“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Antya-līlā

Chapter 16

Grace to Kālidāsa, and the Ravings of Madness in Separation

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the Anubhāṣya, 2026)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. The Gauḍīya devotees came again to Śrī Kṣetra. With them came Kālidāsa, a kinsman of Raghunātha dāsa of his father’s generation. Kālidāsa had received the nectar of the lips (adharāmṛta), the remnants, of all the Vaiṣṇavas of Gauḍa; he had received even the nectar of the lips of Jhaḍu Ṭhākura. By the strength of that pious merit (sukṛti) he received in Nīlācala the water that had washed Mahāprabhu’s feet and His prasāda. At the age of seven Kavi-karṇapūra came to Mahāprabhu, received the Hari-nāma mahā-mantra, and showed his gift for poetry. On receiving the vallabha-bhoga, Mahāprabhu described the glory of phelāmṛta (nectarean remnants), had all the Vaiṣṇavas partake of phelāmṛta, and was Himself absorbed in drinking the nectar of Kṛṣṇa’s lips.

Obeisances to Gaura, who teaches devotion by His own example —

1 I bow down to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, who Himself tasted the nectar of feelings for Kṛṣṇa and gave it to His devotees to taste; so He taught them the path of divine love.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I offer my obeisances to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya. He Himself relished the nectar of feelings for Kṛṣṇa, gave it to His devotees to relish, and so taught them divine knowledge of initiation into love (prema-dīkṣā).

Anubhāṣya.

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Caitanya! Glory to Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra, and glory to all the devotees of Gaura!

The Lord's pastimes with His devotees in Nīlācala —

3 In this way Mahāprabhu lived in Nīlācala with His devotees, always overwhelmed by love.

The next year the Gauḍīya devotees come to Purī for the Ratha-yātrā —

বর্ষান্তরে আইলা সব গৌড়ের ভক্তগণ ।

4 The next year all the devotees of Gauḍa came again and, as before, met the Lord.

Kālidāsa comes with the Gauḍīya devotees —

তাঁ-সবার সঙ্গে আইল কালিদাস নাম । কৃষ্ণনাম বিনা তেঁহো নাহি জানে আন ॥ ৫ ॥

kṛṣṇa-nāma vinā teṁho nāhi jāne āna
Kṛṣṇa's name except he not knew anything else

5 With them came a devotee named Kālidāsa, who knew nothing but the name of Kṛṣṇa.

Kālidāsa's qualities —

মহাভাগবত তেঁহো সরল উদার । কৃষ্ণনাম-'সঙ্কেতে' চালায় ব্যবহার ॥ ৬ ॥

mahā-bhāgavata teṁho sarala udāra

of Kṛṣṇa's name by the signs conducted his dealings

6 He was a great devotee, simple and generous, and even in his everyday dealings the name of Kṛṣṇa served him as a sign.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"Kṛṣṇa-nāma-saṅkete calāya vyavahāra": he conducted his worldly affairs using the name of Kṛṣṇa as a sign (saṅketa).

কৌতুকেতে তেঁহো যদি পাশক খেলায় ।
'হরেকৃষ্ণ' 'হরেকৃষ্ণ' করি' পাশক চালায় ॥ ৭ ॥

'hare-kṛṣṇa' 'hare-kṛṣṇa' kari' pāśaka cālāya
Hare Kṛṣṇa Hare Kṛṣṇa saying the dice threw

7 When he played at dice for fun, he would cast them saying, "Hare Kṛṣṇa! Hare Kṛṣṇa!"

Anubhāṣya.

Śrī Kālidāsa had dedicated himself to Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas, was devoted to them alone, and possessed transcendental faith. Suppose some jīva full of anarthas does not follow his steadfast devotion to Kṛṣṇa's name, but instead, for the gratification of his own senses and seeing with outward, sense-born vision, imitates his misleading pastime and becomes attached to the futile vice of playing dice (pāśā, dyūta) and the like. Then (according to Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.17.38–41[13]) his servitude to Kali will increase his sin, that is, his inclination towards irreligion (adharma). And if he outwardly imitates chanting the name and makes a show of chanting it, that very imitation will lead him to sin on the strength of the name, and so it will end only in offence against the name (nāmāparādha). All the educated, self-controlled, and virtuous people of the world will condemn such hypocrisy, an immoral deceit practiced in the name of religion.

Who Kālidāsa was before, the one who partook of the Vaiṣṇavas' remnants —

রঘুনাথ-দাসের তেঁহো হয় জ্ঞাতি-খুড়া । বৈষ্ণবের উচ্ছিষ্ট খাইতে তেঁহো হৈল বুড়া ॥ ৮ ॥

of Vaiṣṇavas the remnants eating he became old

8 He was Raghunātha dāsa's uncle within the clan, and he had grown old honouring the remnants of Vaiṣṇavas.

The most fortunate Kālidāsa had an unequaled eagerness to serve the Vaiṣṇavas, and so he had faith in mahā-mahā-prasāda —

গৌড়দেশে হয় যত বৈষ্ণবের গণ । সবার উচ্ছিষ্ট তেঁহো করিল ভোজন ॥ ৯ ॥

gauḍa-deśe haya yata vaiṣṇavera gaṇa in the land of Gauḍa are as many of Vaiṣṇavas as sabāra ucchiṣṭa teṁho karila bhojana
of all the remnants he did eat

9 There was no Vaiṣṇava in Gauḍa whose remnants he had not taken.

10 He would go to every Vaiṣṇava of brāhmaṇa birth, great and small, bringing the finest things as gifts.

Anubhāṣya.

Brāhmaṇa-Vaiṣṇava: a Vaiṣṇava born in a family of brāhmaṇas by birth (śaukra-brāhmaṇas).

11 He would beg them for the plates with their remnants, and where he was refused, he would hide nearby.

lukāñā sei pātra āni' cāṭi' khāya
secretly that plate bringing licking eats

12 When a Vaiṣṇava had eaten and thrown his plate away, Kālidāsa would secretly take it up and lick it clean.

Kālidāsa is free from caste-consciousness towards Vaiṣṇavas —

শূদ্র-বৈষ্ণবের ঘরে যায় ভেট লঞা ।
এইমত তাঁর উচ্ছিষ্ট খায় লুকাঞা ॥ ১৩ ॥

13 He went with gifts to the homes of Vaiṣṇavas of śūdra birth as well, and in the same way secretly took their remnants.

14 There was a Vaiṣṇava named Jhaḍu, of the bhūṅimāli caste. Kālidāsa went to his home, taking mangoes with him.

Bhũimālī: a particular caste, similar to the Haḍḍī (“Hāḍi”).

Anubhāṣya.

Kālidāsa and Jhaḍu Ṭhākura. The śrīpāṭas of both were in the village of “Bhedo,” or “Bhaduyā.” It lies about three miles south of the village of “Kṛṣṇapura,” where Śrīla Dāsa Gosvāmī appeared, and about a mile west of Bandel Junction on the E.I.R. line; the post office is Devānandapura. The Deity Śrī Madana-gopāla, whom Jhaḍu Ṭhākura served, is worshipped here by a certain Rāmāyet named Śrī Rāmaprasāda dāsa. It is said that the Deity whom Kālidāsa served had until recently been served after a fashion in Śaṅkha-nagara on the bank of the Sarasvatī River. A little more than twenty years ago a resident of Triveṇī named Motilal Caṭṭopādhyāya took Him away, and he serves Him in his own home.

17 After talking with him a while, Jhaḍu Ṭhākura said to him sweetly:

Out of humility Jhaḍu Ṭhākura tries to put [Kālidāsa] off; he is free from pride (amānī) and honours others (mānada) —

আমি — নীচজাতি, তুমি, — অতিথি সর্ব্বোত্তম ।

19 Give me leave to take provisions to a brāhmaṇa's house. There you can take prasāda, and that will give me life."

Kālidāsa's humble words; he is free from caste-consciousness towards Vaiṣṇavas —

কালিদাস কহে, — ঠাকুর, কৃপা কর মোরে । তোমার দর্শনে আইনু মুই পতিত পামরে ॥ ২০ ॥

kālidāsa kahe, — ṭhākura, kṛpā kara more Kālidāsa says Ṭhākura mercy show to me
tomāra darśane āinu mui patita pāmare

20 Kālidāsa said, "Ṭhākura, be merciful to me! I, a fallen sinner, have come to see you.

কৃতার্থ হইনু, মোর সফল জীবন ॥ ২১ ॥

22 I have one desire, if you will be merciful: give me the dust of your feet, and place your foot on my head."

The humble words of Jhaḍu Ṭhākura, who is free from pride and honours others —

ঠাকুর কহে, — ঐছে বাত্ কহিতে না যুয়ায় । আমি — নীচজাতি, তুমি — সুসজ্জন রায় ॥ ২৩ ॥

the Ṭhākura says such words to speak not is fitting
āmi — nīca-jāti, tumi — susajjana rāya
I low born you a noble gentleman

23 The Ṭhākura said, "It is not fitting to say such things. I am of low birth, and you are a noble gentleman."

Kālidāsa recites to Jhaḍu Ṭhākura verses on the glory of the Vaiṣṇavas —

তবে কালিদাস শ্লোক পড়ি' শুনাইল । শুনি' ঝড়ু-ঠাকুরের বড় সুখ হইল ॥ ২৪ ॥

tabe kālidāsa śloka paḍi' śunāila
then Kālidāsa verses reciting made him hear śuni' jhaḍu-ṭhākurera baḍa sukha haila hearing Jhaḍu Ṭhākura's great joy was 24 Then Kālidāsa recited verses for him, and hearing them, Jhaḍu Ṭhākura was greatly pleased.

28 Hearing this, the Ṭhākura said, "What scripture says is true: one in whom there is devotion to Kṛṣṇa is not low.[4]

A devotee of Kṛṣṇa has no material ego; his self-conception is transcendental: he is free from pride and honours others —

আমি — নীচজাতি, আমার নাহি কৃষ্ণ ভক্তি। অন্য ঐছে হয়, আমায় নাহি ঐছে শক্তি ॥ ২৯ ॥

anya aiche haya, āmāya nāhi aiche śakti

29 But I am of low birth, and I have no devotion to Kṛṣṇa. Others may be so blessed, but I have no such power."

Anubhāṣya.
The Mahābhārata says in the Vana-parva (chapter 180): "If the mark [of a brāhmaṇa] is found in a śūdra and is not found in a twice-born, then that śūdra is not a śūdra, and that brāhmaṇa is not a brāhmaṇa." Again in the Vana-parva (chapter 211): "When one born of a śūdra womb has acquired good qualities and lives in straightforwardness, brāhmaṇa nature arises in him." And in the Anuśāsana-parva (chapter 163): "A kṣatriya or a vaiśya who is established in the dharma of a brāhmaṇa and lives by brāhmaṇa nature attains the state of a brāhmaṇa. By these acts, O goddess, and by such auspicious conduct, a śūdra becomes a brāhmaṇa and a vaiśya becomes a kṣatriya. Neither birth, nor purificatory rites (saṁskāras), nor learning, nor lineage is the cause of being twice-born; conduct alone is the cause."

The Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (4.21.12) says: "His command was never disobeyed anywhere, and he alone held the scepter over the seven islands, except over the brāhmaṇa families and the family of Acyuta." The Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (7.11.35) says: "If the marks said to reveal a person's varṇa are seen in someone else, he too should be designated by them." The Padma Purāṇa says: "The devotees of the Lord are not śūdras; they are regarded as bhāgavatas. The śūdras in every varṇa are those who are not devoted to Janārdana." "One should not even look at a brāhmaṇa who is not a Vaiṣṇava, just as one does not look at a dog-eater; but a Vaiṣṇava, even one outside the varṇas, purifies the three worlds." "Whoever looks upon a devotee of the Lord who is a śūdra, a niṣāda, or a dog-eater as a member of his caste surely goes to hell." The Garuḍa Purāṇa says: "One in whom this eightfold devotion is present, even if he is a mleccha, is the best of brāhmaṇas and the best of sages; he is wise and learned." The Tattva-sāgara says: "As bell metal becomes gold when treated with mercury, so by the rite of initiation (dīkṣā) men become twice-born."

From these and many other statements of scripture we know that transcendental brāhmaṇa nature is eternally inherent in a Vaiṣṇava. Therefore, once even a person born in a low family has devotion to Kṛṣṇa, he can no longer have a low caste.

"I am not a Vaiṣṇava": these words only show Jhaḍu Ṭhākura's magnanimity, worthy of a Vaiṣṇava, and his freedom from pride. Mahā-bhāgavatas are free from identifying the self with the body, and it is truly their nature to speak with the humility worthy of pure devotees: "By the truth of scripture all the devotees of Kṛṣṇa except me stand at the highest level; I alone am devoid of devotion and born in a low family; I have no power to rise to a high level," and so on.

Jhaḍu Ṭhākura, who honours others, sees Kālidāsa off and returns home —

30 Bowing to him, Kālidāsa asked leave to go, and Jhaḍu Ṭhākura walked after him to see him off.

Kālidāsa comes back and, seeing Jhaḍu Ṭhākura as a Vaiṣṇava, smears his whole body with the dust [of his footprints] —

36 She filled the wrappings with the sucked stones, carried them outside and threw them into the pit for remnants.

The most fortunate Kālidāsa, in great bliss, honours the Vaiṣṇava's remnants, seeing them as transcendental —

সেই খোলা, আঁঠি, চোকলা চূষে কালিদাস । চূষিতে চূষিতে হয় প্রেমেতে উল্লাস ॥ ৩৭ ॥

sei kholā, āṁṭhi, cokalā cūṣe kālidāsa

37 Kālidāsa sucked those wrappings, stones and skins, and as he went on, he grew ever more jubilant with divine love.

Anubhāṣya.
"Cokalā": peel (kholā).

Kālidāsa honoured the remnants of all the Vaiṣṇavas of Gauḍa —

এইমত যত বৈষ্ণব বৈসে গৌড়দেশে ।

ei-mata yata vaiṣṇava vaise gauḍa-deśe
in this way as many Vaiṣṇavas live in the land of Gauḍa

Kālidāsa thus of all took the remnants

38 In this way Kālidāsa honoured the remnants of all the Vaiṣṇavas who lived in the land of Gauḍa.

When Kālidāsa comes to Purī, the Lord gives him great mercy without reserve —

সেই কালিদাস যবে নীলাচলে আইলা ।

40 Every day, when the Lord went to see Lord Jagannātha, Govinda accompanied Him with His waterpot.

Near the Lion Gate, at the foot of the steps, the Lord washes His feet in a pit —

twenty-two steps at the foot is one low pit

41 On the north side of the Siṁha-dvāra, sheltered behind the gate, at the foot of the twenty-two steps, there was a small pit.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"Bāiśa pahāca": twenty-two pahācas. The Oriyās call each step of a staircase a pahāca. To go up through the Lion Gate one must climb twenty-two pahācas.

Anubhāṣya.

"Āḍe": in a secluded spot, behind a screen. At present these places no longer lie empty; houses and other buildings have been built there. "Gāḍe": in the pit.

সেই গাড়ে করেন প্রভু পাদ-প্রক্ষালনে ।

42 In that pit the Lord would wash His feet, and then He would go to see Lord Jagannātha.

The strict rule of the Lord, who acts as an ācārya to teach the world —

'mora pāda-jala yena nā laya kona jana'
My feet water that not takes any person

43 Mahāprabhu had given Govinda a rule: "See that no one takes the water that washes My feet."

No one but the most intimate devotees has the right to the water that washed

the Lord's feet —

প্রাণিমাত্র লইতে না পায় সেই জল ।
অন্তরঙ্গ ভক্ত লয় করি' কোন ছল ॥ ৪৪ ॥

44 No living being could take that water; only intimate devotees contrived to get it, on one pretext or another.

Kālidāsa holds out his hands before the Lord to receive the water that washed His feet —

45 One day, as the Lord was washing His feet there, Kālidāsa came and held out his cupped hands.

Kālidāsa drinks the water that washed the Lord's feet three times from his cupped hands, and the Lord stops him —

এক অঞ্জলি, দুই অঞ্জলি, তিন অঞ্জলি পিলা ।

Anubhāṣya.
"Etāvatā": up to this point, this far.

48 Lord Caitanya, crest jewel of the all-knowing, knew Kālidāsa's heart and his faith in the Vaiṣṇavas.

Because of Kālidāsa's transcendental faith in the Vaiṣṇavas, the Lord shows

him a mercy rare even for Brahmā and the others —

সেই গুণ লঞা প্রভু তাঁরে তুষ্ট হইলা ।
অন্যের দুর্ল্লভ প্রসাদ তাঁহারে করিলা ॥ ৪৯ ॥

49 Pleased with him for that quality, the Lord showed him a mercy rarely granted to others.

The Lord offers obeisances to Śrī Nṛsiṁha —

50 Beyond the twenty-two steps, at the top on the south side, on the left as one goes up, stands a Deity of Lord Nṛsiṁha.

51 Every day the Lord would bow down to Him and recite this verse again and again:

Obeisances to Śrī Nṛsiṁha, the sole protector of the devotees who preach pure devotion, the crusher of the godless, to whom the devotees are dear (two verses from the Nṛsiṁha Purāṇa) —

52 "Obeisance to You, Lord Narasiṁha, who give joy to Prahlāda, and whose nails are a chisel on the stone of Hiraṇyakaśipu's chest." (Nṛsiṁha-purāṇa)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Obeisances to Narasiṁha, who gives joy to Prahlāda; obeisances to Nṛsiṁha, whose nails split the stone-like chest of Hiraṇyakaśipu.

Anubhāṣya.
hiraṇyakaśipoḥ (of the son of Kaśyapa, the father of Prahlāda, the king of the Daityas, hostile to Viṣṇu and the Vaiṣṇavas) vakṣaḥ-śilā-ṭaṅka-nakhālaye (the chest is the stone [śilā]; a ṭaṅka is a special tool for splitting stone; to Him whose row [āli, line] of nails is that chisel) prahlādāhlāda-dāyine (who gives joy to Prahlāda, the son of Hiraṇyakaśipu and the best of pure Vaiṣṇavas) nara-siṁhāya (to Nṛsiṁhadeva) te (to You) namaḥ.

The preacher of pure devotion everywhere sees Adhokṣaja Śrī Nṛsiṁhadeva as his protector —

ইতো নৃসিংহঃ পরতো নৃসিংহো

53 "Nṛsiṁha is here, Nṛsiṁha is there; wherever I go, there is Nṛsiṁha. Nṛsiṁha is outside, Nṛsiṁha is in the heart. I take shelter of Nṛsiṁha, the original Lord." (Nṛsiṁha-purāṇa)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Nṛsiṁha here, Nṛsiṁha there; wherever I go, there is Nṛsiṁha; Nṛsiṁha outside and Nṛsiṁha in the heart. I take shelter of that original Nṛsiṁha.

Anubhāṣya.

The Lord partakes of prasāda —

তবে প্রভু করিলা জগন্নাথ দরশন ৷

tabe prabhu karilā jagannātha daraśana

54 Then the Lord had darśana of Jagannātha, and on returning home He took His midday meal.

Kālidāsa stands waiting for remnants, and by the Lord's wish he is given the remnants of His meal —

বহির্দ্বারে আছে কালিদাস প্রত্যাশা করিয়া । গোবিন্দেরে ঠারে প্রভু কহেন জানিয়া ॥ ৫৫ ॥

bahir-dvāre āche kālidāsa pratyāśā kariyā
at the outer door is Kālidāsa hoping waiting govindere ṭhāre prabhu kahena jāniyā
to Govinda by a sign the Lord speaks knowing

55 Kālidāsa was waiting hopefully at the outer door. Knowing this, the Lord gave Govinda a sign.

Anubhāṣya.
"Ṭhāre": by a sign, a hint.

প্রভুর ইঙ্গিতে গোবিন্দ সব জানে । কালিদাসেরে দিল প্রভুর শেষপাত্র-দানে ॥ ৫৬ ॥

prabhura iṅgite govinda saba jāne
the Lord's sign Govinda all understands kālidāsere dila prabhura śeṣa-pātra-dāne
to Kālidāsa gave the Lord's plate of remnants as a gift

56 Govinda understood all the Lord's signs and gave Kālidāsa the plate with the Lord's remnants.

The one reason why [Kālidāsa] received the Lord's highest mercy —

বৈষ্ণবের শেষ-ভক্ষণের এতেক মহিমা । কালিদাসে পাওয়াইল প্রভুর কৃপা-সীমা ॥ ৫৭ ॥

vaiṣṇavera śeṣa-bhakṣaṇera eteka mahimā
of Vaiṣṇavas remnants of eating such greatness
kālidāse pāoyāila prabhura kṛpā-sīmā
to Kālidāsa made obtain the Lord's mercy the limit

57 Such is the greatness of the remnants of Vaiṣṇavas: by taking them Kālidāsa received the Lord's mercy in its fullest measure.

The author's instruction to all sādhakas —

তাতে 'বৈষ্ণবের ঝুটা' খাও ছাড়ি' ঘৃণা-লাজ । যাহা হইতে পাইবা বাঞ্ছিত সব কাজ ॥ ৫৮ ॥

tāte 'vaiṣṇavera jhuṭā' khāo chāḍi' ghṛṇā-lāja
therefore Vaiṣṇavas' leftovers eat giving up disgust shame
yāhā haite pāibā vāñchita saba kāja
which from you will obtain desired all aims

58 Therefore, casting off disgust and shame, take the remnants (jhuṭā) of Vaiṣṇavas; through them you will obtain all you desire.

What the remnants of Kṛṣṇa and the remnants of a devotee are called —

কৃষ্ণের উচ্ছিষ্ট হয় 'মহাপ্রসাদ' নাম ।
'ভক্তশেষ' হৈলে 'মহা-মহাপ্রসাদাখ্যান' ॥ ৫৯ ॥

kṛṣṇera ucchiṣṭa haya 'mahā-prasāda' nāma
of Kṛṣṇa the remnants are mahā-prasāda named
'bhakta-śeṣa' haile 'mahā-mahā-prasādākhyāna'
devotee's remnants if they become mahā-mahā-prasāda called 59 The remnants of Kṛṣṇa are called mahā-prasāda; when they become the remnants of a devotee, they are called mahā-mahā-prasāda.

Three transcendental things that give spiritual strength to a sādhaka —

ভক্তপদধূলি আর ভক্তপদ-জল । ভক্তভুক্ত-শেষ, — এই তিন সাধনের বল ॥ ৬০ ॥

bhakta-pada-dhūli āra bhakta-pada-jala
devotee's feet dust and devotee's feet water
bhakta-bhukta-śeṣa, — ei tina sādhanera bala
by the devotee eaten remnants these three of practice the strength

60 The dust of a devotee's feet, the water that has washed his feet, and the remnants of what he has eaten — these three are the strength of spiritual practice.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"The strength of the three practices": to take the dust of a devotee's feet, to take the water that washed his feet, and to take the nectar of his lips (adharāmṛta). These three are the very strength of all spiritual practice.

Serving these three is the one means, approved by all scriptures, of attaining the goal (prayojana), the supreme aim of life (parama-puruṣārtha) —

এই তিন-সেবা হৈতে কৃষ্ণপ্রেমা হয় । পুনঃ পুনঃ সর্ব্বশাস্ত্রে ফুকারিয়া কয় ॥ ৬১ ॥

ei tina-sevā haite kṛṣṇa-premā haya
these three serving from for Kṛṣṇa love arises
punaḥ punaḥ sarva-śāstre phukāriyā kaya
again again in all scriptures loudly they declare

61 By serving these three one attains love for Kṛṣṇa; all the scriptures declare this loudly again and again.

The author's earnest advice to all sādhakas who wish to attain the supreme goal, love of God —

তাতে বার বার কহি, — শুন ভক্তগণ । বিশ্বাস করিয়া কর এ-তিন সেবন ॥ ৬২ ॥

tāte bāra bāra kahi, — śuna bhakta-gaṇa
therefore again again I say hear devotees
viśvāsa kariyā kara e-tina sevana
faith having do these three service

62 Therefore I tell you over and over: listen, O devotees! Serve these three with faith.

These three practices are the only way to attain Kṛṣṇa's name, love for Him, and His mercy —

তিন হৈতে কৃষ্ণনাম-প্রেমের উল্লাস । কৃষ্ণের প্রসাদ, তাতে 'সাক্ষী' কালিদাস ॥ ৬৩ ॥

tina haite kṛṣṇa-nāma-premera ullāsa
the three from Kṛṣṇa's name of love jubilation
kṛṣṇera prasāda, tāte 'sākṣī' kālidāsa
Kṛṣṇa's grace of that witness Kālidāsa

63 These three bring the joy of Kṛṣṇa's name and of love for Him, and through them one gains Kṛṣṇa's grace. Kālidāsa is the witness to this.

Only because of his faith in the devotees' remnants is the Lord merciful to Kālidāsa in Purī —

নীলাচলে মহাপ্রভু রহে এইমতে । কালিদাসে মহাকৃপা কৈলা অলক্ষিতে ॥ ৬৪ ॥

nīlācale mahāprabhu rahe ei-mate
in Nīlācala Mahāprabhu stays in this way
kālidāse mahā-kṛpā kailā alakṣite
to Kālidāsa great mercy showed unnoticed

64 In this way Mahāprabhu lived in Nīlācala, and without anyone noticing He showed Kālidāsa great mercy.

For the Ratha-yātrā Śivānanda comes to Purī with his son Paramānanda Purī

dāsa —

সে বৎসর শিবানন্দ পত্নী লঞা আইলা ।

Purī dāsa his youngest son with him brought 65 That year Śivānanda came with his wife and brought with him his youngest son, Purī dāsa.

Purī dāsa bows at the Lord's feet —

পুত্র সঙ্গে লঞা তেঁহো আইলা প্রভু-স্থানে । পুত্রেরে করাইলা প্রভুর চরণ বন্দনে ॥ ৬৬ ॥

putra saṅge lañā teṁho āilā prabhu-sthāne
son with taking he came to the Lord's place
putrere karāilā prabhura caraṇa vandane
the son he made the Lord's feet honour

66 Taking his son, he came to the Lord and had the boy bow at His feet.

[The Lord] tells him to say the name of Kṛṣṇa; the boy stays silent —

'কৃষ্ণ কহ' বলি' প্রভু বলেন বার বার । তবু কৃষ্ণনাম বালক না করে উচ্চার ॥ ৬৭ ॥

'kṛṣṇa kaha' bali' prabhu balena bāra bāra
Kṛṣṇa say saying the Lord says again again
tabu kṛṣṇa-nāma bālaka nā kare uccāra
still Kṛṣṇa's name the boy not makes utterance

67 Again and again the Lord said, "Say 'Kṛṣṇa'!" But the boy stayed silent and would not utter the name of Kṛṣṇa.

Śivānanda's vain efforts to make him say it —

শিবানন্দ বালকেরে বহু যত্ন করিলা । তবু সেই বালক কৃষ্ণনাম না কহিলা ॥ ৬৮ ॥

śivānanda bālakere bahu yatna karilā Śivānanda with the boy much effort made tabu sei bālaka kṛṣṇa-nāma nā kahilā
still that boy Kṛṣṇa's name not said

68 Śivānanda did all he could to persuade the boy, but still the boy did not say the name of Kṛṣṇa.

Seeing this, even the Lord Himself is astonished —

প্রভু কহে, — আমি নাম জগতে লওয়াইলুঁ । স্থাবরে-পর্য্যন্ত কৃষ্ণনাম কহাইলুঁ ॥ ৬৯ ॥

the Lord says I the name the world made take 69 The Lord said, "I have made the whole world chant the holy name; I have made even trees and stones say the name of Kṛṣṇa.

70 Yet I could not make this boy say the name of Kṛṣṇa!" Hearing this, Svarūpa Gosāñi said:

Svarūpa explains why Purī dāsa stays silent —

তুমি কৃষ্ণনাম-মন্ত্র কৈলা উপদেশে । মন্ত্র পাঞা কার আগে না করে প্রকাশে ॥ ৭১ ॥

tumi kṛṣṇa-nāma-mantra kailā upadeśe

mantra pāñā kāra āge nā kare prakāśe
the mantra having received anyone before not makes disclosure

71 "You have instructed him in the mantra of Kṛṣṇa's name. Having received the mantra, he will not disclose it to anyone.

Anubhāṣya.
If one reveals to someone else the mantra received from Śrī Gurudeva, the mantra loses its potency; we have already learned this from the story of Śrī Gadādhara Paṇḍita.

মনে মনে জপে, মুখে না করে আখ্যান ।

72 He chants it silently, within, but does not speak it aloud. That, I think, is his intention."

The next day, at the Lord's order, the boy Purī dāsa breaks his silence and recites a verse —

আর দিন কহেন প্রভু, — 'পড়, পুরীদাস' । এই শ্লোক করি' তেঁহো করিলা প্রকাশ ॥ ৭৩ ॥

ei śloka kari' teṁho karilā prakāśa

73 Another day the Lord said, "Recite, Purī dāsa!" and the boy composed and recited this verse:

Glory to Kṛṣṇa, the ornament of the gopīs' hearts (the first verse of Kavi-karṇapūra's Āryā-śataka) —

74 "Glory to Hari! He is all the adornment of the girls of Vṛndāvana: the blue lotus at their ears, the collyrium of their eyes, the necklace of great sapphires upon their breast." (Āryā-śataka, 1)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Glory to Hari! He is the blue lotus at the ears, the collyrium of the eyes, and the necklace of sapphires (mahendra-maṇi) on the chest: He is the whole adornment of the young women of Vṛndāvana.

Anubhāṣya.

ব্রহ্মাদি-দেব যার নাহি পায় সীমা ॥ ৭৬ ॥

caitanya-prabhura ei kṛpāra mahimā Caitanya Prabhu's this of mercy greatness
brahmādi-deva yāra nāhi pāya sīmā
Brahmā and the other gods of which not find the limit

76 Such is the greatness of Caitanya Prabhu's mercy; even Brahmā and the other gods cannot find its limit.

[The Lord] tells the Gauḍīya devotees to go to Gauḍa —

ভক্তগণ প্রভু-সঙ্গে রহে চারিমাসে । প্রভু আজ্ঞা দিলা সবে গেলা গৌড়দেশে ॥ ৭৭ ॥

bhakta-gaṇa prabhu-saṅge rahe cāri-māse
the devotees with the Lord stayed four months
prabhu ājñā dilā sabe gelā gauḍa-deśe
the Lord leave gave all went to the land of Gauḍa

77 The devotees stayed with the Lord for four months; then He gave them leave, and they all went back to Gauḍa.

In the company of the Gauḍīya devotees, in His external state, [the Lord] preached talks about Kṛṣṇa and kīrtana; leaving this aside, in His inner state He becomes mad in the mood of a gopī separated from Kṛṣṇa —

তাঁ-সবার সঙ্গে প্রভুর ছিল বাহ্যজ্ঞান । তাঁরা গেলে পুনঃ হৈলা উন্মাদ প্রধান ॥ ৭৮ ॥

tāṁ-sabāra saṅge prabhura chila bāhya-jñāna
them all with the Lord's was external awareness
tāṁrā gele punaḥ hailā unmāda pradhāna
they gone again became madness dominant

78 In their company the Lord kept His external awareness, but when they had gone, His divine madness again prevailed.

Constantly, in separation from Kṛṣṇa, [the Lord] feels Kṛṣṇa's company — Kṛṣṇa appears to Him (sphūrti) —

রাত্রি-দিনে স্ফুরে কৃষ্ণের রূপ-গন্ধ-রস । সাক্ষাদনুভবে, — যেন কৃষ্ণ-উপস্পর্শ ॥ ৭৯ ॥

rātri-dine sphure kṛṣṇera rūpa-gandha-rasa
night and day appear Kṛṣṇa's form fragrance taste
sākṣād-anubhave, — yena kṛṣṇa-upasparśa
directly experiencing as if Kṛṣṇa's touch

79 Night and day Kṛṣṇa's form, fragrance and taste appeared to Him; He experienced them directly, as if Kṛṣṇa were touching Him.

The Lord's words in udghūrṇā; [the Lord] sees Śyāmasundara in the form of Jagannātha —

একদিন প্রভু গেলা জগন্নাথ-দরশনে । সিংহদ্বারে দলই আসি' করিল বন্দনে ॥ ৮০ ॥

eka-dina prabhu gelā jagannātha-daraśane
one day the Lord went for Jagannātha's darśana
siṁha-dvāre dalai āsi' karila vandane
at the Siṁha-dvāra the doorkeeper coming made obeisance

80 One day, when the Lord went to see Jagannātha, the doorkeeper came up to Him at the Siṁha-dvāra and bowed down.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
dalai — a doorkeeper.

তারে বলে, — 'কোথা কৃষ্ণ, মোর প্রাণনাথ ?
মোরে কৃষ্ণ দেখাও' বলি' ধরে তার হাত ॥ ৮১ ॥

tāre bale, — 'kothā kṛṣṇa, mora prāṇa-nātha?
to him says where Kṛṣṇa My life's Lord
more kṛṣṇa dekhāo' bali' dhare tāra hāta
to Me Kṛṣṇa show saying takes his hand

81 The Lord said to him, "Where is Kṛṣṇa, the Lord of My life? Show Me Kṛṣṇa!" and took him by the hand.

সেহ কহে, — 'ইঁহা হয় ব্রজেন্দ্রনন্দন । আইস তুমি মোর সঙ্গে, করাঙ দরশন' ॥ ৮২ ॥

seha kahe, — 'iṁhā haya vrajendra-nandana
he says here is of the king of Vraja the son
āisa tumi mora saṅge, karāṅa daraśana'
come You me with I will make see

82 The doorkeeper said, "The son of the king of Vraja is here. Come with me and I will show Him to You."

Anubhāṣya.
ĩhā haya — in Hindi hĩyā hyāy: "[He] is here."

‘তুমি মোর সখা, দেখাহ, — কাঁহা প্রাণনাথ ?’
এত বলি’ জগমোহন গেলা ধরি’ তার হাত ॥ ৮৩ ॥

‘tumi mora sakhā, dekhāha, — kāṁhā prāṇa-nātha?’
you My friend show where life’s Lord
eta bali’ jagamohana gelā dhari’ tāra hāta
this saying to the jagamohana went holding his hand

83 “You are My friend. Show Me where the Lord of My life is!” Saying this, the Lord went into the jagamohana, holding the man’s hand.

সেহ বলে, — ‘এই দেখ শ্রীপুরুষোত্তম । নেত্র ভরিয়া তুমি করহ দরশন’ ॥ ৮৪ ॥

seha bale, — ‘ei dekha śrī-puruṣottama
he says here see Śrī Puruṣottama
netra bhariyā tumi karaha daraśana’
the eyes filling You make darśana

84 The doorkeeper said, “Here is Śrī Puruṣottama. Fill Your eyes with the sight of Him.”

গরুড়ের পাছে রহি’ করেন দরশন । দেখেন, — জগন্নাথ হয় মুরলীবদন ॥ ৮৫ ॥

garuḍera pāche rahi’ karena daraśana
of Garuḍa behind staying He makes darśana
dekhena, — jagannātha haya muralī-vadana
He sees Jagannātha is with the flute at His lips

85 Standing behind the Garuḍa pillar, the Lord gazed, and He saw that Jagannātha was Kṛṣṇa with the flute at His lips.

Raghunātha described in his book how the Lord saw Jagannātha —

এই লীলা নিজ গ্রন্থে রঘুনাথ-দাস ।

in the Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa has described

86 Raghunātha dāsa has described this pastime in his own book, the Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa:

(Stavāvalī, Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, verse 7)

ক্ব মে কান্তঃ কৃষ্ণস্ত্বরিতমিহ তং লোকয় সখে

kva me kāntaḥ kṛṣṇas tvaritam iha taṁ lokaya sakhe

tvam eveti dvārādhipam abhivadann unmada iva
you alone so to the doorkeeper saying mad as if drutaṁ gaccha draṣṭuṁ priyam iti tad-uktena dhṛta-tad-quickly go to see the Beloved so by his words holding his bhujāntar gaurāṅgo hṛdaya udayan māṁ madayati
hand Gaurāṅga in my heart rising me maddens

87 "'Friend, where is My beloved Kṛṣṇa? Show Him to Me here, quickly — only you can!' So, as if mad, Gaurāṅga spoke to the doorkeeper; and when the man said, 'Come quickly and see Your Beloved,' He took hold of his hand. That Gaurāṅga, rising in my heart, makes me mad with joy." (Caitanya-stava-kalpavṛkṣa, 7)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

"O friend, doorkeeper, where is Kṛṣṇa, the Lord of My life? Show Him to Me here, quickly!" Saying this to the doorkeeper like a madman, [the Lord] took him by the hand and hurried to see Kṛṣṇa.[7] May such a Gaurāṅga rise in my heart and madden me.

Anubhāṣya.

he sakhe, me (My) kāntaḥ (Kṛṣṇa) kva (where)? tvam eva iha (in this place, or at this time) taṁ (the beloved Kṛṣṇa) tvaritam (quickly) lokaya (show) — iti (with such words) unmadaḥ (maddened) iva dvārādhipam abhivadan (saying); priyam (Kṛṣṇa) draṣṭum drutam gaccha (come [with me]) — tad-uktena (at these words of the doorkeeper) dhṛta-tad-bhujāntaḥ (He who took the end of his arm, that is, his hand) gaurāṅgaḥ mama hṛdaye udayan mām madayati (fills with bliss).

The morning offering (bālya-bhoga) to Jagannātha —

হেনকালে ‘গোপাল-বল্লভ’-ভোগ লাগাইল । শঙ্খ-ঘণ্টা-আদি সহ আরতি বাজিল ॥ ৮৮ ॥

hena-kāle ‘gopāla-vallabha’-bhoga lāgāila
at that time gopāla-vallabha offering was placed śaṅkha-ghaṇṭā-ādi saha ārati bājila
conch bells and so on with the ārati sounded

88 At that time the gopāla-vallabha offering was placed before Jagannātha, and the ārati began to the sound of conchshells, bells and other instruments.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Vallabha-bhoga is what in this region is called bāla-bhoga.

Jagannātha’s servants give mahā-prasāda to the Lord —

ভোগ সরিলে জগন্নাথের সেবকগণ । প্রসাদ লঞা প্রভু-ঠাঞি কৈল আগমন ॥ ৮৯ ॥

bhoga sarile jagannāthera sevaka-gaṇa
the offering being over Jagannātha’s servants
prasāda lañā prabhu-ṭhāñi kaila āgamana
prasāda taking to the Lord made coming

89 When the offering was over, Jagannātha’s servants came to the Lord with prasāda.

মালা পরাঞা প্রসাদ দিল প্রভুর হাতে । আস্বাদ দূরে রহু, যার গন্ধে মন মাতে ॥ ৯০ ॥

mālā parāñā prasāda dila prabhura hāte
a garland putting on prasāda gave the Lord's into the hands
āsvāda dūre rahu, yāra gandhe mana māte
the taste far let it remain whose by the fragrance the mind is intoxicated

90 Placing a garland on Him, they put the prasāda into the Lord's hands. Let alone its taste — its very fragrance intoxicated the mind.

The pāṇḍās try to have the Lord accept prasāda —

বহুমূল্য প্রসাদ সেই বস্তু সর্ব্বোত্তম । তার অল্প খাওয়াইতে সেবক করিল যতন ॥ ৯১ ॥

bahu-mūlya prasāda sei vastu sarvottama
very valuable prasāda that the thing the most excellent tāra alpa khāoyāite sevaka karila yatana
of it a little to make eat the servant made effort

91 That prasāda was very precious, the finest of all things, and the servant did his best to have the Lord taste a little of it.

The Lord accepts a little mahā-prasāda —

তার অল্প লঞা প্রভু জিহ্বাতে যদি দিলা । আর সব গোবিন্দের আঁচলে বান্ধিলা ॥ ৯২ ॥

tāra alpa lañā prabhu jihvāte yadi dilā of it a little taking the Lord on the tongue when put āra saba govindera ām̐cale bāndhilā
the rest all Govinda's in the cloth's end tied 92 The Lord took a little of it and put it on His tongue; all the rest He tied in the end of Govinda's cloth.

Tasting mahā-prasāda, the Lord is amazed and shows sāttvika transformations

কোটিঅমৃত-স্বাদ পাঞা প্রভুর চমৎকার । সর্ব্বাঙ্গে পুলক, নেত্রে বহে অশ্রুধার ॥ ৯৩ ॥

koṭiamṛta-svāda pāñā prabhura camatkāra of millions of nectars the taste getting the Lord's wonder
sarvāṅge pulaka, netre vahe aśru-dhāra
on all the limbs thrill from the eyes flows of tears a stream

93 Tasting what was sweeter than millions of nectars, the Lord was struck with wonder. His hair stood on end all over His body, and streams of tears flowed from His eyes.

Recognising the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, [the Lord] is overwhelmed by prema; seeing a servant whose service rests on aiśvarya, He conceals it —

'এই দ্রব্যে এত স্বাদ কাঁহা হইতে আইল ?
কৃষ্ণের অধরামৃত ইথে সঞ্চারিল' ॥ ৯৪ ॥

'ei dravye eta svāda kāṁhā haite āila?
in this food such taste from where has come kṛṣṇera adharāmṛta ithe sañcārila'
of Kṛṣṇa the lip-nectar into it has entered

94 "How has this food come by such a taste? The nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips has entered it!"

এই বুদ্ধ্যে মহাপ্রভুর প্রেমাবেশ হৈল । জগন্নাথের সেবক দেখি' সম্বরণ কৈল ॥ ৯৫ ॥

ei buddhye mahāprabhura premāveśa haila
by this thought Mahāprabhu's absorption in love was jagannāthera sevaka dekhi' samvaraṇa kaila
of Jagannātha the servant seeing restraint made

95 At this thought Mahāprabhu was overcome by love, but seeing Jagannātha's servant, He restrained Himself.

Mahā-prasāda is obtained by great sukṛti turned towards bhakti; the question of Jagannātha's unknowing servant —

'সুকৃতি-লভ্য ফেলা-লব' — বলেন বারবার । ঈশ্বর-সেবক পুছে, — 'কি অর্থ ইহার' ? ॥ ৯৬ ॥

'sukṛti-labhya phelā-lava' — balena bāra-bāra
by sukṛti to be gained of the remnants a particle He says again and again
īśvara-sevaka puche, — 'ki artha ihāra'?
the Lord's servant asks what meaning of this

96 Again and again He said, "A particle of the remnants, gained by sukṛti!" Jagannātha's servant asked, "What does this mean?"

Anubhāṣya.
In the Mahābhārata and in the Skanda Purāṇa (Utkala-khaṇḍa): "O king, those whose piety is small never come to have faith in mahā-prasāda, in Govinda, in the Name, who is Brahman, and in the Vaiṣṇava."

The Lord explains the glory of Kṛṣṇa's remnants, that is, of mahā-prasāda —

প্রভু কহে, — এই যে দিলা কৃষ্ণাধরামৃত । ব্রহ্মাদি-দুর্ল্লভ এই নিন্দয়ে 'অমৃত' ॥ ৯৭ ॥

prabhu kahe, — ei ye dilā kṛṣṇādharāmṛta
the Lord says this that you have given Kṛṣṇa's lip-nectar brahmādi-durllabha ei nindaye 'amṛta'
for Brahmā and others rare this puts to shame nectar

97 The Lord said, "What you have given Me is the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips. Even Brahmā and the gods can hardly obtain it, and it puts nectar itself to shame.

What phelā, that is, mahā-prasāda, means —

কৃষ্ণের যে ভুক্ত-শেষ, তার 'ফেলা'-নাম । তার এক 'লব' যে পায়, সেই ভাগ্যবান্ ॥ ৯৮ ॥

kṛṣṇera ye bhukta-śeṣa, tāra 'phelā'-nāma Kṛṣṇa's which eaten remnants of that phelā the name
tāra eka 'lava' ye pāya, sei bhāgyavān
of it one particle who obtains he fortunate

98 The remnants of what Kṛṣṇa has eaten are called phelā. Whoever obtains even a particle of it is fortunate.

How the fruits of sukṛti turned towards karma and of sukṛti turned towards bhakti differ —

সামান্য ভাগ্য হৈতে তার প্রাপ্তি নাহি হয় । কৃষ্ণের যাঁতে পূর্ণ কৃপা, সেই তাহা পায় ॥ ৯৯ ॥

sāmānya bhāgya haite tāra prāpti nāhi haya ordinary fortune from its attainment not is kṛṣṇera yāṁte pūrṇa kṛpā, sei tāhā pāya
Kṛṣṇa's on whom full mercy he it obtains

99 It cannot be attained by ordinary good fortune. Only one on whom Kṛṣṇa's full mercy rests obtains it.

Anubhāṣya.
sāmānya bhāgya (ordinary fortune) — fortune born of the fruits of karma.

The meaning of the word sukṛti (turned towards bhakti) —

'সুকৃতি'-শব্দে কহে 'কৃষ্ণকৃপা-হেতু পুণ্য' । যেই যাঁর হয়, 'ফেলা' পায় সেই ধন্য ॥ ১০০ ॥

'sukṛti'-śabde kahe 'kṛṣṇa-kṛpā-hetu puṇya'
sukṛti by the word is meant of Kṛṣṇa's mercy the cause piety
yei yāṁra haya, 'phelā' pāya sei dhanya
this whose is phelā obtains he blessed

100 The word sukṛti means the piety that is the cause of Kṛṣṇa's mercy. Whoever has it obtains phelā and is blessed."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
A pious act that gives rise to Kṛṣṇa's mercy is called sukṛti (sukṛti turned towards bhakti).

After seeing the upala-bhoga, the Lord returns to His residence —

এত বলি' প্রভু তা-সবারে বিদায় দিলা । উপল-ভোগ দেখিয়া প্রভু নিজ-বাসা আইলা ॥ ১০১ ॥

eta bali' prabhu tā-sabāre vidāya dilā
this having said the Lord them all leave gave upala-bhoga dekhiyā prabhu nija-vāsā āilā
the upala-bhoga seeing the Lord to His own residence came 101 Having said this, the Lord gave the servants leave to go, and after seeing the upala-bhoga offering He returned to His residence.

[The Lord] remembers the sweetness of Kṛṣṇa's remnants —

মধ্যাহ্ন করিয়া কৈলা ভিক্ষা নির্ব্বাহণ । কৃষ্ণাধরামৃত সদা অন্তরে স্মরণ ॥ ১০২ ॥

madhyāhna kariyā kailā bhikṣā nirvāhaṇa
the midday duties having done made the meal completion
kṛṣṇādharāmṛta sadā antare smaraṇa
Kṛṣṇa's lip-nectar always in the heart remembrance

102 He performed His midday duties and finished His meal, but all the while He remembered the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips within His heart.

[The Lord] is overwhelmed by prema and restrains it with difficulty —

বাহ্য-কৃত্য করেন, প্রেমে গরগর মন । কষ্টে সম্বরণ করেন, আবেশ সঘন ॥ ১০৩ ॥

bāhya-kṛtya karena, preme garagara mana external duties He does with love overflowing the mind
kaṣṭe samvaraṇa karena, āveśa saghana
with difficulty restraint He makes absorption intense

103 He carried out His outward duties, but His mind was overflowing with love; His absorption was intense, and He restrained it only with great difficulty.

In the evening — talks about Kṛṣṇa with the devotees —

সন্ধ্যা-কৃত্য করি' পুনঃ নিজগণ-সঙ্গে । নিভৃতে বসিলা নানা-কৃষ্ণকথা-রঙ্গে ॥ ১০৪ ॥

sandhyā-kṛtya kari' punaḥ nija-gaṇa-saṅge evening duties having done again His own associates with nibhṛte vasilā nānā-kṛṣṇa-kathā-raṅge
in seclusion sat of various Kṛṣṇa talks in the delight

104 After His evening duties He again sat in seclusion with His own associates, delighting in many talks about Kṛṣṇa.

Govinda distributes mahā-prasāda to Purī, Bhāratī, Svarūpa, Rāya, Bhaṭṭācārya and the other devotees —

প্রভুর ইঙ্গিতে গোবিন্দ প্রসাদ আনিলা । পুরী-ভারতীরে প্রভু কিছু পাঠাইলা ॥ ১০৫ ॥

prabhura iṅgite govinda prasāda ānilā
the Lord's at the sign Govinda the prasāda brought purī-bhāratīre prabhu kichu pāṭhāilā to Purī and Bhāratī the Lord some sent

105 At the Lord's sign Govinda brought the prasāda, and the Lord sent some to Paramānanda Purī and Brahmānanda Bhāratī.

রামানন্দ-সার্ব্বভৌম-স্বরূপাদি-গণে । সবারে প্রসাদ দিল করিয়া বণ্টনে ॥ ১০৬ ॥

rāmānanda-sārvabhauma-svarūpādi-gaṇe
to Rāmānanda Sārvabhauma Svarūpa and the others
sabāre prasāda dila kariyā vaṇṭane
to all prasāda gave having made distribution

106 He divided the prasāda and gave it to all — Rāmānanda, Sārvabhauma, Svarūpa and the others.

Tasting the extraordinary prasāda, all are amazed —

প্রসাদের সৌরভ্য-মাধুর্য্য করি' আস্বাদন । অলৌকিক আস্বাদে সবার বিস্ময় হৈল মন ॥ ১০৭ ॥

prasādera saurabhya-mādhurya kari' āsvādana
of the prasāda the fragrance the sweetness having made tasting
alaukika āsvāde sabāra vismaya haila mana
at the unearthly taste of all amazed became the minds

107 When they savoured the fragrance and sweetness of the prasāda, all were amazed at its unearthly taste.

The Lord describes how the material objects that the conditioned jīva enjoys differ in quality from naivedya — transcendental, spiritual offerings that Kṛṣṇa's spiritual senses enjoy —

প্রভু কহে, — এই সব হয় 'প্রাকৃত' দ্রব্য ।
ঐক্ষব, কর্পূর, মরিচ, এলাইচ, লবঙ্গ, গব্য ॥ ১০৮ ॥

রসবাস, গুড়ত্বক-আদি যত সব ।
'প্রাকৃত' বস্তুর স্বাদ সবার অনুভব ॥ ১০৯ ॥

prabhu kahe, — ei saba haya 'prākṛta' dravya
the Lord says these all are material substances
aikṣava, karpūra, marica, elāica, lavaṅga, gavya
sugar camphor black pepper cardamom clove ghee rasavāsa, guḍatvaka-ādi yata saba spices cinnamon and so on as many as all
'prākṛta' vastura svāda sabāra anubhava
material things' taste of all the experience

108–109 The Lord said, "All these are material substances — sugar, camphor, black pepper, cardamom, cloves, ghee, spices, cinnamon and the rest. Everyone knows the taste of material things.

Anubhāṣya.
aikṣava — jaggery or sugar made from sugarcane; gavya — milk, ghee and the like.

Anubhāṣya.
rasavāsa — fragrant and juicy cardamom and cloves; guḍatvaka — cinnamon (dārucini) or jaitrī (mace); prākṛta — all that the conditioned jīva enjoys with his senses, out of a desire to arrange his own happiness. All these are material objects: fragmentary, limited, perishable, and subject to the agitations of time.

এই দ্রব্যে এত আস্বাদ, গন্ধ লোকাতীত । আস্বাদ করিয়া দেখ, — সবার প্রতীত ॥ ১১০ ॥

ei dravye eta āsvāda, gandha lokātīta
in these substances such taste fragrance beyond this world
āsvāda kariyā dekha, — sabāra pratīta
tasting see of all conviction

110 Yet these substances have a taste and a fragrance beyond this world. Taste them and see for yourselves.

The spiritual power of mahā-prasāda, Kṛṣṇa's remnants —

আস্বাদ দূরে রহু, যার গন্ধে মাতে মন । আপনা বিনা অন্য মাধুর্য্য করায় বিস্মরণ ॥ ১১১ ॥

āsvāda dūre rahu, yāra gandhe māte mana the taste far let it remain whose by the fragrance is intoxicated the mind
āpanā vinā anya mādhurya karāya vismaraṇa
itself except other sweetness makes forget

111 Let alone its taste — its fragrance alone intoxicates the mind and makes one forget every sweetness but its own.

The glory of the touch of Kṛṣṇa's lips —

তাতে এই দ্রব্যে কৃষ্ণাধর-স্পর্শ হৈল । অধরের গুণ সব ইহাতে সঞ্চারিল ॥ ১১২ ॥

tāte ei dravye kṛṣṇādhara-sparśa haila
therefore this food Kṛṣṇa's lips' touch received adharera guṇa saba ihāte sañcārila
of the lips the qualities all into it have passed

112 Therefore Kṛṣṇa's lips must have touched this food, and all the qualities of His lips have passed into it.

Spiritual offerings touched by Kṛṣṇa's lips intoxicate the devotee's spiritual senses —

অলৌকিক-গন্ধ-স্বাদ, অন্য-বিস্মারণ । মহা-মাদক হয় এই কৃষ্ণাধরের গুণ ॥ ১১৩ ॥

alaukika-gandha-svāda, anya-vismāraṇa unearthly fragrance taste of others forgetting mahā-mādaka haya ei kṛṣṇādharera guṇa
great intoxicating are these of Kṛṣṇa's lips qualities

113 An unearthly fragrance and taste, and the power to make one forget everything else — such are the greatly intoxicating qualities of Kṛṣṇa's lips.

[The Lord] tells everyone to honour prasāda with transcendental faith —

অনেক ‘সুকৃতে’ ইহা হঞাছে সম্প্রাপ্তি । সবে এই আস্বাদ কর করি’ মহাভক্তি ॥ ১১৪ ॥

aneka ‘sukṛte’ ihā hañāche samprāpti
by many sukṛtis this has been obtained
sabe ei āsvāda kara kari’ mahā-bhakti
all this tasting do with great devotion

114 We have gained this through much sukṛti. Now all of you, taste it with great devotion.”

Tasting the nectar of Kṛṣṇa’s lips, all are overwhelmed by prema —

হরিধ্বনি করি’ সবে কৈলা আস্বাদন । আস্বাদিতে প্রেমে মত্ত হইল সবার মন ॥ ১১৫ ॥

hari-dhvani kari’ sabe kailā āsvādana Hari calling all made tasting
āsvādite preme matta haila sabāra mana
while tasting with love mad became of all the minds

115 Calling out the name of Hari, they all tasted it, and as they did so their minds grew mad with love.

At the Lord’s command, Rāya recites a verse —

প্রেমাবেশে মহাপ্রভু যবে আজ্ঞা দিলা । রামানন্দ-রায় শ্লোক পড়িতে লাগিলা ॥ ১১৬ ॥

premāveśe mahāprabhu yabe ājñā dilā absorbed in love Mahāprabhu when order gave rāmānanda-rāya śloka paḍite lāgilā
Rāmānanda Rāya verses to recite began

116 When Mahāprabhu, absorbed in love, gave the order, Rāmānanda Rāya began to recite verses.

The gopīs beg for the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips (citra-jalpa) — (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, canto 10, chapter 31, verse 14)

bestow O hero on us Your lip-nectar

117 "O hero, grant us the nectar of Your lips. It deepens the longing for union and destroys grief; Your sounding flute kisses it tenderly, and it makes men forget every other attachment." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.31.14)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O hero! The nectar of Your lips increases love (prema)[8] and destroys the grief of the world. The sounding flute kisses it beautifully, and it makes people forget their attachment to all that is not spiritual. Give us that nectar.

Anubhāṣya.

During the rāsa dance Kṛṣṇa suddenly disappeared. The gopīs, whose very life is Kṛṣṇa, grew utterly distressed in separation from Him. They came from the place of the rāsa dance to the bank of the Yamunā and lament thus:

he vīra (O hero [of generosity, dāna-vīra]), surata-vardhanam (that which increases the desire for union [sambhoga]) śoka-nāśanam (that destroys the grief of not attaining You) svarita-veṇunā (by the flute that is blown, that sounds) suṣṭhu cumbitam (infused with the nectar of its sound) itara-rāga-vismāraṇam (that makes one forget, that erases, rāga — attachment — to other things, to pleasures from objects unrelated to Kṛṣṇa) te (Your) adharāmṛtam (the nectar, which is the lips themselves) naḥ (to us) vitara (give).

The Lord Himself recites a verse on the same theme —

118 Mahāprabhu was greatly pleased to hear it, and He began to recite a verse of Rādhā's eager longing:

The nectar of a particle of Kṛṣṇa's remnants increases the longing of the spiritual tongue eager to serve Kṛṣṇa — (Govinda-līlāmṛta, canto 8, verse 8: Śrī Rādhā's words to Viśākhā)

119 "O friend, the shining nectar of His lips takes from the incomparable noble ladies of Vraja all thirst for any other taste; a particle of His remnants is gained only by sukṛti; and He chews rolls of fine betel leaves sweeter than nectar. That Madana-mohana of Mine deepens the craving of My tongue." (Govinda-līlāmṛta, 8.8)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O friend! The nectar of His lips takes away from the incomparable noble ladies of Vraja their thirst for other tastes. A particle of His remnants (phelā) can be obtained by sukṛti. He chews rolls of betel that put nectar to shame. That Madana-mohana increases the longing of my tongue.

Anubhāṣya.

nīvi — the sash, the cord that holds the garment; khasāya — loosens.

129 A stick of dry bamboo heaps such insults on us! Like a master, it has brought us to this state. What can we do but bear it? So we keep silent: when a thief is punished, his mother cannot call out and weep.

Explanation of the second verse; the glory of the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips —

অধরের এই রীতি, আর শুন কুনীতি,

nāma tāra haya 'kṛṣṇa phelā'
the name its is Kṛṣṇa phelā

130 Such is the way of Your lips. Now hear the bad custom of whatever meets those lips: any food or drink they touch becomes like nectar and is called 'Kṛṣṇa's phelā'.

Anubhāṣya.
melā — meeting.

সে ফেলার এক লব, না পায় দেবতা সব,

131 Not one of the gods can obtain a particle of that phelā — who would believe such a boast? Only piety gathered over many births bears the name sukṛti, and by that sukṛti one obtains a particle of it.

Anubhāṣya.
pātiyāya — believes.

132 The betel Kṛṣṇa chews is said to be beyond price, and on top of that comes this artful boast: what He has chewed they call 'the essence of nectar', and they make the gopīs' mouths its cup, its ālabāṭī.

Anubhāṣya.
ālabāṭī — a bāṭī (bowl) for āla (saliva), a spittoon.

এসব — তোমার কুটিনাটি, ছাড় এই পরিপাটী,

133 All this is Your trickery. Give up this artfulness! Why do You steal our lives with Your flute? Do not, for Your own amusement, make Yourself guilty of killing women. Give us the gift of the nectar of Your lips."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O nāgara, I am describing the nature of Your lips; listen.[9] They agitate people's bodies and minds, increase the longing of love (kandarpa-lobha),[10] and remove the burden of joy, grief and the like. They make one forget other tastes, bring the world under their sway, and destroy shame, duty (dharma) and composure. They intoxicate the minds of women and draw them by inflaming the craving of the tongue. Yet when I consider it, I see that with them everything is the other way around. O Kṛṣṇa, You are a man, and the nectar of Your lips ought to attract the minds of women: that is the rule. But it attracts the flute, which is male, makes it drink, and makes it forget all other tastes. To say nothing of conscious beings, it makes even the insentient conscious. Your lips, therefore, are a great magician.

See what else is the other way around. Your flute is mere dry wood, yet the nectar of Your lips makes it drink, gives it senses and a mind (endows it with the power of awareness), and gives it happiness. Like a bold man, this flute itself drinks (again and again) the lips of a man and proclaims its drinking, saying, "Hey, gopīs, if you take pride in being women, then drink your own wealth — the nectar of a man's lips." Rādhikā says: "That flute, angry with me, says, 'Give up shame and fear and drink it; then I will yield (these lips) to you. But if you do not give up shame and fear, I alone will drink without end. Seeing your special right to the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, I am a little afraid of you; all the others I regard as straw.'"[11] With its sound the flute conveys the nectar of the lips — that is, joined with it (in league with it, by force), it thus attracts the three worlds. If we gopīs, afraid of transgressing our duty, keep our composure, it humiliates us all the more. It even makes us give up shame and duty: in front of our elders it loosens our nīvi, that is, the sash; it drags us off as if by the hair and makes us Your maidservants, and people laugh when they hear of it (thus it leads the gopīs wherever it likes). The flute is no more than a stick of dry bamboo, yet (as if it were a master) it insults us and brings us to this state. What can we do but bear it? When a thief is punished, his mother cannot call out to people and cry aloud (for his rescue or for an impartial judgement): it is not for her to call out and cry, or crying is out of place. So I too keep silent.

Such is the way of the lips. Now hear about the evil custom of whatever meets with the lips. Food, dishes and drinks touched by those lips become like nectar and bear the name "Kṛṣṇa-phelā." Even by worship the demigods do not obtain a particle of that phelā. And phelā is so proud that ordinary people cannot believe it: for only by the power of "sukṛti" — sukṛti turned towards bhakti, gained through the piety of many lives — does a servant obtain a particle, a grain, of Kṛṣṇa-phelā. What is given out (udgāra) from the betel prasāda chewed by Kṛṣṇa is called "the essence of nectar," and the mouths of the gopīs are like an ālabāṭī, that is, a spittoon, to keep it. Therefore, O Śyāma, give up this artful cleverness (Your tricks). Do not take the lives of the gopīs any longer with the flute. Do not, in jest, become a killer of women — give us the nectar of Your own lips.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

āpanāra hāsi lāgi' — the first meaning: if You become a killer of women, You Yourself will be blamed; so do not do this — give us the nectar of Your lips. The second meaning: do not kill women for Your own amusement.

Anubhāṣya.

kuṭināṭi — deceit; paripāṭī — artistry, skill, cunning.

At the Lord's command, Rāya recites a verse —

'কহ রাম-রায়, কিছু শুনিতে হয় মন' ।

'kaha rāma-rāya, kichu śunite haya mana'

139 Tell Me something, Rāmarāya — My mind longs to hear." Knowing His mood, Rāmānanda recited the words of the gopīs:

The gopīs praise the flute, which delights in the touch of Kṛṣṇa's lips —

(Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, canto 10, chapter 21, verse 9)

140 "O gopīs, what good deed did this flute perform, that it enjoys of its own accord the nectar of Dāmodara's lips, which belongs to the gopīs, leaving only a taste of it behind? The rivers that nourished it thrill with joy, their lotuses like hair standing on end, and the trees shed tears, like elders of a family rejoicing in a descendant." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.21.9)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O gopīs, what sukṛti has this flute performed that it enjoys Kṛṣṇa's lip-nectar itself — nectar that is the gopīs' to obtain — and leaves only a remnant of its taste? Noble people (when they see that a great descendant, a devotee of the Lord, has been born in their family) shed tears of joy. In the same way the rivers (by whose water this flute was nourished) rejoice: the hair on their skin stands on end — that is, the blossoming lotuses on their surface. And all the trees of the same kind (as the tree from which it was born) shed tears (streams of honey, out of joy).

Anubhāṣya.

When autumn came to Vraja, Śrī Kṛṣṇa herded the cows in the forest and played His flute. The gopīs, longing for Kṛṣṇa's company, wandered here and there singing His enchanting qualities, and thus describe the good fortune of Kṛṣṇa's flute:

Some said to others: gopyaḥ (O gopīs), ayam veṇuḥ kim kuśalam (pious deed) ācarat (performed) sma, yat (so that) gopikānām (though it is for the gopīs alone to enjoy) dāmodarādhara-sudhām (the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips) svayam (of its own accord) avaśiṣṭa-rasam (so that only a remnant of the taste is left) bhuṅkte? hradinyaḥ (the rivers by whose water it was nourished — like mothers to it) hṛṣyat-tvacaḥ (their hair stands on end with delight: in the guise of clusters of blossoming lotuses they appear thrilled); āryāḥ ([as] the elders of a family, seeing a servant of the Lord in their own line, thrill and shed tears, so too) taravaḥ (the trees in whose line it was born) aśru (tears of bliss — in the guise of streams of honey) mumucuḥ.

Absorbed in bhāva, the Lord explains [the verse] in pralāpa —

The meaning of the verse; seeing the good fortune of the flute that drinks the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, the gopīs speak with jealousy — and yet in praise (citra-jalpa) —

aho vrajendra-nandana,
ah of the king of Vraja the son
vrajera kona kanyā-gaṇa,

se-sambandhe gopī-gaṇa,
by that relation the gopīs
yāre jāne nija-dhana,
which know their own wealth

that nectar for others attainable is not

142 "Ah, the son of the king of Vraja will certainly marry some maidens of Vraja. Because of that bond the gopīs know this nectar as their own wealth, and it is not for others to attain.

গোপীগণ, কহ সব করিয়া বিচারে ।

kon tīrtha, kon tapa,

this flute did in a former birth

143 O gopīs, think it over together and tell Me: what holy place, what austerity, what chanting of a perfect mantra did this flute perform in a former birth?[5]

হেন কৃষ্ণাধর-সুধা, যে কৈল অমৃত-মুদা,

of which in the hope the gopīs hold life
ei veṇu ayogya ati,
this flute unworthy very
sthāvara ‘puruṣa jāti’,
unmoving of the male sex
sei sudhā sadā kare pāna
that nectar always makes drinking

144 Such is the nectar of Kṛṣṇa’s lips: it has eclipsed nectar itself, and only in the hope of it do the gopīs keep their lives. Yet this flute, utterly unworthy, an unmoving thing, and of the male sex besides, drinks that nectar all the time.

Anubhāṣya.

ye kaila amṛta-mudā — according to some, that which by the power of its sweetness covers (surpasses) even nectar.

যার ধন, না কহে তারে, পান করে বলাৎকারে,

tāra tapasyāra phala,
its austerity's the fruit
dekha ihāra bhāgya-bala,
see its fortune's power
ihāra ucchiṣṭa mahā-jane khāya
its remnants the great eat

145 Without asking those to whom this wealth belongs, it drinks it by force and loudly calls them to come and drink. See the fruit of its austerity, the power of its good fortune: even the great partake of its remnants.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

mahā-jane — Mānasa-gaṅgā and the Yamunā. They are "mahājanas" because they are holy rivers.

মানসগঙ্গা, কালিন্দী, ভুবন-পাবনী নদী,
কৃষ্ণ যদি তাতে করে স্নান ।
বেণু-ঝুটাধর রস, হঞা লোভে পরবশ, সেই কালে হর্ষে করে পান ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

mānasa-gaṅgā, kālindī,
the Mānasa-gaṅgā the Kālindī

veṇu-jhuṭādhara-rasa,
of the flute left over of the lips the taste
hañā lobhe paravaśa,
being by longing overpowered
sei kāle harṣe kare pāna
at that time with joy make drinking

146 The Mānasa-gaṅgā and the Kālindī are rivers that purify the world. When Kṛṣṇa bathes in them, they are overpowered by longing and joyfully drink the taste of His lips left over by the flute.

এ-ত নদী রহু দূরে, বৃক্ষ সব তার তীরে,

নদীর শেষ-রস পাঞা, মূলদ্বারে আকর্ষিয়া,

e-ta nadī rahu dūre,
these rivers let remain far
vṛkṣa saba tāra tīre,
trees all their on the banks
tapa kare para-upakārī
austerity perform to others beneficent
nadīra śeṣa-rasa pāñā,
of the rivers the left-over taste getting
mūla-dvāre ākarṣiyā,
by the roots drawing up
kene piye, bujhite nā pāri why they drink to understand not I can

147 But let alone the rivers! The trees on their banks perform austerities and do good to others; yet they take the taste the rivers have left, draw it up through their roots and drink it — why, I cannot understand.[6]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Though they are holy rivers, they are still rivers. Therefore such an act of theirs (that is, drinking the taste of Kṛṣṇa's lip-nectar left by the flute) is possible.

নিজাঙ্কুরে পুলকিত, পুষ্পে হাস্য বিকসিত,

the flute regarding as their own kin
āryera yena putra-nāti,
of a noble man as sons grandsons
'vaiṣṇava' haile ānanda-vikāra
Vaiṣṇavas becoming of bliss transformation

148 Their new shoots are their hair standing on end, their flowers are blossoming laughter, and in the guise of honey streams of tears flow from them. They regard the flute as their own kin and are overcome with bliss, as a noble man is when his sons and grandsons become Vaiṣṇavas.

Anubhāṣya.

madhu-miṣe — in the guise of streams of honey (see Śrīdhara Svāmī's commentary).

ayogya piye saite nāri,

tāhā lāgi' tapasyā vicāri
that for the sake of austerity we consider

149 When we know what austerity the flute performed, we will perform the same. It is unworthy, and we are worthy women. We are dying of grief for want of what the unworthy one drinks, and we cannot bear it. That is why we are pondering its austerity."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

One gopī says to the others: "Look at this wondrous pastime of the son of the king of Vraja! He will surely marry the maidens of Vraja, and so the gopīs know that the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips is their own wealth and that others cannot have it. O gopīs, consider: in a previous birth this flute of Kṛṣṇa must have visited some holy place, performed some austerity, chanted some perfect mantra. By that it has made the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, by which the gopīs live, its own 'seal of nectar' (amṛta-mudrā).[12] This flute is utterly unworthy: it is immovable, of the bamboo kind, and on top of that 'of the male kind' — and yet it constantly drinks the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips. That wealth belongs to the gopīs, yet the flute drinks it by force without asking them, and loudly calls the gopīs to drink. See also the fruit of its austerity and the power of its fortune: even mahājanas eat its remnants. When Kṛṣṇa bathes in the world-purifying daughter of Kalinda and in Mānasa-gaṅgā, those mahājanas (the Yamunā and Mānasa-gaṅgā), overcome by longing, joyfully drink the taste of His lips that the flute has left. But what of the rivers! The trees on their banks are like ascetics, doing good to others. Why do they draw up through their roots the remnant of taste the river has enjoyed and drink it? I cannot understand. These trees thrill in their sprouts, blossom with the laughter of flowers, and in the guise of honey pour out streams of tears. It seems that, just as noble men are transformed with bliss when their sons and grandsons become 'Vaiṣṇavas,' the trees act in the same way, regarding the flute, which is of the tree kind, as their own kin. The point is this: the flute is utterly unworthy, but we are worthy women. If we could learn what austerity the flute performed, we would perform the same. What is in our minds is this: seeing the unworthy flute drink the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips, we are dying of grief. That is why we are pondering the flute's austerities."

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

e ayogya — this flute is an immovable object, and so it is unworthy to obtain the nectar of Kṛṣṇa's lips.

Thus ends the sixteenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

The Lord's madness of love for Kṛṣṇa in the mood of a gopī —

এতেক বিলাপ করি', প্রেমাবেশে গৌরহরি, সঙ্গে লঞা স্বরূপ-রামরায়। কভু নাচে, কভু গায়, ভাবাবেশে মূর্চ্ছা যায়,

kabhu nāce, kabhu gāya,
sometimes dances sometimes sings
bhāvāveśe mūrcchā yāya,
in absorption of feeling into a swoon goes
ei-rūpe rātri dina-yāya
in this way night day passes

150 Thus Gaurahari lamented, absorbed in love. With Svarūpa and Rāmarāya at His side He sometimes danced, sometimes sang, and sometimes, overcome by feeling, fell into a swoon. In this way His nights and days passed.

Anubhāṣya.

Thus ends the sixteenth chapter of the "Anubhāṣya."

11. The verse translation reads differently: the gopīs, “angry with me,” are to give up shame and fear; and the flute says, “I have no fear of you, and all others I count as straw.” ↩
