“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Madhya-līlā

Chapter 15

The Feast at Sārvabhauma’s House

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. When the Ratha-yātrā was over, Śrī Advaita Prabhu worshiped Mahāprabhu with flowers and tulasī, and Mahāprabhu in turn worshiped Advaitācārya with the flowers and tulasī left on the tray of worship, reciting the mantra “Whoever You are, that You are.” After that Advaitācārya invited Mahāprabhu and fed Him. On the day of the Nandotsava the Lord and His associates dressed as cowherds and held a festival of joy. On Vijayā-daśamī, at the festival of the conquest of Laṅkā, He dressed His devotees as an army of monkeys, and He Himself, absorbed in the mood of Hanumān, displayed great joy. Then, after the assembled devotees had seen the other festivals, He told them to return to Gauḍa-deśa. Mahāprabhu sent Nityānanda Prabhu to Gauḍa-deśa as well, together with Rāmadāsa, Gadādhara dāsa and a few other Vaiṣṇavas. Afterwards, with many humble words, He sent prasāda, cloth and other things for His mother (through Śrīvāsa). He gave leave to Rāghava Paṇḍita, Vāsudeva Datta, the devotees of Kulīnagrāma and all the other Vaiṣṇavas, describing their many virtues at length. Answering the question of Rāmānanda and Satyarāja, Mahāprabhu instructed householder Vaiṣṇavas to serve Vaiṣṇavas devoted to the pure name. He described the glory of the Vaiṣṇavas of Khaṇḍa (and assigned them their service), (ordered Sārvabhauma and Vidyā-vācaspati to serve the Dāru-brahma and the Jala-brahma), explained Murāri Gupta's devotion to the feet of Śrī Rāma, and, in response to Vāsudeva's prayer, wholly worthy of a Vaiṣṇava, considered Kṛṣṇa's power to deliver the whole world (without effort). Then, while the Lord was accepting a meal at Sārvabhauma's house, some evil thought arose in Amogha, and the next morning he was struck by cholera. The Lord mercifully cured him and gave him a taste for the name of Kṛṣṇa.

Gaurasundara makes His own reviler Amogha His own —

সার্ব্বভৌমগৃহে ভুঞ্জন্ স্বনিন্দকমমোঘকম্ ।
অঙ্গীকুর্ব্বন্ স্ফুটাং চক্রে গৌরঃ স্বাং ভক্তবশ্যতাম্ ॥ ১ ॥

sārvabhauma-gṛhe bhuñjan
in the house of Sārvabhauma eating sva-nindakam amoghakam
His own reviler Amogha
aṅgī-kurvan sphuṭāṁ cakre
accepting manifest made gauraḥ svāṁ bhakta-vaśyatām
Gaura His own subjection to His devotees

1 While taking His meal at Sārvabhauma's house, Gaura accepted Amogha, who had reviled Him, and so made plain that He is subject to His devotees.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
By taking His meal in Sārvabhauma's house and accepting as His own Amogha Bhaṭṭācārya, who had reviled Him, Gaurachandra clearly showed that He is subject to devotion.

Anubhāṣya.
gauraḥ sārvabhauma-gṛhe (in the house of the Bhaṭṭācārya) bhuñjan (accepting a meal) sva-nindakam (the one who reviled Him) amoghakam (named Amogha, the husband of Ṣāṭhī, Sārvabhauma's daughter) aṅgī-kūrvan (counting among His servants) svāṁ (His own) bhakta-vaśyatām (subjection to those who follow Him) sphuṭāṁ (manifest) cakre (made).

জয় জয় শ্রীচৈতন্য জয় নিত্যানন্দ । জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌর ভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-caitanya jaya nityānanda glory glory to Śrī Caitanya glory to Nityānanda jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura bhakta-vṛnda glory to Advaitacandra glory of Gaura the devotees to the multitude

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura![1]

Glory to the hearers of Caitanya's story —

জয় শ্রীচৈতন্যচরিতামৃত-শ্রোতাগণ । চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত — যাঁর প্রাণধন ॥ ৩ ॥

jaya śrī-caitanya-caritāmṛta-śrotāgaṇa glory to the listeners of the Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta
caitanya-caritāmṛta — yāṁra prāṇa-dhana
the Caitanya-caritāmṛta — whose treasure of life

3 Glory to the listeners of the Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta, for whom it is the treasure of life!

The Lord's pastimes with the devotees in Puruṣottama —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু ভক্তগণ-সঙ্গে । নীলাচলে রহি' করে নৃত্যগীত রঙ্গে ॥ ৪ ॥

ei mata mahāprabhu bhakta-gaṇa-saṅge
thus Mahāprabhu with the devotees
nīlācale rahi' kare nṛtya-gīta raṅge
in Nīlācala staying does dancing and singing joyfully

4 In this way Mahāprabhu stayed in Nīlācala with His devotees, joyfully dancing and singing.

প্রথম-বৎসরে জগন্নাথ দরশন । নৃত্যগীত করে দণ্ড, পরণাম, স্তবন ॥ ৫ ॥

prathama-vatsare jagannātha daraśana
in the first year Jagannātha seeing nṛtya-gīta kare daṇḍa, paraṇāma, stavana
dancing and singing does prostrations obeisances prayers

5 In that first year He went to see Jagannātha; He danced and sang, fell prostrate, bowed down and offered prayers.

*While the midday bhoga is delayed, the Lord meets Haridāsa —*

'উপলভোগ' লাগিলে করে বাহিরে বিজয়। হরিদাস মিলি' আইসে আপন-নিলয় ॥ ৬ ॥

'upala-bhoga' lāgile kare bāhire vijaya
the upala-bhoga when it begins makes outside going forth
haridāsa mili' āise āpana-nilaya
Haridāsa meeting comes to His own dwelling

6 When the upala-bhoga began, He would come out of the temple, meet Haridāsa, and return to His own dwelling.

Anubhāṣya.
At midday, when bhoga — the upala-bhoga — is offered in the bhoga-vardhana hall, the Lord goes out of the Śrī Mandira. Before that He stands behind the Garuḍa pillar, offers daṇḍavat obeisances and prays. On the way back He meets Haridāsa Ṭhākura at Siddha-bakula and returns to His residence, the house of Kāśī Miśra.

Back home, the Lord chants the name, and Advaita worships Him —

ঘরে বসি' করে প্রভু নাম-সংকীর্ত্তন। অদ্বৈত আসিয়া করে প্রভুর পূজন ॥ ৭ ॥

ghare vasi' kare prabhu nāma-saṁkīrtana
at home sitting does the Lord the saṅkīrtana of the name
advaita āsiyā kare prabhura pūjana
Advaita coming does the Lord's worship

7 Sitting at home, the Lord would chant the holy name, and Advaita would come and worship Him.

সুগন্ধি-সলিলে দেন পাদ্য, আচমন । সর্ব্বাঙ্গে লেপয়ে প্রভুর সুগন্ধি চন্দন ॥ ৮ ॥

sugandhi-salile dena pādya, ācamana
with fragrant water offers water for the feet water for sipping sarvāṅge lepaye prabhura sugandhi candana
over all the limbs smears of the Lord fragrant sandalwood

8 Advaita offered Him fragrant water to wash His feet and to sip, and smeared fragrant sandalwood paste over all His limbs.

গলে মালা দেন, মাথায় দিল তুলসী-মঞ্জরী । যোড় হাতে স্তুতি করে পদে নমস্করি' ॥ ৯ ॥

gale mālā dena, māthāya dila tulasī-mañjarī
on the neck a garland puts on the head placed tulasī buds yoḍa hāte stuti kare pade namaskari'
joined with hands prayers offers at the feet bowing

9 He put a garland around the Lord's neck and placed tulasī buds on His head; then He bowed at His feet and offered prayers with joined palms.

The Lord worships Advaita in return —

পূজা-পাত্রে পুষ্প-তুলসী শেষ যে আছিল । সেই সব লঞা প্রভু আচার্য্যে পূজিল ॥ ১০ ॥

pūjā-pātre puṣpa-tulasī śeṣa ye āchila on the worship plate of flowers and tulasī remnant that was sei saba lañā prabhu ācārye pūjila
that all taking the Lord the Ācārya worshipped

10 Taking whatever flowers and tulasī were left on the worship plate, the Lord worshipped the Ācārya with them.

‘যোঽসি সোঽসি নমোঽস্তু তে’ এই মন্ত্র পড়ে ।
মুখবাদ্য করি’ প্রভু হাসায় আচার্য্যেরে ॥ ১১ ॥

‘yo ’si so ’si namo ’stu te’ ei mantra paḍe who You are that You are obeisance be to You this mantra recites mukha-vādya kari’ prabhu hāsāya ācāryere mouth-music making the Lord makes laugh the Ācārya

11 He recited the mantra “Whoever You are, that You are — obeisance to You,” and, making funny sounds with His mouth, set the Ācārya laughing.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
He worshiped the Ācārya reciting the mantra “Whoever You are, that You are — to You alone I bow.”

Anubhāṣya.
Some give this reading: “O Rādhā, O Kṛṣṇa, O Ramā, O Viṣṇu, O Sītā, O Rāma, O Śivā, O Śiva! Whoever You are, that You are — I bow to You always; whoever You are, that You are — obeisance to You.”[11]

এইমত অন্যোন্যে করেন নমস্কার । প্রভুরে নিমন্ত্রণ করে আচার্য্য বার বার ॥ ১২ ॥

ei mata anyonye karena namaskāra
thus to one another make obeisance prabhure nimantraṇa kare ācārya bāra bāra
the Lord invitation makes the Ācārya time after time

12 So They paid obeisance to one another, and again and again the Ācārya invited the Lord to a meal.

*The Lord's meal at the Ācārya's house, described in the *Caitanya-bhāgavata

—

আচার্য্যের নিমন্ত্রণ — আশ্চর্য্য-কথন । বিস্তারি’ বর্ণিয়াছেন দাস-বৃন্দাবন ॥ ১৩ ॥

ācāryera nimantraṇa — āścarya-kathana
the Ācārya's invitation — a wonderful story vistārī' varṇiyāchena dāsa-vṛndāvana
in detail has described Vṛndāvana dāsa

13 The story of the Ācārya's invitations is wonderful, and Vṛndāvana dāsa has described it in detail.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
See Śrī Caitanya-bhāgavata, Antya-khaṇḍa, chapter 9.

The Lord and His associates are invited to one devotee's house after another —

পুনরুক্তি হয় তাহা, না কৈলুঁ বর্ণন । আর ভক্তগণ করে প্রভুরে নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ১৪ ॥

punarukti haya tāhā, nā kailuṁ varṇana repetition would be it not I made description
āra bhakta-gaṇa kare prabhure nimantraṇa
other devotees make to the Lord invitation

14 To tell it again would be repetition, so I have not described it. The other devotees also invited the Lord.

এক এক দিন এক এক ভক্তগৃহে মহোৎসব । প্রভু-সঙ্গে তাঁহা ভোজন করে ভক্ত সব ॥ ১৫ ॥

eka eka dina eka eka bhakta-gṛhe mahotsava
one by one day in one after another devotee's home a festival
prabhu-saṅge tāṁhā bhojana kare bhakta saba
with the Lord there eating do devotees all

15 Day after day there was a festival in one devotee's home after another, and all the devotees ate there with the Lord.

The Gauḍīyas spend four months with the Lord —

চারিমাস রহিলা সবে মহাপ্রভু-সঙ্গে । জগন্নাথের নানা যাত্রা দেখে মহারঙ্গে ॥ ১৬ ॥

cāri-māsa rahilā sabe mahāprabhu-saṅge
four months stayed all with Mahāprabhu jagannāthera nānā yātrā dekhe mahā-raṅge
of Jagannātha various festivals see with great joy

16 For four months all the devotees stayed with Mahāprabhu and watched Jagannātha's various festivals with great joy.

On the day of the Nandotsava the Lord and His devotees, dressed as cowherds, enact the pastimes of Vraja —

কৃষ্ণজন্মযাত্রা-দিনে নন্দ-মহোৎসব । গোপবেশ হৈলা প্রভু লঞা ভক্তসব ॥ ১৭ ॥

kṛṣṇa-janma-yātrā-dine nanda-mahotsava
on the day of the festival of Kṛṣṇa's birth Nanda's great festival
gopa-veśa hailā prabhu lañā bhaktasaba
in cowherd dress became the Lord taking all the devotees

17 On the day of Kṛṣṇa's birth festival, at Nanda's great celebration, the Lord and all His devotees dressed as cowherds.

Anubhāṣya.
The festival of Kṛṣṇa's birth: the day after Janmāṣṭamī, that is, the day of the Nandotsava.

দধিদুগ্ধ-ভার প্রভু নিজ-স্কন্ধে করি' । মহোৎসব-স্থানে আইলা বলি 'হরি' 'হরি' ॥ ১৮ ॥

dadhi-dugdha-bhāra prabhu nija-skandhe kari'
a yoke of yogurt and milk the Lord on His own shoulder placing mahotsava-sthāne āilā bali 'hari' 'hari'
to the festival place came saying "Hari" "Hari"

18 Carrying a yoke of yogurt and milk on His shoulder, the Lord came to the festival grounds calling out, “Hari! Hari!”

Kānāi Khuṭiyā dressed as Nanda and Jagannātha Māhāti as Yaśodā —

কানাঞি-খুটিয়া আছেন ‘নন্দ’-বেশ ধরি’ । জগন্নাথ-মাহাতি হঞাছেন ‘ব্রজেশ্বরী’ ॥ ১৯ ॥

kānāñi-khuṭiyā āchena ‘nanda’-veśa dhari’ Kānāi Khuṭiyā was Nanda’s dress wearing jagannātha-māhāti hañāchena ‘vrajeśvarī’
Jagannātha Māhāti had become the Queen of Vraja

19 Kānāi Khuṭiyā was dressed as Nanda, and Jagannātha Māhāti had become Yaśodā, the Queen of Vraja.

Anubhāṣya.
Khuṭiyā is a title of Utkala brāhmaṇas; Māhāti is a title of the Karaṇas (scribes) of Utkala.

*The Lord's play with the king, Miśra, the Bhaṭṭācārya and Tulasī the *paḍichā —

আপনে প্রতাপরুদ্র, আর মিশ্র-কাশী । সার্ব্বভৌম, আর পড়িছা-পাত্র তুলসী ॥ ২০ ॥

āpane pratāparudra, āra miśra-kāśī himself Pratāparudra and Kāśī Miśra
sārvabhauma, āra paḍichā-pātra tulasī
Sārvabhauma and the paḍichā-pātra Tulasī

20 King Pratāparudra himself was there, with Kāśī Miśra, Sārvabhauma and Tulasī, the temple paḍichā.

Anubhāṣya.
Pātra is a title of respected men in Utkala.

ইঁহা-সবা লঞা প্রভু করে নৃত্য-রঙ্গ । দধি-দুগ্ধ হরিদ্রা-জলে ভরে সবার অঙ্গ ॥ ২১ ॥

iṁhā-sabā lañā prabhu kare nṛtya-raṅga
them all taking the Lord does joyful dancing
dadhi-dugdha haridrā-jale bhare sabāra aṅga yogurt and milk with turmeric water fills everyone's body

21 With them all the Lord danced joyfully, and everyone was drenched in yogurt, milk and turmeric water.

The Lord is asked to show Himself a cowherd by playing with a staff —

অদ্বৈত কহে, — সত্য কহি, না করিহ কোপ । লগুড় ফিরাইতে পার, তবে জানি গোপ ॥ ২২ ॥

advaita kahe, — satya kahi, nā kariha kopa Advaita says — truth I speak not do anger
laguḍa phirāite pāra, tabe jāni gopa
the staff to twirl You can then I know a cowherd

22 Advaita said, "I am telling You the truth — don't be angry. I will know You are a cowherd only if You can twirl a staff."

Anubhāṣya.
Laguḍa — a staff. In staff-play the gopas, or Gauḍas, excel.

Whirling the staff, the Lord displays the pastime of a cowherd —

তবে লগুড় লঞা প্রভু ফিরাইতে লাগিলা । বার বার আকাশে ফেলি' লুফিয়া ধরিলা ॥ ২৩ ॥

tabe laguḍa lañā prabhu phirāite lāgilā
then the staff taking the Lord to twirl began bāra bāra ākāśe pheli' luphiyā dharilā
time after time into the sky throwing snatching caught

23 Then the Lord took a staff and began to twirl it, tossing it into the air again and again and catching it.

শিরের উপরে, সম্মুখে, পৃষ্ঠে, দুই-পাশে ৷
পাদসন্ধ্যে ফিরায় লগুড়, — দেখি' লোক হাসে ॥ ২৪ ॥

śirera upare, sammukhe, pṛṣṭhe, dui-pāśe
of the head above in front behind on both sides
pāda-sandhye phirāya laguḍa, — dekhi' loka hāse
between the feet twirls the staff — seeing the people laugh

24 He twirled the staff over His head, in front, behind, on both sides and even between His feet, and the people laughed to see it.

Anubhāṣya.
Pāda-sandhye — in the space between the feet.

Everyone is amazed at the sight —

অলাত-চক্রের প্রায় লগুড় ফিরায় ৷ দেখি' সর্ব্বলোক-চিত্তে চমৎকার পায় ॥ ২৫ ॥

alāta-cakrera prāya laguḍa phirāya
a firebrand's circle like the staff twirls
dekhi' sarva-loka-citte camatkāra pāya
seeing in the hearts of all people wonder arises

25 He whirled the staff like a circle of fire traced by a firebrand, and all who saw it were struck with wonder.

Anubhāṣya.
Alāta-cakra. When a burning brand is whirled very fast, it looks like one continuous wheel of fire. In the same way the Lord whirled the staff so fast that it seemed to be everywhere at once.

Nitāi too whirls a staff and shows Himself a cowherd —

এইমত নিত্যানন্দ ফিরায় লগুড় ৷ কে বুঝিবে তাঁহা, দুঁহার গোপভাব গূঢ় ॥ ২৬ ॥

ei mata nityānanda phirāya laguḍa
in the same way Nityānanda twirls a staff
ke bujhibe tāṁhā, duṁhāra gopa-bhāva gūḍha who will understand that of the two the cowherd mood hidden

26 Nityānanda twirled a staff in the same way. Who can understand the hidden cowherd mood of these two?

*Tulasī the paḍichā brings prasāda cloth, and it is tied on the Lord's head*

—

প্রতাপরুদ্রের আজ্ঞায় পড়িছা-তুলসী । জগন্নাথ-প্রসাদ-বস্ত্র এক লঞা আসি' ॥ ২৭ ॥

pratāparudrera ājñāya paḍichā-tulasī
by Pratāparudra's order the paḍichā Tulasī jagannātha-prasāda-vastra eka lañā āsi'
a prasāda cloth of Jagannātha one taking coming

27 At Pratāparudra's order, Tulasī the paḍichā came, bringing a cloth that had been offered to Jagannātha.

বহুমূল্য বস্ত্র প্রভু মস্তকে বান্ধিল । আচার্য্যাদি প্রভুর গণেরে পরাইল ॥ ২৮ ॥

bahu-mūlya vastra prabhu mastake bāndhila costly cloth the Lord on the head tied ācāryādi prabhura gaṇere parāila
the Ācārya and others the Lord's people clothed

28 The Lord tied the costly cloth around His head, and He had the Ācārya and His other companions wear it as well.

Kānāi and Jagannātha distribute their wealth —

কানাঞি-খুটিয়া, জগন্নাথ, — দুইজন । আবেশে বিলাইল, ঘরে ছিল যত ধন ॥ ২৯ ॥

kānāñi-khuṭiyā, jagannātha, — dui-jana Kānāi Khuṭiyā Jagannātha — the two āveśe vilāila, ghare chila yata dhana
in ecstasy gave away at home was whatever wealth

29 Kānāi Khuṭiyā and Jagannātha, in their ecstasy, gave away all the wealth they had at home.

Anubhāṣya.
See Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.3.9.

The Lord is pleased and bows to them as to His father and mother —

দেখি' মহাপ্রভু বড় সন্তোষ পাইলা । মাতাপিতা-জ্ঞানে দুঁহে নমস্কার কৈলা ॥ ৩০ ॥

dekhi' mahāprabhu baḍa santoṣa pāilā seeing Mahāprabhu great satisfaction felt mātā-pitā-jñāne duṁhe namaskāra kailā
as mother and father to both obeisance made

30 Seeing this, Mahāprabhu was very pleased and bowed down to the two of them as to His mother and father.

পরম-আবেশে প্রভু আইলা নিজ-ঘর । এইমত লীলা করে গৌরাঙ্গসুন্দর ॥ ৩১ ॥

parama-āveśe prabhu āilā nija-ghara
in great ecstasy the Lord came to His own home
ei mata līlā kare gaurāṅga-sundara
thus pastimes performs Gaurāṅga-sundara

31 In deep ecstasy the Lord returned home. Such were the pastimes of Gaurāṅgasundara.

On Vijayā-daśamī the Lord dresses the devotees as an army of monkeys and

Himself plays Hanumān —

বিজয়া-দশমী — লঙ্কা-বিজয়ের দিনে । বানর-সৈন্য কৈলা প্রভু লঞা ভক্তগণে ॥ ৩২ ॥

vijayā-daśamī — laṅkā-vijayera dine Vijayā-daśamī — of the conquest of Laṅkā on the day
vānara-sainya kailā prabhu lañā bhakta-gaṇe
a monkey army made the Lord taking the devotees

32 On Vijayā-daśamī, the day of the conquest of Laṅkā, the Lord made the devotees into an army of monkeys.

হনুমান্-আবেশে প্রভু বৃক্ষশাখা লঞা । লঙ্কা-গড়ে চড়ি' ফেলে লঙ্কা ভাঙ্গিয়া ॥ ৩৩ ॥

hanumān-āveśe prabhu vṛkṣa-śākhā lañā
in the mood of Hanumān the Lord a tree branch taking laṅkā-gaḍe caḍi' phele laṅkā bhāṅgiyā on the fort of Laṅkā climbing throws down Laṅkā breaking 33 Absorbed in the mood of Hanumān, the Lord took a tree branch, climbed the ramparts of Laṅkā and tore Laṅkā down.

Anubhāṣya.
Laṅkā-gaḍa — the fortification, or moat, surrounding the city of Laṅkā on all sides.

The Lord prepares to enact the slaying of Rāvaṇa —

'কাঁহারে রাব্‌ণা' প্রভু কহে ক্রোধাবেশে ।
'জগন্মাতা হরে পাপী, মারিমু সবংশে' ॥ ৩৪ ॥

'kāṁhāre rāvṇā' prabhu kahe krodhāveśe
where is the wretch Rāvaṇa the Lord says in a fit of anger
'jagan-mātā hare pāpī, mārimu savaṁśe'
the Mother of the world stole the sinner I will kill with all his race

34 In a fit of anger the Lord cried, “Where is that wretch Rāvaṇa? The sinner has carried off the Mother of the world! I will kill him and all his kin!”

Anubhāṣya.
The mother of the world — Sītā-devī.

The people are amazed and cry “Jaya!” —

গোসাঞির আবেশ দেখি’ লোকে চমৎকার । সর্ব্বলোক ‘জয়’ ‘জয়’ করে বার বার ॥ ৩৫ ॥

gosāñira āveśa dekhi’ loke camatkāra
of the Lord the ecstasy seeing people amazed
sarva-loka ‘jaya’ ‘jaya’ kare bāra bāra
all people “Jaya” “Jaya” make time after time

35 Seeing the Lord’s ecstasy, the people were amazed, and all of them shouted “Jaya! Jaya!” again and again.

The Lord sees the Vaiṣṇava festivals of the month of Kārttika —

এইমত রাসযাত্রা, আর দীপাবলী । উত্থান-দ্বাদশীযাত্রা দেখিলা সকলি ॥ ৩৬ ॥

ei mata rāsa-yātrā, āra dīpāvalī
in this way the Rāsa-yātrā and Dīpāvalī
utthāna-dvādaśī yātrā dekhilā sakali
the Utthāna-dvādaśī festival saw all

36 In the same way they all saw the Rāsa-yātrā, Dīpāvalī and the festival of Utthāna-dvādaśī.

Anubhāṣya.
Dīpāvalī — Diwali, the new-moon day of Kārttika. Utthāna-dvādaśī-yātrā — the twelfth day of the bright fortnight of Kārttika, when pilgrims conclude the vow of Cāturmāsya, bathe in the ocean, circumambulate the town and perform other observances.

A secret consultation with Nitāi —

একদিন মহাপ্রভু নিত্যানন্দে লঞা । দুই ভাই যুক্তি কৈল নিভৃতে বসিয়া ॥ ৩৭ ॥

ekadina mahāprabhu nityānande lañā
one day Mahāprabhu Nityānanda taking dui bhāi yukti kaila nibhṛte vasiyā
the two brothers counsel held in seclusion sitting

37 One day Mahāprabhu took Nityānanda aside, and the two brothers sat together in seclusion and took counsel.

Later the devotees infer its cause from its fruits —

কিবা যুক্তি কৈল দুঁহে, কেহ নাহি জানে । ফলে অনুমান পাছে কৈল ভক্তগণে ॥ ৩৮ ॥

kibā yukti kaila duṁhe, keha nāhi jāne
what counsel held the two anyone not knows phale anumāna pāche kaila bhakta-gaṇe
from the result a guess afterwards made the devotees

38 What the two decided no one knew; only later could the devotees guess it from what followed.

The Lord bids farewell to all the Gauḍīya devotees, telling them to come to Him every year at the Guṇḍicā —

তবে মহাপ্রভু সব ভক্তে বোলাইল । গৌড়দেশে যাহ' সবে বিদায় করিল ॥ ৩৯ ॥ tabe mahāprabhu saba bhakte bolāila

then Mahāprabhu all devotees called gauḍa-deśe yāha' sabe vidāya karila to Gauḍa go all farewell made

39 Then Mahāprabhu called all the devotees and bade them farewell, telling them to go back to Gauḍa.

সবারে কহিল, — প্রতিবৎসর আসিয়া । গুণ্ডিচা দেখিয়া যাবে আমারে মিলিয়া ॥ ৪০ ॥

sabāre kahila, — prativatsara āsiyā
to all said — every year coming guṇḍicā dekhiyā yābe āmāre miliyā
Guṇḍicā seeing you will go Me meeting

40 He said to them all, "Come every year: see the Guṇḍicā festival, meet with Me, and then go home."

Advaita is ordered to preach —

আচার্য্যেরে আজ্ঞা দিল করিয়া সম্মান ।
'আ-চণ্ডাল আদি কৃষ্ণভক্তি দিও দান' ॥ ৪১ ॥

ācāryere ājñā dila kariyā sammāna
to the Ācārya order gave showing respect
'ā-caṇḍāla ādi kṛṣṇa-bhakti dio dāna'
down to the caṇḍālas and others devotion to Kṛṣṇa give as a gift

41 With respect He gave this order to the Ācārya: "Give devotion to Kṛṣṇa to everyone, down to the caṇḍālas."

Nitāi is ordered to preach —

নিত্যানন্দে আজ্ঞা দিল, — 'যাহ গৌড়দেশে । অনর্গল প্রেমভক্তি করিহ প্রকাশে ॥ ৪২ ॥

nityānande ājñā dila, — 'yāha gauḍa-deśe
to Nityānanda order gave — go to Gauḍa anargala prema-bhakti kariha prakāśe
unrestrained loving devotion do manifest

42 To Nityānanda He gave this order: "Go to Gauḍa and reveal loving devotion freely, without restraint.

Anubhāṣya.

He ordered Nityānanda. The prākṛta-sahajiyās look upon Śrī Nityānanda Prabhu, who is not different from the son of Rohiṇī, with mundane vision. They claim that “Śrīman Mahāprabhu sent Śrī Nityānanda Prabhu from Śrī Nīlācala to Śrī Gauḍa-deśa to continue His family line (?)”. Such a godless notion springs only from offense at the feet of Śrī Nityānanda. People of this kind regard Śrīman Nityānanda — the original source of all forms of the Lord, of all viṣṇu-tattva — as just like themselves: one of the mortal beings who take the corpse-like body for the self (kuṇapātma-vādīs), who pursue material sense gratification and are subject to Yama's punishment. So they become travelers on the road to hell. These selfish people with a merchant's nature, greedy for gold, women and fame, invent such an anti-scriptural notion with their fertile brains. Using Nityānanda's name, they look for a chance to justify through His divine acts — unfairly and against scripture — their trade, their cheating of fools and, out of evil intent, the universally condemned craving for the company of women and the dharma of the gṛha-vratas, or gṛhamedhīs.

In fact, no authoritative book records that Śrīman Mahāprabhu, the supremely magnanimous giver of love for Kṛṣṇa, gave any such order to Śrīman Nityānanda Prabhu, His own manifestation, not different from Him: that He should, like the Prajāpatis who rest in the mode of passion, maintain creation by increasing His line, or serve as some instrument to justify the material sense gratification of jīvas averse to Kṛṣṇa. Nor can any book record it, for such talk is wholly unfit to be heard. By spreading such talk the prākṛta-sahajiyās, who keep company with worldly women, deprive themselves of the highest goal, deceive a world unable to tell the true from the false, and bring nothing but harm upon it.

Nitāi's companions in preaching — Abhirāma and Gadādhara dāsa —

রামদাস, গদাধর আদি কত জনে । তোমার সহায় লাগি’ দিলু তোমার সনে ॥ ৪৩ ॥

rāma-dāsa, gadādhara ādi kata jane Rāmadāsa Gadādhara and others some persons tomāra sahāya lāgi’ dilu tomāra sane
Your help for I have given You with 43 I am sending Rāmadāsa, Gadādhara and a few others along to help You.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Gadādhara — Gadādhara dāsa of Eṅḍiyādaha.

The Lord promises to watch Nitāi's dancing in Gauḍa unseen —

মধ্যে মধ্যে আমি তোমার নিকটে যাইব । অলক্ষিতে রহি' তোমার নৃত্য দেখিব' ॥ ৪৪ ॥

madhye madhye āmi tomāra nikaṭe yāiba
from time to time I You near will go alakṣite rahi' tomāra nṛtya dekhiba' unseen remaining Your dancing I will see

44 From time to time I will come to You, and, staying unseen, I will watch You dance."[2]

The Lord promises to dance every day in Śrīvāsa's courtyard —

শ্রীবাস-পণ্ডিতে প্রভু করি' আলিঙ্গন । কণ্ঠে ধরি' কহে তাঁরে মধুর বচন ॥ ৪৫ ॥

śrīvāsa-paṇḍite prabhu kari' āliṅgana Śrīvāsa Paṇḍita the Lord making embrace kaṇṭhe dhari' kahe tāṁre madhura vacana
by the neck holding says to him sweet words

45 The Lord embraced Śrīvāsa Paṇḍita and, with His arm around his neck, spoke sweet words to him:

তোমার ঘরে কীর্ত্তনে আমি নিত্য নাচিব । তুমি দেখা পাবে, আর কেহ না দেখিব ॥ ৪৬ ॥

tomāra ghare kīrtane āmi nitya nāciba
in your house in the kīrtana I always will dance
tumi dekhā pābe, āra keha nā dekhiba
you sight will get other anyone not will see

46 "Every day I will dance in the kīrtana at your house. You will see it, but no one else will.

The Lord, who loves His mother, sends her a piece of cloth through Śrīvāsa to console her and begs forgiveness for His offense of leaving her —

এই বস্ত্র মাতাকে দিহ', এই সব প্রসাদ ৷ দণ্ডবৎ করি' আমার ক্ষমাইহ অপরাধ ॥ ৪৭ ॥

ei vastra mātāke diha', ei saba prasāda
this cloth to Mother give this all prasāda daṇḍavat kari' āmāra kṣamāiha aparādha
prostration making My have forgiven offence

47 Give this cloth and all this prasāda to My mother. Fall down before her and beg her to forgive My offence.

*The Lord reproaches Himself for taking the dress of a sannyāsī, contrary to the mood of parental love —*

তাঁর সেবা ছাড়ি' আমি করিয়াছি সন্ন্যাস ৷ ধর্ম্ম নহে, করি আমি নিজ-ধর্ম্ম নাশ ॥ ৪৮ ॥

tāṁra sevā chāḍi' āmi kariyāchi sannyāsa
her service leaving I have taken sannyāsa dharma nahe, kari āmi nija-dharma nāśa
dharma it is not do I My own dharma destruction

48 I gave up serving her and took sannyāsa. That is not dharma: I am destroying My own dharma.

Anubhāṣya.
By taking sannyāsa I failed to carry out the dharma of serving My mother and fell from dharma.

তাঁর প্রেম বশ আমি, তাঁর সেবা — ধর্ম্ম ৷ তাহা ছাড়ি' করিয়াছি বাতুলের কর্ম্ম ॥ ৪৯ ॥

tāṁra prema vaśa āmi, tāṁra sevā — dharma
her love subject to I am her service — dharma
tāhā chāḍi' kariyāchi vātulera karma
that leaving I have done of a madman deed

49 I am subject to her love, and serving her is My dharma. In giving that up I have acted like a madman.

বাতুল বালকের মাতা নাহি লয় দোষ । এই জানি' মাতা মোরে না করয় রোষ ॥ ৫০ ॥

vātula bālakera mātā nāhi laya doṣa
mad child's mother not takes fault ei jāni' mātā more nā karaya roṣa
this knowing Mother with Me not is angry

50 A mother does not hold her mad child at fault. Knowing this, My mother is not angry with Me.

কি কায় সন্ন্যাসে মোর, প্রেম নিজ-ধন । যে-কালে সন্ন্যাস কৈলুঁ, ছন্ন হৈল মন ॥ ৫১ ॥

ki kāya sannyāse mora, prema nija-dhana
what use in sannyāsa to Me love own wealth ye-kāle sannyāsa kailuṁ, channa haila mana
at the time sannyāsa I took deranged became mind

51 What use is sannyāsa to Me? Love is My real wealth. When I took sannyāsa, My mind was deranged.

The Lord promises to come to Māyāpura from time to time, even today, to see Śacī —

নীলাচলে আছি মুঞি তাঁহার আজ্ঞাতে । মধ্যে মধ্যে আসিমু তাঁর চরণ দেখিতে ॥ ৫২ ॥

nīlācale āchi muñi tāṁhāra ājñāte
in Nīlācala am I her by order
madhye madhye āsimu tāṁra caraṇa dekhite from time to time I will come her feet to see 52 I stay in Nīlācala at her bidding, and from time to time I will come to see her feet.

*Before too the Lord always met Śacī, but by His māyā Śacī doubts it —*

নিত্য যাই' দেখি মুঞি তাঁহার চরণে ।
স্ফূর্ত্তি জ্ঞানে তেঁহো তাহা সত্য নাহি মানে ॥ ৫৩ ॥

nitya yāi' dekhi muñi tāṁhāra caraṇe always going see I her feet
sphūrti jñāne teṁho tāhā satya nāhi māne
a vision thinking she that true not accepts

53 Every day I go and see her feet, but she takes it for a vision and does not believe it is real.

To make Śacī believe, the Lord tells of the events of one day —

একদিন শাল্যন্ন, ব্যঞ্জন পাঁচ-সাত ।
শাক, মোচা-ঘণ্ট, ভৃষ্ট পটোল-নিম্বপাত ॥ ৫৪ ॥

লেম্বু-আদাখণ্ড, দধি, দুগ্ধ, খণ্ড-সার । শালগ্রামে সমর্পিলেন বহু উপহার ॥ ৫৫ ॥

eka-dina śāly-anna, vyañjana pāṁca-sāta
one day śāli rice vegetable dishes five or seven śāka, mocā-ghaṇṭa, bhṛṣṭa paṭola-nimba-pāta greens banana-flower ghaṇṭa fried paṭolas with nīm leaves lembu-ādā-khaṇḍa, dadhi, dugdha, khaṇḍa-sāra
lemon and ginger slices yogurt milk sugar candy śālagrāme samarpilena bahu upahāra
to the śālagrāma offered many gifts

54–55 One day she offered the śālagrāma many gifts: śāli rice, five or seven vegetable dishes, greens, ghaṇṭa of banana flowers, fried paṭolas with nim leaves, slices of lemon and ginger, yogurt, milk and sugar candy.

Anubhāṣya.

Śālyanna — rice from śāli grain. Bhṛṣṭa paṭola-nimba-pāta — fried paṭolas with nīm leaves.

প্রসাদ লঞা কোলে করেন ক্রন্দন । নিমাইর প্রিয় মোর — এসব ব্যঞ্জন ॥ ৫৬ ॥

prasāda lañā kole karena krandana
the prasāda taking in her lap does weeping nimāira priya mora — esaba vyañjana of Nimāi favourites my — all these dishes

56 She took the prasāda on her lap and wept: ‘All these dishes are my Nimāi’s favourites.

নিমাঞি নাহিক এথা, কে করে ভোজন । মোর ধ্যানে অশ্রুজলে ভরিল নয়ন ॥ ৫৭ ॥

nimāñi nāhika ethā, ke kare bhojana Nimāi not here who does eating mora dhyāne aśru-jale bharila nayana
on Me in meditation with tears filled eyes

57 Nimāi is not here — who will eat them?’ As she thought of Me, her eyes filled with tears.

শীঘ্র যাই’ মুঞি সব করিনু ভক্ষণ । শূন্যপাত্র দেখি’ অশ্রু করিয়া মার্জ্জন ॥ ৫৮ ॥

śīghra yāi' muñi saba karinu bhakṣaṇa quickly going I all did eating śūnya-pātra dekhi' aśru kariyā mārjana
the empty plate seeing tears making wiping

58 I went at once and ate everything. Seeing the plate empty, she wiped away her tears.

'কে অন্ন-ব্যঞ্জন খাইল, শূন্য কেনে পাত ?
বালগোপাল কিবা খাইল সব ভাত ? ॥ ৫৯ ॥

'ke anna-vyañjana khāila, śūnya kene pāta?
who rice and vegetables ate empty why the plate
bālagopāla kibā khāila saba bhāta?
Bāla-gopāla perhaps ate all the rice

59 'Who has eaten the rice and vegetables? Why is the plate empty? Could Bāla-gopāla have eaten all the rice?

কিবা মোর কথায় মনে ভ্রম হঞা গেল !
কিবা কোন জন্তু আসি' সকল খাইল ? ॥ ৬০ ॥

kibā mora kathāya mane bhrama hañā gela!
or my in the matter in the mind delusion happened
kibā kona jantu āsi' sakala khāila?
or some animal coming everything ate

60 Or was my mind deluded about it? Or did some animal come and eat it all?

কিবা আমি অন্নপাত্রে ভ্রমে না বাড়িল !' এত চিন্তি' পাক-পাত্র যাঞা দেখিল ॥ ৬১ ॥

kibā āmi anna-pātre bhrame nā bāḍila !'
or I on the rice plate by mistake not served eta cinti' pāka-pātra yāñā dekhila
so thinking the cooking pots going looked at 61 Or did I forget to serve the food on the plate?' Thinking this, she went and looked into the cooking pots.

অন্নব্যঞ্জন পূর্ণ দেখি' সকল ভাজনে । দেখিয়া সংশয় হৈল কিছু চমৎকার মনে ॥ ৬২ ॥

anna-vyañjana pūrṇa dekhi' sakala bhājane
with rice and vegetables full seeing all the vessels dekhiyā saṁśaya haila kichu camatkāra mane
seeing doubt arose some wonder in the mind

62 She saw that all the pots were still full of rice and vegetables, and at the sight she was filled with doubt and wonder.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhājana — a container, a vessel.

ঈশানে বোলাঞা পুনঃ স্থান লেপাইল । পুনরপি গোপালকে অন্ন সমর্পিল ॥ ৬৩ ॥

īśāne bolāñā punaḥ sthāna lepāila Īśāna calling again the place had cleaned punarapi gopālake anna samarpila
once more to Gopāla food offered

63 She called Īśāna, had the place cleaned and plastered again, and once more offered food to Gopāla.

Anubhāṣya.
Īśāna — see Ādi 10.110.

এইমত যবে করেন উত্তম রন্ধন । মোরে খাওয়াইতে করে উৎকণ্ঠায় রোদন ॥ ৬৪ ॥

ei mata yabe karena uttama randhana
thus whenever does excellent cooking
more khāoyāite kare utkaṇṭhāya rodana
Me to feed does in longing weeping

64 Whenever she cooks something excellent like this, she weeps with longing to feed Me.

তাঁর প্রেমে আনি' আমায় করায় ভোজনে । অন্তরে সুখ মানে তেঁহো, বাহ্যে নাহি মানে ॥ ৬৫ ॥

tāṁra preme āni' āmāya karāya bhojane
her by love bringing Me makes eat
antare sukha māne teṁho, bāhye nāhi māne
within happiness feels she outwardly not accepts

65 Her love draws Me there and makes Me eat. Within she feels happy, but outwardly she does not accept it.

On the last Vijayā-daśamī too the Lord ate what His mother had cooked —

এই বিজয়া-দশমীতে হৈল এই রীতি । তাঁহাকে পুছিয়া তাঁর করাইহ প্রতীতি ॥ ৬৬ ॥

ei vijayā-daśamīte haila ei rīti
on this Vijayā-daśamī happened this event
tāṁhāke puchiyā tāṁra karāiha pratīti
her asking to her make conviction

66 This happened on this very Vijayā-daśamī. Ask her about it and convince her that it was real."

The Lord is overwhelmed at parting from the devotees —

এতেক কহিতে প্রভু বিহ্বল হইলা । লোক বিদায় করিতে প্রভু ধৈর্য্য ধরিলা ॥ ৬৭ ॥

eteka kahite prabhu vihvala hailā
so much saying the Lord overwhelmed became loka vidāya karite prabhu dhairya dharilā
the people farewell to make the Lord composure held

67 As He said this, the Lord was overwhelmed; but to send the devotees off He kept His composure.

The Lord, subject to love, describes Rāghava Paṇḍita's pure service to Kṛṣṇa —

রাঘব-পণ্ডিতে কহেন বচন সরস ।
'তোমার নিষ্ঠা প্রেমে আমি হই তোমার বশ' ॥ ৬৮ ॥

rāghava-paṇḍite kahena vacana sarasa
to Rāghava Paṇḍita speaks words tender
'tomāra niṣṭhā preme āmi hai tomāra vaśa'
your steadfast by love I am your subject

68 To Rāghava Paṇḍita He spoke tender words: "Your steadfast love has brought Me under your control.

ইঁহার কৃষ্ণসেবার কথা শুন, সর্ব্বজন । পরম-পবিত্র সেবা অতি সর্ব্বোত্তম ॥ ৬৯ ॥

iṁhāra kṛṣṇa-sevāra kathā śuna, sarva-jana his of service to Kṛṣṇa the account hear all people
parama-pavitra sevā ati sarvottama
supremely pure service most excellent

69 Hear, everyone, how he serves Kṛṣṇa. His service is supremely pure, the very best of all.

The wonderful variety of Rāghava's coconut offerings —

আর দ্রব্য রহু, শুন নারিকেলের কথা । পাঁচ গণ্ডা করি' নারিকেল বিকায় তথা ॥ ৭০ ॥

āra dravya rahu, śuna nārikelera kathā
other things let be hear of the coconuts the story
pāṁca gaṇḍā kari' nārikela vikāya tathā
five gaṇḍās at a coconut sells there

70 Leaving aside his other offerings, hear about the coconuts. In those parts a coconut sells for five gaṇḍās.[3]

বাটিতে কত শত বৃক্ষে লক্ষ লক্ষ ফল । তথাপি শুনেন, যথা মিষ্ট নারিকেল ॥ ৭১ ॥

vāṭite kata śata vṛkṣe lakṣa lakṣa phala
in his garden how many hundreds on trees lakhs upon lakhs fruits tathāpi śunena, yathā miṣṭa nārikela
still he inquires where sweet coconuts

71 In his garden hundreds of trees bear fruit by the hundreds of thousands, yet he still asks where the sweetest coconuts are to be had.

এক এক ফলের মূল্য দিয়া চারি চারি পণ । দশক্রোশ হৈতে আনায় করিয়া যতন ॥ ৭২ ॥

eka eka phalera mūlya diyā cāri cāri paṇa
for each one fruit's price giving four four paṇas
daśa-krośa haite ānāya kariyā yatana
ten krośas from has brought taking pains

72 He pays four paṇas for every single fruit and takes pains to have them brought from ten krośas away.[4]

প্রতিদিন পাঁচ-সাত ফল, ছোলাঞা । সুশীতল করিয়া রাখে জলে ডুবাঞা ॥ ৭৩ ॥

pratidina pāṁca-sāta phala, cholāñā
every day five or seven fruits husking suśītala kariyā rākhe jale ḍubāñā
very cool making keeps in water immersing

73 Every day he has five or seven fruits husked and keeps them immersed in water to make them very cool.

ভোগের সময় পুনঃ ছুলি' সংস্করি' । কৃষ্ণে সমর্পণ করে, মুখ ছিদ্র করি' ॥ ৭৪ ॥

bhogera samaya punaḥ chuli' saṁskari'
of the offering at the time again trimming preparing kṛṣṇe samarpaṇa kare, mukha chidra kari'
to Kṛṣṇa offering makes the top a hole making

74 At the time of the offering he trims and prepares them again, cuts an opening in the top, and offers them to Kṛṣṇa.

কৃষ্ণ সেই নারিকেল-জল পান করি' । কভু শূন্য ফল রাখেন, কভু জল ভরি' ॥ ৭৫ ॥

kṛṣṇa sei nārikela-jala pāna kari' Kṛṣṇa that coconut water drinking doing kabhu śūnya phala rākhena, kabhu jala bhari' sometimes empty the fruit leaves sometimes with water full

75 Kṛṣṇa drinks the coconut water: sometimes He leaves the fruit empty, sometimes still full of water.

জলশূন্য ফল দেখি' পণ্ডিত — হরষিত । ফল ভাঙ্গি' শস্যে করে শতপাত্র পূরিত ॥ ৭৬ ॥

jala-śūnya phala dekhi' paṇḍita — haraṣita without water the fruit seeing the Paṇḍita — delighted phala bhāṅgi' śasye kare śata-pātra pūrita
the fruit breaking with the pulp makes the śata-pātra filled

76 When the Paṇḍita sees a fruit emptied of its water, he is delighted. He breaks it open and fills a plate with the pulp.[5]

শস্য সমর্পণ করি’ বাহিরে ধেয়ান । শস্য খাঞা কৃষ্ণ করে শূন্য ভাজন ॥ ৭৭ ॥

śasya samarpaṇa kari’ bāhire dheyāna
the pulp offering making outside meditation
śasya khāñā kṛṣṇa kare śūnya bhājana
the pulp eating Kṛṣṇa makes empty the vessel

77 He offers the pulp and meditates outside, and Kṛṣṇa eats it and leaves the plate empty.

কভু শস্য খাঞা পুনঃ পাত্র ভরে শাঁসে ।
শ্রদ্ধা বাড়ে পণ্ডিতের, প্রেমসিন্ধু ভাসে ॥ ৭৮ ॥

kabhu śasya khāñā punaḥ pātra bhare śāṁse
sometimes the pulp eating again the vessel fills with pulp śraddhā bāḍe paṇḍitera, prema-sindhu bhāse faith grows the Paṇḍita’s in the ocean of love floats

78 Sometimes, having eaten it, Kṛṣṇa fills the plate with pulp again. Then the Paṇḍita’s faith grows, and he floats in an ocean of love.

The story of one day —

এক দিন ফলদশ সংস্কার করিয়া । ভোগ লাগাইতে সেবক আইল লঞা ॥ ৭৯ ॥

eka dina phala-daśa saṁskāra kariyā
one day ten fruits preparation making bhoga lāgāite sevaka āila lañā
the offering to set a servant came bringing

79 One day a servant prepared ten coconuts and brought them to be offered.

অবসর নাহি হয়, বিলম্ব হইল । ফল-পাত্র-হাতে সেবক দ্বারে ত’ রহিল ॥ ৮০ ॥

avasara nāhi haya, vilamba haila opportunity not is delay happened
phala-pātra-hāte sevaka dvāre ta' rahila with the plate of fruits in hand the servant at the door just stayed 80 It was not yet time to offer them; there was a delay, so the servant waited at the door with the plate of fruits in his hand.

দ্বারের উপর-ভিতে তেঁহো হাত দিল । সেই হাতে ফল ছুঁইল, পণ্ডিত দেখিল ॥ ৮১ ॥

dvārera upara-bhite teṁho hāta dila of the door on the upper wall he hand put sei hāte phala chuṁila, paṇḍita dekhila that with hand the fruits touched the Paṇḍita saw

81 He touched the wall above the door with his hand and then touched the fruits with the same hand. The Paṇḍita saw it.

Anubhāṣya.
Upara-bhite — on the upper part of the wall. Teṅho — Rāghava Paṇḍita's servant.

পণ্ডিত কহে, — দ্বারে লোক করে গতায়াতে । তার পদধূলি উড়ি' লাগে উপর ভিতে ॥ ৮২ ॥

paṇḍita kahe, — dvāre loka kare gatāyāte
the Paṇḍita says — through the door people make coming and going tāra pada-dhūli uḍi' lāge upara bhite
their foot-dust flying up sticks on the upper wall

82 The Paṇḍita said, "People are always coming and going through this door. The dust from their feet flies up and settles on the wall above it.

সেই ভিতে হাত দিয়া ফল পরশিলা । কৃষ্ণ-যোগ্য নহে, ফল অপবিত্র হৈলা ॥ ৮৩ ॥

sei bhite hāta diyā phala paraśilā
that on the wall hand putting the fruits you touched kṛṣṇa-yogya nahe, phala apavitra hailā
for Kṛṣṇa fit not the fruits impure have become 83 You put your hand on that wall and then touched the fruits. They are no longer fit for Kṛṣṇa — they have become impure."

Anubhāṣya.
Śrī Rāghava Paṇḍita was not like a man sunk in karma and sick with the mundane "disease of cleanliness," nor like a mundane kaniṣṭha devotee who thinks in terms of duality and "considers the earth worshipable"[12] — that is, attributes spirit to matter and lives by the speculations of the mind. He was an eternally perfect servant of Kṛṣṇa. Absorbed in the mood of transcendental service, free from the slightest scent of mundane desire, he served the object of his worship at every moment. Selfish devotees, on the other hand, whose devotion is mixed with karma and tainted, have no understanding of transcendental service. If they imitate his outward conduct and deliberate over artificial mundane purity and impurity, that alone does not show that they have pure devotion to Kṛṣṇa or a desire to please Kṛṣṇa: "In the transcendental there is no notion of things as good or bad. In duality the notion of good and bad is all a speculation of the mind; 'this is good, this is bad' — all this is illusion." (See Antya 4.174, 176 and Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 11.28.4.)

Rāghava's wonderful, pure service to Kṛṣṇa — in all the world —

এত বলি' ফল ফেলে প্রাচীর লঙ্ঘিয়া । ঐছে পবিত্র প্রেম-সেবা জগৎ জিনিয়া ॥ ৮৪ ॥

eta bali' phala phele prācīra laṅghiyā
so saying the fruits throws the boundary wall crossing aiche pavitra prema-sevā jagat jiniyā
such pure loving service the world conquering

84 With these words he threw the fruits over the boundary wall. Such is his pure, loving service: it conquers the world.

তবে আর নারিকেল সংস্কার করাইল । পরম পবিত্র করি' ভোগ লাগাইল ॥ ৮৫ ॥

tabe āra nārikela saṁskāra karāila
then other coconuts preparation had made parama pavitra kari' bhoga lāgāila supremely pure making offering set

85 Then he had other coconuts prepared and offered them with the utmost purity.

এইমত কলা, আম্র, নারঙ্গ, কাঁঠাল । যাহা যাহা দূর-গ্রামে শুনিয়াছে ভাল ॥ ৮৬ ॥

ei mata kalā, āmra, nāraṅga, kāṁṭhāla
in this way bananas mangoes oranges jackfruits
yāhā yāhā dūra-grāme śuniyāche bhāla whatever whatever in a distant village he has heard good

86 In the same way, whenever he hears of good bananas, mangoes, oranges or jackfruits in some distant village,

বহুমূল্য দিয়া আনি' করিয়া যতন । পবিত্র সংস্কার করি' করে নিবেদন ॥ ৮৭ ॥

bahu-mūlya diyā āni' kariyā yatana
great price paying bringing taking pains pavitra saṁskāra kari' kare nivedana pure preparation making makes offering

87 he pays a great price, takes pains to have them brought, prepares them with purity and offers them.

এই মত ব্যঞ্জনের শাক, মূল, ফল । এই মত চিড়া, হুড়ুম, সন্দেশ সকল ॥ ৮৮ ॥

ei mata vyañjanera śāka, mūla, phala
in the same way for vegetable dishes greens roots fruits ei mata ciḍā, huḍuma, sandeśa sakala
in the same way flat rice huḍuma sweets all

88 So too with the greens, roots and vegetables for his dishes, and with flat rice, huḍuma and all kinds of sweets;

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Huḍuma — a kind of grain; puffed khai made from it is especially common in Utkala (in East Bengal muḍi, puffed rice, is called huḍuma).

এইমত পিঠা-পানা, ক্ষীর-ওদন । পরম পবিত্র, আর করে সর্ব্বোত্তম ॥ ৮৯ ॥

ei mata piṭhā-pānā, kṣīra-odana
in the same way cakes and drinks sweet rice parama pavitra, āra kare sarvottama supremely pure and makes the best of all

89 so too with cakes, sweet drinks and rice cooked in milk — all supremely pure and the very best.

Anubhāṣya.
Kṣīra-odana — pāyasa of rice cooked in milk.

কাশমৃদি, আচার, আদি অনেক প্রকার । গন্ধ, বস্ত্র, অলঙ্কার, সর্ব্বদ্রব্য সার ॥ ৯০ ॥

kāśamṛdi, ācāra, ādi aneka prakāra kāśamdi pickles and so on many kinds gandha, vastra, alaṅkāra, sarva-dravya sāra scents cloth ornaments of all things the best

90 He offers kāśamdi, pickles and many other things, and the best of everything: scents, cloth and ornaments.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kāśamdi — the same as kāsundi.

এইমত প্রেমের সেবা করে অনুপম ৷ যাহা দেখি' সর্ব্বলোকের জুড়ায় নয়ন ॥ ৯১ ॥

ei mata premera sevā kare anupama
in this way loving service does incomparable
yāhā dekhi' sarva-lokera juḍāya nayana
which seeing of all people are soothed the eyes

91 Such is the incomparable service he renders in love; it is a balm to the eyes of all who see it."

The Lord honors all the devotees, each as befits him —

এত বলি' রাঘবেরে কৈল আলিঙ্গনে ৷ এইমত সম্মানিল সর্ব্ব ভক্তগণে ॥ ৯২ ॥

eta bali' rāghavere kaila āliṅgane
so saying Rāghava made embrace ei mata sammānila sarva bhakta-gaṇe
in this way honoured all the devotees

92 With these words He embraced Rāghava, and in the same way He honoured all the devotees.

Śivānanda is ordered to look after Vāsudeva Datta, who saves nothing —

শিবানন্দ সেনে কহে করিয়া সম্মান ৷ বাসুদেব-দত্তের তুমি করিহ সমাধান ॥ ৯৩ ॥

śivānanda sene kahe kariyā sammāna to Śivānanda Sena says showing respect vāsudeva-dattera tumi kariha samādhāna of Vāsudeva Datta you do care

93 Respectfully He said to Śivānanda Sena, "Please look after Vāsudeva Datta.

Anubhāṣya.

Śrī Śivānanda Sena and Vāsudeva Datta Ṭhākura both lived at that time in Kumārahaṭṭa, or Hālisahara, and in Kāñcaḍāpāḍā.

পরম উদার ইঁহো, যে দিন যে আইসে । সেই দিনে ব্যয় করে, নাহি রাখে শেষে ॥ ৯৪ ॥

parama udāra iṁho, ye dina ye āise supremely generous he on whatever day whatever comes sei dine vyaya kare, nāhi rākhe śeṣe
on that day spending does not keeps remainder

94 He is extremely generous: whatever comes to him on any day, he spends that same day and keeps nothing back.

Instruction to a householder Vaiṣṇava on his worldly duties —

‘গৃহস্থ’ হয়েন ইঁহো, চাহিয়ে সঞ্চয় ।
সঞ্চয় না কৈলে কুটুম্ব-ভরণ নাহি হয় ॥ ৯৫ ॥

‘gṛhastha’ hayena iṁho, cāhiye sañcaya
a householder is he is needed saving sañcaya nā kaile kuṭumba-bharaṇa nāhi haya saving not if made the family’s upkeep not is

95 He is a householder, and a householder needs to save; without savings he cannot support his family.

ইহার ঘরের আয়-ব্যয়, সব — তোমার স্থানে । ‘সরখেল’ হঞা তুমি করিহ সমাধানে ॥ ৯৬ ॥

ihāra gharera āya-vyaya, saba — tomāra sthāne
his household’s income and expenses all — with you ‘sarakhela’ hañā tumi kariha samādhāne
the sarakhela becoming you do managing

96 Let all the income and expenses of his household be in your hands. Be his sarakhela, his guardian, and manage his affairs.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Sarakhela — a guardian, a caretaker.

The Lord orders that all the devotees be brought to Purī every year, with the tolls at the checkpoints settled —

প্রতিবর্ষে আমার সব ভক্তগণ লঞা । গুণ্ডিচায় আসিবে সবায় পালন করিয়া ॥ ৯৭ ॥

prati-varṣe āmāra saba bhakta-gaṇa lañā every year My all devotees taking guṇḍicāya āsibe sabāya pālana kariyā
to Guṇḍicā you will come all protection making

97 Every year bring all My devotees to the Guṇḍicā festival, and take care of them all."

কুলীনগ্রামীরে কহে সম্মান করিয়া । প্রত্যব্দ আসিবে যাত্রায় পট্টডোরী লঞা ॥ ৯৮ ॥

kulīna-grāmīre kahe sammāna kariyā
to the residents of Kulīna-grāma says respect showing pratyabda āsibe yātrāya paṭṭa-ḍorī lañā every year you will come to the festival silk ropes bringing 98 To the residents of Kulīna-grāma He said respectfully, "Come every year to the festival, and bring silk ropes.

গুণরাজ-খাঁন কৈল শ্রীকৃষ্ণবিজয় । তাঁহা একবাক্য তাঁর আছে প্রেমময় ॥ ৯৯ ॥

guṇarāja-khāṁna kaila śrī-kṛṣṇa-vijaya Guṇarāja Khān composed the Śrī Kṛṣṇa-vijaya tāṁhā eka-vākya tāṁra āche premamaya
there one sentence his is full of love

99 Guṇarāja Khān composed the Śrī Kṛṣṇa-vijaya, and in it there is a sentence of his that is full of love:

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The Śrī Kṛṣṇa-vijaya is the name of a book. Many consider it the first Bengali poem.

Anubhāṣya.

“The first poet, Guṇarāja Khān Mahāśaya, set about this book in Śaka 1395 and completed it in Śaka 1402.

The style of the Śrī Kṛṣṇa-vijaya is very simple: even half-literate women of Bengal and men of the lower classes who barely know their letters read and understand it easily. Its language is unadorned, and in many places the verse is not very sweet. A payāra line should have fourteen syllables, yet often one finds sixteen or seventeen, or twelve or thirteen. Many words are taken from the usage of that time, and only natives of Rāḍha understand them. No Bengali library lacking this book can be called “complete.”

To those who seek the highest goal this book is extremely dear. The foremost Vaiṣṇava, the worshipable Śrī Guṇarāja Khān Mahāśaya, composed it by rendering the tenth and eleventh cantos of the Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, the crown of all scriptures, in a way that ordinary people came to love. For this reason the Vaiṣṇava world honors this book everywhere. Mahāprabhu praised it so highly — needless to say how greatly the Gauḍīya Vaiṣṇava community will treasure it. This poem is therefore a precious treasure for the people of Bengal; moreover, some say it is the first poem in the Bengali language.

In Śaka 1405, two years before the appearance of Śrī Śrī Mahāprabhu, the book was copied by the hand of Śrī Devānanda Vasu (quoted from the “Introduction” by Śrīmad Bhaktivinoda Ṭhākura to the Śrī Kṛṣṇa-vijaya).

The Bengali emperor Ādiśūra brought from Kānyakubja five noble brāhmaṇas and with them five noble Kāyasthas; one of those Kāyasthas was Daśaratha Vasu. Śrī Guṇarāja Khān was born in the thirteenth generation of his line. His real name was Śrī Mālādhara Vasu; Guṇarāja Khān was a title given by the emperor of Gauḍa. The generations are as follows:

1. Daśaratha Vasu, 2. Kuśala, 3. Śubhaśaṅkara, 4. Haṁsa, 5. Śaktirāma (Bāgāṇḍā), 5. Muktirāma (Māinagara), 5. Alaṅkāra (Baṅgaja).

5. Muktirāma, 6. Dāmodara, 7. Anantarāma, 8. Guṇīnāyaka, 8. Vīṇānāyaka.

8. Guṇīnāyaka, 9. Mādhava, 10. Lakṣmīnātha, 10. Cakrapāṇi, 10. Udayacāṅda, 10. Lauha, 10. Tauha, 10. Śrīpati, 10. Acyutānanda.

10. Śrīpati, 11. Yajñeśvara, 11. Trilocana, 11. Vaṭeśvara, 11. Prajāpati, 11. Īśāna, 11. Sāgara, 11. Kṛpārāma.

11. Yajñeśvara, 12. Bhagīratha, 12. Kāmeśvara, 12. Sadānanda, 12. Vaśiṣṭha.

12. Bhagīratha, 13. Mālādhara Vasu — title Guṇarāja Khān.

He had fourteen sons. The second of them, Lakṣmīnātha Vasu, bore the title Satyarāja Khān, and his son was Śrī Rāmānanda Vasu; so Śrī Rāmānanda Vasu is the fifteenth generation.

Śrī Mālādhara Vasu Mahāśaya was a very famous wealthy man. Judging by his fort, temples and so on, his estate was very prosperous. Here is one proof of Guṇarāja Khān Mahāśaya's social courage. Considering the custom of Kulīnism introduced by Ballāla to be hollow, he declined the request of his relative Purandara Khān (also of the Vasu line) and married his eldest son to the daughter of Śrīpati Datta Mahāśaya, of the thirteenth generation of the line of Śrī Puruṣottama Datta, who had come from Kānyakubja" (collected by Śrīmad Bhaktivinoda Ṭhākura in the winter of 1292 at the Śrī Kulīnagrāma pāṭa).

For one line of the book the Lord sells Himself to its author's descendants —

'নন্দনন্দন কৃষ্ণ — মোর প্রাণনাথ' । এই বাক্যে বিকাইনু তাঁর বংশের হাত ॥ ১০০ ॥

'nandanandana kṛṣṇa — mora prāṇa-nātha'
Nanda's son Kṛṣṇa — my Lord of life
ei vākye vikāinu tāṁra vaṁśera hāta
by this sentence I am sold his family's into the hands

100 'Kṛṣṇa, the son of Nanda, is the Lord of my life.' For this one sentence I have sold Myself into the hands of his descendants.

Anubhāṣya.
The original line is: "With one-pointed feeling, joining your palms, praise Hari: 'Kṛṣṇa, the son of Nanda, is the lord of my life!'"

The Lord Himself glorifies Kulīnagrāma —

তোমার কি কথা, তোমার গ্রামের কুক্কুর ।
সেহ মোর প্রিয়, অন্যজন রহু দূর ॥ ১০১ ॥

tomāra ki kathā, tomāra grāmera kukkura
of you what talk of your village the dog
seha mora priya, anya-jana rahu dūra
even he to Me dear other people let be far

101 What need I say of you? Even a dog of your village is dear to Me, to say nothing of anyone else there."[6]

Both ask what the duty, or goal, of a householder Vaiṣṇava is —

তবে রামানন্দ, আর সত্যরাজ খাঁন । প্রভুর চরণে কিছু কৈল নিবেদন ॥ ১০২ ॥

tabe rāmānanda, āra satyarāja khāṁna
then Rāmānanda and Satyarāja Khān prabhura caraṇe kichu kaila nivedana
of the Lord at the feet something made submission

102 Then Rāmānanda and Satyarāja Khān humbly put a question at the Lord's feet:

গৃহস্থ বিষয়ী আমি, কি মোর সাধনে । শ্রীমুখে করেন আজ্ঞা, নিবেদি চরণে ॥ ১০৩ ॥

gṛhastha viṣayī āmi, ki mora sādhane
a householder worldly I what my practice
śrī-mukhe karena ājñā, nivedi caraṇe
with Your holy mouth give the order I submit at the feet

103 "I am a worldly householder. What should my practice be? Please instruct me with Your own lips — I submit this at Your feet."

The Lord answers: serve Kṛṣṇa, serve the Vaiṣṇavas and chant the holy name —

প্রভু কহেন, — ‘কৃষ্ণসেবা’, ‘বৈষ্ণব-সেবন’ । ‘নিরন্তর কর কৃষ্ণনাম-সংকীর্ত্তন’ ॥ ১০৪ ॥

prabhu kahena, — ‘kṛṣṇa-sevā’, ‘vaiṣṇava-sevana’
the Lord says — service to Kṛṣṇa service to the Vaiṣṇavas ‘nirantara kara kṛṣṇa-nāma-saṁkīrtana’ constantly do saṅkīrtana of Kṛṣṇa’s name

104 The Lord said, “Serve Kṛṣṇa, serve the Vaiṣṇavas, and always chant the name of Kṛṣṇa in saṅkīrtana.”

Satyarāja asks how to recognize a Vaiṣṇava —

সত্যরাজ বলে, — বৈষ্ণব চিনিব কেমনে ?
কে বৈষ্ণব, কহ তাঁর সামান্য লক্ষণে ॥ ১০৫ ॥

satyarāja bale, — vaiṣṇava ciniba kemane?
Satyarāja says — a Vaiṣṇava shall I recognise how ke vaiṣṇava, kaha tāṁra sāmānya lakṣaṇe
who a Vaiṣṇava tell his general marks

105 Satyarāja said, “How am I to recognise a Vaiṣṇava? Tell me who is a Vaiṣṇava — what are his general marks?”

*The Lord gives the marks of a “kaniṣṭha Vaiṣṇava” —*

প্রভু কহে, — যাঁর মুখে শুনি একবার । কৃষ্ণনাম, সেই পূজ্য, — শ্রেষ্ঠ সবাকার ॥ ১০৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — yāṁra mukhe śuni eka-bāra
the Lord says — from whose mouth I hear once
kṛṣṇa-nāma, sei pūjya, — śreṣṭha sabākāra Kṛṣṇa’s name he worshipable — best of all

106 The Lord said, “Anyone from whose mouth I hear the name of Kṛṣṇa even once is worthy of worship — he is the best of all.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Rāmānanda Vasu and his father Satyarāja Khān were householder Vaiṣṇavas of the Kāyastha Vasu line, the glory of Bengal. They asked the Lord, “What is the duty, the sādhana, of a householder Vaiṣṇava?” The Lord answered, “To serve Kṛṣṇa, to serve the Vaiṣṇavas and to chant Kṛṣṇa's name without cease — this is the only duty of a householder Vaiṣṇava.” Then Satyarāja asked, “Serving Kṛṣṇa and chanting Kṛṣṇa's name are easy to understand. But if one cannot recognize a Vaiṣṇava, serving Vaiṣṇavas becomes very difficult. So, O Lord, who is a Vaiṣṇava, and what are his general marks?” The Lord answered, “One from whose lips Kṛṣṇa's name is heard even once is the best of all, a Vaiṣṇava worthy of honor.”

Anubhāṣya.

Know as a Vaiṣṇava one who has faith that by the name of Śrī Kṛṣṇa alone every perfection is attained, for such faith gives the initial qualification for being a Vaiṣṇava. Still, because his faith in Kṛṣṇa's name is as yet soft, he does not chant the name constantly. Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī Prabhu writes in his Upadeśāmṛta: “One on whose tongue is the name ‘Kṛṣṇa’ should be honored in the mind; if he has initiation…”[13] There are those who know that the holy name is a transcendental touchstone, Kṛṣṇa Caitanya Himself, the embodiment of rasa, complete, pure, eternally free and not different from the Named, and they worship [the Lord] with great faith. Yet because of their conditioned state they do not deliberate on the conclusions of bhakti and so cannot understand that the components of bhakti and the pure devotee are wholly transcendental. They too, by serving the pure devotees and Śrī Guru and by hearing the conclusions of pure bhakti from their lips, are gradually freed from all sins and attain transcendental realization, or divine knowledge of sambandha. (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 11.2.47): “One who faithfully worships Hari only in the Deity, but not His devotees or others, is known as a materialistic devotee.” In the teachings to Śrī Sanātana (Madhya 22.64, 67): “One who has faith is qualified for bhakti; according to faith there are the topmost, the middle and the neophyte.” “One whose faith is soft is a neophyte; gradually he will become a topmost devotee. Bhakti rises by degrees according to the degree of rati and prema.”

“The best of all” means the best in all Devī-dhāma. A neophyte devotee who worships with a mantra consisting of Śrī Viṣṇu's name is superior even to a pious karmī or a jñānī. For the karmī or jñānī, however exalted, does not believe that Śrī Viṣṇu is the Reality and the eternal object of service. So, though they accept the Vedas in word, they are in fact atheists. But one who worships Śrī

Viṣṇu — however little greatness he may have in the realm of transcendental bhajana — has at least heard from Śrī Guru that the Deity of Śrī Viṣṇu is His real, true form and has faith in Him.

The glory of the fruit of a single name of Kṛṣṇa —

এক কৃষ্ণনামে করে সর্ব্ব-পাপ ক্ষয় । নববিধা ভক্তি পূর্ণ নাম হৈতে হয় ॥ ১০৭ ॥

eka kṛṣṇa-nāme kare sarva-pāpa kṣaya
one name of Kṛṣṇa does of all sins destruction
nava-vidhā bhakti pūrṇa nāma haite haya ninefold devotion complete the name from becomes

107 A single name of Kṛṣṇa destroys all sins, and through the holy name the nine kinds of devotion become complete.

Anubhāṣya.

The nine kinds of bhakti (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 7.5.23): "Hearing about Viṣṇu and chanting about Him, remembering Him, serving His feet, worshiping Him, offering Him prayers, serving Him, befriending Him and offering Him one's very self — such is devotion with nine characteristics, if a person offers it to Viṣṇu."

One who avoids offenses against the name and takes shelter of the name of Kṛṣṇa alone has all his sins destroyed, and all his mundane desires for enjoyment, rooted in piety and sin, perish. One who takes the holy name is the best of all and worthy of honor. The nine kinds of bhakti reach fullness only through bhajana of the holy name ("Even if other forms of bhakti are performed in Kali, they must be joined with the bhakti called kīrtana," Bhakti-sandarbha 173).

The holy name, Lord Kṛṣṇa Himself, does not depend on other acts —

দীক্ষা-পুরশ্চর্য্যা-বিধি অপেক্ষা না করে । জিহ্বা-স্পর্শে আ-চণ্ডাল সবারে উদ্ধারে ॥ ১০৮ ॥

dīkṣā-puraścaryā-vidhi apekṣā nā kare initiation, puraścaryā, rules dependence not does jihvā-sparśe ā-caṇḍāla sabāre uddhāre
by touching the tongue down to the caṇḍāla all delivers

108 The holy name does not wait upon the rules of initiation or puraścaryā. Merely by touching the tongue it delivers everyone, down to the caṇḍāla.

Anubhāṣya.

Dīkṣā. A statement of the Āgamas cited by Śrī Jīva Prabhu in the Bhakti-sandarbha (283): “Because it gives divine knowledge and completely destroys sin, teachers who know the truth call it dīkṣā.” Paṇḍitas versed in the scriptures of truth have precisely defined dīkṣā as that from which transcendental, divine knowledge awakens and sin is completely destroyed.

The rule of dīkṣā (a statement of the Āgamas cited in the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa, second vilāsa, and in the Bhakti-sandarbha 283): “Twice-born men who have not received the sacred thread have no right to their duties, to Vedic study and so on; they gain it only after upanayana. So too here the uninitiated have no right to worship the mantra, the Deity and so on. Therefore one should sanctify oneself with auspiciousness.” As a brāhmaṇa without upanayana has no right to his duties, to study and so on, and gains it only after taking the sacred thread, so an uninitiated person has no right to worship the deity of the mantra and so on. Therefore one who seeks the highest good should accept dīkṣā to sanctify himself with auspiciousness. For it is said (a statement of the Viṣṇu-yāmala cited in the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa, second vilāsa): “O fair-thighed one, all that an uninitiated person does is fruitless. A person without dīkṣā takes birth in an animal womb.” (A statement of the Yāmala, or Āgama, cited in the same Hari-bhakti-vilāsa and in the Bhakti-sandarbha 283): “Therefore, having thus bowed to the guru and offered him everything, one should take a Vaiṣṇava mantra by rule, receiving dīkṣā.” (A statement of the Tattva-sāgara cited in the Bhakti-sandarbha 298): “As bell metal turns to gold by the alchemical process, so by the process of dīkṣā men attain the status of the twice-born.”

Puraścaryā (a statement of the Agastya-saṁhitā cited in the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa, seventeenth vilāsa): “Daily worship at the three junctures of the day, japa, tarpaṇa, homa and feeding brāhmaṇas — this is called puraścaraṇa. For the perfection of a mantra received by the guru's grace, this fivefold worship is prescribed beforehand, according to rule.” Morning, noon and evening — at these three times — daily worship, daily japa, daily tarpaṇa, daily homa and daily feeding of brāhmaṇas: these five parts are called puraścaraṇa. For the perfection of a mantra obtained by the guru's grace, the fivefold worship is prescribed first of all; that is why it is called puraścaraṇa.

The rule of puraścaryā (a statement of the Āgamas cited in the Hari-bhakti-vilāsa, seventeenth vilāsa): “Without it a mantra will not be perfected even in hundreds of years; by performing it the sādhaka obtains the desired fruit.[14] A mantra endowed with puraścaraṇa bears fruit. Therefore one who knows the mantra and desires perfection should perform the preliminary rite. The preliminary rite is said to be the chief potency of mantras. As an embodied being without strength is unfit for any act, so is a mantra declared to be without puraścaraṇa.”

Śrī Jīva Prabhu (Bhakti-sandarbha 283): “According to the Śrī Bhāgavata, the path of Deity worship is not obligatory as it is in the Pañcarātra and similar works, for it is stated that the goal of human life is attained even without it, by just one [form of bhakti] such as surrender. Still, those who follow the path of Śrī Nārada and others and wish to establish, through the rite of dīkṣā given at the feet of Śrī Guru, a special relationship with the Lord, certainly perform Deity worship once they have received dīkṣā.” And (ibid. 284): “Although in essence there is no (dependence on dīkṣā and the like), people, through their bond with the body and so on, are usually by nature ill-behaved and distracted in mind. To restrain these [tendencies], the venerable sages and others have set some restrictions here and there on the path of Deity worship.” In the Rāmārcana-candrikā: “Even without dīkṣā, O best of brāhmaṇas, even without puraścaryā, even without the rite of nyāsa — by japa alone [the name] bestows perfection.”

The name does not depend on the rules of dīkṣā. The mantras of the Pañcarātra awaken transcendental knowledge and destroy absorption in the mundane. When [one's vision] becomes transcendental, one understands that the mantra and its deity are not different. If one regards the name and the mantra as “ordinary sound” (like other everyday sounds invented by the mind to please the senses), one ends up in hell. The deity of the mantra is to be worshiped only with transcendental understanding. The rule is to receive a mantra through dīkṣā, as the scriptures prescribe. But the name of Kṛṣṇa is precious to both the bound and the liberated: by taking Kṛṣṇa's name the bound soul is freed from mundane understanding, and once liberated he can take the pure name of Kṛṣṇa. “From the Kṛṣṇa-mantra will come release from saṁsāra, and by Kṛṣṇa’s name You will attain Kṛṣṇa's feet" (see Ādi 7.73). The name of Kṛṣṇa, not different from Kṛṣṇa, is the great mantra itself, and so it is not subject to any injunction of the Pañcarātra.

The name does not depend on the rules of puraścaryā. Puraścaraṇa is prescribed for the perfection of a mantra; the holy name, the great mantra, needs no such rule of puraścaraṇa. Since a single utterance of the name brings every fruit attainable by puraścaryā, the holy name has no need of puraścaraṇa.

The name delivers by touching the tongue. Here "tongue" must be understood as a tongue inclined to service. Otherwise — since offenses dwell on a tongue inclined to mundane enjoyment — the name of Śrī Kṛṣṇa will never arise on it. (Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, Pūrva-vibhāga, Sādhana-bhakti-laharī): "Therefore the name of Śrī Kṛṣṇa and all that is His cannot be grasped by the senses. Only when the tongue and the other senses are inclined to service does He Himself appear on them." Madhya 17.134: "Therefore Kṛṣṇa's name, form and pastimes cannot be grasped by mundane senses; they are self-manifest." (See Bhakti-sandarbha 256–275[15] and 283.) See Antya 3.59–69, 75, 80, 176–180, 182–187; 20.11, 13; Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.1.14; 6.2.29, 39.

*The awakening of prema is the main fruit of serving the holy name, and the end of saṁsāra a secondary one —*

অনুষঙ্গ-ফলে করে সংসারের ক্ষয়। চিত্ত আকর্ষিয়া করায় কৃষ্ণে প্রেমোদয় ॥ ১০৯ ॥

anuṣaṅga-phale kare saṁsārera kṣaya
as a by-product does of worldly existence ending citta ākarṣiyā karāya kṛṣṇe premodaya
the heart attracting causes for Kṛṣṇa the dawning of love

109 As a mere by-product it ends worldly existence; and by attracting the heart it awakens love for Kṛṣṇa.

*(A verse by Śrīdhara Svāmī cited in the Padyāvalī, 29) —*

আকৃষ্টিঃ কৃতচেতসাং সুমনসামুচ্চাটনং চাংহসা- মাচণ্ডালমমূকলোকসুলভো বশ্যশ্চ মুক্তিশ্রিয়ঃ ৷
নো দীক্ষাং ন চ সৎক্রিয়াং ন চ পুরশ্চর্য্যাং মনাগীক্ষতে
মন্ত্রোঽয়ং রসনাস্পৃগেব ফলতি শ্রীকৃষ্ণনামাত্মকঃ ॥ ১১০ ॥

ākṛṣṭiḥ kṛta-cetasāṁ su-manasām uccāṭanaṁ cāṁhasām attraction of the liberated of the wise uprooting and of sins

ācaṇḍālam amūka-loka-sulabho vaśyaś ca mukti-śriyaḥ down to the caṇḍāla to all people but the mute easily available the controller and of the wealth of liberation

no dīkṣāṁ na ca sat-kriyāṁ na ca puraścaryāṁ manāg īkṣate not initiation nor and pious rites nor and puraścaryā in the least looks for mantro 'yaṁ rasanā-spṛg eva phalati śrī-kṛṣṇa-nāmātmakaḥ mantra this touching the tongue merely bears fruit consisting of Śrī Kṛṣṇa's name

110 "This mantra, the name of Śrī Kṛṣṇa, draws the liberated and the wise and uproots all sins. Down to the caṇḍāla, it is within easy reach of everyone who is not mute, and it holds the wealth of liberation in its power. It does not look in the least for initiation, pious rites or puraścaryā: merely by touching the tongue it bears fruit." (Padyāvalī, 29)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

This great mantra, the very name of Śrī Kṛṣṇa, attracts the hearts of sādhus rich in pious merit, destroys sins, is easily available to all people from the caṇḍālas on, except the mute, and brings the wealth of liberation under its control. It gives its fruit as soon as it touches the tongue and does not depend in the least on initiation and the like or on puraścaraṇa.

Anubhāṣya.

śrī-kṛṣṇa-nāmātmakaḥ ayaṁ mantraḥ kṛta-cetasāṁ (of the liberated) sumahatāṁ (great — beyond the three modes; with the reading sumanasām, of the wise) ākṛṣṭiḥ (the attractor; with the reading ākṛṣṭī-kṛta-cetasām, of those whose hearts are attracted) aṁhasām (of piety and sin — acts born of absorption in the mundane) uccāṭanam (uprooting) ā-caṇḍālam (down to the caṇḍālas)

amūka-loka-sulabhaḥ (that is, easily attainable by people who are not mute — all who have the power of speech) mukti-śriyaḥ (of the wealth of liberation — the touchstone in which liberation takes shelter) vaśyaḥ (bringing under control) ca; (and this great mantra, the name) dīkṣām (the practice that destroys sin and gives divine knowledge) sat-kriyām (the dakṣiṇā for the perfection of the fruit) puraścaryāṁ ca (the fivefold worship) manāk (slightly) api na īkṣate (does not look for, but) rasanā-spṛk (merely by touching a tongue inclined to service) phalati (bears fruit).

*The marks of a "kaniṣṭha Vaiṣṇava" —*

‘অতএব যাঁর মুখে এক কৃষ্ণনাম ।
সেই ত’ বৈষ্ণব, করিহ তাঁহার সম্মান’ ॥ ১১১ ॥

‘ataeva yāṁra mukhe eka kṛṣṇa-nāma
therefore in whose mouth one name of Kṛṣṇa sei ta’ vaiṣṇava, kariha tāṁhāra sammāna’
he indeed a Vaiṣṇava do his honor

111 Therefore anyone on whose lips is even one name of Kṛṣṇa is a Vaiṣṇava; show him honour."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

So for a householder to serve Vaiṣṇavas, it is enough to find a Vaiṣṇava devoted to the single name of Kṛṣṇa, and his service succeeds. A "Vaiṣṇava initiated into a mantra" is not considered here. The reason is this: many who are initiated into a Viṣṇu mantra lack knowledge of the truth and so may be tainted by Māyāvāda and other faults. But a Vaiṣṇava who utters Kṛṣṇa's name without offense cannot have such faults. One initiated into a mantra is "almost a Vaiṣṇava," but one who has uttered Kṛṣṇa's name even once without offense, even if he is the least of all, is a "pure Vaiṣṇava." It is such a Vaiṣṇava that a householder Vaiṣṇava should serve.

Anubhāṣya.

Śrīla Rūpa Prabhu in his Śrī Upadeśāmṛta: "One on whose tongue is the name ‘Kṛṣṇa’ should be honored in the mind; if he has initiation…" That is, one who has received dīkṣā from a genuine guru, has gained transcendental faith and utters the name of Śrī Kṛṣṇa should be honored in the mind by the intermediate devotee (madhyama-adhikārī) — this is the rule.

The three chief residents of Khaṇḍa —

খণ্ডের মুকুন্দদাস, শ্রীরঘুনন্দন । শ্রীনরহরি, — এই মুখ্য তিনজন ॥ ১১২ ॥

khaṇḍera mukunda-dāsa, śrī-raghunandana
of Khaṇḍa Mukunda dāsa Śrī Raghunandana
śrī-narahari, — ei mukhya tina jana Śrī Narahari — these chief three persons

112 Of the devotees from Khaṇḍa, three were the chief: Mukunda dāsa, Śrī Raghunandana and Śrī Narahari.

The Lord asks Mukunda dāsa how he is related to Raghunandana —

মুকুন্দ-দাসেরে পুছে শচীর নন্দন ।
‘তুমি — পিতা, পুত্র তোমার — শ্রীরঘুনন্দন ? ॥ ১১৩ ॥

mukunda-dāsere puche śacīra nandana
Mukunda dāsa asks Śacī’s son ‘tumi — pitā, putra tomāra — śrī-raghunandana?
you — the father son your — Śrī Raghunandana

113 The son of Śacī asked Mukunda dāsa, “Are you the father, and Śrī Raghunandana your son?

কিবা রঘুনন্দন — পিতা, তুমি — তার তনয় ?
নিশ্চয় করিয়া কহ, যাউক সংশয়’ ॥ ১১৪ ॥

kibā raghunandana — pitā, tumi — tāra tanaya?
or Raghunandana — the father you — his son niścaya kariyā kaha, yāuka saṁśaya’ certainty making tell let go the doubt

114 Or is Raghunandana the father, and you his son? Tell Me for certain, so that My doubt may go.”

*Mukunda, who seeks no honor and honors others, knows Raghunandana to be a devotee of Kṛṣṇa and so sees in him not a son but a guru —*

মুকুন্দ কহে, — রঘুনন্দন আমার 'পিতা' হয়। আমি তার 'পুত্র', — এই আমার নিশ্চয় ॥ ১১৫ ॥

mukunda kahe, — raghunandana āmāra 'pitā' haya Mukunda says — Raghunandana my father is āmi tāra 'putra', — ei āmāra niścaya
I his son — this my conviction

115 Mukunda said, "Raghunandana is my father, and I am his son — that is my conviction.

আমা সবার কৃষ্ণভক্তি রঘুনন্দন হৈতে। অতএব পিতা — রঘুনন্দন আমার নিশ্চিতে ॥ ১১৬ ॥

āmā sabāra kṛṣṇa-bhakti raghunandana haite of us all devotion to Kṛṣṇa Raghunandana from ataeva pitā — raghunandana āmāra niścite therefore the father — Raghunandana my certainly

116 All of us have received devotion to Kṛṣṇa from Raghunandana. So Raghunandana is certainly my father."

*Hearing Mukunda's right answer, the Lord rejoices and defines the "true guru," or "real father" —*

শুনি' হর্ষে কহে প্রভু — কহিলে নিশ্চয়।
'যাঁহা হৈতে কৃষ্ণভক্তি সেই গুরু হয়' ॥ ১১৭ ॥

śuni' harṣe kahe prabhu — kahile niścaya hearing joyfully says the Lord — you have said rightly
'yāṁhā haite kṛṣṇa-bhakti sei guru haya'
from whom devotion to Kṛṣṇa he guru is

117 Hearing this, the Lord said joyfully, "You have spoken rightly: he from whom devotion to Kṛṣṇa comes is the guru."

Bhagavān is intoxicated by singing the glories of His devotees —

ভক্তের মহিমা কহিতে প্রভু পায় সুখ । ভক্তের মহিমা কহিতে হয় পঞ্চমুখ ॥ ১১৮ ॥

bhaktera mahimā kahite prabhu pāya sukha
of the devotee the glory telling the Lord gets happiness
bhaktera mahimā kahite haya pañca-mukha
of the devotee the glory telling becomes five-mouthed

118 The Lord delights in telling the glories of His devotees; telling them, He becomes as if five-mouthed.

Before the devotees the Lord describes Mukunda's love for Kṛṣṇa —

ভক্তগণে কহে, — শুন মুকুন্দের প্রেম । নির্ম্মল, নিগূঢ় প্রেম, যেন শুদ্ধ হেম ॥ ১১৯ ॥

bhakta-gaṇe kahe, — śuna mukundera prema
to the devotees says — hear Mukunda's love nirmala, nigūḍha prema, yena śuddha hema
pure deep love like pure gold

119 He said to the devotees, "Hear about Mukunda's love: it is spotless and deep, like pure gold.

Outwardly worldly dealings, inwardly devotion to Kṛṣṇa —

বাহ্যে রাজবৈদ্য ইঁহো, করে রাজ-সেবা । অন্তরে প্রেম ইঁহার জানিবেক কেবা ॥ ১২০ ॥

bāhye rāja-vaidya iṁho, kare rāja-sevā
outwardly a royal physician he does the king's service
antare prema iṁhāra jānibeka kebā within love his will know who

120 Outwardly he is a royal physician in the king's service. Who could know the love within him?

The story of one day: Mukunda and the Bādshāh —

এক দিন ম্লেচ্ছ-রাজার উচ্চ-টুঙ্গিতে । চিকিৎসার বাত্ কহে ইঁহার অগ্রেতে ॥ ১২১ ॥

eka dina mleccha-rājāra ucca-ṭuṅgite
one day of the Muslim king on the high platform
cikitsāra bāt kahe iṁhāra agrete
of treatment talk speaks him before

121 One day, on his high platform, the Muslim king was talking with him about medical treatment.

Anubhāṣya.
In people's eyes Mukunda held the post of royal physician, but in truth he was a genuine loving devotee (that is, a mahā-bhāgavata, a paramahaṁsa in the dress of a Vaiṣṇava householder); ordinary people could not know this.[16]

Ucca-ṭuṅgi — a small house built on a raised place.

হেনকালে এক ময়ূর-পুচ্ছের আড়ানী । রাজ-শিরোপরি ধরে এক সেবক আনি' ॥ ১২২ ॥

hena-kāle eka mayūra-pucchera āḍānī
at that time a of peacock feathers fan
rāja-śiropari dhare eka sevaka āni'
over the king's head holds a servant bringing 122 Just then a servant brought a fan of peacock feathers and held it over the king's head.

Anubhāṣya.
Āḍānī — a parasol, that is, an umbrella against the sun: a large fan held crosswise.

শিখিপিচ্ছ দেখি' মুকুন্দ প্রেমাবিষ্ট হৈলা । অতি-উচ্চ টুঙ্গি হৈতে ভূমিতে পড়িলা ॥ ১২৩ ॥

śikhi-piccha dekhi' mukunda premāviṣṭa hailā
the peacock feathers seeing Mukunda overwhelmed by love became ati-ucca ṭuṅgi haite bhūmite paḍilā
very high platform from to the ground fell

123 At the sight of the peacock feathers Mukunda was overwhelmed with love and fell from the high platform to the ground.

রাজার জ্ঞান, — রাজ-বৈদ্যের হইল মরণ । আপনে নামিয়া তবে করাইল চেতন ॥ ১২৪ ॥

rājāra jñāna, — rāja-vaidyera haila maraṇa
the king's thought — of the royal physician has happened death
āpane nāmiyā tabe karāila cetana
himself descending then brought about consciousness

124 The king thought his royal physician had been killed. He came down himself and brought him back to his senses.

রাজা বলে, ব্যথা তুমি পাইলে কোন্ ঠাঞি ?
মুকুন্দ কহে, — অতিবড় ব্যথা পাই নাই ॥ ১২৫ ॥

rājā bale, vyathā tumi pāile kon ṭhāñi?
the king says pain you got in which place
mukunda kahe, — ati-baḍa vyathā pāi nāi Mukunda says — very great pain I got not

125 The king asked, "Where are you hurt?" Mukunda answered, "I am not badly hurt."

রাজা কহে, — মুকুন্দ, তুমি পড়িলা কি লাগি' ?
মুকুন্দ কহে, — রাজা, মোর ব্যাধি আছে মৃগী ॥ ১২৬ ॥

rājā kahe, — mukunda, tumi paḍilā ki lāgi'?
the king says — Mukunda you fell why
mukunda kahe, — rājā, mora vyādhi āche mṛgī
Mukunda says — O king my illness is epilepsy

126 The king asked, “Mukunda, why did you fall?” Mukunda said, “O king, I suffer from epilepsy.”

Though Mukunda dissembles and hides himself, the king takes him for a “great personality” —

মহাবিদগ্ধ রাজা, সেই সব জানে । মুকুন্দেরে হৈল তাঁর ‘মহাসিদ্ধ’-জ্ঞানে ॥ ১২৭ ॥

mahā-vidagdha rājā, sei saba jāne
very shrewd the king that all knows mukundere haila tāṁra ‘mahā-siddha’-jñāne
of Mukunda became his as a great perfected soul understanding

127 But the king was very shrewd and understood it all: he came to regard Mukunda as a great perfected soul.

Anubhāṣya.
Mahā-vidagdha — especially skilled in statecraft. Mahā-siddha — an extraordinary liberated person.

An example of Raghunandana's service to Kṛṣṇa —

রঘুনন্দন সেবা করে কৃষ্ণের মন্দিরে । দ্বারে পুষ্করিণী, তার ঘাটের উপরে ॥ ১২৮ ॥

raghunandana sevā kare kṛṣṇera mandire Raghunandana service does in Kṛṣṇa’s temple
dvāre puṣkariṇī, tāra ghāṭera upare
at the door a pond its of the ghāṭa above

128 Raghunandana serves in Kṛṣṇa’s temple. At its door there is a pond, and above its bathing steps

কদম্বের এক বৃক্ষে ফুটে বারমাসে । নিত্য দুই ফুল হয় কৃষ্ণ-অবতংসে ॥ ১২৯ ॥

kadambera eka vṛkṣe phuṭe bāra-māse
of kadamba one on a tree bloom twelve months
nitya dui phula haya kṛṣṇa-avataṁse
daily two flowers are for Kṛṣṇa's ornament

129 stands a kadamba tree that blossoms all twelve months of the year; every day it gives two flowers to adorn Kṛṣṇa.

Anubhāṣya.
Avataṁse: "for an ornament" — an ornament for the ears, an ornament for the head; [the flowers bloom] for that purpose.

The Lord divides service among the three: (1) Mukunda's service —

মুকুন্দেরে কহে পুনঃ মধুর বচন ।
'তোমার কার্য্য — ধর্ম্ম-ধন-উপার্জ্জন ॥ ১৩০ ॥

mukundere kahe punaḥ madhura vacana
to Mukunda says again sweet words
'tomāra kārya — dharma-dhana-upārjana
your duty — earning dharma and wealth

130 Again He spoke sweet words to Mukunda: "Your duty is to earn wealth in keeping with dharma.

(2) Raghunandana's service —

রঘুনন্দনের কার্য্য — কৃষ্ণের সেবন । কৃষ্ণ-সেবা বিনা ইঁহার অন্য নাহি মন ॥ ১৩১ ॥

raghunandanera kārya — kṛṣṇera sevana Raghunandana's duty — of Kṛṣṇa service
kṛṣṇa-sevā vinā iṁhāra anya nāhi mana service to Kṛṣṇa without his other not mind

131 Raghunandana's duty is to serve Kṛṣṇa; his mind turns to nothing but serving Kṛṣṇa.

(3) Narahari's service —

নরহরি রহু আমার ভক্তগণ-সনে । এই তিন কার্য্য সদা করহ তিন-জনে' ॥ ১৩২ ॥

narahari rahu āmāra bhakta-gaṇa-sane Narahari let stay My with the devotees ei tina kārya sadā karaha tina-jane'
these three duties always do you three

132 And let Narahari stay with My devotees. You three must always carry out these three duties."

Anubhāṣya.
Śrī Mahāprabhu knew Mukunda to be a very dear and intimate devotee. So when He divided service among the two brothers and the son, He assigned each a different service: to Mukunda, religious duty and earning money; to Raghunandana, the service of the Śrī Mūrti; and to Narahari, living together with the devotees.

Instruction to both Sārvabhauma and Vācaspati on serving Kṛṣṇa —

সার্ব্বভৌম, বিদ্যাবাচস্পতি, — দুই ভাই । দুই জনে কৃপা করি' কহেন গোসাঞি ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

sārvabhauma, vidyā-vācaspati, — dui bhāi Sārvabhauma Vidyā-vācaspati — two brothers
dui jane kṛpā kari' kahena gosāñi
to the two persons mercy showing says the Lord

133 Showing His mercy to the two brothers, Sārvabhauma and Vidyā-vācaspati, the Lord said:

'দারু'-'জল'-রূপে কৃষ্ণ প্রকট সম্প্রতি ।
'দরশন'-'স্নানে' করে জীবের মুকতি ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

'dāru'-'jala'-rūpe kṛṣṇa prakaṭa samprati
in the form of wood and of water Kṛṣṇa manifest now
'daraśana'-'snāne' kare jīvera mukati
by seeing and by bathing does of living beings liberation

134 "Kṛṣṇa is now manifest in the form of wood and in the form of water. Through seeing Him and through bathing in Him, He liberates living beings.

'দারুব্রহ্ম'-রূপে — সাক্ষাৎ শ্রীপুরুষোত্তম । ভাগীরথী হন সাক্ষাৎ 'জলব্রহ্ম'-সম ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

'dāru-brahma'-rūpe — sākṣāt śrī-puruṣottama
in the form of the Dāru-brahma — directly Śrī Puruṣottama bhāgīrathī hana sākṣāt 'jala-brahma'-sama
the Bhāgīrathī is directly the Jala-brahma equal to 135 As the Dāru-brahma, Brahman in the form of wood, He is Śrī Puruṣottama Himself; and the Bhāgīrathī is the Jala-brahma, Brahman in the form of water.

Sārvabhauma is told to serve Jagannātha, and Vācaspati to serve the Gaṅgā —

সার্ব্বভৌম, কর 'দারুব্রহ্ম' আরাধন । বাচস্পতি, কর 'জলব্রহ্মের' সেবন ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

sārvabhauma, kara 'dāru-brahma' ārādhana Sārvabhauma do the Dāru-brahma worship
vācaspati, kara 'jala-brahmera' sevana
Vācaspati do of the Jala-brahma service

136 Sārvabhauma, worship the Dāru-brahma. Vācaspati, serve the Jala-brahma."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Sārvabhauma, worship Jagannāthadeva, the Dāru-brahma (Brahman in the form of wood). And you, Vidyā-vācaspati, live in Vidyānagara, within Śrī Navadvīpa-dhāma, and serve the Gaṅgā, the Jala-brahma (Brahman in the form of water)."

The Lord glorifies Murāri's fidelity to his own service —

মুরারি-গুপ্তেরে প্রভু করি' আলিঙ্গন । তাঁর ভক্তিনিষ্ঠা কহেন, শুন ভক্তগণ ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

murāri-guptere prabhu kari' āliṅgana Murāri Gupta the Lord making embrace tāṁra bhakti-niṣṭhā kahena, śuna bhakta-gaṇa
his steadfast devotion tells hear devotees

137 The Lord embraced Murāri Gupta and spoke of his steadfast devotion: "Listen, devotees!

Earlier, the Lord had enticed Murāri with the worship of Kṛṣṇa —

পূর্ব্বে আমি ইঁহারে লোভাইল বার বার । পরম মধুর, গুপ্ত, ব্রজেন্দ্রকুমার ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

pūrve āmi iṁhāre lobhāila bāra bāra
before I him tempted time after time
parama madhura, gupta, vrajendra-kumāra
supremely sweet Gupta the son of the king of Vraja

138 In the past I tried again and again to win him over: 'Gupta, the son of the king of Vraja is supremely sweet.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
(Previously,) with these words I enticed him more strongly to worship Kṛṣṇa: "O Gupta, Śrī Vrajendra-kumāra is supremely sweet," and so on.

স্বয়ং ভগবান্ কৃষ্ণ — সর্ব্বাংশী, সর্ব্বাশ্রয় । বিশুদ্ধ-নির্ম্মল-প্রেম, সর্ব্বরসময় ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

svayaṁ bhagavān kṛṣṇa — sarvāṁśī, sarvāśraya Himself the Lord Kṛṣṇa — the source of all portions the shelter of all viśuddha-nirmala-prema, sarva-rasamaya
pure spotless love full of all rasas

139 Kṛṣṇa is Bhagavān Himself, the source of all His portions and the shelter of all. He is pure, spotless love, and every rasa is found in Him.

সকল-সদ্‌গুণ-বৃন্দ-রত্ন-রত্নাকর । বিদগ্ধ, চতুর, ধীর, রসিক শেখর ॥ ১৪০ ॥

sakala-sadguṇa-vṛnda-ratna-ratnākara
a jewel-mine of the jewels of all good qualities vidagdha, catura, dhīra, rasika śekhara clever skillful composed of rasikas the crest

140 He is a mine filled with the jewels of every good quality. He is expert, clever and composed — the crown of all who relish rasa.

মধুর-চরিত্র কৃষ্ণের মধুর বিলাস । চাতুর্য্য, বৈদগ্ধ্য করে যাঁর লীলা-রস ॥ ১৪১ ॥

madhura-caritra kṛṣṇera madhura vilāsa
of sweet character Kṛṣṇa's sweet pastimes
cāturya, vaidagdhya kare yāṁra līlā-rasa
cleverness skill make whose the rasa of pastimes

141 Kṛṣṇa's nature is sweet, and His pastimes are sweet; cleverness and skill fill the rasa of His play.

The worship of Kṛṣṇa is the highest of all —

সেই কৃষ্ণ ভজ তুমি, হও কৃষ্ণাশ্রয় । কৃষ্ণ বিনা অন্য-উপাসনা মনে নাহি লয় ॥ ১৪২ ॥

sei kṛṣṇa bhaja tumi, hao kṛṣṇāśraya that Kṛṣṇa worship you become sheltered in Kṛṣṇa
kṛṣṇa vinā anya-upāsanā mane nāhi laya
Kṛṣṇa except other worship the mind not accepts

142 Worship that Kṛṣṇa and take shelter of Him. Apart from Kṛṣṇa, no other worship can win the mind.'

Under the Lord's enticement Murāri's mind changed for a moment —

এইমত বার বার শুনিয়া বচন । আমার গৌরবে কিছু ফিরি' গেলা মন ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

ei mata bāra bāra śuniyā vacana
in this way time after time hearing words āmāra gaurave kichu phiri' gelā mana out of regard for Me somewhat turning went his mind

143 Hearing such words from Me again and again, out of regard for Me his mind turned a little.

Firm faith in the Lord's words and a humble reply —

আমারে কহেন, — আমি তোমার কিঙ্কর । তোমার আজ্ঞাকারী আমি নহি স্বতন্তর ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

āmāre kahena, — āmi tomāra kiṅkara
to Me says — I Your servant
tomāra ājñākārī āmi nahi svatantara
Your order-follower I am not independent

144 He said to Me, 'I am Your servant. I carry out Your orders; I am not independent.'

The thought of giving up the worship of Rāma keeps Murāri sleepless; he weeps and longs to die —

এত বলি' ঘরে গেল, চিন্তি' রাত্রিকালে । রঘুনাথ-ত্যাগ-চিন্তায় হইল বিকলে ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

eta bali' ghare gela, cinti' rātri-kāle
so saying home went thinking at night
raghunātha-tyāga-cintāya haila vikale
at the thought of giving up Raghunātha became distraught

145 With these words he went home. That night, as he thought it over, the idea of giving up Raghunātha left him distraught.

কেমনে ছাড়িব রঘুনাথের চরণ !
আজি রাত্রে প্রভু মোর করাহ মরণ ! ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

kemane chāḍiba raghunāthera caraṇa!
how shall I give up Raghunātha's feet
āji rātre prabhu mora karāha maraṇa!
today at night O Lord my bring about death

146 'How can I give up the feet of Raghunātha? O Lord, let me die this very night!'

এই মত সর্ব্ব-রাত্রি করেন ক্রন্দন । মনে সোয়াস্তি নাহি, রাত্রি করেন জাগরণ ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

ei mata sarva-rātri karena krandana
thus all night does weeping
mane soyāsti nāhi, rātri karena jāgaraṇa
in mind peace not at night does keeping awake

147 So he wept all night long; there was no peace in his mind, and he could not sleep.

In the morning he comes and says he can neither give up the worship of Rāma nor carry out the Lord's order; caught between the two, he longs for death —

প্রাতঃকালে আসি' মোর ধরিল চরণ । কান্দিতে কান্দিতে কিছু করে নিবেদন ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

prātaḥ-kāle āsi' mora dharila caraṇa
in the morning coming My clasped feet
kāndite kāndite kichu kare nivedana
weeping weeping something makes submission

148 In the morning he came and clasped My feet, and, weeping bitterly, made this plea to Me:

রঘুনাথের পায় মুঞি বেচিয়াছোঁ মাথা । কাড়িতে না পারি মাথা, মনে পাই ব্যথা ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

raghunāthera pāya muñi veciyāchoṁ māthā
at Raghunātha's feet I have sold my head kāḍite nā pāri māthā, mane pāi vyathā
to take back not I can the head in mind I get pain

149 'I have sold my head at the feet of Raghunātha. I cannot take it back, and my heart is in anguish.

Anubhāṣya.
"The Lord of Śrī and the Lord of Jānakī are one and the same Supreme Self; there is no difference between Them. Still, my all in all is lotus-eyed Rāma."

শ্রীরঘুনাথ-চরণ ছাড়ান না যায় । তব আজ্ঞা-ভঙ্গ হয়, কি করি উপায় ! ॥ ১৫০ ॥

śrī-raghunātha-caraṇa chāḍāna nā yāya Śrī Raghunātha's feet giving up not is possible
tava ājñā-bhaṅga haya, ki kari upāya!
Your order-breaking happens what do I remedy

150 I cannot give up the feet of Śrī Raghunātha, yet that means breaking Your order. What am I to do?

তাতে মোরে এই কৃপা কর, দয়াময় । তোমার আগে মৃত্যু হউক, যাউক সংশয় ॥ ১৫১ ॥

tāte more ei kṛpā kara, dayāmaya therefore to me this mercy do O merciful one tomāra āge mṛtyu hauka, yāuka saṁśaya
of You before death let be let go doubt

151 So, O merciful Lord, show me this mercy: let me die before You, and let my dilemma end.'

Murāri's words delight the Lord, and He praises him —

এত শুনি’ আমি বড় মনে সুখ পাইলুঁ ৷ ইঁহারে উঠাঞা তবে আলিঙ্গন কৈলুঁ ॥ ১৫২ ॥

eta śuni’ āmi baḍa mane sukha pāiluṁ
this hearing I great in the mind joy felt iṁhāre uṭhāñā tabe āliṅgana kailuṁ him raising then embrace I made

152 “Hearing this, I felt great joy at heart. Then I raised him up and embraced him.

সাধু সাধু, গুপ্ত, তোমার সুদৃঢ় ভজন ৷ আমার বচনেহ তোমার না টলিল মন ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

sādhu sādhu, gupta, tomāra sudṛḍha bhajana excellent excellent Gupta your firm worship
āmāra vacaneha tomāra nā ṭalila mana
My even by the words your not wavered mind

153 “ ‘Excellent, excellent, Gupta! Your worship is firm indeed: even My words did not shake your mind.

How servant and served should behave toward each other —

এইমত সেবকের প্রীতি চাহি প্রভু-পায় ৷ প্রভু ছাড়াইলেহ, পদ ছাড়ান না যায় ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

ei mata sevakera prīti cāhi prabhu-pāya
such indeed of a servant love I want for the Lord’s feet
prabhu chāḍāileha, pada chāḍāna nā yāya
the Lord even if He makes him leave the feet to leave not is possible

154 “ ‘This is the love for the Lord’s feet that I want in a servant: even if the Lord tries to make him leave them, he cannot let go of those feet.

Anubhāṣya.

Prabhu (the Lord) is Kṛṣṇa, the Truth whom the jīva eternally serves, honors and worships. See Madhya 4.186, 7.8 and 13.140 (first half); and Antya 4.46–47: "Blessed is the devotee who does not leave his Lord's feet; blessed is the Lord who does not abandon His own. If by misfortune the servant goes elsewhere, blessed is the master who drags him back by the hair."[17]

The Lord tests Murāri's fidelity to the object of his worship, and Murāri passes the test —

এইমত তোমার নিষ্ঠা জানিবার তরে । তোমারে আগ্রহ আমি কৈলুঁ বারে বারে ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

ei mata tomāra niṣṭhā jānibāra tare
in this way your steadfastness to know for the sake of tomāre āgraha āmi kailuṁ bāre bāre
you urging I did time after time

155 " 'It was to learn how steadfast you are that I urged you again and again.

Anubhāṣya.
Jānibāra: "in order to test." Āgraha: insistence — [the Lord] insisted that [Murāri] worship Kṛṣṇa.

Murāri, the incarnation of humility, is Hanumān himself —

সাক্ষাৎ হনুমান্ তুমি শ্রীরাম-কিঙ্কর । তুমি কেনে ছাড়িবে তাঁর চরণ-কমল ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

sākṣāt hanumān tumi śrī-rāma-kiṅkara
in person Hanumān you of Śrī Rāma the servant
tumi kene chāḍibe tāṁra caraṇa-kamala
you why would leave His lotus feet

156 " 'You are Hanumān himself, the servant of Śrī Rāma. Why would you ever give up His lotus feet?'

সেই মুরারি-গুপ্ত এই — মোর প্রাণ সম । ইঁহার দৈন্য শুনি' মোর ফাটয়ে জীবন ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

sei murāri-gupta ei — mora prāṇa sama that Murāri Gupta is this one My life equal to iṁhāra dainya śuni' mora phāṭaye jīvana
his humility hearing My bursts life

157 "This is that same Murāri Gupta, who is as dear to Me as My life. When I hear his humility, My heart breaks."

Anubhāṣya.
In this connection one should consult Antya 4.30–45, which describes the devotion to Śrī Rāma of Śrī Anupama, or Vallabha, the father of Śrī Jīva.

The Lord praises Vāsudeva Datta —

তবে বাসুদেবে প্রভু করি' আলিঙ্গন । তাঁর গুণ কহে হঞা সহস্র-বদন ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

tabe vāsudeve prabhu kari' āliṅgana
then Vāsudeva the Lord making embrace tāṁra guṇa kahe hañā sahasra-vadana
his qualities speaks becoming thousand-mouthed

158 Then the Lord embraced Vāsudeva and began to describe his qualities as if He had a thousand mouths.

With an anguished heart Vāsudeva makes his plea at the Lord's feet —

নিজ-গুণ শুনি' দত্ত মনে লজ্জা পাঞা । নিবেদন করে প্রভুর চরণে ধরিয়া ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

nija-guṇa śuni' datta mane lajjā pāñā
his own qualities hearing Datta in his mind shame feeling nivedana kare prabhura caraṇe dhariyā
a petition makes of the Lord the feet clasping

159 Hearing his own qualities praised, Vāsudeva Datta felt ashamed. Clasping the Lord's feet, he made a petition:

জগৎ তারিতে প্রভু তোমার অবতার । মোর নিবেদন এক করহ অঙ্গীকার ॥ ১৬০ ॥

jagat tārite prabhu tomāra avatāra
the world to deliver O Lord Your descent mora nivedana eka karaha aṅgīkāra
my petition one make acceptance

160 "O Lord, You have descended to deliver the world. Please grant me one request.

করিতে সমর্থ, তুমি হও, দয়াময় । তুমি মন কর, তবে অনায়াসে হয় ॥ ১৬১ ॥

karite samartha, tumi hao, dayāmaya to do able You are O merciful one tumi mana kara, tabe anāyāse haya
You the mind make then without effort it happens

161 "O merciful Lord, You are able to do anything. If You only wish it, it happens without effort.

Vāsudeva Datta Ṭhākura, Gaura's servant, pained by the pain of others as no one in this world —

জীবের দুঃখ দেখি' মোর হৃদয় বিদরে । সর্ব্বজীবের পাপ প্রভু দেহ' মোর শিরে ॥ ১৬২ ॥

jīvera duḥkha dekhi' mora hṛdaya bidare
of living beings the suffering seeing my heart breaks
sarva-jīvera pāpa prabhu deha' mora śire
of all living beings the sins O Lord place on my head

162 “My heart breaks to see the suffering of living beings. O Lord, place the sins of all living beings on my head.

জীবের পাপ লঞা মুঞি করি নরক ভোগ । সকল জীবের, প্রভু, ঘুচাহ ভবরোগ ॥ ১৬৩ ॥

jīvera pāpa lañā muñi kari naraka bhoga
of living beings the sins taking I will undergo of hell the suffering sakala jīvera, prabhu, ghucāha bhava-roga
of all living beings O Lord remove the disease of material existence

163 “Let me take the sins of the living beings and suffer in hell for them. O Lord, cure all living beings of the disease of material existence.”

Anubhāṣya.

The followers of Christ in Western countries believe that their guru, the one great-hearted Jesus Christ, came into the world ready to take upon himself the burden of all the sins of living beings. But Śrī Vāsudeva Datta Ṭhākura, one of Śrī Gaura's associates, like Ṭhākura Śrī Haridāsa, taught the living beings of the world a universal Vaiṣṇava love for the whole world, endless millions of times more exalted and more generous.

In Śrī Vāsudeva Datta Ṭhākura three things were united in an unprecedented way: “selflessness,” the giving up of material self-interest; the spiritual “good of others” (parārtha), which is service to Viṣṇu; and “one's own good” (svārtha). He saw Gaurasundara as Reality itself, free of all deceit — Bhagavān Himself. So he took upon his own shoulders the disease of worldly existence of all living beings — their aversion to Kṛṣṇa (not mere “sins,” but a mass of “offenses,” more terrible than every kind of sin) — and with body, mind and words, without a trace of duplicity, prayed that they be freed from that disease. Such an ideal of compassion is beyond the imagination of the best karmīs and jñānīs, not only of the whole world — why only the world? — of all fourteen worlds.

Under the sway of māyā, living beings are absorbed in “a second” [something other than the Lord]; they see differences everywhere, and the urge to harm dominates them. In this world of duality they honor above all the ideals of karma and jñāna, and so most of them are bad karmīs and bad jñānīs. When they hear that Vāsudeva Datta Ṭhākura, a servant of Vaikuṇṭha, wishes to suffer hell, they, moved by their natural envy and by a delight rooted in duality, may take him for a “pious” man of good works or rank him with a “knower of Brahman,” and give him great honor and prestige. Yet Datta Ṭhākura's compassion for living beings is endless millions of times greater than that. This is not exaggerated praise at all, nor arthavāda (eulogy), but entirely impartial truth.

Indeed, by the coming of Gaura's servants like him, “pained by the pain of others,” the earth has become blessed; and not only the world — the whole race of living beings has become blessed. The fruit of the eloquent man's tongue lies only in singing the glories of such a devotee of Gaura. And only in describing the qualities of such a mahā-bhāgavata, endowed with selfless (akiñcanā) devotion to Bhagavān, does the pen of poets and historians, free from the pursuit of matter, achieve its highest fulfillment. So great is the servant of the supremely magnanimous Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya: he is “greater than the great and weightier than the weighty.”

The plea of His dearest servant moves the Lord —

এত শুনি’ মহাপ্রভুর চিত্ত দ্রবিলা । অশ্রু-কম্প-স্বরভঙ্গে কহিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১৬৪ ॥

eta śuni’ mahāprabhura citta dravilā
this hearing of Mahāprabhu the heart melted
aśru-kampa-svarabhaṅge kahite lāgilā with tears, trembling and a faltering voice to speak He began

164 When Mahāprabhu heard this, His heart melted, and with tears, trembling and a faltering voice He began to speak:

Vāsudeva Datta Ṭhākura is Prahlāda himself —

তোমার বিচিত্র নহে, তুমি — সাক্ষাৎ প্রহ্লাদ । তোমার উপরে কৃষ্ণের সম্পূর্ণ প্রসাদ ॥ ১৬৫ ॥

tomāra vicitra nahe, tumi — sākṣāt prahlāda
in you wonderful it is not you in person Prahlāda
tomāra upare kṛṣṇera sampūrṇa prasāda
upon you Kṛṣṇa’s complete grace

165 “Such words are no wonder coming from you: you are Prahlāda himself. Kṛṣṇa’s grace rests on you in full.

How Kṛṣṇa and His devotee behave toward each other —

কৃষ্ণ সেই সত্য করে, যেই মাগে ভৃত্য । ভৃত্য-বাঞ্ছা-পূরণ বিনা নাহি অন্য কৃত্য ॥ ১৬৬ ॥

kṛṣṇa sei satya kare, yei māge bhṛtya Kṛṣṇa that true makes whatever asks the servant
bhṛtya-vāñchā-pūraṇa vinā nāhi anya kṛtya
of the servant’s desire fulfilling except there is not other task

166 “Whatever His servant asks for, Kṛṣṇa makes true. He has no task other than fulfilling His servant’s desire.

The Lord firmly promises deliverance to all who live in the universe —

ব্রহ্মাণ্ড জীবের তুমি বাঞ্ছিলে নিস্তার । বিনা পাপ-ভোগে হবে সবার উদ্ধার ॥ ১৬৭ ॥

brahmāṇḍa jīvera tumi vāñchile nistāra
of the universe of the living beings you have desired deliverance
vinā pāpa-bhoge habe sabāra uddhāra
without suffering for sins will be of all deliverance

167 “You have desired the deliverance of all beings in the universe, so all will be delivered without suffering for their sins.

The omnipotence of Bhagavān Kṛṣṇa Himself —

অসমর্থ নহে কৃষ্ণ, ধরে সর্ব্ব বল । তোমাকে বা কেনে ভুঞ্জাইবে পাপ-ফল ? ॥ ১৬৮ ॥

asamartha nahe kṛṣṇa, dhare sarva bala incapable not Kṛṣṇa He holds all power
tomāke vā kene bhuñjāibe pāpa-phala?
you then why would He make suffer of sins the fruits

168 “Kṛṣṇa is not powerless; He holds all power. Why, then, would He make you suffer the fruits of sin?

তুমি যাঁর হিত বাঞ্ছ’, সে হৈল ‘বৈষ্ণব’ । বৈষ্ণবের পাপ কৃষ্ণ দূর করে সব ॥ ১৬৯ ॥

tumi yāṁra hita vāñcha’, se haila ‘vaiṣṇava’
you whose welfare desire he has become a Vaiṣṇava vaiṣṇavera pāpa kṛṣṇa dūra kare saba of a Vaiṣṇava the sins Kṛṣṇa away removes all

169 “Anyone whose welfare you desire has become a Vaiṣṇava, and Kṛṣṇa removes all the sins of a Vaiṣṇava.

Anubhāṣya.
The Lord tells Vāsudeva: “Śrī Kṛṣṇa is all-powerful; He can free every living being from its desire for material enjoyment. You, seeing all equally, prayed on behalf of all beings, high and low, for their welfare. So by your prayer all will be delivered without suffering [the fruits of] their sins, and you will not have to suffer the fruits of sin for them in exchange. Those whose welfare you desire will become Vaiṣṇavas, and Kṛṣṇa will also save them from suffering the fruits of a Vaiṣṇava's past misdeeds. In other words, they will give up serving sin and piety and become pure servants of Kṛṣṇa.” The Padma Purāṇa says: “For those whose hearts are devoted to the service of Viṣṇu, all sins are gradually destroyed: those whose fruits have not yet begun, the latent, those in seed form, and those about to bear fruit.” See Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 6.2.17.

*Homage to Govinda, the giver of all fruits (Brahma-saṁhitā 5.54) —*

যস্ত্বিন্দ্রগোপমথবেন্দ্রমহো স্বকর্ম্ম-বন্ধানুরূপফলভাজনমাতনোতি ।
কর্ম্মাণি নির্দহতি কিন্তু চ ভক্তিভাজাং গোবিন্দমাদিপুরুষং তমহং ভজামি ॥ ১৭০ ॥

yas tv indra-gopam athavendram aho sva-karmawho but the indragopa insect or Indra oh of one's own karma bandhānurūpa-phala-bhājanam ātanoti
to the bondage befitting of the fruits the enjoyment grants karmāṇi nirdahati kintu ca bhakti-bhājāṁ
the karma He burns up but indeed of those who have devotion
govindam ādi-puruṣaṁ tam ahaṁ bhajāmi
Govinda the original Person Him I worship

170 "I worship Govinda, the original Person. To each, from the tiny indragopa insect to Indra himself, He grants the fruits that match the bondage of his own karma; but the karma of those who have devotion He burns away." (Brahma-saṁhitā, 5.54)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I worship the original Person, Govinda. For all living beings, from the indragopa insects up to the king of the gods, He arranges (ordains) the enjoyment (bhoga) of fruits that match the bonds of their own karma; but in one who possesses devotion He — how wondrous! — burns all karma to ashes.

Anubhāṣya.
yaḥ (Govinda) tu indra-gopam (a particular small red insect) athavā indram (the lord of the gods) sva-karma-bandhānurūpa-phala-bhājanam (the enjoyment of fruits that match the bonds of his own karma) ātanoti (fully arranges), kintu bhakti-bhājām (of those devoted to the service of Hari) ca karmāṇi (the prārabdha and the aprārabdha fruits of karma still to be experienced) nirdahati (destroys), tam ādi-puruṣaṁ (the original Deity) govindam (I) bhajāmi.

At the devotee's wish Kṛṣṇa effortlessly delivers the universe —

তোমার ইচ্ছা-মাত্রে হবে ব্রহ্মাণ্ড-মোচন ।
সর্ব্ব মুক্ত করিতে কৃষ্ণের নাহি পরিশ্রম ॥ ১৭১ ॥

tomāra icchā-mātre habe brahmāṇḍa-mocana
your by the mere wish will be the universe's liberation
sarva mukta karite kṛṣṇera nāhi pariśrama
all liberated to make for Kṛṣṇa there is no labour

171 “By your mere wish the universe will be liberated. To liberate everyone is no labour for Kṛṣṇa.

Endless millions of universes float in the Virajā, or the Causal Ocean —

এক উডুম্বর-বৃক্ষে লাগে কোটি-ফলে । কোটি যে ব্রহ্মাণ্ড ভাসে বিরজার জলে ॥ ১৭২ ॥

eka uḍumbara-vṛkṣe lāge koṭi-phale
on one uḍumbara tree grow millions of fruits
koṭi ye brahmāṇḍa bhāse virajāra jale
millions which universes float of the Virajā on the waters

172 “As millions of fruits grow on a single uḍumbara tree, so millions of universes float on the waters of the Virajā.

Anubhāṣya.
Outside the transcendental abode of Brahman flows the river Virajā. On its far side is Vaikuṇṭha-dhāma, the abode full of attributes (saviśeṣa), surrounded by the luminous abode of Brahman. On the other bank of the Virajā is this Devī-dhāma, the material realm. In Devī-dhāma the three modes are at work, and in the Virajā the modes abide in equilibrium.

The deliverance of a universe compared to the fall of a fig —

তার এক ফল পড়ি’ যদি নষ্ট হয় । তথাপি বৃক্ষ নাহি জানে নিজ-অপচয় ॥ ১৭৩ ॥

tāra eka phala paḍi’ yadi naṣṭa haya
of it one fruit falling if lost becomes tathāpi vṛkṣa nāhi jāne nija-apacaya
still the tree not knows its own loss

173 “If one of its fruits falls and is lost, the tree does not even notice its loss.

For Kṛṣṇa, saving one universe is an utterly trifling matter, unworthy of notice

—

তৈছে এক ব্রহ্মাণ্ড যদি মুক্ত হয় । তবু অল্পহানি কৃষ্ণের মনে নাহি লয় ॥ ১৭৪ ॥

taiche eka brahmāṇḍa yadi mukta haya
so one universe if liberated becomes tabu alpahāni kṛṣṇera mane nāhi laya still a slight loss of Kṛṣṇa in the mind not is taken

174 "So too, if one universe is liberated, Kṛṣṇa does not take it as even a slight loss.

The Causal Ocean, which lies outside Paravyoma —

অনন্ত ঐশ্বর্য্য কৃষ্ণের বৈকুণ্ঠাদি-ধাম । তার গড়খাই — কারণাব্ধি যার নাম ॥ ১৭৫ ॥

ananta aiśvarya kṛṣṇera vaikuṇṭhādi-dhāma infinite opulence of Kṛṣṇa Vaikuṇṭha and the other abodes
tāra gaḍa-khāi — kāraṇābdhi yāra nāma
their moat the Causal Ocean whose name

175 "Kṛṣṇa's opulence is infinite — Vaikuṇṭha and His other abodes; and the moat around them is known as the Causal Ocean (Kāraṇābdhi).

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 2.53 and 5.52–55; Madhya 20.268–279 and 21.52. In Vaikuṇṭha-dhāma there is not the slightest limitation (kuṇṭhā) of māyā. The Causal Ocean surrounds Vaikuṇṭha on all sides. The Kāraṇābdhi is the water that causes the variety of the material Devī-dhāma.

তাতে ভাসে মায়া লঞা অনন্ত ব্রহ্মাণ্ড । গড়খাইতে ভাসে যেন রাই-পূর্ণ ভাণ্ড ॥ ১৭৬ ॥

tāte bhāse māyā lañā ananta brahmāṇḍa
in it float māyā with infinite universes
gaḍa-khāite bhāse yena rāi-pūrṇa bhāṇḍa
in the moat floats as with mustard seeds filled a pot

176 "On it the infinite universes float together with māyā, like a pot full of mustard seeds floating in a moat.

Anubhāṣya.
Gaḍakhāi: encircling water, a moat. The Virajā river, or Kāraṇābdhi, is like a moat; the endless, countless universes are like countless tiny mustard seeds, and māyā is like a pot.

তার এক রাই-নাশে, হানি নাহি মানি । ঐছে এক অণ্ড-নাশে কৃষ্ণের নাহি হানি ॥ ১৭৭ ॥

tāra eka rāi-nāśe, hāni nāhi māni
of it one mustard seed in losing loss not we count
aiche eka aṇḍa-nāśe kṛṣṇera nāhi hāni
so one universe in losing of Kṛṣṇa there is no loss

177 "No one counts it a loss if one of those mustard seeds is lost; likewise, Kṛṣṇa loses nothing if one universe is lost.

*Even if endless millions of universes perish together with māyā, Kṛṣṇa loses nothing —*

সব ব্রহ্মাণ্ড সহ যদি 'মায়া'র হয় ক্ষয় । তথাপি না মানে কৃষ্ণ কিছু অপচয় ॥ ১৭৮ ॥

saba brahmāṇḍa saha yadi 'māyā'ra haya kṣaya
all universes along with if of māyā there is destruction tathāpi nā māne kṛṣṇa kichu apacaya
still not considers Kṛṣṇa any loss

178 "Even if māyā herself is destroyed along with all the universes, Kṛṣṇa does not consider it any loss.

কোটি-কামধেনু-পতির ছাগী যৈছে মরে ।
ষড়ৈশ্বর্য্যপতি কৃষ্ণের মায়া কিবা করে ? ॥ ১৭৯ ॥

koṭi-kāmadhenu-patira chāgī yaiche mare
of millions of wish-fulfilling cows of the owner a she-goat as dies ṣaḍ-aiśvarya-pati kṛṣṇera māyā kibā kare?
of the six opulences the Lord of Kṛṣṇa māyā what does 179 "It is like the death of a she-goat for the owner of millions of wish-fulfilling cows. What can māyā mean to Kṛṣṇa, the Lord of the six opulences?

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The literal sense of these verses is simple, but their inner meaning is hard. The inner meaning is this. When the jīva turns away from Kṛṣṇa and falls into the bondage of māyā, māyā creates endless millions of universes and makes those jīvas experience the fruits of karma, the consequence of their aversion to Kṛṣṇa. People turned away from Kṛṣṇa must certainly suffer the fruits of their karma. But for those who face Kṛṣṇa (kṛṣṇonmukha), that bondage of karma is destroyed completely by Kṛṣṇa's will.

Here one may object: "If becoming a devotee cuts off one's karma, and if all jīvas are delivered without punishment the moment some devotee wishes it, then whether a universe exists or not depends on a devotee's will. How then can Kṛṣṇa's world be properly governed?"

The Lord replied: "Kṛṣṇa's spiritual world is endless and immeasurable. There the hosts of His svarūpa-śakti serve Kṛṣṇa, their husband, in the form of wish-fulfilling cows (kāma-dhenus). That spiritual world, the opulence (vaibhava) of the svarūpa-śakti, is three quarters (tripāda). This material world, ruled by māyā, the shadow of the spiritual world, is one quarter (ekapāda). Māyā is only the shadow of the svarūpa-śakti. So for Kṛṣṇa, the master of millions of kāma-dhenus, she is no more than a single goat. If by the wish or at the request of a pure devotee one universe of māyā is delivered, Kṛṣṇa perceives no loss in it. Far from it: even if the very existence of goatlike māyā should vanish together with all the universes of māyā, Kṛṣṇa, the Lord of the six opulences, the master of millions of kāma-dhenus, suffers not the slightest loss. Can the real object suffer any harm when its shadow is destroyed?"

*(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.87.14)*

জয় জয় জহ্যজামজিত দোষগৃভীতগুণাং
ত্বমসি যদাত্মনা সমবরুদ্ধসমস্তভগঃ ।
অগজগদোকসামখিলশক্ত্যববোধক তে ক্বচিদজয়াত্মনা চ চরতোঽনুচরেন্নিগমঃ ॥ ১৮০ ॥

jaya jaya jahy ajām ajita doṣa-gṛbhīta-guṇāṁ glory glory destroy the unborn one O unconquered who for faults has taken up the qualities

tvam asi yad ātmanā sam-avaruddha-samasta-bhagaḥ
You are since by Yourself holding all excellences in full aga-jagad-okasām akhila-śakty-avabodhaka te of the unmoving and the moving beings of all potencies the awakener of You

kvacid ajayātmanā ca carato ʼnucaren nigamaḥ
sometimes with māyā and with Your own potency and acting describe the Vedas

180 "Glory, glory to You, O unconquered one! Destroy the unborn māyā, who has taken up the qualities to bring about faults, for in Yourself You hold all excellences in full. O awakener of all the potencies of moving and unmoving beings, the Vedas describe You sometimes as acting through māyā and sometimes through Your own potency." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.87.14)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O Ajita! Destroy that unborn one (ajā), avidyā or māyā, [who rules] the moving and the nonmoving, who has taken up the modes of goodness, passion and ignorance as faults. (Show Your victory, show Your victory!) For in You, who stand beyond māyā by Your own potency, all opulences are contained (by Your very nature). You awaken all the potencies of the world (as the indwelling Lord who awakens them). By Your own potency You enjoy pastimes in the vast spiritual world; and for some reason You glance at māyā, Your shadow potency, and through her You perform pastimes (of creation and so on). The Vedas describe (and establish) both kinds of Your pastimes.

Anubhāṣya.

In Janaloka, at the brahma-satra sacrifice, the brahmarṣi Sanandana, one of the four Kumāras, recounts to the sages eager to hear the prayer to Bhagavān offered by the personified Śrutis:

ajita (O You who are never overcome by māyā or anything else), jaya jaya (be sure to reveal Your supremacy — why do You not reveal it? — the repetition expresses respectful insistence) doṣa-gṛbhīta-guṇām (her who has taken up the modes for a fault — to cover bliss and so on) aga-jagad-okasām (of living beings whose bodies [okas] are nonmoving [aga] and moving [jagat]) ajām (māyā, avidyā) jahi (destroy — the sense is: so that she no longer torments the jīvas caught up in creation and the rest), yat (because) tvam ātmanā (by Your own essential supreme bliss, that is, by the potency not different from it) sam-avaruddha-samasta-bhagaḥ (have attained all opulences in full) asi (since māyā is subject to You, You alone) akhila-śakty-avabodhaka (awaken all potencies, material and spiritual — that is, You are their enjoyer and supreme master). kvacit (sometimes — at the time of creation and so on) ajayā (by māyā) ātmanā (by a reflection of Your part, while You Yourself remain untouched) carataḥ (who sport by Your glance) te (You — a genitive used for the object) nigamaḥ (the Veda) anucaret (establishes — according to such Śrutis as "From whom these beings are born," "Who in the beginning created Brahmā and who delivered the Vedas to him," "Who dwells in the self," "Brahman is truth, knowledge, infinity").[18]

The Lord bids farewell to all the devotees —

এই মত সর্ব্বভক্তের কহি' সব গুণ । সবারে বিদায় দিল করি' আলিঙ্গন ॥ ১৮১ ॥

ei mata sarva-bhaktera kahi' saba guṇa
in this way of all the devotees telling all qualities sabāre vidāya dila kari' āliṅgana to all farewell He gave making embrace

181 In this way the Lord spoke of the qualities of all the devotees. Then He embraced them all and bade them farewell.

The devotees and the Lord grieve, fearing their coming separation from each other —

প্রভুর বিচ্ছেদে ভক্ত করেন রোদন । ভক্তের বিচ্ছেদে প্রভুর বিষণ্ণ হৈল মন ॥ ১৮২ ॥

prabhura vicchede bhakta karena rodana
of the Lord in separation the devotees do weeping bhaktera vicchede prabhura viṣaṇṇa haila mana of the devotees in separation of the Lord sad became the mind

182 The devotees wept at parting from the Lord, and the Lord's heart grew sad at parting from His devotees.

Gadādhara is given the service of Ṭoṭā-Gopīnātha —

গদাধর-পণ্ডিত রহিলা প্রভুর পাশে । যমেশ্বরে প্রভু যাঁরে করাইলা আবাসে ॥ ১৮৩ ॥

gadādhara-paṇḍita rahilā prabhura pāśe Gadādhara Paṇḍita remained of the Lord beside yameśvare prabhu yāṁre karāilā āvāse
at Yameśvara the Lord whom had made to dwell

183 Gadādhara Paṇḍita, whom the Lord had settled at Yameśvara, remained near Him.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

A variant reading is "in Jaleśvara." This reading seems neither correct nor meaningful, for no pastime of Gadādhara Paṇḍita in the village of Jaleśvara is mentioned anywhere. On the sandy road by the sea, in Yameśvara-ṭoṭā, stands the temple of Śrī Ṭoṭā-Gopīnātha. There Gadādhara Paṇḍita (Gosvāmī) lived, absorbed in the service of Gopīnātha and the service of Mahāprabhu.

Anubhāṣya.

Yameśvara: in Puruṣottama, southwest of the Śrī Mandira, on the sands, lies Yameśvara-ṭoṭā, a garden. There Mahāprabhu gave Gadādhara Paṇḍita a place to live.

The Lord stays in Purī with six devotees —

পুরী-গোসাঞি, জগদানন্দ, স্বরূপ-দামোদর ।
দামোদর-পণ্ডিত, আর গোবিন্দ, কাশীশ্বর ॥ ১৮৪ ॥

এইসব সঙ্গে প্রভু বৈসে নীলাচলে । জগন্নাথ-দরশন নিত্য করে প্রাতঃকালে ॥ ১৮৫ ॥

purī-gosāñi, jagadānanda, svarūpa-dāmodara
Purī Gosāñi Jagadānanda Svarūpa Dāmodara
dāmodara-paṇḍita, āra govinda, kāśīśvara Dāmodara Paṇḍita and Govinda Kāśīśvara
eisaba saṅge prabhu vaise nīlācale
these all with the Lord stays at Nīlācala
jagannātha-daraśana nitya kare prātaḥ-kāle
Jagannātha's sight daily takes in the morning

184–185 With Purī Gosāñi (Paramānanda Purī), Jagadānanda, Svarūpa Dāmodara, Dāmodara Paṇḍita, Govinda and Kāśīśvara, the Lord stayed at Nīlācala, and every morning He went to see Jagannātha.

Sārvabhauma invites the Lord for a month —

প্রভু-পাশ আসি' সার্ব্বভৌম এক দিন । যোড়হাত করি' কিছু কৈল নিবেদন ॥ ১৮৬ ॥

prabhu-pāśa āsi' sārvabhauma eka dina
to the Lord coming Sārvabhauma one day
yoḍa-hāta kari' kichu kaila nivedana joined palms making something made petition

186 One day Sārvabhauma came to the Lord and, with folded hands, made a request.

এবে সব বৈষ্ণব গৌড়দেশে চলি' গেল । এবে প্রভুর নিমন্ত্রণে অবসর হৈল ॥ ১৮৭ ॥

ebe saba vaiṣṇava gauḍa-deśe cali' gela
now all the Vaiṣṇavas to the land of Gauḍa having gone departed
ebe prabhura nimantraṇe avasara haila
now the Lord's for inviting opportunity has come

187 "Now that all the Vaiṣṇavas have gone back to Gauḍa, there is an opportunity to invite You.

*The Lord objects on hearing of "a month-long invitation" and shortens the period of meals, since it is against the duty of a sannyāsī —*

এবে মোর ঘরে ভিক্ষা করহ 'মাস' ভরি' । প্রভু কহে, — ধর্ম্ম নহে, করিতে না পারি ॥ ১৮৮ ॥

ebe mora ghare bhikṣā karaha 'māsa' bhari'
now my in the house meals take a month full prabhu kahe, — dharma nahe, karite nā pāri the Lord says dharma it is not to do not I can 188 "Please take Your meals at my house for a whole month." The Lord said, "That is not dharma; I cannot do it."

The Bhaṭṭa raises the number of days, the Lord keeps reducing it, until He agrees to a single day —

সার্ব্বভৌম কহে, — ভিক্ষা করহ 'বিশ' দিন । প্রভু কহে, — এ নহে যতিধর্ম্ম-চিহ্ন ॥ ১৮৯ ॥

sārvabhauma kahe, — bhikṣā karaha 'biśa' dina Sārvabhauma says meals take twenty days
prabhu kahe, — e nahe yati-dharma-cihna
the Lord says this not of a renunciant's dharma the mark

189 Sārvabhauma said, "Then take Your meals with me for twenty days." The Lord said, "That is not in keeping with a renunciant's dharma."

সার্ব্বভৌম কহে পুনঃ, — দিন ‘পঞ্চদশ’ । প্রভু কহে, — তোমার ভিক্ষা ‘এক’ দিবস ॥ ১৯০ ॥

sārvabhauma kahe punaḥ, — dina ‘pañca-daśa’ Sārvabhauma says again days fifteen prabhu kahe, — tomāra bhikṣā ‘eka’ divasa
the Lord says your meal one day

190 Sārvabhauma said again, “Then fifteen days.” The Lord said, “I shall take a meal with you for one day.”

With great humility and entreaty the Bhaṭṭa tries for 10 days —

তবে সার্ব্বভৌম প্রভুর চরণ ধরিয়া । ‘দশদিন ভিক্ষা কর’ কহে বিনতি করিয়া ॥ ১৯১ ॥

tabe sārvabhauma prabhura caraṇa dhariyā
then Sārvabhauma of the Lord the feet clasping ‘daśadina bhikṣā kara’ kahe vinati kariyā
“for ten days meals take” says entreaty making

191 Then Sārvabhauma clasped the Lord’s feet and entreated Him: “Take Your meals with me for ten days.”

At last [the Lord] accepts meals for 5 days —

প্রভু ক্রমে ক্রমে পাঁচ-দিন ঘাটাইল । পাঁচ-দিন তাঁর ভিক্ষা-নিমন্ত্রণ নিল ॥ ১৯২ ॥

prabhu krame krame pāṁca-dina ghāṭāila
the Lord step by step to five days reduced pāṁca-dina tāṁra bhikṣā-nimantraṇa nila
for five days his invitation to meals accepted

192 Step by step the Lord brought it down to five days, and He accepted his invitation for five days.

Anubhāṣya.

Although the Lord is affectionate to His devotees, He keeps the duties of His āśrama.

*Arranging invitations for the ten sannyāsīs —*

তবে সার্ব্বভৌম করে আর নিবেদন । তোমার সঙ্গে সন্ন্যাসী আছে দশজন ॥ ১৯৩ ॥

tabe sārvabhauma kare āra nivedana
then Sārvabhauma makes another petition
tomāra saṅge sannyāsī āche daśajana
You with sannyāsīs there are ten persons

193 Then Sārvabhauma made another request: "Ten sannyāsīs are with You.

Anubhāṣya.
The ten sannyāsīs: (1) Paramānanda Purī, (2) Dāmodara Svarūpa, (3) Brahmānanda Purī, (4) Brahmānanda Bhāratī, (5) Viṣṇu Purī, (6) Keśava Purī, (7) Kṛṣṇānanda Purī, (8) Nṛsiṁha Tīrtha, (9) Sukhānanda Purī, (10) Satyānanda Bhāratī.

Meals for Paramānanda Purī on 5 days —

পুরী-গোসাঞির ভিক্ষা পাঁচদিন মোর ঘরে । পূর্ব্বে আমি কহিয়াছোঁ তোমার গোচরে ॥ ১৯৪ ॥

purī-gosāñira bhikṣā pāṁca-dina mora ghare
of Purī Gosāñi the meals five days in my house
pūrve āmi kahiyāchoṁ tomāra gocare
before I have told Your to notice

194 "I have already told You that Purī Gosāñi will take his meals at my house for five days.

Svarūpa agrees to meals on 4 days, sometimes with the Lord and sometimes

alone —

দামোদর-স্বরূপ, — এই বান্ধব আমার । কভু তোমার সঙ্গে যাবে কভু একেশ্বর ॥ ১৯৫ ॥

dāmodara-svarūpa, — ei bāndhava āmāra Dāmodara Svarūpa this friend mine
kabhu tomāra saṅge yābe kabhu ekeśvara
sometimes You with he will come sometimes alone

195 "Svarūpa Dāmodara is my friend: he will come sometimes with You and sometimes alone.

*Meals for the remaining 8 sannyāsīs on 16 days —*

আর অষ্ট সন্ন্যাসীর ভিক্ষা দুই দুই দিবসে । এক একদিন এক এক জনে পূর্ণ হৈল মাসে ॥ ১৯৬ ॥

āra aṣṭa sannyāsīra bhikṣā dui dui divase
the other eight sannyāsīs' meals two two days
eka ekadina eka eka jane pūrṇa haila māse
one a day one one person full became the month

196 "The other eight sannyāsīs will take their meals with me for two days each, one person each day. In this way the month will be filled.

Anubhāṣya.
"The other eight sannyāsīs": the remaining eight besides Paramānanda Purī and Dāmodara Svarūpa. "The month was filled": 5 days for Śrī Mahāprabhu, 5 days for Paramānanda Purī, 4 days for Dāmodara Svarūpa and 16 days for the eight sannyāsīs — 30 days in all, a full month.

*If ten sannyāsīs come together, due respect cannot be shown to each, and [Sārvabhauma] fears an offense —*

বহুত সন্ন্যাসী যদি আইসে এক ঠাঞি । সম্মান করিতে নারি, অপরাধ পাই ॥ ১৯৭ ॥

bahuta sannyāsī yadi āise eka ṭhāñi
many sannyāsīs if come to one place
sammāna karite nāri, aparādha pāi honour to give I cannot offence I incur

197 “If many sannyāsīs come at once, I will not be able to honour them properly and will commit an offence.

The invitation: sometimes alone, sometimes together with Svarūpa —

তুমিহ নিজ-ছায়ে আসিবে মোর ঘরে । কভু সঙ্গে আনিবে স্বরূপ-দামোদরে ॥ ১৯৮ ॥

tumiha nija-chāye āsibe mora ghare
You Yourself with Your own shadow will come to my house
kabhu saṅge ānibe svarūpa-dāmodare
sometimes with You will bring Svarūpa Dāmodara

198 “Please come to my house alone, with only Your own shadow, and sometimes bring Svarūpa Dāmodara with You.”[7]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Nija-chāye: “with one's own shadow,” that is, alone.

With the Lord's approval [Sārvabhauma] invites Him —

প্রভুর ইঙ্গিত পাঞা আনন্দিত মন । সেই দিন মহাপ্রভুর কৈল নিমন্ত্রণ ॥ ১৯৯ ॥

prabhura iṅgita pāñā ānandita mana of the Lord the sign receiving joyful mind
sei dina mahāprabhura kaila nimantraṇa
that day Mahāprabhu made invitation

199 Receiving the Lord’s sign of consent, Sārvabhauma was delighted, and that same day he invited Mahāprabhu.

The Bhaṭṭa's wife, Ṣāṭhī's mother, is a devotee of the Lord —

‘ষাঠীর মাতা’ নাম, ভট্টাচার্য্যের গৃহিণী ।
প্রভুর মহাভক্ত তিঁহো, স্নেহেতে জননী ॥ ২০০ ॥

‘ṣāṭhīra mātā’ nāma, bhaṭṭācāryera gṛhiṇī “Ṣāṭhī’s mother” by name of the Bhaṭṭācārya the wife
prabhura mahā-bhakta tiṁho, snehete jananī
of the Lord a great devotee she in affection a mother

200 The Bhaṭṭācārya’s wife, known as Ṣāṭhī’s mother, was a great devotee of the Lord and loved Him like a mother.

Ṣāṭhī's mother cooks —

ঘরে আসি’ ভট্টাচার্য্য তাঁরে আজ্ঞা দিল । আনন্দে ষাঠীর মাতা পাক চড়াইল ॥ ২০১ ॥

ghare āsi’ bhaṭṭācārya tāṁre ājñā dila home coming the Bhaṭṭācārya to her order gave ānande ṣāṭhīra mātā pāka caḍāila
in joy Ṣāṭhī’s mother cooking set going

201 When the Bhaṭṭācārya came home, he asked her to cook, and Ṣāṭhī’s mother joyfully set about it.

[Sārvabhauma] gathers greens, fruits and much else for the offering —

ভট্টাচার্য্যের গৃহে সব দ্রব্য আছে ভরি’ । যেবা শাকফলাদিক, আনিল আহরি’ ॥ ২০২ ॥

bhaṭṭācāryera gṛhe saba dravya āche bhari’ of the Bhaṭṭācārya in the house all provisions are in plenty yebā śāka-phalādika, ānila āhari’
whatever greens, fruits and so on he brought collecting

202 His house was well stocked with every provision; whatever greens, fruits and other things were needed, he gathered and brought.

Anubhāṣya.
Bhari: full. Āhari: having procured.

The Bhaṭṭa himself helps his wife with the cooking —[19]

আপনি ভট্টাচার্য্য করে পাকের সব মর্ম্ম ।
ষাঠীর মাতা — বিচক্ষণা, জানে পাকের কর্ম্ম ॥ ২০৩ ॥

āpani bhaṭṭācārya kare pākera saba marma himself the Bhaṭṭācārya does of the cooking all the essentials
ṣāṭhīra mātā — vicakṣaṇā, jāne pāka karma
Ṣāṭhī's mother skilled knows of cooking the work

203 The Bhaṭṭācārya himself saw to all the finer points of the cooking, and Ṣāṭhī's mother, skilled as she was, knew the whole craft of it.

The rooms for offering the food —

পাকশালার দক্ষিণে — দুই ভোগালয় । এক-ঘরে শালগ্রামের ভোগ-সেবা হয় ॥ ২০৪ ॥

pāka-śālāra dakṣiṇe — dui bhogālaya
of the kitchen to the south two rooms for offering eka-ghare śālagrāmera bhoga-sevā haya
in one room of the Śālagrāma the offering of food is done

204 To the south of the kitchen were two rooms for offering food. In one of them food was offered to Nārāyaṇa in His form as the Śālagrāma.

আর ঘর মহাপ্রভুর ভিক্ষার লাগিয়া । নিভৃতে করিয়াছে ভট্ট নূতন করিয়া ॥ ২০৫ ॥

āra ghara mahāprabhura bhikṣāra lāgiyā
the other room of Mahāprabhu the meal for the sake of nibhṛte kariyāche bhaṭṭa nūtana kariyā
in a secluded place had made Bhaṭṭa newly making

205 The other room was for Mahāprabhu's meals; the Bhaṭṭa had newly built it in a secluded spot.

বাহ্যে এক দ্বার তার, প্রভু প্রবেশিতে । পাকশালার এক দ্বার অন্ন পরিবেশিতে ॥ ২০৬ ॥

bāhye eka dvāra tāra, prabhu praveśite outside one door of it for the Lord to enter pāka-śālāra eka dvāra anna pariveśite
of the kitchen one door food to serve

206 It had one door to the outside, for the Lord to enter, and one door from the kitchen, for serving the food.

A wonderful offering —

বত্তিশা-আঠিয়া কলার আঙ্গটিয়া পাতে । তিন-মান তণ্ডুলের উভারিল ভাতে ॥ ২০৭ ॥

battiśā-āṭhiyā kalāra āṅgaṭiyā pāte
of the battiśā-āṭhiyā banana whole on leaves
tina-māna taṇḍulera ubhārila bhāte
three mānas of rice heaped out cooked rice

207 On a whole leaf of the battiśā-āṭhiyā banana they heaped rice cooked from three mānas of grain.[8]

Anubhāṣya.
Ubhārila: poured out.

পীত-সুগন্ধি-ঘৃতে অন্ন সিক্ত কৈল । চারিদিকে পাতে ঘৃত বহিয়া চলিল ॥ ২০৮ ॥

pīta-sugandhi-ghṛte anna sikta kaila
with yellow fragrant ghee the rice soaked made cāri-dike pāte ghṛta vahiyā calila on four sides on the leaf the ghee flowing went

208 The rice was soaked with fragrant yellow ghee, which ran over the leaf on all sides.

কেয়াপত্র-কলাখোলা-ডোঙ্গা সারি সারি । চারিদিকে ধরিয়াছে নানা ব্যঞ্জন ভরি' ॥ ২০৯ ॥

keyāpatra-kalākholā-ḍoṅgā sāri sāri
keyā-leaf and banana-bark cups row upon row
cāri-dike dhariyāche nānā vyañjana bhari'
on four sides they placed various vegetables filling

209 All around it, row upon row, cups of keyā leaves and banana bark were set out, filled with various vegetable dishes.

দশপ্রকার শাক, নিম্ব-তিক্ত-সুকুত-ঝোল । মরিচের ঝাল, ছানাবড়া, বড়া, ঘোল ॥ ২১০ ॥

daśaprakāra śāka, nimba-tikta-sukuta-jhola
ten kinds of greens bitter-with-nim sukuta soup
maricera jhāla, chānā-baḍā, baḍā, ghola
of pepper the jhāla chānā baḍās baḍās buttermilk

210 There were ten kinds of greens, a bitter sukuta soup with nim, a peppery jhāla, chānā-baḍās, baḍās and buttermilk.

দুগ্ধতুম্বী, দুগ্ধ কুষ্মাণ্ড, বেসর, লাফ্রা । মোচাঘণ্ট, মোচাভাজা, বিবিধ শাক্রা ॥ ২১১ ॥

dugdha-tumbī, dugdha kuṣmāṇḍa, vesara, lāphrā
bottle gourd in milk in milk pumpkin vesara lāphrā
mocā-ghaṇṭa, mocā-bhājā, vividha śākrā
banana-flower ghaṇṭa fried banana flowers various śākrā

211 There was bottle gourd and pumpkin cooked in milk, vesara and lāphrā, banana flowers made into a ghaṇṭa and fried, and various kinds of śākrā.

Anubhāṣya.

Dugdha-tumbī: a bottle gourd (lāu) cooked in milk. Vesara: a vegetable dish made with ground mustard seed; in Utkala it is called vesara. Śākrā: a vegetable dish with a sweet taste.

বৃদ্ধ কুষ্মাণ্ডবড়ীর ব্যঞ্জন অপার ৷ ফুলবড়ী-ফল-মূল বিবিধ প্রকার ॥ ২১২ ॥

vṛddha kuṣmāṇḍa-baḍīra vyañjana apāra of ripe pumpkin baḍīs dishes countless phulabaḍī-phala-mūla vividha prakāra
phula-baḍīs, fruits and roots various kinds

212 There were countless dishes of baḍīs made with ripe pumpkin, and phula-baḍīs, fruits and roots of many kinds.

নব-নিম্বপত্র-সহ ভৃষ্ট-বার্ত্তাকী ৷ ফুলবড়ী, পটোল-ভাজা, কুষ্মাণ্ড মান-চাকী ॥ ২১৩ ॥

nava-nimbapatra-saha bhṛṣṭa-vārtākī
with tender nim leaves fried eggplant phula-baḍī, paṭola-bhājā, kuṣmāṇḍa māna-cākī
phula-baḍī fried paṭola pumpkin mānacāki

213 There was eggplant fried with tender nim leaves, phula-baḍī, fried paṭola, and pumpkin and māna-kacu cut in rounds and fried.

Anubhāṣya.

Bhṛṣṭa-vārtākī: fried eggplant. Kuṣmāṇḍa-māna-cākī: pumpkin and māna-kacu (a large arum root) cut into small rounds and fried.

ভৃষ্ট-মাষ-মুদ্গ-সূপ অমৃত নিন্দয় ৷ মধুরাম্ল, বড়াম্লাদি অম্ল পাঁচ ছয় ॥ ২১৪ ॥

bhṛṣṭa-māṣa-mudga-sūpa amṛta nindaya
of fried urad and mung soup nectar puts to shame
madhurāmla, baḍāmlādi amla pāṁca chaya
sweet-and-sour baḍāmla and others sour dishes five six

214 There was a soup of fried urad and mung dāl that put nectar to shame, a sweet-and-sour chutney, baḍāmla and other sour dishes — five or six of them.

Anubhāṣya.
Madhurāmla: chutney, a sweet-and-sour dish (amla). Baḍāmla: a sour dish (amla) made with dal dumplings (baḍā). Bhṛṣṭa-māṣa-mudga-sūpa: dal of roasted kalāi (urad) and dal of roasted mung.

মুদ্গবড়া, মাষবড়া, কলাবড়া মিষ্ট । ক্ষীরপুলি, নারিকেলপুলী, আর যত পিষ্ট ॥ ২১৫ ॥

mudga-baḍā, māṣa-baḍā, kalā-baḍā miṣṭa
mung baḍās urad baḍās banana baḍās sweet kṣīra-puli, nārikela-pulī, āra yata piṣṭa
kṣīra-puli coconut pulī and all cakes

215 There were baḍās of mung and of urad, sweet banana baḍās, kṣīra-puli, coconut pulī and every kind of cake.

Anubhāṣya.
Māṣa-baḍā: dumplings (baḍā) of kalāi (urad) dal.

কাঁজিবড়া, দুগ্ধ-চিড়া, দুগ্ধ-লক্লকী । আর যত পিঠা কৈল, কহিতে না শকি ॥ ২১৬ ॥

kāṁji-baḍā, dugdha-ciḍā, dugdha-laklakī
kāǰi baḍās flat rice in milk milk laklakī
āra yata piṭhā kaila, kahite nā śaki and as many cakes they made to tell not I can 216 There were kāǰi-baḍās, flat rice in milk and milk laklakī. I cannot describe all the cakes that were made.

Anubhāṣya.
Dugdha-laklakī: cuṣī-puli.

ঘৃত সিক্ত পরমান্ন, মৃৎকুণ্ডিকা ভরি' । চাঁপাকলা-ঘনদুগ্ধ-আম্র তাহা ধরি ॥ ২১৭ ॥

ghṛta sikta paramānna, mṛt-kuṇḍikā bhari'
with ghee soaked sweet rice earthen pots filling cāmpākalā-ghanadugdha-āmra tāhā dhari cāṕā bananas, thick milk and mangoes in it placing 217 Sweet rice soaked with ghee filled earthen pots, with cāṕā bananas, thickened milk and mangoes set in it.

রসালা-মথিত দধি, সন্দেশ অপার । গৌড়ে উৎকলে যত ভক্ষ্যের প্রকার ॥ ২১৮ ॥

rasālā-mathita dadhi, sandeśa apāra rasālā churned yogurt sandeśa countless gauḍe utkale yata bhakṣyera prakāra
in Gauḍa in Utkala as many of foods kinds

218 There was rasālā, churned yogurt and countless sandeśas — every kind of food known in Gauḍa and Utkala.

The seat and the arrangement of the offering —

শ্রদ্ধা করি' ভট্টাচার্য্য সব করাইল । শুভ্র-পীঠোপরি সূক্ষ্ম বসন পাতিল ॥ ২১৯ ॥

śraddhā kari' bhaṭṭācārya saba karāila with faith making the Bhaṭṭācārya all had made śubhra-pīṭhopari sūkṣma vasana pātila
on a white seat fine cloth spread

219 The Bhaṭṭācārya had all this prepared with faith. On a white wooden seat he spread a fine cloth.

Anubhāṣya.

Śubhra-pīṭha: a piece of fine cloth was spread over a white wooden board (piṁḍi), and so the seat was prepared.

দুই-পাশে সুগন্ধি শীতল জল-ঝারী । অন্ন-ব্যঞ্জনোপরি দিল তুলসী-মঞ্জরী ॥ ২২০ ॥

dui-pāśe sugandhi śītala jala-jhārī
on two sides fragrant cool water pitchers anna-vyañjanopari dila tulasī-mañjarī
over the rice and vegetables placed tulasī buds

220 On either side stood pitchers of cool, fragrant water, and he placed tulasī buds on the rice and vegetables.

অমৃত-গুটিকা, পিঠা-পানা আনাইল । জগন্নাথ-প্রসাদ সব পৃথক্ ধরিল ॥ ২২১ ॥

amṛta-guṭikā, piṭhā-pānā ānāila amṛta-guṭikā cakes and sweet drinks had brought jagannātha-prasāda saba pṛthak dharila Jagannātha's prasāda all separately placed

221 He also had amṛta-guṭikā, cakes and sweet drinks brought, and he kept all of Jagannātha's prasāda apart.

Anubhāṣya.

He did not mix the rice and other food cooked in his own house, not yet offered (aprasādi, anarpita), with Jagannātha's prasāda; he took care over this and kept them in separate places so that the two would not mix.

Anubhāṣya.

The author of the book, Śrīmat Kavirāja Gosvāmī, by his fine description of the meal, displays his own surpassing skill in cooking, serving and the like. See Madhya 3.44–55.

After His midday bath the Lord comes alone —

হেনকালে মহাপ্রভু মধ্যাহ্ন করিয়া । একলে আইল তাঁর হৃদয় জানিয়া ॥ ২২২ ॥

hena-kāle mahāprabhu madhyāhna kariyā
at that time Mahāprabhu the midday duties finishing ekale āila tāṁra hṛdaya jāniyā alone came his heart knowing

222 At that time Mahāprabhu, having finished His midday duties, came alone, knowing the Bhaṭṭācārya's heart.

The Bhaṭṭa washes the Lord's feet and brings Him into the house —

ভট্টাচার্য্য কৈল তবে পাদ প্রক্ষালন । ঘরের ভিতরে গেলা করিতে ভোজন ॥ ২২৩ ॥

bhaṭṭācārya kaila tabe pāda prakṣālana
the Bhaṭṭācārya did then of the feet washing gharera bhitare gelā karite bhojana
of the room inside went to take the meal

223 The Bhaṭṭācārya then washed His feet, and the Lord went into the room to take His meal.

Seeing the offering, the Lord is astonished and praises the meal —

অন্নাদি দেখিয়া প্রভু বিস্মিত হঞা । ভট্টাচার্য্যে কহে কিছু ভঙ্গি করিয়া ॥ ২২৪ ॥

annādi dekhiyā prabhu vismita hañā
the rice and the rest seeing the Lord astonished being bhaṭṭācārye kahe kichu bhaṅgi kariyā
to the Bhaṭṭācārya says something a gesture making

224 Seeing the rice and all the dishes, the Lord was astonished, and with a playful gesture He said to the Bhaṭṭācārya:

অলৌকিক এই সব অন্ন-ব্যঞ্জন । দুই প্রহর ভিতরে কৈছে হইল রন্ধন ॥ ২২৫ ॥

alaukika ei saba anna-vyañjana extraordinary these all rice and vegetables
dui prahara bhitare kaiche ha-ila randhana
two praharas within how was done the cooking

225 "All this rice and these dishes are extraordinary! How could they have been cooked within two praharas?

শত চুলায় শত জন পাক যদি করে । তবু শীঘ্র এত দ্রব্য রান্ধিতে না পারে ॥ ২২৬ ॥

śata culāya śata jana pāka yadi kare
a hundred on stoves a hundred people cooking if do tabu śīghra eta dravya rāndhite nā pāre still quickly so much food to cook not can 226 "Even if a hundred people cooked on a hundred stoves, they could not cook so much food so quickly.

*Seeing the tulasī buds, [the Lord] infers that the meal has been offered to Kṛṣṇa —*

কৃষ্ণের ভোগ লাগাঞাছ, — অনুমান করি । উপরে দেখিয়ে যাতে তুলসী-মঞ্জরী ॥ ২২৭ ॥

kṛṣṇera bhoga lāgāñācha, — anumāna kari to Kṛṣṇa the food you have offered a guess I make upare dekhiye yāte tulasī-mañjarī
on top I see since tulasī buds

227 "I take it that you have offered this food to Kṛṣṇa, since I see tulasī buds on top of it.

ভাগ্যবান্ তুমি, সফল তোমার উদ্যোগ । রাধাকৃষ্ণে লাগাঞাছ এতাদৃশ ভোগ ॥ ২২৮ ॥

bhāgyavān tumi, saphala tomāra udyoga fortunate you successful your effort
rādhā-kṛṣṇe lāgāñācha etādṛśa bhoga
to Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa you have offered such a feast

228 "You are fortunate, and your effort has borne fruit: you have offered such a feast to Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa.

অন্নের সৌরভ্য, বর্ণ — অতি মনোরম ।
রাধাকৃষ্ণ সাক্ষাৎ ইঁহা করিয়াছেন ভোজন ॥ ২২৯ ॥

annera saurabhya, varṇa — ati manorama
of the rice the fragrance the colour very charming rādhā-kṛṣṇa sākṣāt iṁhā kariyāchena bhojana Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa in person this have done eating

229 "The fragrance and colour of the rice are most charming. Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa Themselves have eaten of it.

Anubhāṣya.
Saurabhya: fragrance. Varṇa: white color.

Having praised the meal, the Lord praises His own good fortune —

তোমার বহুত ভাগ্য কত প্রশংসিব । আমি — ভাগ্যবান্, ইহার অবশেষ পাব ॥ ২৩০ ॥

tomāra bahuta bhāgya kata praśaṁsiba
your great fortune how much shall I praise
āmi — bhāgyavān, ihāra avaśeṣa pāba
I am fortunate of it the remnants I shall get 230 "How can I praise your great fortune enough? I too am fortunate, for I shall receive the remnants.

*[The Lord] asks that Kṛṣṇa's seat be removed and prasāda given Him on a separate plate —*

কৃষ্ণের আসন-পীঠ রাখ উঠাঞা । মোরে প্রসাদ দেহ' ভিন্ন পাত্র করিয়া ॥ ২৩১ ॥

kṛṣṇera āsana-pīṭha rākha uṭhāñā Kṛṣṇa's seat keep removing more prasāda deha' bhinna pātra kariyā
to Me prasāda give a separate plate making

231 "Take away Kṛṣṇa's seat and keep it aside, and give Me prasāda on a separate plate."[9]

The Bhaṭṭa describes the power of the Lord's mercy —

ভট্টাচার্য্য বলে, — প্রভু, না করহ বিস্ময় । যেই খাবে, তাঁর শক্ত্যে ভোগ সিদ্ধ হয় ॥ ২৩২ ॥

bhaṭṭācārya bale, — prabhu, nā karaha vismaya
the Bhaṭṭācārya says O Lord not make wonder yei khābe, tāṁra śaktye bhoga siddha haya who will eat by His potency the feast accomplished becomes 232 The Bhaṭṭācārya said, "O Lord, do not be astonished. By the potency of Him who will eat it, the feast was made ready.

উদ্যোগ না ছিল মোর গৃহিণীর রন্ধনে । যাঁর শক্ত্যে ভোগ সিদ্ধ, সেই তাহা জানে ॥ ২৩৩ ॥

udyoga nā chila mora gṛhiṇīra randhane effort not there was my wife's in the cooking
yāṁra śaktye bhoga siddha, sei tāhā jāne
by whose potency the feast accomplished He that knows

233 "My wife did not have to labour at the cooking. He by whose potency the feast was made ready knows how it was done.

[The Bhaṭṭa] asks the Lord to accept the seat on which the meal was offered; out of respect for Kṛṣṇa's seat the Lord declines —

এইত আসনে বসি' করহ ভোজন । প্রভু কহে, — পূজ্য এই কৃষ্ণের আসন ॥ ২৩৪ ॥

eita āsane vasi' karaha bhojana
on this very seat sitting take the meal
prabhu kahe, — pūjya ei kṛṣṇera āsana
the Lord says worshipable this Kṛṣṇa's seat

234 "Please sit on this very seat and take Your meal." The Lord said, "This seat of Kṛṣṇa's is to be worshipped."

*The food and the seat Kṛṣṇa has enjoyed are both prasāda —*

ভট্ট কহে, — অন্ন, পীঠ, — সমান প্রসাদ । অন্ন খাবে, পীঠে বসিতে কাঁহা অপরাধ ? ॥ ২৩৫ ॥

bhaṭṭa kahe, — anna, pīṭha, — samāna prasāda Bhaṭṭa says the food the seat equally prasāda
anna khābe, pīṭhe vasite kāṁhā aparādha?
the food You will eat on the seat to sit where offence

235 Bhaṭṭa said, "The food and the seat are equally prasāda. If You will eat the food, what offence can there be in sitting on the seat?"

Anubhāṣya.
Both the rice and the seat (pīṭha, or piṁḍi) are remnants (nirmālya) enjoyed by Kṛṣṇa. One eats the rice of the offering knowing it to be "Bhagavān's remnants," and so honors it. The seat has served as Bhagavān's seat, and one accepts it too, regarding it as prasāda, His remnant. How then can there be any offense?

The Lord praises the Bhaṭṭa's sound conclusion and agrees —

প্রভু কহে, — ভাল কৈলে, শাস্ত্র-আজ্ঞা হয় । কৃষ্ণের সকল শেষ ভৃত্য আস্বাদয় ॥ ২৩৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — bhāla kaile, śāstra-ājñā haya
the Lord says well you have done scripture's command it is kṛṣṇera sakala śeṣa bhṛtya āsvādaya
Kṛṣṇa's all remnants the servant relishes

236 The Lord said, "You are right; this is the command of scripture: the servant relishes all that Kṛṣṇa leaves.

*Only by accepting the prasāda Bhagavān has enjoyed is insurmountable māyā conquered (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 11.6.46) —*

ত্বয়োপযুক্তস্রগ্গন্ধবাসোঽলঙ্কারচর্চ্চিতাঃ ৷ উচ্ছিষ্টভোজিনো দাসাস্তব মায়াং জয়েম হি ॥ ২৩৭ ॥

tvayopayukta-srag-gandha-
by You used garlands scents
vāso 'laṅkāra-carcitāḥ clothes with ornaments adorned ucchiṣṭa-bhojino dāsās
remnants eating servants
tava māyāṁ jayema hi
Your māyā shall conquer surely

237 " 'Adorned with the garlands, scents, clothes and ornaments You have used, and eating Your remnants, we, Your servants, shall surely conquer Your māyā.' (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 11.6.46)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
We, Your servants, adorn ourselves with what has been offered to You — garlands, fragrances, clothes, ornaments and the rest — and eat Your remnants. In this way we shall surely be able to conquer Your māyā.

Anubhāṣya.
Before the conversation between Bhagavān and Uddhava, the Uddhava-gītā, began, great calamities broke out in Dvārakā by Bhagavān's will. Then Uddhava, [Kṛṣṇa's] dearest servant, understanding that Śrī Kṛṣṇa wished to withdraw His manifest pastimes from this world and enter His unmanifest pastimes, offered Kṛṣṇa this prayer with deep love:

tvayopayukta-srag-gandha-vāso'laṅkāra-carcitāḥ (adorned with the garlands, sandalwood, clothes and ornaments You have enjoyed)[20] ucchiṣṭa-bhojinaḥ (whose custom is to eat the remnants, the prasāda food) dāsāḥ (we servants) hi (in the sense of "certainly") tava māyām (insurmountable material nature) jayema (shall be able to conquer).

The Lord objects that so much food cannot be eaten; the Bhaṭṭa gently reproaches Him —

তথাপি এতেক অন্ন খাওন না যায় । ভট্ট কহে, — জানি, খাও, যতেক যুয়ায় ॥ ২৩৮ ॥

tathāpi eteka anna khāona nā yāya
still so much food to eat not possible
bhaṭṭa kahe, — jāni, khāo, yateka yuyāya
Bhaṭṭa says I know eat as much as befits

238 "Still, no one can eat so much food." Bhaṭṭa said, "I know how much You eat. Eat as much as befits You.

নীলাচলে ভোজন তুমি কর বায়ান্ন বার । এক এক ভোগের অন্ন শত শত ভার ॥ ২৩৯ ॥

nīlācale bhojana tumi kara bāyānna bāra
at Nīlācala meals You take fifty-two times
eka eka bhogera anna śata śata bhāra
each each offering's food hundreds hundreds loads

239 "At Nīlācala You eat fifty-two times, and the food of each offering comes in hundreds upon hundreds of loads.

How the Lord ate in His pastimes in Dvārakā, Mathurā and Vraja —

দ্বারকাতে ষোল-সহস্র মহিষীমন্দিরে । অষ্টাদশ মাতা, আর যাদবের ঘরে ॥ ২৪০ ॥

dvārakāte ṣola-sahasra mahiṣī-mandire
in Dvārakā sixteen thousand in the queens' palaces aṣṭādaśa mātā, āra yādavera ghare
eighteen mothers and of the Yādavas in the houses

240 "In Dvārakā You eat in the palaces of the sixteen thousand queens, in the homes of Your eighteen mothers and in the houses of the Yādavas.

Anubhāṣya.
The eighteen mothers: Devakī, Rohiṇī and others.

ব্রজে জ্যেঠা, খুড়া, মামা, পিসাদি গোপগণ ।
সখাবৃন্দ সবার ঘরে দ্বিসন্ধ্যা-ভোজন ॥ ২৪১ ॥

vraje jyeṭhā, khuḍā, māmā, pisādi gopa-gaṇa
in Vraja elder uncles younger uncles maternal uncles aunts' husbands and other cowherds sakhā-vṛnda sabāra ghare dvisandhyā-bhojana
friends of all in the houses meals at both twilights

241 "In Vraja You eat twice a day, morning and evening, in the houses of all the cowherds — Your uncles on Your father's and mother's side, the husbands of Your aunts and others — and of all Your friends.

Anubhāṣya.
In Vraja, jyeṭhā (the father's elder brothers) — (in Śrī Rūpa Prabhu's Śrī Kṛṣṇa-gaṇoddeśa-dīpikā): "Upananda and Abhinanda are the father's elder brothers"; that is, Upananda and Abhinanda are Kṛṣṇa's two elder paternal uncles.

Khuḍā (the father's younger brothers) — (in the same Kṛṣṇa-gaṇoddeśa-dīpikā): "The father's younger brothers are Sannanda and Nandana"; that is, "Sannanda" and "Nandana," or "Sunanda" and "Pāṇḍava," are Kṛṣṇa's younger paternal uncles.

Māmā (maternal uncles) — (in the same Kṛṣṇa-gaṇoddeśa-dīpikā): "Yaśodhara, Yaśodeva, Sudeva and others are the maternal uncles"; that is, "Yaśodhara," "Yaśodeva," "Sudeva" and others are Kṛṣṇa's maternal uncles.

Pisā (husbands of the father's sisters) — (in the same Śrī Kṛṣṇa-gaṇoddeśa-dīpikā): "Mahānīla and Sunīla are the husbands of these two, respectively"; that is, “Mahānīla” and “Sunīla” are the two husbands of Kṛṣṇa's paternal aunts, the aunts named “Sānandā” and “Nandinī.”

Friends — (in the appendix to the same Kṛṣṇa-gaṇoddeśa-dīpikā): “Viśāla, Vṛṣabha, Ojasvī, Devaprastha, Varūthapa, Mandāra, Kusumāpīḍa, Maṇibandha, Karandhama, Mandara, Candana, Kunda, Kalinda, Kulika and others are friends ‘like younger brothers,’ full of great eagerness for service.” “Śrīdāmā, Dāmā, Sudāmā, Vasudāmā, and also Kiṅkiṇī (?), Bhadrasena, Aṁśu, Stokakṛṣṇa, Vilāsī, Puṇḍarīka, Viṭaṅkākṣa, Kalaviṅka and Priyaṅkara are the ‘dear friends’ (priya-sakhās), gentle, and are considered equal to Kṛṣṇa's very life.” “Subala, Arjuna, Gandharva, Vasanta, Ujjvala, Kokila, Sanandana, Vidagdha and others are considered the ‘intimate friends’ (priya-narma-sakhās).”

Compared with that quantity, the food offered by a devotee is very little —

গোবর্দ্ধন-যজ্ঞে অন্ন খাইলা রাশি রাশি । তার লেখায় এই অন্ন নহে এক গ্রাসী ॥ ২৪২ ॥

govarddhana-yajñe anna khāilā rāśi rāśi
at the Govardhana sacrifice food You ate heaps upon heaps tāra lekhāya ei anna nahe eka grāsī
of that in comparison this food is not one mouthful

242 “At the Govardhana sacrifice You ate heaps upon heaps of food. Compared with that, this food is not even one mouthful.

Anubhāṣya.

Tāra lekhāya: in comparison with that, or in proportion to it.[21]

The Bhaṭṭa's humility —

তুমি ত’ ঈশ্বর, মুঞি — ক্ষুদ্র জীব ছার । এক-গ্রাস মাধুকরী করহ অঙ্গীকার ॥ ২৪৩ ॥

tumi ta’ īśvara, muñi — kṣudra jīva chāra
You indeed the Lord I a tiny soul wretched
eka-grāsa mādhukarī karaha aṅgīkāra
one mouthful of mādhukarī make acceptance

243 “You are the Lord Himself, and I am a tiny, wretched soul. Please accept this one mouthful of mādhukarī.”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Mādhukarī: a mouthful obtained in the manner of the bee (madhukara-vṛtti).

*Hearing the Bhaṭṭa's words, the Lord honors the prasāda —*

এত শুনি’ হাসি’ প্রভু বসিলা ভোজনে । জগন্নাথের প্রসাদ ভট্ট দেন হর্ষ মনে ॥ ২৪৪ ॥

eta śuni’ hāsi’ prabhu vasilā bhojane
this hearing smiling the Lord sat to the meal
jagannāthera prasāda bhaṭṭa dena harṣa mane
of Jagannātha the prasāda Bhaṭṭa gives with joyful mind

244 Hearing this, the Lord smiled and sat down to eat, and Bhaṭṭa joyfully served Him Jagannātha’s prasāda.

The Bhaṭṭa's son-in-law, Ṣāṭhī's husband, Amogha, a blasphemer of the Lord —

হেনকালে ‘অমোঘ’, — ভট্টাচার্য্যের জামাতা । কুলীন, নিন্দক তিঁহো ষাঠী-কন্যার ভর্ত্তা ॥ ২৪৫ ॥

hena-kāle ‘amogha’, — bhaṭṭācāryera jāmātā
at that time Amogha the Bhaṭṭācārya’s son-in-law
kulīna, nindaka tiṁho ṣāṭhī-kanyāra bhartā
of a noble family a blasphemer he of Ṣāṭhī the daughter the husband

245 At that time Amogha, the Bhaṭṭācārya’s son-in-law and husband of his daughter Ṣāṭhī, happened to be there. He came of a noble (kulīna) family, but he was a blasphemer.

Amogha is afraid of the Bhaṭṭa, who stands with a stick in his hand —

ভোজন দেখিতে চাহে, আসিতে না পারে । লাঠি-হাতে ভট্টাচার্য্য আছেন দুয়ারে ॥ ২৪৬ ॥

bhojana dekhite cāhe, āsite nā pāre
the meal to see he wants to come in not he can lāṭhi-hāte bhaṭṭācārya āchena duyāre
stick in hand the Bhaṭṭācārya is at the door

246 He wanted to watch the Lord eat but could not come in, for the Bhaṭṭācārya stood at the door, stick in hand.

While the Bhaṭṭa is distracted, [Amogha] sees much food on the Lord's plate and blasphemes the Lord —

তিঁহো যদি প্রসাদ দিতে হৈলা আন-মন । অমোঘ আসি' অন্ন দেখি' করয়ে নিন্দন ॥ ২৪৭ ॥

tiṁho yadi prasāda dite hailā āna-mana
he when prasāda in serving became distracted amogha āsi' anna dekhi' karaye nindana
Amogha coming in the food seeing makes blasphemy

247 But when the Bhaṭṭācārya's attention turned to serving the prasāda, Amogha came in, saw the food and began to blaspheme:

এই অন্নে তৃপ্ত হয় দশ বার জন । একেলা সন্ন্যাসী করে এতেক ভক্ষণ ॥ ২৪৮ ॥

ei anne tṛpta haya daśa bāra jana with this food satisfied become ten twelve people
ekelā sannyāsī kare eteka bhakṣaṇa alone a sannyāsī does so much eating

248 "This food would satisfy ten or twelve people, and one sannyāsī eats so much all by himself!"

The moment the Bhaṭṭācārya turns around, Amogha runs away —

শুনি' ভট্টাচার্য্য তবে উলটি' চাহিল । তাঁর অবধান দেখি' অমোঘ পলাইল ॥ ২৪৯ ॥

śuni' bhaṭṭācārya tabe ulaṭi' cāhila hearing the Bhaṭṭācārya then turning round looked tāṁra avadhāna dekhi' amogha palāila
his attention seeing Amogha fled

249 When the Bhaṭṭācārya heard this, he turned round and looked, and Amogha, seeing that he had been noticed, fled.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Avadhāna: attention.

Stick in hand, the Bhaṭṭa chases him —

ভট্টাচার্য্য লাঠি লঞা মারিতে ধাইল । পলাইল অমোঘ, তার লাগ না পাইল ॥ ২৫০ ॥

bhaṭṭācārya lāṭhi lañā mārite dhāila the Bhaṭṭācārya the stick taking to beat ran palāila amogha, tāra lāga nā pāila fled Amogha him catch not could

250 The Bhaṭṭācārya took up his stick and ran to beat him, but Amogha got away and he could not catch him.

The Bhaṭṭa sharply rebukes and curses Amogha, the blasphemer of the Lord —

তবে গালি, শাপ দিতে ভট্টাচার্য্য আইলা । নিন্দা শুনি' মহাপ্রভু হাসিতে লাগিলা ॥ ২৫১ ॥

tabe gāli, śāpa dite bhaṭṭācārya āilā
then abuse curses hurling the Bhaṭṭācārya came back nindā śuni' mahāprabhu hāsite lāgilā
the blasphemy hearing Mahāprabhu to laugh began

251 Then the Bhaṭṭācārya came back, cursing and abusing him, and when Mahāprabhu heard all this reviling, He began to laugh.

Hearing the Lord blasphemed, the Bhaṭṭa's wife is distressed —

শুনি' ষাঠীর মাতা শিরে-বুকে ঘাত মারে ।
'ষাঠী রাণ্ডী হউক' — ইহা বলে বারে বারে ॥ ২৫২ ॥

śuni' ṣāṭhīra mātā śire-buke ghāta māre hearing Ṣāṭhī's mother on head and breast blows strikes
'ṣāṭhī rāṇḍī hauka' — ihā bale bāre bāre
"may Ṣāṭhī a widow become" this she says again and again

252 Hearing of it, Ṣāṭhī's mother beat her head and breast and cried again and again, "Let Ṣāṭhī become a widow!"

*The Lord consoles them both and honors the prasāda —*

দুঁহার দুঃখ দেখি' প্রভু দুঁহা প্রবোধিয়া । দুঁহার ইচ্ছাতে ভোজন কৈল তুষ্ট হঞা ॥ ২৫৩ ॥

duṁhāra duḥkha dekhi' prabhu duṁhā prabodhiyā
of both the grief seeing the Lord both consoling
duṁhāra icchāte bhojana kaila tuṣṭa hañā of both by the wish meal took pleased being

253 Seeing the grief of them both, the Lord consoled them, and to fulfil their wish He ate, well pleased.

The Lord rinses His mouth —

আচমন করাঞা ভট্ট দিল মুখবাস । তুলসী-মঞ্জরী, লবঙ্গ, এলাচি, রসবাস ॥ ২৫৪ ॥

ācamana karāñā bhaṭṭa dila mukha-vāsa ācamana having Him do Bhaṭṭa gave mouth fresheners
tulasī-mañjarī, lavaṅga, elāci, rasa-vāsa
tulasī buds cloves cardamom juicy and fragrant

254 When the Lord had rinsed His mouth, Bhaṭṭa gave Him mouth fresheners: tulasī buds, cloves and juicy, fragrant cardamom.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Elāci rasavāsa: cardamom, juicy and fragrant.

সর্ব্বাঙ্গে লেপিল প্রভুর সুগন্ধি চন্দন । দণ্ডবৎ হঞা বলে সদৈন্য বচন ॥ ২৫৫ ॥

sarvāṅge lepila prabhura sugandhi candana
over all the limbs smeared of the Lord fragrant sandalwood daṇḍavat hañā bale sadainya vacana
prostrate becoming says humble words

255 He smeared fragrant sandalwood paste all over the Lord's body and, falling prostrate, spoke humbly:

[The Bhaṭṭa] begs forgiveness for the blasphemy Amogha uttered —

নিন্দা করাইতে তোমা আনিনু নিজ-ঘরে । এই অপরাধ, প্রভু, ক্ষমা কর মোরে ॥ ২৫৬ ॥

nindā karāite tomā āninu nija-ghare blasphemy to have done You I brought to my own house ei aparādha, prabhu, kṣamā kara more this offence O Lord pardon make me

256 "I brought You to my house only to have You blasphemed. O Lord, forgive me this offence."

The Lord sees no fault —

প্রভু কহে, — নিন্দা নহে, 'সহজ' কহিল । ইহাতে তোমার তার কি অপরাধ হৈল ? ॥ ২৫৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — nindā nahe, 'sahaja' kahila
the Lord says blasphemy it is not the plain truth he spoke ihāte tomāra tāra ki aparādha haila?
in this your his what offence has been 257 The Lord said, “That was not blasphemy; he only spoke plainly. What offence is there in this, either on your part or on his?”

The Bhaṭṭa follows behind the Lord —

এত বলি’ মহাপ্রভু চলিলা ভবনে । ভট্টাচার্য্য তাঁর ঘরে গেলা তাঁর সনে ॥ ২৫৮ ॥

eta bali’ mahāprabhu calilā bhavane
this saying Mahāprabhu went to His dwelling bhaṭṭācārya tāṁra ghare gelā tāṁra sane
the Bhaṭṭācārya to His house went Him with 258 With these words Mahāprabhu went home, and the Bhaṭṭācārya went with Him to His residence.

In great humility the Bhaṭṭa surrenders [to the Lord] —

প্রভু-পদে পড়ি’ বহু আত্মনিন্দা কৈল । তাঁরে শান্ত করি’ প্রভু ঘরে পাঠাইল ॥ ২৫৯ ॥

prabhu-pade paḍi’ bahu ātma-nindā kaila
at the Lord’s feet falling much self-reproach made tāṁre śānta kari’ prabhu ghare pāṭhāila him calm making the Lord home sent 259 Falling at the Lord’s feet, he reproached himself bitterly. The Lord calmed him and sent him home.

At home the Bhaṭṭa and his wife lament bitterly —

ঘরে আসি’ ভট্টাচার্য্য, ষাঠীর মাতা-সনে । আপনা নিন্দিয়া কিছু বলেন বচনে ॥ ২৬০ ॥

ghare āsi’ bhaṭṭācārya, ṣāṭhīra mātā-sane home coming the Bhaṭṭācārya with Ṣāṭhī’s mother
āpanā nindiyā kichu balena vacane himself reproaching some says words

260 Returning home, the Bhaṭṭācārya spoke to Ṣāṭhī's mother, blaming himself:

The only atonement for the offense of one who blasphemes Caitanya is to kill him —

চৈতন্য-গোসাঞির নিন্দা শুনি যাহা হৈতে । তারে বধ কৈলে হয় পাপ-প্রায়শ্চিত্তে ॥ ২৬১ ॥

caitanya-gosāñira nindā śuni yāhā haite of Caitanya Gosāñi blasphemy I hear whom from tāre vadha kaile haya pāpa-prāyaścitte
him killing if done there is for the sin atonement

261 "To kill the man from whom I have heard blasphemy of Caitanya Gosāñi would be the atonement for that sin.

Anubhāṣya.

The fruit of blaspheming Vaiṣṇavas — (Hari-bhakti-vilāsa, tenth vilāsa, quoting the Skanda Purāṇa, a dialogue between Mārkaṇḍeya and Bhagīratha): "O best of kings, whoever mocks the devotees of Bhagavān loses his wealth, religion, fame and sons. Fools who blaspheme the Vaiṣṇavas, the great souls, fall together with their ancestors into the hell called Mahāraurava. To kill a Vaiṣṇava, to blaspheme him, to hate him, not to greet him, to be angry with him, and not to rejoice at seeing him — these are the six [ways of] falling." (In the same Hari-bhakti-vilāsa, tenth vilāsa, quoting the Dvārakā-māhātmya, a dialogue between Prahlāda and Bali): "Sinners who blaspheme the Vaiṣṇavas, the great souls, are sawn apart with saws by the most severe decrees of Yama."

The fruit of blaspheming Viṣṇu — (see Bhakti-sandarbha 314, which quotes the commentary on Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 7.1.16 and 22): "Those who blaspheme Hṛṣīkeśa and His devotee, the embodiment of holiness, certainly lose the merit earned in a hundred births. They are cooked in the most dreadful, terrible hell Kumbhīpāka, eaten by swarms of worms for as long as the moon and sun endure. To slight a Śrī Vaiṣṇava is graver than to disrespect Śrī Viṣṇu. One should not even look at those lowest of men who revile His [devotees], nor live together with those deceivers."

Śrī Jīva Prabhu in the Bhakti-sandarbha (section 265), describing the fruit of "blaspheming sādhus," one of the offenses against the holy name, quotes (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.74.40): "Whoever hears blasphemy of Bhagavān or of His devotee and does not go away from there also loses his merit and falls down." Going away is only for one who is powerless [to resist]. One who has the power must cut out the blasphemer's tongue; and one who lacks even that power should give up his own life. As the Goddess said (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 4.4.17): "When irresponsible people revile the Lord, the protector of religion, one who is powerless [to stop them] should cover his ears and go away. But if he has the power, he should forcibly cut out the evil-speaking tongue of the wicked, and then give up life as well: that is dharma."

If that is beyond one's power, give up one's life; but he himself and his son-in-law are both "brāhmaṇas by birth," and so neither may be killed —

কিম্বা নিজ-প্রাণ যদি করি বিমোচন । দুই যোগ্য নহে, দুই — শরীর ব্রাহ্মণ ॥ ২৬২ ॥

kimbā nija-prāṇa yadi kari vimocana or my own life if I make giving up dui yogya nahe, dui — śarīra brāhmaṇa
both fitting not both bodies brāhmaṇa

262 "Or I could give up my own life. But neither is proper, for in body we are both brāhmaṇas.

Anubhāṣya.

Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.7.53: "A brahma-bandhu (an unworthy brāhmaṇa) must not be killed, [though] an aggressor (ātatāyī) deserves death." Śrīdhara's commentary on this verse quotes a smṛti text that permits killing a brahma-bandhu: "An aggressor who comes [against you], even one who has mastered the whole Vedānta — one who seeks to kill — should be killed; by this one does not become the killer of a brāhmaṇa." And in Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.7.57 — "Shaving his head, taking away his wealth and driving him from his home: this is the death of a brahma-bandhu; there is no other, bodily one" — the bodily killing of a brahma-bandhu is forbidden.

Association with those who blaspheme Hari, the guru and the Vaiṣṇavas must be given up completely; one should not even look at their faces —

পুনঃ সেই নিন্দকের মুখ না দেখিব । পরিত্যাগ কৈলুঁ, তার নাম না লইব ॥ ২৬৩ ॥

punaḥ sei nindakera mukha nā dekhiba again that blasphemer's face not I shall see parityāga kailuṁ, tāra nāma nā laiba renunciation I have made his name not I shall take 263 "I shall never look on that blasphemer's face again. I have renounced him, and I shall not speak his name.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Amogha is a brāhmaṇa, so he cannot be killed; [Sārvabhauma] himself is also a brāhmaṇa, so suicide too is improper: both acts are unfit. Therefore the only thing left is not to look at that blasphemer's face.

A husband hostile to Hari, the guru and the Vaiṣṇavas must certainly be left by his wife —

ষাঠীরে কহ — তারে ছাড়ুক, সে হইল 'পতিত' ।
'পতিত' হইলে ভর্ত্তা, ত্যজিতে উচিত ॥ ২৬৪ ॥

ṣāṭhīre kaha — tāre chāḍuka, se haila 'patita'
to Ṣāṭhī say him let her leave he has become fallen
'patita' haile bhartā, tyajite ucita fallen if becomes a husband to give up proper

264 "Tell Ṣāṭhī to leave him: he has fallen (patita). When a husband has fallen, it is proper to give him up.

Anubhāṣya.
(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 5.5.18): "He is no husband who does not free [his wife] from approaching death." That is, one who does not himself worship Kṛṣṇa and cannot rescue his wife from the hands of impending death — aversion to Kṛṣṇa, forgetfulness of Kṛṣṇa — is fallen, and therefore no husband.

From an external point of view: suppose a devotee in the form of a wife, who has given herself to Kṛṣṇa, sincerely, like the wives of the brāhmaṇas, gives up the company of one who thinks himself her “husband” but is not devoted to Kṛṣṇa or is hostile to Him, for the sake of pure service to Kṛṣṇa, while [still] living at home. Then she violates no rule at all. Bhagavān Himself has said this (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.23.31–32): “By Kṛṣṇa's will, neither husband, father, brother, son nor anyone else will be able to find fault with them; by Kṛṣṇa's leave even the gods will fully approve of their conduct. Indeed, in this material world love or affection does not grow merely from bodily contact; only one who fixes his mind on Kṛṣṇa purely and constantly soon attains Kṛṣṇa.”

*(Words of smṛti)*

“পতিঞ্চ পতিতং ত্যজেৎ” ॥ ২৬৫ ॥

“patiṁ ca patitaṁ tyajet”
a husband and fallen one should give up

265 “ ‘One should give up a fallen husband.’ ”

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

One should abandon a fallen husband. (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 7.11.28): “Content, free from greed, capable, knowing dharma, speaking pleasantly and truthfully, attentive, pure and affectionate, [a wife] should serve a husband who has not fallen.”

Anubhāṣya.

The words of Yājñavalkya quoted in Śrīdhara's commentary on Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 7.11.28: “[A husband] defiled by a great sin should be waited for until he is purified.”

Amogha falls ill with cholera —

সেই রাত্রে অমোঘ কাঁহা পলাঞা রহিল । প্রাতঃকালে তার বিসূচিকা-ব্যাধি হৈল ॥ ২৬৬ ॥

sei rātre amogha kāṁhā palāñā rahila that night Amogha somewhere having fled stayed prātaḥ-kāle tāra visūcikā-vyādhi haila
in the morning his cholera occurred

266 That night Amogha fled and hid somewhere, and in the morning he was stricken with cholera.

Hearing that the hater of Caitanya may die, the Bhaṭṭa rejoices —

অমোঘ মরেন — শুনি' কহে ভট্টাচার্য্য । সহায় হইয়া দৈব, কৈল মোর কার্য্য ॥ ২৬৭ ॥

amogha marena — śuni' kahe bhaṭṭācārya Amogha is dying hearing says the Bhaṭṭācārya
sahāya haiyā daiva, kaila mora kārya
helper becoming providence has done my task

267 Hearing that Amogha was dying, the Bhaṭṭācārya said, "Providence has come to my aid and done my work for me.

The fruit of offending the Lord is seen at once —

ঈশ্বরে ত' অপরাধ ফলে ততক্ষণ । এত বলি' পড়ে দুই শাস্ত্রের বচন ॥ ২৬৮ ॥

īśvare ta' aparādha phale tata-kṣaṇa against the Lord indeed an offence bears fruit at once eta bali' paḍe dui śāstrera vacana
this saying he recites two of scripture sayings

268 "An offence against the Lord bears fruit at once." So saying, he recited two verses of scripture:

*(Mahābhārata, Vana-parva, chapter 241, verse 15)*

মহতা হি প্রয়ত্নেন হস্ত্যশ্বরথপত্তিভিঃ ।
অস্মাভির্যদনুষ্ঠেয়ং গন্ধর্ব্বৈস্তদনুষ্ঠিতম্ ॥ ২৬৯ ॥

mahatā hi prayatnena
by great indeed effort
hasty-aśva-ratha-pattibhiḥ with elephants, horses, chariots and foot soldiers asmābhir yad anuṣṭheyaṁ
by us what had to be done
gandharvais tad anuṣṭhitam
by the Gandharvas that has been done

269 "What we would have had to do with great effort, with elephants, horses, chariots and foot soldiers, the Gandharvas have done." (Mahābhārata, Vana-parva, 241.15)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
What we would have had to accomplish with great effort, gathering many elephants, horses, chariots and foot soldiers, the Gandharvas have already done.

Anubhāṣya.
The Kauravas headed by Duryodhana, led on by Karṇa, came [to the forest] for the ghoṣa-yātrā (the inspection of the cattle stations), and as the fruit of their own karma they were taken captive with their families by Citrasena, the king of the Gandharvas. Then Duryodhana's ministers, overcome with fear, took shelter of the Pāṇḍavas headed by Yudhiṣṭhira, who were living in the forest, and begged them for deliverance from the clutches of the Gandharvas. Remembering the earlier atrocities of Duryodhana and the others and wishing for revenge, Bhīmasena said:

mahatā (with great) prayatnena (effort) hasty-aśva-ratha-pattibhiḥ (with elephants, horses, chariots and foot soldiers; there is also the variant reading sannahya gaja-vājibhiḥ)[23] yat (the task — the defeat of the Kauravas headed by Duryodhana) anuṣṭheyam (we were to accomplish today), gandharvaiḥ (by the Gandharvas led by Citrasena, as the doers) tat anuṣṭhitam (has been accomplished — that is, the enemies, the Kauravas and the rest, are defeated).

*The fruit of hostility to Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.4.46) —*

আয়ুঃ শ্রিয়ং যশো ধর্ম্মং লোকানাশিষ এব চ । হন্তি শ্রেয়াংসি সর্ব্বাণি পুংসো মহদতিক্রমঃ ॥ ২৭০ ॥

āyuḥ śriyaṁ yaśo dharmaṁ
life fortune fame dharma
lokān āśiṣa eva ca
the higher worlds blessings also and hanti śreyāṁsi sarvāṇi destroys benefits all
puṁso mahad-atikramaḥ
of a man offence against the great

270 "Offence against great souls destroys a man's life, fortune, fame and dharma, his higher worlds and blessings — all that is good for him." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.4.46)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Life, fortune, fame, dharma, the worlds and blessings — a man loses all these highest goods by offending great souls.

Thus ends the fifteenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.
Kaṁsa, king of the Bhojas, could not destroy Yogamāyā, who had appeared as the daughter of his sister Devakī, and from her lips he heard the news that Viṣṇu, his old enemy, had appeared. After consulting his ministers — demons by nature, haters of Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas — he ordered the Dānavas to persecute the devotees of Viṣṇu, the sādhus and sages. Then Śrī Śukadeva described to Parīkṣit the fruit of such hostility to Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas:

mahad-atikramaḥ (offense against the great — against Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas, disrespect toward them by body, mind or words, that is, vaiṣṇava-aparādha) puṁsaḥ (of a man) āyuḥ, śriyam, yaśaḥ, dharmam, lokān (heaven and the other worlds attained by dharma), āśiṣaḥ (all his desired śreyāṁsi sarvāṇi — goods, ends and means, everything auspicious) ca hanti (destroys) eva. See Antya 3.146 and 163.

The Lord asks Gopīnātha about the Bhaṭṭa —

গোপীনাথাচার্য্য গেলা প্রভু-দরশনে । প্রভু তাঁরে পুছিল ভট্টাচার্য্য-বিবরণে ॥ ২৭১ ॥

gopīnāthācārya gelā prabhu-daraśane Gopīnātha Ācārya went to see the Lord
prabhu tāṁre puchila bhaṭṭācārya-vivaraṇe
the Lord him asked about the Bhaṭṭācārya's affairs

271 Gopīnātha Ācārya went to see the Lord, and the Lord asked him about the Bhaṭṭācārya.

Gopīnātha reports that the Bhaṭṭa and his wife are fasting because they heard the Lord blasphemed, and that Amogha is dying —

আচার্য্য কহে, — উপবাস কৈল দুইজন । বিসূচিকা-ব্যাধিতে অমোঘ ছাড়িছে জীবন ॥ ২৭২ ॥

ācārya kahe, — upavāsa kaila dui-jana the Ācārya says fast have kept the two visūcikā-vyādhite amogha chāḍiche jīvana
from cholera Amogha is leaving life

272 The Ācārya said, "The two of them are fasting, and Amogha is dying of cholera."

The Lord hurries to the Bhaṭṭa's house and gives Amogha good instruction —

শুনি' কৃপাময় প্রভু আইলা ধাঞা । অমোঘেরে কহে তার বুকে হস্ত দিয়া ॥ ২৭৩ ॥

śuni' kṛpāmaya prabhu āilā dhāñā hearing merciful the Lord came running amoghere kahe tāra buke hasta diyā to Amogha says his on the chest hand placing 273 Hearing this, the merciful Lord came running. Placing His hand on Amogha's chest, He said:

The Lord indicates who is to be called a "brāhmaṇa" —

সহজে নির্ম্মল এই 'ব্রাহ্মণ'-হৃদয় । কৃষ্ণের বসিতে এই যোগ্যস্থান হয় ॥ ২৭৪ ॥

sahaje nirmala ei 'brāhmaṇa'-hṛdaya
by nature pure this brāhmaṇa's heart kṛṣṇera vasite ei yogya-sthāna haya for Kṛṣṇa to sit this a fit place is 274 "This heart of a brāhmaṇa is pure by nature; it is a fit place for Kṛṣṇa to sit.

'মাৎসর্য্য'-চণ্ডাল কেনে ইঁহা বসাইলা । পরম পবিত্র স্থান অপবিত্র কৈলা ॥ ২৭৫ ॥

'mātsarya'-caṇḍāla kene iṁhā vasāilā
the caṇḍāla of envy why here have you seated parama pavitra sthāna apavitra kailā
supremely pure place impure you have made

275 "Why have you seated the caṇḍāla of envy here? You have made this supremely pure place impure.

*Only when freed from the offense of "dullness" (jāḍya) does [the jīva] utter the pure name —*

সার্ব্বভৌম-সঙ্গে তোমার 'কলুষ' হৈল ক্ষয় ।
'কল্মষ' ঘুচিলে জীব 'কৃষ্ণনাম' লয় ॥ ২৭৬ ॥

sārvabhauma-saṅge tomāra 'kaluṣa' haila kṣaya
in Sārvabhauma's company your impurity has become destroyed
'kalmaṣa' ghucile jīva 'kṛṣṇa-nāma' laya
the taint when removed the soul Kṛṣṇa's name takes 276 "Through Sārvabhauma's company your impurity has been destroyed, and when the taint is gone, a soul takes the name of Kṛṣṇa.

[The Lord] tells Amogha to chant the name of Kṛṣṇa —

উঠহ, অমোঘ, তুমি লও কৃষ্ণনাম । অচিরে তোমারে কৃপা করিবে ভগবান্ ॥ ২৭৭ ॥

uṭhaha, amogha, tumi lao kṛṣṇa-nāma get up Amogha you take Kṛṣṇa's name
acire tomāre kṛpā karibe bhagavān
soon on you mercy will show Bhagavān

277 "Get up, Amogha! Take the name of Kṛṣṇa, and Bhagavān will soon show you His mercy."

Anubhāṣya.

"Brahman," "Paramātmā" and "Bhagavān," or "Viṣṇu," are the three manifestations of the Truth, nondual Knowledge. One who knows Brahman is called a "brāhmaṇa," and one who knows Brahman and worships Bhagavān is called a "Vaiṣṇava." The Truth fully manifest is "Bhagavān," and the Truth "incompletely manifest" is "Brahman." From the mouth of a mere brāhmaṇa only nāmābhāsa (a shadow of the name) arises. But a brāhmaṇa who knows his relationship (sambandha-jñāna) with Viṣṇu, the nondual Knowledge, can become a bhāgavata, a Vaiṣṇava, once he takes up the abhidheya — that is, once he is bound by the thread of service and worships [the Lord]. Only then is the "impurity," the "offense" born of ignorance, removed, and the pure name rises in his mouth.

Relying on vivarta-vāda, the impersonalists imagine five kinds of worship of Brahman with attributes, but these never point to the Truth of nondual Knowledge. The vivarta-vādī, priding himself on being a "brāhmaṇa," decides that "brahminhood" is confined to a realization full of selfish desires (sakāma). Yet in the true nature of the jīva the quality of "knowing Brahman" is eternally present. When by Viṣṇu's mercy Māyāvāda falls away, the brāhmaṇa becomes an "unmixed brāhmaṇa," a Vaiṣṇava. There is therefore no doubt that brahminhood is eternally inherent in a Vaiṣṇava. The Garuḍa Purāṇa says: "Better than thousands of brāhmaṇas is one who performs sacrifices (satra-yājī); better than thousands of sacrificers is one who has mastered all Vedānta; and above ten million knowers of all Vedānta stands a devotee of Viṣṇu." So without brahminhood shown in conduct (vṛtta-brāhmaṇatā) no one can enter the path of devotion.

Nondual Knowledge is present in the heart of a true brāhmaṇa. So there can be in it no envy, jealousy or rivalry born of a dualistic outlook, hostile to the eternally worshipable Viṣṇu or the Vaiṣṇava, arising from the desire for petty self-interest or the gratification of one's own material senses. Where these are present, then, because the heart is not given to Acyuta,[22] certainly (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 11.5.3) “those who do not worship and who disregard Him fall from their position and go down” — that is, one loses one's position and falls.

Amogha is at once freed from the disease of this life and from the disease of worldly existence, and attains love for Kṛṣṇa —

শুনি’ ‘কৃষ্ণ’ ‘কৃষ্ণ’ বলি’ অমোঘ উঠিলা । প্রেমোন্মাদে মত্ত হঞা নাচিতে লাগিলা ॥ ২৭৮ ॥

śuni’ ‘kṛṣṇa’ ‘kṛṣṇa’ bali’ amogha uṭhilā hearing “Kṛṣṇa” “Kṛṣṇa” saying Amogha got up premonmāde matta hañā nācite lāgilā
in the madness of love intoxicated becoming to dance began 278 Hearing this, Amogha rose up crying, “Kṛṣṇa! Kṛṣṇa!” and, mad with love, began to dance.

Amogha begs forgiveness at the Lord's feet —

কম্প, অশ্রু, পুলক, স্তম্ভ, স্বেদ, স্বরভঙ্গ । প্রভু হাসে দেখি’ তার প্রেমের তরঙ্গ ॥ ২৭৯ ॥

kampa, aśru, pulaka, stambha, sveda, svara-bhaṅga trembling tears hair standing on end becoming stunned perspiration faltering voice prabhu hāse dekhi’ tāra premera taraṅga
the Lord smiles seeing his of love the waves

279 Trembling, tears, hair standing on end, stupor, perspiration and a faltering voice appeared in him, and seeing these waves of love, the Lord smiled.

প্রভুর চরণে ধরি' করেন বিনয় । অপরাধ ক্ষম মোরে, প্রভু, দয়াময় ॥ ২৮০ ॥

prabhura caraṇe dhari' karena vinaya
of the Lord the feet clasping makes entreaty
aparādha kṣama more, prabhu, dayāmaya offence pardon me O Lord merciful

280 Clasping the Lord's feet, he humbly entreated Him: "O merciful Lord, forgive my offence.

Remembering his offense, he slaps his own cheeks —

এই ছার মুখে তোমার করিনু নিন্দনে । এত বলি' আপন গালে চড়ায় আপনে ॥ ২৮১ ॥

ei chāra mukhe tomāra karinu nindane
this wretched with mouth of You I made blasphemy eta bali' āpana gāle caḍāya āpane
this saying his own cheeks slaps himself

281 "With this wretched mouth I blasphemed You!" Saying this, he began to slap his own cheeks.

Seeing his cheeks swell, Gopīnātha stops him —

চড়াইতে চড়াইতে গাল ফুলাইল । হাতে ধরি' গোপীনাথাচার্য্য নিষেধিল ॥ ২৮২ ॥

caḍāite caḍāite gāla phulāila
slapping slapping the cheeks he swelled hāte dhari' gopīnāthācārya niṣedhila
by the hands seizing Gopīnātha Ācārya stopped him

282 He slapped himself until his cheeks were swollen. Then Gopīnātha Ācārya seized his hands and stopped him.

The Lord consoles him and blesses him with affection because of his relation to the Bhaṭṭa —

প্রভু আশ্বাসন করে স্পর্শি' তার গাত্র ।
সার্ব্বভৌম-সম্বন্ধে তুমি মোর স্নেহপাত্র ॥ ২৮৩ ॥

prabhu āśvāsana kare sparśi' tāra gātra
the Lord consolation gives touching his body sārvabhauma-sambandhe tumi mora sneha-pātra
by relation to Sārvabhauma you My object of affection

283 The Lord consoled him, touching his body: "Because you are related to Sārvabhauma, you are dear to Me.

The Lord's love for the family of the Bhaṭṭa, His pure devotee —

সার্ব্বভৌম-গৃহে দাস দাসী, যে কুক্কুর ।
সেহ মোর প্রিয়, অন্য জন রহু দূর ॥ ২৮৪ ॥

sārvabhauma-gṛhe dāsa dāsī, ye kukkura
in Sārvabhauma's house servants maids even dogs
seha mora priya, anya jana rahu dūra
they too to Me dear other people let stay far 284 "Even the servants, maids and dogs in Sārvabhauma's house are dear to Me — to say nothing of others.

[The Lord] orders Amogha to chant the name of Kṛṣṇa —

'অপরাধ' নাহি তব, লও কৃষ্ণনাম । এত বলি' প্রভু আইলা সার্ব্বভৌম-স্থান ॥ ২৮৫ ॥

'aparādha' nāhi taba, lao kṛṣṇa-nāma offence there is no in you take Kṛṣṇa's name eta bali' prabhu āilā sārvabhauma-sthāna
this saying the Lord came to Sārvabhauma's place

285 "There is no offence left in you. Take the name of Kṛṣṇa." With these words the Lord went to Sārvabhauma's house.

The Lord comes to the Bhaṭṭa and sits down —

প্রভু দেখি' সার্ব্বভৌম ধরিলা চরণে । প্রভু তাঁরে আলিঙ্গিয়া বসিলা আসনে ॥ ২৮৬ ॥

prabhu dekhi' sārvabhauma dharilā caraṇe
the Lord seeing Sārvabhauma clasped the feet
prabhu tāṁre āliṅgiyā vasilā āsane
the Lord him embracing sat on a seat

286 Seeing the Lord, Sārvabhauma clasped His feet. The Lord embraced him and sat down.

Because of an offense by Amogha, a mere child, one should neither be angry nor fast —

প্রভু কহে, — অমোঘ শিশু, কিবা তার দোষ । কেনে উপবাস কর, কেনে কর রোষ ॥ ২৮৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — amogha śiśu, kibā tāra doṣa
the Lord says Amogha a child what his fault
kene upavāsa kara, kene kara roṣa
why fast you keep why you nurse anger

287 The Lord said, "Amogha is a child. What fault is there in him? Why are you fasting, and why are you angry?

[The Lord] asks the Bhaṭṭa to eat —

উঠ, স্নান কর, দেখ জগন্নাথ-মুখ । শীঘ্র আসি' ভোজন কর, তবে মোর সুখ ॥ ২৮৮ ॥

uṭha, snāna kara, dekha jagannātha-mukha get up bath take see Jagannātha's face
śīghra āsi' bhojana kara, tabe mora sukha quickly coming back meal take then My happiness

288 "Get up, bathe and go to see Jagannātha's face. Then come back quickly and eat; that will make Me happy.

*[The Lord] promises to wait until the Bhaṭṭa honors the prasāda —*

তাবৎ রহিব আমি এথায় বসিয়া । যাবৎ না পাইবা তুমি প্রসাদ আনিয়া ॥ ২৮৯ ॥

tāvat rahiba āmi ethāya vasiyā
so long shall stay I here sitting yāvat nā pāibā tumi prasāda āniyā
as long as not honour you prasāda bringing

289 "I shall sit here until you have brought prasāda and honoured it."

The Bhaṭṭa voices his anger at Amogha —

প্রভু পদ ধরি' ভট্ট কহিতে লাগিলা । মরিত' অমোঘ, তারে কেনে জীয়াইলা ॥ ২৯০ ॥

prabhu pada dhari' bhaṭṭa kahite lāgilā
of the Lord the feet clasping Bhaṭṭa to speak began marita' amogha, tāre kene jīyāilā would have died Amogha him why You revived

290 Clasping the Lord's feet, Bhaṭṭa said, "Amogha would have died. Why did You bring him back to life?"

[The Lord] instructs him to forgive Amogha, seeing him as a child —

প্রভু কহে, — অমোঘ শিশু, তোমার বালক । বালক-দোষ না লয় পিতা, তাহাতে পালক ॥ ২৯১ ॥

prabhu kahe, — amogha śiśu, tomāra bālaka
the Lord says Amogha a child your boy
bālaka-doṣa nā laya pitā, tāhāte pālaka
the boy's fault not takes the father for in that he is the protector

291 The Lord said, "Amogha is a child; he is your son. A father does not hold his child's faults against him, for he is the child's protector.

By the Lord's mercy Amogha has been freed from his offense and become a Vaiṣṇava, so [the Lord] asks the Bhaṭṭa to be gracious —

এবে 'বৈষ্ণব' হৈল, তার গেল 'অপরাধ' । তাহার উপরে এবে করহ প্রসাদ ॥ ২৯২ ॥

ebe 'vaiṣṇava' haila, tāra gela 'aparādha'
now a Vaiṣṇava he has become his went offence
tāhāra upare ebe karaha prasāda
him on now show grace

292 "He has become a Vaiṣṇava now, and his offence is gone; so show him your favour."

The Bhaṭṭa gives up his anger —

ভট্ট কহে, — চল, প্রভু, ঈশ্বর-দরশনে । স্নান করি' হেথা মুঞি আসিলাঙ এখনে ॥ ২৯৩ ॥

bhaṭṭa kahe, — cala, prabhu, īśvara-daraśane Bhaṭṭa says go O Lord to see Īśvara (Jagannātha)
snāna kari' hethā muñi āsilāṅ ekhane
bath having taken here I am back at once

293 Bhaṭṭa said, "Go, O Lord, to see Jagannātha. I shall bathe and be back here at once."

*[The Lord] tells Gopīnātha to wait and see that the Bhaṭṭa honors the prasāda —*

প্রভু কহে, — গোপীনাথ, ইহাঞি রহিবা । ইঁহো প্রসাদ পাইলে, বার্ত্তা আমাকে কহিবা ॥ ২৯৪ ॥

prabhu kahe, — gopīnātha, ihāñi rahibā
the Lord says Gopīnātha right here stay iṁho prasāda pāile, vārtā āmāke kahibā
he prasāda having honoured the news to Me tell

294 The Lord said, “Gopīnātha, stay right here. When he has honoured the prasāda, bring Me word.”

Anubhāṣya.
Iṅho: Sārvabhauma Bhaṭṭācārya.

*The Bhaṭṭa honors the prasāda —*

এত বলি’ প্রভু গেলা ঈশ্বর-দরশনে । ভট্ট স্নান দর্শন করি’ করিলা ভোজনে ॥ ২৯৫ ॥

eta bali’ prabhu gelā īśvara-daraśane
this saying the Lord went to see Īśvara
bhaṭṭa snāna darśana kari’ karilā bhojane
Bhaṭṭa bath sight having made took meal

295 With these words the Lord went to see Jagannātha, and Bhaṭṭa bathed, took darśana and ate.

Amogha, the Lord's exclusive devotee, deeply peaceful by nature —

সেই অমোঘ হৈল প্রভুর ভক্ত ‘একান্ত’ । প্রেমে নাচে, কৃষ্ণনাম লয় মহাশান্ত ॥ ২৯৬ ॥

sei amogha haila prabhura bhakta ‘ekānta’
that Amogha became the Lord’s devotee exclusive preme nāce, kṛṣṇa-nāma laya mahā-śānta
in love dances Kṛṣṇa’s name takes deeply peaceful

296 That same Amogha became the Lord’s exclusive devotee. He would dance in love and chant the name of Kṛṣṇa, deeply at peace.

Anubhāṣya.
In the Śākhā-nirṇayāmṛta: “I worship Amogha Paṇḍita, whom Śrī Gaura made His own, whose whole being is saturated with prema, his voice choked with it, his body covered with bristling hair.”

Such are the Lord's pastimes —

ঐছে চিত্র-লীলা করে শচীর নন্দন । যেই দেখে, শুনে, তাঁর বিস্ময় হয় মন ॥ ২৯৭ ॥

aiche citra-līlā kare śacīra nandana
such wonderful pastimes does Śacī's son yei dekhe, śune, tāṁra vismaya haya mana whoever sees hears his amazed becomes mind

297 Such are the wonderful pastimes of the son of Śacī: whoever sees or hears of them is struck with wonder.

The Lord eats in the Bhaṭṭa's house; the Bhaṭṭa's love for the Lord —

ঐছে ভট্ট-গৃহে করে ভোজন-বিলাস । তার মধ্যে নানা চিত্র-চরিত্র-প্রকাশ ॥ ২৯৮ ॥

aiche bhaṭṭa-gṛhe kare bhojana-vilāsa
thus in Bhaṭṭa's house does the pastime of eating tāra madhye nānā citra-caritra-prakāśa
it within various wonderful deeds revealing

298 Thus the Lord enjoyed the pastime of eating at Bhaṭṭa's house, and in it He revealed many wonderful deeds.

সার্ব্বভৌম-ঘরে এই ভোজন-চরিত । সার্ব্বভৌম-প্রেম যাঁহা হইলা বিদিত ॥ ২৯৯ ॥

sārvabhauma-ghare ei bhojana-carita
in Sārvabhauma's house this story of the meal
sārvabhauma-prema yāṁhā hailā vidita
Sārvabhauma's love in which became known

299 This is the story of the Lord's meal in Sārvabhauma's house, in which Sārvabhauma's love became known,

The love of the Bhaṭṭa's wife for the Lord; for the sake of His relation with His devotees [the Lord] forgives the offense —

ষাঠীর মাতার প্রেম, আর প্রভুর প্রসাদ । ভক্ত-সম্বন্ধে যাহা ক্ষমিল অপরাধ ॥ ৩০০ ॥

ṣāṭhīra mātāra prema, āra prabhura prasāda
of Ṣāṭhī's mother the love and the Lord's grace
bhakta-sambandhe yāhā kṣamila aparādha
by relation to a devotee by which He pardoned offence

300 and the love of Ṣāṭhī's mother, and the grace of the Lord, by which He forgave an offence because of the offender's relation to His devotee.

Anubhāṣya.

By blaspheming the Lord, Amogha became an offender. The fruit of the offense was a deadly disease, cholera. Once he fell ill, Amogha had no chance to atone for his offense. Sārvabhauma and his wife were vessels of the Lord's boundless mercy. For their sake the Lord, instead of punishing the offender Amogha, forgave his offense, saved his life and gave him devotion to Kṛṣṇa. Sārvabhauma's wife was bound to Śrī Mahāprabhu by deep devotion. From a worldly point of view, Amogha was related to Sārvabhauma as a son-in-law in his care. So if [the Lord] had not forgiven his offense, the Bhaṭṭa himself, his guardian, would indirectly have been punished. That is why the Lord forgave him — and so revealed His majesty, His gravity and His magnanimity.

Whoever hears of the Lord's eating in the Bhaṭṭa's house attains Caitanya —

শ্রদ্ধা করি' এই লীলা শুনে যেই জন । অচিরাৎ পায় সেই চৈতন্য-চরণ ॥ ৩০১ ॥

śraddhā kari' ei līlā śune yei jana
with faith making this pastime hears whoever person acirāt pāya sei caitanya-caraṇa
soon attains he Caitanya's feet

301 Whoever hears this pastime with faith will soon attain the feet of Śrī Caitanya.

Anubhāṣya.

Thus ends the fifteenth chapter of the “Anubhāṣya.”

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ । চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ৩০২ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa Śrī Rūpa’s, Raghunātha’s at the feet whose hope caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
“Caitanya-caritāmṛta” narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

302 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.[10]

Notes

1. The same verse as Madhya 10.2 (= Ādi 4.2); translation as there. ↩
2. The edition reads তোমার নিকটে (locative: “near You”); the Bengali text and transliteration are corrected accordingly (scan, p. 582). ↩
3. Money was counted in cowrie shells: a gaṇḍā is four cowries, so five gaṇḍās are twenty. ↩
4. A paṇa is twenty gaṇḍās, or eighty cowries: four paṇas are 320 cowries, sixteen times the usual price (verse 70). A krośa is about two miles. ↩
5. The edition reads śata-pātra (literally “a hundred vessels”, or a vessel of that name); the commentaries do not explain the word, and it is rendered neutrally as “a plate”. ↩
6. The second line is almost the same as Ādi 10.82. ↩
7. The edition reads ānibe (“will bring”); the earlier text had āsibena (“will come”). ↩
8. As in Madhya 3.43, the battiśā-āṭhiyā is a banana tree that bears a bunch of thirty-two clusters; āṅgaṭiyā — a whole, untorn leaf; the māna is a measure of grain. ↩
9. The edition reads pātra (the earlier text had pātre). ↩
10. The verse = Madhya 7.155 (the closing refrain); the translation is the same as there. ↩

11. The first “Ramā” and “Śivā” are feminine vocatives (rame, śive): Ramā (Lakṣmī) and Śivā (Pārvatī). ↩
12. The edition gives no source; it is Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.84.13. ↩
13. The edition does not give the verse number; it is Upadeśāmṛta 5. ↩
14. The edition reads vinā yena siddhaḥ… and kṛtena yenana labhate: the particle na (not) has slipped into the wrong line (checked against the scan); translated by the sense (cf. Hari-bhakti-vilāsa 17.11). ↩
15. Unclear in the scan: the last digit (“275”?). ↩
16. In the edition both notes are numbered “121”; by content the first belongs to verse 120. ↩
17. In the edition this section is numbered “১৪৫” (145; scan checked): a misprint. By its place (between sections 149 and 155) and its content (the word prabhu and the quotation about the servant who does not leave the Lord's feet) it belongs to verse 154. ↩
18. The edition does not give the sources of these śruti texts; they are Taittirīya Upaniṣad 3.1.1; Śvetāśvatara Upaniṣad 6.18; Bṛhad-āraṇyaka Upaniṣad 3.7.22 (Mādhyandina recension); Taittirīya Upaniṣad 2.1.1. ↩
19. In the edition couplet 203 has no number (only “ ॥ ” at the end; scan checked). ↩
20. In the edition (scan checked), both in the verse and in the gloss, the reading is tvayopayukta… (“used by You”); the VCD text has tvayopabhukta… (“enjoyed by You”). The edition's gloss (“enjoyed by You”) matches the second reading. ↩
21. In the edition this section stands out of place: after section 254 of the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya, before section 261. ↩
22. Unclear passage of the scan: the print reads «অচু তাত্ম-তার» (broken); apparently «অচ্যুতাত্মতার», “for lack of devotion to Acyuta (acyutātmatā)”; translated accordingly. ↩
23. The edition prints «গজ রাজিভিঃ» (gaja-rājibhiḥ; likewise gaja-rājiratha… in the gloss). Rāji (“row”) does not fit the sense, so vājibhiḥ (“with horses”) is read, as in the variant known from the Mahābhārata. The edition’s reading was not checked against other editions. ↩