, beginning with Brahmā: the demigods, humans, beasts, birds and other creatures (tiryak), down to the immobile beings. She makes them feel that they are her “enjoyers” (bhoktā) and that she is their “object of enjoyment” (bhogyā). But the mood in Haridāsa's heart — wholly given to serving Kṛṣṇa and pleasing Kṛṣṇa's senses — was in no way overcome by Māyā's deceitful temptations. Like Haridāsa, all pure Vaiṣṇavas hold this Vedāntic conviction: the pure devotee eternally exists for Kṛṣṇa's enjoyment and is never an enjoyer of Māyā. He is an eternal entity of Vaikuṇṭha, beyond the senses (adhokṣaja) and beyond the guṇas — that is, transcendental (aprākṛta). And the jīva is freed from Māyā's power, from anarthas, when he gives up the misapprehension (vivarta) of identifying himself with the body and knows himself to be a servant of Kṛṣṇa, a Vaiṣṇava — that is, as the fruit of service to Adhokṣaja.

Māyā begs for the Ṭhākura's mercy —

মহাভাগবত তুমি, — তোমার দর্শনে ।
তোমার কৃষ্ণনাম-কীর্ত্তন-শ্রবণে ॥ ২৫০ ॥

চিত্ত শুদ্ধ হৈল, চাহে কৃষ্ণনাম লৈতে ।
'কৃষ্ণ-নাম' উপদেশি' কৃপা করহ আমাতে ॥ ২৫১ ॥

mahā-bhāgavata tumi, — tomāra darśane
a great devotee you — your by the sight
tomāra kṛṣṇa-nāma-kīrtana-śravaṇe
your by hearing the chanting of Kṛṣṇa's name
citta śuddha haila, cāhe kṛṣṇa-nāma laite heart pure became wants Kṛṣṇa's name to take
'kṛṣṇa-nāma' upadeśi' kṛpā karaha āmāte
in 'Kṛṣṇa's name' instructing mercy show to me

250–251 You are a great devotee (mahā-bhāgavata). By seeing you and hearing you chant Kṛṣṇa's name, my heart has become pure and longs to take Kṛṣṇa's name. Be merciful to me: instruct me in Kṛṣṇa's name.

*Without cultivating devotion to Kṛṣṇa under the shelter of Caitanya, who descended out of causeless mercy, the jīva is no better than dull matter —*

চৈতন্যাবতারে বহে প্রেমামৃত-বন্যা । সব জীব প্রেমে ভাসে, পৃথিবী হৈল ধন্যা ॥ ২৫২ ॥

caitanyāvatāre vahe premāmṛta-vanyā
in Caitanya's descent flows a flood of the nectar of love saba jīva preme bhāse, pṛthivī haila dhanyā
all jīvas in love float the earth became blessed

252 With Caitanya's descent a flood of the nectar of love is flowing. All living beings float in that love, and the earth has become blessed.

এ-বন্যায় যে না ভাসে, সেই জীব — ছার । কোটিকল্পে তবে তার নাহিক নিস্তার ॥ ২৫৩ ॥

e-vanyāya ye nā bhāse, sei jīva — chāra
in this flood who not floats that soul — wretched koṭi-kalpe tabe tāra nāhika nistāra
in millions of kalpas then his there is no deliverance

253 Wretched is the soul who does not float in this flood: for him there is no deliverance even in millions of kalpas.

Anubhāṣya.
One mahā-yuga is 4,320,000 solar years; a thousand such mahā-yugas make one kalpa. A koṭi-kalpa is a span of time a koṭi (ten million) times as long.

*Earlier Māyā received from Śambhu, the conqueror of Madana, the name of Rāma — the tāraka-brahma —*

পূর্ব্বে আমি রাম-নাম পাঞাছি 'শিব' হৈতে । তোমার সঙ্গে লোভ হৈল কৃষ্ণনাম লৈতে ॥ ২৫৪ ॥

pūrve āmi rāma-nāma pāñāchi ‘śiva’ haite before I Rāma’s name have received ‘Śiva’ from tomāra saṅge lobha haila kṛṣṇa-nāma laite
your by the company longing arose Kṛṣṇa’s name to take 254 Long ago I received the name of Rāma from Śiva; now, by your company, I long to take the name of Kṛṣṇa.

How the glory of “the name of Rāma” differs from that of “the name of Kṛṣṇa” —

মুক্তি-হেতু তারকব্রহ্ম হয় ‘রামনাম’ । ‘কৃষ্ণনাম’ পারক হঞা করে প্রেমদান ॥ ২৫৫ ॥

mukti-hetu tāraka-brahma haya ‘rāma-nāma’
the cause of liberation the delivering Brahman is ‘Rāma’s name’ ‘kṛṣṇa-nāma’ pāraka hañā kare prema-dāna
‘Kṛṣṇa’s name’ the one who carries across being makes the gift of love

255 The name of Rāma is the tāraka-brahma, the Brahman that delivers, the cause of liberation; the name of Kṛṣṇa, the pāraka, carries one across and gives love.

*Māyā begs for initiation into the mahā-mantra — the name of Kṛṣṇa — and for love of Kṛṣṇa —*

‘কৃষ্ণনাম’ দেহ’ তুমি মোরে কর ধন্যা ।
আমারে ভাসায় যৈছে এই প্রেমবন্যা ॥ ২৫৬ ॥

‘kṛṣṇa-nāma’ deha’ tumi more kara dhanyā ‘Kṛṣṇa’s name’ give you me make blessed āmāre bhāsāya yaiche ei prema-vanyā me sweeps away so that this flood of love

256 Give me Kṛṣṇa’s name and make me blessed, so that this flood of love may sweep me away too.”

*Māyā-devī falls prostrate before the Ṭhākura, and the Ṭhākura initiates her into the mahā-mantra — the name of Kṛṣṇa —*

এত বলি’ বন্দিলা হরিদাসের চরণ । হরিদাস কহে, — কর কৃষ্ণ-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন ॥ ২৫৭ ॥

eta bali’ vandilā haridāsera caraṇa
this having said honoured of Haridāsa the feet
haridāsa kahe, — kara kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtana
Haridāsa says — do kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtana

257 Saying this, she honoured Haridāsa’s feet. Haridāsa said, “Chant the name of Kṛṣṇa (kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtana).”

Māyā departs —

উপদেশ পাঞা মায়া চলিলা হঞা প্রীত । এ-সব কথাতে কারো না জন্মে প্রতীত ॥ ২৫৮ ॥

upadeśa pāñā māyā calilā hañā prīta instruction receiving Māyā departed being pleased e-saba kathāte kāro nā janme pratīta
these all in accounts of someone not arises belief

258 Having received his instruction, Māyā departed, pleased. Yet some people do not believe such accounts.

In transcendental events only transcendental faith leads to the highest good —

প্রতীত করিতে কহি কারণ ইহার । যাহার শ্রবণে হয় বিশ্বাস সবার ॥ ২৫৯ ॥

pratīta karite kahi kāraṇa ihāra belief to produce I tell the reason of this yāhāra śravaṇe haya viśvāsa sabāra
which on hearing comes faith to everyone

259 To make them believe, I shall tell the reason for it; hearing it, everyone will have faith.

When Caitanya, the giver of love of Kṛṣṇa, descended, the demigods, sages and others — and even the eternally perfect devotees — took birth in human form to attain love of Kṛṣṇa, and attained it —

চৈতন্যাবতারে কৃষ্ণপ্রেমে লুব্ধ হঞা । ব্রহ্মা-শিব-সনকাদি পৃথিবীতে জন্মিয়া ॥ ২৬০ ॥

caitanyāvatāre kṛṣṇa-preme lubdha hañā
at Caitanya's descent for love of Kṛṣṇa eager becoming brahmā-śiva-sanakādi pṛthivīte janmiyā
Brahmā Śiva Sanaka and the others on earth taking birth

260 At the descent of Caitanya, Brahmā, Śiva, Sanaka and the others, eager for love of Kṛṣṇa, took birth on earth.

কৃষ্ণনাম লঞা নাচে, প্রেমবন্যায় ভাসে । নারদ-প্রহ্লাদাদি আসে মনুষ্য-প্রকাশে ॥ ২৬১ ॥

kṛṣṇa-nāma lañā nāce, prema-vanyāya bhāse Kṛṣṇa's name taking they dance in the flood of love float
nārada-prahlādādi āse manuṣya-prakāśe
Nārada Prahlāda and others come in human form

261 Taking Kṛṣṇa's name, they dance and float in the flood of love. Nārada, Prahlāda and others came in human form.

Lakṣmī and others also taste love of Kṛṣṇa in human form —

লক্ষ্মী-আদি করি' কৃষ্ণপ্রেমে লুব্ধ হঞা । নাম-প্রেম আস্বাদিলা মনুষ্যে জন্মিয়া ॥ ২৬২ ॥

lakṣmī-ādi kari' kṛṣṇa-preme lubdha hañā Lakṣmī and others beginning with for love of Kṛṣṇa eager becoming nāma-prema āsvādilā manuṣye janmiyā
the name and love relished as human beings taking birth

262 Lakṣmī and others, eager for love of Kṛṣṇa, took birth as human beings and relished the name and love.

*Kṛṣṇa Himself tastes the love of His own sweetness (mādhurya) —*

অন্যের কা কথা, আপনে ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন । অবতরি' করেন প্রেম-নাম আস্বাদন ॥ ২৬৩ ॥

anyera kā kathā, āpane vrajendra-nandana of others what talk Himself the son of the king of Vraja
avatari' karena prema-nāma āsvādana descending does of love and the name the relishing

263 What to speak of others? The son of the king of Vraja Himself descends and relishes love and the name.[20]

Even Māyā-devī longs to taste love of Kṛṣṇa; love of Kṛṣṇa is attained only by the mercy of the pure Name and of one who chants the pure Name —

মায়া-দাসী ‘প্রেম’ মাগে, — ইথে কি বিস্ময় ?
‘সাধুকৃপা’, ‘নাম’ বিনা ‘প্রেম’ না জন্মায় ॥ ২৬৪ ॥

māyā-dāsī ‘prema’ māge, — ithe ki vismaya?
Māyā the maidservant ‘love’ begs — in this what wonder ‘sādhu-kṛpā’, ‘nāma’ vinā ‘prema’ nā janmāya
‘the saint’s mercy’ ‘the name’ without ‘love’ not is born

264 If Māyā, the Lord’s maidservant, begs for love, what wonder is there in that? Without the mercy of a saint and the name, love is never born.

With Caitanya's descent, the souls of the whole world attain love of Kṛṣṇa —

চৈতন্য-গোসাঞির লীলার এই ত’ স্বভাব । ত্রিভুবন নাচে, গায়, পাঞা প্রেমভাব ॥ ২৬৫ ॥

caitanya-gosāñira līlāra ei ta’ svabhāva of Caitanya Gosāñi of the pastimes this indeed the nature
tribhuvana nāce, gāya, pāñā prema-bhāva
the three worlds dance sing attaining the mood of love

265 Such is the very nature of Caitanya Gosāñi’s pastimes: the three worlds dance and sing, having attained the mood of love.

*By the power of kīrtana of Kṛṣṇa, all the forms of God (īśa-tattva), beginning with Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa Himself, and all jīvas, immobile and mobile, become maddened with love of Kṛṣṇa —*

কৃষ্ণ-আদি, আর যত স্থাবর-জঙ্গমে ।
কৃষ্ণপ্রেমে মত্ত করে কৃষ্ণ-সঙ্কীর্ত্তনে ॥ ২৬৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa-ādi, āra yata sthāvara-jaṅgame Kṛṣṇa and the others and all the unmoving and moving kṛṣṇa-preme matta kare kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtane with love of Kṛṣṇa mad makes the chanting of Kṛṣṇa’s name

266 Kṛṣṇa Himself and the others, and all beings, moving and unmoving — kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtana makes them all mad with love of Kṛṣṇa.

*The author describes these pastimes by the path of śrauta — as he heard them from the mouth of the guru —*

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি কড়চায় যে-লীলা লিখিল । রঘুনাথদাস-মুখে যে সব শুনিল ॥ ২৬৭ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi kaḍacāya ye-līlā likhila Svarūpa Gosāñi in his notebook which pastimes wrote raghunātha-dāsa-mukhe ye saba śunila
from Raghunātha dāsa’s mouth which all I heard

267 The pastimes that Svarūpa Gosāñi recorded in his notebook (kaḍacā), and all that I heard from the mouth of Raghunātha dāsa —

The author speaks of his own humility —

সেই সব লীলা কহি সংক্ষেপ করিয়া । চৈতন্য-কৃপাতে লিখি ক্ষুদ্রজীব হঞা ॥ ২৬৮ ॥

sei saba līlā kahi saṅkṣepa kariyā
those all pastimes I tell in brief making caitanya-kṛpāte likhi kṣudra-jīva hañā
by Caitanya's mercy I write a tiny soul being 268 those pastimes I tell in brief. Though I am an insignificant soul, I write by Caitanya's mercy.

*Pure devotees rejoice to hear the glory of the Ṭhākura, the ācārya of the holy Name —*

হরিদাস-ঠাকুরের কহিলুঁ মহিমার কণ । যাহার শ্রবণে ভক্তের জুড়ায় শ্রবণ ॥ ২৬৯ ॥

haridāsa-ṭhākurera kahiluṁ mahimāra kaṇa of Haridāsa Ṭhākura I have told of the glory a particle
yāhāra śravaṇe bhaktera juḍāya śravaṇa
which on hearing of the devotees is soothed the ears

269 I have told a particle of the glory of Haridāsa Ṭhākura; hearing it soothes the devotees' ears.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the third chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ২৭০ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

270 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.[21]

Notes

1. This same verse opens Antya 2; translation as there. ↩
2. The same verse as Madhya 4.2 (and Ādi 4.2, where the first line has śrī-caitanya in place of gauracandra); translation as there. ↩
3. The reference follows the edition's heading (p. 890): Viṣṇu Purāṇa, part 4, chapter 15, verse 10. ↩
4. The same verse as Ādi 3.88; translation as there. The source follows the edition's heading (p. 891): Ālavandāru's (Śrī Yāmunācārya's) Stotra-ratna, verse 18. ↩
5. Durgā-maṇḍapa-upare — "in the durgā-maṇḍapa". ↩
6. The servant offers Nityānanda a cowshed (goyālāra gośālā); the edition's heading to 151: disrespect shown to Śrī Nityānanda Prabhu. ↩
7. Tāre daṇḍa dite se grāme nā rahilā — "to punish him, He did not stay in that village": Nityānanda's departure was itself the punishment, followed by the retribution of 158–162 (Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya: "by the curse of Nityānanda Prabhu"). ↩
8. The same verse as Ādi 7.94; translation as there. The reference is confirmed by the edition's heading. ↩
9. The source follows the edition's heading: a verse of the Nāma-kaumudī of Śrī Lakṣmīdhara Svāmī quoted in the Padyāvalī (the number 16 is not given there). ↩
10. Nāmodayārambhe — "at the beginning of the name's rising", udaya kaile — "when it has risen": the dawn is nāmābhāsa, which frees one from sin and gives liberation (185); the full sunrise is the pure name, which gives prema. ↩
11. The same verse as 63; translation as there. ↩

12. The same verse as Ādi 4.207; translation as there. The edition here reads sārūpya-sāmīpya (sārūpya before sāmīpya; in Ādi 4.207 and Madhya 9.268 the usual order); the text follows the edition, the meaning is unchanged. ↩
13. Ārindā — a tax collector, a messenger who carries the royal revenue (Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya on 188). ↩
14. The same verse as Ādi 7.98; translation as there. Haridāsa's speech (193–195) ends here in the edition. ↩
15. Tomāra nāka kāṭi' karaha niścaya: karaha is an imperative addressed to Haridāsa — "give your firm word to cut off your nose"; Haridāsa answers in kind (197), and the edition's heading to 197 is "the Ṭhākura accepts the oath". It is Gopāla's own nose that falls off (207). ↩
16. Ghaṭa-paṭiyā — a logician (naiyāyika) who argues idly about "pot" (ghaṭa) and "cloth" (paṭa) ↩
17. The edition reads yāte tomāra rakṣā haya — "so that You are protected" (another reading: mora, "I"): Haridāsa asks Advaita to guard His own standing; rakṣā — protection of one's place in society from public shame and censure (Anubhāṣya). ↩
18. Śrāddha-pātra: on the day of śrāddha a Vaiṣṇava householder first offers all kinds of food to the Lord and then feeds Vaiṣṇavas and brāhmaṇas; Advaita fed Haridāsa as the śrāddha-pātra, seeing in him a transcendental brāhmaṇa and guru (Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya). ↩
19. Dīkṣāra viśrāma — "rest from the vow": Haridāsa is consecrated (dīkṣita) to his sacrifice of the name every day (238). ↩
20. The edition reads prema-nāma āsvādana, "relishes love and the name" (another reading: prema-rasa, "the taste of love"); cf. 262. ↩
21. The same colophon verse as Antya 2.172; translation as there. ↩
22. The sense of the last sentence of the original is not entirely clear (the word ābāra can mean both "again" and "on the other hand"); it is translated literally. ↩
23. Hari-bhakti-vilāsa 2.9; also quoted in Bhakti-sandarbha 283. ↩
24. The edition misprints "Ādi 4.270" (checked against the scan); the verse sālokya-sārṣṭi… is Ādi 4.207. ↩

“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 4

The Festival of Association with Sanātana Once Again

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. Śrī Sanātana Gosvāmī came alone from Mathurā-maṇḍala to Puruṣottama by the forest path through Jhārikhaṇḍa. On the way, from the bad water and from fasting, his body broke out in oozing sores (kaṇḍu-rasā). Tormented by them, he resolved: “Before the Lord I shall give up this body under the wheel of Jagannātha's chariot.” Arriving in Puruṣottama, he stayed at Haridāsa's dwelling. Mahāprabhu was overjoyed to see him. Sanātana Gosvāmī then told the Lord of Anupama's departure from this world on the bank of the Gaṅgā and of his steadfast devotion to Śrī Rāmacandra. One day Mahāprabhu said to Sanātana: “Giving up the body and the like is a quality of darkness (tamo-dharma): by giving up the body one cannot attain love for Kṛṣṇa. Abandon this notion born of darkness. You have offered your body to Me, and you have no right to give it up. Through this body of yours I shall propagate many scriptures on bhakti and restore the lost holy places of Vṛndāvana.” When Mahāprabhu had left, Haridāsa and Sanātana talked at length. One day the Lord sent for Sanātana, calling him to Yameśvara-ṭoṭā, and he came there along the seashore. When Mahāprabhu questioned him, Sanātana replied: “The servants of Jagannātha come and go by the way past the Lion Gate, so I came over the sand. I did not even notice that blisters had risen on my feet.” These words of Sanātana, upholding due reverence (maryādā), pleased the Lord. Fearing that the discharge from his sores would touch the Lord's body, Sanātana kept his distance from Him, yet the Lord would forcibly embrace him all the same. Distressed by this, Sanātana asked Jagadānanda Paṇḍita for advice, and Jagadānanda advised him to go to Vṛndāvana after the Ratha-yātrā. Hearing of this, Mahāprabhu chided Jagadānanda somewhat and showed that Sanātana was superior to him. He also said to Sanātana: “You are a pure devotee, and one should not judge whether your body is good or bad. Above all, I am a sannyāsī, and such judgment does not befit Me at all.” Finally He said: “You are the ones I cherish, and I am the one who cherishes you; therefore the discharge from your sores does not disgust Me.” After these exchanges Mahāprabhu embraced Sanātana, and the sores and everything else vanished from his body. The Lord kept Sanātana in Kṣetra that year and (the following year) ordered him to go to Śrī Vṛndāvana. Following that order, Sanātana went to Vṛndāvana by the forest path. Meanwhile Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī took leave at Mahāprabhu's feet, stayed in Gauḍa for a year, distributed all his wealth among his relatives, the brāhmaṇas and the temples, and then went to Vṛndāvana and joined Sanātana. After that Kavirāja Gosvāmī names the books written by Rūpa, Sanātana and Jīva.

Gaurasundara saves Sanātana from his resolve to give up his body —

বৃন্দাবনাৎ পুনঃ প্রাপ্তং শ্রীগৌরঃ শ্রীসনাতনম্ ।
দেহপাতাদবন্ স্নেহাৎ শুদ্ধং চক্রে পরীক্ষয়া ॥ ১ ॥

vṛndāvanāt punaḥ prāptaṁ from Vṛndāvana again who had come

śrī-gauraḥ śrī-sanātanam Śrī Gaura Śrī Sanātana

deha-pātād avan snehāt
from the fall of the body protecting out of affection

śuddhaṁ cakre parīkṣayā
pure made by a test

1 When Śrī Sanātana came again from Vṛndāvana, Śrī Gaura, out of love, saved him from giving up his body and, by testing him, made him pure.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

When Sanātana came from Vṛndāvana, Śrī Gauracandra in His affection saved him from giving up his body, tested him and made him pure.

Anubhāṣya.

śrī-gauraḥ (Mahāprabhu) vṛndāvanāt punaḥ prāptaṁ (who, after their meeting in Kāśī, had come to Kṣetra) śrī-sanātanam (Prabhu) snehāt deha-pātāt (from the destruction of his body) avan (protecting) parīkṣayā śuddhaṁ cakre.

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory of Gaura the devotees to the multitude

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura![1]

Rūpa goes from Purī to Gauḍa, and Sanātana comes from Vṛndāvana to Purī —

নীলাচল হৈতে রূপ গৌড়ে যবে গেলা । মথুরা হৈতে সনাতন নীলাচল আইলা ॥ ৩ ॥

nīlācala haite rūpa gauḍe yabe gelā Nīlācala from Rūpa to Gauḍa when went mathurā haite sanātana nīlācala āilā Mathurā from Sanātana to Nīlācala came

3 When Rūpa went from Nīlācala to Gauḍa, Sanātana came from Mathurā to Nīlācala.

Having endured great hardship on the path through Jhārikhaṇḍa, he arrives in Purī —

ঝারিখণ্ড-বনপথে আইলা একেলা চলিয়া । কভু উপবাস, কভু চর্ব্বণ করিয়া ॥ ৪ ॥

jhārikhaṇḍa-vana-pathe āilā ekelā caliyā
by the Jhārikhaṇḍa forest path he came alone walking kabhu upavāsa, kabhu carvaṇa kariyā
sometimes fasting sometimes chewing doing

4 He came alone, on foot, by the forest path through Jhārikhaṇḍa, sometimes fasting, sometimes eating a little dry food.

To external vision sores are seen all over Sanātana's body —

ঝারিখণ্ডের জলের দোষে, উপবাস হৈতে । গাত্রে কণ্ডু হৈল, রসা পড়ে খাজুয়াইতে ॥ ৫ ॥

jhārikhaṇḍera jalera doṣe, upavāsa haite of Jhārikhaṇḍa of the water through the fault fasting from gātre kaṇḍu haila, rasā paḍe khājuyāite
on the body sores appeared fluid oozes on scratching

5 Because of the bad water of Jhārikhaṇḍa and his fasting, itching sores broke out on his body, and fluid oozed from them when he scratched.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Khājuyāite: scratching an itching rash (khos-pāčarā).

On the way Sanātana is seized by detachment and speaks of his own lowliness —

নির্ব্বেদ হইল পথে, করেন বিচার । নীচ-জাতি, দেহ মোর — অত্যন্ত অসার ॥ ৬ ॥

nirveda haila pathe, karena vicāra
detachment arose on the way he makes reflection
nīca-jāti, deha mora — atyanta asāra
low birth body my utterly worthless

6 On the way a mood of detachment (nirveda) arose in him, and he reflected: “I am of low birth, and my body is utterly worthless.

Anubhāṣya.
Nirveda: detachment (virakti); asāra: unfit for serving Kṛṣṇa.

জগন্নাথে গেলে তাঁর দর্শন না পাইমু । প্রভুর দর্শন সদা করিতে নারিমু ॥ ৭ ॥

jagannāthe gele tāṁra darśana nā pāimu to Jagannātha if I go His sight not I shall obtain prabhura darśana sadā karite nārimu of the Lord sight always to have I shall not be able

7 If I go to Jagannātha, I shall not obtain His darśana, nor shall I be able to see the Lord at all times.

মন্দির-নিকটে শুনি তাঁর বাসা-স্থিতি । মন্দির নিকটে যাইতে মোর নাহি শক্তি ॥ ৮ ॥

mandira-nikaṭe śuni tāṁra vāsā-sthiti
the temple near I hear His residence situated mandira nikaṭe yāite mora nāhi śakti
the temple near to go my there is not power

8 I hear that His residence is near the temple, but I have no power to go near the temple.

*Regarding himself as a worldly, impure jīva, he fears transgressing due reverence (maryādā) —*

জগন্নাথের সেবক ফেরে কার্য্য-অনুরোধে । তাঁর স্পর্শ হৈলে মোর হবে অপরাধে ॥ ৯ ॥

jagannāthera sevaka phere kārya-anurodhe of Jagannātha the servants move about of their duties at the demand
tāṁra sparśa haile mora habe aparādhe
their touch if there is my there will be offence

9 The servants of Jagannātha move about there on their duties; if I touch them, I shall be guilty of an offence.

The resolve to give up his body before Jagannātha's chariot while the Lord is dancing —

তাতে যদি এই দেহ ভাল-স্থানে দিয়ে । দুঃখ-শান্তি হয় আর সদ্গতি পাইয়ে ॥ ১০ ॥

tāte yadi ei deha bhāla-sthāne diye therefore if this body in a good place I give duḥkha-śānti haya āra sadgati pāiye of sorrow relief there is and a good destination I attain

10 So if I give this body up in a good place, my sorrow will be eased and I shall attain a good destination.

জগন্নাথ রথযাত্রায় হইবেন বাহির । তাঁর রথ চাকায় ছাড়িমু এই শরীর ॥ ১১ ॥

jagannātha ratha-yātrāya haibena bāhira Jagannātha at the Ratha-yātrā will be outside tāṁra ratha cākāya chāḍimu ei śarīra
His under the chariot's wheel I shall give up this body

11 At the Ratha-yātrā Jagannātha will come out; under the wheel of His chariot I shall give up this body.

মহাপ্রভুর আগে, আর দেখি' জগন্নাথ । রথে দেহ ছাড়িমু, — এই পরম-পুরুষার্থ ॥ ১২ ॥

mahāprabhura āge, āra dekhi' jagannātha of Mahāprabhu before and seeing Jagannātha
rathe deha chāḍimu, — ei parama-puruṣārtha
at the chariot the body I shall give up this the supreme goal of life

12 Before Mahāprabhu's eyes, beholding Jagannātha, I shall give up my body at the chariot: this is the highest goal of life."

Arrival at Ṭhākura Haridāsa's place —

এই ত' নিশ্চয় করি' নীলাচলে আইলা । লোকে পুছি' হরিদাস-স্থানে উত্তরিলা ॥ ১৩ ॥

ei ta' niścaya kari' nīlācale āilā
this indeed resolve making to Nīlācala he came loke puchi' haridāsa-sthāne uttarilā
people asking at Haridāsa's place he arrived

13 Having made this resolve, he came to Nīlācala and, asking people the way, arrived at the dwelling of Haridāsa.

Obeisance to Haridāsa, and Haridāsa's embrace —

হরিদাসের কৈলা তেঁহ চরণ বন্দন । জানি' হরিদাস তাঁরে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন ॥ ১৪ ॥

haridāsera kailā teṁha caraṇa vandana
of Haridāsa made he of the feet worship
jāni' haridāsa tāṁre kailā āliṅgana knowing (him) Haridāsa him made embrace

14 He bowed down at the feet of Haridāsa, and Haridāsa, recognising him, embraced him.

Sanātana longs to see the Lord's feet —

মহাপ্রভু দেখিতে তাঁর উৎকণ্ঠিত মন । হরিদাস কহে, — প্রভু আসিবেন এখন ॥ ১৫ ॥

mahāprabhu dekhite tāṁra utkaṇṭhita mana Mahāprabhu to see his eager mind
haridāsa kahe, — prabhu āsibena ekhana
Haridāsa says the Lord will come now

15 His heart was eager to see Mahāprabhu. Haridāsa said, “The Lord will come now.”

The Lord arrives —

হেনকালে প্রভু ‘উপলভোগ’ দেখিয়া । হরিদাসে মিলিতে আইলা ভক্তগণ লঞা ॥ ১৬ ॥

hena-kāle prabhu ‘upala-bhoga’ dekhiyā
at that time the Lord the ‘upala-bhoga’ having seen haridāse milite āilā bhakta-gaṇa lañā Haridāsa to meet came the devotees taking

16 Just then the Lord, after seeing the upala-bhoga offering, came with His devotees to meet Haridāsa.

Both bow to the Lord; the Lord embraces Haridāsa —

প্রভু দেখি’ দুঁহে পড়ে দণ্ডবৎ হঞা । প্রভু আলিঙ্গিলা হরিদাসেরে উঠাঞা ॥ ১৭ ॥

prabhu dekhi’ duṁhe paḍe daṇḍavat hañā
the Lord seeing both fall flat like rods becoming prabhu āliṅgilā haridāsere uṭhāñā
the Lord embraced Haridāsa raising

17 Seeing the Lord, both of them fell prostrate before Him. The Lord raised Haridāsa and embraced him.

Sanātana's arrival astonishes and delights the Lord —

হরিদাস কহে, — সনাতন করে নমস্কার । সনাতনে দেখি’ প্রভু হৈলা চমৎকার ॥ ১৮ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — sanātana kare namaskāra Haridāsa says Sanātana makes obeisance
sanātane dekhi’ prabhu hailā camatkāra Sanātana seeing the Lord became astonished

18 Haridāsa said, “Sanātana is offering You obeisance.” Seeing Sanātana, the Lord was astonished.

Bhagavān steps forward to embrace His dearest, best of devotees; Sanātana draws back and speaks humbly —

সনাতনে আলিঙ্গিতে প্রভু আগু হৈলা । পাছে ভাগে সনাতন কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১৯ ॥

sanātane āliṅgite prabhu āgu hailā Sanātana to embrace the Lord forward came pāche bhāge sanātana kahite lāgilā back draws Sanātana to speak began

19 The Lord came forward to embrace Sanātana, but Sanātana drew back and began to say:

মোরে না ছুঁইহ, প্রভু, পড়োঁ তোমার পায় । একে নীচজাতি অধম, আর কণ্ডুরসা গায় ॥ ২০ ॥

more nā chuṁiha, prabhu, paḍoṁ tomāra pāya me do not touch O Lord I fall at Your feet
eke nīca-jāti adhama, āra kaṇḍu-rasā gāya
first of low birth fallen and oozing sores on the body

20 “Do not touch me, O Lord, I fall at Your feet! I am low-born and fallen, and besides, my body is covered with oozing sores.”

Bhagavān forcibly embraces His dearest, best of devotees —

বলাৎকারে প্রভু তাঁরে আলিঙ্গন কৈল । কণ্ডুক্লেদ মহাপ্রভুর শ্রীঅঙ্গে লাগিল ॥ ২১ ॥

balātkāre prabhu tāṁre āliṅgana kaila
by force the Lord him embrace made kaṇḍukleda mahāprabhura śrīaṅge lāgila
the moisture of the sores Mahāprabhu’s the holy body touched

21 But the Lord embraced him by force, and the moisture of his sores touched Mahāprabhu’s holy body.

Sanātana meets the devotees —

সব ভক্তগণে প্রভু মিলাইলা সনাতনে । সনাতন কৈলা সবার চরণ বন্দনে ॥ ২২ ॥

saba bhakta-gaṇe prabhu milāilā sanātane
all with the devotees the Lord made meet Sanātana
sanātana kailā sabāra caraṇa vandane
Sanātana made of all of the feet worship

22 The Lord introduced Sanātana to all the devotees, and Sanātana bowed down at the feet of each of them.

Out of humility Haridāsa and Sanātana sit below the devotees —

প্রভু লঞা বসিলা পিণ্ডার উপরে ভক্তগণ । পিণ্ডার তলে বসিলা হরিদাস সনাতন ॥ ২৩ ॥

prabhu lañā vasilā piṇḍāra upare bhakta-gaṇa
the Lord with sat the raised platform upon the devotees
piṇḍāra tale vasilā haridāsa sanātana
of the platform below sat Haridāsa Sanātana

23 The devotees sat with the Lord on the raised platform, while Haridāsa and Sanātana sat below the platform.

The Lord asks about the welfare of Sanātana and of the devotees living in Vraja —

কুশলবার্ত্তা মহাপ্রভু পুছেন সনাতনে । তেঁহ কহেন, — পরম মঙ্গল দেখিনু চরণে ॥ ২৪ ॥

kuśala-vārtā mahāprabhu puchena sanātane
of welfare news Mahāprabhu asks Sanātana
teṁha kahena, — parama maṅgala dekhinu caraṇe
he says supreme good fortune I have seen the feet

24 Mahāprabhu asked Sanātana how he was. He replied, “All is supremely auspicious, for I have seen Your feet.”

Sanātana's reply —

মথুরার বৈষ্ণব-সবের কুশল পুছিলা । সবার কুশল সনাতন জানাইলা ॥ ২৫ ॥

mathurāra vaiṣṇava-sabera kuśala puchilā of Mathurā of all the Vaiṣṇavas the welfare He asked sabāra kuśala sanātana jānāilā
of all the welfare Sanātana made known

25 He asked after the welfare of all the Vaiṣṇavas of Mathurā, and Sanātana told Him that all were well.

The Lord gives Sanātana news of Rūpa and Anupama —

প্রভু কহে, — ইঁহা রূপ ছিল দশমাস । ইঁহা হৈতে গৌড়ে গেলা, হৈল দিন দশ ॥ ২৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — iṁhā rūpa chila daśa-māsa
the Lord says here Rūpa was ten months
iṁhā haite gauḍe gelā, haila dina daśa
here from to Gauḍa he went it has been days ten

26 The Lord said, “Rūpa was here for ten months. He left here for Gauḍa ten days ago.

তোমার ভাই অনুপমের হৈল গঙ্গা-প্রাপ্তি । ভাল ছিল, রঘুনাথে দৃঢ় তার ভক্তি ॥ ২৭ ॥

tomāra bhāi anupamera haila gaṅgā-prāpti
your brother of Anupama took place attainment of the Gaṅgā
bhāla chila, raghunāthe dṛḍha tāra bhakti
good he was in Raghunātha firm his devotion

27 Your brother Anupama has departed from this world on the bank of the Gaṅgā. He was a good soul; his devotion to Raghunātha (Śrī Rāma) was firm.”[2]

Sanātana speaks humbly of himself and glorifies the Lord's unsolicited mercy —

সনাতন কহে, — নীচ-বংশে মোর জন্ম । অধর্ম্ম অন্যায় যত, — আমার কুলধর্ম্ম ॥ ২৮ ॥

sanātana kahe, — nīca-vaṁśe mora janma Sanātana says in a low family my birth
adharma anyāya yata, — āmāra kula-dharma irreligion wrongdoing whatever my family’s way

28 Sanātana said, “I was born in a low family; every kind of irreligion and wrongdoing was the custom of my family.

Anubhāṣya.
Nīca-vaṁśe: see the Anubhāṣya on Madhya 1.189.

হেন বংশ ঘৃণা ছাড়ি’ কৈলা অঙ্গীকার । তোমার কৃপায় বংশে মঙ্গল আমার ॥ ২৯ ॥

hena vaṁśa ghṛṇā chāḍi’ kailā aṅgīkāra
such a family aversion giving up You made acceptance tomāra kṛpāya vaṁśe maṅgala āmāra
by Your mercy in the family auspiciousness my 29 Yet, setting aside all aversion, You accepted such a family; by Your mercy, all is auspicious in my family.

The exclusive devotion of the youngest brother, Anupama, to Śrī Rāma —

সেই অনুপম-ভাই শিশুকাল হৈতে । রঘুনাথ উপাসনা করে দৃঢ়চিত্তে ॥ ৩০ ॥

sei anupama-bhāi śiśu-kāla haite that Anupama brother of childhood from the time
raghunātha upāsanā kare dṛḍha-citte
Raghunātha worship does with a firm mind

30 From his childhood my brother Anupama worshipped Raghunātha with a firm mind.

রাত্রি-দিনে রঘুনাথের 'নাম' আর 'ধ্যান' । রামায়ণ নিরবধি শুনে, করে গান ॥ ৩১ ॥

rātri-dine raghunāthera 'nāma' āra 'dhyāna'
night and day of Raghunātha the 'name' and 'meditation'
rāmāyaṇa niravadhi śune, kare gāna
the Rāmāyaṇa incessantly he hears makes singing

31 Night and day he chanted the name of Raghunātha and meditated on Him; incessantly he heard the Rāmāyaṇa and sang it.

The unfeigned love of the three brothers for one another —

আমি আর রূপ — তার জ্যেষ্ঠ-সহোদর । আমা-দোঁহা-সঙ্গে তেঁহ রহে নিরন্তর ॥ ৩২ ॥

āmi āra rūpa — tāra jyeṣṭha-sahodara
I and Rūpa his elder brothers
āmā-doṁhā-saṅge teṁha rahe nirantara
us two with he stays constantly

32 Rūpa and I are his elder brothers, and he always stayed with the two of us.

আমা-সবা-সঙ্গে কৃষ্ণকথা, ভাগবত শুনে । তাহার পরীক্ষা কৈলুঁ আমি-দুইজনে ॥ ৩৩ ॥

āmā-sabā-saṅge kṛṣṇa-kathā, bhāgavata śune
us all with talks of Kṛṣṇa the Bhāgavata he hears tāhāra parīkṣā kailuṁ āmi-dui-jane his test made we two

33 Together with us he would hear talks about Kṛṣṇa and the Bhāgavata. The two of us put him to a test.

Describing the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's qualities, the two elder brothers draw Anupama toward serving Kṛṣṇa —

শুনহ বল্লভ, কৃষ্ণ — পরম-মধুর । সৌন্দর্য্য, মাধুর্য্য, প্রেম বিলাস — প্রচুর ॥ ৩৪ ॥

śunaha vallabha, kṛṣṇa — parama-madhura hear Vallabha Kṛṣṇa supremely sweet saundarya, mādhurya, prema vilāsa — pracura beauty sweetness love's pastimes abundant

34 'Listen, Vallabha: Kṛṣṇa is supremely sweet. His beauty, His sweetness and the pastimes of His love are boundless.

কৃষ্ণভজন কর তুমি আমা-দুঁহার সঙ্গে । তিন ভাই একত্র রহিমু কৃষ্ণকথা-রঙ্গে ॥ ৩৫ ॥

kṛṣṇa-bhajana kara tumi āmā-duṁhāra saṅge
the worship of Kṛṣṇa do you us two with tina bhāi ekatra rahimu kṛṣṇa-kathā-raṅge
three brothers together we shall live in the joy of talks about Kṛṣṇa

35 Worship Kṛṣṇa together with the two of us. We three brothers will live together, rejoicing in talks about Kṛṣṇa.'

Under the strong insistence of his two elder brothers, the exclusively devoted Anupama changes his mind for a time —

এইমত বারবার কহি দুইজন । আমা-দুঁহার গৌরবে কিছু ফিরি' গেল মন ॥ ৩৬ ॥

ei-mata bārabāra kahi dui-jana
in this way again and again speak two persons āmā-duṁhāra gaurave kichu phiri' gela mana of us two out of respect somewhat turned his mind

36 In this way the two of us spoke to him again and again, and out of respect for us his mind turned somewhat.

Anupama's wish to serve Kṛṣṇa —

তোমা-দুঁহার আজ্ঞা আমি কেমনে লঙ্ঘিমু ?
দীক্ষা-মন্ত্র দেহ', কৃষ্ণ-ভজন করিমু ॥ ৩৭ ॥

tomā-duṁhāra ājñā āmi kemane laṅghimu?
of you two the order I how shall disobey
dīkṣā-mantra deha', kṛṣṇa-bhajana karimu initiation-mantra give the worship of Kṛṣṇa I shall do

37 'How can I disobey the order of you two? Give me the initiation mantra, and I shall worship Kṛṣṇa.'

The thought of giving up the worship of Rāma throws Anupama into anguish —

এত কহি' রাত্রিকালে করেন চিন্তন । কেমনে ছাড়িমু রঘুনাথের চরণ ॥ ৩৮ ॥

eta kahi' rātri-kāle karena cintana
so saying at night he makes reflection
kemane chāḍimu raghunāthera caraṇa
how shall I give up of Raghunātha the feet

38 Having said this, he reflected through the night: 'How shall I give up the feet of Raghunātha?'

Weeping, a sleepless night and an appeal —

সব রাত্রি ক্রন্দন করি' কৈল জাগরণ । প্রাতঃকালে আমা-দুঁহায় কৈল নিবেদন ॥ ৩৯ ॥

saba rātri krandana kari' kaila jāgaraṇa
the whole night weeping doing he made keeping awake prātaḥ-kāle āmā-duṁhāya kaila nivedana
in the morning to us two he made submission

39 He stayed awake the whole night, weeping, and in the morning he submitted to the two of us:

Anupama's deep, exclusive devotion to Rāma —

রঘুনাথের পাদপদ্মে বেচিয়াছোঁ মাথা । কাড়িতে না পারোঁ মাথা, পাঙ বড় ব্যথা ॥ ৪০ ॥

raghunāthera pāda-padme veciyāchoṁ māthā of Raghunātha at the lotus feet I have sold my head
kāḍite nā pāroṁ māthā, pāṅa baḍa vyathā
to take back not I can my head I feel great pain

40 'I have sold my head at the lotus feet of Raghunātha. I cannot take my head back; it gives me great pain.

কৃপা করি' মোরে আজ্ঞা দেহ' দুইজন । জন্মে জন্মে সেবোঁ রঘুনাথের চরণ ॥ ৪১ ॥

kṛpā kari' more ājñā deha' dui-jana mercy doing to me permission give you two janme janme sevoṁ raghunāthera caraṇa birth after birth may I serve of Raghunātha the feet

41 Be merciful, both of you, and give me leave to serve the feet of Raghunātha birth after birth.

রঘুনাথের পাদপদ্ম ছাড়ান না যায় । ছাড়িবার মন হৈলে প্রাণ ফাটি' যায় ॥ ৪২ ॥

raghunāthera pāda-padma chāḍāna nā yāya
of Raghunātha the lotus feet to give up not is possible
chāḍibāra mana haile prāṇa phāṭi' yāya of giving up the thought when it comes my life bursting goes

42 I cannot give up the lotus feet of Raghunātha; at the very thought of giving them up, my heart breaks.'

The elder brothers bless the youngest —

তবে আমি-দুঁহে তারে আলিঙ্গন কৈলুঁ । সাধু, দৃঢ়ভক্তি তোমার — কহি' প্রশংসিলুঁ ॥ ৪৩ ॥

tabe āmi-duṁhe tāre āliṅgana kailuṁ
then we two him embrace made sādhu, dṛḍha-bhakti tomāra — kahi' praśaṁsiluṁ
excellent firm devotion your saying we praised

43 Then the two of us embraced him and praised him, saying, 'Excellent! Your devotion is firm.'

Firm faith in the Lord's mercy —

যে বংশের উপরে তোমার হয় কৃপা-লেশ । সকল মঙ্গল তাহে খণ্ডে সব ক্লেশ ॥ ৪৪ ॥

ye vaṁśera upare tomāra haya kṛpā-leśa
which family upon Your there is a trace of mercy
sakala maṅgala tāhe khaṇḍe saba kleśa
all auspiciousness in it are cut away all troubles

44 The family upon which there is even a trace of Your mercy has every blessing, and all its troubles are cut away."

The Lord cites as an example Murāri Gupta's devotion to Rāma —

গোসাঞি কহেন, — এইমত মুরারি-গুপ্ত । পূর্ব্বে আমি পরীক্ষিলুঁ তার এই রীত ॥ ৪৫ ॥

gosāñi kahena, — ei-mata murāri-gupta
the Lord says in this way Murāri Gupta pūrve āmi parīkṣiluṁ tāra ei rīta
before I tested his this way

45 The Lord said, “In the same way I once tested Murāri Gupta; this was his way too.

Anubhāṣya.
In this connection Śrī Murāri Gupta's devotion to Śrī Rāma in Madhya 15.137–157 should be studied.

The exclusive devotee and Bhagavān: the special quality of their love for each other —

সেই ভক্ত ধন্য, যে না ছাড়ে প্রভুর চরণ । সেই প্রভু ধন্য, যে না ছাড়ে নিজ-জন ॥ ৪৬ ॥

sei bhakta dhanya, ye nā chāḍe prabhura caraṇa
that devotee blessed who not leaves of the master the feet
sei prabhu dhanya, ye nā chāḍe nija-jana that master blessed who not leaves his own people

46 Blessed is the devotee who does not leave the feet of his master, and blessed is the master who does not abandon his own.

Bhagavān, who loves His exclusive devotees —

দুর্দ্দৈবে সেবক যদি যায় অন্য-স্থানে । সেই ঠাকুর ধন্য তারে চুলে ধরি’ আনে ॥ ৪৭ ॥

durdaive sevaka yadi yāya anya-sthāne
by misfortune a servant if goes to another place
sei ṭhākura dhanya tāre cule dhari’ āne
that master blessed him by the hair seizing brings back

47 And if by misfortune a servant goes elsewhere, blessed is the master who seizes him by the hair and brings him back.

The Lord tells Sanātana to stay near Haridāsa —

ভাল হৈল, তোমার ইঁহা হৈল আগমনে । এই ঘরে রহ ইঁহা হরিদাস সনে ॥ ৪৮ ॥

bhāla haila, tomāra iṁhā haila āgamane
good it was your here took place coming ei ghare raha iṁhā haridāsa sane
in this house stay here Haridāsa with 48 It is good that you have come here. Stay here in this house with Haridāsa.

Praising Sanātana and Haridāsa, the Lord gives them an instruction —

কৃষ্ণভক্তিরসে দুঁহে পরম প্রধান । কৃষ্ণরস আস্বাদন কর, লহ কৃষ্ণনাম ॥ ৪৯ ॥

kṛṣṇa-bhakti-rase duṁhe parama pradhāna
in the rasa of devotion to Kṛṣṇa you both supremely foremost kṛṣṇa-rasa āsvādana kara, laha kṛṣṇa-nāma
Kṛṣṇa's rasa relishing do take Kṛṣṇa's name

49 You are both supremely eminent in the rasa of devotion to Kṛṣṇa. Relish the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa and chant His name."

*The Lord departs and sends prasāda to them both —*

এত বলি' মহাপ্রভু উঠিয়া চলিলা । গোবিন্দ-দ্বারায় দুঁহে প্রসাদ পাঠাইলা ॥ ৫০ ॥

eta bali' mahāprabhu uṭhiyā calilā
so saying Mahāprabhu rising departed govinda-dvārāya duṁhe prasāda pāṭhāilā through Govinda to both prasāda He sent

50 Having said this, Mahāprabhu rose and left, and He sent prasāda to both of them through Govinda.

*Sanātana offers obeisance on seeing the temple's cakra —*

এইমত সনাতন রহে প্রভু-স্থানে । জগন্নাথের চক্র দেখি' করেন প্রণামে ॥ ৫১ ॥

ei-mata sanātana rahe prabhu-sthāne
in this way Sanātana stays near the Lord jagannāthera cakra dekhi' karena praṇāme
of Jagannātha the wheel seeing makes obeisance

51 Thus Sanātana stayed near the Lord. Seeing the wheel (the Nīla-cakra) atop Jagannātha's temple, he would bow down.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Cakra: the Nīla-cakra.

*Every day the Lord meets them both and gives them mahā-prasāda —*

প্রভু আসি' প্রতিদিন মিলেন দুইজনে । ইষ্টগোষ্ঠী, কৃষ্ণকথা কহে কতক্ষণে ॥ ৫২ ॥

prabhu āsi' prati-dina milena dui-jane the Lord coming every day meets the two iṣṭa-goṣṭhī, kṛṣṇa-kathā kahe kata-kṣaṇe intimate discussion talks of Kṛṣṇa speaks for some time

52 Every day the Lord came and met them both, and for a while He spoke intimately with them about Kṛṣṇa.

দিব্য প্রসাদ পাঞা নিত্য জগন্নাথ-মন্দিরে । তাহা আনি' নিত্য অবশ্য দেন দোঁহাকারে ॥ ৫৩ ॥

divya prasāda pāñā nitya jagannātha-mandire
divine prasāda receiving daily in Jagannātha's temple
tāhā āni' nitya avaśya dena doṁhākāre that bringing daily without fail gives to both

53 Every day He received the divine prasāda in the temple of Jagannātha, and every day without fail He brought it and gave it to them both.

One day the Lord, the Indweller (Antaryāmī), openly reveals Sanātana's earlier resolve —

একদিন আসি' প্রভু দুঁহারে মিলিলা । সনাতনে আচম্বিতে কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৫৪ ॥

ekadina āsi' prabhu duṁhāre mililā
one day coming the Lord the two met sanātane ācambite kahite lāgilā
to Sanātana suddenly to speak began

54 One day the Lord came and met them both, and suddenly began to speak to Sanātana:

*Addressing Sanātana, the Lord instructs the sādhaka who is still beset by anarthas and driven by products of the mind (manodharma): false (phalgu) knowledge and false renunciation are not the means to attain Kṛṣṇa —*

সনাতন, দেহত্যাগে কৃষ্ণ যদি পাইয়ে । কোটি-দেহ ক্ষণেকে তবে ছাড়িতে পারিয়ে ॥ ৫৫ ॥

sanātana, deha-tyāge kṛṣṇa yadi pāiye Sanātana by giving up the body Kṛṣṇa if one obtains koṭi-deha kṣaṇeke tabe chāḍite pāriye millions of bodies in a moment then to give up one could 55 "Sanātana, if Kṛṣṇa could be attained by giving up the body, I would give up millions of bodies in a moment.[3]

*Pure bhakti together with yukta-vairāgya (fitting renunciation) alone is the means to attain Kṛṣṇa, and nothing else —*

দেহত্যাগে কৃষ্ণ না পাই, পাইয়ে ভজনে ।
কৃষ্ণপ্রাপ্ত্যের উপায় কোন নাহি 'ভক্তি' বিনে ॥ ৫৬ ॥

deha-tyāge kṛṣṇa nā pāi, pāiye bhajane
by giving up the body Kṛṣṇa not one obtains one obtains by worship
kṛṣṇa-prāptyera upāya kona nāhi 'bhakti' vine of attaining Kṛṣṇa means any there is not 'devotion' without 56 One does not attain Kṛṣṇa by giving up the body; one attains Him by worship. There is no means of attaining Kṛṣṇa except bhakti.

*Kṛṣṇa abides only in transcendental bhakti, made of pure goodness (viśuddha-sattva); efforts of karma and jñāna, made of the mundane guṇas, do not bring Kṛṣṇa —*

দেহত্যাগাদি যত, সব — তমো-ধর্ম্ম । তমো-রজো-ধর্ম্মে কৃষ্ণের না পাইয়ে মর্ম্ম ॥ ৫৭ ॥

deha-tyāgādi yata, saba — tamo-dharma giving up the body and the like whatever all the nature of darkness
tamo-rajo-dharme kṛṣṇera nā pāiye marma
by the ways of darkness and passion of Kṛṣṇa not one obtains the essence

57 Giving up the body and all such acts are of the nature of darkness (tamo-dharma); through the ways of darkness and passion one cannot grasp the essence of Kṛṣṇa.

Devotion to Kṛṣṇa is the only means to attain love for Kṛṣṇa —

'ভক্তি' বিনা কৃষ্ণে কভু নহে 'প্রেমোদয়' । প্রেম বিনা কৃষ্ণপ্রাপ্তি অন্য হৈতে নয় ॥ ৫৮ ॥

'bhakti' vinā kṛṣṇe kabhu nahe 'premodaya'
'devotion' without for Kṛṣṇa ever not 'love's awakening'
prema vinā kṛṣṇa-prāpti anya haite naya
love without attainment of Kṛṣṇa anything else from is not 58 Without bhakti, love for Kṛṣṇa never awakens; and without love, Kṛṣṇa is not attained by any other means.

ন সাধয়তি মাং যোগো ন সাংখ্যং ধর্ম্ম উদ্ধব ।
ন স্বাধ্যায়স্তপস্ত্যাগো যথা ভক্তির্মমোর্জ্জিতা ॥ ৫৯ ॥

na sādhayati māṁ yogo not wins Me yoga
na sāṁkhyaṁ dharma uddhava
not sāṅkhya dharma O Uddhava na svādhyāyas tapas tyāgo not Vedic study austerity renunciation yathā bhaktir mamorjitā
as devotion to Me intense

59 (Śrī Kṛṣṇa said:) "O Uddhava, neither yoga nor sāṅkhya, neither dharma nor study of the Vedas, neither austerity nor renunciation can win Me as intense devotion to Me does." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 11.14.20)[4]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 17.76.

*The false renunciation and pursuit of knowledge of a sādhaka led by the mind are rooted in the sense of separateness (bheda-buddhi); they aim at gratifying the material senses, not at love for Kṛṣṇa, and so Kṛṣṇa cannot be attained through them —*

দেহত্যাগাদি তমো-ধর্ম্ম — পাতক-কারণ । সাধক না পায় তাতে কৃষ্ণের চরণ ॥ ৬০ ॥

deha-tyāgādi tamo-dharma — pātaka-kāraṇa giving up the body and the like the nature of darkness the cause of sin
sādhaka nā pāya tāte kṛṣṇera caraṇa
the practitioner not obtains by that of Kṛṣṇa the feet

60 Giving up the body and the like are of the nature of darkness and a cause of sin; by them the sādhaka does not attain the feet of Kṛṣṇa.

*The wish to give up the body that arises from deep separation (vipralambha) in a perfected devotee full of anurāga is wholly impelled by Kṛṣṇa's will and consists in striving to please Kṛṣṇa; through this alone he attains Kṛṣṇa —*

প্রেমী ভক্ত বিয়োগে চাহে দেহ ছাড়িতে । প্রেমে কৃষ্ণ মিলে, সেহ না পারে মরিতে ॥ ৬১ ॥

premī bhakta viyoge cāhe deha chāḍite
a loving devotee in separation wishes the body to give up preme kṛṣṇa mile, seha nā pāre marite
by love Kṛṣṇa is met he not can die

61 A loving devotee in separation wishes to give up his body; but by that very love he meets Kṛṣṇa, and he cannot die.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
In separation from Kṛṣṇa a loving devotee wishes to give up his body. But by the very power of that love he attains Kṛṣṇa and cannot give up his body; that is, Kṛṣṇa does not let him die.

গাঢ়ানুরাগের বিয়োগ না যায় সহন । তাতে অনুরাগী বাঞ্ছে আপন মরণ ॥ ৬২ ॥

gāḍhānurāgera viyoga nā yāya sahana
of deep attachment the separation not can be borne tāte anurāgī vāñche āpana maraṇa
therefore the one full of attachment desires his own death

62 Separation in deep anurāga cannot be borne; therefore one who is full of anurāga longs for his own death.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 12.31: “But one who loves has this nature: if he cannot reach the one he longs for, he gives up his life.”

*Rukmiṇī reveals her anurāga to Vāsudeva —*

যস্যাঙ্ঘ্রিপঙ্কজরজঃস্নপনং মহান্তো
বাঞ্ছন্ত্য্ উমা-পতির্ ইবাত্ম-তমো-’পহত্যৈ । যর্হ্য্ অম্বুজাক্ষ ন লভেয় ভবত্-প্রসাদং
জহ্যাম্ অসূন্ ব্রত-কৃশাঞ্ ছত-জন্মভিঃ স্যাৎ ॥ ৬৩ ॥

yasyāṅghri-paṅkaja-rajaḥ-snapanaṁ mahānto
whose feet lotus in the dust bathing the great souls vāñchanty umā-patir ivātma-tamo-’pahatyai desire Umā’s husband (Śiva) like their own darkness for dispelling
yarhy ambujākṣa na labheya bhavat-prasādaṁ
if O lotus-eyed one not I obtain Your grace
jahyām asūn vrata-kṛśāñ chata-janmabhiḥ syāt
I shall give up my life by vows emaciated through a hundred births it may be

63 (Rukmiṇī wrote to Kṛṣṇa:) “O lotus-eyed one, great souls like Umā’s lord (Śiva) long to bathe in the dust of Your lotus feet to dispel their own darkness. If I do not obtain Your grace, I shall give up my life, emaciated by vows, so that, even after a hundred births, it may be mine.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.52.43)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O Lotus-eyed One! Great souls like Śiva long to bathe in the dust of Your lotus feet to destroy the darkness within themselves. If I do not obtain this grace of Yours, I shall give up my life, emaciated by vows undertaken to attain You — and after a hundred births, if need be, I shall obtain Your grace.

Anubhāṣya.
Rukmiṇī, the daughter of Bhīṣmaka, had heard from people of Śrī Kṛṣṇa's countless excellent qualities and chose Him as her husband. But she learned that her elder brother Rukmī, hostile to Kṛṣṇa, had chosen Śiśupāla, king of Cedi, as her bridegroom. Then in seclusion she wrote a letter full of love and at once sent it to Śrī Kṛṣṇa with a trustworthy brāhmaṇa. The brāhmaṇa arrived in Dvārakā, Śrī Kṛṣṇa received him with all due honor, and with Śrī Kṛṣṇa's permission the brāhmaṇa began to read Rukmiṇī's letter:

he ambujākṣa (O lotus-eyed One), ātmanaḥ (their own) tamaḥ (ignorance) apahatyai (to destroy) umā-patiḥ (Śiva) iva mahāntaḥ (Brahmā and others) yasya (Your) aṅghri-paṅkaja-rajaḥ-snapanam (bathing in the dust of the lotus feet) vāñchanti, (that) bhavat-prasādam (Your favor) yarhi aham na labheya (if I do not obtain, then) vrata-kṛśān (wasted by vows — fasting and the like) asūn (my life) jahyām (I shall give up; in this way) śata-janmabhiḥ (even after a hundred births, Your favor) syāt.

*The gopīs, eager for the rāsa dance, reveal their anurāga to Śrī Kṛṣṇa —*

সিঞ্চাঙ্গ নস্ত্বদধরামৃতপূরকেণ হাসাবলোক-কলগীতজ-হৃচ্ছয়াগ্নিম্ ।
নো চেদ্বয়ং বিরহজাগ্ন্যুপযুক্তদেহা ধ্যানেন যাম পদয়োঃ পদবীং সখে তে ॥ ৬৪ ॥

siñcāṅga nas tvad-adharāmṛta-pūrakeṇa sprinkle O dear one our Your lips' nectar with the flood hāsāvaloka-kala-gīta-ja-hṛc-chayāgnim smiling glance sweet song born of love's desire the fire
no ced vayaṁ viraha-jāgny-upayukta-dehā
not if we by the fire born of separation consumed bodies dhyānena yāma padayoḥ padavīṁ sakhe te by meditation we shall go of the feet to the place O friend Your

64 (The gopīs said:) "O dear one, with the flood of nectar from Your lips quench the fire of love's desire that Your smiling glances and sweet song have kindled in our hearts. Otherwise, O friend, our bodies consumed by the fire of separation, we shall reach the place of Your feet by meditation." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.29.35)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O beloved! When we saw Your smiling glances and heard Your sweet song, the fire of love's desire (kāma) blazed up in us. Quench it with the flood of nectar from Your lips and cool it. If You do not, O friend, then with bodies burned by the fire of separation from You we shall reach the path to Your feet by meditation.

Anubhāṣya.

On an autumn night bathed in moonlight, the wives of the cowherds, drawn by the sound of Śrī Kṛṣṇa's flute, came to Śrī Kṛṣṇa, forgetting themselves. Wishing to increase their anurāga still more, He told them to go home. Then the gopīs, whose lives were given to Kṛṣṇa, grew sorrowful and, their voices choked and faltering, said to Kṛṣṇa:

he aṅga (O Kṛṣṇa), tvad-adharāmṛta-pūrakeṇa (with the flood of nectar from Your lips) naḥ (our) hāsāvaloka-kala-gīta-ja-hṛc-chayāgnim (the glance with a smile and the sweet song — the sweet sound of the flute; what is born of these and lies, that is, dwells, in the heart is the hṛc-chaya, love's desire; that itself is the fire, the thing that burns — that) siñca (quench); no cet, he sakhe, vayaṁ viraha-jāgny-upayukta-dehāḥ (our bodies consumed, that is, burned, by the fire born of separation; being such, like yogīs) dhyānena te (Your) padayoḥ padavīm (nearness) yāma (we shall reach).

*Addressing Sanātana, the Lord teaches the sādhaka still beset by anarthas to serve Hari constantly —*

কুবুদ্ধি ছাড়িয়া কর শ্রবণ-কীর্ত্তন । অচিরাৎ পাবে তবে কৃষ্ণপ্রেম-ধন ॥ ৬৫ ॥

kubuddhi chāḍiyā kara śravaṇa-kīrtana wicked intelligence giving up do hearing and chanting acirāt pābe tabe kṛṣṇa-prema-dhana
soon you will obtain then the treasure of love for Kṛṣṇa

65 Give up this wicked intelligence (kubuddhi) and engage in hearing and chanting; then you will soon obtain the treasure of love for Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.

Kubuddhi: a wicked intelligence — not intelligence devoted to serving Kṛṣṇa, but an impure intelligence devoted to gratifying the perishable material senses.

Refutation of the doctrine of high birth by seminal descent, born of union with a woman; who is fit to serve Kṛṣṇa; only a pure devotee is guru, the greatest of all —

নীচ-জাতি নহে কৃষ্ণভজনে অযোগ্য । সৎকুল-বিপ্র নহে ভজনের যোগ্য ॥ ৬৬ ॥

nīca-jāti nahe kṛṣṇa-bhajane ayogya
one of low birth is not for the worship of Kṛṣṇa unfit sat-kula-vipra nahe bhajanera yogya
a brāhmaṇa of good family is not for worship fit

66 One of low birth is not unfit for the worship of Kṛṣṇa, nor is a brāhmaṇa of good family fit for it by that alone.

Anubhāṣya.

“Oh, how great is even a dog-eater if Your name is on the tip of his tongue! Those who chant Your name have already performed austerities, offered sacrifices into the fire and bathed in the holy waters; they are true Āryans and have studied the Vedas.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 3.33.7)

“A man whose pride swells with high birth, wealth, learning and beauty cannot even utter the name of You, who are reached only by those who have nothing (akiñcana).” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.8.26)

যেই ভজে, সেই বড়, অভক্ত — হীন, ছার । কৃষ্ণভজনে নাহি জাতি-কুলাদি বিচার ॥ ৬৭ ॥

yei bhaje, sei baḍa, abhakta — hīna, chāra
whoever worships he is great the non-devotee low contemptible kṛṣṇa-bhajane nāhi jāti-kulādi vicāra
in the worship of Kṛṣṇa there is not caste family and the like consideration

67 Whoever worships is great; the non-devotee is low and contemptible. In the worship of Kṛṣṇa there is no consideration of caste, family and the like.

Only one who has fully surrendered — who has given up bad association, namely worldly birth, wealth, learning, beauty and the like, and offered everything to Kṛṣṇa — is fit to receive Bhagavān's mercy —

দীনেরে অধিক দয়া করে ভগবান্ । কুলীন, পণ্ডিত, ধনীর বড় অভিমান ॥ ৬৮ ॥

dīnere adhika dayā kare bhagavān
to the lowly greater kindness shows Bhagavān
kulīna, paṇḍita, dhanīra baḍa abhimāna
the high-born the learned the rich great pride

68 Bhagavān shows greater kindness to the lowly; the high-born, the learned and the rich have great pride.

বিপ্রাদ্দ্বিষড্গুণযুতাদরবিন্দনাভ-পাদারবিন্দবিমুখাৎ শ্বপচং বরিষ্ঠম্ ।
মন্যে তদর্পিত-মনোবচনেহিতার্থ-প্রাণং পুনাতি স কুলং ন তু ভূরিমানঃ ॥ ৬৯ ॥

viprād dvi-ṣaḍ-guṇa-yutād aravinda-nābha-
than a brāhmaṇa twelve qualities endowed with of the lotus-naveled Lord
pādāravinda-vimukhāt śva-pacaṁ variṣṭham
from the lotus feet averse a dog-eater better
manye tad-arpita-mano-vacanehitārtha-
I consider to Him offered mind words deeds wealth
prāṇaṁ punāti sa kulaṁ na tu bhūri-mānaḥ
and life purifies he his family not but one full of pride

69 "I consider a dog-eater whose mind, words, deeds, wealth and very life are offered to the Lord of the lotus navel better than a brāhmaṇa endowed with the twelve qualities who has turned away from His lotus feet. Such a devotee purifies his whole family; the brāhmaṇa swollen with pride cannot." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 7.9.10)[5]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 20.59.

*From abhidheya come sambandha and prayojana —*

ভজনের মধ্যে শ্রেষ্ঠ নববিধা ভক্তি ।
'কৃষ্ণপ্রেম', 'কৃষ্ণ' দিতে ধরে মহাশক্তি ॥ ৭০ ॥

bhajanera madhye śreṣṭha nava-vidhā bhakti
of the forms of worship among the best ninefold devotion
'kṛṣṇa-prema', 'kṛṣṇa' dite dhare mahā-śakti
'love for Kṛṣṇa' 'Kṛṣṇa' to give holds great power

70 Among the forms of worship the best is the ninefold bhakti: it has great power to bestow love for Kṛṣṇa and Kṛṣṇa Himself.

Anubhāṣya.
Nava-vidhā bhakti (the nine kinds of devotion): "Hearing about Viṣṇu, chanting, remembering, serving His feet, worship, offering prayers, servitude, friendship and offering oneself." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 7.5.23) The nine kinds of devotion (abhidheya) hold the great power to bestow love for Kṛṣṇa (prayojana) and Kṛṣṇa Himself (sambandha). Sādhana-bhakti manifests as abhidheya and later attains its true nature, prema-bhakti. And love for Kṛṣṇa, the prayojana, bestows Kṛṣṇa in full.

*Love for Kṛṣṇa is attained only as the fruit of unbroken, untiring kīrtana of Kṛṣṇa free of the ten offenses —*

তার মধ্যে সর্ব্বশ্রেষ্ঠ নাম-সংকীর্ত্তন । নিরপরাধে নাম লৈলে পায় প্রেমধন ॥ ৭১ ॥

tāra madhye sarva-śreṣṭha nāma-saṁkīrtana
of them among the best of all the chanting of the name
niraparādhe nāma laile pāya prema-dhana
without offence the name if one takes obtains the treasure of love

71 Of these the best of all is nāma-saṅkīrtana. One who chants the name without offence obtains the treasure of love."

Anubhāṣya.
Śrī Jīva Gosvāmī Prabhu writes in the Bhakti-sandarbha (270): "The śrutis, the Purāṇas and other scriptures proclaim that this bhakti called kīrtana is full of Bhagavān's boundless compassion, directed exclusively to people poor in wealth, birth, qualities and deeds. <…> Therefore in Kali, when people are by their very nature utterly wretched, it appears among them and, effortlessly granting them the whole fruit of the great sādhanas of each age, brings them to fulfillment. That is why in Kali Bhagavān is especially pleased by it alone." And in the same work (273): "Therefore, even if other forms of bhakti are performed in Kali, they should be performed only in conjunction with it (with kīrtana)."

Śrī Rūpa Prabhu (Nāmāṣṭaka 1): “O Hari-nāma! The tips of Your lotus feet are worshiped, as if with ārati lamps, by the radiance of the garland of jewels on the crests of all the śrutis. Hosts of liberated souls worship You. I take shelter of You completely.”

Śrī Sanātana Prabhu (Bṛhad-bhāgavatāmṛta, ch. 1, verse 9): “All glory, all glory to the name of Murāri, the embodiment of bliss! It puts an end to the labors of one's own dharma, of meditation, worship and the like. Taken up somehow even once, it grants liberation to living beings. It is the supreme nectar, my only life and my ornament.”

“O king, for those who are disgusted with the world, for those who seek what they desire and for yogīs, one thing has been ascertained: constant chanting of Hari's name — in it there is no fear at all.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 2.1.11)

“Bhakti-yoga, devotion to Bhagavān beginning with chanting His name, is declared the supreme dharma for human beings in this world.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 6.3.22)

Gaurahari (in His own Śikṣāṣṭaka 3): “Humbler than a blade of grass, more tolerant than a tree, seeking no honor and honoring others, one should always chant Hari's name.”

Niraparādhe: that is, free of the ten offenses against the Name, constantly, or untiringly, devoted to serving the Name. For the ten offenses against the Name, see the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya and the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 8.24.

*At the Lord's wish Sanātana enacts a pastime — giving up the false (phalgu) wish to leave his body — and so teaches the jīvas —*

এত শুনি’ সনাতনের হৈল চমৎকার । প্রভুরে না ভায় মোর মরণ-বিচার ॥ ৭২ ॥

eta śuni’ sanātanera haila camatkāra
this hearing of Sanātana there was astonishment prabhure nā bhāya mora maraṇa-vicāra
to the Lord not seems fit my resolve to die

72 Hearing this, Sanātana was astonished: “My resolve to give up my body does not please the Lord.

Anubhāṣya.
Nā bhāya: it does not seem fitting.

সর্ব্বজ্ঞ মহাপ্রভু নিষেধিলা মোরে । প্রভুর চরণ ধরি’ কহেন তাঁহারে ॥ ৭৩ ॥

sarvajña mahāprabhu niṣedhilā more the omniscient Mahāprabhu has forbidden me
prabhura caraṇa dhari’ kahena tāṁhāre
of the Lord the feet clasping he says to Him

73 The all-knowing Mahāprabhu has forbidden me.” Clasping the Lord’s feet, he said to Him:

*The humble words of Sanātana, a Vaiṣṇava ācārya who owns nothing (niṣkiñcana), his praise of the Lord and his question about what to do with his body —*

সর্ব্বজ্ঞ, কৃপালু তুমি — ঈশ্বর স্বতন্ত্র । যৈছে নাচাও, তৈছে নাচি, — যেন কাষ্ঠযন্ত্র ॥ ৭৪ ॥

sarvajña, kṛpālu tumi — īśvara svatantra omniscient merciful You the Lord independent yaiche nācāo, taiche nāci, — yena kāṣṭha-yantra
as You make dance so I dance like a wooden puppet

74 “You are all-knowing and merciful — the independent Lord. As You make me dance, so I dance, like a wooden puppet.

নীচ, অধম, পামর মুঞি পামর-স্বভাব । মোরে জিয়াইলে তোমার কিবা হবে লাভ ? ॥ ৭৫ ॥

nīca, adhama, pāmara muñi pāmara-svabhāva
low fallen wretched I wretched by nature
more jiyāile tomāra kibā habe lābha?
me if You keep alive Your what will be gain

75 I am low, fallen and wretched, wretched by nature. What will You gain by keeping me alive?"

The Lord's answer: everything Sanātana has — body, mind, speech and the rest — Gaura-Kṛṣṇa has appropriated and accepted as His own, and through it Gaura-Kṛṣṇa carries out His own service —

প্রভু কহে, — তোমার দেহ মোর নিজ-ধন । তুমি মোরে কৈরাছ আত্মসমর্পণ ॥ ৭৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — tomāra deha mora nija-dhana
the Lord says your body My own property
tumi more kairācha ātma-samarpaṇa
you to Me have made self-surrender

76 The Lord said, "Your body is My own property, for you have surrendered yourself to Me.

*A devotee perfected through initiation (dīkṣā) should know that Kṛṣṇa's will alone directs him, and should give up the conceit that he himself is the doer, that is, ahaṅkāra —*

পরের দ্রব্য তুমি কেনে চাহ বিনাশিতে ?
ধর্ম্মাধর্ম্ম বিচার কিবা না পার করিতে ? ॥ ৭৭ ॥

parera dravya tumi kene cāha vināśite?
another's property you why wish to destroy dharmādharma vicāra kibā nā pāra karite?
right and wrong discrimination is it that not you can make

77 Why do you wish to destroy another's property? Can you not discern right from wrong?

*Sanātana is Śrī Sanātana Prabhu, a spiritual pastime (cid-vilāsa) and manifestation (prakāśa-vigraha) not different from Bhagavān Kṛṣṇa Caitanya —*

তোমার শরীর — মোর প্রধান 'সাধন' । এ শরীরে সাধিমু আমি বহু প্রয়োজন ॥ ৭৮ ॥

tomāra śarīra — mora pradhāna 'sādhana'
your body My chief 'instrument'
e śarīre sādhimu āmi bahu prayojana
by this body shall accomplish I many purposes

78 Your body is My chief instrument (sādhana); through this body I shall accomplish many purposes:

*In Mathurā-maṇḍala, through Sanātana, the Lord (1) reveals the truth about the devotee and Bhagavān, that is, the truth of abhidheya, sambandha and prayojana; (2) by compiling a Vaiṣṇava smṛti establishes the proper conduct of Vaiṣṇavas; (3) shows the ideal of vaidhī-bhakti — the worship of Kṛṣṇa's Deity in maṭhas, temples and elsewhere — and the ideal of rāga, that is, loving service, within the mind; (4) teaches by restoring the lost holy places and showing a life full of pure bhakti with yukta-vairāgya —*

ভক্ত-ভক্তি-কৃষ্ণপ্রেম-তত্ত্বের নির্দ্ধার । বৈষ্ণবের কৃত্য, আর বৈষ্ণব-আচার ॥ ৭৯ ॥

bhakta-bhakti-kṛṣṇaprema-tattvera nirddhāra of the devotee devotion love for Kṛṣṇa of the truths the establishing vaiṣṇavera kṛtya, āra vaiṣṇava-ācāra
of the Vaiṣṇava the duties and Vaiṣṇava conduct

79 establishing the truths about the devotee, devotion and love for Kṛṣṇa; the duties of a Vaiṣṇava, and Vaiṣṇava conduct;

কৃষ্ণভক্তি, কৃষ্ণপ্রেমসেবা-প্রবর্ত্তন । লুপ্ততীর্থ-উদ্ধার, আর বৈরাগ্য-শিক্ষণ ॥ ৮০ ॥

kṛṣṇa-bhakti, kṛṣṇaprema-sevā-pravartana devotion to Kṛṣṇa of service in love for Kṛṣṇa the introduction
lupta-tīrtha-uddhāra, āra vairāgya-śikṣaṇa
of lost holy places the recovery and of renunciation teaching

80 introducing devotion to Kṛṣṇa and service in love for Kṛṣṇa; recovering the lost holy places, and teaching renunciation.

নিজ-প্রিয়স্থান মোর — মথুরা-বৃন্দাবন । তাঁহা এত ধর্ম্ম চাহি করিতে প্রচারণ ॥ ৮১ ॥

nija-priya-sthāna mora — mathurā-vṛndāvana own dear place My Mathurā-Vṛndāvana
tāṁhā eta dharma cāhi karite pracāraṇa
there these dharmas I wish to make propagation

81 My own dear abode is Mathurā-Vṛndāvana; there I wish to propagate all these dharmas.

Anubhāṣya.
Through Śrī Sanātana Gosvāmī, Śrī Mahāprabhu, first, had him write the Śrī Bṛhad-bhāgavatāmṛta and so established the truth about the devotee, devotion and love for Kṛṣṇa. Second, He had him compile the Śrī Hari-bhakti-vilāsa and so established the duties and conduct of Vaiṣṇavas. Third, through Sanātana Gosvāmī's wonderful deeds He introduced in Śrī Vṛndāvana the service of Śrī Vigraha, and through his exemplary character, full of the bliss of bhajana, the worship of Vraja (vraja-bhajana) within the mind. Fourth, by restoring the kuṇḍas and other lost holy places, and by his exemplary devotional life full of the taste of bhakti and renunciation, He taught how to live a detached life far from worldly objects, as a pure devotee should be emulated. Śrī Mathurā and Vṛndāvana are a land supremely dear to Śrī Gaurasundara. By settling Śrī Sanātana in that land, the Lord wished to propagate through him all the dharmas mentioned above.

Remaining Himself in Kṣetra-maṇḍala at His mother's order, the Lord, in the form of Śrī Sanātana — His spiritual pastime, a manifestation not different from Himself — accomplishes in Mathurā-maṇḍala the four kinds of service to Kṛṣṇa named above, so dear to His heart —

মাতার আজ্ঞায় আমি বসি নীলাচলে । তাঁহা 'ধর্ম্ম' শিখাইতে নাহি নিজ-বলে ॥ ৮২ ॥

mātāra ājñāya āmi vasi nīlācale
of My mother by the order I reside in Nīlācala
tāṁhā 'dharma' śikhāite nāhi nija-bale
there 'dharma' to teach not by My own strength

82 By My mother's order I reside in Nīlācala, and it is not within My own power to teach this dharma there.

Anubhāṣya.
Tāṁhā: in Mathurā-maṇḍala.

এত সব কর্ম্ম আমি যে দেহে করিমু । তাহা ছাড়িতে চাহ তুমি, কেমনে সহিমু ? ॥ ৮৩ ॥

eta saba karma āmi ye dehe karimu
these all works I by which body shall do tāhā chāḍite cāha tumi, kemane sahimu?
that to give up wish you how shall I bear

83 You wish to give up the very body through which I shall do all these works! How can I bear it?"

Regarding himself as the instrument of the Lord, who moves it, Sanātana praises the Lord —

তবে সনাতন কহে, — তোমাকে নমস্কারে । তোমার গম্ভীর হৃদয় কে বুঝিতে পারে ? ॥ ৮৪ ॥

tabe sanātana kahe, — tomāke namaskāre
then Sanātana says to You obeisance
tomāra gambhīra hṛdaya ke bujhite pāre?
Your deep heart who to understand can

84 Then Sanātana said, "I bow down to You. Who can understand Your fathomless heart?

কাষ্ঠের পুতলী যেন কুহকে নাচায় । আপনে না জানে, পুতলী কিবা নাচে গায় ! ॥ ৮৫ ॥

kāṣṭhera putalī yena kuhake nācāya
of wood a puppet as the conjurer makes dance
āpane nā jāne, putalī kibā nāce gāya!
itself not knows the puppet how dances sings

85 A conjurer makes a wooden puppet dance, and the puppet itself does not know how it dances and sings.

যারে যৈছে নাচাও, সে তৈছে করে নর্ত্তনে । কৈছে নাচে, কেবা নাচায়, সেহ নাহি জানে ॥ ৮৬ ॥

yāre yaiche nācāo, se taiche kare nartane whom as You make dance he so does dancing
kaiche nāce, kebā nācāya, seha nāhi jāne
how he dances who makes him dance he not knows

86 So it is with anyone You make dance: he dances just as You move him, and does not know how he dances or who makes him dance."

Calling Haridāsa as witness, the Lord entrusts him with guarding Sanātana's body, which He has made His own —

হরিদাসে কহে প্রভু, — শুন, হরিদাস । পরের দ্রব্য ইঁহ চাহেন করিতে বিনাশ ॥ ৮৭ ॥

haridāse kahe prabhu, — śuna, haridāsa to Haridāsa says the Lord listen Haridāsa
parera dravya iṁha cāhena karite vināśa another's property he wishes to make destruction

87 The Lord said to Haridāsa, "Listen, Haridāsa: this man wants to destroy another's property.

পরের স্থাপ্য দ্রব্য কেহ না খায়, বিলায় । নিষেধিহ ইঁহারে, — যেন না করে অন্যায় ॥ ৮৮ ॥

parera sthāpya dravya keha nā khāya, vilāya another's held in trust property anyone not uses gives away
niṣedhiha iṁhāre, — yena nā kare anyāya forbid him so that not he does wrong

88 No one uses for himself or gives away property that another has placed in his keeping. Forbid him, so that he does not do this wrong."

Anubhāṣya.
Sthāpya: what is to be kept safe; khāya: uses it himself; bilāya: gives it away; anyāya: destroying his body, which is offered to Me, that is, to Kṛṣṇa.

*Haridāsa's lesson to the jīvas: a conditioned jīva should give up false ego only by following the transcendental desire in the heart of the Lord, Adhokṣaja — the desire to please Kṛṣṇa's senses —*

হরিদাস কহে, — মিথ্যা অভিমান করি । তোমার গম্ভীর হৃদয় বুঝিতে না পারি ॥ ৮৯ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — mithyā abhimāna kari Haridāsa says false pride we make tomāra gambhīra hṛdaya bujhite nā pāri
Your deep heart to understand not we can

89 Haridāsa said, "Our pride is false: we cannot understand Your fathomless heart.

কোন্ কোন্ কার্য্য তুমি কর কোন্ দ্বারে । তুমি না জানাইলে কেহ জানিতে না পারে ॥ ৯০ ॥

kon kon kārya tumi kara kon dvāre which which works You do whom through tumi nā jānāile keha jānite nā pāre
You not if You make known anyone to know not can 90 Unless You make it known, no one can know which works You accomplish, and through whom.

Describing the good fortune of Sanātana in receiving the Lord's mercy, Haridāsa praises the Lord —

এতাদৃশ তুমি ইঁহারে কৈরাছ অঙ্গীকার । এত সৌভাগ্য ইঁহা না হয় কাহার ॥ ৯১ ॥

etādṛśa tumi iṁhāre kairācha aṅgīkāra
such You him have made acceptance eta saubhāgya iṁhā nā haya kāhāra
such good fortune his not is anyone's

91 You have accepted him so fully! No one has such good fortune as he."

Embracing them both, the Lord departs —

তবে মহাপ্রভু করি' দুঁহারে আলিঙ্গন ।
'মধ্যাহ্ন' করিতে উঠি' করিলা গমন ॥ ৯২ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu kari' duṁhāre āliṅgana
then Mahāprabhu making of both embrace 'madhyāhna' karite uṭhi' karilā gamana
the 'midday duties' to do rising made departure

92 Then Mahāprabhu embraced them both, rose and left to perform His midday duties.

Haridāsa describes Sanātana's good fortune —

সনাতনে কহে হরিদাস করি' আলিঙ্গন । তোমার ভাগ্যের সীমা না যায় কথন ॥ ৯৩ ॥

sanātane kahe haridāsa kari' āliṅgana to Sanātana says Haridāsa making embrace tomāra bhāgyera sīmā nā yāya kathana your of fortune the limit not can be told

93 Embracing Sanātana, Haridāsa said, "There is no telling the limits of your good fortune.

Śrī Sanātana's body is a possession the Lord has made His own —

তোমার দেহ কহেন প্রভু 'মোর নিজ-ধন' । তোমা-সম ভাগ্যবান্ নাহি কোন জন ॥ ৯৪ ॥

tomāra deha kahena prabhu 'mora nija-dhana'
your body calls the Lord 'My own property'
tomā-sama bhāgyavān nāhi kona jana
like you fortunate there is not any person

94 The Lord calls your body 'My own property'; no one is as fortunate as you.

Through Sanātana's body the Lord fulfills in Mathurā-maṇḍala the four desires of His heart —

নিজ-দেহে যে কার্য্য না পারেন করিতে । সে কার্য্য করাইবে তোমা, সেহ মথুরাতে ॥ ৯৫ ॥

nija-dehe ye kārya nā pārena karite
by His own body which work not He can to do se kārya karāibe tomā, seha mathurāte
that work He will have done by you and that in Mathurā

95 What He cannot do in His own body He will have you do for Him in Mathurā.

Anubhāṣya.
See above, Antya 4.79–81.

Success, or perfection, is a servant that follows Kṛṣṇa's will —

যে করাইতে চাহে ঈশ্বর, সেই সিদ্ধ হয় । তোমার সৌভাগ্য এই কহিলুঁ নিশ্চয় ॥ ৯৬ ॥

ye karāite cāhe īśvara, sei siddha haya whom to have act wishes the Lord he perfected becomes tomāra saubhāgya ei kahiluṁ niścaya your good fortune this I have told for certain

96 He through whom the Lord wishes to act attains perfection. This is your good fortune — I tell you for certain.

*Through Sanātana the Lord establishes above all pure bhakti, and, by compiling a Vaiṣṇava smṛti, the conduct of Vaiṣṇavas —*

ভক্তিসিদ্ধান্ত, শাস্ত্র-আচার-নির্ণয় । তোমা-দ্বারে করাইবেন, বুঝিলুঁ আশয় ॥ ৯৭ ॥

bhakti-siddhānta, śāstra-ācāra-nirṇaya
the conclusions of devotion of scripture conduct the determination tomā-dvāre karāibena, bujhiluṁ āśaya through you He will have done I have understood His intention

97 I have understood His intention: through you He will establish the conclusions of bhakti and determine conduct according to scripture.

Haridāsa's natural humility, befitting a Vaiṣṇava, and his confession —

আমার এই দেহ প্রভুর কার্য্যে না লাগিল । ভারত-ভূমিতে জন্মি' এই দেহ ব্যর্থ হৈল ! ॥ ৯৮ ॥

āmāra ei deha prabhura kārye nā lāgila
my this body of the Lord in the work not was used bhārata-bhūmite janmi' ei deha vyartha haila!
in the land of Bhārata born this body futile has become

98 But this body of mine has never served the Lord's work. I was born in the land of Bhārata — and all in vain!"

Anubhāṣya.
Bhārata-bhūmite: see Ādi 9.41 and Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 5.19.19–27.

Sanātana praises Haridāsa —

সনাতন কহে, — তোমা-সম কেবা আছে আন । মহাপ্রভুর গণে তুমি — মহাভাগ্যবান্ ! ॥ ৯৯ ॥

sanātana kahe, — tomā-sama kebā āche āna Sanātana says like you who is there other mahāprabhura gaṇe tumi — mahā-bhāgyavān!
of Mahāprabhu among the associates you most fortunate

99 Sanātana said, "Who else is there like you? Among Mahāprabhu's associates you are the most fortunate!

*The kīrtana, that is, the preaching, of the pure name of Kṛṣṇa is the very own work of Bhagavān's avatāra in the form of an ācārya; through Haridāsa, the ācārya of kīrtana, the Lord preaches the Name —*

অবতার-কার্য্য প্রভুর — নাম-প্রচারে । সেই নিজ-কার্য্য প্রভু করেন তোমার দ্বারে ॥ ১০০ ॥

avatāra-kārya prabhura — nāma-pracāre of the descent the mission of the Lord in spreading the name
sei nija-kārya prabhu karena tomāra dvāre that own work the Lord does you through

100 The Lord descended to spread the name, and He accomplishes this, His own work, through you.

Anubhāṣya.
The Lord carries out His own work, the preaching of Kṛṣṇa's pure name, through Haridāsa.

The conduct and preaching of Ṭhākura Haridāsa —

প্রত্যহ কর তিনলক্ষ নাম-সংকীর্ত্তন । সবার আগে কর নামের মহিমা কথন ॥ ১০১ ॥

pratyaha kara tina-lakṣa nāma-saṁkīrtana
daily you do three hundred thousand chanting of the name sabāra āge kara nāmera mahimā kathana of all before you do of the name the glory telling

101 Every day you chant three hundred thousand names, and before everyone you tell the glory of the name.

Deficient, or incomplete, conduct and preaching —

আপনে আচরে কেহ, না করে প্রচার । প্রচার করেন কেহ, না করেন আচার ॥ ১০২ ॥

āpane ācare keha, nā kare pracāra himself practises someone not does preaching
pracāra karena keha, nā karena ācāra
preaching does someone not does practice

102 Some practise themselves but do not preach; others preach but do not practise.

*Only a genuine ācārya, all of whose activity is the endeavor to please Kṛṣṇa's senses, is entitled to preach devotion to the pure Name; the exemplary life of Haridāsa Ṭhākura — a paramahaṁsa, a Vaiṣṇava ācārya, the guru of the followers of the four varṇas and āśramas and of the whole world —*

'আচার', 'প্রচার', — নামের করহ 'দুই' কার্য্য । তুমি — সর্ব্ব-গুরু, তুমি — জগতের আর্য্য ॥ ১০৩ ॥

'ācāra', 'pracāra', — nāmera karaha 'dui' kārya
'practice' 'preaching' of the name you do 'both' works
tumi — sarva-guru, tumi — jagatera ārya
you the guru of all you of the world the noble one

103 You do both works for the name — practice (ācāra) and preaching (pracāra). You are the guru of all; you are the noblest in the world."

Anubhāṣya.

Haridāsa Ṭhākura is the universally honored guru of the world (jagad-guru). For both are united in him alone: he is an "ācārya," since he himself, as a brāhmaṇa by initiation (daikṣa-brāhmaṇa), takes the pure Name; and he is a "preacher," since by loud kīrtana he initiates all the world's inhabitants into the sacrifice of the Name (nāma-yajña). This is his "conduct and preaching" (ācāra and pracāra).

Haridāsa and Sanātana pass their time in talks about Kṛṣṇa —

এইমত দুইজন নানা-কথা-রঙ্গে । কৃষ্ণকথা আস্বাদয় রহি' একসঙ্গে ॥ ১০৪ ॥

ei-mata dui-jana nānā-kathā-raṅge
in this way the two in the joy of many talks
kṛṣṇa-kathā āsvādaya rahi' eka-saṅge talks of Kṛṣṇa relish staying together

104 In this way the two lived together, joyfully relishing many talks about Kṛṣṇa.

*At the time of the Ratha-yātrā the devotees from Gauḍa come to Purī and have darśana —*

যাত্রাকালে আইলা সব গৌড়ের ভক্তগণ । পূর্ব্ববৎ কৈলা সবে রথযাত্রা দরশন ॥ ১০৫ ॥

yātrā-kāle āilā saba gauḍera bhakta-gaṇa
at festival time came all of Gauḍa the devotees
pūrvavat kailā sabe ratha-yātrā daraśana
as before made all of the Ratha-yātrā seeing

105 At the time of the festival all the devotees of Gauḍa came, and as before they all saw the Ratha-yātrā.

The Lord's dancing before the chariot astonishes Sanātana —

রথ-অগ্রে প্রভু তৈছে করিলা নর্ত্তন । দেখি' চমৎকার হৈল সনাতনের মন ॥ ১০৬ ॥

ratha-agre prabhu taiche karilā nartana
before the chariot the Lord likewise made dancing
dekhi' camatkāra haila sanātanera mana seeing astonished became of Sanātana the mind

106 Before the chariot the Lord danced in the same way, and seeing it, Sanātana was filled with wonder.

*During cāturmāsya Sanātana meets the devotees from Gauḍa and Orissa —*

বর্ষার চারি-মাস রহিলা সব নিজ-ভক্তগণে । সবা-সঙ্গে প্রভু মিলাইলা সনাতনে ॥ ১০৭ ॥

varṣāra cāri-māsa rahilā saba nija-bhakta-gaṇe
of the rains the four months stayed all His own devotees
sabā-saṅge prabhu milāilā sanātane
with all the Lord made meet Sanātana

107 All His devotees stayed for the four months of the rainy season, and the Lord introduced Sanātana to them all.

অদ্বৈত, নিত্যানন্দ, শ্রীবাস, বক্রেশ্বর ।
বাসুদেব, মুরারি, রাঘব, দামোদর ॥ ১০৮ ॥

পুরী, ভারতী, স্বরূপ, পণ্ডিত-গদাধর ।
সার্ব্বভৌম, রামানন্দ, জগদানন্দ, শঙ্কর ॥ ১০৯ ॥

কাশীশ্বর, গোবিন্দাদি যত ভক্তগণ । সবা-সনে সনাতনের করাইলা মিলন ॥ ১১০ ॥

advaita, nityānanda, śrīvāsa, vakreśvara
Advaita Nityānanda Śrīvāsa Vakreśvara
vāsudeva, murāri, rāghava, dāmodara
Vāsudeva Murāri Rāghava Dāmodara
purī, bhāratī, svarūpa, paṇḍita-gadādhara (Paramānanda) Purī (Brahmānanda) Bhāratī Svarūpa Paṇḍita Gadādhara
sārvabhauma, rāmānanda, jagadānanda, śaṅkara
Sārvabhauma Rāmānanda Jagadānanda Śaṅkara
kāśīśvara, govindādi yata bhakta-gaṇa Kāśīśvara Govinda and others all the devotees
sabā-sane sanātanera karāilā milana
with all of Sanātana He brought about the meeting

108–110 He brought Sanātana to meet Advaita, Nityānanda, Śrīvāsa and Vakreśvara; Vāsudeva, Murāri, Rāghava and Dāmodara; (Paramānanda) Purī, (Brahmānanda) Bhāratī, Svarūpa and Gadādhara Paṇḍita; Sārvabhauma, Rāmānanda, Jagadānanda and Śaṅkara; Kāśīśvara, Govinda and all the other devotees.

Śrī Sanātana is loved by all —

যথাযোগ্য করাইলা সবার চরণ বন্দন । তাঁরে করাইলা সবার কৃপার ভাজন ॥ ১১১ ॥

yathā-yogya karāilā sabāra caraṇa vandana
as befitting He had (him) make of all of the feet worship
tāṁre karāilā sabāra kṛpāra bhājana him He made of all of the mercy the recipient

111 He had him bow down at the feet of each of them as befitted each, and made him a recipient of everyone's mercy.

By his own qualities he earns the tender love of Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas —

সদ্‌গুণে, পাণ্ডিত্যে, সবার প্রিয় — সনাতন । যথাযোগ্য কৃপা-মৈত্রী-গৌরব-ভাজন ॥ ১১২ ॥

sad-guṇe, pāṇḍitye, sabāra priya — sanātana
by his virtues by his learning of all dear Sanātana
yathā-yogya kṛpā-maitrī-gaurava-bhājana
as befitting of mercy friendship respect the recipient

112 By his virtues and learning Sanātana became dear to all, and received from each, as befitted each, mercy, friendship or respect.

The Gauḍīyas return to Gauḍa, and Sanātana stays in Purī —

সকল বৈষ্ণব যবে গৌড়দেশে গেলা । সনাতন মহাপ্রভুর চরণে রহিলা ॥ ১১৩ ॥

sakala vaiṣṇava yabe gauḍadeśe gelā
all the Vaiṣṇavas when to Gauḍadeśa went sanātana mahāprabhura caraṇe rahilā Sanātana of Mahāprabhu at the feet remained

113 When all the Vaiṣṇavas went back to Gauḍa, Sanātana remained at the feet of Mahāprabhu.

Together with the Lord, Sanātana sees the Dola-yātrā —

দোলযাত্রা-আদি প্রভুর সঙ্গেতে দেখিল । দিনে-দিনে প্রভু-সঙ্গে আনন্দ বাড়িল ॥ ১১৪ ॥

dola-yātrā-ādi prabhura saṅgete dekhila
the Dola-yātrā and so on of the Lord in the company he saw dine-dine prabhu-saṅge ānanda bāḍila
day by day in the Lord's company joy increased

114 He saw the Dola-yātrā and other festivals together with the Lord, and day by day his joy in the Lord's company increased.

The account of how the Lord tested Sanātana in the month of Jyaiṣṭha —

পূর্ব্বে বৈশাখ-মাসে সনাতন যবে আইলা । জ্যৈষ্ঠমাসে প্রভু তাঁরে পরীক্ষা করিলা ॥ ১১৫ ॥

pūrve vaiśākha-māse sanātana yabe āilā earlier in the month of Vaiśākha Sanātana when came jyaiṣṭha-māse prabhu tāṁre parīkṣā karilā
in the month of Jyaiṣṭha the Lord him test made

115 Sanātana had come in the month of Vaiśākha (April–May); in the month of Jyaiṣṭha (May–June) the Lord put him to a test.

The Lord takes His midday meal at Yameśvara-ṭoṭā —

জ্যৈষ্ঠমাসে প্রভু যমেশ্বর-টোটা আইলা । ভক্ত-অনুরোধে তাঁহা ভিক্ষা যে করিলা ॥ ১১৬ ॥

jyaiṣṭha-māse prabhu yameśvara-ṭoṭā āilā
in the month of Jyaiṣṭha the Lord to Yameśvara-ṭoṭā came bhakta-anurodhe tāṁhā bhikṣā ye karilā
at the devotees' request there His meal indeed took 116 In the month of Jyaiṣṭha the Lord came to Yameśvara-ṭoṭā and, at the request of His devotees, took His meal there.

Anubhāṣya.
Yameśvara-ṭoṭā: in the garden quarter of Śiva Yameśvara; in the language of Utkala the word ṭoṭā means "garden."

The Lord calls Sanātana; Sanātana's joy —

মধ্যাহ্ন-ভিক্ষাকালে সনাতনে বোলাইল । প্রভু বোলাইলা, তাঁর আনন্দ বাড়িল ॥ ১১৭ ॥

madhyāhna-bhikṣā-kāle sanātane bolāila at the time of the midday meal Sanātana He had called prabhu bolāilā, tāṁra ānanda bāḍila
the Lord has called his joy increased

117 At the time of the midday meal He sent for Sanātana; and since the Lord had called him, Sanātana's joy increased.

Forgetting himself in love for the Lord and losing all memory of his body, Sanātana goes to the Lord over the scorching,

burning sand —

মধ্যাহ্নে সমুদ্র-বালু হঞাছে অগ্নি-সম । সেইপথে সনাতন করিলা গমন ॥ ১১৮ ॥

madhyāhne samudra-vālu hañāche agni-sama
at midday the sea sand has become like fire
sei-pathe sanātana karilā gamana
by that path Sanātana made going

118 At midday the sand by the sea had become like fire, yet Sanātana went by that path.

প্রভু বোলাঞাছে, — এই আনন্দিত মনে । তপ্ত-বালুকাতে পা পোড়ে, তাহা নাহি জানে ॥ ১১৯ ॥

prabhu bolāñāche, — ei ānandita mane
the Lord has called in this joyful mind
tapta-vālukāte pā poḍe, tāhā nāhi jāne
on the hot sand the feet burn that not he knows

119 Overjoyed that the Lord had called him, he did not notice his feet burning on the hot sand.

দুই পায়ে ফোস্কা হৈল, তবু গেলা প্রভুস্থানে । ভিক্ষা করি' মহাপ্রভু কৈরাছেন বিশ্রামে ॥ ১২০ ॥

dui pāye phoskā haila, tabu gelā prabhusthāne on both feet blisters appeared still he went to the Lord's place
bhikṣā kari' mahāprabhu kairāchena viśrāme
the meal having taken Mahāprabhu was resting

120 Blisters rose on both his feet, yet he went on to the Lord. Mahāprabhu, having taken His meal, was resting.

*Sanātana receives prasāda, the remnants of the Lord's meal —*

ভিক্ষা-অবশেষ-পাত্র গোবিন্দ তারে দিলা । প্রসাদ পাঞা সনাতন প্রভুপাশে আইলা ॥ ১২১ ॥

bhikṣā-avaśeṣa-pātra govinda tāre dilā of the meal of the remnants the plate Govinda to him gave prasāda pāñā sanātana prabhu-pāśe āilā prasāda having taken Sanātana to the Lord's side came 121 Govinda gave him the plate with the remnants of the Lord's meal. Having taken the prasāda, Sanātana came to the Lord.

The Lord lovingly asks by which way Sanātana came; Sanātana answers humbly — প্রভু কহে, — কোন্ পথে আইলা, সনাতন ?

তেঁহ কহে, — সমুদ্র-পথে, করিলুঁ আগমন ॥ ১২২ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kon pathe āilā, sanātana?
the Lord says by which path have you come Sanātana
teṁha kahe, — samudra-pathe, karilu̐ṁ āgamana
he says by the path along the sea I have come

122 The Lord asked, "By which path did you come, Sanātana?" He replied, "I came by the path along the sea."

প্রভু কহে, — তপ্ত-বালুকাতে কেমনে আইলা ?
সিংহদ্বারের পথ — শীতল, কেনে না আইলা ? ॥ ১২৩ ॥

prabhu kahe, — tapta-vālukāte kemane āilā?
the Lord says over the hot sand how did you come siṁha-dvārera patha — śītala, kene nā āilā?
of the Siṁha-dvāra the path is cool why not did you come 123 The Lord said, "How could you come over the burning sand? The path by the Siṁha-dvāra is cool — why did you not come that way?

Anubhāṣya.
Siṁha-dvāra (the Lion Gate): the name of the main, eastern gate of the temple of Jagannātha.

তপ্ত-বালুকায় তোমার পায় হৈল ব্রণ । চলিতে না পার, কেমনে করিলা সহন ? ॥ ১২৪ ॥

tapta-vālukāya tomāra pāya haila vraṇa
from the hot sand your on the feet have come blisters calite nā pāra, kemane karilā sahana?
to walk not you can how did you endure

124 The hot sand has blistered your feet; you cannot walk. How did you bear it?"

সনাতন কহে, — দুঃখ বহুত না পাইলুঁ । পায়ে ব্রণ হঞাছে, তাহা না জানিলুঁ ॥ ১২৫ ॥

sanātana kahe, — duḥkha bahuta nā pāiluṁ̐ Sanātana says pain much not I felt pāye vraṇa hañāche, tāhā nā jāniluṁ̐
on the feet blisters have formed that not I knew

125 Sanātana said, "I did not feel much pain. I did not even know that blisters had formed on my feet.

*Sanātana Prabhu is himself a paramahaṁsa on the path of spontaneous love (rāga-mārga). Yet as an exemplary Vaiṣṇava ācārya who honors others (mānada), he duly respects, to teach practitioners (sādhakas), the propriety (maryādā) of the path of Deity worship by regulation (vaidha arcana-mārga) —*

সিংহদ্বারে যাইতে মোর নাহি অধিকার । বিশেষ — ঠাকুরের তাঁহা সেবকের প্রচার ॥ ১২৬ ॥

siṁha-dvāre yāite mora nāhi adhikāra
by the Siṁha-dvāra to go my there is no right
viśeṣa — ṭhākurera tāṁ̐hā sevakera pracāra especially of the Ṭhākura there of the servants the movement

126 I have no right to go by the Siṁha-dvāra, especially since the servants of the Ṭhākura, Lord Jagannātha, move about there.

সেবক গতাগতি করে, নাহি অবসর । তাঁর স্পর্শ হৈলে, সর্ব্বনাশ হবে মোর ॥ ১২৭ ॥

sevaka gatāgati kare, nāhi avasara
the servants coming and going do there is no pause
tāṁ̐ra sparśa haile, sarva-nāśa habe mora their touch if it happens ruin will be mine

127 The servants come and go without pause, and if I should touch them, it would be my ruin.”

The Lord rejoices to hear Sanātana's words about his respectful conduct —

শুনি’ মহাপ্রভু মনে সন্তোষ পাইলা । তুষ্ট হঞা তাঁরে কিছু কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১২৮ ॥

śuni’ mahāprabhu mane santoṣa pāilā hearing Mahāprabhu in mind satisfaction felt tuṣṭa hañā tāṁre kichu kahite lāgilā pleased becoming to him something to say began

128 Hearing this, Mahāprabhu was glad at heart, and in His satisfaction He began to speak to him:

*The Lord Himself describes the conduct of a devotee, or sādhu, and his distinctive qualities —*

যদ্যপিও তুমি হও জগৎপাবন ।
তোমা-স্পর্শে পবিত্র হয় দেব-মুনিগণ ॥ ১২৯ ॥

তথাপি ভক্ত-স্বভাব — মর্য্যাদা-রক্ষণ । মর্য্যাদা-পালন হয় সাধুর ভূষণ ॥ ১৩০ ॥

yadyapio tumi hao jagat-pāvana
although you are the purifier of the world
tomā-sparśe pavitra haya deva-muni-gaṇa
by your touch purified become the gods and sages tathāpi bhakta-svabhāva — maryādā-rakṣaṇa
nevertheless of a devotee the nature propriety guarding maryādā-pālana haya sādhura bhūṣaṇa
of propriety the keeping is of a sādhu the ornament

129–130 “Although you purify the whole world, and even the gods and sages are purified by your touch, it is still a devotee’s nature to guard propriety (maryādā). Keeping propriety is the ornament of a sādhu.

The result of a practitioner's transgressing propriety —

মর্য্যাদা-লঙ্ঘনে লোক করে উপহাস । ইহলোক, পরলোক — দুই হয় নাশ ॥ ১৩১ ॥

maryādā-laṅghane loka kare upahāsa
of propriety in the transgression people make mockery
iha-loka, para-loka — dui haya nāśa
this world the next world both are destroyed

131 People mock whoever breaks propriety, and he loses both this world and the next.

*The Lord, the guru of the world and the teacher of humanity, shows how He values keeping the regulative propriety (vaidha maryādā), and, seeing Sanātana's conduct, accepts him as an ācārya —*

মর্য্যাদা রাখিলে, তুষ্ট হয় মোর মন । তুমি ঐছে না করিলে করে কোন্ জন ? ॥ ১৩২ ॥

maryādā rākhile, tuṣṭa haya mora mana propriety when you keep pleased becomes My mind
tumi aiche nā karile kare kon jana?
you so if not do would do which person

132 When you keep propriety, My mind is pleased. If you do not act this way, who will?”

*Bhagavān embraces His dearest devotee, whose body is transcendental (aprākṛta) —*

এত বলি’ প্রভু তাঁরে আলিঙ্গন কৈল । তাঁর কণ্ডুরসা প্রভুর শ্রীঅঙ্গে লাগিল ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

eta bali’ prabhu tāṁre āliṅgana kaila
this having said the Lord him embrace made tāṁra kaṇḍu-rasā prabhura śrī-aṅge lāgila
his the fluid of the sores of the Lord to the holy body clung 133 Saying this, the Lord embraced him, and the fluid from his sores smeared the Lord’s holy body.

*The embrace leaves the fluid of Sanātana's oozing sores (kaṇḍu-rasā) on the Lord's body, and Sanātana, the embodiment of humility, is pained —*

বার বার নিষেধেন, তবু করেন আলিঙ্গন । অঙ্গে রসা লাগে, দুঃখ পায় সনাতন ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

bāra bāra niṣedhena, tabu karena āliṅgana
again and again he forbids still He makes embrace aṅge rasā lāge, duḥkha pāya sanātana
to the body the fluid clings sorrow feels Sanātana

134 Again and again Sanātana tried to stop Him, yet the Lord kept embracing him. The fluid clung to the Lord’s body, and Sanātana was grieved.

The conversation of Sanātana and Jagadānanda —

এইমতে সেবক-প্রভু দুঁহে ঘর গেলা । আর দিন জগদানন্দ সনাতনেরে মিলিলা ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

ei-mate sevaka-prabhu duṁhe ghara gelā
in this way servant and master both home went āra dina jagadānanda sanātanere mililā
the next day Jagadānanda with Sanātana met

135 In this way servant and Master each went home. The next day Jagadānanda came to see Sanātana.

Anubhāṣya.
Sevaka-prabhu (servant and master): Śrī Sanātana and Śrīman Mahāprabhu.

Sanātana talks with the Paṇḍita about Kṛṣṇa and in the course of it tells of his own grief —

দুইজন বসি’ কৃষ্ণকথা গোষ্ঠী কৈলা । পণ্ডিতেরে সনাতন দুঃখ নিবেদিলা ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

duijana vasi’ kṛṣṇakathā goṣṭhī kailā
the two sitting about Kṛṣṇa a talk made paṇḍitere sanātana duḥkha nivedilā
to the Paṇḍita Sanātana his grief confided

136 The two sat together and talked of Kṛṣṇa, and Sanātana confided his grief to the Paṇḍita:

Sanātana came to Purī resolved to give up his body before the chariot, to free himself from grief: he is deprived of seeing the One he worships and of serving Him —

ইঁহা আইলাঙ প্রভুরে দেখি' দুঃখ খণ্ডাইতে । যেবা মনে, তাহা প্রভু না দিলা করিতে ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

iṁhā āilāṅa prabhure dekhi' duḥkha khaṇḍāite here I came the Lord seeing my grief to remove yebā mane, tāhā prabhu nā dilā karite
whatever in mind that the Lord not let me do

137 "I came here to see the Lord and be rid of my grief, but the Lord did not let me do what I had in mind.

Anubhāṣya.
Duḥkha (grief): the pain of being always deprived of seeing the Lord and Jagannātha-deva and of serving Them. Yebā mane (what I had in mind): to give up his body before Jagannātha's chariot while the Lord danced.

The fluid of his oozing sores touches the Lord's body, and Sanātana, the embodiment of humility, feels shame, pain and the fear of offense —

নিষেধিতে প্রভু আলিঙ্গন করেন মোরে । মোর কণ্ডুরসা লাগে প্রভুর শরীরে ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

niṣedhite prabhu āliṅgana karena more though I forbid the Lord embrace makes me mora kaṇḍurasā lāge prabhura śarīre
my the fluid of the sores clings of the Lord to the body

138 Though I try to stop Him, the Lord embraces me, and the fluid of my sores smears His body.

অপরাধ হয় মোর, নাহিক নিস্তার । জগন্নাথেহ না দেখিয়ে, — এ দুঃখ অপার ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

aparādha haya mora, nāhika nistāra offence is mine there is no deliverance
jagannātheha nā dekhiye, — e duḥkha apāra
even Jagannātha not I see this grief boundless

139 I am committing an offence, and for me there is no deliverance. I cannot even see Jagannātha — this grief is boundless.

Fearing misfortune, Sanātana asks the Paṇḍita what his good is —

হিত-নিমিত্ত আইলাঙ আমি, হৈল বিপরীতে । কি করিলে হিত হয় নারি নির্দ্ধারিতে ॥ ১৪০ ॥

hita-nimitta āilāṅa āmi, haila viparīte
for my welfare came I it turned out the opposite ki karile hita haya nāri nirddhārite
what by doing welfare comes I cannot determine 140 I came for my welfare, but the opposite has happened. I cannot decide what I should do for my good."

In simplicity of heart the Paṇḍita advises Sanātana to go to Vṛndāvana —

পণ্ডিত কহে, — তোমার বাসযোগ্য 'বৃন্দাবন' । রথযাত্রা দেখি' তাঁহা করহ গমন ॥ ১৪১ ॥

paṇḍita kahe, — tomāra vāsa-yogya ‘vṛndāvana’
the Paṇḍita says for you fit to live in is Vṛndāvana
ratha-yātrā dekhi’ tāṁhā karaha gamana
the Ratha-yātrā having seen there make your going

141 The Paṇḍita said, “Vṛndāvana is the place for you to live. After seeing the Ratha-yātrā, go there.

প্রভুর আজ্ঞা হঞাছে তোমা’ দুই ভায়ে । বৃন্দাবনে বৈস, তাঁহা সর্ব্বসুখ পাইয়ে ॥ ১৪২ ॥

prabhura ājñā hañāche tomā’ dui bhāye
of the Lord the order has been given to you two brothers
vṛndāvane vaisa, tāṁhā sarva-sukha pāiye
in Vṛndāvana settle there all happiness you will find

142 The Lord has ordered you two brothers to settle in Vṛndāvana; there you will find every happiness.

যে-কার্য্যে আইলা, প্রভুর দেখিলা চরণ । রথে জগন্নাথ দেখি’ করহ গমন ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

ye-kārye āilā, prabhura dekhilā caraṇa
for which purpose you came of the Lord you have seen the feet
rathe jagannātha dekhi’ karaha gamana
on the chariot Jagannātha having seen make your going

143 You came to see the Lord’s feet, and you have seen them. Now see Jagannātha on His chariot and go.”

Sanātana agrees. He knows that Śrī Vṛndāvana-dhāma is Kṛṣṇa's transcendental abode, yet he sees it above all as “the land the Lord has chosen” — such is Sanātana's incomparable love for Gaura —

সনাতন কহে, — ভাল কৈলা উপদেশ । তাঁহা যাব, সেই মোর ‘প্রভুদত্ত দেশ’ ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

sanātana kahe, — bhāla kailā upadeśa Sanātana says good you have given advice
tāṁhā yāba, sei mora ‘prabhu-datta deśa’
there I shall go that my the land given by the Lord

144 Sanātana said, “You have given good advice. I shall go there: that is my ‘land given by the Lord.’”

Anubhāṣya.
“Prabhu-datta deśa” (“the land given by the Lord”). The meaning is this: the place that Śrī Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas — whom the jīva eternally worships — have chosen and appointed is itself Śrī Vṛndāvana, the abode of service to Kṛṣṇa that the jīva eternally longs for. By living there and giving them pleasure, the jīva attains his eternal good.

One day the Lord comes —

এত বলি’ দুঁহে নিজ-কার্য্যে উঠি’ গেলা । আর দিন মহাপ্রভু মিলিবারে আইলা ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

eta bali’ duṁhe nija-kārye uṭhi’ gelā
this having said the two to their own duties rising went āra dina mahāprabhu milibāre āilā
the next day Mahāprabhu to meet came 145 Saying this, the two rose and went about their duties. The next day Mahāprabhu came to meet them.

Haridāsa bows to the Lord, and the Lord embraces Haridāsa —

হরিদাস কৈলা প্রভুর চরণ বন্দন । হরিদাসে কৈলা প্রভু প্রেম-আলিঙ্গন ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

haridāsa kailā prabhura caraṇa vandana Haridāsa made of the Lord to the feet obeisance
haridāse kailā prabhu prema-āliṅgana
Haridāsa made the Lord a loving embrace

146 Haridāsa bowed at the Lord's feet, and the Lord embraced Haridāsa with love.

The Lord calls Sanātana to Him to embrace him —

দূর হৈতে দণ্ড পরণাম করে সনাতন । প্রভু বোলায় বার বার করিতে আলিঙ্গন ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

dūra haite daṇḍa paraṇāma kare sanātana
from afar prostrate obeisance makes Sanātana
prabhu bolāya bāra bāra karite āliṅgana
the Lord calls again and again to make embrace

147 Sanātana offered prostrate obeisances from a distance. Again and again the Lord called him, wanting to embrace him.

Sanātana fears offense; the Lord quickly goes up to him —

অপরাধ-ভয়ে তেঁহ মিলিতে না আইল । মহাপ্রভু মিলিবারে সেই ঠাঞি গেল ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

aparādha-bhaye teṁha milite nā āila
of offence in fear he to meet not came mahāprabhu milibāre sei ṭhāñi gela Mahāprabhu to meet to that place went

148 Fearing to offend, he did not come forward to meet Him, so Mahāprabhu went to that place to meet him.

Sanātana runs away; the Lord embraces him by force —

সনাতন ভাগি' পাছে করেন গমন । বলাৎকারে ধরি' প্রভু কৈলা আলিঙ্গন ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

sanātana bhāgi' pāche karena gamana Sanātana running away backward goes balātkāre dhari' prabhu kailā āliṅgana
by force catching him the Lord made embrace

149 Sanātana drew back and fled, but the Lord caught him by force and embraced him.

The Lord and the two devotees sit down. Sanātana, the embodiment of humility, thinks of himself as an impure conditioned soul: he speaks to the Lord with deep humility and fears that touching the Lord will be an offense on his part —

দুইজন লঞা প্রভু বসিলা পিণ্ডাতে । নির্ব্বিণ্ণ সনাতন লাগিলা কহিতে ॥ ১৫০ ॥

dui-jana lañā prabhu vasilā piṇḍāte
the two taking the Lord sat on the raised platform
nirviṇṇa sanātana lāgilā kahite filled with nirveda Sanātana began to speak

150 The Lord sat down with the two of them on the raised platform before the dwelling, and Sanātana, filled with detachment (nirveda), began to speak:[6]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Nirviṇṇa: filled with nirveda, that is, with detachment (virāga).

হিত লাগি' আইনু মুঞি, হৈল বিপরীত । সেবাযোগ্য নহি, অপরাধ করোঁ নিতি নিতি ॥ ১৫১ ॥

hita lāgi' āinu muñi, haila viparīta welfare for the sake came I it turned out the opposite sevā-yogya nahi, aparādha karoṁ niti niti
for service fit I am not offence I commit daily daily 151 "I came for my welfare, but the opposite has happened. I am not fit for service; day after day I commit offences.

সহজে নীচ-জাতি মুঞি, দুষ্ট, 'পাপাশয়' । মোরে তুমি ছুঁইলে মোর অপরাধ হয় ॥ ১৫২ ॥

sahaje nīca-jāti muñi, duṣṭa, 'pāpāśaya'
by nature of low birth I wicked a reservoir of sin
more tumi chuṁile mora aparādha haya
me You if You touch my offence occurs

152 I am low-born, wicked by nature, a 'reservoir of sin'; when You touch me, I commit an offence.[7]

তাহাতে আমার অঙ্গে কণ্ডু-রসা-রক্ত চলে । তোমার অঙ্গে লাগে, তবু স্পর্শহ তুমি বলে ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

tāhāte āmāra aṅge kaṇḍu-rasā-rakta cale
moreover my on the body sore-fluid and blood flow
tomāra aṅge lāge, tabu sparśaha tumi bale
Your to the body it clings still touch You by force

153 Moreover, fluid and blood flow from the sores on my body and smear Yours, yet still You touch me by force.

Anubhāṣya.
Bale: by force.

বীভৎস স্পর্শিতে না কর ঘৃণা-লেশে । এই অপরাধে মোর হবে সর্ব্বনাশে ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

bībhatsa sparśite nā kara ghṛṇā-leśe
the loathsome in touching not You feel disgust even a trace ei aparādhe mora habe sarva-nāśe
by this offence my will be utter ruin

154 You do not feel even a trace of disgust in touching what is loathsome. This offence will be my utter ruin.

Fearing offense, Sanātana asks leave to go to Vṛndāvana to be free of it —

তাতে ইঁহা রহিলে মোর না হয় 'কল্যাণ' । আজ্ঞা দেহ' — রথ দেখি' যাঙ বৃন্দাবন ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

tāte iṁhā rahile mora nā haya 'kalyāṇa'
therefore here if I stay my not comes welfare
ājñā deha' — ratha dekhi' yāṅa vṛndāvana leave give the chariot having seen let me go to Vṛndāvana

155 So if I stay here, no good will come to me. Give me leave: after seeing the chariot festival, let me go to Vṛndāvana.

Sanātana tells the Lord that Jagadānanda Paṇḍita advised him to go to Vṛndāvana —

জগদানন্দ-পণ্ডিতে আমি যুক্তি পুছিল । বৃন্দাবন যাইতে তেঁহ উপদেশ দিল ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

jagadānanda-paṇḍite āmi yukti puchila Jagadānanda Paṇḍita I counsel asked vṛndāvana yāite teṁha upadeśa dila to Vṛndāvana to go he advice gave

156 I asked Jagadānanda Paṇḍita for counsel, and he advised me to go to Vṛndāvana."

In anger the Lord rebukes the Paṇḍita —

এত শুনি' মহাপ্রভু সরোষ-অন্তরে । জগদানন্দে ক্রুদ্ধ হঞা করে তিরস্কারে ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

eta śuni' mahāprabhu saroṣa-antare
this hearing Mahāprabhu with anger within jagadānande kruddha hañā kare tiraskāre
Jagadānanda angry becoming He rebukes

157 Hearing this, Mahāprabhu grew angry at heart and in anger rebuked Jagadānanda:

কালিকার বটুয়া জগা ঐছে গর্ব্বী হৈল । তোমা-সবারেহ উপদেশ করিতে লাগিল ? ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

kālikāra baṭuyā jagā aiche garvī haila yesterday's boy Jagā so proud has become tomā-sabāreha upadeśa karite lāgila?
even you all advice to give he has begun

158 "Jagā, a mere boy of yesterday, has become so proud that he has begun to advise even you?

With abundant mercy the Lord speaks of Sanātana's greatness —

ব্যবহারে-পরমার্থে তুমি — তার গুরু-তুল্য । তোমারে উপদেশ করে, না জানে আপন-মূল্য ? ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

vyavahāre-paramārthe tumi — tāra guru-tulya
in worldly and in spiritual matters you his like a guru tomāre upadeśa kare, nā jāne āpana-mūlya ?
you advice he gives not he knows his own worth

159 In worldly and in spiritual matters alike you are like a guru to him. He advises you — does he not know his own worth?

আমার উপদেষ্টা তুমি — প্রামাণিক আর্য্য । তোমারেহ উপদেশে বালকা — করে ঐছে কার্য্য ॥ ১৬০ ॥

āmāra upadeṣṭā tumi — prāmāṇika ārya
My adviser you are an authority noble
tomāreha upadeśe bālakā — kare aiche kārya
even you he advises a boy does such a deed

160 You are My adviser, an authoritative and noble soul (ārya). And this boy advises even you — such is his conduct!”

Sanātana describes Jagadānanda's good fortune and his own misfortune —

শুনি’ সনাতন পায়ে ধরি’ প্রভুরে কহিল । জগদানন্দের সৌভাগ্য আজি সে জানিল ॥ ১৬১ ॥

śuni’ sanātana pāye dhari’ prabhure kahila hearing Sanātana the feet clasping to the Lord said
jagadānandera saubhāgya āji se jānila of Jagadānanda the good fortune today that I have understood

161 Hearing this, Sanātana clasped the Lord’s feet and said, “Today I have understood Jagadānanda’s good fortune.

আপনার ‘অসৌভাগ্য’ আজি হৈল জ্ঞান । জগতে নাহি জগদানন্দ-সম ভাগ্যবান্ ॥ ১৬২ ॥

āpanāra ‘asaubhāgya’ āji haila jñāna
my own misfortune today became known jagate nāhi jagadānanda-sama bhāgyavān
in the world there is not like Jagadānanda one so fortunate

162 And today I have come to know my own misfortune. In all the world there is no one as fortunate as Jagadānanda.

Anubhāṣya.
Āpanāra ‘asaubhāgya’ (one's own “ill fortune”): that is, one's own misfortune.

Sanātana compares the Lord's affection for himself with His affection for the Paṇḍita —

জগদানন্দে পিয়াও আত্মীয়তা-সুধারস ।
মোরে পিয়াও গৌরবস্তুতি-নিম্ব-নিশিন্দা-রস ॥ ১৬৩ ॥

jagadānande piyāo ātmīyatā-sudhā-rasa Jagadānanda You make drink of intimacy the nectar
more piyāo gaurava-stuti-nimba-niśindā-rasa
me You make drink of respectful praise of nimba of niśindā the juice

163 You give Jagadānanda the nectar of intimacy to drink, but me You make drink the bitter juice of nimba and niśindā — Your respectful praise.

Anubhāṣya.
The juice of nimba and niśindā is bitter, so it is unpleasant to taste. Just as unpleasant it is for one who is cherished (lālya) — one who deserves affection and mercy — to receive respect, obeisances and other honors from the one who cherishes him (lālaka), whom he himself should serve and worship.

Love arises from the feeling of relationship: from the one who is served regarding his servant as his own. Sanātana's words reveal the deep pain of his heart —

আজিহ নহিল মোরে আত্মীয়তা-জ্ঞান !
মোর অভাগ্য, তুমি — স্বতন্ত্র ভগবান্! ॥ ১৬৪ ॥

ājiha nahila more ātmīyatā-jñāna!
even today there was not toward me of intimacy the feeling mora abhāgya, tumi — svatantra bhagavān!
my misfortune You are the independent Bhagavān

164 Even today You have not come to regard me as Your own. It is my misfortune; You are the independent Lord, Bhagavān!"

The Lord is abashed and consoles Sanātana —

শুনি' মহাপ্রভু কিছু লজ্জিত হৈলা মনে । তাঁরে সন্তোষিতে কিছু বলেন বচনে ॥ ১৬৫ ॥

śuni' mahāprabhu kichu lajjita hailā mane hearing Mahāprabhu somewhat abashed became at heart
tāṁre santoṣite kichu balena vacane
him to satisfy some He speaks words

165 Hearing this, Mahāprabhu felt somewhat abashed at heart, and to console him He spoke:

The Lord describes how His affection for Jagadānanda differs from His affection for Sanātana, and explains why He rebuked Jagadānanda —

জগদানন্দ প্রিয় আমার নহে তোমা হৈতে । মর্য্যাদা-লঙ্ঘন আমি না পারোঁ সহিতে ॥ ১৬৬ ॥

jagadānanda priya āmāra nahe tomā haite Jagadānanda dear to Me is not than you more maryādā-laṅghana āmi nā pāroṁ sahite
of propriety the transgression I not can bear

166 "Jagadānanda is not dearer to Me than you. But I cannot bear a breach of propriety.

Anubhāṣya.
Each person has his proper place (maryādā). Mahāprabhu did not encourage anyone to overstep it, think himself important and give advice to one who deserves respect. Still less did He approve of such conduct in one younger in years, like Jagadānanda.

The Lord describes the virtues of both —

কাঁহা তুমি — প্রামাণিক, শাস্ত্রে প্রবীণ !
কাঁহা জগা — কালিকার বটুয়া নবীন! ॥ ১৬৭ ॥

kāṁhā tumi — prāmāṇika, śāstre pravīṇa!
where you an authority in the scriptures experienced kāṁhā jagā — kālikāra baṭuyā navīna!
where Jagā yesterday's boy a novice

167 Think what you are — an authority, versed in the scriptures! And what is Jagā — a boy of yesterday, a novice!

The Lord praises Sanātana's virtues and greatness —

আমাকেহ বুঝাইতে তুমি ধর শক্তি । কত ঠাঞি বুঝাঞাছ ব্যবহার-ভক্তি ॥ ১৬৮ ॥

āmākeha bujhāite tumi dhara śakti
even Me to convince you possess the power
kata ṭhāñi bujhāñācha vyavahāra-bhakti
in how many places you have made Me understand propriety in devotion

168 You have the power to convince even Me. On so many occasions you have made Me understand the propriety of devotional conduct (vyavahāra-bhakti).

Anubhāṣya.
Kata ṭhāñi (on how many occasions): see Madhya 1.222–224 or Madhya 16.266. Vyavahāra-bhakti: showing propriety (maryādā), that is, good manners (śiṣṭācāra).

তোমারে উপদেশ করে, না যায় সহন । অতএব তারে আমি করিয়ে ভর্ৎসন ॥ ১৬৯ ॥

tomāre upadeśa kare, nā yāya sahana
you advice he gives not can be borne ataeva tāre āmi kariye bhartsana
therefore him I make rebuke

169 That he should advise you is more than I can bear; that is why I rebuke him.

Bhagavān, attracted by the qualities of His devotee, describes those qualities —

বহিরঙ্গ-জ্ঞানে তোমারে না করি স্তবন । তোমার গুণে স্তুতি করায় যৈছে তোমার গুণ ॥ ১৭০ ॥

bahiraṅga-jñāne tomāre nā kari stavana
as an outsider regarding you not I praise
tomāra guṇe stuti karāya yaiche tomāra guṇa
by your qualities praise you make Me give such are your qualities

170 I do not praise you because I regard you as an outsider. Your virtues move Me to praise you, so great are they.

*Though the "viṣaya" has many "āśrayas" dear to Him, His love for each of them is distinct —*

যদ্যপি কাহার 'মমতা' বহুজনে হয় । প্রীতি-স্বভাবে কাঁহাতে কোন ভাবোদয় ॥ ১৭১ ॥

yadyapi kāhāra 'mamatā' bahu-jane haya
although of someone the sense of "mine" toward many people is prīti-svabhāve kāṁhāte kona bhāvodaya
by love's nature toward someone some feeling arises

171 Although one may feel many people to be one's own, by the nature of love a particular feeling arises toward each.

*Out of humility a devotee free of pride (amānī) regards himself as a material jīva, the lowest of all. Yet in truth, seen with spiritual vision, he is a transcendental spiritual entity (brahma-vastu) whom Bhagavān embraces —*

তোমার দেহ তুমি কর বীভৎস-জ্ঞান । তোমার দেহ আমারে লাগে অমৃত-সমান ॥ ১৭২ ॥

tomāra deha tumi kara bībhatsa-jñāna
your body you make as loathsome the notion tomāra deha āmāre lāge amṛta-samāna
your body to Me seems like nectar

172 You regard your body as loathsome, but to Me your body is like nectar.

অপ্রাকৃত-দেহ তোমার ‘প্রাকৃত’ কভু নয়। তথাপি তোমার তাতে প্রাকৃত-বুদ্ধি হয় ॥ ১৭৩ ॥

aprākṛta-deha tomāra ‘prākṛta’ kabhu naya transcendental body your material ever is not tathāpi tomāra tāte prākṛta-buddhi haya nevertheless your about it material notion is 173 Your body is transcendental (aprākṛta); it is never material. Still, you think of it as material.

Anubhāṣya.

A devotee turned toward Kṛṣṇa allows himself no bodily license (kāmacāra) to satisfy the desire to enjoy, the desire for his own happiness. He longs for Kṛṣṇa's happiness and performs all his transcendental worship (bhajana) solely for loving service to Kṛṣṇa. The karmīs engage the material body, the vessel in which the fruits of action are enjoyed, in enjoying perishable fruits. Devotees have no such aims: wholly and always they accept that their bodies exist only for the service of Hari, and with every bodily act they serve Śrī Kṛṣṇa. The karmī's body is material, because, absorbed in material nature (prakṛti), he craves to enjoy material fruits. But a devotee is wholly devoted to Kṛṣṇa's service: the very existence of his body and all his bodily acts are devoted to transcendental service to Kṛṣṇa. Therefore the devotee's spiritual (cinmaya) body is certainly transcendental (aprākṛta).

The karmīs, averse to Kṛṣṇa, consider the body of a pure devotee “material,” like their own material bodies, which serve their enjoyment. But pure devotees and their servants never consider the body of a pure devotee “material.” In other words, they do not regard as “equal” or “one” spirit and non-spirit, the transcendental and the material, what is beyond rules and what is subject to them — or Kṛṣṇa and māyā, which is other than Kṛṣṇa. They do not invoke, under the pretense of artificial broad-mindedness or impartiality, the doctrine that reconciles spirit and matter (cij-jaḍa-samanvaya-vāda), and so they never become offenders against the holy Name. Rather, they know that the pure devotee's body, full of spiritual bliss, is transcendental in nature, and regard it as fit for Kṛṣṇa's service.

The highest devotee (uttama-adhikārī) finds no love for Kṛṣṇa in his own experience, and so he considers himself a pauper, a material jīva. But people averse to Kṛṣṇa in the prākṛta-sahajiyā and other offshoot sects (upasampradāyas) foolishly consider their own material bodies to be “transcendental Vaiṣṇava bodies” — and are cast far away from the pure Vaiṣṇava's transcendental conduct, that is, from devotion. Seeing this, Ṭhākura Bhaktivinoda, to teach people, wrote in his book Kalyāṇa-kalpataru: “If I think, ‘I am a Vaiṣṇava,’ I shall never be free of pride. The desire for prestige will come and defile my heart, and I shall go to hell. Thinking myself the best and giving out my remnants and the like, I shall be weighed down by pride. Therefore I shall always remain your disciple and accept worship from no one.” And Kavirāja Gosvāmī has written (Antya 20.28): “Such is the nature of love: where there is a relation of love, one thinks, ‘I have not even a trace of devotion to Kṛṣṇa.’”

*In the transcendental realm beyond the guṇas there are no mundane deliberations about injunctions and prohibitions: these belong to the mind and arise from secondary, non-spiritual vision —*

‘প্রাকৃত’ হৈলেহ তোমার বপু নারি উপেক্ষিতে। ভদ্রাভদ্র-বস্তুজ্ঞান নাহি ‘অপ্রাকৃতে’ ॥ ১৭৪ ॥

‘prākṛta’ haileha tomāra vapu nāri upekṣite material even if it were your body I cannot disregard bhadrābhadra-vastu-jñāna nāhi ‘aprākṛte’
of good and bad in things the perception there is not in the transcendental

174 Even if your body were material, I could not disregard it, for in what is transcendental there is no perception of things as good or bad.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The Lord said to Sanātana: "You are a Vaiṣṇava, and your body is transcendental: you should not think of it as 'good' or 'bad.' Moreover, I am a sannyāsī: even if your body were material, I still could not disregard it. For a sannyāsī is transcendental by nature, and it never befits him to perceive things as good and bad."[10]

*In mental notions based on the mundane perception of difference, which arises from secondary, non-spiritual vision, pure and impure, injunction and prohibition are all of equal worth and unreal — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 11.28.4)*

কিং ভদ্রং কিমভদ্রং বা দ্বৈতস্যাবস্তুনঃ কিয়ৎ । বাচোদিতং তদনৃতং মনসা ধ্যাতমেব চ ॥ ১৭৫ ॥

kiṁ bhadraṁ kim abhadraṁ vā
what good what bad or dvaitasyāvastunaḥ kiyat
of duality of the unreal how much vācoditaṁ tad anṛtaṁ
by speech spoken that untrue
manasā dhyātam eva ca
by the mind conceived indeed and

175 "What is good and what is bad, and how much of either, in a duality that has no true being? Whatever is uttered in words or conceived by the mind is passing and untrue." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 11.28.4)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
What is dual (marked not by the perception of Kṛṣṇa, the nondual Knowledge, but by a different, māyic perception) is unreal. Therefore all (whatever it may be) that is uttered (spoken) by speech and conceived by the mind is "untrue" (anṛta). What, then, in it is "good," and what is "bad"? (That is, in it there are indeed such mundane) differences as "good" and "bad," but in the perception of the nondual Truth there is nothing of the kind.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhagavān, while telling Uddhava about pure knowledge of Bhagavān, which He has described in detail before, condemns vision born of the senses (akṣaja-darśana):

(Since) vācā (by speech) uditam (what is expressed — and also what is seen by the eyes and the other senses, and what is) manasā dhyātam (conceived by the mind), tat (all of it) eva ca anṛtam (is perishable, not true for all time; therefore) avastunaḥ (of the unreal: whatever is other than nondual knowledge has no separate existence and cannot be accepted as reality) dvaitasya (within the world of duality) kiṁ kiyat (how much) bhadram (is good), kim (how much) vā abhadram (is bad)?

The plain essential meaning of the verse —

'দ্বৈতে' ভদ্রাভদ্র-জ্ঞান, সব — 'মনোধর্ম্ম' ।
'এই ভাল, এই মন্দ', — এই সব 'ভ্রম' ॥ ১৭৬ ॥

'dvaite' bhadrābhadra-jñāna, saba — 'manodharma'
in duality of good and bad the notion all mental speculation
'ei bhāla, ei manda', — ei saba 'bhrama'
this good this bad all this illusion

176 In duality the notion of good and bad is all mental speculation (mano-dharma). 'This is good, this is bad' — all this is illusion.

Anubhāṣya.
In the nondual Knowledge, in Vrajendra-nandana, imperishable Truth eternally abides. The jīva has become absorbed in a "second" and fallen into the hands of māyā, which is other than Kṛṣṇa. Everything such a jīva has — judging his own good or ill and the like — is only a property of the mind, whose nature is to accept and reject (saṅkalpa-vikalpa). Having forgotten his own true nature (svarūpa) and Kṛṣṇa, the jīva imagines himself an enjoyer. Therefore his attempts to distinguish good and bad by knowledge born of the senses produce all kinds of delusion.

*(Bhagavad-gītā 5.18)*

বিদ্যাবিনয়সম্পন্নে ব্রাহ্মণে গবি হস্তিনি । শুনি চৈব শ্বপাকে চ পণ্ডিতাঃ সমদর্শিনঃ ॥ ১৭৭ ॥

vidyā-vinaya-sampanne
with learning and humility endowed brāhmaṇe gavi hastini
in a brāhmaṇa in a cow in an elephant
śuni caiva śvapāke ca
in a dog and indeed in a dog-eater and paṇḍitāḥ sama-darśinaḥ
the wise see equally

177 "The wise see with an equal eye a brāhmaṇa endowed with learning and humility, a cow, an elephant, a dog and a dog-eater." (Bhagavad-gītā, 5.18)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Only those who look alike on a brāhmaṇa endowed with learning and humility and on a caṇḍāla, on a cow, an elephant and a dog, are paṇḍitas.

Anubhāṣya.
vidyā-vinaya-sampanne (endowed with learning and humility — joined with them, shining with every brāhmaṇa virtue, and not in one who is foolish and ill-mannered) brāhmaṇe (in a brāhmaṇa), śvapāke (in a caṇḍāla, the lowest of all), gavi (in the pure cow), śuni (in the impure dog), hastini (in the elephant, which knows no distinction of pure and impure) paṇḍitāḥ (those who know what bondage and liberation are) sama-darśinaḥ (those whose nature is to see the same thing, Brahman, in all; that is, those who regard all alike).

*Only a gosvāmī — a pure devotee who follows yukta-vairāgya — sees all things equally, because everywhere he sees their relation to Kṛṣṇa — (Bhagavad-gītā 6.8)*

জ্ঞানবিজ্ঞানতৃপ্তাত্মা কূটস্থো বিজিতেন্দ্রিয়ঃ । যুক্ত ইত্যুচ্যতে যোগী সমলোষ্ট্রাশ্মকাঞ্চনঃ ॥ ১৭৮ ॥

jñāna-vijñāna-tṛptātmā
by knowledge and realisation satisfied in self kūṭastho vijitendriyaḥ unchanging with senses conquered
yukta ity ucyate yogī engaged thus is called a yogī
sama-loṣṭrāśma-kāñcanaḥ
to whom a clod a stone and gold are the same

178 "One whose self is satisfied with knowledge and realisation, who is unchanging (kūṭastha) and has conquered the senses, and to whom a clod of earth, a stone and gold are the same, is called a yogī established in yoga." (Bhagavad-gītā, 6.8)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
One who is satisfied with knowledge and realization (jñāna-vijñāna), who is kūṭastha, that is, established in his spiritual nature, who has conquered the senses and looks alike on a clod of earth, a stone and gold — he alone can be called a "yogī," that is, "one established in yoga" (yogārūḍha).

Thus ends the fourth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.
jñāna-vijñāna-tṛptātmā (jñāna is knowledge from instruction, vijñāna is direct realization; one whose self, that is, whose mind, is satisfied by them and desires nothing more; therefore) kūṭasthaḥ (abiding at all times in one and the same nature, that is, unchanging; therefore) vijitendriyaḥ (one who has conquered the senses; therefore) sama-loṣṭrāśma-kāñcanaḥ (one to whom a lump of clay, a piece of stone and gold are equal, that is, who has no notion that clods of earth and the like are to be rejected or accepted) yogī yuktaḥ (established in yoga, yogārūḍha) ucyate (is called).

*Only a vidvat-sannyāsī, who has attained naiṣkarmya and gone beyond mundane injunctions and prohibitions, or the topmost mahā-bhāgavata, sees Viṣṇu everywhere. Therefore his vision is beautiful (sudarśana): it has none of the partiality born of the mundane perception of difference —*

আমি ত' — সন্ন্যাসী, আমার 'সম-দৃষ্টি' ধর্ম্ম । চন্দন-পঙ্কেতে আমার জ্ঞান হয় 'সম' ॥ ১৭৯ ॥

āmi ta' — sannyāsī, āmāra 'sama-dṛṣṭi' dharma
I indeed am a sannyāsī My equal vision the duty
candana-paṅkete āmāra jñāna haya 'sama'
sandal paste and mud My perception is the same

179 I am a sannyāsī; equal vision is My duty. Sandal paste and mud are the same to Me.

Anubhāṣya.

To see all things alike is the dharma of a sannyāsī, a paṇḍita or a Vaiṣṇava, for he is not absorbed in matter. He has no wish to inhale the fragrance of sandalwood to gratify his senses, nor any wish to avoid the stench of mud for his senses' pleasure. There are two impulses: to accept material things and to reject them. A Vaiṣṇava who follows yukta-vairāgya does not hasten to serve them, that is, to fall under their control. He is indifferent both to mundane enjoyment and to mundane renunciation, and so he is endowed with beautiful vision (sudarśana), the vision of spiritual pastimes (cid-vilāsa).

*Regarding a transcendental Vaiṣṇava as material is forbidden: by it one may fall from one's own dharma —*

এই লাগি' তোমা ত্যাগ করিতে না যুয়ায় । ঘৃণা-বুদ্ধি করি যদি, নিজ-ধর্ম্ম যায় ॥ ১৮০ ॥

ei lāgi' tomā tyāga karite nā yuyāya
for this reason you to reject not is fitting ghṛṇā-buddhi kari yadi, nija-dharma yāya
disgust if I feel My own duty is lost

180 For this reason it is not right for Me to reject you. If I were to feel disgust, I would fall from My own duty."

Anubhāṣya.

The sixth verse of Śrī Rūpa Prabhu's Upadeśāmṛta says: "Here, in this world, one should not see a devotee as material because of visible defects born of his nature or flaws of his body. For the waters of the Gaṅgā, though bubbles, foam and mud appear in them as properties of water, never lose their nature as liquid Brahman."

The two devotees, free of pride, do not accept the Lord's praise —

হরিদাস কহে, — প্রভু যে কহিলা তুমি । এই 'বাহ্য প্রতারণা' নাহি মানি আমি ॥ ১৮১ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — prabhu ye kahilā tumi Haridāsa says Lord what have said You ei 'bāhya pratāraṇā' nāhi māni āmi
this outward pretext not accept I

181 Haridāsa said, "Lord, what You have said is an outward pretext, and I do not accept it.

Anubhāṣya.

Bāhya pratāraṇā (outward deception): praise and honor shown to us as Vaiṣṇavas.

Regarding themselves as lowly, both praise the Lord —

আমা-সব অধমে যে কৈরাছ অঙ্গীকার । দীনদয়ালু গুণ তোমার তাহাতে প্রচার ॥ ১৮২ ॥

āmā-saba adhame ye kairācha aṅgīkāra
us all the fallen that You have accepted
dīna-dayālu guṇa tomāra tāhāte pracāra compassion for the lowly the quality Your in that is proclaimed

182 In accepting all of us fallen souls, You have made known Your compassion for the lowly."

The Lord reveals to both what He truly feels for them —

প্রভু হাসি' কহে, — শুন, হরিদাস, সনাতন । তত্ত্বতঃ কহি তোমা-বিষয়ে আমার যৈছে মন ॥ ১৮৩ ॥

prabhu hāsi' kahe, — śuna, haridāsa, sanātana
the Lord smiling says hear Haridāsa Sanātana tattvataḥ kahi tomā-viṣaye āmāra yaiche mana truly I tell about you My how mind

183 The Lord smiled and said, "Listen, Haridāsa and Sanātana. I shall tell you truly what My heart feels for you.

The devotee and Bhagavān: how they treat each other —

তোমারে 'লাল্য', আপনাকে 'লালক'-অভিমান । লালকের লাল্যে নহে দোষ পরিজ্ঞান ॥ ১৮৪ ॥

tomāre 'lālya', āpanāke 'lālaka'-abhimāna
you as the cherished Myself as the one who cherishes the conception lālakera lālye nahe doṣa parijñāna
of the one who cherishes in the cherished is not of faults the perception

184 I think of you as those I cherish (lālya), and of Myself as the one who cherishes you (lālaka). The one who cherishes does not perceive faults in those he cherishes.

Anubhāṣya.
The one who cherishes (lālaka), out of tenderness toward the one cherished (lālya), does not notice his faults, even if he has them.

Bhagavān, the bearer of the Sudarśana, out of tender love for pure devotees does not see their faults —[11]

আপনারে হয় মোর অমান্য-সমান । তোমা-সবারে করোঁ মুঞি বালক-অভিমান ॥ ১৮৫ ॥

āpanāre haya mora amānya-samāna toward Myself is My like one not to be honoured
tomā-sabāre karoṁ muñi bālaka-abhimāna
you all I hold I as children the conception

185 I do not think of Myself as one whom you should honour, for I regard you all as My children.

Anubhāṣya.
The thought "I am the object of your reverence and respect, that is, of your worship" does not enter My mind: I am full of tender love for My devotees.

মাতার যৈছে বালকের ‘অমেধ্য’ লাগে গায় । ঘৃণা নাহি জন্মে, আর মহাসুখ পায় ॥ ১৮৬ ॥

mātāra yaiche bālakera ‘amedhya’ lāge gāya
of a mother as of the child the filth clings to the body
ghṛṇā nāhi janme, āra mahā-sukha pāya disgust not arises rather great happiness she feels

186 When a child’s filth gets on its mother’s body, no disgust arises in her; rather, she feels great happiness.

The Lord regards Sanātana as equal to Himself: he is the devotee dearest to Him, whom He has made His own and accepted as His own —

‘লাল্যামেধ্য’ লালকের চন্দন-সম ভায় ।
সনাতনের ক্লেদে আমার ঘৃণা না উপজায় ॥ ১৮৭ ॥

‘lālyāmedhya’ lālakera candana-sama bhāya
the filth of the cherished to the one who cherishes like sandal paste appears sanātanera klede āmāra ghṛṇā nā upajāya
of Sanātana at the discharge My disgust not arises

187 To the one who cherishes, the filth of the cherished seems like sandal paste. So I feel no disgust at Sanātana’s discharge.”

Anubhāṣya.
Lālyāmedhya: what is unclean and impure in the one cherished (lālya).

Haridāsa recounts various incidents that show the Lord's incomparable mercy and His tender love for His devotees —

হরিদাস কহে, — তুমি ঈশ্বর দয়াময় । তোমার গম্ভীর হৃদয় বুঝন না যায় ॥ ১৮৮ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — tumi īśvara dayā-maya Haridāsa says You the Lord full of mercy
tomāra gambhīra hṛdaya bujhana nā yāya
Your deep heart understanding not is possible

188 Haridāsa said, “You are the Lord, full of mercy. No one can understand Your deep heart.

*The story of the brāhmaṇa Vāsudeva, stricken with leprosy —*

বাসুদেব — গলৎকুষ্ঠী, তাতে অঙ্গ — কীড়াময় । তারে আলিঙ্গন কৈলা হঞা সদয় ॥ ১৮৯ ॥

vāsudeva — galat-kuṣṭhī, tāte aṅga — kīḍā-maya Vāsudeva an oozing leper moreover the body full of worms
tāre āliṅgana kailā hañā sadaya
him embrace You made becoming compassionate

189 Vāsudeva was a leper with oozing sores, his body full of worms, yet out of compassion You embraced him.

Anubhāṣya.
Vāsudevera galat-kuṣṭha (Vāsudeva's leprosy, which made his body decay): see Madhya 7.136–148. Kīḍā-maya: swarming with worms.

আলিঙ্গিয়া কৈলা তার কন্দর্প-সম অঙ্গ । বুঝিতে না পারি তোমার কৃপার তরঙ্গ ॥ ১৯০ ॥

āliṅgiyā kailā tāra kandarpa-sama aṅga
having embraced You made his like Kandarpa's body bujhite nā pāri tomāra kṛpāra taraṅga
to understand not we can of Your mercy the waves

190 By embracing him You made his body as beautiful as Kandarpa's. We cannot understand the waves of Your mercy."

The Lord describes the transcendental nature of a Vaiṣṇava —

প্রভু কহে, — বৈষ্ণব-দেহ 'প্রাকৃত' কভু নয় ।
'অপ্রাকৃত' দেহ ভক্তের 'চিদানন্দময়' ॥ ১৯১ ॥

prabhu kahe, — vaiṣṇava-deha 'prākṛta' kabhu naya
the Lord says a Vaiṣṇava's body material ever is not 'aprākṛta' deha bhaktera 'cid-ānanda-maya'
transcendental the body of a devotee full of spirit and bliss

191 The Lord said, "A Vaiṣṇava's body is never material. A devotee's body is transcendental (aprākṛta), full of spirit and bliss (cid-ānanda-maya).

Anubhāṣya.
Śrī Gaurasundara explained to those who had taken shelter at His feet that a Vaiṣṇava's body is never material, never meant for enjoyment. It is not like the material body of a karmī, a jñānī or one with other desires (anyābhilāṣī), a body full of enjoyment and mundane pleasure. A devotee's body is full of spiritual bliss (cid-ānanda-maya), that is, fit for Kṛṣṇa's service and imbued with a feeling that lies beyond material nature. In it eternity, knowledge and bliss (sac-cid-ānanda) shine forth.

*Viṣṇu has accepted the Vaiṣṇava as His own "āśraya," and so the Vaiṣṇava is a spiritual pastime (cid-vilāsa) not different from Him; one initiated by the guru becomes Acyuta's own (acyutātmatā) —*

দীক্ষাকালে ভক্ত করে আত্মসমর্পণ । সেইকালে কৃষ্ণ তারে করে আত্মসম ॥ ১৯২ ॥

dīkṣā-kāle bhakta kare ātma-samarpaṇa
at the time of initiation the devotee makes self-surrender sei-kāle kṛṣṇa tāre kare ātma-sama
at that time Kṛṣṇa him makes like Himself

192 At the time of initiation (dīkṣā) the devotee surrenders himself, and at that very time Kṛṣṇa makes him His own, like Himself (ātma-sama).

*It is the brāhmaṇa — one who is initiated, that is, who has gained knowledge of his relation with Bhagavān — who, engaging in viṣṇu-bhakti-yoga (the abhidheya), receives the name "Vaiṣṇava." Therefore brahminhood is contained in Vaiṣṇavism —*

সেই দেহ করে তার চিদানন্দময় । অপ্রাকৃত দেহে তাঁর চরণ ভজয় ॥ ১৯৩ ॥

sei deha kare tāra cid-ānanda-maya that body makes his full of spirit and bliss
aprākṛta dehe tāṁra caraṇa bhajaya
in a transcendental body His feet he worships

193 Kṛṣṇa makes that body of his full of spirit and bliss, and in that transcendental body the devotee worships His feet.

Anubhāṣya.

At initiation (dīkṣā) the devotee gives up all his mundane perceptions and gains knowledge of his transcendental relation (sambandha) with the Lord. Having gained transcendental divine knowledge, he receives, in his transcendental nature, the right to serve Kṛṣṇa. As soon as the surrendered devotee leaves the shelter of māyā, which is other than Kṛṣṇa, Kṛṣṇa makes him His own. Then his mundane conception of himself as an “enjoyer” in the realm of material enjoyment vanishes, and in his very sense of self (asmitā) eternal service to Kṛṣṇa manifests. Then the devotee realizes that in his own true nature, full of eternity, knowledge and bliss, he is an eternal servant, and in a transcendental body he gains the right to serve Kṛṣṇacandra. The devotee serves in bhāva with a transcendental body suited to that time. But the karmīs, through the fault of mundane thinking, take even this transcendental service for material activity aimed at enjoyment, like their own. By that offense they are deprived of the mercy of the transcendental guru. On this, see Śrī Sanātana Prabhu's discussion in Bṛhad-bhāgavatāmṛta 1.3.45 and 2.3.139.

*(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 11.29.34)*

মর্ত্ত্যো যদা ত্যক্তসমস্তকর্ম্মা নিবেদিতাত্মা বিচিকীর্ষিতো মে ।
তদামৃতত্বং প্রতিপদ্যমানো ময়াত্মভূয়ায় চ কল্পতে বৈ ॥ ১৯৪ ॥

martyo yadā tyakta-samasta-karmā
a mortal when having given up all works niveditātmā vicikīrṣito me
having offered himself whom I wish to exalt by Me tadāmṛtatvaṁ pratipadyamāno then immortality attaining mayātma-bhūyāya ca kalpate vai
with Me for a nature like Mine and becomes fit indeed

194 “When a mortal gives up all works and offers himself to Me, I wish to exalt him. Then he attains immortality and becomes fit to share with Me a nature like My own.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 11.29.34)[8]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 22.101.[12]

Mundane vision born of the senses, and the transcendental conduct of a Vaiṣṇava, wholly guided by Kṛṣṇa's will —

সনাতনের দেহে কৃষ্ণ কণ্ডু উপজাঞা । আমা পরীক্ষিতে ইঁহা দিলা পাঠাঞা ॥ ১৯৫ ॥

sanātanera dehe kṛṣṇa kaṇḍu upajāñā of Sanātana in the body Kṛṣṇa sores producing āmā parīkṣite iṁhā dilā pāṭhāñā
Me to test here has sent him

195 Kṛṣṇa produced sores on Sanātana’s body and sent him here to test Me.

*To see with mundane understanding any fault in the guru and the Vaiṣṇavas, who are beyond the guṇas, is an offense, and it leads to hell —*

ঘৃণা করি’ আলিঙ্গন না করিতাম যবে । কৃষ্ণ-ঠাঞি অপরাধী হইতাম তবে ॥ ১৯৬ ॥

ghṛṇā kari’ āliṅgana nā karitāma yabe disgust feeling embrace not had I made if kṛṣṇa-ṭhāñi aparādhī haitāma tabe to Kṛṣṇa an offender I would have become then 196 Had I felt disgust and not embraced him, I would have become an offender to Kṛṣṇa.

The guru and the Vaiṣṇavas, the associates of Bhagavān, are entities of Vaikuṇṭha, beyond the secondary properties of the senses —

পারিষদ-দেহ এই, না হয় দুর্গন্ধ । প্রথম দিবসে পাইলুঁ চতুঃসম-গন্ধ ॥ ১৯৭ ॥

pāriṣada-deha ei, nā haya durgandha
of an associate the body this not is foul smell
prathama divase pāiluṁ catuḥsama-gandha
on the first day I perceived of catuḥsama the fragrance

197 This is the body of an associate (pārṣada); it has no foul smell. On the very first day I perceived the fragrance of catuḥsama.”

Anubhāṣya.
The body of an associate (pārṣada) is a body made wholly of service to Kṛṣṇa. To a sense of smell driven by a mind bent on mundane enjoyment, the body of Śrī Sanātana Gosvāmī — a mahā-bhāgavata, the crest jewel of the line of paramahaṁsas — may seem foul-smelling. But the Lord Himself says: “Sanātana is wholly devoted to Kṛṣṇa's service, and so on the very first day I smelled in this transcendental body of an associate the fragrance of catuḥsama — a mixture of sandalwood, camphor or aguru, musk and kuṅkuma.” Catuḥsama (in the Garuḍa Purāṇa): “Two parts of musk, four of sandalwood, three of kuṅkuma and one of camphor make catuḥsama.” Two parts of musk, four parts of sandalwood, three parts of kuṅkuma, or saffron, and one part of śaśī, that is, camphor, are mixed together to make the perfume called “catuḥsama.” See Hari-bhakti-vilāsa 6.115.

By the touch of the Lord's embrace Sanātana's body becomes fragrant —

বস্তুতঃ প্রভু যবে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন । তাঁর স্পর্শে গন্ধ হৈল চন্দনের সম ॥ ১৯৮ ॥

vastutaḥ prabhu yabe kailā āliṅgana
in truth the Lord when made embrace tāṁra sparśe gandha haila candanera sama
by His touch the fragrance became of sandal like

198 In truth, when the Lord embraced him, His touch gave him the fragrance of sandalwood.

The Lord consoles Sanātana; Sanātana's touch gives the Lord joy —

প্রভু কহে — সনাতন না মানিহ দুঃখ । তোমার আলিঙ্গনে আমি পাই বড় সুখ ॥ ১৯৯ ॥

prabhu kahe — sanātana nā māniha duḥkha
the Lord says Sanātana not feel sorrow
tomāra āliṅgane āmi pāi baḍa sukha
in your embrace I feel great happiness

199 The Lord said, “Sanātana, do not be sorry. I feel great happiness in embracing you.

The Lord bids Sanātana spend this year near Him and go to Vṛndāvana the next year —

এবৎসর তুমি ইঁহা রহ আমা-সনে । বৎসর রহি’ তোমারে আমি পাঠাইমু বৃন্দাবনে ॥ ২০০ ॥

evatsara tumi iṁhā raha āmā-sane
this year you here stay with Me
vatsara rahi' tomāre āmi pāṭhāimu vṛndāvane
the year having stayed you I shall send to Vṛndāvana

200 This year stay here with Me. When the year is over, I shall send you to Vṛndāvana."

By the touch of the Lord's embrace Sanātana's body shines like gold —

এত বলি' পুনঃ তাঁরে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন । কণ্ডু গেল, অঙ্গ হৈল সুবর্ণের সম ॥ ২০১ ॥

eta bali' punaḥ tāṁre kailā āliṅgana
this having said again him made embrace kaṇḍu gela, aṅga haila suvarṇera sama
the sores went the body became of gold like

201 Saying this, He embraced him again. The sores vanished, and his body became like gold.

Seeing this, Haridāsa is astonished and reveals the true inner meaning of the pastime: Sanātana's body, wholly guided by the Lord's will, merely displayed the suffering of oozing sores, as seen by sense-born vision —

দেখি' হরিদাস মনে হৈলা চমৎকার । প্রভুরে কহেন, — এই ভঙ্গী যে তোমার ॥ ২০২ ॥

dekhi' haridāsa mane hailā camatkāra seeing Haridāsa in mind became amazed prabhure kahena, — ei bhaṅgī ye tomāra
to the Lord says this play which is Yours

202 Seeing this, Haridāsa was amazed at heart and said to the Lord, "This is Your play.

সেই ঝারিখণ্ডের পানী তুমি খাওয়াইলা । সেই পানী-লক্ষ্যে ইঁহার কণ্ডু উপজাইলা ॥ ২০৩ ॥

sei jhārikhaṇḍera pānī tumi khāoyāilā
that of Jhārikhaṇḍa the water You made him drink sei pānī-lakṣye iṁhāra kaṇḍu upajāilā
that water as the pretext his sores You produced

203 It was You who made him drink that water of Jhārikhaṇḍa, and with that water as a pretext You produced his sores.

Anubhāṣya.
Pānī-lakṣye: making the drinking water of Jhārikhaṇḍa the occasion.

কণ্ডু করি' পরীক্ষা করিলে সনাতনে । এই লীলা-ভঙ্গী তোমার কেহ নাহি জানে ॥ ২০৪ ॥

kaṇḍu kari' parīkṣā karile sanātane sores producing test You made of Sanātana ei līlā-bhaṅgī tomāra keha nāhi jāne
this of the pastime play Your anyone not knows

204 By producing the sores You tested Sanātana. No one understands these subtle turns of Your pastimes."

The Lord leaves, and the two devotees discuss Bhagavān's mercy —

দুঁহে আলিঙ্গিয়া প্রভু গেলা নিজালয় । প্রভুর গুণ কহে দুঁহে হঞা প্রেমময় ॥ ২০৫ ॥

duṁhe āliṅgiyā prabhu gelā nijālaya
both having embraced the Lord went to His own dwelling prabhura guṇa kahe duṁhe hañā prema-maya of the Lord the qualities speak the two becoming full of love

205 The Lord embraced them both and went to His own dwelling, and the two, filled with love, spoke of the Lord's qualities.

Every day Sanātana talks with Haridāsa about the Lord —

এইমত সনাতন রহে প্রভু-স্থানে । কৃষ্ণচৈতন্য-গুণ-কথা হরিদাস সনে ॥ ২০৬ ॥

ei-mata sanātana rahe prabhu-sthāne
in this way Sanātana stays at the Lord's place
kṛṣṇa-caitanya-guṇa-kathā haridāsa sane of Kṛṣṇa Caitanya the qualities talks Haridāsa with 206 Thus Sanātana stayed near the Lord, talking with Haridāsa about the qualities of Kṛṣṇa Caitanya.

After the Dola-yātrā the Lord sends Sanātana to Vṛndāvana —

দোলযাত্রা দেখি' প্রভু তাঁরে বিদায় দিলা । বৃন্দাবনে যে করিবেন, সব শিখাইলা ॥ ২০৭ ॥

dolayātrā dekhi' prabhu tāṁre vidāya dilā
the Dola-yātrā having seen the Lord to him leave gave vṛndāvane ye karibena, saba śikhāilā
in Vṛndāvana what he would do all He taught

207 After seeing the Dola-yātrā, the Lord gave him leave to go, and He taught him all that he was to do in Vṛndāvana.

At parting, the devotee and Bhagavān feel the sharp pain of separation —

যে-কালে বিদায় হৈলা প্রভুর চরণে । দুইজনার বিচ্ছেদ-দশা না যায় বর্ণনে ॥ ২০৮ ॥

ye-kāle vidāya hailā prabhura caraṇe
at the time when leave he took at the Lord's feet
dui-janāra viccheda-daśā nā yāya varṇane of the two of separation the state not can be described 208 When he took leave at the Lord's feet, the state of the two in separation was beyond description.

Sanātana goes to Vṛndāvana by the same road the Lord had taken —

যেই বন-পথে প্রভু গেলা বৃন্দাবন । সেইপথে যাইতে মন কৈলা সনাতন ॥ ২০৯ ॥

yei vana-pathe prabhu gelā vṛndāvana
by which forest path the Lord went to Vṛndāvana sei-pathe yāite mana kailā sanātana
by that path to go mind made Sanātana

209 Sanātana resolved to go by the same forest path by which the Lord had gone to Vṛndāvana.

From Balabhadra, the Lord's companion, Sanātana compiles a list of the places he is to visit —

যে-পথে, যে-গ্রাম-নদী-শৈল, যাঁহা যেই লীলা । বলভদ্রভট্ট-স্থানে সব লিখি' নিলা ॥ ২১০ ॥

ye-pathe, ye-grāma-nadī-śaila, yāṁhā yei līlā
by which path which villages rivers and hills where which pastime balabhadrabhaṭṭa-sthāne saba likhi' nilā from Balabhadra Bhaṭṭa all having written down he took 210 From Balabhadra Bhaṭṭa he wrote down everything: by which path, past which villages, rivers and hills the Lord went, and which pastime took place where.

After meeting devotees on the way, Sanātana continues his journey —

মহাপ্রভুর ভক্তগণে সবারে মিলিয়া । সেইপথে চলি' যায় সে স্থান দেখিয়া ॥ ২১১ ॥

mahāprabhura bhakta-gaṇe sabāre miliyā of Mahāprabhu the devotees all having met sei-pathe cali' yāya se sthāna dekhiyā
by that path going he goes those places seeing

211 Travelling by that same path, he met all of Mahāprabhu's devotees and saw those places.

Seeing the places of the Lord's pastimes, Sanātana is absorbed in love —

যে-যে-লীলা প্রভু পথে কৈলা যে-যে-স্থানে । তাহা দেখি' প্রেমাবেশ হয় সনাতনে ॥ ২১২ ॥

ye-ye-līlā prabhu pathe kailā ye-ye-sthāne which pastimes the Lord on the way performed in which places
tāhā dekhi' premāveśa haya sanātane
those seeing absorption in love comes to Sanātana

212 Seeing each place on the way where the Lord had shown His pastimes, Sanātana was overwhelmed with love.

Sanātana reaches Vṛndāvana first, and Rūpa later —

এইমতে সনাতন বৃন্দাবনে আইলা । পাছে আসি' রূপ-গোসাঞি তাঁহারে মিলিলা ॥ ২১৩ ॥

ei-mate sanātana vṛndāvane āilā
in this way Sanātana to Vṛndāvana came pāche āsi' rūpa-gosāñi tāṁhāre mililā afterward coming Rūpa Gosāñi him met

213 In this way Sanātana came to Vṛndāvana. Later Rūpa Gosāñi came and joined him.

Why Śrī Rūpa was delayed in coming to Vṛndāvana —

একবৎসর রূপ-গোসাঞির গৌড়ে বিলম্ব হৈল । কুটুম্বের ‘স্থিতি’-অর্থ বিভাগ করি’ দিল ॥ ২১৪ ॥

eka-vatsara rūpa-gosāñira gauḍe vilamba haila
one year of Rūpa Gosāñi in Gauḍa delay there was kuṭumbera ‘sthiti’-artha vibhāga kari’ dila for the relatives the provision the wealth division making he gave 214 Rūpa Gosāñi was delayed in Gauḍa for a year: he divided his wealth and gave it to his relatives for their maintenance.

Anubhāṣya.
‘Sthiti’-artha: landed property and money, that is, accumulated wealth. He divided among his relatives, each according to his due, the movable property held in deposit and the immovable property.

গৌড়ে যে অর্থ ছিল, তাহা আনাইলা । কুটুম্ব-ব্রাহ্মণ-দেবালয়ে বাঁটি’ দিলা ॥ ২১৫ ॥

gauḍe ye artha chila, tāhā ānāilā
in Gauḍa what wealth there was that he had brought kuṭumba-brāhmaṇa-devālaye bāṁṭi’ dilā to relatives brāhmaṇas temples distributing he gave

215 He had the wealth he held in Gauḍa brought to him and distributed it among his relatives, the brāhmaṇas and the temples.

*Śrī Rūpa, the crest jewel of the eternally perfect, divides his property and lives in Vraja with a carefree heart. This is not “the same” as the slackening of ties with people (jana-śaithilya) in a practitioner still burdened with anarthas, which springs from the mentality of a gṛhavrata —*[13]

সব মনঃকথা গোসাঞি করি’ নির্ব্বাহণ । নিশ্চিন্ত হঞা শীঘ্র আইলা বৃন্দাবন ॥ ২১৬ ॥

saba manaḥ-kathā gosāñi kari’ nirvāhaṇa
all his heart’s wishes Gosāñi having accomplished
niścinta hañā śīghra āilā vṛndāvana
free from care becoming quickly came to Vṛndāvana

216 When he had accomplished all he had in mind, the Gosāñi, free from care, quickly came to Vṛndāvana.

Anubhāṣya.
Manaḥ-kathā: all that he wished.

The brothers live in Vraja and carry out the four kinds of service the Lord entrusted to them —

দুইভাই মিলি’ বৃন্দাবনে বাস কৈলা । প্রভুর যে আজ্ঞা, দুঁহে সব নির্ব্বাহিলা ॥ ২১৭ ॥

duibhāi mili’ vṛndāvane vāsa kailā
the two brothers having met in Vṛndāvana residence made prabhura ye ājñā, duṁhe saba nirvāhilā
of the Lord what orders the two all carried out

217 The two brothers met and lived together in Vṛndāvana, and they carried out all the Lord’s orders.

নানাশাস্ত্র আনি' লুপ্ত-তীর্থ উদ্ধারিলা । বৃন্দাবনে কৃষ্ণসেবা প্রকাশ করিলা ॥ ২১৮ ॥

nānā-śāstra āni' lupta-tīrtha uddhārilā
many scriptures having gathered the lost holy places they recovered vṛndāvane kṛṣṇa-sevā prakāśa karilā
in Vṛndāvana the service of Kṛṣṇa manifestation made 218 Gathering many scriptures, they recovered the lost holy places and manifested the service of Kṛṣṇa in Vṛndāvana.

Anubhāṣya.
Nānā-śāstra (various scriptures): the evidence from all these scriptures is quoted in the book Bhakti-ratnākara. In Vṛndāvana Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī manifested the service of Śrī Govinda, and Śrī Sanātana Gosvāmī the service of Śrī Madana-mohana.

Śrī Sanātana's work: his books and other labors —

সনাতন গ্রন্থ কৈলা 'ভাগবতামৃতে' । ভক্ত-ভক্তি-কৃষ্ণ-তত্ত্ব জানি যাহা হৈতে ॥ ২১৯ ॥

sanātana grantha kailā 'bhāgavatāmṛte' Sanātana a book made the Bhāgavatāmṛta
bhakta-bhakti-kṛṣṇa-tattva jāni yāhā haite devotee devotion Kṛṣṇa the truth we know which from 219 Sanātana wrote the Bhāgavatāmṛta, from which we know the truth of the devotee, devotion and Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhāgavatāmṛta: the Bṛhad-bhāgavatāmṛta; see Madhya 1.35.

সিদ্ধান্তসার গ্রন্থ কৈলা 'দশম-টিপ্পনী' । কৃষ্ণলীলারস-প্রেম যাহা হৈতে জানি ॥ ২২০ ॥

siddhānta-sāra grantha kailā 'daśama-ṭippanī'
the essence of conclusions a book he made the Daśama-ṭippanī
kṛṣṇa-līlā-rasa-prema yāhā haite jāni of Kṛṣṇa's pastimes rasa love which from we know

220 He wrote the Daśama-ṭippanī, the essence of conclusions, from which we know the rasa of Kṛṣṇa's pastimes and love for Him.

Anubhāṣya.
Daśama-ṭippanī: the commentary Bṛhad-vaiṣṇava-toṣaṇī.

'হরিভক্তিবিলাস'-গ্রন্থ কৈলা বৈষ্ণব-আচার । বৈষ্ণবের কর্ত্তব্য যাঁহা পাইয়ে পার ॥ ২২১ ॥

'hari-bhakti-vilāsa'-grantha kailā vaiṣṇava-ācāra
the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa a book he made of Vaiṣṇava conduct vaiṣṇavera kartavya yāṁhā pāiye pāra
of a Vaiṣṇava the duties in which we find to the end

221 He wrote the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa on Vaiṣṇava conduct, in which we find the duties of a Vaiṣṇava in full.

Anubhāṣya.
Hari-bhakti-vilāsa. Later Śrīmad Gopāla Bhaṭṭa Gosvāmī Prabhu compiled this book together with the commentary Dig-darśinī, which Śrīla Sanātana Gosvāmī Prabhu had collected. Some ask: why did the karmī smārtas, instead of accepting the views of the sātvata scriptures quoted in the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa, invent other opinions from those very scriptures? The answer is this: although the views of the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa agree with scripture and are perfectly pure, the karmīs reject the views of the pure scriptures and accept only the evidence for their own mundane, impure opinions, which are hostile to devotion to Viṣṇu. See the Anubhāṣya on Madhya 1.35.

আর যত গ্রন্থ কৈলা, তাহা কে করে গণন । মদনগোপাল-গোবিন্দের ‘সেবা’-প্রকাশন ॥ ২২২ ॥

āra yata grantha kailā, tāhā ke kare gaṇana
other how many books he made that who makes counting madana-gopāla-govindera ‘sevā’-prakāśana of Madana-gopāla and Govinda the service the manifestation 222 Who can count the other books he wrote? And he manifested the service of Madana-gopāla and Govinda.

Anubhāṣya.
“The four books of Sanātana Gosvāmī” (Bhakti-ratnākara, first wave): (1) the Bṛhad-bhāgavatāmṛta; (2) the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa and its commentary named Dig-darśinī; (3) the Līlā-stava; (4) the ṭippanī on the Tenth Canto of the Bhāgavatam (the Vaiṣṇava-toṣaṇī). For Kavirāja Gosvāmī's view, see Madhya 1.35.

Śrī Rūpa's work: his books and other labors —

রূপ-গোসাঞি কৈলা ‘রসামৃতসিন্ধু’ সার । কৃষ্ণভক্তি-রসের যাঁহা পাইয়ে বিস্তার ॥ ২২৩ ॥

rūpa-gosāñi kailā ‘rasāmṛta-sindhu’ sāra Rūpa Gosāñi made the Rasāmṛta-sindhu the essence kṛṣṇa-bhakti-rasera yāṁhā pāiye vistāra
of devotion to Kṛṣṇa of the rasa in which we find the full exposition

223 Rūpa Gosāñi wrote the Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, the essence of all, in which we find the full exposition of the rasa of devotion to Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
Rasāmṛta-sindhu: the Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu. On the Ujjvala-nīlamaṇi, the Vidagdha-mādhava and the Lalita-mādhava, see the Anubhāṣya on Madhya 1.38.

‘উজ্জ্বলনীলমণি’-নাম গ্রন্থ কৈল আর ।
রাধাকৃষ্ণ-লীলারস তাঁহা পাইয়ে পার ॥ ২২৪ ॥

‘ujjvala-nīlamaṇi’-nāma grantha kaila āra
the Ujjvala-nīlamaṇi named a book he made also rādhā-kṛṣṇa-līlā-rasa tāṁhā pāiye pāra of Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa the pastimes’ rasa there we find to the end

224 He also wrote the book named Ujjvala-nīlamaṇi, where we find the rasa of the pastimes of Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa to its utmost.

‘বিদগ্ধমাধব’, ‘ললিতমাধব’, — নাটকযুগল ।
কৃষ্ণলীলা-রস তাঁহা পাইয়ে সকল ॥ ২২৫ ॥

‘vidagdha-mādhava’, ‘lalita-mādhava’, — nāṭaka-yugala
the Vidagdha-mādhava the Lalita-mādhava a pair of dramas kṛṣṇa-līlā-rasa tāṁhā pāiye sakala
of Kṛṣṇa’s pastimes the rasa there we find all

225 In the two dramas Vidagdha-mādhava and Lalita-mādhava we find all the rasa of Kṛṣṇa’s pastimes.

‘দানকেলিকৌমুদী’ আদি লক্ষগ্রন্থ কৈলা ।
সেই সব গ্রন্থে ব্রজের রস বিচারিলা ॥ ২২৬ ॥

‘dāna-keli-kaumudī’ ādi lakṣa-grantha kailā
the Dāna-keli-kaumudī and others a hundred thousand granthas he made sei saba granthe vrajera rasa vicārilā
in those all books of Vraja the rasa he examined

226 He wrote the Dāna-keli-kaumudī and other works — a hundred thousand granthas in all — and in all those books he examined the rasa of Vraja.

Anubhāṣya.
Lakṣa-grantha (a hundred thousand granthas). The books of Śrī Rūpa contain about a hundred thousand ślokas: besides counting verses, there is also a method of counting prose. Copyists, when assessing the extent of their labor, count both prose and verse in śloka-granthas. Let no one fall into the error of thinking that Śrī Rūpa Prabhu wrote a hundred thousand books. The first wave of the Bhakti-ratnākara says: “Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī wrote sixteen books.” See the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 10.84.

Who Śrī Jīva was; his books and other labors —

তাঁর লঘুভ্রাতা — শ্রীবল্লভ-অনুপম । তাঁর পুত্র মহাপণ্ডিত — শ্রীজীব-নাম ॥ ২২৭ ॥

tāṁra laghu-bhrātā — śrī-vallabha-anupama
his younger brother Śrī Vallabha Anupama
tāṁra putra mahā-paṇḍita — śrī-jīva-nāma
his son a great scholar Śrī Jīva by name

227 His younger brother was Śrī Vallabha, called Anupama, whose son was the great scholar named Śrī Jīva.

সর্ব্ব ত্যজি’ তেঁহো পাছে আইলা বৃন্দাবন । তেঁহ ভক্তিশাস্ত্র বহু কৈলা প্রচারণ ॥ ২২৮ ॥

sarva tyaji’ teṁho pāche āilā vṛndāvana
everything having given up he later came to Vṛndāvana
teṁha bhaktiśāstra bahu kailā pracāraṇa
he scriptures on devotion many made propagation

228 Giving up everything, he later came to Vṛndāvana and propagated many scriptures of bhakti.

‘ভাগবত-সন্দর্ভ’-নাম কৈলা গ্রন্থ-সার ।
ভাগবত-সিদ্ধান্তের তাঁহা পাইয়ে পার ॥ ২২৯ ॥

‘bhāgavata-sandarbha’-nāma kailā grantha-sāra
the Bhāgavata-sandarbha named he made the essence of books
bhāgavata-siddhāntera tāṁhā pāiye pāra
of the Bhāgavata the conclusions there we find to the end

229 He wrote the Bhāgavata-sandarbha, the essence of all books, where we find the conclusions of the Bhāgavatam in all their depth.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhāgavata-sandarbha: its other name is the Ṣaṭ-sandarbha; see the Anubhāṣya on Madhya 1.43.

‘গোপাল-চম্পূ’ আর নানা গ্রন্থ কৈলা । ব্রজ প্রেম-লীলা-রস-সার দেখাইলা ॥ ২৩০ ॥

'gopāla-campū' āra nānā grantha kailā
the Gopāla-campū also many books he made vraja prema-līlā-rasa-sāra dekhāilā of Vraja the love-pastimes' rasa the essence he showed 230 He also wrote the Gopāla-campū and many other books, in which he revealed the essence of the rasa of Vraja's love-pastimes.

'ষট্‌সন্দর্ভে' কৃষ্ণপ্রেম-তত্ত্ব প্রকাশিলা । চারিলক্ষ গ্রন্থ তেঁহো বিস্তার করিলা ॥ ২৩১ ॥

'ṣaṭ-sandarbhe' kṛṣṇa-prema-tattva prakāśilā
in the Ṣaṭ-sandarbha of love for Kṛṣṇa the truth he revealed cāri-lakṣa grantha teṁho vistāra karilā
four hundred thousand granthas he expansion made

231 In the Ṣaṭ-sandarbha he revealed the truth of love for Kṛṣṇa. He composed four hundred thousand granthas in all.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 1.31–45 and the Anubhāṣya on those verses, and the Bhakti-ratnākara, first wave.

Earlier events in Śrī Jīva Gosvāmī's life: before going to Mathurā he receives Nityānanda's mercy and order —

জীব-গোসাঞি গৌড় হৈতে মথুরা চলিলা । নিত্যানন্দপ্রভু ঠাঞি আজ্ঞা মাগিলা ॥ ২৩২ ॥

jīva-gosāñi gauḍa haite mathurā calilā Jīva Gosāñi from Gauḍa to Mathurā set out nityānanda-prabhu ṭhāñi ājñā māgilā
from Nityānanda Prabhu permission he begged

232 When Jīva Gosāñi was setting out from Gauḍa for Mathurā, he begged leave of Nityānanda Prabhu.

প্রভু প্রীত্যে তাঁর মাথে ধরিলা চরণ । রূপ-সনাতন-সম্বন্ধে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন ॥ ২৩৩ ॥

prabhu prītye tāṁra māthe dharilā caraṇa
the Lord (Nityānanda) with love on his head placed His feet
rūpa-sanātana-sambandhe kailā āliṅgana
because of his relation to Rūpa and Sanātana He made embrace

233 With love Nityānanda Prabhu placed His feet on Jīva's head, and because he was related to Rūpa and Sanātana, He embraced him.

*Only the rūpānugas of Śrī Sanātana's line gain the right to live in Vṛndāvana —*

আজ্ঞা দিলা, — শীঘ্র তুমি যাহ' বৃন্দাবনে । তোমার বংশে প্রভু দিয়াছেন সেইস্থানে ॥ ২৩৪ ॥

ājñā dilā, — śīghra tumi yāha' vṛndāvane order He gave quickly you go to Vṛndāvana
tomāra vaṁśe prabhu diyāchena seisthāne
to your family the Lord has given that place

234 He ordered him, "Go quickly to Vṛndāvana. The Lord has given that place to your family."

*By Nityānanda's mercy and by His order Śrī Jīva becomes an ācārya —*

তাঁর আজ্ঞায় আইলা, আজ্ঞা-ফল পাইলা । শাস্ত্র করি' কতকাল 'ভক্তি' প্রচারিলা ॥ ২৩৫ ॥

tāṁra ājñāya āilā, ājñā-phala pāilā
by His order he came of the order the fruit he obtained
śāstra kari' kata-kāla 'bhakti' pracārilā scriptures having composed for a long time devotion he preached

235 By His order he came, and he obtained the fruit of obeying it: composing scriptures, he preached bhakti for a long time.

*The author's three śikṣā-gurus —*

এই তিনগুরু, আর রঘুনাথদাস । ইঁহা-সবার চরণ বন্দোঁ, যাঁর মুঞি 'দাস' ॥ ২৩৬ ॥

ei tina-guru, āra raghunāthadāsa
these three gurus and Raghunātha dāsa iṁhā-sabāra caraṇa vandoṁ, yāṁra muñi 'dāsa'
of all these the feet I worship whose I servant

236 These three gurus and Raghunātha dāsa — I worship the feet of them all, for I am their servant.

Anubhāṣya.
Ei tina-guru (these three gurus): (1) Śrī Rūpa, (2) Sanātana and (3) Śrī Jīva Gosvāmī Prabhu.

Hearing the account of the meeting of the Lord and Sanātana, one comes to understand how the Lord wished to teach people —

এই ত' কহিলুঁ পুনঃ সনাতন-সঙ্গমে । প্রভুর আশয় জানি যাহার শ্রবণে ॥ ২৩৭ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ punaḥ sanātana-saṅgame
this indeed I have told again the meeting with Sanātana
prabhura āśaya jāni yāhāra śravaṇe
of the Lord the intention we know which by hearing

237 Thus I have told of the meeting with Sanātana once again; by hearing of it we come to know the Lord's intention.

*One who constantly cultivates it (anuśīlana), as though churning the ocean of Caitanya's pastimes, draws from it the nectar of love for Kṛṣṇa —*

চৈতন্যচরিত্র এই — ইক্ষুদণ্ড-সম । চর্ব্বণ করিতে হয় রস-আস্বাদন ॥ ২৩৮ ॥

caitanya-caritra ei — ikṣu-daṇḍa-sama
of Caitanya the deeds these like sugarcane
carvaṇa karite haya rasa-āsvādana
chewing when one does comes of the juice the taste

238 These deeds of Caitanya are like sugarcane: chew it, and you taste its juice.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the fourth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ২৩৯ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

239 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.[9]

Notes

1. The same verse as Ādi 4.2 (= Ādi 1.18, 17.2, Antya 2.2); translation as there. ↩
2. Gaṅgā-prāpti, "attaining the Gaṅgā": departing from the world on the bank of the Gaṅgā (Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya, summary of the chapter). ↩
3. Deha-tyāga — "giving up the body". ↩
4. The same verse as Ādi 17.76 (= Madhya 20.137); translation as there. ↩
5. The same verse as Madhya 20.59; translation as there. ↩
6. Piṇḍā — a raised earthen platform beside a dwelling. ↩
7. Nīca-jāti — "of low birth" (cf. 6, 28, 66–67). ↩
8. The same verse as Madhya 22.100; translation as there. The reference follows the edition heading; the Anubhāṣya refers to Madhya 22.101 in the edition's numbering (22.100 in ours). ↩
9. The same colophon verse as Antya 2.172; translation as there. ↩
10. In the verse translation, otherwise: "In the highest spiritual reality there are no mundane notions that divide everything into 'good' or 'bad.'" ↩
11. Sudarśana is the Lord's disc; the word also means "beautiful vision." ↩
12. In the edition's numbering; in our translation, Madhya 22.100. ↩
13. Unclear passage. The reading জনশৈথিল্য (jana-śaithilya, literally "slackening of ties with people") is confirmed by the page image. Apparently it means an outward cooling toward relatives and people in a sādhaka not free from a householder's habits (gṛhavrata), unlike Rūpa's untroubled renunciation; the translation is conjectural. ↩

“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 5

The Story of Pradyumna Miśra

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. Pradyumna Miśra, a resident of Śrīhaṭṭa, wished to hear talks about Kṛṣṇa from Mahāprabhu, and the Lord sent him to Rāmānanda. Hearing how Rāmānanda dealt with the devadāsīs, Miśra came back. Mahāprabhu then explained to him well the truth about Rāmānanda, and Miśra went again and received instruction in the truth from Rāmānanda. A brāhmaṇa from Bengal composed a play about Mahāprabhu's pastimes and brought it. Svarūpa Gosvāmī heard it and pointed out the fault of Māyāvāda in it, yet he gave the poet's verses a second meaning and so pleased him. His life's purpose fulfilled, the poet gave up everything and stayed in Nīlācala under the shelter of the Vaiṣṇavas.

*For the jīva bereft of consciousness (a-caitanya), stricken with the disease of worldly existence and fallen into the ocean of saṁsāra, the only good lies in taking shelter of Caitanya's feet —*

বৈগুণ্যকীটকলিতঃ পৈশুন্য-ব্রণপীড়িতঃ । দৈন্যার্ণবে নিমগ্নোঽহং চৈতন্য-বৈদ্যমাশ্রয়ে ॥ ১ ॥

vaiguṇya-kīṭa-kalitaḥ
by the ripening of karma by the worm bitten paiśunya-vraṇa-pīḍitaḥ
of malice by the sore afflicted
dainyārṇave nimagno ’haṁ
in the ocean of humility sunk I caitanya-vaidyam āśraye Caitanya the physician I take shelter of 1 Bitten by the worm of ripened karma, tormented by the sore of malice, and sunk in an ocean of humility, I take shelter of Caitanya, the physician.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Bitten by the worm of vaiguṇya, tormented by envy and sunk in an ocean of humility, I have taken shelter of the physician, Caitanya.

Anubhāṣya.
vaiguṇya-kīṭa-kalitaḥ (vaiguṇya is the ripening of karma; bitten by the worm that it is) paiśunya-vraṇa-pīḍitaḥ (paiśunya is malice; suffering from the sore, that is, the wound, that it is) dainyārṇave (in the ocean of humility) nimagnaḥ aham caitanya-vaidyam (the physician, Mahāprabhu) āśraye (I have taken shelter).

জয় জয় শচীসুত শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য । জয় জয় কৃপাময় নিত্যানন্দ ধন্য ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śacīsuta śrīkṛṣṇacaitanya glory glory to the son of Śacī to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya
jaya jaya kṛpāmaya nityānanda dhanya glory glory to the all-merciful Nityānanda the blessed

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the son of Śacī! Glory, glory to the all-merciful, blessed Nityānanda!

জয়াদ্বৈত কৃপাসিন্ধু জয় ভক্তগণ । জয় স্বরূপ, গদাধর, রূপ, সনাতন ॥ ৩ ॥

jayādvaita kṛpā-sindhu jaya bhakta-gaṇa glory to Advaita of mercy the ocean glory to the devotees all jaya svarūpa, gadādhara, rūpa, sanātana
glory to Svarūpa Gadādhara Rūpa Sanātana

3 Glory to Advaita, the ocean of mercy! Glory to all the devotees! Glory to Svarūpa, Gadādhara, Rūpa and Sanātana!

The Lord's conversation with Pradyumna Miśra; Miśra humbly asks the Lord to let him hear about Kṛṣṇa —

একদিন প্রদ্যুম্ন-মিশ্র প্রভুর চরণে । দণ্ডবৎ করি' কিছু করে নিবেদনে ॥ ৪ ॥

ekadina pradyumna-miśra prabhura caraṇe
one day Pradyumna Miśra of the Lord at the feet
daṇḍavat kari' kichu kare nivedane
obeisance making something he makes submission

4 One day Pradyumna Miśra bowed down at the Lord's feet and humbly made a request.

শুন, প্রভু, মুঞি দীন গৃহস্থ অধম !
কোন ভাগ্যে পাঞাছোঁ তোমার দুর্ল্লভ চরণ ॥ ৫ ॥

śuna, prabhu, muñi dīna gṛhastha adhama!
hear O Lord I wretched householder lowly kona bhāgye pāñāchoṁ tomāra durlabha caraṇa
by what fortune I have obtained Your rare feet

5 "Hear me, O Lord: I am a wretched, lowly householder. By what fortune have I obtained Your feet, so rarely attained?

কৃষ্ণকথা শুনিবারে মোর ইচ্ছা হয় । কৃষ্ণকথা কহ মোরে হঞা সদয় ॥ ৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa-kathā śunibāre mora icchā haya about Kṛṣṇa talks to hear my desire is kṛṣṇa-kathā kaha more hañā sadaya
about Kṛṣṇa talks tell me becoming kind

6 I wish to hear talks about Kṛṣṇa. Be kind to me and tell me about Kṛṣṇa."

*Pretending to know nothing, the Lord tells Miśra, born in a family of brāhmaṇas by seed (śaukra), to go as a disciple eager to hear to Rāmānanda, the guru of all four varṇas and āśramas, who was not born in a family of brāhmaṇas by seed —*

প্রভু কহেন, — কৃষ্ণকথা আমি নাহি জানি । সবে রামানন্দ জানে, তাঁর মুখে শুনি ॥ ৭ ॥

prabhu kahena, — kṛṣṇa-kathā āmi nāhi jāni
the Lord says about Kṛṣṇa talks I not know sabe rāmānanda jāne, tāṁra mukhe śuni
only Rāmānanda knows his from the mouth I hear

7 The Lord said, “I know nothing of talks about Kṛṣṇa. Only Rāmānanda knows them, and I hear them from his lips.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Prabhu kahena: Mahāprabhu said.

Praise of the good fortune of one who wishes to hear about Kṛṣṇa —

ভাগ্যে তোমার কৃষ্ণকথা শুনিতে হয় মন । রামানন্দ-পাশ যাই’ করহ শ্রবণ ॥ ৮ ॥

bhāgye tomāra kṛṣṇa-kathā śunite haya mana
by fortune your about Kṛṣṇa talks to hear is the mind
rāmānanda-pāśa yāi’ karaha śravaṇa
to Rāmānanda going do hearing

8 It is your good fortune that your mind longs to hear about Kṛṣṇa. Go to Rāmānanda and hear from him.

The definition of one who is truly fortunate —

কৃষ্ণকথায় রুচি তোমার — বড় ভাগ্যবান্ । যার কৃষ্ণকথায় রুচি, সেই ভাগ্যবান্ ॥ ৯ ॥

kṛṣṇa-kathāya ruci tomāra — baḍa bhāgyavān
for talks about Kṛṣṇa taste your very fortunate yāra kṛṣṇa-kathāya ruci, sei bhāgyavān
whose for talks about Kṛṣṇa taste he fortunate

9 You have a taste for talks about Kṛṣṇa — you are greatly fortunate! Whoever has such a taste is truly fortunate.”

*Without rati for Kṛṣṇa — the bhakti that is the goal (sādhya-bhakti) — the practice of prescribed dharma is fruitless — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.2.8)*

ধর্ম্মঃ স্বনুষ্ঠিতঃ পুংসাং বিষ্বক্সেনকথাসু যঃ । নোৎপাদয়েদ্যদি রতিং শ্রম এব হি কেবলম্ ॥ ১০ ॥

dharmaḥ sv-anuṣṭhitaḥ puṁsāṁ
dharma well performed of people viṣvaksena-kathāsu yaḥ of Viṣvaksena for the narrations which notpādayed yadi ratiṁ
not awakens if attraction
śrama eva hi kevalam labor only certainly merely

10 “Dharma, however well a person performs it, is nothing but wasted labour if it does not awaken attraction (rati) to the narrations about the Lord, Viṣvaksena.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 1.2.8)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A person may perform the dharma of the varṇas and āśramas in the best way. But if it does not awaken in him attraction (rati) for talks about Kṛṣṇa, even that dharma is only wasted labor.

Anubhāṣya.
At the beginning of their hearing the Bhāgavatam from Śrī Sūta, the disciple of Śrī Śukadeva, Śaunaka and the other sages asked him six questions. The first was: “What is the absolute (aikāntika) highest good of man?” Answering it, Sūta explains that man's duty is to worship Adhokṣaja, and along the way he tells how prescribed dharma gains its purpose:

puṁsām (of people) yaḥ sv-anuṣṭhitaḥ (the dharma well performed — the observance of divine varṇāśrama and the like — even when it takes the form of sādhana-bhakti) yadi viṣvaksena-kathāsu (for the narrations about Viṣvaksena, Bhagavān, and about the bhāgavatas, that is, for the kīrtana of His name, form, qualities, pastimes and so on) ratim (taste) na utpādayet (does not awaken, then that svadharma) kevalam (entirely) hi (certainly) śramaḥ eva (wasted labor, fruitless: that dharma has not the slightest result; it is certainly useless — this is the meaning), for it is said: “If a man's work in this world does not lead to dharma, his dharma to detachment, and his detachment to the service of the feet of Him whose feet are holy places, then though he lives, he is dead.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 3.23.56)

Pradyumna Miśra goes to the house of Rāmānanda, who is absorbed in direct service to Śrī Rādhā-Govinda; Rāya's servant receives him —

তবে প্রদ্যুম্ন-মিশ্র গেলা রামানন্দের স্থানে । রায়ের সেবক তাঁরে বসাইল আসনে ॥ ১১ ॥

tabe pradyumna-miśra gelā rāmānandera sthāne
then Pradyumna Miśra went Rāmānanda’s to the place
rāyera sevaka tāṁre vasāila āsane
Rāya’s servant him seated on a seat

11 Then Pradyumna Miśra went to Rāmānanda’s house, and Rāya’s servant offered him a seat.

*At Miśra's question the servant tells what Rāya — a mahā-bhāgavata, a paramahaṁsa, an ātmārāma — is doing —*

রায়ের দর্শন না পাঞা সেবকে পুছিল । রায়ের বৃত্তান্ত সেবক কহিতে লাগিল ॥ ১২ ॥

rāyera darśana nā pāñā sevake puchila Rāya’s sight not getting the servant he asked rāyera vṛttānta sevaka kahite lāgila Rāya’s doings the servant to tell began

12 Not seeing Rāya, he asked the servant, who told him what Rāya was doing:

দুই দেব-কন্যা হয় পরম-সুন্দরী । নৃত্য-গীতে সুনিপুণা, বয়সে কিশোরী ॥ ১৩ ॥

dui deva-kanyā haya parama-sundarī
two maidens of the Deity there are supremely beautiful nṛtya-gīte sunipuṇā, vayase kiśorī
in dance and song very skilled in age in early youth

13 “There are two maidens of the Deity (deva-kanyās), supremely beautiful, very skilled in dance and song, and in the bloom of youth.

সেই দুঁহে লঞা রায় নিভৃত উদ্যানে । নিজ-নাটক-গীতের শিখায় নর্ত্তনে ॥ ১৪ ॥

sei duṁhe lañā rāya nibhṛta udyāne
those two taking Rāya in a secluded garden
nija-nāṭaka-gītera śikhāya nartane
of his own drama’s songs he teaches dancing

14 Rāya has taken them both to a secluded garden and is teaching them to dance to the songs of his own drama.

Anubhāṣya.
Nija-nāṭaka (his own play): the play Jagannātha-vallabha, which Śrī Rāmānanda Rāya wrote in Sanskrit.

Miśra is asked to sit for a while —

তুমি ইঁহা বসি' রহ, ক্ষণেকে আসিবেন । তাঁরে যেই আজ্ঞা দেহ', সেই করিবেন ॥ ১৫ ॥ tumi iṁhā vasi' raha, kṣaṇeke āsibena

you here sitting stay in a moment he will come tāṁre yei ājñā deha', sei karibena
to him whatever order you give that he will do

15 Please sit here and wait; he will come shortly. Whatever you ask of him, he will do."

Miśra waits —

তবে প্রদ্যুম্ন-মিশ্র তাঁহা রহিল বসিয়া । রামানন্দ নিভৃতে সেই দুই-জন লঞা ॥ ১৬ ॥

tabe pradyumna-miśra tāṁhā rahila vasiyā
then Pradyumna Miśra there remained sitting rāmānanda nibhṛte sei dui-jana lañā Rāmānanda in seclusion those two taking

16 So Pradyumna Miśra stayed there, waiting, while Rāmānanda, in a secluded place, attended to the two maidens.

*The ātmārāma Rāmānanda serves Śrī Rādhā directly; that service is spiritual —*

স্বহস্তে করেন তার অভ্যঙ্গ-মর্দ্দন । স্বহস্তে করান স্নান, গাত্র সংমার্জ্জন ॥ ১৭ ॥

sva-haste karena tāra abhyaṅga-mardana
with his own hands he does their anointing with oil
sva-haste karāna snāna, gātra saṁmārjana
with his own hands he gives a bath the body cleansing

17 With his own hands he anointed them with oil; with his own hands he bathed them and cleansed their bodies.

Anubhāṣya.
Abhyaṅga-mardana: anointing with oil.

স্বহস্তে পরান বস্ত্র, সর্ব্বাঙ্গ মণ্ডন ।
তবু নির্ব্বিকার রায়-রামানন্দের মন ॥ ১৮ ॥

sva-haste parāna vastra, sarvāṅga maṇḍana
with his own hands he puts on clothes every limb adorning
tabu nirvikāra rāya-rāmānandera mana
yet unmoved of Rāya Rāmānanda the mind

18 With his own hands he dressed them and adorned every limb, and yet the mind of Rāya Rāmānanda remained unmoved.

Anubhāṣya.
Maṇḍana: adorning with ornaments and the like. Nirvikāra: Rāmānanda Prabhu sees Śrī Rādhā-Kṛṣṇa, who are beyond the senses (adhokṣaja), everywhere (see Madhya 8.273, 274 and 276); he is the crest-jewel of the paramahaṁsas and the guru even of the vidvat-sannyāsīs. He did not behave like worldly men who think themselves male enjoyers: on seeing women and the like, he did not turn to material enjoyment for the gratification of his own senses, nor did he fall prey to agitation of body or mind.

*The nature of Śrī Rāmānanda Gosvāmī, the crest-jewel of the vidvat-sannyāsīs, detached from material enjoyment, who has conquered the six urges (vega) —*

কাষ্ঠ-পাষাণ-স্পর্শে হয় যৈছে ভাব । তরুণী-স্পর্শে রামানন্দের তৈছে ‘স্বভাব’ ॥ ১৯ ॥

kāṣṭha-pāṣāṇa-sparśe haya yaiche bhāva
wood and stone at touching there is as feeling taruṇī-sparśe rāmānandera taiche ‘svabhāva’
a young woman at touching Rāmānanda’s so nature

19 What one feels on touching wood or stone, Rāmānanda by nature feels on touching a young woman.

*In his transcendental perfected body (siddha-deha), full of spiritual bliss, the mahā-bhāgavata Rāya, following rāgātmikā-bhakti in the mood of a gopī, serves his mistress, Śrī Rādhā, in her transcendental spiritual pastimes —*

সেব্য-বুদ্ধি আরোপিয়া করেন সেবন । স্বাভাবিক দাসীভাব করেন আরোপণ ॥ ২০ ॥

sevya-buddhi āropiyā karena sevana
the sense of the one to be served attributing he does service svābhāvika dāsī-bhāva karena āropaṇa natural maidservant’s mood he does taking upon himself

20 Seeing in them the ones to be served (sevya-buddhi), he served them, assuming, as was natural to him, the mood of a maidservant.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Rāya Rāmānanda had composed a play called Jagannātha-vallabha. To stage it before Śrī Jagannāthadeva, he brought two deva-kanyās, that is, young devadāsīs (today they are called māhārīs), and was teaching them the mood of the gopīs that the play requires. These two girls were to act the pastimes of the chief gopīs. So he regarded them as the chief gopīs, the ones to be served (sevya-buddhi), took for himself the mood of a maidservant following them, and taught them the songs and other service for the coming performance. Śrī Rāmānanda knew himself to be Śrīmatī's maidservant. Seeing in the actresses of Śrīmatī's role the one he serves, he cared for their bodies, adorned them and so on.

*The glory of Gaura's devotees is inconceivable; among them, in Śrī Rāya, bhāva, prema and bhakti reach their limit —*

মহাপ্রভুর ভক্তগণের দুর্গম মহিমা । তাহে রামানন্দের ভাবভক্তি-প্রেম-সীমা ॥ ২১ ॥

mahāprabhura bhakta-gaṇera durgama mahimā of Mahāprabhu of the devotees unfathomable glory
tāhe rāmānandera bhāva-bhakti-prema-sīmā
among them Rāmānanda’s of bhāva, bhakti and prema the limit

21 The glory of Mahāprabhu’s devotees is unfathomable, and in Rāmānanda bhāva, bhakti and prema reach their utmost limit.

*To stage his play Jagannātha-vallabha before Śrī Jagannātha, Rāya teaches acting in the Jagannātha-vallabha garden —*

তবে সেই দুইজনে নৃত্য শিখাইলা । গীতের গূঢ় অর্থ অভিনয় করাইলা ॥ ২২ ॥

tabe sei dui-jane nṛtya śikhāilā
then those two dance he taught gītera gūḍha artha abhinaya karāilā
of the songs hidden meaning acting he made them do

22 Then he taught the two to dance and had them act out the hidden meaning of the songs.

Anubhāṣya.
He taught how, through the actress (naṭī), to reveal well before the connoisseur of the transcendental rasa of Vraja the deep feelings contained in the songs of the play.

সঞ্চারী, সাত্ত্বিক, স্থায়ি-ভাবের লক্ষণ । মুখে-নেত্রে অভিনয় করে প্রকটন ॥ ২৩ ॥

sañcārī, sāttvika, sthāyi-bhāvera lakṣaṇa
transitory sāttvika of the abiding emotions the signs mukhe-netre abhinaya kare prakaṭana
in face and eyes acting they make manifest

23 By acting with face and eyes, they brought out the signs of the transitory (sañcārī), the sāttvika and the abiding (sthāyi) feelings.

ভাবপ্রকটন-লাস্য রায় যে শিখায় । জগন্নাথের আগে দুঁহে প্রকট দেখায় ॥ ২৪ ॥

bhāva-prakaṭana-lāsya rāya ye śikhāya bhāva-revealing graceful dance Rāya which teaches jagannāthera āge duṁhe prakaṭa dekhāya
of Jagannātha before the two openly show

24 Rāya taught them the graceful feminine dance (lāsya) that reveals bhāva, and the two would display it openly before Jagannātha.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhāva-prakaṭana-lāsya: a woman's dance that reveals bhāva.

*After feeding the two devadāsīs, Rāya sends them home secretly, for the good of ignorant critics who see only with the senses —*

তবে সেই দুইজনে প্রসাদ খাওয়াইলা । নিভৃতে দুঁহারে নিজ-ঘরে পাঠাইলা ॥ ২৫ ॥

tabe sei dui-jane prasāda khāoyāilā
then those two prasāda he fed nibhṛte duṁhāre nija-ghare pāṭhāilā quietly both to their own home he sent

25 Then he gave the two prasāda to eat and quietly sent them home.

*The mahā-bhāgavata Rāya's service to his mistress in his perfected body is beyond the sense-born knowledge of living beings who follow the path of logic —*

প্রতিদিন রায় ঐছে করায় সাধন । কোন্ জানে ক্ষুদ্র জীব কাঁহা তাঁর মন ? ॥ ২৬ ॥

prati-dina rāya aiche karāya sādhana
every day Rāya thus makes them do practice kon jāne kṣudra jīva kāṁhā tāṁra mana?
who knows petty living being where his mind

26 Every day Rāya trained them in this way. What petty soul can know where his mind dwells?

Anubhāṣya.
Every day he teaches the devadāsīs such transcendental acting. Petty people — worldly, absorbed in sense objects, busy gratifying the senses — cannot, with a mind that craves to enjoy insentient matter (acit), grasp the unearthly, transcendental realm of Prabhu Rāmānanda's mind: that mind is made of pure goodness (śuddha-sattva) and is engaged in serving Kṛṣṇa.

*Hearing from his servant that Miśra has come, Rāya, who gives honor to others (mānada), comes to the assembly hall —*

মিশ্রের আগমন রায়ে সেবক কহিলা । শীঘ্র রামানন্দ তবে সভাতে আইলা ॥ ২৭ ॥

miśrera āgamana rāye sevaka kahilā Miśra's arrival to Rāya the servant told śīghra rāmānanda tabe sabhāte āilā quickly Rāmānanda then to the hall came

27 The servant told Rāya that Miśra had come, and Rāmānanda at once came to the hall.

*Rāya, free of pride (amānī) and giving honor to others, greets Miśra fittingly and expresses his humility —*

মিশ্রেরে নমস্কার করে সম্মান করিয়া । নিবেদন করে কিছু বিনীত হঞা ॥ ২৮ ॥

miśrere namaskāra kare sammāna kariyā to Miśra obeisance he makes respect showing nivedana kare kichu vinīta haña submission he makes something humble becoming

28 Showing him respect, he bowed to Miśra and humbly said:

বহুক্ষণ আইলা, মোরে কেহ না কহিল । তোমার চরণে মোর অপরাধ হইল ॥ ২৯ ॥

bahu-kṣaṇa āilā, more keha nā kahila long ago you came me anyone not told tomāra caraṇe mora aparādha haila
at your feet my offense has been 29 "You have been here a long while, and no one told me. I have committed an offence at your feet.

তোমার আগমনে মোর পবিত্র হৈল ঘর । আজ্ঞা কর, ক্যা করোঁ তোমার কিঙ্কর ॥ ৩০ ॥

tomāra āgamane mora pavitra haila ghara
by your coming my pure became home
ājñā kara, kyā karoṁ tomāra kiṅkara order do what shall I do your servant

30 Your coming has purified my home. Command me — what shall I, your servant, do?"

Miśra answers humbly —

মিশ্র কহে, — তোমা দেখিতে হৈল আগমনে । আপনা পবিত্র কৈলুঁ তোমার দরশনে ॥ ৩১ ॥

miśra kahe, — tomā dekhite haila āgamane Miśra says you to see there was coming āpanā pavitra kailuṁ tomāra daraśane myself pure I made by your sight

31 Miśra said, “I came to see you, and by seeing you I have purified myself.”

Seeing that the time is unsuitable, Miśra returns home that day —

অতিকাল দেখি’ মিশ্র কিছু না কহিল । বিদায় হইয়া মিশ্র নিজঘর গেল ॥ ৩২ ॥

atikāla dekhi’ miśra kichu nā kahila
the late hour seeing Miśra anything not said
vidāya haiyā miśra nijaghara gela leave taking Miśra to his home went 32 Seeing that it was too late, Miśra said nothing more; he took his leave and went home.

Anubhāṣya.
Atikāla: the time for conversation had passed; that is, if they began to talk at the wrong time, it would be inconvenient for both.

The next day the Lord asks Miśra whether he has heard about Kṛṣṇa from Rāya —

আর দিন মিশ্র আইল প্রভু-বিদ্যমানে । প্রভু কহে, — কৃষ্ণকথা শুনিলা রায়স্থানে ? ॥ ৩৩ ॥

āra dina miśra āila prabhu-vidyamāne
the next day Miśra came into the Lord’s presence
prabhu kahe, — kṛṣṇa-kathā śunilā rāyasthāne?
the Lord says about Kṛṣṇa talks did you hear from Rāya

33 The next day Miśra came before the Lord, and the Lord asked, “Did you hear about Kṛṣṇa from Rāya?”

Miśra tells the Lord about Śrī Rāya —

তবে মিশ্র রামানন্দের বৃত্তান্ত কহিলা । শুনি’ মহাপ্রভু তবে কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৩৪ ॥

tabe miśra rāmānandera vṛttānta kahilā
then Miśra Rāmānanda’s doings told śuni’ mahāprabhu tabe kahite lāgilā hearing Mahāprabhu then to speak began

34 Then Miśra told Him what Rāmānanda had been doing, and when Mahāprabhu heard it, He began to speak.

*Bhagavān, the model teacher of the dharma of freedom from pride, humbly glorifies His devotee's love for Kṛṣṇa as greater than His own —*

আমি ত’ সন্ন্যাসী, আপনারে বিরক্ত করি’ মানি । দর্শন রহু দূরে, ‘প্রকৃতি’র নাম যদি শুনি ॥ ৩৫ ॥

তবহিঁ বিকার পায় মোর তনু-মন । প্রকৃতি-দর্শনে স্থির হয় কোন্ জন ? ॥ ৩৬ ॥

āmi ta' sannyāsī, āpanāre virakta kari' māni
I indeed a sannyāsī Myself detached as I consider darśana rahu dūre, 'prakṛti'ra nāma yadi śuni seeing let it remain far of a woman the name if I hear tabahiṁ vikāra pāya mora tanu-mana even then agitation gets My body and mind
prakṛti-darśane sthira haya kon jana?
a woman on seeing steady is what person

35–36 "I am a sannyāsī and consider Myself detached; yet, to say nothing of seeing a woman, if I merely hear a woman's name, My body and mind are disturbed. Who can remain steady on seeing a woman?

Anubhāṣya.
Prakṛti: a yoṣit, that is, a woman, an object of enjoyment for a man.

*The character of Śrī Rāmānanda Gosvāmī — free from craving for sense pleasure and from any inclination to look at women, the detached crest-jewel of the vidvat-sannyāsīs, who sees Adhokṣaja, a mahā-bhāgavata, an *ātmārāma

—

রামানন্দ-রায়ের কথা শুন, সর্ব্বজন । কহিবার নহে, যাহা আশ্চর্য্য-কথন ॥ ৩৭ ॥

rāmānanda-rāyera kathā śuna, sarva-jana of Rāmānanda Rāya the account hear all people
kahibāra nahe, yāhā āścarya-kathana
to be told it is not which a wondrous account

37 Hear, all of you, about Rāmānanda Rāya — an account so wondrous that it can hardly be told.

একে দেবদাসী, আর সুন্দরী তরুণী । তাহাদের সব সেবা করেন আপনি ॥ ৩৮ ॥

eke deva-dāsī, āra sundarī taruṇī
first devadāsīs and beautiful young women tāhādera saba sevā karena āpani
for them all service he does himself

38 First, they are devadāsīs, maidservants of the Deity, and moreover they are beautiful young women; yet he himself performs every service for them.[1]

Anubhāṣya.
Saba sevā: every kind of service (see verse 39).

স্নানাদি করায়, পরায় বাস-বিভূষণ । গুহ্য অঙ্গ যত, তার দর্শন-স্পর্শন ॥ ৩৯ ॥

snānādi karāya, parāya vāsa-vibhūṣaṇa bathing and so on he has them do he puts on clothes and ornaments
guhya aṅga yata, tāra darśana-sparśana
private parts all of them seeing and touching

39 He bathes them and dresses them in clothes and ornaments, and he sees and touches all the hidden parts of their bodies.

তবু নির্ব্বিকার রায়-রামানন্দের মন ।
নানাভাবোদ্গম তারে করায় শিক্ষণ ॥ ৪০ ॥

tabu nirvikāra rāya-rāmānandera mana
yet unmoved of Rāya Rāmānanda the mind
nānābhāvodgama tāre karāya śikṣaṇa
the rising of various bhāvas them he makes learn

40 Yet the mind of Rāya Rāmānanda remains unmoved as he teaches them to express the stirrings of many different bhāvas.

Anubhāṣya.
Nānābhāvodgama: the display of the thirty-three kinds of bhāva needed to enact Kṛṣṇa's pastimes.

নির্ব্বিকার দেহ-মন — কাষ্ঠ-পাষাণ সম !
আশ্চর্য্য, — তরুণী-স্পর্শে নির্ব্বিকার মন ! ॥ ৪১ ॥

nirvikāra deha-mana — kāṣṭha-pāṣāṇa sama!
unmoved body and mind wood and stone like āścarya, — taruṇī-sparśe nirvikāra mana!
wonderful a young woman at touching unmoved mind

41 His body and mind are unmoved, like wood or stone. How wonderful — at the touch of a young woman his mind is unmoved!

Anubhāṣya.
Dry wood is insentient and does not grow; hard stone does not melt. Just so, Rāmānanda's body and mind underwent no change.

*From the effect one infers the cause: a spiritual entity made of pure goodness (śuddha-sattva) is beyond the guṇas and untouched by the worldly guṇas; therefore Rāmānanda has a transcendental body of spirit and bliss —*

এক রামানন্দের হয় এই অধিকার । তাতে জানি অপ্রাকৃত-দেহ তাঁহার ॥ ৪২ ॥

eka rāmānandera haya ei adhikāra alone of Rāmānanda is this qualification
tāte jāni aprākṛta-deha tāṁhāra from that I know transcendental body his 42 Rāmānanda alone has this qualification; from it I know that his body is transcendental.

*The workings of a devotee's heart are beyond the senses (adhokṣaja); they transcend sense-born knowledge —*

তাঁহার মনের ভাব তেঁহ জানে মাত্র । তাহা জানিবারে আর দ্বিতীয় নাহি পাত্র ॥ ৪৩ ॥

tāṁhāra manera bhāva teṁha jāne mātra
his mind's state he knows only tāhā jānibāre āra dvitīya nāhi pātra
that to know other second there is not fit person

43 Only he knows the state of his mind; there is no one else fit to know it.

*Inference has meaning only when it follows the Śrī Bhāgavatam, the spotless evidence of the word (śabda- pramāṇa); the conclusion that shows the cause of the transcendental workings of Śrī Rāya's heart —*

কিন্তু শাস্ত্রদৃষ্ট্যে করি এক অনুমান । শ্রীভাগবত-শাস্ত্র — তাহাতে প্রমাণ ॥ ৪৪ ॥

kintu śāstra-dṛṣṭye kari eka anumāna
but in the light of scripture I make one inference śrī-bhāgavata-śāstra — tāhāte pramāṇa
the Śrī Bhāgavata scripture of that the evidence

44 But in the light of scripture I draw one inference. The Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam bears witness to this.[2]

*One who follows rāgānugā-bhakti with transcendental faith attains perfection (siddhi), that is, becomes a gosvāmī, by hearing and chanting Kṛṣṇa's pastimes —*

ব্রজবধূ-সঙ্গে কৃষ্ণের রাসাদি-বিলাস ।
যেই জন কহে, শুনে করিয়া বিশ্বাস ॥ ৪৫ ॥

হৃদ্রোগ-কাম তাঁর তৎকালে হয় ক্ষয় । তিনগুণ-ক্ষোভ নহে, 'মহাধীর' হয় ॥ ৪৬ ॥

vraja-vadhū-saṅge kṛṣṇera rāsādi-vilāsa with the young women of Vraja Kṛṣṇa's the rāsa and other pastimes
yei jana kahe, śune kariyā viśvāsa which person tells hears having faith
hṛd-roga-kāma tāṁra tat-kāle haya kṣaya
the heart's disease, lust his at once is destroyed
tina-guṇa-kṣobha nahe, 'mahā-dhīra' haya of the three guṇas agitation is not very steady he becomes

45–46 When a person, with faith, hears and tells of Kṛṣṇa's rāsa dance and His other pastimes with the young women of Vraja, his lust, the disease of the heart, is destroyed at once. The three guṇas no longer agitate him, and he becomes perfectly steady (mahā-dhīra).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Tina guṇa (the three guṇas): sattva, rajas and tamas. The agitation of these three guṇas gives rise to the desire for union between man and woman, but in him no such desire arises.

Anubhāṣya.

Whoever, with faith and with a transcendental heart, describes or hears Kṛṣṇa's transcendental sweet pastimes — the rāsa and the rest — as the Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam describes them, his worldly lust born of the mind (manasija) is completely destroyed. The speaker or hearer of Kṛṣṇa's transcendental pastimes feels his own existence in the transcendental realm, and so the three guṇas of nature cannot overcome him. Toward matter he is wholly beyond the guṇas (nirguṇa): his mind is unshakable, and he is able to understand his own qualification (nija-adhikāra) for serving Kṛṣṇa.

Let no one, like the prākṛta-sahajiyās, think in this connection: "A jīva greedy for worldly lust need not gain knowledge of sambandha. Keeping a worldly mind, he may live in his own realm of enjoyment, give up sādhana-bhakti, and regard Kṛṣṇa's transcendental play, His pastimes — the rāsa and the rest — as a model of worldly enjoyment like his own. If he simply hears and chants about them, his material lust will be destroyed." It is precisely to forbid this that Mahāprabhu, by the word viśvāsa (faith), dispelled the worldly mentality of the prākṛta-sahajiyās. Śrī Śuka also said: "One who is not a controller (anīśvara) must never do this, even in his mind. Whoever does it out of folly perishes, as one who is not Rudra would perish by drinking the poison born of the ocean." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.33.30)

Hearing and chanting Kṛṣṇa's pastimes swells the ocean of the bliss of love for Kṛṣṇa —

উজ্জ্বল মধুর-রস প্রেমভক্তি পায় । আনন্দে কৃষ্ণমাধুর্য্যে বিহরে সদায় ॥ ৪৭ ॥

ujjvala madhura-rasa prema-bhakti pāya
radiant of madhura-rasa prema-bhakti he attains ānande kṛṣṇa-mādhurye vihare sadāya
in bliss in Kṛṣṇa's sweetness he sports always

47 He attains prema-bhakti in the radiant madhura-rasa, and in bliss he ever revels in Kṛṣṇa's sweetness.

*The evidence of the scripture Bhāgavatam — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.33.39)*

বিক্রীড়িতং ব্রজবধূভিরিদঞ্চ বিষ্ণোঃ শ্রদ্ধান্বিতোঽনুশৃণুয়াদথ বর্ণয়েদ্ যঃ ৷
ভক্তিং পরাং ভগবতি প্রতিলভ্য কামং হৃদ্রোগমাশ্বপহিনোত্যচিরেণ ধীরঃ ॥ ৪৮ ॥

vikrīḍitaṁ vraja-vadhūbhir idaṁ ca viṣṇoḥ
the play with the young women of Vraja this and of Viṣṇu
śraddhānvito 'nuśṛṇuyād atha varṇayed yaḥ endowed with faith constantly hears then describes who bhaktiṁ parāṁ bhagavati pratilabhya kāmaṁ devotion supreme for the Lord having attained lust
hṛd-rogam āśv apahinoty acireṇa dhīraḥ
the heart's disease quickly casts off soon steadfast

48 "The steadfast soul who, endowed with faith, constantly hears of this play of Viṣṇu with the young women of Vraja and then describes it, soon attains supreme devotion to the Lord and quickly casts off lust, the disease of the heart." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.33.39)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Whoever, filled with transcendental faith, hears or describes Kṛṣṇa's transcendental play with the young women of Vraja in these "Five Chapters on the Rāsa" (rāsa-pañcādhyāyī) — that steady person (dhīra) gains abundant supreme devotion (parā-bhakti) for Bhagavān and quickly drives away material lust, the disease of the heart. The point is this: all of Kṛṣṇa's pastimes are "spiritual" (cinmaya). The fully spiritual Kṛṣṇa, beyond the senses (adhokṣaja), plays with the spiritual gopīs. When one discusses these pastimes with faith, that is, striving to realize the spiritual truth, then, as spiritual love awakens, attachment to matter, material lust and the rest depart. And when the wholly spiritual pastimes have fully appeared, not a trace of material lust remains.

Anubhāṣya.

yaḥ pumān (a person) śraddhānvitaḥ (endowed with faith, that is, with a transcendental firm conviction; eager to serve) vraja-vadhūbhiḥ (with the gopīs) viṣṇoḥ (of the son of Nanda, the supreme Lord) idam (described earlier, in the "Five Chapters on the Rāsa") ca vikrīḍitam (the special play called the rāsa) anuśṛṇuyāt (anu, constantly; let him hear from the lips of the guru, with no worldly barrier) atha (then) varṇayet (by the path of the rūpānugas, step by step, performs saṅkīrtana of Kṛṣṇa's name, form, qualities, pastimes and so on), saḥ dhīraḥ (the unshakable rāgānuga gosvāmī, who has conquered the six urges) acireṇa bhagavati (for Kṛṣṇa) parāṁ bhaktim (the highest prema-bhakti) pratilabhya (having attained) hṛd-rogam (the affliction of the mind, lust born of the mind) āśu (quickly) apahinoti (drives away).

*By constantly cultivating Kṛṣṇa's pastimes, the rāgānuga devotee attains perfection in his own true nature (svarūpa-siddhi) and a body of spirit and bliss —*

যে শুনে, যে পড়ে, তাঁর ফল এতাদৃশী ৷ সেই ভাবাবিষ্ট, যেই সেবে অহর্নিশি ॥ ৪৯ ॥

ye śune, ye paḍe, tāṁra phala etādṛśī who hears who reads his fruit is such sei bhāvāviṣṭa, yei seve ahar-niśi
he absorbed in bhāva who serves day and night

49 Such is the fruit for whoever hears or reads of these pastimes. But as for one who, absorbed in bhāva, serves day and night —

তাঁর ফল কি কহিমু, কহনে না যায় ৷ নিত্যসিদ্ধ সেই, প্রায়-সিদ্ধ তাঁর কায় ॥ ৫০ ॥

tāṁra phala ki kahimu, kahane nā yāya
his fruit what shall I tell in words not it goes nitya-siddha sei, prāya-siddha tāṁra kāya
eternally perfect he almost perfect his body

50 what can I say of his fruit? It cannot be put into words. He is eternally perfect (nitya-siddha), and his body is almost perfect (prāya-siddha).

Anubhāṣya.

Whoever hears of and chants Śrī Kṛṣṇa's transcendental play — the rāsa and the rest — and, following Śrī Rūpa's transcendental mood, constantly serves Kṛṣṇa in his mind, absorbed in pure, unfeigned rāga, attains a matchless fruit that worldly language cannot describe. He is an eternally perfect associate (nitya-siddha pārṣada). Or else his body is almost perfect (siddha-prāya)[0]: though it is visible to people's eyes, in it, as he attains svarūpa-siddhi, dwell the feelings devoted to Kṛṣṇa's service, and so all his activities are transcendental. Until, by Kṛṣṇa's will, he attains vastu-siddhi, his body is almost perfect and transcendental.

*Śrī Rāya, eternally perfect (nitya-siddha), follows rāgātmikā-bhakti —*

রাগানুগ-মার্গে জানি রায়ের ভজন ৷ সিদ্ধদেহ-তুল্য, তাতে ‘প্রাকৃত’ নহে মন ॥ ৫১ ॥

rāgānuga-mārge jāni rāyera bhajana
on the rāgānuga path I know Rāya’s worship
siddha-deha-tulya, tāte ‘prākṛta’ nahe mana to a perfected body equal therefore mundane is not the mind

51 I know that Rāya’s worship follows the path of rāgānuga. His body is like a perfected spiritual body (siddha-deha), and so his mind is not mundane.

The mark of a guru is knowledge of the truth about Kṛṣṇa, wholly directed to pleasing Kṛṣṇa's senses, not nobility of seed and the like —

আমিহ রায়ের স্থানে শুনি কৃষ্ণকথা ৷ শুনিতে ইচ্ছা হয় যদি, পুনঃ যাহ’ তথা ॥ ৫২ ॥

āmiha rāyera sthāne śuni kṛṣṇa-kathā
I too Rāya’s at the place hear talks about Kṛṣṇa
śunite icchā haya yadi, punaḥ yāha’ tathā
to hear desire is if again go there

52 I too hear about Kṛṣṇa from Rāya. If you wish to hear, go there again.

The Lord sends Miśra again to Rāya to become his disciple —

মোর নামে কহিহ, — তেঁহো পাঠাইলা মোরে ৷
তোমার স্থানে কৃষ্ণকথা শুনিবার তরে ॥ ৫৩ ॥

mora nāme kahiha, — teṁho pāṭhāilā more in My name say He sent me
tomāra sthāne kṛṣṇa-kathā śunibāra tare
your at the place talks about Kṛṣṇa to hear in order

53 Tell him in My name: ‘He has sent me to hear about Kṛṣṇa from you.’

শীঘ্র যাহ’, যাবৎ তেঁহো আছেন সভাতে । এত শুনি’ প্রদ্যুম্ন-মিশ্র চলিলা ত্বরিতে ॥ ৫৪ ॥

śīghra yāha’, yāvat temho āchena sabhāte quickly go while he is in the hall
eta śuni’ pradyumna-miśra calilā tvarite
this hearing Pradyumna Miśra went in haste

54 Go quickly, while he is still in the hall.” Hearing this, Pradyumna Miśra set off in haste.

Miśra goes to Rāya's house; Rāya, free of pride and giving honor to others, greets Miśra —

রায়-পাশ গেল, রায় প্রণতি করিল । আজ্ঞা কর, যে লাগি’ আগমন হৈল ॥ ৫৫ ॥

rāya-pāśa gela, rāya praṇati karila to Rāya he went Rāya obeisance made ājñā kara, ye lāgi’ āgamana haila order do what for coming has been

55 He went to Rāya, and Rāya bowed to him and said, “Command me; tell me why you have come.”

Miśra says that the Lord has sent him —

মিশ্র কহে, — মহাপ্রভু পাঠাইলা মোরে ।
তোমার স্থানে কৃষ্ণকথা শুনিবার তরে ॥ ৫৬ ॥

miśra kahe, — mahāprabhu pāṭhāilā more Miśra says Mahāprabhu sent me
tomāra sthāne kṛṣṇa-kathā śunibāra tare
your at the place talks about Kṛṣṇa to hear in order

56 Miśra said, “Mahāprabhu has sent me to hear about Kṛṣṇa from you.”

Rāya's joy —

শুনি’ রামানন্দ মনে হইলা সন্তোষে । কহিতে লাগিলা কিছু মনের হরিষে ॥ ৫৭ ॥

śuni’ rāmānanda mane hailā santoṣe hearing Rāmānanda in mind became pleased kahite lāgilā kichu manera hariṣe
to speak began something of the mind in joy

57 Hearing this, Rāmānanda was pleased, and with joy in his heart he began to speak:

Hearing the Lord's order, Rāya speaks of his good fortune —

প্রভুর আজ্ঞায় কৃষ্ণকথা শুনিতে আইলা এথা । ইহা বই মহাভাগ্য আমি পাব কোথা ? ॥ ৫৮ ॥

prabhura ājñāya kṛṣṇa-kathā śunite āilā ethā of the Lord by the order talks about Kṛṣṇa to hear you came here
ihā vai mahābhāgya āmi pāba kothā?
this besides great fortune I shall find where

58 “By the Lord’s order you have come here to hear about Kṛṣṇa. Where else could I find such great fortune?”

In private Rāya asks Miśra —

এত কহি’ তারে লঞা নিভৃতে বসিলা । কি কথা শুনিতে চাহ? মিশ্রেরে পুছিলা ॥ ৫৯ ॥

eta kahi’ tāre lañā nibhṛte vasilā
this saying him taking in seclusion he sat ki kathā śunite cāha? miśrere puchilā what topic to hear do you want Miśra he asked

59 Saying this, he took him to a secluded place, sat down with him and asked Miśra, “What would you like to hear?”

*Miśra asks Rāya to speak again about Kṛṣṇa — of sambandha, abhidheya and prayojana — as Rāya had spoken before with the Lord —*

তেঁহো কহে, — যে কহিলা বিদ্যানগরে । সেই কথা ক্রমে তুমি কহিবা আমারে ॥ ৬০ ॥

teṁho kahe, — ye kahilā vidyānagare
he says what you told in Vidyānagara sei kathā krame tumi kahibā āmāre
those topics in order you please tell me

60 He said, “Please tell me, in order, all that you spoke of in Vidyānagara.

Miśra's humble words —

আনের কি কথা, তুমি — প্রভুর উপদেষ্টা !
আমি ত’ ভিক্ষুক বিপ্র, তুমি — মোর পোষ্টা ॥ ৬১ ॥

ānera ki kathā, tumi — prabhura upadeṣṭā!
of others what talk you of the Lord the instructor
āmi ta’ bhikṣuka vipra, tumi — mora poṣṭā
I indeed a mendicant brāhmaṇa you my sustainer

61 You are the instructor not only of others but of the Lord Himself! I am a poor mendicant brāhmaṇa, and you are my sustainer.

ভাল, মন্দ — কিছু আমি পুছিতে না জানি । ‘দীন’ দেখি’ কৃপা করি’ কহিবা আপনি ॥ ৬২ ॥

bhāla, manda — kichu āmi puchite nā jāni
good bad anything I to ask not know ‘dīna’ dekhi’ kṛpā kari’ kahibā āpani
wretched seeing mercy showing please tell yourself

62 I do not know how to ask anything, good or bad. Seeing how wretched I am, be merciful and tell me of your own accord.”

Śrī Rāmānanda speaks about Kṛṣṇa —

তবে রামানন্দ ক্রমে কহিতে লাগিলা । কৃষ্ণকথা-রসামৃত-সিন্ধু উথলিলা ॥ ৬৩ ॥

tabe rāmānanda krame kahite lāgilā
then Rāmānanda in order to speak began kṛṣṇa-kathā-rasāmṛta-sindhu uthalilā
the ocean of the nectar of rasa in talks about Kṛṣṇa surged

63 Then Rāmānanda began to speak of Kṛṣṇa in due order, and in his words the nectar-ocean of rasa surged up.

*Understanding the disciple's level (adhikāra), Rāya himself asks the questions and himself answers them —*

আপনে প্রশ্ন করি' পাছে করেন সিদ্ধান্ত । তৃতীয় প্রহর হৈল, নহে কথা-অন্ত ॥ ৬৪ ॥

āpane praśna kari' pāche karena siddhānta
himself question raising afterward he makes conclusion
tṛtīya prahara haila, nahe kathā-anta
the third prahara came there is not of the talk end

64 He himself raised the questions and then gave the conclusive answers (siddhānta). The third watch (prahara) of the day came, and still the talk did not end.

Both forget themselves in talk about Kṛṣṇa —

বক্তা শ্রোতা কহে শুনে দুঁহে প্রেমাবেশে । আত্মস্মৃতি নাহি, কাঁহা জানে দিন শেষে ॥ ৬৫ ॥

vaktā śrotā kahe śune duṁhe premāveśe
the speaker the listener speaks hears both in the absorption of prema ātmasmṛti nāhi, kāṁhā jāne dina śeṣe
self-awareness there is not how they know of the day the end

65 Speaker and listener, one speaking and the other hearing, were both absorbed in prema. They had no awareness of themselves — how could they know the day had ended?

The day passes in talk about Kṛṣṇa —

সেবক কহিল, — 'দিন হৈল অবসান' । তবে রায় কৃষ্ণকথার করিলা বিশ্রাম ॥ ৬৬ ॥

sevaka kahila, — 'dina haila avasāna'
the servant said the day has come to an end
tabe rāya kṛṣṇakathāra karilā viśrāma
then Rāya to the talk about Kṛṣṇa made a pause

66 When the servant said, "The day is over," Rāya brought his talk of Kṛṣṇa to a close.

Rāya bids Miśra farewell; Miśra's joy —

বহুসম্মান করি' মিশ্রে বিদায় দিলা । কৃতার্থ হইলাঙ বলি' মিশ্র নাচিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৬৭ ॥

bahu-sammāna kari' miśre vidāya dilā great respect showing to Miśra leave he gave kṛtārtha hailāṅa bali' miśra nācite lāgilā fulfilled I have become saying Miśra to dance began

67 With great respect he bade Miśra farewell, and Miśra, crying, "My life is fulfilled!" began to dance.

In the evening Miśra comes to the Lord —

ঘরে গিয়া মিশ্র কৈল স্নান, ভোজন । সন্ধ্যাকালে দেখিতে আইল প্রভুর চরণ ॥ ৬৮ ॥

ghare giyā miśra kaila snāna, bhojana home going Miśra did bathing eating sandhyākāle dekhite āila prabhura caraṇa
in the evening to see he came of the Lord the feet

68 Miśra went home, bathed and took his meal, and in the evening he came to see the Lord.

The Lord asks Miśra whether he has heard about Kṛṣṇa —

প্রভুর চরণ বন্দে উল্লসিত-মনে । প্রভু কহে, — কৃষ্ণকথা হইল শ্রবণে ? ॥ ৬৯ ॥

prabhura caraṇa vande ullasita-mane
the Lord's feet he worships with a joyful mind
prabhu kahe, — kṛṣṇa-kathā haila śravaṇe?
the Lord says talks about Kṛṣṇa was there hearing

69 With a joyful heart he bowed at the Lord's feet, and the Lord asked, "Did you hear about Kṛṣṇa?"

Miśra says that his life's purpose is fulfilled —

মিশ্র কহে, — প্রভু, মোরে কৃতার্থ করিলা । কৃষ্ণকথামৃতার্ণবে মোরে ডুবাইলা ॥ ৭০ ॥

miśra kahe, — prabhu, more kṛtārtha karilā Miśra says O Lord me fulfilled You have made kṛṣṇa-kathāmṛtārṇave more ḍubāilā
in the ocean of the nectar of talks about Kṛṣṇa me You have plunged 70 Miśra said, "O Lord, You have fulfilled my life! You have plunged me into the nectar-ocean of talks about Kṛṣṇa.

It is forbidden to regard as mortal the guru who sings of Kṛṣṇa —

রামানন্দ-রায়-কথা কহিলে না হয় ।
'মনুষ্য' নহে রায়, কৃষ্ণভক্তিরসময় ॥ ৭১ ॥

rāmānanda-rāya-kathā kahile nā haya
of Rāmānanda Rāya the words if told not it is possible
'manuṣya' nahe rāya, kṛṣṇa-bhakti-rasa-maya a human being is not Rāya made of the rasa of devotion to Kṛṣṇa

71 The words of Rāmānanda Rāya cannot be retold. Rāya is not a mere human being; he is made of the rasa of devotion to Kṛṣṇa.

Through the lips of Śrī Rāmānanda, the guru, Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Mahāprabhu is the speaker —

আর এক কথা রায় কহিলা আমারে ।
'কৃষ্ণকথা-বক্তা করি' না জানিহ মোরে ॥ ৭২ ॥

āra eka kathā rāya kahilā āmāre
another one thing Rāya told me
'kṛṣṇa-kathā-vaktā kari' nā jāniha more of talks about Kṛṣṇa the speaker as not consider me

72 Rāya told me one thing more: 'Do not think of me as the speaker of these talks about Kṛṣṇa.

মোর মুখে কথা কহেন আপনে গৌরচন্দ্র । যৈছে কহায়, তৈছে কহি, — যেন বীণাযন্ত্র ॥ ৭৩ ॥

mora mukhe kathā kahena āpane gauracandra
by my mouth words speaks Himself Gauracandra
yaiche kahāya, taiche kahi, — yena vīṇā-yantra
as He makes me speak so I speak like a vīṇā instrument

73 Gauracandra Himself speaks these words through my mouth. As He makes me speak, so I speak, like a vīṇā.

Through the lips of Rāmānanda, a worthy vessel, the Lord preaches about Kṛṣṇa —

মোর মুখে কথা ইঁহা করে পরচার । পৃথিবীতে কে জানিবে এ-লীলা তাঁহার ? ॥ ৭৪ ॥

mora mukhe kathā iṁhā kare paracāra
by my mouth the words He makes known pṛthivīte ke jānibe e-līlā tāṁhāra?
in the world who will know this pastime His 74 Through my mouth He makes these words known. Who in this world will understand this pastime of His?'

The talks about Kṛṣṇa that Rāya spoke and Miśra heard are beyond the reach even of Brahmā —

যে-সব শুনিলুঁ, কৃষ্ণ — রসের সাগর । ব্রহ্মাদি-দেবের এ সব না হয় গোচর ॥ ৭৫ ॥

ye-saba śuniluṁ, kṛṣṇa — rasera sāgara
all that I heard Kṛṣṇa of rasa the ocean
brahmādi-devera e saba nā haya gocara
to Brahmā and the other gods this all not is perceptible

75 All that I heard — that Kṛṣṇa is the ocean of rasa — lies beyond the reach even of Brahmā and the other gods.

Miśra offers himself at the Lord's feet —

হেন 'রস' মোরে পান করাইলা তুমি । জন্মে জন্মে তোমার পায় বিকাইলাঙ আমি ॥ ৭৬ ॥

hena 'rasa' more pāna karāilā tumi
such rasa me to drink made You janme janme tomāra pāya vikāilāṅa āmi birth after birth Your at the feet sold myself I

76 You have made me drink such rasa; birth after birth I have sold myself at Your feet."

The Lord describes the nature of the pure Vaiṣṇava who follows Rāya's example —

প্রভু কহে, — রামানন্দ বিনয়ের খনি । আপনার কথা পরমুখে দেন আনি ॥ ৭৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — rāmānanda vinayera khani
the Lord says Rāmānanda of humility a mine āpanāra kathā para-muṇḍe dena āni
his own words on another's head he places bringing 77 The Lord said, "Rāmānanda is a mine of humility. He attributes his own words to another.

*The nature of a sādhu, a noble person, a great soul, that is, a Vaiṣṇava —*

মহানুভবের এই সহজ 'স্বভাব' হয়। আপনার গুণ নাহি আপনে কহয় ॥ ৭৮ ॥

mahānubhavera ei sahaja 'svabhāva' haya of great souls this natural disposition is āpanāra guṇa nāhi āpane kahaya
their own qualities not themselves they tell

78 This is the natural disposition of great souls: they never speak of their own qualities."

*Miśra is the hearing disciple of Śrī Rāya, who sings of Kṛṣṇa and is the guru of all brāhmaṇa families, though not born in a family of brāhmaṇas by seed —*

রামানন্দ-রায়ের এই কহিলুঁ গুণ-লেশ। প্রদ্যুম্ন-মিশ্রেরে যৈছে কৈলা উপদেশ ॥ ৭৯ ॥

rāmānanda-rāyera ei kahiluṁ guṇa-leśa of Rāmānanda Rāya this I have told of qualities a trace pradyumna-miśrere yaiche kailā upadeśa to Pradyumna Miśra how he gave instruction

79 Thus I have told a little of Rāmānanda Rāya's qualities and of how he instructed Pradyumna Miśra.

*What Rāya's great qualities teach: outward conduct according to varṇāśrama is no sign of devotion to Kṛṣṇa or of being a guru —*

'গৃহস্থ' হঞা নহে রায় ষড়্-বর্গের বশে।
'বিষয়ী' হঞা সন্ন্যাসীরে উপদেশে ॥ ৮০ ॥

'gṛhastha' hañā nahe rāya ṣaḍ-vargera vaśe
a householder being not Rāya of the six enemies under the control
'viṣayī' hañā sannyāsīre upadeśe
a worldly man being sannyāsīs he instructs

80 Though a householder, Rāya is not under the control of the six enemies (ṣaḍ-varga); though seemingly a worldly man (viṣayī), he instructs sannyāsīs.

Anubhāṣya.

In the eyes of worldly people Śrī Rāmānanda Prabhu appears to be a householder on the path of pravṛtti (worldly engagement), not a brahmacārī with controlled senses, a vānaprastha or a bhikṣu. Worldly householders, ruled by their senses, take up the dharma of those attached to home (gṛhavrata). But a transcendental Vaiṣṇava living at home does not, like a non-Vaiṣṇava householder, become one whose senses are uncontrolled (adānta-go), and he never falls under the power of the six enemies (ṣaḍ-varga). In Śrī Rāmānanda Prabhu's pastimes in the householder āśrama, worldly people, with their enjoying vision, see him as a viṣayī, one absorbed in worldly objects. But his transcendental mind of pure goodness worships at every moment a single object, the transcendental pastimes of Śrī Kṛṣṇa. He is therefore a kṛṣṇa-viṣayī, one whose object is Kṛṣṇa, and not an impersonalist logician hostile to Bhagavān's spiritual pastimes. He is able to make sannyāsīs who have renounced worldly objects and stand beyond the guṇas (nirguṇa) give up petty material objects that hold no realization of Kṛṣṇa, and to engage them in constantly cultivating Kṛṣṇa as their only object.

Through Rāya the Lord shows the glory of a devotee of Kṛṣṇa, that is, of the guru —

এইসব গুণ তাঁর প্রকাশ করিতে । মিশ্রেরে পাঠাইলা তাঁহা শ্রবণ করিতে ॥ ৮১ ॥

eisaba guṇa tāṁra prakāśa karite
all these qualities his manifest to make miśrere pāṭhāilā tāṁhā śravaṇa karite
Miśra He sent there hearing to do

81 To reveal all these qualities of his, the Lord sent Miśra there to hear.

ভক্তগুণ প্রকাশিতে প্রভু ভাল জানে । নানা-ভঙ্গীতে প্রকাশি' নিজ লাভ মানে ॥ ৮২ ॥

bhakta-guṇa prakāśite prabhu bhāla jāne
the devotee's qualities to reveal the Lord well knows nānā-bhaṅgīte prakāśi' nija lābha māne
in various ways revealing His own gain He considers 82 The Lord knows well how to reveal the qualities of His devotees; revealing them in various ways, He considers it His own gain.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhaṅgī: manner, skillful device, example.

The secret of how Gaura, the guru of the world, teaches people —

আর এক 'স্বভাব' গৌরের শুন, ভক্তগণ । গূঢ় ঐশ্বর্য্য-স্বভাব করে প্রকটন ॥ ৮৩ ॥

āra eka 'svabhāva' gaurera śuna, bhakta-gaṇa
another one 'trait' of Gaura hear O devotees
gūḍha aiśvarya-svabhāva kare prakaṭana
hidden majestic nature He makes manifest

83 Hear, O devotees, of yet another trait of Gaura: He makes His hidden, majestic nature manifest.

Anubhāṣya.
Gūḍha: hidden within, unmanifest; aiśvarya-svabhāva: the power of the Lord (aiśī-śakti), the might of Īśvara.

*Worldly varṇāśrama, learning and the like are no sign of one who can speak the true dharma —*

সন্ন্যাসী-পণ্ডিতগণের করিতে গর্ব্ব নাশ । নীচ-শূদ্র-দ্বারা করেন ধর্ম্মের প্রকাশ ॥ ৮৪ ॥

sannyāsī-paṇḍita-gaṇera karite garva nāśa
of the sannyāsīs and paṇḍitas to make of the pride destruction
nīca-śūdra-dvārā karena dharmera prakāśa
through a lowly śūdra He makes of dharma the manifestation 84 To destroy the pride of the sannyāsīs and paṇḍitas, He reveals dharma through a lowly śūdra.

Anubhāṣya.
Paṇḍita: a brāhmaṇa entitled to study the Vedas; sannyāsī: the highest of the four āśramas of a brāhmaṇa. According to worldly ideas, only brāhmaṇas by seed have the right to Sāvitrī initiation. Birth through Sāvitrī initiation gives the right to study the Vedas, and having gained brāhmaṇa birth through Sāvitrī and passed through three āśramas, one rises to the high position of a sannyāsī. The brāhmaṇa is the guru of the three varṇas, and the sannyāsī is the guru of the brāhmaṇas in the other three āśramas. Wishing to humble their worldly pride, born of intoxication with their position, the Lord had Śrī

Rāmānanda Rāya Prabhu instruct a brāhmaṇa by seed named Pradyumna Miśra, although worldly vision knew Rāmānanda as a śūdra, the lowest varṇa, and as a householder, the lowest āśrama. And Mahāprabhu Himself, who had accepted sannyāsa, accepted the dharma that Śrī Rāmānanda preached.

Śrī Gaurahari wished to reveal to people the essential conclusion of the scriptures about the āśramas. So He spread the force of His natural majesty (aiśvarya) against the mistaken notions of those who think themselves worldly scholars and renunciants. Ordinary ignorant people do not know the purport of the scriptures; but seeing the pure, righteous conduct and the qualities of the servants who had taken shelter of Gaurasundara, they could understand the true purport of the scriptures about varṇa and āśrama. A transcendental Vaiṣṇava wholly devoted to Hari, in whatever family he has appeared and in whatever āśrama he lives, can be the highest ācārya of the true dharma — a guru who eternally shows mercy to worldly people of the four varṇas and āśramas. The scriptures say this again and again. Bhagavān Gaurahari indisputably preached to people the hidden and true aim of the scriptures, and so revealed His natural majesty (aiśvarya-svabhāva).

*Examples. (1) The Lord Himself, in the dress of a sannyāsī, and Miśra, a brāhmaṇa by seed, both become disciples eager to hear and accept as their guru Śrī Rāya — who wears a householder's dress, was not born in a family of brāhmaṇas by seed, and sings of Kṛṣṇa — and so they teach the people —*

‘ভক্তি’, ‘প্রেম’, ‘তত্ত্ব’ কহে রায়ে করি’ ‘বক্তা’ । আপনি প্রদ্যুম্নমিশ্র-সহ হয় ‘শ্রোতা’ ॥ ৮৫ ॥

‘bhakti’, ‘prema’, ‘tattva’ kahe rāye kari’ ‘vaktā’ ‘bhakti’ ‘prema’ ‘tattva’ He speaks Rāya making ‘the speaker’
āpani pradyumna-miśra-saha haya ‘śrotā’
Himself with Pradyumna Miśra becomes ‘the listener’

85 He speaks of bhakti, prema and the truth (tattva), making Rāya the speaker, while He Himself, together with Pradyumna Miśra, becomes the listener.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The sannyāsīs (of Śaṅkara's school) think that, having carried out in worldly life all the duties proper to a brāhmaṇa and having cultivated the truth of Vedānta, they have become the “gurus” of the world. The brāhmaṇa scholars (by seed) think that, according to the smṛti (of the section on ritual work, the karma-kāṇḍa), only a brāhmaṇa by seed like themselves is the guru of all varṇas; therefore no one but such a brāhmaṇa scholar by seed has the right to teach the highest truth. Proud with these two kinds of pride, the sannyāsīs and scholars are unwilling to learn dharma from a pure devotee born in a family of the highest śūdras, though he is infinitely greater than they, and so they often remain undeveloped in understanding. Vaiṣṇava dharma accepts this: whoever, knowing the difference between the worldly and the transcendental truth, has learned transcendental devotion to Kṛṣṇa is the teacher of all jīvas; here neither varṇa by birth nor an āśrama received through rites (saṁskāras) matters. It was to teach this truth that Mahāprabhu, the deliverer of the world, sent Pradyumna Miśra, the son of a relative from His former āśrama, to learn the truth from Śrī Rāmānanda.

*(2) To Ṭhākura Haridāsa, born in a family of yavanas, the Lord gives the title of guru of the world and ācārya of the holy name (Nāmācārya) —*

হরিদাস-দ্বারা নাম-মাহাত্ম্য-প্রকাশ । সনাতন-দ্বারা ভক্তিসিদ্ধান্ত-বিলাস ॥ ৮৬ ॥

haridāsa-dvārā nāma-māhātmya-prakāśa through Haridāsa the glory of the holy name the manifestation sanātana-dvārā bhakti-siddhānta-vilāsa
through Sanātana the play of the conclusions of bhakti

86 Through Haridāsa He revealed the glory of the holy name; through Sanātana, the conclusions of bhakti in all their splendour.

*(3) Śrī Sanātana, though he lived among mlecchas, is the ācārya of the conclusions of devotion to Kṛṣṇa, that is, of the knowledge of sambandha; (4) Śrī Rūpa is the ācārya of the rasa of Vraja's loving devotion, that is, of*

abhidheya* —*

শ্রীরূপ-দ্বারা ব্রজের রস-প্রেম-লীলা । কে কহিতে পারে গম্ভীর চৈতন্যের খেলা ? ॥ ৮৭ ॥

śrī-rūpa-dvārā vrajera rasa-prema-līlā through Śrī Rūpa of Vraja the pastimes of rasa and prema
ke kahite pāre gambhīra caitanyera khelā?
who to tell can profound Caitanya's play

87 Through Śrī Rūpa He revealed Vraja's pastimes of rasa and prema. Who can describe the profound play of Caitanya?

By receiving a drop of the ocean of Śrī Caitanya's pastimes, the world is delivered —

শ্রীচৈতন্যলীলা এই — অমৃতের সিন্ধু । জগৎ ভাসাইতে পারে যার এক বিন্দু ॥ ৮৮ ॥

śrī-caitanya-līlā ei — amṛtera sindhu Śrī Caitanya's pastimes these of nectar an ocean
jagat bhāsāite pāre yāra eka bindu
the world to flood can whose one drop

88 These pastimes of Śrī Caitanya are an ocean of nectar, a single drop of which can flood the world.

Anubhāṣya.
A single drop of the nectar ocean of Śrī Caitanya's pastimes can flood the world with prema. Śrī Dāsa Gosvāmī, and in a later age Śrī Ṭhākura Narottama, Śrīla Śyāmānanda Prabhu and others, are also manifestations of this magnanimity of Śrī Mahāprabhu.

*In one who drinks with faith the nectar of Caitanya's pastimes, spiritual inclinations awaken, and he gains the knowledge of sambandha, abhidheya and prayojana —*

চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত নিত্য কর পান ।
যাহা হৈতে 'প্রেমানন্দ', 'ভক্তিতত্ত্ব-জ্ঞান' ॥ ৮৯ ॥

caitanya-caritāmṛta nitya kara pāna
the Caitanya-caritāmṛta always do drink
yāhā haite 'premānanda', 'bhakti-tattva-jñāna'
from which 'the bliss of prema' 'knowledge of the truth of bhakti'

89 Drink the Caitanya-caritāmṛta constantly, for from it come the bliss of prema and knowledge of the truth of bhakti.

Such are the Lord's pastimes in Nīlācala —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু ভক্তগণ লঞা । নীলাচলে বিহরয়ে ভক্তি প্রচারিয়া ॥ ৯০ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu bhakta-gaṇa lañā
in this way Mahāprabhu the devotees taking with Him
nīlācale viharaye bhakti pracāriyā
in Nīlācala sports bhakti preaching

90 In this way Mahāprabhu, together with His devotees, enjoyed His pastimes in Nīlācala, preaching bhakti.

*The story of a worldly poet from East Bengal who wore the guise of a brāhmaṇa —*

বঙ্গদেশী এক বিপ্র প্রভুর চরিতে । নাটক করি' লঞা আইলা শুনাইতে ॥ ৯১ ॥

baṅga-deśī eka vipra prabhura carite
from Bengal a brāhmaṇa on the Lord's life
nāṭaka kari' lañā āilā śunāite
a drama having made taking came to recite

91 A brāhmaṇa from Bengal composed a drama on the Lord's life and brought it with him to recite.[3]

ভগবান্-আচার্য্য-সনে তার পরিচয় । তাঁরে মিলি' তাঁর ঘরে করিল আলয় ॥ ৯২ ॥

bhagavān-ācārya-sane tāra paricaya Bhagavān Ācārya with his acquaintance tāṁre mili' tāṁra ghare karila ālaya
him having met in his house made his lodging

92 He was acquainted with Bhagavān Ācārya; having met him, he took lodging in his house.

প্রথমে নাটক তেঁহো তাঁরে শুনাইল । তাঁর সঙ্গে অনেক বৈষ্ণব নাটক শুনিল ॥ ৯৩ ॥

prathame nāṭaka teṁho tāṁre śunāila
first the drama he to him recited tāṁra saṅge aneka vaiṣṇava nāṭaka śunila
with him many Vaiṣṇavas the drama heard

93 First he recited the drama to him, and many Vaiṣṇavas heard it along with him.

সবেই প্রশংসে নাটক 'পরম উত্তম' । মহাপ্রভুরে শুনাইতে সবার হৈল মন ॥ ৯৪ ॥

sabei praśaṁse nāṭaka 'parama uttama'
all praise the drama 'most excellent'
mahāprabhure śunāite sabāra haila mana to Mahāprabhu to recite of all arose the wish

94 Everyone praised the drama as "most excellent", and all wished to have Mahāprabhu hear it.

The rule: Svarūpa Dāmodara examines everything first —

গীত, শ্লোক, গ্রন্থ, কবিত্ব — যেই করি' আনে । প্রথমে শুনায় সেই স্বরূপের স্থানে ॥ ৯৫ ॥

gīta, śloka, grantha, kavitva — yei kari' āne song verse book poem — whatever having made one brings prathame śunāya sei svarūpera sthāne
first has it heard that in Svarūpa's presence

95 Whatever song, verse, book or poem anyone composed and brought would first be recited before Svarūpa.

Svarūpa's approval: only after passing his examination does a work receive the Lord's favor —

স্বরূপ-ঠাঞি উত্তরে যদি, লয় তাঁর মন । তবে মহাপ্রভু-ঠাঞি করায় শ্রবণ ॥ ৯৬ ॥

svarūpa-ṭhāñi uttare yadi, laya tāṁra mana before Svarūpa passes if accepts his mind
tabe mahāprabhu-ṭhāñi karāya śravaṇa
then before Mahāprabhu causes the hearing

96 If it passed Svarūpa's scrutiny and won his approval, only then would it be recited before Mahāprabhu.

*The only cause of the magnanimous Lord's anger is a contradiction of the message of bhakti-siddhānta —*

'রসাভাস' হয় যদি 'সিদ্ধান্তবিরোধ' । সহিতে না পারে প্রভু, মনে হয় ক্রোধ ॥ ৯৭ ॥

'rasābhāsa' haya yadi 'siddhānta-virodha'
'rasābhāsa' is if 'opposition to siddhānta'
sahite nā pāre prabhu, mane haya krodha
to bear not can the Lord in the mind arises anger

97 If there was rasābhāsa, a mere semblance of rasa, or anything opposed to siddhānta, the Lord could not bear it, and anger arose in His mind.

Anubhāṣya.

Rasābhāsa: "Rasas that lack [any of] the characteristics of rasa set out earlier are called rasābhāsas by the knowers of rasa. They are of three kinds — uparasas, anurasas and aparasas — and are called, in that order, the highest, the middling and the lowest. The twelve rasas beginning with śānta become uparasas when the sthāyi-bhāva, the vibhāvas, the anubhāvas and the rest in them are distorted. The seven rasas beginning with hāsya, and śānta as well, are considered anurasas when their vibhāvas — devotees and the rest — have no relation to Kṛṣṇa. And if Kṛṣṇa and His opponents become the object (viṣaya) and the abode (āśraya) of hāsya and the other rasas, the wise call them aparasas. All bhāvas have their semblances, and some of them are rasābhāsas; yet the knowers of rasa call all of them rasas, because they are relished." (Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, Uttara-vibhāga, 9th Laharī)

When something at first appears to be rasa but, judged by the characteristics of rasa described earlier, is incomplete, the rasikas call it rasābhāsa. Rasābhāsa is divided into uparasa, anurasa and aparasa, which are called, respectively, the highest, the middling and the lowest. The twelve rasas beginning with śānta, in which the sthāyi-bhāva, vibhāva, anubhāva and the rest are distorted, are called uparasa. The seven rasas beginning with hāsya, produced by vibhāvas — devotees and the rest — that have no relation to Kṛṣṇa, together with dry śānta-rasa, are called anurasa. If Kṛṣṇa and His opponents, the asuras, filled with mutually hostile feelings, become the object and the abode of hāsya and the other rasas, the scholars who know rasa-tattva call this aparasa. Some call the bhāvas tad-ābhāsa (their semblance) or rasābhāsa; but those expert in rasa-tattva call all of these rasa, because they are sweet to taste and give joy. Śrī Viśvanātha Cakravartī says: "If two mutually hostile [rasas] are joined, that is rasābhāsa." That is, when two opposed rasas are joined, rasābhāsa arises.

Siddhānta-virodha — contradiction of the siddhānta of the path of bhakti; contradiction of tattva.

অতএব প্রভু কিছু আগে নাহি শুনে । এই মর্য্যাদা প্রভু কৈরাছেন নিয়মে ॥ ৯৮ ॥

ataeva prabhu kichu āge nāhi śune
therefore the Lord anything first not hears ei maryādā prabhu kairāchena niyame
this rule of propriety the Lord has made as a fixed rule

98 Therefore the Lord would hear nothing that Svarūpa had not examined first; He had made this a fixed rule of propriety.

Bhagavān Ācārya's request to Svarūpa; praise of the mundane poet's work —

স্বরূপের ঠাঞি আচার্য্য কৈলা নিবেদন । এক কবি প্রভুর নাটক কৈরাছে উত্তম ॥ ৯৯ ॥

svarūpera ṭhāñi ācārya kailā nivedana
before Svarūpa the Ācārya made a request
eka kavi prabhura nāṭaka kairāche uttama
a poet on the Lord a drama has composed excellent 99 Bhagavān Ācārya made a request to Svarūpa: "A poet has composed an excellent drama about the Lord.[4]

আদৌ তুমি শুন, যদি তোমার মন মানে । পাছে মহাপ্রভুরে তবে করাইমু শ্রবণে ॥ ১০০ ॥

ādau tumi śuna, yadi tomāra mana māne
first you hear if your mind accepts pāche mahāprabhure tabe karāimu śravaṇe
afterwards Mahāprabhu then I shall have hear

100 Hear it first yourself, and if you approve of it, I shall then have Mahāprabhu hear it."

*Svarūpa, the ācārya foremost among the knowers of kṛṣṇa-tattva, who knows the heart, rebukes Bhagavān Ācārya —*

স্বরূপ কহে, — তুমি 'গোপ' পরম-উদার । যে-সে শাস্ত্র শুনিতে ইচ্ছা উপজে তোমার ॥ ১০১ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — tumi 'gopa' parama-udāra Svarūpa says — you a 'cowherd' most generous ye-se śāstra śunite icchā upaje tomāra any whatever śāstra to hear desire arises your 101 Svarūpa said, "You are a simple 'cowherd' (gopa), and most generous: you wish to hear any writing whatever.

The one cause of Gaura-Kṛṣṇa's displeasure is pointed out —

'যদ্বা-তদ্বা' কবির বাক্যে হয় 'রসাভাস' । সিদ্ধান্তবিরুদ্ধ শুনিতে না হয় উল্লাস ॥ ১০২ ॥

'yadvā-tadvā' kavira vākye haya 'rasābhāsa'
'any whatever' of a poet in the words is 'rasābhāsa'
siddhānta-viruddha śunite nā haya ullāsa opposed to siddhānta to hear not arises joy

102 In the words of just any poet there is rasābhāsa, and hearing what is opposed to siddhānta brings no joy.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Yadvā tadvā kavi — any poet whatever, that is, those who compose poetry without properly knowing either rasa-tattva or the siddhānta of the Vaiṣṇavas.

'রস', 'রসাভাস' যার নাহিক বিচার ।
ভক্তিসিদ্ধান্ত-সিন্ধু নাহি পায় পার ॥ ১০৩ ॥

‘rasa’, ‘rasābhāsa’ yāra nāhika vicāra
‘rasa’ ‘rasābhāsa’ whose there is no discrimination bhakti-siddhānta-sindhu nāhi pāya pāra
of the conclusions of bhakti the ocean not reaches the shore

103 One who cannot discriminate between rasa and rasābhāsa never reaches the far shore of the ocean of bhakti-siddhānta.

‘ব্যাকরণ’ নাহি জানে, না জানে ‘অলঙ্কার’ ।
‘নাটকালঙ্কার’-জ্ঞান নাহিক যাহার ॥ ১০৪ ॥

কৃষ্ণলীলা বর্ণিতে না জানে সেই ছার !
বিশেষে দুর্গম এই চৈতন্য-বিহার ! ॥ ১০৫ ॥

‘vyākaraṇa’ nāhi jāne, nā jāne ‘alaṅkāra’
‘grammar’ not knows not knows ‘rhetoric’
‘nāṭakālaṅkāra’-jñāna nāhika yāhāra
‘of the ornaments of drama’ knowledge there is no whose kṛṣṇa-līlā varṇite nā jāne sei chāra!
Kṛṣṇa’s pastimes to describe not knows that worthless one viśeṣe durgama ei caitanya-vihāra!
especially inaccessible this play of Caitanya

104–105 A worthless poet who knows neither grammar nor rhetoric, and has no knowledge of the ornaments of drama, does not know how to describe Kṛṣṇa’s pastimes; and these pastimes of Caitanya are especially hard to enter!

Only a devotee of Kṛṣṇa whose life is given to Gaura is qualified to describe Gaura's pastimes —

কৃষ্ণলীলা, গৌরলীলা সে করে বর্ণন । গৌর-পাদপদ্ম যাঁর হয় প্রাণ-ধন ॥ ১০৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa-līlā, gaura-līlā se kare varṇana Kṛṣṇa’s pastimes Gaura’s pastimes he does describe gaura-pāda-padma yāṁra haya prāṇa-dhana
Gaura’s lotus feet whose are the wealth of life

106 Only one for whom the lotus feet of Gaura are the very wealth of life can describe the pastimes of Kṛṣṇa and the pastimes of Gaura.

*The mundane poet, who does not aim at Kṛṣṇa's happiness, is an outsider (bahiraṅga); the transcendental poet, devoted to Kṛṣṇa's happiness, is one of the intimate circle (antaraṅga) —*

গ্রাম্য-কবির কবিত্ব শুনিতে হয় ‘দুঃখ’ । বিদগ্ধ-আত্মীয়-বাক্য শুনিতে হয় ‘সুখ’ ॥ ১০৭ ॥

grāmya-kavira kavitva śunite haya ‘duḥkha’
of a mundane poet the poetry to hear is ‘pain’
vidagdha-ātmīya-vākya śunite haya ‘sukha’
of one expert and intimate the words to hear is ‘joy’

107 To hear the poetry of a mundane poet (grāmya-kavi) is painful; to hear the words of one who is expert and intimate (vidagdha ātmīya) is a joy.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Grāmya-kavi — poets who compose verses about mundane men and women. Vidagdha ātmīya-vākya — the composition of one who is our own (ātmīya): a person skilled in the knowledge of tattva who belongs to the community of pure devotees (that is, warm-hearted and of like aspiration).

The example of Śrī Rūpa, crown jewel of transcendental poets —

রূপ যৈছে দুই নাটক কৈরাছে আরম্ভে । শুনিতে আনন্দ বাড়ে যার মুখবন্ধে ॥ ১০৮ ॥

rūpa yaiche dui nāṭaka kairāche ārambhe Rūpa as two dramas has composed at the outset śunite ānanda bāḍe yāra mukha-bandhe
to hear joy increases whose in the prologue

108 Take the two dramas Rūpa has composed: merely hearing their prologues makes one's joy grow."

Bhagavān Ācārya insists nonetheless —

ভগবান্-আচার্য্য কহে, — শুন একবার । তুমি শুনিলে ভাল-মন্দ জানিবে বিচার ॥ ১০৯ ॥

bhagavān-ācārya kahe, — śuna eka-bāra Bhagavān Ācārya says — hear once tumi śunile bhāla-manda jānibe vicāra
you having heard good or bad will know the judgment

109 Bhagavān Ācārya said, "Just hear it once. When you have heard it, you will be able to judge whether it is good or bad."

Because his friend the Ācārya insists, Śrī Svarūpa agrees to listen —

দুই-তিন-দিন আচার্য্য আগ্রহ করিল । তাঁর আগ্রহে স্বরূপের শুনিতে ইচ্ছা হৈল ॥ ১১০ ॥

dui-tina-dina ācārya āgraha karila
two or three days the Ācārya insistence made tāṁra āgrahe svarūpera śunite icchā haila
by his insistence in Svarūpa to hear the desire arose

110 For two or three days the Ācārya pressed him, and at his insistence Svarūpa agreed to hear it.

*The poet recites the nāndī verse before Svarūpa —*

সবা লঞা স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি শুনিতে বসিলা । তবে সেই কবি নান্দী-শ্লোক পড়িলা ॥ ১১১ ॥

sabā lañā svarūpa-gosāñi śunite vasilā
all taking Svarūpa Gosāñi to hear sat down
tabe sei kavi nāndī-śloka paḍilā
then that poet the nāndī verse recited

111 Svarūpa Gosāñi sat down with everyone to listen, and the poet recited the nāndī verse, the opening benediction.

*The nāndī verse —*

বিকচকমলনেত্রে শ্রীজগন্নাথসংজ্ঞে
কনকরুচিরিহাত্মন্যাত্মতাং যঃ প্রপন্নঃ ।
প্রকৃতিজড়মশেষং চেতয়ন্নাবিরাসীৎ স দিশতু তব ভব্যং কৃষ্ণচৈতন্যদেবঃ ॥ ১১২ ॥

vikaca-kamala-netre śrī-jagannātha-saṁjñe
with eyes like blossoming lotuses named Śrī Jagannātha
kanaka-rucir ihātmany ātmatāṁ yaḥ prapannaḥ
golden-hued here in the self selfhood who has attained prakṛti-jaḍam aśeṣaṁ cetayann āvirāsīt inert matter all enlivening appeared sa diśatu tava bhavyaṁ kṛṣṇa-caitanya-devaḥ
He may grant your welfare Kṛṣṇa Caitanya-deva

112 “He of golden lustre has here found His self in the One named Śrī Jagannātha, whose eyes are like blossoming lotuses, and has appeared, bringing consciousness to the whole of inert nature. May that Kṛṣṇa Caitanya-deva grant you good fortune.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

He placed within Himself — or spread forth — a golden luster and attained His selfhood in Śrī Jagannātha, whose eyes are blossoming lotuses. Giving boundless consciousness to inert prakṛti, He appeared. May that Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva bestow welfare upon you.

Anubhāṣya.

kanaka-ruciḥ (whose luster [ruci] is like the luster of gold [kanaka]) yaḥ (Gaura) iha (here, in Puruṣottama-kṣetra) vikaca-kamala-netre (in Him whose eyes are like blossoming lotuses) śrī-jagannātha-saṁjñe (in Him who is called — whose name is — “Śrī Jagannātha”) ātmani (in the body) ātmatām (the status of the owner of the body) prapannaḥ (having attained) prakṛti-jaḍam (inert by nature — the Deity of Śrī Jagannātha, because the worshipable Deity is seen as wood — so in the poet’s sense) aśeṣaṁ cetayan āvirāsīt (appeared), saḥ (that Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva) tava bhavyam (welfare) diśatu (may He bestow).

(In Sarasvatī's sense: yaḥ (that) Śrī Kṛṣṇa śrī-jagannātha-saṁjñe (in Him who is called Śrī Jagannātha — in the Master of māyā, the Dāru-brahma, the Supreme Soul full of the six opulences) kanaka-rucinā (in the golden form of Gaura) ātmatām (complete nondifference from Him, that is, the form of Jagannātha) prapannaḥ (attained); “saḥ” and the rest are clear.)

Everyone but Svarūpa praises the verse —

শ্লোক শুনি’ সর্ব্বলোক তাহারে বাখানে । স্বরূপ কহে, — এই শ্লোক করহ ব্যাখ্যানে ॥ ১১৩ ॥

śloka śuni’ sarva-loka tāhāre vākhāne
the verse hearing all the people him praised svarūpa kahe, — ei śloka karaha vyākhyāne
Svarūpa says — this verse do explain

113 Hearing the verse, everyone praised the poet, but Svarūpa said, “Explain this verse.”

*The foolish poet's fault — Māyāvāda, opposed to the siddhānta of pure bhakti —*

কবি কহে, — জগন্নাথ — সুন্দর-শরীর । চৈতন্য-গোসাঞি — শরীরী মহাধীর ॥ ১১৪ ॥

kavi kahe, — jagannātha — sundara-śarīra
the poet says — Jagannātha — the beautiful body
caitanya-gosāñi — śarīrī mahā-dhīra
Caitanya Gosāñi — the embodied one most steady

114 The poet said, "Jagannātha is the beautiful body, and Caitanya Gosāñi, perfectly steady (mahā-dhīra), is the one embodied in it (śarīrī).

Anubhāṣya.
Śarīrī — the one whose body it is, that is, the embodied one (dehī).

সহজে জড়জগতের চেতন করাইতে । নীলাচলে মহাপ্রভু হৈলা আবির্ভূতে ॥ ১১৫ ॥

sahaje jaḍa-jagatera cetana karāite naturally the inert world conscious to make nīlācale mahāprabhu hailā āvirbhūte
in Nīlācala Mahāprabhu became manifest

115 To bestow consciousness on the inert world, as is His nature, Mahāprabhu has appeared in Nīlācala."

*Everyone rejoiced, yet Śrī Svarūpa — the Vaiṣṇava ācārya, the teacher of the world — grows angry and shows mercy: with the sword of scriptural siddhānta he cuts down the false doctrine —*

শুনিয়া সবার হৈল আনন্দিত মন । দুঃখ পাঞা স্বরূপ কহে সক্রোধ বচন ॥ ১১৬ ॥

śuniyā sabāra haila ānandita mana hearing of all became joyful the mind
duḥkha pāñā svarūpa kahe sakrodha vacana pain feeling Svarūpa speaks angry words

116 Hearing this, everyone was delighted, but Svarūpa, deeply pained, spoke angry words:

*The cause of the anger: (1) regarding Viṣṇu as a jīva leads to hell —*

আরে মূর্খ, আপনার কৈলি সর্ব্বনাশ !
দুই ত' ঈশ্বরে তোর নাহিক বিশ্বাস ! ॥ ১১৭ ॥

āre mūrkha, āpanāra kaili sarva-nāśa!
O fool your own you have made utter ruin
dui ta' īśvare tora nāhika viśvāsa!
in the two indeed Lords your there is no faith

117 "O fool, you have brought about your own utter ruin! You have no faith in either of the two Lords!

পূর্ণানন্দ-চিৎস্বরূপ জগন্নাথ-রায় । তাঁরে কৈলি জড়-নশ্বর-প্রাকৃত-কায়! ॥ ১১৮ ॥

pūrṇānanda-citsvarūpa jagannātha-rāya
full of bliss a form of pure spirit Lord Jagannātha tāṁre kaili jaḍa-naśvara-prākṛta-kāya!
Him you have made an inert, perishable, material body

118 Lord Jagannātha is full of bliss, a form of pure spirit, yet you have made Him out to be an inert, perishable, material body!

Anubhāṣya.

Someone may see in the Deity of Jagannātha only a wooden image (pratimā) and think Him perishable, made of material substances, a mere inert object. By the word of the Padma Purāṇa — "One who regards the worshipable Viṣṇu as stone … is a dweller in hell" — whoever thinks this way commits an offense. For the Deity (arcā-vigraha) is completely nondifferent from Śrī Kṛṣṇa, whose form is eternity, knowledge and bliss, and the devotee of Bhagavān, with eyes of bhakti lit by the bliss of prema, sees Him directly as the complete form of eternity, knowledge and bliss.

পূর্ণ-ষড়ৈশ্বর্য্য চৈতন্য — স্বয়ং ভগবান্ । তাঁরে কৈলি ক্ষুদ্র-জীব স্ফুলিঙ্গ-সমান ! ॥ ১১৯ ॥

pūrṇa-ṣaḍ-aiśvarya caitanya — svayaṁ bhagavān
full of the six opulences Caitanya — Svayam Bhagavān tāṁre kaili kṣudra-jīva sphuliṅga-samāna!
Him you have made a tiny jīva a spark like

119 Caitanya, full in all six opulences, is Svayam Bhagavān, the Supreme Lord Himself, yet you have made Him out to be a tiny jīva, like a spark!

Anubhāṣya.

From the words of the śruti, "As sparks fly up from a fire …,"[9] we learn that the jīva is like a spark of the fire that is the great Viṣṇu; that is, the jīva is a particle of spirit (cit-kaṇa). A jīva under the sway of māyā is capable of being bound by matter. But Śrī Caitanyadeva is Parameśvara, whose form is eternity, knowledge and bliss, the cause of all causes; and His having taken a human form does not mean that He is a tiny jīva subject to matter. He is the Master of māyā, full of the six opulences, Svayaṁ Bhagavān, the son of Yaśodā. (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.11.39): "This is the lordship of the Lord: though He abides within prakṛti, He is not bound by its guṇas, though they are ever about Him — just as the intelligence that has taken shelter of Him is not bound by them."

*The audacity of one who, relying on sense-born knowledge and logic and ignorant of bhakti-siddhānta, sets out to describe Kṛṣṇa —*

দুই-ঠাঞি অপরাধে পাইবি দুর্গতি !
অতত্ত্বজ্ঞ 'তত্ত্ব' বর্ণে, তার এই গতি ! ॥ ১২০ ॥

dui-ṭhāñi aparādhe pāibi durgati!
in two places by the offence you will get a dire fate
atattva-jña 'tattva' varṇe, tāra ei gati!
one ignorant of truth 'truth' describes his this fate

120 For this offence against both you will meet a dire fate! When one ignorant of the truth describes the truth, this is the end he comes to!

Anubhāṣya.

Dui-ṭhāñi (in two places) — Śrī Jagannāthadeva and Śrī Caitanyadeva. The poet took Them both to belong to the material world, as matter and as a jīva: he supposed that the particle of spirit residing in the material body of the One had entered the material body of the other. Hence the offense lies in two places. Atattva-jña — one who has not grasped tattva, that is, a Māyāvādī ahaṅgrahopāsaka (who worships himself as God), a karmī who enjoys the fruits of his work, or a self-willed person devoted to the senses, who cannot tell the real from the unreal. Tattva varṇe — describes tattva, that is, what concerns Bhagavān.

*(2) The blunder (pramāda) is an offense: positing in Īśvara a difference between the body and the embodied one —*

আর এক কৈরাছ পরম 'প্রমাদ' !
দেহ-দেহি-ভেদ ঈশ্বরে কৈলে 'অপরাধ' ! ॥ ১২১ ॥

āra eka kairācha parama ‘pramāda’!
and one you have made great ‘blunder’
deha-dehi-bheda īśvare kaile ‘aparādha’!
the difference of body and embodied in the Lord you made ‘an offence’

121 You have made yet another great blunder (pramāda): by distinguishing between body and embodied in the Lord, you have committed an offence!

Anubhāṣya.
If one regards Īśvara as one does a bound jīva and holds His body and His embodied self (dehī) to be different things, that is an “offense.” In the material world a bound jīva has a bodily existence fashioned by guṇa-māyā, and a jīva's self-awareness fashioned by jīva-māyā, the marginal potency (taṭastha-śakti). The difference between Īśvara and the bound jīva is this. Īśvara bestows the fruits of karma and rules over them; that is, He is the cause of all causes, the Master of māyā, the Lord (prabhu) and the all-pervading truth (vibhu-tattva). The jīva, in the bound state, enjoys the fruits of karma and is subject to them, and even in the liberated state, in his own true nature, he is engaged in serving Īśvara. In other words, Īśvara is never under the control of māyā, whereas the jīva is liable to fall under it. Īśvara is immeasurable, undivided consciousness; the jīva is measurable, fragmentary consciousness.

The perishable, transient body of a bound jīva is māyic, that is, material. The transcendental body of a liberated, pure jīva is eternal; and Īśvara, who is beyond māyā, is also an eternal form endowed with features (saviśeṣa-vigraha). Though His eternal form appears in the world by the power of His own inconceivable potency, it is never māyic or material and never bears the qualities of this world. (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.11.39): “This is the lordship of the Lord: though He abides within prakṛti, He is not bound by its guṇas, though they are ever about Him — just as the intelligence that has taken shelter of Him is not bound by them.” To try to separate the body from the embodied one on the pretext of making the eternal form “featureless” (nirviśeṣa) is a work of grave offense.

The name, form and essential nature of Viṣṇu, the nondual Knowledge, are one —

ঈশ্বরের নাহি কভু দেহ-দেহি-ভেদ । স্বরূপ, দেহ, — চিদানন্দ, নাহিক বিভেদ ॥ ১২২ ॥

īśvarera nāhi kabhu deha-dehi-bheda
of the Lord there is not ever body–embodied difference
svarūpa, deha, — cid-ānanda, nāhika vibheda
His own form body — spirit and bliss there is no difference

122 In the Lord there is never any difference between body and embodied. His own form (svarūpa) and His body are both spirit and bliss; there is no difference between them.

Anubhāṣya.
The nondual Knowledge (advaya-jñāna) is Kṛṣṇa, the son of the king of Vraja. In determining the nature of the Truth, the verse vadanti tat tattva-vidaḥ[10] refutes the idea of duality in the one Parameśvara, who has no second. He is the nondual Knowledge; therefore His name, form, qualities and pastimes are not distinct from one another as the things of the material world are — they must be known as absolutely “nondifferent.” It is precisely by seeing in Īśvara a difference between body and embodied self that one mistakes Him for a “bound jīva,” for a bound jīva lacks the perception of the nondual Knowledge.

Evidence —

দেহ-দেহি-বিভাগোঽয়ং নেশ্বরে বিদ্যতে ক্বচিৎ ॥ ১২৩ ॥

deha-dehi-vibhāgo ’yaṁ
of body and embodied division this neśvare vidyate kvacit
not in the Lord exists ever

123 “This division of body and embodied never exists in the Lord.” (Kūrma Purāṇa)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

In Īśvara there is no difference between the body and its possessor (dehī).

Anubhāṣya.

īśvare (in the Supreme Soul, in Bhagavān, the Truth endowed with features) ayaṁ deha-dehi-vibhāgaḥ (a māyā-made difference of this kind: the name is one thing and its bearer another; the form one thing and the possessor of the form another; the quality one thing and its possessor another; the pastime one thing and its performer another — in Viṣṇu, the nondual Knowledge, made of pure sattva, in Goloka, in Paravyoma, in Devī-dhāma or within the fourteen worlds) kvacit (anywhere) na vidyate (does not exist).

নাতঃ পরং পরম যদ্ভবতঃ স্বরূপ-মানন্দমাত্রমবিকল্পমবিদ্ধবর্চ্চঃ । পশ্যামি বিশ্বসৃজমেকমবিশ্বমাত্মন্ ভূতেন্দ্রিয়াত্মকমদস্ত উপাশ্রিতোঽস্মি ॥ ১২৪ ॥

nātaḥ paraṁ parama yad bhavataḥ svarūpam not than this higher O Supreme which Your form ānanda-mātram avikalpam aviddha-varcaḥ pure bliss free of difference of unobscured radiance
paśyāmi viśva-sṛjam ekam aviśvam ātman
I see of the universe the creator one distinct from the universe O Self bhūtendriyātmakam adas ta upāśrito 'smi
the source of the elements and senses that Your sheltered I am

124 "O Supreme Lord, I see nothing higher than this form of Yours, which is pure bliss, free of all difference, its radiance unobscured. You are the one creator of the universe, yet You are distinct from it, O Self, and You are the source of the elements and the senses. I have taken shelter of that form of Yours." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 3.9.3)[5]

Anubhāṣya.

See Madhya 25.36.

তদ্বা ইদং ভুবনমঙ্গল মঙ্গলায়
ধ্যানে স্ম নো দর্শিতং ত উপাসকানাম্ ।
তস্মৈ নমো ভগবতেঽনুবিধেম তুভ্যং যোঽনাদৃতো নরকভাগ্ভিরসৎপ্রসঙ্গৈঃ ॥ ১২৫ ॥

tad vā idaṁ bhuvana-maṅgala maṅgalāya that indeed this (form) O good of the worlds for the good dhyāne sma no darśitaṁ ta upāsakānām
in meditation indeed to us shown by You to the worshippers
tasmai namo bhagavate 'nuvidhema tubhyaṁ to Him obeisance to Bhagavān we offer to You yo 'nādṛto naraka-bhāgbhir asat-prasaṅgaiḥ
who is not honoured by those bound for hell attached to false arguments

125 "O good of all the worlds, for our good You have shown this very form to us, Your worshippers, in meditation. We bow down to You, Bhagavān, whom those bound for hell, attached to false arguments, do not honour." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 3.9.4)[6]

Anubhāṣya.

See Madhya 25.37.

*The "difference" between Viṣṇu, the Supreme Lord, and the dependent jīva —*

কাঁহা 'পূর্ণানন্দৈশ্বর্য্য' কৃষ্ণ 'মহেশ্বর' !
কাঁহা 'ক্ষুদ্র' জীব 'দুঃখী', 'মায়ার কিঙ্কর' ! ॥ ১২৬ ॥

kāṁhā 'pūrṇānandaiśvarya' kṛṣṇa 'maheśvara'!
where 'full of bliss and opulence' Kṛṣṇa 'the Great Lord'
kāṁhā 'kṣudra' jīva 'duḥkhī', 'māyāra kiṅkara'!
where 'tiny' jīva 'miserable' 'servant of māyā'

126 Where is Kṛṣṇa, full of bliss and opulence, the Great Lord (Maheśvara)? And where is the tiny, miserable jīva, a servant of māyā?

Anubhāṣya.
Where is Kṛṣṇa, the great Parameśvara, the form of majesty full of complete bliss — and where the tiny bound jīva, a slave on the path of māyā, full of great suffering! Let alone equality between the two — they cannot even be compared.

হ্লাদিন্যা সম্বিদাশ্লিষ্টঃ সচ্চিদানন্দ ঈশ্বরঃ । স্বাবিদ্যা সংবৃতো জীবঃ সংক্লেশনিকরাকরঃ ॥ ১২৭ ॥

hlādinyā samvidāśliṣṭaḥ
by hlādinī embraced by saṁvit
sac-cid-ānanda īśvaraḥ
eternal being, consciousness and bliss the Lord
svāvidyā saṁvṛto jīvaḥ
by its own ignorance covered the jīva
saṁkleśa-nikarākaraḥ
a mine of a multitude of miseries

127 "The Lord, embraced by the hlādinī and saṁvit potencies, is eternal being, consciousness and bliss; the jīva, covered by its own ignorance, is a mine of countless miseries." (words of Viṣṇusvāmī quoted by Śrīdhara Svāmī in his commentary on Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 1.7.5–6)[7]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 18.114.

Everyone is astonished —

শুনি' সভাসদের হৈল মহাচমৎকার ।
সত্য কহে গোসাঞি, দুঁহারে কৈরাছে তিরস্কার ॥ ১২৮ ॥

śuni' sabhāsadera haila mahācamatkāra
hearing of the assembly there was great astonishment
satya kahe gosāñi, duṁhāre kairāche tiraskāra
truly speaks Gosāñi both he has insulted

128 Hearing this, the whole assembly was struck with wonder: "The Gosāñi speaks the truth! The poet has insulted both."

The shame, fear and astonishment of the mundane poet, whose knowledge rests on the senses —

শুনিয়া কবির হৈল লজ্জা, ভয়, বিস্ময় । হংস-মধ্যে বক যেন কিছু নাহি কয় ॥ ১২৯ ॥

śuniyā kavira haila lajjā, bhaya, vismaya hearing of the poet arose shame fear amazement
haṁsa-madhye baka yena kichu nāhi kaya
swans among a heron like anything not says

129 The poet was filled with shame, fear and amazement; like a heron among swans, he could say nothing.

The abundant mercy of the magnanimous Śrī Svarūpa —

তার দুঃখ দেখি’ স্বরূপ পরম-সদয় । উপদেশ কৈলা তারে যৈছে ‘হিত’ হয় ॥ ১৩০ ॥

tāra duḥkha dekhi’ svarūpa parama-sadaya
his distress seeing Svarūpa most merciful upadeśa kailā tāre yaiche ‘hita’ haya instruction gave to him so that ‘good’ may come

130 Seeing his distress, the most merciful Svarūpa instructed him in a way that would bring him true good:

*Through him, the supreme beneficial instruction to all jīvas from Śrī Svarūpa, the Vaiṣṇava ācārya nondifferent from Gaura —*

যাহ’, ভাগবত পড় বৈষ্ণবের স্থানে । একান্ত আশ্রয় কর চৈতন্য-চরণে ॥ ১৩১ ॥

yāha’, bhāgavata paḍa vaiṣṇavera sthāne go the Bhāgavata study from a Vaiṣṇava
ekānta āśraya kara caitanya-caraṇe
exclusive shelter take at Caitanya’s feet

131 “Go and study the Bhāgavata under a Vaiṣṇava, and take exclusive shelter at the feet of Caitanya.

Anubhāṣya.
If one goes to read or hear the Bhāgavatam from a Māyāvādī devoted to featureless kevalādvaita, from a grammarian clever with words but devoid of bhakti, or from a sense-enjoyer greedy for wealth, one will not attain love for Kṛṣṇa that way; instead of kṛṣṇa-rasa, only the enjoyment of material rasa will grow. One must read the Bhāgavatam only from a paramahaṁsa Vaiṣṇava who has renounced the objects of the senses. The Vaiṣṇava's only wealth is the meaning of the Bhāgavatam revealed by Śrī Caitanyacandra, and one receives it by taking exclusive shelter at His feet.

*Knowledge of the siddhānta of pure bhakti comes only through the association of Caitanya's devotees, those who cultivate the pure function of the spirit —*

চৈতন্যের ভক্তগণের নিত্য কর ‘সঙ্গ’ । তবে ত’ জানিবা সিদ্ধান্তসমুদ্র-তরঙ্গ ॥ ১৩২ ॥

caitanyera bhakta-gaṇera nitya kara ‘saṅga’
of Caitanya’s devotees always keep ‘the company’
tabe ta’ jānibā siddhānta-samudra-taraṅga
then indeed you will know of the ocean of siddhānta the waves

132 Always keep the company of Caitanya’s devotees; then you will come to know the waves of the ocean of siddhānta.

Anubhāṣya.
The devotees of Śrī Caitanya are eternal associates of Hari and the only knowers of transcendental tattva. If one associates with them wholly and without interruption, all the jīva's ignorance born of material enjoyment will be dispelled, and the true siddhānta of pure bhakti will be revealed to him.

*Knowledge of bhakti-siddhānta is the fruit of learning and scholarship —*

তবে পাণ্ডিত্য তোমার হইবে সফল । কৃষ্ণের স্বরূপ-লীলা বর্ণিবা নির্ম্মল ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

tabe pāṇḍitya tomāra haibe saphala
then learning your will become fruitful
kṛṣṇera svarūpa-līlā varṇibā nirmala Kṛṣṇa's true nature and pastimes you will describe purely 133 Then your learning will bear fruit, and you will describe Kṛṣṇa's true nature and pastimes purely, without fault.

এই শ্লোক কৈরাছ পাঞা সন্তোষ । তোমার হৃদয়ের অর্থে দুঁহায় লাগে 'দোষ' ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

ei śloka kairācha pāñā santoṣa
this verse you have composed having felt satisfaction
tomāra hṛdayera arthe duṁhāya lāge 'doṣa'
your of the heart by the meaning to both attaches 'fault'

134 You composed this verse with great satisfaction, but the meaning you had in mind lays fault on both Lords.

Anubhāṣya.
Duṁhāya* — in Śrī Jagannāthadeva and in Śrī Gaurahari.

*Even through the words of a fool or an enemy who reviles Kṛṣṇa, pure Sarasvatī — Kṛṣṇa's servant, the embodied message of bhakti-siddhānta — serves Gaura-Kṛṣṇa —*

তুমি যৈছে-তৈছে কহ, না জানিয়া রীতি । সরস্বতী সেই শব্দে কৈরাছে স্তুতি ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

tumi yaiche-taiche kaha, nā jāniyā rīti
you any which way speak not knowing the proper way sarasvatī sei śabde kairāche stuti
Sarasvatī with those words has made praise

135 You spoke at random, not knowing the proper way; yet with those very words Sarasvatī has offered praise.

Anubhāṣya.
Out of ignorance you do not see the difference between Māyāvāda and the path of bhakti. That is why the way you expressed your idea is not good: it came out any which way. But Sarasvatī, the goddess who presides over composition, has used these very clumsy words of yours to praise her own worshipable Gaura-Kṛṣṇa.

যৈছে ইন্দ্র, দৈত্যাদি করে কৃষ্ণের ভর্ৎসন । সেইশব্দে সরস্বতী করেন স্তবন ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

yaiche indra, daityādi kare kṛṣṇera bhartsana
as Indra the demons and others do of Kṛṣṇa rebuke sei-śabde sarasvatī karena stavana
with those words Sarasvatī does praise

136 When Indra, the demons and others rebuke Kṛṣṇa, Sarasvatī offers praise with those very words.

(a) An example: the reviling words of Indra, whose knowledge rests on the senses —

বাচালং বালিশং স্তব্ধমজ্ঞং পণ্ডিতমানিনম্ । কৃষ্ণং মর্ত্ত্যমুপাশ্রিত্য গোপা মে চক্রুরপ্রিয়ম্ ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

vācālaṁ bāliśaṁ stabdham
talkative childish stubborn
ajñaṁ paṇḍita-māninam ignorant thinking Himself learned kṛṣṇaṁ martyam upāśritya Kṛṣṇa a mortal having taken shelter of gopā me cakrur apriyam
the cowherds to me have done an offence

137 "Taking shelter of Kṛṣṇa — a talkative, childish, stubborn, ignorant mortal who thinks Himself learned — these cowherds have offended me." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.25.5)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Indra said: "Relying on this talkative, foolish, impudent, ignorant, mortal Kṛṣṇa, who thinks Himself learned, the cowherds have done what displeases me."

Anubhāṣya.
gopāḥ vācālaṁ (very talkative) bāliśaṁ (a child, or a fool) stabdham (ill-mannered) ajñaṁ (who does not foresee the consequences) paṇḍita-māninaṁ (who thinks Himself learned) martyam (a mortal man) kṛṣṇam upāśritya (relying on) me (to me) apriyam (what is contrary to my wish — an insult) cakruḥ.

(Although Indra's words are used to revile, pure Sarasvatī praises Kṛṣṇa through his speech:) vācālaṁ (He who by speech [vācā] is fully [alam] able — the source of the śāstra, He who set the Vedas in motion) bāliśaṁ (childlike — free of self-importance, without pride) stabdham (who bows to no one, for there is no one else worthy of worship) ajñaṁ (He beyond whom there is no other knower [jña], no other intelligence — the omniscient) paṇḍita-māninaṁ (He who is served by many and highly honored by the paṇḍitas, the knowers of Brahman or the knowers of bondage and liberation) martyam (He who, out of affection for His devotees, appears as a human being) kṛṣṇam (the Supreme Brahman, whose form is eternity, knowledge and bliss); the rest is clear.

Indra, puffed up with mundane pride —

ঐশ্বর্য্য মদে মত্ত ইন্দ্র, — যেন মাতোয়াল । বুদ্ধিনাশ হৈল, কেবল নাহিক সাম্ভাল ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

aiśvarya made matta indra, — yena mātoyāla
by the intoxication of opulence maddened Indra — like a drunkard buddhi-nāśa haila, kevala nāhika sāmbhāla loss of intelligence occurred at all there is no self-control

138 Indra, maddened by the intoxication of his opulence, was like a drunkard: his intelligence was lost, and he had no self-control at all.

Anubhāṣya.
Sāmbhāla (a Hindi word) — good sense, or caution; in colloquial speech, sāmāla.

Through the very words of reviling in Indra's mouth, pure Sarasvatī praises Kṛṣṇa —

ইন্দ্র বলে, — মুঞি কৃষ্ণের কৈরাছি নিন্দন । তারই মুখে সরস্বতী করেন স্তবন ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

indra bale, — muñi kṛṣṇera kairāchi nindana Indra says — I of Kṛṣṇa have made reviling
tārai mukhe sarasvatī karena stavana
from his very mouth Sarasvatī does praise

139 Indra says, "I have reviled Kṛṣṇa," yet from his very mouth Sarasvatī offers praise.

*Pure Sarasvatī explains the words: (1) vācāla, (2) bāliśa —*

‘বাচাল’ কহিয়ে — ‘বেদপ্রবর্ত্তক’ ধন্য ।
‘বালিশ’ — তথাপি ‘শিশু-প্রায়’ গর্ব্বশূন্য ॥ ১৪০ ॥

‘vācāla’ kahiye — ‘veda-pravartaka’ dhanya ‘talkative’ we call — ‘the promulgator of the Vedas’ glorious ‘bāliśa’ — tathāpi ‘śiśu-prāya’ garva-śūnya
‘childish’ — yet ‘like a child’ free of pride

140 ‘Vācāla’ (talkative) means the glorious One who set the Vedas in motion; and ‘bāliśa’ (childish) means that, great as He is, He is like a child, free of pride.

*(3) stabdha, (4) ajña —*

বন্দ্যাভাবে ‘অনম্র’ — ‘স্তব্ধ’-শব্দে কয় । যাহা হৈতে অন্য ‘বিজ্ঞ’ নাহি — সে ‘অজ্ঞ’ হয় ॥ ১৪১ ॥

vandyābhāve ‘anamra’ — ‘stabdha’-śabde kaya
for want of one to honour ‘not bowing’ — by the word ‘stabdha’ is said yāhā haite anya ‘vijña’ nāhi — se ‘ajña’ haya than whom another ‘knower’ there is not — He ‘ajña’ is 141 Because there is no one for Him to honour, He bows to none: this is what the word ‘stabdha’ (stubborn) says. And He beyond whom there is no other knower is ‘ajña’ (ignorant) — there is nothing for Him to learn.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Vandyābhāve anamra — stabdha-śabde kaya: there is no one whom He must worship, and so He bows to no one — this is what the word stabdha expresses.

*(5) paṇḍita-mānī and (6) martya —*

পণ্ডিতের মান্য-পাত্র — হয় ‘পণ্ডিতমানী’ । তথাপি ভক্তবাৎসল্যে ‘মনুষ্য’-অভিমানী ॥ ১৪২ ॥

paṇḍitera mānya-pātra — haya ‘paṇḍita-mānī’
of the learned the object of honour — is ‘paṇḍita-mānī’
tathāpi bhakta-vātsalye ‘manuṣya’-abhimānī
still out of affection for devotees ‘human’ considers Himself

142 The one honoured by the learned is ‘paṇḍita-mānī’; yet out of affection for His devotees He regards Himself as a human being, a ‘mortal’.

(b) An example: the reviling words of Jarāsandha, an enemy —

জরাসন্ধ কহে, — কৃষ্ণ — ‘পুরুষ-অধম’ । তোর সঙ্গে না যুঝিমু, ‘যাহি বন্ধুহন্’ ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

jarāsandha kahe, — kṛṣṇa — ‘puruṣa-adhama’ Jarāsandha says — Kṛṣṇa — ‘the lowest of men’
tora saṅge nā yujhimu, ‘yāhi bandhu-han’
with You not I shall fight ‘go away, slayer of kinsmen’

143 Jarāsandha said, “Kṛṣṇa is the lowest of men! I will not fight with You — go away, slayer of Your kinsmen!”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Nā yujhimu, ‘yāhi bandhu-han’ — “O slayer of Your kin, go away; I will not fight with You.”

Thus ends the fifth chapter of the “Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.”

Anubhāṣya.

Addressing Kṛṣṇa, Jarāsandha said: “O lowest of men (puruṣādhama), O slayer of Your kin (bandhu-han), go away; I will not fight with You.” Through these words of Jarāsandha pure Sarasvatī praises Kṛṣṇa. The word puruṣādhama (a bahuvrīhi compound) means “He compared with whom all men (puruṣas) are low (adhama),” that is, “Puruṣottama.” A bandhu is that which holds out the hope of success in saṁsāra: māyā, or avidyā, is the bandhu. One who destroys māyā, or avidyā, is bandhu-hā; in the vocative, bandhu-han.

*Through these words of reviling pure Sarasvatī praises Kṛṣṇa: (1) puruṣādhama —*

যাহা হৈতে অন্য পুরুষসকল — ‘অধম’ । সেই হয় ‘পুরুষাধম’ — সরস্বতীর মন ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

yāhā haite anya puruṣa-sakala — ‘adhama’
than whom other persons all — ‘lower’
sei haya ‘puruṣādhama’ — sarasvatīra mana
He is ‘puruṣādhama’ — Sarasvatī’s meaning

144 He in comparison with whom all other persons are lower is ‘puruṣādhama’ — that is Sarasvatī’s meaning.

*(2) bandhu-han —*

‘বান্ধে সবারে’ — তাতে অবিদ্যা ‘বন্ধু’ হয় ।
‘অবিদ্যা-নাশক’ — ‘বন্ধুহন্’-শব্দে কয় ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

‘bāndhe sabāre’ — tāte avidyā ‘bandhu’ haya ‘binds all’ — therefore ignorance ‘bandhu’ is ‘avidyā-nāśaka’ — ‘bandhu-han’-śabde kaya
‘destroyer of ignorance’ — by the word ‘bandhu-han’ is said

145 Because it binds everyone, ignorance (avidyā) is the ‘bandhu’; so the word ‘bandhu-han’ means the destroyer of ignorance.

An example: the reviling words of Śiśupāla, an enemy —

এইমত শিশুপাল করিল নিন্দন । সেইবাক্যে সরস্বতী করেন স্তবন ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

ei-mata śiśupāla karila nindana
in this way Śiśupāla did reviling sei-vākye sarasvatī karena stavana
with those words Sarasvatī does praise

146 In the same way Śiśupāla reviled Kṛṣṇa, and with those very words Sarasvatī offered praise.

Anubhāṣya.

With the very words with which Śiśupāla reviled Kṛṣṇa, pure Sarasvatī likewise praises Kṛṣṇa.

*Svarūpa explains the mundane poet's words as praise of Kṛṣṇa and establishes the nondifference of the Dāru-brahma, Jagannātha, from the moving Brahman (jaṅgama-brahma), Gaurahari —*

তৈছে এই শ্লোকে তোমার অর্থে ‘নিন্দা’ আইসে । সরস্বতীর অর্থ শুন, যাতে ‘স্তুতি’ ভাসে ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

taiche ei śloke tomāra arthe ‘nindā’ āise
so in this verse by your meaning ‘blame’ comes sarasvatīra artha śuna, yāte ‘stuti’ bhāse
Sarasvatī’s meaning hear in which ‘praise’ shines

147 So too with this verse: in your meaning it speaks blame. Now hear Sarasvatī's meaning, in which praise shines forth.

জগন্নাথ হয় কৃষ্ণের 'আত্মস্বরূপ' ।
কিন্তু ইঁহা দারুব্রহ্ম — 'স্থাবর-স্বরূপ' ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

jagannātha haya kṛṣṇera 'ātma-svarūpa' Jagannātha is Kṛṣṇa's 'very self'
kintu iṁhā dāru-brahma — 'sthāvara-svarūpa'
but here the Dāru-brahma — 'an immobile form'

148 Jagannātha is Kṛṣṇa's very self (ātma-svarūpa), but here He is the Dāru-brahma, in an immobile form.[8]

*To deliver the world, the one vigraha, by the power of His will (icchā-śakti), is manifest in two forms —*

তাঁহা-সহ আত্মতা একরূপ হঞা । কৃষ্ণ একতত্ত্বরূপ — দুইরূপ হঞা ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

tāṁhā-saha ātmatā eka-rūpa hañā with Him selfhood one form being kṛṣṇa eka-tattva-rūpa — dui-rūpa hañā Kṛṣṇa the one truth — two forms having become

149 Caitanya is one with Him in self and form: Kṛṣṇa, the one truth, has appeared in two forms.

সংসারতারণ-হেতু যেই ইচ্ছা-শক্তি । তাহার মিলন করি' একতা ঐছে প্রাপ্তি ॥ ১৫০ ॥

saṁsāra-tāraṇa-hetu yei icchā-śakti
for deliverance from saṁsāra that will-potency tāhāra milana kari' ekatā aiche prāpti
of that union making oneness thus is attained

150 Uniting in that will (icchā-śakti) whose aim is to deliver souls from saṁsāra, They attain such oneness.

সকল সংসারী-লোকের করিতে উদ্ধার । গৌর-জঙ্গম-রূপে কৈলা অবতার ॥ ১৫১ ॥

sakala saṁsārī-lokera karite uddhāra
all worldly people to deliver gaura-jaṅgama-rūpe kailā avatāra
of Gaura in the moving form made descent

151 To deliver all the people of the world, He descended in the moving form of Gaura.

Jīvas* are delivered by seeing Jagannātha and through Gaura's preaching —*

জগন্নাথের দর্শনে খণ্ডায় সংসার । সব-দেশের সব-লোক নারে আসিবার ॥ ১৫২ ॥

jagannāthera darśane khaṇḍāya saṁsāra
by the sight of Jagannātha is cut saṁsāra saba-deśera saba-loka nāre āsibāra
of all lands all people cannot come

152 By seeing Jagannātha one is freed from saṁsāra, but not all the people of every land can come to Him.

শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্যপ্রভু দেশে দেশে যাঞা । সব-লোকে নিস্তারিলা জঙ্গম-ব্রহ্ম হঞা ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanya-prabhu deśe deśe yāñā Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Prabhu land to land going saba-loke nistārilā jaṅgama-brahma hañā
all people delivered the moving Brahman becoming

153 So Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Prabhu, going from land to land as the moving Brahman (jaṅgama-brahma), delivered everyone.

সরস্বতীর অর্থ এই কহিলুঁ বিবরণ । এহো ভাগ্য তোমার — ঐছে করিলা বর্ণন ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

sarasvatīra artha ei kahiluṁ vivaraṇa Sarasvatī's meaning this I have told the explanation
eho bhāgya tomāra — aiche karilā varṇana
this too fortune yours — thus you made the description

154 This is the explanation I have given of Sarasvatī's meaning. It is your good fortune, too, that you described Them in this way.

*Even in reviling Kṛṣṇa, the Name uttered as stobha — a nāmābhāsa — brings liberation[11] —*

কৃষ্ণে গালি দিতে করে নাম উচ্চারণ । সেই নাম হয় তার 'মুক্তি'র কারণ ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

kṛṣṇe gāli dite kare nāma uccāraṇa Kṛṣṇa to abuse makes the name utterance sei nāma haya tāra 'mukti'ra kāraṇa
that name becomes his of 'liberation' the cause

155 One may utter Kṛṣṇa's name only to abuse Him, yet that very name becomes the cause of his liberation."

The poet surrenders at the feet of the Vaiṣṇavas —

তবে সেই কবি সবার চরণে পড়িয়া । সবা শরণ লৈল দন্তে তৃণ লঞা ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

tabe sei kavi sabāra caraṇe paḍiyā
then that poet at the feet of all falling sabā śaraṇa laila dante tṛṇa lañā of all shelter took in the teeth straw holding

156 Then the poet fell at everyone's feet and, holding straw between his teeth, took shelter of them all.

First the devotees' mercy, and through it, Mahāprabhu's mercy —

তবে সব ভক্ত তারে অঙ্গীকার কৈলা । তার গুণ কহি' মহাপ্রভুরে মিলাইলা ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

tabe saba bhakta tāre aṅgīkāra kailā
then all devotees him accepted
tāra guṇa kahi' mahāprabhure milāilā his qualities telling with Mahāprabhu introduced

157 All the devotees then accepted him and, speaking of his good qualities, introduced him to Mahāprabhu.

*The poet accepts the dharma of sannyāsa and lives in Purī —*

সেই কবি সর্ব্ব ত্যজি' রহিলা নীলাচলে । গৌরভক্তগণের কৃপা কে কহিতে পারে ? ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

sei kavi sarva tyaji' rahilā nīlācale
that poet everything giving up stayed in Nīlācala
gaura-bhakta-gaṇera kṛpā ke kahite pāre?
of Gaura's devotees the mercy who to describe can 158 The poet gave up everything and remained in Nīlācala. Who can describe the mercy of Gaura's devotees?

Described: the pastime of Miśra's hearing about Kṛṣṇa, and Rāmānanda's glory —

এই ত' কহিলুঁ প্রদ্যুম্নমিশ্র-বিবরণ । প্রভুর আজ্ঞায় কৈল কৃষ্ণকথার শ্রবণ ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ pradyumna-miśra-vivaraṇa
thus indeed I have told of Pradyumna Miśra the account
prabhura ājñāya kaila kṛṣṇa-kathāra śravaṇa
by the Lord's order he did of Kṛṣṇa-kathā the hearing

159 Thus I have told the account of Pradyumna Miśra, who by the Lord's order heard talks about Kṛṣṇa.

তার মধ্যে কহিলুঁ রামানন্দের মহিমা । আপনে শ্রীমুখে প্রভু বর্ণে যাঁর সীমা ॥ ১৬০ ॥

tāra madhye kahiluṁ rāmānandera mahimā
within that I have told Rāmānanda's glory
āpane śrī-mukhe prabhu varṇe yāṁra sīmā
Himself with His holy mouth the Lord describes whose limit

160 Within it I have spoken of the glory of Rāmānanda, the full extent of which the Lord Himself described with His own holy lips.

Through faith in the Vaiṣṇavas even an unlearned poet receives the Lord's mercy —

প্রস্তাবে কহিলুঁ কবির নাটক-বিবরণ । অজ্ঞ হঞা শ্রদ্ধায় পাইল প্রভুর চরণ ॥ ১৬১ ॥

prastāve kahiluṁ kavira nāṭaka-vivaraṇa
in passing I have told the poet's drama account
ajña hañā śraddhāya pāila prabhura caraṇa
ignorant being by faith obtained the Lord's feet

161 In passing I have also related the story of the poet's drama: ignorant though he was, by faith he attained the Lord's feet.

*By hearing and chanting Caitanya's pastimes with faith, one attains sambandha, abhidheya and prayojana —*

শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য-লীলা — অমৃতের সার । একলীলা-প্রবাহে বহে শত-শত ধার ॥ ১৬২ ॥

śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanya-līlā — amṛtera sāra Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya's pastimes — of nectar the essence ekalīlā-pravāhe vahe śata-śata dhāra
of a single pastime in the stream flow hundreds upon hundreds of currents

162 The pastimes of Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya are the essence of nectar: from the stream of a single pastime flow hundreds upon hundreds of currents.

Anubhāṣya.

Thus ends the fifth chapter of the “Anubhāṣya.”

শ্রদ্ধা করি’ এই লীলা যেই পড়ে, শুনে । গৌরলীলা, ভক্তি, ভক্ত, রস-তত্ত্ব জানে ॥ ১৬৩ ॥

śraddhā kari’ ei līlā yei paḍe, śune faith having this pastime whoever reads hears gaura-līlā, bhakti, bhakta, rasa-tattva jāne
Gaura’s pastimes bhakti the devotees the truth of rasa knows

163 Whoever reads or hears this pastime with faith comes to know the pastimes of Gaura, bhakti, the devotees and the truth of rasa.

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১৬৪ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa’s, Raghunātha’s at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
“Caitanya-caritāmṛta” narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

164 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads “তাহাদের সব সেবা”, “every service for them” ↩
2. The second line is the same as Madhya 13.67; translation as there. ↩
3. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads “লঞা আইলা শুনাইতে”, without “প্রভুকে” (“to the Lord”). ↩
4. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads “এক কবি”, “a poet” (the text Vṛndāvana Candra dāsa followed has “এক বিপ্র”, “a brāhmaṇa”). ↩
5. = Madhya 25.36; translation as there. ↩
6. = Madhya 25.37; translation as there. ↩
7. = Madhya 18.114; translation as there. ↩
8. Dāru-brahma — the Brahman manifest in a form of sacred wood (dāru); to see in the Deity only a wooden image is an offence (Anubhāṣya, see 118). ↩
9. Bṛhad-āraṇyaka Upaniṣad 2.1.20. ↩
10. Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.2.11 (CC, Ādi 2.11). ↩
11. Stobha is one kind of nāmābhāsa: the Name uttered not for its own sake (literally, “a filler syllable in a chant”); compare Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 6.2.14. ↩

“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 6

The Meeting with Śrī Raghunātha dāsa

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. When intense feelings of love for Kṛṣṇa arose in Mahāprabhu, Svarūpa and Rāmānanda would console Him at length. At this time Raghunātha dāsa arrived. For a long time Raghunātha dāsa had been trying to take shelter at the Lord's feet. When Mahāprabhu, on the pretext of going to Vṛndāvana, came to Śāntipura, Raghunātha prayed to be allowed to take shelter at His feet, but Mahāprabhu instructed him to follow yukta-vairāgya (renunciation fit for devotion). Meanwhile a certain mleccha caudhurī, hostile to Hiraṇya dāsa, brought the vizier (ujir) from Gauḍa, and Hiraṇya dāsa fled. Through Raghunātha dāsa's intelligence the trouble passed. Raghunātha dāsa went to Pāṇihāṭī and, at Nityānanda Prabhu's order, held a festival of ciḍā and dadhi (flat rice and yogurt). The day after the festival Nityānanda Prabhu mercifully blessed Raghunātha to attain Caitanya's feet. Then at night Śrī Yadunandana Ācārya came to his house — a recipient of Vāsudeva Datta's mercy, and Raghunātha's own guru and family priest (purohita). Raghunātha went some distance with him and then ran away alone. By hidden paths he reached Puruṣottama in twelve days and fell at Mahāprabhu's feet. Mahāprabhu gave him the name “Svarūpa's Raghu” and placed him in Svarūpa Gosvāmī's hands. For five days Raghunātha honoured prasāda; then for a long time he lived at the Siṁha-dvāra without asking for anything (ayācaka-vṛtti)[32], and later he began to beg mahā-prasāda at the chatra and eat it. Raghunātha's father, hearing the news, sent men and money, but Raghunātha accepted no large sums from them. When Mahāprabhu heard that Raghunātha was begging at the chatra, He gave him His own guñjā garland and the govardhana-śilā. Later Dāsa Gosvāmī began to wash and eat rotten prasāda thrown away on the road. Svarūpa and Mahāprabhu were pleased by this, and one day They forcibly tasted that prasāda and so showed Raghunātha mercy.

Obeisance to Gaura, who entrusted Raghunātha to Svarūpa and so made him His own —

কৃপাগুণৈর্য্যঃ কুগৃহান্ধকূপা- দুদ্ধৃত্য ভঙ্গ্যা রঘুনাথদাসম্ ।
ন্যস্য স্বরূপে বিদধেঽন্তরঙ্গং শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্যমমুং প্রপদ্যে ॥ ১ ॥

kṛpā-guṇair yaḥ kugṛhāndha-kūpād
by the ropes of mercy who from the blind well of a wretched household uddhṛtya bhaṅgyā raghunātha-dāsam
having lifted out by a clever device Raghunātha dāsa nyasya svarūpe vidadhe ’ntar-aṅgaṁ entrusting to Svarūpa made His intimate one śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanyam amuṁ prapadye
Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya to Him take refuge

1 I take refuge in Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, who by the ropes of His mercy cleverly lifted Raghunātha dāsa out of the blind well of a wretched household life, entrusted him to Svarūpa, and made him His intimate associate.[1]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

By the power of His mercy He skilfully drew Raghunātha dāsa out of the blind well of household life, entrusted him to Svarūpa and made him His intimate devotee. I take refuge at the feet of that Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya.

Anubhāṣya.

yaḥ (Caitanyadeva) kṛpā-guṇaiḥ (by the bounty of His compassion) kugṛhāndha-kūpāt (ku, bad, that is, full of talk of husbands, wives, sons and the like; from such a home, a blind well with no way out) raghunātha-dāsam (Dāsa Gosvāmī) bhaṅgyā (skilfully) uddhṛtya (having drawn out) svarūpe (to Svarūpa Dāmodara Gosvāmī) nyasya (having handed over) antaraṅgam (His intimate) vidadhe (made), amum (Him) śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanyam ahaṁ prapadye (I take shelter).

In the Vilāpa-kusumāñjali-stava of Śrī Raghunātha dāsa Gosvāmī it is said: “I worship Caitanya-candra. An ocean of dense compassion, independent by nature, He at once drew me out with the ropes of His mercy from a vast, waterless, impassable well of boundless suffering, Himself brought me to the edge of His feet, which put the lotus to shame, and gave me over to Śrī Dāmodara.”

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory of Gaura the devotees to the multitude

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura![2]

Gaura's pastimes in Nīlācala —

এইমত গৌরচন্দ্র ভক্তগণ-সঙ্গে । নীলাচলে নানা লীলা করে নানা-রঙ্গে ॥ ৩ ॥

ei-mata gauracandra bhakta-gaṇa-saṅge
in this way Gauracandra with the devotees
nīlācale nānā līlā kare nānā-raṅge
in Nīlācala various pastimes performs in various joyful ways

3 In this way Gauracandra and His devotees enjoyed many pastimes in Nīlācala, in many joyful moods.

Fearing to cause His devotees pain, He hides His own grief of separation from Kṛṣṇa —

যদ্যপি অন্তরে কৃষ্ণ-বিয়োগ বাধয়ে । বাহিরে না প্রকাশয় ভক্ত-দুঃখ-ভয়ে ॥ ৪ ॥

yadyapi antare kṛṣṇa-viyoga bādhaye
although within separation from Kṛṣṇa afflicts (Him)
bāhire nā prakāśaya bhakta-duḥkha-bhaye outwardly not He shows (it) for fear of the devotees’ sorrow

4 Although separation from Kṛṣṇa afflicted Him within, He did not show it outwardly, for fear that His devotees would grieve.

The Lord's indescribable agitation in the sharpest grief of separation from Kṛṣṇa —

উৎকট বিরহ-দুঃখ যবে বাহিরায় । তবে যে বৈকল্য প্রভুর বর্ণন না যায় ॥ ৫ ॥

utkaṭa viraha-duḥkha yabe bāhirāya intense the pain of separation when comes out tabe ye vaikalya prabhura varṇana nā yāya
then what agitation of the Lord description not is possible

5 But when the intense pain of separation broke out, the Lord’s agitation was beyond description.

*In separation (vipralambha) only Rāya's talks about Kṛṣṇa and Svarūpa's singing sustain the Lord's life —*

রামানন্দের কৃষ্ণকথা, স্বরূপের গান । বিরহ-বেদনায় প্রভুর রাখয়ে পরাণ ॥ ৬ ॥

rāmānandera kṛṣṇa-kathā, svarūpera gāna Rāmānanda's talks about Kṛṣṇa Svarūpa's singing viraha-vedanāya prabhura rākhaye parāṇa
in the pain of separation the Lord's preserve life

6 Rāmānanda's talks about Kṛṣṇa and Svarūpa's singing kept the Lord alive in the pain of separation.

Among many people, in various talks about Kṛṣṇa, the weight of separation lightens; at night, in solitude, the grief of separation from Kṛṣṇa grows —

দিনে প্রভু নানা-সঙ্গে হয় অন্য মন । রাত্রিকালে বাড়ে প্রভুর বিরহ-বেদন ॥ ৭ ॥

dine prabhu nānā-saṅge haya anya mana
by day the Lord in various company becomes other the mind
rātri-kāle bāḍe prabhura viraha-vedana
at night increases the Lord's pain of separation

7 By day, in the company of various people, the Lord's mind was diverted; but at night His pain of separation grew.

Svarūpa and Rāmānanda Rāya console the Lord with words and songs suited to His mood —

তাঁর সুখ-হেতু সঙ্গে রহে দুই জনা । কৃষ্ণরস-শ্লোক-গীতে করেন সান্ত্বনা ॥ ৮ ॥

tāṁra sukha-hetu saṅge rahe dui janā
His for the happiness with (Him) stay two persons kṛṣṇa-rasa-śloka-gīte karena sāntvanā with verses and songs about the rasa of Kṛṣṇa they give consolation

8 Two companions stayed with Him for His happiness, consoling Him with verses and songs about the sweet rasa of Kṛṣṇa.

As Kṛṣṇa has His friend Subala, so the Lord has Rāmānanda Rāya —

সুবল যৈছে পূর্ব্বে কৃষ্ণসুখের সহায় । গৌরসুখদান-হেতু তৈছে রাম-রায় ॥ ৯ ॥

subala yaiche pūrve kṛṣṇa-sukhera sahāya Subala as formerly of Kṛṣṇa's happiness the helper
gaura-sukha-dāna-hetu taiche rāma-rāya
for giving happiness to Gaura so Rāmānanda Rāya

9 As Subala formerly helped to make Kṛṣṇa happy, so Rāmānanda Rāya gave happiness to Gaura.

As Śrī Rādhā has Her friend Lalitā, so the Lord has Svarūpa Dāmodara —

পূর্ব্বে যৈছে রাধার ললিতা সহায়-প্রধান । তৈছে স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি রাখে প্রভুর প্রাণ ॥ ১০ ॥

pūrve yaiche rādhāra lalitā sahāya-pradhāna formerly as Rādhā's Lalitā the chief helper
taiche svarūpa-gosāñi rākhe prabhura prāṇa
so Svarūpa Gosāñi preserves the Lord's life

10 As Lalitā was formerly Rādhā's chief helper, so Svarūpa Gosāñi kept the Lord alive.

Both are the Lord's dearest intimate associates —

দুই জনার সৌভাগ্য কহন না যায় । প্রভুর 'অন্তরঙ্গ' বলি' যাঁরে লোকে গায় ॥ ১১ ॥

dui janāra saubhāgya kahana nā yāya
of the two persons the good fortune telling not is possible
prabhura 'antaraṅga' bali' yāṁre loke gāya
the Lord's 'intimate associates' as whom people praise

11 The good fortune of these two cannot be described: people praise them as the Lord's intimate associates.

The account of Raghunātha's meeting with the Lord —

এইমত বিহরে গৌর লঞা ভক্তগণ । রঘুনাথ-মিলন এবে শুন, ভক্তগণ ॥ ১২ ॥

ei-mata vihare gaura lañā bhakta-gaṇa
in this way sports Gaura taking the devotees raghunātha-milana ebe śuna, bhakta-gaṇa
the meeting with Raghunātha now hear O devotees

12 In this way Gaura enjoyed His pastimes with His devotees. Now, O devotees, hear of His meeting with Raghunātha.

Earlier, on the way back to Purī from Kānāi's Nāṭaśālā, the Lord instructed Raghunātha at Śāntipura —

পূর্ব্বে শান্তিপুরে রঘুনাথ যবে আইলা । মহাপ্রভু কৃপা করি' তাঁরে শিখাইলা ॥ ১৩ ॥

pūrve śāntipure raghunātha yabe āilā formerly to Śāntipura Raghunātha when came mahāprabhu kṛpā kari' tāṁre śikhāilā Mahāprabhu mercy showing him instructed

13 Earlier, when Raghunātha had come to Śāntipura, Mahāprabhu mercifully instructed him.

*Following the Lord's instruction, Raghu practises yukta-vairāgya at home: outwardly like a worldly man, inwardly free from sense objects, possessing nothing and doing everything for Kṛṣṇa —*

প্রভুর শিক্ষাতে তেঁহো নিজ-ঘরে যায় । মর্কট-বৈরাগ্য ছাড়ি' হইলা 'বিষয়ি-প্রায়' ॥ ১৪ ॥

prabhura śikṣāte teṁho nija-ghare yāya
the Lord's by the instruction he to his own home goes markaṭa-vairāgya chāḍi' hailā 'viṣayi-prāya'
monkey renunciation giving up became 'like a worldly man'

14 Following the Lord's instruction, he went home and, giving up the "monkey renunciation" (markaṭa-vairāgya), lived outwardly like a worldly man.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Markaṭa-vairāgya (monkey renunciation). When a householder wears the dress and other marks of a renunciant, this too is called "markaṭa-vairāgya."

Anubhāṣya.

Before people's eyes Śrī Raghunātha played the part of a worldly man (viṣayī) and completely gave up imitating the way of the monkey, attached to enjoyment, that makes a show of outward renunciation.

Anubhāṣya.

The instruction to Śrī Raghunātha — see Madhya 16.238–243.

ভিতরে বৈরাগ্য, বাহিরে করে সর্ব্ব-কর্ম্ম । দেখিয়া ত' মাতা-পিতার আনন্দিত মন ॥ ১৫ ॥

bhitare vairāgya, bāhire kare sarva-karma
within detachment outwardly does all work dekhiyā ta' mātā-pitāra ānandita mana seeing (this) indeed of mother and father gladdened the minds

15 Within he was detached, but outwardly he did all his duties; seeing this, his mother and father were glad at heart.

Anubhāṣya.

Without ever admitting into his heart anything other than Kṛṣṇa, he carried out every kind of worldly business before people's eyes.

He prepares to go to the Lord, who has returned from Mathurā —

মথুরা হৈতে প্রভু আইলা, — বার্ত্তা যবে পাইলা । প্রভু-পাশ চলিবারে উদ্যোগ করিলা ॥ ১৬ ॥

mathurā haite prabhu āilā, — vārtā yabe pāilā from Mathurā the Lord has come the news when he received prabhu-pāśa calibāre udyoga karilā
to the Lord to go preparations he made

16 When he received news that the Lord had returned from Mathurā, he prepared to go to Him.

*The Muslim caudhurī of Saptagrāma; control of Saptagrāma with the backing of the Nawab's vizier —*

হেন-কালে মুলুকের এক ম্লেচ্ছ অধিকারী । সপ্তগ্রাম-মুলুকের সে হয় 'চৌধুরী' ॥ ১৭ ॥

hena-kāle mulukera eka mleccha adhikārī
at this time of the province a Muslim (mleccha) official saptagrāma-mulukera se haya 'caudhurī'
of the province of Saptagrāma he was the caudhurī

17 At that time a Muslim official was the caudhurī, the revenue collector, of the Saptagrāma province.

Anubhāṣya.

Caudhurīs are those who take for themselves their due quarter of the tax collected from the subjects and pay the revenue to the landholder.

হিরণ্যদাস মুলুক নিল 'মক্রুরি' করিয়া । তার অধিকার গেল, মরে সে দেখিয়া ॥ ১৮ ॥

hiraṇya-dāsa muluka nila ‘makrari’ kariyā Hiraṇya dāsa the province took a permanent lease making tāra adhikāra gela, mare se dekhiyā
his authority went is mortified he seeing (this)

18 Hiraṇya dāsa had taken the province on a permanent revenue lease (makrari). The official lost his authority, and seeing this he burned with resentment.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Makarari — ijārā, that is, a (permanent) lease of the revenue.

Anubhāṣya.
Hiraṇya dāsa took a permanent lease of the tax collection of the Saptagrāma district, and the Muslim caudhurī lost his whole income. Seeing this, he became furious to the core.

বার লক্ষ দেয় রাজায়, সাধে বিশ লক্ষ । সে ‘তুরুক্’ কিছু না পাঞা হৈল প্রতিপক্ষ ॥ ১৯ ॥

bāra lakṣa deya rājāya, sādhe biśa lakṣa
twelve lakhs gives to the king collects twenty lakhs
se ‘turuk’ kichu nā pāñā haila pratipakṣa
that Turk anything not getting became an enemy

19 Hiraṇya collected twenty lakhs and paid the king twelve. Getting nothing, that “Turk” became his enemy.[3]

Anubhāṣya.
Having collected twenty lakhs, Hiraṇya should have kept back a quarter (five lakhs) and paid the king fifteen lakhs, but he paid twelve. So that “Turk,” that is, the Muslim, was deprived of his due share of the income and became their enemy.

Hiraṇya and Govardhana flee, and Raghunātha is arrested —

রাজ-ঘরে কৈফিয়ৎ দিয়া উজিরে আনিল । হিরণ্যদাস পলাইল, রঘুনাথেরে বান্ধিল ॥ ২০ ॥

rāja-ghare kaiphiyat diyā ujire ānila at the royal court a report submitting the vizier he brought hiraṇya-dāsa palāila, raghunāthere bāndhila Hiraṇya dāsa fled Raghunātha he bound

20 He submitted a report (kaiphiyat) at the royal court and brought the vizier. Hiraṇya dāsa fled, and the official had Raghunātha arrested.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kaiphiyat — a written report.

*The Muslim caudhurī intimidates Raghunātha —*

প্রতিদিন রঘুনাথে করয়ে ভর্ৎসনা । ‘বাপ-জ্যেঠারে আন’, নহে পাইবা যাতনা ॥ ২১ ॥

prati-dina raghunāthe karaye bhartsanā
every day Raghunātha he does rebuking ‘bāpa-jyeṭhāre āna’, nahe pāibā yātanā
your father and uncle bring otherwise you will get torment

21 Every day he rebuked Raghunātha: “Bring your father and uncle, or you will suffer!”

On seeing Raghunātha's face his heart softens and he turns back —

মারিতে আসিয়া যদি দেখে রঘুনাথে । মন ফিরি' যায়, তবে না পারে মারিতে ॥ ২২ ॥

mārite āsiyā yadi dekhe raghunāthe
to beat (him) coming when he sees Raghunātha mana phiri' yāya, tabe nā pāre mārite
the mind turning goes then not he can beat (him)

22 Whenever he came to beat him, the sight of Raghunātha changed his heart, and he could not strike him.

Anger outside, fear within —

বিশেষে কায়স্থ-বুদ্ধ্যে অন্তরে করে ডর । মুখে তর্জ্জে গর্জ্জে, মারিতে সভয় অন্তর ॥ ২৩ ॥

viśeṣe kāyastha-buddhye antare kare ḍara especially thinking (him) a Kāyastha inwardly he feels fear
mukhe tarje garje, mārite sabhaya antara
with his mouth threatens roars to beat fearful the heart

23 Above all, knowing him to be a Kāyastha, he was afraid at heart: aloud he threatened and roared, but he dared not strike him.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The mleccha vizier[33] knew that Śrī Raghunātha was the son of a respected and wealthy man, was himself learned and, above all, was born into the very eminent Kāyastha community, which follows the brāhmaṇas. Therefore he could no longer beat him. It has been known since the Satya-yuga that the Kāyasthas are royal officers and are honoured equally with the kṣatriyas. Thus Yājñavalkya says: “The king should protect his subjects when they are oppressed by cheats, thieves, wicked men, violent robbers and the like — and especially by Kāyasthas.” That is, the king's duty is to protect his subjects from the hands of wicked people, and also to keep a special watch over his own chief officers, the Kāyasthas who are close to the king, if in the course of their work they oppress the subjects. For if the king's chief officers commit any outrage, there is no protection from it without the king's special attention.

*Raghunātha, sweet-spoken and respectful to others, humbly addresses the Muslim caudhurī —*

তবে রঘুনাথ কিছু চিন্তিলা উপায় । বিনতি করিয়া কহে সেই ম্লেচ্ছ-পায় ॥ ২৪ ॥

tabe raghunātha kichu cintilā upāya
then Raghunātha some thought of means vinati kariyā kahe sei mleccha-pāya humbly he speaks at that Muslim’s feet

24 Then Raghunātha thought of a plan and humbly spoke at that Muslim’s feet:

আমার পিতা, জ্যেঠা হয় তোমার দুই ভাই । ভাই-ভাইয়ে তোমরা কলহ কর সর্ব্বদাই ॥ ২৫ ॥

āmāra pitā, jyeṭhā haya tomāra dui bhāi
my father (and) uncle are your two brothers
bhāi-bhāiye tomarā kalaha kara sarvadāi brother with brother you quarrel do always

25 “My father and uncle are your two brothers. As brothers do, you are always quarrelling.

কভু কলহ, কভু প্রীতি — ইহার নিশ্চয় নাই । কালি পুনঃ তিন ভাই হইবা এক-ঠাঞি ॥ ২৬ ॥

kabhu kalaha, kabhu prīti — ihāra niścaya nāi
sometimes quarrel sometimes affection of this certainty there is none kāli punaḥ tina bhāi haibā eka-ṭhāñi
tomorrow again three brothers will be in one place

26 Sometimes you quarrel, sometimes you are friends — nothing about it is fixed. Tomorrow the three brothers will be together again.

আমি যৈছে পিতার, তৈছে তোমার বালক । আমি তোমার পাল্য, তুমি আমার পালক ॥ ২৭ ॥

āmi yaiche pitāra, taiche tomāra bālaka
I as my father's so your child
āmi tomāra pālya, tumi āmāra pālaka
I your ward you my protector

27 As I am my father's child, so I am yours. I am your ward, and you are my protector.

পালক হঞা পাল্যেরে তাড়িতে না যুয়ায় ।
তুমি সর্ব্বশাস্ত্র জান 'জিন্দাপীর'-প্রায় ॥ ২৮ ॥

pālaka hañā pālyere tāḍite nā yuyāya
a protector being the ward to punish not befits
tumi sarva-śāstra jāna 'jindā-pīra'-prāya
you all scriptures know like a living saint (jindā pīr)

28 It does not befit a protector to punish his ward. You know all the scriptures; you are like a jindā pīr, a living saint."[4]

*The Muslim caudhurī feels tenderness for Raghunātha —*

এত শুনি' সেই ম্লেচ্ছের মন আর্দ্র হৈল । দাড়ি বহি' অশ্রু পড়ে, কাঁদিতে লাগিল ॥ ২৯ ॥

eta śuni' sei mlecchera mana ārdra haila
this hearing that Muslim's heart melted
dāḍi vahi' aśru paḍe, kāṁdite lāgila down his beard flowing tears fall to weep he began

29 Hearing this, the Muslim's heart melted; he began to weep, and tears flowed down his beard.

ম্লেচ্ছ বলে, — আজি হৈতে তুমি — মোর 'পুত্র' । আজি ছাড়াইমু তোমা' করি' এক সূত্র ॥ ৩০ ॥

mleccha bale, — āji haite tumi — mora 'putra'
the Muslim says today from you my son
āji chāḍāimu tomā' kari' eka sūtra
today I will release you making a pretext

30 The Muslim said, "From today you are my son. Today I will get you released on some pretext."

Anubhāṣya.

Sūtra — in colloquial speech, chutā (a pretext).

Informing the vizier, he has Raghunātha released —

উজিরে কহিয়া রঘুনাথে ছাড়াইল ৷৷ প্রীতি করি' রঘুনাথে কহিতে লাগিল ॥ ৩১ ॥

ujire kahiyā raghunāthe chāḍāila
to the vizier speaking Raghunātha he had released
prīti kari' raghunāthe kahite lāgila with affection to Raghunātha to speak he began

31 He spoke to the vizier and had Raghunātha released. Then he spoke to Raghunātha affectionately:

*The greedy Muslim caudhurī rebukes Hiraṇya dāsa for his selfishness and greed for money —*

তোমার জ্যেঠা নির্ব্বুদ্ধি অষ্টলক্ষ খায় ৷৷ আমি — ভাগী, আমারে কিছু দিবারে যুয়ায় ॥ ৩২ ॥

tomāra jyeṭhā nirbuddhi aṣṭa-lakṣa khāya
your uncle foolish eight lakhs eats
āmi — bhāgī, āmāre kichu dibāre yuyāya
I a sharer to me something to give is fitting

32 "Your uncle is a fool: he enjoys eight lakhs himself. But I am a sharer in it, and he ought to give me something.[5]

Out of tenderness for Raghunātha he brings the two together —

যাহ তুমি, তোমার জ্যেঠারে মিলাহ আমারে ৷৷ যে-মতে ভাল হয় করুন, ভার দিলুঁ তাঁরে ॥ ৩৩ ॥

yāha tumi, tomāra jyeṭhāre milāha āmāre
go you your uncle bring to meet me
ye-mate bhāla haya karuna, bhāra diluṁ tāṁre
in whatever way good is let him do the charge I have given to him

33 Go and bring your uncle to meet me. Let him do whatever is best — I leave it to him."

রঘুনাথ আসি' তবে জ্যেঠারে মিলাইল ৷৷ ম্লেচ্ছ সহিত বশ কৈলা — সব শান্ত হৈল ॥ ৩৪ ॥

raghunātha āsi' tabe jyeṭhāre milāila Raghunātha coming then the uncle brought to meet (him)
mleccha sahita vaśa kailā — saba śānta haila
the Muslim with winning over he did all calm became 34 Then Raghunātha came and brought his uncle to meet him. He won the Muslim over, and everything was settled.

So a year passes, and he again prepares to flee —

এইমত রঘুনাথের বৎসরেক গেল ৷৷ দ্বিতীয় বৎসরে পলাইতে মন কৈল ॥ ৩৫ ॥

ei-mata raghunāthera vatsareka gela
in this way Raghunātha's a year passed dvitīya vatsare palāite mana kaila
in the second year to flee mind he made

35 So a year of Raghunātha's life passed. In the second year he resolved to run away.

Flight at night; he is caught on the road and brought home —

রাত্রে উঠি' একেলা চলিলা পলাঞা । দূর হৈতে পিতা তাঁরে আনিল ধরিয়া ॥ ৩৬ ॥

rātre uṭhi' ekelā calilā palāñā
at night rising alone he went fleeing dūra haite pitā tāṁre ānila dhariyā
from far away his father him brought back catching

36 Rising at night, he ran away alone, but his father caught him far away and brought him back.

He flees again and again, is caught, and is kept under guard —

এইমতে বারে বারে পলায়, ধরি' আনে । তবে তাঁর মাতা কহে তাঁর পিতা-সনে ॥ ৩৭ ॥

ei-mate bāre bāre palāya, dhari' āne
in this way again and again he flees catching they bring back tabe tāṁra mātā kahe tāṁra pitā-sane
then his mother says with his father

37 Again and again he fled, and each time they caught him and brought him back. Then his mother said to his father,

Asked by his wife to bind their son, Govardhana dāsa speaks —

পুত্র 'বাতুল' হইল, রাখহ বান্ধিয়া । তাঁর পিতা কহে তারে নির্ব্বিণ্ণ হঞা ॥ ৩৮ ॥

putra 'bātula' haila, rākhaha bāndhiyā
the son mad has become keep (him) tied up tāṁra pitā kahe tāre nirviṇṇa hañā
his father says to her dejected being

38 "Our son has gone mad. Keep him tied up." His father, dejected, replied to her:

Anubhāṣya.
Nirviṇṇa — sad, distressed.

ইন্দ্রসম ঐশ্বর্য্য, স্ত্রী অপ্সরা-সম । এ-সব বান্ধিতে নারিলেক যাঁর মন ॥ ৩৯ ॥

indra-sama aiśvarya, strī apsarā-sama
like Indra's wealth a wife like an apsarā
e-saba bāndhite nārileka yāṁra mana
all these to bind could not whose mind

39 "Wealth like Indra's and a wife like an apsarā — all this could not bind his mind.

*The father who begot the body, who gave birth by seed, is not the eternal Lord or Īśvara: he cannot destroy the jīva's prārabdha-karma —*

দড়ির বন্ধনে তাঁরে রাখিবা কেমতে ?
জন্মদাতা পিতা নারে 'প্রারব্ধ' খণ্ডাইতে ॥ ৪০ ॥

daḍira bandhane tāṁre rākhibā ke-mate?
of rope by the binding him will you keep how janma-dātā pitā nāre 'prārabdha' khaṇḍāite birth-giving father cannot prārabdha annul

40 How will you keep him with ropes? A father who gives birth cannot annul prārabdha, the fruit of past deeds that has begun to ripen.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Prārabdha — those deeds of previous lives which have begun to bear fruit.

Only a servant absorbed in Caitanya is liberated, that is, transcendental —

চৈতন্যচন্দ্রের কৃপা হঞাছে ইঁহারে । চৈতন্যপ্রভুর 'বাতুল' কে রাখিতে পারে ? ॥ ৪১ ॥

caitanya-candrera kṛpā hañāche iṁhāre
of Caitanyacandra the mercy has come upon him
caitanya-prabhura 'bātula' ke rākhite pāre?
of Caitanya Prabhu a madman who to keep can 41 Caitanyacandra's mercy has come upon him. Who can hold back one whom Caitanya Prabhu has made mad?"

Nityānanda Prabhu comes to Pāṇihāṭī, and Raghunātha sees His feet —

তবে রঘুনাথ কিছু বিচারিলা মনে । নিত্যানন্দ-গোসাঞির পাশ চলিলা আর দিনে ॥ ৪২ ॥

tabe raghunātha kichu vicārilā mane
then Raghunātha something considered in his mind nityānanda-gosāñira pāśa calilā āra dine to Nityānanda Gosāñi he went the next day

42 Then Raghunātha made a plan, and the next day he went to Nityānanda Gosāñi.[6]

*With Nityānanda Prabhu are many servants and kīrtana singers —*

পানিহাটি গ্রামে পাইলা প্রভুর দরশন । কীর্ত্তনীয়া সেবক সঙ্গে আর বহুজন ॥ ৪৩ ॥

pānihāṭi grāme pāilā prabhura daraśana
in Pāṇihāṭī village he received the Lord's darśana kīrtanīyā sevaka saṅge āra bahu-jana kīrtana singers servants with (Him) and many people

43 In the village of Pāṇihāṭī he had darśana of the Lord, who was accompanied by kīrtana singers, servants and many others.

On the bank of the Gaṅgā, at the foot of a tree, the Lord sits on a raised seat and His associates below —

গঙ্গাতীরে বৃক্ষ-মূলে পিণ্ডার উপরে । বসিয়াছেন প্রভু, — যেন সূর্য্যোদয় করে ॥ ৪৪ ॥

gaṅgā-tīre vṛkṣa-mūle piṇḍāra upare on the Gaṅgā's bank at the foot of a tree a raised platform upon vasiyāchena prabhu, — yena sūryodaya kare was sitting the Lord as if sunrise makes

44 On the bank of the Gaṅgā, at the foot of a tree, the Lord sat on a raised platform (piṇḍā), as if the sun were rising.[7]

Seeing Nityānanda, Raghunātha is astonished and falls flat in obeisance —

তলে-উপরে বহুভক্ত হঞাছে বেষ্টিত । দেখি’ প্রভুর প্রভাব রঘুনাথ — বিস্মিত ॥ ৪৫ ॥

tale-upare bahu-bhakta hañāche veṣṭita below and above by many devotees He was surrounded dekhi’ prabhura prabhāva raghunātha — vismita seeing the Lord’s majesty Raghunātha astonished 45 Many devotees surrounded Him, below and on the platform. Seeing the Lord’s majesty, Raghunātha was astonished.

দণ্ডবৎ হঞা পড়িলা কতদূরে । সেবক কহে, — রঘুনাথ দণ্ডবৎ করে ॥ ৪৬ ॥

daṇḍavat hañā paḍilā kata-dūre
like a rod becoming he fell at some distance sevaka kahe, — raghunātha daṇḍavat kare
a servant says Raghunātha obeisance offers

46 He prostrated himself at some distance, and a servant said, “Raghunātha is offering obeisance.”

Regarding Raghunātha as intimate and His own, Nityānanda shows him mercy —

শুনি’ প্রভু কহে, — চোরা দিলি দরশন । আয়, আয়, আজি তোর করিমু দণ্ডন ॥ ৪৭ ॥

śuni’ prabhu kahe, — corā dili daraśana hearing the Lord says thief you have given darśana
āya, āya, āji tora karimu daṇḍana
come come today your I will make punishment

47 Hearing this, the Lord said, “You thief, so you have shown yourself! Come here, come here — today I will punish you!”

He places His foot on Raghunātha's head and so shows him mercy —

প্রভু বোলায়, তেঁহো নিকটে না করে গমন । আকর্ষিয়া তাঁর মাথে ধরিলা চরণ ॥ ৪৮ ॥

prabhu bolāya, teṁho nikaṭe nā kare gamana
the Lord calls he near not does going ākarṣiyā tāṁra māthe dharilā caraṇa
drawing (him) near on his head placed His feet

48 The Lord called him, but he did not come near. Then He drew him close and placed His feet on his head.[8]

Nityānanda's causeless kindness —

কৌতুকী নিত্যানন্দ সহজে দয়াময় । রঘুনাথে কহে কিছু হঞা সদয় ॥ ৪৯ ॥

kautukī nityānanda sahaje dayāmaya playful Nityānanda by nature merciful raghunāthe kahe kichu hañā sadaya to Raghunātha says something being kind

49 Nityānanda, playful and merciful by nature, kindly said to Raghunātha:

*By ordering Raghunātha to feed His associates, He "punishes" him. That is, by the pastime of the daṇḍa-mahotsava (the festival of punishment) He teaches that a wealthy worldly man given to enjoyment is freed from the anartha of deceit in the use of wealth (vitta-śāṭhya), and eternal good dawns in him, only through serving Nityānanda's associates, that is, the pure devotees —*

নিকটে না আইস, চোরা, ভাগ' দূরে দূরে । আজি লাগ্ পাঞাছি, দণ্ডিমু তোমারে ॥ ৫০ ॥

nikaṭe nā āisa, corā, bhāga' dūre dūre near not you come thief you run far away
āji lāg pāñāchi, daṇḍimu tomāre
today hold of you I have got I will punish you

50 "You do not come near, thief; you keep running far away. Today I have caught you, and I will punish you.

Anubhāṣya.
Lāg — touch, meeting face to face, finding, company.

দধি, চিড়া ভক্ষণ করাহ মোর গণে । শুনিয়া আনন্দ হৈল রঘুনাথের মনে ॥ ৫১ ॥

dadhi, ciḍā bhakṣaṇa karāha mora gaṇe yogurt flat rice eating make (them do) My associates
śuniyā ānanda haila raghunāthera mane hearing joy arose in Raghunātha's mind

51 Feed My associates dadhi and ciḍā, yogurt and flat rice." Hearing this, Raghunātha's heart filled with joy.

*He has the provisions for the ciḍā festival brought from his village —*

সেইক্ষণে নিজ-লোক পাঠাইলা গ্রামে । ভক্ষ্য-দ্রব্য লোক সব গ্রাম হৈতে আনে ॥ ৫২ ॥

sei-kṣaṇe nija-loka pāṭhāilā grāme
that moment his own men he sent to the village
bhakṣya-dravya loka saba grāma haite āne foodstuffs the men all from the village bring

52 At once he sent his men to the village, and they brought all kinds of food from there.

চিড়া, দধি, দুগ্ধ, সন্দেশ, আর চিনি, কলা । সব দ্রব্য আনাঞা চৌদিকে ধরিলা ॥ ৫৩ ॥

ciḍā, dadhi, dugdha, sandeśa, āra cini, kalā
flat rice yogurt milk sweets and sugar bananas
saba dravya ānāñā caudike dharilā
all things having brought all around he placed

53 He had ciḍā, dadhi, milk, sandeśa, sugar and bananas brought, and he set them out all around.

Description of the festival —

‘মহোৎসব’-নাম শুনি’ ব্রাহ্মণ-সজ্জন ।
আসিতে লাগিল লোক অসংখ্য-গণন ॥ ৫৪ ॥

‘mahotsava’-nāma śuni’ brāhmaṇa-sajjana
the word ‘festival’ hearing brāhmaṇas gentlefolk āsite lāgila loka asaṅkhya-gaṇana
to come began people beyond counting

54 Hearing the word “festival,” brāhmaṇas, gentlefolk and countless people began to arrive.

আর গ্রামান্তর হৈতে সামগ্রী আনিল । শত দুই-চারি হোল্‌না আনাইল ॥ ৫৫ ॥

āra grāmāntara haite sāmagrī ānila
and other villages from provisions he brought śata dui-cāri holnā ānāila
hundreds two or four clay pots he had brought 55 He brought more provisions from other villages and had two to four hundred clay pots (holnā) brought.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Holnā — a kind of earthen pot (mālsā).

বড় বড় মৃৎকুণ্ডিকা আনাইল পাঁচ-সাতে । এক বিপ্র প্রভু লাগি’ চিড়া ভিজায় তাতে ॥ ৫৬ ॥

baḍa baḍa mṛt-kuṇḍikā ānāila pāṁca-sāte
very large earthen tubs he had brought five or seven eka vipra prabhu lāgi’ ciḍā bhijāya tāte
one brāhmaṇa the Lord for flat rice soaks in them

56 He also had five or seven very large earthen tubs brought, and in them one brāhmaṇa soaked ciḍā for the Lord.

এক-ঠাঞি তপ্ত-দুগ্ধে চিড়া ভিজাঞা । অর্দ্ধেক ছানিল দধি, চিনি, কলা দিয়া ॥ ৫৭ ॥

eka-ṭhāñi tapta-dugdhe ciḍā bhijāñā
in one place in hot milk flat rice soaking arddheka chānila dadhi, cini, kalā diyā half he mixed yogurt sugar bananas adding 57 In one place he soaked ciḍā in hot milk and mixed half of it with dadhi, sugar and bananas.

আর অর্দ্ধেক ঘনাবৃত-দুগ্ধেতে ছানিল । চাঁপাকলা, চিনি, ঘৃত, কর্পূর তাতে দিল ॥ ৫৮ ॥

āra arddheka ghanāvṛta-dugdhete chānila
and the other half with thickened milk he mixed cāṁpā-kalā, cini, ghṛta, karpūra tāte dila cāṁpā bananas sugar ghee camphor into it he put 58 The other half he mixed with thickened milk, adding cāṁpā bananas, sugar, ghee and camphor.

The Lord sits on the raised seat —

ধুতি পরি' প্রভু যদি পিণ্ডাতে বসিলা । সাতকুণ্ডী বিপ্র তাঁর আগেতে ধরিলা ॥ ৫৯ ॥

dhuti pari' prabhu yadi piṇḍāte vasilā
a dhoti putting on the Lord when on the platform sat
sāta-kuṇḍī vipra tāṁra āgete dharilā
the seven tubs the brāhmaṇa Him before placed

59 When the Lord, wearing a dhoti, sat on the platform, the brāhmaṇa set the seven tubs before Him.

Under the banyan, on the platform, the devotees who are the Lord's associates sit down —

চবুতরা-উপরে যত প্রভুর নিজগণে । বড় বড় লোক বসিলা মণ্ডলী-রচনে ॥ ৬০ ॥

cabutarā-upare yata prabhura nija-gaṇe
the platform upon all the Lord's own associates
baḍa baḍa loka vasilā maṇḍalī-racane
great great people sat forming circles

60 On the platform (cabutarā) all the Lord's own associates and other eminent people sat in circles.

Anubhāṣya.
Cabutarā — a platform, a terrace, a raised place beside the piṇḍā.

Nityānanda's associates take their seats —

রামদাস, সুন্দরানন্দ, দাস-গদাধর । মুরারি, কমলাকর, সদাশিব, পুরন্দর ॥ ৬১ ॥

rāmadāsa, sundarānanda, dāsa-gadādhara Rāmadāsa Sundarānanda Gadādhara dāsa
murāri, kamalākara, sadāśiva, purandara
Murāri Kamalākara Sadāśiva Purandara

61 Rāmadāsa, Sundarānanda, Gadādhara dāsa, Murāri, Kamalākara, Sadāśiva, Purandara,

Anubhāṣya.
Rāmadāsa — Abhirāma Ṭhākura (a gopāla); see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 10.116 and 10.118 and on Ādi 11.13 and 11.16.

Sundarānanda — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.23.

Dāsa Gadādhara — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 10.53 and Ādi 11.13, 14, 17.

Murāri — here Murāri Caitanyadāsa (he is among Nityānanda's associates, so this is not Murāri Gupta); see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.20.

Kamalākara — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.24.

Sadāśiva — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.38.

Purandara — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.28.

ধনঞ্জয়, জগদীশ, পরমেশ্বর-দাস । মহেশ, গৌরীদাস, হোড়-কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ৬২ ॥

dhanañjaya, jagadīśa, parameśvara-dāsa
Dhanañjaya Jagadīśa Parameśvara dāsa
maheśa, gaurīdāsa, hoḍa-kṛṣṇadāsa
Maheśa Gaurīdāsa Kṛṣṇadāsa Hoḍa

62 Dhanañjaya, Jagadīśa, Parameśvara dāsa, Maheśa, Gaurīdāsa, Kṛṣṇadāsa Hoḍa,

Anubhāṣya.

Dhanañjaya — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.31.

Jagadīśa — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.30.

Parameśvara dāsa — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.29.

Maheśa — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.32.

Gaurīdāsa — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.26.

Kṛṣṇadāsa Hoḍa — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.47.

উদ্ধারণ দত্ত আদি যত নিজ-জন । উপরে বসিলা সব, কে করে গণন ? ॥ ৬৩ ॥

uddhāraṇa datta ādi yata nija-jana Uddhāraṇa Datta and others all His own people
upare vasilā saba, ke kare gaṇana?
above sat all who does counting

63 Uddhāraṇa Datta and all His other intimate associates sat on the platform. Who could count them?

Anubhāṣya.

Uddhāraṇa — see the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 11.41.

Brāhmaṇas* who do not see caste in Vaiṣṇavas honour the mahā-prasāda —*

শুনি' পণ্ডিত ভট্টাচার্য্য যত বিপ্র আইলা । মান্য করি' প্রভু সবারে উপরে বসাইলা ॥ ৬৪ ॥

śuni' paṇḍita bhaṭṭācārya yata vipra āilā hearing paṇḍitas bhaṭṭācāryas all brāhmaṇas came mānya kari' prabhu sabāre upare vasāilā respect showing the Lord all above seated

64 Hearing of it, paṇḍitas, bhaṭṭācāryas and all the brāhmaṇas came, and the Lord honoured them all and seated them on the platform.

দুই দুই মৃৎকুণ্ডিকা সবার আগে দিল । একে দুগ্ধ-চিড়া, আরে দধি-চিড়া কৈল ॥ ৬৫ ॥

dui dui mṛt-kuṇḍikā sabāra āge dila
two two earthen pots everyone's before he placed eke dugdha-ciḍā, āre dadhi-ciḍā kaila
in one milk and flat rice in the other yogurt and flat rice he made 65 Two earthen pots were set before each of them: in one, ciḍā with milk; in the other, ciḍā with dadhi.

আর যত লোক সব চৌতরা-তলানে । মণ্ডলী-বন্ধে বসিলা, তার না হয় গণনে ॥ ৬৬ ॥

āra yata loka saba cautarā-talāne
other all people all below the platform
maṇḍalī-bandhe vasilā, tāra nā haya gaṇane
in circles sat of them not is counting

66 All the other people sat in circles below the platform; there was no counting them.

একেক জনারে দুই দুই হোল্‌না দিল ৷ দধি-চিড়া, দুগ্ধ-চিড়া, দুইতে ভিজাইল ॥ ৬৭ ॥

ekeka janāre dui dui holnā dila to each person two two pots he gave dadhi-ciḍā, dugdha-ciḍā, duite bhijāila yogurt and flat rice milk and flat rice in the two he soaked

67 Everyone else, too, was given two pots: one of ciḍā soaked in dadhi, the other of ciḍā soaked in milk.

কোন কোন বিপ্র উপরে স্থান না পাঞা ৷
দুই হোল্‌নায় চিড়া ভিজায় গঙ্গাতীরে গিয়া ॥ ৬৮ ॥

kona kona vipra upare sthāna nā pāñā
some some brāhmaṇas above place not finding dui holnāya ciḍā bhijāya gaṅgā-tīre giyā
in two pots flat rice soak to the Gaṅgā's bank going

68 Some brāhmaṇas, finding no place on the platform, went to the bank of the Gaṅgā and soaked their ciḍā there in two pots.

তীরে স্থান না পাঞা আর কত জন ৷ জলে নামি' দধি-চিড়া করয়ে ভক্ষণ ॥ ৬৯ ॥

tīre sthāna nā pāñā āra kata jana
on the bank place not finding other some people
jale nāmi' dadhi-ciḍā karaye bhakṣaṇa
into the water going down yogurt and flat rice do eating

69 Others, finding no place even on the bank, went down into the water and ate their ciḍā and dadhi there.

কেহ উপরে, কেহ তলে, কেহ গঙ্গাতীরে ৷ বিশজন তিন-ঠাঞি পরিবেশন করে ॥ ৭০ ॥

keha upare, keha tale, keha gaṅgā-tīre
some above some below some on the Gaṅgā's bank
biśa-jana tina-ṭhāñi pariveśana kare
twenty people in the three places serving do

70 Some were on the platform, some below it and some on the bank of the Gaṅgā, and twenty people served in all three places.

*Rāghava Paṇḍita arrives there with prasāda —*

হেনকালে আইলা তথা রাঘব-পণ্ডিত ৷ হাসিতে লাগিলা দেখি' হঞা বিস্মিত ॥ ৭১ ॥

hena-kāle āilā tathā rāghava-paṇḍita
at this time came there Rāghava Paṇḍita
hāsite lāgilā dekhi' hañā vismita to laugh he began seeing being astonished

71 At that time Rāghava Paṇḍita arrived. Seeing all this, he was astonished and began to laugh.

*He serves the prasāda first to Nityānanda and then to the devotees —*

নি-সক্‌ড়ি নানামত প্রসাদ আনিলা । প্রভুরে আগে দিয়া ভক্তগণে বাঁটি' দিলা ॥ ৭২ ॥

ni-sakḍi nānā-mata prasāda ānilā ni-sakḍi of many kinds prasāda he brought prabhure āge diyā bhakta-gaṇe bāṁṭi' dilā to the Lord first giving to the devotees distributing gave 72 He brought many kinds of ni-sakḍi prasāda (food untouched by boiled rice). First he gave it to the Lord; then he distributed it among the devotees.

Anubhāṣya.
Ni-sakḍi — what is not sakḍi, that is, not defiled by contact with cooked rice (anna).

Nityānanda Prabhu is asked to eat —

প্রভুরে কহে, — তোমা লাগি' ভোগ লাগাইল । তুমি ইঁহা উৎসব কর, ঘরে প্রসাদ রহিল ॥ ৭৩ ॥

prabhure kahe, — tomā lāgi' bhoga lāgāila to the Lord he says You for food I have offered tumi iṁhā utsava kara, ghare prasāda rahila
You here a festival make at home the prasāda remains

73 He said to the Lord, "I offered food for You, but You are holding a festival here, and the prasāda remains at home."

Feeling Himself a cowherd boy, Nityānanda Prabhu recalls the pastimes of Vraja —

প্রভু কহে, — এ-দ্রব্য দিনে করিয়ে ভোজন । রাত্র্যে তোমার ঘরে প্রসাদ করিমু ভক্ষণ ॥ ৭৪ ॥

prabhu kahe, — e-dravya dine kariye bhojana
the Lord says these things by day let Me eat
rātrye tomāra ghare prasāda karimu bhakṣaṇa
at night in your house prasāda I will eat

74 The Lord said, "Let Me eat this food by day; at night I will eat the prasāda in your house.

The joy of the picnic on the sandy bank of the Yamunā with His friends —

গোপজাতি আমি বহু গোপগণ সঙ্গে । আমি সুখ পাই এই পুলিনভোজন-রঙ্গে ॥ ৭৫ ॥

gopa-jāti āmi bahu gopa-gaṇa saṅge of cowherd caste I many cowherds with āmi sukha pāi ei pulina-bhojana-raṅge
I happiness get in this sport of a picnic on the sandy bank

75 I am a cowherd by caste, and I have many cowherd boys with Me: a picnic on the sandy riverbank is My delight."

Rāghava too sits down to eat there —

রাঘবে বসাঞা দুই কুণ্ডী দেওয়াইলা । রাঘব দ্বিবিধ চিড়া তাতে ভিজাইলা ॥ ৭৬ ॥

rāghave vasāñā dui kuṇḍī deoyāilā Rāghava seating two tubs He had given (him)
rāghava dvividha ciḍā tāte bhijāilā
Rāghava two kinds flat rice in them soaked

76 He seated Rāghava and had two tubs given to him, and Rāghava soaked two kinds of ciḍā in them.

In meditation He brings Mahāprabhu to the festival —

সকল-লোকের চিড়া পূর্ণ যবে হইল । ধ্যানে তবে প্রভু মহাপ্রভুরে আনিল ॥ ৭৭ ॥

sakala-lokera ciḍā pūrṇa yabe haila of all people the flat rice complete when was dhyāne tabe prabhu mahāprabhure ānila in meditation then the Lord Mahāprabhu brought 77 When everyone's ciḍā was ready, the Lord, in meditation, brought Mahāprabhu there.

Nityānanda Prabhu, together with Mahāprabhu, looks over the food —

মহাপ্রভু আইলা দেখি' নিতাই উঠিলা । তাঁরে লঞা সবার চিড়া দেখিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৭৮ ॥

mahāprabhu āilā dekhi' nitāi uṭhilā Mahāprabhu has come seeing Nitāi rose tāṁre lañā sabāra ciḍā dekhite lāgilā
Him taking everyone's flat rice to see He began

78 Seeing that Mahāprabhu had come, Nitāi rose and, taking Him along, went to look at everyone's ciḍā.

He puts a mouthful from each pot into Mahāprabhu's mouth —

সকল কুণ্ডীর, হোল্‌নার চিড়ার এক এক গ্রাস । মহাপ্রভুর মুখে দেন করি' পরিহাস ॥ ৭৯ ॥

sakala kuṇḍīra, holnāra ciḍāra eka eka grāsa
of all the tubs of the pots of the flat rice one one mouthful
mahāprabhura mukhe dena kari' parihāsa
Mahāprabhu's into the mouth He puts making a joke

79 From every tub and pot He took a mouthful of ciḍā and, joking, put it into Mahāprabhu's mouth.

Mahāprabhu too puts a mouthful into Nitāi's mouth —

হাসি' মহাপ্রভু আর এক গ্রাস লঞা ।
তাঁর মুখে দিয়া খাওয়ায় হাসিয়া হাসিয়া ॥ ৮০ ॥

hāsi' mahāprabhu āra eka grāsa lañā smiling Mahāprabhu another one mouthful taking tāṁra mukhe diyā khāoyāya hāsiyā hāsiyā
His into the mouth putting feeds (Him) laughing laughing

80 Mahāprabhu, smiling, took a mouthful in turn and, laughing all the while, fed it to Nitāi.

The devotees watch Nitāi's playful round among them on every side —

এইমত নিতাই বুলে সকল-মণ্ডলে । দাণ্ডাঞা রঙ্গ দেখে বৈষ্ণব সকলে ॥ ৮১ ॥

ei-mata nitāi bule sakala-maṇḍale
in this way Nitāi goes about through all the circles
dāṇḍāñā raṅga dekhe vaiṣṇava sakale standing the fun watch the Vaiṣṇavas all

81 In this way Nitāi went round all the circles, and all the Vaiṣṇavas stood watching the fun.

*The sport of the two: invisible to some, it is seen only by some who possess sukṛti —*

কি করিয়া বেড়ায়, — ইহা কেহ নাহি জানে । মহাপ্রভুর দর্শন পায় কোন ভাগ্যবানে ॥ ৮২ ॥

ki kariyā beḍāya, — ihā keha nāhi jāne
what doing He goes about this anyone not knows mahāprabhura darśana pāya kona bhāgyavāne Mahāprabhu's darśana obtains some fortunate one

82 No one understood what He was doing as He went about; only a fortunate few saw Mahāprabhu.

*For Mahāprabhu — two pots of ciḍā with milk and two of ciḍā with dadhi —*

তবে হাসি' নিত্যানন্দ বসিলা আসনে । চারি কুণ্ডী আরোয়া-চিড়া রাখিলা ডাহিনে ॥ ৮৩ ॥

tabe hāsi' nityānanda vasilā āsane
then smiling Nityānanda sat on His seat
cāri kuṇḍī āroyā-ciḍā rākhilā ḍāhine
four tubs of āroyā-ciḍā He kept on the right

83 Then, smiling, Nityānanda sat down on His seat and kept four tubs of āroyā-ciḍā (flat rice made from sun-dried rice) at His right.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Āroyā-ciḍā — ciḍā made from ātapa rice (husked without parboiling).

Mahāprabhu and Nityānanda Prabhu eat —

আসন দিয়া মহাপ্রভুরে তাঁহা বসাইলা । দুই ভাই তবে চিড়া খাইতে লাগিলা ॥ ৮৪ ॥

āsana diyā mahāprabhure tāṁhā vasāilā
a seat giving Mahāprabhu there He seated dui bhāi tabe ciḍā khāite lāgilā
the two brothers then flat rice to eat began

84 He gave Mahāprabhu a seat there, and then the two brothers began to eat ciḍā.

Nitāi is overwhelmed by ecstatic feelings —

দেখি' নিত্যানন্দপ্রভু আনন্দিত হৈলা । কত কত ভাবাবেশ প্রকাশ করিলা ॥ ৮৫ ॥

dekhi' nityānanda-prabhu ānandita hailā seeing Nityānanda Prabhu joyful became kata kata bhāvāveśa prakāśa karilā
how many how many ecstatic absorptions manifestation He made

85 Seeing this, Nityānanda Prabhu was overjoyed and manifested many states of ecstasy.

He orders them to eat, calling out "Hari!" —

আজ্ঞা দিলা, — হরি বলি' করহ ভোজন ।
'হরি' 'হরি'-ধ্বনি উঠি' ভরিল ভুবন ॥ ৮৬ ॥

ājñā dilā, — hari bali' karaha bhojana
the order He gave Hari saying do eat
'hari' 'hari'-dhvani uṭhi' bharila bhuvana
Hari the sound of Hari rising filled the world

86 He ordered, "Say 'Hari!' and eat!" The sound of "Hari! Hari!" rose up and filled the world.

The Vaiṣṇavas eat and recall the picnics on the sandy banks in Vraja —

'হরি' 'হরি' বলি' বৈষ্ণব করয়ে ভোজন । পুলিন-ভোজন সবার হইল স্মরণ ॥ ৮৭ ॥

'hari' 'hari' bali' vaiṣṇava karaye bhojana Hari Hari saying the Vaiṣṇavas do eating pulina-bhojana sabāra haila smaraṇa
the picnic on the sandy bank of all became remembrance

87 Saying "Hari! Hari!", the Vaiṣṇavas ate, and they all remembered the picnic on the sandy riverbank (pulina-bhojana).

The two Lords' mercy upon Raghunātha —

নিত্যানন্দ, মহাপ্রভু — কৃপালু, উদার । রঘুনাথের ভাগ্যে এত কৈলা অঙ্গীকার ॥ ৮৮ ॥

nityānanda, mahāprabhu — kṛpālu, udāra Nityānanda Mahāprabhu merciful generous raghunāthera bhāgye eta kailā aṅgīkāra
by Raghunātha's good fortune so much They made acceptance

88 Nityānanda and Mahāprabhu are merciful and generous: by Raghunātha's good fortune They accepted so much.

Mahāprabhu is controlled by Nityānanda's love —

নিত্যানন্দ-প্রভাব-কৃপা জানিবে কোন্ জন ?
মহাপ্রভু আনি' করায় পুলিন-ভোজন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

nityānanda-prabhāva-kṛpā jānibe kon jana?
Nityānanda's power mercy will know which person
mahāprabhu āni' karāya pulina-bhojana
Mahāprabhu bringing makes (Him) do the picnic on the sandy bank

89 Who can know Nityānanda's power and mercy? He brought Mahāprabhu and made Him join the picnic on the riverbank.

Abhirāma Ṭhākura and others, in the mood of cowherd boys, recall the picnics on the sandy bank of the Yamunā —

শ্রীরামদাসাদি গোপ প্রেমাবিষ্ট হৈলা । গঙ্গাতীরে 'যমুনা-পুলিন'-জ্ঞান কৈলা ॥ ৯০ ॥

śrī-rāmadāsādi gopa premāviṣṭa hailā Śrī Rāmadāsa and the other cowherds absorbed in love became gaṅgā-tīre 'yamunā-pulina'-jñāna kailā on the Gaṅgā's bank the bank of the Yamunā the notion they had 90 Śrī Rāmadāsa and the other cowherd boys were overwhelmed with love: on the bank of the Gaṅgā they felt they were on the bank of the Yamunā.

*Vendors come to sell their goods, earn money by selling, and then eat what they sold, now made prasāda —*

মহোৎসব শুনি' পসারি নানা-গ্রাম হৈতে । চিড়া, দধি, সন্দেশ, কলা আনিল বেচিতে ॥ ৯১ ॥

mahotsava śuni' pasāri nānā-grāma haite
the festival hearing vendors various villages from ciḍā, dadhi, sandeśa, kalā ānila vecite
flat rice yogurt sweets bananas brought to sell

91 Hearing of the festival, vendors (pasāri) came from various villages, bringing ciḍā, dadhi, sandeśa and bananas to sell.

Anubhāṣya.
Pasāri — a vendor, a shopkeeper.

যত দ্রব্য লঞা আইসে, সব মূল্য করি' লয় । তার দ্রব্য মূল্য দিয়া তাহারে খাওয়ায় ॥ ৯২ ॥

yata dravya lañā āise, saba mūlya kari' laya whatever goods bringing they come all the price paying he takes tāra dravya mūlya diyā tāhāre khāoyāya their goods the price giving them he feeds

92 He bought up all the goods they had brought, paying the full price, and then fed the vendors with the very food he had bought from them.

All who came eat —

কৌতুক দেখিতে আইল, যত যত জন । সেই চিড়া, দধি, কলা করিল ভক্ষণ ॥ ৯৩ ॥

kautuka dekhite āila, yata yata jana
the fun to see came how many how many people sei ciḍā, dadhi, kalā karila bhakṣaṇa
that flat rice yogurt bananas did eat

93 All the people who came to see the fun ate that ciḍā, dadhi and bananas.

*After rinsing His mouth (ācamana), Nitāi gives Raghunātha the remnants of His meal —*

ভোজন করি' নিত্যানন্দ আচমন কৈলা । চারি কুণ্ডীর অবশেষ রঘুনাথে দিলা ॥ ৯৪ ॥

bhojana kari' nityānanda ācamana kailā eating having done Nityānanda ācamana did cāri kuṇḍīra avaśeṣa raghunāthe dilā of the four tubs the remnants to Raghunātha He gave 94 When He had eaten, Nityānanda rinsed His mouth and hands (ācamana) and gave the remnants of the four tubs to Raghunātha.

*The prasāda is distributed among the devotees —*

আর তিন কুণ্ডিকায় অবশেষ ছিল । গ্রাসে-গ্রাসে করি' বিপ্র সব ভক্তে দিল ॥ ৯৫ ॥

āra tina kuṇḍikāya avaśeṣa chila
other three in the tubs remnants there were grāse-grāse kari' vipra saba bhakte dila mouthful by mouthful making the brāhmaṇa all to the devotees gave

95 There were remnants in the other three tubs, and the brāhmaṇa gave them to all the devotees, a mouthful to each.

The Lord is served with sandal paste and betel —

পুষ্পমালা বিপ্র আনি' প্রভু-গলে দিল । চন্দন আনিয়া প্রভুর সর্ব্বাঙ্গে লেপিল ॥ ৯৬ ॥

puṣpa-mālā vipra āni' prabhu-gale dila
a flower garland a brāhmaṇa bringing on the Lord's neck placed candana āniyā prabhura sarvāṅge lepila sandal paste bringing the Lord's whole body he anointed

96 A brāhmaṇa brought a flower garland and placed it around the Lord's neck; bringing sandalwood paste, he anointed His whole body.

সেবক তাম্বূল লঞা করে সমর্পণ । হাসিয়া হাসিয়া প্রভু করয়ে চর্ব্বণ ॥ ৯৭ ॥

sevaka tāmbūla lañā kare samarpaṇa
a servant betel taking makes offering hāsiyā hāsiyā prabhu karaye carvaṇa smiling smiling the Lord does chewing

97 A servant brought betel (tāmbūla) and offered it, and the Lord, smiling all the while, chewed it.

All the devotees receive His remnants —

মালা-চন্দন-তাম্বূল শেষ যে আছিল । শ্রীহস্তে প্রভু সবাকারে বাঁটি' দিল ॥ ৯৮ ॥

mālā-candana-tāmbūla śeṣa ye āchila of the garlands sandal paste and betel the remnants which there were śrī-haste prabhu sabākāre bāṁṭi' dila with His own hand the Lord to everyone distributing gave 98 With His own hand the Lord distributed to everyone what remained of the garlands, sandal paste and betel.

Raghunātha's joy at receiving the Lord's remnants —

আনন্দিত রঘুনাথ প্রভুর ‘শেষ’ পাঞা । আপনার গণ-সহ খাইলা বাঁটিয়া ॥ ৯৯ ॥

ānandita raghunātha prabhura ‘śeṣa’ pāñā delighted Raghunātha the Lord’s remnants getting āpanāra gaṇa-saha khāilā bāṁṭiyā
his own people with ate sharing

99 Delighted to receive the Lord’s remnants (śeṣa), Raghunātha shared them with his own people and ate.

*That is why it is called “the festival of ciḍā and dadhi” —*

এই ত’ কহিলুঁ নিত্যানন্দের বিহার । ‘চিড়া-দধি-মহোৎসব’-নামে খ্যাতি যার ॥ ১০০ ॥

ei ta’ kahiluṁ nityānandera vihāra
this indeed I have told Nityānanda’s pastime ‘ciḍā-dadhi-mahotsava’-nāme khyāti yāra
as ‘the festival of ciḍā and dadhi’ by name fame whose 100 Thus I have told of Nityānanda’s pastime, famous as the ciḍā-dadhi-mahotsava, the festival of ciḍā and dadhi.

*In the evening — kīrtana in Rāghava's temple —*

প্রভু বিশ্রাম কৈলা, যদি দিন-শেষ হৈল । রাঘব মন্দিরে তবে কীর্ত্তন আরম্ভিল ॥ ১০১ ॥

prabhu viśrāma kailā, yadi dina-śeṣa haila
the Lord rest took when the day’s end came rāghava mandire tabe kīrtana ārambhila of Rāghava in the temple then kīrtana began

101 The Lord rested, and when the day came to an end, kīrtana began in Rāghava’s temple.

*Nityānanda dances in the kīrtana —*

ভক্ত সব নাচাঞা নিত্যানন্দ-রায় । শেষে নৃত্য করে প্রেমে জগৎ ভাসায় ॥ ১০২ ॥

bhakta saba nācāñā nityānanda-rāya
the devotees all making dance Nityānanda Rāya
śeṣe nṛtya kare preme jagat bhāsāya
at last dance does with love the world floods

102 Nityānanda Rāya made all the devotees dance, and at last He Himself danced, flooding the world with love.

Mahāprabhu watches Nityānanda's dance —

মহাপ্রভু তাঁর নৃত্য করেন দরশন । সবে নিত্যানন্দ দেখে, না দেখে অন্যজন ॥ ১০৩ ॥

mahāprabhu tāṁra nṛtya karena daraśana Mahāprabhu His dance does watch
sabe nityānanda dekhe, nā dekhe anya-jana only Nityānanda sees (Him) not see other people

103 Mahāprabhu watched His dance; only Nityānanda saw Him — no one else did.

Nityānanda's incomparable dancing can be compared only with Mahāprabhu's —

নিত্যানন্দের নৃত্য, — যেন তাঁহার নর্ত্তনে । উপমা দিবার নাহি এ তিন ভুবনে ॥ ১০৪ ॥

nityānandera nṛtya, — yena tāṁhāra nartane Nityānanda's dance as His dancing
upamā dibāra nāhi e tina bhuvane
comparison to give there is none in these three worlds

104 Nityānanda's dance was like Mahāprabhu's own dancing; in these three worlds there is nothing else to compare it with.

Mahāprabhu beholds the sweetness of Nityānanda's dance —

নৃত্যের মাধুরী কেবা বর্ণিবারে পারে । মহাপ্রভু আইসে যেই নৃত্য দেখিবারে ॥ ১০৫ ॥

nṛtyera mādhurī kebā varṇibāre pāre
of the dance the sweetness who to describe can mahāprabhu āise yei nṛtya dekhibāre Mahāprabhu comes which dance to see

105 Who can describe the sweetness of that dance, which Mahāprabhu Himself comes to see?

Having rested after the dance, Nitāi and His associates take supper in Rāghava's house —

নৃত্য করি' প্রভু যবে বিশ্রাম করিলা । ভোজনের লাগি' পণ্ডিত নিবেদন কৈলা ॥ ১০৬ ॥

nṛtya kari' prabhu yabe viśrāma karilā dance having done the Lord when rest took bhojanera lāgi' paṇḍita nivedana kailā
of the meal for the Paṇḍita a request made

106 When the Lord had danced and rested, the Paṇḍita asked Him to take His meal.

The Lord's seat for the meal — on Nitāi's right —

ভোজনে বসিলা প্রভু নিজগণ লঞা । মহাপ্রভুর আসন ডাহিনে পাতিয়া ॥ ১০৭ ॥

bhojane vasilā prabhu nija-gaṇa lañā to the meal sat the Lord His own associates taking mahāprabhura āsana ḍāhine pātiyā
Mahāprabhu's seat on the right spreading

107 The Lord sat down to eat with His associates, having a seat spread for Mahāprabhu at His right.

Rāghava rejoices to see Mahāprabhu sit on it —

মহাপ্রভু আসি' সেই আসনে বসিলা । দেখি' রাঘবের মনে আনন্দ বাড়িলা ॥ ১০৮ ॥

mahāprabhu āsi' sei āsane vasilā Mahāprabhu coming on that seat sat
dekhi' rāghavera mane ānanda bāḍilā
seeing Rāghava's in the mind joy increased

108 Mahāprabhu came and sat on that seat; seeing this, Rāghava's joy grew.

*First the two Lords, then the devotees honour the prasāda —*

দুইভাই-আগে প্রসাদ আনিয়া ধরিলা । সকল বৈষ্ণবে পিছে পরিবেশন কৈলা ॥ ১০৯ ॥

dui-bhāi-āge prasāda āniyā dharilā
before the two brothers prasāda bringing he placed sakala vaiṣṇave piche pariveśana kailā
to all the Vaiṣṇavas afterwards serving he did

109 He brought prasāda and set it before the two brothers, and afterwards he served all the Vaiṣṇavas.

*Description of the variety of prasāda in Rāghava's house —*

নানাপ্রকার পিঠা, পায়স, দিব্য শাল্য-অন্ন । অমৃত নিন্দয়ে ঐছে বিবিধ ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ১১০ ॥

nānā-prakāra piṭhā, pāyasa, divya śālya-anna
many kinds of cakes sweet rice excellent fine rice amṛta nindaye aiche vividha vyañjana
nectar put to shame such various vegetable dishes

110 There were many kinds of cakes (piṭhā), sweet rice (pāyasa), excellent fine rice, and various vegetable dishes that put nectar to shame.

The offerings prepared in Rāghava's house are ever dear to the Lord —

রাঘব-ঠাকুরের প্রসাদ অমৃতের সার । মহাপ্রভু যাহা খাইতে আইসে বার বার ॥ ১১১ ॥

rāghava-ṭhākurera prasāda amṛtera sāra
of Rāghava Ṭhākura the prasāda of nectar the essence mahāprabhu yāhā khāite āise bāra bāra
Mahāprabhu which to eat comes again and again

111 The prasāda of Rāghava Ṭhākura is the very essence of nectar; Mahāprabhu comes again and again to eat it.

Every day a separate offering for Mahāprabhu, and the Lord partakes of it —

পাক করি' রাঘব যবে ভোগ লাগায় । মহাপ্রভুর লাগি' ভোগ পৃথক্ বাড়য় ॥ ১১২ ॥

pāka kari' rāghava yabe bhoga lāgāya cooking having done Rāghava when the offering places mahāprabhura lāgi' bhoga pṛthak bāḍaya of Mahāprabhu for the sake an offering separate he serves out

112 When Rāghava has cooked and places the offering before the Deity, he serves out a separate offering for Mahāprabhu.

প্রতিদিন মহাপ্রভু করেন ভোজন । মধ্যে মধ্যে কভু তাঁরে দেন দরশন ॥ ১১৩ ॥

prati-dina mahāprabhu karena bhojana
every day Mahāprabhu partakes of the meal
madhye madhye kabhu tāṁre dena daraśana
now and then at times to him gives His sight

113 Mahāprabhu eats there every day, and now and then the Lord lets Rāghava see Him.

Rāghava serves the meal to the two Lords —

দুই ভাইরে রাঘব আনি' পরিবেশে । যত্ন করি' খাওয়ায়, না রহে অবশেষে ॥ ১১৪ ॥

dui bhāire rāghava āni' pariveśe to the two brothers Rāghava bringing serves yatna kari' khāoyāya, nā rahe avaśeṣe with care feeds Them not remains any left over

114 Rāghava brought the meal and served the two brothers; he fed Them with care, and nothing was left over.

*The two Lords eat many kinds of wonderful prasāda, leaving nothing —*

কত উপহার আনে, হেন নাহি জানি । রাঘবের ঘরে রান্ধে রাধা-ঠাকুরাণী ॥ ১১৫ ॥

kata upahāra āne, hena nāhi jāni
how many offerings he brings such not I know rāghavera ghare rāndhe rādhā-ṭhākurāṇī
in Rāghava's house cooks Rādhā Ṭhākurāṇī

115 I cannot say how many dishes he brought. In Rāghava's house Rādhā Ṭhākurāṇī Herself cooks.[9]

In Rāghava's house Śrī Rādhikā Herself cooks for Kṛṣṇa food that surpasses nectar —

দুর্ব্বাসার ঠাঞি তেঁহো পাঞাছেন বর । অমৃত হইতে পাক তাঁর অধিক মধুর ॥ ১১৬ ॥

durvāsāra ṭhāñi teṁho pāñāchena vara
from Durvāsā She has received a boon amṛta haite pāka tāṁra adhika madhura than nectar the cooking Hers more sweet

116 She received a boon from Durvāsā: Her cooking is sweeter than nectar.

The two Lords' delight in eating it —

সুগন্ধি সুন্দর প্রসাদ — মাধুর্য্যের সার । দুই ভাই তাহা খাঞা সন্তোষ অপার ॥ ১১৭ ॥

sugandhi sundara prasāda — mādhuryera sāra
fragrant beautiful prasāda of sweetness the essence dui bhāi tāhā khāñā santoṣa apāra
the two brothers it eating satisfaction boundless

117 The fragrant, beautiful prasāda was the very essence of sweetness, and the two brothers ate it with boundless satisfaction.

All the devotees sit down; they ask Raghunātha to sit for the meal, and he agrees to sit later —

ভোজনে বসিতে রঘুনাথে কহে সর্ব্বজন । পণ্ডিত কহে, — ইঁহ পাছে করিবে ভোজন ॥ ১১৮ ॥

bhojane vasite raghunāthe kahe sarva-jana to the meal to sit to Raghunātha say all the people
paṇḍita kahe, — iṁha pāche karibe bhojana
the Paṇḍita says he later will take the meal

118 Everyone asked Raghunātha to sit down to the meal, but the Paṇḍita said, “He will eat later.”

The devotees eat their fill and rinse their mouths —

ভক্তগণ আকণ্ঠ ভরিয়া করিল ভোজন । ‘হরি’ ধ্বনি করি’ উঠি’ কৈল আচমন ॥ ১১৯ ॥

bhakta-gaṇa ākaṇṭha bhariyā karila bhojana
the devotees to the throat filling took the meal ‘hari’ dhvani kari’ uṭhi’ kaila ācamana
‘Hari’ the sound making rising did ācamana

119 The devotees ate their fill; then, calling out “Hari!”, they rose and rinsed their mouths and hands.

After rinsing Their mouths, the two Lords are adorned with garlands and sandal paste —

ভোজন করি’ দুই ভাই কৈলা আচমন । রাঘব আনি’ পরাইলা মাল্য-চন্দন ॥ ১২০ ॥

bhojana kari’ dui bhāi kailā ācamana
the meal having taken the two brothers did ācamana
rāghava āni’ parāilā mālya-candana
Rāghava bringing put on Them garlands and sandal

120 When the two brothers had eaten, They rinsed Their mouths and hands, and Rāghava brought garlands and sandal paste and adorned Them.

The two Lords take betel; everyone receives the remnants —

বিড়া খাওয়াইলা, কৈলা চরণ বন্দন । ভক্তগণে দিলা বিড়া, মাল্য-চন্দন ॥ ১২১ ॥

biḍā khāoyāilā, kailā caraṇa vandana biḍā he fed Them did to the feet homage bhakta-gaṇe dilā biḍā, mālya-candana
to the devotees he gave biḍā garlands and sandal

121 He gave Them biḍā (prepared betel) to chew and bowed at Their feet; then he gave the devotees biḍā, garlands and sandal paste.

Anubhāṣya.
Biḍā — prepared betel: a folded pān leaf (khili).

Full of affection and mercy, Rāghava gives Raghunātha the plate of the two Lords' remnants —

রাঘবের কৃপা রঘুনাথের উপরে । দুই ভাইএর অবশিষ্ট পাত্র দিলা তাঁরে ॥ ১২২ ॥

rāghavera kṛpā raghunāthera upare Rāghava’s mercy Raghunātha upon
dui bhāiera avaśiṣṭa pātra dilā tāṁre
of the two brothers remnant the plates he gave to him

122 Rāghava’s mercy rested on Raghunātha: he gave him the plates with the remnants of the two brothers.

Only by partaking of the Lord's remnants does Raghunātha gain the strength to leave home —

কহিলা, — চৈতন্য গোসাঞি কৈরাছেন ভোজন । তাঁর শেষ পাইলে, তোমার খণ্ডিবে বন্ধন ॥ ১২৩ ॥

kahilā, — caitanya gosāñi kairāchena bhojana
he said Caitanya Gosāñi has taken the meal
tāṁra śeṣa pāile, tomāra khaṇḍibe bandhana
His remnants if you get your will be cut bondage

123 He said, “Caitanya Gosāñi has eaten from these. If you receive His remnants, your bondage will be cut.”

Where Bhagavān abides, and what His nature is —

ভক্ত-চিত্তে ভক্ত-গৃহে সদা অবস্থান ।
কভু গুপ্ত, কভু ব্যক্ত, স্বতন্ত্র ভগবান্ ॥ ১২৪ ॥

bhakta-citte bhakta-gṛhe sadā avasthāna
in the devotee’s heart in the devotee’s home always is His abode
kabhu gupta, kabhu vyakta, svatantra bhagavān
sometimes hidden sometimes manifest independent Bhagavān

124 The independent Bhagavān always abides in the heart and in the home of His devotee — sometimes hidden, sometimes manifest.

The ruin of one who doubts the Lord's all-pervading nature —

সর্ব্বত্র ‘ব্যাপক’ প্রভুর সদা সর্ব্বত্র বাস । ইহাতে সংশয় যার, সেই যায় নাশ ॥ ১২৫ ॥

sarvatra ‘vyāpaka’ prabhura sadā sarvatra vāsa everywhere ‘all-pervading’ of the Lord always everywhere the dwelling ihāte saṁśaya yāra, sei yāya nāśa
in this doubt whose he goes to ruin

125 The Lord is all-pervading; He dwells everywhere, always. Whoever doubts this goes to ruin.

The next day, after His morning bath, Nitāi sits at the foot of a tree, and Raghunātha begs Him for Caitanya's feet —

প্রাতে নিত্যানন্দ প্রভু গঙ্গাস্নান করিয়া । সেই বৃক্ষমূলে বসিলা নিজগণ লঞা ॥ ১২৬ ॥

prāte nityānanda prabhu gaṅgā-snāna kariyā in the morning Nityānanda Prabhu bath in the Gaṅgā having taken sei vṛkṣa-mūle vasilā nija-gaṇa lañā that at the foot of the tree sat His own associates taking 126 In the morning Nityānanda Prabhu bathed in the Gaṅgā and sat with His associates at the foot of that same tree.

রঘুনাথ আসি' কৈলা চরণ বন্দন । রাঘবপণ্ডিত-দ্বারা কৈলা নিবেদন ॥ ১২৭ ॥

raghunātha āsi' kailā caraṇa vandana Raghunātha coming did to the feet homage rāghava-paṇḍita-dvārā kailā nivedana
through Rāghava Paṇḍita made his submission

127 Raghunātha came and bowed at His feet, and through Rāghava Paṇḍita he humbly made his request:

অধম, পামর মুই হীন জীবাধম !
মোর ইচ্ছা হয়, — পাঙ চৈতন্য-চরণ ॥ ১২৮ ॥ adhama, pāmara mui hīna jīvādhama!

low wretched I base the lowest of souls
mora icchā haya, — pāṅa caitanya-caraṇa
my desire is that I may attain Caitanya's feet

128 "I am low and wretched, base, the lowest of souls. Yet my desire is to attain the feet of Caitanya.

বামন হঞা যেন চান্দ ধরিবারে চায় । অনেক যত্ন কৈনু, তাতে কভু সিদ্ধ নয় ॥ ১২৯ ॥

vāmana hañā yena cānda dharibāre cāya
a dwarf being as if the moon to catch wants aneka yatna kainu, tāte kabhu siddha naya
many efforts I made in that ever success not

129 It is like a dwarf wanting to catch the moon. I have tried many times, but never succeeded.

যতবার পলাই আমি গৃহাদি ছাড়িয়া । পিতা, মাতা — দুই মোরে রাখয়ে বান্ধিয়া ॥ ১৩০ ॥

yata-bāra palāi āmi gṛhādi chāḍiyā
as many times I flee I home and all leaving pitā, mātā — dui more rākhaye bāndhiyā
father mother the two me keep bound

130 Every time I run away, leaving home and all, my father and mother both keep me bound.

Without the mercy of Nityānanda (the guru) no one can attain Caitanya's feet; by His mercy even the unworthy become worthy of them —

তোমার কৃপা বিনা কেহ 'চৈতন্য' না পায় । তুমি কৃপা কৈলে তাঁরে অধমেহ পায় ॥ ১৩১ ॥

tomāra kṛpā vinā keha 'caitanya' nā pāya
Your mercy without anyone 'Caitanya' not attains
tumi kṛpā kaile tāṁre adhameha pāya
You mercy if You show Him even the lowest attains

131 Without Your mercy no one attains Caitanya; if You show mercy, even the lowest attains Him.

To attain Caitanya's feet one must beg for mercy at the feet of Nityānanda (the guru) —

অযোগ্য মুই নিবেদন করিতে করি ভয় । মোরে 'চৈতন্য' দেহ' গোসাঞি হঞা সদয় ॥ ১৩২ ॥

ayogya mui nivedana karite kari bhaya unworthy I a request to make I feel fear
more 'caitanya' deha' gosāñi hañā sadaya
to me 'Caitanya' give O Gosāñi being kind

132 Unworthy as I am, I am afraid even to ask. O Gosāñi, be kind and grant me Caitanya.

মোর মাথে পদ ধরি' করহ প্রসাদ ।
নির্ব্বিঘ্নে চৈতন্য পাঙ — কর আশীর্ব্বাদ ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

mora māthe pada dhari' karaha prasāda
my on the head Your foot placing bestow grace nirvighne caitanya pāṅa — kara āśīrvāda
without obstacles Caitanya that I may attain give blessing

133 Place Your foot on my head and grant me this grace; bless me, that I may attain Caitanya without obstacles."

Seeing Raghunātha's longing for Caitanya's feet, Nityānanda Prabhu asks His pure devotees to bless him with their mercy —

শুনি' হাসি' কহে প্রভু সব ভক্তগণে । ইঁহার বিষয়সুখ — ইন্দ্রসুখ-সমে ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

śuni' hāsi' kahe prabhu saba bhakta-gaṇe hearing smiling says the Lord to all the devotees iṁhāra viṣaya-sukha — indra-sukha-same his worldly happiness to Indra's happiness equal

134 Hearing this, the Lord smiled and said to all the devotees, "His worldly happiness equals the happiness of Indra.

চৈতন্য-কৃপাতে সেহ নাহি ভায় মনে । সবে আশীর্ব্বাদ কর, — পাউক চৈতন্য-চরণে ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

caitanya-kṛpāte seha nāhi bhāya mane
by Caitanya's mercy even that not pleases his mind
sabe āśīrvāda kara, — pāuka caitanya-caraṇe
all of you blessing give may he attain Caitanya's feet

135 Yet by Caitanya's mercy even that holds no charm for his mind. All of you, bless him, that he may attain the feet of Caitanya.

The glory of the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's lotus feet, and its power to attract —

কৃষ্ণপাদপদ্ম-গন্ধ যেই জন পায় । ব্রহ্মলোক আদি সুখ তাঁরে নাহি ভায় ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa-pāda-padma-gandha yei jana pāya
of Kṛṣṇa's lotus feet the fragrance whoever person obtains brahmaloka ādi sukha tāṁre nāhi bhāya
Brahmaloka and the rest the happiness to him not appeals

136 One who has caught the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's lotus feet finds no charm in the happiness of Brahmaloka and the other worlds."

যো দুস্ত্যজান্ দারসুতান্ সুহৃদ্রাজ্যং হৃদিস্পৃশঃ । জহৌ যুবৈব মলবদুত্তমঃশ্লোকলালসঃ ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

yo dustyajān dāra-sutān
who hard to give up wife and sons
suhṛd-rājyaṁ hṛdi-spṛśaḥ
friends and kingdom dear to the heart
jahau yuvaiva mala-vad
gave up while young even like filth
uttamaḥ-śloka-lālasaḥ
for Uttamaśloka longing

137 "Longing for Uttamaśloka, Bharata, while still young, cast off like so much filth his wife and sons, his friends and kingdom — all so dear to his heart and so hard to leave." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 5.14.43)[10]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 23.24.

Nityānanda places His foot on Raghunātha's head — how Raghunātha received the Lord's mercy —

তবে রঘুনাথে প্রভু নিকটে বোলাইলা । তাঁর মাথে পদ ধরি' কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

tabe raghunāthe prabhu nikaṭe bolāilā then Raghunātha the Lord near called tāṁra māthe pada dhari' kahite lāgilā
on his head His foot placing to speak began

138 Then the Lord called Raghunātha near, placed His foot on his head and began to speak:

তুমি যে করাইলা এই পুলিন-ভোজন । তোমায় কৃপা করি' গৌর কৈলা আগমন ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

tumi ye karāilā ei pulina-bhojana
you that arranged this picnic on the sandy bank tomāya kṛpā kari' gaura kailā āgamana to you mercy showing Gaura made His coming

139 "Gaura came to this picnic on the riverbank that you arranged, to show you mercy.

কৃপা করি' কৈলা চিড়া-দুগ্ধ ভোজন । নৃত্য দেখি' রাত্র্যে কৈলা প্রসাদ ভক্ষণ ॥ ১৪০ ॥

kṛpā kari' kailā ciḍā-dugdha bhojana mercy showing He did ciḍā and milk eating nṛtya dekhi' rātrye kailā prasāda bhakṣaṇa
the dancing seeing at night He did prasāda partaking

140 In His mercy He ate ciḍā with milk, and at night, after watching the dancing, He partook of the prasāda.

Out of mercy to Raghunātha, Gaura appears, and the meal destroys all of Raghunātha's obstacles —

তোমা উদ্ধারিতে গৌর আইলা আপনে । ছুটিল তোমার যত বিঘ্নাদি-বন্ধনে ॥ ১৪১ ॥

tomā uddhārite gaura āilā āpane
you to deliver Gaura came Himself
chuṭila tomāra yata vighnādi-bandhane
have been loosed your all obstacles and other bonds

141 Gaura came Himself to deliver you. All your bonds — obstacles and the rest — have been loosed.

Nityānanda Prabhu's prophecy —

স্বরূপের স্থানে তোমা করিবে সমর্পণে ।
'অন্তরঙ্গ' ভৃত্য বলি' রাখিবে চরণে ॥ ১৪২ ॥

svarūpera sthāne tomā karibe samarpaṇe of Svarūpa into the keeping you He will make the entrusting
'antaraṅga' bhṛtya bali' rākhibe caraṇe
'intimate' servant calling you He will keep at His feet

142 He will entrust you to Svarūpa and keep you at His feet, calling you His intimate servant.

The blessing to attain Caitanya's feet without obstacle —

নিশ্চিন্ত হঞা যাহ আপন-ভবন । অচিরে নির্ব্বিঘ্নে পাবে চৈতন্য-চরণ ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

niścinta hañā yāha āpana-bhavana
free from care being go to your own home
acire nirvighne pābe caitanya-caraṇa
soon without obstacles you will attain Caitanya's feet

143 Go home free from care. Soon, without obstacles, you will attain the feet of Caitanya."

Through the devotees He has Raghunātha blessed; Raghunātha bows at the devotees' feet —

সব ভক্তদ্বারে তাঁরে আশীর্ব্বাদ করাইলা । তাঁ-সবার চরণ রঘুনাথ বন্দিলা ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

saba bhakta-dvāre tāṁre āśīrvāda karāilā
all through the devotees on him blessing He had bestowed
tāṁ-sabāra caraṇa raghunātha vandilā their all the feet Raghunātha honored

144 Through all the devotees the Lord had him blessed, and Raghunātha bowed at the feet of them all.[11]

A secret consultation with Rāghava —

প্রভু-আজ্ঞা লঞা বৈষ্ণবের আজ্ঞা লইলা । রাঘব-সহিতে নিভৃতে যুক্তি করিলা ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

prabhu-ājñā lañā vaiṣṇavera ājñā lailā the Lord's permission taking of the Vaiṣṇavas the permission he took rāghava-sahite nibhṛte yukti karilā with Rāghava in private counsel he took 145 Taking leave of the Lord and of the Vaiṣṇavas, he consulted with Rāghava in private.

*Raghunātha places money as an offering (praṇāmī) in the hands of the Lord's treasurer —*

যুক্তি করি' শত মুদ্রা, সোণা তোলা-সাতে । নিভৃতে দিলা প্রভুর ভাণ্ডারীর হাতে ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

yukti kari' śata mudrā, soṇā tolā-sāte counsel having taken a hundred coins of gold tolās seven nibhṛte dilā prabhura bhāṇḍārīra hāte
in secret he gave of the Lord's treasurer into the hand

146 After consulting him, he secretly placed a hundred coins and seven tolās of gold in the hands of the Lord's treasurer.[12]

A request to keep this hidden from the Lord —

তাঁরে নিষেধিলা, — প্রভুরে এবে না কহিবা । নিজঘরে যাবেন যবে তবে নিবেদিবা ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

tāṁre niṣedhilā, — prabhure ebe nā kahibā him he forbade to the Lord now not you shall tell nija-ghare yābena yabe tabe nivedibā
to His own home He will go when then you shall submit it

147 He told him, "Do not tell the Lord now; when He goes home, tell Him then."

Rāghava takes Raghunātha to his own house, shows him the Deity, and honors him fittingly —

তবে রাঘব-পণ্ডিত তাঁরে ঘরে লঞা গেলা । ঠাকুর দর্শন করাঞা মালা চন্দন দিলা ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

tabe rāghava-paṇḍita tāṁre ghare lañā gelā then Rāghava Paṇḍita him home taking went ṭhākura darśana karāñā mālā candana dilā
the Deity's darśana granting garland sandal he gave 148 Then Rāghava Paṇḍita took him home, gave him darśana of the Deity, and gave him a garland and sandal paste.

By showing an example of how the feet of Vaiṣṇavas should be honored, Raghunātha teaches wealthy worldly people —

অনেক 'প্রসাদ' দিলা পথে খাইবারে । তবে পুনঃ রঘুনাথ কহে পণ্ডিতেরে ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

aneka 'prasāda' dilā pathe khāibāre much 'prasāda' he gave on the way to eat
tabe punaḥ raghunātha kahe paṇḍitere
then again Raghunātha says to the Paṇḍita

149 He gave him plenty of prasāda to eat on the way. Then Raghunātha spoke again to the Paṇḍita:

প্রভুর সঙ্গে যত মহান্ত, ভৃত্য, আশ্রিত জন । পূজিতে চাহিয়ে আমি সবার চরণ ॥ ১৫০ ॥

prabhura saṅge yata mahānta, bhṛtya, āśrita jana with the Lord all great souls servants dependent persons pūjite cāhiye āmi sabāra caraṇa
to worship wish I of all the feet

150 “I wish to worship the feet of all the great souls, servants and dependents who are with the Lord.

বিশ, পঞ্চদশ, বার, দশ, পঞ্চ হয় । মুদ্রা দেহ’ বিচারি’ যার যত যোগ্য হয় ॥ ১৫১ ॥

biśa, pañca-daśa, bāra, daśa, pañca haya twenty fifteen twelve ten five there are mudrā deha’ vicāri’ yāra yata yogya haya coins give considering to whom how many fitting is 151 Twenty, fifteen, twelve, ten or five — give the coins, considering how many befit each one.”

*A letter of greeting and an offering (praṇāmī) to everyone —*

সব লেখা করিয়া রাঘব-পাশ দিলা । যাঁর নামে যত রাঘব চিঠি লেখাইলা ॥ ১৫২ ॥

saba lekhā kariyā rāghava-pāśa dilā
all account making near Rāghava he gave yāṁra nāme yata rāghava ciṭhi lekhāilā
in whose name how much Rāghava notes had written

152 He made up the whole account and gave it to Rāghava, and Rāghava had a note written for each one, with his name and the amount.

একশত মুদ্রা, আর সোণা তোলা-দ্বয় । পণ্ডিতের আগে দিলা করিয়া বিনয় ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

eka-śata mudrā, āra soṇā tolā-dvaya
one hundred coins and of gold two tolās paṇḍitera āge dilā kariyā vinaya
before the Paṇḍita he gave showing humility

153 Humbly he placed a hundred coins and two tolās of gold before the Paṇḍita.[13]

Having received Nitāi's mercy and bowed to Rāghava, Raghunātha returns home —

তাঁর পদধূলি লঞা স্বগৃহে আইলা । নিত্যানন্দ-কৃপা পাঞা কৃতার্থ মানিলা ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

tāṁra pada-dhūli lañā svagṛhe āilā his the dust of the feet taking to his own home he came nityānanda-kṛpā pāñā kṛtārtha mānilā Nityānanda’s mercy having received fulfilled he felt

154 Taking the dust of his feet, he returned home; having received Nityānanda’s mercy, he felt that his life had found its purpose.

From then on he lives in the outer part of the house —

সেই হৈতে অভ্যন্তরে না করেন গমন । বাহিরে দুর্গামণ্ডপে করেন শয়ন ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

sei haite abhyantare nā karena gamana
from that time inside not he does go bāhire durgā-maṇḍape karena śayana
outside in the durgā-maṇḍapa he does sleep

155 From then on he did not go into the inner quarters of the house, but slept outside in the durgā-maṇḍapa.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Abhyantara — the inner quarters of the house (andar-bāṛī).

The guards —

তাঁহা জাগি' রহে সব রক্ষকগণ । পলাইতে করেন নানা উপায় চিন্তন ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

tāṁhā jāgi' rahe saba rakṣaka-gaṇa
there awake remain all the guards
palāite karena nānā upāya cintana to flee he does various means thinking of 156 There the guards all kept watch, while he thought of various ways to escape.

In the rainy season the devotees of Gauḍa set out for Purī to see the Lord —

হেনকালে গৌড়দেশের সব ভক্তগণ । প্রভুরে দেখিতে নীলাচলে করিলা গমন ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

hena-kāle gauḍa-deśera saba bhakta-gaṇa
at such a time of the land of Gauḍa all the devotees
prabhure dekhite nīlācale karilā gamana
the Lord to see to Nīlācala made their going

157 At that time all the devotees of Gauḍa set out for Nīlācala to see the Lord.

Fearing that he would be caught if he went openly with the devotees of Gauḍa, Raghunātha cannot go to Purī —

তাঁ-সবার সঙ্গে রঘুনাথ যাইতে না পারে । প্রসিদ্ধ প্রকট সঙ্গ, তবঁহি ধরা পড়ে ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

tāṁ-sabāra saṅge raghunātha yāite nā pāre with them all Raghunātha to go not can prasiddha prakaṭa saṅga, tabaṁhi dharā paḍe
well known open the company at once caught he falls

158 Raghunātha could not go with them: their company was well known and in plain sight, and he would have been caught at once.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
When Gaura's devotees travel to Nīlācala, their company is in plain view and known to everyone. Raghunātha fears that if he goes with them his father will seize him and bring him back, and so he cannot go with them.

The account of Raghunātha's meeting with the Lord; Raghunātha's day of good fortune —

এইমত চিন্তিতে দৈবে একদিনে । বাহিরে দেবীমণ্ডপে কৈরাছেন শয়নে ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

ei-mata cintite daive eka-dine thus while thinking by providence one day
bāhire devī-maṇḍape kairāchena śayane
outside in the devī-maṇḍapa he was sleeping

159 While he was pondering this, one day, as providence would have it, he was sleeping outside in the devī-maṇḍapa.

Late in the night — a meeting with his guru, Yadunandana —

দণ্ড-চারি রাত্রি যবে আছে অবশেষ । যদুনন্দন-আচার্য্য তবে করিলা প্রবেশ ॥ ১৬০ ॥

daṇḍa-cāri rātri yabe āche avaśeṣa
four daṇḍas of the night when is remaining yadunandana-ācārya tabe karilā praveśa
Yadunandana Ācārya then made his entrance

160 When four daṇḍas of the night remained, Yadunandana Ācārya came in.

Who Yadunandana was —

বাসুদেব-দত্তের তেঁহ হয় 'অনুগৃহীত' । রঘুনাথের 'গুরু' তেঁহো হয় 'পুরোহিত' ॥ ১৬১ ॥

vāsudeva-dattera teṁha haya 'anugṛhīta'
of Vāsudeva Datta he is 'favored'
raghunāthera 'guru' teṁho haya 'purohita'
Raghunātha's 'guru' he is 'purohita'

161 He had received the favour of Vāsudeva Datta; he was Raghunātha's guru and family priest (purohita).

অদ্বৈত-আচার্য্যের তেঁহ 'শিষ্য অন্তরঙ্গ' । আচার্য্য-আজ্ঞাতে মানে — চৈতন্য 'প্রাণধন' ॥ ১৬২ ॥

advaita-ācāryera teṁha 'śiṣya antaraṅga'
of Advaita Ācārya he 'an intimate disciple'
ācārya-ājñāte māne — caitanya 'prāṇa-dhana'
at the Ācārya's order he holds Caitanya as 'the treasure of life'

162 He was an intimate disciple of Advaita Ācārya, and at the Ācārya's order he held Caitanya to be the treasure of his life.

Anubhāṣya.

These words too show that the godless (pāṣaṇḍīs) who oppose the teaching and disobey Śrī Advaitācārya's order call themselves his followers. Yet, swayed by a mood hostile to pure devotion, they did not recognize Śrī Mahāprabhu as Svayaṁ Bhagavān Kṛṣṇa, whom the jīva eternally worships. Śrī Yadunandana was an intimate disciple of Śrī Advaita Prabhu, whose only life is Śrī Caitanya. Therefore he was never tainted by the fault of seeing Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇava as mere members of a common caste. Vāsudeva Datta Ṭhākura was not born in a brāhmaṇa family by seminal descent, yet Yadunandana regarded him as his own guru, who had bestowed mercy (anugraha) on him.

Raghunātha bows to Yadunandana —

অঙ্গনে আসিয়া তেঁহো যবে দাণ্ডাইলা । রঘুনাথ আসি' তবে দণ্ডবৎ কৈলা ॥ ১৬৩ ॥

aṅgane āsiyā teṁho yabe dāṇḍāilā
in the courtyard coming he when stood raghunātha āsi' tabe daṇḍavat kailā Raghunātha coming then obeisance made

163 When he came and stood in the courtyard, Raghunātha came and offered him obeisances.

তাঁর এক শিষ্য তাঁর ঠাকুরের সেবা করে । সেবা ছাড়িয়াছে, তারে সাধিবার তরে ॥ ১৬৪ ॥

tāṁra eka śiṣya tāṁra ṭhākurera sevā kare his one disciple his of the Deity service does sevā chāḍiyāche, tāre sādhibāra tare
the service has given up him to persuade for the sake

164 A disciple of his who served his Deity had given up the service, and he wanted him persuaded to take it up again.

*Yadunandana takes Raghunātha with him so that he may persuade a disciple who had given up the worship of the Deity to perform the morning ārati —*

রঘুনাথে কহে, — তারে করহ সাধন । সেবা যেন করে, আর নাহিক ‘ব্রাহ্মণ’ ॥ ১৬৫ ॥

raghunāthe kahe, — tāre karaha sādhana to Raghunātha he says him do persuade sevā yena kare, āra nāhika ‘brāhmaṇa’
service so that he does other there is none ‘brāhmaṇa’

165 He said to Raghunātha, “Persuade him to do the service; there is no other brāhmaṇa.”

At the end of the night the guards fall fast asleep —

এত কহি’ রঘুনাথে লঞা চলিলা । রক্ষক সব শেষরাত্রে নিদ্রায় পড়িলা ॥ ১৬৬ ॥

eta kahi’ raghunāthe lañā calilā
this saying Raghunātha taking he set off
rakṣaka saba śeṣa-rātre nidrāya paḍilā
the guards all at the end of the night into sleep fell

166 Saying this, he set off with Raghunātha. Towards the end of the night all the guards had fallen asleep.

Raghunātha follows his guru; the two walk toward the Ācārya's house —

আচার্য্যের ঘর ইহার পূর্ব্বদিশাতে । কহিতে শুনিতে দুঁহে চলে সেই পথে ॥ ১৬৭ ॥

ācāryera ghara ihāra pūrva-diśāte
the Ācārya’s house from his to the east kahite śunite duṁhe cale sei pathe
speaking listening the two walk along that road

167 The Ācārya’s house lay to the east of Raghunātha’s, and the two walked along that road, talking as they went.

অর্দ্ধপথে রঘুনাথ কহে গুরুর চরণে ।
আমি সেই বিপ্রে সাধি’ পাঠাইমু তোমা স্থানে ॥ ১৬৮ ॥

arddhapathe raghunātha kahe gurura caraṇe
halfway Raghunātha says at the guru’s feet
āmi sei vipre sādhi’ pāṭhāimu tomā sthāne
I that brāhmaṇa having persuaded will send to your place

168 Halfway there Raghunātha humbly said to his guru, “I will persuade that brāhmaṇa and send him to your house.[14]

Seizing a good opportunity on the way, the clever Raghunātha asks his guru's leave to go and worship Kṛṣṇa —

তুমি ঘরে যাহ সুখে, — মোরে আজ্ঞা হয় । এই ছলে আজ্ঞা মাগি' করিলা নিশ্চয় ॥ ১৬৯ ॥

tumi ghare yāha sukhe, — more ājñā haya
you home go happily to me permission let there be ei chale ājñā māgi' karilā niścaya
on this pretext leave begging he made his resolve

169 Go home in peace and give me leave." Having begged leave on this pretext, he made up his mind:

Raghunātha plans his escape —

সেবক রক্ষক আর কেহ নাহি সঙ্গে । পলাইতে আমার ভাল এই ত' প্রসঙ্গে ॥ ১৭০ ॥

sevaka rakṣaka āra keha nāhi saṅge
servant guard or anyone not with me
palāite āmāra bhāla ei ta' prasaṅge
for fleeing my good this indeed opportunity

170 "No servant, no guard — no one is with me. This is my chance to escape."

Flight in great haste —

এত চিন্তি' পূর্ব্বমুখে করিলা গমন । উলটিয়া চাহে পাছে, — নাহি কোন জন ॥ ১৭১ ॥

eta cinti' pūrva-mukhe karilā gamana
thus thinking to the east he made his way ulaṭiyā cāhe pāche, — nāhi kona jana turning he looks behind not any person

171 Thinking this, he set off towards the east. He turned and looked back — no one was there.

Fearing capture, he hurries through the forests by byways —

শ্রীচৈতন্য-নিত্যানন্দ-চরণ চিন্তিয়া । পথ ছাড়ি' উপপথে যায়েন ধাঞা ॥ ১৭২ ॥

śrī-caitanya-nityānanda-caraṇa cintiyā of Śrī Caitanya and Nityānanda the feet meditating on patha chāḍi' upapathe yāyena dhāñā
the road leaving by byways he goes running

172 Meditating on the feet of Śrī Caitanya and Nityānanda, he left the road and hurried along byways.

All day, meditating single-mindedly on Caitanya's feet, he covers a long way, and in the evening, in a cowherd's house, he drinks milk and rests his weary body —

গ্রামে-গ্রামের পথ ছাড়ি' যায় বনে-বনে । কায়মনোবাক্যে চিন্তে চৈতন্য-চরণে ॥ ১৭৩ ॥

grāme-grāmera patha chāḍi' yāya vane-vane
from village to village the road leaving he goes from forest to forest kāya-mano-vākye cinte caitanya-caraṇe
with body, mind and words he meditates on Caitanya's feet

173 Avoiding the road that led from village to village, he went from forest to forest, meditating on the feet of Caitanya with body, mind and words.

পঞ্চদশ-ক্রোশ-পথ চলি' গেলা একদিনে । সন্ধ্যাকালে রহিলা এক গোপের বাথানে ॥ ১৭৪ ॥

pañca-daśa-krośa-patha cali' gelā eka-dine fifteen krośas of road walking he went in one day
sandhyā-kāle rahilā eka gopera bāthāne
at dusk he stayed one cowherd's in the cowshed

174 In one day he walked fifteen krośas, and at dusk he stayed in a cowherd's cowshed.

Anubhāṣya.
Bāthān — a cowshed, a cow pen (goṣṭha).

উপবাসী দেখি' গোপ দুগ্ধ আনি' দিলা । সেই দুগ্ধ পান করি' পড়িয়া রহিলা ॥ ১৭৫ ॥

upavāsī dekhi' gopa dugdha āni' dilā fasting seeing the cowherd milk bringing gave sei dugdha pāna kari' paḍiyā rahilā that milk drinking lying down he remained

175 Seeing that he was fasting, the cowherd brought him milk. He drank it and lay down there.

The next morning, not finding Raghunātha, the household raises an uproar, and to search for him his father sends a letter and men to the pilgrims bound for Purī —

এথা তাঁর সেবক রক্ষক তাঁরে না দেখিয়া । তাঁর গুরুপাশে বার্ত্তা পুছিলেন গিয়া ॥ ১৭৬ ॥

ethā tāṁra sevaka rakṣaka tāṁre nā dekhiyā here his servant guard him not seeing tāṁra guru-pāśe vārtā puchilena giyā his to the guru news asked going

176 Back at home his servant and guard, not finding him, went to his guru and asked for news of him.

তেঁহ কহে, — আজ্ঞা মাগি' গেলা নিজ ঘর । পলাইল রঘুনাথ — উঠিল কোলাহল ॥ ১৭৭ ॥

teṁha kahe, — ājñā māgi' gelā nija ghara
he says leave asking he went to his own home palāila raghunātha — uṭhila kolāhala has fled Raghunātha arose an uproar

177 He said, "He asked my leave and went to his own home." "Raghunātha has fled!" — an uproar arose.

তাঁর পিতা কহে, — গৌড়ের ভক্তগণ । প্রভু-স্থানে নীলাচলে করিলা গমন ॥ ১৭৮ ॥

tāṁra pitā kahe, — gauḍera bhakta-gaṇa
his father says of Gauḍa the devotees
prabhu-sthāne nīlācale karilā gamana to the Lord's presence to Nīlācala have made their going

178 His father said, “The devotees of Gauḍa have set out for Nīlācala to see the Lord.[15]

সেই-সঙ্গে রঘুনাথ গেল পলাঞা । দশ জন যাহ, তারে আনহ ধরিয়া ॥ ১৭৯ ॥

sei-saṅge raghunātha gela palāñā with them Raghunātha has gone fleeing daśa jana yāha, tāre ānaha dhariyā
ten men go him bring back catching

179 Raghunātha has run off with them. Ten men, go, catch him and bring him back!”

শিবানন্দে পত্রী দিল বিনয় করিয়া । আমার পুত্রেরে তুমি দিবা বাহুড়িয়া ॥ ১৮০ ॥

śivānande patrī dila vinaya kariyā to Śivānanda a letter he gave humility showing āmāra putrere tumi dibā bāhuḍiyā
my son you shall give sending back

180 He humbly sent a letter to Śivānanda: “Please send my son back to me.”

Anubhāṣya.
Bāhuḍiyā — bringing back. Śivānanda Sena used to lead the pilgrims from Gauḍa to Nīlācala. Raghunātha's father therefore guessed that his son was with him, and to have Raghunātha sent back he sent him a letter of request, and ten men along with it.

ঝাঁকরা পর্য্যন্ত গেল সেই দশ জনে । ঝাঁকরাতে পাইল গিয়া বৈষ্ণবের গণে ॥ ১৮১ ॥

jhāṁkarā paryanta gela sei daśa jane Jhāṅkarā as far as went those ten men jhāṁkarāte pāila giyā vaiṣṇavera gaṇe
at Jhāṅkarā found going of the Vaiṣṇavas the party

181 The ten men went as far as Jhāṅkarā, and there they caught up with the party of Vaiṣṇavas.

The men deliver the letter to Śivānanda and ask about Raghunātha —

পত্রী দিয়া শিবানন্দে বার্ত্তা পুছিল । শিবানন্দ কহে, — তেঁহ এথা না আইল ॥ ১৮২ ॥

patrī diyā śivānande vārtā puchila
the letter giving to Śivānanda news they asked śivānanda kahe, — teṁha ethā nā āila Śivānanda says he here not came 182 They gave Śivānanda the letter and asked for news. Śivānanda said, “He has not come here.”

Śivānanda says he knows nothing; not finding Raghunātha, the messengers return home —

বাহুড়িয়া সেই দশ জন আইল ঘর । তাঁর মাতা-পিতা হইল চিন্তিত অন্তর ॥ ১৮৩ ॥

bāhuḍiyā sei daśa jana āila ghara returning those ten men came home
tāṁra mātā-pitā haila cintita antara
his mother and father became troubled at heart

183 The ten men returned home, and his mother and father were deeply troubled.

Lost to himself in love for the Lord, Raghunātha travels to Purī to attain the Lord's feet, enduring severe bodily hardship on the way —

এথা রঘুনাথ-দাস প্রভাতে উঠিয়া । পূর্ব্বমুখ ছাড়ি' চলে দক্ষিণ-মুখ হঞা ॥ ১৮৪ ॥

ethā raghunātha-dāsa prabhāte uṭhiyā
here Raghunātha dāsa at daybreak rising pūrva-mukha chāḍi' cale dakṣiṇa-mukha hañā
the eastward way leaving goes southward turning

184 Meanwhile Raghunātha dāsa rose at daybreak, left the eastward road and went on, turning south.

ছত্রভোগ পার হঞা ছাড়িয়া সরাণ । কুগ্রাম-কুগ্রাম দিয়া করিল প্রয়াণ ॥ ১৮৫ ॥

chatrabhoga pāra hañā chāḍiyā sarāṇa Chatrabhoga crossing leaving the main road
kugrāma-kugrāma diyā karila prayāṇa
by poor villages, poor villages he made his journey

185 Past Chatrabhoga he left the main road and journeyed on through small, out-of-the-way villages.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
He went by way of small, insignificant villages.

Anubhāṣya.
Saraṇa — a broad road.

Chatrabhoga. Today this place lies in the Twenty-four Parganas district, within Mathurāpura; it is known as the "Chāṛ-khāṛi" of the Gaṅgā and lies near the two well-known villages of Jayanagara and Majilapura. In former times the Gaṅgā flowed here. Those who take Chatrabhoga to be the Kāsāi River are mistaken.

ভক্ষণ অপেক্ষা নাহি, সমস্ত-দিবস গমন ।
ক্ষুধা নাহি বাধে চৈতন্যচরণ প্রাপ্ত্যে মন ॥ ১৮৬ ॥

bhakṣaṇa apekṣā nāhi, samasta-divasa gamana
of food concern none the whole day walking kṣudhā nāhi bādhe caitanya-caraṇa prāptye mana hunger not hinders on attaining Caitanya's feet the mind

186 He gave no thought to food and walked all day long. Hunger did not trouble him, for his mind was set on attaining the feet of Caitanya.

কভু চর্ব্বণ, কভু রন্ধন, কভু দুগ্ধপান । যবে যেই মিলে, তাহে রাখে নিজ-প্রাণ ॥ ১৮৭ ॥

kabhu carvaṇa, kabhu randhana, kabhu dugdha-pāna
sometimes chewing sometimes cooking sometimes drinking milk
yabe yei mile, tāhe rākhe nija-prāṇa whenever whatever is found with that he sustains his life

187 Sometimes he chewed raw grain, sometimes he cooked, sometimes he drank milk; he kept himself alive on whatever came his way.

He reaches Purī in twelve days; on the way he ate on only three days —

বারদিনে চলি' গেলা শ্রীপুরুষোত্তম । পথে তিনদিন মাত্র করিলা ভোজন ॥ ১৮৮ ॥

bāra-dine cali' gelā śrī-puruṣottama
in twelve days walking he reached Śrī Puruṣottama
pathe tina-dina mātra karilā bhojana
on the way three days only he took a meal

188 In twelve days he reached Śrī Puruṣottama; on the way he ate on only three days.

The Lord is seated with Svarūpa and others; Raghunātha arrives and prostrates himself, and Mukunda introduces him —

স্বরূপাদি-সহ গোসাঞি আছেন বসিয়া । হেনকালে রঘুনাথ মিলিলা আসিয়া ॥ ১৮৯ ॥

svarūpādi-saha gosāñi āchena vasiyā with Svarūpa and others Gosāñi is sitting hena-kāle raghunātha mililā āsiyā
at that time Raghunātha met Him arriving

189 Gosāñi was sitting with Svarūpa and others when Raghunātha arrived and came before Him.

অঙ্গনেতে দূরে রহি' করেন প্রণিপাত । মুকুন্দ-দত্ত কহে, — এই আইল রঘুনাথ ॥ ১৯০ ॥

aṅganete dūre rahi' karena praṇipāta
in the courtyard at a distance staying he offers obeisance
mukunda-datta kahe, — ei āila raghunātha
Mukunda Datta says here has come Raghunātha

190 Keeping his distance in the courtyard, he bowed down. Mukunda Datta said, “Here is Raghunātha!”

Raghunātha bows at the Lord's feet, and the Lord embraces him —

প্রভু কহেন, — আইস, তেঁহো ধরিলা চরণ । উঠি' প্রভু, কৃপায় তাঁরে করিলা আলিঙ্গন ॥ ১৯১ ॥

prabhu kahena, — āisa, teṁho dharilā caraṇa
the Lord says come he clasped the feet
uṭhi' prabhu, kṛpāya tāṁre karilā āliṅgana rising the Lord in mercy him embraced

191 The Lord said, “Come!” Raghunātha clasped His feet, and the Lord rose and mercifully embraced him.

Raghunātha bows to Svarūpa and the other devotees, and all embrace him —

স্বরূপাদি সব ভক্তের চরণ বন্দিলা । প্রভু-কৃপা দেখি' সবে আলিঙ্গন কৈলা ॥ ১৯২ ॥

svarūpādi saba bhaktera caraṇa vandilā
of Svarūpa and all the devotees the feet he honored
prabhu-kṛpā dekhi' sabe āliṅgana kailā
the Lord’s mercy seeing all embraced him

192 He bowed at the feet of Svarūpa and all the devotees, and they all, seeing the Lord’s mercy on him, embraced him.

*On the occasion of the eternally perfect (nitya-siddha) Raghunātha's leaving home, the Lord instructs the practitioner of devotion who still has anarthas; the greatness of Kṛṣṇa's mercy —*

প্রভু কহে, — কৃষ্ণ-কৃপা বলিষ্ঠ সবা হৈতে । তোমারে কাড়িল বিষয়-বিষ্ঠা-গর্ত্ত হৈতে ॥ ১৯৩ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kṛṣṇa-kṛpā baliṣṭha sabā haite
the Lord says Kṛṣṇa's mercy stronger than all tomāre kāḍila viṣaya-viṣṭhā-garta haite
you has snatched from the cesspit of worldly life out of 193 The Lord said, "Kṛṣṇa's mercy is mightier than all else: it has snatched you out of the cesspit of worldly life."

Anubhāṣya.
Kṛṣṇa's mercy is more powerful than the fruits of past karma and all else. It is this compassion of Kṛṣṇa that has rescued you from the cesspit of worldly life. A jīva attached to worldly things cannot give them up by his own strength. And for a jīva who is a pure servant of Kṛṣṇa, worldly things are all the more like a cesspit. Mahāprabhu knew that Śrīla Raghunātha was free from worldliness, yet He said this, using him as the occasion, only to teach suffering worldly people.

Raghunātha's undivided faith in Gaura-Kṛṣṇa —

রঘুনাথ কহে মনে, — কৃষ্ণ নাহি জানি । তব কৃপা কাড়িল আমা, — এই আমি মানি ॥ ১৯৪ ॥

raghunātha kahe mane, — kṛṣṇa nāhi jāni Raghunātha says in his mind Kṛṣṇa not I know
tava kṛpā kāḍila āmā, — ei āmi māni
Your mercy snatched me this I accept

194 Raghunātha said to himself, "I do not know Kṛṣṇa. It is Your mercy that has snatched me out — this I know."

The Lord describes the character of Hiraṇya and Govardhana —

প্রভু কহেন, — তোমার পিতা জ্যেঠা, দুইজনে ।
চক্রবর্ত্তী-সম্বন্ধে আমি 'আজা' করি' মানে ॥ ১৯৫ ॥

prabhu kahena, — tomāra pitā jyeṭhā, dui-jane the Lord says your father uncle both cakravartī-sambandhe āmi 'ājā' kari' māne
by their relation with Cakravartī I as 'ājā' regard 195 The Lord said, "Your father and your uncle — because of their bond with Cakravartī, I regard both of them as My grandfathers (ājā).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
In relation to Nīlāmbara Cakravartī I regard them as ājā, that is, as maternal grandfathers.

Anubhāṣya.
Nīlāmbara Cakravartī knew Raghunātha's father and uncle to be noble Kāyasthas younger than himself, and so he called them bhāyā (brother). The two brothers, knowing Nīlāmbara to be a brāhmaṇa older than they, addressed him as dādā (elder brother). Therefore Śrī Mahāprabhu, regarding them as brothers of His maternal grandfather, considered them people He could tease. Because of this form of address many mistakenly think that Raghunātha was much older than Mahāprabhu, but in fact this is not so.

চক্রবর্ত্তীর দুঁহে হয় ভ্রাতৃরূপ 'দাস' । অতএব তারে আমি করি পরিহাস ॥ ১৯৬ ॥

cakravartīra duṁhe haya bhrāṭṛ-rūpa ‘dāsa’
of Cakravartī the two are brother-like ‘servants’
ataeva tāre āmi kari parihāsa therefore them I make jest of 196 Both are Cakravartī’s ‘servants’, like brothers to him; that is why I joke about them.

*The poison of worldliness destroys the self: it is a terrible obstacle to the jīva's attaining his true nature (svarūpa), his real health —*

তোমার বাপ-জ্যেঠা — বিষয়বিষ্ঠা গর্ত্তের কীড়া । সুখ করি’ মানে বিষয়-বিষের মহাপীড়া ॥ ১৯৭ ॥

tomāra bāpa-jyeṭhā — viṣaya-viṣṭhā gartera kīḍā
your father and uncle of the pit of worldly stool worms
sukha kari’ māne viṣaya-viṣera mahā-pīḍā
as happiness they take of the poison of sense objects the great torment

197 Your father and uncle are worms in the cesspit of worldly stool: the great torment caused by the poison of sense objects they take for happiness.

Anubhāṣya.
Worldly objects (viṣaya) give great suffering to the worldly man who enjoys them. Yet people bound to worldly existence, their hearts absorbed in worldliness, take these painful worldly objects for “happiness.” The objects enjoyed by the material senses are fit to be rejected: they are like a cesspit. The jīva absorbed in them is like a worm in loathsome excrement. In other words, in the eyes of one who seeks the highest goal, the worldly enjoyer of matter is like a worm in a cesspit: in that worm's form he revels with great delight in the taste of the most loathsome excrement of worldliness.

*Other desires born of the conceit of being an enjoyer or of identifying the self with the body, service mixed with karma and jñāna, a mere semblance of following Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas, though not hostile — worldly faith — this is not pure devotion but only the stage of the kaniṣṭha-adhikārī —*

যদ্যপি ব্রহ্মণ্য করে ব্রাহ্মণের সহায় । ‘শুদ্ধবৈষ্ণব’ নহে, ‘বৈষ্ণবের প্রায়’ ॥ ১৯৮ ॥

yadyapi brahmaṇya kare brāhmaṇera sahāya
although piety toward brāhmaṇas they show of the brāhmaṇas helpers ‘śuddha-vaiṣṇava’ nahe, ‘vaiṣṇavera prāya’
‘pure Vaiṣṇavas’ not ‘almost Vaiṣṇavas’

198 Though they are devoted to brāhmaṇas and help them, they are not pure Vaiṣṇavas — only ‘almost Vaiṣṇavas’.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A person may dress and look like a Vaiṣṇava and may serve the Deity and so on, yet that does not make him a pure Vaiṣṇava. Until he shows the marks of pure devotion — anyābhilāṣitā-śūnyam (free from other desires) and the rest[34] — he remains vaiṣṇava-prāya, almost a Vaiṣṇava, even after receiving initiation (dīkṣā) and so on.

Anubhāṣya.
The two brothers, Hiraṇya and Govardhana, honored the brāhmaṇas and were their patrons, supporters, and helpers. Therefore by the standards of worldly judgment they were respected as excellent, “good” people, and among ordinary people they were known as “Vaiṣṇavas.” But in the judgment of pure devotees who seek the highest goal they are not “pure Vaiṣṇavas”: the pure Vaiṣṇavas regarded them as vaiṣṇava-prāya (almost Vaiṣṇavas) or vaiṣṇavābhāsa (a semblance of Vaiṣṇavas), that is, as kaniṣṭhas or bāliśa (the uninformed) — but not as vidveṣī (hostile).

Giving up the desire to please Kṛṣṇa, one pursues worldly objects through enjoyment or renunciation, relying on knowledge gained through the senses; as a result even the slightest seed of faith is stifled and worldly existence grows —

তথাপি বিষয়ের স্বভাব — করে মহা-অন্ধ । সেই কর্ম্ম করায়, যাতে হয় ভব-বন্ধ ॥ ১৯৯ ॥

tathāpi viṣayera svabhāva — kare mahā-andha
still of worldly things the nature makes greatly blind sei karma karāya, yāte haya bhava-bandha
those acts makes one do by which there is bondage to the world

199 Still, it is the nature of worldly things to make one utterly blind; they make one do the very acts that bind one to the world of birth and death.[16]

Anubhāṣya.
Worldly enjoyers give up pure devotion and become karmīs, jñānīs, or anyābhilāṣīs (those with other desires). Therefore the very karma, jñāna, and other practices they perform sink them, without their knowing it, into worldliness, and they become as inert as matter.

*The eternally perfect Raghunātha has no worldly enjoyment; the Lord's instruction is meant for the practitioner who has anarthas —*

হেন 'বিষয়' হৈতে কৃষ্ণ উদ্ধারিলা তোমা' । কহন না যায় কৃষ্ণকৃপার মহিমা ॥ ২০০ ॥

hena 'viṣaya' haite kṛṣṇa uddhārilā tomā'
such 'worldliness' from Kṛṣṇa delivered you kahana nā yāya kṛṣṇa-kṛpāra mahimā
the telling not is possible of Kṛṣṇa's mercy the glory

200 From such worldliness Kṛṣṇa has delivered you. The glory of Kṛṣṇa's mercy is beyond words."

The Lord entrusts Raghunātha to the hands of Svarūpa Dāmodara —

রঘুনাথের ক্ষীণতা-মালিন্য দেখিয়া ।
স্বরূপেরে কহেন প্রভু কৃপার্দ্র-চিত্ত হঞা ॥ ২০১ ॥

raghunāthera kṣīṇatā-mālinya dekhiyā Raghunātha's thinness and dirt seeing svarūpere kahena prabhu kṛpārdra-citta hañā to Svarūpa says the Lord melted with mercy of heart becoming 201 Seeing how thin and dirty Raghunātha was, the Lord, His heart melting with mercy, said to Svarūpa:

এই রঘুনাথে আমি সঁপিনু তোমারে । পুত্র ভৃত্য-রূপে তুমি কর অঙ্গীকারে ॥ ২০২ ॥

ei raghunāthe āmi saṁpinu tomāre
this Raghunātha I entrust to you putra bhṛtya-rūpe tumi kara aṅgīkāre
as son as servant you do accept him

202 "I entrust this Raghunātha to you. Accept him as your son and your servant.

Vaidya-Raghunātha, Bhaṭṭa-Raghunātha, and Dāsa-Raghunātha, the follower of Svarūpa —

তিন 'রঘুনাথ'-নাম হয় মোর স্থানে ।
'স্বরূপের রঘু' — আজি হৈতে ইহার নামে ॥ ২০৩ ॥

tina 'raghunātha'-nāma haya mora sthāne
three 'Raghunātha' by name there are with Me
'svarūpera raghu' — āji haite ihāra nāme
'Svarūpa's Raghu' from today his name

203 There are three named Raghunātha with Me; from today this one shall be called 'Svarūpa's Raghu'."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The three Raghunāthas are Vaidya-Raghunātha (Ādi 11.22), Bhaṭṭa-Raghunātha, and Dāsa-Raghunātha.

এত কহি' রঘুনাথের হস্ত ধরিলা । স্বরূপের হস্তে তাঁরে সমর্পণ কৈলা ॥ ২০৪ ॥

eta kahi' raghunāthera hasta dharilā this saying Raghunātha's hand He took svarūpera haste tāṁre samarpaṇa kailā into Svarūpa's hand him He entrusted

204 Saying this, He took Raghunātha by the hand and placed him in Svarūpa's hands.

At the Lord's order Svarūpa accepts Raghunātha —

স্বরূপ কহে, — মহাপ্রভুর যে আজ্ঞা হৈল । এত কহি' রঘুনাথে পুনঃ আলিঙ্গিল ॥ ২০৫ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — mahāprabhura ye ājñā haila Svarūpa says of Mahāprabhu whatever the order has been eta kahi' raghunāthe punaḥ āliṅgila
this saying Raghunātha again he embraced

205 Svarūpa said, "As Mahāprabhu commands," and with these words he embraced Raghunātha again.

The Lord's incomparable love for His devotees; He tells Govinda to care for Raghunātha attentively —

চৈতন্যের ভক্ত-বাৎসল্য কহিতে না পারি । গোবিন্দেরে কহে রঘুনাথে দয়া করি' ॥ ২০৬ ॥

caitanyera bhakta-vātsalya kahite nā pāri Caitanya's affection for His devotees to describe not I can govindere kahe raghunāthe dayā kari'
to Govinda He says to Raghunātha mercy showing

206 I cannot describe Caitanya's affection for His devotees. Showing mercy to Raghunātha, He said to Govinda:

পথে ইঁহ কৈরাছে বহু ত' লঙ্ঘন । কতদিন কর ইহার ভাল সন্তর্পণ ॥ ২০৭ ॥

pathe iṁha kairāche bahu ta' laṅghana
on the way he has undergone much indeed fasting
kata-dina kara ihāra bhāla santarpaṇa
for some days do his good care

207 "On the way he has fasted a great deal. For some days take good care of him."

Anubhāṣya.
Laṅghana — fasting and other hardships; santarpaṇa — care, nursing.

*The Lord tells Raghunātha to bathe in the sea, take darśana of Jagannātha, and then honor prasāda —*

রঘুনাথে কহে — যাঞা, কর সিন্ধুস্নান । জগন্নাথ দেখি' আসি' করহ ভোজন ॥ ২০৮ ॥

raghunāthe kahe — yāñā, kara sindhu-snāna
to Raghunātha He says going do bathe in the sea
jagannātha dekhi' āsi' karaha bhojana
Jagannātha seeing coming back take your meal

208 To Raghunātha He said, "Go and bathe in the sea; see Jagannātha, then come back and eat."

Raghunātha meets the devotees —

এত বলি' প্রভু মধ্যাহ্ন করিতে উঠিলা । রঘুনাথ-দাস সব ভক্তেরে মিলিলা ॥ ২০৯ ॥

eta bali' prabhu madhyāhna karite uṭhilā
this saying the Lord the midday duties to perform rose raghunātha-dāsa saba bhaktere mililā
Raghunātha dāsa all the devotees met

209 Saying this, the Lord rose to perform His midday duties, and Raghunātha dāsa met all the devotees.

Seeing the Lord's mercy on Raghunātha, the devotees praise his good fortune —

রঘুনাথে প্রভুর কৃপা দেখি' ভক্তগণ । বিস্মিত হঞা করে তাঁর ভাগ্য প্রশংসন ॥ ২১০ ॥

raghunāthe prabhura kṛpā dekhi' bhakta-gaṇa
on Raghunātha the Lord's mercy seeing the devotees
vismita hañā kare tāṁra bhāgya praśaṁsana amazed being make his good fortune's praise

210 Seeing the Lord's mercy on Raghunātha, the devotees were amazed and praised his good fortune.

After bathing in the sea and seeing Jagannātha, Raghunātha, by Govinda's kindness, receives the Lord's remnants —

রঘুনাথ সমুদ্রে যাঞা স্নান করিলা । জগন্নাথ দেখি' গোবিন্দ-পাশ আইলা ॥ ২১১ ॥

raghunātha samudre yāñā snāna karilā Raghunātha to the sea going bath took jagannātha dekhi' govinda-pāśa āilā Jagannātha seeing to Govinda came

211 Raghunātha went to the sea and bathed, then saw Jagannātha and came back to Govinda.

প্রভুর অবশিষ্ট পাত্র গোবিন্দ তাঁরে দিলা । আনন্দিত হঞা মহাপ্রসাদ পাইলা ॥ ২১২ ॥

prabhura avaśiṣṭa pātra govinda tāṁre dilā of the Lord remnant the plate Govinda to him gave ānandita hañā mahāprasāda pāilā joyful becoming the mahā-prasāda he received

212 Govinda gave him the Lord's plate of remnants, and he joyfully received the mahā-prasāda.

*For five days Raghunātha stays near Svarūpa and receives the Lord's prasāda —*

এইমত রহে তেঁহ স্বরূপ-চরণে । গোবিন্দ প্রসাদ তাঁরে দেন পঞ্চ দিনে ॥ ২১৩ ॥

ei-mata rahe teṁha svarūpa-caraṇe
in this way remains he at Svarūpa's feet govinda prasāda tāṁre dena pañca dine Govinda prasāda to him gives for five days

213 So he remained at Svarūpa's feet, and for five days Govinda gave him prasāda.

*From the next day Raghunātha stands at night at the Lion Gate, waiting for prasāda —*

আর দিন হৈতে 'পুষ্প-অঞ্জলি' দেখিয়া । সিংহদ্বারে খাড়া রহে ভিক্ষার লাগিয়া ॥ ২১৪ ॥

āra dina haite 'puṣpa-añjali' dekhiyā
from the next day on the 'puṣpa-añjali' seeing siṁha-dvāre khāḍā rahe bhikṣāra lāgiyā
at the Siṁha-dvāra standing he remains of alms for the sake

214 From the next day on, after seeing the puṣpa-añjali, the evening offering of flowers, he would stand at the Siṁha-dvāra to receive alms.

Anubhāṣya.
Puṣpa-añjali — the evening service to Jagannātha: the offering of handfuls of flowers (puṣpāñjali).

*How Jagannātha's servants, who are householders, give prasāda at night, after finishing the worship and setting out for home, to a Vaiṣṇava waiting at the gate —*

জগন্নাথের সেবক যত — 'বিষয়ীর গণ' । সেবা সারি' রাত্র্যে করে গৃহেতে গমন ॥ ২১৫ ॥

jagannāthera sevaka yata — 'viṣayīra gaṇa'
of Jagannātha the servants all 'a company of worldly men'
sevā sāri' rātrye kare gṛhete gamana
the service finishing at night do homeward going

215 All the servants of Jagannātha are worldly householders (viṣayīs); when their service is finished, they go home at night.

সিংহদ্বারে অন্নার্থী বৈষ্ণবে দেখিয়া । পসারির ঠাঞি অন্ন দেন কৃপা ত' করিয়া ॥ ২১৬ ॥

siṁha-dvāre annārthī vaiṣṇave dekhiyā
at the Siṁha-dvāra seeking food Vaiṣṇavas seeing pasārira ṭhāñi anna dena kṛpā ta' kariyā
from the vendor food they give mercy indeed showing

216 Seeing Vaiṣṇavas at the Siṁha-dvāra in need of food, they kindly give them food from the vendors' stalls.

How the penniless, detached devotees live in Puruṣottama-kṣetra —

এইমত সর্ব্বকাল আছে ব্যবহার । নিষ্কিঞ্চন ভক্ত খাড়া হয় সিংহদ্বার ॥ ২১৭ ॥

ei-mata sarva-kāla āche vyavahāra
in this way at all times is the custom niṣkiñcana bhakta khāḍā haya siṁha-dvāra
penniless devotees standing are at the Siṁha-dvāra

217 This has always been the custom: devotees who own nothing stand at the Siṁha-dvāra.

সর্ব্বদিন করেন বৈষ্ণব নাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । স্বচ্ছন্দে করেন জগন্নাথ দরশন ॥ ২১৮ ॥

sarva-dina karena vaiṣṇava nāma-saṅkīrtana
all day perform the Vaiṣṇavas saṅkīrtana of the name svacchande karena jagannātha daraśana freely they take Jagannātha's darśana

218 All day long these Vaiṣṇavas chant the holy name in saṅkīrtana and freely take darśana of Jagannātha.

কেহ ছত্রে মাগি' খায়, যেবা কিছু পায় । কেহ রাত্র্যে ভিক্ষা লাগি' সিংহদ্বারে রয় ॥ ২১৯ ॥

keha chatre māgi' khāya, yebā kichu pāya
some at the chatra begging eat whatever they get keha rātrye bhikṣā lāgi' siṁha-dvāre raya
some at night for alms at the Siṁha-dvāra stay

219 Some beg at the chatra and eat whatever they get; others stand at the Siṁha-dvāra at night for alms.

The conduct of the Lord's devotees: for Kṛṣṇa's pleasure they renounce their own enjoyment, or all their efforts are for Kṛṣṇa's pleasure —

মহাপ্রভুর ভক্তগণের বৈরাগ্য প্রধান । যাহা দেখি' প্রীত হন গৌর-ভগবান ॥ ২২০ ॥

mahāprabhura bhakta-gaṇera vairāgya pradhāna of Mahāprabhu's devotees renunciation is foremost yāhā dekhi' prīta hana gaura-bhagavāna which seeing pleased becomes Gaura Bhagavān

220 Among Mahāprabhu's devotees renunciation comes first, and seeing it Gaura Bhagavān is pleased.

Anubhāṣya.
If both non-devotee worldly people and pure devotees look carefully and impartially at Mahāprabhu's devotees, they can understand that these devotees are not intent on material enjoyment. Renouncing sense gratification, comfort, and other pleasures, they are indifferent, for the sake of serving Kṛṣṇa, to everything that is not Kṛṣṇa. Their service to Kṛṣṇa, joined with renunciation of the worldly, is unmotivated, unceasing, and beyond this world; ordinary worldly vision cannot grasp it. Bhagavān Gaurasundara takes the highest delight in seeing the skill in pure worship of one who is detached from all that is not Kṛṣṇa.

*Govinda informs the Lord that Raghunātha is waiting for prasāda at the Lion Gate —*

প্রভুরে গোবিন্দ কহে, — রঘুনাথ 'প্রসাদ' না লয় । রাত্র্যে সিংহদ্বারে খাড়া হঞা মাগি' খায় ॥ ২২১ ॥

prabhure govinda kahe, — raghunātha 'prasāda' nā laya to the Lord Govinda says Raghunātha 'prasāda' not takes rātrye siṁha-dvāre khāḍā hañā māgi' khāya
at night at the Siṁha-dvāra standing begging he eats

221 Govinda said to the Lord, “Raghunātha no longer takes the prasāda. At night he stands at the Siṁha-dvāra, begs and eats.”

*Raghunātha has left home, and so he is called a vairāgī; the Lord is pleased with his renunciation —*

শুনি’ তুষ্ট হঞা কভু কহিতে লাগিল । ভাল কৈল, বৈরাগীর ধর্ম্ম আচরিল ॥ ২২২ ॥

śuni’ tuṣṭa hañā kabhu kahite lāgila hearing pleased becoming at one point to say He began bhāla kaila, vairāgīra dharma ācarila
well he did of a renunciant the dharma he followed

222 Hearing this, the Lord was pleased, and at one point He said, “He has done well: he has followed the dharma of a renunciant.[17]

*The Lord describes the conduct, that is, the dharma, of a vairāgī — one who has left home: what befits him and what does not —*

বৈরাগী করিবে সদা নাম সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । মাগিয়া খাঞা করে জীবন রক্ষণ ॥ ২২৩ ॥

vairāgī karibe sadā nāma saṅkīrtana
a renunciant will do always of the name saṅkīrtana māgiyā khāñā kare jīvana rakṣaṇa
by begging eating he does of life the maintenance

223 A renunciant should always chant the holy name in saṅkīrtana, and he should keep himself alive by eating what he begs.

বৈরাগী হঞা যেবা করে পরাপেক্ষা । কার্য্যসিদ্ধি নহে, কৃষ্ণ করেন উপেক্ষা ॥ ২২৪ ॥

vairāgī hañā yebā kare parāpekṣā
a renunciant having become whoever does dependence on others
kārya-siddhi nahe, kṛṣṇa karena upekṣā
of the goal attainment is not Kṛṣṇa shows neglect

224 If one who has become a renunciant depends on others, he does not reach the goal, and Kṛṣṇa neglects him.

বৈরাগী হঞা করে জিহ্বার লালস । পরমার্থ যায়, আর হয় রসের বশ ॥ ২২৫ ॥

vairāgī hañā kare jihvāra lālasa
a renunciant having become does of the tongue craving paramārtha yāya, āra haya rasera vaśa
the highest goal goes and becomes of tastes under the sway

225 If one who has become a renunciant indulges the craving of the tongue, he loses the highest goal and falls under the sway of tastes.[18]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Rasa: [the six tastes] — bitter, sweet, sour, salty, pungent and astringent.

বৈরাগীর কৃত্য — সদা নাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । শাক-পত্র-ফল-মূলে উদর-ভরণ ॥ ২২৬ ॥

vairāgīra kṛtya — sadā nāma-saṅkīrtana
of a renunciant the duty always of the name saṅkīrtana śāka-patra-phala-mūle udara-bharaṇa with greens leaves fruits roots of the belly the filling

226 The duty of a renunciant is always to chant the holy name in saṅkīrtana and to fill his belly with greens, leaves, fruits and roots.

Anubhāṣya.
"These duties are described mainly for pious, wealthy householders, not for great souls who have given up all possessions. Those who sing of Hari at dawn, at midnight, at midday and at the close of day cross the ocean of worldly existence. So those wholly devoted to the Lord (ekāntins) usually sing of Him and remember Him with the highest love, and no other duty appeals to them." (Hari-bhakti-vilāsa, vilāsa 20, at the very end) The observances described in the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa are meant for wealthy householders who are almost Vaiṣṇavas. They are not for pure Vaiṣṇavas — those who have given up everything, are detached from the world and have taken shelter of the holy name alone. Whoever sings of Hari in the morning, at midnight, at midday and in the evening — that is, throughout all eight periods of the day (aṣṭa-kāla) — crosses the ocean of worldly existence. Pure devotees wholly devoted to the Lord sing of Him and remember Him with the highest love; apart from kīrtana and the like, they have no other observances.

Śrī Jīva Gosvāmī Prabhu writes in the Bhakti-sandarbha (anuccheda 83[36]): "Although according to the Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam the path of Deity worship (arcana), as in the Pañcarātra and other scriptures, is not obligatory — since it says that even without it the highest goal of human life is attained by any one of such means as surrender (śaraṇāpatti) …"

জিহ্বার লালসে যেই ইতি-উতি ধায় । শিশ্নোদরপরায়ণ কৃষ্ণ নাহি পায় ॥ ২২৭ ॥

jihvāra lālase yei iti-uti dhāya
of the tongue out of craving who here and there runs śiśnodara-parāyaṇa kṛṣṇa nāhi pāya
to genitals and belly devoted Kṛṣṇa not attains

227 One who runs here and there out of the tongue's craving, devoted to the genitals and the belly, does not attain Kṛṣṇa."

*For the good of sādhakas who have left home, Raghunātha, counting himself one of them, asks Svarūpa about his duty —*

আর দিন রঘুনাথ স্বরূপ-চরণে । আপনার কৃত্য লাগি' কৈলা নিবেদনে ॥ ২২৮ ॥

āra dina raghunātha svarūpa-caraṇe
the next day Raghunātha at Svarūpa's feet āpanāra kṛtya lāgi' kailā nivedane
his own duty about made submission

228 The next day Raghunātha came to Svarūpa's feet and inquired about his own duty:

কি লাগি' ছাড়াইলা ঘর, না জানি উদ্দেশ । কি মোর কর্ত্তব্য, প্রভু করুন উপদেশ ॥ ২২৯ ॥

ki lāgi' chāḍāilā ghara, nā jāni uddeśa
for what reason He made me leave home not I know the purpose ki mora kartavya, prabhu karuna upadeśa
what my duty the Lord may He instruct

229 "Why did He make me leave home? I do not know the purpose. What is my duty? May the Lord instruct me."[19]

Keeping silent himself, Raghunātha speaks with the Lord through Svarūpa and Govinda —

প্রভুর আগে কথা-মাত্র না কহে রঘুনাথ । স্বরূপ-গোবিন্দ-দ্বারা কহায় নিজ-বাৎ ॥ ২৩০ ॥

prabhura āge kathā-mātra nā kahe raghunātha
the Lord before a word even not speaks Raghunātha
svarūpa-govinda-dvārā kahāya nija-bāt
Svarūpa Govinda through has told his own matters

230 Raghunātha would not say a single word in the Lord's presence; he made his concerns known through Svarūpa and Govinda.

One day Svarūpa asks the Lord about Raghunātha's duty —

প্রভুর আগে স্বরূপ নিবেদিলা আর দিনে । রঘুনাথ নিবেদয় প্রভুর চরণে ॥ ২৩১ ॥

prabhura āge svarūpa nivedilā āra dine
the Lord before Svarūpa submitted on the next day
raghunātha nivedaya prabhura caraṇe
Raghunātha submits at the Lord's feet

231 The next day Svarūpa said before the Lord, "Raghunātha humbly submits at Your feet:

কি মোর কর্ত্তব্য, মুই না জানি উদ্দেশ । আপনি শ্রীমুখে মোরে করুন উপদেশ ॥ ২৩২ ॥

ki mora kartavya, mui nā jāni uddeśa
what my duty I not know the purpose
āpani śrī-mukhe more karuna upadeśa Yourself with Your holy mouth to me may You instruct 232 'What is my duty? I do not know the purpose. May You Yourself instruct me with Your own holy mouth.' "

*The Lord tells Raghunātha to accept Svarūpa Dāmodara as his śikṣā-guru —*

হাসি' মহাপ্রভু রঘুনাথেরে কহিল । তোমার উপদেষ্টা করি' স্বরূপেরে দিল ॥ ২৩৩ ॥

hāsi' mahāprabhu raghunāthere kahila smiling Mahāprabhu to Raghunātha said
tomāra upadeṣṭā kari' svarūpere dila
your instructor as Svarūpa I have given

233 Smiling, Mahāprabhu said to Raghunātha, "I have given you Svarūpa as your instructor.

*Śrī Svarūpa Dāmodara — the eternal master, that is, the guru, of the Mādhva-Gauḍīyas — is the ācārya of the entire* *truth of the goal and the means (sādhya and sādhana) —*

'সাধ্য'-'সাধন'-তত্ত্ব শিখ' ইঁহার স্থানে । আমি তত নাহি জানি, ইঁহো যত জানে ॥ ২৩৪ ॥

'sādhya'-'sādhana'-tattva śikha' iṁhāra sthāne
the goal the means the truth learn his from āmi tata nāhi jāni, iṁho yata jāne
I so much not know he as much as knows

234 Learn from him the truth of the goal (sādhya) and the means (sādhana). I do not know as much as he knows.

তথাপি আমার আজ্ঞায় শ্রদ্ধা যদি হয় । আমার এই বাক্যে তুমি করিহ নিশ্চয় ॥ ২৩৫ ॥

tathāpi āmāra ājñāya śraddhā yadi haya still in My order faith if there is āmāra ei vākye tumi kariha niścaya
My in these words you make firm conviction

235 Still, if you have faith in My instruction, then hold firmly to these words of Mine.

*The Lord describes the conduct of one who follows the path of rāgānugā-bhakti —*

গ্রাম্যকথা না শুনিবে, গ্রাম্যবার্ত্তা না কহিবে । ভাল না খাইবে আর ভাল না পরিবে ॥ ২৩৬ ॥

grāmya-kathā nā śunibe, grāmya-vārtā nā kahibe worldly talk not you shall hear worldly news not you shall speak bhāla nā khāibe āra bhāla nā paribe fine things not you shall eat and fine things not you shall wear

236 Do not listen to worldly talk, and do not speak of worldly matters. Do not eat fine food, and do not wear fine clothes.

অমানী মানদ হঞা কৃষ্ণনাম সদা ল'বে । ব্রজে রাধাকৃষ্ণ সেবা মানসে করিবে ॥ ২৩৭ ॥

amānī mānada hañā kṛṣṇa-nāma sadā la'be seeking no honour giving honour being Kṛṣṇa's name always you shall take vraje rādhā-kṛṣṇa sevā mānase karibe
in Vraja to Rādhā-Kṛṣṇa service in the mind you shall do 237 Seeking no honour yourself and giving honour to others, always chant the name of Kṛṣṇa, and within your mind serve Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa in Vraja.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A man and a woman marry, beget children and so build a household (saṁsāra). All the talk connected with such household life is grāmya, mundane talk. A vairāgī, like any Vaiṣṇava, should never listen to it or speak it. Eating well and dressing well are also improper for a vairāgī. He should give respect to others, seek none for himself, always chant the name of Kṛṣṇa and serve Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa in Vraja within his mind — this is the duty of a vairāgī.

এই ত' সংক্ষেপে আমি কৈলুঁ উপদেশ । স্বরূপের ঠাঞি ইহার পাবে সবিশেষ ॥ ২৩৮ ॥

ei ta' saṁkṣepe āmi kailuṁ upadeśa
this indeed in brief I have given instruction
svarūpera ṭhāñi ihāra pābe saviśeṣa
of Svarūpa from of this you will get the full detail

238 Thus I have given you instruction in brief; you will learn it in full detail from Svarūpa."

*(The third verse of the Śikṣāṣṭaka, spoken by Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanyacandra and cited in the Padyāvalī)*

তৃণাদপি সুনীচেন তরোরিব সহিষ্ণুনা । অমানিনা মানদেন কীর্ত্তনীয়ঃ সদা হরিঃ ॥ ২৩৯ ॥

tṛṇād api su-nīcena
than grass even lower
taror iva sahiṣṇunā
a tree like tolerant
amāninā māna-dena
free from pride giving honour
kīrtanīyaḥ sadā hariḥ
to be glorified always Hari

239 "Lower than a blade of grass, more tolerant than a tree, seeking no honour and offering honour to others, one should always sing the glories of Hari." (Śikṣāṣṭaka, 3)[20]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 17.31.

Raghunātha bows at the Lord's feet; the Lord embraces him —

এত শুনি' রঘুনাথ বন্দিলা চরণ । মহাপ্রভু কৈলা তাঁরে কৃপা-আলিঙ্গন ॥ ২৪০ ॥

eta śuni' raghunātha vandilā caraṇa
this hearing Raghunātha bowed to the feet
mahāprabhu kailā tāṁre kṛpā-āliṅgana
Mahāprabhu gave him the embrace of mercy

240 Hearing this, Raghunātha bowed down at the Lord's feet, and Mahāprabhu mercifully embraced him.

Following Svarūpa Dāmodara, Raghunātha renders intimate service to Gaura-Kṛṣṇa —

পুনঃ সমর্পিলা তাঁরে স্বরূপের স্থানে ।
'অন্তরঙ্গ-সেবা' করে স্বরূপের সনে ॥ ২৪১ ॥

punaḥ samarpilā tāṁre svarūpera sthāne
again entrusted him Svarūpa's into the care
'antaraṅga-sevā' kare svarūpera sane intimate service he does Svarūpa with 241 Once more the Lord entrusted him to Svarūpa's care, and together with Svarūpa he rendered intimate service (antaraṅga-sevā).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Intimate service" (antaraṅga-sevā) is the service in Vraja that a devotee performs within the mind, in his own true spiritual form (svarūpa-deha). Svarūpa Gosvāmī is Lalitā-devī. Entering her group, Śrī Dāsa Gosvāmī performed his own intimate service in Vraja.

As every year, before the Ratha-yātrā the Gauḍīya devotees come to Purī —

হেন-কালে আইলা সব গৌড়ের ভক্তগণ । পূর্ব্ববৎ প্রভু সবায় করিলা মিলন ॥ ২৪২ ॥

hena-kāle āilā saba gauḍera bhakta-gaṇa
at that time came all of Gauḍa the devotees
pūrvavat prabhu sabāya karilā milana
as before the Lord with all made meeting

242 At that time all the devotees from Gauḍa arrived, and the Lord met them all as before.

With all the devotees the Lord cleans the Guṇḍicā temple and holds a festival in the garden —

সবা লঞা কৈলা প্রভু গুণ্ডিচা-মার্জ্জন । সবা লঞা কৈলা প্রভু বন্য-ভোজন ॥ ২৪৩ ॥

sabā lañā kailā prabhu guṇḍicā-mārjana
all taking made the Lord of the Guṇḍicā cleansing
sabā lañā kailā prabhu vanya-bhojana
all taking made the Lord the picnic in the garden

243 The Lord took them all and cleansed the Guṇḍicā temple, and with them all He feasted in the garden.[21]

The Lord and His associates dance before the chariot; Raghunātha's wonder —

রথযাত্রায় সবা লঞা করিলা নর্ত্তন । দেখি' রঘুনাথের চমৎকার হৈল মন ॥ ২৪৪ ॥

ratha-yātrāya sabā lañā karilā nartana
at the Ratha-yātrā all taking He did dancing
dekhi' raghunāthera camatkāra haila mana seeing Raghunātha's amazed became mind

244 At the Ratha-yātrā He danced together with them all, and seeing this Raghunātha was struck with wonder.

Raghunātha bows at the feet of the devotees and receives Advaita's mercy —

রঘুনাথ দাস যবে সবারে মিলিলা । অদ্বৈত-আচার্য্য তাঁরে বহু কৃপা কৈলা ॥ ২৪৫ ॥

raghunātha dāsa yabe sabāre mililā Raghunātha dāsa when all met advaita-ācārya tāṁre bahu kṛpā kailā Advaita Ācārya to him much mercy showed 245 When Raghunātha dāsa met them all, Advaita Ācārya showed him great mercy.

Śivānanda tells Raghunātha how Govardhana dāsa tried to find him —

শিবানন্দ-সেন তাঁরে কহেন বিবরণ । তোমা লৈতে তোমার পিতা পাঠাইল দশ জন ॥ ২৪৬ ॥

śivānanda-sena tāṁre kahena vivaraṇa Śivānanda Sena to him tells the account
tomā laite tomāra pitā pāṭhāila daśa jana
you to fetch your father sent ten men

246 Śivānanda Sena told him what had happened: “Your father sent ten men to fetch you.[22]

তোমারে পাঠাইতে পত্রী পাঠাইল মোরে । ঝাঁকরা হইতে তোমা না পাঞা গেল ঘরে ॥ ২৪৭ ॥

tomāre pāṭhāite patrī pāṭhāila more
you to send back a letter he sent to me
jhāṁkarā haite tomā nā pāñā gela ghare
Jhāṅkarā from you not finding they went home

247 He sent me a letter asking me to send you back. Not finding you, they turned back home from Jhāṅkarā.”

*After the cāturmāsya the devotees return from Purī to Gauḍa —*

চারি মাস রহি’ ভক্তগণ গৌড়ে গেলা । শুনি’ রঘুনাথের পিতা মনুষ্য পাঠাইলা ॥ ২৪৮ ॥

cāri māsa rahi’ bhakta-gaṇa gauḍe gelā four months staying the devotees to Gauḍa went śuni’ raghunāthera pitā manuṣya pāṭhāilā hearing Raghunātha’s father a man sent

248 After staying four months, the devotees returned to Gauḍa. When Raghunātha’s father heard of it, he sent a man.

Govardhana dāsa sends a man to Śivānanda and asks about Raghunātha —

সে মনুষ্য শিবানন্দ-সেনেরে পুছিল । মহাপ্রভুর স্থানে এক ‘বৈষ্ণব’ দেখিল ॥ ২৪৯ ॥

se manuṣya śivānanda-senere puchila that man of Śivānanda Sena asked mahāprabhura sthāne eka ‘vaiṣṇava’ dekhila Mahāprabhu’s place at a Vaiṣṇava did you see 249 That man asked Śivānanda Sena, “Did you see a Vaiṣṇava with Mahāprabhu?

গোবর্দ্ধনের পুত্র তেঁহো, নাম — ‘রঘুনাথ’ । নীলাচলে পরিচয় আছে তোমার সাথ ? ॥ ২৫০ ॥

govarddhanera putra teṁho, nāma — ‘raghunātha’
of Govardhana the son he the name Raghunātha
nīlācale paricaya āche tomāra sātha?
in Nīlācala acquaintance is there you with 250 He is Govardhana’s son, and his name is Raghunātha. Did you come to know him in Nīlācala?”

Śivānanda praises Raghunātha's renunciation at that time and his renown among Vaiṣṇavas —

শিবানন্দ কহে, — তেঁহো হয় প্রভুর স্থানে । পরম বিখ্যাত তেঁহো, কেবা নাহি জানে ? ॥ ২৫১ ॥

śivānanda kahe, — teṁho haya prabhura sthāne Śivānanda says he is the Lord’s place at parama vikhyāta teṁho, kebā nāhi jāne ?
greatly famous he who not knows

251 Śivānanda said, “He is with the Lord. He is very famous — who does not know him?

স্বরূপের স্থানে তারে কৈরাছেন সমর্পণ । প্রভুর ভক্তগণের তেঁহো হয় প্রাণসম ॥ ২৫২ ॥

svarūpera sthāne tāre kairāchena samarpaṇa Svarūpa’s into the care him He has entrusted prabhura bhakta-gaṇera teṁho haya prāṇa-sama
the Lord’s devotees’ he is as dear as life

252 The Lord has entrusted him to Svarūpa’s care, and to the Lord’s devotees he is as dear as life.

রাত্রি-দিন করে তেঁহো নাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । ক্ষণমাত্র নাহি ছাড়ে প্রভুর চরণ ॥ ২৫৩ ॥

rātri-dina kare teṁho nāma-saṅkīrtana night and day does he of the name saṅkīrtana
kṣaṇa-mātra nāhi chāḍe prabhura caraṇa
a moment even not leaves the Lord’s feet

253 Day and night he chants the holy name in saṅkīrtana, and not for a moment does he leave the Lord’s feet.

পরম বৈরাগ্য তাঁর, নাহি ভক্ষ্য-পরিধান । যৈছে তৈছে আহার করি’ রাখয়ে পরাণ ॥ ২৫৪ ॥

parama vairāgya tāṁra, nāhi bhakṣya-paridhāna utmost renunciation his no food clothing
yaiche taiche āhāra kari’ rākhaye parāṇa
somehow or other food taking keeps life

254 His renunciation is complete: he has no concern for food or clothing. Eating whatever comes somehow or other, he keeps himself alive.

দশদণ্ড রাত্রি গেলে ‘পুষ্পাঞ্জলি’ দেখিয়া । সিংহদ্বারে খাড়া হয় আহার লাগিয়া ॥ ২৫৫ ॥

daśa-daṇḍa rātri gele ‘puṣpāñjali’ dekhiyā
ten daṇḍas of the night having passed the puṣpa-añjali having seen siṁha-dvāre khāḍā haya āhāra lāgiyā
at the Siṁha-dvāra standing he is food for the sake of 255 When ten daṇḍas of the night have passed, after seeing the puṣpa-añjali, he stands at the Siṁha-dvāra for food.

কেহ যদি দেয়, তবে করয়ে ভক্ষণ । কভু উপবাস, কভু করয়ে চর্ব্বণ ॥ ২৫৬ ॥

keha yadi deya, tabe karaye bhakṣaṇa
someone if gives then he does eating kabhu upavāsa, kabhu karaye carvaṇa sometimes fasting sometimes he does chewing 256 If someone gives him something, he eats; sometimes he fasts, and sometimes he chews parched grain.”

That man goes to Govardhana dāsa and reports Raghunātha's worship, full of renunciation —

এত শুনি' সেই মনুষ্য গোবর্দ্ধন-স্থানে । কহিল গিয়া সব রঘুনাথ-বিবরণে ॥ ২৫৭ ॥

eta śuni' sei manuṣya govarddhana-sthāne
this hearing that man to Govardhana kahila giyā saba raghunātha-vivaraṇe told going all Raghunātha's account

257 Hearing this, the man went to Govardhana and told him all about Raghunātha.

Govardhana dāsa and his wife regarded the devotee, who belongs to Kṛṣṇa and exists for His enjoyment, as a son for their own enjoyment; hearing that Raghunātha had given up enjoyment to serve Kṛṣṇa, they grieve —

শুনি' তাঁর মাতা পিতা দুঃখিত হইল । পুত্র-ঠাঞি দ্রব্য-মনুষ্য পাঠাইল ॥ ২৫৮ ॥

śuni' tāṁra mātā pitā duḥkhita haila hearing his mother father grieved became putra-ṭhāñi dravya-manuṣya pāṭhāila
the son to goods and men sent

258 Hearing it, his mother and father were grieved, and they sent goods and men to their son.

Money, servants and a cook are sent to Śivānanda to be given to Raghunātha —

চারিশত মুদ্রা, দুই ভৃত্য, এক ব্রাহ্মণ । শিবানন্দের ঠাঞি পাঠাইল ততক্ষণ ॥ ২৫৯ ॥

cāri-śata mudrā, dui bhṛtya, eka brāhmaṇa
four hundred coins two servants one brāhmaṇa śivānandera ṭhāñi pāṭhāila tata-kṣaṇa
of Śivānanda to they sent at once

259 At once they sent four hundred coins, two servants and a brāhmaṇa to Śivānanda.

Śivānanda promises to take them with him —

শিবানন্দ কহে, — তুমি সব যাইতে নারিবা । আমি যাই যবে, আমার সঙ্গে যাইবা ॥ ২৬০ ॥

śivānanda kahe, — tumi saba yāite nāribā Śivānanda says you all to go will not be able āmi yāi yabe, āmāra saṅge yāibā
I go when my with you will go

260 Śivānanda said, "You will not be able to go there by yourselves. When I go, you will go with me.

এবে ঘর যাহ, যবে আমি সব চলিমু । তবে তোমা-সবাকারে সঙ্গে লঞা যামু ॥ ২৬১ ॥

ebe ghara yāha, yabe āmi saba calimu
now home go when we all shall set out tabe tomā-sabākāre saṅge lañā yāmu
then all of you with me taking I shall go

261 Go home now. When we all set out, I shall take all of you along with me."

Śrī Kavi Karṇapūra describes Raghunātha's greatness in his drama —

এই ত' প্রস্তাবে শ্রীকবিকর্ণপূর । রঘুনাথ-মহিমা গ্রন্থে লিখিলা প্রচুর ॥ ২৬২ ॥

ei ta' prastāve śrī-kavi-karṇapūra
this indeed in connection Śrī Kavi-karṇapūra
raghunātha-mahimā granthe likhilā pracura
Raghunātha's glory in his book wrote abundantly

262 In this connection Śrī Kavi-karṇapūra wrote of Raghunātha's glory at length in his book:

Anubhāṣya.
"In his book": in the Śrī Caitanya-candrodaya-nāṭaka.

*The virtues of Yadunandana Ācārya and of Raghunātha — a follower of Svarūpa and the object of Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya's boundless mercy — (Śivānanda's words to a fellow pilgrim in the Śrī Caitanya-candrodaya-nāṭaka, act 10, verses 3–4)*

আচার্য্যো যদুনন্দনঃ সুমধুরঃ শ্রীবাসুদেবপ্রিয়- স্তচ্ছিষ্যো রঘুনাথ ইত্যধিগুণঃ প্রাণাধিকো মাদৃশাম্ ।
শ্রীচৈতন্যকৃপাতিরেকসততস্নিগ্ধঃ স্বরূপপ্রিয়ো বৈরাগ্যৈকনিধির্ন কস্য বিদিতো নীলাচলে তিষ্ঠতাম্ ॥ ২৬৩ ॥

ācāryo yadunandanaḥ su-madhuraḥ śrī-vāsudeva-priyas
the ācārya Yadunandana very gentle to Śrī Vāsudeva dear tac-chiṣyo raghunātha ity adhiguṇaḥ prāṇādhiko mādṛśām his disciple Raghunātha so named rich in virtues dearer than life to people like us
śrī-caitanya-kṛpātireka-satata-snigdhaḥ svarūpa-priyo by Śrī Caitanya's mercy abundant always tender with love to Svarūpa dear vairāgyaika-nidhir na kasya vidito nīlācale tiṣṭhatām of renunciation the sole treasure not to whom known in Nīlācala among those who live

263 "The very gentle Yadunandana Ācārya is dear to Śrī Vāsudeva, and his disciple is Raghunātha, rich in virtues and dearer than life to people like us. By Śrī Caitanya's abundant mercy he is always tender with love; he is dear to Svarūpa and is the sole treasure-house of renunciation. Among those who live in Nīlācala, who does not know him?" (Śrī Caitanya-candrodaya-nāṭaka, 10.3)[23]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śrī Vāsudeva Datta (who lived in Kāñcanapallī) loved the very gentle Yadunandana Ācārya; his disciple is Raghunātha dāsa. By his virtues Raghunātha is dearer than life to all of us. By Śrī Caitanya's boundless mercy he is always full of tender love; he is dear to Svarūpa Gosvāmī and is the sole treasure in the kingdom of renunciation. Who among those living in Nīlācala does not know him?

Anubhāṣya.
śrī-vāsudeva-priyaḥ (dear to Vāsudeva Datta Ṭhākura, that is, an object of his mercy, but not his disciple) su-madhuraḥ (very gentle) yadunandanaḥ ācāryaḥ; tac-chiṣyaḥ (a disciple of that Yadunandana, that is, an object of his mercy — not that he received initiation from him in particular; such is the sense) adhiguṇaḥ (surpassing in virtues, that is, endowed with more virtues than anyone) mādṛśām (of those who, like us, have Gaura as their life) prāṇādhikaḥ (dearer than life) śrī-caitanya-kṛpātireka-satata-snigdhaḥ (by Gaura's boundless mercy always full of prema) svarūpa-priyaḥ (a follower of Svarūpa Dāmodara) vairāgyaika-nidhiḥ (the sole treasure of renunciation, that is, its chief abode, or ocean) raghunāthaḥ (Śrī Dāsa Gosvāmī) nīlācale (in Puruṣottama-kṣetra) tiṣṭhatām (among those living) kasya na viditaḥ? (that is, he is known to all; such is the sense).

Raghunātha's incomparable good fortune —

যঃ সর্ব্বলোকৈকমনোভিরুচ্যা
সৌভাগ্যভূঃ কাচিদকৃষ্টপচ্যা ।
যস্যাং সমারোপণতুল্যকালং তৎপ্রেমশাখী ফলবানতুল্যঃ ॥ ২৬৪ ॥

yaḥ sarva-lokaika-manobhirucyā
who of all people alone pleasing to the minds saubhāgya-bhūḥ kācid akṛṣṭa-pacyā of good fortune a land a certain ripening without ploughing
yasyāṁ samāropaṇa-tulya-kālaṁ
in which of planting at the same time
tat-prema-śākhī phalavān atulyaḥ
His of love the tree bearing fruit incomparable

264 "Beloved by the hearts of all, he is a wondrous land of good fortune that yields its harvest without ploughing: the very moment the seed was sown in it, the incomparable tree of His love bore fruit." (Śrī Caitanya-candrodaya-nāṭaka, 10.4)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

By delighting the minds of all people (enchanting their hearts), he became a certain (indescribable) soil of good fortune — one that bears fruit without plowing (manifest by itself) — that is, its very abode. In him the incomparable (matchless) tree of love (Śrī Caitanya's) bore fruit at the very time the seed was sown.

Anubhāṣya.

yaḥ (Dāsa Gosvāmī) sarva-lokaika-manobhirucyā (by the single, that is, the chief, inclination of the mind — the love — of all devotee people; by that) kācit (indescribable) akṛṣṭa-pacyā (ripened without plowing, that is, perfected even before perfection is reached through sādhana, or perfected without sādhana) saubhāgya-bhūḥ (soil of good fortune), yasyām (in which — in that soil) samāropaṇa-tulya-kālam (at the very time the seed was sown) atulyaḥ (matchless) tat-prema-śākhī (tat — His, Śrī Caitanya's; prema — that itself is the tree) phalavān (fruitful; "became" is understood).

শিবানন্দ যৈছে সেই মনুষ্যে কহিলা । কর্ণপূর সেইরূপে শ্লোক বর্ণিলা ॥ ২৬৫ ॥

śivānanda yaiche sei manuṣye kahilā Śivānanda as to that man spoke karṇapūra sei-rūpe śloka varṇilā Karṇapūra in the same way in verses described

265 Just as Śivānanda told that man, so Karṇapūra described him in these verses.

The money, servants and brāhmaṇa sent by Govardhana go with Śivānanda to Purī in the rainy season —

বর্ষান্তরে শিবানন্দ চলে নীলাচলে । রঘুনাথের সেবক, বিপ্র তাঁর সঙ্গে চলে ॥ ২৬৬ ॥

varṣāntare śivānanda cale nīlācale
the next year Śivānanda goes to Nīlācala
raghunāthera sevaka, vipra tāṁra saṅge cale Raghunātha's servants the brāhmaṇa him with go

266 The next year Śivānanda set out for Nīlācala, and Raghunātha's servants and the brāhmaṇa went with him.

সেই বিপ্র, ভৃত্য, চারি-শত মুদ্রা লঞা । নীলাচলে রঘুনাথে মিলিলা আসিয়া ॥ ২৬৭ ॥

sei vipra, bhṛtya, cāri-śata mudrā lañā
that brāhmaṇa the servants four hundred coins taking nīlācale raghunāthe mililā āsiyā
in Nīlācala Raghunātha met having come

267 Bringing the four hundred coins, the brāhmaṇa and the servants came to Nīlācala and met Raghunātha.

Raghunātha refuses all of it —

রঘুনাথ-দাস অঙ্গীকার না করিল । দ্রব্য লঞা দুইজন তাঁহাই রহিল ॥ ২৬৮ ॥

raghunātha-dāsa aṅgīkāra nā karila Raghunātha dāsa acceptance not made dravya lañā dui-jana tāṁhāi rahila
the money taking the two persons right there stayed

268 Raghunātha dāsa would not accept it, so the two of them stayed there with the money.

Raghunātha invites the Lord twice a month —

তবে রঘুনাথ করি' অনেক যতন । মাসে দুইদিন কৈলা প্রভুর নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ২৬৯ ॥

tabe raghunātha kari' aneka yatana
then Raghunātha making much effort
māse dui-dina kailā prabhura nimantraṇa
in a month two days made of the Lord invitation

269 Then, with great care, Raghunātha began to invite the Lord twice a month.

Only for this does Raghunātha accept the money sent by Govardhana —

দুই নিমন্ত্রণে লাগে কৌড়ি অষ্টপণ । ব্রাহ্মণ-ভৃত্য-ঠাঞি করেন এতেক গ্রহণ ॥ ২৭০ ॥

dui nimantraṇe lāge kauḍi aṣṭa-paṇa
the two invitations cost cowries eight paṇas brāhmaṇa-bhṛtya-ṭhāñi karena eteka grahaṇa
the brāhmaṇa servant from he made so much acceptance

270 The two invitations cost eight paṇas of cowries, and only that much would he accept from the brāhmaṇa and the servant.

Anubhāṣya.

Aṣṭa-paṇa (eight paṇas): 640 cowrie shells, that is, eight annas.[37]

After two years he stops inviting the Lord —

এইমত নিমন্ত্রণ বর্ষ দুই কৈলা । পাছে রঘুনাথ নিমন্ত্রণ ছাড়ি' দিলা ॥ ২৭১ ॥

ei-mata nimantraṇa varṣa dui kailā
in this way invitations for years two he made pāche raghunātha nimantraṇa chāḍi' dilā
afterwards Raghunātha the invitations gave up

271 He kept up these invitations for two years; then Raghunātha gave them up.

Mahāprabhu asks Svarūpa why Raghunātha has stopped inviting Him —

মাস-দুই যবে রঘুনাথ না করে নিমন্ত্রণ । স্বরূপে পুছিলা তবে শচীর নন্দন ॥ ২৭২ ॥

māsa-dui yabe raghunātha nā kare nimantraṇa months two when Raghunātha not makes invitation
svarūpe puchilā tabe śacīra nandana
Svarūpa asked then of Śacī the son

272 When Raghunātha had not invited Him for two months, the son of Śacī asked Svarūpa, রঘু কেনে আমায় নিমন্ত্রণ ছাড়ি' দিল ?

স্বরূপ কহে, — মনে কিছু বিচার করিল ॥ ২৭৩ ॥

raghu kene āmāya nimantraṇa chāḍi' dila?
Raghu why Me the invitation has given up
svarūpa kahe, — mane kichu vicāra karila
Svarūpa says in his mind something he has considered

273 "Why has Raghu stopped inviting Me?" Svarūpa said, "He must have thought it over like this:

*Svarūpa reveals Raghunātha's state of mind to the Lord and thereby teaches worldly people: the material things enjoyed by a viṣayī who thinks himself the enjoyer can never become objects of enjoyment for the spiritual Viṣṇu —*

বিষয়ীর দ্রব্য লঞা করি নিমন্ত্রণ । প্রসন্ন না হয় ইহায়, জানি প্রভুর মন ॥ ২৭৪ ॥

viṣayīra dravya lañā kari nimantraṇa of worldly men the money taking I make invitation
prasanna nā haya ihāya, jāni prabhura mana pleased not is by this I know of the Lord the mind

274 'I take the money of worldly men and invite the Lord; I know the Lord's mind — He is not pleased by this.

*An attempt to perform[38] spiritual service to Viṣṇu with material things enjoyed by a person bewildered by false ego only increases anarthas; it is rooted in mixing spirit with matter, and its fruit is mere worldly prestige —*

মোর চিত্ত দ্রব্য লইতে না হয় নির্ম্মল ।
এই নিমন্ত্রণে দেখি, — 'প্রতিষ্ঠা' মাত্র ফল ॥ ২৭৫ ॥

mora citta dravya laite nā haya nirmala
my heart the money in taking not becomes pure ei nimantraṇe dekhi, — 'pratiṣṭhā' mātra phala
in these invitations I see prestige only the result

275 When I take this money, my heart cannot be pure; I see that the only fruit of these invitations is prestige (pratiṣṭhā).

Anubhāṣya.
A person with the false sense of "I" and "mine" — a worldly viṣayī who enjoys matter — may try to serve Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas, the substance of eternity, knowledge and bliss beyond matter, with money meant for his own enjoyment. Such an attempt yields only worldly prestige (pratiṣṭhā); in reality he does not serve the transcendental Hari, guru and Vaiṣṇavas. A jīva who desires his eternal good should surrender completely, that is, dedicate himself wholly, and serve the transcendental Hari, guru and Vaiṣṇavas with all the money he has earned himself, and with body, mind, speech and life.

The Lord's bountiful mercy for the eternal good of the foolish —

উপরোধে প্রভু মোর মানেন নিমন্ত্রণ । না মানিলে দুঃখী হইবেক মূর্খ জন ॥ ২৭৬ ॥

uparodhe prabhu mora mānena nimantraṇa
out of regard the Lord my accepts invitation
nā mānile duḥkhī haibeka mūrkha jana not if He accepts unhappy will be the foolish person

276 Out of regard for me the Lord accepts my invitation, for if He did not, this foolish person would be unhappy.'

Anubhāṣya.

Viṣayīs intoxicated with pride in high birth, wealth, learning and beauty have others perform so-called service to the Śrī Mūrti and then distribute [the offered food] to Vaiṣṇavas, thinking it prasāda. In their foolishness they do not know that Adhokṣaja, Ajita, accepts nothing offered in a mood devoid of bhakti. Therefore Vaiṣṇavas wholly devoted to serving Kṛṣṇa and impartial — that is, detached from worldly enjoyment — in many cases do not accept help from such viṣayīs, enjoyers of matter: that help is tinged with the smell of material conceit, and by accepting it they would become those people's servants. Then the wealthy worldly viṣayīs, out of a foolishness born of identifying themselves with the body and so on, nurse hostility toward the Vaiṣṇava and are pained by his conduct.

Mahāprabhu is pleased —

এত বিচারিয়া নিমন্ত্রণ ছাড়ি' দিলা । শুনি' মহাপ্রভু হাসি' বলিতে লাগিলা ॥ ২৭৭ ॥

eta vicāriyā nimantraṇa chāḍi' dilā
so considering the invitations he gave up śuni' mahāprabhu hāsi' balite lāgilā hearing Mahāprabhu smiling to speak began

277 Thinking this over, he gave up the invitations." Hearing this, Mahāprabhu smiled and said,

*The Lord instructs sādhakas and ācāryas how to associate and conduct themselves — their duty —*

বিষয়ীর অন্ন খাইলে মলিন হয় মন । মলিন মন হৈলে, নহে কৃষ্ণের স্মরণ ॥ ২৭৮ ॥

viṣayīra anna khāile malina haya mana of worldly men the food if one eats impure becomes the mind
malina mana haile, nahe kṛṣṇera smaraṇa impure the mind if it becomes there is not of Kṛṣṇa remembrance

278 "When one eats the food of worldly men, the mind becomes impure, and when the mind is impure, one cannot remember Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.

Non-Vaiṣṇavas, or prākṛta-sahajiyās, are viṣayīs. When a sādhaka accepts food that they give without bhakti, or eats with them, that contact infects the Vaiṣṇava sādhaka with their association, and as a result sādhakas acquire the same nature as theirs. Suppose someone, even in the slightest degree, even with hidden sympathy, engages in the six kinds of association (giving, receiving, eating with them and feeding them, revealing confidences and inquiring) with non-Vaiṣṇavas and with prākṛta-sahajiyās who bear the name "Vaiṣṇava." Then worldly enjoyment, based on gratifying the material senses, takes the place of transcendental pure devotion to Kṛṣṇa and robs the sādhaka of devotion to Kṛṣṇa. Therefore people with impure hearts, soiled by sense objects and bent on gratifying their own senses, can never remember the transcendental Kṛṣṇa or serve Him in other such ways.

*A viṣayī is a gṛhavrata, one versed only in worldly affairs; association with him is itself "rājasic" —*

বিষয়ীর অন্ন হয় 'রাজস' নিমন্ত্রণ । দাতা, ভোক্তা — দুঁহার মলিন হয় মন ॥ ২৭৯ ॥

viṣayīra anna haya 'rājasa' nimantraṇa of worldly men the food is rājasic invitation dātā, bhoktā — duṁhāra malina haya mana
the giver the eater of both impure becomes the mind

279 An invitation with the food of worldly men is rājasic: the minds of both the giver and the eater become impure.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A "rājasic" invitation. Invitations are of three kinds: sāttvic, rājasic and tāmasic. The invitation of a pure Vaiṣṇava is sāttvic, the food of a pious viṣayī is rājasic, and the food of a sinner is tāmasic.

*By the Lord's bountiful mercy sound judgment arises in the sādhaka: he gives up devotion mixed with karma and turns to pure service —*

ইঁহার সঙ্কোচে আমি এত দিন নিল । ভাল হৈল — জানিয়া সে আপনি ছাড়িল ॥ ২৮০ ॥

iṁhāra saṅkoce āmi eta dina nila
his out of regard I so many days accepted
bhāla haila — jāniyā se āpani chāḍila
good it is understanding he himself has given it up

280 Out of regard for him I accepted them all these days. It is good that he has understood this and given them up himself."

*Raghunātha leaves the Siṁha-dvāra and takes food at the chatra —*

কত দিনে রঘুনাথ সিংহদ্বার ছাড়িলা । ছত্রে যাই' মাগিয়া খাইতে আরম্ভ করিলা ॥ ২৮১ ॥

kata dine raghunātha siṁha-dvāra chāḍilā
after some days Raghunātha the Siṁha-dvāra gave up chatre yāi' māgiyā khāite ārambha karilā
to the chatra going begging to eat beginning he made

281 After some days Raghunātha gave up the Siṁha-dvāra and began to go to the chatra, beg and eat there.

The Lord asks Svarūpa why Raghunātha has left the Siṁha-dvāra —

গোবিন্দ-পাশ শুনি' প্রভু পুছেন স্বরূপেরে । রঘু ভিক্ষা লাগি' ঠাড় কেনে নহে সিংহদ্বারে ? ॥ ২৮২ ॥

govinda-pāśa śuni' prabhu puchena svarūpere from Govinda hearing the Lord asks Svarūpa raghu bhikṣā lāgi' ṭhāḍa kene nahe siṁha-dvāre?
Raghu alms for standing why is not at the Siṁha-dvāra

282 Hearing of this from Govinda, the Lord asked Svarūpa, "Why does Raghu no longer stand at the Siṁha-dvāra for alms?"[24]

Anubhāṣya.
Ṭhāḍa (a Hindi word): standing.

*Svarūpa relates that Raghunātha, following the example of detached souls who have left home, has taken up mādhukarī alms —*

স্বরূপ কহে — সিংহদ্বারে দুঃখ অনুভবিয়া । ছত্রে মাগি' খায় মধ্যাহ্নকালে গিয়া ॥ ২৮৩ ॥

svarūpa kahe — siṁha-dvāre duḥkha anubhaviyā Svarūpa says at the Siṁha-dvāra distress feeling chatre māgi' khāya madhyāhna-kāle giyā
at the chatra begging eats at midday going

283 Svarūpa said, "He felt distress at the Siṁha-dvāra; now he goes to the chatra at midday, begs and eats."

*Waiting for food from another, at his whim, is contrary to the dharma of impartial renunciation —*

প্রভু কহে, — ভাল কৈল, ছাড়িল সিংহদ্বার ।
সিংহদ্বারে ভিক্ষা-বৃত্তি — বেশ্যার আচার ॥ ২৮৪ ॥

prabhu kahe, — bhāla kaila, chāḍila siṁha-dvāra
the Lord says well he did he gave up the Siṁha-dvāra
siṁha-dvāre bhikṣā-vṛtti — veśyāra ācāra
at the Siṁha-dvāra living by alms of a prostitute the conduct 284 The Lord said, "He has done well to give up the Siṁha-dvāra. To live by begging at the Siṁha-dvāra is the conduct of a prostitute:

At the mere sight of people — hopes of receiving alms or not, and guesses about how it will go — (the words of Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva)

অয়মাগচ্ছতি, অয়ং দাস্যতি, অনেন দত্তময়মপরঃ ।
সমেত্যয়ং দাস্যতি, অনেনাপি ন দত্তমন্যঃ সমেষ্যতি, স দাস্যতি ॥ ২৮৫ ॥

ayam āgacchati, ayaṁ dāsyati,
this one comes this one will give anena dattam ayam aparaḥ
by this one given this one another samety ayaṁ dāsyati, anenāpi na approaches this one will give by this one also not dattam anyaḥ sameṣyati, sa dāsyati given another will approach he will give

285 'Here comes one — he will give; this one gave. Here another approaches — he will give. This one too gave nothing; another will come — he will give.'

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"Here comes a man — he is the one who will give; this one gave before; here comes another — he will give; the one who just passed did not give; another will come and give." Such are the hopes of those who wear the dress of vairāgīs yet live without begging (ayācaka): abandoning impartiality, they become like a prostitute.

Anubhāṣya.

(Seeing some traveler, one who hopes for money or food says to himself:) ayam (this traveler) āgacchati; ayam (this generous man) mām dāsyati (will give me money, food and so on); anena (by this giver on some earlier evening — money, food and so on) dattam; ayam aparaḥ (here another man has come); ayam sametya (approaching) dāsyati; anena api na (anything) dattam; anyaḥ (a giver) sameṣyati (will come) — saḥ (he indeed) mahyam dāsyati.

*Only mādhukarī alms favor the worship of Hari for a detached soul who has left home —*

ছত্রে গিয়া যথা-লাভ উদর-ভরণ । অন্য কথা নাহি, সুখে কৃষ্ণসঙ্কীর্ত্তন ॥ ২৮৬ ॥

chatre giyā yathā-lābha udara-bharaṇa to the chatra going whatever is obtained of the belly the filling anya kathā nāhi, sukhe kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtana
other talk there is not happily Kṛṣṇa's saṅkīrtana

286 But one who goes to the chatra fills his belly with whatever he gets; there is no other concern, and he happily chants Kṛṣṇa's names in saṅkīrtana."

The guru of all knowers of Brahman, regarding Raghunātha as the best of the best, gives him His own Deity of Giridhārī and the garland that is the form of Gāndharvā —

এত বলি' তাঁরে পুনঃ প্রসাদ করিলা ।
'গোবর্দ্ধনের শিলা', 'গুঞ্জা-মালা' তাঁরে দিলা ॥ ২৮৭ ॥

eta bali' tāṁre punaḥ prasāda karilā
so saying to him again favour He showed
'govarddhanera śilā', 'guñjā-mālā' tāṁre dilā of Govardhana the śilā the guñjā garland to him He gave

287 Saying this, the Lord again showed him favour and gave him the śilā from Govardhana and the guñjā garland.[25]

Anubhāṣya.
The Govardhana-śilā is the Deity Śrī Giridhārī; the guñjā-mālā is a garland of guñjā seeds.

How the Deity and the garland were first obtained —

শঙ্করানন্দ-সরস্বতী বৃন্দাবন হৈতে আইলা । তেঁহ সেই শিলা-গুঞ্জামালা লঞা গেলা ॥ ২৮৮ ॥

śaṅkarānanda-sarasvatī vṛndāvana haite āilā Śaṅkarānanda Sarasvatī Vṛndāvana from came teṁha sei śilā-guñjā-mālā lañā gelā
he that śilā guñjā garland taking went

288 Śaṅkarānanda Sarasvatī had come from Vṛndāvana, bringing that śilā and guñjā garland with him.

পার্শ্বে গাঁথা গুঞ্জামালা, গোবর্দ্ধনশিলা । দুইবস্তু মহাপ্রভুর আগে আনি' দিলা ॥ ২৮৯ ॥

pārśve gāṁthā guñjāmālā, govarddhanaśilā
at the side strung the guñjā garland the Govardhana śilā
dui-vastu mahāprabhura āge āni' dilā
the two things Mahāprabhu's before bringing he gave

289 He brought the govardhana-śilā and the guñjā garland strung beside it, and presented these two things to Mahāprabhu.[26]

While remembering Kṛṣṇa, the Lord honors that garland and the Deity, seeing in them Gāndharvā and Giridhārī

Themselves —

দুই অপূর্ব্ব-বস্তু পাঞা প্রভু তুষ্ট হৈলা । স্মরণের কালে গলে পরেন গুঞ্জামালা ॥ ২৯০ ॥

dui apūrva-vastu pāñā prabhu tuṣṭa hailā
two wonderful things receiving the Lord pleased became smaraṇera kāle gale parena guñjāmālā of remembrance at the time on His neck He wears the guñjā garland

290 Receiving these two wonderful things, the Lord was pleased. Whenever He sat in remembrance of Kṛṣṇa, He would wear the guñjā garland around His neck.

গোবর্দ্ধন-শিলা প্রভু হৃদয়ে-নেত্রে ধরে । কভু নাসায় ঘ্রাণ লয়, কভু শিরে করে ॥ ২৯১ ॥

govarddhana-śilā prabhu hṛdaye-netre dhare
the Govardhana śilā the Lord to His heart to His eyes holds kabhu nāsāya ghrāṇa laya, kabhu śire kare sometimes with His nose scent takes sometimes on His head places

291 The Lord would hold the govardhana-śilā to His heart and to His eyes; sometimes He would smell it, and sometimes He would place it on His head.

নেত্রজলে সেই শিলা ভিজে নিরন্তর । শিলারে কহেন প্রভু — ‘কৃষ্ণকলেবর’ ॥ ২৯২ ॥

netra-jale sei śilā bhije nirantara with the water of His eyes that śilā is wet constantly śilāre kahena prabhu — ‘kṛṣṇa-kalevara’
to the śilā says the Lord Kṛṣṇa’s body

292 That śilā was always wet with the Lord’s tears, and the Lord would call the śilā “Kṛṣṇa’s own body.”

After serving them for three years, the Lord gives them to Raghunātha —

এইমত তিনবৎসর শিলা-মালা ধরিলা । তুষ্ট হঞা শিলা-মালা রঘুনাথে দিলা ॥ ২৯৩ ॥

ei-mata tina-vatsara śilā-mālā dharilā
in this way for three years the śilā and garland He kept tuṣṭa hañā śilā-mālā raghunāthe dilā pleased being the śilā and garland to Raghunātha He gave 293 So for three years He kept the śilā and the garland; then, pleased, He gave them to Raghunātha.

*The Lord's instruction, to teach the godless (pāṣaṇḍīs) who see stone in the worshipable Deity of Viṣṇu and caste in a Vaiṣṇava —*

প্রভু কহে, — এই শিলা কৃষ্ণের বিগ্রহ । ইঁহার সেবা কর তুমি করিয়া আগ্রহ ॥ ২৯৪ ॥

prabhu kahe, — ei śilā kṛṣṇera vigraha
the Lord says this śilā Kṛṣṇa’s Deity form
iṁhāra sevā kara tumi kariyā āgraha
His service do you with eagerness

294 The Lord said, “This śilā is Kṛṣṇa’s own Deity form. Serve Him eagerly.

Anubhāṣya.

The Govardhana-śilā is the son of the king of Vraja (Vrajendra-nandana) Himself. Mahāprabhu called this śilā “Kṛṣṇa's own transcendental body” and kept it with Him for three years. Then He revealed it in Raghunātha's heart and, regarding him as dear to His own dearest, gave him the right to serve it.

There are, however, non-Vaiṣṇavas reared and nourished by adaiva varṇāśrama and standing in it in the position of servants. Their minds are worldly, and they are intoxicated with pride in sense-born knowledge. Outwardly they bear the marks of a Vaiṣṇava, but at root they hate the Vaiṣṇavas: wishing to satisfy their own worldly, contemptible hidden tendencies, they rely on their sense-born knowledge, that is, on mental speculation. So in the transcendental worshipable Deity of Viṣṇu they see metal or stone; in Śrī Gurudeva — a manifest form of Kṛṣṇa, the servitor Bhagavān, a spiritual pastime (cid-vilāsa) — they see a mortal; and in a paramahaṁsa Vaiṣṇava, the guru of the followers of varṇāśrama, they see caste. With these notions they invent the claim: “Śrī Raghunātha dāsa Gosvāmī Prabhu was not a brāhmaṇa by birth (śaukra) and did not undergo the Sāvitrī rite, and therefore he did not attain brāhmaṇa status by initiation (daikṣya).” People of this sort, tormented by envy, conclude by their speculation that no pure devotee except one born in a brāhmaṇa family by seed has the right to touch or worship the Deity of Viṣṇu, and that Mahāprabhu, with an eye to worldly adaiva society, skillfully displayed such a pastime. For this offense such inventors fall into the cesspit of viṣaya — into endless offense — and their offense against the Vaiṣṇavas ruins them utterly in this world and the next. Kaniṣṭha and madhyama Vaiṣṇavas should by no means associate with this band of offenders. These people believe that the pure spiritual ideal of transcendental brāhmaṇa-hood can exist nowhere but in brāhmaṇa-hood by seed, which fosters association with those attached to women. This belief leads to hell; without doubt it will confine them forever in mahā-raurava and destroy them.

*The pure sāttvic worship of a mahā-bhāgavata, that is, service in bhāva, is not the arcana of the worldly level of a kaniṣṭha-adhikārī; that very bhāva is prema —*

এই শিলার কর তুমি সাত্ত্বিক পূজন । অচিরাৎ পাবে তুমি কৃষ্ণপ্রেমধন ॥ ২৯৫ ॥

ei śilāra kara tumi sāttvika pūjana
this śilā’s do you sāttvic worship acirāt pābe tumi kṛṣṇa-prema-dhana
soon you will obtain you of love for Kṛṣṇa the treasure

295 Worship this śilā in the sāttvic way, and you will soon obtain the treasure of love for Kṛṣṇa.

*The method of pure sāttvic service —*

এক কুঁজা জল আর তুলসী-মঞ্জরী । সাত্ত্বিক-সেবা এই — শুদ্ধভাবে করি ॥ ২৯৬ ॥

eka kuṁjā jala āra tulasī-mañjarī
one jug of water and tulasī mañjarīs sāttvika-sevā ei — śuddha-bhāve kari sāttvic service this in a pure spirit doing

296 A jug of water and tulasī buds (mañjarīs): this is sāttvic service, performed in a pure spirit.

দুইদিকে দুইপত্র-মধ্যে কোমল মঞ্জরী । এইমত অষ্টমঞ্জরী দিবে শ্রদ্ধা করি’ ॥ ২৯৭ ॥

dui-dike dui-patra-madhye komala mañjarī
on both sides between two leaves tender mañjarī ei-mata aṣṭa-mañjarī dibe śraddhā kari’
in this way eight mañjarīs you shall offer faith with 297 On both sides, between two leaves, place a tender mañjarī; in this way offer eight mañjarīs with faith.”

*The service in pure sāttvic bhāva of the mahā-bhāgavata Raghunātha, the guru of all knowers of Brahman and dear to the Lord —*

শ্রীহস্তে শিলা দিয়া এই আজ্ঞা দিলা । আনন্দে রঘুনাথ সেবা করিতে লাগিলা ॥ ২৯৮ ॥

śrī-haste śilā diyā ei ājñā dilā with His own holy hand the śilā giving this order He gave ānande raghunātha sevā karite lāgilā
in joy Raghunātha service to do began

298 With His own holy hand the Lord gave him the śilā together with this instruction, and Raghunātha joyfully began his service.

এক-বিতস্তি দুইবস্ত্র, পিঁড়া একখানি । স্বরূপ দিলেন কুঁজা আনিবারে পানি ॥ ২৯৯ ॥

eka-vitasti dui-vastra, piṁḍā eka-khāni
one span two cloths a seat one svarūpa dilena kuṁjā ānibāre pāni
Svarūpa gave a jug to bring water

299 Svarūpa gave him two cloths a span long, a small wooden seat and a jug for bringing water.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Vitasti (a span): a measure of half a cubit.

Putting to shame the inventions of the godless who see stone in the worshipable Viṣṇu and caste in a Vaiṣṇava, Raghunātha sees in Giridhārī the son of the king of Vraja Himself —

এইমত রঘুনাথ করেন পূজন ।
পূজা-কালে দেখে শিলায় ‘ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন’ ॥ ৩০০ ॥

ei-mata raghunātha karena pūjana
in this way Raghunātha does worship
pūjā-kāle dekhe śilāya ‘vrajendra-nandana’
of worship at the time sees in the śilā the son of Vraja’s king

300 So Raghunātha performed the worship, and during the worship he saw in the śilā the son of the king of Vraja.

Raghunātha's unprecedented love for the Lord —

প্রভুর স্বহস্ত-দত্ত গোবর্দ্ধন-শিলা । এই চিন্তি’ রঘুনাথ প্রেমে ভাসি’ গেলা ॥ ৩০১ ॥

prabhura svahasta-datta govarddhana-śilā
by the Lord’s own hand given the Govardhana śilā ei cinti’ raghunātha preme bhāsi’ gelā
this thinking Raghunātha in love floating went

301 Thinking, “This govardhana-śilā was given by the Lord’s own hand,” Raghunātha was carried away in love.

জল-তুলসীর সেবায় যত সুখোদয় । ষোড়শোপচার-পূজায় তত সুখ নয় ॥ ৩০২ ॥

jala-tulasīra sevāya yata sukhodaya with water and tulasī in the service as much happiness arising ṣoḍaśopacāra-pūjāya tata sukha naya
in worship with sixteen articles as much happiness is not 302 The happiness that arose in this service with water and tulasī is not found even in worship with sixteen articles.

*One day, at Svarūpa's request, Raghunātha offers the Deity sweets (sandeśa) supplied by Govinda —*

এইমত কত দিন করেন পূজন । তবে স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তাঁরে কহিলা বচন ॥ ৩০৩ ॥

ei-mata kata dina karena pūjana
in this way some days he does worship
tabe svarūpa-gosāñi tāṁre kahilā vacana
then Svarūpa Gosāñi to him spoke words

303 When he had worshipped in this way for some days, Svarūpa Gosāñi said to him, অষ্ট-কৌড়ির খাজা-সন্দেশ কর সমর্পণ । শ্রদ্ধা করি' দিলে, সেই অমৃতের সম ॥ ৩০৪ ॥

aṣṭa-kauḍira khājā-sandeśa kara samarpaṇa of eight cowries khājā and sandeśa do offering śraddhā kari' dile, sei amṛtera sama with faith doing if you give that nectar like

304 "Offer khājā and sandeśa worth eight cowries. If you offer them with faith, they will be like nectar."

তবে অষ্ট-কৌড়ির খাজা করে সমর্পণ । স্বরূপ-আজ্ঞায় গোবিন্দ করে সমাধান ॥ ৩০৫ ॥

tabe aṣṭa-kauḍira khājā kare samarpaṇa
then of eight cowries khājā he makes offering svarūpa-ājñāya govinda kare samādhāna
by Svarūpa's order Govinda makes the arrangement

305 From then on he offered khājā worth eight cowries, and by Svarūpa's order Govinda arranged it.

Raghunātha grasps the meaning of the Lord's mercy —

রঘুনাথ সেই শিলা-মালা যবে পাইলা । গোসাঞির অভিপ্রায় এই ভাবনা করিলা ॥ ৩০৬ ॥

raghunātha sei śilā-mālā yabe pāilā Raghunātha that śilā and garland when received gosāñira abhiprāya ei bhāvanā karilā
of Gosāñi the intention this reflection he made

306 When Raghunātha received the śilā and the garland, he reflected on what Gosāñi intended:

*By giving the garland and the śilā, the Lord gives Raghunātha intimate service to Gāndharvā and Giridhārī, full of rāga —*

শিলা দিয়া গোসাঞি সমর্পিলা 'গোবর্দ্ধনে' । গুঞ্জামালা দিয়া দিলা 'রাধিকা-চরণে' ॥ ৩০৭ ॥

śilā diyā gosāñi samarpilā 'govarddhane'
the śilā giving Gosāñi has entrusted me to Govardhana guñjā-mālā diyā dilā 'rādhikā-caraṇe'
the guñjā garland giving He has given me to Rādhikā's feet

307 "By giving me the śilā, Gosāñi has entrusted me to Govardhana; by giving me the guñjā garland, He has given me to the feet of Rādhikā."

*The service to Gaura of Raghunātha, who has lost himself in prema —*

আনন্দে রঘুনাথের বাহ্য বিস্মরণ । কায়মনে সেবিলেন গৌরাঙ্গ-চরণ ॥ ৩০৮ ॥

ānande raghunāthera bāhya vismaraṇa
in bliss Raghunātha's of the external forgetting kāya-mane sevilena gaurāṅga-caraṇa
with body and mind he served Gaurāṅga's feet

308 In his bliss Raghunātha forgot the external world, and with body and mind he served the feet of Gaurāṅga.

The incomparable, wondrous, unwavering ideal of Raghunātha Gosvāmī's worship, full of renunciation for the pleasure of Kṛṣṇa's senses —

অনন্ত গুণ রঘুনাথের কে করিবে লেখা ?
রঘুনাথের নিয়ম, — যেন পাষাণের রেখা ॥ ৩০৯ ॥

ananta guṇa raghunāthera ke karibe lekhā?
endless qualities Raghunātha's who can write raghunāthera niyama, — yena pāṣāṇera rekhā
Raghunātha's rules like of a stone a line

309 Who can write of Raghunātha's endless qualities? His rules of life were like lines cut in stone.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Raghunātha's rules were like a line on stone": Śrīla Raghunātha's rules of renunciation were as firm as a line carved in stone.

Serving Kṛṣṇa at every moment —

সাড়ে সাত প্রহর যায় কীর্ত্তন-স্মরণে । সবে চারি-দণ্ড আহার-নিদ্রা কোন দিনে ॥ ৩১০ ॥

sāḍe sāta prahara yāya kīrtana-smaraṇe half past seven praharas go in chanting and remembering sabe cāri-daṇḍa āhāra-nidrā kona dine
only four daṇḍas for eating and sleeping on some days

310 Seven and a half praharas went in chanting and remembrance; for eating and sleeping he allowed only four daṇḍas, and that only on some days.

Anubhāṣya.
A variant reading: "Seven and a half praharas go to remembrance and kīrtana; to eating and sleeping, four daṇḍas, and even that not every day."

Raghunātha Gosvāmī, who conquered the six urges —

বৈরাগ্যের কথা তাঁর অদ্ভুত-কথন । আজন্ম না দিলা জিহ্বায় রসের স্পর্শন ॥ ৩১১ ॥

vairāgyera kathā tāṁra adbhuta-kathana
of renunciation the stories his wonderful telling ājanma nā dilā jihvāya rasera sparśana
from birth not he gave to his tongue of taste the touch

311 The stories of his renunciation are wonderful to tell: from his birth he never let his tongue touch anything tasty.

ছিণ্ডা-কানি কাঁথা বিনা না পরেন বসন । সাবধানে প্রভুর কৈলা আজ্ঞার পালন ॥ ৩১২ ॥

chiṇḍā-kāni kāṁthā vinā nā parena vasana torn rags a patched quilt except not he wears clothing
sāvadhāne prabhura kailā ājñāra pālana carefully the Lord's he did of the order the keeping 312 He wore no clothing but torn rags and a patched quilt, and so he carefully kept the Lord's order.

Accepting only as much as is needed to sustain life —

প্রাণ-রক্ষা লাগি' যেবা করেন ভক্ষণ । তাহা খাঞা আপনার করে নির্ব্বেদন ॥ ৩১৩ ॥

prāṇa-rakṣā lāgi' yebā karena bhakṣaṇa
of life the maintenance for the sake whatever he does eating
tāhā khāñā āpanāra kare nirvedana
that having eaten for himself he feels remorse

313 He ate only enough to keep himself alive, and even for that he reproached himself afterwards.

Anubhāṣya.
Nirvedana: reproach, censure.

*As divine knowledge of sambandha dawns, identification with the body wanes — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 7.15.40)*

আত্মানং চেদ্বিজানীয়াৎ পরং জ্ঞানধূতাশয়ঃ । কিমিচ্ছন্ কস্য বা হেতোর্দ্দেহং পুষ্ণাতি লম্পটঃ ॥ ৩১৪ ॥

ātmānaṁ ced vijānīyāt
the self if one knows
paraṁ jñāna-dhūtāśayaḥ
the supreme by knowledge cleansed in heart
kim icchan kasya vā hetor
what desiring for whose or sake dehaṁ puṣṇāti lampaṭaḥ
the body nourishes the lecher

314 "If one whose heart has been cleansed by knowledge has truly known the Supreme Self, what could he desire, and for whose sake would he pamper the body like a lecher?" (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 7.15.40)[27]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A person whose heart has been washed clean by knowledge attains everything once he comes to know the truth of the self. Why then — with what intention, for what reason — do the dissolute, instead of doing so, take pains only to nourish the body?

Anubhāṣya.
"By following what rule does a householder easily attain liberation?" Answering this question of Dharmarāja Yudhiṣṭhira, the sage among the gods Nārada describes the essence of the sādhana of all varṇas and āśramas, whose mark is liberation (mokṣa). After speaking of the four āśramas, at the end he says: cet (if) ātmānam param ("Brahman — Kṛṣṇa") vijānīyāt, tadā jñāna-dhutāśayaḥ (one whose āśaya — desire for sense objects — has been shaken off, driven out by knowledge, that is, by knowledge of sambandha) lampaṭaḥ (giving free rein to tongue and genitals) kim icchan (for what purpose) kasya vā hetoḥ deham puṣṇāti (would he tend the body?) — the sense is: greed is impossible for a jñānī. So also says the śruti: "If a man has known the Self — 'this is what I am' (ayam asmi) — desiring what, for whose desire, would he care for the body?"[39]

*Raghunātha washes the unsold, stale, mud-soiled prasāda rice of the shopkeepers and honors it, seeing in it Kṛṣṇa's remnants, a spiritual substance —*

প্রসাদান্ন পসারির যত না বিকায় । দুই-তিন দিন হৈলে, ভাত সড়ি' যায় ॥ ৩১৫ ॥

prasādānna pasārira yata nā vikāya
prasāda rice of the vendors as much as not is sold dui-tina dina haile, bhāta saḍi' yāya
two three days when pass the rice rotting goes

315 Whatever prasāda rice the vendors could not sell would begin to rot after two or three days.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Saḍi: having rotted.

সিংহদ্বারে গাভী-আগে সেই ভাত ডারে । সড়া-গন্ধে তৈলঙ্গী-গাই খাইতে না পারে ॥ ৩১৬ ॥

siṁha-dvāre gābhī-āge sei bhāta ḍāre
at the Siṁha-dvāra of the cows before that rice they throw saḍā-gandhe tailaṅgī-gāi khāite nā pāre because of the rotten smell the Telaṅga cows to eat not are able 316 They would throw that rice before the cows at the Siṁha-dvāra, but because of the rotten smell even the Telaṅga cows could not eat it.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Tailaṅgī gāi: cows from the land of Tailaṅga.

Anubhāṣya.
Ḍāre: they throw away.

সেই ভাত রঘুনাথ রাত্রে ঘরে আনি' । ভাত ধুঞা ফেলে ঘরে দিয়া বহু পানি ॥ ৩১৭ ॥

sei bhāta raghunātha rātre ghare āni'
that rice Raghunātha at night home bringing bhāta dhuñā phele ghare diyā bahu pāni
the rice washing away at home pouring much water

317 Raghunātha would bring that rice home at night and wash it, pouring on a great deal of water.

ভিতরেতে দড়ভাত মাজি' যেই পায় । লবণ দিয়া রঘুনাথ সেই অন্ন খায় ॥ ৩১৮ ॥

bhitarete daḍa-bhāta māji' yei pāya inside the hard rice scouring which he gets lavaṇa diyā raghunātha sei anna khāya
salt adding Raghunātha that food eats

318 The hard grains he found inside after scouring it, Raghunātha would eat with a little salt.

Anubhāṣya.

"Cleaning the hard rice inside": that is, washing and cleaning the hard core of the half-cooked rice.

One day Svarūpa joyfully takes a portion of these remnants of Kṛṣṇa, seeing in them a spiritual substance —

একদিন স্বরূপ তাহা করিতে দেখিলা । হাসিয়া তাহার কিছু মাগিয়া খাইলা ॥ ৩১৯ ॥

eka-dina svarūpa tāhā karite dekhilā
one day Svarūpa that doing saw hāsiyā tāhāra kichu māgiyā khāilā smiling of it some begging ate

319 One day Svarūpa saw him doing this; smiling, he asked for some of it and ate it.

*The prasāda taken by Raghunātha, the dearest of Gaura-Kṛṣṇa, is spiritual nectar enjoyed by Kṛṣṇa —*

স্বরূপ কহে, — ঐছে অমৃত খাও নিতি-নিতি ।
আমা-সবায় নাহি দেহ', — কি তোমার প্রকৃতি ? ॥ ৩২০ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — aiche amṛta khāo niti-niti Svarūpa says such nectar you eat every day
āmā-sabāya nāhi deha', — ki tomāra prakṛti?
to all of us not you give what your nature

320 Svarūpa said, "Every day you eat such nectar and never give any to us! What sort of behaviour is that?"[28]

Hearing of it from Govinda, the Lord Himself also takes this nectarean food enjoyed by Kṛṣṇa —

গোবিন্দের মুখে প্রভু সে বার্ত্তা শুনিলা । আর দিন আসি' প্রভু কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৩২১ ॥

govindera mukhe prabhu se vārtā śunilā
from Govinda's mouth the Lord that news heard āra dina āsi' prabhu kahite lāgilā
the next day coming the Lord to speak began

321 The Lord heard this news from Govinda, and the next day He came and said, খাসা বস্তু খাও সবে, মোরে না দেহ' কেনে ?

এত বলি' এক গ্রাস করিলা ভক্ষণে ॥ ৩২২ ॥

khāsā vastu khāo sabe, more nā deha' kene?
excellent things you eat all of you to Me not you give why eta bali' eka grāsa karilā bhakṣaṇe
so saying one mouthful He did eating

322 "You all eat such excellent things — why do you not give Me any?" Saying this, He ate a mouthful.

Anubhāṣya.

Khāsā: excellent.

*The teaching that even if a sādhaka has himself grown used to renunciation for Kṛṣṇa's pleasure, he must worship Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas, the possessors of all opulence, with the finest spiritual articles, regarding them as his only*

masters —

আর গ্রাস লৈতে স্বরূপ হাতেতে ধরিলা । তব যোগ্য নহে বলি' বলে কাড়ি' নিলা ॥ ৩২৩ ॥

āra grāsa laite svarūpa hātete dharilā another mouthful as He was taking Svarūpa by the hand caught tava yogya nahe bali' bale kāḍi' nilā for You fit it is not saying by force snatching took 323 As He was taking another mouthful, Svarūpa caught His hand, and saying, "This is not fit for You," snatched it away by force.

*The Lord praises the prasāda taken by His dearest Raghunātha —*

প্রভু বলে, — নিতি-নিতি নানা প্রসাদ খাই । ঐছে স্বাদ আর কোন প্রসাদে না পাই ॥ ৩২৪ ॥

prabhu bale, — niti-niti nānā prasāda khāi
the Lord says every day various prasāda I eat aiche svāda āra kona prasāde nā pāi
such taste other any in prasāda not I find

324 The Lord said, "Every day I eat all kinds of prasāda, but I have never found such a taste in any other prasāda."

The Lord rejoices to see Raghunātha's renunciation, full of the desire to please Kṛṣṇa's senses —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু নানা লীলা করে । রঘুনাথের বৈরাগ্য দেখি' সন্তোষ অন্তরে ॥ ৩২৫ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu nānā līlā kare
in this way Mahāprabhu various pastimes performs raghunāthera vairāgya dekhi' santoṣa antare Raghunātha's renunciation seeing pleased within 325 In this way Mahāprabhu enjoyed many pastimes, inwardly pleased to see Raghunātha's renunciation.

Raghunātha describes the Lord's mercy in his own prayer —

আপন-উদ্ধার এই রঘুনাথদাস ।
'চৈতন্যস্তবকল্পবৃক্ষে' কৈরাছেন প্রকাশ ॥ ৩২৬ ॥

āpana-uddhāra ei raghunātha-dāsa
his own deliverance this Raghunātha dāsa
'caitanya-stava-kalpa-vṛkṣe' kairāchena prakāśa
in the Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa has described

326 Raghunātha dāsa himself has described his own deliverance in his Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa:

*By Gaura's mercy Raghunātha attains the following of Dāmodara and service to Gāndharvā and Giridhārī — (Stavāvalī, Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, verse 11)*

মহাসম্পদ্দাবাদপি পতিতমুদ্ধৃত্য কৃপয়া
স্বরূপে যঃ স্বীয়ে কুজনমপি মাং ন্যস্য মুদিতঃ ।
উরোগুঞ্জাহারং প্রিয়মপি চ গোবর্দ্ধনশিলাং দদৌ মে গৌরাঙ্গো হৃদয় উদয়ন্মাং মদয়তি ॥ ৩২৭ ॥

mahā-sampad-dāvād api patitam uddhṛtya kṛpayā
of great wealth from the forest fire even though fallen lifting out by mercy
svarūpe yaḥ svīye kujanam api māṁ nyasya muditaḥ to Svarūpa He who His own a wretch though me entrusting was pleased uro-guñjā-hāraṁ priyam api ca govarddhana-śilāṁ from His chest the guñjā garland dear though and the Govardhana śilā dadau me gaurāṅgo hṛdaya udayan māṁ madayati
gave to me Gaurāṅga in my heart rising me maddens

327 "Fallen as I was, He mercifully lifted me out of the forest fire of great wealth, and joyfully entrusted me, wretched as I am, to His own Svarūpa. Though they were dear to Him, He gave me the guñjā garland from His chest and the govardhana-śilā. That Gaurāṅga, rising in my heart, makes me mad with joy." (Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, 11)[29]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

I am the greatest of scoundrels, yet He, in His mercy, saw me fallen, rescued me from wealth and wife (by another reading, from the forest fire of viṣaya), gave me over to Śrī Svarūpa and was pleased.[35] He gave me the guñjā garland from His own chest and the Govardhana-śilā. And that Gaurāṅga, rising in my heart, is maddening me.

Thus ends the sixth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.

yaḥ (Mahāprabhu) kṛpayā (out of His compassion) kujanam api mām mahā-sampad-dārāt (great wealth and wife; their aggregate, that is, from contact with gold and women; with the reading mahā-sampad-dāvāt — from the fire that is great wealth itself) uddhṛtya svīye (to His own intimate) svarūpe (Śrī Svarūpa Dāmodara) nyasya (entrusting) muditaḥ (being pleased) priyam api uro-guñjā-hāram (the guñjā garland from His chest) govardhana-śilām ca (the Deity of the Holder of the mountain) me (to me) dadau, saḥ (Gaurāṅga, Gaurahari) me (my) hṛdaye udayan (appearing) mām madayati (delights me).[35]

Whoever hears of the Lord's meeting with Raghunātha attains Caitanya's feet —

এই ত' কহিলুঁ রঘুনাথের মিলন ।
ইহা যেই শুনে, পায় চৈতন্যচরণ ॥ ৩২৮ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ raghunāthera milana
thus indeed I have told Raghunātha's meeting
ihā yei śune, pāya caitanya-caraṇa
this whoever hears attains Caitanya's feet

328 Thus I have told of Raghunātha's meeting with the Lord. Whoever hears this attains the feet of Caitanya.[30]

Anubhāṣya.

Thus ends the sixth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ৩২৯ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

329 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.[31]

Notes

1. The last line is as in Madhya 19.54 (śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanyam amuṁ prapadye, “I take refuge in this Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya”). ↩
2. The same verse as Ādi 4.2 (= Ādi 1.18, 17.2, Antya 2.2, 4.2); translation as there. ↩
3. A lakh is a hundred thousand. ↩
4. Jindā pīr — “a living saint”; a pīr is a Muslim saint. ↩
5. Twenty lakhs collected, less the twelve paid to the king (verse 19). ↩
6. Numbering: the edition prints no number after this verse (only “॥”). ↩
7. Piṇḍā — a raised platform at the foot of the tree; edition heading: on the bank of the Gaṅgā, at the foot of a tree, the Lord sits on the platform and His associates below. ↩
8. The Bengali text follows the edition: the second line has no prabhu. ↩
9. Hena nāhi jāni — “I do not know how many”: the author’s own words. ↩
10. The verse = Madhya 23.24; the translation follows the revised text there. ↩
11. Karāilā, causative: Nityānanda had the devotees bless him (so also the edition heading). ↩
12. Mudrā — coins; the gold is named separately. ↩
13. There is nothing in the text about the money being “for the service of the devotees”: Raghunātha places it before Rāghava himself. ↩
14. Numbering: the edition prints no number after this verse (only “॥”). ↩
15. The edition reads gauḍera bhakta-gaṇa (without saba, “all”). ↩
16. Tathāpi, “still”, links the verse with 198: though they honour brāhmaṇas. ↩
17. The edition reads kabhu, “at one time”. ↩
18. Rasa here is the taste of food. ↩
19. Chāḍāilā is causative, “made me leave”: it was the Lord who drew him from home. Raghunātha did not address the Lord directly (230); Svarūpa conveys his question (231–232). ↩
20. The same verse as Ādi 17.31 (the edition reads taror iva, as there); translation as there. ↩
21. The first line is the same as in Madhya 1.133. ↩
22. Numbering: the edition prints no number after this verse (only “॥”, p. 944, left column). ↩
23. Numbering: the edition prints no number after this verse (only “॥”, p. 945, right column). ↩
24. Numbering: the edition prints no number after this verse (only the closing quotation mark, p. 947, left column). ↩
25. Numbering: the edition prints no number after this verse (only “॥”, p. 947, right column). ↩
26. Pārśve gāṫhā, “strung at the side”, is not explained in the commentaries; it is taken here to mean that the garland came with the śilā. ↩
27. Numbering: the edition prints no number after this verse (only “॥”, p. 949, right column). ↩
28. Numbering: the edition prints no number after this verse (only the closing quotation mark, p. 950, left column). ↩
29. The edition reads mahā-sampad-dāvāt, “from the forest fire of great wealth”, and so it is translated; the Anubhāṣya and the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya take -dārāt, “from great wealth and a wife”, as the main reading. ↩
30. The second line is the same as in Antya 1.222 (= Madhya 10.189); translation as there. ↩
31. The same colophon verse as Antya 2.172; translation as there. ↩
32. The edition reads «অযাজকবৃত্তি» (ayājaka, “not officiating at rites for pay”; checked against the scan); the sense probably requires অযাচক, “not asking.” ↩
33. In the verses it is the Muslim caudhurī who threatens Raghunātha and fears to touch him (Antya 6.21–23); he only brought the vizier (6.20). ↩
34. Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu 1.1.11. ↩
35. Here the commentator takes mahā-sampad-dārāt (“from great wealth and wife”) as the main reading and -dāvāt (“from the fire”), printed in the verse, as a variant (so also in the Anubhāṣya). In the verse translation, otherwise: “from the great fire of luxurious worldly life.” ↩
36. So in the edition; the words quoted are from the Bhakti-sandarbha, anuccheda 283. ↩
37. The edition has “॥০ আনা”: in the old notation ॥০ is ½ rupee, that is, eight annas. ↩
38. Literally “an attempt to measure (parimāṇa)”; translated by sense. ↩
39. Bṛhad-āraṇyaka Upaniṣad 4.4.12 (there anusaṁjvaret, “would he suffer along with the body”; the edition has anu-sañcaret). ↩
40. Here the commentator takes mahā-sampad-dārāt (“from great wealth and wife”) as the main reading and -dāvāt (“from the fire”), printed in the verse, as a variant (so also in the Anubhāṣya). In the verse translation, otherwise: “from the great fire of luxurious worldly life.” ↩

“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 7

The Meeting with Vallabha Bhaṭṭa

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. This chapter describes the arrival of Vallabha Bhaṭṭa: how the Lord joked with him in many ways and corrected his conclusions (siddhāntas), how He accepted his invitation, and how, seeing the Bhaṭṭa's special devotion to Śrī Gadādhara Paṇḍita, He feigned indifference toward the Paṇḍita. When the Bhaṭṭa had become wholly submissive, the Lord accepted his invitation, told him to learn the meaning of the mantra and other things from Śrī Gadādhara Paṇḍita, and showed His affection for the Paṇḍita.

Obeisances to Gaura's devotees, who are touchstones —

চৈতন্যচরণাম্ভোজমকরন্দলিহো ভজে । যেষাং প্রসাদমাত্রেণ পামরোঽপ্যমরো ভবেৎ ॥ ১ ॥

caitanya-caraṇāmbhojaof Caitanya of the lotus feet makaranda-liho bhaje
the honey who lick I worship
yeṣāṁ prasāda-mātreṇa whose by the mercy alone
pāmaro 'py amaro bhavet
a wretch even immortal becomes

1 I worship those who sip the honey of Śrī Caitanya’s lotus feet: by their mercy alone even a wretched soul becomes immortal.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I worship the devotees who are eager for the honey of Caitanya's lotus feet: by their mercy alone even a fallen soul becomes immortal.

Anubhāṣya.
yeṣām (of the devotees who have taken shelter at Gaura's feet) prasāda-mātreṇa (by a mere particle of mercy) pāmaraḥ (a godless person devoid of bhakti) api amaraḥ (possessed of a transcendental body) bhavet, (them) caitanya-caraṇāmbhoja-makaranda-lihaḥ (the devotees of Gaura who lick the honey of the lotuses that are the feet of Caitanya, Bhagavān Gaura — them I) bhaje.

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory of Gaura the devotees to the multitude

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura![1]

Before the Ratha-yātrā the devotees of Gauḍa arrive —

বর্ষান্তরে যত গৌড়ের ভক্তগণ আইলা । পূর্ব্ববৎ মহাপ্রভু সবারে মিলিলা ॥ ৩ ॥

varṣāntare yata gauḍera bhakta-gaṇa āilā
in the next year all of Gauḍa the devotees came pūrvavat mahāprabhu sabāre mililā
as before Mahāprabhu all met

3 The next year all the devotees of Gauḍa came, and Mahāprabhu met them all as before.

Vallabha Bhaṭṭa arrives —

এইমত বিলাস প্রভুর ভক্তগণ লঞা । হেনকালে বল্লভ-ভট্ট মিলিল আসিয়া ॥ ৪ ॥

ei-mata vilāsa prabhura bhakta-gaṇa lañā
in this way pastimes of the Lord the devotees with hena-kāle vallabha-bhaṭṭa milila āsiyā
at that time Vallabha Bhaṭṭa met (Him) coming

4 While the Lord was thus enjoying His pastimes with the devotees, Vallabha Bhaṭṭa came to meet Him.

Anubhāṣya.
Vallabha Bhaṭṭa: see the Anubhāṣya on Madhya 19.61.

The Bhaṭṭa bows to the Lord's feet, and the Lord embraces him, regarding him as a Vaiṣṇava —

আসিয়া বন্দিল ভট্ট প্রভুর চরণে । প্রভু 'ভাগবতবুদ্ধ্যে' কৈলা আলিঙ্গনে ॥ ৫ ॥

āsiyā vandila bhaṭṭa prabhura caraṇe coming bowed the Bhaṭṭa of the Lord at the feet
prabhu 'bhāgavata-buddhye' kailā āliṅgane
the Lord 'regarding him as a bhāgavata' gave an embrace

5 Coming before the Lord, the Bhaṭṭa bowed at His feet, and the Lord embraced him, regarding him as a bhāgavata, a devotee.

The Bhaṭṭa's humble words —

মান্য করি' প্রভু তারে নিকটে বসাইলা । বিনয় করিয়া ভট্ট কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৬ ॥

mānya kari' prabhu tāre nikaṭe vasāilā honour showing the Lord him near seated vinaya kariyā bhaṭṭa kahite lāgilā humility showing the Bhaṭṭa to speak began

6 Showing him honour, the Lord seated him near Himself, and the Bhaṭṭa humbly began to speak.

Jagannātha fulfilled the wish to see the Lord —

বহুদিন মনোরথ তোমা দেখিবারে । জগন্নাথ পূর্ণ কৈলা, দেখিলুঁ তোমারে ॥ ৭ ॥

bahu-dina manoratha tomā dekhibāre for many days the desire You to see jagannātha pūrṇa kailā, dekhiluṁ tomāre Jagannātha fulfilled I have seen You

7 "For many days I have longed to see You. Jagannātha has fulfilled my desire: I have seen You.

Vallabha regards the Lord as equal to Bhagavān and praises Him with reverence, but he does not surrender —

তোমার দর্শন যে পায়, সেই ভাগ্যবান্ । তোমাকে দেখিয়ে, — যেন সাক্ষাৎ ভগবান্ ॥ ৮ ॥

tomāra darśana ye pāya, sei bhāgyavān
Your sight who obtains he fortunate
tomāke dekhiye, — yena sākṣāt bhagavān
You I see as if directly Bhagavān

8 Whoever obtains Your sight is fortunate. When I see You, it is as if I see Bhagavān Himself.

Let alone seeing the Lord — even remembering Him purifies —

তোমারে যে স্মরণ করে, সে হয় পবিত্র । দর্শনে পবিত্র হবে, — ইথে কি বিচিত্র ? ॥ ৯ ॥

tomāre ye smaraṇa kare, se haya pavitra
You who remembers he becomes pure darśane pavitra habe, — ithe ki vicitra?
by the sight pure will become in this what wonder

9 Whoever remembers You becomes pure. What wonder, then, that one becomes pure by seeing You?

*Let alone serving pure devotees in person — even remembering them from afar purifies — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.19.33)*

যেষাং সংস্মরণাৎ পুংসাং সদ্যঃ শুদ্ধ্যন্তি বৈ গৃহাঃ । কিং পুনর্দ্দর্শনস্পর্শপাদশৌচাসনাদিভিঃ ॥ ১০ ॥

yeṣāṁ saṁsmaraṇāt puṁsāṁ
of whom by the remembrance of men
sadyaḥ śuddhyanti vai gṛhāḥ
at once become pure indeed the homes
kiṁ punar darśana-sparśa-how much more by seeing touching pāda-śaucāsanādibhiḥ
washing the feet offering a seat and so on 10 'When people merely remember such saints, their very homes become pure at once. How much more, then, when they see them and touch them, wash their feet and offer them a seat!' (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 1.19.33)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The mere remembrance of them purifies people's homes. How much is gained by seeing them, touching them, washing their feet, offering them a seat and so on cannot be put into words.

Anubhāṣya.
King Parīkṣit, resolved to fast until death (prāyopaveśa), asked the assembled sages, knowers of Brahman, what the one duty of a dying man is. Then Śrī Śukadeva, the ornament of the line of knowers of Brahman, arrived there, and Parīkṣit humbly greeted everyone and said:

yeṣām (of the saints) saṁsmaraṇāt (simply by making them fully the object of the mind) puṁsām (of men) gṛhāḥ (even homes, which are seats of worldly enjoyment) sadyaḥ (at once) śudhyanti vai (indeed become pure); teṣām darśana-sparśana-pāda-śaucāsanādibhiḥ kiṁ punaḥ?

*Only Kṛṣṇa's svarūpa-śakti brings forth the ācārya who chants the holy name —*

কলিকালের ধর্ম্ম — কৃষ্ণনাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । কৃষ্ণ-শক্তি বিনা নহে তার প্রবর্ত্তন ॥ ১১ ॥

kali-kālera dharma — kṛṣṇa-nāma-saṅkīrtana of the age of Kali the dharma of Kṛṣṇa's name the saṅkīrtana
kṛṣṇa-śakti vinā nahe tāra pravartana
Kṛṣṇa's power without is not its propagation

11 The dharma of the age of Kali is the saṅkīrtana of Kṛṣṇa's name. Without Kṛṣṇa's power no one can propagate it.

Anubhāṣya.

Śrī Madhva cites the words of the Śrī Nārāyaṇa-saṁhitā: "In Dvāpara people worship Viṣṇu by the Pañcarātras alone, but in Kali Bhagavān Hari is worshipped by the name alone."

Without Kṛṣṇa's direct will — the power of His mercy — no human being can become an ācārya, a guru of the world, by the strength of the mind's own functions (mano-dharma). On his own he cannot chant the pure name of Kṛṣṇa — transcendental, of Vaikuṇṭha, beyond the senses (adhokṣaja), nondifferent from Śrī Kṛṣṇa — and so establish Kṛṣṇa's manifestation in the world. Nor can he cleanse the mirror of the hearts of bound jīvas, extinguish the great forest fire of worldly existence, and spread the moonlight that makes the white lotus of the highest good bloom. The ācārya who is devoted solely to chanting the pure name is a manifest form (prakāśa-vigraha) nondifferent from Kṛṣṇa, a direct incarnation of Kṛṣṇa's potency, one whom Kṛṣṇa embraces. He is the guru of people of all four varṇas and āśramas, a mahā-bhāgavata, a paramahaṁsa Ṭhākura.

*Because the Lord establishes the chanting of Kṛṣṇa's name, Vallabha knows that He possesses the svarūpa-śakti —*

তাহা প্রবর্ত্তাইলা তুমি, — এই ত 'প্রমাণ' । কৃষ্ণশক্তি ধর তুমি, — ইথে নাহি আন ॥ ১২ ॥

tāhā pravartāilā tumi, — ei ta 'pramāṇa'
that have propagated You this indeed 'the proof'
kṛṣṇa-śakti dhara tumi, — ithe nāhi āna
Kṛṣṇa's power bear You in this there is not otherwise 12 You have propagated it — that is the proof. You bear Kṛṣṇa's power; of this there is no doubt.

Whoever sees Gaura, who gives Kṛṣṇa's name to those inclined to serve, awakens to love for Kṛṣṇa —

জগতে করিলা তুমি কৃষ্ণনাম প্রকাশে । যেই তোমা দেখে, সেই কৃষ্ণপ্রেমে ভাসে ॥ ১৩ ॥

jagate karilā tumi kṛṣṇa-nāma prakāśe
in the world have made You Kṛṣṇa's name manifest
yei tomā dekhe, sei kṛṣṇa-preme bhāse
whoever You sees he in love for Kṛṣṇa floats

13 You have made Kṛṣṇa's name manifest in the world. Whoever sees You floats in love for Kṛṣṇa.

*Only Kṛṣṇa, by the power of His svarūpa-śakti, can manifest love for Kṛṣṇa —*

প্রেম-পরকাশ নহে কৃষ্ণশক্তি বিনে ।
'কৃষ্ণ' — এক প্রেমদাতা, শাস্ত্র-প্রমাণে ॥ ১৪ ॥

prema-parakāśa nahe kṛṣṇa-śakti vine of prema the manifestation is not Kṛṣṇa's power without
'kṛṣṇa' — eka prema-dātā, śāstra-pramāṇe
'Kṛṣṇa' the one giver of prema by the evidence of scripture

14 Without Kṛṣṇa's power prema is not manifested. Kṛṣṇa alone is the giver of prema — so the scriptures testify.

*(Laghu-bhāgavatāmṛta, verse 303; the words of Bilvamaṅgala)*

সন্ত্ববতারা বহবঃ পঙ্কজনাভস্য সর্ব্বতোভদ্রাঃ । কৃষ্ণাদন্যঃ কো বা লতাস্বপি প্রেমদো ভবতি ॥ ১৫ ॥

santv avatārā bahavaḥ
let there be avatāras many paṅkaja-nābhasya sarvatobhadrāḥ of the lotus-naveled One in every way auspicious
kṛṣṇād anyaḥ ko vā latāsv
than Kṛṣṇa other who indeed to the creepers
api prema-do bhavati
even love the giver becomes

15 'Let there be many all-auspicious avatāras of the Lord whose navel is a lotus; but who other than Kṛṣṇa gives prema even to the creepers?'" (Laghu-bhāgavatāmṛta, 1.5.37)[2]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 3.27.

Bhagavān's humility and His pretense —

মহাপ্রভু কহে — শুন, ভট্ট মহামতি ।
মায়াবাদী সন্ন্যাসী আমি, না জানি কৃষ্ণভক্তি ॥ ১৬ ॥

mahāprabhu kahe — śuna, bhaṭṭa mahā-mati Mahāprabhu says listen Bhaṭṭa great-minded
māyāvādī sannyāsī āmi, nā jāni kṛṣṇa-bhakti
a Māyāvādī sannyāsī I not know devotion to Kṛṣṇa

16 Mahāprabhu said, "Listen, wise Bhaṭṭa. I am a Māyāvādī sannyāsī; I do not know devotion to Kṛṣṇa.

Bhagavān describes the qualities of His devotees: (1) the qualities of Advaitācārya, Mahā-Viṣṇu —

অদ্বৈতাচার্য্য-গোসাঞি — 'সাক্ষাৎ ঈশ্বর' । তাঁর সঙ্গে আমার মন হইল নির্ম্মল ॥ ১৭ ॥

advaitācārya-gosāñi — 'sākṣāt īśvara' Advaitācārya Gosāñi 'Īśvara Himself'
tāṁra saṅge āmāra mana haila nirmala
His in the company My mind became pure

17 Advaitācārya Gosāñi is Īśvara Himself, and in His company My mind became pure.

*The name "the peerless teacher of the scriptures of bhakti" befits Him —*

সর্ব্বশাস্ত্রে কৃষ্ণভক্ত্যে নাহি যাঁর সম । অতএব 'অদ্বৈত-আচার্য্য' তাঁর নাম ॥ ১৮ ॥

sarva-śāstre kṛṣṇa-bhaktye nāhi yāṁra sama
in all the scriptures in devotion to Kṛṣṇa there is not whose equal ataeva 'advaita-ācārya' tāṁra nāma
therefore 'Advaita Ācārya' His name

18 In all the scriptures and in devotion to Kṛṣṇa He has no equal; therefore His name is Advaita Ācārya, the peerless teacher.

Though Mahā-Viṣṇu Himself, the Ācārya is supremely merciful and the supreme Vaiṣṇava —

যাঁহার কৃপাতে ম্লেচ্ছের হয় কৃষ্ণভক্তি । কে কহিতে পারে তাঁর বৈষ্ণবতা-শক্তি ? ॥ ১৯ ॥

yāṁhāra kṛpāte mlecchera haya kṛṣṇa-bhakti
by whose mercy of mlecchas arises devotion to Kṛṣṇa
ke kahite pāre tāṁra vaiṣṇavatā-śakti?
who to tell can His of Vaiṣṇava nature the power

19 By His mercy even mlecchas gain devotion to Kṛṣṇa. Who can describe the power of His Vaiṣṇava nature?

*(2) The qualities of Nityānanda: though a svarūpa-prakāśa of Kṛṣṇa, He is an ocean of love for Kṛṣṇa, a servant in form —*

নিত্যানন্দ-অবধূত — 'সাক্ষাৎ ঈশ্বর' । ভাবোন্মাদে মত্ত কৃষ্ণপ্রেমের সাগর ॥ ২০ ॥

nityānanda-avadhūta — 'sākṣāt īśvara' Nityānanda Avadhūta 'Īśvara Himself' bhāvonmāde matta kṛṣṇa-premera sāgara
by the madness of bhāva intoxicated of love for Kṛṣṇa the ocean

20 Nityānanda Avadhūta is Īśvara Himself. Intoxicated with the madness of ecstatic emotion (bhāva), He is an ocean of love for Kṛṣṇa.

(3) The qualities of Vāsudeva Sārvabhauma —

ষড়্দর্শন-বেত্তা ভট্টাচার্য্য-সার্ব্বভৌম । ষড়্দর্শনে জগদ্গুরু ভাগবতোত্তম ॥ ২১ ॥

ṣaḍdarśana-vettā bhaṭṭācārya-sārvabhauma
of the six darśanas the knower Bhaṭṭācārya Sārvabhauma
ṣaḍdarśane jagadguru bhāgavatottama
in the six darśanas the world's guru the best of bhāgavatas

21 Sārvabhauma Bhaṭṭācārya knows the six systems of philosophy (darśanas). In these six systems he is the guru of the world, and he is the best of bhāgavatas.

তেঁহ দেখাইলা মোরে ভক্তিযোগ-পার ।
তাঁর প্রসাদে জানিলুঁ 'কৃষ্ণভক্তিযোগ' সার ॥ ২২ ॥

teṁha dekhāilā more bhakti-yoga-pāra
he showed Me of bhakti-yoga the farthest limit
tāṁra prasāde jāniluṁ 'kṛṣṇa-bhakti-yoga' sāra
by his grace I came to know 'Kṛṣṇa-bhakti-yoga' the essence

22 He showed Me the farthest limit of bhakti-yoga; by his grace I came to know that the yoga of devotion to Kṛṣṇa is the essence.

*(4) The qualities of Śrī Rāma Rāya: the crown jewel on the heads of the kings of rasikas, and (a) the knower of the truth of sambandha —*

রামানন্দ রায় — কৃষ্ণ-রসের 'নিধান' ৷ তেঁহ জানাইলা, কৃষ্ণ — স্বয়ং ভগবান্ ॥ ২৩ ॥

rāmānanda rāya — kṛṣṇa-rasera 'nidhāna' Rāmānanda Rāya of the rasa of Kṛṣṇa 'the treasury'
teṁha jānāilā, kṛṣṇa — svayaṁ bhagavān
he made known Kṛṣṇa Bhagavān Himself

23 Rāmānanda Rāya is a treasury of the rasa of Kṛṣṇa. He made Me understand that Kṛṣṇa is Bhagavān Himself.

*(b) The knower of the truth of prayojana; (c) the knower of the truth of abhidheya —*

তাতে প্রেমভক্তি — 'পুরুষার্থ-শিরোমণি' ৷ রাগমার্গে প্রেমভক্তি 'সর্ব্বাধিক' জানি ॥ ২৪ ॥

tāte prema-bhakti — 'puruṣārtha-śiromaṇi'
through that prema-bhakti 'the crown jewel of the goals of life'
rāga-mārge prema-bhakti 'sarvādhika' jāni
on the path of rāga prema-bhakti 'the highest of all' I know

24 Through him I came to know that prema-bhakti is the crown jewel of the goals of life (puruṣārthas), and that prema-bhakti on the path of spontaneous attraction (rāga) is the highest of all.

Anubhāṣya.
The goals of human life (puruṣārthas) are four: dharma, artha, kāma and mokṣa. Prema-bhakti is higher than these four — it is the supreme goal (parama-puruṣārtha), the crown jewel of the puruṣārthas. Devotion, or service, on the path of rāgānugā is higher than the worship of Kṛṣṇa on the path of rules (vidhi).

*(d) The knower of the truth of rasa; madhura-rasa is the best of all, because in it love for Kṛṣṇa is greatest —*

দাস্য, সখ্য, বাৎসল্য, আর যে শৃঙ্গার ৷ দাস, সখা, গুরু, কান্তা, — 'আশ্রয়' যাহার ॥ ২৫ ॥

dāsya, sakhya, vātsalya, āra ye śṛṅgāra servitude, friendship, parental love, and which the love of the beloved dāsa, sakhā, guru, kāntā, — 'āśraya' yāhāra servant, friend, elder, beloved 'the shelter' of which

25 Servitude, friendship, parental love and the love of the beloved (śṛṅgāra) — of these the servant, the friend, the elder and the beloved are the shelter (āśraya).

*In madhura-rasa there are two kinds of disposition (vṛtti): (a) in the cities, one "mixed with majesty"; (b) in Vraja, one that is kevala, pure. Yaśodā's son is attained only by the pure disposition of parakīyā found in Vraja, not by the svakīyā disposition "mixed with majesty" —*

'ঐশ্বর্য্যজ্ঞানযুক্ত', 'কেবল'-ভাব আর ৷ ঐশ্বর্য্য-জ্ঞানে না পাই ব্রজেন্দ্রকুমার ॥ ২৬ ॥

'aiśvarya-jñāna-yukta', 'kevala'-bhāva āra
'joined with knowledge of majesty' 'pure' bhāva and aiśvarya-jñāne nā pāi vrajendra-kumāra
by knowledge of majesty not one attains the son of the king of Vraja

26 There is bhāva joined with the knowledge of majesty, and there is pure (kevala) bhāva. By the knowledge of majesty one does not attain the son of the king of Vraja.

Anubhāṣya.

Bhāva is of two kinds: “joined with the knowledge of majesty” and kevala, “pure.” In bhāva joined with the knowledge of majesty one cannot know the supreme glory of Vrajendranandana. See Madhya 19.192.

*(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.9.21[20])*

নায়ং সুখাপো ভগবান্ দেহিনাং গোপিকাসুতঃ । জ্ঞানিনাঞ্চাত্মভূতানাং যথা ভক্তিমতামিহ ॥ ২৭ ॥

nāyaṁ sukhāpo bhagavān
not this easily attained Bhagavān
dehināṁ gopikā-sutaḥ
for the embodied of the gopī the son
jñānināṁ cātma-bhūtānāṁ
for the jñānīs and for those who realized the self yathā bhaktimatām iha
as for those who have devotion here

27 ‘This Bhagavān, the son of the gopī, is not so easily attained by the embodied, nor by the jñānīs, nor by those who have realized the self, as He is by those who have devotion.’ (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.9.21)[3]

Anubhāṣya.

See Madhya 8.226.

*The meaning of a word in the verse; Lakṣmī has no right to enter the rāsa dance —*

‘আত্মভূত’-শব্দে কহে ‘পারিষদগণ’ ।
ঐশ্বর্য্য-জ্ঞানে লক্ষ্মী না পাইলা ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন ॥ ২৮ ॥

‘ātma-bhūta’-śabde kahe ‘pāriṣada-gaṇa’
‘ātma-bhūta’ by the word means ‘the associates’
aiśvarya-jñāne lakṣmī nā pāilā vrajendra-nandana
in knowledge of majesty Lakṣmī not attained the son of the king of Vraja

28 The word ātma-bhūta means His associates. Because of her knowledge of His majesty, Lakṣmī did not attain the son of the king of Vraja.

Anubhāṣya.

Lakṣmī is full of the knowledge of majesty, and so she did not attain service to Vrajendrakumāra. Lakṣmīdevī and the associates called ātma-bhūta are potencies nondifferent from Kṛṣṇa. Yet Lakṣmīdevī is full of the mood of majesty, and so she did not attain the right to serve Vrajendranandana in madhura-rasa.

*Evidence from scripture — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.47.60)*

নায়ং শ্রিয়োঽঙ্গ উ নিতান্তরতেঃ প্রসাদঃ
স্বর্যোষিতাং নলিনগন্ধরুচাং কুতোঽন্যাঃ ।
রাসোৎসবেঽস্য ভুজদণ্ডগৃহীতকণ্ঠ-লব্ধাশিষাং য উদগাদ্ব্রজসুন্দরীণাম্ ॥ ২৯ ॥

nāyaṁ śriyo 'ṅga u nitānta-rateḥ prasādaḥ not this of Śrī on the chest indeed wholly attached favour svar-yoṣitāṁ nalina-gandha-rucāṁ kuto 'nyāḥ of the celestial women of lotuses the fragrance having the lustre how then others rāsotsave 'sya bhuja-daṇḍa-gṛhīta-kaṇṭhaat the festival of rāsa His by the arms embraced around the neck labdhāśiṣāṁ ya udagād vraja-sundarīṇām who obtained their desire which arose of Vraja the beautiful women

29 'At the festival of the rāsa dance He embraced the beautiful women of Vraja around their necks with His arms, and they attained their heart's desire. Such favour was not granted even to Śrī, who is wholly devoted to Him, nor to the celestial women, fragrant and radiant like lotuses — what then of others?' (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.47.60)[4]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 8.80.

*The friendship (sakhya) and parental love (vātsalya) of the residents of Vraja are kevala, pure, rāgātmikā bhakti —*

শুদ্ধভাবে সখা করে স্কন্ধে আরোহণ । শুদ্ধভাবে ব্রজেশ্বরী করেন বন্ধন ॥ ৩০ ॥

śuddha-bhāve sakhā kare skandhe ārohaṇa
in pure bhāva the friend does on the shoulders climbing śuddha-bhāve vrajeśvarī karena bandhana
in pure bhāva the queen of Vraja does binding

30 In pure bhāva His friend climbs on His shoulders, and in pure bhāva the queen of Vraja binds Him.

Anubhāṣya.
"In a pure mood": not enchanted or constrained by the knowledge of majesty, but ruled by unmixed, pure (kevala) rati.

'মোর সখা', 'মোর পুত্র', — এই 'শুদ্ধ' মন । অতএব শুক-ব্যাস করে প্রশংসন ॥ ৩১ ॥

'mora sakhā', 'mora putra', — ei 'śuddha' mana
'my friend', 'my son' this 'pure' mind ataeva śuka-vyāsa kare praśaṁsana
therefore Śuka and Vyāsa do praise

31 'My friend,' 'my son' — such is the pure mind. Therefore Śuka and Vyāsa praise it.

*Evidence from scripture — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.12.11[21])*

ইত্থং সতাং ব্রহ্মসুখানুভূত্যা দাস্যং গতানাং পরদৈবতেন ।
মায়াশ্রিতানাং নরদারকেণ সার্দ্ধং বিজহ্রুঃ কৃতপুণ্যপুঞ্জাঃ ॥ ৩২ ॥

itthaṁ satāṁ brahma-sukhānubhūtyā
thus for the sages the experience of the bliss of Brahman
dāsyaṁ gatānāṁ para-daivatena servitude for those who have attained the Supreme Deity māyāśritānāṁ nara-dārakeṇa
for those under māyā a human boy
sārdhaṁ vijahruḥ kṛta-puṇya-puñjāḥ
with (Him) played who had amassed of pious deeds heaps

32 'Thus the cowherd boys, who had amassed heaps of pious deeds, played with Him who is to the sages the experience of Brahman's bliss, to those who have taken up His service the Supreme Deity, and to those under the spell of māyā a human child.' (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.12.11)[5]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 8.75.

*(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.8.45–46)*

ত্রয়্যা চোপনিষদ্ভিশ্চ সাংখ্যযোগৈশ্চ সাত্বতৈঃ । উপগীয়মানমাহাত্ম্যং হরিং সাঽমন্যতাত্মজম্ ॥ ৩৩ ॥

trayyā copaniṣadbhiś ca
by the three Vedas and by the Upaniṣads and sāṁkhya-yogaiś ca sātvataiḥ
by Sāṅkhya and yoga and by the Sātvatas upagīyamāna-māhātmyaṁ whose glory is sung
hariṁ sā 'manyatātmajam
Hari she considered her son

33 'She looked upon Hari, whose glory is sung by the three Vedas, the Upaniṣads, the works on Sāṅkhya and yoga and the Sātvata scriptures, as her own son.' (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.8.45)[6]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 19.204.

নন্দঃ কিমকরোদ্ব্রহ্মন্ শ্রেয় এবং মহোদয়ম্ । যশোদা বা মহাভাগা পপৌ যস্যাঃ স্তনং হরিঃ ॥ ৩৪ ॥

nandaḥ kim akarod brahman Nanda what did O brāhmaṇa
śreya evaṁ mahodayam
good deed such great fruit (bearing) yaśodā vā mahā-bhāgā Yaśodā or most fortunate
papau yasyāḥ stanaṁ hariḥ drank whose breast Hari

34 'O brāhmaṇa, what good deed did Nanda perform to win such great fortune? And what did the most fortunate Yaśodā do, that Hari Himself drank from her breast?' (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.8.46)[7]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 8.77.

*In the pure (kevala) bhāva of Vraja there is no knowledge of majesty; therefore pure bhāva is the best of all —*

ঐশ্বর্য্য দেখিলেহ ‘শুদ্ধের’ ঐশ্বর্য্য নহে জ্ঞান । অতএব ঐশ্বর্য্য হইতে ‘কেবল’-ভাব প্রধান ॥ ৩৫ ॥

aiśvarya dekhileha ‘śuddhera’ aiśvarya nahe jñāna majesty even on seeing ‘the pure one’s’ of majesty is not awareness ataeva aiśvarya haite ‘kevala’-bhāva pradhāna
therefore than majesty ‘pure’ bhāva superior

35 Even when he sees Kṛṣṇa’s majesty, one whose bhāva is pure has no awareness of it. Therefore pure bhāva is superior to the mood of majesty.

*The Lord proclaims Rāya as His śikṣā-guru —*

এ সব শিখাইলা মোরে রায়-রামানন্দ । সে-সব শুনিতে হয় পরম আনন্দ ॥ ৩৬ ॥

e saba śikhāilā more rāya-rāmānanda
these all taught Me Rāya Rāmānanda se-saba śunite haya parama ānanda
those all to hear is supreme bliss

36 All this Rāya Rāmānanda taught Me, and to hear it is supreme bliss.

Anubhāṣya.
At this point some manuscripts read: anargala rasa-vettā prema-sukhānanda (“the boundless knower of rasa, [full of] the bliss of prema's joy”).

Rāmānanda's greatness —

কহন না যায় রামানন্দের প্রভাব । রায়-প্রসাদে জানিলুঁ ব্রজের ‘শুদ্ধ’ ভাব ॥ ৩৭ ॥

kahana nā yāya rāmānandera prabhāva
to tell not is possible Rāmānanda’s power
rāya-prasāde jānilum̐ vrajera ‘śuddha’ bhāva
by Rāya’s grace I came to know of Vraja the ‘pure’ bhāva

37 Rāmānanda’s power cannot be described. By Rāya’s grace I came to know the pure bhāva of Vraja.

*(5) The qualities of Svarūpa Dāmodara: he is the embodiment of the rasa of prema and the knower of the truth and glory of the gopīs, that is, the ācārya of the truth of the rasa of Vraja's sweetness —*

দামোদর-স্বরূপ — ‘প্রেমরস’ মূর্ত্তিমান্ । য়াঁর সঙ্গে হৈল ব্রজ-মধুর-রস-জ্ঞান ॥ ৩৮ ॥

dāmodara-svarūpa — ‘prema-rasa’ mūrtimān Dāmodara Svarūpa ‘the rasa of prema’ embodied yām̐ra saṅge haila vraja-madhura-rasa-jñāna whose in the company arose of the madhura-rasa of Vraja the knowledge

38 Dāmodara Svarūpa is the rasa of prema embodied. In his company I came to know the sweet rasa (madhura-rasa) of Vraja.

The glory of the gopīs, who please Kṛṣṇa's senses —

‘শুদ্ধপ্রেম’ ব্রজদেবীর — কামগন্ধহীন ।
‘কৃষ্ণসুখতাৎপর্য্য’, — এই তার চিহ্ন ॥ ৩৯ ॥

‘śuddha-prema’ vraja-devīra — kāma-gandha-hīna
‘pure prema’ of the goddesses of Vraja of lust the scent without ‘kṛṣṇa-sukha-tātparya’, — ei tāra cihna
‘Kṛṣṇa’s happiness as the aim’ this its sign

39 The pure prema of the goddesses of Vraja is without even a trace of lust (kāma). Its sign is this: its only aim is Kṛṣṇa’s happiness.

*Evidence from scripture — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.31.19)*

যত্তে সুজাতচরণাম্বুরুহং স্তনেষু
ভীতাঃ শনৈঃ প্রিয় দধীমহি কর্কশেষু ।
তেনাটবীমটসি তদ্ব্যথতে ন কিং স্বিৎ কূর্পাদিভির্ভ্রমতি ধীর্ভবদায়ুষাং নঃ ॥ ৪০ ॥

yat te sujāta-caraṇāmburuhaṁ staneṣu
which Your tender lotus feet on the breasts
bhītāḥ śanaiḥ priya dadhīmahi karkaśeṣu fearful gently O dear we place hard tenāṭavīm aṭasi tad vyathate na kiṁ svit with them the forest You wander they are pained not whether kūrpādibhir bhramati dhīr bhavad-āyuṣāṁ naḥ
by fine stones and such whirls the mind of whom You are the life our 40 ‘O dear one, Your tender lotus feet we place gently on our hard breasts, afraid to hurt them — and with those feet You wander through the forest! Are they not hurt by the sharp pebbles? You are our very life, and our minds are reeling.’ (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.31.19)[8]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 4.173.

*(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.31.16)*

পতিসুতান্বয়ভ্রাতৃবান্ধবা- নতিবিলঙ্ঘ্য তেঽন্ত্যচ্যুতাগতাঃ ।
গতিবিদস্তবোদ্গীতমোহিতাঃ কিতব যোষিতঃ কস্ত্যজেন্নিশি ॥ ৪১ ॥

pati-sutānvaya-bhrātṛ-bāndhavān
husbands, sons, kin, brothers and relatives ativilaṅghya te ’nty acyutāgatāḥ wholly disregarding Your to the side O Acyuta come gati-vidas tavodgīta-mohitāḥ
knowing our purpose by Your song enchanted
kitava yoṣitaḥ kas tyajen niśi
O cheat women who would abandon at night

41 ‘Disregarding husbands, sons, kin, brothers and relatives, we have come to Your side, O Acyuta, enchanted by Your song. You know why we have come. O cheat, who would abandon women at night?’ (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.31.16)[9]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 19.210. Another reading has: “The pure love of the gopīs is free from the knowledge of majesty. In their love they scold [Kṛṣṇa] — this is its sign.”

Kṛṣṇa is in debt to the love of the gopīs —

সর্ব্বোত্তম ভজন এই সর্ব্বভক্তি জিনি’ । অতএব কৃষ্ণ কহে, — ‘আমি তোমার ঋণী’ ॥ ৪২ ॥

sarvottama bhajana ei sarva-bhakti jini’
the highest worship this every form of bhakti surpassing ataeva kṛṣṇa kahe, — ‘āmi tomāra ṛṇī’
therefore Kṛṣṇa says ‘I your debtor’

42 This worship is the highest of all, surpassing every form of bhakti. Therefore Kṛṣṇa says, ‘I am your debtor.’

*(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.32.22)*

ন পারয়েঽহং নিরবদ্যসংয়ুজাং
স্বসাধুকৃত্যং বিবুধায়ুষাপি বঃ ।
যা মাঽভজন্ দুর্জ্জয়গেহশৃঙ্খলাঃ সংবৃশ্চ্য তদ্বঃ প্রতিয়াতু সাধুনা ॥ ৪৩ ॥

na pāraye ’haṁ niravadya-saṁyujāṁ not am able I of the faultlessly united sva-sādhu-kṛtyaṁ vibudhāyuṣāpi vaḥ own good deed in a god’s lifetime even to you yā mā ’bhajan durjaya-geha-śṛṅkhalāḥ who Me worshipped hard to conquer of home the fetters saṁvṛścya tad vaḥ pratiyātu sādhunā completely cutting that your let it be requited by the good deed

43 ‘O gopīs, your union with Me is faultless. Even in a lifetime of the gods I could not repay you for what you have done: you cut the fetters of home, so hard to break, and came to Me. So let your own good deed be your reward.’ (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.32.22)[10]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 4.180.

*The pure (kevala) bhāva of Vraja is supreme; Uddhava's prayer is the proof —*

ঐশ্বর্য্য-জ্ঞান হৈতে কেবলা-ভাব — প্রধান । পৃথিবীতে ভক্ত নাহি উদ্ধব-সমান ॥ ৪৪ ॥

aiśvarya-jñāna haite kevalā-bhāva — pradhāna
of majesty the knowledge than pure bhāva superior pṛthivīte bhakta nāhi uddhava-samāna
on earth devotee there is not Uddhava’s equal

44 Pure bhāva is superior to the knowledge of majesty. On earth there is no devotee equal to Uddhava,

তেঁহ যাঁর পদধূলি করেন প্রার্থন । স্বরূপের সঙ্গে পাইলুঁ এ সব শিক্ষণ ॥ ৪৫ ॥

teṁha yāṁra padadhūli karena prārthana
he whose the dust of the feet does pray for svarūpera saṅge pāiluṁ e saba śikṣaṇa
Svarūpa's in the company I received these all teachings

45 yet he prays for the dust of their feet. All this I learned in the company of Svarūpa.

Anubhāṣya.
Here another reading cites the verse (Bhāgavatam 10.47.61): "Ah! If only I could become any one of the bushes, creepers or herbs in Vṛndāvana that receive the dust of these gopīs' feet! They gave up their kinsmen, so hard to give up, and the path of the noble, and followed the path to Mukunda that the Śrutis seek."

Sent by Kṛṣṇa, Uddhava came to Vraja and stayed there for some months, delighting the residents of Vraja by chanting the topics of Kṛṣṇa. Yet he saw the anguish of the gopīs' hearts, wholly possessed by Kṛṣṇa and burning in separation from Him. He then recognized their deepest love for Kṛṣṇa, free from any knowledge of majesty, as the ideal, honored it greatly, and in this verse prays for eternal servitude to them:

yāḥ (the gopīs, in order to serve Kṛṣṇa) svajanam (their own people — husbands, sons and other relatives) dustyajam (hard to give up) ārya-patham (the path of the āryas, that is, their dharma, fidelity to a husband) ca hitvā (having given up) śrutibhiḥ (by the Vedas) vimṛgyām (to be sought, that is, worshipped) mukunda-padavīm (the path to Kṛṣṇa) bhejuḥ (followed) — aho (a celebration of their good fortune) vṛndāvane (in this Vraja) āsām (their) caraṇa-reṇu-juṣām (receiving the dust of their feet) gulma-latauṣadhīnām (among the bushes and the rest — whichever) kim api aham syām (may I become — this is a wish).

They left their kinsmen — husbands, sons and others, so hard to give up — and the path of the āryas, and worshipped the lotus feet of Mukunda, whom the Vedas seek. The bushes, creepers and herbs here in Vṛndāvana serve the dust of those gopīs' feet. Ah, if only I (by great good fortune) could become even one of them!

*(6) The qualities of Ṭhākura Haridāsa, the ācārya and mahā-bhāgavata —*

হরিদাস-ঠাকুর — মহাভাগবত-প্রধান । প্রতি দিন লয় তেঁহ তিনলক্ষ নাম ॥ ৪৬ ॥

haridāsa-ṭhākura — mahā-bhāgavata-pradhāna Haridāsa Ṭhākura of the great bhāgavatas the foremost prati dina laya teṁha tina-lakṣa nāma
every day takes he three lakhs names

46 Haridāsa Ṭhākura is the foremost of the great bhāgavatas. Every day he chants three lakhs (three hundred thousand) of names.

নামের মহিমা আমি তাঁর ঠাঞি শিখিলুঁ । তাঁর প্রসাদে নামের মহিমা জানিলুঁ ॥ ৪৭ ॥

nāmera mahimā āmi tāṁra ṭhāñi śikhiluṁ
of the name the glory I from him learned tāṁra prasāde nāmera mahimā jāniluṁ
by his grace of the name the glory I came to know

47 From him I learned the glory of the holy name; by his grace that glory was revealed to Me.

*Other devotees of Gaura who preach the name and prema —*

আচার্য্যরত্ন, আচার্য্যনিধি, পণ্ডিত-গদাধর । জগদানন্দ, দামোদর, শঙ্কর, বক্রেশ্বর ॥ ৪৮ ॥

ācāryaratna, ācāryanidhi, paṇḍita-gadādhara
Ācāryaratna, Ācāryanidhi, Paṇḍita Gadādhara
jagadānanda, dāmodara, śaṅkara, vakreśvara
Jagadānanda, Dāmodara, Śaṅkara, Vakreśvara

48 Ācāryaratna, Ācāryanidhi, Gadādhara Paṇḍita, Jagadānanda, Dāmodara, Śaṅkara, Vakreśvara, কাশীশ্বর, মুকুন্দ, বাসুদেব, মুরারি । আর যত ভক্তগণ গৌড়ে অবতরি' ॥ ৪৯ ॥

kāśīśvara, mukunda, vāsudeva, murāri
Kāśīśvara, Mukunda, Vāsudeva, Murāri
āra yata bhakta-gaṇa gauḍe avatari'
and all the devotees in Gauḍa having descended

49 Kāśīśvara, Mukunda, Vāsudeva, Murāri and all the other devotees who descended in Gauḍa

*Only in the company of a sādhu who both practices pure bhakti and preaches it does a jīva attain devotion to Kṛṣṇa —*

কৃষ্ণ-নাম-প্রেম কৈলা জগতে প্রচার । ইঁহা সবার সঙ্গে কৃষ্ণভক্তি যে আমার ॥ ৫০ ॥

kṛṣṇa-nāma-prema kailā jagate pracāra
of Kṛṣṇa's name and prema made in the world preaching
iṁhā sabāra saṅge kṛṣṇa-bhakti ye āmāra of these all in the company devotion to Kṛṣṇa which My

50 have preached the name of Kṛṣṇa and prema throughout the world, and whatever devotion to Kṛṣṇa I have, I have gained in their company."

To remove Vallabha's pride, the Lord describes the qualities of devotees far more qualified than he —

ভট্টের হৃদয়ে দৃঢ় অভিমান জানি' । ভঙ্গী করি' মহাপ্রভু কহে এত বাণী ॥ ৫১ ॥

bhaṭṭera hṛdaye dṛḍha abhimāna jāni'
in the Bhaṭṭa's heart firm pride knowing bhaṅgī kari' mahāprabhu kahe eta vāṇī
a hint making Mahāprabhu spoke these words

51 Mahāprabhu knew how firmly pride was rooted in the Bhaṭṭa's heart, and so He spoke all this by way of a hint.

*Vallabha judges the Adhokṣaja with knowledge born of the senses and is driven by worldly egotism; rejecting the guidance of the bhāgavatas, he writes a commentary on the Bhāgavatam —*

আমি সে 'বৈষ্ণব', — ভক্তিসিদ্ধান্ত সব জানি । আমি সে ভাগবত-অর্থ উত্তম বাখানি ॥ ৫২ ॥

āmi se 'vaiṣṇava', — bhakti-siddhānta saba jāni
I indeed 'a Vaiṣṇava' of bhakti the conclusions all I know
āmi se bhāgavata-artha uttama vākhāni
I indeed of the Bhāgavata the meaning excellently explain

52 'I am a Vaiṣṇava,' the Bhaṭṭa thought. 'I know all the conclusions of bhakti, and no one explains the meaning of the Bhāgavata better than I.'

By the Lord's mercy Vallabha's pride is crushed —

ভট্টের মনেতে এই ছিল দীর্ঘ গর্ব্ব । প্রভুর বচন শুনি' সে হইল খর্ব্ব ॥ ৫৩ ॥

bhaṭṭera manete ei chila dīrgha garva
the Bhaṭṭa's in the mind this was long-standing pride prabhura vacana śuni' se haila kharva
the Lord's words hearing that became humbled

53 Such was the pride that had long lived in his mind, but the Lord's words humbled it.

Anubhāṣya.
"Long-standing pride": a well-nourished, towering self-conceit.

The wish to see the Vaiṣṇavas, Gaura's devotees, of whom he had heard from the Lord's lips —

প্রভুর মুখে বৈষ্ণবতা শুনিয়া সবার । ভট্টের ইচ্ছা হৈল তাঁ-সবারে দেখিবার ॥ ৫৪ ॥

prabhura mukhe vaiṣṇavatā śuniyā sabāra
the Lord's from the mouth the Vaiṣṇava qualities hearing of all bhaṭṭera icchā haila tāṁ-sabāre dekhibāra
the Bhaṭṭa's desire arose them all to see

54 Hearing from the Lord's own mouth about the Vaiṣṇava qualities of all these devotees, the Bhaṭṭa wished to see them all.

ভট্ট কহে, — এ সব বৈষ্ণব রহে কোন্ স্থানে ?
কোন্প্রকারে পাইমু ইঁহা-সবার দর্শনে ? ॥ ৫৫ ॥

bhaṭṭa kahe, — e saba vaiṣṇava rahe kon sthāne?
the Bhaṭṭa says these all Vaiṣṇavas stay in what place
kon prakāre pāimu iṁhā-sabāra darśane?
in what way shall I obtain of these all the sight

55 The Bhaṭṭa said, "Where do all these Vaiṣṇavas live? How can I see them?"

The Lord tells where they are staying —

প্রভু কহে, — কেহ গৌড়ে, কেহ দেশান্তরে । সব আসিয়াছে রথযাত্রা দেখিবারে ॥ ৫৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — keha gauḍe, keha deśāntare
the Lord says some in Gauḍa some in other lands
saba āsiyāche ratha-yātrā dekhibāre
all have come the Ratha-yātrā to see

56 The Lord said, "Some live in Gauḍa, some in other lands, but all have come to see the Ratha-yātrā.

The Lord reassures the Bhaṭṭa, telling him to wait to meet the devotees —

ইঁহাই রহেন সবে, বাসা — নানা-স্থানে । ইঁহাই পাইবা তুমি সবার দর্শনে ॥ ৫৭ ॥

iṁhāi rahena sabe, vāsā — nānā-sthāne
here stay all lodgings in various places
iṁhāi pāibā tumi sabāra darśane
here will obtain you of all the sight

57 They are all staying here, in lodgings in various places. Here you will be able to see them all.”

The Bhaṭṭa invites the Lord —

তবে ভট্ট কহে বহু বিনয় বচন । বহু যত্ন করি’ প্রভুরে কৈল নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ৫৮ ॥

tabe bhaṭṭa kahe bahu vinaya vacana
then the Bhaṭṭa spoke many humble words
bahu yatna kari’ prabhure kaila nimantraṇa
great effort making the Lord made an invitation

58 Then the Bhaṭṭa spoke many humble words and earnestly invited the Lord to a meal.[11]

The devotees come to the Lord and meet the Bhaṭṭa —

আর দিন সব বৈষ্ণব প্রভু-স্থানে আইলা । সবা-সনে মহাপ্রভু ভট্টে মিলাইলা ॥ ৫৯ ॥

āra dina saba vaiṣṇava prabhu-sthāne āilā
the next day all Vaiṣṇavas to the Lord’s place came sabā-sane mahāprabhu bhaṭṭe milāilā
with all of them Mahāprabhu the Bhaṭṭa made meet

59 The next day all the Vaiṣṇavas came to the Lord, and Mahāprabhu introduced the Bhaṭṭa to them all.

Beside Gaura's devotees, Vallabha Bhaṭṭa is like a dim firefly before the blazing sun —

‘বৈষ্ণবে’র তেজ দেখি’ ভট্টের চমৎকার ।
তাঁ-সবার আগে ভট্ট — খদ্যোত-আকার ॥ ৬০ ॥

‘vaiṣṇave’ra teja dekhi’ bhaṭṭera camatkāra of the Vaiṣṇavas the radiance seeing the Bhaṭṭa’s amazement
tāṁ-sabāra āge bhaṭṭa — khadyota-ākāra
them all before the Bhaṭṭa a firefly’s form

60 Seeing the radiance of the Vaiṣṇavas, the Bhaṭṭa was amazed: before them all he was like a firefly.

The Bhaṭṭa feeds the Lord and His associates —

তবে ভট্ট বহু মহাপ্রসাদ আনাইল । গণ-সহ মহাপ্রভুরে ভোজন করাইল ॥ ৬১ ॥

tabe bhaṭṭa bahu mahā-prasāda ānāila
then the Bhaṭṭa much mahā-prasāda had brought gaṇa-saha mahāprabhure bhojana karāila with His associates Mahāprabhu a meal gave

61 Then the Bhaṭṭa had a great quantity of mahā-prasāda brought and fed Mahāprabhu and His associates.

*The devotee sannyāsīs sit in one row with Paramānanda Purī —*

পরমানন্দ-পুরী-সঙ্গে সন্ন্যাসীর গণ । একদিকে বৈসে সব করিতে ভোজন ॥ ৬২ ॥

paramānanda-purī-saṅge sannyāsīra gaṇa
with Paramānanda Purī of sannyāsīs the group
eka-dike vaise saba karite bhojana
on one side sit all to take the meal

62 The sannyāsīs, with Paramānanda Purī, all sat on one side to eat.

On either side of Mahāprabhu, the two Prabhus —

অদ্বৈত, নিত্যানন্দ-রায় — পার্শ্বে দুইজন । মধ্যে মহাপ্রভু বসিলা, আগে-পাছে ভক্তগণ ॥ ৬৩ ॥

advaita, nityānanda-rāya — pārśve dui-jana Advaita, Nityānanda Rāya at the sides the two madhye mahāprabhu vasilā, āge-pāche bhakta-gaṇa
in the middle Mahāprabhu sat in front and behind the devotees

63 Mahāprabhu sat in the middle, with Advaita and Nityānanda Rāya on either side, and the devotees in front and behind.

The devotees from Gauḍa sit in rows —

গৌড়ের ভক্ত যত কহিতে না পারি । অঙ্গনে বসিলা সব হঞা সারি-সারি ॥ ৬৪ ॥

gauḍera bhakta yata kahite nā pāri of Gauḍa the devotees how many to tell not I can aṅgane vasilā saba hañā sāri-sāri
in the courtyard sat all being in rows

64 I cannot tell how many devotees from Gauḍa there were; they all sat in rows in the courtyard.

Seeing Gaura's devotees, the Bhaṭṭa bows to them —

প্রভুর ভক্তগণ দেখি' ভট্টের চমৎকার । প্রত্যক্ষে সবার পদে কৈল নমস্কার ॥ ৬৫ ॥

prabhura bhakta-gaṇa dekhi' bhaṭṭera camatkāra
the Lord's devotees seeing the Bhaṭṭa's amazement
pratyakṣe sabāra pade kaila namaskāra
in (His) presence of all at the feet made obeisance

65 Seeing the Lord's devotees, the Bhaṭṭa was amazed, and in the Lord's presence he bowed at the feet of them all.[12]

Six of them serve the food —

স্বরূপ, জগদানন্দ, কাশীশ্বর, শঙ্কর । পরিবেশন করে, আর রাঘব, দামোদর ॥ ৬৬ ॥

svarūpa, jagadānanda, kāśīśvara, śaṅkara
Svarūpa, Jagadānanda, Kāśīśvara, Śaṅkara
pariveśana kare, āra rāghava, dāmodara
serving do and Rāghava, Dāmodara

66 Svarūpa, Jagadānanda, Kāśīśvara and Śaṅkara served the food, and so did Rāghava and Dāmodara.

*Vallabha Bhaṭṭa satisfies the Lord and the devotees with prasāda —*

মহাপ্রসাদ বল্লভ-ভট্ট বহু আনাইল । প্রভু-সহ সন্ন্যাসিগণ ভোজনে বসিল ॥ ৬৭ ॥

mahāprasāda vallabha-bhaṭṭa bahu ānāila mahā-prasāda Vallabha Bhaṭṭa much had brought prabhu-saha sannyāsi-gaṇa bhojane vasila
with the Lord the sannyāsīs to the meal sat

67 Vallabha Bhaṭṭa had brought a great deal of mahā-prasāda, and the sannyāsīs sat down with the Lord to eat.

All cry "Hari!" with one voice —

প্রসাদ পায় বৈষ্ণবগণ, বলে 'হরি' 'হরি' । হরিধ্বনি উঠিল সব ব্রহ্মাণ্ড ভরি' ॥ ৬৮ ॥ prasāda pāya vaiṣṇava-gaṇa, bale 'hari' 'hari' prasāda take the Vaiṣṇavas say 'Hari' 'Hari'

hari-dhvani uṭhila saba brahmāṇḍa bhari'
the sound of Hari rose the whole universe filling 68 The Vaiṣṇavas honoured the prasāda, saying "Hari! Hari!", and the sound of "Hari" rose and filled the whole universe.

After the rinsing of hands and mouth, the Bhaṭṭa honors everyone —

মালা, চন্দন, গুবাক, পান অনেক আনিল । সবা' পূজা করি' ভট্ট আনন্দিত হৈল ॥ ৬৯ ॥

mālā, candana, guvāka, pāna aneka ānila garlands, sandal paste, areca nuts, betel leaves plenty brought sabā' pūjā kari' bhaṭṭa ānandita haila
all honouring the Bhaṭṭa joyful became 69 The Bhaṭṭa brought plenty of garlands, sandal paste, areca nuts and betel leaves, and when he had honoured everyone with them, he was filled with joy.

*The kīrtana of the seven groups at the Ratha-yātrā —*

রথযাত্রা-দিনে প্রভু কীর্ত্তন আরম্ভিলা । পূর্ব্ববৎ সাত-সম্প্রদায় পৃথক্ করিলা ॥ ৭০ ॥

ratha-yātrā-dine prabhu kīrtana ārambhilā on the day of the Ratha-yātrā the Lord kīrtana began pūrvavat sāta-sampradāya pṛthak karilā
as before seven groups separate made

70 On the day of the Ratha-yātrā the Lord began the kīrtana. As before, He formed seven separate groups.

The seven lead singers of the seven groups —

অদ্বৈত, নিত্যানন্দ, হরিদাস, বক্রেশ্বর । শ্রীবাস, রাঘব, পণ্ডিত-গদাধর ॥ ৭১ ॥

advaita, nityānanda, haridāsa, vakreśvara
Advaita, Nityānanda, Haridāsa, Vakreśvara
śrīvāsa, rāghava, paṇḍita-gadādhara
Śrīvāsa, Rāghava, Paṇḍita Gadādhara

71 Advaita, Nityānanda, Haridāsa, Vakreśvara, Śrīvāsa, Rāghava and Gadādhara Paṇḍita —

*Like a whirling firebrand (alāta-cakra), the Lord moves from kīrtana to kīrtana —*

সাত জন সাত-ঠাঞি করেন কীর্ত্তন ।
'হরিবোল' বলি' প্রভু করেন ভ্রমণ ॥ ৭২ ॥

sāta jana sāta-ṭhāñi karena kīrtana
seven persons in seven places do kīrtana
'hari-bola' bali' prabhu karena bhramaṇa
'Hari bol' saying the Lord does wandering

72 these seven led the kīrtana in seven places, and the Lord moved from group to group, calling "Hari bol!"[13]

*Fourteen mṛdaṅgas —*

চৌদ্দ মাদল বাজে উচ্চ সঙ্কীর্ত্তন ।
এক এক নর্ত্তকের প্রেমে ভাসিল ভুবন ॥ ৭৩ ॥

caudda mādala bāje ucca saṅkīrtana fourteen mādalas sound loud saṅkīrtana
eka eka nartakera preme bhāsila bhuvana
of each each dancer in the prema floated the world

73 Fourteen mādalas (drums) sounded in the loud saṅkīrtana, and the world floated in the prema of each of the dancers.[14]

Vallabha's amazement and boundless joy —

দেখি' বল্লভ-ভট্টের হৈল চমৎকার । আনন্দে বিহ্বল নাহি আপন-সাম্ভাল ॥ ৭৪ ॥

dekhi' vallabha-bhaṭṭera haila camatkāra
seeing Vallabha Bhaṭṭa's was amazement
ānande vihvala nāhi āpana-sāmbhāla
in bliss overwhelmed not his own composure

74 Seeing this, Vallabha Bhaṭṭa was amazed. Overwhelmed with bliss, he lost all composure.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Sāmbhāla: self-control.

*When the dancing and kīrtana end, Vallabha is amazed to see the splendor of the Lord's prema —*

তবে মহাপ্রভু সবার নৃত্য রাখিল । প্রভুর চরিত্রে ভট্টের চমৎকার হৈল ॥ ৭৫ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu sabāra nṛtya rākhila
then Mahāprabhu of all the dancing stopped prabhura caritre bhaṭṭera camatkāra haila
the Lord's at the conduct the Bhaṭṭa's amazement was 75 Then Mahāprabhu stopped everyone's dancing, and the Bhaṭṭa was amazed at the Lord's conduct.

Vallabha's request to the Lord —

যাত্রান্তরে ভট্ট যাই' মহাপ্রভু-স্থানে । প্রভুর চরণে কিছু কৈল নিবেদনে ॥ ৭৬ ॥

yātrāntare bhaṭṭa yāi' mahāprabhu-sthāne
at another festival the Bhaṭṭa going to Mahāprabhu's place
prabhura caraṇe kichu kaila nivedane
the Lord's at the feet something made submission

76 At another festival the Bhaṭṭa went to Mahāprabhu and submitted a request at His feet:[15]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Yātrāntare: at another festival, on another day.

He asks the Lord to hear the commentary he has written —

ভাগবতের টীকা কিছু কৈরাছি লিখন । আপনে মহাপ্রভু যদি করেন শ্রবণ ॥ ৭৭ ॥

bhāgavatera ṭīkā kichu kairāchi likhana
on the Bhāgavata a commentary some I have done writing
āpane mahāprabhu yadi karena śravaṇa Yourself Mahāprabhu if do hearing

77 "I have written something of a commentary on the Bhāgavata. Would You, Mahāprabhu, hear it Yourself?"

*Regarding Himself as unqualified, the Lord speaks humbly and with pretense; without the aim of pleasing Kṛṣṇa and His own (kārṣṇa), the meaning of the Bhāgavatam cannot be grasped by worldly learning and erudition —*

প্রভু কহে, — ভাগবতার্থ বুঝিতে না পারি । ভাগবতার্থ শুনিতে আমি নহি অধিকারী ॥ ৭৮ ॥

prabhu kahe, — bhāgavatārtha bujhite nā pāri the Lord says the meaning of the Bhāgavata to understand not I can bhāgavatārtha śunite āmi nahi adhikārī
the meaning of the Bhāgavata to hear I am not qualified 78 The Lord said, "I cannot understand the meaning of the Bhāgavata. I am not qualified even to hear its meaning.

*Reading and hearing the Bhāgavatam bear fruit only when one chants the pure name of Kṛṣṇa tirelessly and constantly, with steadiness and taste; hearing, reading and the like, done to please the senses or to display worldly learning and erudition, are merely a waste of time —*

বসি' কৃষ্ণনাম মাত্র করিয়ে গ্রহণে । সংখ্যা-নাম পূর্ণ মোর নহে রাত্রি-দিনে ॥ ৭৯ ॥

vasi' kṛṣṇa-nāma mātra kariye grahaṇe sitting Kṛṣṇa's name only I do taking saṁkhyā-nāma pūrṇa mora nahe rātri-dine
the fixed number of names complete My is not night and day

79 I simply sit and chant Kṛṣṇa's name, and even so, night and day, I cannot complete My fixed number of names."

Vallabha Bhaṭṭa asks the Lord to hear his explanation of the name of Śrī Kṛṣṇa —

ভট্ট কহে, — কৃষ্ণনামের অর্থ-ব্যাখ্যানে । বিস্তার কৈরাছি, তাহা করহ শ্রবণে ॥ ৮০ ॥

bhaṭṭa kahe, — kṛṣṇa-nāmera artha-vyākhyāne
the Bhaṭṭa says of Kṛṣṇa's name in explaining the meaning vistāra kairāchi, tāhā karaha śravaṇe expansion I have made that do hearing

80 The Bhaṭṭa said, "I have explained the meaning of Kṛṣṇa's name at length. Please hear it."

*The name "Kṛṣṇa," which denotes (vācaka), and the form of Kṛṣṇa, Lord of Gokula, which it denotes (vācya), are nondifferent, and both display spiritual pastimes —*

প্রভু কহে, — কৃষ্ণনামের বহু অর্থ না মানি ।
'শ্যামসুন্দর' 'যশোদানন্দন', — এইমাত্র জানি ॥ ৮১ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kṛṣṇa-nāmera bahu artha nā māni
the Lord says of Kṛṣṇa's name many meanings not I accept
'śyāma-sundara' 'yaśodā-nandana', — ei-mātra jāni
'the dark beauty' 'the son of Yaśodā' this only I know

81 The Lord said, "I do not accept many meanings of Kṛṣṇa's name. I know only this: Śyāmasundara, the dark and beautiful One, and Yaśodā-nandana, the son of Yaśodā.

*The rūḍhi meaning of the name "Kṛṣṇa" — (a verse from Śrī Lakṣmīdhara's Nāma-kaumudī, quoted in the Kṛṣṇa-sandarbha)*

তমালশ্যামলত্বিষি শ্রীযশোদাস্তনন্ধয়ে ।
কৃষ্ণনাম্নো রূঢ়িরিতি সর্ব্বশাস্ত্র-বিনির্ণয়ঃ ॥ ৮২ ॥

tamāla-śyāmala-tviṣi
in Him whose luster is dark like the tamāla tree
śrī-yaśodā-stanan-dhaye
in the One who drinks at Śrī Yaśodā's breast
kṛṣṇa-nāmno rūḍhir iti
of the name 'Kṛṣṇa' the conventional meaning thus sarva-śāstra-vinirṇayaḥ
of all scriptures the conclusion

82 'The conventional meaning (rūḍhi) of the name "Kṛṣṇa" is He whose lustre is dark like a tamāla tree and who drinks at the breast of Śrī Yaśodā: this is the conclusion of all the scriptures.' (Nāma-kaumudī)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
To be dark like a tamāla tree and to suck at Yaśodā's breast — this is the rūḍhi, the primary meaning, present in the name "Kṛṣṇa," as all the scriptures conclude.

Anubhāṣya.
tamāla-śyāmala-tviṣi (in Him whose luster is dark like the tamāla tree) śrī-yaśodā-stanan-dhaye (in the infant who sucks at Śrī Yaśodā's breast) kṛṣṇa-nāmnaḥ (of the name "Kṛṣṇa") rūḍhiḥ (the principal, accepted meaning) iti sarva-śāstra-vinirṇayaḥ (the verdict of all scriptures, that is, the conclusion of all scriptures).

Rūḍhi is the power of a word to convey the meaning of the word as a whole, without depending on the meanings of root and suffix.

*Only the rūḍhi meaning is valid and acceptable; other meanings are not to be accepted —*

এই অর্থ আমি মাত্র জানিয়ে নির্দ্ধার । আর সর্ব্ব-অর্থে মোর নাহি অধিকার ॥ ৮৩ ॥

ei artha āmi mātra jāniye nirdhāra
this meaning I only know as settled
āra sarva-arthe mora nāhi adhikāra
other in all meanings My is not qualification

83 This meaning alone I know as settled; I have no qualification for any other meanings.”

*Explanations of Kṛṣṇa's name and of the Bhāgavatam, which is nondifferent from Kṛṣṇa, produced by worldly learning, intellect or talent for one's own pleasure, give Kṛṣṇa no pleasure; therefore the Lord rejects them with distaste —*

ফল্গুপ্রায় ভট্টের নামাদি সব-ব্যাখ্যা । সর্ব্বজ্ঞ প্রভু জানি’ তারে করেন উপেক্ষা ॥ ৮৪ ॥

phalguprāya bhaṭṭera nāmādi saba-vyākhyā
nearly worthless the Bhaṭṭa’s of the name and so on all the explanations sarvajña prabhu jāni’ tāre karena upekṣā
all-knowing the Lord knowing them does disregard

84 The Bhaṭṭa’s explanations of the name and the rest were all nearly worthless (phalgu). Knowing this, the all-knowing Lord disregarded them.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Phalgu-prāya: nearly worthless.

Anubhāṣya.
Other readings have phalgu valgu-prāya and phalgu valgana-prāya. Phalgu means worthless; valgana, or valgu, means verbal bombast.

The Bhaṭṭa leaves with a heavy heart; because his pride was humbled, his devotion to the Lord weakens —

বিমনা হঞা ভট্ট গেলা নিজ-ঘর । প্রভু-বিষয়ে ভক্তি কিছু হইল অন্তর ॥ ৮৫ ॥

vimanā haña bhaṭṭa gelā nija-ghara dejected becoming the Bhaṭṭa went to his own home
prabhu-viṣaye bhakti kichu haila antara toward the Lord devotion somewhat became removed 85 Dejected, the Bhaṭṭa went home, and his devotion to the Lord partly ebbed away.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The devotion he had for the Lord partly went away.

Anubhāṣya.
His deep devotion to Śrī Mahāprabhu's lotus feet diminished.

He begins to court Śrī Gadādhara's favor —

তবে ভট্ট গেলা পণ্ডিত-গোসাঞির ঠাঞি । নানা মতে প্রীতি করি’ করে আসা-যাই ॥ ৮৬ ॥

tabe bhaṭṭa gelā paṇḍita-gosāñira ṭhāñi
then the Bhaṭṭa went to Paṇḍita Gosāñi's place
nānā mate prīti kari' kare āsā-yāi
in various ways friendship showing makes coming and going

86 Then the Bhaṭṭa went to Paṇḍita Gosāñi. Showing friendship in many ways, he kept coming and going.[16]

Anubhāṣya.
Paṇḍita Gosāñi: Śrī Gadādhara Paṇḍita Gosvāmī.

Because the Lord disregarded the Bhaṭṭa's explanations, the devotees look on them with distaste —

প্রভুর উপেক্ষায় সব নীলাচলের জন । ভট্টের ব্যাখ্যান কিছু না করে শ্রবণ ॥ ৮৭ ॥

prabhura upekṣāya saba nīlācalera jana because of the Lord's disregard all of Nīlācala the people
bhaṭṭera vyākhyāna kichu nā kare śravaṇa
the Bhaṭṭa's explanations any not do hear

87 Because the Lord disregarded him, none of the people of Nīlācala would listen to the Bhaṭṭa's explanations.

The Bhaṭṭa's shame; he courts Gadādhara's favor —

লজ্জিত হৈল ভট্ট, হৈল অপমানে । দুঃখিত হঞা গেল পণ্ডিতের স্থানে ॥ ৮৮ ॥

lajjita haila bhaṭṭa, haila apamāne ashamed became the Bhaṭṭa, was in dishonour
duḥkhita hañā gela paṇḍitera sthāne grieved being he went to the Paṇḍita's place

88 The Bhaṭṭa felt ashamed and dishonoured, and in his grief he went to the Paṇḍita.

দৈন্য করি' কহে, — নিলু তোমার শরণ । তুমি কৃপা করি' রাখ আমার জীবন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

dainya kari' kahe, — nilu tomāra śaraṇa humility showing he says I have taken your shelter
tumi kṛpā kari' rākha āmāra jīvana
you mercy showing save my life

89 Humbly he said, "I have taken shelter of you. Be merciful and save my life.

Anubhāṣya.
Nilu ("I have taken"): another reading has lailu.

He asks Gadādhara to hear his explanation of Kṛṣṇa's name —

কৃষ্ণনাম-ব্যাখ্যা যদি করহ শ্রবণ । তবে মোর লজ্জা-পঙ্ক হয় প্রক্ষালন ॥ ৯০ ॥

kṛṣṇanāma-vyākhyā yadi karaha śravaṇa
of the name of Kṛṣṇa the explanation if you do hear tabe mora lajjā-paṅka haya prakṣālana
then my of shame the mire is washed away

90 If you will hear my explanation of Kṛṣṇa's name, the mire of my shame will be washed away."

Gadādhara's dilemma —

সঙ্কটে পড়িলা পণ্ডিত, করয়ে সংশয় ৷ কি করিবেন, — ইহা করিতে নারেন নিশ্চয় ॥ ৯১ ॥

saṅkaṭe paḍilā paṇḍita, karaye saṁśaya
into a dilemma fell the Paṇḍita, feels doubt ki karibena, — ihā karite nārena niścaya
what he should do this to cannot decide

91 The Paṇḍita was caught in a dilemma and full of doubt: he could not decide what he should do.

Anubhāṣya.

Śrī Mahāprabhu has disregarded Vallabha Bhaṭṭa. And if I listen to his writings explaining the name, it will grieve Him[22]. Which of the two sides should I protect? Thinking this, Paṇḍita Gosvāmī was caught in a dilemma.

At first Gadādhara does not agree to hear Vallabha's explanation, but the Bhaṭṭa insists —

যদ্যপি পণ্ডিত আর না কৈলা অঙ্গীকার ৷ ভট্ট যাই' তবু পড়ে করি' বলাৎকার ॥ ৯২ ॥

yadyapi paṇḍita āra nā kailā aṅgīkāra
although the Paṇḍita further not gave consent bhaṭṭa yāi' tabu paḍe kari' balātkāra
the Bhaṭṭa going still reads making force

92 Although the Paṇḍita did not consent, the Bhaṭṭa came and read to him anyway, forcing it on him.

Anubhāṣya.

Paṇḍita Gosvāmī did not openly express any wish to hear Vallabha's composition. Yet Vallabha imagined a bond of friendship between them and, though the Paṇḍita did not want it, began to read it to him.

Gadādhara, who honors others and does not wish to trouble anyone, is caught between two fires and begs Kṛṣṇa for mercy —

আভিজাত্যে পণ্ডিত করিতে নারে নিষেধন ৷ এ সঙ্কটে, কৃষ্ণ, রাখ, লইলাঙ শরণ ॥ ৯৩ ॥

ābhijātye paṇḍita karite nāre niṣedhana
because of nobility the Paṇḍita to make cannot a refusal
e saṅkaṭe, kṛṣṇa, rākha, lailāṅa śaraṇa
in this plight, Kṛṣṇa, protect me, I have taken shelter

93 The Bhaṭṭa was a man of noble standing (ābhijātya), and so the Paṇḍita could not stop him. “Kṛṣṇa, protect me in this plight,” he prayed. “I have taken shelter of You.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Ābhijātye — because of his noble standing (kaulīnya), that is, because Vallabha Bhaṭṭa was held in honor among scholars.

Anubhāṣya.

Ābhijātye[23] — (1) out of embarrassment; (2) because Vallabha's learning was not utterly hostile to bhakti; (3) for the sake of the respect society expects.

At heart the Paṇḍita did not wish it, yet out of regard for the Bhaṭṭa's dignity he listened to the commentary the Lord had disregarded. He therefore trusts the judgment of the Lord, the indwelling Lord, but fears His associates —

অন্তর্য্যামী প্রভু জানিবেন মোর মন ৷ তাঁরে ভয় নাহি কিছু, 'বিষম' তাঁর গণ ॥ ৯৪ ॥

antaryāmī prabhu jānibena mora mana
the Indweller the Lord will know my mind
tāṁre bhaya nāhi kichu, 'viṣama' tāṁra gaṇa
of Him fear not any, 'severe' His associates

94 The Lord dwells in the heart; He will know my mind, and I have no fear of Him. But His associates are 'severe'."

Anubhāṣya.
Bhagavān Śrī Mahāprabhu Himself knows the feelings in everyone's heart. Bhagavān Gaurasundara knew the position Gadādhara Paṇḍita Gosvāmī was in and how he was compelled to deal with Vallabha. The Paṇḍita therefore had no fear of incurring Mahāprabhu's displeasure. What he feared was something else: that some of the Vaiṣṇavas who had taken shelter of Mahāprabhu, learning all that had gone on, might call Paṇḍita Gosvāmī "Vallabha's companion" and speak out against him.

*Listening to Vallabha's commentary was no offense, yet the Lord's associates pick a loving quarrel (praṇaya-kalaha) with the Paṇḍita —*

যদ্যপি বিচারে পণ্ডিতের নাহি দোষ । তথাপি প্রভুর গণ করে প্রণয়-রোষ ॥ ৯৫ ॥

yadyapi vicāre paṇḍitera nāhi doṣa
although on consideration of the Paṇḍita is not fault
tathāpi prabhura gaṇa kare praṇaya-roṣa
still the Lord's associates show loving anger

95 Although, rightly judged, the Paṇḍita was not at fault, the Lord's associates still showed him an anger born of love (praṇaya-roṣa).

*Vallabha Bhaṭṭa engages the Ācārya and others in empty argument (kutarka) —*

প্রত্যহ বল্লভ-ভট্ট আইসে প্রভু-স্থানে ।
'উদ্‌গ্রাহাদি' প্রায় করে আচার্য্যাদি-সনে ॥ ৯৬ ॥

pratyaha vallabha-bhaṭṭa āise prabhu-sthāne
every day Vallabha Bhaṭṭa comes to the Lord's place
'udgrāhādi' prāya kare ācāryādi-sane
'disputes and the like' as it were makes with the Ācārya and others

96 Every day Vallabha Bhaṭṭa came to the Lord and picked arguments with the Ācārya and others.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Udgrāhādi — disputes (vitarka) and the like.

Anubhāṣya.
Udgrāhādi-prāya — like an assault, that is, he stubbornly held his ground in argument, as in a scholarly debate. Ācāryādi — with Advaita Ācārya, or with Ācārya Svarūpa Dāmodara, and others.

*Advaita Ācārya refutes all of Vallabha's conclusions that oppose bhakti —*

যেই কিছু করে ভট্ট 'সিদ্ধান্ত' স্থাপন । শুনিতেই আচার্য্য তাহা করেন খণ্ডন ॥ ৯৭ ॥

yei kichu kare bhaṭṭa 'siddhānta' sthāpana whatever any makes the Bhaṭṭa 'conclusion' establishing śunitei ācārya tāhā karena khaṇḍana
on hearing it the Ācārya that does refute

97 Whatever 'conclusion' (siddhānta) the Bhaṭṭa tried to establish, the Ācārya refuted the moment he heard it.

Among Gaura's devotees the Bhaṭṭa is like a heron among swans —

আচার্য্যাদি-আগে ভট্ট যবে যবে যায় । রাজহংস-মধ্যে যেন রহে বকপ্রায় ॥ ৯৮ ॥

ācāryādi-āge bhaṭṭa yabe yabe yāya of the Ācārya and others before the Bhaṭṭa whenever whenever goes rājahaṁsa-madhye yena rahe baka-prāya royal swans among as remains a heron like

98 Whenever the Bhaṭṭa came before the Ācārya and the others, he was like a heron among royal swans.

*Vallabha disputes the right of the jīva, who by nature is prakṛti, to utter the name of Kṛṣṇa, her eternal husband —*

একদিন ভট্ট পুছিল আচার্য্যেরে । জীব-'প্রকৃতি' 'পতি' করি' মানয়ে কৃষ্ণেরে ॥ ৯৯ ॥

ekadina bhaṭṭa puchila ācāryere
one day the Bhaṭṭa asked the Ācārya
jīva-'prakṛti' 'pati' kari' mānaye kṛṣṇere
the jīva 'prakṛti' 'husband' as accepts Kṛṣṇa

99 One day the Bhaṭṭa asked the Ācārya: "The jīva is prakṛti, the female, and accepts Kṛṣṇa as her husband (pati).

পতিব্রতা হঞা পতির নাম নাহি লয় । তোমরা কৃষ্ণনাম লহ, — কোন্ ধর্ম্ম হয় ? ॥ ১০০ ॥

pati-vratā hañā patira nāma nāhi laya devoted to her husband being of the husband the name not takes tomarā kṛṣṇa-nāma laha, — kon dharma haya?
you of Kṛṣṇa the name take what religion is 100 A wife devoted to her husband does not utter her husband's name. Yet you utter Kṛṣṇa's name — what sort of dharma is that?"

*To settle the question, Advaita Ācārya points to the Lord, dharma personified —*

আচার্য্য কহে, — আগে তোমার 'ধর্ম্ম' মূর্ত্তিমান্ । ইঁহারে পুছহ, ইঁহ করিবেন সমাধান ॥ ১০১ ॥

ācārya kahe, — āge tomāra 'dharma' mūrtimān
the Ācārya says before you 'dharma' embodied iṁhāre puchaha, iṁha karibena samādhāna
Him ask, He will give the resolution

101 The Ācārya said, "Before you stands dharma embodied. Ask Him; He will resolve the question."

*To show Vallabha mercy and reveal his eternal good, the Lord gives a sharp, stern, yet true answer: the jīva, who is prakṛti, is enjoined always to utter Kṛṣṇa's name by the order of Kṛṣṇa Himself, her husband —*

প্রভু কহেন, — তুমি না জানহ 'ধর্ম্মাধর্ম্ম' । স্বামী-আজ্ঞা পালে, — এই পতিব্রতা-ধর্ম্ম ॥ ১০২ ॥

prabhu kahena, — tumi nā jānaha dharmādharma
the Lord says you not know dharma and adharma svāmī-ājñā pāle, — ei pati-vratā-dharma of the husband the order she follows this of the faithful wife the dharma

102 The Lord said, “You do not know what is dharma and what is adharma. A faithful wife’s dharma is to follow her husband’s order.

পতির আজ্ঞা, — নিরন্তর তাঁর নাম লইতে । পতির আজ্ঞা পতিব্রতা না পারে লঙ্ঘিতে ॥ ১০৩ ॥

patira ājñā, — nirantara tāṁra nāma laite
the husband’s order ceaselessly his name to take patira ājñā pati-vratā nā pāre laṅghite
the husband’s order the faithful wife not can transgress

103 The husband’s order is to utter his name ceaselessly, and a faithful wife cannot transgress her husband’s order.

In one who utters the name of Kṛṣṇa, the husband, love for Kṛṣṇa's feet awakens —

অতএব নাম লয়, নামের ‘ফল’ পায় । নামের ফলে কৃষ্ণপদে ‘প্রেম’ উপজায় ॥ ১০৪ ॥

ataeva nāma laya, nāmera ‘phala’ pāya therefore the name she takes, of the name the fruit she gets nāmera phale kṛṣṇa-pade ‘prema’ upajāya
by the name’s fruit for Kṛṣṇa’s feet love arises

104 Therefore she utters the name and gains the fruit of the name: by that fruit love (prema) for Kṛṣṇa’s feet awakens.”

Stripped of his prestige, Vallabha Bhaṭṭa falls silent and sinks into anxious thought —

শুনিয়া বল্লভ-ভট্ট হৈল নির্ব্বচন । ঘরে যাই’ মনে দুঃখে করেন চিন্তন ॥ ১০৫ ॥

śuniyā vallabha-bhaṭṭa haila nirvacana hearing Vallabha Bhaṭṭa became speechless
ghare yāi’ mane duḥkhe karena cintana
home going in his mind in sorrow does brooding

105 Hearing this, Vallabha Bhaṭṭa fell silent. He went home and brooded sorrowfully:

*Vallabha, who holds prestige (pratiṣṭhā) dear, imagines a future victory and dreams happily —*

নিত্য আমার এই সভায় হয় কক্ষাপাত । একদিন উপরে যদি হয় মোর বাত্ ॥ ১০৬ ॥

nitya āmāra ei sabhāya haya kakṣā-pāta
daily my in this assembly is defeat ekadina upare yadi haya mora bāt
one day on top if is my word

106 “Every day I am defeated in this assembly. If only my word would prevail just once,

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kakṣā-pāta — defeat.

Anubhāṣya.

Kakṣā-pāta: kakṣā (rivalry) + pāta (destruction) — defeat. Upare haya — prevails, having refuted everyone else's statements.

তবে সুখ হয়, আর সব লজ্জা যায় । স্ব-বচন স্থাপিতে আমি কি করি উপায় ? ॥ ১০৭ ॥

tabe sukha haya, āra saba lajjā yāya
then happiness is, and all shame goes sva-vacana sthāpite āmi ki kari upāya?
my own statement to establish I what do means

107 I would be happy, and all my shame would be gone. What means can I find to establish my own view?"

One day in the assembly, before the Lord and His associates, Vallabha disparages Śrīdhara Svāmī —

আর দিন আসি' বসিলা প্রভুরে নমস্করি' । সভাতে কহেন কিছু মনে গর্ব্ব করি' ॥ ১০৮ ॥

āra dina āsi' vasilā prabhure namaskari'
next day coming he sat to the Lord bowing sabhāte kahena kichu mane garva kari'
in the assembly says something in the mind pride holding 108 The next day he came, bowed to the Lord, and sat down. Then, proud at heart, he spoke in the assembly:

ভাগবতে স্বামীর ব্যাখ্যান কৈরাছি খণ্ডন । লইতে না পারি তাঁর ব্যাখ্যান-বচন ॥ ১০৯ ॥

bhāgavate svāmīra vyākhyāna kairāchi khaṇḍana
in the Bhāgavata Svāmī's explanation I have refuted
laite nā pāri tāṁra vyākhyāna-vacana
to accept not can his explanation's words

109 "In the Bhāgavata I have refuted Śrīdhara Svāmī's explanations. I cannot accept the words of his commentary.

Vallabha slanders Śrī Svāmipāda, claiming that his earlier and later statements neither agree nor fit together —

সেই ব্যাখ্যা করেন যাঁহা যেই পড়ে আনি' ।
একবাক্যতা নাহি, তাতে 'স্বামী' নাহি মানি ॥ ১১০ ॥

sei vyākhyā karena yāṁhā yei paḍe āni'
that explanation he gives wherever whatever he reads taking up
eka-vākyatā nāhi, tāte 'svāmī' nāhi māni consistency is not, therefore 'Svāmī' not I accept 110 He explains whatever passage he takes up just as it stands there; there is no consistency in it. Therefore I do not accept Svāmī."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Whatever statement comes up in a given place, Śrīdhara Svāmī accepts it as it stands and explains it so. Therefore his explanations do not everywhere have a single, consistent sense (eka-vākyatā) or harmony (sāmañjasya); and so I do not accept Śrīdhara Svāmī.

*The Lord upholds the commentary of Śrī Śrīdhara Svāmipāda, "the sole guardian of bhakti," as favorable to bhakti. Only Śrīdhara acknowledges Viṣṇu, the one Spirit, as the Master (svāmī), that is, he harmonizes everything with spirit*

*(cit-samanvaya); only Śrīdhara's opponent is wanton (svairatā), for he upholds a mixture of spirit and matter —*

প্রভু হাসি’ কহে, — স্বামী না মানে যেই জন । বেশ্যার ভিতরে তারে করিয়ে গণন ॥ ১১১ ॥

prabhu hāsi’ kahe, — svāmī nā māne yei jana
the Lord smiling says svāmī not accepts who person
veśyāra bhitare tāre kariye gaṇana
of prostitutes among him I make counting

111 The Lord smiled and said, “Anyone who does not accept the svāmī — the husband — I count among prostitutes.”[17]

The Lord's words delight all the devotees —

এত কহি’ মহাপ্রভু মৌন ধরিলা । শুনিয়া সবার মনে সন্তোষ হইলা ॥ ১১২ ॥ eta kahi’ mahāprabhu mauna dharilā

this saying Mahāprabhu silence held śuniyā sabāra mane santoṣa hailā
hearing of all in the minds satisfaction arose

112 Having said this, Mahāprabhu fell silent. Hearing it, everyone was satisfied at heart.

Śrī Gaurasundara destroys ignorance; He is the good of all the worlds, supreme mercy, the source of the avatāras and the indwelling Lord —

জগতের হিত লাগি’ গৌর-অবতার । অন্তরের অভিমান জানেন তাহার ॥ ১১৩ ॥

jagatera hita lāgi’ gaura-avatāra
of the world the good for the sake Gaura’s descent
antarera abhimāna jānena tāhāra inner pride He knows his

113 Gaura descended for the good of the world, and He knew the pride hidden in the Bhaṭṭa’s heart.

*By disregard alone the Lord, who is beyond the senses (adhokṣaja), showers mercy on a proud man who relies on knowledge born of the senses and opposes the sole guardian of bhakti: He frees him from ignorance —*

নানা অবজ্ঞানে ভট্টে শোধেন ভগবান্ । কৃষ্ণ যৈছে খণ্ডিলেন ইন্দ্রের অভিমান ॥ ১১৪ ॥

nānā avajñāne bhaṭṭe śodhena bhagavān
by various disregard the Bhaṭṭa purifies Bhagavān
kṛṣṇa yaiche khaṇḍilena indrera abhimāna Kṛṣṇa as broke Indra’s pride

114 By various kinds of disregard Bhagavān purified the Bhaṭṭa, just as Kṛṣṇa broke the pride of Indra.

Anubhāṣya.
In place of the worship of Indra, who is other than Kṛṣṇa, Kṛṣṇa introduced in Vraja the worship of Girirāja Govardhana. Then, lifting Govardhana, He protected Gokula, which was being flooded by the rain of the angry Indra, a worldly being of bewildered mind. Thus Indra's material pride was broken and crushed.

*One who relies on sense-born knowledge and lies in the grip of ignorance takes the pleasant (preyas) for the good (śreyas); and the Lord's mercy, which leads to the highest good (niḥśreyasa) but goes against the mind, he regards*

as misfortune and suffering —

অজ্ঞ জীব নিজ-‘হিতে’ ‘অহিত’ করি’ মানে । গর্ব্ব চূর্ণ হৈলে, পাছে উঘাড়ে নয়নে ॥ ১১৫ ॥

ajña jīva nija-‘hite’ ‘ahita’ kari’ māne
ignorant jīva his own ‘good’ ‘harm’ as regards garva cūrṇa haile, pāche ughāḍe nayane pride crushed when, afterwards open the eyes

115 An ignorant jīva takes his own good for harm. When his pride has been crushed, his eyes open at last.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Ughāḍe nayane — the eyes open (sight dawns).

At night the Bhaṭṭa remembers the Lord's former mercy toward him —

ঘরে আসি’ রাত্র্যে ভট্ট চিন্তিতে লাগিল । পূর্ব্বে প্রয়াগে মোরে মহা-কৃপা কৈল ॥ ১১৬ ॥

ghare āsi’ rātrye bhaṭṭa cintite lāgila home coming at night the Bhaṭṭa to think began pūrve prayāge more mahā-kṛpā kaila earlier in Prayāga to me great mercy He showed 116 Back at home that night, the Bhaṭṭa began to think: “Earlier, in Prayāga, the Lord showed me great mercy.

স্বগণ-সহিতে মোর মানিলা নিমন্ত্রণ । এবে কেনে প্রভুর মোতে ফিরি’ গেল মন ? ॥ ১১৭ ॥

svagaṇa-sahite mora mānilā nimantraṇa
His associates together with my accepted invitation
ebe kene prabhura mote phiri’ gela mana?
now why the Lord’s toward me turned went mind

117 With His associates He accepted my invitation. Why is the Lord’s mind now so changed toward me?

*It is the Lord's nature to bring eternal good to all jīvas —*

‘আমি জিতি’, — এই গর্ব্ব-শূন্য হউক ইঁহার চিত । ঈশ্বর-স্বভাব, — করেন সবাকার হিত ॥ ১১৮ ॥

‘āmi jiti’, — ei garva-śūnya hauka iṁhāra cita
‘I win’ this pride free of may become his mind
īśvara-svabhāva, — karena sabākāra hita
of the Lord the nature does of all the good

118 He wants my mind to be free of the pride that says ‘I shall win’: it is the Lord’s nature to do good to all.

The Lord, who is beyond the senses and partial to no one, uses disregard, dishonor and other acts unpleasant to the senses to free the knower of sense-born knowledge, who has turned away from Him, from arrogance and envy —

আপনা জানাইতে আমি করি অভিমান । সে গর্ব্ব খণ্ডাইতে মোর করেন অপমান ॥ ১১৯ ॥

āpanā jānāite āmi kari abhimāna myself to make known I do pride se garva khaṇḍāite mora karena apamāna
that pride to break me does dishonour

119 To make a name for myself, I give way to pride; to break that pride, He dishonours me.

Intelligent is one who sees the Lord's grace in the fruits of karma that are painful at first but auspicious in the end —

আমার ‘হিত’ করেন, — ইহো আমি মানি ‘দুঃখ’ । কৃষ্ণের উপরে কৈল যেন ইন্দ্র মহামূর্খ ॥ ১২০ ॥

āmāra ‘hita’ karena, — iho āmi māni ‘duḥkha’
my ‘good’ He does, this I regard ‘sorrow’
kṛṣṇera upare kaila yena indra mahāmūrkha
Kṛṣṇa toward did as Indra great fool

120 He is doing me good, yet I take it as sorrow — just as Indra, that great fool, behaved toward Kṛṣṇa.”

The next morning Vallabha takes shelter at the Lord's feet —

এত চিন্তি’ প্রাতে আসি’ প্রভুর চরণে । দৈন্য করি’ স্তুতি করি’ লইল শরণে ॥ ১২১ ॥

eta cinti’ prāte āsi’ prabhura caraṇe
thus thinking in the morning coming at the Lord’s feet dainya kari’ stuti kari’ laila śaraṇe humility showing praise offering took shelter

121 Thinking this, he came to the Lord in the morning and, humbly offering praise, took shelter at His feet.

Vallabha's distress, humility and words of repentance —

আমি অজ্ঞ জীব, — অজ্ঞোচিত কর্ম্ম কৈলুঁ ।
তোমার আগে মূর্খ আমি পাণ্ডিত্য প্রকাশিলুঁ ॥ ১২২ ॥

āmi ajña jīva, — ajñocita karma kailuṁ
I ignorant jīva fit for the ignorant deeds I did tomāra āge mūrkha āmi pāṇḍitya prakāśiluṁ
You before fool I learning displayed

122 “I am an ignorant jīva, and I acted as the ignorant act. Fool that I am, I displayed my learning before You.

Anubhāṣya.
There are two variant readings: tomāra āge āmi mūrkha pāṇḍitya prakāśiluṅ (“before You I displayed a fool's learning”) and tomāra āge mūrkha hañā pāṇḍitya prakāśiluṅ (“having become a fool before You, I displayed learning”). Mūrkha-pāṇḍitya — a fool's cleverness.

*Precisely through contempt and disregard for the opponent of Śrī Svāmī, the sole guardian of bhakti, the Lord shows great mercy —*

তুমি — ঈশ্বর, নিজোচিত কৃপা কৈলা । অপমান করি’ সর্ব্ব গর্ব্ব খণ্ডাইলা ॥ ১২৩ ॥

tumi — īśvara, nijocita kṛpā kailā
You the Lord, befitting Yourself mercy showed apamāna kari’ sarva garva khaṇḍāilā dishonour doing all pride You broke

123 You are the Lord, and You showed mercy befitting Yourself: by dishonouring me, You broke all my pride.

The example of Indra's folly: he took the Lord's mercy, painful at first but bringing eternal good, for harm —

আমি — অজ্ঞ, ‘হিত’-স্থানে মানি ‘অপমানে’ । ইন্দ্র যেন কৃষ্ণের নিন্দা করিল অজ্ঞানে ॥ ১২৪ ॥

āmi — ajña, ‘hita’-sthāne māni ‘apamāne’
I ignorant, ‘good’ in place of I regard ‘dishonour’
indra yena kṛṣṇera nindā karila ajñāne
Indra as of Kṛṣṇa blasphemy did in ignorance

124 I am ignorant: in place of good I saw dishonour, just as Indra blasphemed Kṛṣṇa in ignorance.

The salve of the Lord's mercy cures the blindness caused by the darkness of false ego —

তোমার কৃপা-অঞ্জনে গর্ব্ব-আন্ধ্য গেল । তুমি এত কৃপা কৈলা, — এবে ‘জ্ঞান’ হৈল ॥ ১২৫ ॥

tomāra kṛpā-añjane garva-āndhya gela
Your mercy by the salve pride’s blindness went tumi eta kṛpā kailā, — ebe ‘jñāna’ haila
You so much mercy showed now ‘knowledge’ has come

125 By the salve of Your mercy the blindness of my pride is gone. You have shown me such mercy that now true knowledge has come.

Vallabha takes shelter at the Lord's feet and begs forgiveness —

অপরাধ কৈনু, ক্ষম, লইনু শরণ । কৃপা করি’ মোর মাথে ধরহ চরণ ॥ ১২৬ ॥

aparādha kainu, kṣama, lainu śaraṇa offences I committed, forgive, I have taken shelter
kṛpā kari’ mora māthe dharaha caraṇa mercy showing on my head place Your feet

126 I have committed offences; forgive me. I have taken shelter of You. Be merciful and place Your feet on my head.”

The Lord, who gives honor to others, consoles the Bhaṭṭa with praise —

প্রভু কহে — তুমি ‘পণ্ডিত’ ‘মহাভাগবত’ ।
দুইগুণ যাঁহা, তাঁহা নাহি গর্ব্ব-পর্ব্বত ॥ ১২৭ ॥

prabhu kahe — tumi ‘paṇḍita’ ‘mahā-bhāgavata’
the Lord says you ‘a paṇḍita’ ‘a great devotee’
dui-guṇa yāṁhā, tāṁhā nāhi garva-parvata
two qualities where, there is not of pride a mountain

127 The Lord said, “You are a paṇḍita and a great devotee (mahā-bhāgavata). Where these two qualities are found, there can be no mountain of pride.

*The Lord rebukes Vallabha for opposing Śrīdhara Svāmī, “the sole guardian of bhakti” and the guru of the whole* world —

শ্রীধরস্বামী নিন্দি' নিজ-টীকা কর !
শ্রীধরস্বামী নাহি মান', — এত 'গর্ব্ব' ধর! ॥ ১২৮ ॥

śrīdhara-svāmī nindi' nija-ṭīkā kara!
Śrīdhara Svāmī blaspheming your own commentary you make śrīdhara-svāmī nāhi māna', — eta 'garva' dhara!
Śrīdhara Svāmī not you accept such 'pride' you hold 128 Yet you blaspheme Śrīdhara Svāmī and write your own commentary! You do not accept Śrīdhara Svāmī — such is the pride you hold!

The Lord proclaims the honor due to Śrīdhara —

শ্রীধরস্বামী প্রসাদে 'ভাগবত' জানি । জগদ্গুরু শ্রীধরস্বামী 'গুরু' করি' মানি ॥ ১২৯ ॥

śrīdhara-svāmī prasāde 'bhāgavata' jāni of Śrīdhara Svāmī by the grace the 'Bhāgavata' I know
jagad-guru śrīdhara-svāmī 'guru' kari' māni
the world's guru Śrīdhara Svāmī 'guru' as I accept 129 By the grace of Śrīdhara Svāmī I understand the Bhāgavata. I accept Śrīdhara Svāmī, the guru of the world, as My guru.

*Whoever sets himself above Śrīdhara, "the sole guardian of bhakti," distorts the meaning of the Bhāgavatam and earns people's censure —*

শ্রীধর-উপরে গর্ব্বে যে কিছু লিখিবে ।
'অর্থব্যস্ত' লিখন সেই, লোকে না মানিবে ॥ ১৩০ ॥

śrīdhara-upare garve ye kichu likhibe Śrīdhara above out of pride whatever anything one will write
'artha-vyasta' likhana sei, loke nā mānibe
'distorted in meaning' writing that, people not will accept

130 Whatever anyone writes out of pride, setting himself above Śrīdhara, will be distorted in meaning (artha-vyasta), and people will not accept it.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Artha-vyasta — contrary in meaning.

*Only a commentary of bhakti that follows Śrīdhara, who acknowledges Viṣṇu, the one Spirit, as the Master (svāmī) — a commentary true to pure nondualism (śuddhādvaita) and in harmony with nondual knowledge (advaya-jñāna) — is accepted by all —*

শ্রীধরের অনুগত যে করে লিখন । সব লোক মান্য করি' করিবে গ্রহণ ॥ ১৩১ ॥

śrīdharera anugata ye kare likhana Śrīdhara's following who does writing saba loka mānya kari' karibe grahaṇa
all people respect showing will make acceptance

131 But what is written in the footsteps of Śrīdhara all people will honour and accept.

*One should comment on the Bhāgavatam only in the footsteps of Śrīdhara, who is wholly devoted to Kṛṣṇa —*

শ্রীধরানুগত কর ভাগবত-ব্যাখ্যান । অভিমান ছাড়ি' ভজ কৃষ্ণ ভগবান্ ॥ ১৩২ ॥

śrīdharānugata kara bhāgavata-vyākhyāna
following Śrīdhara make the Bhāgavata's explanation abhimāna chāḍi' bhaja kṛṣṇa bhagavān pride giving up worship Kṛṣṇa Bhagavān

132 Explain the Bhāgavata in the footsteps of Śrīdhara. Give up your pride and worship Kṛṣṇa, Bhagavān.

Kīrtana* of Kṛṣṇa free of the ten offenses against the holy name leads to Kṛṣṇa's feet —*

অপরাধ ছাড়ি' কর কৃষ্ণসঙ্কীর্ত্তন ।
অচিরাৎ পাবে তবে কৃষ্ণের চরণ ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

aparādha chāḍi' kara kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtana offences giving up do Kṛṣṇa saṅkīrtana
acirāt pābe tabe kṛṣṇera caraṇa
very soon you will attain then Kṛṣṇa's feet

133 Give up offences and perform the saṅkīrtana of Kṛṣṇa. Then you will very soon attain the feet of Kṛṣṇa."[18]

The Bhaṭṭa invites the Lord —

ভট্ট কহে, — যদি মোরে হইলা প্রসন্ন । একদিন পুনঃ মোর মান' নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

bhaṭṭa kahe, — yadi more hailā prasanna
the Bhaṭṭa says if with me You have become pleased ekadina punaḥ mora māna' nimantraṇa
one day again my accept invitation

134 The Bhaṭṭa said, "If You are now pleased with me, accept my invitation once again some day."

*An example of the causeless mercy toward the jīvas of the Lord, who purifies the worlds —*

প্রভু অবতীর্ণ হৈলা জগৎ তারিতে । মানিলেন নিমন্ত্রণ, তারে সুখ দিতে ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

prabhu avatīrṇa hailā jagat tārite
the Lord descended has the world to deliver mānilena nimantraṇa, tāre sukha dite
He accepted the invitation, to him joy to give 135 The Lord descended to deliver the world; He accepted the invitation to give the Bhaṭṭa joy.

The Lord delivers a proud man who relies on sense-born knowledge by punishing him —

জগতের 'হিত' হউক — এই প্রভুর মন । দণ্ড করি' করে তার হৃদয় শোধন ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

jagatera 'hita' hauka — ei prabhura mana of the world 'good' may be this the Lord's mind
daṇḍa kari' kare tāra hṛdaya śodhana punishment doing He does his heart's purification

136 “May the world be blessed” — such is the Lord’s mind. Even when He punishes, He does so to purify a person’s heart.

*The Lord and His associates accept a meal (bhikṣā) at his house —*

স্বগণ-সহিত প্রভুর নিমন্ত্রণ কৈলা । মহাপ্রভু তারে তবে প্রসন্ন হইলা ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

svagaṇa-sahita prabhura nimantraṇa kailā
His associates together with the Lord’s invitation he made mahāprabhu tāre tabe prasanna hailā Mahāprabhu with him then pleased became 137 The Bhaṭṭa invited the Lord together with His associates, and Mahāprabhu was then pleased with him.

*An account of Jagadānanda, the avatāra of Satyabhāmā: his contrary nature (vāmya) and his pure, deep love for Gaura —*

জগদানন্দ-পণ্ডিতের শুদ্ধ গাঢ় ভাব । সত্যভামা-প্রায় প্রেম ‘বাম্য-স্বভাব’ ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

jagadānanda-paṇḍitera śuddha gāḍha bhāva
of Jagadānanda Paṇḍita pure deep bhāva satyabhāmā-prāya prema ‘vāmya-svabhāva’
Satyabhāmā like love ‘contrary nature’

138 Jagadānanda Paṇḍita’s bhāva was pure and deep. Like Satyabhāmā’s, his love had a contrary nature (vāmya).

Anubhāṣya.

[24]In the Bṛhad-bhāgavatāmṛta (Pūrva-khaṇḍa, Chapter 7, verse 83) Śrī Sanātana Prabhu writes:[25] “Therefore the other queens too approved just this. But the daughter of Satrājit, unable to bear it, withdrew to her chamber of sulking. Then the Lord of the life of the fortunate gopīs angrily ordered: ‘Bring that foolish princess here at once!’ Full of shame and fear, she stood with her body hidden behind a pillar. ‘O daughter of Satrājit, small-minded one! How you sulk!… Foolish one, do you not know that I follow your wishes? Before, when I lived in Mathurā without them, I had not the slightest wish to marry, O proud one!’”

Jagadānanda's loving quarrels with the Lord —

বার-বার প্রণয় কলহ করে প্রভু-সনে । অন্যোঽন্যে খট্মটি চলে দুইজনে ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

bāra-bāra praṇaya kalaha kare prabhu-sane
again and again loving quarrels makes with the Lord anyo-’nye khaṭmaṭi cale dui-jane mutually squabbling goes on between the two

139 Again and again he had loving quarrels with the Lord, and the two of them kept squabbling with each other.

*Gadādhara, the avatāra of Rukmiṇī: his compliant nature (dakṣiṇa) and his pure, deep love for Gaura —*

গদাধর-পণ্ডিতের শুদ্ধ গাঢ় ভাব । রুক্মিণী-দেবীর যৈছে ‘দক্ষিণ-স্বভাব’ ॥ ১৪০ ॥

gadādhara-paṇḍitera śuddha gāḍha bhāva
of Gadādhara Paṇḍita pure deep bhāva rukmiṇī-devīra yaiche 'dakṣiṇa-svabhāva'
of Rukmiṇī Devī as 'compliant nature'

140 Gadādhara Paṇḍita's bhāva was pure and deep, with a compliant nature (dakṣiṇa) like that of Rukmiṇī-devī.

Gadādhara does not grow angry with the Lord: his love is by nature mixed with a sense of His majesty, and he is humble and full of tender love —

তাঁর প্রণয়-রোষ দেখিতে প্রভুর ইচ্ছা হয় । ঐশ্বর্য্য-জ্ঞানে তাঁর রোষ নাহি উপজয় ॥ ১৪১ ॥

tāṁra praṇaya-roṣa dekhite prabhura icchā haya his loving anger to see the Lord's desire is aiśvarya-jñāne tāṁra roṣa nāhi upajaya
by the knowledge of majesty his anger not arises

141 The Lord wanted to see his loving anger (praṇaya-roṣa), but because Gadādhara was conscious of the Lord's majesty, anger never arose in him.

Anubhāṣya.
In the Bṛhad-bhāgavatāmṛta (Pūrva-khaṇḍa, Chapter 7, verse 117) Śrī Sanātana Prabhu writes: "All the queens, led by the daughter of Bhīṣmaka, together with Satyabhāmā, at once ran up, touched their heads to His feet, praised their husband, imploring Him with words wet with tears, and little by little calmed Him." Once in Dvārakā Śrī Kṛṣṇa jestingly advised Śrī Rukmiṇī to take another husband endowed with other virtues. Rukmiṇī was frightened and, by her compliant nature (dakṣiṇa), fell at His feet. In Gaura's pastimes Jagadānanda Paṇḍita Gosvāmī is contrary (vāmya), given to loving quarrels and endowed with Satyabhāmā's mood. Gadādhara Paṇḍita Gosvāmī is compliant like Rukmiṇī: instead of loving quarrels he is apprehensive and always follows the Lord in everything.

On the pretext of His affection for Vallabha, the Lord outwardly shows feigned anger and tests Gadādhara's love; Gadādhara is frightened —

এই লক্ষ্য পাঞা প্রভু কৈলা রোষাভাস । শুনি' পণ্ডিতের চিত্তে উপজিল ত্রাস ॥ ১৪২ ॥

ei lakṣya pāñā prabhu kailā roṣābhāsa
this pretext getting the Lord made a semblance of anger
śuni' paṇḍitera citte upajila trāsa hearing in the Paṇḍita's heart arose fear

142 Taking this occasion, the Lord feigned anger, and when the Paṇḍita heard of it, fear arose in his heart.

The example of Kṛṣṇa and Rukmiṇī in the Dvāpara-yuga —

পূর্ব্বে যেন কৃষ্ণ যদি উপহাস কৈল । শুনি' রুক্মিণীর মনে ত্রাস উপজিল ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

pūrve yena kṛṣṇa yadi upahāsa kaila long ago as Kṛṣṇa when mockery made śuni' rukmiṇīra mane trāsa upajila hearing in Rukmiṇī's mind fear arose

143 So it was long ago: when Kṛṣṇa made fun of Rukmiṇī, fear arose in her mind as she heard Him.

*Formerly Vallabha Bhaṭṭa worshipped in vātsalya-rasa —*

বল্লভ-ভট্টের হয় বাৎসল্য-উপাসন । বালগোপাল-মন্ত্রে তেঁহো করেন সেবন ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

vallabha-bhaṭṭera haya vātsalya-upāsana of Vallabha Bhaṭṭa is parental-love worship
bāla-gopāla-mantre teṁho karena sevana
with the Bāla-gopāla mantra he does service

144 Vallabha Bhaṭṭa worshipped in the mood of parental love (vātsalya); he served with the Bāla-gopāla mantra.

*Association with Gadādhara inclines Vallabha to worship in madhura-rasa —*

পণ্ডিতের সনে তার মন ফিরি' গেল । কিশোরগোপাল-উপাসনায় মন দিল ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

paṇḍitera sane tāra mana phiri' gela
the Paṇḍita's in company his mind turned went kiśora-gopāla-upāsanāya mana dila to the Kiśora-gopāla worship mind he gave

145 In the company of the Paṇḍita his heart changed, and he gave his mind to the worship of Kiśora-gopāla.

Vallabha wishes to receive mantra from Gadādhara; Gadādhara refuses —

পণ্ডিতের ঠাঞি চাহে মন্ত্রাদি শিখিতে । পণ্ডিত কহে, — এই কর্ম্ম নহে আমা হৈতে ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

paṇḍitera ṭhāñi cāhe mantrādi śikhite
from the Paṇḍita he wants mantra and the rest to learn paṇḍita kahe, — ei karma nahe āmā haite
the Paṇḍita says this act is not from me

146 He wanted to receive the mantra and so on from the Paṇḍita, but the Paṇḍita said, "This is not for me to do.

Anubhāṣya.
Mantrādi śikhite — to take initiation (dīkṣā).

Gadādhara, whose sole refuge is Gaurāṅga, obeys Gaura in everything —

আমি — পরতন্ত্র, আমার প্রভু — গৌরচন্দ্র । তাঁর আজ্ঞা বিনা আমি না হই 'স্বতন্ত্র' ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

āmi — paratantra, āmāra prabhu — gauracandra
I dependent, my Lord Gauracandra
tāṁra ājñā vinā āmi nā hai 'svatantra'
His order without I not am 'independent'

147 I am dependent; my Lord is Gauracandra. Without His order I am not free to act on my own.

He gives reasons against giving mantra to Vallabha —

তুমি যে আমার ঠাঞি কর আগমন । তাহাতেই প্রভু মোরে দেন ওলাহন ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

tumi ye āmāra ṭhāñi kara āgamana
you that my to the place make coming tāhātei prabhu more dena olāhana
for that alone the Lord me gives reproach

148 Just because you come to me, the Lord reproaches me."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Olāhana — punishment by words, a reproach.

Vallabha receives the Lord's mercy —

এইমত ভট্টের কথেক দিন গেল । শেষে যদি প্রভু তারে সুপ্রসন্ন হৈল ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

ei-mata bhaṭṭera katheka dina gela
in this way of the Bhaṭṭa some days passed śeṣe yadi prabhu tāre suprasanna haila
at last when the Lord with him well pleased became 149 In this way some days passed for the Bhaṭṭa. At last the Lord became fully pleased with him.

On the day of the feast the Lord, full of tender love, calls for Gadādhara, who is frightened by His feigned anger —

নিমন্ত্রণের দিনে পণ্ডিতে বোলাইলা । স্বরূপ, জগদানন্দ, গোবিন্দে পাঠাইলা ॥ ১৫০ ॥

nimantraṇera dine paṇḍite bolāilā of the invitation on the day the Paṇḍita He had called svarūpa, jagadānanda, govinde pāṭhāilā Svarūpa, Jagadānanda, Govinda He sent

150 On the day of the invitation the Lord called for the Paṇḍita, sending Svarūpa, Jagadānanda and Govinda to bring him.

Svarūpa consoles the Paṇḍita and tells him everything —

পথে পণ্ডিতেরে স্বরূপ কহেন বচন । পরীক্ষিতে প্রভু তোমারে কৈলা উপেক্ষণ ॥ ১৫১ ॥

pathe paṇḍitere svarūpa kahena vacana
on the way to the Paṇḍita Svarūpa says words
parīkṣite prabhu tomāre kailā upekṣaṇa to test the Lord you made disregard

151 On the way Svarūpa said to the Paṇḍita, "The Lord disregarded you to test you.

Svarūpa tests Gadādhara by trying to provoke him to retort —

তুমি কেনে আসি' তাঁরে না দিলা ওলাহন ?
ভীতপ্রায় হঞা কেনে করিলা সহন ? ॥ ১৫২ ॥

tumi kene āsi' tāṁre nā dilā olāhana?
you why coming to Him not gave reproach
bhīta-prāya hañā kene karilā sahana?
frightened as if being why did you endure

152 Why didn't you come and reproach Him? Why did you put up with it, as if you were afraid?"

The Paṇḍita, tender in his love for the Lord, obeys Him with an awareness of His majesty —

পণ্ডিত কহেন, — প্রভু সর্ব্বজ্ঞ শিরোমণি । তাঁর সনে ‘হঠ’ করি, — ভাল নাহি মানি ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

paṇḍita kahena, — prabhu sarvajña śiromaṇi
the Paṇḍita says the Lord of the all-knowing the crown jewel
tāṁra sane ‘haṭha’ kari, — bhāla nāhi māni
Him with ‘obstinacy’ I make good not I consider

153 The Paṇḍita said, “The Lord is the crown jewel of the all-knowing. I do not think it right to be obstinate with Him.

The Paṇḍita is by nature inclined to bear every kind of severity that springs from affection in the Lord, who is dearest to him —

যেই কহে, সেই সহি নিজ-শিরে ধরি’ । আপনে করিবেন কৃপা গুণ-দোষ বিচারি’ ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

yei kahe, sei sahi nija-śire dhari’ whatever He says that I bear on my own head holding āpane karibena kṛpā guṇa-doṣa vicāri’
Himself He will show mercy merits faults considering

154 Whatever He says, I bear it, holding it on my head. He Himself will weigh my merits and faults and show me mercy.”

The Paṇḍita comes to the Lord and weeps —

এত বলি’ পণ্ডিত প্রভুর স্থানে আইলা । রোদন করিয়া প্রভুর চরণে পড়িলা ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

eta bali’ paṇḍita prabhura sthāne āilā thus saying the Paṇḍita to the Lord’s place came rodana kariyā prabhura caraṇe paḍilā weeping doing at the Lord’s feet fell

155 Saying this, the Paṇḍita came to the Lord and, weeping, fell at His feet.

The Lord, conquered by the Paṇḍita's love, embraces and reassures Gadādhara with tender love —

ঈষৎ হাসিয়া প্রভু কৈলা আলিঙ্গন । সবারে শুনাঞা কহেন মধুর বচন ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

īṣat hāsiyā prabhu kailā āliṅgana slightly smiling the Lord made an embrace sabāre śunāñā kahena madhura vacana
to all making hear He speaks sweet words

156 Smiling slightly, the Lord embraced him and spoke sweet words for all to hear:

The Lord Himself describes Gadādhara's incomparable, tender and firm love for Gaura —

আমি চালাইলুঁ তোমা, তুমি না চলিলা । ক্রোধে কিছু না কহিলা, সকল সহিলা ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

āmi cālāiluṁ tomā, tumi nā calilā
I showed anger to you, you not were moved krodhe kichu nā kahilā, sakala sahilā
in anger anything not you said, all you bore

157 "I showed you anger, but you were not moved. You said nothing in anger; you bore it all.

Anubhāṣya.
Cālāiluṅ — I showed anger.

আমার ভঙ্গীতে তোমার মন না চলিলা । সুদৃঢ় সরলভাবে আমারে কিনিলা ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

āmāra bhaṅgīte tomāra mana nā calilā
My by the gestures your mind not was moved sudṛḍha sarala-bhāve āmāre kinilā
very firm by simplicity of heart Me you have bought

158 My gestures did not move your mind. By your firm, simple-hearted love you have bought Me."

The Lord's name "Gadādhara-prāṇanātha" —

পণ্ডিতের ভাব-মুদ্রা কহন না যায় ।
'গদাধর-প্রাণনাথ' নাম হৈল যায় ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

paṇḍitera bhāva-mudrā kahana nā yāya
of the Paṇḍita of the bhāva the marks description not goes
'gadādhara-prāṇa-nātha' nāma haila yāya
'Gadādhara's life's Lord' name became by which 159 The marks of the Paṇḍita's bhāva cannot be described; by them the Lord came to be named 'Gadādhara-prāṇanātha' (Lord of Gadādhara's life).

The devotees eternally sing the name "Gadāi-Gaurāṅga" —

পণ্ডিতে প্রভুর প্রসাদ কহন না যায় ।
'গদাই-গৌরাঙ্গ' বলি' যাঁরে লোকে গায় ॥ ১৬০ ॥

paṇḍite prabhura prasāda kahana nā yāya
to the Paṇḍita the Lord's favour description not goes
'gadāi-gaurāṅga' bali' yāṁre loke gāya
'Gadāi-Gaurāṅga' calling whom people sing

160 The Lord's favour to the Paṇḍita cannot be described. People sing of Him as 'Gadāi-Gaurāṅga'.

Every wave of the inconceivable ocean of Caitanya's pastimes fulfills many purposes —

চৈতন্যপ্রভুর লীলা কে বুঝিতে পারে ?
একলীলায় বহে গঙ্গার শত শত ধারে ॥ ১৬১ ॥

caitanya-prabhura līlā ke bujhite pāre?
of Caitanya Prabhu the pastimes who to understand can eka-līlāya vahe gaṅgāra śata śata dhāre
in one pastime flows of the Gaṅgā hundreds hundreds in streams

161 Who can understand the pastimes of Caitanya Prabhu? In one pastime the Gaṅgā flows in hundreds and hundreds of streams.

*The Lord proclaims (1) the Paṇḍita's love for Gaura; (2) the destruction of Vallabha's pride and his deliverance; (3) that outward disregard for a jīva who relies on sense-born knowledge is the mercy shown him by the Lord, who is beyond the senses; and (4) that the jīva's eternal good and intelligence lie in seeing such painful punishment as the Lord's compassion —*

পণ্ডিতের সৌজন্য, ব্রহ্মণ্যতা-গুণ । দৃঢ় প্রেমমুদ্রা লোকে করিলা খ্যাপন ॥ ১৬২ ॥

paṇḍitera saujanya, brahmaṇyatā-guṇa
of the Paṇḍita the gentleness, brahminical virtue dṛḍha prema-mudrā loke karilā khyāpana firm of love the mark to the world He made proclamation

162 The Lord made known to the world the Paṇḍita's gentleness, his brahminical virtue, and the firm mark of his love.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Loke karilā khyāpana — the Lord made it known to everyone.

Thus ends the seventh chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

অভিমান-পঙ্ক ধুঞা ভট্টেরে শোধিলা । সেইদ্বারা আর সব লোকে শিখাইলা ॥ ১৬৩ ॥

abhimāna-paṅka dhuñā bhaṭṭere śodhilā
of pride the mire washing the Bhaṭṭa He purified
sei-dvārā āra saba loke śikhāilā
by that others all people He taught

163 Washing away the mire of pride, He purified the Bhaṭṭa, and by this He taught everyone else as well.

Only one who looks at externals and values the outward meaning falls —

অন্তরে 'অনুগ্রহ', বাহ্যে 'উপেক্ষার প্রায়' । বাহ্যার্থ যেই লয়, সেই নাশ যায় ॥ ১৬৪ ॥

antare 'anugraha', bāhye 'upekṣāra prāya'
within 'grace', outwardly 'like disregard'
bāhyārtha yei laya, sei nāśa yāya
the outer meaning whoever takes, he ruin goes to 164 Within is grace; outwardly it looks like disregard. Whoever takes only the outer meaning is ruined.

Anubhāṣya.

Wishing Vallabha Bhaṭṭa well, the supremely merciful Lord, the purifier of the fallen, outwardly disregarded him and so cleansed him of his conceit of being a scholar and a Vaiṣṇava. And because Gadādhara Paṇḍita did not wholly reject Vallabha, the Lord showed disregard for Gadādhara too for a few days. In truth Mahāprabhu was never displeased with Śrīla Gadādhara, the embodiment of His own svarūpa-śakti, nor can He ever be. Whoever cannot grasp the hidden meaning of this pastime will be occupied with externals and miss its true sense; he will lose faith in the holy feet of Śrī Gadādhara and will undoubtedly go to hell.

Only unwavering devotion to Caitanya gives knowledge of the truth of His pastimes — নিগূঢ় চৈতন্যলীলা বুঝিতে কার শক্তি ?

সেই বুঝে, গৌরচন্দ্রে যাঁর দৃঢ় ভক্তি ॥ ১৬৫ ॥ nigūḍha caitanya-līlā bujhite kāra śakti?

hidden of Caitanya the pastimes to understand whose power
sei bujhe, gauracandre yāṁra dṛḍha bhakti
he understands in Gauracandra whose firm devotion

165 Who has the power to understand the hidden pastimes of Caitanya? Only one whose devotion to Gauracandra is firm understands them.

Gadādhara feeds the Lord and His associates —

দিনান্তরে পণ্ডিত কৈল প্রভুর নিমন্ত্রণ । প্রভু তাঁহা ভিক্ষা কৈল লঞা ভক্তগণ ॥ ১৬৬ ॥

dināntare paṇḍita kaila prabhura nimantraṇa
on another day the Paṇḍita made the Lord's invitation prabhu tāṁhā bhikṣā kaila lañā bhakta-gaṇa
the Lord there alms-meal took bringing the devotees

166 On another day the Paṇḍita invited the Lord, and He took His meal there together with the devotees.

*There Vallabha receives from Gadādhara initiation into the mantra of Kiśora-gopāla in madhura-rasa —*

তাঁহাই বল্লভ-ভট্ট প্রভুর আজ্ঞা লৈল । পণ্ডিত-ঠাঞি পূর্ব্বপ্রার্থিত সব সিদ্ধি হৈল ॥ ১৬৭ ॥

tāṁhāi vallabha-bhaṭṭa prabhura ājñā laila right there Vallabha Bhaṭṭa the Lord's permission took paṇḍita-ṭhāñi pūrva-prārthita saba siddhi haila
from the Paṇḍita long prayed for all fulfilment came 167 There Vallabha Bhaṭṭa received the Lord's permission, and from the Paṇḍita he obtained all he had long prayed for.

The meeting of Gadādhara and Vallabha bestows love for Gaura —

এই ত' কহিলুঁ বল্লভ-ভট্টের মিলন । যাহার শ্রবণে পায় গৌরপ্রেমধন ॥ ১৬৮ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ vallabha-bhaṭṭera milana
this indeed I have told with Vallabha Bhaṭṭa the meeting
yāhāra śravaṇe pāya gaura-prema-dhana
of which by hearing one gains for Gaura love's treasure

168 Thus I have told of the meeting with Vallabha Bhaṭṭa. By hearing of it, one gains the treasure of love for Gaura.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the seventh chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১৬৯ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

169 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.[19]

Notes

1. The same verse as Ādi 4.2 (= Ādi 1.18, 17.2, Antya 2.2, 4.2, 6.2); translation as there. ↩
2. The same verse as Ādi 3.27; translation, transliteration and word-for-word as there (the transliteration lines follow the quarters of the verse). ↩
3. The same verse as Madhya 8.226 (= 9.132, 24.82); translation as there. In this chapter the word ātma-bhūtānām is taken to mean “the associates” (v. 28): Anubhāṣya on 28 — Lakṣmī and the associates called ātma-bhūta are potencies non-different from Kṛṣṇa, yet Lakṣmī is full of the mood of majesty. In the edition the reference is “canto 10, chapter 9, verse 31”; in the standard numbering, 10.9.21. ↩
4. The same verse as Madhya 8.80 (= 8.231, 9.121); translation as there. ↩
5. The same verse as Madhya 8.75; translation as there. In the edition the reference is “canto 10, chapter 12, verse 21”; in the standard numbering, 10.12.11. ↩
6. The same verse as Madhya 19.204; translation as there. ↩
7. The same verse as Madhya 8.77; translation as there. ↩
8. The same verse as Ādi 4.173 (= Madhya 8.218, 18.65); translation as there. ↩
9. The same verse as Madhya 19.210; translation as there. ↩
10. The same verse as Ādi 4.180 (= Madhya 8.92); translation as there. ↩
11. The meal took place at the Lord’s residence: the Bhaṭṭa had mahā-prasāda brought there and fed the Lord and His associates (vv. 59–67). ↩
12. Some editions read pratyeke, “to each one”; the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition has pratyakṣe, “in (the Lord’s) presence”. ↩
13. Some editions read karena nartana, “they dance”; the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition has karena kīrtana, “they lead the kīrtana”. ↩
14. Fourteen mādalas for all seven groups — two in each (compare Madhya 13.48). ↩
15. Some editions read yātrānantare, “after the festival”; the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition has yātrāntare, “at another festival”, that is, on another day (Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya). ↩
16. Paṇḍita Gosāñi is Śrī Gadādhara Paṇḍita Gosvāmī (Anubhāṣya). ↩
17. A play on words: svāmī means both Śrīdhara Svāmī and “husband, master”; the Lord answers with Vallabha’s own words (110) and continues the image of the faithful wife (99–103). ↩
18. The second line is the same as Antya 3.136; translation as there. ↩
19. The same colophon verse as Antya 2.172; translation as there. ↩
20. The edition gives “Canto 10, Chapter 9, verse 31” (checked against the scan); in the standard numbering it is 10.9.21. ↩
21. The edition gives “Canto 10, Chapter 12, verse 21” (checked against the scan); in the standard numbering it is 10.12.11. ↩
22. The edition has tāṅhāra mane kleśa haibe (“it will grieve him”); from the sense of the dilemma, Mahāprabhu is probably meant. ↩
23. In the verse translation, otherwise: “because Vallabha Bhaṭṭa was a learned brāhmaṇa of a noble family.” ↩
24. In the edition this section is numbered “135” (checked against the scan): a misprint; the section stands between sections 122 and 140–141, and by its content (Satyabhāmā) it belongs to verse 138. ↩
25. The quotation is made up of verses from this passage, cited selectively; half of one verse is omitted (after “How you sulk!”). In place of tvad-icchānusāriṇam (“I follow your wishes”) other editions read tad- (“their wishes,” that is, the wishes of the people of Vraja). ↩

“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 8

The Reduction of the Meals

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. This chapter tells the story of Rāmacandra Purī. He was a disciple of Mādhavendra Purī, but through association with the community of dry speculators (śuṣka-jñānīs) he took up their corrupt conclusions and began to teach what is contrary to dharma. For this Purī Gosāñi rejected him, calling him an “offender.” From then on Rāmacandra Purī blamed others, hunted for their faults and taught dry knowledge, and for all this the Vaiṣṇavas came to shun him. Later he blamed even the way Mahāprabhu ate. Mahāprabhu saw in him a relation to His own guru, so He said nothing to him; He only silently reduced His own food, the prasāda. When Rāmacandra Purī left Puruṣottama, the Lord gave up this reduction.

Obeisances to the Lord, who out of fear of Rāmacandra Purī reduced His meals —

তং বন্দে কৃষ্ণচৈতন্যং রামচন্দ্রপুরীভয়াৎ । লৌকিকাহারতঃ স্বং যো ভিক্ষান্নং সমকোচয়ৎ ॥ ১ ॥

taṁ vande kṛṣṇa-caitanyaṁ
Him I worship Kṛṣṇa Caitanya
rāmacandra-purī-bhayāt
of Rāmacandra Purī out of fear laukikāhārataḥ svaṁ yo than the ordinary food His own who bhikṣānnaṁ samakocayat
alms-food reduced

1 I worship Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, who, out of fear of Rāmacandra Purī, reduced His own meals below the ordinary measure.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I offer obeisances to Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, who out of fear of Rāmacandra Purī reduced His meals below the ordinary daily amount.

Anubhāṣya.
yaḥ (Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva) rāmacandra-purī-bhayāt (because He displayed worldly apprehension caused by the words of Rāmacandra Purī, a blasphemer of Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas) laukikāhārataḥ (compared with the measure of food that people consider ordinary) svam (His own) bhikṣānnam (measure of food, although it was already moderate) samakocayat (reduced), taṁ kṛṣṇa-caitanyam (aham) vande.

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য করুণাসিন্ধু-অবতার । ব্রহ্মা-শিবাদিক ভজে চরণ যাঁহার ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya karuṇā-sindhu-avatāra glory glory to Śrī Caitanya of mercy the ocean the descent
brahmā-śivādika bhaje caraṇa yāṁhāra Brahmā, Śiva and the rest worship the feet whose

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya, the descent of the ocean of mercy, whose feet Brahmā, Śiva and the other gods worship!

জয় জয় শ্রীবাসাদি যত ভক্তগণ । শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য প্রভু — যাঁর প্রাণধন ॥ ৩ ॥

jaya jaya śrīvāsādi yata bhakta-gaṇa glory glory to Śrīvāsa and the rest all the devotees
śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanya prabhu — yāṁra prāṇa-dhana
Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya the Lord whose of life the treasure

3 Glory, glory to Śrīvāsa and to all the devotees, whose life's treasure is the Lord, Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya![1]

Gaura's pastimes with the devotees in Nīlācala —

এইমত গৌরচন্দ্র নিজভক্ত-সঙ্গে । নীলাচলে ক্রীড়া করে কৃষ্ণপ্রেমতরঙ্গে ॥ ৪ ॥

ei-mata gauracandra nija-bhakta-saṅge
in this way Gauracandra His own devotees with nīlācale krīḍā kare kṛṣṇa-prema-taraṅge
in Nīlācala plays makes of love for Kṛṣṇa in the waves

4 In this way Gauracandra enjoyed His pastimes in Nīlācala with His own devotees, amid the waves of love for Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
Here another reading has: "Glory, glory to Nityānanda, the moon among avadhūtas, who bound the world with the noose of prema! Glory, glory to Śrī Advaita, the incarnation of Īśvara, who made Kṛṣṇa descend and delivered the world!"

হেনকালে রামচন্দ্রপুরী-গোসাঞি আইলা । পরমানন্দ-পুরীরে আর প্রভুরে মিলিলা ॥ ৫ ॥

hena-kāle rāmacandra-purī-gosāñi āilā
at this time Rāmacandra Purī Gosāñi came paramānanda-purīre āra prabhure mililā
Paramānanda Purī and the Lord met

5 At that time Rāmacandra Purī Gosāñi came and met Paramānanda Purī and the Lord.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Rāmacandra Purī was a disciple of Śrī Mādhavendra Purī; therefore Mahāprabhu and Paramānanda Purī showed him honor.

Rāmacandra Purī arrives —

পরমানন্দ-পুরী কৈল চরণ বন্দন । পুরী-গোসাঞি কৈল তাঁরে দৃঢ় আলিঙ্গন ॥ ৬ ॥

paramānanda-purī kaila caraṇa vandana Paramānanda Purī did at the feet homage purī-gosāñi kaila tāṁre dṛḍha āliṅgana
Purī Gosāñi gave him a firm embrace

6 Paramānanda Purī paid homage at his feet, and Purī Gosāñi embraced him firmly.

Anubhāṣya.
By nature Rāmacandra Purī was envious and hostile to Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas. Outwardly, however, he had left home, that is, he wore the dress of a sannyāsī, and for that reason alone people of that time called him "Gosāñi" (Gosvāmī). This shows that the title, befitting those who have left home, was not then given by caste, family or heredity, as it is now by a distorted social custom.

*The customary conduct of Vaiṣṇava sannyāsīs in the sampradāya —*

মহাপ্রভু কৈলা তাঁরে দণ্ডবৎ নতি । আলিঙ্গন করি' তেঁহো কৈল কৃষ্ণস্মৃতি ॥ ৭ ॥

mahāprabhu kailā tāṁre daṇḍavat nati Mahāprabhu made to him prostrate obeisance
āliṅgana kari' teṁho kaila kṛṣṇa-smṛti embrace giving he made of Kṛṣṇa remembrance

7 Mahāprabhu offered him prostrate obeisance; he embraced the Lord and remembered Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.

Taking Mahāprabhu to be a follower of Īśvara Purī, Rāmacandra Purī embraced Him and remembered Kṛṣṇa, the greeting proper to every Vaiṣṇava sannyāsī. When sannyāsīs are greeted, they answer, "Oṁ namo bhagavate nārāyaṇāya," and so remember Kṛṣṇa. A sannyāsī is not supposed to bless living beings or to bow to them; the smṛti says: "A sannyāsī neither blesses nor offers obeisances."

Jagadānanda gives him a meal —

তিনজনে ইষ্টগোষ্ঠী কৈলা কতক্ষণ । জগদানন্দ-পণ্ডিত তাঁরে কৈলা নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ৮ ॥

tina-jane iṣṭa-goṣṭhī kailā kata-kṣaṇa
the three persons about the Lord conversation held for some time
jagadānanda-paṇḍita tāṁre kailā nimantraṇa Jagadānanda Paṇḍita him invited

8 For some time the three of them spoke together about the Lord. Then Jagadānanda Paṇḍita invited him for a meal.

Having eaten more than enough himself, he blames the host or the one who served —

জগন্নাথের প্রসাদ আনিলা ভিক্ষার লাগিয়া । যথেষ্ট ভিক্ষা করিলা তেঁহো নিন্দার লাগিয়া ॥ ৯ ॥

jagannāthera prasāda ānilā bhikṣāra lāgiyā Jagannātha's prasāda he brought of the meal for the sake
yatheṣṭa bhikṣā karilā teṁho nindāra lāgiyā
as much as he liked meal ate he of fault-finding for the sake

9 Jagadānanda brought Jagannātha's prasāda for the meal, and Rāmacandra Purī ate as much as he liked, only to find fault afterwards.

Having himself fed Jagadānanda abundantly, he blames Gaura's associates as gluttons —

ভিক্ষা করি' কহে পুরী, — শুন, জগদানন্দ । অবশেষ প্রসাদ তুমি করহ ভক্ষণ ॥ ১০ ॥

bhikṣā kari' kahe purī, — śuna, jagadānanda meal having taken says Purī listen Jagadānanda avaśeṣa prasāda tumi karaha bhakṣaṇa
the remnants of prasāda you do eat

10 When he had eaten, the Purī said, "Listen, Jagadānanda: you eat the prasāda that remains."

আগ্রহ করিয়া তাঁরে বসি' খাওয়াইল । আপনে আগ্রহ করি' পরিবেশন কৈল ॥ ১১ ॥

āgraha kariyā tāṁre vasi' khāoyāila
insistence showing him having seated fed āpane āgraha kari' pariveśana kaila himself insistence showing serving did

11 He insisted on seating Jagadānanda and feeding him, and eagerly served the food himself.

আগ্রহ করিয়া পুনঃ পুনঃ খাওয়াইল । আচমন কৈলে নিন্দা করিতে লাগিল ॥ ১২ ॥

āgraha kariyā punaḥ punaḥ khāoyāila insistence showing again and again fed ācamana kaile nindā karite lāgila rinsing of the mouth when he did fault-finding to do began

12 Again and again he pressed him to eat; and when Jagadānanda had rinsed his mouth, he began to find fault:

Gaura's associates, truly possessed of pure renunciation, he blames as lacking renunciation —

শুনি, চৈতন্যগণ করে বহুত ভক্ষণ ।
'সত্য' সেই বাক্য, — সাক্ষাৎ দেখিলুঁ এখন ॥ ১৩ ॥

śuni, caitanya-gaṇa kare bahuta bhakṣaṇa
I heard Caitanya's followers make much eating
'satya' sei vākya, — sākṣāt dekhiluṁ ekhana
'true' that saying with my own eyes I have seen now

13 "I had heard that Caitanya's followers eat a great deal. That report is true: now I have seen it with my own eyes.

সন্ন্যাসীরে এত খাওয়াঞা করে ধর্ম্ম নাশ । বৈরাগী হঞা এত খায়, বৈরাগ্যের নাহি 'ভাস' ॥ ১৪ ॥

sannyāsīre eta khāoyāñā kare dharma nāśa
a sannyāsī so much feeding they make of dharma ruin vairāgī hañā eta khāya, vairāgyera nāhi 'bhāsa' renunciants being so much they eat of renunciation there is not 'a semblance'

14 Feeding a sannyāsī so much, they ruin his dharma; and though they are renunciants, they eat so much that they have not even a semblance of renunciation!"

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Bhāsa — even a mere semblance (ābhāsa).

Rāmacandra Purī's nature —

এই ত' স্বভাব তাঁর আগ্রহ করিয়া । পিছে নিন্দা করে, আগে বহুত খাওয়াঞা ॥ ১৫ ॥

ei ta' svabhāva tāṁra āgraha kariyā
this indeed the nature his insistence showing piche nindā kare, āge bahuta khāoyāñā
afterwards fault-finding makes first much having fed

15 This was his nature: first he would insist on feeding someone a great deal, and afterwards he would find fault with him.

*The earlier history of Rāmacandra Purī, rejected by his guru; Rāmacandra comes when his gurudeva, Śrī Mādhavendra Purī, is departing from this world —*

পূর্ব্বে যবে মাধবেন্দ্রপুরী করেন অন্তর্দ্ধান । রামচন্দ্রপুরী তবে আইলা তাঁর স্থান ॥ ১৬ ॥

pūrve yabe mādhavendra purī karena antarddhāna formerly when Mādhavendra Purī made departure from the world
rāmacandra-purī tabe āilā tāṁra sthāna
Rāmacandra Purī then came his to the place

16 Formerly, when Mādhavendra Purī was departing from this world, Rāmacandra Purī came to him.

*Śrī Mādhavendra Purī chants of Kṛṣṇa in the transcendental rasa of separation (vipralambha) —*

পুরী-গোসাঞি করেন কৃষ্ণনাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । মথুরা না পাইনু বলি' করেন ক্রন্দন ॥ ১৭ ॥

purī-gosāñi karena kṛṣṇa-nāma-saṅkīrtana Purī Gosāñi makes of Kṛṣṇa's name chanting mathurā nā pāinu bali' karena krandana
Mathurā not I have attained saying makes weeping

17 Purī Gosāñi was chanting the name of Kṛṣṇa and weeping: "I have not attained Mathurā!"

The dry speculator Rāmacandra, thinking his guru mortal, oversteps the respect due to him —

রামচন্দ্রপুরী তবে উপদেশে তাঁরে । শিষ্য হঞা গুরুকে কহে, ভয় নাহি করে ॥ ১৮ ॥

rāmacandra-purī tabe upadeśe tāṁre Rāmacandra Purī then instructs him śiṣya hañā guruke kahe, bhaya nāhi kare disciple being to the guru he speaks fear not does

18 Then Rāmacandra Purī instructed him. Though a disciple, he spoke to his guru without fear:

*Rāmacandra opposes the spiritual pastimes (cid-vilāsa) —*

তুমি — পূর্ণ ব্রহ্মানন্দ, করহ স্মরণ । ব্রহ্মবিৎ হঞা কেনে করহ রোদন ? ॥ ১৯ ॥

tumi — pūrṇa brahmānanda, karaha smaraṇa
you full the bliss of Brahman do remember brahmavit hañā kene karaha rodana?
knower of Brahman being why do weeping

19 "You are full of the bliss of Brahman — remember it! You are a knower of Brahman: why do you weep?"

His guru, Mādhavendra Purī, seeing Rāmacandra as an offender, angrily rejects and rebukes him —

শুনি' মাধবেন্দ্র-মনে ক্রোধ উপজিল । দূর, দূর, পাপিষ্ঠ বলি' ভর্ৎসনা করিল ॥ ২০ ॥

śuni' mādhavendra-mane krodha upajila hearing in Mādhavendra's mind anger arose
dūra, dūra, pāpiṣṭha bali' bhartsanā karila away away most sinful one saying rebuke made

20 Hearing this, Mādhavendra Purī grew angry. “Away, away, you sinner!” he cried, and rebuked him.

Anubhāṣya.

Rāmacandra Purī saw that his guru, Śrī Mādhavendra, was suffering in separation from Śrī Kṛṣṇa, but he could not understand that this was the manifestation of transcendental separation (vipralambha). Reasoning in a worldly way and thinking his guru mortal, he concluded that his guru was grieving over some material lack, and he hastened to make him realize the impersonal Brahman. Then Mādhavendra Purī, seeing his disciple's foolishness and disrespect for the guru, ceased wishing him well, rejected him and drove him away.

‘কৃষ্ণ-কৃপা’ না পাইনু, না পাইনু ‘মথুরা’ ।
আপন-দুঃখে মরোঁ, — এই দিতে আইল জ্বালা ॥ ২১ ॥

‘kṛṣṇa-kṛpā’ nā pāinu, nā pāinu ‘mathurā’ ‘Kṛṣṇa’s mercy’ not I have attained not I have attained ‘Mathurā’ āpana-duḥkhe maroṁ, — ei dite āila jvālā
in my own grief I am dying this one to give came burning pain

21 “I have not attained Kṛṣṇa’s mercy, I have not attained Mathurā. I am leaving this world in my own grief, and now this one has come to add to my burning pain!

মোরে মুখ না দেখাবি তুই, যাও যথি-তথি । তোরে দেখি’ মৈলে, মোর হবে অসদ্গতি ॥ ২২ ॥

more mukha nā dekhābi tui, yāo yathi-tathi to me face not you shall show you go wherever tore dekhi’ maile, mora habe asad-gati
you seeing if I die my will be an evil end

22 Never show me your face again; go wherever you like! If I leave this world while looking at you, I shall come to an evil end.

কৃষ্ণ না পাইনু মরোঁ আপনার দুঃখে । মোরে ‘ব্রহ্ম’ উপদেশে এই ছার মূর্খে ॥ ২৩ ॥

kṛṣṇa nā pāinu maroṁ āpanāra duḥkhe Kṛṣṇa not I have attained I am dying in my own grief
more ‘brahma’ upadeśe ei chāra mūrkhe
to me ‘Brahman’ teaches this wretched fool

23 I am leaving this world in my own grief, not having attained Kṛṣṇa, and now this wretched fool would teach me about Brahman!”

Through the offense of disrespect for the guru arises the desire for sense enjoyment, that is, worldly desire —

এই যে শ্রীমাধবেন্দ্রপাদ উপেক্ষা করিল । সেই অপরাধে ইঁহার ‘বাসনা’ জন্মিল ॥ ২৪ ॥

ei ye śrī-mādhavendrapāda upekṣā karila
this that Śrī Mādhavendrapāda disregard made sei aparādhe iṁhāra ‘vāsanā’ janmila
by that offence his ‘worldly desires’ were born

24 Śrī Mādhavendrapāda thus disregarded him, and through that offence worldly desires (vāsanā) were born in Rāmacandra Purī.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Vāsanā — the desire for dry knowledge; from it arises blasphemy of the devotees.[12]

Anubhāṣya.

On this subject see such statements of scripture as these. The Bhakti-sandarbha (no. 111) quotes the words of the Bhagavat-pariśiṣṭa from the Vāsanā-bhāṣya: "Even those liberated in this life return to worldly desires if they offend the Lord of inconceivable, great power." Śrī Jīva Gosvāmī, in his commentary Laghu-toṣaṇī on Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.2.32, quotes another reading of the same words of the Bhagavat-pariśiṣṭa from the Vāsanā-bhāṣya: "Even those liberated in this life again fall into bondage through karma if they offend the Lord of inconceivable, great power." And the Śrī Viṣṇu-bhakti-candrodaya, in connection with the Ratha-yātrā, quotes the words of another Purāṇa: "Those liberated in this life sometimes fall into worldly desires; but yogīs devoted to the Lord are not stained by karma."

*Not seeing the spiritual variety — Kṛṣṇa and what belongs to Kṛṣṇa (kārṣṇa), that is, His svarūpa, tad-rūpa-vaibhava and so on — he begins to blaspheme Viṣṇu —*

শুষ্ক-ব্রহ্মজ্ঞানী, নাহি কৃষ্ণের 'সম্বন্ধ' । সর্ব্বলোকের নিন্দা করে, নিন্দাতে নির্ব্বন্ধ ॥ ২৫ ॥

śuṣka-brahma-jñānī, nāhi kṛṣṇera 'sambandha'
dry Brahman knower there is not with Kṛṣṇa 'relationship'
sarva-lokera nindā kare, nindāte nirbandha of all people fault-finding makes in fault-finding stubbornly fixed

25 A dry knower of Brahman, he had no relationship with Kṛṣṇa. He found fault with everyone and stubbornly persisted in it.

Anubhāṣya.

Nirbandha — a stubborn attachment to blaming others. The impersonalist Māyāvādīs are unskilled in knowledge of relationship (sambandha-jñāna), and so they cannot accept a relationship with Kṛṣṇa. By the force of mundane argument they apply mundane logic to Brahman. They take devotion to Kṛṣṇa for one of the rites of karma-kāṇḍa, which the seeker of liberation resorts to and which is rooted in the thirst to enjoy fruits. And they blame the Lord's devotees and their transcendental cultivation of devotion, thinking it merely a karmic practice that yields the four goals of life (catur-varga). A living being falls into such terrible ignorance only when he offends the feet of the guru or devotee who is beyond the senses (adhokṣaja).

Śrīla Īśvara Purī's exclusive devotion to his guru —

ঈশ্বরপুরী করেন শ্রীপাদ-সেবন । স্বহস্তে করেন মলমূত্রাদি মার্জ্জন ॥ ২৬ ॥

īśvara-purī karena śrīpāda-sevana Īśvara Purī does to Śrīpāda service
svahaste karena malamūtrādi mārjana
with his own hands does stool, urine and the rest cleaning

26 Īśvara Purī, however, served Śrīpāda Mādhavendra Purī, cleaning away his stool and urine with his own hands.[2]

Anubhāṣya.

Śrīpāda-sevana — service to Śrī Mādhavendra Purīpāda.

An example of ideal service to the guru —

নিরন্তর কৃষ্ণনাম করায় স্মরণ । কৃষ্ণনাম, কৃষ্ণলীলা শুনায় অনুক্ষণ ॥ ২৭ ॥

nirantara kṛṣṇa-nāma karāya smaraṇa constantly Kṛṣṇa's name makes him remember kṛṣṇa-nāma, kṛṣṇa-līlā śunāya anukṣaṇa
Kṛṣṇa's name, Kṛṣṇa's pastimes makes him hear every moment

27 He constantly helped him remember the name of Kṛṣṇa, and at every moment let him hear Kṛṣṇa's name and Kṛṣṇa's pastimes.

Śrī Īśvara Purī receives his guru's grace —

তুষ্ট হঞা পুরী তাঁরে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন । বর দিলা, — কৃষ্ণে তোমার হউক প্রেমধন ॥ ২৮ ॥

tuṣṭa hañā purī tāṁre kailā āliṅgana pleased being Purī him gave an embrace vara dilā, — kṛṣṇe tomāra hauka prema-dhana blessing gave for Kṛṣṇa your may there be of love the treasure

28 Pleased with him, Purī Gosāñi embraced him and gave him a blessing: "May you have the treasure of love for Kṛṣṇa!"

The difference in results: one obtained the guru's mercy, the other his displeasure and was therefore left deprived —

সেই হৈতে ঈশ্বরপুরী — 'প্রেমের সাগর' । রামচন্দ্রপুরী হৈল সর্ব্বনিন্দাকর ॥ ২৯ ॥

sei haite īśvara-purī — 'premera sāgara'
that from Īśvara Purī 'of love an ocean'
rāmacandra-purī haila sarva-nindākara
Rāmacandra Purī became of everyone a fault-finder

29 From then on Īśvara Purī was an ocean of love, while Rāmacandra Purī became one who found fault with everyone.

Through two examples — of receiving the mercy and the punishment of Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas — the world is taught —

মহদনুগ্রহ-নিগ্রহের 'সাক্ষী' দুইজনে । এই দুইদ্বারে শিখাইলা জগজনে ॥ ৩০ ॥

mahad-anugraha-nigrahera 'sākṣī' dui-jane of a great soul's mercy punishment 'witnesses' the two persons ei dui-dvāre śikhāilā jaga-jane
these two through taught the world's people

30 The two of them are witnesses of a great soul's mercy and punishment; through these two he taught the people of the world.

Anubhāṣya.
From the great soul Śrīla Mādhavendra Purī, Īśvara Purī received abundant mercy (anugraha), while Rāmacandra Purī received only punishment (nigraha).

Mādhavendra Gosvāmī departs from the manifest world in the transcendental state of separation —

জগদ্গুরু মাধবেন্দ্র করি' প্রেম দান । এই শ্লোক পড়ি' তেঁহো করিলা অন্তর্দ্ধান ॥ ৩১ ॥

jagad-guru mādhavendra kari' prema dāna
of the world guru Mādhavendra making of love a gift
ei śloka paḍi' teṁho karilā antarddhāna
this verse reciting he made departure from the world

31 Having given the gift of love, Mādhavendra, the guru of the world, recited this verse and departed from this world:

*(The words of Mādhavendra Purī quoted in the Padyāvalī, no. 330)*

অয়ি দীনদয়ার্দ্র নাথ হে
মথুরানাথ কদাবলোক্যসে ।
হৃদয়ং ত্বদলোককাতরং দয়িত ভ্রাম্যতি কিং করোম্যহম্ ॥ ৩২ ॥

ayi dīna-dayārdra nātha he O melting with compassion for the wretched Lord O
mathurā-nātha kadāvalokyase of Mathurā Lord when shall You be seen hṛdayaṁ tvad-aloka-kātaraṁ heart at not seeing You stricken dayita bhrāmyati kiṁ karomy aham
O Beloved wanders what do I

32 "O Lord, melting with compassion for the wretched! O Lord of Mathurā, when shall I see You? My heart, stricken at not seeing You, has lost all rest. O Beloved, what am I to do?" (Padyāvalī, 330)[3]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 4.197.

The inner meaning, that is, the purport of the verse —

এই শ্লোকে কৃষ্ণপ্রেম করে উপদেশ । কৃষ্ণের বিরহে, ভক্তের ভাববিশেষ ॥ ৩৩ ॥

ei śloke kṛṣṇa-prema kare upadeśa
in this verse love for Kṛṣṇa makes teaching kṛṣṇera virahe, bhaktera bhāva-viśeṣa
of Kṛṣṇa in separation of the devotee bhāva special

33 This verse teaches love for Kṛṣṇa — the special feeling (bhāva-viśeṣa) a devotee knows in separation from Him.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhāva-viśeṣa (a special feeling) — the manifestation of the feeling of separation. In the community of the prākṛta-sahajiyās, practitioners commit all kinds of excesses in the name of sambhoga (union), and so they obstruct the realization of the true nature of separation (vipralambha).

Mādhavendra is the sprout of the wish-fulfilling tree of love for Kṛṣṇa; Śrī Caitanya Himself is the main tree, grown from that sprout and fully developed —

পৃথিবীতে রোপণ করি' গেলা প্রেমাঙ্কুর । সেই প্রেমাঙ্কুরের বৃক্ষ — চৈতন্যঠাকুর ॥ ৩৪ ॥

pṛthivīte ropaṇa kari' gelā premāṅkura
on the earth planting making went of love the sprout
sei premāṅkurera vṛkṣa — caitanya-ṭhākura
that of love of the sprout the tree Caitanya Ṭhākura

34 He planted the sprout of love on the earth and departed. Śrī Caitanya Ṭhākura is the tree that grew from that sprout of love.

Hearing of Mādhavendra's departure, living beings learn service born of separation from Kṛṣṇa —

প্রস্তাবে কহিলুঁ পুরী-গোসাঞির নির্য্যাণ । যেই ইহা শুনে, সেই বড় ভাগ্যবান্ ॥ ৩৫ ॥

prastāve kahiluṁ purī-gosāñira niryāṇa
in this context I have told Purī Gosāñi's departure
yei ihā śune, sei baḍa bhāgyavān
whoever this hears he very fortunate

35 In this context I have told of Purī Gosāñi's departure from this world. Whoever hears of it is greatly fortunate.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Niryāṇa — departure from the manifest world (aprakaṭa).

Rāmacandra Purī's dry renunciation —

রামচন্দ্রপুরী ঐছে রহিলা নীলাচলে । বিরক্ত স্বভাব, কভু রহে কোন স্থলে ॥ ৩৬ ॥

rāmacandra-purī aiche rahilā nīlācale Rāmacandra Purī thus stayed in Nīlācala virakta svabhāva, kabhu rahe kona sthale
renounced by nature sometimes stays in some place

36 So Rāmacandra Purī stayed on in Nīlācala. Renounced by nature, he would stay now in one place, now in another.

Rāmacandra Purī hunts for the faults of others —

অনিমন্ত্রণ ভিক্ষা করে, নাহিক নির্ণয় । অন্যের ভিক্ষার স্থিতির লয়েন নিশ্চয় ॥ ৩৭ ॥

animantraṇa bhikṣā kare, nāhika nirṇaya
uninvited meal takes there is no fixed rule anyera bhikṣāra sthitira layena niścaya
of others' meals the arrangement takes account

37 He took his meals uninvited, with no fixed rule, and he kept account of how others took their meals.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Anyera bhikṣāra sthitira — he found out the rule of other people's meals: what and how much they eat.

Anubhāṣya.
"Rāmacandra Purī passes his days keeping an account of others' affairs: where another sannyāsī takes alms and how much, where he stays, and so on." Niścaya — account.

The Lord's daily meals: Govinda and Kāśīśvara, disciples of Śrī Īśvara Purī, ate together with the Lord —

প্রভুর নিমন্ত্রণে লাগে কৌড়ি চারি পণ । কভু কাশীশ্বর, গোবিন্দ খান তিন জন ॥ ৩৮ ॥

prabhura nimantraṇe lāge kauḍi cāri paṇa
the Lord's for the invitation is needed cowries four paṇas
kabhu kāśīśvara, govinda khāna tina jana sometimes Kāśīśvara Govinda eat three persons

38 To invite the Lord for a meal cost four paṇas of cowries, for sometimes Kāśīśvara and Govinda ate as well, three persons in all.[4]

প্রত্যহ প্রভুর ভিক্ষা ইতি-উতি হয় । কেহ যদি মূল্য আনে, চারিপণ-নির্ণয় ॥ ৩৯ ॥

pratyaha prabhura bhikṣā iti-uti haya daily the Lord's meal here and there is keha yadi mūlya āne, cāri-paṇa-nirṇaya someone if the price brings four paṇas fixed

39 Every day the Lord took His meal at one place or another. If someone brought money for it, the amount was fixed at four paṇas.

Thinking even the Lord Himself mortal, he seeks faults in Him —

প্রভুর স্থিতি, রীতি, ভিক্ষা, শয়ন, প্রয়াণ । রামচন্দ্রপুরী করে সর্ব্বানুসন্ধান ॥ ৪০ ॥

prabhura sthiti, rīti, bhikṣā, śayana, prayāṇa
the Lord's stay ways meals sleep going out rāmacandra-purī kare sarvānusandhāna
Rāmacandra Purī makes all inquiry

40 Rāmacandra Purī inquired into everything about the Lord: where He stayed, His ways, His meals, His sleep and His going out.

Svayam Bhagavān, Adhokṣaja, is complete and faultless —

প্রভুর যতেক গুণ স্পর্শিতে নারিল । ছিদ্র চাহি' বুলে, কাঁহা ছিদ্র না পাইল ॥ ৪১ ॥

prabhura yateka guṇa sparśite nārila
the Lord's all qualities to touch could not chidra cāhi' bule, kāṁhā chidra nā pāila faults seeking he goes about anywhere fault not found

41 He could not grasp a single one of the Lord's virtues. He went about seeking faults, but found none anywhere.

*Injunctions and prohibitions for a sannyāsī —*

সন্ন্যাসী হঞা করে মিষ্টান্ন ভক্ষণ । এই ভোগে হয় কৈছে ইন্দ্রিয়-বারণ ? ॥ ৪২ ॥

sannyāsī hañā kare miṣṭānna bhakṣaṇa
a sannyāsī being makes of sweets eating ei bhoge haya kaiche indriya-vāraṇa?
by this enjoyment is how of the senses control

42 "He is a sannyāsī, yet He eats sweets! With such enjoyment, how can there be control of the senses?"

He blames the Lord everywhere, yet comes to see Him every day —

এই নিন্দা করি' কহে সর্ব্বলোক-স্থানে । প্রভুরে দেখিতেহ অবশ্য আইসে প্রতিদিনে ॥ ৪৩ ॥

ei nindā kari' kahe sarva-loka-sthāne
this fault-finding making he speaks of all people in the presence prabhure dekhiteha avaśya āise prati-dine
the Lord to see still he comes every day

43 Finding this fault, he spoke of it before everyone; and yet he came every day to see the Lord.

The Lord gives him the milk of respect; Rāmacandra spews the poison of blame —

প্রভু গুরুবুদ্ধ্যে করেন সম্ভ্রম, সম্মান । তেঁহো ছিদ্র চাহি' বুলে, — এই তার কাম ॥ ৪৪ ॥

prabhu guru-buddhye karena sambhrama, sammāna
the Lord as a guru regarding him makes reverence honour
teṁho chidra cāhi' bule, — ei tāra kāma
he faults seeking goes about this his occupation

44 Regarding him as a guru, the Lord showed him reverence and honour, but he went about looking for faults — that was his occupation.

Even hearing Himself blamed, the Lord gives Purī the honor due to his position, and thereby deceives him —

যত নিন্দা করে তাহা প্রভু সব জানে । তথাপি আদর করে বড়ই সম্ভ্রমে ॥ ৪৫ ॥

yata nindā kare tāhā prabhu saba jāne
whatever fault-finding he makes that the Lord all knows tathāpi ādara kare baḍai sambhrame
still respect makes very great with reverence

45 The Lord knew all the fault-finding he did, yet He still treated him with great respect and reverence.

One morning, seeing lines of ants in the Lord's house, he blames the renunciation of the Lord, Svayam Bhagavān, and leaves —

একদিন প্রাতঃকালে আইলা প্রভুর ঘর । পিপীলিকা দেখি' কিছু কহেন উত্তর ॥ ৪৬ ॥

ekadina prātaḥ-kāle āilā prabhura ghara
one day in the morning came of the Lord to the house
pipīlikā dekhi' kichu kahena uttara
ants seeing something says in reply

46 One morning he came to the Lord's house. Seeing ants there, he made a remark:

(The words of Rāmacandra Purī)

রাত্রাবত্র ঐক্ষবমাসীৎ,
তেন পিপীলিকাঃ সঞ্চরন্তি । অহো !
বিরক্তানাং সন্ন্যাসিনামিয়মিন্দ্রিয়- লালসেতি ব্রুবন্নুত্থায় গতঃ ॥ ৪৭ ॥

rātrāv atra aikṣavam āsīt,
at night here sugarcane molasses was tena pipīlikāḥ sañcaranti. aho!
therefore ants are moving about alas
viraktānāṁ sannyāsinām iyam indriya-of renounced sannyāsīs this for the senses
lālaseti bruvannutthāya gataḥ craving so saying getting up he went

47 “Last night there was sugarcane molasses here; that is why the ants are crawling about. Alas! Such is the craving of the senses in renounced sannyāsīs!” Saying this, he got up and left.[5]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

“Last night there was cane molasses (guḍa) here; that is why the ants are crawling about. Alas, such is the craving of renounced sannyāsīs for sense enjoyment!” Saying this, he got up and left.

Anubhāṣya.

Mahāprabhu is Svayam Bhagavān, the complete and faultless form, beyond such material qualities as contemptibility. Rāmacandra tried hard to find some fault or other in Him but did not succeed. He saw no sweets of any kind in the Lord's house, but, noticing many ants crawling about, he guessed that there had been molasses there at night. His aim was to point out some fault and thereby magnify himself.

With His own ears the Lord hears Purī's false blame —

প্রভু পরম্পরায় নিন্দা কৈরাছেন শ্রবণ । এবে সাক্ষাৎ শুনিলেন ‘কল্পিত’ নিন্দন ॥ ৪৮ ॥

prabhu paramparāya nindā kairāchena śravaṇa
the Lord through others fault-finding had heard ebe sākṣāt śunilena ‘kalpita’ nindana
now directly He heard ‘invented’ blame

48 The Lord had heard of his fault-finding through others; now He heard the invented blame with His own ears.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Kalpita nindana — a falsely imputed accusation.

*Faults are imputed to Bhagavān only under the sway of misapprehension (vivarta) —*

সহজেই পিপীলিকা সর্ব্বত্র বেড়ায় । তাহাতে তর্ক উঠাঞা দোষ লাগায় ॥ ৪৯ ॥

sahajei pipīlikā sarvatra beḍāya
naturally ants everywhere wander tāhāte tarka uṭhāñā doṣa lāgāya
in that argument raising a fault he attaches

49 Ants naturally wander about everywhere, yet he raised an argument from it and attached a fault to the Lord.

*Hearing Himself blamed, the Lord, in the role of the ācārya, the guru of the world, feels fear and shame —*

শুনি’ তাহা প্রভুর সঙ্কোচ-ভয় মনে । গোবিন্দে বোলাঞা কিছু কহেন বচনে ॥ ৫০ ॥

śuni’ tāhā prabhura saṅkoca-bhaya mane hearing that of the Lord embarrassment fear in the mind
govinde bolāñā kichu kahena vacane
Govinda calling some says words

50 Hearing this, the Lord felt embarrassment and fear in His mind. He called Govinda and spoke to him:

The Lord reduces His daily meal and fixes its measure with Govinda —

আজি হৈতে ভিক্ষা আমার এই ত’ নিয়ম । পিণ্ডাভোগের এক চৌঠি, পাঁচগণ্ডার ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ৫১ ॥

āji haite bhikṣā āmāra ei ta' niyama
today from meal My this indeed rule
piṇḍā-bhogera eka cauṭhi, pāṁca-gaṇḍāra vyañjana of the piṇḍā-bhoga one quarter of five gaṇḍās' worth vegetables

51 "From today this is the rule for My meals: a quarter-pot of the rice offered on Jagannātha's altar (piṇḍā-bhoga), and vegetables worth five gaṇḍās.

Anubhāṣya.
The rice prasāda of Jagannāthadeva is obtained in clay pots. A quarter of a pot of the standard measure (pramāṇa) is called ek-cauṭhi.

He threatens to leave the place if more than this measure is taken —

ইহা বই অধিক আর কিছু না লইবা । অধিক আনিলে আমা এথা না দেখিবা ॥ ৫২ ॥

ihā bai adhika āra kichu nā laibā
this except more other anything not you shall take adhika ānile āmā ethā nā dekhibā
more if you bring Me here not you shall see

52 Take nothing more than this. If you bring more, you will not see Me here again."

The Lord's stern order is announced to all the devotees; all are in terrible grief —

সকল বৈষ্ণবে গোবিন্দ কহে এই বাত্ । শুনি' সবার মাথে যৈছে হৈল বজ্রাঘাত ॥ ৫৩ ॥

sakala vaiṣṇave govinda kahe ei bāt
to all the Vaiṣṇavas Govinda tells this news
śuni' sabāra māthe yaiche haila vajrāghāta hearing of everyone on the head as if there was a thunderbolt's stroke

53 Govinda told all the Vaiṣṇavas this news. Hearing it, they felt as if a thunderbolt had struck their heads.

The devotees blame the wicked Rāmacandra Purī, seeing him as the opponent of the Lord, who is dearer to them than life —

রামচন্দ্রপুরীকে সবায় দেয় তিরস্কার । এই পাপিষ্ঠ আসি' প্রাণ লইল সবার ॥ ৫৪ ॥

rāmacandra-purīke sabāya deya tiraskāra Rāmacandra Purī everyone gives rebuke ei pāpiṣṭha āsi' prāṇa laila sabāra
this great sinner coming life has taken of all

54 Everyone reproached Rāmacandra Purī: "This sinner has come here and taken the life of us all!"

*Govinda takes prasāda for the Lord only in the prescribed measure; the brāhmaṇa grieves that the Lord eats so little —*

সেইদিন একবিপ্র কৈল নিমন্ত্রণ ।
এক-চৌঠি ভাত, পাঁচ-গণ্ডার ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ৫৫ ॥

এই মাত্র গোবিন্দ কৈল অঙ্গীকার । মাথায় ঘা মারে বিপ্র, করে হাহাকার ॥ ৫৬ ॥

sei-dina eka-vipra kaila nimantraṇa
that day a brāhmaṇa made invitation
eka-cauṭhi bhāta, pāṁca-gaṇḍāra vyañjana
one quarter-pot rice of five gaṇḍās' worth vegetables ei mātra govinda kaila aṅgīkāra
this only Govinda made acceptance
māthāya ghā māre vipra, kare hāhākāra
on his head blows strikes the brāhmaṇa makes lamentation

55–56 That day a brāhmaṇa invited the Lord. Govinda accepted only a quarter-pot of rice and vegetables worth five gaṇḍās, and the brāhmaṇa struck his head and cried out in grief.

The Lord eats half, Govinda receives the remaining half; the devotees give up food and water —

সেই ভাত-ব্যঞ্জন প্রভু অর্দ্ধেক খাইল । যে কিছু রহিল, তাহা গোবিন্দ পাইল ॥ ৫৭ ॥

sei bhāta-vyañjana prabhu arddheka khāila that rice vegetables the Lord half ate ye kichu rahila, tāhā govinda pāila
whatever remained that Govinda received

57 The Lord ate half of the rice and vegetables, and whatever remained Govinda received.

অর্দ্ধাশন করেন প্রভু, গোবিন্দ অর্দ্ধাশন । সব ভক্তগণ তবে ছাড়িল ভোজন ॥ ৫৮ ॥

arddhāśana karena prabhu, govinda arddhāśana half a meal takes the Lord Govinda half a meal
saba bhakta-gaṇa tabe chāḍila bhojana
all the devotees then gave up eating

58 The Lord ate half a meal and Govinda half a meal, and then all the devotees gave up eating.[6]

The Lord tells Govinda and Kāśīśvara to take their meals elsewhere —

গোবিন্দ-কাশীশ্বরে প্রভুর কৈলা আজ্ঞাপন । দুঁহে অন্যত্র মাগি' কর উদর ভরণ ॥ ৫৯ ॥

govinda-kāśīśvare prabhura kailā ājñāpana
to Govinda Kāśīśvara the Lord's was made order duṁhe anyatra māgi' kara udara bharaṇa
you two elsewhere begging do of the belly filling

59 The Lord ordered Govinda and Kāśīśvara, "You two beg elsewhere and fill your stomachs."

Hearing that the devotees grieve because the Lord has reduced His eating, Rāmacandra comes to the Lord —

এইরূপ মহাদুঃখে দিন কত গেল । শুনি' রামচন্দ্রপুরী প্রভু-পাশ আইল ॥ ৬০ ॥

ei-rūpa mahā-duḥkhe dina kata gela
in this way in great grief days some passed śuni' rāmacandra-purī prabhu-pāśa āila hearing Rāmacandra Purī the Lord near came

60 Some days passed in this great grief. Hearing of it, Rāmacandra Purī came to the Lord.

*The Lord, in the role of the ācārya who honors others (mānada), always honors Rāmacandra —*

প্রণাম করি' প্রভু কৈলা চরণ বন্দন । প্রভুরে কহয়ে কিছু হাসিয়া বচন ॥ ৬১ ॥

praṇāma kari' prabhu kailā caraṇa vandana obeisance making the Lord did at the feet homage prabhure kahaye kichu hāsiyā vacana
to the Lord says some smiling words

61 The Lord bowed down and paid homage at his feet, and the Purī, smiling, spoke to the Lord:

*He instructs the Lord in the dharma of a renunciant (yati-dharma) —*

সন্ন্যাসীর ধর্ম্ম নহে 'ইন্দ্রিয়-তর্পণ' । যৈছে তৈছে করে মাত্র উদর ভরণ ॥ ৬২ ॥

sannyāsīra dharma nahe 'indriya-tarpaṇa'
a sannyāsī's dharma is not 'of the senses gratification' yaiche taiche kare mātra udara bharaṇa
somehow or other makes only of the belly filling

62 "A sannyāsī's dharma is not to gratify the senses. He just fills his stomach somehow or other.

*Only in words does he preach that dry renunciation is contrary to sannyāsa, that is, to bhakti —*

তোমারে ক্ষীণ দেখি, শুনি, — কর অর্দ্ধাশন । এই 'শুষ্ক-বৈরাগ্য' নহে সন্ন্যাসীর 'ধর্ম্ম' ॥ ৬৩ ॥

tomāre kṣīṇa dekhi, śuni, — kara arddhāśana
You thin I see I hear You make half-eating ei 'śuṣka-vairāgya' nahe sannyāsīra 'dharma'
this 'dry renunciation' is not a sannyāsī's 'dharma'

63 I see that You have grown thin, and I hear You eat only half Your meals. This dry renunciation is not a sannyāsī's dharma.

*In every circumstance perfection is attained only through proper renunciation (yukta-vairāgya) —*

যথাযোগ্য উদর ভরে, না করে 'বিষয়' ভোগ । সন্ন্যাসীর তবে সিদ্ধ হয় জ্ঞানযোগ ॥ ৬৪ ॥

yathā-yogya udara bhare, nā kare 'viṣaya' bhoga
as is fitting the belly fills not makes 'sense objects' enjoyment sannyāsīra tabe siddha haya jñāna-yoga
of a sannyāsī then perfected becomes of knowledge yoga

64 When he fills his stomach as is fitting and does not enjoy sense objects, then a sannyāsī's jñāna-yoga is perfected.

*Everywhere the anarthas are destroyed only by bhakti-yoga joined with proper renunciation — (Bhagavad-gītā, ch. 6, verses 16–17)*

নাত্যশ্নতোঽপি যোগোঽস্তি ন চৈকান্তমনশ্নতঃ । ন চাতিস্বপ্নশীলস্য জাগ্রতো নৈব চার্জ্জুন ॥ ৬৫ ॥

nāty-aśnato 'pi yogo 'sti not of one who eats too much even yoga is na caikāntam anaśnataḥ
not and entirely of one who does not eat na cāti-svapna-śīlasya
not and too much sleep of one given to jāgrato naiva cārjuna
of one who keeps awake not indeed and O Arjuna

65 'O Arjuna, there is no yoga for one who eats too much, nor for one who does not eat at all, nor for one given to too much sleep, nor for one who stays awake too long.' (Bhagavad-gītā, 6.16)

Anubhāṣya.
O Arjuna, atyaśnataḥ (of one accustomed to eating too much) tu yogaḥ na asti, na ca ekāntam anaśnataḥ (nor of one intent on eating too little, who does not eat at all), na ca ati-svapna-śīlasya (nor of one accustomed to sleeping much), na ca jāgrataḥ (nor of one who does not sleep) eva yogaḥ (asti).

যুক্তাহারবিহারস্য যুক্তচেষ্টস্য কর্ম্মসু ৷ যুক্তস্বপ্নাববোধস্য যোগো ভবতি দুঃখহা ॥ ৬৬ ॥

yuktāhāra-vihārasya
of one regulated in eating and recreation
yukta-ceṣṭasya karmasu regulated in effort in actions
yukta-svapnāvabodhasya regulated in sleep and waking yogo bhavati duḥkha-hā
yoga becomes of sorrows the destroyer

66 'For one who is regulated in eating and recreation, regulated in his efforts at work, and regulated in sleep and waking, yoga becomes the destroyer of all sorrow.'" (Bhagavad-gītā, 6.17)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O Arjuna, by eating much there is no yoga; by not eating at all there is no yoga either; nor does it come by much sleep or by giving up sleep. But when eating, recreation and all activities — effort, sleep, waking and so on — are kept in proper measure, the yoga that destroys suffering arises.

Anubhāṣya.
yuktāhāra-vihārasya (of one who keeps measure in eating, rest and the like) karmasu (in activities, such as the performance of sādhana) yukta-ceṣṭasya (of one who keeps measure in his undertakings) yukta-svapnāvabodhasya (of one firmly keeping measure in sleep and waking) duḥkha-hā (ending all suffering) yogaḥ bhavati.

*The Lord's humble words — the ideal of the dharma of one who seeks no honor (amānī) —*

প্রভু কহে, — অজ্ঞ বালক মুই 'শিষ্য' তোমার ৷ মোরে শিক্ষা দেহ', — এই ভাগ্য আমার ॥ ৬৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — ajña bālaka mui 'śiṣya' tomāra
the Lord says ignorant boy I 'disciple' your more śikṣā deha', — ei bhāgya āmāra to Me instruction you give this fortune My

67 The Lord said, "I am an ignorant boy, your disciple. That you instruct Me is My good fortune."

He hears that the Lord's devotees eat half —

এত শুনি' রামচন্দ্রপুরী উঠি' গেলা । ভক্তগণ অর্দ্ধাশন করে, — গোসাঞি শুনিলা ॥ ৬৮ ॥

eta śuni' rāmacandra-purī uṭhi' gelā
this hearing Rāmacandra Purī getting up went bhakta-gaṇa arddhāśana kare, — gosāñi śunilā
the devotees half-eating make the Gosāñi heard

68 Hearing this, Rāmacandra Purī got up and left. The Gosāñi heard that the devotees were eating only half their meals.

One day the devotees headed by Paramānanda Purī appeal to the Lord about how much He should eat (literally, "about taking measured food") and censure before Him Rāmacandra Purī's nature and conduct —

আর দিন ভক্তগণ-সহ পরমানন্দপুরী । প্রভু-পাশে নিবেদিলা দৈন্য-বিনয় করি' ॥ ৬৯ ॥

āra dina bhakta-gaṇa-saha paramānanda-purī
another day the devotees with Paramānanda Purī prabhu-pāśe nivedilā dainya-vinaya kari'
to the Lord near submitted humility courtesy making

69 On another day Paramānanda Purī, with the devotees, humbly and courteously submitted to the Lord:

রামচন্দ্রপুরী হয় নিন্দুক-স্বভাব । তার বোলে অন্ন ছাড়ি' কিবা হবে লাভ ? ॥ ৭০ ॥

rāmacandra-purī haya ninduka-svabhāva Rāmacandra Purī is of a fault-finder the nature
tāra bole anna chāḍi' kibā habe lābha?
his at the word food giving up what will be gain

70 "Rāmacandra Purī has the nature of a fault-finder. What will be gained by giving up food at his word?

পুরীর স্বভাব, — যথেষ্ট আহার করাঞা । যে না খায়, তারে খাওয়ায় যতন করিয়া ॥ ৭১ ॥

purīra svabhāva, — yatheṣṭa āhāra karāñā of the Purī the nature as much as one likes food having made eat
ye nā khāya, tāre khāoyāya yatana kariyā who not eats him he feeds effort making

71 It is the Purī's nature to make people eat as much as they like; and if someone will not eat, he takes great pains to feed him.

খাওয়াঞা পুনঃ তারে করয়ে নিন্দন । এত অন্ন খাও, — তোমার কত আছে ধন ? ॥ ৭২ ॥

khāoyāñā punaḥ tāre karaye nindana having fed then him makes fault-finding eta anna khāo, — tomāra kata āche dhana?
so much food you eat your how much is there wealth

72 Having fed him, he then finds fault with him: 'You eat so much food — how much wealth do you have?

সন্ন্যাসীকে এত খাওয়াঞা কর ধর্ম্ম নাশ !
অতএব জানিনু, — তোমার কিছু নাহি ‘ভাস’ ॥ ৭৩ ॥

sannyāsīke eta khāoyāñā kara dharma nāśa!
a sannyāsī so much feeding you make of dharma ruin
ataeva jāninu, — tomāra kichu nāhi ‘bhāsa’
therefore I know your any there is not ‘semblance’

73 By feeding a sannyāsī so much, you ruin his dharma! Now I see that you have not even a semblance of piety.’[7]

কে কৈছে ব্যবহারে, কেবা কৈছে খায় । এই অনুসন্ধান তেঁহো করয় সদায় ॥ ৭৪ ॥

ke kaiche vyavahāre, kebā kaiche khāya
who how in behaviour who how eats ei anusandhāna teṁho karaya sadāya
this inquiry he makes always

74 He is always inquiring into how each person behaves and how each one eats.

Seeking others' weak points and faults in order to harm them is contrary to scripture and forbidden —

শাস্ত্রে যেই দুই ধর্ম্ম কৈরাছে বর্জ্জন । সেই কর্ম্ম নিরন্তর ইঁহার করণ ॥ ৭৫ ॥

śāstre yei dui dharma kairāche varjana
in the scriptures which two duties have made rejection sei karma nirantara iṁhāra karaṇa
that activity constantly his doing

75 The two things that the scriptures forbid are what he does constantly.

*(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, canto 11, ch. 28, verse 1)*

পরস্বভাবকর্ম্মাণি ন প্রশংসেন্ন গর্হয়েৎ । বিশ্বমেকাত্মকং পশ্যন্ প্রকৃত্যা পুরুষেণ চ ॥ ৭৬ ॥

para-svabhāva-karmāṇi
of others the nature and actions
na praśaṁsen na garhayet
not one should praise not one should blame
viśvam ekātmakaṁ paśyan
the universe of one nature seeing prakṛtyā puruṣeṇa ca
with prakṛti with the puruṣa and 76 ‘One should neither praise nor blame the nature and actions of others, but see the universe as one, a union of prakṛti and the puruṣa.’ (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 11.28.1)[8]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Seeing the universe as one in nature, as the union of prakṛti and puruṣa, one should never praise or blame the nature and deeds of others.

Anubhāṣya.
Śrī Bhagavān describes to Śrī Uddhava the rules of conduct for a pure jñānī:

prakṛtyā puruṣeṇa ca saha ekātmakaṁ viśvaṁ paśyan para-svabhāva-karmāṇi (the nature and deeds of others, that is, their natural occupations and the like, produced by the guṇas — [not doing this] in order to harm them) na praśaṁset, na

garhayet (should not blame).

Scripture aims not at the earlier injunction about praise but at the later one, the prohibition of blame —

তার মধ্যে পূর্ব্ববিধি ‘প্রশংসা’ ছাড়িয়া । পরবিধি ‘নিন্দা’ করে ‘বলিষ্ঠ’ জানিয়া ॥ ৭৭ ॥

tāra madhye pūrva-vidhi ‘praśaṁsā’ chāḍiyā
of them among the earlier injunction ‘praise’ giving up para-vidhi ‘nindā’ kare ‘baliṣṭha’ jāniyā
the later injunction ‘blame’ he does ‘stronger’ knowing it

77 Of the two, he gives up the earlier injunction, praise, and practises the later one, blame, knowing that the later one is ‘stronger’.

Anubhāṣya.
In the verse para-svabhāva… we find an earlier injunction, “do not praise,” and a later one, “do not blame.” Since the later injunction is stronger than the earlier, it follows that praising people is not such a great fault, but blaming them must never be done. Rāmacandra, however, kept the earlier injunction, “do not praise others,” and did not keep the later one, “do not blame others.” So Rāmacandra did not act according to the rule of the later injunction. The meaning of this verse can be explained as ironic.

*The later injunction carries greater weight — (A maxim of nyāya)*

পূর্ব্বপরয়োর্মধ্যে পরবিধির্বলবান্ ॥ ৭৮ ॥

pūrva-parayor madhye para-vidhir balavān
of the earlier and later between the later injunction stronger

78 ‘Between an earlier and a later injunction, the later injunction is stronger.’ (a maxim of Nyāya)[9]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Of an earlier and a later injunction, the later is the stronger.

Anubhāṣya.
prāk-parayor vidhyoḥ madhye (of an earlier and a later injunction) para-vidhiḥ (the later direction) balavān — that is, one should set aside the earlier injunction and accept the later.

Rāmacandra Purī is like a fly —

যাঁহা গুণ শত আছে, তাহা না করে গ্রহণ । গুণমধ্যে ছলে করে দোষ-আরোপণ ॥ ৭৯ ॥

yāṁhā guṇa śata āche, tāhā nā kare grahaṇa
where virtues a hundred are those not makes acceptance guṇa-madhye chale kare doṣa-āropaṇa virtues among by deceit makes of faults imputation

79 Where there are a hundred virtues he accepts none of them; instead he deceitfully imputes faults to those very virtues.

Rāmacandra's conduct and nature cause the devotees piercing pain —

ইঁহার স্বভাব ইঁহা কহিতে না যুয়ায় । তথাপি কহিয়ে কিছু মর্ম্ম-দুঃখ পায় ॥ ৮০ ॥

iṁhāra svabhāva iṁhā kahite nā yuyāya
his nature this to tell not is fitting tathāpi kahiye kichu marma-duḥkha pāya still I tell something heart-felt pain receiving

80 It is not fitting even to speak of his nature. Still I tell You something of it, for it pains us to the heart.[10]

Anubhāṣya.
Pāya — "having suffered."

Taking Rāmacandra's words as worthless, they ask the Lord to eat — ইঁহার বচনে কেনে অন্ন ত্যাগ কর ?

পূর্ব্ববৎ নিমন্ত্রণ মান', — সবার বোল ধর ॥ ৮১ ॥

iṁhāra vacane kene anna tyāga kara?
his at the word why food renunciation You make pūrvavat nimantraṇa māna', — sabāra bola dhara
as before invitations accept of all the request heed

81 Why do You give up food at his word? Accept invitations as before and heed the request of us all."

*The Lord, guru of the world and teacher of people, establishes the rules of the dharma of renunciants. One who equates Īśvara, who is above all rules, with the dependent conditioned jīva is a prākṛta-sahajiyā. And the Lord, though Himself Īśvara, regards Himself as a jīva bound by the rules of renunciation and teaches the ācārya in a renunciant's dress detachment (nairapekṣya) —*[13] প্রভু কহে, — সবে কেনে পুরীরে কর রোষ ?

'সহজ' ধর্ম্ম কহে তেঁহো, তাঁর কিবা দোষ ? ॥ ৮২ ॥

prabhu kahe, — sabe kene purīre kara roṣa?
the Lord says all of you why with the Purī make anger
'sahaja' dharma kahe teṁho, tāṁra kibā doṣa?
'natural' dharma speaks he his what fault

82 The Lord said, "Why are you all angry with the Purī? He speaks the natural dharma of a sannyāsī. What fault is there in him?

যতি হঞা জিহ্বা-লাম্পট্য, — অত্যন্ত অন্যায় । যতির ধর্ম্ম, — প্রাণ রাখিতে আহারমাত্র খায় ॥ ৮৩ ॥

yati hañā jihvā-lāmpaṭya, — atyanta anyāya
a renunciant being of the tongue greed very improper yatira dharma, — prāṇa rākhite āhāra-mātra khāya
a renunciant's dharma life to maintain food only he eats

83 For a renunciant to be greedy of the tongue is very improper. A renunciant's dharma is to eat only as much food as keeps him alive."

At the devotees' insistence the Lord agrees to eat half —

তবে সবে মেলি' প্রভুরে বহু যত্ন কৈলা । সবার আগ্রহে প্রভু অর্দ্ধেক রাখিলা ॥ ৮৪ ॥

tabe sabe meli' prabhure bahu yatna kailā
then all together the Lord much entreaty made sabāra āgrahe prabhu arddheka rākhilā of all at the insistence the Lord half kept

84 Then all of them together entreated the Lord earnestly, and at everyone's insistence the Lord agreed to take half of His former measure.

দুইপণ কৌড়ি লাগে প্রভুর নিমন্ত্রণে । কভু দুইজন ভোক্তা, কভু তিনজনে ॥ ৮৫ ॥

duipaṇa kauḍi lāge prabhura nimantraṇe
two paṇas of cowries is needed the Lord's for the invitation kabhu dui-jana bhoktā, kabhu tina-jane sometimes two persons eaters sometimes three persons

85 To invite the Lord now cost two paṇas of cowries. Sometimes two persons ate, sometimes three.

*The different ways the Lord took meals in the houses of caste brāhmaṇas who were not devotees and of brāhmaṇas fit to sit in the same row at a meal (pāṅkteya) —*

অভোজ্যান্ন বিপ্র যদি করেন নিমন্ত্রণ । প্রসাদ-মূল্য লইতে লাগে কৌড়ি দুইপণ ॥ ৮৬ ॥

abhojyānna vipra yadi karena nimantraṇa whose cooked food may not be eaten a brāhmaṇa if makes invitation prasāda-mūlya laite lāge kauḍi duipaṇa
prasāda the price to take is needed cowries two paṇas

86 If a brāhmaṇa whose cooked food could not be accepted invited the Lord, two paṇas of cowries were needed to buy prasāda.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Abhojyānna vipra — a brāhmaṇa in whose house one may not eat the food (anna) he cooks.

ভোজ্যান্ন বিপ্র যদি নিমন্ত্রণ করে । কিছু 'প্রসাদ' আনে, কিছু পাক করে ঘরে ॥ ৮৭ ॥

bhojyānna vipra yadi nimantraṇa kare whose cooked food may be eaten a brāhmaṇa if invitation makes kichu 'prasāda' āne, kichu pāka kare ghare
some 'prasāda' brings some cooking makes at home

87 If a brāhmaṇa whose cooked food could be accepted invited Him, he would bring some prasāda and cook some at home.

Bhagavān, subordinate to His devotees, eats in the houses of Gadādhara, Bhagavān Ācārya and Sārvabhauma —

পণ্ডিত-গোসাঞি, ভগবান্-আচার্য্য, সার্ব্বভৌম । নিমন্ত্রণের দিনে যদি করে নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ৮৮ ॥

paṇḍita-gosāñi, bhagavān-ācārya, sārvabhauma
Paṇḍita Gosāñi Bhagavān Ācārya Sārvabhauma
nimantraṇera dine yadi kare nimantraṇa of invitation on the day if make invitation

88 But when Paṇḍita Gosāñi, Bhagavān Ācārya or Sārvabhauma invited Him, তাঁ-সবার ইচ্ছায় প্রভু করেন ভোজন । তাঁহা প্রভুর স্বাতন্ত্র্য নাই, যৈছে তাঁর মন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

tāṁ-sabāra icchāya prabhu karena bhojana
of them all by the wish the Lord takes meal
tāṁhā prabhura svātantrya nāi, yaiche tāṁra mana
there the Lord's independence is not as their mind

89 the Lord ate as they wished. In their homes He had no independence: all was as they desired.

The purpose of the Lord's descent and the way He acts —

ভক্তগণে সুখ দিতে প্রভুর 'অবতার' । যাঁহা যৈছে যোগ্য, তাঁহা করেন ব্যবহার ॥ ৯০ ॥

bhakta-gaṇe sukha dite prabhura 'avatāra'
to the devotees happiness to give the Lord's 'descent'
yāṁhā yaiche yogya, tāṁhā karena vyavahāra
where how fitting there He makes conduct

90 The Lord descended to give happiness to His devotees, and He acted as was fitting in each place and situation.

*Sometimes the Lord behaves like a worldly jīva and thereby deceives; sometimes, as the Supreme Lord, He bestows full mercy —*

কভু লৌকিক রীতি, — যেন 'ইতর' জন । কভু স্বতন্ত্র, করেন 'ঐশ্বর্য্য' প্রকটন ॥ ৯১ ॥

kabhu laukika rīti, — yena 'itara' jana sometimes worldly ways as if 'ordinary' person kabhu svatantra, karena 'aiśvarya' prakaṭana
sometimes independent makes 'divine majesty' manifestation

91 Sometimes He followed worldly ways, like an ordinary person; sometimes, being independent, He displayed His divine majesty (aiśvarya).

Sometimes He gives Rāmacandra Purī worldly respect, sometimes He disregards him like a straw —

কভু রামচন্দ্রপুরীর হয় ভৃত্যপ্রায় । কভু তারে নাহি মানে, দেখে তৃণ-প্রায় ॥ ৯২ ॥

kabhu rāmacandra-purīra haya bhṛtya-prāya sometimes of Rāmacandra Purī is a servant almost kabhu tāre nāhi māne, dekhe tṛṇa-prāya sometimes him not regards sees a straw like

92 Sometimes He was almost like a servant of Rāmacandra Purī; sometimes He paid him no regard and looked on him as a straw.

All the conduct of the inconceivable Īśvara is eternal, auspicious and beautiful —

ঈশ্বর-চরিত্র প্রভুর — বুদ্ধির অগোচর । যবে যেই করেন, সেই সব — মনোহর ॥ ৯৩ ॥

īśvara-caritra prabhura — buddhira agocara divine conduct of the Lord of the intellect beyond the reach yabe yei karena, sei saba — manohara
when whatever He does that all enchanting

93 The Lord's divine conduct is beyond the reach of the intellect. Whatever He does, at whatever time, is wholly enchanting.

Abandoning the shelter of Bhagavān, Rāmacandra goes on pilgrimage —

এইমত রামচন্দ্রপুরী নীলাচলে । দিন কত রহি' গেলা 'তীর্থ' করিবারে ॥ ৯৪ ॥

ei-mata rāmacandra-purī nīlācale
in this way Rāmacandra Purī in Nīlācala
dina kata rahi' gelā 'tīrtha' karibāre days some staying went 'pilgrimage' to make

94 In this way Rāmacandra Purī stayed some days in Nīlācala and then left on pilgrimage.

The devotees' hearts are relieved, and they breathe freely again —

তেঁহো গেলে প্রভুর গণ হৈল হরষিত । শিরের পাথর যেন পড়িল আচম্বিত ॥ ৯৫ ॥

teṁho gele prabhura gaṇa haila haraṣita
he when gone the Lord's associates became delighted śirera pāthara yena paḍila ācambita
from the head a stone as if fell suddenly

95 When he had gone, the Lord's associates were delighted, as if a stone had suddenly fallen from their heads.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śirera pāthara — just as one feels light when a heavy stone suddenly falls from one's head, so it happened.

Thus ends the eighth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Giving up the worldly rules of dry renunciation, the devotees, whose life is Gaura, please the Lord with their whole being —

স্বচ্ছন্দে নিমন্ত্রণ, প্রভুর কীর্ত্তন-নর্ত্তন । স্বচ্ছন্দে করেন সবে প্রসাদ ভোজন ॥ ৯৬ ॥ svacchande nimantraṇa, prabhura kīrtana-nartana freely invitations the Lord's kīrtana dancing svacchande karena sabe prasāda bhojana freely make all prasāda eating

96 Freely the Lord again accepted invitations and freely He sang kīrtana and danced; freely everyone again ate prasāda.

*When a guru rejects a jīva for disrespect, the result is hostility to Viṣṇu, that is, godlessness (pāṣaṇḍatā) —*

গুরু উপেক্ষা কৈলে, ঐছে ফল হয় । ক্রমে ঈশ্বরপর্য্যন্ত অপরাধে ঠেকয় ॥ ৯৭ ॥

guru upekṣā kaile, aiche phala haya
the guru disregard if he makes such result is krame īśvara-paryanta aparādhe ṭhekaya
gradually the Lord even up to in offences one becomes caught

97 When the guru disregards someone, such is the result: gradually he comes to offend even the Lord.

Through the conduct of the offender Rāmacandra the Lord teaches the world —

যদ্যপি গুরুবুদ্ধ্যে প্রভু তার দোষ না লইল । তার ফলদ্বারা লোকে শিক্ষা করাইল ॥ ৯৮ ॥

yadyapi guru-buddhye prabhu tāra doṣa nā laila although as a guru regarding him the Lord his fault not took tāra phala-dvārā loke śikṣā karāila of it the fruit by means of the people teaching gave 98 Regarding him as a guru, the Lord did not hold his faults against him; yet through the fruit they bore He taught the people.

*For one who drinks the Caitanya-caritāmṛta with the cups of the ears, it becomes an elixir for heart and ears —*

চৈতন্যচরিত্র — যেন অমৃতের পূর । শুনিতে শ্রবণে মনে লাগয়ে মধুর ॥ ৯৯ ॥

caitanya-caritra — yena amṛtera pūra Caitanya's conduct like of nectar a flood śunite śravaṇe mane lāgaye madhura
in hearing to the ears to the mind feels sweet

99 Śrī Caitanya's conduct is like a flood of nectar; when heard, it is sweet to the ears and to the mind.

Simply by hearing of Caitanya's deeds one attains love for Kṛṣṇa —

চৈতন্যচরিত্র লিখি, শুন একমনে । অনায়াসে পাবে প্রেম শ্রীকৃষ্ণচরণে ॥ ১০০ ॥

caitanya-caritra likhi, śuna eka-mane Caitanya's conduct I write hear with one mind
anāyāse pābe prema śrī-kṛṣṇa-caraṇe easily you will attain love of Śrī Kṛṣṇa at the feet

100 I write of Śrī Caitanya's conduct: hear it with undivided attention, and you will easily attain love for the feet of Śrī Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the eighth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১০১ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

101 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.[11]

Notes

1. The first line is the same as Ādi 8.4; translated as there. ↩
2. Śrī Īśvara Purī is the Guru of Mahāprabhu. ↩
3. The same verse as Madhya 4.197; translated as there. Here it is spoken by Mādhavendra Purī himself. The source follows the heading in the edition of this chapter: “the words of Mādhavendra Purī, given in the Padyāvalī as number 330” (the heading to Madhya 4.197 gives number 400); the Anubhāṣya refers to Madhya 4.197. ↩
4. A paṇa is eighty cowries. ↩
5. Aikṣava — molasses from sugarcane (Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya). ↩
6. The Lord ate half of the appointed quarter-pot, and Govinda the rest (57). ↩
7. Bhāsa — “a semblance, a shadow” ↩
8. Ekātmakam — “one in nature” ↩
9. The source follows the heading in the edition: “a maxim of Nyāya” (nyāya-vacana). ↩
10. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads iṅhā kahite, “to speak of this” (another reading: iṅhā karite, “to act so”). ↩
11. The colophon verse is the same as Antya 2.172; translated as there. ↩
12. In the verse translation, otherwise: “This offense against his teacher awakened many worldly desires in Rāmacandra Purī”; for the commentator, vāsanā is the desire for dry knowledge. ↩
13. It is not clear from the text who this ācārya in a renunciant's dress is; from the course of the story, probably Paramānanda Purī, who together with the devotees appeals to the Lord (vv. 69–81). Another reading is also possible: the “ācārya in a renunciant’s dress” is the Lord Himself, who, accepting the reproach, thereby teaches others (cf. subheadings 50 and 61). ↩

“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 9

The Deliverance of Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. This chapter tells how Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka, the son of Bhavānanda Rāya, squandered the king's money and so fell out of favor with the Baḍa Jānā. For this he was first raised onto the cāṅga (the execution platform), and afterward the Lord, bestowing His mercy in disguise, rescued and elevated him.

*By the mercy of Gaura's devotees even lowly worldly people (viṣayīs) attain love for Kṛṣṇa —*

অগণ্যধন্যচৈতন্যগণানাং প্রেমবন্যয়া । নিন্যেঽধন্যজনস্বান্তমরুঃ শশ্বদনূপতাম্ ॥ ১ ॥

agaṇya-dhanya-caitanyacountless blessed of Caitanya’s
gaṇānāṁ prema-vanyayā associates by the flood of love
ninye ’dhanya-jana-svānta-
was brought of unfortunate people the hearts’
maruḥ śaśvad anūpatām
desert forever to the state of a well-watered land

1 By the flood of their love, the countless blessed associates of Śrī Caitanya have turned the desert of unfortunate hearts forever into a well-watered land.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The flood of prema of Caitanya's countless devotees filled with water the desert that was the hearts of unfortunate people.

Anubhāṣya.
agaṇya-dhanya-caitanya-gaṇānām (of Caitanya's associates, the devotees who have taken shelter at His feet, who are countless, impossible to count, and blessed, having attained perfection) prema-vanyayā (by the flood of prema — by a stream of water overflowing the bed of the river of love) adhanya-jana-svānta-maruḥ (the desert of the hearts of the unfortunate — the waterless desert that the hearts of lowly people devoid of bhakti resemble) śaśvat (constantly) anūpatām (to the state of a well-watered land, almost wholly covered with water) ninye (was brought).

জয় জয় শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য দয়াময় । জয় জয় নিত্যানন্দ করুণ-হৃদয় ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanya dayāmaya glory glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya the merciful jaya jaya nityānanda karuṇa-hṛdaya glory glory to Nityānanda whose heart is compassionate

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the merciful! Glory, glory to Nityānanda, whose heart is full of compassion![1]

জয়াদ্বৈতাচার্য্য জয় জয় দয়াময় । জয় গৌরভক্তগণ সব রসময় ॥ ৩ ॥

jayādvaitācārya jaya jaya dayāmaya glory to Advaitācārya glory glory the merciful jaya gaura-bhakta-gaṇa saba rasamaya glory to Gaura's devotees all full of rasa

3 Glory to Advaitācārya; glory, glory to the merciful one! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura, who are full of rasa!

The Lord's pastimes with His devotees in Nīlācala —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু ভক্তগণ সঙ্গে । নীলাচলে বাস করেন কৃষ্ণপ্রেমরঙ্গে ॥ ৪ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu bhakta-gaṇa saṅge
thus Mahāprabhu with the devotees
nīlācale vāsa karena kṛṣṇa-prema-raṅge
in Nīlācala residence makes in the joy of love for Kṛṣṇa

4 In this way Mahāprabhu lived in Nīlācala with His devotees, in the joy of love for Kṛṣṇa.

Within and without, the Lord is overwhelmed by love in separation from Kṛṣṇa —

অন্তরে-বাহিরে কৃষ্ণবিরহ-তরঙ্গ । নানা-ভাবে ব্যাকুল প্রভুর মন আর অঙ্গ ॥ ৫ ॥

antare-bāhire kṛṣṇa-viraha-taraṅga
within and without of separation from Kṛṣṇa the waves nānā-bhāve vyākula prabhura mana āra aṅga
by various bhāvas agitated the Lord's mind and body

5 Within and without, waves of separation from Kṛṣṇa surged, and the Lord's mind and body were restless with many kinds of bhāva.

*By day, dancing, kīrtana and darśana; by night, relishing rasa with Svarūpa and Rāya —*

দিনে নৃত্য-কীর্ত্তন, জগন্নাথ-দরশন । রাত্র্যে রায়-স্বরূপ সনে রস-আস্বাদন ॥ ৬ ॥

dine nṛtya-kīrtana, jagannātha-daraśana
by day dancing and kīrtana seeing Jagannātha
rātrye rāya-svarūpa sane rasa-āsvādana
at night Rāya and Svarūpa with the relishing of rasa

6 By day He danced and sang kīrtana and beheld Jagannātha; by night He relished rasa with Rāya and Svarūpa.

Everyone who sees the Lord is delivered and attains love for Kṛṣṇa —

ত্রিজগতের লোক আসি' করেন দরশন । যেই দেখে, সেই পায় কৃষ্ণপ্রেম-ধন ॥ ৭ ॥

trijagatera loka āsi' karena daraśana
of the three worlds the people coming make darśana
yei dekhe, sei pāya kṛṣṇa-prema-dhana whoever sees he gains the treasure of love for Kṛṣṇa

7 People of the three worlds came to see Him, and whoever saw Him gained the treasure of love for Kṛṣṇa.

The residents of countless universes come in human guise to see the Lord —

মনুষ্যের বেশে দেব-গন্ধর্ব্ব-কিন্নর । সপ্তপাতালের যত দৈত্য বিষধর ॥ ৮ ॥

manuṣyera veśe deva-gandharva-kinnara
of humans in the guise devas, gandharvas and kinnaras
saptapātālera yata daitya viṣadhara
of the seven nether worlds all the Daityas the Nāgas

8 Devas, gandharvas and kinnaras came in human guise, and so did all the Daityas and Nāgas of the seven nether worlds.

Anubhāṣya.
Viṣadhara — the world of the Nāgas (Nāgaloka).

সপ্তদ্বীপে নবখণ্ডে বৈসে যত জন । নানা-বেশে আসি' করে প্রভুর দরশন ॥ ৯ ॥

sapta-dvīpe nava-khaṇḍe vaise yata jana
on the seven dvīpas in the nine khaṇḍas dwell all the people
nānā-veśe āsi' kare prabhura daraśana
in various guises coming make of the Lord darśana

9 All who dwell on the seven island-continents (dvīpas) and in the nine regions (khaṇḍas) came in many guises to see the Lord.

Anubhāṣya.
See Antya 2.10.

The Vaiṣṇavas come to see the Lord —

প্রহ্লাদ, বলি, ব্যাস, শুক আদি মুনিগণ । আসি' প্রভু দেখি' প্রেমে হয় অচেতন ॥ ১০ ॥

prahlāda, bali, vyāsa, śuka ādi muni-gaṇa Prahlāda Bali Vyāsa Śuka and other sages
āsi' prabhu dekhi' preme haya acetana
coming the Lord seeing in love become unconscious

10 Sages such as Prahlāda, Bali, Vyāsa and Śuka came, and on seeing the Lord they lost consciousness in love.

Anubhāṣya.
Prahlāda. According to some historians, he appeared in the Tretā-yuga at Multan, the capital of the Punjab, as the Vaiṣṇava son of King Hiraṇyakaśipu of the Kaśyapa dynasty. His father Hiraṇyakaśipu hated Viṣṇu, and so his son Prahlāda had to endure many kinds of torment. Then Bhagavān Nṛsiṁhadeva appeared and slew that asura emperor, the hater of Vaiṣṇavas.

Bali. Prahlāda's son was Virocana, and his son was Bali. Bhagavān descended as Vāmana and, on the pretext of begging three steps of land, showed mercy to Bali, who surrendered himself to Him. Of Bali's hundred sons, Bāṇa was the eldest.

Vyāsa — the son of Parāśara, Sātyavateya (the son of Satyavatī), or Kṛṣṇa-dvaipāyana Bādarāyaṇa Muni. He divided the Veda and is therefore called "Vedavyāsa." He composed the eighteen mahā-purāṇas, the Brahma-sūtra and its commentary, the book Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam. He was a disciple of Śrī Nārada Ṛṣi of the Brahma-sampradāya.

Śuka — the son of Vyāsa. He displayed the pastime of a knower of Brahman from boyhood and a lifelong celibate (naiṣṭhika-brahmacārī), and then took exclusive shelter of devotion to Kṛṣṇa in the form called kīrtana.

*Outside, people clamor to see the Lord, Who is within the house; the Lord gives them darśana and tells everyone to* chant the narrations of Kṛṣṇa —

বাহিরে ফুকারে লোক, দর্শন না পাঞা । ‘কৃষ্ণ কহ’ বলেন প্রভু বাহিরে আসিয়া ॥ ১১ ॥

bāhire phukāre loka, darśana nā pāñā outside cry aloud the people darśana not getting ‘kṛṣṇa kaha’ balena prabhu bāhire āsiyā
“Kṛṣṇa say” says the Lord outside coming

11 Outside, the people who could not see Him cried out aloud; then the Lord would come out and say, “Say ‘Kṛṣṇa’!”

Seeing the Lord, everyone attains love for Kṛṣṇa —

প্রভুর দর্শনে সব লোক প্রেমে ভাসে । এইমত যায় প্রভুর রাত্রি দিবসে ॥ ১২ ॥

prabhura darśane saba loka preme bhāse
of the Lord at the sight all people in love float
ei-mata yāya prabhura rātri divase
in this way pass the Lord’s nights days

12 At the sight of the Lord all the people were swept away in love. In this way the Lord’s days and nights passed.

The Lord is told that Pratāparudra's son is about to put to death Gopīnātha, the son of Bhavānanda —

একদিন লোক আসি’ প্রভুরে নিবেদিল । গোপীনাথেরে ‘বড় জানা’ চাঙ্গে চড়াইল ॥ ১৩ ॥

ekadina loka āsi’ prabhure nivedila
one day people coming to the Lord reported gopīnāthere ‘baḍa jānā’ cāṅge caḍāila
Gopīnātha the Baḍa Jānā onto the cāṅga has raised

13 One day people came and reported to the Lord, “The Baḍa Jānā, the eldest prince, has raised Gopīnātha onto the cāṅga, the execution platform.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Baḍa Jānā — the eldest son of the Mahārāja of Orissa, that is, the yuvarāja (heir apparent). Cāṅga — a platform used in a particular method of execution: unsheathed swords were set beneath it. The condemned man was thrown from the platform onto the swords and so put to death.

Without the Lord's mercy there is no way to be saved —

তলে খড়্গ পাতি’ তারে উপরে ডারিবে । প্রভু রক্ষা করেন যবে, তবে নিস্তারিবে ॥ ১৪ ॥

tale khaḍga pāti’ tāre upare ḍāribe
below swords setting him from above they will throw prabhu rakṣā karena yabe, tabe nistāribe
the Lord protection makes if then he will be saved

14 They have set swords beneath it and will throw him down onto them from above. Only if You, Lord, protect him will he be saved.

Anubhāṣya.
Ḍāribe — they will throw down.

Begging the Lord's mercy to protect His servant —

সবংশে তোমার সেবক — ভবানন্দ-রায় । তাঁর পুত্র — তোমার সেবকে রাখিতে যুয়ায় ॥ ১৫ ॥

savaṁśe tomāra sevaka — bhavānanda-rāya
with his whole family Your servant Bhavānanda Rāya tāṁra putra — tomāra sevake rākhite yuyāya
his son Your servant to protect it is fitting

15 Bhavānanda Rāya and his whole family are Your servants. His son is Your servant, and it is fitting that You protect him."

Answering the Lord's question, the messenger tells how Gopīnātha is to be executed —

প্রভু কহে, — রাজা কেনে করয়ে তাড়ন?
তবে সেই লোক কহে সব বিবরণ ॥ ১৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — rājā kene karaye tāḍana?
the Lord says the king why does punishing tabe sei loka kahe saba vivaraṇa
then those people told the whole account

16 The Lord asked, "Why is the king punishing him?" Then the people told Him the whole story.

গোপীনাথ-পট্টনায়ক — রামানন্দ-ভাই । সর্ব্বকাল হয় সেই 'রাজবিষয়ী' তাই ॥ ১৭ ॥

gopīnātha-paṭṭanāyaka — rāmānanda-bhāi Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka Rāmānanda's brother
sarva-kāla haya sei 'rāja-viṣayī' tāi always is he a keeper of the king's property so

17 "Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka, Rāmānanda's brother, has always been a keeper of the king's property (rāja-viṣayī).

Anubhāṣya.
Rāja-viṣayī — the keeper of the king's property.

'মালজাঠ্যা-দণ্ডপাটে' তার অধিকার । সাধি' পাড়ি' আনি' দ্রব্য দিল রাজদ্বার ॥ ১৮ ॥

'mālajāṭhyā-daṇḍapāṭe' tāra adhikāra
in Mālajāṭhyā Daṇḍapāṭa his charge
sādhi' pāḍi' āni' dravya dila rāja-dvāra collecting levying bringing the money he gave at the king's court

18 His charge was Mālajāṭhyā Daṇḍapāṭa. He collected the revenue there and delivered it to the king's court.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Mālajāṭhyā Daṇḍapāṭa. Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka was the tahsildar (revenue collector) of the district of that name. Of the money he had paid the king, two lakh kāhanas of cowries were still owing (a kāhana is a measure of 1,280 cowries).

দুইলক্ষ কাহন তার ঠাঞি বাকী হইল । দুইলক্ষ কাহন কৌড়ি রাজা ত' মাগিল ॥ ১৯ ॥

duilakṣa kāhana tāra ṭhāñi bākī haila
two lakhs of kāhanas him from outstanding became duilakṣa kāhana kauḍi rājā ta' māgila
two lakhs of kāhanas of cowries the king indeed demanded

19 Two lakhs of kāhanas were left outstanding against him, and the king demanded the full sum — two lakhs of kāhanas of cowries.

তেঁহ কহে, — স্থূলদ্রব্য নাহি যে দিব । ক্রমে-ক্রমে বেচি' কিনি' দ্রব্য ভরিব ॥ ২০ ॥

teṁha kahe, — sthūla-dravya nāhi ye diba
he says ready wealth there is not that I could give krame-krame veci' kini' dravya bhariba little by little selling buying the money I will make good 20 He said, 'I have no large sum in hand to pay it all at once. Little by little, by selling and buying, I will make good the money.

Anubhāṣya.
Sthūla-dravya — valuable goods or a large sum of money, that is, something with which the debt can be paid off at once. Dravya bhariba — "I will pay the king the wealth (draviṇa) due to him, that is, the money."

ঘোড়া দশ-বার হয়, লহ' মূল্য করি' । এত বলি' ঘোড়া আনে রাজদ্বারে ধরি' ॥ ২১ ॥

ghoḍā daśa-bāra haya, laha' mūlya kari'
horses ten or twelve there are take them a value setting eta bali' ghoḍā āne rāja-dvāre dhari' this saying the horses he brings to the king's gate leading 21 I have ten or twelve horses; take them at a fair valuation.' Saying this, he led the horses to the king's gate.

এক রাজপুত্র ঘোড়ার মূল্য ভাল জানে । তারে পাঠাইল রাজা পাত্র-মিত্র সনে ॥ ২২ ॥

eka rāja-putra ghoḍāra mūlya bhāla jāne
one prince of horses the value well knows tāre pāṭhāila rājā pātra-mitra sane him sent the king ministers and friends with

22 One prince knew the value of horses well, and the king sent him there with ministers and companions.

সেই রাজপুত্র মূল্য করে ঘাটাঞা । গোপীনাথের ক্রোধ হৈল মূল্য শুনিয়া ॥ ২৩ ॥

sei rāja-putra mūlya kare ghāṭāñā that prince the value makes lowering gopīnāthera krodha haila mūlya śuniyā
Gopīnātha's anger arose the value hearing

23 That prince set the value low, and Gopīnātha grew angry when he heard the price.

Anubhāṣya.
Ghāṭāñā — lowering.

সেই রাজপুত্রের স্বভাব, — গ্রীবা ফিরায় । ঊর্ধ্বমুখে বারবার ইতি-উতি চায় ॥ ২৪ ॥

sei rājaputrera svabhāva, — grīvā phirāya of that prince the habit his neck he turns ūrdhvamukhe bārabāra iti-uti cāya
with face upward again and again here and there looks

24 That prince had a habit: he would turn his neck and, with his face upward, look here and there again and again.

তারে নিন্দা করি' কহে সগর্ব্ব বচনে । রাজা কৃপা করে তারে, ভয় নাহি মানে ॥ ২৫ ॥

tāre nindā kari' kahe sagarva vacane
him mockery making he spoke with proud words rājā kṛpā kare tāre, bhaya nāhi māne
the king favour shows him fear not feels

25 Mocking him, Gopīnātha spoke proud words; the king favoured him, so he felt no fear.

আমার ঘোড়া গ্রীবা উঠায়, ঊর্ধ্বে নাহি চায় । তাতে ঘোড়ার মূল্য ঘাটি করিতে না যুয়ায় ॥ ২৬ ॥

āmāra ghoḍā grīvā uṭhāya, ūrdhve nāhi cāya
my horse its neck raises upward does not look tāte ghoḍāra mūlya ghāṭi karite nā yuyāya
therefore of the horse the value low to make not is fitting

26 'My horse raises its neck, but it does not look upward. So it is not right to set its price low.'

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The prince who was setting the price of the horses had a habit of craning his neck and looking upward. To mock this, Gopīnātha said, "My horse does raise its neck, but it does not look upward, so its price cannot be any lower." The point of the jibe is this: "My horse is worth no less than you."

শুনি' রাজপুত্র-মনে ক্রোধ উপজিল । রাজার ঠাঞি যাই' বহু লাগানি করিল ॥ ২৭ ॥

śuni' rājaputra-mane krodha upajila hearing in the prince's mind anger arose rājāra ṭhāñi yāi' bahu lāgāni karila
the king to going much slander he made

27 Hearing this, the prince grew angry. He went to the king and slandered Gopīnātha at length:

Anubhāṣya.
Lāgāni — a false accusation, slander.

কৌড়ি নাহি দিবে এই, বেড়ায় ছদ্ম করি' । আজ্ঞা কর, — চাঙ্গে চড়াঞা লই কৌড়ি ॥ ২৮ ॥

kauḍi nāhi dibe ei, beḍāya chadma kari'
the money not will give this man goes about pretexts making ājñā kara, — cāṅge caḍāñā lai kauḍi
order give on the cāṅga raising let me take the money

28 ‘This man will not pay the money; he goes about making excuses. Give the order, and I will raise him onto the cāṅga and get the money.’

রাজা বলে, — যেই ভাল, কর সেই যায়। যে উপায়ে কৌড়ি পাই, কর সে উপায় ॥ ২৯ ॥

rājā bale, — yei bhāla, kara sei yāya
the king said whatever is good do that going ye upāye kauḍi pāi, kara se upāya
by which means the money I get use that means

29 The king said, ‘Go and do whatever is best. Use any means by which I may get the money.’

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Yāya — having gone.

রাজপুত্র আসি’ তারে চাঙ্গে চড়াইল।
খড়্গ-উপরে ফেলাইতে তলে খড়্গ পাতিল ॥ ৩০ ॥

rāja-putra āsi’ tāre cāṅge caḍāila
the prince coming him on the cāṅga raised khaḍga-upare phelāite tale khaḍga pātila onto the swords to throw below swords he set

30 The prince came and had him raised onto the cāṅga, and beneath it he set swords, to throw him down onto them.”

*The Lord displays detachment (nirapekṣatā) and rebukes Gopīnātha —*

শুনি’ প্রভু কহে কিছু করি’ প্রণয়-রোষ। রাজ-কৌড়ি দিতে নারে, রাজার কিবা দোষ ? ॥ ৩১ ॥

śuni’ prabhu kahe kichu kari’ praṇaya-roṣa hearing the Lord said somewhat showing affectionate anger
rāja-kauḍi dite nāre, rājāra kibā doṣa?
the king’s money to give he will not the king’s what fault

31 Hearing this, the Lord spoke with a show of affectionate anger: “He will not pay the king’s money; what fault is there in the king?

Anubhāṣya.
Dite nāre — he does not want to pay.

রাজ-বিলাত্ সাধি’ খায়, নাহি রাজ-ভয়। দারী-নাটুয়ারে দিয়া করে নানা ব্যয় ॥ ৩২ ॥

rāja-vilāt sādhi’ khāya, nāhi rāja-bhaya
the king’s revenue collecting he consumes no fear of the king dārī-nāṭuyāre diyā kare nānā vyaya
to harlots and dancers giving he makes various expenses

32 He collects the king’s revenue and consumes it without any fear of the king, squandering it in various ways on harlots and dancers.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Rāja-vilāt — the money due to the king from the lands under him (the king's treasury or property). Dārī, nāṭuyā — harlots and dancers. He spends the money on such people and has no fear that the king's money must be paid.

যেই চতুর, সেই কুরুক রাজ-বিষয় । রাজ-দ্রব্য শোধি' পায়, তার করুক ব্যয় ॥ ৩৩ ॥

yei catura, sei kuruka rāja-viṣaya
whoever is clever let him do the king's service
rāja-dravya śodhi' pāya, tāra karuka vyaya
the king's dues paying off what he gets that let him make expense

33 Let one who is clever do the king's service: when he has paid off the king's dues, let him spend what is left to him."

At this time the Lord receives the news that Bhavānanda and the others have been seized together with their families —

হেন-কালে আর লোক আইল ধাঞা । বাণীনাথাদি সবংশে লঞা গেল বান্ধিয়া ॥ ৩৪ ॥

hena-kāle āra loka āila dhāñā
at this time another man came running vāṇīnāthādi savaṁśe lañā gela bāndhiyā
Vāṇīnātha and the others with their families taking went binding

34 Just then another man came running: "Vāṇīnātha and the others have been bound and taken away with their families!"

*As an example of the dharma of sannyāsa, the Lord shows indifference, or detachment, toward talk of worldly affairs —*

প্রভু কহে, — রাজা আপনে লেখার দ্রব্য লইব । আমি — বিরক্ত সন্ন্যাসী, তাহে কি করিব ? ॥ ৩৫ ॥

prabhu kahe, — rājā āpane lekhāra dravya laiba
the Lord said the king himself the recorded money will take āmi — virakta sannyāsī, tāhe ki kariba?
I a detached sannyāsī in that what shall I do

35 The Lord said, "The king himself will collect the money due on his accounts. I am a detached sannyāsī; what can I do in this?"

Svarūpa Dāmodara and the other devotees beg the Lord to give up His indifference and protect Rāmānanda's kinsmen —

তবে স্বরূপাদি গোসাঞির ভক্তগণ । প্রভুর চরণে সবে কৈলা নিবেদন ॥ ৩৬ ॥

tabe svarūpādi gosāñira bhakta-gaṇa
then Svarūpa and the others of Gosāñi the devotees
prabhura caraṇe sabe kailā nivedana
of the Lord at the feet all made entreaty

36 Then Svarūpa and the other devotees of the Lord all made an entreaty at His feet:

রামানন্দ-রায়ের গোষ্ঠী, সব — তোমার 'দাস' । তোমার উচিত নহে ঐছন উদাস ॥ ৩৭ ॥

rāmānanda-rāyera goṣṭhī, saba — tomāra 'dāsa' Rāmānanda Rāya's family all Your servants
tomāra ucita nahe aichana udāsa
for You fitting is not such indifference

37 “The family of Rāmānanda Rāya are all Your servants. Such indifference is not fitting for You.”

The Lord's anger and rebuke —

শুনি’ মহাপ্রভু কহে সক্রোধ বচনে । মোরে আজ্ঞা দেহ’ সবে, যাঙ রাজস্থানে! ॥ ৩৮ ॥

śuni’ mahāprabhu kahe sakrodha vacane hearing Mahāprabhu spoke with angry words
more ājñā deha’ sabe, yāṅa rājasthāne!
Me order you give all I should go to the king’s place

38 Hearing this, Mahāprabhu spoke angrily: “So you all order Me to go to the king’s court!

তোমা-সবার এই মত, — রাজ-ঠাঞি যাঞা । কৌড়ি মাগি’ লই আঁচল পাতিয়া ॥ ৩৯ ॥

tomā-sabāra ei mata, — rāja-ṭhāñi yāñā
of you all this opinion to the king going kauḍi māgi’ lai āṁcala pātiyā
the money begging I should take the end of My cloth spreading

39 This is what you all think: that I should go to the king, spread out the end of My cloth and beg the money from him.

*A sannyāsī is not fit to involve himself in worldly affairs —*

পাঁচগণ্ডার পাত্র হয় সন্ন্যাসী ব্রাহ্মণ । মাগিলে বা কেনে দিবে দুইলক্ষ কাহন ? ॥ ৪০ ॥

pāṁca-gaṇḍāra pātra haya sannyāsī brāhmaṇa
of five gaṇḍās the recipient is a sannyāsī brāhmaṇa
māgile vā kene dibe duilakṣa kāhana?
if he begs even why would he give two lakhs of kāhanas

40 A sannyāsī brāhmaṇa is fit to receive at most five gaṇḍās, twenty cowries. Even if I begged, why would anyone give two lakhs of kāhanas?”

Anubhāṣya.
Sannyāsī brāhmaṇa — one who has no money, who has given up worldly things and lives by begging.

The Lord receives the news that Gopīnātha is about to be executed —

হেনকালে আর লোক আইল ধাঞা ।
খড়্গের উপরে গোপীনাথে দিতেছে ডারিয়া ॥ ৪১ ॥

hena-kāle āra loka āila dhāñā
at this time another man came running khaḍgera upare gopīnāthe diteche ḍāriyā of the swords onto Gopīnātha they are throwing down

41 Just then another man came running: “They are throwing Gopīnātha down onto the swords!”

The devotees beg the Lord to save Gopīnātha, yet to teach the people the Lord remains sternly detached —

শুনি’ প্রভুর গণ প্রভুরে করে অনুনয় ।
প্রভু কহে, — আমি ভিক্ষুক, আমা হৈতে কিছু নয় ॥ ৪২ ॥

śuni' prabhura gaṇa prabhure kare anunaya hearing the Lord's associates the Lord make entreaty prabhu kahe, — āmi bhikṣuka, āmā haite kichu naya
the Lord said I a beggar Me from anything is not 42 Hearing this, the Lord's associates entreated Him, but the Lord said, "I am a beggar; I can do nothing.

He tells everyone to pray for this at Jagannātha's feet —

তাতে রক্ষা করিতে যদি হয় সবার মনে । সবে মেলি' যাহ' জগন্নাথের চরণে ॥ ৪৩ ॥

tāte rakṣā karite yadi haya sabāra mane
therefore protection to give if it is in all your minds sabe meli' yāha' jagannāthera caraṇe
all together go of Jagannātha to the feet

43 So if you all have it in mind to save him, go together to the feet of Jagannātha.

Jagannātha-deva is Īśvara Himself and the Master of all —

ঈশ্বর জগন্নাথ, — যাঁর হাতে সর্ব্ব 'অর্থ' । কর্ত্তুমকর্ত্তুমন্যথা করিতে সমর্থ ॥ ৪৪ ॥

īśvara jagannātha, — yāṁra hāte sarva 'artha'
the Lord Jagannātha in whose hands all ends
kartum akartum anyathā karite samartha to do not to do otherwise to do able

44 Jagannātha is Īśvara, the Lord Himself, and all things are in His hands. He is able to do, not to do, or to do otherwise."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Kartum akartum anyathā karite samartha: He alone has the power to do a thing, not to do it, or to do it otherwise.[9]

Haricandana Mahāpātra begs Pratāparudra for Gopīnātha's life —

ইঁহা যদি মহাপ্রভু এতেক কহিলা । হরিচন্দন-পাত্র যাই' রাজারে কহিলা ॥ ৪৫ ॥

iṁhā yadi mahāprabhu eteka kahilā
here when Mahāprabhu this much said
haricandana-pātra yāi' rājāre kahilā
Haricandana Pātra going to the king said

45 While Mahāprabhu was saying this, Haricandana Pātra went and spoke to the king:

Killing, that is, the death penalty, is out of place here —

গোপীনাথ-পট্টনায়ক — সেবক তোমার । সেবকের প্রাণদণ্ড নহে ব্যবহার ॥ ৪৬ ॥

gopīnātha-paṭṭanāyaka — sevaka tomāra Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka servant your sevakera prāṇa-daṇḍa nahe vyavahāra
of a servant the death penalty is not proper practice

46 "Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka is your servant, and to put a servant to death is not proper conduct.

Anubhāṣya.
Vyavahāra — lawful, proper.

বিশেষ তাহার ঠাঞি কৌড়ি বাকী হয় । প্রাণ নিলে কিবা লাভ? নিজ ধন-ক্ষয় ॥ ৪৭ ॥

viśeṣa tāhāra ṭhāñi kauḍi bākī haya especially him from money outstanding is prāṇa nile kibā lābha? nija dhana-kṣaya life if you take what gain your own loss of wealth

47 Besides, he still owes you money. What would you gain by taking his life? Only the loss of your own wealth.

যথার্থ মূল্যে ঘোড়া লহ, যেবা বাকী হয় । ক্রমে ক্রমে দিবে, ব্যর্থ প্রাণ কেনে লয় ॥ ৪৮ ॥

yathārtha mūlye ghoḍā laha, yebā bākī haya
at the proper value the horses take whatever outstanding is krame krame dibe, vyartha prāṇa kene laya little by little he will give needlessly life why take

48 Take the horses at their proper value; whatever remains he will pay little by little. Why take his life needlessly?"

The king declares that he knew nothing about the execution of Gopīnātha —

রাজা কহে, — এই বাত্ আমি নাহি জানি । প্রাণ কেনে লইব, তার দ্রব্য চাহি আমি ॥ ৪৯ ॥

rājā kahe, — ei bāt āmi nāhi jāni
the king said this matter I not know
prāṇa kene laiba, tāra dravya cāhi āmi life why should I take his money want I

49 The king said, "I know nothing of this. Why should I take his life? It is his money I want.

He orders that Gopīnātha be saved at once —

তুমি যাই' কর তাঁহা সর্ব্ব সমাধান । দ্রব্য যৈছে আইসে, আর রহে তার প্রাণ ॥ ৫০ ॥

tumi yāi' kara tāṁhā sarva samādhāna
you going make there all settlement
dravya yaiche āise, āra rahe tāra prāṇa
the money so that comes and remains his life

50 Go there and settle everything, so that the money comes in and his life is spared."

Telling the crown prince the king's will, Haricandana saves Gopīnātha's life —

তবে হরিচন্দন আসি' জানারে কহিল । চাঙ্গে হৈতে গোপীনাথে শীঘ্র নামাইল ॥ ৫১ ॥

tabe haricandana āsi' jānāre kahila
then Haricandana coming to the Jānā told cāṅge haite gopīnāthe śīghra nāmāila
the cāṅga from Gopīnātha quickly brought down

51 Then Haricandana came and told the prince, and Gopīnātha was quickly brought down from the cāṅga.

Gopīnātha is asked how he will repay the king's money, and he answers —

দ্রব্য দেহ' রাজা মাগে — উপায় পুছিল । যথার্থ-মূল্য ঘোড়া লহ, তেঁহ ত' কহিল ॥ ৫২ ॥

dravya deha' rājā māge — upāya puchila
the money give the king demands the means he asked yathārtha-mūlya ghoḍā laha, teṁha ta' kahila
at the proper value the horses take he indeed said

52 "The king demands the money," Haricandana said, and asked him how he would pay. Gopīnātha replied, "Take the horses at their proper value.

ক্রমে ক্রমে দিমু, আর যত কিছু পারি । অবিচারে প্রাণ লহ, — কি বলিতে পারি ? ॥ ৫৩ ॥

krame krame dimu, āra yata kichu pāri little by little I will give and whatever anything I can avicāre prāṇa laha, — ki balite pāri?
without inquiry life you take what to say can I

53 The rest I will pay little by little, whatever I can. If you take my life without inquiry, what can I say?"

যথার্থ মূল্য করি' তবে ঘোড়া সব লইল । আর দ্রব্যের মুদ্দতী করি' ঘরে পাঠাইল ॥ ৫৪ ॥

yathārtha mūlya kari' tabe ghoḍā saba laila proper value setting then the horses all they took āra dravyera muddatī kari' ghare pāṭhāila of the remaining money a fixed term making home they sent 54 Then they set a fair price on all the horses and took them. For the rest of the money they fixed a date, and they sent him home.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Muddatī kari' — making him pledge to pay the money by a term, that is, by an appointed, fixed date.

The Lord asks the messenger about Vāṇīnātha —

এথা প্রভু সেই মনুষ্যেরে প্রশ্ন কৈল । বাণীনাথ কি করে, যবে বান্ধিয়া আনিল ? ॥ ৫৫ ॥

ethā prabhu sei manuṣyere praśna kaila
here the Lord that man a question asked vāṇīnātha ki kare, yabe bāndhiyā ānila?
Vāṇīnātha what does when binding they brought

55 Meanwhile the Lord asked that man, "What was Vāṇīnātha doing when they bound him and took him away?"

সে কহে — বাণীনাথ নির্ভয়ে লয় কৃষ্ণনাম ।
'হরে কৃষ্ণ, হরে কৃষ্ণ' কহে অবিশ্রাম ॥ ৫৬ ॥

se kahe — vāṇīnātha nirbhaye laya kṛṣṇa-nāma
he said Vāṇīnātha fearlessly takes Kṛṣṇa's name
'hare kṛṣṇa, hare kṛṣṇa' kahe aviśrāma
Hare Kṛṣṇa Hare Kṛṣṇa he says without rest

56 He said, "Vāṇīnātha was fearlessly chanting the name of Kṛṣṇa, saying 'Hare Kṛṣṇa, Hare Kṛṣṇa' without rest.

Vāṇīnātha chants the names, counting them on his hands —

সংখ্যা লাগি' দুই-হাতে অঙ্গুলীতে লেখা । সহস্রাদি পূর্ণ হৈলে, অঙ্গে কাটে রেখা ॥ ৫৭ ॥

saṅkhyā lāgi' dui-hāte aṅgulīte lekhā of the count for the sake on both hands on the fingers marking sahasrādi pūrṇa haile, aṅge kāṭe rekhā
a thousand and so on complete when on his body he scratches a line

57 To keep count, he marked the names on the fingers of both hands, and each time a thousand were complete, he scratched a line on his body."

Anubhāṣya.
We learn from this that every sādhaka who has taken exclusive shelter of the holy name must keep the rule of chanting the mahā-mantra "Hare Kṛṣṇa" (sixteen names, thirty-two syllables), holding firmly to a vow of number. He must keep this rule in every way and in every circumstance: in happiness and in sorrow, in prosperity and in danger.

Hearing this, the Lord rejoices —

শুনি' মহাপ্রভু হইলা পরম আনন্দ । কে বুঝিতে পারে গৌরের কৃপা-ছদ্মবন্ধ ? ॥ ৫৮ ॥

śuni' mahāprabhu hailā parama ānanda hearing Mahāprabhu became supremely joyful
ke bujhite pāre gaurera kṛpā-chadma-bandha?
who to understand can Gaura's of mercy in disguise the arrangement

58 Hearing this, Mahāprabhu was supremely joyful. Who can fathom the mercy of Gaura, veiled beneath another guise?[2]

Anubhāṣya.
Kṛpā-chadma-bandha — a train of events arranged from above in the guise (literally, "under the pretext") of mercy.

Kāśī Miśra arrives; the Lord tells him that He will leave for Ālālanātha —

হেনকালে কাশীমিশ্র আইলা প্রভু-স্থানে । প্রভু তাঁরে কহে কিছু সোদ্বেগ-বচনে ॥ ৫৯ ॥

hena-kāle kāśī-miśra āilā prabhu-sthāne
at this time Kāśī Miśra came to the Lord's place
prabhu tāṁre kahe kichu sodvega-vacane
the Lord to him spoke some anxious words

59 At that time Kāśī Miśra came to the Lord, and the Lord spoke to him with some anxiety:

ইঁহা রহিতে নারি, যামু আলালনাথ । নানা উপদ্রব ইঁহা, না পাই সোয়াথ ॥ ৬০ ॥

iṁhā rahite nāri, yāmu ālālanātha
here to stay I cannot I will go to Ālālanātha
nānā upadrava iṁhā, nā pāi soyātha
many disturbances here not I get peace

60 "I cannot stay here; I shall go to Ālālanātha. There are many disturbances here, and I find no peace.

A complaint against the descendants of Bhavānanda Rāya —

ভবানন্দ-রায়ের গোষ্ঠী করে রাজবিষয় । নানা-প্রকারে করে তারা রাজদ্রব্য ব্যয় ॥ ৬১ ॥

bhavānanda-rāyera goṣṭhī kare rāja-viṣaya Bhavānanda Rāya's family does the king's service
nānā-prakāre kare tārā rāja-dravya vyaya
in various ways make they the king's money expense

61 The family of Bhavānanda Rāya is in the king's service, and in various ways they spend the king's money.

রাজার কি দোষ? রাজা নিজ-দ্রব্য চায় । দিতে নারে দ্রব্য, দণ্ড আমারে জানায় ॥ ৬২ ॥

rājāra ki doṣa? rājā nija-dravya cāya
the king's what fault the king his own money wants dite nāre dravya, daṇḍa āmāre jānāya
to give they will not the money the punishment to Me they report

62 What fault is there in the king? He wants only his own money. They will not pay it, and then they come to Me complaining of their punishment.

রাজা গোপীনাথে যদি চাঙ্গে চড়াইল । চারিবারে লোকে আসি' মোরে জানাইল ॥ ৬৩ ॥

rājā gopīnāthe yadi cāṅge caḍāila
the king Gopīnātha when on the cāṅga raised cāri-bāre loke āsi' more jānāila
four times people coming to Me reported

63 When the king had Gopīnātha raised onto the cāṅga, people came four times to tell Me.

The Lord declares that He has no taste for talk of worldly affairs —

ভিক্ষুক সন্ন্যাসী আমি নির্জ্জনবাসী । আমায় দুঃখ দেয়, নিজ-দুঃখ কহি' আসি' ॥ ৬৪ ॥

bhikṣuka sannyāsī āmi nirjana-vāsī
a mendicant sannyāsī I living in solitude
āmāya duḥkha deya, nija-duḥkha kahi' āsi'
to Me pain they give their own troubles telling coming

64 I am a mendicant sannyāsī who lives in solitude, yet they come and pain Me by telling Me their own troubles.

আজি তারে জগন্নাথ করিলা রক্ষণ । কালি কে রাখিবে যদি না দিবে রাজধন ? ॥ ৬৫ ॥

āji tāre jagannātha karilā rakṣaṇa
today him Jagannātha made protection
kāli ke rākhibe yadi nā dibe rāja-dhana?
tomorrow who will protect if not he gives the king's wealth

65 Today Jagannātha has protected him; but tomorrow who will protect him if he does not pay the king's money?

বিষয়ীর বার্ত্তা শুনি' ক্ষুব্ধ হয় মন । তাতে ইঁহা রহি' মোর নাহি প্রয়োজন ॥ ৬৬ ॥

viṣayīra vārtā śuni' kṣubdha haya mana of worldly men the news hearing disturbed becomes the mind
tāte iṁhā rahi' mora nāhi prayojana
therefore here staying My is no purpose

66 Hearing the affairs of worldly men disturbs My mind, and so I have no reason to stay here."

Kāśī Miśra reassures and glorifies the Lord —

কাশীমিশ্র কহে প্রভুর ধরিয়া চরণে । তুমি কেনে এই বাতে ক্ষোভ কর মনে ? ॥ ৬৭ ॥

kāśī-miśra kahe prabhura dhariyā caraṇe Kāśī Miśra said the Lord's holding feet
tumi kene ei bāte kṣobha kara mane?
You why over this matter agitation make in the mind

67 Clasping the Lord's feet, Kāśī Miśra said, "Why do You let this matter trouble Your mind?

বিরক্ত সন্ন্যাসী তোমার কা-সনে সম্বন্ধ ?
ব্যবহার লাগি' তোমা ভজে, সেই জ্ঞান-অন্ধ ॥ ৬৮ ॥

virakta sannyāsī tomāra kā-sane sambandha?
a detached sannyāsī Your with whom relationship
vyavahāra lāgi' tomā bhaje, sei jñāna-andha worldly dealings for the sake of You worships he blind to knowledge

68 You are a detached sannyāsī — what connection have You with anyone? One who worships You for worldly ends is blind to true knowledge.

Anubhāṣya.

Vyavahāra — a livelihood or material enjoyments. Worldly people (viṣayīs), each wanting his own worldly object, with minds full of craving for fruits and enjoyment, seek the help of Viṣṇu or of the Vaiṣṇavas. In the book Saptaśatī, for people with just such minds devoid of bhakti, the fulfillment of various practical desires is described as the fruit of worshiping the Devī. All such selfish endeavors are only the efforts of fools who lack the eye of knowledge. Even when they set out to worship Īśvara purely, worldly people are driven by their own material interest: dharma, artha, kāma and mokṣa. They hope for "mukti" attained through knowledge of Brahman, for the enjoyments of heaven and the like, and for practical freedom from the dualities (advandva), and so they turn away from pure service to Kṛṣṇa and the kārṣṇas (His own).

To ask Viṣṇu for fruits to gratify one's own material senses, and not out of a desire to please Viṣṇu, is foolishness and mere trade —

তোমার ভজন-ফলে তোমাতে 'প্রেমধন' । বিষয় লাগি' তোমায় ভজে, সেই মূর্খ জন ॥ ৬৯ ॥

tomāra bhajana-phale tomāte 'prema-dhana'
of Your worship as the fruit for You the treasure of love
viṣaya lāgi' tomāya bhaje, sei mūrkha jana worldly things for the sake of You worships that foolish person

69 The fruit of worshipping You is the treasure of love for You. One who worships You for the sake of worldly things is a fool.

Anubhāṣya.
See Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 7.10.4.

Anubhāṣya.
Nowadays mantra-merchants and worldly people who live off the garb of religion have taken up a pretense of preaching the holy name. They must maintain wife and children, fill their own bellies, and procure clothes and ornaments for wife and children. They live in Śrī Vṛndāvana and Navadvīpa, sell books to feed and clothe themselves and maintain their families, recite the śāstras, perform as kathakas and lecturers, serve the Śrī Vigraha, give initiation, beg alms, cure their relatives' illnesses, take the bhek (the renunciant's garb), worship the poor, work for social improvement, and so on. Spreading many kinds of nets of deceit, they cheat foolish people who do not know the truth about bhakti, acquire money and the like, and so worship only worldly things. But they cannot understand that the treasure of prema for You, which even Brahmā and others find hard to attain, comes only as the fruit of pure service to You, causeless and free from deceit.

Pure devotees who own nothing and desire only to please the Lord —

তোমা লাগি' রামানন্দ রাজ্য ত্যাগ কৈলা । তোমা লাগি' সনাতন 'বিষয়' ছাড়িলা ॥ ৭০ ॥

tomā lāgi' rāmānanda rājya tyāga kailā
You for the sake of Rāmānanda the kingdom renunciation made tomā lāgi' sanātana 'viṣaya' chāḍilā
You for the sake of Sanātana his worldly position gave up

70 For Your sake Rāmānanda gave up his governorship; for Your sake Sanātana abandoned his worldly position.

তোমা লাগি' রঘুনাথ সকল ছাড়িল । হেথায় তাহার পিতা বিষয় পাঠাইল ॥ ৭১ ॥

tomā lāgi' raghunātha sakala chāḍila
You for the sake of Raghunātha everything gave up hethāya tāhāra pitā viṣaya pāṭhāila here his father wealth sent

71 For Your sake Raghunātha gave up everything, and his father sent him wealth here.

তোমার চরণ-কৃপা হঞাছে তাহারে । ছত্রে মাগি' খায়, 'বিষয়' স্পর্শ নাহি করে ॥ ৭২ ॥

tomāra caraṇa-kṛpā hañāche tāhāre
Your the mercy of the feet has come to him
chatre māgi' khāya, 'viṣaya' sparśa nāhi kare
at the alms-house begging he eats the wealth touch not does 72 But the mercy of Your feet has come to him: he begs his food at the alms-house and does not touch that wealth.

Gopīnātha, Rāmānanda's younger brother, is no trader seeking his own gain —

রামানন্দের ভাই গোপীনাথ-মহাশয় । তোমা হৈতে বিষয়-বাঞ্ছা, তার ইচ্ছা নয় ॥ ৭৩ ॥

rāmānandera bhāi gopīnātha-mahāśaya Rāmānanda's brother the noble Gopīnātha
tomā haite viṣaya-vāñchā, tāra icchā naya
You from desire for worldly gain his wish is not 73 The noble Gopīnātha, Rāmānanda's brother, has no wish for worldly gain from You.

Seeing that Gopīnātha, who is wholly surrendered to the Lord, is about to be executed, his well-wishers beg the Lord for mercy —

তার দুঃখ দেখি' তার সেবকাদিগণ । তোমারে জানাইল, — যাতে 'অনন্যশরণ' ॥ ৭৪ ॥

tāra duḥkha dekhi' tāra sevakādi-gaṇa
his distress seeing his servants and others
tomāre jānāila, — yāte 'ananya-śaraṇa'
to You they reported since having no other shelter

74 Seeing his distress, his servants and others told You of it, for he has no shelter but You (ananya-śaraṇa).

The definition of a pure devotee —

সেই 'শুদ্ধ-ভক্ত', যে তোমা ভজে তোমা লাগি' । আপনার সুখ-দুঃখে হয় ভোগ-ভাগী ॥ ৭৫ ॥

sei 'śuddha-bhakta', ye tomā bhaje tomā lāgi'
he a pure devotee who You worships You for the sake of āpanāra sukha-duḥkhe haya bhoga-bhāgī
his own in happiness and distress is the sharer of the experience

75 He is a pure devotee who worships You for Your own sake; in happiness and in distress he himself tastes the lot that falls to him.[3]

The conduct of a pure devotee —

তোমার অনুকম্পা চাহে, ভজে অনুক্ষণ । অচিরাৎ মিলে তাঁরে তোমার চরণ ॥ ৭৬ ॥

tomāra anukampā cāhe, bhaje anukṣaṇa
Your mercy he seeks he worships constantly acirāt mile tāṁre tomāra caraṇa
soon is attained by him Your feet

76 He longs for Your mercy and worships You constantly; soon he attains Your feet.

তত্তেঽনুকম্পাং সুসমীক্ষ্যমাণো
ভুঞ্জান এবাত্মকৃতং বিপাকম্ ।
হৃদ্বাগ্বপুর্ভির্বিদধন্ নমস্ তে জীবেত যো মুক্তি-পদে স দায়-ভাক্ ॥ ৭৭ ॥

tat te 'nukampāṁ su-samīkṣyamāṇo therefore Your mercy earnestly awaiting bhuñjāna evātma-kṛtaṁ vipākam enduring indeed self-made the fruits hṛd-vāg-vapurbhir vidadhan namas te with heart, speech and body offering obeisance to You jīveta yo mukti-pade sa dāya-bhāk
lives who to the position of liberation he is heir

77 'Therefore one who lives earnestly awaiting Your mercy, enduring the fruits of his own deeds and offering You obeisance with heart, words and body, is an heir to the position of liberation.' (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.14.8)[4]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 6.261.

Kāśī Miśra begs the Lord to stay in Nīlācala —

এথা তুমি বসি' রহ, কেনে যাবে আলালনাথ ?
কেহ তোমা না শুনাবে বিষয়ীর বাত্ ॥ ৭৮ ॥

ethā tumi vasi' raha, kene yābe ālālanātha?
here You settled stay, why will You go to Ālālanātha
keha tomā nā śunābe viṣayīra bāt
anyone to You not will make hear of worldly men talk

78 Stay on here. Why should You go to Ālālanātha? No one will make You listen to the talk of worldly men.

Only by the Lord's mercy will Gopīnātha be protected in the future as well —

যদি তোমার তারে রাখিতে হয় মন । আজি যে রাখিল, সেই করিবে রক্ষণ ॥ ৭৯ ॥

yadi tomāra tāre rākhite haya mana
if Your him to protect is mind
āji ye rākhila, sei karibe rakṣaṇa
today who protected, He will do protection

79 If You have a mind to protect him, He who protected him today will protect him still."

Pratāparudra goes to the house of his guru Miśra —

এত বলি' কাশীমিশ্র গেলা স্ব-মন্দিরে । মধ্যাহ্নে প্রতাপরুদ্র আইলা তাঁর ঘরে ॥ ৮০ ॥

eta bali' kāśī-miśra gelā sva-mandire
thus saying Kāśī Miśra went to his own home
madhyāhne pratāparudra āilā tāṁra ghare
at midday Pratāparudra came his to the house

80 Saying this, Kāśī Miśra went home, and at midday Pratāparudra came to his house.[5]

The king's rule of serving his guru —

প্রতাপরুদ্রের এক আছয়ে নিয়মে । যত দিন রহে তেঁহ শ্রীপুরুষোত্তমে ॥ ৮১ ॥

pratāparudrera eka āchaye niyame
of Pratāparudra one there is rule
yata dina rahe teṁha śrī-puruṣottame
as many days stays he in Śrī Puruṣottama

81 Pratāparudra kept one rule for as long as he stayed in Śrī Puruṣottama.

নিত্য আসি' করে মিশ্রের পাদ সম্বাহন । জগন্নাথ-সেবার করে ভিয়ান শ্রবণ ॥ ৮২ ॥

nitya āsi' kare miśrera pāda sambāhana
daily coming does Miśra's of the feet massage jagannātha-sevāra kare bhiyāna śravaṇa
of Jagannātha's service does the ordered performance hearing

82 Every day he would come and massage Miśra's feet, and hear how the service of Jagannātha was being carried out in all its order and splendour (bhiyāna).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Bhiyāna": the orderly and elaborate performance of the service (pāripāṭya-abhinaya).

রাজা মিশ্রের চরণ যবে চাপিতে লাগিলা । তবে মিশ্র তাঁরে কিছু ভঙ্গীতে কহিলা ॥ ৮৩ ॥

rājā miśrera caraṇa yabe cāpite lāgilā
the king Miśra's feet when to press began tabe miśra tāṁre kichu bhaṅgīte kahilā
then Miśra to him something by hints said

83 When the king began pressing his feet, Miśra spoke to him in a roundabout way:

Miśra tells the king that the Lord is leaving Purī —

দেব, শুন আর এক অপরূপ বাত !
মহাপ্রভু ক্ষেত্র ছাড়ি' যাবেন আলালনাথ ! ॥ ৮৪ ॥

deva, śuna āra eka aparūpa bāta!
Your Majesty, hear another one strange piece of news
mahāprabhu kṣetra chāḍi' yābena ālālanātha!
Mahāprabhu the holy place leaving will go to Ālālanātha

84 "Your Majesty, hear one more strange piece of news: Mahāprabhu is going to leave the holy place (kṣetra) for Ālālanātha!"

The king is saddened and asks the reason; in reply Miśra tells about Gopīnātha —

শুনি' রাজা দুঃখী হৈলা, পুছিলেন কারণ । তবে মিশ্র কহে তাঁরে সব বিবরণ ॥ ৮৫ ॥

śuni' rājā duḥkhī hailā, puchilena kāraṇa
hearing the king sorrowful became, asked the reason tabe miśra kahe tāṁre saba vivaraṇa
then Miśra tells him all the details

85 Hearing this, the king became sorrowful and asked the reason. Then Miśra told him the whole story:

গোপীনাথ-পট্টনায়কে চাঙ্গে চড়াইলা । তার সেবক আসি' প্রভুরে কহিলা ॥ ৮৬ ॥

gopīnātha-paṭṭanāyake cāṅge caḍāilā Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka onto the cāṅga they raised tāra sevaka āsi' prabhure kahilā
his servant coming to the Lord told

86 "Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka was raised onto the cāṅga, and his servant came and told the Lord.

*The Lord, the embodiment and guardian of dharma, sharply rebukes Gopīnātha for misappropriating the king's money; a description of the social, political and economic rules — that is, the rules of earning money honestly (śukla-vitta) —*

শুনিয়া ক্ষোভিত হৈল মহাপ্রভুর মন । ক্রোধে গোপীনাথে কৈলা বহুত ভর্ৎসন ॥ ৮৭ ॥

śuniyā kṣobhita haila mahāprabhura mana hearing agitated became Mahāprabhu's mind
krodhe gopīnāthe kailā bahuta bhartsana
in anger Gopīnātha He did much rebuking

87 When Mahāprabhu heard this, His mind was agitated, and in anger He rebuked Gopīnātha severely:

অজিতেন্দ্রিয় হঞা করে রাজবিষয় । নানা অসৎপথে করে রাজদ্রব্য ব্যয় ॥ ৮৮ ॥

ajitendriya hañā kare rājaviṣaya
not controlling the senses being he does the king's business nānā asatpathe kare rājadravya vyaya
in various wrong ways does the king's wealth spending

88 'He handles the king's affairs without controlling his senses, and spends the king's wealth in all sorts of wrong ways.

ব্রহ্মস্ব-অধিক এই হয় রাজধন । তাহা হরি' ভোগ করে মহাপাপী জন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

brahmasva-adhika ei haya rājadhana
than a brāhmaṇa's property greater this is the king's wealth tāhā hari' bhoga kare mahāpāpī jana
it stealing enjoyment does a great sinner person

89 The king's wealth weighs more than a brāhmaṇa's property; one who steals it to enjoy it is a great sinner.

রাজার বর্ত্তন খায়, আর চুরি করে । রাজদণ্ড্য হয় সেই শাস্ত্রের বিচারে ॥ ৯০ ॥

rājāra vartana khāya, āra curi kare
the king's salary he eats, and theft does rāja-daṇḍya haya sei śāstrera vicāre punishable by the king is he of scripture by the judgment

90 He lives on the king's salary and steals besides; by the judgment of scripture he deserves the king's punishment.

নিজ-কৌড়ি মাগে, রাজা নাহি করে দণ্ড । রাজা — মহাধার্ম্মিক, এই হয় পাপী ভণ্ড ! ॥ ৯১ ॥

nija-kauḍi māge, rājā nāhi kare daṇḍa
his own money asks for, the king not does punishment
rājā — mahā-dhārmika, ei haya pāpī bhaṇḍa!
the king greatly righteous, this one is sinful cheat

91 The king asks only for his own money and does not punish him. The king is most righteous; this man is a sinful cheat!

রাজ-কড়ি না দেয়, আমারে ফুকারে । এই মহাদুঃখ ইঁহা কে সহিতে পারে ? ॥ ৯২ ॥

rāja-kaḍi nā deya, āmāre phukāre
the king's money not he gives, to Me cries out loudly ei mahā-duḥkha iṁhā ke sahite pāre?
this great distress here who to bear can

92 He does not pay the king's money, and he cries out loudly to Me (phukāre). Who here can bear such great distress?

Anubhāṣya.
"Phukāre": weeps loudly.

The wish to live in solitude — that is, to leave bad association, a place loud with talk of worldly affairs —

আলালনাথ যাই' তাঁহা নিশ্চিন্তে রহিমু । বিষয়ীর ভাল মন্দ বার্ত্তা না শুনিমু ॥ ৯৩ ॥

ālālanātha yāi' tāṁhā niścinte rahimu
to Ālālanātha going there free from care I shall stay viṣayīra bhāla manda vārtā nā śunimu
of worldly men good bad news not I shall hear

93 I shall go to Ālālanātha and stay there free from care; I will not hear the news of worldly men, good or bad.'"

The king is ready to give up everything if only the Lord will stay in Purī —

এত শুনি' কহে রাজা পাঞা মনে ব্যথা । সব দ্রব্য ছাড়োঁ, যদি প্রভু রহেন এথা ॥ ৯৪ ॥

eta śuni' kahe rājā pāñā mane vyathā
this hearing says the king feeling in the mind pain
saba dravya chāḍoṁ, yadi prabhu rahena ethā
all the money I give up, if the Lord stays here

94 At this the king felt pain in his heart and said, "I give up all the money, if only the Lord will stay here.

*Even a moment's darśana of the Lord is supremely desirable —*

একক্ষণ প্রভুর যদি পাইয়ে দরশন । কোটিচিন্তামণি-লাভ নহে তার সম ॥ ৯৫ ॥

eka-kṣaṇa prabhura yadi pāiye daraśana
for one moment the Lord's if I obtain sight
koṭi-cintāmaṇi-lābha nahe tāra sama
of millions of cintāmaṇi gems gain is not to it equal

95 If I can have the Lord's darśana for even a moment, not even millions of cintāmaṇi gems can equal it.

কোন্ ছার পদার্থ এই দুইলক্ষ কাহন ?
প্রাণ-রাজ্য করোঁ প্রভুপদে নির্ম্মঞ্ছন ॥ ৯৬ ॥

kon chāra padārtha ei duilakṣa kāhana?
what paltry thing this two lakhs of kāhanas
prāṇa-rājya karoṁ prabhu-pade nirmañchana life kingdom I make at the Lord's feet an offering

96 And what are these two lakhs of kāhanas? A paltry thing! My life and my kingdom I offer at the Lord's feet in worship (nirmañchana)."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Nirmañchana": a special kind of offering — the offering of arghya during ārati or worship.

When His devotee suffers, the Lord suffers —

মিশ্র কহে, কৌড়ি ছাড়িবা, — নহে প্রভুর মন ।
তাহা দুঃখ পায়, — এই না যায় সহন ॥ ৯৭ ॥

miśra kahe, kauḍi chāḍibā, — nahe prabhura mana Miśra says, the money you should give up is not the Lord's mind
tāhā duḥkha pāya, — ei nā yāya sahana
they (those) suffer this not goes bearing

97 Miśra said, "It is not the Lord's wish that you give up the money. They are suffering, and that He cannot bear."[6]

The king explains that he did not know of Gopīnātha's punishment —

রাজা কহে, — তারে আমি দুঃখ নাহি দিয়ে ।
চাঙ্গে চড়া, খড়্গে ডারা, — আমি না জানিয়ে ॥ ৯৮ ॥

rājā kahe, — tāre āmi duḥkha nāhi diye
the king says to him I pain not give cāṅge caḍā, khaḍge ḍārā, — āmi nā jāniye onto the cāṅga raising, onto the swords throwing I not know

98 The king said, "I mean him no pain. Raising him onto the cāṅga, throwing him onto the swords — I knew nothing of it.

পুরুষোত্তম-জানারে তেঁহ কৈল পরিহাস । সেই 'জানা' তারে দেখাইল মিথ্যা ত্রাস ॥ ৯৯ ॥

puruṣottama-jānāre teṁha kaila parihāsa
at Puruṣottama Jānā he made mockery sei 'jānā' tāre dekhāila mithyā trāsa
that Jānā to him showed false terror

99 He mocked Puruṣottama Jānā, and that Jānā only gave him a false scare.

The king asks Miśra to please the Lord and to tell Him of the king's natural affection for the descendants of Bhavānanda —

তুমি যাহ, প্রভুরে রাখহ যত্ন করি' । এই মুই তাহারে ছাড়িনু সব কৌড়ি ॥ ১০০ ॥

tumi yāha, prabhure rākhaha yatna kari'
you go, the Lord keep effort making ei mui tāhāre chāḍinu saba kauḍi
here I to him have released all the money

100 Go and do all you can to keep the Lord here. Here and now I release him from all the money."

মিশ্র কহে, কৌড়ি ছাড়িবা, — নহে প্রভুর মনে ।
কৌড়ি ছাড়িলে প্রভু কদাচিৎ দুঃখ মানে ॥ ১০১ ॥

miśra kahe, kauḍi chāḍibā, — nahe prabhura mane Miśra says, the money you should give up is not in the Lord's mind
kauḍi chāḍile prabhu kadācit duḥkha māne
the money if you give up the Lord perhaps pain feels

101 Miśra said, "The Lord does not want you to give up the money. If you do, perhaps He will be pained."

রাজা কহে, কৌড়ি ছাড়িমু, — ইহা না কহিবা । সহজে মোর প্রিয় তা'রা, — ইহা জানাইবা ॥ ১০২ ॥

rājā kahe, kauḍi chāḍimu, — ihā nā kahibā
the king says, the money I shall give up this not you should say sahaje mora priya tā'rā, — ihā jānāibā
naturally to me dear they this you should make known

102 The king said, "I shall give up the money, but do not tell Him that. Let Him know only this: they are naturally dear to me.

ভবানন্দ-রায় — আমার পূজ্য-গর্ব্বিত । তাঁর পুত্রগণে আমার সহজেই প্রীত ॥ ১০৩ ॥

bhavānanda-rāya — āmāra pūjya-garvita Bhavānanda Rāya my worthy of honour and esteem
tāṁra putra-gaṇe āmāra sahajei prīta
his sons my naturally affection

103 Bhavānanda Rāya is worthy of my honour and esteem (pūjya-garvita), and I naturally feel affection for his sons."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Pūjya-garvita": worthy of worship, an object of pride and honor.

The crown prince shows Gopīnātha favor and gives him leave —

এত বলি' মিশ্রে নমস্করি' ঘরে গেলা । গোপীনাথে 'বড় জানা' ডাকিয়া আনিলা ॥ ১০৪ ॥

eta bali' miśre namaskari' ghare gelā
thus saying to Miśra offering obeisance home he went gopīnāthe 'baḍa jānā' ḍākiyā ānilā Gopīnātha the Baḍa Jānā calling brought

104 Saying this, the king offered obeisance to Miśra and went home. And the Baḍa Jānā summoned Gopīnātha.[7]

রাজা কহে, — সব কৌড়ি তোমারে ছাড়িলুঁ । সেই মালজাঠ্যা-দণ্ডপাট তোমারে ত' দিলুঁ ॥ ১০৫ ॥

rājā kahe, — saba kauḍi tomāre chāḍiluṁ
the king says all the money to you I have released
sei mālajāṭhyā-daṇḍapāṭa tomāre ta' diluṁ that same Mālajāṭhyā Daṇḍapāṭa to you indeed I have given 105 The king said, "I release you from all the money, and I give you that same Mālajāṭhyā Daṇḍapāṭa again.

আর বার ঐছে না খাইহ রাজধন । আজি হৈতে দিলুঁ তোমায় দ্বিগুণ বর্ত্তন ॥ ১০৬ ॥

āra bāra aiche nā khāiha rāja-dhana
another time like this not consume the king's wealth
āji haite diluṁ tomāya dviguṇa vartana
today from I have given to you double salary

106 Do not consume the king's wealth like this again. From today I give you double salary."

এত বলি' 'নেতধটী' তারে পরাইল । প্রভু-আজ্ঞা লঞা যাহ, বিদায় তোমা দিল ॥ ১০৭ ॥

eta bali' 'neta-dhaṭī' tāre parāila thus saying silk cloth on him he put prabhu-ājñā lañā yāha, vidāya tomā dila
the Lord's permission taking go, leave to you was given

107 Saying this, he dressed him in silk cloth (netadhaṭī): "Take the Lord's permission and go; you have your leave."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Netadhaṭī": silk cloth.

*The account of Gopīnātha's punishment leads to a description of the advancement, both worldly and spiritual — that is, of the higher good (śreyas) — that the Lord's mercy brings —*

পরমার্থে প্রভুর কৃপা, সেহ রহু দূরে । অনন্ত তাহার ফল, কে বলিতে পারে ? ॥ ১০৮ ॥

paramārthe prabhura kṛpā, seha rahu dūre
in the supreme goal the Lord's mercy, that let it stay far off ananta tāhāra phala, ke balite pāre?
unlimited its fruit, who to tell can

108 Leave aside the Lord's mercy in the highest, spiritual sense (paramārtha): its fruit is endless, and who can describe it?

'রাজ্য-বিষয়'-ফল এই — কৃপার 'আভাসে' !
তাহার গণনা কারো, মনে নাহি আইসে ! ॥ ১০৯ ॥

‘rājya-viṣaya’-phala ei — kṛpāra ‘ābhāse’!
of royal wealth the fruit this of mercy from a semblance
tāhāra gaṇanā kāro, mane nāhi āise!
its reckoning anyone’s to the mind not comes

109 This fruit, a domain and worldly wealth, came from a mere semblance (ābhāsa) of His mercy, and no one can even begin to reckon it!

কাঁহা চাঙ্গে চড়াঞা লয় ধন-প্রাণ !
কাঁহা সব ছাড়ি’ সেই রাজ্যাদি-প্রদান! ॥ ১১০ ॥

kāṁhā cāṅge caḍāñā laya dhana-prāṇa!
where onto the cāṅga raising takes wealth and life
kāṁhā saba chāḍi’ sei rājyādi-pradāna!
where everything releasing that kingdom and more bestowing

110 On one hand, he was raised onto the cāṅga to be stripped of wealth and life! On the other, everything was forgiven, and that same domain and more were bestowed on him!

কাঁহা সর্ব্বস্ব বেচি’ লয়, দেয়া না যায় কৌড়ি !
কাঁহা দ্বিগুণ বর্ত্তন, পরায় নেতধড়ি! ॥ ১১১ ॥

kāṁhā sarvasva veci’ laya, deyā nā yāya kauḍi!
where all he owned selling takes, to be paid not goes the money
kāṁhā dviguṇa vartana, parāya neta-dhaḍi!
where double salary, dresses in silk cloth

111 On one hand, all he owned was to be sold off, and still the money could not be paid! On the other, a double salary, and a silk cloth to wear!

প্রভুর ইচ্ছা নাহি, তারে কৌড়ি ছাড়াইবে । দ্বিগুণ বর্ত্তন করি’ পুনঃ ‘বিষয়’ দিবে ॥ ১১২ ॥

prabhura icchā nāhi, tāre kauḍi chāḍāibe
the Lord’s wish is not him the money would release dviguṇa vartana kari’ punaḥ ‘viṣaya’ dibe double salary making again the post would give

112 The Lord had no wish that his money be remitted, that his salary be doubled, or that he be given his post again.

তথাপি তার সেবক আসি’ কৈল নিবেদন । তাতে ক্ষুব্ধ হৈল যবে মহাপ্রভুর মন ॥ ১১৩ ॥

tathāpi tāra sevaka āsi’ kaila nivedana
still his servant coming made a petition
tāte kṣubdha haila yabe mahāprabhura mana
by that disturbed became when Mahāprabhu’s mind

113 Still, his servant came and made his petition, and Mahāprabhu’s mind was disturbed by it.

বিষয়-সুখ দিতে প্রভুর নাহি মনোবল । নিবেদন-প্রভাবেহ তবু ফলে এত ফল ॥ ১১৪ ॥

viṣaya-sukha dite prabhura nāhi manobala worldly happiness to give of the Lord is not inclination
nivedana-prabhāveha tabu phale eta phala
of the petition even by the power still bears so much fruit

114 The Lord had no inclination to give worldly happiness; yet even by the power of a mere petition such fruit was borne.

The wonderful nature of the Lord, full of majesty —

কে কহিতে পারে গৌরের আশ্চর্য্য স্বভাব ?
ব্রহ্মা-শিব-আদি যাঁর না পায় অন্তর্ভাব ॥ ১১৫ ॥

ke kahite pāre gaurera āścarya svabhāva?
who to tell can Gaura's wonderful nature
brahmā-śiva-ādi yāṁra nā pāya antarbhāva
Brahmā, Śiva and others whose not find inner intent

115 Who can describe the wonderful nature of Gaura? Even Brahmā, Śiva and the others cannot fathom His inner intent.

The Lord and Kāśī Miśra talk about how the king treated Gopīnātha —

এথা কাশীমিশ্র আসি' প্রভুর চরণে । রাজার চরিত্র সব কৈলা নিবেদনে ॥ ১১৬ ॥

ethā kāśī-miśra āsi' prabhura caraṇe
here Kāśī Miśra coming the Lord's at the feet
rājāra caritra saba kailā nivedane
the king's conduct all made report

116 Meanwhile Kāśī Miśra came to the Lord's feet and reported all that the king had done.

প্রভু কহে, — কাশীমিশ্র, কি তুমি করিলা ?
রাজ-প্রতিগ্রহ তুমি আমা' করাইলা ? ॥ ১১৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kāśī-miśra, ki tumi karilā?
the Lord says Kāśī Miśra, what you have done
rāja-pratigraha tumi āmā' karāilā?
a gift from the king you Me have made accept

117 The Lord said, "Kāśī Miśra, what have you done? Have you made Me accept a gift from the king (rāja-pratigraha)?"

Anubhāṣya.
For the Lord's sake, at Kāśī Miśra's word, the king gave up money due to him that Gopīnātha was to pay. Therefore, in the Lord's view, it came about that He had accepted a gift from the king's funds (rājārtha-pratigraha).

মিশ্র কহে, — শুন, প্রভু, রাজার বচনে । অকপটে রাজা এই কৈলা নিবেদনে ॥ ১১৮ ॥

miśra kahe, — śuna, prabhu, rājāra vacane Miśra says hear, Lord, the king's words
akapaṭe rājā ei kailā nivedane
without guile the king this made request

118 Miśra said, "Lord, hear the king's words. Without any guile the king made this request:

প্রভু যেন নাহি জানেন, — রাজা আমার লাগিয়া । দুইলক্ষ কাহন কৌড়ি দিলেক ছাড়িয়া ॥ ১১৯ ॥

prabhu yena nāhi jānena, — rājā āmāra lāgiyā
the Lord so that not should think the king My for the sake
duilakṣa kāhana kauḍi dileka chāḍiyā
two lakhs of kāhanas of money gave releasing

119 'Let the Lord not think that the king has given up two lakhs of kāhanas for His sake.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Speak in such a way that He will not think I gave up the money for Mahāprabhu's sake."

ভবানন্দের পুত্র সব — মোর প্রিয়তম । ইঁহা-সবাকারে আমি দেখি আত্মসম ॥ ১২০ ॥

bhavānandera putra saba — mora priyatama Bhavānanda's sons all to me most dear
iṁhā-sabākāre āmi dekhi ātma-sama them all I see as my own self

120 All of Bhavānanda's sons are most dear to me; I regard them all as my own self.

অতএব যাঁহা তাঁহা দেই অধিকার । খায়, পিয়ে, লুটে, বিলায়, না করোঁ বিচার ॥ ১২১ ॥

ataeva yāṁhā tāṁhā dei adhikāra
therefore here there I give posts
khāya, piye, luṭe, vilāya, nā karoṁ vicāra
they eat, drink, plunder, give away, not I make scrutiny

121 So I give them posts here and there. They eat, drink, plunder and give away, and I do not look into it.

*Earlier, by Pratāparudra's favor, Rāmānanda Rāya had been appointed governor (bhūmy-adhikārī) of Rājamahendrī*
—

রাজমহীন্দ্রে 'রাজা' কৈনু রাম-রায়ে । যে খাইল, যেবা দিল, নাহি লেখা-দায়ে ॥ ১২২ ॥

rājamahīndre 'rājā' kainu rāma-rāye
in Rājamahendrī governor I made Rāmānanda Rāya ye khāila, yebā dila, nāhi lekhā-dāye
what he consumed, what he gave, is not accounting due 122 In Rājamahendrī I made Rāmānanda Rāya governor (rājā). Whatever he consumed and whatever he gave away, no account was asked of him.

Anubhāṣya.
The present town of Rājamahendrī stands on the northern bank of the Godāvarī. The capital in Rāmānanda Rāya's time, Vidyānagara, lay on the southern bank of the Godāvarī. Vidyānagara, or Vidyāpura, was where the Godāvarī meets the sea — that is, in Koṭadeśa. That province was then known as Rājamahendrī. The northern part of the land of Kaliṅga is Utkaliṅga, or Utkala. Rājamahendrī was precisely the capital of the southern province of the Utkaliṅga kingdom. In our time the town of Rājamahendrī has moved to another site.

গোপীনাথ এইমত 'বিষয়' করিয়া । দুইচারি-লক্ষ কাহন রহে ত' খাঞা ॥ ১২৩ ॥

gopīnātha eimata 'viṣaya' kariyā Gopīnātha in this way official business doing duicāri-lakṣa kāhana rahe ta' khāñā
two or four lakhs of kāhanas remains indeed having consumed

123 In the same way, while handling the king's business, Gopīnātha goes on consuming two to four lakhs of kāhanas.

কিছু দেয়, কিছু না দেয়, না করি বিচার ।
'জানা'-সহিত অপ্রীত্যে দুঃখ পাইল এইবার ॥ ১২৪ ॥

kichu deya, kichu nā deya, nā kari vicāra
some he gives, some not gives, not I make scrutiny
'jānā'-sahita aprītye duḥkha pāila ei-bāra
the Jānā with through ill will trouble he got this time

124 Some of it he pays and some he does not, and I do not look into it. This time he came to grief through his ill will with the Jānā.

'জানা' এত কৈলা, — ইহা মুই নাহি জানোঁ । ভবানন্দের পুত্র-সবে আত্মসম মানোঁ ॥ ১২৫ ॥

'jānā' eta kailā, — ihā mui nāhi jānoṁ
the Jānā so much did this I not know bhavānandera putra-sabe ātma-sama mānoṁ Bhavānanda's sons all as my own self I regard

125 I did not know that the Jānā had gone so far. I regard all of Bhavānanda's sons as my own self.

তাঁহা লাগি' দ্রব্য ছাড়ি, — ইহা মাৎ মানে । সহজেই মোর প্রীতি হয় তাহা-সনে ॥ ১২৬ ॥

tāṁhā lāgi' dravya chāḍi, — ihā māt māne
His for the sake the money I give up this let Him not consider sahajei mora prīti haya tāhā-sane
naturally my love is with them

126 Let Him not consider that I am giving up the money for His sake (māt, "not"): my love for them is natural.'"[8]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Māt" (a Hindi word): "not."

The Lord rejoices to hear of the king's humility; Bhavānanda Rāya arrives with his sons and humbly proclaims the glory of the Lord's mercy —

শুনিয়া রাজার বিনয় প্রভুর আনন্দ । হেনকালে আইলা তথা রায়-ভবানন্দ ॥ ১২৭ ॥

śuniyā rājāra vinaya prabhura ānanda hearing the king's humility the Lord's joy
hena-kāle āilā tathā rāya-bhavānanda
at this time came there Bhavānanda Rāya

127 Hearing of the king's humility, the Lord was pleased. Just then Bhavānanda Rāya arrived there.

পঞ্চপুত্র-সহিতে আসি' পড়িলা চরণে । উঠাঞা প্রভু তাঁরে কৈলা আলিঙ্গনে ॥ ১২৮ ॥

pañca-putra-sahite āsi' paḍilā caraṇe
five sons with coming fell at the feet
uṭhāñā prabhu tāṁre kailā āliṅgane raising the Lord him did embracing

128 He came with his five sons and fell at the Lord's feet. The Lord raised him up and embraced him.

রামানন্দ-রায় আদি সবাই মিলিলা । ভবানন্দ-রায় তবে বলিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১২৯ ॥

rāmānanda-rāya ādi sabāi mililā Rāmānanda Rāya and the others all met bhavānanda-rāya tabe balite lāgilā Bhavānanda Rāya then to speak began

129 Rāmānanda Rāya and all the others met the Lord. Then Bhavānanda Rāya began to speak:

Bhavānanda declares that he and his whole family have sold themselves at the Lord's feet —

তোমার কিঙ্কর এই সব মোর কুল । এ বিপদে রাখি' প্রভু, পুনঃ নিলা মূল ॥ ১৩০ ॥

tomāra kiṅkara ei saba mora kula
Your servants this whole my family
e vipade rākhi' prabhu, punaḥ nilā mūla
in this danger saving, Lord, again You took for a price

130 "My whole family are Your servants. Saving us in this danger, Lord, You have bought us again for a price (nilā mūla).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Nilā mūla": You have bought us again, paying the price.

The Lord's affection for His devotees, described by comparison with His rescue of the five Pāṇḍavas from danger —

ভক্তবাৎসল্য এবে প্রকট করিলা । পূর্ব্বে যেন পঞ্চপাণ্ডবে বিপদে তারিলা ॥ ১৩১ ॥

bhakta-vātsalya ebe prakaṭa karilā affection for devotees now manifest You have made pūrve yena pañca-pāṇḍave vipade tārilā
formerly as the five Pāṇḍavas from danger You delivered

131 Now You have shown Your affection for Your devotees, as long ago You delivered the five Pāṇḍavas from danger."

Gopīnātha gives thanks for his rescue and sings the Lord's glory —

'নেতধটী'-মাথে গোপীনাথ চরণে পড়িলা । রাজার কৃপা-বৃত্তান্ত সকল কহিলা ॥ ১৩২ ॥

'netadhaṭī'-māthe gopīnātha caraṇe paḍilā
silk cloth on his head Gopīnātha at the feet fell rājāra kṛpā-vṛttānta sakala kahilā
the king's mercy story all he told

132 Gopīnātha, the silk cloth on his head, fell at the Lord's feet and told the whole story of the king's kindness:

বাকী-কৌড়ি বাদ, আর দ্বিগুণ বর্ত্তন কৈলা । পুনঃ 'বিষয়' দিয়া 'নেতধটী' পরাইলা ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

bākī-kauḍi bāda, āra dviguṇa vartana kailā
the outstanding money remitted, and double salary he made punaḥ 'viṣaya' diyā 'neta-dhaṭī' parāilā again the post giving silk cloth he dressed

133 "He remitted the money I owed and doubled my salary; he gave me my post again and dressed me in silk.

কাঁহা চাঙ্গের উপর সেই মরণ প্রমাদ !
কাঁহা 'নেতধটী' পুনঃ, — এসব প্রসাদ! ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

kāṁhā cāṅgera upara sei maraṇa pramāda!
where of the cāṅga on top that of death peril
kāṁhā 'neta-dhaṭī' punaḥ, — esaba prasāda!
where silk cloth again all this grace

134 On one hand, that peril of death on top of the cāṅga! On the other, silk cloth again — all this is Your grace!

চাঙ্গের উপরে তোমার চরণ ধ্যান কৈলুঁ । চরণ-স্মরণ-প্রভাবে এই ফল পাইলুঁ ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

cāṅgera upare tomāra caraṇa dhyāna kailuṁ of the cāṅga on top Your feet meditation I did caraṇa-smaraṇa-prabhāve ei phala pāiluṁ
of the feet remembering by the power this fruit I obtained

135 On the cāṅga I meditated on Your feet, and by the power of remembering Your feet I obtained this fruit.

লোকে চমৎকার মোর এ সব দেখিয়া । প্রশংসে তোমার কৃপা-মহিমা গাঞা ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

loke camatkāra mora e saba dekhiyā people amazement my this all seeing praśaṁse tomāra kṛpā-mahimā gāñā
praise Your of mercy the glory singing

136 Seeing all this happen to me, people are amazed; they sing and praise the glory of Your mercy.

The chief fruit of remembering Gaura is love for Gaura; the secondary fruit is worldly happiness —

কিন্তু তোমার স্মরণের নহে এই 'মুখ্যফল' ।
'ফলাভাস' এই, — যাতে 'বিষয়' চঞ্চল ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

kintu tomāra smaraṇera nahe ei 'mukhya-phala'
but Your of remembrance is not this the chief fruit
'phalābhāsa' ei, — yāte 'viṣaya' cañcala
a semblance of fruit this because worldly things fickle

137 But this is not the chief fruit of remembering You. It is only a semblance of fruit (phalābhāsa), for worldly things are fickle.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The chief fruit of remembering Your lotus feet is love for You. The protection of life, honor and wealth is only a semblance of the fruit (phalābhāsa) of that good deed — of serving Your feet. Material objects are fickle by nature, so a fruit connected with them is not the “chief” one.

Anubhāṣya.

Remembering Śrī Mahāprabhu can bring every perfection. The three worldly aims (trivarga) — dharma, artha and kāma — and liberation (apavarga), mokṣa and the rest, are secondary fruits. They are a “semblance of fruit” (phalābhāsa), gained by those who thirst after fickle worldly objects. Compared with the complete, eternally perfect fruit — attaining love for Kṛṣṇa — they are utterly contemptible and bring only a small gain.

রাম-রায়ে, বাণীনাথে কৈলা ‘নির্ব্বিষয়’ । সেই কৃপা আমাতে নাহি, যাতে ঐছে হয় ! ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

rāma-rāye, vāṇīnāthe kailā ‘nirviṣaya’ Rāmānanda Rāya, Vāṇīnātha You made free from worldly affairs sei kṛpā āmāte nāhi, yāte aiche haya!
that mercy on me is not, by which such comes about

138 You made Rāmānanda Rāya and Vāṇīnātha free from worldly affairs. But I have not received the mercy that brings this about!

*Seeing his worldly fortune grow and fearing to lose the good fortune of serving the Lord, Gopīnātha prays at the Lord's feet for genuine mercy (amāyā-kṛpā) and for freedom from the urge to enjoy worldly things —*

শুদ্ধ কৃপা কর, গোসাঞি, ঘুচাহ ‘বিষয়’ । নির্ব্বিণ্ণ হইনু, মোতে ‘বিষয়’ না হয় ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

śuddha kṛpā kara, gosāñi, ghucāha ‘viṣaya’
pure mercy show, Gosāñi, take away worldly affairs
nirviṇṇa hainu, mote ‘viṣaya’ nā haya weary I have become, by me worldly affairs not can be done

139 Show me pure mercy, Gosāñi: take away my worldly affairs. I have grown weary of them (nirviṇṇa); worldly affairs are not for me.”

*The Lord disregards the outward dress of sannyāsa; knowing Gopīnātha's qualification (adhikāra), He tells him to worship Hari while remaining in the household āśrama —*

প্রভু কহে, — সন্ন্যাসী যবে হইবা পঞ্চজন । কুটুম্ব-বাহুল্য তোমার কে করে ভরণ ? ॥ ১৪০ ॥

prabhu kahe, — sannyāsī yabe haibā pañca-jana
the Lord says sannyāsīs if will become five persons kuṭumba-bāhulya tomāra ke kare bharaṇa?
large household your who will do maintaining 140 The Lord said, “If all five of you become sannyāsīs, who will maintain your large household?

*The teaching that the perfected servants of Gaura, indifferent to whether they wear a householder's or a sannyāsī's*

dress, worship Kṛṣṇa in every condition —

মহাবিষয় কর, কিবা বিরক্ত উদাস । জন্মে জন্মে তুমি পঞ্চ — মোর ‘নিজদাস’ ॥ ১৪১ ॥

mahā-viṣaya kara, kibā virakta udāsa
great worldly affairs do, or detached indifferent
janme janme tumi pañca — mora ‘nija-dāsa’
in birth after birth you five My own servants

141 Whether you manage great worldly affairs or live detached and indifferent to the world, birth after birth you five are My own servants.

Anubhāṣya.

When the jīva has the pure self-conception “I am the Lord's eternal, very own servant,” neither the outward acceptance of sannyāsa nor outward service to vast worldly affairs can do him any outward harm. For the jīva falls into bondage only when he forgets Kṛṣṇa's happiness and becomes intent on material enjoyment for himself. And when he becomes transcendental, devoted to serving Kṛṣṇa, then even living at home he is in great renunciation (mahā-sannyāsa). In that state he is absorbed in Kṛṣṇa at every moment, so even the greatest worldly affairs, which frighten people, cannot trouble him at all: in every condition he remains equally Kṛṣṇa's servant.

*Moral and religious instruction to Gopīnātha: to fulfill his duty to the king and to spend only what has been honestly earned (śukla-artha) —*

কিন্তু মোর করিহ এক ‘আজ্ঞা’ পালন । ব্যয় না করিহ কিছু রাজার মূলধন ॥ ১৪২ ॥

kintu mora kariha eka ‘ājñā’ pālana
but My do one order keeping vyaya nā kariha kichu rājāra mūla-dhana spending not do any of the king’s principal

142 But keep one order of Mine: do not spend any of the king’s principal (mūla-dhana).

Anubhāṣya.

When the jīva forgets his transcendental self-conception as the Lord's servant and becomes an enjoyer of material things, he takes to sins contrary to dharma and morality. This is what the Lord forbids.

রাজার মূলধন দিয়া যে কিছু লভ্য হয় । সেই ধন করিহ নানা ধর্ম্মে-কর্ম্মে ব্যয় ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

rājāra mūla-dhana diyā ye kichu labhya haya
the king’s principal paying whatever profit is sei dhana kariha nānā dharme-karme vyaya
that money do in various religious and pious works spending

143 After paying the king his principal, spend whatever profit remains on various pious works.

অসদ্ব্যয় না করিহ, — যাতে দুইলোক যায় । এত বলি’ সবাকারে দিলেন বিদায় ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

asad-vyaya nā kariha, — yāte dui-loka yāya sinful spending not do by which both worlds are lost eta bali’ sabākāre dilena vidāya
thus saying to all He gave leave

144 Do not spend on sinful things, by which both worlds are lost.” Saying this, He gave them all leave to go.

Anubhāṣya.

When the jīva takes to sin, he meets obstacles in attaining both — material welfare and transcendental realization.

*The Lord's abundant mercy (amandodayā dayā), which came together with the increase of worldly fortune, is a kṛpā-vivarta, a seeming mercy; it shows that the Lord is subject to His devotees —*

রায়ের ঘরে প্রভুর ‘কৃপা-বিবর্ত্ত’ কহিল । ভক্তবাৎসল্য-গুণ যাতে ব্যক্ত হৈল ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

rāyera ghare prabhura ‘kṛpā-vivarta’ kahila
in Rāya’s house the Lord’s seeming mercy I have told bhakta-vātsalya-guṇa yāte vyakta haila affection for devotees quality in which manifest became 145 I have told of the Lord’s kṛpā-vivarta — a seeming mercy — shown in the house of Bhavānanda Rāya. In it His affection for His devotees was revealed.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

“Kṛpā-vivarta”: mercy in the form of worldly welfare (prosperity) is not true mercy. But to the worldly mind it appeared as mercy — a vivarta, taking one thing for another.

Thus ends the ninth chapter of the “Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.”

The Lord gives the devotees leave —

সবায় আলিঙ্গিয়া বিদায় যবে দিলা । হরিধ্বনি করি’ সব ভক্ত উঠি’ গেলা ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

sabāya āliṅgiyā vidāya yabe dilā
all embracing leave when He gave hari-dhvani kari’ saba bhakta uṭhi’ gelā
the sound of Hari making all devotees rising went 146 When He embraced them all and gave them leave, all the devotees rose and went away, calling out the name of Hari.

Not understanding the Lord's dealings, everyone is amazed —

প্রভুর কৃপা দেখি’ সবার হৈল চমৎকার । তাহারা বুঝিতে নারে প্রভুর ব্যবহার ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

prabhura kṛpā dekhi’ sabāra haila camatkāra
the Lord’s mercy seeing everyone’s was amazement tāhārā bujhite nāre prabhura vyavahāra
they to understand cannot the Lord’s behaviour

147 Seeing the Lord’s mercy, everyone was amazed; they could not understand the Lord’s conduct.

*A description of the hidden secret of the Lord's conduct in the pastime of Gopīnātha's rescue, and of its meaning: (1) at first He does not agree to rescue Gopīnātha; (2) after Gopīnātha's rescue He rebukes him for acquiring money dishonestly; (3) as the ideal for a renounced sannyāsī Vaiṣṇava, He wishes for solitude — that is, to leave bad association, the talk of worldly affairs; (4) Gopīnātha's worldly fortune increases; (5) to Gopīnātha, who fears worldly enjoyment, He teaches that whether one stays at home or leaves home, in every condition one is fit to worship Kṛṣṇa —*

তারা সবে যদি কৃপা করিতে সাধিল । ‘আমা’ হৈতে কিছু নহে — প্রভু তবে কহিল ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

tārā sabe yadi kṛpā karite sādhila
they all when mercy to show entreated ‘āmā’ haite kichu nahe — prabhu tabe kahila
Me from anything is not the Lord then said

148 When they had all entreated Him to show mercy, the Lord had said, “I can do nothing.”

Anubhāṣya.
Gopīnātha is a jīva, and if he serves worldly affairs, harm to him is inevitable. Bringing about material welfare must be understood as the Lord's secondary mercy. If Śrī Gaurasundara Himself, in the dress of a renounced devotee, set out to help a worldly man, then people would imitate such conduct of His, and the ideal of the renounced Vaiṣṇava would be belittled and despised. Therefore a bhāgavata who is free from worldly dependence (nirapekṣa) and wears the dress of a renunciant should never take up the affairs of worldly people.

গোপীনাথের নিন্দা, আর আপন-নির্ব্বেদ । এইমাত্র কহিল, ইহার না বুঝিবে ভেদ ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

gopīnāthera nindā, āra āpana-nirveda Gopīnātha’s censure, and His own dejection ei-mātra kahila, ihāra nā bujhibe bheda
this only He spoke, of this not will understand the secret

149 He only censured Gopīnātha and spoke of His own detachment (nirveda); no one will understand the secret of this.

কাশীমিশ্রে না সাধিল, রাজারে না সাধিল । উদ্যোগ বিনা এতসব ফল দিল ॥ ১৫০ ॥

kāśī-miśre nā sādhila, rājāre nā sādhila Kāśī Miśra not He entreated, the king not He entreated
udyoga vinā etasaba phala dila effort without all this fruit He gave 150 He did not entreat Kāśī Miśra, nor did He entreat the king; yet without any effort He gave all this fruit.

Only one attracted by Caitanya, who does not waver before desire and enjoyment, is able to realize the inner meaning of Caitanya's deeds —

চৈতন্যচরিত্র এই পরম গম্ভীর । সেই বুঝে, তাঁর পদে যাঁর মন ‘ধীর’ ॥ ১৫১ ॥

caitanya-caritra ei parama gambhīra Caitanya’s conduct this supremely deep sei bujhe, tāṁra pade yāṁra mana ‘dhīra’
he understands His at the feet whose mind steady

151 This conduct of Śrī Caitanya is supremely deep. Only he understands it whose mind is steady (dhīra) at His feet.

*One who hears of the Lord's affection for His devotees is freed from anarthas, and love for the Lord awakens in him —*

যেই ইঁহা শুনে প্রভুর বাৎসল্য-প্রকাশ । প্রেমভক্তি পায়, তাঁর বিপদ যায় নাশ ॥ ১৫২ ॥

yei iṁhā śune prabhura vātsalya-prakāśa
whoever this hears the Lord's affection display
prema-bhakti pāya, tāṁra vipada yāya nāśa
loving devotion attains, his danger goes to destruction

152 Whoever hears this display of the Lord's affection attains loving devotion, and his dangers are destroyed.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the ninth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

153 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. The first line is the same as Madhya 1.188; translated as there. ↩
2. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads কৃপা-ছদ্মবন্ধ (another reading is ছদ্মবন্ধ): kṛpā-chadma — mercy hidden under the guise of something else: outwardly the Lord refused to intervene, yet His mercy was at work. ↩
3. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads ভোগ-ভাগী, "one who takes his share" (another reading is ভোগ-ভোগী, "an enjoyer"): the second line speaks of the same pure devotee, who in happiness and distress himself accepts the fruit of his own deeds without asking the Lord to free him (cf. verse 77, bhuñjāna evātma-kṛtaṁ vipākam). ↩
4. The same verse is Madhya 6.261, where Sārvabhauma recites it with bhakti-pade, "to the position of devotion"; here it is read mukti-pade, as in the Bhāgavatam. ↩
5. Sva-mandire — "to his own dwelling". ↩
6. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads তাহা; another reading is তারা, "they". The sense is the same: it is Gopīnātha's family who suffer. ↩
7. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads বড় জানা (another reading is বড় জানায়, "he called the Baḍa Jānā"): the Baḍa Jānā himself summons Gopīnātha. ↩
8. Māt (a Hindi word) — "not" ↩
9. In the edition this section is numbered "৪৩" (43; checked against the scan): a misprint. It explains the words of verse 44 and stands after verse 44. ↩

Relishing the Devotees’ Offerings

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. For the Ratha-yātrā the devotees of Gauḍa set out for Puruṣottama. Rāghava Paṇḍita went carrying many kinds of food in the jhālis (bags) his sister Damayantī had given him. Makaradhvaja Kara of Pāṇihāṭī went along too, as the “munsib” (steward) of Rāghava's jhālis. On the day the devotees reached Puruṣottama, Govinda had boarded a boat to sport on the waters of Narendra. Mahāprabhu and the devotees also sported in the water. As before, the cleaning of the Guṇḍicā temple and the rest took place. Inside the temple they sang the kīrtana “Jagamohana-parimuṇḍā.” When the kīrtana ended, Mahāprabhu honored prasāda and lay down at the door of the Gambhīrā. Govinda somehow got close to Him and massaged His feet, but he could not get out, and so that day he did not honor prasāda. Through this conduct of Govinda the conclusion of the pure Vaiṣṇavas was made known: “For the sake of service one should accept even an offense, but for one's own enjoyment one should shun even the shadow of an offense.” Everything the devotees of Gauḍa had given for Mahāprabhu's service Govinda offered to the Lord, and the Lord partook of it. The Vaiṣṇavas invited the Lord from house to house and fed Him. At the invitation of Caitanya dāsa, the son of Śivānanda, the Lord affectionately ate rice with yogurt.

Homage to Gaura, surrounded by His devotees and pleased with what His devotees offer —

বন্দে শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্যং ভক্তানুগ্রহকারকম্ । যেন কেনাপি সন্তুষ্টং ভক্তদত্তেন শ্রদ্ধয়া ॥ ১ ॥

vande śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanyaṁ
I worship Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya
bhaktānugraha-kārakam
who bestows grace on His devotees
yena kenāpi santuṣṭaṁ
with whatever even pleased bhakta-dattena śraddhayā
given by a devotee with faith

1 I worship Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, who bestows grace on His devotees and is pleased with whatever a devotee offers Him with faith.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I worship Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, who shows grace to His devotees and is pleased with whatever a devotee offers Him with faith.

Anubhāṣya.
śraddhayā bhakta-dattena (given, that is, offered by a devotee) yena kena api (by anything at all, however ordinary) santuṣṭaṁ (Him who is pleased) bhaktānugraha-kārakam (who bestows grace on His devotees) śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanyam ahaṁ vande.

জয় জয় গৌরচন্দ্র জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya gauracandra jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Gauracandra glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaitacandra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory of Gaura the devotees to the multitude

2 Glory, glory to Gauracandra! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura![1]

For the Ratha-yātrā the devotees of Gauḍa travel to Purī to see the Lord —

বর্ষান্তরে সব ভক্ত প্রভুরে দেখিতে । পরম-আনন্দে সবে নীলাচল যাইতে ॥ ৩ ॥

varṣāntare saba bhakta prabhure dekhite
in the next year all the devotees the Lord to see parama-ānande sabe nīlācala yāite
in great joy all to Nīlācala to go

3 The next year all the devotees set out in great joy for Nīlācala to see the Lord.

The devotees of Gauḍa, headed by Advaita —

অদ্বৈতআচার্য্য-গোসাঞি-সর্ব্ব-অগ্রগণ্য । আচার্য্যরত্ন, আচার্য্যনিধি, শ্রীবাস আদি ধন্য ॥ ৪ ॥

advaitācārya-gosāñi-sarva-agra-gaṇya Advaitācārya Gosāñi of all the foremost ācāryaratna, ācāryanidhi, śrīvāsa ādi dhanya Ācāryaratna Ācāryanidhi Śrīvāsa and others blessed

4 Foremost of all was Advaitācārya Gosāñi; with him came Ācāryaratna, Ācāryanidhi, Śrīvāsa and other blessed devotees.

Anubhāṣya.
Ācāryaratna is Candraśekhara; Ācāryanidhi is Vidyānidhi, Puṇḍarīka Prema-nidhi.

Nityānanda, who loves the Lord, sets out although Gaura had forbidden it —

যদ্যপি প্রভুর আজ্ঞা গৌড়ে রহিতে । তথাপি নিত্যানন্দ প্রেমে চলিলা দেখিতে ॥ ৫ ॥

yadyapi prabhura ājñā gauḍe rahite although the Lord's order in Gauḍa to remain
tathāpi nityānanda preme calilā dekhite
still Nityānanda in love set out to see (Him)

5 Although the Lord had ordered Him to remain in Gauḍa, Nityānanda, out of love, set out to see Him.

*A consideration of Nityānanda's transgressing Gaura's order; the sign of anurāga —*

অনুরাগের লক্ষণ এই, — 'বিধি' নাহি মানে । তাঁর আজ্ঞা ভাঙ্গে তাঁর সঙ্গের কারণে ॥ ৬ ॥

anurāgera lakṣaṇa ei, — 'vidhi' nāhi māne
of anurāga the sign this rules not heeds
tāṁra ājñā bhāṅge tāṁra saṅgera kāraṇe
His order breaks His company for the sake of 6 This is the sign of anurāga (deep, spontaneous love): it does not heed rules (vidhi). For the sake of His company it breaks His order.

*An example: the gopīs' service to Kṛṣṇa in the rāsa dance —*

রাসে যৈছে ঘর যাইতে গোপীরে আজ্ঞা দিলা । তাঁর আজ্ঞা ভাঙ্গি' তাঁর সঙ্গে সে রহিলা ॥ ৭ ॥

rāse yaiche ghara yāite gopīre ājñā dilā
in the rāsa as home to go to the gopīs an order He gave tāṁra ājñā bhāṅgi' tāṁra saṅge se rahilā
His order breaking with Him they remained

7 So it was in the rāsa dance: He told the gopīs to go home, but they broke His order and stayed with Him.

Anubhāṣya.
See Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.29.18–27.

*The different ways of pleasing Viṣṇu and Kṛṣṇa on the path of rules (vidhi) and on the path of anurāga —*

আজ্ঞা-পালনে কৃষ্ণের যৈছে পরিতোষ । প্রেমে আজ্ঞা ভাঙ্গিলে হয় কোটি-সুখ-পোষ ॥ ৮ ॥

ājñā-pālane kṛṣṇera yaiche paritoṣa
in the keeping of His order Kṛṣṇa's whatever satisfaction
preme ājñā bhāṅgile haya koṭi-sukha-poṣa
in love the order if broken there is a millionfold nourishment of joy

8 Kṛṣṇa is pleased when His order is kept; but when it is broken out of love, His joy is nourished a millionfold.

Anubhāṣya.
Koṭi-sukha-poṣa — nourished with a millionfold happiness.

The devotees of Gauḍa who set out for Purī —

বাসুদেব-দত্ত, মুরারি-গুপ্ত, গঙ্গাদাস ।
শ্রীমান্-সেন, শ্রীমান্-পণ্ডিত, অকিঞ্চন কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ৯ ॥

মুরারি, গরুড়-পণ্ডিত, বুদ্ধিমন্ত-খাঁন ।
সঞ্জয়-পুরুষোত্তম, পণ্ডিত-ভগবান্ ॥ ১০ ॥

শুক্লাম্বর, নৃসিংহানন্দ আর যত জন । সবাই চলিলা, নাম না যায় লিখন ॥ ১১ ॥

vāsudeva-datta, murāri-gupta, gaṅgādāsa
Vāsudeva Datta Murāri Gupta Gaṅgādāsa
śrīmān-sena, śrīmān-paṇḍita, akiñcana kṛṣṇadāsa
Śrīmān Sena Śrīmān Paṇḍita Akiñcana Kṛṣṇadāsa
murāri, garuḍa-paṇḍita, buddhimanta-khāṁna Murāri Garuḍa Paṇḍita Buddhimanta Khān
sañjaya-puruṣottama, paṇḍita-bhagavān
Sañjaya Puruṣottama Paṇḍita Bhagavān
śuklāmbara, nṛsiṁhānanda āra yata jana Śuklāmbara Nṛsiṁhānanda and as many people (as there were) sabāi calilā, nāma nā yāya likhana
all set out the names not can be written

9–11 Vāsudeva Datta, Murāri Gupta, Gaṅgādāsa, Śrīmān Sena, Śrīmān Paṇḍita, Akiñcana Kṛṣṇadāsa, Murāri, Garuḍa Paṇḍita, Buddhimanta Khān, Sañjaya Puruṣottama, Bhagavān Paṇḍita, Śuklāmbara, Nṛsiṁhānanda and all the others set out. Their names cannot all be written down.

The devotees set out from Kulīnagrāma, Khaṇḍa and Kumārahaṭṭa (Kāñcanapallī) —

কুলীনগ্রামী, খণ্ডবাসী মিলিলা আসিয়া । শিবানন্দ-সেন আইলা সবারে লঞা ॥ ১২ ॥

kulīna-grāmī, khaṇḍa-vāsī mililā āsiyā
the people of Kulīnagrāma the residents of Khaṇḍa joined coming śivānanda-sena āilā sabāre lañā Śivānanda Sena came all bringing

12 The people of Kulīnagrāma and the residents of Khaṇḍa came and joined them, and Śivānanda Sena came, bringing everyone along.

*Rāghava sets out with jhālis full of foods the Lord loves, prepared by Damayantī —*

রাঘব-পণ্ডিত চলে ঝালি সাজাইয়া । দময়ন্তী যত দ্রব্য দিয়াছে করিয়া ॥ ১৩ ॥

rāghava-paṇḍita cale jhāli sājāiyā Rāghava Paṇḍita goes the jhālis having packed damayantī yata dravya diyāche kariyā
Damayantī all the things had given having prepared

13 Rāghava Paṇḍita set out with his jhālis (hampers), packed with all the things that Damayantī had prepared and given him.

*A description of Rāghava's jhālis —*

নানা অপূর্ব্ব ভক্ষ্যদ্রব্য প্রভুর যোগ্য ভোগ । বৎসরেক প্রভু যাহা করেন উপযোগ ॥ ১৪ ॥

nānā apūrva bhakṣya-dravya prabhura yogya bhoga various wonderful foods for the Lord worthy offerings
vatsareka prabhu yāhā karena upayoga for a whole year the Lord which makes use of 14 There were many wonderful foods, offerings worthy of the Lord, enough for Him to partake of for a whole year.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Upayoga — use, acceptance.

আম্র-কাশন্দি, আদা-ঝাল-কাশন্দি-নাম ।
নেম্বু-আদা-আম্রকলি বিবিধ বিধান ॥ ১৫ ॥

আম্সি, আমখণ্ড, তৈলাম্র, আমসত্ত্ব । যত্ন করি' গুণ্ডা করি' পুরাণ শুক্তা ॥ ১৬ ॥

āmra-kāśandi, ādā-jhāla-kāśandi-nāma mango kāśandi ginger and chili kāśandi so named nembu-ādā-āmra-kali vividha vidhāna
lime and ginger with mango buds various preparations
āmsi, āma-khaṇḍa, tailāmra, āma-sattā
āmsi āma-khaṇḍa tailāmra āma-sattā
yatna kari' guṇḍā kari' purāṇa śuktā
with care making powder making dried śuktā

15–16 There were mango kāśandi and the relishes called ginger and chili kāśandi, lime and ginger with mango buds, and other preparations; āmsi, āma-khaṇḍa, tailāmra (mango pickle in mustard oil) and āma-sattā; and dried śuktā (bitter greens), carefully ground into powder.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Purāṇa śuktā — dried bitter jute greens (pāṭa-śāka).

Anubhāṣya.
Tailāmra — mango pickle (ācāra) kept in mustard oil; guṇḍā — ground, powder.

'শুক্তা' বলি' অবজ্ঞা না করিহ চিত্তে । শুক্তায় যে সুখ হয়, নহে পঞ্চামৃতে ॥ ১৭ ॥

'śuktā' bali' avajñā nā kariha citte
śuktā calling it contempt do not feel in your mind
śuktāya ye sukha haya, nahe pañcāmṛte
in śuktā what joy there is is not in pañcāmṛta

17 Do not look down on it because it is only śuktā: the joy found in śuktā is not found even in pañcāmṛta.[2]

The transcendental Bhagavān accepts the feeling —

ভাবগ্রাহী মহাপ্রভু স্নেহমাত্র লয় । শুক্তাপাতা-কাশন্দিতে মহাসুখ হয় ॥ ১৮ ॥

bhāva-grāhī mahāprabhu sneha-mātra laya who accepts the feeling Mahāprabhu the affection alone accepts śuktā-pātā-kāśandite mahā-sukha haya
in śuktā leaves and kāśandi great joy there is 18 Mahāprabhu receives the feeling (bhāva-grāhī): it is the affection alone that He accepts. So the śuktā leaves and kāśandi gave Him great joy.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhāva (feeling) is a transcendental, causeless disposition of the heart, made of pure goodness (śuddha-sattva) and devoted to pleasing Kṛṣṇa's senses. It is not the contemptible mental state of the prākṛta-sahajiyās, which seeks its own pleasure.

*Evidence of Damayantī's pure, spontaneous (svārasikī) and exceedingly deep love for Gaura —*

'মনুষ্য'-বুদ্ধি দময়ন্তী করে প্রভুর পায় । গুরু-ভোজনে উদরে কভু 'আম' হঞা যায় ॥ ১৯ ॥

'manuṣya'-buddhi damayantī kare prabhura pāya human regard Damayantī holds the Lord's toward the feet guru-bhojane udare kabhu 'āma' hañā yāya from heavy eating in the stomach sometimes āma becoming goes

19 Damayantī, in her affection, regarded the Lord as a human being (manuṣya-buddhi): "From heavy food, āma (indigestion) may sometimes form in His stomach.

Anubhāṣya.

Manuṣya-buddhi (regarding Him as a human being) is the awareness of the residents of Gauḍa and Vraja. Their hearts are made of pure goodness and know nothing of His majesty (aiśvarya), and they know Gaura-Kṛṣṇa in His human form as controlled solely by their own pure, unmixed love. Āma — acid-bile disease (amla-pitta) caused by indigestion from a weakened digestive fire.

শুক্তা খাইলে সেই আম হইবেক নাশ । সেই স্নেহ মনে ভাবি' প্রভুর উল্লাস ॥ ২০ ॥

śuktā khāile sei āma haibeka nāśa
śuktā if He eats that āma will be destroyed
sei sneha mane bhāvi' prabhura ullāsa
that affection in His mind considering the Lord's delight

20 If He eats śuktā, that āma will be cured." Thinking of her affection, the Lord was delighted.

*Only what is offered with love is endowed with great virtue; in a gift of love one does not weigh outward faults and merits — (Bhāravi's Kirātārjunīya, canto 8, verse 20)*

প্রিয়েণ সংগ্রথ্য বিপক্ষ-সন্নিধাব্ উপাহিতাং বক্ষসি পীবর-স্তনী ।
স্রজং ন কাচিদ্ বিজহৌ জলাবিলাং বসন্তি হি প্রেম্ণি গুণা ন বস্তুনি ॥ ২১ ॥

priyeṇa saṁgrathya vipakṣa-sannidhāv
by her beloved strung in the presence of her rivals upāhitāṁ vakṣasi pīvara-stanī
placed on her breast the full-breasted (woman)
srajaṁ na kācid vijahau jalāvilāṁ
the garland not a certain (woman) cast off soiled with water vasanti hi premṇi guṇā na vastuni dwell for in love virtues not in the thing

21 "Her beloved strung a garland himself and placed it on her breast in the presence of her rivals; and though it was soiled with water, the full-bosomed maiden did not cast it off — for virtues dwell in love, not in the thing itself." (Kirātārjunīya, 8.20)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

A lover strung a garland and, in the presence of her rivals (sapatnīs), placed it on the breast of a full-bosomed beauty. She did not cast it off, though it was soiled, for good qualities do not reside in a thing — they reside in love alone.

Anubhāṣya.

kācit (a beloved) priyeṇa (by the one she loves, her lover) saṅgrathya (strung by himself) vipakṣa-sannidhau (near her rivals) pīvara-stane (full-bosomed) vakṣasi (on the breast) upāhitām (placed, set) jalāvilāṁ (though soiled with mud and the like) srajaṁ (the garland) na vijahau (did not cast off); hi (for) guṇāḥ premṇi vasanti, na vastuni (the sense: only a thing offered with love has virtue; any other, even if it has good qualities, is without virtue and full of faults; love, however, does not need to test the thing).

ধনিয়া-মৌহরীর তণ্ডুল গুণ্ডা করিয়া । নাড়ু বান্ধিয়াছে চিনি-পাক করিয়া ॥ ২২ ॥

dhaniyā-mauharīra taṇḍula guṇḍā kariyā of coriander and anise the seeds powder making nāḍu bāndhiyāche cini-pāka kariyā
nāḍus she has shaped sugar syrup cooking

22 She ground coriander and anise seeds into powder, cooked it in sugar syrup and shaped it into nāḍus (sweet balls).

শুণ্ঠীখণ্ড, নাড়ু, আর আমপিত্তহর । পৃথক্ পৃথক্ বান্ধি’ বস্ত্রের কুথলী-ভিতর ॥ ২৩ ॥

śuṇṭhī-khaṇḍa, nāḍu, āra āma-pitta-hara
dry ginger with sugar nāḍus and remedies for āma and bile pṛthak pṛthak bāndhi’ vastrera kuthalī-bhitara
separately separately tying of cloth in little bags

23 She tied up dry ginger with sugar, nāḍus, and remedies for āma and bile, each separately in little cloth bags.[3]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kuthalī — small bags.

কোলিশুণ্ঠি কোলিচূর্ণ কোলিখণ্ড আর । কত নাম লইব, আর শতপ্রকার ‘আচার’ ॥ ২৪ ॥

koli-śuṇṭhi koli-cūrṇa koli-khaṇḍa āra dried kul berries kul powder kul with sugar and kata nāma laiba, āra śata-prakāra ‘ācāra’
how many names shall I list and of a hundred kinds pickles

24 There were dried kul berries (koli-śuṇṭhi), kul powder and kul with sugar — how many names shall I list? — and a hundred kinds of pickles (ācāra).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kola-śuṇṭhi — dried kul berries.

নারিকেল-খণ্ড আর নাড়ু গঙ্গাজলি । চিরস্থায়ী খণ্ডবিকার করিলা সকলি ॥ ২৫ ॥

nārikela-khaṇḍa āra nāḍu gaṅgā-jali
coconut sweets and nāḍus gaṅgājali
cira-sthāyī khaṇḍa-vikāra karilā sakali long-lasting sugar sweets she made all

25 Coconut sweets and gaṅgājali nāḍus (white sweet balls) — she made every kind of sugar sweet that would keep a long time.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Nāḍu-gaṅgājali — white nāḍus (sweet balls).

Anubhāṣya.
Cira-sthāyī khaṇḍa-vikāra (sugar sweets that keep a long time) — kadmā, kāṭāpheṇī, olā, maṭha, tile-bhājā, damdam-miśri, reśmī miṭhāi and so on.

চিরস্থায়ী ক্ষীরসার, মণ্ডাদি-বিকার । অমৃত-কর্পূর আদি অনেক প্রকার ॥ ২৬ ॥

cirasthāyī kṣīrasāra, maṇḍādi-vikāra
long-lasting kṣīrasāra maṇḍā and other preparations amṛta-karpūra ādi aneka prakāra
amṛta-karpūra and others many kinds

26 There were also long-lasting kṣīrasāra (thickened cream), maṇḍā and other milk sweets, amṛta-karpūra and many more besides.

শালিকাচটি-ধান্যের ‘আতপ’ চিঁড়া করি’ । নূতন-বস্ত্রের বড় কুথলী সব ভরি’ ॥ ২৭ ॥

śālikācaṭi-dhānyera ‘ātapa’ ciṁḍā kari’
of śālikācaṭi paddy sun-dried flat rice making nūtana-vastrera baḍa kuthalī saba bhari’
of new cloth big bags all filling

27 From śālikācaṭi paddy she made sun-dried (ātapa) flat rice and filled big bags of new cloth with it.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śālikācaṭi dhānya — (a kind of) dry unhusked rice.

কতেক চিঁড়া হুড়ুম্ করি’ ঘৃতেতে ভাজিয়া । চিনি-পাকে নাড়ু কৈলা কর্পূরাদি দিয়া ॥ ২৮ ॥

kateka ciṁḍā huḍum kari’ ghṛtete bhājiyā
some flat rice huḍum making in ghee frying cini-pāke nāḍu kailā karpūrādi diyā
in sugar syrup nāḍus she made camphor and so on adding 28 Some of the flat rice she made into huḍum (puffed rice) and fried it in ghee; then, adding camphor and other spices, she made nāḍus of it in sugar syrup.

Anubhāṣya.
Huḍum — what is called muḍi (puffed rice) in East Bengal; in West Bengal a distinct kind of rice is prepared under the name “huḍum-cāul.”

শালি-ধান্যের তণ্ডুল-ভাজা চূর্ণ করিয়া ।
ঘৃতসিক্ত চূর্ণ কৈলা চিনি-পাক দিয়া ॥ ২৯ ॥

কর্পূর, মরিচ, লবঙ্গ, এলাচি, রসবাস । চূর্ণ দিয়া নাড়ু কৈলা পরম সুবাস ॥ ৩০ ॥

śāli-dhānyera taṇḍula-bhājā cūrṇa kariyā of śāli paddy fried rice grains powder making ghṛta-sikta cūrṇa kailā cini-pāka diyā moistened with ghee the powder she made sugar syrup adding karpūra, marica, lavaṅga, elāci, rasavāsa camphor black pepper cloves cardamom rasavāsa
cūrṇa diyā nāḍu kailā parama suvāsa
the powder adding nāḍus she made most fragrant

29–30 She fried grains of śāli rice and ground them to powder, moistened the powder with ghee and cooked it with sugar syrup. Then, adding powdered camphor, black pepper, cloves, cardamom and rasavāsa (aromatic spice), she made most fragrant nāḍus.

শালি-ধান্যের খই পুনঃ ঘৃতেতে ভাজিয়া । চিনি-পাক উখ্ড়া কৈলা কর্পূরাদি দিয়া ॥ ৩১ ॥

śāli-dhānyera khai punaḥ ghṛtete bhājiyā
of śāli paddy khai again in ghee frying
cini-pāka ukhḍā kailā karpūrādi diyā
in sugar syrup ukhḍā she made camphor and so on adding 31 Again, she fried khai (popped rice) of śāli paddy in ghee and made ukhḍā in sugar syrup, adding camphor and other spices.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Ukhḍā is muḍki: the small husked grains of the khai type that remain after the large khai (popped rice) have been picked out.

ফুট্‌কলাই চূর্ণ করি’ ঘৃতে ভাজাইল । চিনি-পাকে কর্পূর দিয়া নাড়ু কৈল ॥ ৩২ ॥

phuṭkalāi cūrṇa kari’ ghṛte bhājāila phuṭkalāi powder making in ghee she fried cini-pāke karpūra diyā nāḍu kaila
in sugar syrup camphor adding nāḍus she made

32 She ground phuṭkalāi (fried peas) to powder and fried it in ghee, and with sugar syrup and camphor made nāḍus of it.

Anubhāṣya.
Phuṭkalāi — fried peas.

The author's humility, though he himself is supremely skilled in making delicious foods —

কহিতে না জানি নাম এ-জন্মে যাহার । ঐছে নানা ভক্ষ্যদ্রব্য সহস্রপ্রকার ॥ ৩৩ ॥

kahite nā jāni nāma e-janme yāhāra to tell not I know the names in this life of which aiche nānā bhakṣya-dravya sahasra-prakāra
such various foods of a thousand kinds

33 There were a thousand kinds of such foods, whose names I could not tell in this lifetime.

The deep love of Rāghava and Damayantī for the Lord —

রাঘবের আজ্ঞা, আর করেন দময়ন্তী । দুঁহার প্রভুতে স্নেহ পরম-ভকতি ॥ ৩৪ ॥

rāghavera ājñā, āra karena damayantī Rāghava’s order and carries out Damayantī duṁhāra prabhute sneha parama-bhakati
of both for the Lord affection supreme devotion

34 Rāghava gave the orders, and Damayantī carried them out. Both had deep affection and supreme devotion for the Lord.

গঙ্গা-মৃত্তিকা আনি’ বস্ত্রেতে ছানিয়া । পাঁচ কুড়ি করিয়া দিলা গন্ধদ্রব্য দিয়া ॥ ৩৫ ॥

gaṅgā-mṛttikā āni' vastrete chāniyā Gaṅgā clay bringing through cloth straining pāṁca kuḍi kariyā dilā gandha-dravya diyā pāṁc kuḍi making she gave fragrant substances adding

35 She brought clay from the Gaṅgā, strained it through cloth, mixed in fragrant substances and made it into pāṁc-kuḍi (thin wafers).[4]

Anubhāṣya.
Pāṁc-kuḍi — another reading has "pākauḍi"; another reading, "pāṁpaḍi," that is, thin wafers (dala), or "parpaṭī."

পাতল মৃৎপাত্রে চন্দনাদি ভরি' । আর সব বস্তু ভরে বস্ত্রের কুথলী ॥ ৩৬ ॥

pātala mṛt-pātre candanādi bhari'
thin clay pots sandalwood and so on filling āra saba vastu bhare vastrera kuthalī
other all things she fills of cloth little bags

36 She filled thin clay pots with sandalwood paste and other things, and packed everything else in little cloth bags.[5]

Anubhāṣya.
Pātala — thin, light; according to some, of stone (prastara).

সামান্য ঝালি হৈতে দ্বিগুণ ঝালি কৈলা । পরিপাটি করি' সব ঝালি ভরাইলা ॥ ৩৭ ॥

sāmānya jhāli haite dviguṇa jhāli kailā ordinary jhālis than twice as big jhālis she made paripāṭi kari' saba jhāli bharāilā neatly making all the jhālis she had filled

37 She made jhālis twice the size of ordinary ones and neatly filled them all.

ঝালি বান্ধি' মোহর দিলা আগ্রহ করিয়া । তিন বোঝারি ঝালি বহে ক্রম করিয়া ॥ ৩৮ ॥

jhāli bāndhi' mohara dilā āgraha kariyā
the jhālis tying a seal she gave with care tina bojhāri jhāli vahe krama kariyā
three porters the jhālis carry in turn doing

38 She tied up the jhālis and carefully sealed them. Three porters carried them, taking turns.

Anubhāṣya.
Mohar dila — she sealed it with a seal so that no outsider could open it. Bojhāri — one who is the ari (the lightener) of a bojhā (load), that is, a porter, a muṭiyā or bujhiyā.

*Hence the name "Rāghava's jhālis" —*

সংক্ষেপে কহিলুঁ এই ঝালির বিচার ।
'রাঘবের ঝালি' বলি' বিখ্যাতি যাহার ॥ ৩৯ ॥

saṁkṣepe kahiluṁ ei jhālira vicāra
briefly I have told these jhālis' account
'rāghavera jhāli' bali' vikhyāti yāhāra Rāghava's jhālis as fame of which 39 I have briefly described these jhālis, which became famous as “Rāghava’s jhālis.”

Anubhāṣya.
This shows the author's skill in preparing a variety of offerings (naivedya) to Kṛṣṇa. See Madhya 14.26–34, Madhya 15.68–91 and 15.207–218.

*Makaradhvaja carefully guards the jhālis —*

ঝালির উপর ‘মুনসিব’ মকরধ্বজ-কর । প্রাণরূপে ঝালি রাখে হঞা তৎপর ॥ ৪০ ॥

jhālira upara ‘munsiba’ makaradhvaja-kara
the jhālis over munsib Makaradhvaja Kara prāṇa-rūpe jhāli rākhe hañā tatpara
like his life the jhālis keeps being vigilant

40 Makaradhvaja Kara was the munsib (steward) of the jhālis; he guarded them vigilantly, as if they were his very life.

Anubhāṣya.
Munsib — in Arabic, munsif: overseer, manager. Makaradhvaja Kara was a resident of the village of Pāṇihāṭī, a devotee of Gaura and a follower of Rāghava Paṇḍita; the foundation of his house is still shown in Pāṇihāṭī.

On the day the devotees of Gauḍa arrived in Purī, the festival of Śrī Govindadeva's water pastimes takes place on Lake Narendra —

এইমতে বৈষ্ণব সব নীলাচলে আইলা । দৈবে জগন্নাথের সে দিন জল-লীলা ॥ ৪১ ॥

ei-mate vaiṣṇava saba nīlācale āilā
in this way the Vaiṣṇavas all to Nīlācala came daive jagannāthera se dina jala-līlā
by providence Jagannātha’s that day water pastime

41 In this way all the Vaiṣṇavas came to Nīlācala. As providence would have it, that day was Jagannātha’s water pastime.

নরেন্দ্রের জলে ‘গোবিন্দ’ নৌকাতে চড়িয়া । জলক্রীড়া করে সবভক্তগণ লঞা ॥ ৪২ ॥

narendrera jale ‘govinda’ naukāte caḍiyā of Narendra on the water Govinda a boat boarding jala-krīḍā kare sababhakta-gaṇa lañā water sports performs all the devotees with 42 On the waters of Narendra Lake, Śrī Govinda boarded a boat and sported in the water with all the devotees.

At that very time the Lord too, with the devotees who live in Purī, comes to watch Kṛṣṇa's water pastimes —

সেইকালে মহাপ্রভু ভক্তগণ-সঙ্গে । নরেন্দ্রে আইলা দেখিতে জলকেলি রঙ্গে ॥ ৪৩ ॥

sei-kāle mahāprabhu bhakta-gaṇa-saṅge
at that time Mahāprabhu with the devotees
narendre āilā dekhite jala-keli raṅge
to Narendra came to see the water play joyfully

43 At that time Mahāprabhu came joyfully to Narendra with His devotees to watch the water play.

At that very time the devotees of Gauḍa meet the Lord —

সেইকালে সব গৌড়ের ভক্তগণ । নরেন্দ্রেতে প্রভু-সঙ্গে হইল মিলন ॥ ৪৪ ॥

sei-kāle saba gauḍera bhakta-gaṇa
at that time all of Gauḍa the devotees
narendrete prabhu-saṅge haila milana
at Narendra with the Lord was meeting

44 At that very time all the devotees of Gauḍa met the Lord at Narendra.

The devotees bow down, and the Lord embraces them —

ভক্তগণ পড়ে আসি' প্রভুর চরণে । উঠাঞা প্রভু সবারে কৈলা আলিঙ্গনে ॥ ৪৫ ॥ bhakta-gaṇa paḍe āsi' prabhura caraṇe

the devotees fall coming at the Lord's feet
uṭhāñā prabhu sabāre kailā āliṅgane raising them the Lord all embraced

45 The devotees came and fell at the Lord's feet, and the Lord raised them all and embraced them.

*The devotees of Gauḍa sing kīrtana; the devotees weep —*

গৌড়ীয়-সম্প্রদায় সব করেন কীর্ত্তন । প্রভুর মিলনে উঠে প্রেমের ক্রন্দন ॥ ৪৬ ॥

gauḍīya-sampradāya saba karena kīrtana
the Gauḍīya party all perform kīrtana
prabhura milane uṭhe premera krandana
at the Lord's meeting rises of love weeping

46 The whole Gauḍīya party sang kīrtana, and on meeting the Lord they wept with love.

Govindadeva's water pastimes with the devotees —

জলক্রীড়া, বাদ্য, গীত, নর্ত্তন, কীর্ত্তন । মহাকোলাহল তীরে, সলিলে খেলন ॥ ৪৭ ॥

jala-krīḍā, vādya, gīta, nartana, kīrtana
water sports music singing dancing kīrtana
mahā-kolāhala tīre, salile khelana
a great tumult on the shore in the water play

47 Water sports, music, singing, dancing and kīrtana — a great tumult on the shore and play in the water.

*The sounds of kīrtana and weeping merge into a great roar —*

গৌড়ীয়া-সঙ্কীর্ত্তনে আর রোদন মিলিয়া । মহাকোলাহল-শব্দ হৈল ব্রহ্মাণ্ড ভরিয়া ॥ ৪৮ ॥

gauḍīyā-saṅkīrtane āra rodana miliyā
of the Gauḍīyas saṅkīrtana and weeping mingling mahākolāhala-śabda haila brahmāṇḍa bhariyā
the sound of a great tumult arose the universe filling

48 The Gauḍīyas' saṅkīrtana and their weeping mingled, and the sound of that great tumult filled the universe.

The Lord's water pastimes with the devotees —

সব ভক্ত লঞা প্রভু নামিলেন জলে । সবা লঞা জলক্রীড়া করেন কুতূহলে ॥ ৪৯ ॥

saba bhakta lañā prabhu nāmilena jale
all the devotees taking the Lord entered the water
sabā lañā jala-krīḍā karena kutūhale
all with water sports performs delightedly

49 The Lord entered the water with all the devotees and sported with them all in delight.

*The Lord's water pastimes are described in the Caitanya-bhāgavata —*

প্রভুর এই জলক্রীড়া দাস-বৃন্দাবন ।
'চৈতন্যমঙ্গলে' বিস্তারি' কৈরাছেন বর্ণন ॥ ৫০ ॥

prabhura ei jala-krīḍā dāsa-vṛndāvana
the Lord's this water sport Vṛndāvana dāsa
'caitanya-maṅgale' vistāri' kairāchena varṇana
in the Caitanya-maṅgala at length has made description

50 Vṛndāvana dāsa has described these water sports of the Lord at length in his Caitanya-maṅgala (the Caitanya-bhāgavata).[6]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Caitanya-maṅgala — see the Caitanya-bhāgavata, Antya, Chapter 9.

Fearing to swell the book, the author does not repeat the account —

পুনঃ ইঁহা বর্ণিলে পুনরুক্তি হয় । ব্যর্থ লিখন হয়, মোর গ্রন্থ বাড়য় ॥ ৫১ ॥

punaḥ iṁhā varṇile punarukti haya again this if I describe repetition there is vyartha likhana haya, mora grantha bāḍaya useless writing is my book enlarges

51 If I describe them here again, it will be repetition — useless writing that only makes my book longer.

Govindadeva and the Lord, each with His own devotees, return to Their own places —

জললীলা করি' গোবিন্দ চলিলা আলয় । নিজগণ লঞা প্রভু গেলা দেবালয় ॥ ৫২ ॥

jala-līlā kari' govinda calilā ālaya
water pastime performing Govinda went to His abode
nija-gaṇa lañā prabhu gelā devālaya
His own associates with the Lord went to the temple

52 After the water pastime Govinda returned to His abode, and the Lord went to the temple with His associates.

Anubhāṣya.
In the Jagannātha temple resides the Deity of Śrī Govindadeva, the vijaya-mūrti (the festival Deity). It is He who goes to Narendra to perform water pastimes.

After seeing Jagannātha, the Lord feeds the devotees and sends them to their own lodgings —

জগন্নাথ দেখি' পুনঃ নিজ ঘরে-আইলা । প্রসাদ আনাঞা ভক্তগণে খাওয়াইলা ॥ ৫৩ ॥

jagannātha dekhi' punaḥ nija ghare-āilā Jagannātha seeing again His own to the residence came prasāda ānāñā bhakta-gaṇe khāoyāilā
prasāda having brought the devotees He fed

53 After seeing Jagannātha, He returned to His residence, had prasāda brought and fed the devotees.

ইষ্টগোষ্ঠী সবা লঞা কতক্ষণ কৈলা । নিজ-নিজ-পূর্ব্ব-বাসায় সবায় পাঠাইলা ॥ ৫৪ ॥

iṣṭa-goṣṭhī sabā lañā kata-kṣaṇa kailā
a discussion all with for some time He held nija-nija-pūrva-vāsāya sabāya pāṭhāilā to their own former lodgings everyone He sent

54 For some time He talked with them all of Kṛṣṇa (iṣṭa-goṣṭhī), and then sent everyone to the lodgings each had occupied before.

*Rāghava leaves his jhālis with Govinda —*

গোবিন্দ-ঠাঞি রাঘব ঝালি সমর্পিলা । ভোজন-গৃহের কোণে ঝালি রাখিলা ॥ ৫৫ ॥

govinda-ṭhāñi rāghava jhāli samarpilā to Govinda Rāghava the jhālis handed over bhojana-gṛhera koṇe jhāli rākhilā
of the dining room in a corner the jhālis were kept

55 Rāghava handed the jhālis over to Govinda, and they were kept in a corner of the dining room.

পূর্ব্ব-বৎসরের ঝালি আজাড় করিয়া । দ্রব্য ভরিবারে রাখে অন্য গৃহে লঞা ॥ ৫৬ ॥

pūrva-vatsarera jhāli ājāḍa kariyā
of the previous year the jhālis empty making dravya bharibāre rākhe anya gṛhe lañā things for filling keeps in another room taking

56 Govinda emptied the previous year's jhālis and took them to another room, keeping them there to be filled with provisions.

Anubhāṣya.
Ājāḍa — empty, emptied.

One morning the Lord goes with the devotees to see Jagannātha —

আর দিন মহাপ্রভু নিজগণ লঞা । জগন্নাথ দেখিলেন শয়্যোত্থানে যাঞা ॥ ৫৭ ॥

āra dina mahāprabhu nija-gaṇa lañā next day Mahāprabhu His associates with jagannātha dekhilena śayyotthāne yāñā Jagannātha saw at the rising from bed going

57 The next day Mahāprabhu went with His associates to see Jagannātha at His rising from bed.

*A description of the beḍā-saṅkīrtana (the kīrtana around the temple) in seven groups —*

বেড়া-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন তাঁহা আরম্ভ করিলা । সাত-সম্প্রদায় তবে গাইতে লাগিলা ॥ ৫৮ ॥

beḍā-saṅkīrtana tāṁhā ārambha karilā encircling saṅkīrtana there beginning He made sāta-sampradāya tabe gāite lāgilā
seven parties then to sing began

58 There He began the beḍā-saṅkīrtana (the kīrtana around the temple), and seven parties began to sing.

Anubhāṣya.
Beḍā-kīrtana — see Madhya 11.215–238.

সাত-সম্প্রদায়ে নৃত্য করে সাত জন । অদ্বৈত-আচার্য্য, আর প্রভু-নিত্যানন্দ ॥ ৫৯ ॥

sāta-sampradāye nṛtya kare sāta jana
in the seven parties dance perform seven people
advaita-ācārya, āra prabhu-nityānanda
Advaita Ācārya and Prabhu Nityānanda

59 In the seven parties seven persons danced: Advaita Ācārya and Prabhu Nityānanda, বক্রেশ্বর, অচ্যুতানন্দ, পণ্ডিত-শ্রীবাস । সত্যরাজ-খাঁন, আর নরহরিদাস ॥ ৬০ ॥

vakreśvara, acyutānanda, paṇḍita-śrīvāsa
Vakreśvara Acyutānanda Paṇḍita Śrīvāsa
satyarāja-khāṁna, āra narahari-dāsa
Satyarāja Khān and Narahari dāsa

60 Vakreśvara, Acyutānanda, Śrīvāsa Paṇḍita, Satyarāja Khān and Narahari dāsa.

*The Lord manifests His great majesty (aiśvarya) —*

সাত-সম্প্রদায়ে প্রভু করেন ভ্রমণ । মোর সম্প্রদায়ে প্রভু — ঐছে সবার মন ॥ ৬১ ॥

sāta-sampradāye prabhu karena bhramaṇa
among the seven parties the Lord makes wandering mora sampradāye prabhu — aiche sabāra mana
in my party the Lord so everyone’s mind

61 The Lord moved among the seven parties, and each one thought, “The Lord is in my party.”

*The roar of the great saṅkīrtana —*

সঙ্কীর্ত্তন কোলাহলে আকাশ ভেদিল । সব জগন্নাথবাসী দেখিতে আইল ॥ ৬২ ॥

saṅkīrtana kolāhale ākāśa bhedila saṅkīrtana by the tumult the sky was pierced saba jagannātha-vāsī dekhite āila
all the residents of Jagannātha's town to see came

62 The tumult of the saṅkīrtana pierced the sky, and all the residents of Jagannātha's town came to see.

*The king and his queens watch the saṅkīrtana —*

রাজা আসি' দূরে দেখে নিজগণ লঞা । রাজপত্নী সব দেখে অট্টালী চড়িয়া ॥ ৬৩ ॥

rājā āsi' dūre dekhe nija-gaṇa lañā
the king coming from afar watches his retinue with rāja-patnī saba dekhe aṭṭālī caḍiyā
the queens all watch the upper storey climbing

63 The king came with his retinue and watched from a distance, and all the queens watched from the upper storey of the palace.

*The force of the great saṅkīrtana —*

কীর্ত্তন-আবেশে পৃথিবী করে টলমল ।
'হরিধ্বনি' করে লোক, হৈল কোলাহল ॥ ৬৪ ॥

kīrtana-āveśe pṛthivī kare ṭalamala
in the ecstasy of kīrtana the earth makes trembling
'hari-dhvani' kare loka, haila kolāhala
the sound of Hari make the people there was a tumult

64 In the ecstasy of the kīrtana the earth trembled. The people called out "Hari!" and there was a great tumult.[7]

Anubhāṣya.
Kīrtanāveśe ("in absorption in kīrtana") — another reading has "kīrtanāṭope," that is, through the force or vehemence of the kīrtana.

The Lord's constant desire —[20]

এইমত কতক্ষণ করাইলা কীর্ত্তন । আপনে নাচিতে তবে প্রভুর হৈল মন ॥ ৬৫ ॥

ei-mata kata-kṣaṇa karāilā kīrtana
in this way for some time He had performed kīrtana
āpane nācite tabe prabhura haila mana Himself to dance then the Lord's arose wish

65 For some time He led the kīrtana in this way; then the Lord wished to dance Himself.

The Lord dances in the midst of the seven groups —

সাত-দিকে সাত-সম্প্রদায় গায়, বাজায় । মধ্যে মহাপ্রেমাবেশে নাচে গৌর-রায় ॥ ৬৬ ॥

sāta-dike sāta-sampradāya gāya, bājāya
on seven sides seven parties sing play madhye mahā-premāveśe nāce gaura-rāya
in the middle in the ecstasy of great love dances Gaura Rāya

66 On seven sides the seven parties sang and played, and in the middle Gaura Rāya danced, absorbed in great love.

The Lord orders Svarūpa to sing a line of an Oriya song —

ওড়িয়া-পদ মহাপ্রভুর মনে স্মৃতি হৈল । স্বরূপেরে সেই পদ গাইতে আজ্ঞা দিল ॥ ৬৭ ॥

oḍiyā-pada mahāprabhura mane smṛti haila
an Oḍiyā line Mahāprabhu's in the mind remembrance arose svarūpere sei pada gāite ājñā dila to Svarūpa that line to sing order He gave

67 A line of an Oḍiyā song came to Mahāprabhu's mind, and He told Svarūpa to sing it:

The line is this —

'জগমোহন-পরিমুণ্ডা যাউ' ॥ ৬৮ ॥

'jagamohana-pari-muṇḍā yāu'
the Jagamohana to head may be offered

68 "Let my head be offered at the Jagamohana!"

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Inside the Jagannātha temple there is a large hall called the "jagamohana." On one side of it, set apart, stands the "Garuḍa pillar" (garuḍa-stambha). The place in this jagamohana where the devotees dance is called the "parimaṇḍala"; "parimuṇḍā" is the Utkala corruption (apabhraṁśa) of "parimaṇḍala."[19] Since the Oriya line is not given here in full, no clear meaning emerges. Such a song is not known in Utkala today; surely it only points to some special feeling.

Anubhāṣya.

Jagamohana — the nāṭya-mandira (hall) of Śrī Jagannāthadeva, which is called the jagamohana; pari — to; muṇḍā — head; yāu — may it be offered, may it be given.

The Lord dances absorbed in love, and everyone is filled with bliss —

এই পদে নৃত্য করেন আপন-আবেশে । সবলোক চৌদিকে প্রভুর প্রেমে ভাসে ॥ ৬৯ ॥

ei pade nṛtya karena āpana-āveśe
to this line dance He performs in His own absorption
sabaloka caudike prabhura preme bhāse
all the people around in the Lord's love float

69 To this line He danced, absorbed in His own feeling, and all the people around floated in the Lord's love.[8]

From the Lord's mouth comes only the sound "Haribol!" —

'বোল্' 'বোল্' বলেন প্রভু শ্রীবাহু তুলিয়া । হরিধ্বনি করে লোক আনন্দে ভাসিয়া ॥ ৭০ ॥

'bol' 'bol' balena prabhu śrī-bāhu tuliyā say say says the Lord His holy arms raising hari-dhvani kare loka ānande bhāsiyā
the sound of Hari make the people in bliss floating

70 Raising His holy arms, the Lord called, “Say it! Say it!” and the people, floating in bliss, called out “Hari!”

*The Lord's sāttvika-vikāras (transcendental transformations) —*

প্রভু পড়ি’ মূর্চ্ছা যায়, শ্বাস নাহি আর । আচম্বিতে উঠে প্রভু করিয়া হুঙ্কার ॥ ৭১ ॥

prabhu paḍi’ mūrcchā yāya, śvāsa nāhi āra
the Lord falling unconscious goes breath not any more ācambite uṭhe prabhu kariyā huṅkāra
suddenly rises the Lord making a roar

71 The Lord fell and lost consciousness; He was no longer breathing. Then suddenly He rose with a roar.

সঘন পুলক, — যেন শিমুলের তরু । কভু প্রফুল্লিত অঙ্গ, কভু হয় সরু ॥ ৭২ ॥

saghana pulaka, — yena śimulera taru
dense bristling of the hair like of a śimula tree kabhu praphullita aṅga, kabhu haya saru
sometimes swollen the body sometimes becomes thin

72 His hair bristled thickly, like the thorns of a śimula tree. At times His body swelled; at times it grew thin.

প্রতি রোমে হয় প্রস্বেদ, রক্তোদ্গম । ‘জজ’ ‘গগ’ ‘পরি’ ‘মুমু’ — গদ্গদ বচন ॥ ৭৩ ॥

prati rome haya prasveda, raktodgama
from every pore comes perspiration oozing of blood ‘jaja’ ‘gaga’ ‘pari’ ‘mumu’ — gadgada vacana
‘jaja’ ‘gaga’ ‘pari’ ‘mumu’ faltering speech

73 From every pore came perspiration and blood, and His faltering voice uttered only “jaja,” “gaga,” “pari,” “mumu.”

His teeth shake —

এক এক দন্ত সব পৃথক্ পৃথক্ নড়ে । ঐছে নড়ে দন্ত, — যেন ভূমে খসি’ পড়ে ॥ ৭৪ ॥

eka eka danta saba pṛthak pṛthak naḍe
one one tooth all separately separately shake aiche naḍe danta, — yena bhūme khasi’ paḍe
so shake the teeth as if to the ground coming loose fall

74 Each of His teeth shook on its own, so loosely that it seemed they would fall to the ground.

The ocean of bliss swells —

ক্ষণে ক্ষণে বাড়ে প্রভুর আনন্দ-আবেশ । তৃতীয় প্রহর হইল, নৃত্য নহে শেষ ॥ ৭৫ ॥

kṣaṇe kṣaṇe bāḍe prabhura ānanda-āveśa moment by moment grows the Lord’s ecstasy of bliss
tṛtīya prahara haila, nṛtya nahe śeṣa
the third prahara came the dance is not ended

75 Moment by moment the Lord's blissful ecstasy grew. The third prahara of the day came, and still the dance did not end.

Everyone forgets the body, that is, the outer world —

সব লোকের উথলিল আনন্দ-সাগর । সব লোক পাসরিল দেহ-আত্ম-ঘর ॥ ৭৬ ॥

saba lokera uthalila ānanda-sāgara
of all the people surged the ocean of bliss
saba loka pāsarila deha-ātma-ghara
all the people forgot body self home

76 The ocean of bliss surged in everyone, and all the people forgot body, self and home.

*Nityānanda devises a way to bring the kīrtana to a close —*

তবে নিত্যানন্দপ্রভু সৃজিলা উপায় । ক্রমে-ক্রমে কীর্ত্তনীয়া রাখিল সবায় ॥ ৭৭ ॥

tabe nityānandaprabhu sṛjilā upāya
then Nityānanda Prabhu devised a means krame-krame kīrtanīyā rākhila sabāya gradually the singers stopped all

77 Then Nityānanda Prabhu devised a means: one by one He stopped all the singers.

Svarūpa and others sing softly —

প্রধান প্রধান যেবা হয় সম্প্রদায় । স্বরূপের সঙ্গে সেই মন্দস্বর গায় ॥ ৭৮ ॥

pradhāna pradhāna yebā haya sampradāya
principal principal whichever were the parties
svarūpera saṅge sei manda-svara gāya with Svarūpa they in a soft voice sing

78 Only the principal parties went on singing with Svarūpa, softly.

The Lord partly returns to external awareness —

কোলাহল নাহি, প্রভুর কিছু বাহ্য হৈল । তবে নিত্যানন্দ সবার শ্রম জানাইল ॥ ৭৯ ॥

kolāhala nāhi, prabhura kichu bāhya haila tumult there was no the Lord's some outer awareness came tabe nityānanda sabāra śrama jānāila
then Nityānanda everyone's fatigue made known

79 When the tumult died down, the Lord regained some outward awareness. Then Nityānanda told Him how tired everyone was.

*Learning from Nityānanda that the devotees are tired, the Lord ends the kīrtana, and everyone bathes in the ocean —*

ভক্তশ্রম জানি' কৈলা কীর্ত্তন সমাপন । সবা লঞা আসি' কৈলা সমুদ্রে স্নপন ॥ ৮০ ॥

bhakta-śrama jāni' kailā kīrtana samāpana
the devotees' fatigue knowing He made of the kīrtana conclusion
sabā lañā āsi' kailā samudre snapana
all with coming He made in the sea bathing

80 Knowing that the devotees were tired, He brought the kīrtana to an end, went with them all and bathed in the sea.

*Everyone honors prasāda —*

সব লঞা প্রভু কৈলা প্রসাদ ভোজন । সবারে বিদায় দিলা করিতে শয়ন ॥ ৮১ ॥

saba lañā prabhu kailā prasāda bhojana
all with the Lord made prasāda eating sabāre vidāya dilā karite śayana
to all leave He gave to take rest

81 The Lord took prasāda with them all and then sent everyone off to rest.

The Lord lies down, and Govinda massages His feet —

গম্ভীরার দ্বারে করেন আপনে শয়ন । গোবিন্দ আসিয়া করে পাদ-সম্বাহন ॥ ৮২ ॥

gambhīrāra dvāre karena āpane śayana
of the Gambhīrā at the door makes Himself lying down
govinda āsiyā kare pāda-samvāhana
Govinda coming does massaging of the feet

82 He Himself lay down at the door of the Gambhīrā, and Govinda came to massage His feet.

Anubhāṣya.
Gambhīrā — the inner room of a house.

The custom: every day Govinda gently massages the Lord's feet, the Lord falls asleep, and then Govinda receives His remnants —

সর্ব্বকাল আছে এই সুদৃঢ় 'নিয়ম' ।
প্রভু যদি প্রসাদ পাঞা করেন শয়ন ॥ ৮৩ ॥

গোবিন্দ আসিয়া করে পাদ-সম্বাহন । তবে যাই' প্রভুর 'শেষ' করেন ভোজন ॥ ৮৪ ॥

sarva-kāla āche ei sudṛḍha 'niyama'
always there is this firm rule prabhu yadi prasāda pāñā karena śayana
the Lord when prasāda having taken does lying down
govinda āsiyā kare pāda-samvāhana
Govinda coming does of the feet massage
tabe yāi' prabhura 'śeṣa' karena bhojana
then going the Lord's remnants does eating

83–84 It had always been a firm rule: when the Lord lay down after taking prasāda, Govinda would come and massage His feet, and after that go and eat the Lord's remnants.

The tired Lord lies down, blocking the whole doorway —

সব দ্বার যুড়ি' প্রভু কৈরাছেন শয়ন । ভিতরে যাইতে নারে, গোবিন্দ করে নিবেদন ॥ ৮৫ ॥

saba dvāra yuḍi' prabhu kairāchena śayana
the whole doorway filling the Lord has lain down bhitare yāite nāre, govinda kare nivedana
inside to go he could not; Govinda makes a request

85 That day the Lord had lain down across the whole doorway. Unable to go inside, Govinda made a request:

To massage the Lord's feet, Govinda asks Him to turn on His side; the Lord replies that He has no strength to move —

একপাশ হও, মোরে দেহ' ভিতর যাইতে । প্রভু কহে, — শক্তি নাহি অঙ্গ চালাইতে ॥ ৮৬ ॥

eka-pāśa hao, more deha' bhitara yāite
to one side move, me let inside go prabhu kahe, — śakti nāhi aṅga cālāite
the Lord said strength there is not the body to move

86 "Please move to one side and let me go in." The Lord said, "I have no strength to move My body."

Govinda asks again and again, but the Lord's answer stays the same —

বার বার গোবিন্দ কহে একদিক্ হইতে । প্রভু কহে, — অঙ্গ আমি নারি চালাইতে ॥ ৮৭ ॥

bāra bāra govinda kahe eka-dik haite
again and again Govinda says to one side to move prabhu kahe, — aṅga āmi nāri cālāite
the Lord said the body I cannot move

87 Again and again Govinda asked Him to move aside, but the Lord answered, "I cannot move."

Govinda wishes to massage His feet; in His fatigue the Lord is indifferent —

গোবিন্দ কহে, — করিতে চাহি পাদ-সম্বাহন । প্রভু কহে, — কর বা না কর, যেই তোমার মন ॥ ৮৮ ॥

govinda kahe, — karite cāhi pāda-samvāhana Govinda said to do I want of the feet massage prabhu kahe, — kara vā nā kara, yei tomāra mana
the Lord said do or not do, whatever your mind

88 Govinda said, "I want to massage Your feet." The Lord said, "Do it or not, as you like."

*Govinda lays his own bahirvāsa over the Lord's body and steps over Him —*

তবে গোবিন্দ বহির্ব্বাস তাঁর উপরে দিয়া । ভিতর-ঘরে গেলা গোবিন্দ প্রভুরে লঙ্ঘিয়া ॥ ৮৯ ॥

tabe govinda bahirvāsa tāṁra upare diyā then Govinda outer cloth Him over placing bhitara-ghare gelā govinda prabhure laṅghiyā inner into the room went Govinda the Lord stepping over

89 Then Govinda spread his outer cloth (bahirvāsa) over Him, stepped over the Lord and went into the inner room.[9]

Govinda's soft, gentle massage takes away the Lord's fatigue —

পাদ-সম্বাহন কৈল, কটি-পৃষ্ঠ চাপিল । মধুর-মর্দ্দনে প্রভুর পরিশ্রম গেল ॥ ৯০ ॥

pāda-samvāhana kaila, kaṭi-pṛṣṭha cāpila
of the feet massage he did, waist and back he pressed madhura-mardane prabhura pariśrama gela
by the gentle rubbing the Lord’s weariness went

90 Govinda massaged His feet and pressed His waist and back, and under that gentle rubbing the Lord’s weariness went away.

The Lord sleeps for nearly an hour —

সুখে নিদ্রা হৈল প্রভুর, গোবিন্দ চাপে অঙ্গ । দণ্ড-দুই বই প্রভুর হৈলা নিদ্রা-ভঙ্গ ॥ ৯১ ॥

sukhe nidrā haila prabhura, govinda cāpe aṅga happily sleep came to the Lord, Govinda presses the body
daṇḍa-dui bai prabhura hailā nidrā-bhaṅga
two daṇḍas after the Lord’s was waking

91 The Lord fell happily asleep while Govinda pressed His body, and after some two daṇḍas (about forty-eight minutes) He woke.

On waking, the Lord sees Govinda still waiting without having eaten, and scolds him —

গোবিন্দে দেখিয়া প্রভু বলে ক্রুদ্ধ হঞা । আজি কেনে এতক্ষণ আছিস্ বসিয়া ? ॥ ৯২ ॥

govinde dekhiyā prabhu bale kruddha hañā Govinda seeing the Lord says angry becoming āji kene eta-kṣaṇa āchis vasiyā?
today why so long you are sitting

92 Seeing Govinda, the Lord spoke angrily: “Why have you been sitting here so long today?

*The Lord tests whether Govinda's impulse is toward pure service: He asks why Govinda did not go to honor prasāda although the Lord had fallen asleep —*

মোর নিদ্রা হৈলে কেনে না গেলা প্রসাদ লৈতে ?
গোবিন্দ কহে, দ্বারে শুইলা, যাইতে নাহি পথে ॥ ৯৩ ॥

mora nidrā haile kene nā gelā prasāda laite?
My sleep when it came why not you went prasāda to take govinda kahe, dvāre śuilā, yāite nāhi pathe
Govinda said in the doorway You lay, to go there is not way

93 When I fell asleep, why didn’t you go to take prasāda?” Govinda said, “You lay in the doorway; there was no way out.”[10]

The Lord asks why, when leaving, Govinda did not use the same means by which he had come in —

প্রভু কহে, — ভিতরে তবে আইলা কেমনে ?
তৈছে কেনে প্রসাদ লৈতে না কৈলা গমনে ? ॥ ৯৪ ॥

prabhu kahe, — bhitare tabe āilā kemane?
the Lord said inside then you came how taiche kene prasāda laite nā kailā gamane?
in the same way why prasāda to take not did you go

94 The Lord said, “Then how did you come inside? Why didn’t you go out the same way to take prasāda?”

*A description of the one ideal for all pure servants of Gaura-Kṛṣṇa who are filled with anurāga: the desire to please the senses of Gaura-Kṛṣṇa is the servant's only aim —*

গোবিন্দ কহে, — আমার ‘সেবা’ সে ‘নিয়ম’ । অপরাধ হউক, কিবা নরকে গমন ॥ ৯৫ ॥

govinda kahe, — āmāra ‘sevā’ se ‘niyama’
Govinda said (to himself) my service that rule aparādha hauka, kibā narake gamana offense let there be, or to hell going

95 Govinda said within himself, “For me, service is the rule. Let it be an offence; let me even go to hell.

In serving for the pleasure of Gaura-Kṛṣṇa's senses, a pure devotee loathes even a drop of desire to gratify his own senses and fears offense in it —

‘সেবা’ লাগি’ কোটি ‘অপরাধ’ নাহি গণি ।
স্ব-নিমিত্ত ‘অপরাধাভাসে’ ভয় মানি ॥ ৯৬ ॥

‘sevā’ lāgi’ koṭi ‘aparādha’ nāhi gaṇi service for the sake of ten million offenses not I count
sva-nimitta ‘aparādhābhāse’ bhaya māni for my own sake of the shadow of offense fear I feel

96 For the sake of service I do not count even ten million offences, but for my own sake I fear even the shadow of an offence.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
For the sake of serving the Lord I take no account even of millions upon millions of offenses. But I fear even a shadow of offense committed for my own enjoyment.

*Govinda sees in mahā-prasāda the very spiritual reality (Brahman) and the Lord's own property (tadīya). Yet eating it concerns him personally, and, wary of a desire to please his own senses, he waits until the Lord wakes up —*

এত সব মনে করি’ গোবিন্দ রহিলা । প্রভু যে পুছিলা, তার উত্তর না দিলা ॥ ৯৭ ॥

eta saba mane kari’ govinda rahilā
this all in mind thinking Govinda remained (silent)
prabhu ye puchilā, tāra uttara nā dilā
the Lord what asked, of that answer not he gave

97 Thinking all this, Govinda remained silent and gave no answer to what the Lord had asked.

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 4.201: “If the bliss of one’s own love hinders the bliss of serving Kṛṣṇa, the devotee is filled with great anger at that bliss.”

*On other days, when the Lord fell asleep, Govinda would go to honor prasāda —*

প্রত্যহ প্রভুর নিদ্রায় যান প্রসাদ লইতে । সে দিবসের শ্রম দেখি' লাগিলা চাপিতে ॥ ৯৮ ॥

pratyaha prabhura nidrāya yāna prasāda laite every day in the Lord's sleep he goes prasāda to take se divasera śrama dekhi' lāgilā cāpite
of that day the weariness seeing he began to press

98 Every day, when the Lord slept, he would go to take prasāda; but that day, seeing the Lord so weary, he began to press His body.

*Why on that day it was hard for Govinda to go and honor prasāda —*

যাইতেহ পথ নাহি, যাইবেন কেমনে ?
মহা-অপরাধ হয় প্রভুর লঙ্ঘনে ॥ ৯৯ ॥

yāiteha patha nāhi, yāibena kemane?
even to go way there is not; he would go how mahā-aparādha haya prabhura laṅghane great offense is of the Lord in stepping over

99 And there was no way out: how could he leave? To step over the Lord is a great offence.

Only one who has received Caitanya's mercy knows the secret of pure devotion —

এই সব হয় ভক্তিশাস্ত্র-সূক্ষ্ম মর্ম্ম । চৈতন্যের কৃপায় জানে এই সব ধর্ম্ম ॥ ১০০ ॥

ei saba haya bhakti-śāstra-sūkṣma marma
these all are of the scriptures of bhakti subtle secret caitanyera kṛpāya jāne ei saba dharma
Caitanya's by the mercy knows these all principles

100 All this is the subtle heart of the scriptures of bhakti; one knows such principles only by Śrī Caitanya's mercy.

Anubhāṣya.

The karmīs cannot grasp the subtle essence of the scriptures on devotion, and they take mere ritual performance for bhakti. But bhakti is the name for that by which service to the Lord is accomplished. That which brings material fruits — one's own dharma, artha, kāma, mokṣa and the like — is "karma." The prākṛta-sahajiyā karmīs do not understand the proper decorum of service in intimate friendship (viśrambha-sakhya), in parental love (vātsalya) and in conjugal love (madhura-bhāva), and so they are deprived of Śrī Caitanya's mercy.

The Lord reveals the glory of His devotees' pure devotion —

ভক্ত-গুণ প্রকাশিতে প্রভু বড় রঙ্গী । এই সব প্রকাশিতে কৈলা এত ভঙ্গী ॥ ১০১ ॥

bhakta-guṇa prakāśite prabhu baḍa raṅgī
of the devotees virtues to reveal the Lord very playful
ei saba prakāśite kailā eta bhaṅgī
these all to reveal He made such a play

101 The Lord delights in revealing His devotees' virtues, and it was to reveal them that He acted as He did.

*The Lord's dance in a circle (parimuṇḍā-nṛtya), which Gaura's devotees sing of eternally —*

সংক্ষেপে কহিলুঁ এই পরিমুণ্ডা-নৃত্য । অদ্যাপিহ গায় যাহা চৈতন্যের ভৃত্য ॥ ১০২ ॥

saṁkṣepe kahiluṁ ei pari-muṇḍā-nṛtya briefly I have told this in a circle dance
adyāpiha gāya yāhā caitanyera bhṛtya
even today sing which Caitanya's servants

102 Thus I have briefly told of this dance in a circle (parimuṇḍā-nṛtya), which Śrī Caitanya's servants sing of even today.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Parimuṇḍā-nṛtya: dancing in a circle (parimaṇḍala-nṛtya).

Cleaning the Guṇḍicā temple with the devotees —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু লঞা নিজগণ । গুণ্ডিচা-গৃহের কৈলা ক্ষালন, মার্জ্জন ॥ ১০৩ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu lañā nija-gaṇa
in this way Mahāprabhu taking His own associates
guṇḍicā-gṛhera kailā kṣālana, mārjana
of the Guṇḍicā temple He did washing, cleaning

103 In this way Mahāprabhu, with His own associates, washed and cleaned the Guṇḍicā temple.

*Honoring prasāda at Āiṭoṭā —*

পূর্ব্ববৎ কৈলা প্রভু কীর্ত্তন, নর্ত্তন । পূর্ব্ববৎ টোটায় কৈলা বন্য-ভোজন ॥ ১০৪ ॥

pūrvavat kailā prabhu kīrtana, nartana
as before did the Lord kīrtana, dancing
pūrvavat ṭoṭāya kailā vanya-bhojana
as before in the garden did forest meal

104 As before, the Lord sang kīrtana and danced, and as before He enjoyed a picnic meal (vanya-bhojana) in the garden.

Dancing before the chariot and seeing the Herā-pañcamī festival —

পূর্ব্ববৎ রথ-আগে করিলা নর্ত্তন । হেরাপঞ্চমী-যাত্রা কৈলা দরশন ॥ ১০৫ ॥

pūrvavat ratha-āge karilā nartana
as before the chariot in front of He did dancing
herā-pañcamī-yātrā kailā daraśana
the Herā-pañcamī festival He did seeing 105 As before, He danced in front of the chariot and saw the Herā-pañcamī festival.

The devotees from Gauḍa stay in Purī until the end of Cāturmāsya —

চারিমাস বর্ষায় রহিলা সব ভক্তগণ । জন্মাষ্টমী আদি যাত্রা কৈলা দরশন ॥ ১০৬ ॥

cāri-māsa varṣāya rahilā saba bhakta-gaṇa
four months of the rains stayed all the devotees
janmāṣṭamī ādi yātrā kailā daraśana Janmāṣṭamī and other festivals they did seeing

106 All the devotees stayed for the four months of the rains and saw Janmāṣṭamī and the other festivals.

The offerings the devotees gathered in Gauḍa —

পূর্ব্বে যদি গৌড় হইতে ভক্তগণ আইল । প্রভুরে কিছু খাওয়াইতে সবার ইচ্ছা হৈল ॥ ১০৭ ॥

pūrve yadi gauḍa haite bhakta-gaṇa āila earlier when Gauḍa from the devotees came prabhure kichu khāoyāite sabāra icchā haila
the Lord something to feed of all the desire was 107 Earlier, when the devotees had come from Gauḍa, every one of them wished to feed the Lord something.

So that the Lord may eat them, the devotees hand their foods over to Govinda —

কেহ কোন প্রসাদ আনি' দেয় গোবিন্দ-ঠাঞি । ইহা যেন অবশ্য ভক্ষণ করেন গোসাঞি ॥ ১০৮ ॥

keha kona prasāda āni' deya govinda-ṭhāñi
someone some prasāda bringing gives to Govinda ihā yena avaśya bhakṣaṇa karena gosāñi
this so that without fail eating does the Gosāñi

108 Each would bring some prasāda and give it to Govinda, saying, “See that the Gosāñi eats this without fail.”

The variety of offerings —

কেহ পেড়া কেহ নাড়ু, কেহ পিঠাপানা । বহুমূল্য উত্তম-প্রসাদ-প্রকার যার নানা ॥ ১০৯ ॥

keha peḍā keha nāḍu, keha piṭhā-pānā
some peḍā, some nāḍu, some cakes drinks
bahu-mūlya uttama-prasāda-prakāra yāra nānā of great value fine prasāda kinds whose various

109 Some brought peḍā, some nāḍu, some cakes and sweet drinks — costly, fine prasāda of many kinds.[11]

Anubhāṣya.
Variant reading: paiḍa (for peḍā), and in the second line, “all the costly prasāda: sugar lotuses (padma-cini), curd cheese (chānā).”

The Lord does not eat, and the offerings pile up —

অমুক্ এই দিয়াছে' গোবিন্দ করে নিবেদন । ধরি' রাখ, বলি' প্রভু না করেন ভক্ষণ ॥ ১১০ ॥

amuk ei diyāche' govinda kare nivedana
so-and-so this has given Govinda makes report dhari' rākha, bali' prabhu nā karena bhakṣaṇa
keep it aside, saying the Lord not does eating

110 Govinda would tell Him, “So-and-so has given this,” but the Lord would say, “Put it aside,” and would not eat.

ধরিতে ধরিতে ঘরের ভরিল এক কোণ । শত-জনের ভক্ষ্য যত হৈল সঞ্চয়ণ ॥ ১১১ ॥

dharite dharite gharera bharila eka koṇa
keeping and keeping of the room filled one corner
śata-janera bhakṣya yata haila sañcayaṇa
of a hundred people food as much was stored up

111 As he kept putting things aside, one corner of the room filled up: food enough for a hundred people was stored there.

The devotees ask Govinda whether the Lord has eaten what each of them offered —

গোবিন্দেরে সবে পুছে করিয়া যতন ।
আমা-দত্ত প্রসাদ প্রভুরে কি করাইলা ভক্ষণ ? ॥ ১১২ ॥

govindere sabe puche kariyā yatana
to Govinda all ask with eagerness āmā-datta prasāda prabhure ki karāilā bhakṣaṇa?
by me given prasāda the Lord whether you made eat

112 Everyone eagerly asked Govinda, “Did you have the Lord eat the prasāda I gave?”

With evasive words Govinda consoles the givers —

কাঁহা কিছু কহি’ গোবিন্দ করেন বঞ্চন । আর দিন প্রভুরে কহে নির্ব্বেদ-বচন ॥ ১১৩ ॥

kāṁhā kichu kahi’ govinda karena vañcana
to some something saying Govinda does putting off
āra dina prabhure kahe nirveda-vacana
another day to the Lord says words of despair

113 Govinda put them off, telling each one something. Then one day he spoke to the Lord in despair:

Govinda appeals to the Lord —

আচার্য্যাদি মহাশয় করিয়া যতনে । তোমারে খাওয়াইতে বস্তু দেন মোর স্থানে ॥ ১১৪ ॥

ācāryādi mahāśaya kariyā yatane
the Ācārya and other honored men with care
tomāre khāoyāite vastu dena mora sthāne
You to feed things give my in the place

114 “Advaita Ācārya and the other honoured devotees carefully give me things to feed You.

তুমি সে না খাও, তাঁরা পুছে বার বার । কত বঞ্চনা করিমু, কেমনে আমার নিস্তার ? ॥ ১১৫ ॥

tumi se nā khāo, tāṁrā puche bāra bāra
You them not eat; they ask time and again
kata vañcanā karimu, kemane āmāra nistāra?
how much putting off shall I do, how my deliverance

115 You do not eat them, and they ask again and again. How long can I put them off? How am I to be free of this?”

The Lord asks why the devotees are grieving —

প্রভু কহে, — ‘আদিবস্যা, দুঃখ কাঁহে মানে ?
কেবা কি দিয়াছে, তাহা আনহ এখানে ॥ ১১৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — ‘ādi-vasyā, duḥkha kāṁhe māne?
the Lord said the old residents, sorrow why feel kebā ki diyāche, tāhā ānaha ekhāne
who what has given, that bring here

116 The Lord said, “Those who have long lived with Me — why should they feel sorrow? Bring it all here, whatever anyone has given.”[12]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Ādivasyā: one who has lived here from long before is called ādivasyā. The Lord said: “Those who are ādivasyā — that is, who have long lived together with Me — feel no sorrow over this. For it is those who have now come from Gauḍa who brought all these delicacies.”

Anubhāṣya.
Ādivasyā: according to some, the word is used in such senses as “unfortunate” (bhāgya-hīna), “unreasoning,” “foolish,” “fickle-minded,” or ā-dekhlā (overeager, “greedy” — kāṅlā).

The Lord sits down to eat; Govinda serves the offerings, naming each devotee from Gauḍa who brought them —

এত বলি’ মহাপ্রভু বসিলা ভোজনে । নাম ধরি’ গোবিন্দ করে নিবেদনে ॥ ১১৭ ॥

eta bali’ mahāprabhu vasilā bhojane
thus saying Mahāprabhu sat to eat
nāma dhari’ govinda kare nivedane names calling Govinda makes offering

117 Saying this, Mahāprabhu sat down to eat, and Govinda offered Him everything, naming each giver:

আচার্য্যের এই পৈড়, নানা রস-পূপী । এই অমৃত-গুটিকা, মণ্ডা, কর্পূর-কূপী ॥ ১১৮ ॥

ācāryera ei paiḍa, nānā rasa-pūpī
the Ācārya’s this paiḍa (coconut), various juicy cakes ei amṛta-guṭikā, maṇḍā, karpūra-kūpī
this amṛta-guṭikā, maṇḍā, camphor vessel

118 “These are from the Ācārya: coconut (paiḍa), juicy cakes of many kinds, amṛta-guṭikā balls, maṇḍā and a jar of camphor.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Paiḍa (an Utkala word): coconut.

Anubhāṣya.
Pūpī: a cake (piṣṭaka); kūpī: a special vessel for keeping camphor.

শ্রীবাস-পণ্ডিতের এই অনেক প্রকার । পিঠা, পানা, অমৃতমণ্ডা, পদ্ম-চিনি আর ॥ ১১৯ ॥

śrīvāsa-paṇḍitera ei aneka prakāra Śrīvāsa Paṇḍita’s these many kinds piṭhā, pānā, amṛta-maṇḍā, padma-cini āra cakes, drinks, amṛta-maṇḍā sugar lotuses and 119 These many kinds are from Śrīvāsa Paṇḍita: cakes, sweet drinks, amṛta-maṇḍā and sugar lotuses (padma-cini).

আচার্য্যরত্নের এই সব উপহার । আচার্য্যনিধির এই অনেক প্রকার ॥ ১২০ ॥

ācāryaratnera ei saba upahāra Ācāryaratna's these all gifts
ācāryanidhira ei aneka prakāra
Ācāryanidhi's these many kinds

120 All these gifts are Ācāryaratna's, and these many kinds are Ācāryanidhi's.

বাসুদেব-দত্তের, মুরারি-গুপ্তের আর । বুদ্ধিমন্ত-খাঁনের এই বিবিধ প্রকার ॥ ১২১ ॥

vāsudeva-dattera, murāri-guptera āra Vāsudeva Datta's, Murāri Gupta's and buddhimanta-khāṁnera ei vividha prakāra
Buddhimanta Khān's these various kinds

121 These are from Vāsudeva Datta and Murāri Gupta, and these various kinds from Buddhimanta Khān.

শ্রীমান্-সেন, শ্রীমান্-পণ্ডিত, আচার্য্যনন্দন । তাঁ-সবার দত্ত এই করহ ভোজন ॥ ১২২ ॥

śrīmān-sena, śrīmān-paṇḍita, ācārya-nandana Śrīmān Sena, Śrīmān Paṇḍita, Nandana Ācārya
tāṁ-sabāra datta ei karaha bhojana
by them all given this do eat

122 Śrīmān Sena, Śrīmān Paṇḍita, Nandana Ācārya — please eat what they have given.

কুলীনগ্রামের এই আগে দেখ যত । খণ্ডবাসী লোকের এই দেখ তত ॥ ১২৩ ॥

kulīna-grāmera ei āge dekha yata Kulīnagrāma's these first see all khaṇḍavāsī lokera ei dekha tata
of the Khaṇḍa-dwelling people these see as many 123 Look first at all these from Kulīnagrāma, and look at these, just as many, from the people of Khaṇḍa."

The Lord eats the offerings of every one of them —

ঐছে সবার নাম লঞা প্রভুর আগে ধরে । সন্তুষ্ট হঞা প্রভু সব ভোজন করে ॥ ১২৪ ॥

aiche sabāra nāma lañā prabhura āge dhare
thus of all the names saying the Lord's before he places
santuṣṭa hañā prabhu saba bhojana kare satisfied becoming the Lord all eating does

124 So, naming every one, Govinda set the things before the Lord, and the Lord, well pleased, ate them all.

Though long kept, the foods are tasty and fragrant, as if freshly made —

যদ্যপি মাসেকের বাসি মুকুতা নারিকেল ।
অমৃত-গুটিকাদি, পানাদি সকল ॥ ১২৫ ॥

তথাপি নূতনপ্রায় সব দ্রব্যের স্বাদ । ‘বাসি’ ‘বিস্বাদ’ নহে সেই প্রভুর প্রসাদ ॥ ১২৬ ॥

yadyapi māsekera vāsi mukutā nārikela
although a month stale with the top cut open coconuts amṛta-guṭikādi, pānādi sakala amṛta-guṭikā and others, drinks and others all tathāpi nūtana-prāya saba dravyera svāda
yet almost fresh all of the things the taste ‘vāsi’ ‘visvāda’ nahe sei prabhura prasāda
stale tasteless not that the Lord’s grace

125–126 Though the coconuts with their tops cut open, the amṛta-guṭikās, the drinks and all the rest were a month old, everything tasted almost fresh. Nothing was stale or tasteless — such was the Lord’s grace.[13]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Mukutā: with the top cut open.

Thus ends the tenth chapter of the “Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.”

শত-জনের ভক্ষ্য প্রভু দণ্ডেকে খাইলা !
আর কিছু আছে? বলি’ গোবিন্দে পুছিলা ॥ ১২৭ ॥

śata-janera bhakṣya prabhu daṇḍeke khāilā!
of a hundred people food the Lord in one daṇḍa ate
āra kichu āche? bali’ govinde puchilā
more anything is there? saying Govinda He asked

127 In a single daṇḍa the Lord ate food enough for a hundred people, and asked Govinda, “Is there anything more?”

*When all the offerings have been eaten, Rāghava's jhālis remain —*

গোবিন্দ বলে, — রাঘবের ঝালি মাত্র আছে । প্রভু কহে, — আজি রহু, তাহা দেখিমু পাছে ॥ ১২৮ ॥

govinda bale, — rāghavera jhāli mātra āche Govinda says Rāghava’s jhālis only are left prabhu kahe, — āji rahu, tāhā dekhimu pāche
the Lord said today let them stay, them I will see later

128 Govinda said, “Only Rāghava’s jhālis are left.” The Lord said, “Let them stay today; I will look at them later.”

*The next day, eating alone, the Lord eats the excellent foods in Rāghava's jhālis and praises them —*

আর দিন প্রভু যদি নিভৃতে ভোজন কৈলা । রাঘবের ঝালি খুলি’ সকল দেখিলা ॥ ১২৯ ॥

āra dina prabhu yadi nibhṛte bhojana kailā
another day the Lord when in seclusion eating did rāghavera jhāli khuli' sakala dekhilā Rāghava's jhālis opening everything He saw

129 Another day, when the Lord ate in seclusion, He opened Rāghava's jhālis and looked at everything.

সব দ্রব্যের কিছু কিছু উপযোগ কৈলা । স্বাদু, সুগন্ধি দেখি' বহু প্রশংসিলা ॥ ১৩০ ॥

saba dravyera kichu kichu upayoga kailā
all of the things a little of each partaking He did svādu, sugandhi dekhi' bahu praśaṁsilā tasty, fragrant finding much He praised

130 He tasted a little of every item and, finding them delicious and fragrant, praised them highly.

Anubhāṣya.
Upayoga: accepting, partaking.

*Even a year later the Lord eats from Rāghava's jhālis offerings that have not spoiled at all —*

বৎসরেক তরে আর রাখিলা ধরিয়া । ভোজন-কালে স্বরূপ-পরিবেশে খসাঞা ॥ ১৩১ ॥

vatsareka tare āra rākhilā dhariyā
a year for the rest He kept storing bhojana-kāle svarūpa-pariveśe khasāñā
at meal time Svarūpa's serving taking out

131 The rest He kept in store for a whole year, and at mealtimes Svarūpa would take out a little and serve it.

The Lord accepts what a devotee offers with faith —

কভু রাত্রিকালে কিছু করায় উপযোগ । ভক্তের শ্রদ্ধার দ্রব্য অবশ্য করেন উপভোগ ॥ ১৩২ ॥

kabhu rātri-kāle kichu karāya upayoga
sometimes at night something he makes partake bhaktera śraddhāra dravya avaśya karena upabhoga
of the devotee's faith things surely He does enjoy

132 Sometimes, at night too, Svarūpa would have Him partake of a little; for the Lord surely enjoys what a devotee gives with faith (śraddhā).[14]

The Lord spends Cāturmāsya in talks about Kṛṣṇa with His devotees —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু ভক্তগণ-সঙ্গে । চাতুর্ম্মাস্য গোঙাইলা কৃষ্ণকথা-রঙ্গে ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu bhakta-gaṇa-saṅge
thus Mahāprabhu with the devotees
cāturmāsya goṅāilā kṛṣṇa-kathā-raṅge
Cāturmāsya He passed in the joy of talks about Kṛṣṇa 133 Thus Mahāprabhu passed the Cāturmāsya with His devotees in the joy of talks about Kṛṣṇa.

Advaita Ācārya and others invite the Lord to their homes —

মধ্যে মধ্যে আচার্য্যাদি করেন নিমন্ত্রণ । ঘরে ভাত রান্ধে আর বিবিধ ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

madhye madhye ācāryādi karena nimantraṇa
from time to time the Ācārya and others make invitation
ghare bhāta rāndhe āra vividha vyañjana
at home rice they cook and various vegetable dishes

134 From time to time Advaita Ācārya and others would invite Him, cooking rice and various vegetable dishes at home:

A description of the varied offerings dear to the Lord —

মরিচের ঝাল, আর মধুরাম্ল আর । আদা, লবণ, লেম্বু, দুগ্ধ, দধি, খণ্ডসার ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

maricera jhāla, āra madhurāmla āra of pepper hot dishes, and sweet-and-sour and ādā, lavaṇa, lembu, dugdha, dadhi, khaṇḍa-sāra
ginger, salt, lime, milk, yogurt, sugar candy

135 hot peppery dishes and sweet-and-sour ones, ginger, salt, lime, milk, yogurt and sugar candy (khaṇḍa-sāra);

শাক দুই-চারি, আর শুক্তার ঝোল । নিম্ব-বার্ত্তাকী, আর ভৃষ্ট-পটোল ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

śāka dui-cāri, āra śuktāra jhola
greens two or four, and of śuktā broth
nimba-vārtākī, āra bhṛṣṭa-paṭola
nimba eggplant, and fried paṭola

136 two or four kinds of greens, a broth of śuktā (bitter greens), eggplant with nimba, and fried paṭola;

ভৃষ্ট ফুলবড়ী, আর মুদ্গ-ডালি সূপ । বিবিধ ব্যঞ্জন রান্ধে প্রভুর 'অনুরূপ' ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

bhṛṣṭa phula-baḍī, āra mudga-ḍāli sūpa
fried phula-baḍī, and mung dal soup vividha vyañjana rāndhe prabhura 'anurūpa'
various dishes they cook the Lord's to suit

137 fried phula-baḍī and mung dal soup — they cooked various dishes to suit the Lord's taste.

Anubhāṣya.
Here the author's own skill in cooking comes to light.

*The Lord eats the offerings together with prasāda —*

জগন্নাথের প্রসাদ আনে করিতে মিশ্রিত । কাঁহা একা যায়েন, কাঁহা গণের সহিত ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

jagannāthera prasāda āne karite miśrita Jagannātha's prasāda they bring to make mixed kāṁhā ekā yāyena, kāṁhā gaṇera sahita sometimes alone He goes, sometimes associates with 138 They would also bring Jagannātha's prasāda to go with these. Sometimes the Lord went alone, sometimes with His associates.

Other devotees from Gauḍa who invited the Lord —

আচার্য্যরত্ন, আচার্য্যনিধি, নন্দন, রাঘব । শ্রীবাস-আদি যত ভক্ত, বিপ্র সব ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

ācāryaratna, ācāryanidhi, nandana, rāghava
Ācāryaratna, Ācāryanidhi, Nandana, Rāghava
śrīvāsa-ādi yata bhakta, vipra saba
Śrīvāsa and others as many devotees, brāhmaṇas all

139 Ācāryaratna, Ācāryanidhi, Nandana, Rāghava, Śrīvāsa and all the other devotees who were brāhmaṇas —

এইমত নিমন্ত্রণ করেন যত্ন করি' ।
বাসুদেব, গদাধর, গুপ্ত-মুরারি ॥ ১৪০ ॥

কুলীনগ্রামী, খণ্ডবাসী, আর যত জন । জগন্নাথের প্রসাদ আনি' করেন নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ১৪১ ॥

ei-mata nimantraṇa karena yatna kari'
in this way invitation they make care taking vāsudeva, gadādhara, gupta-murāri
Vāsudeva, Gadādhara, Gupta Murāri
kulīna-grāmī, khaṇḍa-vāsī, āra yata jana of Kulīnagrāma, of Khaṇḍa, and as many people
jagannāthera prasāda āni' karena nimantraṇa
Jagannātha's prasāda bringing make invitation

140–141 these would invite Him in this way with great care. Vāsudeva, Gadādhara, Murāri Gupta, the people of Kulīnagrāma and of Khaṇḍa, and all the others would invite Him by bringing Jagannātha's prasāda.[15]

Anubhāṣya.
The people of Kulīnagrāma: Satyarāja Khān, Rāmānanda Vasu and others; the people of Khaṇḍa: Mukunda dāsa, Narahari dāsa, Raghunandana and others.

The story of Caitanya dāsa, son of Śivānanda —

শিবানন্দ সেনের শুন নিমন্ত্রণাখ্যান । শিবানন্দের বড়-পুত্রের 'চৈতন্যদাস'-নাম ॥ ১৪২ ॥

śivānanda senera śuna nimantraṇākhyāna Śivānanda Sena's hear the story of the invitation
śivānandera baḍa-putrera 'caitanya-dāsa'-nāma Śivānanda's eldest son's 'Caitanya dāsa' name

142 Now hear the story of Śivānanda Sena's invitation. Śivānanda's eldest son was named Caitanya dāsa.

Anubhāṣya.
Caitanya dāsa: it was he who wrote a Sanskrit commentary on the Kṛṣṇa-karṇāmṛta. Some say that he is also the author of the mahākāvya Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

প্রভুরে মিলাইতে তাঁরে সঙ্গেই আনিলা । মিলাইলে, প্রভু তাঁর নাম ত' পুছিলা ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

prabhure milāite tāṁre saṅgei ānilā
the Lord to introduce him along he brought milāile, prabhu tāṁra nāma ta' puchilā
when introduced, the Lord his name then asked

143 He brought the boy along to present him to the Lord, and when he did so, the Lord asked his name.

Hearing a name that speaks of servitude to Him, the Lord conceals Himself and pretends not to understand —

'চৈতন্যদাস' নাম শুনি' কহে গৌররায়। কি নাম ধরাঞাছ, বুঝন না যায় ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

'caitanya-dāsa' nāma śuni' kahe gaurarāya
'Caitanya dāsa' the name hearing says Gaurarāya ki nāma dharāñācha, bujhana nā yāya
what name you have given, understanding not goes

144 Hearing the name Caitanya dāsa, Gaurarāya said, "What name have you given him? I cannot make it out."

Śivānanda's answer; he invites the Lord —

সেন কহে, — যে জানিলুঁ, সেই নাম ধরিল। এত বলি' মহাপ্রভুরে নিমন্ত্রণ কৈল ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

sena kahe, — ye jānilum̐, sei nāma dharila Sena said what I knew, that name I gave eta bali' mahāprabhure nimantraṇa kaila
thus saying Mahāprabhu invitation he made

145 Sena said, "I gave him the name I knew." With these words he invited Mahāprabhu.

জগন্নাথের বহুমূল্য প্রসাদ আনাইলা। ভক্তগণে লঞা প্রভু ভোজনে বসিলা ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

jagannāthera bahu-mūlya prasāda ānāilā Jagannātha's costly prasāda he had brought bhakta-gaṇe lañā prabhu bhojane vasilā
the devotees with the Lord to eat sat

146 He had costly prasāda of Jagannātha brought, and the Lord sat down to eat with the devotees.

The Lord is displeased at having had to eat too much —

শিবানন্দের গৌরবে প্রভু করিলা ভোজন। অতিগুরু-ভোজনে প্রসন্ন নহে মন ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

śivānandera gaurave prabhu karilā bhojana Śivānanda's out of regard the Lord did eating ati-guru-bhojane prasanna nahe mana too heavy by the meal pleased not was the mind

147 Out of regard for Śivānanda the Lord ate, but His mind was not pleased by so heavy a meal.

*Understanding the Lord's wish, Caitanya dāsa, son of Śivānanda, serves Him on his own initiative (svārasikī) with*

foods that revive a weak digestive fire —

আর দিন চৈতন্যদাস কৈলা নিমন্ত্রণ । প্রভুর ‘অভীষ্ট’ বুঝি’ আনিলা ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

āra dina caitanya-dāsa kailā nimantraṇa
another day Caitanya dāsa made invitation prabhura ‘abhīṣṭa’ bujhi’ ānilā vyañjana
the Lord’s desire understanding he brought dishes

148 Another day Caitanya dāsa invited Him, and, understanding the Lord’s desire, brought dishes to suit it:

দধি, লেম্বু, আদা, আর ফুলবড়া, লবণ । সামগ্রী দেখি’ প্রভুর প্রসন্ন হৈল মন ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

dadhi, lembu, ādā, āra phula-baḍā, lavaṇa yogurt, lime, ginger, and phula-baḍā, salt sāmagrī dekhi’ prabhura prasanna haila mana
the things seeing the Lord’s pleased became mind

149 yogurt, lime, ginger, phula-baḍā and salt. Seeing these things, the Lord was pleased at heart.

*The indwelling Lord (antaryāmī) rejoices at Caitanya dāsa's genuine impulse toward pure service —*

প্রভু কহে, — এ বালক আমার মত জানে । সন্তুষ্ট হইলাঙ্ আমি ইহার নিমন্ত্রণে ॥ ১৫০ ॥

prabhu kahe, — e bālaka āmāra mata jāne
the Lord said this boy My mind knows santuṣṭa hailāṅ āmi ihāra nimantraṇe satisfied have become I by his invitation

150 The Lord said, “This boy knows My mind. I am satisfied with his invitation.”

The Lord gives His servant the remnants of His meal —

এত বলি’ দধি-ভাত করিলা ভোজন । চৈতন্যদাসেরে দিলা উচ্ছিষ্ট-ভাজন ॥ ১৫১ ॥

eta bali’ dadhi-bhāta karilā bhojana
thus saying yogurt-rice He did eating caitanya-dāsere dilā ucchiṣṭa-bhājana
to Caitanya dāsa He gave of the remnants the vessel

151 Saying this, He ate rice with yogurt, and made Caitanya dāsa the recipient of His remnants.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhājana: bhāk, pātra (recipient, vessel).

For four months the devotees invite the Lord —

চারিমাস এইমত নিমন্ত্রণে যায় । কোন কোন বৈষ্ণব ‘দিবস’ নাহি পায় ॥ ১৫২ ॥

cāri-māsa ei-mata nimantraṇe yāya
four months in this way in invitations pass kona kona vaiṣṇava ‘divasa’ nāhi pāya
some Vaiṣṇavas a day not get

152 In this way four months passed in invitations, and some Vaiṣṇavas could not get a day.

The fixed days on which Gadādhara and Sārvabhauma invite the Lord —

গদাধর-পণ্ডিত, ভট্টাচার্য্য-সার্ব্বভৌম । ইঁহা-সবার আছে ভিক্ষার দিবস-নিয়ম ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

gadādhara-paṇḍita, bhaṭṭācārya-sārvabhauma
Gadādhara Paṇḍita, Bhaṭṭācārya Sārvabhauma
iṁhā-sabāra āche bhikṣāra divasa-niyama
of them all there is for bhikṣā fixed days

153 Gadādhara Paṇḍita and Sārvabhauma Bhaṭṭācārya had fixed days for feeding Him (bhikṣā).

Devotees who invited the Lord from time to time —

গোপীনাথাচার্য্য, জগদানন্দ, কাশীশ্বর ।
ভগবান্, রামভদ্রাচার্য্য, শঙ্কর, বক্রেশ্বর ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

মধ্যে মধ্যে ঘর-ভাতে করে নিমন্ত্রণ । অন্যের নিমন্ত্রণে প্রসাদে কৌড়ি দুইপণ ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

gopīnāthācārya, jagadānanda, kāśīśvara
Gopīnātha Ācārya, Jagadānanda, Kāśīśvara
bhagavān, rāmabhadrācārya, śaṅkara, vakreśvara Bhagavān, Rāmabhadra Ācārya, Śaṅkara, Vakreśvara
madhye madhye ghara-bhāte kare nimantraṇa
from time to time with home rice make invitation anyera nimantraṇe prasāde kauḍi duipaṇa
of others at the invitation for prasāda cowries two paṇas

154–155 Gopīnātha Ācārya, Jagadānanda, Kāśīśvara, Bhagavān, Rāmabhadra Ācārya, Śaṅkara and Vakreśvara would from time to time invite Him to rice cooked at home. When others invited Him, the prasāda cost two paṇas of cowries.

For fear of Rāmacandra Purī the meal is cut by half —

প্রথমে আছিল 'নির্ব্বন্ধ' কৌড়ি চারিপণ । রামচন্দ্রপুরী ভয়ে ঘাটাইলা নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

prathame āchila 'nirbandha' kauḍi cāripaṇa
at first was the fixed sum cowries four paṇas
rāmacandra-purī bhaye ghāṭāilā nimantraṇa Rāmacandra Purī out of fear they reduced invitation

156 At first the fixed sum had been four paṇas of cowries, but out of fear of Rāmacandra Purī they made the invitations smaller.

Anubhāṣya.

Ghāṭāila: reduced.

In the homes of brāhmaṇas by birth (śaukra-brāhmaṇas) the Lord accepted cooked food. But at the invitation of those brāhmaṇas by birth whose cooked food may not be eaten (abhojyānna), and of other people, He accepted mahā-prasāda worth two or four paṇas of cowries.

The devotees from Gauḍa go back to Gauḍa; the residents of Purī stay in Purī —

চারিমাস রহি' গৌড়ের ভক্তে বিদায় দিলা । নীলাচলের সঙ্গী ভক্ত সঙ্গেই রহিলা ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

cāri-māsa rahi' gauḍera bhakte vidāya dilā four months staying, of Gauḍa to the devotees farewell He gave nīlācalera saṅgī bhakta saṅgei rahilā of Nīlācala companion devotees with Him remained

157 After they had stayed four months, He bade farewell to the devotees of Gauḍa, and His companions of Nīlācala remained with Him.

Described here: how the Lord accepted invitations, what the devotees offered Him, His dance in a circle and so on —

এই ত' কহিলুঁ প্রভুর ভিক্ষা-নিমন্ত্রণ । ভক্ত-দত্ত বস্তু যৈছে কৈলা আস্বাদন ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ prabhura bhikṣā-nimantraṇa
thus I have told the Lord's invitations to meals
bhakta-datta vastu yaiche kailā āsvādana
by devotees given things how He did relishing

158 Thus I have told of the Lord's invitations to meals and of how He relished what His devotees offered.[16]

তার মধ্যে রাঘবের ঝালি-বিবরণ । তার মধ্যে পরিমুণ্ডা-নৃত্য-কথন ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

tāra madhye rāghavera jhāli-vivaraṇa
of that in the midst Rāghava's jhālis' account
tāra madhye pari-muṇḍā-nṛtya-kathana of that in the midst in a circle dance telling

159 In the course of it I have also told of Rāghava's jhālis and of the dance in a circle (parimuṇḍā-nṛtya).[17]

Whoever hears the narrations of Kṛṣṇa Caitanya awakens love for the feet of Gaura-Kṛṣṇa —

শ্রদ্ধা করি' শুনে যেই চৈতন্যের কথা । চৈতন্যচরণে প্রেম পাইবে সর্ব্বথা ॥ ১৬০ ॥

śraddhā kari' śune yei caitanyera kathā
with faith having hears whoever Caitanya's narrations caitanyacaraṇe prema pāibe sarvathā
at Caitanya's feet love will attain surely

160 Whoever hears the narrations of Śrī Caitanya with faith will surely attain love for His feet.

*The narrations of Gaura — an elixir (rasāyana) for the hearts and ears of the jīvas —*

শুনিতে অমৃত-সম জুড়ায় কর্ণ-মন । সেই ভাগ্যবান্, যেই করে আস্বাদন ॥ ১৬১ ॥

śunite amṛta-sama juḍāya karṇa-mana to hear nectar like soothes ears and mind
sei bhāgyavān, yei kare āsvādana
he is fortunate, who does relishing

161 To hear them is like nectar; they soothe the ears and the mind. Fortunate is he who relishes them.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the tenth chapter of the “Anubhāṣya.”

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১৬২ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa’s, Raghunātha’s at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
“Caitanya-caritāmṛta” narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

162 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.[18]

Notes

1. The same verse as Madhya 4.2 (and Antya 3.2); translation as there. ↩
2. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads śuktāya ye sukha haya, nahe pañcāmṛte; another reading is sukutāya ye sukha prabhura, tāhā nahe pañcāmṛte (“the Lord’s joy in sukutā is not found in pañcāmṛta”). ↩
3. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads śuṇṭhī-khaṇḍa, nāḍu, āra āma-pitta-hara — three separate things. ↩
4. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads pāṁc kuḍi; according to the Anubhāṣya, other readings are pākauḍi and pāṁpaḍi (thin wafers), or parpaṭī. ↩
5. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads candanādi (“sandalwood and other things”); another reading is sandhānādi (“pickles and the like”). ↩
6. Caitanya-maṅgala was the first title of the Caitanya-bhāgavata. ↩
7. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads kīrtana-āveśe (“in the ecstasy of kīrtana”); another reading, noted in the Anubhāṣya, is kīrtana-āṭope (“by the force of the kīrtana”). ↩
8. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads āpana-āveśe (“absorbed in His own feeling”); another reading is parama-āveśe (“in great absorption”). ↩
9. Bahirvāsa, the outer cloth: the Anubhāṣya (heading to this verse) says that Govinda places his own bahirvāsa on the Lord’s body and steps over Him. ↩
10. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads prasāda laite (“to take prasāda”); another reading is prasāda khāite (“to eat prasāda”). ↩
11. Peḍā, a sweet of thickened milk; the Anubhāṣya records the variant paiḍa (coconut, as in verse 118). ↩
12. Ādivasyā, “old residents”: those who have long lived with the Lord (Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya: they have no cause for sorrow, for the delicacies were brought by those who have just come from Gauḍa). ↩
13. Mukutā nārikela, coconuts with the top cut open (Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya). ↩
14. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads karāya upayoga (“has Him partake”): Svarūpa serves the Lord; another reading is karena upayoga (“He partakes”). ↩
15. Gadādhara Paṇḍita is named separately in verse 153. ↩
16. The words of this verse (bhakta-datta … āsvādana) give the chapter its title in the colophon of the edition. ↩
17. See verse 102 and the note to verse 68. ↩
18. The same colophon verse as Antya 2.172; translation as there. ↩
19. In the verse translation, otherwise: “May my head bow down in the hall for kīrtana, the Jagamohana, before the Deity of Lord Jagannātha” (the Anubhāṣya also takes the line this way: muṇḍā is “head”). ↩
20. So in the edition: nitya-vāñchā (“constant desire”); given the sense of the verse (“then the Lord desired to dance Himself”), possibly a misprint for nṛtya-vāñchā, “the desire to dance.” ↩

“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 11

The Description of Śrī Haridāsa’s Departure

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. In this chapter, when Brahma Haridāsa Ṭhākura[8] gave up his body with Mahāprabhu's permission, Mahāprabhu carried him with special devotion and great ceremony to the seashore and laid him in samādhi there. With His own hands He covered him with sand and raised a cautārā (platform) over him. Then He bathed in the ocean, Himself begged alms and held the festival of Haridāsa's departure (vijaya-mahotsava).

Homage to Gaura, who danced holding Haridāsa's body in His arms —

নমামি হরিদাসং তং চৈতন্যং তঞ্চ তৎপ্রভুম্ । সংস্থিতামপি যন্মূর্ত্তিং স্বাঙ্কে কৃত্বা ননর্ত্ত যঃ ॥ ১ ॥

namāmi haridāsaṁ taṁ
I bow to Haridāsa to him
caitanyaṁ taṁ ca tat-prabhum to Caitanya to Him and his Lord saṁsthitām api yan-mūrtiṁ departed though whose body
svāṅke kṛtvā nanarta yaḥ
on His own lap placing danced who

1 I bow to Haridāsa and to his Lord, Caitanya, who took the body of the departed Haridāsa on His lap and danced.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I bow to Haridāsa, and I bow to his Lord, that Caitanyadeva who danced holding in His arms the body Haridāsa had left.

Anubhāṣya.
yaḥ (Caitanyadeva) yan-mūrtiṁ (whose body, that is, Haridāsa's body) saṁsthitām (which had entered samādhi) api svāṅke (in His own arms) kṛtvā nanarta, taṁ haridāsaṁ tat-prabhuṁ taṁ caitanyaṁ ca namāmi.

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় দয়াময় । জয়াদ্বৈতপ্রিয় নিত্যানন্দপ্রিয় জয় ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī caitanya jaya dayāmaya
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to the all-merciful jayādvaita-priya nityānanda-priya jaya glory to Him dear to Advaita dear to Nityānanda glory

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to the all-merciful Lord! Glory to Him who is dear to Advaita and dear to Nityānanda!

জয় শ্রীনিবাসেশ্বর হরিদাসনাথ । জয় গদাধরপ্রিয় স্বরূপ-প্রাণনাথ ॥ ৩ ॥

jaya śrīnivāseśvara haridāsa-nātha glory to the Lord of Śrīnivāsa the master of Haridāsa
jaya gadādhara-priya svarūpa-prāṇa-nātha glory dear to Gadādhara the Lord of Svarūpa's life

3 Glory to the Lord of Śrīnivāsa, the master of Haridāsa! Glory to Him who is dear to Gadādhara, the Lord of Svarūpa's life!

জয় কাশীশ্বর-প্রিয় জগদানন্দ-প্রাণেশ্বর । জয় রূপ-সনাতন-রঘুনাথেশ্বর ॥ ৪ ॥

jaya kāśīśvara-priya jagadānanda-prāṇeśvara glory dear to Kāśīśvara the Lord of Jagadānanda's life
jaya rūpa-sanātana-raghunātheśvara glory the Lord of Rūpa, Sanātana and Raghunātha

4 Glory to Him who is dear to Kāśīśvara, the Lord of Jagadānanda's life! Glory to the Lord of Rūpa, Sanātana and Raghunātha![1]

জয় গৌরদেহ কৃষ্ণ স্বয়ং ভগবান্ । কৃপা করি' দেহ', প্রভু, নিজ-পদ-দান ॥ ৫ ॥

jaya gaura-deha kṛṣṇa svayaṁ bhagavān glory golden of body Kṛṣṇa Himself the Supreme Lord
kṛpā kari' deha', prabhu, nija-pada-dāna mercy showing give O Lord of Your own feet the gift

5 Glory to Kṛṣṇa of golden form, the Supreme Lord Himself! O Lord, be merciful and grant me the shelter of Your feet.[2]

Anubhāṣya.
Gaura-deha — He whose body shines with a golden hue.

জয় নিত্যানন্দচন্দ্র চৈতন্যের প্রাণ । তোমার চরণারবিন্দে ভক্তি দেহ' দান ॥ ৬ ॥

jaya nityānanda-candra caitanyera prāṇa glory Nityānanda the moon Caitanya's life
tomāra caraṇāravinde bhakti deha' dāna
Your at the lotus feet devotion give as a gift

6 Glory to Nityānandacandra, the life of Caitanya! Grant me devotion to Your lotus feet.

জয় জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র চৈতন্যের আর্য্য । স্বচরণে ভক্তি দেহ' জয়াদ্বৈতাচার্য্য ॥ ৭ ॥

jaya jayādvaita-candra caitanyera ārya glory glory to Advaitacandra by Caitanya honoured
sva-caraṇe bhakti deha' jayādvaitācārya
at Your own feet devotion give glory to Advaitācārya

7 Glory to Advaitacandra, whom Caitanya honours! Glory to Advaitācārya! Grant me devotion to Your feet.

Anubhāṣya.
Caitanyera ārya — the one whom Mahāprabhu honors.

জয় গৌরভক্তগণ, — গৌর যাঁর প্রাণ । সব ভক্ত মিলি' মোরে ভক্তি দেহ' দান ॥ ৮ ॥

jaya gaura-bhakta-gaṇa, — gaura yāṁra prāṇa glory Gaura's devotees all Gaura whose life
saba bhakta mili' more bhakti deha' dāna
all devotees together to me devotion give as a gift

8 Glory to all the devotees of Gaura, whose very life is Gaura! All you devotees, together grant me devotion.

জয় রূপ, সনাতন, জীব, রঘুনাথ । রঘুনাথ, গোপাল, — ছয় মোর 'প্রাণনাথ' ॥ ৯ ॥

jaya rūpa, sanātana, jīva, raghunātha glory to Rūpa Sanātana Jīva Raghunātha raghunātha, gopāla, — chaya mora 'prāṇa-nātha'
Raghunātha Gopāla six my lords of life

9 Glory to Rūpa, Sanātana, Jīva, Raghunātha, Raghunātha and Gopāla! These six are the lords of my life.

The author's humble words; to purify himself he describes Caitanya's qualities and pastimes —

এসব প্রসাদে লিখি চৈতন্যলীলা-গুণ । যৈছে তৈছে লিখি, করি আপন পাবন ॥ ১০ ॥

esaba prasāde likhi caitanya-līlā-guṇa of all these by the mercy I write Caitanya's pastimes qualities
yaiche taiche likhi, kari āpana pāvana
somehow or other I write I make myself pure

10 By the mercy of them all I write of the pastimes and qualities of Śrī Caitanya. However I may write, I do it to purify myself.[3]

*The Lord enjoys kīrtana with His devotees in Nīlācala —*

এইমত মহাপ্রভুর নীলাচলে বাস । সঙ্গে ভক্তগণ লঞা কীর্ত্তন-বিলাস ॥ ১১ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhura nīlācale vāsa
thus Mahāprabhu's in Nīlācala residence
saṅge bhakta-gaṇa lañā kīrtana-vilāsa
with Him the devotees taking the pastimes of kīrtana

11 Thus Mahāprabhu lived in Nīlācala, enjoying the pastimes of kīrtana with His devotees.

*By day, nāma-saṅkīrtana and darśana of Jagannātha; by night, together with Svarūpa and Rāmānanda, the Lord relishes the rasa of Śrī Rādhā's love for Kṛṣṇa —*

দিনে নৃত্য-কীর্ত্তন, ঈশ্বর-দরশন ।
রাত্র্যে রায়-স্বরূপ-সনে রস-আস্বাদন ॥ ১২ ॥

dine nṛtya-kīrtana, īśvara-daraśana
by day dancing and kīrtana seeing the Lord (Jagannātha)
rātrye rāya-svarūpa-sane rasa-āsvādana
at night Rāya and Svarūpa with the relishing of rasa

12 By day He danced and sang kīrtana and beheld Lord Jagannātha; by night He relished rasa with Rāya and Svarūpa.[4]

*In separation from Kṛṣṇa the sāttvika-bhāvas arise in the Lord's body —*

এইমত মহাপ্রভুর সুখে কাল যায় । কৃষ্ণের বিরহ-বিকার অঙ্গে নানা হয় ॥ ১৩ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhura sukhe kāla yāya
thus Mahāprabhu's in happiness time passes kṛṣṇera viraha-vikāra aṅge nānā haya
Kṛṣṇa's of separation transformations in His body many arise

13 So Mahāprabhu's days passed happily, and in His body many transformations of separation from Kṛṣṇa appeared.

দিনে দিনে বাড়ে বিকার, রাত্র্যে অতিশয় ।
চিন্তা, উদ্বেগ, প্রলাপাদি যত শাস্ত্রে কয় ॥ ১৪ ॥

dine dine bāḍe vikāra, rātrye atiśaya
day by day grow the transformations at night intensely cintā, udvega, pralāpādi yata śāstre kaya anxiety agitation delirious talk and the rest as many as the scriptures describe 14 Day by day these transformations grew, and at night they became intense: anxiety, agitation, delirious talk and all the others the scriptures describe.

*The Lord's two constant companions in His transcendental pastimes of separation (vipralambha) —*

স্বরূপ গোসাঞি, আর রামানন্দ-রায় । রাত্রি-দিনে করে দোঁহে প্রভুর সহায় ॥ ১৫ ॥

svarūpa gosāñi, āra rāmānanda-rāya Svarūpa Gosāñi and Rāmānanda Rāya
rātri-dine kare doṁhe prabhura sahāya
night and day give the two the Lord help

15 Svarūpa Gosāñi and Rāmānanda Rāya, the two of them, attended the Lord day and night.

*The story of Haridāsa; Govinda goes to bring prasāda to Haridāsa —*

একদিন গোবিন্দ মহাপ্রসাদ লঞা । হরিদাসে দিতে গেলা আনন্দিত হঞা ॥ ১৬ ॥

ekadina govinda mahā-prasāda lañā
one day Govinda mahā-prasāda taking haridāse dite gelā ānandita hañā to Haridāsa to give went joyful being

16 One day Govinda took mahā-prasāda and joyfully went to give it to Haridāsa.

Haridāsa Ṭhākura's condition at the time of his departure —

দেখে, — হরিদাস ঠাকুর কৈরাছেন শয়ন । মন্দ মন্দ করিতেছেন সংখ্যা-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন ॥ ১৭ ॥

dekhe, — haridāsa ṭhākura kairāchena śayana
he sees Haridāsa Ṭhākura has lain down manda manda karitechena saṁkhyā-saṅkīrtana
slowly slowly is doing the counted saṅkīrtana

17 He saw that Haridāsa Ṭhākura was lying down, very slowly chanting his fixed number of names.

*Govinda urges him to accept prasāda; Haridāsa wishes to fast —*

গোবিন্দ কহে, — উঠ আসি' করহ ভোজন । হরিদাস কহে, — আজি করিমু লঙ্ঘন ॥ ১৮ ॥

govinda kahe, — uṭha āsi' karaha bhojana Govinda says get up coming take the meal
haridāsa kahe, — āji karimu laṅghana
Haridāsa says today I shall observe a fast

18 Govinda said, "Get up, come and eat." Haridāsa replied, "Today I shall fast.

*Haridāsa shows how a sādhaka who has taken shelter of the holy name should rightly honor prasāda —*

সংখ্যা-কীর্ত্তন পূরে নাহি, কেমতে খাইমু ?
মহাপ্রসাদ আনিয়াছ, কেমতে উপেক্ষিমু ? ॥ ১৯ ॥

saṁkhyā-kīrtana pūre nāhi, ke-mate khāimu?
the counted chanting is complete not how shall I eat
mahā-prasāda āniyācha, ke-mate upekṣimu?
mahā-prasāda you have brought how shall I disregard (it)

19 My counted chanting is not complete; how can I eat? Yet you have brought mahā-prasāda; how can I disregard it?"

এত বলি' মহাপ্রসাদ করিলা বন্দন । এক রঞ্চ লঞা তার করিলা ভক্ষণ ॥ ২০ ॥

eta bali' mahā-prasāda karilā vandana
so saying to the mahā-prasāda he made obeisance
eka rañca lañā tāra karilā bhakṣaṇa
one particle taking of it he made eating

20 Saying this, he bowed down to the mahā-prasāda, took a single particle (rañca) of it and ate it.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Rañca — a particle.

One day the Lord comes to Haridāsa and asks whether all is well with him —

আর দিন মহাপ্রভু তাঁর ঠাঞি আইলা । সুস্থ হও, হরিদাস বলি' তাঁরে পুছিলা ॥ ২১ ॥

āra dina mahāprabhu tāṁra ṭhāñi āilā
the next day Mahāprabhu his place came to sustha hao, haridāsa bali' tāṁre puchilā
well are you Haridāsa saying him He asked

21 The next day Mahāprabhu came to him and asked, "Haridāsa, are you well?"

Haridāsa's humble words —

নমস্কার করি' তেঁহো কৈলা নিবেদন । শরীর সুস্থ হয় মোর, অসুস্থ বুদ্ধি-মন ॥ ২২ ॥

namaskāra kari' teṁho kailā nivedana
obeisance making he made submission śarīra sustha haya mora, asustha buddhi-mana
the body well is my unwell intelligence and mind

22 He bowed down and replied, "My body is well, but my mind and intelligence are not."

*Answering the Lord's question, Haridāsa tells of his sorrow: he cannot chant the name by count (saṅkhyā-nāma) —*

প্রভু কহে, — কোন্ ব্যাধি, কহ ত' নির্ণয় ?
তেঁহো কহে, — সংখ্যা-কীর্ত্তন না পূরয় ॥ ২৩ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kon vyādhi, kaha ta' nirṇaya?
the Lord says what illness tell indeed precisely teṁho kahe, — saṁkhyā-kīrtana nā pūraya
he says the counted chanting not is completed

23 The Lord said, "What is the illness? Tell Me exactly." He said, "I cannot complete my counted chanting."

Anubhāṣya.
Here too we learn that every sādhaka who has taken shelter of the holy name has only one rule to keep: following Ṭhākura Haridāsa, to chant aloud the "Hare Kṛṣṇa" mahā-mantra (sixteen names, thirty-two syllables), taking up a fixed number and holding firmly to the vow. See Antya 3.99, 113–115, 120, 123–124, 129, 175, 223, 227, 238–242 and other verses.

*The Lord tells Haridāsa, whose body is transcendental and perfect, to reduce the practice he merely enacts (sādhanābhinaya) —*

প্রভু কহে, — বৃদ্ধ হইলা 'সংখ্যা' অল্প কর । সিদ্ধ-দেহ তুমি, সাধনে আগ্রহ কেনে কর ? ॥ ২৪ ॥

prabhu kahe, — vṛddha hailā 'saṁkhyā' alpa kara
the Lord says old you have become the number small make siddha-deha tumi, sādhane āgraha kene kara?
perfect in body you are for sādhana eagerness why do you show

24 The Lord said, "You have grown old; reduce the number of your names. You are ever perfect, even in body (siddha-deha); why are you so intent on sādhana?

The Lord's own words: "Haridāsa descended as the ācārya and preacher of the holy name" —

লোক নিস্তারিতে এই তোমার 'অবতার' । নামের মহিমা লোকে করিলা প্রচার ॥ ২৫ ॥

loka nistārite ei tomāra 'avatāra'
the people to deliver this your descent
nāmera mahimā loke karilā pracāra
of the name the glory in the world you have made preaching

25 You have descended to deliver the people, and you have preached the glory of the holy name in the world.

Anubhāṣya.
"Your descent" (tomāra avatāra): by the Lord's will His devotees and associates descend to earth to serve Him.

এবে অল্প সংখ্যা করি' কর সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । হরিদাস কহে, — শুন মোর নিবেদন ॥ ২৬ ॥

ebe alpa saṁkhyā kari' kara saṅkīrtana
now small the number making do saṅkīrtana
haridāsa kahe, — śuna mora nivedana
Haridāsa says hear my submission

26 Now chant a smaller number of names." Haridāsa said, "Please hear my request.

Haridāsa's humble words, which would melt a stone, and his glorification of the Lord's greatness —

হীন-জাতি জন্ম মোর নিন্দ্য-কলেবর । হীনকর্ম্মে রত মুঞি অধম পামর ॥ ২৭ ॥

hīna-jāti janma mora nindya-kalevara
in a low caste birth my contemptible body
hīna-karme rata muñi adhama pāmara
in low deeds engaged I the lowest wretch

27 I was born in a low caste, and my body is contemptible. I am given to low deeds — I am the lowest of wretches.

অদৃশ্য, অস্পৃশ্য মোরে অঙ্গীকার কৈলা । রৌরব হইতে কাড়ি' মোরে বৈকুণ্ঠে চড়াইলা ॥ ২৮ ॥

adṛśya, aspṛśya more aṅgīkāra kailā unfit to be seen unfit to be touched me acceptance You made raurava haite kāḍi' more vaikuṇṭhe caḍāilā
Raurava from snatching me to Vaikuṇṭha You raised

28 I am unfit to be seen or touched, yet You accepted me. You snatched me out of the hell of Raurava and raised me up to Vaikuṇṭha.

স্বতন্ত্র ঈশ্বর তুমি হও ইচ্ছাময় । জগৎ নাচাও, যারে যৈছে ইচ্ছা হয় ॥ ২৯ ॥

svatantra īśvara tumi hao icchāmaya independent Lord You are acting at will jagat nācāo, yāre yaiche icchā haya
the world You make dance whom as wish there is 29 You are the independent Lord and act as You will. You make the world dance — each one as You please.

অনেক নাচাইলা মোরে প্রসাদ করিয়া ।
বিপ্রের শ্রাদ্ধপাত্র খাইনু 'ম্লেচ্ছ' হঞা ॥ ৩০ ॥

aneka nācāilā more prasāda kariyā much You made dance me grace bestowing
viprera śrāddha-pātra khāinu 'mleccha' hañā of brāhmaṇas the śrāddha plate I ate a mleccha being

30 By Your grace You have made me dance in many ways: though a mleccha, I ate the śrāddha plate meant for brāhmaṇas.[5]

Anubhāṣya.

Śrāddha-pātra — the plate of the śrāddha feast. The Viṣṇu-smṛti says: "These are called the lowest of brāhmaṇas (brāhmaṇāpasada), defilers of the row (paṅkti-dūṣaka). A wise man should carefully avoid them at the śrāddha rite."

Even if one is born a brāhmaṇa by seed (śaukra-brāhmaṇa), the śrāddha plate is not to be given to a brāhmaṇa whom the smṛti calls an apasada, a defiler of the row. Here, however, the śrāddha plate due to a pure brāhmaṇa was given to Haridāsa, a brāhmaṇa by initiation (daikṣa-vipra). Though he was born in a mleccha family, he has the right to it, for he is a "servant of Hari" (hari-jana).

Haridāsa makes his wish known to the Lord —

এক বাঞ্ছা হয় মোর বহু দিন হৈতে । লীলা সম্বরিবে তুমি — লয় মোর চিত্তে ॥ ৩১ ॥

eka vāñchā haya mora bahu dina haite
one desire there is my many days since līlā samvaribe tumi — laya mora citte
the pastimes will wind up You feels my heart

31 For many days I have had one desire. My heart tells me that You will soon wind up Your pastimes.

Haridāsa wishes to conclude his pastimes even before the Lord's departure —

সেই লীলা প্রভু মোরে কভু না দেখাইবা । আপনার আগে মোর শরীর পড়িবা ॥ ৩২ ॥

sei līlā prabhu more kabhu nā dekhāibā that pastime O Lord to me ever not show āpanāra āge mora śarīra paḍibā Yourself before my body let it fall

32 Lord, never let me see that pastime. Let my body fall before You.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Sei līlā ("that pastime") — the pastime of Your departure (antardhāna-līlā).

Haridāsa reveals his wish to depart, together with his longing to find happiness in serving Gaura-Kṛṣṇa with body, mind and speech —

হৃদয়ে ধরিমু তোমার কমল চরণ । নয়নে দেখিমু তোমার চাঁদ বদন ॥ ৩৩ ॥

hṛdaye dharimu tomāra kamala caraṇa
on my heart I shall hold Your lotus feet
nayane dekhimu tomāra cāṁda vadana
with my eyes I shall see Your moonlike face

33 I shall hold Your lotus feet to my heart and gaze with my eyes upon Your moonlike face.

জিহ্বায় উচ্চারিমু তোমার 'কৃষ্ণচৈতন্য'-নাম । এইমত মোর ইচ্ছা, — ছাড়িমু পরাণ ॥ ৩৪ ॥

jihvāya uccārimu tomāra 'kṛṣṇa-caitanya'-nāma
with my tongue I shall utter Your 'Kṛṣṇa-Caitanya' name ei-mata mora icchā, — chāḍimu parāṇa
in this way my desire I shall leave my life

34 With my tongue I shall utter Your name, "Kṛṣṇa Caitanya." This is my desire — to give up my life in this way.

মোর এই ইচ্ছা যদি তোমার প্রসাদে হয় । এই নিবেদন মোর কর, দয়াময় ॥ ৩৫ ॥

mora ei icchā yadi tomāra prasāde haya
my this desire if by Your grace comes true ei nivedana mora kara, dayāmaya
this request my grant O merciful One

35 If by Your grace this desire can be fulfilled, then grant my prayer, O merciful Lord.

এই নীচ দেহ মোর পড়ুক তব আগে । এই বাঞ্ছা-সিদ্ধি মোর তোমাতেই লাগে ॥ ৩৬ ॥

ei nīca deha mora paḍuka tava āge
this low body my may it fall You before ei vāñchā-siddhi mora tomātei lāge
this fulfilment of desire my on You alone depends

36 Let this low body of mine fall before You. The fulfilment of this desire depends on You alone."

The Lord fulfills Haridāsa's desire —

প্রভু কহে, — হরিদাস, যে তুমি মাগিবে । কৃষ্ণ কৃপাময় তাহা অবশ্য করিবে ॥ ৩৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — haridāsa, ye tumi māgibe
the Lord says Haridāsa whatever you will ask kṛṣṇa kṛpāmaya tāhā avaśya karibe
Kṛṣṇa merciful that surely will do

37 The Lord said, "Haridāsa, whatever you ask, merciful Kṛṣṇa will surely grant.

Remembering the separation from an associate of His pastimes, the Lord speaks words full of sorrow that touch the heart deeply —

কিন্তু আমার যে কিছু সুখ, সব তোমা লঞা । তোমার যোগ্য নহে, — যাবে আমারে ছাড়িয়া ॥ ৩৮ ॥

kintu āmāra ye kichu sukha, saba tomā lañā
but My whatever happiness all with you having tomāra yogya nahe, — yābe āmāre chāḍiyā for you fitting it is not you will go Me leaving

38 But whatever happiness I have, I have it all with you. It is not fitting for you to go away and leave Me."

Haridāsa begs the Lord for mercy without guile —

চরণে ধরি' কহে হরিদাস, — না করিহ 'মায়া' । অবশ্য মো-অধমে, প্রভু, কর এই 'দয়া' ॥ ৩৯ ॥

caraṇe dhari' kahe haridāsa, — nā kariha 'māyā'
the feet clasping says Haridāsa not do māyā (guile)
avaśya mo-adhame, prabhu, kara ei 'dayā'
surely to me, the fallen O Lord show this mercy

39 Clasping His feet, Haridāsa said, "Lord, do not try Your māyā on me! Do show this mercy (dayā) to one so fallen.

Humble words again —

মোর শিরোমণি কত কত মহাশয় । তোমার লীলার সহায় কোটিভক্ত হয় ॥ ৪০ ॥

mora śiromaṇi kata kata mahāśaya
my crest jewels how many how many great souls tomāra līlāra sahāya koṭi-bhakta haya
Your of the pastimes helpers millions of devotees there are 40 There are so many great souls, crest jewels far above me; millions of devotees assist in Your pastimes.

আমা-হেন যদি এক কীট মরি' গেল । পিপীলিকা মৈলে পৃথিবীর কাঁহা হানি হৈল ? ॥ ৪১ ॥

āmā-hena yadi eka kīṭa mari' gela
like me if one insect dying goes pipīlikā maile pṛthivīra kāṁhā hāni haila?
ant if it dies to the earth what loss has there been 41 If one insect like me is gone, what does it matter? When an ant dies, what does the earth lose?

Before the Lord, who loves His devotees, Haridāsa calls himself a mere semblance of His servant and firmly hopes that his desire will be fulfilled —

'ভকতবৎসল' তুমি, মুই 'ভক্তাভাস' । অবশ্য পূরিবে, প্রভু, মোর এই আশ ॥ ৪২ ॥

'bhakata-vatsala' tumi, mui 'bhaktābhāsa'
affectionate to devotees You I a semblance of a devotee
avaśya pūribe, prabhu, mora ei āśa
surely You will fulfil O Lord my this hope

42 You are affectionate to Your devotees (bhakata-vatsala), and I am a mere semblance of a devotee. Surely, Lord, You will fulfil this hope of mine."

The Lord leaves, assuring him that He will come the next day —

মধ্যাহ্ন করিতে প্রভু চলিলা আপনে । ঈশ্বর দেখিয়া কালি দিবেন দরশনে ॥ ৪৩ ॥

madhyāhna karite prabhu calilā āpane
the midday duties to perform the Lord went Himself
īśvara dekhiyā kāli dibena daraśane
the Lord (Jagannātha) after seeing tomorrow He will give darśana

43 The Lord then went to perform His midday duties, promising that the next day, after seeing Jagannātha, He would come to give Haridāsa His darśana.

তবে মহাপ্রভু তাঁরে করি' আলিঙ্গন ।
মধ্যাহ্ন করিতে সমুদ্রে করিলা গমন ॥ ৪৪ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu tāṁre kari' āliṅgana
then Mahāprabhu him making embrace madhyāhna karite samudre karilā gamana
the midday duties to perform to the sea He made His way

44 Mahāprabhu embraced him and went to the sea to perform His midday duties.

The next morning, after seeing Jagannātha, the Lord comes with His devotees to see Haridāsa —

প্রাতঃকালে ঈশ্বর দেখি’ সব ভক্ত লঞা । হরিদাসে দেখিতে আইলা শীঘ্র করিয়া ॥ ৪৫ ॥

prātaḥ-kāle īśvara dekhi’ saba bhakta lañā in the morning the Lord (Jagannātha) seeing all the devotees taking haridāse dekhite āilā śīghra kariyā Haridāsa to see He came haste making

45 In the morning, after seeing Jagannātha, He hurried with all the devotees to see Haridāsa.

*The account of Haridāsa's departure (niryāṇa); Haridāsa bows at the feet of the devotees and of Bhagavān —*

হরিদাসের আগে আসি’ দিলা দরশন । হরিদাস বন্দিলা প্রভুর আর বৈষ্ণব-চরণ ॥ ৪৬ ॥

haridāsera āge āsi’ dilā daraśana Haridāsa’s before coming He gave darśana
haridāsa vandilā prabhura āra vaiṣṇava-caraṇa
Haridāsa bowed to the Lord’s and the Vaiṣṇavas’ feet

46 Coming before Haridāsa, the Lord gave him darśana, and Haridāsa bowed to the feet of the Lord and of the Vaiṣṇavas.

The Lord asks Haridāsa whether all is well with him; Haridāsa prepares to go to Goloka —

প্রভু কহে, — হরিদাস, কহ সমাচার । হরিদাস কহে, — প্রভু, যে আজ্ঞা তোমার ॥ ৪৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — haridāsa, kaha samācāra
the Lord says Haridāsa tell the news
haridāsa kahe, — prabhu, ye ājñā tomāra Haridāsa says O Lord whatever order Your

47 The Lord said, “Haridāsa, what news?” Haridāsa said, “Lord, as You command.”

*In front of Haridāsa's hut the Lord and His devotees begin a great kīrtana —*

অঙ্গনে আরম্ভিলা প্রভু মহাসঙ্কীর্ত্তন । বক্রেশ্বর-পণ্ডিত যাঁহা করেন নর্ত্তন ॥ ৪৮ ॥

aṅgane ārambhilā prabhu mahā-saṅkīrtana
in the courtyard began the Lord a great saṅkīrtana
vakreśvara-paṇḍita yāṁhā karena nartana
Vakreśvara Paṇḍita where does dancing

48 In the courtyard the Lord began a great saṅkīrtana, in which Vakreśvara Paṇḍita danced.

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি আদি যত প্রভুর গণ । হরিদাসে বেড়ি’ করে নাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন ॥ ৪৯ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi ādi yata prabhura gaṇa Svarūpa Gosāñi and others all the Lord's associates
haridāse beḍi' kare nāma-saṅkīrtana
Haridāsa surrounding do saṅkīrtana of the name

49 Svarūpa Gosāñi and all the Lord's other associates surrounded Haridāsa and sang the holy name.

Before everyone the Lord, in great joy, describes the virtues of His devotee Haridāsa —

রামানন্দ, সার্ব্বভৌম, সবার অগ্রেতে । হরিদাসের গুণ প্রভু লাগিলা কহিতে ॥ ৫০ ॥

rāmānanda, sārvabhauma, sabāra agrete Rāmānanda Sārvabhauma of all in front
haridāsera guṇa prabhu lāgilā kahite
Haridāsa's qualities the Lord began to tell

50 Before Rāmānanda, Sārvabhauma and all the others, the Lord began to speak of Haridāsa's qualities.

হরিদাসের গুণ কহিতে হইলা পঞ্চমুখ । কহিতে কহিতে প্রভুর বাড়ে মহাসুখ ॥ ৫১ ॥

haridāsera guṇa kahite hailā pañca-mukha Haridāsa's qualities telling became five-mouthed kahite kahite prabhura bāḍe mahā-sukha telling telling the Lord's grows great joy

51 As He told of Haridāsa's qualities, the Lord became as if five-mouthed, and the more He spoke, the greater His joy grew.

All the devotees are amazed and bow at Haridāsa's feet —

হরিদাসের গুণে সবার বিস্মিত হয় মন । সর্ব্বভক্ত বন্দে হরিদাসের চরণ ॥ ৫২ ॥

haridāsera guṇe sabāra vismita haya mana
by Haridāsa's qualities everyone's amazed become minds sarva-bhakta vande haridāsera caraṇa
all the devotees worship Haridāsa's feet

52 Haridāsa's qualities filled everyone's mind with wonder, and all the devotees bowed to his feet.

*Seeing the Lord before him and chanting His name, the Ṭhākura departs — niryāṇa, or utkrānti (the passing out of the life-air) —*

হরিদাস নিজাগ্রেতে প্রভুরে বসাইলা । নিজ-নেত্র — দুই ভৃঙ্গ — মুখপদ্মে দিলা ॥ ৫৩ ॥

haridāsa nijāgrete prabhure vasāilā Haridāsa in front of himself the Lord seated nija-netra — dui bhṛṅga — mukha-padme dilā
his own eyes two bees on the lotus face placed

53 Haridāsa seated the Lord in front of himself and fixed his eyes, like two bees, on the lotus of His face.

স্ব-হৃদয়ে আনি' ধরি' প্রভুর চরণ । সর্ব্বভক্ত-পদরেণু মস্তক ভূষণ ॥ ৫৪ ॥

sva-hṛdaye āni' dhari' prabhura caraṇa
to his own heart bringing holding the Lord's feet
sarva-bhakta-pada-reṇu mastaka bhūṣaṇa
all devotees' of the feet the dust of his head the ornament

54 He brought the Lord's feet to his heart and held them there; the dust of the feet of all the devotees adorned his head.

'শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্যপ্রভু' বলেন বার বার । প্রভুমুখ-মাধুরী পিয়ে, নেত্রে জলধার ॥ ৫৫ ॥

'śrī kṛṣṇa-caitanya prabhu' balena bāra bāra
Śrī Kṛṣṇa-Caitanya Prabhu he says again and again
prabhu-mukha-mādhurī piye, netre jala-dhāra
of the Lord's face the sweetness he drinks in his eyes streams of tears

55 Again and again he said, "Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Prabhu!" He drank in the sweetness of the Lord's face, and streams of tears flowed from his eyes.

'শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য' — শব্দ করিতে উচ্চারণ । নামের সহিত প্রাণ করিলা উৎক্রামণ ॥ ৫৬ ॥

'śrī kṛṣṇa-caitanya' — śabda karite uccāraṇa
Śrī Kṛṣṇa-Caitanya the word while doing utterance nāmera sahita prāṇa karilā utkrāmaṇa
the name together with his life he made go out

56 And so, as he uttered the words "Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya," he let his life go forth from his body together with the name.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Utkrāmaṇa — going out, exit.

*Everyone remembers how in the Dvāpara-yuga Bhīṣma departed at will (icchā-mṛtyu) —*

মহাযোগেশ্বর-প্রায় স্বচ্ছন্দে মরণ ।
'ভীষ্মের নির্য্যাণ' সবার হইল স্মরণ ॥ ৫৭ ॥

mahā-yogeśvara-prāya svacchande maraṇa
a great master of yoga like at his own will departure
'bhīṣmera niryāṇa' sabāra haila smaraṇa
Bhīṣma's departure for everyone there was the remembrance

57 Like a great master of yoga, he departed at his own will, and everyone remembered the departure of Bhīṣma.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhīṣmera niryāṇa (Bhīṣma's departure) — see Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.9.29–43.

*The tumult of the great kīrtana; the Lord is overwhelmed with love —*

'হরি' 'কৃষ্ণ'-শব্দে সবে করে কোলাহল । প্রেমানন্দে মহাপ্রভু হইলা বিহ্বল ॥ ৫৮ ॥

'hari' 'kṛṣṇa'-śabde sabe kare kolāhala
'Hari' with the sounds 'Kṛṣṇa' all make a tumult premānande mahāprabhu hailā vihvala
in the bliss of love Mahāprabhu became overwhelmed

58 Everyone raised a tumult with the sounds “Hari!” and “Kṛṣṇa!”, and Mahāprabhu was overwhelmed with the bliss of love.

The Lord dances holding Haridāsa's transcendental body in His arms —

হরিদাসের তনু প্রভু কোলে উঠাঞা । অঙ্গনে নাচেন প্রভু প্রেমাবিষ্ট হঞা ॥ ৫৯ ॥

haridāsera tanu prabhu kole uṭhāñā Haridāsa’s body the Lord onto His lap lifting aṅgane nācena prabhu premāviṣṭa hañā
in the courtyard dances the Lord absorbed in love being 59 Lifting Haridāsa’s body onto His lap, the Lord danced in the courtyard, absorbed in love.

Everyone sings and dances, absorbed in love —

প্রভুর আবেশে অবশ সর্ব্বভক্তগণ । প্রেমাবেশে সবে নাচে, করেন কীর্ত্তন ॥ ৬০ ॥

prabhura āveśe avaśa sarva-bhakta-gaṇa
by the Lord’s ecstasy helpless all the devotees
premāveśe sabe nāce, karena kīrtana absorbed in love all dance do kīrtana

60 The Lord’s ecstasy overpowered all the devotees; absorbed in love, they all danced and sang kīrtana.

এইমতে নৃত্য প্রভু কৈলা কতক্ষণ । স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি প্রভুরে কৈলা নিবেদন ॥ ৬১ ॥

ei-mate nṛtya prabhu kailā kata-kṣaṇa
in this way dancing the Lord did for some time
svarūpa-gosāñi prabhure kailā nivedana
Svarūpa Gosāñi to the Lord made a request

61 In this way the Lord danced for some time; then Svarūpa Gosāñi made a request to Him.

*With kīrtana the Lord and His devotees bring Ṭhākura Haridāsa to the ocean —*

হরিদাস-ঠাকুরে তবে বিমানে চড়াঞা । সমুদ্রে লঞা গেলা তবে কীর্ত্তন করিয়া ॥ ৬২ ॥

haridāsa-ṭhākure tabe vimāne caḍāñā Haridāsa Ṭhākura then onto a vimāna placing samudre lañā gelā tabe kīrtana kariyā
to the sea taking they went then kīrtana performing

62 They placed Haridāsa Ṭhākura on a vimāna, a palanquin shaped like a celestial chariot, and carried him to the sea, singing kīrtana.

আগে মহাপ্রভু চলেন নৃত্য করিতে করিতে । পাছে নৃত্য করে বক্রেশ্বর ভক্তগণ-সাথে ॥ ৬৩ ॥

āge mahāprabhu calena nṛtya karite karite
in front Mahāprabhu goes dancing doing doing pāche nṛtya kare vakreśvara bhakta-gaṇa-sāthe
behind dancing does Vakreśvara with the devotees

63 Mahāprabhu went in front, dancing all the way, and behind Him Vakreśvara danced with the devotees.

*The Lord bathes Haridāsa in the ocean; from then on, by Haridāsa's touch, the ocean became a great holy place (mahā-tīrtha) —*

হরিদাসে সমুদ্র-জলে স্নান করাইলা । প্রভু কহে, — সমুদ্র এই 'মহাতীর্থ' হইলা ॥ ৬৪ ॥

haridāse samudra-jale snāna karāilā Haridāsa in the water of the sea bathing He had done
prabhu kahe, — samudra ei 'mahā-tīrtha' hailā
the Lord says the sea this a great tīrtha has become

64 He bathed Haridāsa in the water of the sea and said, "This sea has now become a great holy place (mahā-tīrtha)."

The devotees drink the water that washed the feet of Haridāsa, whose body is transcendental —

হরিদাসের পাদোদক পিয়ে ভক্তগণ । হরিদাসের অঙ্গে দিলা প্রসাদ-চন্দন ॥ ৬৫ ॥

haridāsera pādodaka piye bhakta-gaṇa Haridāsa's the water from his feet drink the devotees haridāsera aṅge dilā prasāda-candana
on Haridāsa's body they put prasāda sandal paste

65 The devotees drank the water that had washed Haridāsa's feet and anointed his body with prasāda sandal paste.

*How samādhi is given to the accompaniment of kīrtana —*

ডোর, কড়ার, প্রসাদ, বস্ত্র অঙ্গে দিলা । বালুকার গর্ত্ত করি' তাহে শোয়াইলা ॥ ৬৬ ॥

ḍora, kaḍāra, prasāda, vastra aṅge dilā silk cords sandal paste prasāda cloth on his body they put vālukāra garta kari' tāhe śoyāilā
in the sand a pit making in it they laid (him)

66 They placed on his body ḍora (silk cords), kaḍāra (sandal paste), prasāda and cloth; then, making a pit in the sand, they laid him in it.

Anubhāṣya.
Ḍora — silk cords (paṭṭa-ḍorī), the prasāda of Śrī Jagannātha; kaḍāra — sandalwood paste that is prasāda.

The devotees sing and dance —

চারিদিকে ভক্তগণ করেন কীর্ত্তন । বক্রেশ্বর-পণ্ডিত করেন আনন্দে নর্ত্তন ॥ ৬৭ ॥

cāri-dike bhakta-gaṇa karena kīrtana
on all sides the devotees do kīrtana
vakreśvara-paṇḍita karena ānande nartana
Vakreśvara Paṇḍita does in bliss dancing

67 On all sides the devotees sang kīrtana, and Vakreśvara Paṇḍita danced in bliss.

*With His own hands the Lord lays the Ṭhākura in samādhi —*

‘হরিবোল’ ‘হরিবোল’ বলেন গৌররায় ।
আপনি শ্রীহস্তে বালু দিলা তাঁর গায় ॥ ৬৮ ॥

‘hari-bola’ ‘hari-bola’ balena gaurarāya
Hari bol Hari bol says Gaurarāya
āpani śrī-haste vālu dilā tāṁra gāya
Himself with His holy hands sand He put on his body

68 Calling “Hari bol! Hari bol!”, Gaurarāya Himself put sand on Haridāsa’s body with His holy hands.

*A platform (samādhi-pīṭha) is raised over the samādhi —*

তাঁরে বালু দিয়া উপরে পিণ্ডা বাঁধাইলা । চৌদিকে-পিণ্ডের মহা-আবরণ কৈলা ॥ ৬৯ ॥

tāṁre vālu diyā upare piṇḍā bāṁdhāilā him sand having put on top a platform they had built caudike-piṇḍera mahā-āvaraṇa kailā around the platform a great enclosure they made

69 When they had covered him with sand, they had a platform built over him and a great enclosure made around it.

*After kīrtana and dancing with the devotees and bathing in the ocean, the Lord circumambulates the samādhi-pīṭha and comes to the temple —*

তবে মহাপ্রভু কৈলা কীর্ত্তন, নর্ত্তন । হরিধ্বনি-কোলাহলে ভরিল ভুবন ॥ ৭০ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu kailā kīrtana, nartana
then Mahāprabhu did kīrtana dancing
hari-dhvani-kolāhale bharila bhuvana
with the tumult of the sound of Hari was filled the world

70 Then Mahāprabhu sang kīrtana and danced, and the tumult of Hari’s name filled the world.

তবে মহাপ্রভু সব ভক্তগণ-সঙ্গে । সমুদ্রে করিলা স্নান-জলকেলি রঙ্গে ॥ ৭১ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu saba bhakta-gaṇa-saṅge
then Mahāprabhu all with the devotees
samudre karilā snāna-jala-keli raṅge
in the sea He did bathing and water play joyfully

71 Afterwards Mahāprabhu bathed in the sea with all the devotees and joyfully played in the water.

হরিদাসে প্রদক্ষিণ করি’ আইল সিংহদ্বারে । হরিকীর্ত্তন-কোলাহল সকল নগরে ॥ ৭২ ॥

haridāse pradakṣiṇa kari’ āila siṁha-dvāre Haridāsa circumambulation making He came to the Lion Gate hari-kīrtana-kolāhala sakala nagare
the tumult of Hari’s kīrtana in all the city

72 After circumambulating Haridāsa, He came to the Lion Gate, and the tumult of Hari’s kīrtana filled the whole city.

*For the festival of separation from Haridāsa (viraha-mahotsava) the Lord Himself begs prasāda from the shopkeepers at the Lion Gate —*

সিংহদ্বারে আসি' প্রভু পসারির ঠাঁই । আঁচল পাতিয়া প্রসাদ মাগিলা তথাই ॥ ৭৩ ॥

siṁha-dvāre āsi' prabhu pasārira ṭhāṁi
at the Lion Gate arriving the Lord of the shopkeepers at the place
āṁcala pātiyā prasāda māgilā tathāi
the end of His cloth spreading out prasāda He begged right there

73 Coming to the Lion Gate, the Lord spread out the end of His cloth before the shopkeepers and begged them for prasāda:

হরিদাস-ঠাকুরের মহোৎসবের তরে । প্রসাদ মাগিয়ে ভিক্ষা দেহ' ত' আমারে ॥ ৭৪ ॥

haridāsa-ṭhākurera mahotsavera tare Haridāsa Ṭhākura's of the festival for the sake prasāda māgiye bhikṣā deha' ta' āmāre
prasāda I beg alms give please to Me

74 "I am begging prasāda for the festival of Haridāsa Ṭhākura. Please give Me alms."

*The shopkeepers want to give all their prasāda —*

শুনিয়া পসারি সব চাঙ্গড়া উঠাঞা । প্রসাদ দিতে আসে তারা আনন্দিত হঞা ॥ ৭৫ ॥

śuniyā pasāri saba cāṅgaḍā uṭhāñā hearing the shopkeepers all baskets lifting up prasāda dite āse tārā ānandita hañā prasāda to give come they joyful being

75 Hearing this, all the shopkeepers joyfully lifted up their big baskets (cāṅgaḍā) and came to give prasāda.

Anubhāṣya.
Cāṅgaḍā — a large basket.

Svarūpa stops them —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি পসারিকে নিষেধিল । চাঙ্গড়া লঞা পসারি পসারে বসিল ॥ ৭৬ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi pasārike niṣedhila Svarūpa Gosāñi the shopkeepers stopped
cāṅgaḍā lañā pasāri pasāre vasila
the baskets taking the shopkeepers in their shops sat down

76 Svarūpa Gosāñi stopped them, and the shopkeepers sat down again in their shops with their baskets.

Sending the Lord home, Svarūpa himself takes on the whole charge of the festival —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি প্রভুরে ঘর পাঠাইলা । চারি বৈষ্ণব, চারি পিছাড়া সঙ্গে রাখিলা ॥ ৭৭ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi prabhure ghara pāṭhāilā Svarūpa Gosāñi the Lord home sent cāri vaiṣṇava, cāri pichāḍā saṅge rākhilā four Vaiṣṇavas four porters with him kept

77 Svarūpa Gosāñi sent the Lord home and kept with him four Vaiṣṇavas and four porters (pichāḍā).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Pichāḍā — people who walk behind (according to another opinion, “a basket” or “a load”; see verse 79).

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি কহিলেন সব পসারিরে । এক এক দ্রব্যের এক এক পুঞ্জা দেহ’ মোরে ॥ ৭৮ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi kahilena saba pasārire Svarūpa Gosāñi said to all the shopkeepers eka eka dravyera eka eka puñjā deha’ more each one of the items one puñjā each give to me

78 Svarūpa Gosāñi said to all the shopkeepers, “Give me one puñjā (a portion counted by fours) of each item.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Puñjā — a portion counted out in fours.

*Plenty of prasāda is gathered —*

এইমতে নানা-প্রসাদ বোঝা বান্ধাঞা । লঞা আইলা চারি-জনের মস্তকে চড়াঞা ॥ ৭৯ ॥

ei-mate nānā-prasāda bojhā bāndhāñā
in this way various prasāda into bundles having tied lañā āilā cāri-janera mastake caḍāñā taking he came on four men’s heads placing

79 In this way he had all kinds of prasāda tied into bundles, put them on the heads of the four men and brought them back.

Prasāda* from Vāṇīnātha and Kāśī Miśra —*

বাণীনাথ-পট্টনায়ক প্রসাদ আনিলা । কাশীমিশ্র অনেক প্রসাদ পাঠাইলা ॥ ৮০ ॥

vāṇīnātha-paṭṭanāyaka prasāda ānilā Vāṇīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka prasāda brought kāśī-miśra aneka prasāda pāṭhāilā Kāśī Miśra much prasāda sent

80 Vāṇīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka brought prasāda, and Kāśī Miśra sent a great quantity.

*At the festival of separation the Lord with His own hands serves the Vaiṣṇavas prasāda in abundance —*

সব বৈষ্ণবে প্রভু বসাইলা সারি সারি । আপনে পরিবেশে প্রভু লঞা জনা-চারি ॥ ৮১ ॥

saba vaiṣṇave prabhu vasāilā sāri sāri
all the Vaiṣṇavas the Lord seated in rows in rows
āpane pariveśe prabhu lañā janā-cāri
Himself serves the Lord taking four people

81 The Lord seated all the Vaiṣṇavas in rows and began to serve them Himself, with four helpers.

মহাপ্রভুর শ্রীহস্তে অল্প না আইসে । এক এক পাতে পঞ্চজনার ভক্ষ্য পরিবেশে ॥ ৮২ ॥

mahāprabhura śrī-haste alpa nā āise Mahāprabhu's into the holy hand a little not comes eka eka pāte pañca-janāra bhakṣya pariveśe on each each leaf plate of five people food He serves 82 A small amount would not come into Mahāprabhu's holy hand: on each leaf He served enough food for five.

*Holding the Lord back, Svarūpa serves prasāda together with three devotees —*

স্বরূপ কহে, — প্রভু, বসি' করহ দর্শন । আমি ইঁহা-সবা লঞা করি পরিবেশন ॥ ৮৩ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — prabhu, vasi' karaha darśana Svarūpa says O Lord sitting do watch
āmi iṁhā-sabā lañā kari pariveśana
I these all taking do the serving

83 Svarūpa said, "Lord, sit down and watch. I shall serve with these helpers."

স্বরূপ, জগদানন্দ, কাশীশ্বর, শঙ্কর ।
চারিজন পরিবেশন করে নিরন্তর ॥ ৮৪ ॥

svarūpa, jagadānanda, kāśīśvara, śaṅkara
Svarūpa, Jagadānanda, Kāśīśvara, Śaṅkara
cāri-jana pariveśana kare nirantara
four people serving do continually

84 Svarūpa, Jagadānanda, Kāśīśvara and Śaṅkara — these four served without pause.

*The devotees wait for the Lord to eat; Kāśī Miśra offers the Lord prasāda —*

প্রভু না খাইলে কেহ না করে ভোজন । প্রভুরে সে দিনে কাশীমিশ্রের নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ৮৫ ॥

prabhu nā khāile keha nā kare bhojana
the Lord not having eaten anyone not does eat
prabhure se dine kāśī-miśrera nimantraṇa
to the Lord on that day Kāśī Miśra's invitation

85 Since the Lord had not eaten, no one would eat. That day the Lord had an invitation from Kāśī Miśra.

আপনে কাশীমিশ্র আইলা প্রসাদ লঞা । প্রভুরে ভিক্ষা করাইলা আগ্রহ করিয়া ॥ ৮৬ ॥

āpane kāśī-miśra āilā prasāda lañā himself Kāśī Miśra came prasāda bringing prabhure bhikṣā karāilā āgraha kariyā
the Lord His meal he made take insistence showing

86 Kāśī Miśra came himself with prasāda and pressed the Lord to take His meal.

*The Lord honors prasāda together with the sannyāsīs —*

পুরী ভারতীর সঙ্গে প্রভু ভিক্ষা কৈলা । সকল বৈষ্ণব তবে ভোজন করিলা ॥ ৮৭ ॥

purī bhāratīra saṅge prabhu bhikṣā kailā Purī Bhāratī with the Lord His meal took sakala vaiṣṇava tabe bhojana karilā
all the Vaiṣṇavas then the meal took 87 The Lord took His meal with Purī and Bhāratī, and then all the Vaiṣṇavas ate.

All the devotees eat their fill —

আকণ্ঠ পূরাঞা করাইলা ভোজন । দেহ' দেহ' বলি' প্রভু বলেন বচন ॥ ৮৮ ॥

ākaṇṭha pūrāñā karāilā bhojana
to the throat filling He made eat
deha' deha' bali' prabhu balena vacana
give give saying the Lord speaks the words

88 He had them eat until they were filled to the throat, the Lord repeating, “Give more! Give more!”

*When everyone has rinsed mouth and hands (ācamana), the Lord adorns them with garlands and sandalwood paste —*

ভোজন করিয়া সবে কৈলা আচমন । সবারে পরাইলা প্রভু মাল্য-চন্দন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

bhojana kariyā sabe kailā ācamana
the meal having taken all did ācamana
sabāre parāilā prabhu mālya-candana
all adorned the Lord with garlands and sandal paste

89 When everyone had eaten and performed ācamana, the Lord adorned them all with garlands and sandal paste.

Overwhelmed with love, the Lord blesses the devotees —

প্রেমাবিষ্ট হঞা প্রভু করেন বর-দান । শুনি' ভক্তগণের জুড়ায় মনস্কাম ॥ ৯০ ॥

premāviṣṭa hañā prabhu karena vara-dāna absorbed in love being the Lord gives a boon
śuni' bhakta-gaṇera juḍāya manas-kāma hearing the devotees' is satisfied the heart's desire

90 Absorbed in love, the Lord bestowed a boon, and the devotees, hearing it, found their hearts' desire fulfilled.

Anyone who took part in any way in the festival of separation from Haridāsa receives the blessing of attaining Kṛṣṇa —

হরিদাসের বিজয়োৎসব যে কৈল দর্শন ।
যে ইঁহা নৃত্য কৈল, যে কৈল কীর্ত্তন ॥ ৯১ ॥

যে তাঁরে বালুকা দিতে করিল গমন ।
তার মধ্যে মহোৎসবে যে কৈল ভোজন ॥ ৯২ ॥

অচিরে তা সবাকার হবে ‘কৃষ্ণপ্রাপ্তি’ ৷ হরিদাস-দরশনে হয় ঐছে ‘শক্তি’ ॥ ৯৩ ॥

haridāsera vijayotsava ye kaila darśana Haridāsa’s festival of departure whoever did see ye iṁhā nṛtya kaila, ye kaila kīrtana whoever here dancing did whoever did kīrtana ye tāṁre vālukā dite karila gamana whoever on him sand to put did go tāra madhye mahotsave ye kaila bhojana
among them at the festival whoever did eat acire tā sabākāra habe ‘kṛṣṇa-prāpti’
soon they all will have the attainment of Kṛṣṇa
haridāsa-daraśane haya aiche ‘śakti’
in seeing Haridāsa there is such power

91–93 “Whoever saw the festival of Haridāsa’s departure, whoever danced here or sang kīrtana, whoever went to put sand on him, and whoever among them ate at the festival — all of them will soon attain Kṛṣṇa. Such is the power of seeing Haridāsa.

Anubhāṣya.
Vijaya-utsava — the festival of separation (viraha-mahotsava).

Bhagavān laments in separation from His dear devotee —

কৃপা করি’ কৃষ্ণ মোরে দিয়াছিলা সঙ্গ ৷ স্বতন্ত্র কৃষ্ণের ইচ্ছা, — কৈলা সঙ্গ-ভঙ্গ ॥ ৯৪ ॥

kṛpā kari’ kṛṣṇa more diyāchilā saṅga mercy showing Kṛṣṇa to Me had given company
svatantra kṛṣṇera icchā, — kailā saṅga-bhaṅga
independent Kṛṣṇa’s will He made the company broken

94 Out of mercy Kṛṣṇa gave Me Haridāsa’s company. Kṛṣṇa’s will is independent: now He has broken that company.

হরিদাসের ইচ্ছা যবে হইল চলিতে ৷ আমার শকতি তাঁরে নারিল রাখিতে ॥ ৯৫ ॥

haridāsera icchā yabe haila calite Haridāsa’s wish when arose to go āmāra śakati tāṁre nārila rākhite
My power him could not keep

95 When Haridāsa wished to go, My power could not keep him.

ইচ্ছামাত্রে কৈলা নিজপ্রাণ নিষ্ক্রমণ ৷ পূর্ব্বে যেন শুনিয়াছি ভীষ্মের মরণ ॥ ৯৬ ॥

icchā-mātre kailā nija-prāṇa niṣkrāmaṇa
by mere wish he made his own life go out pūrve yena śuniyāchi bhīṣmera maraṇa
in the past as we have heard Bhīṣma’s departure

96 By his wish alone he sent his life forth from his body, as we have heard Bhīṣma did long ago.

The virtues of Ṭhākura Haridāsa —

হরিদাস আছিল পৃথিবীর ‘শিরোমণি’ । তাহা বিনা রত্নশূন্যা হইল মেদিনী ॥ ৯৭ ॥

haridāsa āchila pṛthivīra ‘śiromaṇi’ Haridāsa was of the earth the crest jewel
tāhā vinā ratna-śūnyā haila medinī
him without bereft of its jewel has become the earth

97 Haridāsa was the crest jewel of the earth; without him the earth has been robbed of its jewel.”

Cries of “Glory to Haridāsa!” and the Lord's dance —

জয় জয় হরিদাস বলি’ কর হরিধ্বনি । এত বলি’ মহাপ্রভু নাচেন আপনি ॥ ৯৮ ॥

jaya jaya haridāsa bali’ kara hari-dhvani glory glory Haridāsa saying make the sound of Hari eta bali’ mahāprabhu nācena āpani
so saying Mahāprabhu dances Himself

98 “Call out ‘Glory, glory to Haridāsa!’ and raise the sound of Hari’s name!” Saying this, Mahāprabhu Himself began to dance.

The song of Haridāsa's glory —

সবে গায়, — জয় জয় জয় হরিদাস । নামের মহিমা যেঁহ করিলা প্রকাশ ॥ ৯৯ ॥

sabe gāya, — jaya jaya jaya haridāsa
all sing glory glory glory Haridāsa
nāmera mahimā yeṁha karilā prakāśa
of the name the glory who made manifest

99 Everyone sang, “Glory, glory, glory to Haridāsa, who revealed the glory of the holy name!”

*The Lord bids the devotees farewell and rests in joy and sorrow, for He has seen both the separation from His devotee and the glory of his departure (vijaya) —*

তবে মহাপ্রভু সব ভক্তে বিদায় দিলা । হর্ষ বিষাদে প্রভু বিশ্রাম করিলা ॥ ১০০ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu saba bhakte vidāya dilā then Mahāprabhu all the devotees leave gave harṣa viṣāde prabhu viśrāma karilā in joy in sorrow the Lord rest took 100 Then Mahāprabhu bade farewell to all the devotees and rested, in both joy and sorrow.

*Whoever hears the account of the departure (tirobhāva) of Haridāsa — the best of devotees, the ācārya of the holy name — attains devotion to Kṛṣṇa —*

এই ত’ কহিলুঁ হরিদাসের বিজয় । যাহার শ্রবণে কৃষ্ণে দৃঢ়ভক্তি হয় ॥ ১০১ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ haridāsera vijaya
thus indeed I have told of Haridāsa's departure (vijaya)
yāhāra śravaṇe kṛṣṇe dṛḍha-bhakti haya
of which by the hearing for Kṛṣṇa firm devotion arises

101 Thus I have told of Haridāsa's departure (vijaya); by hearing of it one gains firm devotion to Kṛṣṇa.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Haridāsera vijaya (Haridāsa's departure). If in Śrī Puruṣottama-kṣetra one goes from Ṭoṭā-Gopīnātha to the seashore, there, right by the ocean, the samādhi of Ṭhākura Haridāsa stands to this day. Every year, on the day of Ananta-caturdaśī, the festival of Ṭhākura Haridāsa's departure (vijaya-utsava) is held.

Thus ends the eleventh chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Gaura-Bhagavān, who loves His devotees, fulfills their desires —

চৈতন্যের ভক্তবাৎসল্য ইহাতেই জানি । ভক্তবাঞ্ছা পূর্ণ কৈলা ন্যাসী-শিরোমণি ॥ ১০২ ॥

caitanyera bhakta-vātsalya ihātei jāni Caitanya's affection for His devotees from this very we know
bhakta-vāñchā pūrṇa kailā nyāsī-śiromaṇi
His devotee's desire fulfilled made the crest jewel of sannyāsīs

102 From this we know Caitanya's affection for His devotees: He, the crest jewel of sannyāsīs, fulfilled His devotee's desire.

As Haridāsa was leaving for Goloka, the Lord showed him mercy in person —

শেষকালে দিলা তাঁরে দর্শন-স্পর্শন । তাঁরে কোলে করি' কৈলা আপনে নর্ত্তন ॥ ১০৩ ॥

śeṣa-kāle dilā tāṁre darśana-sparśana
at the last time He gave to him sight and touch tāṁre kole kari' kailā āpane nartana him on His lap taking did Himself dancing

103 At his last hour the Lord let him see and touch Him, and taking him on His lap, He Himself danced.

আপনে শ্রীহস্তে কৃপায় তাঁরে বালু দিলা । আপনে প্রসাদ মাগি' মহোৎসব কৈলা ॥ ১০৪ ॥

āpane śrī-haste kṛpāya tāṁre vālu dilā Himself with His holy hands in mercy on him sand He put āpane prasāda māgi' mahotsava kailā Himself prasāda begging a festival He held

104 In His mercy He Himself put sand on him with His holy hands, and He Himself begged prasāda and held a great festival.

Anubhāṣya.

At the site of Haridāsa Ṭhākura's samādhi, a little more than a hundred years ago, the service of three Deities — Śrī Gaura, Nityānanda and Advaita — was established. With the help of a devotee of Utkala, "Bhramaradhara of Kendrāpāḍā," a permanent temple (śrī-mandira) was built at Svarga-dvāra in Purī. This service was under the supervision of the gosvāmīs who are the servitors of Ṭoṭā-Gopīnātha. Now that property has been sold and has passed into other hands, and the new owners conduct the service. Near Haridāsa's samādhi Śrīla Bhaktivinoda Ṭhākura built his own place of worship, the "Bhakti-kuṭī." In the Bengali year 1329 the Śrī Puruṣottama Maṭha was established in this Bhakti-kuṭī. The Bhakti-ratnākara, third wave, says: "Śrīnivāsa hastened to the seashore and saw the samādhi of Haridāsa Ṭhākura. Falling to the ground, he bowed down again and again. The devotees at the holy samādhi calmed Śrīnivāsa with affectionate words. Once more Śrīnivāsa bowed to the holy samādhi — and he wept so that the heart melts just to hear of it."

*Ṭhākura Haridāsa — a mahā-bhāgavata, a learned sannyāsī (vidvat-sannyāsī), the best of paramahaṁsas —*

মহাভাগবত হরিদাস — পরম-বিদ্বান্ । এ সৌভাগ্য লাগি' আগে করিলা প্রয়াণ ॥ ১০৫ ॥

mahā-bhāgavata haridāsa — parama-vidvān
a mahā-bhāgavata Haridāsa supremely learned
e saubhāgya lāgi' āge karilā prayāṇa
this good fortune for the sake of first he made his departure

105 Haridāsa was a mahā-bhāgavata and supremely learned (parama-vidvān); for the sake of this good fortune he departed before the Lord.[6]

Anubhāṣya.
Parama-vidvān (supremely learned). Vidyā (knowledge) is that by which one is freed from the bondage of worldly existence, which is ignorance (avidyā), and gains experience of the transcendental, imperishable (akṣara) Reality — Viṣṇu, Acyuta, or Adhokṣaja. Ṭhākura Haridāsa was a master of the highest knowledge, the knowledge of Kṛṣṇa (kṛṣṇa-vidyā). For he descended as the ācārya and preacher of the chanting of Śrī Hari-nāma, which is the very life of the bride of knowledge (vidyā-vadhū-jīvanam). This is especially clear from the words of the Bhāgavatam: "If a person dedicates to Viṣṇu devotion of these nine kinds and performs it directly for Bhagavān, that, I consider, is the highest learning." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 7.5.24) From them we know that the one called "learned in all the scriptures" (sarva-śāstrādhītī) is precisely the one who cultivates kīrtana, the best of the nine parts of devotion to Kṛṣṇa.

*Even a drop of the ocean of Caitanya's pastimes is an elixir (rasāyana) for the heart and ears —*

চৈতন্যচরিত্র এই অমৃতের সিন্ধু । কর্ণ-মন তৃপ্ত করে যার এক বিন্দু ॥ ১০৬ ॥

caitanya-caritra ei amṛtera sindhu Caitanya's deeds these of nectar an ocean
karṇa-mana tṛpta kare yāra eka bindu ears and mind satisfied makes of which one drop

106 These deeds of Caitanya are an ocean of nectar; a single drop of it satisfies the ears and the mind.[7]

*Whoever wishes to cross beyond māyā and serve Kṛṣṇa must hear about Caitanya's life —*

ভবসিন্ধু তরিবারে আছে যার চিত্ত । শ্রদ্ধা করি' শুন সেই চৈতন্যচরিত্র ॥ ১০৭ ॥

bhava-sindhu taribāre āche yāra citta
the ocean of worldly existence to cross there is whose mind śraddhā kari' śuna sei caitanya-caritra faith having hear that account of Caitanya

107 Whoever has set his heart on crossing the ocean of worldly existence should hear with faith this account of Caitanya.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the eleventh chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১০৮ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

108 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads kāśīśvara-priya, "dear to Kāśīśvara" (a disciple of Īśvara Purī and servant of Mahāprabhu; cf. verse 84); some editions read kāśī-priya. ↩
2. Gaura-deha qualifies Kṛṣṇa. ↩
3. The first line is the same as Ādi 9.5; translated as there. ↩
4. The second line is the same as Antya 9.6. ↩
5. See Antya 3.220. ↩
6. Cf. verse 32. ↩
7. The first line is the same as Madhya 18.228. ↩
8. Haridāsa Ṭhākura is regarded as the incarnation of Brahmā who appeared together with Prahlāda (Brahmā being the son of the sage Ṛcīka): Gaura-gaṇoddeśa-dīpikā, 93. ↩

How Jagadānanda Broke the Pitcher of Oil

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. At night Mahāprabhu was overwhelmed by the transformations of love (prema-vikāra), and by day these went on being discussed. Meanwhile Śivānanda Sena set out from Gauḍa (with the devotees), taking his wife and three sons. On the way there was a delay in finding lodging for Nityānanda Prabhu, and He, showing Śivānanda the anger of love (prema-kopa), kicked him. Śivānanda himself felt blessed by this, but his nephew Śrīkānta Sena was hurt and went on ahead to Mahāprabhu. That year Parameśvara dāsa, a confectioner (modaka), also came with his family to see Mahāprabhu. As in previous years, the devotees invited Mahāprabhu to meals. When they were leaving, Mahāprabhu spoke many humble words to them. The year before, Mahāprabhu had sent Jagadānanda Paṇḍita to Śrī Śacīmātā with cloth and prasāda [of Jagannātha]. At Śivānanda's house Jagadānanda prepared a pot of fragrant oil called candanādi, brought it with him and asked Govinda to apply it to Mahāprabhu's head. Mahāprabhu would not accept the oil, so Jagadānanda broke the pot, oil and all, and fasted for two days. To pacify him, Mahāprabhu asked him for alms (bhikṣā). Then Jagadānanda Paṇḍita cooked rice and vegetables, fed Mahāprabhu and himself took prasāda.

A request to the devotees always to hear, sing and remember the life of Caitanya —

শ্রূয়তাং শ্রূয়তাং নিত্যং গীয়তাং গীয়তাং মুদা । চিন্ত্যতাং চিন্ত্যতাং ভক্তাশ্চৈতন্যচরিতামৃতম্ ॥ ১ ॥

śrūyatāṁ śrūyatāṁ nityaṁ
hear hear constantly gīyatāṁ gīyatāṁ mudā
sing sing with joy
cintyatāṁ cintyatāṁ bhaktāś meditate meditate O devotees
caitanya-caritāmṛtam
the nectar of Caitanya’s deeds

1 O devotees, hear, hear constantly the nectar of Śrī Caitanya’s deeds; sing, sing it with joy; meditate, meditate on it.[1]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O devotees, always hear this Caitanya-caritāmṛta, sing it, and joyfully meditate on it.

Anubhāṣya.
he bhaktāḥ (O devotees), mudā (with joy) caitanya-caritāmṛtaṁ nityaṁ (again and again) śrūyatāṁ śrūyatāṁ, (again and again) gīyatāṁ gīyatāṁ, (again and again) cintyatām, cintyatām.

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় দয়াময় ।
জয় জয় নিত্যানন্দ কৃপাসিন্ধু জয় ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya dayāmaya
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to the merciful one jaya jaya nityānanda kṛpā-sindhu jaya
glory glory to Nityānanda to the ocean of mercy glory

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to the merciful Lord! Glory, glory to Nityānanda! Glory to the ocean of mercy!

জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় করুণা-সাগর । জয় গৌরভক্তগণ কৃপা-পূর্ণান্তর ॥ ৩ ॥

jayādvaita-candra jaya karuṇā-sāgara glory to Advaitacandra glory to the ocean of compassion
jaya gaura-bhakta-gaṇa kṛpā-pūrṇāntara glory of Gaura to the devotees whose hearts are full of mercy

3 Glory to Advaitacandra, the ocean of compassion! Glory to the devotees of Gaura, whose hearts are full of mercy!

Separation from Kṛṣṇa flares up in the Lord —

অতঃপর মহাপ্রভু বিষণ্ণ-অন্তর । কৃষ্ণের বিয়োগ-দশা স্ফুরে নিরন্তর ॥ ৪ ॥

ataḥpara mahāprabhu viṣaṇṇa-antara
after this Mahāprabhu dejected at heart
kṛṣṇera viyoga-daśā sphure nirantara of separation from Kṛṣṇa the state flashes forth constantly

4 After this Mahāprabhu was dejected at heart, and the state of separation from Kṛṣṇa constantly flashed forth in Him.[2]

The Lord longs for Kṛṣṇa's company —

‘হাহা কৃষ্ণ প্রাণনাথ ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন ! । কাঁহা যাঙ কাঁহা পাঙ, মুরলীবদন !’ ॥ ৫ ॥

hā hā kṛṣṇa prāṇa-nātha vrajendra-nandana!
alas alas Kṛṣṇa Lord of My life son of the king of Vraja
kāṁhā yāṅa kāṁhā pāṅa, muralī-vadana!
where shall I go where shall I find (You) O You whose face bears the flute

5 “Alas, alas, Kṛṣṇa, Lord of My life, son of the king of Vraja! Where shall I go? Where shall I find You, O You whose lips hold the flute?”

Day and night the Lord burns in separation from Kṛṣṇa —

রাত্রি-দিন এই দশা স্বস্তি নাহি মনে । কষ্টে রাত্রি গোঙায় স্বরূপ-রামানন্দ-সনে ॥ ৬ ॥

rātri-dina ei daśā svasti nāhi mane
night and day this state peace there is not in the mind
kaṣṭe rātri goṅāya svarūpa-rāmānanda-sane
with difficulty the night He passes with Svarūpa and Rāmānanda

6 Night and day He was in this state, and there was no peace in His mind. With difficulty He passed the nights in the company of Svarūpa and Rāmānanda.

Anubhāṣya.
Variant reading: svāsthya nāhi māne (for svasti nāhi mane).

As every year, the Bengali devotees prepare to go to Purī to see the Lord —

এথা গৌড়দেশে প্রভুর যত ভক্তগণ । প্রভু দেখিবারে সবে করিলা গমন ॥ ৭ ॥

ethā gauḍa-deśe prabhura yata bhakta-gaṇa
meanwhile in the land of Gauḍa of the Lord all the devotees
prabhu dekhibāre sabe karilā gamana
the Lord to see all set out

7 Meanwhile in the land of Gauḍa all the Lord's devotees set out to see Him.

All the devotees come to Navadvīpa —

শিবানন্দ-সেন আর আচার্য্য-গোসাঞি । নবদ্বীপে সব ভক্ত হৈলা এক ঠাঞি ॥ ৮ ॥

śivānanda sena āra ācārya-gosāñi Śivānanda Sena and Ācārya Gosāñi
navadvīpe saba bhakta hailā eka ṭhāñi
in Navadvīpa all the devotees gathered in one place

8 Śivānanda Sena, Advaita Ācārya and all the devotees gathered in one place, in Navadvīpa.

কুলীনগ্রামবাসী আর যত খণ্ডবাসী । একত্র মিলিলা সব নবদ্বীপে আসি' ॥ ৯ ॥

kulīna-grāma-vāsī āra yata khaṇḍa-vāsī
the residents of Kulīnagrāma and all the residents of Khaṇḍa ekatra mililā saba navadvīpe āsi'
together met all to Navadvīpa coming

9 The residents of Kulīnagrāma and all the residents of Khaṇḍa came to Navadvīpa, and all met there together.

Despite the Lord's prohibition, Nityānanda sets out —

নিত্যানন্দ-প্রভুরে যদ্যপি আজ্ঞা নাই । তথাপি দেখিতে চলেন চৈতন্য-গোসাঞি ॥ ১০ ॥

nityānanda-prabhure yadyapi ājñā nāi to Nityānanda Prabhu although permission there was not tathāpi dekhite calena caitanya-gosāñi
still to see sets out Caitanya Gosāñi

10 Although Nityānanda Prabhu did not have the Lord's permission, He still set out to see Caitanya Gosāñi.

Anubhāṣya.
See Antya 10.5 and 10.8.

Gaura's devotees who live as householders set out with their families —

শ্রীবাসাদি চারি ভাই, সঙ্গেতে মালিনী । আচার্য্যরত্নের সঙ্গে তাঁহার গৃহিণী ॥ ১১ ॥

śrīvāsādi cāri bhāi, saṅgete mālinī Śrīvāsa and the others the four brothers along with Mālinī ācāryaratnera saṅge tāṁhāra gṛhiṇī
of Ācāryaratna with his wife

11 Śrīvāsa and his brothers, four in all, went with Mālinī, and Ācāryaratna's wife went with him.

শিবানন্দ-পত্নী চলে তিন-পুত্র লঞা । রাঘব-পণ্ডিত চলে ঝালি সাজাঞা ॥ ১২ ॥

śivānanda-patnī cale tina-putra lañā Śivānanda's wife goes three sons taking rāghava-paṇḍita cale jhāli sājāñā
Rāghava Paṇḍita goes his bags having packed

12 Śivānanda's wife went, taking her three sons, and Rāghava Paṇḍita went with his bags (jhāli) packed.

দত্ত, গুপ্ত, বিদ্যানিধি, আর যত জন । দুই-তিন শত ভক্ত করিলা গমন ॥ ১৩ ॥

datta, gupta, vidyānidhi, āra yata jana Datta Gupta Vidyānidhi and all the others
dui-tina śata bhakta karilā gamana
two or three hundred devotees set out

13 Vāsudeva Datta, Murāri Gupta, Vidyānidhi and all the others set out, two or three hundred devotees in all.

*Bowing to Śacī, all set out singing kīrtana —*

শচীমাতা দেখি' সবে তাঁর আজ্ঞা লঞা । আনন্দে চলিলা কৃষ্ণকীর্ত্তন করিয়া ॥ ১৪ ॥

śacīmātā dekhi' sabe tāṁra ājñā lañā Śacīmātā having seen all her permission taking ānande calilā kṛṣṇa-kīrtana kariyā joyfully went chanting of Kṛṣṇa doing

14 They all went to see Śacīmātā and, taking her permission, set out joyfully, chanting the names of Kṛṣṇa.

The well-to-do Śivānanda pays the road toll and serves the devotees by guiding them —

শিবানন্দ-সেন করে ঘাটী-সমাধান । সবারে পালন করি' সুখে লঞা যান ॥ ১৫ ॥

śivānanda-sena kare ghāṭī-samādhāna Śivānanda Sena does at the toll stations the settling sabāre pālana kari' sukhe lañā yāna
all care taking happily leading goes

15 Śivānanda Sena settled the tolls at the crossings; taking care of everyone, he led them happily along.[3]

Anubhāṣya.

Ghāṭī-samādhāna (settling matters at the toll post). When pilgrims or travellers passed through a zamindar's estate (mahāl), a toll was levied on them. In former times road taxes and the like were not collected [by the state], so this toll went to the owners of the roads and landings. At each post Śivānanda Sena paid the toll collectors (ghāṭoyālas) the road toll owed by the pilgrims to Jagannātha.

Śivānanda knows the road to Orissa —

সবার সব কার্য্য করেন, দেন বাসস্থান । শিবানন্দ জানে উড়িয়া-পথের সন্ধান ॥ ১৬ ॥

sabāra saba kārya karena, dena vāsa sthāna
of all all the affairs he does gives lodging places
śivānanda jāne uḍiyā-pathera sandhāna
Śivānanda knows of the Oḍiyā roads the details

16 He attended to everyone's needs and found them places to stay, for Śivānanda knew the roads through Orissa well.

Anubhāṣya.
Oḍiyā-pathera — of the road that leads to Orissa.

একদিন সব লোক ঘাটিতে রাখিলা । সবা ছাড়াঞা শিবানন্দ একেলা রহিলা ॥ ১৭ ॥

eka dina saba loka ghāṭite rākhilā
one day all the people at the toll post they detained sabā chāḍāñā śivānanda ekalā rahilā
all having got released Śivānanda alone remained

17 One day all the people were detained at a toll post. Śivānanda had them all released and stayed behind alone.[4]

Anubhāṣya.
The toll collectors behaved outrageously, extorting excess duties from the pilgrims, and to take more than their due they would hold the pilgrims at the toll post. Śivānanda himself stood surety (jāmin) for all the pilgrims and had them released.

সবে গিয়া রহিলা গ্রাম-ভিতর বৃক্ষতলে । শিবানন্দ বিনা বাসস্থান নাহি মিলে ॥ ১৮ ॥

sabe giyā rahilā grāma-bhitara vṛkṣa-tale
all having gone stayed within the village under a tree śivānanda vinā vāsa sthāna nāhi mile Śivānanda without a lodging place not is found

18 The others went on and waited under a tree in a village, for without Śivānanda no lodging could be found.

Nityānanda, in His transcendental guise of a cowherd boy of Vraja, His hunger unsatisfied, shows Śivānanda a feigned semblance of anger —

নিত্যানন্দপ্রভু ভোকে ব্যাকুল হঞা । শিবানন্দে গালি পাড়ে বাসা না পাঞা ॥ ১৯ ॥

nityānanda-prabhu bhoke vyākula hañā Nityānanda Prabhu from hunger distressed becoming śivānande gāli pāḍe vāsā nā pāñā
Śivānanda abuse heaps on lodging not having found

19 Nityānanda Prabhu, distressed by hunger and finding no lodging, began to berate Śivānanda:

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Bhoke — from hunger.

‘তিন পুত্র মরুক শিবার, এখন না আইল ।
ভোকে মরি’ গেনু, মোরে বাসা না দেওয়াইল’ ॥ ২০ ॥

tina putra maruka śivāra, ekhana nā āila
three sons may they die of Śivā now (still) not he has come bhoke mari’ genu, more vāsā nā deoyāila
from hunger dying I am for Me lodging not he arranged

20 “May Śivānanda’s three sons die! He has still not come. I am dying of hunger, and he has not arranged any lodging for Me!”

Hearing Nityānanda's curse, Śivānanda's wife weeps and tells her husband of it —

শুনি’ শিবানন্দের পত্নী কান্দিতে লাগিলা । হেনকালে শিবানন্দ ঘাটি হৈতে আইলা ॥ ২১ ॥

śuni’ śivānandera patnī kāndite lāgilā having heard Śivānanda’s wife to weep began hena-kāle śivānanda ghāṭi haite āilā
at that time Śivānanda the toll post from came

21 Hearing this, Śivānanda’s wife began to weep. Just then Śivānanda came back from the toll post.

শিবানন্দের পত্নী তাঁরে কহেন কান্দিয়া । ‘পুত্রে শাপ দিছেন গোসাঞি বাসা না পাঞা’ ॥ ২২ ॥

śivānandera patnī tāṁre kahena kāndiyā Śivānanda’s wife to him says weeping
putre śāpa dichena gosāñi vāsā nā pāñā
on the sons a curse has laid Gosāñi lodging not having found

22 Weeping, Śivānanda’s wife said to him, “Finding no lodging, Gosāñi has laid a curse on our sons.”

Śivānanda comforts his wife —

তেঁহো কহে, — “বাউলি, কেনে মরিস্ কান্দিয়া ? । মরুক আমার তিন পুত্র তাঁর বালাই লঞা ।।” ॥ ২৩ ॥

teṁho kahe, — bāuli, kene maris kāndiyā?
he says crazy woman why are you dying weeping
maruka āmāra tina putra tāṁra bālāi lañā
may they die my three sons His misfortunes taking (upon themselves)

23 He said, “Crazy woman, why weep yourself to death? Let my three sons die, taking His misfortunes upon themselves!”[5]

Anubhāṣya.
Bāulī — bātulī, that is, “madwoman.” Variant reading: bāunī, “brāhmaṇa lady.” Although [Śivānanda's wife] was not a brāhmaṇī by birth, in those days it was proper to address respectable women that way.

Śivānanda is blessed with a kick from Nityānanda's foot —

এত বলি’ প্রভু-পাশে গেলা শিবানন্দ । উঠি’ তাঁরে লাথি মাইলা প্রভু-নিত্যানন্দ ॥ ২৪ ॥

eta bali' prabhu-pāśe gelā śivānanda
thus having said to Prabhu's side went Śivānanda
uṭhi' tāṁre lāthi mailā prabhu-nityānanda rising him a kick gave Prabhu Nityānanda

24 Saying this, Śivānanda went to Nityānanda Prabhu, and the Lord rose and kicked him.

আনন্দিত হৈলা শিবাই পাদপ্রহার পাঞা । শীঘ্র বাসা-ঘর কৈলা গৌড়-ঘরে গিয়া ॥ ২৫ ॥

ānandita hailā śivāi pāda-prahāra pāñā delighted became Śivāi the blow of the foot having received śīghra vāsā-ghara kailā gauḍa-ghare giyā quickly a lodging house he arranged to a cowherd's house having gone

25 Receiving the blow of His foot, Śivānanda was delighted. He quickly went to the house of a cowherd (goyālā) and arranged lodging there.

Anubhāṣya.
Gauḍa-ghare — in the house of a cowherd (goyālā).

Bringing Nityānanda to the house he had chosen, Śivānanda praises Him —

চরণে ধরিয়া প্রভুরে বাসায় লঞা গেলা । বাসা দিয়া হৃষ্ট হঞা কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ২৬ ॥

caraṇe dhariyā prabhure vāsāya lañā gelā
at the feet holding the Lord to the lodging taking went vāsā diyā hṛṣṭa hañā kahite lāgilā
lodging having given delighted becoming to speak began

26 Holding the Lord's feet, he took Him to the lodging. Having given Him a place to stay, he spoke in delight:

The Lord rebukes His servant precisely because He regards him as His own —

"আজি মোরে ভৃত্য করি' অঙ্গীকার কৈলা । যেমন অপরাধ ভৃত্যের, যোগ্য ফল দিলা ॥ ২৭ ॥

āji more bhṛtya kari' aṅgīkāra kailā today me as a servant making acceptance You have made yemana aparādha bhṛtyera, yogya phala dilā
as the offence of the servant fitting result You have given 27 "Today You have accepted me as Your servant and given me the punishment my offence deserved.

Punishment or suffering sent by the Lord is hidden supreme mercy and happiness —

'শাস্তি'-ছলে কৃপা কর, — এ তোমার 'করুণা' । ত্রিজগতে তোমার চরিত্র বুঝে কোন্ জনা ? ॥ ২৮ ॥

'śāsti' chale kṛpā kara, — e tomāra 'karuṇā' punishment in the guise of mercy You show this Your compassion trijagate tomāra caritra bujhe kon janā?
in the three worlds Your ways understands which person

28 In the guise of punishment You show mercy — such is Your compassion. Who in the three worlds can understand Your ways?

Simply by obtaining the dust of the feet of Nityānanda, the Lord of all lords Himself, one attains the goal of life, devotion to Kṛṣṇa —

ব্রহ্মার দুর্ল্লভ তোমার শ্রীচরণ-রেণু । হেন চরণ-স্পর্শ পাইল মোর অধম তনু ॥ ২৯ ॥

brahmāra durlabha tomāra śrī-caraṇa-reṇu
for Brahmā rare Your the dust of the holy feet
hena caraṇa-sparśa pāila mora adhama tanu
such the touch of the feet has obtained my lowly body

29 The dust of Your holy feet is rare even for Brahmā, yet my lowly body has received the touch of such feet.

আজি মোর সফল হৈল জন্ম, কুল, কর্ম্ম । আজি পাইনু কৃষ্ণভক্তি, অর্থ, কাম, ধর্ম্ম ।।” ॥ ৩০ ॥

āji mora saphala haila janma, kula, karma
today my successful became birth family deeds
āji pāinu kṛṣṇa-bhakti, artha, kāma, dharma
today I have obtained devotion to Kṛṣṇa wealth pleasure dharma

30 Today my birth, my family and my deeds have become successful. Today I have obtained devotion to Kṛṣṇa, as well as wealth, pleasure and dharma.”

Hearing His own praise, the Lord rejoices —

শুনি’ নিত্যানন্দপ্রভুর আনন্দিত মন । উঠি’ শিবানন্দে কৈলা প্রেম-আলিঙ্গন ॥ ৩১ ॥

śuni’ nityānanda-prabhura ānandita mana having heard of Nityānanda Prabhu delighted the mind
uṭhi’ śivānande kailā prema-āliṅgana
rising Śivānanda He made an embrace of love

31 Hearing this, Nityānanda Prabhu was delighted at heart. He rose and embraced Śivānanda with love.

আনন্দিত শিবানন্দ করে সমাধান । আচার্য্যাদি-বৈষ্ণবেরে দিলা বাসাস্থান ॥ ৩২ ॥

ānandita śivānanda kare samādhāna delighted Śivānanda makes the arrangements
ācāryādi-vaiṣṇavere dilā vāsā sthāna
to the Ācārya and the other Vaiṣṇavas gave lodging places

32 Delighted, Śivānanda made the arrangements and gave lodgings to Advaita Ācārya and the other Vaiṣṇavas.

The semblance of anger in Nityānanda (the guru) is hidden supreme mercy and a sign of eternal good —

নিত্যানন্দপ্রভুর সব চরিত্র — ‘বিপরীত’ । ক্রুদ্ধ হঞা লাথি মারি’ করে তার হিত ॥ ৩৩ ॥

nityānanda prabhura saba caritra — ‘viparīta’
of Nityānanda Prabhu all the conduct contrary
kruddha hañā lāthi māri’ kare tāra hita angry becoming a kick giving He does his good

33 All of Nityānanda Prabhu's ways are paradoxical: when He becomes angry and kicks someone, He does that person good.[6]

The story of Śrīkānta Sena —

শিবানন্দের ভাগিনা, — শ্রীকান্ত-সেন নাম । মামার অগোচরে কহে করি' অভিমান ॥ ৩৪ ॥

śivānandera bhāginā, — śrīkānta-sena nāma
Śivānanda's nephew Śrīkānta Sena by name
māmāra agocare kahe kari' abhimāna
of his maternal uncle out of sight says taking offence

34 Śivānanda's nephew was named Śrīkānta Sena. Hurt and indignant, he spoke when his uncle was out of hearing:

Seeing Nityānanda kick his uncle, Śrīkānta is upset, goes alone to Purī and sees the Lord —

"চৈতন্যের পারিষদ মোর মাতুলের খ্যাতি ।
'ঠাকুরালী' করেন গোসাঞি, তাঁরে মারে লাথি" ॥ ৩৫ ॥

caitanyera pāriṣada mora mātulera khyāti
of Caitanya an associate my maternal uncle's fame
'ṭhākurālī' karena gosāñi, tāṁre māre lāthi
lordliness shows Gosāñi him He kicks

35 "My uncle is known as an associate of Caitanya, yet Gosāñi lords it over him and kicks him."

এত বলি' শ্রীকান্ত-বালক আগে চলি' যান । সঙ্গ ছাড়ি' আগে গেলা মহাপ্রভুর স্থান ॥ ৩৬ ॥

eta bali' śrīkānta-bālaka āge cali' yāna
thus having said Śrīkānta the boy ahead going goes saṅga chāḍi' āge gelā mahāprabhura sthāna
the company leaving ahead went to Mahāprabhu's place

36 Saying this, the boy Śrīkānta hurried on ahead; leaving the party, he went to where Mahāprabhu was.

Govinda instructs Śrīkānta in the rules of reverence toward the Lord's form —

পেটাঙ্গি-গায় করে দণ্ডবৎ-নমস্কার । গোবিন্দ কহে, — 'শ্রীকান্ত, আগে পেটাঙ্গি উতার' ॥ ৩৭ ॥

peṭāṅgi-gāya kare daṇḍavat-namaskāra
with a shirt on the body he makes prostrate obeisance
govinda kahe, — śrīkānta, āge peṭāṅgi utāra Govinda says Śrīkānta first the shirt take off

37 Still wearing his shirt (peṭāṅgi), he offered prostrate obeisances. Govinda said, "Śrīkānta, first take off your shirt."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Peṭāṅgi — a shirt (aṅgarākhā), a jacket.

Anubhāṣya.
The Tantras say: "A man who bows down to Hari with his body covered by cloth, O lovely one, is a fool, and for seven births he will suffer from white leprosy."

The Lord, who knows all hearts, reveals what is on Śrīkānta's mind —

প্রভু কহে, — “শ্রীকান্ত আস্যাছে পাঞা মনোদুঃখ । কিছু না বলিহ, করুক, যাতে ইহার সুখ ।।” ॥ ৩৮ ॥

prabhu kahe, — śrīkānta āsyāche pāñā mano-duḥkha
the Lord says Śrīkānta has come having got sorrow of mind
kichu nā baliha, karuka, yāte ihāra sukha
anything not say let him do whatever his happiness

38 The Lord said, “Śrīkānta has come here with a sorrowful heart. Say nothing to him; let him do as he pleases.”

The Lord asks for news of the Bengali devotees, and Śrīkānta answers —

বৈষ্ণবের সমাচার গোসাঞি পুছিলা । একে একে সবার নাম শ্রীকান্ত জানাইলা ॥ ৩৯ ॥

vaiṣṇavera samācāra gosāñi puchilā
of the Vaiṣṇavas the news Gosāñi asked eke eke sabāra nāma śrīkānta jānāilā
one by one of all the names Śrīkānta made known

39 The Lord asked for news of the Vaiṣṇavas, and Śrīkānta told Him about each of them by name.

‘দুঃখ পাঞা আসিয়াছে,’ এই প্রভুর বাক্য শুনি’ । জানিলা ‘সর্ব্বজ্ঞ প্রভু’ এত অনুমানি’ ॥ ৪০ ॥

duḥkha pāñā āsiyāche, ei prabhura vākya śuni’ sorrow having got he has come this the Lord’s statement hearing jānilā ‘sarvajña prabhu’ eta anumāni’
he knew omniscient the Lord thus inferring

40 Hearing the Lord say, “He has come here sorrowful,” Śrīkānta concluded that the Lord is omniscient.

Realizing that the Lord knows his mind and dwells within the heart, Śrīkānta keeps silent about the kick —

শিবানন্দে লাথি মারিলা, — ইহা না কহিলা । এথা সব বৈষ্ণবগণ আসিয়া মিলিলা ॥ ৪১ ॥

śivānande lāthi mārilā, — ihā nā kahilā Śivānanda He kicked this not he told ethā saba vaiṣṇava-gaṇa āsiyā mililā
here all the Vaiṣṇavas coming met (Him)

41 He did not tell the Lord that Nityānanda had kicked Śivānanda. Meanwhile all the Vaiṣṇavas arrived and met the Lord.

The Bengali devotees arrive; the women see the Lord from a distance —

পূর্ব্ববৎ প্রভু কৈলা সবার মিলন । স্ত্রী-সব দূর হইতে কৈলা প্রভুর দরশন ॥ ৪২ ॥

pūrvavat prabhu kailā sabāra milana
as before the Lord made with all the meeting
strī-saba dūra haite kailā prabhura daraśana
the women from afar made of the Lord the sight (darśana)

42 As before, the Lord met with everyone, and the women had His darśana from a distance.

Everyone is given lodging —

বাসা-ঘর পূর্ব্ববৎ সবারে দেওয়াইলা । মহাপ্রসাদ-ভোজনে সবারে বোলাইলা ॥ ৪৩ ॥

vāsā-ghara pūrvavat sabāre deoyāilā lodging houses as before to all He had given mahāprasāda-bhojane sabāre bolāilā
to the eating of mahā-prasāda all He called

43 As before, He had lodgings given to everyone, and He called them all to take mahā-prasāda.

The Lord's mercy to Śivānanda and his sons —

শিবানন্দ তিনপুত্রে গোসাঞিরে মিলাইলা । শিবানন্দ-সম্বন্ধে সবায় বহুকৃপা কৈলা ॥ ৪৪ ॥

śivānanda tina-putre gosāñire milāilā Śivānanda the three sons to Gosāñi introduced śivānanda-sambandhe sabāya bahu-kṛpā kailā on account of the relation with Śivānanda to all great mercy He showed 44 Śivānanda introduced his three sons to the Lord, and for Śivānanda's sake the Lord showed great mercy to them all.

In answer to His question, the Lord hears that the youngest son is called Paramānanda-purī-dāsa —

ছোটপুত্রে দেখি' প্রভু নাম পুছিলা ।
'পরমানন্দদাস'-নাম সেন জানাইলা ॥ ৪৫ ॥

choṭa-putre dekhi' prabhu nāma puchilā
the youngest son seeing the Lord the name asked
'paramānanda dāsa' nāma sena jānāilā
Paramānanda dāsa the name Sena made known

45 Seeing the youngest son, the Lord asked his name, and Śivānanda Sena told Him it was Paramānanda dāsa.

How the name Paramānanda-purī-dāsa first came about; the child is named by the Lord's order —

পূর্ব্বে যবে শিবানন্দ প্রভুস্থানে আইলা । তবে মহাপ্রভু তাঁরে কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৪৬ ॥

"এবার তোমার যেই হইবে কুমার ।
'পুরীদাস' বলি' নাম ধরিহ তাহার ॥ ৪৭ ॥

pūrve yabe śivānanda prabhu-sthāne āilā before when Śivānanda to the Lord's place came tabe mahāprabhu tāṁre kahite lāgilā
then Mahāprabhu to him to speak began
e-bāra tomāra yei haibe kumāra
this time your that which will be son
'purī-dāsa' bali' nāma dhariha tāhāra
Purīdāsa as the name give of him

46–47 Earlier, when Śivānanda had come to the Lord, Mahāprabhu had said to him, "The son who will be born to you this time — name him Purīdāsa."

তবে মায়ের গর্ভে হয় সেই ত' কুমার । শিবানন্দ ঘরে গেল, জন্ম হৈল তার ॥ ৪৮ ॥

tabe māyera garbhe haya sei ta' kumāra
then of the mother in the womb is that indeed son śivānanda ghare gela, janma haila tāra Śivānanda home went birth took place his

48 That son was then in his mother's womb. Śivānanda went home, and the child was born.

প্রভু-আজ্ঞায় ধরিলা নাম — 'পরমানন্দ-দাস' ।
'পুরীদাস' করি' প্রভু করেন উপহাস ॥ ৪৯ ॥

prabhu-ājñāya dharilā nāma — 'paramānanda dāsa'
by the Lord's order they gave the name Paramānanda dāsa
'purī-dāsa' kari' prabhu karena upahāsa
Purīdāsa calling (him) the Lord makes jest

49 By the Lord's order they named him Paramānanda dāsa, and the Lord jokingly called him Purīdāsa.

Paramānanda (Purī) dāsa sucks the Lord's big toe —

শিবানন্দ যবে সেই বালকে মিলাইলা । মহাপ্রভু পাদাঙ্গুষ্ঠ তার মুখে দিলা ॥ ৫০ ॥

śivānanda yabe sei bālake milāilā Śivānanda when that child introduced mahāprabhu pādāṅguṣṭha tāra mukhe dilā Mahāprabhu His big toe his in the mouth placed

50 When Śivānanda presented that child, Mahāprabhu placed His big toe in the boy's mouth.

Anubhāṣya.
Later he came to Purī with his father. The Lord tried at length to get him to utter the name of Kṛṣṇa, and in the end the boy composed a verse about Kṛṣṇa's pastimes — see Antya 16.65–75.

Śivānanda's supreme good fortune —

শিবানন্দের ভাগ্যসিন্ধু কে পাইবে পার ? । যাঁর সব গোষ্ঠীকে প্রভু কহে 'আপনার' ॥ ৫১ ॥

śivānandera bhāgya-sindhu ke pāibe pāra?
of Śivānanda the ocean of good fortune who will reach the shore yāṁra saba goṣṭhīke prabhu kahe 'āpanāra'
whose all family the Lord calls His own

51 Śivānanda's good fortune is an ocean — who can reach its farther shore? The Lord calls his whole family His own.

তবে সব ভক্ত লঞা করিলা ভোজন । গোবিন্দেরে আজ্ঞা দিলা করি' আচমন ॥ ৫২ ॥

tabe saba bhakta lañā karilā bhojana
then all the devotees taking He took the meal
govindere ājñā dilā kari' ācamana
to Govinda an order He gave having rinsed (His mouth)

52 Then the Lord took His meal with all the devotees. After rinsing His mouth and hands, He gave Govinda an order:

Regarding Śivānanda and all his family as His own, the Lord shows them mercy directly —

শিবানন্দের ‘প্রকৃতি’, পুত্র — যাবৎ এথায় । আমার অবশেষ-পাত্র তারা যেন পায় ।।” ॥ ৫৩ ॥

śivānandera ‘prakṛti’, putra — yāvat ethāya Śivānanda’s wife sons as long as here
āmāra avaśeṣa-pātra tārā yena pāya
My plate of remnants they should receive

53 “As long as Śivānanda’s wife and sons are here, they should receive the plate of My remnants.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śivānandera prakṛti — Śivānanda's wife.

*The story of Parameśvara the confectioner (modaka), a resident of Śrī Māyāpura —*

নদীয়া-বাসী মোদক, তার নাম — ‘পরমেশ্বর’ । মোদক বেচে, প্রভুর বাটীর নিকট তার ঘর ॥ ৫৪ ॥

nadīyā-vāsī modaka, tāra nāma — ‘parameśvara’
a resident of Nadīyā a confectioner his name Parameśvara
modaka vece, prabhura vāṭīra nikaṭa tāra ghara sweets he sells of the Lord’s house near his home

54 There was a confectioner (modaka), a resident of Nadīyā, named Parameśvara. He sold sweets, and his home was near the Lord’s house.

The Lord's childhood pastimes and Parameśvara —

বালক-কালে প্রভু তার ঘরে বারবার যা’ন । দুগ্ধ, খণ্ড মোদক দেয়, প্রভু তাহা খা’ন ॥ ৫৫ ॥

bālaka-kāle prabhu tāra ghare bāra bāra yāna in childhood the Lord his to the house again and again goes dugdha khaṇḍa modaka deya, prabhu tāhā khāna
milk sugar sweets he gives the Lord that eats

55 In His childhood the Lord would go to his house again and again, and Parameśvara would give Him milk, sugar and sweets, which He ate.

প্রভু-বিষয়ে স্নেহ তার বালক-কাল হৈতে । সে বৎসর সে আইল প্রভুরে দেখিতে ॥ ৫৬ ॥

prabhu-viṣaye sneha tāra bālaka-kāla haite
for the Lord affection his from childhood
se vatsara se āila prabhure dekhite that year he came the Lord to see

56 He had loved the Lord ever since His childhood, and that year he came to see Him.

Parameśvara introduces himself, bows down and announces that his wife has come —

‘পরমেশ্বর্য্যা মুঞি, বলি’ দণ্ডবৎ কৈল । তারে দেখি’ প্রভু প্রীতে তাহারে পুছিল ॥ ৫৭ ॥

parameśvaryā muñi, bali’ daṇḍavat kaila Parameśvaryā I saying prostrated himself he did tāre dekhi’ prabhu prīte tāhāre puchila him seeing the Lord with affection him asked

57 Saying, “I am Parameśvaryā,” he offered prostrate obeisances. Seeing him, the Lord spoke to him with affection:[7]

‘পরমেশ্বর কুশল হও, ভাল হৈল, আইলা’ । ‘মুকুন্দার মাতা আসিয়াছে’ প্রভুরে কহিলা ॥ ৫৮ ॥

parameśvara kuśala hao, bhāla haila, āilā Parameśvara well be good it is you have come mukundāra mātā āsiyāche, prabhure kahilā
Mukunda’s mother has come to the Lord he said

58 “Parameśvara, may you be well! It is good that you have come.” Then he told the Lord, “Mukunda’s mother has come.”[8]

*The Lord — the guru of the world and teacher of mankind, who was enacting the pastime of a sannyāsī — is embarrassed to hear a woman's name, though she was old and like a mother —*

মুকুন্দার মাতার নাম শুনি’ প্রভু সঙ্কোচ হৈলা । তথাপি তাহার প্রীতে কিছু না বলিলা ॥ ৫৯ ॥

mukundāra mātāra nāma śuni’ prabhu saṅkoca hailā of Mukunda’s mother the name hearing the Lord embarrassed became tathāpi tāhāra prīte kichu nā balilā
yet his out of affection anything not He said

59 Hearing the name of Mukunda’s mother, the Lord felt embarrassed, yet out of affection for him He said nothing.

In his simple affection Parameśvara lacks outward courtesy, that is, any sense of outer propriety; yet the Lord, who accepts the heart's feeling, is pleased with his guilelessness —

প্রশ্রয়-প্রাগল্ভ্য শুদ্ধ-বৈদগ্ধী না জানে । অন্তরে সুখী হৈলা প্রভু তার সেই গুণে ॥ ৬০ ॥

praśraya-prāgalbhya śuddha-vaidagdhī nā jāne
the boldness of loving familiarity pure courtesy not knows antare sukhī hailā prabhu tāra sei guṇe
within pleased became the Lord his that quality

60 The boldness born of loving familiarity knows nothing of the niceties of courtesy. Within His heart the Lord was pleased with that quality of his.[9]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

To say to a sannyāsī, “Mukunda's mother has come,” is nothing but the boldness born of long familiarity (pūrva-praśraya-prāgalbhya). The boldness of familiarity (praśraya-prāgalbhya) never knows pure courtesy (śuddha-vaidagdhī), that is, the pure art of speech.

Anubhāṣya.

Variant reading: praśraya pāgala śuddha-vaidagdhī nā jāne. Praśraya means affection, affectionate respect, humility, trust, fond insistence (ābdār). Prāgalbhya means boldness, arrogance, spirit. Vaidagdhī means cleverness, refined taste, grace, skill, learning, artfulness, a cultivated manner.

Cleaning the Guṇḍicā temple and dancing before the chariot —

পূর্ব্ববৎ সবা লঞা গুণ্ডিচা-মার্জ্জন । রথ-আগে পূর্ব্ববৎ করিলা নর্ত্তন ॥ ৬১ ॥

pūrvavat sabā lañā guṇḍicā-mārjana
as before all taking the cleansing of Guṇḍicā
ratha-āge pūrvavat karilā nartana
before the chariot as before He danced

61 As before, the Lord cleansed the Guṇḍicā temple with everyone, and as before He danced in front of the chariot.

Having seen the Lord's [Jagannātha's] festivals, Śrīvāsa's wife feeds the Lord —

চাতুর্ম্মাস্য সব যাত্রা কৈলা দরশন । মালিনী প্রভৃতি প্রভুরে কৈলা নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ৬২ ॥

cāturmāsya saba yātrā kailā daraśana
of the Cāturmāsya all the festivals they had the sight
mālinī prabhṛti prabhure kailā nimantraṇa
Mālinī and others the Lord invited

62 During the four months of Cāturmāsya they saw all the festivals, and Mālinī and the other ladies invited the Lord for meals.

প্রভুর প্রিয় নানা দ্রব্য আনিয়াছে দেশ হৈতে । সেই ব্যঞ্জন করি' ভিক্ষা দেন ঘর-ভাতে ॥ ৬৩ ॥

prabhura priya nānā dravya āniyāche deśa haite to the Lord dear various foodstuffs they had brought the homeland from sei vyañjana kari' bhikṣā dena ghara-bhāte
those vegetable dishes making offering give with home-cooked rice

63 They had brought from home various foodstuffs dear to the Lord. Making vegetable dishes with them, they offered Him meals of home-cooked rice.

*By day, saṅkīrtana with His devotees; by night, in solitude, separation from Kṛṣṇa —*

দিনে নানা ক্রীড়া করে লঞা ভক্তগণ । রাত্র্যে কৃষ্ণ-বিচ্ছেদে প্রভু করেন রোদন ॥ ৬৪ ॥

dine nānā krīḍā kare lañā bhakta-gaṇa
by day various pastimes He does taking the devotees
rātrye kṛṣṇa-vicchede prabhu karena rodana
at night in separation from Kṛṣṇa the Lord does weeping

64 By day the Lord enjoyed various pastimes with the devotees; at night He wept in separation from Kṛṣṇa.

*At the end of cāturmāsya, before the devotees return to Gauḍa, the Lord speaks to them —*

এইমত নানা-লীলায় চাতুর্ম্মাস্য গেল । গৌড়দেশে যাইতে তবে ভক্তে আজ্ঞা দিল ॥ ৬৫ ॥

ei-mata nānā-līlāya cāturmāsya gela
in this way in various pastimes the Cāturmāsya passed gauḍa-deśe yāite tabe bhakte ājñā dila to the land of Gauḍa to go then to the devotees an order He gave 65 In this way the four months of Cāturmāsya passed in various pastimes. Then the Lord ordered the devotees to return to the land of Gauḍa.

সব ভক্ত করেন মহাপ্রভুর নিমন্ত্রণ । সর্ব্বভক্তে কহেন প্রভু মধুর বচন ॥ ৬৬ ॥

saba bhakta karena mahāprabhura nimantraṇa
all the devotees make of Mahāprabhu invitation sarva-bhakte kahena prabhu madhura vacana
to all the devotees speaks the Lord sweet words

66 All the devotees invited Mahāprabhu for meals, and the Lord spoke sweet words to all of them:

The devotees' suffering is Bhagavān's suffering —

“প্রতিবর্ষে আইস সবে আমারে দেখিতে । আসিতে যাইতে দুঃখ পাও বহুমতে ॥ ৬৭ ॥

prati-varṣe āisa sabe āmāre dekhite every year you come all Me to see āsite yāite duḥkha pāo bahu-mate
in coming in going hardship you suffer in many ways

67 “Every year you all come to see Me, and in coming and going you suffer hardships of many kinds.

Because of the devotees' hardships the Lord forbids them to come to see Him — and yet He longs for their company —

তোমা-সবার দুঃখ জানি’ চাহি নিষেধিতে । তোমা-সবার সঙ্গসুখে লোভ বাড়ে চিত্তে ॥ ৬৮ ॥

tomā-sabāra duḥkha jāni’ cāhi niṣedhite
of you all the hardship knowing I want to forbid
tomā-sabāra saṅga-sukhe lobha bāḍe citte of you all in the happiness of company greed grows in the heart

68 Knowing your hardships, I want to forbid you to come. But in My heart the longing for the joy of your company keeps growing.

Bhagavān glorifies the virtues of His devotees —

নিত্যানন্দে আজ্ঞা দিলুঁ গৌড়েতে রহিতে । আজ্ঞা লঙ্ঘি’ আইলা, কি পারি বলিতে ? ॥ ৬৯ ॥

nityānande ājñā dilūṁ gauḍete rahite
to Nityānanda an order I gave in Gauḍa to remain ājñā laṅghi’ āilā, ki pāri balite?
the order transgressing He came what can I say

69 I ordered Nityānanda to remain in Gauḍa, yet He has broken My order and come. What can I say?

আইলেন আচার্য্য-গোসাঞি মোরে কৃপা করি’ । প্রেম-ঋণে বদ্ধ আমি, শুধিতে না পারি ॥ ৭০ ॥

āilena ācārya-gosāñi more kṛpā kari'
has come Ācārya Gosāñi to Me mercy showing prema-ṛṇe baddha āmi, śudhite nā pāri by the debt of love bound I to repay not can

70 Ācārya Gosāñi has come here, showing Me mercy. I am bound by a debt of love that I can never repay.

মোর লাগি' স্ত্রী-পুত্র-গৃহাদি ছাড়িয়া । নানা দুর্গম পথ লঙ্ঘি' আইসেন ধাঞা ॥ ৭১ ॥

mora lāgi' strī-putra-gṛhādi chāḍiyā
Me for the sake of wife sons home and so on leaving nānā durgama patha laṅghi' āisena dhāñā
many difficult roads crossing they come running

71 For My sake they leave wife, sons and home, and come running over many difficult roads.

Comparing it with the devotees' love for Him, the Lord humbly calls Himself lacking in love for them —

আমি এই নীলাচলে রহি যে বসিয়া । পরিশ্রম নাহি মোর সবার লাগিয়া ॥ ৭২ ॥

āmi ei nīlācale rahi ye vasiyā
I this in Nīlācala stay indeed sitting pariśrama nāhi mora sabāra lāgiyā labor there is not My of all for the sake of 72 And I simply stay here, sitting in Nīlācala; I take no trouble for any of you.

The Lord's unpayable debt to His devotees —

সন্ন্যাসী মানুষ মোর, নাহি কোন ধন । কি দিয়া তোমার ঋণ করিমু শোধন ? ॥ ৭৩ ॥

sannyāsī mānuṣa mora, nāhi kona dhana
a sannyāsī person I there is not any wealth ki diyā tomāra ṛṇa karimu śodhana?
what giving your debt shall I repay

73 I am a sannyāsī; I have no wealth at all. With what shall I repay My debt to you?

The Lord names a way to repay the debt —

দেহমাত্র ধন তোমায় কৈলুঁ সমর্পণ । তাঁহা বিকাই, যাঁহা বেচিতে তোমার মন ।।" ॥ ৭৪ ॥

deha-mātra dhana tomāya kailūṁ samarpaṇa
the body alone wealth to you I have offered tāṁhā vikāi, yāṁhā vecite tomāra mana there I am sold where to sell your mind (wish)

74 My body is My only wealth, and I have offered it to you. Wherever you wish to sell Me, there I am sold."

Hearing Bhagavān's humble lament, the devotees weep —

প্রভুর বচনে সবার প্রীত হৈল মন । অঝোর নয়নে সবে করেন ক্রন্দন ॥ ৭৫ ॥

prabhura vacane sabāra prīta haila mana
by the Lord's words of all pleased became the minds
ajhora nayane sabe karena krandana streaming with eyes all do weeping

75 Everyone's heart was gladdened by the Lord's words, and they all wept, tears streaming from their eyes.

Bhagavān embraces the devotees —

প্রভু সবার গলা ধরি' করেন রোদন । কান্দিতে কান্দিতে সবায় কৈলা আলিঙ্গন ॥ ৭৬ ॥

prabhu sabāra galā dhari' karena rodana
the Lord of all the necks holding does weeping kāndite kāndite sabāya kailā āliṅgana weeping weeping all He embraced

76 The Lord wept with His arms around each one's neck; weeping and weeping, He embraced them all.

Weighed down by the grief of separation, everyone delays leaving —

সবাই রহিল, কেহ চলিতে নারিল । আর দিন পাঁচ সাত এইমতে গেল ॥ ৭৭ ॥

sabāi rahila, keha calite nārila
all remained anyone to go could not āra dina pāṁca sāta ei-mate gela
more days five seven in this way passed

77 Everyone stayed on; no one could leave. Five or seven more days passed in this way.

*Nityānanda and Advaita speak of the Lord's affection (vātsalya) for His devotees —*

অদ্বৈত-অবধূত কিছু কহে প্রভু-পায় ।
"সহজে তোমার গুণে জগৎ বিকায় ॥ ৭৮ ॥

advaita-avadhūta kichu kahe prabhu-pāya Advaita Avadhūta something say at the Lord's feet
sahaje tomāra guṇe jagat vikāya
naturally (as it is) by Your qualities the world is sold

78 Then Advaita and the Avadhūta Nityānanda spoke a few words at the Lord's feet: "By Your qualities alone the whole world is already sold to You.[10]

The devotees are bound by Bhagavān's affectionate love —

আবার তাতে বান্ধ' — ঐছে কৃপা-বাক্য-ডোরে । তোমা ছাড়ি' কেবা কাঁহা যাইবারে পারে ?" ॥ ৭৯ ॥

ābāra tāte bāndha' — aiche kṛpā-vākya-ḍore again moreover You bind with such of merciful words a rope tomā chāḍi' kebā kāṁhā yāibāre pāre?
You leaving who where to go can

79 And now You bind us once more with such a rope of merciful words! Who could leave You and go anywhere?"

The Lord consoles everyone and bids them farewell —

তবে প্রভু সবাকারে প্রবোধ করিয়া । সবারে বিদায় দিলা সুস্থির হঞা ॥ ৮০ ॥

tabe prabhu sabākāre prabodha kariyā
then the Lord all consoling
sabāre vidāya dilā susthira hañā to all farewell gave composed becoming

80 Then the Lord consoled them all and, composing Himself, bade everyone farewell.

The Lord's instruction to Nityānanda —

নিত্যানন্দে কহিলা — “তুমি না আসিহ বারবার । তথাই আমার সঙ্গ হইবে তোমার ।।” ॥ ৮১ ॥

nityānande kahilā — tumi nā āsiha bāra bāra
to Nityānanda He said You not come again and again
tathāi āmāra saṅga haibe tomāra
right there My company will be Yours

81 To Nityānanda He said, “Do not come here again and again. You will have My company right there.”

The devotee and Bhagavān are bound by mutual love; in separation both grieve —

চলে সব ভক্তগণ রোদন করিয়া । মহাপ্রভু রহিলা ঘরে বিষণ্ণ হঞা ॥ ৮২ ॥

cale saba bhakta-gaṇa rodana kariyā go all the devotees weeping doing mahāprabhu rahilā ghare viṣaṇṇa hañā Mahāprabhu remained at home sorrowful becoming

82 All the devotees set off weeping, and Mahāprabhu remained at home, sorrowful.

Even the debt of Bhagavān's affection is beyond any devotee's power to repay —

নিজ-কৃপাগুণে প্রভু বান্ধিলা সবারে । মহাপ্রভুর কৃপা-ঋণ কে শোধিতে পারে ? ॥ ৮৩ ॥

nija-kṛpā-guṇe prabhu bāndhilā sabāre
by His own mercy cords (quality) the Lord bound all mahāprabhura kṛpā-ṛṇa ke śodhite pāre?
of Mahāprabhu the mercy-debt who to repay can

83 With the cords of His own mercy the Lord bound them all. Who could ever repay the debt of Mahāprabhu’s kindness?[11]

The Lord, the Lord of all lords, is the one who leads; the devotee is the one who is led —

যারে যৈছে নাচায় প্রভু স্বতন্ত্র ঈশ্বর । তাতে তাঁরে ছাড়ি’ লোক যায় দেশান্তর ॥ ৮৪ ॥

yāre yaiche nācāya prabhu svatantra īśvara whom as makes dance the Lord independent Supreme Lord
tāte tāṁre chāḍi’ loka yāya deśāntara
therefore Him leaving people go to other lands

84 The Lord is the supreme and independent Controller; He makes each one dance as He wills. And so people leave Him and go away to their own lands.

কাষ্ঠের পুতলী যেন কুহকে নাচায় । ঈশ্বর-চরিত্র কিছু বুঝন না যায় ॥ ৮৫ ॥

kāṣṭhera putalī yena kuhake nācāya
of wood a puppet as the conjurer makes dance
īśvara-caritra kichu bujhana nā yāya
the Lord's ways even a little understanding not is possible

85 He makes them dance as a conjurer makes a wooden puppet dance; the ways of the Lord cannot be understood at all.

Jagadānanda comes to Śacī in Navadvīpa, bows down, and gives her what the Lord sent —

পূর্ব্ববর্ষে জগদানন্দ 'আই' দেখিবারে । প্রভু-আজ্ঞা লঞা আইলা নদীয়া-নগরে ॥ ৮৬ ॥

pūrva-varṣe jagadānanda 'āi' dekhibāre in the previous year Jagadānanda Āi (Śacī) to see prabhu-ājñā lañā āilā nadīyā-nagare
the Lord's order taking came to Nadīyā town

86 The year before, Jagadānanda had gone at the Lord's bidding to the town of Nadīyā to see Āi, mother Śacī.

আইর চরণ যাই' করিলা বন্দন । জগন্নাথের বস্ত্র-প্রসাদ কৈলা নিবেদন ॥ ৮৭ ॥

āira caraṇa yāi' karilā vandana Āi's feet going did worship
jagannāthera vastra-prasāda kailā nivedana
of Jagannātha the cloth prasāda offered presentation

87 He went and paid homage at Āi's feet and presented her with Jagannātha's cloth and prasāda.

প্রভুর নামে মাতারে দণ্ডবৎ কৈলা । প্রভুর বিনতি-স্তুতি মাতারে কহিলা ॥ ৮৮ ॥

prabhura nāme mātāre daṇḍavat kailā
the Lord's in the name to the mother obeisance he offered prabhura vinati-stuti mātāre kahilā
the Lord's humble praises to the mother told

88 In the Lord's name he offered her obeisances and conveyed to her the Lord's humble words of praise.

Śacī hears from Jagadānanda about her son —

জগদানন্দে পাঞা মাতা আনন্দিত মনে । তেঁহো প্রভুর কথা কহে, শুনে রাত্রি-দিনে ॥ ৮৯ ॥

jagadānande pāñā mātā ānandita mane Jagadānanda getting the mother joyful at heart
teṁho prabhura kathā kahe, śune rātri-dine
he of the Lord talks tells she hears night and day

89 Śacī rejoiced to have Jagadānanda with her. He spoke of the Lord, and she listened night and day.

Jagadānanda tells Śacī that from time to time the Lord joyfully eats the food His mother cooks —

জগদানন্দ কহে, — “মাতা, কোন কোন দিনে । তোমার এথা আসি’ প্রভু করেন ভোজনে ॥ ৯০ ॥

jagadānanda kahe, — mātā, kona kona dine Jagadānanda says mother on certain certain days
tomāra ethā āsi’ prabhu karena bhojane
your here coming the Lord does eating

90 Jagadānanda said, “Mother, some days the Lord comes here to you and eats.

ভোজন করিয়া কহে আনন্দিত হঞা । মাতা আজি খাওয়াইলা আকণ্ঠ পূরিয়া ॥ ৯১ ॥

bhojana kariyā kahe ānandita hañā eating having done He says joyful becoming mātā āji khāoyāilā ākaṇṭha pūriyā mother today fed to the throat filling

91 After eating, He says joyfully, ‘Today Mother fed Me till I was full to the throat.

In the fullness of her motherly love Śacī takes the Lord's eating before her very eyes for a dream —

আমি যাই’ ভোজন করি, মাতা নাহি জানে । সাক্ষাতে খাই আমি তেঁহো ‘স্বপ্ন’ হেন মানে ।।” ॥ ৯২ ॥

āmi yāi’ bhojana kari, mātā nāhi jāne
I going eating do mother not knows sākṣāte khāi āmi teṁho ‘svapna’ hena māne
in person eat I she a dream as considers

92 I go there and eat, and Mother does not know it. I really do eat there, but she takes it for a dream.’”[12]

Śacī's words, full of the highest motherly love —

মাতা কহে, — “কত রান্ধি উত্তম ব্যঞ্জন । নিমাঞি ইঁহা খায়, — ইচ্ছা হয় মোর মন ॥ ৯৩ ॥

mātā kahe, — kata rāndhi uttama vyañjana
the mother says how many I cook excellent dishes
nimāñi iṁhā khāya, — icchā haya mora mana Nimāi here may eat desire is my mind

93 Mother Śacī said, “I cook so many fine dishes, longing in my heart for Nimāi to eat them here.

নিমাঞি খাঞাছে, — ঐছে হয় মোর মন ।
পাছে জ্ঞান হয় — মুঞি দেখিনু ‘স্বপন’ ।।” ॥ ৯৪ ॥

nimāñi khāñāche, — aiche haya mora mana Nimāi has eaten such is my mind
pāche jñāna haya — muñi dekhinu ‘svapana’
afterwards awareness comes I saw a dream

94 Then it seems to me that Nimāi has eaten them, but afterwards I think I must have been dreaming.”

Śacīmātā, the Bengali devotees and the Paṇḍita spend their days in great joy talking of Caitanya —

এইমত জগদানন্দ শচীমাতা-সনে । চৈতন্যের সুখ-কথা কহে রাত্রি-দিনে ॥ ৯৫ ॥

ei-mata jagadānanda śacīmātā-sane
in this way Jagadānanda with mother Śacī caitanyera sukha-kathā kahe rātri-dine of Caitanya happy talks tells night and day

95 In this way Jagadānanda spent his days and nights with mother Śacī, telling her joyful news of Caitanya.

নদীয়ার ভক্তগণে সবারে মিলিলা । জগদানন্দে পাঞা সবে আনন্দিত হৈলা ॥ ৯৬ ॥

nadīyāra bhakta-gaṇe sabāre mililā
of Nadīyā the devotees with all he met jagadānande pāñā sabe ānandita hailā Jagadānanda getting all joyful became

96 He met all the devotees of Nadīyā, and every one of them rejoiced to have Jagadānanda there.

আচার্য্য মিলিতে তবে গেলা জগদানন্দ । জগদানন্দে পাঞা হৈলা আচার্য্য আনন্দ ॥ ৯৭ ॥

ācārya milite tabe gelā jagadānanda
the Ācārya to meet then went Jagadānanda
jagadānande pāñā hailā ācārya ānanda
Jagadānanda getting became the Ācārya joyful

97 Then Jagadānanda went to meet Advaita Ācārya, who was overjoyed to see him.

বাসুদেব, মুরারি-গুপ্ত জগদানন্দে পাঞা । আনন্দে রাখিলা ঘরে, না দেন ছাড়িয়া ॥ ৯৮ ॥

vāsudeva, murāri-gupta jagadānande pāñā Vāsudeva, Murāri Gupta Jagadānanda getting ānande rākhilā ghare, nā dena chāḍiyā joyfully kept at home not let go

98 Vāsudeva and Murāri Gupta were delighted to have Jagadānanda; they kept him in their homes and would not let him go.

Hearing about Caitanya from Jagadānanda, everyone forgets himself —

চৈতন্যের মর্ম্মকথা শুনে তাঁর মুখে । আপনা পাসরে সবে চৈতন্য-কথা-সুখে ॥ ৯৯ ॥

caitanyera marma-kathā śune tāṁra mukhe
of Caitanya intimate talks they hear from his mouth
āpanā pāsare sabe caitanya-kathā-sukhe themselves forget all in the joy of talks about Caitanya

99 From his lips they heard the most intimate stories of Caitanya, and in the joy of those stories they all forgot themselves.

জগদানন্দ মিলিতে যায় যেই ভক্ত-ঘরে । সেই সেই ভক্ত সুখে আপনা পাসরে ॥ ১০০ ॥

jagadānanda milite yāya yei bhakta-ghare Jagadānanda to meet goes whichever devotee's house
sei sei bhakta sukhe āpanā pāsare
that very devotee in joy himself forgets

100 Whenever Jagadānanda visited a devotee's home, that devotee forgot himself in joy.

Jagadānanda's virtues —

চৈতন্যের প্রেমপাত্র জগদানন্দ ধন্য । যারে মিলে, সেই মানে, — 'পাইলুঁ চৈতন্য' ॥ ১০১ ॥

caitanyera prema-pātra jagadānanda dhanya of Caitanya the object of love Jagadānanda blessed
yāre mile, sei māne, — 'pāilūṁ caitanya'
whom he meets he thinks I have found Caitanya

101 Blessed is Jagadānanda, the beloved of Caitanya! Whoever met him felt, "I have found Caitanya."

Jagadānanda obtains sandalwood oil in Kāñcanapallī, goes to Purī and gives it to Govinda for the Lord's use —

শিবানন্দসেন-গৃহে যাঞা রহিলা ।
'চন্দনাদি' তৈল তাঁহা একমাত্রা কৈলা ॥ ১০২ ॥

śivānanda-sena-gṛhe yāñā rahilā
in Śivānanda Sena's house going he stayed
'candanādi' taila tāṁhā eka-mātrā kailā
candanādi oil there one mātrā made

102 He went to stay in Śivānanda Sena's house, and there he prepared one measure of candanādi oil, sandalwood oil with other fragrant ingredients.[13]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Ekamātrā — sixteen sers.

সুগন্ধি করিয়া তৈল গাগরী ভরিয়া । নীলাচলে লঞা আইলা যতন করিয়া ॥ ১০৩ ॥

sugandhi kariyā taila gāgarī bhariyā fragrant making the oil a large pitcher (gāgarī) filling nīlācale lañā āilā yatana kariyā to Nīlācala taking came care taking 103 He made the oil fragrant, filled a large pitcher with it and brought it carefully to Nīlācala.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Gāgarī — a pitcher (kalasī).

গোবিন্দের ঠাঞি তৈল ধরিয়া রাখিলা ।
"প্রভু-অঙ্গে দিহ' তৈল" গোবিন্দে কহিলা ॥ ১০৪ ॥

govindera ṭhāñi taila dhariyā rākhilā with Govinda the oil placing he kept prabhu-aṅge diha' taila govinde kahilā
on the Lord's body apply the oil to Govinda he said

104 He left the oil with Govinda and told him, "Apply this oil to the Lord's body."

Govinda tells the Lord of Jagadānanda's wish —

তবে প্রভু-ঠাঞি গোবিন্দ কৈল নিবেদন ।
"জগদানন্দ চন্দনাদি-তৈল আন্যাছেন ॥ ১০৫ ॥

tabe prabhu-ṭhāñi govinda kaila nivedana
then to the Lord Govinda made a submission
jagadānanda candanādi-taila ānyāchena Jagadānanda candanādi oil has brought 105 Then Govinda humbly informed the Lord, "Jagadānanda has brought some candanādi oil.

Jagadānanda's transcendental, matchless love for the Lord, whose human-like body is transcendental —

তাঁর ইচ্ছা, — প্রভু অল্প মস্তকে লাগায় । পিত্ত-বায়ু-ব্যাধি-প্রকোপ শান্ত হঞা যায় ॥ ১০৬ ॥

tāṁra icchā, — prabhu alpa mastake lāgāya
his wish the Lord a little on the head applies pitta-vāyu-vyādhi-prakopa śānta hañā yāya
of bile air disorders the aggravation calm becoming goes

106 He wishes You to rub a little of it on Your head, to calm the flare-ups of illness caused by bile and air (pitta and vāyu).

এক-কলস সুগন্ধি তৈল গৌড়ে করিয়া । ইঁহা আন্যাছেন বহু যতন করিয়া ।।" ॥ ১০৭ ॥

eka-kalasa sugandhi taila gauḍe kariyā
one pitcher fragrant oil in Gauḍa making iṁhā ānyāchena bahu yatana kariyā here he has brought much care taking

107 He prepared a pitcher of fragrant oil in Gauḍa and brought it here with great care."[14]

Anubhāṣya.
Having prepared fragrant oil in Gauḍa, he brings it to Śrī Kṣetra.

The Lord — the guru of the world and teacher of mankind in the form of an ācārya — shows exemplary conduct —

প্রভু কহে, — "সন্ন্যাসীর তৈলে নাহি অধিকার । তাহাতে সুগন্ধি তৈল, — পরম ধিক্কার ! ॥ ১০৮ ॥

prabhu kahe, — sannyāsīra taile nāhi adhikāra
the Lord says of a sannyāsī in oil is not the right
tāhāte sugandhi taila, — parama dhik-kāra!
moreover fragrant oil utter disgrace

108 The Lord said, "A sannyāsī has no right to use oil, and fragrant oil is a downright disgrace!

Anubhāṣya.

“At the morning bath, during a vow, at a śrāddha, on Dvādaśī and during an eclipse, oil is like smearing oneself with wine; therefore one should avoid oil.” Some explain the word “vow” (vrata) here as “the vow of a renunciant” (yati-vrata). The smārta Raghunandana Bhaṭṭācārya writes in the Tithi-tattva: “Ghee, mustard oil, oil scented with flowers and cooked oil are not faulty for anointing at any time.” That is, for a “householder” it is no fault to anoint oneself with ghee, mustard oil, flower oil or cooked oil.

*Addressing the Paṇḍita, the Lord, the guru of the world, teaches the sādhaka his duty: to serve with the finest things the Lord alone, the only enjoyer, and to serve out of the heart's natural inclination (svārasikī); only in this is the jīva's labor of service fulfilled —*

জগন্নাথে দেহ’ তৈল, — দীপ যেন জ্বলে । তার পরিশ্রম হবে পরম-সফলে ।।” ॥ ১০৯ ॥

jagannāthe deha’ taila, — dīpa yena jvale
to Jagannātha give the oil lamp so that burns
tāra pariśrama habe parama-saphale
his labour will be supremely fruitful

109 Give the oil to Jagannātha, so that it may burn in the lamps; then his labour will bear the highest fruit.”

*Govinda conveys the Lord's words to Jagadānanda; Jagadānanda's anger is the hurt pride of love (praṇayābhimāna) —*

এই কথা গোবিন্দ জগদানন্দেরে কহিল । মৌন করি’ রহিল পণ্ডিত, কিছু না কহিল ॥ ১১০ ॥

ei kathā govinda jagadānandere kahila
this message Govinda to Jagadānanda told mauna kari’ rahila paṇḍita, kichu nā kahila silent becoming remained the Paṇḍita anything not said

110 Govinda gave Jagadānanda the message. The Paṇḍita kept silent and said nothing.

Govinda again tells the Lord of Jagadānanda's wish —

দিন দশ গেলে গোবিন্দ জানাইল আরবার । পণ্ডিতের ইচ্ছা, — ‘তৈল করুন অঙ্গীকার’ ॥ ১১১ ॥

dina daśa gele govinda jānāila āra bāra days ten passing Govinda informed once more paṇḍitera icchā, — taila karuna aṅgīkāra
the Paṇḍita’s wish the oil may He make acceptance

111 When ten days had passed, Govinda informed the Lord once more: “The Paṇḍita wishes You would kindly accept the oil.”

*The Lord, the guru of the world and teacher of mankind, teaches the sādhaka or ācārya how improper it is to strive for enjoyment to please one's own senses —*

শুনি’ প্রভু কহে কিছু সক্রোধ বচন । মর্দ্দনিয়া এক রাখ করিতে মর্দ্দন ! ॥ ১১২ ॥

śuni’ prabhu kahe kichu sakrodha vacana hearing the Lord speaks some angry words
mardaniyā eka rākha karite mardana!
a masseur one keep to do massage

112 Hearing this, the Lord spoke angrily: “Then why not keep a masseur to rub Me down?

Anubhāṣya.

A mendicant (bhikṣu), that is, a sannyāsī, has no helpers and must not accept help from others. Here the Lord says how pleasant it would be to hire, as pleasure-loving enjoyers do, someone like a servant to rub Him with fragrant oil, the companion of luxury. This is sarcasm (śleṣokti).

এই সুখ লাগি’ আমি করিলুঁ সন্ন্যাস ! ৷ আমার ‘সর্ব্বনাশ’ — তোমা-সবার ‘পরিহাস’ ॥ ১১৩ ॥

ei sukha lāgi’ āmi karilūṅ sannyāsa!
this pleasure for I took sannyāsa āmāra ‘sarva-nāśa’ — tomā-sabāra ‘parihāsa’
My utter ruin your all amusement

113 Was it for such pleasures that I took sannyāsa? What would be My utter ruin is a joke to all of you![15]

Censure of one who wears a renunciant's dress yet loves enjoyments that gratify his senses —

পথে যাইতে তৈলগন্ধ মোর যেই পাবে ৷ ‘দারীসন্ন্যাসী’ করি’ আমারে কহিবে ॥ ১১৪ ॥

pathe yāite taila-gandha mora yei pābe
on the road going of oil the scent My whoever will get ‘dārīsannyāsī’ kari’ āmāre kahibe
dārī-sannyāsī as Me will call

114 Anyone who passes Me on the road and catches the scent of oil will call Me a dārī-sannyāsī, a sannyāsī who keeps women.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Dārī sannyāsī — a sannyāsī who lives with a wife.

Anubhāṣya.

Dārī sannyāsī — one who enjoys women: a fallen tantric renunciant (yati) whose conduct is hypocritical.

The Lord is angry, and Govinda falls silent —

শুনি প্রভুর বাক্য গোবিন্দ মৌন করিলা ৷ প্রাতঃকালে জগদানন্দ প্রভু-স্থানে আইলা ॥ ১১৫ ॥

śuni prabhura vākya govinda mauna karilā hearing the Lord’s words Govinda silence kept prātaḥ-kāle jagadānanda prabhu-sthāne āilā
in the morning Jagadānanda to the Lord’s place came 115 Hearing the Lord’s words, Govinda fell silent. Next morning Jagadānanda came to the Lord.

*Though the Lord Himself is the enjoyer of everything, when Jagadānanda comes He, as an ācārya and teacher of mankind, shows the sādhaka or ācārya the giving up of sense pleasure, the exemplary conduct of renunciation —*

প্রভু কহে, — “পণ্ডিত, তৈল আনিলা গৌড় হইতে ৷ আমি ত’ সন্ন্যাসী, — তৈল না পারি লইতে ॥ ১১৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — paṇḍita, taila ānilā gauḍa haite
the Lord says Paṇḍita oil you brought Gauḍa from āmi ta’ sannyāsī, taila nā pāri laite
I indeed a sannyāsī oil not can accept

116 The Lord said, “Paṇḍita, you have brought oil from Gauḍa, but I am a sannyāsī and cannot accept it.

*On the pretext of instructing the Paṇḍita, the Lord teaches that a jīva's service succeeds only when he serves with the finest things Bhagavān, the enjoyer of all spiritual paraphernalia —*

জগন্নাথে দেহ’ লঞা দীপ যেন জ্বলে । তোমার সকল শ্রম হইবে সফলে ।।” ॥ ১১৭ ॥

jagannāthe deha’ lañā dīpa yena jvale
to Jagannātha give taking lamp so that burns tomāra sakala śrama haibe saphale
your all labour will become fruitful

117 Take it and give it to Jagannātha, so that it may burn in the lamps; then all your labour will bear fruit.”

The Paṇḍita, who loves the Lord, is angry with Him — the hurt pride of love —

পণ্ডিত কহে, — ‘কে তোমারে কহে মিথ্যা-বাণী । আমি গৌড় হৈতে তৈল কভু নাহি আনি ।।’ ॥ ১১৮ ॥

paṇḍita kahe, — ke tomāre kahe mithyā-vāṇī?
the Paṇḍita says who to You tells false words
āmi gauḍa haite taila kabhu nāhi āni
I Gauḍa from oil ever not brought

118 The Paṇḍita said, “Who tells You these lies? I never brought any oil from Gauḍa.”

The Paṇḍita breaks the pot of oil before the Lord —

এত বলি’ ঘর হৈতে তৈল-কলস আনিয়া । প্রভুর আগে আঙ্গিনাতে ফেলিলা ভাঙ্গিয়া ॥ ১১৯ ॥

eta bali’ ghara haite taila-kalasa āniyā
so saying the room from the oil pitcher bringing prabhura āge āṅgināte phelilā bhāṅgiyā
the Lord’s before in the courtyard threw breaking

119 With these words he fetched the pitcher of oil from the room and smashed it in the courtyard before the Lord.

The Paṇḍita shuts himself up in his house —

তৈল ভাঙ্গি’ সেই পথে নিজ-ঘর গিয়া । শুইয়া রহিলা ঘরে কপাট খিলিয়া ॥ ১২০ ॥

taila bhāṅgi’ sei pathe nija-ghara giyā
the oil breaking by that road his own house going śuiyā rahilā ghare kapāṭa khiliyā lying down remained in the room the door bolting

120 After breaking the pitcher he went straight home, bolted the door and lay down.

Anubhāṣya.

Jagadānanda lived on the seashore near the samādhi of Haridāsa Ṭhākura, in the Giridhārī āsana, one of the huts for bhajana now called the Sāt-āsana (“Seven Āsanas”). This is known from a book written by Śrī Raghunātha Vaidya.

*Bhagavān, conquered by His devotee's love, dispels the devotee's sulking (māna), that is, begs for his mercy —*

তৃতীয় দিবসে প্রভু তাঁর দ্বারে যাঞা ।
'উঠহ' পণ্ডিত, করি' কহেন ডাকিয়া ॥ ১২১ ॥

tṛtīya divase prabhu tāṁra dvāre yāñā on the third day the Lord his to the door going uṭhaha' paṇḍita, kari' kahena ḍākiyā get up Paṇḍita saying speaks calling

121 On the third day the Lord went to his door and called out, "Get up, Paṇḍita!

In the devotee's house Bhagavān Himself asks to be fed —

'আজি ভিক্ষা দিবা আমায় করিয়া রন্ধনে । মধ্যাহ্নে আসিমু, এবে যাই দরশনে ।।' ॥ ১২২ ॥

āji bhikṣā dibā āmāya kariyā randhane
today alms (lunch) you will give Me doing cooking
madhyāhne āsimu, ebe yāi daraśane
at midday I shall come now I go for darśana

122 Today you must cook and serve Me My bhikṣā. I shall come at midday; now I am going to see Jagannātha."

*The Paṇḍita, who loves the Lord, cooks an offering (bhoga) for Him and serves it —*

এত বলি' প্রভু গেলা, পণ্ডিত উঠিলা । স্নান করি' নানা ব্যঞ্জন রন্ধন করিলা ॥ ১২৩ ॥

eta bali' prabhu gelā, paṇḍita uṭhilā
so saying the Lord went the Paṇḍita got up snāna kari' nānā vyañjana randhana karilā bath taking various dishes cooking did

123 So saying, the Lord left, and the Paṇḍita got up, bathed and cooked various dishes.

মধ্যাহ্ন করিয়া প্রভু আইলা ভোজনে । পাদ প্রক্ষালন করি' বসিলা আসনে ॥ ১২৪ ॥

madhyāhna kariyā prabhu āilā bhojane midday duties having done the Lord came to eat
pāda prakṣālana kari' vasilā āsane feet washing doing sat on the seat

124 Having finished His midday duties, the Lord came to eat. He washed His feet and took His seat.[16]

সঘৃত শাল্যন্ন কলাপাতে স্তূপ কৈলা । কলার ডোঙ্গা ভরি' ব্যঞ্জন চৌদিকে ধরিলা ॥ ১২৫ ॥

saghṛta śālyanna kalā-pāte stūpa kailā
with ghee fine rice on a banana leaf a heap made kalāra ḍoṅgā bhari' vyañjana caudike dharilā of banana cups filling dishes all around placed

125 On a banana leaf the Paṇḍita heaped fine śāli rice with ghee, and all around it he set banana-leaf cups filled with dishes.

অন্ন-ব্যঞ্জনোপরি তুলসী-মঞ্জরী । জগন্নাথের পিঠা-পানা আগে আনে ধরি' ॥ ১২৬ ॥

anna-vyañjanopari tulasī-mañjarī
on the rice and dishes tulasī blossoms jagannāthera piṭhā-pānā āge āne dhari'
of Jagannātha cakes and sweet drinks before brings holding

126 On the rice and dishes he placed tulasī blossoms, and before the Lord he set Jagannātha's cakes and sweet drinks.[17]

Bhagavān, conquered by His devotee's love, wishes to eat together with His beloved devotee, one with Him in heart —

প্রভু কহে, — "দ্বিতীয়-পাতে বাড়' অন্ন-ব্যঞ্জন । তোমায় আমায় আজি একত্র করিমু ভোজন ॥ ১২৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — dvitīya-pāte bāḍa' anna-vyañjana
the Lord says on a second leaf serve rice and dishes
tomāya āmāya āji ekatra karimu bhojana
you Me today together shall do eating

127 The Lord said, "Serve rice and dishes on a second leaf. Today you and I shall eat together."

হস্ত তুলি' রহেন প্রভু, না করেন ভোজন । তবে পণ্ডিত কহেন কিছু সপ্রেম বচন ॥ ১২৮ ॥

hasta tuli' rahena prabhu, nā karena bhojana hand raising remains the Lord not does eating tabe paṇḍita kahena kichu saprema vacana
then the Paṇḍita speaks some loving words

128 The Lord sat with His hand raised and did not eat. Then the Paṇḍita spoke lovingly:

The Paṇḍita speaks of his love for the Lord and agrees to sit down to eat after Him —

"আপনে প্রসাদ লহ, পাছে মুঞি লইমু । তোমার আগ্রহ আমি কেমনে খণ্ডিমু ?" ॥ ১২৯ ॥

āpane prasāda laha, pāche muñi laimu Yourself prasāda take afterwards I shall take tomāra āgraha āmi kemane khaṇḍimu?
Your insistence I how shall break

129 "Please take the prasāda Yourself first; I shall take it afterwards. How could I go against Your wish?"

*The Lord praises the prasāda the Paṇḍita cooked with love and glorifies his good fortune —*

তবে মহাপ্রভু সুখে ভোজনে বসিলা । ব্যঞ্জনের স্বাদ পাঞা কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১৩০ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu sukhe bhojane vasilā
then Mahāprabhu happily to eat sat
vyañjanera svāda pāñā kahite lāgilā
of the dishes the taste getting to speak began

130 Then Mahāprabhu happily began His meal, and as He tasted the dishes, He said:

“ক্রোধাবেশের পাকের হয় ঐছে স্বাদ ! । এই ত’ জানিয়ে তোমায় কৃষ্ণের ‘প্রসাদ’ ॥ ১৩১ ॥

krodhāveśera pākera haya aiche svāda!
of one possessed by anger of the cooking is such taste
ei ta’ jāniye tomāya kṛṣṇera ‘prasāda’
this indeed I know on you Kṛṣṇa’s grace

131 “Even food cooked in a fit of anger tastes like this! By this I know that Kṛṣṇa’s grace is upon you.

আপনে খাইবে কৃষ্ণ, তাহার লাগিয়া । তোমার হস্তে পাক করায় উত্তম করিয়া ॥ ১৩২ ॥

āpane khāibe kṛṣṇa, tāhāra lāgiyā Himself will eat Kṛṣṇa that for the sake of tomāra haste pāka karāya uttama kariyā your by the hand cooking makes do excellent making

132 Kṛṣṇa Himself is going to eat it, and so through your hands He cooks it so excellently.

ঐছে অমৃত-অন্ন কৃষ্ণে কর সমর্পণ । তোমার ভাগ্যের সীমা কে করে বর্ণন ?” ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

aiche amṛta-anna kṛṣṇe kara samarpaṇa
such nectar food to Kṛṣṇa you offer
tomāra bhāgyera sīmā ke kare varṇana?
your good fortune’s limit who does describe

133 You offer such nectarean food to Kṛṣṇa! Who can describe the limits of your good fortune?”

The Paṇḍita, for whom Gaura is everything and whose life is given to Gaura, knows the Lord alone as the doer of all —

পণ্ডিত কহে, — “যে খাইবে, সেই পাককর্ত্তা । আমি-সব — কেবলমাত্র সামগ্রী-আহর্ত্তা ।।” ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

paṇḍita kahe, — ye khāibe, sei pāka-kartā
the Paṇḍita says who will eat He the cook
āmi-saba — kevala-mātra sāmagrī-āhartā
I and the like only merely ingredients collector

134 “The One who is going to eat is the cook Himself,” said the Paṇḍita. “People like me only gather the ingredients.”

Fearing His devotee's hurt pride, Bhagavān eats a great deal —

পুনঃ পুনঃ পণ্ডিত নানা ব্যঞ্জন পরিবেশে । ভয়ে কিছু না বলেন প্রভু, খায়েন হরিষে ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

punaḥ punaḥ paṇḍita nānā vyañjana pariveśe again and again the Paṇḍita various dishes serves bhaye kichu nā balena prabhu, khāyena hariṣe
out of fear anything not says the Lord eats with delight

135 Again and again the Paṇḍita served various dishes. Fearing to upset him, the Lord said nothing and ate with delight.

আগ্রহ করিয়া পণ্ডিত করাইলা ভোজন ।
আর দিন হৈতে ভোজন হৈল দশগুণ ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

āgraha kariyā paṇḍita karāilā bhojana insistence making the Paṇḍita made eat
āra dina haite bhojana haila daśa-guṇa
other days than the eating was tenfold

136 The Paṇḍita pressed Him to eat, and that day the Lord ate ten times as much as usual.

বারবার প্রভু উঠিতে করেন মন । সেইকালে পণ্ডিত পরিবেশে ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

bāra bāra prabhu uṭhite karena mana again and again the Lord to rise makes up His mind
sei-kāle paṇḍita pariveśe vyañjana
at that moment the Paṇḍita serves dishes

137 Time and again the Lord thought of rising, and at that very moment the Paṇḍita would serve Him more.

কিছু বলিতে নারেন প্রভু, খায়েন তরাসে । না খাইলে জগদানন্দ করিবে উপবাসে ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

kichu balite nārena prabhu, khāyena tarāse anything to say cannot the Lord eats in fear
nā khāile jagadānanda karibe upavāse
not if He eats Jagadānanda will make a fast

138 The Lord could say nothing and ate on, afraid that if He did not, Jagadānanda would fast.

The Lord plaintively asks the Paṇḍita to stop serving —

তবে প্রভু কহেন করি' বিনয়-সম্মান ।
'দশগুণ খাওয়াইলা এবে কর সমাধান' ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

tabe prabhu kahena kari' vinaya-sammāna
then the Lord speaks making humble respect
daśa-guṇa khāoyāilā ebe kara samādhāna
tenfold you have fed Me now make an end

139 At last the Lord said humbly and respectfully, "You have fed Me ten times as much as usual; now please stop."

Anubhāṣya.
Samādhāna — completion, ending, cessation, conclusion.

After rinsing His mouth, the Lord asks the Paṇḍita to eat in front of Him —

তবে মহাপ্রভু উঠি' কৈলা আচমন । পণ্ডিত আনিল, মুখবাস, মাল্য, চন্দন ॥ ১৪০ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu uṭhi' kailā ācamana
then Mahāprabhu rising did ācamana
paṇḍita ānila, mukhavāsa, mālya, candana
the Paṇḍita brought mouth-fresheners garland sandalwood

140 Then Mahāprabhu rose and rinsed His mouth and hands, and the Paṇḍita brought spices to freshen His mouth, a garland and sandalwood paste.

চন্দনাদি লঞা প্রভু বসিলা সেই স্থানে । ‘আমার আগে আজি তুমি করহ ভোজনে’ ॥ ১৪১ ॥

candanādi lañā prabhu vasilā sei sthāne sandalwood and the rest accepting the Lord sat in that place
āmāra āge āji tumi karaha bhojane
Me before today you do eating

141 The Lord accepted the sandalwood paste and the rest and sat down right there. “Today you must eat in front of Me,” He said.

*The Paṇḍita, contrary by nature (vāmya-svabhāva), mindful of the Lord's majesty, guards His dignity and begs Him to go and rest —*

পণ্ডিত কহে, — “প্রভু যাই’ করুন বিশ্রাম । মুই এবে প্রসাদ লইমু করি’ সমাধান ॥ ১৪২ ॥

paṇḍita kahe, — prabhu yāi’ karuna viśrāma
the Paṇḍita says the Lord going may take rest
mui ebe prasāda laimu kari’ samādhāna
I now prasāda shall take making arrangements

142 “Let my Lord go and rest,” said the Paṇḍita. “I shall take prasāda as soon as I have finished here.

*Rāmāi and Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa, servants of the Lord and companions of Govinda, receive the Lord's prasāda after cooking the offering —*

রসুইর কার্য্য কৈরাছে রামাই, রঘুনাথ । ইঁহা সবায় দিতে চাহি কিছু ব্যঞ্জন-ভাত ।।” ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

rasuira kārya kairāche rāmāi, raghunātha
of the kitchen the work have done Rāmāi, Raghunātha
iṁhā-sabāya dite cāhi kichu vyañjana-bhāta
to these all to give I want some dishes and rice

143 Rāmāi and Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa have done the work in the kitchen, and I want to give them all some rice and dishes.”[18]

Telling Govinda to let Him know when the Paṇḍita has eaten, the Lord goes home —

প্রভু কহেন, — “গোবিন্দ, তুমি ইঁহাই রহিবা । পণ্ডিত ভোজন কৈলে, আমারে কহিবা ।।” ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

prabhu kahena, — govinda, tumi iṁhāi rahibā
the Lord says Govinda you right here will stay paṇḍita bhojana kaile, āmāre kahibā
the Paṇḍita eating having done to Me will tell

144 The Lord said, “Govinda, you stay right here. When the Paṇḍita has eaten, come and tell Me.”

The Paṇḍita, intent only on the Lord's happiness, seeks no pleasure for himself and sends Govinda to serve the Lord —

এত কহি’ মহাপ্রভু করিলা গমন । গোবিন্দেরে পণ্ডিত কিছু কহেন বচন ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

eta kahi' mahāprabhu karilā gamana
so saying Mahāprabhu made departure govindere paṇḍita kichu kahena vacana
to Govinda the Paṇḍita some speaks words

145 Saying this, Mahāprabhu left, and the Paṇḍita turned to Govinda:

"তুমি শীঘ্র যাহ করিতে পাদসম্বাহনে । কহিহ, — 'পণ্ডিত এবে বসিল ভোজনে' ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

tumi śīghra yāha karite pāda-samvāhane
you quickly go to do foot-massage kahiha, — paṇḍita ebe vasila bhojane
tell Him the Paṇḍita now has sat to eat

146 "Go quickly and massage the Lord's feet, and tell Him that the Paṇḍita has now sat down to eat.

The Paṇḍita asks Govinda to come when the Lord is asleep and honor His remnants —

তোমারে প্রভুর 'শেষ' রাখিমু ধরিয়া । প্রভু নিদ্রা গেলে, তুমি খাইহ আসিয়া ।।" ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

tomāre prabhura 'śeṣa' rākhimu dhariyā for you of the Lord the remnants I shall keep holding prabhu nidrā gele, tumi khāiha āsiyā
the Lord to sleep when He goes you eat coming

147 I shall keep the Lord's remnants for you; when He has fallen asleep, come and eat them."

Having distributed them to all, the Paṇḍita honors the Lord's remnants —

রামাই, নন্দাই, আর গোবিন্দ, রঘুনাথ । সবারে বাঁটিয়া দিলা প্রভুর ব্যঞ্জন-ভাত ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

rāmāi, nandāi, āra govinda, raghunātha Rāmāi, Nandāi, and Govinda, Raghunātha
sabāre bāṁṭiyā dilā prabhura vyañjana-bhāta
to all dividing gave the Lord's dishes and rice

148 He shared out the Lord's rice and dishes among Rāmāi, Nandāi, Govinda and Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa.

The Paṇḍita himself takes the Lord's remnants —

আপনে প্রভুর 'শেষ' করিলা ভোজন । তবে গোবিন্দেরে প্রভু পাঠাইলা পুনঃ ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

āpane prabhura 'śeṣa' karilā bhojana himself the Lord's remnants did eating tabe govindere prabhu pāṭhāilā punaḥ
then Govinda the Lord sent again

149 He himself ate what remained of the Lord's meal. Then the Lord sent Govinda once more:

Bhagavān, conquered by His devotee's love, also gives up concern for His own happiness and makes sure His devotee is satisfied —

"দেখ, — জগদানন্দ প্রসাদ পায় কি না পায়। শীঘ্র আসি' সমাচার কহিবে আমায়।।" ॥ ১৫০ ॥

dekha, — jagadānanda prasāda pāya ki nā pāya
see Jagadānanda prasāda takes or not takes śīghra āsi' samācāra kahibe āmāya quickly coming the news you will tell to Me

150 "See whether Jagadānanda is taking prasāda or not, and come quickly and tell Me the news."

The Paṇḍita has eaten, and the Lord lies down: only in His devotee's satisfaction and contentment does the Lord see His own work done and find happiness —

গোবিন্দ আসি' দেখি' কহিল পণ্ডিতের ভোজন। তবে মহাপ্রভু করিলা স্বচ্ছন্দে শয়ন ॥ ১৫১ ॥

govinda āsi' dekhi' kahila paṇḍitera bhojana Govinda coming seeing told of the Paṇḍita the eating tabe mahāprabhu karilā svacchande śayana
then Mahāprabhu did at ease lying down

151 Govinda came and saw, and told the Lord that the Paṇḍita was eating. Only then did Mahāprabhu lie down at ease.

The love between the Paṇḍita, who conquers Gaura, and the Lord is like the love between Satyabhāmā and Vāsudeva in Dvārakā in the Dvāpara-yuga —

জগদানন্দে-প্রভুতে প্রেম চলে এইমতে। সত্যভামা-কৃষ্ণে যৈছে শুনি ভাগবতে ॥ ১৫২ ॥

jagadānande-prabhute prema cale ei-mate between Jagadānanda and the Lord love goes on in this way satyabhāmā-kṛṣṇe yaiche śuni bhāgavate between Satyabhāmā and Kṛṣṇa as we hear in the Bhāgavata

152 Such is the love between Jagadānanda and the Lord — like the love of Satyabhāmā and Kṛṣṇa of which we hear in the Bhāgavata.

জগদানন্দের সৌভাগ্যের কে কহিবে সীমা ?। জগদানন্দের সৌভাগ্যের তেঁহ সে উপমা ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

jagadānandera saubhāgyera ke kahibe sīmā?
of Jagadānanda of the good fortune who will tell the limit
jagadānandera saubhāgyera temha se upamā
of Jagadānanda of the good fortune he alone the comparison

153 Who can tell the limits of Jagadānanda's good fortune? In good fortune Jagadānanda has no equal but himself.

*Whoever hears the Paṇḍita's Prema-vivarta attains love for Gaura-Kṛṣṇa —*

জগদানন্দ 'প্রেমবিবর্ত্ত' শুনে যেই জন। প্রেমের 'স্বরূপ' জানে, পায় প্রেমধন ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

jagadānanda 'prema-vivarta' śune yei jana Jagadānanda's Prema-vivarta hears whatever person
premera 'svarūpa' jāne, pāya prema-dhana
of love the true nature knows gets the wealth of love

154 Whoever hears Jagadānanda's Prema-vivarta knows the true nature of love and attains the wealth of love.[19]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Prema-vivarta. The first meaning: the vivarta of love, that is, behavior in which the acts of love appear to be anger. The second meaning: what Jagadānanda wrote about Mahāprabhu's life in his own book, the Prema-vivarta.

Thus ends the twelfth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.

Thus ends the twelfth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

155 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. Caitanya-caritāmṛtam, "the nectar of Caitanya's deeds," is also the title of the book. ↩
2. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 994) reads mahāprabhu; another reading is mahāprabhura, "Mahāprabhu's heart." The sense is the same. ↩
3. As in Madhya 16.19. ↩
4. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads ghāṭite, "at the toll post"; another reading is ghāṭiyāle, "by the toll collector." ↩
5. Tāṅra bālāi laña, "taking His misfortunes upon themselves": an expression of loving devotion, wishing that every ill that threatens the beloved may fall upon oneself. ↩
6. Viparīta (in quotation marks in the text): "the reverse," contrary to what one would expect. ↩
7. Parameśvaryā: the homely form in which the simple confectioner speaks his own name. ↩
8. Mukunda's mother is Parameśvara's wife (see the heading to verse 57). ↩
9. Praśraya-prāgalbhya — "the boldness of loving familiarity"; śuddha-vaidagdhī — "pure courtesy." The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads praśraya-prāgalbhya; another reading is praśraya-pāgala, "simple in his affection." ↩
10. Vikāya, "is sold," that is, won over — compare verse 74, where the Lord says that He Himself is "sold." ↩
11. Guṇa means both "quality" and "cord." ↩
12. Sākṣāte, "in person, before her eyes." ↩
13. Eka-mātrā, "one measure"; ↩
14. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 998) reads gauḍe; another reading is gauḍete. The sense is the same: "in Gauḍa." ↩
15. The verse number is not printed in the edition. ↩
16. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads vasilā āsane, "sat down on the seat"; another reading, dilena āsane, has Jagadānanda wash His feet and seat Him. ↩
17. Piṭhā-pānā: cakes and sweetened drinks (pānā). ↩
18. The text says simply "Raghunātha." ↩
19. Prema-vivarta: the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya gives two meanings — the vivarta of love, that is, the behaviour in which, in the dealings of love, anger seems to appear; and the book Prema-vivarta, in which Jagadānanda wrote about Mahāprabhu's life. ↩

“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 13

How Jagadānanda Went to Vṛndāvana

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. Mahāprabhu slept on banana bark, and this was very hard on Him. So Jagadānanda made a quilt (lepa), a pillow and so on, but Mahāprabhu would not accept them. Then Svarūpa Gosvāmī split dry banana leaves (peṭo) into shreds and made something like a quilt and a pillow, and this Mahāprabhu accepted after many objections. With Mahāprabhu's permission Jagadānanda went to Vṛndāvana and, together with Sanātana, relished devotion in many ways. In the matter of Mukunda Sarasvatī's outer cloth (bahirvāsa), [Sanātana] chose an excellent means: he took on the role of a teacher (ācārya-abhimāna). When Jagadānanda gave Mahāprabhu Sanātana's gifts, an amusing episode arose over eating pīlu fruits. Hearing a devadāsī sing, Mahāprabhu ran toward her, crashing through thorny thickets, not knowing that the singer was a woman. Govinda stopped Him, and on hearing the word “woman” the Lord thanked Govinda. This story shows that it is improper for a sannyāsī or a Vaiṣṇava to hear songs about Kṛṣṇa directly from the lips of a woman not his own (para-strī). As Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa Gosvāmī was traveling from Kāśī to Śrī Puruṣottama, the kāyastha Rāmadāsa Viśvāsa Paṇḍita joined him on the road. Viśvāsa Paṇḍita was proud of his learning, and a desire for liberation dwelt in his heart; therefore Mahāprabhu did not show him any special mercy. Part of the life of Bhaṭṭa Gosvāmī is briefly told at the end of this chapter.

Taking shelter of the Lord, wasted by separation from Kṛṣṇa yet blossoming with ecstatic feelings —

কৃষ্ণবিচ্ছেদজাতার্ত্ত্যা ক্ষীণে চাপি মনস্তনূ ৷৷ দধাতে ফুল্লতাং ভাবৈর্যস্য তং গৌরমাশ্রয়ে ॥ ১ ॥

kṛṣṇa-viccheda-jātārtyā Kṛṣṇa from separation born by the pain
kṣīṇe cāpi manas-tanū wasted and though mind and body
dadhāte phullatāṁ bhāvair attain blossoming through ecstatic emotions
yasya taṁ gauram āśraye whose that Gaura I take shelter of 1 I take shelter of Gaura, whose mind and body, though wasted by the pain born of separation from Kṛṣṇa, blossomed again through His ecstatic emotions.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Though His mind and body wasted away from the pain born of separation from Kṛṣṇa, He blossomed whenever ecstatic feelings arose in Him. I take refuge in that Gauracandra.

Anubhāṣya.

yasya (of Caitanyadeva) manaḥ tanū kṛṣṇa-viccheda-jātārtyā (by the anguish born of separation from Kṛṣṇa) kṣīṇe api ca bhāvaiḥ (by the sāttvika and other [bhāvas]) at times phullatāṁ (fullness) dadhāte (assume), taṁ gauram (I) āśraye (take refuge in).

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ ৷৷
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory of Gaura the devotees to the multitude

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura![1]

হেনমতে মহাপ্রভু জগদানন্দ-সঙ্গে । নানামতে আস্বাদয় প্রেমের তরঙ্গে ॥ ৩ ॥

hena-mate mahāprabhu jagadānanda-saṅge
in this way Mahāprabhu with Jagadānanda in the company
nānā-mate āsvādaya premera taraṅge
in many ways tastes of love in the waves

3 In this way, in the company of Jagadānanda, Mahāprabhu tasted the waves of love in many ways.

The meaning of the verse above —

কৃষ্ণবিচ্ছেদে দুঃখে ক্ষীণ মন-কায় । ভাবাবেশে প্রভু কভু প্রফুল্লিত হয় ॥ ৪ ॥

kṛṣṇa-vicchede duḥkhe kṣīṇa mana-kāya Kṛṣṇa in separation by sorrow wasted mind and body bhāvāveśe prabhu kabhu praphullita haya
in ecstatic absorption the Lord sometimes blossoming becomes

4 His mind and body were wasted by the sorrow of separation from Kṛṣṇa, yet at times, absorbed in ecstatic emotion, the Lord would blossom again.

The Lord's severe renunciation —

কলার শরলাতে শয়ন, অতি ক্ষীণ কায় । শরলাতে হাড় লাগে, ব্যথা হয় গায় ॥ ৫ ॥

kalāra śaralāte śayana, ati kṣīṇa kāya
of the banana on the bark lying very thin the body
śaralāte hāḍa lāge, vyathā haya gāya against the bark the bones press pain is in the body

5 He lay on dried banana bark, and His body was very thin. His bones pressed against the bark, and His whole body ached.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kalāra śaralāte — on banana bark.

Seeing this, the devotees, intent on the Lord's happiness, suffer; Jagadānanda tries to provide for the Lord's comfort —

দেখি’ সব ভক্তগণ মহাদুঃখ পায় । সহিতে নারে জগদানন্দ, সৃজিলা উপায় ॥ ৬ ॥

dekhi’ saba bhakta-gaṇa mahā-duḥkha pāya seeing all the devotees great sorrow feel sahite nāre jagadānanda, sṛjilā upāya
to bear could not Jagadānanda devised a means

6 Seeing this, all the devotees were deeply grieved. Jagadānanda could not bear it, and he devised a remedy.

A mattress and a pillow in saffron covers are made for the Lord —

সূক্ষ্ম বস্ত্র আনি' গেরি দিয়া রাঙ্গাইলা । শিমুলীর তুলা দিয়া তাহা পূরাইলা ॥ ৭ ॥

sūkṣma vastra āni' geri diyā rāṅgāilā
fine cloth bringing with red ochre with dyed śimulīra tulā diyā tāhā pūrāilā of the śimula tree cotton with it stuffed

7 He brought fine cloth, dyed it with red ochre and stuffed it with the cotton of the silk-cotton (śimula) tree.

Govinda is asked to have the Lord use them —

এক তূলি-বালিশ গোবিন্দের হাতে দিলা । প্রভুরে শোয়াইহ ইহায় — তাহারে কহিলা ॥ ৮ ॥

eka tūli-bāliśa govindera hāte dilā
one mattress pillow of Govinda into the hands gave prabhure śoyāiha ihāya — tāhāre kahilā
the Lord have lie down on this to him said

8 He put a mattress and a pillow into Govinda's hands and told him, "Have the Lord lie down on these."

Anubhāṣya.
Tuli — a cotton mattress, a pad (gadi).

Śrī Svarūpa is asked as well —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞিকে কহে জগদানন্দ । আজি আপনে যাঞা প্রভুরে করাইহ শয়ন ॥ ৯ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñike kahe jagadānanda
to Svarūpa Gosāñi says Jagadānanda
āji āpane yāñā prabhure karāiha śayana
today yourself going the Lord have lie down

9 Jagadānanda said to Svarūpa Gosāñi, "Today please go yourself and have the Lord lie down on them."

Svarūpa and Govinda make up the bed; seeing it, the Lord grows angry —

শয়নের কালে স্বরূপ তাঁহাই রহিলা । তূলি-বালিশ দেখি' প্রভু ক্রোধাবিষ্ট হইলা ॥ ১০ ॥

śayanera kāle svarūpa tāṁhāi rahilā of lying down at the time Svarūpa right there stayed tūli-bāliśa dekhi' prabhu krodhāviṣṭa hailā mattress pillow seeing the Lord filled with anger became 10 At bedtime Svarūpa stayed close by. But when the Lord saw the mattress and pillow, He became angry.

The Lord asks who made it; hearing the Paṇḍita's name, the Lord becomes afraid — গোবিন্দেরে পুছেন, — ইহা করাইল কোন্ জন ?

জগদানন্দের নাম শুনি' সঙ্কোচ হৈল মন ॥ ১১ ॥

govindere puchena, — ihā karāila kon jana?
Govinda He asks this had made which person
jagadānandera nāma śuni' saṅkoca haila mana of Jagadānanda the name hearing shrinking became the mind

11 He asked Govinda, "Who had this made?" But when He heard Jagadānanda's name, His heart shrank back in apprehension.

At once the Lord casts the bed aside and lies down on banana leaves —

গোবিন্দেরে কহি' সেই তূলি দূর কৈলা । কলার শরলা-উপর শয়ন করিলা ॥ ১২ ॥

govindere kahi' sei tūli dūra kailā to Govinda telling that mattress away put kalāra śaralā-upara śayana karilā
of the banana the bark upon lying down did

12 He had Govinda put the mattress away and lay down on the banana bark.

Svarūpa points out that Jagadānanda is likely to be hurt —

স্বরূপ কহে, — তোমার ইচ্ছা, কি কহিতে পারি ?
শয্যা উপেক্ষিলে পণ্ডিত দুঃখ পাবে ভারী ॥ ১৩ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — tomāra icchā, ki kahite pāri?
Svarūpa says Your will what to say can I śayyā upekṣile paṇḍita duḥkha pābe bhārī
the bed if You reject the Paṇḍita sorrow will feel heavy

13 Svarūpa said, "It is Your will—what can I say? But if You reject the bed, the Paṇḍita will be deeply hurt."

*Regarding Himself as a renounced ascetic (yati), the Lord reproaches him with feigned anger —*

প্রভু কহেন, — খাট এক আনহ পাড়িতে । জগদানন্দ চাহে আমায় বিষয় ভুঞ্জাইতে ॥ ১৪ ॥

prabhu kahena, — khāṭa eka ānaha pāḍite
the Lord says a bedstead one bring to set up jagadānanda cāhe āmāya viṣaya bhuñjāite
Jagadānanda wants Me sense objects to make enjoy

14 The Lord said, "Then bring a bedstead too and set it up! Jagadānanda wants Me to enjoy worldly pleasures.

সন্ন্যাসী-মানুষ আমার ভূমিতে শয়ন । আমারে খাট-তূলি-বালিশ মস্তক মুণ্ডন ॥ ১৫ ॥

sannyāsī-mānuṣa āmāra bhūmite śayana
a sannyāsī man My on the ground lying āmāre khāṭa-tūli-bāliśa mastaka muṇḍana
for Me bedstead mattress pillow of the head shaving

15 I am a sannyāsī, and My place is on the ground. A bedstead, a mattress and a pillow would bring Me utter disgrace."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Mastaka-muṇḍana ("a shaven head") — an expression for disgrace.

Svarūpa conveys the Lord's words to Jagadānanda; the Paṇḍita is pained —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি আসি’ পণ্ডিতে কহিলা । শুনি’ জগদানন্দ মহাদুঃখ পাইলা ॥ ১৬ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi āsi’ paṇḍite kahilā Svarūpa Gosāñi coming to the Paṇḍita told śuni’ jagadānanda mahā-duḥkha pāilā hearing Jagadānanda great sorrow felt

16 Svarūpa Gosāñi came and told the Paṇḍita, and when Jagadānanda heard it, he was deeply grieved.

Śrī Svarūpa, skilled in service, makes bedding to serve the Lord —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তবে সৃজিলা প্রকার । কদলীর শুষ্কপত্র আনিলা অপার ॥ ১৭ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi tabe sṛjilā prakāra Svarūpa Gosāñi then devised a way
kadalīra śuṣka-patra ānilā apāra of the banana dry leaves brought countless

17 Then Svarūpa Gosāñi devised a way. He brought a great quantity of dry banana leaves.

নখে চিরি’ চিরি’ তাহা অতি সূক্ষ্ম কৈলা । প্রভুর বহির্ব্বাসেতে সে সব ভরিলা ॥ ১৮ ॥

nakhe ciri’ ciri’ tāhā ati sūkṣma kailā
with his nails tearing tearing them very fine made prabhura bahirvāsete se saba bharilā
of the Lord into the outer cloths them all filled

18 Tearing them again and again with his nails, he shredded them very fine and filled the Lord’s outer cloths (bahirvāsa) with them.

With great difficulty the Lord agrees to accept it —

এইমত দুই কৈলা ওড়ন-পাড়নে । অঙ্গীকার কৈলা প্রভু অনেক যতনে ॥ ১৯ ॥

ei-mata dui kailā oḍana-pāḍane
in this way two made covering and bedding aṅgīkāra kailā prabhu aneka yatane
acceptance made the Lord with much effort

19 In this way he made two pieces of bedding (oḍana-pāḍana), and only after much persuasion did the Lord accept them.

Anubhāṣya.
Oḍana-pāḍana — ota-prota (literally “weft and warp”); according to some, a pillow and a mattress.

The Lord sleeps on it, and everyone is happy; only Jagadānanda is unhappy —

তাতে শয়ন করেন প্রভু, — দেখি’ সবে সুখী । জগদানন্দ — ভিতর-বাহিরে মহাদুঃখী ॥ ২০ ॥

tāte śayana karena prabhu, — dekhi' sabe sukhī
on them lying does the Lord seeing all happy
jagadānanda — bhitara-bāhire mahā-duḥkhī
Jagadānanda inwardly and outwardly very unhappy

20 The Lord lay on them, and seeing this, everyone was happy. But Jagadānanda remained deeply unhappy through and through.

The Paṇḍita wishes to go to Vṛndāvana; he had wished this before too, but could not go without the Lord's order —

পূর্ব্বে জগদানন্দের ইচ্ছা বৃন্দাবন যাইতে । প্রভু আজ্ঞা না দেন তাঁরে, না পারে চলিতে ॥ ২১ ॥

pūrve jagadānandera icchā vṛndāvana yāite
before of Jagadānanda the wish to Vṛndāvana to go prabhu ājñā nā dena tāṁre, nā pāre calite
the Lord permission not gives to him not could set out

21 Jagadānanda had long wished to go to Vṛndāvana, but the Lord would not give him permission, and so he could not set out.

Now, hurt by the affair of the Lord's bed, he asks permission to go to Mathurā —

ভিতরের দুঃখ বাহ্যে প্রকাশ না কৈলা । মথুরা যাইতে প্রভু-স্থানে আজ্ঞা মাগিলা ॥ ২২ ॥

bhitarera duḥkha bāhye prakāśa nā kailā inner sorrow outwardly display not made mathurā yāite prabhu-sthāne ājñā māgilā to Mathurā to go from the Lord permission asked

22 Without showing his inner sorrow outwardly, he asked the Lord for permission to go to Mathurā.[2]

The Lord consoles him with sweet words —

প্রভু কহে, — মথুরা যাইবা আমায় ক্রোধ করি' । আমায় দোষ লাগাঞা তুমি হইবা ভিখারী ॥ ২৩ ॥

prabhu kahe, — mathurā yāibā āmāya krodha kari'
the Lord says to Mathurā you will go with Me anger making āmāya doṣa lāgāñā tumi haibā bhikhārī
on Me blame laying you will become a beggar

23 The Lord said, “You will go to Mathurā angry with Me. Laying the blame on Me, you will become a beggar.”

*Though contrary by nature (vāmya-svabhāva), Jagadānanda makes a respectful, plaintive appeal at the Lord's feet —*

জগদানন্দ কহে প্রভুর ধরিয়া চরণ । পূর্ব্ব হৈতে ইচ্ছা মোর যাইতে বৃন্দাবন ॥ ২৪ ॥

jagadānanda kahe prabhura dhariyā caraṇa Jagadānanda says the Lord's clasping feet
pūrva haite icchā mora yāite vṛndāvana
from long since the wish my to go to Vṛndāvana

24 Clasping the Lord’s feet, Jagadānanda said, “For a long time I have wished to go to Vṛndāvana.

প্রভু-আজ্ঞা নাহি, তাতে না পারি যাইতে । এবে আজ্ঞা দেহ', অবশ্য যাইমু নিশ্চিতে ॥ ২৫ ॥

prabhu-ājñā nāhi, tāte nā pāri yāite
the Lord's permission there was not so not could go ebe ājñā deha', avaśya yāimu niścite
now permission give surely I will go certainly

25 Without Your permission I could not go. Now please give me permission; I will surely go."

The Lord, who loves His devotees, forbids it; the Paṇḍita insists —

প্রভু, প্রীতে তাঁর গমন না করেন অঙ্গীকার । তেঁহো প্রভুর ঠাঞি আজ্ঞা মাগে বার বার ॥ ২৬ ॥

prabhu, prīte tāṁra gamana nā karena aṅgīkāra
the Lord out of love his going not does accept teṁho prabhura ṭhāñi ājñā māge bāra bāra
he from the Lord permission asks time after time

26 Out of love, the Lord would not agree to his going, but Jagadānanda begged Him for permission again and again.

The Paṇḍita appeals to Śrī Svarūpa: the Lord will not agree to let the Paṇḍita go —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞিরে পণ্ডিত কৈলা নিবেদন । পূর্ব্ব হৈতে বৃন্দাবন যাইতে মোর মন ॥ ২৭ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñire paṇḍita kailā nivedana
to Svarūpa Gosāñi the Paṇḍita made a request
pūrva haite vṛndāvana yāite mora mana from long since to Vṛndāvana to go my heart

27 The Paṇḍita appealed to Svarūpa Gosāñi: "For a long time my heart has been set on going to Vṛndāvana.

প্রভু-আজ্ঞা বিনা তাঁহা যাইতে না পারি । এবে আজ্ঞা না দেন মোরে, ক্রোধে যাহ' বলি ॥ ২৮ ॥

prabhu-ājñā vinā tāṁhā yāite nā pāri the Lord's permission without there to go not can ebe ājñā nā dena more, krodhe yāha' bali
now permission not He gives me in anger go saying

28 Without the Lord's permission I cannot go there, and now He will not give me permission. He says, 'You would go in anger.'

Anubhāṣya.
"Krodhe yāha" bali — saying, "Go in anger."

He asks Svarūpa to obtain the Lord's consent for his journey —

সহজেই মোর তাঁহা যাইতে মন হয় । প্রভু-আজ্ঞা লঞা দেহ', করিয়ে বিনয় ॥ ২৯ ॥

sahajei mora tāṁhā yāite mana haya naturally my there to go the heart is prabhu-ājñā lañā deha', kariye vinaya
the Lord's permission obtaining give I make humble request

29 My heart is drawn there of its own accord. Please obtain the Lord's permission for me—I humbly beg you."

Svarūpa puts this before the Lord's feet and asks for permission —

তবে স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি কহে প্রভুর চরণে । জগদানন্দের ইচ্ছা বড় যাইতে বৃন্দাবনে ॥ ৩০ ॥

tabe svarūpa-gosāñi kahe prabhura caraṇe
then Svarūpa Gosāñi says of the Lord at the feet jagadānandera icchā baḍa yāite vṛndāvane
of Jagadānanda the wish great to go to Vṛndāvana

30 Then Svarūpa Gosāñi submitted at the Lord's feet: "Jagadānanda greatly desires to go to Vṛndāvana.

তোমার ঠাঞি আজ্ঞা তেঁহো মাগে বার বার । আজ্ঞা দেহ', — মথুরা দেখি' আইসে একবার ॥ ৩১ ॥

tomāra ṭhāñi ājñā teṁho māge bāra bāra
from You permission he asks time after time
ājñā deha', — mathurā dekhi' āise eka-bāra permission give Mathurā seeing let him come back once

31 He has asked You for permission again and again. Please let him go: let him see Mathurā once and come back.

আইরে দেখিতে যৈছে গৌড়দেশে যায় । তৈছে একবার বৃন্দাবন দেখি' আয় ॥ ৩২ ॥

āire dekhite yaiche gauḍa-deśe yāya Mother to see just as to the land of Gauḍa he goes taiche eka-bāra vṛndāvana dekhi' āya
so once Vṛndāvana seeing let him come

32 Just as he goes to Gauḍa to see Mother Śacī, so let him go once, see Vṛndāvana and return."

At Svarūpa's request the Lord calls Jagadānanda and instructs him in what he must do there —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞির বোলে প্রভু আজ্ঞা দিলা । জগদানন্দে বোলাঞা তাঁরে শিখাইলা ॥ ৩৩ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñira bole prabhu ājñā dilā of Svarūpa Gosāñi at the word the Lord permission gave jagadānande bolāñā tāṁre śikhāilā Jagadānanda calling him instructed

33 At Svarūpa Gosāñi's word the Lord gave His permission. He called Jagadānanda and instructed him:

Instructions about the road —

বারাণসী পর্য্যন্ত স্বচ্ছন্দে যাইবা পথে । আগে সাবধানে যাইবা ক্ষত্রিয়াদি-সাথে ॥ ৩৪ ॥

vārāṇasī paryanta svacchande yāibā pathe Vārāṇasī as far as freely you may go on the road
āge sāvadhāne yāibā kṣatriyādi-sāthe
beyond carefully go with kṣatriyas and others together

34 "As far as Vārāṇasī you may travel the road freely. Beyond that, go carefully, in the company of kṣatriyas and others.

Anubhāṣya.
Kṣatriyādi-sāthe — together with kṣatriyas, who protect travelers from the hands of robbers.

কেবল গৌড়ীয়া পাইলে 'বাটপাড়' করি' বান্ধে । সব লুটি' বাঁধি' রাখে, যাইতে বিরোধে ॥ ৩৫ ॥

kevala gauḍīyā pāile 'bāṭapāḍa' kari' bāndhe
only a Gauḍīya if they find highway robbery doing they bind saba luṭi' bāṁdhi' rākhe, yāite virodhe
all plundering bound they keep to go on they prevent 35 If they find a Gauḍīya alone, highwaymen (bāṭapāḍa) waylay him and bind him; they plunder everything, keep him bound and do not let him go on.

Anubhāṣya.
Gauḍīyā, that is, people from Gauḍa, or Bengal, are by nature slight of build and look weak. Finding such helpless, weak people alone, the bāṭapāḍas, that is, highway robbers, keep them bound, take everything from them and "obstruct their going" (virodhe), that is, do not let them go. According to some, the robbers, seeing that the Bengalis are very clever (sucatura), put them to work as highway robbers, and once they have set them to robbery, never let them go anywhere.

*Instructions on conduct after reaching Mathurā; a warning about associating with devotees of the path of rāga, who have no awareness of majesty (aiśvarya-jñāna) —*

মথুরা গেলে সনাতন-সঙ্গে রহিবা । মথুরার স্বামী-সবের চরণ বন্দিবা ॥ ৩৬ ॥

mathurā gele sanātana-saṅge rahibā
to Mathurā having gone with Sanātana in the company stay mathurāra svāmī-sabera caraṇa vandibā
of Mathurā the lords all the feet honour

36 When you reach Mathurā, stay with Sanātana, and honour the feet of all the lords of Mathurā.[3]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Mathurāra svāmī-sabera — of all the Caubes, the residents of Mathurā.

দূরে রহি' ভক্তি করিহ সঙ্গে না রহিবা । তাঁ-সবার আচার-চেষ্টা লইতে নারিবা ॥ ৩৭ ॥

dūre rahi' bhakti kariha saṅge nā rahibā
from afar staying devotion show in company not stay tāṁ-sabāra ācāra-ceṣṭā laite nāribā their all conduct behaviour to adopt you cannot

37 Show them devotion, but from afar, and do not stay in their company: you could never accept their ways and conduct.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Out of pure parental love (śuddha-vātsalya) for Kṛṣṇa, they behave in ways that go against the views of the smārtas. Seeing this, you (for you are devoted to the mood of majesty, aiśvarya-bhāva) may come to disrespect them. But there must be no such disrespect for the residents of Vraja-maṇḍala, because their devotion is rāgātmikā. Therefore worship them with devotion from a distance (a devotee like you, who loves the mood of majesty, should not stay in the company of these devotees of the path of rāga).

An instruction to stay always with Sanātana —

সনাতন-সঙ্গে করিহ বন দরশন । সনাতনের সঙ্গ না ছাড়িবা একক্ষণ ॥ ৩৮ ॥

sanātana-saṅge kariha vana daraśana with Sanātana make of the forests visiting sanātanera saṅga nā chāḍibā eka-kṣaṇa
of Sanātana the company not leave for one moment

38 Visit the forests with Sanātana, and do not leave his side for a moment.

A prohibition against climbing Govardhana, who is nondifferent from Kṛṣṇa —

শীঘ্র আসিহ, তাঁহা না রহিহ চিরকাল । গোবর্দ্ধনে না চড়িহ দেখিতে 'গোপাল' ॥ ৩৯ ॥

śīghra āsiha, tāṁhā nā rahiha cira-kāla quickly come back there not stay for long govarddhane nā caḍiha dekhite 'gopāla'
Govardhana not climb to see Gopāla

39 Come back quickly; do not stay there long. Do not climb Govardhana to see Gopāla.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
If one lives in Vraja for long, one begins to see faults in the Vrajavāsīs, and one's faith (śraddhā) grows weak. Therefore those who have not yet attained the path of rāga should not live in Vraja; it is better to see Vraja and soon come away. One must not climb Govardhana to see Śrī Gopāla, for Govardhana is Bhagavān Himself in visible form, and it is not good to climb on Govardhana. It is better to take darśana of Gopāla at the times when He goes to some other place.

*An order to tell Sanātana that the Lord is coming and to choose a place for bhajana —*

আমিহ আসিতেছি, — কহিহ সনাতনে । আমার তরে একস্থান করে বৃন্দাবনে ॥ ৪০ ॥

āmiha āsitechi, — kahiha sanātane
I too am coming tell Sanātana
āmāra tare eka-sthāna kare vṛndāvane
for Me a place let him make in Vṛndāvana

40 Tell Sanātana, 'I too am coming,' and let him prepare a place for Me in Vṛndāvana."

Anubhāṣya.
No authoritative book says that the Lord went to Vṛndāvana again. But in verse 70 below, Sanātana Prabhu sets in order the place chosen for Mahāprabhu to stay, and from this one may infer that Mahāprabhu perhaps did go to Vṛndāvana again later.

The Lord embraces the Paṇḍita in farewell; the Paṇḍita bows to the Lord's feet —

এত বলি' জগদানন্দে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন । জগদানন্দ চলিলা প্রভুর বন্দিয়া চরণ ॥ ৪১ ॥

eta bali' jagadānande kailā āliṅgana
this saying Jagadānanda made embrace jagadānanda calilā prabhura vandiyā caraṇa Jagadānanda set out the Lord's bowing to feet

41 Saying this, the Lord embraced Jagadānanda, who bowed at His feet and set out.

Taking leave of the devotees, he comes to Kāśī —

সব ভক্তগণ-ঠাঞি আজ্ঞা মাগিলা । বনপথে চলি' চলি' বারাণসী আইলা ॥ ৪২ ॥

saba bhakta-gaṇa-ṭhāñi ājñā māgilā
all the devotees from permission asked vana-pathe cali' cali' vārāṇasī āilā
by the forest path going going to Vārāṇasī came

42 He took leave of all the devotees, and travelling on and on by the forest path, he came to Vārāṇasī.

Meeting and conversation with Tapana Miśra and Candraśekhara Vaidya —

তপনমিশ্র, চন্দ্রশেখর, — দোঁহারে মিলিলা । তাঁর ঠাঞি প্রভুর কথা সকল শুনিলা ॥ ৪৩ ॥

tapana-miśra, candraśekhara, — doṁhāre mililā Tapana Miśra Candraśekhara both met tāṁra ṭhāñi prabhura kathā sakala śunilā
from him of the Lord the news all they heard

43 There he met both Tapana Miśra and Candraśekhara, and they heard from him all the news of the Lord.

Meeting Sanātana in Mathurā, and the joy of both —

মথুরাতে আসি' মিলিলা সনাতনে । দুইজনের সঙ্গে দুঁহে আনন্দিত মনে ॥ ৪৪ ॥

mathurāte āsi' mililā sanātane
in Mathurā coming met Sanātana
dui-janera saṅge duṁhe ānandita mane
of the two in the company both joyful at heart

44 Coming to Mathurā, he met Sanātana, and in each other's company both were joyful at heart.

Following Sanātana, the Paṇḍita sees the twelve forests —

সনাতন করাইলা তাঁরে দ্বাদশ বন দরশন । গোকুলে রহিলা দুঁহে দেখি' মহাবন ॥ ৪৫ ॥

sanātana karāilā tāṁre dvādaśa vana daraśana Sanātana had made him twelve forests see gokule rahilā duṁhe dekhi' mahāvana
in Gokula stayed both seeing Mahāvana

45 Sanātana showed him the twelve forests, and after seeing Mahāvana the two stayed in Gokula.

The two stay together but eat separately, each according to his own habit —

সনাতনের গোফাতে দুঁহে রহে একঠাঞি । পণ্ডিত পাক করেন দেবালয়ে যাই' ॥ ৪৬ ॥

sanātanera gophāte duṁhe rahe eka-ṭhāñi
of Sanātana in the cave both stay in one place
paṇḍita pāka karena devālaye yāi'
the Paṇḍita cooking does to a temple going

46 They lived together in Sanātana's cave, and the Paṇḍita would go to a temple to cook.

সনাতন ভিক্ষা করেন যাই' মহাবনে । কভু দেবালয়ে, কভু ব্রাহ্মণ-সদনে ॥ ৪৭ ॥

sanātana bhikṣā karena yāi' mahāvane Sanātana begging does going in Mahāvana kabhu devālaye, kabhu brāhmaṇa-sadane
sometimes at a temple sometimes of brāhmaṇas at the homes

47 Sanātana would go begging in Mahāvana—sometimes at a temple, sometimes at the homes of brāhmaṇas.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
At that time Sanātana had made it his practice to live on pieces of flatbread (ruṭi) received as mādhukarī alms. Jagadānanda Paṇḍita, however, could not get through the day without eating rice, so he went to the temple to cook: in the temples of Vraja rice and dāl were not offered as prasāda.

*Sanātana, who gives honor to others (mānada), serves the Paṇḍita —*

সনাতন পণ্ডিতের করে সমাধান । মহাবনে দেন আনি' মাগি' অন্ন-পান ॥ ৪৮ ॥

sanātana paṇḍitera kare samādhāna Sanātana of the Paṇḍita does service
mahāvane dena āni' māgi' anna-pāna
in Mahāvana gives bringing begging food and drink

48 Sanātana looked after all the Paṇḍita's needs: he would beg food and drink in Mahāvana and bring them to him.

Anubhāṣya.
Samādhāna — carrying out all his affairs, or serving him.

One day the Paṇḍita invites Sanātana and cooks —

একদিন সনাতনে পণ্ডিত নিমন্ত্রিলা । নিত্য-কৃত্য করি' তেঁহ পাক চড়াইলা ॥ ৪৯ ॥

eka-dina sanātane paṇḍita nimantrilā
one day Sanātana the Paṇḍita invited
nitya-kṛtya kari' teṁha pāka caḍāilā
daily duties doing he the cooking set on the fire

49 One day the Paṇḍita invited Sanātana, and after finishing his daily duties he began to cook.

*Wearing on his head a cloth given by a sannyāsī, Sanātana comes to the Paṇḍita's lodging —*

'মুকুন্দ সরস্বতী, নাম সন্ন্যাসী মহাজনে । এক বহির্ব্বাস তেঁহো দিল সনাতনে ॥ ৫০ ॥

'mukunda sarasvatī, nāma sannyāsī mahājane
Mukunda Sarasvatī by name a sannyāsī a great soul
eka bahirvāsa teṁho dila sanātane
one outer cloth he gave to Sanātana

50 A great sannyāsī named Mukunda Sarasvatī had given Sanātana an outer cloth (bahirvāsa).

সনাতন সেই বস্ত্র মস্তকে বান্ধিয়া । জগদানন্দের বাসা-দ্বারে বসিলা আসিয়া ॥ ৫১ ॥

sanātana sei vastra mastake bāndhiyā Sanātana that cloth on his head tying jagadānandera vāsā-dvāre vasilā āsiyā
of Jagadānanda at the lodging's door sat coming

51 With that cloth tied around his head, Sanātana came and sat at the door of Jagadānanda's lodging.

Taking Sanātana's cloth for a gift from the Lord, the Paṇḍita is filled with love —

রাতুল বস্ত্র দেখি' পণ্ডিত প্রেমাবিষ্ট হইলা ।
'মহাপ্রভুর প্রসাদ' জানি' তাঁহারে পুছিলা ॥ ৫২ ॥

rātula vastra dekhi' paṇḍita premāviṣṭa hailā red cloth seeing the Paṇḍita overwhelmed with love became 'mahāprabhura prasāda' jāni' tāṁhāre puchilā
of Mahāprabhu the gift thinking him asked

52 Seeing the red cloth, the Paṇḍita took it for Mahāprabhu's gift (prasāda) and was overwhelmed with love. He asked him:

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Rātula — red (kāṣāya, ochre).

The Paṇḍita asks how Sanātana obtained the cloth —

কাঁহা পাইলা তুমি এই রাতুল বসন ?
'মুকুন্দ-সরস্বতী' দিল, — কহেন সনাতন ॥ ৫৩ ॥

kāṁhā pāilā tumi ei rātula vasana?
where did you get you this red cloth
'mukunda-sarasvatī' dila, — kahena sanātana
Mukunda Sarasvatī gave says Sanātana

53 "Where did you get this red cloth?" "Mukunda Sarasvatī gave it," Sanātana replied.

*The Paṇḍita grows angry that Sanātana accepted a gift from another sannyāsī, not from the Lord —*

শুনি' পণ্ডিতের মনে ক্রোধ উপজিল । ভাতের হাণ্ডি হাতে হঞা মারিতে আইল ॥ ৫৪ ॥

śuni' paṇḍitera mane krodha upajila hearing of the Paṇḍita in the mind anger arose bhātera hāṇḍi hāte hañā mārite āila of rice the pot in hand being to strike came

54 When he heard this, anger arose in the Paṇḍita's mind, and with the rice pot in his hand he came forward to strike him.

Sanātana's embarrassment —

সনাতন তাঁরে জানি' লজ্জিত হইলা ।
বলিতে লাগিলা পণ্ডিত, হাণ্ডি চুলাতে ধরিলা ॥ ৫৫ ॥

sanātana tāṁre jāni' lajjita hailā Sanātana him understanding abashed became balite lāgilā paṇḍita, hāṇḍi culāte dharilā to speak began the Paṇḍita the pot on the stove set

55 Sanātana, understanding him, was abashed. The Paṇḍita set the pot back on the stove and began to speak:

Anubhāṣya.
Jāni — having let him know; or else, knowing that the Paṇḍita was full of love for Gaura.

The Paṇḍita rebukes Sanātana —

তুমি মহাপ্রভুর হও পার্ষদ-প্রধান । তোমা-সম মহাপ্রভুর প্রিয় নাহি আন ॥ ৫৬ ॥

tumi mahāprabhura hao pārṣada-pradhāna
you of Mahāprabhu are of the associates the chief tomā-sama mahāprabhura priya nāhi āna
like you to Mahāprabhu dear there is not another

56 "You are one of Mahāprabhu's chief associates. No one else is as dear to Him as you.

অন্য সন্ন্যাসীর বস্ত্র তুমি ধর শিরে । কোন্ ঐছে হয়, — ইহা পারে সহিবারে ? ॥ ৫৭ ॥

anya sannyāsīra vastra tumi dhara śire
another sannyāsī's cloth you wear on the head kon aiche haya, — ihā pāre sahibāre?
who such is this can tolerate

57 Yet you wear another sannyāsī's cloth on your head! Who could tolerate such a thing?"

The humility of Sanātana Gosvāmī, who seeks no honor, gives honor to others and is supremely self-possessed, and his praise of the Paṇḍita's steadfast love for Gaura —

সনাতন কহে — সাধু পণ্ডিত-মহাশয় !
তোমা-সব চৈতন্যের প্রিয় কেহ নয় ॥ ৫৮ ॥

sanātana kahe — sādhu paṇḍita-mahāśaya!
Sanātana says saintly Paṇḍita great soul
tomā-saba caitanyera priya keha naya
like you to Caitanya dear anyone is not

58 Sanātana said, "O saintly Paṇḍita, great soul! No one is as dear to Caitanya as you.

ঐছে চৈতন্যনিষ্ঠা যোগ্য তোমাতে । তুমি না দেখাইলে ইহা শিখিমু কেমতে ? ॥ ৫৯ ॥

aiche caitanya-niṣṭhā yogya tomāte
such firm faith in Caitanya befits you tumi nā dekhāile ihā śikhimu ke-mate?
you not had shown this shall I learn how 59 Such steadfast faith in Caitanya befits you. If you had not shown it, how would I ever learn it?

Sanātana tests the Paṇḍita's love and sees it with his own eyes —

যাহা দেখিবারে বস্ত্র মস্তকে বান্ধিলুঁ । সেই অপূর্ব্ব প্রেম এই প্রত্যক্ষ দেখিলুঁ ॥ ৬০ ॥

yāhā dekhibāre vastra mastake bāndhiluṁ which in order to see the cloth on my head I tied sei apūrva prema ei pratyakṣa dekhiluṁ
that unprecedented love this directly I have seen

60 I tied the cloth on my head in order to see this, and now I have seen that unprecedented love with my own eyes.

*A paramahaṁsa on the path of rāga is forbidden to wear saffron cloth —*

রক্তবস্ত্র 'বৈষ্ণবের' পরিতে না যুয়ায় । কোন প্রবাসীরে দিমু, কি কায উহায় ? ॥ ৬১ ॥

rakta-vastra 'vaiṣṇavera' parite nā yuyāya
red cloth for a Vaiṣṇava to wear not is fitting kona pravāsīre dimu, ki kāya uhāya?
to some stranger I shall give what use in it

61 It is not fitting for a Vaiṣṇava to wear red cloth. I shall give it to some stranger—what use is it to me?"

Anubhāṣya.
Vaiṣṇavas are paramahaṁsas and akiñcanas (they have nothing but Kṛṣṇa). Therefore they need not wear the saffron (gairika) cloth worn by sannyāsīs who follow the scriptural rules (vaidha-sannyāsīs) in order to indicate or display their paramahaṁsa status. All the more so because Śrī Gaurahari, the Supreme Lord who has no equal, accepted the dress of an ekadaṇḍī. So the servants who have taken shelter at His feet think of themselves as His servants and remember the distinction [between the Lord and His servant] in the transcendental spiritual play (cid-vilāsa): they do not consider it proper or right to make themselves equal to Him in dress. The servants of the Vaiṣṇavas who accept sannyāsa while remaining under the shelter of their guru, a paramahaṁsa Vaiṣṇava, consider themselves unfit to claim the seat of a paramahaṁsa Vaiṣṇava, which lies beyond varṇāśrama. Therefore, to show their humility, they often wear saffron (kāṣāya) cloth and the like, which befits the fourth āśrama (turyāśrama) but does not befit a guru-Vaiṣṇava.

*The food is offered to the Lord, and the two honor prasāda together —*

পাক করি' জগদানন্দ চৈতন্যে সমর্পিলা । দুইজন বসি' তবে প্রসাদ পাইলা ॥ ৬২ ॥

pāka kari' jagadānanda caitanye samarpilā cooking having done Jagadānanda to Caitanya offered dui-jana vasi' tabe prasāda pāilā
the two sitting then prasāda took

62 When he had finished cooking, Jagadānanda offered the food to Caitanya, and then the two sat down and honoured the prasāda.

Both weep in separation from the Lord —

প্রসাদ পাই দুইজনে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন । চৈতন্যবিরহে দুঁহে করিলা ক্রন্দন ॥ ৬৩ ॥

prasāda pāi dui-jane kailā āliṅgana
prasāda taking the two made embrace caitanya-virahe duṁhe karilā krandana
from Caitanya in separation both did weeping

63 After taking prasāda they embraced, and both wept in separation from Caitanya.

Both feel separation from Gaura —

এইমত মাস দুই রহিলা বৃন্দাবনে । চৈতন্যবিরহ-দুঃখ না যায় সহনে ॥ ৬৪ ॥

ei-mata māsa dui rahilā vṛndāvane
in this way months two stayed in Vṛndāvana
caitanya-viraha-duḥkha nā yāya sahane
from Caitanya separation the sorrow not could be borne

64 In this way he stayed in Vṛndāvana for two months, but the sorrow of separation from Caitanya was more than he could bear.

News that the Lord will come, and an order to choose a place for Him —

মহাপ্রভুর সন্দেশ কহিলা সনাতনে । আমিহ আসিতেছি, রহিতে করিহ একস্থানে ॥ ৬৫ ॥

mahāprabhura sandeśa kahilā sanātane
of Mahāprabhu the message told to Sanātana
āmiha āsitechi, rahite kariha eka-sthāne
I too am coming to stay prepare one place

65 He gave Sanātana Mahāprabhu's message: "I too am coming. Prepare a place for Me to stay."

Jagadānanda takes his leave and receives the gifts Sanātana sends to the Lord —

জগদানন্দ-পণ্ডিত তবে আজ্ঞা মাগিলা । সনাতন প্রভুরে কিছু ভেটবস্তু দিলা ॥ ৬৬ ॥

jagadānanda-paṇḍita tabe ājñā māgilā Jagadānanda Paṇḍita then leave asked sanātana prabhure kichu bheṭa-vastu dilā Sanātana for the Lord some gifts gave

66 Then Jagadānanda Paṇḍita asked leave to go, and Sanātana gave him some gifts for the Lord.

রাসস্থলীর বালু আর গোবর্দ্ধনের শিলা । শুষ্ক পক্ক পীলুফল আর গুঞ্জামালা ॥ ৬৭ ॥

rāsa-sthalīra vālu āra govarddhanera śilā
of the rāsa place the sand and of Govardhana a stone
śuṣka pakka pīlu-phala āra guñjā-mālā
dried ripe pīlu fruits and guñjā garland

67 He sent sand from the site of the rāsa dance, a stone from Govardhana, dried ripe pīlu fruits and a garland of guñjā seeds.

The Paṇḍita sets out for Purī; Sanātana sends him off with pain —

জগদানন্দ-পণ্ডিত চলিলা সব লঞা । ব্যাকুল হৈলা সনাতন তাঁরে বিদায় দিয়া ॥ ৬৮ ॥

jagadānanda-paṇḍita calilā saba lañā Jagadānanda Paṇḍita set out all taking vyākula hailā sanātana tāṁre vidāya diyā distraught became Sanātana him farewell giving

68 Jagadānanda Paṇḍita set out with all these things, and Sanātana was distraught as he bade him farewell.

*A temple (maṭha) on the Dvādaśāditya mound is chosen as the Lord's residence and put in order —*

প্রভুর নিমিত্ত একস্থান মনে বিচরিলা । দ্বাদশাদিত্য-টিলায় এক 'মঠ' পাইলা ॥ ৬৯ ॥

prabhura nimitta eka-sthāna mane vicarilā
of the Lord for the sake one place in mind considered dvādaśāditya-ṭilāya eka 'maṭha' pāilā
on the Dvādaśāditya mound one maṭha found

69 Sanātana thought of a place for the Lord and found a temple (maṭha) on the Dvādaśāditya mound.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Dvādaśāditya-ṭilā — the high mound on which the old, ruined temple of Śrī Madana-mohana stands is called "Dvādaśa-āditya-ṭilā." During Kṛṣṇa's pastimes the twelve Ādityas rose at that place.

Anubhāṣya.
Maṭha — a temple (devālaya).

সেই স্থান রাখিলা গোসাঞি সংস্কার করিয়া । মঠের আগে রাখিলা এক চালি বান্ধিয়া ॥ ৭০ ॥

sei sthāna rākhilā gosāñi saṁskāra kariyā that place kept the Gosāñi repair making maṭhera āge rākhilā eka cāli bāndhiyā
of the temple in front set up one thatched shed building

70 The Gosāñi repaired that place and kept it ready, and in front of the temple he built a thatched shed.

The Paṇḍita comes to Purī and meets the Lord and His associates —

শীঘ্র চলি' নীলাচলে গেলা জগদানন্দ । ভক্ত সহ গোসাঞি হৈলা পরম আনন্দ ॥ ৭১ ॥

śīghra cali' nīlācale gelā jagadānanda quickly going to Nīlācala went Jagadānanda
bhakta saha gosāñi hailā parama ānanda
the devotees with the Lord became supremely joyful

71 Jagadānanda went quickly back to Nīlācala, and the Lord, together with the devotees, was overjoyed.

প্রভুর চরণ বন্দি' সবারে মিলিলা । মহাপ্রভু তাঁরে দৃঢ় আলিঙ্গন কৈলা ॥ ৭২ ॥

prabhura caraṇa vandi' sabāre mililā
the Lord's feet honouring with all he met mahāprabhu tāṁre dṛḍha āliṅgana kailā Mahāprabhu him tight embrace gave

72 He bowed to the Lord's feet and met everyone, and Mahāprabhu embraced him tightly.

The Paṇḍita conveys Sanātana's obeisances to the Lord and presents his gifts —

সনাতনের নামে পণ্ডিত দণ্ডবৎ কৈলা । রাসস্থলীর ধূলি আদি সব ভেট দিলা ॥ ৭৩ ॥

sanātanera nāme paṇḍita daṇḍavat kailā Sanātana's in the name the Paṇḍita obeisance made rāsa-sthalīra dhūli ādi saba bheṭa dilā of the place of the rāsa dust and so on all gifts gave 73 In Sanātana's name the Paṇḍita offered obeisance to the Lord, and he presented all the gifts—dust from the site of the rāsa dance and the rest.

*A līlā: the devotees eat pīlu fruits —*

সব দ্রব্য রাখিলেন, পীলু দিলেন বাঁটিয়া ।
'বৃন্দাবনের ফল' বলি' খাইলা হৃষ্ট হঞা ॥ ৭৪ ॥

saba dravya rākhilena, pīlu dilena bāṁṭiyā
all the things He kept, the pīlu He gave distributing
'vṛndāvanera phala' bali' khāilā hṛṣṭa haña of Vṛndāvana fruit saying they ate delighted becoming

74 The Lord kept all the gifts but distributed the pīlu fruits, and everyone ate them with delight, calling them "the fruit of Vṛndāvana."

যে কেহ জানে, আঁটি চুষিতে লাগিল । যে না জানে গৌড়ীয়া, পীলু চাবাঞা খাইল ॥ ৭৫ ॥

ye keha jāne, āṁṭi cuṣite lāgila
who anyone knew, the stones to suck began ye nā jāne gauḍīyā, pīlu cāvāñā khāila
who not knew, the Gauḍīyās, the pīlu chewing ate

75 Those who knew the fruit began to suck the stones, but the Gauḍīyās who did not know it chewed the pīlu and swallowed it.

মুখে তার ঝাল গেল, জিহ্বা করে জ্বালা । বৃন্দাবনের 'পীলু' খাইতে এই এক লীলা ॥ ৭৬ ॥

mukhe tāra jhāla gela, jihvā kare jvālā
in the mouth their pungency went, the tongue does burning vṛndāvanera 'pīlu' khāite ei eka līlā
of Vṛndāvana pīlu in eating this one līlā

76 Their mouths were stung with pungency, and their tongues burned. Such was the pastime of eating the pīlu of Vṛndāvana.

Jagadānanda's return from Vṛndāvana delights everyone —

জগদানন্দের আগমনে সবার উল্লাস । এইমতে নীলাচলে প্রভুর বিলাস ॥ ৭৭ ॥

jagadānandera āgamane sabāra ullāsa Jagadānanda's at the coming of all the joy ei-mate nīlācale prabhura vilāsa
in this way at Nīlācala the Lord's pastimes

77 Everyone rejoiced at Jagadānanda's return. Thus the Lord enjoyed His pastimes at Nīlācala.

*The account of the Lord and the devadāsī who sang in the gurjarī rāgiṇī —*

একদিন প্রভু যমেশ্বর-টোটা যাইতে । সেইকালে দেবদাসী লাগিলা গাইতে ॥ ৭৮ ॥

eka-dina prabhu yameśvara-ṭoṭā yāite
one day the Lord to Yameśvara-ṭoṭā while going sei-kāle deva-dāsī lāgilā gāite
at that time a devadāsī began to sing

78 One day, as the Lord was going to Yameśvara-ṭoṭā, a devadāsī of the temple began to sing.

গুর্জ্জরীরাগিণী লঞা সুমধুর-স্বরে ।
'গীতগোবিন্দ'-পদ গায় জগমন হরে ॥ ৭৯ ॥

gurjjarī-rāgiṇī lañā sumadhura-svare
the Gurjarī rāgiṇī taking in a very sweet voice
'gīta-govinda'-pada gāya jaga-mana hare of the Gīta-govinda a song she sings of the world the mind steals

79 Taking up the Gurjarī rāgiṇī, she was singing a song from the Gīta-govinda in a very sweet voice, and it captivated the mind of the whole world.

দূরে গান শুনি' প্রভুর হইল আবেশ ।
স্ত্রী, পুরুষ, কে গায়, — না জানি' বিশেষ ॥ ৮০ ॥

dūre gāna śuni' prabhura haila āveśa
from afar the song hearing the Lord's arose absorption
strī, puruṣa, ke gāya, — nā jāni' viśeṣa woman, man, who sings not knowing specifically

80 Hearing the song from afar, the Lord was lost in ecstatic love and could not tell who was singing, a woman or a man.

তারে মিলিবারে প্রভু আবেশে ধাইলা । পথে 'সিজের বাড়ী' লয়, ফুটিয়া চলিলা ॥ ৮১ ॥

tāre milibāre prabhu āveśe dhāilā
the singer to meet the Lord in ecstasy ran pathe 'sijera bāḍī' laya, phuṭiyā calilā on the way sij hedge He takes, piercing through He went 81 In His ecstasy the Lord ran to meet the singer. On the way He went straight into a hedge of sij shrubs and forced His way through it.[4]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Sijera bāḍī. In Utkala a flower garden is called a phul-bāḍī. Sij shrubs grow there, that is, the manasā-sij and the thorny sij; these are called a sijera bāḍī. Here bāḍī means a hedge.

To protect the Lord, who has lost Himself, Govinda runs after Him —

অঙ্গে কাঁটা লাগিল, কিছু না জানিলা !
আস্তে-ব্যস্তে গোবিন্দ তাঁর পাছেতে ধাইলা ॥ ৮২ ॥

aṅge kāṁṭā lāgila, kichu nā jānilā!
in the body thorns pierced, anything not He knew āste-vyaste govinda tāṁra pāchete dhāilā
in great haste Govinda Him behind ran

82 Thorns pierced His body, but He knew nothing of it! In great haste Govinda ran after Him.

Govinda warns the Lord and brings Him back to external consciousness —

ধাঞা যায়েন প্রভু, স্ত্রী আছে অল্প দূরে ।
'স্ত্রীগান' বলি' গোবিন্দ প্রভুরে কৈলা কোলে ॥ ৮৩ ॥

dhāñā yāyena prabhu, strī āche alpa dūre running goes the Lord, the woman is a little away
'strī-gāna' bali' govinda prabhure kailā kole
a woman's song saying Govinda the Lord took in his arms

83 The Lord was running on, and the woman was only a little way off, when Govinda caught Him in his arms, crying, "It is a woman singing!"

*The Lord, filled with the mood of the āśraya (the abode of love), is the ācārya, the teacher of the world; refutation of the "Gaura-nāgara" doctrine; the Lord turns back —*

স্ত্রী-নাম শুনি' প্রভুর বাহ্য হইলা । পুনরপি সেই পথে বাহুড়ি' চলিলা ॥ ৮৪ ॥

strī-nāma śuni' prabhura bāhya hailā woman the word hearing the Lord's external awareness came punarapi sei pathe bāhuḍi' calilā again by that way turning back went

84 Hearing the word "woman," the Lord came back to external consciousness and returned the way He had come.

*Touching or associating with a woman is death for an ācārya or a preacher, and so must be avoided in every way: expressing His gratitude to Govinda, the Lord gives this lesson —*

প্রভু কহে, — গোবিন্দ, আজি রাখিলা জীবন । স্ত্রী-পরশ হৈলে আমার হইত মরণ ॥ ৮৫ ॥

prabhu kahe, — govinda, āji rākhilā jīvana
the Lord says Govinda, today you saved life
strī-paraśa haile āmāra haita maraṇa
woman's touch if it had been My would have been death

85 The Lord said, "Govinda, today you have saved My life. Had I touched a woman, it would have been My death.

An unpayable debt to Govinda; the surrendered Govinda regards Jagannātha alone as the protector —

এ ঋণ শোধিতে আমি নারিমু তোমার । গোবিন্দ কহে, — জগন্নাথ রাখেন মুই কোন্ ছার ? ॥ ৮৬ ॥

e ṛṇa śodhite āmi nārimu tomāra
this debt to repay I shall not be able to you govinda kahe, — jagannātha rākhena mui kon chāra?
Govinda says Jagannātha protects I what insignificant one

86 I shall never be able to repay this debt to you." Govinda replied, "It is Jagannātha who protects. What am I? I am nothing."

The Lord asks Govinda to stay with Him at all times —

প্রভু কহে, — গোবিন্দ, মোর সঙ্গে রহিবা । যাঁহা তাঁহা মোর রক্ষায় সাবধান হইবা ॥ ৮৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — govinda, mora saṅge rahibā
the Lord says Govinda, Me with stay yāṁhā tāṁhā mora rakṣāya sāvadhāna haibā wherever there My in protecting careful be

87 The Lord said, "Govinda, stay with Me. Wherever I go, be watchful and protect Me."

Hearing the news and remembering the Lord's condition, Svarūpa and the others grow anxious —

এত বলি' লেউটি' প্রভু গেলা নিজ-স্থানে । শুনি' মহা-ভয় পাইলা স্বরূপাদি-মনে ॥ ৮৮ ॥

eta bali' leuṭi' prabhu gelā nija-sthāne
this saying turning back the Lord went to His own place
śuni' mahā-bhaya pāilā svarūpādi-mane hearing great fear felt Svarūpa and others in mind

88 Saying this, the Lord turned back and went to His residence. Hearing of it, Svarūpa and the others were greatly alarmed at heart.

*The account of Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa Gosvāmī; his līlā as a naiṣṭhika-brahmacārī, keeping the great vow (bṛhad-vrata) from his youth —*

এথা তপনমিশ্র-পুত্র রঘুনাথ-ভট্টাচার্য্য । প্রভুরে দেখিতে চলিলা ছাড়ি' সর্ব্ব কার্য্য ॥ ৮৯ ॥

ethā tapana-miśra-putra raghunātha-bhaṭṭācārya
meanwhile Tapana Miśra's son Raghunātha Bhaṭṭācārya
prabhure dekhite calilā chāḍi' sarva kārya
the Lord to see set out leaving all affairs

89 Meanwhile Raghunātha Bhaṭṭācārya, the son of Tapana Miśra, left all his affairs and set out to see the Lord.

With a servant, Raghunātha travels to Purī by the road through Gauḍa —

কাশী হৈতে চলিলা তেঁহো গৌড় পথ দিয়া । সঙ্গে সেবক চলে তাঁর ঝালি বহিয়া ॥ ৯০ ॥

kāśī haite calilā teṁho gauḍa patha diyā Kāśī from set out he of Gauḍa the road by saṅge sevaka cale tāṁra jhāli vahiyā with him a servant goes his bag carrying

90 He travelled from Kāśī by the road through Gauḍa, and a servant went with him, carrying his bag.[5]

On the way he meets Rāmadāsa Viśvāsa, who is also going to Purī —

পথে তারে মিলিলা বিশ্বাস-রামদাস । বিশ্বাসখানার কায়স্থ তেঁহো রাজার বিশ্বাস ॥ ৯১ ॥

pathe tāre mililā viśvāsa-rāmadāsa
on the way him met Viśvāsa Rāmadāsa
viśvāsa-khānāra kāyastha teṁho rājāra viśvāsa
of the Viśvāsa-khānā a kāyastha he of the king trusted officer

91 On the way he was met by Rāmadāsa Viśvāsa, a kāyastha of the Viśvāsa-khānā and a trusted officer of the king.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Viśvāsa-khānāra kāyastha. The accounts office of the ruler of Gauḍa was called the Viśvāsa-khānā. Kāyasthas worked there, because the king trusted them.

*Rāmadāsa belongs to the Rāmānandī sampradāya (he is a Rāmāyet) —*

সর্ব্বশাস্ত্রে প্রবীণ, কাব্যপ্রকাশ-অধ্যাপক । পরমবৈষ্ণব, রঘুনাথ-উপাসক ॥ ৯২ ॥

sarva-śāstre pravīṇa, kāvya-prakāśa-adhyāpaka
in all scriptures expert, of the Kāvya-prakāśa teacher parama-vaiṣṇava, raghunātha-upāsaka
a great Vaiṣṇava, of Raghunātha worshipper

92 He was learned in all the scriptures and taught the Kāvya-prakāśa; he was a great Vaiṣṇava and a worshipper of Raghunātha (Rāma).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Parama-vaiṣṇava. One who at heart longs for liberation (a mumukṣu) is not counted among pure Vaiṣṇavas. In fact, since Rāmadāsa worshipped Rāma, he may be called “almost a Vaiṣṇava” (vaiṣṇava-prāya). But in those days many were unable[10] to distinguish the grades of pure Vaiṣṇavas, and so Śrī Rāmadāsa, born in a kāyastha family, was known in the world as a parama-vaiṣṇava (a great Vaiṣṇava).

Anubhāṣya.
The Kāvya-prakāśa is a well-known treatise on poetic ornament (an alaṅkāra-grantha) composed by Mammaṭa Bhaṭṭa.

অষ্টপ্রহর রামনাম জপেন রাত্রি-দিনে । সর্ব্ব ত্যজি’ চলিলা জগন্নাথ-দরশনে ॥ ৯৩ ॥

aṣṭa-prahara rāma-nāma japena rātri-dine eight praharas Rāma’s name he chants night and day
sarva tyaji’ calilā jagannātha-daraśane
all giving up he set out Jagannātha to see

93 Night and day, through all eight praharas, he chanted the name of Rāma. Giving up everything, he had set out to see Jagannātha.

Rāmadāsa serves Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa Prabhu —

রঘুনাথ-ভট্টের সনে পথেতে মিলিলা । ভট্টের ঝালি মাথে করি' বহিয়া চলিলা ॥ ৯৪ ॥

raghunātha-bhaṭṭera sane pathete mililā Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa with on the way he met bhaṭṭera jhāli māthe kari' vahiyā calilā
the Bhaṭṭa's bag on his head putting carrying went 94 Meeting Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa on the way, he carried the Bhaṭṭa's bag on his head as they went.

নানা সেবা করি' করে পাদ-সম্বাহন । তাতে রঘুনাথের হয় সঙ্কুচিত মন ॥ ৯৫ ॥

nānā sevā kari' kare pāda-samvāhana various services doing does feet massaging tāte raghunāthera haya saṅkucita mana
by that Raghunātha's becomes embarrassed mind

95 He rendered various services and massaged his feet, and this made Raghunātha uneasy at heart.

*Raghunātha objects to accepting service from a paṇḍita —*

তুমি বড় লোক, পণ্ডিত, মহাভাগবতে । সেবা না করিহ, সুখে চল মোর সাথে ॥ ৯৬ ॥

tumi baḍa loka, paṇḍita, mahā-bhāgavate
you a great man, a paṇḍita, a great bhāgavata sevā nā kariha, sukhe cala mora sāthe service not do, happily walk me with

96 "You are a great man, a paṇḍita, a mahā-bhāgavata. Do not serve me; just walk happily with me."

*Rāmadāsa's humble words; serving a Vaiṣṇava brāhmaṇa is his joy —*

রামদাস কহে, — আমি শূদ্র অধম !
'ব্রাহ্মণের সেবা', — এই মোর নিজ-ধর্ম্ম ॥ ৯৭ ॥

rāmadāsa kahe, — āmi śūdra adhama!
Rāmadāsa says I a śūdra lowly 'brāhmaṇera sevā', — ei mora nija-dharma
of the brāhmaṇa service this my own dharma

97 Rāmadāsa said, "I am a lowly śūdra! To serve a brāhmaṇa is my own dharma.

সঙ্কোচ না কর তুমি, আমি — তোমার 'দাস' । তোমার সেবা করিলে হয় হৃদয়ে উল্লাস ॥ ৯৮ ॥

saṅkoca nā kara tumi, āmi — tomāra 'dāsa'
hesitation not do you, I your servant
tomāra sevā karile haya hṛdaye ullāsa
your service doing there is in the heart joy

98 Do not feel uneasy: I am your servant. When I serve you, my heart is filled with joy."

Rāmadāsa chants Rāma's name without cease —

এত বলি' ঝালি বহেন, করেন সেবনে । রঘুনাথের তারকমন্ত্র জপেন রাত্রি-দিনে ॥ ৯৯ ॥

eta bali' jhāli vahena, karena sevane
this saying the bag he carries, does service
raghunāthera tāraka-mantra japena rātri-dine Raghunātha's delivering mantra he chants night and day

99 Saying this, he carried the bag and served him, and night and day he chanted the tāraka-mantra of Raghunātha (Rāma), the mantra that delivers.

Raghunātha comes to Purī and bows to the Lord; the Lord embraces him —

এইমতে রঘুনাথ আইলা নীলাচলে । প্রভুর চরণে যাঞা মিলিলা কুতূহলে ॥ ১০০ ॥

ei-mate raghunātha āilā nīlācale
in this way Raghunātha came to Nīlācala
prabhura caraṇe yāñā mililā kutūhale
the Lord's at the feet going met with eager joy

100 In this way Raghunātha came to Nīlācala; he went to the Lord's feet and met Him with eager joy.

দণ্ডপরণাম করি' ভট্ট পড়িলা চরণে । প্রভু 'রঘুনাথ' বলি' কৈলা আলিঙ্গনে ॥ ১০১ ॥

daṇḍa-paraṇāma kari' bhaṭṭa paḍilā caraṇe
rod-like obeisance making the Bhaṭṭa fell at the feet
prabhu 'raghunātha' bali' kailā āliṅgane
the Lord Raghunātha saying did embrace

101 The Bhaṭṭa fell flat at His feet in obeisance, and the Lord embraced him, calling him by name: "Raghunātha!"[6]

Raghunātha conveys to the Lord's feet the obeisances of Tapana Miśra and Candraśekhara; Bhagavān asks after the welfare of His devotees —

মিশ্র আর শেখরের দণ্ডবৎ জানাইলা । মহাপ্রভু তাঁ-সবার বার্ত্তা পুছিলা ॥ ১০২ ॥

miśra āra śekharera daṇḍavat jānāilā of Miśra and Śekhara the obeisances he conveyed mahāprabhu tāṁ-sabāra vārtā puchilā Mahāprabhu of them all news asked

102 He conveyed the obeisances of Miśra and Śekhara, and Mahāprabhu asked for news of them all.

Anubhāṣya.
Miśra and Śekhara — Tapana Miśra and Candraśekhara.

*The Lord tells Raghunātha to go for darśana of Jagannātha and invites him to His own place —*

ভাল হইল আইলা দেখ 'কমললোচন' । আজি আমার এথা করিবা প্রসাদ ভোজন ॥ ১০৩ ॥

bhāla haila āilā dekha ‘kamala-locana’
good it is you came, see the lotus-eyed (Jagannātha)
āji āmāra ethā karibā prasāda bhojana
today My here you will do prasāda eating

103 “It is good that you have come. Go and see the lotus-eyed Lord (Jagannātha), and today you will take prasāda here with Me.”

The Lord gives him lodging and introduces him to Svarūpa and the other devotees —

গোবিন্দেরে কহি’ এক বাসা দেওয়াইলা । স্বরূপাদি ভক্তগণ-সনে মিলাইলা ॥ ১০৪ ॥

govindere kahi’ eka vāsā deoyāilā to Govinda telling a lodging had given svarūpādi bhakta-gaṇa-sane milāilā
Svarūpa and others devotees with He introduced

104 Through Govinda the Lord arranged lodging for him and introduced him to Svarūpa and the other devotees.

Eight months with the Lord; Raghunātha receives His affectionate mercy —

এইমত প্রভু-সঙ্গে রহিলা অষ্টমাস । দিনে দিনে প্রভুর কৃপা বাড়য়ে উল্লাস ॥ ১০৫ ॥

ei-mata prabhu-saṅge rahilā aṣṭa-māsa
in this way the Lord with stayed eight months
dine dine prabhura kṛpā bāḍaye ullāsa day by day the Lord’s mercy increases joy

105 In this way he stayed with the Lord for eight months, and day by day the Lord’s mercy and his joy increased.[7]

Raghunātha invites the Lord to his own place —

মধ্যে মধ্যে মহাপ্রভুর করেন নিমন্ত্রণ । ঘর-ভাত করেন, আর বিবিধ ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ১০৬ ॥

madhye madhye mahāprabhura karena nimantraṇa
from time to time Mahāprabhu’s he makes invitation
ghara-bhāta karena, āra vividha vyañjana
home-cooked rice he makes, and various vegetable dishes

106 From time to time he would invite Mahāprabhu and cook rice and various vegetable dishes at his home.

Raghunātha is a master at cooking offerings that put nectar to shame —

রঘুনাথ-ভট্ট — পাকে অতি-সুনিপুণ । যেই রান্ধে, সেই হয় অমৃতের সম ॥ ১০৭ ॥

raghunātha-bhaṭṭa — pāke ati-sunipuṇa Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa in cooking very expert yei rāndhe, sei haya amṛtera sama whatever he cooks, that becomes nectar like

107 Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa was highly expert in cooking; whatever he cooked became like nectar.

Bhaṭṭa Gosvāmī receives the Lord's remnants —

পরম সন্তোষে প্রভু করেন ভোজন । প্রভুর অবশিষ্ট-পাত্র ভট্টের ভক্ষণ ॥ ১০৮ ॥

parama santoṣe prabhu karena bhojana with great satisfaction the Lord does eating prabhura avaśiṣṭa-pātra bhaṭṭera bhakṣaṇa
the Lord's remnants plate the Bhaṭṭa's eating

108 With great satisfaction the Lord would eat, and the Bhaṭṭa would take the remnants left on His plate.

*Although Rāmadāsa met the Lord, the Lord, the Indwelling Lord (Antaryāmī), remains indifferent to him —*

রামদাস যদি প্রথম প্রভুরে মিলিলা । মহাপ্রভু অধিক তাঁরে কৃপা না করিলা ॥ ১০৯ ॥

rāmadāsa yadi prathama prabhure mililā Rāmadāsa when first the Lord met mahāprabhu adhika tāṁre kṛpā nā karilā Mahāprabhu much to him mercy not showed

109 When Rāmadāsa first met the Lord, Mahāprabhu did not show him much mercy.

The reason for the indifference —

অন্তরে মুমুক্ষু তেঁহো, বিদ্যা-গর্ব্ববান্ । সর্ব্বচিত্ত-জ্ঞাতা প্রভু — সর্ব্বজ্ঞ ভগবান্ ॥ ১১০ ॥

antare mumukṣu teṁho, vidyā-garvavān
at heart desiring liberation he, of learning proud sarva-citta-jñātā prabhu — sarvajña bhagavān
all hearts knower the Lord omniscient Bhagavān

110 At heart he desired liberation, and he was proud of his learning. The Lord knows every heart: He is Bhagavān, who knows all.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The desire for liberation and pride in learning — these two faults kept Rāmadāsa from becoming a "pure Vaiṣṇava."

Thus ends the thirteenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Rāmadāsa teaches poetics —

রামদাস কৈলা তবে নীলাচলে বাস । পট্টনায়ক-গোষ্ঠীকে পড়ায় 'কাব্যপ্রকাশ' ॥ ১১১ ॥

rāmadāsa kailā tabe nīlācale vāsa Rāmadāsa made then at Nīlācala residence paṭṭanāyaka-goṣṭhīke paḍāya 'kāvya-prakāśa'
to the Paṭṭanāyaka family teaches Kāvya-prakāśa

111 Rāmadāsa then settled at Nīlācala and taught the Kāvya-prakāśa to the Paṭṭanāyaka family.

Anubhāṣya.
Paṭṭanāyaka-goṣṭhī — the descendants of Bhavānanda.

*Through Raghunātha the Lord tells the sādhaka who has no wish to enter household life and has not yet entered it to remain in his own position, and forbids him excess (atyāhāra), overendeavour (prayāsa), greed (laulya) and the* like, which are rooted in the craving for sense pleasure through association with women —

অষ্টমাস রহি' প্রভু ভট্টে বিদায় দিলা ।
'বিবাহ না করিহ' বলি' নিষেধ করিলা ॥ ১১২ ॥

aṣṭa-māsa rahi' prabhu bhaṭṭe vidāya dilā eight months staying the Lord to the Bhaṭṭa farewell gave
'vivāha nā kariha' bali' niṣedha karilā
marriage not make saying forbade

112 When he had stayed eight months, the Lord bade the Bhaṭṭa farewell and forbade him, saying, "Do not marry.

Anubhāṣya.

Śrī Mahāprabhu saw that Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa had not yet entered household life (saṁsāra) and was already devoted to Kṛṣṇa. So He forbade him to take a wife — which is excess (atyāhāra) — and to enter the saṁsāra of māyā, the house of enjoyment. Worldly people ruled by their wives, having taken up the dharma of the home-bound (gṛhavratas), often turn away from Kṛṣṇa's service: they are driven by the conceit that they are enjoying males (puruṣas) and by the urge to enjoy. Therefore their chance of attaining devotion to Hari is small.

*The Lord tells him to go back to Kāśī and serve the Vaiṣṇavas, and, for the sake of Kṛṣṇa's service, to study the spiritual Bhāgavatam only from a bhāgavata who is free of anarthas and intent on Kṛṣṇa's happiness —*

বৃদ্ধ মাতা-পিতার যাই' করহ সেবন । বৈষ্ণব-পাশ ভাগবত কর অধ্যয়ন ॥ ১১৩ ॥

vṛddha mātā-pitāra yāi' karaha sevana
aged mother father's going do service
vaiṣṇava-pāśa bhāgavata kara adhyayana
a Vaiṣṇava from the Bhāgavata do study

113 Go and serve your aged mother and father, and study the Bhāgavata under a Vaiṣṇava.

Anubhāṣya.

Here the ācārya, the teacher of the world and instructor of the people, through Śrī Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa told the sādhaka to serve his father and mother if they are Vaiṣṇavas wholly devoted to Gaura, the Supreme, and to serve them only in a way that helps his own service of Hari. He did not tell every servant who seeks to serve Kṛṣṇa to serve a father and mother who are averse to Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas. In this connection two verses should be considered. (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 5.5.18): "He is no guru, he is no kinsman, he is no father, she is no mother, that is no deity and he is no husband, who does not free from death one to whom it has drawn near." And: "One who desires bhakti, O sage, should perform only those acts, worldly or Vedic, that are favourable to service of Hari."[11]

Whoever goes to a non-Vaiṣṇava grammarian to read the Bhāgavatam will read and hear only a work of mundane poetry. For all such readers are themselves unable to grasp the purport of the Bhāgavatam, and so they enjoy saṁsāra — how could they free others from anarthas? The mahā-bhāgavata Vaiṣṇavas are freed from the bonds of home. Therefore they themselves become "bhāgavatas," know the true meaning of the Bhāgavatam, and by the power of bhakti are free from saṁsāra.

*The Lord tells him to come to Purī once more and gives him, as prasāda, the necklace from His own neck —*

পুনরপি একবার আসিহ নীলাচলে । এত বলি' কণ্ঠ-মালা দিলা তাঁর গলে ॥ ১১৪ ॥

punarapi eka-bāra āsiha nīlācale
again once more come to Nīlācala eta bali' kaṇṭha-mālā dilā tāṁra gale
this saying neck garland gave his on the neck

114 Come to Nīlācala once more." Saying this, the Lord took the garland from His own neck and placed it on him.

The Lord sends the Bhaṭṭa off; the Bhaṭṭa weeps in separation from the Lord —

আলিঙ্গন করি' প্রভু বিদায় তাঁরে দিলা । প্রেমে গর গর ভট্ট কান্দিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১১৫ ॥

āliṅgana kari' prabhu vidāya tāṁre dilā embrace making the Lord farewell to him gave preme gara gara bhaṭṭa kāndite lāgilā
with love overflowing the Bhaṭṭa to weep began

115 The Lord embraced him and sent him on his way, and the Bhaṭṭa, overflowing with love, began to weep.

Taking leave of the devotees, Raghunātha returns to Kāśī —

স্বরূপ-আদি ভক্ত ঠাঞি আজ্ঞা মাগিয়া । বারাণসী আইলা ভট্ট প্রভুর আজ্ঞা পাঞা ॥ ১১৬ ॥

svarūpa-ādi bhakta ṭhāñi ājñā māgiyā Svarūpa and others devotees from leave asking vārāṇasī āilā bhaṭṭa prabhura ājñā pāñā to Vārāṇasī came the Bhaṭṭa the Lord's permission receiving 116 Asking leave of Svarūpa and the other devotees, and having received the Lord's permission, the Bhaṭṭa came to Vārāṇasī.

*In Kāśī he studies the Bhāgavatam with a Vaiṣṇava paṇḍita —*

চারিবৎসর ঘরে পিতা-মাতার সেবা কৈলা । বৈষ্ণব-পণ্ডিত-ঠাঞি ভাগবত পড়িলা ॥ ১১৭ ॥

cāri-vatsara ghare pitā-mātāra sevā kailā
four years at home father mother's service did vaiṣṇava-paṇḍita-ṭhāñi bhāgavata paḍilā
a Vaiṣṇava paṇḍita from the Bhāgavata studied

117 For four years he served his father and mother at home, and he studied the Bhāgavata under a Vaiṣṇava paṇḍita.

When his parents have reached the Lord's abode, Raghunātha, detached from the world, comes to the Lord in Purī —

পিতা-মাতা কাশী পাইলে উদাসীন হঞা । পুনঃ প্রভুর ঠাঞি আইলা গৃহাদি ছাড়িয়া ॥ ১১৮ ॥

pitā-mātā kāśī pāile udāsīna haña father mother Kāśī when they attained detached becoming punaḥ prabhura ṭhāñi āilā gṛhādi chāḍiyā
again the Lord's to came home and all leaving

118 When his father and mother departed this world at Kāśī, he became detached, left house and home and came to the Lord again.

As before, Raghu stays eight months with the Lord; then the Lord tells him to go to Vraja and be with Rūpa and Sanātana —

পূর্ব্ববৎ অষ্টমাস প্রভু-পাশ ছিলা । অষ্টমাস রহি' পুনঃ প্রভু আজ্ঞা দিলা ॥ ১১৯ ॥

pūrvavat aṣṭa-māsa prabhu-pāśa chilā
as before eight months the Lord near he stayed aṣṭa-māsa rahi' punaḥ prabhu ājñā dilā eight months staying again the Lord order gave

119 As before, he stayed with the Lord for eight months, and when the eight months had passed, the Lord again gave him His order:

আমার আজ্ঞায়, রঘুনাথ, যাহ বৃন্দাবনে । তাঁহা যাঞা রহ রূপ-সনাতন-স্থানে ॥ ১২০ ॥

āmāra ājñāya, raghunātha, yāha vṛndāvane
My by order, Raghunātha, go to Vṛndāvana
tāṁhā yāñā raha rūpa-sanātana-sthāne
there going stay Rūpa Sanātana with 120 "Raghunātha, by My order go to Vṛndāvana. Go there and stay with Rūpa and Sanātana.

Instruction on what to do day by day in Vṛndāvana —

ভাগবত পড়, সদা লহ কৃষ্ণনাম । অচিরে করিবেন কৃপা কৃষ্ণ ভগবান্ ॥ ১২১ ॥

bhāgavata paḍa, sadā laha kṛṣṇa-nāma
the Bhāgavata read, always take Kṛṣṇa's name
acire karibena kṛpā kṛṣṇa bhagavān
soon will show mercy Kṛṣṇa Bhagavān

121 Read the Bhāgavata and always take the name of Kṛṣṇa. Very soon Kṛṣṇa, Bhagavān, will bestow His mercy on you."

The Lord embraces him in mercy; Raghunātha is maddened by love for Kṛṣṇa —

এত বলি' প্রভু তাঁরে আলিঙ্গন কৈলা । প্রভুর কৃপাতে কৃষ্ণপ্রেমে মত্ত হৈলা ॥ ১২২ ॥

eta bali' prabhu tāṁre āliṅgana kailā this saying the Lord him embrace gave prabhura kṛpāte kṛṣṇa-preme matta hailā
the Lord's by the mercy for Kṛṣṇa with love intoxicated became 122 Saying this, the Lord embraced him, and by His mercy Raghunātha became intoxicated with love for Kṛṣṇa.

*The Lord gives a tulasī-mālā for japa, and more —*

চৌদ্দ-হাত জগন্নাথের তুলসীর মালা । ছুটা-পান-বিড়া মহোৎসবে পাঞাছিলা ॥ ১২৩ ॥

caudda-hāta jagannāthera tulasīra mālā fourteen cubits Jagannātha's of tulasī mālā
chuṭā-pāna-viḍā mahotsave pāñāchilā
plain betel roll at a festival had received

123 At a festival the Lord had received Jagannātha's tulasī-mālā, fourteen cubits long, and a plain roll of betel (chuṭā-pāna-viḍā).

*Every day Raghunātha serves this mālā —*

সেই মালা, ছুটা-পান প্রভু তাঁরে দিলা ।
'ইষ্টদেব' করি' মালা ধরিয়া রাখিলা ॥ ১২৪ ॥

sei mālā, chuṭā-pāna prabhu tāṁre dilā that mālā, plain betel the Lord to him gave
'iṣṭa-deva' kari' mālā dhariyā rākhilā
worshipful Deity considering the mālā holding kept 124 The Lord gave him that mālā and the plain betel, and he kept the mālā, regarding it as his worshipful Deity (iṣṭa-deva).

Anubhāṣya.

Chuṭā-pāna-viḍā — betel (tāmbūla) by itself, without spices or other ingredients.

Coming to Vṛndāvana, Raghunātha lives with Rūpa and Sanātana —

প্রভুর ঠাঞি আজ্ঞা লঞা গেলা বৃন্দাবনে । আশ্রয় করিলা আসি' রূপ-সনাতনে ॥ ১২৫ ॥

prabhura ṭhāñi ājñā lañā gelā vṛndāvane
the Lord from permission taking went to Vṛndāvana
āśraya karilā āsi' rūpa-sanātane shelter took coming in Rūpa Sanātana

125 Taking the Lord's permission, he went to Vṛndāvana, and on arriving there he took shelter of Rūpa and Sanātana.

*Raghunātha, the best of the followers of Rūpa (rūpānugas), reads the Bhāgavatam before Śrī Rūpa Prabhu —*

রূপ-গোসাঞির সভায় করেন ভাগবত পঠন । ভাগবত পড়িতে প্রেমে আউলায় তাঁর মন ॥ ১২৬ ॥

rūpa-gosāñira sabhāya karena bhāgavata paṭhana Rūpa Gosvāmī's in the assembly does Bhāgavata reading bhāgavata paḍite preme āulāya tāṁra mana
the Bhāgavata while reading with love is overwhelmed his mind

126 In Rūpa Gosvāmī's assembly he would recite the Bhāgavata, and as he read, his mind would lose its hold, overwhelmed with love.

Anubhāṣya.

Āulāya — [the mind] loses its hold, grows slack, becomes agitated and restless, becomes mad.

*The eight sāttvika-bhāvas (spiritual transformations) appear in Raghunātha —*

অশ্রু, কম্প, গদগদ প্রভুর কৃপাতে । নেত্র রোধ করে বাষ্প, না পারেন পড়িতে ॥ ১২৭ ॥

aśru, kampa, gadagada prabhura kṛpāte
tears, trembling, faltering voice the Lord's by the mercy
netra rodha kare bāṣpa, nā pārena paḍite
the eyes blocking does tears, not he is able to read

127 By the Lord's mercy tears flowed, he trembled and his voice faltered; a mist veiled his eyes, and he could read no further.[8]

Bhaṭṭa Gosvāmī has a wonderful voice —

পিকস্বর-কণ্ঠ, তাতে রাগের বিভাগ । একশ্লোক পড়িতে ফিরায় তিন-চারি রাগ ॥ ১২৮ ॥

pika-svara-kaṇṭha, tāte rāgera vibhāga
cuckoo's voice throat, in it of rāgas variety
eka-śloka paḍite phirāya tina-cāri rāga
one verse while reading he changes three four rāgas

128 His voice was as sweet as the cuckoo's and rich in rāgas: in reading a single verse he would move through three or four of them.

Remembering Kṛṣṇa, Raghunātha forgets himself —

কৃষ্ণের সৌন্দর্য্য-মাধুর্য্য যবে পড়ে, শুনে । প্রেমেতে বিহ্বল তবে, কিছুই না জানে ॥ ১২৯ ॥

kṛṣṇera saundarya-mādhurya yabe paḍe, śune Kṛṣṇa's beauty sweetness when he reads, hears premete vihvala tabe, kichui nā jāne
with love overwhelmed then, anything not he knows

129 When he read or heard of Kṛṣṇa's beauty and sweetness, he was overwhelmed with love and knew nothing else.

For Raghunātha, Govinda is life itself —

গোবিন্দ-চরণে কৈলা আত্মসমর্পণ । গোবিন্দ-চরণারবিন্দ — যাঁর প্রাণধন ॥ ১৩০ ॥

govinda-caraṇe kailā ātma-samarpaṇa Govinda's at the feet made self surrender govinda-caraṇāravinda — yāṁra prāṇa-dhana
Govinda's feet lotus whose life's treasure

130 He surrendered himself at the feet of Govinda: Govinda's lotus feet were the treasure of his life.

Through his disciple he builds a temple for Govinda and makes ornaments for the Deity —

নিজ শিষ্যে কহি' গোবিন্দের মন্দির করাইলা । বংশী, মকর কুণ্ডলাদি 'ভূষণ' করি' দিলা ॥ ১৩১ ॥

nija śiṣye kahi' govindera mandira karāilā
his own disciple telling Govinda's temple had built vaṁśī, makara kuṇḍalādi 'bhūṣaṇa' kari' dilā flute, makara earrings and so on as ornaments making gave 131 Through his own disciple he had a temple built for Govinda, and he gave the Deity a flute, makara-shaped earrings and other ornaments.

*Śrī Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa Gosvāmī, the best of the mahā-bhāgavatas, the crest-jewel of the renounced —*

গ্রাম্যবার্ত্তা না শুনে, না কহে জিহ্বায় । কৃষ্ণকথা-পূজাদিতে অষ্টপ্রহর যায় ॥ ১৩২ ॥

grāmya-vārtā nā śune, nā kahe jihvāya
village talk not he hears, not speaks with the tongue
kṛṣṇa-kathā-pūjādite aṣṭa-prahara yāya
of Kṛṣṇa in talks worship and so on eight praharas pass

132 He would not listen to worldly talk, nor speak it with his tongue. All the eight praharas of his day passed in talks of Kṛṣṇa, worship and the like.

Raghunātha does not blame others; everywhere he sees and feels Kṛṣṇa's service —

বৈষ্ণবের নিন্দ্য-কর্ম্ম নাহি পাড়ে কাণে । সবে কৃষ্ণ ভজন করে, — এইমাত্র জানে ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

vaiṣṇavera nindya-karma nāhi pāḍe kāṇe of Vaiṣṇavas blameworthy deeds not he lets fall into the ears
sabe kṛṣṇa bhajana kare, — ei-mātra jāne
all Kṛṣṇa worship do this only he knows

133 He would not let the blameworthy deeds of a Vaiṣṇava reach his ears. “Everyone serves Kṛṣṇa”—this alone he knew.

Anubhāṣya.
Vaiṣṇavera nindya-karma — conduct by which a Vaiṣṇava ruins his Vaiṣṇava nature. These are two faults that oppose pure Vaiṣṇavism, that is, that are blameworthy for a Vaiṣṇava: aversion to Kṛṣṇa's service and association with women. The duty of a Vaiṣṇava ācārya is to protect by his instruction the Vaiṣṇava who has taken shelter of him and is eager to serve Hari, or one who has received his mercy: the ācārya must strive so that these two kinds of misconduct can in no way turn them away from bhajana. Raghunātha Bhaṭṭa did not try, as a bhāgavata of the middle stage (madhyama-adhikārī) would, to correct the blameworthy character of any faithless person. He knew that everyone serves Kṛṣṇa, that is: “Some accept Him and some do not, yet all are His servants. One who does not accept Him is destroyed by that very sin.” (CC, Ādi 6.83)

How Raghunātha remembers Kṛṣṇa —

মহাপ্রভুর দত্ত মালা মননের কালে । প্রসাদ-কড়ার-সহ বান্ধি’ লন গলে ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

mahāprabhura datta mālā mananera kāle
by Mahāprabhu given the mālā of remembrance at the time prasāda-kaḍāra-saha bāndhi’ lana gale
prasāda kaḍāra (sandal paste) together with tying puts on the neck

134 At the time of remembrance (smaraṇa) he would tie the mālā given by Mahāprabhu together with Jagannātha’s prasāda, the kaḍāra, and wear it around his neck.

Anubhāṣya.
Mananera kāle — at the time of remembrance (smaraṇa).

Raghunātha's unobstructed love for Kṛṣṇa —

মহাপ্রভুর কৃপায় কৃষ্ণপ্রেম অনর্গল । এই ত’ কহিলুঁ তাতে চৈতন্য-কৃপাফল ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

mahāprabhura kṛpāya kṛṣṇa-prema anargala Mahāprabhu’s by the mercy for Kṛṣṇa love unrestrained ei ta’ kahiluṁ tāte caitanya-kṛpā-phala
this indeed I have told in it Caitanya’s mercy fruit

135 By Mahāprabhu’s mercy his love for Kṛṣṇa flowed unrestrained. In this, as I have told, lies the fruit of Caitanya’s mercy.

A brief recapitulation of what this chapter has described —

জগদানন্দের কহিলুঁ বৃন্দাবনগমন ।
তার মধ্যে দেবদাসীর গান-শ্রবণ ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

মহাপ্রভুর রঘুনাথে কৃপা-মহাফল । একপরিচ্ছেদে তিন কথা কহিলুঁ সকল ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

jagadānandera kahiluṁ vṛndāvana-gamana Jagadānanda's I have told to Vṛndāvana going tāra madhye deva-dāsīra gāna-śravaṇa
that within the devadāsī's song hearing
mahāprabhura raghunāthe kṛpā-mahā-phala Mahāprabhu's on Raghunātha mercy great fruit
eka-paricchede tina kathā kahiluṁ sakala
in one chapter three topics I have told all

136–137 I have described Jagadānanda's journey to Vṛndāvana and, in the course of it, how the Lord heard the devadāsī's song, and how Mahāprabhu bestowed on Raghunātha the great fruit of His mercy. Thus in one chapter I have told all three stories.[9]

In one who hears about Gaura and Gaura's devotees, love for Kṛṣṇa awakens by Gaura's mercy —

যে এইসকল কথা শুনে শ্রদ্ধা করি' । তাঁরে কৃষ্ণপ্রেমধন দেন গৌরহরি ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

ye ei-sakala kathā śune śraddhā kari'
who these all narrations hears faith with tāṁre kṛṣṇa-prema-dhana dena gaurahari
to him Kṛṣṇa love wealth gives Gaurahari

138 To whoever hears all these narrations with faith, Gaurahari gives the wealth of love for Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.

Thus ends the thirteenth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

139 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. The same verse as Ādi 4.2 (= Ādi 1.18, 17.2, Antya 2.2, 4.2, 6.2); translation as there. ↩
2. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 1003) reads duḥkha bāhye, "his sorrow outwardly"; another reading is krodha-duḥkha, "anger and sorrow." ↩
3. Mathurāra svāmī-saba, "the lords of Mathurā." ↩
4. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 1006) reads laya, "He takes (the way through the hedge)"; another reading is haya. ↩
5. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 1007) reads vahiyā, "carrying"; another reading is sājāñā, "having packed." ↩
6. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 1007) reads bali', "saying"; another reading is jāni, "knowing (him)." ↩
7. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 1007) reads kṛpā, "mercy"; another reading is kṛpāya, "by the mercy." ↩

8. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 1009) reads netra rodha kare bāṣpa, “tears veil the eyes”; another reading is netra kaṇṭha rodhe bāṣpa, “tears choke the eyes and throat.” ↩
9. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 1010) reads kṛpā-mahā-phala, “the great fruit of mercy”; another reading is kṛpā-prema-phala, “love, the fruit of mercy.” ↩
10. The edition reads asakta (“unattached”); by the sense we read aśakta (“unable”). ↩
11. A saying of the Pañcarātra cited in the Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu (Pūrva-vibhāga, 2nd Laharī), as the Anubhāṣya itself states on Madhya 16.239. ↩

A Description of the Divine Madness: the Lord Hastens to Caṭaka Hill

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. This chapter describes Mahāprabhu's incoherent words (pralāpa) in adhirūḍha divyonmāda, the divine madness that seized Him in separation from Kṛṣṇa. Once, as the Lord stood by the Garuḍa pillar looking at Jagannātha, an old Oriyā woman put her foot on His shoulder and began to look [at Jagannātha] with great eagerness. Govinda set about stopping her, but Mahāprabhu praised her eagerness and displayed great love. Absorbed in prema, the Lord had been seeing Kṛṣṇa; but as soon as this incident with the woman took place, His external consciousness returned, and He saw not Kṛṣṇa but Jagannātha, Baladeva and Subhadrā. Having lost the sight of Kṛṣṇa that He had received in a dream, the Lord was filled with rāga.[12] Then He compared Himself to a yogī and described how, as a yogī, [His mind] dwells in Vṛndāvana. From time to time all ten well-known states (daśā) began to appear in the Lord. One night the Lord lay down to sleep in the inner room with the three doors shut. A little later Govinda and Svarūpa saw that all the doors were shut, yet the Lord was nowhere to be seen! Seeing this, Svarūpa and the other devotees [went searching and] found Mahāprabhu north of the Lion Gate: His joints had loosened, His body had become extremely long, and He was unconscious. The devotees chanted Kṛṣṇa's name, and when the Lord regained consciousness they took Him home again. At another time the Lord mistook Caṭaka-parvata for Govardhana and ran swiftly toward it, but on the way He was stunned; Mahāprabhu's hair stood on end like [the filaments of] a kadamba flower, and another state full of mahābhāva was seen in Him. Then the devotees calmed Him by chanting Hari's name and brought Him home.

*A description of the divine madness (divyonmāda: udghūrṇā, citra-jalpa and so on) that seized the Lord under the sway of adhirūḍha-mahābhāva in the rasa of separation (vipralambha) —*

কৃষ্ণবিচ্ছেদবিভ্রান্ত্যা মনসা বপুষা ধিয়া । যদ্যদ্ব্যধত্ত গৌরাঙ্গস্তল্লেশঃ কথ্যতেঽধুনা ॥ ১ ॥

kṛṣṇa-viccheda-vibhrāntyā
Kṛṣṇa from separation through the bewilderment
manasā vapuṣā dhiyā
with the mind with the body with the intelligence
yad yad vyadhatta gaurāṅgas whatever whatever did Gaurāṅga
tal-leśaḥ kathyate ’dhunā
of that a particle is told now

1 Now I shall tell a small part of all that Gaurāṅga did with His mind, body and intelligence in the bewilderment born of separation from Kṛṣṇa.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
In His bewilderment from separation from Kṛṣṇa, Śrī Gaurāṅgacandra did various things with His mind, intelligence and body; some of these I shall now tell.

Anubhāṣya.
gaurāṅgaḥ kṛṣṇa-viccheda-vibhrāntyā (by the bewilderment born of separation from Kṛṣṇa, by actions full of bewilderment) manasā (with the mind, which resolves and rejects) vapuṣā (with the body) dhiyā (with the intelligence, which reaches decisions) yad yad (whatever deeds) vyadhatta (He performed, whatever actions He undertook), adhunā (now) tal-leśaḥ (a small portion of that) kathyate (is told).

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য স্বয়ং ভগবান্ । জয় জয় গৌরচন্দ্র ভক্তগণ-প্রাণ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya svayaṁ bhagavān glory glory to Śrī Caitanya Himself the Supreme Lord
jaya jaya gauracandra bhakta-gaṇa-prāṇa glory glory to Gauracandra of the devotees the life

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya, the Supreme Lord Himself! Glory, glory to Gauracandra, the life of His devotees!

জয় জয় নিত্যানন্দ চৈতন্য-জীবন । জয়াদ্বৈতাচার্য্য জয় গৌরপ্রিয়তম ॥ ৩ ॥

jaya jaya nityānanda caitanya-jīvana glory glory to Nityānanda Caitanya's life
jayādvaitācārya jaya gaura-priyatama glory to Advaitācārya glory to Gaura most dear

3 Glory, glory to Nityānanda, the life of Caitanya! Glory to Advaitācārya, most dear to Gaura!

A prayer to Gaura's devotees for mercy, [for the power] to describe Caitanya's life —

জয় স্বরূপ, শ্রীবাসাদি প্রভুভক্তগণ । শক্তি দেহ', — করি যেন চৈতন্য বর্ণন ॥ ৪ ॥

jaya svarūpa, śrīvāsādi prabhu-bhakta-gaṇa glory to Svarūpa to Śrīvāsa and the others the Lord's devotees
śakti deha', — kari yena caitanya varṇana strength give I may do so that of Caitanya the description

4 Glory to Svarūpa, to Śrīvāsa and to all the Lord's devotees! Grant me the strength to describe Śrī Caitanya.[1]

Without Gaura's mercy even a great scholar cannot understand the Lord's transcendental divine madness —

প্রভুর বিরহোন্মাদ ভাব গম্ভীর । বুঝিতে না পারে কেহ, যদ্যপি হয় 'ধীর' ॥ ৫ ॥

prabhura virahonmāda bhāva gambhīra
the Lord's madness of separation mood profound bujhite nā pāre keha, yadyapi haya 'dhīra'
to understand not can anyone even if he is wise

5 The Lord's madness in separation is a mood so profound that no one can understand it, however wise he may be.

Anubhāṣya.
Intelligent people, with their own sense-born knowledge, will not be able to understand Śrī Mahāprabhu's transcendental, extraordinary, profound madness born of separation from Kṛṣṇa. In our time, people of a new stamp who consider themselves devotees have devised the fanciful mood of "Nadīyā-nāgarī," which opposes the conclusions of bhakti, and a newly invented worship of Viṣṇupriyā-devī. All this only shows that they have not entered Gaura's pastimes.

Only by the power of the Lord's mercy can one grasp His transcendental pastimes — বুঝিতে না পারি যাহা, বর্ণিতে কে পারে ?

সেই বুঝে, বর্ণে, চৈতন্য শক্তি দেন যাঁরে ॥ ৬ ॥

bujhite nā pāri yāhā, varṇite ke pāre?
to understand not we can what to describe who can sei bujhe, varṇe, caitanya śakti dena yāṁre
he understands describes Caitanya power gives to whom

6 Who can describe what we cannot even understand? Only one to whom Caitanya gives the power can understand it and describe it.

*The source for describing Gaura's pastimes is the diaries (kaḍacās) of the two prabhus, Svarūpa and Raghunātha —*

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি আর রঘুনাথ-দাস । এই দুইর কড়চাতে এ-লীলা প্রকাশ ॥ ৭ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi āra raghunātha-dāsa Svarūpa Gosāñi and Raghunātha dāsa ei duira kaḍacāte e-līlā prakāśa
of these two in the diaries this pastime is revealed

7 These pastimes are revealed in the diaries (kaḍacā) of these two, Svarūpa Gosāñi and Raghunātha dāsa.

Anubhāṣya.
Pointers to these profound pastimes (gambhīra-līlā) of Mahāprabhu are given only in the diaries (kaḍacās) of Śrī Dāmodara Svarūpa and Śrī Raghunātha Dāsa Gosvāmī, that is, in their notes (ṭippanī), which serve as guides. Some abandon the holy feet of these two associates of Gaura and, thirsting for their own sense pleasure, wander through the world of māyā under the name of Gaura-bhakti, driven by the religion of the mind (mano-dharma) and following motley doctrines of every kind. Such people cannot understand Śrī Mahāprabhu's pastimes and turn away from serving Gaura.

*Why the testimony of the two prabhus, Svarūpa and Raghunātha, is authoritative —*

সেকালে এ দুই রহেন মহাপ্রভুর পাশে । আর সব কড়চা-কর্ত্তা রহেন দূরদেশে ॥ ৮ ॥

se-kāle e dui rahena mahāprabhura pāśe
at that time these two stayed Mahāprabhu’s at the side
āra saba kaḍacā-kartā rahena dūra-deśe
other all diary-writers stayed in distant lands

8 At that time these two lived at Mahāprabhu’s side, while all the other diarists lived in distant places.

Anubhāṣya.
This verse shows that Śrī Raghunātha and many others recorded much about Mahāprabhu's final pastimes of divine madness in the diaries (kaḍacās) they wrote. These records would have brought the world much good. Sadly, all these diaries remain hidden from people's eyes to this day, and this shows the misfortune of the jīvas.

ক্ষণে ক্ষণে অনুভবি’ এই দুইজন । সংক্ষেপে বাহুল্যে করেন কড়চা-গ্রন্থন ॥ ৯ ॥

kṣaṇe kṣaṇe anubhavi’ ei duijana moment by moment experiencing these two saṅkṣepe bāhulye karena kaḍacā-granthana
briefly at length make diary composition

9 Experiencing His pastimes moment by moment, these two recorded them in their diaries, sometimes briefly and sometimes at length.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
“Briefly and at length”: Svarūpa Gosvāmī composed his diary (kaḍacā) briefly, and Raghunātha Dāsa Gosvāmī at length.

Anubhāṣya.
These two gosvāmīs constantly experienced Śrī Mahāprabhu's pastimes and recorded them, now more briefly, now in more detail, in the form of diaries (kaḍacās); they did not compose regular books.

স্বরূপ — ‘সূত্রকর্ত্তা’, রঘুনাথ — ‘বৃত্তিকার’ । তার বাহুল্য বর্ণি পাঁজি-টীকা-ব্যবহার ॥ ১০ ॥

svarūpa — ‘sūtra-kartā’, raghunātha — ‘vṛttikāra’ Svarūpa the author of the sūtras Raghunātha the author of the explanation
tāra bāhulya varṇi pāṁji-ṭīkā-vyavahāra their expansion I describe of a pāñi-ṭīkā in the manner

10 Svarūpa is the author of the sūtras, and Raghunātha the author of their explanation (vṛtti). I describe them more fully, in the manner of a pāñi-ṭīkā (an introductory commentary).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Svarūpa Gosvāmī wrote the sūtras, and Raghunātha their explanation (vṛtti). I am writing both these descriptions somewhat expanded, in the manner of a pāñi-ṭīkā (an introductory commentary). Pāñi-ṭīkā, or pañji-ṭīkā, means this: the author of such a commentary “cards” like cotton the arguments of the original source written by the author of the vṛtti, and presents them somewhat expanded.

Anubhāṣya.
Sūtra: “Those who know sūtras know that a sūtra has few syllables, is unambiguous, full of substance, facing every direction, free of filler words, and faultless.” Vṛtti means kārikā: “Kārikā [means] yātanā (torment) and vṛtti” (Amara-kośa); and its commentary says: “Vṛtti is a brief explanation in verses.”

*One who hears with transcendental faith of the transcendental mood of separation (vipralambha) and follows it attains prema —*

তাতে বিশ্বাস করি’ শুন ভাবের বর্ণন । হইবে ভাবের জ্ঞান, পাইবা প্রেমধন ॥ ১১ ॥

tāte viśvāsa kari’ śuna bhāvera varṇana
in that faith placing hear of the emotions the description
haibe bhāvera jñāna, pāibā prema-dhana will arise of the emotions understanding you will gain of love the treasure

11 Hear with faith this description of His feelings (bhāva): you will come to understand them and gain the treasure of prema.

*In His last period the moods of Rādhā and the other gopīs separated from Kṛṣṇa awaken in the Lord's heart; these last seven chapters themselves refute the “Gaura-nāgara” doctrine —*

কৃষ্ণ মথুরায় গেলে, গোপীর যে দশা হৈল । কৃষ্ণবিচ্ছেদে প্রভুর সে দশা উপজিল ॥ ১২ ॥

kṛṣṇa mathurāya gele, gopīra ye daśā haila Kṛṣṇa to Mathurā when He went of the gopīs which state arose
kṛṣṇa-vicchede prabhura se daśā upajila
Kṛṣṇa in separation from in the Lord that state arose

12 The state that came upon the gopīs when Kṛṣṇa went to Mathurā arose in the Lord in His separation from Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
“The state that arose”: prolonged separation (vipralambha).

উদ্ধব-দর্শনে যৈছে রাধার বিলাপ । ক্রমে ক্রমে হৈল প্রভুর উন্মাদ-বিলাপ ॥ ১৩ ॥

uddhava-darśane yaiche rādhāra vilāpa Uddhava on seeing as Rādhā's lament krame krame haila prabhura unmāda-vilāpa
gradually arose the Lord's lament of madness

13 As Rādhā lamented when She saw Uddhava, so little by little the Lord too began to lament in His madness.

Anubhāṣya.
Śrī Rādhā's lament: see the Bhramara-gītā, Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.47.12–21.

*The Lord is imbued only with the mood of Śrī Rādhā separated from Kṛṣṇa; therefore He has no inclination of Kṛṣṇa's for the enjoyment of union (sambhoga) —*

রাধিকার ভাবে প্রভুর সদা 'অভিমান' । সেই ভাবে আপনাকে হয় 'রাধা'-জ্ঞান ॥ ১৪ ॥

rādhikāra bhāve prabhura sadā 'abhimāna'
of Rādhikā in the mood the Lord's always self-conception
sei bhāve āpanāke haya 'rādhā'-jñāna
in that mood of Himself there is the sense of being Rādhā

14 Steeped in Rādhikā's mood, the Lord always had Her sense of self (abhimāna); in that mood He knew Himself to be Rādhā.

Anubhāṣya.
Abhimāna (Ujjvala-nīlamaṇi): "Abhimāna is an indirect telling of the excellence of one's love." "'Let there be many beautiful things; this alone is to be desired' — such a conclusion the wise call abhimāna."

"Always abhimāna": always the transcendental self-conception of a servant (sevaka-abhimāna). Although Śrī Gaurasundara is Kṛṣṇa Himself, His body is united with Śrīmatī Rādhikā, and so He was always immersed in Śrīmatī's mood, nondifferent from her. Had He remained in the mood of Kṛṣṇa, full of the enjoyment of union (sambhoga), this would have obstructed His own purpose. In our time non-Vaiṣṇavas hostile to Gaura, through a perverted understanding (vivarta-buddhi), turn inside out the path of bhajana that He practiced and preached. They dress Śrī Gaurasundara up, by their own invention, as a "mundane nāgara," make themselves into "playful nāgarīs of Nadīyā," and so fall away from devotion to Kṛṣṇa. In our time some members of the "Theosophist" society think as follows: although for the good of the jīvas Śrī Gaurasundara showed that "the sādhana of separation (vipralambha) is the only path to perfection," He is Svayam Bhagavān and therefore beyond the jīvas' reach; so every jīva may mold and dress Him out of whatever material it likes and worship Him in any way at all, with means its own mind has devised for sense gratification. To prevent this, Gaurasundara showed the supreme wonder of serving Kṛṣṇa in the transcendental mood of separation, and so brought the world good.

*The Lord's divine madness in adhirūḍha-mahābhāva —*

দিব্যোন্মাদে ঐছে হয়, কি ইহা বিস্ময় ?
অধিরূঢ়-ভাবে দিব্যোন্মাদ-প্রলাপ হয় ॥ ১৫ ॥

divyonmāde aiche haya, ki ihā vismaya?
in divine madness thus it is what in this wonder adhirūḍha-bhāve divyonmāda-pralāpa haya
in adhirūḍha-bhāva of divine madness incoherent talk occurs

15 Such is divine madness (divyonmāda) — why wonder at it? In adhirūḍha-bhāva, the highest stage of love, divine madness pours itself out in incoherent words.[2]

*The definition of divine madness and its varieties — (Ujjvala-nīlamaṇi, section on the sthāyi-bhāva, verse 190)*

এতস্য মোহনাখ্যস্য গতিং কামপ্যুপেয়ুষঃ ।
ভ্রমাভা কাপি বৈচিত্রী দিব্যোন্মাদ ইতীর্য্যতে । উদঘূর্ণা-চিত্রজল্পাদ্যাস্তদ্ভেদা বহবো মতাঃ ॥ ১৬ ॥

etasya mohanākhyasya
of this called mohana
gatiṁ kām apy upeyuṣaḥ
a state some indescribable having reached bhramābhā kāpi vaicitrī resembling bewilderment some wondrous display divyonmāda itīryate
divine madness thus is called udghūrṇā-citra-jalpādyās
udghūrṇā citra-jalpa and others
tad-bhedā bahavo matāḥ
its varieties many are held

16 "When the bhāva called mohana reaches a certain indescribable state, there arises in it something wondrous that resembles bewilderment, and this is called divine madness (divyonmāda). Its varieties are held to be many, such as udghūrṇā and citra-jalpa." (Ujjvala-nīlamaṇi, 14.190)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
When the bhāva called mohana, in the course of its development, reaches a certain [state] and comes to resemble bewilderment, there arises the divine madness called vaicitrī (the wondrous). Udghūrṇā, citra-jalpa and the rest are the many varieties of divine madness.

Anubhāṣya.
kām api (a certain indescribable) gatiṁ (state) upeyuṣaḥ (having reached) sataḥ etasya mohanākhyasya (of this [bhāva] whose name is mohana) bhramābhā (which has the semblance of bewilderment) kāpi (an unprecedented) vaicitrī (a special manifestation that displays wonder) divyonmādaḥ iti īryate (is called); udghūrṇā-citra-jalpādyāḥ bahavaḥ tad-bhedāḥ (varieties of divine madness) matāḥ (are described).

*An example of the divine madness (udghūrṇā) of the Lord, who feels Himself a maidservant (kiṅkarī) of Śrī Rādhā*

—

একদিন মহাপ্রভু কৈরাছেন শয়ন । কৃষ্ণ রাসলীলা করে, — দেখিলা স্বপন ॥ ১৭ ॥

ekadina mahāprabhu kairāchena śayana
one day Mahāprabhu had lain down to rest
kṛṣṇa rāsa-līlā kare, — dekhilā svapana
Kṛṣṇa the rāsa-līlā performs He saw a dream

17 One day, as Mahāprabhu lay asleep, He saw Kṛṣṇa's rāsa-līlā in a dream.

ত্রিভঙ্গ-সুন্দর-দেহ, মুরলীবদন । পীতাম্বর, বনমালা, মদনমোহন ॥ ১৮ ॥

tribhaṅga-sundara-deha, muralīvadana
bent in three places beautiful body with the flute at His lips
pītāmbara, vana-mālā, madana-mohana
yellow garment forest garland of Madana the enchanter

18 Kṛṣṇa's beautiful form was bent in three places, the flute at His lips; He wore yellow cloth and a garland of forest flowers — the enchanter of Madana, the god of love.

মণ্ডলীবন্ধে গোপীগণ করেন নর্ত্তন । মধ্যে রাধা-সহ নাচে ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন ॥ ১৯ ॥

maṇḍalī-bandhe gopī-gaṇa karena nartana
in a circle the gopīs were dancing
madhye rādhā-saha nāce vrajendra-nandana
in the middle with Rādhā dances of the king of Vraja the son

19 The gopīs danced in a circle, and in the middle the son of the king of Vraja danced with Rādhā.

দেখি' প্রভু সেই রসে আবিষ্ট হৈলা ।
'বৃন্দাবনে কৃষ্ণ পাইনু' — এই জ্ঞান কৈলা ॥ ২০ ॥

dekhi' prabhu sei rase āviṣṭa hailā seeing the Lord in that rasa absorbed became
'vṛndāvane kṛṣṇa pāinu' — ei jñāna kailā
in Vṛndāvana Kṛṣṇa I have found this thought He had 20 Seeing this, the Lord became absorbed in that rasa and thought, "I have found Kṛṣṇa in Vṛndāvana!"

Anubhāṣya.
"He became absorbed in that rasa": He became wholly immersed in it.

Awake (in external consciousness), the Lord suffers in separation from Kṛṣṇa —

প্রভুর বিলম্ব দেখি' গোবিন্দ জাগাইলা ।
জাগিলে 'স্বপ্ন'-জ্ঞান হৈল, প্রভু দুঃখী হৈলা ॥ ২১ ॥

prabhura vilamba dekhi' govinda jāgāilā
the Lord's lateness seeing Govinda woke Him
jāgile 'svapna'-jñāna haila, prabhu duḥkhī hailā on waking that it was a dream He understood the Lord sorrowful became 21 When Govinda saw that the Lord was late in rising, he woke Him. On waking, the Lord understood that it had been a dream, and He was filled with sorrow.

Out of habit the Lord performs His daily duties —

দেহাভ্যাসে নিত্যকৃত্য করি' সমাপন । কালে যাই' কৈলা জগন্নাথ দরশন ॥ ২২ ॥

dehābhyāse nitya-kṛtya kari' samāpana
by bodily habit the daily duties having completed
kāle yāi' kailā jagannātha daraśana
at the proper time going He made Jagannātha's darśana

22 Out of bodily habit He completed His daily duties, and at the proper time He went to see Jagannātha.

The Lord looks at Jagannātha from the Garuḍa pillar —

যাবৎ কাল দর্শন করেন গরুড়ের পাছে । প্রভুর আগে দর্শন করে লোক লাখে লাখে ॥ ২৩ ॥

yāvat kāla darśana karena garuḍera pāche
for as long as darśana He takes of Garuḍa behind prabhura āge darśana kare loka lākhe lākhe
the Lord's in front darśana take people by hundreds of thousands 23 He would behold Jagannātha from behind the Garuḍa pillar, while in front of Him people in their hundreds of thousands took darśana.

An Oriyā woman, unaware of it, puts her foot on the Lord's shoulder and looks at Jagannātha —

ওড়িয়া এক স্ত্রী ভীড়ে দর্শন না পাঞা । গরুড়ে চড়ি' দেখে প্রভুর স্কন্ধে পদ দিয়া ॥ ২৪ ॥

oḍiyā eka strī bhīḍe darśana nā pāñā
an Oriyā one woman in the crowd sight not getting garuḍe caḍi' dekhe prabhura skandhe pada diyā onto Garuḍa climbing looks on the Lord's shoulder foot placing 24 An Oriyā woman who could not see through the crowd climbed onto the Garuḍa pillar and, with her foot on the Lord's shoulder, gazed at Jagannātha.

Seeing this, Govinda gets the woman down —

দেখিয়া গোবিন্দ ব্যস্তে সেই স্ত্রীরে বর্জ্জিলা । তারে নামাইতে প্রভু গোবিন্দে নিষেধিলা ॥ ২৫ ॥

dekhiyā govinda vyaste sei strīre varjilā
seeing (this) Govinda hastily that woman put off
tāre nāmāite prabhu govinde niṣedhilā
her to bring down the Lord Govinda forbade

25 Seeing this, Govinda hastily tried to pull her down, but the Lord forbade him.

Anubhāṣya.
Climbing onto the Garuḍa pillar is an offense to a Vaiṣṇava, and putting a foot on the Lord's shoulder is an offense to Bhagavān's feet. Fearing this, Govinda hastily "put her away," that is, got her down.

By seeing Kṛṣṇa she gives Kṛṣṇa the joy of service; therefore [the Lord] regards her holy form as transcendental, belonging to Kṛṣṇa[14] —

'আদিবস্যা' এই স্ত্রীরে না কর বর্জ্জন । করুক যথেষ্ট জগন্নাথ দরশন ॥ ২৬ ॥

'ādi-vasyā' ei strīre nā kara varjana
ādivasyā this woman do not make removal karuka yatheṣṭa jagannātha daraśana
let her make as she wishes Jagannātha's darśana

26 "Foolish fellow (ādivasyā)! Do not remove this woman. Let her look at Jagannātha as much as she wishes."

Anubhāṣya.
"Ādibasyā": see Antya 10.116.

The woman at once climbs down, bows to the Lord and humbly speaks of her unworthiness —

আস্তে-ব্যস্তে সেই নারী ভূমেতে নামিলা । মহাপ্রভুরে দেখি' তাঁর চরণ বন্দিলা ॥ ২৭ ॥

āste-vyaste sei nārī bhūmete nāmilā hurriedly that woman to the ground came down
mahāprabhure dekhi' tāṁra caraṇa vandilā
Mahāprabhu seeing His feet she honored

27 The woman hurriedly climbed down, and when she saw Mahāprabhu she bowed at His feet.

Seeing her ardent love, the Lord speaks humbly of Himself and praises her as a guru —

তার আর্ত্তি দেখি’ প্রভু কহিতে লাগিলা । এত আর্ত্তি জগন্নাথ মোরে নাহি দিলা ! ॥ ২৮ ॥

tāra ārti dekhi’ prabhu kahite lāgilā
her eagerness seeing the Lord to speak began eta ārti jagannātha more nāhi dilā!
such eagerness Jagannātha to Me not has given 28 Seeing her eagerness, the Lord began to speak: “Jagannātha has not given Me such eagerness!

Anubhāṣya.
Ārti: an ardent wish to see. In her eagerness to see Jagannātha the woman ceased to distinguish good from bad, and without knowing it she set her foot on the highest part of the body (uttamāṅga) of the supremely worshipable Mahāprabhu.

The teaching not to view a servant of Kṛṣṇa with sense-born knowledge, by external marks such as “woman” or “man” —

জগন্নাথে আবিষ্ট ইহার তনু-মন-প্রাণে । মোর স্কন্ধে পদ দিয়াছে, তাহা নাহি জানে ॥ ২৯ ॥

jagannāthe āviṣṭa ihāra tanu-mana-prāṇe
in Jagannātha absorbed her body mind and life
mora skandhe pada diyāche, tāhā nāhi jāne
on My shoulder foot she has placed that not she knows

29 Her body, mind and life are absorbed in Jagannātha; she does not even know that she has put her foot on My shoulder.

অহো ভাগ্যবতী এই, বন্দি ইহার পায় । ইহার প্রসাদে ঐছে আর্ত্তি আমার বা হয় ॥ ৩০ ॥

aho bhāgyavatī ei, vandi ihāra pāya
oh fortunate is she I honor her feet
ihāra prasāde aiche ārti āmāra vā haya
her by the grace such eagerness in Me may arise

30 Oh, how fortunate she is! I bow to her feet. By her grace may such eagerness arise in Me too.

পূর্ব্বে আমি যবে কৈলুঁ জগন্নাথ দরশন । জগন্নাথে দেখি — সাক্ষাৎ ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন ॥ ৩১ ॥

pūrve āmi yabe kailuṁ jagannātha daraśana
before I when made Jagannātha’s darśana jagannāthe dekhi — sākṣāt vrajendra-nandana
in Jagannātha I saw directly of the king of Vraja the son

31 Before, whenever I beheld Jagannātha, I saw in Him the son of the king of Vraja Himself.

*The Lord, full of the mood of a gopī, His mind absorbed in Kṛṣṇa, sees Kṛṣṇa everywhere —*

স্বপ্নের দর্শনাবেশে তদ্রূপ হৈল মন । যাঁহা তাঁহা দেখি সর্ব্বত্র মুরলী-বদন ॥ ৩২ ॥

svapnera darśanāveśe tad-rūpa haila mana of the dream in absorption in the vision like that became the mind
yāṁhā tāṁhā dekhi sarvatra muralī-vadana wherever I look everywhere the One with the flute at His lips

32 Absorbed in the vision of My dream, My mind has stayed in that state, and wherever I look I see the One with the flute at His lips."[3]

The Lord comes back to external consciousness —

এবে যদি স্ত্রীরে দেখি' প্রভুর বাহ্য হৈল । জগন্নাথ-সুভদ্রা-বলরামের স্বরূপ দেখিল ॥ ৩৩ ॥

ebe yadi strīre dekhi' prabhura bāhya haila
now when the woman seeing the Lord's external consciousness came jagannātha-subhadrā-balarāmera svarūpa dekhila of Jagannātha Subhadrā and Balarāma the forms He saw

33 But now, at the sight of the woman, the Lord came back to outward consciousness and saw the forms of Jagannātha, Subhadrā and Balarāma.

*Seeing Vāsudeva at Kurukṣetra, the Lord is full of the mood of a gopī separated from Śyāma —*

কুরুক্ষেত্রে দেখি' কৃষ্ণে ঐছে হৈল মন ।
কাঁহা কুরুক্ষেত্রে আইলাঙ, কাঁহা বৃন্দাবন ? ॥ ৩৪ ॥

kurukṣetre dekhi' kṛṣṇe aiche haila mana
at Kurukṣetra seeing Kṛṣṇa so became His mind
kāṁhā kurukṣetre āilāṅa, kāṁhā vṛndāvana?
where to Kurukṣetra I have come where Vṛndāvana

34 His mind became like that of one who sees Kṛṣṇa at Kurukṣetra: "How have I come to Kurukṣetra? And where is Vṛndāvana?"

*The Lord suffers in the mood of a gopī deprived of Kṛṣṇa's company —*

প্রাপ্তরত্ন হারাঞা ঐছে ব্যগ্র হইলা । বিষণ্ণ হঞা প্রভু নিজ-বাসা আইলা ॥ ৩৫ ॥

prāpta-ratna hārāñā aiche vyagra hailā
a found jewel losing so agitated He became viṣaṇṇa hañā prabhu nija-vāsā āilā dejected becoming the Lord to His own residence came 35 Like one who has lost a jewel he had just found, He was in turmoil, and He returned, dejected, to His residence.

*The Lord's outward signs of mahābhāva in separation from Kṛṣṇa —*

ভূমির উপর বসি' নিজ-নখে ভূমি লিখে । অশ্রু-গঙ্গা নেত্রে বহে, কিছুই না দেখে ॥ ৩৬ ॥

bhūmira upara vasi' nija-nakhe bhūmi likhe
the ground upon sitting with His own nails the ground He scratches
aśru-gaṅgā netre vahe, kichui nā dekhe
a Ganges of tears from the eyes flows anything not He sees 36 Sitting on the ground, He scratched at the earth with His nails; a Ganges of tears flowed from His eyes, and He saw nothing at all.

পাইনু বৃন্দাবননাথ, পুনঃ হারাইনু । কে মোর নিলেক কৃষ্ণ? কাঁহা মুই আইনু ? ॥ ৩৭ ॥

pāinu vṛndāvana-nātha, punaḥ hārāinu
I found of Vṛndāvana the Lord again I lost
ke mora nileka kṛṣṇa? kāṁhā mui āinu?
who My has taken Kṛṣṇa where I have come

37 "I found the Lord of Vṛndāvana, and I have lost Him again! Who has taken My Kṛṣṇa? Where am I now?"

The signs of half-external consciousness —

স্বপ্নাবেশে প্রেমে প্রভুর গর গর মন । বাহ্য হৈলে হয়, — যেন হারাইল ধন ॥ ৩৮ ॥

svapnāveśe preme prabhura gara gara mana in absorption in the dream with love the Lord's overflowing mind
bāhya haile haya, — yena hārāila dhana external consciousness when it comes it is as if He lost a treasure

38 Absorbed in the dream, the Lord's mind overflowed with love; when external consciousness returned, it was as if He had lost a treasure.

Seized by divine madness, the Lord performs His daily duties and the like out of habit —

উন্মত্তের প্রায় প্রভু করেন গান-নৃত্য । দেহের স্বভাবে করেন স্নান-ভোজন-কৃত্য ॥ ৩৯ ॥

unmattera prāya prabhu karena gāna-nṛtya
a madman like the Lord does singing dancing
dehera svabhāve karena snāna-bhojana-kṛtya
of the body by the nature He does bathing eating duties

39 Like a madman the Lord sang and danced; He bathed and ate merely out of bodily habit.

At night the Lord pours out His grief before Svarūpa and Rāmānanda —

রাত্রি হৈলে স্বরূপ-রামানন্দে লঞা । আপন মনের ভাব কহে উঘাড়িয়া ॥ ৪০ ॥

rātri haile svarūpa-rāmānande lañā night when it came Svarūpa and Rāmānanda taking āpana manera bhāva kahe ughāḍiyā
His own heart's feelings He tells opening

40 When night came, He would sit with Svarūpa and Rāmānanda and open to them the feelings of His heart.

(A verse spoken by Gosvāmipāda)

প্রাপ্তপ্রণষ্টাচ্যুতবিত্ত আত্মা যয়ৌ বিষাদোজ্ঝিত-দেহগেহঃ ।
গৃহীতকাপালিকধর্ম্মকো মে বৃন্দাবনং সেন্দ্রিয়শিষ্যবৃন্দঃ ॥ ৪১ ॥

prāpta-praṇaṣṭācyuta-vitta ātmā
having found having lost Acyuta the wealth My mind
yayau viṣādojjhita-deha-gehaḥ
went out of grief abandoning the body the house gṛhīta-kāpālika-dharmako me having taken up a kāpālika's ways My vṛndāvanaṁ sendriya-śiṣya-vṛndaḥ
to Vṛndāvana with the senses the disciples the band

41 "My mind found the wealth of Acyuta and lost it again. In its grief it abandoned its house, the body, took up the ways of a kāpālika yogī, and went off to Vṛndāvana with its band of disciples, the senses."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
My self (ātmā) once obtained a treasure, Kṛṣṇa, but lost it again. In grief it left its house, the body, took up the dharma of a kāpālika yogī, and set off for Vṛndāvana with its disciples, the senses. A simile (upamā-alaṅkāra) should be seen here.

Anubhāṣya.
prāpta-praṇaṣṭācyuta-vittaḥ (whose treasure, Acyuta, was first obtained — met on the path of the eyes — and then praṇaṣṭa, lost again, gone from sight), viṣādojjhita-deha-gehaḥ (who, from grief — the pain born of separation from Kṛṣṇa — has all but abandoned its house, the body), gṛhīta-kāpālika-dharmakaḥ (having accepted the dharma — the natural traits and so on — of a kāpālika, a particular kind of yogī) me (My) ātmā (pure mind) sendriya-śiṣya-vṛndaḥ (together with its disciples, the senses) vṛndāvanaṁ yayau (went to Vṛndāvana).

*The divine madness (citra-jalpa) of the Lord deprived of Kṛṣṇa's company — [in any suitable melody]*

প্রাপ্তরত্ন হারাঞা, তার গুণ সঙরিয়া, মহাপ্রভু সন্তাপে বিহ্বল ।
রায়-স্বরূপের কণ্ঠ ধরি', কহে হাহা 'হরি' 'হরি', ধৈর্য্য গেল, হইলা চপল ॥ ৪২ ॥

prāptaratna hārāñā,
a found jewel having lost
tāra guṇa saṅariyā,
its qualities remembering mahāprabhu santāpe vihvala Mahāprabhu with anguish overwhelmed
rāya-svarūpera kaṇṭha dhari', of Rāya and Svarūpa the necks clasping
kahe hāhā 'hari' 'hari',
He says alas Hari Hari
dhairya gela, hailā capala
composure went He became restless

42 Having lost the jewel He had found and remembering its qualities, Mahāprabhu was overwhelmed with anguish. Clasping Rāya and Svarūpa by the neck, He cried, "Alas! Hari! Hari!" His composure gave way, and He grew restless.

How the power of attraction of Kṛṣṇa's sweetness brought [the Lord] to the ten states —

শুন, বান্ধব, কৃষ্ণের মাধুরী ।
যার লোভে মোর মন, ছাড়ি' লোক-বেদধর্ম্ম, যোগী হঞা হইল ভিখারী ॥ ৪৩ ॥

śuna, bāndhava, kṛṣṇera mādhurī hear friends of Kṛṣṇa the sweetness
yāra lobhe mora mana,
for which in greed My mind
chāḍi' loka-veda-dharma,
giving up of society of the Vedas the duties
yogī hañā haila bhikhārī
a yogī becoming became a beggar

43 "Hear, My friends, of Kṛṣṇa's sweetness! Craving it, My mind has given up the duties of society and of the Vedas, become a yogī and turned beggar.

কৃষ্ণলীলা-মণ্ডল, শুদ্ধ শঙ্খকুণ্ডল, গড়িয়াছে শুক কারিকর ।
সেই কুণ্ডল কাণে পরি', তৃষ্ণা-লাউ-থালী ধরি', আশা-ঝুলি কান্ধের উপর ॥ ৪৪ ॥

kṛṣṇa-līlā-maṇḍala,
of Kṛṣṇa's pastimes the circle
śuddha śaṅkha-kuṇḍala,
pure conch-shell earrings
gaḍiyāche śuka kārikara has fashioned Śuka the craftsman
sei kuṇḍala kāṇe pari',
those earrings in the ears wearing
tṛṣṇā-lāu-thālī dhari',
of thirst the gourd bowl holding
āśā-jhuli kāndhera upara
of hope the bag the shoulder upon

44 My mind's earrings of pure conch-shell are the circle of Kṛṣṇa's pastimes, fashioned by Śuka the craftsman. Wearing those earrings, it holds the gourd-bowl of thirst, and the bag of hope hangs from its shoulder.

*The states of anxious thought (cintā), uncleanliness of the body (malināṅgatā) and incoherent speech (pralāpa)*

—

চিন্তা-কান্থা উড়ি' গায়, ধূলি-বিভূতি-মলিন-কায়,
'হাহা কৃষ্ণ' প্রলাপ-উত্তর ।
উদ্বেগ দ্বাদশ হাতে, লোভের ঝুলি নিল মাথে, ভিক্ষাভাবে ক্ষীণ কলেবর ॥ ৪৫ ॥

cintā-kānthā uḍi' gāya,
of anxiety the patched quilt wrapping about the body
dhūli-vibhūti-malina-kāya,
with dust ash soiled body
'hāhā kṛṣṇa' pralāpa-uttara
alas Kṛṣṇa raving the answer
udvega dvādaśa hāte,
agitation twelve (bangles) on the arm
lobhera jhuli nila māthe,
of greed the bag it took on the head
bhikṣābhāve kṣīṇa kalevara
for lack of alms thin the body

45 The patched quilt of anxiety is wrapped about it, its body is grey with dust and ash, and to every word it answers with the raving cry, “Alas, Kṛṣṇa!” On its arm are the twelve bangles of agitation, on its head the bag of longing, and for want of alms its body has wasted away.

Anubhāṣya.

A variant reading: lobhera jhulnī māthe. The word jhulnī means a cloth that can cover the head.

*The state of emaciation (tānava) —*

ব্যাস, শুকাদি যোগিগণ, কৃষ্ণ আত্মা নিরঞ্জন, ব্রজে তাঁর যত লীলাগণ ।
ভাগবতাদি শাস্ত্রগণে, করিয়াছে বর্ণনে, সেই তর্জ্জা পড়ে অনুক্ষণ ॥ ৪৬ ॥

vyāsa, śukādi yogi-gaṇa, Vyāsa Śuka and the other yogīs
kṛṣṇa ātmā nirañjana,
Kṛṣṇa the Self stainless
vraje tāṁra yata līlā-gaṇa
in Vraja His all the pastimes
bhāgavatādi śāstra-gaṇe,
in the Bhāgavata and other scriptures
kariyāche varṇane,
have made description
sei tarjā paḍe anukṣaṇa
those songs it recites constantly

46 The yogīs Vyāsa, Śuka and others have described in the Bhāgavata and other scriptures all the pastimes of Kṛṣṇa, the stainless Self, in Vraja; those songs (tarjā) it recites without cease.

Anubhāṣya.

Tarjā (Arabic tarjā): a song contest between two parties in which each refutes the other's answers; akin to the kavi-gān and the jhumur.

*The state of madness (unmāda) —*

দশেন্দ্রিয়ে শিষ্য করি’, ‘মহা-বাউল’ নাম ধরি’, শিষ্য লঞা করিল গমন ।
মোর দেহ স্ব-সদন, বিষয়-ভোগ মহাধন, সব ছাড়ি’ গেলা বৃন্দাবন ॥ ৪৭ ॥

daśendriye śiṣya kari’,
the ten senses disciples making ‘mahā-bāula’ nāma dhari’, Mahā-bāul the name taking śiṣya lañā karila gamana
the disciples taking it made departure mora deha sva-sadana,
My body its own home
viṣaya-bhoga mahādhana,
sense enjoyment the great wealth
saba chāḍi’ gelā vṛndāvana
all leaving it went to Vṛndāvana

47 Making the ten senses its disciples and taking the name “Mahā-bāul”, it set off with them. Leaving everything — its own home, My body, and the great wealth of sense enjoyment — it went to Vṛndāvana.

বৃন্দাবনে প্রজাগণ, যত স্থাবর-জঙ্গম, বৃক্ষ-লতা গৃহস্থ-আশ্রমে ।
তার ঘরে ভিক্ষাটন, ফল-মূল-পত্রাশন, এই বৃত্তি করে শিষ্যসনে ॥ ৪৮ ॥

vṛndāvane prajā-gaṇa,
in Vṛndāvana the subjects
yata sthāvara-jaṅgama,
all the stationary and moving vṛkṣa-latā gṛhastha-āśrame trees creepers in the householder order
tāra ghare bhikṣāṭana,
in their homes begging
phala-mūla-patrāśana,
fruits roots leaves eating
ei vṛtti kare śiṣya-sane
this livelihood it follows with the disciples

48 The subjects of Vṛndāvana — all beings, stationary and moving, the trees and creepers — live as householders. It begs in their homes and eats fruits, roots and leaves; this is how it lives with its disciples.

কৃষ্ণ-গুণ, রূপ, রস, গন্ধ, শব্দ, পরশ, সে সুধা আস্বাদে গোপীগণ ।
তা-সবার গ্রাস-শেষে, আনি’ পঞ্চেন্দ্রিয় শিষ্যে, সে ভিক্ষায় রাখেন জীবন ॥ ৪৯ ॥

kṛṣṇa-guṇa, rūpa, rasa, Kṛṣṇa’s qualities form taste
gandha, śabda, paraśa, fragrance sound touch
se sudhā āsvāde gopī-gaṇa
that nectar relish the gopīs
tā-sabāra grāsa-śeṣe,
of them all of the mouthfuls in the remnants
āni’ pañcendriya śiṣye,
bringing the five senses the disciples
se bhikṣāya rākhena jīvana
by those alms they sustain life

49 The gopīs relish the nectar of Kṛṣṇa’s qualities, form, taste, fragrance, sound and touch. The disciples, the five senses, bring the remnants of their meal, and on those alms they sustain their lives.

*The state of wakefulness (jāgara) —*

শূন্যকুঞ্জমণ্ডপ-কোণে, যোগাভ্যাস কৃষ্ণধ্যানে, তাঁহা রহে লঞা শিষ্যগণ ।
কৃষ্ণ আত্মা নিরঞ্জন, সাক্ষাৎ দেখিতে মন, ধ্যানে রাত্রি করে জাগরণ ॥ ৫০ ॥

śūnya-kuñja-maṇḍapa-koṇe,
empty bower pavilion in a corner
yogābhyāsa kṛṣṇa-dhyāne, yoga practice on Kṛṣṇa in meditation
tāṁhā rahe lañā śiṣya-gaṇa
there it stays with the disciples
kṛṣṇa ātmā nirañjana,
Kṛṣṇa the Self stainless
sākṣāt dekhite mana,
directly to see the mind (longs)
dhyāne rātri kare jāgaraṇa
in meditation the nights it spends awake

50 In the corner of an empty bower-pavilion it stays with its disciples, practising yoga in meditation on Kṛṣṇa. Longing to see Kṛṣṇa, the stainless Self, face to face, it keeps vigil all night in meditation.[4]

*The states of sickness (vyādhi), fainting (moha) and death (mṛtyu, pralaya); citra-jalpa —*

মন কৃষ্ণবিয়োগী, দুঃখে মন হৈল যোগী, সে বিয়োগে দশ দশা হয়।
সে দশায় ব্যাকুল হঞা, মন গেল পলাঞা, শূন্য মোর শরীর আলয় ॥ ৫১ ॥

mana kṛṣṇa-viyogī,
the mind from Kṛṣṇa separated
duḥkhe mana haila yogī,
in sorrow the mind became a yogī
se viyoge daśa daśā haya
in that separation ten states arise
se daśāya vyākula hañā,
by those states distraught becoming mana gela palāñā,
the mind went fleeing
śūnya mora śarīra ālaya
empty My body the dwelling

51 Separated from Kṛṣṇa, My mind became a yogī in its sorrow, and in that separation the ten states came upon it. Overwhelmed by them, it fled, and its dwelling, My body, stands empty.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Mahāprabhu said: “Craving Kṛṣṇa's sweetness, My mind gave up Vedic dharma, became a yogī and turned beggar. Yogīs wear conch-shell earrings; so My mind, having become a yogī, wears the circle of Kṛṣṇa's pastimes as pure conch-shell earrings. The earrings of ordinary yogīs are made by conch-shell craftsmen, but the earrings of the Bhāgavatam — the circle of Kṛṣṇa's pastimes — for the yogī of My mind were fashioned by the craftsman Śrī Śuka himself, the son of Bādarāyaṇa. Whatever a yogī needs, the yogī of My mind has taken up. An ordinary yogī has a gourd kamaṇḍalu and a begging bowl (sthālī); the yogī of My mind has made a bowl of the gourd of thirst for Kṛṣṇa, slung over his shoulder the bag of hope, ‘I shall attain Kṛṣṇa,’ and put on the patched wrap of anxious thought, ‘How shall I attain Kṛṣṇa?’ Yogīs smear themselves with dust and ashes; the yogī of My mind is soiled with the ash of dust and answers every word with incoherent speech: ‘Hā hā Kṛṣṇa!’ Ordinary yogīs wear twelve bangles on their arms; on the arm of the yogī of My mind shine twelve bangles: the eight sāttvika-vikāras, agitation of mind, trembling, sighing, restlessness (cāpalya) and anxious thought.[13] He has tied the bag of craving for Kṛṣṇa's sweetness to his head; and, receiving no alms, he has grown thin. The yogīs Vyāsa, Śuka and others described in the Bhāgavatam and other śāstras all the Vraja pastimes of Kṛṣṇa, whose nature is the pure Self; the yogī of My mind constantly recites the tarjās they composed. As Bāul yogīs take ten disciples each, so the yogī of My mind took the name ‘Mahā-bāul,’ made the ten senses his disciples, left the great wealth of sense enjoyment in his own home, My body, and went to Vṛndāvana. In Vṛndāvana the disciples beg alms from all the subjects, moving and nonmoving, and at the homes of the householders — the trees, creepers and others — and live on fruits, roots and leaves. The gopīs of Vraja ever taste the nectar of Śrī Kṛṣṇa's qualities, form, taste, fragrance, sound and touch; the five disciples, the five knowledge-acquiring senses, bring the remnants of their meal and sustain their lives by eating that prasāda. As ordinary yogīs sit in a corner to meditate, so the yogī of My mind, with his disciples, practices yoga in meditation on Kṛṣṇa in the corner of a bower empty of Kṛṣṇa. Kṛṣṇa is the embodiment of the pure Self; the yogī of My mind longs to see Him face to face, and, not finding Him, stays awake through the nights in meditation. Separated from Kṛṣṇa, the mind in great sorrow became this yogī, and in separation from Kṛṣṇa it reached the ten states. In them it became utterly distraught, saw that being a yogī was futile, and fled; My body was left empty." This last figurative expression describes everything up to the state of pralaya (fainting).

Anubhāṣya.

The kāpālikas are a particular kind of yogī. They wander about with a human skull (kapāla). This part is described by analogy with their tantric rites. The kāpālikas do not follow the Vedas and are untouchable, and so they are not Vaiṣṇavas; only a comparison with their behavior is taken here.

*In separation from Kṛṣṇa the Lord experiences the ten states of a gopī whose beloved has gone abroad (proṣita-bhartṛkā) —*

কৃষ্ণের বিয়োগে গোপীর দশ দশা হয়। সেই দশ দশা হয় প্রভুর উদয় ॥ ৫২ ॥

kṛṣṇera viyoge gopīra daśa daśā haya
Kṛṣṇa in separation from of the gopīs ten states arise
sei daśa daśā haya prabhura udaya
those ten states are in the Lord arisen

52 In separation from Kṛṣṇa ten states arise in the gopīs; those same ten states arose in the Lord.

*The names of the ten states — (Ujjvala-nīlamaṇi, in the account of the varieties of śṛṅgāra, verse 167)*

চিন্তাত্র জাগরোদ্বেগৌ তানবং মলিনাঙ্গতা।
প্রলাপো ব্যাধিরুন্মাদো মোহো মৃত্যুর্দ্দশা দশ ॥ ৫৩ ॥

cintātra jāgarodvegau
anxious thought here sleeplessness agitation tānavaṁ malināṅgatā
emaciation uncleanliness of body
pralāpo vyādhir unmādo incoherent talk disease madness
moho mṛtyur daśā daśa
fainting death states ten

53 "In this separation there are ten states: anxious thought, sleeplessness, agitation, emaciation, uncleanliness of body, incoherent talk, disease, madness, fainting and death." (Ujjvala-nīlamaṇi, 15.167)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Anxious thought, wakefulness, agitation, emaciation of the body, uncleanliness of the body, incoherent speech, sickness, madness, fainting and death — these are the ten states.

Anubhāṣya.

(Here the ten states in the separation called pravāsa, the beloved's absence abroad, are named): cintā (pondering how to attain the desired object), jāgaraḥ (absence of sleep), udvegaḥ (a particular trembling of the mind), tānavaṁ (thinness), malināṅgatā (uncleanliness of the body), pralāpaḥ (incoherent speech), vyādhiḥ, unmādaḥ (being possessed by bewildered actions), mohaḥ (bewilderment of mind), mṛtyuḥ (absence of movement).

A garland of examples follows. Among them:

(1) Cintā, as in the Haṁsadūta: "When Mukunda, the delight of the gopīs' hearts, yielding to the son of Gāndinī, left Nanda's home for Madhupurī, Rādhā in separation sank into the bottomless river of anxious thought, whose waters are torment and whose whirlpools are deep." That is: "When at Akrūra's request the joy of the gopīs' hearts left Nanda's house for Mathurā, Rādhā's mind in separation began to whirl. Her burning thoughts were the water of sharp pain, and thoughts of her own death and distress were the foam; and she sank to the floor of the fathomless river of thought: ‘My beloved Kṛṣṇa will come to Vraja later, full of longing, to look for me. When He hears from people's lips of my death, His heart will never again find happiness. Considering how heavy my beloved's grief would be, my heart never wishes for death.’”

(2) Jāgara, as in the Padyāvalī: “Blessed, friend, are the women who see their beloved in dreams. But for us, since Kṛṣṇa went away, even sleep has gone — it has become our enemy.” That is: “Rādhā-ṭhākurāṇī, thinking herself unfortunate, said to her dear friend Viśākhā: ‘The woman to whom her beloved appears in dreams has good fortune written on her forehead. But since Kṛṣṇa left, sleep, my foe, has deserted me — it treats me as an enemy.’”

(3) Udvega, as in the Haṁsadūta: “Alas, what torment! My mind is burning. Ah, what shall I do? O fair-faced one, I see neither the far shore nor the near shore of this ocean. I bow my head to you: tell me quickly the means by which I might gain even a momentary particle of composure.” That is: “Rādhā says to Lalitā: ‘O fair-faced Lalitā, my heart is burning — I cannot even say how. Alas, what shall I do? I see the ocean has no shore. I bow at your feet; judge for yourself. Advise me what to do, how I may keep a little composure even for a moment.’”

(4) Tānava, for example: “O Lord of the Yadus! The lotus of her face has changed, her heart is clouded, the cakravāka birds of her breasts have withered, for she is always without food. Drying up day by day from the heat of separation from You, Rādhā wastes away to the utmost, like a stream in the summer heat.” That is: “When Uddhava returned to Kṛṣṇa, Kṛṣṇa asked him about Rādhikā and Viśākhā. In reply Uddhava spoke, and Kṛṣṇacandra in Mathurā listened eagerly: ‘O Lord of the Yadus, what shall I say of all this, of the pain Rādhā suffers in separation from You! The lotus of her face has paled and lost its color; her heart is shrouded in deep sorrow and humility. Without food the two cakravāka birds of her breast have withered[15] — I saw it; listen, O Rasamaya. As water dries up in the summer heat, so Rādhā has wasted away in the heat of separation from You.’”

(5) Malināṅgatā, for example: “O Aghahara! The beauty of Viśākhā's face has become like a lotus struck by heavy frost, her lips like a bandhujīva flower faded by a harsh wind, and her eyes like blue lotuses scorched by the autumn sun: the calamity of separation from You has withered her.” That is: “Uddhava says: ‘Listen, my Aghahara! The lips of Viśākhā, tormented by separation, have dried like a bandhu flower in gusts of harsh wind; her lips, red as the bimba fruit, are like a lotus struck by a heap of frost. Under the calamity of separation Viśākhā is utterly wretched, and her eyes are like kumuda lotuses scorched by the autumn sun.’”

(6) Pralāpa, as in the Lalita-mādhava: “Where is the moon of Nanda's line? Where is He who is adorned with peacock feathers? Where is the deep sound of the flute? Where is the luster like that of the king of sapphires? Where is He who dances in the rapture of rasa? Where, friend, is my dearest friend, the treasure-house of the medicine that preserves my life? Where is He — your [friend]? Alas, ah, shame on the Creator!” That is: “Rādhā, whose beloved has gone abroad, laments in anguish: ‘Friend, where is the moon of Nanda's line? Tell me, where has He gone whose ornament is peacock feathers? Where has He gone who plays the flute with a deep sound? Where is the best of men, shining like a sapphire, your dearest friend, who dances in the rapture of rasa? Tell me, where is the treasure-house of the medicine that preserves my life? Shame on you, Creator, for writing such a fate for me!’”

(7) Vyādhi, as in the Lalita-mādhava: “This mighty fever, born of separation from the Lord of Gokula, burns more than firing in a sealed crucible, torments more than a host of poisons, is more unbearable than a thunderbolt, sharper than a spear lodged in the heart, worse than the most severe cholera — today it pierces my innermost vitals.” That is: “Rādhā in separation says: ‘Listen, Lalitā: I cannot describe the fever of separation from Kṛṣṇa. [It burns me] as fire burns gold in a clay crucible; it torments more than poison and the like and is more unbearable than a thunderbolt; it is like a lodged spear, and in its agony like severe cholera. Friend, she who pierces my heart is mighty in her great strength.’”

(8) Unmāda, for example: “O Murāri! Rādhā, her mind bewildered and pouring out the anguish of cruel separation, wanders through the house laughing for no reason, tells of You to the conscious and the unconscious alike, and, trembling in every limb, rolls on the ground.” That is, Uddhava says: “O Murāri, Rādhā, tormented by separation from You, laughs for no reason. Wandering through the house, she questions whoever is there and does not consider whether it is conscious or not. Rādhikā, stricken by the anguish of cruel separation, now rolls on the ground in the grip of bewilderment.”

(9) Moha, for example: “O enemy of Kaṁsa! Now only one companion, the swoon of separation from You, serves as counselor to [Rādhā], whose eyes are like blue lotuses: it holds back the ocean of misery, removes the humiliation of heavy thoughts, destroys madness and forcibly stops the waves of tears.” That is: “Lalitā wrote Kṛṣṇa a letter: ‘In separation from You Rādhikā has fainted. O enemy of Kaṁsa, [the swoon] has become her counselor: it carries off the ocean of misery, calms the agitation of her mind, and forcibly stops the waves of her tears. Rādhā remains absorbed in heavy thoughts of You. I trust

You will obtain the great treasure — the killing of a woman. Stop thinking about Śrī Rādhā: today or tomorrow You will receive the news. Live happily, in special joy.’”

(10) Mṛtyu, as in the Haṁsadūta: “O You who relish the rasa of the rāsa pastime! Alas, You once bound to my friend an ever-new, deep wave of love. If now You have become indifferent to her, then shame on this wisp of cotton: held to her nose, it still stirs!” That is: “Reproaching Kṛṣṇa, who lives in Mathurā, the beautiful Lalitā-devī speaks through the swan: ‘O You who are full of the rasa of the rāsa pastime, for the sake of rasa You bound Rādhikā with the bonds of love. Why then are You indifferent to my dear friend? Rādhikā remembers all this at every moment. I shall hold a wisp of cotton to her nostrils to test her: if her breath still flows, shame on it!’”

এই দশ-দশায় প্রভু ব্যাকুল রাত্রিদিনে । কভু কোন দশা উঠে, স্থির নহে মনে ॥ ৫৪ ॥

ei daśa-daśāya prabhu vyākula rātridine
by these ten states the Lord distraught night and day
kabhu kona daśā uṭhe, sthira nahe mane
sometimes some state arises steady not in mind

54 Night and day the Lord was distraught by these ten states: now one state would arise, now another, and His mind found no rest.

Rāmānanda Rāya recites verses suited to the Lord's mood of separation and to the moment —

এত কহি’ মহাপ্রভু মৌন হইলা ।
রামানন্দ-রায় শ্লোক পড়িতে লাগিলা ॥ ৫৫ ॥

eta kahi’ mahāprabhu mauna hailā
this having said Mahāprabhu silent became rāmānanda-rāya śloka paḍite lāgilā
Rāmānanda Rāya verses to recite began

55 Having said this, Mahāprabhu fell silent, and Rāmānanda Rāya began to recite verses.[5]

With songs suited to each mood and moment, Svarūpa brings the Lord back to consciousness —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি করে কৃষ্ণলীলা গান । দুই জনে কিছু কৈলা প্রভুর বাহ্য জ্ঞান ॥ ৫৬ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi kare kṛṣṇa-līlā gāna Svarūpa Gosāñi does of Kṛṣṇa’s pastimes singing
dui jane kichu kailā prabhura bāhya jñāna
the two persons somewhat made the Lord’s external awareness

56 Svarūpa Gosāñi sang of Kṛṣṇa’s pastimes, and together the two brought the Lord somewhat back to external awareness.

The Lord is put to bed inside the house —

এইমত অর্দ্ধরাত্রি কৈলা নির্যাপণ । ভিতর-প্রকোষ্ঠে প্রভুরে করাইলা শয়ন ॥ ৫৭ ॥

ei-mata ardha-rātri kailā niryāpaṇa
in this way half the night they made pass bhitara-prakoṣṭhe prabhure karāilā śayana
in the inner room the Lord they made lie down

57 In this way they passed half the night, and then they had the Lord lie down in the inner room.

Everyone lies down in his own place —

রামানন্দ-রায় তবে গেলা নিজ ঘরে । স্বরূপ-গোবিন্দ দুঁহে শুইলেন দ্বারে ॥ ৫৮ ॥

rāmānanda-rāya tabe gelā nija ghare Rāmānanda Rāya then went to his own house
svarūpa-govinda dum̐he śuilena dvāre
Svarūpa Govinda both lay down at the door

58 Rāmānanda Rāya then went home, and Svarūpa and Govinda both lay down at the door.

The Lord stays awake all night, loudly chanting Kṛṣṇa's names —

সব রাত্রি মহাপ্রভু করে জাগরণ । উচ্চ করি' কহে কৃষ্ণনামসঙ্কীর্ত্তন ॥ ৫৯ ॥

saba rātri mahāprabhu kare jāgaraṇa
all night Mahāprabhu does keeping awake
ucca kari' kahe kṛṣṇa-nāma-saṅkīrtana
loudly making He utters of Kṛṣṇa's names saṅkīrtana

59 Mahāprabhu stayed awake all night, loudly chanting the names of Kṛṣṇa.

*Hearing no kīrtana and no sound at all, everyone searches for the Lord and cannot find Him —*

শব্দ না পাঞা স্বরূপ কপাট কৈলা দূরে । তিনদ্বার দেওয়া আছে, প্রভু নাহি ঘরে ॥ ৬০ ॥

śabda nā pāñā svarūpa kapāṭa kailā dūre sound not getting Svarūpa the door moved away
tinadvāra deoyā āche, prabhu nāhi ghare
the three doors shut are the Lord not in the room

60 Hearing no sound, Svarūpa opened the door: the three doors were still shut, yet the Lord was not in the room.

চিন্তিত হইল সবে প্রভুরে না দেখিয়া । প্রভু চাহি' বুলে সবে ব্যাকুল হঞা ॥ ৬১ ॥

cintita haila sabe prabhure nā dekhiyā anxious became all the Lord not seeing prabhu cāhi' bule sabe vyākula hañā
the Lord looking for wander all distraught becoming 61 Not seeing the Lord, everyone grew anxious, and in great distress they all went about looking for Him.

The Lord is found unconscious —

সিংহদ্বারের উত্তর-দিশায় আছে এক ঠাঞি । তার মধ্যে পড়ি' আছেন চৈতন্য-গোসাঞি ॥ ৬২ ॥

sim̐ha-dvārera uttara-diśāya āche eka ṭhāñi
of the Siṁha-dvāra on the north side there is one place
tāra madhye paḍi' āchena caitanya-gosāñi
of it in the midst fallen is Caitanya Gosāñi

62 On the north side of the Siṁha-dvāra (the Lion Gate) there is a certain spot, and there Caitanya Gosāñi lay where He had fallen.

The joy and grief of Svarūpa and the other devotees —

দেখি’ স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি-আদি আনন্দিত হৈলা । প্রভুর দশা দেখি’ পুনঃ চিন্তিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৬৩ ॥

dekhi’ svarūpa-gosāñi-ādi ānandita hailā seeing Svarūpa Gosāñi and the others joyful became prabhura daśā dekhi’ punaḥ cintite lāgilā
of the Lord the condition seeing again to worry began

63 Finding Him, Svarūpa Gosāñi and the others were overjoyed; but when they saw the Lord’s condition, they grew anxious again.

A description of the Lord in that state —

প্রভু পড়ি’ আছেন দীর্ঘ হাত পাঁচ-ছয় । অচেতন দেহ, নাসায় শ্বাস নাহি বয় ॥ ৬৪ ॥

prabhu paḍi’ āchena dīrgha hāta pāṁca-chaya
the Lord fallen is long cubits five or six acetana deha, nāsāya śvāsa nāhi vaya
unconscious the body in the nostrils breath not flows

64 The Lord lay there, five or six cubits long; His body was senseless, and no breath stirred in His nostrils.

এক এক হস্ত-পাদ — দীর্ঘ তিন-হাত ।
অস্থিগ্রন্থি ভিন্ন, চর্ম্ম আছে মাত্র তাত ॥ ৬৫ ॥

হস্ত, পাদ, গ্রীবা, কটি, অস্থি, সন্ধি যত । এক এক বিতস্তি ভিন্ন হঞাছে তত ॥ ৬৬ ॥

eka eka hasta-pāda — dīrgha tina-hāta
each each arm and leg — long three cubits
asthi-granthi bhinna, carma āche mātra tāta of the bones the joints separated the skin remains only warmth
hasta, pāda, grīvā, kaṭi, asthi, sandhi yata hands feet neck waist bones joints as many as eka eka vitasti bhinna hañāche tata
each each a span separated had become so many

65–66 Each of His arms and legs had grown three cubits long. The joints of His bones had come apart: there remained only the skin, and the warmth that showed He was alive. His hands and feet, neck and waist, His bones and all His joints had each come apart by a span.[6]

Anubhāṣya.
Tāta — the warmth that shows life is still present.

চর্ম্মমাত্র উপরে, সন্ধি আছে দীর্ঘ হঞা । দুঃখিত হইলা সবে প্রভুরে দেখিয়া ॥ ৬৭ ॥

carma-mātra upare, sandhi āche dīrgha hañā skin only above the joints are long being duḥkhita hailā sabe prabhure dekhiyā grieved became all the Lord seeing

67 Only skin covered the joints, which lay drawn out. Seeing the Lord in this state, everyone was stricken with grief.

মুখে লালা-ফেন প্রভুর উত্তান-নয়ন । দেখিয়া সকল ভক্তের দেহ ছাড়ে প্রাণ ॥ ৬৮ ॥

mukhe lālā-phena prabhura uttāna-nayana
at the mouth saliva and foam the Lord's upturned eyes
dekhiyā sakala bhaktera deha chāḍe prāṇa
seeing all the devotees' body leaves life

68 Saliva and foam were at the Lord's mouth, and His eyes were turned upward. Seeing this, all the devotees felt as if life were leaving their bodies.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Uttāna-nayana — the eyes have rolled upward.

Svarūpa loudly calls out Kṛṣṇa's name into the Lord's ear —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তবে উচ্চ করিয়া । প্রভুর কাণে কৃষ্ণনাম কহে ভক্তগণ লঞা ॥ ৬৯ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi tabe ucca kariyā Svarūpa Gosāñi then loud making prabhura kāṇe kṛṣṇa-nāma kahe bhakta-gaṇa lañā of the Lord in the ear Kṛṣṇa's name says the devotees taking along 69 Then Svarūpa Gosāñi, together with the devotees, loudly chanted the name of Kṛṣṇa into the Lord's ear.

The Lord returns to external consciousness —

বহুক্ষণে কৃষ্ণনাম হৃদয়ে পশিলা ।
'হরিবোল' বলি' প্রভু গর্জ্জিয়া উঠিলা ॥ ৭০ ॥

bahu-kṣaṇe kṛṣṇa-nāma hṛdaye paśilā
after a long time Kṛṣṇa's name into the heart entered
'hari-bola' bali' prabhu garjiyā uṭhilā
Haribol saying the Lord roaring rose

70 After a long while the name of Kṛṣṇa entered His heart, and with a thunderous cry of "Haribol!" the Lord sprang up.

চেতন পাইতে অস্থি-সন্ধি লাগিল । পূর্ব্বপ্রায় যথাবৎ শরীর হইল ॥ ৭১ ॥

cetana pāite asthi-sandhi lāgila consciousness on regaining the bone-joints joined pūrva-prāya yathāvat śarīra haila
as before just as it was the body became

71 As He regained consciousness, the joints of His bones came together, and His body became just as it had been before.

Raghunātha describes this event in his own book —

এই লীলা মহাপ্রভুর রঘুনাথদাস ।
'চৈতন্যস্তবকল্পবৃক্ষে' কৈরাছেন প্রকাশ ॥ ৭২ ॥

ei līlā mahāprabhura raghunāthadāsa
this pastime of Mahāprabhu Raghunātha dāsa
'caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣe' kairāchena prakāśa
in the Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa has described

72 Raghunātha dāsa has described this pastime of Mahāprabhu in his Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa:

*The state of the Lord, seized by separation from Kṛṣṇa, in Kāśī Miśra's house — (Stavāvalī, Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, verse 4)*

ক্বচিন্মিশ্রাবাসে ব্রজপতিসুতস্যোরুবিরহাৎ
শ্লথচ্ছ্রীসন্ধিত্বাদ্দধদধিকদৈর্ঘ্যং ভুজপদোঃ ।
লুঠন্ ভূমৌ কাক্বা বিকলবিকলং গদ্গদবচা
রুদন্ শ্রীগৌরাঙ্গো হৃদয় উদয়ন্মাং মদয়তি ॥ ৭৩ ॥

kvacin miśrāvāse vraja-
once in Miśra's house of Vraja's
pati-sutasyoru-virahāt
lord's son's from intense separation ślathac chrī-sandhitvād dadhad-loosening beauty and joints through bearing adhika-dairghyaṁ bhuja-padoḥ
extra length of arms and legs luṭhan bhūmau kākvā vikalarolling on the ground piteously in utter vikalaṁ gadgada-vacā distress with choked voice
rudan śrī-gaurāṅgo hṛdaya weeping Śrī Gaurāṅga in the heart
udayan māṁ madayati
rising me maddens

73 "Once, in Miśra's house, in intense separation from the son of the lord of Vraja, His arms and legs grew unnaturally long, for the beauty and the joints of His limbs had given way. Rolling on the ground in utter distress, He wept piteously in a voice choked with feeling. That Śrī Gaurāṅga, rising in my heart, makes me mad with joy." (Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, 4)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Once, in Kāśī Miśra's house, in separation from Kṛṣṇa, all the Lord's joints loosened, and His arms and legs grew longer. That Gaurāṅga who wept as He rolled on the ground, in a plaintive, faltering voice, utterly distraught, rises in my heart and maddens me.

Anubhāṣya.

kvacit miśrāvāse (in Kāśī Miśra's house) vraja-pati-sutasya (from the son of Nanda) uru-virahāt (because of intense separation) ślathac-chrī-sandhitvāt (because the beauty [śrī] and the joints [of the arms and legs] loosened, each leaving its proper place) bhuja-padoḥ (of the arms and legs) adhika-dairghyam dadhat (assuming) bhūmau luṭhan kākvā (in a plaintive voice) gadgada-vacā vikala-vikalam (utterly distraught) rudan saḥ gaurāṅgaḥ mama hṛdaye udayan (manifesting) san mām madayati (delights).[16]

Half in external consciousness, the Lord asks why people have gathered —

সিংহদ্বারে দেখি' প্রভুর বিস্ময় হইলা । ক্যা কর, কিবা — এই স্বরূপে পুছিলা ॥ ৭৪ ॥

siṁha-dvāre dekhi' prabhura vismaya hailā
at the Siṁha-dvāra seeing the Lord's astonishment was kyā kara, kibā — ei svarūpe puchilā
what do you do why — this of Svarūpa He asked

74 Finding Himself at the Siṁha-dvāra, the Lord was astonished, and He asked Svarūpa, "What are you doing? Why?"[7]

Anubhāṣya.

Kyā kara kibā — keyā karo, keṁo.[17]

Svarūpa brings the Lord home and tells Him everything —

স্বরূপ কহে, — উঠ, প্রভু, চল নিজ-ঘরে । তথাই তোমারে সব করিমু গোচরে ॥ ৭৫ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — uṭha, prabhu, cala nija-ghare Svarūpa says — get up Prabhu come to Your own room
tathāi tomāre saba karimu gocare
there to You all I shall make known

75 Svarūpa said, "Get up, Prabhu, and come to Your own room. There I shall tell You everything."

এত বলি' প্রভুরে ধরি' ঘরে লঞা গেলা । তাঁহার অবস্থা সব কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৭৬ ॥

eta bali' prabhure dhari' ghare lañā gelā
so saying the Lord holding to the room taking went tāṁhāra avasthā saba kahite lāgilā
His condition all to tell began 76 Saying this, he held the Lord and took Him to His room, and there began to tell Him all about the state He had been in.

Returning to external consciousness, the Lord is amazed and describes His own state —

শুনি' মহাপ্রভু বড় হৈলা চমৎকার । প্রভু কহে, — কিছু স্মৃতি নাহিক আমার! ॥ ৭৭ ॥

śuni' mahāprabhu baḍa hailā camatkāra hearing Mahāprabhu greatly became astonished prabhu kahe, — kichu smṛti nāhika āmāra!
the Lord says — any memory is not Mine

77 Hearing this, Mahāprabhu was greatly astonished and said, "I remember nothing of it!

সবে দেখি — হয় মোর কৃষ্ণ বিদ্যমান । বিদ্যুৎপ্রায় দেখা দিয়া হয় অন্তর্দ্ধান ॥ ৭৮ ॥

sabe dekhi — haya mora kṛṣṇa vidyamāna
only I see — is My Kṛṣṇa present
vidyut-prāya dekhā diyā haya antardhāna
lightning like appearance giving is vanishing

78 I only see that My Kṛṣṇa is present: He appears like a flash of lightning and vanishes."

*The Lord goes for darśana of Jagannātha —*

হেনকালে জগন্নাথের পানি-শঙ্খ বাজিলা । স্নান করি' মহাপ্রভু দরশনে গেলা ॥ ৭৯ ॥

hena-kāle jagannāthera pāni-śaṅkha bājilā
at that time of Jagannātha the conch (pāni-śaṅkha) sounded snāna kari' mahāprabhu daraśane gelā bath taking Mahāprabhu for darśana went

79 Just then the conch (pāni-śaṅkha) of Jagannātha sounded, and Mahāprabhu bathed and went for darśana.[8]

Anubhāṣya.
Pāṇi-śaṅkha — a conch held in the hand and blown; or else the sound of clapping when the doors are opened. In a variant reading, pānī-śaṅkha: a conch [of water] for ācamana.

*The transformations of mahābhāva in the Lord evoke wonder —*

এই ত' কহিলুঁ প্রভুর অদ্ভুত বিকার । যাহার শ্রবণে লোকে লাগে চমৎকার ॥ ৮০ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ prabhura adbhuta vikāra
thus indeed I have told of the Lord wonderful transformations yāhāra śravaṇe loke lāge camatkāra of which in the hearing in people arises wonder

80 Thus I have described the Lord's extraordinary transformations; whoever hears of them is struck with wonder.

*The Lord's mahābhāva, never seen or heard of before —*

লোকে নাহি দেখে ঐছে, শাস্ত্রে নাহি শুনি । হেন ভাব ব্যক্ত করে ন্যাসি-চূড়ামণি ॥ ৮১ ॥

loke nāhi dekhe aiche, śāstre nāhi śuni
people not see such in the scriptures not we hear hena bhāva vyakta kare nyāsi-cūḍāmaṇi
such ecstasy manifest makes of sannyāsīs the crest-jewel

81 Such things are not seen in this world, nor do we hear of them in the scriptures; yet the crest-jewel of sannyāsīs reveals such feelings.

The transcendental signs of emotion for Adhokṣaja lie beyond the understanding of those whose knowledge is born of the senses —

শাস্ত্রলোকাতীত যেই যেই ভাব হয় । ইতর-লোকের তাতে না হয় নিশ্চয় ॥ ৮২ ॥

śāstra-lokātīta yei yei bhāva haya scriptures world beyond whatever whatever emotion is itara-lokera tāte nā haya niścaya
of ordinary people in that not is conviction

82 Ordinary people cannot believe in feelings (bhāva) that lie beyond the scriptures and beyond this world.

*The author describes this by the path of śrauta, through transcendental realization —*

রঘুনাথ-দাসের সদা প্রভুসঙ্গে স্থিতি । তাঁর মুখে শুনি' লিখি করিয়া প্রতীতি ॥ ৮৩ ॥

raghunātha-dāsera sadā prabhu-saṅge sthiti Raghunātha dāsa's always with the Lord stay tāṁra mukhe śuni' likhi kariyā pratīti
his from the mouth hearing I write making conviction

83 Raghunātha dāsa always stayed with the Lord. I write what I heard from his own lips, with full faith in it.

*Taking Caṭaka-parvata for Govardhana, the Lord, absorbed in mahābhāva, runs swiftly toward it —*

একদিন মহাপ্রভু সমুদ্রে যাইতে ।
'চটক'-পর্ব্বত দেখিলেন আচম্বিতে ॥ ৮৪ ॥

ekadina mahāprabhu samudre yāite
one day Mahāprabhu to the sea going
'caṭaka'-parvata dekhilena ācambite
Caṭaka hill He saw suddenly

84 One day, as Mahāprabhu was going to the sea, He suddenly caught sight of the Caṭaka hill.

Anubhāṣya.
Caṭaka-parvata — a high mound of sand that looks like a mountain; a sand dune.

গোবর্দ্ধন-শৈল-জ্ঞানে আবিষ্ট হইলা । পর্ব্বত-দিশাতে প্রভু ধাঞা চলিলা ॥ ৮৫ ॥

govardhana-śaila-jñāne āviṣṭa hailā Govardhana hill in the thought absorbed became parvata-diśāte prabhu dhāñā calilā hill toward the Lord running went 85 Taking it for Govardhana Hill, the Lord was overcome with feeling and ran toward it.

*(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.21.18)*

হন্তায়মদ্রিরবলা হরিদাসবর্য্যো
যদ্রামকৃষ্ণচরণ-স্পর্শ-প্রমোদঃ ।
মানং তনোতি সহ-গোগণয়োস্তয়োর্যৎ পানীয় সূযবস কন্দর কন্দমূলৈঃ ॥ ৮৬ ॥

hantāyam adrir abalā hari-dāsa-varyo
ah this hill O friends best of Hari's servants
yad rāma-kṛṣṇa-caraṇa-sparśa-pramodaḥ
since of Rāma and Kṛṣṇa the feet by the touch rejoicing
mānaṁ tanoti saha-go-gaṇayos tayor yat honour offers with Their herds of cows to Them because pānīya sūyavasa kandara kanda-mūlaiḥ
with water fine grass caves bulbs roots

86 "Ah, friends, this hill is the best of Hari's servants! Thrilled by the touch of the feet of Rāma and Kṛṣṇa, it honours Them, together with Their cows and companions, with water to drink, fine grass, caves, and bulbs and roots."

(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.21.18)[9]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 18.34.

Govinda, the Lord's companion, runs after Him —

এই শ্লোক পড়ি' প্রভু চলেন বায়ুবেগে । গোবিন্দ ধাইল পাছে, নাহি পায় লাগে ॥ ৮৭ ॥

ei śloka paḍi' prabhu calena vāyu-vege
this verse reciting the Lord goes with the speed of the wind govinda dhāila pāche, nāhi pāya lāge
Govinda ran behind not could reach

87 Reciting this verse, the Lord rushed on with the speed of the wind. Govinda ran after Him but could not catch up.

With a great uproar people run after Him —

ফুকার পড়িল, মহা-কোলাহল হইল । যেই যাঁহা ছিল সেই উঠিয়া ধাইল ॥ ৮৮ ॥

phukāra paḍila, mahā-kolāhala haila
a cry arose great uproar there was yei yāṁhā chila sei uṭhiyā dhāila whoever where was he getting up ran

88 A cry went up, and there was a great uproar. Everyone, wherever he was, got up and ran.

All the devotees arrive there —

স্বরূপ, জগদানন্দ, পণ্ডিত-গদাধর । রামাই, নন্দাই, আর পণ্ডিত-শঙ্কর ॥ ৮৯ ॥

svarūpa, jagadānanda, paṇḍita-gadādhara
Svarūpa Jagadānanda Paṇḍita Gadādhara
rāmāi, nandāi, āra paṇḍita-śaṅkara
Rāmāi Nandāi and Paṇḍita Śaṅkara

89 Among them were Svarūpa, Jagadānanda, Gadādhara Paṇḍita, Rāmāi, Nandāi and Śaṅkara Paṇḍita.

পুরী-ভারতী-গোসাঞি আইলা সিন্ধুতীরে । ভগবান্-আচার্য্য খঞ্জ চলিলা ধীরে ধীরে ॥ ৯০ ॥

purī-bhāratī-gosāñi āilā sindhu-tīre Purī Bhāratī Gosāñi came to the seashore
bhagavān-ācārya khañja calilā dhīre dhīre
Bhagavān Ācārya lame went slowly slowly

90 Purī Gosāñi and Bhāratī Gosāñi came to the seashore, and the lame Bhagavān Ācārya followed very slowly.

A description of stupor and the other transformations on the way —

প্রথমে চলিলা প্রভু, — যেন বায়ুগতি । স্তম্ভভাব পথে হৈল, চলিতে নাহি শক্তি ॥ ৯১ ॥

prathame calilā prabhu, — yena vāyu-gati
at first went the Lord — like the wind's speed
stambha-bhāva pathe haila, calite nāhi śakti
stupor ecstasy on the way arose to move no strength

91 At first the Lord went like the wind; but on the way He was seized by stupor (stambha) and had no strength to move.

প্রতি-রোমকূপে মাংস — ব্রণের আকার । তার উপরে রোমোদ্গম — কদম্বপ্রকার ॥ ৯২ ॥

prati-roma-kūpe māṁsa — vraṇera ākāra
at every hair pore the flesh — of a boil the shape
tāra upare romodgama — kadamba-prakāra
it upon the hair standing on end — kadamba like

92 At every pore the flesh rose in a tiny swelling, and on it the hairs stood on end, like the filaments of a kadamba flower.

প্রতি-রোমে প্রস্বেদ পড়ে রুধিরের ধার । কণ্ঠে ঘর্ঘর, নাহি বর্ণের উচ্চার ॥ ৯৩ ॥

prati-rome prasveda paḍe rudhirera dhāra
at every hair perspiration falls of blood a stream kaṇṭhe gharghara, nāhi varṇera uccāra
in the throat gurgling no of syllables utterance

93 From every pore sweat poured out with streams of blood. His throat gurgled, and He could not utter a single syllable.

দুই নেত্রে ভরি' অশ্রু বহয়ে অপার । সমুদ্রে মিলিলা যেন গঙ্গা-যমুনা-ধার ॥ ৯৪ ॥

dui netre bhari' aśru vahaye apāra
two eyes filling tears flow boundless samudre mililā yena gaṅgā-yamunā-dhāra
in the sea met as if Gaṅgā Yamunā streams

94 His two eyes filled, and tears flowed endlessly, as if the streams of the Gaṅgā and the Yamunā had met the sea.

বৈবর্ণ্য শঙ্খপ্রায়, শ্বেত হৈল অঙ্গ । তবে কম্প উঠে, — যেন সমুদ্রে তরঙ্গ ॥ ৯৫ ॥

vaivarṇya śaṅkha-prāya, śveta haila aṅga
pallor conch like white became the body
tabe kampa uṭhe, — yena samudre taraṅga
then trembling rises — like in the sea waves

95 His colour faded, and His body turned white as a conch. Then a trembling arose in Him, like waves on the sea.

The Lord falls —

কাঁপিতে কাঁপিতে প্রভু ভূমেতে পড়িলা । তবে ত' গোবিন্দ প্রভুর নিকটে আইলা ॥ ৯৬ ॥

kāṁpite kāṁpite prabhu bhūmete paḍilā trembling trembling the Lord on the ground fell tabe ta' govinda prabhura nikaṭe āilā
then indeed Govinda of the Lord near came

96 Trembling all over, the Lord fell to the ground. Then Govinda came up to Him.

Govinda sprinkles water on the Lord and fans Him, trying to bring Him back to consciousness —

করঙ্গের জলে করে সর্ব্বাঙ্গ সিঞ্চন । বহির্ব্বাস লঞা করে অঙ্গ সংবীজন ॥ ৯৭ ॥

karaṅgera jale kare sarvāṅga siñcana
of the waterpot with water makes all limbs sprinkling bahirvāsa lañā kare aṅga saṁvījana
the outer cloth taking makes of the body fanning

97 With water from the waterpot (karaṅga) he sprinkled the Lord's whole body, and with the outer cloth he fanned Him.

Seeing the Lord's state, everyone weeps —

স্বরূপাদিগণ তাঁহা আসিয়া মিলিলা । প্রভুর অবস্থা দেখি' কান্দিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৯৮ ॥

svarūpādi-gaṇa tāṁhā āsiyā mililā Svarūpa and others there coming met prabhura avasthā dekhi' kāndite lāgilā
of the Lord the condition seeing to weep began

98 Svarūpa and the others arrived there; seeing the Lord's condition, they began to weep.

*Seeing the eight sāttvika transformations in the Lord, everyone is amazed —*

প্রভুর অঙ্গে দেখে অষ্টসাত্ত্বিক বিকার । আশ্চর্য্য সাত্ত্বিক দেখি' হৈলা চমৎকার ॥ ৯৯ ॥

prabhura aṅge dekhe aṣṭa-sāttvika vikāra of the Lord in the body they see eight sāttvika transformations
āścarya sāttvika dekhi' hailā camatkāra wonderful sāttvika seeing became amazed

99 They saw the eight sāttvika transformations in the Lord's body and were amazed at these wondrous signs.

Anubhāṣya.
Aṣṭa-sāttvika-vikāra (the eight spiritual transformations) — becoming stunned (stambha), perspiration (sveda), hair standing on end (romāñca), faltering voice (svara-bheda), trembling (vepathu), change of color (vaivarṇya), tears (aśru) and fainting (pralaya).

*Everyone performs loud saṅkīrtana; Govinda and others sprinkle water —*

উচ্চ সঙ্কীর্ত্তন করে প্রভুর শ্রবণে ।
সুশীতল জলে করে প্রভুর অঙ্গ সম্মার্জ্জনে ॥ ১০০ ॥

ucca saṅkīrtana kare prabhura śravaṇe loud saṅkīrtana they make at the Lord's ear
suśītala jale kare prabhura aṅga sammārjane
very cool with water they make the Lord's body washing

100 They sang loud saṅkīrtana right at the Lord's ear and bathed His body with very cool water.

Anubhāṣya.
Śravaṇe — right at the ear.

The Lord returns to external consciousness —

এইমত বহুবার কীর্ত্তন করিতে।
'হরিবোল' বলি' প্রভু উঠে আচম্বিতে ॥ ১০১ ॥

ei-mata bahu-bāra kīrtana karite
in this way many times kīrtana doing
'hari-bola' bali' prabhu uṭhe ācambite
Haribol saying the Lord rises suddenly

101 When they had sung kīrtana in this way many times, the Lord suddenly rose, crying "Haribol!"

Full of joy, everyone calls out "Hari!" —

সানন্দে সকল বৈষ্ণব বলে 'হরি' 'হরি'। উঠিল মঙ্গলধ্বনি চতুর্দ্দিক্ ভরি' ॥ ১০২ ॥

sānande sakala vaiṣṇava bale 'hari' 'hari'
joyfully all Vaiṣṇavas say Hari Hari uṭhila maṅgala-dhvani catur-dik bhari'
arose auspicious sound the four directions filling

102 Joyfully all the Vaiṣṇavas cried, "Hari! Hari!", and an auspicious sound arose, filling the four directions.

The Lord half in external consciousness —

উঠি' মহাপ্রভু বিস্মিত, ইতি উতি চায়। যে দেখিতে চায়, তাহা দেখিতে না পায় ॥ ১০৩ ॥

uṭhi' mahāprabhu vismita, iti uti cāya having risen Mahāprabhu astonished here there looks ye dekhite cāya, tāhā dekhite nā pāya
what to see He wants that to see not can 103 Rising, Mahāprabhu looked here and there in astonishment, but what He longed to see, He could not see.

'বৈষ্ণব' দেখিয়া প্রভুর অর্দ্ধবাহ্য হইল।
স্বরূপ-গোসাঞিরে কিছু কহিতে লাগিল ॥ ১০৪ ॥

'vaiṣṇava' dekhiyā prabhura ardha-bāhya haila
the Vaiṣṇavas seeing of the Lord half-external consciousness became svarūpa-gosāñire kichu kahite lāgila
to Svarūpa Gosāñi something to say began 104 Seeing the Vaiṣṇavas, the Lord came half into external consciousness and began to say something to Svarūpa Gosāñi:

Anubhāṣya.
Ardha-bāhya — not having regained full external consciousness.

Feeling Himself a maidservant of Śrī Rādhā, the Lord describes His own state —

গোবর্দ্ধন হৈতে মোরে কে ইঁহা আনিল ?
পাঞা কৃষ্ণের লীলা দেখিতে না পাইল ॥ ১০৫ ॥

govardhana haite more ke iṁhā ānila?
Govardhana from Me who here brought pāñā kṛṣṇera līlā dekhite nā pāila having found Kṛṣṇa's pastimes to see not I could 105 "Who has brought Me here from Govardhana? I had found Kṛṣṇa's pastimes, but I could not go on seeing them.

ইঁহা হৈতে আজি মুই গেনু গোবর্দ্ধনে । দেখোঁ, — যদি কৃষ্ণ করেন গোধন-চারণে ॥ ১০৬ ॥

iṁhā haite āji mui genu govardhane from here today I went to Govardhana
dekhoṁ, — yadi kṛṣṇa karena godhana-cāraṇe
I would see whether Kṛṣṇa does of cows grazing

106 Today I went from here to Govardhana to see whether Kṛṣṇa was grazing the cows.

গোবর্দ্ধনে চড়ি' কৃষ্ণ বাজাইলা বেণু । গোবর্দ্ধনের চৌদিকে চরে সব ধেনু ॥ ১০৭ ॥

govardhane caḍi' kṛṣṇa bājāilā veṇu
on Govardhana climbing Kṛṣṇa played the flute govardhanera caudike care saba dhenu
of Govardhana all around graze all the cows

107 Kṛṣṇa had climbed Govardhana and was playing His flute, and all around the hill the cows were grazing.

বেণুনাদ শুনি' আইলা রাধা-ঠাকুরাণী । সব সখীগণ-সঙ্গে করিয়া সাজনি ॥ ১০৮ ॥

veṇu-nāda śuni' āilā rādhā-ṭhākurāṇī
of the flute the sound hearing came Rādhā Ṭhākurāṇī
saba sakhī-gaṇa-saṅge kariyā sājani
all the sakhīs with making adornment

108 Hearing the sound of the flute, Rādhā Ṭhākurāṇī came, beautifully dressed and adorned, with all Her sakhīs.

Anubhāṣya.
Kariyā sājani — dressed and adorned.

রাধা লঞা কৃষ্ণ প্রবেশিলা কন্দরাতে । সখীগণ চাহে কেহ ফুল উঠাইতে ॥ ১০৯ ॥

rādhā lañā kṛṣṇa praveśilā kandarāte Rādhā taking Kṛṣṇa entered into a cave sakhī-gaṇa cāhe keha phula uṭhāite
the sakhīs want some flowers to gather

109 Kṛṣṇa took Rādhā with Him and entered a cave, and some of the sakhīs wanted to gather flowers.[10]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Kandarāte — into a cave.

হেনকালে তুমি-সব কোলাহল কৈলা । তাঁহা হৈতে ধরি' মোরে ইঁহা লঞা আইলা ॥ ১১০ ॥

hena-kāle tumi-saba kolāhala kailā
at that time you all uproar made tāṁhā haite dhari' more iṁhā lañā āilā
there from seizing Me here taking came

110 Just then all of you raised an uproar, seized Me and carried Me back here.

Deprived of Kṛṣṇa's company, the Lord weeps in sorrow; the devotees weep too —

কেনে বা আনিলা মোরে বৃথা দুঃখ দিতে । পাঞা কৃষ্ণের লীলা, না পাইনু দেখিতে ॥ ১১১ ॥

kene vā ānilā more vṛthā duḥkha dite why then brought Me in vain pain to give pāñā kṛṣṇera līlā, nā pāinu dekhite having found Kṛṣṇa's pastimes not I could see

111 Why did you bring Me here, only to give Me pain for nothing? I had found Kṛṣṇa's pastimes, but I could not go on seeing them."

এত বলি' মহাপ্রভু করেন ক্রন্দন । তাঁর দশা দেখি' বৈষ্ণব করেন রোদন ॥ ১১২ ॥

eta bali' mahāprabhu karena krandana
so saying Mahāprabhu does weeping
tāṁra daśā dekhi' vaiṣṇava karena rodana
His condition seeing the Vaiṣṇavas do crying

112 Saying this, Mahāprabhu wept, and seeing His condition, the Vaiṣṇavas wept too.

Seeing Purī and Bhāratī, who have come to see Him, the Lord, in external consciousness, shows them respect —

হেনকালে আইলা পুরী, ভারতী, — দুইজন । দুঁহে দেখি' মহাপ্রভুর হইল সম্ভ্রম ॥ ১১৩ ॥

hena-kāle āilā purī, bhāratī, — dui-jana at that time came Purī Bhāratī — the two duṁhe dekhi' mahāprabhura haila sambhrama
both seeing Mahāprabhu's was reverence

113 Meanwhile the two, Purī and Bhāratī, arrived. Seeing them both, Mahāprabhu was filled with reverence.

নিপট্ট-বাহ্য হইলে প্রভু দুঁহারে বন্দিলা । মহাপ্রভুরে দুইজন প্রেমালিঙ্গন কৈলা ॥ ১১৪ ॥

nipaṭṭa-bāhya haile prabhu duṁhāre vandilā full external consciousness when it came the Lord to both offered respects mahāprabhure dui-jana premāliṅgana kailā Mahāprabhu the two loving embrace made

114 When He came fully into external consciousness, the Lord offered His respects to them both, and the two embraced Mahāprabhu with love.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Nipaṭṭa-bāhya haile — when He came into “uncovered” external consciousness, that is, into full external consciousness.

The Lord asks why they have come, and Purī answers —

প্রভু কহে, — দুঁহে কেনে আইলা এত দূরে ?
পুরীগোসাঞি কহে, — তোমার নৃত্য দেখিবারে ॥ ১১৫ ॥

prabhu kahe, — duṁhe kene āilā eta dūre?
the Lord says — you two why came so far purīgosāñi kahe, — tomāra nṛtya dekhibāre Purī Gosāñi says — Your dance to see

115 The Lord said, “Why have you two come so far?” Purī Gosāñi said, “To see Your dancing.”

*The Lord's embarrassment; after bathing in the ocean with the devotees, He honors prasāda —*

লজ্জিত হইলা প্রভু পুরীর বচনে । সমুদ্রঘাট আইলা সব বৈষ্ণব-সনে ॥ ১১৬ ॥

lajjita hailā prabhu purīra vacane embarrassed became the Lord of Purī at the words samudra-ghāṭa āilā saba vaiṣṇava-sane to the sea’s bathing place came all Vaiṣṇavas with 116 At Purī’s words the Lord was embarrassed, and He went with all the Vaiṣṇavas to the bathing place at the sea.

স্নান করি’ মহাপ্রভু ঘরেতে আইলা । সবা লঞা মহাপ্রসাদ ভোজন করিলা ॥ ১১৭ ॥

snāna kari’ mahāprabhu gharete āilā bath taking Mahāprabhu home came sabā lañā mahā-prasāda bhojana karilā
all taking along mahā-prasāda eating did

117 After bathing, Mahāprabhu returned home and, together with everyone, partook of mahā-prasāda.

The Lord's transcendental divine madness is beyond even Brahmā's reach —

এই ত’ কহিলুঁ প্রভুর দিব্যোন্মাদ-ভাব । ব্রহ্মাও কহিতে নারে যাহার প্রভাব ॥ ১১৮ ॥

ei ta’ kahiluṁ prabhura divyonmāda-bhāva
thus indeed I have told of the Lord divine madness mood
brahmāo kahite nāre yāhāra prabhāva
even Brahmā to tell cannot whose power

118 Thus I have described the Lord’s mood of divine madness (divyonmāda), whose power even Brahmā cannot describe.

Raghunātha dāsa has described this pastime of the Lord in his own book —

‘চটক’-গিরি-গমন-লীলা রঘুনাথদাস । ‘চৈতন্যস্তবকল্পবৃক্ষে’ কৈরাছেন প্রকাশ ॥ ১১৯ ॥

'caṭaka'-giri-gamana-līlā raghunāthadāsa
Caṭaka hill going pastime Raghunātha dāsa
'caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣe' kairāchena prakāśa
in the Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa has described

119 Raghunātha dāsa has described the pastime of the Lord's running to the Caṭaka hill in his Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa:

*(Stavāvalī, Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, verse 8)*

সমীপে নীলাদ্রেশ্চটকগিরিরাজস্য কলনা
দয়ে গোষ্ঠে গোবর্দ্ধনগিরিপতিং লোকিতুমিতঃ ৷
ব্রজন্নস্মীত্যুক্ত্বা প্রমদ ইব ধাবন্নবধৃতো গণৈঃ স্বৈগৌরাঙ্গো হৃদয় উদয়ন্মাং মদয়তি ॥ ১২০ ॥

samīpe nīlādreś caṭaka-girinear of Nīlādri Caṭaka hill rājasya kalanād
the king from seeing aye goṣṭhe govardhana-girioh in Vraja Govardhana hills'
patiṁ lokitum itaḥ
king to see from here
vrajann asmīty uktvā pramada going I am thus saying mad
iva dhāvann avadhṛto
as if running followed gaṇaiḥ svair gaurāṅgo hṛdaya
by companions His own Gaurāṅga in the heart
udayan māṁ madayati
rising me maddens

120 "Near Nīlādri He beheld the Caṭaka hill, a king among hills. 'Ah! From here I am going to Vraja, to see Govardhana, the lord of hills!' He cried, and ran like one mad, with His own companions following after Him. That Gaurāṅga, rising in my heart, makes me mad with joy." (Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, 8)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Near Nīlācala Mahāprabhu saw Caṭaka-giri, a hill of sea sand, and with the words "I shall see Govardhana, the king of hills, in Vraja!" He ran off at great speed. That Gaurāṅgadeva, surrounded by the Vaiṣṇavas, rises in my heart and maddens me.

Thus ends the fourteenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.

nīlādreḥ (of Nīlācala) samīpe (near) caṭaka-giri-rājasya (of the hill in the form of a mound of sand) kalanāt (on seeing) aye (from here, from this Kṣetra)[18] goṣṭhe govardhana-giri-patim lokitum (to see) vrajan asmi (I am going) iti uktvā pramadaḥ (maddened) iva dhāvan svaiḥ gaṇaiḥ (by Svarūpa and the others) avadhṛtaḥ (followed from behind), saḥ gaurāṅgaḥ mama hṛdaye udayan mām madayati (fills with bliss).[19]

*The Lord's extraordinary, transcendental pastimes and play in mahābhāva —*

এবে প্রভু যত কৈলা অলৌকিক লীলা ৷ কে বুঝিতে পারে সেই মহাপ্রভুর খেলা ॥ ১২১ ॥

ebe prabhu yata kailā alaukika līlā
now the Lord all that did extraordinary pastimes
ke bujhite pāre sei mahāprabhura khelā who to understand can that of Mahāprabhu play

121 Who can understand these extraordinary pastimes of the Lord, this play of Mahāprabhu?[11]

*Only by following the Lord's separation from Kṛṣṇa does the jīva attain Kṛṣṇa's feet —*

সংক্ষেপে করিয়া করি দিক্ দরশন । যেই ইহা শুনে, পায় কৃষ্ণের চরণ ॥ ১২২ ॥

saṅkṣepe kariyā kari dik daraśana
in brief making I do of direction showing yei ihā śune, pāya kṛṣṇera caraṇa
whoever this hears attains Kṛṣṇa's feet

122 I have told this only briefly, just to point the way. Whoever hears it attains the feet of Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the fourteenth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১২৩ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

123 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. The second line is the same as Madhya 12.3; translated as there. ↩
2. Divyonmāda is the highest manifestation of mahābhāva, not worldly madness. ↩
3. Verses 28–32 are the Lord's words, as in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (the quotation closes after verse 32). Some editions read verse 31 as pūrve āsi' yabe … jagannāthe dekhe, which makes verses 31–32 the narrator's account. ↩
4. Śūnya, "empty": according to the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya, a bower where Kṛṣṇa is not. ↩
5. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition (p. 1017) reads mauna hailā, "fell silent". ↩
6. A span (vitasti) is half a cubit (hasta). ↩
7. Kyā kara, kibā is Hindustani (keyā karo, keṁo): "What are you doing? Why?" ↩
8. So in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition: pāni-śaṅkha. ↩
9. The same verse as Madhya 18.34; translated as there. According to the Anubhāṣya, the gopīs sing this verse: wandering in longing for Kṛṣṇa, they see before them Govardhana, the king of mountains. ↩
10. So in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition: sakhī-gaṇa cāhe keha phula uṭhāite, "some of the sakhīs wanted to gather flowers"; other editions read sakhī-gaṇa kahe more phula uṭhāite, "the sakhīs told Me to gather flowers". ↩
11. So in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition: ke bujhite pāre, "who can understand"; other editions read ke varṇite pāre, "who can describe". ↩
12. Unclear passage: রাগোদয় may mean either "the awakening of rāga (burning love)" or, in its everyday Bengali sense, "anger, vexation." ↩
13. So in the edition: together with the eight sāttvika-vikāras, thirteen states are named (trembling is named twice: it is also one of the eight sāttvika-vikāras). ↩
14. The edition reads «শ্রীমূর্ত্তিকে অপ্রাকৃত কার্ষ্ণজ্ঞান». Another reading is possible: śrī-mūrti as the holy form of the Deity (Jagannātha), whom the Lord sees as transcendental, Kṛṣṇa Himself, and so does not hinder her darśana. ↩

15. So in the edition: “বক্ষশ্চ-কোরিকা” (the reading is clear in the scan, but the word is unusual); by the sense of the verse, the koka (cakravāka) birds of the breast. ↩
16. In the verse translation, otherwise: “this image of Śrī Caitanya makes me, too, a madman.” ↩
17. Hindustani: “What are you doing? Why?” ↩
18. So in the edition: the gloss itaḥ kṣetrāt (“from here, from this Kṣetra”) stands after the word aye; by the sense it belongs to the word itaḥ (“from here”) in the same verse, which the analysis leaves out. ↩
19. In the verse translation, otherwise: “This image of Śrī Caitanya in my heart makes me, too, a madman.” ↩

The Lord’s Pastime in the Garden

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. After the upala-bhoga [offering to Lord Jagannātha], Mahāprabhu began to lament: a feeling stirred by Kṛṣṇa's form awoke in Him. When Kṛṣṇa disappeared on the night of the rāsa, the gopīs searched for Him from forest to forest; the same feelings now began to awaken in the Lord. Svarūpa Gosvāmī sang a song from the Gīta-govinda, and emotions (bhāvas) arose in Mahāprabhu: their rising (bhāvodaya), their meeting (bhāva-sandhi), their mingling (bhāva-śābalya), the eight spiritual transformations (aṣṭa-sāttvika-vikāra) and more, and all of it became for Him an object of the highest relish. When He saw a garden on the seashore, the memory of Vṛndāvana awoke in Him, and all these feelings rose up with great force.

*The Lord immersed in the ocean of mahābhāva in separation from Kṛṣṇa —*

দুর্গমে কৃষ্ণভাবাব্ধৌ নিমগ্নোন্মগ্নচেতসা । গৌরেণ হরিণা প্রেমমর্য্যাদা ভূরি দর্শিতা ॥ ১ ॥

durgame kṛṣṇa-bhāvābdhau
in the unfathomable of Kṛṣṇa in the ocean of feelings nimagnonmagna-cetasā whose heart sank and rose gaureṇa hariṇā premaby Gaura Hari of prema
maryādā bhūri darśitā
the greatness abundantly was shown

1 In the unfathomable ocean of feelings for Kṛṣṇa, Gaurahari’s heart now sank and now rose; and so He revealed the greatness of prema in all its fullness.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Plunged into the unfathomable ocean of feeling for Kṛṣṇa, Gaurahari, whose heart [now sank and now] rose to the surface, revealed the glory of prema in its many forms.

Anubhāṣya.
durgame (unfathomable even for sages headed by Brahmā, because their knowledge rests on the senses) kṛṣṇa-bhāvābdhau (in the ocean of feeling for Kṛṣṇa) nimagnonmagna-cetasā (by Him whose heart is plunged in and rises to the surface) gaureṇa hariṇā (by Gaurahari, Kṛṣṇa Caitanya) prema-maryādā (the glory of prema) bhūri (in all its fullness) darśitā (was revealed).

জয় জয় শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য অধীশ্বর । জয় নিত্যানন্দ পূর্ণানন্দ-কলেবর ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanya adhīśvara glory glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya the Supreme Lord
jaya nityānanda pūrṇānanda-kalevara
glory to Nityānanda full of bliss whose body

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the Supreme Lord! Glory to Nityānanda, whose body is full of bliss!

জয়াদ্বৈতাচার্য্য কৃষ্ণচৈতন্য-প্রিয়তম । জয় শ্রীবাস-আদি প্রভুর ভক্তগণ ॥ ৩ ॥

jayādvaitācārya kṛṣṇa-caitanya-priyatama glory to Advaitācārya to Kṛṣṇa Caitanya most dear
jaya śrīvāsa-ādi prabhura bhakta-gaṇa glory to Śrīvāsa and the others the Lord's devotees

3 Glory to Advaitācārya, most dear to Kṛṣṇa Caitanya! Glory to Śrīvāsa and all the Lord's devotees!

Overwhelmed by transcendental love in separation from Kṛṣṇa, [the Lord] is unaware of Himself —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু রাত্রি-দিবসে । আত্মস্ফূর্ত্তি নাহি কৃষ্ণভাবাবেশে ॥ ৪ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu rātri-divase
in this way Mahāprabhu night and day
ātma-sphūrti nāhi kṛṣṇa-bhāvāveśe
of Himself awareness none absorbed in love for Kṛṣṇa

4 In this way, night and day, Mahāprabhu was so absorbed in love for Kṛṣṇa that He had no awareness of Himself.

The inner state, the half-external state and the external state —

কভু ভাবে মগ্ন, কভু অর্দ্ধ-বাহ্যস্ফূর্ত্তি । কভু বাহ্যস্ফূর্ত্তি, — তিন রীতে প্রভুস্থিতি ॥ ৫ ॥

kabhu bhāve magna, kabhu arddha-bāhya-sphūrti
sometimes in feeling immersed sometimes half external awareness
kabhu bāhya-sphūrti, — tina rīte prabhu-sthiti
sometimes external awareness in three ways the Lord's state

5 Sometimes He was immersed in feeling, sometimes half aware of the outer world, sometimes fully aware of it: the Lord passed through these three states.

*[The Lord] performs His daily and occasional duties (nitya-naimittika) by nature and by habit —*

স্নান, দর্শন, ভোজন দেহ-স্বভাবে হয় । কুমারের চাক যেন সতত ফিরয় ॥ ৬ ॥

snāna, darśana, bhojana deha-svabhāve haya bathing seeing the Lord eating by the body's nature happen
kumārera cāka yena satata phiraya
of the potter the wheel as constantly turns

6 Bathing, going to see Lord Jagannātha and eating went on of themselves, by the body's own nature, as a potter's wheel keeps turning.

Anubhāṣya.

"A potter's wheel." When a potter shapes pots and other vessels, his wheel turns by itself, driven by the momentum given to it earlier, and he need not keep his hand on it all the time. In the same way the Lord's bodily actions went on naturally even when He had no external consciousness. This fine comparison fits the daily activities of a liberated, perfected soul, that is, a mahā-bhāgavata of the highest level (uttama-adhikārī), while he remains manifest in this world. Much is said on this subject in the Brahma-sūtra and in its best commentary, the Bhāgavata.

*Drawn by Kṛṣṇa in the form of Jagannātha, the Lord serves Govinda with His senses (hṛṣīka) —*

একদিন করেন প্রভু জগন্নাথ দরশন । জগন্নাথে দেখে সাক্ষাৎ ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন ॥ ৭ ॥

ekadina karena prabhu jagannātha daraśana
one day makes the Lord of Jagannātha the seeing jagannāthe dekhe sākṣāt vrajendra-nandana
in Jagannātha He sees directly the son of the king of Vraja

7 One day, when the Lord went to see Lord Jagannātha, He beheld in Him the son of the king of Vraja Himself.

একবারে স্ফুরে প্রভুর কৃষ্ণের পঞ্চগুণ । পঞ্চগুণে করে পঞ্চেন্দ্রিয় আকর্ষণ ॥ ৮ ॥

eka-bāre sphure prabhura kṛṣṇera pañca-guṇa
at once appear to the Lord of Kṛṣṇa five qualities
pañca-guṇe kare pañcendriya ākarṣaṇa
the five qualities make of the five senses attraction

8 At once the five qualities of Kṛṣṇa appeared to the Lord, and they drew His five senses to themselves.

একমন পঞ্চদিকে পঞ্চগুণ টানে । টানাটানি প্রভুর মন হৈল অগেয়ানে ॥ ৯ ॥

ekamana pañca-dike pañca-guṇa ṭāne
one mind in five directions five qualities pull ṭānāṭāni prabhura mana haila ageyāne
by the tugging the Lord's mind became unconscious

9 The five qualities pulled His one mind in five directions, and, torn this way and that, the Lord lost consciousness.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The five qualities are form for the eyes, song for the ears, fragrance for the nose, taste for the tongue and touch for the skin. These five transcendental qualities of Kṛṣṇa revealed themselves all at once in [the Lord's] five transcendental senses. When the mind was pulled toward these five objects at the same time, it lost consciousness.

The devotees bring the Lord home —

হেনকালে ঈশ্বরের উপলভোগ সরিল । ভক্তগণ মহাপ্রভুরে ঘরে লঞা আইল ॥ ১০ ॥

hena-kāle īśvarera upala-bhoga sarila
at that time of the Lord the upala-bhoga ended
bhakta-gaṇa mahāprabhure ghare lañā āila
the devotees Mahāprabhu home taking came

10 At that time Lord Jagannātha's upala-bhoga offering came to an end, and the devotees brought Mahāprabhu home.

স্বরূপ, রামানন্দ, — এই দুইজন লঞা । বিলাপ করেন দুঁহার কণ্ঠেতে ধরিয়া ॥ ১১ ॥

svarūpa, rāmānanda, — ei dui-jana lañā Svarūpa Rāmānanda these two persons with vilāpa karena duṁhāra kaṇṭhete dhariyā lament He makes of both the necks holding

11 With these two, Svarūpa and Rāmānanda, He lamented, His arms around their necks.

কৃষ্ণের বিয়োগে রাধার উৎকণ্ঠিত মন । বিশাখারে কহে আপন উৎকণ্ঠা-কারণ ॥ ১২ ॥

kṛṣṇera viyoge rādhāra utkaṇṭhita mana of Kṛṣṇa in separation Rādhā's anxious mind
viśākhāre kahe āpana utkaṇṭhā-kāraṇa
to Viśākhā She tells Her own of the longing the cause

12 In separation from Kṛṣṇa, Rādhā's mind was restless with longing, and She told Viśākhā the cause of it.

সেই শ্লোক পড়ি' আপনে করে মনস্তাপ ।
শ্লোকের অর্থ শুনায় দুঁহারে করিয়া বিলাপ ॥ ১৩ ॥

sei śloka paḍi' āpane kare manastāpa
that verse reciting Himself makes heartache
ślokera artha śunāya duṁhāre kariyā vilāpa
of the verse the meaning makes hear to the two making lament

13 Reciting that verse Himself, the Lord poured out the anguish of His heart, and lamenting, He explained its meaning to the two of them.

*The attracting power of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's form — (Govinda-līlāmṛta 8.3: Śrī Rādhā's words to Viśākhā)*

সৌন্দর্য্যামৃতসিন্ধুভঙ্গললনা-চিত্তাদ্রিসংপ্লাবকঃ
কর্ণানন্দিসনর্ম্মরম্যবচনঃ কোটীন্দুশীতাঙ্গকঃ ।
সৌরভ্যামৃতসংপ্লবাবৃতজগৎ পীযূষরম্যাধরঃ
শ্রীগোপেন্দ্রসুতঃ স কর্ষতি বলাৎ পঞ্চেন্দ্রিয়াণ্যালি মে ॥ ১৪ ॥

saundaryāmṛta-sindhu-bhaṅga-
of beauty of the nectar of the ocean by the waves
lalanā-cittādri-saṁplāvakaḥ
of women of the hearts the hills who floods karṇānandi-sanarma-ramya-delighting the ears jesting charming vacanaḥ koṭīndu-śītāṅgakaḥ
whose words than millions of moons cooler whose body saurabhyāmṛta-saṁplavāvṛtaof fragrance of nectar by the flood covered jagat pīyūṣa-ramyādharaḥ
the world than nectar lovelier whose lips
śrī-gopendra-sutaḥ sa karṣati Śrī of the king of the cowherds the son He draws balāt pañcendriyāṇy āli me
by force five senses O friend My 14 "O friend, with the waves of the nectar ocean of His beauty He floods the hills of women's hearts; His playful, charming words delight the ear; His body is cooler than millions of moons; with a nectar flood of fragrance He has covered the world; His lips are lovelier than nectar — that son of the king of the cowherds draws all five of My senses by force." (Govinda-līlāmṛta, 8.3)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

“He who, with the flood of the nectar-ocean of beauty, inundates the mountains of women's hearts; who speaks charming words that delight the ear and is cool as millions of moons; who has covered the whole world with a nectar-flood of fragrance; whose lips are full of nectar — that Kṛṣṇa, the son of the king of the cowherds, O friend, forcibly draws all five of My senses to Himself.”

Anubhāṣya.

he āli (O friend; [He] who) saundaryāmṛta-sindhu-bhaṅga-lalanā-cittādri-samplāvakaḥ (beauty itself is an ocean of nectar; He whose nature is to flood fully [sam, “completely”] the mountains of women's hearts with the surging waves of that ocean of nectar) karṇānandi-sanarma-ramya-vacanaḥ (whose charming speech, full of jests and smiles, by nature delights the ear) koṭīndu-śītāṅgakaḥ (whose body is cooler even than millions of moons) saurabhyāmṛta-saṁplavāvṛta-jagat (fragrance itself is nectar, and its flood an ocean; He who with it has covered and enveloped the world) pīyūṣa-ramyādharaḥ (whose lips are more charming than pīyūṣa, than nectar) śrī-gopendra-sutaḥ (Vrajendranandana) balāt (by force) me (My) pañcendriyāṇi (eyes, ears, nose, tongue, skin and the other [senses]) karṣati (draws to His form, the sound of His flute, His fragrance, taste and touch).

*The gopī describes the power of the sweetness of the transcendental god of love (Puṣpabāṇa, the flower-arrowed one) (citra-jalpa) —*

কৃষ্ণ-রূপ-শব্দ-স্পর্শ, সৌরভ্য-অধর-রস, যার মাধুর্য্য কহন না যায় ।
দেখি’ লোভে পঞ্চজন, এক অশ্ব — মোর মন, চড়ি’ পঞ্চ পাঁচদিকে ধায় ॥ ১৫ ॥

kṛṣṇa-rūpa-śabda-sparśa, saurabhya-adhara-rasa, Kṛṣṇa’s form sound touch fragrance of the lips taste
yāra mādhurya kahana nā yāya whose sweetness to describe not is possible
dekhi’ lobhe pañcajana, seeing in greed the five
eka aśva — mora mana,
one horse My mind
caḍi’ pañca pāṁca-dike dhāya
mounting the five in five directions run

15 “Kṛṣṇa’s form, His voice, His touch, His fragrance and the taste of His lips — their sweetness cannot be described. Seeing them, the five, in their greed, mount a single horse — My mind — and ride off in five directions.

Anubhāṣya.

My five senses, drawn by Kṛṣṇa, are like five robbers, and they all plot together: “Come, let us all join together and carry off, that is, steal, this wealth that belongs to another — the horse of the mind.”

*The gopī's senses, drawn by Puṣpabāṇa —*

সখি হে, শুন মোর দুঃখের কারণ ।
মোর পঞ্চেন্দ্রিয়গণ, মহা-লম্পট দস্যুগণ, সবে কহে, — হর’ পরধন ॥ ১৬ ॥

sakhi he, śuna mora duḥkhera kāraṇa
O friend ah hear of My sorrow the cause mora pañcendriya-gaṇa,
My five senses
mahā-lampaṭa dasyu-gaṇa,
great greedy ones robbers
sabe kahe, — hara’ para-dhana
all say steal another’s wealth

16 O friend, hear the cause of My sorrow. My five senses are utterly greedy robbers: they all say, ‘Steal another’s wealth!’

*The gopī under Kṛṣṇa's sway —*

এক অশ্ব একক্ষণে, পাঁচ পাঁচ দিকে টানে, এক মন কোন্ দিকে ধায় ?
এককালে সবে টানে, গেল ঘোড়ার পরাণে, এই দুঃখ সহন না যায় ॥ ১৭ ॥

eka aśva eka-kṣaṇe,
one horse at one moment
pāṁca pāṁca dike ṭāne,
the five in five directions pull
eka mana kon dike dhāya?
one mind which way shall run
eka-kāle sabe ṭāne,
at one time all pull
gela ghoḍāra parāṇe,
goes of the horse the life
ei duḥkha sahana nā yāya
this pain to bear not is possible

17 One horse, and at one moment the five pull it in five directions — which way is the one mind to run? When all pull at once, the horse’s life departs. I cannot bear this pain.

The power of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's form —

ইন্দ্রিয়ে না করি রোষ, ইঁহা-সবার কাঁহা দোষ, কৃষ্ণরূপাদির মহা আকর্ষণ ।
রূপাদি পাঁচ পাঁচে টানে, গেল ঘোড়ার পরাণে, মোর দেহে না রহে জীবন ॥ ১৮ ॥

indriye nā kari roṣa,
the senses not I make anger
iṁhā-sabāra kāṁhā doṣa,
of these all where the fault
kṛṣṇa-rūpādira mahā ākarṣaṇa
of Kṛṣṇa’s form and the rest great attraction
rūpādi pāṁca pāṁce ṭāne,
form and the rest the five the five pull
gela ghoḍāra parāṇe,
goes of the horse the life
mora dehe nā rahe jīvana
in My body not remains life

18 I am not angry with My senses — what fault is theirs? Kṛṣṇa’s form and the rest attract with great force. The five — His form and the rest — pull the five senses; the horse’s life is ebbing, and life will not stay in My body.

কৃষ্ণরূপামৃতসিন্ধু, তাহার তরঙ্গ-বিন্দু, একবিন্দু জগৎ ডুবায়।
ত্রিজগতে যত নারী, তার চিত্ত-উচ্চগিরি, তাহা ডুবাই আগে উঠি' ধায় ॥ ১৯ ॥

kṛṣṇa-rūpāmṛta-sindhu,
of Kṛṣṇa's beauty of nectar the ocean
tāhāra taraṅga-bindu,
of it of a wave a drop eka-bindu jagat ḍubāya
one drop the world drowns
trijagate yata nārī,
in the three worlds as many as women
tāra citta-ucca-giri,
their hearts high mountains
tāhā ḍubāi āge uṭhi' dhāya
those drowning further rising rushes

19 The beauty of Kṛṣṇa is an ocean of nectar; a single drop of its waves drowns the world. The hearts of all the women in the three worlds are high mountains: it drowns them and surges on beyond.

The power of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's words —

কৃষ্ণের বচন মাধুরী, নানা-রস-নর্ম্মধারী, তার অন্যায় কথন না যায়।
জগতের নারীর কাণে, মাধুরী গুণে বান্ধি' টানে, টানাটানি কাণের প্রাণ যায় ॥ ২০ ॥

kṛṣṇera vacana mādhurī, Kṛṣṇa's of the words the sweetness
nānā-rasa-narma-dhārī,
of various rasas jests bearing
tāra anyāya kathana nā yāya
its injustice to describe not is possible
jagatera nārīra kāṇe,
of the world's women into the ears
mādhurī guṇe bāndhi' ṭāne, sweetness with the rope (quality) binding pulls ṭānāṭāni kāṇera prāṇa yāya
by the tugging of the ears the life departs

20 The sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's words, full of jests in many moods, is unjust beyond telling. Entering the ears of the world's women, it binds them with the rope of its sweetness and pulls, and in that tug-of-war the ears lose their very life.[1]

The power of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's body —

কৃষ্ণ-অঙ্গ সুশীতল, কি কহিমু তার বল, ছটায় জিনে কোটীন্দু চন্দন।
সশৈল নারীর বক্ষ, তাহা আকর্ষিতে দক্ষ, আকর্ষয়ে নারীগণ-মন ॥ ২১ ॥

kṛṣṇa-aṅga suśītala, Kṛṣṇa’s body very cool
ki kahimu tāra bala,
what shall I say its power
chaṭāya jine koṭīndu candana
by its lustre conquers millions of moons sandal
saśaila nārīra vakṣa,
mountain-like of women the breasts
tāhā ākarṣite dakṣa,
those in drawing skilled ākarṣaye nārī-gaṇa-mana draws of the women the minds

21 Kṛṣṇa’s body is so cool — what can I say of its power? With its rays it surpasses millions of moons and sandal paste. Skilled at drawing the mountain-like breasts of women, it draws their minds as well.

The power of the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's fragrance —

কৃষ্ণাঙ্গ — সৌরভ্যভর, মৃগমদ মনোহর, নীলোৎপলের হরে গর্ব্ব-ধন ৷
জগৎ-নারীর নাসা, তার ভিতর পাতে বাসা, নারীগণে করে আকর্ষণ ॥ ২২ ॥

kṛṣṇāṅga — saurabhya-bhara, Kṛṣṇa’s body of fragrance full mṛga-mada manohara,
musk charming
nīlotpalera hare garva-dhana
of the blue lotus steals of pride the wealth
jagat-nārīra nāsā,
of the world’s women the nostrils
tāra bhitara pāte vāsā,
of them inside makes a dwelling
nārī-gaṇe kare ākarṣaṇa
the women makes attraction

22 Kṛṣṇa’s body is laden with fragrance; it humbles charming musk and robs the blue lotus of its wealth of pride. It makes its home in the nostrils of the world’s women and draws them to itself.

The power of the sweetness of the touch of Kṛṣṇa's lips —

কৃষ্ণের অধরামৃত, তাতে কর্পূর-মন্দস্মিত, স্ব-মাধুর্য্যে হরে নারীর মন ৷
অন্যত্র ছাড়ায় লোভ, না পাইলে মনে ক্ষোভ, ব্রজনারীগণের মূলধন ॥ ২৩ ॥

kṛṣṇera adharāmṛta, Kṛṣṇa’s the nectar of the lips
tāte karpūra-manda-smita,
with it camphor gentle smile
sva-mādhurye hare nārīra mana
by its own sweetness steals of women the mind
anyatra chāḍāya lobha,
elsewhere takes away the longing
nā pāile mane kṣobha,
not having obtained in the mind agitation
vraja-nārī-gaṇera mūla-dhana
of Vraja’s women the principal wealth

23 The nectar of Kṛṣṇa’s lips, with the camphor of His gentle smile, steals women’s minds by its own sweetness. It takes away all longing for anything else; not obtaining it, the mind is in turmoil. It is the chief wealth of the women of Vraja.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Kṛṣṇa's form, His words, the sound of His flute and so on — form, sound, touch, fragrance and the taste of His lips — these five are full of great sweetness. My five senses of knowledge long to experience each its own object in Śrī Kṛṣṇa. So each of them wants to mount the one horse, My mind, and gallop off in five directions at once. Friend, what can I say of My sorrow? My five senses of knowledge are utterly greedy for their objects, like robbers. They know that Kṛṣṇa is a man who belongs to another (para-puruṣa), and still they set out to steal each its own object in Kṛṣṇa. My mind is only one horse. Each sense of knowledge — the eyes and the rest — takes that horse and pulls it toward its own object (form and the rest), in five directions. When it is pulled like this all at once, the only gain is that the horse loses its life. How can I bear that?

You may say, “Why don't you restrain your senses?” But, friend, how can I blame the senses? Kṛṣṇa's form and the other four objects are by their very nature irresistibly attractive. Form and the rest, five in all, each pull the five senses toward themselves. The horse of the mind, ridden by these five senses of knowledge, is drawn and rushes in just those directions. And when the horse dies, My life too will depart.

The hearts of all the women in the three worlds are indeed like high mountains, and a drop from a wave of the nectar-ocean of Kṛṣṇa's form drowns those high mountains. Kṛṣṇa's clever speech — His playful jests (rasa-narma, that is, parihāsa) — treats women so unfairly that words cannot describe it[0]: entering women's ears, it binds them with the cords of its sweetness and pulls, and the ears lose their life. Kṛṣṇa's body is exceedingly cool; its cool rays defeat millions of moons and sandal paste. Kṛṣṇa's body is supremely skilled at drawing women's mountain-like breasts, and it attracts their minds. The fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body destroys the pride of enchanting musk and of the blue lotus. It enters the nostrils of the women of the world, makes its home there and draws them. The nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, mixed with the camphor of His gentle smile, steals women's minds by its sweetness. It takes away their craving for everything but Kṛṣṇa; yet by its very nature it is hard to obtain, and when it cannot be had, the mind is thrown into turmoil. That nectar of His lips is the chief wealth of the women of Vraja.

In separation from Kṛṣṇa the Lord pours out His grief to His two companions —

এত কহি’ গৌরহরি, দুইজনার কণ্ঠ ধরি’, কহে, — শুন, স্বরূপ-রামরায়।
কাঁহা কঁরো, কাঁহা যাঙ, কাঁহা গেলে কৃষ্ণ পাঙ, দুঁহে মোরে কহ সে উপায় ॥ ২৪ ॥

eta kahi' gaurahari,
so saying Gaurahari
dui-janāra kaṇṭha dhari',
of the two the necks holding kahe, — śuna, svarūpa-rāmarāya says hear Svarūpa Rāmarāya
kāṁhā kaṁro, kāṁhā yāṅa,
what shall I do where shall I go
kāṁhā gele kṛṣṇa pāṅa,
where going Kṛṣṇa shall I find
duṁhe more kaha se upāya
you two to Me tell that means 24 Saying this, Gaurahari threw His arms around the necks of the two and said, "Listen, Svarūpa and Rāmarāya: what shall I do, where shall I go? Where can I go to find Kṛṣṇa? Both of you, tell Me how!"

এইমত গৌরপ্রভু প্রতিদিনে-দিনে । বিলাপ করেন স্বরূপ-রামানন্দ-সনে ॥ ২৫ ॥

ei-mata gaura-prabhu prati dine-dine
in this way Gaura the Lord every day after day
vilāpa karena svarūpa-rāmānanda-sane lament makes with Svarūpa and Rāmānanda

25 In this way, day after day, the Lord Gaura lamented with Svarūpa and Rāmānanda.

Svarūpa and Rāma Rāya console the Lord in His separation —

সেই দুইজন প্রভুরে করে আশ্বাসন । স্বরূপ গায়, রায় করে শ্লোক পঠন ॥ ২৬ ॥

sei dui-jana prabhure kare āśvāsana
those two persons the Lord make consolation
svarūpa gāya, rāya kare śloka paṭhana Svarūpa sings Rāya makes of verses recitation

26 Those two consoled the Lord: Svarūpa sang songs, and Rāya recited verses.

The Lord's favorite books, suited to His mood —

কর্ণামৃত, বিদ্যাপতি, শ্রীগীতগোবিন্দ । ইহার শ্লোক-গীতে প্রভুর করায় আনন্দ ॥ ২৭ ॥

karṇāmṛta, vidyāpati, śrī-gīta-govinda
Karṇāmṛta Vidyāpati Śrī Gīta-govinda
ihāra śloka-gīte prabhura karāya ānanda
of these in verses and songs to the Lord give joy

27 With the verses and songs of the Kṛṣṇa-karṇāmṛta, of Vidyāpati and of the Śrī Gīta-govinda they gave the Lord joy.

*Feeling Himself a maidservant (kiṅkarī) of the gopī, the Lord sees Kṛṣṇa's pastimes everywhere and searches for Him —*

একদিন মহাপ্রভু সমুদ্র যাইতে ।
পুষ্পের উদ্যান তথা দেখেন আচম্বিতে ॥ ২৮ ॥

ekadina mahāprabhu samudra yāite
one day Mahāprabhu to the sea going
puṣpera udyāna tathā dekhena ācambite
of flowers a garden there sees suddenly

28 One day, on His way to the sea, Mahāprabhu suddenly saw a flower garden.

বৃন্দাবন-ভ্রমে তাঁহা পশিলা ধাঞা । প্রেমাবেশে বুলে তাঁহা কৃষ্ণ অন্বেষিয়া ॥ ২৯ ॥

vṛndāvana-bhrame tāṁhā paśilā dhāñā Vṛndāvana mistaking it for there entered running premāveśe bule tāṁhā kṛṣṇa anveṣiyā absorbed in prema wanders there Kṛṣṇa searching for 29 Taking it for Vṛndāvana, He ran into it, and absorbed in prema He wandered there searching for Kṛṣṇa,

রাসে রাধা লঞা কৃষ্ণ অন্তর্দ্ধান কৈলা । পাছে সখীগণ যৈছে চাহি' বেড়াইলা ॥ ৩০ ॥

rāse rādhā lañā kṛṣṇa antarddhāna kailā
in the rāsa Rādhā taking Kṛṣṇa disappearance made pāche sakhī-gaṇa yaiche cāhi' beḍāilā afterwards the gopīs as searching wandered

30 just as, when Kṛṣṇa disappeared from the rāsa dance taking Rādhā with Him, the gopīs afterwards wandered about searching for Him.

সেই ভাবাবেশে প্রভু প্রতি-তরুলতা । শ্লোক পড়ি' পড়ি' চাহি' বুলে যথা তথা ॥ ৩১ ॥

sei bhāvāveśe prabhu prati-taru-latā
in that mood absorbed the Lord each tree creeper
śloka paḍi' paḍi' cāhi' bule yathā tathā verses reciting reciting searching wanders here there

31 Absorbed in that mood, the Lord wandered here and there searching, reciting verse after verse to each tree and creeper:

*Separated from Kṛṣṇa, the gopīs see everywhere Kṛṣṇa and all that belongs to Kṛṣṇa as living and conscious, and so they search for Kṛṣṇa (udghūrṇā); they ask every tree where Kṛṣṇa is — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.30.9 and 7–8)*

চূতপ্রিয়ালপনসাসনকোবিদার-জম্বর্কবিল্ববকুলাম্রকদম্বনীপাঃ ।
যেঽন্যে পরার্থভবকা যমুনোপকূলাঃ শংসন্তু কৃষ্ণপদবীং রহিতাত্মনাং নঃ ॥ ৩২ ॥

cūta-priyāla-panasāsana-kovidāra-cūta priyāla panasa āsana kovidāra
jambv-arka-bilva-bakulāmra-kadamba-nīpāḥ
jambu arka bilva bakula mango kadamba nīpa
ye 'nye parārtha-bhavakā yamunopakūlāḥ who other for others' good born on the Yamunā's banks śaṁsantu kṛṣṇa-padavīṁ rahitātmanāṁ naḥ
tell of Kṛṣṇa the path who have lost our selves to us

32 “O cūta, priyāla, panasa, āsana and kovidāra, jambu, arka, bilva, bakula, mango, kadamba and nīpa, and all you other trees on the banks of the Yamunā, whose life is for the good of others — tell us, who have lost our very selves, which way Kṛṣṇa went!” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.30.9)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O cūta (a kind of mango), piyāla, kāṭhāla (jackfruit), āsana, kovidāra, jambu, arka, bilva, bakula, mango, kadamba, nīpa (a kind of kadamba) and other trees! O all you other trees who dwell on the banks of the Yamunā and care for the highest good [of others] (who have vowed to do good to others)! Tell us, who have lost our very selves (whose minds are empty), where Kṛṣṇa is.

Anubhāṣya.

While Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa was playing the rāsa with the gopīs, He suddenly disappeared. Unable to see Him, the gopīs, their minds wholly absorbed in Kṛṣṇa, set out to search for Him.

cūta-priyāla-panasāsana-kovidāra-jambv-arka-bilva-bakulāmra-kadamba-nīpāḥ (they address the fruit trees and others growing nearby: “O cūta, O priyāla, O kaṇṭaka [panasa], O pītaśāla [asana], O kovidāra, O jambu, O arka, O bilva, O bakula, O mango, O kadamba, O nīpa — you”) ye 'nye (and you other trees) parārtha-bhavakāḥ (whose birth is only for the sake of others) yamunopakūlāḥ (the trees that stand on the bank, at the water's edge of the Yamunā, the Kālindī) rahitātmanām (whose minds are empty) naḥ (to us) kṛṣṇa-padavīm (Kṛṣṇa's path) śaṁsantu (tell).

*[The gopīs] ask Śrī Tulasī where Kṛṣṇa is —* কচ্চিত্তুলসি কল্যাণি গোবিন্দচরণপ্রিয়ে ৷

সহ ত্বালিকুলৈর্বিভ্রদ্দৃষ্টস্তেঽতিপ্রিয়োঽচ্যুতঃ ॥ ৩৩ ॥

kaccit tulasi kalyāṇi
perhaps O tulasī O auspicious one govinda-caraṇa-priye to Govinda’s feet dear
saha tvāli-kulair bibhrad
with you by swarms of bees bearing dṛṣṭas te ’ti-priyo ’cyutaḥ
seen your very dear Acyuta

33 “O auspicious tulasī, dear to Govinda’s feet! Have you seen Acyuta, who holds you so dear, pass by wearing you, with swarms of bees around Him?” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.30.7)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O auspicious tulasī, dear to Govinda's feet! Acyuta loves you dearly. Did you see Kṛṣṇa pass by here, wearing you, with a swarm of bees around Him?

Anubhāṣya.

kalyāṇi (O fortunate one) govinda-caraṇa-priye (dear to Govinda's feet) tulasi, ali-kulaiḥ saha tvā (you) bibhrat te (your) ati-priyaḥ acyutaḥ (Govinda) kaccit tvayā kiṁ dṛṣṭaḥ (has He been seen by you?)

*[The gopīs] ask the flowering plants where Kṛṣṇa is —*

মালত্যদর্শি বঃ কচ্চিন্মল্লিকে জাতি যূথিকে ৷ প্রীতিং বো জনয়ন্ যাতঃ করস্পর্শেন মাধবঃ ॥ ৩৪ ॥

mālaty adarśi vaḥ kaccin
O mālatī was seen by you perhaps mallike jāti yūthike
O mallikā O jāti O yūthikā
prītiṁ vo janayan yātaḥ
joy your producing gone
kara-sparśena mādhavaḥ
by the touch of His hand Mādhava

34 “O mālatī, O mallikā, O jāti, O yūthikā! Have you seen Mādhava pass by, giving you joy with the touch of His hand?” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.30.8)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O mālatī, O mallikā, O jāti, O yūthikā! Did you see Kṛṣṇa pass by here, giving you joy with the touch of His hand?

Anubhāṣya.
mālati, mallike, jāti, yūthike, kara-sparśena vaḥ (your) prītiṁ janayan yātaḥ (who has gone) mādhavaḥ vaḥ (by you) kaccit adarśi (was He seen)?

*The meaning of the verse; the gopīs, wholly absorbed in Kṛṣṇa and separated from Him, search for Him and lament —*

আম্র, পনস, পিয়াল, জম্বু, কোবিদার । তীর্থবাসী সবে, কর পর-উপকার ॥ ৩৫ ॥

āmra, panasa, piyāla, jambu, kovidāra
O mango panasa piyāla jambu kovidāra
tīrtha-vāsī sabe, kara para-upakāra
of a holy place dwellers all do to others good

35 “O mango, panasa, piyāla, jambu and kovidāra! You all dwell in a holy place — so do good to others.

কৃষ্ণ তোমার ইঁহা আইলা, পাইলা দরশন ?
কৃষ্ণের উদ্দেশ কহি’ রাখহ জীবন ॥ ৩৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa tomāra iṁhā āilā, pāilā daraśana?
Kṛṣṇa to you here came did you have sight of Him
kṛṣṇera uddeśa kahi’ rākhaha jīvana
of Kṛṣṇa the whereabouts telling save our lives

36 Did Kṛṣṇa come here to you? Did you see Him? Tell us where Kṛṣṇa is and save our lives!”

উত্তর না পাঞা পুনঃ করে অনুমান । এইসব — পুরুষ-জাতি, কৃষ্ণের সখার সমান ॥ ৩৭ ॥

uttara nā pāñā punaḥ kare anumāna
an answer not getting again they make a surmise
eisaba — puruṣa-jāti, kṛṣṇera sakhāra samāna
all these male in kind of Kṛṣṇa friends like 37 Receiving no answer, they reasoned again: “These are all male, just like Kṛṣṇa’s friends.

এ কেনে কহিবে কৃষ্ণের উদ্দেশ আমায় ?
এ — স্ত্রীজাতি লতা, আমার সখীপ্রায় ॥ ৩৮ ॥

e kene kahibe kṛṣṇera uddeśa āmāya?
these why will tell of Kṛṣṇa the whereabouts to us e — strī-jāti latā, āmāra sakhī-prāya
these female in kind creepers our friends almost

38 Why would they tell us where Kṛṣṇa is? But these creepers are female, almost our friends.

অবশ্য কহিবে, — পাঞাছে কৃষ্ণের দর্শনে । এত অনুমানি’ পুছে তুলস্যাদি-গণে ॥ ৩৯ ॥

avaśya kahibe, — pāñāche kṛṣṇera darśane
surely they will tell they have had of Kṛṣṇa the sight eta anumāni' puche tulasyādi-gaṇe
thus reasoning they ask tulasī and the others

39 They will surely tell us — they have seen Kṛṣṇa." Reasoning thus, they questioned the tulasī and the other plants:

তুলসি, মালতি, যূথি, মাধবি, মল্লিকে । তোমার প্রিয় কৃষ্ণ আইলা তোমার অন্তিকে ? ॥ ৪০ ॥

tulasi, mālati, yūthi, mādhavi, mallike
O tulasī O mālatī O yūthī O mādhavī O mallikā tomāra priya kṛṣṇa āilā tomāra antike?
your beloved Kṛṣṇa came your near 40 "O tulasī, mālatī, yūthī, mādhavī and mallikā! Did your beloved Kṛṣṇa come near you?

তুমি-সব — হও আমার সখীর সমান । কৃষ্ণোদ্দেশ কহি' সবে রাখহ পরাণ ॥ ৪১ ॥

tumi-saba — hao āmāra sakhīra samāna
you all are our friends like kṛṣṇoddeśa kahi' sabe rākhaha parāṇa
Kṛṣṇa's whereabouts telling all of you save our lives

41 You are all like our friends. Tell us where Kṛṣṇa is, all of you, and save our lives!"

উত্তর না পাঞা পুনঃ ভাবেন অন্তরে । এহ — কৃষ্ণদাসী, ভয়ে না কহে আমারে ॥ ৪২ ॥

uttara nā pāñā punaḥ bhāvena antare
an answer not getting again they think within eha — kṛṣṇa-dāsī, bhaye nā kahe āmāre
these Kṛṣṇa's maidservants out of fear not tell us

42 Receiving no answer, they thought within themselves: "These are Kṛṣṇa's maidservants; out of fear they will not tell us."

আগে মৃগীগণ দেখি' কৃষ্ণাঙ্গগন্ধ পাঞা । তার মুখ দেখি' পুছেন নির্ণয় করিয়া ॥ ৪৩ ॥

āge mṛgī-gaṇa dekhi' kṛṣṇāṅga-gandha pāñā ahead does seeing of Kṛṣṇa's body the fragrance catching tāra mukha dekhi' puchena nirṇaya kariyā their faces looking at they ask certainty making

43 Ahead they saw some does, and catching the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body, they looked at their faces and, now certain, questioned them:

*[The gopīs] ask the doe where Kṛṣṇa is — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.30.11)*

অপ্যেণ-পত্ন্যুপগতঃ প্রিয়য়েহ গাত্রৈ- স্তন্বন্ দৃশাং সখি সুনির্ব্বৃতিমচ্যুতো বঃ ৷
কান্তাঙ্গসঙ্গকুচকুঙ্কুম-রঞ্জিতায়াঃ কুন্দস্রজঃ কুলপতেরিহ বাতি গন্ধঃ ॥ ৪৪ ॥

apy eṇa-patny upagataḥ priyayeha gātrais perhaps O doe came with His beloved here with His limbs tanvan dṛśāṁ sakhi su-nirvṛtim acyuto vaḥ expanding of the eyes O friend the great joy Acyuta your kāntāṅga-saṅga-kuca-kuṅkuma-rañjitāyāḥ of the beloved's body from contact of the breasts with kuṅkuma coloured kunda-srajaḥ kula-pater iha vāti gandhaḥ of the kunda garland of our Lord here blows the fragrance

44 "O friend, O doe, did Acyuta come this way with His beloved, delighting your eyes with the beauty of His limbs? For here blows the fragrance of our Lord's kunda garland, reddened with kuṅkuma from His beloved's breasts as He held Her close." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.30.11)[2]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

From here comes the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa, who wears a garland of kunda flowers colored with the kuṅkuma from His beloved's breasts as He touched Her body. O doe, did Kṛṣṇa pass along this path with Rādhikā, increasing the joy of your eyes?

Anubhāṣya.

While Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa was playing the rāsa with the gopīs, He disappeared. The gopīs, their minds wholly fixed on Kṛṣṇa, were searching for Him in separation.

he sakhi (O friend) eṇa-patni (doe) acyutaḥ (Kṛṣṇa) priyayā (together [with His beloved]) gātraiḥ (by the contact of Their bodies) vaḥ (your) dṛśām (of the eyes) su-nirvṛtim (happiness) tanvan (increasing) iha api (whether) upagataḥ (has passed by here)? (For) kula-pateḥ (of Kṛṣṇa) kāntāṅga-saṅga-kuca-kuṅkuma-rañjitāyāḥ (adorned with the color of the kuṅkuma from His beloved's breasts, [left] by the touch of Her body) kunda-srajaḥ (of the garland of kunda flowers) gandhaḥ iha vāti (wafts).

The meaning of the verse —

কহ, মৃগি, রাধা-সহ শ্রীকৃষ্ণ সর্ব্বথা ৷ তোমায় সুখ দিতে আইলা? না কহ অন্যথা ॥ ৪৫ ॥

kaha, mṛgi, rādhā-saha śrī-kṛṣṇa sarvathā tell O doe with Rādhā Śrī Kṛṣṇa in every way
tomāya sukha dite āilā? nā kaha anyathā
to you joy to give did He come not say otherwise

45 "Tell us, O doe: did Śrī Kṛṣṇa come here with Rādhā to give you every joy? Do not tell us otherwise.

রাধা-প্রিয়সখী আমরা, নহি বহিরঙ্গ ৷ দূর হৈতে জানি তার যৈছে অঙ্গ-গন্ধ ॥ ৪৬ ॥

rādhā-priya-sakhī āmarā, nahi bahiraṅga Rādhā's dear friends we are not outsiders
dūra haite jāni tāra yaiche aṅga-gandha
from far away we know His what kind body's fragrance

46 We are Rādhā's dear friends, not outsiders; even from afar we know the fragrance of His body.

রাধা-অঙ্গ-সঙ্গে কুচকুঙ্কুম-ভূষিত । কৃষ্ণ-কুন্দমালা-গন্ধে বায়ু — সুবাসিত ॥ ৪৭ ॥

rādhā-aṅga-saṅge kuca-kuṅkuma-bhūṣita with Rādhā's body by contact with the breasts' kuṅkuma adorned kṛṣṇa-kunda-mālā-gandhe vāyu — suvāsita
Kṛṣṇa's kunda garland with the fragrance the air is scented

47 The air is scented with the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's kunda garland, adorned with kuṅkuma from Rādhā's breasts as He embraced Her.

কৃষ্ণ ইঁহা ছাড়ি' গেলা, ইঁহ — বিরহিণী । কিবা উত্তর দিবে এই, না শুনে কাহিনী ॥ ৪৮ ॥

kṛṣṇa iṁhā chāḍi' gelā, iṁha — virahiṇī Kṛṣṇa here leaving went this one pining in separation
kibā uttara dibe ei, nā śune kāhinī
what answer will give she not hears our words

48 Kṛṣṇa has left this place, and she is pining in separation. What answer can she give? She does not even hear our words."

*[The gopīs] ask the trees where Kṛṣṇa is —*

আগে বৃক্ষগণ দেখে পুষ্পফলভরে । শাখা সব পড়িয়াছে পৃথিবী-উপরে ॥ ৪৯ ॥

āge vṛkṣa-gaṇa dekhe puṣpa-phala-bhare ahead trees they see of flowers and fruits under the weight
śākhā saba paḍiyāche pṛthivī-upare branches all have fallen the earth upon

49 Ahead they saw trees whose branches had all bent down to the earth under the weight of flowers and fruits.

কৃষ্ণে দেখি' এই সব করেন নমস্কার । কৃষ্ণগমন পুছে তারে করিয়া নির্দ্ধার ॥ ৫০ ॥

kṛṣṇe dekhi' ei saba karena namaskāra Kṛṣṇa seeing these all make obeisance
kṛṣṇa-gamana puche tāre kariyā nirddhāra
Kṛṣṇa's going they ask them certainty making

50 Concluding that all these trees had bowed down on seeing Kṛṣṇa, they asked them, to be sure, which way He had gone:

An example from scripture — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.30.12)

বাহুং প্রিয়াংস উপধায় গৃহীতপদ্মো
রামানুজস্তুলসিকালিকুলৈর্মদান্ধৈঃ ।
অন্বীয়মান ইহ বস্তরবঃ প্রণামং কিংবাভিনন্দতি চরন্ প্রণয়াবলোকৈঃ ॥ ৫১ ॥

bāhuṁ priyāṁsa upadhāya gṛhīta-padmo
the arm on His beloved's shoulder placing holding a lotus rāmānujas tulasikāli-kulair madāndhaiḥ Rāma's younger brother by the tulasī bees in swarms blind with intoxication anvīyamāna iha vas taravaḥ praṇāmaṁ followed here your O trees obeisance
kiṁ vābhinandati caran praṇayāvalokaiḥ
whether welcomes passing with loving glances

51 "O trees, did Rāma's younger brother pass this way, His arm on His beloved's shoulder and a lotus in His hand, followed by swarms of bees from His tulasī garland, blind with intoxication? And as He passed, did He welcome your obeisances with loving glances?" (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.30.12)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O trees, tell us: Kṛṣṇa, the younger brother of Balarāma (Rāmānuja), is walking along with His arm on Rādhikā's shoulder and a lotus in His hand, followed (pursued) by bees maddened by the tulasī. As He passes, does He accept your bows and answer them with a loving glance?

Anubhāṣya.
During the rāsa pastime, Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa suddenly vanished. Seeing this, the gopīs, whose only life is Kṛṣṇa, are searching for Him —

taravaḥ (O trees!) priyāṁse (on His beloved's shoulder) bāhum (His left arm) upadhāya (placing) gṛhīta-padmaḥ (holding a pastime lotus in His right hand) madāndhaiḥ (blinded by the intoxication of drinking nectar) tulasikāli-kulaiḥ (by swarms of tulasī bees) anvīyamānaḥ (accompanied — followed) rāmānujaḥ (Kṛṣṇa) iha (here) caran (passing by) praṇayālokaiḥ (with loving glances) vaḥ (your) praṇāmam (obeisance) kim abhinandati vā? (does He welcome?)

The meaning of the verse —

প্রিয়া-মুখে ভৃঙ্গ পড়ে, তাহা নিবারিতে । লীলাপদ্ম চালাইতে হৈল অন্যচিত্তে ॥ ৫২ ॥

priyā-mukhe bhṛṅga paḍe, tāhā nivārite
of the beloved on the face bees fall them to drive away
līlā-padma cālāite haila anya-citte
the pastime lotus in waving became of distracted mind

52 As bees settled on His beloved's face, He waved His pastime lotus to drive them away, and His mind was distracted.

তোমার প্রণামে কি কৈরাছেন অবধান ?
কিবা নাহি করেন, কহ বচন প্রমাণ ॥ ৫৩ ॥

tomāra praṇāme ki kairāchena avadhāna?
your obeisance whether did He pay attention
kibā nāhi karena, kaha vacana pramāṇa
or not did He tell word as proof

53 Did He pay any attention to your obeisances, or did He not? Tell us — give us your word as proof.

কৃষ্ণের বিয়োগে এই সেবক দুঃখিত । কিবা উত্তর দিবে, ইহার নাহিক সম্বিৎ ॥ ৫৪ ॥

kṛṣṇera viyoge ei sevaka duḥkhita of Kṛṣṇa in separation these servants grieving kibā uttara dibe, ihāra nāhika samvit
what answer will they give their is not consciousness

54 These servants are grieving in separation from Kṛṣṇa. What answer can they give? They are not even conscious.”

Anubhāṣya.
Saṁvit: knowledge, consciousness.

*The gopīs behold Kṛṣṇa's form —*

এত বলি’ আগে চলে যমুনার কূলে । দেখে, — তাঁহা কৃষ্ণ হয় কদম্বের তলে ॥ ৫৫ ॥

eta bali’ āge cale yamunāra kūle
so saying further they go of the Yamunā to the bank
dekhe, — tāṁhā kṛṣṇa haya kadambera tale
they see there Kṛṣṇa is of a kadamba beneath

55 Saying this, they went on to the bank of the Yamunā, and there they saw Kṛṣṇa beneath a kadamba tree.

কোটিমন্মথমোহন মুরলী-বদন । অপার সৌন্দর্য্যে হরে জগন্নেত্র-মন ॥ ৫৬ ॥

koṭi-manmatha-mohana muralī-vadana millions of gods of love enchanting with the flute at His lips
apāra saundarye hare jagan-netra-mana boundless by beauty steals the world’s eyes and mind

56 He enchants millions of gods of love; the flute is at His lips; with His boundless beauty He steals the eyes and minds of the whole world.

Seeing Kṛṣṇa, the Lord faints; the devotees bring Him back to consciousness —

সৌন্দর্য্য দেখিয়া ভূমে পড়ে মূর্চ্ছা পাঞা । হেনকালে স্বরূপাদি মিলিলা আসিয়া ॥ ৫৭ ॥

saundarya dekhiyā bhūme paḍe mūrcchā pāñā
the beauty seeing to the ground falls a swoon getting hena-kāle svarūpādi mililā āsiyā
at that time Svarūpa and the others met arriving

57 Seeing that beauty, the Lord fell to the ground in a swoon. Just then Svarūpa and the others arrived and found Him.

পূর্ব্ববৎ সর্ব্বাঙ্গে সাত্ত্বিকভাবসকল । অন্তরে আনন্দ-আস্বাদ, বাহিরে বিহ্বল ॥ ৫৮ ॥

pūrvavat sarvāṅge sāttvika-bhāva-sakala
as before in all His limbs sāttvika bhāvas all antare ānanda-āsvāda, bāhire vihvala
within of bliss the tasting outwardly overwhelmed

58 As before, all the sāttvika-bhāvas appeared in all His limbs. Within He was tasting bliss; outwardly He was overwhelmed.

পূর্ব্ববৎ সবে মিলি’ করাইলা চেতন । উঠিয়া চৌদিকে প্রভু করেন দর্শন ॥ ৫৯ ॥

pūrvavat sabe mili' karāilā cetana
as before all together made consciousness uṭhiyā caudike prabhu karena darśana rising on all sides the Lord makes looking 59 As before, they all together brought Him back to consciousness. Rising, the Lord looked all around.

The lament of the Lord, deprived of the sight of Kṛṣṇa —

কাঁহা গেলা কৃষ্ণ? এখন পাইনু দরশন !
যাঁহার সৌন্দর্য্য মোর হরিল নেত্র-মন! ॥ ৬০ ॥

kāṁhā gelā kṛṣṇa? ekhana pāinu daraśana!
where went Kṛṣṇa now I got sight
yāṁhāra saundarya mora harila netra-mana!
whose beauty My stole eyes and mind

60 "Where has Kṛṣṇa gone? I saw Him just now — Him whose beauty has stolen My eyes and mind!

পুনঃ কেনে না দেখিয়ে মুরলী-বদন !
তাঁহার দর্শন লোভে ভ্রময় নয়ন ॥ ৬১ ॥

punaḥ kene nā dekhiye muralī-vadana!
again why not I see with the flute at His lips
tāṁhāra darśana lobhe bhramaya nayana
His sight in greed wander My eyes

61 Why do I not see Him again, with the flute at His lips? My eyes wander about, greedy to see Him."

Śrī Rādhā's words to Viśākhā as She thirsts to see Kṛṣṇa —

বিশাখারে রাধা যৈছে শ্লোক কহিলা । সেই শ্লোক মহাপ্রভু পড়িতে লাগিলা ॥ ৬২ ॥

viśākhāre rādhā yaiche śloka kahilā to Viśākhā Rādhā as verse spoke sei śloka mahāprabhu paḍite lāgilā that verse Mahāprabhu to recite began

62 Then Mahāprabhu began to recite the verse that Rādhā had spoken to Viśākhā:

*Words spoken in citra-jalpa — (Govinda-līlāmṛta 8.4: Śrī Rādhikā's words)*

নবাম্বুদ-লসদ্দ্যুতির্নবতড়িন্মনোজ্ঞাম্বরঃ
সুচিত্রমুরলীস্ফুরচ্ছরদমন্দচন্দ্রাননঃ ।
ময়ূরদলভূষিতঃ সুভগতারহারপ্রভঃ স মে মদনমোহনঃ সখি তনোতি নেত্রস্পৃহাম্ ॥ ৬৩ ॥

navāmbuda-lasad-dyutir nava-
than a new cloud shining brighter whose lustre than new taḍin-manojñāmbaraḥ
lightning more charming whose garment sucitra-muralī-sphurac-charad-
with a beautiful flute gleaming autumn
amanda-candrānanaḥ
full moon whose face
mayūra-dala-bhūṣitaḥ subhaga-with peacock feathers adorned lovely tāra-hāra-starlike necklace
prabhaḥ
whose radiance
sa me madana-mohanaḥ sakhi
He My of Madana the enchanter O friend
tanoti netra-spṛhām
increases of the eyes the longing

63 "O friend, His lustre shines brighter than a new cloud; His garment is more charming than new lightning; His face, with the gleaming, beautiful flute, is like the bright full moon of autumn; He is adorned with peacock feathers and radiant with a lovely necklace shining like stars — that enchanter of Madana fills My eyes with ever-growing longing." (Govinda-līlāmṛta, 8.4)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O friend! He wears a charming yellow garment, like fresh lightning flashing on a fresh cloud; a beautiful flute is at His lips, and His face is like the moon in the full splendor of autumn. He is adorned with peacock feathers and shines with the luster of a lovely necklace (tāra-hāra). That Madana-mohana is spreading the thirst of My eyes.

Anubhāṣya.

sakhi (O friend!) navāmbuda-lasad-dyutiḥ (whose luster [dyuti, radiance] shines even brighter than a fresh cloud) nava-taḍin-manojñāmbaraḥ (whose garment [ambara, clothing] is more charming and lovely even than fresh lightning) sucitra-muralī-sphurac-charad-amanda-candrānanaḥ (whose face, shining with a wonderfully charming flute, is like the full moon of autumn) mayūra-dala-bhūṣitaḥ (adorned with peacock feathers) subhaga-tāra-hāra-prabhaḥ (whose necklace shines like beautiful, brilliant stars) saḥ madana-mohanaḥ (He maddens: to nourish the rasa of union [sambhoga], He makes [His beloved] languish in the phase of separation [vipralambha] and then brings union to fullness — therefore He is Madana; by these two He brings [her] under His sway — therefore He is Mohana; He is both — Madana-mohana)[8] me (My) netra-spṛhām (the thirst of the eyes — the eyes' longing to see Him) tanoti (increases).

*The meaning of the verse; a description of Kṛṣṇa's form (citra-jalpa) — [Any rāga as suits (yathā-rāga)]*

নবঘনস্নিগ্ধবর্ণ, দলিতাঞ্জন-চিক্কণ, ইন্দীবর-নিন্দি সুকোমল ৷
জিনি' উপমার গণ, হরে সবার নেত্র-মন, কৃষ্ণকান্তি পরম প্রবল ॥ ৬৪ ॥

nava-ghana-snigdha-varṇa,
new cloud glossy complexion
dalitāñjana-cikkaṇa,
ground collyrium smooth
indīvara-nindi sukomala
the blue lotus putting to shame very soft jini' upamāra gaṇa,
conquering of comparisons the host
hare sabāra netra-mana, steals of all eyes and mind
kṛṣṇa-kānti parama prabala
Kṛṣṇa's lustre supremely powerful

64 "Kṛṣṇa's complexion is glossy as a new cloud and smooth as ground collyrium; it puts the blue lotus to shame with its softness. Surpassing every comparison, Kṛṣṇa's lustre is supremely powerful: it steals the eyes and minds of all.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śrī Kṛṣṇa's luster outshines the smooth gloss of ground (dalita, pounded or crushed) collyrium. Its hue is soft like a fresh cloud; it is softer than the indīvara (blue lotus) and beyond all comparison[7].

কহ, সখি, কি করি উপায় ?
কৃষ্ণাদ্ভুত বলাহক, মোর নেত্র-চাতক, না দেখি' পিয়াসে মরি' যায় ॥ ৬৫ ॥

kaha, sakhi, ki kari upāya?
tell O friend what shall I do means
kṛṣṇādbhuta balāhaka, Kṛṣṇa wondrous cloud
mora netra-cātaka,
My eyes cātaka birds
nā dekhi' piyāse mari' yāya
not seeing of thirst dying go

65 Tell Me, O friend, what shall I do? Kṛṣṇa is a wondrous cloud, and the cātaka birds of My eyes, not seeing Him, are dying of thirst.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Valāhaka: a cloud.

Comparisons for Kṛṣṇa's form —

সৌদামিনী পীতাম্বর, স্থির নহে নিরন্তর, মুক্তাহার বকপাঁতি ভাল ।
ইন্দ্রধনু-শিখিপাখা, উপরে দিয়াছে দেখা, আর ধনু বৈজয়ন্তী-মাল ॥ ৬৬ ॥

saudāminī pītāmbara, sthira nahe nirantara, lightning the yellow cloth steady is not ever muktā-hāra baka-pāṁti bhāla pearl necklace of cranes a row lovely indra-dhanu śikhi-pākhā, Indra's bow peacock feather
upare diyāche dekhā,
above has appeared
āra dhanu vaijayantī-māla
another bow the Vaijayantī garland

66 His yellow cloth is the lightning, never steady; His pearl necklace is a lovely row of cranes; His peacock feather is a rainbow appearing above, and His Vaijayantī garland is another rainbow.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 21.109.

মুরলীর কলধ্বনি, মধুর গর্জ্জন শুনি', বৃন্দাবনে নাচে ময়ূরচয় ।
অকলঙ্ক পূর্ণকল, লাবণ্য-জ্যোৎস্না ঝলমল, চিত্রচন্দ্র তাহাতে উদয় ॥ ৬৭ ॥

muralīra kala-dhvani,
of the flute soft sweet sound
madhura garjana śuni',
sweet thunder hearing
vṛndāvane nāce mayūra-caya
in Vṛndāvana dance peacocks in flocks
akalaṅka pūrṇa-kala,
spotless full in all digits
lāvaṇya-jyotsnā jhalamala,
of beauty moonlight sparkling
citra-candra tāhāte udaya
a wondrous moon in it rising

67 Hearing the soft murmur of His flute — the cloud's sweet thunder — the peacocks of Vṛndāvana dance. And in that cloud a wondrous moon is rising, spotless and full in all its digits, its moonlight of beauty sparkling.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Akalaṅka pūrṇa-kala: a wondrous moon risen spotless and full in all its sixteen digits (kalās).

Śrī Rādhā, deprived of the joy of seeing Kṛṣṇa, describes Her own misfortune —

লীলামৃত-বরিষণে, সিঞ্চে চৌদ্দ ভুবনে, হেন মেঘ যবে দেখা দিল ।
দুর্দ্দৈব-ঝঞ্ঝাপবনে, মেঘে নিল অন্যস্থানে, মরে চাতক, পিতে না পাইল ॥ ৬৮ ॥

līlāmṛta-variṣaṇe,
of pastimes of nectar by the shower
siñce caudda bhuvane,
it sprinkles fourteen worlds
hena megha yabe dekhā dila
such a cloud when appeared durdaiva-jhañjhā-pavane,
of misfortune of the storm by the wind
meghe nila anya-sthāne,
the cloud was taken to another place mare cātaka, pite nā pāila
dies the cātaka to drink not could

68 With a shower of the nectar of His pastimes it drenches all fourteen worlds — but when such a cloud appeared, the storm wind of My misfortune carried it away to another place, and the cātaka is dying, for it could not drink."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O friend, Śrī Kṛṣṇa is a wondrous cloud. The cātaka bird of My eyes cannot see that cloud and is dying of thirst. Kṛṣṇa's yellow garment is the lightning in that cloud, but it is unsteady. The pearl necklace on His neck shines like a row of (white) cranes beneath the cloud. His peacock feather is like the rainbow in the cloud, and His (five-colored) Vaijayantī garland is also like a rainbow. The soft sound of the flute at Kṛṣṇa's lips is the sweet thunder of the cloud of His form; hearing it, the peacocks of Vṛndāvana dance. The moonlight of Kṛṣṇa's beauty has risen like a wondrous moon, spotless and full (in all sixteen digits). The cloud of Kṛṣṇa pours the nectar of His pastimes and waters all fourteen worlds. But as soon as that cloud, Kṛṣṇa's form, appeared, the whirlwind of My misfortune swept it away elsewhere. And now, not seeing the cloud, the cātaka of My eyes is all but dead for want of water.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Jhañjhā-vāta: a whirlwind.

Rāmānanda recites a verse suited to the Lord's mood; the Lord Himself explains it —

পুনঃ কহে, — হায় হায়, পড় পড় রামরায়, কহে প্রভু গদগদ আখ্যানে ।
রামানন্দ পড়ে শ্লোক, শুনি' প্রভুর হর্ষ-শোক, আপনে প্রভু করেন ব্যাখ্যানে ॥ ৬৯ ॥

punaḥ kahe, — hāya hāya,
again He says alas alas
paḍa paḍa rāma-rāya, recite recite Rāmarāya
kahe prabhu gadagada ākhyāne says the Lord choked in speech
rāmānanda paḍe śloka, Rāmānanda recites a verse
śuni' prabhura harṣa-śoka, hearing the Lord's joy and sorrow
āpane prabhu karena vyākhyāne
Himself the Lord makes explanation

69 "Alas, alas! Recite, recite, Rāmarāya!" the Lord said again, His voice choked with feeling. Rāmānanda recited a verse; hearing it, the Lord felt both joy and sorrow, and He Himself explained it.

Anubhāṣya.
Harṣa-śoka: harṣa (joy) from hearing of Kṛṣṇa's sweetness, śoka (grief) from separation from Him.

*Words spoken in citra-jalpa — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.29.39)*

বীক্ষ্যালকাবৃতমুখং তব কুণ্ডলশ্রী- গণ্ডস্থলাধরসুধং হসিতাবলোকম্ ৷ দত্তাভয়ঞ্চ ভুজদণ্ডযুগং বিলোক্য বক্ষঃ শ্রিয়ৈকরমণঞ্চ ভবাম দাস্যঃ ॥ ৭০ ॥

vīkṣyālakāvṛta-mukhaṁ tava kuṇḍala-śrī-having seen by locks framed face Your by the beauty of earrings
gaṇḍa-sthalādhara-sudhaṁ hasitāvalokam
of the cheeks of the lips the nectar smiling glance
dattābhayaṁ ca bhuja-daṇḍa-yugaṁ vilokya granting fearlessness and of arms the pair having beheld vakṣaḥ śriyaika-ramaṇaṁ ca bhavāma dāsyaḥ
the chest for Śrī the sole delight and we become maidservants

70 "Seeing Your face framed by curling locks and graced by the beauty of Your earrings, Your cheeks, the nectar of Your lips and Your smiling glance, and beholding Your two arms that grant fearlessness and Your chest, the sole delight of Śrī, we have become Your maidservants." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.29.39)[3]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 24.48.

*The meaning of the verse; a description of how the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's form overpowers the gopīs (citra-jalpa) — [Any rāga as suits (yathā-rāga)]*

কৃষ্ণ জিনি' পদ্ম-চান্দ, পাতিয়াছে মুখ ফান্দ, তাতে অধর মধুস্মিত চার ৷
ব্রজনারী আসি' আসি', ফান্দে পড়ি' হয় দাসী, ছাড়ি' লাজ-পতি-ঘর-দ্বার ॥ ৭১ ॥

kṛṣṇa jini' padma-cānda, Kṛṣṇa conquering the lotus and the moon
pātiyāche mukha phānda,
has set of His face a snare
tāte adhara madhu-smita cāra
in it of the lips sweet smile the bait
vraja-nārī āsi' āsi', Vraja's women coming coming
phānde paḍi' haya dāsī,
into the snare falling become maidservants
chāḍi' lāja-pati-ghara-dvāra
leaving shame husbands home and door

71 "Having conquered the lotus and the moon, Kṛṣṇa has set the snare of His face, baited with the sweet smile of His lips. The women of Vraja come, fall into the snare and become His maidservants, leaving shame, husbands, home and hearth.

বান্ধব কৃষ্ণ করে ব্যাধের আচার ৷
নাহি মানে ধর্ম্মাধর্ম্ম, হরে নারী-মৃগী-মর্ম্ম, করে নানা উপায় তাহার ॥ ৭২ ॥

bāndhava kṛṣṇa kare vyādhera ācāra
our friend Kṛṣṇa does of a hunter the conduct nāhi māne dharmādharma,
not regards right and wrong
hare nārī-mṛgī-marma,
steals of the women-does the hearts
kare nānā upāya tāhāra makes various means for that

72 Ah, our friend Kṛṣṇa behaves like a hunter! He cares nothing for right or wrong, and with ruse after ruse He steals the hearts of women, His does.

গণ্ডস্থল ঝলমল, নাচে মকর-কুণ্ডল, যেই নৃত্যে হরে নারীচয় ।
সস্মিত কটাক্ষ-বাণে, তা-সবার হৃদয়ে হানে, নারী-বধে নাহি কিছু ভয় ॥ ৭৩ ॥

gaṇḍa-sthala jhalamala,
the cheeks sparkling
nāce makara-kuṇḍala,
dance makara earrings
yei nṛtye hare nārī-caya
by which dance steal women all sasmita kaṭākṣa-bāṇe,
smiling of sidelong glances with arrows
tā-sabāra hṛdaye hāne,
their all in the hearts He strikes
nārī-vadhe nāhi kichu bhaya
of women in killing not any fear

73 On His sparkling cheeks His makara earrings dance, and by that dance they steal the hearts of all women. With the arrows of His smiling sidelong glances He pierces their hearts, and He has no fear at all of killing women.

অতি উচ্চ সুবিস্তার, লক্ষ্মী-শ্রীবৎস-অলংকার, কৃষ্ণের যে ডাকাতিয়া বক্ষ ।
ব্রজদেবী লক্ষ লক্ষ, তা-সবার মনোবক্ষ, হরিদাসী করিবারে দক্ষ ॥ ৭৪ ॥

ati ucca suvistāra,
very high broad
lakṣmī-śrīvatsa-alaṁkāra, Lakṣmī Śrīvatsa ornaments
kṛṣṇera ye ḍākātiyā vakṣa Kṛṣṇa's that robber chest
vraja-devī lakṣa lakṣa,
of Vraja goddesses hundreds of thousands
tā-sabāra mano-vakṣa,
their all minds and breasts
hari-dāsī karibāre dakṣa of Hari maidservants in making skilled

74 Kṛṣṇa's chest, lofty and broad and adorned with the marks of Lakṣmī and Śrīvatsa, is a robber: it carries off the minds and breasts of hundreds of thousands of goddesses of Vraja and skilfully makes them Hari's maidservants.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Ḍākātiyā vakṣa: the chest (of Kṛṣṇa) that, like a robber, forcibly carries off all the (Vraja) women.

Anubhāṣya.

Lakṣmī: the mark of a golden line on the left side of the chest; Śrīvatsa: the Śrīvatsa mark on the right side of the chest, or a curl of hair turning to the right.

সুললিত দীর্ঘার্গল, কৃষ্ণের ভুজযুগল, ভুজ নহে, — কৃষ্ণসর্পকায় ।
দুই শৈল-ছিদ্রে পশে, নারীর হৃদয়ে দংশে, মনে নারী সে বিষজ্বালায় ॥ ৭৫ ॥

sulalita dīrghārgala,
very graceful long bolts
kṛṣṇera bhuja-yugala, Kṛṣṇa's of arms the pair
bhuja nahe, — kṛṣṇa-sarpa-kāya arms are not black snakes' bodies
dui śaila-chidre paśe,
two hills into the gap enter nārīra hṛdaye daṁśe,
of women in the hearts bite
mane nārī se viṣa-jvālāya
in the mind women that of poison in the burning

75 Kṛṣṇa's two arms are graceful long bolts — no, not arms, but the bodies of black snakes. They slip into the gap between the two hills and bite women's hearts, and the women burn within from that poison.[4]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Śaila-chidre: into the gap (the middle) between the two breasts upon the heart.

কৃষ্ণ-কর-পদতল, কোটিচন্দ্র-সুশীতল, জিনি' কর্পূর-বেণামূল-চন্দন ।
একবার যার স্পর্শে, স্মরজ্বালা-বিষ নাশে, যার স্পর্শে লুব্ধ নারী-মন ॥ ৭৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa-kara-pada-tala, Kṛṣṇa's hands and feet the palms and soles
koṭi-candra-suśītala,
than millions of moons cooler
jini' karpūra-veṇā-mūla-candana surpassing camphor vetiver root sandal
eka-bāra yāra sparśe,
once whose by the touch
smara-jvālā-viṣa nāśe,
of Smara's burning poison is destroyed
yāra sparśe lubdha nārī-mana whose by the touch greedy women's minds

76 The palms of Kṛṣṇa's hands and the soles of His feet are cooler than millions of moons; they surpass camphor, vetiver root and sandal. A single touch of them destroys the burning poison of Smara, and women's hearts long for that touch."[5]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Defeating the moon and the lotus, Kṛṣṇa has set the snare of His face to catch the does (the gopīs). In that snare the bait of His sweet smile has been laid, that is, a deceptive food to lure the (gopī) does. Leaving home and hearth, husband and shame, the does — the women of Vraja — fall into that snare and become His maidservants. Ah, our friend Śrī Kṛṣṇa behaves just like a hunter! This hunter cares nothing for dharma or adharma; he devises many tricks to steal the hearts of the does, the beauties of Vraja. His makara earrings glitter and dance on His cheeks and steal the women's minds. He pierces their hearts with the arrows of His smiling sidelong glances and has no fear at all of killing women. Kṛṣṇa's broad chest (given to plunder, like a bandit) bears two marks as ornaments: Lakṣmī and Śrīvatsa (a curl of hair turning to the right). It forcibly draws hundreds of thousands of goddesses of Vraja, their minds and their breasts, and makes them maidservants of that very Hari. Kṛṣṇa's two arms, exquisitely beautiful, are like long door-bolts, almost like the bodies of black serpents. They enter the gap (the middle) between the two mountain-like breasts of the women and bite the heart. (From the poison of that bite, His touch, the gopī burns in the fever of loving desire.) The palms and soles of Kṛṣṇa surpass camphor, veṇāmūla root and sandal-wood and are cooler than millions of moons. Whoever they touch even once is freed from the burning poison of Kandarpa.

Anubhāṣya.

Veṇāmūla: the fragrant khaskhas root (vetiver).

The Lord, in separation from Kṛṣṇa, recites a verse —

এতেক বিলাপ করি’, বিষাদে শ্রীগৌরহরি, এই অর্থে পড়ে এক শ্লোক ।
এই শ্লোক পাঞা রাধা, বিশাখারে কহে রাধা, উঘাড়িয়া হৃদয়ের শোক ॥ ৭৭ ॥

eteka vilāpa kari’,
so much lament making
viṣāde śrī-gaurahari,
in dejection Śrī Gaurahari
ei arthe paḍe eka śloka
with this meaning recites one verse
ei śloka pāñā rādhā,
this verse having found Rādhā
viśākhāre kahe rādhā,
to Viśākhā speaks Rādhā
ughāḍiyā hṛdayera śoka
opening of the heart the grief

77 Lamenting so much in His dejection, Śrī Gaurahari recited a verse with this meaning — the verse with which Rādhā spoke to Viśākhā, laying open the grief of Her heart:

Śrī Rādhā's thirst to see Kṛṣṇa — (Govinda-līlāmṛta 8.7: Śrī Rādhā's words to Viśākhā)

হরিংমণিকবাটিকাপ্রততহারিবক্ষঃস্থলঃ
স্মরার্ত্ততরুণীমনঃকলুষহারিদোরর্গলঃ ।
সুধাংশুহরিচন্দনোৎপলসিতাভ্রশীতাঙ্গকঃ স মে মদনমোহনঃ সখি তনোতি বক্ষঃস্পৃহাম্ ॥ ৭৮ ॥

hariṁ-maṇi-kavāṭikā-pratata-sapphire door broad hāri-vakṣaḥ-sthalaḥ
outshining whose chest
smarārta-taruṇī-manaḥ-kaluṣatormented by Smara of young girls of the mind the distress hāri-dorremoving whose arms
argalaḥ
bolts
sudhāṁśu-hari-candanotpala-
the moon hari-candana lotus sitābhra-śītāṅgakaḥ
than camphor cooler whose body
sa me madana-mohanaḥ sakhi
He My of Madana the enchanter O friend
tanoti vakṣaḥ-spṛhām
increases of the breast the longing

78 "O friend, His broad chest outshines a door of sapphire; His bolt-like arms take away the distress of young girls' minds tormented by Smara; His body is cooler than the moon, hari-candana, the lotus and camphor — that enchanter of Madana kindles a longing in My breast." (Govinda-līlāmṛta, 8.7)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O friend! His chest is broad and charming like a door made of sapphires (indranīla gems). His arms remove the turmoil of mind (the fever of loving desire) of young maidens tormented by Kāma. His body is cool like the moon, hari-candana, the lotus (utpala) and camphor. That Madana-mohana is spreading the longing of My breast.

Anubhāṣya.
sakhi (O friend!) hariṇ-maṇi-kavāṭikā-pratata-hāri-vakṣaḥ-sthalaḥ (whose chest by its very nature surpasses [literally, "steals"] the breadth [pratati, expanse] of a door made of harin-maṇi, sapphires of the indranīla kind)[9] smarārta-taruṇī-manaḥ-kaluṣa-hāri-dor-argalaḥ (whose bolt-like arms remove the turmoil of mind, the mental fever, of young maidens tormented by Smara [Madana]) sudhāṁśu-hari-candanotpala-sitābhra-śītāṅgakaḥ (whose body is cooler even than the moon [sudhāṁśu, the moon], hari-candana, the utpala [the kuvalaya, the lotus] and camphor [sitābhra, camphor]) madana-mohanaḥ me (My) vakṣaḥ-spṛhām (the longing of the breast) tanoti (increases).

The lament of the Lord, deprived of the sight of Kṛṣṇa —

প্রভু কহে, — কৃষ্ণ মুই এখন দেখিনু । আপনার দুর্দ্দৈবে পুনঃ হারাইনু ॥ ৭৯ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kṛṣṇa mui ekhana dekhinu
the Lord says Kṛṣṇa I just now saw āpanāra durdaive punaḥ hārāinu
by My own misfortune again lost

79 The Lord said, "I saw Kṛṣṇa just now, and by My own misfortune I have lost Him again.

চঞ্চল-স্বভাব কৃষ্ণের, না রয় একস্থানে । দেখা দিয়া মন হরি' করে অন্তর্দ্ধানে ॥ ৮০ ॥

cañcala-svabhāva kṛṣṇera, nā raya ekasthāne fickle by nature Kṛṣṇa not stays in one place
dekhā diyā mana hari' kare antarddhāne
appearing the mind stealing makes disappearance

80 Kṛṣṇa is fickle by nature; He does not stay in one place. He shows Himself, steals the mind and disappears."

*Kṛṣṇa, the Lord bound by the gopīs' love, vanishes from the rāsa dance — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.29.48)*

তাসাং তৎসৌভগমদং বীক্ষ্য মানঞ্চ কেশবঃ । প্রশমায় প্রসাদায় তত্রৈবান্তরধীয়ত ॥ ৮১ ॥

tāsāṁ tat-saubhaga-madaṁ
of them that of good fortune the pride
vīkṣya mānaṁ ca keśavaḥ
seeing self-esteem and Keśava
praśamāya prasādāya
to calm to show grace tatraivāntaradhīyata
right there disappeared

81 "Seeing the gopīs intoxicated with their good fortune and grown proud, Keśava, to humble that pride and to show them His grace, vanished right there." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.29.48)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Seeing their pride in their good fortune, Kṛṣṇa vanished right there, to quell that pride and to show them grace.

Anubhāṣya.
The mahā-bhāgavata Śrī Śukadeva is describing Śrī Kṛṣṇa's rāsa-līlā to Parīkṣit, who is eager to hear —

keśavaḥ (Kṛṣṇa, who brings under His control ka and īśa, Brahmā and Śiva) tāsām (of the gopīs) tat-saubhaga-madam (their pride rooted in their good fortune) mānam (haughtiness) ca (and) vīkṣya (seeing), tasya (of it) praśamāya (to quell) (prasādāya, and to show grace) tatra (at the site of the rāsa) eva (right) antaradhīyata (vanished).

The Lord asks Svarūpa to sing —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞিরে কহেন, — গাও এক গীত । যাতে আমার হৃদয়ের হয়ে ত' 'সম্বিৎ' ॥ ৮২ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñire kahena, — gāo eka gīta to Svarūpa Gosāñi He says sing a song
yāte āmāra hṛdayera haye ta' 'samvit'
by which My of the heart may come indeed awareness

82 He said to Svarūpa Gosāñi, "Sing a song that will bring My heart back to awareness."

Anubhāṣya.
Saṁvit: a distraught mind regaining steady awareness.

Svarūpa's song —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তবে মধুর করিয়া । গীতগোবিন্দের পদ গায় প্রভুরে শুনাঞা ॥ ৮৩ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi tabe madhura kariyā Svarūpa Gosāñi then sweetly doing gīta-govindera pada gāya prabhure śunāñā of the Gīta-govinda a song sings to the Lord making hear

83 Then Svarūpa Gosāñi sweetly sang for the Lord a song from the Gīta-govinda:

*A gopī remembers Kṛṣṇa, the enjoyer of the rāsa — (Gīta-govinda 2.3)*

রাসে হরিমিহ বিহিতবিলাসম্ । স্মরতি মনো মম কৃতপরিহাসম্ ॥ ৮৪ ॥

rāse harim iha vihita-vilāsam
in the rāsa Hari here who enjoyed pastimes
smarati mano mama kṛta-parihāsam remembers mind My who made jests

84 "My mind remembers Hari, who here in the rāsa dance enjoyed His pastimes and His jests." (Gīta-govinda, 2.3)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
My mind remembers Hari, who here, in the rāsa dance, enjoyed many pastimes and jested.

Anubhāṣya.
sakhi (O friend!) iha (here) rāse (in the rāsa dance) mama (My) manaḥ (mind) vihita-vilāsam (Him by whom pastimes were performed [vihita, carried out]) kṛta-parihāsam (Him by whom jests were made [kṛta, done]) harim (Hari) smarati (remembers).

*Hearing the song, the Lord dances, overwhelmed by prema —*

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি যবে এই পদ গাহিলা । উঠি' প্রেমাবেশে তবে নাচিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৮৫ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi yabe ei pada gāhilā Svarūpa Gosāñi when this song sang uṭhi' premāveśe tabe nācite lāgilā rising absorbed in prema then to dance began

85 When Svarūpa Gosāñi sang this song, the Lord rose, absorbed in prema, and began to dance.

*The eight sāttvika-vikāras and all the bhāvas arise at once —*

'অষ্টসাত্ত্বিক' ভাব অঙ্গে প্রকট হইল । হর্ষাদি 'ব্যভিচারী' সব উথলিল ॥ ৮৬ ॥

'aṣṭa-sāttvika' bhāva aṅge prakaṭa haila
the eight sāttvika bhāvas in His body manifest became harṣādi 'vyabhicārī' saba uthalila
joy and the others vyabhicārī all welled up

86 The eight sāttvika-bhāvas appeared in His body, and all the vyabhicārī-bhāvas, beginning with joy, welled up.

ভাবোদয়, ভাব-সন্ধি, ভাব-শাবল্য । ভাবে-ভাবে মহাযুদ্ধে সবার প্রাবল্য ॥ ৮৭ ॥

bhāvodaya, bhāva-sandhi, bhāva-śābalya
rise of feelings of feelings meeting of feelings mingling bhāve-bhāve mahā-yuddhe sabāra prābalya between feeling and feeling in a great battle of all the dominance

87 Feelings arose (bhāvodaya), met (bhāva-sandhi) and mingled (bhāva-śābalya); feeling fought feeling in a great battle, each striving to prevail.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhāvodaya: the arising of the eight sāttvika-bhāvas; bhāva-sandhi: the meeting of two bhāvas, alike or different; bhāva-śābalya: the clash of many bhāvas with one another.

The Lord relishes the singing of that verse and dances —

সেই পদ পুনঃ পুনঃ করায় গায়ন । পুনঃ পুনঃ আস্বাদয়ে, করেন নর্ত্তন ॥ ৮৮ ॥

sei pada punaḥ punaḥ karāya gāyana
that song again and again He has sung punaḥ punaḥ āsvādaye, karena nartana
again and again He relishes makes dancing

88 Again and again He had that song sung; again and again He relished it and danced.

*Svarūpa ends the kīrtana —*

এইমত নৃত্য যদি হইল বহুক্ষণ । স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি পদ কৈলা সমাপন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

ei-mata nṛtya yadi haila bahu-kṣaṇa
in this way dancing when went on a long time
svarūpa-gosāñi pada kailā samāpana
Svarūpa Gosāñi the song made conclusion

89 When the dancing had gone on in this way for a long time, Svarūpa Gosāñi brought the song to a close.

Seeing the Lord's condition, Svarūpa stops singing —

‘বল্’ ‘বল্’ বলি’ প্রভু কহেন বারবার । না গায় স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি শ্রম দেখি’ তাঁর ॥ ৯০ ॥

‘bal’ ‘bal’ bali’ prabhu kahena bārabāra
sing sing saying the Lord says again and again
nā gāya svarūpa-gosāñi śrama dekhi’ tāṁra not sings Svarūpa Gosāñi fatigue seeing His 90 “Sing! Sing!” the Lord said again and again, but seeing His fatigue, Svarūpa Gosāñi did not sing.

Everyone raises the sound of Hari's name —

‘বল্’ ‘বল্’ প্রভু বলেন, ভক্তগণ শুনি’ ।
চৌদিকেতে সবে মেলি’ করে হরিধ্বনি ॥ ৯১ ॥

‘bal’ ‘bal’ prabhu balena, bhakta-gaṇa śuni’
sing sing the Lord says the devotees hearing
caudikete sabe meli’ kare hari-dhvani
on all sides all together make the sound of Hari’s name

91 The Lord kept saying, “Sing! Sing!” Hearing this, the devotees gathered all around and called out the name of Hari.

Rāya relieves the Lord's fatigue —

রামানন্দ রায় তবে প্রভুরে বসাইলা । ব্যজনাদি করি’ প্রভুর শ্রম ঘুচাইলা ॥ ৯২ ॥

rāmānanda rāya tabe prabhure vasāilā Rāmānanda Rāya then the Lord seated vyajanādi kari’ prabhura śrama ghucāilā fanning and so on doing the Lord’s fatigue removed 92 Then Rāmānanda Rāya made the Lord sit down and relieved His fatigue by fanning Him and serving Him in other ways.

*The Lord bathes, takes prasāda and lies down to rest —*

প্রভুরে লঞা গেলা তবে সমুদ্রের তীরে । স্নান করাঞা পুনঃ তাঁরে লঞা আইলা ঘরে ॥ ৯৩ ॥

prabhure lañā gelā tabe samudrera tīre
the Lord taking they went then of the sea to the shore
snāna karāñā punaḥ tāṁre lañā āilā ghare
bath making Him take again Him taking came home

93 Then they took the Lord to the seashore, bathed Him, and brought Him home again.

ভোজন করাঞা প্রভুরে করাইলা শয়ন । রামানন্দ-আদি সবে গেলা নিজ-স্থান ॥ ৯৪ ॥

bhojana karāñā prabhure karāilā śayana meal making Him take the Lord made lie down
rāmānanda-ādi sabe gelā nija-sthāna
Rāmānanda and the others all went own places

94 They gave the Lord His meal and had Him lie down to rest, and Rāmānanda and all the others went to their own places.

*The Lord's divine madness (udghūrṇā and citra-jalpa): thinking Himself a maidservant of the gopīs, He is reminded of the pastimes of Vṛndāvana —*

এই ত' কহিলুঁ প্রভুর উদ্যান-বিহার । বৃন্দাবন ভ্রমে যাঁহা প্রবেশ তাঁহার ॥ ৯৫ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ prabhura udyāna-vihāra
thus indeed I have told the Lord's in the garden pastime
vṛndāvana bhrame yāṁhā praveśa tāṁhāra Vṛndāvana mistaking it for where the entering His

95 Thus I have told of the Lord's pastime in the garden that He entered, taking it for Vṛndāvana.

বিলাপ-সহিত এই উন্মাদ-বর্ণন । শ্রীরূপ-গোসাঞি ইহা কৈরাছেন লিখন ॥ ৯৬ ॥

vilāpa-sahita ei unmāda-varṇana
with lament together this of madness description
śrī-rūpa-gosāñi ihā kairāchena likhana
Śrī Rūpa Gosāñi this has made writing

96 Śrī Rūpa Gosāñi too has described this madness of the Lord, together with His lament:

*The Lord, reminded of Vṛndāvana, chants Kṛṣṇa's name, overwhelmed by prema — (Stava-mālā, first Caitanyāṣṭaka, verse 6)*

পয়োরাশেস্তীরে স্ফুরদুপবনালীকলনয়া
মুহুর্বৃন্দারণ্যস্মরণজনিতপ্রেমবিবশঃ ।
ক্বচিৎ কৃষ্ণাবৃত্তিপ্রচলরসনো ভক্তিরসিকঃ স চৈতন্যঃ কিং মে পুনরপি দৃশোর্যাস্যতি পদম্ ॥ ৯৭ ॥

payo-rāśes tīre sphurad-
of the ocean on the shore gleaming
upavanālī-kalanayā
of rows of gardens by the sight
muhur vṛndāraṇya-smaraṇa-janita-again and again of the Vṛndāvana forest by remembrance born prema-vivaśaḥ
by prema overwhelmed
kvacit kṛṣṇāvṛtti-pracalasometimes of Kṛṣṇa's name by repetition restless rasano bhakti-rasikaḥ
whose tongue of bhakti the relisher
sa caitanyaḥ kiṁ me punar api that Caitanya will my again even dṛśor yāsyati padam
of the eyes come to the path

97 "At times, on the shore of the ocean, at the sight of rows of gleaming gardens, He would remember again and again the forest of Vṛndāvana and be overwhelmed by the prema it awakened, His tongue moving restlessly as it repeated Kṛṣṇa's name. Will that Caitanya, the relisher of bhakti, come once again before my eyes?" (Stava-mālā, First Caitanyāṣṭaka, 6)[6]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Seeing the rows of beautiful gardens on the seashore, the Lord again and again remembered the forest of Vṛndāvana and became helpless with prema. Gaurāṅga, the connoisseur of the taste of bhakti, is saying "Kṛṣṇa! Kṛṣṇa!" with a restless (pracala, unsteady) tongue. Will such a Caitanyadeva come again within the path of my sight?

Thus ends the fifteenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.
kvacit (at times) yaḥ (He who) payo-rāśeḥ (of the ocean) tīre (on the shore — on the strip of sand) sphurad-upavanālī-kalanayā (by seeing [kalana, beholding] the rows, the clusters, of gardens shining in their beauty) muhuḥ (at every moment) vṛndāraṇya-smaraṇa-janita-prema-vivaśaḥ (helpless with prema: the thought of Vṛndāvana arose in Him, and He lost control of Himself in His longing for love of Kṛṣṇa) abhūt (became), kṛṣṇāvṛtti-pracala-rasanaḥ (He whose tongue is restless, unsteady, from constantly chanting the name "Kṛṣṇa"), bhakti-rasikaḥ saḥ caitanyaḥ me (my) dṛśoḥ (of the eyes) padam (path) punar api kim yāsyati (will He attain — enter again)?

Thus ends the fifteenth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

অনন্ত চৈতন্যলীলা না যায় লিখন । দিঙ্মাত্র দেখাঞা তাহা করিয়ে সূচন ॥ ৯৮ ॥

ananta caitanya-līlā nā yāya likhana endless Caitanya's pastimes not can be written diṅ-mātra dekhāñā tāhā kariye sūcana
a mere direction showing them I make indication

98 Śrī Caitanya's pastimes are endless; they cannot all be written. I only point the way and give a hint of them.

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ৯৯ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

99 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. Guṇa means both “quality” and “rope”: sweetness binds the ears as with a rope. ↩
2. The edition prints sakhī (a misprint; the vocative is sakhi, as in the Anubhāṣya: he sakhi). In the verse the beloved is not named; that She is Rādhā is said in verses 45–47 and in the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya. ↩
3. The verse is Madhya 24.48; translated as there. ↩
4. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads mane, “in the mind” (other editions mare, “die”). ↩
5. The first line is the same as Madhya 2.34; translated as there. ↩
6. The last line is the same as Ādi 3.65 (Caitanyāṣṭaka, 1). ↩
7. The verse translation reads differently: Kṛṣṇa's body resembles collyrium in its luster. ↩
8. The verse translation reads differently: He is so enchantingly beautiful that even the god of love is charmed by Him. ↩
9. The verse translation reads differently: Kṛṣṇa's broad chest resembles a beautiful door of sapphires. ↩

Grace to Kālidāsa, and the Ravings of Madness in Separation

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. The Gauḍīya devotees came again to Śrī Kṣetra. With them came Kālidāsa, a kinsman of Raghunātha dāsa of his father's generation. Kālidāsa had received the nectar of the lips (adharāmṛta), the remnants, of all the Vaiṣṇavas of Gauḍa; he had received even the nectar of the lips of Jhaḍu Ṭhākura. By the strength of that pious merit (sukṛti) he received in Nīlācala the water that had washed Mahāprabhu's feet and His prasāda. At the age of seven Kavi-karṇapūra came to Mahāprabhu, received the Hari-nāma mahā-mantra, and showed his gift for poetry. On receiving the vallabha-bhoga, Mahāprabhu described the glory of phelāmṛta (nectarean remnants), had all the Vaiṣṇavas partake of phelāmṛta, and was Himself absorbed in drinking the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips.

Obeisances to Gaura, who teaches devotion by His own example —

বন্দে শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্যং কৃষ্ণভাবামৃতং হি যঃ । আস্বাদ্যাস্বাদয়ন্ ভক্তান্ প্রেমদীক্ষামশিক্ষয়ৎ ॥ ১ ॥

vande śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanyaṁ
I bow down to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya
kṛṣṇa-bhāvāmṛtaṁ hi yaḥ of Kṛṣṇa of feelings the nectar indeed who āsvādyāsvādayan bhaktān
having tasted making taste the devotees
prema-dīkṣām aśikṣayat of prema the initiation taught

1 I bow down to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, who Himself tasted the nectar of feelings for Kṛṣṇa and gave it to His devotees to taste; so He taught them the path of divine love.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I offer my obeisances to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya. He Himself relished the nectar of feelings for Kṛṣṇa, gave it to His devotees to relish, and so taught them divine knowledge of initiation into love (prema-dīkṣā).

Anubhāṣya.
yaḥ (Mahāprabhu) kṛṣṇa-bhāvāmṛtam (the elevated, radiant rasa, unnatojjvala-rasa) svayam āsvādya bhaktān (those who had taken shelter of Him) āsvādayan prema-dīkṣām (the method of worship rooted in pure love) ca aśikṣayat (taught), taṁ śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanyam (I) vande.

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory to Gaura’s devotees host

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra, and glory to all the devotees of Gaura!

The Lord's pastimes with His devotees in Nīlācala —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু রহেন নীলাচলে । ভক্তগণ-সঙ্গে সদা প্রেম-বিহ্বলে ॥ ৩ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu rahena nīlācale
in this way Mahāprabhu stays in Nīlācala bhakta-gaṇa-saṅge sadā prema-vihvale
the devotees with always by love overwhelmed

3 In this way Mahāprabhu lived in Nīlācala with His devotees, always overwhelmed by love.

The next year the Gauḍīya devotees come to Purī for the Ratha-yātrā —

বর্ষান্তরে আইলা সব গৌড়ের ভক্তগণ । পূর্ব্ববৎ আসি' কৈল প্রভুর মিলন ॥ ৪ ॥

varṣāntare āilā saba gauḍera bhakta-gaṇa
the next year came all of Gauḍa the devotees
pūrvavat āsi' kaila prabhura milana
as before coming made with the Lord meeting

4 The next year all the devotees of Gauḍa came again and, as before, met the Lord.

Kālidāsa comes with the Gauḍīya devotees —

তাঁ-সবার সঙ্গে আইল কালিদাস নাম । কৃষ্ণনাম বিনা তেঁহো নাহি জানে আন ॥ ৫ ॥

tāṁ-sabāra saṅge āila kālidāsa nāma
them all with came Kālidāsa by name
kṛṣṇa-nāma vinā teṁho nāhi jāne āna
Kṛṣṇa's name except he not knew anything else

5 With them came a devotee named Kālidāsa, who knew nothing but the name of Kṛṣṇa.

Kālidāsa's qualities —

মহাভাগবত তেঁহো সরল উদার । কৃষ্ণনাম-'সঙ্কেতে' চালায় ব্যবহার ॥ ৬ ॥

mahā-bhāgavata teṁho sarala udāra
a great devotee he simple generous kṛṣṇa-nāma-'saṅkete' cālāya vyavahāra
of Kṛṣṇa's name by the signs conducted his dealings

6 He was a great devotee, simple and generous, and even in his everyday dealings the name of Kṛṣṇa served him as a sign.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"Kṛṣṇa-nāma-saṅkete calāya vyavahāra": he conducted his worldly affairs using the name of Kṛṣṇa as a sign (saṅketa).

কৌতুকেতে তেঁহো যদি পাশক খেলায় ।
'হরেকৃষ্ণ' 'হরেকৃষ্ণ' করি' পাশক চালায় ॥ ৭ ॥

kautukete teṁho yadi pāśaka khelāya
in fun he if at dice played
'hare-kṛṣṇa' 'hare-kṛṣṇa' kari' pāśaka cālāya
Hare Kṛṣṇa Hare Kṛṣṇa saying the dice threw

7 When he played at dice for fun, he would cast them saying, "Hare Kṛṣṇa! Hare Kṛṣṇa!"

Anubhāṣya.

Śrī Kālidāsa had dedicated himself to Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas, was devoted to them alone, and possessed transcendental faith. Suppose some jīva full of anarthas does not follow his steadfast devotion to Kṛṣṇa's name, but instead, for the gratification of his own senses and seeing with outward, sense-born vision, imitates his misleading pastime and becomes attached to the futile vice of playing dice (pāśā, dyūta) and the like. Then (according to Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.17.38–41[13]) his servitude to Kali will increase his sin, that is, his inclination toward irreligion (adharma). And if he outwardly imitates chanting the name and makes a show of chanting it, that very imitation will lead him to sin on the strength of the name, and so it will end only in offense against the name (nāmāparādha). All the educated, self-controlled, and virtuous people of the world will condemn such hypocrisy, an immoral deceit practiced in the name of religion.

Who Kālidāsa was before, the one who partook of the Vaiṣṇavas' remnants —

রঘুনাথ-দাসের তেঁহো হয় জ্ঞাতি-খুড়া । বৈষ্ণবের উচ্ছিষ্ট খাইতে তেঁহো হৈল বুড়া ॥ ৮ ॥

raghunātha-dāsera teṁho haya jñāti-khuḍā
of Raghunātha dāsa he was a kinsman uncle
vaiṣṇavera ucchiṣṭa khāite teṁho haila buḍā
of Vaiṣṇavas the remnants eating he became old

8 He was Raghunātha dāsa's uncle within the clan, and he had grown old honouring the remnants of Vaiṣṇavas.

*The most fortunate Kālidāsa had an unequaled eagerness to serve the Vaiṣṇavas, and so he had faith in mahā-mahā-prasāda —*

গৌড়দেশে হয় যত বৈষ্ণবের গণ । সবার উচ্ছিষ্ট তেঁহো করিল ভোজন ॥ ৯ ॥

gauḍa-deśe haya yata vaiṣṇavera gaṇa in the land of Gauḍa are as many of Vaiṣṇavas as sabāra ucchiṣṭa teṁho karila bhojana
of all the remnants he did eat

9 There was no Vaiṣṇava in Gauḍa whose remnants he had not taken.

ব্রাহ্মণ-বৈষ্ণব যত — ছোট, বড় হয় । উত্তম-বস্তু ভেট লঞা তাঁর ঠাঞি যায় ॥ ১০ ॥

brāhmaṇa-vaiṣṇava yata — choṭa, baḍa haya brāhmaṇa Vaiṣṇavas as many as small great are uttama-vastu bheṭa lañā tāṁra ṭhāñi yāya
the best things as gifts taking to them goes

10 He would go to every Vaiṣṇava of brāhmaṇa birth, great and small, bringing the finest things as gifts.

Anubhāṣya.

Brāhmaṇa-Vaiṣṇava: a Vaiṣṇava born in a family of brāhmaṇas by birth (śaukra-brāhmaṇas).

তাঁর ঠাঞি শেষ-পাত্র লয়েন মাগিয়া । কাঁহা না পায়, তবে রহে লুকাঞা ॥ ১১ ॥

tāṁra ṭhāñi śeṣa-pātra layena māgiyā
from them the plates of remnants takes begging kāṁhā nā pāya, tabe rahe lukāñā
wherever not gets then stays hiding

11 He would beg them for the plates with their remnants, and where he was refused, he would hide nearby.

ভোজন করিলে পাত্র ফেলাঞা যায়। লুকাঞা সেই পাত্র আনি' চাটি' খায় ॥ ১২ ॥

bhojana karile pātra phelāñā yāya eating having done the plate throwing away goes lukāñā sei pātra āni' cāṭi' khāya secretly that plate bringing licking eats

12 When a Vaiṣṇava had eaten and thrown his plate away, Kālidāsa would secretly take it up and lick it clean.

Kālidāsa is free from caste-consciousness toward Vaiṣṇavas —

শূদ্র-বৈষ্ণবের ঘরে যায় ভেট লঞা। এইমত তাঁর উচ্ছিষ্ট খায় লুকাঞা ॥ ১৩ ॥

śūdra-vaiṣṇavera ghare yāya bheṭa lañā of śūdra Vaiṣṇavas to the homes goes gifts taking ei-mata tāṁra ucchiṣṭa khāya lukāñā
in this way their remnants eats secretly

13 He went with gifts to the homes of Vaiṣṇavas of śūdra birth as well, and in the same way secretly took their remnants.

Anubhāṣya.

Śūdra-Vaiṣṇava: a Vaiṣṇava born in a family of śūdras by birth (śaukra-śūdras).

The account of Kālidāsa and Jhaḍu Ṭhākura —

ভুঁইমালি-জাতি, 'বৈষ্ণব' — 'ঝড়ু' তাঁর নাম। আম্রফল লঞা তেঁহো গেলা তাঁর স্থান ॥ ১৪ ॥ bhūṁimāli-jāti, 'vaiṣṇava' — 'jhaḍu' tāṁra nāma bhūṅimāli by caste a Vaiṣṇava Jhaḍu his name

āmra-phala lañā teṁho gelā tāṁra sthāna
mangoes taking he went to his place

14 There was a Vaiṣṇava named Jhaḍu, of the bhūṅimāli caste. Kālidāsa went to his home, taking mangoes with him.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Bhũimālī: a particular caste, similar to the Haḍḍī ("Hāḍi").

Anubhāṣya.

Kālidāsa and Jhaḍu Ṭhākura. The śrīpāṭas of both were in the village of "Bhedo," or "Bhaduyā." It lies about three miles south of the village of "Kṛṣṇapura," where Śrīla Dāsa Gosvāmī appeared, and about a mile west of Bandel Junction on the E.I.R. line; the post office is Devānandapura. The Deity Śrī Madana-gopāla, whom Jhaḍu Ṭhākura served, is worshiped here by a certain Rāmāyet named Śrī Rāmaprasāda dāsa. It is said that the Deity whom Kālidāsa served had until recently been served after a fashion in Śaṅkha-nagara on the bank of the Sarasvatī River. A little more than twenty years ago a resident of Triveṇī named Motilal Caṭṭopādhyāya took Him away, and he serves Him in his own home.

আম্র ভেট দিয়া তাঁর চরণ বন্দিলা । তাঁর পত্নীরে তবে নমস্কার কৈলা ॥ ১৫ ॥

āmra bheṭa diyā tāṁra caraṇa vandilā
the mangoes as a gift giving his feet he honoured
tāṁra patnīre tabe namaskāra kailā
his wife then obeisance made

15 He presented the mangoes, bowed at his feet, and then paid his respects to his wife.

পত্নী-সহিত তেঁহো আছেন বসিয়া । বহু সম্মান কৈলা কালিদাসেরে দেখিয়া ॥ ১৬ ॥

patnī-sahita teṁho āchena vasiyā
his wife with he was seated bahu sammāna kailā kālidāsere dekhiyā much honour showed Kālidāsa seeing

16 Jhaḍu Ṭhākura was sitting with his wife; seeing Kālidāsa, he received him with great respect.

ইষ্টগোষ্ঠী কতক্ষণ করি' তাঁর সনে । ঝড়ু-ঠাকুর কহে তাঁরে মধুর বচনে ॥ ১৭ ॥

iṣṭagoṣṭhī kata-kṣaṇa kari' tāṁra sane friendly talk for some time having made with him
jhaḍu-ṭhākura kahe tāṁre madhura vacane
Jhaḍu Ṭhākura says to him in sweet words

17 After talking with him a while, Jhaḍu Ṭhākura said to him sweetly:

*Out of humility Jhaḍu Ṭhākura tries to put [Kālidāsa] off; he is free from pride (amānī) and honors others (mānada) —*

আমি — নীচজাতি, তুমি, — অতিথি সর্ব্বোত্তম । কোন্‌প্রকারে করিমু তোমার সেবন ? ॥ ১৮ ॥

āmi — nīca-jāti, tumi, — atithi sarvottama
I low born you guest the most excellent kon-prakāre karimu tomāra sevana?
in what way shall I do you service

18 "I am of low birth, and you are a most honoured guest. How shall I serve you?

আজ্ঞা দেহ', — ব্রাহ্মণ-ঘরে অন্ন লঞা দিয়ে । তাঁহা তুমি প্রসাদ পাও, তবে আমি জীয়ে ॥ ১৯ ॥

ājñā deha', — brāhmaṇa-ghare anna lañā diye permission give a brāhmaṇa's to the house provisions taking I will give tāṁhā tumi prasāda pāo, tabe āmi jīye
there you prasāda take then I shall live

19 Give me leave to take provisions to a brāhmaṇa's house. There you can take prasāda, and that will give me life."

Kālidāsa's humble words; he is free from caste-consciousness toward Vaiṣṇavas —

কালিদাস কহে, — ঠাকুর, কৃপা কর মোরে । তোমার দর্শনে আইনু মুই পতিত পামরে ॥ ২০ ॥

kālidāsa kahe, — ṭhākura, kṛpā kara more Kālidāsa says Ṭhākura mercy show to me
tomāra darśane āinu mui patita pāmare
your for the sight have come I fallen sinner

20 Kālidāsa said, "Ṭhākura, be merciful to me! I, a fallen sinner, have come to see you.

পবিত্র হইনু মুই পাইনু দরশন । কৃতার্থ হইনু, মোর সফল জীবন ॥ ২১ ॥

pavitra hainu mui pāinu daraśana
pure have become I have gained the sight
kṛtārtha hainu, mora saphala jīvana fulfilled I have become my successful life

21 By seeing you I have become pure. My purpose is fulfilled, and my life has borne its fruit.

এক বাঞ্ছা হয়, — যদি কৃপা করি' কর । পাদরজ দেহ', পাদ মোর মাথে ধর ॥ ২২ ॥

eka vāñchā haya, — yadi kṛpā kari' kara
one desire there is if mercy showing you do pāda-raja deha', pāda mora māthe dhara
of the feet the dust give your foot my on the head place

22 I have one desire, if you will be merciful: give me the dust of your feet, and place your foot on my head."

The humble words of Jhaḍu Ṭhākura, who is free from pride and honors others —

ঠাকুর কহে, — ঐছে বাত্ কহিতে না যুয়ায় । আমি — নীচজাতি, তুমি — সুসজ্জন রায় ॥ ২৩ ॥

ṭhākura kahe, — aiche bāt kahite nā yuyāya
the Ṭhākura says such words to speak not is fitting āmi — nīca-jāti, tumi — susajjana rāya
I low born you a noble gentleman

23 The Ṭhākura said, "It is not fitting to say such things. I am of low birth, and you are a noble gentleman."

Kālidāsa recites to Jhaḍu Ṭhākura verses on the glory of the Vaiṣṇavas —

তবে কালিদাস শ্লোক পড়ি' শুনাইল । শুনি' ঝড়ু-ঠাকুরের বড় সুখ হইল ॥ ২৪ ॥

tabe kālidāsa śloka paḍi' śunāila
then Kālidāsa verses reciting made him hear śuni' jhaḍu-ṭhākurera baḍa sukha haila hearing Jhaḍu Ṭhākura's great joy was 24 Then Kālidāsa recited verses for him, and hearing them, Jhaḍu Ṭhākura was greatly pleased.

ন মেঽভক্তশ্চতুর্বেদী মদ্ভক্তঃ শ্বপচঃ প্রিয়ঃ ৷ তস্মৈ দেয়ং ততো গ্রাহ্যং স চ পূজ্যো যথা হ্যহম্ ॥ ২৫ ॥

na me 'bhaktaś catur-vedī
not to Me a nondevotee a knower of the four Vedas mad-bhaktaḥ śva-pacaḥ priyaḥ
My devotee a dog-eater dear
tasmai deyaṁ tato grāhyaṁ
to him should be given from him should be accepted
sa ca pūjyo yathā hy aham
he and is to be worshipped as indeed I

25 "Even a knower of the four Vedas is not dear to Me if he is not devoted to Me, but My devotee is dear to Me even if he was born a dog-eater. One should give to him and accept from him; he is to be worshipped just as I am." (Itihāsa-samuccaya, quoted in Hari-bhakti-vilāsa, 10.91)[1]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 19.50.

বিপ্রাদ্দ্বিষড্গুণযুতাদরবিন্দনাভ-পাদারবিন্দবিমুখাৎ শ্বপচং বরিষ্ঠম্ ৷
মন্যে তদর্পিতমনোবচনেহিতার্থ-প্রাণং পুনাতি স কুলং ন তু ভূরিমানঃ ॥ ২৬ ॥

viprād dvi-ṣaḍ-guṇa-yutād aravinda-nābha-
than a brāhmaṇa twelve qualities endowed with of the lotus-naveled Lord
pādāravinda-vimukhāt śva-pacaṁ variṣṭham
from the lotus feet averse a dog-eater better
manye tad-arpita-mano-vacanehitārtha-
I consider to Him offered mind words deeds wealth
prāṇaṁ punāti sa kulaṁ na tu bhūri-mānaḥ
and life purifies he his family not but one full of pride

26 "I consider a dog-eater whose mind, words, deeds, wealth and very life are offered to the Lord of the lotus navel better than a brāhmaṇa endowed with the twelve qualities who has turned away from His lotus feet. Such a devotee purifies his whole family; the brāhmaṇa swollen with pride cannot." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 7.9.10)[2]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 20.59.

অহো বত শ্বপচোঽতো গরীয়ান্
যজ্জিহ্বাগ্রে বর্ত্ততে নাম তুভ্যম্ ৷
তেপুস্তপস্তে জুহুবুঃ সস্নুরার্য্যা ব্রহ্মানূচুর্নাম গৃণন্তি যে তে ॥ ২৭ ॥

aho bata śva-paco 'to garīyān
oh how wonderful a dog-eater therefore most worthy yaj-jihvāgre vartate nāma tubhyam on the tip of whose tongue is present the name Your tepus tapas te juhuvuḥ sasnur āryā have performed austerities they have offered sacrifice have bathed (in all holy waters) noble ones brahmānūcur nāma gṛṇanti ye te have recited the Vedas the name utter who Your 27 “Oh, how wonderful! Even a dog-eater is worthy of the highest honour if Your name is on the tip of his tongue. Those who utter Your name have already performed austerities and offered sacrifices; they have bathed in all the holy waters, they are truly noble, and they have studied the Vedas.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 3.33.7)[3]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 11.192.

The standing of a devotee of Kṛṣṇa —

শুনি’ ঠাকুর কহে, — শাস্ত্র এই সত্য হয়। সেই নীচ নহে, — যাঁতে কৃষ্ণভক্তি কয় ॥ ২৮ ॥

śuni’ ṭhākura kahe, — śāstra ei satya haya hearing the Ṭhākura says scripture this true is sei nīca nahe, — yāṁte kṛṣṇa-bhakti kaya
he low is not in whom devotion to Kṛṣṇa is spoken of 28 Hearing this, the Ṭhākura said, “What scripture says is true: one in whom there is devotion to Kṛṣṇa is not low.[4]

A devotee of Kṛṣṇa has no material ego; his self-conception is transcendental: he is free from pride and honors others —

আমি — নীচজাতি, আমার নাহি কৃষ্ণ ভক্তি। অন্য ঐছে হয়, আমায় নাহি ঐছে শক্তি ॥ ২৯ ॥

āmi — nīca-jāti, āmāra nāhi kṛṣṇa-bhakti
I low born my is no devotion to Kṛṣṇa
anya aiche haya, āmāya nāhi aiche śakti
others such are in me is no such power

29 But I am of low birth, and I have no devotion to Kṛṣṇa. Others may be so blessed, but I have no such power.”

Anubhāṣya.
The Mahābhārata says in the Vana-parva (chapter 180): “If the mark [of a brāhmaṇa] is found in a śūdra and is not found in a twice-born, then that śūdra is not a śūdra, and that brāhmaṇa is not a brāhmaṇa.” Again in the Vana-parva (chapter 211): “When one born of a śūdra womb has acquired good qualities and lives in straightforwardness, brāhmaṇa nature arises in him.” And in the Anuśāsana-parva (chapter 163): “A kṣatriya or a vaiśya who is established in the dharma of a brāhmaṇa and lives by brāhmaṇa nature attains the state of a brāhmaṇa. By these acts, O goddess, and by such auspicious conduct, a śūdra becomes a brāhmaṇa and a vaiśya becomes a kṣatriya. Neither birth, nor purificatory rites (saṁskāras), nor learning, nor lineage is the cause of being twice-born; conduct alone is the cause.”

The Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (4.21.12) says: “His command was never disobeyed anywhere, and he alone held the scepter over the seven islands, except over the brāhmaṇa families and the family of Acyuta.” The Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (7.11.35) says: “If the marks said to reveal a person's varṇa are seen in someone else, he too should be designated by them.” The Padma Purāṇa says: “The devotees of the Lord are not śūdras; they are regarded as bhāgavatas. The śūdras in every varṇa are those who are not devoted to Janārdana.” “One should not even look at a brāhmaṇa who is not a Vaiṣṇava, just as one does not look at a dog-eater; but a Vaiṣṇava, even one outside the varṇas, purifies the three worlds.” “Whoever looks upon a devotee of the Lord who is a śūdra, a niṣāda, or a dog-eater as a member of his caste surely goes to hell.” The Garuḍa Purāṇa says: “One in whom this eightfold devotion is present, even if he is a mleccha, is the best of brāhmaṇas and the best of sages; he is wise and learned.” The Tattva-sāgara says: “As bell metal becomes gold when treated with mercury, so by the rite of initiation (dīkṣā) men become twice-born.”

From these and many other statements of scripture we know that transcendental brāhmaṇa nature is eternally inherent in a Vaiṣṇava. Therefore, once even a person born in a low family has devotion to Kṛṣṇa, he can no longer have a low caste.

“I am not a Vaiṣṇava”: these words only show Jhaḍu Ṭhākura's magnanimity, worthy of a Vaiṣṇava, and his freedom from pride. Mahā-bhāgavatas are free from identifying the self with the body, and it is truly their nature to speak with the humility worthy of pure devotees: “By the truth of scripture all the devotees of Kṛṣṇa except me stand at the highest level; I alone am devoid of devotion and born in a low family; I have no power to rise to a high level,” and so on.

Jhaḍu Ṭhākura, who honors others, sees Kālidāsa off and returns home —

তাঁরে নমস্করি’ কালিদাস বিদায় মাগিলা । ঝড়ু-ঠাকুর তবে তাঁর অনুব্রজি’ আইলা ॥ ৩০ ॥

tāṁre namaskari’ kālidāsa vidāya māgilā to him bowing Kālidāsa leave asked jhaḍu-ṭhākura tabe tāṁra anuvraji’ āilā Jhaḍu Ṭhākura then him following went

30 Bowing to him, Kālidāsa asked leave to go, and Jhaḍu Ṭhākura walked after him to see him off.

Anubhāṣya.
“Anuvraji”: walking along behind him.

তাঁরে বিদায় দিয়া ঠাকুর যদি ঘরে আইল । তাঁর চরণ-চিহ্ন যেই ঠাঞি পড়িল ॥ ৩১ ॥

tāṁre vidāya diyā ṭhākura yadi ghare āila him leave giving the Ṭhākura when home came tāṁra caraṇa-cihna yei ṭhāñi paḍila
his feet’s marks where fell

31 When the Ṭhākura had seen him off and returned home, Kālidāsa went to the spot where Jhaḍu’s footprints lay.

Kālidāsa comes back and, seeing Jhaḍu Ṭhākura as a Vaiṣṇava, smears his whole body with the dust [of his footprints] —

সেই ধূলি লঞা কালিদাস সর্ব্বাঙ্গে লেপিলা । তাঁর নিকট একস্থানে লুকাঞা রহিলা ॥ ৩২ ॥

sei dhūli lañā kālidāsa sarvāṅge lepilā
that dust taking Kālidāsa all over his body smeared tāṁra nikaṭa eka-sthāne lukāñā rahilā him near in one place hiding stayed

32 He gathered up that dust, smeared it all over his body, and then hid near Jhaḍu’s house.

*Jhaḍu Ṭhākura, the guru of all brāhmaṇas, worships in his mind the Deity manifest in the mind (manomayī arcā) and then eats the mangoes as Kṛṣṇa's remnants —*

ঝড়ু-ঠাকুর ঘর যাই’ দেখি’ আম্রফল । মানসেই কৃষ্ণচন্দ্রে অর্পিলা সকল ॥ ৩৩ ॥

jhaḍu-ṭhākura ghara yāi’ dekhi’ āmra-phala Jhaḍu Ṭhākura home going seeing the mangoes
mānasei kṛṣṇa-candre arpilā sakala
in his mind alone to Kṛṣṇacandra offered all

33 Entering the house, Jhaḍu Ṭhākura saw the mangoes and offered them all to Kṛṣṇacandra within his mind.

কলার পাটুয়া-খোলা হৈতে আম্র নিকাশিয়া । তাঁর পত্নী তাঁরে দেন, খায়েন চূষিয়া ॥ ৩৪ ॥

kalāra pāṭuyā-kholā haite āmra nikāśiyā
banana leaves bark from the mangoes taking out tāṁra patnī tāṁre dena, khāyena cūṣiyā
his wife to him gives he eats sucking

34 His wife took the mangoes out of their wrappings of banana leaf and bark and handed them to him, and he ate them, sucking out the juice.

Anubhāṣya.
"Pāṭuyā-kholā": leaves and bark; "nikāśiyā": taking out.

The wife of a Vaiṣṇava honors the remnants of her Vaiṣṇava husband —

চুষি' চুষি' চোষা আঁঠি ফেলিলা পাটুয়াতে ৷ তাঁরে খাওয়াঞা তাঁর পত্নী খায় পশ্চাতে ॥ ৩৫ ॥

cūṣi' cūṣi' coṣā āṁṭhi phelilā pāṭuyāte
sucking sucking the sucked stones threw into the wrappings tāṁre khāoyāñā tāṁra patnī khāya paścāte
him having fed his wife eats afterwards

35 He sucked the stones and threw them into the wrappings; and when his wife had fed him, she ate after him.

আঁঠি-চোষা সেই পাটুয়া-খোলাতে ভরিয়া ৷ বাহিরে উচ্ছিষ্ট-গর্ত্তে ফেলাইলা লঞা ॥ ৩৬ ॥

āṁṭhi-coṣā sei pāṭuyā-kholāte bhariyā stones sucked those wrappings filling bāhire ucchiṣṭa-garte phelāilā lañā outside into the pit for remnants threw taking

36 She filled the wrappings with the sucked stones, carried them outside and threw them into the pit for remnants.

The most fortunate Kālidāsa, in great bliss, honors the Vaiṣṇava's remnants, seeing them as transcendental —

সেই খোলা, আঁঠি, চোকলা চুষে কালিদাস ৷ চুষিতে চুষিতে হয় প্রেমেতে উল্লাস ॥ ৩৭ ॥

sei kholā, āṁṭhi, cokalā cūṣe kālidāsa
those wrappings stones skins sucks Kālidāsa
cūṣite cūṣite haya premete ullāsa
sucking sucking comes in love jubilation

37 Kālidāsa sucked those wrappings, stones and skins, and as he went on, he grew ever more jubilant with divine love.

Anubhāṣya.
"Cokalā": peel (kholā).

Kālidāsa honored the remnants of all the Vaiṣṇavas of Gauḍa —

এইমত যত বৈষ্ণব বৈসে গৌড়দেশে ৷ কালিদাস ঐছে সবার নিলা অবশেষে ॥ ৩৮ ॥

ei-mata yata vaiṣṇava vaise gauḍa-deśe
in this way as many Vaiṣṇavas live in the land of Gauḍa
kālidāsa aiche sabāra nilā avaśeṣe
Kālidāsa thus of all took the remnants

38 In this way Kālidāsa honoured the remnants of all the Vaiṣṇavas who lived in the land of Gauḍa.

When Kālidāsa comes to Purī, the Lord gives him great mercy without reserve —

সেই কালিদাস যবে নীলাচলে আইলা । মহাপ্রভু তাঁর উপর মহাকৃপা কৈলা ॥ ৩৯ ॥

sei kālidāsa yabe nīlācale āilā that Kālidāsa when to Nīlācala came mahāprabhu tāṁra upara mahā-kṛpā kailā Mahāprabhu on him great mercy showed

39 When Kālidāsa came to Nīlācala, Mahāprabhu showed him great mercy.

*Govinda carries the Lord's kamaṇḍalu —*

প্রতিদিন প্রভু যদি যান দরশনে । জল-করঙ্গ লঞা গোবিন্দ যায় প্রভু-সনে ॥ ৪০ ॥

prati-dina prabhu yadi yāna daraśane
every day the Lord when goes for darśana
jala-karaṅga lañā govinda yāya prabhu-sane
water pot taking Govinda goes with the Lord

40 Every day, when the Lord went to see Lord Jagannātha, Govinda accompanied Him with His waterpot.

Near the Lion Gate, at the foot of the steps, the Lord washes His feet in a pit —

সিংহদ্বারের উত্তরদিকে কপাটের আড়ে । বাইশ 'পহাচ'-তলে আছে এক নিম্ন গাড়ে ॥ ৪১ ॥

siṁha-dvārera uttara-dike kapāṭera āḍe
of the Siṁha-dvāra on the north side of the gate behind
bāiśa 'pahāca'-tale āche eka nimna gāḍe
twenty-two steps at the foot is one low pit

41 On the north side of the Siṁha-dvāra, sheltered behind the gate, at the foot of the twenty-two steps, there was a small pit.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Bāiśa pahāca": twenty-two pahācas. The Oriyas call each step of a staircase a pahāca. To go up through the Lion Gate one must climb twenty-two pahācas.

Anubhāṣya.
"Āḍe": in a secluded spot, behind a screen. At present these places no longer lie empty; houses and other buildings have been built there. "Gāḍe": in the pit.

সেই গাড়ে করেন প্রভু পাদ-প্রক্ষালনে । তবে করিবারে যায় ঈশ্বর-দরশনে ॥ ৪২ ॥

sei gāḍe karena prabhu pāda-prakṣālane
in that pit does the Lord feet washing tabe karibāre yāya īśvara-daraśane
then to do goes of the Lord darśana

42 In that pit the Lord would wash His feet, and then He would go to see Lord Jagannātha.

*The strict rule of the Lord, who acts as an ācārya to teach the world —*

গোবিন্দেরে মহাপ্রভু কৈরাছে নিয়ম । ‘মোর পাদজল যেন না লয় কোন জন’ ॥ ৪৩ ॥

govindere mahāprabhu kairāche niyama
for Govinda Mahāprabhu has made a rule ‘mora pāda-jala yena nā laya kona jana’
My feet water that not takes any person

43 Mahāprabhu had given Govinda a rule: “See that no one takes the water that washes My feet.”

No one but the most intimate devotees has the right to the water that washed the Lord's feet —

প্রাণিমাত্র লইতে না পায় সেই জল । অন্তরঙ্গ ভক্ত লয় করি’ কোন ছল ॥ ৪৪ ॥

prāṇi-mātra laite nā pāya sei jala
living beings any to take not can that water antaraṅga bhakta laya kari’ kona chala intimate devotees take making some pretext

44 No living being could take that water; only intimate devotees contrived to get it, on one pretext or another.

Kālidāsa holds out his hands before the Lord to receive the water that washed His feet —

একদিন প্রভু তাঁহা পাদ প্রক্ষালিতে । কালিদাস আসি’ তাঁহা পাতিলেন হাতে ॥ ৪৫ ॥

eka-dina prabhu tāṁhā pāda prakṣālite
one day the Lord there feet to wash kālidāsa āsi’ tāṁhā pātilena hāte
Kālidāsa coming there held out his hands

45 One day, as the Lord was washing His feet there, Kālidāsa came and held out his cupped hands.

Kālidāsa drinks the water that washed the Lord's feet three times from his cupped hands, and the Lord stops him —

এক অঞ্জলি, দুই অঞ্জলি, তিন অঞ্জলি পিলা । তবে মহাপ্রভু তাঁরে নিষেধ করিলা ॥ ৪৬ ॥

eka añjali, dui añjali, tina añjali pilā
one palmful two palmfuls three palmfuls he drank
tabe mahāprabhu tāṁre niṣedha karilā
then Mahāprabhu him prohibition made

46 He drank one palmful, two palmfuls, three palmfuls, and then Mahāprabhu stopped him:

Having given him the water that washed His feet, the Lord forbids him to take it again —

অতপর আর না করিহ পুনর্ব্বার । এতাবতা বাঞ্ছা-পূরণ করিলুঁ তোমার ॥ ৪৭ ॥

atapara āra nā kariha punar-bāra
from now on more not do again
etāvatā vāñchā-pūraṇa kariluṁ tomāra thus far of your desire the fulfilment I have made your

47 “From now on, do not do this again. With this much I have fulfilled your desire.”

Anubhāṣya.
"Etāvatā": up to this point, this far.

*Gaurasundara, the Supreme Lord who dwells within every heart (antaryāmī) —*

সর্ব্বজ্ঞ-শিরোমণি চৈতন্য ঈশ্বর । বৈষ্ণবে তাঁহার বিশ্বাস, জানেন অন্তর ॥ ৪৮ ॥

sarvajña-śiromaṇi caitanya īśvara
of the omniscient the crest jewel Caitanya the Lord
vaiṣṇave tāṁhāra viśvāsa, jānena antara
in Vaiṣṇavas his faith knows the heart

48 Lord Caitanya, crest jewel of the all-knowing, knew Kālidāsa's heart and his faith in the Vaiṣṇavas.

Because of Kālidāsa's transcendental faith in the Vaiṣṇavas, the Lord shows him a mercy rare even for Brahmā and the others —

সেই গুণ লঞা প্রভু তাঁরে তুষ্ট হইলা । অন্যের দুর্ল্লভ প্রসাদ তাঁহারে করিলা ॥ ৪৯ ॥

sei guṇa lañā prabhu tāṁre tuṣṭa hailā that quality on account of the Lord with him pleased became anyera durllabha prasāda tāṁhāre karilā to others rare mercy to him showed

49 Pleased with him for that quality, the Lord showed him a mercy rarely granted to others.

The Lord offers obeisances to Śrī Nṛsiṁha —

বাইশ 'পহাচ'-পাছে উপর দক্ষিণ-দিকে । এক নৃসিংহ-মূর্ত্তি আছেন উঠিতে বামভাগে ॥ ৫০ ॥

bāiśa 'pahāca'-pāche upara dakṣiṇa-dike
twenty-two steps behind above on the south side
eka nṛsiṁha-mūrti āchena uṭhite vāma-bhāge
one Nṛsiṁha Deity is present going up on the left side

50 Beyond the twenty-two steps, at the top on the south side, on the left as one goes up, stands a Deity of Lord Nṛsiṁha.

প্রতিদিন তাঁরে প্রভু করেন নমস্কার । নমস্করি' এই শ্লোক পড়ে বারবার ॥ ৫১ ॥

prati-dina tāṁre prabhu karena namaskāra
every day to Him the Lord makes obeisance
namaskari' ei śloka paḍe bāra-bāra
bowing this verse recites again and again

51 Every day the Lord would bow down to Him and recite this verse again and again:

*Obeisances to Śrī Nṛsiṁha, the sole protector of the devotees who preach pure devotion, the crusher of the godless, to whom the devotees are dear (two verses from the Nṛsiṁha Purāṇa) —*

নমস্তে নরসিংহায় প্রহ্লাদাহ্লাদদায়িনে । হিরণ্যকশিপোর্ব্বক্ষঃশিলাটঙ্ক-নখালয়ে ॥ ৫২ ॥

namas te nara-siṁhāya
obeisance to You to Narasiṁha prahlādāhlāda-dāyine to Prahlāda joy who gives hiraṇyakaśipor vakṣaḥof Hiraṇyakaśipu the chest
śilā-ṭaṅka-nakhālaye
the stone chisel whose nails

52 "Obeisance to You, Lord Narasiṁha, who give joy to Prahlāda, and whose nails are a chisel on the stone of Hiraṇyakaśipu's chest." (Nṛsiṁha-purāṇa)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Obeisances to Narasiṁha, who gives joy to Prahlāda; obeisances to Nṛsiṁha, whose nails split the stone-like chest of Hiraṇyakaśipu.

Anubhāṣya.
hiraṇyakaśipoḥ (of the son of Kaśyapa, the father of Prahlāda, the king of the Daityas, hostile to Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas) vakṣaḥ-śilā-ṭaṅka-nakhālaye (the chest is the stone [śilā]; a ṭaṅka is a special tool for splitting stone; to Him whose row [āli, line] of nails is that chisel) prahlādāhlāda-dāyine (who gives joy to Prahlāda, the son of Hiraṇyakaśipu and the best of pure Vaiṣṇavas) nara-siṁhāya (to Nṛsiṁhadeva) te (to You) namaḥ.

The preacher of pure devotion everywhere sees Adhokṣaja Śrī Nṛsiṁhadeva as his protector —

ইতো নৃসিংহঃ পরতো নৃসিংহো
যতো যতো যামি ততো নৃসিংহঃ ।
বহির্নৃসিংহো হৃদয়ে নৃসিংহো নৃসিংহমাদিং শরণং প্রপদ্যে ॥ ৫৩ ॥

ito nṛsiṁhaḥ parato nṛsiṁho
here Nṛsiṁha there Nṛsiṁha
yato yato yāmi tato nṛsiṁhaḥ wherever wherever I go there Nṛsiṁha
bahir nṛsiṁho hṛdaye nṛsiṁho outside Nṛsiṁha in the heart Nṛsiṁha
nṛsiṁham ādiṁ śaraṇaṁ prapadye
in Nṛsiṁha the original shelter I take 53 "Nṛsiṁha is here, Nṛsiṁha is there; wherever I go, there is Nṛsiṁha. Nṛsiṁha is outside, Nṛsiṁha is in the heart. I take shelter of Nṛsiṁha, the original Lord." (Nṛsiṁha-purāṇa)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Nṛsiṁha here, Nṛsiṁha there; wherever I go, there is Nṛsiṁha; Nṛsiṁha outside and Nṛsiṁha in the heart. I take shelter of that original Nṛsiṁha.

Anubhāṣya.
itaḥ (here, in this place, in Devī-dhāma) nṛsiṁhaḥ, parataḥ (there, in Paravyoma) nṛsiṁhaḥ; yataḥ yataḥ (wherever) yāmi, tataḥ (there) nṛsiṁhaḥ; bahiḥ (outside, in the manifest world) nṛsiṁhaḥ; hṛdaye (in the inner world) nṛsiṁhaḥ (appears); (therefore) ādim (the original Lord, the root of all) nṛsiṁham (I) śaraṇaṁ prapadye (take shelter of, that is, I resort to Him).

*The Lord partakes of prasāda —*

তবে প্রভু করিলা জগন্নাথ দরশন । ঘরে আসি' করিলা মধ্যাহ্ন-ভোজন ॥ ৫৪ ॥

tabe prabhu karilā jagannātha daraśana
then the Lord made of Jagannātha darśana
ghare āsi' karilā madhyāhna-bhojana
home coming made the midday meal

54 Then the Lord had darśana of Jagannātha, and on returning home He took His midday meal.

Kālidāsa stands waiting for remnants, and by the Lord's wish he is given the remnants of His meal —

বহির্দ্বারে আছে কালিদাস প্রত্যাশা করিয়া । গোবিন্দেরে ঠারে প্রভু কহেন জানিয়া ॥ ৫৫ ॥

bahir-dvāre āche kālidāsa pratyāśā kariyā
at the outer door is Kālidāsa hoping waiting govindere ṭhāre prabhu kahena jāniyā
to Govinda by a sign the Lord speaks knowing

55 Kālidāsa was waiting hopefully at the outer door. Knowing this, the Lord gave Govinda a sign.

Anubhāṣya.
"Ṭhāre": by a sign, a hint.

প্রভুর ইঙ্গিতে গোবিন্দ সব জানে । কালিদাসেরে দিল প্রভুর শেষপাত্র-দানে ॥ ৫৬ ॥

prabhura iṅgite govinda saba jāne
the Lord's sign Govinda all understands kālidāsere dila prabhura śeṣa-pātra-dāne
to Kālidāsa gave the Lord's plate of remnants as a gift

56 Govinda understood all the Lord's signs and gave Kālidāsa the plate with the Lord's remnants.

The one reason why [Kālidāsa] received the Lord's highest mercy —

বৈষ্ণবের শেষ-ভক্ষণের এতেক মহিমা । কালিদাসে পাওয়াইল প্রভুর কৃপা-সীমা ॥ ৫৭ ॥

vaiṣṇavera śeṣa-bhakṣaṇera eteka mahimā
of Vaiṣṇavas remnants of eating such greatness
kālidāse pāoyāila prabhura kṛpā-sīmā
to Kālidāsa made obtain the Lord's mercy the limit

57 Such is the greatness of the remnants of Vaiṣṇavas: by taking them Kālidāsa received the Lord's mercy in its fullest measure.

*The author's instruction to all sādhakas —*

তাতে 'বৈষ্ণবের ঝুটা' খাও ছাড়ি' ঘৃণা-লাজ । যাহা হইতে পাইবা বাঞ্ছিত সব কাজ ॥ ৫৮ ॥

tāte 'vaiṣṇavera jhuṭā' khāo chāḍi' ghṛṇā-lāja
therefore Vaiṣṇavas' leftovers eat giving up disgust shame
yāhā haite pāibā vāñchita saba kāja
which from you will obtain desired all aims

58 Therefore, casting off disgust and shame, take the remnants (jhuṭā) of Vaiṣṇavas; through them you will obtain all you desire.

What the remnants of Kṛṣṇa and the remnants of a devotee are called —

কৃষ্ণের উচ্ছিষ্ট হয় ‘মহাপ্রসাদ’ নাম । ‘ভক্তশেষ’ হৈলে ‘মহা-মহাপ্রসাদাখ্যান’ ॥ ৫৯ ॥

kṛṣṇera ucchiṣṭa haya ‘mahā-prasāda’ nāma of Kṛṣṇa the remnants are mahā-prasāda named ‘bhakta-śeṣa’ haile ‘mahā-mahā-prasādākhyāna’
devotee’s remnants if they become mahā-mahā-prasāda called 59 The remnants of Kṛṣṇa are called mahā-prasāda; when they become the remnants of a devotee, they are called mahā-mahā-prasāda.

*Three transcendental things that give spiritual strength to a sādhaka —*

ভক্তপদধূলি আর ভক্তপদ-জল । ভক্তভুক্ত-শেষ, — এই তিন সাধনের বল ॥ ৬০ ॥

bhakta-pada-dhūli āra bhakta-pada-jala
devotee’s feet dust and devotee’s feet water bhakta-bhukta-śeṣa, — ei tina sādhanera bala
by the devotee eaten remnants these three of practice the strength

60 The dust of a devotee’s feet, the water that has washed his feet, and the remnants of what he has eaten — these three are the strength of spiritual practice.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
“The strength of the three practices”: to take the dust of a devotee's feet, to take the water that washed his feet, and to take the nectar of his lips (adharāmṛta). These three are the very strength of all spiritual practice.

*Serving these three is the one means, approved by all scriptures, of attaining the goal (prayojana), the supreme aim of life (parama-puruṣārtha) —*

এই তিন-সেবা হৈতে কৃষ্ণপ্রেমা হয় । পুনঃ পুনঃ সর্ব্বশাস্ত্রে ফুকারিয়া কয় ॥ ৬১ ॥

ei tina-sevā haite kṛṣṇa-premā haya
these three serving from for Kṛṣṇa love arises punaḥ punaḥ sarva-śāstre phukāriyā kaya
again again in all scriptures loudly they declare

61 By serving these three one attains love for Kṛṣṇa; all the scriptures declare this loudly again and again.

*The author's earnest advice to all sādhakas who wish to attain the supreme goal, love of God —*

তাতে বার বার কহি, — শুন ভক্তগণ । বিশ্বাস করিয়া কর এ-তিন সেবন ॥ ৬২ ॥

tāte bāra bāra kahi, — śuna bhakta-gaṇa
therefore again again I say hear devotees
viśvāsa kariyā kara e-tina sevana
faith having do these three service

62 Therefore I tell you over and over: listen, O devotees! Serve these three with faith.

These three practices are the only way to attain Kṛṣṇa's name, love for Him, and His mercy —

তিন হৈতে কৃষ্ণনাম-প্রেমের উল্লাস । কৃষ্ণের প্রসাদ, তাতে 'সাক্ষী' কালিদাস ॥ ৬৩ ॥

tina haite kṛṣṇa-nāma-premera ullāsa
the three from Kṛṣṇa's name of love jubilation
kṛṣṇera prasāda, tāte 'sākṣī' kālidāsa
Kṛṣṇa's grace of that witness Kālidāsa

63 These three bring the joy of Kṛṣṇa's name and of love for Him, and through them one gains Kṛṣṇa's grace. Kālidāsa is the witness to this.

Only because of his faith in the devotees' remnants is the Lord merciful to Kālidāsa in Purī —

নীলাচলে মহাপ্রভু রহে এইমতে । কালিদাসে মহাকৃপা কৈলা অলক্ষিতে ॥ ৬৪ ॥

nīlācale mahāprabhu rahe ei-mate
in Nīlācala Mahāprabhu stays in this way
kālidāse mahā-kṛpā kailā alakṣite
to Kālidāsa great mercy showed unnoticed

64 In this way Mahāprabhu lived in Nīlācala, and without anyone noticing He showed Kālidāsa great mercy.

For the Ratha-yātrā Śivānanda comes to Purī with his son Paramānanda Purī dāsa —

সে বৎসর শিবানন্দ পত্নী লঞা আইলা ।
'পুরীদাস'-ছোটপুত্রে সঙ্গেতে আনিলা ॥ ৬৫ ॥

se vatsara śivānanda patnī lañā āilā that year Śivānanda his wife taking came
'purī-dāsa'-choṭa-putre saṅgete ānilā
Purī dāsa his youngest son with him brought 65 That year Śivānanda came with his wife and brought with him his youngest son, Purī dāsa.

Purī dāsa bows at the Lord's feet —

পুত্র সঙ্গে লঞা তেঁহো আইলা প্রভু-স্থানে । পুত্রেরে করাইলা প্রভুর চরণ বন্দনে ॥ ৬৬ ॥

putra saṅge lañā teṁho āilā prabhu-sthāne son with taking he came to the Lord's place
putrere karāilā prabhura caraṇa vandane
the son he made the Lord's feet honour

66 Taking his son, he came to the Lord and had the boy bow at His feet.

[The Lord] tells him to say the name of Kṛṣṇa; the boy stays silent —

'কৃষ্ণ কহ' বলি' প্রভু বলেন বার বার । তবু কৃষ্ণনাম বালক না করে উচ্চার ॥ ৬৭ ॥

'kṛṣṇa kaha' bali' prabhu balena bāra bāra
Kṛṣṇa say saying the Lord says again again
tabu kṛṣṇa-nāma bālaka nā kare uccāra
still Kṛṣṇa's name the boy not makes utterance

67 Again and again the Lord said, “Say ‘Kṛṣṇa’!” But the boy stayed silent and would not utter the name of Kṛṣṇa.

Śivānanda's vain efforts to make him say it —

শিবানন্দ বালকেরে বহু যত্ন করিলা । তবু সেই বালক কৃষ্ণনাম না কহিলা ॥ ৬৮ ॥

śivānanda bālakere bahu yatna karilā Śivānanda with the boy much effort made tabu sei bālaka kṛṣṇa-nāma nā kahilā
still that boy Kṛṣṇa’s name not said

68 Śivānanda did all he could to persuade the boy, but still the boy did not say the name of Kṛṣṇa.

Seeing this, even the Lord Himself is astonished —

প্রভু কহে, — আমি নাম জগতে লওয়াইলুঁ । স্থাবরে-পর্য্যন্ত কৃষ্ণনাম কহাইলুঁ ॥ ৬৯ ॥

prabhu kahe, — āmi nāma jagate laoyāiluṁ
the Lord says I the name the world made take sthāvare-paryanta kṛṣṇa-nāma kahāiluṁ
the unmoving even Kṛṣṇa’s name I made say

69 The Lord said, “I have made the whole world chant the holy name; I have made even trees and stones say the name of Kṛṣṇa.

ইহারে নারিলুঁ কৃষ্ণনাম কহাইতে !
শুনিয়া স্বরূপগোসাঞি লাগিলা কহিতে ॥ ৭০ ॥

ihāre nāriluṁ kṛṣṇa-nāma kahāite!
this one I could not Kṛṣṇa’s name make say śuniyā svarūpa-gosāñi lāgilā kahite hearing Svarūpa Gosāñi began to speak

70 Yet I could not make this boy say the name of Kṛṣṇa!” Hearing this, Svarūpa Gosāñi said:

Svarūpa explains why Purī dāsa stays silent —

তুমি কৃষ্ণনাম-মন্ত্র কৈলা উপদেশে । মন্ত্র পাঞা কার আগে না করে প্রকাশে ॥ ৭১ ॥

tumi kṛṣṇa-nāma-mantra kailā upadeśe
You Kṛṣṇa’s name mantra made instruction mantra pāñā kāra āge nā kare prakāśe
the mantra having received anyone before not makes disclosure

71 “You have instructed him in the mantra of Kṛṣṇa’s name. Having received the mantra, he will not disclose it to anyone.

Anubhāṣya.

If one reveals to someone else the mantra received from Śrī Gurudeva, the mantra loses its potency; we have already learned this from the story of Śrī Gadādhara Paṇḍita.

মনে মনে জপে, মুখে না করে আখ্যান । এই ইহার মনঃকথা — করি অনুমান ॥ ৭২ ॥

mane mane jape, mukhe nā kare ākhyāna
in the mind in the mind he chants with the mouth not makes utterance ei ihāra manaḥ-kathā — kari anumāna
this his mind's thought I make guess

72 He chants it silently, within, but does not speak it aloud. That, I think, is his intention."

The next day, at the Lord's order, the boy Purī dāsa breaks his silence and recites a verse —

আর দিন কহেন প্রভু, — 'পড়, পুরীদাস' । এই শ্লোক করি' তেঁহো করিলা প্রকাশ ॥ ৭৩ ॥

āra dina kahena prabhu, — 'paḍa, purī-dāsa'
another day says the Lord recite Purī dāsa ei śloka kari' teṁho karilā prakāśa
this verse composing he made manifest

73 Another day the Lord said, "Recite, Purī dāsa!" and the boy composed and recited this verse:

*Glory to Kṛṣṇa, the ornament of the gopīs' hearts (the first verse of Kavi-karṇapūra's Āryā-śataka) —*

শ্রবসোঃ কুবলয়মক্ষো রঞ্জনমুরসো মহেন্দ্রমণিদাম । বৃন্দাবনরমণীনাং মণ্ডনমখিলং হরির্জ্জয়তি ॥ ৭৪ ॥

śravasoḥ kuvalayam akṣṇor añjanam
in the ears a blue lotus for the eyes collyrium
uraso mahendra-maṇi-dāma
for the chest of great sapphires a garland vṛndāvana-ramaṇīnāṁ maṇḍanam of Vṛndāvana's beautiful girls the ornament
akhilaṁ harir jayati
complete Hari is glorious

74 "Glory to Hari! He is all the adornment of the girls of Vṛndāvana: the blue lotus at their ears, the collyrium of their eyes, the necklace of great sapphires upon their breast." (Āryā-śataka, 1)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Glory to Hari! He is the blue lotus at the ears, the collyrium of the eyes, and the necklace of sapphires (mahendra-maṇi) on the chest: He is the whole adornment of the young women of Vṛndāvana.

Anubhāṣya.
śravasoḥ (of the ears) kuvalayam (the blue lotus, nīlotpala) akṣṇoḥ (of the eyes) añjanam (the adorning collyrium, kajjala) urasaḥ (of the chest) mahendra-maṇi-dāma (a necklace of sapphires, indranīla-maṇi) vṛndāvana-ramaṇīnām (of the young women of Vraja) akhilaṁ (every kind of) maṇḍanam (in the form of ornament) hariḥ jayati.

Everyone is astonished that a child composed a verse —

সাত-বৎসরের শিশু, নাহি অধ্যয়ন । ঐছে শ্লোক করে, — লোকে চমৎকার মন ॥ ৭৫ ॥

sāta-vatsarera śiśu, nāhi adhyayana
seven years a child no study aiche śloka kare, — loke camatkāra mana such verse makes people amazed minds

75 He was a child of seven, who had not studied, yet he composed such a verse! Everyone was amazed.

The glory of the Lord's mercy —

চৈতন্যপ্রভুর এই কৃপার মহিমা । ব্রহ্মাদি-দেব যার নাহি পায় সীমা ॥ ৭৬ ॥

caitanya-prabhura ei kṛpāra mahimā Caitanya Prabhu's this of mercy greatness
brahmādi-deva yāra nāhi pāya sīmā
Brahmā and the other gods of which not find the limit

76 Such is the greatness of Caitanya Prabhu's mercy; even Brahmā and the other gods cannot find its limit.

[The Lord] tells the Gauḍīya devotees to go to Gauḍa —

ভক্তগণ প্রভু-সঙ্গে রহে চারিমাসে । প্রভু আজ্ঞা দিলা সবে গেলা গৌড়দেশে ॥ ৭৭ ॥

bhakta-gaṇa prabhu-saṅge rahe cāri-māse
the devotees with the Lord stayed four months
prabhu ājñā dilā sabe gelā gauḍa-deśe
the Lord leave gave all went to the land of Gauḍa

77 The devotees stayed with the Lord for four months; then He gave them leave, and they all went back to Gauḍa.

*In the company of the Gauḍīya devotees, in His external state, [the Lord] preached talks about Kṛṣṇa and kīrtana; leaving this aside, in His inner state He becomes mad in the mood of a gopī separated from Kṛṣṇa —*

তাঁ-সবার সঙ্গে প্রভুর ছিল বাহ্যজ্ঞান । তাঁরা গেলে পুনঃ হৈলা উন্মাদ প্রধান ॥ ৭৮ ॥

tāṁ-sabāra saṅge prabhura chila bāhya-jñāna them all with the Lord's was external awareness
tāṁrā gele punaḥ hailā unmāda pradhāna
they gone again became madness dominant

78 In their company the Lord kept His external awareness, but when they had gone, His divine madness again prevailed.

*Constantly, in separation from Kṛṣṇa, [the Lord] feels Kṛṣṇa's company — Kṛṣṇa appears to Him (sphūrti) —*

রাত্রি-দিনে স্ফুরে কৃষ্ণের রূপ-গন্ধ-রস । সাক্ষাদনুভবে, — যেন কৃষ্ণ-উপস্পর্শ ॥ ৭৯ ॥

rātri-dine sphure kṛṣṇera rūpa-gandha-rasa night and day appear Kṛṣṇa's form fragrance taste
sākṣād-anubhave, — yena kṛṣṇa-upasparśa directly experiencing as if Kṛṣṇa's touch

79 Night and day Kṛṣṇa's form, fragrance and taste appeared to Him; He experienced them directly, as if Kṛṣṇa were touching Him.

*The Lord's words in udghūrṇā; [the Lord] sees Śyāmasundara in the form of Jagannātha —*

একদিন প্রভু গেলা জগন্নাথ-দরশনে । সিংহদ্বারে দলই আসি' করিল বন্দনে ॥ ৮০ ॥

eka-dina prabhu gelā jagannātha-daraśane
one day the Lord went for Jagannātha's darśana
siṁha-dvāre dalai āsi' karila vandane
at the Siṁha-dvāra the doorkeeper coming made obeisance

80 One day, when the Lord went to see Jagannātha, the doorkeeper came up to Him at the Siṁha-dvāra and bowed down.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
dalai — a doorkeeper.

তারে বলে, — 'কোথা কৃষ্ণ, মোর প্রাণনাথ ?
মোরে কৃষ্ণ দেখাও' বলি' ধরে তার হাত ॥ ৮১ ॥

tāre bale, — 'kothā kṛṣṇa, mora prāṇa-nātha?
to him says where Kṛṣṇa My life's Lord
more kṛṣṇa dekhāo' bali' dhare tāra hāta
to Me Kṛṣṇa show saying takes his hand

81 The Lord said to him, "Where is Kṛṣṇa, the Lord of My life? Show Me Kṛṣṇa!" and took him by the hand.

সেহ কহে, — 'ইঁহা হয় ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন । আইস তুমি মোর সঙ্গে, করাঙ দরশন' ॥ ৮২ ॥

seha kahe, — 'iṁhā haya vrajendra-nandana
he says here is of the king of Vraja the son
āisa tumi mora saṅge, karāṅa daraśana'
come You me with I will make see

82 The doorkeeper said, "The son of the king of Vraja is here. Come with me and I will show Him to You."

Anubhāṣya.
ĩhā haya — in Hindi hĩyā hyāy: "[He] is here."

'তুমি মোর সখা, দেখাহ, — কাঁহা প্রাণনাথ ?' এত বলি' জগমোহন গেলা ধরি' তার হাত ॥ ৮৩ ॥

'tumi mora sakhā, dekhāha, — kāṁhā prāṇa-nātha?'
you My friend show where life's Lord eta bali' jagamohana gelā dhari' tāra hāta
this saying to the jagamohana went holding his hand

83 "You are My friend. Show Me where the Lord of My life is!" Saying this, the Lord went into the jagamohana, holding the man's hand.

সেহ বলে, — 'এই দেখ শ্রীপুরুষোত্তম । নেত্র ভরিয়া তুমি করহ দরশন' ॥ ৮৪ ॥

seha bale, — 'ei dekha śrī-puruṣottama
he says here see Śrī Puruṣottama netra bhariyā tumi karaha daraśana'
the eyes filling You make darśana

84 The doorkeeper said, "Here is Śrī Puruṣottama. Fill Your eyes with the sight of Him."

গরুড়ের পাছে রহি' করেন দরশন । দেখেন, — জগন্নাথ হয় মুরলীবদন ॥ ৮৫ ॥

garuḍera pāche rahi' karena daraśana of Garuḍa behind staying He makes darśana
dekhena, — jagannātha haya muralī-vadana
He sees Jagannātha is with the flute at His lips

85 Standing behind the Garuḍa pillar, the Lord gazed, and He saw that Jagannātha was Kṛṣṇa with the flute at His lips.

Raghunātha described in his book how the Lord saw Jagannātha —

এই লীলা নিজ গ্রন্থে রঘুনাথ-দাস । চৈতন্যস্তবকল্পবৃক্ষে কৈরাছেন প্রকাশ ॥ ৮৬ ॥

ei līlā nija-granthe raghunātha-dāsa
this pastime in his own book Raghunātha dāsa
caitanya-stava-kalpa-vṛkṣe kairāchena prakāśa
in the Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa has described

86 Raghunātha dāsa has described this pastime in his own book, the Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa:

*(Stavāvalī, Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, verse 7)*

ক্ব মে কান্তঃ কৃষ্ণস্ত্বরিতমিহ তং লোকয় সখে
ত্বমেবেতি দ্বারাধিপমভিবদন্নুন্মদ ইব ।
দ্রুতং গচ্ছ দ্রষ্টুং প্রিয়মিতি তদুক্তেন ধৃত-তদ্- ভুজান্তর্গৌরাঙ্গো হৃদয় উদয়ন্মাং মদয়তি ॥ ৮৭ ॥

kva me kāntaḥ kṛṣṇas tvaritam iha taṁ lokaya sakhe
where My beloved Kṛṣṇa quickly here Him show friend tvam eveti dvārādhipam abhivadann unmada iva
you alone so to the doorkeeper saying mad as if drutaṁ gaccha draṣṭuṁ priyam iti tad-uktena dhṛta-tad-quickly go to see the Beloved so by his words holding his bhujāntar gaurāṅgo hṛdaya udayan māṁ madayati hand Gaurāṅga in my heart rising me maddens

87 "'Friend, where is My beloved Kṛṣṇa? Show Him to Me here, quickly — only you can!' So, as if mad, Gaurāṅga spoke to the doorkeeper; and when the man said, 'Come quickly and see Your Beloved,' He took hold of his hand. That Gaurāṅga, rising in my heart, makes me mad with joy." (Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, 7)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"O friend, doorkeeper, where is Kṛṣṇa, the Lord of My life? Show Him to Me here, quickly!" Saying this to the doorkeeper like a madman, [the Lord] took him by the hand and hurried to see Kṛṣṇa.[7] May such a Gaurāṅga rise in my heart and madden me.

Anubhāṣya.

he sakhe, me (My) kāntaḥ (Kṛṣṇa) kva (where)? tvam eva iha (in this place, or at this time) taṁ (the beloved Kṛṣṇa) tvaritam (quickly) lokaya (show) — iti (with such words) unmadaḥ (maddened) iva dvārādhipam abhivadan (saying); priyam (Kṛṣṇa) draṣṭum drutam gaccha (come [with me]) — tad-uktena (at these words of the doorkeeper) dhṛta-tad-bhujāntaḥ (He who took the end of his arm, that is, his hand) gaurāṅgaḥ mama hṛdaye udayan mām madayati (fills with bliss).

*The morning offering (bālya-bhoga) to Jagannātha —*

হেনকালে ‘গোপাল-বল্লভ’-ভোগ লাগাইল । শঙ্খ-ঘণ্টা-আদি সহ আরতি বাজিল ॥ ৮৮ ॥

hena-kāle ‘gopāla-vallabha’-bhoga lāgāila
at that time gopāla-vallabha offering was placed śaṅkha-ghaṇṭā-ādi saha ārati bājila
conch bells and so on with the ārati sounded

88 At that time the gopāla-vallabha offering was placed before Jagannātha, and the ārati began to the sound of conchshells, bells and other instruments.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Vallabha-bhoga is what in this region is called bāla-bhoga.

*Jagannātha's servants give mahā-prasāda to the Lord —*

ভোগ সরিলে জগন্নাথের সেবকগণ । প্রসাদ লঞা প্রভু-ঠাঞি কৈল আগমন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

bhoga sarile jagannāthera sevaka-gaṇa
the offering being over Jagannātha’s servants
prasāda lañā prabhu-ṭhāñi kaila āgamana prasāda taking to the Lord made coming

89 When the offering was over, Jagannātha’s servants came to the Lord with prasāda.

মালা পরাঞা প্রসাদ দিল প্রভুর হাতে । আস্বাদ দূরে রহু, যার গন্ধে মন মাতে ॥ ৯০ ॥

mālā parāñā prasāda dila prabhura hāte
a garland putting on prasāda gave the Lord’s into the hands
āsvāda dūre rahu, yāra gandhe mana māte
the taste far let it remain whose by the fragrance the mind is intoxicated

90 Placing a garland on Him, they put the prasāda into the Lord’s hands. Let alone its taste — its very fragrance intoxicated the mind.

*The pāṇḍās try to have the Lord accept prasāda —*

বহুমূল্য প্রসাদ সেই বস্তু সর্ব্বোত্তম । তার অল্প খাওয়াইতে সেবক করিল যতন ॥ ৯১ ॥

bahu-mūlya prasāda sei vastu sarvottama
very valuable prasāda that the thing the most excellent tāra alpa khāoyāite sevaka karila yatana
of it a little to make eat the servant made effort

91 That prasāda was very precious, the finest of all things, and the servant did his best to have the Lord taste a little of it.

*The Lord accepts a little mahā-prasāda —*

তার অল্প লঞা প্রভু জিহ্বাতে যদি দিলা । আর সব গোবিন্দের আঁচলে বান্ধিলা ॥ ৯২ ॥

tāra alpa lañā prabhu jihvāte yadi dilā of it a little taking the Lord on the tongue when put āra saba govindera āṁcale bāndhilā
the rest all Govinda's in the cloth's end tied

92 The Lord took a little of it and put it on His tongue; all the rest He tied in the end of Govinda's cloth.

*Tasting mahā-prasāda, the Lord is amazed and shows sāttvika transformations —*

কোটিঅমৃত-স্বাদ পাঞা প্রভুর চমৎকার । সর্ব্বাঙ্গে পুলক, নেত্রে বহে অশ্রুধার ॥ ৯৩ ॥

koṭiamṛta-svāda pāñā prabhura camatkāra of millions of nectars the taste getting the Lord's wonder sarvāṅge pulaka, netre vahe aśru-dhāra
on all the limbs thrill from the eyes flows of tears a stream

93 Tasting what was sweeter than millions of nectars, the Lord was struck with wonder. His hair stood on end all over His body, and streams of tears flowed from His eyes.

*Recognizing the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, [the Lord] is overwhelmed by prema; seeing a servant whose service rests on aiśvarya, He conceals it —*

'এই দ্রব্যে এত স্বাদ কাঁহা হইতে আইল ?
কৃষ্ণের অধরামৃত ইথে সঞ্চারিল' ॥ ৯৪ ॥

'ei dravye eta svāda kāṁhā haite āila?
in this food such taste from where has come kṛṣṇera adharāmṛta ithe sañcārila'
of Kṛṣṇa the lip-nectar into it has entered

94 "How has this food come by such a taste? The nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips has entered it!"

এই বুদ্ধ্যে মহাপ্রভুর প্রেমাবেশ হৈল । জগন্নাথের সেবক দেখি' সম্বরণ কৈল ॥ ৯৫ ॥

ei buddhye mahāprabhura premāveśa haila by this thought Mahāprabhu's absorption in love was jagannāthera sevaka dekhi' samvaraṇa kaila
of Jagannātha the servant seeing restraint made

95 At this thought Mahāprabhu was overcome by love, but seeing Jagannātha's servant, He restrained Himself.

Mahā-prasāda* is obtained by great sukṛti turned toward bhakti; the question of Jagannātha's unknowing servant —*

'সুকৃতি-লভ্য ফেলা-লব' — বলেন বারবার । ঈশ্বর-সেবক পুছে, — 'কি অর্থ ইহার' ? ॥ ৯৬ ॥

'sukṛti-labhya phelā-lava' — balena bāra-bāra
by sukṛti to be gained of the remnants a particle He says again and again īśvara-sevaka puche, — 'ki artha ihāra'?
the Lord's servant asks what meaning of this

96 Again and again He said, "A particle of the remnants, gained by sukṛti!" Jagannātha's servant asked, "What does this mean?"

Anubhāṣya.

In the Mahābhārata and in the Skanda Purāṇa (Utkala-khaṇḍa): “O king, those whose piety is small never come to have faith in mahā-prasāda, in Govinda, in the Name, who is Brahman, and in the Vaiṣṇava.”

*The Lord explains the glory of Kṛṣṇa's remnants, that is, of mahā-prasāda —*

প্রভু কহে, — এই যে দিলা কৃষ্ণাধরামৃত । ব্রহ্মাদি-দুর্ল্লভ এই নিন্দয়ে ‘অমৃত’ ॥ ৯৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — ei ye dilā kṛṣṇādharāmṛta
the Lord says this that you have given Kṛṣṇa’s lip-nectar brahmādi-durllabha ei nindaye ‘amṛta’
for Brahmā and others rare this puts to shame nectar

97 The Lord said, “What you have given Me is the nectar of Kṛṣṇa’s lips. Even Brahmā and the gods can hardly obtain it, and it puts nectar itself to shame.

*What phelā, that is, mahā-prasāda, means —*

কৃষ্ণের যে ভুক্ত-শেষ, তার ‘ফেলা’-নাম । তার এক ‘লব’ যে পায়, সেই ভাগ্যবান্ ॥ ৯৮ ॥

kṛṣṇera ye bhukta-śeṣa, tāra ‘phelā’-nāma Kṛṣṇa’s which eaten remnants of that phelā the name
tāra eka ‘lava’ ye pāya, sei bhāgyavān
of it one particle who obtains he fortunate

98 The remnants of what Kṛṣṇa has eaten are called phelā. Whoever obtains even a particle of it is fortunate.

*How the fruits of sukṛti turned toward karma and of sukṛti turned toward bhakti differ —*

সামান্য ভাগ্য হৈতে তার প্রাপ্তি নাহি হয় । কৃষ্ণের যাঁতে পূর্ণ কৃপা, সেই তাহা পায় ॥ ৯৯ ॥

sāmānya bhāgya haite tāra prāpti nāhi haya ordinary fortune from its attainment not is kṛṣṇera yāṁte pūrṇa kṛpā, sei tāhā pāya
Kṛṣṇa’s on whom full mercy he it obtains

99 It cannot be attained by ordinary good fortune. Only one on whom Kṛṣṇa’s full mercy rests obtains it.

Anubhāṣya.
sāmānya bhāgya (ordinary fortune) — fortune born of the fruits of karma.

*The meaning of the word sukṛti (turned toward bhakti) —*

‘সুকৃতি’-শব্দে কহে ‘কৃষ্ণকৃপা-হেতু পুণ্য’ ।
যেই যাঁর হয়, ‘ফেলা’ পায় সেই ধন্য ॥ ১০০ ॥

‘sukṛti’-śabde kahe ‘kṛṣṇa-kṛpā-hetu puṇya’ sukṛti by the word is meant of Kṛṣṇa’s mercy the cause piety
yei yāṁra haya, ‘phelā’ pāya sei dhanya
this whose is phelā obtains he blessed

100 The word sukṛti means the piety that is the cause of Kṛṣṇa’s mercy. Whoever has it obtains phelā and is blessed.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A pious act that gives rise to Kṛṣṇa's mercy is called sukṛti (sukṛti turned toward bhakti).

*After seeing the upala-bhoga, the Lord returns to His residence —*

এত বলি' প্রভু তা-সবারে বিদায় দিলা । উপল-ভোগ দেখিয়া প্রভু নিজ-বাসা আইলা ॥ ১০১ ॥

eta bali' prabhu tā-sabāre vidāya dilā
this having said the Lord them all leave gave upala-bhoga dekhiyā prabhu nija-vāsā āilā
the upala-bhoga seeing the Lord to His own residence came 101 Having said this, the Lord gave the servants leave to go, and after seeing the upala-bhoga offering He returned to His residence.

[The Lord] remembers the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's remnants —

মধ্যাহ্ন করিয়া কৈলা ভিক্ষা নির্ব্বাহণ । কৃষ্ণাধরামৃত সদা অন্তরে স্মরণ ॥ ১০২ ॥

madhyāhna kariyā kailā bhikṣā nirvāhaṇa
the midday duties having done made the meal completion kṛṣṇādharāmṛta sadā antare smaraṇa
Kṛṣṇa's lip-nectar always in the heart remembrance

102 He performed His midday duties and finished His meal, but all the while He remembered the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips within His heart.

*[The Lord] is overwhelmed by prema and restrains it with difficulty —*

বাহ্য-কৃত্য করেন, প্রেমে গরগর মন । কষ্টে সম্বরণ করেন, আবেশ সঘন ॥ ১০৩ ॥

bāhya-kṛtya karena, preme garagara mana external duties He does with love overflowing the mind
kaṣṭe samvaraṇa karena, āveśa saghana
with difficulty restraint He makes absorption intense

103 He carried out His outward duties, but His mind was overflowing with love; His absorption was intense, and He restrained it only with great difficulty.

In the evening — talks about Kṛṣṇa with the devotees —

সন্ধ্যা-কৃত্য করি' পুনঃ নিজগণ-সঙ্গে । নিভৃতে বসিলা নানা-কৃষ্ণকথা-রঙ্গে ॥ ১০৪ ॥

sandhyā-kṛtya kari' punaḥ nija-gaṇa-saṅge evening duties having done again His own associates with nibhṛte vasilā nānā-kṛṣṇa-kathā-raṅge
in seclusion sat of various Kṛṣṇa talks in the delight

104 After His evening duties He again sat in seclusion with His own associates, delighting in many talks about Kṛṣṇa.

*Govinda distributes mahā-prasāda to Purī, Bhāratī, Svarūpa, Rāya, Bhaṭṭācārya and the other devotees —*

প্রভুর ইঙ্গিতে গোবিন্দ প্রসাদ আনিলা । পুরী-ভারতীরে প্রভু কিছু পাঠাইলা ॥ ১০৫ ॥

prabhura iṅgite govinda prasāda ānilā
the Lord's at the sign Govinda the prasāda brought purī-bhāratīre prabhu kichu pāṭhāilā to Purī and Bhāratī the Lord some sent

105 At the Lord's sign Govinda brought the prasāda, and the Lord sent some to Paramānanda Purī and Brahmānanda Bhāratī.

রামানন্দ-সার্ব্বভৌম-স্বরূপাদি-গণে । সবারে প্রসাদ দিল করিয়া বণ্টনে ॥ ১০৬ ॥

rāmānanda-sārvabhauma-svarūpādi-gaṇe
to Rāmānanda Sārvabhauma Svarūpa and the others
sabāre prasāda dila kariyā vaṇṭane
to all prasāda gave having made distribution

106 He divided the prasāda and gave it to all — Rāmānanda, Sārvabhauma, Svarūpa and the others.

*Tasting the extraordinary prasāda, all are amazed —*

প্রসাদের সৌরভ্য-মাধুর্য্য করি' আস্বাদন । অলৌকিক আস্বাদে সবার বিস্ময় হৈল মন ॥ ১০৭ ॥

prasādera saurabhya-mādhurya kari' āsvādana
of the prasāda the fragrance the sweetness having made tasting alaukika āsvāde sabāra vismaya haila mana
at the unearthly taste of all amazed became the minds

107 When they savoured the fragrance and sweetness of the prasāda, all were amazed at its unearthly taste.

*The Lord describes how the material objects that the conditioned jīva enjoys differ in quality from naivedya — transcendental, spiritual offerings that Kṛṣṇa's spiritual senses enjoy —*

প্রভু কহে, — এই সব হয় 'প্রাকৃত' দ্রব্য ।
ঐক্ষব, কর্পূর, মরিচ, এলাইচ, লবঙ্গ, গব্য ॥ ১০৮ ॥

রসবাস, গুড়ত্বক-আদি যত সব ।
'প্রাকৃত' বস্তুর স্বাদ সবার অনুভব ॥ ১০৯ ॥

prabhu kahe, — ei saba haya 'prākṛta' dravya
the Lord says these all are material substances
aikṣava, karpūra, marica, elāica, lavaṅga, gavya
sugar camphor black pepper cardamom clove ghee rasavāsa, guḍatvaka-ādi yata saba spices cinnamon and so on as many as all
'prākṛta' vastura svāda sabāra anubhava
material things' taste of all the experience

108–109 The Lord said, "All these are material substances — sugar, camphor, black pepper, cardamom, cloves, ghee, spices, cinnamon and the rest. Everyone knows the taste of material things.

Anubhāṣya.

aikṣava — jaggery or sugar made from sugarcane; gavya — milk, ghee and the like.

Anubhāṣya.

rasavāsa — fragrant and juicy cardamom and cloves; guḍatvaka — cinnamon (dārucini) or jaitrī (mace); prākṛta — all that the conditioned jīva enjoys with his senses, out of a desire to arrange his own happiness. All these are material objects:

fragmentary, limited, perishable, and subject to the agitations of time.

এই দ্রব্যে এত আস্বাদ, গন্ধ লোকাতীত । আস্বাদ করিয়া দেখ, — সবার প্রতীত ॥ ১১০ ॥

ei dravye eta āsvāda, gandha lokātīta
in these substances such taste fragrance beyond this world āsvāda kariyā dekha, — sabāra pratīta tasting see of all conviction

110 Yet these substances have a taste and a fragrance beyond this world. Taste them and see for yourselves.

*The spiritual power of mahā-prasāda, Kṛṣṇa's remnants —*

আস্বাদ দূরে রহু, যার গন্ধে মাতে মন । আপনা বিনা অন্য মাধুর্য্য করায় বিস্মরণ ॥ ১১১ ॥

āsvāda dūre rahu, yāra gandhe māte mana
the taste far let it remain whose by the fragrance is intoxicated the mind
āpanā vinā anya mādhurya karāya vismaraṇa itself except other sweetness makes forget

111 Let alone its taste — its fragrance alone intoxicates the mind and makes one forget every sweetness but its own.

The glory of the touch of Kṛṣṇa's lips —

তাতে এই দ্রব্যে কৃষ্ণাধর-স্পর্শ হৈল । অধরের গুণ সব ইহাতে সঞ্চারিল ॥ ১১২ ॥

tāte ei dravye kṛṣṇādhara-sparśa haila
therefore this food Kṛṣṇa's lips' touch received adharera guṇa saba ihāte sañcārila
of the lips the qualities all into it have passed

112 Therefore Kṛṣṇa's lips must have touched this food, and all the qualities of His lips have passed into it.

Spiritual offerings touched by Kṛṣṇa's lips intoxicate the devotee's spiritual senses —

অলৌকিক-গন্ধ-স্বাদ, অন্য-বিস্মারণ । মহা-মাদক হয় এই কৃষ্ণাধরের গুণ ॥ ১১৩ ॥

alaukika-gandha-svāda, anya-vismāraṇa unearthly fragrance taste of others forgetting mahā-mādaka haya ei kṛṣṇādharera guṇa
great intoxicating are these of Kṛṣṇa's lips qualities

113 An unearthly fragrance and taste, and the power to make one forget everything else — such are the greatly intoxicating qualities of Kṛṣṇa's lips.

*[The Lord] tells everyone to honor prasāda with transcendental faith —*

অনেক 'সুকৃতে' ইহা হঞাছে সম্প্রাপ্তি । সবে এই আস্বাদ কর করি' মহাভক্তি ॥ ১১৪ ॥

aneka 'sukṛte' ihā hañāche samprāpti
by many sukṛtis this has been obtained
sabe ei āsvāda kara kari' mahā-bhakti
all this tasting do with great devotion

114 We have gained this through much sukṛti. Now all of you, taste it with great devotion."

*Tasting the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, all are overwhelmed by prema —*

হরিধ্বনি করি' সবে কৈলা আস্বাদন । আস্বাদিতে প্রেমে মত্ত হইল সবার মন ॥ ১১৫ ॥

hari-dhvani kari' sabe kailā āsvādana Hari calling all made tasting
āsvādite preme matta haila sabāra mana while tasting with love mad became of all the minds

115 Calling out the name of Hari, they all tasted it, and as they did so their minds grew mad with love.

At the Lord's command, Rāya recites a verse —

প্রেমাবেশে মহাপ্রভু যবে আজ্ঞা দিলা ।
রামানন্দ-রায় শ্লোক পড়িতে লাগিলা ॥ ১১৬ ॥

premāveśe mahāprabhu yabe ājñā dilā absorbed in love Mahāprabhu when order gave
rāmānanda-rāya śloka paḍite lāgilā
Rāmānanda Rāya verses to recite began

116 When Mahāprabhu, absorbed in love, gave the order, Rāmānanda Rāya began to recite verses.

*The gopīs beg for the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips (citra-jalpa) — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, canto 10, chapter 31, verse 14)*

সুরতবর্দ্ধনং শোকনাশনং স্বরিতবেণুনা সুষ্ঠুচুম্বিতম্ । ইতররাগবিস্মারণং নৃণাং বিতর বীর নস্তেঽধরামৃতম্ ॥ ১১৭ ॥

surata-vardhanaṁ śoka-nāśanaṁ union increasing grief destroying svarita-veṇunā suṣṭhu-cumbitam
by the sounding flute well kissed itara-rāga-vismāraṇaṁ nṛṇāṁ
other attachments making forget of men vitara vīra nas te 'dharāmṛtam
bestow O hero on us Your lip-nectar

117 "O hero, grant us the nectar of Your lips. It deepens the longing for union and destroys grief; Your sounding flute kisses it tenderly, and it makes men forget every other attachment." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.31.14)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O hero! The nectar of Your lips increases love (prema)[8] and destroys the grief of the world. The sounding flute kisses it beautifully, and it makes people forget their attachment to all that is not spiritual. Give us that nectar.

Anubhāṣya.

During the rāsa dance Kṛṣṇa suddenly disappeared. The gopīs, whose very life is Kṛṣṇa, grew utterly distressed in separation from Him. They came from the place of the rāsa dance to the bank of the Yamunā and lament thus:

he vīra (O hero [of generosity, dāna-vīra]), surata-vardhanam (that which increases the desire for union [sambhoga]) śoka-nāśanam (that destroys the grief of not attaining You) svarita-veṇunā (by the flute that is blown, that sounds) suṣṭhu cumbitam (infused with the nectar of its sound) itara-rāga-vismāraṇam (that makes one forget, that erases, rāga — attachment — to other things, to pleasures from objects unrelated to Kṛṣṇa) te (Your) adharāmṛtam (the nectar, which is the lips themselves) naḥ (to us) vitara (give).

The Lord Himself recites a verse on the same theme —

শ্লোক শুনি' মহাপ্রভু মহাতুষ্ট হৈলা । রাধার উৎকণ্ঠা-শ্লোক পড়িতে লাগিলা ॥ ১১৮ ॥

śloka śuni' mahāprabhu mahā-tuṣṭa hailā
the verse hearing Mahāprabhu greatly pleased became rādhāra utkaṇṭhā-śloka paḍite lāgilā of Rādhā longing verse to recite began

118 Mahāprabhu was greatly pleased to hear it, and He began to recite a verse of Rādhā's eager longing:

*The nectar of a particle of Kṛṣṇa's remnants increases the longing of the spiritual tongue eager to serve Kṛṣṇa — (Govinda-līlāmṛta, canto 8, verse 8: Śrī Rādhā's words to Viśākhā)*

ব্রজাতুলকুলাঙ্গনেতর-রসালিতৃষ্ণাহর-প্রদীব্যদধরামৃতঃ সুকৃতিলভ্য-ফেলা-লবঃ ।
সুধাজিদহিবল্লিকা-সুদলবীটিকা-চর্ব্বিতঃ স মে মদনমোহনঃ সখি তনোতি জিহ্বা-স্পৃহাম্ ॥ ১১৯ ॥

vrajātula-kulāṅganetara-rasāli-tṛṣṇā-hara-of Vraja of the incomparable noble ladies other tastes the thirst removing pradīvyad-adharāmṛtaḥ sukṛti-labhya-phelā-lavaḥ shining whose lip-nectar by sukṛti to be gained of the remnants a particle sudhā-jid-ahivallikā-sudala-vīṭikā-carvitaḥ than nectar surpassing of betel fine leaves rolls chewing sa me madana-mohanaḥ sakhi tanoti jihvā-spṛhām
He My Madana-mohana O friend increases of the tongue the craving

119 "O friend, the shining nectar of His lips takes from the incomparable noble ladies of Vraja all thirst for any other taste; a particle of His remnants is gained only by sukṛti; and He chews rolls of fine betel leaves sweeter than nectar. That Madana-mohana of Mine deepens the craving of My tongue." (Govinda-līlāmṛta, 8.8)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O friend! The nectar of His lips takes away from the incomparable noble ladies of Vraja their thirst for other tastes. A particle of His remnants (phelā) can be obtained by sukṛti. He chews rolls of betel that put nectar to shame. That Madana-mohana increases the longing of my tongue.

Anubhāṣya.
he sakhi, yaḥ vrajātula-kulāṅganetara-rasāli-tṛṣṇā-hara-pradīvyad-adharāmṛtaḥ (He whose lip-nectar shines above all and by its very nature takes away the thirst for other tastes from the incomparable noble ladies of Vraja, the brides of Vraja) sukṛti-labhya-phelā-lavaḥ (He a particle of whose phelā, His lip-nectar, can be obtained by those who have sukṛti, the fortunate) sudhā-jid-ahivallikā-sudala-vīṭīkā-carvitaḥ (He who chews rolls [vīṭīkā] of fine betel leaves [ahivallikā], a chewing that puts nectar to shame) madana-mohanaḥ (by His own phelā) jihvā-spṛhām (the longing of a tongue eager to serve) tanoti (increases).

The Lord explains both verses —

এত কহি' গৌরপ্রভু ভাবাবিষ্ট হঞা । দুই শ্লোকের অর্থ করে প্রলাপ করিয়া ॥ ১২০ ॥

eta kahi' gaura-prabhu bhāvāviṣṭa hañā
this having said Gaura Prabhu absorbed in feeling becoming dui ślokera artha kare pralāpa kariyā
of the two verses the meaning makes raving doing

120 Having said this, Gaura Prabhu, absorbed in feeling, explained the meaning of the two verses in raving words (pralāpa).

*Explanation of the first verse; the spiritual power of the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips — [Any rāga as suits (yathā-rāga)]*

তনু-মন করায় ক্ষোভ, বাড়ায় সুরত-লোভ, হর্ষ-শোকাদি-ভার বিনাশয় ৷
পাসরায় অন্য রস, জগৎ করে আত্মবশ, লজ্জা, ধর্ম্ম, ধৈর্য্য করে ক্ষয় ॥ ১২১ ॥

নাগর, শুন তোমার অধর-চরিত ৷
মাতায় নারীর মন, জিহ্বা করে আকর্ষণ, বিচারিতে সব বিপরীত ॥ ১২২ ॥ধ্রু॥

tanu-mana karāya kṣobha,
body mind makes agitation
bāḍāya surata-lobha,
increases for union the longing
harṣa-śokādi-bhāra vināśaya
of joy grief and so on the burden destroys pāsarāya anya rasa,
makes forget other tastes
jagat kare ātma-vaśa,
the world makes its own subject
lajjā, dharma, dhairya kare kṣaya shame duty composure makes destruction
nāgara, śuna tomāra adhara-carita
O lover hear Your of the lips conduct mātāya nārīra mana,
intoxicates of women the mind
jihvā kare ākarṣaṇa,
the tongue makes attraction
vicārite saba viparīta
on reflection all contrary

121–122 "O Beloved, hear the ways of Your lips! They stir the body and mind, increase the longing for union, and take away the burden of joy, grief and all the rest. They make one forget every other taste, bring the whole world under their sway, and destroy shame, duty and composure. They intoxicate the minds of women and draw them on, kindling the craving of the tongue. Yet when I think it over, everything about them is contrary.

Anubhāṣya.
'bhāra' vināśaya — other manuscripts read bhāva-vilāśaya and bhāva vināśaya.

আছুক নারীর কায, কহিতে বাসিয়ে লাজ, তোমার অধর বড় ধৃষ্ট-রায় ৷
পুরুষে করে আকর্ষণ, আপনা পিয়াইতে মন, অন্যরস সব পাসরায় ॥ ১২৩ ॥

āchuka nārīra kāṣa,
let alone of women the matter
kahite vāsiye lāja,
to say I feel shame
tomāra adhara baḍa dhṛṣṭa-rāya
Your lips very bold lord
puruṣe kare ākarṣaṇa,
a man they make attraction
āpanā piyāite mana,
themselves to give to drink desire anya-rasa saba pāsarāya
other tastes all make forget

123 Let alone women — I am ashamed even to say it: Your lips are the boldest of masters. They draw even a man to them, longing to give themselves to him to drink, and make him forget every other taste.

Anubhāṣya.
dhṛṣṭa-rāya — bold, or foremost among the impudent.

Śrī Rādhā's jealousy of Kṛṣṇa's flute —

সচেতন রহু দূরে, অচেতন সচেতন করে, তোমার অধর — বড় বাজিকর ৷
তোমার বেণু শুষ্কেন্ধন, তার জন্মায় ইন্দ্রিয়-মন, তারে আপনা পিয়ায় নিরন্তর ॥ ১২৪ ॥

sacetana rahu dūre,
the conscious let remain far
acetana sacetana kare,
the unconscious conscious they make tomāra adhara — baḍa vājikara
Your lips a great magician
tomāra veṇu śuṣkendhana,
Your flute dry fuel
tāra janmāya indriya-mana,
in it they produce senses mind
tāre āpanā piyāya nirantara
to it themselves give to drink constantly

124 Let alone the conscious — Your lips make even the unconscious conscious; they are a great magician! Your flute is nothing but dry firewood, yet they give it senses and a mind and let it drink of them ceaselessly.

বেণু ধৃষ্ট-পুরুষ হঞা, পুরুষাধর পিয়া পিয়া, গোপীগণে জানায় নিজ পান ৷
‘ওহে, শুন, গোপীগণ, বলে পিঙো তোমার ধন, তোমার যদি থাকে অভিমান ॥ ১২৫ ॥

veṇu dhṛṣṭa-puruṣa hañā,
the flute a bold man being puruṣādhara piyā piyā,
a man's lips drinking drinking
gopī-gaṇe jānāya nija pāna
to the gopīs announces its own drinking
'ohe, śuna, gopī-gaṇa,
oh hear gopīs
bale piṅo tomāra dhana,
by force I drink your wealth
tomāra yadi thāke abhimāna
yours if there is pride

125 The flute, a brazen man, drinks and drinks the lips of a man and tells the gopīs of its drinking: 'Listen, O gopīs! I am drinking your wealth by force. If you have any pride, তবে মোরে ক্রোধ করি', লজ্জা, ভয়, ধর্ম্ম, ছাড়ি', ছাড়ি' দিমু, কর আসি' পান ।

নহে পিমু নিরন্তর, তোমায় মোর নাহিক ডর, অন্যে দেখোঁ তৃণের সমান ॥ ১২৬ ॥

tabe more krodha kari',
then at me anger making
lajjā bhaya, dharma, chāḍi', shame fear duty giving up
chāḍi' dimu, kara āsi' pāna
I will give up do coming drinking
nahe pimu nirantara,
otherwise I will drink constantly
tomāya mora nāhika ḍara,
of you my is no fear
anye dekhoṅ̐ tṛṇera samāna
others I see to straw equal

126 then be angry with me, cast off shame, fear and duty, and I will yield it to you: come and drink. Otherwise I shall drink it without end. I have no fear of you, and all others I count as straw.'

The fruit of the flute and the lip-nectar using force together —

অধরামৃত নিজ-স্বরে, সঞ্চারিয়া সেই বলে, আকর্ষয় ত্রিজগৎ-জন ।
আমরা ধর্ম্ম ভয় করি', রহি' যদি ধৈর্য্য ধরি', তবে আমায় করে বিড়ম্বন ॥ ১২৭ ॥

adharāmṛta nija-svare,
lip-nectar with its own sound
sañcāriyā sei bale, mixing by that force
ākarṣaya trijagat-jana attracts of the three worlds the people
āmarā dharma bhaya kari',
we of duty fear having
rahi' yadi dhairya dhari', remain if composure holding tabe āmāya kare viḍambana
then us it makes mockery

127 The flute mixes the nectar of Your lips with its own sound, and by that power it draws the people of the three worlds. And if we, fearing for our duty, try to keep our composure, it makes a mockery of us.

নীবি খসায় গুরু-আগে, লজ্জা-ধর্ম্ম করায় ত্যাগে, কেশে ধরি' যেন লঞা যায়।
আনি' করায় তোমার দাসী, শুনি' লোক করে হাসি, এইমত নারীরে নাচায় ॥ ১২৮ ॥

nīvi khasāya guru-āge,
the waist-knot loosens before the elders
lajjā-dharma karāya tyāge, shame duty makes give up
keśe dhari' yena lañā yāya
by the hair seizing as if taking goes āni' karāya tomāra dāsī, bringing makes Your maidservants
śuni' loka kare hāsi,
hearing people make laughter
ei-mata nārīre nācāya
in this way women makes dance

128 Before our elders it loosens the knots at our waists and makes us abandon shame and duty. As if seizing us by the hair, it leads us away, brings us to You and makes us Your maidservants, and people laugh to hear of it. This is how it makes women dance!

Anubhāṣya.
nīvi — the sash, the cord that holds the garment; khasāya — loosens.

*Śrī Rādhā and the other gopīs keep silent —*

শুষ্ক বাঁশের লাঠিখান, এত করে অপমান, এই দশা করিল, গোসাঞি।
না সহি' কি করিতে পারি, তাহে রহি মৌন ধরি', চোরার মাকে ডাকি' কান্দিতে নাই ॥ ১২৯ ॥

śuṣka bāṁśera lāṭhikhāna,
dry of bamboo a stick
eta kare apamāna,
so much makes insult
ei daśā karila, gosāñi
this state has made a master
nā sahi' ki karite pāri,
not bearing what to do can we
tāhe rahi mauna dhari',
so we remain silence keeping corāra māke ḍāki' kāndite nāi
of the thief the mother calling to weep not

129 A stick of dry bamboo heaps such insults on us! Like a master, it has brought us to this state. What can we do but bear it? So we keep silent: when a thief is punished, his mother cannot call out and weep.

Explanation of the second verse; the glory of the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips —

অধরের এই রীতি, আর শুন কুনীতি, সে অধর-সনে যার মেলা।
সেই ভক্ষ্য-ভোজ্য-পান, হয় অমৃত-সমান, নাম তার হয় 'কৃষ্ণ ফেলা' ॥ ১৩০ ॥

adharera ei rīti,
of the lips this the way
āra śuna kunīti,
further hear the bad custom
se adhara-sane yāra melā
those lips with which meeting
sei bhakṣya-bhojya-pāna,
that food edible drink
haya amṛta-samāna,
becomes nectar equal
nāma tāra haya 'kṛṣṇa phelā'
the name its is Kṛṣṇa phelā

130 Such is the way of Your lips. Now hear the bad custom of whatever meets those lips: any food or drink they touch becomes like nectar and is called 'Kṛṣṇa's phelā'.

Anubhāṣya.
melā — meeting.

সে ফেলার এক লব, না পায় দেবতা সব,
এ দম্ভে কেবা পাতিয়ায় ?
বহুজন্ম পুণ্য করে, তবে 'সুকৃতি' নাম ধরে, সে 'সুকৃতে' তার লব পায় ॥ ১৩১ ॥

se phelāra eka lava,
that phelā's one particle
nā pāya devatā saba,
not obtain the gods all
e dambhe kebā pātiyāya?
this boast who would believe
bahu-janma puṇya kare,
many births pious acts does
tabe 'sukṛti' nāma dhare, then sukṛti the name takes se 'sukṛte' tāra lava pāya
by that sukṛti its particle obtains

131 Not one of the gods can obtain a particle of that phelā — who would believe such a boast? Only piety gathered over many births bears the name sukṛti, and by that sukṛti one obtains a particle of it.

Anubhāṣya.
pātiyāya — believes.

কৃষ্ণ যে খায় তাম্বূল, কহে তার নাহি মূল, তাহে আর দম্ভ পরিপাটী ৷
তার যেবা উদগার, তারে কয় 'অমৃতসার', গোপীর মুখ করে 'আলবাটী' ॥ ১৩২ ॥

kṛṣṇa ye khāya tāmbūla, Kṛṣṇa which chews betel
kahe tāra nāhi mūla,
they say its is no price
tāhe āra dambha paripāṭī
to that further of boasting the artfulness
tāra yebā udagāra,
its whatever chewed remnant
tāre kaya 'amṛta-sāra',
that they call nectar's essence gopīra mukha kare 'ālabāṭī'
the gopīs' mouths they make a bowl for saliva

132 The betel Kṛṣṇa chews is said to be beyond price, and on top of that comes this artful boast: what He has chewed they call 'the essence of nectar', and they make the gopīs' mouths its cup, its ālabāṭī.

Anubhāṣya.
ālabāṭī — a bāṭī (bowl) for āla (saliva), a spittoon.

এসব — তোমার কুটিনাটি, ছাড় এই পরিপাটী, বেণুদ্বারে কাঁহে হর' প্রাণ ৷
আপনার হাসি লাগি', নহ নারীর বধভাগী, দেহ' নিজাধরামৃত দান ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

e-saba — tomāra kuṭināṭi,
all this Your wiles
chāḍa ei paripāṭī,
give up this artfulness
veṇu-dvāre kāṁhe hara' prāṇa
by the flute why You steal lives āpanāra hāsi lāgi',
for Your own amusement for the sake of
naha nārīra vadha-bhāgī,
do not be of women the killing sharer
deha' nijādharāmṛta dāna
give Your own lip-nectar as a gift

133 All this is Your trickery. Give up this artfulness! Why do You steal our lives with Your flute? Do not, for Your own amusement, make Yourself guilty of killing women. Give us the gift of the nectar of Your lips."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O nāgara, I am describing the nature of Your lips; listen.[9] They agitate people's bodies and minds, increase the longing of love (kandarpa-lobha),[10] and remove the burden of joy, grief and the like. They make one forget other tastes, bring the world under their sway, and destroy shame, duty (dharma) and composure. They intoxicate the minds of women and draw them by inflaming the craving of the tongue. Yet when I consider it, I see that with them everything is the other way around. O Kṛṣṇa, You are a man, and the nectar of Your lips ought to attract the minds of women: that is the rule. But it attracts the flute, which is male, makes it drink, and makes it forget all other tastes. To say nothing of conscious beings, it makes even the insentient conscious. Your lips, therefore, are a great magician.

See what else is the other way around. Your flute is mere dry wood, yet the nectar of Your lips makes it drink, gives it senses and a mind (endows it with the power of awareness), and gives it happiness. Like a bold man, this flute itself drinks (again and again) the lips of a man and proclaims its drinking, saying, "Hey, gopīs, if you take pride in being women, then drink your own wealth — the nectar of a man's lips." Rādhikā says: "That flute, angry with me, says, 'Give up shame and fear and drink it; then I will yield (these lips) to you. But if you do not give up shame and fear, I alone will drink without end. Seeing your special right to the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, I am a little afraid of you; all the others I regard as straw.'"[11] With its sound the flute conveys the nectar of the lips — that is, joined with it (in league with it, by force), it thus attracts the three worlds. If we gopīs, afraid of transgressing our duty, keep our composure, it humiliates us all the more. It even makes us give up shame and duty: in front of our elders it loosens our nīvi, that is, the sash; it drags us off as if by the hair and makes us Your maid-servants, and people laugh when they hear of it (thus it leads the gopīs wherever it likes). The flute is no more than a stick of dry bamboo, yet (as if it were a master) it insults us and brings us to this state. What can we do but bear it? When a thief is punished, his mother cannot call out to people and cry aloud (for his rescue or for an impartial judgment): it is not for her to call out and cry, or crying is out of place. So I too keep silent.

Such is the way of the lips. Now hear about the evil custom of whatever meets with the lips. Food, dishes and drinks touched by those lips become like nectar and bear the name "Kṛṣṇa-phelā." Even by worship the demigods do not obtain a particle of that phelā. And phelā is so proud that ordinary people cannot believe it: for only by the power of "sukṛti" — sukṛti turned toward bhakti, gained through the piety of many lives — does a servant obtain a particle, a grain, of Kṛṣṇa-phelā. What is given out (udgāra) from the betel prasāda chewed by Kṛṣṇa is called "the essence of nectar," and the mouths of the gopīs are like an ālabāṭī, that is, a spittoon, to keep it. Therefore, O Śyāma, give up this artful cleverness (Your tricks). Do not take the lives of the gopīs any longer with the flute. Do not, in jest, become a killer of women — give us the nectar of Your own lips.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

āpanāra hāsi lāgi' — the first meaning: if You become a killer of women, You Yourself will be blamed; so do not do this — give us the nectar of Your lips. The second meaning: do not kill women for Your own amusement.

Anubhāṣya.

kuṭināṭi — deceit; paripāṭī — artistry, skill, cunning.

The Lord's longing —

কহিতে কহিতে প্রভুর মন ফিরি’ গেল । ক্রোধ মন শান্ত হৈল, উৎকণ্ঠা বাড়িল ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

kahite kahite prabhura mana phiri’ gela speaking speaking the Lord’s mind turned went krodha mana śānta haila, utkaṇṭhā bāḍila angry mind calm became longing increased

134 As He spoke, the Lord’s mood changed: His angry mind grew calm, and His longing increased.

The Lord glorifies the supreme greatness of the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips —

পরম দুর্ল্লভ এই কৃষ্ণাধরামৃত । তাহা যেই পায়, তার সফল জীবিত ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

parama durllabha ei kṛṣṇādharāmṛta supremely rare this Kṛṣṇa’s lip-nectar
tāhā yei pāya, tāra saphala jīvita
it whoever obtains his successful life

135 “This nectar of Kṛṣṇa’s lips is supremely rare. Whoever obtains it has found the fruit of life.

যোগ্য হঞা কেহ করিতে না পায় পান । তথাপি সে নির্লজ্জ, বৃথা ধরে প্রাণ ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

yogya hañā keha karite nā pāya pāna worthy being someone to do not gets drinking tathāpi se nirlajja, vṛthā dhare prāṇa
still he shameless in vain holds life

136 If one who is worthy cannot drink it and still clings to life, he is shameless and lives in vain.

অযোগ্য হঞা তাহা কেহ সদা পান করে । যোগ্য জন নাহি পায়, লোভে মাত্র মরে ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

ayogya hañā tāhā keha sadā pāna kare unworthy being it someone always drinking does yogya jana nāhi pāya, lobhe mātra mare worthy person not gets from longing only dies

137 The unworthy drink it constantly, while the worthy do not get it and only die of longing.

তাতে জানি, — কোন তপস্যার আছে বল । অযোগ্যেরে দেওয়ায় কৃষ্ণাধরামৃত-ফল ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

tāte jāni, — kona tapasyāra āche bala
therefore I know some austerity’s is power ayogyere deoyāya kṛṣṇādharāmṛta-phala
to the unworthy gives Kṛṣṇa’s lip-nectar the fruit

138 So I know there is power in some austerity: as its fruit, the unworthy are given the nectar of Kṛṣṇa’s lips.

At the Lord's command, Rāya recites a verse —

‘কহ রাম-রায়, কিছু শুনিতে হয় মন’ ।
ভাব জানি’ পড়ে রায় গোপীর বচন ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

‘kaha rāma-rāya, kichu śunite haya mana’
tell Rāma Rāya something to hear is My mind
bhāva jāni’ paḍe rāya gopīra vacana
the mood knowing recites Rāya of the gopīs the words

139 Tell Me something, Rāmarāya — My mind longs to hear.” Knowing His mood, Rāmānanda recited the words of the gopīs:

*The gopīs praise the flute, which delights in the touch of Kṛṣṇa's lips — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, canto 10, chapter 21, verse 9)*

গোপ্যঃ কিমাচরদয়ং কুশলং স্ম বেণু- র্দামোদরাধরসুধামপি গোপিকানাম্ ।
ভুঙ্‌ক্তে স্বয়ং যদবশিষ্টরসং হ্রদিন্যো হৃষ্যত্ত্বচোঽশ্রু মুমুচুস্তরবো যথার্য্যাঃ ॥ ১৪০ ॥

gopyaḥ kim ācarad ayaṁ kuśalaṁ sma veṇur
O gopīs what performed this good deed indeed flute dāmodarādhara-sudhām api gopikānām
of Dāmodara of the lips the nectar even of the gopīs
bhuṅkte svayaṁ yad avaśiṣṭa-rasaṁ hradinyo enjoys itself of which the left-over taste the rivers
hṛṣyat-tvaco ’śru mumucus taravo yathāryāḥ thrilled in skin tears shed the trees like the elders

140 “O gopīs, what good deed did this flute perform, that it enjoys of its own accord the nectar of Dāmodara’s lips, which belongs to the gopīs, leaving only a taste of it behind? The rivers that nourished it thrill with joy, their lotuses like hair standing on end, and the trees shed tears, like elders of a family rejoicing in a descendant.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.21.9)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O gopīs, what sukṛti has this flute performed that it enjoys Kṛṣṇa's lip-nectar itself — nectar that is the gopīs' to obtain — and leaves only a remnant of its taste? Noble people (when they see that a great descendant, a devotee of the Lord, has been born in their family) shed tears of joy. In the same way the rivers (by whose water this flute was nourished) rejoice: the hair on their skin stands on end — that is, the blossoming lotuses on their surface. And all the trees of the same kind (as the tree from which it was born) shed tears (streams of honey, out of joy).

Anubhāṣya.

When autumn came to Vraja, Śrī Kṛṣṇa herded the cows in the forest and played His flute. The gopīs, longing for Kṛṣṇa's company, wandered here and there singing His enchanting qualities, and thus describe the good fortune of Kṛṣṇa's flute:

Some said to others: gopyaḥ (O gopīs), ayam veṇuḥ kim kuśalam (pious deed) ācarat (performed) sma, yat (so that) gopikānām (though it is for the gopīs alone to enjoy) dāmodarādhara-sudhām (the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips) svayam (of its own accord) avaśiṣṭa-rasam (so that only a remnant of the taste is left) bhuṅkte? hradinyaḥ (the rivers by whose water it was nourished — like mothers to it) hṛṣyat-tvacaḥ (their hair stands on end with delight: in the guise of clusters of blossoming lotuses they appear thrilled); āryāḥ ([as] the elders of a family, seeing a servant of the Lord in their own line, thrill and shed tears, so too) taravaḥ (the trees in whose line it was born) aśru (tears of bliss — in the guise of streams of honey) mumucuḥ.

*Absorbed in bhāva, the Lord explains [the verse] in pralāpa —*

এই শ্লোক শুনি' প্রভু ভাবাবিষ্ট হঞা । উৎকণ্ঠাতে অর্থ করে প্রলাপ করিয়া ॥ ১৪১ ॥

ei śloka śuni' prabhu bhāvāviṣṭa hañā
this verse hearing the Lord absorbed in feeling becoming utkaṇṭhāte artha kare pralāpa kariyā
in longing the meaning makes raving doing

141 Hearing this verse, the Lord became absorbed in feeling, and in His longing He explained its meaning in raving words.

*The meaning of the verse; seeing the good fortune of the flute that drinks the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, the gopīs speak with jealousy — and yet in praise (citra-jalpa) —*

অহো ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন, ব্রজের কোন কন্যাগণ, অবশ্য করিব পরিণয় ।
সে-সম্বন্ধে গোপীগণ, যারে জানে নিজধন, সে সুধা অন্যের লভ্য নয় ॥ ১৪২ ॥

aho vrajendra-nandana,
ah of the king of Vraja the son
vrajera kona kanyā-gaṇa, of Vraja some maidens
avaśya kariba pariṇaya
certainly will make marriage
se-sambandhe gopī-gaṇa,
by that relation the gopīs
yāre jāne nija-dhana,
which know their own wealth
se sudhā anyera labhya naya
that nectar for others attainable is not

142 "Ah, the son of the king of Vraja will certainly marry some maidens of Vraja. Because of that bond the gopīs know this nectar as their own wealth, and it is not for others to attain.

গোপীগণ, কহ সব করিয়া বিচারে ।
কোন্ তীর্থ, কোন্ তপ, কোন্ সিদ্ধমন্ত্র-জপ, এই বেণু কৈল জন্মান্তরে ? ॥ ১৪৩ ॥ধ্রু॥

gopī-gaṇa, kaha saba kariyā vicāre
O gopīs tell all making consideration
kon tīrtha, kon tapa,
which holy place which austerity
kon siddha-mantra-japa,
which perfected mantra chanting
ei veṇu kaila janmāntare?
this flute did in a former birth

143 O gopīs, think it over together and tell Me: what holy place, what austerity, what chanting of a perfect mantra did this flute perform in a former birth?[5]

হেন কৃষ্ণাধর-সুধা, যে কৈল অমৃত-মুদা, যার আশায় গোপী ধরে প্রাণ ৷
এই বেণু অযোগ্য অতি, স্থাবর ‘পুরুষ জাতি’, সেই সুধা সদা করে পান ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

hena kṛṣṇādhara-sudhā,
such Kṛṣṇa’s lips’ nectar
ye kaila amṛta-mudā,
which made nectar eclipsed
yāra āśāya gopī dhare prāṇa
of which in the hope the gopīs hold life
ei veṇu ayogya ati,
this flute unworthy very sthāvara ‘puruṣa jāti’, unmoving of the male sex
sei sudhā sadā kare pāna
that nectar always makes drinking

144 Such is the nectar of Kṛṣṇa’s lips: it has eclipsed nectar itself, and only in the hope of it do the gopīs keep their lives. Yet this flute, utterly unworthy, an unmoving thing, and of the male sex besides, drinks that nectar all the time.

Anubhāṣya.
ye kaila amṛta-mudā — according to some, that which by the power of its sweetness covers (surpasses) even nectar.

যার ধন, না কহে তারে, পান করে বলাৎকারে, পিতে তারে ডাকিয়া জানায় ৷
তার তপস্যার ফল, দেখ ইহার ভাগ্য-বল, ইহার উচ্ছিষ্ট মহাজনে খায় ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

yāra dhana, nā kahe tāre,
whose wealth not tells them
pāna kare balātkāre,
drinking makes by force
pite tāre ḍākiyā jānāya
to drink them calling announces tāra tapasyāra phala,
its austerity’s the fruit
dekha ihāra bhāgya-bala,
see its fortune’s power
ihāra ucchiṣṭa mahā-jane khāya
its remnants the great eat

145 Without asking those to whom this wealth belongs, it drinks it by force and loudly calls them to come and drink. See the fruit of its austerity, the power of its good fortune: even the great partake of its remnants.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
mahā-jane — Mānasa-gaṅgā and the Yamunā. They are “mahājanas” because they are holy rivers.

মানসগঙ্গা, কালিন্দী, ভুবন-পাবনী নদী, কৃষ্ণ যদি তাতে করে স্নান ।
বেণু-ঝুটাধর রস, হঞা লোভে পরবশ, সেই কালে হর্ষে করে পান ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

mānasa-gaṅgā, kālindī,
the Mānasa-gaṅgā the Kālindī
bhuvana-pāvanī nadī,
the world purifying rivers
kṛṣṇa yadi tāte kare snāna Kṛṣṇa when in them makes bath
veṇu-jhuṭādhara-rasa,
of the flute left over of the lips the taste
hañā lobhe paravaśa,
being by longing overpowered
sei kāle harṣe kare pāna
at that time with joy make drinking

146 The Mānasa-gaṅgā and the Kālindī are rivers that purify the world. When Kṛṣṇa bathes in them, they are overpowered by longing and joyfully drink the taste of His lips left over by the flute.

এ-ত নদী রহু দূরে, বৃক্ষ সব তার তীরে, তপ করে পর-উপকারী ।
নদীর শেষ-রস পাঞা, মূলদ্বারে আকর্ষিয়া, কেনে পিয়ে, বুঝিতে না পারি ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

e-ta nadī rahu dūre,
these rivers let remain far
vṛkṣa saba tāra tīre,
trees all their on the banks
tapa kare para-upakārī
austerity perform to others beneficent
nadīra śeṣa-rasa pāñā,
of the rivers the left-over taste getting
mūla-dvāre ākarṣiyā,
by the roots drawing up kene piye, bujhite nā pāri why they drink to understand not I can

147 But let alone the rivers! The trees on their banks perform austerities and do good to others; yet they take the taste the rivers have left, draw it up through their roots and drink it — why, I cannot understand.[6]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Though they are holy rivers, they are still rivers. Therefore such an act of theirs (that is, drinking the taste of Kṛṣṇa's lip-nectar left by the flute) is possible.

নিজাঙ্কুরে পুলকিত, পুষ্পে হাস্য বিকসিত, মধু-মিষে বহে অশ্রুধার ।
বেণুরে মানি' নিজ জাতি, আর্য্যের যেন পুত্র-নাতি,
'বৈষ্ণব' হৈলে আনন্দ-বিকার ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

nijāṅkure pulakita,
with their own shoots thrilled
puṣpe hāsya vikasita,
in flowers laughter blossoming
madhu-miṣe vahe aśru-dhāra
of honey in the guise flow of tears streams
veṇure māni' nija jāti,
the flute regarding as their own kin
āryera yena putra-nāti,
of a noble man as sons grandsons
'vaiṣṇava' haile ānanda-vikāra
Vaiṣṇavas becoming of bliss transformation

148 Their new shoots are their hair standing on end, their flowers are blossoming laughter, and in the guise of honey streams of tears flow from them. They regard the flute as their own kin and are overcome with bliss, as a noble man is when his sons and grandsons become Vaiṣṇavas.

Anubhāṣya.
madhu-miṣe — in the guise of streams of honey (see Śrīdhara Svāmī's commentary).

বেণুর তপ জানি যবে, সেই তপ করি তবে,
এ — অযোগ্য, আমরা — যোগ্যা নারী ।
যা না পাঞা দুঃখে মরি, অযোগ্য পিয়ে সইতে নারি, তাহা লাগি' তপস্যা বিচারি ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

veṇura tapa jāni yabe,
the flute's austerity we know when sei tapa kari tabe,
that austerity we will do then
e — ayogya, āmarā — yogyā nārī
it unworthy we worthy women
yā nā pāñā duḥkhe mari,
what not getting in grief we die
ayogya piye saite nāri,
the unworthy drinks to bear we cannot tāhā lāgi' tapasyā vicāri
that for the sake of austerity we consider

149 When we know what austerity the flute performed, we will perform the same. It is unworthy, and we are worthy women. We are dying of grief for want of what the unworthy one drinks, and we cannot bear it. That is why we are pondering its austerity."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
One gopī says to the others: "Look at this wondrous pastime of the son of the king of Vraja! He will surely marry the maidens of Vraja, and so the gopīs know that the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips is their own wealth and that others cannot have it. O gopīs, consider: in a previous birth this flute of Kṛṣṇa must have visited some holy place, performed some austerity, chanted some perfect mantra. By that it has made the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, by which the gopīs live, its own 'seal of nectar' (amṛta-mudrā).[12] This flute is utterly unworthy: it is immovable, of the bamboo kind, and on top of that 'of the male kind' — and yet it constantly drinks the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips. That wealth belongs to the gopīs, yet the flute drinks it by force without asking them, and loudly calls the gopīs to drink. See also the fruit of its austerity and the power of its fortune: even mahājanas eat its remnants. When Kṛṣṇa bathes in the world-purifying daughter of Kalinda and in Mānasa-gaṅgā, those mahājanas (the Yamunā and Mānasa-gaṅgā), overcome by longing, joyfully drink the taste of His lips that the flute has left. But what of the rivers! The trees on their banks are like ascetics, doing good to others. Why do they draw up through their roots the remnant of taste the river has enjoyed and drink it? I cannot understand. These trees thrill in their sprouts, blossom with the laughter of flowers, and in the guise of honey pour out streams of tears. It seems that, just as noble men are transformed with bliss when their sons and grandsons become ‘Vaiṣṇavas,’ the trees act in the same way, regarding the flute, which is of the tree kind, as their own kin. The point is this: the flute is utterly unworthy, but we are worthy women. If we could learn what austerity the flute performed, we would perform the same. What is in our minds is this: seeing the unworthy flute drink the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, we are dying of grief. That is why we are pondering the flute's austerities.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

e ayogya — this flute is an immovable object, and so it is unworthy to obtain the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips.

Thus ends the sixteenth chapter of the “Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.”

*The Lord's madness of love for Kṛṣṇa in the mood of a gopī —*

এতেক বিলাপ করি’, প্রেমাবেশে গৌরহরি, সঙ্গে লঞা স্বরূপ-রামরায়।
কভু নাচে, কভু গায়, ভাবাবেশে মূর্চ্ছা যায়, এইরূপে রাত্রি দিন-যায় ॥ ১৫০ ॥

eteka vilāpa kari’,
so much lamentation making
premāveśe gaurahari, absorbed in love Gaurahari
saṅge lañā svarūpa-rāma-rāya
with taking Svarūpa Rāma Rāya
kabhu nāce, kabhu gāya, sometimes dances sometimes sings
bhāvāveśe mūrcchā yāya,
in absorption of feeling into a swoon goes ei-rūpe rātri dina-yāya
in this way night day passes

150 Thus Gaurahari lamented, absorbed in love. With Svarūpa and Rāmarāya at His side He sometimes danced, sometimes sang, and sometimes, overcome by feeling, fell into a swoon. In this way His nights and days passed.

Anubhāṣya.

Thus ends the sixteenth chapter of the “Anubhāṣya.”

স্বরূপ, রূপ, সনাতন, রঘুনাথের শ্রীচরণ, শিরে ধরি’ করি যার আশ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত, অমৃত হৈতে পরামৃত, গায় দীনহীন কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১৫১ ॥

svarūpa, rūpa, sanātana, of Svarūpa Rūpa Sanātana
raghunāthera śrī-caraṇa,
of Raghunātha the holy feet
śire dhari’ kari yāra āśa
on my head placing I make whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta,
the Caitanya-caritāmṛta
amṛta haite parāmṛta,
than nectar surpassing nectar
gāya dīna-hīna kṛṣṇadāsa
sings lowly and fallen Kṛṣṇadāsa

151 Placing on my head the holy feet of Svarūpa, Rūpa, Sanātana and Raghunātha, and hoping for their mercy, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, lowly and fallen, sing the Caitanya-caritāmṛta, a nectar surpassing nectar.

Notes

1. The same verse as Madhya 19.50 and 20.58; translation as there. ↩
2. The same verse as Antya 4.69 and Madhya 20.59; translation as there. ↩
3. The same verse as Madhya 11.192 and 19.72; translation as there. ↩
4. So in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition: śāstra ei satya haya / sei nīca nahe, — yāṅte kṛṣṇa-bhakti kaya. Other editions read śāstra ei satya kaya / sei śreṣṭha, aiche yāṅte kṛṣṇa-bhakti haya, “the scriptures speak this truth: the best is one in whom there is devotion to Kṛṣṇa.” ↩
5. The line “O gopīs, think it over…” is marked in the edition as a refrain (dhruva). ↩
6. So in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition: e-ta nadī rahu dūre, “let alone the rivers”. Other editions read e-ta nārī bahu dūre, “let alone women”. ↩
7. The verse translation reads differently: when the man said, “Come quickly and see Your Beloved,” He took hold of his hand. ↩
8. The verse translation reads differently: it deepens the longing for union. ↩
9. The edition reads “121–163,” a misprint: the chapter has 151 verses; the section covers verses 121–133 (the next paragraph is marked 133). ↩
10. The verse translation reads differently: they increase the longing for union. ↩
11. The verse translation reads differently: the gopīs, “angry with me,” are to give up shame and fear; and the flute says, “I have no fear of you, and all others I count as straw.” ↩
12. The verse translation reads differently: the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips eclipses even the nectar of immortality (so too the Anubhāṣya on 144, citing “some”). ↩
13. The edition reads “Bhāg. 1.18.38–41”; the places assigned to Kali (gambling, intoxication, and so on) are listed in Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.17.38–41. ↩

“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 17

The Tortoise Form in Ecstasy, and the Ravings of Madness

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. Mahāprabhu was overcome by the madness of love (premonmāda) in many different forms. This chapter describes how one night, without opening the doors, He passed over three walls and fell among the cows from Tailaṅga, having taken the shape of a tortoise.

*A description of Gaura's[7] transcendental pastimes, heard from the mouth of the guru by the path of śrauta —*

লিখ্যতে শ্রীল-গৌরেন্দোরত্যদ্ভুতমলৌকিকম্ ।
যৈর্দৃষ্টং তন্মুখাচ্ছ্রুত্বা দিব্যোন্মাদ-বিচেষ্টিতম্ ॥ ১ ॥

likhyate śrīla-gaurendor
is described of Śrīla Gauracandra
aty-adbhutam alaukikam
most wonderful unearthly
yair dṛṣṭaṁ tan-mukhāc chrutvā
by whom seen from their mouths having heard divyonmāda-viceṣṭitam
of divine madness the conduct

1 From the lips of those who saw them with their own eyes I have heard of the most wonderful, unearthly deeds of Śrīla Gauracandra in His divine madness, and now I describe them.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I write of the most wonderful, unearthly acts of Śrī Gauracandra in His divine madness only after hearing of them from the mouths of those who saw them with their own eyes.

Anubhāṣya.
yaiḥ (by the most fortunate intimate devotees headed by Dāmodara and Raghunātha) śrīla-gaurendoḥ (of Gauracandra) adbhutam (never heard of before) alaukikam (never seen before) divyonmāda-viceṣṭitam (the conduct of one maddened by mahābhāva) dṛṣṭam (was seen with their own eyes), tan-mukhāt (from the holy mouths of those very śrī-gurus who sang of it) tat śrutvā (having heard it, [by me]) likhyate (is described).

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory to Gaura’s devotees host

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra, and glory to all the devotees of Gaura!

*The Lord's madness (unmāda) and incoherent words (pralāpa) —*

এইমত মহাপ্রভু রাত্রি-দিবসে ।
উন্মাদের চেষ্টা, প্রলাপ করে প্রেমাবেশে ॥ ৩ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu rātri-divase
in this way Mahāprabhu night and day
unmādera ceṣṭā, pralāpa kare premāveśe
of madness the behaviour ravings makes absorbed in love

3 In this way, night and day, Mahāprabhu, absorbed in love, behaved like one mad and spoke in ravings.

The Lord's constant companions at that time —

একদিন প্রভু স্বরূপ-রামানন্দ-সঙ্গে । অর্দ্ধরাত্রি গোঙাইলা কৃষ্ণকথা-রঙ্গে ॥ ৪ ॥

eka-dina prabhu svarūpa-rāmānanda-saṅge
one day the Lord Svarūpa Rāmānanda with ardha-rātri goṅāilā kṛṣṇa-kathā-raṅge
half the night passed of Kṛṣṇa talks in the delight

4 One day the Lord passed half the night with Svarūpa and Rāmānanda, delighting in talks about Kṛṣṇa.

Svarūpa serves the Lord with songs suited to His feelings —

যবে যেই ভাব প্রভু করয়ে উদয় । ভাবানুরূপ গীত গায় স্বরূপ-মহাশয় ॥ ৫ ॥

yabe yei bhāva prabhu karaye udaya
when whatever feeling the Lord makes arise bhāvānurūpa gīta gāya svarūpa-mahāśaya
to the feeling suited a song sings Svarūpa Mahāśaya

5 Whatever feeling arose in the Lord, Svarūpa Mahāśaya would sing a song to suit it.

Rāya recites verses from books dear to the Lord —

বিদ্যাপতি, চণ্ডীদাস, শ্রীগীতগোবিন্দ । ভাবানুরূপ শ্লোক পড়েন রায়-রামানন্দ ॥ ৬ ॥

vidyāpati, caṇḍīdāsa, śrī-gīta-govinda Vidyāpati Caṇḍīdāsa the Śrī Gīta-govinda bhāvānurūpa śloka paḍena rāya-rāmānanda
to the feeling suited verses recites Rāya Rāmānanda

6 And Rāya Rāmānanda would recite verses suited to His feelings from Vidyāpati, Caṇḍīdāsa and the Śrī Gīta-govinda.

The Lord Himself recites verses and speaks words of lament —

মধ্যে মধ্যে আপনে প্রভু শ্লোক পড়িয়া । শ্লোকের অর্থ করেন প্রভু বিলাপ করিয়া ॥ ৭ ॥

madhye madhye āpane prabhu śloka paḍiyā
now and then Himself the Lord a verse reciting ślokera artha karena prabhu vilāpa kariyā
of the verse the meaning makes the Lord lament making

7 Now and then the Lord would Himself recite a verse and, lamenting, explain its meaning.

Having put the Lord to bed, the two depart —

এইমতে নানাভাবে অর্দ্ধরাত্রি হৈল । গোসাঞিরে শয়ন করাই' দুঁহে ঘরে গেল ॥ ৮ ॥

ei-mate nānā-bhāve ardha-rātri haila
in this way in various feelings half the night passed gosāñire śayana karāi' duṁhe ghare gela
the Lord to bed having put the two home went

8 So, amid many feelings, half the night went by. Then the two put the Lord to bed and went home.

*The Lord loudly chants the holy name (nāma-saṅkīrtana) —*

গম্ভীরার দ্বারে গোবিন্দ করিলা শয়ন । অর্দ্ধরাত্রিতে প্রভু করেন উচ্চসঙ্কীর্ত্তন ॥ ৯ ॥

gambhīrāra dvāre govinda karilā śayana
of the Gambhīrā at the door Govinda made his bed
ardha-rātrite prabhu karena ucca-saṅkīrtana
at midnight the Lord makes loud saṅkīrtana

9 Govinda lay down to sleep at the door of the Gambhīrā, and at midnight the Lord began to chant the holy names aloud.

The Lord's divine madness —

আচম্বিতে শুনেন প্রভু কৃষ্ণবেণু-গান । ভাবাবেশে প্রভু তাহাঁ করিলা প্রয়াণ ॥ ১০ ॥

ācambite śunena prabhu kṛṣṇa-veṇu-gāna
suddenly hears the Lord of Kṛṣṇa's flute the song
bhāvāveśe prabhu tāhāṁ karilā prayāṇa absorbed in feeling the Lord there made departure

10 Suddenly the Lord heard the song of Kṛṣṇa's flute and, absorbed in feeling, set off towards it.

তিনদ্বারে কপাট ঐছে আছে ত' লাগিয়া । ভাবাবেশে প্রভু গেলা বাহির হঞা ॥ ১১ ॥

tina-dvāre kapāṭa aiche āche ta' lāgiyā
in the three doors the panels so are indeed fastened bhāvāveśe prabhu gelā bāhira hañā absorbed in feeling the Lord went outside becoming

11 The three doors stayed shut as they were, yet the Lord, lost in that feeling, passed outside.

সিংহদ্বার-দক্ষিণে আছে তৈলঙ্গী-গাভীগণ । তাঁহা যাই' পড়িলা প্রভু হঞা অচেতন ॥ ১২ ॥

siṁha-dvāra-dakṣiṇe āche tailaṅgī-gābhī-gaṇa of the Siṁha-dvāra to the south are Tailaṅga cows the herd
tāṁhā yāi' paḍilā prabhu hañā acetana
there going fell the Lord becoming unconscious

12 To the south of the Siṁha-dvāra there was a herd of cows from Tailaṅga. The Lord went there and fell down unconscious.

Not hearing the Lord's voice, all search for Him and find Him —

এথা গোবিন্দ মহাপ্রভুর শব্দ না পাঞা । স্বরূপেরে বোলাইল কপাট খুলিয়া ॥ ১৩ ॥

ethā govinda mahāprabhura śabda nā pāñā here Govinda of Mahāprabhu the sound not getting svarūpere bolāila kapāṭa khuliyā
Svarūpa called the doors opening

13 Meanwhile Govinda, no longer hearing any sound from Mahāprabhu, opened the doors and called Svarūpa.

তবে স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি সঙ্গে লঞা ভক্তগণ । দেউটি জ্বালিয়া করেন প্রভুর অন্বেষণ ॥ ১৪ ॥

tabe svarūpa-gosāñi saṅge lañā bhakta-gaṇa
then Svarūpa Gosāñi with taking the devotees
deuṭi jvāliyā karena prabhura anveṣaṇa
torches lighting make for the Lord a search

14 Then Svarūpa Gosāñi took the devotees with him, and they lit torches and went in search of the Lord.

Anubhāṣya.
deuṭi — a lamp on a pole, a torch.

ইতি-উতি অন্বেষিয়া সিংহদ্বারে গেলা । গাভীগণ-মধ্যে যাই' প্রভুরে পাইলা ॥ ১৫ ॥

iti-uti anveṣiyā siṁha-dvāre gelā
here and there searching to the Siṁha-dvāra went gābhī-gaṇa-madhye yāi' prabhure pāilā
of the cows among going the Lord found

15 After searching here and there, they went to the Siṁha-dvāra and found the Lord among the cows.

The Lord's condition —

পেটের ভিতর হস্ত-পদ — কূর্ম্মের আকার । মুখে ফেন, পুলকাঙ্গ, নেত্রে অশ্রুধার ॥ ১৬ ॥

peṭera bhitara hasta-pada — kūrmera ākāra
of the belly inside hands and feet of a tortoise the shape
mukhe phena, pulakāṅga, netre aśru-dhāra
in the mouth foam thrilled limbs in the eyes streams of tears

16 His hands and feet had drawn inside His body, and He had the shape of a tortoise. There was foam at His mouth, the hair of His body stood on end, and tears streamed from His eyes.

অচেতন পড়িয়াছেন, — যেন কুষ্মাণ্ড-ফল । বাহিরে জড়িমা, অন্তরে আনন্দ-বিহ্বল ॥ ১৭ ॥

acetana paḍiyāchena, — yena kuṣmāṇḍa-phala
unconscious is lying like a pumpkin fruit
bāhire jaḍimā, antare ānanda-vihvala
outside stupor within with bliss overwhelmed

17 He lay unconscious, like a great pumpkin: outwardly inert, but within overwhelmed with bliss.

গাভী সব চৌদিকে শুঁকে প্রভুর শ্রীঅঙ্গ ।
দূর কৈলে নাহি ছাড়ে প্রভুর শ্রীঅঙ্গ-সঙ্গ ॥ ১৮ ॥

gābhī saba caudike śuṁke prabhura śrī-aṅga
cows all on every side sniff the Lord's holy body
dūra kaile nāhi chāḍe prabhura śrī-aṅga-saṅga
away driven not leave the Lord's holy body's company

18 On every side the cows were sniffing the Lord's holy body; even when driven away, they would not leave His side.

The devotees try long to bring the Lord to consciousness and carry Him home —

অনেক করিলা যত্ন, না হয় চেতন । প্রভুরে উঠাঞা ঘরে আনিলা ভক্তগণ ॥ ১৯ ॥

aneka karilā yatna, nā haya cetana much made effort not becomes conscious prabhure uṭhāñā ghare ānilā bhakta-gaṇa
the Lord lifting home brought the devotees

19 The devotees tried hard to revive Him, but He did not regain consciousness. Then they lifted the Lord and carried Him home.

*Loud saṅkīrtana brings the Lord to consciousness, and He returns to half-external consciousness —*

উচ্চ করি' শ্রবণে করে নামসঙ্কীর্ত্তন । অনেকক্ষণে মহাপ্রভু পাইলা চেতন ॥ ২০ ॥

ucca kari' śravaṇe kare nāma-saṅkīrtana
loud making in the ears make of the name saṅkīrtana
aneka-kṣaṇe mahāprabhu pāilā cetana
after a long while Mahāprabhu regained consciousness

20 They sang the holy name loudly into His ears, and after a long while Mahāprabhu regained consciousness.

চেতন হইলে হস্ত-পাদ বাহিরে আইল । পূর্ব্ববৎ যথাযোগ্য শরীর হইল ॥ ২১ ॥

cetana haile hasta-pāda bāhire āila conscious when He became hands and feet outside came pūrvavat yathā-yogya śarīra haila
as before in proper proportion the body became 21 As He came to Himself, His hands and feet emerged again, and His body returned to its proper form, as before.

The Lord describes His state to Svarūpa —

উঠিয়া বসিলেন প্রভু, চাহেন ইতি-উতি । স্বরূপে কহেন, — তুমি আমা আনিলা কতি ? ॥ ২২ ॥

uṭhiyā vasilena prabhu, cāhena iti-uti rising sat the Lord looks here and there svarūpe kahena, — tumi āmā ānilā kati?
to Svarūpa says you Me have brought where 22 The Lord sat up and looked about Him. He said to Svarūpa, “Where have you brought Me?

বেণু-শব্দ শুনি’ আমি গেলাঙ বৃন্দাবন ।
দেখি, — গোষ্ঠে বেণু বাজায় ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন ॥ ২৩ ॥

veṇu-śabda śuni’ āmi gelāṅa vṛndāvana
the flute’s sound hearing I went to Vṛndāvana
dekhi, — goṣṭhe veṇu bājāya vrajendra-nandana
I see in the pasture the flute plays of the king of Vraja the son

23 Hearing the sound of the flute, I went to Vṛndāvana, and I saw the son of the king of Vraja playing His flute in the pasture.

সঙ্কেত-বেণু-নাদে রাধা গেলা কুঞ্জঘরে । কুঞ্জেরে চলিলা কৃষ্ণ ক্রীড়া করিবারে ॥ ২৪ ॥

saṅketa-veṇu-nāde rādhā gelā kuñja-ghare
of the signal of the flute at the call Rādhā went to the bower house
kuñjere calilā kṛṣṇa krīḍā karibāre to the bower went Kṛṣṇa pastimes to make

24 At the signal call of His flute Rādhā went to the bower, and Kṛṣṇa too went there for His pastimes.

তাঁর পাছে পাছে আমি করিনু গমন । তাঁর ভূষণ-ধ্বনিতে আমার হরিল শ্রবণ ॥ ২৫ ॥

tāṁra pāche pāche āmi karinu gamana Him behind behind I made going
tāṁra bhūṣaṇa-dhvanite āmāra harila śravaṇa
His ornaments’ by the jingling My was stolen hearing

25 I followed close behind Him, and the jingling of His ornaments captivated My ears.

গোপীগণ-সহ বিহার, হাস, পরিহাস । কণ্ঠধ্বনি-উক্তি শুনি’ মোর কর্ণোল্লাস ॥ ২৬ ॥

gopī-gaṇa-saha vihāra, hāsa, parihāsa
the gopīs with pastimes laughter jesting kaṇṭha-dhvani-ukti śuni’ mora karṇollāsa
voice’s sound words hearing My ears’ joy

26 Kṛṣṇa was enjoying His pastimes with the gopīs, laughing and jesting, and My ears rejoiced to hear His voice and His words.

হেনকালে তুমি সব কোলাহল করি’ । আমা ইঁহা লঞা আইলা বলাৎকার করি’ ॥ ২৭ ॥

hena-kāle tumi saba kolāhala kari’
at that time you all an uproar making āmā iṁhā lañā āilā balātkāra kari’
Me here taking brought force using

27 Just then all of you raised an uproar and brought Me here by force.

The lament of the Lord, deprived of hearing Kṛṣṇa's sounds —

শুনিতে না পাইনু সেই অমৃতসম বাণী । শুনিতে না পাইনু ভূষণ-মুরলীর ধ্বনি ॥ ২৮ ॥

śunite nā pāinu sei amṛta-sama vāṇī
to hear not did I get those nectar like words
śunite nā pāinu bhūṣaṇa-muralīra dhvani to hear not did I get of the ornaments of the flute the sound

28 I could no longer hear those words, sweet as nectar; I could no longer hear the jingling of His ornaments and the sound of His flute.”

ভাবাবেশে স্বরূপে কহেন গদ্গদ-বাণী । ‘কর্ণ তৃষ্ণায় মরি, পড় ‘রসামৃত’ শুনি’ ॥ ২৯ ॥

bhāvāveśe svarūpe kahena gadgada-vāṇī absorbed in feeling to Svarūpa says choked words ‘karṇa tṛṣṇāya mari, paḍa ‘rasāmṛta’ śuni’
My ears with thirst I die recite nectar of rasa I shall hear

29 Absorbed in feeling, the Lord said to Svarūpa in a choked voice, “My ears are dying of thirst. Recite something full of the nectar of rasa — let Me hear it.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
karṇa-tṛṣṇāya — from thirst to hear of Kṛṣṇa's qualities.

At Gaura's bidding, Svarūpa recites a verse —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি প্রভুর ভাব জানিয়া । ভাগবতের শ্লোক পড়ে মধুর করিয়া ॥ ৩০ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi prabhura bhāva jāniyā Svarūpa Gosāñi of the Lord the mood knowing bhāgavatera śloka paḍe madhura kariyā
of the Bhāgavata a verse recites sweet making

30 Svarūpa Gosāñi, knowing the Lord’s mood, sweetly recited a verse from the Bhāgavata:

The sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's flute enchants and attracts His servants of every kind — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.29.40)

কাস্ত্র্যঙ্গ তে কলপদামৃতবেণুগীত-সম্মোহিতার্য্যচরিতান্ন চলেৎ ত্রিলোক্যাম্ । ত্রৈলোক্য-সৌভগমিদঞ্চ নিরীক্ষ্য রূপং যদ্গোদ্বিজদ্রুমমৃগাঃ পুলকান্যবিভ্রন্ ॥ ৩১ ॥

kā stry aṅga te kala-padāmṛta-veṇu-gītawhat woman O dear one Your of sweet words by the nectar of the flute by the song sammohitārya-caritān na calet tri-lokyām enchanted from the conduct of the noble not would stray in the three worlds trailokya-saubhagam idaṁ ca nirīkṣya rūpaṁ of the three worlds the beauty this and having seen form
yad go-dvija-druma-mṛgāḥ pulakāny abibhran
which cows birds trees deer thrills of rapture bore

31 "O Kṛṣṇa, what woman in the three worlds, enchanted by the song of Your flute with its sweet, nectarean notes, would not stray from the conduct of the noble? Seeing this form of Yours, the beauty of the three worlds, even cows, birds, trees and deer bristle with rapture." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.29.40)[1]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 24.52.

*The Lord, absorbed in the mood of the gopīs, speaks citra-jalpa —*

শুনি' প্রভু গোপীভাবে আবিষ্ট হইলা । ভাগবতের শ্লোকার্থ করিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৩২ ॥

śuni' prabhu gopī-bhāve āviṣṭa hailā hearing the Lord in the mood of the gopīs absorbed became bhāgavatera ślokārtha karite lāgilā
of the Bhāgavata the verse's meaning to make began

32 Hearing this, the Lord became absorbed in the mood of the gopīs and began to explain the meaning of the verse:

*A gopī describes her own feelings for Kṛṣṇa (citra-jalpa) — [Any rāga as suits (yathā-rāga)]*

হৈল গোপী-ভাবাবেশ, কৈল রাসে পরবেশ, কৃষ্ণের শুনি' উপেক্ষা-বচন ।
কৃষ্ণের মুখ-হাস্য-বাণী, ত্যাগে তাহা সত্য মানি', রোষে কৃষ্ণে দেন ওলাহন ॥ ৩৩ ॥

haila gopī-bhāvāveśa,
there was in the gopīs' mood absorption
kaila rāse paraveśa,
made into the rāsa entry
kṛṣṇera śuni' upekṣā-vacana Kṛṣṇa's hearing of disregard words kṛṣṇera mukha-hāsya-vāṇī, Kṛṣṇa's mouth's smiling words
tyāge tāhā satya māni',
as rejection them true taking roṣe kṛṣṇe dena olāhana
in anger to Kṛṣṇa gives reproach

33 Immersed in that mood, He entered the rāsa dance. There He heard Kṛṣṇa, smiling, speak words of indifference, and, taking them for a true rejection, He reproached Kṛṣṇa in anger:

The explanation of the verse begins —

নাগর, কহ, তুমি করিয়া নিশ্চয় ।
এই ত্রিজগৎ ভরি', আছে যত যোগ্যা নারী, তোমার বেণু কাঁহা না আকর্ষয়? ॥ ৩৪ ॥ধ্রু॥

nāgara, kaha, tumi kariyā niścaya
O lover say You making certain ei trijagat bhari',
these three worlds filling
āche yata yogyā nārī,
there are as many worthy women
tomāra veṇu kāṁhā nā ākarṣaya?
Your flute whom not attracts

34 "O Beloved, tell us truly: of all the worthy women who fill the three worlds, which is not drawn by Your flute?

A description of the power of the flute's sweetness —

কৈলা জগতে বেণুধ্বনি, সিদ্ধমন্ত্রা যোগিনী, দূতী হঞা মোহে নারী-মন ৷
মহোৎকণ্ঠা বাড়াঞা, আর্য্যপথ ছাড়াঞা, আনি' তোমায় করে সমর্পণ ॥ ৩৫ ॥

kailā jagate veṇu-dhvani,
You made in the world the flute's sound
siddha-mantrā yoginī,
of perfected mantras a yoginī
dūtī hañā mohe nārī-mana
a go-between becoming enchants women's minds mahotkaṇṭhā bāḍāñā, great longing increasing
ārya-patha chāḍāñā,
the noble path making them leave
āni' tomāya kare samarpaṇa bringing to You makes offering

35 You sent the sound of Your flute into the world, and like a yoginī perfect in her mantras, it becomes a go-between and enchants the minds of women. It swells their longing, makes them forsake the path of the noble, and delivers them to You.

The transcendental young Madana, or Kāmadeva Anaṅga —

ধর্ম্ম ছাড়ায় বেণুদ্বারে, হানে কটাক্ষ-কামশরে, লজ্জা, ভয়, সকল ছাড়ায় ৷
এবে আমায় করি' রোষ, কহি' পতি ত্যাগে 'দোষ', ধার্ম্মিক হঞা ধর্ম্ম শিখাও ॥ ৩৬ ॥

dharma chāḍāya veṇu-dvāre, dharma You make them leave by the flute
hāne kaṭākṣa-kāma-śare,
You strike of glances of Kāma with the arrows
lajjā, bhaya, sakala chāḍāya shame fear all You make them leave ebe āmāya kari' roṣa,
now at us making anger
kahi' pati tyāge 'doṣa',
saying husbands in leaving a fault
dhārmika hañā dharma śikhāo righteous becoming dharma You teach

36 With Your flute You make us abandon dharma; You strike us with the arrows of Kāma, Your sidelong glances, and make us cast off shame and fear and everything else. And now You are angry with us, You say it is wrong to leave our husbands, and, like a man of virtue, You teach us dharma!

অন্যকথা, অন্যমন, বাহিরে অন্য আচরণ, এই সব শঠ-পরিপাটী ৷
তুমি জান পরিহাস, হয় নারীর সর্ব্বনাশ, ছাড় এই সব কুটীনাটী ॥ ৩৭ ॥

anya-kathā, anya-mana,
other words other mind
bāhire anya ācaraṇa,
outwardly other conduct
ei saba śaṭha-paripāṭī
this all of a cheat the artifices
tumi jāna parihāsa,
You know jest
haya nārīra sarva-nāśa,
is women's utter ruin
chāḍa ei saba kuṭīnāṭī
give up these all tricks

37 Your words say one thing, Your mind another, and outwardly You act in yet another way — all these are the artifices of a cheat. For You it is a jest, but for women it is utter ruin. Give up all these tricks!

বেণুনাদ অমৃত-ঘোলে, অমৃত-সমান মিঠা বোলে, অমৃত-সমান ভূষণ-শিঞ্জিত ৷
তিন অমৃতে হরে কাণ, হরে মন, হরে প্রাণ, কেমনে নারী ধরিবেক চিত ? ॥ ৩৮ ॥

veṇu-nāda amṛta-ghole,
the flute's sound nectar outdoes
amṛta-samāna miṭhā bole,
nectar equal sweet words
amṛta-samāna bhūṣaṇa-śiñjita nectar equal the ornaments' jingling
tina amṛte hare kāṇa,
by the three nectars steals the ears
hare mana, hare prāṇa,
steals the mind steals the life
kemane nārī dharibeka cita?
how a woman will hold her heart

38 The sound of Your flute outdoes nectar; Your sweet words are like nectar, and the jingling of Your ornaments is like nectar too. With these three nectars You steal our ears, You steal our minds, You steal our very life. How can a woman keep hold of her heart?"[2]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Absorbed in their feeling, the gopīs entered the rāsa-līlā. There they heard Kṛṣṇa's words of disregard (upekṣā-vacana), that is, His indifferent words, and took it as true that Kṛṣṇa had rejected them. So they speak to Kṛṣṇa in anger: "O lover (nāgara), tell us: is there any worthy woman in the three worlds whom Your flute does not attract? When You play Your flute in this world, its sound, like a yoginī who has mastered mantras and the like, becomes a go-between (dūtī) and enchants (allures) the minds of women. It greatly increases their longing, makes them abandon the path enjoined by the Vedas (serving their husbands, elders, and others), and delivers them to You (in the mood of parakīyā beloveds). With Your flute and with the arrows of Kāma — Your glances — You pierced us, made us give up the path of dharma, shame, and fear, and brought us to You. You Yourself made us leave our husbands and so on, and now You point out to us that this is a sin and, like a righteous man, teach us dharma! In Your mind is one thing, in Your words another, and in Your conduct a third. All this is the skilled trickery of a cheat (mere cunning). To You it is only a jest, but for a woman it is utter ruin. So give up all this deceit. First, the sound of the flute is nectarean buttermilk; on top of that, sweet words — the nectar of speech; and on top of that, a nectarean sound [of ornaments]. These three nectars together steal our ears, mind, and life."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

śiñjita — sound.

Anubhāṣya.

ghole — in colloquial speech, ghol khāoyāy ("makes one drink buttermilk"), that is, eclipses or overcomes. A variant reading is role, that is, by its sound, by its noise; another variant is ugāre, "pours forth."

In the mood of Rādhā the Lord relishes Kṛṣṇa's sweetness —

এত কহি' ক্রোধাবেশে, ভাবের তরঙ্গে ভাসে, উৎকণ্ঠা-সাগরে ডুবে মন ।
রাধার উৎকণ্ঠা বাণী, পড়ি' আপনে বাখানি, কৃষ্ণমাধুর্য্য করে আস্বাদন ॥ ৩৯ ॥

eta kahi' krodhāveśe,
so much saying absorbed in anger
bhāvera taraṅge bhāse,
of feeling on the waves floats
utkaṇṭhā-sāgare ḍube mana of longing in the ocean sinks the mind
rādhāra utkaṇṭhā vāṇī, Rādhā's longing words
paḍi' āpane vākhāni, reciting Himself explaining kṛṣṇa-mādhurya kare āsvādana
Kṛṣṇa's sweetness makes tasting

39 Having said this in anger, He floated on the waves of feeling, and His mind sank into an ocean of longing. Then He recited the words of Rādhā in Her yearning and, explaining them Himself, tasted the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa:

Madana-mohana, sweetness embodied —

নদজ্জলদনিস্বনঃ শ্রবণকর্ষিসচ্ছিঞ্জিতঃ
সনর্ম্মরসসূচকাক্ষরপদার্থভঙ্গ্যুক্তিকঃ ।
রমাদিক-বরাঙ্গনা-হৃদয়হারি-বংশীকলঃ স মে মদনমোহনঃ সখি তনোতি কর্ণস্পৃহাম্ ॥ ৪০ ॥

nadaj-jalada-nisvanaḥ śravaṇa-karṣi-sac-chiñjitaḥ
of a thundering cloud whose voice the ears drawing lovely jingling
sanarma-rasa-sūcakākṣara-padārtha-bhaṅgy-uktikaḥ of jest rasa hinting syllables words meanings artful speech
ramādika-varāṅganā-hṛdaya-hāri-vaṁśī-kalaḥ of Ramā and the others of the fairest women the hearts stealing of the flute the soft note
sa me madana-mohanaḥ sakhi tanoti karṇa-spṛhām
He My Madana-mohana O friend increases of the ears the longing

40 “O friend, His voice is like the rumbling of a thundercloud; the lovely jingling of His ornaments draws the ear; in the artful turns of His speech every syllable, word and meaning is playful and hints at rasa; and the soft note of His flute steals the hearts of Lakṣmī and other lovely women. That Madana-mohana of Mine deepens the longing of My ears.” (Govinda-līlāmṛta, 8.5)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O friend! His voice is deep like a cloud; the sound of His ornaments draws the ears; His playful words are full of artful turns (bhaṅgī); the sound of His flute draws the hearts of Lakṣmī and other women. This Madana-mohana increases the longing of My ears.

Anubhāṣya.

he sakhi, nadaj-jalada-nisvanaḥ (He whose deep voice is like the rumble [nisvana] of a thundering cloud [jalada]) śravaṇa-karṣi-sac-chiñjitaḥ (He whose ornaments make a beautiful, most sweet tinkling whose nature is to draw the ears of the gopīs) sanarma-rasa-sūcakākṣara-padārtha-bhaṅgy-uktikaḥ (He whose speech is full of an artful arrangement [bhaṅgī, paripāṭī] of the meanings of words, in syllables that hint at rasa and are filled with jest [narma]) ramādika-varāṅganā-hṛdaya-hārī-vaṁśī-kalaḥ (He the sound [kala] of whose flute steals, that is, draws, the hearts of the finest women, headed by Lakṣmī) madana-mohanaḥ me (My) karṇa-spṛhām (longing to hear) tanoti (increases).

The meaning of the verse; the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's voice described — কণ্ঠের গম্ভীর ধ্বনি, নবঘন-ধ্বনি জিনি’, যার গুণে কোকিল লাজায়।

তার এক শ্রুতি-কণে, ডুবায় জগতের কাণে, পুনঃ কাণ বাহুড়ি’ না আয় ॥ ৪১ ॥

kaṇṭhera gambhīra dhvani,
of the voice deep sound
navaghana-dhvani jini’,
of a new cloud the rumbling conquering
yāra guṇe kokila lājāya
whose by the quality the cuckoo is put to shame
tāra eka śruti-kaṇe,
of it one of hearing by a drop
ḍubāya jagatera kāṇe,
drowns of the world the ears
punaḥ kāṇa bāhuḍi’ nā āya
again the ears returning not come

41 “The deep sound of His voice conquers the rumbling of a new cloud, and its sweetness puts the cuckoo to shame. Even a single drop of it, entering the ear, drowns the ears of the world, and those ears never come back again.

কহ, সখি, কি করি উপায়?
কৃষ্ণের সে শব্দ-গুণে, হরিলে আমার কাণে, এবে না পায়, তৃষ্ণায় মরি’ যায় ॥ ৪২ ॥ধ্রু॥

kaha, sakhi, ki kari upāya?
tell O friend what shall I do means
kṛṣṇera se śabda-guṇe,
of Kṛṣṇa that sound’s by the qualities
harile āmāra kāṇe,
were stolen My ears
ebe nā pāya, tṛṣṇāya mari’ yāya
now not get of thirst dying go

42 Tell Me, O friend, what shall I do? The charms of that sound of Kṛṣṇa's stole My ears, and now, deprived of it, they are dying of thirst.

The sweetness of the tinkling of Kṛṣṇa's ankle bells described — নূপুর-কিঙ্কিণী-ধ্বনি, হংস-সারস জিনি', কঙ্কণ-ধ্বনি চটকে লাজায় !

একবার যেই শুনে, ব্যাপি' রহে তার কাণে, অন্যশব্দ সে কাণে না যায় ॥ ৪৩ ॥

nūpura-kiṅkiṇī-dhvani,
of the anklets of the waist-bells the sound
haṁsa-sārasa jini',
of swans and cranes conquering
kaṅkaṇa-dhvani caṭake lājāya!
the bracelets' sound the caṭaka birds puts to shame
eka-bāra yei śune,
once whoever hears
vyāpi' rahe tāra kāṇe,
pervading stays in his ears
anya-śabda se kāṇe nā yāya
another sound into those ears not goes

43 The sound of the bells on His ankles and waist conquers the cries of swans and cranes, and the jingling of His bracelets puts the caṭaka birds to shame. Once anyone hears it, it fills his ears and stays there, and no other sound can enter them again.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
caṭaka — a particular bird.

The sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's words described —

সে শ্রীমুখ-ভাষিত, অমৃত হৈতে পরামৃত, স্মিত-কর্পূর তাহাতে মিশ্রিত ।
শব্দ, অর্থ, — দুইশক্তি, নানা-রস করে ব্যক্তি, প্রত্যক্ষর — নর্ম্ম-বিভূষিত ॥ ৪৪ ॥

se śrī-mukha-bhāṣita,
those holy mouth's words
amṛta haite parāmṛta,
nectar than higher nectar
smita-karpūra tāhāte miśrita
of the smile the camphor in them mixed śabda, artha, — dui-śakti, sound meaning two powers
nānā-rasa kare vyakti,
various rasas make manifest
pratyakṣara — narma-vibhūṣita
every syllable with jest adorned

44 The words of His holy mouth are a nectar higher than nectar, and the camphor of His smile is mixed into them. Their two powers, sound and meaning, bring out every kind of rasa, and every syllable is adorned with jest.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

śabda, artha — dui śakti: abhidhā (the direct sense) and lakṣaṇā (the figurative sense) are the two powers of the word; of these, ornaments of meaning (arthālaṅkāra) and the like are the power of meaning.

সে অমৃতের এক-কণ, কর্ণ-চকোর-জীবন, কর্ণ-চকোর জীয়ে সেই আশে ।
ভাগ্যবশে কভু পায়, অভাগ্যে কভু না পায়, না পাইলে মরয়ে পিয়াসে ॥ ৪৫ ॥

se amṛtera eka-kaṇa,
that of nectar one drop
karṇa-cakora-jīvana,
of the ears the cakora the life
karṇa-cakora jīye sei āśe
of the ears the cakora lives on that hope bhāgya-vaśe kabhu pāya,
by fortune sometimes gets abhāgye kabhu nā pāya,
by misfortune sometimes not gets nā pāile maraye piyāse
not getting dies of thirst

45 One drop of that nectar is the very life of the cakora bird of the ears, and on the hope of it alone that cakora lives. Sometimes, by good fortune, it gets that drop; sometimes, by ill fortune, it goes without, and then it dies of thirst.

The sweetness of the sound of the flute described —

যেবা বেণু-কলধ্বনি, একবার তাহা শুনি', জগন্নারী-চিত্ত আউলায় ।
নীবি-বন্ধ পড়ে খসি', বিনা-মূলে হয় দাসী, বাউলী হঞা কৃষ্ণ-পাশে ধায় ॥ ৪৬ ॥

yebā veṇu-kala-dhvani,
which the flute's sweet sound
eka-bāra tāhā śuni',
once it hearing
jagan-nārī-citta āulāya
of the world the women's hearts are thrown into turmoil
nīvi-bandha paḍe khasi',
the sash knots fall slipping loose
vinā-mūle haya dāsī,
without price become maidservants
bāulī hañā kṛṣṇa-pāśe dhāya
crazed becoming to Kṛṣṇa's side run

46 Let the women of the world hear but once the sweet sound of His flute, and their hearts are thrown into turmoil. The knots of their sashes slip loose; they become His unbought maidservants and, as if crazed, run to Kṛṣṇa's side.

Even Lakṣmī longs to relish Kṛṣṇa's sweetness, but cannot —

যেবা লক্ষ্মী-ঠাকুরাণী, তেঁহো যে কাকলী শুনি', কৃষ্ণ-পাশ আইসে প্রত্যাশায়।
না পায় কৃষ্ণের সঙ্গ, বাড়ে তৃষ্ণা-তরঙ্গ, তপ করে, তবু নাহি পায় ॥ ৪৭ ॥

yebā lakṣmī-ṭhākurāṇī, even Lakṣmī the goddess
teṁho ye kākalī śuni',
she that soft song hearing
kṛṣṇa-pāśa āise pratyāśāya to Kṛṣṇa's side comes in hope nā pāya kṛṣṇera saṅga,
not gets Kṛṣṇa's company
bāḍe tṛṣṇā-taraṅga,
grow of thirst the waves
tapa kare, tabu nāhi pāya austerity performs still not gets

47 Even the goddess Lakṣmī, hearing that soft song, comes to Kṛṣṇa in hope. But she does not obtain Kṛṣṇa's company; the waves of her thirst only swell, and though she performs austerities, she still does not attain Him.

Ears that do not serve Kṛṣṇa condemned —

এই শব্দামৃত চারি, যার হয় ভাগ্য ভারি, সেই কর্ণে ইহা করে পান।
ইহা যেই নাহি শুনে, সে কাণ জন্মিল কেনে, কাণাকড়ি-সম সেই কাণ ॥ ৪৮ ॥

ei śabdāmṛta cāri,
these sound-nectars four
yāra haya bhāgya bhāri, whose is fortune great
sei karṇe ihā kare pāna
he with his ears this makes drinking ihā yei nāhi śune,
this who not hears
se kāṇa janmila kene,
those ears were born why kāṇākaḍi-sama sei kāṇa
a cracked cowrie like those ears

48 Only one whose fortune is great drinks these four nectars of sound with his ears. As for one who does not hear them — why were such ears ever born? They are no better than a cracked cowrie shell."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The deep sound of His voice reigns, having conquered the rumbling of a new cloud; His sweet singing puts the cuckoo to shame. When even the smallest particle of it enters the ears, it so submerges (overpowers) the world's "ears," that is, all other sounds, that those "ears" can never come back.[4] O friend, the virtues of that sound of Kṛṣṇa have stolen My ears, and now, deprived of it, I must die of thirst. The tinkling of the bells on His ankles and waist defeats the voices of swans and sārasa cranes, and the jingling of His bracelets puts the caṭaka bird to shame. Whoever lets that sound into his ears even once allows no other sound to enter them.

The sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's words is a nectar surpassing even nectar, and the camphor of His smile is mixed into it as well. His words convey (vyañjanā) the power of the word (śabda-śakti), the power of meaning (artha-śakti) and the various rasas, beginning with śṛṅgāra, and every syllable of them is adorned with narma, that is, jest. A single drop (bindu) of that nectar is the very life of the cakora bird of the ears; on the hope of it alone the cakora of the ears lives. Sometimes by good fortune it gets that drop, sometimes by misfortune it does not, and when it does not, it lies at death's door from thirst.

Once the women of the world hear the sweet sound of His flute, their minds lose all hold (grow slack), the knots of their sashes come loose, and they become His maidservants without any price and run to Kṛṣṇa like madwomen. Lakṣmī-ṭhākurāṇī, hearing His soft song (kākalī), comes to Kṛṣṇa in hope. But she does not obtain Kṛṣṇa's company, and the waves of her thirst[5] swell. In that hope she performs austerities, yet even so she cannot obtain Kṛṣṇa.

These four kinds of nectar of sound — His words, the tinkling of His anklets and bracelets, the sound of His voice and the sound of His flute — enter only the ears of the fortunate. For one whose ears this fourfold nectar of sound has not entered, those ears were born in vain: like a cracked cowrie shell, they are worthless.

*The mingling of emotions (bhāva-śābalya) in the Lord —*

করিতে ঐছে বিলাপ, উঠিল উদ্বেগ, ভাব, মনে কাহো নাহি আলম্বন ।
উদ্বেগ, বিষাদ, মতি, ঔৎসুক্য, ত্রাস, ধৃতি, স্মৃতি, নানা-ভাবের হইল মিলন ॥ ৪৯ ॥

karite aiche vilāpa,
making such lament
uṭhila udvega, bhāva,
arose agitation feeling
mane kāho nāhi ālambana
in the mind any no support udvega, viṣāda, mati,
agitation despondency resolve
autsukya, trāsa, dhṛti, smṛti, eagerness fear steadiness remembrance
nānā-bhāvera haila milana
of various feelings there was a meeting

49 As He lamented in this way, agitation and other feelings arose in Him, and His mind had nothing to hold on to. Agitation, despondency, resolve, eagerness, fear, steadiness and remembrance — so many feelings came together in Him at once.

The madness of separation from Kṛṣṇa —

ভাবশাবল্যে রাধার উক্তি, লীলাশুকে হৈল স্ফূর্ত্তি, সেই ভাবে পড়ে এক শ্লোক ।
উন্মাদের সামর্থ্যে, সেই শ্লোকের করে অর্থে, যেই অর্থ নাহি জানে লোক ॥ ৫০ ॥

bhāva-śābalye rādhāra ukti,
in the mixture of feelings Rādhā's words
līlā-śuke haila sphūrti,
in Līlāśuka was revealed
sei bhāve paḍe eka śloka
in that feeling recites one verse
unmādera sāmarthye,
of madness by the power
sei ślokera kare arthe,
that verse's makes meaning
yei artha nāhi jāne loka
which meaning not know people

50 Rādhā's words, spoken in such a mixture of feelings, had been revealed to Līlāśuka. In that same mood the Lord recited one of his verses and, by the power of His madness, drew out a meaning that people do not know:[3]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Līlāśuka — Bilvamaṅgala Gosvāmī.

Anubhāṣya.
A variant reading: Līlāsukha.

Śrī Rādhā's words —

কিমিহ কৃণুমঃ কস্য ব্রূমঃ কৃতং কৃতমাশয়া
কথয়ত কথামন্যাং ধন্যামহো হৃদয়েশয়ঃ ৷
মধুরমধুরস্মেরাকারে মনোনয়নোৎসবে কৃপণকৃপণা কৃষ্ণে তৃষ্ণা চিরং বত লম্বতে ॥ ৫১ ॥

kim iha kṛṇumaḥ kasya brūmaḥ kṛtaṁ kṛtam āśayā
what here shall we do to whom shall we speak done is done in hope kathayata kathām anyāṁ dhanyām aho hṛdaye śayaḥ speak talk other auspicious alas in the heart lying madhura-madhura-smerākāre mano-nayanotsave
in the sweetest sweet smiling form of mind and eyes the festival
kṛpaṇa-kṛpaṇā kṛṣṇe tṛṣṇā ciraṁ bata lambate
wretched most wretched for Kṛṣṇa thirst ever longer alas grows

51 "What are we to do now? To whom can we speak? What was done in hope of Him is done. Speak of something else, something auspicious. Ah, but He lies in My heart! For Kṛṣṇa — the festival of mind and eyes, whose smiling form is sweeter than the sweetest — My wretched, most wretched thirst, alas, grows ever longer." (Kṛṣṇa-karṇāmṛta, 42)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Alas, what shall I do! And whom shall I tell! What I did in the hope of Him — let it end there; now speak of something else, something auspicious (dhanya, good). For He Himself (as Kāma) has lain down in My heart — how then can I give up talk of Him? Toward Kṛṣṇa — the embodiment of the sweetest of sweet smiles, a festival for the mind and eyes — My thirst, full of humility (wretched), keeps growing all the time.

Anubhāṣya.
he sakhyaḥ (O friends), (tat) iha (in this calamity, separation, vipralambha) kiṁ kṛṇumaḥ (what shall we do so that He may be seen?) kasya brūmaḥ (for you too are in the same state) tasya[8] āśayā (in the hope of attaining Kṛṣṇa) yat kṛtam (what was done, performed), tat kṛtam; anyāṁ kām api dhanyāṁ (auspicious) kathāṁ kathayata; aho (what pain!) hṛdaye śayaḥ (Kāma, the enemy, dwells in My heart and so cannot be cast out; it is he who is killing Me — what can we do?) bata (alas) madhura-madhura-smerākāre (in Him whose form is sweeter than sweetness itself, smiling and blossoming with the rapture of Madana and the like) mano-nayanotsave (in Him who gives a festival to the mind and eyes) kṛṣṇe kṛpaṇa-kṛpaṇā (wretched, more wretched than the wretched, sorely distressed with longing) tṛṣṇā ciram (incessantly) lambate (grows).

The meaning of the verse; how Śrīmatī suffers in separation from Kṛṣṇa described —

এই কৃষ্ণের বিরহে, উদ্বেগে মন স্থির নহে, প্রাপ্ত্যুপায়-চিন্তন না যায় ৷
যেবা তুমি সখীগণ, বিষাদে বাউল মন, কারো পুছোঁ, কে কহে উপায় ? ॥ ৫২ ॥

ei kṛṣṇera virahe,
this of Kṛṣṇa in separation
udvege mana sthira nahe,
from agitation the mind steady is not prāpty-upāya-cintana nā yāya of attaining the means thinking of not goes
yebā tumi sakhī-gaṇa,
and you friends
viṣāde bāula mana,
with despondency crazed mind
kāro puchoṁ, ke kahe upāya?
whom shall I ask who will tell the means

52 "In this separation from Kṛṣṇa My mind is so agitated that it cannot be still, and I cannot think how to attain Him. And you, My friends — your minds too are crazed with despondency. Whom shall I ask? Who will tell Me the way?

হাহা সখি, কি করি উপায় !
ক্যা করোঁ কাঁহা যাঙ, কাঁহা গেলে কৃষ্ণ পাঙ, কৃষ্ণ বিনা প্রাণ মোর যায় ॥ ৫৩ ॥

hā hā sakhi, ki kari upāya!
alas alas O friend what shall I do means
kyā karoṁ kāṁhā yāṅa,
what shall I do where shall I go
kāṁhā gele kṛṣṇa pāṅa,
where going Kṛṣṇa shall I find
kṛṣṇa vinā prāṇa mora yāya Kṛṣṇa without life My goes

53 Alas, alas, O friend, what shall I do? What can I do, where can I turn? Where must I go to find Kṛṣṇa? Without Kṛṣṇa My life is leaving Me."

The longing to give up hope, and praise of it —

ক্ষণে মন স্থির হয়, তবে মনে বিচারয়, বলিতে হইল ভাবোদ্গম ৷
পিঙ্গলার বচন-স্মৃতি, করাইল ভাব-মতি, তাতে করে অর্থ-নির্দ্ধারণ ॥ ৫৪ ॥

kṣaṇe mana sthira haya,
for a moment the mind steady becomes tabe mane vicāraya,
then in the mind considers balite haila bhāvodgama
speaking there was a feeling's rising piṅgalāra vacana-smṛti, Piṅgalā's words' remembrance
karāila bhāva-mati,
brought about a feeling resolve tāte kare artha-nirdhāraṇa
by that makes of the meaning determination

54 For a moment His mind became steady, and He reflected. But as soon as He began to speak, a new feeling arose: the remembrance of Piṅgalā's words brought Him to a resolve, and in that mood He settled the meaning of the verse:

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
piṅgalāra vacana-smṛti — the courtesan Piṅgalā said: "Hope is the greatest misery; giving up hope is the greatest happiness."[6] Remembering those words, the Lord awakened through them a new feeling within Himself and began to determine the meaning of the verse.

Anubhāṣya.
For the story of Piṅgalā, see Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 11.8.22–44 and the Mahābhārata: the Mokṣa-dharma-parva within the Śānti-parva, chapter 174.

The attempt to forget Kṛṣṇa —

দেখি এই উপায়ে, কৃষ্ণ-আশা ছাড়ি' দিয়ে, আশা ছাড়িলে সুখী হয় মন ৷
ছাড়ি' কৃষ্ণকথা অধন্য, কহ অন্যকথা ধন্য, যাতে হয় কৃষ্ণ-বিস্মরণ ॥ ৫৫ ॥

dekhi ei upāye,
I see this means
kṛṣṇa-āśā chāḍi' diye,
for Kṛṣṇa hope I shall give up
āśā chāḍile sukhī haya mana hope giving up happy becomes the mind
chāḍi' kṛṣṇa-kathā adhanya, leaving of Kṛṣṇa talk inauspicious
kaha anya-kathā dhanya,
speak other talk auspicious
yāte haya kṛṣṇa-vismaraṇa whereby is of Kṛṣṇa forgetting

55 "I see only this way: I will give up My hope for Kṛṣṇa. Once hope is gone, the mind is happy. Leave this inauspicious talk of Kṛṣṇa and speak of something else, something auspicious, so that I may forget Him."

Kṛṣṇa, as the transcendental Kāmadeva, takes possession of the heart —

কহিতেই হৈল স্মৃতি, চিত্তে হৈল কৃষ্ণস্ফূর্ত্তি, সখীরে কহে হঞা বিস্মিতে ।
যারে চাহি ছাড়িতে, সে শুঞা আছে চিত্তে, কোন রীতে না পারি ছাড়িতে ॥ ৫৬ ॥

kahitei haila smṛti,
even as She spoke there was remembrance
citte haila kṛṣṇa-sphūrti,
in the heart there was Kṛṣṇa's manifestation sakhīre kahe hañā vismite to the friend says becoming astonished yāre cāhi chāḍite,
whom I want to give up
se śuñā āche citte,
He lying is in the heart
kona rīte nā pāri chāḍite
by any way not can I give up

56 But even as She spoke, She remembered Him, and Kṛṣṇa appeared in Her heart. In astonishment She told Her friend, "He whom I want to forsake lies in My heart, and try as I may, I cannot let Him go."

রাধাভাবের স্বভাব আন, কৃষ্ণে করায় 'কাম'-জ্ঞান, কাম-জ্ঞানে ত্রাস হৈল চিত্তে ।
কহে — যে জগৎ মারে, সে পশিল অন্তরে, এই বৈরী না দেয় পাসরিতে ॥ ৫৭ ॥

rādhā-bhāvera svabhāva āna,
of Rādhā's feeling the nature is other
kṛṣṇe karāya 'kāma'-jñāna,
in Kṛṣṇa makes of Kāma the perception kāma-jñāne trāsa haila citte
in the perception of Kāma fear arose in the heart
kahe — ye jagat māre,
says who the world strikes down
se paśila antare,
he has entered within
ei vairī nā deya pāsarite
this enemy not lets forget

57 Such is the wondrous nature of Rādhā's feeling that it made Her see Kṛṣṇa as Kāmadeva, and at that thought Her heart was seized with fear. She said, "He who strikes down the whole world has entered My heart. This enemy will not let Me forget Him."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
kṛṣṇe karāya 'kāma'-jñāna — makes one see Kṛṣṇa as Kandarpa.

Anubhāṣya.
māre — "Māra": that is, He conquers in the form of Kāmadeva.

Eager longing for Kṛṣṇa —

ঔৎসুক্যের প্রাধান্য, জিনি' অন্য ভাব-সৈন্য, উদয় হৈল নিজ-রাজ্য মনে ।
মনে হইল লালস, না হয় আপন-বশ, দুঃখে মনে করেন ভর্ৎসনে ॥ ৫৮ ॥

autsukyera prādhānya,
of eagerness the supremacy
jini' anya bhāva-sainya, conquering other feelings' armies
udaya haila nija-rājya mane rising there was in its own kingdom in the mind
mane haila lālasa,
in the mind there was craving
nā haya āpana-vaśa,
not is under her own control
duḥkhe mane karena bhartsane
in sorrow the mind She makes reproaches

58 Then eagerness, conquering the armies of all the other feelings, rose to supremacy in its own kingdom, Her mind. Craving seized that mind, and, no longer mistress of Herself, She reproached it in sorrow:

Śrīmatī wholly in Kṛṣṇa's power —

মন মোর বাম-দীন, জল বিনা যেন মীন, কৃষ্ণ বিনা ক্ষণে মরি' যায় ।
মধুর-হাস্য-বদনে, মন-নেত্র-রসায়নে, কৃষ্ণতৃষ্ণা দ্বিগুণ বাড়ায় ॥ ৫৯ ॥

mana mora vāma-dīna, mind My wayward wretched
jala vinā yena mīna,
water without like a fish
kṛṣṇa vinā kṣaṇe mari' yāya Kṛṣṇa without in a moment dying goes madhura-hāsya-vadane,
sweet smiling by the face
mana-netra-rasāyane,
of mind and eyes the elixir
kṛṣṇa-tṛṣṇā dviguṇa bāḍāya
for Kṛṣṇa thirst twofold increases

59 "My mind is wayward and wretched. Like a fish without water, without Kṛṣṇa it dies in an instant. And Kṛṣṇa's sweetly smiling face, the elixir of mind and eyes, makes My thirst for Him twice as great.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

vāma-dīna — wretched because of contrariness (vāmya). The thirst for Kṛṣṇa, whose sweetly smiling face is an elixir (rasāyana) for the mind and eyes, doubles.

Lament in separation from Kṛṣṇa —

হা হা কৃষ্ণ প্রাণধন, হা হা পদ্মলোচন, হা হা দিব্য সদ্‌গুণ-সাগর !
হা হা শ্যামসুন্দর, হা হা পীতাম্বরধর, হা হা রাসবিলাস নাগর ! ॥ ৬০ ॥

hā hā kṛṣṇa prāṇa-dhana, alas alas Kṛṣṇa of life the treasure
hā hā padma-locana, alas alas lotus-eyed
hā hā divya sad-guṇa-sāgara!
alas alas divine of virtues ocean
hā hā śyāma-sundara, alas alas Śyāmasundara
hā hā pītāmbara-dhara,
alas alas yellow cloth wearing
hā hā rāsa-vilāsa nāgara!
alas alas of the rāsa pastimes lover

60 Alas, Kṛṣṇa, treasure of My life! Alas, lotus-eyed one! Alas, divine ocean of virtues! Alas, Śyāmasundara! Alas, You who wear yellow cloth! Alas, Beloved, playful hero of the rāsa dance!

Absorbed in the mood of Rādhā in separation, the Lord runs —

কাঁহা গেলে তোমা পাই, তুমি কহ, — তাঁহা যাই, এত কহি' চলিলা ধাঞা ।
স্বরূপ উঠি' কোলে করি', প্রভুরে আনিল ধরি', নিজস্থানে বসাইলা লৈঞা ॥ ৬১ ॥

kāṁhā gele tomā pāi,
where going You shall I find
tumi kaha, — tāṁhā yāi,
You say there I shall go eta kahi' calilā dhāñā
so much saying went running svarūpa uṭhi' kole kari', Svarūpa rising in his arms taking prabhure ānila dhari',
the Lord brought holding nija-sthāne vasāilā laiñā
in His own place seated taking

61 Where must I go to find You? Tell Me, and I will go there!" Saying this, the Lord ran off. But Svarūpa rose, caught Him in his arms, brought Him back and seated Him in His own place.

Through Svarūpa's efforts the Lord regains consciousness; Svarūpa sings songs suited to His mood —

ক্ষণেকে প্রভুর বাহ্য হৈল, স্বরূপেরে আজ্ঞা দিল, স্বরূপ, কিছু কর মধুর গান ।
স্বরূপ গায় বিদ্যাপতি, গীতগোবিন্দ-গীতি, শুনি' প্রভুর জুড়াইল কাণ ॥ ৬২ ॥

kṣaṇeke prabhura bāhya haila,
in a moment of the Lord outer consciousness came svarūpere ājñā dila, to Svarūpa an order gave svarūpa, kichu kara madhura gāna Svarūpa something make sweet song
svarūpa gāya vidyāpati, Svarūpa sings Vidyāpati
gīta-govinda-gīti,
of the Gīta-govinda songs
śuni' prabhura juḍāila kāṇa hearing the Lord's were soothed ears

62 In a moment the Lord came back to outer consciousness and said to Svarūpa, "Svarūpa, sing something sweet." Svarūpa sang songs of Vidyāpati and of the Gīta-govinda, and the songs soothed the Lord's ears.

*The Lord's mahābhāva — divine madness and the rest — is beyond the measure of the mortal mind —*

এইমত মহাপ্রভু প্রতিরাত্রি-দিনে । উন্মাদ-চেষ্টিত হয় প্রলাপ-বচনে ॥ ৬৩ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu prati-rātri-dine
in this way Mahāprabhu every night and day unmāda-ceṣṭita haya pralāpa-vacane
of madness the behaviour is in raving words

63 In this way, every night and day, Mahāprabhu behaved like one mad and spoke in ravings.

একদিনে যত হয় ভাবের বিকার । সহস্র-মুখে বর্ণে যদি, নাহি পায় পার ॥ ৬৪ ॥

eka-dine yata haya bhāvera vikāra
in one day as many as are of feeling transformations sahasra-mukhe varṇe yadi, nāhi pāya pāra
with a thousand mouths describes if not reaches the end

64 Even if one with a thousand mouths were to describe all the transformations of feeling that arose in Him in a single day, he could not reach their end.

জীব দীন কি করিবে তাহার বর্ণন ?
শাখা-চন্দ্র-ন্যায় করি' দিগ্‌দরশন ॥ ৬৫ ॥

jīva dīna ki karibe tāhāra varṇana?
a jīva lowly what will make of it description
śākhā-candra-nyāya kari' dig-daraśana of the branch and the moon by the logic I make an indication

65 What can a lowly jīva like me describe of it? As one shows the moon by pointing to a branch, I give only an indication.

Anubhāṣya.

Even Anantadeva, who has infinite power, cannot with His thousand mouths describe the pastimes of Śrī Gaurāṅga — His acts in divine madness. I am a wretched, powerless and utterly incapable jīva, and so I cannot describe the pastimes of Gaura fully. Even so, to point out the direction, I have relied only on the maxim of the moon on the branch (śākhā-candra-nyāya).

*Whoever hears of the Lord's divine madness awakens to the truth of prema —*

ইহা যেই শুনে, তার জুড়ায় মন-কাণ । অলৌকিক গূঢ়প্রেম-চেষ্টা হয় জ্ঞান ॥ ৬৬ ॥

ihā yei śune, tāra juḍāya mana-kāṇa
this whoever hears his are soothed mind and ears alaukika gūḍha-prema-ceṣṭā haya jñāna
unearthly secret love's workings becomes knowledge

66 Whoever hears this finds his mind and ears soothed and comes to know the unearthly workings of hidden love.

*In the mood of Śrīmatī the Lord Himself relishes love for Kṛṣṇa and distributes it to the jīvas —*

অদ্ভুত নিগূঢ় প্রেমের মাধুর্য্য-মহিমা । আপনি আস্বাদি' প্রভু দেখাইলা সীমা ॥ ৬৭ ॥

adbhuta nigūḍha premera mādhurya-mahimā
wonderful most secret of love the sweetness' glory
āpani āsvādi' prabhu dekhāilā sīmā Himself tasting the Lord showed the limit

67 The Lord Himself tasted the wondrous sweetness of that most secret love in all its glory, and showed its utmost limit.

The supremely magnanimous giver of love for Kṛṣṇa —

অদ্ভুত দয়ালু চৈতন্য — অদ্ভুত-বদান্য । ঐছে দয়ালু দাতা লোকে নাহি শুনি অন্য ॥ ৬৮ ॥

adbhuta dayālu caitanya — adbhuta-vadānya wonderfully merciful Caitanya wonderfully generous aiche dayālu dātā loke nāhi śuni anya
such merciful a giver in the world not we hear another

68 Caitanya is wonderfully merciful, wonderfully generous! We have never heard of another giver in this world so merciful.

Only by worshipping Caitanya does one attain love for Kṛṣṇa —

সর্ব্বভাবে ভজ, লোক, চৈতন্য-চরণ । যাহা হৈতে পাইবা কৃষ্ণপ্রেমামৃত-ধন ॥ ৬৯ ॥

sarva-bhāve bhaja, loka, caitanya-caraṇa
with all the heart worship O people Caitanya's feet
yāhā haite pāibā kṛṣṇa-premāmṛta-dhana which from you will get for Kṛṣṇa of love of the nectar the treasure

69 O people, worship the feet of Caitanya with all your heart! From them you will receive a treasure — the nectar of love for Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
sarva-bhāve — wholly, exclusively.

*The Lord's divine madness (udghūrṇā and citra-jalpa) described —*

এই ত' কহিলুঁ প্রভুর 'কূর্ম্মাকৃতি'-ভাব । উন্মাদ-চেষ্টিত তাতে উন্মাদ-প্রলাপ ॥ ৭০ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ prabhura 'kūrmākṛti'-bhāva
this indeed I have told of the Lord of the tortoise form the state
unmāda-ceṣṭita tāte unmāda-pralāpa
of madness the behaviour in it of madness ravings

70 Thus I have told how the Lord, in ecstasy, took the form of a tortoise, how He acted in His divine madness, and what ravings He uttered.

Raghunātha described this pastime of the Lord in his own book —

এই লীলা স্বগ্রন্থে রঘুনাথ-দাস । চৈতন্যস্তবকল্পবৃক্ষে কৈরাছেন প্রকাশ ॥ ৭১ ॥

ei līlā sva-granthe raghunātha-dāsa
this pastime in his own book Raghunātha dāsa
caitanya-stava-kalpa-vṛkṣe kairāchena prakāśa
in the Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa has described

71 Raghunātha dāsa has described this pastime in his own book, the Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa:

অনুদ্ঘাট্য দ্বারত্রয়মুরু চ ভিত্তিত্রয়মহো
বিলঙ্ঘ্যাচ্চৈঃ কালিঙ্গিক-সুরভিমধ্যে নিপতিতঃ ।
তনূদ্যৎসঙ্কোচাৎ কমঠ ইব কৃষ্ণোরুবিরহাদ্ বিরাজন্ গৌরাঙ্গো হৃদয় উদয়ন্মাং মদয়তি ॥ ৭২ ॥

anudghāṭya dvāra-trayam uru ca bhitti-trayam aho
not opening of doors the three high and of walls the three ah vilaṅghyoccaiḥ kāliṅgika-surabhi-madhye nipatitaḥ crossing over high of Kaliṅga the cows among fallen tanūdyat-saṅkocāt kamaṭha iva kṛṣṇoru-virahād from the body's arising contraction a tortoise like from Kṛṣṇa great from separation virājan gaurāṅgo hṛdaya udayan māṁ madayati
shining Gaurāṅga in my heart rising me maddens

72 "Ah! Without opening the three doors, He passed high over the three tall walls and fell among the cows of Kaliṅga. Through His great separation from Kṛṣṇa His body contracted, and He appeared like a tortoise. That Gaurāṅga, rising in my heart, makes me mad with joy." (Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, 5)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Without the three bolted doors being opened, He came out of that room, crossed three walls and fell among the Tailaṅga cows. His whole body contracted, and in separation from Kṛṣṇa He took the shape of a tortoise. That Śrī Gaurāṅgadeva, rising in my heart, maddens me.

Thus ends the seventeenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.

aho, (in Kāśī Miśra's house) dvāra-trayam anudghāṭya (without unbolting) uru (high) bhitti-trayam (three walls) ca uccaiḥ vilaṅghya (crossing over) kāliṅgika-surabhi-madhye (among cows born in the land of Kaliṅga, within Trailaṅga) nipatitaḥ kṛṣṇoru-virahāt (from severe separation from Kṛṣṇa) tanūdyat-saṅkocāt (from the contraction, that is, the shrinking, that arose in His body) kamaṭhaḥ (a tortoise) iva virājan gaurāṅgaḥ mama hṛdaye udayan mām madayati (fills with bliss).

Where the Godāvarī River meets the sea stood the capital of the land of Tailaṅga, "Kariṅga," or "Dakṣiṇa-Kaliṅga" (South Kaliṅga). In Sanskrit a Tailaṅga cow is called kāliṅgika-surabhi.

Thus ends the seventeenth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ৭৩ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

73 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. The same verse as Madhya 24.52; translation as there. ↩
2. In other editions (variant readings noted in the Anubhāṣya) — role, "with the sound", and ugāre, "pours forth". ↩
3. In other editions (as noted in the Anubhāṣya) — "Līlāsukha". ↩
4. The verse translation reads differently: even a single drop of it, entering the ear, drowns the ears of the world, and those ears never come back again (for Bhaktivinoda, the "ears" here are the other sounds of the world). ↩
5. The edition reads tṛṣṇā-raṅga ("the play of thirst"); verse 47 has tṛṣṇā-taraṅga ("the waves of thirst"); apparently a misprint. ↩
6. Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 11.8.44. ↩
7. The edition reads «গৌড়ের» ("of Gauḍa"); the sense (verse 1 speaks of Gauracandra) calls for «গৌরের» ("of Gaura"). ↩
8. In the edition the word tasya ("His") stands inside the bracketed gloss; by sense it goes with āśayā ("in the hope of Him"). ↩

The Fall into the Ocean

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. One night, in the light of the autumn moon, Mahāprabhu saw the ocean from Āiṭoṭā and, mistaking it for the Yamunā, leapt into the water. The essence of this pastime is the relishing of Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa's water pastimes (jala-keli). Floating on the waves in this way, the Lord drifted toward Koṇārka. A fisherman, thinking he had caught “a big fish,” drew the Lord in with his net and saw that the Lord was unconscious and His form greatly transformed. As soon as he touched Him, the fisherman was overcome by divine love (premāveśa). Yet he was frightened: “This ghost has seized me (has climbed onto my shoulders).” With this thought he was on his way to an exorcist when he met Svarūpa Gosvāmī and the other devotees, who had been searching everywhere for Mahāprabhu in every way and were coming along the shore. When they questioned him, the fisherman told them all that had happened, and Svarūpa Gosvāmī understood that this fisherman had drawn the Lord onto the shore. With a slap of Kṛṣṇa's name he drove the “ghost” — his fear — out of the fisherman. Then, by chanting the holy name (kīrtana), the devotees brought Mahāprabhu back to consciousness, raised Him, heard from Him of His pastime, and brought Him home.

A prayer for the mercy of the Lord who, in separation from Kṛṣṇa, floats in the ocean, taking it for the Yamunā —

শরজ্জ্যোৎস্না-সিন্ধোরবকলনয়া জাতযমুনা- ভ্রমাদ্ধাবন্ যোঽস্মিন্ হরিবিরহতাপার্ণব ইব ।
নিমগ্নো মূর্চ্ছালঃ পয়সি নিবসন্ রাত্রিমখিলাং প্রভাতে প্রাপ্তঃ স্বৈরবতু স শচীসূনুরিহ নঃ ॥ ১ ॥

śaraj-jyotsnā-sindhor avakalanayā jāta-yamunāof the autumn moonlit ocean by the sight arisen the Yamunā
bhramād dhāvan yo ’smin hari-viraha-tāpārṇava iva from the mistaking running who into this from Hari separation’s burning ocean as if nimagno mūrcchālaḥ payasi nivasan rātrim akhilāṁ plunged unconscious in the water remaining the night whole prabhāte prāptaḥ svair avatu sa śacī-sūnur iha naḥ
at dawn found by His own may protect He Śacī’s son here us

1 Once, seeing the ocean in the light of the autumn moon, Śrī Śacīnandana took it for the Yamunā and ran towards it. He plunged into its waters as if into an ocean of the burning pain of separation from Hari, and lay there unconscious the whole night; at dawn His own devotees found Him. May that son of Śacī protect us here.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

On a night lit by the autumn moon, Śacīnandana saw the ocean and, taking it for the Yamunā, plunged into the burning ocean of separation from Hari, fell into the water, and lay unconscious the whole night, and in the morning He was found (by Svarūpa and others, His own intimate companions). May that Śacīnandana protect us by His pastimes.

Anubhāṣya.

yaḥ (Śacīnandana) śaraj-jyotsnā-sindhoḥ (of the ocean lit by the moonlight that shines in autumn [śaradi] in the cloudless autumn sky) avakalanayā (at the sight) jāta-yamunā-bhramāt (because of the mistaken idea that arose that it was the Yamunā) dhāvan hari-viraha-tāpārṇave (into the ocean of the pain of separation from Kṛṣṇa) iva asmin (into this water)

mūrcchālaḥ (nimagnaḥ san, immersed) akhilāṁ (the entire) rātriṁ nivasan[2] prabhāte svaiḥ (by His own intimate devotees) prāptaḥ, saḥ śacī-sūnuḥ (Gaura) iha naḥ (us) avatu (may protect).

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory to Gaura's devotees host

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra, and glory to all the devotees of Gaura!

The Lord's intense separation from Kṛṣṇa —

এইমতে মহাপ্রভু নীলাচলে বৈসে । রাত্রি-দিনে কৃষ্ণবিচ্ছেদার্ণবে ভাসে ॥ ৩ ॥

ei-mate mahāprabhu nīlācale vaise
in this way Mahāprabhu in Nīlācala stays rātri-dine kṛṣṇa-vicchedārṇave bhāse
night and day of Kṛṣṇa separation in the ocean floats

3 In this way Mahāprabhu lived in Nīlācala, floating night and day in the ocean of separation from Kṛṣṇa.

*An autumn moonlit night awakens (uddīpana) the feelings of the rāsa-līlā —*

শরৎকালের রাত্রি, সব চন্দ্রিকা-উজ্জ্বল । প্রভু নিজগণ লঞা বেড়ান রাত্রি-সকল ॥ ৪ ॥

śarat-kālera rātri, saba candrikā-ujjvala
autumn season's night all with moonlight bright prabhu nija-gaṇa lañā beḍāna rātri-sakala
the Lord His own companions taking wanders night whole

4 It was an autumn night, bright everywhere with moonlight, and the Lord spent the whole night roaming with His companions.

উদ্যানে উদ্যানে ভ্রমেন কৌতুক দেখিতে । রাসলীলার গীত-শ্লোক পড়িতে শুনিতে ॥ ৫ ॥

udyāne udyāne bhramena kautuka dekhite
in garden after garden wanders wonders to see rāsa-līlāra gīta-śloka paḍite śunite
of the rāsa pastime songs verses reciting hearing

5 He wandered from garden to garden, delighting in their wonders, reciting and hearing songs and verses about the rāsa dance.

প্রভু প্রেমাবেশে করেন গান, নর্ত্তন । কভু প্রেমাবেশে রাসলীলানুকরণ ॥ ৬ ॥

prabhu premāveśe karena gāna, nartana
the Lord absorbed in love does singing dancing
kabhu premāveśe rāsa-līlānukaraṇa
sometimes absorbed in love of the rāsa pastime imitation

6 Absorbed in love, the Lord sang and danced, and at times, in that same rapture, He enacted the rāsa-līlā.

কভু ভাবোন্মাদে প্রভু ইতি-উতি ধায় । ভূমে পড়ি' কভু মূর্চ্ছা, কভু গড়ি' যায় ॥ ৭ ॥

kabhu bhāvonmāde prabhu iti-uti dhāya
sometimes in the madness of feeling the Lord here and there runs bhūme paḍi' kabhu mūrcchā, kabhu gaḍi' yāya
on the ground falling sometimes swoons sometimes rolling goes

7 Sometimes, in the madness of ecstatic feeling, the Lord ran here and there; sometimes He fell to the ground and swooned, and sometimes He rolled about.

রাসলীলার এক শ্লোক যবে পড়ে, শুনে । পূর্ব্ববৎ তবে অর্থ করেন আপনে ॥ ৮ ॥

rāsa-līlāra eka śloka yabe paḍe, śune
of the rāsa pastime one verse when recites hears pūrvavat tabe artha karena āpane
as before then the meaning gives Himself

8 Whenever He recited or heard a verse about the rāsa-līlā, He Himself would explain its meaning, as before.

Reading and explaining all the "Five Chapters on the Rāsa," the Lord feels joy and sorrow at once —

এইমত রাসলীলায় হয় যত শ্লোক । সবার অর্থ করে, পায় কভু হর্ষ-শোক ॥ ৯ ॥

ei-mata rāsa-līlāya haya yata śloka
in this way in the rāsa-līlā are as many verses sabāra artha kare, pāya kabhu harṣa-śoka
of all the meaning gives feels sometimes joy sorrow

9 In this way He explained the meaning of every verse about the rāsa-līlā, feeling now joy, now sorrow.

Anubhāṣya.
Joy is in Kṛṣṇa's pastimes of union (sambhoga), and sorrow in the gopīs' pastimes of separation (vipralambha).

Fearing to make the book too long, the author refrains from describing it —

সে সব শ্লোকের অর্থ, সে সব 'বিকার' । সে সব বর্ণিতে গ্রন্থ হয় অতি-বিস্তার ॥ ১০ ॥

se saba ślokera artha, se saba 'vikāra'
of those all verses the meaning those all transformations
se saba varṇite grantha haya ati-vistāra
those all to describe the book becomes very long

10 To describe the meaning of all those verses and all those ecstatic transformations would make the book far too long.

দ্বাদশ বৎসরে যে যে লীলা ক্ষণে ক্ষণে । অতিবাহুল্য-ভয়ে গ্রন্থ না কৈলুঁ লিখনে ॥ ১১ ॥

dvādaśa vatsare ye ye līlā kṣaṇe kṣaṇe
in twelve years whatever pastimes moment by moment
ati-bāhulya-bhaye grantha nā kailuṁ likhane
of excessive length for fear in the book not did I write

11 For fear of excessive length, I have not written down all the pastimes that took place moment by moment during those twelve years.

Earlier only a direction was indicated —

পূর্ব্বে যেই দেখাঞাছি দিগ্দরশন । তৈছে জানিহ 'বিকার' 'প্রলাপ'-বর্ণন ॥ ১২ ॥

pūrve yei dekhāñāchi dig-daraśana before as I have shown the direction indicating taiche jāniha 'vikāra' 'pralāpa'-varṇana
so know of the transformations of the ravings the description

12 As before, I have only pointed the way; understand this description of His ecstatic transformations and ravings in the same way.

Even Bhagavān Śeṣa is unable to measure the Lord's pastimes —

সহস্র-বদনে যবে কহয়ে 'অনন্ত' । একদিনের লীলার তবু নাহি পায় অন্ত ॥ ১৩ ॥

sahasra-vadane yabe kahaye 'ananta'
with a thousand mouths if speaks Ananta
eka-dinera līlāra tabu nāhi pāya anta
of one day's pastimes still not finds the end

13 Even if Ananta were to describe them with His thousand mouths, He could not reach the end of the pastimes of a single day.

For Gaṇeśa, the best of the scribes of heaven, it is utterly impossible —

কোটিযুগ পর্য্যন্ত যদি লিখয়ে গণেশ । একদিনের লীলার তবু নাহি পায় শেষ ॥ ১৪ ॥

koṭi-yuga paryanta yadi likhaye gaṇeśa
ten million ages for if were to write Gaṇeśa
eka-dinera līlāra tabu nāhi pāya śeṣa
of one day's pastimes still not finds the end

14 Even if Gaṇeśa were to write for ten million ages, he could not come to the end of the pastimes of a single day.

Even Kṛṣṇa Himself is amazed to see the love of the gopīs — ভক্তের প্রেম-বিকার দেখি' কৃষ্ণের চমৎকার !

কৃষ্ণ যার না পায় অন্ত, কেবা ছার আর ? ॥ ১৫ ॥

bhaktera prema-vikāra dekhi' kṛṣṇera camatkāra!
of the devotee love's transformations seeing Kṛṣṇa's wonder
kṛṣṇa yāra nā pāya anta, kebā chāra āra?
Kṛṣṇa whose not finds end who insignificant else

15 Seeing the transformations of love in His devotee, even Kṛṣṇa is struck with wonder! If Kṛṣṇa Himself cannot find their end, what hope is there for any lesser being?

To fathom the gopīs' love and know the measure of its taste, Kṛṣṇa accepts the mood of the gopīs —

ভক্ত-প্রেমার যে দশা, যে গতি প্রকার । যত দুঃখ, যত সুখ, যতেক বিকার ॥ ১৬ ॥

কৃষ্ণ তাহা সম্যক্ না পারে জানিতে । ভক্তভাব অঙ্গীকরে তাহা আস্বাদিতে ॥ ১৭ ॥

bhakta-premāra ye daśā, ye gati prakāra
of the devotee's love which states which courses kinds yata duḥkha, yata sukha, yateka vikāra
as much sorrow as much happiness as many transformations
kṛṣṇa tāhā samyak nā pāre jānite Kṛṣṇa that fully not can know bhakta-bhāva aṅgīkare tāhā āsvādite
a devotee's mood accepts that to taste

16–17 Kṛṣṇa cannot fully know all the states of His devotee's love, its courses and its kinds, all its sorrow, all its happiness and all its transformations. So, to taste them, He accepts the mood of a devotee.

The wondrous power of love for Kṛṣṇa —

কৃষ্ণেরে নাচায় প্রেমা, ভক্তেরে নাচায় । আপনে নাচয়ে, — তিনে নাচে একঠাঞি ॥ ১৮ ॥

kṛṣṇere nācāya premā, bhaktere nācāya Kṛṣṇa makes dance love the devotee makes dance
āpane nācaye, — tine nāce eka-ṭhāñi itself dances the three dance in one place

18 Love makes Kṛṣṇa dance and makes the devotee dance, and it dances itself: all three dance together in one place.

Love, which is the relishing of Kṛṣṇa's sweetness, is beyond the power of description even of Bhagavān Himself —

প্রেমার বিকার বর্ণিতে চাহে যেই জন । চান্দ ধরিতে চাহে, যেন হঞা 'বামন' ॥ ১৯ ॥

premāra vikāra varṇite cāhe yei jana of love the transformations to describe wants whoever person cānda dharite cāhe, yena hañā 'vāmana'
the moon to catch wants as if being a dwarf

19 Whoever wants to describe the transformations of love is like a dwarf who wants to catch the moon.

*The jīva, a particle, a spiritual atom (cit-paramāṇu), is fit only to touch a drop of the transcendental ocean of love*

for Kṛṣṇa —

বায়ু যৈছে সিন্ধু-জলের হরে এক ‘কণ’ । কৃষ্ণপ্রেম-কণ তৈছে জীবের স্পর্শন ॥ ২০ ॥

vāyu yaiche sindhu-jalera hare eka ‘kaṇa’
the wind as of the ocean’s water carries off one drop kṛṣṇa-prema-kaṇa taiche jīvera sparśana of Kṛṣṇa love a drop so of the living being the touch

20 As the wind carries off a single drop of the ocean’s water, so a living being can touch only a drop of love for Kṛṣṇa.

ক্ষণে ক্ষণে উঠে প্রেমার তরঙ্গ অনন্ত । জীব ছার কাঁহা তার পাইবেক অন্ত ? ॥ ২১ ॥

kṣaṇe kṣaṇe uṭhe premāra taraṅga ananta moment by moment rise of love waves endless
jīva chāra kāṁhā tāra pāibeka anta?
a living being insignificant how their will find end

21 Moment by moment endless waves of love rise up. How could an insignificant living being ever find their end?

Only Svarūpa, Rāma Rāya and others — the host of Kṛṣṇa's potencies — are fit to perceive the Lord's feelings —

শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য যাহা করেন আস্বাদন । সবে এক জানে তাহা স্বরূপাদি ‘গণ’ ॥ ২২ ॥

śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanya yāhā karena āsvādana Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya what does tasting sabe eka jāne tāhā svarūpādi ‘gaṇa’
only alone know that Svarūpa and the others the circle

22 Only Svarūpa and the others of His inner circle know what Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya tasted.

জীব হঞা করে যেই তাহার বর্ণন । আপনা শোধিতে তার ছোঁয়ে এক ‘কণ’ ॥ ২৩ ॥

jīva hañā kare yei tāhāra varṇana
a living being being makes whoever of it description
āpanā śodhite tāra choṁye eka ‘kaṇa’
himself to purify of it touches one drop

23 When a mere living being describes it, he touches but a single drop of it, to purify himself.

The Lord recites the verse on Kṛṣṇa's water pastimes with the gopīs —

এইমত রাসের শ্লোকসকল পড়িলা । শেষে জলকেলির শ্লোক পড়িতে লাগিলা ॥ ২৪ ॥

ei-mata rāsera śloka-sakala paḍilā
in this way of the rāsa verses all recited śeṣe jala-kelira śloka paḍite lāgilā
at the end of the water pastimes a verse to recite began

24 In this way the Lord recited all the verses about the rāsa dance, and at the end He began to recite a verse about the water pastimes:

তাভির্যুতঃ শ্রমমপোহিতুমঙ্গসঙ্গ-ঘৃষ্টস্রজঃ স কুচকুঙ্কুমরঞ্জিতায়াঃ ।
গন্ধর্ব্বপালিভিরনুদ্রুত আবিশদ্বাঃ শ্রান্তো গজীভিরিভরাড়িব ভিন্নসেতুঃ ॥ ২৫ ॥

tābhir yutaḥ śramam apohitum aṅga-saṅga-
with them accompanied fatigue to remove of bodies by the contact ghṛṣṭa-srajaḥ sa kuca-kuṅkuma-rañjitāyāḥ crushed garland's He from the breasts with kuṅkuma reddened
gandharva-pālibhir anudruta āviśad vāḥ
by bees like the lords of the Gandharvas followed entered the water śrānto gajībhir ibha-rāḍ iva bhinna-setuḥ weary with she-elephants the king of elephants like having broken the dikes

25 "Weary, Kṛṣṇa entered the water with the gopīs to relieve His fatigue, as a king of elephants who has broken through the dikes enters the water with his she-elephants; for He too had passed beyond the bounds of worldly convention. His garland, crushed by the contact of their bodies, was reddened with kuṅkuma from the gopīs' breasts, and bees followed Him, singing like the lords of the Gandharvas." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.33.22)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
As the king of elephants sports in the water with his she-elephants, so Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa, who is beyond worldly codes, tired from the rāsa-līlā with the gopīs, entered the water to relieve His fatigue. Bees followed Him (flew close behind Him) like the lords of the Gandharvas. At that time His garland, colored with the kuṅkuma from the gopīs' breasts, had been crushed (pressed) by contact with their bodies.

Anubhāṣya.
> (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.33.22)

Śrī Śukadeva, the mahā-bhāgavata, the crest jewel of the line of paramahaṁsas, describes to Parīkṣit, whose heart is pure, the transcendental rāsa pastime of Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa with the transcendental gopīs:

śrāntaḥ, saḥ (Śrī Kṛṣṇa) śramam (the fatigue of play) apohitum (to remove) aṅga-saṅga-ghṛṣṭa-srajaḥ (of the garland [srak] of kunda flowers crushed [ghṛṣṭā, sammarditā] by bodily contact; and therefore) kuca-kuṅkuma-rañjitāyāḥ (colored with the kuṅkuma of the breasts; [by bees] connected with it) gandharva-pālibhiḥ (gandharva-pāḥ are the lords of the Gandharvas; by bees that sing like them) anudrutaḥ (followed) tābhiḥ yutaḥ bhinna-setuḥ (having broken through the embankment; as for Kṛṣṇa, Bhagavān Himself, having transgressed the bounds of worldly convention) gajībhiḥ ibha-rāṭ (the king of elephants) iva vāḥ (the water) āviśat (entered).

Taking the ocean for the Yamunā, the Lord leaps into it and loses consciousness —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু ভ্রমিতে ভ্রমিতে । আইটোটা হৈতে সমুদ্র দেখেন আচম্বিতে ॥ ২৬ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu bhramite bhramite
in this way Mahāprabhu wandering wandering āiṭoṭā haite samudra dekhena ācambite Āiṭoṭā from the ocean sees suddenly

26 Wandering about in this way, Mahāprabhu suddenly saw the ocean from Āiṭoṭā.

চন্দ্রকান্ত্যে উছলিত তরঙ্গ উজ্জ্বল । ঝলমল করে, — যেন 'যমুনার জল' ॥ ২৭ ॥

candra-kāntye uchalita taraṅga ujjvala
in the moon's radiance surging waves bright jhalamala kare, — yena 'yamunāra jala'
glittering make as if the Yamunā's water

27 The surging waves, bright in the moonlight, glittered like the waters of the Yamunā.

যমুনার ভ্রমে প্রভু ধাঞা চলিলা । অলক্ষিতে যাই' সিন্ধু-জলে ঝাঁপ দিলা ॥ ২৮ ॥

yamunāra bhrame prabhu dhāñā calilā for the Yamunā mistaking the Lord running went alakṣite yāi' sindhu-jale jhāṁpa dilā unnoticed going into the ocean's water a leap gave

28 Taking it for the Yamunā, the Lord ran towards it and, unnoticed by anyone, leapt into the ocean.

পড়িতেই হৈল মূর্চ্ছা, কিছুই না জানে । কভু ডুবায়, কভু ভাসায় তরঙ্গের গণে ॥ ২৯ ॥

paḍitei haila mūrcchā, kichui nā jāne
on falling there was a swoon nothing not knows kabhu ḍubāya, kabhu bhāsāya taraṅgera gaṇe
sometimes sink sometimes float of waves the host

29 As soon as He fell in, He swooned and knew nothing. The waves now sank Him beneath the water, now raised Him to the surface.

তরঙ্গে বহিয়া ফিরে, — যেন শুষ্ক কাষ্ঠ । কে বুঝিতে পারে এই চৈতন্যের নাট ? ॥ ৩০ ॥

taraṅge vahiyā phire, — yena śuṣka kāṣṭha
by the waves carried drifts like a dry log ke bujhite pāre ei caitanyera nāṭa?
who to understand can this Caitanya's drama

30 Carried by the waves, He drifted about like a dry log. Who can understand this wondrous dance of Caitanya?

Unconscious, the Lord floats on the waves toward Koṇārka —

কোণার্কের দিকে প্রভুরে তরঙ্গে লঞা যায় । কভু ডুবাঞা রাখে, কভু ভাসাঞা লঞা যায় ॥ ৩১ ॥

koṇārkera dike prabhure taraṅge lañā yāya
of Koṇārka towards the Lord the waves taking go kabhu ḍubāñā rākhe, kabhu bhāsāñā lañā yāya
sometimes sinking keep sometimes floating taking go

31 The waves carried the Lord towards Koṇārka, sometimes keeping Him under the water, sometimes bearing Him along on the surface.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Koṇārka is Arka-tīrtha, which is nowadays called "Kaṇārak."

Anubhāṣya.
Koṇārka stands on the seashore 19 miles north of Puri, at latitude 19°53′25″ north. At the beginning of the thirteenth century of the Śaka era, an attempt was made here to build a temple of the Sun of black stone — an outstanding example of architectural skill.

*The udghūrṇā of the Lord, absorbed in feeling and thinking Himself a maidservant of the gopīs —*

যমুনাতে জলকেলি গোপীগণ-সঙ্গে । কৃষ্ণ করেন — মহাপ্রভু মগ্ন সেই রঙ্গে ॥ ৩২ ॥

yamunāte jala-keli gopī-gaṇa-saṅge
in the Yamunā water pastimes the gopīs with kṛṣṇa karena — mahāprabhu magna sei raṅge
Kṛṣṇa performs Mahāprabhu absorbed in that play

32 Kṛṣṇa was enjoying water pastimes with the gopīs in the Yamunā, and Mahāprabhu was absorbed in that play.

Anubhāṣya.
See Antya 18.80–82.

Svarūpa and the others search for the Lord —

ইঁহা স্বরূপাদিগণ প্রভু না দেখিয়া ।
'কাঁহা গেলা প্রভু?' কহে চমকিত হঞা ॥ ৩৩ ॥

iṁhā svarūpādi-gaṇa prabhu nā dekhiyā here Svarūpa and the others the Lord not seeing
'kāṁhā gelā prabhu?' kahe camakita hañā
where has gone the Lord say startled being

33 Meanwhile Svarūpa and the others, not seeing the Lord, cried out in alarm, "Where has the Lord gone?"

The devotees know the Lord to be independent, for His power of will is unrestrained —

মনোবেগে গেলা প্রভু, দেখিতে নারিলা । প্রভুরে না দেখিয়া সংশয় করিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৩৪ ॥

mano-vege gelā prabhu, dekhite nārilā with the speed of the mind went the Lord to see could not prabhure nā dekhiyā saṁśaya karite lāgilā
the Lord not seeing doubts to make began

34 The Lord had gone with the speed of the mind, and no one saw Him go. With Him nowhere to be seen, they began to wonder:

Inner deliberation —

'জগন্নাথ দেখিতে, কিবা দেবালয়ে গেলা ?
অন্য উদ্যানে, কিবা উন্মাদে পড়িলা ? ॥ ৩৫ ॥

'jagannātha dekhite, kibā devālaye gelā?
Jagannātha to see or to a temple went anya udyāne, kibā unmāde paḍilā?
in another garden or in madness fell

35 "Has He gone to see Jagannātha, or to some other temple? Into another garden? Or has He fallen down somewhere in His madness?

গুণ্ডিচা-মন্দিরে গেলা, কিবা নরেন্দ্রেরে ?
চটক-পর্ব্বতে গেলা, কিবা কোণার্কেরে ?' ॥ ৩৬ ॥

guṇḍicā-mandire gelā, kibā narendrere?
to the Guṇḍicā temple went or to Narendra caṭaka-parvate gelā, kibā koṇārkere?'
to Caṭaka hill went or to Koṇārka

36 Has He gone to the Guṇḍicā temple, or to Narendra Lake? To the Caṭaka hill, or to Koṇārka?"

The devotees go to the seashore —

এত বলি' সবে ফিরে প্রভুরে চাহিয়া । সমুদ্রের তীরে আইলা কত জন লঞা ॥ ৩৭ ॥

eta bali' sabe phire prabhure cāhiyā
this saying all wander the Lord looking for samudrera tīre āilā kata jana lañā
of the ocean to the shore came some people taking

37 Saying this, they all went about looking for the Lord, and then came to the seashore, taking a few others with them.

*Not finding the Lord, they conclude that He has departed (antardhāna) —*

চাহিয়ে বেড়াইতে ঐছে রাত্রি-শেষ হৈল ।
'অন্তর্দ্ধান হইলা প্রভু', — নিশ্চয় করিল ॥ ৩৮ ॥

cāhiye beḍāite aiche rātri-śeṣa haila searching wandering thus of the night the end came 'antarddhāna hailā prabhu', — niścaya karila departure has made the Lord conclusion made

38 In this search the night came to an end, and they concluded, "The Lord has departed."

In their hearts the devotees fear misfortune —

প্রভুর বিচ্ছেদে কার দেহে নাহি প্রাণ । অনিষ্টাশঙ্কা বিনা কার মনে নাহি আন ॥ ৩৯ ॥

prabhura vicchede kāra dehe nāhi prāṇa
the Lord's in separation whose in the body not life
aniṣṭā-śaṅkā vinā kāra mane nāhi āna
of harm fear except whose in the mind not other

39 In separation from the Lord they all felt as if life had left their bodies, and no one could think of anything but the fear that some harm had come to Him.

*When the beloved is not seen, the loving heart fears misfortune — (Abhijñāna-śakuntala, Act 4: Priyaṁvadā's words to Śakuntalā)*

অনিষ্টাশঙ্কীনি বন্ধুহৃদয়ানি ভবন্তি হি ॥ ৪০ ॥

aniṣṭā-śaṅkīni bandhu-hṛdayāni bhavanti hi
harm fearing of loved ones hearts are indeed

40 "The hearts of those who love always fear some harm." (Abhijñāna-śakuntala, Act 4)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A friend's heart always fears that harm may befall the friend.

Anubhāṣya.

In the drama itself this reading is found: “sineho pāvasaṅkī” or “sineho pāvamāsaṅkadi.”[3]

All together search for the Lord —

সমুদ্রের তীরে আসি’ যুকতি করিলা । চিরায়ু-পর্ব্বত-দিকে কতজন গেলা ॥ ৪১ ॥

samudrera tīre āsi’ yukati karilā of the ocean to the shore coming counsel took cirāyu-parvata-dike kata-jana gelā Cirāyu hill towards some people went 41 Coming to the seashore, they took counsel together, and some of them went towards the Cirāyu hill.

Anubhāṣya.
Cirāyu-parvata is Caṭaka-parvata.

পূর্ব্ব-দিশায় চলে স্বরূপ লঞা কত জন । সিন্ধু-তীরে-নীরে করেন প্রভুর অন্বেষণ ॥ ৪২ ॥

pūrva-diśāya cale svarūpa lañā kata jana eastern direction goes Svarūpa taking some people sindhu-tīre-nīre karena prabhura anveṣaṇa
of the ocean on the shore in the water makes the Lord’s search

42 Svarūpa went east with a few others, searching for the Lord along the shore and in the waters of the sea.

বিষাদে বিহ্বল সবে নাহিক ‘চেতন’ । তবু প্রেমে বুলে করি’ প্রভুর অন্বেষণ ॥ ৪৩ ॥

viṣāde vihvala sabe nāhika ‘cetana’
with grief overwhelmed all not consciousness
tabu preme bule kari’ prabhura anveṣaṇa
yet in love wander making the Lord’s search

43 They were all overwhelmed with grief and hardly conscious, yet, moved by love, they kept on searching for Him.

The meeting with a fisherman overwhelmed by a wondrous feeling —

দেখেন, এক জালিয়া আইসে কান্ধে জাল করি’ ।
হাসে, কান্দে, নাচে, গায়, বলে ‘হরি’ ‘হরি’ ॥ ৪৪ ॥

dekhena, eka jāliyā āise kāndhe jāla kari’
they see a fisherman comes on his shoulder net carrying hāse, kānde, nāce, gāya, bale ‘hari’ ‘hari’
laughs weeps dances sings says Hari Hari

44 Then they saw a fisherman coming along with his net on his shoulder. He was laughing, weeping, dancing and singing, and saying, “Hari! Hari!”

The fisherman is asked why he is overwhelmed by such feeling —

জালিয়ার চেষ্টা দেখি’ সবার চমৎকার । স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তারে পুছেন সমাচার ॥ ৪৫ ॥

jāliyāra ceṣṭā dekhi' sabāra camatkāra
the fisherman's behaviour seeing of all wonder svarūpa-gosāñi tāre puchena samācāra
Svarūpa Gosāñi him asks news

45 Everyone was astonished to see how the fisherman was behaving, and Svarūpa Gosāñi asked him what had happened:

The fisherman, "possessed by a spirit," gives news of the Lord and describes His condition —

কহ, জালিয়া, এইদিকে দেখিলা একজন ?
তোমার এই দশা কেনে, — কহ ত' কারণ ? ॥ ৪৬ ॥

kaha, jāliyā, ei-dike dekhilā eka-jana?
tell fisherman this way did you see one person
tomāra ei daśā kene, — kaha ta' kāraṇa?
your this state why tell please the reason

46 "Tell us, fisherman, have you seen someone around here? And why are you in such a state? Tell us the reason."

জালিয়া কহে, — ইঁহা এক মনুষ্য না দেখিল । জাল বাহিতে এক মৃত মোর জালে আইল ॥ ৪৭ ॥

jāliyā kahe, — iṁhā eka manuṣya nā dekhila
the fisherman says here a single man not I saw jāla vāhite eka mṛta mora jāle āila
the net while drawing a dead body my into the net came 47 The fisherman said, "I have not seen a single person here. But as I was drawing in my net, a dead body came into it.

বড় মৎস্য বলি' আমি উঠাইলুঁ যতনে । মৃতক দেখিতে মোর ভয় হৈল মনে ॥ ৪৮ ॥

baḍa matsya bali' āmi uṭhāiluṁ yatane
a big fish thinking I hauled up with effort mṛtaka dekhite mora bhaya haila mane
the corpse on seeing my fear came in the mind

48 Thinking it was a big fish, I hauled it up with great effort, but when I saw the corpse my heart was filled with fear.

জাল খসাইতে তার অঙ্গ-স্পর্শ হইল । স্পর্শমাত্রে সেই ভূত হৃদয়ে পশিল ॥ ৪৯ ॥

jāla khasāite tāra aṅga-sparśa haila
the net while freeing his body touch there was sparśa-mātre sei bhūta hṛdaye paśila
at the mere touch that spirit into my heart entered

49 As I was freeing the net, I touched his body, and at that very touch the spirit entered my heart.

ভয়ে কম্প হৈল, মোর নেত্রে বহে জল । গদগদ বাণী, রোম উঠিল সকল ॥ ৫০ ॥

bhaye kampa haila, mora netre vahe jala
from fear trembling came my from the eyes flows water gadgada vāṇī, roma uṭhila sakala choked voice hairs stood up all

50 I began to tremble with fear, tears flowed from my eyes, my voice choked, and all my hair stood on end.

কিবা ব্রহ্মদৈত্য, কিবা ভূত, কহনে না যায় । দর্শনমাত্রে মনুষ্যের পৈশে সেই কায় ॥ ৫১ ॥

kibā brahma-daitya, kibā bhūta, kahane nā yāya
whether a brahma-daitya or a spirit to say not possible darśana-mātre manuṣyera paiśe sei kāya
at the mere sight a man's enters it body

51 Whether it is a brahma-daitya or a spirit, I cannot say, but the moment anyone sees it, it enters his body.

শরীর দীঘল তার — হাত পাঁচ-সাত । একেক-হস্ত-পদ তার, তিন তিন হাত ॥ ৫২ ॥

śarīra dīghala tāra — hāta pāṁca-sāta
the body long his cubits five or seven ekeka-hasta-pada tāra, tina tina hāta
each arm leg his three three cubits

52 His body is long — five or seven cubits — and each of his arms and legs is three cubits long.

অস্থি-সন্ধি ছুটি' চর্ম্ম করে নড়-বড়ে । তাহা দেখি' প্রাণ কা'র নাহি রহে ধড়ে ॥ ৫৩ ॥

asthi-sandhi chuṭi' carma kare naḍa-baḍe
of the bones joints coming loose the skin makes hangs slack
tāhā dekhi' prāṇa kā'ra nāhi rahe dhaḍe
that seeing life whose not stays in the body

53 The joints of his bones have come loose, and his skin hangs slack. Who could see that and not have the life frightened out of him?

মড়া-রূপ ধরি' রহে উত্তান-নয়ন । কভু গোঁ গোঁ করে, কভু দেখি অচেতন ॥ ৫৪ ॥

maḍā-rūpa dhari' rahe uttāna-nayana
a corpse's form taking stays upturned eyes
kabhu goṁ goṁ kare, kabhu dekhi acetana
sometimes goṅ goṅ makes sometimes I see unconscious

54 He lies there like a corpse, his eyes turned upward. Sometimes he makes a sound — "goṅ, goṅ" — and sometimes I see him lying unconscious.

সাক্ষাৎ দেখেছোঁ, — মোরে পাইল সেই ভূত । মুই মৈলে মোর কৈছে জীবে স্ত্রী-পুত্ ॥ ৫৫ ॥

sākṣāt dekhechoṁ, — more pāila sei bhūta
with my own eyes I have seen me has seized that spirit
mui maile mora kaiche jīve strī-put
I if I die my how will live wife children

55 I have seen him with my own eyes, and that spirit has seized me. If I die, how will my wife and children live?

Anubhāṣya.
jīve — will live.

সেই ত' ভূতের কথা কহন না যায় । ওঝা-ঠাঞি যাইছো, — যদি সে ভূত ছাড়ায় ॥ ৫৬ ॥

sei ta' bhūtera kathā kahana nā yāya
of that indeed spirit the story telling not possible
ojhā-ṭhāñi yāicho, — yadi se bhūta chāḍāya
to the exorcist I am going if he the spirit drives out

56 That spirit is beyond describing. I am going to an exorcist — perhaps he can drive the spirit out.

Remembering Śrī Nṛsiṁha destroys every danger —

একা রাত্র্যে বুলি' মৎস্য মারিয়ে নির্জ্জনে । ভূত-প্রেত আমার না লাগে 'নৃসিংহ'-স্মরণে ॥ ৫৭ ॥

ekā rātrye buli' matsya māriye nirjane alone at night wandering fish I catch in lonely places
bhūta-preta āmāra nā lāge 'nṛsiṁha'-smaraṇe spirits ghosts to me not attach Nṛsiṁha by remembering

57 I wander alone at night, catching fish in lonely places, yet spirits and ghosts do not touch me, because I remember Nṛsiṁha.

এই ভূত নৃসিংহ-নামে চাপয়ে দ্বিগুণে । তাহার আকার দেখিতে ভয় লাগে মনে ॥ ৫৮ ॥

ei bhūta nṛsiṁha-nāme cāpaye dviguṇe
this spirit at Nṛsiṁha's name presses twice as hard tāhāra ākāra dekhite bhaya lāge mane
his form seeing fear strikes the mind

58 But at the name of Nṛsiṁha this spirit presses on me twice as hard. The mere sight of his form fills my mind with fear.

ওথা না যাইহ, আমি নিষেধি তোমারে । তাঁহা গেলে সেই ভূত লাগিবে সবারে ॥ ৫৯ ॥

othā nā yāiha, āmi niṣedhi tomāre
there not go I forbid you tāṁhā gele sei bhūta lāgibe sabāre
there if you go that spirit will seize all

59 Do not go there — I forbid you! If you go there, that spirit will seize you all."

Svarūpa rightly infers that he has found the Lord's trail —

এত শুনি' স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি সব তত্ত্ব জানি' । জালিয়ারে কিছু কয় সুমধুর বাণী ॥ ৬০ ॥

eta śuni' svarūpa-gosāñi saba tattva jāni'
this hearing Svarūpa Gosāñi the whole truth knowing jāliyāre kichu kaya sumadhura vāṇī
to the fisherman some speaks very sweet words

60 Hearing this, Svarūpa Gosāñi understood the whole truth and spoke to the fisherman in sweet words:

Svarūpa reassures the fisherman and frees him from fear —

'আমি — বড় ওঝা, জানি ভূত ছাড়াইতে' । মন্ত্র পড়ি' শ্রীহস্ত দিলা তাহার মাথাতে ॥ ৬১ ॥

'āmi — baḍa ojhā, jāni bhūta chāḍāite'
I a great exorcist I know how spirits to drive out mantra paḍi' śrī-hasta dilā tāhāra māthāte
a mantra reciting holy hand placed his on the head

61 "I am a great exorcist; I know how to drive out spirits." Reciting a mantra, he placed his holy hand on the fisherman's head.

তিন চাপড় মারি' কহে, — 'ভূত পলাইল । ভয় না পাইহ' — বলি' সুস্থির করিল ॥ ৬২ ॥

tina cāpaḍa māri' kahe, — 'bhūta palāila
three slaps giving says the spirit has fled bhaya nā pāiha' — bali' susthira karila fear not have saying calm made

62 Then he slapped the fisherman three times and calmed him, saying, "The spirit has fled. Do not be afraid!"

একে প্রেম, আরে ভয় — দ্বিগুণ অস্থির । ভয়-অংশ গেল, — সে হৈল কিছু ধীর ॥ ৬৩ ॥

eke prema, āre bhaya — dviguṇa asthira
on one side love on the other fear doubly restless bhaya-aṁśa gela, — se haila kichu dhīra
of fear the part went he became somewhat calm

63 Love on the one hand and fear on the other had made him doubly restless. Now that the fear was gone, he recovered himself a little.

Svarūpa reveals who this is —

স্বরূপ কহে, — যাঁরে তুমি কর 'ভূত'-জ্ঞান । ভূত নহে, — তেঁহো কৃষ্ণচৈতন্য ভগবান্ ॥ ৬৪ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — yāṁre tumi kara 'bhūta'-jñāna Svarūpa says whom you make a spirit the notion bhūta nahe, — teṁho kṛṣṇa-caitanya bhagavān
a spirit is not He Kṛṣṇa Caitanya the Supreme Lord

64 Svarūpa said, "The one you take for a spirit is no spirit at all. He is Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the Supreme Lord.

প্রেমাবেশে পড়িলা তেঁহো সমুদ্রের জলে । তাঁরে তুমি উঠাইলা আপনার জালে ॥ ৬৫ ॥

premāveśe paḍilā teṁho samudrera jale absorbed in love fell He of the ocean into the water
tāṁre tumi uṭhāilā āpanāra jāle
Him you hauled up in your own net

65 Absorbed in love, He fell into the sea, and you hauled Him up in your net.

তাঁর স্পর্শে হইল তোমার কৃষ্ণপ্রেমোদয় । ভূত-প্রেত-জ্ঞানে তোমার হৈল মহাভয় ॥ ৬৬ ॥

tāṁra sparśe haila tomāra kṛṣṇa-premodaya
His by the touch arose your for Kṛṣṇa love's awakening bhūta-preta-jñāne tomāra haila mahā-bhaya
a spirit ghost thinking your arose great fear

66 By His touch love for Kṛṣṇa awoke in you, but because you thought He was a spirit or a ghost, you were seized by great fear.

Svarūpa tells the fisherman to show him the Lord —

এবে ভয় গেল, তোমার মন হৈল স্থিরে । কাঁহা তাঁরে উঠাঞাছ, দেখাহ আমারে ॥ ৬৭ ॥

ebe bhaya gela, tomāra mana haila sthire
now the fear has gone your mind has become calm kāṁhā tāṁre uṭhāñācha, dekhāha āmāre
where Him you have hauled up show me

67 Now the fear has gone, and your mind is calm. Show me where you hauled Him up."

Confusion of mind —

জালিয়া কহে, — প্রভুরে দেখ্যাছোঁ বারবার । তেঁহো নহেন, এই অতিবিকৃত আকার ॥ ৬৮ ॥

jāliyā kahe, — prabhure dekhyāchoṁ bāra-bāra
the fisherman says the Lord I have seen again and again
teṁho nahena, ei ati-vikṛta ākāra
He is not this very distorted form

68 The fisherman said, "I have seen the Lord many times. That is not Him — this one has a terribly distorted form."

Svarūpa speaks of the Lord's love —

স্বরূপ কহে, — তাঁর হয় প্রেমের বিকার । অস্থি-সন্ধি ছাড়ে, হয় অতি দীর্ঘাকার ॥ ৬৯ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — tāṁra haya premera vikāra Svarūpa says in Him occur of love transformations
asthi-sandhi chāḍe, haya ati dīrghākāra
of the bones joints come apart becomes very long in form

69 Svarūpa said, "These are transformations of love in Him: the joints of His bones come apart, and His body grows very long."

The fisherman shows the Lord to everyone; the Lord's condition —

শুনি' সেই জালিয়া আনন্দিত হইল । সবা লঞা গেল, মহাপ্রভুরে দেখাইল ॥ ৭০ ॥

śuni' sei jāliyā ānandita haila hearing that fisherman delighted became sabā lañā gela, mahāprabhure dekhāila all taking went Mahāprabhu showed

70 Hearing this, the fisherman was delighted. He took them all along and showed them Mahāprabhu.

ভূমিতে পড়ি' আছেন দীর্ঘ সব কায় । জলে শ্বেত-তনু, বালু লাগিয়াছে গায় ॥ ৭১ ॥

bhūmite paḍi' āchena dīrgha saba kāya
on the ground fallen He lies long whole body
jale śveta-tanu, bālu lāgiyāche gāya
from the water white body sand has stuck to the body

71 He was lying on the ground, His whole body elongated, white from the water and covered with sand.

অতিদীর্ঘ শিথিল তনু-চর্ম্ম নট্‌কায় । দূর পথ উঠাঞা আনান না যায় ॥ ৭২ ॥

ati-dīrgha śithila tanu-carma naṭkāya
very long slack of the body the skin hangs loose
dūra patha uṭhāñā ānāna nā yāya
a long way lifting to bring not possible

72 His body was very long and slack, and its skin hung loose. It was impossible to lift Him and carry Him so far.

Efforts and service to restore the Lord's consciousness —

আর্দ্র কৌপীন দূর করি' শুষ্ক পরাঞা । বহির্ব্বাসে শোয়াইলা বালুকা ছাড়াঞা ॥ ৭৩ ॥

ārdra kaupīna dūra kari' śuṣka parāñā
the wet loincloth removing a dry putting on bahirvāse śoyāilā vālukā chāḍāñā
on the outer cloth laid the sand brushing off

73 They removed His wet loincloth and dressed Him in a dry one, brushed off the sand and laid Him on His outer cloth.

*Everyone performs loud saṅkīrtana —*

সবে মেলি' উচ্চ করি' করেন সঙ্কীর্ত্তনে । উচ্চ করি' কৃষ্ণনাম কহেন প্রভুর কাণে ॥ ৭৪ ॥

sabe meli' ucca kari' karena saṅkīrtane
all together loudly doing perform saṅkīrtana
ucca kari' kṛṣṇa-nāma kahena prabhura kāṇe loudly doing Kṛṣṇa's name say of the Lord into the ear

74 Then all of them together began loud saṅkīrtana, chanting the name of Kṛṣṇa loudly into the Lord's ear.

The Lord comes to half-external consciousness —

কতক্ষণে প্রভুর কাণে শব্দ পরশিল । হুঙ্কার করিয়া প্রভু তবহিঁ উঠিল ॥ ৭৫ ॥

kata-kṣaṇe prabhura kāṇe śabda paraśila
after some time the Lord's ear the sound touched huṅkāra kariyā prabhu tabahiṁ uṭhila
a loud cry making the Lord at once rose

75 After some time the sound reached His ears, and with a mighty cry He at once rose up.

উঠিতেই অস্থি সব লাগিল নিজ-স্থানে ।
'অর্দ্ধবাহ্যে' ইতি-উতি করেন দরশনে ॥ ৭৬ ॥

uṭhitei asthi saba lāgila nija-sthāne
on rising bones all fitted in their own places
'arddha-bāhye' iti-uti karena daraśane
in half-external consciousness here and there makes looking 76 As soon as He stood up, all His bones returned to their places, and in half-external consciousness He looked all around.

What the Lord's three states are —

তিন-দশায় মহাপ্রভু রহেন সর্ব্বকাল ।
'অন্তর্দ্দশা', 'বাহ্যদশা', 'অর্দ্ধবাহ্য' আর ॥ ৭৭ ॥

tina-daśāya mahāprabhu rahena sarva-kāla
in three states Mahāprabhu remains all the time
'antar-daśā', 'bāhya-daśā', 'arddha-bāhya' āra
the internal state the external state half-external and 77 Mahāprabhu was always in one of three states: the internal state, the external state, and the half-external.

*The half-external consciousness of the Lord, who thinks of Himself as a maidservant of the gopīs (citra-jalpa) —*

অন্তর্দ্দশার কিছু ঘোর, কিছু বাহ্য-জ্ঞান । সেই দশা কহেন ভক্ত 'অর্দ্ধবাহ্য' নাম ॥ ৭৮ ॥

antar-daśāra kichu ghora, kichu bāhya-jñāna
of the internal state some absorption some external awareness
sei daśā kahena bhakta 'arddha-bāhya' nāma
that state call the devotees half-external by name

78 When something of the absorption of the internal state remains along with some external awareness, the devotees call that state "half-external."

'অর্দ্ধবাহ্যে' কহেন প্রভু প্রলাপ-বচনে । আকাশে কহেন প্রভু, শুনেন ভক্তগণে ॥ ৭৯ ॥

'arddha-bāhye' kahena prabhu pralāpa-vacane
in the half-external speaks the Lord in words of raving
ākāśe kahena prabhu, śunena bhakta-gaṇe
to the sky speaks the Lord listen the devotees

79 In the half-external state the Lord spoke in ravings, as if to the sky, and the devotees listened:

কালিন্দী দেখিয়া আমি গেলাঙ বৃন্দাবন । দেখি, — জলক্রীড়া করেন ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন ॥ ৮০ ॥

kālindī dekhiyā āmi gelāṅa vṛndāvana
the Kālindī seeing I went to Vṛndāvana
dekhi, — jala-krīḍā karena vrajendra-nandana
I see water play does of the king of Vraja the son

80 "Seeing the Kālindī, I went to Vṛndāvana, and I see the son of the king of Vraja playing in the water.

রাধিকাদি গোপীগণ-সঙ্গে একত্র মেলি' । যমুনার জলে মহারঙ্গে করেন কেলি ॥ ৮১ ॥

rādhikādi gopī-gaṇa-saṅge ekatra meli'
Rādhikā and the other gopīs with together gathering
yamunāra jale mahā-raṅge karena keli of the Yamunā in the water with great delight does play

81 Together with Rādhikā and the other gopīs He is enjoying His pastimes in the waters of the Yamunā with great delight.

তীরে রহি' দেখি আমি সখীগণ-সঙ্গে । একসখী সখীগণে দেখায় সেই রঙ্গে ॥ ৮২ ॥

tīre rahi' dekhi āmi sakhī-gaṇa-saṅge on the bank staying watch I the sakhīs with eka-sakhī sakhī-gaṇe dekhāya sei raṅge
one sakhī to the sakhīs shows that play

82 Standing on the bank with the sakhīs, I watch, and one sakhī points out that play to the others.

Anubhāṣya.

[The friends are] I and other young, cherished maidservants like Me (mañjarīs), each wholly devoted to the happiness and joy of serving her own group leader (yūtheśvarī). This forbids the ahaṅgrahopāsanā (worshipping oneself as God) of a sādhaka, rooted in the desire to gratify one's own senses. See the Anubhāṣya on Madhya 8.202–204.

*Thinking of Himself as a maidservant of the gopīs, the Lord describes Kṛṣṇa's water pastimes with Śrī Rādhā and the other gopīs (citra-jalpa) —*

পট্টবস্ত্র, অলঙ্কারে, সমর্পিয়া সখী-করে, সূক্ষ্ম-শুক্লবস্ত্র-পরিধান ।
কৃষ্ণ লঞা কান্তা-গণ, কৈলা জলাবগাহন, জলকেলি রচিলা সুঠাম ॥ ৮৩ ॥

paṭṭa-vastra, alaṅkāre,
silk garments ornaments
samarpiyā sakhī-kare,
handing over into the sakhīs' hands
sūkṣma-śukla-vastra-paridhāna fine white cloth wearing kṛṣṇa lañā kāntā-gaṇa, Kṛṣṇa taking His beloveds
kailā jalāvagāhana,
made plunging into the water
jala-keli racilā suṭhāma
water pastimes arranged beautifully

83 Handing their silk garments and ornaments to the sakhīs and dressed in fine white cloth, Kṛṣṇa and His beloveds went down into the water, and He began delightful water pastimes.

সখি হে, দেখ কৃষ্ণের জলকেলি-রঙ্গে ৷
কৃষ্ণ মত্ত করিবর, চঞ্চল কর-পুষ্কর, গোপীগণ করি' নিজ সঙ্গে ॥ ৮৪ ॥ধ্রু॥

sakhi he, dekha kṛṣṇera jala-keli-raṅge
O friend see Kṛṣṇa's water pastimes' play
kṛṣṇa matta kari-vara, Kṛṣṇa maddened best of elephants
cañcala kara-puṣkara, restless hand lotus
gopī-gaṇa kari' nija saṅge
the gopīs making His own companions

84 O sakhī, see the play of Kṛṣṇa's water pastimes! Like a maddened lord of elephants, His lotus hands never still, Kṛṣṇa has taken the gopīs with Him.[1]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
kara-puṣkara — lotus hands (according to another opinion, the tip of the trunk).

আরম্ভিলা জলকেলি, অন্যোঽন্যে জল ফেলাফেলি, হুড়াহুড়ি, বর্ষে জলধার ৷
সবে জয়-পরাজয়, নাহি কিছু নিশ্চয়, জলযুদ্ধ বাড়িল অপার ॥ ৮৫ ॥

ārambhilā jala-keli,
began water play
anyo'nye jala phelāpheli,
at one another water throwing back and forth
huḍāhuḍi, varṣe jala-dhāra tumult rain water streams
sabe jaya-parājaya,
for all victory defeat
nāhi kichu niścaya,
not any certainty
jala-yuddha bāḍila apāra
water battle grew boundless

85 The water play began. They splashed one another; there was a tumult, and water rained down in streams. No one could tell who was winning and who was losing, and the battle in the water raged beyond all bounds.

বর্ষে স্থির তড়িদ্গণ, সিঞ্চে শ্যাম নবঘন্, ঘন বর্ষে তড়িৎ-উপরে ৷
সখীগণের নয়ন, তৃষিত চাতকীগণ, সেই অমৃত সুখে পান করে ॥ ৮৬ ॥

varṣe sthira taḍid-gaṇa,
rain steady lightning flashes
siñce śyāma nava-ghan, sprinkles dark new cloud
ghana varṣe taḍit-upare
the cloud rains the lightning upon sakhī-gaṇera nayana,
of the sakhīs the eyes
tṛṣita cātakī-gaṇa,
thirsty cātakī birds
sei amṛta sukhe pāna kare
that nectar with joy drink

86 The steady flashes of lightning rained water on the dark new cloud, and the cloud rained upon the lightning. The eyes of the sakhīs, like thirsty cātakī birds, drank that nectar with joy.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The gopīs, like motionless flashes of lightning, began to shower water on Kṛṣṇa, dark like a fresh cloud. And the fresh cloud — dark Kṛṣṇa — in turn showered water on the lightning (the gopīs).

প্রথমে যুদ্ধ ‘জলাজলি’, তবে যুদ্ধ ‘করাকরি’, তার পাছে যুদ্ধ ‘মুখামুখি’ ৷
তবে যুদ্ধ ‘হৃদাহৃদি’, তবে হৈল ‘বাদাবাদি’, তবে হৈল যুদ্ধ ‘নখানখি’ ॥ ৮৭ ॥

prathame yuddha ‘jalājali’,
first battle water against water
tabe yuddha ‘karākari’,
then battle hand against hand
tāra pāche yuddha ‘mukhāmukhi’
after that battle face to face
tabe yuddha ‘hṛdāhṛdi’,
then battle heart to heart
tabe haila ‘bādābādi’,
then there was word against word
tabe haila yuddha ‘nakhānakhi’
then there was battle nail against nail

87 First they fought water against water, then hand against hand, after that face to face, then chest to chest; then came a battle of words, and last of all a battle of nails.

Anubhāṣya.

Variant reading: radā-radi[4].

সহস্র-করে জল সেকে, সহস্র নেত্রে গোপী দেখে, সহস্র-পদে নিকট গমনে ।
সহস্রমুখ-চুম্বনে, সহস্রবপু-সঙ্গমে, গোপীনর্ম্ম শুনে সহস্র-কাণে ॥ ৮৮ ॥

sahasra-kare jala seke,
with a thousand hands water sprinkles
sahasra netre gopī dekhe,
with a thousand eyes the gopīs sees sahasra-pade nikaṭa gamane
with a thousand feet near in going sahasra-mukha-cumbane,
with a thousand mouths in kissing
sahasra-vapu-saṅgame,
with a thousand bodies in embracing gopī-narma śune sahasra-kāṇe
the gopīs' jests hears with a thousand ears

88 With a thousand hands He sprinkled water, with a thousand eyes He looked at the gopīs, with a thousand feet He drew near them, with a thousand mouths He kissed them, with a thousand bodies He embraced them, and with a thousand ears He heard the gopīs' playful jests.

কৃষ্ণ রাধা লঞা বলে, গেলা কণ্ঠলগ্ন-জলে, ছাড়িলা তাঁহা, যাঁহা অগাধ পানী ।
তেঁহো কৃষ্ণকণ্ঠ ধরি', ভাসে জলের উপরি, গজোৎখাতে যৈছে কমলিনী ॥ ৮৯ ॥

kṛṣṇa rādhā lañā bale, Kṛṣṇa Rādhā taking by force
gelā kaṇṭha-lagna-jale,
went neck-deep into the water
chāḍilā tāṁhā, yāṁhā agādha pānī left there where fathomless water
teṁho kṛṣṇa-kaṇṭha dhari',
She Kṛṣṇa's neck holding bhāse jalera upari, floats the water upon gajotkhāte yaiche kamalinī
uprooted by an elephant like a lotus plant

89 Kṛṣṇa drew Rādhā by force into neck-deep water and let Her go where it was fathomless. Clasping Kṛṣṇa's neck, She floated on the water like a lotus plant uprooted by an elephant.

যত গোপ-সুন্দরী, কৃষ্ণ তত রূপ ধরি', সবার বস্ত্র করিলা হরণে ।
যমুনা-জল নির্ম্মল, অঙ্গ করে ঝলমল, সুখে কৃষ্ণ করে দরশনে ॥ ৯০ ॥

yata gopa-sundarī,
as many cowherd beauties
kṛṣṇa tata rūpa dharī', Kṛṣṇa so many forms taking sabāra vastra karilā haraṇe
of all the garments made taking away
yamunā-jala nirmala,
the Yamunā's water clear
aṅga kare jhalamala, limbs make shimmering
sukhe kṛṣṇa kare daraśane
with joy Kṛṣṇa makes beholding

90 Assuming as many forms as there were beautiful cowherd girls, Kṛṣṇa took away all their garments. Their bodies shimmered in the clear water of the Yamunā, and He gazed on them with joy.

পদ্মিনীলতা — সখীচয়, কৈল কারো সহায়, তার হস্তে পত্র সমর্পিল ৷
কেহ মুক্ত-কেশপাশ, আগে কৈল অধোবাস, হস্তে কেহ কঞ্চুলি ধরিল ॥ ৯১ ॥

padminī-latā — sakhī-caya, lotus creepers sakhīs host
kaila kāro sahāya,
gave to some help
tāra haste patra samarpila
her into the hand a leaf offered keha mukta-keśa-pāśa,
some loosened locks of hair āge kaila adhovāsa,
in front made lower garment
haste keha kañculi dharila
of the hands some a bodice held

91 The lotus creepers, like a host of sakhīs, came to the help of some of them, placing leaves in their hands. Some let down their hair, which covered them in front like a lower garment, and for others their own hands became a bodice.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

To cover the body, a lotus leaf, like a hand. Some loosened their hair and imagined it to be a lower garment; others made their hands a kañculī (bodice).

Anubhāṣya.

Variant reading: svastike kāčulī racila ("she made a bodice with a svastika")[5].

কৃষ্ণের কলহ রাধা-সনে, গোপীগণ সেইক্ষণে, হেমাব্জ-বনে গেলা লুকাইতে ৷
আকণ্ঠ-বপু জলে পৈশে, মুখমাত্র জলে ভাসে, পদ্মে-মুখে না পারি চিনিতে ॥ ৯২ ॥

kṛṣṇera kalaha rādhā-sane, Kṛṣṇa's quarrel with Rādhā
gopī-gaṇa sei-kṣaṇe,
the gopīs that very moment
hemābja-vane gelā lukāite
golden lotuses into the grove went to hide
ākaṇṭha-vapu jale paiśe,
up to the neck bodies into the water enter mukha-mātra jale bhāse,
faces only on the water float
padme-mukhe nā pāri cinite
lotuses faces not can distinguish

92 When Kṛṣṇa began a quarrel with Rādhā, the gopīs at once went to hide among the golden lotuses. They sank into the water up to their necks, so that only their faces showed, and I could not tell those faces from the lotuses.

এথা কৃষ্ণ রাধা-সনে, কৈলা যে আছিল মনে, গোপীগণ অন্বেষিতে গেলা ।
তবে রাধা সূক্ষ্মমতি, জানিয়া সখীর স্থিতি, সখী-মধ্যে আসিয়া মিলিলা ॥ ৯৩ ॥

ethā kṛṣṇa rādhā-sane,
here Kṛṣṇa with Rādhā
kailā ye āchila mane,
did what was in the mind
gopī-gaṇa anveṣite gelā
the gopīs to search for went tabe rādhā sūkṣma-mati,
then Rādhā subtle-minded
jāniyā sakhīra sthiti,
knowing the sakhīs' whereabouts
sakhī-madhye āsiyā mililā
the sakhīs among coming joined

93 Meanwhile Kṛṣṇa, alone with Rādhā, did as He had wished and then went to look for the gopīs. Then perceptive Rādhā, knowing where Her sakhīs were hiding, came and mingled among them.

যত হেমাব্জ জলে ভাসে, তত নীলাব্জ তার পাশে, আসি' আসি' করয়ে মিলন ।
নীলাব্জে হেমাব্জে ঠেকে, যুদ্ধ হয় প্রত্যেকে, কৌতুকে দেখে তীরে সখীগণ ॥ ৯৪ ॥

yata hemābja jale bhāse,
as many golden lotuses in the water float
tata nīlābja tāra pāśe,
so many blue lotuses them beside āsi' āsi' karaye milana
coming coming make meeting
nīlābje hemābje ṭheke,
blue lotuses golden lotuses strike against yuddha haya pratyeke, battle occurs each
kautuke dekhe tīre sakhī-gaṇa
with amusement watch from the bank the sakhīs

94 As many golden lotuses as floated on the water, so many blue lotuses came up beside them, and every blue lotus that met a golden one did battle with it; the sakhīs watched from the bank with delight.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
hemābja — the gopīs; nīlābja — Kṛṣṇa. The gopīs devoted to service stood on the bank and watched both sides at play.

চক্রবাক-মণ্ডল, পৃথক্ পৃথক্ যুগল, জল হৈতে করিল উদ্গম ।
উঠিল পদ্মমণ্ডল, পৃথক্ পৃথক্ যুগল, চক্রবাকে কৈল আচ্ছাদন ॥ ৯৫ ॥

cakravāka-maṇḍala,
cakravāka birds' flock
pṛthak pṛthak yugala,
separate separate in pairs
jala haite karila udgama
the water from made rising uṭhila padma-maṇḍala,
rose of lotuses a cluster
pṛthak pṛthak yugala,
separate separate in pairs
cakravāke kaila ācchādana
the cakravākas made covering

95 A flock of cakravāka birds rose from the water, pair by pair. Then a cluster of lotuses rose, pair by pair, and covered the cakravākas.

উঠিল বহু রক্তোৎপল, পৃথক্ পৃথক্ যুগল, পদ্মগণের কৈল নিবারণ ।
'পদ্ম' চাহে লুটি' নিতে, 'উৎপল' চাহে রাখিতে,
'চক্রবাক' লাগি' দুঁহার রণ ॥ ৯৬ ॥

uṭhila bahu raktotpala,
rose many red water lilies
pṛthak pṛthak yugala,
separate separate in pairs
padma-gaṇera kaila nivāraṇa
of the lotuses made warding off ‘padma’ cāhe luṭi’ nite,
the lotus wants plundering to take ‘utpala’ cāhe rākhite,
the water lily wants to protect ‘cakravāka’ lāgi’ duṁhāra raṇa
the cakravākas for the sake of of the two battle

96 Next many red water lilies (utpala) rose, pair by pair, and warded off the lotuses. The lotuses wanted to carry off the cakravākas as plunder, and the water lilies wanted to protect them; so for the sake of the cakravākas the two fought.

পদ্মোৎপল — অচেতন, চক্রবাক — সচেতন, চক্রবাকে পদ্ম আস্বাদয় ।
ইঁহা দুঁহার উল্টা স্থিতি, ধর্ম্ম হৈল বিপরীতি, কৃষ্ণের রাজ্যে ঐছে ন্যায় হয় ॥ ৯৭ ॥

padmotpala — acetana,
lotuses water lilies insentient
cakravāka — sacetana, cakravākas sentient
cakravāke padma āsvādaya
the cakravākas the lotuses taste
iṁhā duṁhāra ulṭā sthiti,
here of the two reversed position
dharma haila viparīti,
nature became opposite
kṛṣṇera rājye aiche nyāya haya Kṛṣṇa’s in the kingdom such rule is

97 Lotuses and water lilies are insentient, while cakravākas are sentient; yet here the lotuses taste the cakravākas. The positions of the two are reversed, and their natures have turned into their opposites: such is the rule in Kṛṣṇa’s kingdom.

মিত্রের মিত্র সহবাসী, চক্রবাকে লুটে আসি’, কৃষ্ণের রাজ্যে ঐছে ব্যবহার ।
অপরিচিত শত্রুর মিত্র, রাখে উৎপল, — এ বড় চিত্র, এই বড় ‘বিরোধ-অলঙ্কার’ ॥ ৯৮ ॥

mitrera mitra saha-vāsī,
of the friend (the sun) the friend the neighbour
cakravāke luṭe āsi',
the cakravākas plunders coming
kṛṣṇera rājye aiche vyavahāra Kṛṣṇa's in the kingdom such conduct aparicita śatrura mitra,
unacquainted of the enemy the friend
rākhe utpala, — e baḍa citra, protects the water lily this great wonder ei baḍa 'virodha-alaṅkāra'
this great contradiction ornament

98 The lotus comes and plunders the cakravāka, its neighbour and the friend of its own friend, the sun — such is the way in Kṛṣṇa's kingdom. And the water lily protects the friend of its enemy, the sun, though it does not even know him — a great wonder! This is the great ornament called "contradiction" (virodha).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The breasts of the gopīs are the flock of cakravāka birds. When they all rose from the water in pairs, Kṛṣṇa's hands, like blue lotuses, covered those cakravākas in pairs. The gopīs' hands are red water lilies (raktotpalas): they rose in pairs and began to hold off the blue lotuses. The blue lotuses want to plunder the cakravākas, and the red water lilies want to protect them; so a quarrel broke out between the two. The blue lotuses and the red water lilies are senseless with love; the cakravākas are conscious, yet the blue lotuses began to taste them. Here the natures are reversed: usually the cakravāka bird tastes the lotus, but in this pastime of Kṛṣṇa the senseless lotus tasted the conscious cakravāka. The lotus, the sun's friend, naturally lives beside the cakravāka; yet, though it is the bird's friend, it plunders the cakravāka. The utpala, that is, the kumuda (night water lily), opens at night, and so it is a stranger to the cakravāka and hostile to it. Yet this kumuda — a gopī's hand — protects the cakravāka, her own breast. This is truly wonderful, and therefore here we have the ornament virodha (contradiction).

Thus ends the eighteenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.

The lotus opens at sunrise, and so the sun is the lotus's friend; at sunrise the cakravākas, too, are reunited. But here the lotus, though the sun's friend, plunders the cakravāka, the friend of its own friend the sun. The cakravāka is a living being, and the lotus an insentient object. But here the lotus — Kṛṣṇa's hand — though insentient, attacks the living cakravāka — the gopī's breast. This is the ornament virodhābhāsa (apparent contradiction). The utpala closes at sunrise, and so the sun is the utpala's enemy. The utpala opens at night, and so it is a stranger to the cakravāka. Here the sun is the utpala's enemy, and the cakravāka is that enemy's friend. Yet here the cakravāka — the gopī's breast — is protected by the utpala — the gopī's hand. This too is the wonderful ornament virodha (contradiction).

অতিশয়োক্তি, বিরোধাভাস, দুই অলঙ্কার প্রকাশ, করি' কৃষ্ণ প্রকট দেখাইল ।
যাহা করি' আস্বাদন, আনন্দিত মোর মন, নেত্র-কর্ণ যুগ্ম জুড়াইল ॥ ৯৯ ॥

atiśayokti, virodhābhāsa,
hyperbole apparent contradiction
dui alaṅkāra prakāśa,
two ornaments manifestation kari' kṛṣṇa prakaṭa dekhāila making Kṛṣṇa openly showed yāhā kari' āsvādana,
which making tasting
ānandita mora mana, delighted My mind
netra-karṇa yugma juḍāila
eyes ears the pair were refreshed

99 Thus Kṛṣṇa openly displayed two figures of speech, hyperbole (atiśayokti) and apparent contradiction (virodhābhāsa). As I tasted them, My mind was delighted, and My eyes and ears were refreshed.

Anubhāṣya.

atiśayokti (hyperbole) — in place of the thing compared (upameya), the standard of comparison (upamāna) is used with the firm certainty (understanding) that the two are not different; therefore this is the ornament atiśayokti. As the Sāhitya-darpaṇa says (ch. 10, kārikā 693): "When the identification (adhyavasāya) is complete, it is called atiśayokti."

virodhābhāsa (apparent contradiction) — as the Kāvya-prakāśa says (tenth ullāsa, kārikā 24): "Virodha is speaking of what is not contradictory as if it were contradictory. A genus (jāti) may conflict with four — with a genus and the rest; a quality (guṇa) with three; an action (kriyā) with two; and a substance (dravya) only with a substance. Thus there are ten kinds."

*The varied service the transcendental mañjarīs render to Śrī Kṛṣṇa together with the gopīs —*

ঐছে বিচিত্র ক্রীড়া করি', তীরে আইলা শ্রীহরি, সঙ্গে লঞা সব কান্তাগণ।
গন্ধ-তৈল-মর্দ্দন, আমলকী-উদ্বর্ত্তন, সেবা করে তীরে সখীগণ ॥ ১০০ ॥

aiche vicitra krīḍā kari',
such wonderful play having made tīre āilā śrī-hari,
to the bank came Śrī Hari
saṅge lañā saba kāntā-gaṇa
with taking all beloveds
gandha-taila-mardana,
fragrant oil massage
āmalakī-udvartana,
āmalakī rubbing with paste
sevā kare tīre sakhī-gaṇa
service do on the bank the sakhīs

100 After such wonderful play Śrī Hari came up onto the bank with all His beloveds, and there the sakhīs served Them, massaging Them with fragrant oil and rubbing Them with āmalakī paste.

Anubhāṣya.

udvartana — ābāṭā, that is, [the paste] with which the body is cleansed.

পুনরপি কৈল স্নান, শুষ্কবস্ত্র পরিধান, রত্ন-মন্দিরে কৈলা আগমন ৷৷
বৃন্দা-কৃত সম্ভার, গন্ধপুষ্প-অলঙ্কার, বন্যবেশ করিল রচন ॥ ১০১ ॥

punarapi kaila snāna,
again did bathing
śuṣka-vastra paridhāna, dry clothes putting on ratna-mandire kailā āgamana
to the jewelled house made coming vṛndā-kṛta sambhāra,
by Vṛndā arranged the articles
gandha-puṣpa-alaṅkāra,
fragrances flowers ornaments
vanya-veśa karila racana forest dress made arranging

101 Then They bathed again, put on dry clothes and came to a jewelled pavilion. There Vṛndā had prepared fragrances, flowers and ornaments for Them, and They put on forest attire.

Anubhāṣya.
sambhāra — offerings (upāyana): flowers, fragrances, adornments, clothing and so on.

বৃন্দাবনে তরুলতা, অদ্ভুত তাহার কথা, বারমাস ধরে ফুল-ফল ৷৷
বৃন্দাবনে দেবীগণ, কুঞ্জদাসী যত জন, ফল পাড়ি' আনিয়া সকল ॥ ১০২ ॥

vṛndāvane taru-latā,
in Vṛndāvana trees creepers
adbhuta tāhāra kathā,
wonderful their story
bāra-māsa dhare phula-phala
twelve months bear flowers fruits
vṛndāvane devī-gaṇa,
in Vṛndāvana the goddesses
kuñja-dāsī yata jana,
of the bowers maidservants as many persons
phala pāḍi' āniyā sakala
fruits picking bringing all

102 The trees and creepers of Vṛndāvana are wonderful indeed: all twelve months of the year they bear flowers and fruits. The goddesses of the forest and all the maidservants of the bowers picked the fruits and brought them.

উত্তম সংস্কার করি', বড় বড় থালী ভরি', রত্ন মন্দিরে পিণ্ডার উপরে ৷৷
ভক্ষণের ক্রম করি', ধরিয়াছে সারি সারি, আগে আসন বসিবার তরে ॥ ১০৩ ॥

uttama saṁskāra kari',
excellent preparation making baḍa baḍa thālī bhari',
big big platters filling ratna mandire piṇḍāra upare
in the jewelled house the dais upon bhakṣaṇera krama kari',
of eating order making
dhariyāche sāri sāri,
have set out row by row
āge āsana vasibāra tare
in front seats of sitting for

103 They prepared the fruits with great care, filled large platters with them and set these out in rows on a raised dais in the jewelled pavilion, in the order in which they were to be eaten; and in front they placed seats.

Anubhāṣya.

saṁskāra — preparing the fruits: to make them fit to eat, removing the stones, peel and so on; to make them easy to take in the mouth, washing them, cutting them into pieces and so forth.

এক নারিকেল নানা-জাতি, এক আম্র নানা ভাতি, কলা, কোলি — বিবিধপ্রকার ৷
পনস, খর্জ্জুর, কমলা, নারঙ্গ, জাম, সান্তারা, দ্রাক্ষা, বাদাম, মেওয়া যত আর ॥ ১০৪ ॥

eka nārikela nānā-jāti,
just coconuts of many kinds
eka āmra nānā bhāti,
just mangoes of many sorts
kalā, koli — vividha-prakāra
bananas jujubes of various kinds panasa, kharjura, kamalā, jackfruits dates oranges
nāraṅga, jāma, sāntārā,
tangerines jāma fruits pomelos
drākṣā, bādāma, meoyā yata āra
grapes almonds dried fruits as many more

104 There were coconuts of many kinds and mangoes of many sorts, bananas and jujubes of various kinds, jack-fruits, dates, oranges, tangerines, jāma fruits, pomelos (sāntārā), grapes, almonds, and all kinds of dried fruits and nuts.

খরমুজা, ক্ষীরিকা, তাল, কেশুর, পানীফল, মৃণাল, বিল্ব, পীলু, দাড়িম্বাদি যত ৷
কোন দেশে কার খ্যাতি, বৃন্দাবনে সব-প্রাপ্তি, সহস্রজাতি, লেখা যায় কত ? ॥ ১০৫ ॥

kharamujā, kṣīrikā, tāla,
melons kṣīrikā cucumbers palm fruits
keśura, pānī-phala, mṛṇāla,
keśura roots water chestnuts lotus stalks
bilva, pīlu, dāḍimbādi yata bilva pīlu pomegranates and others as many kona deśe kāra khyāti,
in some land of which fame
vṛndāvane saba-prāpti,
in Vṛndāvana all obtainable
sahasra-jāti, lekhā yāya kata?
a thousand kinds to write possible how many 105 Melons, kṣīrikā cucumbers, palm fruits, keśura roots, water chestnuts, lotus stalks, bilva, pīlu, pomegranates and many more — whatever fruit is famous in any land is found in Vṛndāvana. There are a thousand kinds; how many can be written down?

Anubhāṣya.
koli — jujube (kul, badarī); panasa — jackfruit (kāṭāl); nāraṅga — a citrus of the orange kind (kamalā-lebu); drākṣā — grapes (āṅgur); sāntārā — a large citrus of the pomelo kind (bātābi-lebu) (so called in East Bengal, in the Chittagong division); meoyā — pistachios, almonds and other choice, delicious fruits grown in cold countries; kharamujā — a fruit related to the watermelon (taramujā) but smaller (in some regions also called phuṭi or bāṅgī); kṣīrikā — khirāi (translator's note: a kind of cucumber); tāla — the soft flesh of the young palm fruit (tāl-śāṣ), or phopal; keśura — a particular grass root of the nut-grass (muthā) kind, also known as kaśeru, kaseru (with short or long u); pānī-phala — a particular fruit growing in the water of very old ponds and rivers overgrown with weed (śaivāla): the śṛṅgāṭaka; mṛṇāla — the lotus stalk, or the lotus root (?); dāḍimba — a fruit of the maskaṭ and bedānā kind, the pomegranate (ḍālim).

গঙ্গাজল, অমৃতকেলি, পীযূষগ্রন্থি, কর্পূরকেলি, সরপূরী, অমৃতি, পদ্মচিনি ৷
খণ্ডক্ষীরিসার-বৃক্ষ, ঘরে করি’ নানা ভক্ষ্য, রাধা যাহা কৃষ্ণ লাগি’ আনি ॥ ১০৬ ॥

gaṅgājala, amṛtakeli,
gaṅgājala amṛtakeli
pīyūṣagranthi, karpūrakeli,
pīyūṣagranthi karpūrakeli
sarapūrī, amṛti, padmacini
sarapūrī amṛti padmacini
khaṇḍa-kṣīrisāra-vṛkṣa,
of sugar kṣīrisāra trees
ghare kari’ nānā bhakṣya,
at home making various sweets
rādhā yāhā kṛṣṇa lāgi’ āni Rādhā which Kṛṣṇa for brought

106 Gaṅgājala, amṛtakeli, pīyūṣagranthi, karpūrakeli, sarapūrī, amṛti, padmacini, and little trees made of sugar and kṣīrisāra — all these various sweets Rādhā had made at home and brought for Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
Here gaṅgājala and all the rest are sweet balls (nāḍu) and various cake-like foods (piṣṭaka) made from curd (chānā) of cow's milk with sugar. khaṇḍa-kṣīrisāra — various tree-shaped sweets made of sugar.

ভক্ষ্যের পরিপাটী দেখি', কৃষ্ণ হৈলা মহাসুখী, বসি' কৈল বন্য ভোজন ।
সঙ্গে লঞা সখীগণ, রাধা কৈলা ভোজন, দুঁহে কৈলা মন্দিরে শয়ন ॥ ১০৭ ॥

bhakṣyera paripāṭī dekhi',
of the food the fine arrangement seeing
kṛṣṇa hailā mahā-sukhī, Kṛṣṇa became very happy
vasi' kaila vanya bhojana sitting made forest meal
saṅge lañā sakhī-gaṇa,
with taking the sakhīs
rādhā kailā bhojana, Rādhā made eating
duṁhe kailā mandire śayana
the two made in the house lying down

107 Seeing how finely the food was arranged, Kṛṣṇa was delighted and sat down to the forest meal. Then Rādhā ate with Her sakhīs, and the two of Them lay down to rest in the pavilion.

কেহ করে বীজন, কেহ পাদসম্বাহন, কেহ করায় তাম্বূল ভক্ষণ ।
রাধাকৃষ্ণ নিদ্রা গেলা, সখীগণ শয়ন কৈলা, দেখি' আমার সুখী হৈল মন ॥ ১০৮ ॥

keha kare vījana,
someone does fanning
keha pāda-samvāhana,
someone feet massaging
keha karāya tāmbūla bhakṣaṇa
someone makes betel eating
rādhā-kṛṣṇa nidrā gelā, Rādhā Kṛṣṇa sleep went
sakhī-gaṇa śayana kailā,
the sakhīs lying down did dekhi' āmāra sukhī haila mana seeing My happy became mind

108 Some fanned Them, some massaged Their feet, some gave Them betel to chew. Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa fell asleep, and the sakhīs lay down too. My heart was happy to see it.

The Lord longs for Kṛṣṇa's happiness —

হেনকালে মোরে ধরি', মহা কোলাহল করি', তুমি-সব ইঁহা লঞা আইলা ।
কাঁহা যমুনা, বৃন্দাবন, কাঁহা কৃষ্ণ, গোপীগণ, সেই সুখ ভঙ্গ করাইলা ! ॥ ১০৯ ॥

hena-kāle more dhari',
at that time Me seizing
mahā kolāhala kari', great uproar making
tumi-saba iṁhā lañā āilā
you all here taking brought kāṁhā yamunā, vṛndāvana,
where the Yamunā Vṛndāvana
kāṁhā kṛṣṇa, gopī-gaṇa,
where Kṛṣṇa the gopīs
sei sukha bhaṅga karāilā!
that happiness broken you have caused

109 Just then you all seized Me, made a great uproar and brought Me here. Where is the Yamunā now, where is Vṛndāvana? Where are Kṛṣṇa and the gopīs? You have broken My happiness!"

From half-external consciousness the Lord comes to external consciousness, asks Svarūpa the reason, and Svarūpa replies —

এতেক কহিতে প্রভুর কেবল 'বাহ্য' হৈল । স্বরূপ-গোসাঞিরে দেখি' তাঁহারে পুছিল ॥ ১১০ ॥

eteka kahite prabhura kevala 'bāhya' haila
this much while saying the Lord's full external consciousness came svarūpa-gosāñire dekhi' tāṁhāre puchila Svarūpa Gosāñi seeing him asked

110 As He said this, the Lord came fully back to external consciousness. Seeing Svarūpa Gosāñi, He asked him,

'ইঁহা কেনে তোমরা আমারে লঞা আইলা ?'
স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তবে কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১১১ ॥

'iṁhā kene tomarā āmāre lañā āilā?'
here why you Me taking have brought svarūpa-gosāñi tabe kahite lāgilā Svarūpa Gosāñi then to speak began

111 "Why have you brought Me here?" Then Svarūpa Gosāñi began to speak:

যমুনার ভ্রমে তুমি সমুদ্রে পড়িলা । সমুদ্রের তরঙ্গে আসি' এত দূর আইলা ! ॥ ১১২ ॥

yamunāra bhrame tumi samudre paḍilā
for the Yamunā mistaking You into the ocean fell samudrera taraṅge āsi' eta dūra āilā!
of the ocean by the waves coming so far came

112 "Taking the ocean for the Yamunā, You fell into it, and the waves carried You this far!

এই জালিয়া জালে করি' তোমা উঠাইল । তোমার পরশে এই প্রেমে মত্ত হইল ॥ ১১৩ ॥

ei jāliyā jāle kari' tomā uṭhāila
this fisherman in the net taking You hauled up tomāra paraśe ei preme matta haila
Your by the touch he with love mad became 113 This fisherman hauled You up in his net, and by Your touch he became mad with love.

সব রাত্রি সবে বেড়াই তোমারে অন্বেষিয়া । জালিয়ার মুখে শুনি' পাইনু আসিয়া ॥ ১১৪ ॥

saba rātri sabe beḍāi tomāre anveṣiyā
all night all we wander You searching jāliyāra mukhe śuni' pāinu āsiyā
the fisherman's from the mouth hearing we found coming

114 All night long we wandered about searching for You; then we heard the fisherman's story, came here and found You.

তুমি মূর্চ্ছা-ছলে বৃন্দাবনে দেখ ক্রীড়া । তোমার মূর্চ্ছা দেখি' সবে মনে পায় পীড়া ॥ ১১৫ ॥

tumi mūrcchā-chale vṛndāvane dekha krīḍā
You under the guise of a swoon in Vṛndāvana see play
tomāra mūrcchā dekhi' sabe mane pāya pīḍā
Your swoon seeing all in the mind feel pain

115 You seem to have swooned, yet You are watching pastimes in Vṛndāvana. But we, seeing You unconscious, suffer with all our hearts.

কৃষ্ণনাম লইতে তোমার 'অর্দ্ধবাহ্য' হইল । তাতে যে প্রলাপ কৈলা, তাহা যে শুনিল ॥ ১১৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa-nāma laite tomāra 'arddha-bāhya' haila Kṛṣṇa's name on taking Your half-external came tāte ye pralāpa kailā, tāhā ye śunila
in that which ravings You made that indeed we heard

116 When we chanted the name of Kṛṣṇa, You came to half-external consciousness, and we heard Your ravings."

The Lord tells what happened to Him —

প্রভু কহে, — স্বপ্নে দেখি' গেলাঙ বৃন্দাবনে । দেখি, — কৃষ্ণ রাস করেন গোপীগণ-সনে ॥ ১১৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — svapne dekhi' gelāṅa vṛndāvane
the Lord says in a dream seeing I went to Vṛndāvana
dekhi, — kṛṣṇa rāsa karena gopīgaṇa-sane
I see Kṛṣṇa rāsa does the gopīs with

117 The Lord said, "I dreamt that I had gone to Vṛndāvana, and there I see Kṛṣṇa dancing the rāsa with the gopīs.

জলক্রীড়া করি' কৈলা বন্য-ভোজনে । দেখি' আমি প্রলাপ কৈলুঁ, হেন লয় মনে ॥ ১১৮ ॥

jala-krīḍā kari' kailā vanya-bhojane
water play having done made forest meal
dekhi' āmi pralāpa kailuṁ, hena laya mane
seeing I ravings made so it seems to the mind

118 After the water pastimes He enjoyed a forest meal. Seeing all this, I suppose I spoke in ravings."

Svarūpa bathes Mahāprabhu and brings Him home —

তবে স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি, তাঁরে স্নান করাঞা । প্রভুরে লঞা ঘর আইলা আনন্দিত হঞা ॥ ১১৯ ॥

tabe svarūpa-gosāñi, tāṁre snāna karāñā
then Svarūpa Gosāñi Him bath causing prabhure lañā ghara āilā ānandita hañā
the Lord taking home came delighted being

119 Then Svarūpa Gosāñi bathed the Lord and, overjoyed, brought Him home.

*Whoever hears of this mahābhāva of the Lord, even one bereft of consciousness (acaitanya), gains consciousness (caitanya) — the state of being turned toward Kṛṣṇa —*

এই ত' কহিলুঁ প্রভুর সমুদ্র-পতন ।
ইহা যেই শুনে, পায় চৈতন্য-চরণ ॥ ১২০ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ prabhura samudra-patana
thus indeed I have told the Lord's into the ocean fall
ihā yei śune, pāya caitanya-caraṇa
this whoever hears attains Caitanya's feet

120 Thus I have told of the Lord's fall into the ocean. Whoever hears this attains the feet of Caitanya.

Anubhāṣya.

Thus ends the eighteenth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১২১ ॥

śrī-rūpa raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

121 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. The line "O sakhī, see…" is marked in the edition as a refrain (dhruva). ↩
2. The edition reads নিরসন্ (nirasan), a misprint for নিবসন্ (nivasan, "remaining"), as in the verse. ↩
3. Prakrit; the sense is "love (affection) fears harm." The exact Sanskrit form of these lines is not given; in commentaries on the drama the thought appears as the proverb atisnehaḥ pāpa-śaṅkī. ↩
4. The verse (87) reads hṛdā-hṛdi ("chest to chest"); by this variant, "tooth to tooth" (rada means "tooth"). Vādā-vādi ("a battle of words") follows in the verse and stays. ↩
5. Svastika here apparently means the arms crossed over the breast (cf. Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya 91: the hands as a kañculī); the edition does not explain it. ↩

The Ravings of Separation, the Rubbing of His Face against the Walls, and Other Pastimes

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. Inspired by His devotion to His mother, every year the Lord sent Jagadānanda Paṇḍita to Śrī Navadvīpa with cloth and sweets that were prasāda. One year Jagadānanda went to Navadvīpa in this way and brought back a riddle in the form of a tarjā (tarjā-prahelī) written by Advaita Ācārya. When Mahāprabhu read it, His condition grew ever deeper, and the devotees began to think, “Mahāprabhu will probably soon depart from this world.” The Lord's state became such that at night He rubbed His face [against the walls], and blood flowed from the wounds on His body. To prevent this, Svarūpa Gosvāmī had Śaṅkara Paṇḍita sleep in the Lord's room. Once, on the full-moon night of the month of Vaiśākha, the Lord entered the garden of Śrī Jagannātha-vallabha. Manifesting various feelings, under an aśoka tree He suddenly saw Kṛṣṇa. Then, maddened by the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body, He began to manifest [divine] feelings.

*Obeisance to the Lord, who is full of incomparable tenderness toward His devotee — His mother — and absorbed in mahābhāva in the Jagannātha-vallabha garden —*

বন্দে তং কৃষ্ণচৈতন্যং মাতৃভক্তশিরোমণিম্ । প্রলপ্য মুখসংঘর্ষী মধুদ্যানে ললাস যঃ ॥ ১ ॥

vande taṁ kṛṣṇa-caitanyaṁ
I bow down to Him Kṛṣṇa Caitanya
mātṛ-bhakta-śiromaṇim
of those devoted to their mothers the crown jewel
pralapya mukha-saṅgharṣī
raving His face rubbing
madhudyāne lalāsa yaḥ
in the spring garden sported who

1 I bow down to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the crown jewel of all who are devoted to their mothers — to Him who, raving in His madness, rubbed His face against the walls and sported in the spring garden.[1]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

I bow down to Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the crown jewel of all who are devoted to their mothers. While speaking incoherently (pralāpa), He rubbed His face against the walls of the house; and to show His longing for love of Kṛṣṇa, He sported in the spring garden (madhūdyāna), the garden of Jagannātha-vallabha.

Anubhāṣya.

mukha-saṅgharṣī (He whose habit is to rub His face) yaḥ (Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva) pralapya (speaking incoherent words and so on) madhūdyāne (in the grove of spring pastimes called Jagannātha-vallabha) lalāsa (sported), taṁ mātṛ-bhakta-śiromaṇim (the crown jewel among those devoted to their mothers — Him, the ornament of the head, the best of the best, Kṛṣṇa Caitanya) ahaṁ vande.

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory to Gaura's devotees host

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra, and glory to all the devotees of Gaura!

The Lord's divine madness —

এইমতে মহাপ্রভু কৃষ্ণপ্রেমাবেশে । উন্মাদ-প্রলাপ করে রাত্রি-দিবসে ॥ ৩ ॥

ei-mate mahāprabhu kṛṣṇa-premāveśe
in this way Mahāprabhu for Kṛṣṇa absorbed in love
unmāda-pralāpa kare rātri-divase
mad ravings makes night and day

3 In this way Mahāprabhu, absorbed in love for Kṛṣṇa, raved night and day in divine madness.

The virtues of Jagadānanda Paṇḍita —

প্রভুর অত্যন্ত প্রিয় পণ্ডিত-জগদানন্দ । যাহার চরিত্রে প্রভু পায়েন আনন্দ ॥ ৪ ॥

prabhura atyanta priya paṇḍita-jagadānanda
to the Lord very dear Paṇḍita Jagadānanda yāhāra caritre prabhu pāyena ānanda
in whose conduct the Lord finds joy

4 Jagadānanda Paṇḍita was very dear to the Lord, who delighted in all his ways.

As every year, the Lord sends the Paṇḍita to Navadvīpa to convey to His mother words of incomparable tenderness —

প্রতিবৎসর প্রভু তাঁরে পাঠান নদীয়াতে । বিচ্ছেদ-দুঃখিতা জানি' জননী আশ্বাসিতে ॥ ৫ ॥

prati-vatsara prabhu tāṁre pāṭhāna nadīyāte
every year the Lord him sends to Nadia viccheda-duḥkhitā jāni' jananī āśvāsite
by separation grieved knowing His mother to console

5 Every year the Lord sent him to Nadia to console His mother, for He knew how she grieved in separation from Him.

নদীয়া চলহ, মাতারে কহিহ নমস্কার । আমার নামে পাদপদ্ম ধরিহ তাঁহার ॥ ৬ ॥

nadīyā calaha, mātāre kahiha namaskāra
to Nadia go to Mother tell My obeisances
āmāra nāme pāda-padma dhariha tāṁhāra
in My name the lotus feet touch her

6 "Go to Nadia and convey My obeisances to Mother. Touch her lotus feet on My behalf.

কহিহ তাঁহারে — 'তুমি করহ স্মরণ । নিত্য আসি' তোমার বন্দিয়ে চরণ ॥ ৭ ॥

kahiha tāṁhāre — 'tumi karaha smaraṇa
tell her you please remember nitya āsi' tomāra vandiye caraṇa
every day coming your I worship feet

7 Tell her: 'Please remember — every day I come and bow at your feet.

যে-দিনে তোমার ইচ্ছা করাইতে ভোজন । সে-দিনে অবশ্য আমি করিয়ে ভক্ষণ ॥ ৮ ॥

ye-dine tomāra icchā karāite bhojana
on whatever day your wish to feed (Me)
se-dine avaśya āmi kariye bhakṣaṇa
on that day surely I do eat

8 Whenever you wish to feed Me, I surely come and eat.

*Even Bhagavān, who loves His devotees (bhakta-vatsala), considers Himself unfit to serve His devotee, speaks humbly, and begs forgiveness —*

তোমার সেবা ছাড়ি' আমি করিলুঁ সন্ন্যাস ।
'বাউল' হঞা আমি কৈলুঁ ধর্ম্মনাশ ॥ ৯ ॥

tomāra sevā chāḍi' āmi kariluṁ sannyāsa
your service giving up I took sannyāsa
'bāula' hañā āmi kailuṁ dharma-nāśa
a madman becoming I made of duty ruin

9 I gave up serving you and took sannyāsa. I became a madman and abandoned My duty.

এই অপরাধ তুমি না লইহ আমার । তোমার অধীন আমি — পুত্র সে তোমার ॥ ১০ ॥

ei aparādha tumi nā laiha āmāra
this offence you not take My tomāra adhīna āmi — putra se tomāra on you dependent I son indeed your 10 Do not hold this offence against Me. I am dependent on you — I am your son.

The Lord lives in Purī by Śacīdevī's order —

নীলাচলে আছি আমি তোমার আজ্ঞাতে । যাবৎ জীব, তাবৎ আমি নারিব ছাড়িতে ॥ ১১ ॥

nīlācale āchi āmi tomāra ājñāte
in Nīlācala stay I your by order
yāvat jība, tāvat āmi nāriba chāḍite
as long as I live so long I cannot leave

11 I stay in Nīlācala by your order, and as long as I live I cannot leave it.' "

*At Paramānanda Purī's request the Lord sends cloth and prasāda to Śacīdevī in Navadvīpa —*

গোপ-লীলায় পাইলা যেই প্রসাদ-বসনে । মাতারে পাঠান তাহা পুরীর বচনে ॥ ১২ ॥

gopa-līlāya pāilā yei prasāda-vasane
in the cowherd pastime received which prasāda cloth mātāre pāṭhāna tāhā purīra vacane
to Mother sends that of Purī at the word

12 At the request of Paramānanda Purī, the Lord would send His mother the cloth prasāda He had received at the festival of Jagannātha's cowherd pastime.

Anubhāṣya.
Cloth that is prasāda from Śrī Jagannāthadeva's dress as a cowherd boy (gopa-veśa).

জগন্নাথের উত্তম প্রসাদ আনিয়া যতনে । মাতারে পৃথক্ পাঠান, আর ভক্তগণে ॥ ১৩ ॥

jagannāthera uttama prasāda āniyā yatane Jagannātha's best prasāda bringing with care
mātāre pṛthak pāṭhāna, āra bhakta-gaṇe
to Mother separately sends and to the devotees

13 He also took care to obtain the best of Jagannātha's prasāda, and He sent it separately to His mother and to the devotees.

*Bhagavān is subject to transcendental parental love (vātsalya-prema) —*

মাতৃভক্তগণের প্রভু হন শিরোমণি । সন্ন্যাস করিয়া সদা সেবেন জননী ॥ ১৪ ॥

mātṛ-bhakta-gaṇera prabhu hana śiromaṇi of those devoted to their mothers the Lord is the crown jewel
sannyāsa kariyā sadā sevena jananī
sannyāsa having taken always serves His mother

14 The Lord is the crown jewel of all who are devoted to their mothers. Even after taking sannyāsa, He always served His mother.

Anubhāṣya.
The mother gave this material body and raised and nourished it. If one who bears it engages it in serving Kṛṣṇa, that alone — through the worship of Hari — is the purest and best service to one's mother.

The Paṇḍita goes to Navadvīpa and gives Śacīdevī the sweets and other things sent by the Lord —

জগদানন্দ নদীয়া গিয়া মাতারে মিলিলা । প্রভুর যত নিবেদন, সকল কহিলা ॥ ১৫ ॥

jagadānanda nadīyā giyā mātāre mililā Jagadānanda to Nadia going with Mother met prabhura yata nivedana, sakala kahilā
the Lord's as many messages all told

15 Arriving in Nadia, Jagadānanda met Mother Śacī and gave her all the Lord's messages.

After staying in Navadvīpa and Śāntipura, he asks leave to go —

আচার্য্যাদি ভক্তগণে মিলিলা প্রসাদ দিয়া । মাতা-ঠাঞি আজ্ঞা লইলা মাসেক রহিয়া ॥ ১৬ ॥

ācāryādi bhakta-gaṇe mililā prasāda diyā
the Ācārya and other devotees met prasāda giving mātā-ṭhāñi ājñā lailā māseka rahiyā
from Mother leave took a month staying

16 He also visited Advaita Ācārya and the other devotees and gave them prasāda. After staying a month, he took leave of Mother Śacī.

আচার্য্যের ঠাঞি গিয়া আজ্ঞা মাগিলা । আচার্য্য-গোসাঞি প্রভুরে সন্দেশ কহিলা ॥ ১৭ ॥

ācāryera ṭhāñi giyā ājñā māgilā of the Ācārya to going leave asked ācārya-gosāñi prabhure sandeśa kahilā Ācārya Gosāñi for the Lord a message gave

17 He went to the Ācārya to take leave of him, and Ācārya Gosāñi gave him a message for the Lord.

*Through the Paṇḍita, Śrī Advaita Prabhu sends Mahāprabhu a riddle (prahelikā) —*

তরজা-প্রহেলী আচার্য্য কহেন ঠারে ঠোরে । প্রভুমাত্র বুঝেন, কেহ বুঝিতে না পারে ॥ ১৮ ॥

tarajā-prahelī ācārya kahena ṭhāre ṭhore
a tarjā riddle the Ācārya speaks in hints
prabhu-mātra bujhena, keha bujhite nā pāre
the Lord only understands anyone understand not can

18 The Ācārya spoke in riddles and veiled hints (tarjā-prahelī), which only the Lord could understand; no one else could.

প্রভুরে কহিহ আমার কোটি নমস্কার । এই নিবেদন তাঁর চরণে আমার ॥ ১৯ ॥

prabhure kahiha āmāra koṭi namaskāra
to the Lord tell my ten million obeisances ei nivedana tāṁra caraṇe āmāra
this submission His at the feet my 19 “Convey my countless obeisances to the Lord, and lay this submission of mine at His feet:

A hint that the purpose of Mahāprabhu's descent has been fulfilled and that it is time to wind up His pastimes —

বাউলকে কহিহ, — লোক হইল বাউল । বাউলকে কহিহ, — হাটে না বিকায় চাউল ॥ ২০ ॥

bāulake kahiha, — loka haila bāula
to the madman tell people have become mad bāulake kahiha, — hāṭe nā vikāya cāula
to the madman tell in the market not sells rice

20 Tell the madman (bāul) that the people have gone mad. Tell the madman that rice no longer sells in the market.

Anubhāṣya.
A variant reading: “Tell the madman (bāul): people have become āul.” The word āul means ātura, overwhelmed [with feeling] — that is, full of love. Some also take it to mean “slack” or “incoherent.” The word āul also means niṣkiñcana (one who owns nothing), ārta (afflicted), ātura (distressed), and so on.

বাউলকে কহিহ, — কাযে নাহিক আউল । বাউলকে কহিহ, — ইহা কহিয়াছে বাউল ॥ ২১ ॥

bāulake kahiha, — kāye nāhika āula
to the madman tell in work is not the āul bāulake kahiha, — ihā kahiyāche bāula
to the madman tell this has said a madman

21 Tell the madman that the āul — the one mad with love — is no longer engaged in worldly affairs. Tell the madman that a madman has said this."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
(Śrī Advaita Prabhu sent these words through Jagadānanda Paṇḍita:) "Tell Mahāprabhu that people have gone mad with love (prema), and in the market of love there is no longer any place to sell the rice of love. Tell Mahāprabhu that the āul — that is, the bāul mad with love — is no longer engaged in worldly affairs. Tell Mahāprabhu that Advaita has said this, being himself mad with love." The import is this: the purpose for which the Lord appeared has been fulfilled; now let whatever the Lord wishes be done.

Anubhāṣya.
"kāye nāhika āula" (there is no more āul in the work) — some explain it this way: there is no longer any disorder in the work of preaching love[10].

Hearing this, Jagadānanda laughs and, coming to Purī, relates it to the Lord —

এত শুনি' জগদানন্দ হাসিতে লাগিলা । নীলাচলে আসি' তবে প্রভুরে কহিলা ॥ ২২ ॥

eta śuni' jagadānanda hāsite lāgilā
this hearing Jagadānanda to laugh began nīlācale āsi' tabe prabhure kahilā to Nīlācala coming then to the Lord told

22 Hearing this, Jagadānanda began to laugh. Then he returned to Nīlācala and told the Lord everything.

Hearing this, the Lord smiles and falls silent —

তরজা শুনি' মহাপ্রভু ঈষৎ হাসিলা ।
'তাঁর যেই আজ্ঞা' — বলি' মৌন ধরিলা ॥ ২৩ ॥

tarajā śuni' mahāprabhu īṣat hāsilā
the tarjā hearing Mahāprabhu slightly smiled
'tāṁra yei ājñā' — bali' mauna dharilā
his whatever order saying silence kept

23 Mahāprabhu heard the tarjā, smiled slightly and said, "That is his order." Then He fell silent.

Śrī Svarūpa asks its meaning —

জানিয়া স্বরূপ গোসাঞি প্রভুরে পুছিল ।
'এই তরজার অর্থ বুঝিতে নারিল' ॥ ২৪ ॥

jāniyā svarūpa gosāñi prabhure puchila learning (of this) Svarūpa Gosāñi the Lord asked
'ei tarajāra artha bujhite nārila'
this of the tarjā the meaning to understand I could not

24 Learning of this, Svarūpa Gosāñi asked the Lord about it: “I could not make out the meaning of this tarjā.”[2]

The Lord explains the riddle by a hint —

প্রভু কহেন, — ‘আচার্য্য হয় পূজক প্রবল । আগম-শাস্ত্রের বিধি-বিধানে কুশল ॥ ২৫ ॥

prabhu kahena, — ‘ācārya haya pūjaka prabala
the Lord says the Ācārya is a worshipper great āgama-śāstrera vidhi-vidhāne kuśala
of the Āgama scriptures in the rules and regulations expert

25 The Lord said, “The Ācārya is a great worshipper, expert in the rules and regulations of the Āgama scriptures.

উপাসনা লাগি’ দেবের করেন আবাহন । পূজা লাগি’ কত কাল করেন নিরোধন ॥ ২৬ ॥

upāsanā lāgi’ devera karena āvāhana
for worship the Deity makes invocation
pūjā lāgi’ kata kāla karena nirodhana
for worship some time makes keeping (Him) present

26 For worship he invokes the Deity, and keeps Him present as long as the pūjā lasts.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
āvāhana — invoking the Deity before worship; nirodhana — keeping the Deity present for as long as the worship continues.

পূজা নির্ব্বাহণ হৈলে পাছে করেন বিসর্জ্জন । তরজার না জানি অর্থ কিবা তাঁর মন ॥ ২৭ ॥

pūjā nirvāhaṇa haile pāche karena visarjana
the worship completion when afterwards makes sending away tarajāra nā jāni artha kibā tāṁra mana of the tarjā not I know the meaning what his mind

27 When the pūjā is over, he bids Him depart. I know neither the meaning of this tarjā nor what is in his mind.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
visarjana — when the worship is finished, sending the Deity away to another place.

Advaita Prabhu, the possessor of great mystic power —

মহাযোগেশ্বর আচার্য্য — তরজাতে সমর্থ । আমিহ বুঝিতে নারি তরজার অর্থ’ ॥ ২৮ ॥

mahā-yogeśvara ācārya — tarajāte samartha
a great master of mystic power the Ācārya in tarjās skilled āmiha bujhite nāri tarajāra artha’
even I to understand cannot of the tarjā the meaning

28 The Ācārya is a great master of yoga, skilled in veiled sayings. Even I cannot fathom the meaning of his tarjā.”

The devotees' amazement; Svarūpa's sadness —

শুনিয়া বিস্মিত হইলা সব ভক্তগণ । স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি কিছু হইলা বিমন ॥ ২৯ ॥

śuniyā vismita hailā saba bhakta-gaṇa hearing astonished became all the devotees
svarūpa-gosāñi kichu hailā vimana
Svarūpa Gosāñi somewhat became downcast

29 Hearing this, all the devotees were astonished, and Svarūpa Gosāñi became somewhat downcast.

The Lord's separation from Kṛṣṇa grows ever stronger —

সেই দিন হৈতে প্রভুর আর দশা হইল । কৃষ্ণের বিরহ-দশা দ্বিগুণ বাড়িল ॥ ৩০ ॥

sei dina haite prabhura āra daśā haila
that day from of the Lord another state arose
kṛṣṇera viraha-daśā dviguṇa bāḍila
of Kṛṣṇa separation's state doubly increased

30 From that day the Lord's condition changed: His feeling of separation from Kṛṣṇa grew twice as strong.

উন্মাদ-প্রলাপ-চেষ্টা করে রাত্রি-দিনে । রাধা-ভাবাবেশে বিরহ বাড়ে অনুক্ষণে ॥ ৩১ ॥

unmāda-pralāpa-ceṣṭā kare rātri-dine
of madness ravings behaviour makes night and day
rādhā-bhāvāveśe viraha bāḍe anukṣaṇe
in Rādhā's feeling absorbed separation grows every moment

31 Night and day He behaved and raved like one mad. Absorbed in the feelings of Rādhā, He felt the separation grow keener every moment.

*The Lord's udghūrṇā and incoherent words (pralāpa) —*

আচম্বিতে স্ফুরে কৃষ্ণের মথুরা-গমন । উদঘূর্ণা-দশা হৈল উন্মাদ লক্ষণ ॥ ৩২ ॥

ācambite sphure kṛṣṇera mathurā-gamana
suddenly appears Kṛṣṇa's to Mathurā departure udghūrṇā-daśā haila unmāda lakṣaṇa
of udghūrṇā the state arose of madness a symptom

32 Suddenly Kṛṣṇa's departure for Mathurā rose before Him, and He was seized by udghūrṇā, a symptom of divine madness.

রামানন্দের গলা ধরি' করেন প্রলাপন । স্বরূপে পুছেন জানি' নিজ-সখীগণ ॥ ৩৩ ॥

rāmānandera galā dhari' karena pralāpana Rāmānanda's neck holding makes ravings
svarūpe puchena jāni' nija-sakhī-gaṇa
Svarūpa asks taking (him) as His own friends

33 Clasping Rāmānanda round the neck, He raved, and He questioned Svarūpa, taking him for one of His own friends (sakhīs).

পূর্ব্বে যেন বিশাখারে রাধিকা পুছিলা । সেই শ্লোক পড়ি' প্রলাপ করিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৩৪ ॥

pūrve yena viśākhāre rādhikā puchilā long ago as Viśākhā Rādhikā asked sei śloka paḍi' pralāpa karite lāgilā that verse reciting ravings to make began

34 Reciting the verse with which Rādhikā once questioned Viśākhā, He began to rave:

*Śrī Rādhā, in separation from Kṛṣṇa, asks where Kṛṣṇa may be found (citra-jalpa) —*

ক্ব নন্দকুলচন্দ্রমাঃ ক্ব শিখিচন্দ্রকালঙ্কৃতিঃ
ক্ব মন্দ্রমুরলীরবঃ ক্ব নু সুরেন্দ্রনীলদ্যুতিঃ ৷
ক্ব রাসরসতাণ্ডবী ক্ব সখি জীবরক্ষৌষধি- নিধির্ম্মম সুহৃত্তমঃ ক্ব বত হন্ত হা ধিগ্বিধিম্ ॥ ৩৫ ॥

kva nanda-kula-candramāḥ kva śikhi-candrakālaṅkṛtiḥ where of Nanda's dynasty the moon where with peacock feathers adorned kva mandra-muralī-ravaḥ kva nu surendra-nīla-dyutiḥ where deep of the flute the sound where indeed of the sapphire the lustre kva rāsa-rasa-tāṇḍavī kva sakhi jīva-rakṣauṣadhiwhere in the rāsa with rapture dancing where O friend of life the saving medicine (-)
nidhir mama suhṛt-tamaḥ kva bata hanta hā dhig vidhim treasure My dearest friend where alas alas ah fie on the Creator

35 "O friend, where is the moon of Nanda's line? Where is He who is adorned with a peacock feather? Where is He whose flute sounds so deep, whose lustre is like the sapphire's? Where is He who dances, enraptured by the taste of the rāsa? Where is He — the medicine that saves My life, My treasure, My dearest friend? Alas, alas! Fie on the Creator!" (Lalita-mādhava, 3.25)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O friend, where is that moon of Nanda's dynasty? Where is Kṛṣṇa, adorned with the peacock feather (śikhi-candraka)? Where is Kṛṣṇa, whose flute sounds softly[9]? Where is Kṛṣṇa, lustrous like the sapphire (indranīla)? Where is He who dances, enraptured by the taste of the rāsa-līlā? Where is Śyāma, the medicine that protects life? Where is My treasure, My dearest friend? Alas! Alas! Fie on the Creator!

Anubhāṣya.

> (Lalita-mādhava 3.25; Śrī Rādhā's words to Viśākhā)

sakhi (O friend [Viśākhā]), nanda-kula-candramāḥ (Nanda — "he who gladdens"; he is like the ocean of milk, and the moon born in his line is the moon of Nanda's dynasty) kva (where [is He])? śikhi-candrakālaṅkṛtiḥ (He whose ornament is the peacock feather) kva (where does He stay)? mandra-muralī-ravaḥ (He whose flute sounds deep) kva (where is He)? surendra-nīla-dyutiḥ (He whose luster is blue like the surendra gem, that is, the sapphire [indranīla]) kva? rāsa-rasa-tāṇḍavī (He who in the rāsa sport dances with rapture [tāṇḍava, dance]) kva? jīva-rakṣauṣadhiḥ (He who is like a medicine that guards and saves life) kva? mama suhṛt-tamaḥ (dearest) nidhiḥ (the source of all riches) kva? bata (expresses grief) hā hanta, vidhim (on the Creator) dhik.

*The meaning of the verse: Śrī Rādhā, tormented by separation from Kṛṣṇa, describes the qualities of Kṛṣṇa, the life of the people of Vraja — [Any rāga as suits (yathā-rāga)]*

ব্রজেন্দ্রকুল — দুগ্ধসিন্ধু, কৃষ্ণ — তাহে পূর্ণ ইন্দু, জন্মি' কৈলা জগৎ উজোর ৷
কান্ত্যমৃত যেবা পিয়ে, নিরন্তর পিয়া জিয়ে, ব্রজ-জনের নয়ন-চকোর ॥ ৩৬ ॥

vrajendra-kula — dugdha-sindhu, of the king of Vraja the dynasty the ocean of milk
kṛṣṇa — tāhe pūrṇa indu, Kṛṣṇa in it the full moon
janmi' kailā jagat ujora
being born made the world illumined
kānty-amṛta yebā piye,
of lustre the nectar who drink
nirantara piyā jiye,
constantly drinking live
vraja-janera nayana-cakora
of Vraja's people the eyes cakora birds

36 "The line of Vraja's king is an ocean of milk, and Kṛṣṇa is the full moon within it: by His birth He has lit up the world. The eyes of the people of Vraja are cakora birds: they drink the nectar of His lustre constantly, and only by drinking it do they live.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The dynasty of the king of Vraja is like the ocean of milk; Kṛṣṇa, like the full moon, was born in it and lit up the world. The eyes of the people of Vraja are like cakora birds, and they receive a nectar — Kṛṣṇa's luster. Only one who constantly drinks this nectar remains alive.

ujora — illuminated (ujjvala).

Śrī Rādhā, thirsting to see Kṛṣṇa —

সখি হে, কোথা কৃষ্ণ, করাহ দরশন ।
ক্ষণেকে যাহার মুখ, না দেখিলে ফাটে বুক, শীঘ্র দেখাহ, না রহে জীবন ॥ ৩৭ ॥

sakhi he, kothā kṛṣṇa, karāha daraśana O friend O where Kṛṣṇa let (Me) see kṣaṇeke yāhāra mukha,
for a moment whose face
nā dekhile phāṭe buka,
not seeing breaks the heart
śīghra dekhāha, nā rahe jīvana quickly show not remains life

37 O friend, where is Kṛṣṇa? Let Me see Him! If I do not see His face even for a moment, My heart breaks. Show Him to Me quickly, or I cannot live![3]

*Kṛṣṇacandra, the treasure of the gopīs' lives —*

এই ব্রজের রমণী, কামার্কতপ্ত-কুমুদিনী, নিজ-করামৃত দিয়া দান ।
প্রফুল্লিত করে যেই, কাঁহা মোর চন্দ্র সেই, দেখাহ, সখি, রাখ মোর প্রাণ ॥ ৩৮ ॥

ei vrajera ramaṇī,
these of Vraja the women
kāmārka-tapta-kumudinī,
by the sun of desire scorched night lotuses
nija-karāmṛta diyā dāna own of the rays (hands) the nectar giving as a gift
praphullita kare yei, blossoming makes who
kāṁhā mora candra sei,
where My moon that dekhāha, sakhi, rākha mora prāṇa
show O friend save My life

38 The women of Vraja are night-blooming lotuses scorched by the sun of loving desire (kāma). Where is that moon of Mine who makes them blossom with the gift of the nectar of His rays — His hands? O friend, show Him to Me and save My life!

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
To the women of Vraja, who are like night-blooming lotuses (kumudinī) scorched by the sun of loving desire (kāma), He gives the nectar of His kara (hands) — that is, the nectar of His rays.

Anubhāṣya.
The gopīs' loving desire (kāma) is like the sun (arka), and the gopīs' hearts are like night-blooming lotuses (kumudinī): the gopīs' hearts, burned by their desire [to meet] Kṛṣṇa, are like lotuses scorched by the sun's rays. The word nija points to Kṛṣṇa's own kara, that is, His rays or His hands: Kṛṣṇacandra (Kṛṣṇa, who is like the moon) gives those nectar-like rays — or hands.

Description of Kṛṣṇa's form in separation from Him —

কাঁহা সে চূড়ার ঠাম, শিখিপিঞ্ছের উড়ান, নব মেঘে যেন ইন্দ্রধনু ।
পীতাম্বর — তড়িদ্দ্যুতি, মুক্তামালা — বকপাঁতি, নবাম্বুদ জিনি' শ্যামতনু ॥ ৩৯ ॥

kāṁhā se cūḍāra ṭhāma,
where that of the crown the beauty
śikhi-piñchera uḍāna,
of the peacock feathers the waving
nava meghe yena indra-dhanu
in a new cloud like a rainbow
pītāmbara — taḍid-dyuti, the yellow garment lightning's flash
muktā-mālā — baka-pāṁti,
the pearl necklace a line of herons
navāmbuda jini' śyāma-tanu
a new cloud surpassing the dark body

39 Where is the beauty of His crown, with its waving peacock feathers, like a rainbow in a fresh cloud? His yellow garment is a flash of lightning, His pearl necklace a line of herons, and His dark body outshines a new rain cloud.

Anubhāṣya.
baka-pāṅti — a line, or row, of herons.

একবার যার নয়নে লাগে, সদা তার হৃদয়ে জাগে, কৃষ্ণতনু — যেন আম্র-আঠা ৷
নারী-মনে পশি’ যায়, যত্নে নাহি বাহিরায়, তনু নহে, — সেয়াকুলের কাঁটা ॥ ৪০ ॥

eka-bāra yāra nayane lāge,
once whose in the eyes catches
sadā tāra hṛdaye jāge,
always his in the heart stays awake
kṛṣṇa-tanu — yena āmra-āṭhā Kṛṣṇa’s body like mango sap
nārī-mane paśi’ yāya,
of women into the mind entering goes
yatne nāhi bāhirāya,
with effort not comes out
tanu nahe, — seyā-kulera kāṁṭā
a body is not of the seyākul a thorn

40 Once Kṛṣṇa’s body has met someone’s eyes, it lives on in that heart for ever, clinging like the sap of the mango tree. It enters a woman’s mind and will not come out, however hard she tries. It is not a body — it is a thorn of the seyākul bush!

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
“tanu nahe — seyā-kulera kāṅṭā” (it is not a body but a thorn of the seyākul): Kṛṣṇa's body can be compared to a thorn of the seyākul bush. Its nature is that once it catches, it is hard to get free of it.

Anubhāṣya.
āmra-āṭhā — the sap of the mango tree: once it sticks somewhere, it is hard to remove, and where it sticks it may even cause a sore.

জিনিয়া তমালদ্যুতি, ইন্দ্রনীল-সম কান্তি, সে কান্তিতে জগৎ মাতায় ৷
শৃঙ্গার-রস-সার-ছানি’ তাতে চন্দ্র-জ্যোৎস্না সানি’, জানি’ বিধি নিরমিলা তায় ॥ ৪১ ॥

jiniyā tamāla-dyuti,
surpassing the tamāla’s lustre
indranīla-sama kānti,
to the sapphire equal the lustre
se kāntite jagat mātāya
by that lustre the world maddens
śṛṅgāra-rasa-sāra-chāni’,
of amorous rasa the essence straining
tāte candra-jyotsnā sāni’,
with it of the moon the light mixing
jāni’ vidhi niramilā tāya
knowing the Creator fashioned Him

41 His lustre, like a sapphire’s, outshines the dark tamāla tree, and with it He maddens the world. With all his skill the Creator fashioned Him: he strained out the very essence of the rasa of love and mixed it with moonlight.[4]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
chāni’ — straining; sāni’ — mixing.

Description of Kṛṣṇa's luster —

কাঁহা সে মুরলীধ্বনি, নবাম্বুদ-গর্জ্জিত জিনি', জগৎ আকর্ষে শ্রবণে যাহার ৷
উঠি' ধায় ব্রজ-জন, তৃষিত চাতকগণ, আসি' পিয়ে কান্ত্যমৃত-ধার ॥ ৪২ ॥

kāṁhā se muralī-dhvani,
where that of the flute the sound
navāmbuda-garjita jini',
of a new cloud the thunder surpassing jagat ākarṣe śravaṇe yāhāra
the world attracts to the hearing of which uṭhi' dhāya vraja-jana,
rising run of Vraja the people
tṛṣita cātaka-gaṇa,
thirsty cātaka birds
āsi' piye kānty-amṛta-dhāra
coming drink of lustre the nectar streams

42 Where is the sound of that flute which surpasses the thunder of a fresh cloud and draws the whole world to hear it? At its sound the people of Vraja rise and run like thirsty cātaka birds, and come to drink the streams of the nectar of His lustre.

Anubhāṣya.
navāmbuda — a new cloud.

মোর সেই কলানিধি, প্রাণরক্ষা-মহৌষধি,
সখি মোর তেঁহো সুহৃত্তম ৷
দেহ জীয়ে তাঁহা বিনে, ধিক্ এই জীবনে, বিধি করে এত বিড়ম্বন ! ॥ ৪৩ ॥

mora sei kalā-nidhi,
My that treasury of arts (the moon)
prāṇa-rakṣā-mahauṣadhi,
of life saving the great medicine
sakhi mora teṁho suhṛttama
O friend My He dearest friend
deha jīye tāṁhā vine,
the body lives Him without
dhik ei jīvane,
fie on this life
vidhi kare eta viḍambana!
the Creator makes such mockery

43 He is My moon, the treasury of all arts, the great medicine that saves My life. O friend, He is My dearest friend. Yet My body lives on without Him — fie on such a life! What a mockery the Creator has made of Me!

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"deha jīye tāṅhā vine" (the body lives without Him): [fie on this life] because the body, parted from Him, has remained alive for so long.

Anubhāṣya.
kalā-nidhi — the reservoir of the sixty-four arts; in the other sense [of the moon], full in all sixteen digits (kalās); viḍambana — deceit, trickery.

Reproaching the Creator —

‘যে-জন জীতে নাহি চায়, তারে কেনে জীয়ায়’, বিধিপ্রতি উঠে ক্রোধ-শোক ৷
বিধিরে করে ভর্ৎসন, কৃষ্ণে দেন ওলাহন, পড়ি’ ভাগবতের এক শ্লোক ॥ ৪৪ ॥

‘ye-jana jīte nāhi cāya,
who a person to live not wants
tāre kene jīyāya’,
him why makes live
vidhi-prati uṭhe krodha-śoka
the Creator against rises anger and grief
vidhire kare bhartsana,
the Creator makes rebuke
kṛṣṇe dena olāhana, Kṛṣṇa gives reproach
paḍi’ bhāgavatera eka śloka
reciting of the Bhāgavatam one verse

44 “Why does he make one live who does not want to live?” — so anger and grief rose in Him against the Creator. Reciting a verse from the Bhāgavatam, He rebuked the Creator and reproached Kṛṣṇa:

Reproaching the Creator, who brings about separation from Kṛṣṇa —

অহো বিধাতস্তব ন ক্বচিদ্দয়া
সংযোজ্য মৈত্র্যা প্রণয়েন দেহিনঃ ৷
তাংশ্চাকৃতার্থান্ বিযুনঙ্ক্ষ্যপার্থকং বিচেষ্টিতং তেঽর্ভকচেষ্টিতং যথা ॥ ৪৫ ॥

aho vidhātas tava na kvacid dayā
O Creator your not anywhere mercy
saṁyojya maitryā praṇayena dehinaḥ
having joined by friendship by love embodied beings
tāṁś cākṛtārthān viyunaṅkṣy apārthakaṁ them and unfulfilled you separate pointlessly
viceṣṭitaṁ te ’rbhaka-ceṣṭitaṁ yathā
the doings your of a child the doings like

45 “O Creator, there is no mercy in you anywhere! You join embodied beings in friendship and love, and then, before their desires are fulfilled, you pointlessly separate them. Your doings are like the play of a child.” (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.39.19)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O Creator, you have no mercy! You join embodied beings through friendship and love (praṇaya), and while they are still unfulfilled you separate them again. Such deeds of yours can only be called a child's doings.

Anubhāṣya.

> (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.39.19)

The gopīs of Vraja, whose lives were given to Kṛṣṇa and who were Kṛṣṇa's beloveds, heard that Śrī Akrūra had come to Vraja only to take Rāma and Kṛṣṇa to Mathurā. Then, fearing the coming separation from Kṛṣṇa, they weep and lament in great grief:

aho (expresses grief) vidhātaḥ, tava kvacit dayā na (asti, there is not, yataḥ, because) maitryā (by friendship — by acting for their welfare) praṇayena (by affection — by tender love) dehinaḥ (embodied jīvas, one with another) saṁyojya akṛtārthān (even though they have not yet tasted the happiness [of union]) tān ca viyunaṅkṣi (you separate); te (your) viceṣṭitaṁ (deeds) arbhaka-ceṣṭitaṁ (what a child does out of foolishness) yathā (as, [so]) apārthakaṁ (are without reason).

*The meaning of the verse; words of citra-jalpa — [Any rāga as suits (yathā-rāga)]*

না জানিস্ প্রেম-মর্ম্ম, ব্যর্থ করিস্ পরিশ্রম, তোর চেষ্টা — বালক-সমান ।
তোর যদি লাগ্ পাইয়ে, তবে তোরে শিক্ষা দিয়ে, এমন যেন না করিস্ বিধান ॥ ৪৬ ॥

nā jānis prema-marma,
not you know of love the heart
vyartha karis pariśrama,
in vain you make labour
tora ceṣṭā — bālaka-samāna your doings a child like
tora yadi lāg pāiye,
you if hold of I get
tabe tore śikṣā diye,
then to you a lesson I will give emana yena nā karis vidhāna
such that not you make arrangement

46 "You do not know the heart of love, and you labour in vain. Your doings are like a child's. If I can only get hold of you, I will teach you such a lesson that you will never arrange such things again!

Anubhāṣya.
pariśrama — the work of creation and so on.

অরে বিধি, তুই বড়ই নিষ্ঠুর । অন্যোহন্য দুর্লভ জন, প্রেমে করাঞা সম্মিলন,
'অকৃতার্থান্' কেনে করিস্ দূর ? ॥ ৪৭ ॥

are vidhi, tui baḍai niṣṭhura
O Creator you very cruel
anyo'nya durlabha jana,
for each other hard to win people
preme karāñā sammilana,
in love making union
'akṛtārthān' kene karis dūra?
unfulfilled why you make far apart

47 O Creator, you are very cruel! You bring together in love those who are so hard for each other to win. Why then do you part them before their desires are fulfilled?[5]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Those who find it so hard to meet each other you unite through love. Why, then, do you part them again before the purpose of their meeting has been fulfilled?

অরে বিধি অকরুণ, দেখাঞা কৃষ্ণানন, নেত্র-মন লোভাইলা মোর ।
ক্ষণেকে করিতে পান, কাড়ি' নিলা অন্যস্থান, পাপ কৈলি 'দত্ত-অপহার' ॥ ৪৮ ॥

are vidhi akaruṇa,
O Creator merciless
dekhāñā kṛṣṇānana,
showing Kṛṣṇa's face
netra-mana lobhāilā mora eyes mind you tempted My kṣaṇeke karite pāna,
for a moment to make drinking
kāḍi' nilā anya-sthāna,
snatching you took to another place
pāpa kaili 'datta-apahāra'
sin you committed of the given taking back

48 Merciless Creator! You showed Me Kṛṣṇa's face and stirred a thirst in My eyes and mind. But I had drunk of it for only a moment when you snatched it away and carried it off. You have committed the sin of taking back what you gave.

Anubhāṣya.
"datta-apahāra" — to give something to someone and then take it back is dattāpahāra; it is one of the sins that require atonement (prāyaścitta).

'অক্রূর করে তোর দোষ, আমায় কেনে কর রোষ', ইহা যদি কহ 'দুরাচার' ৷
তুই অক্রূর-মূর্ত্তি ধরি', কৃষ্ণ নিলি চুরি করি', অন্যের নহে ঐছে ব্যবহার ॥ ৪৯ ॥

'akrūra kare tora doṣa, Akrūra makes your offence
āmāya kene kara roṣa',
to me why you make anger
ihā yadi kaha 'durācāra'
this if you say O villain
tui akrūra-mūrti dhari', you Akrūra's form assuming kṛṣṇa nili curi kari', Kṛṣṇa you took theft making anyera nahe aiche vyavahāra
of another is not such behaviour

49 If you say, villain, 'It is Akrūra who has wronged You — why are You angry with me?' — then know that it was you who took the form of Akrūra and stole Kṛṣṇa away. No one else behaves like this.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O wicked Creator, if you say, "Akrūra has committed the offense — why are you angry with me?" then here is what I say.

*Reproaching her own ill fate (citra-jalpa)*

আপনার কর্ম্ম-দোষ, তোরে কিবা করি রোষ, তোর আমার সম্বন্ধ বিদূর ৷
যে আমার প্রাণনাথ, একত্র রহি যাঁর সাথ, সেই কৃষ্ণ হইলা নিষ্ঠুর ! ॥ ৫০ ॥

āpanāra karma-doṣa,
My own of deeds the fault
tore kibā kari roṣa,
with you why I make anger
tora āmāra sambandha vidūra
your My relation far distant ye āmāra prāṇa-nātha, who My of life the Lord
ekatra rahi yāṁra sātha, together I lived with whom in company
sei kṛṣṇa hailā niṣṭhura!
that Kṛṣṇa became cruel

50 But it is the fault of My own deeds — why should I be angry with you? There is nothing between you and Me. It is Kṛṣṇa, the Lord of My life, from whom I was never apart, who has become so cruel!

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
vidūra — very far.

*Reproaches to Kṛṣṇa in loving anger (praṇaya-roṣa) —*

সব ত্যজি' ভজি যাঁরে, সেই আপনা-হাতে মারে, নারীবধে কৃষ্ণের নাহি ভয় ৷
তাঁর লাগি' আমি মরি, উলটি' না চাহে হরি, ক্ষণমাত্রে ভাঙ্গিল প্রণয় ॥ ৫১ ॥

saba tyaji' bhaji yāṁre,
all giving up I serve whom sei āpanā-hāte māre,
He with His own hand kills
nārī-vadhe kṛṣṇera nāhi bhaya
in killing a woman Kṛṣṇa's is not fear
tāṁra lāgi' āmi mari,
Him for I die
ulaṭi' nā cāhe hari,
turning back not looks Hari
kṣaṇa-mātre bhāṅgila praṇaya
in a moment broke the love

51 He whom I serve, having renounced everything, kills Me with His own hand. Kṛṣṇa has no fear of killing a woman. I am dying for Him, yet Hari will not even turn back to look at Me. In a moment He has broken our love.

Again reproaching her own fate —

কৃষ্ণে কেনে করি রোষ, আপন দুর্দ্দৈব-দোষ, পাকিল মোর এই পাপফল ৷
যে কৃষ্ণ — মোর প্রেমাধীন, তারে কৈল উদাসীন, এই মোর অভাগ্য প্রবল ॥ ৫২ ॥

kṛṣṇe kene kari roṣa,
with Kṛṣṇa why I make anger
āpana durdaiva-doṣa,
My own ill fate's the fault
pākila mora ei pāpa-phala has ripened My this of sin the fruit
ye kṛṣṇa — mora premādhīna, who Kṛṣṇa My to love subject
tāre kaila udāsīna,
Him made indifferent
ei mora abhāgya prabala
this My misfortune mighty

52 But why should I be angry with Kṛṣṇa? It is the fault of My own ill fate: the fruit of My sins has ripened. Kṛṣṇa is subject to My love, yet My mighty misfortune has made Him indifferent to Me!"

*The Lord, seized by divine madness in the mood of the gopīs —*

এইমত গৌর-রায়, বিষাদে করে হায় হায়,
'হাহা কৃষ্ণ, তুমি গেলা কতি ?'
গোপীভাব হৃদয়ে, তার বাক্য বিলাপয়ে,
'গোবিন্দ দামোদর মাধবেতি' ॥ ৫৩ ॥

ei-mata gaura-rāya,
in this way Gaura Rāya
viṣāde kare hāya hāya,
in grief makes alas alas
'hāhā kṛṣṇa, tumi gelā kati?'
alas Kṛṣṇa You went where gopī-bhāva hṛdaye,
of the gopīs the feeling in the heart
tāra vākya vilāpaye,
their words lamenting
'govinda dāmodara mādhaveti'
Govinda Dāmodara Mādhava (thus)

53 In this way Gaura Rāya cried in grief, "Alas! Alas! O Kṛṣṇa, where have You gone?" With the feelings of the gopīs in His heart, He lamented in their words: "O Govinda! O Dāmodara! O Mādhava!"

Svarūpa consoles the Lord with songs suited to His feelings —

তবে স্বরূপ-রামরায়, করি' নানা উপায়, মহাপ্রভুর করে আশ্বাসন ৷
গায়েন মঙ্গল-গীত, প্রভুর ফিরাইলা চিত, প্রভুর কিছু স্থির হৈল মন ॥ ৫৪ ॥

tabe svarūpa-rāma-rāya,
then Svarūpa Rāma Rāya
kari' nānā upāya,
making various means
mahāprabhura kare āśvāsana of Mahāprabhu make consoling
gāyena maṅgala-gīta,
they sing auspicious songs
prabhura phirāilā cita,
the Lord's turned mind
prabhura kichu sthira haila mana
the Lord's somewhat calm became mind

54 Then Svarūpa and Rāmānanda Rāya tried in various ways to console Mahāprabhu. They sang auspicious songs to turn His mind, and the Lord grew somewhat calmer.

The Lord lies down to sleep in the Gambhīrā —

এইমত প্রলাপিতে অর্দ্ধরাত্রি গেল । গম্ভীরাতে স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি প্রভুরে শোয়াইল ॥ ৫৫ ॥

ei-mata pralāpite ardha-rātri gela
in this way in raving half the night passed gambhīrāte svarūpa-gosāñi prabhure śoyāila
in the Gambhīrā Svarūpa Gosāñi the Lord put to bed

55 In this way half the night passed in His ravings. Then Svarūpa Gosāñi put the Lord to bed in the Gambhīrā.

প্রভুরে শোয়াঞা রামানন্দ গেলা ঘরে । স্বরূপ, গোবিন্দ শুইলা গম্ভীরার দ্বারে ॥ ৫৬ ॥

prabhure śoyāñā rāmānanda gelā ghare
the Lord having put to bed Rāmānanda went home
svarūpa, govinda śuilā gambhīrāra dvāre
Svarūpa Govinda lay down of the Gambhīrā at the door

56 Once the Lord was in bed, Rāmānanda went home, and Svarūpa and Govinda lay down at the door of the Gambhīrā.

*The night spent in kīrtana of the holy names —*

প্রেমাবেশে মহাপ্রভুর গর-গর মন । নামসঙ্কীর্ত্তন করি' করেন জাগরণ ॥ ৫৭ ॥

premāveśe mahāprabhura gara-gara mana absorbed in love of Mahāprabhu overflowing the mind
nāma-saṅkīrtana kari' karena jāgaraṇa
of the name saṅkīrtana doing makes waking

57 Mahāprabhu's mind was overflowing with love, and He stayed awake chanting the holy name.

*The Lord's divine madness — rubbing His face against the walls (udghūrṇā) —*

বিরহে ব্যাকুল প্রভু উদ্বেগে উঠিলা । গম্ভীরার ভিত্ত্যে মুখ ঘষিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৫৮ ॥

virahe vyākula prabhu udvege uṭhilā
in separation agitated the Lord in distress rose gambhīrāra bhittye mukha ghaṣite lāgilā of the Gambhīrā against the walls His face to rub began

58 Agitated by separation, the Lord rose in distress and began to rub His face against the walls of the Gambhīrā.

মুখে, গণ্ডে, নাকে ক্ষত হইল অপার । ভাবাবেশে না জানেন প্রভু, পড়ে রক্তধার ॥ ৫৯ ॥

mukhe, gaṇḍe, nāke kṣata haila apāra on His face cheeks nose wounds became countless bhāvāveśe nā jānena prabhu, paḍe rakta-dhāra absorbed in feeling not knows the Lord falls of blood a stream

59 His face, cheeks and nose were covered with countless wounds. Absorbed in His feelings, the Lord was unaware of it, and the blood kept flowing.

সর্ব্বরাত্রি করেন ভাবে মুখ সংঘর্ষণ । গোঁ-গোঁ-শব্দ করেন, — স্বরূপ শুনিলা তখন ॥ ৬০ ॥

sarva-rātri karena bhāve mukha saṅgharṣaṇa
all night makes in ecstasy of the face rubbing
goṁ-goṁ-śabda karena, — svarūpa śunilā takhana goṅ-goṅ sounds makes Svarūpa heard then

60 All night, in ecstasy, He rubbed His face against the walls, moaning low and muffled — goṅ-goṅ. Svarūpa heard it.

দীপ জ্বালি' ঘরে গেলা, দেখি' প্রভুর মুখ । স্বরূপ, গোবিন্দ দুঁহার হৈল বড় দুঃখ ॥ ৬১ ॥

dīpa jvāli' ghare gelā, dekhi' prabhura mukha
a lamp lighting into the room went seeing the Lord's face
svarūpa, govinda duṁhāra haila baḍa duḥkha
Svarūpa Govinda of both arose great sorrow

61 With Govinda he lit a lamp, and they went into the room. When they saw the Lord's face, both were deeply grieved.

Svarūpa asks the Lord about His condition; the Lord's answer —

প্রভুরে শয্যাতে আনি' শয়ন করাইলা ।
'কাঁহে কৈলা এই তুমি ?' — স্বরূপ পুছিলা ॥ ৬২ ॥

prabhure śayyāte āni' śayana karāilā
the Lord to the bed bringing to lie down made
'kāṁhe kailā ei tumi?' — svarūpa puchilā
why did this You Svarūpa asked

62 They brought the Lord to His bed and made Him lie down, and Svarūpa asked, "Why did You do this?"

প্রভু কহেন, — উদ্বেগে ঘরে না পারি রহিতে । দ্বার চাহি' ফিরি' শীঘ্র বাহির হইতে ॥ ৬৩ ॥

prabhu kahena, — udvege ghare nā pāri rahite
the Lord says in distress in the room not I can remain
dvāra cāhi' phiri' śīghra bāhira haite
the door seeking I wandered quickly outside to go

63 The Lord said, "In My distress I could not stay in the room. I wandered about looking for the door, eager to get out.

দ্বার নাহি' পাঞা মুখ লাগে চারিভিতে । ক্ষত হয়, রক্ত পড়ে, না পাই যাইতে ॥ ৬৪ ॥

dvāra nāhi' pāñā mukha lāge cāri-bhite
the door not finding the face strikes on all sides
kṣata haya, rakta paḍe, nā pāi yāite wounds come blood falls not I can go

64 But I could not find the door, and on every side My face struck against the walls. So I was hurt and bleeding, yet I could not get out."

The signs of the Lord's divine madness —

উন্মাদ-দশায় প্রভুর স্থির নহে মন । যেই করে, যেই বোলে, — উন্মাদ-লক্ষণ ॥ ৬৫ ॥

unmāda-daśāya prabhura sthira nahe mana
in the state of madness the Lord's steady is not mind
yei kare, yei bole, — unmāda-lakṣaṇa
whatever He does whatever He says of madness a symptom

65 In the state of divine madness the Lord's mind was never steady. Whatever He did and whatever He said was a symptom of that madness.

After consulting the devotees, Svarūpa chooses Śaṅkara Paṇḍita as the pillow for the Lord's feet —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তবে চিন্তা পাইলা মনে । ভক্তগণ লঞা বিচার কৈলা আর দিনে ॥ ৬৬ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi tabe cintā pāilā mane Svarūpa Gosāñi then anxiety felt in his mind
bhakta-gaṇa lañā vicāra kailā āra dine
the devotees gathering counsel held on the next day

66 Then Svarūpa Gosāñi became anxious, and the next day he gathered the devotees and took counsel with them.

সব ভক্ত মেলি' তবে প্রভুরে সাধিল । শঙ্কর-পণ্ডিতে প্রভুর সঙ্গে শোয়াইল ॥ ৬৭ ॥

saba bhakta meli' tabe prabhure sādhila
all the devotees together then the Lord entreated
śaṅkara-paṇḍite prabhura saṅge śoyāila
Śaṅkara Paṇḍita the Lord's with made sleep

67 All the devotees together entreated the Lord, and they had Śaṅkara Paṇḍita sleep beside Him.

প্রভু-পাদতলে শঙ্কর করেন শয়ন । প্রভু তাঁর উপর করেন পাদ-প্রসারণ ॥ ৬৮ ॥

prabhu-pāda-tale śaṅkara karena śayana
the Lord's feet at the base Śaṅkara makes lying prabhu tāṁra upara karena pāda-prasāraṇa
the Lord him upon makes of the feet stretching 68 Śaṅkara would lie at Mahāprabhu's feet, and the Lord would stretch His legs out across him.

Śaṅkara's service to Bhagavān, like Vidura's in the Dvāpara age —

'প্রভু-পাদোপাধান' বলি' তাঁর নাম হইল । পূর্ব্বে বিদুরে যেন শ্রীশুক বর্ণিল ॥ ৬৯ ॥

'prabhu-pādopādhāna' bali' tāṁra nāma haila
the Lord's feet's pillow calling his name became pūrve vidure yena śrī-śuka varṇila long ago of Vidura as Śrī Śuka described

69 So he became known as "the pillow for the Lord's feet", just as Śrī Śuka once described Vidura:

*Maitreya speaks to Vidura, who served as a pillow for Kṛṣṇa's feet — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 3.13.5)*

ইতি ব্রুবাণং বিদুরং বিনীতং সহস্রশীর্ষ্ণশ্চরণোপাধানম্ ।
প্রহৃষ্টরোমা ভগবৎকথায়াং প্রণীয়মানো মুনিরভ্যচষ্ট ॥ ৭০ ॥

iti bruvāṇaṁ viduraṁ vinītaṁ
thus speaking Vidura humble
sahasra-śīrṣṇaś caraṇopādhānam
of the thousand-headed of the feet the pillow
prahṛṣṭa-romā bhagavat-kathāyāṁ thrilled with hairs in talk of Bhagavān praṇīyamāno munir abhyacaṣṭa
being urged the sage began to speak

70 "So spoke the humble Vidura, the pillow for the feet of the thousand-headed Lord; and the sage Maitreya, urged on by him to speak of Bhagavān, began to speak, the hair on his body standing on end with joy." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 3.13.5)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The humble Vidura was the pillow for the feet of Kṛṣṇa, the Thousand-headed Puruṣa. When he spoke thus, the sage Maitreya, his hairs standing on end with the bliss of speaking about Bhagavān, began to speak.

Anubhāṣya.
The great-souled Vidura asked the mahā-bhāgavata sage Maitreya about the deeds of Svāyambhuva Manu, the best of Hari's devotees, and of Śatarūpā. In reply Maitreya spoke about Hari, and Śrī Śukadeva is relating that account to Parīkṣit:

(śrī-śuka uvāca —) bhagavat-kathāyāṁ (in describing the qualities of Śrī Hari) praṇīyamānaḥ (urged on by Vidura) prahṛṣṭa-romā (he whose hairs stood on end) muniḥ (Maitreya) iti bruvāṇaṁ (to the one asking) sahasra-śīrṣṇaḥ (of the Thousand-headed One, Śrī Kṛṣṇa) caraṇopadhānaṁ (the one on whom the feet are placed, that is, the one on whose lap Śrī Kṛṣṇa lovingly stretches out His feet) vinītaṁ (humble) viduraṁ abhyacaṣṭa (spoke).

It is said that Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa came to Vidura's house, rested both His feet on Vidura's lap and fell asleep (see the Sārārtha-darśinī commentary).

Śaṅkara's service to the Lord —

শঙ্কর করেন প্রভুর পাদ-সম্বাহন । ঘুমাঞা পড়েন, তৈছে করেন শয়ন ॥ ৭১ ॥

śaṅkara karena prabhura pāda-samvāhana Śaṅkara makes the Lord's feet massaging ghumāñā paḍena, taiche karena śayana falling asleep he drops so makes lying

71 Śaṅkara would massage the Lord's feet, fall asleep and lie there just as he was.

উঘাড় অঙ্গে পড়িয়া শঙ্কর নিদ্রা যায় । প্রভু উঠি' আপন কাঁথা তাহারে জড়ায় ॥ ৭২ ॥

ughāḍa aṅge paḍiyā śaṅkara nidrā yāya uncovered in body lying Śaṅkara sleep goes prabhu uṭhi' āpana kāṁthā tāhāre jaḍāya
the Lord rising His own quilt him wraps

72 When Śaṅkara lay asleep with his body uncovered, the Lord would rise and wrap him in His own quilt.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
ughāḍa-aṅge — with the body uncovered.

নিরন্তর ঘুমায় শঙ্কর শীঘ্র চেতন । বসি' পাদ চাপি' করে রাত্রি জাগরণ ॥ ৭৩ ॥

nirantara ghumāya śaṅkara śīghra cetana constantly sleeps Śaṅkara quickly awake vasi' pāda cāpi' kare rātri jāgaraṇa sitting the feet pressing makes of the night waking

73 Śaṅkara would keep falling asleep but quickly wake again, and then he would sit up, press the Lord's feet, and stay awake through the night.

With Śaṅkara present, the Lord's madness subsides —

তাঁর ভয়ে নারেন প্রভু বাহিরে যাইতে । তাঁর ভয়ে নারেন ভিত্ত্যে মুখাব্জ ঘষিতে ॥ ৭৪ ॥

tāṁra bhaye nārena prabhu bāhire yāite
of him for fear cannot the Lord outside go tāṁra bhaye nārena bhittye mukhābja ghaṣite of him for fear cannot against the wall His lotus face rub

74 For fear of disturbing him, the Lord could not go out, nor could He rub His lotus face against the walls.

Śrī Raghunātha describes the Lord's divine madness in his own book —

এই লীলা মহাপ্রভুর রঘুনাথ-দাস ।
চৈতন্যস্তবকল্পবৃক্ষে কৈরাছেন প্রকাশ ॥ ৭৫ ॥

ei līlā mahāprabhura raghunātha-dāsa
this pastime of Mahāprabhu Raghunātha dāsa
caitanya-stava-kalpa-vṛkṣe kairāchena prakāśa
in the Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa has described

75 Raghunātha dāsa has described this pastime of Mahāprabhu in his Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa:

*The Lord in separation from Kṛṣṇa, speaking the incoherent words of divine madness — (Stavāvalī: Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa 6)*

স্বকীয়স্য প্রাণার্ব্বুদসদৃশ-গোষ্ঠস্য বিরহাৎ প্রলাপানুন্মাদাৎ সততমতি কুর্ব্বন্ বিকলধীঃ ৷
দধদ্ভিত্তৌ শশ্বদ্বদনবিধুঘর্ষেণ রুধিরং
ক্ষতোত্থং গৌরাঙ্গো হৃদয় উদয়ন্মাং মদয়তি ॥ ৭৬ ॥

svakīyasya prāṇārbuda-sadṛśa-goṣṭhasya virahāt
from His own millions of lives equal to from Vraja from separation pralāpān unmādāt satatam ati kurvan vikala-dhīḥ ravings from madness constantly much making bewildered in mind
dadhad bhittau śaśvad vadana-vidhu-gharṣeṇa rudhiraṁ bearing on the wall incessantly by the rubbing of His moonlike face blood kṣatotthaṁ gaurāṅgo hṛdaya udayan māṁ madayati
from wounds arisen Gaurāṅga in my heart rising me maddens

76 “In separation from His own Vraja, dear to Him as millions of lives, He raved constantly in His madness, His mind bewildered. Again and again He rubbed His moonlike face against the wall, and it was covered with blood from the wounds. That Gaurāṅga, rising in my heart, makes me mad with joy.” (Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, 6)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
In separation from Vraja, which was as dear to Him as countless lives, the incoherent words of madness arose in Him, and this state kept growing stronger. Therefore Gauracandra, His mind agitated, rubbed His moonlike face against the wall day after day and bore the blood that flowed from the wounds. This Gaurāṅgadeva, rising in my heart, is driving me mad.

Anubhāṣya.
svakīyasya (His own) prāṇārbuda-sadṛśa-goṣṭhasya (of Vraja [goṣṭha], which is like myriads [arbuda] of lives, that is, as dear as countless lives) virahāt unmādāt (because of divine madness) satatam (constantly) ati-pralāpān kurvan vikala-dhīḥ (agitated in mind) bhittau śaśvat (unceasingly) vadana-vidhu-gharṣeṇa (by rubbing the moon of His face) kṣatotthaṁ rudhiraṁ dadhat (bearing) gaurāṅgaḥ hṛdaye udayan māṁ madayati.

*The Lord, who relishes the rasa of love in separation (vipralambha), absorbed in feeling, now sinks, now surfaces*

—

এইমত মহাপ্রভু রাত্রি দিবসে ৷ প্রেমসিন্ধু-মগ্ন রহে, কভু ডুবে, ভাসে ॥ ৭৭ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu rātri divase
in this way Mahāprabhu night and day
prema-sindhu-magna rahe, kabhu ḍube, bhāse
in the ocean of love immersed remains now sinks floats

77 In this way, night and day, Mahāprabhu remained immersed in the ocean of love, now sinking, now rising to the surface.

*One day, in the Jagannātha-vallabha garden, absorbed in mahābhāva, the Lord displays the ten kinds of *citra-jalpa

—

এককালে বৈশাখের পৌর্ণমাসী-দিনে ৷ রাত্রিকালে মহাপ্রভু চলিলা উদ্যানে ॥ ৭৮ ॥

eka-kāle vaiśākhera paurṇamāsī-dine
one time of Vaiśākha on the full-moon day
rātri-kāle mahāprabhu calilā udyāne
at night Mahāprabhu went to a garden

78 Once, on the full-moon day of the month of Vaiśākha, Mahāprabhu went to a garden at night.

‘জগন্নাথবল্লভ’ নাম উদ্যান প্রধানে ।
প্রবেশ করিলা প্রভু লঞা ভক্তগণে ॥ ৭৯ ॥

‘jagannātha-vallabha’ nāma udyāna pradhāne Jagannātha-vallabha named of gardens the foremost praveśa karilā prabhu lañā bhakta-gaṇe
entry made the Lord taking the devotees

79 Taking the devotees with Him, the Lord entered the finest of gardens, called Jagannātha-vallabha.

প্রফুল্লিত বৃক্ষ-বল্লী, — যেন বৃন্দাবন । শুক, শারী, পিক, ভৃঙ্গ করে আলাপন ॥ ৮০ ॥

praphullita vṛkṣa-vallī, — yena vṛndāvana blossoming trees creepers like Vṛndāvana
śuka, śārī, pika, bhṛṅga kare ālāpana parrots female parrots cuckoos bees make conversation

80 The trees and creepers were in full bloom, as in Vṛndāvana, and the parrots, śuka and śārī, the cuckoos and the bees were calling to one another.

পুষ্পগন্ধ লঞা বহে মলয়-পবন । ‘গুরু’ হঞা তরুলতায় শিখায় নাচন ॥ ৮১ ॥

puṣpa-gandha lañā vahe malaya-pavana
of flowers the fragrance carrying blows the Malaya breeze ‘guru’ hañā taru-latāya śikhāya nācana
a teacher becoming the trees and creepers teaches dancing

81 The breeze from the Malaya hills blew softly, laden with the fragrance of flowers, and like a dancing master it taught the trees and creepers to dance.

Anubhāṣya.
The Malaya breeze itself carried the fragrance of the flowers and, as a dance teacher (naṭana-guru), was also teaching the trees and creepers to dance.

পূর্ণচন্দ্র-চন্দ্রিকায় পরম উজ্জ্বল । তরুলতাদি জ্যোৎস্নায় করে ঝলমল ॥ ৮২ ॥

pūrṇa-candra-candrikāya parama ujjvala
of the full moon by the light supremely bright taru-latādi jyotsnāya kare jhalamala
the trees creepers and all in the moonlight make glittering

82 Everything shone brightly in the light of the full moon; the trees, the creepers and all else glittered in the moonlight.

ছয় ঋতুগণ যাঁহা বসন্ত প্রধান । দেখি' আনন্দিত হৈলা গৌর ভগবান্ ॥ ৮৩ ॥

chaya ṛtu-gaṇa yāṁhā vasanta pradhāna
the six seasons where spring foremost dekhi' ānandita hailā gaura bhagavān
seeing delighted became Gaura Bhagavān

83 All six seasons were present there, with spring foremost among them. Seeing this, Gaura Bhagavān was delighted.

ললিত লবঙ্গলতা পদ গাওয়াঞা । নৃত্য করি' বুলেন প্রভু নিজগণ লঞা ॥ ৮৪ ॥

lalita lavaṅgalatā pada gāoyāñā
lalita lavaṅga-latā the song having (them) sing
nṛtya kari' bulena prabhu nija-gaṇa lañā dance doing roams the Lord His own associates with

84 He had His associates sing the song "Lalita-lavaṅga-latā", and He danced and roamed about with them.[6]

প্রতিবৃক্ষবল্লী ঐছে ভ্রমিতে ভ্রমিতে । অশোকের তলে কৃষ্ণে দেখেন আচম্বিতে ॥ ৮৫ ॥

prati-vṛkṣa-vallī aiche bhramite bhramite
each tree creeper in this way wandering wandering aśokera tale kṛṣṇe dekhena ācambite
of an aśoka beneath Kṛṣṇa sees suddenly

85 Wandering in this way from tree to tree and creeper to creeper, He suddenly saw Kṛṣṇa beneath an aśoka tree.

কৃষ্ণ দেখি' মহাপ্রভু ধাঞা চলিলা । আগে দেখি' হাসি' কৃষ্ণ অন্তর্দ্ধান হইলা ॥ ৮৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa dekhi' mahāprabhu dhāñā calilā Kṛṣṇa seeing Mahāprabhu running went āge dekhi' hāsi' kṛṣṇa antardhāna hailā
in front seeing smiling Kṛṣṇa disappearance made

86 At the sight of Kṛṣṇa, Mahāprabhu ran towards Him, but Kṛṣṇa, seeing Him draw near, smiled and vanished.

আগে পাইলা কৃষ্ণে, তাঁরে পুনঃ হারাঞা । ভূমেতে পড়িলা প্রভু মূর্চ্ছিত হঞা ॥ ৮৭ ॥

āge pāilā kṛṣṇe, tāṁre punaḥ hārāñā first found Kṛṣṇa Him again losing bhūmete paḍilā prabhu mūrcchita hañā
on the ground fell the Lord unconscious becoming

87 Having found Kṛṣṇa only to lose Him again, the Lord fell to the ground unconscious.

কৃষ্ণের শ্রীঅঙ্গগন্ধে ভরিছে উদ্যানে । সেই গন্ধ পাঞা প্রভু হৈলা অচেতনে ॥ ৮৮ ॥

kṛṣṇera śrī-aṅga-gandhe bhariche udyāne Kṛṣṇa's holy body's with the fragrance is filled the garden
sei gandha pāñā prabhu hailā acetane
that fragrance getting the Lord became unconscious

88 The garden was filled with the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's holy body, and catching that fragrance, the Lord lost consciousness.

নিরন্তর নাসায় পশে কৃষ্ণ-পরিমল । গন্ধ আস্বাদিতে প্রভু হইলা পাগল ॥ ৮৯ ॥

nirantara nāsāya paśe kṛṣṇa-parimala constantly into the nostrils enters Kṛṣṇa's fragrance
gandha āsvādite prabhu hailā pāgala
the fragrance tasting the Lord became mad

89 The fragrance of Kṛṣṇa entered His nostrils constantly, and as He relished it, the Lord was maddened.

*The Lord's citra-jalpa —*

কৃষ্ণগন্ধ-লুব্ধা রাধা সখীরে যে কহিলা । সেই শ্লোক পড়ি' প্রভু অর্থ করিলা ॥ ৯০ ॥

kṛṣṇa-gandha-lubdhā rādhā sakhīre ye kahilā for Kṛṣṇa's fragrance longing Rādhā to her friend which spoke sei śloka paḍi' prabhu artha karilā
that verse reciting the Lord the meaning made

90 The Lord recited the verse that Rādhā, longing for Kṛṣṇa's fragrance, spoke to Her friend, and He explained its meaning:

*The words of Śrī Rādhā, drawn by Kṛṣṇa's fragrance — (Govinda-līlāmṛta 8.6: Śrī Rādhikā's words to Viśākhā)*

কুরঙ্গমদজিদ্বপুঃপরিমলোর্ম্মিকৃষ্টাঙ্গনঃ
স্বকাঙ্গ নলিনাষ্টকে শশিযুতাব্জগন্ধপ্রথঃ ।
মদেন্দুবরচন্দনাগুরুসুগন্ধিচর্চ্চাচ্চিতঃ স মে মদনমোহনঃ সখি তনোতি নাসাস্পৃহাম্ ॥ ৯১ ॥

kuraṅga-mada-jid-vapuḥ-parimalormi-kṛṣṭāṅganaḥ musk surpassing of His body of fragrance by the waves attracting women svakāṅga nalināṣṭake śaśi-yutābja-gandha-prathaḥ of His own body in the eight lotuses with camphor mixed of the lotus fragrance spreading madenduvara-candanāguru-sugandhi-carccāccitaḥ musk camphor fine sandal aguru fragrant with paste anointed
sa me madana-mohanaḥ sakhi tanoti nāsā-spṛhām
He My Madana-mohana O friend increases of the nostrils the longing

91 "O friend, with waves of the fragrance of His body, which surpasses musk, He draws women to Him; from the eight lotuses of His body He spreads the fragrance of the lotus mixed with camphor; and He is anointed with a fragrant paste of musk, camphor, fine sandal and aguru. That Madana-mohana of Mine deepens the longing of My nostrils." (Govinda-līlāmṛta, 8.6)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The fragrance of His body conquers musk, and by its waves He draws the hearts of women to Himself. From the eight parts of His body, the eight lotuses, He spreads the fragrance of a lotus mixed with camphor. He is anointed with the scents of musk, camphor, sandalwood and aguru. O friend, this Madana-mohana is increasing the longing of My nostrils.

Anubhāṣya.

he sakhi, kuraṅga-mada-jid-vapuḥ-parimalormi-kṛṣṭāṅganaḥ (He who, by the waves of the fragrance of His body, which conquers musk [mṛga-mada, kastūrikā], attracts [kṛṣṭā, ākṛṣṭā] the women [aṅganā], that is, the maidens of Vraja)[14] svakāṅga-nalināṣṭake (in the eight lotuses of His body: His face, navel, two eyes, two hands and two feet) śaśi-yutābja-gandha-prathaḥ (He from whom spreads [prathā, vistāra] the fragrance of a lotus mixed with camphor) maden-duvara-candanāguru-sugandhi-carcārcitaḥ (anointed [arcita, vilepita] with fragrant pastes of musk, camphor and white sandalwood) madana-mohanaḥ me (My) nāsā-spṛhāṁ tanoti (increases).

*The meaning of the verse; a description of the power of the sweetness of the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body — [Any rāga as suits (yathā-rāga)]*

কস্তুরিকা-নীলোৎপল, তার যেই পরিমল, তাহা জিনি' কৃষ্ণ-অঙ্গ-গন্ধ ।
ব্যাপে চৌদ্দ-ভুবনে, করে সর্ব্ব আকর্ষণে, নারীগণের আঁখি করে অন্ধ ॥ ৯২ ॥

kasturikā-nīlotpala,
musk blue lotus
tāra yei parimala,
their which fragrance
tāhā jini' kṛṣṇa-aṅga-gandha
that surpassing Kṛṣṇa's body's fragrance
vyāpe caudda-bhuvane,
pervades the fourteen worlds
kare sarva ākarṣaṇe,
makes all attraction
nārī-gaṇera āṁkhi kare andha
of women the eyes makes blind

92 "The fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body surpasses the fragrance of musk and the blue lotus. It pervades the fourteen worlds, draws everyone to itself, and blinds the eyes of women.

*The fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body subdues the gopīs —*

সখি হে, কৃষ্ণগন্ধ জগৎ মাতায় ।
নারীর নাসাতে পশে, সর্ব্বকাল তাঁহা বসে, কৃষ্ণপাশ ধরি' লঞা যায় ॥ ৯৩ ॥

sakhi he, kṛṣṇa-gandha jagat mātāya
O friend O Kṛṣṇa's fragrance the world maddens nārīra nāsāte paśe,
of a woman into the nostrils enters
sarva-kāla tāṁhā vase,
all time there stays
kṛṣṇa-pāśa dhari' lañā yāya
to Kṛṣṇa's side seizing takes away

93 O friend, Kṛṣṇa's fragrance maddens the world! It enters a woman's nostrils and stays there for ever; it seizes her and carries her away to Kṛṣṇa's side.[7]

A description of the sweet fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's lotuslike limbs —

নেত্র-নাভি, বদন, কর-যুগ-চরণ, এই অষ্টপদ্ম কৃষ্ণ-অঙ্গে ।
কর্পূর-লিপ্ত কমল, তার যৈছে পরিমল, সেই গন্ধ অষ্টপদ্ম-সঙ্গে ॥ ৯৪ ॥

netra-nābhi, vadana,
eyes navel face
kara-yuga-caraṇa,
pair of hands feet
ei aṣṭa-padma kṛṣṇa-aṅge
these eight lotuses on Kṛṣṇa's body
karpūra-lipta kamala,
with camphor anointed a lotus
tāra yaiche parimala,
its such as fragrance
sei gandha aṣṭa-padma-saṅge
that fragrance of the eight lotuses with

94 His eyes, navel, face, hands and feet are the eight lotuses on Kṛṣṇa's body, and they give forth the fragrance of a lotus anointed with camphor.

Anubhāṣya.
The two eyes, the navel, the face, the two hands and the two feet — these are the eight limbs.

হেম-কীলিত চন্দন, তাহা করি' ঘর্ষণ, তাহে অগুরু, কুঙ্কুম, কস্তুরী ।
কর্পূর-সনে চর্চ্চা অঙ্গে, পূর্ব্ব অঙ্গের গন্ধ সঙ্গে, মিলি' তারে যেন কৈল চুরি ॥ ৯৫ ॥

hema-kīlita candana,
in gold set sandal
tāhā kari' gharṣaṇa,
it making grinding
tāhe aguru, kuṅkuma, kasturī
with it aguru kuṅkuma musk
karpūra-sane carccā aṅge,
with camphor paste on the body
pūrva aṅgera gandha saṅge,
the original body's fragrance with mili' tāre yena kaila curi
mixing it as if made theft

95 Sandalwood set in gold is ground and mixed with aguru, kuṅkuma, musk and camphor, and His body is anointed with this paste. Mingling with His body's own fragrance, the paste seems to steal it away and hide it.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
hema-kīlita — set in gold; curi — concealment (hiding).

Anubhāṣya.
carcā — anointing. Variant readings: mili' ḍākā yena kaila curi ("mingling, it stole like a robber") and kāma-devera mana kaila curi ("it stole the mind of Kāmadeva").

*The fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body maddens the hearts of the gopīs —*

হরে নারীর তনুমন, নাসা করে ঘূর্ণন, খসায় নীবি, ছুটায় কেশবন্ধ ।
করিয়া আগে বাউরী, নাচায় জগৎ-নারী, হেন ডাকাতিয়া কৃষ্ণাঙ্গ গন্ধ ॥ ৯৬ ॥

hare nārīra tanu-mana,
steals of women bodies and minds
nāsā kare ghūrṇana,
the nostrils makes whirl
khasāya nīvi, chuṭāya keśa-bandha loosens the knots of their garments undoes hair braids kariyā āge bāurī,
making first mad
nācāya jagat-nārī,
makes dance the world's women
hena ḍākātiyā kṛṣṇāṅga gandha
such a robber Kṛṣṇa's body's fragrance

96 The fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body steals the bodies and hearts of women; it sets their nostrils reeling, loosens the knots of their garments and undoes their braided hair. First it drives the women of the world mad, and then it makes them dance — such a robber is the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body!

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
bāurī — maddened.

*The hearts of the gopīs, longing to taste the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa's body —*

সেই গন্ধবশ নাসা, সদা করে গন্ধের আশা, কভু পায়, কভু নাহি পায় ।
পাইলে পিয়া পেট ভরে, পিঙ পিঙ তবু করে, না পাইলে তৃষ্ণায় মরি' যায় ॥ ৯৭ ॥

sei gandha-vaśa nāsā,
by that fragrance conquered nostrils
sadā kare gandhera āśā,
always make for the fragrance hope kabhu pāya, kabhu nāhi pāya sometimes get sometimes not get pāile piyā peṭa bhare,
getting drinking the belly fill
piṅa piṅa tabu kare,
more more still make
nā pāile tṛṣṇāya mari' yāya
not getting from thirst dying go

97 The nostrils conquered by that fragrance always long for it. Sometimes they get it and sometimes not. When they get it, they drink their fill and still cry, 'More! More!' When they do not, they die of thirst.

মদনমোহন-নাট, পসারি গন্ধের হাট, জগন্নারী-গ্রাহকে লোভায় ।
বিনা-মূল্যে দেয় গন্ধ, গন্ধ দিয়া করে অন্ধ, ঘর যাইতে পথ নাহি পায় ॥ ৯৮ ॥

madana-mohana-nāṭa, Madana-mohana the actor
pasāri gandhera hāṭa,
spreading out of fragrance a market
jagan-nārī-grāhake lobhāya
the world's women customers tempts
vinā-mūlye deya gandha,
without price gives fragrance
gandha diyā kare andha, fragrance giving makes blind
ghara yāite patha nāhi pāya home to go the way not find

98 Madana-mohana, that artful actor, has opened a market of fragrance and tempts the women of the world to come as customers. He gives the fragrance free of charge, but having given it, He makes them blind, and they cannot find their way home."

Anubhāṣya.

jagan-nārī-grāhake lobhāya — in this world He entices the women of Vraja, the gopīs, as customers[15].

The Lord's madness —

এইমত গৌরহরি, গন্ধে কৈল মন চুরি, ভৃঙ্গপ্রায় ইতি-উতি ধায় ।
যায় বৃক্ষলতা-পাশে, কৃষ্ণ স্ফুরে — সেই আশে, কৃষ্ণ না পায়, গন্ধমাত্র পায় ॥ ৯৯ ॥

ei-mata gaurahari,
in this way Gaurahari
gandhe kaila mana curi,
by the fragrance made mind theft bhṛṅga-prāya iti-uti dhāya
like a bee here and there runs yāya vṛkṣa-latā-pāśe, goes trees creepers to the side of
kṛṣṇa sphure — sei āśe, Kṛṣṇa will appear in that hope
kṛṣṇa nā pāya, gandha-mātra pāya
Kṛṣṇa not finds fragrance only finds

99 In this way the fragrance stole the mind of Gaurahari, and He ran here and there like a bee. He went to the trees and creepers in the hope that Kṛṣṇa would appear, but He did not find Kṛṣṇa — He found only His fragrance.

Through the efforts of Svarūpa and Rāya the Lord returns to external consciousness —

স্বরূপ-রামানন্দ গায়, প্রভু নাচে, সুখ পায়, এইমতে প্রাতঃকাল হৈল ।
স্বরূপ-রামানন্দরায়, করি নানা উপায়, মহাপ্রভুর বাহ্যস্ফূর্ত্তি কৈল ॥ ১০০ ॥

svarūpa-rāmānanda gāya, Svarūpa Rāmānanda sing
prabhu nāce, sukha pāya,
the Lord dances happiness feels ei-mate prātaḥ-kāla haila
in this way morning came svarūpa-rāmānanda-rāya,
Svarūpa Rāmānanda Rāya
kari nānā upāya,
making various means
mahāprabhura bāhya-sphūrti kaila
of Mahāprabhu external awareness made

100 Svarūpa and Rāmānanda sang, and the Lord danced and was happy. In this way morning came. Then, by various means, Svarūpa and Rāmānanda Rāya brought Him back to external awareness.

*The Lord's devotion to His mother is shown, and His udghūrṇā and citra-jalpa in separation from Kṛṣṇa are described —*

মাতৃভক্তি, প্রলাপন, ভিত্ত্যে মুখ-ঘর্ষণ, কৃষ্ণগন্ধ-স্ফূর্ত্ত্যে দিব্যনৃত্য ।
এই চারিলীলা-ভেদে, গাইল এই পরিচ্ছেদে, কৃষ্ণদাস রূপগোসাঞি-ভৃত্য ॥ ১০১ ॥

mātṛ-bhakti, pralāpana, devotion to His mother ravings
bhittye mukha-gharṣaṇa,
against the walls the face rubbing
kṛṣṇa-gandha-sphūrttye divya-nṛtya
at the appearance of Kṛṣṇa's fragrance divine dancing
ei cāri-līlā-bhede,
these four pastimes distinguishing
gāila ei paricchede,
has sung in this chapter
kṛṣṇadāsa rūpa-gosāñi-bhṛtya
Kṛṣṇadāsa of Rūpa Gosāñi the servant

101 His devotion to His mother, His ravings, His rubbing His face against the walls, and His divine dancing when the fragrance of Kṛṣṇa appeared to Him — these are the four pastimes that Kṛṣṇadāsa, the servant of Rūpa Gosāñi, has sung in this chapter.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

kṛṣṇadāsa rūpa-gosāñi-bhṛtya — Kṛṣṇadāsa, the servant of Rūpa Gosvāmī. Reading this line, many think that Śrī Kṛṣṇadāsa Kavirāja Gosvāmī was a disciple of Rūpa Gosvāmī who received mantra from him. But when one reads other passages, it is hard to reach that conclusion. Here Śrīla Kavirāja Prabhu unfolds rasa by following the teaching of Śrī Rūpa's Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, and so he may have taken only Śrī Rūpa's name. Or the meaning may also be this: the author, Kṛṣṇadāsa, the servant of the Gosvāmīs, composed this line.

Thus ends the nineteenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

এইমত মহাপ্রভু পাঞা চেতন । স্নান করি' কৈল জগন্নাথ দরশন ॥ ১০২ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu pāñā cetana
in this way Mahāprabhu regaining consciousness
snāna kari' kaila jagannātha daraśana bath taking made of Jagannātha seeing

102 Having thus regained consciousness, Mahāprabhu bathed and went to see Lord Jagannātha.

*The transcendental Kṛṣṇa, beyond the senses (adhokṣaja), and the pastimes connected with Kṛṣṇa (kārṣṇa-līlā) are beyond the reach of those who follow the path of argument — those who think themselves scholars, are intoxicated with material learning and rely on knowledge gained through the senses —*

অলৌকিক কৃষ্ণলীলা, দিব্যশক্তি তার । তর্কের গোচর নহে চরিত্র যাহার ॥ ১০৩ ॥

alaukika kṛṣṇa-līlā, divya-śakti tāra unearthly Kṛṣṇa's pastimes divine power of Him tarkera gocara nahe caritra yāhāra of reasoning the object is not the conduct whose

103 Kṛṣṇa's pastimes are unearthly, and divine is the power of Him whose doings lie beyond the reach of reasoning.

এই প্রেম সদা জাগে যাহার অন্তরে । পণ্ডিতেহ তার চেষ্টা বুঝিতে না পারে ॥ ১০৪ ॥

ei prema sadā jāge yāhāra antare
this love always is awake in whose heart paṇḍiteha tāra ceṣṭā bujhite nā pāre
even scholars his behaviour to understand not can

104 Even scholars cannot understand the behaviour of one in whose heart this love is always awake.

*(Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, Pūrva-vibhāga, Prema-bhakti-laharī 17)*

ধন্যস্যায়ং নবঃ প্রেমা যস্যোন্মীলতি চেতসি । অন্তর্ব্বাণীভিরপ্যস্য মুদ্রা সুষ্ঠু সুদুর্গমা ॥ ১০৫ ॥

dhanyasyāyaṁ navaḥ premā
of the fortunate this new prema
yasyonmīlati cetasi
in whose blossoms heart
antar-vāṇībhir apy asya
by knowers of the scriptures even his mudrā suṣṭhu su-durgamā
ways quite very hard to understand

105 "The ways of the fortunate soul in whose heart this new prema has blossomed are very hard to understand, even for those who know the scriptures." (Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, 1.4.17)[8]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 23.36.

An appeal to establish, with transcendental faith, belief in the Lord's pastimes beyond the senses —

অলৌকিক প্রভুর ‘চেষ্টা’, ‘প্রলাপ’ শুনিয়া । তর্ক না করিহ, শুন বিশ্বাস করিয়া ॥ ১০৬ ॥

alaukika prabhura ‘ceṣṭā’, ‘pralāpa’ śuniyā unearthly the Lord’s behaviour ravings hearing
tarka nā kariha, śuna viśvāsa kariyā argument not make hear faith having 106 When you hear of the Lord’s unearthly behaviour and ravings, do not argue — hear with faith.

*Śrī Rādhā's incoherent words in the Bhramara-gītā, and the ten kinds of citra-jalpa in the songs of the queens —*

ইহার সত্যত্বে প্রমাণ শ্রীভাগবতে । শ্রীরাধার প্রলাপ ‘ভ্রমর-গীতা’তে ॥ ১০৭ ॥

ihāra satyatve pramāṇa śrī-bhāgavate of this for the truth the evidence in the Śrī Bhāgavatam
śrī-rādhāra pralāpa ‘bhramara-gītā’te
of Śrī Rādhā the ravings in the Bhramara-gītā

107 Evidence of their truth is found in the Śrī Bhāgavatam: the ravings of Śrī Rādhā in the Bhramara-gītā.

Anubhāṣya.

(a) Śrī Rādhā's incoherent words, as in the Bhramara-gītā: see Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.47.12–21. Namely:

“O bee, friend of a cheat! Do not touch my feet with your whiskers, smeared with kuṅkuma from the garland crushed on my rival's breast. Let the Lord of Madhu please those proud women; He whose messenger is such as you will be mocked in the assembly of the Yadus.” (1)

When Uddhava came to Vraja, the maidens of Vraja sang about Kṛṣṇa, wept and shed garlands of tears. Then one gopī, turning her gaze to a bee and meaning Uddhava by “messenger,” remembered her Beloved and said: “O bee, you are the friend of a cheat. How strange is your way of touching feet! Your obeisances will never win my favor. On the tips of your whiskers I see traces of kuṅkuma. Kṛṣṇa's forest garland lay on my rival's breast, and seeing the crushed kuṅkuma, I burn. Mādhava, the friend of the people of Mathurā, is busy winning the favor of proud women. He no longer has any need of the forests of Vraja and no reason to please the gopīs. You are the messenger of the Lord of the Yadus; what business have you here? Because of you Kṛṣṇa will be put to shame in the assembly.” (1)

“Only once did He make us drink the enchanting nectar of His lips[11], and then at once He abandoned us, as you abandon flowers. How then does Padmā serve His lotus feet? Alas, her mind too must have been stolen by Uttamaḥśloka's false words.” (2)

What offense did Kṛṣṇa commit against the gopī that her heart is so burdened? Hear the reason. Kṛṣṇacandra made her drink His enchanting nectar of the lips, stole the gopī's heart and at once abandoned her. Just so a foolish one like you leaves a lovely flower and flies off, its mind already elsewhere. This is how Kṛṣṇa has dealt with us. Why then has the artless Padmā still not left Kṛṣṇa's lotus feet, and why does she serve them so carefully? Padmā has believed Kṛṣṇa's false words. But the gopīs are never as unknowing as Padmā. (2)

“O six-legged one! Why do you sing so much here, before us homeless women, about the Lord of the Yadus? To us it is an old song. Sing about Him to the friends of Arjuna's friend: His beloveds, whose burning at the breast He has soothed, will give you what you desire.” (3)

The bee is singing about Kṛṣṇa to please the gopī. Understanding this and hearing its sweet tune, the gopī says: “Listen, bee: Kṛṣṇa has no home. The Lord of the Yadus has long been known to us. We have heard about Him many times and have come to know Him; we will listen to no more songs. Go to those who are now dear to Kṛṣṇa and sing to them. Those wise ones who have gained Kṛṣṇa's embrace are free of the burning in the breast and full of love for Kṛṣṇa. Those fortunate ones, His beloveds, will hear your song about Kṛṣṇa, welcome you and give you honor.” (3)

“What women in heaven, on earth or in the lower worlds are beyond the reach of Him whose brows play above His deceitful, charming smile? Śrī herself worships the dust of His feet — what are we? Still, the name ‘Uttamaḥśloka’ befits only one who is merciful to the wretched.” (4)

“O bee, do not tell me that Kṛṣṇacandra remembered the gopīs and, tormented by the pain of Anaṅga, anxiously sent you as a messenger to console me. I can say this: all the women in heaven and on earth are within Kṛṣṇa's reach. Seeing Kṛṣṇa's brows shining above His deceitful, charming smile, Lakṣmī serves Him constantly. Beside Lakṣmī-devī we are nothing. Though Kṛṣṇa is deceitful, He is sometimes suddenly generous. Tell Him: the name ‘Uttamaḥśloka’ belongs to one who is merciful to the wretched.” (4)

“Take your head away from my feet! I know you are skilled in coaxing: you have come from Mukunda with a messenger's flattering words. For His sake we gave up our children, our husbands and everything else in this world and the next, yet He, whose heart is fickle, has abandoned us. How can we make peace with Him?” (5)

Seeing the bee at her feet, as if it had fallen at her toes to beg pardon for an offense, the gopī says: “Take your head away from my feet, clever bee! Tell me, what has Mukunda taught you? I have understood in my heart, bee, that you are skilled in sweet words, in pleading and in a messenger's duty. Do not say, ‘What fault has Mukunda?’ — you wicked bee. I gave up husband and son and even my duty toward the next world; I have no work but service to Kṛṣṇa. Yet Kṛṣṇa, whose heart is fickle, has easily forgotten [us]. There is no need to speak of Him any more; I will not even raise the matter of making peace.” (5)

“Like a hunter, He cruelly shot the king of the monkeys. Conquered by a woman, He disfigured another woman who came to Him with desire. Having accepted Bali's gifts, He bound him like a crow. Enough, then, of friendship with the Dark One! Yet it is hard to give up talk of Him.” (6)

“O bee, when the gopīs remember Kṛṣṇa's former incarnations, they grow afraid. When Hari came as Rāma, like a hunter He killed Vāli cruelly and without a thought. When Śūrpaṇakhā came to Rāma full of desire, He, obedient to Sītā, cut off her nose and ears. In the form of Vāmana, Hari received offerings of worship from King Bali, and then, to deceive him, this ‘virtuous’ one bound him like a crow. Friendship with Him is no good, O bee. Yet I know how hard it is to give up the wealth of talk about Him, and so I admit that I have no strength to give it up.” (6)

“Many who even once taste with their ears a drop of the nectar of His pastimes cast off duality — attachment and aversion — and are ruined. At once leaving their wretched homes and families, they become destitute and live by begging, like birds.” (7)

“We know how powerful talk of Kṛṣṇa is: it destroys the creeper of the three aims of life (trivarga) — dharma, artha and kāma. Having drunk with their ears a drop of the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's pastimes, people become free of attachment and aversion and give up everything. Renouncing enjoyment, they live by begging like birds, and suddenly abandon their homes and kin, full of misery as these are. Even if this is fitting, we are not able to do it.” (7)

“We believed His false words as truth, as a foolish doe believes the hunter's song. And again and again we, Kṛṣṇa's beloveds, have felt the sharp pain of love from the touch of His nails. O messenger, speak of something else.” (8)

“O messenger, just as a foolish bird trusts the hunter's song and suffers with an arrow in its heart, so we trusted Kṛṣṇa's words and have found pain. The sharp pain of love (Madana) from the touch of Kṛṣṇa's nails is burning me — speak of something else.” (8)

“O friend of my Beloved, have you come back? Has my Beloved sent you? You are worthy of honor, dear one: ask for whatever you wish. But how will you take us to Him, from whom it is so hard to part? For on His chest, O gentle one, His consort Śrī always dwells.” (9)

Having heard all this, the bee flew away and then came back. Seeing this, the gopī, after reflecting in her heart, says: “You are the friend of my dear Kṛṣṇa; at Kṛṣṇa's bidding you have come here again from there. So you are worthy of my honor, best of messengers. Tell me your request — what do you wish? Śrī Kṛṣṇa will never give up union [with Lakṣmī]. Why, then, should you now take the gopīs away? I tell you: Śrī Kṛṣṇa's consort Lakṣmī stays on the Lord's chest and now serves Him constantly.” (9)

“O gentle one! Alas, Nanda’s son now lives in Mathurā. Does He remember His father’s house, His kinsmen and the cowherd boys? Does He ever speak of us, His maidservants? When will He place on our heads His arm, fragrant as aguru?” (10)

Addressing the bee as “gentle one,” the gopī, overflowing with emotion, says: “Having returned from His teacher's house, the Ārya-putra now lives happily in the city of Mathurā and has forgotten the maidens of Vraja. Does He not remember His father's home? We were His maidservants — has He forgotten us so completely that He never speaks of us? When will He consider me worthy of His care and touch me? When will He place His hand, fragrant with aguru, on the gopī's head?” (10)

Even the greatest scholars whose knowledge comes from the senses — those bent on pleasing their own senses, who think themselves learned and are intoxicated with material learning — are unable to understand the transcendental

rasa* of separation (vipralambha) —*

মহিষীর গীত যেন ‘দশমে’র শেষে । পণ্ডিতে না বুঝে তার অর্থবিশেষে ॥ ১০৮ ॥

mahiṣīra gīta yena ‘daśame’ra śeṣe
of the queens the songs as of the Tenth at the end
paṇḍite nā bujhe tāra artha-viśeṣe scholars not understand their meaning special

108 So too with the songs of the queens at the end of the Tenth Canto: scholars do not understand their special meaning.

Anubhāṣya.

(b) The songs of the queens, as at the end of the Tenth Canto: see Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.90.15–24. Namely:

“O kurarī! At night, when the whole world sleeps and the Lord sleeps with His awareness hidden, you do not lie down: sleep has left you and you lament. Can it be, friend, that your heart too, like ours, has been deeply pierced by the generous, playful glance of the smiling Lotus-eyed One?” (1)

Having finished their water pastimes, the queens, their hearts absorbed in thoughts of Kṛṣṇa, sank into reflection: “O friend kurarī, now, at night, the Lord sleeps, while we stay awake for Kṛṣṇa. His sweet sleep is broken; seeing what has become of us, you weep. Why do you not sleep? Are you wholly absorbed in thinking of Kṛṣṇa, or has His smiling glance pierced you?” Kṛṣṇa's sweet smile, a heart pierced by His glance — such are the feelings of the queens. “Everything that happened to us has happened to you,” the queens all say to her together. (1)

“O cakravākī! At night you do not see your companion; you close your eyes and cry piteously. Or, like us, have you become a maidservant of Acyuta, and do you wish to wear in your braid the garland His feet have touched?” (2)

“O cakravākī, at night you do not see your companion; you do not open your eyes, and in grief you cry piteously. Or are you remembering something and longing to place on your head the garland that Acyuta's feet have touched and that delights the queens? Tell us plainly, cakravākī, why you weep, so that the queens may understand.” (2)

“O ocean! You roar all the time; sleep does not come to you, and you stay awake without end. Or has Mukunda taken away your marks, and have you, like us, fallen into a hopeless state?” (3)

“O ocean, it is not written in your fate to sleep at night or to know happiness. Staying awake and weeping is your lot: your heart is broken, like ours. Mukunda carefully wiped away the marks of kuṅkuma and the rest from the queens. Has He not dealt with you in the same way, ocean, and have you not come to the same state?” (3)

“O moon! A grave consumption has seized you: you have wasted away, and with your rays you do not dispel the darkness. Or, like us, have you forgotten Mukunda's words, so that you seem to us to have fallen silent?” (4)

“O moon, consumption has stricken you badly, and with your radiance you cannot dispel the darkness. Or have you lost your way singing of Kṛṣṇa and stopped spending words? We see that you belong to our circle.” (4)

“O breeze from the Malaya hills, how have we displeased you, that you kindle love in our hearts, already pierced by Govinda's glance?” (5)

“Listen, Malaya breeze: what is so wrong in our conduct? Our hearts are pierced by Govinda's glance, and you, so skilled at sending Kandarpa — are you taking revenge on us?” (5)

“O handsome cloud! Surely you are dear to the Lord of the Yādavas, and, like us, bound by love, you think of Him who bears the mark of Śrīvatsa. Like us, you are full of longing, your heart is troubled, and remembering Him again and again, you shed streams of tears. Association with Him brings only sorrow.” (6)

“Listen, cloud, friend of Kṛṣṇa: like the queens bound by love, you think of the Śrīvatsa mark. You meditate on Kṛṣṇa's company, die of longing and grief, and seem to shed streams of tears.” (6)

“O sweet-voiced cuckoo! With a voice that revives the dead you repeat the sounds of my Beloved's voice. Tell me, what can I do today to please you?” (7)

“Listen, sweet-voiced cuckoo: you imitate so skillfully, and your speech revives the dead. Tell us how the queens may please you, and we will do just that.” (7)

“O wise mountain! You do not move or speak — surely you are pondering something great[12]. Or, like us, do you wish to hold the feet of Vasudeva's son to your breast?” (8)

“O wise mountain, you are motionless, the best of silent ones, absorbed in thoughts of something great. Like us, you have vowed to keep the feet of Vasudeva's son in your heart.” (8)

“Alas, O rivers, wives of the ocean! Your pools are drying up; you have grown thin and lost the beauty of your lotuses — just as we, not receiving the loving glance of the Lord of Madhu, our dear husband, have wasted away with hearts laid bare.” (9)

“O rivers, wives of the ocean, I see that your water has dried up and the beauty of the lotuses is gone. You have grown thin, lost your joy in the summer heat, and no longer increase the ocean's happiness. All the queens are wretched: their hearts are parched, their bodies wasted; they are deprived of the love of the Lord of Madhu. Are you not the same — without water, robbed of beauty, deprived of His loving glance?” (9)

“Welcome, swan! Sit down, drink milk and tell us, dear one, about Śauri. We know you are His messenger. Is the Unconquerable One well? Does He, whose friendship is fickle, remember the words He once spoke to us? Why should we serve Him? O servant of a petty master[13], call Him here, the fulfiller of desires — but without Śrī. Is she the only woman wholly devoted to Him?” (10)

“Welcome, swan; we greet you warmly. Drink milk and tell us Kṛṣṇa's message. We have always known you as Kṛṣṇa's messenger. Has Hari sent us any word? We want to know: is Kṛṣṇa happy? Does He not remember us at all? Lakṣmī alone serves Him, and we are maidservants. Why should we choose one who spends words but does not fulfill desires?” (10)

Faith in the Lord's transcendental pastimes of separation awakens only by the power of the mercy of the servants of the guru (Nityānanda) and of Gaurāṅga —

মহাপ্রভু-নিত্যানন্দ, দোঁহার দাসের দাস । যারে কৃপা করেন, তার হয় ইথে বিশ্বাস ॥ ১০৯ ॥

mahāprabhu-nityānanda, domha̐ra dāsera dāsa Mahāprabhu Nityānanda of the two of the servant the servant
yāre kṛpā karena, tāra haya ithe viśvāsa
on whom mercy bestow his is in this faith

109 Only one who receives the mercy of Mahāprabhu and Nityānanda, or of the servant of Their servants, comes to have faith in this.

*Only by following the mood of separation (vipralambha) born in the Lord from separation from Kṛṣṇa does one become free of anarthas and attain love for Kṛṣṇa —*

শ্রদ্ধা করি’ শুন ইহা, শুনিতে মহাসুখ । খণ্ডিবে আধ্যাত্মিকাদি কুতর্কাদি-দুঃখ ॥ ১১০ ॥

śraddhā kari’ śuna ihā, śunite mahā-sukha faith having hear this in hearing great joy khaṇḍibe ādhyātmikādi kutarkādi-duḥkha
will destroy spiritual and other of false arguments and others sufferings

110 Hear this with faith: there is great joy in hearing it. It will free you from the threefold miseries and from the pains that false arguments bring.

The nectar of Śrī Caitanya's pastimes — an elixir for the heart and ears, eternally new and ever renewing itself —

শ্রীচৈতন্যচরিতামৃত — নিত্য নূতন । শুনিতে শুনিতে জুড়ায় হৃদয়-শ্রবণ ॥ ১১১ ॥

śrī-caitanya-caritāmṛta — nitya nūtana
the Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta ever new śunite śunite juḍāya hṛdaya-śravaṇa hearing hearing are soothed the heart and ears

111 The Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta is ever new. As one hears it again and again, it soothes the heart and the ears.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the nineteenth chapter of the “Anubhāṣya.”

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১১২ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa’s, Raghunātha’s at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
“Caitanya-caritāmṛta” narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

112 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. So in the edition: «মধুদ্যানে» (madhudyāne); by the rule of sandhi (madhu + udyāna) — «মধূদ্যানে», as in the Anubhāṣya. The sense is the same: “in the spring garden”. ↩
2. So in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition: jāniyā (“learning [of this]”). Other editions read jāniyāo, “though he knew [the meaning]”: “Though Svarūpa Gosāñi knew it, he still asked.” ↩
3. In the edition this verse is marked as the refrain of the song (ধ্রু). ↩
4. So in the edition: «জানি’» — a participle, “knowing”: the Creator, knowing his art, fashioned Him. Without the apostrophe («জানি», “I know”) the line would read: “surely the Creator fashioned Him”. ↩
5. In the edition this verse is marked as the refrain of the song (ধ্রু). ↩
6. “Lalita-lavaṅga-latā” is Jayadeva’s spring song from the Gīta-govinda (first canto), about Kṛṣṇa’s pastimes with the gopīs. ↩
7. In the edition this verse is marked as the refrain of the song (ধ্রু). ↩
8. The verse is the same as Madhya 23.36 (there the edition reads «নবপ্রেমা»; the Anubhāṣya refers there as well); the translation follows the revised text. ↩
9. The edition has মন্দমুরলীধ্বনিকারী, “who makes the soft (manda) sound of the flute”; the verse has mandra, “deep,” and so does the Anubhāṣya (gambhīra). The verse translation reads “whose flute sounds so deep.” ↩
10. The verse translation (following the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya) understands it differently: “the madman is no longer occupied with worldly affairs.” ↩
11. The edition has সুরাং (surām, “wine”), a misprint for সুধাং (sudhām, “nectar”), as in the Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam; the translation follows the correct reading. ↩
12. The edition has হমাত্তমর্থম্ (hamāntam artham), a misprint for মহাত্তমর্থম্ (mahāntam artham, “something great”); the Bengali paraphrase likewise has mahad-artha. ↩
13. Otherwise (as the Bengali paraphrase below understands it): kṣaudrālāpa (“petty talk”) refers to Kṛṣṇa — “why should we serve one who spends words but does not fulfill desires?” ↩
14. The verse translation is broader: “…He draws women to Him.” ↩
15. The verse translation reads differently: “…entices customers, the women of the whole world.” ↩

Relishing the Meaning of the Verses of Instruction

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. This chapter describes how Mahāprabhu spent His nights with Svarūpa and Rāmānanda, relishing the Śikṣāṣṭaka with eagerness (utkaṇṭhā), humility, anxiety, and other feelings. From time to time the Lord would read verses from Śrī Gīta-govinda (composed by Jayadeva), Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, Śrī Jagannātha-vallabha-nāṭaka (composed by Śrī Rāmānanda Rāya), and Śrī Karṇāmṛta (composed by Śrī Bilvamaṅgala), and would become absorbed in divine feelings — this and more is told in this chapter. The author indicates that, having relished rasa in this way for twelve years, Śrīman Mahāprabhu concluded His pastimes at the age of forty-eight. He then gave a brief recapitulation of all that is described in the Antya-līlā and with that concluded the book.

*Only a devotee in whom prema has awakened is qualified to follow the Lord's mood of separation (vipralambha) —*

প্রেমোদ্ভাবিতহর্ষের্ষ্যোদ্বেগদৈন্যার্ত্তিমিশ্রিতম্ । লপিতং গৌরচন্দ্রস্য ভাগ্যবদ্ভির্নিষেব্যতে ॥ ১ ॥

premodbhāvita-harṣerṣyod-
by love awakened with joy, jealousy, anxiety vega-dainyārti-miśritam humility and anguish mingled lapitaṁ gauracandrasya
the words of Gauracandra
bhāgyavadbhir niṣevyate
by the fortunate are relished

1 Only the fortunate can relish the words that Gauracandra spoke in His divine madness, words mingled with the joy, jealousy, anxiety, humility and anguish that love awakens.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Only fortunate people relish the lamentations (vilāpa) of Gauracandra, filled with the joy, jealousy, anxiety, humility, and anguish that prema evokes.

Anubhāṣya.
bhāgyavadbhiḥ (only by great souls who have gained the wealth of prema) gauracandrasya premodbhāvita-harṣerṣyodvega-dainyārti-miśritam (mixed with the feelings evoked, that is, born, of prema: elation of heart, intolerance, restlessness, the sense of one's own smallness, anguish, and so on) lapitam (incoherent words) niṣevyate (are relished).

জয় জয় গৌরচন্দ্র জয় নিত্যানন্দ ।
জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya gauracandra jaya nityānanda
glory glory to Gauracandra glory to Nityānanda
jayādvaitacandra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda
glory to Advaitacandra glory of Gaura the devotees to the multitude

2 Glory, glory to Gauracandra! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura![1]

The Lord in Purī, ceaselessly overwhelmed by the mood of separation —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু বৈসে নীলাচলে । রজনী-দিবসে কৃষ্ণবিরহে বিহ্বলে ॥ ৩ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu vaise nīlācale
thus Mahāprabhu stayed in Nīlācala rajanī-divase kṛṣṇa-virahe vihvale
night and day in separation from Kṛṣṇa overwhelmed

3 Thus Mahāprabhu lived in Nīlācala, overwhelmed night and day by separation from Kṛṣṇa.

The Lord's two dearest, most intimate eternal companions —

স্বরূপ, রামানন্দ, — এই দুইজন-সনে । রাত্রি-দিনে রস-গীত-শ্লোক আস্বাদনে ॥ ৪ ॥

svarūpa, rāmānanda, — ei duijana-sane Svarūpa Rāmānanda these two in the company of rātri-dine rasa-gīta-śloka āsvādane
night and day of rasa songs verses relishing

4 Night and day, in the company of these two, Svarūpa and Rāmānanda, He relished songs and verses full of rasa.

*The rising of the eight sāttvika and thirty-three vyabhicārī bhāvas —*

নানা ভাব উঠে প্রভুর হর্ষ, শোক, রোষ । দৈন্যোদ্বেগ-আর্ত্তি উৎকণ্ঠা, সন্তোষ ॥ ৫ ॥

nānā bhāva uṭhe prabhura harṣa, śoka, roṣa various emotions arise in the Lord joy, grief, anger dainyodvega-ārti utkaṇṭhā, santoṣa humility, anxiety, anguish, eager longing, contentment

5 Many emotions arose in the Lord: joy, grief and anger, humility, anxiety and anguish, eager longing and contentment.

Alone or with the two devotees, He reads or hears verses that awaken one feeling or another —

সেই সেই ভাবে নিজ-শ্লোক পড়িয়া । শ্লোকের অর্থ আস্বাদয়ে দুইবন্ধু লঞা ॥ ৬ ॥

sei sei bhāve nija-śloka paḍiyā
in that very mood His own verses reciting ślokera artha āsvādaye dui-bandhu lañā
of the verses the meaning He relishes two friends taking with Him

6 In each of these moods He would recite His own verses and relish their meaning with His two friends.

কোন দিনে কোন ভাবে শ্লোক-পঠন । সেই শ্লোক আস্বাদিতে রাত্রি-জাগরণ ॥ ৭ ॥

kona dine kona bhāve śloka-paṭhana
on some day in some mood of a verse recitation sei śloka āsvādite rātri-jāgaraṇa
that verse to relish of the night keeping awake

7 Sometimes, in a particular mood, He would recite a verse and stay awake all night relishing it.

*The Lord explains that the goal and the means (sādhya and sādhana, or upeya and upāya) are not different; the glory of kīrtana of the holy name — the highest and most excellent, ultimate abhidheya, the avatāra in sound (śābdika-avatāra) —*

হর্ষে প্রভু কহেন, — শুন স্বরূপ-রামরায়। নামসঙ্কীর্ত্তন — কলৌ পরম উপায় ॥ ৮ ॥

harṣe prabhu kahena, — śuna svarūpa-rāmarāya
in joy the Lord says listen Svarūpa and Rāmarāya
nāma-saṅkīrtana — kalau parama upāya
of the name saṅkīrtana in Kali the supreme means

8 In joy the Lord said, "Listen, Svarūpa and Rāmarāya! In the age of Kali the congregational chanting of the holy name is the supreme means.

Only one who sings of Kṛṣṇa is truly intelligent —

সঙ্কীর্ত্তনযজ্ঞে কলৌ কৃষ্ণ-আরাধন। সেই ত' সুমেধা পায় কৃষ্ণের চরণ ॥ ৯ ॥

saṅkīrtana-yajñe kalau kṛṣṇa-ārādhana
by the sacrifice of saṅkīrtana in Kali of Kṛṣṇa worship
sei ta' sumedhā pāya kṛṣṇera caraṇa
he indeed intelligent attains Kṛṣṇa's feet

9 In the age of Kali, Kṛṣṇa is worshipped by the sacrifice of saṅkīrtana. One who worships Him so is truly intelligent and attains Kṛṣṇa's feet."

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 3.76–77.

কৃষ্ণবর্ণং ত্বিষাঽকৃষ্ণং সাঙ্গোপাঙ্গাস্ত্রপার্ষদম্।
যজ্ঞৈঃ সঙ্কীর্ত্তনপ্রায়ৈর্যজন্তি হি সুমেধসঃ ॥ ১০ ॥

kṛṣṇa-varṇaṁ tviṣā'kṛṣṇaṁ
Kṛṣṇa describing (or: with the syllables 'Kṛṣ-ṇa') by lustre not dark sāṅgopāṅgāstra-pārṣadam
with limbs, sub-limbs, weapons and associates
yajñaiḥ saṅkīrtana-prāyair
by sacrifices in which saṅkīrtana predominates yajanti hi su-medhasaḥ
they worship indeed the intelligent

10 "With sacrifices in which congregational chanting predominates, the wise worship the Lord who ever sings of Kṛṣṇa and whose lustre is not dark. He is always surrounded by His intimate companions (aṅga), His devotees (upāṅga), His weapons and His associates (pārṣada)." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 11.5.32)[2]

Anubhāṣya.
> (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 11.5.32)

See Ādi 3.51.

*The fruit of nāmābhāsa free from offense: the destruction of all anarthas; then the fruit of the pure name: the highest good (niḥśreyasa) and the awakening of love for Kṛṣṇa —*

নামসঙ্কীর্ত্তনে হয় সর্ব্বানর্থ-নাশ। সর্ব্ব-শুভোদয়, কৃষ্ণে প্রেমের উল্লাস ॥ ১১ ॥

nāma-saṅkīrtane haya sarvānartha-nāśa
by the saṅkīrtana of the name there is of all anarthas destruction
sarva-śubhodaya, kṛṣṇe premera ullāsa
of all good the dawning for Kṛṣṇa of love the joy

11 "Through the congregational chanting of the holy name all unwanted things (anartha) are destroyed, every good fortune dawns, and the joy of love for Kṛṣṇa awakens."

*The Śrī Śikṣāṣṭaka, which came from the Lord's holy mouth (in other words, the essence of the Śrī Bhāgavatam); the fruits of nāmābhāsa and of the name —*

চেতোদর্পণমার্জ্জনং ভবমহাদাবাগ্নিনির্ব্বাপণং
শ্রেয়ঃকৈরবচন্দ্রিকাবিতরণং বিদ্যাবধূজীবনম্ ।
আনন্দাম্বুধিবর্দ্ধনং প্রতিপদং পূর্ণামৃতাস্বাদনং
সর্ব্বাত্মস্নপনং পরং বিজয়তে শ্রীকৃষ্ণসঙ্কীর্ত্তনম্ ॥ ১২ ॥

ceto-darpaṇa-mārjanaṁ bhava-mahā-dāvāgni-nirvāpaṇaṁ
of the heart the mirror cleansing of material existence the great forest fire extinguishing
śreyaḥ-kairava-candrikā-vitaraṇaṁ vidyā-vadhū-jīvanam of the highest good for the white lotus the moonlight spreading of knowledge the bride the life
ānandāmbudhi-vardhanaṁ prati-padaṁ pūrṇāmṛtāsvādanaṁ of bliss the ocean increasing at every step of the full nectar the taste
sarvātma-snapanaṁ paraṁ vijayate śrī-kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtanam
the whole self bathing supreme be victorious of Śrī Kṛṣṇa saṅkīrtana

12 "The chanting of Śrī Kṛṣṇa's name cleanses the mirror of the heart and puts out the great forest fire of material existence. It spreads the moonlight that opens the white lotus of the soul's highest good; it is the very life of the bride of divine knowledge. It swells the ocean of bliss, gives at every step a taste of the full nectar, and bathes and cools the whole self. May the supreme chanting of Śrī Kṛṣṇa's name be ever victorious!" (Śikṣāṣṭaka, 1)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Śrī Kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtana cleanses the mirror of the mind, extinguishes the great forest fire of worldly existence (bhava), and spreads moonlight for the white lilies (kairava) that are the welfare of the jīvas. It is the life of the bride Knowledge (vidyā); it swells the ocean of bliss and at every step gives a taste of the full nectar; it bathes the true self (svarūpa) of everyone in coolness. May Śrī Kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtana be especially victorious!

Anubhāṣya.

> (The first verse of the Śikṣāṣṭaka, cited in the Padyāvalī as number 10)

ceto-darpaṇa-mārjanam (that which cleanses the mind — a mirror — that is, removes its dirt), bhava-mahā-dāvāgni-nirvāpaṇam (that which extinguishes the great forest fire of bhava, that is, saṁsāra), śreyaḥ-kairava-candrikā-vitaraṇam (that which spreads moonlight for the white lilies [kumudas] — the highest goods [śreyas]), vidyā-vadhū-jīvanam (that which sustains the life of the bride, that is, the wife — Knowledge [vidyā]), ānandāmbudhi-vardhanam (that which swells the ocean of bliss — prema), prati-padam (at every moment) pūrṇāmṛtāsvādanam (that which gives a taste of the full nectar), sarvātma-snapanam (that which bathes all souls, or the whole self in every way), param (alone, without a second) śrī-kṛṣṇa-saṅkīrtanam vijayate (stands supreme above all).

Explanation of the verse —

সঙ্কীর্ত্তন হৈতে পাপ-সংসার-নাশন ।
চিত্তশুদ্ধি, সর্ব্বভক্তিসাধন-উদ্গম ॥ ১৩ ॥

কৃষ্ণপ্রেমোদ্গম, প্রেমামৃত-আস্বাদন । কৃষ্ণপ্রাপ্তি, সেবামৃত-সমুদ্রে মজ্জন ॥ ১৪ ॥

saṅkīrtana haite pāpa-saṁsāra-nāśana saṅkīrtana through of sin and of saṁsāra destruction
citta-śuddhi, sarva-bhakti-sādhana-udgama
of the heart purification, of all devotional practices the awakening kṛṣṇa-premodgama, premāmṛta-āsvādana of love for Kṛṣṇa the awakening, of the nectar of love the tasting
kṛṣṇa-prāpti, sevāmṛta-samudre majjana of Kṛṣṇa the attainment, in the ocean of the nectar of service immersion

13–14 "Through saṅkīrtana sin and material existence are destroyed, the heart is purified, and all the practices of devotion awaken. Love for Kṛṣṇa awakens, and one tastes the nectar of that love. One attains Kṛṣṇa and is immersed in the nectarean ocean of His service."

The holy name — freedom from sorrow and fear, the vessel of nectar —

উঠিল বিষাদ, দৈন্য, পড়ে আপন-শ্লোক । যাহার অর্থ শুনি' সব যায় দুঃখ-শোক ॥ ১৫ ॥

uṭhila viṣāda, dainya, paḍe āpana-śloka arose dejection, humility, He recites His own verse yāhāra artha śuni' saba yāya duḥkha-śoka
whose meaning hearing all go away sorrow and grief

15 Then dejection and humility arose in Him, and He recited another verse of His own — a verse whose meaning, once heard, dispels all sorrow and grief.

*Why the sādhana of the name is so easy to obtain, that is, Kṛṣṇa's great magnanimity; why the jīva, in a state of offense — his misfortune — cannot utter the pure name —*

নাম্নামকারি বহুধা নিজসর্ব্বশক্তি
স্তত্রার্পিতা নিয়মিতঃ স্মরণে ন কালঃ ।
এতাদৃশী তব কৃপা ভগবন্মমাপি দুর্দ্দৈবমীদৃশমিহাজনি নানুরাগঃ ॥ ১৬ ॥

nāmnām akāri bahudhā nija-sarva-śaktis
of names You have made many Your own all potencies
tatrārpitā niyamitaḥ smaraṇe na kālaḥ
in them are invested is fixed for remembering not time etādṛśī tava kṛpā bhagavan mamāpi
such Your mercy O Lord my yet durdaivam īdṛśam ihājani nānurāgaḥ misfortune such for them has arisen no attachment

16 "O Lord, You have revealed many names, and in them You have invested all Your own potencies. You have fixed no time for remembering them. Such is Your mercy, yet such is my misfortune that no attachment for them has arisen in me." (Śikṣāṣṭaka, 2)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O Bhagavān, Your name alone bestows every blessing on the jīvas, and so You have revealed Your many names — "Kṛṣṇa," "Govinda," and others. Into these names You have placed all Your potencies, and You have set no rules (no injunctions or restrictions) of time or anything else for remembering the name. O Lord, You have shown the jīvas such mercy and made Your name so easy to obtain. Yet my misfortune — offenses against the name (nāmāparādha) — does not let attachment (anurāga) arise in me even for Your easily obtained name.

Anubhāṣya.

> (The second verse of the Śikṣāṣṭaka, cited in the Padyāvalī as number 19)

bhagavan (O Lord Kṛṣṇa, You, by Your causeless mercy) nāmnām bahudhā (of many kinds) akāri (have revealed); tatra (in the name) nija-sarva-śaktiḥ (the infinite potency of Bhagavān, the possessor of infinite potencies) arpitā (has been placed; therefore) smaraṇe kālaḥ (even time) na niyamitaḥ (is not prescribed, not required: there is no rule at all for any time) — tava etādṛśī kṛpā; (but) still mama api īdṛśam durdaivam: iha (for the name) anurāgaḥ na ajani (has not been born).

Explanation of the verse —

অনেক-লোকের বাঞ্ছা — অনেক-প্রকার । কৃপাতে করিল অনেক নামের প্রচার ॥ ১৭ ॥

aneka-lokera vāñchā — aneka-prakāra
of many people the desires of many kinds kṛpāte karila aneka nāmera pracāra
out of mercy You made many names' propagation

17 "Different people have desires of many kinds, so in Your mercy You have made known many names.

খাইতে শুইতে যথা তথা নাম লয় । কাল-দেশ-নিয়ম নাহি, সর্ব্বসিদ্ধি হয় ॥ ১৮ ॥

khāite śuite yathā tathā nāma laya while eating while lying down wherever whenever the name one takes kāla-deśa-niyama nāhi, sarva-siddhi haya of time and place rules there are none all perfection comes 18 Whether eating or lying down, wherever one may be, one can chant the name. There are no rules of time or place, and through the name all perfection comes.

সর্ব্বশক্তি নামে দিলা করিয়া বিভাগ । আমার দুর্দ্দৈব, — নামে নাহি অনুরাগ ! ॥ ১৯ ॥

sarva-śakti nāme dilā kariyā vibhāga
all potency in the names You gave making division
āmāra durdaiva, — nāme nāhi anurāga!
my misfortune for the name there is no attachment

19 In each of the names You have invested all Your potency. But such is my misfortune: I have no attachment for the name!"

*The characteristics of chanting the name that leads to prema —*

যেরূপে লইলে নাম প্রেম উপজয় । তার লক্ষণ-শ্লোক শুন, স্বরূপ-রামরায় ॥ ২০ ॥

ye-rūpe laile nāma prema upajaya
in what way by taking the name love is born tāra lakṣaṇa-śloka śuna, svarūpa-rāmarāya of that of the characteristics the verse hear Svarūpa and Rāmarāya

20 "Svarūpa and Rāmarāya, hear the verse that tells how one should chant the name so that love is born."

*The method of sādhana of the name for attaining the goal, prema for the name; in other words, the prohibition of identifying oneself with the body (the root of all offenses) and the injunction [to chant] without interruption —*

তৃণাদপি সুনীচেন তরোরিব সহিষ্ণুনা । অমানিনা মানদেন কীর্ত্তনীয়ঃ সদা হরিঃ ॥ ২১ ॥

tṛṇād api su-nīcena
than grass even lower
taror iva sahiṣṇunā
a tree like tolerant
amāninā māna-dena
free from pride giving honour
kīrtanīyaḥ sadā hariḥ
to be glorified always Hari

21 "Lower than a blade of grass, more tolerant than a tree, seeking no honour and offering honour to others, one should always sing the glories of Hari." (Śikṣāṣṭaka, 3)[3]

Anubhāṣya.

> (The third verse of the Śikṣāṣṭaka, cited in the Padyāvalī as number 20)

See Ādi 17.31.

Explanation of the verse —

উত্তম হঞা আপনাকে মানে তৃণাধম । দুইপ্রকারে সহিষ্ণুতা করে বৃক্ষসম ॥ ২২ ॥

uttama hañā āpanāke māne tṛṇādhama
exalted being himself he considers lower than grass
dui-prakāre sahiṣṇutā kare vṛkṣa-sama
in two ways tolerance he shows like a tree

22 "Though he is exalted, a Vaiṣṇava considers himself lower than grass, and like a tree he shows tolerance in two ways.

বৃক্ষ যেন কাটিলেহ কিছু না বোলয় । শুকাঞা মৈলেহ কারে পানী না মাগয় ॥ ২৩ ॥

vṛkṣa yena kāṭileha kichu nā bolaya
a tree as even when cut anything not says
śukāñā maileha kāre pānī nā māgaya
drying up even dying from anyone water not asks

23 When a tree is cut down it says nothing, and even when it is drying up and dying it asks no one for water.

যেই যে মাগয়ে, তারে দেয় আপন-ধন । ঘর্ম্ম-বৃষ্টি সহে, আনের করয়ে রক্ষণ ॥ ২৪ ॥

yei ye māgaye, tāre deya āpana-dhana whoever whatever asks to him it gives its own wealth
gharma-vṛṣṭi sahe, ānera karaye rakṣaṇa
heat and rain it endures of others it gives protection

24 It gives its wealth to whoever asks anything of it; it endures heat and rain, yet shelters others.

*Attaining prema through sādhana of the name joined with knowledge of sambandha — seeing Kṛṣṇa everywhere —*

উত্তম হঞা বৈষ্ণব হবে নিরভিমান । জীবে সম্মান দিবে জানি' 'কৃষ্ণ'-অধিষ্ঠান ॥ ২৫ ॥

uttama hañā vaiṣṇava habe nirabhimāna exalted being a Vaiṣṇava should be free from pride jīve sammāna dibe jāni' 'kṛṣṇa'-adhiṣṭhāna
to living beings respect he should give knowing Kṛṣṇa's dwelling

25 Though exalted, a Vaiṣṇava should be free from pride. He should honour every living being, knowing it to be the dwelling of Kṛṣṇa.

এইমত হঞা যেই কৃষ্ণনাম লয়। শ্রীকৃষ্ণচরণে তাঁর প্রেম উপজয় ॥ ২৬ ॥

ei-mata hañā yei kṛṣṇa-nāma laya thus becoming whoever Kṛṣṇa's name takes śrī-kṛṣṇa-caraṇe tāṁra prema upajaya
for Śrī Kṛṣṇa's feet his love is born

26 Whoever chants Kṛṣṇa's name in this spirit awakens love for the feet of Śrī Kṛṣṇa."

The desire for pure devotion to Kṛṣṇa, the Adhokṣaja —

কহিতে কহিতে প্রভুর দৈন্য বাড়িলা।
'শুদ্ধভক্তি' কৃষ্ণ-ঠাঞি মাগিতে লাগিলা ॥ ২৭ ॥

kahite kahite prabhura dainya bāḍilā speaking speaking the Lord's humility increased
'śuddha-bhakti' kṛṣṇa-ṭhāñi māgite lāgilā
pure devotion from Kṛṣṇa to beg He began

27 As He spoke, the Lord's humility grew, and He began to beg Kṛṣṇa for pure devotion (śuddha-bhakti).

*The mark, or nature, of a devotee filled with prema —*

প্রেমের স্বভাব, — যাঁহা প্রেমের সম্বন্ধ। সেই মানে, — কৃষ্ণে মোর নাহি ভক্তিগন্ধ ॥ ২৮ ॥

premera svabhāva, — yāṁhā premera sambandha
of love the nature where with love a connection
sei māne, — kṛṣṇe mora nāhi bhakti-gandha
he thinks for Kṛṣṇa my there is not of devotion a trace

28 Such is the nature of love: one who is truly touched by love thinks, "I have not even a trace of devotion to Kṛṣṇa."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

This is the nature of prema: one who has entered into a true relationship with prema humbly thinks, "I have not even a trace of devotion to Kṛṣṇa."

Anubhāṣya.

Those who are poor in the wealth of prema, out of hypocrisy and without having attained prema, falsely proclaim to the world that they have attained it. But in fact hypocritical paupers, bereft of the wealth of love for Kṛṣṇa, have no possibility of attaining prema by displaying it before people or announcing it. To advertise their own good fortune, the community of prākṛta-sahajiyās hypocritically show one another, in many places, the outward signs of prema. Pure devotees, far from calling these hypocritical sahajiyās "filled with prema" (premikas), know that even associating with them destroys bhakti, and so they shun them. Pure devotees do not teach anyone to hypocritically give such a person the title "bhakta" and regard him as equal to a pure devotee. When real prema awakens, the jīva hides his own glory and strives only for the worship (bhajana) of Kṛṣṇa. The hypocritical band of prākṛta-sahajiyās, greedy for gold, women, prestige, and the like, condemn pure devotees with labels such as "learned philosopher," "knower of tattva," and "subtle thinker," and adorn themselves with titles such as "rasika," "blissful in bhajana," "best of the bhāgavatas," "intoxicated with drinking the rasa of the pastimes," "foremost among sādhakas of rāgānugā devotion," "knower of rasa," and "crest jewel of rasikas." In fact they pollute the path of bhajana with the material feelings of their own minds, become attached to wicked deeds, and extol only their own false Vaiṣṇavism. Writers of this kind, setting out to write about transcendental rasa, make their own material feelings a part of service to Kṛṣṇa. Not knowing the nature of transcendental vipralambha-rasa, they take as "rasa" only material sambhoga, which at heart is tasteless.

*The sole desire of the sincere sādhaka: the eternal and pure "nature of pure bhakti" —*

ন ধনং ন জনং ন সুন্দরীং
কবিতাং বা জগদীশ কাময়ে ৷
মম জন্মনি জন্মনীশ্বরে ভবতাদ্ভক্তিরহৈতুকী ত্বয়ি ॥ ২৯ ॥

na dhanaṁ na janaṁ na sundarīṁ
not wealth not followers not beautiful kavitāṁ vā jagad-īśa kāmaye poetry or O Lord of the universe I desire mama janmani janmanīśvare
my in birth after birth for the Lord
bhavatād bhaktir ahaitukī tvayi
may there be devotion causeless for You

29 "O Lord of the universe, I desire neither wealth, nor followers, nor beautiful poetry. Birth after birth, may I have causeless devotion to You, my Lord." (Śikṣāṣṭaka, 4)[4]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O Jagadīśa, I do not desire wealth, followers, or beautiful poetry. (In my heart I desire only this:) birth after birth may I have causeless devotion to You.

Anubhāṣya.
> (The fourth verse of the Śikṣāṣṭaka, cited in the Padyāvalī as number 85)

jagad-īśa (O Jagannātha), (I) dhanam na, janam na, sundarīm kavitām vā (and so on — activity rooted in the trivarga and deceitful by nature) na kāmaye (do not pray for; but) mama janmani janmani (therefore I do not desire even the knowledge that frees one from further births [apaunarbhava], but) tvayi (for You, the Adhokṣaja) ahaitukī (free from desires, uninterrupted) bhaktiḥ bhavatāt (may there be. The meaning is: "I pray neither for enjoyment [bhukti], made of dharma, artha, and kāma, nor for liberation [mukti], which unties the bonds of saṁsāra; I beg only for unmixed, pure service to His feet").

Explanation of the verse —

ধন, জন নাহি মাগোঁ, কবিতা সুন্দরী ৷
'শুদ্ধভক্তি' দেহ' মোরে, কৃষ্ণ, কৃপা করি' ॥ ৩০ ॥

dhana, jana nāhi māgoṁ, kavitā sundarī wealth, followers not I beg, poetry beautiful
'śuddha-bhakti' deha' more, kṛṣṇa, kṛpā kari'
pure devotion give to me Kṛṣṇa mercy showing

30 "I do not beg for wealth, for followers or for beautiful poetry. O Kṛṣṇa, be merciful and give me pure devotion!"

The inseparable bond between humility and the urge to serve Kṛṣṇa —

অতি দৈন্যে পুনঃ মাগে দাস্যভক্তি-দান ৷ আপনারে করে সংসারী জীব-অভিমান ॥ ৩১ ॥

ati dainye punaḥ māge dāsya-bhakti-dāna
in great humility again He begs of servitude devotion the gift āpanāre kare saṁsārī jīva-abhimāna
about Himself He takes worldly a soul's self-conception

31 In great humility He again begged for the gift of devotion in servitude, thinking of Himself as an ordinary soul caught in worldly existence.

*The sādhaka, in his own true nature (svarūpa), begs mercy of the Adhokṣaja, who delights in spiritual pastimes —*

অয়ি নন্দতনুজ কিঙ্করং
পতিতং মাং বিষমে ভবাম্বুধৌ ৷
কৃপয়া তব পাদপঙ্কজ-স্থিত-ধূলীসদৃশং বিচিন্তয় ॥ ৩২ ॥

ayi nanda-tanuja kiṅkaraṁ
O of Nanda son servant
patitaṁ māṁ viṣame bhavāmbudhau fallen me into the terrible ocean of material existence kṛpayā tava pāda-paṅkaja-by mercy Your of feet lotus sthita-dhūlī-sadṛśaṁ vicintaya resting on a speck of dust like consider

32 "O son of Nanda, I am Your servant, yet I have fallen into the terrible ocean of material existence. Be merciful and consider me a speck of dust at Your lotus feet." (Śikṣāṣṭaka, 5)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O son of Nanda, though I am Your eternal servant, through the fruits of my own karma I have fallen into the fearsome ocean of worldly existence. Be merciful: consider me like the dust on Your lotus feet.

Anubhāṣya.
> (The fifth verse of the Śikṣāṣṭaka, cited in the Padyāvalī as number 13)

ayi nanda-tanūja (O son of the king of Vraja, embodiment of the rasa of pastimes full of the bliss of service), viṣame bhavāmbudhau (in the ocean of saṁsāra) patitam kiṅkaram kṛpayā (out of compassion) tava pāda-paṅkaja-sthita-dhūlī-sadṛśam (the foot is a lotus; like the dust that rests on it, stays there, clinging to it — that is, simply as Your own servant, purchased long ago) mām vicintaya (consider).

Explanation of the verse —

তোমার নিত্যদাস মুই, তোমা পাসরিয়া ৷ পড়িয়াছোঁ ভবার্ণবে মায়াবদ্ধ হঞা ॥ ৩৩ ॥

tomāra nitya-dāsa mui, tomā pāsariyā
Your eternal servant I You forgetting paḍiyāchoṁ bhavārṇave māyā-baddha hañā
I have fallen into the ocean of material existence by māyā bound becoming 33 "I am Your eternal servant, but I forgot You and fell into the ocean of material existence, bound by māyā.

কৃপা করি' কর মোরে পদধূলী-সম ৷ তোমার সেবক করোঁ তোমার সেবন ॥ ৩৪ ॥

kṛpā kari' kara more pada-dhūlī-sama mercy showing make me of Your feet the dust like tomāra sevaka karoṁ tomāra sevana
Your servant I would do Your service

34 Be merciful and make me like a speck of dust at Your feet, so that as Your servant I may serve You."

*A prayer for perfection in nāma-saṅkīrtana —*

পুনঃ অতি উৎকণ্ঠা, দৈন্য হইল উদ্গম । কৃষ্ণ-ঠাঞি মাগে প্রেম-নামসঙ্কীর্ত্তন ॥ ৩৫ ॥

punaḥ ati utkaṇṭhā, dainya haila udgama
again intense longing humility there was an arising kṛṣṇa-ṭhāñi māge prema-nāma-saṅkīrtana from Kṛṣṇa He begs with love of the name the chanting 35 Again intense longing and humility arose in Him, and He begged Kṛṣṇa that He might chant the holy name with love.

*The external signs of perfection, that is, of sādhya-bhakti —*

নয়নং গলদশ্রুধারয়া বদনং গদ্গদ-রুদ্ধয়া গিরা । পুলকৈর্নিচিতং বপুঃ কদা তব নাম-গ্রহণে ভবিষ্যতি ॥ ৩৬ ॥

nayanaṁ galad-aśru-dhārayā
eyes of streaming tears with a flow vadanaṁ gadgada-ruddhayā girā mouth faltering choked with a voice pulakair nicitaṁ vapuḥ kadā with thrills of joy covered the body when tava nāma-grahaṇe bhaviṣyati
Your name in taking will be

36 "When, as I chant Your name, will my eyes overflow with streaming tears, my voice falter and choke, and my body be covered with thrills of joy?" (Śikṣāṣṭaka, 6)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O Lord, when will my eyes be adorned with streams of tears as I utter Your name? When will my voice falter as soon as I begin to speak, and my whole body be covered with horripilation?

Anubhāṣya.
> (The sixth verse of the Śikṣāṣṭaka, cited in the Padyāvalī as number 84)

(O Lord,) tava nāma-grahaṇe (at the time of worshipping through the name) mama galad-aśru-dhārayā (with a flowing stream of tears) nayanam, gadgada-ruddhayā (choked by a trembling voice) girā (with speech) vadanam, pulakaiḥ (with horripilation) nicitam (covered) vapuḥ kadā bhaviṣyati?

Compare the verses cited in the Bhakti-sandarbha (section 69), such as this one: "Even what is heard from the Upaniṣads is far from the nectar of Hari's narrations, for in it there is no melting of the heart, no trembling, no tears, no horripilation, nothing of the kind."

Explanation of the verse —

প্রেমধন বিনা ব্যর্থ দরিদ্র জীবন !
'দাস' করি' বেতন মোরে দেহ প্রেমধন ! ॥ ৩৭ ॥

prema-dhana vinā vyartha daridra jīvana!
of love the wealth without futile poor life
'dāsa' kari' vetana more deha prema-dhana!
Your servant making as wages to me give of love the wealth

37 "Without the wealth of love, life is poor and futile! Make me Your servant and give me the wealth of love as my wages!"

*The inner signs of perfection, that is, of sādhya-bhakti; worship founded on transcendental separation (vipralambha, separation from Kṛṣṇa) —*

রসান্তরাবেশে হইল বিয়োগ-স্ফুরণ । উদ্বেগ, বিষাদ, দৈন্যে করে প্রলাপন ॥ ৩৮ ॥

rasāntarāveśe haila viyoga-sphuraṇa
by absorption in another rasa there was of separation the manifestation udvega, viṣāda, dainye kare pralāpana
in anxiety, dejection, humility He does raving

38 Absorbed in another rasa, He felt the full force of separation, and in anxiety, dejection and humility He began to speak words of divine madness.[5]

যুগায়িতং নিমেষেণ চক্ষুষা প্রাবৃষায়িতম্ ।
শূন্যায়িতং জগৎ সর্ব্বং গোবিন্দ-বিরহেণ মে ॥ ৩৯ ॥

yugāyitaṁ nimeṣeṇa
seems an age a moment
cakṣuṣā prāvṛṣāyitam
by the eyes the rainy season is enacted śūnyāyitaṁ jagat sarvaṁ
seems empty the world whole govinda-viraheṇa me
in separation from Govinda for Me

39 "In separation from Govinda, a moment seems to Me an age, My eyes pour tears like the rains, and the whole world seems empty." (Śikṣāṣṭaka, 7)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O Govinda, not seeing You, I feel every moment (nimeṣa) to be a yuga; tears pour from My eyes like the rains; the whole world seems to Me almost empty.

Anubhāṣya.
> (The seventh verse of the Śikṣāṣṭaka, cited in the Padyāvalī as number 327)

govinda-viraheṇa (in separation from the son of the king of Vraja) me (for Me) nimeṣeṇa (by a moment — a tiny span the length of a truṭi or a lava) yugāyitam (has become like a yuga: it drags on like a span the length of a yuga), cakṣuṣā (by the eyes) prāvṛṣāyitam (it has become like the rainy season: like clouds in the season of rains), sarvam jagat śūnyāyitam (has become like a void — that is, it seems empty).

Explanation of the verse —

উদ্বেগে দিবস না যায়, 'ক্ষণ' হৈল 'যুগ'-সম !
বর্ষার মেঘপ্রায় অশ্রু বর্ষে নয়ন ! ॥ ৪০ ॥ udvege divasa nā yāya, 'kṣaṇa' haila 'yuga'-sama!

in anxiety the day not passes a moment has become an age like varṣāra megha-prāya aśru varṣe nayana!
of the rainy season a cloud like tears rain the eyes

40 “In My anxiety the day will not pass; a moment has become like an age! Like clouds in the rainy season, My eyes rain tears!

গোবিন্দ-বিরহে শূন্য হইল ত্রিভুবন !
তুষানলে পোড়ে, — যেন না যায় জীবন ॥ ৪১ ॥

govinda-virahe śūnya haila tribhuvana!
in separation from Govinda empty has become the three worlds
tuṣānale poḍe, — yena nā yāya jīvana
in a fire of husks I burn as if not goes life

41 In separation from Govinda the three worlds have become empty! I burn as in a slow fire of husks, and yet life does not leave Me.

কৃষ্ণ উদাসীন হইলা করিতে পরীক্ষণ । সখী সব কহে, — কৃষ্ণে কর উপেক্ষণ ॥ ৪২ ॥

kṛṣṇa udāsīna hailā karite parīkṣaṇa Kṛṣṇa indifferent has become to make a test
sakhī saba kahe, — kṛṣṇe kara upekṣaṇa
My friends all say Kṛṣṇa do neglect

42 Kṛṣṇa has become indifferent to test Me, and all My friends say, ‘Ignore Kṛṣṇa.’”

এতেক চিন্তিতে রাধার নির্ম্মল হৃদয় । স্বাভাবিক প্রেমার স্বভাব করিল উদয় ॥ ৪৩ ॥

eteka cintite rādhāra nirmala hṛdaya
so much as He thought Rādhā’s pure heart svābhāvika premāra svabhāva karila udaya natural of love the nature made rise

43 As these thoughts arose, the very nature of spontaneous love dawned in Rādhā’s pure heart.

The Lord, absorbed in the mood of Śrī Rādhā, the crown jewel of those wholly in Kṛṣṇa's power —

ঈর্ষ্যা, উৎকণ্ঠা, দৈন্য, প্রৌঢ়ি, বিনয় । এত ভাব এক-ঠাঞি করিল উদয় ॥ ৪৪ ॥

īrṣyā, utkaṇṭhā, dainya, prauḍhi, vinaya
jealousy, eagerness, humility, boldness, entreaty eta bhāva eka-ṭhāñi karila udaya
so many emotions in one place made rise

44 Jealousy, eagerness, humility, boldness and entreaty — all these emotions arose at once.

এত ভাবে রাধার মন অস্থির হইলা । সখীগণ-আগে প্রৌঢ়ি-শ্লোক যে পড়িলা ॥ ৪৫ ॥

eta bhāve rādhāra mana asthira hailā
by these emotions Rādhā’s mind unsteady became sakhī-gaṇa-āge prauḍhi-śloka ye paḍilā
of the sakhīs before a bold verse which She spoke

45 These emotions unsettled Rādhā’s mind, and before Her friends She spoke a bold verse.

সেইভাবে প্রভু সেই শ্লোক উচ্চারিলা । শ্লোক উচ্চারিতে তদ্রূপ আপনে হইলা ॥ ৪৬ ॥

sei-bhāve prabhu sei śloka uccārilā
in that mood the Lord that verse recited śloka uccārite tad-rūpa āpane hailā
the verse while reciting of that form Himself He became 46 In that same mood the Lord recited that verse, and as He recited it He Himself became like Her.

*The steadiness (niṣṭhā) of perfection, that is, of sādhya-bhakti: exclusive dependence on Kṛṣṇa —*

আশ্লিষ্য বা পাদরতাং পিনষ্টু মা- মদর্শনান্মর্ম্মহতাং করোতু বা । যথা তথা বা বিদধাতু লম্পটো মৎপ্রাণনাথস্তু স এব নাপরঃ ॥ ৪৭ ॥

āśliṣya vā pāda-ratāṁ pinaṣṭu mām embracing or devoted to His feet may He make His own (lit. ‘crush’) Me adarśanān marma-hatāṁ karotu vā
by not appearing heartbroken may He make or yathā tathā vā vidadhātu lampaṭo
as He likes or may He act the unrestrained lover mat-prāṇa-nāthas tu sa eva nāparaḥ of My life the Lord yet He alone no other

47 “Let Him embrace Me, this maidservant devoted to His feet, and make Me His own, or break My heart by not appearing before Me. Let that unrestrained lover (lampaṭa) do with Me whatever He likes — He alone is the Lord of My life, and no one else.” (Śikṣāṣṭaka, 8)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Let Kṛṣṇa embrace this maidservant devoted to His feet and crush her in His arms, or, by not appearing, break My heart[18]. He is a libertine (lampaṭa-puruṣa), and however He may deal with Me, He is no one else: He is the Lord of My life.

Anubhāṣya.

> (The eighth verse of the Śikṣāṣṭaka, cited in the Padyāvalī as number 134)

saḥ pāda-ratām (the maidservant wholly devoted to the service of His feet) mām (Me — Rādhā) āśliṣya (embracing tightly) vā pinaṣṭu (let Him make His own) vā adarśanāt (by not appearing — by separation) mām marma-hatām (wounded to the very core of the heart) karotu vā; saḥ lampaṭaḥ (absorbed in the pleasure of gratifying His own senses) yathā tathā vā vidadhātu (let Him do as He pleases, or let Him sport with other beloveds), tu (still) saḥ (Kṛṣṇa) eva mat-prāṇa-nāthaḥ (He alone is My beloved), na aparaḥ.

*Explanation of the verse: “I am Yours, and You are Mine — what need have I of any other wealth?” — [In any suitable rāga (yathā-rāga)]*

আমি — কৃষ্ণপদ-দাসী, তেঁহো — রসসুখরাশি, আলিঙ্গিয়া করে আত্মসাথ ।
কিবা না দেয় দরশন, জারেন মোর তনুমন, তবু তেঁহো — মোর প্রাণনাথ ॥ ৪৮ ॥

āmi — kṛṣṇa-pada-dāsī, teṁho — rasa-sukha-rāśi,
I of Kṛṣṇa's feet the maidservant He of rasa and joy the abode
āliṅgiyā kare ātma-sātha embracing He makes His own
kibā nā deya daraśana, jārena mora tanu-mana, or not He gives sight of Himself He wears away My body and mind
tabu teṁho — mora prāṇa-nātha
still He of My life the Lord

48 "I am the maidservant of Kṛṣṇa's feet, and He is the very abode of rasa and joy. He may embrace Me and make Me His own, or He may not let Me see Him and so wear away My body and mind — still He is the Lord of My life.

সখি হে, শুন মোর মনের নিশ্চয়।
কিবা অনুরাগ করে, কিবা দুঃখ দিয়া মারে, মোর প্রাণেশ্বর কৃষ্ণ, — অন্য নয় ॥ ৪৯ ॥

sakhi he, śuna mora manera niścaya
O friend listen My of mind the resolve
kibā anurāga kare, kibā duḥkha diyā māre, whether love He shows or pain giving He kills mora prāṇeśvara kṛṣṇa, — anya naya
My Lord of life Kṛṣṇa another not

49 O friend, hear the resolve of My heart. Whether He shows Me love or kills Me with pain, Kṛṣṇa — and no one else — is the Lord of My life.

*The varied sweetness of sneha — the sneha of "mine" (madīyatva) and the sneha of "His" (tadīyatva), that is, sneha like honey and sneha like ghee; and with it: even in the hour of My happiness I, longing to please Kṛṣṇa's senses, am wholly in His power —*

ছাড়ি' অন্য নারীগণ, মোর বশ তনুমন, মোর সৌভাগ্য প্রকট করিয়া।
তা-সবারে দেয় পীড়া, আমা-সনে করে ক্রীড়া, সেই নারীগণে দেখাঞা ॥ ৫০ ॥

chāḍi' anya nārī-gaṇa, mora vaśa tanu-mana, leaving other women under My control His body and mind
mora saubhāgya prakaṭa kariyā
My good fortune manifest making
tā-sabāre deya pīḍā, āmā-sane kare krīḍā, to all of them He gives pain with Me He makes play sei nārī-gaṇe dekhāñā
to those women showing

50 Sometimes He leaves the other women, and His body and mind are under My control. Making My good fortune plain, He pains them all by sporting with Me before their eyes.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"His body and mind are in My power" — that is, in body and mind He is wholly submissive to Me.

Even in the hour of My suffering — in separation from Him — I, longing to please Kṛṣṇa's senses, am wholly in His power —

কিবা তেঁহো লম্পট, শঠ, ধৃষ্ট, সকপট, অন্য নারীগণ করি' সাথ ।
মোরে দিতে মনঃপীড়া, মোর আগে করে ক্রীড়া, তবু তেঁহো — মোর প্রাণনাথ ॥ ৫১ ॥

kibā teṁho lampaṭa, śaṭha, dhṛṣṭa, sakapaṭa,
or He a libertine, a cheat, brazen, deceitful
anya nārī-gaṇa kari' sātha
other women making His companions
more dite manaḥ-pīḍā, mora āge kare krīḍā, to Me to give heartache of Me before He makes play
tabu teṁho — mora prāṇa-nātha
still He of My life the Lord

51 Or else, libertine, cheat, brazen and deceitful as He is, He takes other women with Him and sports with them before My eyes just to pain My heart — still He is the Lord of My life.

The exclusive desire to please Kṛṣṇa's senses: "Whatever suffering comes in Your service is itself the highest happiness" —

না গণি আপন-দুঃখ, সবে বাঞ্ছি তাঁর সুখ, তাঁর সুখ — আমার তাৎপর্য্য ।
মোরে যদি দিয়া দুঃখ, তাঁর হৈল মহাসুখ, সেই দুঃখ — মোর সুখবর্য্য ॥ ৫২ ॥

nā gaṇi āpana-duḥkha, sabe vāñchi tāṁra sukha, not I count My own pain only I desire His happiness
tāṁra sukha — āmāra tātparya
His happiness My aim
more yadi diyā duḥkha, tāṁra haila mahā-sukha, to Me if giving pain His became great happiness
sei duḥkha — mora sukha-varya
that pain My of happiness the best

52 I do not count My own pain; I desire only His happiness. His happiness is My whole aim. If by giving Me pain He finds great happiness, that pain is My greatest happiness.

Anubhāṣya.

A devotee takes no account of his own happiness and distress: all his endeavors aim only at Kṛṣṇa's happiness. Apart from Kṛṣṇa's happiness, the devotee has no separate happiness of his own at all. If Kṛṣṇa becomes very happy by giving the devotee pain, the devotee considers that pain his own highest happiness. In the community of prākṛta-sahajiyās, who do not know tattva and fancy themselves rasikas in a worldly way, some take their own craving for happiness as the fruit to be desired. Others think, "On the pretext of serving Kṛṣṇa I myself will enjoy a happiness greater than material happiness," and so on; as the "fruit" of their efforts in bhajana they take karma-kāṇḍa, whose whole aim is enjoyment of various kinds. In fact such efforts and fancies of theirs are only the fruit of ignorance about pure bhajana, an ignorance rooted in hypocrisy.

The ceaseless endeavor to please Kṛṣṇa's senses, that is, to increase His happiness —

যে নারীরে বাঞ্ছে কৃষ্ণ, তার রূপে সতৃষ্ণ, তারে না পাঞা হয় দুঃখী ।
মুই তার পায়ে পড়ি', লঞা যাঙ হাতে ধরি', ক্রীড়া করাঞা তাঁরে করোঁ সুখী ॥ ৫৩ ॥

ye nārīre vāñche kṛṣṇa, tāra rūpe satṛṣṇa, whichever woman desires Kṛṣṇa for her beauty longing
tāre nā pāñā haya duḥkhī
her not obtaining He becomes unhappy
mui tāra pāye paḍi', lañā yāṅa hāte dhari',
I at her feet falling I bring her by the hand holding krīḍā karāñā tāṁre karoṁ sukhī
pastimes arranging Him I make happy

53 If Kṛṣṇa longs for a certain woman, drawn by her beauty, and grows sad because He cannot meet her, I fall at her feet, take her by the hand and bring her to Him, and by arranging their pastimes I make Him happy.

কান্তা কৃষ্ণে করে রোষ, কৃষ্ণ পায় সন্তোষ, সুখ পায় তাড়ন-ভর্ৎসনে ৷
যথাযোগ্য করে মান, কৃষ্ণ তাতে সুখ পান, ছাড়ে মান অল্প-সাধনে ॥ ৫৪ ॥

kāntā kṛṣṇe kare roṣa, kṛṣṇa pāya santoṣa,
a beloved with Kṛṣṇa shows anger Kṛṣṇa gets satisfaction
sukha pāya tāḍana-bhartsane
joy He gets from scolding and rebuke
yathā-yogya kare māna, kṛṣṇa tāte sukha pāna, as is fitting she shows pique Kṛṣṇa in that joy gets chāḍe māna alpa-sādhane
she gives up her pique with a little coaxing

54 When a beloved is angry with Kṛṣṇa, He is pleased and takes joy in her scolding and rebukes. When, as is fitting, she shows loving pique (māna), it gives Him delight, and at a little coaxing she lets it go.

*Rebuke of the woman who craves enjoyment (sambhoga) with Kṛṣṇa —*

সেই নারী জীয়ে কেনে, কৃষ্ণ-মর্ম্ম নাহি জানে, তবু কৃষ্ণে করে গাঢ় রোষ ৷
নিজ-সুখে মানে লাভ, পড়ুক তার শিরে বাজ, কৃষ্ণের মাত্র চাহিয়ে সন্তোষ ॥ ৫৫ ॥

sei nārī jīye kene, kṛṣṇa-marma nāhi jāne, that woman lives why Kṛṣṇa's heart not knows
tabu kṛṣṇe kare gāḍha roṣa
yet with Kṛṣṇa shows intense anger
nija-sukhe māne lābha, paḍuka tāra śire vāja,
in her own happiness she sees gain may fall her on the head a thunderbolt
kṛṣṇera mātra cāhiye santoṣa
Kṛṣṇa's only we desire satisfaction

55 Why does a woman live who does not know Kṛṣṇa's heart and yet is bitterly angry with Him? She counts her own happiness as gain — may a thunderbolt fall on her head! We desire only Kṛṣṇa's satisfaction.

Anubhāṣya.

A devotee who thinks himself fulfilled in his own happiness is utterly ruined: he becomes a sahajiyā, a "non-devotee" who seeks material enjoyment (sambhoga).

Respect even for a maidservant of Kṛṣṇa who is hostile to Me but gives Kṛṣṇa happiness —

যে গোপী মোর করে দ্বেষে, কৃষ্ণের করে সন্তোষে, কৃষ্ণ যারে করে অভিলাষ ।
মুই তার ঘরে যাঞা, তারে সেবোঁ দাসী হঞা, তবে মোর সুখের উল্লাস ॥ ৫৬ ॥

ye gopī mora kare dveṣe, kṛṣṇera kare santoṣe, whichever gopī toward Me bears enmity Kṛṣṇa's makes satisfaction
kṛṣṇa yāre kare abhilāṣa Kṛṣṇa whom makes desire
mui tāra ghare yāñā, tāre sevoṁ dāsī hañā,
I to her house going her I serve a maidservant becoming tabe mora sukhera ullāsa
then My of happiness the exultation

56 If a gopī who is hostile to Me pleases Kṛṣṇa, and Kṛṣṇa longs for her company, I will go to her house and serve her as her maidservant. Then My happiness overflows.

*The dharma of a faithful wife (pātivratya), as shown by the wife of a leper brahmin —*

কুষ্ঠী-বিপ্রের রমণী, পতিব্রতা-শিরোমণি, পতি লাগি' কৈল বেশ্যার সেবা ।
স্তম্ভিল সূর্য্যের গতি, জীয়াইল মৃত পতি, তুষ্ট কৈল মুখ্য তিন-দেবা ॥ ৫৭ ॥

kuṣṭhī-viprera ramaṇī, pativratā-śiromaṇi, of the leprous brāhmaṇa the wife of chaste wives the crest jewel
pati lāgi' kaila veśyāra sevā her husband for the sake of she did to a prostitute service stambhila sūryera gati, jīyāila mṛta pati,
she stopped the sun's course she revived dead husband
tuṣṭa kaila mukhya tina-devā
pleased made the chief three gods

57 The wife of a leprous brāhmaṇa, the crest jewel of chaste wives, served a prostitute for her husband's sake. She stopped the course of the sun, brought her dead husband back to life, and pleased the three principal deities.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
It is said that the faithful wife of a certain brahmin afflicted with leprosy served a prostitute dear to her husband, to give her husband pleasure. And when the hour of her husband's death came, by the power of her faithfulness she stopped the movement of the sun, pleased the three deities — Brahmā, Viṣṇu, and Maheśvara — and brought her dead husband back to life. The point is this: firm faithfulness to Kṛṣṇa (pātivratya) is the jīva's highest dharma, born of śṛṅgāra-rasa.

Anubhāṣya.
The Āditya Purāṇa, the Mārkaṇḍeya Purāṇa (15.29), and the Padma Purāṇa tell of the wife of a certain brahmin afflicted with leprosy. She was the ornament of faithful wives (pativratās). To fulfill the desire of her unworthy husband, a leper, she cleaned the house of a prostitute — an abode of sin — and tried to bring her feeble, lustful husband together with the prostitute. When the prostitute agreed, the faithful brahmin wife, as her husband wished, took her leper husband to the prostitute's house. That leprous sinner, a brahmin in name only (vipra-bandhu), seeing the faithful wife's devotion, at last turned back from sin. As he was returning home at night, his foot touched the body of the sage Māṇḍavya, and the sage cursed him. The faithful brahmin wife heard that the ṛṣi, angry because her husband had unknowingly broken his samādhi, had cursed him: "Right after sunrise he will lose his life." Because of this, despite her faithfulness, widowhood was inevitable for her. Then, to prevent it, she vowed to keep the sun from rising. Seeing her efforts, the three chief deities — Brahmā, Viṣṇu, and Śiva — came to her. Pleased with the faithful wife's devotion to her husband, they arranged for her husband to be cured and to receive a new life. The point is this: only such faithfulness, free of all self-interest (only the desire for the happiness of service), befits pure devotees.

“She whose mind, senses, and body are imbued with love for Kṛṣṇa” —

কৃষ্ণ — মোর জীবন, কৃষ্ণ — মোর প্রাণধন, কৃষ্ণ — মোর প্রাণের পরাণ ।
হৃদয়-উপরে ধরোঁ, সেবা করি’ সুখী করোঁ, এই মোর সদা রহে ধ্যান ॥ ৫৮ ॥

kṛṣṇa — mora jīvana, kṛṣṇa — mora prāṇa-dhana, Kṛṣṇa My life Kṛṣṇa My life’s treasure
kṛṣṇa — mora prāṇera parāṇa Kṛṣṇa of My life the life
hṛdaya-upare dharoṁ, sevā kari’ sukhī karoṁ, upon My heart I hold Him service rendering happy I make Him ei mora sadā rahe dhyāna
this My always remains meditation

58 Kṛṣṇa is My life; Kṛṣṇa is the treasure of My life; Kṛṣṇa is the very life of My life. I hold Him upon My heart and make Him happy by serving Him — this is My constant meditation.

She gives Kṛṣṇa happiness with all her limbs and senses and always regards herself as His maidservant —

মোর সুখ — সেবনে, কৃষ্ণের সুখ — সঙ্গমে, অতএব দেহ দেঙ দান ।
কৃষ্ণ মোরে ‘কান্তা’ করি, কহে মোরে ‘প্রাণেশ্বরী’, মোর হয় ‘দাসী’-অভিমান ॥ ৫৯ ॥

mora sukha — sevane, kṛṣṇera sukha — saṅgame,
My happiness in serving Kṛṣṇa’s happiness in union
ataeva deha deṅa dāna
therefore My body I give as a gift
kṛṣṇa more ‘kāntā’ kari, kahe more ‘prāṇeśvarī’, Kṛṣṇa Me His beloved making He calls Me queen of His life
mora haya ‘dāsī’-abhimāna
My is of a maidservant self-conception

59 My happiness lies in serving Him; Kṛṣṇa’s happiness lies in union with Me. Therefore I offer Him My body. Kṛṣṇa treats Me as His beloved and calls Me the queen of His life, but I think of Myself as His maidservant.

*The maidservant finds boundless joy in service rather than in union (sambhoga) —*

কান্ত-সেবা-সুখপূর, সঙ্গম হৈতে সুমধুর, তাতে সাক্ষী — লক্ষ্মী ঠাকুরাণী ।
নারায়ণ-হৃদি স্থিতি, তবু পাদসেবায় মতি, সেবা করে ‘দাসী’-অভিমানী ॥ ৬০ ॥

kānta-sevā-sukha-pūra, saṅgama haite sumadhura, to the beloved of service of happiness the fullness union than sweeter
tāte sākṣī — lakṣmī ṭhākurāṇī of this the witness Lakṣmī Ṭhākurāṇī nārāyaṇa-hṛdi sthiti, tabu pāda-sevāya mati, in Nārāyaṇa's heart her abode yet in service to His feet her inclination
sevā kare 'dāsī'-abhimānī
service she renders as a maidservant thinking of herself

60 The fullness of joy in serving the beloved is sweeter even than union. The goddess Lakṣmī is witness to this: though she dwells on Nārāyaṇa's heart, she longs to serve His feet, and she serves Him thinking of herself as His maidservant."

*The Lord, absorbed in the mood of Śrī Rādhā, relishes pure love (kevala-prema) —*

এই রাধার বচন, বিশুদ্ধপ্রেম-লক্ষণ, আস্বাদয়ে শ্রীগৌর-রায় ।
ভাবে মন নহে স্থির, সাত্ত্বিকে ব্যাপে শরীর, মন-দেহ ধারণ না যায় ॥ ৬১ ॥ ei rādhāra vacana, viśuddha-prema-lakṣaṇa, these Rādhā's words of pure love the marks

āsvādaye śrī-gaura-rāya
relishes Śrī Gaura Rāya
bhāve mana nahe sthira, sāttvike vyāpe śarīra, from emotion the mind not steady sāttvika symptoms pervade the body
mana-deha dhāraṇa nā yāya
mind and body holding still not possible

61 Śrī Gaura Rāya relished these words of Rādhā, which bear the marks of pure love. His mind grew unsteady with emotion, sāttvika symptoms pervaded His body, and He could no longer hold His mind and body still.

*In the desire to please Kṛṣṇa's senses there is no desire to please one's own senses; through the Śikṣāṣṭaka the supremely magnanimous Gaura — the avatāra who came to relish worship of Himself and to distribute it (sva-bhajana-vibhajana-prayojana-avatāra) — distributes to the jīvas the distilled essence of the fruit of Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam: sambandha, abhidheya, and prayojana —*

ব্রজেশ্বর-শুদ্ধপ্রেম, — যেন জাম্বুনদ হেম, আত্ম-সুখের যাঁহা নাহি গন্ধ ।
স্ব-প্রেম জানা'তে লোকে, প্রভু কৈলা এই শ্লোকে, পদ কৈলা অর্থের নির্ব্বন্ধ ॥ ৬২ ॥

vrajeśvara-śuddha-prema, — yena jāmbu-nada hema, for the Lord of Vraja pure love like of the Jambū river gold
ātma-sukhera yāṁhā nāhi gandha of one's own happiness in which there is no trace sva-prema jānā'te loke, prabhu kailā ei śloke,
His own love to make known to the world the Lord made this verse
pada kailā arthera nirbandha
songs (pada) He made of the meaning as the exposition

62 In pure love for the Lord of Vraja there is no trace of desire for one's own happiness: it is like gold from the river Jambū. To make this love known to the world, the Lord composed this verse and set out its meaning at length in songs.[6]

Anubhāṣya.
A variant reading: vrajera viśuddha prema (the purest love of Vraja); another variant: se prema (that love).

এইমত মহাপ্রভু ভাবাবিষ্ট হঞা । প্রলাপ করিলা কিছু শ্লোক পড়িয়া ॥ ৬৩ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu bhāvāviṣṭa haña thus Mahāprabhu absorbed in emotion becoming pralāpa karilā kichu śloka paḍiyā
raving He did some verses reciting

63 Thus, absorbed in ecstatic emotion, Mahāprabhu recited some verses and spoke words of divine madness.

*He Himself relishes this Śikṣāṣṭaka and Himself preaches it —*

পূর্ব্বে অষ্ট-শ্লোক করি' লোকে শিক্ষা দিলা । সেই অষ্ট-শ্লোক আপনে আস্বাদিলা ॥ ৬৪ ॥

pūrve aṣṭa-śloka kari' loke śikṣā dilā earlier eight verses composing to the people instruction He gave sei aṣṭa-śloka āpane āsvādilā
those eight verses Himself He relished

64 Earlier He had composed these eight verses to instruct the people; now He Himself relished them.

*Whoever hears and sings the Śrī Śikṣāṣṭaka surely attains love for Kṛṣṇa —*

প্রভুর 'শিক্ষাষ্টক'-শ্লোক যেই পড়ে, শুনে । কৃষ্ণে প্রেমভক্তি তার বাড়ে দিনে দিনে ॥ ৬৫ ॥

prabhura 'śikṣāṣṭaka'-śloka yei paḍe, śune
the Lord's Śikṣāṣṭaka verses whoever reads hears kṛṣṇe prema-bhakti tāra bāḍe dine dine for Kṛṣṇa loving devotion his grows day by day

65 Whoever reads or hears the Lord's Śikṣāṣṭaka verses will find his loving devotion to Kṛṣṇa growing day by day.

*Despite His incomparable depth, the Lord loses His composure in mahābhāva — the divine madness born of separation — as the ocean surges when the full moon rises —*

যদ্যপিহ প্রভু — কোটিসমুদ্র-গম্ভীর । নানা-ভাব-চন্দ্রোদয়ে হয়েন অস্থির ॥ ৬৬ ॥

yadyapiha prabhu — koṭi-samudra-gambhīra although the Lord millions of oceans as deep as nānā-bhāva-candrodaye hayena asthira
of various emotions at the moonrise He becomes restless

66 Though the Lord is as deep as millions of oceans, He grows restless when the moon of His many emotions rises.

*The books eternally relished by the liberated mahā-bhāgavatas, the paramahaṁsas — the books dear to the Lord when absorbed in the mood of separation —*

যেই যেই শ্লোক জয়দেব, ভাগবতে ।
রায়ের নাটকে, যেই আর কর্ণামৃতে ॥ ৬৭ ॥

সেই সেই ভাবে শ্লোক করিয়া পঠনে । সেই সেই ভাবাবেশে করেন আস্বাদনে ॥ ৬৮ ॥

yei yei śloka jayadeva, bhāgavate whichever verses of Jayadeva in the Bhāgavata rāyera nāṭake, yei āra karṇāmṛte
in Rāya's drama whichever and in the Karṇāmṛta sei sei bhāve śloka kariyā paṭhane
in that very mood verses making recitation sei sei bhāvāveśe karena āsvādane
in that very absorption in emotion He does relishing

67–68 Whatever verses of Jayadeva, of the Bhāgavata, of Rāmānanda Rāya's drama and of the Karṇāmṛta suited each mood, He would recite in that mood and relish, absorbed in that emotion.

Anubhāṣya.
"Jayadeva" — that is, the aṣṭa-padīs he composed, in other words the Gīta-govinda.

In the last twelve years, in the Antya-līlā, the Lord ceaselessly relishes love for Kṛṣṇa —

দ্বাদশ বৎসর ঐছে দশা — রাত্রি-দিনে । কৃষ্ণরস আস্বাদয়ে দুইবন্ধু-সনে ॥ ৬৯ ॥

dvādaśa vatsara aiche daśā — rātri-dine twelve years such a state night and day
kṛṣṇa-rasa āsvādaye dui-bandhu-sane Kṛṣṇa's rasa He relishes two friends with 69 For twelve years He was in this state night and day, relishing the rasa of Kṛṣṇa with His two friends.

Even Bhagavān Śeṣa-Viṣṇu Himself is unable to describe the states of love for Kṛṣṇa that the Lord experienced —

সেই সব লীলা-রস আপনে অনন্ত । সহস্র-বদনে বর্ণি' নাহি পা'ন অন্ত ॥ ৭০ ॥

sei saba līlā-rasa āpane ananta
those all of the pastimes the rasa Himself Ananta
sahasra-vadane varṇi' nāhi pā'na anta
with a thousand mouths describing not He finds the end

70 Even Ananta Himself, describing with His thousand mouths the rasa of all these pastimes, cannot reach their end.

*Great pious merit (sukṛti) grants a jīva the fortune of touching a drop of that ocean —*

জীব ক্ষুদ্রবুদ্ধি কোন্ তাহা পারে বর্ণিতে ?
তার এক কণা স্পর্শি আপনা শোধিতে ॥ ৭১ ॥

jīva kṣudra-buddhi kon tāhā pāre varṇite?
a soul of small intelligence how that can describe tāra eka kaṇā sparśi āpanā śodhite
of it one particle I touch myself to purify

71 How can a soul of small intelligence describe them? I touch just one particle of them, to purify myself.

Fearing to swell the book, the author stops describing the Lord's actions of love —

যত চেষ্টা, যত প্রলাপ, — নাহি পারাবার । সে সব বর্ণিতে গ্রন্থ হয় সুবিস্তার ॥ ৭২ ॥

yata ceṣṭā, yata pralāpa, — nāhi pārāvāra
all the actions all the ravings there is no limit
se saba varṇite grantha haya suvistāra that all to describe the book would be vast 72 His actions and His words of divine madness have no limit; to describe them all would make the book enormous.

*What the Caitanya-bhāgavata describes in detail is described briefly in this book; what it describes briefly is described here in detail —*

বৃন্দাবন-দাস প্রথম যে লীলা বর্ণিল । সেইসব লীলার আমি সূত্রমাত্র কৈল ॥ ৭৩ ॥

vṛndāvana-dāsa prathama ye līlā varṇila Vṛndāvana dāsa first which pastimes described sei-saba līlāra āmi sūtra-mātra kaila
of all those pastimes I a summary only made

73 Of the pastimes that Vṛndāvana dāsa had described before me, I have given only a summary.

তাঁর ত্যক্ত 'অবশেষ' সংক্ষেপে কহিল । লীলার বাহুল্যে গ্রন্থ তথাপি বাড়িল ॥ ৭৪ ॥

tāṁra tyakta 'avaśeṣa' saṅkṣepe kahila
by him left the remainder briefly I told līlāra bāhulye grantha tathāpi bāḍila
of the pastimes by the abundance the book even so grew

74 I have briefly told the "remainder" that he left untold, and even so the book has grown, because the pastimes are so many.

অতএব সেইসব লীলা না পারি বর্ণিবারে । সমাপ্ত করিলুঁ লীলা করি' নমস্কারে ॥ ৭৫ ॥

ataeva sei-saba līlā nā pāri varṇibāre therefore all those pastimes not I can to describe samāpta kariluṁ līlā kari' namaskāre
I have concluded the pastimes making obeisance

75 Therefore I cannot describe all those pastimes; offering my obeisances to them, I have brought my account to a close.

যে কিছু কহিলুঁ, এই দিগ্‌দরশন । এই অনুসারে হবে তার আস্বাদন ॥ ৭৬ ॥

ye kichu kahiluṁ, ei dig-daraśana what little I have told this an indication of direction ei anusāre habe tāra āsvādana
this following will be of them the relishing

76 What little I have told is only an indication of the way; by following it one can relish those pastimes.

Though guided by the will of Śrī Caitanya Himself, the author speaks in humility —

প্রভুর গম্ভীর-লীলা না পারি বুঝিতে । বুদ্ধি-প্রবেশ নাহি তাতে, না পারি বর্ণিতে ॥ ৭৭ ॥

prabhura gambhīra-līlā nā pāri bujhite
the Lord's profound pastimes not I can understand buddhi-praveśa nāhi tāte, nā pāri varṇite of the intellect entry there is none into them not I can describe

77 I cannot understand the Lord's profound pastimes; my intellect cannot enter them, and so I cannot describe them.

*The author, who honors others (mānada), bows to the listeners —*

সব শ্রোতা-বৈষ্ণবের বন্দিয়া চরণ । চৈতন্যচরিত্র-বর্ণন কৈলুঁ সমাপন ॥ ৭৮ ॥

saba śrotā-vaiṣṇavera vandiyā caraṇa
of all the listening Vaiṣṇavas honoring the feet
caitanya-caritra-varṇana kailuṁ samāpana
Caitanya's deeds the description I have concluded

78 Bowing at the feet of all the Vaiṣṇavas who hear this, I bring to a close my description of Śrī Caitanya's deeds.

*The ocean of Gaura's pastimes is not of this world and lies beyond the senses (adhokṣaja); conditioned souls cannot touch it. Regarding himself as a jīva, the author in deep humility merely tries to touch a drop of it —*

আকাশ — অনন্ত, তাতে যৈছে পক্ষিগণ । যার যত শক্তি, তত করে আরোহণ ॥ ৭৯ ॥

ākāśa — ananta, tāte yaiche pakṣi-gaṇa
the sky is unlimited in it as the birds
yāra yata śakti, tata kare ārohaṇa whose as much strength that much makes ascent

79 The sky is unlimited, yet each bird in it flies only as high as its strength allows.

Anubhāṣya.
See Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.18.23.

ঐছে মহাপ্রভুর লীলা নাহি ওর-পার ।
'জীব' হঞা কেবা সম্যক্ পারে বর্ণিবার ? ॥ ৮০ ॥

aiche mahāprabhura līlā nāhi ora-pāra
so Mahāprabhu's pastimes there is no near shore or far
'jīva' hañā kebā samyak pāre varṇibāra?
a jīva being who fully can describe

80 So too Mahāprabhu's pastimes have no shore on either side. Who, being only a jīva, can describe them fully?

যাবৎ বুদ্ধির গতি, ততেক বর্ণিলুঁ । সমুদ্রের মধ্যে যেন এক কণ ছুঁইলুঁ ॥ ৮১ ॥

yāvat buddhira gati, tateka varṇiluṁ
as far as of the intelligence the reach so much I have described samudrera madhye yena eka kaṇa chuṁiluṁ
of the ocean in the midst as if one drop I have touched 81 I have described as much as my intelligence could reach — as if I had touched a single drop in the midst of the ocean.

The glory of Ṭhākura Vṛndāvana, and the pastimes of Gaura —

নিত্যানন্দ-কৃপাপাত্র — বৃন্দাবন-দাস । চৈতন্যলীলায় তেঁহো হয়েন 'আদিব্যাস' ॥ ৮২ ॥

nityānanda-kṛpā-pātra — vṛndāvana-dāsa
of Nityānanda of the mercy the vessel — Vṛndāvana dāsa
caitanya-līlāya teṁho hayena 'ādi-vyāsa'
in Caitanya's pastimes he is 'the original Vyāsa'

82 Vṛndāvana dāsa, the vessel of Nityānanda's mercy, is the original Vyāsa (ādi-vyāsa) of Caitanya's pastimes.

Anubhāṣya.
Some say this: the later pure ācāryas who wrote of Gaura's pastimes also follow the "original Vyāsa" (ādi-vyāsa), Śrīla Vṛndāvana dāsa Ṭhākura; as parts, or manifestations, nondifferent from him, they too are denoted by the word "Vyāsa."

তাঁর আগে যদ্যপি সব লীলার ভাণ্ডার । তথাপি অল্প বর্ণিয়া ছাড়িলেন আর ॥ ৮৩ ॥

tāṁra āge yadyapi saba līlāra bhāṇḍāra
of him before although of all the pastimes the storehouse tathāpi alpa varṇiyā chāḍilena āra
still a little having described he left the rest

83 Although the storehouse of all the pastimes lay before him, he described only a little and left the rest.

যে কিছু বর্ণিলুঁ, সেহ সংক্ষেপ করিয়া । লিখিতে না পারেন, তবু রাখিয়াছেন লিখিয়া ॥ ৮৪ ॥

ye kichu varṇiluṁ, seha saṅkṣepa kariyā
what little I have described that too brief making likhite nā pārena, tabu rākhiyāchena likhiyā to write not he could yet he has kept having written

84 Even the little I have described I have told only in brief — things he could not write out in full, though he did record them.

*The Caitanya-bhāgavata, the conclusive book on Viṣṇu, the Vaiṣṇavas and pure devotion to Viṣṇu, is the highest authority (pramāṇa) —*

চৈতন্যমঙ্গলে তেঁহো লিখিয়াছেন স্থানে-স্থানে । সেই বচন শুন, সেই পরম-প্রমাণে ॥ ৮৫ ॥

caitanya-maṅgale teṁho likhiyāchena sthāne-sthāne
in the Caitanya-maṅgala he has written here and there sei vacana śuna, sei parama-pramāṇe
those words hear that the supreme evidence

85 Here and there in the Caitanya-maṅgala he has written of them. Hear those words: they are the supreme evidence.[7]

সংক্ষেপে কহিলুঁ, বিস্তার না যায় কথনে । বিস্তারিয়া বেদব্যাস করিবেন বর্ণনে ॥ ৮৬ ॥

saṅkṣepe kahiluṁ, vistāra nā yāya kathane in brief I have told in detail not is possible in the telling vistāriyā veda-vyāsa karibena varṇane
in detail Vedavyāsa will make the description

86 I have told it in brief, for it cannot be told in full. Vedavyāsa will describe it in detail.

চৈতন্যমঙ্গলে ইহা লিখিয়াছে স্থানে-স্থানে । সত্য কহেন, — আগে ব্যাস করিলা বর্ণনে ॥ ৮৭ ॥

caitanya-maṅgale ihā likhiyāche sthāne-sthāne
in the Caitanya-maṅgala this he has written here and there satya kahena, — āge vyāsa karilā varṇane truth he speaks — afterwards Vyāsa made the description

87 He has written this here and there in the Caitanya-maṅgala, and he speaks the truth: afterwards Vyāsa described these pastimes.[8]

Anubhāṣya.

A variant reading: “āge vyāsa karibena varṇane” (“in the future Vyāsa will describe”). Following it, many statements of the Caitanya-bhāgavata — for example, in its first chapter: “In the Śeṣa-khaṇḍa are Caitanya's endless pastimes; Vedavyāsa is yet to describe them in detail” — were written about the later pure Vaiṣṇava ācāryas who described Gaura's pastimes, headed by Śrīla Kavirāja Gosvāmī. Some explain it this way as well.

*The author, free of pride (amānī) and honoring others (mānada), regards himself as one who eats the remnants of Ṭhākura Vṛndāvana —*

চৈতন্য-লীলামৃত-সিন্ধু — দুগ্ধাব্ধি-সমান । তৃষ্ণানুরূপ ঝারী ভরি’ তেঁহো কৈলা পান ॥ ৮৮ ॥

caitanya-līlāmṛta-sindhu — dugdhābdhi-samāna of Caitanya’s pastimes of the nectar the ocean — to the ocean of milk equal tṛṣṇānurūpa jhārī bhari’ teṁho kailā pāna
according to his thirst the pitcher filling he made drinking

88 The nectar-ocean of Caitanya’s pastimes is like the Ocean of Milk. He filled his pitcher as his thirst required and drank.

তাঁর ঝারী-শেষামৃত কিছু মোরে দিলা । ততেকে ভরিল পেট, তৃষ্ণা মোর গেলা ॥ ৮৯ ॥

tāṁra jhārī-śeṣāmṛta kichu more dilā his of the pitcher the remnant nectar a little to me gave tateke bharila peṭa, tṛṣṇā mora gelā
by that much was filled the stomach thirst my went

89 He gave me a little of the nectar left in his pitcher, and that little filled me and quenched my thirst.

Words of humility once more —

আমি — অতিক্ষুদ্র জীব, পক্ষী রাঙ্গাটুনি ।
সে যৈছে তৃষ্ণায় পিয়ে সমুদ্রের পানী ॥ ৯০ ॥

তৈছে আমি এক কণ ছুঁইলুঁ লীলার । এই দৃষ্টান্তে জানিহ প্রভুর লীলার বিস্তার ॥ ৯১ ॥

āmi — ati-kṣudra jīva, pakṣī rāṅgā-ṭuni
I — very tiny soul a bird rāṅgā-ṭuni
se yaiche tṛṣṇāya piye samudrera pānī
it as in thirst drinks of the ocean the water taiche āmi eka kaṇa chuṁiluṁ līlāra
so I one drop have touched of the pastimes ei dṛṣṭānte jāniha prabhura līlāra vistāra
by this example know the Lord's pastimes' vastness

90–91 I am a very tiny soul, like the little rāṅgā-ṭuni bird. As that bird, when thirsty, drinks the water of the ocean, so I have touched a single drop of the pastimes. By this example know how vast the Lord's pastimes are.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Rāṅgā-ṭuni: a tiny ṭunṭunī bird.[19]

Unlike mundane poets and men of letters, the author — the emperor of transcendental poets — is not bewildered by false ego: he depends wholly on Kṛṣṇa and is guided by Caitanya's will —

'আমি লিখি', — ইহা মিথ্যা করি অনুমান । আমার শরীর — কাষ্ঠপুতলী-সমান ॥ ৯২ ॥

'āmi likhi', — ihā mithyā kari anumāna
'I write' — this false I consider a supposition
āmāra śarīra — kāṣṭha-putalī-samāna
my body — to a wooden puppet equal

92 To think "I am writing" is a false notion: my body is like a wooden puppet.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

I am as powerless as a wooden doll, and to suppose that I have written this book is vain. The meaning is this: it is Bhagavān and the devotees who are making me write this book.

Regarding himself as an instrument, the author describes his own unfitness and speaks in humility —

বৃদ্ধ জরাতুর আমি অন্ধ, বধির । হস্ত হালে, মনোবুদ্ধি নহে মোর স্থির ॥ ৯৩ ॥

vṛddha jarātura āmi andha, badhira
old infirm with age I blind deaf hasta hāle, mano-buddhi nahe mora sthira
the hands shake mind and intelligence are not my steady

93 I am old and infirm, blind and deaf; my hands shake, and my mind and intelligence are not steady.

নানা-রোগগ্রস্ত, — চলিতে বসিতে না পারি । পঞ্চরোগ-পীড়া-ব্যাকুল, রাত্রি-দিনে মরি ॥ ৯৪ ॥

nānā-roga-grasta, — calite vasite nā pāri by many diseases seized — to walk to sit not I can pañca-roga-pīḍā-vyākula, rātri-dine mari
by the pain of five diseases tormented night and day I die

94 Many diseases have seized me; I can neither walk nor sit. Tormented by the pain of five ailments, day and night I am all but dying.

পূর্ব্বে গ্রন্থে ইহা কৈরাছি নিবেদন । তথাপি লিখিয়ে, শুন ইহার কারণ ॥ ৯৫ ॥

pūrve granthe ihā kairāchi nivedana
earlier in the book this I have made submission
tathāpi likhiye, śuna ihāra kāraṇa
still I write hear of this the reason

95 I have already confessed this earlier in the book. Still I write — hear the reason for it.

The author proclaims his good fortune — the mercy of Madana-mohana he has received —

শ্রীগোবিন্দ, শ্রীচৈতন্য, শ্রীনিত্যানন্দ ।
শ্রীঅদ্বৈত, শ্রীভক্ত, আর শ্রীশ্রোতৃবৃন্দ ॥ ৯৬ ॥

শ্রীস্বরূপ, শ্রীরূপ, শ্রীসনাতন ।
শ্রীরঘুনাথ দাস শ্রীগুরু, শ্রীজীব-চরণ ॥ ৯৭ ॥

ইঁহা-সবার চরণ-কৃপায় লেখায় আমারে । আর এক হয় — তেঁহো অতিকৃপা করে ॥ ৯৮ ॥

śrī govinda, śrī caitanya, śrī nityānanda
Śrī Govinda Śrī Caitanya Śrī Nityānanda
śrī advaita, śrī bhakta, āra śrī śrotṛ-vṛnda Śrī Advaita the revered devotees and the revered listeners
śrī svarūpa, śrī rūpa, śrī sanātana
Śrī Svarūpa Śrī Rūpa Śrī Sanātana
śrī raghunātha dāsa śrī guru, śrī jīva-caraṇa Śrī Raghunātha dāsa Śrī guru Śrī Jīva's feet
iṁhā-sabāra caraṇa-kṛpāya lekhāya āmāre
of all these by the mercy of the feet make write me
āra eka haya — teṁho ati-kṛpā kare
and one there is — He great mercy shows

96–98 Śrī Govinda, Śrī Caitanya, Śrī Nityānanda, Śrī Advaita, the devotees and the revered listeners; Śrī Svarūpa, Śrī Rūpa, Śrī Sanātana; Śrī Raghunātha dāsa, my guru, and the feet of Śrī Jīva — by the mercy of the feet of all these I am made to write. And there is One more: He shows me exceptional mercy.

Anubhāṣya.
Śrī Raghunātha dāsa is śrī-guru: the guru who taught the author, Śrī Kavirāja Gosvāmī Prabhu, how to worship (bhajana) is Śrī Raghunātha dāsa Gosvāmī Prabhu, the best of the followers of Śrī Rūpa. (See verse 145 below, and in Ādi 1, at the very beginning of the Anubhāṣya, the line of Śrī Rūpa's followers, the succession of gurus.)[21]

শ্রীমদনগোপাল মোরে লেখায় আজ্ঞা করি' । কহিতে না যুয়ায়, তবু রহিতে না পারি ॥ ৯৯ ॥

śrī madana-gopāla more lekhāya ājñā kari' Śrī Madana-Gopāla me makes write order giving kahite nā yuyāya, tabu rahite nā pāri to say not is fitting yet to keep (silent) not I can 99 Śrī Madana-Gopāla, by His order, makes me write. It is not fitting to say this, yet I cannot keep silent.

না কহিলে হয় মোর কৃতঘ্নতা-দোষ । দম্ভ করি বলি', শ্রোতা, না করিহ রোষ ॥ ১০০ ॥

nā kahile haya mora kṛta-ghnatā-doṣa
not if I say is my of ingratitude the fault
dambha kari bali', śrotā, nā kariha roṣa pride making I speak O listeners not make anger

100 If I did not say it, I would be guilty of ingratitude. Though I speak as if out of pride, O listeners, do not be angry.

Obeisance to the listeners —

তোমা-সবার চরণ-ধূলি করিনু বন্দন । তাতে চৈতন্য লীলা হৈল, যে কিছু লিখন ॥ ১০১ ॥

tomā-sabāra caraṇa-dhūli karinu vandana
of you all the dust of the feet I have made worship
tāte caitanya līlā haila, ye kichu likhana
by that Caitanya's pastimes came about what little writing

101 I have bowed down to the dust of the feet of you all, and by this the little I have written of Caitanya's pastimes came to be.

*Following Vyāsa's way in the Bhāgavatam, the author recapitulates the Antya-līlā by briefly listing its chapters —*

এবে অন্ত্যলীলাগণের করি অনুবাদ ।
'অনুবাদ' কৈলে পাই লীলার 'আস্বাদ' ॥ ১০২ ॥

ebe antya-līlā-gaṇera kari anuvāda
now of the Antya-līlā pastimes I make recapitulation
'anuvāda' kaile pāi līlāra 'āsvāda'
'recapitulation' by making I get of the pastimes 'relish'

102 Now I shall recapitulate the pastimes of the Antya-līlā: by recapitulating (anuvāda) I relish the pastimes again.[9]

প্রথম পরিচ্ছেদে — রূপের দ্বিতীয়-মিলন । তার মধ্যে দুইনাটকের বিধান-শ্রবণ ॥ ১০৩ ॥

prathama paricchede — rūpera dvitīya-milana
in the first chapter — Rūpa's second meeting
tāra madhye dui-nāṭakera vidhāna-śravaṇa
of that in the midst of the two plays the plan hearing

103 In the first chapter: Rūpa's second meeting with the Lord, and how the Lord heard of his plan for the two plays.

তার মধ্যে শিবানন্দ-সঙ্গে কুক্কুর আইলা । প্রভু তারে কৃষ্ণ কহাঞা মুক্ত করিলা ॥ ১০৪ ॥

tāra madhye śivānanda-saṅge kukkura āilā of that in the midst with Śivānanda a dog came prabhu tāre kṛṣṇa kahāñā mukta karilā
the Lord it ‘Kṛṣṇa’ making say liberated made

104 In it a dog came with Śivānanda, and the Lord, making it say “Kṛṣṇa”, liberated it.

দ্বিতীয়ে — ছোট-হরিদাসে করাইলা শিক্ষণ । তার মধ্যে শিবানন্দের আশ্চর্য্য দর্শন ॥ ১০৫ ॥

dvitīye — choṭa-haridāse karāilā śikṣaṇa
in the second — to Choṭa Haridāsa caused instruction
tāra madhye śivānandera āścarya darśana
of that in the midst Śivānanda’s wonderful vision

105 In the second: the lesson the Lord gave Choṭa Haridāsa, and Śivānanda’s wonderful vision.

তৃতীয়ে — হরিদাসের মহিমা প্রচণ্ড । দামোদর-পণ্ডিত কৈলা প্রভুরে বাক্যদণ্ড ॥ ১০৬ ॥

tṛtīye — haridāsera mahimā pracaṇḍa
in the third — of Haridāsa the glory mighty dāmodara-paṇḍita kailā prabhure vākya-daṇḍa
Dāmodara Paṇḍita made to the Lord rebuke in words

106 In the third: the mighty glory of Haridāsa, and Dāmodara Paṇḍita’s rebuke to the Lord.

প্রভু ‘নাম’ দিয়া কৈলা ব্রহ্মাণ্ড-মোচন । হরিদাস করিলা নামের মহিমা-স্থাপন ॥ ১০৭ ॥

prabhu ‘nāma’ diyā kailā brahmāṇḍa-mocana
the Lord ‘the Name’ giving made the universe’s deliverance
haridāsa karilā nāmera mahimā-sthāpana
Haridāsa made of the Name the glory’s establishment

107 By giving the holy name, the Lord delivered the universe, and Haridāsa established the glory of the name.

চতুর্থে — শ্রীসনাতনের দ্বিতীয়-মিলন । দেহত্যাগ হৈতে তাঁর করিলা রক্ষণ ॥ ১০৮ ॥

caturthe — śrī-sanātanera dvitīya-milana
in the fourth — of Śrī Sanātana the second meeting
deha-tyāga haite tāṁra karilā rakṣaṇa
giving up the body from his made protection

108 In the fourth: Śrī Sanātana’s second meeting with the Lord, who saved him from giving up his body.

জ্যৈষ্ঠ-মাসের ধূপে প্রভু তাঁরে কৈলা পরীক্ষণ । শক্তি সঞ্চারিয়া পুনঃ পাঠাইলা বৃন্দাবন ॥ ১০৯ ॥

jyaiṣṭha-māsera dhūpe prabhu tāṁre kailā parīkṣaṇa of the month of Jyaiṣṭha in the blazing sun the Lord him made test
śakti sañcāriyā punaḥ pāṭhāilā vṛndāvana power infusing again sent to Vṛndāvana

109 In the blazing sun of the month of Jyaiṣṭha the Lord tested him; then, investing him with power, He sent him back to Vṛndāvana.

পঞ্চমে — প্রদ্যুম্নমিশ্রে প্রভু কৃপা কৈলা । রায়-দ্বারা কৃষ্ণকথা তাঁরে শুনাইলা ॥ ১১০ ॥

pañcame — pradyumna-miśre prabhu kṛpā kailā
in the fifth — to Pradyumna Miśra the Lord mercy showed rāya-dvārā kṛṣṇa-kathā tāṁre śunāilā
through Rāya talks of Kṛṣṇa to him made hear

110 In the fifth: the Lord's mercy to Pradyumna Miśra, whom He sent to hear talks of Kṛṣṇa from Rāmānanda Rāya.

তার মধ্যে 'বাঙ্গাল' কবির নাটক-উপেক্ষণ ।
স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি কৈলা বিগ্রহের মহিমা স্থাপন ॥ ১১১ ॥

tāra madhye 'bāṅgāla' kavira nāṭaka-upekṣaṇa
of that in the midst 'Bengali' poet's the play rejection svarūpa-gosāñi kailā vigrahera mahimā sthāpana
Svarūpa Gosāñi made of the Deity glory establishment

111 In it: the rejection of a "Bengali" poet's play, and how Svarūpa Gosāñi established the glory of the Deity (vigraha).

ষষ্ঠে — রঘুনাথ-দাস প্রভুরে মিলিলা । নিত্যানন্দ-আজ্ঞায় চিড়া-মহোৎসব কৈলা ॥ ১১২ ॥

ṣaṣṭhe — raghunātha-dāsa prabhure mililā
in the sixth — Raghunātha dāsa the Lord met nityānanda-ājñāya ciḍā-mahotsava kailā
by Nityānanda's order the ciḍā festival held

112 In the sixth: Raghunātha dāsa met the Lord, and by Nityānanda's order he held the festival of flat rice (ciḍā).

দামোদর-স্বরূপ-ঠাঞি তাঁরে সমর্পিল ।
'গোবর্দ্ধন-শিলা', 'গুঞ্জামালা' তাঁরে দিল ॥ ১১৩ ॥

dāmodara-svarūpa-ṭhāñi tāṁre samarpila in Dāmodara Svarūpa's care him entrusted
'govardhana-śilā', 'guñjā-mālā' tāṁre dila
'the Govardhana stone' 'the guñjā garland' to him gave 113 The Lord entrusted him to Svarūpa Dāmodara and gave him the śilā from Govardhana and the guñjā garland.

সপ্তম-পরিচ্ছেদে — বল্লভ-ভট্টের মিলন । নানা মতে কৈলা তাঁর গর্ব্ব খণ্ডন ॥ ১১৪ ॥

saptama-paricchede — vallabha-bhaṭṭera milana
in the seventh chapter — of Vallabha Bhaṭṭa the meeting
nānā mate kailā tāṁra garva khaṇḍana various in ways made his pride breaking

114 In the seventh chapter: the meeting with Vallabha Bhaṭṭa, whose pride the Lord broke in various ways.

অষ্টমে — রামচন্দ্র-পুরীর আগমন । তাঁর ভয়ে কৈলা প্রভু ভিক্ষা সঙ্কোচন ॥ ১১৫ ॥

aṣṭame — rāmacandra-purīra āgamana
in the eighth — of Rāmacandra Purī the arrival tāṁra bhaye kailā prabhu bhikṣā saṅkocana
of him out of fear made the Lord meals reduction

115 In the eighth: the arrival of Rāmacandra Purī, for fear of whom the Lord reduced His meals.

নবমে — গোপীনাথ-পট্টনায়ক-মোচন । ত্রিজগতের লোক প্রভুর পাইল দরশন ॥ ১১৬ ॥

navame — gopīnātha-paṭṭanāyaka-mocana
in the ninth — Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka's release trijagatera loka prabhura pāila daraśana
of the three worlds the people of the Lord received sight

116 In the ninth: the release of Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka; and the people of the three worlds received the Lord's darśana.

দশমে — কহিলুঁ ভক্তদত্ত-আস্বাদন । রাঘব-পণ্ডিতের তাঁহা ঝালির সাজন ॥ ১১৭ ॥

daśame — kahiluṁ bhakta-datta-āsvādana in the tenth — I told the relishing of what the devotees gave rāghava-paṇḍitera tāṁhā jhālira sājana
of Rāghava Paṇḍita there of the bags the packing

117 In the tenth I told how the Lord relished what the devotees gave Him, and how Rāghava Paṇḍita packed his bags (jhāli).

তার মধ্যে গোবিন্দের কৈলা পরীক্ষণ । তার মধ্যে পরিমুণ্ডা-নৃত্যের বর্ণন ॥ ১১৮ ॥

tāra madhye govindera kailā parīkṣaṇa
of that in the midst of Govinda made testing
tāra madhye parimuṇḍā-nṛtyera varṇana
of that in the midst of the dance in a circle the description

118 There the Lord tested Govinda, and there too is the description of the dance in a circle (parimuṇḍā-nṛtya).

একাদশে — হরিদাস-ঠাকুরের নির্য্যাণ । ভক্ত-বাৎসল্য যাঁহা দেখাইলা গৌরভগবান্ ॥ ১১৯ ॥

ekādaśe — haridāsa-ṭhākurera niryāṇa
in the eleventh — of Haridāsa Ṭhākura the departure bhakta-vātsalya yāṁhā dekhāilā gaura-bhagavān affection for devotees where showed Gaura Bhagavān

119 In the eleventh: the departure of Haridāsa Ṭhākura, in which Gaura Bhagavān showed His affection for His devotees.

দ্বাদশে — জগদানন্দের তৈল-ভঞ্জন । নিত্যানন্দ কৈলা শিবানন্দেরে তাড়ন ॥ ১২০ ॥

dvādaśe — jagadānandera taila-bhañjana
in the twelfth — Jagadānanda's breaking of the oil pot
nityānanda kailā śivānandere tāḍana
Nityānanda made to Śivānanda punishment

120 In the twelfth: Jagadānanda's breaking of the pitcher of oil, and Nityānanda's punishment of Śivānanda.

ত্রয়োদশে — জগদানন্দ মথুরা যাই' আইলা । মহাপ্রভু-দেবদাসীর গীত শুনিলা ॥ ১২১ ॥

trayodaśe — jagadānanda mathurā yāi' āilā
in the thirteenth — Jagadānanda to Mathurā having gone came back mahāprabhu-deva-dāsīra gīta śunilā
Mahāprabhu of the devadāsī song heard

121 In the thirteenth: Jagadānanda went to Mathurā and came back, and Mahāprabhu heard the song of a devadāsī.

রঘুনাথ-ভট্টাচার্য্যের তাঁহাই মিলন । প্রভু তাঁরে কৃপা করি' পাঠাইলা বৃন্দাবন ॥ ১২২ ॥

raghunātha-bhaṭṭācāryera tāṁhāi milana
of Raghunātha Bhaṭṭācārya there too the meeting
prabhu tāṁre kṛpā kari' pāṭhāilā vṛndāvana
the Lord him mercy showing sent to Vṛndāvana

122 There too is the meeting with Raghunātha Bhaṭṭācārya, whom the Lord in His mercy sent to Vṛndāvana.

চতুর্দ্দশে — দিব্যোন্মাদ-আরম্ভ বর্ণন ।
'শরীর' এথা প্রভুর, 'মন' গেলা বৃন্দাবন ॥ ১২৩ ॥

caturdaśe — divyonmāda-ārambha varṇana
in the fourteenth — of the divine madness the beginning the description
'śarīra' ethā prabhura, 'mana' gelā vṛndāvana
'body' here the Lord's 'mind' went to Vṛndāvana

123 In the fourteenth: the beginning of the divine madness, when the Lord's "body" was here and His "mind" had gone to Vṛndāvana.

তার মধ্যে প্রভুর সিংহদ্বারে পতন । অস্থি-সন্ধি-ত্যাগ, অনুভাবের উদ্গম ॥ ১২৪ ॥

tāra madhye prabhura siṁha-dvāre patana
of that in the midst the Lord's at the Siṁha-dvāra fall asthi-sandhi-tyāga, anubhāvera udgama
of the bones the joints the loosening of the ecstatic symptoms the rise

124 In it: the Lord's fall at the Siṁha-dvāra, the loosening of His joints, and the rise of ecstatic symptoms (anubhāva).

চটক-পর্ব্বত দেখি' প্রভুর ধাবন । তার মধ্যে প্রভুর কিছু প্রলাপ বর্ণন ॥ ১২৫ ॥

caṭaka-parvata dekhi' prabhura dhāvana Caṭaka-parvata seeing the Lord's running tāra madhye prabhura kichu pralāpa varṇana
of that in the midst the Lord's some ecstatic raving the description

125 Seeing Caṭaka-parvata, the Lord ran towards it; and the chapter describes some of His ecstatic ravings (pralāpa).

পঞ্চদশ-পরিচ্ছেদে — উদ্যান-বিলাসে । বৃন্দাবনভ্রমে যাঁহা করিলা প্রবেশে ॥ ১২৬ ॥

pañcadaśa-paricchede — udyāna-vilāse
in the fifteenth chapter — in the garden pastimes vṛndāvana-bhrame yāṁhā karilā praveśe
mistaking it for Vṛndāvana where made entry

126 In the fifteenth chapter: the pastimes in the garden, which the Lord entered, taking it for Vṛndāvana.

তার মধ্যে প্রভুর পঞ্চেন্দ্রিয়-আকর্ষণ । তার মধ্যে করিলা রাসে কৃষ্ণ-অন্বেষণ ॥ ১২৭ ॥

tāra madhye prabhura pañcendriya-ākarṣaṇa of that in the midst the Lord's of the five senses attraction
tāra madhye karilā rāse kṛṣṇa-anveṣaṇa
of that in the midst made in the rāsa search for Kṛṣṇa

127 In it: the attraction of the Lord's five senses, and His search for Kṛṣṇa in the rāsa dance.

ষোড়শে — কালিদাসে প্রভু কৃপা করিলা । বৈষ্ণবোচ্ছিষ্ট খাইবার ফল দেখাইলা ॥ ১২৮ ॥

ṣoḍaśe — kālidāse prabhu kṛpā karilā
in the sixteenth — to Kālidāsa the Lord mercy showed vaiṣṇavocchiṣṭa khāibāra phala dekhāilā
the Vaiṣṇavas' remnants of eating the fruit showed 128 In the sixteenth the Lord showed mercy to Kālidāsa and revealed the fruit of eating the remnants of Vaiṣṇavas.

শিবানন্দের বালকে শ্লোক করাইলা ।
সিংহদ্বারের দ্বারী প্রভুরে কৃষ্ণ দেখাইলা ॥ ১২৯ ॥

śivānandera bālake śloka karāilā Śivānanda's the boy a verse caused to compose siṁha-dvārera dvārī prabhure kṛṣṇa dekhāilā of the Siṁha-dvāra the doorkeeper to the Lord Kṛṣṇa showed 129 The Lord had Śivānanda's young son compose a verse, and the doorkeeper of the Siṁha-dvāra showed Kṛṣṇa to the Lord.

মহাপ্রসাদের তাঁহা মহিমা বর্ণিলা । কৃষ্ণাধরামৃতের ফল-শ্লোক আস্বাদিলা ॥ ১৩০ ॥

mahā-prasādera tāṁhā mahimā varṇilā of mahā-prasāda there the glory described kṛṣṇādharāmṛtera phala-śloka āsvādilā
of the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips the fruit-verse relished

130 There He described the glory of mahā-prasāda and relished the verse on the fruit of the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips.

সপ্তদশে — গাভী-মধ্যে প্রভুর পতন । কূর্ম্মাকার-অনুভাবের তাঁহাই উদ্গম ॥ ১৩১ ॥

saptadaśe — gābhī-madhye prabhura patana
in the seventeenth — among the cows the Lord's fall kūrmākāra-anubhāvera tāṁhāi udgama
of the tortoise-form ecstatic symptom there the rise

131 In the seventeenth: the Lord's fall among the cows, and the ecstatic symptom (anubhāva) in which His body took the form of a tortoise.

কৃষ্ণের শব্দ-গুণে প্রভুর মন আকর্ষিলা ।
'কাস্ত্র্যঙ্গ তে' শ্লোকের অর্থ আবেশে করিলা ॥ ১৩২ ॥

kṛṣṇera śabda-guṇe prabhura mana ākarṣilā Kṛṣṇa's by the qualities of sound the Lord's mind was drawn
'kā stry aṅga te' ślokera artha āveśe karilā
'what woman O dear Your' of the verse the meaning in ecstasy made

132 The qualities of Kṛṣṇa's sound drew the Lord's mind, and in ecstasy He explained the meaning of the verse kā stry aṅga te.

ভাব-শাবল্যে পুনঃ কৈলা প্রলাপন । কর্ণামৃত-শ্লোকের অর্থ কৈলা বিবরণ ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

bhāva-śābalye punaḥ kailā pralāpana
in the mingling of emotions again made raving karṇāmṛta-ślokera artha kailā vivaraṇa
of the Karṇāmṛta verse the meaning made explanation

133 In a mingling of emotions (bhāva-śābalya) He again spoke in ecstatic raving, and He explained the meaning of a verse of the Karṇāmṛta.

অষ্টাদশ পরিচ্ছেদে — সমুদ্রে পতন । কৃষ্ণ-গোপী-জলকেলি তাঁহা দরশন ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

aṣṭādaśa paricchede — samudre patana
eighteenth in the chapter — into the ocean the fall kṛṣṇa-gopī-jala-keli tāṁhā daraśana
of Kṛṣṇa and the gopīs the water-play there the vision

134 In the eighteenth chapter: the Lord's fall into the ocean, and there His vision of the water-play of Kṛṣṇa and the gopīs.

তাঁহাই দেখিলা কৃষ্ণের বন্য-ভোজন । জালিয়া উঠাইল, প্রভু আইলা স্ব-ভবন ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

tāṁhāi dekhilā kṛṣṇera vanya-bhojana
there too He saw Kṛṣṇa's forest meal jāliyā uṭhāila, prabhu āilā sva-bhavana
a fisherman lifted out the Lord came to His own residence

135 There too He saw Kṛṣṇa's meal in the forest. A fisherman pulled Him out, and the Lord came back to His residence.

ঊনবিংশে — ভিত্ত্যে প্রভুর মুখসংঘর্ষণ । কৃষ্ণের বিরহ-স্ফূর্ত্তি-প্রলাপ বর্ণন ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

ūnaviṁśe — bhittye prabhura mukha-saṅgharṣaṇa
in the nineteenth — against the wall the Lord's face rubbing
kṛṣṇera viraha-sphūrti-pralāpa varṇana
Kṛṣṇa's separation-awakened raving the description

136 In the nineteenth: the Lord's rubbing His face against the wall, and His ravings as separation from Kṛṣṇa welled up within Him.

বসন্ত-রজনীতে পুষ্পোদ্যানে বিহরণ । কৃষ্ণের সৌরভ্য-শ্লোকের অর্থ-বিবরণ ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

vasanta-rajanīte puṣpodyāne viharaṇa
on a spring night in the flower garden wandering kṛṣṇera saurabhya-ślokera artha-vivaraṇa
Kṛṣṇa's of the fragrance verse the meaning-explanation

137 There too: His wandering in a flower garden on a spring night, and His explanation of the verse on Kṛṣṇa's fragrance.

বিংশতি-পরিচ্ছেদে — নিজ-'শিক্ষাষ্টক' পড়িয়া । তার অর্থ আস্বাদিলা প্রেমাবিষ্ট হঞা ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

viṁśati-paricchede — nija-'śikṣāṣṭaka' paḍiyā
in the twentieth chapter — His own 'Śikṣāṣṭaka' reciting tāra artha āsvādilā premāviṣṭa hañā its meaning relished absorbed in love becoming

138 In the twentieth chapter: reciting His own Śikṣāṣṭaka, the Lord, absorbed in love, relished its meaning.

ভক্তে শিখাইতে যেই শিক্ষাষ্টক কহিলা । সেই শ্লোকাষ্টকের অর্থ পুনঃ আস্বাদিলা ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

bhakte śikhāite yei śikṣāṣṭaka kahilā
the devotees to teach which Śikṣāṣṭaka He spoke sei ślokāṣṭakera artha punaḥ āsvādilā
of those eight verses the meaning again relished

139 He had spoken the Śikṣāṣṭaka to teach the devotees, and now He relished the meaning of those eight verses once more.

*Only recapitulation (anuvāda) — reviewing or repeating — awakens remembrance of the pastimes —*

মুখ্য-মুখ্য-লীলার অর্থ করিলুঁ কথন ।
'অনুবাদ' হৈতে স্মরে গ্রন্থ-বিবরণ ॥ ১৪০ ॥

mukhya-mukhya-līlāra artha karilum̐ kathana of the principal pastimes the substance I have made telling
'anuvāda' haite smare grantha-vivaraṇa
'recapitulation' from is remembered of the book the contents

140 I have told the substance of the principal pastimes; by recapitulation (anuvāda) the contents of the book are remembered.

Fearing excessive length, the author has described only the principal events —

এক এক পরিচ্ছেদের কথা — অনেকপ্রকার ।
মুখ্য মুখ্য কহিলুঁ, কথা না যায় বিস্তার ॥ ১৪১ ॥

eka eka paricchedera kathā — aneka-prakāra
each each of the chapter the topics — of many kinds mukhya mukhya kahiluṁ, kathā nā yāya vistāra principal principal I have told the story not can be expanded

141 Each chapter has topics of many kinds. I have told only the principal ones, for the story cannot be told at length.

*The author's own worshipable Deities — the Lords of the Gauḍīyas, the presiding Deities of sambandha, abhidheya and prayojana — Śrī Rādhā-Madana-mohana, Govinda and Gopīnātha —*

শ্রীরাধা-সহ 'শ্রীমদনমোহন' ।
শ্রীরাধা-সহ 'শ্রীগোবিন্দ'-চরণ ॥ ১৪২ ॥

শ্রীরাধা-সহ শ্রীল 'শ্রীগোপীনাথ' । এই তিন ঠাকুর হয় 'গৌড়িয়ার নাথ' ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

śrī rādhā-saha 'śrī madana-mohana' Śrī with Rādhā 'Śrī Madana-mohana'
śrī rādhā-saha 'śrī govinda'-caraṇa Śrī with Rādhā 'Śrī Govinda's' feet
śrī rādhā-saha śrīla 'śrī gopīnātha' Śrī with Rādhā the beautiful 'Śrī Gopīnātha'
ei tina ṭhākura haya 'gauḍiyāra nātha'
these three Deities are 'the Lords of the Gauḍīyas'

142–143 Śrī Madana-mohana with Śrī Rādhā, the feet of Śrī Govinda with Śrī Rādhā, and beautiful Śrī Gopīnātha with Śrī Rādhā — these three Deities are the Lords of the Gauḍīyas.

Only by bowing to them is the desired goal attained —

শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য, শ্রীযুক্ত নিত্যানন্দ ।
শ্রীঅদ্বৈত-আচার্য্য, শ্রীগৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

শ্রীস্বরূপ, শ্রীরূপ, শ্রীসনাতন ।
শ্রীগুরু শ্রীরঘুনাথ, শ্রীজীব-চরণ ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

নিজ-শিরে ধরি' এই সবার চরণ । যাহা হৈতে হয় সব বাঞ্ছিত-পূরণ ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

śrī kṛṣṇa-caitanya, śrī-yukta nityānanda
Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya the glorious Nityānanda
śrī advaita-ācārya, śrī gaura-bhakta-vṛnda Śrī Advaita Ācārya Śrī Gaura's devotees
śrī svarūpa, śrī rūpa, śrī sanātana
Śrī Svarūpa Śrī Rūpa Śrī Sanātana
śrī guru śrī raghunātha, śrī jīva-caraṇa
Śrī guru Śrī Raghunātha Śrī Jīva's feet
nija-śire dhari' ei sabāra caraṇa
on my own head holding of these all the feet
yāhā haite haya saba vāñchita-pūraṇa
which from comes of all desires the fulfilment

144–146 Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the glorious Nityānanda, Śrī Advaita Ācārya and the devotees of Śrī Gaura; Śrī Svarūpa, Śrī Rūpa, Śrī Sanātana; Śrī Raghunātha, my guru, and the feet of Śrī Jīva — I hold the feet of all these on my head, for from them comes the fulfilment of every desire.

Only by following Nityānanda's mercy, which is full of Caitanya (consciousness), can the tongue — that is, speech — glorify Caitanya's pastimes —

সবার চরণ-কৃপা — 'গুরু উপাধ্যায়ী' । তার বাণী — শিষ্যা, তারে বহুত নাচাই ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

sabāra caraṇa-kṛpā — 'guru upādhyāyī'
of all the mercy of the feet — 'the guru the teacher'
tāra vāṇī — śiṣyā, tāre bahuta nācāi
his speech — the pupil her much makes dance

147 The mercy of the feet of all of them is the teacher (upādhyāyī), and the author's speech is her pupil, whom she makes dance in many ways.[10]

Anubhāṣya.
upādhyāyī — "the one to whom people come and from whom they learn"; "He who for his livelihood teaches a part of the Veda, or else the Vedāṅgas, is called an upādhyāya." (Manu-saṁhitā)[22] That is, a teacher of the arts (kalā-vidyā). A variant reading: "mora vāṇī — śiṣyā" (my speech is the pupil).

শিষ্যার শ্রম দেখি' গুরু নাচান রাখিলা ।
'কৃপা' না নাচায়, 'বাণী' বসিয়া রহিলা ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

śiṣyāra śrama dekhi' guru nācāna rākhilā
of the pupil the weariness seeing the teacher dancing stopped
'kṛpā' nā nācāya, 'vāṇī' vasiyā rahilā
'mercy' not makes dance 'speech' sitting remained

148 Seeing the pupil's weariness, the teacher stopped the dance. When "mercy" does not make her dance, "speech" sits still.

অনিপুণা বাণী আপনে নাচিতে না জানে । যত নাচাইলা, নাচি' করিলা বিশ্রামে ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

anipuṇā vāṇī āpane nācite nā jāne
unskilled speech by herself to dance not knows yata nācāilā, nāci' karilā viśrāme
as much as made dance having danced made rest

149 Unskilled speech does not know how to dance by herself: she danced as much as she was made to dance, and then she rested.

Obeisance to the listeners, and a prayer for their mercy —

সব শ্রোতাগণের করি চরণ বন্দন । যাঁ-সবার চরণ-কৃপা — শুভের কারণ ॥ ১৫০ ॥

saba śrotā-gaṇera kari caraṇa vandana
of all the listeners I make to the feet obeisance
yāṁ-sabāra caraṇa-kṛpā — śubhera kāraṇa of whom all the mercy of the feet — of good the cause

150 I bow down at the feet of all my listeners, the mercy of whose feet is the cause of all good.

চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত যেই জন শুনে । তাঁর চরণ ধুঞা করোঁ মুঞি পানে ॥ ১৫১ ॥

caitanya-caritāmṛta yei jana śune Caitanya-caritāmṛta who person hears tāṁra caraṇa dhuñā karoṁ muñi pāne
his feet washing I make I drinking

151 Whoever hears the Caitanya-caritāmṛta — I wash his feet and drink that water.

শ্রোতার পদরেণু করোঁ মস্তক-ভূষণ । তোমরা এ-অমৃত পিলে সফল হৈল শ্রম ॥ ১৫২ ॥

śrotāra pada-reṇu karoṁ mastaka-bhūṣaṇa
of the listener the foot-dust I make the head's ornament
tomarā e-amṛta pile saphala haila śrama
you this nectar having drunk fruitful became the labour

152 I make the dust of my listeners' feet the ornament of my head. You have drunk this nectar, and my labour has borne fruit.

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ ।
চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa
Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope
caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

153 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.[11]

The author's words of humility —

চরিতমমৃতমেতচ্ছীলচৈতন্যবিষ্ণোঃ শুভদমশুভনাশি শ্রদ্ধয়াস্বাদয়েদ্যঃ ।
তদমলপদপদ্মে ভৃঙ্গতামেত্য সোঽয়ং রসয়তি রসমুচ্চৈঃ প্রেমমাধ্বীকপূরম্ ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

caritam amṛtam etac chrīla-caitanya-viṣṇoḥ
the life-story nectarean this of Śrīla Caitanya Viṣṇu
śubha-dam aśubha-nāśi śraddhayāsvādayed yaḥ bestowing good destroying evil with faith would relish who tad-amala-pada-padme bhṛṅgatām etya so 'yaṁ
at his (the relisher's) spotless lotus feet bee-hood attaining he this one (the author)
rasayati rasam uccaiḥ prema-mādhvīka-pūram
relishes rasa intensely full of the honey-wine of prema

154 This nectarean account of the life of Śrīla Caitanya, who is Viṣṇu Himself, bestows all good and destroys all evil. At the spotless lotus feet of whoever relishes it with faith I become a bee, and drink to the full the rasa that overflows with the intoxicating honey of prema.[12]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Whoever relishes with faith this nectar-like account of the life of Bhagavān Śrī Caitanyadeva, which bestows good fortune and destroys all that is inauspicious — at his pure lotus feet this author becomes a bee and relishes in the highest degree this rasa, full of the intoxicating honey of prema.

Anubhāṣya.
yaḥ śraddhayā śrīla-caitanya-viṣṇoḥ etat aśubha-nāśi śubha-dam caritam āsvādayet, saḥ ayam tad-amala-pada-padme bhṛṅgatām etya (attaining) prema-mādhvīka-pūram (full of the intoxicating drink of prema) rasam uccaiḥ (in the highest degree) rasayati (relishes).

For Kṛṣṇa's pleasure the author offers the nectar of this book to Śrī Caitanya —

শ্রীমন্মদনগোপাল-গোবিন্দদেব-তুষ্টয়ে । চৈতন্যার্পিতমস্ত্বেতচ্চৈতন্যচরিতামৃতম্ ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

śrīman-madana-gopāla-of Śrīman Madana-Gopāla
govinda-deva-tuṣṭaye
and Govinda-deva for the satisfaction
caitanyārpitam astv etac offered to Caitanya may be this
caitanya-caritāmṛtam
Caitanya-caritāmṛta

155 For the satisfaction of Śrīman Madana-Gopāla and Govinda-deva, may this Caitanya-caritāmṛta be offered to Śrī Caitanya.[13]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
May this book, the Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta, be offered to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva for the pleasure of Śrīman Madana-Gopāla and Śrī Govinda-deva.

Anubhāṣya.
śrīman-madana-gopāla-govinda-deva-tuṣṭaye etat caitanya-caritāmṛtam grantham caitanyārpitam (offered to Śrī Caitanya) astu.

*Kṛṣṇa's lotus feet alone are the transcendental, unlimited reservoir of rasa —*

পরিমলবাসিতভুবনং
স্বরসোন্মাদিত-রসজ্ঞ-রোলম্বম্ ।
গিরিধরচরণাম্ভোজং কঃ খলু রসিকঃ সমীহতে হাতুম্ ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

parimala-vāsita-bhuvanaṁ
by whose fragrance perfumed the world
sva-rasonmādita-rasajña-rolambam
by its own rasa intoxicated the rasa-knowing bees
giridhara-caraṇāmbhojaṁ kaḥ Giridhara's lotus feet who khalu rasikaḥ samīhate hātum indeed rasika seeks to abandon

156 The lotus feet of Giridhara fill the world with their fragrance, and with their own rasa they intoxicate the bees who know rasa. What rasika could ever bear to leave them?[14]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kṛṣṇa's lotus feet fill the world with fragrance, and with their own rasa they madden the bees who know rasa. What rasika would try to give them up?

Anubhāṣya.
kaḥ rasikaḥ parimala-vāsita-bhuvanam (by whose fragrance the world is perfumed) sva-rasonmādita-rasajña-rolambam (where the bees are the rasika devotees, maddened by the rasa of śṛṅgāra) giridhara-caraṇāmbhojam hātum (to give up) samīhate (tries)?

Surrender to Śrī Rādhā-Govinda, his own cherished Deity —

মৎপ্রাণসর্ব্বস্বপদাব্জরেণো- র্মদীশ্বরী-শ্রীযুতরাধিকায়াঃ । প্রাণোরুসর্ব্বস্বপদাব্জরেণুং শ্রীশ্রীল-গোবিন্দমহং প্রপদ্যে ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

mat-prāṇa-sarvasva-padābja-reṇor-
of my life the all-in-all of the lotus feet of the dust
mad-īśvarī-śrī-yuta-rādhikāyāḥ
of my Mistress Śrī Rādhikā
prāṇoru-sarvasva-padābja-reṇuṁ
more than life the all-in-all lotus feet whose dust
śrī-śrīla-govindam ahaṁ prapadye Śrī Śrīla Govinda I surrender to 157 The dust of the lotus feet of my Mistress, Śrī Rādhikā, is the whole wealth of my life, and by its power I surrender to Śrī Śrīla Govinda, the dust of whose lotus feet is dearer to Her than life and is Her all in all.[15]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
By the power of the dust of the lotus feet of her who is all the treasure of my life, and meditating on the dust of the lotus feet that is dearer than life and all in all to my Mistress Śrīmatī Rādhikā, I surrender to Śrī Śrī Govinda-deva.

The time the book was completed —

শাকে সিন্ধ্বগ্নিবাণেন্দৌ জ্যৈষ্ঠে বৃন্দাবনান্তরে ।
সূর্য্যাহেঽসিতপঞ্চম্যাং গ্রন্থোঽয়ং পূর্ণতাং গতঃ ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

śāke sindhv-agni-vāṇendau
in the Śaka year ocean-fire-arrow-moon (1537)
jyaiṣṭhe vṛndāvanāntare
in Jyaiṣṭha in Vṛndāvana
sūryāhe 'sita-pañcamyāṁ
on Sunday on the fifth day of the dark fortnight grantho 'yaṁ pūrṇatāṁ gataḥ book this completion reached

158 In the Śaka year 1537, in the month of Jyaiṣṭha, in Vṛndāvana, on a Sunday, the fifth day of the dark fortnight, this book was completed.[1617]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

In the Śaka year 1537, in the month of Jyaiṣṭha, on a Sunday, on kṛṣṇa-pañcamī (the fifth day of the dark fortnight), in Vṛndāvana, this book was completed.

Thus ends the twentieth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Hari who sports in the forests, Vipina-vihārī, sent down His potency: [there appeared] the excellent master Vipina-vihārī. In the form of Śrī Guru Gosvāmī he saw me in the well of worldly existence and delivered his servant.

Wishing to carry out his order, I carefully composed, under the name "Amṛta-pravāha," an explanation of the "Caitanya-caritāmṛta" and offered it to the devotees: read it and be rid of anarthas!

May all my sons who labored to prepare this book live free of obstacles, and in the festival of the company of sādhus serve with devotion the feet of Śrī Hari.

Holding the feet of the Vaiṣṇavas, I humbly pray: may the rest of this servant's life pass in Śrī Godruma, in the company of sādhus, in the joy of spiritual bliss, absorbed in the name of Kṛṣṇa.

This world has no substance; fools sink in it, but the great soul is indifferent to it: in the company of sādhus he worships Kṛṣṇa, serves Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa in Vraja, and ever takes shelter of the name of Kṛṣṇa.

In the four hundred tenth year of the Gaura era, in the month of Meṣa, on the Ekādaśī of the bright fortnight,[20] in the grove of Śrī Surabhi-kuñja, the commentary was completed, and so my service was fulfilled. Now I beg forgiveness for my faults.

The "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya" on the book "Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta" is complete.

Anubhāṣya.

ayam śrī-caitanya-caritāmṛtākhyaḥ granthaḥ vṛndāvanāntare jyaiṣṭhe asita-pañcamyām (on the fifth day of the dark fortnight, kṛṣṇa-pañcamī) sūryāhe (on Sunday) sindhv-agni-bāṇendau (by the rule "numerals run from right to left," in the 1537th year elapsed since King Śaka) pūrṇatāṁ gataḥ. Verses 156–158 are not found in many manuscripts.

Thus ends the twentieth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

In the four hundred twenty-ninth year of the Caitanya era, on the thirty-first day of Jyaiṣṭha, in the month of Trivikrama,[20] living at Śrī Vraja-pattana and calling out, "Gaurahari!" — I, Dayita-dāsiyā,[24] the lowest of men, (1)

in Navadvīpa, at Māyāpura, not far from the Lord's house, have completed the "Anubhāṣya" — the servant of Śrī Gaurakiśora dāsa, who now lives at Kuliyā, this unworthy one. (2)

Today, on this happy day, to whom but Bhaktivinoda shall I tell the happy news? Hearing the "Anubhāṣya," he was supremely delighted and bestowed great mercy on me. (3)

His merciful words, his way of serving Mādhava, have no equal in the three worlds. No one else, having taken this human body, gave away the treasure of love for Kṛṣṇa as he did. (4)

Having received that master's power, I now sing the "Anubhāṣya"; nothing in it is mine. As long as life lasts, I shall remember him in this world; eternally I long for those feet. (5)

Gadādhara's dearest friend and Śrī Svarūpa Dāmodara[25] always worship Gaura-Kṛṣṇa. Seeing the suffering of the world, they took the dress of beggars and day and night serve the name of Kṛṣṇa. (6)

These two [appeared] by the will of Śrī Gaura — how can I, insignificant, tell their glory? — this is an account of transcendental associates. Having appeared in this world, they serve the Lord in whom Kṛṣṇa and Gaura are one — such a secret is not spoken of just anywhere. (7)

O intimate devotees of Śrī Gaurāṅga, followers of Bhaktivinoda, who abide in transcendental feeling! Read the “Anubhāṣya” with care in the company of devotees, and attain love for the Divine Couple. (8)

The “Anubhāṣya” on the book “Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta” is complete.

Notes

1. The same verse as Madhya 4.2 (and Antya 3.2, 10.2); translation as there. ↩
2. The same verse as Ādi 3.51 (and Madhya 20.340); translation as there. ↩
3. The same verse as Ādi 17.31 (and Antya 6.239; the edition reads taror iva, as there); translation as there. ↩
4. Sundarīṁ kavitām, “beautiful poetry”: so the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya and the Anubhāṣya take the words; other translations take sundarī as “a beautiful woman.” ↩
5. Rasāntarāveśa — absorption in another rasa: from the prayers of a servant (31–37) the Lord passes to the feelings of Śrī Rādhā in separation (39–60). ↩
6. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads vrajeśvara-śuddha-prema, “pure love for the Lord of Vraja,” which is translated here; it notes the reading of another manuscript, vrajera viśuddha prema, “the pure love of Vraja”; the Anubhāṣya also cites the reading se prema, “that love.” In the edition — jāmbunada (short u). ↩
7. Caitanya-maṅgala is the original title of the Caitanya-bhāgavata (cf. Ādi 8.33–35). ↩
8. So in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition: karilā varṇane, “described”; other manuscripts read karibena varṇane, “will describe”. Āge here means “afterwards”, not “before”: verse 86 too speaks of Vyāsa describing these pastimes in the future. On the Caitanya-maṅgala see the note to 85. ↩
9. In the Bengali, anuvāda (“recapitulation”) rhymes with āsvāda (“relish”). ↩
10. So in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition: tāra vāṇī, “his speech” — the author speaks of himself in the third person, as in the closing lines of the chapters; tāra is written without the candrabindu, as one speaks of oneself (of those he honours the author writes tāṅra, 83, 89), and “their” would be sabāra. Other manuscripts read mora vāṇī, “my speech” (cited in the Anubhāṣya as a variant). ↩
11. The same verse as Ādi 1.110 (and Antya 19.112), the refrain that closes the chapters; translation as there. ↩
12. Tad- (“his”) answers yaḥ (“whoever”), and so ’yam (“this very one”) is the author himself; so the verse is read by the heading in the edition — “the author’s words of humility” (cf. 151–152, where the author drinks the water that has washed the listener’s feet). The stage-A translation followed another reading: “whoever relishes it with faith becomes a bee at His spotless lotus feet”. ↩
13. The same verse as Madhya 25.275; translation as there. ↩
14. So in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the Anubhāṣya: rasajña-rolambam, “bees who know rasa” — according to the Anubhāṣya, the rasika devotees intoxicated by the sweet rasa, śṛṅgāra. Other manuscripts read rasikālambam, “the shelter of the rasikas”. According to the Anubhāṣya (on verse 158), verses 156–158 are not found in many manuscripts. ↩
15. Translated according to the original and the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya. ↩
16. Sindhu (ocean) = 7, agni (fire) = 3, bāṇa (arrow) = 5, indu (moon) = 1. ↩
17. In the edition this verse is unnumbered; the number 158 is from the Anubhāṣya. Here the edition gives the colophon: “Thus ends the twentieth chapter of the Antya-khaṇḍa of the Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta, called Relishing the Meaning of the Verses of Instruction”, and the words: “Thus the Antya-līlā is completed.” ↩
18. The verse translation reads differently: “Let Him embrace Me … and make Me His own” (the Anubhāṣya understands it the same way). ↩
19. Ṭunṭunī is the Bengali name of the tiny tailorbird. ↩
20. The 410th year of the Gaura era (Gaurābda) is 1896 CE; Meṣa is a solar month (April–May). ↩
21. In the edition this comment is numbered ১৪৫ (145), but it stands between the comments on verses 87 and 147, quotes the words of verse 97 (“Śrī Raghunātha dāsa is śrī-guru”), and itself refers to “verse 145 below”; checked against the scan — a misprint for ৯৭ (97). ↩
22. Manu-saṁhitā 2.141. ↩
23. The 410th year of the Gaura era (Gaurābda) is 1896 CE; Meṣa is a solar month (April–May). ↩
24. Dayita-dāsiyā is a homely diminutive of the name Dayita dāsa (“servant of the Beloved”), Bhaktisiddhānta's own signature (compare the opening of the Anubhāṣya on Ādi 1: “the servant of the Beloved of Śrī Vārṣabhānavī”). ↩
25. Gadādhara-mitra-vara — literally “Gadādhara’s best friend”; the reading “Gadādhara, the best of friends” is also possible. The comma between the names and “these two” in the next stanza point to two persons. ↩