Chapter 11

The Description of the Beḍā-kīrtana Pastimes

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the Anubhāṣya, 2026)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. Sārvabhauma tried to arrange a meeting between Pratāparudra and Mahāprabhu, but Mahāprabhu refused. Rāmānanda Rāya came to Puruṣottama, met Mahāprabhu and described the king’s many Vaiṣṇava qualities, and the Lord’s heart changed. The king revealed his humility and his vow to Sārvabhauma. Sārvabhauma told the king of a way to see Mahāprabhu’s feet. When the time of anavasara came, Mahāprabhu, distraught at being unable to see the Lord, went to Ālālanātha. Some time later He heard that the devotees were coming from Gauḍa and returned to Puruṣottama. As Śrī Advaita and the other devotees approached, Svarūpa and Govinda took garlands given by the Lord and went to bring them. The king watched the Vaiṣṇavas arrive from the roof of his palace. At Sārvabhauma’s wish, Śrī Gopīnātha Ācārya identified each of these Vaiṣṇavas. The king and Sārvabhauma then discussed at length Śrī Caitanya’s being Kṛṣṇa, and the newly arrived Vaiṣṇavas’ honouring prasāda without first shaving their heads and fasting. After this the king arranged lodgings and prasāda for the Vaiṣṇavas. Mahāprabhu had many joyful conversations with Vāsudeva Datta and the other Vaiṣṇavas. Seeing Haridāsa’s humility, He gave him a secluded place in the garden (the Ṭoṭā) and spoke of Haridāsa’s glory. Then, in the temple of Jagannātha, He divided the devotees into four groups, and a great saṅkīrtana took place. (After this) the Vaiṣṇavas went to their own lodgings at the Lord’s order.

1 Performing a wildly leaping dance with His devotees in the temple of Śrī Jagannātha, Gauracandra, His limbs adorned with many ecstatic moods, by His own splendour plunged the whole world into a flood of prema.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Śrī Gauracandra, whose body was adorned with many kinds of bhāvas, performed an exceedingly wild dance with the devotees in the house of Śrī Jagannātha, and by His own sweetness drowned this world in a flood of love.

Anubhāṣya.

Sārvabhauma wishes to submit something to the Lord —

The Lord gives permission —

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Śrī Caitanyadeva said sorrowfully: "Alas! There are niṣkiñcanas, people free of worldly attachment, who have turned to the Lord's service and wish to cross the ocean of worldly existence completely. For them, seeing worldly people and women is worse than taking poison."

Anubhāṣya.

The Bhaṭṭācārya praises the king —

সার্ব্বভৌম কহে, — সত্য তোমার বচন । জগন্নাথ-সেবক রাজা, কিন্তু ভক্তোত্তম ॥ ৯ ॥

sārvabhauma kahe, — satya tomāra vacana Sārvabhauma says true Your words jagannātha-sevaka rājā, kintu bhaktottama of Jagannātha servant the king but the best of devotees

9 Sārvabhauma said, "Your words are true. But the king is a servant of Jagannātha and the best of devotees."

To see and associate with a king, the enjoyer of gold and prestige, or with a woman, through the eyes of enjoyment, brings death: turning away from the Lord —

প্রভু কহে, — তথাপি রাজা কালসর্পাকার । কাষ্ঠনারী-স্পর্শে যৈছে উপজয় বিকার ॥ ১০ ॥

prabhu kahe, — tathāpi rājā kāla-sarpākāra
the Lord says still the king like a deadly black snake kāṣṭha-nārī-sparśe yaiche upajaya vikāra of a wooden woman by the touch as arises agitation

10 The Lord said, "Still, a king is like a deadly black snake. Even the touch of a woman carved from wood can disturb the mind.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Sārvabhauma said, "Prabhu, what You say is true. But King Pratāparudradeva is a servant of Jagannātha and the best of devotees." The Lord replied: "He may be Jagannātha's servant and the best of devotees, but a 'king' is like a deadly serpent. See: even touching a woman carved of wood can cause some agitation. In the same way, merely seeing a king, even the best of devotees, can give rise to an anartha, something unwanted, in one who is renounced."

Fear, born of absorption in a second thing, arises simply from seeing things externally, as their enjoyer, taking them to be objects of enjoyment —

*(Caitanya-candrodaya, Act 8, verse 25) —*

11 "One should fear even the outward form of women and of worldly people; for as a snake disturbs the mind, so does even its likeness." (Caitanya-candrodaya-nāṭaka, 8.25)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Just as the sight of a snake, and even of something shaped like one, agitates the mind, so even the outward form of a woman or a worldly man inspires fear.

Anubhāṣya.
strīṇāṁ (of women) viṣayiṇām (of those who serve their senses), (that is, of enjoyers and objects of enjoyment) api ākārāt (even of their outward form [by sādhakas who serve Kṛṣṇa alone and are intent on the highest goal]) api bhetavyam (one should be afraid). yathā aheḥ (of a snake) manasaḥ kṣobhaḥ (fear) (arises), tathā tasya (of the snake) ākṛteḥ (of a form like it) api (fear arises).

The king comes from Kaṭaka to Purī with his entourage, Rāmānanda and others —

14 At that time Pratāparudra came to Puruṣottama, and with his ministers and friends the king went for darśana of Jagannātha.

Anubhāṣya.
King Pratāparudra of the Gaṅga dynasty had his capital in the city of Kaṭaka. Later the capital was moved from Kaṭaka to Khurdā.

The Lord meets Rāmānanda —

রামানন্দ রায় আইলা গজপতি-সঙ্গে ।

rāmānanda rāya āilā gajapati-saṅge Rāmānanda Rāya came the Gajapati with prathamei prabhure āsi' mililā bahu-raṅge
first of all the Lord coming met with great joy

15 Rāmānanda Rāya had come with the Gajapati king, and before anything else he went to the Lord and met Him with great joy.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Gajapati — certain kings bore titles such as chatrapati (lord of the parasol), narapati (lord of men), aśvapati (lord of horses) and so on. In the same way gajapati, lord of elephants, was the title of the emperors of Orissa.

Rāya bows down, the Lord embraces him, and both weep with love —

রায় প্রণতি কৈল, প্রভু কৈল আলিঙ্গন ।
দুই জনে প্রেমাবেশে করেন ক্রন্দন ॥ ১৬ ॥

rāya praṇati kaila, prabhu kaila āliṅgana Rāya obeisance made the Lord made an embrace dui jane premāveśe karena krandana
the two persons in ecstatic love make weeping

16 Rāya bowed down, and the Lord embraced him; the two of them wept in ecstatic love.

Everyone is amazed to see how the Lord treats Rāya —

রায়-সঙ্গে প্রভুর দেখি' স্নেহ-ব্যবহার । সর্ব্ব ভক্তগণের মনে হৈল চমৎকার ॥ ১৭ ॥

rāya-saṅge prabhura dekhi' sneha-vyavahāra with Rāya of the Lord seeing affectionate dealings sarva bhakta-gaṇera mane haila camatkāra of all the devotees in the mind arose wonder

17 Seeing the Lord's affectionate dealings with Rāya, all the devotees were filled with wonder.

Rāya tells the Lord he has left the king's service —

রায় কহে, — তোমার আজ্ঞা রাজাকে কহিল । তোমার আজ্ঞায় রাজা মোর বিষয় ছাড়াইল ॥ ১৮ ॥

rāya kahe, — tomāra ājñā rājāke kahila Rāya says Your order to the king I told tomāra ājñāya rājā mora viṣaya chāḍāila
by Your order the king my worldly duties took away

18 Rāya said, "I conveyed Your order to the king, and in obedience to it he has released me from my worldly duties.[2]

Anubhāṣya.

By your order — see Madhya 8.297–298. When Rāmānanda Rāya told King Pratāparudra of this, the king, in keeping with Mahāprabhu's wish, released Rāmānanda from his worldly duties in the eyes of the world: that is, he retired him from service.

Rāya asks the king to release him from service —

আমি কহি, — আমা হৈতে না হয় 'বিষয়' । চৈতন্যচরণে রহোঁ, যদি আজ্ঞা হয় ॥ ১৯ ॥

āmi kahi, — āmā haite nā haya 'viṣaya'
I said by me not will be 'worldly affairs'
caitanya-caraṇe rahoṁ, yadi ājñā haya at the feet of Caitanya let me stay if permission there is 19 I told him, 'I can no longer attend to worldly affairs. If you permit, let me remain at the feet of Caitanya.'

The king gladly consents —

তোমার নাম শুনি' রাজা আনন্দিত হৈল । আসন হৈতে উঠি' মোরে আলিঙ্গন কৈল ॥ ২০ ॥

tomāra nāma śuni' rājā ānandita haila
Your name hearing the king delighted became āsana haite uṭhi' more āliṅgana kaila from his seat rising me an embrace gave 20 Hearing Your name, the king was delighted. He rose from his throne and embraced me.

The king's devotion to the Lord —

তোমার নাম শুনি' হৈল মহা-প্রেমাবেশ । মোর হাতে ধরি' করে পিরীতি বিশেষ ॥ ২১ ॥

tomāra nāma śuni' haila mahā-premāveśa
Your name hearing there was great ecstasy of love mora hāte dhari' kare pirīti viśeṣa
my hand taking shows affection special

21 At Your name he was overwhelmed with love; taking my hand, he showed me special affection.

Though releasing Rāya, the king continues his salary —

তোমার যে বর্ত্তন, তুমি খাও সেই বর্ত্তন । নিশ্চিন্তি হঞা ভজ চৈতন্যের চরণ ॥ ২২ ॥

tomāra ye vartana, tumi khāo sei vartana your which salary you eat that salary niścinti hañā bhaja caitanyera caraṇa
free from worry being worship of Caitanya the feet

22 He said, 'Keep drawing the salary you received before, and, free from care, worship the feet of Caitanya.'

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

You received a salary, payment for your labour, in the post of governor of South Kaliṅga. Now you have been relieved of your duties, yet you will receive that same salary.

The king's humility —

আমি — ছার, যোগ্য নহি তাঁর দরশনে । তাঁরে যেই ভজে, তাঁর সফল জীবনে ॥ ২৩ ॥

āmi — chāra, yogya nahi tāṁra daraśane
I am wretched fit not His for the sight
tāṁre yei bhaje, tāṁra saphala jīvane
Him whoever worships his fruitful life

23 Then he said, 'I am wretched, not fit to see Him. But whoever worships Him has made his life fruitful.

পরম-কৃপালু তেঁহ ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন । কোন-জন্মে মোরে অবশ্য দিবেন দরশন ॥ ২৪ ॥

parama-kṛpālu teṁha vrajendra-nandana supremely merciful He the son of the king of Vraja kona-janme more avaśya dibena daraśana
in some birth to me surely He will give His sight

24 He, the son of the king of Vraja, is supremely merciful; in some birth He will surely let me see Him.'

Rāya praises the king before the Lord —

যে তাঁহার প্রেম-আর্ত্তি দেখিলুঁ তোমাতে । তার এক প্রেম-লেশ নাহিক আমাতে ॥ ২৫ ॥

ye tāṁhāra prema-ārti dekhiluṁ tomāte which his anguish of love I saw for You tāra eka prema-leśa nāhika āmāte of that one particle of love there is not in me

25 I have not even a particle of the anguish of love for You that I saw in him."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Rāmānanda said, "Prabhu, I saw in the king such love-pain for You that not even a particle of it is in me."

Because the king loves a pure Vaiṣṇava, the Lord hints that He will show him mercy in the future —

প্রভু কহে, — তুমি কৃষ্ণভকত-প্রধান । তোমাকে যে প্রীতি করে, সেই ভাগ্যবান্ ॥ ২৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — tumi kṛṣṇa-bhakata-pradhāna
the Lord says you foremost among Kṛṣṇa's devotees
tomāke ye prīti kare, sei bhāgyavān
you who loves he fortunate

26 The Lord said, "You are the foremost of Kṛṣṇa's devotees. Whoever loves you is fortunate.

তোমাতে যে এত প্রীতি হইল রাজার । এই গুণে কৃষ্ণ তাঁরে করিবে অঙ্গীকার ॥ ২৭ ॥

tomāte ye eta prīti haila rājāra for you which so much love has arisen of the king ei guṇe kṛṣṇa tāṁre karibe aṅgīkāra
for this quality Kṛṣṇa him will accept as His own

27 The king has come to love you so much, and for this quality Kṛṣṇa will accept him as His own.

durāpā hy alpa-tapasaḥ
hard to attain indeed for one of little austerity sevā vaikuṇṭha-vartmasu service to those who are the path to Vaikuṇṭha yatropagīyate nityaṁ
in whom is sung constantly deva-devo janārdanaḥ
the God of gods Janārdana

32 "For one whose austerity is slight, it is hard to attain service to those who walk the path to Vaikuṇṭha — the devotees among whom Janārdana, the God of gods, is constantly glorified." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 3.7.20)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

There are servants of Kṛṣṇa who walk the path to Vaikuṇṭha, who ever sing of Janārdana, the God of gods. Service to them is out of reach for one of little austerity.

Anubhāṣya.

When the chanting of hari-kathā by the great devotee, the sage Śrī Maitreya, had cut away all Vidura's doubts, Vidura glorified the qualities and greatness of Hari's devotees:

yatra (in whom, in which great sādhus) nityaṁ (always) deva-devaḥ (who contains all the gods) janārdanaḥ (Kṛṣṇa) upagīyate, tatra (in them) vaikuṇṭha-vartmasu (in Hari's servants, who are the path to Vaikuṇṭha, that is, to Śrī Kṛṣṇa, or to the world of Vaikuṇṭha) sevā — alpa-tapasaḥ (for one of scant pious merit) durāpā (is hard to obtain) hi (indeed). [The meaning is this: only by serving great souls does one hear hari-kathā; from that comes love for Hari, and with it even concern for the body and the like falls away.]

In this connection one should consider the verses: "Bhakti is born of association with the Lord's devotees, and people obtain the association of saints through pious merit accumulated in the past"; and: "O king, those whose pious merit is slight never come to have faith in mahā-prasāda, in Govinda, in the Name, which is Brahman, and in the Vaiṣṇava" (Padma Purāṇa).

Rāya honours all the devotees, each as befits him —

পুরী, ভারতী-গোসাঞি, স্বরূপ, নিত্যানন্দ ।
জগদানন্দ, মুকুন্দাদি, যত ভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ৩৩ ॥

Purī Bhāratī Gosāñi Svarūpa Nityānanda

Jagadānanda Mukunda and others all the devotees

33 Purī, Bhāratī Gosāñi, Svarūpa, Nityānanda, Jagadānanda, Mukunda and all the other devotees were there.

of the four Gosāñis made Rāya to the feet obeisance
yathā-yogya saba bhaktera karila milana
as befitting all with the devotees made meeting

34 Rāya bowed at the feet of the four Gosāñis and met all the devotees, each as befitted him.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Purī — Paramānanda Purī. Bhāratī — Brahmānanda Bhāratī. Svarūpa — the famous Dāmodara-svarūpa. Nityānanda — Nityānanda Prabhu. Rāmānanda bowed at the feet of these four Gosāñis.

The Lord tells Rāya to go and see Jagannātha —

প্রভু কহে, — রায়, দেখিলে কমলনয়ন ?
রায় কহে, — এবে যাই' পাব দরশন ॥ ৩৫ ॥

prabhu kahe, — rāya, dekhile kamala-nayana?
the Lord says Rāya have you seen the lotus-eyed Lord
rāya kahe, — ebe yāi' pāba daraśana
Rāya says now going I shall get darśana

35 The Lord said, "Rāya, have you seen the lotus-eyed Lord?" Rāya said, "I am going now to see Him."

The Lord asks why he did not go to see Jagannātha before seeing Him —

প্রভু কহে, — রায়, তুমি কি কার্য্য করিলে ?
ঈশ্বরে না দেখি' কেনে আগে হেথা আইলে ? ॥ ৩৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — rāya, tumi ki kārya karile?
the Lord says Rāya you what deed have done
īśvare nā dekhi' kene āge hethā āile?
the Lord not seeing why first here you came

36 The Lord said, "Rāya, what have you done? Why did you come here first, without seeing the Lord?"

Rāya's answer —

রায় কহে, চরণ — রথ, হৃদয় — সারথি । যাঁহা লঞা যায়, তাঁহা যায় জীব-রথী ॥ ৩৭ ॥

rāya kahe, caraṇa — ratha, hṛdaya — sārathi Rāya says the feet the chariot the heart the charioteer yāṁhā lañā yāya, tāṁhā yāya jīva-rathī
wherever taking it goes there goes the soul who rides

37 Rāya said, "The feet are the chariot and the heart is the charioteer. Wherever the heart drives, there the soul who rides in the chariot must go.

আমি কি করিব, মন ইঁহা লঞা আইল । জগন্নাথ-দরশনে বিচার না কৈল ॥ ৩৮ ॥

āmi ki kariba, mana iṁhā lañā āila
I what shall do the mind here bringing came jagannātha-daraśane vicāra nā kaila about seeing Jagannātha consideration not made

38 What could I do? My mind brought me here; it gave no thought to seeing Jagannātha first."

Anubhāṣya.
The jīva is like the rider of a chariot; the jīva's feet are the chariot; the jīva's mind is the charioteer who drives it. So wherever the charioteer, the mind, takes the rider, the jīva, on the chariot of the feet, there the jīva goes.

The Kaṭha Upaniṣad (third vallī, 3–6, 9)[13] says: "Know the self to be the rider and the body the chariot. Know the intellect to be the charioteer and the mind the reins. The senses, they say, are the horses, and the sense objects their roads. The one joined with body, senses and mind the wise call the enjoyer. He who lacks understanding and whose mind is always unrestrained — his senses are unruly, like a charioteer's vicious horses. But he who has understanding and whose mind is always restrained — his senses obey, like a charioteer's good horses. <…> The man whose charioteer is understanding and who holds the reins of the mind reaches the end of the road — that supreme abode of Viṣṇu."

The Lord tells Rāya to go and see Jagannātha and his family —

প্রভু কহে, — শীঘ্র গিয়া কর দরশন । ঐছে ঘর যাই' কর কুটুম্ব মিলন ॥ ৩৯ ॥

prabhu kahe, — śīghra giyā kara daraśana
the Lord says quickly going take darśana aiche ghara yāi' kara kuṭumba milana
likewise home going make with the family meeting

39 The Lord said, "Go quickly and see Jagannātha; then go straight home and meet your family."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Having seen Jagannātha, go straight home and meet your family.

Rāya carries out the Lord's order —

প্রভু আজ্ঞা পাঞা রায় চলিলা দরশনে । রায়ের প্রেমভক্তি-রীতি বুঝে কোন্ জনে ॥ ৪০ ॥

prabhu ājñā pāñā rāya calilā daraśane of the Lord the order getting Rāya went for darśana rāyera prema-bhakti-rīti bujhe kon jane of Rāya of loving devotion the ways understands what person

40 Receiving the Lord's order, Rāya went to see Jagannātha. Who can understand the ways of Rāya's loving devotion?

Summoning Sārvabhauma, the king asks whether he will obtain the Lord's mercy —

ক্ষেত্রে আসি' রাজা সার্ব্বভৌমে বোলাইলা ।
সার্ব্বভৌমে নমস্করি' তাঁহারে পুছিলা ॥ ৪১ ॥

41 Arriving at the holy Kṣetra, the king summoned Sārvabhauma. Bowing to him, he asked,

মোর লাগি' প্রভুপদে কৈলে নিবেদন ?
সার্ব্বভৌম কহে, — কৈনু অনেক যতন ॥ ৪২ ॥

mora lāgi' prabhu-pade kaile nivedana?
me for the sake of at the feet of the Lord did you make the request
sārvabhauma kahe, — kainu aneka yatana
Sārvabhauma says I made much effort

42 "Did you make my request at the Lord's feet?" Sārvabhauma said, "I tried very hard.

Sārvabhauma tells of the Lord's firm, unshakable aversion —

তথাপি না করে তেঁহ রাজ-দরশন ।

43 Still, He will not see a king. If I ask Him again, He will leave the Kṣetra."

The king's deep lament and words of sorrow —

শুনিয়া রাজার মনে দুঃখ উপজিলা । বিষাদ করিয়া কিছু কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ৪৪ ॥

śuniyā rājāra mane duḥkha upajilā hearing of the king in the mind sorrow arose viṣāda kariyā kichu kahite lāgilā lamentation making something to speak he began

44 Hearing this, the king was grieved at heart, and in his despair he began to speak.

47 "He looks with mercy even upon people of low birth, whom one is not supposed even to see — yet, alas, not upon me. Can it be that the Lord descended having resolved, 'I shall show mercy to everyone but him'?" (Caitanya-candrodaya-nāṭaka, 8.29)[3]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"He gives His darśana to those not fit to be looked at, the low-born, yet He will not give it to me. Has He descended having resolved to show mercy to all jīvas but me?"

Anubhāṣya.

adarśanīyān (those unfit to be looked at) nīca-jātīn (born in low families and living by low trades) api saṁvīkṣate (He looks on with compassion, shows mercy); tathāpi, hanta (an exclamation of grief) mām na (He does not look on); mad-eka-varjyaṁ (all but me alone) kṛpayiṣyati iti nirṇīya (having firmly resolved) kiṁ saḥ devaḥ (Gaurahari) bhuvi (on earth) avatatāra (has appeared)?

The king resolves to give up his life if he does not obtain the Lord's mercy —

তাঁর প্রতিজ্ঞা — মোরে না করিবে দরশন ।
মোর প্রতিজ্ঞা — তাঁহা বিনা ছাড়িব জীবন ॥ ৪৮ ॥

48 His vow is that He will not let me see Him; my vow is that without Him I shall give up my life.

49 If I do not obtain the treasure of Mahāprabhu's mercy, what is my kingdom, what is my body? All of it is useless."

Sārvabhauma is amazed to see the king's love for the Lord —

Sārvabhauma departs; the Lord's joy at the Snāna-yātrā —

62 Seeing the Snāna-yātrā, the Lord was very happy; but during Jagannātha's anavasara He felt great sorrow.

Anubhāṣya.
Anavasara — after the Snāna-yātrā, the paint on Śrī Jagannāthadeva's body (aṅga-rāga) and so on is renewed; for this the Śrī Vigraha stays elsewhere, out of sight of those who come for darśana. This period is called anavasara.

*During the anavasara the Lord suffers separation from Kṛṣṇa and goes alone to Ālālanātha —*

63 Distraught with separation in the mood of the gopīs, the Lord left everyone and went to Ālālanātha.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
During the anavasara the Lord could not see Jagannātha, and, beside Himself in separation from Kṛṣṇa, He would go to Ālālanātha and stay there.

The devotees who come after the Lord announce the arrival of the Gauḍīyas —

The Bhaṭṭācārya comes back to Purī with the Lord and informs the king —

67 Two hundred Vaiṣṇavas are coming from Gauḍa — devotees of Mahāprabhu, every one of them a mahā-bhāgavata.

Anubhāṣya.

Mahā-bhāgavatas — paramahaṁsas who are niṣkiñcana, beyond varṇāśrama, and take shelter of Kṛṣṇa alone. As Śrī Narottama Ṭhākura says in his Prārthanā: "One who regards the associates of Gaurāṅga as eternally perfect goes to the son of the king of Vraja."

News that they have gathered at Narendra lake, and a request to arrange prasāda, lodgings and the like for them —

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Narendra — the pond called "Narendra," where the Candana-yātrā festival is held. Even today Gauḍīya devotees, on entering Puruṣottama, wash their hands and feet in the water of Narendra pond and then go to the temple.

*The king orders the paḍichā to arrange it all —*

রাজা কহে, — পড়িছাকে আমি আজ্ঞা দিব । বাসা আদি যে চাহিয়ে, — পড়িছা সব দিব ॥ ৬৯ ॥

rājā kahe, — paḍichāke āmi ājñā diba the king says to the paḍichā I the order will give vāsā ādi ye cāhiye, — paḍichā saba diba lodging and so on whatever is needed the paḍichā all will give 69 The king said, "I shall give the order to the paḍichā, and he will provide lodging and whatever else is needed.

The king asks the Bhaṭṭa to identify the Gauḍīya devotees for him —

70 Bhaṭṭācārya, show me one by one all of Mahāprabhu's associates who have come from Gauḍa."

The Bhaṭṭa admits he cannot do so and asks Gopīnātha to; the three climb onto the palace roof —

72 I do not know any of them, though I would like to. Gopīnātha Ācārya will introduce them all."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Sārvabhauma said, "I do not know any of them, (but) I wish to know."

এত বলি' তিন জন অট্টালিকায় চড়িল । eta bali' tina-jana aṭṭālikāya caḍila this saying three persons onto the palace roof climbed hena-kāle vaiṣṇava saba nikaṭe āila at that time the Vaiṣṇavas all near came

73 Saying this, the three of them climbed onto the roof of the palace, and at that moment the Vaiṣṇavas drew near.

Sent by the Lord, Dāmodara-svarūpa and Govinda welcome the devotees with garlands and prasāda —

দামোদর-স্বরূপ, গোবিন্দ, — দুই জন । মালা প্রসাদ লঞা যায়, যাঁহা বৈষ্ণবগণ ॥ ৭৪ ॥

dāmodara-svarūpa, govinda, — dui-jana Dāmodara-svarūpa Govinda the two persons mālā prasāda lañā yāya, yāṁhā vaiṣṇava-gaṇa
garlands prasāda taking go where the Vaiṣṇavas

74 Svarūpa Dāmodara and Govinda went with garlands and prasāda to where the Vaiṣṇavas were.

rājā kahe, — ei dui kon, cināha āmāre
the king says these two who make known to me

75 Mahāprabhu had sent these two ahead. The king said, "Who are these two? Tell me."

The Bhaṭṭa identifies for the king: (1) Dāmodara-svarūpa —

ভট্টাচার্য্য কহে, — এই স্বরূপ-দামোদর । মহাপ্রভুর হয় ইঁহ দ্বিতীয় কলেবর ॥ ৭৬ ॥

bhaṭṭācārya kahe, — ei svarūpa-dāmodara
the Bhaṭṭācārya says this Svarūpa Dāmodara

76 The Bhaṭṭācārya said, "This is Svarūpa Dāmodara. He is Mahāprabhu's second body.

(2) Govinda —

দ্বিতীয়, গোবিন্দ — ভৃত্য, ইঁহা দোঁহা দিয়া ।

mālā pāṭhāñāchena prabhu gaurava kariyā garlands has sent the Lord honour showing

77 The second is Govinda, His servant. Through these two the Lord has sent garlands, to show His respect."

Advaita is garlanded —

then Govinda a second garland bringing to him gave 78 First Svarūpa placed a garland on Advaita; then Govinda brought a second garland and gave it to him.

Govinda bows down, Advaita asks about him, and in reply Govinda is introduced —

তবে গোবিন্দ দণ্ডবৎ কৈল আচার্য্যেরে । তাঁরে নাহি চিনে আচার্য্য, পুছিল দামোদরে ॥ ৭৯ ॥

tabe govinda daṇḍavat kaila ācāryere
then Govinda prostrate obeisance made to the Ācārya tāṁre nāhi cine ācārya, puchila dāmodare him not knows the Ācārya asked Dāmodara

79 Then Govinda fell flat in obeisance before the Ācārya. Not knowing him, the Ācārya asked Dāmodara who he was.

দামোদর কহে, — ইঁহার 'গোবিন্দ' নাম । ঈশ্বর-পুরীর সেবক অতি গুণবান্ ॥ ৮০ ॥

dāmodara kahe, — iṁhāra 'govinda' nāma
Dāmodara says his 'Govinda' name

80 Dāmodara said, "His name is Govinda. He was the servant of Īśvara Purī, and he is a man of great virtue.

প্রভুর সেবা করিতে পুরী আজ্ঞা দিল । অতএব প্রভু তাঁরে নিকটে রাখিল ॥ ৮১ ॥ of the Lord service to do Purī order gave ataeva prabhu tāṁre nikaṭe rākhila therefore the Lord him near Him kept

81 Purī ordered him to serve the Lord, and so the Lord has kept him near Him."

Seeing Advaita, the king is curious —

রাজা কহে, — যাঁরে মালা দিল দুইজন ।
আশ্চর্য্য তেজ, — বড় মহান্ত, — কহ কোন্ জন ? ॥ ৮২ ॥

rājā kahe, — yāṁre mālā dila dui-jana

82 The king said, "The one to whom these two gave garlands has a wonderful effulgence — He is a great soul. Tell me, who is He?"

of Mahāprabhu the object of respect honoured by all on their heads

83 The Ācārya said, "His name is Advaita Ācārya. Mahāprabhu Himself respects Him, and everyone bows to Him.

Vāsu Ghoṣa composed many songs about Mahāprabhu; among the songs of the mahājanas they hold the foremost place.

The king is amazed to see the Vaiṣṇavas' radiance and hear their unprecedented kīrtana —

রাজা কহে, — দেখি' মোর হৈল চমৎকার । বৈষ্ণবের ঐছে তেজ দেখি নাহি আর ॥ ৯৪ ॥

Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the founder of saṅkīrtana —

98 Caitanya has descended to preach dharma, and in the age of Kali the dharma is the congregational chanting of Kṛṣṇa's names.

One who has gained consciousness shows intelligence in chanting about Gaura, while dullness is foolishness —

সেই ত' সুমেধা, আর — কলিহতজন ॥ ৯৯ ॥

saṅkīrtana-yajñe tāṁre kare ārādhana

he indeed intelligent the others people struck down by Kali

99 One who worships Him with the sacrifice of saṅkīrtana is truly intelligent; all others are people whose minds the age of Kali has struck down.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

In the age of Kali, whoever worships Kṛṣṇa Caitanya with the sacrifice of saṅkīrtana is truly intelligent. Those who do not worship Him are kali-hata: their intelligence has been struck down by Kali.

Anubhāṣya.

A jīva who has gained consciousness and is eager to serve sings of Kṛṣṇa, and his word is full of consciousness. Only by the power of such a word does another jīva awaken to consciousness, acquire the disposition to serve and become a pure servant. In this way pure devotees increase their own kin, and in such worship lies Kṛṣṇa Caitanya's joy; in this the jīva shows the highest intelligence. A petty jīva, selfishly attached to dead matter, also performs wild dancing, kīrtana and the like, but all of it is rooted in disbelief and doubt that the Real Entity is the supreme object of service. Therefore it shows only dullness: it is mere fleeting, artificial sentimentality and excitement, or agitation.

*Caitanya, the Lord of transcendental knowledge (parā-vidyā), is Kṛṣṇa; worldly knowledge, or aparā-vidyā, is turned away from Him —*

then why the scholars all towards Him averse

101 The king said, “By the evidence of scripture Caitanya is Kṛṣṇa. Why, then, are the scholars all averse to Him?”

Mercy is won only through eagerness to serve, and the Lord is realised only by the power of mercy —

ভট্ট কহে, — তাঁর কৃপা-লেশ হয় যাঁরে ।
সেই সে তাঁহারে ‘কৃষ্ণ’ করি’ লইতে পারে ॥ ১০২ ॥

102 The Bhaṭṭa said, “Only one who has received a particle of His mercy can accept Him as Kṛṣṇa.

Without mercy, worldly learning leads to atheistic thinking and delusion —

তাঁর কৃপা নহে যারে, পণ্ডিত নহে কেনে ।

seeing even hearing Him as ‘Īśvara’ not accepts

103 One who does not have His mercy, however learned he may be, will not accept Him as the Supreme Lord, even when he sees Him and hears of Him.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
One who lacks His mercy, even if he is a paṇḍita, cannot accept Kṛṣṇa Caitanya as the Lord (Īśvara), though he sees all His divine majesty and hears of it: he is without His mercy.

The Bhaṭṭa's answer: the reason is the Lord's wish —

110 The Bhaṭṭa said, "Knowing that the devotees have arrived, they are carrying prasāda to them at the Lord's hint."

The king asks why they take prasāda without observing the rules of fasting and shaving the head —

রাজা কহে, — উপবাস, ক্ষৌর — তীর্থের বিধান । তাহা না করিয়া কেনে খাইব অন্ন-পান ॥ ১১১ ॥

that not doing why will they take food and drink

111 The king said, "Fasting and shaving the head are the rules for a holy place. Why will they eat and drink without observing them?"

Anubhāṣya.

On coming to a holy place, to destroy one's sins, one should observe restraint the day before and fast the next day. To destroy the sins that reside in the head, one should shave the head and so on. For what purpose do they give up these rules of the holy place and eat?

prabhura sākṣāt ājñā — prasāda-bhojana
of the Lord direct order the eating of prasāda

113 Shaving and fasting are the Lord's indirect command; to eat prasāda is the Lord's direct command.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The king said: "The scriptures prescribe that on entering a holy place one must fast that day and have one's head shaved there. Why do these Vaiṣṇavas not do so, and for what reason do they partake of food and water?" The Bhaṭṭācārya replied: "What you describe is vaidhī-dharma, the path of rules. But the dharma of the path of rāga holds another subtle secret. The Lord ordered shaving and fasting indirectly, through the sages, in the scriptures; but the order to eat prasāda He proclaimed Himself."

there fasting where is not mahā-prasāda prabhu-ājñā — prasāda-tyāge haya aparādha
the Lord's order in rejecting prasāda there is offence

114 One should fast where there is no mahā-prasāda. When the Lord has ordered it, to reject prasāda is an offence.

Another reason the devotees set aside the rule of fasting —

বিশেষে মহাপ্রভু করে আপনে পরিবেশন । এত লাভ ছাড়ি' কেনে করিবে উপোষণ ॥ ১১৫ ॥

viśeṣe mahāprabhu kare āpane pariveśana especially Mahāprabhu does Himself serving out eta lābha chāḍi' kene karibe upoṣaṇa such gain giving up why will they observe fasting

115 Above all, Mahāprabhu Himself serves the prasāda. Why would they give up such a gain and fast?

The Bhaṭṭācārya tells of his own earlier example —

পূর্ব্বে প্রভু মোরে প্রসাদ-অন্ন আনি' দিল । প্রাতে শয্যায় বসি' আমি সে অন্ন খাইল ॥ ১১৬ ॥

pūrve prabhu more prasāda-anna āni' dila earlier the Lord to me prasāda rice bringing gave prāte śayyāya vasi' āmi se anna khāila
in the morning in bed sitting I that food ate

116 Once the Lord brought me prasāda, and early in the morning, still sitting on my bed, I ate it.[6]

By Kṛṣṇa's mercy, eager to serve, one gives up regular, occasional and self-interested rites — all that is rooted in the desire to enjoy their fruits —

যাঁরে কৃপা করি' করেন হৃদয়ে প্রেরণ । কৃষ্ণাশ্রয় হয়, ছাড়ে বেদ-লোক-ধর্ম্ম ॥ ১১৭ ॥

yāṁre kṛpā kari' karena hṛdaye preraṇa whom mercy showing He does in the heart inspiring kṛṣṇāśraya haya, chāḍe veda-loka-dharma taking shelter of Kṛṣṇa becomes gives up the dharma of the Vedas and of the world

117 One whom He favours and inspires from within takes shelter of Kṛṣṇa and gives up the dharma of the Vedas and of the world.

118 "When the Lord, on whom the heart meditates, bestows His favour on someone, that person gives up his mind's fixed attachment to worldly affairs and to Vedic ritual." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 4.29.46)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

When the Lord, contemplated within one's heart, shows a person mercy by inspiring his heart, that person gives up his settled attachment to worldly convention and to the Vedas.

Anubhāṣya.

Through the story of Purañjana, Śrī Nārada Gosvāmī, who is fixed in Brahman, described to King Prācīnabarhi the wretched fate of the enjoying jīva, the karmī, and of karma-kāṇḍa. Then he says that without the Lord's mercy none of them — not Brahmā, Rudra, Manu, the prajāpatis Dakṣa and others, the four Kumāras, lifelong celibates (naiṣṭhika-brahmacārīs), Marīci, Atri, Aṅgirā, Pulastya, Pulaha, Kratu, Bhṛgu, Vasiṣṭha, nor he himself — could attain knowledge of the Lord. In this way he describes the fruit of the Lord's mercy:

bhagavān yadā ātma-bhāvitaḥ (when He is contemplated in the heart, worshipped, and reveals Himself there) yam anugṛhṇāti (shows mercy to someone), tadā saḥ loke (in worldly dealings) vede (in performing Vedic rites) ca pariniṣṭhitām (attached) matiṁ jahāti (gives up).

*Coming down, the king tells Kāśī Miśra and the parichā-pātra (the paḍichā) to arrange service for the devotees —*

119 Then the king came down from the palace roof and summoned Kāśī Miśra and the paḍichā-pātra.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Paḍichā — the word paḍichā comes from the word parīkṣā (inspection); therefore the paḍichā's duty is supervision.

120–121 Pratāparudra ordered those two to arrange comfortable lodging and ample prasāda for all the Lord's associates who had come to Him, and to see that they could have darśana of Jagannātha freely, without any hindrance.

It is best to serve by the hint of the one served —

122 "Both of you must carefully carry out the Lord's orders. And even where there is no order, understand His wishes from His hints and act on them."

Anubhāṣya.
King Pratāparudra told the paḍichā-pātra to see to the devotees who had come to Mahāprabhu from Gauḍa and other lands: they were to have good lodgings and good prasāda, and nothing was to hinder them in seeing Jagannātha properly and so on. And so that the devotees would be at ease in every way, even without receiving an explicit order from Mahāprabhu they were to understand His hint and at once carry out whatever needed to be done.

Standing a little way off, Sārvabhauma and Gopīnātha watch the devotees meet the Lord —

The Lord praises Advaita —

134 The Lord spoke sweetly to Advaita: "Today, with Your coming, I am complete."

Advaita describes the Lord's nature: His affection for His devotees —

অদ্বৈত কহে, — ঈশ্বরের এই স্বভাব হয়। যদ্যপি আপনে পূর্ণ, সর্ব্বৈশ্বর্য্যময় ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

still in the company of devotees there is joyful delight
bhakta-saṅge kare nitya vividha vilāsa

135–136 Advaita said, "This is the Lord's nature: although He is complete in Himself and full of all majesty, still He finds joyful delight in the company of His devotees, and with them He eternally enjoys pastimes of every kind."

The Lord's greater affection for Vāsudeva Datta than for Mukunda, His childhood companion —

138 "Though Mukunda has been with Me since childhood, I feel greater joy in seeing you."

Free of pride and respectful to others,[14] Vāsudeva Datta regards his younger brother Mukunda as superior to himself, knowing him dear to the Lord —

বাসু কহে, — মুকুন্দ পাইল তোমার সঙ্গ । তোমার চরণ পাইল সেই পুনর্জন্ম ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

vāsu kahe, — mukunda pāila tomāra saṅga

139 Vāsu said, "Mukunda obtained Your company; he obtained Your feet — that was his second birth.

Your mercy's recipient therefore in all qualities the best 140 Though he is younger, Mukunda has now become my elder. He is the recipient of Your mercy, and so he excels in every quality."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The Mukunda of whom Vāsu speaks — Mukunda Datta, the younger brother of Vāsudeva Datta. Mukunda had been with Mahāprabhu (since childhood).

Vāsudeva said: "Mukunda took shelter of Your feet before me, and I did so later. So Mukunda's spiritual birth came before mine, and therefore I have become the younger."

*The Lord tells Vāsudeva to copy the Brahma-saṁhitā and the Karṇāmṛta from Svarūpa —*

141 The Lord spoke again: "I have brought two books from the South for you.

Anubhāṣya.
Two books — the Śrī Brahma-saṁhitā and the Śrī Kṛṣṇa-karṇāmṛta.

Because Vāsudeva and all the other Gauḍīyas kept copies, the two books spread everywhere —

প্রত্যেক বৈষ্ণব সবে লিখিয়া লইল ।
ক্রমে ক্রমে দুই গ্রন্থ সর্ব্বত্র ব্যাপিল ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

pratyeka vaiṣṇava sabe likhiyā laila each Vaiṣṇava all copying took krame krame dui grantha sarvatra vyāpila gradually gradually the two books everywhere spread

143 Every one of the Vaiṣṇavas made a copy for himself, and so, little by little, the two books spread everywhere.

144 With great affection the Lord said to Śrīvāsa and his brothers, "I have been bought by you four brothers."

Śrīvāsa's humility —

145 Śrīvāsa replied, "Why do You say the opposite? At the price of Your mercy You have bought us four brothers."

The Lord's love for Dāmodara is mixed with reverence; for Śaṅkara it is pure love —

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Dāmodara Paṇḍita was the elder brother, and Śaṅkara Paṇḍita the younger. The Lord said: "Dāmodara, My love for you is mixed with reverence: it is love with respect. But for Śaṅkara I have only pure love. From now on keep Śaṅkara with you." Dāmodara replied, "Prabhu, Śaṅkara has received more of Your affection, so although he is my younger brother, he has become the elder."

Free of pride and respectful to others, Dāmodara Paṇḍita regards his younger brother Śaṅkara as superior to himself, knowing him dear to the Lord —

দামোদর কহে, — শঙ্কর ছোট আমা হৈতে । এবে আমার বড় ভাই তোমার কৃপাতে ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

dāmodara kahe, — śaṅkara choṭa āmā haite Dāmodara says Śaṅkara younger me than

148 Dāmodara said, "Śaṅkara is younger than I, but now, by Your mercy, he has become my elder brother."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O Ananta, I had long been sinking in the ocean of worldly existence, and now at last I have found You, like the shore. O Lord, You too, having found me, have obtained the best recipient of Your mercy. This verse belongs to the stotra of Ālavandāru Yāmunācārya.

Your fit to be touched is not this body

156 "Do not touch me, O Lord, for I am a wretch. This body is not fit for You to touch."

The devotee's humility melts the Lord's heart —

প্রভু কহে, — মুরারি, কর দৈন্য সম্বরণ । তোমার দৈন্য দেখি' মোর বিদীর্ণ হয় মন ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — murāri, kara dainya samvaraṇa
the Lord says Murāri make of humility restraint tomāra dainya dekhi' mora vidīrṇa haya mana your humility seeing My torn becomes heart

157 The Lord said, "Murāri, restrain your humility. When I see such humility, My heart is torn apart."

The Lord serves His devotee —

এত বলি' প্রভু তাঁরে কৈল আলিঙ্গন । নিকটে বসাঞা করে অঙ্গ সম্মার্জ্জন ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

eta bali' prabhu tāṁre kaila āliṅgana
so saying the Lord him gave embrace nikaṭe vasāñā kare aṅga sammārjana
beside (Him) seating does of his body cleansing

158 Saying this, the Lord embraced him, seated him beside Himself and wiped his body clean with His own hands.[7]

The Lord praises and embraces Candraśekhara, Puṇḍarīka, Gadādhara and others —

আচার্য্যরত্ন, বিদ্যানিধি, পণ্ডিত গদাধর ।
গঙ্গাদাস, হরিভট্ট, আচার্য্য পুরন্দর ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

প্রত্যেকে সবার প্রভু করি' গুণ গান ।

Gaṅgādāsa Hari Bhaṭṭa Ācārya Purandara
pratyeke sabāra prabhu kari' guṇa gāna of each one of all the Lord making of the virtues praise
punaḥ punaḥ āliṅgiyā karila sammāna
again and again embracing showed honour

159–160 Ācāryaratna, Vidyānidhi, Gadādhara Paṇḍita, Gaṅgādāsa, Hari Bhaṭṭa and Ācārya Purandara — the Lord sang the virtues of each of them, embraced them again and again, and so honoured them.

The Lord looks for Haridāsa —

সবারে সম্মানি' প্রভুর হইল উল্লাস । হরিদাসে না দেখিয়া কহে, — কাঁহা হরিদাস ॥ ১৬১ ॥

sabāre sammāni' prabhura haila ullāsa
all having honoured the Lord's arose joy
haridāse nā dekhiyā kahe, — kāṁhā haridāsa
Haridāsa not seeing He says where is Haridāsa

161 Having honoured them all, the Lord was overjoyed. But not seeing Haridāsa, He asked, "Where is Haridāsa?"

Out of humility Ṭhākura Haridāsa stays at a distance —

দূর হৈতে হরিদাস গোসাঞে না দেখিয়া । রাজপথ-প্রান্তে পড়ি' আছে দণ্ডবৎ হঞা ॥ ১৬২ ॥

dūra haite haridāsa gosāñe nā dekhiyā from afar Haridāsa the Lord not seeing rājapatha-prānte paḍi' āche daṇḍavat hañā at the edge of the main road fallen remains prostrate being

162 Haridāsa, keeping far away and not looking upon the Lord, lay prostrate at the edge of the main road.[8]

মিলন-স্থানে আসি' প্রভুরে না মিলিলা । রাজপথ-প্রান্তে দূরে পড়িয়া রহিলা ॥ ১৬৩ ॥

milana-sthāne āsi' prabhure nā mililā to the place of meeting coming the Lord not he met rājapatha-prānte dūre paḍiyā rahilā at the edge of the main road far off lying he remained 163 He had come to the meeting place but did not approach the Lord; he remained lying far off at the edge of the main road.

The devotees convey the Lord's order to Haridāsa —

ভক্ত সব ধাঞা আইল হরিদাসে নিতে । প্রভু তোমায় মিলিতে চাহে, চলহ ত্বরিতে ॥ ১৬৪ ॥

bhakta saba dhāñā āila haridāse nite
the devotees all running came Haridāsa to bring prabhu tomāya milite cāhe, calaha tvarite
the Lord you to meet wants come quickly

164 All the devotees ran to fetch Haridāsa. "The Lord wants to meet you," they said. "Come quickly!"

Upholding the rules of propriety, Haridāsa speaks humbly —

হরিদাস কহে, — আমি নীচ-জাতি ছার । মন্দির-নিকটে যাইতে মোর নাহি অধিকার ॥ ১৬৫ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — āmi nīca-jāti chāra
Haridāsa says I of low birth worthless
mandira-nikaṭe yāite mora nāhi adhikāra
the temple near to go my there is no right

165 Haridāsa said, "I am low-born and worthless. I have no right to go near the temple.

166 If I can get a secluded place within the garden, I will stay there alone and pass my days.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
In the Ṭoṭā — in the garden.

there lying I will stay my this desire is 167 There I shall not come into contact with the servants of Jagannātha. To stay there is my desire."

The Lord rejoices to hear from others of Haridāsa's humble words —

এই কথা লোক গিয়া প্রভুরে কহিল । শুনিয়া প্রভুর মনে বড় সুখ হৈল ॥ ১৬৮ ॥

ei kathā loka giyā prabhure kahila these words people going to the Lord told śuniyā prabhura mane baḍa sukha haila hearing in the Lord's heart great joy arose

168 People went and told the Lord what he had said, and hearing it the Lord was very happy at heart.

Kāśī Miśra bows at the Lord's feet —

169 At that time Kāśī Miśra and the paḍichā, the temple superintendent, came and bowed at the Lord's feet.

সর্ব্ব বৈষ্ণব দেখি' সুখ বড় পাইলা ।

170 Seeing all the Vaiṣṇavas, they were very happy, and they greeted everyone joyfully, as befitted each.

Kāśī Miśra asks the Lord how to serve the Vaiṣṇavas —

প্রভুপদে দুই জনে কৈল নিবেদনে । আজ্ঞা দেহ', — বৈষ্ণবের করি সমাধানে ॥ ১৭১ ॥

prabhu-pade dui jane kaila nivedane
at the Lord's feet the two made a request
ājñā deha', — vaiṣṇavera kari samādhāne

171 At the Lord's feet the two of them made their request: "Give us leave to look after the Vaiṣṇavas.

172 We have arranged lodgings for everyone, and we will provide mahā-prasāda for all."

The Lord tells Gopīnātha Ācārya to see to all the devotees' needs —

প্রভু কহে, — গোপীনাথ, যাহ' বৈষ্ণব লঞা। যাঁহা যাঁহা কহে বাসা, তাঁহা দেহ' লঞা ॥ ১৭৩ ॥

prabhu kahe, — gopīnātha, yāha' vaiṣṇava lañā the Lord says Gopīnātha go the Vaiṣṇavas taking wherever wherever they tell lodgings there give (them) taking 173 The Lord said, "Gopīnātha, take the Vaiṣṇavas with you, and settle them in wherever the lodgings are pointed out to you.

Vāṇīnātha is put in charge of prasāda —

মহাপ্রসাদান্ন দেহ বাণীনাথ স্থানে।

174 Give the mahā-prasāda to Vāṇīnātha; he will provide for all the Vaiṣṇavas.

The Lord asks Kāśī Miśra for a secluded cottage in the garden —

আমার নিকটে এই পুষ্পের উদ্যানে। একখানি ঘর আছে পরম-নির্জ্জনে ॥ ১৭৫ ॥

āmāra nikaṭe ei puṣpera udyāne of Mine near in this of flowers garden
eka-khāni ghara āche parama-nirjane
one single room there is utterly secluded

175 Near Me, in this flower garden, there is a single room in a very secluded spot.

Anubhāṣya.
This place is now known as the Siddha-bakula Maṭha.

সেই ঘর আমাকে দেহ', — আছে প্রয়োজন ।

nibhṛte vasiyā tāṁhā kariba smaraṇa
in seclusion sitting there I shall make remembrance

176 Give that room to Me — I have need of it. Sitting there in seclusion, I shall absorb Myself in remembrance."

Kāśī Miśra begs the Lord to take whatever He likes, since all of it is His —

মিশ্র কহে, — সব তোমার, চাহ কি কারণে ?
আপন-ইচ্ছায় লহ, যেই তোমার মনে ॥ ১৭৭ ॥

miśra kahe, — saba tomāra, cāha ki kāraṇe?
Miśra says all is Yours You ask for what reason āpana-icchāya laha, yei tomāra mane
by Your own will take whatever is in Your mind

177 Miśra said, "All is Yours — why do You ask? Take whatever You wish, as You please.

Kāśī Miśra prays to be accepted as a servant who carries out the Lord's orders —

আমি-দুই হই তোমার দাস আজ্ঞাকারী । যে চাহ, সেই আজ্ঞা দেহ' কৃপা করি' ॥ ১৭৮ ॥

āmi-dui hai tomāra dāsa ājñākārī

178 We two are Your servants, ready to do Your bidding. Be merciful and command whatever You wish."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Kindly order whatever You wish: we two are Your servants, who carry out Your orders.

Taking leave, they charge Gopīnātha with choosing the lodgings and Vāṇīnātha with arranging prasāda —

এত কহি' দুই জনে বিদায় হইল । গোপীনাথ, বাণীনাথ, দুঁহে সঙ্গে নিল ॥ ১৭৯ ॥

eta kahi' dui jane vidāya haila

179 So saying, the two took their leave, taking Gopīnātha and Vāṇīnātha with them.

180 They showed Gopīnātha all the lodgings and gave Vāṇīnātha prasāda in abundance.

Gopīnātha came the lodgings readying having done

181 Vāṇīnātha returned with a great quantity of prasāda and cakes, and Gopīnātha came back after making the lodgings ready.

The Lord invites all the devotees to bathe, see the temple spire, and come to honour prasāda —

মহাপ্রভু কহে, — শুন, সর্ব্ব বৈষ্ণবগণ । নিজ-নিজ-বাসা সবে করহ গমন ॥ ১৮২ ॥

mahāprabhu kahe, — śuna, sarva vaiṣṇava-gaṇa
Mahāprabhu says hear all Vaiṣṇavas

182 Mahāprabhu said, “Listen, all you Vaiṣṇavas: go now, each of you, to your own lodgings.

তবে আজি ইঁহ আসি’ করিবে ভোজন ॥ ১৮৩ ॥

183 Bathe in the sea and take darśana of the temple’s pinnacle; then come back, for today you will take your meal here.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Cūḍā — the spire of the Jagannātha temple.

After bowing to the Lord, all the devotees receive the lodgings Gopīnātha assigns —

প্রভু নমস্করি' সবে বাসাতে চলিলা । গোপীনাথাচার্য্য সবে বাসা-স্থান দিলা ॥ ১৮৪ ॥

prabhu namaskari' sabe vāsāte calilā to the Lord bowing all to their lodgings went gopīnāthācārya sabe vāsā-sthāna dilā Gopīnātha Ācārya to all lodging places gave 184 Bowing to the Lord, they all went off to their lodgings, and Gopīnātha Ācārya gave everyone a place to stay.

The Lord comes to Ṭhākura Haridāsa —

মহাপ্রভু আইলা তবে হরিদাস-মিলনে । হরিদাস করে প্রেমে নাম-সংকীর্ত্তনে ॥ ১৮৫ ॥

mahāprabhu āilā tabe haridāsa-milane Mahāprabhu came then to meet Haridāsa
haridāsa kare preme nāma-saṅkīrtane
Haridāsa does with love the saṅkīrtana of the Name

185 Then Mahāprabhu came to meet Haridāsa, and found him lovingly singing the holy Name.

Haridāsa bows down, and the Lord embraces him —

প্রভু দেখি' পড়ে পায় দণ্ডবৎ হঞা । প্রভু আলিঙ্গন কৈল তাঁরে উঠাঞা ॥ ১৮৬ ॥

prabhu dekhi' paḍe pāya daṇḍavat hañā the Lord seeing he falls at His feet prostrate being prabhu āliṅgana kaila tāṁre uṭhāñā
the Lord embrace gave him raising up

186 Seeing the Lord, he fell prostrate at His feet, and the Lord raised him up and embraced him.

Remembering each other's qualities, both devotee and Lord are overwhelmed with love —

দুইজনে প্রেমাবেশে করেন ক্রন্দনে ।
প্রভু-গুণে ভৃত্য বিকল, প্রভু, ভৃত্য-গুণে ॥ ১৮৭ ॥

dui-jane premāveśe karena krandane
the two in the trance of love are weeping prabhu-guṇe bhṛtya vikala, prabhu, bhṛtya-guṇe
by the master's virtues the servant overcome the master by the servant's virtues

187 Both of them wept, absorbed in love: the servant overcome by the master's virtues, and the master by the servant's.

Ṭhākura Haridāsa considers himself untouchable —

হরিদাস কহে, — প্রভু, না ছুঁইও মোরে । মুঞি — নীচ, অস্পৃশ্য, পরম-পামরে ॥ ১৮৮ ॥

haridāsa kahe, — prabhu, nā chuio more Haridāsa says O Lord do not touch me
muñi — nīca, aspṛśya, parama-pāmare
I am low untouchable utterly fallen

188 Haridāsa said, "O Lord, do not touch me. I am low, untouchable, the most fallen of all."

The Lord, Brahmaṇya-deva Himself, proclaims Haridāsa's nobility (his being an Āryan) —

প্রভু কহে, — তোমা স্পর্শি পবিত্র হইতে । তোমার পবিত্র ধর্ম্ম নাহিক আমাতে ॥ ১৮৯ ॥

prabhu kahe, — tomā sparśi pavitra haite
the Lord says you I touch pure to become tomāra pavitra dharma nāhika āmāte
your pure dharma there is not in Me

189 The Lord said, “I touch you to purify Myself, for I have none of your pure dharma.

At every moment a devotee of Kṛṣṇa bathes in all the holy places and performs all austerities, sacrifices, charity and the like —

moment by moment do you at all holy places bathing kṣaṇe kṣaṇe kara tumi yajña-tapo-dāna moment by moment do you sacrifice, austerity and charity

190 At every moment you bathe in all the holy places; at every moment you perform sacrifice, austerity and charity.

Only the devotee of Kṛṣṇa has truly studied the Vedas and Vedānta with their auxiliaries, and he is the guru of all brāhmaṇas and sannyāsīs —

নিরন্তর কর তুমি বেদ অধ্যয়ন । দ্বিজ-ন্যাসী হৈতে তুমি পরম-পাবন ॥ ১৯১ ॥

nirantara kara tumi veda adhyayana constantly do you of the Vedas study

than brāhmaṇas and sannyāsīs you supremely purifying

191 You study the Vedas without cease, and you are far more purifying than any brāhmaṇa or sannyāsī.

192 "Oh, how wonderful! Even a dog-eater is worthy of the highest honour if Your name is on the tip of his tongue. Those who utter Your name have already performed austerities and offered sacrifices; they have bathed in all the holy waters, they are truly noble, and they have studied the Vedas." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 3.33.7)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
O Lord, those on whose lips is Your name are the best, even if they are śva-pacas, dog-eaters. Those who chant Your name have already performed every kind of austerity and every sacrifice, bathed in all the holy places and studied all the Vedas with their auxiliaries; therefore they are counted among the Āryans.

Anubhāṣya.
Devahūti offers prayers to the Lord, Kapila, and in this connection glorifies the greatness of His devotee, who possesses every virtue:

yat (on whose) jihvāgre (tip of the tongue) tubhyam (Your) nāma vartate, ataḥ (therefore — because he bears the name of a brāhmaṇa by initiation) saḥ śva-pacaḥ (born in a low family, an antyaja or the like by birth) api garīyān (is the best), aho bata (how wonderful!). ye te (Your) nāma gṛṇanti (utter), te tapaḥ tepuḥ (have performed austerity — that is, they surpass the ascetics), juhuvuḥ (have performed homa), sasnuḥ (have bathed in all the holy places), āryāḥ (of righteous conduct) brahma (the Vedas with their auxiliaries) anūcuḥ (have studied). For the facts of this and an explanation of the previous verse, see the Śrī Gauḍīya-bhāṣya.

The Lord gives Ṭhākura Haridāsa a place at "Siddha-bakula" —

Anubhāṣya.

Following the worldly rules of the smṛti, Śrī Haridāsa Ṭhākura considered himself unfit to enter the temple and see Śrī Jagannātha. Knowing this, Śrī Mahāprabhu arranged for him to bow from afar to the Sudarśana-cakra at the top of the temple spire, and said, "Mahā-prasāda will be brought for you here, at Siddha-bakula."

Nityānanda and the others rejoice to see Haridāsa —

198 On their way back they took darśana of the pinnacle of Jagannātha's temple and came to the Lord's residence to eat.

The Lord stops serving and sends prasāda to Haridāsa through Govinda —

206 Then the Lord put prasāda into Govinda's hands and carefully sent it to Haridāsa Ṭhākura.

The Lord honours prasāda with the sannyāsīs, and the Ācārya serves —

পরিবেশন করে আচার্য্য হরষিত হঞা ॥ ২০৭ ॥

The Ācārya — Śrī Gopīnātha Ācārya.

209 Happily they feasted on all kinds of cakes and sweet drinks, and every now and then, in their delight, they called out “Hari!”

Anubhāṣya.

At that time the pure sampradāya had the custom of calling out Hari’s name while honouring prasāda.

In the evening kīrtana begins with the devotees in the temple courtyard —

214 During the evening worship the son of Śacī danced. When the incense and lamps were lit, He began the saṅkīrtana.[10]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A variant reading: "Seeing the evening offering of incense (dhūpa), He began saṅkīrtana. The paḍichā brought garlands and sandal paste. On four sides four groups performed saṅkīrtana, and in the middle the Lord, the son of Śacī, danced."

*The paḍichā gives everyone garlands and sandal paste; on four sides the great kīrtana of the four groups begins —*

223 The tears from His eyes shot out more forcefully than water from a syringe, and the people all around were bathed in them.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

All the people bathe — the people all around bathe in streams of tears.

‘বেড়ানৃত্য’ মহাপ্রভু করি’ কতক্ষণ ।
মন্দিরের পাছে রহি’ করয়ে কীর্ত্তন ॥ ২২৪ ॥

‘beḍā-nṛtya’ mahāprabhu kari’ kata-kṣaṇa

of the temple behind staying He does kīrtana

224 For some time Mahāprabhu danced the beḍā-nṛtya, the dance around the temple; then, staying behind it, He went on with the kīrtana.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Beḍā-nṛtya — dancing around the temple.

The Lord dances amid the four groups —

চারিদিকে চারি সম্প্রদায় উচ্চৈঃস্বরে গায় । মধ্যে তাণ্ডব-নৃত্য করে গৌররায় ॥ ২২৫ ॥

cāri-dike cāri sampradāya uccaiḥsvare gāya

225 On all four sides the four groups sang loudly, and in their midst Gaura Rāya danced the vigorous tāṇḍava dance.

বহুক্ষণ নৃত্য করি’ প্রভু স্থির হৈলা । চারি মহান্তেরে তবে নাচিতে আজ্ঞা দিলা ॥ ২২৬ ॥

bahu-kṣaṇa nṛtya kari’ prabhu sthira hailā for a long time dance having done the Lord still became cāri mahāntere tabe nācite ājñā dilā
the four great souls then to dance order gave 226 After dancing for a long time, the Lord became still, and then He told four great souls to dance.

*The four mahāntas: (1) Nityānanda, (2) Advaita —*

এক সম্প্রদায়ে নাচে নিত্যানন্দ-রায়ে । অদ্বৈত আচার্য্য নাচে আর সম্প্রদায়ে ॥ ২২৭ ॥

eka sampradāye nāce nityānanda-rāye
in one group dances Nityānanda Rāya
advaita ācārya nāce āra sampradāye
Advaita Ācārya dances in another group

227 In one group Nityānanda Rāya danced, and in another Advaita Ācārya danced.

(3) Vakreśvara, (4) Śrīvāsa —

আর সম্প্রদায়ে নাচে পণ্ডিত-বক্রেশ্বর । শ্রীবাস নাচে আর সম্প্রদায়-ভিতর ॥ ২২৮ ॥

āra sampradāye nāce paṇḍita-vakreśvara in another group dances Vakreśvara Paṇḍita
śrīvāsa nāce āra sampradāya-bhitara Śrīvāsa dances another group within 228 In another group Vakreśvara Paṇḍita danced, and in yet another, Śrīvāsa.

The Lord stays in the midst of the kīrtana and, to see all four dance, reveals His divine power —

মধ্যে রহি' মহাপ্রভু করেন দরশন । তাঁহা এক ঐশ্বর্য্য হইল প্রকটন ॥ ২২৯ ॥

madhye rahi' mahāprabhu karena daraśana in the middle staying Mahāprabhu is watching tāṁhā eka aiśvarya haila prakaṭana
there one majesty became manifest

229 Mahāprabhu stood in the middle watching them, and there a wonder of His divine majesty appeared.

চারিদিকে নৃত্যগীত করে যত জন । সবে কহে, — প্রভু করে আমারে দরশন ॥ ২৩০ ॥

cāri-dike nṛtya-gīta kare yata jana on four sides dancing and singing do all people sabe kahe, — prabhu kare āmāre daraśana all say the Lord is at me looking

230 All those dancing and singing on the four sides said, “The Lord is looking at me!”

চারি জনের নৃত্য দেখিতে প্রভুর অভিলাষ । সেই অভিলাষে করে ঐশ্বর্য্য প্রকাশ ॥ ২৩১ ॥

cāri janera nṛtya dekhite prabhura abhilāṣa of the four persons the dancing to see the Lord’s desire sei abhilāṣe kare aiśvarya prakāśa
by that desire He makes of majesty a display

231 The Lord wanted to see the dancing of all four, and that desire led Him to display His majesty.

দর্শনে আবেশ তাঁর দেখি’ মাত্র জানে । কেমনে চৌদিকে দেখে, — ইহা নাহি জানে ॥ ২৩২ ॥

darśane āveśa tāṁra dekhi’ mātra jāne
in His gaze absorption His seeing only they know kemane caudike dekhe, — ihā nāhi jāne
how on all four sides He looks this not they know

232 Seeing the absorption of His gaze, each knew only that He was looking at him; how He could be looking in all four directions at once, no one knew.

A comparison with Kṛṣṇa’s riverbank picnic among His friends in the Vraja pastimes —

পুলিন-ভোজনে যেন কৃষ্ণ মধ্য-স্থানে । চৌদিকের সখা কহে, — আমারে নেহানে ॥ ২৩৩ ॥

pulina-bhojane yena kṛṣṇa madhya-sthāne at the picnic on the riverbank as Kṛṣṇa in the middle place caudikera sakhā kahe, — āmāre nehāne on all four sides friends say at me He looks

233 It was just as when Kṛṣṇa sat in the midst of His friends at the meal on the riverbank, and each of them said, "He is looking at me!"

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
When Śrī Kṛṣṇa held a picnic on the riverbank (pulina-bhojana) in Vraja, the cowherd boys sat all around Him, and each of them saw Kṛṣṇa eating with His face turned towards him. In the same way, when Mahāprabhu danced, each of the devotees around Him saw His face directly before him. This too is a display of the Lord's majesty (aiśvarya). Nehāne — sees.

The Lord embraces the dancing devotee who comes near Him —

নৃত্য করিতে যেই আইসে সন্নিধানে । মহাপ্রভু করে তাঁরে দৃঢ় আলিঙ্গনে ॥ ২৩৪ ॥

nṛtya karite yei āise sannidhāne dance doing whoever comes near mahāprabhu kare tāṁre dṛḍha āliṅgane
Mahāprabhu gives him a firm embrace

234 Whoever came near Him while dancing, Mahāprabhu embraced him tightly.

The dancing of the great saṅkīrtana —

মহানৃত্য, মহাপ্রেম, মহাসংকীর্ত্তন । দেখি' প্রেমাবেশে ভাসে নীলাচল-জন ॥ ২৩৫ ॥

mahā-nṛtya, mahā-prema, mahā-saṅkīrtana
the great dance the great love the great saṅkīrtana dekhi' premāveśe bhāse nīlācala-jana seeing in the rapture of love float the people of Nīlācala

235 Seeing the great dancing, the great love and the great saṅkīrtana, the people of Nīlācala were swept away in the rapture of love.

Pratāparudra watches the kīrtana from the roof of his palace —

গজপতি রাজা শুনি' কীর্ত্তন-মহত্ত্ব । অট্টালিকা চড়ি' দেখে স্বগণ-সহিত ॥ ২৩৬ ॥

gajapati rājā śuni' kīrtana-mahattva Gajapati the king hearing the glory of the kīrtana aṭṭālikā caḍi' dekhe svagaṇa-sahita
the palace climbing watches with his own people

236 When the Gajapati king heard of the glory of the kīrtana, he climbed onto the roof of his palace and watched with his attendants.

The king is amazed and longs to see the Lord's feet —

কীর্ত্তন দেখিয়া রাজার হৈল চমৎকার । প্রভুকে মিলিতে উৎকণ্ঠা বাড়িল অপার ॥ ২৩৭ ॥

kīrtana dekhiyā rājāra haila camatkāra
the kīrtana seeing in the king arose wonder prabhuke milite utkaṇṭhā bāḍila apāra
the Lord to meet eagerness grew boundless

237 Seeing the kīrtana, the king was struck with wonder, and his eagerness to meet the Lord grew boundless.

*After the kīrtana, having seen the puṣpāñjali, the Lord comes home with the* devotees —

কীর্ত্তন-সমাপ্ত্যে প্রভু দেখি' পুষ্পাঞ্জলি । সর্ব্ব বৈষ্ণব লঞা প্রভু আইলা বাসা চলি' ॥ ২৩৮ ॥

kīrtana-samāptye prabhu dekhi' puṣpāñjali at the end of the kīrtana the Lord seeing the flower offering sarva vaiṣṇava lañā prabhu āilā vāsā cali'
all Vaiṣṇavas taking the Lord came to His lodging going 238 When the kīrtana was over, the Lord watched the offering of flowers to Jagannātha and then returned to His lodging with all the Vaiṣṇavas.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Puṣpāñjali — the offering of flowers (puṣpāñjali) to Jagannāthadeva.

Thus ends the eleventh chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Everyone honours prasāda distributed by the Lord's hand —

পড়িছা আনিয়া দিল প্রসাদ বিস্তর । সবারে বাঁটিয়া তাহা দিলেন ঈশ্বর ॥ ২৩৯ ॥

paḍichā āniyā dila prasāda vistara
the paḍichā bringing gave prasāda in abundance sabāre bāṁṭiyā tāhā dilena īśvara to all distributing it gave the Lord

239 The paḍichā brought prasāda in abundance, and the Lord shared it out among everyone.

The Lord lets the devotees go to rest —

সবারে বিদায় দিল করিতে শয়ন । এইমত লীলা করে শচীর নন্দন ॥ ২৪০ ॥

sabāre vidāya dila karite śayana to all leave He gave to go to sleep ei-mata līlā kare śacīra nandana
in this way pastimes performs of Śacī the son

240 Then He let everyone go to take their rest. Such are the pastimes of the son of Śacī.

As long as they stayed with the Lord, all enjoyed kīrtana like this —

যাবৎ আছিলা সবে মহাপ্রভু-সঙ্গে । প্রতিদিন এইমত করে কীর্ত্তন-রঙ্গে ॥ ২৪১ ॥

yāvat āchilā sabe mahāprabhu-saṅge
as long as stayed all with Mahāprabhu prati-dina ei-mata kare kīrtana-raṅge
every day in this way they do in the joy of kīrtana

241 For as long as they all stayed with Mahāprabhu, they spent every day like this in the joy of kīrtana.

*Hearing of the beḍā-nṛtya kīrtana awakens spiritual consciousness —*

এই ত' কহিলুঁ প্রভুর কীর্ত্তন-বিলাস । যেবা ইহা শুনে, হয় চৈতন্যের দাস ॥ ২৪২ ॥

ei ta' kahiluṁ prabhura kīrtana-vilāsa
this indeed I have told of the Lord the kīrtana pastimes yebā ihā śune, haya caitanyera dāsa
whoever this hears becomes Caitanya's servant

242 Thus I have described the Lord's pastimes of kīrtana. Whoever hears of them becomes a servant of Caitanya.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the eleventh chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ । চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ২৪৩ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

243 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

On all four sides four groups sang kīrtana, and in the middle the Lord, the son of Śacī, danced"; the translation follows the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition, and the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya cites the other reading as a variant. ↩
11. Reading of the editions — see the note to verse 214. ↩
