

Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita

"The Nectar of Sri Krishna Chaitanya's Acts" (Murari Gupta's Kadacha)

Murari Gupta

Translated from the Sanskrit into English

Sanskrit text, transliteration, word-for-word and translation

Translator's Note

Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita is the Sanskrit poem of Murari Gupta, a fellow-countryman and companion of Sri Chaitanya and an eyewitness of his life in Navadvipa; tradition calls it Murari Gupta's Kadacha ("notes"). It is the earliest biography of Mahaprabhu, drawn upon by Vrindavana Dasa, Kavikarnapura, Lochana Dasa and Krishnadasa Kaviraja. The poem is divided into four prakramas (parts) and 78 sargas (cantos).

Source. The Sanskrit text has been reconstructed from three OCR copies: two scans of the edition of Haridasa

Shastri (Vrindavana) and the edition of Haridasa Dasa (Calcutta, 1945, Bengali script); readings were checked against metre and grammar. Verse numbering follows Haridasa Shastri's edition. Only Murari Gupta's Sanskrit text has been translated; the translations and commentaries of the editions were not used. Interpretation follows Srila Bhaktisiddhanta Sarasvati.

Prakrama One

Prakrama 1, Sarga 1. The Sequence of the Descent

Benediction; the appearance of Vishvambhara; Srivasa bids Murari tell of the Lord; Navadvipa and its devotees; Jagannatha Mishra

Verse 1

स जयत्यतिशुद्धविक्रमः कनकाभः कमलायतेक्षणः। वरजानुविलम्बिसद्भुजो बहुधा भक्तिरसाभिनर्तकः॥१॥

*sa jayatyatisuddhavikramah kanakābhaḥ kamalāyatekṣaṇaḥ|
varajānuvilambisadbhujo bahudhā bhaktirasābhinartakaḥ||1||*

Word for word: sah — he; jayati — be victorious; ati-shuddha-vikramah — whose prowess is utterly pure; kanaka-abhah — shining like gold; kamala-ayata-ikshanah — with eyes wide as lotuses; vara-janu-vilambi-sad-bhujah — whose fine arms hang down to his beautiful knees; bahudha — in many ways; bhakti-rasa-abhinartakah — dancer in the rasa of devotion.

1. Glory to Him! His prowess is utterly pure; He shines like gold; His eyes are wide as lotus petals; His shapely arms reach down to His fine knees; and in many ways He dances in the rasa of devotion.

Verse 2

स जगन्नाथसुतो जगत्पतिर्जगदादिर्जगदार्तिहा विभुः।
कलिपाता कलिभारहारकोऽजनि शच्यां निजभक्तिमुद्वहन्॥२॥

*sa jagannāthasuto jagatpatirjagadādirjagadārtihā vibhuḥ|
kalipātā kalibhārahārako'jani śacyāṁ nijabhaktimudvahan||2||*

Word for word: sah — he; jagannatha-sutah — the son of Jagannatha; jagat-patih — the lord of the world; jagat-adih — the origin of the world; jagat-arti-ha — remover of the world's distress; vibhuh — the all-powerful; kali-pata — protector in the Kali age; kali-bhara-harakah — remover of the burden of Kali; ajani — was born; shachyam — of Shachi; nija-bhaktim — devotion to himself; udvahan — bearing.

2. He — the son of Jagannatha, Lord and origin of the world, the all-powerful one who takes away the world's distress, protector in the age of Kali and remover of its burden — was born of Shachi, bringing with Him devotion to Himself.

Verse 3

स नवद्वीपवतीषु भूमिषु द्विजवर्यैरभिनन्दितो हरिः।
निजपित्रोः सुखदो गृहे सुखं निवसन् वेदषडङ्गसंहिताम्॥३॥

*sa navadvīpavatīṣu bhūmiṣu dvijavaryairabhinandito hariḥ|
nijapitroḥ sukhado grhe sukhaṁ nivasan vedaṣaḍaṅgasamhitām||3||*

Word for word: sah — he; navadvipa-vatishu — of Navadvipa; bhumishu — in the lands; dvija-varyaih — by the best of the twice-born; abhinanditah — welcomed; harih — Hari; nija-pitroh — to his parents; sukha-dah — giving joy; grihe — at home; sukham — happily; nivasan — living; veda-shad-anga-samhitam — the collection of the Vedas with their six limbs (object of the verb in v. 4).

3. Welcomed by the best of the twice-born in the lands of Navadvipa, Hari lived happily at home, a joy to His parents; and the Veda with its six limbs¹

Verse 4

निपपाठ गुरोर्गृहे वसन् परिचर्याभिरतः शुचिव्रतः।
स च विश्वम्भरसंज्ञको हरिर्युगधर्माचरणाय धर्मिणाम्॥४॥

nipapāṭha gurorgr̥he vasan paricaryābhirataḥ śucivrataḥ|
sa ca viśvambharasamjñako hariryugadharmācaraṇāya dharminām||4||

Word for word: nipapatha — studied; guroh — of the guru; grihe — in the house; vasan — living; paricharya-abhiratah — devoted to service; shuchi-vratah — pure in his vows; sah — he; cha — and; vishvambhara-samjnakah — called Vishvambhara; harih — Hari; yuga-dharma-acharanaya — for the practice of the dharma of the age; dharminam — of the righteous.

4. He studied while living in His guru's house, devoted to serving him and pure in His vows. And this same Hari, called Vishvambhara, so that the righteous might follow the dharma of the age,

Verse 5

हरिकीर्तनमादिशत् स्मरन् पुरुषार्थाय हरेरतिप्रियम्।
स गयासु पितृक्रियां चरन् हरिपादाङ्कितभूमिषु स्वयम्॥५॥

harikīrtanamādiśat smaran puruṣārthāya hareratipriyam|
sa gayāsu pitṛkriyām caran haripādāṅkitabhūmiṣu svayam||5||

Word for word: hari-kirtanam — the kirtana of Hari; adishat — enjoined; smaran — remembering; purusha-arthaya — for the goal of human life; hareh — to Hari; ati-priyam — very dear; sah — he; gayasu — in Gaya; pitri-kriyam — the rite for the ancestors; charan — performing; hari-pada-ankita-bhumishu — in the lands marked by Hari's feet; svayam — himself.

5. enjoined the kirtana of Hari for the sake of man's highest goal, remembering that it is dear beyond measure to Hari. And when He Himself was performing the rite for His ancestors at Gaya, in the land marked by Hari's feet,

Verse 6

निजसंस्मृतिमात्रसम्पदः पुलकप्रेमजडो बभूव ह। स तदा निजमेव मन्दिरं समगादशरीरया गिरा॥६॥

nijasaṁsmṛtimātrasampadaḥ pulakapremajaḍo babhūva ha|
sa tadā nijameva mandiraṁ samagādaśarīrayā girā||6||

Word for word: nija-samsmriti-matra-sampadah — from the wealth of the mere remembrance of himself; pulaka-prema-jadah — stunned with love, his hair standing on end; babhuva ha — became; sah — he; tada — then; nijam eva — to his own; mandiram — home; samagat — went back; ashariraya — by a bodiless; gira — voice.

6. the mere remembrance of Himself — that treasure — left Him stunned with love, the hair of His body standing on end. Then, at the word of a bodiless voice², He returned to His own home.

Verse 7

भक्तवर्गमुखवेष्टितः प्रभुः प्रेमपाकपरिपूर्णविग्रहः। हरिकीर्तनसत्कथासुखं मुमुदे दानवसिंहमर्दनः॥७॥

*bhaktavargamukhaveṣṭitaḥ prabhuḥ premapākāparipūrṇavigrahaḥ|
harikīrtanasatkathāsukhaṁ mumude dānavasimhamardanaḥ||7||*

Word for word: bhakta-varga-mukha-veshtitaḥ — surrounded by the foremost of the band of devotees; prabhuḥ — the Lord; prema-paka-paripurna-vigrahaḥ — whose form was full of ripened love; hari-kirtana-sat-katha-sukham — in the joy of the kirtana of Hari and of holy talks; mumude — rejoiced; danava-simha-mardanaḥ — the crusher of the lion-like Danavas.

7. Surrounded by the foremost of His devotees, the Lord — the crusher of the lions among the Danavas, whose form was filled with ripened love — gave Himself joyfully to the kirtana of Hari and to holy talk of Him.

Verse 8

अथास्य कीर्तिं श्रवणामृतं सतामुदारकीर्तेः श्रुतिभिः पिपासुभिः।
विगाहितुं श्रीयुतसत्कथां शुभामुवाह हर्षाश्रुविलोललोचनः॥८॥

*athāsyā kīrtim śravaṇāmṛtaṁ satāmudārakīrteḥ śrutibhiḥ pipāsubhiḥ|
vigāhituṁ śrīyutasatkathāṁ śubhāmuvāha harṣāśruvilolalocanaḥ||8||*

Word for word: atha — then; asya — of him; kirtim — the fame; shravana-amritam — nectar for the ears; satam — of the virtuous; udara-kirteḥ — of generous fame; shrutibhiḥ — with ears; pipasubhiḥ — thirsting; vigahitum — to plunge into; shri-yuta-sat-katham — the splendid true narrative; shubham — auspicious; uvaha — took up; harsha-ashru-vilola-lochanah — his eyes trembling with tears of joy.

8. And then, so that thirsting ears might plunge into the glory of Him whose fame is noble — a glory that is nectar to the ears of the virtuous — one whose eyes were brimming with trembling tears of joy took up this splendid, auspicious and true narrative³.

Verse 9

भक्तः श्रीवासनामा द्विजकुलकमलप्रोल्लसच्चित्रभानुः
प्राहेदं श्रीमुरारिं त्वमिह वद हरेः श्रीचरित्रं नवीनम्।
तस्याज्ञामाकलय्य प्रकटकरपुटैस्तं नमस्कृत्य भूयः श्रीमच्चैतन्यमूर्तेः कलिकलुषहरां कीर्तिमाह स्वयं सः॥९॥

*bhaktah śrīvāsanāmā dvijakulakamalaprollasaccitrabhānuḥ
prāhedam śrīmurāriṁ tvamiha vada hareḥ śrīcaritraṁ navīnam| tasyājñāmākalayya prakṭakarapuṭaistam namaskṛtya bhūyāḥ
śrīmaccaitanya-mūrteḥ kalikaluṣaharāṁ kīrtimāha svayaṁ saḥ||9||*

Word for word: bhaktah — the devotee; shrivasa-nama — named Srivasa; dvija-kula-kamala-prollasat-chitrabhanuh — the sun that makes the lotus of the twice-born race bloom; praha — said; idam — this; shri-murarim — to Sri Murari; tvam — you; iha — here; vada — tell; hareh — of Hari; shri-charitram — the holy life; navinam — new; tasya — his; ajnam — command; akalayya — accepting; prakata-kara-putaih — with openly joined palms; tam — to him; namaskritya — bowing; bhuyah — again and again; shrimach-chaitanya-murteḥ — of the embodied Sriman Chaitanya; kali-kalusha-haram — removing the stain of Kali; kirtim — the glory; aha — told; svayam — himself; sah — he.

9. A devotee named Srivasa, the sun who makes the lotus of the twice-born race bloom, said to Sri Murari: "Tell here a new and holy account of Hari's life." Accepting his command, Murari openly joined his palms, bowed to him again and again, and himself began to tell the glory of Sriman Chaitanya, which washes away the stain of Kali.

Verse 10

अथ स चिन्तयामास वैद्यसूनुर्मुरारिकः।

कथं वक्ष्यामि बह्वर्था चैतन्यस्य कथां शुभाम्॥१०॥

atha sa cintayāmāsa vaidyasūnurmurārikah|

katham vakṣyāmi bahvarthāṁ caitanyasya kathāṁ śubhām||10||

Word for word: atha — then; sah — he; chintayam asa — reflected; vaidya-sunuh — the physician's son; murarikah — Murari; katham — how; vakshyami — shall I tell; bahu-artham — rich in meaning; chaitanyasya — of Chaitanya; katham — the story; shubham — auspicious.

10. Then Murari, the physician's son, reflected: "How shall I tell the auspicious story of Chaitanya, so rich in meaning,

Verse 11

यद्वक्तुं नैव शक्नोति वाचस्पतिरपि स्वयम्।

तथापि वैष्णवादेशं कर्तुं युक्तं मतिर्मम॥११॥

yadvaktuṁ naiva śaknoti vācaspatirapi svayam|

tathāpi vaiṣṇavādeśaṁ kartuṁ yuktaṁ matirmama||11||

Word for word: yat — which; vaktum — to tell; na eva — not at all; shaknoti — is able; vachaspatih — Vachaspati; api — even; svayam — himself; tatha api — yet; vaishnava-adesham — the command of a Vaishnava; kartum — to carry out; yuktaṁ — is fitting; matih — the thought; mama — my.

11. which even Vachaspati⁴ himself cannot tell? And yet it is right to carry out a Vaishnava's command — so I have resolved;

Verse 12

निर्मला भाति सततं कृष्णस्मरणसम्पदा।

वैष्णवाज्ञा हि फलदा भविष्यति न चान्यथा॥१२॥

nirmalā bhāti satataṁ kṛṣṇasmarāṇasampadā|

vaiṣṇavājñā hi phaladā bhaviṣyati na cānyathā||12||

Word for word: nirmala — pure (my thought); bhati — shines; satatam — ever; krishna-smarana-sampada — by the wealth of remembering Krishna; vaishnava-ajna — the Vaishnava's command; hi — surely; phala-da — fruitful; bhavishyati — will be; na — not; cha — and; anyatha — otherwise.

12. and my resolve shines ever pure through the treasure of remembering Krishna. A Vaishnava's command is sure to bear fruit — it cannot be otherwise."

Verse 13

इत्युक्त्वा वक्तुमारेभे भगवद्भक्तिर्बृंहिताम्।

कथां धर्मार्थकामाय मोक्षाय विष्णुभक्तये॥१३॥

ityuktva vaktumārebhe bhagavadbhaktibṛṁhitām|

kathāṁ dharmārthakāmāya mokṣāya viṣṇubhaktaye||13||

Word for word: iti — thus; ukta — having said; vaktum — to tell; arebhe — began; bhagavad-bhakti-brimhitam — enriched with devotion to Bhagavan; katham — the story; dharma-artha-kamaya — for dharma, wealth and desire; mokshaya — for liberation; vishnu-bhaktaye — for devotion to Vishnu.

13. With these words he began to tell the story, steeped in devotion to Bhagavan — for the sake of dharma, wealth and pleasure, for liberation, and for devotion to Vishnu.

Verse 14

नमामि चैतन्यमजं पुरातनं
चतुर्भुजं शङ्खगदाब्जचक्रिणम्।
श्रीवत्सलक्ष्माङ्कितवक्षसं हरिं सद्भालसंलग्नमणिं सुवाससम्॥१४॥

*namāmi caitanyamajam purātanam
caturbhujam śaṅkhagadābjacakriṇam| śrīvatsalakṣmāṅkitavakṣasam harim
sadbhālasaṁlagnaṁmanim suvāsasam||14||*

Word for word: namami — I bow; chaitanyam — to Chaitanya; ajam — the unborn; puratanam — the primeval; chatur-bhujam — four-armed; shankha-gada-abja-chakrinam — bearing conch, mace, lotus and disc; shrivatsa-lakshma-ankita-vakshasam — whose chest is marked with the sign of Shrivatsa; harim — Hari; sad-bhala-samlagna-manim — with a gem set on his fair forehead; su-vasasam — finely clad.

14. I bow to Chaitanya — the unborn, the ancient Hari, four-armed, bearing conch, mace, lotus and disc. His chest is marked with the sign of Shrivatsa, a gem rests on His fair brow, and His garments are fine.

Verse 15

वदामि काञ्चिद्भगवत्कथां सतां
हर्षाय किञ्चित्स्खलनं यदा भवेत्।
तदात्र संशोधयितुं महत्तमाः प्रमाणमेवात्र परोपकारिणः॥१५॥

*vadāmi kāñcidbhagavatkathām satām
harṣāya kiñcitskhalanam yadā bhavet| tadātra saṁśodhayitum mahattamāḥ
pramāṇamevātra paropakāriṇaḥ||15||*

Word for word: vadami — I shall tell; kanchit — some; bhagavat-katham — story of Bhagavan; satam — of the virtuous; harshaya — for the delight; kinchit — some; skhalanam — slip; yada — if; bhavet — should occur; tada — then; atra — here; samshodhayitum — to correct; mahattamah — the greatest souls; pramanam — the authority; eva — indeed; atra — in this; para-upakarinah — who do good to others.

15. For the delight of the virtuous I shall tell something of the stories of Bhagavan. Should some slip occur, to correct it is the task of the greatest souls, those who do good to others: in this they alone are the measure.

Verse 16

नवद्वीप इति ख्याते क्षेत्रे परमवैष्णवे।

ब्राह्मणाः साधवः शान्ता वैष्णवाः सत्कुलोद्भवाः॥१६॥

navadvīpa iti khyāte kṣetre paramavaiṣṇave|

brāhmaṇāḥ sādhaveḥ śāntā vaiṣṇavāḥ satkulodbhavāḥ||16||

Word for word: navadvipe — Navadvipa; iti — thus; khyate — known as; kshetre — in the holy place; parama-vaishnave — supremely Vaishnava; brahmanah — brahmanas; sadhavah — saintly; shantah — peaceful; vaishnavah — Vaishnavas; sat-kula-udbhavah — born in good families.

16. In the holy land called Navadvipa, devoted wholly to Vishnu, live brahmanas — saintly, peaceful Vaishnavas of good families,

Verse 17

महान्तः कर्मनिपुणाः सर्वे शास्त्रार्थपारगाः।

अन्ये च सन्ति बहुशो भिषक्शूद्रवणिग्जनाः॥१७॥

mahāntaḥ karmanipuṇāḥ sarve śāstrārthaparagāḥ|

anye ca santi bahuśo bhiṣakśūdravaṇigjanāḥ||17||

Word for word: mahantah — great; karma-nipunah — skilled in rites; sarve — all; shastra-artha-paragah — masters of the meaning of the scriptures; anye — others; cha — and; santi — there are; bahushah — in great numbers; bhisak-shudra-vaṇig-janah — physicians, shudras and merchants.

17. great souls, skilled in rites, every one a master of the meaning of the scriptures; and many other people live there too — physicians, shudras and merchants.

Verse 18

स्वाचारनिरताः शुद्धाः सर्वे विद्योपजीविनः।

तत्र देवव्रताः सर्वे वैकुण्ठभवनोपमे॥१८॥

svācāraniratāḥ śuddhāḥ sarve vidyopajīvināḥ|

tatra devavratāḥ sarve vaikunṭhabhavanopame||18||

Word for word: sva-achara-niratah — devoted to their own duties; shuddhah — pure; sarve — all; vidya-upajivinah — living by learning; tatra — there; deva-vratah — vowed to God; sarve — all; vaikuntha-bhavana-upame — (in that place) like the abode of Vaikuntha.

18. All of them are true to their own duties and pure; all live by learning; all have vowed themselves to God — in that place, which is like the abode of Vaikuntha.

Verse 19

श्रीवासो यत्र रेजे हरिपदकमलप्रोल्लसन्मत्तभृङ्गः

प्रेमार्द्रोद्धूतबाहुः परमरसमदैर्गयितीशं सदोत्कः।

गोपीनाथो द्विजाग्र्यः श्रवणपथगते नाम्नि कृष्णस्य मत्तो-

ऽत्युच्चै रौति स्म भूयो लयतरलकरो नृत्यति स्मातिवेलम्॥१९॥ śrīvāso yatra reje haripadakamalaprollasanmattabhṛṅgaḥ

premārdroddhūtabāhuḥ paramarasamadairgāyatīśaṁ sadotkaḥ|

*gopīnātho dvijāgryaḥ śravaṇapathagate nāmni kṛṣṇasya matto-
'tyuccai rauti sma bhūyo layataralakaro nṛtyati smāativelam||19||*

Word for word: shrivasah — Srivasa; yatra — where; reje — shone; hari-pada-kamala-prollasan-matta-bhringah — an intoxicated bee sporting at Hari's lotus feet; prema-ardra-uddhuta-bahuh — moist with love, with arms flung up; parama-rasa-madaih — in the rapture of the highest rasa; gayati — sings; isham — the Lord; sada-utkah — ever eager; gopinathah — Gopinatha; dvija-agryah — foremost of the twice-born; shravana-patha-gate — having reached the path of hearing; namni — the name; krishnasya — of Krishna; mattah — intoxicated; ati-uchchaih — very loudly; rauti sma — cried; bhuyah — again; laya-tarala-karah — his hands quivering in rhythm; nrityati sma — danced; ati-velam — beyond measure.

19. There shone Srivasa, an intoxicated bee sporting at Hari's lotus feet: wet with the tears of love, his arms flung up⁵, ever eager, he sings of the Lord in the rapture of the highest rasa. There too was Gopinatha⁶, foremost of the twice-born: as soon as the name of Krishna reached his ears, he would weep aloud again and again in his intoxication and dance beyond all measure, his hands quivering to the rhythm.

Verse 20

बालोद्यद्भास्कराभो बुधजनकमलोद्बोधने दक्षमूर्तिः
कारुण्याब्धिहिमांशोरिव जनहृदयोत्तापशान्त्येकमूर्तिः।
प्रेमध्यानातिदक्षो नटनविधिकलासद्गुणाढ्यो महात्मा श्रीयुक्ताद्वैतवर्यः परमरसकलाचार्य ईशो विरेजे॥२०॥

*bāloadyadbhāskarābho budhajanakamalodbodhane dakṣamūrtiḥ
kāruṇyābđhihimāṁśoriva janahṛdayottāpaśāntyekamūrtiḥ| premadhyānātidakṣo ṇaṭanavidhikalāsadguṇāḍhyo mahātmā
śrīyuktādvaitavaryaḥ paramarasakalācārya īśo vireje||20||*

Word for word: bala-udyad-bhaskara-abhah — radiant as the rising morning sun; budha-jana-kamala-udbodhane — in awakening the lotuses that are the wise; daksha-murtih — skilful; karunya-abdhi-himamshoh — of the moon of the ocean of compassion; iva — like; jana-hridaya-uttapa-shanti-eka-murtih — the very embodiment of cooling the burning of people's hearts; prema-dhyana-ati-dakshah — supreme in loving meditation; natana-vidhi-kala-sad-guna-adhyah — rich in the fine gift of the art of dance; maha-atma — the great soul; shri-yukta-advaita-varyah — the excellent Sri Advaita; parama-rasa-kala-acharyah — teacher of the art of the highest rasa; ishah — the master; vireje — shone.

20. There shone the lord Sri Advaita, the most excellent, the great soul. Radiant as the rising morning sun, he knew how to awaken the wise as the sun awakens lotuses; like the moon born of the ocean of compassion, he was the one embodiment of the peace that cools the burning in people's hearts. Unsurpassed in loving meditation, rich in the fine gift of the art of dance, he was a teacher of the art of the highest rasa.

Verse 21

यत्र सर्वगुणवानतिरेजे चन्द्रशेखरगुरुर्द्विजराजः।
कृष्णनामकृषिताङ्गरुहः स प्रस्खलन्नयनवारिभिरार्द्रः॥२१॥

yatra sarvaguṇavānatireje candrasēkharagururdvijaṛajāḥ|
kṛṣṇanāmākṛṣītāṅgaruhaḥ sa praskhalannayanavāribhirārdrah||21||

Word for word: yatra — where; sarva-guṇavan — endowed with every virtue; ati-reje — shone brightly; chandrashekhara-guruh — the teacher Chandrashekhara; dvija-rajah — king of the twice-born; krishna-nama-krishita-anga-ruhah — the hair of whose body stood on end at the name of Krishna; sah — he; praskhalan-nayana-varibhih — with streaming tears; ardrah — wet.

21. There shone brightly the teacher Chandrashekhara, king of the twice-born⁷, endowed with every virtue: at the name of Krishna the hair of his body stood on end, and he was wet with streaming tears.

Verse 22

यत्र नृत्यति मुनौ हरिदासे दासवत्सलतया जगदीशः।
खेचरैः सुरगणैः समहेशैर्लास्यमाशु परिपश्यति हृष्टः॥२२॥

yatra nṛtyati munau haridāse dāsavatsalatayā jagadīśaḥ|
khecaraiḥ suragaṇaiḥ samaheśairlāśyamāśu paripaśyati hr̥ṣṭaḥ||22||

Word for word: yatra — where; nṛtyati — while dancing; munau — the sage; haridase — Haridasa; dasa-vatsalataya — out of love for his servant; jagat-ishah — the Lord of the world; khecharaih — moving in the sky; sura-ganaih — with the hosts of gods; sa-maheshaih — together with Mahesha; lasyam — the dance; ashu — at once; paripashyati — watches; hr̥ṣṭah — delighted.

22. There, when the sage Haridasa dances, the Lord of the world, out of love for His servant, at once looks on that dance with delight, together with the hosts of gods who roam the sky, and with Mahesha.

Verse 23

यत्र विष्णुपदसम्भवा सरिद्वेगवत्यतितरां करुणार्द्रा।
स्पर्धया रविसुतासरयूणां या दधार कनकोज्ज्वलं हरिम्॥२३॥

yatra viṣṇupadasambhavā saridvegavatytitarāṁ karuṇārdṛā|
spardhayā ravisutāsarayūṇāṁ yā dadhāra kanakojjvalaṁ harim||23||

Word for word: yatra — where; vishnu-pada-sambhava — born from Vishnu's foot; sarit — the river; vegavati — swift; ati-taram — exceedingly; karuna-ardra — moist with compassion; spardhaya — in rivalry; ravi-suta-sarayunam — with the daughter of the Sun (the Yamuna) and the Sarayu; ya — who; dadhara — bore; kanaka-ujjvalam — shining like gold; harim — Hari.

23. There flows the river born from Vishnu's foot — swift, and brimming with the waters of compassion; vying with the Yamuna, daughter of the Sun, and with the Sarayu, she has received Hari, shining like gold⁸.

Verse 24

जगन्नाथस्तस्मिन् द्विजकुलपयोधीन्दुसदृशो- ऽभवद्वेदाचार्यः सकलगुणयुक्तो गुरुसमः।
स कृष्णाङ्घ्रिध्यानप्रबलतरयोगेन मनसा विशुद्धः प्रेमाद्रौ नवशशिकलेवाशु ववृधे॥२४॥

*jagannāthastasmin dvijakulapayodhīndusadrśo-
'bhavadvedācāryaḥ sakalagūṇayukto gurusamaḥ| sa kṛṣṇāṅghridhyānaprabalatarayogena manasā
viśuddhaḥ premārdro navaśāśikalevāśu vavṛdhe||24||*

Word for word: jagannathah — Jagannatha; tasmin — in it (Navadvipa); dvija-kula-payodhi-indu-sadrishah — like the moon in the ocean of the twice-born race; abhavat — there was; veda-acharyah — a teacher of the Vedas; sakala-guna-yuktah — endowed with all virtues; guru-samah — equal to Guru (Brihaspati); sah — he; krishna-anghri-dhyana-prabala-tara-yogena — by the mighty yoga of meditation on Krishna's feet; manasa — in mind; vishuddhah — purified; prema-ardrah — moist with love; nava-shashi-kala — the crescent of the new moon; iva — like; ashu — swiftly; vavridhe — grew.

24. There lived Jagannatha — like the moon risen from the ocean of the twice-born race — a teacher of the Vedas, endowed with all virtues, equal to Brihaspati. His mind purified by the mighty yoga of meditation on Krishna's feet, his heart melting with love, he swiftly waxed like the crescent of the new moon.

Thus ends the first sarga, "The Sequence of the Descent," of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Chaitanya-charita."

1. The six angas (auxiliary disciplines) of the Veda: phonetics, ritual, grammar, etymology, metrics and astronomy.
2. The "bodiless voice" (asharira vak) is a voice from the sky, heard without a visible speaker.
3. The subject is not named; to judge from the next verse, it is the poet himself, Murari Gupta.
4. Vachaspati ("lord of speech") is Brihaspati, the preceptor of the gods, the model of eloquence.
5. The beginning of the second line of this verse is damaged in the sources; "his arms flung up" is a tentative reading restored by the metre.
6. Gopinatha is a brahmana of Navadvipa; apparently Gopinatha Acharya, who later appears in Nilachala.
7. "King of the twice-born" (dvija-rajā) is also a poetic name of the moon — a play on the name Chandrashekhara ("Crowned with the Moon").
8. On the banks of the Yamuna Krishna played, on the banks of the Sarayu (in Ayodhya) Rama; the Ganga at Navadvipa has received Gaura.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 2. Narada's Sorrow

Jagannatha Mishra and Shachi; the birth of Vishvarupa; Damodara Pandita's question; Narada sees the earth gripped by Kali

Verse 1

अथ तस्य गुरुश्चक्रे सर्वशास्त्रार्थवेदिनः। पदवीमिति तत्त्वज्ञः श्रीमन्मिश्रपुरन्दरः॥१॥

*atha tasya guruścakre sarvaśāstrārthavedinaḥ|
padavīmiti tattvajñaḥ śrīmanmīśrapurandaraḥ||1||*

Word for word: atha — then; tasya — to him; guruh — the guru; chakre — gave; sarva-shastra-artha-vedinah — who knew the meaning of all scriptures; padavim — the title; iti — thus; tattva-jnah — knowing the truth; shriman-mishra-purandarah — "Shriman Mishra Purandara".

1. Then his guru, a knower of the truth, honoured him, who had mastered the meaning of all the scriptures, with the title "Shriman Mishra Purandara"¹.

Verse 2

तमेकदा सत्कुलीनं पण्डितं धर्मिणां वरम्।

29. and even men learned in scripture — proud, and reviling the saints. Seeing all these people, so many and so various, Narada fell to pondering."

Thus ends the second sarga, "Narada's Sorrow," of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charita."

1. Purandara ("Destroyer of Strongholds") is a name of Indra; hence the wordplay in v. 3, since Indra's consort is also named Shachi.
2. The epithet kula-kricchada is the same in all the sources, but its meaning is unclear; the translation is conjectural.
3. That is, like Indra, who won his consort Shachi.
4. Upendra is Vishnu as Vamana, born of the sage Kashyapa and Aditi as Indra's younger brother.
5. From this verse the poem is framed as a dialogue: Damodara Pandita asks, and Murari tells.
6. Bhargava is Shukra, the preceptor of the asuras, famed for his wisdom.
7. The Mahati is Narada's vina.
8. A play on words: go means both "earth" and "cow"; kara means both "tax" and "ray" (the earth is parched as if by scorching rays). Mlechchhas and Yavanas are foreigners outside Vedic dharma; the Muslim rulers of Bengal are meant.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 3. Narada's Inquiry

Narada goes to Vaikuntha; the vision of Vaikuntha and of Krishna; Narada pleads for the world perishing in Kali; the Lord agrees to descend

*tataḥ prasāryāśu karaṁ kṛtajñō
ratnāṅgurībhinna-khaprabhaṁ prabhuḥ| mudā spr̥śanmūrdhni munermanoharaṁ
babhāṣa īṣatsmitaśobhitānanaḥ||12||*

Word for word: tatah — then; prasarya — stretching out; ashu — at once; karam — his hand; kritajnah — grateful; ratna-anguri-bhinna-nakha-prabham — its nail-radiance variegated by jewelled rings; prabhuh — the Lord; muda — joyfully; sprishan — touching; murdhni — on the head; muneh — of the sage; manoharam — charmingly; babhasha — spoke; ishat-smita-shobhita-ananah — his face graced by a gentle smile.

12. Then the grateful Lord at once stretched out His hand, the radiance of its nails mingling with the gleam of jewelled rings, joyfully touched the sage's head and, with a gentle smile on His face, spoke enchantingly:

Verse 13

स्वायम्भुवोत्तिष्ठ मुने महात्मन्
यन्नो वदस्यद्य करोमि तत्ते।
ममैव कालोऽयमुपागतः स्वयं युगेषु धर्माचरणाय धर्मिणाम्॥१३॥

*svāyambhuvottiṣṭha mune mahātman
yanno vadasyadya karomi tatte| mamaiva kālo'yamupāgataḥ svayaṁ
yugeṣu dharmācaraṇāya dharmiṇām||13||*

Word for word: svayambhuva — O son of the Self-born (Brahma); uttiṣṭha — rise; mune — O sage; maha-atman — O great soul; yat — what; nah — to us; vadasi — you say; adya — today; karomi — I do; tat — that; te — for you; mama — my; eva — indeed; kalah — time; ayam — this; upagatah — has come; svayam — of itself; yugeshu — in the ages; dharma-acharanaya — for the practice of dharma; dharminam — of the righteous.

13. 'Rise, O son of the Self-born⁴, O sage, O great soul! Whatever you tell Me today, that I shall do for you. For My time has come of itself — the time when, in the ages, the righteous must practise dharma.'

Verse 14

ततः समुत्थाप्य महर्षिसत्तमं
महत्तमैकान्तपरायणो हरिः। समादिदेशासनमाशु तस्मै

samāpnuhi tvam kuru śaṁ dharanyāḥ||20||*

Word for word: svayam — yourself; su-shitah — cooling; shata-chandrama — a hundred moons; yatha — like; bhu-deva-vamshe — in a lineage of brahmanas ("gods of the earth"); api — indeed; avatirya — descending; sat-kule — in a good family; vatsye — of the Vatsya line; jagannatha-suta — "son of Jagannatha"; iti — thus; vishrutim — renown; samapnuhi — attain; tvam — you; kuru — make; sham — welfare; dharanyah — of the earth.

20. 'Descend Yourself, cooling as a hundred moons, into a good family of the brahmana race, of the Vatsya line⁵; win renown as "the son of Jagannatha," and bring welfare to the earth.

Verse 21

रामादिरूपैर्भगवन्कृतं हि य-त्पापात्मनां राक्षसदानवानाम्। वधादिकं कर्म न चेह कार्यं मनो नराणां परिशोधयस्व॥२१॥

*rāmādirūpairbhagavankṛtaṁ hi ya-tpāpātmanāṁ rākṣasadānavānām| vadhādikam karma na ceha kāryam
mano narāṇām pariśodhayasva||21||*

Word for word: rama-adi-rupaih — in the forms of Rama and others; bhagavan — O Bhagavan; kritam — done; hi — indeed; yat — which; papa-atmanam — of the sinful; rakshasa-danavanam — of Rakshasas and Danavas; vadha-adikam — slaying and the like; karma — the deed; na — not; cha — and; iha — here; karyam — to be done; manah — the mind; naranam — of men; parishodhayasva — purify.

21. What You did, O Bhagavan, in the forms of Rama and others — the slaying of sinful Rakshasas and Danavas and the like — is not to be done here: purify the minds of men.

Verse 22

तानासुरं भावमुपागतान्हि
यदा हनिष्ये क्व तदास्ति लोकः।
एवं व्यवस्य स्वधियात्मनो यशः प्रख्याहि लोकाः सुखिनो भवन्तु॥२२॥

tānāsuraṁ bhāvamupāgatānhi
yadā haniṣye kva tadāsti lokāḥ| evaṁ vyavasya svadhiyātmano yaśaḥ
prakhyāhi lokāḥ sukhino bhavantu||22||

Word for word: tan — them; asuram — demoniac; bhavam — state; upagatan — who have entered; hi — indeed; yada — if; hanishye — I kill; kva — where; tada — then; asti — is; lokah — the world; evam — thus; vyavasya — resolving; sva-dhiya — by your own understanding; atmanah — your own; yashah — glory; prakhyahi — make known; lokah — people; sukhinah — happy; bhavantu — may become.

22. "If I slay those who have fallen into the demoniac state, where then will the world be?" — resolving thus in Your own mind, make Your glory known, and may the people be happy.

Verse 23

तत्रैव रुद्रेण मुनिप्रवीराः
कर्तुं हि साहाय्यमवातरिष्यन्।
तथेति तं प्राह हरिः सुरर्षिं सोऽपि प्रणम्याशु जगाम हृष्टः॥२३॥

tatraiva rudreṇa munipravīrāḥ
kartuṁ hi sāhāyyamavātarīṣyan| tatheti taṁ prāha hariḥ surarṣiṁ
so'pi praṇamyāśu jagāma hr̥ṣṭaḥ||23||

Word for word: tatra eva — there too; rudrena — with Rudra; muni-pravirah — the foremost of sages; kartum — to give; hi — indeed; sahayyam — help; avatarishyan — would descend; tatha — so be it; iti — thus; tam — to him; praha — said; harih — Hari; sura-rshim — to the divine rishi; sah — he; api — too; pranamya — bowing; ashu — at once; jagama — went; hrishtah — joyful.

23. And there too, together with Rudra, the foremost of sages will descend to help You⁶. 'So be it,' Hari said to the divine rishi; and he, bowing, at once departed joyfully."

Thus ends the third sarga, "Narada's Inquiry," of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charita."

1. The "twilight" (sandhya) is the opening period of a yuga; the Kali age has only just begun.
2. The Lord's name and form are eternal and not material; to call them non-eternal is an offence.
3. According to poetic convention, pearls form in the heads of lordly elephants.
4. Narada is the son of Brahma, the Self-born (Svayambhu).
5. Vatsya is the brahmana clan (gotra) to which Jagannatha Mishra belonged.
6. Which gods and sages descended together with the Lord is told in the next sarga.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 4. On the Descents

The Lord's companions as portions of the Lord, of gods and of sages; the story of Haridasa; the two kinds of avatara: the avatars of the ages and the avatars for a particular purpose

Verse 1

अथ श्रुत्वा तु तत्सर्वं श्रीदामोदरपण्डितः। उवाच परमप्रीतः कथ्यतां नृहरेः कथाम्॥१॥

*atha śrutvā tu tatsarvaṁ śrīdāmodarapaṇḍitaḥ|
uvāca paramaprītaḥ kathyatām nṛhareḥ kathām||1||*

Word for word: atha — then; shrutva — having heard; tu — indeed; tat — that; sarvam — all; shri-damodara-panditaḥ — Sri Damodara Pandita; uvacha — said; parama-pritah — greatly pleased; kathyatam — let be told; nrihareh — of Nrihari (the Lord); katham — the story.

1. Having heard all this, Sri Damodara Pandita, greatly pleased, said: "Tell us, then, the story of Nrihari¹.

Verse 2

के के तत्रावतारेषु स्ववतीर्णा महीतले। अवताराश्च कतिधा तान्वदस्वानुपूर्वशः॥२॥

*ke ke tatrāvatāreṣu svavatīrṇā mahītale|
avatārāśca katidhā tānvadasvānupūrvashah||2||*

Word for word: ke ke — who and who; tatra — there; avatareshu — in the descents; su-avatirnah — descended; mahi-tale — to the earth; avatarah — the descents; cha — and; katidha — of how many kinds; tan — them; vadasva — tell; anupurvashah — in order.

2. Who came down to the earth in these descents? And of how many kinds are the descents? Tell me of them in order."

Verse 3

इति श्रुत्वा द्विजाग्र्यस्य वचनं श्रीमुरारिकः। उवाच परमप्रीत्या श्रूयतामिति सादरम्॥३॥

*iti śrutvā dvijāgryasya vacanaṁ śrīmurārikaḥ|
uvāca paramaprītyā śrūyatāmiti sādaram||3||*

Word for word: iti — thus; shrutva — having heard; dvija-agryasya — of the foremost of the twice-born; vachanam — the words; shri-murarikah — Sri Murari; uvacha — said; parama-pritya — with great affection; shruyatam — listen; iti — thus; sa-adaram — respectfully.

3. Hearing these words of the foremost of the twice-born, Sri Murari answered with great affection and respect: "Listen!

Verse 4

अथ ते कथयाम्यन्यत्स्वांशावतरणं हरेः। शुद्धभक्ततया ख्यातान्भक्तानीश्वररूपिणः॥४॥

*atha te kathayāmyanyatsvāṁśāvatarāṇaṁ hareḥ|
śuddhabhaktatayā khyātānbhaktānīśvararūpiṇaḥ||4||*

Word for word: atha — now; te — to you; kathayami — I tell; anyat — another thing; sva-amsha-avataranam — the descent of the own portions; hareh — of Hari; shuddha-bhaktataya — as pure devotees; khyatan — renowned; bhaktan — the devotees; ishvara-rupinah — who are forms of the Lord.

4. Now I shall tell you of something else — of the descent of Hari's own portions, the devotees who are forms of the Lord, though renowned as pure devotees.

Verse 5

आदौ जातो द्विजश्रेष्ठः श्रीमाधवपुरी प्रभुः।

ईश्वरांशो द्विधा भूत्वा द्वैताचार्यश्च सद्गुणः॥५॥

19. In the Satya age meditation alone leads a man to the goal. For this purpose the White One descended, four-armed, with matted locks;

Verse 20

सहस्रचन्द्रसदृशः सदा ध्यानरतो मुनिः।

सर्वेषामेव जन्तूनां ध्यानाचार्यो बभूव ह॥२०॥

*sahasracandrasadrśaḥ sadā dhyānarato munih|
sarveṣāmeva jantūnām dhyānācāryo babhūva ha||20||*

Word for word: sahasra-chandra-sadrishah — like a thousand moons; sada — always; dhyana-ratah — absorbed in meditation; munih — a sage; sarvesham eva — of all; jantunam — living beings; dhyana-acharyah — the teacher of meditation; babhuva ha — became.

20. like a thousand moons, a sage always absorbed in meditation, He became the teacher of meditation for all living beings.

Verse 21

त्रेतायां यज्ञ एवैको धर्मः सर्वार्थसाधकः।

तत्र यज्ञः स्वयं जातः सुक्सुवादिसमन्वितः॥२१॥

*tretāyām yajña evaiko dharmah sarvārthasādhakah|
tatra yajñah svayam jātaḥ sruksruvādisamanvitaḥ||21||*

Word for word: tretayam — in the Treta age; yajnah — sacrifice; eva — alone; ekah — sole; dharmah — dharma; sarva-artha-sadhakah — accomplishing all aims; tatra — then; yajnah — Yajna; svayam — himself; jatah — was born; sruk-sruva-adi-samanvitaḥ — with sacrificial ladles and the rest.

21. In the Treta age the one dharma that achieves every aim is sacrifice. Then Yajna Himself was born, with the sacrificial ladles and the other implements.

Verse 22

यज्ञिकैर्ब्राह्मणैः सार्धं यज्ञभुक् स जनार्दनः।

यज्ञमेवाकरोज्जिष्णुर्जनान्सर्वानशिक्षयत्॥२२॥

*yājñikairbrāhmaṇaiḥ sārddham yajñabhuk sa janārdanaḥ|

24. Righteous, He Himself performed worship and instructed the people in it, and the minds of all turned to worship.

Verse 25

कलौ तु कीर्तनं श्रेयो धर्मः सर्वोपकारकः। सर्वशक्तिमयः साक्षात्परमानन्ददायकः॥२५॥

*kalau tu kīrtanam śreyo dharmah sarvopakārakah|
sarvaśaktimayah sākṣātparamānandadāyakah||25||*

Word for word: kalau tu — in Kali; kirtanam — kirtana; shreyah — the highest good; dharmah — the dharma; sarva-upakarakah — benefiting all; sarva-shakti-mayah — full of all powers; sakshat — directly; parama-ananda-dayakah — bestowing supreme bliss.

25. But in Kali the highest good is kirtana: the dharma that benefits all, full of every power, directly bestowing the highest bliss.

Verse 26

इति निश्चित्य मनसा साधूनां सुखमावहन्।
जातः स्वयं पृथिव्यां तु श्रीचैतन्यो महाप्रभुः॥२६॥

*iti niścitya manasā sādḥūnām sukhamāvahan|
jātaḥ svayam prṭhivyām tu śrīcāitanyo mahāprabhuḥ||26||*

26. Having resolved thus in His mind, Sri Chaitanya Mahaprabhu Himself was born on earth, bringing happiness to the saintly.

Verse 27

कीर्तनं कारयामास स्वयं चक्रे मुदान्वितः। युगावतारा एते वै कार्यार्थे चापरान् शृणु॥२७॥

kīrtanam kārāyāmāsa svayam cakre mudānvitah|
yugāvatārā ete vai kāryārthe cāparān śṛṇu||27||

Word for word: kirtanam — kirtana; karayam asa — caused to be performed; svayam — himself; chakre — performed; muda-anvitah — full of joy; yuga-avataarah — the avatars of the ages; ete — these; vai — indeed; karya-arthe — for a task; cha — and; aparān — of the others; shrinu — hear.

27. Full of joy, He Himself sang kirtana and moved others to sing it. These are the avatars of the ages.
Hear now of the others — those who descend for a particular task.

Verse 28

मात्स्ये तु वेदोद्धरणं कौर्मे मन्दारधारणम्। वाराहे धारणं भूमेर्नारसिंहे विदारणम्॥२८॥

mātsye tu vedoddharaṇam kaurme mandāradhāraṇam|
vārāhe dhāraṇam bhūmernārasinhe vidāraṇam||28||

Word for word: matsye — as the Fish; tu — indeed; veda-uddharanam — the rescue of the Vedas; kaurme — as the Tortoise; mandara-dharanam — the bearing of (Mount) Mandara; varahe — as the Boar; dharanam — the upholding; bhume — of the earth; narasimhe — as Narasimha; vidaranam — the tearing apart.

28. As the Fish — the rescue of the Vedas; as the Tortoise — the bearing of Mount Mandara; as the Boar — the lifting up of the earth; as Narasimha — the tearing apart (of Hiranyakashipu);

Verse 29

चक्रे दनुजराजस्य वामने भुवनश्रियम्।
जिग्ये तु भार्गवः क्षौणीं जित्वा राज्ञः सुदुर्मदान्॥२९॥

cakre danujarājasya vāmane bhuvanaśriyam|

29. as Vamana He took for Himself the sovereignty of the worlds from the king of the Danavas; and Bhargava⁶ conquered the earth, defeating the arrogant kings,

Verse 30

ददौ गां ब्राह्मणायैव विष्णुर्लोकैकतारणः। श्रीरामे रावणं हत्वा यशसापूरितं जगत्॥३०॥

dadau gām brāhmaṇāyaiva viṣṇurlokaikatāraṇaḥ|
śrīrāme rāvaṇam hatvā yaśasāpūritaṁ jagat||30||

Word for word: dadau — gave; gam — the earth; brahmanaya — to a brahmana; eva — indeed; vishnuh — Vishnu; loka-eka-taranah — the sole deliverer of the world; shri-rame — as Sri Rama; ravanam — Ravana; hatva — having slain; yashasa — with glory; apuritam — was filled; jagat — the world.

30. and Vishnu, the sole deliverer of the world, gave that earth to a brahmana. As Sri Rama He slew Ravana, and the world was filled with His glory.

Verse 31

श्रीमत्कृष्णावतारे तु भूमेर्भरावतारणम्।
स्वयमेव हरिस्तत्र सर्वशक्तिसमन्वितः॥३१॥

*śrīmatkṛṣṇāvatāre tu bhūmerbhārāvatāraṇam|
svayameva haristatra sarvaśaktisamanvitaḥ||31||*

Word for word: shrimat-krishna-avatare — in the descent of Sriman Krishna; tu — and; bhumeh — of the earth; bhara-avataranam — the removal of the burden; svayam eva — himself; harih — Hari; tatra — there; sarva-shakti-samanvitaḥ — endowed with all powers.

31. And in the descent of Sriman Krishna, Hari Himself, endowed with all powers, removed the burden of the earth.

Verse 32

बौद्धे तु मोहनं चक्रे वेदानां भगवान्परः।
म्लेच्छानां निधनं चैव कल्किरूपेण सोऽकरोत्॥३२॥

32. As the Buddha the Supreme Bhagavan bewildered (people) regarding the Vedas, and in the form of Kalki He destroyed the mlechchhas.

Verse 33

एवंविधान्यनेकानि कर्माणि बहुरूपिणः। कार्यावतारा नृहरेः कथिताः परमर्षिभिः॥३३॥

*evamvidhānyanekāni karmāṇi baturūpiṇaḥ|
kāryāvatārā nṛhareḥ kathitāḥ paramarṣibhiḥ||33||*

Word for word: evam-vidhani — of this kind; anekani — many; karmani — deeds; bahu-rupinah — of the many-formed; karya-avataarah — the avatars for a task; nrihareh — of Nrihari; kathitah — are described; parama-rshibhiḥ — by the great rishis.

33. Such are the many deeds of the many-formed Nrihari; these avatars who descend for a particular task have been described by the great rishis."

Thus ends the fourth sarga, "On the Descents" (Avataranukarana), of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Nrihari ("Man-Hari") is usually a name of Nrisimha; here, as in v. 33, it names the Lord in general.

2. The sense is that a single portion of the Lord appeared in two ways — as Madhavendra Puri and as Advaita Acharya.

3. The brahmana's account itself is not given in the poem; Murari relates only its substance (vv. 9–11). Possibly "Bitten by a Snake" (Nagadashta) is the brahmana's name.

4. According to tradition, Haridasa is a portion of Brahma, who appeared as a devotee to atone for an offence.

5. The avatara of the Dvapara age is usually named otherwise; here Murari Gupta names Prithu, the king who first established the order of worship.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 5. The Appearance of Sri Chaitanya

Shachi bears in her womb a portion of Hari; the hymn of the gods to Shachi; the Lord's birth on the full-moon night of Phalguna during a lunar eclipse; the prediction of Nilambara Chakravarti; the rites after the birth

Verse 1

शृणुष्ववहितं ब्रह्मन्चैतन्यस्यावतारकम्।
नवीनं जगदीशस्य करुणावारिधेर्विभोः॥१॥

29. He gave the brahmanas betel, sandal paste, garlands and fragrances, and in due order performed the auspicious rites beginning with the utthana, the rite of "rising"⁹.

Thus ends the fifth sarga, "The Appearance of Sri Chaitanya" (Sri Chaitanya-avirbhava), of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Narada, at whose entreaty the Lord agreed to descend (Sarga 1.03).
2. An allusion to the birth of Skanda: the seed of Shiva (Shambhu) was received by the Ganga.
3. The reading of the last word of the verse is uncertain; the translation is tentative.
4. The churning of the Milk Ocean by the gods and asuras, from which the nectar of immortality (amrita) was obtained.
5. Padma is one of the nine treasures (nidhi) of Kubera.
6. The Lord's birth coincided with a lunar eclipse; Rahu is the demon, "the enemy of the gods," who swallows the moon.
7. The "exalted position" (uccha) of a planet in astrology is the sign of its greatest strength.
8. The Vatsya is Jagannatha Mishra, of the Vatsya clan.
9. Probably the rite marking the end of the lying-in period; another understanding is possible — the child's first standing up.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 6. The Description of the Pastimes from Birth among the Childhood Plays

Vishvambhara's infancy: the naming, His form, childhood plays; the wandering brahmana; the broken pots; the teaching on pure and impure; the brick thrown at His mother; the two coconuts; the sound of ankle bells

Verse 1

ततः कालेन कियता जानुचंक्रमणं शिशोः। *śaṅkitā preṣayāmāsa patigehe tvarānvitā|

pūjitam pathi devaiśca śrīmadviśvambharaṁ harim||33||*

Word for word: shankita — frightened; preshayamasa — sent; pati-gehe — to her husband's room; tvarā-anvita — hastily; pujitam — worshipped; pathi — on the way; devaih — by the gods; cha — and; shrimad-vishvambharam — Sriman Vishvambhara; harim — Hari.

33. and in fear hastily sent Sriman Vishvambhara Hari to her husband's room; and on the way the gods worshipped Him⁹.

Verse 34

पथि प्रयातस्य सुतस्य पादयोः सुरिक्तयोर्नूपुरनिस्वनं मुहुः।
श्रुत्वा सशङ्कः किमिदं कुतः स्वनं वात्स्यः शचीं प्राह शची च वात्स्यम्॥३४॥

*pathi prayātasya sutasya pādayoḥ suriktayornūpuranisvanam muhuḥ|
śrutvā saśaṅkaḥ kimidaṁ kutaḥ svanaṁ vātsyaḥ śacīm prāha śacī ca vātsyam||34||*

Word for word: pathi — on the way; prayatasya — going; sutasya — of the son; padayoh — on the feet; su-riktayoh — quite bare (of ornaments); nupura-nisvanam — the jingling of ankle bells; muhuh — again and again; shrutva — hearing; sa-shankah — alarmed; kim — what; idam — this; kutah — whence; svanam — sound; vatsyah — the Vatsya; shachim — Shachi; praha — asked; shachi — Shachi; cha — and; vatsyam — the Vatsya.

34. As the son walked there, the jingling of ankle bells came again and again from His bare feet.

Hearing it, the alarmed Vatsya asked Shachi, and Shachi the Vatsya: "What is this? Where does this sound come from?"

Verse 35

गते समीपं तनयेऽतिविस्मितो दृष्ट्वा सुरिक्तं सुतपादपङ्कजम्।

कुतः श्रुतं नूपुरमञ्जुलस्वनं सुतं समालिङ्ग्य मुदं ययौ द्विजः॥३५॥

gate samīpaṁ tanaye'tivismito dṛṣṭvā suriktaṁ sutapādapaṅkajam|

kutaḥ śrutaṁ nūpuramañjulasvanaṁ sutam samāliṅgya mudam yayau dvijah||35||

Word for word: gate — when had come; samipam — near; tanaye — the son; ati-vismitah — greatly amazed; drishtva — seeing; su-riktam — quite bare; suta-pada-pankajam — the son's lotus feet; kutah — whence; shrutam — heard; nupura-manjula-svanam — the sweet jingling of ankle bells; sutam — the son; samalingya — embracing; mudam — joy; yayau — attained; dvijah — the brahmana.

35. When the son came near, the brahmana saw in great amazement that his son's lotus feet were quite bare. "Then where did the sweet jingling of ankle bells come from?" (he wondered) — and, embracing his son, he was filled with joy.

Thus ends the sixth sarga, "The Description of the Pastimes from Birth among the Childhood Plays" (Balya-krida: janmadi-lila-varnana), of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. "The king of the twice-born" (dvijaraja) is the moon; but "the twice-born" (dvija) are also the teeth: a play on words — the shining of His teeth in His smile.
2. Vishvambhara means "He who sustains the universe."
3. The earth, according to tradition, suffered in separation from Krishna's feet after His departure.
4. The story of the pilgrim brahmana whose food, offered to the Lord, was eaten by the infant Nimai; so too the infant Krishna once ate the food of a wandering brahmana in the house of Nanda.
5. An allusion to the Bhagavata Purana (10.9): Yashoda bound the child Krishna when He broke the pot of curd.
6. Dattatreya is an incarnation of the Lord, an avadhuta who made no distinction between pure and impure.
7. The end of the line is corrupt in the sources; the reading is tentative.
8. The Vatsa clan (gotra) is the clan of Jagannatha Mishra (cf. "the Vatsya").
9. The people Shachi saw in the house were evidently the gods, come to worship the Lord.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 7. The Childhood Plays

The story of Vishvarupa: his sannyasa and the parents' blessing; Vishvambhara's promise to serve his parents; His pranks and the dream of Jagannatha Mishra; Vishvambhara asks His mother not to eat on Ekadashi; the question of Damodara

इति श्रुत्वा हरेः पादपङ्कजध्याननिर्वृतः।

Word for word: shrimach-chhri-vishvarupah — Sriman Sri Vishvarupa; sakala-guna-nidhiḥ — a treasury of all virtues; shodasha-abdah — sixteen years old; ati-shuddhah — utterly pure; prapa — attained; acharyatvam — the rank of acharya; atma-shravana-mananataḥ — by hearing and reflecting on the Self; shakta-dhiḥ — of powerful intellect; prema-bhaktah — a devotee full of love; sarva-jnah — all-knowing; sarvada — always; asau — he; narahari-charana-asakta-chittah — with mind attached to the feet of Narahari; ati-hrishtah — very joyful; shantah — peaceful; santosha-yuktah — contented; jagati — to the world; na ratiman — not attached; veda-vetta — knower of the Vedas; rasa-jnah — knower of rasa.

4. Sriman Sri Vishvarupa, a treasury of every virtue, utterly pure, became an acharya at sixteen by hearing of the Self and reflecting upon it. Of powerful intellect, a devotee full of love, all-knowing, he was ever joyful, his heart clinging to the feet of Narahari; peaceful and content, unattached to the world, he knew the Vedas and knew rasa.

Verse 5

जनको विजने विचिन्त्य तत्तनयस्योद्वहनोचितां वधूम्।
मनसा परिचिन्तयन्स्वयं बुबुधे तत्सकलं द्विजात्मजः॥५॥

*janako vijane vicintya tattanayasyodvahanocitām vadhūm|
manasā paricintayansvayam bubudhe tatsakalam dvijātmaṇi||5||*

Word for word: janakah — the father; vijane — in private; vichintya — having considered; tat — that; tanayasya — of the son; udvahana-uchitam — fit for marriage; vadhūm — a bride; manasa — in his mind; parichintayan — pondering; svayam — himself; bubudhe — knew; tat — that; sakalam — all; dvija-atmajah — the brahmana's son.

5. In private the father was considering a suitable bride for his son; but the brahmana's son himself came to know all that he was pondering in his heart.

Verse 6

स विश्वरूपः पितुरित्थमन्तश्चेष्टां विदित्वा सकलं तितिक्षुः।
त्यक्त्वा गृहं स्वर्गनदीं प्रतीर्य जग्राह संन्यासमशक्यमन्यैः॥६॥

*sa viśvarūpaḥ pituriththamantaścheṣṭām viditvā sakalam titikṣuḥ|
tyaktvā grham svarganadīm pratīrya jagrāha saṁnyāsamaśakyamanyaiḥ||6||*

Word for word: sah — that; vishvarupah — Vishvarupa; pituh — of the father; ittham — thus; antah-cheshtam — the inner intention; viditva — knowing; sakalam — all; titikshuh — forbearing; tyaktva — leaving; griham — home; svarga-nadim — the heavenly river (Ganga); pratirya — crossing; jagraha — took; sanniyasa — sanniyasa; ashakyam — impossible; anyaih — for others.

6. Learning thus all his father's hidden intentions, the forbearing Vishvarupa left home, crossed the heavenly river and took sanniyasa, which others cannot attain.

Verse 7

ततः पिता तत्परिश्रुत्य विह्वलो माता च साध्वी विललाप दुःखिता।
तावाहतुः पुत्रहितौ सुतो मे संन्यासधर्मे निरतो भवत्विति॥७॥

*tataḥ pitā tatparishrutya vihvalo mātā ca sādhvī vilalāpa duḥkhitā|
tāvāhatuḥ putrahitau suto me saṁnyāsadharme nirato bhavatviti||7||*

Word for word: tatah — then; pita — the father; tat — that; parishrutya — hearing; vihvalah — overwhelmed; mata — the mother; cha — and; sadhvi — virtuous; vilalapa — lamented; duhkhitā — grieving; tau — the two; ahatuh — said; putra-hitau — wishing their son well; sutah — son; me — my; sanniyasa-dharme — in the dharma of sanniyasa; niratah — devoted; bhavatu — may he be; iti — thus.

7. When he heard of this, the father was overwhelmed, and the virtuous mother wept bitterly. But then both, wishing their son well, said: "May our son remain true to the dharma of sanniyasa!"

Verse 8

इत्याशिषस्तौ तनयाय दत्त्वा मुनिव्रतौ धैर्यमुवाहतुः स्म।
विषादमुत्सृज्य सुतं जगत्पतिं क्रोडे निधायाशु मुदं तदापतुः॥८॥

ityāśiṣastau tanayāya dattvā munivratau dhairyamuvāhatuḥ sma|
viṣādamutsrjya sutam jagatpatim kroḍe nidhāyāśu mudam tadāpatuḥ||8||

Word for word: iti — such; ashishah — blessings; tau — the two; tanayaya — to their son; dattva — giving; muni-vratau — observing the vow of sages (silence); dhairyam — fortitude; uvahatuḥ sma — maintained; vishadam — grief; utsrija — casting off; sutam — the son; jagat-patim — the Lord of the world; krode — on the lap; nidhaya — placing; ashu — at once; mudam — joy; tada — then; apatuh — attained.

8. Having given their son this blessing, both kept their fortitude like sages; casting off grief, they took their son — the Lord of the world — onto their laps and at once were filled with joy.

Verse 9

ततो हरिः प्राह पितर्गतो मे भ्राता भवन्तं परिहाय दूरम्।
मयैव कार्या भवतश्च सेवा मातुश्च नित्यं सुखमाप्नुहि त्वम्॥९॥

tato hariḥ prāha pitargato me bhrātā bhavantam parihāya dūram|
mayaiva kāryā bhavataśca sevā mātusḥca nityam sukhamāpnuhi tvam||9||

Word for word: tatah — then; hariḥ — Hari; praha — said; pitah — O father; gatah — has gone; me — my; bhrata — brother; bhavantam — you; parihaya — leaving; duram — far; maya — by me; eva — indeed; karya — will be done; bhavatah — to you; cha — and; seva — service; matuh — to the mother; cha — and; nityam — always; sukham — happiness; apnuhi — obtain; tvam — you.

9. Then Hari said: "Father, My brother has left you and gone far away. It is I who will serve you and mother — and may you always be happy."

Verse 10

इत्थं निशम्य स्वसुतस्य वाक्यमनल्पगम्भीरमनोज्ञमर्थवत्।
आलिङ्ग्य तं हर्षजनेत्रवारिभिरवाप मोदं जननी पिता च॥१०॥

ittham niśamya svasutasya vākyamanalpagambhīramanojñamarthavat|
āliṅgya taṁ harṣajanetravāribhiravāpa modam jananī pitā ca||10||

Word for word: ittham — thus; nishamya — hearing; sva-sutasya — of their son; vakyam — the speech; analpa-gambhira-manojnam — weighty, deep, charming; arthavat — meaningful; alingya — embracing; tam — him; harsha-ja-netra-varibhiḥ — with tears of joy in their eyes; avapa — attained; modam — delight; janani — the mother; pita — the father; cha — and.

10. Hearing such words from their son — weighty, deep, charming and full of meaning — the mother and father embraced Him and, with tears of joy in their eyes, were filled with delight.

Verse 11

तदङ्गसंस्पर्शरसाभितृप्तगात्राणि नार्द्रा विदुरञ्जसापरम्।
गताः स्वयोगेन यथा सुयोगिनः पश्यन्ति नेमं न परं च लोकम्॥११॥

tadaṅgasamsparśarasābhitṛptagātrāṇi nādrā vidurañjasāparam|
gatāḥ svayogena yathā suyoginaḥ paśyanti nemaṁ na paraṁ ca lokam||11||

Word for word: tat-anga-samsparsha-rasa-abhitripta-gatrani — (their) limbs sated with the sweetness of touching his body; na — not; ardrah — moist (with tears); viduh — knew; anjasa — at all; aparam — anything else; gatah — absorbed; sva-yogena — by their own yoga; yatha — as; su-yoginah — accomplished yogis; pashyanti — see; na — neither; imam — this; na — nor; param — the other; cha — and; lokam — world.

11. Their limbs were sated with the sweetness of His touch; bathed in tears, they knew nothing else — as accomplished yogis, absorbed in their own yoga, see neither this world nor the next.

Verse 12

पठन्पितुः सेवनयुक्तचेताः क्रीडापरो बालकसङ्गमध्ये।

क्रीडन्वयस्यैः किल धूलिधूसरो न वेद किञ्चित्क्षुधितोऽपि भोजनम्॥१२॥

paṭhanpituḥ sevanayuktacetāḥ krīḍāparo bālakaśaṅghamadhye|

krīḍanvayasaiḥ kila dhūlidhūsaro na veda kiñcitkṣudhito'pi bhojanam||12||

Word for word: pathan — studying; pituh — to his father; sevana-yukta-chetah — with mind engaged in service; krida-parah — intent on play; balaka-sangha-madhye — amid the band of boys; kridan — playing; vayasyaih — with companions; kila — indeed; dhuli-dhusarah — grey with dust; na veda — did not know (care for); kinchit — at all; kshudhitah — hungry; api — though; bhojanam — food.

12. He studied, serving His father with all His heart, yet He was also caught up in play among a band of boys: romping with His companions, grey with dust, even when hungry He forgot all about food.

Verse 13

कदाचिदालोक्य पिता स्वतन्त्रं संभर्त्सयामास सुतं हितार्थी।

पाठादिकं चैव विहाय सर्वं क्षुधार्दितः क्रीडसि बालकैर्वृतः॥१३॥

kadācidālokyā pitā svatantram sambhartsayāmāsa sutam hitārthī|

pāṭhādikaṁ caiva vihāya sarvaṁ kṣudhārditaḥ krīḍasi bālakaiḥvṛtaḥ||13||

Word for word: kadachit — once; alokyā — seeing; pita — the father; svatantram — self-willed; sambhartsayamasa — scolded; sutam — the son; hita-arthi — desiring his good; patha-adikam — study and the rest; cha eva — and; vihaya — abandoning; sarvam — all; kshudha-arditah — tormented by hunger; kridasi — you play; balakaih — by boys; vritah — surrounded.

13. Once, seeing his son so wilful, the father, wishing Him well, scolded Him: "You have thrown aside your lessons and everything else, and you play with the boys though you are hungry!"

Verse 14

ततो रजन्यां शयनावसाने स्वप्नेऽवदत्तं द्विजवर्यमुख्यः।

न किं सुतं त्वं बहुमन्यसे हि किं वा पशुः स्पर्शमणिं न वेत्ति॥१४॥

tato rajanyām śayanāvasāne svapne'vadattaṁ dvijavaryamukhyaḥ|

na kiṁ sutam tvam bahumanyase hi kiṁ vā paśuḥ sparśamaṇiṁ na veti||14||

Word for word: tatah — then; rajanyam — at night; shayana-avasane — at the end of sleep; svapne — in a dream; avadat — said; tam — to him; dvija-varya-mukhyah — the foremost of the best brahmanas; na kim — do not; sutam — the son; tvam — you; bahu-manyase — esteem highly; hi — indeed; kim va — or; pashuh — a beast; sparsha-manim — the touchstone; na veti — does not know.

14. Then at night, toward dawn, the foremost of the best brahmanas appeared to him in a dream and said: "Do you not value your son? Or are you like a beast that knows nothing of the worth of a touchstone?"

Verse 15

रत्नांशुकालङ्कृतदेहयष्टिः किं वा न चाश्नाति तदंशुकानि।

तमाह मिश्रो ह्यकुतोभयः स्वयं नारायणश्चेद्भवतीह पुत्रः॥१५॥

*ratnāṁśukālaṅkṛtadehayaṣṭiḥ kiṁ vā na cāśnāti tadāṁśukāni|

15. Deck a beast's body in jewelled silks — will it not chew those silks?"² Mishra fearlessly replied:
"Even if my son is Narayana Himself,

Verse 16

तथापि तत्ताडनमेव धर्म इत्युक्तो विप्रोऽपि तमाह साधु।

इत्येवमुक्त्वा प्रययौ द्विजाग्र्यो वात्स्यः प्रबुद्धः पुनराशशंस॥१६॥

*tathāpi tattāḍanameva dharma ityukto vipro'pi tamāha sādhu|
ityevamuktva prayayau dvijāgrya vātsyah prabuddhaḥ punarāśaśaṁsa||16||*

Word for word: tatha api — even so; tat-tadanam — punishing him; eva — indeed; dharmah — is duty; iti — thus; uktah — addressed; viprah — the brahmana; api — too; tam — to him; aha — said; sadhu — well (said); iti — thus; evam — so; uktva — having spoken; prayayau — departed; dvija-agryah — the foremost brahmana; vatsyah — the Vatsya; prabuddhah — awakening; punah — afterwards; ashashamsa — related (it).

16. still it is my duty to punish Him." To this the brahmana said: "Rightly spoken." With these words the foremost of brahmanas departed, and the Vatsya, waking, told (of the dream).

Verse 17

स्वप्नं निशम्याशु जनाः प्रहृष्टा विश्वम्भरं पुरुषवर्यसत्तमम्।

तं मेनिरे पूर्णमनोरथं मुदा मेने पिता स्वं जननी च तुष्टा॥१७॥

*svapnam niśamyāśu janāḥ prahrṣṭā viśvambharam puruṣavaryasattamam|

27. Is this the maya of the Lord of the world? Please explain it — for the deeds of Hari are done for the good of the world."

Thus ends the seventh sarga, "The Childhood Plays" (Balya-krida), of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Murari Gupta was a physician (vaidya) by caste and occupation.
2. The sense: you do not value your son, as a beast knows the worth neither of the touchstone nor of precious silk.
3. The lunar day of Hari is Ekadashi, the eleventh day of the lunar fortnight, a fast day.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 8. The Passing of Jagannatha Mishra

Murari's answer: the Lord enters the devotee's heart, and the devotee takes on His form (the examples of Prahlada, the gopis and Narada); Vishvambhara's studies; the illness and passing of Jagannatha Mishra on the bank of the Ganga; the funeral rites

इति श्रुत्वा वचस्तस्य चिन्तयित्वा विचार्य च।

23. As if downcast, loving His father, He performed with the accumulated wealth the sacrifice to the ancestors, and then in due order the holy rite of honouring the brahmanas, presenting them with land and other gifts⁸.

Verse 24

इति यो वदति प्रभोः पितुर्दिवसंस्थानमतन्द्रितो नरः।
लभते द्युनदीं हरेः पुरीं परिहायाशु मलं स गच्छति॥२४॥

*iti yo vadati prabhoh piturdivasamsthānamatandrito narah|
labhate dyunadīm hareḥ purīm parihāyāśu malam sa gacchati||24||*

Word for word: iti — thus; yah — who; vadati — tells; prabhoh — of the Lord; pituh — of the father; diva-samsthanam — the departure to heaven; atandritah — tirelessly; narah — a person; labhate — obtains; dyu-nadim — the heavenly river (Ganga); hareh — of Hari; purim — to the abode; parihaya — casting off; ashu — swiftly; malam — impurity; sah — he; gachchhati — goes.

24. Whoever tirelessly tells thus of the departure to heaven of the Lord's father will attain the heavenly river and, swiftly casting off impurity, will go to the abode of Hari."

Thus ends the eighth sarga, "The Passing of Jagannatha Mishra" (Jagannatha-mishra-samsiddhi), of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Prahlada, thrown into the ocean at Hiranyakashipu's command, became absorbed in meditation on the Lord and felt himself one with Him; on the shore he again became aware of his body.
2. The gopis, in separation from Krishna, imitated His pastimes, identifying themselves with Him.
3. The place where the demon Keshi was slain in Vrindavana is revered as holy (Keshi-ghat).
4. Rama is Ramachandra, the avatara of Vishnu; Shiva is His great worshipper.
5. The husband of Sarasvati (the goddess of learning) — the Lord as master of all knowledge.
6. Raghunatha ("Lord of the Raghus") is Ramachandra.
7. By poetic convention, pearls are born in the foreheads of elephants.
8. The sense of the word "dharadibhajanaih" is unclear; the translation is tentative.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 9. The Adhivasa before the Marriage to Lakshmi

Vishvambhara studies under the scholars of Navadvipa; He meets Vallabhacharya's daughter on her way to the Ganga; Vanamali Acharya's proposal: Shachi's refusal and consent; Vallabhacharya's consent; preparations for the wedding and the adhivasa rite

Verse 1

ततः पपाठ स पुनः श्रीमान् श्रीविष्णुपण्डितात्।
सुदर्शनात्पण्डिताच्च श्रीगङ्गादासपण्डितात्॥१॥

38. and everything was fragrant with the incense of deodar, aguru, ushira, sandal and other scents — and the best of brahmanas performed for Hari the pre-wedding rite of adhivasa⁵.

Thus ends the ninth sarga, "The Adhivasa before the Marriage to Sri Lakshmi" (Shri-lakshmy-udvahe adhivasa-prasanga), of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Vanga is the eastern part of Bengal; the family of Jagannatha Mishra came from there (from Shrihatta).
2. Vanamali Acharya, a brahmana of Navadvipa, took on the role of matchmaker.
3. Vallabhacharya's daughter is Lakshmipriya, Lakshmi herself, who appeared in order to become the Lord's consort.
4. A play on words: guna means both "thread" and "virtue."
5. The adhivasa is a rite of consecration on the eve of a wedding or other festival: the bridegroom is anointed with sandal paste, adorned with flowers and surrounded with incense.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 10. The Wedding

The adhivasa and the nandimukha shraddha; Vishvambhara's tears for His father and His consolation; the wedding procession to Vallabhacharya's house; the giving away of the bride; the Lord's return home with Lakshmi

Verse 1

ततो द्विजेभ्यः प्रददौ मुहुर्मुहुः पूगानि माल्यानि च गन्धवन्ति। सचन्दनं गन्धमनन्यसौरभं जनाश्च सर्वे जहृषुरजगुर्मुदा॥१॥

*tato dvijebhyah pradadau muhurmuḥuḥ pūgāni mālyāni ca gandhavanti|
sacandanam gandhamananyasaurabham janāśca sarve jahṛṣurjagurmudā||1||*

Word for word: tatah — then; dvijebhyah — to the brahmanas; pradadau — He gave; muhuh muhuh — again and again; pugani — betel nuts; malyani — garlands; cha — and; gandhavanti — fragrant; sa-chandanam — with sandal; gandham — perfume; ananya-saurabham — of incomparable fragrance; janah — the people; cha — and; sarve — all; jahrishuh — rejoiced; jaguh — sang; muda — with joy.

1. Then again and again He gave the brahmanas betel nuts, fragrant garlands and perfumes with sandal of incomparable fragrance; and all the people rejoiced and sang for joy.

Verse 2

स वल्लभोऽभ्येत्य सुमङ्गलैर्द्विजैर्नरैश्च भूदेवपतिव्रतादिभिः।

18. The Mishra came out to meet Him, himself led Him into his house and honoured Him as bridegroom: with water for His feet and the rest, with the finest perfumes, garments and garlands, and with incense of choice aguru.

Verse 19

बभौ वरः पूर्णनिशाकरप्रभो जितस्मरस्मेरमुखेन रोचिषा।
प्रतप्तचामीकररोचिषा लसत्सुमेरुशुद्धोज्ज्वलदेहयष्टिः॥१९॥

*babhau varah pūrṇaniśākaraprabho jitasmarasmeramukhena rociṣā|
prataptacāmīkararociṣā lasatsumeruśuddhojjvaladehayaṣṭiḥ||19||*

Word for word: babhau — shone; varah — the bridegroom; purna-nishakara-prabhah — radiant as the full moon; jita-smara-smera-mukhena — with a smiling face that surpassed Kama; rochisha — with splendour; pratapta-chamikara-rochisha — with the lustre of molten gold; lasat — gleaming; sumeru-shuddha-ujjala-deha-yashtih — His slender body pure and bright as Sumeru.

19. The bridegroom shone like the full moon: His smiling face outshone Kama, and His slender body, pure and bright as Sumeru, gleamed with the lustre of molten gold.

Verse 20

करद्वयेनाङ्गदकङ्कणाङ्गुरीविराजितेनाब्जतलाभिशोभिना।
अनल्पकल्पद्रुममाशु चक्रे समाश्रितानामभिलाषदो हरिः॥२०॥

*karadvayenāṅgadakaṅkaṅgūrīvirājitenābjatalābhiśobhinā|
analpakalpadrumamāśu cakre samāśritānāmabhilāṣado hariḥ||20||*

Word for word: kara-dvayena — with His two arms; angada-kankana-anguri-virajitena — glittering with armlets, bracelets and rings; abja-tala-abhishobhina — beautiful with lotus palms; analpa-kalpa-drumam — into a mighty wish-fulfilling tree; ashu — at once; chakre — made (Himself); samashritanam — of those who take shelter; abhilasha-dah — the giver of desires; harih — Hari.

20. His arms glittered with armlets, bracelets and rings, His palms were lovely as lotuses — and Hari, who grants the desires of all who take shelter of Him, at once became like a mighty wish-fulfilling tree.

Verse 21

सुतां समानीय निशाकरप्रभां प्रभाविनिध्वस्ततमःसमग्राम्।
स्वलङ्कृतां साधु ददौ जगद्गुरोः पादे विरेजेऽथ तयोरभिक्ष्या॥२१॥

*sutām samānīya niśākaraṣṭhāṁ prabhāvinidhvastatamaḥsamagrām|
svalaṅkṛtām sādhu dadau jagadguroḥ pāde vireje'tha tayorabhikhyā||21||*

Word for word: sutam — his daughter; samaniya — bringing; nishakara-prabham — radiant as the moon; prabha-vinidhvasta-tamah-samagram — who dispelled all darkness by her radiance; su-alankritam — beautifully adorned; sadhu — duly; dadau — he gave; jagat-guroh — of the Teacher of the world; pade — at the feet; vireje — shone forth; atha — then; tayoh — of the two; abhikhyā — the beauty.

21. Vallabha brought his daughter, beautifully adorned and radiant as the moon — her radiance dispelled all darkness — and duly gave her at the feet of the Teacher of the world. And then the beauty of the two shone forth.

Verse 22

तयोर्मुखेन्दुः समरोज्ज्वलश्रिया सरोहिणीचन्द्रसमः सुशोभाम्।
पुपोषतुः पुष्पचयैरसिञ्चतां परस्परं तौ हरपार्वतीव॥२२॥

*tayormukhenduh samarojjvalaśriyā sarohiṇīcandrasamaḥ suśobhām|
pupoṣatuḥ puṣpacayairasiñcatām parasparam tau harapārvatīva||22||*

Word for word: tayoh — of the two; mukha-induh — the moon of the face; samara-ujjala-shriya — with beauty blazing as if in contest; sa-rohini-chandra-samah — like the moon with Rohini; su-shobham — loveliness; puposhatuh — the two increased; pushpa-chayaih — with handfuls of flowers; asinchatam — showered; parasparam — each other; tau — the two; hara-parvati — Hara and Parvati; iva — like.

22. Their moon-like faces, blazing with beauty as if in contest, were like the moon with Rohini⁵; they heightened each other's loveliness and, like Hara and Parvati, showered each other with handfuls of flowers.

Verse 23

अथोपविष्टे कमलाधिनाथे लक्ष्मीश्च तत्रोपविवेश ह्रीयुता।

पुरस्ततोऽभ्येत्य शुचिः समाविशद्दातुं स कन्यां विधिना विधानवित्॥२३॥

*athopaviṣṭe kamalādhināthe lakṣmīśca tatropaviveśa hrīyutā|
purastato'bhyetya śuciḥ samāviśaddātum sa kanyāṁ vidhinā vidhānavit||23||*

Word for word: atha — then; upavishte — when He was seated; kamala-adhinathe — the Lord of Kamala; lakshmiḥ — Lakshmi; cha — and; tatra — there; upavivesha — sat down; hri-yuta — shyly; purah — in front; tatah — then; abhyetya — approaching; shuchih — pure; samavishat — sat down; datum — to give; sah — he; kanyam — his daughter; vidhina — according to rule; vidhana-vit — the knower of rites.

23. When the Lord of Kamala had taken His seat, Lakshmi too sat down there shyly. Then the pure Vallabha, versed in the rites, came forward and sat before them to give away his daughter according to rule.

Verse 24

यस्याङ्घ्रिपद्मे विनिवेद्य पाद्यं प्रजापतिः प्राप जगत्सिसृक्षाम्।

तत्रैव पाद्यं विदधे स वल्लभो नखद्युतिध्वस्ततमःसमूहे॥२४॥

*yasyāṅghripadme vinivedya pādyam prajāpatiḥ prāpa jagatsisṛkṣām|
tatraiva pādyam vidadhe sa vallabho nakhadyutidhvastatamaḥsamūhe||24||*

Word for word: yasya — whose; anghri-padme — to the lotus feet; vinivedya — having offered; padyam — water for the feet; prajāpatiḥ — Prajapati; prapa — obtained; jagat-sisriksham — the will to create the world; tatra eva — to those very (feet); padyam — water for the feet; vidadhe — offered; sah — that; vallabhah — Vallabha; nakha-dyuti-dhvasta-tamah-samuhe — which dispel the mass of darkness with the radiance of their nails.

24. By offering water to His lotus feet Prajapati once obtained the power to create the world⁶; and to those very feet, whose shining nails dispel the darkness, Vallabha offered water for washing.

Verse 25

यस्मै महेन्द्रोऽधिपृषासनं ददौ सरत्नसिंहासनकम्बलावृतम्।

तस्मै स कौशेयसुविष्टरासनं ददौ निपीतं वरपीतवाससे॥२५॥

*yasmai mahendro'dhīrpāsanam dadau saratnasimhāsanakambalāvṛtam|
tasmai sa kauśeyasuviṣṭarāsanam dadau nipītam varapītavāsase||25||*

Word for word: yasmai — to whom; maha-indrah — great Indra; adhinripa-asanam — a royal throne; dadau — gave; sa-ratna-simhasana-kambala-avritam — spread with a jewelled lion-seat and a rug; tasmai — to Him; sah — he; kausheya-su-vishtara-asanam — a fine silken seat; dadau — gave; nipitam — drinking (Him) in (with his eyes); vara-pita-vasase — clad in excellent yellow garments.

25. To Him to whom great Indra yielded his royal throne — a jewelled lion-seat spread with a rug⁷ — to Him, clad in the finest yellow garments, Vallabha, drinking Him in with his eyes, offered a fine silken seat.

Verse 26

क्रमेण सोऽर्घ्यादिकमेव कर्म विधानतो हर्षतनूरुहोद्गमैः।

कृत्वा कृतज्ञः प्रददौ हरेः करे कन्यां समुत्सृज्य सरोजलोचनाम्॥२६॥

krameṇa so'rghyādikameva karma vidhānato harṣatanūruhodgamaiḥ|
kṛtvā kṛtajñah pradadau hareḥ kare kanyāṁ samutsrjya sarojalocanām||26||

Word for word: kramena — in due order; sah — he; arghya-adikam — beginning with arghya; eva — indeed; karma — the rites; vidhanatah — according to the rules; harsha-tanuruha-udgamaiḥ — with his hair bristling with joy; kṛtvā — having performed; kṛta-jñah — grateful; pradadau — gave; hareḥ — of Hari; kare — into the hand; kanyam — his daughter; samutsrjya — formally relinquishing; saroja-lochanam — lotus-eyed.

26. Having performed in due order and according to rule the rites beginning with the offering of arghya — the hair on his body bristling with joy — the grateful Vallabha formally gave away his lotus-eyed daughter, placing her hand in Hari's.

Verse 27

ततो निवृत्तेऽतिमहोत्सवे शुभे लक्ष्मीं समादाय निजां पुरीं ययौ।

विश्वम्भरो विश्वभरार्तिहा विभुर्मुष्ययानैर्मुजाभिनन्दितः॥२७॥

tato nivṛtte'atimahotsave śubhe lakṣmīm samādāya nijāṁ purīm yayau|
viśvambharo viśvabharārtihā vibhurmuṣyayānairmanujābhinanditah||27||

Word for word: tatah — then; nivritte — when was over; ati-maha-utsave — the very great festival; shubhe — auspicious; lakshmim — Lakshmi; samadaya — taking; nijam — to His own; purim — home; yayau — went; vishvambharah — Vishvambhara; vishvabhara-arti-ha — who removes the affliction of the Earth; vibhuh — the Almighty; manushya-yanaih — in palanquins; manuja-abhinanditah — hailed by the people.

27. When the great and auspicious festival was over, the almighty Vishvambhara, who relieves the Earth of her affliction⁸, took Lakshmi and, hailed by the people, went home in a palanquin.

Thus ends the tenth sarga, "The Wedding" (Vaivahika), of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. The nandimukha shraddha is a rite honouring the ancestors, performed before a joyful event such as a wedding.

2. That is, the ulu-dhvani, the joyful ululation of women customary at Bengali festivals.

3. Literally "father," an affectionate way of addressing a son in Bengal.

4. A comparison with Shiva's wedding procession to the house of Himavat, the father of Parvati (cf. v. 22).

5. Rohini is the constellation who is the favourite wife of the Moon god.

6. Prajapati is Brahma: he was able to create the world by the grace of the Lord, whom he worshipped.

7. Indra (Mahendra), king of the gods, honours the Lord as his master.

8. A play on words: Vishvambhara ("He who sustains the universe") relieves the affliction of Vishvabhara ("the All-bearing," the Earth).

Prakrama 1, Sarga 11. The Festival of Sri Lakshmi's Departure

Lakshmi enters Shachi's house; the Lord's journey to East Bengal and the people's wonder; His stay on the bank of the Padmavati; Lakshmi's service to her mother-in-law; the snakebite and Lakshmi's departure in the waters of the Ganga

Verse 1

ततः शची द्विजस्त्रीभिः कृत्वा सुमहदुत्सवम्। स्नुषां प्रवेशयामास निजगेहे सभर्तुकाम्॥१॥

*tataḥ śacī dvijastrībhiḥ kṛtvā sumahadutsavam|
snuṣāṁ praveśayāmāsa nijagehe sabhartṛkāṁ||1||*

Word for word: tatah — then; shachi — Shachi; dvija-stribhih — with the brahmanas' wives; kritva — having held; su-mahat — a very great; utsavam — festival; snusham — her daughter-in-law; praveshayam asa — led in; nija-gehe — into her house; sa-bhartrikam — together with her husband.

1. Then Shachi, together with the wives of the brahmanas, held a great festival and led her daughter-in-law, with her husband, into her house.

Verse 2

ब्राह्मणेभ्यो ददावन्नं गन्धं माल्यं सभक्तितः।
अन्येभ्यः शिल्पिमुख्येभ्यो नटेभ्यः प्रददौ धनम्॥२॥

3. And the Lord lived happily in that auspicious house with His family, shining like the moon among the stars in a clear sky.

Verse 4

लक्ष्मीनारायणदृष्टिमात्रे सर्वशुभानि हि। आजग्मुः श्रीशचीगेहे स्वभाग्यख्यापनाय च॥४॥

*lakṣmīnārāyaṇadr̥ṣṭimātre sarvaśubhāni hi|
ājagmuḥ śrīśacīgehe svabhāgyakhyāpanāya ca||4||*

Word for word: lakshmi-narayana-drishhti-matre — at the mere glance of Lakshmi and Narayana; sarva-shubhani — all blessings; hi — indeed; ajagmuḥ — came; shri-shachi-gehe — to the house of Sri Shachi; sva-bhagya-khyapanaya — to proclaim their own good fortune; cha — and.

4. At a mere glance from Lakshmi and Narayana all blessings came of themselves to the house of Sri Shachi — as if to proclaim their own good fortune.

Verse 5

ततो गृहाश्रमे स्थित्वा धनार्थं प्रययौ दिशि।
पूर्वस्यां सज्जनैः सार्धं देशान्कुर्वन्सुनिर्मलान्॥५॥

tato grhāśrame sthitvā dhanārtham prayayau diśi|
pūrvasyām sajjanaiḥ sārddham deśāṅkurvansunirmalān||5||

Word for word: tatah — then; griha-ashrame — in household life; sthitva — being settled; dhana-artham — for the sake of wealth; prayayau — set out; dishi — in the direction; purvasyam — eastern; sajjanaiḥ — with good companions; sardham — together; deshan — the lands; kurvan — making; su-nirmalan — utterly pure.

5. Once settled in household life, He set out for the east with good companions to earn wealth, purifying those lands as He went.

Verse 6

यं यं देशं ययौ जिष्णू राकापतिनिभाननः।
तत्र तत्रैव तत्रस्था जना दृष्ट्वा मुदान्विताः॥६॥

yam yam deśam yayau jiṣṇū rākāpatinibhānanaḥ|
tatra tatraiva tatrasthā janā dṛṣṭvā mudānvitāḥ||6||

Word for word: yam yam — whatever; deshah — land; yayau — He went to; jishnuh — the Victorious; raka-pati-nibha-ananah — whose face was like the full moon; tatra tatra eva — in each and every place; tatra-sthah — dwelling there; janah — the people; drishtva — seeing (Him); muda-anvitah — were filled with joy.

6. Whatever land the Victorious One came to, He whose face was like the full moon, everywhere the people who lived there were filled with joy at the sight of Him.

Verse 7

पश्यन्तो वदनं तस्य तृप्तिवारिधिपारगाः।
न बभूवुः स्त्रियश्चोचुः कस्यायं शुद्धदर्शनः॥७॥

Word for word: iti — such; sudha-vachasa — by nectar-like words; mudita — gladdened; shachi — Shachi; vara-vadhu-smṛiti-sanna-gira — in a voice failing at the memory of the excellent bride; avadat — told; sakalam — the whole; eva — indeed; vadhu-kathanam — story of the bride; hrida — from her heart; parigalat-nayana-ambuja-bindubhih — with drops falling from her lotus eyes.

11. Gladdened by these nectar-like words, Shachi, in a voice that failed at the memory of her excellent daughter-in-law, told Him from her heart the whole story, while drops rolled from her lotus eyes.

Verse 12

आशु चार्द्रदृशापि चाम्बिकायाः शोकहर्षपरिपूरितदेहः।

इति निशम्य वचो मधुसूदनः समवदत्करुणार्द्रदृशाम्बिकाम्॥१२॥

*āśu cārdradṛśāpi cāmbikāyāḥ śokaharṣaparipūritadehaḥ|
iti niśamya vaco madhusūdanaḥ samavadatkaruṇārdradṛśāmbikām||12||*

Word for word: ashu — at once; cha — and; ardra-drisha — with moistened eyes; api — also; cha — and; ambikayah — at (the words) of His mother; shoka-harsha-paripurita-dehah — His body filled with grief and joy; iti — such; nishamya — having heard; vachah — words; madhu-sudanah — Madhusudana; samavadat — spoke; karuna-ardra-drisha — with eyes moist with compassion; ambikam — to His mother.

12. At once His eyes grew moist and His body was filled with both grief and joy¹. Having heard these words, Madhusudana answered His mother, looking at her with eyes moist with compassion.

Verse 13

आत्मगोपनबलैर्वचनैस्तद्गोपयन्ति सकलं जगदीशः।

शृणु यथेयमवातरदप्सरा सुरवधूः पृथिवीमनु साम्प्रतम्॥१३॥

*ātmagopanabalairvacanaistadgopayanhi sakalam jagadīśaḥ|
śṛṇu yatheyamavātaradapsarā suravadhūḥ pṛthivīmanu sāmpratam||13||*

Word for word: atma-gopana-balaih — strong in concealing Himself; vachanaih — with words; tat — that; gopayan — concealing; hi — indeed; sakalam — everything; jagat-ishah — the Lord of the world; shrinu — hear; yatha — how; iyam — this; avatarat — descended; apsara — apsara; sura-vadhuh — a heavenly maiden; prithivim anu — to the earth; sampratam — now.

13. Concealing everything with words strong to hide His own self, the Lord of the world said: "Listen to how this apsara, a heavenly maiden, recently came down to earth.

Verse 14

मघवतः सदसीन्दुनिभाननां स्खलितनृत्यपदां विधिना क्षणम्।

समवलोक्य शशाप सुरेश्वरो भव नरस्य सुतेत्यवधार्य तत्॥१४॥

*maghavataḥ sadasīndunibhānanāṃ skhalitanṛtyapadāṃ vidhinā kṣaṇam|
samavalokya śaśāpa sureśvaro bhava narasya sutetyavadhārya tat||14||*

Word for word: maghavatah — of Maghavan (Indra); sadasi — in the assembly; indu-nibha-ananam — the moon-faced one; skhalita-nritya-padam — whose dance step faltered; vidhina — by fate; kshanam — for a moment; samavalokya — seeing; shashapa — cursed; sura-ishvarah — the lord of the gods; bhava — become; narasya — of a man; suta — the daughter; iti — thus; avadharya — having considered; tat — that.

14. Once, in the assembly of Maghavan², the moon-faced apsara by the will of fate faltered for a moment in her dance step. Seeing this and having considered it, the lord of the gods cursed her: 'Become the daughter of a man!'

Verse 15

समपतत्पदयोरिति तां पुनः सकलनाथवधूर्भव शोभने।

पुनरिहाभिमुखं सुरदुर्लभं समनुभूय हरेः पदमुज्ज्वलम्॥१५॥

*samapatatpadayoriti tām punaḥ sakalanāthavadhūrbhava śobhane|
punarihābhimukhaṁ suradurlabhaṁ samanubhūya hareḥ padamujjvalam||15||*

Word for word: samapatat — she fell; padayoh — at his feet; iti — then; tam — to her; punah — again; sakala-natha-vadhuh — the wife of the Lord of all; bhava — become; shobhane — O lovely one; punah — again; iha — here; abhimukham — back; sura-durlabham — hard for the gods to attain; samanubhuya — having experienced; hareh — of Hari; padam — the feet; ujvalam — radiant.

15. Then she fell at his feet, and he said to her: 'Become the wife of the Lord of all, O lovely one!
Having known the radiant feet of Hari, which even the gods can hardly attain, you will come back here again —

Verse 16

बत गमिष्यसि गच्छ सुशोभने सुरपतेर्वचसातिमुमोद सा।
सुरनदीसलिले परिमुच्य तं त्रिदशशापजपापमथागमत्॥१६॥

*bata gamiṣyasi gaccha suśobhane surapatervacasātimumoda sā|
suranadīsalile parimucya taṁ tridaśāśāpajapāpamathāgamat||16||*

Word for word: bata — ah; gamishyasi — you will return; gachchha — go; su-shobhane — O most lovely one; sura-pateh — of the lord of the gods; vachasa — at the words; ati-mumoda — rejoiced greatly; sa — she; sura-nadi-salile — in the waters of the river of the gods; parimuchya — casting off; tam — that; tridasha-shapa-ja-papam — sin born of the gods' curse; atha — now; agamat — she has gone.

16. ah, you will return! Go, most lovely one!' The words of the lord of the gods filled her with joy. And now, in the waters of the river of the gods, she has cast off the sin born of the curse of the lord of the gods, and has gone.

Verse 17

किंवा लक्ष्मीरूपा जगदीश्वरी निजप्रभुचरणाब्जमगात्स्वयम्।
तदलमेव शुचा भवितव्यता भवति कालकृतं सकलं जगत्॥१७॥

*kimvā lakṣmīrūpā jagadīśvarī nijaprabhucaraṇābjamagātsvayam|
tadalameva śucā bhavitavyatā bhavati kālakṛtaṁ sakalaṁ jagat||17||*

Word for word: kimva — or else; lakshmi-rupa — in the form of Lakshmi; jagat-ishvari — the Mistress of the world; nija-prabhu-charana-abjam — to the lotus feet of her Lord; agat — went; svayam — herself; tat — therefore; alam — enough; eva — indeed; shucha — of grief; bhavitavyata — what must be; bhavati — comes to pass; kala-kritam — wrought by Time; sakalam — the whole; jagat — world.

17. Or else it was the Mistress of the world herself, in the form of Lakshmi, who went to the lotus feet of her Lord³. So enough of grief: what must be comes to pass — the whole world is wrought by Time."

Verse 18

इति निशम्य शची सुतस्य तद्वचनमिन्दुमुखस्य शुचं जहौ। प्रकटवैभवगोपनकारणं मनुजभावधरस्य हरेस्ततः॥१८॥

*iti niśamya śacī sutasya tadvacanamindumukhasya śucaṁ jahau|
prakaṭavaibhavagopanakāraṇaṁ manujabhāvadharasya harestatatḥ||18||*

Word for word: iti — thus; nishamya — hearing; shachi — Shachi; sutasya — of her son; tat — those; vachanam — words; indu-mukhasya — moon-faced; shucham — grief; jahau — gave up; prakata-vaibhava-gopana-karanam — the means of concealing His manifest glory; manuja-bhava-dharasya — who had assumed human nature; hareh — of Hari; tatah — such (it was).

18. Hearing these words of her moon-faced son, Shachi gave up her grief. Thus did Hari, having taken on a human nature, conceal His manifest glory.

Verse 19

न खलु चित्रमिदं भगवान्स्वयं सुरकथावचनं कृतवान्हि यत्।
यदनुभावरसेन पितामहः सृजति हन्ति जगत्त्रयमीश्वरः॥१९॥

*na khalu citramidaṁ bhagavānsvayaṁ surakathāvacanaṁ kṛtavānhi yat|
yadanubhāvarasena pitāmahaḥ sṛjati hanti jagattrayamīśvaraḥ||19||*

Word for word: na — not; khalu — at all; chitram — strange; idam — this; bhagavan — Bhagavan; svayam — Himself; sura-katha-vachanam — a story of the gods; kritavan — told; hi — indeed; yat — that; yat-anubhava-rasena — by the power of whose might; pitamahah — the Grandsire (Brahma); srijati — creates; hanti — destroys; jagat-trayam — the three worlds; ishvarah — Ishvara (Shiva).

19. And it is no wonder at all that Bhagavan Himself told a story of the gods — He by the power of whose might the Grandsire creates and Ishvara destroys the three worlds⁴.

Thus ends the twelfth sarga, "The Removal of Sri Shachi's Grief; Lakshmi's Departure to Heaven" (Shri-shachi-shoka-apanodana, Lakshmi-svarga-gamana), of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. The beginning of the verse is corrupt in all witnesses; the translation is conjectural.
2. Maghavan is Indra, king of the gods.
3. First the Lord tells the "concealing" story of the apsara (v. 13), and then hints at the truth: His consort is Lakshmi herself.
4. The Grandsire is Brahma; Ishvara is Shiva.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 13. The Marriage of Sri Vishnupriya: The Consolation of Sri Sanatana

Shachi seeks the daughter of Sanatana Mishra as a bride for her son; the betrothal and the preparations; the Lord pretends to know nothing of the wedding, and the grieved Sanatana and his wife resign themselves; the Lord removes their sorrow

Verse 1

अथावसद्गृहे रम्ये मात्रा सज्जनबन्धुभिः। मुमोद च सुरैः सार्धं यथादित्या पुरन्दरः॥१॥

*athāvasadgr̥he ramye mātṛā sajjanabandhubhiḥ|
mumoda ca suraiḥ sārḍham yathādityā purandaraḥ||1||*

Word for word: atha — then; avasat — He lived; grihe — in the house; ramye — charming; matra — with His mother; sajjana-bandhubhih — with good people and kinsmen; mumoda — rejoiced; cha — and; suraih — the gods; sardham — together with; yatha — as; aditya — with Aditi; purandarah — Purandara (Indra).

1. Then the Lord lived in His charming home with His mother, with good people and kinsmen, and rejoiced like Purandara¹ with Aditi among the gods.

Verse 2

ततः शची चिन्तयित्वा विवाहार्थं सुतस्य सा।

Verse 29

ततः स आसने शुभ्रे शुद्धास्तरणसंयुते। उपविष्टो महाबाहुर्हरिः सा च शुभा वधूः॥२९॥

*tataḥ sa āsane śubhre śuddhāstaraṇasaṃyute|
upaviṣṭo mahābāhurhariḥ sā ca śubhā vadhūḥ||29||*

Word for word: tatah — then; sah — He; asane — on a seat; shubhre — bright; shuddha-astarana-samyute — spread with a clean cloth; upavishtah — sat; maha-bahuh — mighty-armed; harih — Hari; sa — she; cha — and; shubha — lovely; vadhuh — bride.

29. Then mighty-armed Hari sat on a bright seat spread with a clean cloth, and beside Him the lovely bride,

Verse 30

द्वावत्यां यथा कृष्णो रुक्मिणी रुचिरानना। ववृधेऽथानयोः कान्ती रोहिणीशशिनोरिव॥३०॥

*dvāravatyāṃ yathā kṛṣṇo rukmiṇī rucirānanā|
vavṛdhe'thānayoḥ kāntī rohiṇīśaśinoriva||30||*

Word for word: dvaravatyam — in Dvaravati (Dvaraka); yatha — as; krishnah — Krishna; rukmini — Rukmini; ruchira-anana — of lovely face; vavridhe — grew; atha — and; anayoh — of the two; kanti — the radiance; rohini-shashinoh — of Rohini and the moon; iva — like.

30. like Krishna in Dvaravati with fair-faced Rukmini, and their radiance grew like that of the moon and Rohini⁶.

Verse 31

आगत्य विधिवत्कन्यामुत्सृज्य करपङ्कजे। दत्त्वा कृतार्थमात्मानं मेने स श्रीसनातनः॥३१॥

*āgatya vidhivatkanyāmutṣṛjya karapaṅkaje|
dattvā kṛtārthamātmānaṁ mene sa śrīsanātanah||31||*

Word for word: agatya — approaching; vidhivat — according to the rite; kanyam — his daughter; utsrijya — giving away; kara-pankaje — into the lotus hand; dattva — having given; krita-artham — fulfilled; atmanam — himself; mene — considered; sah — he; shri-sanatanah — Sri Sanatana.

31. Sri Sanatana came forward, gave his daughter's hand into the lotus hand (of the Lord) according to the rite, and, having given her away, considered his life fulfilled.

Verse 32

ततो विवाहे निर्वृत्ते कृत्वा च सुमहोत्सवम्। आजगाम निजं गेहं सभार्यो जगतां गुरुः॥३२॥

*tato vivāhe nirvṛtte kṛtvā ca sumahotsavam|
ājagāma nijam geham sabhāryo jagatām guruḥ||32||*

Word for word: tatah — then; vivahe nirvritte — when the wedding was complete; kritva — having held; cha — and; su-maha-utsavam — a very great festival; ajagama — came; nijam — to His own; geham — house; sa-bharyah — with His wife; jagatam — of the worlds; guruh — the Teacher.

32. When the wedding was complete and a great festival had been held, the Teacher of the worlds returned with His wife to His own house.

Verse 33

दृष्ट्वा तु तं क्षितिसुरैरभिनन्द्यमानं
वध्वा समं सपदि गेहमुपागतं सा।
गेहप्रवेशनविधिं मुदिता चकार साध्वीभिर्बन्धुरमुखी जननी मुरारेः॥३३॥

*drṣṭvā tu taṁ kṣitisurairabhinandyamānaṁ
vadhvā samam sapadi gehamupāgataṁ sā| gehapraveśanavidhiṁ muditā cakāra sādhvībhirbandhuramukhī jananī murāreḥ||33||*

Word for word: drishtva — seeing; tu — and; tam — Him; kshiti-suraih — by the gods on earth (brahmanas); abhinandyamanam — being greeted; vadhva samam — together with the bride; sapadi — soon; geham — to the house; upagatam — come; sa — she; geha-praveshana-vidhim — the rite of entering the house; mudita — joyful; chakara — performed; sadhvibhih — with virtuous women; bandhura-mukhi — lovely-faced; janani — the mother; murareh — of Murari (Krishna).

33. Seeing Him soon arrive home with the bride, greeted by the gods on earth⁷, the lovely-faced mother of Murari⁸ joyfully performed, with the virtuous women, the rite of entering the house.

Thus ends the fourteenth sarga, "The Marriage of Sri Vishnupriya" (Shri-vishnupriya-vivaha), of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. The lagna is the zodiacal sign rising at the moment of the rite; a nakshatra is a lunar asterism. Their favourable conjunction with the moon determines the time of the wedding.
2. Betel (tambula): betel leaves with areca nut and spices, offered to guests.
3. The nandimukha are forefathers honoured with a special rite (nandimukha shraddha) before a wedding and other joyful occasions.
4. Literally, "with a gracious face."
5. Nirmanchhana: the rite of waving lamps and other auspicious things around the bridegroom to ward off the evil eye.
6. Rohini is the nakshatra who is the favourite consort of the moon-god.
7. The gods on earth are the brahmanas.
8. Murari ("Enemy of Mura") is Krishna; here, Gauranga.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 15. The Meeting with Srimad Ishvara Puri

The Lord lives at home, teaching and gladdening His mother and wife; the journey to Gaya for His father's rite; a fever cured by the water from brahmanas' feet; the meeting with Ishvara Puri and initiation into the mantra

Verse 1

ततः पुरस्थैरभिनन्दितो हरि- र्वसन्नृहे ब्राह्मणवैद्यसज्जनान्।
अपाठयल्लौकिकसत्क्रियाविधिं चकार कारुण्यविधानमद्भुतम्॥१॥

tataḥ purasthairabhinandito hari-rvasaṅgrhe brāhmaṇavaidyasajjanān| apāṭhayallaukikasatkriyāvidhiṁ
cakāra kārūṇyavidhānamadbhutam||1||

Word for word: tatah — then; pura-sthaih — by the townspeople; abhinanditah — greeted; harih — Hari; vasan — living; grihe — at home; brahmana-vaidya-sajjanan — brahmanas, vaidyas and good people; apathayat — taught; laukika-sat-kriya-vidhim — the rules of good worldly rites; chakara — observed; karunya-vidhanam — a work of mercy; adbhutam — wondrous.

1. Then Hari, greeted by the townspeople, lived at home: He taught brahmanas, vaidyas¹ and good people and observed the rules of good worldly rites — and this was a wondrous work of His mercy.

Verse 2

वाचस्पतेर्वाग्मितया जहार
काव्यस्य काव्येन विधोः श्रियं सः।
कान्त्या स्वयं भूमिगते सुरेशे न्यस्तां पुनस्तां हरये ददुः किम्॥२॥ vācaspatervāgmitayā jahāra

kāvyasya kāvyena vidhoḥ śriyaṁ saḥ| kāntyā svayaṁ bhūmigate sureśe
nyastāṁ punastāṁ haraye daduḥ kim||2||

Word for word: vachaspateh — of Vachaspati (Brihaspati); vagmitaya — by eloquence; jahara — took away; kavyasya — of Kavya (Shukra); kavyena — by poetry; vidhoh — of the moon; shriyam — the splendour; saḥ — He; kanta — by radiance; svayam — Himself; bhumi-gate — having come to earth; sura-ishe — the Lord of the gods; nyastam — entrusted; punah — back; tam — it; haraye — to Hari; daduh — they gave; kim — did (they not)?

2. By His eloquence He took away the glory of Vachaspati, by His poetry that of Kavya, by His radiance the splendour of the moon². When the Lord of the gods Himself had come to earth, did they not give back to Hari what had been entrusted to them?

Verse 3

सोऽध्यापयद्विप्रमहत्तमांस्तान्
ये पूर्वजन्मार्जितपुण्यराशयः। ब्रूमः कथं भाग्यवतां महद्गुणं so'dhyāpayadvipramahattamāṁstān

ye pūrvajanmārjitapuṇyarāśayaḥ| brūmaḥ katham bhāgyavatāṁ mahadguṇaṁ
yeṣāṁ svayaṁ lokagururgururbhavit||3||

Word for word: saḥ — He; adhyapayat — taught; vipra-mahattaman — the greatest of brahmanas; tan — those; ye — who; purva-janma-arjita-punya-rashayah — had amassed heaps of merit in former births; brumah — shall we tell; katham — how; bhagyavatam — of the fortunate ones; mahat-gunam — the great merit; yesham — whose; svayam — Himself; loka-guruh — the Teacher of the world; guruh — teacher; bhavet — became.

3. He taught the greatest of brahmanas — those who in former births had amassed heaps of merit. How can we describe the great merit of those fortunate ones, whose teacher the Teacher of the world Himself became?

Verse 4

सौन्दर्यमाधुर्यविलासविभ्रमै- रराज राजद्वरहेमगौरः।
विष्णुप्रियालालितपादपङ्कजो रसेन पूर्णो रसिकेन्द्रमौलिः॥४॥

saundaryamādhuryavilāsavibhramairarāja rājadvarahemagaurah| viṣṇupriyālālitapādapaṅkajo
rasena pūrṇo rasikendramauliḥ||4||

Word for word: saundarya-madhurya-vilasa-vibhramaih — with beauty, sweetness, playfulness and charm; raraja — shone; rajat-vara-hema-gaurah — golden like gleaming pure gold; vishnupriya-lalita-pada-pankajah — whose lotus feet were caressed by Vishnupriya; rasena — with rasa; purnah — full; rasika-indra-maulih — the crown of the kings of rasikas.

4. Gleaming like pure gold, He shone with beauty, sweetness, playfulness and charm. Vishnupriya caressed His lotus feet; full of rasa, He was the crown of the kings of rasikas³.

Verse 5

विद्याविलासेन विलोलबाहु-

स्थलीषु पश्यन्मृगकौतुकानि॥७॥

*gacchanpathi prākṛtaceṣṭayā hasa-nnarmoktibhiḥ kautukamāvahansatām|
reme kuraṅgāvalirājītasu
sthalīṣu paśyanmṛgakautukāni||7||*

Word for word: gachchhan — going; pathi — along the road; prakrita-cheshtaya — with the manners of an ordinary man; hasan — laughing; narma-uktibhiḥ — with jests; kautukam — merriment; avahan — bringing; satam — to the good; reme — He delighted; kuranga-avali-rajitasu — graced by herds of antelope; sthalishu — on the plains; pashyan — watching; mriga-kautukani — the frolics of the animals.

7. Going along the road, He behaved like an ordinary man: He laughed and amused the good with His jests, and on the plains graced by herds of antelope He delighted in watching the frolics of the animals.

Verse 8

स्नात्वा स चोरान्धयके नदे मुदा

*snātvā sa corāndhayake nade mudā
kṛtvāhnikam devapitṛnyathāvidhi| santarpayitvā sahasānvitaḥ priyairmandāramāruhya dadarśa devatāḥ||8||*

Word for word: snatva — bathing; sah — He; chorandhayake nade — in the river Chorandhayaka; muda — joyfully; kritva — performing; ahnikam — the daily rites; deva-pitrin — the gods and forefathers; yatha-vidhi — according to the rules; santarpayitva — satisfying (with libations); sahasa — then at once; anvitaḥ priyaiḥ — with His dear companions; mandaram — Mandara; aruhya — climbing; dadarsha — saw; devataḥ — the deities.

8. Having joyfully bathed in the river Chorandhayaka and performed His daily rites according to the rules, He satisfied the gods and forefathers with libations, and then, with His dear companions, climbed Mount Mandara and saw the deities there⁵.

Verse 9

ततोऽवतीर्यावजगाम सत्वरं

*tato'vatīryāvajagāma satvaram
dharādharaḍho bhavanam dvijasya saḥ| manuṣyaśikṣāmanudarśayanprabhurjvareṇa santaptatanurbabhūva||9||*

Word for word: tatah — then; avatirya — descending; avajagama — went down; satvaram — quickly; dharadhara-adhah — at the foot of the mountain; bhavanam — to the house; dvijasya — of a brahmana; sah — He; manushya-shiksham — a lesson for men; anudarshayan — showing; prabhuh — Prabhu; jvarena — with fever; santapta-tanuh — His body burning; babhuva — became.

9. Then Prabhu quickly came down to the house of a brahmana at the foot of the mountain; and, giving a lesson to people, He fell ill with a burning fever.

Verse 10

बभूव मे वर्त्मनि दैवयोगा- च्छरीरवैवश्यमतः कथं स्यात्। गयासु मे पैतृककर्मविघ्नः
श्रेयस्यभूदित्यतिचिन्तयाकुलः॥१०॥

*babhūva me vartmani daivayogā-ccharīravaivaśyamataḥ katham syāt| gayāsu me paitṛkakarmavighnaḥ
śreyasyabhūdityaticintayākulaḥ||10||*

Word for word: babhuva — has come; me — upon Me; vartmani — on the way; daiva-yogat — by the will of fate; sharira-vaivashyam — weakness of body; atah — so; katham — how; syat — will (it) be (done); gayasu — at Gaya; me — My; paitrika-karma-vighnah — an obstacle to the rite for My father; shreyasi — in a good (work); abhut — has arisen; iti — thus; ati-chintaya — with great anxiety; akulah — troubled.

10. "On the way, by the will of fate, My body has grown weak," He thought anxiously. "How now will My rite for My father be performed at Gaya? An obstacle has arisen to a good work."

Verse 11

ततोऽप्युपायं परिचिन्तयन्स्वयं

*tato'pyupāyaṁ paricintayansvayaṁ
jvarasya śāntyai dvijapādasevanam| varam sa vijñāya tathopapādayaṁstadambupānaṁ bhagavāṁścakāra||11||*

Word for word: tatah — then; api — indeed; upayam — a remedy; parichintayan — considering; svayam — Himself; jvarasya — of the fever; shantyai — for the cure; dvija-pada-sevanam — service to the feet of brahmanas; varam — the best; sah — He; vijnaya — recognising; tatha — so; upapadayan — arranging; tat-ambu-panam — drinking of that water (from their feet); bhagavan — Bhagavan; chakara — did.

11. Then, considering a remedy for the fever Himself, He recognised the service of brahmanas' feet as the best of all, and, arranging it so, Bhagavan drank the water that had washed their feet.

Verse 12

ये सर्वविप्रा मधुसूदनाश्रया
निरन्तरं कृष्णपदाभिचिन्तकाः। ततः स्वयं कृष्णजनाभिमानी

*ye sarvaviprā madhusūdanāśrayā
nirantaram kṛṣṇapadābhicintakāḥ| tataḥ svayam kṛṣṇajanābhimānī
teṣāṁ param pādajalam papau prabhuḥ||12||*

Word for word: ye — who; sarva-viprah — all the brahmanas; madhusudana-ashrayah — sheltered in Madhusudana; nirantaram — ceaselessly; krishna-pada-abhichintakah — meditating on Krishna's feet; tatah — therefore; svayam — Himself; krishna-jana-abhimani — regarding Himself as one of Krishna's people; tesham — their; param — only; pada-jalam — foot-water; papau — drank; prabhuh — Prabhu.

12. All those brahmanas had taken shelter in Madhusudana and ceaselessly meditated on Krishna's feet. That is why Prabhu, who regarded Himself as one of Krishna's people, drank the water from their feet.

Verse 13

ततो ज्वरस्योपशमो बभूव

*tato jvarasyopaśamo babhūva
tāndarśayitvā dvijapādabhaktim| jagāma tīrtham sa punaḥpunākhyam
cakāra tatra dvijadevatārcanam||13||*

Word for word: tatah — then; jvarasya — of the fever; upashamah — abatement; babhuva — came; tan — to them; darshayitva — showing; dvija-pada-bhaktim — devotion to the feet of brahmanas; jagama — went; tirtham — to the holy place; sah — He; punahpuna-akhyam — called Punahpuna; chakara — performed; tatra — there; dvija-devata-archanam — worship of brahmanas and gods.

13. And the fever abated. Having shown them what devotion to the feet of brahmanas is, He went to the holy place called Punahpuna⁶ and there worshipped the brahmanas and the gods.

Verse 14

ततः समुत्तीर्य नदीं स गच्छं- स्तीर्थोत्तमे राजगृहे सुपुण्ये। ब्रह्माख्यकुण्डे पितृदेवपूजां *tataḥ samuttīrya nadīm sa gaccham-stīrthottame rājagrhe supuṇye| brahmākhyakuṇḍe pitṛdevapūjām

cakāra lokānanuśikṣayansaḥ||14||*

Word for word: tatah — then; samuttirya — crossing; nadim — the river; sah — He; gachchhan — going on; tirtha-uttame — in the best of holy places; rajagrihe — at Rajagriha; su-punye — most sacred; brahma-akhya-kunde — at the pond called Brahma(-kunda); pitri-deva-pujam — worship of forefathers and gods; chakara — performed; lokan — people; anushikshayan — teaching; sah — He.

14. Crossing the river and going on, He, teaching people, worshipped the forefathers and the gods at the pond called Brahma-kunda in Rajagriha⁷, the most sacred of holy places.

Verse 15

पत्या स्वमातुः ससुरोऽगमच्छनै- र्गयां गदाभृच्चरणं दिदृक्षुः॥१५॥

*patyā svamātuḥ sasuro'gamacchanai-
rgayāṁ gadābhṛccaraṇaṁ didṛkṣuḥ*||15||

Word for word: patya — with (for the sake of) the husband; sva-matuh — of His mother; sa-surah — with the (earthly) gods; agamat — came; shanaih — slowly; gayam — to Gaya; gada-bhrit-charanam — the feet of the Club-bearer; didrikshuh — wishing to see.

15. ...For the sake of His mother's husband⁸ He came slowly, with the gods on earth, to Gaya, wishing to see the feet of the Club-bearer⁹.

Verse 16

तस्मिन्शुभं न्यासिवरं ददर्श

*tasminśubhaṁ nyāsivaraṁ dadarśa
sa īśvarākhyam haripādabhaktam| purīm pareśaḥ parayātmabhaktyā
tuṣṭaṁ nanāmainamathābravīcca*||16||

Word for word: tasmin — there; shubham — auspicious; nyasi-varam — the best of sannyasis; dadarsha — saw; sah — He; ishvara-akhyam — named Ishvara; hari-pada-bhaktam — devoted to Hari's feet; purim — Puri; para-ishah — the Supreme Lord; paraya — with supreme; atma-bhaktya — heartfelt devotion; tushtam — pleased; nanama — bowed; enam — to him; atha — then; abravat — spoke; cha — and.

16. There the Supreme Lord saw the auspicious Ishvara Puri, the best of sannyasis, devoted to Hari's feet. With the deepest devotion of His heart He bowed to him, and he was pleased. Then the Lord said:

Verse 17

दिष्ट्याद्य दृष्टं भगवन्पदाम्बुजं
तव प्रभो ब्रूहि यथा भवाम्बुधिम्। निस्तीर्य कृष्णाङ्घ्रिसरोरुहामृतं diṣṭyādya dr̥ṣṭam bhagavanpadāmbujam

tava prabho brūhi yathā bhavāmbudhim| nistīrya kṛṣṇāṅghrisaroruhāmṛtam
paśyāmi tanme karuṇānidhe svayam||17||

Word for word: diṣṭya — by good fortune; adya — today; drishtam — are seen; bhagavan — O revered one; pada-ambujam — the lotus feet; tava — your; prabho — O master; bruhi — tell; yatha — how; bhava-ambudhim — the ocean of worldly existence; nistīrya — crossing; krishna-anghri-saroruhā-amritam — the nectar of Krishna's lotus feet; pashyami — I may behold (taste); tat — that; me — to me; karuna-nidhe — O treasury of mercy; svayam — yourself.

17. "O revered one! By good fortune I have seen your lotus feet today. Tell Me yourself, O master, O treasury of mercy, how I may cross the ocean of worldly existence and taste the nectar of Krishna's lotus feet."

Verse 18

स इत्थमाकर्ण्य हरेर्वचोऽमृतं
मुदा ददौ मन्त्रवरं मतिज्ञः।
दशाक्षरं प्राप्य स गौरचन्द्रमा- स्तुष्टाव तं भक्तिविभावितः स्वयम्॥१८॥ sa itthamākarnya harervaco'mṛtam

mudā dadau mantravaram matijñah| daśākṣaram prāpya sa gauracandramāstuṣṭāva tam bhaktivibhāvitaḥ svayam||18||

Word for word: sah — he; ittham — thus; akarnya — hearing; hareh — of Hari; vachah-amritam — the nectar of words; muda — gladly; dadau — gave; mantra-varam — the best of mantras; mati-jnah — knowing (His) heart; dasha-aksharam — the ten-syllable (mantra); prapya — receiving; sah — He; gaura-chandramah — Gaurachandra; tushtava — praised; tam — him; bhakti-vibhavitah — overwhelmed by devotion; svayam — Himself.

18. Hearing these nectarean words of Hari, Puri, who knew His heart, gladly gave Him the best of mantras — the ten-syllable one¹⁰. Having received it, Gaurachandra Himself, overwhelmed by devotion, praised him:

Verse 19

न्यासिन्दयालो तव पादसङ्गमा- त्कृतार्थता मेऽद्य बभूव दुर्लभा।
श्रीकृष्णपादाब्जमधून्मदा च सा यथा तरिष्यामि दुरन्तसंसृतिम्॥१९॥

nyāśindayālo tava pādasaṅgamā-
tkṛtārthatā me'dya babhūva durlabhā| śrīkṛṣṇapādābjamadhūnmadā ca sā
yathā tariṣyāmi dūrantasaṁsṛtim||19||

Word for word: nyasin — O sannyasi; dayalo — O merciful one; tava — your; pada-sangamat — from contact with the feet; kṛta-arthatā — fulfilment; me — my; adya — today; babhuva — has come; durlabha — rare; shri-krishna-pada-abja-madhu-unmada — intoxicated with the honey of Sri Krishna's lotus feet; cha — and; sa — that; yatha — so that; tarishyami — I shall cross; duranta-samsritim — the endless round of birth and death.

19. "O sannyasi, O merciful one! Through contact with your feet I have today attained a rare fulfilment — intoxication with the honey of Sri Krishna's lotus feet, by which I shall cross the endless round of birth and death."

Thus ends the fifteenth sarga, "The Meeting with Srimad Ishvara Puri" (Shrimad-ishvara-puri-darshana), of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Vaidyas: the community of physicians, to which Murari Gupta himself belonged.
2. Vachaspati is Brihaspati, the preceptor of the gods and the model of eloquence; Kavya is Shukra, the preceptor of the asuras and the model of the poet. The sense: their eloquence and poetry, and the moon's radiance, belong originally to the Lord, and when He came to earth they gave Him back, as it were, what had been deposited with them.
3. Rasa is the taste, the inner experience of loving service; rasikas are those able to relish it.
4. That is, with brahmanas.
5. Mandara is a sacred hill in Bihar (near present-day Bhagalpur), where Madhusudana is worshipped.
6. Punahpuna (the present Punpun) is a sacred river on the way to Gaya.
7. Rajagriha (present-day Rajgir) is an ancient holy town in Bihar.
8. In all witnesses only half of this verse survives. Literally "with His mother's husband," that is, apparently, for the sake of His late father, Jagannatha Mishra; the sense is conjectural.
9. The Club-bearer is Gadadhara, Vishnu as worshipped at Gaya; His footprint (Vishnu-pada) is the chief shrine of Gaya.
10. The ten-syllable mantra is the mantra of Gopala-Krishna.

Prakrama 1, Sarga 16. The Journey to Gaya

Ancestral rites at the holy places of Gaya; Jagannatha Mishra appears to accept the pinda; love awakens at the footprint of Vishnu; a voice from the sky bids the Lord return home; His ecstasy in Navadvipa; a brief glance ahead — sannyasa, Puri, the South, Mathura; the fruit of hearing

Verse 1

गुरौ स भक्तिं परिदर्शयन्स्वयं
फल्गुषु चक्रे पितृदेवतार्चनम्।
प्रेतादिशृङ्गे पितृपिण्डदानं ब्रह्माङ्गुलीरेणुयुतेषु कृत्वा॥१॥ *gurau sa bhaktim paridarśayansvayam

phalguṣu cakre pitṛdevatārcanam| pretādiśṛṅge pitṛpiṇḍadānam
brahmāṅgulīreṇuyuteṣu kṛtvā||1||*

Word for word: gurau — towards the guru; sah — He; bhaktim — devotion; paridarshayan — showing; svayam — Himself; phalgushu — at the Phalgu; chakre — performed; pitri-devata-archanam — worship of forefathers and gods; preta-adi-shringa — on the peak of Preta (Pretashila); pitri-pinda-danam — the offering of pinda to the forefathers; brahma-anguli-renu-yuteshu — on (spots) bearing the dust of Brahma's fingers; kritva — having made.

1. Himself showing what devotion to the guru should be, He worshipped the forefathers and the gods at the Phalgu, and on the peak of Pretashila, on spots bearing the dust of Brahma's fingers, offered pindas to the forefathers¹.

Verse 2

देवान्समभ्यर्च्य ददौ द्विजातये
पितृन्समुद्दिश्य यथेष्टदक्षिणाम्।
ततोऽवरुह्याशु ययावुदीचीं पितृक्रियां दक्षिणमानसे च॥२॥

*devānsamabhyarcya dadau dvijātaye pitṛṇsamuddiśya yatheṣṭadakṣiṇām| tato'varuhyāśu yayāvudīcīm
pitṛkriyām dakṣiṇamānase ca||2||*

Word for word: devan — the gods; samabhyarchya — having worshipped; dadau — gave; dvijataye — to the brahmana; pitrin — the forefathers; samuddishya — on behalf of; yatha-ishta-dakshinam — as much dakshina as desired; tatah — then; avaruhya — descending; ashu — quickly; yayau — went; udichim — northward; pitri-kriyam — the rite for the forefathers; dakshina-manase — at Dakshina-manasa; cha — and.

2. Having worshipped the gods, He gave the brahmanas as much dakshina as they wished on behalf of His forefathers; then He quickly came down and went north. Having performed the ancestral rite at Dakshina-manasa

Verse 3

कृत्वोत्तरे मानससंज्ञके च
ययौ स जिह्वाचपले द्विजान्वितः।
श्राद्धं पितृणामथ देवतानां कृत्वा गयामूर्ध्नि जगाम हृष्टः॥३॥

*kṛtvottare mānasasaṁjñake ca
yayau sa jihvācapale dvijānvitah| śrāddham pitṛṇāmatha devatānām
kṛtvā gayāmūrdhni jagāma hrṣṭah||3||*

Word for word: kritva — having performed; uttare manasa-samjnake — at the (pond) called Uttara-manasa; cha — and; yayau — went; sah — He; jihvachapale — to Jihvachapala; dvija-anvitah — with the brahmanas; shraddham — the shraddha; pitrinam — to the forefathers; atha — and; devatanam — to the gods; kritva — having performed; gaya-murdhni — to the head of Gaya; jagama — went; hrishtah — joyful.

3. and at the (pond) called Uttara-manasa, He went with the brahmanas to Jihvachapala. Having performed there the shraddha for the forefathers and the gods, He went joyfully to the head of Gaya².

Verse 4

द्विजोत्तमैः षोडशवेदिकायां
चकार पिण्डं पितृकर्मपूर्वकम्।
श्रीमज्जगन्नाथपुरन्दराख्यः प्रत्यक्षीभूय जगृहे मुदान्वितः॥४॥

*dvijottamaiḥ ṣoḍaśavedikāyām
cakāra piṇḍam pitṛkarmapūrvakam| śrīmajjagannāthapurandarākhyah
pratyakṣībhūya jagrhe mudānvitah||4||*

Word for word: dvija-uttamaiḥ — with the best of brahmanas; shodasha-vedikayam — at the Sixteen Altars; cakara — made; pindam — the pinda; pitri-karma-purvakam — with the ancestral rite; shrimat-jagannatha-purandara-akhyah — he named Srimad Jagannatha Purandara; pratyakshibhuya — appearing visibly; jagrihe — accepted; muda-anvitah — joyfully.

4. At the Sixteen Altars³, together with the best of brahmanas, He performed the ancestral rite and offered the pinda — and Srimad Jagannatha Purandara, appearing visibly, joyfully accepted it.

Verse 5

यथा श्रीरामेण हि दत्तपिण्डो
गृहीत आगम्य तदीयपित्रा।
एवं हि सर्वत्र हरेश्चरित्रं तथापि दुष्प्राप्यतमं यदेतत्॥५॥

*yathā śrīrāmeṇa hi dattapiṇḍo
gr̥hīta āgamy tadīyapitrā| evam hi sarvatra hareścaritraṁ
tathāpi duṣprāpyatamaṁ yadetat||5||*

Word for word: yatha — as; shri-ramena — by Sri Rama; hi — indeed; datta-pindah — the pinda offered; grihitah — was accepted; agamy — coming; tadiya-pitra — by his father; evam — so; hi — indeed; sarvatra — everywhere; hareh — of Hari; charitraṁ — the deeds; tatha api — and yet; dushprapyatamam — most rarely attained; yat — which; etat — this.

5. Just so, long ago, the pinda offered by Sri Rama was accepted by his father, who came for it⁴. Thus Hari's deeds are alike everywhere — and yet this event is the rarest of all.

Verse 6

स विष्णुपद्मां हरिपादचिह्नं
दृष्ट्वातिहृष्टो मनसाब्रवीच्च।
कथं हरेः पादपयोजलक्ष्म-प्रेमोदयो मे न बभूव दृष्ट्वा॥६॥ *sa viṣṇupadyām haripādachihnam

dr̥ṣṭvātihr̥ṣṭo manasābravīcca| katham hareḥ pādapayojalakṣma-

6. Seeing the footprint of Hari at the Vishnupada, He was overjoyed, but said to Himself: "Why, on seeing the marks of Hari's lotus foot, have I felt no awakening of love?"

Verse 7

तस्मिन्क्षणे तस्य बभूव दैवा- त्सुशीततोयैरभिषेचनं मुहुः। कम्पोर्ध्वरोमा भगवान्बभूव प्रेमाम्बुधाराशतधौतवक्षाः॥७॥

*tasminkṣaṇe tasya babhūva daivātsuśītatoyairabhiṣecanaṁ muhuḥ| kampordhvaromā bhagavānbabhūva
premāmbudhārāśatadhautavakṣāḥ||7||*

Word for word: tasmin kshane — at that moment; tasya — its (the footprint's); babhuva — took place; daivat — by providence; su-shita-toyaiḥ — with very cool water; abhishechanam — a bathing; muhuh — again and again; kampa-urdhva-roma — trembling, His hair on end; bhagavan — Bhagavan; babhuva — became; prema-ambu-dhara-shata-dhauta-vakshah — His chest washed by a hundred streams of tears of love.

7. At that moment, by providence, the footprint was bathed again and again with very cool water⁵ — and Bhagavan trembled, His hair stood on end, and His chest was washed by a hundred streams of tears of love.

Verse 8

स विह्वलः कृष्णपदाब्जयुग्म-प्रेमोत्सवेनाशु विमुक्तसङ्गः। त्यक्त्वा गयां गन्तुमियेष रम्यां मधोर्वनं साधुनिषेवितां ताम्॥८॥

*sa vihvalaḥ kṛṣṇapadābjayugmapremotsavenāśu vimuktasaṅgaḥ| tyaktvā gayāṁ gantumiyeṣa ramyāṁ
madhorvanaṁ sādhuṇiṣevitāṁ tām||8||*

8. Beside Himself with the festival of love for Krishna's lotus feet, at once free of all attachment, He wished to leave Gaya and go to lovely Madhuvana⁶, frequented by saints.

Verse 9

प्राहाशरीरा नवमेघनिस्वना
वाणी तमाहूय चल स्वमन्दिरम्।
ततः परं कालवशेन देव मधोर्वनं चान्यदपि स्वचेष्टया॥९॥

*prāhāśarīrā navameghanisvanā
vāṇī tamāhūya cala svamandiram|*

tataḥ param kālavaśena deva
madhorvanam cānyadapi svaceṣṭayā||9||

Word for word: praha — said; asharira — bodiless; nava-megha-nisvana — with a sound like a fresh rain-cloud; vani — a voice; tam — Him; ahuya — calling; chala — go; sva-mandiram — to Your home; tataḥ param — after that; kala-vashena — in due time; deva — O Lord; madhoh vanam — to Madhuvana; cha — and; anyat api — elsewhere too; sva-cheshtaya — by Your own will.

9. Then a bodiless voice, deep as a fresh rain-cloud, called Him and said: "Go to Your home. Afterwards, in due time, O Lord, You will go by Your own will both to Madhuvana and elsewhere.

Verse 10

भवान्नि सर्वेश्वर एष निश्चितः
कर्तुं ह्यकर्तुं च समर्थः सर्वतः।
तथापि भृत्यैर्गदितं च यत्प्रभो कर्तुं प्रमाणं हि तमर्हसि ध्रुवम्॥१०॥

bhavānhi sarveśvara eṣa niścitaḥ
kartum hyakartum ca samarthaḥ sarvataḥ| tathāpi bhr̥tyairgaditaṁ ca yatprabho
kartum pramāṇam hi tamarhasi dhruvam||10||

Word for word: bhavan — You; hi — indeed; sarva-ishvarah — the Lord of all; eshah — this; nishchitah — certainly; kartum — to do; hi — indeed; akartum — not to do; cha — and; samarthah — able; sarvataḥ — in every way; tatha api — even so; bhr̥ityaih — by servants; gaditam — spoken; cha — and; yat — what; prabho — O Lord; kartum — to make; pramanam — true; hi — indeed; tam — that; arhasi — You should; dhruvam — surely.

10. You are certainly the Lord of all, able in every way to do or not to do. Yet, O Lord, the word spoken by Your servants You must surely make true."

Verse 11

स इत्थमाकर्ण्य गिरं सुदिव्या- मागत्य गेहं निजबन्धुभिर्वृतः। ननाम मातुश्चरणे निपत्य

dadarśa devaṁ puruṣottameśvaraṁ
ciraṁ cirānandasukhātisatsukham| labdhvāgamadrāghavadevanirmitaṁ
setuṁ pathi prājñajanaiḥ sa sādhubhiḥ||15||

Word for word: dadarsha — saw; devam — the Lord; purushottama-ishvaram — the Lord of Purushottama; chiram — for long; chira-ananda-sukha-ati-sat-sukham — the true bliss surpassing everlasting joy and happiness; labdhva — having attained; agamat — went; raghava-deva-nirmitam — built by Lord Raghava; setum — to the bridge; pathi — on the road; prajna-janaiḥ — with wise men; sah — He; sadhubhih — saintly.

15. and long beheld the Lord, the Master of Purushottama — the true bliss surpassing everlasting joy and happiness. Having attained this, He went with wise and saintly men along the road to the bridge built by Lord Raghava⁸.

Verse 16

तत्र स्थितान्सप्ततमालवृक्षा- नालिङ्ग्य चक्रे मुहुरेव रोदनम्।
ततः समागत्य ददर्श कूर्मे स कूर्मरूपं जगदीश्वरं प्रभुः॥१६॥

tatra sthitānsaptatamālavṛkṣā-nāliṅgya cakre muhureva rodanam| tataḥ samāgatya dadarśa kūrme
sa kūrmarūpaṁ jagadīśvaraṁ prabhuḥ||16||

Word for word: tatra — there; sthitan — standing; sapta-tamala-vrikshan — the seven tamala trees; alingya — embracing; chakre — gave way; muhuh — long; eva — indeed; rodanam — to weeping; tatah — then; samagatya — coming; dadarsha — saw; kurme — at Kurma; sah — He; kurma-rupam — in the form of a tortoise; jagat-ishvaram — the Lord of the world; prabhuh — Prabhu.

16. Embracing the seven tamala trees⁹ that stand there, He wept long. Then Prabhu came to Kurma and saw the Lord of the world in the form of a tortoise¹⁰.

Verse 17

तदागमच्छ्रीपुरुषोत्तमाख्ये
क्षेत्रे जगन्नाथमुखं ददर्श। कियद्दिनं तत्र निवासमच्युतो विधाय यातो मथुरां मधुद्विषः॥१७॥

*tadāgamacchrīpuruṣottamākhye
kṣetre jagannāthamukhaṁ dadarśa| kiyaddinaṁ tatra nivāsamacyuto vidhāya yāto mathurāṁ madhudviṣaḥ||17||*

Word for word: tada — then; agamat — He came; shri-purushottama-akhye kshetre — to the kshetra called Sri Purushottama; jagannatha-mukham — the face of Jagannatha; dadarsha — saw; kiyat-dinam — for some days; tatra — there; nivasam — stay; achyutah — Achyuta; vidhaya — having made; yatah — went; mathuram — to Mathura; madhu-dvishah — of the Enemy of Madhu.

17. Then He came back to the kshetra called Sri Purushottama and saw the face of Jagannatha. Having stayed there some days, Achyuta went to Mathura, the city of the Enemy of Madhu.

Verse 18

पादाब्जचिह्नैः समलङ्कृतां स्थलीं
रुरोद सम्प्राप्य लुठन्क्षितौ भृशम्।
कियद्दिनं तत्र स्थितो जगद्गुरुः प्रेमामृतास्वादनमात्र उत्सुकः॥१८॥

*pādābjacihnaiḥ samalaṅkṛtāṁ sthālīm
ruroda samprāpya luṭhankṣitau bhr̥śam| kiyaddinaṁ tatra sthito jagadguruḥ
premāmṛtāsvādanamātra utsukaḥ||18||*

Word for word: pada-abja-chihnaiḥ — with the marks of lotus feet; samalankritam — adorned; sthalim — the land; ruroda — He wept; samprapya — reaching; luthan — rolling; kshitau — on the ground; bhrisham — vehemently; kiyat-dinam — some days; tatra — there; sthitah — stayed; jagat-guruh — the Teacher of the world; prema-amrita-asvadana-matre — for the tasting of the nectar of love alone; utsukah — eager.

18. Reaching the land adorned with the marks of (Krishna's) lotus feet, the Teacher of the world wept, rolling vehemently on the ground, and stayed there some days, eager only to taste the nectar of love.

Verse 19

इति स मधुपुरीं प्रभुर्वितन्व-न्यरमसुखं सहसा जगाम हर्षात्।
पुनरनुपदमेव साधुसङ्गा- त्परमपदं पुरुषोत्तमप्रदीव्यम्॥१९॥

iti sa madhupurīm prabhurvitanva-nparamasukhaṁ sahasā jagāma harṣāt| punaranupadameva sādhusaṅgā-tparamapadaṁ puruṣottamapradīvyam||19||

Word for word: iti — thus; sah — He; madhu-purim — in Madhupuri; prabhuh — Prabhu; vitanvan — spreading; parama-sukham — supreme bliss; sahasa — suddenly; jagama — went; harshat — in joy; punah — again; anupadam — step by step; eva — indeed; sadhu-sangat — in the company of saints; parama-padam — to the supreme abode; purushottama-pradivya — the playground of Purushottama.

19. Thus, having spread supreme bliss in Madhupuri, Prabhu suddenly left in joy and again, step by step, in the company of saints, came to the supreme abode — the playground of Purushottama.

Verse 20

*श्रुत्वा च तीर्थस्य विधिक्रियां हरे- र्लभेद्गयातीर्थफलं महत्तमम्।
देहावसाने विमलां गतिं नरः श्रद्धान्वितो गच्छति पूर्णलालसः॥२०॥*

*śrutvā ca tīrthasya vidhikriyāṁ hare-rlabhedgayātīrthaphalaṁ mahattamam| dehāvasāne vimalāṁ gatiṁ naraḥ
śraddhānvito gacchati pūrṇalālasaḥ||20||*

Word for word: shrutva — hearing; cha — and; tirthasya — of the holy place; vidhi-kriyam — the performance of rites; hareh — of Hari; labhet — one gains; gaya-tirtha-phalam — the fruit of pilgrimage to Gaya; mahattamam — the greatest; deha-avasane — at the end of the body; vimalam — pure; gatim — destination; narah — a man; shraddha-anvitah — endowed with faith; gachchhati — reaches; purna-lalasah — with full longing.

20. Whoever hears how Hari performed the rites at the holy place gains the greatest fruit of pilgrimage to Gaya; and a man full of faith and complete longing reaches, at the end of the body, a pure destination.

Thus ends the sixteenth sarga, "The Journey to Gaya" (Gaya-gamana), of the first prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita." Thus the first prakrama is complete.

1. The Phalgu is the sacred river of Gaya; Pretashila is a hill near Gaya where pindas (balls of rice) are offered to the forefathers. Its stones, by local tradition, bear the marks of Brahma's fingers. The reading "on the peak of Pretashila" is conjectural.
2. Dakshina-manasa, Uttara-manasa and Jihvachapala (Jihvalola) are holy places of Gaya where shraddha is performed. "The head of Gaya" is the spot on the head of the asura Gaya on which Vishnu placed His foot; the shrine of the Vishnupada stands there.
3. The Sixteen Altars (Shodasha-vedi) are the place of pinda offerings by the Vishnupada temple.
4. Rama's father is Dasharatha.
5. Literally "its": apparently the footprint of Vishnu; it may also be understood that the Lord Himself was drenched with cool water.
6. Madhuvana, the forest of Madhu, is the region of Mathura (Vraja).
7. Verses 14–19 briefly anticipate events described in detail in the following prakramas: the sannyasa, the life in Puri (the kshetra of Purushottama), and the pilgrimages to the South and to Mathura.
8. Raghava is Rama; the bridge (Setubandha) is the bridge to Lanka built by Rama.
9. The tamala is a tree with dark bark whose colour recalls Krishna.

10. Kurma is Kurma-kshetra (Srikurmam) in the South, where Vishnu is worshipped in the form of the Tortoise.

Prakrama Two

Prakrama 2, Sarga 1. The Manifestation of Ecstasy

Opening of the second prakrama: Damodara Pandita asks to hear of the Lord's pastimes in Navadvipa; Murari's prayers; Shachi asks her Son for prema; the Lord's ecstatic states in Navadvipa

Verse 1

ततः प्रोवाच तच्छ्रुत्वा श्रीदामोदरपण्डितः। नवद्वीपे किमकरोल्लीलां लीलानिधिः प्रभुः॥१॥

*tataḥ provāca tacchrutvā śrīdāmodarapaṇḍitaḥ|
navadvīpe kimakarollīlāṁ līlānidhiḥ prabhuḥ||1||*

Word for word: tataḥ — then; provacha — said; tat — that; shrutva — having heard; shri-damodara-panditaḥ — Sri Damodara Pandita; navadvipe — in Navadvipa; kim — what; akarot — performed; lilam — pastimes; lila-nidhiḥ — the treasury of pastimes; prabhuh — the Lord.

1. Having heard this, Sri Damodara Pandita¹ said: "What pastimes did the Lord, the treasury of pastimes, perform in Navadvipa?"

Verse 2

विस्तरेण वदस्वाद्य सर्वश्रुतिरसायनम्। ततोऽसौ वक्तुमारेभे मुरारिर्हर्ययन्दिजम्॥२॥

*vistareṇa vadasvādya sarvaśrutirasāyanam|
tato'sau vaktumārebhe murārīrharṣayandvijam||2||*

Word for word: vistarena — in detail; vadasva — tell; adya — now; sarva-shruti-rasayanam — an elixir for every ear; tataḥ — then; asau — he; vaktum — to speak; arebhe — began; murarih — Murari; harshayan — delighting; dvijam — the brahmana.

2. Tell of them now in detail — it is an elixir for every ear." And then Murari, delighting the brahmana, began to speak:

Verse 3

श्रूयतां महदाश्चर्या कथा संक्षेपतो मम।
नत्वा वक्ष्यामि देवेशचैतन्यचरणाम्बुजम्॥३॥

*śrūyatāṁ mahadāścaryā kathā saṁkṣepato mama|
natvā vakṣyāmi deveśacaitanyacaraṇāmbujam||3||*

Word for word: shruyatam — let it be heard; mahat-ashcharya — greatly wondrous; katha — the story; sankshepataḥ — in brief; mama — my; natva — having bowed; vakshyami — I shall tell; devesha-chaitanya-charana-ambujam — to the lotus feet of Chaitanya, Lord of the gods.

3. "Hear my brief account, great and wondrous. Having bowed to the lotus feet of Chaitanya, Lord of the gods, I shall begin."

Verse 4

चैतन्यचन्द्र तव पादनखेन्दुकान्ति- रेकादशेन्द्रियगणैः सहजीवकोषम्।
अन्तर्बहिश्च परिपूरय तस्य नित्यं पुष्पातु नन्दयतु मे शरणागतस्य॥४॥

*caitanyacandra tava pādanakhendukānti-rekādaśendriyagaṇaiḥ saha-jīvakōṣam| antarbahiśca paripūraya tasya nityam
puṣṇātu nandayatu me śaraṇāgatasya||4||*

Word for word: chaitanya-chandra — O Chaitanya-chandra; tava — of Your; pada-nakha-indu-kantih — the radiance of the moons of the toenails; ekadasha-indriya-ganaih saha — together with the host of eleven senses; jiva-kosham — the sheath of the soul; antah — within; bahih — without; cha — and; paripuraya — fill; tasya — of him; nityam — always; pushnatu — may it nourish; nandayatu — may it gladden; me — me; sharana-agatasya — who has taken refuge.

4. O Chaitanya-chandra! Let the radiance of the moons of Your toenails fill the sheath of the soul together with its host of eleven senses² — fill it within and without — and may it ever nourish and gladden me, who have taken refuge in You.

Verse 5

चैतन्यचन्द्र तव पादसरोजयुग्मं
दृष्ट्वापि ये त्वयि विभो न परेशबुद्धिम्।
कुर्वन्ति मोहवशगा रसभावहीना- स्ते मोहिता विततवैभवमायया ते॥५॥

*caitanyacandra tava pādasarojayugmam
dṛṣṭvāpi ye tvayi vibho na pareśabuddhim| kurvanti mohavaśagā rasabhāvahīnā-

Word for word: mam — Me; vakti — calls; apāṇi-pada — without hands and feet; iti — thus; vadan — saying; smṛitva — recalling; abravīt — recited; idam — this; bhagavan — Bhagavan; veda-sara-jñah — knower of the essence of the Vedas; sarva-veda-artha-nirmitaḥ — fashioned of the meaning of all the Vedas.

22. it calls Me handless and footless." With these words Bhagavan, knower of the essence of the Vedas, fashioned of the meaning of all the Vedas, recalled and recited this verse:

Verse 23

अपाणिपादो जवनो ग्रहीता
पश्यत्यचक्षुः स शृणोत्यकर्णः।
स वेत्ति विश्वं नहि तस्य वेत्ता तमाहुरग्र्यं पुरुषं पुराणम्॥२३॥

*apāṇipādo javano grahītā
paśyatyacakṣuḥ sa śṛṇotyakarnaḥ| sa vetti viśvaṁ nahi tasya vettā
tamāhuragryaṁ puruṣaṁ purāṇam||23||*

Word for word: apāṇi-padah — without hands and feet; javanah — swift; grahita — grasping; pashyati — sees; achakshuh — eyeless; sah — He; shrinoti — hears; akarnah — earless; sah — He; vetti — knows; vishvam — the universe; na hi — but not; tasya — of Him; vetta — a knower; tam — Him; ahuh — they call; agryam — the foremost; purusham — Person; puranam — primeval.

23. "Without hands and feet, He is swift and grasps; without eyes He sees, without ears He hears; He knows the universe, but no one knows Him; Him they call the foremost, primeval Person⁵."

Verse 24

इति वेदवचो देवो हसन्नेवाभ्यभाषत। नहि जानाति वेदो मामिति निश्चितमेव हि॥२४॥

*iti vedavaco devo hasannevābhyabhāṣata|
nahi jānāti vedo māmiti niścitateva hi||24||*

Word for word: iti — thus; veda-vachah — the words of the Veda; devah — the Lord; hasan eva — laughing; abhyabhashata — recited; na hi — not at all; janati — knows; vedah — the Veda; mam — Me; iti — thus; nishchitam — certain; eva hi — indeed.

24. Having recited these words of the Veda with a laugh, the Lord said: "The Veda does not know Me at all — that is certain."

Verse 25

अम्बष्ठः प्राह भगवन्करुणां कर्तुमर्हसि। तं प्राह भगवान्देवः प्रेमा मयि दयामयः॥२५॥

*ambaṣṭhaḥ prāha bhagavankaruṇāṁ kartumarhasi|
taṁ prāha bhagavāndevaḥ premā mayi dayāmayah||25||*

Word for word: ambashthah — the Ambashtha; praha — said; bhagavan — O Bhagavan; karunam — mercy; kartum arhasi — please show; tam — to him; praha — said; bhagavan — Bhagavan; devah — the Lord; prema — love; mayi — for Me; daya-mayah — the merciful.

25. The Ambashtha⁶ said: "O Bhagavan, be merciful to me!" The merciful Bhagavan answered him: "(May you have) love for Me."

Verse 26

इत्युक्त्वा स स्मितमुखो जगाम निजमन्दिरम्। श्रीमान्विश्वम्भरो देवो हरिकीर्तनतत्परः॥२६॥

*ityuktva sa smitamukho jagāma nijamandiram|
śrīmānviśvambharo devo harikīrtanatatparah||26||*

Word for word: iti — thus; uktva — having said; sah — He; smita-mukhah — with a smiling face; jagama — went; nija-mandiram — to His own house; shriman — the beautiful; vishvambharah — Vishvambhara; devah — the Lord; hari-kirtana-tatparah — devoted to Hari's kirtana.

26. Having said this, the beautiful Lord Vishvambhara, devoted to Hari's kirtana, went home with a smile.

Verse 27

अपरेद्युः पण्डितस्य श्रीवासस्य पुरे वसन्।
व्याख्यां चकार श्लोकस्य वक्ष्यमाणस्य तच्छृणु॥२७॥

*aparedyuh paṇḍitasya śrīvāsasya pure vasan|
vyākhyāṁ cakāra ślokasya vakṣyamāṇasya tacchrṇu||27||*

Word for word: aparedyuh — the next day; panditasya — of the Pandita; shrivasasya — Srivasa; pure — in the house; vasan — staying; vyakhyam — an explanation; chakara — gave; shlokasya — of the verse; vakshyamanasya — to be cited; tat — that; shrinu — hear.

27. The next day, while at the house of Srivasa Pandita, He explained a verse which I shall now quote — listen:

Verse 28

हरेर्नाम हरेर्नाम हरेर्नामैव केवलम्।
कलौ नास्त्येव नास्त्येव नास्त्येव गतिरन्यथा॥२८॥

*harernāma harernāma harernāmaiva kevalam|
kalau nāstyeva nāstyeva nāstyeva gatiranyathā||28||*

Word for word: hareh nama — the name of Hari; hareh nama — the name of Hari; hareh nama eva — the name of Hari alone; kevalam — solely; kalau — in Kali; na asti eva — there is none; na asti eva — there is none; na asti eva — there is none; gatih — way; anyatha — other.

28. "The name of Hari, the name of Hari, the name of Hari alone is the only one! In Kali there is no, no, no other way⁷."

Verse 29

ना पुमानादिपुरुषः कलावस्त्येव रूपवान्।
नामस्वरूपिणं तं तु जानीहि स तु केवलम्॥२९॥

*nā pumānādipurushaḥ kalāvastyeva rūpavān|
nāmasvarūpiṇaṁ taṁ tu jānīhi sa tu kevalam||29||*

Word for word: na — "na" (person); puman — a man; adi-purushah — the Original Person; kalau — in Kali; asti eva — is present indeed; rupavan — possessing form; nama-svarupinam — as having the Name for His form; tam — Him; tu — and; janihi — know; sah — He; tu — and; kevalam — "alone."

29. "'Na' is the man, the Original Person, who in Kali is present possessing form. Know, then, that His form is the Name; He is the 'only one'⁸.

Verse 30

वारत्रयं हरेर्नाम दृढार्थं सर्वदेहिनाम्। एवकारश्च जीवानां पापानां नाशहेतवे॥३०॥

*vāratrayam harernāma dṛḍhārtham sarvadehinām|
evakāraśca jīvānām pāpānām nāśahetave||30||*

Word for word: vara-trayam — three times; hareh nama — "the name of Hari"; dridha-artham — for confirmation; sarva-dehinam — for all embodied beings; eva-karah — the word "eva"; cha — and; jivanam — of living beings; papanam — of the sins; nasha-hetave — for the destruction.

30. Three times 'the name of Hari' — to confirm (the truth) for all embodied beings; and the word 'eva' ('alone') — to destroy the sins of living beings.

Verse 31

सर्वतत्त्वप्रकाशार्थं केवलं मन्यते च हि। प्रारब्धकर्मनिर्वाणं कथ्यतेऽद्वैतवादिभिः॥३१॥

*sarvatattvaparakāśārtham kevalam manyate ca hi|
prārabdhakarmanirvāṇam kathyate'dvaitavādibhiḥ||31||*

Word for word: sarva-tattva-prakasha-artham — as revealing all truths; kevalam — "kevalam"; manyate — is understood; cha hi — indeed; prarabdha-karma-nirvanam — the extinction of karma already bearing fruit; kathyate — is said; advaita-vadibhiḥ — by the proponents of non-duality.

31. 'The only one' is understood as revealing all truths; whereas the proponents of non-duality say it is the extinction of karma already bearing fruit.

Verse 32

भवेदिति च बोधार्थं कैवल्यं केवलं स्मृतम्। कृष्णप्रेमरसास्वादप्रापकं करुणामयम्॥३२॥

*bhavediti ca bodhārtham kaivalyam kevalam smṛtam|
kṛṣṇapremarasāsvādaprapakam karuṇāmayam||32||*

Word for word: bhavet — "may it be"; iti — thus; cha — and; bodha-artham — in order to understand; kaivalyam — "kaivalya"; kevalam — "kevalam"; smritam — is held to be; krishna-prema-rasa-asvada-prapakam — bestowing the taste of the rasa of love for Krishna; karuna-mayam — full of mercy.

32. Supplying 'may it be,' they take 'the only one' to mean liberation, kaivalya; but (the Name) is full of mercy and bestows the taste of the rasa of love for Krishna.

Verse 33

तत्स्वरूपं हरेर्नाम योऽन्यदेव वदेत्पुमान्।
तस्य नास्त्येव नास्त्येव गतिरित्यवदत्स्वयम्॥३३॥

*tatsvarūpaṁ harernāma yo'nyadeva vadetpumān|
tasya nāstyeva nāstyeva gatirityavadatsvayam||33||*

Word for word: tat-svarupam — His very form; hareh nama — the name of Hari; yah — who; anyat eva — otherwise; vadet — says; puman — a man; tasya — for him; na asti eva — there is none; na asti eva — there is none; gatih — way; iti — thus; avadat — said; svayam — Himself.

33. The name of Hari is His very form. Whoever says otherwise has no, no way," — so He Himself said.

Verse 34

इत्यसौ शूकरो ब्रूते सर्वदेवमयः पुमान्। इत्युक्त्वा नर्तनं चक्रे कीर्तनं च विशेषतः॥३४॥

ityasau śūkaro brūte sarvadevamayaḥ pumān|
ityuktva nartanaṁ cakre kīrtanaṁ ca viśeṣataḥ||34||

Word for word: iti — thus; asau — this; shukarah — Boar; brute — says; sarva-deva-mayah — comprising all the gods; puman — the Person; iti — thus; uktva — having said; nartanam — dance; chakre — performed; kirtanam — kirtana; cha — and; visheshatah — especially.

34. "So says this Boar, the Person who comprises all the gods" — having said this, He began to dance, and above all to sing kirtana.

Verse 35

एतद्यः शृणुयान्नित्यं कीर्तयेद्वा समाहितः। हरौ प्रेमा भवेत्तस्य विपाप्मा च भवेद्ध्रुवम्॥३५॥

etadyaḥ śṛṇuyānnityaṁ kīrtayedvā samāhitaḥ|
harau premā bhavettasya vipāpmā ca bhaveddhruvam||35||

Word for word: etat — this; yah — who; shrinuyat — hears; nityam — constantly; kirtayet — recounts; va — or; samahitah — attentively; harau — for Hari; prema — love; bhavet — will be; tasya — his; vipapma — sinless; cha — and; bhavet — will become; dhruvam — surely.

35. Whoever constantly and attentively hears or recounts this will surely come to love Hari and will become free from sin;

Verse 36

श्रीमच्चैतन्यपादाब्जे प्रभुबुद्धिर्दृढा भवेत्। अन्ते चैतन्यदेवस्य स्मृतिर्भवति शाश्वती॥३६॥

śrīmaccaitanya-pādābje prabhubuddhirḍṛḍhā bhavet|
ante caitanyadevasya smṛtirbhavati śāśvatī||36||

Word for word: shrinach-chaitanya-pada-abje — at the lotus feet of Sri Chaitanya; prabhu-buddhih — the awareness (of Him) as Lord; dridha — firm; bhavet — will be; ante — at the end; chaitanya-devasya — of Chaitanya-deva; smritih — remembrance; bhavati — comes; shashvati — unfailing.

36. at the lotus feet of Sri Chaitanya his awareness that He is the Lord will become firm, and at the end of life unfailing remembrance of Chaitanya-deva will come to him.

Thus ends the second sarga, "Absorption in the Boar" (Varaha-avesha), in the description of Chaitanya's descent, of the second prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Kamala is Lakshmi, the consort of Vishnu.

2. Sri Rama (Ramai Pandita) was Srivasa's younger brother.

3. A vaidya is a member of the physician caste. Mukunda Datta was a vaidya; "another vaidya" is apparently the author himself, Murari Gupta.

4. Bhagavad-gita 10.15.
5. Shvetashvatara Upanishad 3.19 (as the poem reads it).
6. Ambashtha is the name of the vaidya caste; here, Murari.
7. A verse of the Brihan-naradiya Purana. In verses 29–33 the Lord comments on its words.
8. "Na" (nā) means "man, person"; the explanation apparently plays on the beginning of the word nama ("name"). The sense of verses 29–32 is unclear in places; the translation is tentative.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 3. Dispelling the Clouds

The gods come to serve the Lord; He grants boons to His devotees and prema to Shuklambara; Gadadhara's service; the Lord dispels the clouds that hindered the kirtana, while the gods look on from the sky

Verse 1

अथ प्रविष्टो निजवेशमनि प्रभु- र्बभौ निशानाथसहस्ररोचिषा।
 उवाच चात्रैत्य वसन्ति के जना- श्चतुर्मुखः षण्मुखपञ्चवक्त्रिणः॥१॥ atha praviṣṭo nijaveśmani prabhu-rbabhau niśānāthasahasrarociṣā| uvāca cātraitya vasanti ke janā-ścaturmukhaḥ ṣaṇmukhapañcavaktriṇaḥ||1||

Word for word: atha — then; pravishtah — having entered; nija-veshmani — His own house; prabhuh — the Lord; babhau — shone; nisha-natha-sahasra-rochisha — with the light of a thousand moons; uvacha — said; cha — and; atra — here; etya — having come; vasanti — are staying; ke — who; janah — beings; chatur-mukhah — four-faced; shan-mukha-pancha-vaktrinah — six-faced and five-faced.

1. Then the Lord entered His house and shone with the light of a thousand moons. And He said: "Who are these beings who have come and are staying here — the four-faced one, the six-faced and the five-faced?"¹

Verse 2

श्रीवासनामा द्विजवर्यसत्तमः
 श्रुत्वावदत्तं विबुधाः समागताः।
 ब्रह्मेश्वरौ षड्वदनादयः प्रभो त्वां सेवितुं प्रेमरसामृताब्धिम्॥२॥

*śrīvāsanāmā dvijavaryasattamaḥ
 śrutvāvadattaṁ vibudhāḥ samāgatāḥ| brahmeśvarau ṣaḍvadanādayaḥ prabho
 tvāṁ sevituṁ premarasāmṛtābhim||2||*

Word for word: shrivasa-nama — named Srivasa; dvija-varya-sattamah — the best of the best brahmanas; shrutva — having heard; avadat — said; tam — to Him; vibudhah — the gods; samagatah — have come; brahma-ishvarau — Brahma and Ishvara (Shiva); shad-vadana-adayah — the Six-faced and others; prabho — O Lord; tvam — You; sevitur — to serve; prema-rasa-amrita-abdhim — the ocean of the nectar of the rasa of love.

2. Hearing this, the best of the best brahmanas, named Srivasa, said to Him: "The gods have come — Brahma and Shiva, the Six-faced one and others — O Lord, to serve You, the ocean of the nectar of the rasa of love."

Verse 3

ततः परदिने प्राप्ते शुद्धदेवो वरासने।
उपविश्य स्वभक्तस्य गात्रे पद्भ्यां समस्पृशत्॥३॥

*tataḥ paradine prāpte śuddhadevo varāsane|
upaviśya svabhaktasya gātre padbhyāṁ samasprśat||3||*

3. The next day the pure Lord sat on an exalted seat and touched the bodies of His devotees with His feet.

Verse 4

श्रीवासपण्डिताद्यास्ते प्रणम्य शिरसा हरिम्। वव्रुस्तच्चरणे भक्तिं प्रेमरूपां सुदुर्लभाम्॥४॥

*śrīvāsapāṇḍitādyāste praṇamya śirasā harim|
vavrustaccaraṇe bhaktiṁ premarūpāṁ sudurlabhām||4||*

Word for word: shrivasa-pandita-adyah — Srivasa Pandita and the others; te — they; pranamya — having bowed; shirasa — with their heads; harim — to Hari; vavruh — chose (asked for); tat-charane — for His feet; bhaktim — devotion; prema-rupam — in the form of love; sudurlabham — most rare.

4. Srivasa Pandita and the others, bowing their heads to Hari, asked for devotion to His feet — devotion in the form of love, so very rare.

Verse 5

ददौ तेभ्यो वरान्देवो यथेष्टान्भक्तवत्सलः।
शुक्लाम्बरब्रह्मचारी तमूचे पुरुषर्षभम्॥५॥

Verse 27

येऽनेकजन्मकृतपुण्यसमुद्रसंख्या- स्ते कृष्णदेवसममेव नितान्तशान्ताः। नृत्यन्ति हर्षपुलकाश्रुभिरावृताङ्गा देवा यथाचलभिदा सुखिनो दिविष्ठाः॥२७॥

*ye'nekajanmakṛtapuṇyasamudrasaṁkhyāste kṛṣṇadevasamameva nitāntaśāntāḥ| nṛtyanti harṣapulakāśrubhirāvṛtāṅgā
devā yathācalabhidā sukhino diviṣṭhāḥ||27||*

Word for word: ye — those who; aneka-janma-krita-punya-samudra-sankhyah — whose merits, done in many births, are countless as the ocean; te — they; krishna-deva-samam eva — together with Lord Krishna; nitanta-shantah — utterly at peace; nrityanti — dance; harsha-pulaka-ashrubhih — with thrills of joy and tears; avritangah — their limbs covered; devah — the gods; yatha — as; achala-bhida — with the Splitter of mountains (Indra); sukhinah — happy; divishthah — dwelling in heaven.

27. Those whose merits, earned over many births, are countless as the waters of the ocean, now utterly at peace, dance together with Lord Krishna, covered with thrills of joy and tears, like the happy gods in heaven with the Splitter of mountains⁵.

Thus ends the third sarga, "Dispelling the Clouds" (Megha-nivarana), of the second prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. The four-faced one is Brahma; the six-faced is Skanda (Karttikeya), Shiva's son; the five-faced is Shiva.
2. The river of the gods is the Ganga.
3. The mandira is a pair of small brass cymbals that keep the rhythm in kirtana.
4. That is, the auspicious "ulu-ulu" sound with which Bengali women greet a festive occasion.
5. The Splitter of mountains is Indra, king of the gods.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 4. Immersion in the Heavenly River

Shuklambara's ecstasy; the Lord's dances and play; the parable of the conjurer; instructions to Mukunda and Murari; the service of Srivasa and Rama; the Lord bathes in the Ganga after hearing Krishna's name reviled

Verse 1

Word for word: tataḥ — then; provacha — said; bhagavan — Bhagavan; mukunda-ambashtham — Mukunda the Ambashtha; agrataḥ — before (Him); sthitam — standing; prekshya — seeing; tvaya — by you; kim nu — is it that; brahma-vidya — knowledge of Brahman; nija — your own; uchyate — is expounded.

12. Then, seeing Mukunda the Ambashtha² standing before Him, Bhagavan said: "Can it be that you are expounding a knowledge of Brahman of your own?"

Verse 13

इत्युक्त्वा स पपाठेदं श्लोकं स्वयमरिन्दमः। श्रीरामनाममाहात्म्यं गूढवेदार्थसंग्रहम्॥१३॥

ityuktva sa papāṭhedaṁ ślokaṁ svayamarindamaḥ|
śrīrāmanāmāhātmyaṁ gūḍhavedārthasaṁgraham||13||

Word for word: iti — thus; ukta — having said; saḥ — He; papatha — recited; idam — this; shlokaṁ — verse; svayam — Himself; arin-damah — the Subduer of foes; shri-rama-nama-mahatmyam — on the glory of the name of Sri Rama; gudha-veda-artha-sangraham — containing the hidden meaning of the Vedas.

13. Having said this, the Subduer of foes Himself recited a verse on the glory of the name of Sri Rama, containing the hidden meaning of the Vedas:

Verse 14

रमन्ते योगिनोऽनन्ते सत्यानन्दचिदात्मनि। इति रामपदेनासौ परं ब्रह्माभिधीयते॥१४॥

ramante yogino'nante satyānandacidātmani|
iti rāmapadenāsau paraṁ brahmābhidhīyate||14||

14. "The yogis take delight in the Infinite, whose nature is truth, bliss and consciousness; therefore the Supreme Brahman is designated by the word 'Rama'³."

Verse 15

पुनः प्रोक्तं भगवता तं वैद्यमनुशासता। चतुर्भुजस्य यद्व्यानं तद्वरं परिकीर्तितम्॥१५॥

punaḥ proktaṁ bhagavatā taṁ vaidyaṁanuśāsataḥ|
caturbhujasya yaddhyānaṁ tadvaraṁ parikīrtitaṁ||15||

Word for word: punah — again; proktam — it was said; bhagavata — by Bhagavan; tam — that; vaidyam — vaidya; anushasata — instructing; chatur-bhujasya — of the Four-armed; yat — which; dhyanam — meditation; tat — that; varam — best; parikirtitam — is declared.

15. And again Bhagavan, instructing that vaidya, said: "You hold that meditation on the Four-armed is the best,

Verse 16

द्विभुजस्य तु यद्ध्यानं तन्न्यूनमिति ते मतम्। परमेश्वरभेदेन केवलं दुःखमेव हि॥१६॥

*dvi-bhujasya tu yaddhyānam tannyūnamiti te matam|
parameśvarabhedena kevalam duḥkhameva hi||16||*

Word for word: dvi-bhujasya — of the Two-armed; tu — but; yat — which; dhyanam — meditation; tat — that; nyunam — inferior; iti — thus; te — your; matam — opinion; parameshvara-bhedena — by making distinctions in the Supreme Lord; kevalam — only; duhkham — misery; eva hi — indeed.

16. and that meditation on the Two-armed is inferior. But making distinctions in the Supreme Lord brings nothing but misery.

Verse 17

यद्यात्मनो हितं वेत्ति तदा यत्नपुरःसरम्। द्विभुजध्यानमेव त्वं कुरु सर्वफलप्रदम्॥१७॥

*yadyātmano hitam vetsi tadā yatnapurāḥsaram|
dvi-bhujadhyānameva tvam kuru sarvaphalapradam||17||*

Word for word: yadi — if; atmanah — for yourself; hitam — the good; vetsi — you know; tada — then; yatna-purāḥsaram — with diligence; dvi-bhuj-dhyanam — meditation on the Two-armed; eva — alone; tvam — you; kuru — practise; sarva-phala-pradam — granting all fruits.

17. If you know what is good for you, then diligently meditate on the Two-armed alone: it grants all fruits."

Verse 18

ततः प्रोवाच तं देवं मुकुन्दो नम्रकन्धरः। गौराङ्गचरणाम्भोजमधुपो गायकोत्तमः॥१८॥

*tataḥ provāca taṁ devam mukundo namrakandharah|
gaurāṅgacaraṇāmbhojamadhupo gāyakottamah||18||*

Word for word: tatah — then; provacha — said; tam — to that; devam — Lord; mukundah — Mukunda; namra-kandharah — with bowed neck; gauranga-charana-ambhoja-madhupah — a bee at the lotus feet of Gauranga; gayaka-uttamah — the best of singers.

18. Then Mukunda, the best of singers, a bee at the lotus feet of Gauranga, bowing his neck, said to the Lord:

Verse 19

स्नातं मया सुरनदीपयसि प्रकामं

*karnau karābhyāṁ vinidhāya devaḥ
śiṣyairupeto dyunadīm jagāma| snātvā sacelaḥ saha śiṣyavargai-rupāgamatkelinidhirgṛhaṁ svam||34||*

Word for word: karnau — the ears; karabhyam — with His hands; vinidhaya — covering; devah — the Lord; shishyaiḥ — by His students; upetah — accompanied; dyunadim — to the heavenly river; jagama — went; snatva — having bathed; sa-chelah — with His clothes on; saha shishya-vargaiḥ — with all His students; upagamat — returned; keli-nidhiḥ — the treasury of play; griham — to the house; svam — His own.

34. the Lord covered His ears with His hands and, accompanied by His students, went to the heavenly river⁷; having bathed with His clothes on, together with all His students, He, the treasury of play, returned to His home.

Verse 35

पठेद्य इत्थं द्युनदीनिमज्जनं
हरेर्लभेत्सोऽपि क्रतोः फलं नरः।
हरौ च भक्तिं विमलां स्मृतिं च प्राप्नोति शृण्वन्नपि तत्फलं नरः॥३५॥

*paṭhedy itthaṁ dyunadīnimajjanam
harerlabhetso'pi kratoh phalaṁ naraḥ| harau ca bhaktiṁ vimalāṁ smṛtiṁ ca
prāpnoti śṛṇvannapi tatphalaṁ naraḥ||35||*

Word for word: pathet — reads; yah — who; ittham — thus; dyunadi-nimajjanam — the immersion in the heavenly river; hareh — of Hari; labhet — will obtain; sah api — he; kratoh — of a sacrifice; phalam — the fruit; narah — the man; harau — for Hari; cha — and; bhaktim — devotion; vimalam — pure; smritim — remembrance; cha — and; prapnoti — obtains; shrinvan — hearing; api — even; tat-phalam — that fruit; narah — a man.

35. Whoever reads thus of Hari's immersion in the heavenly river will obtain the fruit of a sacrifice; and even one who hears it obtains that fruit — pure devotion to Hari and remembrance of Him.

Thus ends the fourth sarga, "Immersion in the Heavenly River" (Dyunadi-majjana), of the second prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Mathura is the place of Krishna's birth and pastimes.
2. Mukunda Datta, the celebrated kirtana singer; Ambashtha is the caste of the vaidyas (physicians).
3. A verse of the Padma Purana, also quoted in the Chaitanya-charitamrita (Madhya 9.29).
4. Literally, "perform the abhisheka (consecration) into the office of servant," as at a royal coronation.
5. Verse 24 is syntactically unclear; the translation is tentative. The Lord's reply (vv. 25–26) is understood as His blessing on Murari to tell of His descent — that is, to compose this poem.
6. Kapila is the sage, a descent of Vishnu, the teacher of the Sankhya doctrine.
7. The heavenly river is the Ganga.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 5. The Telling of Ecstasy

The Lord goes with His devotees to Advaita in Shantipura; their meeting; a discourse on bhakti in the Kali age; a non-Vaishnava at the festival; pastimes in Advaita's house; instruction in jnana-yoga and the praise of pure devotion

Verse 1

ततो जगाम पुर्यां स श्रीवासादिभिरन्वितः। अद्वैताचार्यवर्यस्य भक्तस्य दर्शनोत्सुकः॥१॥

*tato jagāma puryām sa śrīvāsādibhiranvitaḥ|
advaitācāryavaryasya bhaktasya darśanotsukah||1||*

Word for word: tatah — then; jagama — went; puryam — to the town; sah — He; shrivasa-adibhih — by Srivasa and others; anvitaḥ — accompanied; advaita-acharya-varyasya — of Advaita, the best of acharyas; bhaktasya — of the devotee; darshana-utsukah — eager for the sight.

1. Then, accompanied by Srivasa and others, He set out for the town, eager to see His devotee Advaita, the best of acharyas.

Verse 2

गच्छन्पथि मुहुर्गायन्हरेर्गीतं मुदान्वितः। क्वचिन्नृत्यति नृत्यद्भिः स्वजनैः सह स प्रभुः॥२॥

*gacchanpathi muhurgāyanharergītaṁ mudānvitaḥ|
kvacinṇṛtyati nṛtyadbhiḥ svajanaiḥ saha sa prabhuḥ||2||*

2. On the way the Lord, full of joy, sang songs of Hari again and again, and at times He broke into dance together with His own people, who danced as well.

Verse 3

ततो गत्वा पपातोर्व्यामाचार्यस्य समीपतः। दण्डवद्वैष्णवं विष्णुं मन्यमानोऽनुशिक्षयन्॥३॥

*tato gatvā papātorvyāmācāryasya samīpataḥ|
daṇḍavadvaiṣṇavaṁ viṣṇuṁ manyamāno'nuśikṣayan||3||*

Word for word: tatah — then; gatva — having come; papata — fell; urvyam — on the earth; acharyasya — of the Acharya; samipatah — near; dandavat — like a stick; vaishnavam — a Vaishnava; vishnum — as Vishnu; manyamanah — regarding; anushikshayan — teaching.

3. On arriving, He fell to the earth like a stick before the Acharya: regarding a Vaishnava as Vishnu Himself, He taught this to others.

Verse 4

तं दृष्ट्वा सहसोत्थायाचार्यस्तु तत्समीपतः। गत्वा पपात भूमौ स सम्भ्रमेण जगद्गुरुः॥४॥

*taṁ dr̥ṣṭvā sahasotthāyācāryastu tatsamīpataḥ|

4. Seeing Him, the Acharya, the teacher of the world, at once rose, came up to Him in reverent agitation, and he too fell to the ground.

Verse 5

अन्योन्यालिङ्गनं कृत्वा प्रेमोत्कण्ठौ बभूवतुः। कम्पाश्रुपुलकाद्यैस्तु परिपूर्णस्वविग्रहौ॥५॥

*anyonyāliṅganam kṛtvā premoṭkaṇṭhau babhūvatuḥ|
kampaśrupulakādyaiṣṭu paripūrṇasvavigrahaḥ||5||*

Word for word: anyonya-alinganam — a mutual embrace; kṛtvā — having made; prema-utkanthau — longing in love; babhuvatuḥ — both became; kampa-ashru-pulaka-adyaih — with trembling, tears, thrilling of the hair and the rest; tu — and; paripurna-sva-vigrahaḥ — their bodies filled.

5. They clasped each other in an embrace, and both were seized by the longing of love: their bodies were filled with trembling, tears, the thrill of the hair and the other signs of ecstasy.

Verse 6

उपविश्य ततो देवः कथां चक्रे हरेः प्रियाम्। मनोहरां पापहरां मुक्तिप्रेमफलप्रदाम्॥६॥

*upaviśya tato devaḥ kathāṁ cakre hareḥ priyām|
manoharāṁ pāpaharāṁ muktīpremaphalapradām||6||*

Word for word: upavishya — sitting; tatah — then; devah — the Lord; katham — a discourse; chakre — made; hareh — about Hari; priyam — dear; manoharam — captivating the mind; papa-haram — taking away sin; mukti-prema-phala-pradam — bestowing the fruits of liberation and love.

6. Then, sitting down, the Lord began a heart-endearing discourse on Hari — captivating the mind, taking away sin, bestowing the fruits of liberation and love.

Verse 7

ततोऽद्वैतोऽब्रवीद्वाक्यं भक्तिर्नास्ति कलौ क्षितौ। इति मूढा वदन्ते ये ते पश्यन्त्वद्य चक्षुषा॥७॥

tato'dvaito'bravīdvākyaṁ bhaktirnāsti kalau kṣitau|
iti mūḍhā vadante ye te paśyantvadya cakṣuṣā||7||

Word for word: tatah — then; advaitah — Advaita; abravīt — spoke; vakyam — a word; bhaktih — devotion; na asti — there is no; kalau — in Kali; kṣitau — on earth; iti — thus; mūḍhah — fools; vadante — say; ye — who; te — they; paśyantu — let them see; adya — today; chakshuṣa — with their eyes.

7. Advaita then said: "Those fools who claim that in the Kali age there is no devotion on earth — let them see it today with their own eyes!"

Verse 8

तच्छ्रुत्वा भगवानाह किञ्चित्प्रस्फुरिताधरः।
भक्तिश्चेन्नास्ति नृहरेः किं तदास्ति क्षिताविह॥८॥

tacchrutvā bhagavānāha kiñcitprasphuritādharaḥ|
bhaktiścennāsti nṛhareḥ kiṁ tadāsti kṣitāviha||8||

Word for word: tat — that; shrutva — hearing; bhagavan — Bhagavan; aha — said; kinchit — slightly; prasphurita-adharah — His lips trembling; bhaktih — devotion; chet — if; na asti — there is not; nṛhareh — to Nrihari; kim — what; tada — then; asti — is there; kṣitau — on earth; iha — here.

8. Hearing this, Bhagavan, His lips trembling slightly, said: "If there is no devotion to Nrihari, what then is there at all, here on earth?"

Verse 9

भक्तिरेवास्ति संसारे सर्वसारा सुखावहा।
सा नास्तीति च यो ब्रूते जन्म तस्य निरर्थकम्॥९॥ bhaktirevāsti saṁsāre sarvasārā sukhāvahā|

sā nāstīti ca yo brūte janma tasya nirarthakam||9||

Word for word: bhaktih — devotion; eva — alone; asti — is; samsare — in the world; sarva-sara — the essence of all; sukha-avaha — bringing happiness; sa — it; na asti — is not; iti — that; cha — and; yah — who; brute — says; janma — birth; tasya — his; nirarthakam — meaningless.

9. Devotion alone exists in this world — the essence of all, the bringer of happiness. And whoever says that it does not exist has been born in vain.

Verse 10

तस्मात्कृष्णे भक्तिरास्ते सुप्रसन्ना सनातनी।
यस्य स्यात्कर्मबन्धश्च नश्येत्प्रेमा हरौ भवेत्॥१०॥

tasmātkṛṣṇe bhaktirāste suprasannā sanātanī|
yasya syātkarmabandhaśca naśyetpremā harau bhavet||10||

Word for word: tasmāt — therefore; krishne — for Krishna; bhaktih — devotion; aste — abides; su-prasanna — serene; sanatani — eternal; yasya — whose; syat — it may be; karma-bandhah — the bondage of karma; cha — and; nashyet — will perish; prema — love; harau — for Hari; bhavet — will arise.

10. And so devotion to Krishna abides — serene and eternal; and for one who has it, the bonds of karma fall away and love for Hari is born."

Verse 11

ततोऽवदच्छ्रीनिवासो दृष्ट्वा कञ्चिदवैष्णवम्। द्विजं प्रस्फुटमेवाग्रे हरेः संसदि दुःखितः॥११॥

tato'vadacchrīnivāso dṛṣṭvā kañcidavaiṣṇavam|
dvijaṁ prasphuṭamevāgre hareḥ saṁsadi duḥkhitah||11||

Word for word: tatah — then; avadat — said; shrinivasah — Srinivasa; drishtva — seeing; kanchit — a certain; avaiṣṇavam — non-Vaishnava; dvijam — brahmana; prasphutam eva — quite plainly; agre — in front; hareh — of Hari; samsadi — in the assembly; duhkhitah — grieved.

11. Then Srinivasa, noticing in Hari's assembly, right in front, a certain brahmana who was plainly no Vaishnava, said in distress:

Verse 12

विघ्नं कृष्णोत्सवे कर्तुं द्विजोऽयं समुपागतः। तच्छ्रुत्वा भगवान्प्राह नायमत्रागमिष्यति॥१२॥

vighnaṁ kṛṣṇotsave kartuṁ dvijo'yaṁ samupāgataḥ|
tacchrutvā bhagavānpṛāha nāyamatrāgamiṣyati||12||

Word for word: vighnam — obstruction; krishna-utsave — in Krishna's festival; kartum — to make; dvijah — brahmana; ayam — this; samupagatah — has come; tat — that; shrutva — hearing; bhagavan — Bhagavan; praha — said; na — not; ayam — he; atra — here; agamishyati — will come.

12. "This brahmana has come to disrupt Krishna's festival." Hearing this, Bhagavan replied: "He will not come in here.

Verse 13

नास्त्यत्र तव विप्रेन्द्र चिन्ता काचित्सुखी भव। नायातस्तत्र विप्रोऽसौ विष्णुमायाविमोहितः॥१३॥

nāstyatra tava viprendra cintā kācitsukhī bhava|
nāyātastatra vipro'sau viṣṇumāyāvimohitaḥ||13||

Word for word: na asti — there is not; atra — in this; tava — for you; vipra-indra — O best of brahmanas; chinta — anxiety; kachit — any; sukhi — happy; bhava — be; na — not; ayatah — has come; tatra — there; viprah — brahmana; asau — that; vishnu-maya-vimohitah — bewildered by Vishnu's maya.

13. Have no anxiety over this, O best of brahmanas; be happy: bewildered by Vishnu's maya, that brahmana has not come here at all."

Verse 14

स्वयं शान्तिपुरं गत्वा दृष्ट्वा द्वैतमहेश्वरम्। ऐश्वर्यं कथयन्कृष्णपूणविशो बभूव ह॥१४॥

*svayam śāntipuram gatvā dr̥ṣṭvā dvaitamaheśvaram|
aiśvaryaṁ kathayankṛṣṇapūrṇāveśo babhūva ha||14||*

Word for word: svayam — Himself; shantipuram — to Shantipura; gatva — having gone; drishtva — having seen; advaita-maheshvaram — Advaita, the great lord; aishvaryam — majesty; kathayan — telling; krishna-purna-aveshah — wholly possessed by Krishna; babhuva — became; ha — indeed.

14. Having come Himself to Shantipura and seen Advaita, the great lord¹, the Lord, telling of Krishna's majesty, was wholly filled with Him.

Verse 15

ततः क्रीडापरो भूत्वा श्रीवासस्यांसदेशके। दत्त्वा सव्ये सव्यबाहुं वामं प्रादाद्गदधरे॥१५॥

*tataḥ krīḍāparo bhūtvā śrīvāsasyāṁśadeśake|
dattvā savye savyabāhuṁ vāmaṁ prādādgadādhare||15||*

Word for word: tatah — then; krida-parah — intent on play; bhutva — becoming; shrivasasya — of Srivasa; amsa-deshake — on the shoulder; dattva — placing; savye — on the right; savya-bahum — His right arm; vama — the left; pradat — placed; gadadhare — on Gadadhara.

15. Then, given over to play, He laid His right arm on Srivasa's right shoulder and His left on Gadadhara;

Verse 16

श्रीरामपण्डितस्याङ्के दत्त्वा पादाम्बुजं हरिः। तैः सार्धं मुमुदे श्रीमदद्वैताचार्यसन्निधौ॥१६॥

*śrīrāmapaṇḍitasyāṅke dattvā pādāmbujam hariḥ|
taiḥ sārḍham mumude śrīmadadvaitācāryasannidhau||16||*

Word for word: shri-rama-panditasya — of Sri Rama Pandita; anke — on the lap; dattva — placing; pada-ambujam — His lotus feet; hariḥ — Hari; taiḥ sardham — with them; mumude — rejoiced; shrimat-advaita-acharya-sannidhau — in the presence of Srimad Advaita Acharya.

16. placing His lotus feet in the lap of Sri Rama Pandita², Hari rejoiced with them in the presence of Srimad Advaita Acharya.

Verse 17

तत्र भुक्त्वा वरान्नं स चन्दनेनानुलेप्य च। गात्राणि हर्षयँल्लोकं जगौ कृष्णं ननर्त च॥१७॥

*tatra bhuktvā varānnam sa candanenānulepya ca|
gātrāṇi harṣayaṁllokaṁ jagau kṛṣṇam nanarta ca||17||*

Word for word: tatra — there; bhuktva — having eaten; vara-annam — choice food; sah — He; chandanena — with sandal paste; anulepya — having anointed; cha — and; gatrani — His limbs; harshayan — delighting; lokam — the people; jagau — sang of; krishnam — Krishna; nanarta — danced; cha — and.

17. There He ate choice food, anointed His limbs with sandal paste, and, delighting the people, sang of Krishna and danced.

Verse 18

आचार्यो बुबुधे पूर्णमात्मानमाशिषा बुधः।
दृष्ट्वा श्रीगौरचन्द्रस्य प्रेमानन्दमहोत्सवम्॥१८॥

ācāryo bubudhe pūrṇamātmānamāśiṣā budhaḥ|
dṛṣṭvā śrīgauracandrasya premānandamahotsavam||18||

Word for word: acharyah — the Acharya; bubudhe — deemed; purnam — fulfilled; atmanam — himself; ashisha — by the blessing; budhah — the wise; drishtva — seeing; shri-gaurachandrasya — of Sri Gaurachandra; prema-ananda-maha-utsavam — the great festival of the bliss of love.

18. The wise Acharya, beholding the great festival of Sri Gaurachandra's bliss of love, felt himself fulfilled by grace.

Verse 19

आचार्येण समं कृष्णः कीर्तयन्स जगद्गुरुः। क्रीडित्वा देववत्तत्र पुनरागान्निजालयम्॥१९॥

ācāryeṇa samam kṛṣṇaḥ kīrtayansa jagadguruḥ|
krīḍitvā devavattatra punarāgānnijālayam||19||

Word for word: acharyena samam — together with the Acharya; krishnah — Krishna; kirtayan — performing kirtana; sah — He; jagat-guruh — the Teacher of the world; kriditva — having played; deva-vat — like a god; tatra — there; punah — again; agat — returned; nija-alayam — to His own home.

19. Krishna, the Teacher of the world, having performed kirtana with the Acharya and played there like a god, then returned to His own home.

Verse 20

ततः सोऽध्यात्मतत्त्वार्थं वक्तुमारेभ ईश्वरः। एक एव हरिः स्वामी व्यष्टिरूपतया स्थितः॥२०॥

tataḥ so'dhyātmatattvārtham vaktumārebha īśvaraḥ|
eka eva hariḥ svāmī vyaṣṭirūpatayā sthitaḥ||20||

Word for word: tatah — then; sah — He; adhyatma-tattva-artham — the meaning of the truth of the Self; vaktum — to expound; arebhe — began; ishvarah — the Lord; ekah — one; eva — alone; harih — Hari; svami — the master; vyashti-rupataya — in the form of individuals; sthitah — abides.

20. Afterwards the Lord began to expound the meaning of the truth of the Self:³ "Hari alone is the master, and He abides in the form of individual beings.

Verse 21

संहृतः स्वयमेवैकस्तिष्ठत्यात्मा स्वयं प्रभुः।

सर्वस्यान्तर्बहिः साक्षी कारणानां च कारणम्॥२१॥

samhṛtaḥ svayamevaikastiṣṭhatyātmā svayaṁ prabhuḥ|
sarvasyāntarbahiḥ sākṣī kāraṇānāṁ ca kāraṇam||21||

Word for word: samhritah — having withdrawn (all) into Himself; svayam eva — Himself; ekah — alone; tishthati — remains; atma — the Self; svayam — Himself; prabhuh — the Lord; sarvasya — of everything; antah — within; bahih — without; sakshi — the witness; karananam — of causes; cha — and; karanam — the cause.

21. Having withdrawn all into Himself, He remains alone — the Self, the Lord Himself, the witness of all within and without, the cause of all causes."

Verse 22

इति हस्तं प्रसार्याशु मुष्टीकृत्य स्वयं पुनः।

करं स दर्शयामास नृत्यन्निव स ईश्वरः॥२२॥

iti hastam prasāryāśu muṣṭīkṛtya svayaṁ punaḥ|
karam sa darśayāmāsa nṛtyanniva sa īśvaraḥ||22||

Word for word: iti — so (saying); hastam — His hand; prasarya — opening; ashu — quickly; mushtikritya — clenching into a fist; svayam — Himself; punah — again; karam — the hand; sah — He; darshayam asa — showed; nrityan iva — as if dancing; sah — that; ishvarah — Lord.

22. So saying, the Lord quickly opened His hand, then Himself clenched it again into a fist, and showed His hand as if in a dance⁴.

Verse 23

पुनरूचे वचस्तत्त्वं सत्तामात्रस्वरूपिणम्।

भावोऽप्यनर्थकस्तत्र सद्वपमवधार्यताम्॥२३॥

punarūche vacastattvaṁ sattāmātrasvarūpiṇam|
bhāvo'pyanarthakastatra sadrūpamavadhāryatām||23||

Word for word: punah — again; uche — spoke; vachah — words; tattvam — on the truth; satta-matra-svarupinam — (on Him) whose nature is pure being; bhavah — becoming; api — even; anarthakah — meaningless; tatra — there; sat-rupam — the form of the Real; avadharyatam — let it be grasped.

23. Again He spoke of the truth — of Him whose nature is pure being: "There even becoming is meaningless; grasp the Real.

Verse 24

एकत्वं ब्रह्मणोऽपि स्यादेवं मूर्तिर्न सर्वथा।

अन्यस्य मूर्तिर्भवति विना तज्ज्ञानकारणात्॥२४॥

ekatvaṁ brahmaṇo'pi syādevaṁ mūrtirna sarvathā|
anyasya mūrtirbhavati vinā tajjñānakāraṇāt||24||

Word for word: ekatvam — oneness; brahmanah — of Brahman; api — indeed; syat — there is; evam — thus; murtih — a form; na — not; sarvatha — at all; anyasya — of another; murtih — a form; bhavati — arises; vina — without; tat-jnana-karanat — because of (lacking) that knowledge.

24. Brahman is one; therefore there is no other form at all. The form of 'another' arises only from the lack of this knowledge.

Verse 25

पश्याङ्गुली करस्थे मे ह्येका तत्र मधुप्लुता। जिह्वया तां लिहस्वाद्य तदन्या पूयसंप्लुता॥२५॥

*paśyāṅgulī karasthe me hyekā tatra madhuplutā|
jihvayā tām lihasvādya tadanyā pūyasamplutā||25||*

Word for word: pashya — see; anguli — two fingers; kara-sthe — on the hand; me — My; hi — for; eka — one; tatra — of them; madhu-pluta — smeared with honey; jihvaya — with the tongue; tam — it; lihasva — lick; adya — now; tat — but; anya — the other; puya-sampluta — smeared with pus.

25. Look at these two fingers of My hand: one is smeared with honey — lick it with your tongue; but the other is smeared with pus.

Verse 26

तां दृष्ट्वा घृणया चान्यं द्रष्टुं नोत्सहते क्षणम्। निर्भेदब्रह्मज्ञानाद्धि सर्वमेव सुलक्षणम्॥२६॥

*tām drṣṭvā ghrṇayā cānyam draṣṭum notsahate kṣaṇam|
nirbheda-brahmajñānāddhi sarvameva sulakṣaṇam||26||*

Word for word: tam — it; drishtva — seeing; ghrinaya — from disgust; cha — and; anyam — at the other; drashtum — to look; na utsahate — cannot bear; kshanam — for a moment; nirbheda-brahma-jnanat — from the knowledge of Brahman without distinctions; hi — but; sarvam eva — everything; su-lakshanam — is of auspicious mark.

26. Seeing that one, you cannot in your disgust bear to look at the other even for a moment. Yet to one who knows Brahman without distinctions, everything is fair.

Verse 27

एवमेकोऽपि भगवाननादिः पुरुषोऽव्ययः। सामग्रीरसतो जीवो मुक्तो भवति नान्यथा॥२७॥

*evameko'pi bhagavānanādiḥ puruṣo'vyayaḥ|
sāmagrīrasato jīvo mukto bhavati nānyathā||27||*

Word for word: evam — thus; ekah — one; api — indeed; bhagavan — Bhagavan; anadih — beginningless; purushah — the Person; avyayah — imperishable; samagri-rasatah — from relishing the whole; jivah — the soul; mukta — liberated; bhavati — becomes; na anyatha — not otherwise.

27. So too Bhagavan is one — the beginningless, imperishable Person; and the soul is liberated by relishing the whole⁵ — not otherwise."

Verse 28

एवं बहुप्रकारं स ज्ञानयोगं दयानिधिः। उक्त्वा तु विरामार्यहृदयस्थपदाम्बुजः॥२८॥

*evam bahuprakāraṁ sa jñānayogaṁ dayānidhiḥ|
uktvā tu virarāmāryahṛdayasthapadāmbujah||28||*

Word for word: evam — thus; bahu-prakaram — in many ways; sah — He; jnana-yogam — jnana-yoga; daya-nidhih — the treasury of mercy; uktva — having expounded; tu — then; virarama — fell silent; arya-hridaya-stha-pada-ambujah — whose lotus feet dwell in the hearts of the noble.

28. Thus, having expounded jnana-yoga in many ways, He fell silent — the treasury of mercy, whose lotus feet dwell in the hearts of the noble.

Verse 29

श्रावयित्वा ततो ज्ञानं ज्ञानगम्यं जगत्पतिम्।

कृष्णं ज्ञात्वा तत्पदाब्जं स्मृत्वा पुलकमुद्वहन्॥२९॥

śrāvayitvā tato jñānaṁ jñānagamyam jagatpatim|
kṛṣṇaṁ jñātvā tatpadābjaṁ smṛtvā pulakamudvahan||29||

Word for word: shravayitva — having made them hear; tatah — then; jnanam — knowledge; jnana-gamyam — attainable by knowledge; jagat-patim — the Lord of the world; krishnam — Krishna; jnatva — knowing; tat-pada-abjam — His lotus feet; smritva — remembering; pulakam — the thrill of the hair; udvahan — bearing.

29. Then, having let them hear this knowledge, the Lord of the world realized Krishna — the Master of the universe, attainable by knowledge — and, remembering His lotus feet, thrilled all over;

Verse 30

भक्तिरेव समुत्कृष्टा कृष्णप्रेमप्रकाशिनी।

इत्येवाह सदोत्कण्ठो गद्गदं जगदीश्वरः॥३०॥

bhaktireva samutkṛṣṭā kṛṣṇapremaprakāśinī|
ityevāha sadotkanṭho gadgadam jagadīśvaraḥ||30||

Word for word: bhaktih — devotion; eva — alone; samutkrishta — supreme; krishna-prema-prakashini — revealing love for Krishna; iti — thus; eva — indeed; aha — said; sada-utkanthah — ever longing; gadgadam — in a faltering voice; jagat-ishvarah — the Lord of the world.

30. and, filled with unending longing, He said in a faltering voice: "Devotion alone is supreme, for it reveals love for Krishna."

Verse 31

प्रेमाश्रुकण्ठो भगवानिदं वचनमब्रवीत्।

द्रुतचित्तो गद्गदवाग्रोदित्यलं हसत्यपि॥३१॥

premāśrukanṭho bhagavānidaṁ vacanamabravīt|

31. His throat choked with tears of love, Bhagavan spoke these words: "His heart melted, his speech faltering, My devotee weeps freely, and laughs,

Verse 32

नृत्यत्यलं गायति च मद्भक्तो भुवनत्रयम्। पुनाति पाति सततं सर्वापद्भ्यो दिवानिशम्॥३२॥

*nṛtyatyalam gāyati ca madbhakto bhuvanatrāyam|
punāti pāti satatam sarvāpadbhyo divāniśam||32||*

Word for word: nṛtyati — dances; alam — abundantly; gayati — sings; cha — and; mat-bhaktah — My devotee; bhuvana-trayam — the three worlds; punati — purifies; pati — protects; satatam — constantly; sarva-apadbhyah — from all calamities; diva-nisham — day and night.

32. and freely dances and sings — and so, ceaselessly, day and night, he purifies the three worlds and guards them from every calamity."⁶

Verse 33

इत्युक्त्वा हृष्टमनसा ननर्त स्वजनैः सह। श्रीमद्विश्वम्भरो देवो निजभक्तिप्रकाशकः॥३३॥

*ityuktva hrṣṭamanasā nanarta svajanaiḥ saha|
śrīmadviśvambharo devo nijabhaktiprakāśakah||33||*

Word for word: iti — thus; uktva — having spoken; hrishta-manasa — with a joyful heart; nanarta — danced; svajanaiḥ saha — with His own people; shrīmat-viśhvambharah — Sriman Vishvambhara; devah — the Lord; nija-bhakti-prakashakah — the revealer of devotion to Himself.

33. So saying, Sriman Vishvambhara, the Lord who reveals devotion to Himself, danced with a joyful heart together with His own people.

Thus ends the fifth sarga, "The Telling of Ecstasy" (Bhava-kathana), of the second prakrama of the great poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Advaita Acharya is revered as a descent of Mahavishnu, one with Sadashiva; hence the epithet "great lord" (maheshvara).
2. Sri Rama Pandita (Ramai) is Srivasa's younger brother.
3. Verses 20–27 expound jnana-yoga, the path of knowledge (cf. v. 28); after this the Lord proclaims devotion supreme (vv. 30–32).
4. The opened palm and clenched fist depict the manifestation of the world and its withdrawal into the Lord.
5. Literally, "from the taste of the totality" (samagri-rasa); the sense is unclear and the translation tentative.
6. Cf. Bhagavata Purana 11.14.24, where Krishna likewise describes the devotee who purifies the world.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 6. [The Greatness of Advaita]

The Lord with His club threatens the haters of devotees; the world as a great forest; Advaita's arrival and dance; the Lord promises love to his children; the greatness of Advaita-Kamalaksha; the doctrine of the Self forbidden

Verse 1

अथापरदिने तत्राद्वैताचार्यो महायशः। नवद्वीपे समायातो द्रष्टुं विश्वम्भरेश्वरम्॥१॥

*eko'sti duṣṭo madbhaktadveṣiṇaṁ kuṣṭharogiṇam|
kṛtvā taṁ punarevāhaṁ paiśācanarakāśrayam||5||*

Word for word: ekah — one; asti — there is; dushtah — wicked man; mat-bhakta-dveshinam — the hater of My devotees; kushtha-roginam — a leper; kritva — having made; tam — him; punah eva — then; aham — I; paishacha-naraka-ashrayam — a dweller in the hell of the pishachas.

5. There is a certain wicked man¹ here, a hater of My devotees. I shall make him a leper, and then —

Verse 6

करिष्याम्यचिरं कालं सत्यमेतन्मयोदितम्।
नाशयिष्यामि तच्छिष्यान्विधास्ये विड्भुजानहम्॥६॥

*kariṣyāmyaciraṁ kālaṁ satyametanmayoditam|
nāśayiṣyāmi tacchīṣyānvidhāsyē viḍbhujānaḥam||6||*

Word for word: karishyami — I shall make; achiram kalam — before long; satyam — the truth; etat — this; maya — by Me; uditam — spoken; nashayishyami — I shall destroy; tat-shishyan — his disciples; vidhasye — I shall make; vid-bhujan — eaters of filth; aham — I.

6. before long — a dweller in the hell of the pishachas: this I say in truth. And his disciples too I shall destroy, turning them into eaters of filth.

Verse 7

वनं प्रयातुमिच्छामि तदत्रैव महद्वनम्।
व्याघ्रस्य सदृशाः केचित्केचित्पाषाणसन्निभाः॥७॥

20. "Are Uddhava and Akrura⁴ My devotees of boundless love, and is this Acharya beneath them? Why do you speak so?

Verse 21

किं वा भारतवर्षेऽस्मिन्नाचार्यस्य समोऽपरः।
वर्तते कोऽपि मद्भक्तो यस्मादज्ञो द्विजो भवान्॥२१॥

kiṁ vā bhāratavarṣe'sminnācāryasya samo'paraḥ|
vartate ko'pi madbhakto yasmādajño dvijo bhavān||21||

Word for word: kim va — or else; bharata-varshe — in Bharata-varsha; asmin — this; acharyasya — to the Acharya; samah — equal; aparah — another; vartate — is there; kah api — anyone; mat-bhaktah — devotee of Mine; yasmāt — since (you say so); ajnah — ignorant; dvijah — brahmana; bhavan — you are.

21. Or is there some other devotee of Mine in this Bharata-varsha equal to the Acharya? Since you speak so, you are an ignorant brahmana!"

Verse 22

तच्छ्रुत्वा भगवद्वाक्यं भीत्या तूष्णीं बभूव ह॥२२॥

tacchrutvā bhagavadvākyaṁ bhītyā tūṣṇīm babhūva ha||22||

Word for word: tat — that; shrutva — hearing; bhagavat-vakyaṁ — the word of Bhagavan; bhitya — out of fear; tushnim — silent; babhuva — became; ha — indeed.

22. Hearing these words of Bhagavan, he fell silent out of fear.

Verse 23

ततः प्रोवाच भगवानध्यात्मं न कदाचन। भवद्भिः कुत्रचिद्वापि वक्तव्यं यदि रोच्यते॥२३॥

tataḥ provāca bhagavānadyātmaṁ na kadācana|
bhavadbhiḥ kutracidvāpi vaktavyaṁ yadi rocyate||23||

Word for word: tatah — then; provacha — said; bhagavan — Bhagavan; adhyatmam — adhyatma (the doctrine of the Self); na kadachana — never; bhavadbhih — by you; kutrachit va api — anywhere; vaktavyam — is to be spoken; yadi — if; rochyate — it pleases.

23. Then Bhagavan said: "Never, anywhere, are you to speak of the doctrine of the Self⁵. And if it is to your taste,

Verse 24

तदा प्रेमा न दातव्यो भवद्भ्यः सत्यमेव हि॥२४॥

tadā premā na dātavyo bhavadbhyah satyameva hi||24||

Word for word: tada — then; prema — love; na datavyah — is not to be given; bhavadbhyah — to you; satyam eva hi — this is the very truth.

24. then love will not be given to you — this is the very truth."

Verse 25

तच्छ्रुत्वा पण्डितः प्राह श्रीवासो जगदीश्वरम्। तत्र मे विस्मृतिर्भूयाद्यथाहं न वदामि तत्॥२५॥

*tacchrutvā paṇḍitaḥ prāha śrīvāso jagadīśvaram|
tatra me vismṛtirbhūyādyathāhaṁ na vadāmi tat*||25||

Word for word: tat — that; shrutva — hearing; panditaḥ — the Pandita; praha — said; shrivasah — Srivasa; jagat-ishvaram — to the Lord of the world; tatra — of that; me — in me; vismritih — forgetfulness; bhuyat — may there be; yatha — so that; aham — I; na vadami — do not speak; tat — of it.

25. Hearing this, Srivasa Pandita said to the Lord of the world: "May I forget it, so that I never speak of it."

Verse 26

मुरारिः प्राह भगवन्नध्यात्मं न विदाम्यहम्।
तं प्राह देवो जानासि कमलाक्षाच्छ्रुतं हि तत्॥२६॥

*murāriḥ prāha bhagavannadhyātmaṁ na vidāmyaham|
taṁ prāha devo jānāsi kamalākṣācchrutaṁ hi tat*||26||

Word for word: murarih — Murari; praha — said; bhagavan — O Bhagavan; adhyatmam — adhyatma; na vidami — do not know; aham — I; tam — to him; praha — said; devah — the Lord; janasi — you know it; kamalakshat — from Kamalaksha; shrutam — heard; hi — for; tat — that.

26. Murari said: "O Bhagavan, I do not know the doctrine of the Self." The Lord replied to him: "You do — for you have heard it from Kamalaksha."⁶

Verse 27

इति सपदि निशम्य देववाक्यं प्रमुदितमनसो बभूवुरार्याः। हरिहरपदपद्मसीधुमत्ता ननृतुरनिमिषा इवोत्सवाढ्याः॥२७॥

*iti sapadi niśamya devavākyaṁ pramuditamanaso babhūvurāryāḥ|
hariharapadapadmasīdhumattā nanṛturanimiṣā ivotsavādhyāḥ*||27||

Word for word: iti — thus; sapadi — at once; nishamya — hearing; deva-vakyam — the word of the Lord; pramudita-manasah — glad at heart; babhuvuh — became; aryah — the noble; hari-hara-pada-padma-sidhu-mattah — intoxicated with the wine of the lotus feet of Harihara; nanrituh — danced; animishah — the unblinking ones (gods); iva — like; utsava-adhyah — rich in festivity.

27. Hearing at once these words of the Lord, the noble ones rejoiced at heart and, intoxicated with the wine of the lotus feet of Harihara⁷, danced like the gods at a splendid festival.

Thus ends the sixth sarga of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Possibly the brahmāna Gopala Chapala, struck with leprosy for offending Srivasa (his story is told in the Chaitanya-charitamrita, Adi 17).
2. According to tradition, the Lord descended in answer to the prayers of Advaita Acharya.
3. Kamalaksha is the worldly name of Advaita Acharya.
4. Uddhava and Akrura are intimate devotees of Krishna.
5. Sanskrit adhyatma: the doctrine of the Self and its identity with Brahman, as the Lord Himself had expounded it in 2.5.20–28.
6. Cf. 2.4.22, where the Lord rebukes Murari for his song on the doctrine of the Self.
7. Harihara: Hari and Hara (Vishnu and Shiva) in a single form; here, as in 2.7.6, apparently an epithet of Gaura. It may also be understood as "Hari (Gaura) and Hara (Advaita, revered as one with Sadashiva)."

Prakrama 2, Sarga 7. Grace to the Devotees

The appearance of the dancing Lord; the meaning of Srivasa's name; Murari's "Ramashtaka" and the name "Ramadasa"; service to Srivasa as worship of the Lord; Narayani receives the remnants of His meal

Verse 1

*hatvā kharatṛīśirasau sagaṇau kabandham
śrīdaṇḍakānanamadūṣaṇameva kṛtvā| sugrīvamaitramakarodvinihatya śatrum
taṁ rāghavam daśamukhāntakaram bhajāmi||16||*

Word for word: hatva — having slain; khara-trishirasau — Khara and Trishiras; sa-ganau — with their hosts; kabandham — Kabandha; shri-dandaka-kananam — the holy Dandaka forest; adushanam — free of defilement (and of Dushana); eva — indeed; kritva — having made; sugriva-maitram — friendship with Sugriva; akarot — made; vinihatya — having slain; shatrum — the enemy; tam — Him; raghavam — Raghava; dasa-mukha-anta-karam — the slayer of the Ten-headed; bhajami — I worship.

16. He slew Khara and Trishiras with their hosts, slew Kabandha, and freed the holy Dandaka forest from defilement — and from Dushana⁹; slaying Sugriva's enemy, He made friendship with him. Raghava, the slayer of the Ten-headed, I worship.

Verse 17

भङ्क्त्वा पिनाकमकरोज्जनकात्मजाया

*ittham niśamya raghunandanarājasimhaślokāṣṭakam sa bhagavānścaraṇam murāreḥ| vaidyasya mūrdhni vinidhāya lilekha bhāle
tvam rāmadāsa iti bho bhava matprasādāt||18||*

Word for word: ittham — thus; nishamya — having heard; raghu-nandana-raja-simha-shloka-ashtakam — the eight verses on the Joy of the Raghus, the lion among kings; sah — He; bhagavan — Bhagavan; charanam — His foot; murareh — of Murari; vaidyasya — the physician; murdhni — on the head; vinidhaya — placing; lilekha — wrote; bhale — on the forehead; tvam — you; rama-dasah — Ramadasa; iti — thus; bhoh — ho; bhava — be; mat-prasadat — by My grace.

18. Having heard these eight verses on the Joy of the Raghus, the lion among kings, Bhagavan placed His foot on the head of Murari the physician and wrote on his forehead: "You are Ramadasa."¹¹
"Be so by My grace!"

Verse 19

अपठद्भगवानेकं श्लोकं तच्छृणु मे द्विज॥१९॥

apathadbhagavānekam ślokaṁ tacchṛṇu me dvija||19||

Word for word: apathat — recited; bhagavan — Bhagavan; ekam — one; shlokaṁ — verse; tat — it; shrinu — hear; me — from me; dvija — O brahmana.

19. Then Bhagavan recited a verse — hear it from me, O brahmana¹².

Verse 20

न साधयति मां योगो न सांख्यं धर्म उद्धव।
न स्वाध्यायस्तपस्त्यागो यथा भक्तिर्ममोर्जिता॥२०॥

*na sādhayati mām yogo na sāṅkhyam dharma uddhava|
na svādhyāyastapastyāgo yathā bhaktirmamorjitā||20||*

Word for word: na sadhayati — does not win over; mam — Me; yogah — yoga; na — not; sankhyam — Sankhya; dharmah — dharma; uddhava — O Uddhava; na — not; svadhyayah — Vedic study; tapah — austerity; tyagah — renunciation; yatha — as; bhaktih — devotion; mama — to Me; urjita — mighty.

20. "Neither yoga nor Sankhya nor dharma, O Uddhava, neither Vedic study nor austerity nor renunciation win Me over as does mighty devotion to Me."¹³

Verse 21

पठित्वेदं पुनः प्राह सर्वास्तत्र समागतान्। भवद्भिरेव कर्तव्यं श्रीवासस्य विचारणे॥२१॥

*paṭhitvedam punaḥ prāha sarvāṁstatra samāgatān|
bhavadbhireva kartavyam śrīvāsasya vicāraṇe||21||*

Word for word: pathitva — having recited; idam — this; punaḥ — then; prāha — said; sarvan — to all; tatra — there; samagatan — assembled; bhavadbhih — by you; eva — indeed; kartavyam — is to be done; shrivasasya — of Srivasa; vicharane — according to the judgement.

21. Having recited it, He said to all assembled there: "Act according to Srivasa's judgement:

Verse 22

यत्स्यात्तदेव नित्यं वः कुशलं तद्भविष्यति। श्रीरामपण्डितज्येष्ठभ्रातृसेवा मदर्चना॥२२॥

*yatsyāttadeva nityam vaḥ kuśalam tadbhaviṣyati|
śrīrāmapaṇḍitajyeṣṭhabhrāṭṛsevā madarcanā||22||*

Word for word: yat — whatever; syat — may be (decided); tat eva — that; nityam — always; vah — for you; kushalam — welfare; tat — that; bhavishyati — will be; shri-rama-pandita-jyeshtha-bhratri-seva — service to the elder brother of Sri Rama Pandita; mat-archana — is worship of Me.

22. whatever he decides will always be for your good. Service to the elder brother of Sri Rama Pandita is worship of Me.

Verse 23

इति बुद्ध्या विनिश्चित्य कुरु श्रीवाससेवनम्। तेन ते सकलं भद्रं सदा नित्यं भविष्यति॥२३॥

*iti buddhyā viniścitya kuru śrīvāsasevanam|
tena te sakalam bhadram sadā nityam bhaviṣyati||23||*

Word for word: iti — thus; buddhya — with the intellect; vinishchitya — firmly resolving; kuru — perform; shrivasa-sevanam — service to Srivasa; tena — by that; te — for you; sakalam — all; bhadram — good; sada — always; nityam — ever; bhavishyati — will be.

23. Grasp this firmly with your understanding and serve Srivasa: by this every blessing will ever be yours."

Verse 24

इत्युक्त्वा हर्षयँल्लोकान्नेमे प्रणतवत्सलः। भक्तवत्सलतां तस्य दृष्ट्वा सर्वे सुखं ययुः॥२४॥

*ityuktva harṣayaṁllokānreme praṇatavatsalaḥ|
bhaktavatsalatām tasya dṛṣṭvā sarve sukham yayuḥ||24||*

Word for word: iti — thus; ukta — having spoken; harshayan — gladdening; lokan — the people; reme — took delight; pranata-vatsalah — loving to those who bow down; bhakta-vatsalatam — the love for His devotees; tasya — His; drishtva — seeing; sarve — all; sukham — happiness; yayuh — attained.

24. So saying, He who loves those who bow to Him took delight in gladdening the people; and all, seeing His love for His devotees, were filled with happiness.

Verse 25

श्रीवासेनार्पितं दुग्धं पूगं माल्यं सधूपकम्।

बुभुजे भगवांस्तत्र शेषान्भृत्याय दत्तवान्॥२५॥

śrīvāsenārpitaṁ dugdhaṁ pūgaṁ mālyaṁ sadhūpakam|
bubhuje bhagavānstatra śeṣānbhṛtyāya dattavān||25||

Word for word: shrivasena — by Srivasa; arpitam — offered; dugdham — milk; pugam — betel; malyam — a garland; sa-dhupakam — with incense; bubhuje — enjoyed; bhagavan — Bhagavan; tatra — there; sheshan — the remnants; bhrityaya — to His servant; dattavan — gave.

25. There Bhagavan partook of the milk and betel offered by Srivasa, accepted the garland and incense, and gave the remnants to His servant.

Verse 26

श्रीवासभ्रातृनयाभर्तृका मधुरद्युतिः।

प्राप्य हरेः प्रसादं च रौति नारायणी शुभा॥२६॥

śrīvāsabhrāṭṛtanayābhartṛkā madhuradyutiḥ|
prāpya hareḥ prasādaṁ ca rauti nārāyaṇī śubhā||26||

Word for word: shrivasa-bhratri-tanaya — the daughter of Srivasa's brother; abhartrika — as yet unmarried; madhura-dyutih — sweetly radiant; prapya — receiving; hareh — of Hari; prasadam — the grace (the remnants); cha — and; rauti — weeps; narayani — Narayani; shubha — the fair.

26. And the fair Narayani¹⁴, the sweetly radiant daughter of Srivasa's brother, as yet unmarried, received the remnants of Hari's meal and wept.

Verse 27

इति सकलनिशां निनाय देवो

निजजनमनसां मुदे मुरारिः।

क्षणमिव महद्वत्सरेण मेने-

ऽनवरतं सुखमापुरार्यवर्याः॥२७॥

iti sakalaniśāṁ nināya devo
nijajanamanasāṁ mude murāriḥ| kṣaṇamiva mahadvatsareṇa mene-
'navarataṁ sukhamāpurāryavaryāḥ||27||

Word for word: iti — thus; sakala-nisham — the whole night; ninaya — spent; devah — the Lord; nija-jana-manasam — of the hearts of His own people; mude — for the joy; murarih — Murari; kshanam iva — as a moment; mahat-vatsarena — (a span) equal to a great year; mene — considered; anavaratam — unbroken; sukham — happiness; apuh — attained; arya-varyah — the best of the noble.

27. Thus the Lord Murari spent the whole night for the joy of the hearts of His own; a span as long as a great year He deemed a moment¹⁵ — and the best of the noble enjoyed unbroken happiness.

Thus ends the seventh sarga, "Grace to the Devotees" (Bhakta-anugraha), of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. The text of this verse is partly damaged; the translation follows the general sense.

2. Harihara: Hari and Hara (Vishnu and Shiva) in a single form; here an epithet of Gaura.

3. Gopinatha is a brahmana of Navadvipa, a companion of the Lord.

4. Verses 10–17 are the "Ramasthaka," the eight verses of Murari Gupta, a devotee of Rama.

5. Brihaspati and Kavi (Shukra) are the planets Jupiter and Venus.
6. The lotus is called "hundred-petalled" (shatapatra); Sita's five fingers appear as five more petals.
7. Lakshmana is a descent of Shesha (Ananta), the serpent on whom Vishnu reclines.
8. Rama protected the sacrifice of the sage Vishvamitra, a descendant of Kushika, from the rakshasas Maricha and Subahu.
9. A pun: adushana means both "undefiled" and "without Dushana" (a rakshasa, Khara's brother). Trishiras and Kabandha are rakshasas of the Dandaka forest; Sugriva's enemy is Valin; the Ten-headed is Ravana.
10. Pinaka is Shiva's bow; the lord of the Bhargavas is Parashurama; the father is King Dasharatha.
11. Ramadasa means "servant of Rama."
12. Murari addresses his listener, Damodara Pandita.
13. Bhagavata Purana 11.14.20.
14. Narayani, Srivasa's niece, later became the mother of Vrindavana Dasa Thakura, author of the Chaitanya-bhagavata.
15. The sense of the line is unclear; the translation is tentative.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 8. Grace to the Avadhuta

The Lord sends His devotees for Nityananda; the meeting in the house of Nandana Acharya; the Lord honours Nityananda; in Srivasa's house He reveals to him His six-armed, four-armed and two-armed forms

Verse 1

ततः प्रभाते विमले नत्वा तं पुरुषर्षभम्।

30. Whoever thus hears all the deeds of Nrihari will surely obtain the fruit of sacrifice; he delights in the lotus feet of Mukunda, and the name of Hari ever shines forth within him.

Thus ends the eighth sarga, "Grace to the Avadhuta" (Avadhuta-anugraha), of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. An avadhuta is a wandering renunciate who stands above outward rules; so the poem calls Nityananda.
2. Rama is apparently Sri Rama Pandita, Srivasa's brother; Narayana is one of the Lord's companions in Navadvipa; Mukunda is Mukunda Datta.
3. Nandana Acharya is a devotee of Navadvipa in whose house Nityananda stayed.
4. The pastimes of Krishna and Balarama in Vrindavana; Nityananda is revered as Balarama. Before meeting the Lord he had wandered for many years among the holy places.
5. The six-armed form (shadbhuja) unites the features of Rama, Krishna and Gaura Himself.
6. The second line of the verse can also be understood as Nityananda's words to the Lord.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 9. The Acceptance of the Devotees' Worship

The Lord sees the boy Krishna in a dream; Nityananda beholds the forms of Hari in Srivasa's house; messengers summon Advaita; Advaita comes, and the Lord accepts the worship of His devotees

Verse 1

श्रुत्वा कथामतितरां मुदितो महात्मा

itthaṁ samākarnya harergiraste
jagmurmudādvaitapadāravindam| gatvā praṇemurduyunaḍītāṭe śubhe
ājñāṁ harerāhuranantapuṇyām||14||

Word for word: ittham — thus; samakarnya — having heard; hareh — of Hari; girah — the words; te — they; jagmuh — went; muda — joyfully; advaita-pada-aravindam — to the lotus feet of Advaita; gatva — having arrived; pranemuh — bowed; dyunadi-tate — on the bank of the heavenly river; shubhe — auspicious; ajnam — the command; hareh — of Hari; ahuh — conveyed; ananta-punyam — infinitely holy.

14. Hearing these words of Hari, they went joyfully to Advaita's lotus feet; arriving on the blessed bank of the heavenly river⁶, they bowed to him and conveyed Hari's infinitely holy command.

Verse 15

श्रुत्वा प्रभोरद्भुतवीर्यमुज्ज्वलं

*ācārya āgatya tataḥ pare śubhe
kāle dadarśāmbujapatranetram| dṛṣṭvā mukhaṁ siṁhaninādayuktaḥ
prāpa prapannārtiharaṁ mukundam||17||*

Word for word: acharyah — the Acharya; agatya — having come; tatah — then; pare — at a later; shubhe — auspicious; kale — time; dadarsha — saw; ambuja-patra-netram — Him whose eyes are lotus petals; drishtva — seeing; mukham — the face; simha-ninada-yuktah — with a lion's roar; prapa — approached; prapanna-arti-haram — the Remover of the sufferings of the surrendered; mukundam — Mukunda.

17. Having come there, the Acharya at an auspicious time beheld Him whose eyes are lotus petals. Seeing His face, he let out a lion's roar and drew near to Mukunda, who takes away the sorrows of those who surrender to Him.

Verse 18

श्रीवासदेवालयमध्यगो हरि- śrīvāsadevālayamadhyago harirvarāsanasthaḥ sahasā rarāja| santaptacāmīkararociṣā raviryathā prabhāte nayanānurañjanaḥ||18||

Word for word: shrivasa-deva-alaya-madhyaga — being within Srivasa's shrine room; harih — Hari; vara-asana-sthah — seated on a fine seat; sahasa — suddenly; raraja — shone; santapta-chamikara-rochisha — with the lustre of molten gold; ravih — the sun; yatha — like; prabhate — at dawn; nayana-anuranjanah — delighting the eyes.

18. Seated on a fine seat in the midst of Srivasa's shrine room, Hari suddenly shone with the lustre of molten gold, like the sun at dawn that delights the eyes.

Verse 19

*दृष्ट्वाननेन्दुं मुदिता महान्त आचार्यमुख्या जगुरार्द्रचित्ताः। नैवेद्यमर्घ्यं च ददुर्वरांशुका- *dr̥ṣṭvānanendum muditā mahānta

ācāryamukhyā jagurārdracittāḥ| naivedyamarghyaṁ ca dadurvarāṁśukā-nnemuh pr̥thivyāṁ vinipatya harṣitāḥ||19||*

Word for word: drishtva — seeing; anana-indum — the moon of His face; muditah — delighted; maha-antah — the great souls; acharya-mukhyah — led by the Acharya; jaguh — sang; ardra-chittah — with melted hearts; naivedyam — food offerings; arghya — arghya; cha — and; daduh — offered; vara-amshukan — fine garments; nemuh — bowed; prithivyam — to the ground; vinipatya — falling; harshitah — rejoicing.

19. Seeing the moon of His face, the great souls led by the Acharya rejoiced and sang with melting hearts; they offered food, arghya and fine garments, and, exultant, fell prostrate on the ground.

Verse 20

*पूजां गृहीत्वा भगवान्द्विजानां
संभज्य तेषां सहसा प्रसादम्। तेभ्यो मुदादाद्वसनं सुमाल्यं

*pūjām gr̥hītvā bhagavāndvijānām
saṁbhajya teṣām sahasā prasādam| tebhyo mudādādvasanam sumālyam
te tadgr̥hītvātitarām nanartuḥ||20||*

Word for word: puja — the worship; grihitva — having accepted; bhagavan — Bhagavan; dvijanam — of the brahmanas; sambhajya — having shared out; tesham — among them; sahasa — at once; prasadam — His grace (prasada); tebhyah — to them; muda — joyfully; adat — gave; vasanam — cloth; su-malyam — fine garlands; te — they; tat — that; grihitva — receiving; atitaram — exceedingly; nanartuh — danced.

20. Having accepted the worship of the brahmanas, Bhagavan at once shared out His grace among them and joyfully gave them cloth and fine garlands; and they, receiving these, danced with abandon.

Verse 21

तेऽतिप्रहृष्टाः पुलकाञ्चिताङ्गा
आनन्दरत्नाकरमग्नचित्ताः।
आत्मानमन्यं च विदुर्गताशुभं कैवल्यमत्यल्पतरं प्रचक्रुः॥२१॥

*te'tiprahṛṣṭāḥ pulakāñcitāṅgā
ānandaratnākaramagnacittāḥ| ātmānamanyaṁ ca vidurgatāśubham
kaivalyamatyalpataṛaṁ pracakruḥ||21||*

Word for word: te — they; ati-prahrishtah — in great rapture; pulaka-anchita-angah — their bodies covered with bristling hair; ananda-ratnakara-magna-chittah — their hearts sunk in the ocean of bliss; atmanam — themselves; anyam — another; cha — and; viduh — knew; gata-ashubham — freed from all ill; kaivalyam — liberation; ati-alpataram — most trifling; prachakruh — made.

21. In great rapture, the hair of their bodies standing on end, their hearts sunk in the ocean of bliss, they saw themselves and others as freed from every ill, and held liberation⁷ to be the merest trifle.

Verse 22

रात्रिदिवं ते न विदुः सुखेन
सूर्योदये नृत्यपरा दिनान्तम्।
निन्युर्निशां तां च पुनः प्रभाते नृत्यावसाने जगदीश्वराज्ञया॥२२॥

*rātrimdivaṁ te na viduḥ sukhena
sūryodaye nṛtyaparā dināntam| ninyurniśāṁ tāṁ ca punaḥ prabhāte
nṛtyāvasāne jagadīśvarājñayā||22||*

Word for word: ratrim-divam — night and day; te — they; na viduh — did not know; sukhena — from joy; surya-udaye — from sunrise; nritya-parah — given to dancing; dina-antam — to the end of the day; ninyuh — spent; nisham — the night; tam — that; cha — and; punah — again; prabhate — at dawn; nritya-avasane — when the dance was over; jagat-ishvara-ajnaya — by the command of the Lord of the world.

22. For joy they knew neither day nor night: from sunrise to the day's end they gave themselves to dancing, and so they spent the night as well. And at dawn, when the dancing was over, by the command of the Lord of the world,

Verse 23

आगत्य गेहे द्विजवर्यसत्तमा
भिषक्तमाद्या हरिनामभाषणाः।
स्त्रीभ्यश्च सर्वे जगदुर्मुदान्विता हरेश्वरित्रं निखिलं जगद्गुरोः॥२३॥

āgatya gehe dvijavaryasattamā
bhiṣaktamādyā harināmabhāṣaṇāḥ| sṛībhyāśca sarve jagadurmudānvitā
hareścaritraṁ nikhilaṁ jagadguroḥ||23||

Word for word: agatya — having come; gehe — home; dvija-varya-sattamah — the best of excellent brahmanas; bhishak-tama-adyah — headed by the best of physicians; hari-nama-bhashanah — uttering the name of Hari; sribhyah — to the women; cha — and; sarve — all; jagaduh — told; muda-anvitah — full of joy; hareh — of Hari; charitram — the deeds; nikhilam — all; jagat-guroh — of the Teacher of the world.

23. those best of excellent brahmanas, led by the best of physicians⁸, came home uttering the name of Hari, and all of them joyfully told their wives the whole story of Hari, the Teacher of the world.

Thus ends the ninth sarga, "The Acceptance of the Devotees' Worship" (Bhakta-puja-upagrahana), of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Purushottama ("the Highest of persons") here is Lord Gaura Himself; Damodara asks to hear of the vision He Himself had in a dream (vv. 2–5).
2. Sharnga is Vishnu's bow. These six attributes point to the six-armed form spoken of in the previous sarga.
3. The reading is conjectural: the arms that held the flute vanish, and the four-armed form remains.
4. Krishna's elder brother is Balarama, who appeared as Nityananda; the blue garments, the plough and the pestle are his marks, and the intoxication of varuni (wine) is an image of his rapture in love.
5. The syntax of the second half of the verse is unclear; another reading is possible: "Go to Advaita's house — this Avadhuta too will go, to inform the best of brahmanas." Rama is Sri Rama Pandita, Srivasa's brother; Narayana is a companion of the Lord in Navadvipa.
6. The heavenly river is the Ganga; on its bank, at Shantipura, lived Advaita.
7. Kaivalya is liberation as merging into Brahman, which to devotees is a trifle beside love for the Lord.
8. Apparently Murari Gupta himself, a physician by calling.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 10. The Pastimes of Dance

The Lord honours Haridasa and sends Advaita home; the shreds of Nityananda's kaupina; the Lord carries Srivasa away and reappears; pastimes in the mood of the gopis; the washing of the Avadhuta's feet; Haridasa and Advaita come

Verse 1

स्नात्वा द्युनद्यां जगदीशपूजां

*taṁ candanenāśu vilepayitvā
mālyam ca dattvātha mahāprasādam| annam rasairyuktamanuttamam dadau catuḥprakāraṁ bubhuje tadājñayā||4||*

Word for word: taṁ — him; candanena — with sandal paste; ashu — at once; vilepayitva — having anointed; malyam — a garland; cha — and; dattva — having given; atha — then; maha-prasadam — mahaprasada; annam — food; rasaih — with flavours; yuktam — endowed; anuttamam — unsurpassed; dadau — gave; chatuh-prakaram — of four kinds; bubhuje — ate; tat-ajñaya — at His command.

4. At once the Lord anointed him with sandal paste, put a garland on him and gave him mahaprasada — unsurpassed food of the four kinds², full of every flavour; and he ate it at His command.

Verse 5

सोऽपि प्रसन्नेन्दुमुखः सुखोषितो

13. The great souls searched but did not find Him. Knowing that they were troubled, the Unborn, who delights in His own free will, Himself appeared before them, and they eagerly crowded round Him on every side.

Verse 14

गोपीस्वभावाप्तसमस्तभक्त्या
पश्यंश्च कृष्णं वनमालिनं प्रभुम्।
मद्वल्लभोऽसौ भगवान्यथा भवे- त्तथा कृपां मे कुरुतामहेश्वरः॥१४॥

*gopīsvabhāvāptasamastabhaktyā
paśyamaśca kṛṣṇam vanamālinam prabhum| madvallabho'sau bhagavānyathā bhavatathā kṛpām me kurutānmaheśvaraḥ||14||*

Word for word: gopi-svabhava-apta-samasta-bhaktya — with entire devotion gained through the nature of the gopis; pashyan — seeing; cha — and; krishnam — Krishna; vana-malinam — wearing the forest garland; prabhum — the Lord; mat-vallabhah — my beloved; asau — this; bhagavan — Bhagavan; yatha — so that; bhavet — may become; tatha — so; kripam — grace; me — to me; kurutat — may He show; maha-ishvarah — the Great Lord.

14. And each of them, looking with entire devotion, gained through the nature of the gopis, upon Krishna, the Lord with the forest garland, prayed: "May the Great Lord show me grace, so that this Bhagavan may become my beloved!"

Verse 15

गोपाङ्गनाभावविभाविष्ठः
श्रीकृष्ण एवात्र रसेन पूर्णः।
गोपस्त्रीभावान्प्रणतान्विभाव्य करोति वस्त्राहरणादिलीलाम्॥१५॥

*gopāṅganābhāvavibhāvaniṣṭhaḥ
śrīkṛṣṇa evātra rasena pūrṇaḥ| gopastṛībhāvānpraṇatānvibhāvya
karoti vastrāharaṇādilīlām||15||*

Word for word: gopa-angana-bhava-vibhava-nishthah — intent on awakening the feeling of the cowherd women; shri-krishnah — Sri Krishna; eva — Himself; atra — here; rasena — with rasa; purnah — filled; gopa-stri-bhavan — possessed of the feeling of the cowherd women; pranatan — bowing (to Him); vibhavya — perceiving; karoti — performs; vastra-aharana-adi-lilam — the pastime of stealing the garments and others.

15. For here is Sri Krishna Himself, full of rasa and wholly intent on awakening the feeling of the cowherd women. Perceiving in the devotees who bowed before Him the feeling of the gopis, He performs the pastime of stealing the garments⁴ and other pastimes.

Verse 16

ततः कदाचिद्रजनीमुखे स
वस्त्रान्समाकृष्य विनग्नभावान्।
चक्रे कराम्भोजयुगेन चक्री भृत्यान्नसज्जो रसदो नराणाम्॥१६॥

*tataḥ kadācidrajanīmukhe sa
vastrānsamākṛṣya vinagnabhāvān| cakre karāmbhojayugena cakrī
bhṛtyānnrasajño rasado narāṇām||16||*

Word for word: tatah — then; kadachit — once; rajani-mukhe — at nightfall; sah — He; vastran — the garments; samakrishya — pulling off; vinagna-bhavan — naked; chakre — made; kara-ambhoja-yugena — with His two lotus hands; chakri — the Holder of the discus; bhrityan — His servants; rasa-jnah — the knower of rasa; rasa-dah — the giver of rasa; naranam — to men.

16. And so once, at nightfall, the Holder of the discus — the knower of rasa, the giver of rasa to men — pulled the garments off His servants with His two lotus hands and left them naked.

Verse 17

एवं प्रभुः क्रीडनकं स कृत्वा
क्षणाद्ददौ वस्त्रगणान्समस्तान्।
तेभ्यः पुनस्ते परिधाय हृष्टा

*evam prabhuḥ krīḍanakam sa kṛtvā
kṣaṇāddadau vastragaṇānsamastān| tebhyaḥ punaste paridhāya hrṣṭā
vāsānsi sākam jahṛṣurmurāriṇā||17||*

Word for word: evam — thus; prabhuḥ — the Lord; kridanakam — a game; sah — He; kritva — having made; kshanat — in a moment; dadau — gave; vastra-ganan — the garments; samastan — all; tebhyaḥ — to them; punah — back; te — they; paridhaya — putting on; hrishtah — glad; vasamsi — the garments; sakam — together; jahrishuh — rejoiced; murarina — with Murari.

17. Having played this game, in a moment the Lord gave back all their garments; and they gladly put them on again and made merry together with Murari⁵.

Verse 18

गायन्हरेर्नाम पुनर्ननर्त
तैः सार्धमन्तःकरणैर्यथार्थैः।
लीलागतिलोकमलं क्षपन्स सन्तप्तचामीकरोचिषा प्रभुः॥१८॥

*gāyanharernāma punarnanarta
taiḥ sārddhamantaḥkaraṇairyathārthaiḥ| līlāgatirlokamalam kṣapansa
santaptacāmīkararociṣā prabhuḥ||18||*

Word for word: gayan — singing; hareh — of Hari; nama — the name; punah — again; nanarta — danced; taiḥ — with them; sardham — together; antah-karanaih — whose hearts; yatha-arthaih — were sincere; lila-gatih — with a playful gait; loka-malam — the impurity of the world; kshapan — destroying; sah — He; santapta-chamikara-rochisha — with the lustre of molten gold; prabhuḥ — the Lord.

18. Singing the name of Hari, He danced again with them, pure of heart — the Lord of playful gait, whose lustre of molten gold destroys the impurity of the world.

Verse 19

ततोऽवधूतः पुनरागतः सुखं
रेमे ननर्ताशु जगौ हरेर्गुणान्।
कृष्णेन सार्धं हलिना यथार्भकाः

पुरा तथैवात्र च वारिजेक्षणः॥१९॥

*tato'vadhūtaḥ punarāgataḥ sukhaṁ
reme nanartāśu jagau harerguṇān| kṛṣṇena sārdham halinā yathārbhakāḥ
purā tathaivātra ca vārijekṣaṇaḥ||19||*

Word for word: tatah — then; avadhutah — the Avadhuta; punah — again; agatah — having come; sukham — happily; reme — made merry; nanarta — danced; ashu — at once; jagau — sang; hareh — of Hari; gunan — the qualities; krishnena — with Krishna; sardham — together; halina — with the Plough-bearer; yatha — as; arbhakah — the boys; pura — of old; tatha eva — just so; atra — here; cha — and; varija-ikshanah — the Lotus-eyed.

19. Then the Avadhuta came again and, happy, made merry; at once he broke into dance and sang of Hari's qualities. As once the cowherd boys played with Krishna and the Plough-bearer⁶, so here too did the Lotus-eyed One.

Verse 20

नृत्यावसाने भगवान्द्विजाग्र्या- नुवाच पादावधूतकस्य।
प्रक्षाल्य गृह्णन्तु जलं भवन्त-श्चक्रुस्ततस्ते शिरसा तदाज्ञाम्॥२०॥ nṛtyāvasāne bhagavāndvijāgryānuvāca pādāvavadhūtakasya| prakṣālya grhṇantu jalam bhavantaścakrustataste śirasā tadājñām||20||

Word for word: nritya-avasane — at the end of the dance; bhagavan — Bhagavan; dvija-agryan — to the foremost brahmanas; uvacha — said; padau — the feet; avadhutakasya — of the Avadhuta; prakshalya — having washed; grihnantu — let take; jalam — the water; bhavantah — you; chakruh — carried out; tatah — then; te — they; shirasa — with their heads (reverently); tat-ajnam — His command.

20. When the dancing was over, Bhagavan said to the foremost brahmanas: "Wash the Avadhuta's feet and take that water." And they reverently carried out His command.

Verse 21

पीत्वा तु पादोदकमेव ते मुदा

tato nanandāmṛtapūṛakeṇa
vācā ca gatyā hasitena cāpi| vilokanenaāmbujalocanasya
dhunvannarāṇāṃ hṛdayoḡraduḥkham||22||

Word for word: tatah — then; nananda — rejoiced; amrita-purakena — with a flood of nectar; vacha — by speech; cha — and; gatyā — by gait; hasitena — by laughter; cha api — and also; vilokanena — by the glance; ambuja-lochanasya — of the Lotus-eyed; dhunvan — dispelling; naranam — of men; hridaya-ugra-duhkham — the dire sorrow of the heart.

22. And then He⁷ rejoiced, dispelling the dire sorrow of men's hearts with the nectarean flood of His speech, with His gait, His laughter and the glances of the Lotus-eyed One.

Verse 23

तथा रमन्तं त्रिदशा विदित्वा

*sasambhrameṇādarato grhītvā
bhuktvā nadantaṁ sumahatprasādam| reme hareḥ sārddhamudārakīrti-*

rācāryavaryo mahadutsavena||26||

Word for word: sa-sambhramena — with reverent awe; adaratah — respectfully; grihitva — having accepted; bhuktva — having eaten; nadan — roaring; tam — that; su-mahat-prasadam — supremely great prasada; reme — made merry; hareh — with Hari; sardham — together; udara-kirtih — of wide renown; acharya-varyah — the best of acharyas; mahat-utsavena — with a great festival.

26. With reverent awe and respect accepting and eating, with a loud roar, that supremely great prasada, the best of acharyas, whose renown is wide, made merry with Hari in a great festival.

Verse 27

शृणोति यः कृष्णकथामिमां शुभां
प्रेमान्वितः स्यात्स तु शुद्धभावम्।
लभेत पाण्डित्यमखण्डितं च देहावसाने च हरेः पुरं व्रजेत्॥२७॥

*śṛṇoti yaḥ kṛṣṇakathāmimāṁ śubhāṁ
premānvitaḥ syātsa tu śuddhabhāvam| labheta pāṇḍityamakhaṇḍitaṁ ca
dehāvasāne ca hareḥ puram vrajet*||27||

Word for word: shrinoti — hears; yah — who; krishna-katham — the narrative of Krishna; imam — this; shubham — auspicious; prema-anvitah — full of love; syat — will become; sah — he; tu — indeed; shuddha-bhavam — pure feeling; labheta — will obtain; pandityam — learning; akhanditam — unimpaired; cha — and; deha-avasane — at the end of the body; cha — and; hareh — of Hari; puram — to the abode; vrajet — will go.

27. Whoever hears this auspicious narrative of Krishna will be filled with love, will gain pure feeling and unimpaired learning, and at the end of the body will go to the abode of Hari.

Thus ends the tenth sarga, "The Pastimes of Dance" (Nritya-vilasa), of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Haridasa is Haridasa Thakura, the great devotee of the holy name.
2. The four kinds of food are those that are chewed, sucked, licked and drunk.
3. A kaupina is a renunciate's loincloth. The Lord gave the shreds of Nityananda's kaupina to the devotees as a sacred relic.
4. The stealing of the garments is Krishna's pastime in Vrindavana, when He carried off the clothes of the bathing gopis; here the Lord repeats it with devotees in whom the feeling of the gopis has awakened.
5. "Murari" ("Enemy of Mura") is here apparently an epithet of the Lord; it may also be understood as "together with Murari Gupta."
6. The Plough-bearer is Balarama. Nityananda (Balarama) and Gaura (Krishna) play with the devotees as once with the cowherd boys of Vrindavana.
7. The Lord; it may also be understood that Nityananda rejoiced in the speech, gait, laughter and glances of the Lotus-eyed One.
8. The Thirty (tridasha) are the gods, conventionally thirty-three in number.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 11. The Plunge into the Jahnavi

The brahmana Vanamali sees the boy Krishna; the Lord in the mood of Nrisimha; the Lord as Shiva on a singer's shoulders; a brahmana woman takes the dust of His feet, and the Lord throws Himself into the Ganga

Verse 1

भिक्षुः कश्चिद्वनमाली द्विजस्तत्र समागतः।

25. The brahmana Shuklambara and others, yearning with love, wept; but, knowing that the Lord was fully calmed and happy, they began to speak of Krishna among themselves.

Thus ends the eleventh sarga, "The Plunge into the Jahnavi" (Jahnavi-patana), of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. The Vishnu-sahasranama ("Thousand Names of Vishnu") from the Mahabharata or a similar hymn recited at rites.
2. Nrisimha (Narasimha, Nrihari) is the Man-lion, the incarnation of Vishnu who tore apart the demon Hiranyakashipu for the sake of His devotee Prahlada.
3. The singer on whose shoulders the Lord sits is likened to Nandin, the bull on which Shiva rides.
4. Hara is Shiva. The horn, the damaru drum and the matted locks are his marks; Shiva is the greatest devotee of Rama, ever repeating His name.
5. The Shiva-mahimna-stotra ("Hymn on the Greatness of Shiva"), ascribed to Pushpadanta. Mukunda is Mukunda Datta, the singer among the Lord's companions.

6. Taking the dust of someone's feet is a sign of worship, as before the Lord or a saint. The Lord, playing the part of a devotee, held Himself unworthy of such honour, and the woman's deed filled Him with remorse.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 12. The Great Manifestation and the Ablution

The Lord returns from the northern bank of the Ganga; Murari consoles Him; the Lord reveals His great majesty, and the devotees bathe and worship Him

Verse 1

ततो वाट्यां मुरारेस्ते झटित्यागत्य सेश्वराः। उपविश्य क्षणं स्थित्वा विजयस्याश्रमं ययुः॥१॥

vicitraveśairyadakāri sa prabhuḥ| bhavetsadā bhaktirasābhimatto
mṛto'śnute śrīpuruṣottamāmṛtam||26||*

Word for word: shrinoti — hears; yah — who; shri-halinah — of the blessed Plough-bearer; charitram — the deeds; vichitra-veshah — in wondrous attire; yat — which; akari — were performed; sah — that; prabhuh — Lord; bhavet — will be; sada — always; bhakti-rasa-abhimattah — intoxicated with the rasa of devotion; mritah — having died; ashnute — tastes; shri-purushottama-amritam — the nectar of Sri Purushottama.

26. Whoever hears of the deeds of the blessed Plough-bearer, which the Lord performed in wondrous attire, will always be intoxicated with the rasa of devotion, and after death will taste the nectar of Sri Purushottama.

Thus ends the fourteenth sarga, "Absorption in Balabhadra" (Balabhadra-avesha), of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Nilambara ("the Blue-clad"), Halayudha ("He whose weapon is the plough"), the Plough-bearer, Balabhadra and Baladeva are names of Balarama, Krishna's elder brother. Balarama is fond of the intoxicating drink varuni, hence the demand for honey.
2. Saunanda is Balarama's club (mace).
3. Acharyaratna is Chandrashekhara Acharya.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 15. Description of the Gopis' Mood — Bhakti-yoga

The Lord speaks of His vision of Varaha and Halayudha and asks for His flute; in Chandrashekhara's house a play is staged: the Lord in women's dress, Srivasa as Narada, Gadadhara as a gopi; Narada speaks of the greatness of devotion

Verse 1

*snānamekamanasā tadā bhavet
kṛṣṇapādakamalasya susevā| tatkr̥taṁ munivaco hi bhavatyā
tena gokula ihābhavajjaniḥ||13||*

Word for word: snanam — bathing; eka-manasa — with a single-pointed mind; tada — then; bhavet — there will be; krishna-pada-kamalasya — to Krishna's lotus feet; su-seva — devoted service; tat — that; kritam — was done; muni-vachah — the sage's word; hi — indeed; bhavatya — by you; tena — through that; gokule — in Gokula; iha — here; abhavat — came about; janiḥ — birth.

13. your bath with a single-pointed mind — then you will attain the service of Krishna's lotus feet.' You carried out the sage's word, and because of it you were born here in Gokula⁶,

Verse 14

उत्तमामतितरां हरिभक्तिं
प्रेमनिर्भररसोर्मिभिरार्द्रा।
दुर्लभां त्रिजगतो मुनेरपि यां प्रगायति मुदा शुकदेवः॥१४॥

*uttamāmatitarāṁ haribhaktiṁ
premanirbhararasormibhirārdrā| durlabhāṁ trijagato munerapi
yām pragāyati mudā śukadevaḥ||14||*

Word for word: uttamam — the highest; atitaram — surpassing all; hari-bhaktim — devotion to Hari; prema-nirbhara-rasa-urmibhiḥ — by waves of rasa full of love; ardra — moistened; durlabham — hard to attain; tri-jagataḥ — in the three worlds; muneḥ — for a sage; api — even; yam — which; pragayati — sings; muda — joyfully; shuka-devaḥ — Shukadeva.

14. and, moistened by the waves of a rasa full of love, you attained the highest devotion to Hari, surpassing all, which is hard to attain in the three worlds even for a sage — the devotion that Shukadeva joyfully sings.

Verse 15

तथा च —
वन्दे नन्दव्रजस्त्रीणां पादरेणुमभीक्ष्णशः। यासां हरिकथोद्गीतं पुनाति भुवनत्रयम्॥१५॥

*tathā ca —
vande nandavrajastṛīṇāṁ pādareṇumabhīkṣṇaśaḥ|
yāsāṁ harikathodgītāṁ punāti bhuvanatrayam||15||*

Word for word: tatha cha — and so (it is said); vande — I revere; nanda-vraja-strinam — of the women of Nanda's Vraja; pada-renum — the dust of the feet; abhikshnashah — constantly; yasam — whose; hari-katha-udgitam — singing of the narrations of Hari; punati — purifies; bhuvana-trayam — the three worlds.

15. As it is said: 'Again and again I revere the dust of the feet of the women of Nanda's Vraja, whose singing of Hari purifies the three worlds.'⁷

Verse 16

किं वदामि हरिभक्तिमहत्त्वं
सर्वपापगणवान्द्विजसूनुः।
दुःखपालिभिरजामिलनामा पुत्रमात्रमनुचिन्त्य जगाम॥१६॥

*kiṁ vadāmi haribhaktimahattvaṁ
sarvapāpagaṇavāndvijasūnuḥ| duḥkhapālibhirajāmilanāmā
putramātramanucintya jagāma||16||*

Word for word: kim — what; vadami — shall I say; hari-bhakti-mahattvam — of the greatness of devotion to Hari; sarva-papa-ganavan — burdened with every sin; dvija-sunuh — a brahmana's son; duhkha-palibhih — (seized) by the guardians of torment; ajamila-nama — named Ajamila; putra-matram — only of his son; anuchintya — thinking; jagama — departed.

16. What shall I say of the greatness of devotion to Hari? A brahmana's son named Ajamila, laden with every sin, seized by the guardians of torment, merely thought of his son — and went free⁸.

Verse 17

नाममात्रविभवेन भवाब्धेः
पारमेव परदुस्तरस्य च।
गच्छतु सगण एव कृपाब्धे- धर्म किं पुनरजस्य सुसेवा॥१७॥

*nāmamātravibhavana bhavābdheḥ
pārameva paradustarasya ca| gacchatu sagaṇa eva kṛpābdhe-rdhāma kiṁ punarajasya susevā||17||*

Word for word: nama-matra-vibhavana — by the power of the mere name; bhava-abdheh — of the ocean of existence; param — to the far shore; eva — indeed; para-dustarasya — so very hard to cross; cha — and; gachchhatu — let one reach; sa-ganah — with companions; eva — even; kripa-abdheh — of the Ocean of mercy; dhama — the abode; kim punah — how much more; ajasya — to the Unborn; su-seva — devoted service.

17. Grant that by the power of the mere name one may reach the far shore of the ocean of existence, so very hard to cross, and even, with one's companions, the abode of the Ocean of mercy — how much more, then, by devoted service to the Unborn!"

Verse 18

एवमुक्तवति भूसुरवर्ये
प्रेमसागररसोर्मिभिरार्द्राः।
संबभूवुरति ते रसपूर्णा- स्तूर्णमेव मुदिता द्विजवर्याः॥१८॥

evamuktavati bhūsuravarye
premasāgararasormibhirārdrāḥ| sambabhūvurati te rasapūrṇā-stūrṇameva muditā dvijavaryāḥ||18||

Word for word: evam — thus; uktavati — when (he) had spoken; bhu-sura-varye — the best of brahmanas; prema-sagara-rasa-urmibhiḥ — by waves of the rasa of the ocean of love; ardrah — moistened; sambabhuvuh — became; ati — exceedingly; te — those; rasa-purnah — full of rasa; turnam eva — at once; muditah — joyful; dvija-varyah — the best of the twice-born.

18. When the best of brahmanas had spoken thus, the best of the twice-born were at once filled with joy and rasa, moistened by the waves of rasa from the ocean of love.

Verse 19

यदङ्घ्रिनखचन्द्रिकाकिरणमात्रमेतत्परं
सुरेन्द्रमुनिपुङ्गवैः सहचरैर्हि ब्रह्मादिभिः।
कृतं सकलनिर्मलं गोपगोपीनामामृतै- स्तदप्सरःकथादिकं मनुजभावमेव स्फुटम्॥१९॥

yadaṅghrinakhacandrikākiraṇamātrametatparam
surendramunipuṅgavaiḥ sahacarairhi brahmādibhiḥ| kṛtaṁ sakalanirmalaṁ gopagopīnāmāmṛtai-stadapsaraḥkathādikaṁ manujabhāvameva sphuṭam||19||

Word for word: yat — whose; anghri-nakha-chandrika-kirana-matram — a mere ray of the moonlight of the toenails; etat — this; param — supreme; surendra-muni-pungavaiḥ — by the lords of the gods and the best of sages; sahacharaiḥ — as companions; hi — indeed; brahma-adibhiḥ — by Brahma and the others; kritam — enacted; sakala-nirmalam — wholly pure; gopa-gopi-nama-amritaiḥ — with the nectar of the names of the cowherd men and women; tat — that; apsarah-katha-adikam — the story of the apsara and the rest; manuja-bhavam — the human mood; eva — only; sphutam — clearly.

19. A mere ray of the moonlight of His toenails — that is the supreme; together with His companions, the lords of the gods, the best of sages, Brahma and the others, He enacted a wholly pure play, full of the nectar of the names of the cowherd men and women; and the story of the apsara and the rest clearly shows only His play in human form⁹.

Thus ends the fifteenth sarga, "Description of the Gopis' Mood — Bhakti-yoga" (Gopi-bhava-varnana — Bhakti-yoga), of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. Varaha is the incarnation of Vishnu as a boar who raised the Earth from the waters; "He whose body is sacrifice" is His standing epithet.

2. The mood of Balarama (see sarga 2.14) gives way to the mood of Krishna with His flute.

3. Bhishmaka's daughter is Rukmini, Krishna's consort; here the name refers to the Lord's wife (Vishnupriya).

4. The play at the house of Chandrashekhara Acharya, in which the Lord took a woman's role and His companions played other parts, is also described at length in other lives of the Lord.

5. Shripati's elder brother is Srivasa.

6. Narada (Srivasa) reminds Gadadhara, who is playing a gopi, of her former birth as an apsara.

7. Bhagavata Purana 10.47.63 — Uddhava's words about the gopis of Vraja.

8. Bhagavata Purana, canto 6, chapters 1–2: dying, the sinful Ajamila called out to his son named Narayana; the messengers of Yama withdrew, and he was saved.

9. The verse is obscure; the reading and interpretation are conjectural.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 16. The Manifestation of All Energies

The play in Chandrashekhara's house continues: Haridasa, Advaita and Nityananda enter; the Lord appears as a gopi, then in the mood of Kamala and of the Goddess, displays all power, feeds the devotees with milk and in the morning returns home

Verse 1

प्राविशत्तदनु दण्डधरोऽग्रतः

तत्र कोऽपि समुवाच मुरारिं दीनमेनमवलोकय देवि॥१९॥

*pañcahāyana ivābhavattadā
so'pi tatra tadabhūdaticitram| tatra ko'pi samuvāca murāriṁ
dīnamenamavalokaya devi*||19||

Word for word: pancha-hayanah — a five-year-old (child); iva — like; abhavat — became; tada — then; sah — he; api — too; tatra — there; tat — that; abhut — was; ati-chitram — most wondrous; tatra — there; ko 'pi — someone; samuvacha — said; murarim — Murari; dinam — lowly; enam — this; avalokaya — look upon; devi — O Goddess.

19. And he became then like a child of five — a most wondrous sight. Someone there said: "O Goddess, look upon this lowly Murari!"

Verse 20

तन्निशम्य नयनाब्जयुगेन
प्रेमतोयमसृजत्करुणार्द्रा।
तत्क्षणात्समनुभूय च सा त-त्पूजनं निजजनस्य सुवेशा॥२०॥

*tanniśamya nayanābjayugena
prematoyamasṛjatkaruṇārdṛā| tatkṣaṇātsamanubhūya ca sā tatpūjanaṁ nijajanasya suveśā*||20||

Word for word: tat — that; nishamya — hearing; nayana-abja-yugena — from her two lotus eyes; prema-toyam — the water of love (tears); asrijat — shed; karuna-ardra — melted with compassion; tat-kshanat — at once; samanubhuya — accepting; cha — and; sa — she; tat — that; pujanam — worship; nija-janasya — of her own people; su-vesha — beautifully attired.

20. Hearing this, She, melting with compassion, shed tears of love from Her two lotus eyes; and at once, accepting the worship of Her own, beautifully attired,

Verse 21

स्तन्यमाशु विदधे सुरवर्या- न्याययन्नसुरवाहिनीरिपुः।
तां विलोक्य करुणार्द्रसुनेत्रा- मीश्वरं निजजना मुदमापुः॥२१॥

stanyamāśu vidadhe suravaryānpāyayannasuravāhinīripuḥ| tām vilokya karuṇārdrasunetrāmīśvaram nijajanā mudamāpuḥ||21||

Word for word: stanyam — breast-milk; ashu — at once; vidadhe — produced; sura-varyan — the best of the gods; payayan — giving to drink; asura-vahini-ripuh — the Foe of the asura hosts; tam — her; vilokya — seeing; karuna-ardra-su-netram — with lovely eyes moist with compassion; ishvaram — the Lord; nija-janah — His own people; mudam — joy; apuh — attained.

21. He — the Foe of the asura hosts — brought forth breast-milk and gave it to the best of the gods to drink. Seeing the Lord, His lovely eyes moist with compassion, His own people were filled with joy.

Verse 22

तत्क्षणाद्भगवतः पुनरेव
भाव ईशितुरभूदवलोक्य।
नेमुरार्द्रनयना जगदीशं तुष्टुवुश्च मुदिता द्विजवर्याः॥२२॥

*tatkṣaṇādbhagavataḥ punareva
bhāva īśiturabhūdavalokya| nemurārdranayanā jagadīśam
tuṣṭuvuśca muditā dvijavaryāḥ||22||*

Word for word: tat-kshanat — at once; bhagavatah — in Bhagavan; punah eva — once more; bhavah — the mood; ishithu — of the Sovereign; abhut — arose; avalokya — seeing (it); nemuh — bowed; ardra-nayanah — with moist eyes; jagat-isham — to the Lord of the world; tushtuvuh — praised; cha — and; muditah — joyful; dvija-varyah — the best of the twice-born.

22. And at once the mood of the Sovereign arose once more in Bhagavan. Seeing this, the best of the twice-born bowed with tear-filled eyes to the Lord of the world and joyfully praised Him.

Verse 23

एवं निनाय भगवान्सकलां निशां स
प्रातर्जगाम निजमन्दिरमिन्दुवक्त्रः।
हस्तगृहीतवरदण्ड इवातिचण्ड-रश्मेः शिखेव नृहरिर्दृशे जनेन॥२३॥

evam nināya bhagavānsakalām niśām sa prātarjagāma nijamandiraminduvaktraḥ| hastagrṛhītavaradaṇḍa ivāticaṇḍaraśmeḥ śikheva nṛharirdrśe janena||23||

Word for word: evam — thus; ninaya — spent; bhagavan — Bhagavan; sakalam — the whole; nisham — night; sah — He; pratah — in the morning; jagama — went; nija-mandiram — to His house; indu-vaktrah — moon-faced; hasta-grihita-vara-dandah — holding a fine staff in His hand; iva — as if; ati-chanda-rashmeh — of the fierce-rayed sun; shikha — a flame; iva — like; nriharih — Nrihari; dadrishe — was seen; janena — by the people.

23. Thus Bhagavan spent the whole night, and in the morning the moon-faced Lord went to His house; as though holding a splendid staff in His hand, Nrihari appeared to the people like a flame of the fierce-rayed sun.

Thus ends the sixteenth sarga, "The Manifestation of All Energies" (Sarva-shakti-prakasha), of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna-chaitanya-charitamrita."

1. The play in Chandrashekhara's house (see sarga 2.15) continues: Haridasa comes out first, staff in hand, like a herald or a watchman.
2. Advaita Acharya is revered as the incarnation of a portion of Mahavishnu.
3. Baladeva is Nityananda.
4. Vasudeva is a name of Krishna. The compound may also be understood as "in a special attire prepared by Vasudeva."
5. The breeze from the Malaya hills in South India, where sandalwood grows, is famed in poetry for its coolness and fragrance.
6. Kamala is Lakshmi, the Lord's eternal consort.
7. The Goddess (Bhagavati) is the original energy of the Lord, possessing all powers.
8. Chandi is the fierce Goddess (Durga). The Lord jokes: people will take those devoted to Him in the form of the Goddess for Shaktas, votaries of Chandi.

Prakrama 2, Sarga 17. The Admonition of Sri Murari Gupta

For a week the Lord's wondrous radiance lingers; Srivasa asks about the dharma of the ages, and the Lord speaks of the holy name; the Lord longs to leave for Mathura, and Murari holds Him back

Verse 1

श्रीचन्द्रशेखराचार्यरत्नवाट्यां महाप्रभुः। ननर्त यत्र तत्रासीत्तेजस्तत्त्ववदद्भुतम्॥१॥

*śrīcandraśekharaācāryaratnavāṭyāṁ mahāprabhuḥ|
nanarta yatra tatrāsīttejastattvavadadbhutam||1||*

Word for word: shri-chandrashekhara-acharyaratna-vatyam — in the homestead of Sri Chandrashekhara Acharyaratna; maha-prabhuḥ — Mahaprabhu; nanarta — danced; yatra — where; tatra — there; asit — there was; tejah — a radiance; tattva-vat — in very truth; adbhutam — wondrous.

1. In the homestead of Sri Chandrashekhara Acharyaratna¹, where Mahaprabhu had danced, a radiance shone forth — wondrous in very truth.

Verse 2

सप्ताहं शीतलं चन्द्रतेजसा सदृशं हरेः।
चञ्चलेव सुदुष्प्रेक्ष्यं चित्ताह्लादकरं शुचि॥२॥

*saptāhaṁ śītalam candratejasā sadṛśam hareḥ|
cañcaleva suduṣprekṣyaṁ cittāhlādakaram śuci||2||*

Word for word: sapta-aham — for seven days; shitalam — cool; chandra-tejasa — to the light of the moon; sadrisham — similar; hareh — of Hari; chanchala — lightning; iva — like; su-dushprekshyam

— very hard to look at; chitta-ahlada-karam — gladdening the heart; shuchi — pure.

2. For seven days Hari's radiance was cool like moonlight, yet dazzling to the eyes like lightning — pure and gladdening to the heart.

Verse 3

ये ये तत्रागता लोका ऊचुस्तत्र कथं दृशोः।
उन्मीलने न शक्ताः स्म विद्युद्वत्प्रेक्ष्य भूतले॥३॥

ye ye tatrāgatā lokā ūcustatra katham drśoh|
unmilane na śaktāḥ sma vidyudvatprekṣya bhūtale||3||

Word for word: ye ye — all who; tatra — there; agatah — came; lokah — people; uchuh — said; tatra — there; katham — how is it; drishoh — of the eyes; unmilane — to the opening; na shaktah sma — we are not able; vidyut-vat — something like lightning; prekshya — seeing; bhu-tale — on the earth.

3. All who came there said, "How is it that we cannot open our eyes? It is as if we were seeing lightning on the earth!"

Verse 4

तच्छ्रुत्वा वैष्णवाः सर्वे हर्षादूचुर्न किञ्चन। जानन्तोऽपि महाभागा बहिर्मुखजनान्प्रति॥४॥

tacchrutvā vaiṣṇavāḥ sarve harṣādūcurna kiñcana|
jānanto'pi mahābhāgā bahirmukhajananprati||4||

Word for word: tat — that; shrutva — hearing; vaishnavah — the Vaishnavas; sarve — all; harshat — out of joy; uchuh na kinchana — said nothing; janantah — knowing; api — though; maha-bhagah — the greatly fortunate; bahir-mukha-janan prati — to the people turned away (from God).

4. Hearing this, the Vaishnavas, out of joy, said nothing; those greatly fortunate souls knew the truth of it, but did not reveal it to people turned away from God.

Verse 5

अथ पप्रच्छ श्रीवासो भगवन्तं जगद्गुरुम्। कलावेव हरेर्नामकीर्तनं समुदाहृतम्॥५॥

atha papraccha śrīvāso bhagavantam jagadgurum|
kalāveva harernāmakīrtanam samudāhṛtam||5||

Word for word: atha — then; paprachchha — asked; shrivasah — Srivasa; bhagavantam — Bhagavan; jagat-gurum — the teacher of the world; kalau eva — for Kali alone; hareh — of Hari; nama-kirtanam — the chanting of the name; samudahritam — is declared.

5. Then Srivasa asked Bhagavan, the teacher of the world, "The chanting of Hari's name is declared for the age of Kali alone.

Verse 6

किं सत्यादियुगस्यास्ति फलं न्यूनं कथञ्चन। तच्छ्रुत्वा भगवान्प्राह श्रूयतां कथयामि ते॥६॥

kiṁ satyādiyugasyāsti phalam nyūnam kathañcana|
tacchrutvā bhagavānpṛāha śrūyatāṁ kathayāmi te||6||

Word for word: kim — is it that; satya-adi-yugasya — of Satya and the other ages; asti — is; phalam — the fruit; nyunam — lesser; kathanchana — in any way; tat — that; shrutva — hearing; bhagavan — Bhagavan; praha — said; shrumatam — listen; kathayami — I shall tell; te — you.

6. Is the fruit of the Satya age and the others, then, in any way less?² Hearing this, Bhagavan replied, "Listen, and I shall tell you.

Verse 7

सत्ये धर्मस्य पूर्णत्वाद्ध्यानैवोपसाध्यते। तत्फलं यज्ञमात्रेण त्रेतायां द्वापरे युगे॥७॥

satye dharmasya pūrṇatvāddhyānenaivopasādhya-te| tatphalam yajñamātreṇa tretāyāṁ dvāpare yuge||7||

Word for word: satye — in the Satya age; dharmasya — of dharma; purnatvat — because of the fullness; dhyanaena eva — by meditation alone; upasadyate — is attained; tat-phalam — that fruit; yajna-matrena — by sacrifice alone; tretayam — in the Treta age; dvapare yuge — in the Dvapara age.

7. In the Satya age, when dharma is whole, the fruit is attained by meditation alone; in the Treta age the same fruit comes by sacrifice alone; in the Dvapara age,

Verse 8

पूजनेन कलौ पापैर्न शक्तास्ते हरिः स्वयम्। नामस्वरूपो भगवानागत्य शुशुभे प्रभुः॥८॥

*pūjanena kalau pāpairna śaktāste hariḥ svayam|
nāmasvarūpo bhagavānāgatya śuśubhe prabhuḥ||8||*

Word for word: pujanena — by worship (in Dvapara); kalau — in Kali; papaih — because of sins; na shaktah — not capable; te — they (people); hariḥ — Hari; svayam — Himself; nama-svarupah — in the form of the name; bhagavan — Bhagavan; agatya — having come; shushubhe — shone forth; prabhuḥ — the Lord.

8. by worship. But in Kali people, because of their sins, are capable of none of these; and so Hari Himself, Bhagavan, the Lord, has come in the form of the name and shone forth³.

Verse 9

कृतादिषु त्रयः शक्त्या ध्यानयज्ञार्चनादयः। दारुणे च कलौ पापे स्वयमेवानुपद्यते॥९॥

*kṛtādiṣu trayah śaktyā dhyānayajñārcanādayaḥ|
dāruṇe ca kalau pāpe svayamevānupadyate||9||*

Word for word: krita-adishu — in Krita and the other (ages); trayah — the three (ways); shaktya — by (human) capacity; dhyana-yajna-archana-adayah — meditation, sacrifice, worship and the rest; darune — in the terrible; cha — but; kalau — Kali; pape — sinful; svayam eva — He Himself; anupadyate — comes.

9. In Krita and the ages that follow, the three ways — meditation, sacrifice, worship and the rest — are carried out by human strength; but in the terrible, sinful age of Kali He comes Himself."

Verse 10

तच्छ्रुत्वा हर्षितो विप्रः श्रीवासः पण्डितोत्तमः। मेने सर्वपुरुषार्थसारं श्रीनाममङ्गलम्॥१०॥

*tacchrutvā harṣito vipraḥ śrīvāsaḥ paṇḍitottamaḥ|
mene sarvapuruṣārthasāraṁ śrīnāmamaṅgalam||10||*

Word for word: tat — that; shrutva — hearing; harshitah — delighted; viprah — the brahmana; shrivasah — Srivasa; pandita-uttamah — the best of pandits; mene — considered; sarva-purusha-artha-saram — the essence of all human goals; shri-nama-mangalam — the auspicious holy name.

10. Hearing this, the brahmana Srivasa, the best of pandits, rejoiced and recognized the auspicious holy name as the essence of all the aims of human life.

Verse 11

हरिसङ्कीर्तनं कृत्वा नगरे नगरे प्रभुः। म्लेच्छादीनुद्धारासौ जगतामीश्वरो हरिः॥११॥

*harisaṅkīrtanaṁ kṛtvā nagare nagare prabhuḥ|
mlecchādīnuddadhārāsau jagatāmīśvaro hariḥ||11||*

Word for word: hari-sankirtanam — the sankirtana of Hari; kritva — performing; nagare nagare — in town after town; prabhuh — the Lord; mlechchha-adin — the mlechchhas and others; uddadhara — delivered; asau — He; jagatam — of the worlds; ishvarah — the Sovereign; harih — Hari.

11. Thus, performing the sankirtana of Hari in town after town, the Lord — Hari, the Sovereign of the worlds — delivered the mlechchhas and others.

Verse 12

एकदा भगवानाह नेत्रवारिभराप्लुतः।
स्थातुं नाहं समर्थोऽस्मि गच्छामि मथुरां पुरीम्॥१२॥

*ekadā bhagavānāha netravāribharāplutaḥ|
sthātum nāhaṁ samartho'smi gacchāmi mathurāṁ purīm||12||*

Word for word: ekada — once; bhagavan — Bhagavan; aha — said; netra-vari-bhara-aplutaḥ — flooded with a stream of tears; sthatum — to stay; na — not; aham — I; samarthah asmi — am able; gachchhami — I am going; mathuram — to Mathura; purim — the city.

12. One day Bhagavan, bathed in tears, said, "I can no longer stay here. I am going to the city of Mathura."

Verse 13

छित्त्वा यज्ञोपवीतं स्वं कृष्णविश्लेषकातरः।
श्रुत्वा तद्वचनं तस्य प्राह वैद्यो मुरारिकः॥१३॥

*chittvā yajñopavītaṁ svaṁ kṛṣṇaviśleṣakātarah|
śrutvā tadvacanaṁ tasya prāha vaidyo murārikah||13||*

Word for word: chhittva — breaking; yajna-upavitam — the sacred thread; svam — His own; krishna-vishlesha-katarah — distraught at separation from Krishna; shrutva — hearing; tat — those; vachanam — words; tasya — His; praha — said; vaidyah — the physician; murarikah — (humble) Murari.

13. In the anguish of separation from Krishna He broke His sacred thread⁴. Hearing His words, the humble physician Murari said:

Verse 14

भगवन्सकलं कर्तुं शक्तोऽसि सर्वतत्त्ववित्।
गन्तुं स्थातुं त्वमार्येण तथापि नार्हसि ध्रुवम्॥१४॥

*bhagavansakalam kartum śakto'si sarvatattvavit|
gantum sthātum tvamāryeṇa tathāpi nārhasi dhruvam||14||*

Word for word: bhagavan — O Bhagavan; sakalam — everything; kartum — to do; shaktah asi — You are able; sarva-tattva-vit — knower of all truths; gantum — to go; sthatum — to stay; tvam — You; ariyena — by (the way of) the noble; tatha api — even so; na arhasi — You ought not; dhruvam — surely.

14. "Bhagavan, You can do anything, You know all truths; You are free to go or to stay. Even so, by the way of the noble⁵, You surely ought not to go.

Verse 15

त्वया चेत्क्रियते नाथ स्वातन्त्र्यात्सकला जनाः।
स्वातन्त्र्येण करिष्यन्ति पतिष्यन्त्यशुचौ पुनः॥१५॥

*tvayā cetkriyate nātha svātantryātsakalā janāḥ|
svātantryeṇa kariṣyanti patiṣyantyāśucau punaḥ||15||*

Word for word: tvaya — by You; chet — if; kriyate — it is done; natha — O Lord; svatantryat — out of independence; sakalah — all; janah — people; svatantryena — independently; karishyanti — will act; patishyanti — will fall; ashuchau — into impurity; punah — then.

15. If You, O Lord, act as You alone will, then all people too will act as they will — and fall into impurity.

Verse 16

एतन्मत्वा स्वयं तात स्वाश्रमादाश्रमान्तरम्। कर्तव्यं तु त्वया ते के कथयन्तु महत्तमाः॥१६॥

*etanmatvā svayam tāta svāśramādāśramāntaram|
kartavyam tu tvayā te ke kathayantu mahattamāḥ||16||*

Word for word: etat — this; matva — considering; svayam — Yourself; tata — dear one; sva-ashramat — from Your own ashrama; ashrama-antaram — (a change) to another ashrama; kartavyam — is to be made; tu — but; tvaya — by You; te ke — who are they; kathayantu — let them say; mahattamah — the greatest.

16. Consider this, dear one: that You Yourself should pass from Your own ashrama into another — which of the greatest would say it must be so?

Verse 17

कृत्वैव गमनं तेऽद्य कृतं स्यात्सर्वदिहिनाम्। चैतन्यरहितानां च किं तावत्कथयामि ते॥१७॥

*kṛtvaiva gamanaṁ te'dya kṛtaṁ syātsarvadehinām|
caitanyaarahitānām ca kiṁ tāvatkathayāmi te||17||*

Word for word: kṛtva eva — once making; gamanam — departure; te — Your; adya — today; kṛtam syat — it would be all over; sarva-dehinam — for all embodied beings; chaitanya-rahitanam — bereft of consciousness (of Chaitanya); cha — and; kim — what; tavat — more; kathayami — shall I say; te — to You.

17. Should You leave today, it will be the end of all embodied beings: they will be left without Chaitanya, without consciousness⁶. What more can I say to You?"

Verse 18

भक्तैः संवेष्टितो नित्यं नित्यानन्दसमन्वितः। गदाधरेण गन्धाद्यैः सेवितो भक्तगो हरिः॥१८॥

*bhaktaiḥ samveṣṭito nityaṁ nityānandasamanvitaḥ|
gadādhareṇa gandhādyaiḥ sevito bhaktago hariḥ||18||*

Word for word: bhaktaiḥ — by devotees; samveshtitah — surrounded; nityam — always; nityananda-samanvitaḥ — accompanied by Nityananda; gadadharena — by Gadadhara; gandha-adyaiḥ — with fragrances and so on; sevitaḥ — served; bhakta-gah — abiding among His devotees; hariḥ — Hari.

18. Hari was ever surrounded by His devotees, Nityananda was with Him, and Gadadhara served Him with fragrances and other offerings — for He dwells among His devotees⁷.

Verse 19

तच्छ्रुत्वा भगवांस्तूष्णीं भूत्वासीत्प्रेमविह्वलः। कृष्णसङ्कीर्तनानन्दपूर्णमनोरथः स्वयम्॥१९॥

*tacchrutvā bhagavāṁstūṣṇīm bhūtvāsītpremavihvalaḥ|
kṛṣṇasaṅkīrtanānandapūrṇamanorathaḥ svayam||19||*

Word for word: tat — that; shrutva — hearing; bhagavan — Bhagavan; tushnim bhutva — falling silent; asit — remained; prema-vihvalah — overwhelmed by love; krishna-sankirtana-ananda-purna-manorathah — His desires fulfilled by the bliss of Krishna's sankirtana; svayam — Himself.

19. Hearing Murari's words, Bhagavan fell silent, overwhelmed by love; all His desires were fulfilled in the bliss of Krishna's sankirtana.

Thus ends the seventeenth sarga, "The Admonition of Sri Murari Gupta," of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. Chandrashekhara Acharyaratna was the Lord's maternal uncle; the play described in sargas 2.15–16 was staged in his house.

2. Srivasa asks: if the chanting of the name is declared specifically for the Kali age, are the ways of the other ages not inferior to it? The Lord's answer (vv. 7–9) shows that in every age the same fruit is attained, but in Kali the Lord comes Himself — as the holy name.

3. The name of Hari is not different from Hari Himself.

4. The sacred thread is the mark of the twice-born householder; by breaking it the Lord foreshadows His leaving home and accepting sannyasa.

5. The reading and sense of this passage are not entirely clear.

6. A play on words: "bereft of consciousness" in Sanskrit is "bereft of chaitanya."

Prakrama 2, Sarga 18. The Prelude to Sannyasa

In a dream the Lord is given the mantra of sannyasa; Keshava Bharati comes to Navadvipa; the Lord consoles Srivasa, instructs Murari, and in Kantakanagara accepts sannyasa. End of the second prakrama

Verse 1

ततः कियद्दिने प्राह भगवान्कार्यमानुषः।
स्वप्ने दृष्टो मया कश्चिदागत्य ब्राह्मणोत्तमः॥१॥

*tataḥ kiyaddine prāha bhagavānkāryamānuṣaḥ|
svapne dr̥ṣṭo mayā kaścidāgatya brāhmaṇottamaḥ||1||*

Word for word: tataḥ — then; kiyat-dine — after some days; praha — said; bhagavan — Bhagavan; karya-manushah — human for the sake of (His) task; svapne — in a dream; drishtah — was seen; maya — by Me; kashchit — a certain; agatya — coming; brahmana-uttamah — excellent brahmana.

1. Some days later Bhagavan, who had taken a human form for the sake of His mission, said, "I dreamt that a certain excellent brahmana came to Me,

Verse 2

सन्न्यासमन्त्रं मत्कर्णे कथयामास सुस्मितः।
तच्छ्रुत्वा व्यथितो रात्रौ दिवा चाहं विरोदिमि॥२॥

*sannyāsamantram matkarṇe kathayāmāsa susmitaḥ|
tacchrutvā vyathito rātrau divā cāhaṁ virodimi||2||*

Word for word: sannyasa-mantram — the mantra of sannyasa; mat-karne — into My ear; kathayam asa — spoke; su-smitah — smiling sweetly; tat — that; shrutva — hearing; vyathitah — pained; ratrau — by night; diva — by day; cha — and; aham — I; virodimi — weep.

2. and, smiling sweetly, spoke the mantra of sannyasa into My ear. Since hearing it I have been grieving, weeping by night and by day.

Verse 3

कथं प्रियं हरिं नाथं त्यक्त्वान्यदुचितं मम।
मुरारिः प्राह तच्छ्रुत्वा तन्मन्त्रे भगवान्स्वयम्॥३॥

*katham priyaṁ hariṁ nāthaṁ tyaktvānyaducitaṁ mama|
murāriḥ prāha tacchrutvā tanmantre bhagavānsvayam||3||*

Word for word: katham — how; priyam — the dear; harim — Hari; natham — the Lord; tyaktva — abandoning; anyat — something else; uchitam — is fitting; mama — for Me; murarih — Murari; praha — said; tat — that; shrutva — hearing; tat-mantre — in that mantra; bhagavan — Bhagavan; svayam — Himself.

3. How can I abandon dear Hari, My Lord? What else could befit Me?" Hearing this, Murari said, "In that mantra is Bhagavan Himself.

Verse 4

षष्ठीसमासं मनसा विचिन्त्य त्वं सुखी भव॥४॥

ṣaṣṭhīsamāsaṁ manasā vicintya tvam sukhi bhava||4||

Word for word: shashthi-samasam — a compound in the sixth (genitive) case; manasa — in the mind; vichintya — considering; tvam — You; sukhi — happy; bhava — be.

4. Understand it in Your mind as a compound in the genitive case, and be happy¹."

Verse 5

तत्रोवाच प्रभुर्वाचं तथापि खिद्यते मनः।

शब्दशक्त्या करिष्यामि किमित्युक्त्वा रुरोद सः॥५॥

tatrovāca prabhurvācam tathāpi khidyate manaḥ|

śabdaśaktyā kariṣyāmi kimityuktvā ruroda saḥ||5||

Word for word: tatra — to that; uvacha — spoke; prabhuh — the Lord; vacham — a word; tatha api — still; khidyate — is distressed; manah — the mind; shabda-shaktya — by the power of words; karishyami — shall I do; kim — what; iti — thus; ukta — saying; ruroda — wept; saḥ — He.

5. To this the Lord replied, "Still My mind is troubled. What am I to do with the power of words?²" And saying this, He wept.

Verse 6

तच्छ्रुत्वा व्यथिताः सर्वे कृष्णविश्लेषकातराः।

यथा भाविनि माथुरे विक्लवा व्रजसुभ्रुवः॥६॥

tacchrutvā vyathitāḥ sarve kṛṣṇaviśleṣakātarāḥ|

yathā bhāvinī mātūre viklavā vrajasubhruvaḥ||6||

Word for word: tat — that; shrutva — hearing; vyathitah — were pained; sarve — all; krishna-vishlesha-katarah — distraught at (the coming) separation from Krishna; yatha — as; bhavini — when impending; mathure — (the journey) to Mathura; viklavah — distraught; vraja-subhruvah — the fair-browed maidens of Vraja.

6. Hearing this, all were stricken, distraught at the coming separation from Krishna — like the fair-browed maidens of Vraja, distraught when Krishna's journey to Mathura was at hand.

Verse 7

ततः कियद्दिने तत्र श्रीमत्केशवभारती।

28. Listen to Me attentively: today I give you an instruction — keep it firmly in mind.

Verse 29

अद्वैताचार्यवर्योऽसौ महान्वै सद्गुणाश्रयः।

ईश्वरांशोऽस्य सेवां च कुरु यत्नेन सादरम्॥२९॥

advaitācāryavaryo'sau mahānvai sadguṇāśrayaḥ|
īśvarāṁśo'sya sevāṁ ca kuru yatnena sādaram||29||

Word for word: advaita-acharya-varyah — the excellent Advaita Acharya; asau — this; mahan — great; vai — truly; sat-guna-ashrayah — the abode of virtues; ishvara-amshah — a portion of the Lord; asya — to him; sevam — service; cha — and; kuru — render; yatnena — with care; sa-adaram — with reverence.

29. The excellent Advaita Acharya is truly great: he is the abode of virtues, a portion of the Lord. Serve him with care and reverence.

Verse 30

इत्येवं ज्ञापितो गुह्यो मया त्वत्सुखसिद्धये।

इत्युक्त्वा स ययौ देवः स्वां पुरीं भक्तवत्सलः॥३०॥

ityevaṁ jñāpito guhyo mayā tvatsukhasiddhaye|
ityuktva sa yayau devaḥ svāṁ purīm bhaktavatsalah||30||

Word for word: iti evam — thus; jnapitah — has been made known; guhyah — the secret (instruction); maya — by Me; tvat-sukha-siddhaye — for your happiness; iti — thus; uktva — saying; sah — He; yayau — went; devah — the Lord; svam — to His own; purim — town (home); bhakta-vatsalah — loving to His devotees.

30. Thus I have disclosed this secret instruction to you for your happiness." Having said this, the Lord, so loving to His devotees, went home.

Verse 31

अथापरदिने गत्वा कण्टकग्राममुत्तमम्। सन्न्यासं कृतवान्कृष्णः श्रीमत्केशवभारतीम्॥३१॥

*athāparadine gatvā kaṇṭakagrāmamuttamam|

31. And on the next day Krishna went to the fine village of Kantaka⁵ and took sannyasa,

Verse 32

कृतार्थयन्गुरुं कृत्वा तं ब्रह्मपारगोत्तमम्॥३२॥

kṛtārthayangurum kṛtvā taṁ brahmapāragottamam||32||

Word for word: kritarthayan — blessing; gurum — guru; kritva — making; tam — him; brahma-paraga-uttamam — the best of those who have reached the far shore of Brahman.

32. making the venerable Keshava Bharati, the best of those who have reached the far shore of Brahman, His guru, and so fulfilling his life.

Verse 33

इति हरेश्चरितं संशृणोति यः
सपदि पापगणं परिहाय सः।
विशति पादतले नृहरेर्लभे- दतुलभक्तिमसङ्गमनार्यतः॥३३॥

*iti hareścaritaṁ saṁśṛṇoti yaḥ
sapadi pāpaṅgaṇaṁ parihāya saḥ| viśati pādatale nṛharerlabhedatulabhaktimasaṅgamanāryataḥ||33||*

Word for word: iti — thus; hareh — of Hari; charitam — the deeds; samshrinoti — hears; yah — who; sapadi — at once; papa-ganam — the host of sins; parihaya — casting off; sah — he; vishati — enters; pada-tale — at the soles of the feet; nrihareh — of Nrihari; labhet — will gain; atula-bhaktim — incomparable devotion; asangam — detachment; anaryatah — from the ignoble.

33. Whoever thus hears the deeds of Hari at once casts off the host of his sins and comes to the soles of Nrihari's feet; he will gain incomparable devotion and freedom from attachment to all that is ignoble.

Thus ends the eighteenth sarga, "The Prelude to Sannyasa" (Sannyasa-sutra), of the second prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita." Thus the second prakrama is complete.

1. Murari suggests interpreting the sannyasa mantra, which speaks of identity with Brahman, through the genitive case: not "I am He" but "I am His," that is, the Lord's servant. This is how the Gaudiya Vaishnava tradition understands the great sayings of the Upanishads.

2. That is, the interpretation does not remove the direct sense of the mantra's words.

3. The word sadhu here, as commonly in Bengal, means a merchant engaged in overseas trade.
 4. The sense is unfolded in v. 29: the Lord bids Murari to serve Advaita Acharya diligently. It may also be understood as "you are always detached — so carry out My word."
 5. Kantaka (Kantakanagara) is present-day Katwa on the bank of the Ganga.

Prakrama Three

Prakrama 3, Sarga 1. The Words of the Women of Kantakanagara

Damodara asks Murari to tell of the Lord's sannyasa; verses of invocation; the Lord leaves Navadvipa; Chandrashekhara returns and tells how the people of Kantakanagara gazed at the Lord and what the women said of Him

Verse 1

श्रुत्वा हरेः कथनमद्भुतमप्रपञ्चं

Word for word: brahma-svabhava-bhagavat-bhajana-amritam — the nectar of the worship of Bhagavan, whose nature is Brahman; cha — and; tam — Him; deva-vrinda-parivandita-padam — whose feet are revered by hosts of gods; ide — I praise; yat-pada-padma-makarandam — the honey of whose lotus feet; ajasram — unceasingly; pitva — drinking; shri-shankarah — Sri Shankara (Shiva); api — even; bhagavan — the lord; anuraga-purnah — is filled with love.

5. I praise the nectar of the worship of Bhagavan, whose nature is Brahman, and Him whose feet are revered by hosts of gods: even the lord Sri Shankara⁴, drinking unceasingly the honey of His lotus feet, is filled with love.

Verse 6

एवं च वैद्यमुपदिश्य निजाश्रयं स
गत्वा स्वभक्तगणसेवनजानुशक्त्या।
शान्तश्च सर्वरसिकेश्वरगौरचन्द्रो मुग्धं निनाय रजनीं च तदुत्थितोऽगात्॥६॥

*evam ca vaidyamupadiśya nijāśrayaṁ sa
gatvā svabhaktagaṇasevanajānuśaktyā| śāntaśca sarvarasikeśvaragauracandro
mugdham nināya rajānīm ca tadutthito'gāt||6||*

Word for word: evam — thus; cha — and; vaidyam — the physician; upadishya — having instructed; nija-ashrayam — to His own abode; sah — He; gatva — going; sva-bhakta-gana-sevana-ja-anushaktya — with the attachment born of His devotees' service; shantah — calm; cha — and; sarva-rasika-ishvara-gaurachandrah — Gaurachandra, lord of all rasikas; mugdham — in rapture; ninaya — spent; rajanim — the night; cha — and; tat-utthitah — rising after it; agat — departed.

6. Having thus instructed the physician, the Lord went home, full of the tenderness that His devotees' service awakens in Him. Calm, Gaurachandra, the lord of all rasikas, spent the night in rapture, and rising, He departed.

Verse 7

उत्तीर्य दिव्यतटिनीं भगवाञ्जगाम

काश्चिद्वयस्याधृतबाहुयुग्माः सम्पूर्णगर्भास्त्वरितं समीयुः॥१३॥

*striyaśca kāściddhṛtapūrṇakumbhā
dhṛtārcanāḥ kakṣataṭeṣu kāścit| kāścidvayasyādhṛtabāhuyugmāḥ
sampūrṇagarbhāstvaritaṁ samīyuh||13||*

Word for word: striyah — women; cha — and; kashchit — some; dhrita-purna-kumbhah — carrying full pitchers; dhrita-archanah — carrying articles of worship; kaksha-tateshu — on their hips; kashchit — some; kashchit — some; vayasya-adhrita-bahu-yugmah — their arms supported by friends; sampurna-garbhah — heavy with child; tvaritam — in haste; samiyuh — came together.

13. The women too came hurrying: some carrying full pitchers, some with articles of worship on their hips, and some, heavy with child, supported under the arms by their friends.

Verse 14

पपुर्हि सन्तप्तहृदस्तु सर्वा
जनार्दनस्याम्बुजवक्त्रसीधुम्।
बालार्कमिश्रं हि सुवर्णपद्म-मिवापरा वीक्ष्य सुविस्मितास्ताः॥१४॥

*papurhi santaptahṛdastu sarvā
janārdanasyāmbujavaktrasīdhum| bālārkamiśraṁ hi suvarṇapadma-*

mivāparā vīkṣya suvismītāstāḥ||14||

Word for word: papuh — drank; hi — indeed; santapta-hridah — with burning hearts; tu — and; sarvah — all; janardanasya — of Janardana; ambuja-vaktra-sidhum — the honey-wine of the lotus face; bala-arka-mishram — blended with the young sun; hi — indeed; suvarna-padmam — a golden lotus; iva — like; aparah — others; vīkṣya — seeing; su-vismītaḥ — amazed; taḥ — they.

14. All of them, with burning hearts, drank the honey-wine of Janardana's lotus face; and others, gazing at Him as at a golden lotus blended with the young sun, could not cease to marvel.

Verse 15

ऊचुश्च कस्यायमपूर्वदर्शनः
समुद्यदिन्दुप्रतिमाननाभः।
शुभाय लोकस्य भवाय जातो मात्रास्य पुण्येन धृतः स्वगर्भे॥१५॥

*ūcuśca kasyāyamapūrvadarśanaḥ
samudyadindupratimānanābhaḥ| śubhāya lokasya bhavāya jāto
mātrāsya puṇyena dhṛtaḥ svagarbhe||15||*

Word for word: uchuh — said; cha — and; kasya — whose; ayam — this; apurva-darshanah — of unprecedented aspect; samudyat-indu-pratima-anana-abhah — the radiance of whose face is like the rising moon; shubhaya — for the good; lokasya — of the world; bhavaya — for the welfare; jataḥ — born; matra — by the mother; asya — his; puṇyena — through (her) merit; dhritah — borne; sva-garbhe — in her womb.

15. And they said, 'Whose is this youth, such as was never seen before, whose face shines like the rising moon? He was born for the good and the welfare of the world; surely it was through great merit that his mother bore him in her womb.

Verse 16

असौ कुमारो जितकामदेवः
कान्त्या गिरा निर्जितवाक्पतिः शुभः।
भार्यास्य केनापि सुकर्मणाभूत् केनापि का वा विरहातुरा स्फुटम्॥१६॥

*asau kumāro jitakāmadevaḥ
kāntyā girā nirjitavākpatiḥ śubhaḥ| bhāryāsya kenāpi sukarmaṇābhūt
kenāpi kā vā virahātura sphuṭam||16||*

Word for word: asau — this; kumarah — youth; jita-kama-devah — who has conquered Kamadeva; kantya — by beauty; gira — by speech; nirjita-vak-patih — who has surpassed the lord of speech; shubhah — handsome; bharya — the wife; asya — his; kena api — by some; su-karmana — good deed; abhut — became; kena api — by some (deed); ka va — which woman; viraha-atura — is pining in separation; sphutam — plainly.

16. This handsome youth has conquered Kamadeva with his beauty and surpassed the very lord of speech⁸ with his words. Some woman, by her good deeds, became his wife — and by some deeds, it seems, she now pines in separation!

Verse 17

मातास्य पुत्रस्य मुखं न दृष्ट्वा
जीवत्यजीवा बहुदुःखतप्ता।
यथा हि कृष्णो मथुरां दिदृक्षु- र्गतो व्रजस्थाश्च बभूवुरार्ताः॥१७॥ *mātāsyā putrasya mukham na dr̥ṣṭvā

jīvatyajīvā bahuduhkhataptā| yathā hi kṛṣṇo mathurām didṛkṣurgato vrajasthāśca babhūvurārtāḥ||17||*

Word for word: mata — the mother; asya — of this; putrasya — son; mukham — the face; na drishtva — not seeing; jivati — lives; ajiva — lifeless; bahu-duhkha-tapta — burning with many sorrows; yatha — as; hi — indeed; krishnah — Krishna; mathuram — Mathura; didrikshuh — wishing to see; gatah — went; vraja-sthah — the people of Vraja; cha — and; babhuvuh — became; artah — stricken.

17. His mother, not seeing her son's face, lives on as one lifeless, burning with many sorrows — as the people of Vraja grieved when Krishna went away, wishing to see Mathura.'

Verse 18

काश्चिद्विदग्धाः स्फुटमेव चाहु- र्गोपाङ्गनाभावविभावितोऽसौ। श्रीनन्दपुत्रः स्वयमाविरासी- kāścidvidagdhāḥ sphuṭameva cāhurgopāṅganābhāvavibhāvito'sau| śrīnandaputraḥ svayamāvirāsī-tsannyāsaveśena svakāryasādhakaḥ||18||

Word for word: kashchit — some; vidagdhah — discerning; sphutam eva — plainly; cha — and; ahuh — said; gopa-angana-bhava-vibhavitah — imbued with the feelings of the cowherd women; asau — this; shri-nanda-putrah — the son of Sri Nanda; svayam — Himself; avirasit — has appeared; sannyasa-veshena — in the dress of a sannyasi; sva-karya-sadhakah — accomplishing His own purpose.

18. And others, more discerning, said plainly, 'This is the son of Sri Nanda Himself, imbued with the feelings of the cowherd women, who has appeared in the dress of a sannyasi to accomplish His own purpose.'

Verse 19

एवंविधान्या बहुधा सुवाचो
बभूवुरन्योन्यकथाप्रसङ्गैः।
मुखं पिबन्त्यो न विदुः स्वदेहं विश्वम्भरस्याम्बुजलोचनस्य॥१९॥

evamvidhānyā bahudhā suvāco
babhūvuranyonyakathāprasāṅgaiḥ| mukhaṁ pibantyo na viduḥ svadehaṁ
viśvambharasyāmbujalocanasya||19||

Word for word: evam-vidhah — such; anyah — other; bahudha — many; su-vachah — fair words; babhuvuh — arose; anyonya-katha-prasangaih — in their talk with one another; mukham — the face; pibantyah — drinking in; na viduh — were unaware; sva-deham — of their own bodies; vishvambharasya — of Vishvambhara; ambuja-lochanasya — the lotus-eyed.

19. Many such fair words and others besides passed in their talk with one another; drinking in the face of lotus-eyed Vishvambhara, they forgot their own bodies."

Thus ends the first sarga, "The Words of the Women of Kantakanagara" (Kantakanagara-nagari-vachana), of the third prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. Damodara Pandita, who questions Murari: the poem is framed as their dialogue.
2. Purushottama is Puri, the city of Jagannatha.
3. The syntax of the second half of the verse is not entirely clear; the translation gives the probable sense.
4. Shankara is Shiva.
5. The Ganga.
6. The reading is conjectural.
7. Mukunda is here a name of the Lord Himself.
8. The lord of speech is Brihaspati, the preceptor of the gods.

Prakrama 3, Sarga 2. The Purification of the Ashrama of Sannyasa

The Lord asks the people of Kantakanagara for their blessing; in the dwelling of Keshava Bharati He "initiates" His guru into the mantra of sannyasa and accepts sannyasa; guru and disciple dance in kirtana

Verse 1

नृत्यावसाने भगवान्रुरोद
प्रेम्णा हरेः सोऽपि विभिन्नधैर्यः।
दृष्ट्वा तदा तत्र समागता वै रुदन्ति ते प्रेमजलाविलाक्षाः॥१॥

nṛtyāvasāne bhagavānruroda
preṁṇā hareḥ so'pi vibhinnadhairyaḥ| dṛṣṭvā tadā tatra samāgatā vai
rudanti te premajalāvilākṣāḥ||1||

Word for word: nṛitya-avasane — at the end of the dance; bhagavan — Bhagavan; ruroda — wept; premna — out of love; hareḥ — for Hari; sah — He; api — too; vibhinna-dhairyah — His composure shattered; drishtva — seeing; tada — then; tatra — there; samagataḥ — those assembled; vai — indeed; rudanti — weep; te — they; prema-jala-avila-akshah — their eyes clouded with tears of love.

1. When the dance was over, Bhagavan wept: love for Hari had shattered His composure. Seeing this, all who had gathered there wept too, their eyes clouded with tears of love.

Verse 2

ततः समुत्थाय हरिः सगद्गद-स्वरेण तान्प्राह समागताञ्जनान्।
मां तात मातश्च विधेहि साम्प्रतं शुभाशिषो येन हरिस्मृतिः स्यात्॥२॥

*tataḥ samutthāya hariḥ sagadgada-svareṇa tānpṛāha samāgatāñjanān|
mām tāta mātāśca vidhehi sāmpratam|
śubhāśiṣo yena harismṛtiḥ syāt||2||*

Word for word: tatah — then; samutthaya — rising; harih — Hari; sa-gadgada-svarena — in a faltering voice; tan — to those; praha — said; samagatan — assembled; janan — people; mam — on Me; tata — fathers; matah — mothers; cha — and; vidhehi — bestow; sampratam — now; shubha-ashishah — auspicious blessings; yena — so that; hari-smritih — remembrance of Hari; syat — may be.

2. Then Hari rose and in a faltering voice said to the assembled people, "Fathers and mothers, bless Me now, so that I may always remember Hari."

Verse 3

श्रुत्वाभिलज्जाकुलिता विवस्त्रा
गतास्ततस्ते प्ररुदन्त एव।
श्रीकृष्णप्रेमापरिपूणदिहा बभूवुः सद्भक्तिरसेन पूर्णाः॥३॥

*śrutvābhilajjākulitā vivastrā gatāstataste prarudanta eva| śrīkṛṣṇapremāparipūrṇadehā
babhūvuḥ sadbhaktirasena pūrṇāḥ||3||*

Word for word: shrutva — hearing; abhilajja-akulitah — overcome with shame; vivastrah — as if stripped bare; gatah — went; tatah — from there; te — they; prarudantah — weeping; eva — all the while; shri-krishna-prema-aparipurna-dehah — their bodies wholly filled with love for Sri Krishna; babhuvuh — became; sat-bhakti-rasena — with the rasa of true devotion; purnah — filled.

3. Hearing this, they were overcome with shame, as if stripped bare¹, and went away from there, weeping all the while; their bodies were filled with love for Sri Krishna, and they themselves with the rasa of true devotion.

Verse 4

तान्सान्त्वयित्वा निजदर्शनामृतैः

गुरोर्निवासं सह वैष्णवाग्र्यैः श्रीकेशवाख्यस्य महानुभावः॥४॥

*tānsāntvayitvā nijadarśanāmṛtaiḥ
sa gauracandro bhagavāñjagāma| gurornivāsaṁ saha vaiṣṇavāgryaiḥ
śrīkeśavākhyasya mahānubhāvaḥ||4||*

Word for word: tan — them; santvayitva — consoling; nija-darshana-amritaih — with the nectar of the sight of Himself; sah — He; gaurachandrah — Gaurachandra; bhagavan — Bhagavan; jagama — went; guroh — of the guru; nivasam — to the dwelling; saha — together; vaishnava-agryaih — with the foremost Vaishnavas; shri-keshava-akhyasya — named Sri Keshava; maha-anubhavah — the great-souled.

4. Having consoled them with the nectar of the sight of Himself, the great-souled Bhagavan Gaurachandra went with the foremost Vaishnavas to the dwelling of the guru named Sri Keshava.

Verse 5

नत्वा गुरोः पादयुगं निवासं
तस्मिन्स चक्रे करुणाम्बुधिर्हरिः।
श्रीरामनारायणनाममङ्गलं गायन्गुणान्प्रेमविभिन्नधैर्यः॥५॥

*natvā guroḥ pādayugam nivāsam tasminsa cakre karuṇāmbudhirhariḥ śrīrāmanārāyaṇanāmamaṅgalaṁ
gāyanguṇānpremavibhinnadhairyah||5||*

Word for word: natva — bowing; guroh — of the guru; pada-yugam — to the pair of feet; nivasam chakre — took up His stay; tasmin — there; sah — He; karuna-ambudhih — the ocean of mercy; harih — Hari; shri-rama-narayana-nama-mangalam — the auspicious names of Sri Rama and Narayana; gayan — singing; gunan — the qualities; prema-vibhinna-dhairyah — His composure shattered by love.

5. Bowing to His guru's feet, Hari, the ocean of mercy, stayed there; He sang the auspicious names of Sri Rama and Narayana and Their qualities, and love shattered His composure.

Verse 6

तथापराह्णे नृहरेरवाप्त्यै
न्यासोक्तकर्माणि चकार शुद्धः।
आचार्यरत्नो भगवांश्चकार कृष्णस्य पूजां विधिवद्विधिज्ञः॥६॥

*tathāparāhṇe nṛhareravāptyai nyāsoktakarmāṇi cakāra śuddhaḥ ācāryaratno bhagavānścakāra
kṛṣṇasya pūjām vidhivadvidhijñah||6||*

Word for word: tatha — then; aparahne — in the afternoon; nrihareh — of Nrihari; avaptyai — for the attainment; nyasa-ukta-karmani — the rites prescribed for sannyasa; chakara — performed; shuddhah — pure; acharyaratnah — the Acharyaratna; bhagavan — the venerable; chakara — performed; krishnasya — to Krishna; pujam — worship; vidhi-vat — according to rule; vidhi-jnah — versed in the rules.

6. In the afternoon He, the pure one, performed the rites prescribed for sannyasa, so as to attain Nrihari², while the venerable Acharyaratna, versed in the injunctions, duly performed the worship of Krishna.

Verse 7

ततः समीपं स गुरोर्हितार्थी
गत्वावदत्कर्णसमीप ईशः।
स्वप्ने मया मन्त्रवरो हि लब्धः शृणुष्व तत्किं तव सम्मतं स्यात्॥७॥

*tataḥ samīpaṁ sa gurorhitārthī
gatvāvadatkarnasamīpa īśaḥ| svapne mayā mantravaro hi labdhah
śṛṇuṣva tatkiṁ tava sammataṁ syāt||7||*

Word for word: tatah — then; samipam — near; sah — He; guroh — to the guru; hita-arthi — seeking (his) good; gatva — going; avadat — said; karna-samipe — into his ear; ishah — the Lord; svapne — in a dream; maya — by Me; mantra-varah — an excellent mantra; hi — indeed; labdhah — was received; shrinushva — hear; tat — it; kim — whether; tava — by you; sammatam — approved; syat — it may be.

7. Then the Lord, seeking His guru's good, went up to him and said into his ear, "In a dream I received an excellent mantra. Hear it — will you approve of it?"

Verse 8

वारत्रयं तच्छ्रवणान्तिकं स्वयं
प्रोवाच न्यासोक्तमनुं विशुद्धम्।
श्रुत्वावदत्सोऽपि हरेरिदं स्या- त्सन्न्यासमन्त्रं परमं पवित्रम्॥८॥

*vāratrayaṁ tacchravaṇāntikaṁ svayaṁ
provāca nyāsoktamanaṁ viśuddham| śrutvāvadatso'pi hareridaṁ syā-tsannyāsamantraṁ paramaṁ pavitraṁ||8||*

Word for word: vara-trayam — three times; tat-shravana-antikam — close to his ear; svayam — Himself; provacha — spoke; nyasa-ukta-manum — the mantra prescribed for sannyasa; vishuddham — pure; shrutva — hearing; avadat — said; sah — he; api — too; hareh — to Hari; idam — this; syat — must be; sannyasa-mantram — the mantra of sannyasa; paramam — supreme; pavitram — purifying.

8. And three times He Himself spoke into his very ear the pure mantra prescribed for sannyasa. Hearing it, the other replied to Hari, "This is indeed the mantra of sannyasa, supreme and purifying."

Verse 9

व्याजेन दीक्षां गुरवे स दत्त्वा
लोकैकनाथो गुरुरव्ययात्मा।
गुरो ददस्वाद्य मनीषितं मे सन्न्यासमित्याह पुटाञ्जलिः प्रभुः॥९॥

*vyājena dīkṣāṁ gurave sa dattvā
lokaikanātho gururavyayātmā| guro dadasvādya manīṣitaṁ me
sannyāsamityāha puṭāñjaliḥ prabhuḥ||9||*

Word for word: vyajena — under a pretext; diksham — initiation; gurave — to the guru; sah — He; dattva — having given; loka-eka-nathah — the one Lord of the worlds; guruh — the guru; avyaya-atma — the changeless Self; guro — O guru; dadasva — give; adya — today; manishitam — longed-for; me — to Me; sannyasam — sannyasa; iti — thus; aha — said; puta-anjaliḥ — with joined palms; prabhuh — the Lord.

9. Thus the one Lord of the worlds, the changeless, eternal guru, under a pretext gave initiation to His own guru³. And with joined palms the Lord said, "O guru, grant Me today the sannyasa I long for."

Verse 10

ततः शुभे सङ्क्रमणे रवेः क्षणे

*tataḥ śubhe saṅkramaṇe raveḥ kṣaṇe
kumbhaṁ prayāti makarānmanīṣī| sannyāsamantram pradadau mahātmā
śrīkeśavākhyo haraye vidhānavit||10||*

Word for word: tataḥ — then; shubhe — at the auspicious; sankramane — transit; raveḥ — of the sun; kshane — at the moment; kumbham — into Aquarius; prayati — as it passes; makarat — from Capricorn; manishi — the wise; sannyasa-mantram — the mantra of sannyasa; pradadau — gave; maha-atma — the great soul; shri-keshava-akhyah — named Sri Keshava; haraye — to Hari; vidhana-vit — versed in the rite.

10. And at the auspicious moment when the sun passes from Capricorn into Aquarius⁴, the wise Sri Keshava, a great soul versed in the rite, gave Hari the mantra of sannyasa.

Verse 11

ततः सरोमाञ्चितदेहयष्टि- रानन्दनेत्राम्बुभिरार्द्रवक्षाः।
सन्न्यस्त एवाहमिति स्वयं हरिः सगद्गदं वाक्यमुवाच देवः॥११॥

*tataḥ saromāñcitadehayaṣṭirānandanetrāmbubhirārdravakṣāḥ| saṁnyasta evāhamiti svayaṁ hariḥ
sagadgadam vākyamuvāca devaḥ||11||*

Word for word: tataḥ — then; sa-romanchita-deha-yashtih — His slender body thrilling with rapture; ananda-netra-ambubhiḥ — with tears of bliss from His eyes; ardra-vakshah — His chest wet; samnyastah — renounced; eva — truly; aham — I; iti — thus; svayam — Himself; hariḥ — Hari; sa-gadgadam — in a faltering voice; vakyam — the words; uvacha — spoke; devah — the Lord.

11. And then Hari's slender body thrilled with rapture, His chest grew wet with tears of bliss, and the Lord Himself said in a faltering voice, "I have truly renounced the world!"

Verse 12

गच्छन्तमालोक्य हरिं गुरुः स्वयं
दण्डं सचेलं त्वरया ददौ करे।
भो भो गृहाणेति वदन्गुरोर्वचः श्रुत्वा गृहीत्वा गुरुभक्तिलम्पटः॥१२॥

*gacchantamālokya hariṁ guruḥ svayam daṇḍam sacelaṁ tvarayā dadau kare| bho bho grhāṇeti vadangurorvacah
śrutvā grhītvā gurubhaktilampaṭaḥ||12||*

Word for word: gacchhantam — going away; alokya — seeing; harim — Hari; guruh — the guru; svayam — himself; dandam — the staff; sa-chelam — with the cloth; tvaraya — hastily; dadau — placed; kare — in His hand; bho bho — ho there; grihana — take; iti — thus; vadan — saying; guroh — of the guru; vacah — the word; shrutva — hearing; grihitva — taking (it); guru-bhakti-lampatah — eager in devotion to the guru.

12. Seeing Hari about to leave, the guru himself hastily placed the staff, together with the cloth, in His hand, saying, "Ho there, ho there, take it!" Hearing the guru's word, Hari, eager in devotion to His guru, accepted them,

Verse 13

गुरोर्निदेशं बहुमन्यमान-
स्तत्रावसत्तद्विवसं जितारिः।
रात्रौ वसन्कीर्तनमाशु चक्रे नृत्यं च तस्मिन्गुरुणा समं प्रभुः॥१३॥

*gurornideśam bahumanyamānastrāvasattaddivasam jītāriḥ| rātrau vasankīrtanamāśu cakre
nṛtyam ca tasminguruṇā samam prabhuḥ||13||*

Word for word: guroh — of the guru; nidesham — the command; bahu-manyamanah — honouring highly; tatra — there; avasat — stayed; tat-divasam — that day; jita-arih — the conqueror of foes; ratrau — at night; vasan — staying; kirtanam — kirtana; ashu — soon; chakre — began; nrityam — dancing; cha — and; tasmin — there; guruna samam — together with the guru; prabhuh — the Lord.

13. and, honouring His guru's command, He, the conqueror of foes, stayed there that day. And at night the Lord soon began kirtana and dancing there together with the guru.

Verse 14

ननर्त तस्मिञ्जगतां गुरोर्गुरुः
कृष्णेन सार्धं महता सुखेन।
आनन्दपूर्णस्तु पुनः स मेने ब्राह्मं सुखं तुच्छतरं महात्मा॥१४॥

*nanarta tasmiñjagatām gurorguruḥ
kṛṣṇena sārdham mahatā sukhena| ānandapūrṇastu punaḥ sa mene*

brāhmaṇ sukhaṁ tucchataraṁ mahātmā||14||

Word for word: nanarta — danced; tasmin — there; jagatam — of the worlds; guroh — of the guru; guroh — the guru; krishnena sardham — together with Krishna; mahata — with great; sukkena — happiness; ananda-purnah — filled with bliss; tu — and; punah — then; sah — he; mene — considered; brahmam — of Brahman; sukham — the happiness; tuchchha-taram — most paltry; maha-atma — the great soul.

14. There the guru of the Guru of the worlds⁵ danced together with Krishna in great happiness; filled with bliss, the great soul now held the happiness of Brahman to be utterly paltry.

Verse 15

नृत्यावसाने हरिमब्रवीत्स
कोऽपीह मे दण्डमिमं कराग्रात्।
आकृष्य मां प्राह भुजद्वयेन स्पृष्ट्वा स्वयं त्वं नटनं कुरुष्व॥१५॥

*nṛtyāvasāne harimabravītsa
ko'pīha me daṇḍamimam kara-grāt| ākṛṣya mām prāha bhujadvayena
sprṣṭvā svayaṁ tvam naṭanam kuruṣva||15||*

Word for word: nṛtya-avasane — at the end of the dance; harim — to Hari; abravīt — said; sah — he; ko api — someone; iha — here; me — my; dandam — staff; imam — this; kara-agrat — from my hand; akrishya — snatching; mam — to me; praha — said; bhuja-dvayena — with both arms; sprishtva — touching (me); svayam — yourself; tvam — you; natanam — dancing; kurushva — do.

15. When the dance was over, he said to Hari, "Someone here snatched this staff from my hand, clasped me with both arms and said, 'You too — dance!'

Verse 16

ततोऽहमानन्दपरिप्लुतो मुदा
प्रविश्य नृत्यं कृतवान्सुविह्वलः।
श्रुत्वा वचस्तस्य सुविस्मितास्ते सवैष्णवाः प्रेमविभिन्नधैर्याः॥१६॥

*tato'hamānandaparipluto mudā
praviśya nṛtyam kṛtavānsuvihvalaḥ| śrutvā vacastasya suvismitāste
savaiṣṇavāḥ premavibhinnadhairyāḥ||16||*

Word for word: tatah — then; aham — I; ananda-pariplutah — flooded with bliss; muda — joyfully; pravishya — entering; nṛtyam — the dance; kritavan — danced; su-vihvalah — beside myself; shrutva — hearing; vachah — the words; tasya — his; su-vismitah — amazed; te — they; sa-vaishnavah — together with the Vaishnavas; prema-vibhinna-dhairyah — their composure shattered by love.

16. And then, flooded with bliss, I joyfully joined the dance, quite beside myself." Hearing his words, all those present, together with the Vaishnavas, were amazed, and love shattered their composure.

Verse 17

श्रुत्वा गुरोर्वाक्यमनल्पमर्थव-न्ननर्त तस्मिन्स्वजनैरनुव्रतः।
हर्षेण युक्तो महता महात्मा स्वयं हरिः स्वात्मरतो गुणाश्रयः॥१७॥

*śrutvā gurorvākyamanalpamarthava-nnanarta tasminsvajanairanuvrataḥ| harṣeṇa yukto mahatā mahātmā
svayaṁ hariḥ svātmarato guṇāśrayaḥ||17||*

Word for word: shrutva — hearing; guroh — of the guru; vakyam — the word; analpam — weighty; arthavat — full of meaning; nanarta — danced; tasmin — there; sva-janaih — by His own people; anuvratah — followed; harshena — with joy; yuktah — filled; mahata — great; maha-atma — the great soul; svayam — Himself; harih — Hari; sva-atma-ratah — delighting in Himself; guna-ashrayah — the abode of virtues.

17. Hearing this weighty, meaningful word of His guru, Hari Himself — the great soul, delighting in Himself, the abode of all virtues — was filled with great joy and danced there together with His own.

Verse 18

स भारती प्रेमपरिप्लुतात्मा
कमण्डलुं दण्डमपीह दूरे।
क्षिप्त्वा ननर्त प्रभुणा समं वै सन्न्यासधर्मस्य पवित्रहेतुना॥१८॥

*sa bhārati premapariplutātmā
kamaṇḍaluṁ daṇḍamapīha dūre| kṣiptvā nanarta prabhuṇā samam vai
sannyāsadharmasya pavitrahetunā||18||*

Word for word: sah — that; bharati — Bharati; prema-paripluta-atma — his soul flooded with love; kamandalum — the water-pot; dandam — the staff; api — also; iha — here; dure — far away; kshiptva — flinging; nanarta — danced; prabhuna samam — with the Lord; vai — indeed; sannyasa-dharmasya — of the dharma of sannyasa; pavitra-hetuna — for the sake of purifying.

18. And Bharati, his soul flooded with love, flung his water-pot and staff far away and danced together with the Lord — to purify the dharma of sannyasa⁶.

Verse 19

इति स्वयं यद्भगवत्कृतं शुभं
सन्न्यासमानन्दकरं द्विजन्मनाम्।
शृणोति यस्तस्य भवेद्विमुक्ति- र्लभेच्च तत्तन्मनसा यदिच्छति॥१९॥

*iti svayaṁ yadbhagavatkṛtaṁ śubhaṁ
sannyāsamānandakaraṁ dvijanmanām| śṛṇoti yastasya bhavedvimukti-*

rlabhecca tattanmanasā yadicchati||19||

Word for word: iti — thus; svayam — Himself; yat — which; bhagavat-kritam — taken by Bhagavan; shubham — auspicious; sannyasam — sannyasa; ananda-karam — bringing bliss; dvijanmanam — to the twice-born; shrinoti — hears; yah — who; tasya — his; bhavet — will be; vimuktiḥ — liberation; labhet — will gain; cha — and; tat tat — whatever; manasa — in mind; yat — that; ichchhati — he desires.

19. Whoever thus hears of the auspicious sannyasa that Bhagavan Himself accepted, which brings bliss to the twice-born, will attain liberation and whatever his heart desires.

Thus ends the second sarga, "The Purification of the Ashrama of Sannyasa" (Sannyasashrama-pavana), of the third prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. Literally "naked"; probably an image of shame: the Lord asks a blessing of them, His servants. The reading may be corrupt.
2. Nrihari is here Krishna: Gaura, playing the part of a devotee, accepts sannyasa in order to attain Him.
3. The Lord Himself speaks the mantra into Keshava Bharati's ear, as though initiating him, and only then receives it from him.
4. That is, at the end of the solar month of Magha (January–February).
5. Keshava Bharati, who became the guru of Krishna Chaitanya, the Guru of all the worlds.
6. Hence the title of the sarga: sannyasa, accepted by the Lord and filled with love, purifies the very order of sannyasa.

Prakrama 3, Sarga 3. Wandering in the Radha Country

Not hearing the name of Hari in the Radha country, the Lord resolves to give up His body; a cowherd boy taught by Nityananda calls out "Hari!"; the Lord sends Chandrashekhara to Navadvipa; Chandrashekhara's account of the Lord's three days of rapture

Verse 1

अथ नत्वा गुरोः पादं तमनुज्ञाप्य माधवः।

तदाज्ञया व्रजन्देशं राढं गूढो महाभुजः॥१॥

*atha natvā guroḥ pādāṁ tamanujñāpya mādhavah|
tadāññayā vrajandeśaṁ rāḍhaṁ gūḍho mahābhujah||1||*

Word for word: atha — then; natva — bowing; guroḥ — of the guru; padam — to the foot; tam — him; anujnāpya — taking leave of; mādhavah — Madhava; tat-ajñaya — by his command; vrajan — going; deshah — to the country; radham — Radha; gudhah — in secret; maha-bhujah — the mighty-armed.

1. Then Madhava bowed to His guru's feet, took leave of him and, at his command, set out, keeping Himself hidden, for the Radha country. The mighty-armed one

Verse 2

नित्यावधूतेन सह कृष्णगाथां मुहुर्मुहुः।

पथि गच्छन्लपन् नृत्यन् गायन् स्वभक्तिभावितः॥२॥

*nityāvadhūtena saha kṛṣṇagāthāṁ muhurmuḥuḥ|
pathi gacchanlapanṇṛtyangāyansvabhaktibhāvitaḥ||2||*

harerguṇam sarvasukhapradam nṛṇām||21||

Word for word: iti — thus; shrutam — heard; shri-hari-kirtana-adikam — the chanting of Sri Hari and the rest; maya — by me; cha — and; drishtam — seen; bhagavat-kritam — done by Bhagavan; shubham — auspicious; samagram — in full; etat — this; kathitam — has been told; su-mangalam — most auspicious; hareh — of Hari; gunam — the glory; sarva-sukha-pradam — granting every happiness; nrinam — to men.

21. Thus have I heard and seen the auspicious chanting of Sri Hari and the other deeds of Bhagavan, and I have told it all in full. This blessed account of Hari's glory grants every happiness to men.

Thus ends the third sarga, "Wandering in the Radha Country" (Radhadesha-bhramana), of the third prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. From here to the end of the sarga the narrator is Chandrashekhara Acharyaratna, who has returned to the devotees in Navadvipa (cf. Sargas 3.1 and 3.4).
2. The Abode of Shri (Shriniketana) — an epithet of the Lord as the abode of the goddess Lakshmi.
3. "Obeisance to Narayana" — the customary greeting of sannyasis: having become a sannyasi, the Lord sends the devotees a greeting according to the rule of His new ashrama.
4. Apparently the Lord Himself, who has just accepted sannyasa (cf. v. 12).
5. Advaita Acharya's, at Shantipura.

Prakrama 3, Sarga 4. Pastimes at Sri Advaita's House

The devotees of Navadvipa lament the Lord's sannyasa; Nityananda brings Shachi and the Vaishnavas to Advaita's house; the Lord comes there and spends a day and a night with them in kirtana, takes leave of Haridasa, Advaita and Gopinatha Acharya, and departs for Purushottama

Verse 1

आचार्यरत्नाद्धि निशम्य तद्वचो

31. and lovingly let him go. Then the venerable Advaita, the bull among brahmanas, said to Bhagavan, the Guru of the world,

Verse 32

भगवद्गमनं श्रुत्वा तव मे न कथं भवेत्। प्रेमा नाथ तवेयं किं कृपा तं प्राह केशवः॥३२॥

bhagavadgamanam śrutvā tava me na katham bhavet|
premā nātha taveyam kim kṛpā tam prāha keśavaḥ||32||

Word for word: bhagavat-gamanam — of Your Lordship's departure; shrutva — having heard; tava — for You; me — in me; na — not; katham — how; bhavet — arises; prema — love; natha — O Lord; tava — Your; iyam — this; kim — (is it); kripa — mercy; tam — to him; praha — said; keshava — Keshava.

32. "How is it, O Lord, that hearing of Your departure I feel no love for You? Is this Your mercy?"⁹ Keshava answered him,

Verse 33

एवं स्याच्चेत्तव प्रेमा कथं मे गमनं भवेत्।
इत्युक्त्वा तं समालिङ्ग्य दृढस्निग्धैरनुव्रतैः॥३३॥

evam syācchettava premā katham me gamanam bhavet|
ityuktva tam samāliṅgya dṛḍhasnigdhairanuvrataiḥ||33||

Word for word: evam — thus; syat — were; chet — if; tava — your; prema — love; katham — how; me — My; gamanam — going; bhavet — could take place; iti — thus; uktva — saying; tam — him; samalingya — embracing; dridha-snigdhaih — steadfast in affection; anuvrataih — by faithful followers.

33. "If your love were to show itself so, how could I go?" So saying, He embraced him. And as He was leaving with His faithful companions, steadfast in affection —

Verse 34

गदाधरादिभिर्विप्रैर्गच्छन्तं तं द्विजोत्तमः। गोपीनाथाचार्यमुख्यः प्रोवाच प्रीणयन्हरिम्॥३४॥

gadādharaḍibhirviprairgacchantam tam dvijottamaḥ|
gopīnāthācāryamukhyaḥ provāca prīṇayanharim||34||

Word for word: gadadhara-adibhih — by Gadadhara and the other; vipraih — brahmanas; gachchhantam — going; tam — to Him; dvija-uttamah — the best of brahmanas; gopinatha-acharya-mukhyah — foremost among them, Gopinatha Acharya; provacha — spoke; prinayan — gladdening; harim — Hari.

34. Gadadhara and the other brahmanas — the best of brahmanas, Gopinatha Acharya¹⁰, foremost among them, spoke to Hari, wishing to please Him:

Verse 35

भगवंस्त्वद्वपुरहं द्रष्टुमिच्छामि कामद। तच्छ्रुत्वा वचनं तस्य वसनं समपाकरोत्॥३५॥

*bhagavaṁstvad vapuraḥaṁ draṣṭumicchāmi kāmada|
tacchrutvā vacanaṁ tasya vasaṇaṁ samapākarot||35||*

Word for word: bhagavan — O Bhagavan; tvat-vapuh — Your body; aham — I; drashtum — to see; ichchhami — wish; kama-da — O fulfiller of desires; tat — that; shrutva — hearing; vachanam — word; tasya — his; vasanam — the garment; samapakarot — removed.

35. "O Bhagavan, fulfiller of desires, I wish to see Your body." Hearing his words, the Lord took off His garment.

Verse 36

अनावृतं कायदण्डं तप्तचामीकरप्रभम्। घनापाये यथा मेरुशृङ्गं चन्द्रकराञ्चितम्॥३६॥

*anāvṛtaṁ kāyadaṇḍaṁ taptacāmīkaraprabham|
ghanāpāye yathā meruśṛṅgaṁ candrakarāñcitam||36||*

Word for word: anavritam — uncovered; kaya-dandam — the staff-straight body; tapta-chamikara-prabham — glowing like molten gold; ghana-apaye — when the clouds disperse; yatha — as; meru-shringam — the peak of Meru; chandra-kara-anchitam — touched by the rays of the moon.

36. And he saw that uncovered body, straight and slender as a staff, glowing like molten gold — like the peak of Meru touched by the rays of the moon when the clouds have dispersed.

Verse 37

इति श्रुत्वा हरेः कीर्तिं प्रयाणं पुरुषोत्तमे। लभते परमप्रेमानन्दं गौरपदाम्बुजे॥३७॥

*iti śrutvā hareḥ kīrtiṁ prayāṇaṁ puruṣottame|
labhate paramapremānandaṁ gaurapadāmbuje||37||*

Word for word: iti — thus; shrutva — hearing; hareh — of Hari; kirtim — the glory; prayanam — the departure; purushottame — to Purushottama; labhate — one attains; parama-prema-anandam — the bliss of supreme love; gaura-pada-ambuje — for the lotus feet of Gaura.

37. Whoever thus hears of the glory of Hari, of His departure for Purushottama, attains the bliss of supreme love for the lotus feet of Gaura¹¹.

Verse 38

दृष्ट्वा श्रुत्वा नमस्कृत्य जगाम स द्विजोत्तमः। भगवानपि संहृष्टो जगाम पुरुषोत्तमम्॥३८॥

*dr̥ṣṭvā śrutvā namaskṛtya jagāma sa dvijottamaḥ|
bhagavānapi saṁhṛṣṭo jagāma puruṣottamam||38||*

Word for word: drishtva — having seen; shrutva — having heard; namaskritya — having bowed; jagama — went away; sah — that; dvija-uttamah — best of brahmanas; bhagavan — Bhagavan; api — too; samhrishtah — joyful; jagama — went; purushottamam — to Purushottama.

38. Having seen, having heard and having bowed, that best of brahmanas went away; and Bhagavan, full of joy, set off for Purushottama.

Verse 39

पुरुषोत्तमदेवस्य सम्यग्दर्शनजं फलम्।
लभेत मनुजो नित्यं पठनात्तत्फलं लभेत्॥३९॥

*puruṣottamadevasya samyagdarśanajam phalam|
labheta manujo nityam paṭhanāttatphalam labhet||39||*

Word for word: purushottama-devasya — of the god Purushottama; samyak-darshana-jam — born of seeing perfectly; phalam — the fruit; labheta — (which) would gain; manujah — a man; nityam — constantly; pathanat — by reciting; tat-phalam — that fruit; labhet — he will gain.

39. Whatever fruit a man would gain by perfectly beholding the god Purushottama, that very fruit he gains by constantly reciting this account.

Thus ends the fourth sarga, "Pastimes at Sri Advaita's House" (Sri Advaita-vati-vihara), of the third prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. Keshava is here a name of the Lord (Krishna Chaitanya).
2. Pushpagrama ("Flower Village") — apparently Phuliya, a village near Shantipura.
3. "Peerless" (advitiya, literally "without a second") — a play on the name Advaita ("Non-dual").
4. At Badarikashrama in the Himalayas the god Narayana, in the form of a sage, performs austerities surrounded by the rishis.
5. That is, food that is chewed, sucked, licked and drunk.
6. Vasudeva Sarvabhauma, a learned brahmana of Navadvipa who lived in Puri; the meeting with him is described in the following sargas.
7. The day of Hari is Ekadashi, the eleventh day of the lunar fortnight, kept with fasting and a night vigil.
8. A blade of grass between the teeth is a sign of utter humility.
9. Advaita wonders that he feels no pain of separation and asks whether it is the Lord who holds his love in check; the Lord replies that if it showed itself in full, He would be unable to leave.
10. Gopinatha Acharya, a brahmana of Navadvipa who later met the Lord in Puri.
11. In Haridasa Dasa's edition (witness C) this verse comes after the next one, which is more natural to the sense.

Prakrama 3, Sarga 5. The Breaking of the Staff

The Lord travels towards Purushottama with His companions, singing the names of Rama and Krishna; the toll-collectors; Nityananda breaks the Lord's sannyasa staff, and the Lord, feigning anger, admits that he has done His will

Verse 1

ततः प्रतस्थे भगवान्मुकुन्द-गदाधराद्यैर्द्विजसज्जनैः प्रभुः।
पुरोऽवधूतं प्रणिधाय देवो रराज काव्येन यथोदुपेशः॥१॥

*tataḥ pratasthe bhagavānmukunda-gadādharaḍyairdvijasajjanaiḥ prabhuḥ| puro'vadhūtam praṇidhāya devo
rarāja kāvyena yathodupeśaḥ||1||*

Word for word: tatah — then; prasthe — set out; bhagavan — Bhagavan; mukunda-gadadhara-adyaih — with Mukunda, Gadadhara and the rest; dvija-sajjanaih — virtuous brahmanas; prabhuh — the Lord; purah — in front; avadhutam — the Avadhuta; pranidhaya — placing; devah — the Lord; raraja — shone; kavyena — with Kavya (Venus); yatha — as; udu-peshah — the lord of the stars (the moon).

1. Then Bhagavan, the Lord, set out with Mukunda, Gadadhara and other virtuous brahmanas; placing the Avadhuta in front, the Lord shone like the moon, the lord of the stars, beside Kavya¹.

Verse 2

गच्छन्क्वचिद्गायति कृष्णागीतं
क्वचिद्वेदार्थमलब्धसंज्ञम्।
क्वचिद्द्रुतं याति शनैः क्वचित्स्खल-द्रुतिः क्वचित्प्रेमविभिन्नधैर्यः॥२॥

*gacchankvacidgāyati kṛṣṇagītaṁ
kvacidvadedarthamalabdhasamjñam| kvaciddrutam yāti śanaiḥ kvacitskhaladgatiḥ kvacitprema vibhinna dhairyah||2||*

Word for word: gachchhan — going; kvachit — at times; gayati — sings; krishna-gitam — a song of Krishna; kvachit — at times; vadet — utters; artham — a sense; alabdha-samjnam — that finds no name; kvachit — at times; drutam — quickly; yati — goes; shanaiḥ — slowly; kvachit — at times; skhalat-gatih — with stumbling gait; kvachit — at times; prema-vibhinna-dhairyah — His composure shattered by love.

2. As He went, at times He sang a song of Krishna, at times He uttered something indistinct for which there were no words; at times He walked fast, at times slowly, at times stumbling, and at times His composure was shattered by love.

Verse 3

सायं क्वचिद्भक्ष्यमुपस्थितं भवे- त्तदन्नमश्नाति हरिर्यथाविधि।
रात्रौ च गायत्यथ रौति धैर्यं विसृज्य देवो महतां सुखाय॥३॥

*sāyam kvacidbhakṣyamupasthitam bhavettadannamaśnāti hariryathāvidhi| rātrau ca gāyatyatha rauti dhairyaṁ
visṛjya devo mahatām sukhāya||3||*

Word for word: sayam — in the evening; kvachit — somewhere; bhakshyam — food; upasthitam — offered; bhavet — happens to be; tat — that; annam — food; ashnati — eats; hariḥ — Hari; yatha-vidhi — according to rule; ratrau — at night; cha — and; gayati — sings; atha — and; rauti — cries out; dhairyam — restraint; visrijya — casting aside; devah — the Lord; mahatam — of the great souls; sukhaya — for the joy.

3. If in the evening some food happened to be offered somewhere, Hari ate it according to the rule. And at night the Lord cast aside all restraint and sang and wept, to the joy of the great souls.

Verse 4

स्वयं पपाठ भगवाञ्श्लोकमेकं शृणुष्व तम्। यं श्रुत्वा तत्पदाम्भोजे रतिः स्यादनपायिनी॥४॥

*svayaṁ papāṭha bhagavāñślokamekaṁ śṛṇuṣva tam|
yaṁ śrutvā tatpadāmbhoje ratiḥ syādanapāyini||4||*

Word for word: svayam — Himself; papatha — recited; bhagavan — Bhagavan; shloka — verse; ekam — one; shrinushva — hear; tam — it; yam — which; shrutva — hearing; tat-pada-ambhoje — for His lotus feet; ratiḥ — attachment; syat — will be; anapayini — unfailing.

4. Bhagavan Himself would recite one verse — hear² it: whoever hears it will gain unfailing attachment to His lotus feet:

Verse 5

राम राघव राम राघव राम राघव पाहि माम्।
कृष्ण केशव कृष्ण केशव कृष्ण केशव त्राहि माम्॥५॥

*rāma rāghava rāma rāghava rāma rāghava pāhi mām|
kṛṣṇa keśava kṛṣṇa keśava kṛṣṇa keśava trāhi mām||5||*

Word for word: rama — O Rama; raghava — O Raghava; pahi — protect; mam — me; krishna — O Krishna; keshava — O Keshava; trahi — save; mam — me.

5. "Rama, Raghava, Rama, Raghava, Rama, Raghava, protect me! Krishna, Keshava, Krishna, Keshava, Krishna, Keshava, save me!"

Verse 6

एवं कलपदं गायन्हसंस्तत्त्वविदां वरः। इमान्सुशिक्षयँल्लोकैल्लोकानां पालकोऽव्ययः॥६॥

*evaṁ kalapadam gāyanhasaṁstattvavidāṁ varah|
imānsuśikṣayaṁllokāṁllokānāṁ pālako'vyayaḥ||6||*

Word for word: evam — thus; kala-padam — sweetly; gayan — singing; hasan — smiling; tattva-vidam — of the knowers of truth; varah — the best; iman — these; su-shikshayan — instructing well; lokan — people; lokanam — of the worlds; palakah — the protector; avyayah — the imperishable.

6. So, sweetly singing and smiling, the best of the knowers of truth, the imperishable protector of the worlds, gave fine instruction to these people.

Verse 7

पथिकान्याचकान्दृष्ट्वा क्वचिद्दानी समागतः। आहूय तान्निवृत्तोऽभूत्स्वयमेव गतक्लमः॥७॥

*pathikānyācakāṇḍṛṣṭvā kvaciddānī samāgataḥ|
āhūya tānnivṛtto'bhūtsvayameva gataklamah||7||*

Word for word: pathikan — travellers; yachakan — mendicants; drishtva — seeing; kvachit — once; dani — a toll-collector; samagatah — who had come up; ahuya — calling out to; tan — them; nivrittah abhut — turned back; svayam eva — of his own accord; gata-klamah — his weariness gone.

7. Once a toll-collector came up; seeing that they were mendicant travellers, he called out to them — and then turned back of his own accord, as if relieved of a burden³.

Verse 8

कदाचिदपरो दानी पथि गत्वा जगद्गुरुम्। वारयामास दानार्थी यात्रिकाणां गणैर्वृतम्॥८॥

*kadācidaparo dānī pathi gatvā jagadgurum|
vārayāmāsa dānārthī yātrikāṇām gaṇairvṛtam||8||*

Word for word: kadachit — once; aparah — another; dani — toll-collector; pathi — on the road; gatva — approaching; jagat-gurum — the Guru of the world; varayam asa — stopped; dana-arthi — demanding the toll; yatrikanam — of pilgrims; ganaih — by crowds; vritam — surrounded.

8. Another time a different toll-collector, demanding the toll, came out onto the road and stopped the Guru of the world, who was surrounded by crowds of pilgrims.

Verse 9

तमाह भगवान्गच्छ दूरं त्वं करसंज्ञया। ततोऽगच्छत्तदानीं स भगवान्मुदितो ययौ॥९॥

*tamāha bhagavāṅgaccha dūraṁ tvam karasaṁjñayā|
tato'gacchattadānīm sa bhagavānmudito yayau||9||*

Word for word: tam — to him; aha — said; bhagavan — Bhagavan; gachchha — go; duram — away; tvam — you; kara-samjnaya — with a sign of the hand; tatah — then; agachchhat — went off; tadanim — at once; sah — he; bhagavan — Bhagavan; muditah — joyful; yayau — went on.

9. Bhagavan said to him, "Go away!" with a sign of His hand. The man left at once, and Bhagavan went on joyfully.

Verse 10

अवधूतकरे दण्डं दत्त्वा स्वीयं जगद्गुरुः। अग्रे जगाम च पश्चान्नित्यानन्दः शनैर्ययौ॥१०॥

*avadhūtakare daṇḍaṁ dattvā svīyaṁ jagadguruḥ|
agre jagāma ca paścānnityānandaḥ śanairyayau||10||*

Word for word: avadhuta-kare — into the Avadhuta's hand; dandam — the staff; dattva — giving; sviyam — His own; jagat-guruh — the Guru of the world; agre — ahead; jagama — went; cha — and; pashchat — behind; nityanandah — Nityananda; shanaih — slowly; yayau — walked.

10. Once the Guru of the world gave His staff into the Avadhuta's hand and walked on ahead, while Nityananda walked slowly behind.

Verse 11

दूयमानेन मनसाचिन्तयत्स उदारधीः। अहं विहरमाणोऽसौ प्रभुर्मे दण्डधारकः॥११॥

*dūyamānena manasācintayatsa udāradhīḥ|
aham viharamāṇo'sau prabhurme daṇḍadhārakah||11||*

Word for word: duyamanena — pained; manasa — with a mind; achintayat — thought; sah — he; udara-dhih — the noble-minded; aham — I; viharamanah — roam at pleasure; asau — while this; prabhuh — Lord; me — my; danda-dharakah — bears the staff.

11. With an aching heart the noble Nityananda thought, "I roam at will, and my Lord carries a staff!"

Verse 12

असौ श्रीभगवान्साक्षाद्दृश्यते प्रज्वलन्नलम्। शङ्खचक्रगदापद्मधरो देवः श्रियान्वितः॥१२॥

asau śrībhagavānsākṣāddṛśyate prajvalannalam|
śaṅkhacakraḡadāpadmadharo devaḥ śriyānvitaḥ||12||

Word for word: asau — He; shri-bhagavan — Sri Bhagavan; sakshat — directly; drishyate — is seen; prajvalan — blazing; alam — intensely; shankha-chakra-gada-padma-dharah — holding conch, discus, club and lotus; devah — the God; shriya — with Shri; anvitaḥ — accompanied.

12. For He is Sri Bhagavan Himself: I see Him with my own eyes, blazing brightly — the God who holds the conch, discus, club and lotus, together with Shri.

Verse 13

लौकिकीं दर्शयंश्चेष्टां न्यासदण्डधरो हरिः। मुरलीवादनः पूर्वं जगन्मोहनरूपकः॥१३॥

laukikīm darśayaṁśceṣṭām nyāsadaṇḍadharo hariḥ|
muralīvādanaḥ pūrvam jaganmohanarūpakah||13||

Word for word: laukikim — worldly; darshayan — displaying; cheshtam — conduct; nyasa-danda-dharah — bearing the staff of renunciation; hariḥ — Hari; murali-vadanah — the player of the flute; purvam — formerly; jagat-mohana-rupakah — whose form enchants the world.

13. And here is Hari displaying worldly conduct and carrying the staff of renunciation — He who once played the flute, whose form enchants the world,

Verse 14

राधारसविलासी च श्रीहरेः सन्निधौ स्थितः।
तं दृष्ट्वा प्राह भगवान्दण्डं मे देहि माचिरम्॥१४॥

rādhārasavilāsī ca śrīhareḥ sannidhau sthitaḥ|
taṁ dr̥ṣṭvā prāha bhagavāndaṇḍam me dehi māciram||14||

Word for word: radha-rasa-vilasi — who sported in rasa with Radha; cha — and; shri-hareḥ — of Sri Hari; sannidhau — near; sthitaḥ — having come to stand; tam — him; drishtva — seeing; praha — said; bhagavan — Bhagavan; dandam — the staff; me — to Me; dehi — give; ma-chiram — without delay.

14. who sported in rasa with Radha!" With such thoughts he came up beside Sri Hari. Seeing him, Bhagavan said, "Give Me the staff — quickly."

Verse 15

अवधूतस्ततः प्राह दैवाद्भूमौ पदं मम।
प्रस्खलत्तेन दण्डस्ते भग्नो भीत्येत्युवाच सः॥१५॥

avadhūtastataḥ prāha daivādbhūmau padam mama|
praskhalattena daṇḍaste bhagno bhītyetyuvāca saḥ||15||

Word for word: avadhutah — the Avadhuta; tataḥ — then; praha — said; daivat — by chance; bhūmau — on the ground; padam — foot; mama — my; praskhalat — slipped; tena — thereby; dandah — staff;

te — Your; bhagnah — broke; bhitya — in fear; iti — thus; uvacha — spoke; sah — he.

15. Then the Avadhuta said, "By chance my foot slipped on the ground, and with that Your staff broke."
So he spoke, in fear.

Verse 16

ततश्चुकोप भगवानवधूतं जगाद च। दण्डे मे संस्थिता देवाः शिवाद्याः सहशक्तयः॥१६॥

*tataścukopa bhagavānavadhūtaṁ jagāda ca|
daṇḍe me saṁsthitā devāḥ śivādyāḥ sahaśaktayaḥ||16||*

Word for word: tatah — then; chukopa — grew angry; bhagavan — Bhagavan; avadhutam — to the Avadhuta; jagada — said; cha — and; dande — in the staff; me — My; samsthitah — reside; devah — the gods; shiva-adyah — headed by Shiva; saha-shaktayah — together with their shaktis.

16. And Bhagavan grew angry and said to the Avadhuta, "In My staff reside the gods headed by Shiva, together with their shaktis⁴.

Verse 17

तेषां पीडां विधाय त्वं बभञ्ज मम दण्डकम्। देवपीडाकृतं दोषं नो जानासि किमल्पकम्॥१७॥

*teṣāṁ pīḍāṁ vidhāya tvam babhañja mama daṇḍakam|
devapīḍākṛtaṁ doṣaṁ no jānāsi kimalpakam||17||*

Word for word: tesham — to them; pidam — pain; vidhaya — causing; tvam — you; babhanja — broke; mama — My; dandakam — staff; deva-pida-kritam — arising from causing pain to the gods; dosham — the sin; no janasi — do you not know; kim — whether; alpakam — (it is) slight.

17. You have caused them pain and broken My staff. Do you not know that the sin of causing pain to the gods is no small thing?"

Verse 18

तच्छ्रुत्वा प्राह तं देवो हितं तेषां कृतं मया। ततः क्षणान्त्यक्तरोषो भगवानिदमब्रवीत्॥१८॥

*tacchrutvā prāha taṁ devo hitaṁ teṣāṁ kṛtaṁ mayā|
tataḥ kṣaṇānttyaktaroṣo bhagavānidamabravīt||18||*

Word for word: tat — that; shrutva — hearing; praha — said; tam — to Him; devah — the divine one (Nityananda); hitam — good; tesham — for them; kritam — done; maya — by me; tatah — then; kshanat — in a moment; tyakta-roshah — His anger gone; bhagavan — Bhagavan; idam — this; abravīt — said.

18. Hearing this, the divine Nityananda answered Him, "I have done them good"⁵. And in a moment Bhagavan let go of His anger and said,

Verse 19

गत्वा च श्रीजगन्नाथं दृष्ट्वा श्रीपुरुषोत्तमम्।
स्थित्वा कतिपयं मासं पार्श्वे श्रीचक्रिणो मया॥१९॥

gatvā ca śrījagannātham dṛṣṭvā śrīpuruṣottamam|
sthitvā katipayam māsam pārśve śrīcakriṇo mayā||19||

Word for word: gatva — having gone; cha — and; shri-jagannatham — to Sri Jagannatha; drishtva — having seen; shri-purushottamam — Sri Purushottama; sthitva — having stayed; katipayam — some; masam — months; parshve — beside; shri-chakrinah — the holder of the discus; maya — by Me.

19. "After going to Sri Jagannatha, seeing Sri Purushottama and staying some months beside the holder of the discus,

Verse 20

न्यासो दण्डस्य कर्तव्यो ममासीन्मतिरीदृशी।
तमसौ च बभज्जोर्व्या क्षिप्तवान्किं करोम्यहम्॥२०॥

nyāso daṇḍasya kartavyo mamāsīnmatirīdṛśī|
tamasau ca babhañjorvyāṁ kṣiptavānkiṁ karomyaham||20||

Word for word: nyasah — the laying down; dandasya — of the staff; kartavyah — was to be done; mama — My; asit — was; matih — intention; idrishi — such; tam — it; asau — he; cha — but; babhanja — broke; urvyam — to the ground; kshiptavan — threw; kim — what; karomi — can do; aham — I.

20. I was to lay down the staff — that was My intention. But he has broken it and thrown it on the ground. What am I to do now?"

Verse 21

इत्युक्त्वा तं क्रोडीकृत्वा प्रोवाच मधुराक्षरम्। मदभिप्रायमेव त्वं कर्तुमर्हसि सर्वदा॥२१॥

ityuktvā taṁ kroḍīkṛtvā provāca madhurākṣaram|
madabhiprāyameva tvam kartumarhasi sarvadā||21||

Word for word: iti — thus; uktva — saying; tam — him; krodi-kritva — taking into His embrace; provacha — said; madhura-aksharam — in sweet words; mat-abhiprayam — My intention; eva — just; tvam — you; kartum arhasi — should carry out; sarvada — always.

21. So saying, He took him into His embrace and spoke sweetly: "You must always carry out just what I intend"⁶.

Thus ends the fifth sarga, "The Breaking of the Staff" (Danda-bhanjana), of the third prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. Kavya is the planet Venus (Shukra). Nityananda, walking in front, is compared to Venus, the Lord to the moon.

2. The narrator, Murari, is addressing Damodara (see Sarga 3.1).

3. Literally "his weariness gone": on seeing the Lord and His companions, the toll-collector apparently gave up his greed of his own accord.

4. Shaktis are divine energies, the consorts of the gods.

5. That is, he has set free the gods confined in the staff.

6. The Lord admits that by breaking the staff Nityananda has only carried out His own innermost wish.

Prakrama 3, Sarga 6. Wandering in the Southern Country

The Lord travels towards Purushottama: Tamolipta; Remuna, where Gopinatha lets His crown fall to Him; the river Vaitarani; Yajapura (Jajpur) with the Boar, Viraja, Nabhi-Gaya and countless lingas of

Shiva

Verse 1

इत्युक्त्वा प्रययौ देवो हरिकीर्तनतत्परः।
पथस्था देवता दृष्ट्वा नत्वा स्तुत्वा यथाविधि॥१॥

*ityuktvā prayayau devo harikīrtanatātparaḥ|
pathasthā devatā dṛṣṭvā natvā stutvā yathāvidhi||1||*

Word for word: iti — thus; ukta — having spoken; prayayau — set out; devah — the Lord; hari-kirtana-tatparaḥ — intent on chanting the name of Hari; patha-sthah — standing by the road; devataḥ — deities; drishta — seeing; natva — bowing; stutva — praising; yatha-vidhi — as is proper.

1. So saying, the Lord set out again, wholly intent on chanting the name of Hari; whenever He saw images of the gods standing by the road, He bowed to them and offered praises, as is proper.

Verse 2

तमोलिप्ते महापुण्ये हरेः क्षेत्रे जगद्गुरुः। ब्रह्मकुण्डे कृतस्नानो ददर्श मधुसूदनम्॥२॥

*tamolipte mahāpunye hareḥ kṣetre jagadguruḥ|

tīrthāṭanasya ca phalaṁ pitr̥tīrthasarvayajñakriyāphalamaśeṣaguṇānvitaḥ syāt||21||*

Word for word: shrutva — having heard; hareh — of Hari; idam — this; ananta-sukham — endless happiness; labheta — will gain; punyam — holy; katham — account; sakala-papa-haram — that takes away all sins; manushyah — a man; tirtha-atanasya — of pilgrimage; cha — and; phalam — the fruit; pitri-tirtha-sarva-yajna-kriya-phalam — the fruit of all sacrificial rites at the holy places of the ancestors; ashesha-guna-anvitaḥ — endowed with every virtue; syat — will become.

21. Whoever hears this holy account of Hari, which takes away all sins, will gain endless happiness, the fruit of pilgrimage and the fruit of all sacrificial rites at the holy places of the ancestors, and will be endowed with every virtue.

Thus ends the sixth sarga, "Wandering in the Southern Country" (Dakshinadesha-bhramana), of the third prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. Tamolipta (Tamluk), an ancient port town in south-western Bengal (present-day Tamluk).
2. All the witnesses read "in Varanasi". Cf. the legend of the deity Gopala who followed a brahmana in order to bear witness to the word given him.
3. Gopinatha of Remuna is known as Kshirachora, "the Thief of Sweet Rice": He hid a pot of sweet rice for His devotee Madhavendra Puri.
4. Literally "in space"; understood as the space of the heart. The reading is doubtful.
5. The Vaitarani is a river in Orissa; a river of the same name in the realm of Yama, the god of death, bars sinners from the other world.
6. Yajapura ("City of the Sacrifice"), present-day Jajpur in Orissa.
7. Viraja is the goddess worshipped at Yajapura.
8. Gaya-nabhi (Nabhi-Gaya), a holy place in Yajapura where, according to legend, lies the navel of the demon Gaya; here, as at Gaya, rites for the ancestors are performed.
9. Yajna-Varaha, the Boar who is the embodiment of sacrifice (Vishnu as Varaha).
10. Trilochana ("the Three-eyed"), one of the principal lingas of Shiva in Varanasi.

Prakrama 3, Sarga 7. Beholding Sri Viraja

Mukunda vouches that the toll-collectors are harmless, but at the barrier he is bound and held until evening; the chief of the toll-collectors comes to the Lord to make amends; next morning the Lord goes to Viraja, the sight of whom is equal to the sight of Bhagavan

Verse 1

ततः प्रणम्य तं भक्त्या मुकुन्दोऽम्बष्ठ ईश्वरम्। प्राह प्रफुल्लवदनः सहर्षं जगदीश्वरम्॥१॥

*tataḥ praṇamya taṁ bhaktyā mukundo'mbaṣṭha īśvaram|
prāha praphullavadanaḥ saharṣaṁ jagadīśvaram||1||*

Word for word: tataḥ — then; praṇamya — bowing; taṁ — to Him; bhaktyā — with devotion; mukundah — Mukunda; ambashthah — the Ambashtha (vaidya); ishvaram — to the Lord; praha — said; praphulla-vadanah — with a beaming face; sa-harsham — joyfully; jagat-ishvaram — to the Lord of the world.

1. Then Mukunda the vaidya¹ bowed with devotion to the Lord and, his face beaming, joyfully said to the Lord of the world:

Verse 2

भगवन्नत्र नास्ते वै दानिनो भयमण्वपि। जानामि सर्वतो लोकान्ये वसन्त्यत्र दुर्मदान्॥२॥

*bhagavannatra nāste vai dānino bhayamaṇvapi|
jānāmi sarvato lokānye vasantyatra durmadān||2||*

Word for word: bhagavan — O Bhagavan; atra — here; na aste — there is not; vai — indeed; daninah — from the toll-collector; bhayam — danger; anu — the least; api — even; janami — I know; sarvataḥ — through and through; lokan — the people; ye — who; vasanti — live; atra — here; durmadan — arrogant.

2. "Bhagavan, here there is not the least danger from the toll-collectors: I know the people who live here through and through, arrogant as they may be."

Verse 3

तच्छ्रुत्वा भगवान्प्राह स्मितकान्तनवाननः। एतावद्भयमस्माकं पालनं भवता कृतम्॥३॥

*tacchrutvā bhagavānprāha smitakāntanavānanaḥ|
etāvadbhayasmakākaṁ pālanaṁ bhavatā kṛtam||3||*

Word for word: tat — that; shrutva — hearing; bhagavan — Bhagavan; praha — said; smita-kanta-nava-ananah — His youthful face lovely with a smile; etavat — so much (and no more); bhayam — danger; asmakam — for us; palanam — protection; bhavata — by you; kritam — has been provided.

3. Hearing this, Bhagavan, His youthful face lovely with a smile, said, "So that is all there is to our danger: you have already seen to our protection."

Verse 4

इत्युक्त्वा प्रययौ भिक्षां कर्तुं लोकेषु शिक्षया।
लक्ष्मीकान्तः स्वयं कृष्णो न्यासिवंशधरो हरिः॥४॥

*ityuktvā prayayau bhikṣāṁ kartuṁ lokeṣu śikṣayā|

20. Whatever joy Shankara feels when a man dies in Varanasi, still greater is His joy when one dies at Viraja.

Verse 21

तां दृष्ट्वा प्रययौ कृष्णः सर्वलोकैकपावनः।

कृष्णसङ्कीर्तनं कृत्वा भक्तवर्गसमन्वितः॥२१॥

tām dṛṣṭvā prayayau kṛṣṇaḥ sarvalokaikapāvanaḥ|
kṛṣṇasaṅkīrtanaṁ kṛtvā bhaktavargasamanvitah||21||

Word for word: tam — her; drishtva — having seen; prayayau — went on; krishnah — Krishna; sarva-loka-eka-pavanah — the sole purifier of all the worlds; krishna-sankirtanam — the sankirtana of Krishna's names; kṛtvā — performing; bhakta-varga-samanvitah — with the company of devotees.

21. Having beheld her, Krishna, the sole purifier of all the worlds, went on His way, singing the names of Krishna in sankirtana together with the company of His devotees.

Thus ends the seventh sarga, "Beholding Sri Viraja" (Sri-Viraja-darshana), of the third prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. Literally "the Ambashtha", the vaidya (physician) caste to which Mukunda Datta belonged.

2. That is, Nityananda had wandered off on his own and turned up only later (v. 9).

3. The "ruler" is the chief of the toll-collectors (vv. 12–14). The Lord sends no one for him: it is His power that brings the ruler there.

4. Viraja is the goddess worshipped at Yajapura (Jajpur); see Sarga 3.06, v. 17.

5. Trilochana ("the Three-eyed") is Shiva; his principal linga in Varanasi bears the same name (cf. Sarga 3.06, v. 20).

Prakrama 3, Sarga 8. Beholding Mahadeva

The Lord comes to Ekamraka (Bhubaneshvara), the city of Shiva that rivals Kashi; the temple, the city and the Bindu-sarovara pond are described; bowing to Krittivasa, He offers Shiva a hymn of eight verses, praying for love of Hari

Verse 1

ततः प्रयातो द्विजराजविक्रमः
क्रमेण यत्राखिललोकपालैः।
एकाम्रकाख्ये गिरिजासमन्वितो गिरीशदेवो गिरिराजमूर्धनि॥१॥

*tataḥ prayāto dvijarājavikramah *paṭhedyā itthaṁ stavamambujākṣa-kṛtaṁ purāreḥ puruṣottamasya| premāṇamevātra labheta nityaṁ

sudurlabhaṁ yanmunidevavṛndaiḥ||24||*

Word for word: pathet — recites; yah — who; ittham — thus; stavam — the hymn; ambuja-aksha-kritam — composed by the Lotus-eyed; purareh — to Purari; purushottamasya — by Purushottama; premanam — love; eva — indeed; atra — here (in this life); labheta — will gain; nityam — eternal; su-durlabham — very hard to attain; yat — which; muni-deva-vrindaih — for the hosts of sages and gods.

24. Whoever recites this hymn to Purari, composed by the lotus-eyed Purushottama¹², will gain even here eternal love, so hard to attain even for the hosts of sages and gods.

Thus ends the eighth sarga, "Beholding Mahadeva" (Mahadeva-darshana), of the third prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. Ekamraka (Ekamra) is Bhuvaneshvara in Orissa, the holy city of Shiva. Girisha ("Lord of the Mountains") and Girija ("Daughter of the Mountains") are Shiva and Parvati; the "king of mountains" is the Himalaya, where Shiva dwells on Kailasa: here in Ekamraka he dwells just as he does there.
2. The White Mountain is Kailasa, the abode of Shiva.
3. Purari ("Enemy of the Three Cities") is Shiva, who burned the three flying cities of the asuras.
4. The reading and sense of this passage are uncertain.
5. Manikarnika is a famous tirtha (ghat) in Kashi; the description of Ekamraka echoes Kashi, since Shiva brought the holy places of Kashi here (v. 8). Vishveshvara is the principal linga of Kashi.
6. Bindu-sarovara ("the Lake of Drops") is a sacred pond in Bhuvaneshvara.
7. Krittivasa ("Clad in a Hide") is Shiva; this is the name of the principal linga of Bhuvaneshvara (the Lingaraja temple). Ishvari is his consort.
8. Apparently the temple dancers.
9. Brahma, who was born from the lotus growing from Vishnu's navel.
10. Understood as the five faces of Shiva, each of its own colour. The reading is conjectural.
11. All the editions have a lacuna of a few syllables here (probably a name or epithet of the Lord).
12. That is, by the Lord Himself; it may also be understood as "will gain love for Purushottama".

Prakrama 3, Sarga 9. The Rule on Eating the Remnants of Offerings to Shiva

At Bhuvaneshvara the Lord longs for Shiva's prasada and, when it is brought, partakes of it with reverence; Murari explains to Damodara Pandita why Bhṛigu's curse does not touch the remnants of offerings to Shiva when he is worshipped as the best of Vaishnavas

Verse 1

स्नात्वा स बिन्दुसरसि दृष्ट्वा श्रीभुवनेश्वरम्।

*snātvā sa bindusarasi dr̥ṣṭvā śrībhuvaneśvaram|
sukhamāsīno bhagavānpremanandapariplutaḥ||1||*

Word for word: snatva — having bathed; sah — He; bindu-sarasi — in the Bindu lake; drishtva — having seen; shri-bhuvaneshvaram — Sri Bhuvaneshvara; sukham — happily; asinah — sat; bhagavan — Bhagavan; prema-ananda-pariplutah — steeped in the bliss of love.

1. Having bathed in the Bindu lake¹ and beheld Sri Bhuvaneshvara², Bhagavan, steeped in the bliss of love, sat at rest in happiness.

Verse 2

ततो भुक्त्वा वरान्नं स भक्तैः सङ्कल्पितं प्रभुः।
सुष्वाप तत्र संहृष्टो ध्यायन्कृष्णपदाम्बुजम्॥२॥

*tato bhuktvā varānnam sa bhaktaiḥ saṅkalpitam prabhuḥ|
suṣvāpa tatra saṁhr̥ṣṭo dhyāyankṛṣṇapadāmbujam||2||*

Word for word: tatah — then; bhuktvā — having eaten; vara-annam — excellent food; sah — He; bhaktaiḥ — by the devotees; sankalpitam — dedicated (offered); prabhuh — the Lord; sushvapa — slept; tatra — there; samhrishtah — joyful; dhyayan — meditating; krishna-pada-ambujam — on the lotus feet of Krishna.

2. Then the Lord ate the excellent food offered by the devotees and joyfully went to sleep there, meditating on the lotus feet of Krishna.

Verse 3

चिन्तयामास भगवान्देवदेवस्य शूलिनः।
महाप्रसादो लभ्येत तदा भुज्यामहे वयम्॥३॥

*cintayāmāsa bhagavāndevadevasya śūlinah|
mahāprasādo labhyeta tadā bhujyāmahe vayam||3||*

Word for word: chintayam asa — thought; bhagavan — Bhagavan; deva-devasya — of the God of gods; shulinah — the Bearer of the trident; maha-prasadah — the mahaprasada; labhyeta — could be had; tada — then; bhujyamahe — would eat; vayam — we.

3. Bhagavan thought, "If only we could have the mahaprasada of the God of gods, the Bearer of the trident, we would partake of it."

Verse 4

इति चिन्तयतस्तस्य महादेवप्रसादकम्।

पाणिभ्यां ब्राह्मणः कश्चिदादाय सम्मुखे स्थितः॥४॥

iti cintayatastasya mahādevaprasādakam|

pāṇibhyāṁ brāhmaṇaḥ kaścidadāya sammukhe sthitah||4||

Word for word: iti — thus; chintayatah — as He was thinking; tasya — He; mahadeva-prasadakam — Mahadeva's prasada; panibhyam — in both hands; brahmanah — a brahmana; kashchit — certain; adaya — holding; sammukhe — before Him; sthitah — stood.

4. As He was thinking thus, a certain brahmana came and stood before Him, holding Mahadeva's prasada in both hands,

Verse 5

उवाच च महादेवप्रसादं गृह्यतामिति।

तच्छ्रुत्वा सहसोत्थाय गृहीत्वा शिरसा नमः॥५॥

uvāca ca mahādevaprasādaṁ grhyatāmiti|

tacchrutvā sahasotthāya grhītvā śirasā namaḥ||5||

Word for word: uvacha — said; cha — and; mahadeva-prasadam — Mahadeva's prasada; grihyatam — let it be accepted; iti — thus; tat — that; shrutva — hearing; sahasa — at once; utthaya — rising; grihitva — receiving; shirasa — on His head; namah — with obeisance.

5. and said, "Please accept the prasada of Mahadeva." Hearing this, the Lord at once rose, received it on His head with an obeisance,

Verse 6

महाप्रसादं संगृह्य पपौ भृत्यैः सुधामिव।

शिवप्रियो हि श्रीकृष्ण इति संदर्शयन्हरिः॥६॥

mahāprasādaṁ saṁgrhya papau bhr̥tyaiḥ sudhāmiva|

śivapriyo hi śrīkṛṣṇa iti saṁdarśayanhariḥ||6||

Word for word: maha-prasadam — the mahaprasada; samgrihya — receiving; papau — partook (lit. drank); bhrityaiḥ — with His servants; sudham — nectar; iva — like; shiva-priyah — one to whom Shiva is dear; hi — indeed; shri-krishnah — Sri Krishna; iti — that; sandarshayan — showing; hariḥ — Hari.

6. and, taking the mahaprasada, partook of it with His servants as though it were nectar: thus Hari showed that Shiva is dear to Sri Krishna.

Verse 7

सुखाय पुनरेवासौ प्रातरुत्थाय सत्वरः।

स्नात्वा वै बिन्दुसरसि शिवं नत्वा ययौ हरिः॥७॥

sukhāya punarevāsau prātarutthāya satvaraḥ|

snātvā vai bindusarasi śivaṁ natvā yayau hariḥ||7||

Word for word: sukhaya — in joy; punah — again; eva — indeed; asau — He; pratah — in the morning; utthaya — rising; satvarah — in haste; snatva — bathing; vai — indeed; bindu-sarasi — in the Bindu lake; shivam — to Shiva; natva — bowing; yayau — went on; hariḥ — Hari.

7. In the morning Hari again rose in haste, full of joy, bathed in the Bindu lake, bowed to Shiva and went on His way.

Verse 8

एतन्निशम्य देवस्य शिवनिर्माल्यभक्षणम्। प्रत्युवाच महातेजाः श्रीदामोदरपण्डितः॥८॥ etanniśamya devasya śivanirmālyabhakṣaṇam|

pratyuvāca mahātejāḥ śrīdāmodarapaṇḍitaḥ||8||

Word for word: etat — this; nishamya — hearing; devasya — of the Lord; shiva-nirmalya-bhakshanam — the eating of the remnants of offerings to Shiva; pratyuvacha — replied; maha-tejah — of great power; shri-damodara-panditaḥ — Sri Damodara Pandita.

8. Hearing how the Lord had eaten the nirmalya³ of Shiva, Sri Damodara Pandita, a man of great power, objected:

Verse 9

नाश्नाति शिवदेवस्य निर्माल्यं भृगुशापतः। कथं ज्ञात्वा स भगवान्बुभुजे तन्नरोत्तमः॥९॥

nāśnāti śivadevasya nirmālyam bhṛguśāpataḥ|
katham jñātvā sa bhagavānbubhuje tannarottamaḥ||9||

Word for word: na ashnati — (one) does not eat; shiva-devasya — of the god Shiva; nirmalyam — the remnants of offerings; bhrigu-shapataḥ — because of Bhrigu's curse; katham — how; jnatva — knowing; saḥ — He; bhagavan — Bhagavan; bubhuje — ate; tat — that; nara-uttamah — the best of men.

9. "The nirmalya of the god Shiva is not eaten, because of Bhrigu's curse⁴. How then could Bhagavan, the best of men, knowing this, have eaten it?"

Verse 10

तच्छ्रुत्वा प्राह विप्रेन्द्रं मुरारिः श्रूयतामिति।

tacchrutvā prāha vipreन्द्रं murāriḥ śrūyatāmiti|
kathāṁ śrīśivadevasya nirmālyāmṛtabhakṣaṇe||10||

Word for word: tat — that; shrutva — hearing; praha — said; vipra-indram — to the best of brahmanas; murarih — Murari; shruyatam — let it be heard; iti — thus; katham — the account; shri-shiva-devasya — of Sri Shiva; nirmalya-amrita-bhakshane — about the eating of the nectar of the remnants of offerings.

10. Hearing this, Murari said to the best of brahmanas, "Listen to the story of the nectar of Sri Shiva's nirmalya.

Verse 11

वस्तुतस्तु महादेवः श्रीकृष्णस्य शुभागमे। आतिथ्यं विदधे हर्षत्तेन किं च परं शृणु॥११॥

*vastutastu mahādevaḥ śrīkṛṣṇasya śubhāgame|
ātithyaṁ vidadhe harṣātena kiṁ ca param śṛṇu||11||*

Word for word: vastutah — in truth; tu — indeed; mahadevah — Mahadeva; shri-krishnasya — of Sri Krishna; shubha-agame — on the auspicious arrival; atithyam — hospitality; vidadhe — offered; harshat — with joy; tena — for that reason; kim cha — moreover; param — further; shrinu — hear.

11. In truth, when Sri Krishna made His auspicious arrival, Mahadeva joyfully offered Him hospitality — that is why He partook of it. But hear more.

Verse 12

वैष्णवश्रेष्ठबुद्ध्या ये पूजयन्ति महेश्वरम्। तैर्दत्तं गृह्णते सोऽपि तदन्नं पावनं महत्॥१२॥

*vaiṣṇavaśreṣṭhabuddhyā ye pūjayanti mahēśvaram|
tairdattam grhṇate so'pi tadannam pāvanam mahat||12||*

Word for word: vaishnava-shreshtha-buddhya — regarding him as the best of Vaishnavas; ye — who; pujayanti — worship; maheshvaram — Maheshvara; taih — by them; dattam — offered; grihnate — accepts; sah — He; api — too; tat — that; annam — food; pavanam — purifying; mahat — greatly.

12. When people worship Maheshvara, regarding him as the best of Vaishnavas⁵, He too accepts what they offer; such food is supremely purifying.

Verse 13

श्रीकृष्णकृष्णभक्तानां भेदबुद्ध्या पतन्त्यधः।
दुर्वैरान्शिक्षयंस्तांश्च भक्तरूपः स्वयं हरिः॥१३॥

*śrīkṛṣṇakṛṣṇabhaktānām bhedabuddhyā patantyaḥ|
durvairānśikṣayāntāṁśca bhaktarūpaḥ svayaṁ hariḥ||13||*

Word for word: shri-krishna-krishna-bhaktanam — of Sri Krishna and Krishna's devotees; bheda-buddhya — by the notion of difference; patanti — fall; adhah — down; durvairan — the malignantly hostile; shikshayan — teaching; tan — them; cha — and; bhakta-rupah — in the form of a devotee; svayam — Himself; harih — Hari.

13. Those who see a difference between Sri Krishna and Krishna's devotees fall down. And to teach such malignant opponents, Hari Himself, in the form of a devotee —

Verse 14

आचरत्यपि देवेशो हितकृत्सर्वदेहिनाम्। निर्माल्यमादरेणैव गृहीत्वा जगदीश्वरः॥१४॥

*ācaratyapi deveśo hitakṛtsarvadehinām|
nirmālyamādareṇaiva grhītvā jagadīśvaraḥ||14||*

Word for word: acharati — practises it Himself; api — indeed; deva-ishah — the Lord of the gods; hita-krit — the benefactor; sarva-dehinam — of all embodied beings; nirmalyam — the remnants of offerings; adarena — with reverence; eva — indeed; grihitva — accepting; jagat-ishvarah — the Lord of the world.

14. the Lord of the gods, the Lord of the world, the benefactor of all embodied beings — Himself does as He teaches: He accepts the nirmalya with reverence.

Verse 15

जनैः संस्थापिते लिङ्गे भेदबुद्ध्या च पूजिते।

तत्रैव शापो विप्रस्य नहि स्यादैक्यतः क्वचित्॥१५॥

*janaiḥ samsthāpite liṅge bheda-buddhyā ca pūjite|
tatraiva śāpo viprasya nahi syādaikyataḥ kvacit||15||*

Word for word: janaiḥ — by people; samsthāpite — installed; liṅge — in the case of a linga; bheda-buddhya — with the notion of difference; cha — and; pūjite — worshipped; tatra — there; eva — only; shapah — the curse; viprasya — of the brahmana (Bhrigu); na hi — by no means; syat — applies; aikyataḥ — where there is oneness; kvachit — ever.

15. The brahmana's curse applies only where a linga has been installed by people and is worshipped with a notion of difference; where there is oneness, it never applies.

Verse 16

हरिशङ्करयोरैक्यं स्वयम्भूलिङ्गसन्निधौ।

अभेदबुद्ध्या पूजायां नहि शापो भवेत्क्वचित्॥१६॥

*hariśaṅkarayoraikyam svayambhūliṅgasannidhau|
abhedabuddhyā pūjāyām nahi śāpo bhavetkvacit||16||*

Word for word: hari-shaṅkarayoh — of Hari and Shankara; aikyam — oneness; svayambhu-linga-sannidhau — in the presence of a self-manifest linga; abhedabuddhya — with the notion of non-difference; pūjayam — in worship; na hi — by no means; shapah — the curse; bhavet — is; kvachit — ever.

16. In the presence of a self-manifest linga⁶ Hari and Shankara are one; when worship is offered with a sense of non-difference, the curse never applies.

Verse 17

तेन तत्राधिका प्रीतिर्हरिशङ्करयोर्भवेत्।

अभेदेऽत्र स्वयम्भौ च पूजा सर्वातिशायिनी॥१७॥

*tena tatrādhikā prītirhariśaṅkarayorbhavet|
abhede'tra svayambhau ca pūjā sarvātiśāyinī||17||*

Word for word: tena — therefore; tatra — there; adhika — greater; prītiḥ — the pleasure; hari-shaṅkarayoh — of Hari and Shankara; bhavet — is; abhede — in non-difference; atra — here; svayambhau — to the self-manifest (linga); cha — and; pūja — worship; sarva-atishayini — surpassing all.

17. Therefore Hari and Shankara are still more pleased there; and the worship of the self-manifest linga here, in non-difference, surpasses all.

Verse 18

महाप्रसादं तत्रैव भुक्त्वा मोक्षमवाप्नुयात्।

महारोगात्प्रमुच्येत स्थिरसम्पत्तिमाप्नुयात्॥१८॥

*mahāprasādam tatraiva bhuktvā mokṣamavāpnuyāt|
mahārōgātpromucyeta sthīrasampattimāpnuyāt||18||*

Word for word: maha-prasadam — the mahaprasada; tatra — there; eva — indeed; bhuktva — eating; moksham — liberation; avapnuyat — will attain; maha-rogat — from grave disease; pramuchyeta — will be freed; sthira-sampattim — lasting prosperity; apnuyat — will gain.

18. Whoever eats the mahaprasada there will attain liberation, be freed from grave disease and gain lasting prosperity.

Verse 19

ये मोहात्तन्न खादन्ति ते भवन्त्यपराधिनः।
हरौ शिवे च निःश्रीका रोगिणश्च भवन्ति ते॥१९॥

*ye mohāttanna khādanti te bhavantyaparādhinaḥ|
harau śive ca niḥśrīkā rogiṇaśca bhavanti te||19||*

Word for word: ye — who; mohat — out of delusion; tat — it; na khadanti — do not eat; te — they; bhavanti — become; aparadhinah — offenders; harau — against Hari; shive — against Shiva; cha — and; nihshrikah — bereft of fortune; roginah — diseased; cha — and; bhavanti — become; te — they.

19. But those who out of delusion do not eat it become offenders against Hari and Shiva, lose their fortune and fall ill.

Verse 20

वैष्णवैः पूजितो यत्र श्रीशिवः परमादरात्। अनादिलिङ्गमासाद्य श्रीकृष्णप्रीतिहेतवे॥२०॥

*vaiṣṇavaiḥ pūjito yatra śrīśivaḥ paramādarāt|
anādiliṅgamāsādyā śrīkṛṣṇapṛītihetave||20||*

Word for word: vaishnavaih — by Vaishnavas; pujitah — worshipped; yatra — where; shri-shivah — Sri Shiva; parama-adarat — with the greatest reverence; anadi-lingam — the beginningless linga; asadya — approaching; shri-krishna-pri-ti-hetave — for the pleasure of Sri Krishna.

20. Wherever Vaishnavas come to the beginningless linga and worship Sri Shiva with the greatest reverence for the pleasure of Sri Krishna,

Verse 21

तत्रैव संशयो नास्ति निर्माल्यग्रहणे क्वचित्। भक्तिरेव सदा विप्र शुभदा सर्वदेहिनाम्॥२१॥ *tatraiva saṁśayo nāsti nirmālyagrahaṇe kvacit|

bhaktireva sadā vipra śubhadā sarvadehinām||21||*

Word for word: tatra — there; eva — indeed; samshayah — doubt; na asti — there is no; nirmalya-grahane — in accepting the remnants of offerings; kvachit — any; bhaktih — devotion; eva — alone; sada — always; vipra — O brahmana; shubha-da — bestows good; sarva-dehinam — on all embodied beings.

21. there is no doubt at all about accepting the nirmalya. Devotion alone, O brahmana, always brings good to all embodied beings."

Thus ends the ninth sarga, "The Rule on Eating the Remnants of Offerings to Sri Shiva" (Sri-Shiva-nirmalya-bhojana-vyavastha), of the third prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. The Bindu lake is the Bindu-sarovara, the sacred pond of Bhuvaneshvara (see Sarga 3.08, v. 7).
2. Bhuvaneshvara ("Lord of the Worlds") is Shiva as worshipped at Ekamraka (Krittivasa, Sarga 3.08); the town itself takes its name from him.
3. Nirmalya: the remnants (flowers, food, etc.) of offerings made to a deity.
4. At Daksha's sacrifice the sage Bhrigu cursed the followers of Shiva (Bhagavata Purana 4.2); the prohibition against eating the remnants of offerings to Shiva was traced to this. Damodara Pandita is the listener to whom Murari tells this account (cf. Sarga 3.01, v. 1).
5. Cf. Bhagavata Purana 12.13.16: "As Shambhu is the best of Vaishnavas..."
6. That is, a linga that has manifested of itself, not one installed by people (v. 15).

Prakrama 3, Sarga 10. Beholding Sri Purushottama

Passing the Kapota-linga and the river Bhargavi, the Lord sees the temple of Jagannatha and falls senseless; above the temple a boy with a flute appears to Him; after bathing at the tirtha of Markandeya He enters the temple, and Jagannatha stretches out His hand to Him

Verse 1

पुनः शृणुष्व देवस्य चैतन्यस्य महात्मनः। कथां मनोहरां पुण्यां नूतनामृतवर्षिणः॥१॥

*punaḥ śṛṇuṣva devasya caitanyasya mahātmanah|
kathāṁ manoharāṁ puṇyāṁ nūtanāmṛtavarṣiṇaḥ||1||*

Word for word: punah — again; shrinushva — hear; devasya — of the Lord; chaitanyasya — Chaitanya; maha-atmanah — the great soul; katham — the account; manoharam — heart-charming; punyam — holy; nutana-amrita-varshinah — who showers fresh nectar.

1. Hear once more the holy, heart-charming account of the Lord Chaitanya, the great soul who showers fresh nectar.

Verse 2

ततः प्रयातो भगवान्मुदान्वितो
निजैरजः साधुजनैकबन्धुः।
कपोतसंपूजितलिङ्गमुत्तमं दृष्ट्वा प्रणम्याशु पुनर्ययौ हरिः॥२॥

*tataḥ prayāto bhagavānmudānvito
nijairajaḥ sādhujanaikabandhuḥ| kapotasampūjitaliṅgamuttamaṁ
dṛṣṭvā praṇamyāśu punaryayau hariḥ||2||*

Word for word: tatah — then; prayatah — setting out; bhagavan — Bhagavan; muda-anvitah — joyful; nijaih — with His own; ajah — the Unborn; sadhu-jana-eka-bandhuh — the one friend of the righteous; kapota-sampujita-lingam — the linga worshipped by a dove; uttamam — excellent; drishtva — seeing; pranamyā — bowing; ashu — soon; punah — again; yayau — went on; harih — Hari.

2. Then Bhagavan, the Unborn, the one friend of the righteous, set out joyfully with His companions; seeing the excellent linga worshipped by a dove¹, Hari bowed and soon went on.

Verse 3

पुण्यान्शिवस्यान्यतमांश्च लिङ्गा- न्विलोक्य हर्षेण नमन्पुनर्ययौ।
नदीं महावीर्यवतीं स भार्गवीं तस्यां कृतस्नानविधिः पुनर्ययौ॥३॥

*punyaṅśivasyānyatamāṁśca liṅgānvilokya harṣeṇa namanpunaryayau| nadīm mahāvīryavatīm sa bhārgavīm
tasyām kṛtasnānavidhiḥ punaryayau||3||*

Word for word: punyan — holy; shivasya — of Shiva; anyataman — other; cha — and; linga — lingas; vilokya — seeing; harshena — with joy; naman — bowing; punah — again; yayau — went on; nadim — the river; maha-viryavatim — mighty; sah — He; bhargavim — the Bhargavi; tasyam — in her; krita-snana-vidhih — having bathed according to rule; punah — again; yayau — went on.

3. Seeing other holy lingas of Shiva as well, He bowed to them with joy and continued on His way; in the mighty river Bhargavi² He bathed according to rule and went on again.

Verse 4

ततोऽवलोक्याशु हरेः सुमन्दिरं
सुधानुलिप्तं शरदिन्दुसुप्रभम्।
रथाङ्गयुक्तं पवनोद्धुतांशुकं विभूषणं नीलगिरेर्महोज्ज्वलम्॥४॥

*tato'valokyāśu hareḥ sumandiram
sudhānuliptam śaradindusuprabham| rathāṅgayuktam pavanoddhutāṁśukam
vibhūṣaṇam nīlagirermahojjvalam||4||*

Word for word: tatah — then; avalokya — beholding; ashu — soon; hareh — of Hari; su-mandiram — the beautiful temple; sudha-anuliptam — whitewashed; sharad-indu-su-prabham — shining like the autumn moon; rathanga-yuktam — crowned with the discus; pavana-uddhuta-amshukam — its cloth banners tossed by the wind; vibhushanam — the ornament; nila-gireh — of the Blue Mountain; maha-ujjvalam — brilliantly shining.

4. Soon He beheld the beautiful temple of Hari: whitewashed, shining like the autumn moon, crowned with the discus, its banners tossed by the wind — the brilliant ornament of the Blue Mountain³.

Verse 5

कैलासशृङ्गं मुहुराक्षिपच्च
कान्त्या समुच्छेषतया सुधाम्ना।
प्रभञ्जनाकल्पितचेलहस्तै- राहूयमानं कमलेक्षणं तम्॥५॥

*kailāsaśṛṅgam muhurākṣipacca
kāntyā samuccheṣatayā sudhāmnā| prabhañjanākalpitacelahastai-rāhūyamānaṁ kamalekṣaṇaṁ tam||5||*

Word for word: kailasa-shringam — the peak of Kailasa; muhuh — again and again; akshipat — putting to shame; cha — and; kantya — by its lustre; samuchchheshataya — by its height (?); su-dhamna — by its splendour; prabhanjana-akalpita-chela-hastaih — with hands of cloth set waving by the wind; ahuyamanam — being beckoned; kamala-ikshanam — the Lotus-eyed; tam — Him.

5. With its lustre, its height⁴ and its splendour the temple put the peak of Kailasa to shame again and again, and with hands of cloth set waving by the wind it seemed to beckon the Lotus-eyed One.

Verse 6

पपात भूमौ सहसा हतारि- हरिर्गतस्पन्दनमन्तरात्मा।
विलोक्य सर्वे मुमुहुस्तदीयाः प्राणेन हीनास्तनवो यथार्याः॥६॥

*papāta bhūmau sahasā hatārirharirgataspandanamantarātmā| vilokya sarve mumuhustadīyāḥ
prāṇena hīnāstanavo yathāryāḥ||6||*

Word for word: papata — fell; bhumau — to the ground; sahasa — suddenly; hata-arih — the Slayer of foes; harih — Hari; gata-spandanam — without motion; antar-atma — the inner Self; vilokya — seeing; sarve — all; mumuhuh — swooned; tadiyah — His companions; pranena — of the breath of life; hinah — bereft; tanavah — bodies; yatha — like; aryah — the noble ones.

6. And suddenly Hari, the Slayer of foes, the inner Self of all, fell motionless to the ground. Seeing this, all His noble companions swooned, like bodies bereft of the breath of life.

Verse 7

ततः क्षणेनोत्थितमीशमुत्सुका
विलोक्य जीवं परिवव्रुरिन्द्रियाः।
तथैवमात्मानमतद्विदो जनाः स्वभावतस्तान्भगवानथाब्रवीत्॥७॥

*tataḥ kṣaṇenotthitamīśamutsukā
vilokya jīvaṁ parivavrurindriyāḥ| tathaivamātmānamatadvīdo janāḥ
svabhāvatastānbhagavānathābravīt||7||*

Word for word: tatah — then; kshanena — after a moment; utthitam — risen; isham — the Lord; utsukah — anxious; vilokya — seeing; jivam — the life (soul); parivavruh — surrounded; indriyah — the senses; tatha — so; evam — thus; atmanam — His true Self; a-tat-vidah — not knowing that; janah — the people; svabhavatah — according to His nature; tan — to them; bhagavan — Bhagavan; atha — then; abravīt — said.

7. A moment later, seeing that the Lord had risen, they anxiously gathered round Him, as the senses gather round the life within. The people did not know His true nature⁵, and Bhagavan, as was His way, said to them:

Verse 8

भवन्त एवात्र हरेर्गृहोपरि
स्थितं महानीलमणिप्रभं प्रभुम्।
बालं प्रपश्यन्तु ततो न दृष्ट्वा दृष्ट्वा तथोचुः प्रतिमां प्रभोर्द्विजाः॥८॥

*bhavanta evātra harergrhopari
sthitam mahānīlamaniprabham prabhum| bālaṁ prapaśyantu tato na dr̥ṣṭvā
dr̥ṣṭvā tathocuḥ pratimāṁ prabhordvijāḥ||8||*

Word for word: bhavantah — you; eva — yourselves; atra — here; hareh — of Hari; griha-upari — above the house; sthitam — standing; maha-nila-mani-prabham — shining like a great sapphire; prabhum — the Lord; balam — the boy; prapashyantu — may you see (behold); tatah — then; na — not; drishtva — seeing; drishtva — seeing; tatha — "so it is"; uchuh — said; pratimam — the image; prabhoh — of the Lord; dvijah — the brahmanas.

8. "See for yourselves: there, above the house of Hari, stands the Lord — a boy shining like a great sapphire!" The brahmanas did not see the boy, but, looking at the image of the Lord, they answered, "Yes, we see."

Verse 9

मोहः पुनः स्यादिति शङ्क्यमान-
स्तानब्रवीत्पश्य हरेर्गृहध्वजम्।
आलक्ष्य बालं मुहुराक्षिपन्तं वक्त्रेण पूर्णामृतरश्मिकोटिम्॥९॥

*mohaḥ punaḥ syāditi śaṅkya mānastānabravītpaśya harergrhadhvajam| ālakṣya bālaṁ muhurākṣipantaṁ
vaktreṇa pūrṇāmṛtaraśmikoṭim||9||*

Word for word: mohah — a swoon; punah — again; syat — may come; iti — that; shankyamanah — the one for whom it was feared; tan — to them; abravit — said; pashya — look; hareh — of Hari; griha-dhvajam — at the banner of the house; alakshya — making out; balam — the boy; muhuh — again and again; akshipantam — putting to shame; vaktrena — with His face; purna-amrita-rashmi-kotim — millions of full moons.

9. Then He for whom they feared that He might swoon again said to them, "Look at the banner above the house of Hari: make out the boy whose face again and again puts to shame millions of full moons!

Verse 10

आलोलरक्ताङ्गुलिशोणपद्म-तलेन मामाक्रमति स्म पाणिना।
दक्षेण सव्येन च वेणुरन्ध्र-विन्यस्तवक्त्राङ्गुलिनातिशोभितः॥१०॥

ālolaraktāṅguliśoṇapadma-
talena māmākramati sma pāṇinā| dakṣeṇa savyena ca veṇurandhra-vinyastavaktrāṅgulinātiśobhitah||10||

Word for word: alola-rakta-anguli-shona-padma-talena — with its palm red as a lotus and its rosy fingers astir; mam — me; akramati sma — draws to Himself; panina — with His hand; dakshena — with the right; savyena — with the left; cha — and; venu-randhra-vinyasta-vaktra-angulina — with lips and fingers set to the holes of the flute; ati-shobhitah — exceedingly beautiful.

10. With His hand — the red lotus of His palm, with its rosy fingers astir — He draws Me to Himself; and how beautiful He is as He puts His lips to the flute and sets the fingers of His right and left hands on its holes!

Verse 11

असौ सुधारश्मिसहस्रकान्तिः
को वा मनो मोहयति स्मितेन।
स एवमुत्कोऽतितरां जगाम द्रुतं द्रुतस्वर्णरुचिः सभृत्यैः॥११॥

asau sudhāraśmisahasrakāntiḥ
ko vā mano mohayati smitena| sa evamutko'titarāṁ jagāma
drutaṁ drutasvarṇaruciḥ sabhṛtyaiḥ||11||

Word for word: asau — this one; sudha-rashmi-sahasra-kantih — with the radiance of a thousand moons; kah — who; va — then; manah — the mind; mohayati — enchants; smitena — with a smile; sah — He; evam — thus (saying); utkah — longing; ati-taram — exceedingly; jagama — went; drutam — swiftly; druta-svarna-ruchih — gleaming like molten gold; sa-bhṛityaih — with His servants.

11. Who is He, radiant as a thousand moons, whose smile enchants My mind?" Saying this, He who gleams like molten gold hastened on in utmost longing with His servants.

Verse 12

प्रासादमालोक्य जगत्पतेर्मुहु- र्मुहुः स्खलन्नेत्रजवारिधारया।
शृङ्गः सुमेरोरिव निर्झरान्वित-स्तीर्थं मृकण्डोरगमत्सुतस्य॥१२॥ prāsādamālōkya jagatpatermuhu-rmuhuh skhalannetrajavāridhārayā| śṛṅgaḥ sumeroriva nirjharānvitastīrthaṁ mṛkaṇḍoragamatсутasya||12||

Word for word: prasadam — the temple-palace; alokya — seeing; jagat-pateh — of the Lord of the world; muhuh muhuh — again and again; skhalan — stumbling; netra-ja-vari-dharaya — with streams of tears from His eyes; shringah — a peak; sumeroh — of Sumeru; iva — like; nirjhara-anvitah — with waterfalls; tirtham — to the tirtha; mrikandoh — of Mrikandu; agamat — came; sutasya — of the son.

12. Gazing at the temple of the Lord of the world, He stumbled again and again; streams of tears poured from His eyes, and He was like a peak of Sumeru coursed by waterfalls. Thus He came to the tirtha of the son of Mrikandu⁶.

Verse 13

चक्रेण चक्रे स्वयमुग्रचक्रिणा
तीर्थं महेशाय सुदीप्तिमत्तटम्।
स्नात्वा च यस्मिन्शिवलोकमाप्ता- स्तत्राशु गत्वा विधिवच्चकार॥१३॥

*cakreṇa cakre svayamugracakriṇā
tīrthaṁ maheśāya sudīptimattaṭam| snātvā ca yasminśivalokamāptā-statrāśu gtvā vidhivaccakāra||13||*

Word for word: chakrena — with His discus; cakre — made; svayam — Himself; ugra-chakrina — by the fierce Bearer of the discus; tirtham — a tirtha; maheshaya — for Mahesha; su-dipti-mat-tatam — with gleaming banks; snatva — bathing; cha — and; yasmin — in which; shiva-lokam — the world of Shiva; aptah — have attained (men); tatra — there; ashu — quickly; gatva — going; vidhivat — according to rule; chakara — performed (the rites).

13. This tirtha with its gleaming banks the fierce Bearer of the discus Himself made with His discus for Mahesha, and by bathing in it men have attained the world of Shiva. Hastening there, the Lord performed all that is prescribed.

Verse 14

स्नात्वा ततः शङ्करलिङ्गमीश्वरो
जपन्नघोरं प्रणनाम दण्डवत्।
स्तुत्वा महेशस्तुतिभिः सुमङ्गलै- र्जगाम यज्ञेशमहालयं प्रभुः॥१४॥

*snātvā tataḥ śaṅkaraliṅgamīśvaro
japannaghoram praṇanāma daṇḍavat| stutvā maheśastutibhiḥ sumaṅgalairjagāma yajñeśamahālayam prabhuḥ||14||*

Word for word: snatva — having bathed; tataḥ — then; shankara-lingam — to the linga of Shankara; ishvarah — the Lord; japan — murmuring; aghoram — the Aghora (mantra); pranana — bowed; dandavat — like a staff; stutva — having praised; mahesha-stutibhiḥ — with hymns to Mahesha; su-mangalaiḥ — most auspicious; jagama — went; yajna-isha-maha-alayam — to the great abode of the Lord of sacrifice; prabhuḥ — the Lord.

14. Having bathed, the Lord murmured the Aghora mantra⁷ and bowed down like a staff to the linga of Shankara; and having praised Mahesha with most auspicious hymns, the Lord went to the great abode of the Lord of sacrifice⁸.

Verse 15

प्रहृष्टरोमा नयनाब्जवारिभिः
परीतवक्षाः परमात्मचिन्तया।
विवेश देवेशगृहं महोत्सवं ननाम दृष्ट्वा जगतां पतिं प्रभुम्॥१५॥

*prahr̥ṣṭaromā nayanābjavāribhiḥ
parītavakṣāḥ paramātmacintayā| viveśa deveśagrhaṁ mahotsavam
nanāma dr̥ṣṭvā jagatām patim prabhum||15||*

Word for word: prahrishhta-roma — His hair standing on end; nayana-abja-varibhih — with the waters of His lotus eyes; parita-vakshah — His chest bathed; parama-atma-chintaya — through meditation on the Supreme Self; vivesha — entered; deva-isha-griham — the house of the Lord of the gods; maha-utsavam — full of great festivity; nanama — bowed; drishtva — seeing; jagatam — of the worlds; patim — the Lord; prabhum — the Master.

15. The hair of His body stood on end, His chest was bathed in the waters of His lotus eyes, His mind was absorbed in the Supreme Self; thus He entered the festive house of the Lord of the gods and, seeing the Master of the worlds, bowed down.

Verse 16

पपात भूमौ पुनरेव दण्डव-
न्नमन्मुहुः प्रेमभराकुलाननः।
ततः क्षणान्मुष्टिकरं विभावय-ज्जगत्पतिं सोऽतिरुरोद विह्वलः॥१६॥

papāta bhūmau punareva daṇḍavannamanmuhuh premabharākulānanaḥ| tataḥ kṣaṇānmuṣṭikaram vibhāvayañjagatpatim so'tiruroda vihvalaḥ||16||

Word for word: papata — fell; bhumau — to the ground; punah — again; eva — indeed; dandavat — like a staff; naman — bowing; muhuh — again and again; prema-bhara-akula-ananah — His face distraught with the weight of love; tatah — then; kshanat — after a moment; mushti-karam — with hands like fists; vibhavayan — perceiving; jagat-patim — the Lord of the world; sah — He; ati-ruroda — wept bitterly; vihvalah — overwhelmed.

16. Again He fell to the ground like a staff, bowing again and again, His face distraught with the weight of love. And after a moment, perceiving that the hands of the Lord of the world were like clenched fists⁹, He was overwhelmed and wept bitterly.

Verse 17

दृष्ट्वा तमित्थं पुरुषोत्तमो हरिः
प्रसार्य पाणिं कमलाङ्गकोमलम्।
अदर्शयद्रक्ततलं ततो मुदा चैतन्यदेवो हृषितो जहास॥१७॥

*dr̥ṣṭvā tamitthaṁ puruṣottamo hariḥ
prasārya pāṇim kamalāṅkakomalam| adarśayadraktatalaṁ tato mudā
caitanyadevo hr̥ṣito jahāsa||17||*

Word for word: drishtva — seeing; tam — Him; ittham — thus; purushottamah — Purushottama; harih — Hari; prasarya — stretching out; panim — His hand; kamala-anka-komalam — soft and marked with the lotus; adarshayat — showed; rakta-talam — with its red palm; tatah — then; muda — with joy; chaitanya-devah — Chaitanyadeva; hrishitah — delighted; jahasa — laughed.

17. Seeing Him thus, Hari Purushottama stretched out to Him His soft hand marked with the lotus and showed Him its red palm; and Chaitanyadeva, delighted, laughed for joy.

Verse 18

उवाच चैवं करुणाम्बुधे त्वं
प्रसीद देवेश महेशवन्दित।
पुनर्न दृष्ट्वा करपल्लवाङ्गुलिं रुरोद तस्मिन्दिगुणं स विह्वलः॥१८॥

*uvāca caivaṁ karuṇāmbudhe tvam
prasīda deveśa maheśavandita| punarna dr̥ṣṭvā karapallavāṅgulim
ruroda tasmindiviḡṇaṁ sa vihvalaḥ||18||*

Word for word: uvacha — said; cha — and; evam — thus; karuna-ambudhe — O ocean of mercy; tvam — You; prasida — be gracious; deva-isha — O Lord of the gods; mahesha-vandita — worshipped by Mahesha; punah — again; na — not; drishtva — seeing; kara-pallava-angulim — the fingers of the bud-like hand; ruroda — wept; tasmin — then; dvi-gunam — twice as much; sah — He; vihvalah — overwhelmed.

18. And He said, "O ocean of mercy, be gracious, Lord of the gods, worshipped by Mahesha!" But no longer seeing the fingers of that hand, tender as a young shoot, He was overwhelmed and wept twice as much.

Verse 19

पुनश्च दृष्ट्वातिमहोत्सवान्वितो हर्षाश्रुधाराप्लुतदेहयष्टिः॥१९॥

*punaśca dr̥ṣṭvātimahotsavānvito
harṣāśrudhārāplutadehayaṣṭiḥ||19||*

Word for word: punah — again; cha — and; drishtva — seeing; ati-maha-utsava-anvitah — filled with the greatest jubilation; harsha-ashru-dhara-apluta-deha-yashtih — His slender body drenched with streams of tears of joy.

19. And seeing them again, He was filled with the greatest jubilation, and His slender body was drenched with streams of tears of joy¹⁰.

Verse 20

एवं तयोरुद्धटचेष्टितं जनाः
शृण्वन्ति गायन्ति परं व्रजन्ति ते।
पदं मुरारेः परमार्थदर्शिनी
न यत्र भूयः पतनं क्वचिद्भवेत्॥२०॥

*evam tayorudbhaṭaceṣṭitam janāḥ śṛṇvanti gāyanti param vrajanti te| padam murāreḥ paramārthadarśino
na yatra bhūyaḥ patanam kvacidbhavet||20||*

Word for word: evam — thus; tayoh — of the two; udbhata-cheshtitam — the wondrous doings; janah — people; shrinvanti — hear; gayanti — sing; param — the supreme; vrajanti — reach; te — they; padam — abode; murareh — of Murari; parama-artha-darshinah — seeing the highest truth; na — not; yatra — where; bhuyah — again; patanam — fall; kvachit — ever; bhavet — there is.

20. People who hear and sing of these wondrous doings of the two of Them come to see the highest truth and reach the supreme abode of Murari, from which there is never again a fall.

Thus ends the tenth sarga, "Beholding Sri Purushottama" (Sri-Purushottama-darshana), of the third prakrama of the poem "Sri Krishna Chaitanya Charitamrita."

1. The Kapota-linga ("the linga of the dove"), a shrine of Shiva on the way from Bhubaneshvara to Puri.
2. The Bhargavi is a river in Orissa flowing near Puri.
3. The Blue Mountain is Nilachala (Nilagiri), the hill on which the temple of Jagannatha stands at Purushottama (Puri).
4. The rendering of this word is conjectural.
5. The second half of the verse is obscure; the rendering is conjectural.
6. The son of Mrikandu is the sage Markandeya; his tirtha (the Markandeya pond) is at Puri.
7. Aghora: one of the mantras of Shiva (named after one of his faces).
8. That is, of Jagannatha.
9. The image of Jagannatha has rounded arms without hands; the Lord grieves at not seeing His palms, and Jagannatha in His mercy shows Him His hand (vv. 17–18).
10. In all the editions only half of this verse survives.
