“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 18

The Fall into the Ocean

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the Anubhāṣya, 2026)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. One night, in the light of the autumn moon, Mahāprabhu saw the ocean from Āiṭoṭā and, mistaking it for the Yamunā, leapt into the water. The essence of this pastime is the relishing of Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa’s water pastimes (jala-keli). Floating on the waves in this way, the Lord drifted towards Koṇārka. A fisherman, thinking he had caught “a big fish,” drew the Lord in with his net and saw that the Lord was unconscious and His form greatly transformed. As soon as he touched Him, the fisherman was overcome by divine love (premāveśa). Yet he was frightened: “This ghost has seized me (has climbed onto my shoulders).” With this thought he was on his way to an exorcist when he met Svarūpa Gosvāmī and the other devotees, who had been searching everywhere for Mahāprabhu in every way and were coming along the shore. When they questioned him, the fisherman told them all that had happened, and Svarūpa Gosvāmī understood that this fisherman had drawn the Lord onto the shore. With a slap of Kṛṣṇa’s name he drove the “ghost” — his fear — out of the fisherman. Then, by chanting the holy name (kīrtana), the devotees brought Mahāprabhu back to consciousness, raised Him, heard from Him of His pastime, and brought Him home.

A prayer for the mercy of the Lord who, in separation from Kṛṣṇa, floats in the ocean, taking it for the Yamunā —

শরজ্জ্যোৎস্না-সিন্ধোরবকলনয়া জাতযমুনা- ভ্রমাদ্ধাবন্ যোঽস্মিন্ হরিবিরহতাপার্ণব ইব ৷ নিমগ্নো মূর্চ্ছালঃ পয়সি নিবসন্ রাত্রিমখিলাং প্রভাতে প্রাপ্তঃ স্বৈরবতু স শচীসূনুরিহ নঃ ॥ ১ ॥ śaraj-jyotsnā-sindhor avakalanayā jāta-yamunāof the autumn moonlit ocean by the sight arisen the Yamunā bhramād dhāvan yo 'smin hari-viraha-tāpārṇava iva from the mistaking running who into this from Hari separation's burning ocean as if nimagno mūrcchālaḥ payasi nivasan rātrim akhilāṁ plunged unconscious in the water remaining the night whole prabhāte prāptaḥ svair avatu sa śacī-sūnur iha naḥ at dawn found by His own may protect He Śacī's son here us

1 Once, seeing the ocean in the light of the autumn moon, Śrī Śacīnandana took it for the Yamunā and ran towards it. He plunged into its waters as if into an ocean of the burning pain of separation from Hari, and lay there unconscious the whole night; at dawn His own devotees found Him. May that son of Śacī protect us here.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

On a night lit by the autumn moon, Śacīnandana saw the ocean and, taking it for the Yamunā, plunged into the burning ocean of separation from Hari, fell into the water, and lay unconscious the whole night, and in the morning He was found (by Svarūpa and others, His own intimate companions). May that Śacīnandana protect us by His pastimes.

Anubhāṣya.

yaḥ (Śacīnandana) śaraj-jyotsnā-sindhoḥ (of the ocean lit by the moonlight that shines in autumn [śaradi] in the cloudless autumn sky) avakalanayā (at the sight) jāta-yamunā-bhramāt (because of the mistaken idea that arose that it was the Yamunā) dhāvan hari-viraha-tāpārṇave (into the ocean of the pain of separation from Kṛṣṇa) iva asmin (into this water) mūrcchālaḥ (nimagnaḥ san, immersed) akhilāṁ (the entire) rātriṁ nivasan[2] prabhāte svaiḥ (by His own intimate devotees) prāptaḥ, saḥ śacī-sūnuḥ (Gaura) iha naḥ (us) avatu (may protect).

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ । জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda glory to Advaitacandra glory to Gaura's devotees host

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra, and glory to all the devotees of Gaura!

The Lord's intense separation from Kṛṣṇa —

এইমতে মহাপ্রভু নীলাচলে বৈসে । রাত্রি-দিনে কৃষ্ণবিচ্ছেদার্ণবে ভাসে ॥ ৩ ॥ ei-mate mahāprabhu nīlācale vaise in this way Mahāprabhu in Nīlācala stays rātri-dine kṛṣṇa-vicchedārṇave bhāse night and day of Kṛṣṇa separation in the ocean floats

3 In this way Mahāprabhu lived in Nīlācala, floating night and day in the ocean of separation from Kṛṣṇa.

*An autumn moonlit night awakens (uddīpana) the feelings of the rāsa-līlā —*

শরৎকালের রাত্রি, সব চন্দ্রিকা-উজ্জ্বল । প্রভু নিজগণ লঞা বেড়ান রাত্রি-সকল ॥ ৪ ॥ śarat-kālera rātri, saba candrikā-ujjvala autumn season's night all with moonlight bright prabhu nija-gaṇa lañā beḍāna rātri-sakala

the Lord His own companions taking wanders night whole

4 It was an autumn night, bright everywhere with moonlight, and the Lord spent the whole night roaming with His companions.

উদ্যানে উদ্যানে ভ্রমেন কৌতুক দেখিতে । রাসলীলার গীত-শ্লোক পড়িতে শুনিতে ॥ ৫ ॥ udyāne udyāne bhramena kautuka dekhite in garden after garden wanders wonders to see rāsa-līlāra gīta-śloka paḍite śunite of the rāsa pastime songs verses reciting hearing

5 He wandered from garden to garden, delighting in their wonders, reciting and hearing songs and verses about the rāsa dance.

প্রভু প্রেমাবেশে করেন গান, নর্ত্তন । কভু প্রেমাবেশে রাসলীলানুকরণ ॥ ৬ ॥ prabhu premāveśe karena gāna, nartana the Lord absorbed in love does singing dancing kabhu premāveśe rāsa-līlānukaraṇa sometimes absorbed in love of the rāsa pastime imitation

6 Absorbed in love, the Lord sang and danced, and at times, in that same rapture, He enacted the rāsa-līlā.

কভু ভাবোন্মাদে প্রভু ইতি-উতি ধায় । ভূমে পড়ি' কভু মূর্চ্ছা, কভু গড়ি' যায় ॥ ৭ ॥

kabhu bhāvonmāde prabhu iti-uti dhāya sometimes in the madness of feeling the Lord here and there runs bhūme paḍi' kabhu mūrcchā, kabhu gaḍi' yāya on the ground falling sometimes swoons sometimes rolling goes

7 Sometimes, in the madness of ecstatic feeling, the Lord ran here and there; sometimes He fell to the ground and swooned, and sometimes He rolled about.

রাসলীলার এক শ্লোক যবে পড়ে, শুনে । পূর্ব্ববৎ তবে অর্থ করেন আপনে ॥ ৮ ॥ rāsa-līlāra eka śloka yabe paḍe, śune of the rāsa pastime one verse when recites hears pūrvavat tabe artha karena āpane

as before then the meaning gives Himself

8 Whenever He recited or heard a verse about the rāsa-līlā, He Himself would explain its meaning, as before.

Reading and explaining all the "Five Chapters on the Rāsa," the Lord feels joy and sorrow at once —

এইমত রাসলীলায় হয় যত শ্লোক । সবার অর্থ করে, পায় কভু হর্ষ-শোক ॥ ৯ ॥ ei-mata rāsa-līlāya haya yata śloka in this way in the rāsa-līlā are as many verses sabāra artha kare, pāya kabhu harṣa-śoka of all the meaning gives feels sometimes joy sorrow

9 In this way He explained the meaning of every verse about the rāsa-līlā, feeling now joy, now sorrow.

Anubhāṣya.
Joy is in Kṛṣṇa's pastimes of union (sambhoga), and sorrow in the gopīs' pastimes of separation (vipralambha).

Fearing to make the book too long, the author refrains from describing it —

সে সব শ্লোকের অর্থ, সে সব 'বিকার' । সে সব বর্ণিতে গ্রন্থ হয় অতি-বিস্তার ॥ ১০ ॥ se saba ślokera artha, se saba 'vikāra' of those all verses the meaning those all transformations se saba varṇite grantha haya ati-vistāra those all to describe the book becomes very long

10 To describe the meaning of all those verses and all those ecstatic transformations would make the book far too long.

দ্বাদশ বৎসরে যে যে লীলা ক্ষণে ক্ষণে । অতিবাহুল্য-ভয়ে গ্রন্থ না কৈলুঁ লিখনে ॥ ১১ ॥

dvādaśa vatsare ye ye līlā kṣaṇe kṣaṇe in twelve years whatever pastimes moment by moment ati-bāhulya-bhaye grantha nā kailuṁ likhane of excessive length for fear in the book not did I write

11 For fear of excessive length, I have not written down all the pastimes that took place moment by moment during those twelve years.

Earlier only a direction was indicated —

পূর্ব্বে যেই দেখাঞাছি দিগ্দরশন । তৈছে জানিহ 'বিকার' 'প্রলাপ'-বর্ণন ॥ ১২ ॥

pūrve yei dekhāñāchi dig-daraśana before as I have shown the direction indicating taiche jāniha 'vikāra' 'pralāpa'-varṇana so know of the transformations of the ravings the description

12 As before, I have only pointed the way; understand this description of His ecstatic transformations and ravings in the same way.

Even Bhagavān Śeṣa is unable to measure the Lord's pastimes —

সহস্র-বদনে যবে কহয়ে 'অনন্ত' । একদিনের লীলার তবু নাহি পায় অন্ত ॥ ১৩ ॥ sahasra-vadane yabe kahaye 'ananta' with a thousand mouths if speaks Ananta eka-dinera līlāra tabu nāhi pāya anta

of one day's pastimes still not finds the end

13 Even if Ananta were to describe them with His thousand mouths, He could not reach the end of the pastimes of a single day.

For Gaṇeśa, the best of the scribes of heaven, it is utterly impossible —

কোটিযুগ পর্য্যন্ত যদি লিখয়ে গণেশ । একদিনের লীলার তবু নাহি পায় শেষ ॥ ১৪ ॥

koṭi-yuga paryanta yadi likhaye gaṇeśa ten million ages for if were to write Gaṇeśa eka-dinera līlāra tabu nāhi pāya śeṣa
of one day's pastimes still not finds the end

14 Even if Gaṇeśa were to write for ten million ages, he could not come to the end of the pastimes of a single day.

Even Kṛṣṇa Himself is amazed to see the love of the gopīs — ভক্তের প্রেম-বিকার দেখি' কৃষ্ণের চমৎকার !

কৃষ্ণ যার না পায় অন্ত, কেবা ছার আর ? ॥ ১৫ ॥

bhaktera prema-vikāra dekhi' kṛṣṇera camatkāra!
of the devotee love's transformations seeing Kṛṣṇa's wonder kṛṣṇa yāra nā pāya anta, kebā chāra āra?
Kṛṣṇa whose not finds end who insignificant else

15 Seeing the transformations of love in His devotee, even Kṛṣṇa is struck with wonder! If Kṛṣṇa Himself cannot find their end, what hope is there for any lesser being?

To fathom the gopīs' love and know the measure of its taste, Kṛṣṇa accepts the mood of the gopīs —

ভক্ত-প্রেমার যে দশা, যে গতি প্রকার । যত দুঃখ, যত সুখ, যতেক বিকার ॥ ১৬ ॥

কৃষ্ণ তাহা সম্যক্ না পারে জানিতে । ভক্তভাব অঙ্গীকরে তাহা আস্বাদিতে ॥ ১৭ ॥

bhakta-premāra ye daśā, ye gati prakāra of the devotee's love which states which courses kinds yata duḥkha, yata sukha, yateka vikāra as much sorrow as much happiness as many transformations kṛṣṇa tāhā samyak nā pāre jānite Kṛṣṇa that fully not can know bhakta-bhāva aṅgīkare tāhā āsvādite a devotee's mood accepts that to taste

16–17 Kṛṣṇa cannot fully know all the states of His devotee's love, its courses and its kinds, all its sorrow, all its happiness and all its transformations. So, to taste them, He accepts the mood of a devotee.

The wondrous power of love for Kṛṣṇa —

কৃষ্ণেরে নাচায় প্রেমা, ভক্তেরে নাচায় । আপনে নাচয়ে, — তিনে নাচে একঠাঞি ॥ ১৮ ॥

kṛṣṇere nācāya premā, bhaktere nācāya Kṛṣṇa makes dance love the devotee makes dance āpane nācaye, — tine nāce eka-ṭhāñi itself dances the three dance in one place

18 Love makes Kṛṣṇa dance and makes the devotee dance, and it dances itself: all three dance together in one place.

Love, which is the relishing of Kṛṣṇa's sweetness, is beyond the power of description even of Bhagavān Himself —

প্রেমার বিকার বর্ণিতে চাহে যেই জন । চান্দ ধরিতে চাহে, যেন হঞা 'বামন' ॥ ১৯ ॥ premāra vikāra varṇite cāhe yei jana of love the transformations to describe wants whoever person cānda dharite cāhe, yena hañā 'vāmana' the moon to catch wants as if being a dwarf

19 Whoever wants to describe the transformations of love is like a dwarf who wants to catch the moon.

*The jīva, a particle, a spiritual atom (cit-paramāṇu), is fit only to touch a drop of the transcendental ocean of love for Kṛṣṇa —*

বায়ু যৈছে সিন্ধু-জলের হরে এক 'কণ' । কৃষ্ণপ্রেম-কণ তৈছে জীবের স্পর্শন ॥ ২০ ॥

vāyu yaiche sindhu-jalera hare eka 'kaṇa' the wind as of the ocean's water carries off one drop kṛṣṇa-prema-kaṇa taiche jīvera sparśana of Kṛṣṇa love a drop so of the living being the touch

20 As the wind carries off a single drop of the ocean's water, so a living being can touch only a drop of love for Kṛṣṇa.

ক্ষণে ক্ষণে উঠে প্রেমার তরঙ্গ অনন্ত । জীব ছার কাঁহা তার পাইবেক অন্ত ? ॥ ২১ ॥

kṣaṇe kṣaṇe uṭhe premāra taraṅga ananta moment by moment rise of love waves endless jīva chāra kāṁhā tāra pāibeka anta?
a living being insignificant how their will find end

21 Moment by moment endless waves of love rise up. How could an insignificant living being ever find their end?

Only Svarūpa, Rāma Rāya and others — the host of Kṛṣṇa's potencies — are fit to perceive the Lord's feelings —

শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য যাহা করেন আস্বাদন । সবে এক জানে তাহা স্বরূপাদি 'গণ' ॥ ২২ ॥

śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanya yāhā karena āsvādana Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya what does tasting sabe eka jāne tāhā svarūpādi 'gaṇa' only alone know that Svarūpa and the others the circle

22 Only Svarūpa and the others of His inner circle know what Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya tasted.

জীব হঞা করে যেই তাহার বর্ণন । আপনা শোধিতে তার ছোঁয়ে এক 'কণ' ॥ ২৩ ॥

jīva hañā kare yei tāhāra varṇana
a living being being makes whoever of it description āpanā śodhite tāra choṁye eka 'kaṇa' himself to purify of it touches one drop

23 When a mere living being describes it, he touches but a single drop of it, to purify himself.

The Lord recites the verse on Kṛṣṇa's water pastimes with the gopīs —

এইমত রাসের শ্লোকসকল পড়িলা । শেষে জলকেলির শ্লোক পড়িতে লাগিলা ॥ ২৪ ॥

ei-mata rāsera śloka-sakala paḍilā in this way of the rāsa verses all recited śeṣe jala-kelira śloka paḍite lāgilā at the end of the water pastimes a verse to recite began 24 In this way the Lord recited all the verses about the rāsa dance, and at the end He began to recite a verse about the water pastimes:

তাভির্যুতঃ শ্রমমপোহিতুমঙ্গসঙ্গ-ঘৃষ্টস্রজঃ স কুচকুঙ্কুমরঞ্জিতায়াঃ ৷ গন্ধর্ব্বপালিভিরনুদ্রুত আবিশদ্বাঃ শ্রান্তো গজীভিরিভরাড়িব ভিন্নসেতুঃ ॥ ২৫ ॥ tābhir yutaḥ śramam apohitum aṅga-saṅgawith them accompanied fatigue to remove of bodies by the contact ghṛṣṭa-srajaḥ sa kuca-kuṅkuma-rañjitāyāḥ crushed garland's He from the breasts with kuṅkuma reddened gandharva-pālibhir anudruta āviśad vāḥ by bees like the lords of the Gandharvas followed entered the water śrānto gajībhir ibha-rāḍ iva bhinna-setuḥ weary with she-elephants the king of elephants like having broken the dikes

25 "Weary, Kṛṣṇa entered the water with the gopīs to relieve His fatigue, as a king of elephants who has broken through the dikes enters the water with his she-elephants; for He too had passed beyond the bounds of worldly convention. His garland, crushed by the contact of their bodies, was reddened with kuṅkuma from the gopīs' breasts, and bees followed Him, singing like the lords of the Gandharvas." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.33.22)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

As the king of elephants sports in the water with his she-elephants, so Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa, who is beyond worldly codes, tired from the rāsa-līlā with the gopīs, entered the water to relieve His fatigue. Bees followed Him (flew close behind Him) like the lords of the Gandharvas. At that time His garland, coloured with the kuṅkuma from the gopīs' breasts, had been crushed (pressed) by contact with their bodies.

Anubhāṣya.

> (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.33.22)

Śrī Śukadeva, the mahā-bhāgavata, the crest jewel of the line of paramahaṁsas, describes to Parīkṣit, whose heart is pure, the transcendental rāsa pastime of Bhagavān Śrī Kṛṣṇa with the transcendental gopīs:

śrāntaḥ, saḥ (Śrī Kṛṣṇa) śramam (the fatigue of play) apohitum (to remove) aṅga-saṅga-ghṛṣṭa-srajaḥ (of the garland [srak] of kunda flowers crushed [ghṛṣṭā, sammarditā] by bodily contact; and therefore) kuca-kuṅkuma-rañjitāyāḥ (coloured with the kuṅkuma of the breasts; [by bees] connected with it) gandharva-pālibhiḥ (gandharva-pāḥ are the lords of the Gandharvas; by bees that sing like them) anudrutaḥ (followed) tābhiḥ yutaḥ bhinna-setuḥ (having broken through the embankment; as for Kṛṣṇa, Bhagavān Himself, having transgressed the bounds of worldly convention) gajībhiḥ ibha-rāṭ (the king of elephants) iva vāḥ (the water) āviśat (entered).

Taking the ocean for the Yamunā, the Lord leaps into it and loses consciousness —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু ভ্রমিতে ভ্রমিতে । আইটোটা হৈতে সমুদ্র দেখেন আচম্বিতে ॥ ২৬ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu bhramite bhramite in this way Mahāprabhu wandering wandering āiṭoṭā haite samudra dekhena ācambite Āiṭoṭā from the ocean sees suddenly

26 Wandering about in this way, Mahāprabhu suddenly saw the ocean from Āiṭoṭā.

চন্দ্রকান্ত্যে উছলিত তরঙ্গ উজ্জ্বল । ঝলমল করে, — যেন 'যমুনার জল' ॥ ২৭ ॥

candra-kāntye uchalita taraṅga ujjvala in the moon's radiance surging waves bright jhalamala kare, — yena 'yamunāra jala' glittering make as if the Yamunā's water

27 The surging waves, bright in the moonlight, glittered like the waters of the Yamunā.

যমুনার ভ্রমে প্রভু ধাঞা চলিলা । অলক্ষিতে যাই' সিন্ধু-জলে ঝাঁপ দিলা ॥ ২৮ ॥

yamunāra bhrame prabhu dhāñā calilā for the Yamunā mistaking the Lord running went alakṣite yāi' sindhu-jale jhāṁpa dilā unnoticed going into the ocean's water a leap gave 28 Taking it for the Yamunā, the Lord ran towards it and, unnoticed by anyone, leapt into the ocean.

পড়িতেই হৈল মূর্চ্ছা, কিছুই না জানে । কভু ডুবায়, কভু ভাসায় তরঙ্গের গণে ॥ ২৯ ॥

paḍitei haila mūrcchā, kichui nā jāne on falling there was a swoon nothing not knows kabhu ḍubāya, kabhu bhāsāya taraṅgera gaṇe sometimes sink sometimes float of waves the host

29 As soon as He fell in, He swooned and knew nothing. The waves now sank Him beneath the water, now raised Him to the surface.

তরঙ্গে বহিয়া ফিরে, — যেন শুষ্ক কাষ্ঠ । কে বুঝিতে পারে এই চৈতন্যের নাট ? ॥ ৩০ ॥

taraṅge vahiyā phire, — yena śuṣka kāṣṭha by the waves carried drifts like a dry log ke bujhite pāre ei caitanyera nāṭa?
who to understand can this Caitanya's drama

30 Carried by the waves, He drifted about like a dry log. Who can understand this wondrous dance of Caitanya?

Unconscious, the Lord floats on the waves towards Koṇārka —

কোণার্কের দিকে প্রভুরে তরঙ্গে লঞা যায় । কভু ডুবাঞা রাখে, কভু ভাসাঞা লঞা যায় ॥ ৩১ ॥

koṇārkera dike prabhure taraṅge lañā yāya of Koṇārka towards the Lord the waves taking go kabhu ḍubāñā rākhe, kabhu bhāsāñā lañā yāya sometimes sinking keep sometimes floating taking go

31 The waves carried the Lord towards Koṇārka, sometimes keeping Him under the water, sometimes bearing Him along on the surface.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Koṇārka is Arka-tīrtha, which is nowadays called "Kaṇārak."

Anubhāṣya.
Koṇārka stands on the seashore 19 miles north of Purī, at latitude 19°53′25″ north. At the beginning of the thirteenth century of the Śaka era, an attempt was made here to build a temple of the Sun of black stone — an outstanding example of architectural skill.

*The udghūrṇā of the Lord, absorbed in feeling and thinking Himself a maidservant of the gopīs —*

যমুনাতে জলকেলি গোপীগণ-সঙ্গে । কৃষ্ণ করেন — মহাপ্রভু মগ্ন সেই রঙ্গে ॥ ৩২ ॥

yamunāte jala-keli gopī-gaṇa-saṅge in the Yamunā water pastimes the gopīs with kṛṣṇa karena — mahāprabhu magna sei raṅge Kṛṣṇa performs Mahāprabhu absorbed in that play

32 Kṛṣṇa was enjoying water pastimes with the gopīs in the Yamunā, and Mahāprabhu was absorbed in that play.

Anubhāṣya.
See Antya 18.80–82.

Svarūpa and the others search for the Lord —

ইঁহা স্বরূপাদিগণ প্রভু না দেখিয়া । 'কাঁহা গেলা প্রভু?' কহে চমকিত হঞা ॥ ৩৩ ॥

iṁhā svarūpādi-gaṇa prabhu nā dekhiyā here Svarūpa and the others the Lord not seeing
'kāṁhā gelā prabhu?' kahe camakita hañā where has gone the Lord say startled being

33 Meanwhile Svarūpa and the others, not seeing the Lord, cried out in alarm, "Where has the Lord gone?"

The devotees know the Lord to be independent, for His power of will is unrestrained —

মনোবেগে গেলা প্রভু, দেখিতে নারিলা । প্রভুরে না দেখিয়া সংশয় করিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৩৪ ॥

mano-vege gelā prabhu, dekhite nārilā with the speed of the mind went the Lord to see could not prabhure nā dekhiyā saṁśaya karite lāgilā the Lord not seeing doubts to make began

34 The Lord had gone with the speed of the mind, and no one saw Him go. With Him nowhere to be seen, they began to wonder:

Inner deliberation —

'জগন্নাথ দেখিতে, কিবা দেবালয়ে গেলা ?
অন্য উদ্যানে, কিবা উন্মাদে পড়িলা ? ॥ ৩৫ ॥

'jagannātha dekhite, kibā devālaye gelā?
Jagannātha to see or to a temple went anya udyāne, kibā unmāde paḍilā?
in another garden or in madness fell

35 "Has He gone to see Jagannātha, or to some other temple? Into another garden? Or has He fallen down somewhere in His madness?

গুণ্ডিচা-মন্দিরে গেলা, কিবা নরেন্দ্রেরে ?
চটক-পর্ব্বতে গেলা, কিবা কোণার্কেরে ?' ॥ ৩৬ ॥ guṇḍicā-mandire gelā, kibā narendrere?

to the Guṇḍicā temple went or to Narendra caṭaka-parvate gelā, kibā koṇārkere?' to Caṭaka hill went or to Koṇārka

36 Has He gone to the Guṇḍicā temple, or to Narendra Lake? To the Caṭaka hill, or to Koṇārka?"

The devotees go to the seashore —

এত বলি' সবে ফিরে প্রভুরে চাহিয়া । সমুদ্রের তীরে আইলা কত জন লঞা ॥ ৩৭ ॥ eta bali' sabe phire prabhure cāhiyā this saying all wander the Lord looking for samudrera tīre āilā kata jana lañā of the ocean to the shore came some people taking 37 Saying this, they all went about looking for the Lord, and then came to the seashore, taking a few others with them.

*Not finding the Lord, they conclude that He has departed (antardhāna) —*

চাহিয়ে বেড়াইতে ঐছে রাত্রি-শেষ হৈল । 'অন্তর্দ্ধান হইলা প্রভু', — নিশ্চয় করিল ॥ ৩৮ ॥

cāhiye beḍāite aiche rātri-śeṣa haila searching wandering thus of the night the end came 'antarddhāna hailā prabhu', — niścaya karila departure has made the Lord conclusion made

38 In this search the night came to an end, and they concluded, "The Lord has departed."

In their hearts the devotees fear misfortune —

প্রভুর বিচ্ছেদে কার দেহে নাহি প্রাণ । অনিষ্টাশঙ্কা বিনা কার মনে নাহি আন ॥ ৩৯ ॥

prabhura vicchede kāra dehe nāhi prāṇa
the Lord's in separation whose in the body not life aniṣṭā-śaṅkā vinā kāra mane nāhi āna of harm fear except whose in the mind not other

39 In separation from the Lord they all felt as if life had left their bodies, and no one could think of anything but the fear that some harm had come to Him.

When the beloved is not seen, the loving heart fears misfortune —
*(Abhijñāna-śakuntala, Act 4: Priyaṁvadā's words to Śakuntalā)*

অনিষ্টাশঙ্কীনি বন্ধুহৃদয়ানি ভবন্তি হি ॥ ৪০ ॥

aniṣṭā-śaṅkīni bandhu-hṛdayāni bhavanti hi harm fearing of loved ones hearts are indeed

40 "The hearts of those who love always fear some harm." (Abhijñāna-śakuntala, Act 4)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A friend's heart always fears that harm may befall the friend.

Anubhāṣya.
In the drama itself this reading is found: "sineho pāvasaṅkī" or "sineho pāvamāsaṅkadi."[3]

All together search for the Lord —

সমুদ্রের তীরে আসি' যুকতি করিলা । চিরায়ু-পর্ব্বত-দিকে কতজন গেলা ॥ ৪১ ॥ samudrera tīre āsi' yukati karilā of the ocean to the shore coming counsel took cirāyu-parvata-dike kata-jana gelā Cirāyu hill towards some people went 41 Coming to the seashore, they took counsel together, and some of them went towards the Cirāyu hill.

Anubhāṣya.
Cirāyu-parvata is Caṭaka-parvata.

পূর্ব্ব-দিশায় চলে স্বরূপ লঞা কত জন । সিন্ধু-তীরে-নীরে করেন প্রভুর অন্বেষণ ॥ ৪২ ॥

pūrva-diśāya cale svarūpa lañā kata jana eastern direction goes Svarūpa taking some people sindhu-tīre-nīre karena prabhura anveṣaṇa of the ocean on the shore in the water makes the Lord's search

42 Svarūpa went east with a few others, searching for the Lord along the shore and in the waters of the sea.

বিষাদে বিহ্বল সবে নাহিক 'চেতন' । তবু প্রেমে বুলে করি' প্রভুর অন্বেষণ ॥ ৪৩ ॥ viṣāde vihvala sabe nāhika 'cetana' with grief overwhelmed all not consciousness tabu preme bule kari' prabhura anveṣaṇa yet in love wander making the Lord's search

43 They were all overwhelmed with grief and hardly conscious, yet, moved by love, they kept on searching for Him.

The meeting with a fisherman overwhelmed by a wondrous feeling —

দেখেন, এক জালিয়া আইসে কান্ধে জাল করি' । হাসে, কান্দে, নাচে, গায়, বলে 'হরি' 'হরি' ॥ ৪৪ ॥ dekhena, eka jāliyā āise kāndhe jāla kari' they see a fisherman comes on his shoulder net carrying hāse, kānde, nāce, gāya, bale 'hari' 'hari' laughs weeps dances sings says Hari Hari

44 Then they saw a fisherman coming along with his net on his shoulder. He was laughing, weeping, dancing and singing, and saying, "Hari! Hari!"

The fisherman is asked why he is overwhelmed by such feeling —

জালিয়ার চেষ্টা দেখি' সবার চমৎকার । স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তারে পুছেন সমাচার ॥ ৪৫ ॥

jāliyāra ceṣṭā dekhi' sabāra camatkāra the fisherman's behaviour seeing of all wonder svarūpa-gosāñi tāre puchena samācāra Svarūpa Gosāñi him asks news

45 Everyone was astonished to see how the fisherman was behaving, and Svarūpa Gosāñi asked him what had happened:

The fisherman, "possessed by a spirit," gives news of the Lord and describes His condition —

কহ, জালিয়া, এইদিকে দেখিলা একজন ?
তোমার এই দশা কেনে, — কহ ত' কারণ ? ॥ ৪৬ ॥ kaha, jāliyā, ei-dike dekhilā eka-jana?

tell fisherman this way did you see one person tomāra ei daśā kene, — kaha ta' kāraṇa?
your this state why tell please the reason

46 "Tell us, fisherman, have you seen someone around here? And why are you in such a state? Tell us the reason."

জালিয়া কহে, — ইঁহা এক মনুষ্য না দেখিল । জাল বাহিতে এক মৃত মোর জালে আইল ॥ ৪৭ ॥ jāliyā kahe, — iṁhā eka manuṣya nā dekhila the fisherman says here a single man not I saw jāla vāhite eka mṛta mora jāle āila the net while drawing a dead body my into the net came 47 The fisherman said, "I have not seen a single person here. But as I was drawing in my net, a dead body came into it.

বড় মৎস্য বলি’ আমি উঠাইলুঁ যতনে । মৃতক দেখিতে মোর ভয় হৈল মনে ॥ ৪৮ ॥

baḍa matsya bali’ āmi uṭhāiluṁ yatane a big fish thinking I hauled up with effort mṛtaka dekhite mora bhaya haila mane
the corpse on seeing my fear came in the mind

48 Thinking it was a big fish, I hauled it up with great effort, but when I saw the corpse my heart was filled with fear.

জাল খসাইতে তার অঙ্গ-স্পর্শ হইল । স্পর্শমাত্রে সেই ভূত হৃদয়ে পশিল ॥ ৪৯ ॥

jāla khasāite tāra aṅga-sparśa haila the net while freeing his body touch there was sparśa-mātre sei bhūta hṛdaye paśila at the mere touch that spirit into my heart entered 49 As I was freeing the net, I touched his body, and at that very touch the spirit entered my heart.

ভয়ে কম্প হৈল, মোর নেত্রে বহে জল । গদ্‌গদ বাণী, রোম উঠিল সকল ॥ ৫০ ॥

bhaye kampa haila, mora netre vahe jala from fear trembling came my from the eyes flows water gadgada vāṇī, roma uṭhila sakala choked voice hairs stood up all

50 I began to tremble with fear, tears flowed from my eyes, my voice choked, and all my hair stood on end.

কিবা ব্রহ্মদৈত্য, কিবা ভূত, কহনে না যায় । দর্শনমাত্রে মনুষ্যের পৈশে সেই কায় ॥ ৫১ ॥

kibā brahma-daitya, kibā bhūta, kahane nā yāya whether a brahma-daitya or a spirit to say not possible darśana-mātre manuṣyera paiśe sei kāya at the mere sight a man's enters it body

51 Whether it is a brahma-daitya or a spirit, I cannot say, but the moment anyone sees it, it enters his body.

শরীর দীঘল তার — হাত পাঁচ-সাত । একেক-হস্ত-পদ তার, তিন তিন হাত ॥ ৫২ ॥

śarīra dīghala tāra — hāta pāṁca-sāta the body long his cubits five or seven ekeka-hasta-pada tāra, tina tina hāta each arm leg his three three cubits

52 His body is long — five or seven cubits — and each of his arms and legs is three cubits long.

অস্থি-সন্ধি ছুটি' চর্ম্ম করে নড়-বড়ে । তাহা দেখি' প্রাণ কা'র নাহি রহে ধড়ে ॥ ৫৩ ॥

asthi-sandhi chuṭi' carma kare naḍa-baḍe of the bones joints coming loose the skin makes hangs slack tāhā dekhi' prāṇa kā'ra nāhi rahe dhaḍe that seeing life whose not stays in the body

53 The joints of his bones have come loose, and his skin hangs slack. Who could see that and not have the life frightened out of him?

মড়া-রূপ ধরি' রহে উত্তান-নয়ন । কভু গোঁ গোঁ করে, কভু দেখি অচেতন ॥ ৫৪ ॥

maḍā-rūpa dhari' rahe uttāna-nayana
a corpse's form taking stays upturned eyes kabhu goṁ goṁ kare, kabhu dekhi acetana sometimes goṅ goṅ makes sometimes I see unconscious

54 He lies there like a corpse, his eyes turned upward. Sometimes he makes a sound — “goṅ, goṅ” — and sometimes I see him lying unconscious.

সাক্ষাৎ দেখেছোঁ, — মোরে পাইল সেই ভূত । মুই মৈলে মোর কৈছে জীবে স্ত্রী-পুত্ ॥ ৫৫ ॥

sākṣāt dekhechoṁ, — more pāila sei bhūta with my own eyes I have seen me has seized that spirit mui maile mora kaiche jīve strī-put
I if I die my how will live wife children

55 I have seen him with my own eyes, and that spirit has seized me. If I die, how will my wife and children live?

Anubhāṣya.
jīve — will live.

সেই ত’ ভূতের কথা কহন না যায় । ওঝা-ঠাঞি যাইছো, — যদি সে ভূত ছাড়ায় ॥ ৫৬ ॥

sei ta’ bhūtera kathā kahana nā yāya of that indeed spirit the story telling not possible ojhā-ṭhāñi yāicho, — yadi se bhūta chāḍāya to the exorcist I am going if he the spirit drives out

56 That spirit is beyond describing. I am going to an exorcist — perhaps he can drive the spirit out.

Remembering Śrī Nṛsiṁha destroys every danger —

একা রাত্র্যে বুলি’ মৎস্য মারিয়ে নির্জ্জনে । ভূত-প্রেত আমার না লাগে ‘নৃসিংহ’-স্মরণে ॥ ৫৭ ॥

ekā rātrye buli’ matsya māriye nirjane alone at night wandering fish I catch in lonely places bhūta-preta āmāra nā lāge ‘nṛsiṁha’-smaraṇe spirits ghosts to me not attach Nṛsiṁha by remembering 57 I wander alone at night, catching fish in lonely places, yet spirits and ghosts do not touch me, because I remember Nṛsiṁha.

এই ভূত নৃসিংহ-নামে চাপয়ে দ্বিগুণে । তাহার আকার দেখিতে ভয় লাগে মনে ॥ ৫৮ ॥

ei bhūta nṛsiṁha-nāme cāpaye dviguṇe this spirit at Nṛsiṁha's name presses twice as hard tāhāra ākāra dekhite bhaya lāge mane his form seeing fear strikes the mind

58 But at the name of Nṛsiṁha this spirit presses on me twice as hard. The mere sight of his form fills my mind with fear.

ওথা না যাইহ, আমি নিষেধি তোমারে । তাঁহা গেলে সেই ভূত লাগিবে সবারে ॥ ৫৯ ॥ othā nā yāiha, āmi niṣedhi tomāre there not go I forbid you tāṁhā gele sei bhūta lāgibe sabāre there if you go that spirit will seize all

59 Do not go there — I forbid you! If you go there, that spirit will seize you all."

Svarūpa rightly infers that he has found the Lord's trail —

এত শুনি' স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি সব তত্ত্ব জানি' । জালিয়ারে কিছু কয় সুমধুর বাণী ॥ ৬০ ॥ eta śuni' svarūpa-gosāñi saba tattva jāni' this hearing Svarūpa Gosāñi the whole truth knowing jāliyāre kichu kaya sumadhura vāṇī to the fisherman some speaks very sweet words

60 Hearing this, Svarūpa Gosāñi understood the whole truth and spoke to the fisherman in sweet words:

Svarūpa reassures the fisherman and frees him from fear —

'আমি — বড় ওঝা, জানি ভূত ছাড়াইতে' । মন্ত্র পড়ি' শ্রীহস্ত দিলা তাহার মাথাতে ॥ ৬১ ॥

'āmi — baḍa ojhā, jāni bhūta chāḍāite'
I a great exorcist I know how spirits to drive out mantra paḍi' śrī-hasta dilā tāhāra māthāte
a mantra reciting holy hand placed his on the head

61 "I am a great exorcist; I know how to drive out spirits." Reciting a mantra, he placed his holy hand on the fisherman's head.

তিন চাপড় মারি' কহে, — 'ভূত পলাইল । ভয় না পাইহ' — বলি' সুস্থির করিল ॥ ৬২ ॥

tina cāpaḍa māri' kahe, — 'bhūta palāila three slaps giving says the spirit has fled bhaya nā pāiha' — bali' susthira karila fear not have saying calm made

62 Then he slapped the fisherman three times and calmed him, saying, "The spirit has fled. Do not be afraid!"

একে প্রেম, আরে ভয় — দ্বিগুণ অস্থির । ভয়-অংশ গেল, — সে হৈল কিছু ধীর ॥ ৬৩ ॥

eke prema, āre bhaya — dviguṇa asthira on one side love on the other fear doubly restless bhaya-aṁśa gela, — se haila kichu dhīra of fear the part went he became somewhat calm

63 Love on the one hand and fear on the other had made him doubly restless. Now that the fear was gone, he recovered himself a little.

Svarūpa reveals who this is —

স্বরূপ কহে, — যাঁরে তুমি কর 'ভূত'-জ্ঞান । ভূত নহে, — তেঁহো কৃষ্ণচৈতন্য ভগবান্ ॥ ৬৪ ॥

svarūpa kahe, — yāṁre tumi kara 'bhūta'-jñāna Svarūpa says whom you make a spirit the notion bhūta nahe, — teṁho kṛṣṇa-caitanya bhagavān
a spirit is not He Kṛṣṇa Caitanya the Supreme Lord

64 Svarūpa said, "The one you take for a spirit is no spirit at all. He is Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the Supreme Lord.

প্রেমাবেশে পড়িলা তেঁহো সমুদ্রের জলে । তাঁরে তুমি উঠাইলা আপনার জালে ॥ ৬৫ ॥

premāveśe paḍilā teṁho samudrera jale absorbed in love fell He of the ocean into the water tāṁre tumi uṭhāilā āpanāra jāle Him you hauled up in your own net

65 Absorbed in love, He fell into the sea, and you hauled Him up in your net.

তাঁর স্পর্শে হইল তোমার কৃষ্ণপ্রেমোদয় । ভূত-প্রেত-জ্ঞানে তোমার হৈল মহাভয় ॥ ৬৬ ॥

tāṁra sparśe haila tomāra kṛṣṇa-premodaya His by the touch arose your for Kṛṣṇa love's awakening bhūta-preta-jñāne tomāra haila mahā-bhaya
a spirit ghost thinking your arose great fear

66 By His touch love for Kṛṣṇa awoke in you, but because you thought He was a spirit or a ghost, you were seized by great fear.

Svarūpa tells the fisherman to show him the Lord —

এবে ভয় গেল, তোমার মন হৈল স্থিরে । কাঁহা তাঁরে উঠাঞাছ, দেখাহ আমারে ॥ ৬৭ ॥

ebe bhaya gela, tomāra mana haila sthire now the fear has gone your mind has become calm kāṁhā tāṁre uṭhāñācha, dekhāha āmāre where Him you have hauled up show me

67 Now the fear has gone, and your mind is calm. Show me where you hauled Him up."

Confusion of mind —

জালিয়া কহে, — প্রভুরে দেখ্যাছোঁ বারবার । তেঁহো নহেন, এই অতিবিকৃত আকার ॥ ৬৮ ॥ jāliyā kahe, — prabhure dekhyāchoṁ bāra-bāra the fisherman says the Lord I have seen again and again teṁho nahena, ei ati-vikṛta ākāra

He is not this very distorted form

68 The fisherman said, "I have seen the Lord many times. That is not Him — this one has a terribly distorted form."

Svarūpa speaks of the Lord's love —

স্বরূপ কহে, — তাঁর হয় প্রেমের বিকার । অস্থি-সন্ধি ছাড়ে, হয় অতি দীর্ঘাকার ॥ ৬৯ ॥ svarūpa kahe, — tāṁra haya premera vikāra Svarūpa says in Him occur of love transformations asthi-sandhi chāḍe, haya ati dīrghākāra of the bones joints come apart becomes very long in form

69 Svarūpa said, "These are transformations of love in Him: the joints of His bones come apart, and His body grows very long."

The fisherman shows the Lord to everyone; the Lord's condition —

শুনি' সেই জালিয়া আনন্দিত হইল । সবা লঞা গেল, মহাপ্রভুরে দেখাইল ॥ ৭০ ॥

śuni' sei jāliyā ānandita haila hearing that fisherman delighted became sabā lañā gela, mahāprabhure dekhāila all taking went Mahāprabhu showed

70 Hearing this, the fisherman was delighted. He took them all along and showed them Mahāprabhu.

ভূমিতে পড়ি' আছেন দীর্ঘ সব কায় । জলে শ্বেত-তনু, বালু লাগিয়াছে গায় ॥ ৭১ ॥

bhūmite paḍi' āchena dīrgha saba kāya on the ground fallen He lies long whole body jale śveta-tanu, bālu lāgiyāche gāya from the water white body sand has stuck to the body

71 He was lying on the ground, His whole body elongated, white from the water and covered with sand.

অতিদীর্ঘ শিথিল তনু-চর্ম্ম নট্‌কায় । দূর পথ উঠাঞা আনান না যায় ॥ ৭২ ॥ ati-dīrgha śithila tanu-carma naṭkāya very long slack of the body the skin hangs loose dūra patha uṭhāñā ānāna nā yāya

a long way lifting to bring not possible

72 His body was very long and slack, and its skin hung loose. It was impossible to lift Him and carry Him so far.

Efforts and service to restore the Lord's consciousness —

আর্দ্র কৌপীন দূর করি' শুষ্ক পরাঞা । বহির্ব্বাসে শোয়াইলা বালুকা ছাড়াঞা ॥ ৭৩ ॥

ārdra kaupīna dūra kari' śuṣka parāñā the wet loincloth removing a dry putting on bahirvāse śoyāilā vālukā chāḍāñā on the outer cloth laid the sand brushing off

73 They removed His wet loincloth and dressed Him in a dry one, brushed off the sand and laid Him on His outer cloth.

Everyone performs loud saṅkīrtana —

সবে মেলি' উচ্চ করি' করেন সঙ্কীর্ত্তনে । উচ্চ করি' কৃষ্ণনাম কহেন প্রভুর কাণে ॥ ৭৪ ॥

sabe meli' ucca kari' karena saṅkīrtane all together loudly doing perform saṅkīrtana ucca kari' kṛṣṇa-nāma kahena prabhura kāṇe loudly doing Kṛṣṇa's name say of the Lord into the ear

74 Then all of them together began loud saṅkīrtana, chanting the name of Kṛṣṇa loudly into the Lord's ear.

The Lord comes to half-external consciousness —

কতক্ষণে প্রভুর কাণে শব্দ পরশিল । হুঙ্কার করিয়া প্রভু তবহিঁ উঠিল ॥ ৭৫ ॥

kata-kṣaṇe prabhura kāṇe śabda paraśila after some time the Lord's ear the sound touched huṅkāra kariyā prabhu tabahiṁ uṭhila
a loud cry making the Lord at once rose

75 After some time the sound reached His ears, and with a mighty cry He at once rose up.

উঠিতেই অস্থি সব লাগিল নিজ-স্থানে । 'অর্দ্ধবাহ্যে' ইতি-উতি করেন দরশনে ॥ ৭৬ ॥

uṭhitei asthi saba lāgila nija-sthāne on rising bones all fitted in their own places
'arddha-bāhye' iti-uti karena daraśane in half-external consciousness here and there makes looking 76 As soon as He stood up, all His bones returned to their places, and in half-external consciousness He looked all around.

What the Lord's three states are —

তিন-দশায় মহাপ্রভু রহেন সর্ব্বকাল । 'অন্তর্দ্দশা', 'বাহ্যদশা', 'অর্দ্ধবাহ্য' আর ॥ ৭৭ ॥

tina-daśāya mahāprabhu rahena sarva-kāla in three states Mahāprabhu remains all the time
'antar-daśā', 'bāhya-daśā', 'arddha-bāhya' āra the internal state the external state half-external and 77 Mahāprabhu was always in one of three states: the internal state, the external state, and the half-external.

*The half-external consciousness of the Lord, who thinks of Himself as a maidservant of the gopīs (citra-jalpa) —*

অন্তর্দ্দশার কিছু ঘোর, কিছু বাহ্য-জ্ঞান । সেই দশা কহেন ভক্ত 'অর্দ্ধবাহ্য' নাম ॥ ৭৮ ॥

antar-daśāra kichu ghora, kichu bāhya-jñāna of the internal state some absorption some external awareness sei daśā kahena bhakta 'arddha-bāhya' nāma that state call the devotees half-external by name

78 When something of the absorption of the internal state remains along with some external awareness, the devotees call that state "half-external."

‘অর্দ্ধবাহ্যে’ কহেন প্রভু প্রলাপ-বচনে । আকাশে কহেন প্রভু, শুনেন ভক্তগণে ॥ ৭৯ ॥

‘arddha-bāhye’ kahena prabhu pralāpa-vacane in the half-external speaks the Lord in words of raving ākāśe kahena prabhu, śunena bhakta-gaṇe to the sky speaks the Lord listen the devotees

79 In the half-external state the Lord spoke in ravings, as if to the sky, and the devotees listened:

কালিন্দী দেখিয়া আমি গেলাঙ বৃন্দাবন । দেখি, — জলক্রীড়া করেন ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন ॥ ৮০ ॥ kālindī dekhiyā āmi gelāṅa vṛndāvana the Kālindī seeing I went to Vṛndāvana dekhi, — jala-krīḍā karena vrajendra-nandana

I see water play does of the king of Vraja the son

80 “Seeing the Kālindī, I went to Vṛndāvana, and I see the son of the king of Vraja playing in the water.

রাধিকাদি গোপীগণ-সঙ্গে একত্র মেলি’ । যমুনার জলে মহারঙ্গে করেন কেলি ॥ ৮১ ॥

rādhikādi gopī-gaṇa-saṅge ekatra meli’ Rādhikā and the other gopīs with together gathering yamunāra jale mahā-raṅge karena keli of the Yamunā in the water with great delight does play

81 Together with Rādhikā and the other gopīs He is enjoying His pastimes in the waters of the Yamunā with great delight.

তীরে রহি’ দেখি আমি সখীগণ-সঙ্গে । একসখী সখীগণে দেখায় সেই রঙ্গে ॥ ৮২ ॥

tīre rahi' dekhi āmi sakhī-gaṇa-saṅge on the bank staying watch I the sakhīs with eka-sakhī sakhī-gaṇe dekhāya sei raṅge one sakhī to the sakhīs shows that play

82 Standing on the bank with the sakhīs, I watch, and one sakhī points out that play to the others.

Anubhāṣya.
[The friends are] I and other young, cherished maidservants like Me (mañjarīs), each wholly devoted to the happiness and joy of serving her own group leader (yūtheśvarī). This forbids the ahaṅgrahopāsanā (worshipping oneself as God) of a sādhaka, rooted in the desire to gratify one's own senses. See the Anubhāṣya on Madhya 8.202–204.

*Thinking of Himself as a maidservant of the gopīs, the Lord describes Kṛṣṇa's water pastimes with Śrī Rādhā and the other gopīs (citra-jalpa) —*

পট্টবস্ত্র, অলঙ্কারে, সমর্পিয়া সখী-করে, সূক্ষ্ম-শুক্লবস্ত্র-পরিধান । কৃষ্ণ লঞা কান্তা-গণ, কৈলা জলাবগাহন, জলকেলি রচিলা সুঠাম ॥ ৮৩ ॥

paṭṭa-vastra, alaṅkāre, silk garments ornaments samarpiyā sakhī-kare, handing over into the sakhīs' hands sūkṣma-śukla-vastra-paridhāna fine white cloth wearing kṛṣṇa lañā kāntā-gaṇa, Kṛṣṇa taking His beloveds kailā jalāvagāhana,
made plunging into the water jala-keli racilā suṭhāma water pastimes arranged beautifully

83 Handing their silk garments and ornaments to the sakhīs and dressed in fine white cloth, Kṛṣṇa and His beloveds went down into the water, and He began delightful water pastimes.

সখি হে, দেখ কৃষ্ণের জলকেলি-রঙ্গে ।
কৃষ্ণ মত্ত করিবর, চঞ্চল কর-পুষ্কর, গোপীগণ করি' নিজ সঙ্গে ॥ ৮৪ ॥ধ্রু॥

sakhi he, dekha kṛṣṇera jala-keli-raṅge O friend see Kṛṣṇa's water pastimes' play kṛṣṇa matta kari-vara, Kṛṣṇa maddened best of elephants
cañcala kara-puṣkara, restless hand lotus
gopī-gaṇa kari' nija saṅge
the gopīs making His own companions

84 O sakhī, see the play of Kṛṣṇa's water pastimes! Like a maddened lord of elephants, His lotus hands never still, Kṛṣṇa has taken the gopīs with Him.[1]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
kara-puṣkara — lotus hands (according to another opinion, the tip of the trunk).

আরম্ভিলা জলকেলি, অন্যোহন্যে জল ফেলাফেলি, হুড়াহুড়ি, বর্ষে জলধার । সবে জয়-পরাজয়, নাহি কিছু নিশ্চয়, জলযুদ্ধ বাড়িল অপার ॥ ৮৫ ॥ ārambhilā jala-keli,

began water play
anyo'nye jala phelāpheli,
at one another water throwing back and forth huḍāhuḍi, varṣe jala-dhāra tumult rain water streams sabe jaya-parājaya,
for all victory defeat
nāhi kichu niścaya,
not any certainty
jala-yuddha bāḍila apāra water battle grew boundless

85 The water play began. They splashed one another; there was a tumult, and water rained down in streams. No one could tell who was winning and who was losing, and the battle in the water raged beyond all bounds.

বর্ষে স্থির তড়িদ্গণ, সিঞ্চে শ্যাম নবঘন্, ঘন বর্ষে তড়িৎ-উপরে ।
সখীগণের নয়ন, তৃষিত চাতকীগণ, সেই অমৃত সুখে পান করে ॥ ৮৬ ॥

varṣe sthira taḍid-gaṇa, rain steady lightning flashes siñce śyāma nava-ghan, sprinkles dark new cloud ghana varṣe taḍit-upare the cloud rains the lightning upon sakhī-gaṇera nayana,
of the sakhīs the eyes
tṛṣita cātakī-gaṇa, thirsty cātakī birds
sei amṛta sukhe pāna kare that nectar with joy drink

86 The steady flashes of lightning rained water on the dark new cloud, and the cloud rained upon the lightning. The eyes of the sakhīs, like thirsty cātakī birds, drank that nectar with joy.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The gopīs, like motionless flashes of lightning, began to shower water on Kṛṣṇa, dark like a fresh cloud. And the fresh cloud — dark Kṛṣṇa — in turn showered water on the lightning (the gopīs).

প্রথমে যুদ্ধ ‘জলাজলি’, তবে যুদ্ধ ‘করাকরি’, তার পাছে যুদ্ধ ‘মুখামুখি’ । তবে যুদ্ধ ‘হৃদাহৃদি’, তবে হৈল ‘বাদাবাদি’, তবে হৈল যুদ্ধ ‘নখানখি’ ॥ ৮৭ ॥ prathame yuddha ‘jalājali’, first battle water against water

tabe yuddha ‘karākari’, then battle hand against hand tāra pāche yuddha ‘mukhāmukhi’ after that battle face to face tabe yuddha ‘hṛdāhṛdi’, then battle heart to heart
tabe haila ‘bādābādi’,
then there was word against word tabe haila yuddha ‘nakhānakhi’
then there was battle nail against nail

87 First they fought water against water, then hand against hand, after that face to face, then chest to chest; then came a battle of words, and last of all a battle of nails.

Anubhāṣya.

Variant reading: radā-radi[4].

সহস্র-করে জল সেকে, সহস্র নেত্রে গোপী দেখে, সহস্র-পদে নিকট গমনে ।
সহস্রমুখ-চুম্বনে, সহস্রবপু-সঙ্গমে, গোপীনর্ম্ম শুনে সহস্র-কাণে ॥ ৮৮ ॥

sahasra-kare jala seke, with a thousand hands water sprinkles sahasra netre gopī dekhe, with a thousand eyes the gopīs sees sahasra-pade nikaṭa gamane with a thousand feet near in going sahasra-mukha-cumbane,
with a thousand mouths in kissing sahasra-vapu-saṅgame, with a thousand bodies in embracing gopī-narma śune sahasra-kāṇe
the gopīs' jests hears with a thousand ears

88 With a thousand hands He sprinkled water, with a thousand eyes He looked at the gopīs, with a thousand feet He drew near them, with a thousand mouths He kissed them, with a thousand bodies He embraced them, and with a thousand ears He heard the gopīs' playful jests.

কৃষ্ণ রাধা লঞা বলে, গেলা কণ্ঠলগ্ন-জলে, ছাড়িলা তাঁহা, যাঁহা অগাধ পানী । তেঁহো কৃষ্ণকণ্ঠ ধরি', ভাসে জলের উপরি, গজোৎখাতে যৈছে কমলিনী ॥ ৮৯ ॥

kṛṣṇa rādhā lañā bale, Kṛṣṇa Rādhā taking by force
gelā kaṇṭha-lagna-jale, went neck-deep into the water chāḍilā tāṁhā, yāṁhā agādha pānī left there where fathomless water teṁho kṛṣṇa-kaṇṭha dhari', She Kṛṣṇa's neck holding bhāse jalera upari, floats the water upon gajotkhāte yaiche kamalinī uprooted by an elephant like a lotus plant

89 Kṛṣṇa drew Rādhā by force into neck-deep water and let Her go where it was fathomless. Clasping Kṛṣṇa's neck, She floated on the water like a lotus plant uprooted by an elephant.

যত গোপ-সুন্দরী, কৃষ্ণ তত রূপ ধরি', সবার বস্ত্র করিলা হরণে ।
যমুনা-জল নির্ম্মল, অঙ্গ করে ঝলমল, সুখে কৃষ্ণ করে দরশনে ॥ ৯০ ॥ yata gopa-sundarī,

as many cowherd beauties
kṛṣṇa tata rūpa dhari', Kṛṣṇa so many forms taking sabāra vastra karilā haraṇe of all the garments made taking away yamunā-jala nirmala,
the Yamunā's water clear
aṅga kare jhalamala, limbs make shimmering
sukhe kṛṣṇa kare daraśane with joy Kṛṣṇa makes beholding

90 Assuming as many forms as there were beautiful cowherd girls, Kṛṣṇa took away all their garments. Their bodies shimmered in the clear water of the Yamunā, and He gazed on them with joy.

পদ্মিনীলতা — সখীচয়, কৈল কারো সহায়, তার হস্তে পত্র সমর্পিল ।
কেহ মুক্ত-কেশপাশ, আগে কৈল অধোবাস, হস্তে কেহ কঞ্চুলি ধরিল ॥ ৯১ ॥ padminī-latā — sakhī-caya, lotus creepers sakhīs host kaila kāro sahāya,

gave to some help
tāra haste patra samarpila her into the hand a leaf offered keha mukta-keśa-pāśa,
some loosened locks of hair āge kaila adhovāsa,
in front made lower garment haste keha kañculi dharila of the hands some a bodice held

91 The lotus creepers, like a host of sakhīs, came to the help of some of them, placing leaves in their hands. Some let down their hair, which covered them in front like a lower garment, and for others their own hands became a bodice.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
To cover the body, a lotus leaf, like a hand. Some loosened their hair and imagined it to be a lower garment; others made their hands a kañculī (bodice).

Anubhāṣya.

Variant reading: svastike kāčulī racila (“she made a bodice with a svastika”)[5].

কৃষ্ণের কলহ রাধা-সনে, গোপীগণ সেইক্ষণে, হেমাব্জ-বনে গেলা লুকাইতে ।
আকণ্ঠ-বপু জলে পৈশে, মুখমাত্র জলে ভাসে, পদ্মে-মুখে না পারি চিনিতে ॥ ৯২ ॥

kṛṣṇera kalaha rādhā-sane, Kṛṣṇa's quarrel with Rādhā
gopī-gaṇa sei-kṣaṇe,
the gopīs that very moment hemābja-vane gelā lukāite golden lotuses into the grove went to hide ākaṇṭha-vapu jale paiśe, up to the neck bodies into the water enter mukha-mātra jale bhāse, faces only on the water float padme-mukhe nā pāri cinite lotuses faces not can distinguish

92 When Kṛṣṇa began a quarrel with Rādhā, the gopīs at once went to hide among the golden lotuses. They sank into the water up to their necks, so that only their faces showed, and I could not tell those faces from the lotuses.

এথা কৃষ্ণ রাধা-সনে, কৈলা যে আছিল মনে, গোপীগণ অন্বেষিতে গেলা ।
তবে রাধা সূক্ষ্মমতি, জানিয়া সখীর স্থিতি, সখী-মধ্যে আসিয়া মিলিলা ॥ ৯৩ ॥ ethā kṛṣṇa rādhā-sane, here Kṛṣṇa with Rādhā kailā ye āchila mane,

did what was in the mind gopī-gaṇa anveṣite gelā the gopīs to search for went tabe rādhā sūkṣma-mati, then Rādhā subtle-minded jāniyā sakhīra sthiti, knowing the sakhīs' whereabouts sakhī-madhye āsiyā mililā
the sakhīs among coming joined 93 Meanwhile Kṛṣṇa, alone with Rādhā, did as He had wished and then went to look for the gopīs. Then perceptive Rādhā, knowing where Her sakhīs were hiding, came and mingled among them.

যত হেমাব্জ জলে ভাসে, তত নীলাব্জ তার পাশে, আসি' আসি' করয়ে মিলন ৷
নীলাব্জে হেমাব্জে ঠেকে, যুদ্ধ হয় প্রত্যেকে, কৌতুকে দেখে তীরে সখীগণ ॥ ৯৪ ॥

yata hemābja jale bhāse,
as many golden lotuses in the water float
tata nīlābja tāra pāśe, so many blue lotuses them beside āsi' āsi' karaye milana coming coming make meeting nīlābje hemābje ṭheke, blue lotuses golden lotuses strike against yuddha haya pratyeke, battle occurs each
kautuke dekhe tīre sakhī-gaṇa
with amusement watch from the bank the sakhīs

94 As many golden lotuses as floated on the water, so many blue lotuses came up beside them, and every blue lotus that met a golden one did battle with it; the sakhīs watched from the bank with delight.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

hemābja — the gopīs; nīlābja — Kṛṣṇa. The gopīs devoted to service stood on the bank and watched both sides at play.

চক্রবাক-মণ্ডল, পৃথক্ পৃথক্ যুগল, জল হৈতে করিল উদ্গম ।
উঠিল পদ্মমণ্ডল, পৃথক্ পৃথক্ যুগল, চক্রবাকে কৈল আচ্ছাদন ॥ ৯৫ ॥ cakravāka-maṇḍala, cakravāka birds' flock

pṛthak pṛthak yugala,
separate separate in pairs
jala haite karila udgama the water from made rising uṭhila padma-maṇḍala, rose of lotuses a cluster
pṛthak pṛthak yugala,
separate separate in pairs
cakravāke kaila ācchādana
the cakravākas made covering

95 A flock of cakravāka birds rose from the water, pair by pair. Then a cluster of lotuses rose, pair by pair, and covered the cakravākas.

উঠিল বহু রক্তোৎপল, পৃথক্ পৃথক্ যুগল, পদ্মগণের কৈল নিবারণ ।
'পদ্ম' চাহে লুটি' নিতে, 'উৎপল' চাহে রাখিতে,
'চক্রবাক' লাগি' দুঁহার রণ ॥ ৯৬ ॥

uṭhila bahu raktotpala, rose many red water lilies
pṛthak pṛthak yugala,
separate separate in pairs
padma-gaṇera kaila nivāraṇa of the lotuses made warding off
'padma' cāhe luṭi' nite, the lotus wants plundering to take
'utpala' cāhe rākhite, the water lily wants to protect
'cakravāka' lāgi' duṁhāra raṇa
the cakravākas for the sake of of the two battle

96 Next many red water lilies (utpala) rose, pair by pair, and warded off the lotuses. The lotuses wanted to carry off the cakravākas as plunder, and the water lilies wanted to protect them; so for the sake of the cakravākas the two fought.

পদ্মোৎপল — অচেতন, চক্রবাক — সচেতন, চক্রবাকে পদ্ম আস্বাদয়।
ইঁহা দুঁহার উল্টা স্থিতি, ধর্ম্ম হৈল বিপরীতি, কৃষ্ণের রাজ্যে ঐছে ন্যায় হয় ॥ ৯৭ ॥ padmotpala — acetana, lotuses water lilies insentient cakravāka — sacetana, cakravākas sentient

cakravāke padma āsvādaya the cakravākas the lotuses taste iṁhā duṁhāra ulṭā sthiti, here of the two reversed position dharma haila viparīti, nature became opposite
kṛṣṇera rājye aiche nyāya haya Kṛṣṇa's in the kingdom such rule is 97 Lotuses and water lilies are insentient, while cakravākas are sentient; yet here the lotuses taste the cakravākas. The positions of the two are reversed, and their natures have turned into their opposites: such is the rule in Kṛṣṇa's kingdom.

মিত্রের মিত্র সহবাসী, চক্রবাকে লুটে আসি', কৃষ্ণের রাজ্যে ঐছে ব্যবহার ৷
অপরিচিত শত্রুর মিত্র, রাখে উৎপল, — এ বড় চিত্র, এই বড় 'বিরোধ-অলঙ্কার' ॥ ৯৮ ॥

mitrera mitra saha-vāsī, of the friend (the sun) the friend the neighbour cakravāke luṭe āsi', the cakravākas plunders coming kṛṣṇera rājye aiche vyavahāra Kṛṣṇa's in the kingdom such conduct aparicita śatrura mitra, unacquainted of the enemy the friend rākhe utpala, — e baḍa citra, protects the water lily this great wonder ei baḍa 'virodha-alaṅkāra' this great contradiction ornament

98 The lotus comes and plunders the cakravāka, its neighbour and the friend of its own friend, the sun — such is the way in Kṛṣṇa's kingdom. And the water lily protects the friend of its enemy, the sun, though it does not even know him — a great wonder! This is the great ornament called "contradiction" (virodha).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The breasts of the gopīs are the flock of cakravāka birds. When they all rose from the water in pairs, Kṛṣṇa's hands, like blue lotuses, covered those cakravākas in pairs. The gopīs' hands are red water lilies (raktotpalas): they rose in pairs and began to hold off the blue lotuses. The blue lotuses want to plunder the cakravākas, and the red water lilies want to protect them; so a quarrel broke out between the two. The blue lotuses and the red water lilies are senseless with love; the cakravākas are conscious, yet the blue lotuses began to taste them. Here the natures are reversed: usually the cakravāka bird tastes the lotus, but in this pastime of Kṛṣṇa the senseless lotus tasted the conscious cakravāka. The lotus, the sun's friend, naturally lives beside the cakravāka; yet, though it is the bird's friend, it plunders the cakravāka. The utpala, that is, the kumuda (night water lily), opens at night, and so it is a stranger to the cakravāka and hostile to it. Yet this kumuda — a gopī's hand — protects the cakravāka, her own breast. This is truly wonderful, and therefore here we have the ornament virodha (contradiction).

Thus ends the eighteenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.

The lotus opens at sunrise, and so the sun is the lotus's friend; at sunrise the cakravākas, too, are reunited. But here the lotus, though the sun's friend, plunders the cakravāka, the friend of its own friend the sun. The cakravāka is a living being, and the lotus an insentient object. But here the lotus — Kṛṣṇa's hand — though insentient, attacks the living cakravāka — the gopī's breast. This is the ornament virodhābhāsa (apparent contradiction). The utpala closes at sunrise, and so the sun is the utpala's enemy. The utpala opens at night, and so it is a stranger to the cakravāka. Here the sun is the utpala's enemy, and the cakravāka is that enemy's friend. Yet here the cakravāka — the gopī's breast — is protected by the utpala — the gopī's hand. This too is the wonderful ornament virodha (contradiction).

অতিশয়োক্তি, বিরোধাভাস, দুই অলঙ্কার প্রকাশ, করি' কৃষ্ণ প্রকট দেখাইল ।
যাহা করি' আস্বাদন, আনন্দিত মোর মন, নেত্র-কর্ণ যুগ্ম জুড়াইল ॥ ৯৯ ॥ atiśayokti, virodhābhāsa, hyperbole apparent contradiction

dui alaṅkāra prakāśa, two ornaments manifestation kari' kṛṣṇa prakaṭa dekhāila making Kṛṣṇa openly showed yāhā kari' āsvādana,
which making tasting
ānandita mora mana, delighted My mind
netra-karṇa yugma juḍāila eyes ears the pair were refreshed

99 Thus Kṛṣṇa openly displayed two figures of speech, hyperbole (atiśayokti) and apparent contradiction (virodhābhāsa). As I tasted them, My mind was delighted, and My eyes and ears were refreshed.

Anubhāṣya.

atiśayokti (hyperbole) — in place of the thing compared (upameya), the standard of comparison (upamāna) is used with the firm certainty (understanding) that the two are not different; therefore this is the ornament atiśayokti. As the Sāhitya-darpaṇa says (ch. 10, kārikā 693): "When the identification (adhyavasāya) is complete, it is called atiśayokti."

virodhābhāsa (apparent contradiction) — as the Kāvya-prakāśa says (tenth ullāsa, kārikā 24): "Virodha is speaking of what is not contradictory as if it were contradictory. A genus (jāti) may conflict with four — with a genus and the rest; a quality (guṇa) with three; an action (kriyā) with two; and a substance (dravya) only with a substance. Thus there are ten kinds."

*The varied service the transcendental mañjarīs render to Śrī Kṛṣṇa together with the gopīs —*

ঐছে বিচিত্র ক্রীড়া করি', তীরে আইলা শ্রীহরি, সঙ্গে লঞা সব কান্তাগণ ।
গন্ধ-তৈল-মর্দ্দন, আমলকী-উদ্বর্ত্তন, সেবা করে তীরে সখীগণ ॥ ১০০ ॥

aiche vicitra krīḍā kari', such wonderful play having made tīre āilā śrī-hari,
to the bank came Śrī Hari saṅge lañā saba kāntā-gaṇa with taking all beloveds gandha-taila-mardana, fragrant oil massage
āmalakī-udvartana, āmalakī rubbing with paste
sevā kare tīre sakhī-gaṇa service do on the bank the sakhīs

100 After such wonderful play Śrī Hari came up onto the bank with all His beloveds, and there the sakhīs served Them, massaging Them with fragrant oil and rubbing Them with āmalakī paste.

Anubhāṣya.
udvartana — ābāṭā, that is, [the paste] with which the body is cleansed.

পুনরপি কৈল স্নান, শুষ্কবস্ত্র পরিধান, রত্ন-মন্দিরে কৈলা আগমন।
বৃন্দা-কৃত সম্ভার, গন্ধপুষ্প-অলঙ্কার, বন্যবেশ করিল রচন ॥ ১০১ ॥

punarapi kaila snāna,
again did bathing
śuṣka-vastra paridhāna, dry clothes putting on ratna-mandire kailā āgamana to the jewelled house made coming vṛndā-kṛta sambhāra,
by Vṛndā arranged the articles gandha-puṣpa-alaṅkāra, fragrances flowers ornaments vanya-veśa karila racana forest dress made arranging

101 Then They bathed again, put on dry clothes and came to a jewelled pavilion. There Vṛndā had prepared fragrances, flowers and ornaments for Them, and They put on forest attire.

Anubhāṣya.
sambhāra — offerings (upāyana): flowers, fragrances, adornments, clothing and so on.

বৃন্দাবনে তরুলতা, অদ্ভুত তাহার কথা, বারমাস ধরে ফুল-ফল ৷
বৃন্দাবনে দেবীগণ, কুঞ্জদাসী যত জন, ফল পাড়ি' আনিয়া সকল ॥ ১০২ ॥

vṛndāvane taru-latā, in Vṛndāvana trees creepers adbhuta tāhāra kathā, wonderful their story
bāra-māsa dhare phula-phala twelve months bear flowers fruits vṛndāvane devī-gaṇa,
in Vṛndāvana the goddesses kuñja-dāsī yata jana,
of the bowers maidservants as many persons phala pāḍi' āniyā sakala fruits picking bringing all

102 The trees and creepers of Vṛndāvana are wonderful indeed: all twelve months of the year they bear flowers and fruits. The goddesses of the forest and all the maidservants of the bowers picked the fruits and brought them.

উত্তম সংস্কার করি', বড় বড় থালী ভরি', রত্ন মন্দিরে পিণ্ডার উপরে ৷ ভক্ষণের ক্রম করি', ধরিয়াছে সারি সারি, আগে আসন বসিবার তরে ॥ ১০৩ ॥

uttama saṁskāra kari', excellent preparation making baḍa baḍa thālī bhari', big big platters filling ratna mandire piṇḍāra upare in the jewelled house the dais upon bhakṣaṇera krama kari', of eating order making dhariyāche sāri sāri,
have set out row by row āge āsana vasibāra tare in front seats of sitting for 103 They prepared the fruits with great care, filled large platters with them and set these out in rows on a raised dais in the jewelled pavilion, in the order in which they were to be eaten; and in front they placed seats.

Anubhāṣya.

saṁskāra — preparing the fruits: to make them fit to eat, removing the stones, peel and so on; to make them easy to take in the mouth, washing them, cutting them into pieces and so forth.

এক নারিকেল নানা-জাতি, এক আম্র নানা ভাতি, কলা, কোলি — বিবিধপ্রকার ৷
পনস, খর্জ্জুর, কমলা, নারঙ্গ, জাম, সান্তারা, দ্রাক্ষা, বাদাম, মেওয়া যত আর ॥ ১০৪ ॥

eka nārikela nānā-jāti, just coconuts of many kinds eka āmra nānā bhāti,
just mangoes of many sorts kalā, koli — vividha-prakāra bananas jujubes of various kinds panasa, kharjura, kamalā, jackfruits dates oranges
nāraṅga, jāma, sāntārā, tangerines jāma fruits pomelos drākṣā, bādāma, meoyā yata āra grapes almonds dried fruits as many more

104 There were coconuts of many kinds and mangoes of many sorts, bananas and jujubes of various kinds, jackfruits, dates, oranges, tangerines, jāma fruits, pomelos (sāntārā), grapes, almonds, and all kinds of dried fruits and nuts.

খরমুজা, ক্ষীরিকা, তাল, কেশুর, পানীফল, মৃণাল, বিল্ব, পীলু, দাড়িম্বাদি যত ৷
কোন দেশে কার খ্যাতি, বৃন্দাবনে সব-প্রাপ্তি, সহস্রজাতি, লেখা যায় কত ? ॥ ১০৫ ॥

kharamujā, kṣīrikā, tāla, melons kṣīrikā cucumbers palm fruits keśura, pānī-phala, mṛṇāla, keśura roots water chestnuts lotus stalks bilva, pīlu, dāḍimbādi yata bilva pīlu pomegranates and others as many kona deśe kāra khyāti,
in some land of which fame vṛndāvane saba-prāpti,
in Vṛndāvana all obtainable sahasra-jāti, lekhā yāya kata?
a thousand kinds to write possible how many 105 Melons, kṣīrikā cucumbers, palm fruits, keśura roots, water chestnuts, lotus stalks, bilva, pīlu, pomegranates and many more — whatever fruit is famous in any land is found in Vṛndāvana. There are a thousand kinds; how many can be written down?

Anubhāṣya.

koli — jujube (kul, badarī); panasa — jackfruit (kāṭāl); nāraṅga — a citrus of the orange kind (kamalā-lebu); drākṣā — grapes (āṅgur); sāntārā — a large citrus of the pomelo kind (bātābi-lebu) (so called in East Bengal, in the Chittagong division); meoyā — pistachios, almonds and other choice, delicious fruits grown in cold countries; kharamujā — a fruit related to the watermelon (taramujā) but smaller (in some regions also called phuṭi or bāṅgī); kṣīrikā — khirāi (translator's note: a kind of cucumber); tāla — the soft flesh of the young palm fruit (tāl-śāṣ), or phopal; keśura — a particular grass root of the nut-grass (muthā) kind, also known as kaśeru, kaseru (with short or long u); pānī-phala — a particular fruit growing in the water of very old ponds and rivers overgrown with weed (śaivāla): the śṛṅgāṭaka; mṛṇāla — the lotus stalk, or the lotus root (?); dāḍimba — a fruit of the maskaṭ and bedānā kind, the pomegranate (ḍālim).

গঙ্গাজল, অমৃতকেলি, পীযূষগ্রন্থি, কর্পূরকেলি, সরপূরী, অমৃতি, পদ্মচিনি ।
খণ্ডক্ষীরিসার-বৃক্ষ, ঘরে করি' নানা ভক্ষ্য, রাধা যাহা কৃষ্ণ লাগি' আনি ॥ ১০৬ ॥

gaṅgājala, amṛtakeli,
gaṅgājala amṛtakeli
pīyūṣagranthi, karpūrakeli,
pīyūṣagranthi karpūrakeli
sarapūrī, amṛti, padmacini
sarapūrī amṛti padmacini
khaṇḍa-kṣīrisāra-vṛkṣa, of sugar kṣīrisāra trees
ghare kari' nānā bhakṣya, at home making various sweets rādhā yāhā kṛṣṇa lāgi' āni Rādhā which Kṛṣṇa for brought 106 Gaṅgājala, amṛtakeli, pīyūṣagranthi, karpūrakeli, sarapūrī, amṛti, padmacini, and little trees made of sugar and kṣīrisāra — all these various sweets Rādhā had made at home and brought for Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.

Here gaṅgājala and all the rest are sweet balls (nāḍu) and various cake-like foods (piṣṭaka) made from curd (chānā) of cow's milk with sugar. khaṇḍa-kṣīrisāra — various tree-shaped sweets made of sugar.

ভক্ষ্যের পরিপাটী দেখি', কৃষ্ণ হৈলা মহাসুখী, বসি' কৈল বন্য ভোজন ।
সঙ্গে লঞা সখীগণ, রাধা কৈলা ভোজন, দুঁহে কৈলা মন্দিরে শয়ন ॥ ১০৭ ॥

bhakṣyera paripāṭī dekhi', of the food the fine arrangement seeing kṛṣṇa hailā mahā-sukhī, Kṛṣṇa became very happy vasi' kaila vanya bhojana sitting made forest meal saṅge lañā sakhī-gaṇa,
with taking the sakhīs
rādhā kailā bhojana, Rādhā made eating
duṁhe kailā mandire śayana
the two made in the house lying down

107 Seeing how finely the food was arranged, Kṛṣṇa was delighted and sat down to the forest meal. Then Rādhā ate with Her sakhīs, and the two of Them lay down to rest in the pavilion.

কেহ করে বীজন, কেহ পাদসম্বাহন, কেহ করায় তাম্বূল ভক্ষণ ।
রাধাকৃষ্ণ নিদ্রা গেলা, সখীগণ শয়ন কৈলা, দেখি' আমার সুখী হৈল মন ॥ ১০৮ ॥ keha kare vījana,

someone does fanning
keha pāda-samvāhana, someone feet massaging
keha karāya tāmbūla bhakṣaṇa someone makes betel eating rādhā-kṛṣṇa nidrā gelā, Rādhā Kṛṣṇa sleep went sakhī-gaṇa śayana kailā, the sakhīs lying down did dekhi' āmāra sukhī haila mana seeing My happy became mind

108 Some fanned Them, some massaged Their feet, some gave Them betel to chew. Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa fell asleep, and the sakhīs lay down too. My heart was happy to see it.

The Lord longs for Kṛṣṇa's happiness —

হেনকালে মোরে ধরি', মহা কোলাহল করি', তুমি-সব ইঁহা লঞা আইলা ।
কাঁহা যমুনা, বৃন্দাবন, কাঁহা কৃষ্ণ, গোপীগণ, সেই সুখ ভঙ্গ করাইলা ! ॥ ১০৯ ॥ hena-kāle more dhari',

at that time Me seizing mahā kolāhala kari', great uproar making
tumi-saba iṁhā lañā āilā you all here taking brought kāṁhā yamunā, vṛndāvana, where the Yamunā Vṛndāvana kāṁhā kṛṣṇa, gopī-gaṇa, where Kṛṣṇa the gopīs
sei sukha bhaṅga karāilā!
that happiness broken you have caused

109 Just then you all seized Me, made a great uproar and brought Me here. Where is the Yamunā now, where is Vṛndāvana? Where are Kṛṣṇa and the gopīs? You have broken My happiness!"

From half-external consciousness the Lord comes to external consciousness, asks Svarūpa the reason, and Svarūpa replies —

এতেক কহিতে প্রভুর কেবল 'বাহ্য' হৈল । স্বরূপ-গোসাঞিরে দেখি' তাঁহারে পুছিল ॥ ১১০ ॥

eteka kahite prabhura kevala 'bāhya' haila this much while saying the Lord's full external consciousness came svarūpa-gosāñire dekhi' tāṁhāre puchila Svarūpa Gosāñi seeing him asked

110 As He said this, the Lord came fully back to external consciousness. Seeing Svarūpa Gosāñi, He asked him,

'ইঁহা কেনে তোমরা আমারে লঞা আইলা ?' স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি তবে কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১১১ ॥

'iṁhā kene tomarā āmāre lañā āilā?' here why you Me taking have brought svarūpa-gosāñi tabe kahite lāgilā Svarūpa Gosāñi then to speak began

111 "Why have you brought Me here?" Then Svarūpa Gosāñi began to speak:

যমুনার ভ্রমে তুমি সমুদ্রে পড়িলা । সমুদ্রের তরঙ্গে আসি' এত দূর আইলা ! ॥ ১১২ ॥

yamunāra bhrame tumi samudre paḍilā for the Yamunā mistaking You into the ocean fell samudrera taraṅge āsi' eta dūra āilā!
of the ocean by the waves coming so far came

112 "Taking the ocean for the Yamunā, You fell into it, and the waves carried You this far!

এই জালিয়া জালে করি' তোমা উঠাইল । তোমার পরশে এই প্রেমে মত্ত হইল ॥ ১১৩ ॥

ei jāliyā jāle kari' tomā uṭhāila this fisherman in the net taking You hauled up tomāra paraśe ei preme matta haila Your by the touch he with love mad became 113 This fisherman hauled You up in his net, and by Your touch he became mad with love.

সব রাত্রি সবে বেড়াই তোমারে অন্বেষিয়া । জালিয়ার মুখে শুনি' পাইনু আসিয়া ॥ ১১৪ ॥

saba rātri sabe beḍāi tomāre anveṣiyā all night all we wander You searching jāliyāra mukhe śuni' pāinu āsiyā
the fisherman's from the mouth hearing we found coming

114 All night long we wandered about searching for You; then we heard the fisherman's story, came here and found You.

তুমি মূর্চ্ছা-ছলে বৃন্দাবনে দেখ ক্রীড়া । তোমার মূর্চ্ছা দেখি' সবে মনে পায় পীড়া ॥ ১১৫ ॥

tumi mūrcchā-chale vṛndāvane dekha krīḍā
You under the guise of a swoon in Vṛndāvana see play tomāra mūrcchā dekhi' sabe mane pāya pīḍā
Your swoon seeing all in the mind feel pain

115 You seem to have swooned, yet You are watching pastimes in Vṛndāvana. But we, seeing You unconscious, suffer with all our hearts.

কৃষ্ণনাম লইতে তোমার 'অর্দ্ধবাহ্য' হইল । তাতে যে প্রলাপ কৈলা, তাহা যে শুনিল ॥ ১১৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa-nāma laite tomāra 'arddha-bāhya' haila Kṛṣṇa's name on taking Your half-external came tāte ye pralāpa kailā, tāhā ye śunila in that which ravings You made that indeed we heard

116 When we chanted the name of Kṛṣṇa, You came to half-external consciousness, and we heard Your ravings."

The Lord tells what happened to Him —

প্রভু কহে, — স্বপ্নে দেখি' গেলাঙ বৃন্দাবনে । দেখি, — কৃষ্ণ রাস করেন গোপীগণ-সনে ॥ ১১৭ ॥ prabhu kahe, — svapne dekhi' gelāṅa vṛndāvane the Lord says in a dream seeing I went to Vṛndāvana dekhi, — kṛṣṇa rāsa karena gopīgaṇa-sane

I see Kṛṣṇa rāsa does the gopīs with

117 The Lord said, "I dreamt that I had gone to Vṛndāvana, and there I see Kṛṣṇa dancing the rāsa with the gopīs.

জলক্রীড়া করি' কৈলা বন্য-ভোজনে । দেখি' আমি প্রলাপ কৈলুঁ, হেন লয় মনে ॥ ১১৮ ॥ jala-krīḍā kari' kailā vanya-bhojane water play having done made forest meal dekhi' āmi pralāpa kailuṁ, hena laya mane seeing I ravings made so it seems to the mind

118 After the water pastimes He enjoyed a forest meal. Seeing all this, I suppose I spoke in ravings."

Svarūpa bathes Mahāprabhu and brings Him home —

তবে স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি, তাঁরে স্নান করাঞা । প্রভুরে লঞা ঘর আইলা আনন্দিত হঞা ॥ ১১৯ ॥

tabe svarūpa-gosāñi, tāṁre snāna karāñā then Svarūpa Gosāñi Him bath causing prabhure lañā ghara āilā ānandita hañā
the Lord taking home came delighted being 119 Then Svarūpa Gosāñi bathed the Lord and, overjoyed, brought Him home.

*Whoever hears of this mahābhāva of the Lord, even one bereft of consciousness (acaitanya), gains consciousness (caitanya) — the state of being turned towards Kṛṣṇa —*

এই ত' কহিলুঁ প্রভুর সমুদ্র-পতন । ইহা যেই শুনে, পায় চৈতন্য-চরণ ॥ ১২০ ॥ ei ta' kahiluṁ prabhura samudra-patana thus indeed I have told the Lord's into the ocean fall ihā yei śune, pāya caitanya-caraṇa this whoever hears attains Caitanya's feet

120 Thus I have told of the Lord's fall into the ocean. Whoever hears this attains the feet of Caitanya.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the eighteenth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ । চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১২১ ॥

śrī-rūpa raghunātha-pade yāra āśa Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

121 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. The line "O sakhī, see…" is marked in the edition as a refrain (dhruva). ↩
2. The edition reads নিরসন্ (nirasan), a misprint for নিবসন্ (nivasan, "remaining"), as in the verse. ↩
3. Prakrit; the sense is "love (affection) fears harm." The exact Sanskrit form of these lines is not given; in commentaries on the drama the thought appears as the proverb atisnehaḥ pāpa-śaṅkī. ↩

4. The verse (87) reads hṛdā-hṛdi (“chest to chest”); by this variant, “tooth to tooth” (rada means “tooth”). Vādā-vādi (“a battle of words”) follows in the verse and stays. ↩
5. Svastika here apparently means the arms crossed over the breast (cf. Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya 91: the hands as a kañculī); the edition does not explain it. ↩