Chapter 8

The Reduction of the Meals

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. This chapter tells the story of Rāmacandra Purī. He was a disciple of Mādhavendra Purī, but through association with the community of dry speculators (śuṣka-jñānīs) he took up their corrupt conclusions and began to teach what is contrary to dharma. For this Purī Gosāñi rejected him, calling him an “offender.” From then on Rāmacandra Purī blamed others, hunted for their faults and taught dry knowledge, and for all this the Vaiṣṇavas came to shun him. Later he blamed even the way Mahāprabhu ate. Mahāprabhu saw in him a relation to His own guru, so He said nothing to him; He only silently reduced His own food, the prasāda. When Rāmacandra Purī left Puruṣottama, the Lord gave up this reduction.

Obeisances to the Lord, who out of fear of Rāmacandra Purī reduced His meals —

1 I worship Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, who, out of fear of Rāmacandra Purī, reduced His own meals below the ordinary measure.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I offer obeisances to Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, who out of fear of Rāmacandra Purī reduced His meals below the ordinary daily amount.

Anubhāṣya.
yaḥ (Kṛṣṇa Caitanyadeva) rāmacandra-purī-bhayāt (because He displayed worldly apprehension caused by the words of Rāmacandra Purī, a blasphemer of Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas) laukikāhārataḥ (compared with the measure of food that people consider ordinary) svam (His own) bhikṣānnam (measure of food, although it was already moderate) samakocayat (reduced), taṁ kṛṣṇa-caitanyam (aham) vande.

Anubhāṣya.
Here another reading has: "Glory, glory to Nityānanda, the moon among avadhūtas, who bound the world with the noose of prema! Glory, glory to Śrī Advaita, the incarnation of Īśvara, who made Kṛṣṇa descend and delivered the world!"

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Rāmacandra Purī was a disciple of Śrī Mādhavendra Purī; therefore Mahāprabhu and Paramānanda Purī showed him honor.

Rāmacandra Purī arrives —

purī-gosāñi kaila tāṁre dṛḍha āliṅgana Purī Gosāñi gave him a firm embrace

6 Paramānanda Purī paid homage at his feet, and Purī Gosāñi embraced him firmly.

Anubhāṣya.
By nature Rāmacandra Purī was envious and hostile to Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas. Outwardly, however, he had left home, that is, he wore the dress of a sannyāsī, and for that reason alone people of that time called him "Gosāñi" (Gosvāmī). This shows that the title, befitting those who have left home, was not then given by caste, family or heredity, as it is now by a distorted social custom.

*The customary conduct of Vaiṣṇava sannyāsīs in the sampradāya —*

āliṅgana kari' teṁho kaila kṛṣṇa-smṛti embrace giving he made of Kṛṣṇa remembrance

7 Mahāprabhu offered him prostrate obeisance; he embraced the Lord and remembered Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
Taking Mahāprabhu to be a follower of Īśvara Purī, Rāmacandra Purī embraced Him and remembered Kṛṣṇa, the greeting proper to every Vaiṣṇava sannyāsī.

When sannyāsīs are greeted, they answer, "Oṁ namo bhagavate nārāyaṇāya," and so remember Kṛṣṇa. A sannyāsī is not supposed to bless living beings or to bow to them; the smṛti says: "A sannyāsī neither blesses nor offers obeisances."

Jagadānanda gives him a meal —

তিনজনে ইষ্টগোষ্ঠী কৈলা কতক্ষণ ।

8 For some time the three of them spoke together about the Lord. Then Jagadānanda Paṇḍita invited him for a meal.

Having eaten more than enough himself, he blames the host or the one who served —

জগন্নাথের প্রসাদ আনিলা ভিক্ষার লাগিয়া । যথেষ্ট ভিক্ষা করিলা তেঁহো নিন্দার লাগিয়া ॥ ৯ ॥

jagannāthera prasāda ānilā bhikṣāra lāgiyā Jagannātha's prasāda he brought of the meal for the sake yatheṣṭa bhikṣā karilā teṁho nindāra lāgiyā

9 Jagadānanda brought Jagannātha's prasāda for the meal, and Rāmacandra Purī ate as much as he liked, only to find fault afterwards.

Having himself fed Jagadānanda abundantly, he blames Gaura's associates as gluttons —

ভিক্ষা করি' কহে পুরী, — শুন, জগদানন্দ । অবশেষ প্রসাদ তুমি করহ ভক্ষণ ॥ ১০ ॥

bhikṣā kari' kahe purī, — śuna, jagadānanda

avaśeṣa prasāda tumi karaha bhakṣaṇa

10 When he had eaten, the Purī said, "Listen, Jagadānanda: you eat the prasāda that remains."

āgraha kariyā tāṁre vasi' khāoyāila

āpane āgraha kari' pariveśana kaila

11 He insisted on seating Jagadānanda and feeding him, and eagerly served the food himself.

আগ্রহ করিয়া পুনঃ পুনঃ খাওয়াইল ।

āgraha kariyā punaḥ punaḥ khāoyāila insistence showing again and again fed ācamana kaile nindā karite lāgila rinsing of the mouth when he did fault-finding to do began

12 Again and again he pressed him to eat; and when Jagadānanda had rinsed his mouth, he began to find fault:

Gaura's associates, truly possessed of pure renunciation, he blames as lacking renunciation —

শুনি, চৈতন্যগণ করে বহুত ভক্ষণ ।
'সত্য' সেই বাক্য, — সাক্ষাৎ দেখিলুঁ এখন ॥ ১৩ ॥

śuni, caitanya-gaṇa kare bahuta bhakṣaṇa
I heard Caitanya's followers make much eating
'satya' sei vākya, — sākṣāt dekhiluṁ ekhana
'true' that saying with my own eyes I have seen now

13 "I had heard that Caitanya's followers eat a great deal. That report is true: now I have seen it with my own eyes.

সন্ন্যাসীরে এত খাওয়াঞা করে ধর্ম্ম নাশ । বৈরাগী হঞা এত খায়, বৈরাগ্যের নাহি 'ভাস' ॥ ১৪ ॥

sannyāsīre eta khāoyāñā kare dharma nāśa
a sannyāsī so much feeding they make of dharma ruin vairāgī haña eta khāya, vairāgyera nāhi 'bhāsa' renunciants being so much they eat of renunciation there is not 'a semblance'

14 Feeding a sannyāsī so much, they ruin his dharma; and though they are renunciants, they eat so much that they have not even a semblance of renunciation!"

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Bhāsa — even a mere semblance (ābhāsa).

Rāmacandra Purī's nature —

এই ত' স্বভাব তাঁর আগ্রহ করিয়া । পিছে নিন্দা করে, আগে বহুত খাওয়াঞা ॥ ১৫ ॥ ei ta' svabhāva tāṁra āgraha kariyā this indeed the nature his insistence showing piche nindā kare, āge bahuta khāoyāñā afterwards fault-finding makes first much having fed

15 This was his nature: first he would insist on feeding someone a great deal, and afterwards he would find fault with him.

*The earlier history of Rāmacandra Purī, rejected by his guru; Rāmacandra comes when his gurudeva, Śrī Mādhavendra Purī, is departing from this world —*

পূর্ব্বে যবে মাধবেন্দ্রপুরী করেন অন্তর্দ্ধান । রামচন্দ্রপুরী তবে আইলা তাঁর স্থান ॥ ১৬ ॥

pūrve yabe mādhavendra purī karena antarddhāna formerly when Mādhavendra Purī made departure from the world rāmacandra-purī tabe āilā tāṁra sthāna Rāmacandra Purī then came his to the place

16 Formerly, when Mādhavendra Purī was departing from this world, Rāmacandra Purī came to him.

*Śrī Mādhavendra Purī chants of Kṛṣṇa in the transcendental rasa of separation (vipralambha) —*

পুরী-গোসাঞি করেন কৃষ্ণনাম-সঙ্কীর্ত্তন । মথুরা না পাইনু বলি' করেন ক্রন্দন ॥ ১৭ ॥

purī-gosāñi karena kṛṣṇa-nāma-saṅkīrtana Purī Gosāñi makes of Kṛṣṇa's name chanting mathurā nā pāinu bali' karena krandana
Mathurā not I have attained saying makes weeping

17 Purī Gosāñi was chanting the name of Kṛṣṇa and weeping: "I have not attained Mathurā!"

The dry speculator Rāmacandra, thinking his guru mortal, oversteps the respect due to him —

রামচন্দ্রপুরী তবে উপদেশে তাঁরে । শিষ্য হঞা গুরুকে কহে, ভয় নাহি করে ॥ ১৮ ॥

rāmacandra-purī tabe upadeśe tāṁre Rāmacandra Purī then instructs him śiṣya haññā guruke kahe, bhaya nāhi kare disciple being to the guru he speaks fear not does 18 Then Rāmacandra Purī instructed him. Though a disciple, he spoke to his guru without fear:

*Rāmacandra opposes the spiritual pastimes (cid-vilāsa) —*

তুমি — পূর্ণ ব্রহ্মানন্দ, করহ স্মরণ । ব্রহ্মবিৎ হঞা কেনে করহ রোদন ? ॥ ১৯ ॥

tumi — pūrṇa brahmānanda, karaha smaraṇa you full the bliss of Brahman do remember brahmavit haññā kene karaha rodana?
knower of Brahman being why do weeping

19 "You are full of the bliss of Brahman — remember it! You are a knower of Brahman: why do you weep?"

His guru, Mādhavendra Purī, seeing Rāmacandra as an offender, angrily rejects and rebukes him —

শুনি' মাধবেন্দ্র-মনে ক্রোধ উপজিল । দূর, দূর, পাপিষ্ঠ বলি' ভর্ৎসনা করিল ॥ ২০ ॥

śuni' mādhavendra-mane krodha upajila hearing in Mādhavendra's mind anger arose dūra, dūra, pāpiṣṭha bali' bhartsanā karila away away most sinful one saying rebuke made

20 Hearing this, Mādhavendra Purī grew angry. "Away, away, you sinner!" he cried, and rebuked him.

Anubhāṣya.
Rāmacandra Purī saw that his guru, Śrī Mādhavendra, was suffering in separation from Śrī Kṛṣṇa, but he could not understand that this was the manifestation of transcendental separation (vipralambha). Reasoning in a worldly way and thinking his guru mortal, he concluded that his guru was grieving over some material lack, and he hastened to make him realize the impersonal Brahman. Then Mādhavendra Purī, seeing his disciple's foolishness and disrespect for the guru, ceased wishing him well, rejected him and drove him away.

‘কৃষ্ণ-কৃপা’ না পাইনু, না পাইনু ‘মথুরা’ ।

in my own grief I am dying this one to give came burning pain

21 “I have not attained Kṛṣṇa’s mercy, I have not attained Mathurā. I am leaving this world in my own grief, and now this one has come to add to my burning pain!

মোরে মুখ না দেখাবি তুই, যাও যথি-তথি ।

মোরে ‘ব্রহ্ম’ উপদেশে এই ছার মূর্খে ॥ ২৩ ॥

more ‘brahma’ upadeśe ei chāra mūrkhe to me ‘Brahman’ teaches this wretched fool

23 I am leaving this world in my own grief, not having attained Kṛṣṇa, and now this wretched fool would teach me about Brahman!”

Through the offense of disrespect for the guru arises the desire for sense enjoyment, that is, worldly desire —

এই যে শ্রীমাধবেন্দ্রপাদ উপেক্ষা করিল । সেই অপরাধে ইঁহার ‘বাসনা’ জন্মিল ॥ ২৪ ॥ ei ye śrī-mādhavendrapāda upekṣā karila this that Śrī Mādhavendrapāda disregard made sei aparādhe iṁhāra ‘vāsanā’ janmila by that offence his ‘worldly desires’ were born

24 Śrī Mādhavendrapāda thus disregarded him, and through that offence worldly desires (vāsanā) were born in Rāmacandra Purī.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Vāsanā — the desire for dry knowledge; from it arises blasphemy of the devotees.[12]

Anubhāṣya.

On this subject see such statements of scripture as these. The Bhakti-sandarbha (no. 111) quotes the words of the Bhagavat-pariśiṣṭa from the Vāsanā-bhāṣya: “Even those liberated in this life return to worldly desires if they offend the Lord of inconceivable, great power.” Śrī Jīva Gosvāmī, in his commentary Laghu-toṣaṇī on Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.2.32, quotes another reading of the same words of the Bhagavat-pariśiṣṭa from the Vāsanā-bhāṣya: “Even those liberated in this life again fall into bondage through karma if they offend the Lord of inconceivable, great power.” And the Śrī Viṣṇu-bhakti-candrodaya, in connection with the Ratha-yātrā, quotes the words of another Purāṇa: “Those liberated in this life sometimes fall into worldly desires; but yogīs devoted to the Lord are not stained by karma.”

*Not seeing the spiritual variety — Kṛṣṇa and what belongs to Kṛṣṇa (kārṣṇa), that is, His svarūpa, tad-rūpa-vaibhava and so on — he* begins to blaspheme Viṣṇu —

শুষ্ক-ব্রহ্মজ্ঞানী, নাহি কৃষ্ণের ‘সম্বন্ধ’ । সর্ব্বলোকের নিন্দা করে, নিন্দাতে নির্ব্বন্ধ ॥ ২৫ ॥ śuṣka-brahma-jñānī, nāhi kṛṣṇera ‘sambandha’ dry Brahman knower there is not with Kṛṣṇa ‘relationship’ sarva-lokera nindā kare, nindāte nirbandha of all people fault-finding makes in fault-finding stubbornly fixed 25 A dry knower of Brahman, he had no relationship with Kṛṣṇa. He found fault with everyone and stubbornly persisted in it.

Anubhāṣya.

Nirbandha — a stubborn attachment to blaming others. The impersonalist Māyāvādīs are unskilled in knowledge of relationship (sambandha-jñāna), and so they cannot accept a relationship with Kṛṣṇa. By the force of mundane argument they apply mundane logic to Brahman. They take devotion to Kṛṣṇa for one of the rites of karma-kāṇḍa, which the seeker of liberation resorts to and which is rooted in the thirst to enjoy fruits. And they blame the Lord's devotees and their transcendental cultivation of devotion, thinking it merely a karmic practice that yields the four goals of life (catur-varga). A living being falls into such terrible ignorance only when he offends the feet of the guru or devotee who is beyond the senses (adhokṣaja).

Śrīla Īśvara Purī's exclusive devotion to his guru —

ঈশ্বরপুরী করেন শ্রীপাদ-সেবন । স্বহস্তে করেন মলমূত্রাদি মার্জ্জন ॥ ২৬ ॥

īśvara-purī karena śrīpāda-sevana Īśvara Purī does to Śrīpāda service svahaste karena malamūtrādi mārjana with his own hands does stool, urine and the rest cleaning

26 Īśvara Purī, however, served Śrīpāda Mādhavendra Purī, cleaning away his stool and urine with his own hands.[2]

Anubhāṣya.

Śrīpāda-sevana — service to Śrī Mādhavendra Purīpāda.

An example of ideal service to the guru —

নিরন্তর কৃষ্ণনাম করায় স্মরণ । কৃষ্ণনাম, কৃষ্ণলীলা শুনায় অনুক্ষণ ॥ ২৭ ॥

nirantara kṛṣṇa-nāma karāya smaraṇa constantly Kṛṣṇa's name makes him remember kṛṣṇa-nāma, kṛṣṇa-līlā śunāya anukṣaṇa Kṛṣṇa's name, Kṛṣṇa's pastimes makes him hear every moment

27 He constantly helped him remember the name of Kṛṣṇa, and at every moment let him hear Kṛṣṇa's name and Kṛṣṇa's pastimes.

Śrī Īśvara Purī receives his guru's grace —

তুষ্ট হঞা পুরী তাঁরে কৈলা আলিঙ্গন । বর দিলা, — কৃষ্ণে তোমার হউক প্রেমধন ॥ ২৮ ॥

tuṣṭa hañā purī tāṁre kailā āliṅgana pleased being Purī him gave an embrace vara dilā, — kṛṣṇe tomāra hauka prema-dhana blessing gave for Kṛṣṇa your may there be of love the treasure

28 Pleased with him, Purī Gosāñi embraced him and gave him a blessing: "May you have the treasure of love for Kṛṣṇa!"

The difference in results: one obtained the guru's mercy, the other his displeasure and was therefore left deprived —

সেই হৈতে ঈশ্বরপুরী — 'প্রেমের সাগর' । রামচন্দ্রপুরী হৈল সর্ব্বনিন্দাকর ॥ ২৯ ॥ sei haite īśvara-purī — 'premera sāgara' that from Īśvara Purī 'of love an ocean' rāmacandra-purī haila sarva-nindākara Rāmacandra Purī became of everyone a fault-finder

29 From then on Īśvara Purī was an ocean of love, while Rāmacandra Purī became one who found fault with everyone.

Through two examples — of receiving the mercy and the punishment of Hari, guru and the Vaiṣṇavas — the world is taught —

মহদনুগ্রহ-নিগ্রহের ‘সাক্ষী’ দুইজনে । এই দুইদ্বারে শিখাইলা জগজনে ॥ ৩০ ॥ mahad-anugraha-nigrahera ‘sākṣī’ dui-jane of a great soul’s mercy punishment ‘witnesses’ the two persons ei dui-dvāre śikhāilā jaga-jane these two through taught the world’s people

30 The two of them are witnesses of a great soul’s mercy and punishment; through these two he taught the people of the world.

Anubhāṣya.
From the great soul Śrīla Mādhavendra Purī, Īśvara Purī received abundant mercy (anugraha), while Rāmacandra Purī received only punishment (nigraha).

Mādhavendra Gosvāmī departs from the manifest world in the transcendental state of separation —

জগদ্গুরু মাধবেন্দ্র করি’ প্রেম দান । এই শ্লোক পড়ি’ তেঁহো করিলা অন্তর্দ্ধান ॥ ৩১ ॥

jagad-guru mādhavendra kari’ prema dāna of the world guru Mādhavendra making of love a gift ei śloka paḍi’ teṁho karilā antarddhāna
this verse reciting he made departure from the world

31 Having given the gift of love, Mādhavendra, the guru of the world, recited this verse and departed from this world:

*(The words of Mādhavendra Purī quoted in the Padyāvalī, no. 330)*

অয়ি দীনদয়ার্দ্র নাথ হে
মথুরানাথ কদাবলোক্যসে ৷ হৃদয়ং ত্বদলোককাতরং দয়িত ভ্রাম্যতি কিং করোম্যহম্ ॥ ৩২ ॥ ayi dīna-dayārdra nātha he O melting with compassion for the wretched Lord O mathurā-nātha kadāvalokyase of Mathurā Lord when shall You be seen hṛdayaṁ tvad-aloka-kātaraṁ heart at not seeing You stricken dayita bhrāmyati kiṁ karomy aham

O Beloved wanders what do I

32 "O Lord, melting with compassion for the wretched! O Lord of Mathurā, when shall I see You? My heart, stricken at not seeing You, has lost all rest. O Beloved, what am I to do?" (Padyāvalī, 330)[3]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 4.197.

The inner meaning, that is, the purport of the verse —

এই শ্লোকে কৃষ্ণপ্রেম করে উপদেশ ৷ কৃষ্ণের বিরহে, ভক্তের ভাববিশেষ ॥ ৩৩ ॥ ei śloke kṛṣṇa-prema kare upadeśa in this verse love for Kṛṣṇa makes teaching kṛṣṇera virahe, bhaktera bhāva-viśeṣa of Kṛṣṇa in separation of the devotee bhāva special

33 This verse teaches love for Kṛṣṇa — the special feeling (bhāva-viśeṣa) a devotee knows in separation from Him.

Anubhāṣya.

Bhāva-viśeṣa (a special feeling) — the manifestation of the feeling of separation. In the community of the prākṛta-sahajiyās, practitioners commit all kinds of excesses in the name of sambhoga (union), and so they obstruct the realization of the true nature of separation (vipralambha).

Mādhavendra is the sprout of the wish-fulfilling tree of love for Kṛṣṇa; Śrī Caitanya Himself is the main tree, grown from that sprout and fully developed —

পৃথিবীতে রোপণ করি' গেলা প্রেমাঙ্কুর । সেই প্রেমাঙ্কুরের বৃক্ষ — চৈতন্যঠাকুর ॥ ৩৪ ॥

pṛthivīte ropaṇa kari' gelā premāṅkura on the earth planting making went of love the sprout sei premāṅkurera vṛkṣa — caitanya-ṭhākura that of love of the sprout the tree Caitanya Ṭhākura

34 He planted the sprout of love on the earth and departed. Śrī Caitanya Ṭhākura is the tree that grew from that sprout of love.

Hearing of Mādhavendra's departure, living beings learn service born of separation from Kṛṣṇa —

প্রস্তাবে কহিলুঁ পুরী-গোসাঞির নির্য্যাণ । যেই ইহা শুনে, সেই বড় ভাগ্যবান্ ॥ ৩৫ ॥

prastāve kahiluṁ purī-gosāñira niryāṇa in this context I have told Purī Gosāñi's departure yei ihā śune, sei baḍa bhāgyavān whoever this hears he very fortunate

35 In this context I have told of Purī Gosāñi's departure from this world. Whoever hears of it is greatly fortunate.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Niryāṇa — departure from the manifest world (aprakaṭa).

Rāmacandra Purī's dry renunciation —

রামচন্দ্রপুরী ঐছে রহিলা নীলাচলে । বিরক্ত স্বভাব, কভু রহে কোন স্থলে ॥ ৩৬ ॥

rāmacandra-purī aiche rahilā nīlācale Rāmacandra Purī thus stayed in Nīlācala virakta svabhāva, kabhu rahe kona sthale renounced by nature sometimes stays in some place

36 So Rāmacandra Purī stayed on in Nīlācala. Renounced by nature, he would stay now in one place, now in another.

Rāmacandra Purī hunts for the faults of others —

অনিমন্ত্রণ ভিক্ষা করে, নাহিক নির্ণয় । অন্যের ভিক্ষার স্থিতির লয়েন নিশ্চয় ॥ ৩৭ ॥

animantraṇa bhikṣā kare, nāhika nirṇaya uninvited meal takes there is no fixed rule anyera bhikṣāra sthitira layena niścaya of others' meals the arrangement takes account

37 He took his meals uninvited, with no fixed rule, and he kept account of how others took their meals.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Anyera bhikṣāra sthitira — he found out the rule of other people's meals: what and how much they eat.

Anubhāṣya.

"Rāmacandra Purī passes his days keeping an account of others' affairs: where another sannyāsī takes alms and how much, where he stays, and so on." Niścaya — account.

The Lord's daily meals: Govinda and Kāśīśvara, disciples of Śrī Īśvara Purī, ate together with the Lord —

প্রভুর নিমন্ত্রণে লাগে কৌড়ি চারি পণ । কভু কাশীশ্বর, গোবিন্দ খান তিন জন ॥ ৩৮ ॥

prabhura nimantraṇe lāge kauḍi cāri paṇa
the Lord's for the invitation is needed cowries four paṇas kabhu kāśīśvara, govinda khāna tina jana sometimes Kāśīśvara Govinda eat three persons

38 To invite the Lord for a meal cost four paṇas of cowries, for sometimes Kāśīśvara and Govinda ate as well, three persons in all.[4]

প্রত্যহ প্রভুর ভিক্ষা ইতি-উতি হয় । কেহ যদি মূল্য আনে, চারিপণ-নির্ণয় ॥ ৩৯ ॥

pratyaha prabhura bhikṣā iti-uti haya daily the Lord's meal here and there is keha yadi mūlya āne, cāri-paṇa-nirṇaya someone if the price brings four paṇas fixed

39 Every day the Lord took His meal at one place or another. If someone brought money for it, the amount was fixed at four paṇas.

Thinking even the Lord Himself mortal, he seeks faults in Him —

প্রভুর স্থিতি, রীতি, ভিক্ষা, শয়ন, প্রয়াণ । রামচন্দ্রপুরী করে সর্ব্বানুসন্ধান ॥ ৪০ ॥

prabhura sthiti, rīti, bhikṣā, śayana, prayāṇa
the Lord's stay ways meals sleep going out rāmacandra-purī kare sarvānusandhāna Rāmacandra Purī makes all inquiry

40 Rāmacandra Purī inquired into everything about the Lord: where He stayed, His ways, His meals, His sleep and His going out.

Svayam Bhagavān, Adhokṣaja, is complete and faultless —

প্রভুর যতেক গুণ স্পর্শিতে নারিল । ছিদ্র চাহি' বুলে, কাঁহা ছিদ্র না পাইল ॥ ৪১ ॥

prabhura yateka guṇa sparśite nārila the Lord's all qualities to touch could not chidra cāhi' bule, kāṁhā chidra nā pāila faults seeking he goes about anywhere fault not found

41 He could not grasp a single one of the Lord's virtues. He went about seeking faults, but found none anywhere.

*Injunctions and prohibitions for a sannyāsī —*

সন্ন্যাসী হঞা করে মিষ্টান্ন ভক্ষণ । এই ভোগে হয় কৈছে ইন্দ্রিয়-বারণ ? ॥ ৪২ ॥

sannyāsī hañā kare miṣṭānna bhakṣaṇa a sannyāsī being makes of sweets eating ei bhoge haya kaiche indriya-vāraṇa?
by this enjoyment is how of the senses control

42 "He is a sannyāsī, yet He eats sweets! With such enjoyment, how can there be control of the senses?"

He blames the Lord everywhere, yet comes to see Him every day —

এই নিন্দা করি' কহে সর্ব্বলোক-স্থানে । প্রভুরে দেখিতেহ অবশ্য আইসে প্রতিদিনে ॥ ৪৩ ॥

ei nindā kari' kahe sarva-loka-sthāne this fault-finding making he speaks of all people in the presence prabhure dekhiteha avaśya āise prati-dine the Lord to see still he comes every day

43 Finding this fault, he spoke of it before everyone; and yet he came every day to see the Lord.

The Lord gives him the milk of respect; Rāmacandra spews the poison of blame —

প্রভু গুরুবুদ্ধ্যে করেন সম্ভ্রম, সম্মান । তেঁহো ছিদ্র চাহি' বুলে, — এই তার কাম ॥ ৪৪ ॥

prabhu guru-buddhye karena sambhrama, sammāna
the Lord as a guru regarding him makes reverence honour teṁho chidra cāhi' bule, — ei tāra kāma
he faults seeking goes about this his occupation

44 Regarding him as a guru, the Lord showed him reverence and honour, but he went about looking for faults — that was his occupation.

Even hearing Himself blamed, the Lord gives Purī the honor due to his position, and thereby deceives him —

যত নিন্দা করে তাহা প্রভু সব জানে । তথাপি আদর করে বড়ই সম্ভ্রমে ॥ ৪৫ ॥

yata nindā kare tāhā prabhu saba jāne whatever fault-finding he makes that the Lord all knows tathāpi ādara kare baḍai sambhrame still respect makes very great with reverence

45 The Lord knew all the fault-finding he did, yet He still treated him with great respect and reverence.

One morning, seeing lines of ants in the Lord's house, he blames the renunciation of the Lord, Svayam Bhagavān, and leaves —

একদিন প্রাতঃকালে আইলা প্রভুর ঘর । পিপীলিকা দেখি' কিছু কহেন উত্তর ॥ ৪৬ ॥

ekadina prātaḥ-kāle āilā prabhura ghara one day in the morning came of the Lord to the house pipīlikā dekhi' kichu kahena uttara ants seeing something says in reply

46 One morning he came to the Lord’s house. Seeing ants there, he made a remark:

(The words of Rāmacandra Purī)

রাত্রাবত্র ঐক্ষবমাসীৎ, তেন পিপীলিকাঃ সঞ্চরন্তি ৷ অহো !
বিরক্তানাং সন্ন্যাসিনামিয়মিন্দ্রিয়- tena pipīlikāḥ sañcaranti. aho!

therefore ants are moving about alas viraktānāṁ sannyāsinām iyam indriya-of renounced sannyāsīs this for the senses lālaseti bruvannutthāya gataḥ craving so saying getting up he went

47 “Last night there was sugarcane molasses here; that is why the ants are crawling about. Alas! Such is the craving of the senses in renounced sannyāsīs!” Saying this, he got up and left.[5]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

“Last night there was cane molasses (guḍa) here; that is why the ants are crawling about. Alas, such is the craving of renounced sannyāsīs for sense enjoyment!” Saying this, he got up and left.

Anubhāṣya.

Mahāprabhu is Svayam Bhagavān, the complete and faultless form, beyond such material qualities as contemptibility. Rāmacandra tried hard to find some fault or other in Him but did not succeed. He saw no sweets of any kind in the Lord's house, but, noticing many ants crawling about, he guessed that there had been molasses there at night. His aim was to point out some fault and thereby magnify himself.

With His own ears the Lord hears Purī's false blame —

প্রভু পরম্পরায় নিন্দা কৈরাছেন শ্রবণ । এবে সাক্ষাৎ শুনিলেন 'কল্পিত' নিন্দন ॥ ৪৮ ॥

prabhu paramparāya nindā kairāchena śravaṇa
the Lord through others fault-finding had heard ebe sākṣāt śunilena 'kalpita' nindana
now directly He heard 'invented' blame

48 The Lord had heard of his fault-finding through others; now He heard the invented blame with His own ears.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kalpita nindana — a falsely imputed accusation.

*Faults are imputed to Bhagavān only under the sway of misapprehension (vivarta) —*

সহজেই পিপীলিকা সর্ব্বত্র বেড়ায় । naturally ants everywhere wander tāhāte tarka uṭhāñā doṣa lāgāya

49 Ants naturally wander about everywhere, yet he raised an argument from it and attached a fault to the Lord.

*Hearing Himself blamed, the Lord, in the role of the ācārya, the guru of the world, feels fear and shame —*

শুনি' তাহা প্রভুর সঙ্কোচ-ভয় মনে । hearing that of the Lord embarrassment fear in the mind govinde bolāñā kichu kahena vacane

Govinda calling some says words

50 Hearing this, the Lord felt embarrassment and fear in His mind. He called Govinda and spoke to him:

The Lord reduces His daily meal and fixes its measure with Govinda —

আজি হৈতে ভিক্ষা আমার এই ত' নিয়ম । পিণ্ডাভোগের এক চৌঠি, পাঁচগণ্ডার ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ৫১ ॥

āji haite bhikṣā āmāra ei ta' niyama today from meal My this indeed rule piṇḍā-bhogera eka cauṭhi, pāṁca-gaṇḍāra vyañjana of the piṇḍā-bhoga one quarter of five gaṇḍās' worth vegetables

51 "From today this is the rule for My meals: a quarter-pot of the rice offered on Jagannātha's altar (piṇḍā-bhoga), and vegetables worth five gaṇḍās.

Anubhāṣya.
The rice prasāda of Jagannāthadeva is obtained in clay pots. A quarter of a pot of the standard measure (pramāṇa) is called ek-cauṭhi.

He threatens to leave the place if more than this measure is taken —

ইহা বই অধিক আর কিছু না লইবা । অধিক আনিলে আমা এথা না দেখিবা ॥ ৫২ ॥

ihā bai adhika āra kichu nā laibā this except more other anything not you shall take adhika ānile āmā ethā nā dekhibā more if you bring Me here not you shall see 52 Take nothing more than this. If you bring more, you will not see Me here again."

The Lord's stern order is announced to all the devotees; all are in terrible grief —

সকল বৈষ্ণবে গোবিন্দ কহে এই বাত্ । শুনি' সবার মাথে যৈছে হৈল বজ্রাঘাত ॥ ৫৩ ॥

sakala vaiṣṇave govinda kahe ei bāt to all the Vaiṣṇavas Govinda tells this news śuni' sabāra māthe yaiche haila vajrāghāta hearing of everyone on the head as if there was a thunderbolt's stroke

53 Govinda told all the Vaiṣṇavas this news. Hearing it, they felt as if a thunderbolt had struck their heads.

The devotees blame the wicked Rāmacandra Purī, seeing him as the opponent of the Lord, who is dearer to them than life —

রামচন্দ্রপুরীকে সবায় দেয় তিরস্কার । এই পাপিষ্ঠ আসি' প্রাণ লইল সবার ॥ ৫৪ ॥

ei pāpiṣṭha āsi' prāṇa laila sabāra

54 Everyone reproached Rāmacandra Purī: "This sinner has come here and taken the life of us all!"

*Govinda takes prasāda for the Lord only in the prescribed measure; the brāhmaṇa grieves that the Lord eats so little —*

সেইদিন একবিপ্র কৈল নিমন্ত্রণ ।

ei mātra govinda kaila aṅgīkāra this only Govinda made acceptance māthāya ghā māre vipra, kare hāhākāra on his head blows strikes the brāhmaṇa makes lamentation

55–56 That day a brāhmaṇa invited the Lord. Govinda accepted only a quarter-pot of rice and vegetables worth five gaṇḍās, and the brāhmaṇa struck his head and cried out in grief.

The Lord eats half, Govinda receives the remaining half; the devotees give up food and water —

সেই ভাত-ব্যঞ্জন প্রভু অর্দ্ধেক খাইল । যে কিছু রহিল, তাহা গোবিন্দ পাইল ॥ ৫৭ ॥

sei bhāta-vyañjana prabhu arddheka khāila

57 The Lord ate half of the rice and vegetables, and whatever remained Govinda received.

saba bhakta-gaṇa tabe chāḍila bhojana
all the devotees then gave up eating

58 The Lord ate half a meal and Govinda half a meal, and then all the devotees gave up eating.[6]

The Lord tells Govinda and Kāśīśvara to take their meals elsewhere —

গোবিন্দ-কাশীশ্বরে প্রভুর কৈলা আজ্ঞাপন । দুঁহে অন্যত্র মাগি' কর উদর ভরণ ॥ ৫৯ ॥

duṁhe anyatra māgi' kara udara bharaṇa

59 The Lord ordered Govinda and Kāśīśvara, "You two beg elsewhere and fill your stomachs."

Hearing that the devotees grieve because the Lord has reduced His eating, Rāmacandra comes to the Lord —

60 Some days passed in this great grief. Hearing of it, Rāmacandra Purī came to the Lord.

*The Lord, in the role of the ācārya who honors others (mānada), always honors Rāmacandra —*

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O Arjuna, by eating much there is no yoga; by not eating at all there is no yoga either; nor does it come by much sleep or by giving up sleep. But when eating, recreation and all activities — effort, sleep, waking and so on — are kept in proper measure, the yoga that destroys suffering arises.

One day the devotees headed by Paramānanda Purī appeal to the Lord about how much He should eat (literally, "about taking measured food") and censure before Him Rāmacandra Purī's nature and conduct —

76 ‘One should neither praise nor blame the nature and actions of others, but see the universe as one, a union of prakṛti and the puruṣa.’ (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 11.28.1)[8]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Seeing the universe as one in nature, as the union of prakṛti and puruṣa, one should never praise or blame the nature and deeds of others.

Anubhāṣya.
Śrī Bhagavān describes to Śrī Uddhava the rules of conduct for a pure jñānī:

prakṛtyā puruṣeṇa ca saha ekātmakaṁ viśvaṁ paśyan para-svabhāva-karmāṇi (the nature and deeds of others, that is, their natural occupations and the like, produced by the guṇas — [not doing this] in order to harm them) na praśaṁset, na garhayet (should not blame).

Scripture aims not at the earlier injunction about praise but at the later one, the prohibition of blame —

তার মধ্যে পূর্ব্ববিধি ‘প্রশংসা’ ছাড়িয়া । পরবিধি ‘নিন্দা’ করে ‘বলিষ্ঠ’ জানিয়া ॥ ৭৭ ॥

tāra madhye pūrva-vidhi ‘praśaṁsā’ chāḍiyā of them among the earlier injunction ‘praise’ giving up para-vidhi ‘nindā’ kare ‘baliṣṭha’ jāniyā
the later injunction ‘blame’ he does ‘stronger’ knowing it

77 Of the two, he gives up the earlier injunction, praise, and practises the later one, blame, knowing that the later one is ‘stronger’.

Anubhāṣya.
In the verse para-svabhāva… we find an earlier injunction, “do not praise,” and a later one, “do not blame.” Since the later injunction is stronger than the earlier, it follows that praising people is not such a great fault, but blaming them must never be done. Rāmacandra, however, kept the earlier injunction, “do not praise others,” and did not keep the later one, “do not blame others.” So Rāmacandra did not act according to the rule of the later injunction. The meaning of this verse can be explained as ironic.

*The later injunction carries greater weight — (A maxim of nyāya)*

পূর্ব্বপরয়োর্মধ্যে পরবিধির্বলবান্ ॥ ৭৮ ॥

pūrva-parayor madhye para-vidhir balavān of the earlier and later between the later injunction stronger

78 'Between an earlier and a later injunction, the later injunction is stronger.' (a maxim of Nyāya)[9]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Of an earlier and a later injunction, the later is the stronger.

Anubhāṣya.
prāk-parayor vidhyoḥ madhye (of an earlier and a later injunction) para-vidhiḥ (the later direction) balavān — that is, one should set aside the earlier injunction and accept the later.

Rāmacandra Purī is like a fly —

যাঁহা গুণ শত আছে, তাহা না করে গ্রহণ ।
গুণমধ্যে ছলে করে দোষ-আরোপণ ॥ ৭৯ ॥

79 Where there are a hundred virtues he accepts none of them; instead he deceitfully imputes faults to those very virtues.

Rāmacandra's conduct and nature cause the devotees piercing pain —

tathāpi kahiye kichu marma-duḥkha pāya still I tell something heart-felt pain receiving 80 It is not fitting even to speak of his nature. Still I tell You something of it, for it pains us to the heart.[10]

Anubhāṣya.
Pāya — "having suffered."

Taking Rāmacandra's words as worthless, they ask the Lord to eat — ইঁহার বচনে কেনে অন্ন ত্যাগ কর ?

পূর্ব্ববৎ নিমন্ত্রণ মান', — সবার বোল ধর ॥ ৮১ ॥

iṁhāra vacane kene anna tyāga kara?
his at the word why food renunciation You make pūrvavat nimantraṇa māna', — sabāra bola dhara
as before invitations accept of all the request heed

81 Why do You give up food at his word? Accept invitations as before and heed the request of us all."

*The Lord, guru of the world and teacher of people, establishes the rules of the dharma of renunciants. One who equates Īśvara, who is above all rules, with the dependent conditioned jīva is a prākṛta-sahajiyā. And the Lord, though Himself Īśvara, regards Himself as a jīva bound by the rules of renunciation and teaches the ācārya in a renunciant's dress detachment (nairapekṣya) —[13] প্রভু কহে, — সবে কেনে পুরীরে কর রোষ ?

'সহজ' ধর্ম্ম কহে তেঁহো, তাঁর কিবা দোষ ? ॥ ৮২ ॥

prabhu kahe, — sabe kene purīre kara roṣa?
the Lord says all of you why with the Purī make anger
'sahaja' dharma kahe teṁho, tāṁra kibā doṣa?
'natural' dharma speaks he his what fault

82 The Lord said, "Why are you all angry with the Purī? He speaks the natural dharma of a sannyāsī. What fault is there in him?

যতি হঞা জিহ্বা-লাম্পট্য, — অত্যন্ত অন্যায় । যতির ধর্ম্ম, — প্রাণ রাখিতে আহারমাত্র খায় ॥ ৮৩ ॥

yati hañā jihvā-lāmpaṭya, — atyanta anyāya a renunciant being of the tongue greed very improper yatira dharma, — prāṇa rākhite āhāra-mātra khāya
a renunciant's dharma life to maintain food only he eats

83 For a renunciant to be greedy of the tongue is very improper. A renunciant's dharma is to eat only as much food as keeps him alive."

At the devotees' insistence the Lord agrees to eat half —

তবে সবে মেলি' প্রভুরে বহু যত্ন কৈলা । সবার আগ্রহে প্রভু অর্দ্ধেক রাখিলা ॥ ৮৪ ॥

tabe sabe meli' prabhure bahu yatna kailā then all together the Lord much entreaty made sabāra āgrahe prabhu arddheka rākhilā of all at the insistence the Lord half kept

84 Then all of them together entreated the Lord earnestly, and at everyone's insistence the Lord agreed to take half of His former measure.

দুইপণ কৌড়ি লাগে প্রভুর নিমন্ত্রণে । কভু দুইজন ভোক্তা, কভু তিনজনে ॥ ৮৫ ॥

duipaṇa kauḍi lāge prabhura nimantraṇe two paṇas of cowries is needed the Lord's for the invitation kabhu dui-jana bhoktā, kabhu tina-jane sometimes two persons eaters sometimes three persons

85 To invite the Lord now cost two paṇas of cowries. Sometimes two persons ate, sometimes three.

*The different ways the Lord took meals in the houses of caste brāhmaṇas who were not devotees and of brāhmaṇas fit to sit in the same row at a meal*

*(pāṅkteya) —*

অভোজ্যান্ন বিপ্র যদি করেন নিমন্ত্রণ । প্রসাদ-মূল্য লইতে লাগে কৌড়ি দুইপণ ॥ ৮৬ ॥

abhojyānna vipra yadi karena nimantraṇa whose cooked food may not be eaten a brāhmaṇa if makes invitation prasāda-mūlya laite lāge kauḍi duipaṇa prasāda the price to take is needed cowries two paṇas

86 If a brāhmaṇa whose cooked food could not be accepted invited the Lord, two paṇas of cowries were needed to buy prasāda.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Abhojyānna vipra — a brāhmaṇa in whose house one may not eat the food (anna) he cooks.

ভোজ্যান্ন বিপ্র যদি নিমন্ত্রণ করে । কিছু 'প্রসাদ' আনে, কিছু পাক করে ঘরে ॥ ৮৭ ॥

bhojyānna vipra yadi nimantraṇa kare whose cooked food may be eaten a brāhmaṇa if invitation makes kichu 'prasāda' āne, kichu pāka kare ghare
some 'prasāda' brings some cooking makes at home

87 If a brāhmaṇa whose cooked food could be accepted invited Him, he would bring some prasāda and cook some at home.

Bhagavān, subordinate to His devotees, eats in the houses of Gadādhara, Bhagavān Ācārya and Sārvabhauma —

পণ্ডিত-গোসাঞি, ভগবান্-আচার্য্য, সার্ব্বভৌম । নিমন্ত্রণের দিনে যদি করে নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ৮৮ ॥

paṇḍita-gosāñi, bhagavān-ācārya, sārvabhauma
Paṇḍita Gosāñi Bhagavān Ācārya Sārvabhauma
nimantraṇera dine yadi kare nimantraṇa of invitation on the day if make invitation

88 But when Paṇḍita Gosāñi, Bhagavān Ācārya or Sārvabhauma invited Him, তাঁ-সবার ইচ্ছায় প্রভু করেন ভোজন । তাঁহা প্রভুর স্বাতন্ত্র্য নাই, যৈছে তাঁর মন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

tāṁ-sabāra icchāya prabhu karena bhojana of them all by the wish the Lord takes meal tāṁhā prabhura svātantrya nāi, yaiche tāṁra mana there the Lord's independence is not as their mind

89 the Lord ate as they wished. In their homes He had no independence: all was as they desired.

The purpose of the Lord's descent and the way He acts —

ভক্তগণে সুখ দিতে প্রভুর 'অবতার' । যাঁহা যৈছে যোগ্য, তাঁহা করেন ব্যবহার ॥ ৯০ ॥ bhakta-gaṇe sukha dite prabhura 'avatāra' to the devotees happiness to give the Lord's 'descent' yāṁhā yaiche yogya, tāṁhā karena vyavahāra where how fitting there He makes conduct

90 The Lord descended to give happiness to His devotees, and He acted as was fitting in each place and situation.

*Sometimes the Lord behaves like a worldly jīva and thereby deceives; sometimes, as the Supreme Lord, He bestows full mercy —*

কভু লৌকিক রীতি, — যেন 'ইতর' জন । কভু স্বতন্ত্র, করেন 'ঐশ্বর্য্য' প্রকটন ॥ ৯১ ॥

kabhu laukika rīti, — yena 'itara' jana sometimes worldly ways as if 'ordinary' person kabhu svatantra, karena 'aiśvarya' prakaṭana sometimes independent makes 'divine majesty' manifestation 91 Sometimes He followed worldly ways, like an ordinary person; sometimes, being independent, He displayed His divine majesty (aiśvarya).

Sometimes He gives Rāmacandra Purī worldly respect, sometimes He disregards him like a straw —

কভু রামচন্দ্রপুরীর হয় ভৃত্যপ্রায় । কভু তারে নাহি মানে, দেখে তৃণ-প্রায় ॥ ৯২ ॥

kabhu rāmacandra-purīra haya bhṛtya-prāya sometimes of Rāmacandra Purī is a servant almost kabhu tāre nāhi māne, dekhe tṛṇa-prāya sometimes him not regards sees a straw like 92 Sometimes He was almost like a servant of Rāmacandra Purī; sometimes He paid him no regard and looked on him as a straw.

All the conduct of the inconceivable Īśvara is eternal, auspicious and beautiful —

ঈশ্বর-চরিত্র প্রভুর — বুদ্ধির অগোচর । যবে যেই করেন, সেই সব — মনোহর ॥ ৯৩ ॥

īśvara-caritra prabhura — buddhira agocara divine conduct of the Lord of the intellect beyond the reach yabe yei karena, sei saba — manohara
when whatever He does that all enchanting

93 The Lord's divine conduct is beyond the reach of the intellect. Whatever He does, at whatever time, is wholly enchanting.

Abandoning the shelter of Bhagavān, Rāmacandra goes on pilgrimage —

এইমত রামচন্দ্রপুরী নীলাচলে । দিন কত রহি' গেলা 'তীর্থ' করিবারে ॥ ৯৪ ॥ ei-mata rāmacandra-purī nīlācale in this way Rāmacandra Purī in Nīlācala dina kata rahi' gelā 'tīrtha' karibāre days some staying went 'pilgrimage' to make 94 In this way Rāmacandra Purī stayed some days in Nīlācala and then left on pilgrimage.

The devotees' hearts are relieved, and they breathe freely again —

তেঁহো গেলে প্রভুর গণ হৈল হরষিত । শিরের পাথর যেন পড়িল আচম্বিত ॥ ৯৫ ॥

teṁho gele prabhura gaṇa haila haraṣita he when gone the Lord's associates became delighted śirera pāthara yena paḍila ācambita from the head a stone as if fell suddenly

95 When he had gone, the Lord's associates were delighted, as if a stone had suddenly fallen from their heads.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śirera pāthara — just as one feels light when a heavy stone suddenly falls from one's head, so it happened.

Thus ends the eighth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Giving up the worldly rules of dry renunciation, the devotees, whose life is Gaura, please the Lord with their whole being —

স্বচ্ছন্দে নিমন্ত্রণ, প্রভুর কীর্ত্তন-নর্ত্তন । স্বচ্ছন্দে করেন সবে প্রসাদ ভোজন ॥ ৯৬ ॥ svacchande nimantraṇa, prabhura kīrtana-nartana freely invitations the Lord's kīrtana dancing svacchande karena sabe prasāda bhojana freely make all prasāda eating

96 Freely the Lord again accepted invitations and freely He sang kīrtana and danced; freely everyone again ate prasāda.

*When a guru rejects a jīva for disrespect, the result is hostility to Viṣṇu, that is, godlessness (pāṣaṇḍatā) —*

গুরু উপেক্ষা কৈলে, ঐছে ফল হয়। ক্রমে ঈশ্বরপর্য্যন্ত অপরাধে ঠেকয় ॥ ৯৭ ॥

guru upekṣā kaile, aiche phala haya the guru disregard if he makes such result is krame īśvara-paryanta aparādhe ṭhekaya gradually the Lord even up to in offences one becomes caught

97 When the guru disregards someone, such is the result: gradually he comes to offend even the Lord.

Through the conduct of the offender Rāmacandra the Lord teaches the world —

যদ্যপি গুরুবুদ্ধ্যে প্রভু তার দোষ না লইল। তার ফলদ্বারা লোকে শিক্ষা করাইল ॥ ৯৮ ॥

yadyapi guru-buddhye prabhu tāra doṣa nā laila although as a guru regarding him the Lord his fault not took tāra phala-dvārā loke śikṣā karāila of it the fruit by means of the people teaching gave 98 Regarding him as a guru, the Lord did not hold his faults against him; yet through the fruit they bore He taught the people.

*For one who drinks the Caitanya-caritāmṛta with the cups of the ears, it becomes an elixir for heart and ears —*

চৈতন্যচরিত্র — যেন অমৃতের পূর। শুনিতে শ্রবণে মনে লাগয়ে মধুর ॥ ৯৯ ॥

caitanya-caritra — yena amṛtera pūra Caitanya's conduct like of nectar a flood śunite śravaṇe mane lāgaye madhura in hearing to the ears to the mind feels sweet

99 Śrī Caitanya's conduct is like a flood of nectar; when heard, it is sweet to the ears and to the mind.

Simply by hearing of Caitanya's deeds one attains love for Kṛṣṇa —

চৈতন্যচরিত্র লিখি, শুন একমনে । অনায়াসে পাবে প্রেম শ্রীকৃষ্ণচরণে ॥ ১০০ ॥

caitanya-caritra likhi, śuna eka-mane Caitanya's conduct I write hear with one mind anāyāse pābe prema śrī-kṛṣṇa-caraṇe easily you will attain love of Śrī Kṛṣṇa at the feet

100 I write of Śrī Caitanya's conduct: hear it with undivided attention, and you will easily attain love for the feet of Śrī Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the eighth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ । চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১০১ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

101 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.[11]

Notes

1. The first line is the same as Ādi 8.4; translated as there. ↩
2. Śrī Īśvara Purī is the Guru of Mahāprabhu. ↩
3. The same verse as Madhya 4.197; translated as there. Here it is spoken by Mādhavendra Purī himself. The source follows the heading in the edition of this chapter: "the words of Mādhavendra Purī, given in the Padyāvalī as number

330” (the heading to Madhya 4.197 gives number 400); the Anubhāṣya refers to Madhya 4.197. ↩

4. A paṇa is eighty cowries. ↩
5. Aikṣava — molasses from sugarcane (Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya). ↩
6. The Lord ate half of the appointed quarter-pot, and Govinda the rest (57). ↩
7. Bhāsa — “a semblance, a shadow” ↩
8. Ekātmakam — “one in nature” ↩
9. The source follows the heading in the edition: “a maxim of Nyāya” (nyāya-vacana). ↩
10. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads iṅhā kahite, “to speak of this” (another reading: iṅhā karite, “to act so”). ↩
11. The colophon verse is the same as Antya 2.172; translated as there. ↩
12. In the verse translation, otherwise: “This offense against his teacher awakened many worldly desires in Rāmacandra Purī”; for the commentator, vāsanā is the desire for dry knowledge. ↩
13. It is not clear from the text who this ācārya in a renunciant's dress is; from the course of the story, probably Paramānanda Purī, who together with the devotees appeals to the Lord (vv. 69–81). Another reading is also possible: the “ācārya in a renunciant’s dress” is the Lord Himself, who, accepting the reproach, thereby teaches others (cf. subheadings 50 and 61). ↩
