Sri Gaura-ganoddesha-dipika

"The Lamp that Points Out the Associates of Gaura"

Kavi Karnapura (1576)

Translated from the Sanskrit

Sanskrit text, transliteration and word-for-word translation

Translator's note

The Gaura-ganoddesha-dipika is a Sanskrit work by Kavi Karnapura (Paramananda Dasa, Puridasa), the youngest son of Shivananda Sena, one of the closest associates of Sri Chaitanya. According to its last verse, the book was completed in Shaka 1498 (1576 CE). It enumerates the associates of Mahaprabhu, of Nityananda and of Advaita, and states who each of them was in Krishna's pastimes in Vraja (and also in Dvaraka, Mathura, Ayodhya and the heavens). It is the principal source of the Gaudiya Vaishnava tradition on the "former identities" of Chaitanya's associates.

Source. The Sanskrit text is taken from the edition of Gaudiya Vedanta Publications (2008); its text layer, in the Kruti Dev font encoding, was converted into Unicode. Only Kavi Karnapura's Sanskrit text has been translated; the edition's Hindi translation and commentary were not used and are not reproduced. The verse numbering follows that edition (in it verses 10–22 and 194–207 are combined into groups). Places where the text needed explanation are noted in the footnotes.

Verification. After the first translation the Sanskrit text was checked: conversion errors were corrected by metre, grammar and the page images of the edition (passages that seemed incomplete were checked in the same way, and almost all of them proved to be whole in the edition itself). The translation of every verse was then compared afresh with the corrected text, and errors were corrected — among them in the identifications (Shankara Ghosha and Shankara Pandita rather than "Shankha," Arjuna → the gopi Arjuniya, Halayudha = Prabala, Gunamala = Damayanti, Vasudha and Jahnava = Varuni and Revati) and in the chain of succession from Madhva (v. 22). The English translation was made from the Sanskrit, in agreement with the Russian translation (same numbering and notes).

Full version. For each verse the Sanskrit text in Devanagari is given (corrected: errors of the conversion from the Kruti Dev font have been fixed by metre, grammar and the page images of the edition), followed by an IAST transliteration, a word-for-word translation and the translation.

Contents

- Part Two — Nityananda and the vyuhas. Advaita Acharya and his family. Srivasa and "those called devotees." The sannyasi associates. Puri: Prataparudra, Sarvabhauma, Ramananda (verses 58–123)
- Part Three — The cowherd friends of Vraja. Servants and musicians. The gopis: Gadadhara and Lalita, the eight sakhis and others. The manjaris and the Gosvamis of Vrindavana. Conclusion (verses 124–215)

Part One

Benediction. The Pancha-tattva. Navadvipa. The succession from Madhva. Mahaprabhu's relatives and teachers (verses 1–57)

Mangalacharana

Verse 1

यः श्रीवृन्दावनभुवि पुरा सच्चिदानन्दसान्द्रो
गौराङ्गीभिः सदृशरुचिभिः श्यामधामा ननर्त्त।
तासां शश्वद्दृढतरपरीरम्भसम्भेदतः किम् गौराङ्गः सन् जयति स नवद्वीपमालम्बमानः॥१॥

yaḥ śrīvṛndāvanabhuvi purā saccidānandasāndro
gaurāṅgībhiḥ sadṛśarucibhiḥ śyāmadhāmā nanartta| tāsāṁ śaśvaddṛḍhataraparīrambhasambhedataḥ kim gaurāṅgaḥ san jayati sa navadvīpamālambamānaḥ||1||

Word for word: yah — who; shri-vrindavana-bhuvi — in the land of Sri Vrindavana; pura — once; sac-cid-ananda-sandrah — the concentrated essence of being, consciousness and bliss; gaurangibhih — with golden-limbed (maidens); sadrisha-rucibhih — equal (to Him) in lustre; shyama-dhama — the abode of dark splendour; nanartta — danced; tasam — their; shashvat — eternal; dridha-tara — ever tighter; parirambha — embraces; sambhedatah — from the contact; kim — was it not (from that); gaurangah — golden-limbed; san — becoming; jayati — be glorious; sah — He; navadvipam — Navadvipa; alambamanah — resting in (dwelling in).

1. He who once, in the land of Vrindavana — the concentrated essence of being, consciousness and bliss, an abode of dark splendour — danced with golden-limbed maidens equal to Him in lustre; and who, perhaps because of their eternal and ever tighter embraces, Himself became golden — that Gauranga, who dwells in Navadvipa, be glorious!

Verse 2

नमस्यामोऽस्यैव प्रियपरिजनान् वत्सलहृदः
प्रभोरद्वैतादीनपि जगदघौघक्षयकृतः।
समानप्रेमाणः समगुणगणास्तुल्यकरुणाः स्वरूपाद्या येऽमी सरसमधुरास्तानपि नुमः॥२॥

namasyāmo'syaiva priyaparijanān vatsalahṛdaḥ
prabhoradvaitādīnapi jagadaghaughakṣayakṛtaḥ| samānapremāṇaḥ samaguṇagaṇāstulyakaruṇāḥ
svarūpādyā ye'mī sarasamadhurāstānapi numaḥ||2||

Word for word: namasyamah — we bow; asya eva — of this very; priya-parijanan — to the beloved associates; vatsala-hridah — tender-hearted; prabhoh — of the Lord; advaita-adin — Advaita and the others; api — also; jagat-agha-augha-kshaya-kritah — who destroy the floods of the world's sins; samana-premanah — equal in love; sama-guna-ganah — equal in their host of qualities; tulya-karunah — equal in compassion; svarupa-adyah — Svarupa and the others; ye — who; ami — these; sarasa-madhurah — full of rasa and sweetness; tan — them; api — also; numah — we praise.

2. We bow to the beloved, tender-hearted associates of this Lord — Advaita and the others, who destroy the floods of the world's sins; and we praise also those — Svarupa and the rest — who are equal to them in love, equal in qualities and equal in compassion, full of rasa and sweetness.

Verse 3

गुरुं नः श्रीनाथाभिधमवनिदेवान्वयविधुम्
नुमो भूषारत्नं भुव इव विभोरस्य दयितम्।
यदास्यादुन्मीलन्निरवकर-वृन्दावनरहः- कथास्वादं लब्ध्वा जगति न जनः कोऽपि रमते॥३॥

guruṁ naḥ śrīnāthābhidhamavanidevānvayavidhum
numo bhūṣāratnaṁ bhuva iva vibhorasya dayitam| yadāsyādunmīlanniravakara-vṛndāvanarahaḥ-kathāsvādaṁ labdhvā jagati na janaḥ ko'pi ramate||3||

Word for word: gurum — the guru; nah — our; shrinatha-abhidham — named Srinatha; avani-deva-anvaya-vidhum — the moon in the line of the brahmanas ("gods of the earth"); numah — we bow to; bhusha-ratnam — a jewelled ornament; bhuvah — of the earth; iva — as it were; vibhoh — of the Lord; asya — of this; dayitam — the beloved; yat-asyat — from whose mouth; unmilan — coming forth; niravakara — pure, unalloyed (lit. "without refuse"); vrindavana-rahah-katha-asvadam — the taste of talks of the secrets of Vrindavana; labdhva — having obtained; jagati — in the world; na — not; janah ko 'pi — anyone; ramate — delights (in anything else).

3. We bow to our guru named Srinatha,[1] a moon in the line of the brahmanas, a jewelled ornament of the earth as it were, dear to the Lord: having tasted the pure, unalloyed talks of the secret pastimes of Vrindavana that pour from his lips, no one in the world delights in anything else.

Verse 4

पितरं श्रीशिवानन्दं सेनवंशप्रदीपकम्।
वन्देऽहं परया भक्त्या पार्षदाग्र्यं महाप्रभोः॥४॥

pitaraṁ śrīśivānandaṁ senavaṁśapradīpakam|
vande'haṁ parayā bhaktyā pārṣadāgryaṁ mahāprabhoḥ||4||

Word for word: pitaram — father; shri-shivanandam — Sri Shivananda; sena-vamsha-pradipakam — the lamp of the Sena family; vande — worship; aham — I; paraya bhaktya — with supreme devotion; parshada-agryam — the foremost of the associates; mahaprabhoh — of Mahaprabhu.

4. With supreme devotion I worship my father, Sri Shivananda, the lamp of the Sena family, foremost among the associates of Mahaprabhu.

Word for word: ye — who; vikhyatah — famous; parivarah — associates; shri-caitanya-mahaprabhoh — of Sri Chaitanya Mahaprabhu; nityananda-advaitayoh — of Nityananda and Advaita; ca — and; tesham — of them; api — also; mahiyasam — great; gopalanam — of the cowherds; ca — and; purvani — former; namani — names; yani kanicit — some; sva-sva-granthe — each in his own book; svarupa-adyaih — by Svarupa and others; darshitani — shown; adi-suribhih — by the first sages; vilokya — having studied; anyani — others; sadhunam — of the saints; mathura-audra-nivasinam — living in Mathura and Odra (Orissa); gaudiyanam — of the Gaudiyas; api — also; mukhat — from the lips; nishamya — having heard; sva-manishaya — by my own understanding; vivicya — having considered; amreditah — repeatedly asked; kaishcit — by some; kaishcit — some (of them); tani — them; likhami — write; aham — I; namna — by name; shri-paramananda-dasah — Sri Paramananda Dasa; sevita-shasanah — carrying out the command.

5. The famous associates of Sri Chaitanya Mahaprabhu, and those of the great Nityananda and Advaita too, and some of the former names of the cowherds which the first sages — Svarupa and others — pointed out each in his own book: having studied these, and having heard others from the lips of saints living in Mathura, in Odra (Orissa) and in Gauda, having considered them with my own understanding, and being repeatedly asked by some — I, named Sri Paramananda Dasa, carrying out the command given to me, write them down.

The beginning

Verse 6

यद्वत्पुरा कृष्णचन्द्रः पञ्चतत्त्वात्मकोऽपि सन्। यातः प्रकटतां तद्वद्गौरः प्रकटतामियात्॥६॥ yadvatpurā kṛṣṇacandraḥ pañcatattvātmako'pi san|

yātaḥ prakaṭatāṁ tadvadgauraḥ prakaṭatāmiyāt||6||

Word for word: yadvat — as; pura — once; krishnacandrah — Krishnachandra; panca-tattva-atmakah — fivefold in nature; api san — being; yatah — came; prakatatam — into manifestation; tadvat — so; gaurah — Gaura; prakatatam — manifestation; iyat — attained.

6. As once Krishnachandra, being fivefold in nature (pancha-tattva), became manifest in the world, so Gaura too became manifest.

Verse 7

स्वाभिन्नेन युतः तत्त्वं पञ्चतत्त्वमिहोच्यते।

अन्यथा तदसम्बन्धात्तत्तत्त्वं स्याच्चतुष्टयम्॥७॥

svābhinnena yutaḥ tattvaṁ pañcatattvamihocyate|
anyathā tadasambandhāttattattvaṁ syāccatuṣṭayam||7||

Word for word: sva-abhinnena — with what is non-different from Itself; yutah — joined; tattvam — the Truth; panca-tattvam — the pancha-tattva; iha — here; ucyate — is called; anyatha — otherwise; tat-asambandhat — through absence of connection with It; tat tattvam — that truth; syat — would be; catushtayam — a set of four.

7. The Truth joined with what is non-different from Itself is here called the pancha-tattva. Otherwise, were there no such connection, the truths would be a set of four.[2]

Verse 8

तद्भिन्नं यत्तदेवात्र तदभिन्नं विभाव्यताम्।

यतः स्वेच्छया शक्त्या कृष्णस्तादृशतां गतः॥८॥

tadbhinnaṁ yattadevātra tadabhinnaṁ vibhāvyatām|
yataḥ svecchayā śaktyā kṛṣṇastādṛśatāṁ gataḥ||8||

Word for word: tat-bhinnam — different from Him; yat — what; tat eva — that very thing; atra — here; tat-abhinnam — as non-different from Him; vibhavyatam — let it be understood; yatah — because; sva-icchaya — by His own will; shaktya — by potency; krishnah — Krishna; tadrishatam — such a nature; gatah — has assumed.

8. What is different from Him should here be understood as non-different from Him, for Krishna by His own will, by His own potency, has assumed such a form.

Verse 9

अतः स्वरूपचरणैरुक्तं तत्त्वनिरूपणे।

उपाधिभेदात् पञ्चत्वं तत्त्वस्येह प्रदर्श्यते॥९॥

ataḥ svarūpacaraṇairuktaṁ tattvanirūpaṇe|
upādhibhedāt pañcatvaṁ tattvasyeha pradarśyate||9||

Word for word: atah — therefore; svarupa-caranaih — by the feet of Svarupa; uktam — it is said; tattva-nirupane — in the Tattva-nirupana ("Description of the Truth"); upadhi-bhedat — by difference of designations; pancatvam — fivefoldness; tattvasya — of the Truth; iha — here; pradarshyate — is shown.

9. Therefore the feet of Svarupa[3] in the Tattva-nirupana ("Description of the Truth") have shown the fivefoldness of the one Truth according to the difference of its designations:

Verse 10

“पञ्चतत्त्वात्मकं कृष्णं भक्तरूपस्वरूपकम्।

भक्तावतारं भक्ताख्यं नमामि भक्तशक्तिकम्॥”१०॥

“pañcatattvātmakaṁ kṛṣṇaṁ bhaktarūpasvarūpakam|
bhaktāvatāraṁ bhaktākhyaṁ namāmi bhaktaśaktikam||”10||

Word for word: panca-tattva-atmakam — fivefold in nature; krishnam — to Krishna; bhakta-rupa-svarupakam — the devotee in form and the devotee in essence; bhakta-avataram — the incarnation of the devotee; bhakta-akhyam — the one called a devotee; namami — I bow; bhakta-shaktikam — the potency of the devotee.

10. "I bow to Krishna, fivefold in nature: the devotee in form, the devotee in essence, the incarnation of the devotee, the one called a devotee, and the potency of the devotee."

Verse 11

bhaktākhyāḥ śrīnivāsādyā yataste bhaktarūpiṇaḥ|
bhaktaśaktirdvijāgraṇyaḥ śrīgadādharapaṇḍitaḥ||11||

Word for word: asya — of this; arthah — the meaning; vivritah — explained; taih — by him (Svarupa); yah — which; sah — that; sankshipya — abridging; vilikhyate — is written; bhakta-rupah — the devotee in form; gauracandrah — Gaurachandra; yatah — because; asau — He; nanda-nandanah — the son of Nanda; bhakta-svarupah — the devotee in essence; nityanandah — Nityananda; vraje — in Vraja; yah — who; shri-halayudhah — Sri Halayudha; bhakta-avatarah — the incarnation of the devotee; acaryah advaitah — Advaita Acharya; yah — who; shri-sadashivah — Sri Sadashiva; bhakta-akhyah — those called devotees; shrinivasa-adyah — Srinivasa (Srivasa) and the others; yatah — because; te — they; bhakta-rupinah — having the form of devotees; bhakta-shaktih — the potency of the devotee; dvija-agranyah — the foremost of brahmanas; shri-gadadhara-panditah — Sri Gadadhara Pandita.

11. The meaning of this, as he explained it, I set down in brief. Gaurachandra is "the devotee in form," for He is the son of Nanda. Nityananda, who in Vraja is Sri Halayudha,[4] is "the devotee in essence." Advaita Acharya, who is Sri Sadashiva, is "the incarnation of the devotee." Srivasa and the others are "those called devotees," for they have the form of devotees. And "the potency of the devotee" is the foremost of brahmanas, Sri Gadadhara Pandita.

Verse 12

gosvāmino vigrahāśca te dvijaśca gadādharaḥ|
pañcatattvātmakā ete śrīnivāsaśca paṇḍitaḥ||12||

Word for word: shrimat-vishvambhara-advaita-nityananda-avadhutakah — Srimad Vishvambhara, Advaita and Nityananda Avadhuta; atra — here; trayah — three; samunneyah — are to be understood; vigrahah — as the Vigrahas; prabhavah — the Prabhus; ca — and; te — they; ekah — one; mahaprabhuh — Mahaprabhu; jneyah — is to be known; shri-caitanyah — Sri Chaitanya; daya-ambudhih — the ocean of mercy; prabhu dvau — the two Prabhus; shriyutau — glorious; nityananda-advaitau — Nityananda and Advaita; maha-ashayau — great-souled; gosvaminah — the Gosvamis; vigrahah — the Vigrahas; ca — and; te — they; dvijah — the brahmana; ca — and; gadadharah — Gadadhara; panca-tattva-atmakah — constituting the pancha-tattva; ete — these; shrinivasah — Srinivasa; ca — and; panditah — Pandita.

12. Srimad Vishvambhara, Advaita and Nityananda Avadhuta — these three are here to be understood as the Vigrahas and as the Prabhus. The one Mahaprabhu is Sri Chaitanya, the ocean of mercy; the two Prabhus are the glorious Nityananda and Advaita, the great-souled. They are the Gosvamis and the Vigrahas; and together with the brahmana Gadadhara and Srinivasa Pandita they constitute the pancha-tattva.

Verse 13

यदुक्तं तत्र गोस्वामिश्रीस्वरूपपदाम्बुजैः।
“त्रयोऽत्र विग्रहा ज्ञेयाः प्रभवश्चात्र ते त्रयः।

“trayo'tra vigrahā jñeyāḥ prabhavaścātra te trayaḥ|
eko mahāprabhurjñeyo dvau prabhū sammatau satām||”13||

Word for word: yat — as; uktam — it is said; tatra — on this; gosvami-shri-svarupa-pada-ambujaih — by the lotus feet of Gosvami Sri Svarupa; trayah — three; atra — here; vigrahah — Vigrahas; jneyah — are to be known; prabhavah — Prabhus; ca — and; atra — here; te trayah — these three; ekah — one; mahaprabhuh — Mahaprabhu; jneyah — is acknowledged; dvau — two; prabhu — Prabhus; sammatau — accepted; satam — by the saints.

13. As the lotus feet of Gosvami Sri Svarupa have said: "Here three are to be known as the Vigrahas, and these same three are the Prabhus; of them one is acknowledged by the saints as Mahaprabhu, and two as Prabhus."

Verse 14

एषां पार्षदवर्गा ये महान्तः परिकीर्त्तिताः।
नित्यानन्दगणाः सर्वे गोपाला गोपवेशिनः। एषां सम्बन्धसम्पर्कादुपगोपालसत्तमाः॥१४॥

eṣāṁ pārṣadavargā ye mahāntaḥ parikīrttitāḥ|
nityānandagaṇāḥ sarve gopālā gopaveśinaḥ|
eṣāṁ sambandhasamparkādupagopālasattamāḥ||14||

Word for word: esham — their (of the pancha-tattva); parshada-vargah — circles of associates; ye — which; mahantah — as mahantas; parikirttitah — are celebrated; nityananda-ganah — the associates of Nityananda; sarve — all; gopalah — gopalas; gopa-veshinah — in cowherd dress; esham — with them; sambandha-samparkat — by connection and closeness; upagopala-sattamah — the best of the upa-gopalas.

14. Among their circles of associates, celebrated as the mahantas, all the associates of Nityananda are gopalas — cowherd boys in cowherd dress; and by their connection and closeness with them, others are the best of the upa-gopalas.[5]

Verse 15

तत्र श्रीमन्नवद्वीपे विश्वम्भरसमीपतः। विलसन्ति स्म ते ज्ञेया वैष्णवा हि महत्तमाः॥१५॥

tatra śrīmannavadvīpe viśvambharasamīpataḥ|
vilasanti sma te jñeyā vaiṣṇavā hi mahattamāḥ||15||

Word for word: tatra — among them; shriman-navadvipe — in glorious Navadvipa; vishvambhara-samipatah — near Vishvambhara; vilasanti sma — sported; te — they; jneyah — are to be known; vaishnavah — as Vaishnavas; hi — indeed; mahattamah — the very greatest.

15. Those of them who sported in glorious Navadvipa near Vishvambhara are to be known as the very greatest Vaishnavas (mahattama).

Verse 16

नीलाचले ये ये ख्यातास्ते हि ज्ञेया महत्तराः।
दक्षिणादिदिशां याने यैर्यैः सङ्गो महाप्रभोः।
ते ते महान्तो मन्तव्याः परे ज्ञेयाः स्वयोग्यतः॥१६॥

nīlācale ye ye khyātāste hi jñeyā mahattarāḥ|
dakṣiṇādidiśāṁ yāne yairyaiḥ saṅgo mahāprabhoḥ|
te te mahānto mantavyāḥ pare jñeyāḥ svayogyataḥ||16||

Word for word: nilacale — in Nilachala; ye ye — whoever; khyatah — became famous; te — they; hi — indeed; jneyah — are to be known; mahattarah — as great; dakshina-adi-disham — to the south and other directions; yane — on the journey; yair yaih — with whom; sangah — company; mahaprabhoh — of Mahaprabhu; te te — they; mahantah — as mahantas; mantavyah — are to be regarded; pare — the others; jneyah — are known; sva-yogyatah — by their own merit.

16. Those who became famous in Nilachala are to be known as great (mahattara). Those with whom Mahaprabhu kept company on His journeys to the south and in other directions are also to be regarded as mahantas; the rest are to be known according to their own merit.

Verse 17

अतः स्वरूपचरणैरुक्तं गौरनिरूपणे।
“पञ्चतत्त्वस्य सम्पर्कात् ये ये ख्याता महत्तमाः।

ते ते महान्तो गोपालाः स्थानाच्छ्रैष्ठ्यादिवाचकाः॥”१७॥

ataḥ svarūpacaraṇairuktaṁ gauranirūpaṇe|
“pañcatattvasya samparkāt ye ye khyātā mahattamāḥ|
te te mahānto gopālāḥ sthānācchraiṣṭhyādivācakāḥ||”17||

Word for word: atah — therefore; svarupa-caranaih — by the feet of Svarupa; uktam — it is said; gaura-nirupane — in the Gaura-nirupana; panca-tattvasya — with the pancha-tattva; samparkat — through connection; ye ye — whoever; khyatah — are famous; mahattamah — as the greatest; te te — they; mahantah — mahantas; gopalah — gopalas; sthanat — of place; shraishthya-adi-vacakah — indicating pre-eminence and so on.

17. Therefore the feet of Svarupa said in the Gaura-nirupana ("Description of Gaura"): "Those who became famous as the greatest through their connection with the pancha-tattva are the mahanta-gopalas; these words indicate pre-eminence of place and so on."

Navadvipa

Verse 18

रसज्ञाः श्रीवृन्दावनमिति यमाहुर्बहुविदो यमेतं गोलोकं कतिपयजनाः प्राहुरपरे। sitadvīpaṁ prāhuḥ paramapi paravyoma jagadu-rnavadvīpaḥ so'yaṁ jayati paramāścaryamahimā||18||

Word for word: rasa-jnah — the knowers of rasa; shri-vrindavanam iti — as "Sri Vrindavana"; yam — which; ahuh — call; bahu-vidah — the learned; yam etam — this same; golokam — as Goloka; katipaya-janah — some people; prahuh — call; apare — others; sita-dvipam — Shvetadvipa; prahuh — call; param api — others still; paravyoma — Paravyoma; jagaduh — called; navadvipah — Navadvipa; sah ayam — this is that; jayati — be glorious; parama-ashcarya-mahima — whose greatness is supremely wonderful.

18. That which the knowers of rasa call Sri Vrindavana, which the learned call Goloka, which some call Shvetadvipa, and others still the supreme Paravyoma — that is Navadvipa, whose greatness is supremely wonderful; may it be glorious!

yatrāsījjagatāṁ mano'pi paramānandāya magnaṁ yataḥ||19||

Word for word: tasmin — in it; vasam — dwelling; uricakara — accepted; nriharih — Nrihari; vishvambhara-akhyam — the name Vishvambhara; dadhat — bearing; tat-ceshta-vashatah — drawn by His deeds; samasta-mahatam — of all the great; vasah — dwelling; api — also; tatra — there; abhavat — came about; taih sakam — together with them; mahati — great; hareh — of Hari; anuguna-akara — befitting His form; api — also; lila — pastime; abhavat — took place; yatra — in which; asit — was; jagatam — of the world; manah — the mind; api — even; parama-anandaya — in supreme bliss; magnam — immersed; yatah — so that.

19. There Nrihari,[6] taking the name Vishvambhara, made His dwelling; and, drawn by His deeds, all the great souls came to dwell there too. With them the great pastime (lila) of Hari took place there, befitting His form, in which even the mind of the whole world became immersed in supreme bliss.

Verse 20

यः सत्ये सितवर्णमादधदसौ श्रीशुक्लनामाभवत्
त्रेतायां मखभुङ्मखाख्य उचितोऽभूद्रक्तवर्णं दधत्।

“ataḥ kalau bhaviṣyanti catvāraḥ sampradāyinaḥ|
śrī-brahma-rudra-sanakā vaiṣṇavāḥ kṣitipāvanāḥ||”21||

Word for word: pradurbhutah — appeared; kali-yuge — in the age of Kali; catvarah — four; sampradayikah — sampradayas; shri-brahma-rudra-sanaka-ahvayah — called those of Sri, Brahma, Rudra and Sanaka; padme — in the Padma Purana; yatha — as; smritah — are recorded; atah — therefore; kalau — in Kali; bhavishyanti — there will be; catvarah — four; sampradayinah — sampradayas; shri-brahma-rudra-sanakah — of Sri, Brahma, Rudra and Sanaka; vaishnavah — Vaishnavas; kshiti-pavanah — purifiers of the earth.

21. In the age of Kali four sampradayas appeared, called those of Sri, of Brahma, of Rudra and of Sanaka, as is recorded in the Padma Purana: "Therefore in the age of Kali there will be four sampradayas — the Vaishnavas of Sri, Brahma, Rudra and Sanaka, purifiers of the earth."

Word for word: tatra — of these; madhvi-sampradayah — the sampradaya of Madhva; prastarat — in detail; atra — here; likhyate — is described; paravyoma-ishvarasya — of the Lord of Paravyoma; asit — was; shishyah — the disciple; brahma — Brahma; jagat-patih — lord of the world; tasya — his; shishyah — disciple; naradah — Narada; abhut — was; vyasah — Vyasa; tasya — his; apa — attained; shishyatam — discipleship; shukah — Shuka; vyasasya — of Vyasa; shishyatvam — discipleship; praptah — attained; jnana-avarodhanat — by giving up (dry) knowledge; tasya — his; shishyah — disciples; prashishyah — grand-disciples; ca — and; bahavah — many; bhutale — on the earth; sthitah — are; vyasat — from Vyasa; labdha-krishna-dikshah — having received initiation into (the mantra of) Krishna; madhva-acaryah — Madhvacharya; maha-yashah — renowned; cakre — composed; vedan — the Vedas; vibhajya — having divided (examined); asau — he; samhitam — the compendium; shatadushanim — Shatadushani; nirgunat brahmanah — as distinct from Brahman without qualities; yatra — in which; sagunasya — of (Brahman) with qualities; parishkriya — establishment (refinement); tasya — his; shishyah — disciple; abhavat — was; padmanabha-acarya-maha-ashayah — the venerable Padmanabhacharya; tasya shishyah — his disciple; naraharih — Narahari; tat-shishyah — his disciple; madhava-dvijah — the brahmana Madhava; akshobhyah — Akshobhya; tasya shishyah abhut — was his disciple; tat-shishyah — his disciple; jayatirthakah — Jayatirtha; tasya shishyah — his disciple; jnanasindhuh — Jnanasindhu; tasya shishyah — his disciple; mahanidhih — Mahanidhi; vidyanidhih — Vidyanidhi; tasya shishyah — his disciple; rajendrah — Rajendra; tasya sevakah — his servant (disciple); jayadharma-munih — the sage Jayadharma; tasya shishyah — his disciple; yat-gana-madhyatah — from whose circle; shrimat-vishnupuri — Srimad Vishnupuri; yah tu — who; bhakti-ratnavali-kritih — the author of the Bhakti-ratnavali; jayadharmasya — of Jayadharma; shishyah — disciple; abhut — was; brahmanyah — Brahmanya; purushottamah — Purushottama; vyasatirthah — Vyasatirtha; tasya shishyah — his disciple; yah — who; cakre — composed; vishnu-samhitam — the Vishnu-samhita; shriman lakshmipatih — Sriman Lakshmipati; tasya shishyah — his disciple; bhakti-rasa-ashrayah — the abode of the rasa of devotion; tasya shishyah — his disciple; madhavendrah — Madhavendra; yat — by whom; dharmah ayam — this dharma; pravarttitah — was set in motion; kalpa-vrikshasya — of the wish-fulfilling tree; avatarah — the incarnation; vraja-dhamani — in the abode of Vraja; tishthatah — standing; prita-preyo-vatsalata-ujjvala-akhya-phala-dharinah — bearing the fruits called prita (service), preyas (friendship), vatsalya (parental love) and ujjvala (conjugal love).

22. Of these, the sampradaya of Madhva is here described in detail. The disciple of the Lord of Paravyoma was Brahma, the lord of the world. His disciple was Narada, and Vyasa became Narada's disciple. Shuka became the disciple of Vyasa, having given up (dry) knowledge. His disciples and grand-disciples are many on the earth. From Vyasa the renowned Madhvacharya received initiation into the mantra of Krishna. Having divided (examined) the Vedas, he composed the compendium Shatadushani,[7] in which Brahman with qualities is established as distinct from Brahman without qualities. His disciple was the venerable Padmanabhacharya; his disciple was Narahari, and his disciple the brahmana Madhava. His disciple was Akshobhya, whose disciple was Jayatirtha; his disciple was Jnanasindhu, whose disciple was Mahanidhi; his disciple was Vidyanidhi, whose servant was Rajendra; his disciple was the sage Jayadharma, from whose circle came Srimad Vishnupuri, the author of the Bhakti-ratnavali. The disciple of Jayadharma was Purushottama, [and after him] Brahmanya; his disciple was Vyasatirtha, who composed the Vishnu-samhita; his disciple was Sriman Lakshmipati, the abode of the rasa of devotion; his disciple was Madhavendra, by whom this dharma was set in motion. He is the incarnation of the wish-fulfilling tree that grows in the abode of Vraja and bears the fruits called service, friendship, parental love and conjugal love.[8]

Verse 23

तस्य शिष्योऽभवच्छ्रीमानीश्वराख्यपुरी यतिः।

tasya śiṣyo'bhavacchrīmānīśvarākhyapurī yatiḥ|
kalayāmāsa śṛṅgāraṁ yaḥ śṛṅgāraphalātmakaḥ||23||

Word for word: tasya — his; shishyah — disciple; abhavat — was; shriman — Sriman; ishvara-akhya-puri — the Puri named Ishvara; yatih — the renunciant; kalayamasa — manifested; shringaram — shringara (conjugal rasa); yah — who; shringara-phala-atmakah — whose nature is the fruit of conjugal love.

23. His disciple was the renunciant Sriman Ishvara Puri, who, being the very fruit of conjugal love, manifested shringara.

Verse 24

अद्वैतः कलयामास दास्यसख्ये फले उभे।
श्रीमान् रङ्गपुरी ह्येष वात्सल्ये यः समाश्रितः॥२४॥

advaitaḥ kalayāmāsa dāsyasakhye phale ubhe|
śrīmān raṅgapurī hyeṣa vātsalye yaḥ samāśritaḥ||24||

Word for word: advaitah — Advaita; kalayamasa — manifested; dasya-sakhye — service and friendship; phale — the fruits; ubhe — both; shriman — Sriman; rangapuri — Rangapuri; hi — and; eshah — he; vatsalye — in parental love; yah — who; samashritah — took shelter.

24. Advaita manifested both fruits, service and friendship; and Sriman Rangapuri took shelter in parental love.

Verse 25

ईश्वराख्यपुरीं गौर उररीकृत्य गौरवे।

īśvarākhyapurīṁ gaura urarīkṛtya gaurave|
jagadāplāvayāmāsa prākṛtāprākṛtātmakam||25||

Word for word: ishvara-akhya-purim — the Puri named Ishvara; gaurah — Gaura; urarikritya — accepting; gaurave — with reverence (as guru); jagat — the world; aplavayamasa — flooded; prakrita-aprakrita-atmakam — both material and spiritual.

25. Gaura, accepting Ishvara Puri with reverence as His guru, flooded the world, both material and spiritual.

Gaura, "the devotee in form"

Verse 26

स्वीकृत्य राधिकाभावकान्तिं पूर्वसुदुष्करे।

svīkṛtya rādhikābhāvakāntiṁ pūrvasuduṣkare|
antarbahīrasāmbhodhiḥ śrīnandanandano'pi san||26||

Word for word: svikritya — accepting; radhika-bhava-kantim — the mood and lustre of Radhika; purva-sudushkare — formerly most difficult to attain; antar-bahih — within and without; rasa-ambhodhih — an ocean of rasa; shri-nanda-nandanah — Sri Nandanandana; api san — though being.

26. Although He is Sri Nandanandana Himself, an ocean of rasa within and without, He accepted the mood and the lustre of Radhika, which had never before been attained.

Verse 27

आद्यव्यूहोऽपि चैतन्यमविशत् यः पुरे पुरा। ādyavyūho'pi caitanyamaviśat yaḥ pure purā|

vicukṣobha manastasya dṛṣṭvā gandharvanarttanam||27||

Word for word: adya-vyuhah — the original vyuha; api — also; caitanyam — into Chaitanya; avishat — entered; yah — who (whose); pure — in the city; pura — once; vicukshobha — was stirred; manah — the mind; tasya — his; drishtva — on seeing; gandharva-narttanam — the dance of the Gandharvas.

27. The original vyuha,[9] whose mind was once stirred in His city on seeing the dance of the Gandharvas, also entered into Chaitanya.

Verse 28

द्वारकास्थोऽपि भगवानविशत् श्रीशचीसुतम्।

नानावतारः सुतरामेककालप्रभावतः॥२८॥

dvārakāstho'pi bhagavānaviśat śrīśacīsutam|
nānāvatāraḥ sutarāmekakālaprabhāvataḥ||28||

Word for word: dvaraka-sthah — dwelling in Dvaraka; api — also; bhagavan — Bhagavan; avishat — entered; shri-shaci-sutam — the son of Sri Shachi; nana-avatarah — the many incarnations; sutaram — surely; eka-kala-prabhavatah — by the power of simultaneity.

28. The Lord (Bhagavan) who dwells in Dvaraka also entered the son of Shachi, and so, by the power of simultaneity, did the many incarnations —

Verse 29

यथा श्यामोऽविशत् कृष्णं भगवन्तं पुरा स्वयम्॥२९॥

yathā śyāmo'viśat kṛṣṇaṁ bhagavantaṁ purā svayam||29||

Word for word: yatha — as; shyamah — Shyama; avishat — entered; krishnam — Krishna; bhagavantam — Bhagavan; pura — once; svayam — Himself.

29. just as once Shyama[10] entered into Bhagavan Krishna Himself.

Verse 30

योगमाया-बलादेते तिष्ठन्तोऽन्यत्र यद्यपि।

तथापि प्राविशन् गौरेऽचिन्त्यलक्षणलक्षिताः॥३०॥

yogamāyā-balādete tiṣṭhanto'nyatra yadyapi|
tathāpi prāviśan gaure'cintyalakṣaṇalakṣitāḥ||30||

Word for word: yogamaya-balat — by the power of Yogamaya; ete — they; tishthantah — remaining; anyatra — elsewhere; yadyapi — although; tathapi — still; pravishan — entered; gaure — into Gaura; acintya-lakshana-lakshitah — marked by inconceivable signs.

30. Although by the power of Yogamaya they remain elsewhere as well, still they entered into Gaura — which is recognized only by inconceivable signs.

Verse 31

यथोक्तं व्यासचरणैः प्रभासखण्डमध्यतः।

“अचिन्त्याः खलु ये भावा न तांस्तर्केण योजयेत्।” इति॥३१॥

yathoktaṁ vyāsacaraṇaiḥ prabhāsakhaṇḍamadhyataḥ|
“acintyāḥ khalu ye bhāvā na tāṁstarkeṇa yojayet|” iti||31||

Word for word: yatha — as; uktam — it is said; vyasa-caranaih — by the feet of Vyasa; prabhasa-khanda-madhyatah — in the Prabhasa-khanda; acintyah — inconceivable; khalu — indeed; ye — which; bhavah — truths; na — not; tan — them; tarkena — to reasoning; yojayet — one should subject; iti — thus.

31. As the feet of Vyasa have said in the Prabhasa-khanda: "Truths that are inconceivable must not be subjected to reasoning."

Verse 32

रघुनाथं प्रविश्यापि यथा तिष्ठति भार्गवः।

एवं श्रीनारदमुखास्तिष्ठन्त्यन्येषु धामसु।

raghunāthaṁ praviśyāpi yathā tiṣṭhati bhārgavaḥ|
evaṁ śrīnāradamukhāstiṣṭhantyanyeṣu dhāmasu|
tathaiva prabhunā sārddhaṁ dīvyanti śrutidehavat||32||

Word for word: raghunatham — into Raghunatha; pravishya api — even having entered; yatha — as; tishthati — remains (separately); bhargavah — Bhargava; evam — so; shri-narada-mukhah — Narada and the others; tishthanti — remain; anyeshu — in other; dhamasu — abodes; tatha eva — and likewise; prabhuna sarddham — together with the Lord; divyanti — sport; shruti-dehavat — like the personified shrutis.

32. As Bhargava,[11] though he entered into Raghunatha, still remains separately, so Narada and the others remain in other abodes and at the same time sport with the Lord, like the personified shrutis.

Verse 33

किन्तु यद्यद्भक्तगणा यद्यद्भावविलासिनः।
तत्तद्भावानुसारेण व्रजे तेषामभूद्गतिः॥३३॥

kintu yadyadbhaktagaṇā yadyadbhāvavilāsinaḥ|
tattadbhāvānusāreṇa vraje teṣāmabhūdgatiḥ||33||

Word for word: kintu — but; yad-yad-bhakta-ganah — whatever devotees; yad-yad-bhava-vilasinah — delighting in whatever mood; tat-tat-bhava-anusarena — in accordance with that mood; vraje — in Vraja; tesham — their; abhut — was; gatih — destination.

33. But whatever mood (bhava) the various devotees delighted in, in accordance with that mood they attained their destination in Vraja.

Verse 34

गौरचन्द्रोदयेऽद्वैतं प्रति गौरवचो यथा॥ “दास्ये केचन केचन प्रणयिनः सख्ये त एवोभये sakhyādāvubhayatra kecana pare ye vāvatārāntare mayyābaddhahṛdo'khilān vitanavai vṛndāvanāsaṅginaḥ||”34||

Word for word: gaura-candrodaye — in the Gaura-chandrodaya; advaitam prati — to Advaita; gaura-vacah — the words of Gaura; yatha — as; dasye — in service; kecana — some; kecana — some; pranayinah — loving; sakhye — in friendship; te eva — they; ubhaye — in both; radha-madhava-nishthaya — with devotion to Radha and Madhava; katipaye — some; shri-dvaraka-adhishituh — (to) the Lord of Dvaraka; sakhya-adau — in friendship and the rest; ubhayatra — towards both; kecana — some; pare — others; ye — who; va — or; avatara-antare — towards another incarnation; mayi — to Me; abaddha-hridah — with hearts bound; akhilan — all; vitanavai — I shall make; vrindavana-asanginah — devoted to Vrindavana.

34. As Gaura says to Advaita in the Gaura-chandrodaya:[12] "Some are in service, some are loving in friendship, and some in both; some are devoted to Radha and Madhava, some to the Lord of Dvaraka; others in friendship and the rest towards both, and still others towards other incarnations — all of them, binding their hearts to Me, I shall make devoted to Vrindavana."

Mahaprabhu's relatives

Verse 35

पर्जन्यो नाम गोपाल आसीत् कृष्णपितामहः।
उपेन्द्रमिश्रः सन् जातः श्रीहट्टे सप्तपुत्रवान्॥३५॥

parjanyo nāma gopāla āsīt kṛṣṇapitāmahaḥ|
upendramiśraḥ san jātaḥ śrīhaṭṭe saptaputravān||35||

Word for word: parjanyah nama — named Parjanya; gopalah — a cowherd; asit — was; krishna-pitamahah — Krishna's grandfather; upendra-mishrah — Upendra Mishra; san — becoming; jatah — was born; shrihatte — in Shrihatta; sapta-putravan — the father of seven sons.

35. The cowherd named Parjanya, Krishna's grandfather, was born in Shrihatta as Upendra Mishra, the father of seven sons.

Verse 36

महामान्याभिधा गोपी व्रजे यासीद्वरीयसी। कृष्ण-पितामही सैव नाम्नात्र कमलावती॥३६॥

mahāmānyābhidhā gopī vraje yāsīdvarīyasī|
kṛṣṇa-pitāmahī saiva nāmnātra kamalāvatī||36||

Word for word: mahamanya-abhidha — named Mahamanya; gopi — cowherd woman; vraje — in Vraja; ya — who; asit — was; variyasi — most eminent; krishna-pitamahi — Krishna's grandmother; sa eva — she; namna — by name; atra — here; kamalavati — Kamalavati.

36. The eminent cowherd woman of Vraja named Mahamanya, Krishna's grandmother, here bears the name Kamalavati.

Verse 37

पुरा यशोदा-व्रजराजनन्दौ
वृन्दावने प्रेमरसाकरौ यौ। शची-जगन्नाथपुरन्दराभिधौ

purā yaśodā-vrajarājanandau
vṛndāvane premarasākarau yau|
śacī-jagannāthapurandarābhidhau
babhūvatustau na ca saṁśayo'tra||37||

Word for word: pura — once; yashoda-vrajaraja-nandau — Yashoda and the king of Vraja, Nanda; vrindavane — in Vrindavana; prema-rasa-akarau — mines of the rasa of love; yau — who; shaci-jagannatha-purandara-abhidhau — named Shachi and Jagannatha Purandara; babhuvatuh — became; tau — they; na ca — and there is no; samshayah — doubt; atra — in this.

37. Yashoda and the king of Vraja, Nanda, who once in Vrindavana were mines of the rasa of love, became Shachi and Jagannatha Purandara — of this there is no doubt.

Verse 38

अमू अविशतामेव देवावदिति-कश्यपौ।

श्रीकौशल्या-दशरथौ तथा श्रीपृश्नि-तत्पती॥३८॥

amū aviśatāmeva devāvaditi-kaśyapau|
śrīkauśalyā-daśarathau tathā śrīpṛśni-tatpatī||38||

Word for word: amu — into these two; avishatam — entered; eva — also; devau — the divine; aditi-kashyapau — Aditi and Kashyapa; shri-kaushalya-dasharathau — Sri Kaushalya and Dasharatha; tatha — and also; shri-prishni-tat-pati — Sri Prishni and her husband.

38. Into them also entered the divine Aditi and Kashyapa, Sri Kaushalya and Dasharatha, and Sri Prishni and her husband.

Verse 39

Verse 51

केनावान्तरभेदेन भेदं कुर्वन्ति सात्वताः।

सत्यभामाप्रकाशोऽपि जगदानन्दपण्डितः॥५१॥

kenāvāntarabhedena bhedaṁ kurvanti sātvatāḥ|
satyabhāmāprakāśo'pi jagadānandapaṇḍitaḥ||51||

Word for word: kena — by a certain; avantara-bhedena — secondary distinction; bhedam — distinction; kurvanti — make; satvatah — the Satvatas; satyabhama-prakashah — a manifestation of Satyabhama; api — also; jagadananda-panditah — Jagadananda Pandita.

51. By a certain secondary distinction, the Satvatas hold that Jagadananda Pandita is a manifestation of Satyabhama.

Verse 52

मथुरायां यज्ञसूत्रं पुरा कृष्णाय यो मुनिः।

ददौ सान्दीपनिः सोऽभूदद्य केशवभारती॥५२॥

mathurāyāṁ yajñasūtraṁ purā kṛṣṇāya yo muniḥ|
dadau sāndīpaniḥ so'bhūdadya keśavabhāratī||52||

Word for word: mathurayam — in Mathura; yajna-sutram — the sacred thread; pura — once; krishnaya — to Krishna; yah — who; munih — the sage; dadau — gave; sandipanih — Sandipani; sah — he; abhut — became; adya — now; keshava-bharati — Keshava Bharati.

52. The sage Sandipani, who once in Mathura gave Krishna the sacred thread, has now become Keshava Bharati.

Verse 53

पुरासीद्रघुनाथस्य यो वशिष्ठमुनिर्गुरुः।

स प्रकाशविशेषेण गङ्गादास-सुदर्शनौ॥५३॥

53. The sage Vasishtha, once the guru of Raghunatha, became by a special manifestation Gangadasa and Sudarshana.[16]

Verse 54

वृषभानुतया ख्यातः पुरा यो व्रजमण्डले।

अधुना पुण्डरीकाख्यो विद्यानिधिमहाशयः॥५४॥ vṛṣabhānutayā khyātaḥ purā yo vrajamaṇḍale|

adhunā puṇḍarīkākhyo vidyānidhimahāśayaḥ||54||

Word for word: vrishabhanu-taya — as Vrishabhanu; khyatah — famous; pura — once; yah — who; vraja-mandale — in the land of Vraja; adhuna — now; pundarika-akhyah — named Pundarika; vidyanidhi-maha-ashayah — the venerable Vidyanidhi.

54. He who was once famous in the land of Vraja as Vrishabhanu is now the venerable Pundarika Vidyanidhi.

Verse 55

स्वकीयभावमास्वाद्य राधाविरहकातरः।

चैतन्यः पुण्डरीकाह्वये तातावदत् स्वयम्॥५५॥

svakīyabhāvamāsvādya rādhāvirahakātaraḥ|
caitanyaḥ puṇḍarīkāhvaye tātāvadat svayam||55||

Word for word: svakiya-bhavam — His own mood; asvadya — tasting; radha-viraha-katarah — afflicted by separation (as) Radha; caitanyah — Chaitanya; pundarika-ahvaye — to the one called Pundarika; tata — "Father"; avadat — said; svayam — Himself.

55. Tasting His own mood and afflicted by separation like Radha, Chaitanya Himself called Pundarika "Father."

Verse 56

प्रेमनिधितया ख्यातिं गौरो यस्मै ददौ सुखी।

माधवेन्द्रस्य शिष्यत्वात् गौरवञ्च सदाकरोत्॥५६॥

premanidhitayā khyātiṁ gauro yasmai dadau sukhī|
mādhavendrasya śiṣyatvāt gauravañca sadākarot||56||

Word for word: premanidhi-taya — as Premanidhi; khyatim — fame (name); gaurah — Gaura; yasmai — to whom; dadau — gave; sukhi — joyful; madhavendrasya — of Madhavendra; shishyatvat — because of being the disciple; gauravam — honour; ca — and; sada — always; akarot — showed.

56. Gaura joyfully gave him the glorious name Premanidhi, and always honoured him, because he was a disciple of Madhavendra.

Verse 57

तत्प्रकाशविशेषोऽपि मिश्रः श्रीमाधवो मतः।

रत्नावती तु तत्पत्नी कीर्त्तिदा कीर्त्तिता बुधैः॥५७॥

tatprakāśaviśeṣo'pi miśraḥ śrīmādhavo mataḥ|
ratnāvatī tu tatpatnī kīrttidā kīrttitā budhaiḥ||57||

Word for word: tat-prakasha-visheshah — his (Vrishabhanu's) special manifestation; api — also; mishrah shri-madhavah — Sri Madhava Mishra; matah — is considered; ratnavati — Ratnavati; tu — and; tat-patni — his wife; kirttida — Kirtida; kirttita — is declared; budhaih — by the wise.

57. A special manifestation of him is considered to be Sri Madhava Mishra,[17] and his wife Ratnavati is declared by the wise to be Kirtida.

Translator's notes

1. Srinatha Pandita, the guru of Kavi Karnapura, a disciple of Advaita Acharya.

2. That is, the five truths are not separate from Krishna: were they not bound to Him by oneness, there would be a set of four truths separate from Him.

3. Svarupa Damodara, Chaitanya's closest associate in Puri. His Kadacha (notes), on which Kavi Karnapura draws, has not come down to us; it is known only through quotations.

4. Halayudha ("armed with the plough") is Balarama.

5. The twelve gopalas of Nityananda and the upa-gopalas are the traditional grouping of His associates.

6. Nrihari: Hari appearing as a man.

7. Shatadushani ("A Hundred Refutations") is apparently the traditional name of a polemical compendium against Advaita (monism).

8. This "Madhva" succession of the Gaudiya Vaishnavas (through Lakshmipati to Madhavendra Puri) is one of the most discussed passages of the book; some scholars consider it a later interpolation.

9. The original vyuha is Vasudeva, the first of the four vyuhas (Vasudeva, Sankarshana, Pradyumna, Aniruddha).

10. Shyama is the yuga-avatara of the Dvapara age.

11. Bhargava is Parashurama.

12. That is, the Chaitanya-chandrodaya, the drama by Kavi Karnapura himself (Act 10).

13. The parents of Nityananda.

14. Bhu is Bhumi, the goddess Earth, one of the consorts of Vishnu.

15. Vanamali Acharya, who arranged the marriage of Nimai and Lakshmipriya.

16. Gangadasa and Sudarshana were the teachers of the young Nimai.

17. The father of Gadadhara Pandita.

Part Two

Nityananda and the vyuhas. Advaita Acharya and his family. Srivasa and "those called devotees." The sannyasi associates. Puri: Prataparudra, Sarvabhauma, Ramananda (verses 58–123)

Nityananda, "the devotee in essence"

Verse 58

अंश-अंशिनोरभेदेन व्यूह आद्यः शचीसुतः। बलदेवो विश्वरूपो व्यूहः सङ्कर्षणो मतः॥

aṁśa-aṁśinorabhedena vyūha ādyaḥ śacīsutaḥ|
baladevo viśvarūpo vyūhaḥ saṅkarṣaṇo mataḥ||

Word for word: amsha-amshinoh — of the part and the whole; abhedena — by non-difference; vyuhah — vyuha; adyah — the original; shaci-sutah — the son of Shachi; baladevah — Baladeva; vishvarupah — Vishvarupa; vyuhah — the vyuha; sankarshanah — Sankarshana; matah — is considered.

58. Since the part and the whole are not different, the original vyuha is the son of Shachi; Baladeva, the vyuha Sankarshana, is considered to be Vishvarupa.

Verse 59

नित्यानन्दावधूतश्च प्रकाशेन स उच्यते॥ गौरचन्द्रोदये धर्मं प्रति वाक्यं कलेर्यथा॥ nityānandāvadhūtaśca prakāśena sa ucyate||

gauracandrodaye dharmaṁ prati vākyaṁ kaleryathā||

Word for word: nityananda-avadhutah — Nityananda Avadhuta; ca — and; prakashena — by manifestation; sah — He; ucyate — is called; gaura-candrodaye — in the Gaura-chandrodaya; dharmam prati — to Dharma; vakyam — the words; kaleh — of Kali; yatha — as.

59. And by manifestation He is also called Nityananda Avadhuta. As Kali says to Dharma in the Gaura-chandrodaya:

Verse 60

“अस्याग्रजस्त्वकृतदारपरिग्रहः सन्
सङ्कर्षणः स भगवान् भुवि विश्वरूपः।
स्वीयं महः किल पुरीश्वरमापयित्वा
पूर्वं परिव्रजित एव तिरोबभूव॥” इति॥

“asyāgrajastvakṛtadāraparigrahaḥ san saṅkarṣaṇaḥ sa bhagavān bhuvi viśvarūpaḥ| svīyaṁ mahaḥ kila purīśvaramāpayitvā
pūrvaṁ parivrajita eva tirobabhūva||” iti||

Word for word: asya — His; agrajah — elder brother; tu — indeed; akrita-dara-parigrahah — who did not take a wife; san — being; sankarshanah — Sankarshana; sah — He; bhagavan — Bhagavan; bhuvi — on earth; vishvarupah — Vishvarupa; sviyam — His own; mahah — splendour; kila — indeed; puri-ishvaram — to the Puri-ishvara; apayitva — having passed on; purvam — earlier; parivrajitah — took to the wandering life; eva — indeed; tirobabhuva — disappeared; iti — thus.

60. "His elder brother, who never took a wife, is Bhagavan Sankarshana Himself, Vishvarupa on earth; having passed His own splendour to the Puri-ishvara,[18] He earlier took to the wandering life and disappeared."

Verse 61

"नित्यानन्दावधूतो मह इति महितम् हन्त सङ्कर्षणं यः।" इति च॥

"nityānandāvadhūto maha iti mahitam
hanta saṅkarṣaṇaṁ yaḥ|" iti ca||

Word for word: nityananda-avadhutah — Nityananda Avadhuta; mahah — the splendour; iti — thus; mahitam — honoured; hanta — ah; sankarshanam — Sankarshana; yah — who (is); iti ca — and thus.

61. And also: "Nityananda Avadhuta, the splendour honoured [by Brahma and others], He who is Sankarshana."

Verse 62

यदा श्रीविश्वरूपोऽयं तिरोभूतः सनातनः। नित्यानन्दावधूतेन मिलित्वापि तदा स्थितः॥

yadā śrīviśvarūpo'yaṁ tirobhūtaḥ sanātanaḥ|
nityānandāvadhūtena militvāpi tadā sthitaḥ||

Word for word: yada — when; shri-vishvarupah — Sri Vishvarupa; ayam — this; tirobhutah — disappeared; sanatanah — eternal; nityananda-avadhutena — with Nityananda Avadhuta; militva — uniting; api — also; tada — then; sthitah — remained.

62. When this eternal Sri Vishvarupa disappeared, He, uniting with Nityananda Avadhuta, then remained in Him.

Verse 63

ततोऽवधूतो भगवान् बलात्मा
भवन् सदा वैष्णववर्गमध्ये।
जज्वाल तिग्मांशुसहस्रतेजा इति ब्रुवन् मे जनको ननर्त्त॥

tato'vadhūto bhagavān balātmā
bhavan sadā vaiṣṇavavargamadhye| jajvāla tigmāṁśusahasratejā
iti bruvan me janako nanartta||

Word for word: tatah — therefore; avadhutah — the Avadhuta; bhagavan — divine; bala-atma — whose nature is Bala; bhavan — being; sada — always; vaishnava-varga-madhye — amid the Vaishnavas; jajvala — blazed; tigmamshu-sahasra-tejah — with the splendour of a thousand suns; iti — thus; bruvan — saying; me — my; janakah — father; nanartta — danced.

63. "And so the divine Avadhuta, whose nature is Bala,[19] always moving among the Vaishnavas, blazed with the splendour of a thousand suns" — so my father[20] said as he danced.

Verse 64

स्वांशेन शेषेण य एव शय्या
विष्णोश्च कृष्णस्य च वासभूषा।
स्वाङ्गस्य भूषावलयादिरूपै- र्लीलाख्यया वेद निगूढलीलाम्॥

svāṁśena śeṣeṇa ya eva śayyā
viṣṇośca kṛṣṇasya ca vāsabhūṣā| svāṅgasya bhūṣāvalayādirūpai-
rlīlākhyayā veda nigūḍhalīlām||

Word for word: sva-amshena — by His own portion; sheshena — Shesha; yah — who; eva — indeed; shayya — the bed; vishnoh — of Vishnu; ca — and; krishnasya — of Krishna; ca — and; vasa-bhusha — clothing and ornament; sva-angasya — of His own body; bhusha-valaya-adi-rupaih — in the forms of ornaments, bracelets and so on; lila-akhyaya — by (the potency) called lila; veda — knows; nigudha-lilam — the hidden pastimes.

64. He who, by His own portion Shesha, is the bed, the clothing and the ornament of Vishnu and of Krishna, and in the form of the ornaments of His own body — bracelets and the rest — knows the hidden pastimes by the potency called lila.

Verse 65

श्रीवारुणी-रेवतवंशसम्भवे
तस्य प्रिये द्वे वसुधा च जाह्नवी।
श्रीसूर्यदासस्य महात्मनः सुते ककुद्मिरूपस्य च सूर्यतेजसः॥

śrīvāruṇī-revatavaṁśasambhave
tasya priye dve vasudhā ca jāhnavī|
śrīsūryadāsasya mahātmanaḥ sute

Word for word: shri-varuni-revata-vamsha-sambhave — Sri Varuni and the one born in the line of Revata (Revati); tasya — His; priye — beloveds; dve — two; vasudha — Vasudha; ca — and; jahnavi — Jahnavi; shri-suryadasasya — of Sri Suryadasa; mahatmanah — great-souled; sute — daughters; kakudmi-rupasya — who is Kakudmi; ca — and; surya-tejasah — radiant as the sun.

65. His two beloveds, Vasudha and Jahnavi — Sri Varuni and Revati, born in the line of Revata[21] — are the daughters of the great-souled Sri Suryadasa, radiant as the sun, who is Kakudmi.[22]

Verse 66

केचित् श्रीवसुधादेवीं कलावपि विवृण्वते।
अनङ्गमञ्जरीं केचिज्जाह्नवीञ्च प्रचक्षते। उभयन्तु समीचीनं पूर्वन्यायात् सतां मतम्॥ kecit śrīvasudhādevīṁ kalāvapi vivṛṇvate|

anaṅgamañjarīṁ kecijjāhnavīñca pracakṣate|
ubhayantu samīcīnaṁ pūrvanyāyāt satāṁ matam||

Word for word: kecit — some; shri-vasudha-devim — Sri Vasudha-devi; kalau api — even in Kali; vivrinvate — declare (as Ananga-manjari); ananga-manjarim — Ananga-manjari; kecit — some; jahnavim — Jahnavi; ca — and; pracakshate — call; ubhayam — both; tu — but; samicinam — correct; purva-nyayat — according to the former rule; satam — of the saints; matam — opinion.

66. Some even in the age of Kali declare Sri Vasudha-devi [to be Ananga-manjari], and some say Jahnavi is Ananga-manjari. According to the former rule [of distinct manifestations], the saints hold both to be correct.

Verse 67

सङ्कर्षणस्य यो व्यूहः पयोब्धिशायिनामकः। स एव वीरचन्द्रोऽभूच्चैतन्याभिन्नविग्रहः॥ saṅkarṣaṇasya yo vyūhaḥ payobdhiśāyināmakaḥ|

sa eva vīracandro'bhūccaitanyābhinnavigrahaḥ||

Word for word: sankarshanasya — of Sankarshana; yah — who; vyuhah — the vyuha; payobdhi-shayi-namakah — named the One who lies on the Ocean of Milk; sah eva — he; virachandrah — Virachandra; abhut — became; caitanya-abhinna-vigrahah — whose form is non-different from Chaitanya.

67. The vyuha of Sankarshana, called the One who lies on the Ocean of Milk, became Virachandra, whose form is non-different from Chaitanya;

Verse 68

अमुं प्राविशतां कार्यात् सहजौ निशठोल्मुकौ॥ मीनकेतनरामादिव्यूहः सङ्कर्षणोऽपरः॥

amuṁ prāviśatāṁ kāryāt sahajau niśaṭholmukau||

raya-ramanandah — Raya Ramananda; iti — thus; ahuh — say; uttamah — the best.

123. The best say that Arjuna, the son of Pandu, having united with the gopi Arjuniya, became Raya Ramananda.

Translator's notes

18. According to the commentators, the "Puri-ishvara" here is Paramananda Puri, not Ishvara Puri.

19. Bala is Balarama.

20. Shivananda Sena, the author's father.

21. Varuni and Revati are the consorts of Balarama.

22. Kakudmi is the father of Revati.

23. Nishatha and Ulmuka are sons of Balarama.

24. Raghunandana Thakura of Shrikhanda.

25. Shashirekha is a gopi friend.

26. Cf. Chaitanya-charitamrita (Antya 2): Chaitanya manifested Himself in Nakula Brahmachari (avesha) and in Pradyumna (Nrisimhananda) Brahmachari (avirbhava).

27. The words are Bhairava's: "my guru" is Sadashiva.

28. "Sky-clad" (digambara), i.e. naked, is an epithet of Shiva (in the edition, of Mahadeva); the edition notes a variant reading vidambara ("the best of the learned").

29. Advaita's second wife, Sri-devi.

30. That is, of Gadadhara Pandita. Cf. the Advaita-prakasha, where Achyuta is the chief hero among Advaita's sons.

31. Krishna Mishra is another son of Advaita; according to the Advaita-prakasha, he inherited the service of Madana-Gopala.

33. Cf. Chaitanya-charitamrita (Antya 8): Ramachandra Puri's reproaches made Chaitanya cut down His food.

34. Haridasa Thakura, born in a Muslim family.

35. Anima ("becoming minute") and the rest are the eight mystic perfections of yoga.

36. Vallabha Bhatta, founder of the Pushtimarga sampradaya.

37. The edition interprets the line differently: wandering in the misery of poverty, he obtained in the Lord's company the wealth of prema.

38. Bhavananda Raya, Ramananda's father; Prithapati, "the husband of Pritha," i.e. Pandu.

Part Three

The cowherd friends of Vraja. Servants and musicians. The gopis: Gadadhara and Lalita, the eight sakhis and others. The manjaris and the Gosvamis of Vrindavana. Conclusion (verses 124–215)

Verse 124

अर्जुनीयाभवत्तूर्णमर्जुनोऽपि च पाण्डवः।
इति पाद्मोत्तरे खण्डे व्यक्तमेव विराजते। तस्मादेतत्त्रयं रामानन्दराय-महाशयः॥१२४॥

arjunīyābhavattūrṇamarjuno'pi ca pāṇḍavaḥ|

Word for word: kecit — some; mahantah — mahantas; kecit — some; syuh — are; mahantah ca upa-purvakah — mahantas with the prefix upa (upa-mahantas); ubhayesham — of both; gunah — the qualities; tulyah — equal; tena — therefore; ami — these; ganitah — listed; maya — by me.

208. Some of them are mahantas, others are upa-mahantas; the qualities of both are equal, and therefore I have listed them together.

Verse 209

खण्डवासौ नरहरेः साहचर्यान्महत्तरौ।

गौराङ्गैकान्तशरणौ चिरञ्जीव-सुलोचनौ॥२०९॥

khaṇḍavāsau narahareḥ sāhacaryānmahattarau|
gaurāṅgaikāntaśaraṇau cirañjīva-sulocanau||209||

Word for word: khanda-vasau — living in Khanda; narahareh — of Narahari; sahacaryat — through companionship; mahattarau — greater; gauranga-ekanta-sharanau — whose one refuge is Gauranga; ciranjiva-sulocanau — Chiranjiva and Sulochana.

209. Chiranjiva and Sulochana, who live in Khanda, are greater through their companionship with Narahari; their one and only refuge is Gauranga.

Verse 210

गुरोर्नाम न गृह्णीयादिति शास्त्रानुसारतः।

श्रीश्रीनाथस्य पूर्वाख्या मया न प्रकटीकृता॥२१०॥

gurornāma na gṛhṇīyāditi śāstrānusārataḥ|
śrīśrīnāthasya pūrvākhyā mayā na prakaṭīkṛtā||210||

Word for word: guroh — of the guru; nama — the name; na grihniyat — one should not utter; iti — thus; shastra-anusaratah — in accordance with the shastra; shri-shrinathasya — of Sri Srinatha; purva-akhya — the former name; maya — by me; na prakatikrita — has not been revealed.

210. In accordance with the shastra that says, "One should not utter the name of one's guru," I have not revealed the former name of Sri Srinatha.

Verse 211

व्याचकार पारिपाट्याद्यो भागवत-संहिताम्।

कुमारहट्टे यत् कीर्त्तिः कृष्णदेवो विराजते॥२११॥

vyācakāra pāripāṭyādyo bhāgavata-saṁhitām|
kumārahaṭṭe yat kīrttiḥ kṛṣṇadevo virājate||211||

Word for word: vyacakara — expounded; paripatyat — with skill; yah — who; bhagavata-samhitam — the Bhagavata-samhita; kumarahatte — in Kumarahatta; yat-kirttih — whose glory; krishnadevah — Krishnadeva; virajate — shines.

211. He expounded the Bhagavata-samhita with skill; his glory is Krishnadeva, who shines in Kumarahatta.[53]

Verse 212

ये ये महान्तः क्रमभङ्गभूता-

स्ते मेऽपराधं कृपया क्षमन्ताम्।

गुणान् विनिर्णीय सतां समस्तान् ब्रह्मेशशेषाः कथितुं न शक्ताः॥२१२॥

ye ye mahāntaḥ kramabhaṅgabhūtā-
ste me'parādhaṁ kṛpayā kṣamantām|
guṇān vinirṇīya satāṁ samastān
brahmeśaśeṣāḥ kathituṁ na śaktāḥ||212||

Word for word: ye ye — whatever; mahantah — mahantas; krama-bhanga-bhutah — whose order has been broken; te — they; me — my; aparadham — offence; kripaya — mercifully; kshamantam — may forgive; gunan — the qualities; vinirniya — determining; satam — of the saints; samastan — all; brahma-isha-sheshah — Brahma, Shiva and Shesha; kathitum — to tell; na shaktah — are not able.

212. May the mahantas whose order of mention has been broken mercifully forgive me this offence: even Brahma, Shiva and Shesha cannot enumerate all the qualities of the saints.

Verse 213

मीमांसकेभ्यः शठतार्किकेभ्यो
विशेषतो हेतुरतेभ्य एषः।
गोप्यः प्रयत्नाद्रसशास्त्रविद्भ्यो देयः सदा गौरपदाश्रयेभ्यः॥२१३॥

mīmāṁsakebhyaḥ śaṭhatārkikebhyo
viśeṣato heturatebhya eṣaḥ| gopyaḥ prayatnādrasaśāstravidbhyo
deyaḥ sadā gaurapadāśrayebhyaḥ||213||

Word for word: mimamsakebhyah — from the Mimamsakas; shatha-tarkikebhyah — from deceitful logicians; visheshatah — especially; hetu-ratebhyah — from those delighting in arguments; eshah — this; gopyah — is to be hidden; prayatnat — carefully; rasa-shastra-vidbhyah — to those versed in the scriptures on rasa; deyah — is to be given; sada — always; gaura-pada-ashrayebhyah — to those who have taken shelter of Gaura's feet.

213. This book should be carefully kept hidden from the Mimamsakas, from deceitful logicians and especially from those who delight only in arguments; it should always be given to those versed in the scriptures on rasa who have taken shelter of Gaura's feet.

Verse 214

श्रीगौरगणोद्देशदीपिका रचिता मया। दीप्यतां परमानन्दसन्दोहभक्तवेश्मनि॥२१४॥

śrīgauragaṇoddeśadīpikā racitā mayā|
dīpyatāṁ paramānandasandohabhaktaveśmani||214||

Word for word: shri-gaura-gana-uddesha-dipika — the Sri Gaura-ganoddesha-dipika; racita — composed; maya — by me; dipyatam — may it shine; parama-ananda-sandoha-bhakta-veshmani — in the house of the devotees, filled with the highest bliss.

214. This Sri Gaura-ganoddesha-dipika has been composed by me; may it shine in the house of the devotees, filled with the highest bliss.

Verse 215

शाके वसुग्रहमिते मनुनैव युक्ते
ग्रन्थोऽयमाविरभवत् कतमस्य घस्रात्।
चैतन्यचन्द्रचरितामृतमग्नचित्तैः शोध्यः समाकलितगौरगणाख्य एषः॥२१५॥

śāke vasugrahamite manunaiva yukte
grantho'yamāvirabhavat katamasya ghasrāt| caitanyacandracaritāmṛtamagnacittaiḥ
śodhyaḥ samākalitagauraganāākhya eṣaḥ||215||

Word for word: shake — in the Shaka year; vasu-graha-mite — measured by vasu (8) and graha (9); manuna — with manu (14); eva — indeed; yukte — joined; granthah — book; ayam — this; avirabhavat — appeared; katamasya — on a certain; ghasrat — day; caitanya-candra-carita-amrita-magna-cittaih — by those whose hearts are immersed in the nectar of the deeds of Chaitanya-chandra; shodhyah — to be corrected; samakalita-gaura-gana-akhyah — the enumeration of Gaura's associates; eshah — this.

215. In the Shaka year measured by "Vasu" and "Graha," joined with "Manu,"[55] on a certain day this book appeared. May the wise, whose hearts are immersed in the nectar of the deeds of Chaitanya-chandra, correct it — this enumeration of Gaura's associates.

Thus ends the Sri Gaura-ganoddesha-dipika, composed by Kavi Karnapura, also known as Puridasa and Paramananda Dasa.

Translator's notes

39. That is, three are united in Ramananda: the confidential friend Arjuna, Arjuna the Pandava, and the gopi Arjuniya (Lalita, according to some).

40. Sundarananda Thakura.

41. Khola-vecha, "seller of banana bark" (utensils made of banana leaves): the Shridhara of the Chaitanya-bhagavata.

42. Not to be confused with Haridasa Thakura.

43. Chaitanya Dasa and Ramadasa, the author's elder brothers, sons of Shivananda Sena.

44. Gadadhara Dasa.

45. Chandi, "fiery, sharp-tempered": Damodara Pandita is known for the outspokenness with which he admonished even Mahaprabhu.

48. Vamshivadana Thakura, by tradition the incarnation of Krishna's flute.

49. The second "Sanatana" is the sage Sanatana-kumara.

50. Govinda, Madhava and Vasudeva Ghosha, the brothers who were kirtana singers.

51. Kalidasa, the uncle of Raghunatha Dasa, known for gathering the food remnants of all the Vaishnavas.

52. The edition groups verses 194–207 together; the correspondence of the gopis' names to Gaura's associates is given in the order of enumeration.

53. Srinatha Pandita, the author's guru, wrote the commentary on the Bhagavata called Chaitanya-mata-manjusha and installed the Deity of Krishnadeva in Kumarahatta.

55. A numerical chronogram: Vasu = 8, Graha = 9, Manu = 14; read backwards, Shaka 1498, i.e. 1576 CE.
