“Śrī Caitanya-caritāmṛta”

Madhya-līlā

Chapter 13

The Dance before the Chariot

(English translation from the Bengali, following the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition and the «Anubhāṣya», 2026 — draft)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya

Summary. After His morning bath the Lord watched the Pāṇḍu-vijaya of Jagannātha, Baladeva and Subhadrā, as They were brought out and raised onto Their chariots. At that time the king was sweeping the road with a golden broom. Taking Lakṣmī's permission, Jagannātha set out for the Guṇḍicā-bāḍī. The road was broad and sandy, with houses and gardens on both sides, and along the middle of it the Gauḍas began to pull the chariot. Mahāprabhu divided His own people into seven groups (sampradāyas) and began kīrtana with fourteen mṛdaṅgas (mādalas). During the kīrtana many kinds of bhāva arose in Mahāprabhu; it even seemed that Jagannātha and Mahāprabhu were exchanging their feelings with each other. When the chariot reached Balagaṇḍi, an offering of bhoga from the common people began to be made there. In a grove near a garden Mahāprabhu rested a little from the fatigue of dancing.

Glory to Gaurahari, who dances wondrously before the chariot —

স জীয়াৎ কৃষ্ণচৈতন্যঃ শ্রীরথাগ্রে ননর্ত্ত যঃ । যেনাসীজ্জগতাং চিত্রং জগন্নাথোঽপি বিস্মিতঃ ॥ ১ ॥

sa jīyāt kṛṣṇa-caitanyaḥ
he may he be victorious Kṛṣṇa Caitanya
śrī-rathāgre nanarta yaḥ before the holy chariot danced who yenāsīj jagatāṁ citraṁ
by whom there was of the worlds wonder jagannātho 'pi vismitaḥ Jagannātha even astonished

1 May Kṛṣṇa Caitanya be victorious, who danced before the holy chariot! His dance filled the world with wonder, and even Jagannātha was astonished.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
All glory to Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, who danced before Jagannātha's chariot! Seeing that dance of His, the whole world and Jagannātha Himself were struck with wonder.

Anubhāṣya.
yaḥ (Mahāprabhu) rathāgre (before the chariot of Śrī Jagannāthadeva) nanarta, yena (by the sweetness of whose dancing) jagatām (of the people) citram (wonder) āsīt, jagannāthaḥ api vismitaḥ (babhūva — became), saḥ kṛṣṇa-caitanyaḥ jīyāt (vijayeta — may He be victorious).

জয় জয় শ্রীকৃষ্ণচৈতন্য নিত্যানন্দ । জয়াদ্বৈতচন্দ্র জয় গৌরভক্তবৃন্দ ॥ ২ ॥

jaya jaya śrī-kṛṣṇa-caitanya nityānanda glory glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya to Nityānanda jayādvaita-candra jaya gaura-bhakta-vṛnda glory to Advaitacandra glory to the host of Gaura's devotees

2 Glory, glory to Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya and Nityānanda! Glory to Advaitacandra, and glory to all the devotees of Gaura![1]

Drawing the hearts of the listeners —

জয় শ্রোতাগণ, শুন, করি' এক মন । রথযাত্রায় নৃত্য প্রভুর পরম মোহন ॥ ৩ ॥

jaya śrotā-gaṇa, śuna, kari' eka mana glory to the listeners hear making one mind
ratha-yātrāya nṛtya prabhura parama mohana
at the Ratha-yātrā the dance of the Lord supremely enchanting

3 Glory to you, my listeners! Hear with undivided attention of the Lord's supremely enchanting dance at the Ratha-yātrā.

*After the morning bath, the Lord goes with His associates to see the *pahāṇḍi

—

আর দিন মহাপ্রভু হঞা সাবধান । রাত্রে উঠি' গণ-সঙ্গে কৈল প্রাতঃস্নান ॥ ৪ ॥

āra dina mahāprabhu hañā sāvadhāna
the next day Mahāprabhu becoming watchful
rātre uṭhi' gaṇa-saṅge kaila prātaḥ-snāna
at night rising with His people performed the morning bath

4 The next day Mahāprabhu was on the watch: He rose while it was still night and bathed with His companions before dawn.

পাণ্ডুবিজয় দেখিবারে করিল গমন । জগন্নাথ যাত্রা কৈল ছাড়ি' সিংহাসন ॥ ৫ ॥

pāṇḍu-vijaya dekhibāre karila gamana
the Pāṇḍu-vijaya to see made going jagannātha yātrā kaila chāḍi' siṁhāsana
Jagannātha the journey made leaving the throne

5 They went to see the Pāṇḍu-vijaya, as Jagannātha left His throne and set out on His journey.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
The servants tie Jagannātha, Baladeva and Subhadrā — these three Śrī-mūrtis — with silken ropes, bring Them out of the temple and raise Them onto the chariots near the Siṁha-dvāra. This procedure is called the "Pāṇḍu-vijaya."

Anubhāṣya.

Pāṇḍu-vijaya, or pahāṇḍi: the [Deity's] ascent from the throne onto the chariot.

*The king and his retinue help [the Lord's associates] see the pahāṇḍi —*

আপনি প্রতাপরুদ্র লঞা পাত্রগণ । মহাপ্রভুর গণে করায় বিজয়-দর্শন ॥ ৬ ॥

āpani pratāparudra lañā pātra-gaṇa himself Pratāparudra taking his officers
mahāprabhura gaṇe karāya vijaya-darśana
to Mahāprabhu's people causes the sight of the procession

6 King Pratāparudra himself, with his officers, arranged for Mahāprabhu's companions to see the procession.

*The Lord sees the pahāṇḍi with Nitāi, Advaita and others —*

অদ্বৈত, নিতাই আদি সঙ্গে ভক্তগণ । সুখে মহাপ্রভু দেখে ঈশ্বর-গমন ॥ ৭ ॥

advaita, nitāi ādi saṅge bhakta-gaṇa Advaita Nitāi and others with Him the devotees
sukhe mahāprabhu dekhe īśvara-gamana
in joy Mahāprabhu watches the Lord's going

7 With Advaita, Nitāi and the other devotees, Mahāprabhu joyfully watched the Lord set out.

*The dayitās strive to place Jagannātha on the chariot —*

বলিষ্ঠ 'দয়িতা'গণ — যেন মত্ত হাতী । জগন্নাথ বিজয় করায় করি' হাতাহাতি ॥ ৮ ॥

baliṣṭha 'dayitā' gaṇa — yena matta hātī powerful the dayitās like maddened elephants jagannātha vijaya karāya kari' hātāhāti
Jagannātha the procession cause to make doing hand to hand

8 The powerful dayitās, like maddened elephants, carried Jagannātha forward, passing Him from hand to hand.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Dayitās: the word dayitā comes from dayita (beloved). There is a class of servants called dayitās. By birth they do not belong to the respectable (bhadra) castes, but having obtained the service of Jagannātha, they have gained the respect given to the higher castes. From the day of the Snāna-yātrā until the return from the chariot, the dayitās hold special rights in the service of Śrī Jagannātha. In the Kṣetra-māhātmya the dayitās are called Śabaras. Those among them who are brāhmaṇas are called dayitā-patis. During the anavasara they offer Jagannātha sweet bhoga, and every morning they offer the sweets of the bāla-bhoga. During the anavasara too, saying, "Jagannātha has a fever," they offer Him medicines and pāčana (a drink of sweet juice). The essence is this: before Śrī Jagannātha was installed, the Deity of Śrī Nīla-mādhava dwelt among the Śabaras, and that Nīla-mādhava later became "Jagannātha." That is why the Śabara dayitās have gained the right to Jagannātha's intimate service.

কতক দয়িতা করে স্কন্ধ আলম্বন । কতক দয়িতা ধরে শ্রীপদ্ম-চরণ ॥ ৯ ॥

kataka dayitā kare skandha ālambana
some dayitās make of the shoulders support kataka dayitā dhare śrī-padma-caraṇa
some dayitās hold the holy lotus feet

9 Some dayitās supported His shoulders, and others held His holy lotus feet.

কটিতটে বদ্ধ, দৃঢ় স্থূল পট্টডোরী । দুই দিকে দয়িতাগণ উঠায়া তাহা ধরি' ॥ ১০ ॥

kaṭi-taṭe baddha, dṛḍha sthūla paṭṭa-ḍorī
at the waist tied strong thick silk rope
dui dike dayitā-gaṇa uṭhāyā tāhā dhari'
on two sides the dayitās lift it holding

10 A strong, thick silk rope was tied around His waist, and holding it from both sides the dayitās lifted Him.

উচ্চ দৃঢ় তূলী সব পাতি' স্থানে স্থানে । এক তূলী হৈতে ত্বরায় আর তূলি আনে ॥ ১১ ॥

ucca dṛḍha tūlī saba pāti' sthāne sthāne
high firm cotton cushions all spreading at places at places
eka tūlī haite tvarāya āra tūli āne
one cushion from quickly to another cushion they bring

11 Thick, firm cushions of cotton were laid down one after another, and they quickly moved Him from one cushion to the next.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Tūlī: cotton in a cover — small cotton cushions (like bolsters).

Anubhāṣya.
Pāti: having spread out, having laid down. Āra tūlī: onto another tūlī.

Jagannātha's weight —

প্রভু-পদাঘাতে তূলি হয় খণ্ড খণ্ড । তূলা সব উড়ি' যায়, শব্দ হয় প্রচণ্ড ॥ ১২ ॥

prabhu-padāghāte tūli haya khaṇḍa khaṇḍa
by the strike of the Lord's feet the cushions become pieces pieces
tūlā saba uḍi' yāya, śabda haya pracaṇḍa
the cotton all flying goes a sound is tremendous 12 Under the tread of the Lord's feet the cushions burst apart; the cotton flew everywhere, and the noise was tremendous.

Anubhāṣya.
Prabhu: Śrī Jagannāthadeva.

Lord Jagannātha moves as He wills —

বিশ্বম্ভর জগন্নাথে কে চালাইতে পারে ?
আপন ইচ্ছায় চলে করিতে বিহারে ॥ ১৩ ॥

viśvambhara jagannāthe ke cālāite pāre?
the sustainer of the universe Jagannātha who to move can āpana icchāya cale karite vihāre
by His own will He moves to enjoy His pastimes

13 Who can move Jagannātha, the sustainer of the universe? He moves by His own will, to enjoy His pastimes.

An anxious call to Jagannātha —

মহাপ্রভু 'মণিমা' 'মণিমা' করে ধ্বনি । নানা-বাদ্য-কোলাহলে কিছুই না শুনি ॥ ১৪ ॥

mahāprabhu 'maṇimā' 'maṇimā' kare dhvani Mahāprabhu "Maṇimā" "Maṇimā" makes the call nānā-vādya-kolāhale kichui nā śuni
in the din of many instruments nothing not is heard

14 Mahāprabhu called out, "Maṇimā! Maṇimā!", but in the din of so many instruments nothing could be heard.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Maṇimā: the people of Utkala address those worthy of honor, and the king, as "maṇimā."

The king himself serves as a sweeper —

তবে প্রতাপরুদ্র করে আপনে সেবন । সুবর্ণ-মার্জ্জনী লঞা করে পথ সম্মার্জ্জন ॥ ১৫ ॥

tabe pratāparudra kare āpane sevana
then Pratāparudra does himself service
suvarṇa-mārjanī lañā kare patha sammārjana
a golden broom taking does of the road sweeping

15 Then Pratāparudra served in person: taking a golden broom, he swept the road.

চন্দন-জলেতে করে পথ নিষেচনে । তুচ্ছ সেবা করে বসি’ রাজ-সিংহাসনে ॥ ১৬ ॥

candana-jalete kare patha niṣecane with sandalwood water does of the road sprinkling tuccha sevā kare vasi’ rāja-siṁhāsane
menial service does though seated on the royal throne

16 He sprinkled the road with sandalwood water: he who sat on the royal throne did this menial service.

Seeing the king's humble service, the Lord shows him mercy —

উত্তম হঞা রাজা করে তুচ্ছ সেবন । অতএব জগন্নাথের কৃপার ভাজন ॥ ১৭ ॥

uttama hañā rājā kare tuccha sevana
exalted being the king does menial service
ataeva jagannāthera kṛpāra bhājana
therefore of Jagannātha of the mercy the recipient

17 Exalted as he was, the king stooped to this humble service, and therefore he became a vessel of Jagannātha’s mercy.

মহাপ্রভু সুখ পাইল সে-সেবা দেখিতে । মহাপ্রভুর কৃপা হৈল সে-সেবা হইতে ॥ ১৮ ॥

mahāprabhu sukha pāila se-sevā dekhite Mahāprabhu happiness felt that service seeing mahāprabhura kṛpā haila se-sevā haite Mahāprabhu’s mercy arose that service from 18 Mahāprabhu was happy to see this service, and through it the king won His mercy.

The beauty of the chariot —

রথের সাজনি দেখি’ লোকে চমৎকার । নব হেমময় রথ — সুমেরু-আকার ॥ ১৯ ॥

rathera sājani dekhi’ loke camatkāra
of the chariot the decoration seeing the people amazed
nava hemamaya ratha — sumeru-ākāra new golden the chariot Sumeru in shape

19 The people marvelled at the decoration of the chariot. It was new and golden, towering like Mount Sumeru.

Anubhāṣya.
Sājani: decoration.

শত শত সু-চামর-দর্পণে উজ্জ্বল ।
উপরে পতাকা শোভে চাঁদোয়া নির্ম্মল ॥ ২০ ॥

ঘাঘর, কিঙ্কিণী বাজে, ঘণ্টার ক্বণিত । নানা চিত্র-পট্টবস্ত্রে রথ বিভূষিত ॥ ২১ ॥

śata śata su-cāmara-darpaṇe ujjvala
hundreds hundreds with fine cāmaras and mirrors shining upare patākā śobhe cāṁdoyā nirmala
above a flag shines a canopy spotless
ghāghara, kiṅkiṇī bāje, ghaṇṭāra kvaṇita cymbals little bells sound of the bells the ringing nānā citra-paṭṭa-vastre ratha vibhūṣita with many painted silk cloths the chariot adorned

20–21 Hundreds upon hundreds of fine cāmaras and mirrors made it shine. Above, a flag flew and a spotless canopy gleamed. Cymbals and little bells jingled, and the large bells rang. The chariot was adorned with many painted silk cloths.

Anubhāṣya.

Ghāghara: cymbals (jhājha). Kiṅkiṇī: small bells (ghuṅur). Kvaṇita: ringing sound.

Jagannātha, Balarāma and Subhadrā mount the chariots —

লীলায় চড়িল ঈশ্বর রথের উপর । আর দুই রথে চড়ে সুভদ্রা, হলধর ॥ ২২ ॥

līlāya caḍila īśvara rathera upara in play mounted the Lord the chariot upon āra dui rathe caḍe subhadrā, haladhara
on the other two chariots mount Subhadrā Haladhara

22 In His play the Lord mounted the chariot, and Subhadrā and Haladhara mounted the other two.

*For the fifteen days of the anavasara, Jagannātha enjoys pastimes with Lakṣmī —*

পঞ্চদশ দিন ঈশ্বর মহালক্ষ্মী লঞা । তাঁর সঙ্গে ক্রীড়া কৈল নিভৃতে বসিয়া ॥ ২৩ ॥

pañca-daśa dina īśvara mahā-lakṣmī lañā fifteen days the Lord Mahā-Lakṣmī with tāṁra saṅge krīḍā kaila nibhṛte vasiyā
with her sport enjoyed in seclusion staying

23 For fifteen days the Lord had stayed in seclusion with Mahā-Lakṣmī, enjoying His pastimes with her.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

The fortnight that Śrī Jagannātha spends in seclusion after His bath is called the anavasara, the time of seclusion. After that, taking Lakṣmī's permission, He goes out on the chariot.

After the pastimes, with Lakṣmī's consent, He mounts the chariot —

তাঁহার সম্মতি লঞা ভক্তে সুখ দিতে । রথে চড়ি' বাহির হৈল বিহার করিতে ॥ ২৪ ॥

tāṁhāra sammati lañā bhakte sukha dite
her consent taking to the devotees joy to give rathe caḍi' bāhira haila vihāra karite
on the chariot mounting went out pastimes to enjoy

24 Now, with her consent, He mounted the chariot and went out to enjoy His pastimes and give joy to His devotees.

The road along which the chariot travels —

সূক্ষ্ম শ্বেতবালু পথে পুলিনের সম । দুই দিকে টোটা সব, — যেন বৃন্দাবন ॥ ২৫ ॥

sūkṣma śveta-bālu pathe pulinera sama fine white sand on the road a riverbank like dui dike ṭoṭā saba, — yena vṛndāvana
on two sides gardens all like Vṛndāvana

25 The road was covered with fine white sand like the bank of a river, and the gardens on both sides were like Vṛndāvana.

Anubhāṣya.

During the anavasara Jagannāthadeva spent a fortnight in seclusion, freely enjoying pastimes with Mahālakṣmī while keeping to due majesty and decorum (maryādā). Now, with Lakṣmī's consent, He mounted the chariot and went out for pastimes free of restraint, to give joy to the devotees on the path of anurāga, who are devoted to Kṛṣṇa alone. Needless to say, the mood of wedded love (svakīya) is loosened here. The road the chariot travels is covered with fine white sand, like the bank of the Yamunā. Both sides of the road are surrounded by groves, as in Vṛndāvana.

রথে চড়ি' জগন্নাথ করিলা গমন । দুইপার্শ্বে দেখি' চলে আনন্দিত-মন ॥ ২৬ ॥

rathe caḍi' jagannātha karilā gamana
on the chariot mounted Jagannātha made His going dui-pārśve dekhi' cale ānandita-mana on both sides looking goes joyful at heart

26 Riding on His chariot, Jagannātha went along, looking at both sides with a joyful heart.

The Gauḍas pull the chariot ropes; the chariot moves as the Self-willed One pleases —

'গৌড়' সব রথ টানে করিয়া আনন্দ । ক্ষণে শীঘ্র চলে রথ, ক্ষণে চলে মন্দ ॥ ২৭ ॥

'gauḍa' saba ratha ṭāne kariyā ānanda
the gauḍas all the chariot pull feeling joy
kṣaṇe śīghra cale ratha, kṣaṇe cale manda
at times fast goes the chariot at times goes slowly

27 The gauḍas pulled the chariot joyfully. At times it moved fast, at times slowly.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Gauḍa: the cowherds (goyālās) of Utkala are called Gauḍas.

ক্ষণে স্থির হঞা রহে, টানিলেহ না চলে । ঈশ্বর ইচ্ছায় চলে, না চলে কারো বলে ॥ ২৮ ॥

kṣaṇe sthira hañā rahe, ṭānileha nā cale
at times still becoming it stays even when pulled not moves īśvara icchāya cale, nā cale kāro bale
by the Lord's will it moves not moves by anyone's strength

28 At times it stood still and would not move, however they pulled. It moved by the Lord's will, not by anyone's strength.

With His own hands the Lord gives the devotees garlands and sandal paste —

তবে মহাপ্রভু সব লঞা ভক্তগণ । স্বহস্তে পরাইল সবে মাল্য-চন্দন ॥ ২৯ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu saba lañā bhakta-gaṇa
then Mahāprabhu all taking the devotees
svahaste parāila sabe mālya-candana
with His own hand put on all garlands and sandal

29 Then Mahāprabhu gathered all the devotees and with His own hand adorned each of them with garlands and sandalwood paste.

First of all, honor to the elders —

পরমানন্দ পুরী, আর ভারতী ব্রহ্মানন্দ । শ্রীহস্তে চন্দন পাঞা বাড়িল আনন্দ ॥ ৩০ ॥

paramānanda purī, āra bhāratī brahmānanda Paramānanda Purī and Bhāratī Brahmānanda
śrī-haste candana pāñā bāḍila ānanda
from the holy hand sandal receiving increased joy

30 Paramānanda Purī and Brahmānanda Bhāratī received sandalwood paste from His holy hand, and their joy grew.

অদ্বৈত-আচার্য্য, আর প্রভু-নিত্যানন্দ । শ্রীহস্ত-স্পর্শে দুঁহার হইল আনন্দ ॥ ৩১ ॥

advaita-ācārya, āra prabhu-nityānanda Advaita Ācārya and Prabhu Nityānanda
śrī-hasta-sparśe duṁhāra haila ānanda
by the touch of the holy hand of both was joy

31 Advaita Ācārya and Nityānanda Prabhu also rejoiced at the touch of His holy hand.

*Honor to the chief kīrtana singers, Śrī Svarūpa and Śrīvāsa —*

কীর্ত্তনীয়াগণে দিল মাল্য-চন্দন । স্বরূপ, শ্রীবাস, — যাঁহা মুখ্য দুইজন ॥ ৩২ ॥

kīrtanīyā-gaṇe dila mālya-candana
to the kīrtana singers gave garlands and sandal svarūpa, śrīvāsa, — yāṁhā mukhya dui-jana Svarūpa Śrīvāsa among whom the chief two 32 He gave garlands and sandalwood paste to the kīrtana singers, the chief of whom were Svarūpa and Śrīvāsa.

*Four kīrtana groups, with drummers (bāina) and chorus singers (dohāra) —*

চারি সম্প্রদায়ে হৈল চব্বিশ গায়ন । দুই দুই মৃদঙ্গ করি' হৈল অষ্ট জন ॥ ৩৩ ॥

cāri sampradāye haila cabbiśa gāyana
in four groups there were twenty-four singers
dui dui mṛdaṅga kari' haila aṣṭa jana
two two mṛdaṅgas counting there were eight men

33 There were twenty-four singers in four groups, and eight more men played the mṛdaṅgas, two in each group.

*Mahāprabhu divides the singers among the kīrtana groups —*

তবে মহাপ্রভু মনে বিচার করিয়া । চারি সম্প্রদায়ে দিল গায়ন বাঁটিয়া ॥ ৩৪ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu mane vicāra kariyā
then Mahāprabhu in His mind consideration making cāri sampradāye dila gāyana bāṁṭiyā
among four groups gave the singers dividing

34 Then, after thinking it over, Mahāprabhu divided the singers into four groups.[2]

Four dancers in the four groups —

নিত্যানন্দ, অদ্বৈত, হরিদাস, বক্রেশ্বরে । চারি জনে আজ্ঞা দিল নৃত্য করিবারে ॥ ৩৫ ॥

nityānanda, advaita, haridāsa, vakreśvare Nityānanda Advaita Haridāsa Vakreśvara
cāri jane ājñā dila nṛtya karibāre
four persons the order gave dance to perform

35 He ordered four devotees — Nityānanda, Advaita, Haridāsa and Vakreśvara — to dance.

In the first group the lead singer is Śrī Svarūpa —

প্রথম-সম্প্রদায়ে কৈল স্বরূপ — প্রধান । আর পঞ্চজন দিল তাঁর পালিগান ॥ ৩৬ ॥

prathama-sampradāye kaila svarūpa — pradhāna
in the first group made Svarūpa the leader
āra pañca-jana dila tāṁra pāligāna
other five persons gave his responsive singers

36 In the first group He made Svarūpa the leader and gave him five others to sing the responses:

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Pāli-gāna: those who sing the refrain in chorus (dohāra).

His five chorus singers —

দামোদর, নারায়ণ, দত্ত গোবিন্দ । রাঘব পণ্ডিত, আর শ্রীগোবিন্দানন্দ ॥ ৩৭ ॥

dāmodara, nārāyaṇa, datta govinda
Dāmodara Nārāyaṇa Datta Govinda
rāghava paṇḍita, āra śrī-govindānanda
Rāghava Paṇḍita and Śrī Govindānanda

37 Dāmodara, Nārāyaṇa, Govinda Datta, Rāghava Paṇḍita and Śrī Govindānanda.

The dancer [of the first group] is Advaita; in the second group the lead singer is Śrīvāsa —

অদ্বৈতেরে নৃত্য করিবারে আজ্ঞা দিল । শ্রীবাস — প্রধান আর সম্প্রদায় কৈল ॥ ৩৮ ॥

advaitere nṛtya karibāre ājñā dila to Advaita dance to perform the order gave śrīvāsa — pradhāna āra sampradāya kaila Śrīvāsa the leader another group made

38 He ordered Advaita to dance there. Then He formed another group with Śrīvāsa as the leader:

Five chorus singers; the dancer is Nitāi —

গঙ্গাদাস, হরিদাস, শ্রীমান্, শুভানন্দ । শ্রীরাম পণ্ডিত, তাঁহা নাচে নিত্যানন্দ ॥ ৩৯ ॥

gaṅgādāsa, haridāsa, śrīmān, śubhānanda
Gaṅgādāsa Haridāsa Śrīmān Śubhānanda
śrī-rāma paṇḍita, tāṁhā nāce nityānanda
Śrī Rāma Paṇḍita there dances Nityānanda

39 Gaṅgādāsa, Haridāsa, Śrīmān, Śubhānanda and Śrī Rāma Paṇḍita; and Nityānanda danced there.

In the third group the lead singer is Mukunda, with five chorus singers; the dancer is Haridāsa Ṭhākura —

বাসুদেব, গোপীনাথ, মুরারি যাঁহা গায় । মুকুন্দ — প্রধান কৈল আর সম্প্রদায় ॥ ৪০ ॥

vāsudeva, gopīnātha, murāri yāṁhā gāya Vāsudeva Gopīnātha Murāri where sing
mukunda — pradhāna kaila āra sampradāya
Mukunda the leader made another group

40 He formed another group with Mukunda as the leader, in which Vāsudeva, Gopīnātha and Murāri sang,

শ্রীকান্ত, বল্লভসেন আর দুই জন । হরিদাস-ঠাকুর তাঁহা করেন নর্ত্তন ॥ ৪১ ॥

śrīkānta, vallabha-sena āra dui jana Śrīkānta Vallabha Sena further two persons haridāsa-ṭhākura tāṁhā karena nartana
Haridāsa Ṭhākura there performs the dance

41 with two more, Śrīkānta and Vallabha Sena; and Haridāsa Ṭhākura danced there.

In the fourth group the lead singer is Govinda Ghoṣa, with five chorus singers; the dancer is Vakreśvara —

গোবিন্দ-ঘোষ — প্রধান কৈল আর সম্প্রদায় । হরিদাস, বিষ্ণুদাস, রাঘব, যাঁহা গায় ॥ ৪২ ॥

govinda-ghoṣa — pradhāna kaila āra sampradāya Govinda Ghoṣa the leader made another group
haridāsa, viṣṇudāsa, rāghava, yāṁhā gāya
Haridāsa Viṣṇudāsa Rāghava where sing

42 He formed another group with Govinda Ghoṣa as the leader, in which Haridāsa, Viṣṇudāsa and Rāghava sang,

মাধব, বাসুদেব-ঘোষ, — দুই সহোদর । নৃত্য করেন তাঁহা পণ্ডিত-বক্রেশ্বর ॥ ৪৩ ॥

mādhava, vāsudeva-ghoṣa, — dui sahodara Mādhava Vāsudeva Ghoṣa two brothers
nṛtya karena tāṁhā paṇḍita-vakreśvara
dance performs there Paṇḍita Vakreśvara

43 with the two brothers Mādhava and Vāsudeva Ghoṣa; and Vakreśvara Paṇḍita danced there.

*On one side of the chariot, the kīrtana party of the residents of Kulīnagrāma*

—

কুলীন-গ্রামের এক কীর্ত্তনীয়া-সমাজ । তাঁহা নৃত্য করেন রামানন্দ, সত্যরাজ ॥ ৪৪ ॥

kulīna-grāmera eka kīrtanīyā-samāja
of Kulīna-grāma one kīrtana party
tāṁhā nṛtya karena rāmānanda, satyarāja
there dance perform Rāmānanda Satyarāja

44 There was also a kīrtana party from Kulīna-grāma, in which Rāmānanda and Satyarāja danced.

On the other side, Advaita's followers —

শান্তিপুরের আচার্য্যের এক সম্প্রদায় । অচ্যুতানন্দ নাচে তথা, আর সব গায় ॥ ৪৫ ॥

śāntipurera ācāryera eka sampradāya of Śāntipura of the Ācārya one group
acyutānanda nāce tathā, āra saba gāya
Acyutānanda dances there the others all sing

45 The Ācārya of Śāntipura had His own group as well: Acyutānanda danced there, and all the others sang.[3]

*Behind the chariot, the kīrtana party of the residents of Khaṇḍa; the dancers*

are Narahari and Raghunandana —

খণ্ডের সম্প্রদায় করে অন্যত্র কীর্ত্তন । নরহরি নাচে তাঁহা শ্রীরঘুনন্দন ॥ ৪৬ ॥

khaṇḍera sampradāya kare anyatra kīrtana
of Khaṇḍa the group does elsewhere kīrtana
narahari nāce tāṁhā śrī-raghunandana
Narahari dances there Śrī Raghunandana

46 The group from Khaṇḍa held its kīrtana in another place; Narahari and Śrī Raghunandana danced there.

The places of the seven groups reviewed once more —

জগন্নাথের আগে চারি সম্প্রদায় গায় । দুই পাশে দুই, পাছে এক সম্প্রদায় ॥ ৪৭ ॥

jagannāthera āge cāri sampradāya gāya
of Jagannātha in front four groups sing
dui pāśe dui, pāche eka sampradāya
on the two sides two behind one group

47 Four groups sang in front of Jagannātha, one on either side, and one behind.

সাত সম্প্রদায়ে বাজে চৌদ্দ মাদল । যার ধ্বনি শুনি' বৈষ্ণব হৈল পাগল ॥ ৪৮ ॥

sāta sampradāye bāje caudda mādala
in the seven groups sound fourteen drums yāra dhvani śuni' vaiṣṇava haila pāgala whose sound hearing the Vaiṣṇavas became mad

48 In the seven groups fourteen drums were played, and their sound drove the Vaiṣṇavas mad.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Seven groups: the group of Kulīnagrāma, the group of Śāntipura and the group of Śrīkhaṇḍa joined the four groups mentioned earlier, making seven groups; with two mādalas (khols) to each, the kīrtana was performed with fourteen mādalas.

Anubhāṣya.

Gāyana: singer. The seven groups are described below in order.

Before Jagannātha's chariot: (a) In the first group the chief (lead) singer was Dāmodara Svarūpa; the singers (chorus) were 1) Dāmodara Paṇḍita, 2) Nārāyaṇa, 3) Govinda Datta, 4) Rāghava Paṇḍita, 5) Govindānanda; the dancer was Advaita. (b) In the second group the lead singer was Śrīvāsa; the chorus were 1) Gaṅgādāsa, 2) Haridāsa (the elder?), 3) Śrīmān, 4) Śubhānanda, 5) Śrīrāma; the dancer was Nityānanda. (c) In the third group the lead singer was Mukunda; the chorus were 1) Vāsudeva Datta, 2) Gopīnātha, 3) Murāri, 4) Śrīkānta, 5) Vallabha Sena; the dancer was Ṭhākura Haridāsa. (d) In the fourth group the lead singer was Govinda [Ghoṣa]; the chorus were 1) Haridāsa (the younger?), 2) Viṣṇudāsa, 3) Rāghava, 4) Mādhava, 5) Vāsu Ghoṣa; the dancer was Vakreśvara.

On the left side of the chariot: (e) in the fifth group the singers were the residents of Kulīnagrāma; the dancers were Rāmānanda and Satyarāja. On the right side of the chariot: (f) in the sixth group the singers were Advaita's followers; the dancer was Acyutānanda. Behind the chariot: (g) in the seventh group the singers were the residents of Khaṇḍa; the dancers were Narahari and Raghunandana.

*The great saṅkīrtana described —*

বৈষ্ণবের মেঘ-ঘটায় হইল বাদল । কীর্ত্তনানন্দে সব বর্ষে নেত্র-জল ॥ ৪৯ ॥

vaiṣṇavera megha-ghaṭāya haila bādala
from the Vaiṣṇavas of clouds the gathering became a downpour kīrtanānande saba varṣe netra-jala
in the bliss of kīrtana all shower tears

49 The Vaiṣṇavas were like massed clouds, and a downpour began: in the bliss of kīrtana they all rained tears.

ত্রিভুবন ভরি’ উঠে কীর্ত্তনের ধ্বনি । অন্য বাদ্যাদির ধ্বনি কিছুই না শুনি ॥ ৫০ ॥

tri-bhuvana bhari’ uṭhe kīrtanera dhvani
the three worlds filling rises of the kīrtana the sound anya vādyādira dhvani kichui nā śuni
of other instruments and the like the sound nothing not is heard

50 The sound of the kīrtana rose and filled the three worlds; no other sound of instruments could be heard at all.

What the Lord did —

সাত ঠাঞি বুলে প্রভু ‘হরি’ ‘হরি’ বলি’ । ‘জয় জগন্নাথ’, বলেন হস্তযুগ তুলি’ ॥ ৫১ ॥

sāta ṭhāñi bule prabhu ‘hari’ ‘hari’ bali’
in seven places goes about the Lord “Hari” “Hari” saying ‘jaya jagannātha’, balena hasta-yuga tuli’
“glory to Jagannātha” He says both hands raising

51 The Lord went about among the seven groups, calling “Hari! Hari!” Raising both arms, He cried, “Glory to Jagannātha!”

The Lord manifests Himself in seven forms —

আর এক শক্তি প্রভু করিলা প্রকাশ । এককালে সাত ঠাঞি করিল বিলাস ॥ ৫২ ॥

āra eka śakti prabhu karilā prakāśa
another one power the Lord made manifest
eka-kāle sāta ṭhāñi karila vilāsa
at one time in seven places He sported

52 Then the Lord manifested another power: He enjoyed His pastimes in all seven places at once.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

In the rāsa dance and at the wedding with the queens, Śrī Kṛṣṇa simultaneously appeared as “many” forms (prakāśa). In the same way Śrī Kṛṣṇa Caitanya, displaying that same power, “manifested” Himself in each group. The people of every group thought, “The Lord is in our group, not in any other.”

সবে কহে, — প্রভু আছেন মোর সম্প্রদায় । অন্য ঠাঞি নাহি যা’ন আমারে দয়ায় ॥ ৫৩ ॥

sabe kahe, — prabhu āchena mora sampradāya
all say the Lord is in my group
anya ṭhāñi nāhi yā’na āmāre dayāya
to other places not He goes to me by mercy

53 Everyone said, “The Lord is in my group. Out of mercy to me He goes nowhere else.”

The Lord's power is known only to pure devotees —

কেহ লক্ষিতে নারে প্রভুর অচিন্ত্য শক্তি । অন্তরঙ্গ-ভক্ত জানে, যাঁর শুদ্ধভক্তি ॥ ৫৪ ॥

keha lakṣite nāre prabhura acintya śakti
no one to perceive can of the Lord the inconceivable power antaraṅga-bhakta jāne, yāṁra śuddha-bhakti
the intimate devotees know whose pure devotion

54 No one could perceive the Lord’s inconceivable power; only His intimate devotees, whose devotion is pure, knew it.

*Seeing the kīrtana, Jagannātha rejoices —*

কীর্ত্তন দেখিয়া জগন্নাথ হরষিত । সংকীর্ত্তন দেখে রথ করিয়া স্থগিত ॥ ৫৫ ॥

kīrtana dekhiyā jagannātha haraṣita
the kīrtana seeing Jagannātha delighted saṁkīrtana dekhe ratha kariyā sthagita
the saṅkīrtana He watches the chariot making stopped

55 Jagannātha was delighted to see the kīrtana; He stopped His chariot and watched the saṅkīrtana.

Seeing this, the king is astonished —

প্রতাপরুদ্রের হৈল পরম বিস্ময়। দেখিতে শরীর যাঁর হৈল প্রেমময় ॥ ৫৬ ॥

pratāparudrera haila parama vismaya of Pratāparudra was great wonder dekhite śarīra yāṁra haila premamaya
from seeing body whose became full of love

56 Pratāparudra was filled with wonder; as he watched, he was overcome with prema.

[The king] discloses this secret to Kāśī Miśra —

কাশীমিশ্রে কহে রাজা প্রভুর মহিমা।
কাশীমিশ্র কহে, — তোমার ভাগ্যের নাহি সীমা ॥ ৫৭ ॥

kāśī-miśre kahe rājā prabhura mahimā
to Kāśī Miśra tells the king of the Lord the glory
kāśī-miśra kahe, — tomāra bhāgyera nāhi sīmā
Kāśī Miśra says your of fortune not is a limit

57 The king spoke to Kāśī Miśra of the Lord's glory, and Kāśī Miśra said, "There is no limit to your good fortune."

The king exchanges silent signs with Sārvabhauma —

সার্ব্বভৌম-সঙ্গে রাজা করে ঠারাঠারি। আর কেহ নাহি জানে চৈতন্যের চুরি ॥ ৫৮ ॥

sārvabhauma-saṅge rājā kare ṭhārāṭhāri with Sārvabhauma the king makes exchange of signs
āra keha nāhi jāne caitanyera curi
other anyone not knows of Caitanya the stealth

58 The king and Sārvabhauma silently exchanged knowing signs; no one else knew Caitanya's secret.[4]

He is realized only by His mercy; by the path of reasoning He cannot be known even by Brahmā —

যারে তাঁর কৃপা, সেই জানিবারে পারে । কৃপা বিনা ব্রহ্মাদিক জানিবারে নারে ॥ ৫৯ ॥

yāre tāṁra kṛpā, sei jānibāre pāre to whom His mercy he to know can kṛpā vinā brahmādika jānibāre nāre mercy without Brahmā and others to know cannot 59 Only one who has His mercy can know it; without His mercy even Brahmā and the other gods cannot.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 6.82–84, 86, 87, 89–91.

Seeing the king's humble service, the Lord is pleased —

রাজার তুচ্ছ সেবা দেখি' প্রভুর তুষ্ট মন । সেই ত' প্রসাদে পাইল 'রহস্য দর্শন' ॥ ৬০ ॥

rājāra tuccha sevā dekhi' prabhura tuṣṭa mana of the king menial service seeing of the Lord pleased the mind sei ta' prasāde pāila 'rahasya darśana'
that very by grace obtained the vision of the secret

60 Seeing the king's menial service, the Lord was pleased at heart, and by that very grace the king was granted a vision of this secret.

Anubhāṣya.
Rahasya-darśana (seeing the secret): Śrī Jagannāthadeva, amazed at seeing Mahāprabhu's dancing, singing and so on, stopped His own chariot. And Mahāprabhu, by dancing and so on before Him, gave joy to Jagannātha. Although the "seer" and the "seen" here are one and the same Reality, this wonderful secret was revealed in all the variety of the pastimes, and by Mahāprabhu's mercy the king was able to understand it. The king also realized that the Lord's simultaneous presence in the seven groups was another part of this secret.

Openly, aversion to the king; out of sight, mercy —

সাক্ষাতে না দেয় দেখা, পরোক্ষে ত' দয়া । কে বুঝিতে পারে চৈতন্যচন্দ্রের মায়া ॥ ৬১ ॥

sākṣāte nā deya dekhā, parokṣe ta' dayā directly not gives a meeting indirectly indeed mercy
ke bujhite pāre caitanya-candrera māyā
who to understand can of Caitanyacandra the mysterious ways

61 He would not meet the king in person, yet He showed him mercy from afar. Who can understand the mysterious ways of Caitanyacandra?

Anubhāṣya.
The Lord was then playing the role of an ācārya, and so He openly showed intense aversion even to the word "king." Out of sight, however, He was so merciful to the king that by His mercy the king was able to penetrate even the secret of His hidden pastimes. Truly, the meaning of this pastime of Mahāprabhu's, in which mercy goes together with deception — that is, in which He acts at once as the Lord (Īśvara) and as if He were a jīva — can be understood by no one but His exclusive devotees.

Seeing this, the Bhaṭṭācārya and Miśra are astonished —

সার্ব্বভৌম, কাশীমিশ্র, — দুই মহাশয় । রাজারে প্রসাদ দেখি' হইলা বিস্ময় ॥ ৬২ ॥

sārvabhauma, kāśī-miśra, — dui mahāśaya Sārvabhauma Kāśī Miśra the two great souls rājāre prasāda dekhi' hailā vismaya
to the king the grace seeing became astonished

62 Seeing the grace shown to the king, the two great souls Sārvabhauma and Kāśī Miśra were astonished.

Becoming the lead singer Himself, [the Lord] sets all the groups dancing —

এইমত লীলা প্রভু কৈল কতক্ষণ । আপনে গায়েন, নাচা'ন নিজ-ভক্তগণ ॥ ৬৩ ॥

ei-mata līlā prabhu kaila kata-kṣaṇa
in this way pastimes the Lord made for some time
āpane gāyena, nācā'na nija-bhakta-gaṇa
Himself sings makes dance His own devotees

63 In this way the Lord enjoyed His pastimes for some time. He Himself sang and made His own devotees dance.

*In the midst of the kīrtana the Lord displays His majesty —*

কভু এক মূর্ত্তি, কভু হন বহু-মূর্ত্তি । কার্য্য-অনুরূপ প্রভু প্রকাশয়ে শক্তি ॥ ৬৪ ॥

kabhu eka mūrti, kabhu hana bahu-mūrti
sometimes one form sometimes is many forms kārya-anurūpa prabhu prakāśaye śakti
according to the work the Lord manifests power

64 Sometimes He was in one form, sometimes in many: the Lord manifested His power according to the work at hand.

*The dependent līlā-śakti serves her own Lord —*

লীলাবেশে প্রভুর নাহি নিজানুসন্ধান । ইচ্ছা জানি' 'লীলা শক্তি' করে সমাধান ॥ ৬৫ ॥

līlāveśe prabhura nāhi nijānusandhāna absorbed in pastimes of the Lord not is awareness of Himself
icchā jāni' 'līlā śakti' kare samādhāna
the desire knowing the līlā-śakti makes arrangement

65 Absorbed in His pastimes, the Lord had no awareness of Himself; knowing His desire, His līlā-śakti arranged everything.

Anubhāṣya.

In the seven kīrtana groups the Lord — independent, His will unchecked — manifested, as He wished, sometimes one form and sometimes many. He Himself danced and sang and made the devotees dance, and He was so intoxicated with tasting bliss that He had no leisure at all to recall or attend to who He was — as if He had completely forgotten Himself! (This, too, is one feature of the variety of His transcendental, spiritual, endless pastimes — of His spiritual play.) But at His mere wish, His icchā-śakti (energy of will), a form of the svarūpa-śakti, manifested the Lord's prakāśa forms and so arranged service for her own Lord.

*He manifested Himself in the same way in the Dvāpara age — in the rāsa dance and at the wedding with the queens —*

পূর্ব্বে যৈছে রাসাদি লীলা কৈল বৃন্দাবনে । অলৌকিক লীলা গৌর কৈল ক্ষণে ক্ষণে ॥ ৬৬ ॥

pūrve yaiche rāsādi līlā kaila vṛndāvane formerly as the rāsa and other pastimes made in Vṛndāvana alaukika līlā gaura kaila kṣaṇe kṣaṇe
beyond this world pastimes Gaura made moment by moment

66 Just as He once enjoyed the rāsa and other pastimes in Vṛndāvana, so now, moment after moment, Gaura revealed pastimes beyond this world.

"A transcendental reality is never within the range of the material"[14] —

ভক্তগণ অনুভবে, নাহি জানে আন । শ্রীভাগবত-শাস্ত্র তাহাতে প্রমাণ ॥ ৬৭ ॥

bhakta-gaṇa anubhave, nāhi jāne āna
the devotees experience not know others
śrī-bhāgavata-śāstra tāhāte pramāṇa
the Śrī Bhāgavata scripture of that the evidence

67 The devotees experience them; no one else knows them. The Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam bears witness to this.

Anubhāṣya.

In Kṛṣṇa's pastimes Kṛṣṇa became many at the site of the rāsa dance, and at the wedding with the queens one form appeared as many. In the same way, in Gaura's pastimes Bhagavān Gaurasundara appeared in many forms before the devotees of the seven different kīrtana groups and before the eyes of Pratāparudra and the other onlookers. No one but the devotees is entitled to see His supramundane pastimes. The evidence[15] that Kṛṣṇa appeared simultaneously in many forms in the rāsa dance and at the wedding with the queens is found in the Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam.

By His dancing the Lord delivers the people —

এইমত মহাপ্রভু করে নৃত্য-রঙ্গে । ভাসাইল সব লোক প্রেমের তরঙ্গে ॥ ৬৮ ॥

ei-mata mahāprabhu kare nṛtya-raṅge
in this way Mahāprabhu makes in the joy of dancing
bhāsāila saba loka premera taraṅge flooded all the people of prema in the waves

68 Thus Mahāprabhu danced in joy and flooded everyone with waves of prema.

While the Lord and His associates dance and sing, Jagannātha mounts the chariot and travels to the Guṇḍicā —

এইমত হৈল কৃষ্ণের রথে আরোহণ । তার আগে প্রভু নাচাইল ভক্তগণ ॥ ৬৯ ॥

ei-mata haila kṛṣṇera rathe ārohaṇa
in this way was of Kṛṣṇa on the chariot the mounting tāra āge prabhu nācāila bhakta-gaṇa
before it the Lord made dance the devotees

69 So Kṛṣṇa mounted the chariot, and before it the Lord made His devotees dance.

আগে শুন জগন্নাথের গুণ্ডিচা-গমন । তার আগে প্রভু যৈছে করিলা নর্ত্তন ॥ ৭০ ॥

āge śuna jagannāthera guṇḍicā-gamana
next hear of Jagannātha the going to Guṇḍicā
tāra āge prabhu yaiche karilā nartana
before it the Lord how performed dance

70 Now hear of Jagannātha's journey to Guṇḍicā, and how the Lord danced before His chariot.

এইমত কীর্ত্তন প্রভু করিল কতক্ষণ । আপন-উদ্যোগে নাচাইল ভক্তগণ ॥ ৭১ ॥

ei-mata kīrtana prabhu karila kata-kṣaṇa
in this way kīrtana the Lord performed for some time
āpana-udyoge nācāila bhakta-gaṇa
by His own effort made dance the devotees

71 In this way the Lord led the kīrtana for some time and, by His own effort, made the devotees dance.

*Wishing to dance, [the Lord] forms Svarūpa's kīrtana group with nine devotees —*

আপনি নাচিতে যবে প্রভুর মন হৈল । সাত সম্প্রদায় তবে একত্র করিল ॥ ৭২ ॥

āpani nācite yabe prabhura mana haila Himself to dance when of the Lord the mind became sāta sampradāya tabe ekatra karila
seven groups then together made

72 When the Lord wished to dance Himself, He brought the seven groups together in one place.

শ্রীবাস, রামাই, রঘু, গোবিন্দ, মুকুন্দ ।
হরিদাস, গোবিন্দানন্দ, মাধব, গোবিন্দ ॥ ৭৩ ॥

উদ্দণ্ড-নৃত্যে প্রভুর যবে হৈল মন । স্বরূপের সঙ্গে দিল এই নব জন ॥ ৭৪ ॥

śrīvāsa, rāmāi, raghu, govinda, mukunda
Śrīvāsa Rāmāi Raghu Govinda Mukunda
haridāsa, govindānanda, mādhava, govinda
Haridāsa Govindānanda Mādhava Govinda
uddaṇḍa-nṛtye prabhura yabe haila mana for the high-leaping dance of the Lord when became the mind svarūpera saṅge dila ei nava jana with Svarūpa together He gave these nine persons

73–74 For His wild, leaping dance He put nine devotees together with Svarūpa: Śrīvāsa, Rāmāi, Raghu, Govinda, Mukunda, Haridāsa, Govindānanda, Mādhava and Govinda.

*The other devotees sing kīrtana on all sides —*

এই দশ জন প্রভুর সঙ্গে গায়, ধায় । আর সব সম্প্রদায় চারি দিকে গায় ॥ ৭৫ ॥

ei daśa jana prabhura saṅge gāya, dhāya
these ten persons the Lord with sing run
āra saba sampradāya cāri dike gāya
other all groups on four sides sing

75 These ten sang with the Lord and ran along with Him, and all the other groups sang on every side.

The Lord offers prayers to Jagannātha —

দণ্ডবৎ করি' প্রভু যুড়ি' দুই হাত । ঊর্ধ্বমুখে স্তুতি করে দেখি' জগন্নাথ ॥ ৭৬ ॥

daṇḍavat kari' prabhu yuḍi' dui hāta prostration making the Lord joining two hands
ūrdhva-mukhe stuti kare dekhi' jagannātha
with upturned face prayers offers looking at Jagannātha

76 The Lord bowed down, joined His palms and, with His face lifted towards Jagannātha, offered prayers:

নমো ব্রহ্মণ্যদেবায় গোব্রাহ্মণহিতায় চ । জগদ্ধিতায় কৃষ্ণায় গোবিন্দায় নমো নমঃ ॥ ৭৭ ॥

namo brahmaṇya-devāya
obeisance to the Lord worshipped by brāhmaṇas go-brāhmaṇa-hitāya ca
to the benefactor of cows and brāhmaṇas and jagad-dhitāya kṛṣṇāya
to the benefactor of the world to Kṛṣṇa govindāya namo namaḥ
to Govinda obeisance obeisance

77 "I offer My obeisances to Kṛṣṇa, the Lord worshipped by the brāhmaṇas, the well-wisher of cows and brāhmaṇas and the benefactor of the whole world. Again and again I bow to Govinda." (Viṣṇu Purāṇa, 1.19.65)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
I bow to that Supreme Truth who is Brahmaṇya-deva, the good of cows and brāhmaṇas, the welfare of the world, Kṛṣṇa and Govinda.

Anubhāṣya.
go-brāhmaṇa-hitāya (to Him who wishes well to cows and to all things that bring auspiciousness) brahmaṇya-devāya (to Him who is worshiped by those devoted to brahminical culture) jagad-dhitāya (to the abode of the people's welfare) govindāya kṛṣṇāya namaḥ namaḥ namaḥ (obeisances again and again).

জয়তি জয়তি দেবো দেবকীনন্দনোঽসৌ
জয়তি জয়তি কৃষ্ণো বৃষ্ণিবংশপ্রদীপঃ ।
জয়তি জয়তি মেঘশ্যামলঃ কোমলাঙ্গো জয়তি জয়তি পৃথ্বীভারনাশো মুকুন্দঃ ॥ ৭৮ ॥

jayati jayati devo devakī-nandano 'sau glory glory the Lord son of Devakī He jayati jayati kṛṣṇo vṛṣṇi-vaṁśa-pradīpaḥ glory glory Kṛṣṇa the lamp of the Vṛṣṇi dynasty
jayati jayati megha-śyāmalaḥ komalāṅgo glory glory dark as a raincloud tender-limbed jayati jayati pṛthvī-bhāra-nāśo mukundaḥ glory glory remover of the earth's burden Mukunda

78 "Glory, glory to the Lord, the son of Devakī! Glory, glory to Kṛṣṇa, the lamp of the Vṛṣṇi dynasty! Glory, glory to Him whose tender form is dark like a raincloud! Glory, glory to Mukunda, who removes the burden of the earth!" (Mukunda-mālā, 3)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
All glory to this God, the son of Devakī! All glory to Kṛṣṇa, the lamp of the Vṛṣṇi dynasty! All glory to Kṛṣṇa, dark as a fresh rain cloud, whose body is tender! All glory to Mukunda, who removes the burden of the earth!

Anubhāṣya.
asau devakī-nandanaḥ (renowned as such) devaḥ jayati jayati (exists as the highest of all); vṛṣṇi-vaṁśa-pradīpaḥ (He who illumines the vaṁśa, the family, of the Vṛṣṇis, the Yadus — who makes the Vṛṣṇi dynasty shine) kṛṣṇaḥ jayati jayati; megha-śyāmalaḥ (whose complexion is like that of a fresh dark cloud — dark like a sapphire (indranīla) and a cloud) komalāṅgaḥ (Kṛṣṇa, whose body is most tender, as stated in the verses beginning yat te sujāta-caraṇāmburuham[16] ("Your feet, beautiful as lotuses…")) jayati jayati; pṛthvī-bhāra-nāśaḥ (the hero who removes the heavy burden of the earth, oppressed by those who are not devotees of Kṛṣṇa, and others) mukundaḥ (Hari, the giver of liberation) jayati jayati.

Glory to the transcendental, ever-youthful Kāmadeva —

জয়তি জননিবাসো দেবকীজন্মবাদো
যদুবরপরিষৎ স্বৈর্দোর্ভিরস্যন্নধর্ম্মম্ ।
স্থিরচরবৃজিনঘ্নঃ সুস্মিত-শ্রীমুখেন ব্রজপুরবনিতানাং বর্দ্ধয়ন্ কামদেবম্ ॥ ৭৯ ॥

jayati jana-nivāso devakī-janma-vādo glory the refuge of all beings known as born of Devakī
yadu-vara-pariṣat svair dorbhir asyann adharmam
by the best of the Yadus attended by His own arms casting out irreligion sthira-cara-vṛjina-ghnaḥ susmita-śrī-mukhena of the unmoving and moving the destroyer of ills by the smiling beautiful face
vraja-pura-vanitānāṁ vardhayan kāma-devam of the women of Vraja's villages increasing love (lit. "the god of love")

79 "Glory to Him, the refuge of all people, who is known as the son of Devakī! Attended by the best of the Yadus, with His own arms He casts out irreligion. He destroys the misfortune of all beings, moving and unmoving, and with His beautiful smiling face He makes love for Him grow ever stronger in the women of Vraja." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.90.48)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

All glory to Kṛṣṇacandra — the abode of people, renowned as born from Devakī's womb (devakī-janma-vāda), the head of the assembly of the Yadus. With His own arms He destroys adharma, He takes away the sins of moving and nonmoving beings, and with His sweetly smiling face He increases the loving desire (kāma) of the women of Vraja-pura.

Anubhāṣya.

The great devotee (mahā-bhāgavata) Śrī Śukadeva, at the end of the Tenth Canto, briefly describes Śrī Kṛṣṇa's pastimes and declares Śrī Kṛṣṇa's supremacy over all:

jana-nivāsaḥ (He whose dwelling is among people — among the cowherds, the Yādavas and others; or He who is the abode, the shelter, of people, the jīvas; or He who dwells in the jīvas as the Antaryāmī) devakī-janma-vādaḥ (of whom it is only said that He was born of Devakī; or He in whom the "birth" from the two Devakīs — the wives of Nanda and Vasudeva — is only a statement (vāda), an accepted view; in reality He is unborn) yadu-vara-pariṣat (He whose assembly (pariṣat), His circle of servants, consists of the best of the Yadus — the cowherds living in Vraja and the kṣatriyas living in the cities) svaiḥ dorbhiḥ (with His own arms: though able to destroy by His will alone, He does it with His arms for the sake of play; or with His arms, that is, His devotees — Arjuna and others) adharmam (the hosts of asuras, the enemies of dharma) asyan (casting away, removing, killing), sthira-cara-vṛjina-ghnaḥ (He who destroys the vṛjina, the misery of worldly existence, of the sthira, the nonmoving, and the cara, the moving beings; or He who destroys the misery of separation from Him felt by His servants living in Vraja and in the cities) vraja-pura-vanitānām (of the women of Vraja and of the women of the cities — of those women full of anurāga who live in Mathurā and Dvārakā) kāma-devam (it is kāma, and it is also deva, because it "plays" — it seeks to conquer saṁsāra; or deva means transcendental: it is His own nature, His self-manifest svarūpa) susmita-śrī-mukhena (with His face, beautiful by its very nature, adorned with a lovely smile and with what that smile bespeaks — grace, playfulness and so on) vardhayan (kindling — such a Śrī Kṛṣṇa) jayati (exists as the highest of all).

*The true nature of the soul, the jīva, which the word "I" denotes —*

নাহং বিপ্রো ন চ নরপতির্নাপি বৈশ্যো ন শূদ্রো
নাহং বর্ণী ন চ গৃহপতির্নো বনস্থো যতির্বা ।
কিন্তু প্রোদ্যন্নিখিলপরমানন্দপূর্ণামৃতাব্ধে- র্গোপীভর্ত্তুঃ পদকমলয়োর্দাসদাসানুদাসঃ ॥ ৮০ ॥

nāhaṁ vipro na ca nara-patir nāpi vaiśyo na śūdro not I a brāhmaṇa not and a king nor a vaiśya not a śūdra nāhaṁ varṇī na ca gṛha-patir no vanastho yatir vā not I a brahmacārī not and a householder not a forest-dweller a sannyāsī or kintu prodyan-nikhila-paramānanda-pūrṇāmṛtābdher
but of the shining forth, all-embracing, supreme-bliss-filled ocean of nectar
gopī-bhartuḥ pada-kamalayor dāsa-dāsānudāsaḥ
of the Lord of the gopīs of the two lotus feet the servant of the servant's servant

80 “I am not a brāhmaṇa, not a king, not a vaiśya or a śūdra; I am not a brahmacārī, not a householder, not a vānaprastha or a sannyāsī. I am the servant of the servant of the servant at the lotus feet of the Lord of the gopīs, that radiant ocean of nectar brimming with all supreme bliss.” (Padyāvalī, 74)

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

I am not a brāhmaṇa, not a kṣatriya king, not a vaiśya or a śūdra; I am not a brahmacārī, a householder, a vānaprastha or a sannyāsī. I identify myself only as “a servant of the servants of the lotus feet of Śrī Kṛṣṇa,” the nectar-ocean full of all supreme bliss, which has blossomed forth (that is, is eternally self-manifest).

Anubhāṣya.

aham (I — by my nature a soul, a jīva) vipraḥ (a brāhmaṇa who, in a worldly conception, prides himself on three births: śaukra, by seed; sāvitra, through the Gāyatrī; and daikṣa, through initiation) na (na asmi — am not), nara-patiḥ (a kṣatriya) ca na, vaiśyaḥ na, śūdraḥ ca na (that is, I do not identify with a varṇa); (further) aham (the jīva) varṇī (a brahmacārī) na, gṛha-patiḥ (a householder) ca na, vanasthaḥ (a vānaprastha) na, yatiḥ (a sannyāsī, belonging to the fourth āśrama) vā na (na asmi — that is, I do not identify with an āśrama). kintu (if one asks, “Who then am I?” — the answer is: I am by nature a jīva) prodyan-nikhila-paramānanda-pūrṇāmṛtābdheḥ (of the ocean of nectar, full of all supreme bliss, which rises splendidly, that is, appears and manifests itself) gopī-bhartuḥ (of the Beloved of the gopīs — for He alone is Svayam Bhagavān, that is, the svayaṁ-rūpa) pada-kamalayoḥ (of the lotus feet) dāsa-dāsānudāsaḥ (a servant of Kṛṣṇa, beyond the three guṇas, established in serving the servants of the Vaiṣṇavas).

Following the Lord, the devotees bow to Bhagavān —

এত পড়ি’ পুনরপি করিল প্রণাম । যোড়হাতে ভক্তগণ বন্দে ভগবান্ ॥ ৮১ ॥

eta paḍi' punarapi karila praṇāma
this reciting again He made obeisance
yoḍa-hāte bhakta-gaṇa vande bhagavān
with joined palms the devotees pray to the Lord

81 After reciting these verses He bowed down again, and the devotees, with joined palms, offered prayers to the Lord.

The Lord's wild dancing described —

উদ্দণ্ড নৃত্য প্রভু করিয়া হুঙ্কার । চক্র-ভ্রমি ভ্রমে যৈছে অলাত-আকার ॥ ৮২ ॥

uddaṇḍa nṛtya prabhu kariyā huṅkāra
high-leaping dance the Lord making loud roars
cakra-bhrami bhrame yaiche alāta-ākāra wheel-like turning He whirls like a circle of fire

82 The Lord danced His wild, leaping dance with loud roars. He whirled round and round like the ring of fire traced by a whirling firebrand.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"He whirled like a firebrand wheel (alāta)": like a wheel of burning (blazing) coal, Mahāprabhu began to spin round and round (to whirl) like a wheel.

Anubhāṣya.
Alāta-cakra: when a burning coal is whirled very fast, it appears to be one unbroken wheel of fire, though in reality there is no wheel of fire. In the same way Mahāprabhu, dancing wildly, though a single form, was seen everywhere, as though He were "all-pervading."

নৃত্যে প্রভুর যাঁহা যাঁহা পড়ে পদতল । সসাগর-শৈল মহী করে টলমল ॥ ৮৩ ॥

nṛtye prabhura yāṁhā yāṁhā paḍe pada-tala
in the dance of the Lord wherever wherever falls the sole of the foot sasāgara-śaila mahī kare ṭalamala
with its seas and mountains the earth makes trembling

83 Wherever the soles of His feet struck the ground in the dance, the earth with its seas and mountains trembled.

*The Lord's eight sāttvika-vikāras —*

স্তম্ভ, স্বেদ, পুলক, অশ্রু, কম্প, বৈবর্ণ্য । নানা-ভাবে বিবশতা, গর্ব্ব, হর্ষ, দৈন্য ॥ ৮৪ ॥

stambha, sveda, pulaka, aśru, kampa, vaivarṇya stupor perspiration hair standing on end tears trembling change of color
nānā-bhāve vivaśatā, garva, harṣa, dainya
from various feelings helplessness pride joy humility

84 Stupor, perspiration, hair standing on end, tears, trembling and pallor appeared in Him; overwhelmed by many feelings, He showed pride, joy and humility.

আছাড় খাঞা পড়ে ভূমে গড়ি' যায় । সুবর্ণ-পর্ব্বত যৈছে ভূমেতে লোটায় ॥ ৮৫ ॥

āchāḍa khāñā paḍe bhūme gaḍi' yāya heavily falling He falls to the ground rolling goes suvarṇa-parvata yaiche bhūmete loṭāya
a golden mountain like on the ground rolls

85 He fell heavily to the ground and rolled there like a golden mountain.

Nitāi tries to protect [the Lord] —

নিত্যানন্দপ্রভু দুই হাত প্রসারিয়া । প্রভুরে ধরিতে চাহে আশপাশ ধাঞা ॥ ৮৬ ॥

nityānanda-prabhu dui hāta prasāriyā Nityānanda Prabhu two arms stretching out prabhure dharite cāhe āśa-pāśa dhāñā
the Lord to catch wants here and there running

86 Nityānanda Prabhu, both arms outstretched, ran here and there, trying to catch the Lord.

Behind the Lord, Advaita calls out the name of Hari without pause —

প্রভু-পাছে বুলে আচার্য্য করিয়া হুঙ্কার । ‘হরিবোল’ ‘হরিবোল’ বলে বার বার ॥ ৮৭ ॥

prabhu-pāche bule ācārya kariyā huṅkāra
behind the Lord walks the Ācārya making loud roars ‘hari-bola’ ‘hari-bola’ bale bāra bāra
“Haribol” “Haribol” says again again

87 Advaita Ācārya followed behind the Lord with loud roars, crying again and again, “Haribol! Haribol!”

To protect the Lord from the touch of the crowd, three rings surround Him —

লোক নিবারিতে হৈল তিন মণ্ডল । প্রথম-মণ্ডলে নিত্যানন্দ মহাবল ॥ ৮৮ ॥

loka nivārite haila tina maṇḍala
the people to hold back there were three circles prathama-maṇḍale nityānanda mahā-bala
in the first circle Nityānanda of great strength

88 Three circles were formed to hold back the crowd. In the first stood mighty Nityānanda.

Anubhāṣya.
Mahābala: Śrī Baladeva.

Tina maṇḍala (three rings): to keep the crowd from crushing Mahāprabhu, the devotees placed Him in the center and, encircling Him in rings, formed three separate circles. In the first circle was Nityānanda Prabhu with other devotees. Around the first circle Kāśīśvara, Mukunda and others again formed a ring. And around the second circle King Pratāparudra had his men form a ring, and so made the third circle.

কাশীশ্বর-মুকুন্দাদি যত ভক্তগণ । হাতাহাতি করি' হৈল দ্বিতীয় আবরণ ॥ ৮৯ ॥

kāśīśvara-mukundādi yata bhakta-gaṇa Kāśīśvara, Mukunda and the others all the devotees hātāhāti kari' haila dvitīya āvaraṇa
hand in hand making became the second ring

89 Kāśīśvara, Mukunda and all the other devotees joined hands and formed the second ring.

বাহিরে প্রতাপরুদ্র লঞা পাত্রগণ । মণ্ডল হঞা করে লোক নিবারণ ॥ ৯০ ॥

bāhire pratāparudra lañā pātra-gaṇa outside Pratāparudra taking his officers maṇḍala hañā kare loka nivāraṇa
a circle forming makes of the people holding back

90 Outside them, Pratāparudra and his officers formed a circle and held back the crowd.

Leaning on Haricandana's shoulder, the king watches the Lord dance —

হরিচন্দনের স্কন্ধে হস্ত আলম্বিয়া । প্রভুর নৃত্য দেখে রাজা আবিষ্ট হঞা ॥ ৯১ ॥

haricandanera skandhe hasta ālambiyā
of Haricandana on the shoulder the hand resting prabhura nṛtya dekhe rājā āviṣṭa hañā of the Lord the dance watches the king absorbed becoming

91 Resting his hand on Haricandana's shoulder, the king watched the Lord's dance, completely absorbed.

Standing before the king, Śrīvāsa serves the Lord by watching His dance —

হেনকালে শ্রীনিবাস প্রেমাবিষ্ট-মন । রাজার আগে রহি' দেখে প্রভুর নর্ত্তন ॥ ৯২ ॥

hena-kāle śrīnivāsa premāviṣṭa-mana
at that time Śrīnivāsa absorbed in prema at heart
rājāra āge rahi' dekhe prabhura nartana
of the king in front standing watches of the Lord the dancing

92 Meanwhile Śrīnivāsa, his heart absorbed in prema, stood in front of the king, watching the Lord dance.

So that the king may see freely, Haricandana gently tries to move Śrīvāsa aside —

রাজার আগে হরিচন্দন দেখে শ্রীনিবাস । হস্তে তাঁরে স্পর্শি' কহে, — হও এক-পাশ ॥ ৯৩ ॥

rājāra āge haricandana dekhe śrīnivāsa
of the king in front Haricandana sees Śrīnivāsa
haste tāṁre sparśi' kahe, — hao eka-pāśa
with the hand him touching says be to one side

93 Haricandana saw Śrīnivāsa in front of the king. He touched him with his hand and said, "Move aside."

Absorbed in service, Śrīvāsa grows angry because his service is interrupted again and again —

নৃত্যাবেশে শ্রীনিবাস কিছুই না জানে । বার বার ঠেলে, তেঁহো ক্রোধ হৈল মনে ॥ ৯৪ ॥

nṛtyāveśe śrīnivāsa kichui nā jāne
in the absorption of the dance Śrīnivāsa anything not knows bāra bāra ṭhele, teṁho krodha haila mane
again again he pushes he anger became in the mind

94 Absorbed in the dance, Śrīnivāsa was aware of nothing. Haricandana pushed him again and again, and Śrīnivāsa grew angry.

[Śrīvāsa] slaps Haricandana, who becomes angry in turn —

চাপড় মারিয়া তারে কৈল নিবারণ । চাপড় খাঞা ক্রুদ্ধ হৈলা হরিচন্দন ॥ ৯৫ ॥

cāpaḍa māriyā tāre kaila nivāraṇa
a slap giving him made stopping cāpaḍa khāñā kruddha hailā haricandana
the slap receiving angry became Haricandana

95 Śrīnivāsa stopped him with a slap, and Haricandana flared up in anger.

Anubhāṣya.
Tāre: Haricandana.

The king restrains Haricandana —

ক্রুদ্ধ হঞা তাঁরে কিছু চাহে বলিবারে । আপনি প্রতাপরুদ্র নিবারিল তারে ॥ ৯৬ ॥

kruddha hañā tāṁre kichu cāhe balibāre angry becoming to him something wants to say āpani pratāparudra nivārila tāre himself Pratāparudra stopped him

96 In his anger Haricandana was about to say something to him, but Pratāparudra himself stopped him:

Anubhāṣya.
Tāṙe: Śrīvāsa.

Anubhāṣya.
By enclosing [everyone] with the third circle, the king set apart from the crowd the second circle, the first, and Śrī Mahāprabhu within them. The purpose was this: if the crowd broke up the third ring, the second would protect the Lord; and if the second were crushed in the same way, the first ring would take up the work of protecting Him.

Even an insult or a blow from a Vaiṣṇava is a sign of good fortune —

ভাগ্যবান্ তুমি — ইঁহার হস্ত-স্পর্শ পাইলা । আমার ভাগ্যে নাহি, তুমি কৃতার্থ হৈলা ॥ ৯৭ ॥

bhāgyavān tumi — iṁhāra hasta-sparśa pāilā fortunate you his of the hand the touch you received āmāra bhāgye nāhi, tumi kṛtārtha hailā
in my fortune it is not you fulfilled have become

97 "You are fortunate: you have received the touch of his hand! Such fortune was not mine, but your life is now fulfilled."

Motionless and unblinking, Jagannātha watches the Lord's dance in supreme bliss —

প্রভুর নৃত্য দেখি' লোকে হৈল চমৎকার । অন্য আছুক্, জগন্নাথের আনন্দ অপার ॥ ৯৮ ॥

prabhura nṛtya dekhi' loke haila camatkāra of the Lord the dance seeing in the people was amazement
anya āchuk, jagannāthera ānanda apāra
let alone others of Jagannātha the bliss boundless

98 Everyone who saw the Lord's dance was amazed, and even Jagannātha's bliss knew no bounds.

রথ স্থির কৈল, আগে না করে গমন । অনিমেষ-নেত্রে করে নৃত্য দরশন ॥ ৯৯ ॥

ratha sthira kaila, āge nā kare gamana
the chariot still He made forward not makes going animeṣa-netre kare nṛtya daraśana
with unblinking eyes makes of the dance watching

99 He stopped the chariot and would not go forward; with unblinking eyes He watched the dance.

Seeing the Lord's dance, Subhadrā and Balarāma rejoice —

সুভদ্রা-বলরামের হৃদয়ে উল্লাস । নৃত্য দেখি’ দুই জনার শ্রীমুখেতে হাস ॥ ১০০ ॥

subhadrā-balarāmera hṛdaye ullāsa
of Subhadrā and Balarāma in the hearts delight
nṛtya dekhi’ dui janāra śrī-mukhete hāsa
the dance seeing of the two on the holy faces a smile

100 Subhadrā and Balarāma rejoiced at heart; seeing the dance, the two of them smiled.

*The Lord's form and pastimes, adorned with all eight sāttvika-bhāvas —*

উদ্দণ্ড নৃত্যে প্রভুর অদ্ভুত বিকার । অষ্ট সাত্ত্বিক ভাব-উদয় হয় সমকাল ॥ ১০১ ॥

uddaṇḍa nṛtye prabhura adbhuta vikāra
in the high-leaping dance of the Lord wonderful transformations
aṣṭa sāttvika bhāva-udaya haya sama-kāla
eight sāttvika the rising of bhāvas happens at the same time

101 In the Lord’s wild, leaping dance wonderful transformations appeared: all eight sāttvika ecstasies arose in Him at once.

Anubhāṣya.
Eight kinds of sāttvika-bhāva arise at the same time.

মাংস-ব্রণ সম রোমবৃন্দ পুলকিত । শিমুলীর বৃক্ষ যেন কণ্টক-বেষ্টিত ॥ ১০২ ॥

māṁsa-vraṇa sama roma-vṛnda pulakita
like boils on the flesh like the multitude of hairs standing erect śimulīra vṛkṣa yena kaṇṭaka-veṣṭita
of the śimula tree as by thorns covered

102 The hairs of His body stood erect on pores swollen like boils, and He looked like a śimula tree covered with thorns.

Anubhāṣya.
The hairs on the Lord's body stood on end, and the pores of His skin looked like little fleshy pimples.

এক এক দন্তের কম্প দেখিতে লাগে ভয় । লোকে জানে, দন্ত সব খসিয়া পড়য় ॥ ১০৩ ॥

eka eka dantera kampa dekhite lāge bhaya
one one of the tooth the trembling seeing arises fear
loke jāne, danta saba khasiyā paḍaya
the people think the teeth all loosening will fall out

103 His teeth chattered so violently that people were frightened to see it; they thought all His teeth would fall out.

সর্ব্বাঙ্গে প্রস্বেদ ছুটে তাতে রক্তোদ্গম ।
'জজ গগ' 'জজ গগ' — গদ্গদ-বচন ॥ ১০৪ ॥

sarvāṅge prasveda chuṭe tāte raktodgama
on all the limbs perspiration flows with it blood oozing
'jaja gaga' 'jaja gaga' — gadgada-vacana
"jaja gaga" "jaja gaga" faltering speech

104 Perspiration poured from His whole body, and blood oozed out with it. His voice faltered: "Jaja gaga, jaja gaga."

Anubhāṣya.
"Jaja gaga": such were the indistinct words of the Lord as He tried to say, that is, to pronounce, "Jagannātha."

জলযন্ত্র-ধারা যৈছে বহে অশ্রুজল । আশ-পাশে লোক যত ভিজিল সকল ॥ ১০৫ ॥

jalayantra-dhārā yaiche vahe aśru-jala
of a fountain the jets as flow tears
āśa-pāśe loka yata bhijila sakala around people as many as were drenched all

105 Tears streamed from His eyes like jets from a fountain, and everyone around Him was drenched.

Anubhāṣya.
Jala-yantra: a syringe (pickārī), a watering can (jhāǰharā) or a fountain.

দেহ-কান্তি গৌরবর্ণ দেখিয়ে অরুণ । কভু কান্তি দেখি, যেন মল্লিকা-পুষ্পসম ॥ ১০৬ ॥

deha-kānti gaura-varṇa dekhiye aruṇa
of His body the lustre golden in colour appears rosy
kabhu kānti dekhi yena mallikā-puṣpa-sama sometimes the lustre we see as if a mallikā flower resembling

106 The golden lustre of His body turned rosy, and at times it seemed white, like a mallikā flower.

কভু স্তম্ভ, কভু প্রভু ভূমিতে লোটায় । শুষ্ককাষ্ঠসম পদ-হস্ত না চলয় ॥ ১০৭ ॥

kabhu stambha, kabhu prabhu bhūmite loṭāya
sometimes stunned sometimes the Lord on the ground rolls śuṣka-kāṣṭha-sama pada-hasta nā calaya
dry wood like feet and hands not move

107 Sometimes He stood stunned, and sometimes He rolled on the ground; His hands and feet, stiff as dry wood, would not move.

কভু ভূমে পড়ে, কভু শ্বাস হয় হীন । যাহা দেখি' ভক্তগণের প্রাণ হয় ক্ষীণ ॥ ১০৮ ॥

kabhu bhūme paḍe, kabhu śvāsa haya hīna
sometimes on the ground He falls sometimes breath becomes absent
yāhā dekhi' bhakta-gaṇera prāṇa haya kṣīṇa
which seeing of the devotees the life becomes faint

108 Sometimes He fell to the ground, and sometimes His breathing stopped. Seeing this, the devotees felt their own life ebbing away.

Streams of nectarean foam on the Lord's moonlike face —

কভু নেত্রে-নাসায় জল, মুখে পড়ে ফেন । অমৃতের ধারা চন্দ্রবিম্বে বহে যেন ॥ ১০৯ ॥

kabhu netre-nāsāya jala, mukhe paḍe phena
sometimes from eyes and nose water from the mouth falls foam amṛtera dhārā candra-bimbe vahe yena of nectar streams on the moon's disc flow as if 109 Sometimes water flowed from His eyes and nose and foam fell from His mouth, as if streams of nectar were flowing over the disc of the moon.

Śubhānanda drinks [the foam] —

সেই ফেন লঞা শুভানন্দ কৈল পান । কৃষ্ণপ্রেমরসিক তেঁহো মহাভাগ্যবান্ ॥ ১১০ ॥

sei phena lañā śubhānanda kaila pāna
that foam taking Śubhānanda made drinking kṛṣṇa-prema-rasika teṁho mahā-bhāgyavān
of love for Kṛṣṇa a relisher of the rasa he most fortunate 110 Śubhānanda took that foam and drank it. He knew the taste of love for Kṛṣṇa, and great indeed was his good fortune!

Anubhāṣya.
Śubhānanda: see Ādi 10.110 and Madhya 13.39.

After dancing, the Lord listens to a song about the meeting of the beloved with her Beloved —

এইমত তাণ্ডব-নৃত্য কৈল কতক্ষণ । ভাব-বিশেষে প্রভুর প্রবেশিল মন ॥ ১১১ ॥

ei-mata tāṇḍava-nṛtya kaila kata-kṣaṇa
in this way the tāṇḍava dance He did for some time
bhāva-viśeṣe prabhura praveśila mana into a special feeling the Lord's entered mind

111 Thus the Lord danced the vigorous tāṇḍava dance for some time, and then His mind entered a particular mood.

তাণ্ডব-নৃত্য ছাড়ি' স্বরূপেরে আজ্ঞা দিল । হৃদয় জানিয়া স্বরূপ গাইতে লাগিল ॥ ১১২ ॥

tāṇḍava-nṛtya chāḍi' svarūpere ājñā dila
the tāṇḍava dance stopping to Svarūpa an order He gave hṛdaya jāniyā svarūpa gāite lāgila
His heart knowing Svarūpa to sing began

112 Leaving the tāṇḍava dance, He told Svarūpa to sing, and Svarūpa, who knew His heart, began to sing:

The song of Śrī Dāmodara Svarūpa —

সেই ত' পরাণ-নাথ পাইনু । যাহা লাগি' মদন-দহনে ঝুরি' গেনু ॥ ১১৩ ॥

sei ta' parāṇa-nātha pāinu that very Lord of My life I have found yāhā lāgi' madana-dahane jhuri' genu whom for in the fire of Madana pining I was wasting away

113 "I have found that very Lord of My life for whom I was wasting away, burning in the fire of Madana (love)."[5]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

Leaving the wild dance (tāṇḍava), Mahāprabhu felt in His heart the bhāva of Śrī Rādhā at the meeting in Kurukṣetra. After a long separation, this song came to Him of itself.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 1.53–56.

Hearing the song, the Lord dances —

এই ধুয়া উচ্চৈঃস্বরে গায় দামোদর । আনন্দে মধুর নৃত্য করেন ঈশ্বর ॥ ১১৪ ॥

ei dhuyā uccaiḥ-svare gāya dāmodara
this refrain in a loud voice sings Dāmodara ānande madhura nṛtya karena īśvara
in bliss sweet dance does the Lord

114 Svarūpa Dāmodara sang this refrain in a loud voice, and the Lord, in bliss, danced a sweet dance.

Jagannātha moves along behind the Lord —

ধীরে ধীরে জগন্নাথ করেন গমন । আগে নৃত্য করি' চলেন শচীর নন্দন ॥ ১১৫ ॥

dhīre dhīre jagannātha karena gamana slowly slowly Jagannātha makes moving āge nṛtya kari' calena śacīra nandana ahead dance doing goes of Śacī the son

115 Jagannātha moved forward slowly, slowly, and the son of Śacī went ahead of Him, dancing.

All the devotees dance and sing, facing Jagannātha —

জগন্নাথে নেত্র দিয়া সবে নাচে, গায় । কীর্ত্তনীয়া সহ প্রভু পাছে পাছে যায় ॥ ১১৬ ॥

jagannāthe netra diyā sabe nāce, gāya
on Jagannātha the eyes fixing all dance sing kīrtanīyā saha prabhu pāche pāche yāya
the kīrtana singers with the Lord back back goes

116 With their eyes fixed on Jagannātha, everyone danced and sang, while the Lord and the kīrtana singers moved backwards, step by step.[6]

*After a long separation the Lord, filled with the bhāva of Śrī Rādhā, meets His beloved Śrī Kṛṣṇa —*

জগন্নাথে মগ্ন প্রভুর নয়ন-হৃদয় । শ্রীহস্তযুগে করে গীতের অভিনয় ॥ ১১৭ ॥

jagannāthe magna prabhura nayana-hṛdaya
in Jagannātha absorbed the Lord's eyes and heart
śrī hasta-yuge kare gītera abhinaya with His holy two hands He makes of the song the acting out

117 The Lord's eyes and heart were absorbed in Jagannātha, and with His two holy hands He acted out the song.

*In the Lord, enriched with the bhāva of Śrī Rādhā, there is more prema than in Kṛṣṇa —*

গৌর যদি পাছে চলে, শ্যাম হয় স্থিরে । গৌর আগে চলে, শ্যাম চলে ধীরে-ধীরে ॥ ১১৮ ॥

gaura yadi pāche cale, śyāma haya sthire Gaura if back goes Śyāma becomes still gaura āge cale, śyāma cale dhīre-dhīre
Gaura ahead goes Śyāma moves slowly, slowly

118 When Gaura drew back, Śyāma stood still; when Gaura went ahead, Śyāma moved on, slowly, slowly.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
When Gauracandra, acting out the song, stepped backward, Jagannātha stood still. When Gaura went forward, Jagannātha slowly moved ahead.

এইমত গৌর-শ্যামে, দোঁহে ঠেলাঠেলি । স্বরথে শ্যামেরে রাখে গৌর মহাবলী ॥ ১১৯ ॥

ei-mata gaura-śyāme, doṁhe ṭhelāṭheli in this way Gaura and Śyāma the two push against each other svarathe śyāmere rākhe gaura mahā-balī
on His own chariot Śyāma keeps Gaura the mighty

119 Thus Gaura and Śyāma vied with each other, and mighty Gaura kept Śyāma waiting on His chariot.

Anubhāṣya.

Śrī Mahāprabhu's bhāva is this. Vrajendra-nandana left the women of Gokula and became absorbed in the pastimes of the city;[17] later, at the meeting in Kurukṣetra, He regained their company. Here Śrī Gaurasundara, enriched with Rādhā's bhāva, is drawing Śrī Jagannāthadeva, who is Vrajendra-nandana, from Śrī Kṣetra Nīlācala, the field of the pastimes of majesty (aiśvarya), toward the Guṇḍicā, the land of the pastimes of sweetness (mādhurya). Gaurahari, filled with the bhāva of Śrī Rādhā and the gopīs, falls behind for this purpose. Vrajendra-nandana had forgotten the mood of Vraja and neglected them — Śrī Rādhā and the other gopīs. Yet by their efforts Kṛṣṇa's sweetness of Vraja awakens again; so one realizes that the pastimes of sweetness surpass the pastimes of majesty — and Kṛṣṇa's chariot sets out. Śrīman Mahāprabhu falls behind to dispel a doubt: is Kṛṣṇa really going out of heartfelt love for Śrī Rādhā and the other people of Vraja, or has He some other purpose? Understanding the bhāva in Mahāprabhu's heart, Śrī Jagannāthadeva also stops and waits for Him. For without the Queen of Vṛndāvana (Vṛndāvaneśvarī) the mood of Vraja cannot reach its full beauty. Seeing Jagannātha waiting, Gaurasundara understands the power of the gopīs' bhāva, takes heart and goes forward; then Śrī Jagannāthadeva too, abashed, slowly follows Him. We see that it is Jagannāthadeva who follows Gaura, absorbed in the bhāva of the gopīs — of Śrī Rādhā and the others — and who is fit to wait for Gaura. Therefore, in this pushing back and forth, this clash, of the two bhāvas — Mahāprabhu's bhāva toward Jagannātha and Jagannātha's bhāva toward Mahāprabhu — Mahāprabhu, enriched with Śrī Rādhā's bhāva, that is, His prema, proves the stronger.

After separation, [the Lord] recites a verse that awakens the memory of the place of meeting —

নাচিতে নাচিতে প্রভুর হৈলা ভাবান্তর । হস্ত তুলি' শ্লোক পড়ে করি' উচ্চৈঃস্বর ॥ ১২০ ॥

nācite nācite prabhura hailā bhāvāntara dancing dancing in the Lord arose a change of mood
hasta tuli' śloka paḍe kari' uccaiḥ-svara
the hands raising a verse He recites making a loud voice

120 As He danced, the Lord's mood changed. Raising His arms, He recited a verse in a loud voice:

যঃ কৌমারহরঃ স এব হি বরস্তা এব চৈত্রক্ষপা-
স্তে চোন্মীলিতমালতীসুরভয়ঃ প্রৌঢ়াঃ কদম্বানিলাঃ ।
সা চৈবাস্মি তথাপি তত্র সুরতব্যাপারলীলাবিধৌ রেবা-রোধসি বেতসীতরুতলে চেতঃ সমুৎকণ্ঠতে ॥ ১২১ ॥

yaḥ kaumāra-haraḥ sa eva hi varas tā eva caitra-kṣapās who stole my heart in my girlhood He the same indeed my beloved those same nights of Caitra
te conmīlita-mālatī-surabhayaḥ prauḍhāḥ kadambānilāḥ
those same and fragrant with blossoming mālatī full breezes from the kadambas
sā caivāsmi tathāpi tatra surata-vyāpāra-līlā-vidhau
she the same am I yet there for the pastimes of love
revā-rodhasi vetasī-taru-tale cetaḥ samutkaṇṭhate of the Revā on the bank of the vetasī tree beneath My heart yearns

121 "He who stole My heart in My girlhood is now My lord. These are the same moonlit nights of Caitra, and the same full breezes blow from the kadamba groves, fragrant with blossoming mālatī. I too am the same. Yet My heart yearns for Our play of love there, beneath the vetasī trees on the bank of the Revā." (Padyāvalī, 386)[7]

*Śrī Svarūpa knows the taste (rasa) of the feelings in the Lord's heart —*

এই শ্লোক মহাপ্রভু পড়ে বার বার । স্বরূপ বিনা অর্থ কেহ না জানে ইহার ॥ ১২২ ॥

ei śloka mahāprabhu paḍe bāra bāra
this verse Mahāprabhu recites time after time
svarūpa vinā artha keha nā jāne ihāra
Svarūpa except the meaning anyone not knows of it

122 Mahāprabhu recited this verse again and again, and no one but Svarūpa knew its meaning.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 1.58–59.

The meaning of the verse is explained in the first chapter —

এই শ্লোকার্থ পূর্ব্বে করিয়াছি ব্যাখ্যান । শ্লোকের ভাবার্থ করি সংক্ষেপে আখ্যান ॥ ১২৩ ॥

ei ślokārtha pūrve kariyāchi vyākhyāna
this verse's meaning earlier I have made an explanation
ślokera bhāvārtha kari saṅkṣepe ākhyāna of the verse the inner meaning I make briefly a telling

123 I have explained the meaning of this verse before; now I will briefly tell its inner sense.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 1.53, 77–80, 82–84.

*After a long separation the gopīs meet Kṛṣṇa at Kurukṣetra —*

পূর্ব্বে যৈছে কুরুক্ষেত্রে সব গোপীগণ । কৃষ্ণের দর্শন পাঞা আনন্দিত মন ॥ ১২৪ ॥

pūrve yaiche kurukṣetre saba gopī-gaṇa
once as at Kurukṣetra all the gopīs
kṛṣṇera darśana pāñā ānandita mana Kṛṣṇa's sight obtaining joyful in mind

124 Once, at Kurukṣetra, all the gopīs rejoiced at heart to see Kṛṣṇa.

*Seeing Jagannātha, the Lord is filled with that same bhāva of the gopīs —*

জগন্নাথ দেখি' প্রভুর সে ভাব উঠিল । সেই ভাবাবিষ্ট হঞা ধুয়া গাওয়াইল ॥ ১২৫ ॥

jagannātha dekhi' prabhura se bhāva uṭhila Jagannātha seeing in the Lord that mood arose sei bhāvāviṣṭa hañā dhuyā gāoyāila
in that mood absorbed becoming the refrain He had sung

125 When the Lord saw Jagannātha, that same mood arose in Him, and, absorbed in it, He had the refrain sung.

The words of the cowherd maiden Śrīmatī Rādhikā to Kṛṣṇa in His royal dress —

অবশেষে রাধা কৃষ্ণে করে নিবেদন । সেই তুমি, সেই আমি, সেই নব সঙ্গম ॥ ১২৬ ॥

avaśeṣe rādhā kṛṣṇe kare nivedana
at last Rādhā to Kṛṣṇa makes an appeal sei tumi, sei āmi, sei nava saṅgama
the same You the same I the same fresh union

126 At last Rādhā made Her appeal to Kṛṣṇa: "You are the same, I am the same, and Our union is as fresh as before.

তথাপি আমার মন হরে বৃন্দাবন । বৃন্দাবনে উদয় করাও আপন-চরণ ॥ ১২৭ ॥

tathāpi āmāra mana hare vṛndāvana
still My mind steals Vṛndāvana vṛndāvane udaya karāo āpana-caraṇa
in Vṛndāvana rising make Your own feet

127 Yet Vṛndāvana steals My heart. Make Your feet appear in Vṛndāvana once again.

ইঁহা লোকারণ্য, হাতী, ঘোড়া, রথধ্বনি । তাঁহা পুষ্পারণ্য, ভৃঙ্গ-পিক-নাদ শুনি ॥ ১২৮ ॥

iṁhā lokāraṇya, hātī, ghoḍā, ratha-dhvani
here a forest of people elephants horses the rumble of chariots tāṁhā puṣpāraṇya, bhṛṅga-pika-nāda śuni
there a forest of flowers of bees and cuckoos the sound I hear

128 Here there is a forest of people, elephants and horses and the rumble of chariots; there, a forest of flowers, where I heard the humming of bees and the call of the cuckoos.

ইঁহা রাজ-বেশ, সঙ্গে সব ক্ষত্রিয়গণ । তাঁহা গোপবেশ, সঙ্গে মুরলী-বাদন ॥ ১২৯ ॥

iṁhā rāja-veśa, saṅge saba kṣatriya-gaṇa
here royal dress with You all the kṣatriyas
tāṁhā gopa-veśa, saṅge muralī-vādana
there cowherd's dress with You the playing of the flute

129 Here You wear royal dress and are surrounded by kṣatriya warriors; there You wore the dress of a cowherd boy, and with You was only the song of Your flute.

ব্রজে তোমার সঙ্গে যেই সুখ-আস্বাদন । সেই সুখসমুদ্রের ইঁহা নাহি এক কণ ॥ ১৩০ ॥

vraje tomāra saṅge yei sukha-āsvādana
in Vraja You with which happiness tasting sei sukha-samudrera iṁhā nāhi eka kaṇa
of that ocean of happiness here not is one drop

130 Of that ocean of happiness I tasted with You in Vraja, not one drop is here.

আমা লঞা পুনঃ লীলা করহ বৃন্দাবনে । তবে আমার মনোবাঞ্ছা হয় ত' পূরণে ॥ ১৩১ ॥

āmā lañā punaḥ līlā karaha vṛndāvane
Me taking again pastimes do in Vṛndāvana
tabe āmāra mano-vāñchā haya ta' pūraṇe
then My heart's desire becomes surely fulfilled

131 Take Me with You and play with Me again in Vṛndāvana. Only then will My heart's desire be fulfilled."

*This is described in the first chapter, among the summaries (sūtras) —*

ভাগবতে আছে যৈছে রাধিকা-বচন ।
পূর্ব্বে তাহা সূত্রমধ্যে করিয়াছি বর্ণন ॥ ১৩২ ॥

bhāgavate āche yaiche rādhikā-vacana
in the Bhāgavatam there are as Rādhikā's words
pūrve tāhā sūtra-madhye kariyāchi varṇana
before that in the summary I have made a description

132 These words of Rādhikā from the Bhāgavatam I have already given earlier, in the summary of the pastimes.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 1.81 and 13.136.

*No one but Svarūpa and Rūpa knows the meaning of the Bhāgavatam verse*

—

সেই ভাবাবেশে প্রভু পড়ে আর শ্লোক । সেই সব শ্লোকের অর্থ নাহি বুঝে লোক ॥ ১৩৩ ॥

sei bhāvāveśe prabhu paḍe āra śloka
in that mood absorbed the Lord recites another verse sei saba ślokera artha nāhi bujhe loka
of those all verses the meaning not understand people

133 Absorbed in that mood, the Lord recited another verse, but no one understood the meaning of such verses.

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞি জানে, না কহে অর্থ তার । শ্রীরূপ-গোসাঞি কৈল সে অর্থ প্রচার ॥ ১৩৪ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñi jāne, nā kahe artha tāra Svarūpa Gosāñi knows not tells the meaning of it
śrī rūpa-gosāñi kaila se artha pracāra
Śrī Rūpa Gosāñi made that meaning's proclamation

134 Svarūpa Gosāñi knew it but told no one; Śrī Rūpa Gosāñi made that meaning known.

In the midst of the dance [the Lord] recites a verse whose taste He always savors —

স্বরূপ সঙ্গে যার অর্থ করে আস্বাদন । নৃত্যমধ্যে সেই শ্লোক করেন পঠন ॥ ১৩৫ ॥

svarūpa saṅge yāra artha kare āsvādana Svarūpa with whose meaning He makes relishing
nṛtya-madhye sei śloka karena paṭhana
in the midst of the dance that verse He makes reciting

135 In the midst of the dance He recited the verse whose meaning He always relished with Svarūpa:

Anubhāṣya.

See Madhya 1.59–60, 69–72 and 76–84.

*The gopī longs to have Kṛṣṇa in her own home —*

আহুশ্চ তে নলিন-নাভ পদারবিন্দং যোগেশ্বরৈর্হৃদি বিচিন্ত্যমগাধবোধৈঃ ৷
সংসারকূপপতিতোত্তরণাবলম্বং গেহং জুষামপি মনস্যুদিয়াৎ সদা নঃ ॥ ১৩৬ ॥

āhuś ca te nalina-nābha padāravindaṁ
they said and Your O lotus-naveled Lord lotus feet
yogeśvarair hṛdi vicintyam agādha-bodhaiḥ
by the masters of yoga in the heart meditated upon of fathomless wisdom saṁsāra-kūpa-patitottaraṇāvalambaṁ of worldly life into the well of the fallen for rescue the support
gehaṁ juṣām api manasy udiyāt sadā naḥ to home attached even in the mind may they rise always our

136 (The gopīs said:) "O Lord whose navel is like a lotus, the masters of yoga, whose wisdom is fathomless, meditate within their hearts on Your lotus feet, the support by which souls fallen into the well of worldly life are lifted out. May those feet always rise in our minds too, though we are busy with our homes." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.82.48)[8]

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 1.81.

It is fitting for Kṛṣṇa to appear only in Vṛndāvana — the pure heart filled with the desire to please Kṛṣṇa's senses —

অন্যের হৃদয় — মন, মোর মন — বৃন্দাবন,
'মনে' 'বনে' এক করি' জানি ৷
তাঁহা তোমার পদদ্বয়, করাহ যদি উদয়, তবে তোমার পূর্ণ কৃপা মানি ॥ ১৩৭ ॥

anyera hṛdaya — mana, mora mana — vṛndāvana,
for others the heart — the mind My mind — Vṛndāvana ‘mane’ ‘vane’ eka kari’ jāni ‘mind’ ‘forest’ as one making I know
tāṁhā tomāra pada-dvaya, karāha yadi udaya,
there Your two feet You make if rising
tabe tomāra pūrṇa kṛpā māni
then Your full mercy I consider 137 “For others the heart is the mind, but My mind is Vṛndāvana: I take mana (mind) and vana (forest) as one. If You make Your two feet appear there, I will count it Your full mercy.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
For other people the mind is the heart; but My mind is not separate from Vṛndāvana. I know the mind and Vṛndāvana to be “one.”

Anubhāṣya.
A worldly person calls “mind” the heart, whose nature is to form and to reject resolves (saṅkalpa and vikalpa). But I have given up the worldly desire to enjoy, and I know My heart, devoted to Kṛṣṇa's service, as “Vṛndāvana,” the place of Śrī Rādhā and Kṛṣṇa's pastimes. The mind free from striving after worldly objects I know to be “nondifferent” from Vṛndāvana.

The pure heart longs for Kṛṣṇa's company —

প্রাণনাথ, শুন মোর সত্য নিবেদন ।
ব্রজ — আমার সদন, তাঁহা তোমার সঙ্গম, না পাইলে না রহে জীবন ॥ ১৩৮ ॥

prāṇa-nātha, śuna mora satya nivedana
O Lord of My life hear My true appeal
vraja — āmāra sadana, tāṁhā tomāra saṅgama, Vraja — My home there with You union
nā pāile nā rahe jīvana
not obtaining not remains life

138 O Lord of My life, hear My plea, for it is true. Vraja is My home, and there I long to be with You; if I cannot have that, I cannot live.

The desire to please Kṛṣṇa's senses loosens the knowledge that points to His majesty —

পূর্ব্বে উদ্ধব-দ্বারে, এবে সাক্ষাৎ আমারে, যোগ-জ্ঞানে কহিলা উপায় ।
তুমি — বিদগ্ধ, কৃপাময়, জানহ আমার হৃদয়, মোরে ঐছে কহিতে না যুয়ায় ॥ ১৩৯ ॥

pūrve uddhava-dvāre, ebe sākṣāt āmāre,
before through Uddhava now directly to Me
yoga-jñāne kahilā upāya
in yoga and knowledge You told the means tumi — vidagdha, kṛpāmaya, jānaha āmāra hṛdaya,
You — expert merciful You know My heart
more aiche kahite nā yuyāya
to Me in this way to speak not is fitting

139 Before through Uddhava, and now to My face, You have told Me that yoga and knowledge are the way. You are clever and merciful, and You know My heart: it is not fitting to speak to Me like this.

Anubhāṣya.
Uddhava-dvāre (through Uddhava): see Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.47.

In exclusive love for Kṛṣṇa, absorption in anything else is impossible —

চিত্ত কাড়ি' তোমা হৈতে, বিষয়ে চাহি লাগাইতে, যত্ন করি' নারি কাড়িবারে ।
তারে ধ্যান শিক্ষা করাহ, লোক হাসাঞা মার, স্থানাস্থান না কর বিচারে ॥ ১৪০ ॥

citta kāḍhi' tomā haite, viṣaye cāhi lāgāite, the mind drawing away from You on worldly things I want to fix
yatna kari' nāri kāḍhibāre effort making I cannot draw it away
tāre dhyāna śikṣā karāha, loka hāsāñā māra, her meditation teaching You give people making laugh You kill sthānāsthāna nā kara vicāre
the fitting and the unfitting not You make consideration

140 I want to draw My mind away from You and fix it on worldly things, but however hard I try, I cannot draw it away. And You teach such a one to meditate! You kill her by making her a laughingstock; You do not consider what is fitting and what is not.

Anubhāṣya.
Viṣaya: things or affairs other than Kṛṣṇa.

*The gopīs are averse to cultivating knowledge of [Kṛṣṇa's] majesty —*

নহে গোপী যোগেশ্বর, পদ-কমল তোমার, ধ্যান করি' পাইবে সন্তোষ ।
তোমার বাক্য-পরিপাটী, তার মধ্যে কুটিনাটী, শুনি' গোপীর আরো বাঢ়ে রোষ ॥ ১৪১ ॥

nahe gopī yogeśvara, pada-kamala tomāra, not are the gopīs masters of yoga the lotus feet Your dhyāna kari' pāibe santoṣa
meditation doing they will get satisfaction
tomāra vākya-paripāṭī, tāra madhye kuṭināṭī,
Your polish of words of it within duplicity
śuni' gopīra āro bāḍhe roṣa
hearing of the gopīs still more grows anger

141 The gopīs are not masters of yoga, to find satisfaction in meditating on Your lotus feet. Your polished words hide duplicity (kuṭināṭī), and hearing them, the gopīs grow only angrier.

Anubhāṣya.

Kuṭināṭī: duplicity.

*The gopīs wish only to be delivered from the jaws of separation from Kṛṣṇa; they have no wish to be freed from the bondage of saṁsāra —*

দেহ-স্মৃতি নাহি যার, সংসারকূপ কাঁহা তার, তাহা হৈতে না চাহে উদ্ধার ।
বিরহ সমুদ্র-জলে, কাম-তিমিঙ্গিলে গিলে, গোপীগণে নেহ' তার পার ॥ ১৪২ ॥

deha-smṛti nāhi yāra, saṁsāra-kūpa kāṁhā tāra,
of the body memory not is whose of worldly life the well where for them
tāhā haite nā cāhe uddhāra
from that not they want deliverance
viraha-samudra-jale, kāma-timiṅgile gile, of separation of the ocean in the waters kāma's timiṅgila swallows
gopī-gaṇe neha' tāra pāra
the gopīs take of it across

142 Those who have no memory of their bodies — where is the well of worldly life for them? They do not want deliverance from it. In the waters of the ocean of separation the timiṅgila of kāma, their longing for You, is swallowing them: carry the gopīs across that ocean!

Anubhāṣya.

"Saṁsāra" arises from remembrance of the body, that is, from absorption in the body. Countless verses of the Bhāgavatam are evidence for this — 11.2.37, 11.3.6 and others; we do not quote them for fear of length. The gopīs (as also perfected mahā-bhāgavatas, or paramahaṁsas) have no remembrance of the body — see verses 10.29.30, 33–34; 11.30.43; 10.32.22; 11.35.19[18] and others. Kāma: see the words of the Gautamīya-tantra in the Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu (Pūrva-vibhāga, Sādhana-bhakti-laharī),[19] and also Ādi 4.162–214 and Madhya 8.207–218. Timiṅgila: a gigantic aquatic creature able to swallow even a great timi fish. Neha: carry away. Tāra: [to the far shore] of the ocean of separation.

A reproach to Kṛṣṇa for forgetting the pastimes of Vraja and His own people —

বৃন্দাবন, গোবর্দ্ধন, যমুনা-পুলিন, বন, সেই কুঞ্জে রাসাদিক লীলা ।
সেই ব্রজের জনগণ, মাতা, পিতা, বন্ধুগণ, বড় চিত্র, কেমনে পাসরিলা ॥ ১৪৩ ॥

vṛndāvana, govardhana, yamunā-pulina, vana, Vṛndāvana Govardhana the Yamunā's bank the forest
sei kuñje rāsādika līlā
in those groves the rāsa and other pastimes
sei vrajera janagaṇa, mātā, pitā, bandhu-gaṇa, of that Vraja the people mother father friends
baḍa citra, kemane pāsarilā
very strange how You forgot

143 Vṛndāvana, Govardhana, the bank of the Yamunā and the forest; the rāsa dance and the other pastimes in those groves; the people of Vraja — Your mother, father and friends: how could You forget them? This amazes Me most of all!

Seeing that Kṛṣṇa has forgotten Vraja, [Rādhā] does not blame her Beloved but curses her own fate —

বিদগ্ধ, মৃদু, সদ্গুণ, সুশীল, স্নিগ্ধ, করুণ, তুমি, তোমার নাহি দোষাভাস ।
তবে যে তোমার মন, নাহি স্মরে ব্রজজন, সে — আমার দুর্দ্দৈব-বিলাস ॥ ১৪৪ ॥

vidagdha, mṛdu, sad-guṇa, suśīla, snigdha, karuṇa, expert gentle virtuous well-mannered affectionate compassionate
tumi, tomāra nāhi doṣābhāsa
You in You not is a semblance of fault
tabe ye tomāra mana, nāhi smare vraja-jana,
yet that Your mind not remembers the people of Vraja
se — āmāra durdaiva-vilāsa
that — of My ill fortune the play

144 You are clever, gentle, virtuous, well-mannered, affectionate and compassionate; in You there is not even a shadow of fault. That Your mind no longer remembers the people of Vraja is only the play of My ill fortune.

Telling of Yaśodā's grief, [Rādhā] tries by this plea to stir Kṛṣṇa's compassion; the residents of Vraja would rather die than be separated from Kṛṣṇa —

না গণি আপন-দুঃখ, দেখি' ব্রজেশ্বরী-মুখ, ব্রজজনের হৃদয় বিদরে ।
কিবা মার' ব্রজবাসী, কিবা জীয়াও ব্রজে আসি', কেন জীয়াও দুঃখ সহাইবারে ? ॥ ১৪৫ ॥

nā gaṇi āpana-duḥkha, dekhi' vrajeśvarī-mukha, not I count My own sorrow seeing of Vraja's queen the face
vraja-janera hṛdaya vidare
of the people of Vraja the heart breaks
kibā māra' vraja-vāsī, kibā jīyāo vraje āsi', either You kill the residents of Vraja or revive to Vraja coming kena jīyāo duḥkha sahāibāre?
why You keep alive sorrow to make them endure

145 I do not count My own sorrow; but seeing the face of the queen of Vraja, the people of Vraja are heartbroken. Either kill them, or come to Vraja and bring them back to life. Why do You keep them alive only to suffer?

Kṛṣṇa's pastimes of majesty do not please the residents of Vraja; yet they cannot leave Vraja, and in separation from Kṛṣṇa they are as if dead —

তোমার যে অন্য বেশ, অন্য সঙ্গ, অন্য দেশ, ব্রজজনে কভু নাহি ভায় ।
ব্রজভূমি ছাড়িতে নারে, তোমা না দেখিলে মরে, ব্রজজনের কি হবে উপায় ॥ ১৪৬ ॥

tomāra ye anya veśa, anya saṅga, anya deśa,
Your that other dress other company other land
vraja-jane kabhu nāhi bhāya
to the people of Vraja ever not pleases vraja-bhūmi chāḍite nāre, tomā nā dekhile mare, the land of Vraja to leave not they can You not seeing they die
vraja-janera ki habe upāya
of the people of Vraja what will be the way

146 Your strange dress, Your strange companions and Your strange land never please the people of Vraja. They cannot leave the land of Vraja, yet without seeing You they die. What will become of them?

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

O Kṛṣṇa, when You were in Mathurā, You sent instruction in "jñāna-yoga" through Uddhava and said that You can be attained by jñāna-yoga. And now, meeting face to face here at Kurukṣetra, You speak of the same "jñāna-yoga"! My heart is full of prema, and in it there is no room for jñāna-yoga. You know this — it does not become You to give such instruction! Even if I wanted to take My mind away from You and fix it on worldly things, I could not do it! Attachment to You is My very nature, so teaching Me meditation only makes people laugh. So You have not considered what is fitting and where. A gopī is not some master of yoga, to find bliss in meditating on Your lotus feet. Your words have elegance enough, but teaching a gopī meditation is mere duplicity, and hearing this (that she needs to learn meditation), the gopī feels still more hurt (abhimāna). The gopīs by nature have no remembrance of the body, so they have nothing called "the well of saṁsāra"; the method of meditation that grants liberation is therefore (simply) useless to them. The gopīs have fallen into the ocean of separation from You and are being swallowed by the timiṅgila (a gigantic fish)

— the desire (kāma) for nothing but service to You; save them from that, that is, from that separation. What is astonishing is this: how could You forget those people of Vraja — Your mother, father and friends? You are a pure person, gentle, always well-mannered through Your good qualities, affectionate and compassionate, and so there is not even a semblance of fault in such conduct of Yours. If You no longer remember the people of Vraja, it is only the play of My misfortune (the sport of ill fate). I am not looking at My own sorrow; (but, to tell the truth) seeing the grief of Yaśodā, the queen of Vraja, the hearts of the people of Vraja truly break. Sometimes by separation You make the residents of Vraja as if dead, sometimes by union You bring them back to life — why You keep them alive only to suffer, I cannot say. You wear the royal dress of Mathurā and so on, You live in a place apart from Vraja and keep company with the queens — the people of Vraja do not like this at all. A strange thing befalls the people of Vraja: they cannot leave the land of Vraja and go elsewhere, and yet without seeing You they die. What will become of the people of Vraja, You alone know.

An anxious plea to Kṛṣṇa to come to Vraja —

তুমি — ব্রজের জীবন, ব্রজরাজের প্রাণধন, তুমি — সকল ব্রজের সম্পদ্ ।
কৃপার্দ্র তোমার মন, আসি' জীয়াও ব্রজজন, ব্রজে উদয় করাও নিজ-পদ ॥ ১৪৭ ॥

tumi — vrajera jīvana, vraja-rājera prāṇa-dhana,
You — of Vraja the life of the king of Vraja the treasure of life
tumi — sakala vrajera sampad
You — of all Vraja the wealth
kṛpārdra tomāra mana, āsi' jīyāo vraja-jana, moist with mercy Your mind coming revive the people of Vraja
vraje udaya karāo nija-pada
in Vraja rising make Your own feet

147 You are the life of Vraja, the precious life of Vraja's king, and all the wealth of Vraja. Your heart is soft with mercy: come and revive the people of Vraja, and make Your feet appear in Vraja once again."

Kṛṣṇa's embarrassment and agitation; He consoles Śrī Rādhā —

শুনিয়া রাধিকা-বাণী, ব্রজপ্রেম মনে আনি, ভাবে ব্যাকুলিত দেহ-মন ।
ব্রজলোকের প্রেম শুনি', আপনাকে 'ঋণী' মানি', করে কৃষ্ণ তাঁরে আশ্বাসন ॥ ১৪৮ ॥

śuniyā rādhikā-vāṇī, vraja-prema mane āni, having heard Rādhikā's words the love of Vraja to the mind bringing bhāve vyākulita deha-mana with feeling agitated body and mind
vraja-lokera prema śuni', āpanāke 'ṛṇī' māni', of the people of Vraja the love hearing Himself 'a debtor' considering
kare kṛṣṇa tāṁre āśvāsana makes Kṛṣṇa to Her consolation

148 When Kṛṣṇa heard Rādhikā's words, the love of Vraja came to His mind, and His body and mind were shaken with feeling. Hearing of the love of Vraja's people, He felt Himself their debtor and began to console Her:

Anubhāṣya.
Ṛṇī (indebted): see Ādi 4.179–180.

Kṛṣṇa answers, giving His reasons —

প্রাণপ্রিয়ে, শুন, মোর এই সত্য-বচন ।
তোমা-সবার স্মরণে, ঝুরোঁ মুঞি রাত্রিদিনে, মোর দুঃখ না জানে কোন জন ॥ ১৪৯ ॥

prāṇa-priye, śuna, mora ei satya-vacana
O beloved, dear as life hear My these true words
tomā-sabāra smaraṇe, jhuroṁ muñi rātri-dine,
of all of you in remembering pine in tears I night and day
mora duḥkha nā jāne kona jana
My sorrow not knows any person

149 “My beloved, dear to Me as My life, hear these true words of Mine. Remembering all of you, I weep night and day, and no one knows My sorrow.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Jhuro: I keep weeping.

*Kṛṣṇa praises the residents of Vraja, especially the gopīs and Śrī Rādhikā —*

ব্রজবাসী যত জন, মাতা, পিতা, সখাগণ, সবে হয় মোর প্রাণসম ৷
তাঁর মধ্যে গোপীগণ, সাক্ষাৎ মোর জীবন, তুমি মোর জীবনের জীবন ॥ ১৫০ ॥

vraja-vāsī yata jana, mātā, pitā, sakhā-gaṇa,
of Vraja the residents all people mother father friends
sabe haya mora prāṇa-sama
all are to Me equal to life
tāṁra madhye gopī-gaṇa, sākṣāt mora jīvana, of them among the gopīs directly My life
tumi mora jīvanera jīvana
You of My life the life

150 All the people of Vraja — My mother, My father and My friends — are as dear to Me as life. Among them the gopīs are My very life, and You are the life of My life.

The separation from the residents of Vraja is the fruit of Kṛṣṇa's own misfortune —

তোমা-সবার প্রেমরসে, আমাকে করিল বশে, আমি তোমার অধীন কেবল ৷
তোমা-সবা ছাড়াঞা, আমা দূর-দেশে লঞা, রাখিয়াছে দুর্দ্দৈব প্রবল ॥ ১৫১ ॥

tomā-sabāra prema-rase, āmāke karila vaśe, of all of you by the rasa of love Me made subject
āmi tomāra adhīna kevala
I yours dependent only
tomā-sabā chāḍāñā, āmā dūra-deśe lañā, from all of you tearing away Me to a distant land taking rākhiyāche durdaiva prabala has kept ill fortune powerful

151 The rasa of your love has made Me subject to you all; I am yours alone. It is a powerful ill fortune that has torn Me away from you, taken Me to a distant land and kept Me there.

Though separation from each other is deadly to them, the Beloved and His beloved wish to live for each other's joy —

প্রিয়া প্রিয়-সঙ্গহীনা, প্রিয় প্রিয়া-সঙ্গ বিনা, নাহি জীয়ে, — এ সত্য প্রমাণ ।
মোর দশা শোনে যবে, তাঁর এই দশা হবে, এই ভয়ে দুঁহে রাখে প্রাণ ॥ ১৫২ ॥

priyā priya-saṅga-hīnā, priya priyā-saṅga vinā, she who loves without the beloved's company he who loves of the beloved's company without nāhi jīye, — e satya pramāṇa not lives this true proof
mora daśā śone yabe, tāṁra ei daśā habe,
My state hears when her this state will be ei bhaye duṁhe rākhe prāṇa
in this fear both keep life

152 She who loves cannot live without her beloved, nor he who loves without his beloved — this is proven truth. Yet each fears that the other, hearing of it, would come to the same end; and for this fear both keep themselves alive.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

That a beloved woman deprived of her beloved's company, and a beloved man deprived of his beloved's company, cannot live — this is true proof. Yet (each of the two thinking this) they stay alive only because “if my beloved hears that I have died, my beloved will die too.”

To wish for the welfare or joy of one's beloved even in separation is the sign of true love —

সেই সতী প্রেমবতী, প্রেমবান্ সেই পতি, বিয়োগে যে বাঞ্ছে প্রিয়-হিতে ।
না গণে আপন দুঃখ, বাঞ্ছে প্রিয়জন-সুখ, সেই দুই মিলে অচিরাতে ॥ ১৫৩ ॥

sei satī premavatī, premavān sei pati,
that faithful wife loving loving that husband
viyoge ye vāñche priya-hite
in separation who wish the beloved’s good nā gaṇe āpana-duḥkha, vāñche priyajana-sukha,
not count their own sorrow wish the beloved’s happiness
sei dui mile acirāte
those two meet soon

153 A loving, faithful wife and a loving husband who in separation wish only for each other’s good, who do not count their own sorrow and want only the beloved’s happiness — such a pair soon meet again.

A pretext to console Śrī Rādhā —

রাখিতে তোমার জীবন, সেবি আমি নারায়ণ, তাঁর শক্ত্যে আসি নিতি-নিতি ।
তোমা-সনে ক্রীড়া করি’, পুনঃ যাই যদুপুরী, তাঁহা তুমি মানহ মোর স্ফূর্ত্তি ॥ ১৫৪ ॥

rākhite tomāra jīvana, sevi āmi nārāyaṇa, to keep Your life serve I Nārāyaṇa
tāṁra śaktye āsi niti-niti
by His power I come day after day
tomā-sane krīḍā kari', punaḥ yāi yadu-purī,
with You play having made again I go to Yadupurī
tāṁhā tumi mānaha mora sphūrti
that You consider My sphūrti

154 To keep You alive I worship Nārāyaṇa, and by His power I come to You every day. After playing with You I go back to Yadupurī, and You take this to be only a vision of Me (sphūrti).

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
You are My eternal beloved. Knowing that You will not survive separation from Me, I serve Nārāyaṇa, and by the power of His all-pervasiveness (vibhutva) I come to Vraja every day, sport with You and then return again to Yadupurī. So You, remaining in Vraja, think that You have had only a vision (sphūrti) of Me.

Anubhāṣya.
Yadupurī: in Dvārakā and Mathurā.

Kṛṣṇa appears through the love of Śrī Rādhā[20] —

মোর ভাগ্য মো-বিষয়ে, তোমার যে প্রেম হয়ে, সেই প্রেম — পরম প্রবল ।
লুকাঞা আমা আনে, সঙ্গ করায় তোমা-সনে, প্রকটেহ আনিবে সত্বর ॥ ১৫৫ ॥

mora bhāgya mo-viṣaye, tomāra ye prema haye, My fortune for Me Your that love is sei prema — parama prabala that love — supremely powerful lukāñā āmā āne, saṅga karāya tomā-sane, secretly Me it brings company it gives with You prakaṭeha ānibe satvara
openly too it will bring soon

155 My good fortune is the love You have for Me. That love is supremely powerful: it brings Me to You secretly and unites Me with You, and soon it will bring Me openly too.

Kṛṣṇa assures Śrī Rādhā that He will come to Vraja —

যাদবের বিপক্ষ, যত দুষ্ট কংসপক্ষ, তাহা আমি কৈলুঁ সব ক্ষয়।
আছে দুই-চারি জন, তাহা মারি' বৃন্দাবন, আইলাম আমি, জানিহ নিশ্চয় ॥ ১৫৬ ॥

yādavera vipakṣa, yata duṣṭa kaṁsa-pakṣa,
of the Yādavas the enemies all wicked Kaṁsa's party
tāhā āmi kailuṁ saba kṣaya them I made all destruction
āche dui-cāri jana, tāhā māri' vṛndāvana, remain two or four people them killing to Vṛndāvana
āilāma āmi, jāniha niścaya come I know for certain

156 I have destroyed all the wicked enemies of the Yādavas, the whole party of Kaṁsa. Only a few remain; when I have killed them, I will come to Vṛndāvana — know this for certain.

সেই শত্রুগণ হৈতে, ব্রজজন রাখিতে, রহি রাজ্যে উদাসীন হঞা।
যেবা স্ত্রী-পুত্র-ধনে, করি রাজ্য-আবরণে, যদুগণের সন্তোষ লাগিয়া ॥ ১৫৭ ॥

sei śatru-gaṇa haite, vraja-jana rākhite, those enemies from the people of Vraja to protect rahi rājye udāsīna hañā
I stay in the kingdom indifferent being yebā strī-putra-dhane, kari rājya-āvaraṇe, although with wives, sons, wealth I make the covering of a kingdom
yadu-gaṇera santoṣa lāgiyā
of the Yadus satisfaction for the sake of 157 To protect the people of Vraja from those enemies I remain in My kingdom, but indifferent to it. And though I surround Myself with wives, sons and wealth, that is only the outward covering of a king's life, kept up to please the Yadus.[9]

Anubhāṣya.
Yebā: although.

Kṛṣṇa promises Śrī Rādhā, "I will come to Vraja" —

তোমার যে প্রেমগুণ, করে আমা আকর্ষণ, আনিবে আমা দিন দশ বিশে ।
পুনঃ আসি' বৃন্দাবনে, ব্রজবধূ তোমা-সনে, বিলসিব রজনী-দিবসে ॥ ১৫৮ ॥

tomāra ye prema-guṇa, kare āmā ākarṣaṇa,
Your that quality of love makes Me attraction
ānibe āmā dina daśa biśe will bring Me in days ten twenty punaḥ āsi' vṛndāvane, vraja-vadhū tomā-sane,
again coming to Vṛndāvana the maidens of Vraja with You vilasiba rajanī-divase
I will sport night and day

158 The quality of Your love draws Me, and it will bring Me back within ten or twenty days. Then, coming again to Vṛndāvana, I will delight in pastimes night and day with You and the other maidens of Vraja."

Hearing the verse Kṛṣṇa spoke, Śrī Rādhā gains confidence —

এত তাঁরে কহি' কৃষ্ণ, ব্রজে যাইতে সতৃষ্ণ, এক শ্লোক পড়ি' শুনাইল ।
সেই শ্লোক শুনি' রাধা, খণ্ডিল সকল বাধা, কৃষ্ণপ্রাপ্ত্যে প্রতীতি হইল ॥ ১৫৯ ॥

eta tāṁre kahi' kṛṣṇa, vraje yāite satṛṣṇa, so much to Her having said Kṛṣṇa to Vraja to go eager eka śloka paḍi' śunāila
one verse reciting He made her hear sei śloka śuni' rādhā, khaṇḍila sakala bādhā,
that verse hearing Rādhā were dispelled all obstacles
kṛṣṇa-prāptye pratīti haila
in attaining Kṛṣṇa confidence arose

159 Having said all this to Her, Kṛṣṇa, eager to go to Vraja, recited a verse for Her to hear. When Rādhā heard it, all Her doubts were dispelled, and She felt sure that She would attain Kṛṣṇa.

*The gopīs' love for Kṛṣṇa is the cause of their attaining Kṛṣṇa —*

ময়ি ভক্তির্হি ভূতানামমৃতত্বায় কল্পতে ।
দিষ্ট্যা যদাসীন্মৎস্নেহো ভবতীনাং মদাপনঃ ॥ ১৬০ ॥

mayi bhaktir hi bhūtānām
to Me devotion indeed of beings
amṛtatvāya kalpate
for immortality is fit
diṣṭyā yad āsīn mat-sneho
by good fortune which arose for Me the love bhavatīnāṁ mad-āpanaḥ
of you bringing Me

160 "Devotion to Me brings living beings to immortality. And how fortunate you are to have the love that brings you to Me!" (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, 10.82.44)[10]

Anubhāṣya.
See Ādi 4.23.

The Lord savors [the meaning of the verses] together with Svarūpa —

এই সব অর্থ প্রভু স্বরূপের সনে । রাত্রি-দিনে ঘরে বসি' করে আস্বাদনে ॥ ১৬১ ॥

ei saba artha prabhu svarūpera sane these all meanings the Lord Svarūpa with rātri-dine ghare vasi' kare āsvādane
night and day in the room sitting He makes relishing

161 Night and day the Lord would sit in His room with Svarūpa and relish all these meanings.

*Seeing Jagannātha, the Lord, filled with Rādhā's bhāva, recites the verse —*

নৃত্যকালে সেইভাবে আবিষ্ট হঞা । শ্লোক পড়ি' নাচে জগন্নাথ-মুখ চাঞা ॥ ১৬২ ॥

nṛtya-kāle sei bhāve āviṣṭa haña
at the time of the dance in that mood absorbed becoming śloka paḍi' nāce jagannātha-mukha cāñā
the verse reciting He dances at Jagannātha's face looking 162 At the time of the dance, absorbed in that mood, He recited the verse and danced, gazing at Jagannātha's face.

The author praises Śrī Dāmodara Svarūpa —

স্বরূপ-গোসাঞির ভাগ্য না যায় বর্ণন । প্রভুতে আবিষ্ট যাঁর কায়, বাক্য, মন ॥ ১৬৩ ॥

svarūpa-gosāñira bhāgya nā yāya varṇana of Svarūpa Gosāñi the fortune not can be described prabhute āviṣṭa yāṁra kāya, vākya, mana
in the Lord absorbed whose body words mind

163 The good fortune of Svarūpa Gosāñi cannot be described, for his body, words and mind were absorbed in the Lord.

The senses of the Lord and of Svarūpa, engaged in Kṛṣṇa's service, are nondifferent —

স্বরূপের ইন্দ্রিয়ে প্রভুর নিজেন্দ্রিয়গণ । আবিষ্ট হঞা করে গান আস্বাদন ॥ ১৬৪ ॥

svarūpera indriye prabhura nijendriya-gaṇa
in Svarūpa's senses the Lord's own senses āviṣṭa hañā kare gāna āsvādana
entering becoming make of the song relishing

164 The Lord's own senses entered Svarūpa's senses, and through them He relished the song.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
When Svarūpa Dāmodara sings of these bhāvas, the Lord's own senses — His eyes, ears and the rest — enter Svarūpa's senses and taste the song. In other words, a oneness of heart and a perfect attunement arise in both to the full.

*The Lord is absorbed in the mood of Śrī Rādhā, hurt (māna) and downcast at her Beloved's indifference —*

ভাবের আবেশে কভু ভূমিতে বসিয়া । তর্জ্জনীতে ভূমে লিখে অধোমুখ হঞা ॥ ১৬৫ ॥

bhāvera āveśe kabhu bhūmite vasiyā of feeling in the absorption sometimes on the ground sitting tarjanīte bhūme likhe adhomukha hañā with the forefinger on the ground He writes face downward becoming 165 Sometimes, overwhelmed by feeling, He would sit on the ground with His face lowered and write on the ground with His forefinger.

Fearing that the Lord will injure His finger, Śrī Svarūpa takes care —

অঙ্গুলিতে ক্ষত হবে জানি' দামোদর । ভয়ে নিজ-করে নিবারয়ে প্রভু-কর ॥ ১৬৬ ॥

aṅgulite kṣata habe jāni' dāmodara
on the finger injury will be knowing Dāmodara bhaye nija-kare nivāraye prabhu-kara
in fear with his own hand stops the Lord's hand

166 Fearing that the finger would be hurt, Dāmodara anxiously stopped the Lord's hand with his own.

Anubhāṣya.
Dāmodara: Śrī Svarūpa.

*In Svarūpa's kīrtana, all the variety of Rādhā's bhāva in the Lord's heart takes visible form —*

প্রভুর ভাবানুরূপ স্বরূপের গান । যবে যেই রস, তাহা করে মূর্ত্তিমান্ ॥ ১৬৭ ॥

prabhura bhāvānurūpa svarūpera gāna
of the Lord suited to the mood Svarūpa's singing
yabe yei rasa tāhā kare mūrtimān
whenever whatever rasa that he makes embodied

167 Svarūpa's singing always matched the Lord's mood: whatever rasa the Lord felt at the moment, his song brought it to life.

The beauty of Jagannātha described —

শ্রীজগন্নাথের দেখে শ্রীমুখ-কমল ।
তাহার উপর সুন্দর নয়ন যুগল ॥ ১৬৮ ॥

সূর্য্যের কিরণে মুখ করে ঝলমল । মাল্য, বস্ত্র, দিব্য অলঙ্কার, পরিমল ॥ ১৬৯ ॥

śrī jagannāthera dekhe śrī mukha-kamala of Śrī Jagannātha He sees the beautiful lotus face
tāhāra upara sundara nayana-yugala of it upon beautiful pair of eyes
sūryera kiraṇe mukha kare jhalamala of the sun in the rays the face makes glittering mālya, vastra, divya alaṅkāra, parimala
garlands clothes divine ornaments fragrance

168–169 The Lord gazed at the lotus face of Śrī Jagannātha with its two beautiful eyes, His face glittering in the rays of the sun, and at His garlands, His clothes, His divine ornaments and His fragrance.

Anubhāṣya.
Parimala: fragrance.

The Lord's divine madness —

প্রভুর হৃদয়ে আনন্দসিন্ধু উথলিল । উন্মাদ, ঝঞ্ঝা-বাত তৎক্ষণে উঠিল ॥ ১৭০ ॥

prabhura hṛdaye ānanda-sindhu uthalila of the Lord in the heart of bliss the ocean surged unmāda, jhañjhā-vāta tat-kṣaṇe uṭhila madness a storm wind at that moment arose

170 An ocean of bliss surged in the Lord's heart, and at once divine madness rose like a storm wind.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Jhañjhā-vāta: a gusty wind that blows hard from time to time.

Anubhāṣya.
Unmāda: see Madhya 2.66.

আনন্দোন্মাদে উঠায় ভাবের তরঙ্গ । নানা-ভাব-সৈন্যে উপজিল যুদ্ধ-রঙ্গ ॥ ১৭১ ॥

ānandonmāde uṭhāya bhāvera taraṅga
in the madness of bliss it raises of feelings waves nānā-bhāva-sainye upajila yuddha-raṅga
among the armies of many feelings arose the sport of battle

171 In that madness of bliss waves of feeling rose, and the armies of His many feelings joined in the sport of battle.

ভাবোদয়, ভাবশান্তি, সন্ধি, শাবল্য ।
সঞ্চারী, সাত্ত্বিক, স্থায়ী স্বভাব-প্রাবল্য ॥ ১৭২ ॥

bhāvodaya, bhāva-śānti, sandhi, śābalya
the rising of a feeling the calming of a feeling the meeting the mingling sañcārī, sāttvika, sthāyī svabhāva-prābalya the transitory the sāttvika the abiding natural predominance

172 Feelings arose and subsided, met and mingled; the transitory feelings, the sāttvika ecstasies and the abiding mood showed all their natural strength.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Bhāvodaya," "bhāva-śānti," "sandhi," "śābalya": the rising of a bhāva (bhāvodaya), the subsiding of a bhāva (bhāva-śānti), the meeting of bhāvas (bhāva-sandhi), the mingling of bhāvas (bhāva-śābalya).

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 2.63.

*The Lord's body is compared to a golden mountain, and the sāttvika-bhāvas to flowering trees —*

প্রভুর শরীর যেন শুদ্ধ-হেমাচল । ভাব-পুষ্পদ্রুম তাহে পুষ্পিত সকল ॥ ১৭৩ ॥

prabhura śarīra yena śuddha-hemācala
of the Lord the body like a mountain of pure gold
bhāva-puṣpa-druma tāhe puṣpita sakala
of feelings the flowering trees on it blossomed all

173 The Lord's body was like a mountain of pure gold, and on it all the trees of feeling burst into blossom.

Seeing the Lord's love, everyone becomes mad with love for Kṛṣṇa —

দেখিতে আকর্ষয়ে সবার চিত্ত-মন । প্রেমামৃতবৃষ্ট্যে প্রভু সিঞ্চে সবার মন ॥ ১৭৪ ॥

dekhite ākarṣaye sabāra citta-mana
on seeing it attracts of all the heart and mind premāmṛta-vṛṣṭye prabhu siñce sabāra mana with a shower of the nectar of love the Lord sprinkles of all the mind

174 The sight of Him attracted everyone's heart and mind, and the Lord sprinkled every mind with a shower of the nectar of love.

জগন্নাথ-সেবক যত রাজপাত্রগণ । যাত্রিক লোক, নীলাচলবাসী যত জন ॥ ১৭৫ ॥

jagannātha-sevaka yata rāja-pātra-gaṇa
of Jagannātha the servants all the royal officers yātrika loka, nīlācala-vāsī yata jana pilgrim people of Nīlācala the residents all people

175 All the servants of Jagannātha, the royal officers, the pilgrims and all the residents of Nīlācala

প্রভুর নৃত্য-প্রেম দেখি' হয় চমৎকার । কৃষ্ণপ্রেম উপজিল হৃদয়ে সবার ॥ ১৭৬ ॥

prabhura nṛtya-prema dekhi' haya camatkāra of the Lord the dance and love seeing become astonished kṛṣṇa-prema upajila hṛdaye sabāra
love for Kṛṣṇa arose in the heart of all

176 were astonished to see the Lord's dance and His love, and love for Kṛṣṇa awoke in everyone's heart.

Anubhāṣya.
See Madhya 2.81–82.

Everyone raises a joyous clamor of love —

প্রেমে নাচে, গায়, লোক, করে কোলাহল । প্রভু-নৃত্যে কৈল যাত্রী চৌগুণ-মঙ্গল ॥ ১৭৭ ॥

preme nāce, gāya, loka, kare kolāhala
in love dance sing the people make an uproar prabhu-nṛtye kaila yātrī cauguṇa-maṅgala
at the Lord's dance made the pilgrims fourfold auspicious sounds

177 Filled with love, the people danced and sang and raised a joyful uproar. At the Lord's dance the auspicious cries of the pilgrims grew four times as loud.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Cauguṇa-maṅgala: auspicious sounds multiplied fourfold.

Kṛṣṇa and Balarāma watch the Lord dance —

অন্যের কি কায, জগন্নাথ-হলধর । প্রভুর-নৃত্য দেখি' সুখে চলিলা মন্থর ॥ ১৭৮ ॥

anyera ki kāya, jagannātha-haladhara
of others what to speak Jagannātha and Haladhara
prabhura nṛtya dekhi' sukhe calilā manthara
of the Lord the dance seeing in joy moved slowly

178 Even Jagannātha and Haladhara (Balarāma), let alone the others, moved on slowly in delight as They watched the Lord's dance.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
Manthara: slowly.

Halting, the Two of Them watch the Lord's dance —

কভু সুখে নৃত্যরঙ্গ দেখে রথ রাখি' । সে কৌতুক যে দেখিল, সেই তার সাক্ষী ॥ ১৭৯ ॥

kabhu sukhe nṛtya-raṅga dekhe ratha rākhi'
sometimes in joy the play of the dance They watch the chariot stopping se kautuka ye dekhila, sei tāra sākṣī
that wonder who saw he of it the witness

179 Sometimes They stopped Their chariots and joyfully watched the play of His dance. Whoever saw that wonder is its witness.

While dancing, the Lord is about to fall before the king —

এইমত নৃত্য প্রভু করিতে ভ্রমিতে । প্রতাপরুদ্রের আগে লাগিলা পড়িতে ॥ ১৮০ ॥

ei-mata nṛtya prabhu karite bhramite
in this way dance the Lord doing wandering pratāparudrera āge lāgilā paḍite
of Pratāparudra in front He began to fall

180 Dancing and whirling about in this way, the Lord was about to fall in front of Pratāparudra.

The king catches hold of the Lord; the Lord returns to external consciousness —

সম্ভ্রমে প্রতাপরুদ্র প্রভুকে ধরিল । তাঁহাকে দেখিতে প্রভুর বাহ্য হইল ॥ ১৮১ ॥

sambhrame pratāparudra prabhuke dharila respectfully Pratāparudra the Lord held tāṁhāke dekhite prabhura bāhya haila him on seeing of the Lord outer consciousness came 181 Pratāparudra respectfully caught hold of the Lord, and on seeing him the Lord came back to outer consciousness.

*The Lord — the teacher of the people, the guru of the world, playing the role of an ācārya — in external consciousness reproaches Himself at being touched by the king —*

রাজা দেখি' মহাপ্রভু করেন ধিক্কার । ছি, ছি, বিষয়ীর স্পর্শ হইল আমার ! ॥ ১৮২ ॥

rājā dekhi' mahāprabhu karena dhikkāra
the king seeing Mahāprabhu makes reproach chi, chi, viṣayīra sparśa haila āmāra!
fie fie of a worldly man the touch has happened to Me

182 Seeing the king, Mahāprabhu reproached Himself: "Fie, fie! I have been touched by a worldly man!"

আবেশেতে নিত্যানন্দ হৈলা অসাবধান । কাশীশ্বর, গোবিন্দাদি ছিলা অন্যস্থান ॥ ১৮৩ ॥

āveśete nityānanda hailā asāvadhāna
in ecstasy Nityānanda became inattentive
kāśīśvara, govindādi chilā anya-sthāna
Kāśīśvara Govinda and the others were in another place

183 Nityānanda, lost in ecstasy, had not been watching, and Kāśīśvara, Govinda and the others were elsewhere.

*Seeing the king's humble service to Kṛṣṇa, the Lord is inwardly pleased, but for the good of those practicing bhakti He outwardly shows a semblance of anger —*

যদপি রাজারে দেখি' হাড়ির সেবনে । প্রসন্ন হঞাছে তাঁরে মিলিবারে মনে ॥ ১৮৪ ॥

yadapi rājāre dekhi' hāḍira sevane
although the king seeing in the service of a sweeper prasanna hañāche tāṁre milibāre mane pleased He had become him to meet in His mind

184 Although the Lord had been pleased to see the king serving as a sweeper, and in His heart wished to meet him,

Anubhāṣya.

Hāḍira sevana (a sweeper's service): the work of a street sweeper (see Madhya 13.15–18).

তথাপি আপন-গণে করিতে সাবধান । বাহ্যে কিছু রোষাভাস কৈলা ভগবান্ ॥ ১৮৫ ॥

tathāpi āpana-gaṇe karite sāvadhāna still His own people to make cautious
bāhye kichu roṣābhāsa kailā bhagavān
outwardly a little a semblance of anger showed the Lord

185 still, to make His own people careful, He outwardly showed a semblance of anger.

Anubhāṣya.

Āpana-gaṇa (His own people): devotees who play the part of those who wish to cross the ocean of worldly existence, who are akiñcana and turned toward the service of Bhagavān — that is, who long to rise to prema.

The Lord's words frighten the king; Sārvabhauma reassures him —

প্রভুর বচনে রাজার মনে হৈল ভয় । সার্ব্বভৌম কহে, — তুমি না কর সংশয় ॥ ১৮৬ ॥

prabhura vacane rājāra mane haila bhaya
by the Lord’s words of the king in the mind arose fear
sārvabhauma kahe, — tumi nā kara saṁśaya Sārvabhauma says you not make doubt

186 The Lord’s words frightened the king, but Sārvabhauma said, “Do not worry.

তোমার উপরে প্রভুর সুপ্রসন্ন মন । তোমা লক্ষ্য করি' শিখায়েন নিজ-গণ ॥ ১৮৭ ॥

tomāra upare prabhura suprasanna mana
you upon the Lord's very pleased mind
tomā lakṣya kari' śikhāyena nija-gaṇa
you the target making He teaches His own people

187 The Lord is very pleased with you. He is only making you an example in order to teach His own people.

অবসর জানি' আমি করিব নিবেদন । সেইকালে যাই' করিহ প্রভুর মিলন ॥ ১৮৮ ॥

avasara jāni' āmi kariba nivedana
the opportunity knowing I will make the request
sei-kāle yāi' kariha prabhura milana
at that time going make with the Lord the meeting

188 When I see the right moment, I will present your request, and then you can go and meet the Lord."

The Lord Himself pushes the chariot —

তবে মহাপ্রভু রথ প্রদক্ষিণ করিয়া । রথ-পাছে যাই' ঠেলে রথে মাথা দিয়া ॥ ১৮৯ ॥

tabe mahāprabhu ratha pradakṣiṇa kariyā
then Mahāprabhu of the chariot circumambulation making ratha-pāche yāi' ṭhele rathe māthā diyā behind the chariot going pushes against the chariot the head putting 189 Then Mahāprabhu walked around the chariot, went behind it, and pushed it with His head.

Seeing the chariot move, the people call out the name of Hari —

ঠেলিতেই চলিল রথ ‘হড়’ ‘হড়’ করি’ । চতুর্দ্দিকে লোক সব বলে ‘হরি’ ‘হরি’ ॥ ১৯০ ॥

ṭhelitei calila ratha ‘haḍa’ ‘haḍa’ kari’
the moment He pushed moved the chariot ‘haḍa’ ‘haḍa’ making catur-dike loka saba bale ‘hari’ ‘hari’
on four sides people all call ‘Hari’ ‘Hari’

190 The moment He pushed, the chariot rolled on with a rumbling “haḍa-haḍa”, and all around the people cried, “Hari! Hari!”

The Lord and His associates dance before the chariots of Subhadrā and Balarāma —

তবে প্রভু নিজ-ভক্তগণ লঞা সঙ্গে । বলদেব-সুভদ্রাগ্রে নৃত্য করে রঙ্গে ॥ ১৯১ ॥

tabe prabhu nija-bhakta-gaṇa lañā saṅge
then the Lord His own devotees taking with Him
baladeva-subhadrāgre nṛtya kare raṅge
before Baladeva and Subhadrā dance does joyfully

191 Then the Lord, with His devotees, joyfully danced before Baladeva and Subhadrā.

Then, dancing before Jagannātha's chariot —

তাঁহা নৃত্য করি’ জগন্নাথাগ্রে আইলা । জগন্নাথ-আগে নৃত্য করিতে লাগিলা ॥ ১৯২ ॥

tāṁhā nṛtya kari’ jagannāthāgre āilā
there dance having done in front of Jagannātha He came jagannātha-āge nṛtya karite lāgilā
before Jagannātha dance to do He began

192 After dancing there, He came back in front of Jagannātha and began to dance before Him.

The chariot halts at Balagaṇḍi —

চলিয়া আইল রথ ‘বলগণ্ডি’-স্থানে । জগন্নাথ রথ রাখি’ দেখে ডাহিনে-বামে ॥ ১৯৩ ॥

caliyā āila ratha ‘balagaṇḍi’-sthāne moving came the chariot to the place Balagaṇḍi
jagannātha ratha rākhi’ dekhe ḍāhine vāme Jagannātha the chariot stopping looks right left

193 Rolling on, the chariot reached Balagaṇḍi. There Jagannātha stopped His chariot and looked to the right and to the left.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
“At Balagaṇḍi”: the place between Śraddhābālu and [the temple of] Ardhāsanī-devī is called Balagaṇḍi.

বামে — ‘বিপ্রশাসন’, নারিকেল-বন । ডাহিনে ত’ পুষ্পোদ্যান যেন বৃন্দাবন ॥ ১৯৪ ॥

vāme — ‘vipra-śāsana’ nārikela-vana
on the left — ‘the brāhmaṇa settlement’ a coconut grove ḍāhine ta’ puṣpodyāna yena vṛndāvana
on the right indeed a flower garden like Vṛndāvana

194 On the left was the brāhmaṇa settlement (vipra-śāsana) with its coconut grove; on the right was a flower garden like Vṛndāvana.

Anubhāṣya.
In Utkala a brāhmaṇa village is called a “vipra-śāsana.”

আগে নৃত্য করে গৌর লঞা ভক্তগণ । রথ রাখি’ জগন্নাথ করেন দরশন ॥ ১৯৫ ॥

āge nṛtya kare gaura lañā bhakta-gaṇa
in front dance does Gaura taking the devotees
ratha rākhi’ jagannātha karena daraśana
the chariot stopping Jagannātha makes seeing 195 In front, Gaura danced with His devotees, and Jagannātha, having stopped His chariot, watched Him.

*Jagannātha tastes the finest bhoga[21] —*

সেই স্থলে ভোগ লাগে, — আছয়ে নিয়ম । কোটি ভোগ জগন্নাথ করে আস্বাদন ॥ ১৯৬ ॥

sei sthale bhoga lāge, — āchaye niyama
at that place the food offering is offered there is a custom koṭi bhoga jagannātha kare āsvādana
millions of offerings Jagannātha makes tasting

196 By custom, food is offered to Jagannātha at that place, and He tastes millions of offerings.[11]

জগন্নাথের ছোট-বড়, যত ভক্তগণ । নিজ-নিজ উত্তম-ভোগ করে সমর্পণ ॥ ১৯৭ ॥

jagannāthera choṭa-baḍa yata bhakta-gaṇa
of Jagannātha humble and great all the devotees
nija-nija uttama-bhoga kare samarpaṇa
each his own the best food make offering

197 All of Jagannātha's devotees, humble and great, offered Him the best food they had.

*Everyone — small and great, subject and king alike — offers bhoga —*

রাজা, রাজমহিষীবৃন্দ, পাত্র, মিত্রগণ । নীলাচলবাসী যত ছোট বড় জন ॥ ১৯৮ ॥

rājā, rāja-mahiṣī-vṛnda, pātra, mitra-gaṇa
the king the host of queens ministers friends nīlācala-vāsī yata choṭa-baḍa jana of Nīlācala the residents all humble and great people

198 The king, the queens, the ministers and friends, all the residents of Nīlācala, humble and great,

নানা-দেশের দেশী যত যাত্রিক জন । নিজ-নিজ-ভোগ তাঁহা করে সমর্পণ ॥ ১৯৯ ॥

nānā-deśera deśī yata yātrika jana of various lands natives all pilgrim people
nija-nija-bhoga tāṁhā kare samarpaṇa
each his own food there make offering

199 and all the pilgrims from many lands offered their own food there.

আগে-পাছে, দুই পার্শ্বে উদ্যানের বনে । যেই যাহা পায়, লাগায়, — নাহিক নিয়মে ॥ ২০০ ॥

āge-pāche, dui pārśve udyānera vane
in front and behind on both sides of the gardens in the groves
yei yāhā pāya, lāgāya, — nāhika niyame
whoever whatever (place) finds offers there is no rule

200 In front and behind, on both sides, in the groves of the gardens, each offered his food wherever he found a place; there was no fixed rule.

*At the time of the bhoga a crowd gathers, and the Lord goes to rest in a nearby garden —*

ভোগের সময় লোকের মহা-ভিড় হৈল । নৃত্য ছাড়ি' মহাপ্রভু উপবনে গেল ॥ ২০১ ॥

bhogera samaya lokera mahā bhiḍa haila
of the offering at the time of people a great crowd formed nṛtya chāḍi' mahāprabhu upavane gela
the dance leaving Mahāprabhu into a garden went

201 At the time of the offering a great crowd gathered, so Mahāprabhu stopped dancing and went into a garden.

প্রেমাবেশে মহাপ্রভু উপবন পাঞা । পুষ্পোদ্যানে গৃহপিণ্ডায় রহিলা পড়িয়া ॥ ২০২ ॥

premāveśe mahāprabhu upavana pāñā absorbed in love Mahāprabhu the garden reaching puṣpodyāne gṛha-piṇḍāya rahilā paḍiyā in the flower garden on a house's raised platform remained lying 202 Absorbed in love, Mahāprabhu entered the flower garden and lay down there on the raised platform (piṇḍā) of a house.

A cool breeze relieves His fatigue —

নৃত্য-পরিশ্রমে প্রভুর দেহে ঘন ঘর্ম্ম । সুগন্ধি শীতল-বায়ু করেন সেবন ॥ ২০৩ ॥

nṛtya-pariśrame prabhura dehe ghana gharma
from the exertion of dancing the Lord's on the body heavy sweat sugandhi śītala-vāyu karena sevana fragrant cool breeze He makes enjoying 203 After the exertion of the dance His body was covered with sweat, and He enjoyed the cool, fragrant breeze.

*The kīrtana singers rest under the trees —*

যত ভক্ত কীর্ত্তনীয়া আসিয়া আরাম । প্রতিবৃক্ষতলে সবে করেন বিশ্রাম ॥ ২০৪ ॥

yata bhakta kīrtanīyā āsiyā ārāma
all the devotees kīrtana singers coming to the garden prati-vṛkṣa-tale sabe karena viśrāma
under each tree all make rest

204 All the devotees and kīrtana singers came into the garden and rested under the trees.

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.
"Ārāma": a garden (a grove, an orchard, a garden).

*Such was the Lord's great saṅkīrtana —*

এই ত' কহিল প্রভুর মহাসংকীর্ত্তন । জগন্নাথের আগে যৈছে করিল নর্ত্তন ॥ ২০৫ ॥

ei ta' kahila prabhura mahā-saṅkīrtana
thus I have told of the Lord the great saṅkīrtana jagannāthera āge yaiche karila nartana
before Jagannātha how He did dancing

205 Thus I have told of the Lord's great saṅkīrtana and how He danced before Jagannātha.

*The Lord's dance before the chariot is described in Śrī Rūpa's Caitanyāṣṭaka —*

রথাগ্রেতে প্রভু যৈছে করিলা নর্ত্তন ।
শ্রীচৈতন্যাষ্টকে রূপ-গোসাঞি কর্য্যাছে বর্ণন ॥ ২০৬ ॥

rathāgrete prabhu yaiche karilā nartana
in front of the chariot the Lord how did dancing
śrī caitanyāṣṭake rūpa-gosāñi karyāche varṇana
in the Śrī Caitanyāṣṭaka Rūpa Gosāñi has made a description

206 How the Lord danced in front of the chariot, Rūpa Gosāñi has described in his Śrī Caitanyāṣṭaka:

রথারূঢ়স্যারাদধিপদবি নীলাচলপতে- রদভ্রপ্রেমোর্ম্মিস্ফুরিতনটনোল্লাসবিবশঃ ।
সহর্ষং গায়দ্ভিঃ পরিবৃত-তনুর্বৈষ্ণবজনৈঃ
স চৈতন্যঃ কিং মে পুনরপি দৃশোর্যাস্যতি পদম্ ॥ ২০৭ ॥

rathārūḍhasyārād adhipadavi nīlācala-pater
of the One seated on the chariot near on the main road of Nīlācala of the Lord
adabhra-premormi-sphurita-naṭanollāsa-vivaśaḥ
by abundant waves of love throbbing by the joy of dancing overwhelmed sa-harṣaṁ gāyadbhiḥ parivṛta-tanur vaiṣṇava-janaiḥ joyfully by those singing surrounded in body by the Vaiṣṇavas
sa caitanyaḥ kiṁ me punar api dṛśor yāsyati padam
that Caitanya will my again even of the eyes come into the path

207 "Before the Lord of Nīlācala, who sits on His chariot on the great road, He dances, overwhelmed by the joy of a dance that throbs with abundant waves of love, while the Vaiṣṇavas around Him sing in delight. Will that Caitanya ever again come before my eyes?" (Stava-mālā, First Caitanyāṣṭaka, 7)[12]

Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya.

That Caitanyadeva who, before the Lord of Nīlācala seated on the chariot, overwhelmed by the joy of dancing in which waves of abundant prema shone forth, joyfully performed saṅkīrtana, surrounded by Vaiṣṇavas — will He come again within the path of my eyes?

Thus ends the thirteenth chapter of the "Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya."

Anubhāṣya.

Śrī Rūpa Gosvāmī composed three Śrī Caitanyāṣṭakas; this is the seventh verse of the first aṣṭaka:[22]

rathārūḍhasya (standing on the chariot) nīlācala-pateḥ (of Jagannāthadeva) ārāt (near) adhipadavi (on the main road) adabhra-premormi-sphurita-naṭanollāsa-vivaśaḥ (adabhreṇa, abundant, premormiṇā, by the wave of prema, sphuritaḥ, reflected, yaḥ naṭanollāsaḥ, the joy of the dancing pastime, tena vivaśaḥ, overcome by fatigue from it) sa-harṣam (joyfully) gāyadbhiḥ (engaged in kīrtana) vaiṣṇava-janaiḥ (by the devotees) parivṛta-tanuḥ (He whose form is surrounded — such a one) saḥ caitanyaḥ (Gauracandra) punar api kim me (mama — my) dṛśoḥ padam (the path of the eyes) yāsyati (prāpsyati — will reach)?

Śrīla Prabodhānanda Sarasvatī Tridaṇḍipāda, in his Śrī Rādhā-rasa-sudhā-nidhi,[23] has also described the beauty of the kīrtana and dance of Śrī Śrī

Gaurahari with His associates: “We praise Śrī Gauracandra, surrounded by His singing associates. The hairs standing on end all over His body put to shame the beauty of a blossoming nīpa (kadamba) flower. Raising both arms high, He loudly calls out again and again, ‘Hari! Hari!’ He dances swiftly and sprinkles the earth with streams of tears.”

*Hearing of Śrī Caitanya's dance before the chariot, one attains prema-bhakti for Caitanya —*

ইহা যেই শুনে সেই শ্রীচৈতন্য পায় । সুদৃঢ় বিশ্বাস-সহ প্রেমভক্তি হয় ॥ ২০৮ ॥

ihā yei śune sei śrī caitanya pāya
this who hears he Śrī Caitanya attains sudṛḍha viśvāsa-saha prema-bhakti haya firm faith with loving devotion arises

208 Whoever hears this attains Śrī Caitanya, and loving devotion with firm faith awakens in him.

Anubhāṣya.
Thus ends the thirteenth chapter of the “Anubhāṣya.”

শ্রীরূপ-রঘুনাথ-পদে যার আশ । চৈতন্যচরিতামৃত কহে কৃষ্ণদাস ॥ ২০৯ ॥

śrī rūpa-raghunātha-pade yāra āśa Śrī Rūpa’s, Raghunātha’s at the feet whose hope caitanya-caritāmṛta kahe kṛṣṇadāsa
“Caitanya-caritāmṛta” narrates Kṛṣṇadāsa

209 Praying at the feet of Śrī Rūpa and Śrī Raghunātha, I, Kṛṣṇadāsa, narrate the Caitanya-caritāmṛta.[13]

Notes

1. The same verse as Ādi 10.2; translation as there. ↩

2. The edition reads চারি সম্প্রদায়ে (locative: “among the four groups”); the Bengali text and transliteration are corrected accordingly (scan, p. 547). ↩
3. Acyutānanda is the son of Advaita Ācārya. ↩
4. In the original, curi (“theft”) — the Lord’s secret, stealthy pastime. ↩
5. The same song as Madhya 1.55; translation as there. ↩
6. pāche pāche yāya, “goes back, back”: facing Jagannātha (116–117), the Lord moved backwards before the chariot; cf. 118 and the Amṛta-pravāha-bhāṣya there. ↩
7. The same verse as Madhya 1.58; translation as there. ↩
8. The same verse as Madhya 1.81; translation as there. ↩
9. The edition reads রাজ্য-আবরণে, hyphenated (“the covering of a kingdom”; scan, p. 557); the Bengali text and transliteration are corrected accordingly. ↩
10. The same verse as Ādi 4.23 and Madhya 8.89; translation as there. The heading in the Gauḍīya Maṭha edition gives the reference as Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.82.31; the standard numbering is 10.82.44. ↩
11. The edition prints the number of this verse as 197, so that 197 occurs twice. ↩
12. The refrain as in Ādi 3.65 and 4.51. ↩
13. The same colophon as Madhya 7.155; translation as there. ↩
14. The edition names no source; this is CC Madhya 9.195. ↩
15. The edition (scan checked) reads praṇāma (obeisance); by the sense and by verse 67 (śrī-bhāgavata-śāstra tāhāte pramāṇa) it should be pramāṇa (evidence) — apparently a misprint. ↩
16. The edition names no source; this is Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 10.31.19. ↩
17. The edition (scan checked) reads gaura-līlāya (“in the pastimes of Gaura”), which does not fit the sense here; apparently a misprint for pura-līlāya (in the pastimes in the city, that is, in Mathurā and Dvārakā) or for gaurava-līlāya (in pastimes of awe and reverence). Translated by the sense. ↩
18. So in the edition (scan checked): 11.35.19; the Eleventh Canto of the Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam has only 31 chapters, so the reference is apparently corrupt. ↩
19. The edition names only the Bhakti-rasāmṛta-sindhu, Pūrva-vibhāga, Sādhana-bhakti-laharī, without a number; this is 1.2.285. ↩
20. The edition (scan checked) reads śrī-dhārā — an obvious misprint for śrī-rādhā. ↩
21. In the edition this verse is numbered 197, so that the number 197 appears twice (scan checked). ↩
22. Unclear passage: the edition (scan checked) reads tan-madhye duiṭī prathamāṣṭakera saptama-śloka (literally, “among them two — the seventh verse of the first aṣṭaka”); translated by the sense. ↩

23. So in the edition (scan checked): śrī-rādhā-rasa-sudhā-nidhi. ↩