“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 9

The Deliverance of Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the Anubhāṣya, 2026)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. This chapter tells how Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka, the son of Bhavānanda Rāya, squandered the king’s money and so fell out of favour with the Baḍa Jānā. For this he was first raised onto the cāṅga (the execution platform), and afterward the Lord, bestowing His mercy in disguise, rescued and elevated him.

By the mercy of Gaura’s devotees even lowly worldly people (viṣayīs) attain love for Kṛṣṇa —

অগণ্যধন্যচৈতন্যগণানাং প্রেমবন্যয়া । নিন্যেঽধন্যজনস্বান্তমরুঃ শশ্বদনূপতাম্ ॥ ১ ॥

agaṇya-dhanya-caitanyacountless blessed of Caitanya’s
gaṇānāṁ prema-vanyayā associates by the flood of love
ninye ’dhanya-jana-svāntawas brought of unfortunate people the hearts’
maruḥ śaśvad anūpatām
desert forever to the state of a well-watered land

1 By the flood of their love, the countless blessed associates of Śrī Caitanya have turned the desert of unfortunate hearts forever into a well-watered land.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The flood of prema of Caitanya's countless devotees filled with water the desert that was the hearts of unfortunate people.

Anubhāṣya.

agaṇya-dhanya-caitanya-gaṇānām (of Caitanya's associates, the devotees who have taken shelter at His feet, who are countless, impossible to count, and blessed, having attained perfection) prema-vanyayā (by the flood of prema — by a stream of water overflowing the bed of the river of love) adhanya-jana-svānta-maruḥ (the desert of the hearts of the unfortunate — the waterless desert that the hearts of lowly people devoid of bhakti resemble) śaśvat (constantly) anūpatām (to the state of a well-watered land, almost wholly covered with water) ninye (was brought).

জয় জয় শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য দয়াময় । জয় জয় নিত্যানন্দ করুণ-হৃদয় ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanya dayāmaya glory glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya the merciful jaya jaya nityānanda karuṇa-hṛdaya glory glory to Nityānanda whose heart is compassionate

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, the merciful! Glory, glory to Nityānanda, whose heart is full of compassion![1]

জয়াদ্বৈতাচার্য্য জয় জয় দয়াময় । জয় গৌরভক্তগণ সব রসময় ॥ ৩ ॥

jayādvaitācārya jaya jaya dayāmaya glory to Advaitācārya glory glory the merciful jaya gaura-bhakta-gaṇa saba rasamaya glory to Gaura's devotees all full of rasa

3 Glory to Advaitācārya; glory, glory to the merciful one! Glory to all the devotees of Gaura, who are full of rasa!

The Lord's pastimes with His devotees in Nīlācala —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু ভক্তগণ সঙ্গে । নীলাচলে বাস করেন কৃষ্ণপ্রেমরঙ্গে ॥ ৪ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu bhakta-gaṇa saṅge
thus Mahāprabhu with the devotees
nīlācale vāsa karena kṛṣṇa-prema-raṅge
in Nīlācala residence makes in the joy of love for Kṛṣṇa

4 In this way Mahāprabhu lived in Nīlācala with His devotees, in the joy of love for Kṛṣṇa.

Within and without, the Lord is overwhelmed by love in separation from Kṛṣṇa —

অন্তরে-বাহিরে কৃষ্ণবিরহ-তরঙ্গ । নানা-ভাবে ব্যাকুল প্রভুর মন আর অঙ্গ ॥ ৫ ॥

antare-bāhire kṛṣṇa-viraha-taraṅga
within and without of separation from Kṛṣṇa the waves nānā-bhāve vyākula prabhura mana āra aṅga
by various bhāvas agitated the Lord's mind and body

5 Within and without, waves of separation from Kṛṣṇa surged, and the Lord's mind and body were restless with many kinds of bhāva.

By day, dancing, kīrtana and darśana; by night, relishing rasa with Svarūpa and Rāya —

দিনে নৃত্য-কীর্ত্তন, জগন্নাথ-দরশন । রাত্র্যে রায়-স্বরূপ সনে রস-আস্বাদন ॥ ৬ ॥

dine nṛtya-kīrtana, jagannātha-daraśana
by day dancing and kīrtana seeing Jagannātha
rātrye rāya-svarūpa sane rasa-āsvādana
at night Rāya and Svarūpa with the relishing of rasa

6 By day He danced and sang kīrtana and beheld Jagannātha; by night He relished rasa with Rāya and Svarūpa.

Everyone who sees the Lord is delivered and attains love for Kṛṣṇa —

ত্রিজগতের লোক আসি' করেন দরশন । যেই দেখে, সেই পায় কৃষ্ণপ্রেম-ধন ॥ ৭ ॥

trijagatera loka āsi' karena daraśana
of the three worlds the people coming make darśana
yei dekhe, sei pāya kṛṣṇa-prema-dhana whoever sees he gains the treasure of love for Kṛṣṇa

7 People of the three worlds came to see Him, and whoever saw Him gained the treasure of love for Kṛṣṇa.

The residents of countless universes come in human guise to see the Lord —

মনুষ্যের বেশে দেব-গন্ধর্ব্ব-কিন্নর । সপ্তপাতালের যত দৈত্য বিষধর ॥ ৮ ॥

manuṣyera veśe deva-gandharva-kinnara
of humans in the guise devas, gandharvas and kinnaras
saptapātālera yata daitya viṣadhara
of the seven nether worlds all the Daityas the Nāgas

8 Devas, gandharvas and kinnaras came in human guise, and so did all the Daityas and Nāgas of the seven nether worlds.

Anubhāṣya.
Viṣadhara — the world of the Nāgas (Nāgaloka).

সপ্তদ্বীপে নবখণ্ডে বৈসে যত জন । নানা-বেশে আসি' করে প্রভুর দরশন ॥ ৯ ॥

sapta-dvīpe nava-khaṇḍe vaise yata jana on the seven dvīpas in the nine khaṇḍas dwell all the people
nānā-veśe āsi' kare prabhura daraśana
in various guises coming make of the Lord darśana

9 All who dwell on the seven island-continents (dvīpas) and in the nine regions (khaṇḍas) came in many guises to see the Lord.

Anubhāṣya.
See Antya 2.10.

The Vaiṣṇavas come to see the Lord —

প্রহ্লাদ, বলি, ব্যাস, শুক আদি মুনিগণ । আসি' প্রভু দেখি' প্রেমে হয় অচেতন ॥ ১০ ॥

prahlāda, bali, vyāsa, śuka ādi muni-gaṇa Prahlāda Bali Vyāsa Śuka and other sages
āsi' prabhu dekhi' preme haya acetana
coming the Lord seeing in love become unconscious

10 Sages such as Prahlāda, Bali, Vyāsa and Śuka came, and on seeing the Lord they lost consciousness in love.

Anubhāṣya.
Prahlāda. According to some historians, he appeared in the Tretā-yuga at Multan, the capital of the Punjab, as the Vaiṣṇava son of King Hiraṇyakaśipu of the Kaśyapa dynasty. His father Hiraṇyakaśipu hated Viṣṇu, and so his son Prahlāda had to endure many kinds of torment. Then Bhagavān Nṛsiṁhadeva appeared and slew that asura emperor, the hater of Vaiṣṇavas.

Bali. Prahlāda's son was Virocana, and his son was Bali. Bhagavān descended as Vāmana and, on the pretext of begging three steps of land, showed mercy to Bali, who surrendered himself to Him. Of Bali's hundred sons, Bāṇa was the eldest.

Vyāsa — the son of Parāśara, Sātyavateya (the son of Satyavatī), or Kṛṣṇa-dvaipāyana Bādarāyaṇa Muni. He divided the Veda and is therefore called "Vedavyāsa." He composed the eighteen mahā-purāṇas, the Brahma-sūtra and its commentary, the book Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam. He was a disciple of Śrī Nārada Ṛṣi of the Brahma-sampradāya.

Śuka — the son of Vyāsa. He displayed the pastime of a knower of Brahman from boyhood and a lifelong celibate (naiṣṭhika-brahmacārī), and then took exclusive shelter of devotion to Kṛṣṇa in the form called kīrtana.

Outside, people clamour to see the Lord, Who is within the house; the Lord gives them darśana and tells everyone to chant the narrations of Kṛṣṇa —

বাহিরে ফুকারে লোক, দর্শন না পাঞা ।
'কৃষ্ণ কহ' বলেন প্রভু বাহিরে আসিয়া ॥ ১১ ॥

bāhire phukāre loka, darśana nā pāñā outside cry aloud the people darśana not getting
'kṛṣṇa kaha' balena prabhu bāhire āsiyā
"Kṛṣṇa say" says the Lord outside coming

11 Outside, the people who could not see Him cried out aloud; then the Lord would come out and say, "Say 'Kṛṣṇa'!"

Seeing the Lord, everyone attains love for Kṛṣṇa —

প্রভুর দর্শনে সব লোক প্রেমে ভাসে । এইমত যায় প্রভুর রাত্রি দিবসে ॥ ১২ ॥

prabhura darśane saba loka preme bhāse
of the Lord at the sight all people in love float
ei-mata yāya prabhura rātri divase
in this way pass the Lord's nights days

12 At the sight of the Lord all the people were swept away in love. In this way the Lord's days and nights passed.

The Lord is told that Pratāparudra's son is about to put to death Gopīnātha, the son of Bhavānanda —

একদিন লোক আসি' প্রভুরে নিবেদিল । গোপীনাথেরে 'বড় জানা' চাঙ্গে চড়াইল ॥ ১৩ ॥

ekadina loka āsi' prabhure nivedila
one day people coming to the Lord reported gopīnāthere 'baḍa jānā' cāṅge caḍāila
Gopīnātha the Baḍa Jānā onto the cāṅga has raised

13 One day people came and reported to the Lord, "The Baḍa Jānā, the eldest prince, has raised Gopīnātha onto the cāṅga, the execution platform.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Baḍa Jānā — the eldest son of the Mahārāja of Orissa, that is, the yuvarāja (heir apparent). Cāṅga — a platform used in a particular method of execution: unsheathed swords were set beneath it. The condemned man was thrown from the platform onto the swords and so put to death.

Without the Lord's mercy there is no way to be saved —

তলে খড়্গ পাতি' তারে উপরে ডারিবে । প্রভু রক্ষা করেন যবে, তবে নিস্তারিবে ॥ ১৪ ॥

tale khaḍga pāti' tāre upare ḍāribe below swords setting him from above they will throw prabhu rakṣā karena yabe, tabe nistāribe
the Lord protection makes if then he will be saved

14 They have set swords beneath it and will throw him down onto them from above. Only if You, Lord, protect him will he be saved.

Anubhāṣya.
Ḍāribe — they will throw down.

Begging the Lord's mercy to protect His servant —

সবংশে তোমার সেবক — ভবানন্দ-রায় । তাঁর পুত্র — তোমার সেবকে রাখিতে যুয়ায় ॥ ১৫ ॥

savaṁśe tomāra sevaka — bhavānanda-rāya
with his whole family Your servant Bhavānanda Rāya
tāṁra putra — tomāra sevake rākhite yuyāya
his son Your servant to protect it is fitting

15 Bhavānanda Rāya and his whole family are Your servants. His son is Your servant, and it is fitting that You protect him."

Answering the Lord's question, the messenger tells how Gopīnātha is to be executed —

প্রভু কহে, — রাজা কেনে করয়ে তাড়ন?
তবে সেই লোক কহে সব বিবরণ ॥ ১৬ ॥

prabhu kahe, — rājā kene karaye tāḍana?
the Lord says the king why does punishing tabe sei loka kahe saba vivaraṇa
then those people told the whole account

16 The Lord asked, "Why is the king punishing him?" Then the people told Him the whole story.

গোপীনাথ-পট্টনায়ক — রামানন্দ-ভাই । সর্ব্বকাল হয় সেই 'রাজবিষয়ী' তাই ॥ ১৭ ॥

gopīnātha-paṭṭanāyaka — rāmānanda-bhāi Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka Rāmānanda's brother
sarva-kāla haya sei 'rāja-viṣayī' tāi always is he a keeper of the king's property so

17 "Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka, Rāmānanda's brother, has always been a keeper of the king's property (rāja-viṣayī).

Anubhāṣya.
Rāja-viṣayī — the keeper of the king's property.

'মালজাঠ্যা-দণ্ডপাটে' তার অধিকার ।
সাধি' পাড়ি' আনি' দ্রব্য দিল রাজদ্বার ॥ ১৮ ॥

‘mālajāṭhyā-daṇḍapāṭe’ tāra adhikāra
in Mālajāṭhyā Daṇḍapāṭa his charge
sādhi’ pāḍi’ āni’ dravya dila rāja-dvāra collecting levying bringing the money he gave at the king’s court

18 His charge was Mālajāṭhyā Daṇḍapāṭa. He collected the revenue there and delivered it to the king’s court.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Mālajāṭhyā Daṇḍapāṭa. Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka was the tahsildar (revenue collector) of the district of that name. Of the money he had paid the king, two lakh kāhanas of cowries were still owing (a kāhana is a measure of 1,280 cowries).

দুইলক্ষ কাহন তার ঠাঞি বাকী হইল । দুইলক্ষ কাহন কৌড়ি রাজা ত’ মাগিল ॥ ১৯ ॥

duilakṣa kāhana tāra ṭhāñi bākī haila
two lakhs of kāhanas him from outstanding became duilakṣa kāhana kauḍi rājā ta’ māgila
two lakhs of kāhanas of cowries the king indeed demanded

19 Two lakhs of kāhanas were left outstanding against him, and the king demanded the full sum — two lakhs of kāhanas of cowries.

তেঁহ কহে, — স্থূলদ্রব্য নাহি যে দিব । ক্রমে-ক্রমে বেচি’ কিনি’ দ্রব্য ভরিব ॥ ২০ ॥

teṁha kahe, — sthūla-dravya nāhi ye diba
he says ready wealth there is not that I could give krame-krame veci’ kini’ dravya bhariba little by little selling buying the money I will make good 20 He said, ‘I have no large sum in hand to pay it all at once. Little by little, by selling and buying, I will make good the money.

Anubhāṣya.
Sthūla-dravya — valuable goods or a large sum of money, that is, something with which the debt can be paid off at once. Dravya bhariba — “I will pay the king the wealth (draviṇa) due to him, that is, the money."

ঘোড়া দশ-বার হয়, লহ' মূল্য করি' । এত বলি' ঘোড়া আনে রাজদ্বারে ধরি' ॥ ২১ ॥

ghoḍā daśa-bāra haya, laha' mūlya kari'
horses ten or twelve there are take them a value setting eta bali' ghoḍā āne rāja-dvāre dhari' this saying the horses he brings to the king's gate leading 21 I have ten or twelve horses; take them at a fair valuation.' Saying this, he led the horses to the king's gate.

এক রাজপুত্র ঘোড়ার মূল্য ভাল জানে । তারে পাঠাইল রাজা পাত্র-মিত্র সনে ॥ ২২ ॥

eka rāja-putra ghoḍāra mūlya bhāla jāne
one prince of horses the value well knows tāre pāṭhāila rājā pātra-mitra sane him sent the king ministers and friends with 22 One prince knew the value of horses well, and the king sent him there with ministers and companions.

সেই রাজপুত্র মূল্য করে ঘাটাঞা । গোপীনাথের ক্রোধ হৈল মূল্য শুনিয়া ॥ ২৩ ॥

sei rāja-putra mūlya kare ghāṭāñā that prince the value makes lowering gopīnāthera krodha haila mūlya śuniyā
Gopīnātha's anger arose the value hearing

23 That prince set the value low, and Gopīnātha grew angry when he heard the price.

Anubhāṣya.
Ghāṭāñā — lowering.

সেই রাজপুত্রের স্বভাব, — গ্রীবা ফিরায় । ঊর্ধ্বমুখে বারবার ইতি-উতি চায় ॥ ২৪ ॥

sei rājaputrera svabhāva, — grīvā phirāya of that prince the habit his neck he turns ūrdhvamukhe bārabāra iti-uti cāya
with face upward again and again here and there looks

24 That prince had a habit: he would turn his neck and, with his face upward, look here and there again and again.

তারে নিন্দা করি' কহে সগর্ব্ব বচনে । রাজা কৃপা করে তারে, ভয় নাহি মানে ॥ ২৫ ॥

tāre nindā kari' kahe sagarva vacane
him mockery making he spoke with proud words rājā kṛpā kare tāre, bhaya nāhi māne
the king favour shows him fear not feels

25 Mocking him, Gopīnātha spoke proud words; the king favoured him, so he felt no fear.

আমার ঘোড়া গ্রীবা উঠায়, ঊর্ধ্বে নাহি চায় । তাতে ঘোড়ার মূল্য ঘাটি করিতে না যুয়ায় ॥ ২৬ ॥

āmāra ghoḍā grīvā uṭhāya, ūrdhve nāhi cāya
my horse its neck raises upward does not look tāte ghoḍāra mūlya ghāṭi karite nā yuyāya therefore of the horse the value low to make not is fitting

26 'My horse raises its neck, but it does not look upward. So it is not right to set its price low.'

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The prince who was setting the price of the horses had a habit of craning his neck and looking upward. To mock this, Gopīnātha said, "My horse does raise its neck, but it does not look upward, so its price cannot be any lower." The point of the jibe is this: "My horse is worth no less than you."

শুনি' রাজপুত্র-মনে ক্রোধ উপজিল । রাজার ঠাঞি যাই' বহু লাগানি করিল ॥ ২৭ ॥

śuni' rājaputra-mane krodha upajila hearing in the prince's mind anger arose rājāra ṭhāñi yāi' bahu lāgāni karila
the king to going much slander he made

27 Hearing this, the prince grew angry. He went to the king and slandered Gopīnātha at length:

Anubhāṣya.
Lāgāni — a false accusation, slander.

কৌড়ি নাহি দিবে এই, বেড়ায় ছদ্ম করি' । আজ্ঞা কর, — চাঙ্গে চড়াঞা লই কৌড়ি ॥ ২৮ ॥

kauḍi nāhi dibe ei, beḍāya chadma kari'
the money not will give this man goes about pretexts making ājñā kara, — cāṅge caḍāñā lai kauḍi
order give on the cāṅga raising let me take the money

28 'This man will not pay the money; he goes about making excuses. Give the order, and I will raise him onto the cāṅga and get the money.'

রাজা বলে, — যেই ভাল, কর সেই যায় । যে উপায়ে কৌড়ি পাই, কর সে উপায় ॥ ২৯ ॥

rājā bale, — yei bhāla, kara sei yāya
the king said whatever is good do that going ye upāye kauḍi pāi, kara se upāya
by which means the money I get use that means

29 The king said, 'Go and do whatever is best. Use any means by which I may get the money.'

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Yāya — having gone.

রাজপুত্র আসি' তারে চাঙ্গে চড়াইল ।
খড়্গ-উপরে ফেলাইতে তলে খড়্গ পাতিল ॥ ৩০ ॥

rāja-putra āsi' tāre cāṅge caḍāila
the prince coming him on the cāṅga raised khaḍga-upare phelāite tale khaḍga pātila onto the swords to throw below swords he set

30 The prince came and had him raised onto the cāṅga, and beneath it he set swords, to throw him down onto them."

The Lord displays detachment (nirapekṣatā) and rebukes Gopīnātha —

শুনি' প্রভু কহে কিছু করি' প্রণয়-রোষ । রাজ-কৌড়ি দিতে নারে, রাজার কিবা দোষ ? ॥ ৩১ ॥

śuni' prabhu kahe kichu kari' praṇaya-roṣa hearing the Lord said somewhat showing affectionate anger
rāja-kauḍi dite nāre, rājāra kibā doṣa?
the king's money to give he will not the king's what fault

31 Hearing this, the Lord spoke with a show of affectionate anger: "He will not pay the king's money; what fault is there in the king?

Anubhāṣya.
Dite nāre — he does not want to pay.

রাজ-বিলাত্ সাধি' খায়, নাহি রাজ-ভয় । দারী-নাটুয়ারে দিয়া করে নানা ব্যয় ॥ ৩২ ॥

rāja-vilāt sādhi' khāya, nāhi rāja-bhaya
the king's revenue collecting he consumes no fear of the king dārī-nāṭuyāre diyā kare nānā vyaya
to harlots and dancers giving he makes various expenses

32 He collects the king's revenue and consumes it without any fear of the king, squandering it in various ways on harlots and dancers.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Rāja-vilāt — the money due to the king from the lands under him (the king's treasury or property). Dārī, nāṭuyā — harlots and dancers. He spends the money on such people and has no fear that the king's money must be paid.

যেই চতুর, সেই কুরুক রাজ-বিষয় । রাজ-দ্রব্য শোধি' পায়, তার করুক ব্যয় ॥ ৩৩ ॥

yei catura, sei kuruka rāja-viṣaya
whoever is clever let him do the king's service
rāja-dravya śodhi' pāya, tāra karuka vyaya
the king's dues paying off what he gets that let him make expense

33 Let one who is clever do the king's service: when he has paid off the king's dues, let him spend what is left to him."

At this time the Lord receives the news that Bhavānanda and the others have been seized together with their families —

হেন-কালে আর লোক আইল ধাঞা । বাণীনাথাদি সবংশে লঞা গেল বান্ধিয়া ॥ ৩৪ ॥

hena-kāle āra loka āila dhāñā
at this time another man came running
vāṇīnāthādi savaṁśe lañā gela bāndhiyā
Vāṇīnātha and the others with their families taking went binding

34 Just then another man came running: "Vāṇīnātha and the others have been bound and taken away with their families!"

As an example of the dharma of sannyāsa, the Lord shows indifference, or detachment, towards talk of worldly affairs —

প্রভু কহে, — রাজা আপনে লেখার দ্রব্য লইব । আমি — বিরক্ত সন্ন্যাসী, তাহে কি করিব ? ॥ ৩৫ ॥

prabhu kahe, — rājā āpane lekhāra dravya laiba
the Lord said the king himself the recorded money will take āmi — virakta sannyāsī, tāhe ki kariba?
I a detached sannyāsī in that what shall I do

35 The Lord said, "The king himself will collect the money due on his accounts. I am a detached sannyāsī; what can I do in this?"

Svarūpa Dāmodara and the other devotees beg the Lord to give up His indifference and protect Rāmānanda's kinsmen —

তবে স্বরূপাদি গোসাঞির ভক্তগণ । প্রভুর চরণে সবে কৈলা নিবেদন ॥ ৩৬ ॥

tabe svarūpādi gosāñira bhakta-gaṇa
then Svarūpa and the others of Gosāñi the devotees
prabhura caraṇe sabe kailā nivedana
of the Lord at the feet all made entreaty

36 Then Svarūpa and the other devotees of the Lord all made an entreaty at His feet:

রামানন্দ-রায়ের গোষ্ঠী, সব — তোমার 'দাস' । তোমার উচিত নহে ঐছন উদাস ॥ ৩৭ ॥

rāmānanda-rāyera goṣṭhī, saba — tomāra 'dāsa' Rāmānanda Rāya's family all Your servants
tomāra ucita nahe aichana udāsa
for You fitting is not such indifference

37 "The family of Rāmānanda Rāya are all Your servants. Such indifference is not fitting for You."

The Lord's anger and rebuke —

শুনি' মহাপ্রভু কহে সক্রোধ বচনে । মোরে আজ্ঞা দেহ' সবে, যাঙ রাজস্থানে! ॥ ৩৮ ॥

śuni' mahāprabhu kahe sakrodha vacane hearing Mahāprabhu spoke with angry words
more ājñā deha' sabe, yāṅa rājasthāne!
Me order you give all I should go to the king's place

38 Hearing this, Mahāprabhu spoke angrily: "So you all order Me to go to the king's court!

তোমা-সবার এই মত, — রাজ-ঠাঞি যাঞা । কৌড়ি মাগি' লই আঁচল পাতিয়া ॥ ৩৯ ॥

tomā-sabāra ei mata, — rāja-ṭhāñi yāñā
of you all this opinion to the king going kauḍi māgi' lai āṁcala pātiyā
the money begging I should take the end of My cloth spreading

39 This is what you all think: that I should go to the king, spread out the end of My cloth and beg the money from him.

A sannyāsī is not fit to involve himself in worldly affairs —

পাঁচগণ্ডার পাত্র হয় সন্ন্যাসী ব্রাহ্মণ । মাগিলে বা কেনে দিবে দুইলক্ষ কাহন ? ॥ ৪০ ॥

pāṁca-gaṇḍāra pātra haya sannyāsī brāhmaṇa
of five gaṇḍās the recipient is a sannyāsī brāhmaṇa
māgile vā kene dibe duilakṣa kāhana?
if he begs even why would he give two lakhs of kāhanas

40 A sannyāsī brāhmaṇa is fit to receive at most five gaṇḍās, twenty cowries. Even if I begged, why would anyone give two lakhs of kāhanas?"

Anubhāṣya.
Sannyāsī brāhmaṇa — one who has no money, who has given up worldly things and lives by begging.

The Lord receives the news that Gopīnātha is about to be executed —

হেনকালে আর লোক আইল ধাঞা ।
খড়্গের উপরে গোপীনাথে দিতেছে ডারিয়া ॥ ৪১ ॥

hena-kāle āra loka āila dhāñā
at this time another man came running
khaḍgera upare gopīnāthe diteche ḍāriyā of the swords onto Gopīnātha they are throwing down

41 Just then another man came running: "They are throwing Gopīnātha down onto the swords!"

The devotees beg the Lord to save Gopīnātha, yet to teach the people the Lord remains sternly detached —

শুনি' প্রভুর গণ প্রভুরে করে অনুনয় ।
প্রভু কহে, — আমি ভিক্ষুক, আমা হৈতে কিছু নয় ॥ ৪২ ॥

śuni' prabhura gaṇa prabhure kare anunaya hearing the Lord's associates the Lord make entreaty prabhu kahe, — āmi bhikṣuka, āmā haite kichu naya
the Lord said I a beggar Me from anything is not 42 Hearing this, the Lord's associates entreated Him, but the Lord said, "I am a beggar; I can do nothing.

He tells everyone to pray for this at Jagannātha's feet —

তাতে রক্ষা করিতে যদি হয় সবার মনে । সবে মেলি' যাহ' জগন্নাথের চরণে ॥ ৪৩ ॥

tāte rakṣā karite yadi haya sabāra mane
therefore protection to give if it is in all your minds sabe meli' yāha' jagannāthera caraṇe
all together go of Jagannātha to the feet

43 So if you all have it in mind to save him, go together to the feet of Jagannātha.

Jagannātha-deva is Īśvara Himself and the Master of all —

ঈশ্বর জগন্নাথ, — যাঁর হাতে সর্ব্ব 'অর্থ' । কর্ত্তুমকর্ত্তুমন্যথা করিতে সমর্থ ॥ ৪৪ ॥

īśvara jagannātha, — yāṁra hāte sarva 'artha'
the Lord Jagannātha in whose hands all ends
kartum akartum anyathā karite samartha to do not to do otherwise to do able

44 Jagannātha is Īśvara, the Lord Himself, and all things are in His hands. He is able to do, not to do, or to do otherwise."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Kartum akartum anyathā karite samartha: He alone has the power to do a thing, not to do it, or to do it otherwise.[9]

Haricandana Mahāpātra begs Pratāparudra for Gopīnātha's life —

ইঁহা যদি মহাপ্রভু এতেক কহিলা । হরিচন্দন-পাত্র যাই' রাজারে কহিলা ॥ ৪৫ ॥

iṁhā yadi mahāprabhu eteka kahilā
here when Mahāprabhu this much said
haricandana-pātra yāi' rājāre kahilā
Haricandana Pātra going to the king said

45 While Mahāprabhu was saying this, Haricandana Pātra went and spoke to the king:

Killing, that is, the death penalty, is out of place here —

গোপীনাথ-পট্টনায়ক — সেবক তোমার । সেবকের প্রাণদণ্ড নহে ব্যবহার ॥ ৪৬ ॥

gopīnātha-paṭṭanāyaka — sevaka tomāra Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka servant your sevakera prāṇa-daṇḍa nahe vyavahāra
of a servant the death penalty is not proper practice

46 “Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka is your servant, and to put a servant to death is not proper conduct.

Anubhāṣya.
Vyavahāra — lawful, proper.

বিশেষ তাহার ঠাঞি কৌড়ি বাকী হয় । প্রাণ নিলে কিবা লাভ? নিজ ধন-ক্ষয় ॥ ৪৭ ॥

viśeṣa tāhāra ṭhāñi kauḍi bākī haya especially him from money outstanding is prāṇa nile kibā lābha? nija dhana-kṣaya life if you take what gain your own loss of wealth

47 Besides, he still owes you money. What would you gain by taking his life? Only the loss of your own wealth.

যথার্থ মূল্যে ঘোড়া লহ, যেবা বাকী হয় । ক্রমে ক্রমে দিবে, ব্যর্থ প্রাণ কেনে লয় ॥ ৪৮ ॥

yathārtha mūlye ghoḍā laha, yebā bākī haya
at the proper value the horses take whatever outstanding is krame krame dibe, vyartha prāṇa kene laya little by little he will give needlessly life why take

48 Take the horses at their proper value; whatever remains he will pay little by little. Why take his life needlessly?”

The king declares that he knew nothing about the execution of Gopīnātha —

রাজা কহে, — এই বাত্ আমি নাহি জানি । প্রাণ কেনে লইব, তার দ্রব্য চাহি আমি ॥ ৪৯ ॥

rājā kahe, — ei bāt āmi nāhi jāni
the king said this matter I not know
prāṇa kene laiba, tāra dravya cāhi āmi life why should I take his money want I

49 The king said, “I know nothing of this. Why should I take his life? It is his money I want.

He orders that Gopīnātha be saved at once —

তুমি যাই’ কর তাঁহা সর্ব্ব সমাধান । দ্রব্য যৈছে আইসে, আর রহে তার প্রাণ ॥ ৫০ ॥

tumi yāi’ kara tāṁhā sarva samādhāna
you going make there all settlement
dravya yaiche āise, āra rahe tāra prāṇa
the money so that comes and remains his life

50 Go there and settle everything, so that the money comes in and his life is spared.”

Telling the crown prince the king’s will, Haricandana saves Gopīnātha’s life —

তবে হরিচন্দন আসি’ জানারে কহিল । চাঙ্গে হৈতে গোপীনাথে শীঘ্র নামাইল ॥ ৫১ ॥

tabe haricandana āsi’ jānāre kahila
then Haricandana coming to the Jānā told cāṅge haite gopīnāthe śīghra nāmāila
the cāṅga from Gopīnātha quickly brought down

51 Then Haricandana came and told the prince, and Gopīnātha was quickly brought down from the cāṅga.

Gopīnātha is asked how he will repay the king’s money, and he answers —

দ্রব্য দেহ’ রাজা মাগে — উপায় পুছিল । যথার্থ-মূল্য ঘোড়া লহ, তেঁহ ত’ কহিল ॥ ৫২ ॥

dravya deha’ rājā māge — upāya puchila
the money give the king demands the means he asked yathārtha-mūlya ghoḍā laha, teṁha ta’ kahila
at the proper value the horses take he indeed said

52 “The king demands the money,” Haricandana said, and asked him how he would pay. Gopīnātha replied, “Take the horses at their proper value.

ক্রমে ক্রমে দিমু, আর যত কিছু পারি । অবিচারে প্রাণ লহ, — কি বলিতে পারি ? ॥ ৫৩ ॥

krame krame dimu, āra yata kichu pāri little by little I will give and whatever anything I can avicāre prāṇa laha, — ki balite pāri?
without inquiry life you take what to say can I

53 The rest I will pay little by little, whatever I can. If you take my life without inquiry, what can I say?”

যথার্থ মূল্য করি’ তবে ঘোড়া সব লইল । আর দ্রব্যের মুদ্দতী করি’ ঘরে পাঠাইল ॥ ৫৪ ॥

yathārtha mūlya kari’ tabe ghoḍā saba laila proper value setting then the horses all they took āra dravyera muddatī kari’ ghare pāṭhāila of the remaining money a fixed term making home they sent 54 Then they set a fair price on all the horses and took them. For the rest of the money they fixed a date, and they sent him home.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Muddatī kari’ — making him pledge to pay the money by a term, that is, by an appointed, fixed date.

The Lord asks the messenger about Vāṇīnātha —

এথা প্রভু সেই মনুষ্যেরে প্রশ্ন কৈল । বাণীনাথ কি করে, যবে বান্ধিয়া আনিল ? ॥ ৫৫ ॥

ethā prabhu sei manuṣyere praśna kaila
here the Lord that man a question asked vāṇīnātha ki kare, yabe bāndhiyā ānila?
Vāṇīnātha what does when binding they brought

55 Meanwhile the Lord asked that man, “What was Vāṇīnātha doing when they bound him and took him away?”

সে কহে — বাণীনাথ নির্ভয়ে লয় কৃষ্ণনাম । ‘হরে কৃষ্ণ, হরে কৃষ্ণ’ কহে অবিশ্রাম ॥ ৫৬ ॥

se kahe — vāṇīnātha nirbhaye laya kṛṣṇa-nāma
he said Vāṇīnātha fearlessly takes Kṛṣṇa’s name ‘hare kṛṣṇa, hare kṛṣṇa’ kahe aviśrāma
Hare Kṛṣṇa Hare Kṛṣṇa he says without rest

56 He said, “Vāṇīnātha was fearlessly chanting the name of Kṛṣṇa, saying ‘Hare Kṛṣṇa, Hare Kṛṣṇa’ without rest.

Vāṇīnātha chants the names, counting them on his hands —

সংখ্যা লাগি’ দুই-হাতে অঙ্গুলীতে লেখা । সহস্রাদি পূর্ণ হৈলে, অঙ্গে কাটে রেখা ॥ ৫৭ ॥

saṅkhyā lāgi’ dui-hāte aṅgulīte lekhā of the count for the sake on both hands on the fingers marking sahasrādi pūrṇa haile, aṅge kāṭe rekhā
a thousand and so on complete when on his body he scratches a line

57 To keep count, he marked the names on the fingers of both hands, and each time a thousand were complete, he scratched a line on his body.”

Anubhāṣya.
We learn from this that every sādhaka who has taken exclusive shelter of the holy name must keep the rule of chanting the mahā-mantra “Hare Kṛṣṇa” (sixteen names, thirty-two syllables), holding firmly to a vow of number. He must keep this rule in every way and in every circumstance: in happiness and in sorrow, in prosperity and in danger.

Hearing this, the Lord rejoices —

শুনি' মহাপ্রভু হইলা পরম আনন্দ । কে বুঝিতে পারে গৌরের কৃপা-ছদ্মবন্ধ ? ॥ ৫৮ ॥

śuni' mahāprabhu hailā parama ānanda hearing Mahāprabhu became supremely joyful
ke bujhite pāre gaurera kṛpā-chadma-bandha?
who to understand can Gaura's of mercy in disguise the arrangement

58 Hearing this, Mahāprabhu was supremely joyful. Who can fathom the mercy of Gaura, veiled beneath another guise?[2]

Anubhāṣya.

Kṛpā-chadma-bandha — a train of events arranged from above in the guise (literally, "under the pretext") of mercy.

Kāśī Miśra arrives; the Lord tells him that He will leave for Ālālanātha —

হেনকালে কাশীমিশ্র আইলা প্রভু-স্থানে । প্রভু তাঁরে কহে কিছু সোদ্বেগ-বচনে ॥ ৫৯ ॥

hena-kāle kāśī-miśra āilā prabhu-sthāne
at this time Kāśī Miśra came to the Lord's place
prabhu tāṁre kahe kichu sodvega-vacane
the Lord to him spoke some anxious words

59 At that time Kāśī Miśra came to the Lord, and the Lord spoke to him with some anxiety:

ইঁহা রহিতে নারি, যামু আলালনাথ । নানা উপদ্রব ইঁহা, না পাই সোয়াথ ॥ ৬০ ॥

iṁhā rahite nāri, yāmu ālālanātha
here to stay I cannot I will go to Ālālanātha
nānā upadrava iṁhā, nā pāi soyātha
many disturbances here not I get peace

60 "I cannot stay here; I shall go to Ālālanātha. There are many disturbances here, and I find no peace.

A complaint against the descendants of Bhavānanda Rāya —

ভবানন্দ-রায়ের গোষ্ঠী করে রাজবিষয় । নানা-প্রকারে করে তারা রাজদ্রব্য ব্যয় ॥ ৬১ ॥

bhavānanda-rāyera goṣṭhī kare rāja-viṣaya Bhavānanda Rāya's family does the king's service
nānā-prakāre kare tārā rāja-dravya vyaya
in various ways make they the king's money expense

61 The family of Bhavānanda Rāya is in the king's service, and in various ways they spend the king's money.

রাজার কি দোষ? রাজা নিজ-দ্রব্য চায় । দিতে নারে দ্রব্য, দণ্ড আমারে জানায় ॥ ৬২ ॥

rājāra ki doṣa? rājā nija-dravya cāya
the king's what fault the king his own money wants dite nāre dravya, daṇḍa āmāre jānāya
to give they will not the money the punishment to Me they report

62 What fault is there in the king? He wants only his own money. They will not pay it, and then they come to Me complaining of their punishment.

রাজা গোপীনাথে যদি চাঙ্গে চড়াইল । চারিবারে লোকে আসি' মোরে জানাইল ॥ ৬৩ ॥

rājā gopīnāthe yadi cāṅge caḍāila
the king Gopīnātha when on the cāṅga raised cāri-bāre loke āsi' more jānāila
four times people coming to Me reported

63 When the king had Gopīnātha raised onto the cāṅga, people came four times to tell Me.

The Lord declares that He has no taste for talk of worldly affairs —

ভিক্ষুক সন্ন্যাসী আমি নির্জ্জনবাসী । আমায় দুঃখ দেয়, নিজ-দুঃখ কহি' আসি' ॥ ৬৪ ॥

bhikṣuka sannyāsī āmi nirjana-vāsī
a mendicant sannyāsī I living in solitude
āmāya duḥkha deya, nija-duḥkha kahi' āsi'
to Me pain they give their own troubles telling coming

64 I am a mendicant sannyāsī who lives in solitude, yet they come and pain Me by telling Me their own troubles.

আজি তারে জগন্নাথ করিলা রক্ষণ । কালি কে রাখিবে যদি না দিবে রাজধন ? ॥ ৬৫ ॥

āji tāre jagannātha karilā rakṣaṇa
today him Jagannātha made protection
kāli ke rākhibe yadi nā dibe rāja-dhana?
tomorrow who will protect if not he gives the king's wealth

65 Today Jagannātha has protected him; but tomorrow who will protect him if he does not pay the king's money?

বিষয়ীর বার্ত্তা শুনি' ক্ষুব্ধ হয় মন । তাতে ইঁহা রহি' মোর নাহি প্রয়োজন ॥ ৬৬ ॥

viṣayīra vārtā śuni' kṣubdha haya mana of worldly men the news hearing disturbed becomes the mind
tāte iṁhā rahi' mora nāhi prayojana
therefore here staying My is no purpose

66 Hearing the affairs of worldly men disturbs My mind, and so I have no reason to stay here."

Kāśī Miśra reassures and glorifies the Lord —

কাশীমিশ্র কহে প্রভুর ধরিয়া চরণে । তুমি কেনে এই বাতে ক্ষোভ কর মনে ? ॥ ৬৭ ॥

kāśī-miśra kahe prabhura dhariyā caraṇe Kāśī Miśra said the Lord's holding feet
tumi kene ei bāte kṣobha kara mane?
You why over this matter agitation make in the mind

67 Clasping the Lord's feet, Kāśī Miśra said, "Why do You let this matter trouble Your mind?

বিরক্ত সন্ন্যাসী তোমার কা-সনে সম্বন্ধ ?
ব্যবহার লাগি' তোমা ভজে, সেই জ্ঞান-অন্ধ ॥ ৬৮ ॥

virakta sannyāsī tomāra kā-sane sambandha?
a detached sannyāsī Your with whom relationship
vyavahāra lāgi' tomā bhaje, sei jñāna-andha worldly dealings for the sake of You worships he blind to knowledge

68 You are a detached sannyāsī — what connection have You with anyone? One who worships You for worldly ends is blind to true knowledge.

Anubhāṣya.

Vyavahāra — a livelihood or material enjoyments. Worldly people (viṣayīs), each wanting his own worldly object, with minds full of craving for fruits and enjoyment, seek the help of Viṣṇu or of the Vaiṣṇavas. In the book Saptaśatī, for people with just such minds devoid of bhakti, the fulfilment of various practical desires is described as the fruit of worshipping the Devī. All such selfish endeavours are only the efforts of fools who lack the eye of knowledge. Even when they set out to worship Īśvara purely, worldly people are driven by their own material interest: dharma, artha, kāma and mokṣa. They hope for "mukti" attained through knowledge of Brahman, for the enjoyments of heaven and the like, and for practical freedom from the dualities (advandva), and so they turn away from pure service to Kṛṣṇa and the kārṣṇas (His own).

To ask Viṣṇu for fruits to gratify one's own material senses, and not out of a desire to please Viṣṇu, is foolishness and mere trade —

তোমার ভজন-ফলে তোমাতে 'প্রেমধন' । বিষয় লাগি' তোমায় ভজে, সেই মূর্খ জন ॥ ৬৯ ॥

tomāra bhajana-phale tomāte 'prema-dhana'
of Your worship as the fruit for You the treasure of love
viṣaya lāgi' tomāya bhaje, sei mūrkha jana worldly things for the sake of You worships that foolish person

69 The fruit of worshipping You is the treasure of love for You. One who worships You for the sake of worldly things is a fool.

Anubhāṣya.
See Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 7.10.4.

Anubhāṣya.
Nowadays mantra-merchants and worldly people who live off the garb of religion have taken up a pretence of preaching the holy name. They must maintain wife and children, fill their own bellies, and procure clothes and ornaments for wife and children. They live in Śrī Vṛndāvana and Navadvīpa, sell books to feed and clothe themselves and maintain their families, recite the śāstras, perform as kathakas and lecturers, serve the Śrī Vigraha, give initiation, beg alms, cure their relatives' illnesses, take the bhek (the renunciant's garb), worship the poor, work for social improvement, and so on. Spreading many kinds of nets of deceit, they cheat foolish people who do not know the truth about bhakti, acquire money and the like, and so worship only worldly things. But they cannot understand that the treasure of prema for You, which even Brahmā and others find hard to attain, comes only as the fruit of pure service to You, causeless and free from deceit.

Pure devotees who own nothing and desire only to please the Lord —

তোমা লাগি' রামানন্দ রাজ্য ত্যাগ কৈলা । তোমা লাগি' সনাতন 'বিষয়' ছাড়িলা ॥ ৭০ ॥

tomā lāgi' rāmānanda rājya tyāga kailā
You for the sake of Rāmānanda the kingdom renunciation made tomā lāgi' sanātana 'viṣaya' chāḍilā
You for the sake of Sanātana his worldly position gave up

70 For Your sake Rāmānanda gave up his governorship; for Your sake Sanātana abandoned his worldly position.

তোমা লাগি' রঘুনাথ সকল ছাড়িল । হেথায় তাহার পিতা বিষয় পাঠাইল ॥ ৭১ ॥

tomā lāgi' raghunātha sakala chāḍila
You for the sake of Raghunātha everything gave up hethāya tāhāra pitā viṣaya pāṭhāila
here his father wealth sent

71 For Your sake Raghunātha gave up everything, and his father sent him wealth here.

তোমার চরণ-কৃপা হঞাছে তাহারে । ছত্রে মাগি' খায়, 'বিষয়' স্পর্শ নাহি করে ॥ ৭২ ॥

tomāra caraṇa-kṛpā hañāche tāhāre
Your the mercy of the feet has come to him
chatre māgi' khāya, 'viṣaya' sparśa nāhi kare
at the alms-house begging he eats the wealth touch not does 72 But the mercy of Your feet has come to him: he begs his food at the alms-house and does not touch that wealth.

Gopīnātha, Rāmānanda's younger brother, is no trader seeking his own gain —

রামানন্দের ভাই গোপীনাথ-মহাশয় । তোমা হৈতে বিষয়-বাঞ্ছা, তার ইচ্ছা নয় ॥ ৭৩ ॥

rāmānandera bhāi gopīnātha-mahāśaya Rāmānanda's brother the noble Gopīnātha
tomā haite viṣaya-vāñchā, tāra icchā naya
You from desire for worldly gain his wish is not 73 The noble Gopīnātha, Rāmānanda's brother, has no wish for worldly gain from You.

Seeing that Gopīnātha, who is wholly surrendered to the Lord, is about to be executed, his well-wishers beg the Lord for mercy —

তার দুঃখ দেখি' তার সেবকাদিগণ । তোমারে জানাইল, — যাতে 'অনন্যশরণ' ॥ ৭৪ ॥

tāra duḥkha dekhi' tāra sevakādi-gaṇa
his distress seeing his servants and others tomāre jānāila, — yāte 'ananya-śaraṇa'
to You they reported since having no other shelter

74 Seeing his distress, his servants and others told You of it, for he has no shelter but You (ananya-śaraṇa).

The definition of a pure devotee —

সেই 'শুদ্ধ-ভক্ত', যে তোমা ভজে তোমা লাগি' । আপনার সুখ-দুঃখে হয় ভোগ-ভাগী ॥ ৭৫ ॥

sei 'śuddha-bhakta', ye tomā bhaje tomā lāgi'
he a pure devotee who You worships You for the sake of āpanāra sukha-duḥkhe haya bhoga-bhāgī
his own in happiness and distress is the sharer of the experience

75 He is a pure devotee who worships You for Your own sake; in happiness and in distress he himself tastes the lot that falls to him.[3]

The conduct of a pure devotee —

তোমার অনুকম্পা চাহে, ভজে অনুক্ষণ । অচিরাৎ মিলে তাঁরে তোমার চরণ ॥ ৭৬ ॥

tomāra anukampā cāhe, bhaje anukṣaṇa
Your mercy he seeks he worships constantly acirāt mile tāṁre tomāra caraṇa
soon is attained by him Your feet

76 He longs for Your mercy and worships You constantly; soon he attains Your feet.

তত্তেঽনুকম্পাং সুসমীক্ষ্যমাণো
ভুঞ্জান এবাত্মকৃতং বিপাকম্ ।
হৃদ্বাগ্বপুর্ভির্বিদধন্ নমস্ তে । জীবেত যো মুক্তি-পদে স দায়-ভাক্ ॥ ৭৭ ॥

tat te 'nukampāṁ su-samīkṣyamāṇo therefore Your mercy earnestly awaiting bhuñjāna evātma-kṛtaṁ vipākam enduring indeed self-made the fruits hṛd-vāg-vapurbhir vidadhan namas te with heart, speech and body offering obeisance to You jīveta yo mukti-pade sa dāya-bhāk
lives who to the position of liberation he is heir

77 'Therefore one who lives earnestly awaiting Your mercy, enduring the fruits of his own deeds and offering You obeisance with heart, words and body, is an heir to the position of liberation.' (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.14.8)[4]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 6.261.

Kāśī Miśra begs the Lord to stay in Nīlācala —

এথা তুমি বসি' রহ, কেনে যাবে আলালনাথ ?
কেহ তোমা না শুনাবে বিষয়ীর বাত্ ॥ ৭৮ ॥

ethā tumi vasi' raha, kene yābe ālālanātha?
here You settled stay, why will You go to Ālālanātha
keha tomā nā śunābe viṣayīra bāt
anyone to You not will make hear of worldly men talk

78 Stay on here. Why should You go to Ālālanātha? No one will make You listen to the talk of worldly men.

Only by the Lord's mercy will Gopīnātha be protected in the future as well —

যদি তোমার তারে রাখিতে হয় মন । আজি যে রাখিল, সেই করিবে রক্ষণ ॥ ৭৯ ॥

yadi tomāra tāre rākhite haya mana
if Your him to protect is mind
āji ye rākhila, sei karibe rakṣaṇa
today who protected, He will do protection

79 If You have a mind to protect him, He who protected him today will protect him still."

Pratāparudra goes to the house of his guru Miśra —

এত বলি' কাশীমিশ্র গেলা স্ব-মন্দিরে । মধ্যাহ্নে প্রতাপরুদ্র আইলা তাঁর ঘরে ॥ ৮০ ॥

eta bali' kāśī-miśra gelā sva-mandire
thus saying Kāśī Miśra went to his own home
madhyāhne pratāparudra āilā tāṁra ghare
at midday Pratāparudra came his to the house

80 Saying this, Kāśī Miśra went home, and at midday Pratāparudra came to his house.[5]

The king's rule of serving his guru —

প্রতাপরুদ্রের এক আছয়ে নিয়মে । যত দিন রহে তেঁহ শ্রীপুরুষোত্তমে ॥ ৮১ ॥

pratāparudrera eka āchaye niyame
of Pratāparudra one there is rule
yata dina rahe teṁha śrī-puruṣottame
as many days stays he in Śrī Puruṣottama

81 Pratāparudra kept one rule for as long as he stayed in Śrī Puruṣottama.

নিত্য আসি' করে মিশ্রের পাদ সম্বাহন । জগন্নাথ-সেবার করে ভিয়ান শ্রবণ ॥ ৮২ ॥

nitya āsi' kare miśrera pāda sambāhana
daily coming does Miśra's of the feet massage jagannātha-sevāra kare bhiyāna śravaṇa
of Jagannātha's service does the ordered performance hearing

82 Every day he would come and massage Miśra's feet, and hear how the service of Jagannātha was being carried out in all its order and splendour (bhiyāna).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Bhiyāna": the orderly and elaborate performance of the service (pāripāṭya-abhinaya).

রাজা মিশ্রের চরণ যবে চাপিতে লাগিলা । তবে মিশ্র তাঁরে কিছু ভঙ্গীতে কহিলা ॥ ৮৩ ॥

rājā miśrera caraṇa yabe cāpite lāgilā
the king Miśra's feet when to press began tabe miśra tāṁre kichu bhaṅgīte kahilā
then Miśra to him something by hints said

83 When the king began pressing his feet, Miśra spoke to him in a round-about way:

Miśra tells the king that the Lord is leaving Purī —

দেব, শুন আর এক অপরূপ বাত !
মহাপ্রভু ক্ষেত্র ছাড়ি' যাবেন আলালনাথ ! ॥ ৮৪ ॥

deva, śuna āra eka aparūpa bāta!
Your Majesty, hear another one strange piece of news
mahāprabhu kṣetra chāḍi' yābena ālālanātha!
Mahāprabhu the holy place leaving will go to Ālālanātha

84 "Your Majesty, hear one more strange piece of news: Mahāprabhu is going to leave the holy place (kṣetra) for Ālālanātha!"

The king is saddened and asks the reason; in reply Miśra tells about Gopīnātha —

শুনি' রাজা দুঃখী হৈলা, পুছিলেন কারণ । তবে মিশ্র কহে তাঁরে সব বিবরণ ॥ ৮৫ ॥

śuni' rājā duḥkhī hailā, puchilena kāraṇa hearing the king sorrowful became, asked the reason tabe miśra kahe tāṁre saba vivaraṇa
then Miśra tells him all the details

85 Hearing this, the king became sorrowful and asked the reason. Then Miśra told him the whole story:

গোপীনাথ-পট্টনায়কে চাঙ্গে চড়াইলা । তার সেবক আসি' প্রভুরে কহিলা ॥ ৮৬ ॥

gopīnātha-paṭṭanāyake cāṅge caḍāilā Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka onto the cāṅga they raised tāra sevaka āsi' prabhure kahilā
his servant coming to the Lord told

86 "Gopīnātha Paṭṭanāyaka was raised onto the cāṅga, and his servant came and told the Lord.

The Lord, the embodiment and guardian of dharma, sharply rebukes Gopīnātha for misappropriating the king's money; a description of the social, political and economic rules — that is, the rules of earning money honestly (śukla-vitta) —

শুনিয়া ক্ষোভিত হৈল মহাপ্রভুর মন । ক্রোধে গোপীনাথে কৈলা বহুত ভর্ৎসন ॥ ৮৭ ॥

śuniyā kṣobhita haila mahāprabhura mana hearing agitated became Mahāprabhu's mind
krodhe gopīnāthe kailā bahuta bhartsana
in anger Gopīnātha He did much rebuking

87 When Mahāprabhu heard this, His mind was agitated, and in anger He rebuked Gopīnātha severely:

অজিতেন্দ্রিয় হঞা করে রাজবিষয় । নানা অসৎপথে করে রাজদ্রব্য ব্যয় ॥ ৮৮ ॥

ajitendriya hañā kare rājaviṣaya
not controlling the senses being he does the king's business nānā asatpathe kare rājadravya vyaya
in various wrong ways does the king's wealth spending

88 'He handles the king's affairs without controlling his senses, and spends the king's wealth in all sorts of wrong ways.

ব্রহ্মস্ব-অধিক এই হয় রাজধন । তাহা হরি' ভোগ করে মহাপাপী জন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

brahmasva-adhika ei haya rājadhana
than a brāhmaṇa's property greater this is the king's wealth tāhā hari' bhoga kare mahāpāpī jana
it stealing enjoyment does a great sinner person

89 The king's wealth weighs more than a brāhmaṇa's property; one who steals it to enjoy it is a great sinner.

রাজার বর্ত্তন খায়, আর চুরি করে । রাজদণ্ড্য হয় সেই শাস্ত্রের বিচারে ॥ ৯০ ॥

rājāra vartana khāya, āra curi kare
the king's salary he eats, and theft does rāja-daṇḍya haya sei śāstrera vicāre punishable by the king is he of scripture by the judgement

90 He lives on the king's salary and steals besides; by the judgement of scripture he deserves the king's punishment.

নিজ-কৌড়ি মাগে, রাজা নাহি করে দণ্ড । রাজা — মহাধার্ম্মিক, এই হয় পাপী ভণ্ড ! ॥ ৯১ ॥

nija-kauḍi māge, rājā nāhi kare daṇḍa
his own money asks for, the king not does punishment
rājā — mahā-dhārmika, ei haya pāpī bhaṇḍa!
the king greatly righteous, this one is sinful cheat

91 The king asks only for his own money and does not punish him. The king is most righteous; this man is a sinful cheat!

রাজ-কড়ি না দেয়, আমারে ফুকারে । এই মহাদুঃখ ইঁহা কে সহিতে পারে ? ॥ ৯২ ॥

rāja-kaḍi nā deya, āmāre phukāre
the king's money not he gives, to Me cries out loudly ei mahā-duḥkha iṁhā ke sahite pāre?
this great distress here who to bear can

92 He does not pay the king's money, and he cries out loudly to Me (phukāre). Who here can bear such great distress?

Anubhāṣya.
"Phukāre": weeps loudly.

The wish to live in solitude — that is, to leave bad association, a place loud with talk of worldly affairs —

আলালনাথ যাই' তাঁহা নিশ্চিন্তে রহিমু । বিষয়ীর ভাল মন্দ বার্ত্তা না শুনিমু ॥ ৯৩ ॥

ālālanātha yāi' tāṁhā niścinte rahimu
to Ālālanātha going there free from care I shall stay viṣayīra bhāla manda vārtā nā śunimu
of worldly men good bad news not I shall hear

93 I shall go to Ālālanātha and stay there free from care; I will not hear the news of worldly men, good or bad.'"

The king is ready to give up everything if only the Lord will stay in Purī —

এত শুনি' কহে রাজা পাঞা মনে ব্যথা । সব দ্রব্য ছাড়োঁ, যদি প্রভু রহেন এথা ॥ ৯৪ ॥

eta śuni' kahe rājā pāñā mane vyathā
this hearing says the king feeling in the mind pain
saba dravya chāḍoṁ, yadi prabhu rahena ethā
all the money I give up, if the Lord stays here

94 At this the king felt pain in his heart and said, "I give up all the money, if only the Lord will stay here.

Even a moment's darśana of the Lord is supremely desirable —

একক্ষণ প্রভুর যদি পাইয়ে দরশন । কোটিচিন্তামণি-লাভ নহে তার সম ॥ ৯৫ ॥

eka-kṣaṇa prabhura yadi pāiye daraśana
for one moment the Lord's if I obtain sight
koṭi-cintāmaṇi-lābha nahe tāra sama
of millions of cintāmaṇi gems gain is not to it equal

95 If I can have the Lord's darśana for even a moment, not even millions of cintāmaṇi gems can equal it.

কোন্ ছার পদার্থ এই দুইলক্ষ কাহন ?
প্রাণ-রাজ্য করোঁ প্রভুপদে নির্ম্মঞ্ছন ॥ ৯৬ ॥

kon chāra padārtha ei duilakṣa kāhana?
what paltry thing this two lakhs of kāhanas
prāṇa-rājya karoṁ prabhu-pade nirmañchana life kingdom I make at the Lord's feet an offering

96 And what are these two lakhs of kāhanas? A paltry thing! My life and my kingdom I offer at the Lord's feet in worship (nirmañchana)."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Nirmañchana": a special kind of offering — the offering of arghya during ārati or worship.

When His devotee suffers, the Lord suffers —

মিশ্র কহে, কৌড়ি ছাড়িবা, — নহে প্রভুর মন ।
তাহা দুঃখ পায়, — এই না যায় সহন ॥ ৯৭ ॥

miśra kahe, kauḍi chāḍibā, — nahe prabhura mana Miśra says, the money you should give up is not the Lord's mind
tāhā duḥkha pāya, — ei nā yāya sahana
they (those) suffer this not goes bearing

97 Miśra said, "It is not the Lord's wish that you give up the money. They are suffering, and that He cannot bear."[6]

The king explains that he did not know of Gopīnātha's punishment —

রাজা কহে, — তারে আমি দুঃখ নাহি দিয়ে ।
চাঙ্গে চড়া, খড়্গে ডারা, — আমি না জানিয়ে ॥ ৯৮ ॥

rājā kahe, — tāre āmi duḥkha nāhi diye
the king says to him I pain not give cāṅge caḍā, khaḍge ḍārā, — āmi nā jāniye onto the cāṅga raising, onto the swords throwing I not know

98 The king said, “I mean him no pain. Raising him onto the cāṅga, throwing him onto the swords — I knew nothing of it.

পুরুষোত্তম-জানারে তেঁহ কৈল পরিহাস । সেই ‘জানা’ তারে দেখাইল মিথ্যা ত্রাস ॥ ৯৯ ॥

puruṣottama-jānāre teṁha kaila parihāsa
at Puruṣottama Jānā he made mockery sei ‘jānā’ tāre dekhāila mithyā trāsa
that Jānā to him showed false terror

99 He mocked Puruṣottama Jānā, and that Jānā only gave him a false scare.

The king asks Miśra to please the Lord and to tell Him of the king’s natural affection for the descendants of Bhavānanda —

তুমি যাহ, প্রভুরে রাখহ যত্ন করি’ । এই মুই তাহারে ছাড়িনু সব কৌড়ি ॥ ১০০ ॥

tumi yāha, prabhure rākhaha yatna kari’
you go, the Lord keep effort making ei mui tāhāre chāḍinu saba kauḍi
here I to him have released all the money

100 Go and do all you can to keep the Lord here. Here and now I release him from all the money.”

মিশ্র কহে, কৌড়ি ছাড়িবা, — নহে প্রভুর মনে ।
কৌড়ি ছাড়িলে প্রভু কদাচিৎ দুঃখ মানে ॥ ১০১ ॥

miśra kahe, kauḍi chāḍibā, — nahe prabhura mane Miśra says, the money you should give up is not in the Lord’s mind
kauḍi chāḍile prabhu kadācit duḥkha māne
the money if you give up the Lord perhaps pain feels

101 Miśra said, “The Lord does not want you to give up the money. If you do, perhaps He will be pained.”

রাজা কহে, কৌড়ি ছাড়িমু, — ইহা না কহিবা । সহজে মোর প্রিয় তা'রা, — ইহা জানাইবা ॥ ১০২ ॥

rājā kahe, kauḍi chāḍimu, — ihā nā kahibā
the king says, the money I shall give up this not you should say sahaje mora priya tā'rā, — ihā jānāibā
naturally to me dear they this you should make known

102 The king said, "I shall give up the money, but do not tell Him that. Let Him know only this: they are naturally dear to me.

ভবানন্দ-রায় — আমার পূজ্য-গর্ব্বিত । তাঁর পুত্রগণে আমার সহজেই প্রীত ॥ ১০৩ ॥

bhavānanda-rāya — āmāra pūjya-garvita Bhavānanda Rāya my worthy of honour and esteem
tāṁra putra-gaṇe āmāra sahajei prīta
his sons my naturally affection

103 Bhavānanda Rāya is worthy of my honour and esteem (pūjya-garvita), and I naturally feel affection for his sons."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Pūjya-garvita": worthy of worship, an object of pride and honour.

The crown prince shows Gopīnātha favour and gives him leave —

এত বলি' মিশ্রে নমস্করি' ঘরে গেলা । গোপীনাথে 'বড় জানা' ডাকিয়া আনিলা ॥ ১০৪ ॥

eta bali' miśre namaskari' ghare gelā
thus saying to Miśra offering obeisance home he went gopīnāthe 'baḍa jānā' ḍākiyā ānilā Gopīnātha the Baḍa Jānā calling brought

104 Saying this, the king offered obeisance to Miśra and went home. And the Baḍa Jānā summoned Gopīnātha.[7]

রাজা কহে, — সব কৌড়ি তোমারে ছাড়িলুঁ ৷ সেই মালজাঠ্যা-দণ্ডপাট তোমারে ত' দিলুঁ ॥ ১০৫ ॥

rājā kahe, — saba kauḍi tomāre chāḍiluṁ
the king says all the money to you I have released
sei mālajāṭhyā-daṇḍapāṭa tomāre ta' diluṁ that same Mālajāṭhyā Daṇḍapāṭa to you indeed I have given 105 The king said, "I release you from all the money, and I give you that same Mālajāṭhyā Daṇḍapāṭa again.

আর বার ঐছে না খাইহ রাজধন ৷ আজি হৈতে দিলুঁ তোমায় দ্বিগুণ বর্ত্তন ॥ ১০৬ ॥

āra bāra aiche nā khāiha rāja-dhana
another time like this not consume the king's wealth
āji haite diluṁ tomāya dviguṇa vartana
today from I have given to you double salary

106 Do not consume the king's wealth like this again. From today I give you double salary."

এত বলি' 'নেতধটী' তারে পরাইল ৷ প্রভু-আজ্ঞা লঞা যাহ, বিদায় তোমা দিল ॥ ১০৭ ॥

eta bali' 'neta-dhaṭī' tāre parāila thus saying silk cloth on him he put prabhu-ājñā lañā yāha, vidāya tomā dila
the Lord's permission taking go, leave to you was given

107 Saying this, he dressed him in silk cloth (netadhaṭī): "Take the Lord's permission and go; you have your leave."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Netadhaṭī": silk cloth.

The account of Gopīnātha's punishment leads to a description of the advancement, both worldly and spiritual — that is, of the higher good (śreyas) — that the Lord's mercy brings —

পরমার্থে প্রভুর কৃপা, সেহ রহু দূরে ৷ অনন্ত তাহার ফল, কে বলিতে পারে ? ॥ ১০৮ ॥

paramārthe prabhura kṛpā, seha rahu dūre
in the supreme goal the Lord's mercy, that let it stay far off ananta tāhāra phala, ke balite pāre?
unlimited its fruit, who to tell can

108 Leave aside the Lord's mercy in the highest, spiritual sense (paramārtha): its fruit is endless, and who can describe it?

'রাজ্য-বিষয়'-ফল এই — কৃপার 'আভাসে' !
তাহার গণনা কারো, মনে নাহি আইসে ! ॥ ১০৯ ॥

'rājya-viṣaya'-phala ei — kṛpāra 'ābhāse'!
of royal wealth the fruit this of mercy from a semblance tāhāra gaṇanā kāro, mane nāhi āise!
its reckoning anyone's to the mind not comes

109 This fruit, a domain and worldly wealth, came from a mere semblance (ābhāsa) of His mercy, and no one can even begin to reckon it!

কাঁহা চাঙ্গে চড়াঞা লয় ধন-প্রাণ !
কাঁহা সব ছাড়ি' সেই রাজ্যাদি-প্রদান! ॥ ১১০ ॥

kāṁhā cāṅge caḍāñā laya dhana-prāṇa!
where onto the cāṅga raising takes wealth and life
kāṁhā saba chāḍi' sei rājyādi-pradāna!
where everything releasing that kingdom and more bestowing

110 On one hand, he was raised onto the cāṅga to be stripped of wealth and life! On the other, everything was forgiven, and that same domain and more were bestowed on him!

কাঁহা সর্ব্বস্ব বেচি' লয়, দেয়া না যায় কৌড়ি !
কাঁহা দ্বিগুণ বর্ত্তন, পরায় নেতধড়ি! ॥ ১১১ ॥

kāṁhā sarvasva veci' laya, deyā nā yāya kauḍi!
where all he owned selling takes, to be paid not goes the money
kāṁhā dviguṇa vartana, parāya neta-dhaḍi!
where double salary, dresses in silk cloth

111 On one hand, all he owned was to be sold off, and still the money could not be paid! On the other, a double salary, and a silk cloth to wear!

প্রভুর ইচ্ছা নাহি, তারে কৌড়ি ছাড়াইবে ৷ দ্বিগুণ বর্ত্তন করি' পুনঃ 'বিষয়' দিবে ॥ ১১২ ॥

prabhura icchā nāhi, tāre kauḍi chāḍāibe
the Lord's wish is not him the money would release dviguṇa vartana kari' punaḥ 'viṣaya' dibe double salary making again the post would give

112 The Lord had no wish that his money be remitted, that his salary be doubled, or that he be given his post again.

তথাপি তার সেবক আসি' কৈল নিবেদন ৷ তাতে ক্ষুব্ধ হৈল যবে মহাপ্রভুর মন ॥ ১১৩ ॥

tathāpi tāra sevaka āsi' kaila nivedana
still his servant coming made a petition
tāte kṣubdha haila yabe mahāprabhura mana
by that disturbed became when Mahāprabhu's mind

113 Still, his servant came and made his petition, and Mahāprabhu's mind was disturbed by it.

বিষয়-সুখ দিতে প্রভুর নাহি মনোবল ৷ নিবেদন-প্রভাবেহ তবু ফলে এত ফল ॥ ১১৪ ॥

viṣaya-sukha dite prabhura nāhi manobala worldly happiness to give of the Lord is not inclination
nivedana-prabhāveha tabu phale eta phala
of the petition even by the power still bears so much fruit

114 The Lord had no inclination to give worldly happiness; yet even by the power of a mere petition such fruit was borne.

The wonderful nature of the Lord, full of majesty —

কে কহিতে পারে গৌরের আশ্চর্য্য স্বভাব ?
ব্রহ্মা-শিব-আদি যাঁর না পায় অন্তর্ভাব ॥ ১১৫ ॥

ke kahite pāre gaurera āścarya svabhāva?
who to tell can Gaura's wonderful nature
brahmā-śiva-ādi yāṁra nā pāya antarbhāva
Brahmā, Śiva and others whose not find inner intent

115 Who can describe the wonderful nature of Gaura? Even Brahmā, Śiva and the others cannot fathom His inner intent.

The Lord and Kāśī Miśra talk about how the king treated Gopīnātha —

এথা কাশীমিশ্র আসি' প্রভুর চরণে । রাজার চরিত্র সব কৈলা নিবেদনে ॥ ১১৬ ॥

ethā kāśī-miśra āsi' prabhura caraṇe
here Kāśī Miśra coming the Lord's at the feet
rājāra caritra saba kailā nivedane
the king's conduct all made report

116 Meanwhile Kāśī Miśra came to the Lord's feet and reported all that the king had done.

প্রভু কহে, — কাশীমিশ্র, কি তুমি করিলা ?
রাজ-প্রতিগ্রহ তুমি আমা' করাইলা ? ॥ ১১৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — kāśī-miśra, ki tumi karilā?
the Lord says Kāśī Miśra, what you have done
rāja-pratigraha tumi āmā' karāilā?
a gift from the king you Me have made accept

117 The Lord said, "Kāśī Miśra, what have you done? Have you made Me accept a gift from the king (rāja-pratigraha)?"

Anubhāṣya.
For the Lord's sake, at Kāśī Miśra's word, the king gave up money due to him that Gopīnātha was to pay. Therefore, in the Lord's view, it came about that He had accepted a gift from the king's funds (rājārtha-pratigraha).

মিশ্র কহে, — শুন, প্রভু, রাজার বচনে । অকপটে রাজা এই কৈলা নিবেদনে ॥ ১১৮ ॥

miśra kahe, — śuna, prabhu, rājāra vacane Miśra says hear, Lord, the king's words
akapaṭe rājā ei kailā nivedane
without guile the king this made request

118 Miśra said, "Lord, hear the king's words. Without any guile the king made this request:

প্রভু যেন নাহি জানেন, — রাজা আমার লাগিয়া । দুইলক্ষ কাহন কৌড়ি দিলেক ছাড়িয়া ॥ ১১৯ ॥

prabhu yena nāhi jānena, — rājā āmāra lāgiyā
the Lord so that not should think the king My for the sake duilakṣa kāhana kauḍi dileka chāḍiyā
two lakhs of kāhanas of money gave releasing

119 'Let the Lord not think that the king has given up two lakhs of kāhanas for His sake.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Speak in such a way that He will not think I gave up the money for Mahāprabhu's sake."

ভবানন্দের পুত্র সব — মোর প্রিয়তম । ইঁহা-সবাকারে আমি দেখি আত্মসম ॥ ১২০ ॥

bhavānandera putra saba — mora priyatama Bhavānanda's sons all to me most dear
iṁhā-sabākāre āmi dekhi ātma-sama them all I see as my own self

120 All of Bhavānanda's sons are most dear to me; I regard them all as my own self.

অতএব যাঁহা তাঁহা দেই অধিকার ।
খায়, পিয়ে, লুটে, বিলায়, না করোঁ বিচার ॥ ১২১ ॥

ataeva yāṁhā tāṁhā dei adhikāra
therefore here there I give posts
khāya, piye, luṭe, vilāya, nā karoṁ vicāra
they eat, drink, plunder, give away, not I make scrutiny

121 So I give them posts here and there. They eat, drink, plunder and give away, and I do not look into it.

Earlier, by Pratāparudra's favour, Rāmānanda Rāya had been appointed governor (bhūmy-adhikārī) of Rājamahendrī —

রাজমহীন্দ্রে 'রাজা' কৈনু রাম-রায়ে । যে খাইল, যেবা দিল, নাহি লেখা-দায়ে ॥ ১২২ ॥

rājamahīndre 'rājā' kainu rāma-rāye
in Rājamahendrī governor I made Rāmānanda Rāya ye khāila, yebā dila, nāhi lekhā-dāye
what he consumed, what he gave, is not accounting due 122 In Rājamahendrī I made Rāmānanda Rāya governor (rājā). Whatever he consumed and whatever he gave away, no account was asked of him.

Anubhāṣya.

The present town of Rājamahendrī stands on the northern bank of the Godāvarī. The capital in Rāmānanda Rāya's time, Vidyānagara, lay on the southern bank of the Godāvarī. Vidyānagara, or Vidyāpura, was where the Godāvarī meets the sea — that is, in Koṭadeśa. That province was then known as Rājamahendrī. The northern part of the land of Kaliṅga is Utkaliṅga, or Utkala. Rājamahendrī was precisely the capital of the southern province of the Utkaliṅga kingdom. In our time the town of Rājamahendrī has moved to another site.

গোপীনাথ এইমত 'বিষয়' করিয়া । দুইচারি-লক্ষ কাহন রহে ত' খাঞা ॥ ১২৩ ॥

gopīnātha eimata 'viṣaya' kariyā Gopīnātha in this way official business doing duicāri-lakṣa kāhana rahe ta' khāñā
two or four lakhs of kāhanas remains indeed having consumed

123 In the same way, while handling the king's business, Gopīnātha goes on consuming two to four lakhs of kāhanas.

কিছু দেয়, কিছু না দেয়, না করি বিচার ।
'জানা'-সহিত অপ্রীত্যে দুঃখ পাইল এইবার ॥ ১২৪ ॥

kichu deya, kichu nā deya, nā kari vicāra
some he gives, some not gives, not I make scrutiny
'jānā'-sahita aprītye duḥkha pāila ei-bāra
the Jānā with through ill will trouble he got this time

124 Some of it he pays and some he does not, and I do not look into it. This time he came to grief through his ill will with the Jānā.

'জানা' এত কৈলা, — ইহা মুই নাহি জানোঁ । ভবানন্দের পুত্র-সবে আত্মসম মানোঁ ॥ ১২৫ ॥

'jānā' eta kailā, — ihā mui nāhi jānoṁ
the Jānā so much did this I not know bhavānandera putra-sabe ātma-sama mānoṁ Bhavānanda's sons all as my own self I regard

125 I did not know that the Jānā had gone so far. I regard all of Bhavānanda's sons as my own self.

তাঁহা লাগি' দ্রব্য ছাড়ি, — ইহা মাৎ মানে । সহজেই মোর প্রীতি হয় তাহা-সনে ॥ ১২৬ ॥

tāṁhā lāgi' dravya chāḍi, — ihā māt māne
His for the sake the money I give up this let Him not consider sahajei mora prīti haya tāhā-sane
naturally my love is with them

126 Let Him not consider that I am giving up the money for His sake (māt, "not"): my love for them is natural.'"[8]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Māt" (a Hindi word): "not."

The Lord rejoices to hear of the king's humility; Bhavānanda Rāya arrives with his sons and humbly proclaims the glory of the Lord's mercy —

শুনিয়া রাজার বিনয় প্রভুর আনন্দ । হেনকালে আইলা তথা রায়-ভবানন্দ ॥ ১২৭ ॥

śuniyā rājāra vinaya prabhura ānanda hearing the king's humility the Lord's joy
hena-kāle āilā tathā rāya-bhavānanda
at this time came there Bhavānanda Rāya

127 Hearing of the king's humility, the Lord was pleased. Just then Bhavānanda Rāya arrived there.

পঞ্চপুত্র-সহিতে আসি' পড়িলা চরণে । উঠাঞা প্রভু তাঁরে কৈলা আলিঙ্গনে ॥ ১২৮ ॥

pañca-putra-sahite āsi' paḍilā caraṇe
five sons with coming fell at the feet uṭhāñā prabhu tāṁre kailā āliṅgane raising the Lord him did embracing 128 He came with his five sons and fell at the Lord's feet. The Lord raised him up and embraced him.

রামানন্দ-রায় আদি সবাই মিলিলা । ভবানন্দ-রায় তবে বলিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১২৯ ॥

rāmānanda-rāya ādi sabāi mililā Rāmānanda Rāya and the others all met bhavānanda-rāya tabe balite lāgilā Bhavānanda Rāya then to speak began

129 Rāmānanda Rāya and all the others met the Lord. Then Bhavānanda Rāya began to speak:

Bhavānanda declares that he and his whole family have sold themselves at the Lord's feet —

তোমার কিঙ্কর এই সব মোর কুল । এ বিপদে রাখি' প্রভু, পুনঃ নিলা মূল ॥ ১৩০ ॥

tomāra kiṅkara ei saba mora kula
Your servants this whole my family
e vipade rākhi' prabhu, punaḥ nilā mūla
in this danger saving, Lord, again You took for a price

130 "My whole family are Your servants. Saving us in this danger, Lord, You have bought us again for a price (nilā mūla).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Nilā mūla": You have bought us again, paying the price.

The Lord's affection for His devotees, described by comparison with His rescue of the five Pāṇḍavas from danger —

ভক্তবাৎসল্য এবে প্রকট করিলা । পূর্ব্বে যেন পঞ্চপাণ্ডবে বিপদে তারিলা ॥ ১৩১ ॥

bhakta-vātsalya ebe prakaṭa karilā affection for devotees now manifest You have made pūrve yena pañca-pāṇḍave vipade tārilā
formerly as the five Pāṇḍavas from danger You delivered

131 Now You have shown Your affection for Your devotees, as long ago You delivered the five Pāṇḍavas from danger."

Gopīnātha gives thanks for his rescue and sings the Lord's glory —

'নেতধটী'-মাথে গোপীনাথ চরণে পড়িলা । রাজার কৃপা-বৃত্তান্ত সকল কহিলা ॥ ১৩২ ॥

'netadhaṭī'-māthe gopīnātha caraṇe paḍilā
silk cloth on his head Gopīnātha at the feet fell rājāra kṛpā-vṛttānta sakala kahilā
the king's mercy story all he told

132 Gopīnātha, the silk cloth on his head, fell at the Lord's feet and told the whole story of the king's kindness:

বাকী-কৌড়ি বাদ, আর দ্বিগুণ বর্ত্তন কৈলা । পুনঃ 'বিষয়' দিয়া 'নেতধটী' পরাইলা ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

bākī-kauḍi bāda, āra dviguṇa vartana kailā
the outstanding money remitted, and double salary he made punaḥ 'viṣaya' diyā 'neta-dhaṭī' parāilā again the post giving silk cloth he dressed

133 "He remitted the money I owed and doubled my salary; he gave me my post again and dressed me in silk.

কাঁহা চাঙ্গের উপর সেই মরণ প্রমাদ !
কাঁহা 'নেতধটী' পুনঃ, — এসব প্রসাদ! ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

kāṁhā cāṅgera upara sei maraṇa pramāda!
where of the cāṅga on top that of death peril
kāṁhā 'neta-dhaṭī' punaḥ, — esaba prasāda!
where silk cloth again all this grace

134 On one hand, that peril of death on top of the cāṅga! On the other, silk cloth again — all this is Your grace!

চাঙ্গের উপরে তোমার চরণ ধ্যান কৈলুঁ । চরণ-স্মরণ-প্রভাবে এই ফল পাইলুঁ ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

cāṅgera upare tomāra caraṇa dhyāna kailuṁ
of the cāṅga on top Your feet meditation I did caraṇa-smaraṇa-prabhāve ei phala pāiluṁ
of the feet remembering by the power this fruit I obtained

135 On the cāṅga I meditated on Your feet, and by the power of remembering Your feet I obtained this fruit.

লোকে চমৎকার মোর এ সব দেখিয়া । প্রশংসে তোমার কৃপা-মহিমা গাঞা ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

loke camatkāra mora e saba dekhiyā people amazement my this all seeing praśaṁse tomāra kṛpā-mahimā gāñā
praise Your of mercy the glory singing

136 Seeing all this happen to me, people are amazed; they sing and praise the glory of Your mercy.

The chief fruit of remembering Gaura is love for Gaura; the secondary fruit is worldly happiness —

কিন্তু তোমার স্মরণের নহে এই 'মুখ্যফল' ।
'ফলাভাস' এই, — যাতে 'বিষয়' চঞ্চল ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

kintu tomāra smaraṇera nahe ei 'mukhya-phala'
but Your of remembrance is not this the chief fruit
'phalābhāsa' ei, — yāte 'viṣaya' cañcala
a semblance of fruit this because worldly things fickle

137 But this is not the chief fruit of remembering You. It is only a semblance of fruit (phalābhāsa), for worldly things are fickle.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The chief fruit of remembering Your lotus feet is love for You. The protection of life, honour and wealth is only a semblance of the fruit (phalābhāsa) of that good deed — of serving Your feet. Material objects are fickle by nature, so a fruit connected with them is not the "chief" one.

Anubhāṣya.

Remembering Śrī Mahāprabhu can bring every perfection. The three worldly aims (trivarga) — dharma, artha and kāma — and liberation (apavarga), mokṣa and the rest, are secondary fruits. They are a "semblance of fruit" (phalābhāsa), gained by those who thirst after fickle worldly objects. Compared with the complete, eternally perfect fruit — attaining love for Kṛṣṇa — they are utterly contemptible and bring only a small gain.

রাম-রায়ে, বাণীনাথে কৈলা 'নির্ব্বিষয়' । সেই কৃপা আমাতে নাহি, যাতে ঐছে হয় ! ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

rāma-rāye, vāṇīnāthe kailā 'nirviṣaya' Rāmānanda Rāya, Vāṇīnātha You made free from worldly affairs sei kṛpā āmāte nāhi, yāte aiche haya!
that mercy on me is not, by which such comes about

138 You made Rāmānanda Rāya and Vāṇīnātha free from worldly affairs. But I have not received the mercy that brings this about!

Seeing his worldly fortune grow and fearing to lose the good fortune of serving the Lord, Gopīnātha prays at the Lord's feet for genuine mercy (amāyā-kṛpā) and for freedom from the urge to enjoy worldly things —

শুদ্ধ কৃপা কর, গোসাঞি, ঘুচাহ 'বিষয়' । নির্ব্বিণ্ণ হইনু, মোতে 'বিষয়' না হয় ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

śuddha kṛpā kara, gosāñi, ghucāha 'viṣaya'
pure mercy show, Gosāñi, take away worldly affairs
nirviṇṇa hainu, mote 'viṣaya' nā haya
weary I have become, by me worldly affairs not can be done

139 Show me pure mercy, Gosāñi: take away my worldly affairs. I have grown weary of them (nirviṇṇa); worldly affairs are not for me."

The Lord disregards the outward dress of sannyāsa; knowing Gopīnātha's qualification (adhikāra), He tells him to worship Hari while remaining in the household āśrama —

প্রভু কহে, — সন্ন্যাসী যবে হইবা পঞ্চজন । কুটুম্ব-বাহুল্য তোমার কে করে ভরণ ? ॥ ১৪০ ॥

prabhu kahe, — sannyāsī yabe haibā pañca-jana
the Lord says sannyāsīs if will become five persons kuṭumba-bāhulya tomāra ke kare bharaṇa?
large household your who will do maintaining 140 The Lord said, "If all five of you become sannyāsīs, who will maintain your large household?

The teaching that the perfected servants of Gaura, indifferent to whether they wear a householder's or a sannyāsī's dress, worship Kṛṣṇa in every condition —

মহাবিষয় কর, কিবা বিরক্ত উদাস । জন্মে জন্মে তুমি পঞ্চ — মোর 'নিজদাস' ॥ ১৪১ ॥

mahā-viṣaya kara, kibā virakta udāsa
great worldly affairs do, or detached indifferent
janme janme tumi pañca — mora 'nija-dāsa'
in birth after birth you five My own servants

141 Whether you manage great worldly affairs or live detached and indifferent to the world, birth after birth you five are My own servants.

Anubhāṣya.
When the jīva has the pure self-conception "I am the Lord's eternal, very own servant," neither the outward acceptance of sannyāsa nor outward service to vast worldly affairs can do him any outward harm. For the jīva falls into bondage only when he forgets Kṛṣṇa's happiness and becomes intent on material enjoyment for himself. And when he becomes transcendental, devoted to serving Kṛṣṇa, then even living at home he is in great renunciation (mahā-sannyāsa). In that state he is absorbed in Kṛṣṇa at every moment, so even the greatest worldly affairs, which frighten people, cannot trouble him at all: in every condition he remains equally Kṛṣṇa's servant.

Moral and religious instruction to Gopīnātha: to fulfil his duty to the king and to spend only what has been honestly earned (śukla-artha) —

কিন্তু মোর করিহ এক 'আজ্ঞা' পালন । ব্যয় না করিহ কিছু রাজার মূলধন ॥ ১৪২ ॥

kintu mora kariha eka 'ājñā' pālana
but My do one order keeping vyaya nā kariha kichu rājāra mūla-dhana spending not do any of the king's principal

142 But keep one order of Mine: do not spend any of the king's principal (mūla-dhana).

Anubhāṣya.
When the jīva forgets his transcendental self-conception as the Lord's servant and becomes an enjoyer of material things, he takes to sins contrary to dharma and morality. This is what the Lord forbids.

রাজার মূলধন দিয়া যে কিছু লভ্য হয় । সেই ধন করিহ নানা ধর্ম্মে-কর্ম্মে ব্যয় ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

rājāra mūla-dhana diyā ye kichu labhya haya
the king's principal paying whatever profit is sei dhana kariha nānā dharme-karme vyaya
that money do in various religious and pious works spending

143 After paying the king his principal, spend whatever profit remains on various pious works.

অসদ্ব্যয় না করিহ, — যাতে দুইলোক যায় । এত বলি' সবাকারে দিলেন বিদায় ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

asad-vyaya nā kariha, — yāte dui-loka yāya sinful spending not do by which both worlds are lost eta bali' sabākāre dilena vidāya
thus saying to all He gave leave

144 Do not spend on sinful things, by which both worlds are lost." Saying this, He gave them all leave to go.

Anubhāṣya.
When the jīva takes to sin, he meets obstacles in attaining both — material welfare and transcendental realisation.

The Lord's abundant mercy (amandodayā dayā), which came together with the increase of worldly fortune, is a kṛpā-vivarta, a seeming mercy; it shows that the Lord is subject to His devotees —

রায়ের ঘরে প্রভুর 'কৃপা-বিবর্ত্ত' কহিল । ভক্তবাৎসল্য-গুণ যাতে ব্যক্ত হৈল ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

rāyera ghare prabhura 'kṛpā-vivarta' kahila
in Rāya's house the Lord's seeming mercy I have told bhakta-vātsalya-guṇa yāte vyakta haila affection for devotees quality in which manifest became 145 I have told of the Lord's kṛpā-vivarta — a seeming mercy — shown in the house of Bhavānanda Rāya. In it His affection for His devotees was revealed.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"Kṛpā-vivarta": mercy in the form of worldly welfare (prosperity) is not true mercy. But to the worldly mind it appeared as mercy — a vivarta, taking one thing for another.

Thus ends the ninth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

The Lord gives the devotees leave —

সবায় আলিঙ্গিয়া বিদায় যবে দিলা । হরিধ্বনি করি' সব ভক্ত উঠি' গেলা ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

sabāya āliṅgiyā vidāya yabe dilā
all embracing leave when He gave hari-dhvani kari' saba bhakta uṭhi' gelā
the sound of Hari making all devotees rising went 146 When He embraced them all and gave them leave, all the devotees rose and went away, calling out the name of Hari.

Not understanding the Lord's dealings, everyone is amazed —

প্রভুর কৃপা দেখি' সবার হৈল চমৎকার । তাহারা বুঝিতে নারে প্রভুর ব্যবহার ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

prabhura kṛpā dekhi' sabāra haila camatkāra
the Lord's mercy seeing everyone's was amazement tāhārā bujhite nāre prabhura vyavahāra
they to understand cannot the Lord's behaviour

147 Seeing the Lord's mercy, everyone was amazed; they could not understand the Lord's conduct.

A description of the hidden secret of the Lord's conduct in the pastime of Gopīnātha's rescue, and of its meaning: (1) at first He does not agree to rescue

Gopīnātha; (2) after Gopīnātha's rescue He rebukes him for acquiring money dishonestly; (3) as the ideal for a renounced sannyāsī Vaiṣṇava, He wishes for solitude — that is, to leave bad association, the talk of worldly affairs; (4) Gopīnātha's worldly fortune increases; (5) to Gopīnātha, who fears worldly enjoyment, He teaches that whether one stays at home or leaves home, in every condition one is fit to worship Kṛṣṇa —

তারা সবে যদি কৃপা করিতে সাধিল ।
'আমা' হৈতে কিছু নহে — প্রভু তবে কহিল ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

tārā sabe yadi kṛpā karite sādhila
they all when mercy to show entreated
'āmā' haite kichu nahe — prabhu tabe kahila
Me from anything is not the Lord then said

148 When they had all entreated Him to show mercy, the Lord had said, "I can do nothing."

Anubhāṣya.
Gopīnātha is a jīva, and if he serves worldly affairs, harm to him is inevitable. Bringing about material welfare must be understood as the Lord's secondary mercy. If Śrī Gaurasundara Himself, in the dress of a renounced devotee, set out to help a worldly man, then people would imitate such conduct of His, and the ideal of the renounced Vaiṣṇava would be belittled and despised. Therefore a bhāgavata who is free from worldly dependence (nirapekṣa) and wears the dress of a renunciant should never take up the affairs of worldly people.

গোপীনাথের নিন্দা, আর আপন-নির্ব্বেদ । এইমাত্র কহিল, ইহার না বুঝিবে ভেদ ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

gopīnāthera nindā, āra āpana-nirveda Gopīnātha's censure, and His own dejection
ei-mātra kahila, ihāra nā bujhibe bheda
this only He spoke, of this not will understand the secret

149 He only censured Gopīnātha and spoke of His own detachment (nirveda); no one will understand the secret of this.

কাশীমিশ্রে না সাধিল, রাজারে না সাধিল । উদ্যোগ বিনা এতসব ফল দিল ॥ ১৫০ ॥

kāśī-miśre nā sādhila, rājāre nā sādhila
Kāśī Miśra not He entreated, the king not He entreated
udyoga vinā etasaba phala dila effort without all this fruit He gave 150 He did not entreat Kāśī Miśra, nor did He entreat the king; yet without any effort He gave all this fruit.

Only one attracted by Caitanya, who does not waver before desire and enjoyment, is able to realise the inner meaning of Caitanya's deeds —

চৈতন্যচরিত্র এই পরম গম্ভীর । সেই বুঝে, তাঁর পদে যাঁর মন 'ধীর' ॥ ১৫১ ॥

caitanya-caritra ei parama gambhīra Caitanya's conduct this supremely deep sei bujhe, tāṁra pade yāṁra mana 'dhīra'
he understands His at the feet whose mind steady

151 This conduct of Śrī Caitanya is supremely deep. Only he understands it whose mind is steady (dhīra) at His feet.

One who hears of the Lord's affection for His devotees is freed from anarthas, and love for the Lord awakens in him —

যেই ইঁহা শুনে প্রভুর বাৎসল্য-প্রকাশ । প্রেমভক্তি পায়, তাঁর বিপদ যায় নাশ ॥ ১৫২ ॥

yei iṁhā śune prabhura vātsalya-prakāśa
whoever this hears the Lord's affection display
prema-bhakti pāya, tāṁra vipada yāya nāśa
loving devotion attains, his danger goes to destruction

152 Whoever hears this display of the Lord's affection attains loving devotion, and his dangers are destroyed.

Anubhāṣya.

Thus ends the ninth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ । চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

śrī-rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa Śrī Rūpa's, Raghunātha's at the feet whose hope caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
"Caitanya-caritāmṛta" narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

153 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.

Notes

1. The first line is the same as Madhya 1.188; translated as there. ↩
2. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads কৃপা-ছদ্মবন্ধ (another reading is ছন্দবন্ধ): kṛpā-chadma — mercy hidden under the guise of something else: outwardly the Lord refused to intervene, yet His mercy was at work. ↩
3. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads ভোগ-ভাগী, "one who takes his share" (another reading is ভোগ-ভোগী, "an enjoyer"): the second line speaks of the same pure devotee, who in happiness and distress himself accepts the fruit of his own deeds without asking the Lord to free him (cf. verse 77, bhuñjāna evātma-kṛtaṁ vipākam). ↩
4. The same verse is Madhya 6.261, where Sārvabhauma recites it with bhakti-pade, "to the position of devotion"; here it is read mukti-pade, as in the Bhāgavatam. ↩
5. Sva-mandire — "to his own dwelling". ↩
6. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads তাহা; another reading is তারা, "they". The sense is the same: it is Gopīnātha's family who suffer. ↩
7. The Gauḍīya Maṭha edition reads বড় জানা (another reading is বড় জানায়, "he called the Baḍa Jānā"): the Baḍa Jānā himself summons Gopīnātha. ↩
8. Māt (a Hindi word) — "not" ↩
9. In the edition this section is numbered "৪৩" (43; checked against the scan): a misprint. It explains the words of verse 44 and stands after verse 44. ↩